Wage-Hour Officials Explain Law

Red Raiders Win, 14 To 7, Over Stubborn Mucker Eleven

Shivering Crowd Of 7,000 Sees Close Game

Miners, Led By Heineman, Put Fire Into Offensive, But Tarbox Runs Tech Ahead

By COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor

FLY FIELD, Odessa, Oct. 22.—Stung by a touchdown pass and a conversion that tied the score, the Texas Tech Red Raiders struck swiftly in the fourth quarter to tally a second touchdown and kick extra point to defeat the Texas College of Mines, 14-7, here this afternoon before a shivering crowd of 7,000 fans.

It was Tech's sixth straight victory of the season, in as many games, and the first defeat of the year for the hustling, fighting Miners. Except for a stiff, cold breeze from the east, the setting was perfect for a contest between two of the nation's undefeated, untied teams.

Raiders Start Slowly

Minus the services of Bobby Holmes, regular left halfback and sprint star of the club, the Red Raiders started in a rather slovenly manner, lacking much of the fire and spirit that has been the rule in previous games. They struck at dirt late in the first period, after somewhat of an early humbling by the fired-up Miners, and coasted on the seven points until the fourth.

Dudley Akins, replacing Holmes, circled right end for 16 yards and a touchdown late in the first chukker. His passes, to Tarbox and Flusche, had gained something like 50 yards up to the touchdown play. Jodie Marek went in to kick the goal for extra point.

Three followed two periods of scoreless play, with the Raiders holding an offensive advantage but being unable to penetrate the Miner 10 yard line.

Miners Score In Fourth

Like a flash, the Miners went for touchdown early in the fourth. Kenneth Heineman receiving a pass from Gilbert Salcido, and scampering for six points. Salcido kicked the point that tied the score. Two minutes later the Techs had scored the winning touchdown, Elmer "The Great" Tarbox, who really was great today, catching a "Detroit" pass from Barnett to race 50 yards for touchdown. Marek again converted.

Fine line play, featured by Dixie White—until he was injured in the closing moments of the first period—Line Captain Red Murphy and George Webb, set the stage for Tech's offensive.

The Red Raiders were not long finding out they had some competition. The first quarter was nearly gone before they made even a first down, while the Miners had made

New Canal Studied In Defense Plans

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. — The vital importance of the Panama canal in American naval policy and its vulnerability to air attack are prime considerations in the restudy of national defense needs which President Roosevelt announced recently.

Two solutions of the problem have been proposed. One is the construction of a less vulnerable sea-level canal via the Nicaraguan route; the other is the building of a separate fleet to remain in the Atlantic.

There has been no word from the president or any other administration spokesman as yet to hint at an impendnig change in the basic idea of American naval policy—a single fleet.

Intimations Heard

Such a fleet must be able to shuttle from ocean to ocean via the Panama canal to meet any threat of attack either directly upon the United States or upon her South American neighbors. Until post-world war developments in the air changed the situation, the canal was the foundation stone of naval policy in this country.

The recent creation of a temporary Atlantic cruiser squadron, by withdrawing some of the components of the Pacific battle fleet, marked a departure in policy. There were open intimations in congressional committee hearings last session that naval opinion opposed such a course as a permanent policy because it tended to weaken the battle fleet.

Committee discussions produced the alternative proposals of providing a powerful separate fleet for each ocean or opening the Nicaraguan sea-level canal route.

Would Require 10 Years

Naval experts, questioned about the cost of providing a separate sufficient fleet for the Atlantic, placed the figure at around $3,000,000,000. The cost of the Panama canal, as computed at the date of its official completion in 1921, was $525,000,000.

Army engineers have estimated the cost of a Nicaraguan canal would be $722,000,000, and the time required to build it 10 years.

Tool Pusher Is Lovington Blast Victim

LOVINGTON, N. M., Oct. 22. (AP)—"Doc" Price, a tool pusher for the Magnolia Oil company, was killed and two other men were injured, one critically, in an explosion while they were working on a pipe line today.

Witnesses said Price, of Odessa, Texas, was sitting on two boxes of dynamite, crimping a cap with his teeth when the explosion occurred. His body was blown to bits and scattered over an area extending 100 yards from the explosion.

Ted Steen, another worker, was injured so seriously it was believed he would not recover. W. A. Davidson, a third, was only slightly injured.

Benes, Ill And Broken, Seeks English Haven

By JAMES C. OLDFIELD
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 22—A tragic figure, former President Edouard Benes of Czechoslovakia, stepped from an airliner here today, his 25 years of illustrious statesmanship all but nullified.

He was on his way, ultimately, to the United States to lecture at the University of Chicago. But first he must mend his broken health.

Nervous, depressed and sick, Benes made a dramatic flight into voluntary exile from the nation he helped forge and which, on the eve of its 20th anniversary, he watched pay Adolf Hitler's price for Europe's peace.

Tired And Ill

The man who was known as "Europe's smartest little statesman" came unheralded and alone except for his wife and secretaries. He had landed at Croydon airdrome before his countrymen learned he had left carved-up Czechoslovakia.

All he sought was peace, rest and forgetfulness after his months of vain struggle to save central Europe's democratic bastion from advancing Naziism.

His intimates said he would rest at an English countryside retreat for several months with a possible

John Tarleton Coeds Qualify For Embarrassing Positions

STEPHENVILLE, Oct. 22. (AP)—There's plenty in a name, said Mavis Watson of Breckenridge and Mavis Watson of Marquez, no kin, today as they tried to unscramble their mail at John Tarleton college where they are coeds.

To make matters more confusing, the two attractive girls with identical names, who are both 18 years old, live in the same dormitory. When Mavis Watson is called on the telephone, they both go to see who is wanted. Their mail was so mixed they finally got a postoffice box together.

"Even then, we just divide up the letters and open them," moaned one.

University Of Texas Professor Dies Before Realizing Aim

AUSTIN, Oct. 22. (AP) — J. E. Pearce, University of Texas professor, died today, a week before he was to have seen fulfilled his dream of a lifetime and the labor of a quarter century.

For years professor of anthropology here, Pearce had labored to attain a Texas state museum. He had been named the first director of the institution whose formal opening was scheduled next week.

New Air Defense Plan Broached

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Organized aviation enthusiasts intend asking congress to help build up a fleet of 50,000 private planes to reenforce the administration's prospective new defense measures.

Officials of the national aeronautic association, as spokesmen for several groups of fliers, already have requested army and navy support for the training of civilian pilots, reduced insurance rates and other proposals.

They argued that a fleet such as they have in mind, representing a five fold increase of the existing 10,000 private planes, would make available upwards of 100,000 trained fliers for military service in the event of war.

Building the planes would so expand the aviation industry that it could meet quickly any war-time orders for military craft, they asserted.

"It's the cheapest form of national defense," William R. Enyart, association secretary, said today.

Enyart and Charles F. Horner, association president, proposed "an American version" of the Nazi youth training, substituting planes with motors for gliders.

Army and navy officials, although expressing interest, declined to predict what support would be given specific proposals.

Amherst Gym Election Passes; Lubbock Man Given Contract

AMHERST, Oct. 22 (Special) — A bond issue of $20,000 was authorized in an election today for construction of a new gymnasium. The vote was 194 to 107.

O. M. Coffer, superintendent of schools, announced contract had been awarded to W. S. Moss of Lubbock and that work would begin immediately on the project.

Today's election was the second held on the bond issue. The first election was declared technically illegal.

Public Works Administration approved an additional $16,300 for the structure.

Pessimism Falls Over England And France

Fear Arises Surrender May Be Necessary To Next Demands Of Chancellor Hitler

(By The Associated Press)

BOTH England and France, parties to the "Munich peace" which pared the Sudetenland from Czechoslovakia, Saturday faced the problem of quicker rearmament in an atmosphere of pessimism over the future relations with Germany and Italy.

Unless Britain's armed strength is sufficient to match Germany's many British quarters believe, surrender instead of compromise will be inevitable when Chancellor Hitler raises the question of returning pre-war colonies, the next item on his agenda.

French To Prepare

Its rearmament program slowed for months, the French government made it plain Yesterday that it had committed itself to heavy purchases of war material unless an agreement could be obtained to minimize Europe's dangers of conflict.

Of the world's actual war fronts, Japanese completely occupied Canton, gateway to China's rich southern provinces, while General Shunkoru Hata, commander of the forces before Hankow, declared Japan would continue her war until anti-Japanese resistance ends. Staff officers said they would be in Hankow, the Chinese provisional capital, within two weeks.

Spanish insurgent air attacks on government-held Mediterranean ports veered from Barcelonia to Valencia, their intensity pressaging possible new offensives.

Soldiers On Border

On a potential warfront, the Czechoslovak-Hungarian border, more than 1,000,000 soldiers waited for diplomats to agree or disagree on the question of Hungary's demands for thousands of square miles of Czechoslovak territory.

The Czechs' latest proposal, offering lands which Hungary insists contain a preponderant Hungarian population, was reported to be unacceptable to Budapest.

In Berlin reich officials said residents of Sudetenland may choose their deputies next month for Chacellor Hitler's non-debative parliament in the substitution of civil for military rule.

The German economics ministry let it be known that it would like to effect a German-British-American trade pact.

Complete Conquest Of China Avowed Goal Of Japanese

By LLOYD LEHRBAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE JAPANESE ARMY BEFORE HANKOW, Oct. 22—The commander of the forces pressing on Hankow, General Shunroku Hata, declared today Japan would continue her war until all anti-Japanese resistance ended.

He said the Japanese would chase Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek into Szechwan or Yunnan province, extreme southwestern China, if necessary, and were prepared as a last resort to fight any nation challenging what he called Japanese national rights and interests in China.

He predicted early capture of Hankow, Generalissimo Chiang's Yangtze river headquarters, and the "smashing of organized, large scale Chinese resistance."

Canton's Fall Exhilarates Japs

Japanese staff officers, jubilant over the capture of Canton yesterday by a 10-day-old expedition into South China and the now faster approach of their own forces on the Hankow front, asserted they would be in Hankow within two weeks.

They said Hankow's defenders were disheartened and were virtually collapsing in all sectors.

While Hata was being interviewed at his field headquarters, Japanese naval forces were smashing their way up the curving Yangtze, within 35 miles by air and 50 miles by river of the Wuhan cities—Hankow, Yanyang and Wuchang—while northern and southern armies were closing in on their goal like a vise.

Erroneous Report Corrected

To rid the threatened zone of foreign shipping and potential incidents, the naval command advised foreign vessels to withdraw from Hankow for at least 10 miles upriver.

(Reuters, British news agency, corrected its previous report from Hongkong that Generalissimo Chiang had left Hankow for Changsha, about 200 miles south, capital of Hunan province. The Reuters correspondent at Hankow reported the generalissimo and Mme. Chiang were still at Hankow.)

Mother Leaps With Children Into Water; Cheats Fire

SEATTLE, Oct. 22 (AP)—A young mother who leaped from a burning wharf into Lake Washington with her two little children and kept them afloat until help came emerged as the heroine tonight of a $40,000 lakefront fire.

Mrs. Merrill Stewart, 23, was sleeping with the children, Merrillyn, 5, and Allen, 2, in a below-deck stateroom of the cruiser Canco, moored at the dock when flames drove them to the wharf and cut off their retreat from it.

With quick courage, she jumped into the water, pulling the terrified children with her. Treading water, she held their heads above water and screamed lustily.

Government's Plan To Help Low-Income Families With Food Problems Nearing

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 — The agricultural department's program for selling surplus farm products to low-income Americans at reduced prices will begin on a limited scale but eventually may benefit 6,000,000 families.

Officials indicated today that the program would be started within a few weeks by offering a few vegetables, fruits and dairy products to underprivileged families at cut-rate prices. Later a larger range of foodstuffs and cotton goods and clothing will be added.

One of the most perplexing problems to the instigators is drawing the line between consumers who will have to pay regular market prices and those who will be permitted to buy at the lower prices.

Generally speaking, the department wants the benefits of the reduced prices made available to families having an annual income of less than $1,500. Officials estimate that a third of the American families are in this class.

Group Division Likely

It is possible, officials said, that these families might be divided into two groups. In one would be families receiving surplus farm commodities now being distributed free by the federal sudplus commodities corporation. In this group are unemployable persons on state relief rolls, recipients of old age pensions, the needy blind, dependent children,

New Mexico Publisher Makes Gesture, Offering To Run As New Dealer In Race

ARTESIA, N. M., Oct. 22. (AP)—Who said there was no esprit de corps among newspaper men?

The supreme sacrifice for the fourth estate was made today by A. L. (Pot) Bert, editor of the Artesia Advocate, who offered to run for governor on the New Deal party ticket, which is threatened with extinction on the ballot unless at least one candidate is found to run on it.

Bert wired Arthur Dowless of Clovis, secretary of the party:

"I am willing to be a candidate for governor on the New Deal ticket. Although I'm a Democrat, and I can't help that, I hate to see New Mexico printers cheated out of a fourth column on the official ballots."

Records Must Be Kept For 11,000,000

New Labor Standards Act Goes Into Effect At Midnight Tonight; Favor Predicted

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. — The wage and hour administration disclosed tonight that employers would have to keep records of some sort for 11,000,000 workers under the labor standards act going into effect at midnight Sunday.

Officials estimated the law would result in wage raises for 750,000 persons, and shorten working hours for 1,500,000. They said records would DALLAS, Oct. 22 (AP)—John Fisher, head of a pecan-shelling plant here, said today his plant, employing between 250 and 300 men, would close Monday.

No Prescribed Records

However, in the case of many exempt groups such as professional workers and administrative employes, only the worker's name, address and occupation must be reported.

Elmer F. Andrews, the wage-hour administrator, disclosed in regulations that no specific form would be required for the records, as long as the data kept included all the desired information and was accessible to the administrator and his representatives.

To make the task of employers as simple as possible, he said, he had tried to coordinate the record-keeping requirements under this law with those under the social security act, state unemployment compensation laws and similar statutes.

The administrator met reporters during the day, telling them that "generally, employers have been

Boon To Crippled Made Available

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 — A new surgical method of giving muscular movement to artificial arms, hands and fingers was announced to the American College of Surgeons today.

The surgical knife creates links of living tissue which hook the muscles of a "stump" to the crocs that manipulate the artificial part.

These "hooks" are hollow tubes made from the living tissues remaining at the site of the amputation. But they are unlike any tube nature ever made.

They are inside out, that is, their inside is lined with skin while their exteriors are tissues which normally lie under the skin.

Arrangement Intricate

These tubes are thrust like pins through and across the ends of a muscle of the "stump" of arm. Their exterior tissues take root, so that the tube units with the muscle surrounding it.

The corn which manipulates the fingers is passed through the in-

Woman Pistol Shot Expert Is Seriously Wounded By Gun

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 22. (AP) — Mrs. Louise Guier, 23, pistol expert, suffered a bullet wound today while she was firing a pistol in a shooting gallery here.

Willie Kramer, owner of the gallery, told authorities Mrs. Guier ordered a pistol loaded with eight cartridges.

Each of the first seven shots rang the bell on the pistol range. The eighth bullet pierced her left breast.

She ordered an ambulance and walked to a drugstore for first aid. Later her condition was described as critical.

Was It Shakespeare Or Bacon Who Wrote Those Poems? Excavation May Decide

By FRED VANDERSCHMIDT
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 22.—An exploration of the tomb of Edmund Spenser in the poet's corner of Westminster Abbey has been begun in the hope of finding a buried Shakespearean elegy which might help settle the Bacon-Shakespeare controversy.

It is believed that Shakespeare (Bacon?) may have been among the poets who, according to the historian William Camden, placed "Mournful Elegiesa and Poems with the Pens That Wrote Them" in the grave of Spenser, who died in 1599.

Should this be true and the manuscript still be legible it could be compared with known specimens of the writings of Sir Francis Bacon in an effort to determine who was the real Shakespeare.

Ben Jonson, Francis Beaumont, John Fletcher and others were supposed to have placed poems in the grave of Spenser, the "poet's poet," who died, according to contemporaries, "for lack of bread in King street."

Lawrence Tanner, keeper of muniments at Westminster Abbey, said that because there is no exact record of the burial, "we do not know the precise spot where the remains lie nor how deep they may be."

It was known definitely, however, that the body had been interred somewhere near where a monument was erected in Spenser's memory.

Reports From 161 Counties Made

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 22. — Reports to Comptroller George H. Sheppard from 161 of Texas' 254 counties indicate property valuations for state tax purposes are more than $50,000,000 greater than in 1937.

Sheppard said today the aggregate net increase in reporting counties applying the same percentage to the 93 missing counties he calculated the state gain would be $52,621,314.

Valuations last year for state tax purposes totaled $3,377,774,521.

Lubbock, up $1,289,006 to $24,270,841; Smith up $1,006,327 to $34,655,987; Travis, up $1,789,760 to $49,762,040.

Lecture On Art Is Made By Lockard At Texas Tech

"There are no cut and dried rules about art. No one type of composition is better than any other."

R. I. Lockard, assistant professor of architecture and allied arts discussed water color paintings by Franz Bergmann, shown in West Texas Museum on Texas Technological campus, Saturday.

Two groups of Bergmann's paintings are illustrated in 25 sketches depicting landscapes of Southern California and the Southwest.

Expressionism terms one group, which shows personality of the artist. Bergmann does this type because he likes to show his own attitude in pictures. Using his imagination, he puts in drawings which he visualizes and thus symbolizes his attitude on life.

Landscapes See Better

Simple landscapes or architectural designs sell best, because they bring to memory something which has been seen.

Expressionistic work allows the artist to take the liberty of taking what he wants from a picture. Techinque is almost unconscious and usually light.

Pueblos of Taos, N. M., were shown, the painting being a sort of caricature in an order of cartoon with an element of light satire, showing that artists and tourists were pushing the Indian out of existence in his own home.

Perhaps the most tragic portrayal of this individual art was a picture titled "Homines Sapiensis", showing degrading conditions with a father holding a child down, symbolizing that home environment and parents were holding this child down.

Ironical describes another water color painting showing the artist's conception of Main Street in Los Angeles. Clothes appeared to be walking without brains or body and people seemed to be going nowhere. More sinister than other pictures was this suggestion of symbolism, including a theater, bar, and hotel.

New Expression Infused

Straight pictorial paintings displayed nothing of the artist's personality, except through conflict of color in paint. Balance according to old rules of composition was perfect. Arrangement was precise, working always to carry the eye to a certain point.

Expressionism makes no attempt at balance, only wishing to fill every available space with an idea. This is quite a new type of painting, used more in modern groups than any other.

Granite Memorial To Will Rogers

(By The Associated Press)

CLAREMORE, Okla., Oct. 22.—There's a granite museum standing now on the hilltop where Will Rogers once dreamed of building his home when old age came.

Old age never came to the Sage of Claremore. Death came instead on the bleak tundra of Alsaka and caught him in his prime—him and his pilot, daring Wiley Post.

So, instead of the home on the hill, they have put together in granite a memorial to the Oklahoma cowboy-humorist.

Rogers' widow deeded the state the 17-acre hilltop site over-looking Claremore on which Rogers planned to build a permanent home when he said, he had "outgrown" his usefulness.

Will probably would have liked this memorial—even though he once declared memorials should be living things, such as hospitals, instead of cold shafts or monumental heaps of stone.

For this museum is designed like a rambling ranch house, built as simply as imposing granite will admit, and is set amid those red earth hills Will loved.

Some engineers predict that the day will come when smooth highways will be a thing of the past. It is the contention of many that highways as well as tires should be treaded.

South Plains Camera Club Plans For Its First Annual Competition Here This Week

Men who defy gravity to obtain unusual camera shots, who even risk their necks to secure unusual pictures, just for the fun of it, have come into their own in Lubbock and the South Plains area.

The South Plains Camera club is holding its first annual convention in Lubbock Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Professional and amateur photographers from Brownfield, Post, Slaton, Ralls, and other towns in the area are preparing an exhibition of choice camera photographs of many types.

Color Prints Included

Among the photographs on exhibit in the junior ballroom of Lubbock hotel will be direct color prints, retouched prints, as well as black and white. One 8x10 inch color to be shown is a hunting scene in which the photography is so perfect that dust on the huntsman's shoes is plainly visible. In all, about 200 prints will be shown, dealing with many subjects and taken under varying conditions of light and weather.

Dr. J. C. Anderson will show motion pictures in color of Yaqui Indian ceremonials. These pictures were obtained only with the greatest difficulty because of the old Indian superstition that a photograph takes something away from the soul.

Public Can Vote

The public will have the chance to vote on its choice of photographs. The club is anxious to know what kind of pictures interest the public, and Ray Red, secretary, has urged that visitors attend the exhibit any afternoon between the hours of 1:30 and 10 o'clock.

The South Plains Camera club was organized in Lubbock April 4 for the purpose of promoting and perfecting the hobby of photography. Members of the club have access to up-to-the-minute information on photography.

Red, who says he is no expert cameraman, exploded the theory that high-priced equipment was necessary for good photography.

"One of the finest pictures in composition and clarity was taken with a shoe box without lens or shutters. The photographer," he continued, "is similar to the painter. He must study his subject, arrange his background, and secure tone in much the same manner. This is what we wish to bring to the attention of all camera fans, the importance of studying the subject for maximum effect. A picture must gain and hold the attention."

Regulations Are Posted

Photographers, amateur or professional, are invited to send in choice photographs. Prizes will be awarded on a basis of subject, exposure, and composition. Entries should be mailed to South Plains Camera club, 214 Myrick Building, Lubbock, in accordance with the following rules:

1. There will be two divisions in the exhibit—for amateurs and for professionals.

2. Any photographer in what is generally termed the South Plains area of Texas may enter.

3. In the professional division there will be two classes; portrait and commercial. The amateur division is not limited to any subject.

Must Mount Prints

4. Prints must be mounted, 14x18, 16x20, or 18x22 inches, unless the subject is of banquets, conventions, or aerial views.

5. Every print must be suitably titled, written or printed, on the face of the mount. Name of photographer and data as to camera, exposure, etc., must be given on back of mount.

6. No prints in glass frames may be entered.

7. Direct color prints and hand colored prints may be entered for judging in their respective classification.

Must Be First Exhibit

8. Prints previously exhibited in the United States are not acceptable.

9. An entry fee of 15 cents each for the first six and 25 cents for each print thereafter will be charged. There is no limit to the number of entries. Entry fee must accompany the prints.

10. Prize winners will be determined by non-competing and disinterested judges in all divisions.

Club Reserves Right

11. The South Plains Camera club reserves the right to use the winning prints for exchange of exhibits with other clubs in the United States.

12. All negatives must have been made or exposed by the person entering the prints.

Judges for the exhibit were announced Saturday as follows: Jack Edwards of Amarillo, Foster Fletcher of Pampa and Robert Lockard of the Texas Tech faculty.

Prizes to be awarded in addition to club prizes include: a Kalart speed flash, 2X Yellow filter, flash bulbs, roll 16 mm color movie film, roll of 16 mm supersensitive black and white movie film, roll of 8 mm color movie film, tripod, roll of 35 mm miniature camera films, print roller and others. They were donated by Bowen's Drug, Mark Halsey Drug, Jarrett-West Drug, Varsity Book Store and Wylie's Drug.

The nation's gasoline tax bill in 1937 was equivalent to six days' pay for every wage-earner gainfully employed in private enterprise in the United States.

Sikora Verdict Is Popular

CHICAGO, Oct. 22. (AP)—A jury of 11 husbands and a bachelor decided Rudolph Sikora, the "perfect husband," was justified in killing the man who stole his young wife's affections.

They acquitted the 31-year-old defendent last night after deliberating less than two hours. They took only one ballot.

Russell F. Hornburg, 35, jury foremen, apparently voiced the sentiments of his fellow jurors when he declared:

"We felt that he acted in a way that should protect the sanctity of the American home."

Edward Solomon, 35, the bachelor lover of Mrs. Margaret Sikora, was shot to death on a street corner Aug. 22.

The jury's decision was acclaimed by a wildly cheering courtroom throng. Spectators, most of them women, screamed their delight and swarmed around the slender defendant.

In contrast, his 22-year-old wife was calm, almost expressionless. She had scored her husband's defense by taking the witness stand to vow allegiance to the memory of her dead lover.

"I expected that verdict," commented the pretty brunette. "The jury heard the evidence. They were the deciding factors."

Her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Boehme, burst into joyful tears. She had opposed her daughter in the dramatic trial by pleading the cause of her son-in-law.

The four-day trial was one of the swiftest in Chicago's annals. It also was the first major criminal trial in the city's history in which a wife testified against her husband.

Survey To Ascertain Where Scout Troops Are Needed Most To Be Started Monday In City; Plan To Reach Under-Privileged

Survey seeking to ascertain where Boy Scout troops are most needed in Lubbock will be started Monday and be completed within two weeks, according to announcement Saturday by Dr. F. B. Malone, president of South Plains Scout council.

Supervising the work will be Earl M. McClure, chief executive, George A. Holland and Donald A. Petersen, field executives, and Jack M. Randal, Lubbock district chairman.

Plans for completion of the survey, Randal announced, are to occupy the attention of the Lubbock district executive committee at a supper-meeting in Cocanougher's cafeteria at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday.

In Line With Objective

The survey will be in line with the major objective of scouting during the year which, Dr. Malone explained, is to reach under-privileged boys. Plan is to find where the troops are needed and then to proceed with their organization.

In line with the major aim, two negro troops have been organized within the past 10 days and organization of a Mexican troop is scheduled for completion at a meeting in Guadalupe school at 7:30 p. m. Friday. Sixteen Mexican boys are scheduled for enrollment at that time, McClure said. Invitation to others who wish to become scouts was extended to attend the meeting.

PLAN LEADERSHIP COURSE

Dr. J. O. Ellsworth, head professor of economics and business administration at Texas Technological college and long active in Boy Scout work, will direct a new type of leadership training in South Plains council, McClure announced.

Dr. Ellsworth will conduct a course starting in November, for men who are to be appointed directors of cubbing and directors of scoutmastership in each of the 10 districts comprising South Plains council. The district directors then will be responsible for leadership training courses in their own areas, McClure explained.

Expectation is that the plan will provide the leadership needed for further expansion of scout and cubbing membership in the council, the executive explained.

CAMP TO END COURSE

Seventeen men from Levelland, Whiteface and Morton were enrolled in a camp Saturday night which will bring to a close leadership training courses in progress in these towns during the past week, according to Petersen, who has been directing the activity.

The camp is located near Pettit, and studies will be continued through today following a religious service this morning.

Special attention has been given, Petersen said, to preparations for the organization of cub packs in the area.

THREE TO EAGLE RANK

Three boys are scheduled for advancement to Eagle rank, the highest in scouting, at a monthly court of honor for Lubbock district in the 99th district courtroom in the courthouse at 7:30 p. m. Friday, according to George W. Dupree, court of honor chairman.

Boys are Billy Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kennedy, 902 Avenue L, a member of troop No. 8, sponsored by the American Legion with Frank Runkles the scoutmaster; Billy Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Wright, 1502 Avenue N, member of troop No. 4, sponsored by First Presbyterian church with John Vickers as scoutmaster; and Harper Scoggins, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Scoggins of Lorenzo, member of troop 27 with Clifton Hughes the scoutmaster.

TO REORGANIZE TROOP

Appointment of John W. Wilson, instructor in physical education in Junior High school, as scoutmaster of troop No. 10, which is to be reorganized Monday night, was announced Saturday.

Reorganization meeting is to be in the Junior High gymnasium starting at 7 o'clock.

G. G. Aycock and John Austin were announced as members of the troop committee, with a third member yet to be appointed. Carroll Thompson, principal of the school, is neighborhood commissioner.

Boys who have enrolled for the troop are: Jack Abbott, an eagle scout; Tom LeMond, life scout; James Pharr, star rank; Billy Austin, Billy Aycock, Bobby Harvey, L. D. Vessells and Billy Rogers, tenderfoot rank; and James Young, Jack McCrary, Marney Perry, Steve Meinecke, Bob Lowrey, Charles Burton, jr., Jim Bob Karr, Bobby, Hurmence, J. L. Lea, Phil Ragland, Reuben McElroy, Gordon Stalcup and Garth Gotcher, new scouts.

Wilson will attend the meeting on crutches, his right leg having been fractured below the knee Wednesday when a bed of roll-away type collapsed upon him. He returned to classwork Friday.

ROUNDTABLE TO MEET

Plans for fall and winter activities will occupy the attention of the monthly meeting of Lubbock Scoutmasters roundtable in Cocanougher's cafeteria at 6:15 p. m. Thursday, according to E. V. Hicks, president.

Lough Nasuil, Lake-of-the-Eye, in County Sligo, Ireland, occupied an area of 45 acres, but it disappeared several years ago, and now there is only a dry hole 18 feet deep.

Grisly Scene Enacted In Oklahoma Pen Ward; Two Prisoners Are Killed

Another Convict Badly Wounded

(By The Associated Press)

McALESTER, Okla., Oct. 22.—Two long term prisoners were stabbed to death and a third wounded seriously in a fight in the penitentiary tuberculosis ward today over whether a gas stove should be turned lower.

Vern Brotners, serving 20 years from Tulsa county for robbery and Ignacio Gomez, once condemned to die for murder, were slain.

Murphy Said Attacked

Gomez, from Kay county, and Brothers, who once escaped from the prison but w recaptured, attacked Murphy, other convicts related, when the latter turned a gas stove lower because he thought the ward was too hot.

The two slain convicts were armed with iron pipes torn from bunks in the ward, the other inmates said.

They battered Murphy about the head but he managed to break loose and obtained the knife from a hiding place and killed the two after a fight that lasted several minutes.

Guards were called by other inmates of the ward but reached the scene of the fight too late to stop it.

Investigation Launched

Murphy was taken to the prison hospital but was unable to give a coherent accoun of the battle.

Murphy, serving 15 years from Garvin county for robbery with firearms, was in charge of the ward, set aside from the main part of the prison.

No civilian guards are employed in th ward.

An investigation of the double slaying was started immediately by Pittsburgh County Attorney W. J. Counts.

He declined comment pending outcome of the investigation.

Treasonable Tactics Charged To Gov. Murphy In Strike

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. (AP) — Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan was accused before the house committee on un-American activities today of "treasonable" and obstructive tactics during the great sit-down strike in the automobile plants in January of 1937.

One witness, Judge Paul V. Gadola of the Genesee county circuit court at Flint, Mich., testified Murphy prevented execution of a court order the judge issued for the ejection of strikers from Fisher body plants in Flint.

The use of dual-tone horns is being advocated in some states. One horn would be used only when a driver intended to pass another car, and the other would be used for regular service.

New Oldsmobiles To Be Displayed

Three smart Oldsmobiles — two sixes and an eight — all offering a fresh new note in modern streamline styling and much that is new in mechanical design, make their public debut today at the Grimes Motor company, Thirteenth and Avenue H.

Among the many new Oldsmobile developments for 1939, the one which probably will draw major attention is the "Rhythmic Ride" and the means by which it has been achieved. The "Rhythmic Ride", according to L. E. Grimes, manager, offers an entirely new conception of motoring comfort which results from the absolute control maintained over the action of the "Quadri-Coil" springs by the various stabilizing devices designed and built into the chassis.

High Points Are Listed

Among the high points of interest in the cars with which Oldsmobile starts its 42nd model year are:

1.—Addition to the line of a brand-new six cylinder car which brings Oldsmobile quality to the low price field.

Perfect Steering Geometry

3.—Attainment of perfect steering geometry through a new hook-up employing a relay link with twin tie-rods of equal length, termed "dual center-control steering."

4.—Introduction of Handi-Shift as standard equipment—a replacement of the conventional gear shift lever by a short, horizontal manual shift arm on the steering column.

5.—Continuation as an optional extra on all models of Oldsmobile's automatic safety transmission which provides important added advantages in performance, operating economy and ease of control.

Powered With New Engine

The low priced six, known as the series sixty, is powered with a newly developed "Econo-Master" engine of 90 brake horsepower designed to provide top flight performance at minimum operating cost. A larger six, developing 95 horsepower and with a wheelbase of 120 inches, is designated the series seventy, while the 110 horsepower straight Eight on the same wheelbase has been named the series eighty.

All three series bear a general resemblance in the graceful treatment of flaring, low-valanced fenders, smartly tailored metal trim, smoothly contoured all-steel turret top bodies and safety steel wheels with massive chromed hub caps. The front end of the hood curves downward to meet narrow, die-cast radiator grille, creating a fleet, close-to-the-road impression and affording the driver a marked advantage in foreground visibility. The aprons on either side of the radiator grille carry low, bullet type headlamps, recessed above horizontal chrome louvers which provide additional air inlets for effective engine cooling.

The following body models are available in all three series: business coupe, club coupe, two-door sedan with trunk and four-door sedan with trunk. In addition, a convertible coupe is offered in the Seventy and Eighty Series.

Gaines County Fair Attracts Numerous Visitors Despite Bristling Norther

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

SEAGRAVES, Oct. 22—Best agricultural and home products to be shown here in several years, were exhibited today at the annual Gaines County fair.

Attendance, in spite of a howling norther in the morning, was god. Many cars of Lubbock residents stopped a few minutes to visit. They were en route to a grid game at Odessa. No formal program was given, owing to weather conditions.

Business men contributed about $100 in prizes and also merchandise premiums. The Seminole chamber of commerce, R. W. Pittman, president, and Sam Malone, secretary, assisted. Cline E. Morris, county agent, and T. A. McCuistion, vocational agriculture teacher, were superintendents of the men's work and Miss Elizabeth Parker, home demonstration agent, the women's department.

"Mad Sculptor" Sneers At Idea Of Death In Chair; "Immunity" Is Fancied

A "Blue Ribbon" Jury Demanded

By ROGER GREENE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 22—Robert Irwin who snuffed out three lives on Easter Sunday, 1937, paced his cell in Tombs prison tonight and laughed at death in the electric chair.

The so-called "Mad Sculptor," pronounced sane by a lunacy commission, has got it all down pat now—a way, if convicted, to cheat the chair.

"Irwin is living in a dream," said his attorney, Samuel Leibowitz, famous New York criminal lawyer.

Has Erratic Conceptions

And tonight, for the first time, Leibowitz divulged some of the psycopathic sculptor's eerie fancies. Irwin, according to Leibowitz, believes he can—

Make a building disappear by sheer will power.

"Read" a book by gazing at the cover.

Change a human being into stone, a horse into a frog.

On the same principle, Leibowitz said, the squint-eyed triple slayer does not feel he actually murdered beautiful Veronica ("Ronnie") Gedeon, 20-year-old artist's model; her mother, Mary, 54, and Frank Byrnes, 35, a roomer in the Gedeon household on Beekman Hill.

He merely "borrowed" their lives . . . until he becomes the omnipotent messiah of a strange new world.

Evidently Feels "Immunity"

Then, of course, he would "reconstruct" his three victims, unblemished by the purple throat marks where his steely fingers throttled Ronnie and her mother or by the 11 skull-piercing holes where he stabbed Byrnes behind the ear with an ice pick as he slept.

As for the electric chair, Leibowitz confirmed a story that Irwin believes he has built up "immunity"—if the test comes— against the squat oaken death seat at Sing Sing.

Tombs prison officials disclosed that Irwin recently asked for coils of wire and copper discs "for an experiment."

When his request was turned down, Irwin smiled cryptically.

"Never mind," he said. "I've got it solved, anyway."

Leibowitz Claims Insanity

With the trial fast shaping up as a battle between phychiatrists over Irwin's sanity, Leibowitz—who has won 116 acquittals in 123 murder trials and never yet lost a client to the executioner—declared:

"I have never been more confident of winning a case in my life. There is no question of Irwin committing the crime. But he was, is and will be hopelessly insane. He's crazy as a bedbug."

Leibowitz said the lunacy commission which found Irwin sane did so "by proxy"—without ever having examined the patient.

"The Irwin trial will be the first time in my life I have ever asked for a blue ribbon jury," Leibowitz said. "But this time I want a jury of men and women of the highest educational background to properly evaluate this man's life and say if they are willing to send him to the electric chair."

While Leibowitz stressed the insanity angle, others disputed such a time-worn "out" in a murder of this type.

Insanity Not Always Defense

"The fact that a person may be insane does not necessarily relieve him from criminal responsibility under the law," observed the New York Law Journal.

And shortly after Irwin was imprisoned, Warden William A. Adams said, "Irwin isn't crazy now. He's as normal as any man in prison."

Irwin's keepers described him as eating and exercising regularly, and otherwise appearing normal.

"His only outburst," they said, "was many months ago when he suddenly turned on a fellow prisoner and lashed out at him like a wildcat. He said the other prisoner was staring at him and sneering."

William C. Dodge, then district attorney, said flatly:

"Irwin was not insane at the time of the murders. He knew the nature and quality of his acts. I will pit my 31 years of experience as a lawyer to prove him guilty of murder."

Dodge was succeeded in office by Thomas E. Dewey, famous racket-busting prosecutor, now busily stumping the state as Republican candidate for governor.

Dewey's assistant, Jacob J. Rosenblum, head of the homicide bureau, will prosecute Irwin.

Clerk Fears Friends Might Have Misunderstood Statement

How to return to the grace of some of "my oldest and best friends who misread a recent item" in the Morning Avalanche is a problem facing Ed D. Allen, county clerk.

"A few days ago the paper ran a little story quoting me as quoting an absentee voter as saying he wanted to 'scratch W. Lee O'Daniel's name'," Allen said. "But some of my friends mis-interpreted the story, although it was perfectly clear, and are accusing me of saying that. And some of them are plenty sore, too.

"I would like for them to know that I intend to continue my policy of voting the straight Democratic ticket in the general election next month."

Shapeless Uniforms Are Banished

It May Be A Little Early To Be Thinking Of Toys But Not For Merchants; Display On At Market Here; Everything Modern

You pick-up a wireless telephone and hear a "hello!" You press a button and a streamlined street-car speeds away. A mere turn of a switch starts a pipe organ or the chimes and bells of a cathedral. Without the use of human hands sand is loaded from the ground to cars. A famous comic strip character knocks another down.

No, it's not a hall of science nor a museum. It's not an eighth wonder of the world, at least not listed as such.

Display Of Toys

It's merely a display of the new toys which Santa Claus will bring to children this Christmas, and and they are on display on the floors of the Lubbock hotel at the 17th semi-annual market week displays.

Famous characters, real and fictitious, were not forgotten in plans for the 1938 Christmas toys.

Popeye smacks Toar down every time a youngster deposits a penny or a dime in his bank. And Wimpy is not forgotten. For the musically minded, Santa Claus has manufactured a "musical hamburger."

Pluto Will Do Tricks

Pluto the pup, without even a command, will lie down, roll over, get up, and will all but guard the children. Jack, the pull donkey, kicks like a white mule.

A real dial telephone, which rings, minus the complicating wire connections, captures the fancy of all the youngsters. As soon as it is removed from its stand on the desk, there emerges from the receiver a squeaking sound. The salesman interpreted the sound as a feminine "hello."

Just Press A Button

The pressing of a button on a beautifully designed trolley car winds it up, and it speeds away without the use of rails or electricity. Only a step behind it is a 1939 model streamlined roadster and trailing is a long sleek trailer.

A glistening triplane flies through the air, loops the loop, then settles back into a smooth cruising speed.

Bob Burns, the radio and film comedian was not slighted by the toy-makers this season. He is remembered by numerous types of bazookas, and any one of them will produce more melodies than the pipes blown by the Van Buren, Ark., musician.

Snow White Is Included

Apparently most appealing to the feminine young were the Snow White dolls. Snow White is available in any type doll, story book, and painting books. The witch-queen is a common figure as are Dopey and the other six dwarfs in doll forms.

For those with a more masculine taste are the Charlie McCarthy and Dummy Dan dolls, with stove-pipe hat, tails and all, crowding the prince out and sitting beside Snow White or Shirley Temple dolls with big eyes which will open and close and even roll.

There are crawling babies, dancing couples, siamese twins, crying dolls, and then there's "Betsy Wetsy" whose surname is appropriate, with a "change" and flannel diapers, jacket and rubber pants.

Popeye Beats A Drum

Popeye beats the drum; Mickey Mouse is engineer of a locomotive; Dapper Dan dances, Joe Penner rides a duck; Donald Duck squawks and dances; Dopey and Doc Dwarfs chop on a stump; Snow White does a ballet; and that ain't all.

But sadly lacking this year are the numerous China dishes and countless novelties "Made in China" and "Made in Japan." Recent wars have cut down the imports to the United States of toys and novelties from those countries. A nationally-known merchandising company which last year displayed dozens of China dish sets has one on display here.

New Games Introduced

Games, as always, remain popular; but the new season has brought new ones. Most popular of the new ones is Chinese checkers, the representative of the merchandising company said. Others are "pick-up-sticks" and "Stack 'Em High." For the advanced in age are bingo, lotto, dominoes, checkers, and table tennis.

The prospects of war have had their effect. There are war tanks, army planes and battle ships. The cowboy outfit with the big hat, hairy chaps, and six-shooter is ever present. Wholesalers are also well stocked with sporting goods for boys, new notions in fireworks, more brilliant and safer Christmas tree decorations, varied toy assortments, and noise-making galore.

For whatever Mother and Dad have there is a miniature for the youngster available to the retail merchants here for market week.

Cooperation By Oil Men Urged

TULSA, Oct. 22. (AP)—Donald R. Richberg declared tonight he was convinced oil men must cooperate to combat their problems and that "neither learned economists nor well-meaning politicians can lead the way to their solution."

The former NRA chief, now a Washington attorney, in an address prepared for delivery before the annual banquet of the Independent Petroleum association of America, said it was "comforting to realize most of the people in this industry want to have cooperative planning and self-regulation developed by ways and means of self-government within the industry.

No Transfer Of Problems

"They are neither ready nor willing to transfer their responsibilities to outside public officials.

"Nevertheless, I believe that they are ready and willing to have their cooperative programs subject to the review and approval of official representatives of the public interest."

He alluded to his tenure as NRA chieftain. Every business, he said, had protested that "the problems of our industry are peculiar."

"I will assert that the problems of your industry defy analysis or solution by any convention economic processes or formulas and that application of general rules of business conduct to this industry at least perilous, and usually a most unwise, adventure," he added.

"The petroleum industry has furnished a wonderful demonstration of all the good and evil in every possible business practice.

Calls For Cooperation

"Does any well-informed person believe that the alleged laws of supply and demand should be allowed to operate upon such an industry without some corrective, stabilizing controls to establish and protect individual rights, to prevent intolerable waste and to avoid periodic cycles of feast and famine?" he asked.

He called for cooperation of competitors "to civilize competition," for cooperation of employes and employers, and of business and government.

He declared some persons feared for the safety of the present economic system, adding, "we don't want any dictator, or any war. We ought to be able to establish a sound economic system without either form or compulsion."

Wellman Schools Are Dedicated

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

WELLMAN, Oct. 22.—Two new school structures here were formally dedicated with a special program Friday night.

A new school building costing approximately $29,000 and a new gymnasium constructed at an estimated cost of $16,000, were dedicated.

Principal address was by Levelland County Judge Alvin R. Allison, Democratic nominee from this district to the state legislature. He spoke on cooperation.

"The cooperative efforts of the Wellman school board of trustees, the citizenship, and the faculty have made possible one of the finest school systems on the South Plains," he said. "The school should be commended for its compilation of 19½ affiliated credits with the state department of education. That is an usual record for any school this size."

Basketball Played

He challenged the boys and girls of the school to show their appreciation for the efforts of their parents, faculty, and board in supplying the system by "really applying themselves to repay those who had the foresight to prepare for theier education."

After introductory remarks by J. B. Bell, superintendent of Wellman schools, Lee Fulton, Terry county superintendent of schools, spoke.

Union girls basketball team took the Wellman sextet 18 to 10, but Wellman boys defeated the Union quintet 16 to 9.

Members of the Wellman girls' team were Mavis Starnes, Mozelle Singleton, Myldred Pace, Mabel Embry, Nelda Bennett, Opal Hight, Mary Don Wade, Katy Belle Nichols, Marjorie Maness and Letta Rich. The Union team was composed of Othena Ellis, Jewel Davis, Edna Earl Lewis, Lakeland Walser, Laverne Chance, Laverne Blocker, Inez Snow, Wanda Barton, Lecie Beck, and Joy Simpson.

Wellman boys' squad was composed of Harvey Smith, Bob Grigg, Ovie Holleman, Latrell Hester, William Wade, Otis Davis, Junior Smith, Len Baker, Billie Sims, and Don Blevins. On the Union boys' line-up were Clettus Floyd, Walter Smith, R. G. Nutt, Woodson Innman, F. J. Beck, Elvoyd Barton, W. A. Brock, Ted Barnard, and Darrell Zacry.

Observance Of Traffic Rules In City Practically Nil, As Safety Club Survey Reveals

Wonder if anyone obeyed traffic regulations!

Here's the results the Senior High school Safety club tabulated after watching traffic at Broadway and Avenue K 20 minutes, according to the club president, Frank Fite:

Drivers of 237 cars did not signal for right or left turns; 33 "ran" red lights; 55 pedestrians stood in the street instead of on the curb while waiting for lights to change; 304 pedestrians crossed the street "in the middle of the block" rather than at the intersection; 82 pedestrians "walked" red lights.

Thirteen members of the safety club watched traffic from the Lubbock hotel balcony overlooking the street. Fite said Saturday. Larry Wallace tabulated results.

Salvation Army To Continue Drive; $2,000 Needed

The Salvation Army's financial drive for a $5,000 budget had reached the $3,000 mark Saturday, with more than 50 persons yet to make a report on their solicitation work, E. J. Parsons, chairman of the drive, said.

"We will continue the drive," he announced. "We are asking every man who solicited prospects for us to send in a report on what he has done.

"The Army needs that other $2,000 to continue work here. Lubbock ought to pass the goal."

Parsons said that persons who had not been solicited were asked to send in their contributions to the committee or to the Army hall on Seventeenth street.

Heavy water is composed of the same elements as ordinary water, but the hydrogen elements are twice as heavy as in ordinary water.

Lubbock Files New Air Brief

A supplemental brief in further advocacy of the establishment of an airmail line serving Lubbock was prepared Saturday and forwarded immediately to the newly created civil aeronautics administration in Washington, according to information given at the chamber of commerce.

The supplemental brief, it was explained, was prepared at the request of officials of Continental Airlines which proposes to establish a line from Denver to El Paso serving Dalhart, Amarillo, Carlsbad, Hobbs and Roswell additional to Lubbock.

Conference Nears

The supplement contains detailed information concerning Lubbock and the area, its general purpose being to supply evidence of the prospects for profitable operation of an airline.

Announcement also was made that C. E. Maedgen, chairman of the chamber's aviation committee, Amos Howard, postmaster, and A. F. Holt, commercial aviator, will head Lubbock's delegation in Amarillo Oct. 29 at a conference to discuss methods of furthering the Continental line's application.

Alley Paving Is Planned In City

Attempt to work out a plan which will clear the way for the paving of downtown alleys was disclosed at the city hall here Saturday.

If the plan can be worked out, according to further information, it will mean the early launching of by far the most extensive program of alley paving in the history of Lubbock.

Difficulties Encountered

Difficulties have been encountered thus far, it was explained, because many owners of downtown property have contended that the enhancement of the value of the property would not justify the cost of paving. In that contention, members of the city commission agree.

Result is, it was disclosed, that a plan is being studied under which the city would pay 25 per cent of the cost. It is virtually assured that another 25 per cent will come from the Works Progress administration, leaves 50 per cent to be assessed against the property owner.

Would Mean Economy

Mayor Carl E. Slaton is of the expressed opinion that payment by the city of 25 per cent will be an economy because it would make possible a type of paving on which maintenance costs, which the city must pay, would be low. Paving likewise would mean economies in garbage collection because of the greater speed made possible by hard surfacing.

The cost of paving alleys, according to report by City Engineer Marlin R. Smith, jr., to the city commission, is much higher per square yard than upon streets. The most economical and most satisfactory paving for streets has been proved by long experience, he said, to be the type known as "inverted penetration asphalt rock." That is a paving which is formed by the spreading of several layers of different sizes of crushed rock. After each spread of rock, a coating of hot asphalt is poured.

Compaction Is Factor

Each spread of rock is smoothed and rolled with a 10-ton roller which drives the smaller stone into the crevices left by the larger. The completed paving, resulting from the compaction made possible because of the repeated trips with the heavy roller, is a hard, resilient sheet of remarkable density and durability. The all-important factor in such paving, Smith said, is the compaction.

In alleys a different problem is encountered. There the paving slopes downward toward the center for drainage. On streets, the bow is upward. On streets, machinery can be used for practically all the work. Alleys are too narrow. There the work must be done almost entirely by hand. In alleys also are encountered water and gas meters, posts, and poles. It is impossible, Smith reported, to compact paving by hand satisfactorily. Such paving is so lacking in density, according to his expressed opinion, that it would come apart after a short life. Resulting maintenance cost would be large for an unsatisfactory piece of work, he declared.

Recommends Brick

Paving he recommended for alleys was brick upon a concrete base. That work can be done by hand, will be long lasting and the brick surfacing will make possible satisfactory and well-appearing patching which will be inevitable because most utility mains are in alleys, he explained.

The fact that alley paving has been a problem was reflected, officials explained, when an ordinance now pending came up for a protest hearing several days ago. It provides for the paving of approximately 19 blocks of alleys bordering the holdings of perhaps 100 property owners. Of that number, at least one-third protested the paving as too costly.

That contrasted with the attitude toward the more than 10 miles of street paving bordering the property of several thousand different owners the past year. Out of that number, officials said, fewer than half a dozen have appeared before the commission to protest street paving.

One Court To Close Term, Another Opens

The 99th district court of Judge E. L. Pitts will close a term of court this week and the 72nd district court of Judge Daniel A. Blair will open one to highlight activities of the courts of this area.

Judge Blair will impanel a grand jury at Morton at 10 o'clock Monday morning to open a two-weeks term there. All dockets except the appearance docket will be called at 10 o'clock that morning and the appearance docket will be read at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Burton S. Burks, district attorney, and Victor H. Lindsey, assistant district attorney, will work with the grand jury in its investigations.

Among the cases scheduled for investigation will be a complaint involving alleged production of Marijuana on a large Cochran county farm.

Judge Pitts will spend the week hearing non-jury civil actions and motions to close an eight-weeks term. He will open another term here Oct. 31, the Monday after the closing of the present term.

After presiding at the regular semi-monthly meeting Monday of the county commissioners court, Judge J. J. Dillard of county court will conduct hearings of jury civil actions.

A jury will report Tuesday. Only regular business, Judge Dillard said, is scheduled for the commissioners court.

Mrs. Lizzie Metcalf's Ear Doesn't Hurt Her Any More; Bug Removed After 26 Years

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., Oct. 22. (AP)—Mrs. Lizzie Metcalf's ear—it plagued her for years—doesn't ache any more.

After an X-ray examination, physicians removed a bug which Mrs. Metcalf recalled flew into the ear 26 years ago. She said she had forgotten about it.

Clothing Market To Close Today

A rushing close is in prospect today for the 17th semi-annual market sponsored by Western Wholesale Clothing market association.

Indications are, according to Sam Rosenthal, president of the association, that today will bring a larger attendance than the three previous days combined.

For that reason, he added, the exhibits which occupy four floors of Lubbock hotel will be open early and the exhibitors plan to remain as late tonight as may be necessary.

Attendance Satisfactory

Several circumstances, Rosenthal explained, contribute to the probability of possibly the largest crowd which ever has visited a market here during any one day. One is the prospect of clear weather. Another is the fact that retailers of the area who preferred to remain with their business Friday and Saturday will be free to make the trip to Lubbock today.

Attendance at the market thus far was described as having been about average for a good year. Large crowds were here for the opening Thursday when the dinner dance and floor show was an added attraction. Friday and Saturday crowds were relatively small, but that was expected.

Success Of Mart Seen

In an opinion of conservative observers, the market has been a pronounced success. The number of visiting retailers from West Texas and Eastern New Mexico probably will set a record. The volume of business probably will fall short of last fall when the greatest cotton crop in the history of the region stimulated business. Crops this year have been just a little better than average and have controlled retail buying throughout the area, it was explained.

Tech Professor And Graduate Authors Of Magazine Article

"Calculation of the Octane Number of Gasoline from Physical Data" is the subject of a magazine article by Dr. V. Schneider, associate professor of chemical engineering at Texas Technological college, and G. W. Stanton, graduate student in that department.

The article appeared in the October issue of the Refiner and Natural Gasoline Manufacturer.

The article explains that, "An accurate, simple method for calculating the octane number of gasoline from such physical data as gravity, distillation data, and percent unsaturates is needed by small refineries who ordinarily must send samples of their gasoline, periodically, to large refineries who have equipment to run octane number. This service is usually costly and time taking, thus limiting the small refineries to infrequent checking of anti-knock of his gasoline."

The article continues by explaining a method by which the small refiner may calculate the octane number through physical data. The article was based upon research at the college and upon data that had been published.

Tech's Dairy Products Judging Team Due To Return On Monday

After visiting in Chicago, Ames, Iowa, and Manhattan, Kas., en route home, a dairy products team that represented Texas Technological college in a national inter-collegiate judging contest in Cleveland, O., Monday is to return Monday night.

K. M. Renner, head professor of dairy manufacturing and team coach, accompanied the group. Team members were Van Scheid, Whitesboro; Clayburn Harrell, Spur; Charles Gillham, Hughes Springs; Arch Lamb, Fort Worth.

The group visited Iowa State College of Agricultural and Mechanical Arts in Ames and Kansas State Agricultural college in Manhattan.

Two Plays To Be Presented By Speech Students Wednesday

Two plays, "The Little Shaver" and "Faith", will be presented by speech students at the regular Senior High assembly Wednesday, under the direction of Miss Marie Cook.

The first play has a comedy setting. Taking part in it will be Hazel Griffin, Keith Black and Marvin McLarty. The second play is a serious one. It is the story of a girl unjustly convicted of a crime. Characters are: Reuby Tom Rhodes, Frank Leisure, Eddie Moore, and Charles Thompson.

Czechs Concentrated On Hungarian Border But Armed Action Not Expected

Hungarians Put Troops Opposite

(By The Associated Press)

UZHOROD, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 22. — Hundreds of thousands of Czechoslovakia troops were ready for action the Hungarian border today, but the general feeling among them was that Hungary would not resort to military action to enforce her territorial demands.

One authoritative source estimated 750,000 Czechoslovak soldiers probably were concentrated along the frontier from Komarno deep into Ruthenia.

(Dispatches from Balassa Gyarmat, on the Hungarian side of the border, said nearly half a million Hungarian troops faced Czechoslovakia. In some sections, the reports said, officers had difficulties in restraining their men from crossing the line "to free Hungarian brothers and sisters from the Czech terror.")

Pact Not Broken

(Dispatches from Budapest said Germany and Italy were urging Hungary to accept Czechoslovakia's latest offer—an offer to cede more than half of the land demanded by Hungary—but the foreign office remained silent."

In Prague, Foreign Minister Frantisek Chvalkovsky war reported to have told the Soviet minister, Sergei Alexandrovski, that Czechoslovakia was "no longer interested" in its alliance with Russia.

Czechoslovakia sources, however, emphasized the fact that the alliance—a mutual assistance pact of which France was a signatory—had not been terminated.

Church Dedication Symbolizes End Of Obligations

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

O'DONNELL, Oct. 22 — Eighteen years after the first Methodist church here organized, it was freed of debt and on Sunday the building will be dedicated with Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of Dallas delivering an address Sunday night.

Organized in 1911 by Rev. T. A. Knight, the church did not begin to build until 1920 when it was started by Rev. W. C. Hart. In 1929 the structure was completed.

Two years ago the indebtedness was $4,300. It was reduced $1,500 by Cicero-Smith Lumber Co. through Don Edwards, manager. Encouraged, members last year planted 65 acres of cotton, netting $1,000 profit. A $500 donation by the general board of church extension was given, with the remainder being paid by a $1,604 payment.

Rev. Dr. O. P. Clark, presiding elder of the Lubbock district, will preside Sunday night. Rev. W. R. Burdett, a former pastor, will assist.

Rev. M. R. Pike is pastor. Following is the announced program:

Voluntary, Mrs. C. L. Shook, pianist; call to worship by the choir; "Come Thou Almighty King," by congregation; reading of the Apostle's creed; prayer; "I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord," by congregation; offering; "The Church's One Foundation," by congregation; sermon by Bishop Holt; dedication service; scripture, Genesis 28:10-22, read by Dr. Clark and, Hebrew 10:19-25, read by Rev. Brunett; doxology, benediction.

Two Bicycles Reported Stolen And Shoplifting Suspect Held

Several thefts Saturday were reported to Lubbock police headquarters.

Mrs. A. L. Strout of 2512 Twenty-first street reported a girl's bicycle stolen. John Flanagan of 2123 Fifth street reported theft of a bicycle.

A 13-year-old Mexican juvenile was arrested at 3:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon for investigation into shoplifting complaints at a downtown variety store. The juvenile was transferred to county authorities and it was indicated charges probably would be filed today or Monday.

Two Killed, Two Injured In Auto Crash Near Seguin

SEGUIN, Oct. 22. (AP)—Two persons were killed and two injured when the coupe in which they were riding collided with the rear of a truck 11 miles north of here on the Seguin-San Marcos highway tonight.

Miss Merle Culpepper, San Antonio, and Garnett Steenken, Stockdale, were the victims.

Their companions, Miss Esther Bohmann and Lynn Stoedper, both of Stockdale, were rushed to a San Marcos hospital. Miss Bohmann, hospital attendants said, was suffering from a broken rib, cuts about the face and possible internal injuries and Stoedper sustained numerous cuts and bruises.

Japs Make Prompt Apology In Mishap Involving U. S. Plane

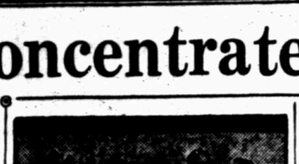

SHANGHAI, Oct. 22. (AP)—Sparks from a waterfront fireworks display in celebration of the Japanese capture of Canton tonight ignited the wing of a plane aboard the United States cruiser Augusta.

The Japanese charge d'affaires for Shanghai, Shinrokuo Hidaka, promptly called United States Consul General Clarence E. Gauss to express official regrets.

He explained the fireworks display was sponsored by a Chinese newspaper published under auspices of the Japanese army.

SEE CHANCE, TAKE IT

OLNEY, Oct. 22. (AP)—While a majority of Olney's residents and peace officers were attending a high school football game here last night, a "Light Fingered Gentry" staged a field day. Burglars entered the J. J. Alexander & Co. clothing store, and a truck was stolen from the Lenn furniture company.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilford Scott of Coleman are parents of a 9 pound son born Wednesday in Coleman, according to a report here Saturday. Scott is son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Scott of Lubbock and Mrs. Scott is the former Miss Camille Stobaugh and was a student at Texas Technological college.

Miss Margaret W. Weeks, dean of home economics at Texas Technological college, will deliver a paper Friday at a meeting of the New Mexico Home Economics association in Roswell. Her subject will be "Some Trends in High School Home Economics Teaching." She will leave Thursday and will return Saturday.

Social science and science classes in Senior High school witnessed their first movies this week as a part of the school's visual aid program. Social science students saw a picture on "Shelter," and science students saw pictures on "Molecular Nature of Matter," "Transfer of Energy," and "Oxidation and Reduction."

Nine-week test period for Senior High students has been designated as November 9 and 10 by Principal R. W. Matthews. Tests this year have been moved up one day because of the holiday November 11. Report cards will be given to students at a special guidance meeting on November 13, and will be returned the next day.

Four students received pins Thurs-day for Quill and Scroll, an international honorary society for high school journalists. Eleven other students will receive letters Monday notifying them they are eligible for the society. Lucille Hall and Leon Hughes received their pins this week, and Mary Clare Barnett and Doris Stoneham received their editor and business manager bars. Students who will receive letters Monday: Jerry Nash, Tom Jackson, Jack Lovin, Madge Malone, Pierson Gordon, Betty Burke, Sara Daviss, Orville Alderson, Bernice Keeton, Ruth Castle, and Jane Ann Floyd.

Sacred Harp singers of West Texas will hold a semi-annual meeting today in the Primitive Baptist church at Brownfield, A. Judd, president, said yesterday. "It will be an all-day convention with chicken dinner 'on the ground' at noon," Judd added. "We invite all interested singers to come and bring a well filled basket."

A man charged May 26, 1938, as Dick Moore, Saturday entered a plea of guilty of a county court complaint alleging swindling with worthless check, and was fined $1 and court costs, according to records in the office of J. J. Dillard, county judge.

A 16-year-old out-of-county juve-nile Saturday was tried before Judge E. L. Pitts of 99th district court on a charge of theft of socks from a Lubbock department store. Judge Pitts sentenced the boy to three years in the state reform school, but paroled him during good behavior.

None was injured in a minor auto-mobile mishap at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning at Sixteenth street and Avenue H, according to a report at the police headquarters. A report made by Silas Anderson and Ralph Goldwater, police traffic officers who investigated, said Mrs. T. M. Pierce of Twenty-sixth street and Avenue A was driving south on Avenue H and E. Eason, also of Lubbock, was driving east on Sixteenth street when the accident happened.

Two Lubbock men, 40 and 18, who operated a miniature shooting gallery in the 1200-block Avenue H and who had trouble with a customer who said the operators failed to pay him his prize, voluntarily went to police headquarters to report to B. P. Millsap, city recorder. They later were transferred to the county jail and then released.

Jack Martin of Denville, N. J., staff writer for True Detective Mysteries and a master detective, arrived here Saturday for a visit of several days. While here he will gather material for stories for the magazine he represents.

No Political Significance

Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovak minister to London, said the health of the former president was "rather badly broke" and pleaded that his privacy be "strictly respected."

Masaryk said that Benes' visit had no political significance whatsoever.

The precautions of secrecy today were said to have been from friends' fears for his life. They said he might have been endangered by remaining in the country which many Czechoslovaks consider was ruined chiefly through his policy of cooperation with Great Britain, France and Russia.

RUSSIAN FLIER KILLED

MOSCOW, Oct. 22. (AP)—The army newspaper Red Star disclosed today the death in an air crash of Alexander Bryandinsky, who flew 4,300 miles non-stop from Moscow to Vladivostok last June 27-28 with Vladimir Kokkinaki.

Surplus Products

and a limited number of WPA and private industrial and business workers with large families and an insufficient income to provide minimum food needs.

This class, numbering about 2,000,000 families, probably will continue to get surplus commodities free of charge.

In the second group would be WPA workers not getting free food as well as farm security administration clients and low-income workers employed in private industry. Estimated at between 4,000,000 and 6,000,000 families, this group would be eligible to buy at the reduced prices.

Task Far-Reaching

The matter of deciding which privately-employed families should be eligible for the lower prices probably will be left to state and county relief officials.

The department has not yet decided how the surplus goods will be distributed. Both local retail stores and government-controlled stores may be used. Officials said that more than 13,000 retailers now are helping distribute the free commodities to relief clients.

Relief agencies already have at least one food storage and distributing center in most counties, and these could be utilized.

It has been suggested that those buying at the reduced prices be required to continue their normal purchase from private retailers. This method, designed to protect private business from undue loss of trade, is being followed in Boston in the distribution of milk.

There the federal surplus commodities corporation buys surplus milk and turns it over to the city, which in turn sells it to relief and WPA clients for two cents a quart, or the cost of processing. Purchasers must agree to continue to buy from dairies or stores as much milk as they bought before the low-cost milk was made available. Officials said, however, such a regulation was difficult to enforce.

Whether it will be necessary to issue cards to consumers eligible to buy at reduced prices has not been decided. Since the surplus commodities undoubtedly would be of lower grades and qualities, officials forecast they would not be sought by many persons with incomes above $1,500. In the case of cotton, the surplus might be made available in the form of overalls, work shirts, gingham dresses and the like.

Henry H. Kessler, M. D., of Newark, N. J., who described the operation said it is estimated there are 33,000 persons in the United States with amputated arms. Artificial elgs, he said, are easy to supply, but only a small proportion of the armless are able to make use of artificial limbs.

The operation to make the living links of tissue is called cineplastic amputation.

Dr. Kessler described 78 cases of this operation and said that 44 of these otherwise one-armed persons are now employed in remunerative work, using their artificial hands.

Ducats For Coppers Ball Are On Sale

Tickets to the 10th annual ball to be held Saturday night in the Auditorium are on sale "day and night at the city hall," according to announcement by Don Reeder, chief of police.

No sales campaign will be conducted this year, but tickets may be obtained from the police department or from policemen on the beat, it was announced.

Jack York and his 13 Gentlemen of Swing, featuring the singing of Miss Jane Higgins, will play. Admittance charge will be $1 for men. Women will be admitted free.

Profits from the dance will be devoted to purchase of new uniforms, the chief said.

Death Verdict Returned For Godwin; Girl Aided Escape

GREENSBORO, N. C., Oct. 22. (AP) A superior court jury returned a death verdict today for James Godwin, High Point youth, who was charged with fatally shooting Donald Moss, a High Point textile worker, a few hours after he escaped from the Lexington jail Oct. 3 with the aid of the jailer's daughter.

The jury reported a first degree murder verdict, carrying a mandatory sentence of death in the state's gas chamber, after several hours deliberation. The execution date was not she immediately.

Godwin did not testify at his trial. One of the state's principal witnesses was Bill Wilson, who escaped along with Godwin, and who said Moss was shot when the fugitives tried to commandeer his car.

Lula Belle Kimel, 185-pound jailer's daughter, was given a suspended jail sentence after being tried upon a charge or aiding Godwin, charged with burglary, and Wilson, charged with robbery, to escape.

Hijacking Suspect Arrested And Held At Henderson

HENDERSON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Officers held a 17-year-old Houston youth today as a suspect in two holdups here and robberies at Jacksonville and Houston.

C. Harrison of Dallas was robbed of his automobile when he stopped at the scene of a burning car. Later Harrison's automobile was abandoned at Henderson where the youth entered a private residence and held R. C. Gryder at bay for two hours while officers searched for him.

The youth escaped afoot into a wooded section north of here where he was arrested without resistance.

Former Capone Henchman Dies In True Gangland Fashion

CHICAGO, Oct. 22. (AP)—As Al Capone's chief brewmaster, Bert Delaney might have been considered a likely victim of the tough trigger men of prohibition days, but the killers passed him up.

Last night, with large scale gang wars only a memory, the 59-year-old Capone veteran was slain in true gangland fashion.

A gunman crept up behind Delaney as he got out of his car in front of his south side home. The assassin felled Delaney with one shot and sent three more bullets into his back as he lay on the sidewalk. The killer escaped in a car driven by an accomplice.

Police investigators theorized the slaying was the result of Delaney's reputed attempt to muscle into a teamster's union rather than the outgrowth of enmities incurred during the dry era.

Marlin Plans To Stop Liquor Traffic From Other States

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 22. (AP)—Gov. Marland announced plans today for halting the flow of liquor into Oklahoma from surrounding wet states.

Maintaining that liquor running from Arkansas already had been stopped, Marland said:

"We will devote our attention to the north line. When we stop that we will move to the south line to stop it coming in from Texas."

Writer Of Extortion Note To College President Sought

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 22. (AP)—Search for the writer of two extortion notes demanding $5,000 under threat of death to Dr. H. G. Bennett, president of Oklahoma A. and M., college at Stillwater, was pressed today.

The writer also threatened to "blow up" the college chemistry building unless Dr. Bennett left $5,000 in cash near the college agricultural building.

Authorities were reported to have minimized the importance of the notes.

Escaped Convict Who Killed Brooklyn Man Is Recaptured

DALLAS, Oct. 22. (AP)—Lacy Cash, alias Robert Lacy, 24, who escaped from Huntsville penitentiary last Sunday, was taken in custody at the Dallas county jail today by Bud Crane, state prison agent.

Crane planned to return Lacy to prison immediately.

Cash, convicted Jan. 15 of killing Harry Leon Helfman, Brooklyn, N. Y., business man who was visiting in Dallas, was captured by officers Thursday night in woods near Arlington.

New Labor Law Nears Effect

fine" about preparing to observe the law. In those sections of the country where objections had been raised to it, he continued, there had been no labor legislation previously.

"It is a new animal to them, and apparently a very ferocious one," Andrews commented. But he predicted that after the act had gone into effect employers would like it as well as employes.

These are the items, generally speaking, regarding which employers subject to the act—those engaged in interstate commerce—must keep records:

Full name of the employe.

Home address.

Date of birth if employe is under 19.

Hours worked each work day and each work week.

Regular rate or pay and basis upon which wages are paid.

Sliding Scale Set Up

Wages at regular rate of pay for each work week, excluding extra compensation attributable to the excess of the overtime rate over the regular rate.

Extra wages for each work week attributable to excess of the overtime rate over the regular rate.

Additions to cash wages at cost, or at the cost of the item for which deduction is made, whichever is less.

Total wages paid for each work week.

Date of payment.

The act, passed at the last session of congress, provides for a work week no longer than 44 hours during the first year of operation of the law; 42 hours the second year, and 40 hours thereafter. It provides minimum pay of 25 cents an hour the first year, 30 cents an hour the next six years, and 40 cents thereafter. All of these standards are imposed only in interstate commerce.

BOY GUN VICTIM

DALLAS, Oct. 22 (AP) — Johnnie Cooper, 10, was shot to death accidentally here tonight with a pistol he had obtained from a dresser drawer while his mother was away. Two brothers, Joseph, 8, and Lynwood, 9, witnessed the accident.

Here Is Gilt Contest Winner And Prize

Three Couples Selected When Jitterbugs Go Wild Here

Joe McAllister and Miss Nora Lee Tew, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Johnson, and Billy Goode and Miss Fern Newton were the three couples selected Saturday night to participate in "jitterbug" dancing contests at the Auditorium Dec. 17.

Several couples competed Saturday night at the dance at the Auditorium. Three couples will be selected at dances at two-weeks intervals until 12 couples have been chosen to participate in the finals. Music was by Ned Bradley's orchestra.

Noted Georgia Author, Harry Stillwell Edwards, Dead

MACON, Ga., Oct. 22. (AP)—Harry Stillwell Edwards, noted Georgia author, died of bronchial pneumonia in a hospital here early today. He was 83.

Edwards entered a hospital Tuesday with bronchitis which developed quickly into pneumonia. Yesterday he lost consciousness and was placed in an oxygen tent.

Regarded as the dean of Georgia letters, he wrote the negro folk tale "Eneas Africanus," which exceeded 1,000,000 copies since its publication in 1919.

Edwards was the author of hundreds of other stories, including "Sons and Fathers," a 155,000-word novel he wrote in 23 days to win a $10,000 prize in a Chicago newspaper's mystery story contest.

Ernie Shaw Pig Contest Winner

Ernie W. Shaw, 16-year-old Lubbock county farm boy of near Wolfforth and a junior in the Frenship high school, is the proudest South Plains farm boy today. He won a 5-months-old Jersey registered heifer in the first annual pig club contest, sponsored by Sears Roebuck & Co., Saturday.

Ernie's gilt was adjudged by Ray C. Mowery, associate professor of animal husbandry of Texas Technological college, as the best out of a group of 40 shown by 4-H club boys and vocational agricultural boys of five counties. He won the Lubbock county chimpionship, nudging out Henry Kveton by a few points.

Others Win

Four other boys won champion honors in counties: Wilburn Spraggins in Hale; Leroy Johnson in Lynn; Jim Pinner in Hockley, and Paul Williams in Crosby.

Thirty-nine of the 40 boys who received gilts last June for their outstanding work as club boys were present. Only Mack Brandon of Lynn county was unable to be present. Fathers, vocational agriculture teachers, county agents and others were here for the judging, at Panhandle-South Plains fair grounds.

Shaw also will receive 100 baby chicks for winning the county title. Each county first place winner will receive 100 chicks; second place, 75 chicks and third place, 50. In addition, all boys whose records were credible, were awarded 50 chicks.

"I am glad to report that every boy in this contest made a good record and is to receive his chicks," W. C. O'Mara, manager of the store here, announced.

Monthly Meeting Likely To Be Postponed; Trustee Absent

The monthly meeting of the board of trustees of Lubbock independent school district, scheduled Tuesday night, probably will be postponed indefinitely because of the absence from the city of Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, president, according to announcement Saturday.

Questions And Answers Listed To Explain Intricacies Of Wage-Hour Law

Law Goes Into Effect Today

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here are questions and answers about operations of the wage-hour law, which goes into effect today. The answers are based on rulings and opinions of wage-hour authorities, but are subject to court interpretation.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 — If a concern has a union contract which provides for rates of pay or hours of work clearly contrary to the provisions of the law, may that contract be kept in force until it expires?

Not without violating the law.

Do truck drivers hauling to industrial plants come under the law?

Yes, if the drivers are employed by a manufacturer producing goods for interstate commerce.

May a company operating a manufacturing plant and a service department comply with the act as far as the plant employes are concerned and not comply with regard to the service employes?

Officials are studying the possibility that this may be done.

What is a first processor under the act (first processors of agricultural products in the area in which they are produced are exempt.)

To this question Andrews said recently that he supposed a first processor was "the first fellow that grabs the stuff from the farmer and starts to do something with it."

If 20 per cent of a firm's goods are shipped in interstate commerce, does the firm come under the law?

The 20 per cent figure has generally been accepted as the dividing line between local and interstate retail businesses. It has not been accepted as the line of demarcation for industry.

Will apprentices automatically be exempt from the 25 cents an hour pay scale?

Yes, apprentices as defined by the administrator will be temporarily exempt until more permanent rules of exemption can be worked out. This is true also of handicapped workers.

Will learners also be temporarily exempt?

No general temporary exemption has been allowed for learners. Andrews explained this problem varied with each industry. He said permanent learner classifications might be set up later.

Who may be considered an executive for purposes of exemption under the act?

Generally, any employe earning at least $30 a week whose duties are primarily managerial, who directs the work of others and who has hiring and firing powers.

Who may be classed as an exempted professional?

Andrews defined a professional as being any person whose work is "predominantly intellectual and varied in character," whose time and method of work are his own discretion, who has been especially educated for the task he performs, and whose duties "cannot be standardized in relation to a given period of time."

Persons employed in a "local retailing capacity" are exempt from the act. Who are they?

Any persons making retail sales, the greater part of which are in intrastate commerce, or any persons doing work incidental to such sales as delivering, wrapping, etc.

How is an "outside salesman" defined for purposes of exemption?

Combing A Problem

Armistice Plans Taking Form

Plans are beginning to take definite shape for Lubbock observance of Armistice day Nov. 11, according to announcement Saturday by O. B. Conley, chairman of the joint American Legion-Veterans of Foreign Wars committee which has charge of arrangements.

The celebration will begin with reveille at 5 a. m. when a corps of buglers headed by Roy McKinney and Walter Smith will sound a "general awakening."

Breakfast at Hilton hotel at 6 a. m. will follow, with invitations extended to all former service men to attend. J. A. Raley, jr., and Stanton Rhea are co-chairmen of the breakfast committee.

A downtown parade at 10 a. m., forming at the city hall, will be the day's big feature. Capt. J. L. Walton will be parade marshal, assisted by E. Kelley Nail. In the line of march will be Texas Technological college R. O. T. C. units, the two units here of the national guard, Legion, V. F. W. and their auxiliary members, Texas Tech band, Sons of the Legion and their drum and bugle corps, the Red Cross, Gold Star mothers, Salvation Army, reserve officers and the national guard band.

A brief ceremony in city hall park will follow the parade. Speaker of the occasion has yet to be chosen.

Grid Game Attraction

Ex-service men will attend the Texas Tech - Gonzaga university football game in the afternoon.

Closing event of the celebration will be a dance in the Auditorium. Jack York's orchestra will play. Members of the dance committee are Paul Hardwick, Lloyd Johnson, C. E. Luce, Riley F. Huie and R. J. Allen.

Education Week To Be Observed

In an effort to get the public to visit schools and to take information about the schools to the public, all schools in Lubbock made plans this week for the observance of American Education week, November 6 through 12. It is the desire of all the city schools to follow the general theme of the week in all their activities, "Education for Tomorrow's America."

The annual proclamation sent out by president of the United States is addressed to the teachers and patrons of American schools. It says, "As American Education week is once more observed throughout the schools of the United States opportunity again is afforded to evaluate the part which our schools play in the preservation and promotion of democratic life. Franklin D. Roosevelt's message asks that all hold fast to ideals of freedom, and that schools do their part to prepare each citizen to choose wisely and freely.

Parents To Be Invited

In Senior High emphasis will be placed on guidance. Parents are to be invited to visit the school on Wednesday morning, November 9, from 8:50 until 9:30. Each guidance group is planning a special program for that morning. Parents may feel free to stay and visit in the school throughout the morning if they desire. R. W. Matthews, principal, said, but examinations begin on Wednesday afternoon and continue through Thursday morning.

Junior High school will also center their program around their home room organizations. They also intend to invite parents to visi' in their school, with each parent being invited for a specific time.

Parade To Be Stayed

George M. Hunt school will go to the public on Monday when it stages a parade. Prominent persons of the city are to be asked to parade with school children.

Dupre school children are planning an assembly program on November 10. A special afternoon is to be set aside for parents to visit, but children will continue in their regular classroom work while visitors are there.

Letter To Be Sent Parents

A letter is to be sent to all parents of children in Central Ward school to visit at various times during the week. A special program is being planned for Thursday afternoon at the Nazarene church. K. Carter school is planning a set visiting day for patrons.

The primary children will start the day off at Sanders school with a march all over the building, led by a drum major, on Thursday, November 10. The attendance goal of the Parent-Teacher meeting for the day is 100 mothers. Irvin will be the speaker at the meeting that day.

Guadalupe school will have a program which is continuous throughout the week. Not only parents of children in Guadalupe, but patrons are to be asked to visit the school.

All schools will have radio programs during the week, with Senior High opening the program on Sunday, November 6.

Alumni Tickets Are Reduced

Reduction in price of tickets by members of the Alumni and Ex-Students association of Texas Technological college for the Tech-Gonzaga football game on homecoming day, Nov. 11, has been voted by the athletic council.

Members of the association may purchase tickets for $1.70, including tax, rather than $2.20, said Calvin Hazlewood, administrative secretary.

Available In Office

The tickets may be purchased in the alumni office on the first (middle) floor of the library building. Alumni and former students may purchase membership in the association any time before the game and take advantage of the reduction and of numerous other benefits of membership, said Hazlewood.

Plans are progressing for homecoming. The annual chuck-wagon feed will be conducted at noon, the game that afternoon and the homecoming dance that night. Clifford B. Jones of Spur, chairman of the board of directors, and others will speak at the chuck-wagon feed. Several legislators, members of the board, and others will be special guests.

Another Bond Election Called On Dimmitt Court House

DIMMITT, Oct. 22. (Special) — For the second time in a little more than a month, Castro county voters will decide on issuance of $65,750 in bonds for erection of a new court house, when they vote next Saturday.

Sept. 24, they rejected the proposal. Public Works administration later approved a grant, so officials decided to hold another election.

County valuations are $4,426,000; with a dollar for each $100 valuation, taxes amount to $44,260. Proposed bond issue would require $3,250 a year for 30 years.

A. & M. Deadlocks Baylor, 6-6; Rice Defeats Texas, 13-6

Farmers Outplay Bruins As Rain Hampers Play

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

WACO, Oct. 22—Battered, unbeaten Baylor twice reared up on its one-foot line today to muzzle the Texas Aggies and escape with a 6-6 tie that only its courage earned.

Crippled and helpless before Aggie charges until the enemy leaked past its ten-yard stripe, the "good old Baylor line" — the one they write songs about—dug in while rain pelted their faces and slapped defeat in the face twice while 15,000 screamed.

Not even the Aggies' magnificent Dick Todd, one of the nation's craftiest broken field runners, could work his magic down around the goal line.

Patterson Maneuvers Score

Back from a sudden Baylor surge in the first five minutes that netted their score came a Cadet team to outrush and outplay Baylor, rolling up 290 yards from rushing to the Baylor's 35 and earning 16 first downs to five.

But behind that Baylor line was Bullet Bill Patterson, who first used his aerial skill to bring in the Baylor touchdown and then his uncanny kicking foot to hold off the Cadets.

Three minutes after the first kickoff Patterson started sniping, finding his ace receiver, Sam Boyd, great end, for a 16-yarder that carried deep in Aggie ground, but the score was denied when W. J. Wimpee, the other end missed a perfect peg across the goal line.

Wimpee Makes Amends

Wimpee atoned for that two minutes later, jumping between two Aggie pass defenders to spear Patterson's throw from the 23-yard line for the Baylor score. A 25-yarder to Boyd had placed the ball in scoring position. Graham's try for point failed.

Todd and Patterson kicked back and forth until two minutes before half-time when the Aggies got their break. A 15-yard roughing penalty after a punt gave the Cadets the ball on their own 44.

Todd started it with a 12-yard jaunt. Owen Rogers and John Kimbrough followed with smashes to the Baylor 23. Todd stiff-armed and wiggled 22 yards to the one-yard stripe and Kimbrough went over on the third try. Todd's conversion attempt was blocked.

Tech Netters Lose To ACC, 5 To 1

Texas Tech netters fell victims to faster and more accurate stroking of Abilene Christian college players Saturday afternoon to lose, 5 to 1, in matches played on the college concrete courts.

Sidney Moore, playing at No. 1 for Tech, displayed fine form while losing to Kendall Jones, Christian ace, 4-6, 5-7. Wilson Chapman was in unusually bad form as he dropped the No. 2 match to Taylor, 8-10, 8-10.

Hayes of Abilene won from Jesse Lee Beene, 6-2, 6-3, and Ellrod defeated Tech's Claude Bateman, 6-2, 6-4, to complete a rout of singles matches.

Moore and Chapman paired to beat Jones and Taylor in doubles, 7-6, 6-2, 6-?, but Beene and Bateman went down before Hayes and Ellrod, 3-6, 4-6.

Stubborn McMurry Defense Cracks Once, Jackets Win

ABILENE, Oct. 22. (AP)—A stubborn McMurry defense gave way only once here today, but it was enough for Howard Payne to shake loose fleet James Minor for a 19-yard touchdown sprint that enabled the highly favored Jackets to win 7 to 0. Sunderman added the extra point.

The score came late in the third quarter after the Indians had thwarted four goal line drives in the first half and another soon after the intermission.

First downs favored Howard Payne eight to four.

RAMS BEAT OREGON

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Oct. 22. (AP)—Fordham's mighty football team, starting off with a sensational 80-yard touchdown run by Pete (Rabbit) Holovak in the first quarter, showed a nice mixture of passes and power today to score three more times in the final period and rout the Oregon Webfoots, 26-0.

That Should Teach Those Blind Toms

(By The Associated Press)

PAHOKEE, Fla., Oct. 22—Three players and the referee required hospital treatment after a high school football game ended in a free-for-all fight here last night.

One of the injured players, Shirley Lacer of the Miami Beach team, was temporarily paralyzed but was expected to recover. It took four stitches to close the wound of B. Arnold, the referee. The others were less seriously hurt.

Miami Beach led Pahokee 6 to 0 near the end of the game when a Pahokee player caught a lateral pass and ran for a touchdown. But Arnold called the ball back, asserting it was out of motion before the play.

More than 500 spectators swarmed out of the stands and began beating the members of the visiting team.

Porkers Lose To Broncos, 21-7

By Russell Newland
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22—Undefeated, untied University of Santa Clara, one of the two great football teams of the west coast, strengthened its bid for national recognition today with a smashing 21 to 6 victory over the University of Arkansas Razorbacks.

From the opening kickoff it was the wildest, thrill-filled game seen here this year.

Porkers Pull Nearly Even

The Broncos scored their first touchdown on a forward lateral play, sub Left Halfback Clark tossing to Right End Anahu and the latter flipping a lateral to John Schiechl, center, who sped some 20 yards to cross the goal. It climaxed a yard gaining spurt of 76 yards.

Arkansas pulled up to within nearly even terms after a drive which opened later in the first period and paid off in the second quarter. During the 75-yard thrust, the Razorbacks abandoned their vaunted passing tactics until the scoring play. They powered along the ground to within 15 yards of goal, where Left Half Kay Eakin tossed a lateral to sub Right Half Atwood who drove over a couple of Santa Clarans to light in the end zone.

Broncos Break Loose

Simington, right guard, failed to convert the extra point and the Razorbacks still trailed 6-7.

Shortly after, sub Fullback Roche bobbed up to intercept a pass by Gloyd Lyons, substituting at left half, and raced 52 yards to score in a clear field.

An intercepted pass paved the way for the fourth period Bronco touchdown. Quarterback McCarthy snagged the ball 15 yards from the Arkansas goal and Clark went through left guard for 2 yards and the touchdown.

Ring Casts A Grim Shadow On Pugilists—Old At 30

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The cigar smoke eddies and whirls in Stillman's gymnasium on upper Eighth avenue, and an hour's sit on the hard benches at the ringside affords a case history of the the strange calling which makes men old at 30.

OLIN

Ceferino Garcia is there, practicing the fatal "bolo" punch with which he intends to smash Henry Armstrong in their welterweight title fight Nov. 2. The "bolo" punch turns out to be a long right upper-cut.

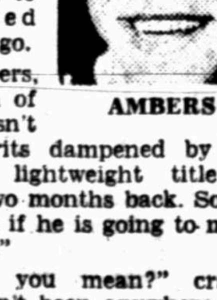

In the other ring is Tony Canzoneri, one of the greatest little fighters the game ever saw, looking thick through the middle and practicing for the comeback that all his friends have begged him not to attempt.

"Guess we'll be seeing Jim Braddock around here again," offered a spectator. "Jim's eating joint closed for good last night. Jim sank a wad in that one."

Larry White, the manager of Fred Apostoli, No. 1 challenger for the middleweight crown, joins the lament for the improvident members of the craft:

"Looking around here it seems like a hard way to make a living, doesn't it? All these kids with dented noses and no money. It won't happen to Freddie, though. He's already got $30,000 salted away where he can't get at it, and his face is hardly marked."

Another battered veteran hustles by, swathed in towels, and climbs on the rubbing table. It is Bob Olin, the former light-heavyweight champion, who was supposed to have retired some years ago.

AMBERS

Lou Ambers, the harlequin of the game, hasn't had his spirits dampened by the loss of his lightweight title to Armstrong two months back. Someone asks him if he is going to make a "comeback."

"What do you mean?" cracks Lou. "I haven't been anywhere. My next fight with Armstrong will draw more money than the last one did. I'll probably make some real money from losing that fight."

Sooners Drop Cornhuskers

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 22. (AP)—Fading Big Six title hopes of the Nebraska Cornhuskers virtually vanished today, wafted away by a 14 to 0 defeat at the hands of an Oklahoma football team which met power with more power, speed with more speed, and trickery with indifference.

Not in five years had Oklahoma scored on Nebraska. It was the eighth straight Sooner victory, the best record in 20 years.

Seven minutes after the opening kick-off Oklahoma had a touchdown. A short behind-the-line pass from Hugh McCullough to Bill Jennings, good for 18 yards, was the biggest individual factor.

In the last quarter, a 21-yard punt return by McCarthy to the Nebraska 35, and some dazzling gallops by him and Jennings carried the ball to the four, from where McCullough drove through.

Notre Dame Marches Over Carnegie Tech

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 22. (AP)—Notre Dame, off on another march for national championship honors relegated Carnegie Tech to the ranks of the defeated Irish teams today in the most bruising encounter the fighting Irish have engaged in this season.

Notre Dame won, 7 to 0, but third string players accomplished what the regulars failed to do.

Outweighed and outmanned, the Scots waged a heroic battle for three furious periods to outplay Notre Dame. Then, after four minutes of play in the fourth, Notre Dame launched a touchdown drive from midfield.

Quakers Beat Lions, 14-13

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22. (AP)—War-worn, weary and passed dizzy by Sid Luckman, Pennsylvania fought off a last quarter rally to beat Columbia, 14 to 13, today.

Luckman completed 17 of 29 aerials for gains totalling 177 yards despite the severe pressure of the Quaker line.

Wolverines Flood Yale With Passes

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 22. (AP)—Michigan's highly touted Wolverines, swamped by a flood of passes that had them half drowned and beaten by 11 points in the first half, bounced off the grassy floor of the Yale bowl before 45,000 spectators today with a superb comeback that beat Yale's surprising football team, 15 to 13.

A one-to-three favorite on the strength of their one-point defeat a week ago by mighty Minnesota, the maize and blue clad warriors of Coach Fritz Crisler pulled themselves together after that disastrous first half, stole Yale's aerial thunder and punched over touchdowns in the third and final periods to turn what looked like a certain upset into a great victory march.

Northwestern Wildcats Claw Illini In Rousing Fashion

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 22. (AP)—Northwestern's Wildcats bared their claws for two bruising touchdown drives today and defeated Illinois, 13 to 0, in Memorial stadium before 37,000 spectators.

Illinois was almost too hard pressed fighting off the Wildcats to engage in an attack of its own. Northwestern made 16 first downs, to three for Illinois and gained 169 yards by rushing as Illini backs were held to a scant 38.

Lain Is Injured As Owls Record Victory, 13-6

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON, Oct 22—The Rice institute, a pre-season favorite for one of the bowl games on New Years Day but a disappointment on the field, dropping its first three, rose against an inspired University of Texas team today and defeated the luckless Longhorns 13-6.

The game was nip and tuck with Texas showing vast improvement over the season's first four losing games. Texas scored the first touchdown of the game a few minutes after the kickoff.

Two great backs, Wallace Lawson of Texas and Olie Cordill of Rice, kept the Rice homecoming crowd of 20,000 on their feet.

Lain Receives Injury

Ernie (Fat Boy) Lain, Rice's star back, was carried from the field with an injured ankle after throwing a touchdown pass to Cordill in the second quarter.

It was at first feared his ankle was broken, but he walked out of the hospital and insisted on playing the last quarter but he was not permitted to play, however.

The game was but a few minutes old when Rice fumbled on their 30 and Texas recovered. Lawson shot a pass to Lewis (Bullet) Gray, Texas back, who was standing on the Rice two yard line and fell over for the touchdown. Bill Forney missed try for extra point.

Punts 68 Yards

In the second quarter a Texas back fumbled on his own 20 and Rice covered. Lain passed to Cordill, who was standing in the end zone, waiting. Matt Landry missed the placement.

Rice came back in the second half and pushed the Longhorns up and down the field, but when the Owls got the ball close to pay dirt the Texas line braced, twice staving off Rice from the two yard line.

A 68-yard quick kick by Cordill that went out of bounds on the Texas one yard line, put the Longhorns in the hole in the last half.

Sullivan Breaks Loose

Beefus Bryan, sub Texas back, punted to his own 30 and Cordill returned it to the 21. From that point, Landry failed to kick a field goal.

Bryan punted again and Cordill was downed on the 50. Billy Cline, Rice sub for Sullivan, shot a long pass to Cordill, who stepped out of bounds on the Texas' 23. Sullivan went back in the game and broke through the line for a 20-yard gain and a first down on the Texas three.

Sullivan then rammed the Texas line twice for the touchdown. Landry converted.

The lineup:

TEXAS	Pos.	RICE
Sweeney	LE	Brandon
D. Williams	LT	Hines
Rhodes	LG	Hairston
Jackson	C	Arthur
Naiser	RG	Landry
Kaunas	RT	Green

Officials: referee, Alvin Bell (Vanderbilt); umpire, Henry L. Lawrence (Austin college); head linesman, Leo W. Allred (Austin college); field judge, Roy McCulloch (TCU).

Texas scoring: touchdowns—Lewis Gray (pass from Lawson).

Plainview Is Next For Westerners

Unscathed in their 67-to-13 win over Borger Friday night, the Westerners start preparation Monday for a sterner test from the Plainview Bulldogs at Texas Tech field Friday night.

The Bulldog tussle will mark the Lubbock team's second District 1 effort of the season. Borger's loss was its second to district opposition. Lubbock's competition for the remainder of the campaign will come from conference opponents.

Ducats for the game will go on sale Monday morning at three convenient stands downtown and near the college, Business Manager E. J. (Pinkey) Lovrey said last night. Hub Clothiers, Lubbock Hotel drug, and Mark Halsey's No. 2 drug will handle pasteboards at regular prices.

Two More Home Games

Only one more home game remains on the Lubbock schedule after Friday night, that with the Amarillo Sandies on Turkey Day. Contests with Lamesa and Pampa will be played on the latters' grids.

Plainview is figured to give the Westerners plenty of trouble. Coach Vernon Hilliard has molded a scrapping aggregation at the Hale county center. Borger fell before the Bulldogs, 26-6, Oct. 7.

None of the Westerners was injured in the league opener, leaving the team ready to start earnest work this week.

Reserves Surprise Agreeably

Coach Weldon Chapman had a chance to see his reserves perform for the first time and was agreeably edified. Especially was the ball carrying work of J. B. Privitt and Howard Martin to be commended.

After Jumbo Webster and company had built up a comfortable working margin, Privitt and Martin carried on in fine style during the last quarter.

The Sandies and Harvesters get back into the title swim, jousting at Butler field in Amarillo Saturday afternoon. Borger and Lamesa are idle this week.

Formal Alley Opening Set

The public is invited to the formal opening Monday night of the Lubbock Bowling club.

Broadcast of opening ceremonies and a special match, participants for which had not been chosen Saturday night, will be heard through KFYO. Hour of the program will be set today.

Latest equipment and four alleys have been installed during the past month.

Cooper Bucs Defeat Meadow, 13 To 7

The Cooper High school Pirates came from behind in the third quarter Saturday night to take a District 2C victory over Meadow at the Hubber baseball field.

Three plays after Cooper received the opening kickoff, Shorty Richardson circled left end and outdistanced the Mustangs on an 85-yard touchdown jaunt. Nubbin Richardson failed to penetrate the Meadow line for the extra point.

Meadow brought the ensuing Pirate kickoff back to the 40, and Harvey Gatewood on a "hideout" play scored standing up. The heave and run was for 60 yards. Gatewood bucked over the point.

Climaxing an 80-yard drive in the third period, Howard Barrett slivered off right tackle from the 15 to score. N. Richardson went over for the conversion.

Pitt Rolls Over Ponies, 34 To 7

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22.—Pitt's football juggernaut, unbeaten in 21 games, swept over Southern Methodist 34 to 7 today in a scramble at times so bewildering the 37,500 spectators were left gasping.

The Mustangs trotted out a Southwest aerial attack and the Panthers, true to Coach Jock Sutherland's promise, struck back with the same weapon.

Yet Pitt used its unparalleled power with such skill the Methodists never had a chance.

The first of their five touchdowns came on a 30-yard pass from Harold (Curly) Stebbins to John Chickerneo in less than six minutes of the first period.

The Mustangs fought every minute, including the last, but collected on their gallantry only once.

Taking the opening kickoff, Ray Mallouf tried three passes from the vicinity of his own 20-yard line. After Pitt's first score he brought the second kickoff back 56 yards to Pitt's 39 and engineered the ball to the Panther eight only to be stopped and a field goal attempt go wide.

But by their persistence they cashed their chips early in the second, travelling 78 yards in three plays with Billy Dewell, their towering right end taking the ball out of a mixing bowl behind center to race the final 51 yards. Bob Belville placekicked the point.

Pitt's second team, which had been sent in at the start of the period, came out and the regulars retaliated with two touchdowns in less than seven minutes.

Including the kickoff which Dick Cassiano returned 35 yards to his own 40, Pitt used only three plays to reach Southern Methodist's seven and Cassiano crashed right tackle for the score.

Three plays later they took the ball on a fumble on the Methodist 31 and Cassiano went around right end from the nine yard stripe for another touchdown.

Although Pitt punched out two more scores in the second half, Cassiano passing 22 yards to Fabian Hoofman for one in the third period and Ben Kish, understudy for Marshall Goldberg at fullback, went one yard over center for another in the fourth, they were not needed to prove Pitt's superiority.

Lineups:

SMU	Pos.	PITTSBURGH

Southern Methodist scoring: touchdown—Dewell; point after touchdown — Bellville (sub for Holbrook). Pittsburgh scoring: touchdowns—Chickerneo, Cassiano 2, Hoffman, Kish (sub for Goldberg); points after touchdown—Daddio 3, Kish.

Loyola Lions Still Look For Win Over Wildcats

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22 (AP) — Loyola U.'s Lions who thought they had their revenge on the University of Arizona Wildcats for last year's grid thumping, were still looking for it today.

The Lions, looking powerful and seemingly secure with a 12-7 lead at the end of the first half, wound up on the short end of a 14-12 decision last night.

Three Teams Are Tumbled From Undefeated Class As Other Favorites Win Saturday

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 — Pitt's Golden Panthers, No. 1 team in last week's Associated Press poll, gave another awesome demonstration of all-around power and skill today as Syracuse, Georgia and Carnegie Tech fell off the unbeaten football band-wagon.

In a day conspicuously free of major surprises, Notre Dame's Irish, the Horned Frogs of Texas Christian, the Indians of Dartmouth, Oklahoma, Duke and a half dozen others kept pace with Pitt in the dizzy dash for National championship recognition.

Pitt, mixing its powerful running attack with effective passing, buried the Mustangs of Southern Methodist under a 34-7 count before 37,000. Notre Dame, blocked for three periods by Carnegie Tech's rugged defense, finally pushed over a touchdown in the fourth for a 7-0 triumph.

Frogs Drop Avalanche

Texas Christian, heirs-apparent to the Southwest conference throne, toppled Marquette, 21-0, as Dartmouth overcame stubborn Harvard, 13-7. Oklahoma twice pierced Nebraska's defense and won a 14-0 Big Six triumph as Duke was held to a 7-0 score by Wake Forest.

Syracuse's first defeat was a 19-12 setback by Michigan State's speedy Spartans while Georgia, previously unbeaten, was soundly trounced by Holy Cross, 29-6.

Fordham and Colgate upheld esatern prestige in intersectional warfare as the Rams, boasting a scoring punch for the first time in years, buried Oregon under a 26-0 score and Colgate travelled west to shellack Iowa, 14-0. On the other side of the ledger, Michigan spotted Yale a 13-2 half-time lead and then won 15-13.

Free Scoring Contest

In the East, Lafayette's 7-6 victory over New York university was the only surprise as Cornell tripped Penn State, 21-6, Georgetown topped Manhattan, 14-13; Penn nosed out Columbia, 14-13; Navy and Princeton tied at 13-13; Army routed Boston university 40-0; and Amherst won the first "Little Three" game from Wesleyan, 13-0. Brown and Rhode Island State scored 61 points as the former earned a 40-21 decision.

With Minnesota idle, Northwestern took over the Big Ten headlines by throwing Illinois for a 13-0 loss. Purdue came from behind to stop Wisconsin, 13-7, as Ohio State ran up a 42-7 count on Chicago. Kansas State, from the Big Six, plastered a 13-6 defeat on disappointing Indiana. Sharing Big Six honors with Oklahoma were Iowa State's undefeated Cyclones who mowed down Kansas, 21-7. Missouri whipped Washington (St. Louis) of the Missouri Valley conference, 13-0.

The South's "off" program was marked by Georgia Tech's narrow 7-6 triumph over Auburn in the chief Southeastern conference game of the day. Tennessee breezed through a "breather," The Citadel, 44-0, as Alabama stopped Sewanee, 32-0; Mississippi rolled up a 47-14 score on Centenary, and Tulane swamped Mercer, 51-0.

North Carolina, which plays Duke in a pivotal southern conference game next week, ran up a 34-0 score on Davidson as North Carolina State and Furman played a 7-7 draw; Washington & Lee topped Virginia Poly, 6-0; and Virginia Military tripped William & Mary, 14-0. Virginia outscored Maryland in a wild game, 27-19.

UCLA Scores Surprise

Rice chalked up its first victory, winning a Southwest conference tussle from Texas, 13-6, in the last three minutes of play. Baylor and Texas A. & M. played a 6-6 tie.

In the Far West, California's undefeated Bears overcame Washington, 14-7, as Southern California came from behind to halt Stanford, 13-2, and Oregon State won from Washington State, 7-6. Santa Clara remained unbeaten in a 21-6 victory over Arkansas. U. C. L. A. surprised by the decisiveness of its 33-0 victory over hitherto unbeaten Idaho.

Marquette Falls Before Purple Passes, 21-0

(By The Associated Press)

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 22.—Texas Christian, led by Davey O'Brien, a great little quarterback who tossed passes all over the field, smothered Marquette's football team here today, 21 to 0, before 14,000.

Marquette was all but helpless as it tried to stop O'Brien's accurate tosses in the opening period. The T. C. U. quarterback threw seven straight completed tosses which figured in two touchdowns before he retired at the end of the quarter.

After the opening period thrust, TCU reserves took over and kept Marquette in check until the final quarter, when O'Brien and his mates came back for another marker.

Frogs March 82 Yards

The first score came after an 82 yard march, with O'Brien passing to Clark and Wilkinson. O'Brien scored on a smash from the four yard mark.

O'Brien passed to John Hall, a halfback, for the second touchdown. The play, good for 30 yards, culminated a march of 65 yards.

The final score came on a pass, O'Brien to Earl Clark. O'Brien passed from his own 32. Clark catching the ball on the Marquette 28 and outrunning everyone to count. O'Brien kicked successfully for points after every touchdown.

The TCU squad tried 25 passes, completing 13 to gain 200 yards, and picked up 193 yards on running plays.

Marquette threatened only once. It was late in the second period when the Avalanche got possession of a blocked punt, drove to the seven, but lost the ball at that point on a pass interception.

The lineups:

TCU (21)	Pos.	MARQUETTE (0)
Looney	LE	Vosberg

Watkins Takes On Kopecky

Sailor Tex Watkins returned to the Auditorium mat last week after an extended absence and so successful was his return attempt he 'lows "as how he'll stick around a while."

Wednesday night he will be seen again with another of the bad men of grappling, Joe Kopecky, in the main event. The Old Panther man has had it pretty much his way here for quite a spell, but may find sledding tough against the ex-Post cowboy.

Nemanic forgets ring ethics when he is not refereeing, lets go with fists, and in a general way gets rough. Stratton is more even tempered.

Poloists Of Lamesa, Lubbock To Battle Plainview Today

Lubbock and Lamesa poloists join hands at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon to match strokes with Plainview's crack riders at the fairgrounds field.

Two local players and a pair from Lamesa swing mallets as an all-star cast. They are intent on stopping a sustained Plainview winning streak.

J. H. Cooper and Guy Smith carry Lubbock colors into the melee, with the Lamesa top-notchers, Elmo Smith and Lynn Parkinson, completing the quartet.

Lloyd Phillips, Marvin Schurbert, Clyde Bradley and Blackie Norris will ride for the visitors.

Tulane Green Wave Overpowers Mercer

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 22. (AP)—Tulane university's Green Wave, gaining power each Saturday, turned loose its endless array of backfield stars before 15,000 spectators today to swamp Mercer, 51 to 0.

Mercer could not cope with the Greenie forward wall.

The great Warren Brunner, as usual, was almost unstoppable on off tackle and end runs and sparked most of the touchdowns made while he was in the lineup. Harry Hays, Buddy Banker and Fred Cassibry, halfbacks, shone with their long runs.

Texas Tech Sustains Undefeated Record With Sixth Victory Of 1938 Season

Sportometer
Of Golf And Bowling
By Collier Parris

THE progressive trend in Lubbock sportsdom is not confined to improved football teams, the return of professional baseball, and junk car derbies.

We're thinking just now of a couple of sporting setups that are making rapid progress—golf and bowling.

It's a little late in the season to talk of golf, but so encouraging are the recent developments and plans at Lubbock Country club that the game can not be neglected, even if the nippy weather of fall and winter cuts down on green fees.

And so spiffy is Lubbock's new bowling club, to be formally opened tomorrow night, attention must be directed that way. Tailor Jake Hancock and his partners in the kegling business are to be congratulated for their fine new alleys.

• • •

LUBBOCK COUNTRY CLUB, which has been making rapid strides during the past two years, is embarking upon another "clean-up and paint-up" campaign, and you won't know the old place when the work is completed.

The board of directors, at a recent meeting, gave the go ahead sign for installation of bent grass greens which, when completed, will give members year-round green grass putting surfaces.

• • •

The bermuda greens have been satisfactory, so far as bermuda grass goes; you won't find many better greens than Country club has had for more than a year. At the moment, workmen are planting seaside bent, which is considered tops for golf courses, on the bermuda. By early next year, Professional Charles Akey informs us, the bent will have crowded out the bermuda and then "we'll really have something." Experiments on a couple of greens have proved that bent will flourish, and that it makes a more ideal putting surface than bermuda.

The directors also voted to irrigate a couple of fairways, as another experiment, and if this proves satisfactory, and is not too costly, the day is not far off when fully grassed fairways, as well as greens, will be available. Fairways No. 14 and 15 are to be "watered."

But that isn't all! The direction ordered construction of a new building on the grounuds to house the club's fine and modern set of machinery. This machine shed and work house, to be built of galvanized iron, will be situated at the western boundary of the grounds, opposite the clubhouse. The clubhouse, incidentally, will get a new coat of paint, something it has needed for years, and the kitchen and dining room will be overhauled to make possible the "feeding" of a greater number. All buildings on the ground, with exception of the new pro shop, will be repainted and dressed up.

• • •

THE bridges are to be repaired; this work has already started, and the news should meet with approval of all golfers.

In addition, at least one modern tennis court will be built, and this is something worthy of a cheer.

• • •

All this is not only the results of the fine work the board of directors has done, but is strictly emblematic of the entire club spirit and of post repression days.

The club is in fine fix, financially, and is quickly clearing up old debts. A glance at the newest financial statement is enough to cheer up anybody, especially the club members.

One hundred forty members are now listed as "in good standing," and the amount of unpaid dues is of slight significance. Ten shares remain unsold, there being only 150 shares of stock available. No particular effort is being made to sell the remaining stock, but if you're interested, a share can be had at the regular calling price. So fast is the membership growing that club officers predict they'll have a "waiting list" ere long.

• • •

CLIFF DEAN, the club's progressive president, re-elected recently, heads a directorship of nine officers. New members of the board are Postmaster Amos Howard and Gasoline Salesman Ted Tipps. Other officers and directors are George Benson, vice president; C. I. Wall, secretary; Dr. J. T. Krueger, Dr. R. T. Canon, Samuel Rosenthal, and Hubert Allen.

To those, who foresaw the good to come of reorganizing and rebuilding the club, and to Charles Akey, the pro-general manager, who helped carry the plans into execution, go whole hearted congratulations.

NOW over at 1109 Main Street there is a new sports emporium called The Lubbock Bowling club, and if you haven't been by there yet, give yourself a treat and take a peek.

Jake Hancock, who'll manage the jernt, and some of his friends have installed one of the neatest bowling jobs you ever saw. Its four gleaming alleys and new equipment are a treat for the eyes, and if you participate, it's good for your health.

• • •

The bowling club will be officially open for business Monday night, although the pins started falling with a crash as early as Friday.

Hancock informs us that already sixteen teams have been organized, and that league competition will be started in a few weeks.

Business firms desiring to sponsor teams in the bowling activities are invited to get lined up at once.

• • •

From Tahoka we hear from Prentice Walker, former Tahoka High coach, now a cog in a big implement concern, and Prentice wants the word spread about that he is ready to crash the Class A football officiating trust. The former star gridder and team captain at North Texas Teachers has been officiating for high school games for two seasons now, and figures he has passed the apprentice stage. So if you need a capable official, give Walker a buzz.

Thompson Paces Sandie Win

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

AMARILLO, Oct. 22.—Blazing Bill Thompson, limber-legged Amarillo High school star backfielder, literally got up out of a sick bed to pull the Golden Sandstorm through in her first District game this afternoon, 20 to 7.

Thompson was in street clothes sitting on the Sandie bench during nearly all of the first three quarters.

Lamesa's Golden Tornado, infant member of District one, took a 7 to 6 lead over the Sandies when a passing attack in the third quarter clicked. The Tornado had no intention giving up that lead and in the final few seconds of the period Thompson, who had gone into the dressing room to change into football togs, was put in the game.

The Blazer came through gloriously after two Sandie attempts bogged down. He went 36 yards to touchdown midway in the fourth period. His mates made a hole, and he did the rest by side-stepping, squirming, and stiff-arming his way through the secondary. A few minutes later, Roberts reserve end, intercepted a pass and went 24 yards for the Sandies' third touchdown. Thompson was then taken out of the game.

The Sandies scored first on a ground drive of 27 yards near the end of the first period. Boynton going over from the four. Clark missed try for point.

Lamesa's score came in the third following a fumble recovery on the Sandies' 26. Three straight passes, Crawley to Anderson. Put the ball on the three from where Anderson dived over and then added extra point.

Thompson, who had been in bed with an attack of the flu all week, was the difference today and his performance received a tremendous roar of approval from friend and foe alike.

Ole Miss Tramples Gents, 47 To 14

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Oct. 22. (AP)—A homecoming crowd of 8,000 saw the University of Mississippi Rebels stage their most powerful offensive thrusts of the season today to batter a highly rated Centenary team to a 47-14 defeat.

The Ole Miss strength reached its peak in the final period, when the Rebels galloped four times across the Gent's line.

Tulsa Rolls Up 20 To 7 Win Over Oklahoma A. & M.

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 22. (AP)—The University of Tulsa Golden Hurricane swept to a 20 to 7 victory over Oklahoma A. and M., bitter rival in the Missouri Valley conference, today.

Fifteen thousand homecomers exulted as the Tulsans turned the Aggie challenge into a rout and kept clear their record of no conference defeats since joining the loop in 1935.

QUARTERBACKS MEET

Downtown Quarterbacks are invited to attend the season's most interesting meeting at 8 o'clock Monday night in Lubbock hotel.

Major Domo Pete Cawthon promises to have a delectable dish of gridiron fare in store for those who attend. Chatter of the Texas Mines-Texas Tech game will be led by Coaches Cawthon and Dutchy Smith.

As an added feature motion pictures of Tech's 7-6 conquest of Duquesne will be shown.

Tech's 23 yard line by Akins. Dixie White stopped the next play, and Heineman's long pass was intercepted by Raymond Flusche on the Tech 2-yard line. He brought it back to the 11, ending the first Mucker threat.

Heineman Miscues Punt

It was after that interception that the Techs drove to a touchdown. They bogged down inside their 20, and Calhoun was forced to kick. Heineman fumbled the kick, and it was recovered by Tech near midfield. From there, with Akins and Tarbox running and passing, the Raiders marched for a touchdown. Akins showed a fine passing ability, and his heaves to Flusche and Tarbox brought Tech to the Miner 16 yard line. From there Akins took off around right end, behind fine blocking, and went over the goal line standing up.

Jodie Marek rushed in, wearing the rubber kicking toe-plate, and added the seventh point with a fine kick from placement.

Gilbert went into kick off for Tech. His kick was short and out of bounds, and the Miners took possession on their 40, ran two plays to gain six yards as the quarter ended.

Muckers Threaten Often

The Miners, coming back with a rush, threatened twice in the scoreless second quarter—first when Salcido passed to Heineman for 15 yards and a first down near midfield, later when Heineman intercepted a Barnett pass on the Miner 15 and returned it 28 yards. He was almost loose.

Tech also made its second quarter threat, but approached no closer than the 22-yard line. Rex Williams intercepted a Heineman pass in midfield and returned six yards. Barnett passed to Flusche for 9 yards and Barnett hit the line for 3 yards and a first down. Barnett lost three on the next play but gained 10 on the next, before passing to Heineman, who intercepted on the 15.

Later in the period, Barnett's passing, to Webb and Flusche, brought the ball from the Tech 40 to the Mines' 22, Flusche lateralling to Scott after receiving the latter pass, for a gain of 19 yards. Barnett's passes at that point were batted down, three in a row, and the ball went over.

Tech Receives Penalty

Unable to gain on two tries, the Miners kicked out. Price getting off a 45-yard punt out of bounds on the Tech 39. Calhoun made 5 yards through the line, and on the last play of the first half, Tarbox got through and away for a 30-yard dash, to the Mucker 26. He was forced out of bounds by the Miner secondary who crowded him all the way.

Early in the third period, Tarbox again got away for a fan-raising run of 21 yards, but the play was called back and Tech was penalized 15 yards to its one-yard line, for holding. Calhoun kicked out of danger from behind his goal line, and the Miners marched back to the 25 before giving up.

Tech took command later in the period and marched to the Miner 9-yard line, but Tarbox's interference was felled and he was tossed for a 5-yard loss on the fourth down. The Raiders started operations from their 23-yard line late in the quarter, and had moved out to the 34 as the third period ended.

Fourth Stanza Is Exciting

Then came the exciting fourth quarter, in which nearly everything happened at once.

Backed up to their 22-yard line by a Calhoun kick, the Miners went to work from there for their touchdown. Balenti made 3 at the line, and Heineman made 2 more. Balenti broke through for first down on the 34. Heineman tried two long, desperate passes then, both incomplete, and Salcido took over the mound.

He lobbed a long one, and Barnett almost got it, but not quite. Heineman got it instead, jumping high and making an impossible-looking catch. He bounded away, because there was nobody to hinder him, and he ran 45 yards for touchdown. Salcido kicked the conversion point that tied the score.

The Techs came back mad, received the kickoff on their 16. Flusche returned it 29 yards. Barnett tossed an experimental pass that fell incomplete, but he meant it the next time and Tarbox caught it on the Mines 45. He cut through three would-be tacklers and trotted across the goal line for the second touchdown in two minutes. Marek donned his red rubber kicking shoe, and booted the ball squarely between the posts for the 14th point.

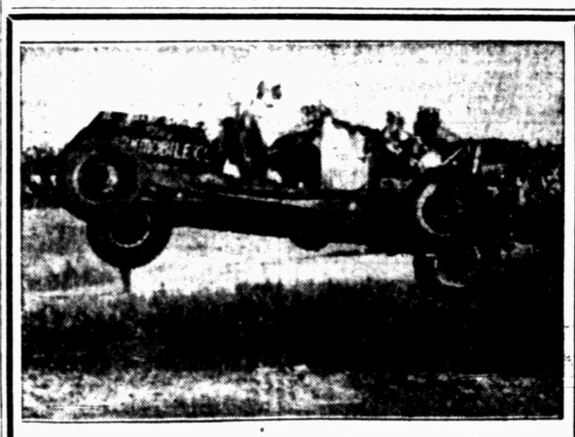

"Detroit" Pass Works

Thereafter the teams battled furiously between the 40-yard lines, Tech threatening in the last few minutes with Marek carrying the ball to the Mines 26. Barnett's passes failed, although McKnight caught one for a short gain. Tarbox carried to the 18 before Tech gave up the ball on downs.

The Raider line was holding fast against the rushing of Balenti and Price as the game ended.

Tarbox, by catching Barnett's "Detroit" pass and scampering for touchdown, became the leading scorer of the club with his fifth touchdown of the season. Walter "Bull" Rankin, who played but little of today's game, is second in the Tech scoring with four touchdowns.

It Was No Mistake To Card Ace With Putter, But 71 For Nine Holes Is NG

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 22. (AP)—It wasn't a mistake, after all, when Sam Barken used a putter for his tee shot on the 150-yard eighth hole at the municipal golf course, thinking he was using a mid-iron. He half-topped the ball, but it was good for a hole in one.

There must have been a couple of other mistakes though, for Barken took 71 for the nine holes.

Hunting In Mexico To Become Costly For Americans

Citizens of the United States who hunt in Mexico will have to pay dearly for that privilege in future, according to a communication received at the chamber of commerce Saturday.

In the past there have been virtually no fee charges for nimrods who crossed the Rio Grande. Fees now applicable, according to information here, are intended primarily for game conservation.

Some of the new requirements were listed as including:

Written permission from owners of the land on which hunting is planned; a gun permit costing approximately $7; a limit of four guns with not more than 100 rounds of ammunition for each firearm; a tourist card for which approximately $1 in U. S. currency is charged; an automobile permit, if one is used, costing about the same; membership in a "hunting club," in which the visitor can enroll at the border upon payment of a $10 fee; a hunting license which may cost from $15 to $22.50, depending on the type of license; and an aggregate of seven photographs to be affixed to various of the required documents.

The $15 hunting license is valid for one month and permits the holder to kill two whitetail deer and any number of wild bear, quail and other game.

The $22.50 license is good for six months and permits the killing of one bear, one blacktail deer, two whitetail deer and any number of quail, bore and other game.

When Junk Cars Smash Up

The junk car derby hit a snail's pace last Sunday when these three entries added thrills to the race by smashing together at the height of competition. O. D. Click in No. 12 is shown trying to squeeze through after J. M. Brown, driving No. 4, and No. 10, driven by Hubert Foster, collided.

SPARTANS STOP SYRACUSE

EAST LANSING, Mich., Oct. 22 (AP) In a breath-taking struggle that developed into an individual battle between Johnny Pingel and Wilmeth Sidat-Singh, Michigan State's Spartans downed Syracuse 19 to 12 here today to topple the Orange from the ranks of the nation's undefeated college football elevens.

Southwest Champion To Be Determined At Local Track

Regular weekly running of the junk car derby at the circus grounds on East Broadway will start at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, with drivers priming for the Southwestern championship to be run over the track soon.

Valuation of cars has been hiked to $150 to protect drivers during the series. Dick Tate, promoter, feels that each driver should hold his car throughout the meeting, to be held on three successive Sundays, therefore is making the second raise on valuation in less than three weeks.

Oklahoma's champion will compete for the championship of the southwest. All junk car drivers of the southwestern states are eligible to compete.

An appropriate trophy will go to winner of the three-day event. A minimum of $100 will be guaranteed each day of the meet for winners.

SKEET SHOOT TODAY

Members and guests of the Lubbock Skeet and Gun club will compete today in the regular weekly shoot at the club range north of town on the Plainview highway. Firing will start at 2 o'clock.

THE LUBBOCK LIVESTOCK COMMISSION CO.
At 1510 Ave. B
HORSE AND MULE AUCTION SALE EACH THURSDAY
CATTLE SALE EVERY WEDNESDAY!
Our market is really opening up here—sales the past six weeks have been very encouraging. Apparently they are also opening up further east as many new buyers are now showing up. This is very encouraging to the consignors of this territory as most of the stock for the eastern trade is bought here.
This coming Thursdays sale, especially, looks like a mighty good bet for your horses and mules. We are advertising the sale to right at 500 buyers and stressing the fact that, included in this sale to be offered, will be one full carload of young mares and colts which WILL POSITIVELY BE SOLD HALTERS OFF. This will bring a lot of buyers and get the sale off to a good hot start and should make the general price level on all stock offered.
For the cattle sale Wednesday, we are expecting a heavy demand, with plenty of buyer competition especially on stockers, light calves, and light bulls.

AIRCRAFT, STEELS CLIMB

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Heavy buying in aircrafts and steels touched off a brisk upswing among other industrial leaders in today's stock market and enabled the list to finish the week with a modest net advance despite earlier set-backs.

Gains for the day ran to more than 3 points, but best marks were chipped down in most cases near the close as profit takers put on a little more pressure.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .5 of a point at 53.1, a new top since Oct. 7, 1937. On the week the composite was ahead only .2. Transfers amounted to 1,126,500 shares against 1,-468,810 a week ago. For the six days volume was the largest since the week of July 2.

Cotton . .

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22 (AP)—Cotton futures continued their forward movement here today under renewed local and foreign buying. The close was steady at net gains of 1 to 14 points.

Distant positions were the strongest throughout the short session because of covering by shorts while nearby options were affected by week-end liquidation and some profit-taking by recent buyers.

Closing sales were at or near the best with Dec. at 8.57, Jan. at 8.50-bid, March at 8.49, May at 8.35, July at 8.25 and Oct. at 8.02 and Dec. (new) at 8.05-bid.

Spot cotton closed steady with sales totaling 5,214 bales. Middling finished unchanged at 8.66.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Foreign demand for distant positions lifted cotton prices today but near months lagged owing to December liquidation. December sold up from 8.45@8.48 and closed at 8.47 with final prices 1 to 13 points net higher.

The market opened evenly with the effects of steadier Liverpool cables balanced by hedge selling and liquidation. Early changes were irregular but next October deliveries soon developed firmness on persistent Bombay buying and on exchanging of long contracts from nearby positions forward. The late month strength imparted a generally stead tone, although Dec. almost touched the 8½-cent level. Oct. showed the maximum gain of 13 points.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22 (AP)—The average price of middling cotton at 10 Southern spot markets today was 1 point up at 8.68 cents a pound; for the past 30 market days it was 8.33 cents.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP)—The wheat market's four-day-old recovery was nipped by profit taking in the final hour of trading today.

After fractional price gains had been maintained most of the session, selling whittled prices down slightly below Friday's close. The profit taking was encouraged by gains of 1½ to almost 3 cents scored by wheat in the last four days.

Chicago wheat closed ¼ to ⅝ below Friday's finish, Dec. 36@66⅛, May 68@68⅛, and corn was unchanged to ⅜ off, Dec. 46⅝@46¾, May 50⅛@50, oats ⅛ to ¼ lower, rye ⅜ down; lard 10 to 17 lower.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Oct. 22 (AP)—Demand for grain here continued slow Saturday. Estimated receipts were: wheat 28 cars; corn 2; oats 1; and sorghums 1.

SIMPLICITY DIGNIFIES

A DISTINCTIVE monogram beautifully done, individualizes the household linens you choose. Just as it's good form right now to be unaffectedly natural it's right to keep monograms simple and conservative and, above all, readable. The size of the letters and their style should be governed by monogrammed. Bathroom and kitchen furnishings, especially for winter months, definitely run toward lots of color, particularly the warm shades. For table and bed linen, white on white is always good, but shops are showing pale shades worked in darker tones of the same color.

A CLEVER WOMAN

ELSA Lanchester, of the stage, who has just written a biography of her husband, Charles Laughton, dealt with a peculiar twist of inferiority complex which is revealed in the preface to the book, written by Mr. Laughton. It shows that actors speak their minds sometimes, even when married to one another. If you have seen Mr. Laughton on the screen you recall he is somewhat fat. He says:

"When I was rehearsing in 'On The Spot,' Edgar Wallace's play, in which I had to wear smart clothes and go about the stage kissing the women, I came home one night in a state of despair, sullen and nasty, and said to Ella: 'I know they (the public) won't stand for this. I've got a face like an elephant's . . . and in this play I have to do the big sex act.' . . . She turned on me like the proverbial tiger cat and whipped out: 'How dare you presume you are unattractive. Hold your shoulders back, keep your head up and smile, so that I can hold my head up with other women! Can you beat that? I owe her plenty."

SCATTERINGS

AN attractive charm bracelet is worn by Mrs. L. E. (Jack) Davis whose husband owns the horse, Anacacho Revel, that places in so many shows. On the chain are a real gold mesh bag containing a tiny good luck coin, a tiny, tiny lipstick, an engagement ring, a wedding band, a horse, a bag of oats and an ice cube. . . . Someone said recently an ideal committee is composed of three persons, one sick in bed and one out of town. . . . Thornton Wilder thinks the world's two loveliest cities are Vienna and Chicago. We haven't been to Vienna but we can't see beauty in the Windy City. . . . California blue is that shade that is being chosen by several Lubbock home builders for facings and roofs. . . . Personal nomination for an outstanding cartoon: That one drawn for the Houston Chronicle by Ferman Martin, former Lubbock resident, showing Hitler's famed swastika acting as a boomerang when confronted with The Cross and bouncing back at the German leader.

BREAK ON MANNERS

THE experts have decreed that one needn't hop out of bed to stand at attention when the radios produce the national anthem and that our First Lady needn't curtsy to visiting royalty, no matter how royal, but someone wishes they would soften a few dictates that affect us more directly.

For instance why can't we say, "But I don't like to look at home movies" (if we don't) when our hostess tells us of the surprise she has for us?

Why can't we read a magazine when the rest of the company likes a radio comedian whom we find tiresome?

Is raving over a baby absolutely necessary?

And how about remaining silent while a hostess' pet dog romps on us with muddy feet? Couldn't we speak up—gently but firmly?

Must guests stay on and on and on. Couldn't a hostess dismiss them?

Why must men keep their coats on in a room warm enough for women with sleeveless gowns to be comfortable?

Why do we have to spend a good part of our vacations writing notes and cards to our friends?

THE WORLD'S A STAGE

MAX REINHARDT has given his best to the theater, and the theater has given its best to him. To countless thousands of people Reinhardt has brought a new conception of the theater, and through the theater, a broader, deeper and more joyous living.

"Real theater," he said once, "should always enrich us, deepen our natures, gives us just one more reason for life or happiness."

Halloween Inspires Costume Parties And Carnivals As Main Entertainments

Dinner Or Informal

ESSENTIALLY Parisian is this dinner gown by Bruyere combining black silk velvet with bands of chenille-dotted net. It has a deep round yoke, full sleeves, gathered at wrists, diamond buttons and a slim skirt with fullness at the hemline only. It's called a dinner gown, but the average woman could wear it to very formal parties as well as dinners.

Ludicrous spirits of all saints' day will begin roaming and howling early this year as a week-end, the logical time for merrymaking, precedes Holloween by several days.

The public schools this week-end will be turned into carnival scenes where noisy merry making and weird divenation of the future will be the chief diversion of the pupils and their parents. A two-fold purpose will be accomplished on the occasions, and parent-teacher organizations raise funds for their various projects.

Club Plans Masquerade

One of the highlights of week-end celebrations will be the annual masquerade dance given for the Lubbock Dancing club Thursday night at the Hilton hotel. Men and women will compete for prizes to be offered for the cleverest costume and the best masquerade and, if history repeats itself, every comical character from the Ritz brothers to Charlie McCarthy, will be evident in the grand march. Ned Bradley's orchestra will play for dancing.

A Halloween masquerade party will be given by the South Plains Music company for members of its accordion class and their parents at 8 o'clock Thursday night in the home of Mrs. W. L. Daniel, 2501 Twenty-third street.

For Needle Clubs

At least two needle clubs have scheduled Halloween parties for Thursday. The 1937 Needle club will be entertained at a place to be announced to the members this week, and the Betsy Ross club will be entertained in the home of Mrs. E. E. Rogers, 1621 Seventeenth street.

The Colonial Needle club will have a Halloween party at 7:30 o'clock Friday night in the home of Mrs. W. V. Lewis, 2420 Twenty-first street. A masked party will be given at 7:30 o'clock the same night for the Arnett-Benson club in the home of Mrs. C. O. White, 2612 Locust street.

Las Amigas, a club of young girls, will have a masquerade dance at 8 o'clock Saturday night at the Larrymore studio.

La Docena Card Club Party Is Given By Mrs. Blake

A new bridge club which met Friday afternoon with Mrs. Emerson Blake, 2323 Fifteenth street, chose La Docena as its name from a list submitted by all the members, Mrs. Arch King, who submitted the name selected, was presented with a prize.

High score in the games was made by Mrs. King and Mrs. J. D. Sanders made second high. The hostess served pumpkin pie and coffee.

Those attending included Mesdames Cliff Widener, Robert Bean, Henry Clark, Earl Hunt, Cliff Armstrong, a Mrs. Cliff and a Mrs. Holt.

The club, which meets at 2:30 p. m. every other Friday, will meet November 4 with Mrs. Clark, 1408-A Avenue S.

Loyalty Club Members Quilt In Home Of Mrs. Ed Greer

Mrs. Ed Greer of 1815 Avenue Q entertained the Loyalty club Friday afternoon. Although the meeting was of a social nature, quilting was the main diversion. Mrs. M. W. Comer presided, devotional was by Mrs. E. Sarter and prayer was by Mrs. Greer. The program included readings and songs. Hot chocolate, pumpkin pie and coffee were served to ten members.

Program On Stewardship Will Be Presented For WMS

The First Baptist Women's Missionary society will meet at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the church for a program on stewardship. The program will include devotional by Mrs. A. S. Cannon, solo by Mrs. Frank Barclay, talk by Mrs. John Mallory and reports and announcements by Mesdames Joe McIlhaney, A. T. Cocanougher, J. E. Hamilton, Irving L. Jones and M. L. Shepherd.

Bownds Home Is Scene Of Tea

Mrs. Gradie W. Bownds, president of the First Baptist Women's Missionary society, entertained with an informal seated tea from 3 until 5 o'clock Friday afternoon at her home, 2016 Fifteenth street, for the society's executive committee.

The program consisted of music by an accordion band composed of Mary Nell Holt, Billy Ray Medley, Ina Whitney, Carmen Dobkins and Billy Lamm, readings by Mrs. J. E. Hamilton and talks by Rev. C. E. Hereford and Leo F. Waite. A short business discussion followed the program.

In Halloween Motif

Mrs. Bownds home was decorated with autumn leaves and flowers, and a Halloween color scheme was featured in the refreshment plate. The dining table was covered with a lace cloth, set with crystal and silver and lighted with black and yellow candles. The centerpiece was of yellow dahlias.

The hostess was assisted in the dining room by Mrs. M. L. Shepherd, who poured coffee, and Mesdames J. E. and S. A. Hamilton.

Others attending were Mesdames Hereford, Waite, W. B. Irvin, T. C. Styron, W. E. Twitty, J. W. Mallory, Alfred Crosby, Esther Mayfield, H. A. Boone, R. J. Williams, Claude Key, A. T. Cocanougher, F. P. Smith, M. S. Craig, J. E. Alexander, C. N. James, Creek Brown, W. H. Porter, Bert D. Miller, C. Fred Litton, Joe McIlhaney and L. E. Boren.

Meetings Of Christian Units For Monday Are Scheduled

Circle 1, Mrs. M. E. Heard, 2623 Twentieth street; Mrs. H. C. Pender assistant hostess; Circle 2, Mrs. O. A. Terry, 2915 Twentieth street; Circle 3 Mrs. W. C. Edwards at the church annex; Circle 5, Mrs. E. L. Pitts, 2911 Twentieth street, and Circle 6, Mrs. W. J. Whitson, 2006 Main street.

ON HOME MISSIONS

Mrs. R. D. Moxley will be chairman for a home mission program at a meeting of the First Presbyterian Woman's auxiliary at 3 p. m. Monday at the church. Members of Circle 1 will be hostesses.

Seventy Call At Guest Day Tea On Saturday

THE Lubbock Woman's Forum was host with an annual Guest Day tea from 3:30 until 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Raymond Marshall, 2505 Twentieth street. Seventy guests called.

Miss Sue Bryan, an honorary member, greeted the guests at the door and presented them to Mrs. R. H. Hester, president of the club. Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, president of the seventh district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, and Mesdames Henrie Mast, Mark Allen, Turner Adams, R. W. Badger, H. J. Bingham and M. M. Ewing.

In House Party

Mrs. R. S. Underwood presided at the register, and others in the house party were Mrs. J. E. Hamilton, honorary member, who poured coffee and Mesdames Sam Newman, Robert Crawford and Jimmie Kerr.

The house was decorated with bronze dahlias. The coffee table was covered with a gold satin cloth and centered with bronze chrysanthemums on a reflector edged with small candles in crystal holders.

Button chrysanthemums tied with bronze ribbons were favors.

A musical program for the occasion was provided by Misses Mary Evelyn Pickle and Imogene Webster, who played piano solos, and Mrs. Leonard Cole and Mary Nell Holt, Carmen Dobkins and Ruth Janelle Spikes who played accordion ensemble music.

Mrs. Harold Phelps Honored At Party In Smyer Friday

Local AAUW Branch Roster Lists Representatives Of Thirty-Four Colleges

BY EVELYN BOYD
Of The Woman's Staff

Miss Vivian Johnson, chairman of the membership committee of the Lubbock branch of the American Association of University Women, has announced some rules of eligibility which may be of interest to women contemplating affiliation with A. A. U. W.

Graduates of seven colleges and universities in Texas are entitled to full (national) membership and graduates of eight other Texas schools are eligible for associate membership.

The national list includes Baylor university, Waco; Our Lady of the Lake, San Antonio; Incarnate Word, San Antonio; University of Texas, Austin; Texas State College for Women, Denton; Southern Methodist university, Dallas, and Texas Christian university, Fort Worth. Women who have spent less than four years in one of the above schools may have associate A. A. U. W. membership.

Graduates Eligible

Graduates of these Texas schools are eligible for the associate list. Trinity university, Waxahachie; Southwest Texas State Teachers college, San Marcos; Mary Hardin Baylor, Belton; Sam Houston State Teachers college, Huntsville; North Texas State Teachers college, Denton; Stephen F. Austin State Teachers college, Nacogdoches; Trinity university, Waxahachie, and West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon.

Texas Technological college, although eligible for the associate list, is working toward admittance to the national list. The college possibly will be recognized by the national A. A. U. W.; Mrs. Mary W. Ooak, Lubbock branch president, believes when its graduates have had time to prove themselves in their respective branches of endeavor. When the Tech college is recognized, all its graduates will be eligible for national membership in the A. A. U. W.

The Tech Council of Women Graduates has as its main purpose securing national A. A. U. W. recognation for Tech college.

Increase Membership

Total membership in the Lubbock branch for the 1938-39 season will not be announced until after all dues are paid, possibly not until the first of the year. Last year the branch had 69 national members and ten associate members. As the membership has been increased by ten or twelve women each of the past four years, Miss Johnson predicted at least 80 members for this year's list.

Listed on the current Lubbock branch roster are women from 33 colleges and universities in 20 states and Miss Maurine Cunningham the only graduate of a foreign university. The members, with their schools listed first, are as follows:

Baylor university, Mesdames W. P. Clement and Ed Terrell and Miss Dorothy Lomax; Central college, Fayette, Mo., Miss Zella Riegel; Columbia university, New York City, Mrs. Dude Buster and Misses Elizabeth Hawley, Mary Ellen Ingram, Vivian Johnson, Josephine Looney, Jonnie McCrery, Gertrude Watson and Margaret W. Weeks;

Honest-To-Goodness Heroine Of Book Has Job, Goes On Dates Like Other Girls

BY RUTH MILLETT

"The only heroine on the hoof in New York." That is the way that Ruth McKenney refers to the heroine she created in humor—a heroine who happens to have a tip-tilted nose, reddish hair, coal black lashes, and eyes as green and Irish as her name, which is Eileen McKenney.

You've guessed it. She is the heroine of Eileen McKenney's best seller, "My Sister, Eileen".

What does an honest-to-goodness heroine, who looks the part, do all day long in New York? Well, in order to eat Eileen is secretary to the president of a large advertising agency. She fits into her Rockefeller Center background like a fixture, looking as streamlined and modern as the office in which she takes dictation, where the filing cabinets are set in the wall, and the decorations are photographs lighted from behind.

When she closes her notebook at the end of the day, she may be one of either two Eileens. She may be the Eileen her sister makes her out in the book. In that case she spends the evening with a bunch of earnest, but none too flush, radicals. The evening is mostly conversation and argument, and a great deal of that is done over a meal in a cafeteria or basement restaurant in Greenwich Village.

On those evenings Eileen rushes home from work to change her sheer silk hose to cotton ones. For her "serious" friends fight the battles of the working man, and are strong

Artists Courses To Begin Soon

Cheery note for holders of South Plains Civic Music tickets and those interested in the Tech Artists course is that the current seasons will get underway shortly. Moreover, within the next few weeks several interesting lecturers have been engaged for appearances here.

The C. M. A. program will be initiated Oct. 31 with the co-recital given by Suzanne Fisher and Clifford Menz of the Metropolitan Opera association. Miss Fisher, who in private life is Mrs. Menz, is one of the leading sopranos of the association. Her debut there took place in December, 1935, in the title role of "Madame Butterfly." She subsequently sang such important parts as Manon, Mimi, Marguerite and Micaela. She has appeared in these roles each season since.

Clifford Menz is a native of St. Paul, Minn. He is a graduate of the University of Minnesota where he played quarterback on the varsity football team and took an active part in college athletics. Both of his parents had for a time been professional singers, touring in operetta companies through the middle western states. So it was natural that they should sympathize with their son's vocal ambitions. On coming east to New York, young

Rayon Velvet That Will Resist Crushing

Wine rayon velvet, processed to resist crushing, makes a frock for afternoon and informal evening wear. The drapery, which outlines its vee neckline, is caught with two gold metal hoops and its dirndl waistline is shirred with elastic. The felt toque is trimmed with wine and purple velvet bows.

Two Entertain With Party As Courtesy To Fraternity

Misses Ernestine Quarles and Ruth Richeson entertained the Tech premed fraternity Friday night in the home of the latter at 2202 Twenty-third street. A candy pull and popcorn popping was featured.

Guests were Misses Doris Kirk, Helen Hollingsworth, Eileen Holland, Messrs. Ardell Taylor, Joe Donaldson, John G. Thompson, Zane Brewer, R. V. Jones, and George Atkinson.

OES Group Goes To Houston Meeting

Miss Marty Bartlett of Olton; Mesdames Arch Proctor, John Berry, Etta Schooler, Mary Blocker, Frances Bolch, Blanche McLaurin, Fleta Allen, Joy Middleton, Lucille Gibson of O'Donnell; Mesdames Floy Austin, Ina Speck of Lamesa; Mrs. Willie B. Caskey of Hale Center; Mesdames Vola Stark and Bessie Boggess of Hereford; Mesdames Hub Haire and Alice Martin of Southland; Miss Thelma Clark of Post; Mesdames Orpha Parker, Lucy Looney and Lorena Brock of Bovina; Mesdames Beth Salem, Inez Boyd and Ethel Teal of Sudan; Mrs. Annie Moore of Lorenzo; Mrs. Rachael Tarver of Morton; Mrs. Eula Parrish of Ralls; Mrs. Lavernia Bruneer of Groome; Mesdames Lena Ericson, Sussie Sloan and Laverne Sauls of Spur; Mrs. T. L. Stark of Seminole; Mrs. Chester Gore of Brownfield; Mesdames Esther Smith and Opal Jordan of Blackwell; Mrs. Gladys Joplin of Littlefield; Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Montgomery, Mesdames Amelia McKinney, Maude Bradley, G. V. Pardue, L. D. Thomas, James Samson, Gussie Gammill, T. H. Barnard, Anne Potts and Rafe Nabors.

District 2 of which the Lubbock chapter is a member will present a stunt at the opening session. The group will return Friday.

Band Boosters Club Plans To Sponsor Rummage Sale Here

All parents of Senior and Junior high and grade school band members are urged to bring rummage to their respective schools by Tuesday, if possible, in order that it may be collected for the Band Boosters club rummage sale to be held Saturday. Where delivery to school is impossible, band boys will call at the home for the contributions, Mrs. U. Brown, an officer in the club has announced.

Proceeds of the rummage sale will be used toward buying band uniforms. Any persons interested in cooperating with the sale, place for which will be announced later this week, are asked to telephone 1009-W for details.

sympathizers with China.

Other evenings she spends like any heroine in fiction, who happens to be living in New York. She gets around. To Twenty-One, El Morocco, the Stork Club. Those evenings she forgets about China, and leaves the lisle hose (which she hates because they scratch) at home.

So far, Eileen McKenney has found being a heroine is all to the good. Old beaux, who hadn't telephoned in months, started calling up the moment they realized they knew the telephone number of an honest-to-goodness heroine.

And she gets a kick out of the way the women she meets at parties "pull their husbands in when they realize they are coming face to face with a heroine, who is supposed to be a man-killer."

That tickles Eileen because she says, "I'm really grim. I'm no glamor girl."

The only thing that "gets her" is the question she has to answer over and over. "Why don't you write a book, too?"

Well, why doesn't she? Because she was born the beauty of the McKenney family—destined to be its heroine.

from Lou to Louella...

DEAR LOUELLA: Did you ever try to call someone at the Tech women's dormitory after 5 p. m.? Well, I have and my exasperation when the line invariably has been busy was nothing, I imagine, compared to that of young people trying to make dates.

Some of the gals, this year (I don't believe they've had 'em before), are installing telephones in their suites the better to outdo Old Debbil Busy Signal. I know who they are, and I'll bet they'll be the most frequently dated co-eds in the dorm the remainder of the year.

Now You Know

Now you know, what all the wedding-to-be secrecy was about. I think I've behaved admirably, if only by request, and a handsome bridegroom-elect whose middle initial is P should bring me a box of candy or other suitable reward.

* * *

THEY say thare's some romancing going on among the school teachers and I'm tempted to tell all I know. I think I'll keep quiet a week or two, however, in the hopes someone will bribe me to spare them the giggles of the school chillun. Four teachers—two couples, if you can add—are involved for sure and some others are on the verge of noticeable romances.

There's a former Tech footballer working somewhere in New Mexico who is about to become the bridegroom of a former Tech home economics student of Brownfield. January 1 approximately is the date.

Ever since we've had Child Conservation league circles in Lubbock, six or seven years, I've spent many a sleepless night fearing the printers would mix up the letters—accidentally, of course—and that I'd be held responsible for an item reading like this:

"The Such and Such ciorcle of the Child ConVERsation league met yesterday", etc. As far as I know, that particular error has never crept into the paper and now I can rest easy because most of the circles are no longer affiliated with the league, a really-worthwhile organization.

One of the circles, the Sunshine, has me baffled however when it comes to saying its new name: Sunshine Child Study Club. Try saying it. It's good exercise.

* * *

MRS. C. C. Heatley of 2204 Eighteenth street, who moved here last summer from Mangum, Okla., has 100 quilts in her home and she made all but ten or 12 of them. Making quilts is her hobby, and she makes two of almost every pattern since she has two freshmen-in-Tech children.

Mrs. Heatley's hobby is amazing to me because I've always associated quilting with older women than Mrs. Heatley who is in her very early forties. The children, William Lee and Beatrice, also have a sort of a record. They went all through school without being late or absent (except for half a day once to attend a funeral and their graduation from high school last spring was widely celebrated in Mangum.

Speaking of quilts and things, there is an elderly woman, Mrs. J. J. Murphy, at 1924 Dixie Drive who is said to be very adept at all sorts of fancy work despite her advancing years. She is past 80. I've seen her in the yard and have observed that she is very active when it comes to watering the lawns and caring for flowers.

Concerning Age

And that brings to mind some remarks anent age I've been saving for you. More than two years ago, Miss Ada Pearl Roller who organized the Delphian chapter here dropped the message that "age is merely an attitude toward life" and I often have thought how true were those words when observing the growing older reactions of various persons.

Not so long ago, a Lubbock educator in a lecture said:

"There's a vast difference between growing old and growing up. Can't you name numerous persons who have grown up but are ageless in their manners, and don't you know a lot of people who have grown old without growing up?"

All of which has nothing to do with quilting, so I guess I'd better quit.

Yours, Lou.

Les Amies Club Meets With Mrs. Matthews On Friday

Les Amies club was entertained Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Cecil R. Matthews, 2405 Thirteenth street. Members exchanged favorite recipes and gifts. Refreshments were served.

Attending were Mrs. W. E. Peterson, a guest, Mrs. Syrean E. Marbut, a new member, and Mesdames Clay Lowery, Ralph Robinson, J. T. Fountain, C. A. Ross, W. J. Whittaker and T. S. Cranford.

The club will meet at 3 p. m., November 4, with Mrs. Cranford, 2118 Twentieth street.

Clement-Sorosis Club Is To Meet In Wheatley Home

Mesdames Guy L. Wheatley and Clarence Whiteside will be hostesses for a meeting of the Clement Sorosis club at 3 p. m. Tuesday in the Wheatley home, 1211-A Fourteenth street. A program on Texas art will be presented by Mesdames Henry Clark and Preston Smith. Roll call will be answered by naming Texas artists.

Pan Hellenics Will Attend Luncheon

Miss Mary Etta Vernon of Roscoe, who won the Pan Hellenic scholarship last spring, will be honor guest at a Pan Hellenic luncheon at 1 p. m. Saturday in the Texas Technological college women's dormitory lounge. Miss Vernon is a sophomore student at Tech college.

Non-members of the society who are eligible for membership are urged to telephone the luncheon chairman, Mrs. B. C. Dickinson, for reservations if they wish to attend the luncheon. All reservations should be made by Thursday noon.

Hostesses for the luncheon, the first quarterly meeting of the 1938-39 season, are alumnae of Zeta Tau Alpha, Pi Beta Phi and Alpha Gamma Delta sororities.

FRYS HAVE SON

Mr. and Mrs. Truett Fry of Post are parents of a son weighing 5 pounds 4 ounces, born at 5:20 o'clock Thursday morning at the Mike Fry residence in Lubbock.

Annual Banquet On Wednesday

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

HALE CENTER, Oct. 22 — For the ninth year, Hale Center will be host to all residents of this territory who are 80 years old or more, in a banquet and program set Wednesday noon, October 26, at the Presbyterian church here. Originated by Dr. S. J. Underwood, pioneer Hale county physician, the unique program pays honor to early settlers of Texas, and the plains.

Included on the program, as outlined by Dr. Underwood, will be a reception for the guests shortly before noon, and then lunch, with R. W. "Uncle Bob" LeMond, now 90 years old, giving the invocation. After lunch, with "Uncle Bob" as chairman for the afternoon, Dr. Underwood will give a brief sketch of the origination of the Octogenarian banquet idea, and Uncle Bob will relate his experiences during the recent 50th anniversary re-union of Confederate and Union veterans of the Civil War in Gettysburg.

The Rev. W. R. Burnett, Methodist pastor, will give a brief talk, choosing his own subject.

Mahon To Speak

Congressman George Mahon has also been invited to speak.

During the lunch, or in the afternoon, the choral club of the high school will entertain the oldsters with songs. The choristers are directed by Webb Jenkins, school music teacher.

The Octogenarians will be invited to spin a few yarns about their early days in Texas, and final number on the program will be a memorial service for all those who have passed on since the first banquet. Closing hymn will be "God Be With You 'Til We Meet Again."

Methodist church women will prepare and serve the meal. Banquet room will be decorated in Hallowe'en colors. Tickets will be bought by local merchants to defray cost of having the Octogenarians as guests of the city.

Based on attendance at past banquets here, Dr. Underwood estimates at least 25 people who have reached four score years will be present.

...O. P. Clark To Have Busy ...y In Filling Program Today

...r. O. P. Clark, presiding elder of ... Lubbock district of the Methodist church will have a busy day today.

In the morning he preaches in the Crosbyton church; at noon he drives to Garlynn for a quarterly conference and at night he will be in O'Donnell for the dedication of the church there.

After dedication, Dr. Clark will drive Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, of Dallas, from O'Donnell to Big Spring where he will take the train for home. Bishop Holt has been in New Mexico attending the conference at Roswell, and Rev. M. R. Pike, O'Donnell pastor, will drive him from Roswell to O'Donnell during the afternoon.

Post To Be Host To Convention Of Christian Churches Nov. 2

A district convention for district 2 of the Christian churches of Christ will be held in the Post First Christian church on Nov. 2.

Program will start at 10 o'clock. Delegates, both lay and clergical, are expected from 16 towns in the district. Mrs. Willard Kirkpatrick is district secretary.

WEEKLY SERVICE TODAY

The weekly Community Center religious service will be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the woman's building on the fairgrounds. The services have been held the last few Sundays at the Congregational Methodist church. Mrs. J. B. Carpenter will be principal speaker and W. McMahon will lead the devotional.

Artists Will Be Presented Soon

Menz immediately got a job as tenor soloist in the road company of "As Thousands Cheer" and toured with this company from coast coast. He then went to Italy for further vocal study and operatic coaching. On returning he was appointed tenor soloist at St. Bartholomew's church in New York.

Richard Bonelli, also a Metropolitan Opera star, is to be presented in concert November 8 under the auspices of the Tech Artists course.

To Lecture On Theater

Irene Childrey Hoch, grand director of Delta Psi Omega and director of dramatics of Modesto college, Modesto, Calif., is to lecture Oct. 29 on the mezzanine floor of the Hilton hotel under the auspices of the Sock and Buskin club and Alpha Psi Omega, dramatic societies at Texas Technological college. Her talk, which is on "The Theater Around the World," will begin at 7:45 o'clock.

Miss Hoch's secretary will model costumes which her employer obtained from various theaters in making a seven months' tour of the world not long ago.

Students with activity tickets will be admitted and others interested in attending the lecture may telephone the speech office at the college.

Tickets On Sale

Tickets at 50 cents each are on sale for the review of "And Tell of Time" (Laura Krey) which Miss Evelyn Oppenheimer of Dallas will give here November 8 under auspices of young martons' circle of the First Christian Woman's council. The review will be given at 4 p. m. in the Hilton hotel ballroom.

Reservations for the review may be made by telephoning Mrs. I. T. Wilson whose number is 3903 or Mrs. L. O. Armstrong whose number is 540-J.

A capacity crowd is expected because "And Tell of Time" is one of the season's best selling novels and Miss Oppenheimer is well known nationally, as well as in Texas, for her literary criticisms and book reviews.

The second review in a series sponsored by the First Presbyterian woman's auxiliary will be given Nov. 7 at the church basement when Dr. C. J. Wagner lectures on Paul De Kruif's book "The Fight for Life."

Man Does Not Marry A Woman For Mere Pleasure Of Paying Board, Washing, Court Rules

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—A wife who left her husband two weeks after their marriage and demanded a separation because he was too ardent got no sympathy from Supreme Court Justice Edward Riegelmann in Brooklyn.

Denying temporary alimony and counsel fees to Mrs. Catherine Zimmerman pending trial of her separation suit against her husband, Charles, the judge noted that Mrs. Zimmerman had been married before and said:

"Presumptively, at least, she might have anticipated that a man does not court and marry a woman for the mere pleasure of paying her board and washing."

Life Made Easier For The Farmer; New Tractor Has All Comforts Of Limousine

BY PAUL D. SHOEMAKER
Associated Press Farm Editor

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 15.—They're making life easier for the farmer.

When he's driving the tractor now he can laugh at the weather. An implement company here not only is putting cabs on new tractors; it's streamlining and air-cooling them.

Other features are: windshield wipers, electric headlights, electric starter, radio, electric horn and a front bumper. The instrument panel encloses a speedometer, ammeter, oil pressure gauge and water temperature gauge. The tractor has five forward speeds and can travel from a crawl up to 40 miles an hour. It has the conventional power-take-off and power on belt features.

State-Owned Stallion And Jacks Add To Assets Of Farmers

AUSTIN, Oct. 22 (AP) — Add to Texas horse and mule assets 4,000 foals worth $240,000—sired last fiscal year by state-owned stallions and jacks.

J. E. McDonald, state agriculture commissioner, said today the stud animals had produced 20,000 offsprings worth $1,200,000 since the state-sponsored breeding program began in 1934.

The blooded studs, now leased for $30 annually to individuals and stationed throughout the state, have brought Texas farmers and ranchmen back into the horse and mule breeding picture, he said.

With its revenue cut off by repeal of the racing law the state can purchase no more jacks and stallions but the original 290—now cut to 240 by death—set up an ever broadening breeding cycle.

It was a day of gloom when the department learned that General Linden, prize jack of the lot, died of an infection which developed when his leg was cut accidentally.

The general came from Tennessee of which he was three times grand champion jack. He cost $1,100 and the department later refused $2,500 for him.

Total Of $2,203,200 In FHA-Approved Loans Made Since April In District

About Half Of Loans In City

Marking the tempo of building pace in Lubbock, applications for insured loans received by the Lubbock service office of the Federal Housing administration since opening of the office April 9 reached a total of $2,203,200 at the close of business Thursday, said J. A. Raley, jr., senior valuator in charge.

The Lubbock service office serves a district of 41 South Plains and West Texas counties. A typical week's business, said Raley, would be composed of approximately 35 applications for insured loans, of which about half would originate in Lubbock. The remainder would be scattered throughout the district with cities like Midland, Big Spring, Sweetwater, Odessa and Plainview predominating in applications submitted.

Smaller Towns Applying

Of late, applications have been received from many of the smaller towns in the district; such as Littlefield, Sudan, Roby, Rotan, Robert Lee, Barnhardt, Muleshoe, Post, Slaton, Crosbyton, Spur, Tahoka, Lamesa and others. In addition, there have been many inquiries for farm loans and several applications have been received for processing, said Raley.

Latest totals show there have been 618 cases received with fees paid, totaling $2,203,200. For the week ending Friday there were 37 applications totaling $103,700, applications originating in Lubbock, Spur, Slaton, Monahans, Big Spring, Rotan, Plainview, Matador, Littlefield, Loop, Fort Stockton and Midland.

Ownership Steps Outlined By FHA

The Federal Housing administration has outlined a suggested course [illegible]ure for those contemplating ownership.

[illegible] step in building or buying a home, according to FHA officials, is to decide how much one can afford to invest. Generally speaking the home buyer's income should be at least four or five times the monthly loan payment.

Decide On Type

The next step is to decide on the type of home best suited to the family needs—number of rooms, location, type, etc.

Then consultation with an architect, builder, or real estate firm will result in practical suggestions which should help clarify the individual's ideas on the subject. When a rough plan and a tentative estimate have been received, application should be made for an FHA-insured mortgage at a local approved lending institution.

Should Consider Payments

FHA officials urge the individual planning home ownership to take the lending-institution official into complete confidence so that payments within one's means and convenient to meet may be arranged.

Under FHA's plan of home ownership, up to 80 and in some cases 90 per cent of the appraised value of the property may be borrowed. Up to 20 or 25 years may be allowed for repayment, with a maximum interest rate of 5 per cent.

The down payment need not be in cash, FHA officials point out, a building lot in some cases serving as down payment.

Light Switches Should Be Put Conveniently In New Homes

Lighting switches in rooms that have more than one entrance should be placed near the entrance most used after dark.

In living rooms, switches are frequently located near the outside door, whereas they should be placed next to the living-room entrance. The vestibule light or street illumination will provide sufficient light for the living room to prevent danger from injury when entering from outside.

In kitchens the switch should be placed near the entrance into the space used for dining. In almost every case where rooms have an outside and inside entrance, the most convenient location for the room light switch is near the inside entrance.

[illegible]ouses may be rewired with the [illegible]eeds of the property improvement credit plan loan obtained from [illegible]te institution qualified by the [illegible]ral Housing administration under the plan.

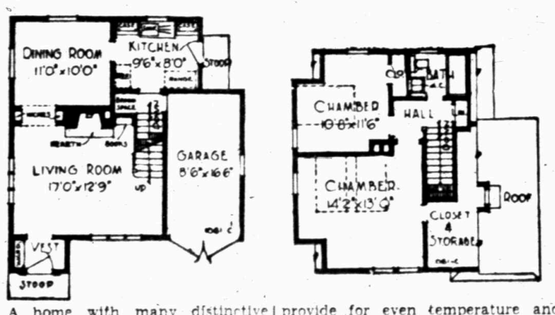

BASEMENT VENTILATION

Basement recreation rooms cannot usually be well ventilated naturally. Windows are necessarily high, and stale air, which is heavier than fresh air, falls to the floor and is trapped.

A ventilating fan or some other form of forced draught should be installed in such rooms.

English Design With Garage

Note how the convenient garage forms an integral part of the architecture.

The efficient layout of all the rooms are in excellent proportion to each other. They are large and comfortable and exceptionally light. Note how the cross ventilation will provide for even temperature and an abundance of sunlight.

Examination of the floor plans reveal much needed closet and storage space. Also note the generous allotment of space given to the bedrooms. Hardwood floors, tiled bath, attractive fireplace, laundry tubs, etc., are some of the features included with this home.

Plans can be obtained from your local dealer through the National Plan Service, Inc., Chicago, Illinois

Home Builders Should Check Four Essential Steps Before Starting To Build A House

Many difficulties and disappointments can be avoided if the home builder is familiar with certain facts that should be studied before starting to build. The house is a large investment . . . it's a life time investment—it can be made a truly wise and profitable investment with only a little study and thinking. Four of the most important points to consider in building a new home are:

WHERE?

Selection of the lot involves a careful study of the neighborhood that you are making your permanent home. Such questions as: Is it a growing and desirable community? Has it adequate transportation, educational and recreational facilities? Is there a possibility of special assessments or taxes?

WHAT?

Plans and specifications for the home are probably the most important steps in building and is probably one of the least considered. Few people are familiar with fundamental building principles and costs—and can easily end up with a home that, though it looks nice, is rotten at the core. This can be avoided by having all plans and specifications checked by the F. H. A. or a reliable architect.

HOW?

A 10% down payment is all that is necessary, though a larger one will make it easier to pay and the monthly payments smaller. In addition, the F. H. A. recommends that the payments on the mortgage to be one-fifth to one-fourth on the income.

WHO?

The contractor is the one that will give you either a solid, well constructed home or one that will settle out of place, leak and have all the troubles that come from shoddy construction. It is very wise to choose a large reputable firm though some curbstone operator whispers he can build it for less.

More Than 1,200,000 People Are Living In Homes Financed In Federal Housing Plan

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 22—More than 1,200,000 persons are living in homes financed under the FHA plan, according to figures made public today by Administrator Stewart McDonald.

This number is now being increased at the rate of approximately 12,500 a week as a consequence of the accelerated home construction activities under the liberalized FHA program put into effect last February.

In addition, it is estimated that between five and six million persons have been enabled to improve their living conditions through the FHA Property Improvement program. More than 12,000 of these loans are being insured each week.

Total Of 279,599 Mortgages

Premium paying mortgages recorded by the FHA covering small homes reached a total of 279,599 valued at $1,159,523,341 on October 15. Each of these mortgages represents at least one dwelling unit and some of them as many as four units.

Large scale projects financed under the FHA plan have provided an additional 4,400 family units and projects nearing completion will add over 9,600 more units.

On the basis of four persons to the family it is estimated that the number of persons housed under the FHA plan is now in excess of 1,200,000.

Loans Valued At $679,131,545

Under the property improvement program a total of 1,706,364 loans valued at $679,131,545 have been made by private lending institutions insured by the FHA. Of these loans, approximately 1,400,000 have been made for modernizing or repairing dwellings and 266,000 for improvement of small business or other types of properties.

The Federal Housing administration's foreclosure experience continues highly satisfactory, according to McDonald. As a September 30, only 331 homes had been turned over to the FHA following foreclosure. Net losses chargeable against the FHA as a result of sale at that date of 135 properties totaled slightly under $70,000. To meet such losses the FHA has available a Mutual Mortgage Insurance Fund now amounting to $22,963,822 accumulated in the Treasury from insurance premiums and appraisal fees.

This low loss ratio, Administrator McDonald explained, is due in large measure to the FHA appraisal and risk rating system, important features of which are protection of the home seeker from over-buying and careful consideration of his ability to meet his payments.

The latest available statistics show that 61 per cent of home buyers under the FHA plan use less than 15 per cent of their incomes to meet their monthly payments, exclusive of taxes and hazard insurance, and that 92 per cent of them use less than 20 per cent.

Ownership Features Under FHA Listed

Chief features of the Federal Housing administration plan of home ownership are: (1) Lower financing charges; (2) long-term loans (supplied by private financial institutions) extending in some cases up to 20 or 25 years; (3) advancement by the lender of a large part of the total value (up to 80 or 90 per cent, if circumstances warrant); (4) repayment in monthly installments suited to the borrower's income; (5) inclusion of taxes, assessments, and fire insurance in the monthly payment; (6) elimination of second mortgages and the need for periodic and expensive refinancing; and (7) protection of the lender by a system of mutual mortgage insurance.

Loans In Texas Continue Pace

People borrowed more money from Texas savings, building and loan associations this past September than they did a year ago, and likewise made use of more credit from this source during the entire third quarter than they did during like period of 1937. These facts are pointed out by A. C. Bigger, Dallas, president of the Texas Building and Loan League which collects facts monthly from the local associations.

He said that 3,092 loans involving a total of $5,605,732.17 were granted by associations in the state between July 1 and September 30, a gain of 14 per cent in dollar volume over last year. Money advanced for the building of new houses accounted for $2,170,369.55 of the quarter's loan total, being just $65,000 less than the amount lent for this purpose during 1937's third quarter, which was a much more active building period than that just past. Bigger concluded from this that a larger portion of new construction has been financed by savings, building and loan associations than last year. They built 329 houses in July, 312 in August and 356 in September, according to the league's count.

Properties Are Transferred

Progress of three local cooperative associations was also noted in the decrease in amount of institutionally-owned real estate from the beginning to the end of the quarter. Some $1,500,000 worth of properties has been transferred to individual ownership during the quarter. Real estate now constitutes only 4.6 per cent of the resources of associations in the state, less than the normal amount for the nation in the most prosperous times.

Reserves of the associations as of September 30 stood at 8 per cent on the consolidated balance sheet, the league official said, a gain of 1.5 per cent over their position as of September 30, a year ago, showing that the associations have materially strengthened their financial position over the past twelve months.

Ample Mortgage Funds Available

Billions of dollars in private capital are available for buying, building, or improving homes from the thousands of financial institutions in every section of the country approved as lenders under the National Housing Act.

Moreover, the constantly increasing number of lending institutions receiving FHA approval as mortgagees is adding to the vast sum of private credit for home building, buying, and improvement.

No Lack Of Credit

There is no lack of credit for home buying, Federal Housing Administration officials point out. In fact, there are nearly 5,000 private lending institutions—banks, trust companies, savings and loan associations, and others, actively serving as approved mortgagees.

Federal Housing Administration records show that this capital is not concentrated in any particular geographical center of metropolitan area. About 42 per cent of the mortgages accepted for insurance by the FHA are in cities of less than 25,000 population, about one-third are in towns of 10,000 or less, and about one-sixth are in towns of 2,500 or less.

Situation Contrasted

This situation, FHA officials say, contrasts sharply with conditions in the comparatively recent past.

A further indication of the availability of private capital from such sources for home building, buying, and improvement purposes is the steady rise in the amount of mortgages selected for appraisal by the Federal Housing Administration. Past records have been broken, and it is anticipated more than a billion dollars in mortgage applications will have been received by FHA by the end of the year.

NEW ARCHITECTURE

A new architectural design is reported to have made its appearance in the small-home field. The style is known as "Adobe Modern" and had its origin in the Southwest.

Adobe construction is acceptable for homes offered as security for a mortgage insured by the Federal Housing administration.

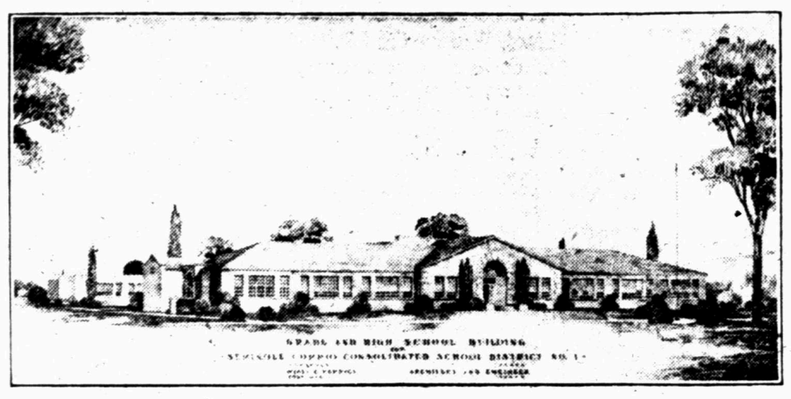

WEATHERSTRIPS

Metal weatherstrips placed on windows will be of assistance in keeping down fuel bills during the winter months. These strips also help make a room more livable.

The property improvement credit plan of the Federal Housing administration affords a home owner a means of obtaining funds for such improvements.

Kansas' 1,551 towns will spend approximately $5,000,000 for operating their governments next year.

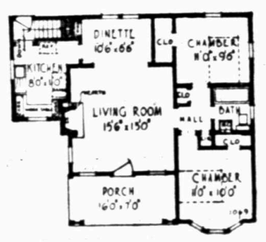

Architect's Drawing Of New $75,000 School Building In Seminole

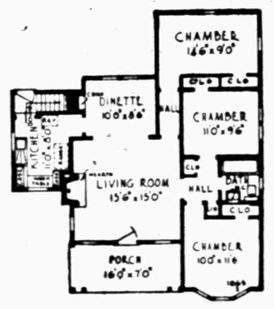

SEMINOLE, Oct. 22.—Shown above is an architect's drawing of how the Seminole common school district's new $75,000 school building will appear. Bids were opened this week on construction. It will be located just south of the present high school structure. W. C. Hedrick, who drew plans for Texas Technological college buildings, is the architect.

Attraction And Comfort Here

House No. 1069-G

The clean-cut, simple lines of this Colonial bungalow along with its inviting porch entrance, makes it a design that is very popular with many people. There is a choice of 2 plans and both are very compact and are designed to yield the utmost in room space for the least amount of money. Plans and specifications for this house can be obtained through your local lumber dealer thrcugh National Plan Service, Inc., 1315 W. Congress St., Chicago, Illinois.

Elimination Of Gingerbread Cuts Cost Of Construction

The nonessential exterior home ornaments of yesteryear present a forceful example to present-day home buyers and builders of what not to include in plans for their residence.

"Gingerbread" decorations which were considered quite proper on the up-to-the-minute home of several decades or more ago have no place in today's plan of home design, Federal Housing Administration officials say. In fact, such ornaments as lacy wooden scrollwork, turrets, spires, and minarets definitely date a residential structure.

Add But Little

These nonessential items added little to the artistic appearance of the home and, on resale, detracted from the whole.

Prospective home builders are urged by the Federal Housing Administration to use the services of a competent architect in drawing plans for their future home. This serves as a check on individual whims and the desire to include unnecessary decorative item which add nothing to the utility of a home and simply detract from its future value.

A further reason for conservatism in exterior home decoration is the fact that mortgages to be eligible for insurance by the Federal Housing Administration must be on comes of sound construction which are livable and in a stable neighborhood and which are not of divergent design from those in the immediate surroundings.

Winter Building Not Considered Unsafe If It Safeguarded

A number of building "bogies" have ben put to rout permanently by advances in construction methods and introduction of new materials developed in recent years. Among them is the idea that it is unwise to build in the late Autumn or Winter.

Actually the reasons that Autumn building has been unpopular in the past were that dwellings built for sale or rent came on the market at a time when all renters were under lease and when prospective purchasers had to be shown properties under adverse weather conditions.

Some Advantage Cited

There is some advantage in starting construction in the Fall or in early Winter. Contractors are usually looking for work that will enable them to keep their organizations intact during the dull period; the trades are anxious to keep busy. Material dealers are eager for orders to keep their staffs busy and to pay overhead on their establishments and organizations. These groups are usually willing to make some concessions in order to get business. Concessions are frequently more than enough to offset the extra precautions that must be taken while building during cold weather.

Freezing Weather

If concrete and masonry work can be completed before freezing weather sets in, so much the better, but even freezing weather does not mean concrete and masonry work must be suspended or that it cannot be done satisfactorily.

Reasonable care must be taken to keep sand and crushed stone warm before mixing and to protect finished work by adequate covering or, in extreme cases, by salamanders or charcoal stoves. Ordinarily, it is best not to push such work on days when the temperature is below freezing.

When the masonry work is completed the balance of construction can be carried on readily. Plastering must be watched and lumber protected from snow and rain, but otherwise construction may progress without inconvenience.

Suggestions For Painting Are Offered Home Builders By FHA

The Federal Housing administration, in a bulletin that deals with suggestions for the planning of small houses, makes the following recommendations for painting:

Exterior of house proper should be given three coats of oil paint or, when especially prepared, two-coat paint, following the manufacturer's instructions in either case. Painted masonry should receive two coats, preferably of a cement-base paint.

Interior woodwork should have at least three coats (either three coats of flat paint or two coats of flat and one enamel).

A high-gloss enamel is suggested for kitchen, bath, and other service parts of a house, as it is easier to keep clean and wears well.

Protect your

HOME INVESTMENT

WHEN YOU PLAN A HOME CHECK THESE PROTECTION POINTS

Safety — A safe home must be soundly constructed and soundly financed. For investment safety, a home must be built to withstand weather and usage, and planned to suit the owner's income.

Comfort — Long-term value depends on a home's comfort—the arrangement of rooms for family needs . . . easy access to parks, schools, and playgrounds . . . and adequate provision for all utilities.

Convenience — Many things determine a home's livability. Good architectural design, for example, regardless of the cost of the house . . . nearness to shopping centers, busses, and street cars . . . and the home's nearness to sections of the city where members of the family are employed.

Security — The type of neighbors in your community and the type of houses in which they live have a bearing on your home investment. Zoning laws, protection against undersirable buildings, and proper fire and police protection also determine security.

FHA Modernization Plan Offers Much To Property Owners, Banker Declares

Declaring that modernization offers the best form of maintenance of property values, John D. Mitchell, vice president of the Lubbock National bank, and a leader in the Federal Housing program in Lubbock since its inception, Saturday urged property owners of the city to make a periodic check to determine if their homes are in need of modernization.

Mitchell said the present housing improvement credit plan offered home owners a great opportunity that may not be available again. They may improve their out-dated residences and pay for the cost over an extended period of time. Such a plan may not be offered again for years to come, he added.

Will Enhance Its Value

"Such a practice will not only preserve the usefulness of the building, but, moreover, will enhance its value," Mitchell said. "Don't live in a run-down house! Don't suffer the discomfort of using worn-out household fixtures! Don't continue to pay the cost of keeping it in repair!"

He pointed out that neglect of small flaws in a house, failure to install modern conveniences, or allowing the exterior to become shabby, all contribute to property value depreciation.

"One of the best places to start is in the kitchen," Mitchell said. The average Lubbock woman spends four hours per day in her kitchen and has a right to object if her kitchen is a nineteenth century model.

Most Lubbock housewives have been under the impression that they would have to accumulate several hundred dollars in order to remodel their kitchen, but during the present "Ready for Winter" campaign, now being sponsored by local building material dealers and lending institutions, it is possible to modernize a kitchen by obtaining a Federal Housing administration Title 1 loan at a small rate of interest, and pay the loan out by monthly payments over an extended period of time.

Show Husband Your

Show your husband your kitchen —with the old fashion sink—so low it nearly breaks your back; the damp unhealthy wooden drain board; the dingy walls and floors; the space wasted cupboards. Then call some building material firm and have their salesman show him the latest kitchen equipment. Any of the firms cooperating in the "Ready for Winter" campaign will be only too glad to explain the latest improvements in kitchen equipment without any obligations.

It is not necessary to be a depositor at a bank in order to acquire a property improvement loan. Any borrower with a good credit reputation and an assured income, may go to any lender—bank, building and loan association, finance company, etc.,—qualified to have such loans insured by the Federal Housing administration and obtain sufficient credit for improvement, modernization, or repair.

The Federal Housing administration lends no money. It merely insures the lender against loss, but the borrower must own the property to be repaired or have a lease on it running at least six months longer than the life of the loan which may not exceed five years.

Anderson Sheet Metal Works Features Automatic Heating

There has been a remarkable and steady increase in the sale of automatic heating equipment during the past several years, according to Joe H. Anderson, owner and manager of the Anderson Sheet Metal Works here, which serves a wide area with headquarters in Lubbock.

The metal works was established here three years ago by Anderson who also owns a similar business in Quanah and the growth of the heating and air conditioning business has been so great that a separate department had to be established.

Features Electro-Gas Unit

The company features the Electro-Gas air-conditioning floor furnace with forced draft circulation and maintains a complete installation and service department for all types of heating, cooling and ventilation equipment.

T. H. Pipkin is manager of the air conditioning department and F. A. Pogue is manager of the sheet metal department. Eight men are on the staff.

Does Gin Work

Besides ordinary sheet metal jobs, the company serves most of the gins of West Texas. So thoroughly is this firm's knowledge of gin equipment, Anderson holds a patent on cotton house unloading system, a revolutionary piece of equipment that makes for a much improved method of getting cotton in the proper stalls without a chance of mixing the same. Gins throughout the South have adopted this new step, or else one like it in almost every respect.

"If it's made of sheet metal, we make it," is Anderson's slogan.

Get READY FOR WINTER

Three Purposes Are Served By Insulating

Efficient insulating material, properly applied, serves three main purposes. It offers resistance to outside temperatures, helps to hold furnace heat within the dwelling, and in the event of a fire prevents the flames from rushing upward through the hollow walls and destroying the building.

It is, of course, less costly and easier to apply insulation at the time the house is built, but it is possible to insulate existing houses at costs that are not prohibitive in many cases.

There are a number of types of insulation on the market that have been found suitable for use in dwellings. The choice of insulation should be made by an expert, either an architect or an engineer. Funds for insulating an existing house can be obtained from qualified institutions lending under the Federal Housing administration property improvement, credit plan.

MOISTURE METER

A moisture meter for the detection of green lumber is being used by home builders in many sections. Lumber which contains more than 19 per cent of moisture is not acceptable for building purposes, according to a ruling of the Federal Housing administration. By using the meter the exact moisture content may be determined.

SNYDER GINNINGS

SNYDER—Scurry county ginnings have passed the 15,000 mark, reports from 14 gins show. Four gins have passed the 1,000 bale mark and two the 1,500 bale mark.

"The Mad Dog Of Europe" Is Being Planned As Picture; It'll Deal With Hitler

By PAUL HARRISON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 22.—Short takes:

The four-power pact was made in Europe and peace seemed assured, and there was rejoicing in the high places of Talkietown. But Grover Jones, who doesn't have a radio in his office, overheard a buzz of conversation about some alarmist report and asked Producer Hunt Stromberg what was going on abroad.

"It's terrible," said the Metro executive gloomily, "and I guess it's true without any doubt."

"But what is it?" insisted the writer.

"Italy has banned 'Marie Antoinette'!"

A GROUP of three prominent Hollywoodsmen, not representing any studio but acting independently, are planning a picture on Hitler, to be called "The Mad Dog of Europe." It will contain a lot of smuggled film, part of it from German concentration camps.

FRANCHOT TONE may stay here for one more picture. In fact, the studio may force him to remain, because his contract doesn't expire until November 15. But he also is being offered a new contract . . . In spite of her promise to retire after her marriage, Kay Francis has told her agent that she'll be back, and ready for work, early next year . . . Bette Davis, who's beginning to get Scarlett fever herself as the result of sentiment favoring her for the part, is not likely to be loaned by Warners even if David Selznick asks for her . . . Johnny Weissmuller definitely will be Tarzan again—once a year for the next three years . . . It's A Fix—We're Robbed

HIS studio has decided that it wouldn't do for Robert Taylor to take a terrible lacing from Wallace Berry in "Stand Up and Fight" unless he eventually proves his fistic mastery. So a second battle will be staged toward the end of the picture and this time Berry will have to take a dive . . . Jimmy Cagney again will be socked by a woman in "The Oklahoma Kid." Ann Sheridan slaps him in the current "Angels With Dirty Faces" . . . Anthony Averill grew so worried about his roles as a killer that he demanded and got his release from his Warner contract.

Pulitzer Prize Play At Palace; Shirley Temple Is Showing At Lyric

Lindsey Offers Dionne Quints

HAILED as another triumph for Director Frank Capra, Columbia's screen version of the Pulitzer prize play, "You Can't Take It With You," opens at the Palace theater today with a cast which includes Jean Arthur, James Stewart, Lionel Barrymore, Edward Arnold, Mischa Auer and Ann Miller.

The new film deals with the lovable and delightful Vanderhof family which believes in doing whatever it wants whenever it wants to.

Monumental Plan Blocked

The production is concerned, in part, with the proud aristocratic Kirbys, as well as with the carefree Vanderhofs. Kirby's monumental plan to form a huge munitions merger, a move which requires the purchase of all property within an area of twelve city blocks, is halted when Grandpa refuses to sell the Vanderhof home at any price. The plan of Kirby's son to marry his secretary, is blocked when the boy brings his parents to dinner one night, only to discover the Vanderhof family engrossed in its various eccentric affairs.

The romance and merry-mad conflict of the two families, coupled with the enjoyable hobbies of the Vanderhofs and their many friends will make "You Can't Take It With You" one of the outstanding productions of the season.

Dionne Quints Return

The world famous Dionne quintuplets return to Lubbock today at the Lindsey theater in "Five Of A Kind."

The third Dionne picture will tell a comedy story. A hoax is perpetrated and word comes to the quintuplets' home town that sextuplets have been born. That is a matter of much concern and anguish to all inhabitants of the Canadian town who take great pride in and derive much profit from the famous children. To the turmoil erected by the hoax is added that of a hectic rivalry between two radio commentators. One is a lovely young woman and the other is a handsome scamp in love with his rival. Their efforts to outdo each other, which result in the hoax and its eventual expose, pave the way for the comic and exciting theme development and climax.

Claire Trevor and Cesar Romero are starred with the quints. Many of the players notably Slim Summerville and John Qualen, seen in two earlier pictures, and Inez Courtney, Jane Darwell and Pauline Moore, will appear in important roles.

Love Versus Money

Assurance of a maximum of romantic action has been established by the selection of Loretta Young and Joel McCrea as co-stars. A brilliant cast also includes David Niven, Stuart Erwin, Marjorie Weaver, Pauline Moore, Binnie Barnes and Jane Darwell.

Three midwestern girls decide to gamble their inheritance on the theory that it is just as easy to marry for money as for love. But they find that this theory is not so convincing when applied to themselves.

"You Can't Take It With You" is one of the best of the season's new pictures and it opens today at the Palace. The cast includes James Stewart, Jean Arthur, Edward Arnold, Ann Miller, Lionel Barrymore and a host of others.

Lovable little Shirley Temple comes to the Lyric today in "Rebecca Of Sunnybrook Farm."

Broadway Has Ritz Brothers

Shirley is ably supported by Randolph Scott, Gloria Stuart, Jack Haley, Slim Summerville,, Bill Robinson and Phyllis Brooks.

Kate Douglas Wiggins' story suggested the merry screen play which deals with a little girl who is taken in by an eccentric old aunt on the farm. The child becomes a radio star and then disappears. And when the young promoter starts out to find her, he finally winds up at the farm but is chased out by the aunt. How he manages to win her over fashions an entertaining evening.

Coupled with the three masters of comedy are Tony Martin and Marjorie Weaver.

Martin is seen as a radio promoter who is looking for genuine hillbilly characters. The brothers and Marjorie Weaver are stranded in New York and when they hear that Tony is going to the Kentucky hills in search of talent they beat him there and disguise as natives.

But they find themselves in a mess of trouble when they land right in the big middle of a mountain feud. However, they land the radio job and take New York by storm.

Net Profit Of $51.21 Made By 4-H Club Boy On Gilt Project

Henry Kveton, 4-H club boy living in the north part of the county has made a net profit of $51.21 on a gilt which he had at the beginning of the year. He still has the animal, a bred sow, for future use, John W. Palmore, jr., assistant county agent, reports.

Starting January 1 with the gilt, listed as valued at $25, young Kveton raised a litter of pigs, which he sold for $66.36. Feed costs were $18.15. Pigs were sold prior to Oct. 7. Net profit was $48.21.

Kveton values the animal at $28, a net gain of $3, which he added to the net profit over feed costs, giving him $51.21 for his labor and time. He plans to raise another litter.

MODEL WENT 10 MILES

NEW LAMESA STORE

ALL IS FAIR

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—Attempting to strike one's wife during a pinochle game does not constitute grounds for divorce in the opinion of Judge Arthur E. Fisher.

Judge Fisher refused to grant a woman a divorce on her charge that her husband tried to hit her during a pinochle argument.

PLANTS GET AROUND

BOONE, Ia. (AP) — Boone residents are wondering where next they should look for plants. They found an ivy vine growing through the brick wall of a school room and crawling across the ceiling. Then they found a weed patch in a cornice crack on top of the city hall.

SOME HUSKER!

SPIRIT LAKE, Iowa (AP)—J. W. Steele, 77, claims a corn-husking record of 69 consecutive years, with 8,000 bushels in 100 consecutive days as his best record.

Cactus Inn Will Be Reopened Thursday; Dance Space Larger

Formal opening of the enlarged Cactus Inn, one mile north of Texas Technological college on College avenue, will be in a pre-Halloween dance Thursday night.

There will be no change in management, but the dance space will be tripled to 1,500 square feet.

There will be a floor show, an all-negro revue, singers and impersonations. Favors and souvenirs for all are promised.

KFYO will broadcast that night direct from the inn, beginning at 9:45 o'clock. The Cactus will present regularly the Cactus Inn swing dance orchestra featuring Cowboy Kyle, pianist.

"Test Pilot" Is Feature Film At Tech; "Stella Dallas" Is Being Offered At Cactus

Popular Stars Are To Appear

THE most modern of heroes, airplane test pilots, are glorified in MGM's first aviation picture in more than two years, "Test Pilot," which stars Clark Gable, Myrna Loy and Spencer Tracy, with Lionel Barrymore heading a major supporting cast. It opens today at the Tech theater for a two-day run.

The picture, based on an original story by Frank Wead, and giving an intimate insight into the lives of men who dare death to pave the heavens for future generations, has been acclaimed by aviation experts, military and civil, to be the truest aviation picture ever produced.

Gable Has Title Role

Clark Gable plays the title role as a daring aviator, willing to risk life and limb for a job he loves, living every minute of his life up to the hilt, existing on "borrowed time."

Myrna Loy plays an unsophisticated farm girl who marries the famous flier and finds herself combatting the unseen lure of the sky in a battle to win the love of her husband.

Tracy Cares For Gable

Spencer Tracy, as the best mechanic in the business, takes care of Gable's plane and takes care of Gable, a double duty that is almost too much for one man.

Lionel Barrymore is given the lovable role of a plane manufacturer who hires Gable and finally persuades him to give up his perilous life.

GIVES CHICKENS A LIFT

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—When Mrs. A. L. Stickley arrived home from a drive the other day she found a chicken wedged between the bumper and radiator of her car. She released the bird and it walked away cackling sourly.

Joan Fontaine and Nino Martini are the stars of "Music For Madame," coming to the Tech Thursday.

'Theater Around The World' To Be Lecture Subject Of California Woman On Saturday

An author and extensive traveler Mrs. Irene Childrey Hoch of Modesto, Calif., will speak at 7:45 o'clock Saturday night on the mezzanine floor of Hilton hotel under auspices of Texas Technological college Sock and Buskin club and Tau cast of Alpha Psi Omega. Both are dramatic organizations.

"Theater Around the World" will be her subject. Mrs. Hoch, head of the dramatics department at Modesto Junior college, is making a lecture tour of the United States, said Miss Ruth Pirtle, head professor of speech at Tech.

Author Of Several Books

After the tour, she will go to Washington to spend a year in research in the Library of Congress in preparation for writing a book. She is author of several books. She is writing one on "College Footlights Across America", in which she will include information about Tech.

Costumes and masks collected by Mrs. Hoch in various parts of the world will be shown by her secretary.

Mrs. Hoch is editor of the Journal of Speech Therapy and of Theater and School.

Each member of Sock and Buskin club and the Alpha Psi Omega chapter may take a guest and holders of student activity tickets are invited. Others wishing to attend may inquire at the speech office at the college.

WAREHOUSE IS OPEN

LITTLEFIELD — The Southland Warehouse company's house here is now open says C. Dillard, new manager. He came here from Farwell where the company has another warehouse.

GINS VERY BUSY

TAHOKA—Cotton gins here are now running 24 hours a day to handle the crop. Farmers have been bringing it into the gins at a rapid rate. The crop is turning out better than at first expected.

New Mexico Is Fourteenth State To Join National Cotton Unit

GREENVILLE, Miss., Oct. 22 (AP)—Oscar Johnston, chairman of the organization committee of the National Cotton council, said here that New Mexico became today the 14th state branch of the council.

The organization was completed at a meeting of cotton men in Las Cruces. Texans will organize at Dallas Oct. 27 and Oklahomans Oct. 28, Johnston said.

The organization's purpose is to increase the consumption of cotton.

GARZA GINNINGS

POST—Nine gins in Garza county have turned out 5,261 bales of the 1938 crop. It is believed by ginners the crop is half out. On the same date last year 7,256 bales had been ginned. Last year's final report was 32,107 bales.

NEW MONROE WAREHOUSE

MONROE—W. O. Fortenberry, local ginner, has started a fourth cotton warehouse here. It will be 100x100 feet and will have a capacity of about 2,000 bales. Fortenberry owns three other warehouses.

GETS WHEAT ACREAGE

COLORADO — Mitchell county's wheat allotment for the 1939 crop is 1,060 acres, it was announced here. Farmers who have grown wheat commercially for the past five years are expected to receive about 75 per cent of their 5-year average.

The British motor bus industry is worth more than $1,000,000,000, according to estimates, and employs more than 100,000 persons.

Miss Stanwyck In Finest Role

ANOTHER poignant love story, one which has a tragic ending, is today's feature at the Cactus theater, "Stella Dallas."

Barbara Stanwyck's Finest

Stella is a young girl in a small town who has lived on the "wrong side of the tracks," the daughter of poor parents. She longs for a chance to leave the little town and make her way in the big city. Finally she does.

John Boles is cast as the son of the town's richest inhabitant. He is in love with Stella and she with him. He goes to New York and they are married and return to live in the home of his parents.

Life Is Miserable

But her life is miserable in the place where she has always been looked down on and even as the wife of Boles she cannot make her place an easy one. Unhappiness follows her every footstep and she finally returns to New York.

The picture was released through United Artists.

'Mr. And Mrs. Swing' Will Be On 'Show Of Week' Today

"Mr. and Mrs. Swing"—rhythmic Red Norvo and rotund Mildred Bailey—highspot the Admiration "Show of the Week" this afternoon from 5:30 to 6 o'clock over KFYO and the coast-to-coast network of the Mutual Broadcasting System.

To a vast assortment of jitterbugs, rug-cutters, jives, flat foot floogies, and just plain swing fans, this is the biggest news since the Armistice.

"First Lady Of Rhythm"

No one can sing swing like Mildred Bailey. Since she first warbled "Rockin' Chair" with Paul Whiteman, swing critics have hailed her as the "First Lady of Modern Rhythm."

Her red-headed husband is equally popular. He turned a xylophone into a popular instrument. Before he gave it a magical, melodic touch, the xylophone was the black sheep of the band business.

Master of ceremonies is Ray Perkins.

Leo Reisman's orchestra follows Norvo-Bailey on the program, October 30.

TRIAL TO BE ENACTED

The exciting spectacle of a man on trial for attempted murder . . . faced in the courtroom by the very person whom it is charged he tried to kill . . . furnishes the thrilling basis for this sensational reenactment of one of the world's famous jury trials, to be heard over KFYO through the Mutual Network on Wednesday, October 26, from 9 to 9:30 o'clock.

PRIZES PAID CONTRIBUTORS

Texas mothers have registered keen enjoyment over the series of "Our Children" broadcasts, featuring poems and sayings about children, heard from 9:15 to 9:30 a. m. Tuesdays and Fridays over Station KFYO and the Texas State Network.

Numerous contributions are received daily, for which prizes are paid those contributing the best.

WOODS TO BE HEARD

L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction, will speak on "Why Change the Curriculum?" at the third in the series of Texas State Network-P. T. A. broadcasts to be heard over Station KFYO from 2:00 to 2:15 p. m. Tuesday, October 25.

Instituted by Gail Northe, TNS Director of Women's Activities, the programs are heard each Tuesday from the studios of WRR, Dallas, Mrs. J. C. Vanderwoude, state radio chairman for P. T. A., directs the broadcasts.

IDALOU PLANS WAREHOUSE

IDALOU—The Idalou Cooperative gin is erecting a cotton warehouse here with a capacity of 2,500 bales. Cotton is estimated to be about half harvested in this section. Gins have been running night and day for the past two weeks.

O'DONNELL GINNINGS

O'DONNELL — O'Donnell's ginnings are estimated to be near the expected half way crop mark. Last report showed over 6,000 bales ginned. Total for the season is placed at 14,000. Last year over 42,500 bales were ginned.

RALLS WAREHOUSE

RALLS—Dean and Roberts have completed a 2,000-bale capacity cotton warehouse. A second one is planned.

Sports Writers To Be Heard On Broadcasts

"Pop" Boone (pictured above) sports editor of the Fort Worth Press and dean of southwestern sports scribes, will lead the parade of outstanding Texas sports writers to be heard in the series of "All Texas Football Round-Up" programs over KFYO and the Texas State Network, Monday through Thursday, October 24-27, inclusive, from 5:45 to 6:00 p. m.

Football fans of Texas for years have read the columns of the popular sports scribes. They are presented to the TSN audience through the efforts of Zack Hurt, sports supervisor of the Texas State Network.

DOES 30 A DAY

PALESTINE, Tex., (AP) — Jim Britton, 54, is gaining a reputation as the "wheel chair tourist."

Recently he made a trip from Palestine to Houston and return, a distance of 600 miles. He averaged 30 miles a day and his best day's "run" was 40 miles.

Britton paid the trip's cost by selling small articles along the way.

NEW KENT WILDCAT

SPUR — Roy Dawson of Big Spring has spudded in a wildcat oil test on a 10,000-acre block assembled by C. L. Love in Kent county. Location of the test is on section 118. Contract depth is reported as 5,000 feet. It is on the D. D. Hagins place.

Association To Give $15 Prize Money For Fat Stock Show

The American Aberdeen-Angus association will contribute $15 in prize money for the annual Lubbock Fat Stock show next spring, W. H. Tomhaw, Chicago, secretary, has advised John W. Palmore, jr., assistant county agent.

Palmore wrote Tomhaw asking about what the association would do in the way of offering prizes for calves of that breed exhibited at the show. Tomhaw said that the association only contributed to state and district shows, aside from national events. He considered the Lubbock show a district one, and explained that appropriations had been made for all. However, he said they would contribute $15.

A number of that breed of animals are found in this section. Several have been exhibited in previous years.

FIRST SALE ANNOUNCED

SPUR, Oct. 22.—First livestock auction sale for Spur has been announced as Nov. 7 in the new barn which E. S. McArthur and sons are erecting here. The barn, 40x40 feet, is of the oval type and is so built as to permit additions to be made when needed.

DICKENS GINNINGS

SPUR—Dickens county ginnings this week were past the 5,000-bale mark, it was believed. Favorable weather has been had. The county has 62,000 acres in cotton and the yield is estimated at from 18,000 to 20,000 bales.

Freedom Of The Press Gets An Assist; New Dealers' Wives Have Many Jobs, Too

Mentioned Months Ago

Kicked Dog Did The Howling, It Seems

FREEDOM of the press may be credited with an assist, at the least, in the New Mexico Works Progress administration scandal which resulted in a federal grand jury in Albuquerque returning indictments against, 73 persons, some the occupants of high political places.

Several months ago, some of the New Mexico newspapers revealed without mention of names that such a scandal was brewing. The disclosures brought roars of indignation from several high places. They demanded that the press be forced to disclose the source of confidential information. Some hinted it was about time for New Mexico to adopt laws designed to curb freedom of the press.

Subsequent events seem to have demonstrated that the kicked dogs may have done the howling when newspapers let the people of New Mexico know how the wind was blowing. If, of course, would have been to the advantage of those vulnerable to grand jury action to have known the trend of events because they could have prepared themselves better for eventualities. They might even have "persuaded" vital witnesses to seek places of residence elsewhere.

How the news stories may have assisted the investigators we, of course, do not know. It often happens, however, that a public revelation of the kind brings from cover witnesses who otherwise would remain silent. That may have happened in New Mexico. The probability of it having happened, however, would have faded to the vanishing point had the possessors of incriminating evidence been told that their identities were to be made known; that they, many of them humble people, would be exposed to all the malicious pressure which might be brought to bear upon them from influential places.

This, of course, does not suggest that the press of New Mexico may have contributed any major part to the scandal which finally exploded with the returning of indictments. But this does say that malefactors fear and hate a free press, as evidenced by reactions to first printed notices of what was about to happen in New Mexico.

A Service For Builders

ATTENTION of readers of The Sunday Avalanche-Journal is called to a home-builders page which will appear in each Sunday issue through the next year.

Such a page should be all the more timely at this particular period in Lubbock's growth because of the immense volume of home building. Few of us realize the full significance of the fact that building permits for more than 600 new residences have been issued here since Jan. 1. The fact, however, that newspapers in a growing West Texas city of approximately 50,000 population announced in banner headlines a few days ago that 40 new homes had been built there this year suggests that Lubbock must be going ahead at a phenomenal pace.

The page is intended to render a service to every home builder, to every person who contemplates or hopes to build a home, to every line of business and service concerned with any phase of home building. Included on every page will be architectural drawings of suggested homes.

In the effort to provide the type of information desired, suggestions always will be welcomed as to how the page may best serve its intended purpose.

With Our Contemporaries

"What a lot an ordinary cotton crop can do for the little business man in the community—and for some of the big men as well," Homer Steeen points out in the Floyd County Hesperian, Floydada. "The wheels begin to turn when the cotton picker begins to draw his wages."

* * *

"Good news to the states: President will not make any speeches in any state but New York," W. J. Hale declares in the Yoakum County News, Plains. "But Pennsylvania has been promised the Democrats by 200,000 majority."

The One-Minute Sermon

Therefore I say unto you, What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them.

And when ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have ought against any: that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.

But if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven forgive your trespasses.—St. Mark 11; 24 through 26.

The N.L.R.B. May Get A Little Breathing Spell Now

Lookouts Guard Against Air Raids

By WILLIAM S. HOWLAND
NEA Service Correspondent

FT. BRAGG, N. C., Oct. 22.—A vast network of civilian observers is being planned to give instant warning of first sight or sound of invading airplanes.

That such a network will be effective is the most important lesson of air defense maneuvers just ended in eastern North Carolina.

Observers scattered over 39 counties from Roanoke Island to below Wilmington, 200 miles south, caught the sound or sight of every one of 33 bombing and attack planes, and reported them so quickly to "defense" headquarters that 31 of the 33 were "intercepted" by pursuit planes, and all were subjected to heavy mock anti-aircraft gunfire.

The army, revealed Brig.-Gen. Fulton H. Q. Gardner, who was in charge of defense, plans to spread such civilian observation "nets" over every vital area in time of war.

* * *

U. S. DEFENSE DIFFERS

THE American air defense problem is different from that of most European countries. A Belgian or a Frenchman, for instance, knows almost exactly where an invading air force will come from and where it must pass to reach vital centers. But the United States, with thousands of miles of coastline and borders, never can foretell the exact course of invasion. Therefore it is all the more necessary to pick up such an invading force immediately at the coast or border, since at 200-mile-an-hour speeds, every second counts in intercepting the invader.

The first organized attempt to meet this problem was the North Carolina maneuvers. The problem was to defend Ft. Bragg against an "attack" to be launched from some unknown point at sea.

For two months, the army organized a "civilian observation force," volunteers who would get up at 4 a. m., listen for planes and flash the warning.

Much of the land is marshy and sparsely populated, and 15 separate telephone companies serve the district. These were welded temporarily into a single system.

On a moonlit morning at 4 a. m. came the "zero hour." Four flights of planes were somewhere out at sea, coming in to "attack" Ft. Bragg.

* * *

FLASH! PLANES ATTACKING

AT defense headquarters, officers sat before master maps. Nearby was a giant map of the eastern North Carolina area, with light bulbs marking observation posts and positions of defense planes and anti-aircraft artillery.

'At five minutes after 4 a red light flashed. It indicated post "Lisbon 44," an isolated spit of sand on Cape Lookout. "Three planes heard—flying high—direction west."

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

JOHN D. BIGGERS' report on infiltration of women into industry has drawn howls of wrath from the New Dealers. From Mrs. Roosevelt down they have defended the right of women to work.

The answer is that at least 60 per cent of New Deal officials' wives are holding down well-paying jobs in the government. Although their husbands may be making enough money to support them, their flair for public service has led them to enter public life and collect the coin. Mrs. Roosevelt herself, by her example and her lectures, has awakened women's interest in civic, political and industrial problems, and induced the other sex to try their pay envelope wings. F.D.R.'s appointment of "Miss" Frances Perkins as the first woman cabinet member naturally inspired the ladies to go and do likewise.

Maybe Mr. Biggers didn't know it, but this administration plays no favorites as between the sexes. F. D. R. has given some of the best jobs to the ladies, and a lot of them are performing efficiently. But it's a delicate subject, and they wish that the enumerator hadn't brought it up.

CATALYZER: American diplomats with secret British pipelines believe that the Empire would not have sold Czechoslovakia down the Danube if an American gal had not persuaded Edward to abdicate and bequeath the crown to the younger and weaker George.

Edward, according to this stimulating theory, was a more stubborn and heroic personality than his successor. Though allegedly pro-German and a member of the Cliveden set, he was closer to the men who had fought the World war—Lloyd George, Churchill, etc.—than his younger brother is. As a glamour personality, he would have been able to rally the Britishers and the dominions to him. From a positive standpoint, the abdication revealed to Herr Hitler that dissension was rife in London. Even more concretely, the uncrowning crisis helped to slow down the disarmament program.

It's water over a Danubian dam now, but there are diplomatic observers here—American, British, French, Italian—who think the path of world history was changed, not by the words of the Munich agreement, but by the troth between a Baltimore belle and a British monarch.

• • •

RETIREMENT: President Roosevelt's P.W.A. and rearmament program has furnished a fine and lucrative haven for superannuated officers of the army and navy. Whether from age or disability, they can quit these days and walk into a better paying job than they had with Uncle Sam. Resignations threaten to become an epidemic.

Though he still has a year to go before he reaches the retiring age of 64, Rear Admiral Archibald L. Parsons, Civil Engineer corps, is quitting to become associated with Frederic R. Harris, Inc., a New York engineering firm with important South American work to its credit. F.D.R. could hold him to his navy contract for another year, but the administration welcomes private employment of army-navy officers. It feels that it will be "mutually helpful", whatever that means under the circumstances.

The "brass hats" deny that the "boys" are walking out on them. Anyway, they say, they don't care. Key jobs under the President's new national defense program are falling to youngsters, and they're willing to be rid of the oldsters. In fact, it would surprise no insiders if the retirement age for both services was reduced to 60 years as the next Congress prepares to forge a more effective fighting machine on land and sea.

PARADISE: Despite their tendency to pish-pish rumors about foreign spies in the United States, secret agents of the army and navy admit that the problem has become more acute than it was twenty years ago—in 1918. But the reasons are sociologi al rather than naval or military.

In 1918 the United States had a comparatively small army and navy, and the enlisted men rarely got leave from camp or ship. Nor were they paid so well. Moreover, there were not then the night clubs, the motion pictures, the dance halls, the saloons that there are now in every port and on the fringe of every garrison. There were not, in short, the opportunities for officers and enlisted men to meet people, especially attractive women, who were in the pay of a foreign government seeking secrets. Economic conditions were good, there was almost no social, economic and political unrest, and the market for prospecting spies eager to earn a few dollars was bearish.

Today, however, the army's size, its living conditions and the jazz spirit combine to furnish temptations and opportunities unknown in pre-war days. The U. S. A. has also demonstrated that it is, potentially, the world's No. 1 naval and military power. Therefore its plans and secrets are worth selling and buying. So the U. S. has become a paradise for ladies and gentlemen who live by their warlike wits.

OBJECTIVES: The politicos' attempt to use the White House as a vote-getting institution has given F.D.R. a secret thrill, even though both friends and foes are involved. It's an old American custom, but this year it is being overworked. Roughly, the idea is to win headlines by writing a letter or making a demand on the President that he cannot avoid discussing or answering.

Senator Wagner, for instance, publicly proclaimed his intention of asking White House intervention on behalf of Jews in Palestine—there are a lot of Jewish voters in New York. But it was several days after his announcement that the White House officially heard from him. Likewise Senator Henry Cabot Lodge demanded in the public prints a special session to provide for New England flood sufferers. But Boston reporters saw his plea before the President did. F. D. R. replied, also tipping off the reporters he would be glad to have his letter made public by Mr. Lodge, but so far the latter has kept it in his secret chest.

Not even King George of England and Prime Minister Chamberlain are immune from the disease. After the Munich fiasco, they passed out word that the British royal family would visit the United States next year. But so far all F.D.R. knows about it is what he has read in the newspapers. As a State department cynic said, "What's King George running for?"

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THIS column has previously reported that Daniel J. Tobin, president of the Teamsters' union, is very much in earnest about promoting a reconciliation between the A. F. of L. and the C.I.O. It is curious, but not inconsistent, that one of the toughest scrappers in labor's ranks should be acting as angel of peace.

Tobin, who is now 64, immigrated to the United States from Ireland as a husky, hard-fisted lad of 15. He helped to organize the first Boston local of the Teamsters union and rose to become national head of the union way back in 1907. He has been its undisputed boss ever since and has built it into a powerful force in labor affairs.

An old line craft unionist in the Gompers tradition, Tobin doesn't like the idea of labor becoming too involved in politics and has always mistrusted government intervention in labor affairs, even when the intent was helpful. He was the A. F. of L.'s choice for Secretary of Labor in 1933, but was sidetracked by Mrs. Roosevelt's enthusiasm for "Miss" Frances Perkins. He has fought John Lewis on numerous occasions and certainly cannot be called pro-Lewis now. But he is eager to end the quarrel which he feels is hurting all of organized labor and has therefore become a militant pacifist.

One Woman's Life Marches Across Pages

James Gray's "Wings Of Great Desire" Interesting Novel

"WINGS OF GREAT DESIRE," by James Gray; (Macmillan, New York).

JAMES GRAY has accomplished a very difficult task indeed in "Wings of Great Desire."

Briefly, this is to bring to life in 500-odd pages a woman who would probably not seem particularly alive if we were to meet her in the flesh. She is a woman to whom the actual world was always a little unreal, for whom the real world was the abstract world of her mind. Gray has even made his reader sympathize with her, and that ranks with the miraculous.

The book is in theory the life story of Faith Winchester, who would, her father Joel hoped, be a boy. When she was born he had to force himself to recognize her, but when he found how frail she was his feeling changed. Faith developed into a little Joel Winchester, and until her father died he was her ally against her weak intellectually dishonest mother, her vain sister Margaret, and her rattle-brained and occasionally malicious sister Kathie.

When Joel died the family moved West to live with Margaret, who had married a fool. Faith left behind her a boy she loved — this seems to us the weak spot of the book, for it is difficult to imagine a sincerely attracted and intelligent boy and a girl in the same situation who would permit such a thing to happen. Intelligence was the long suit of both.

In the West, Faith married, and it was on her likable though not perfect husband, and upon her children, that she exercised her determination to produce the good life through mental exercise. Constantly (though with the best intentions!) she demanded more than her family could give. She was what passes for a wife and mother, and at the same time she was a kind of living essay whose pages were the days as they turned, whose life blood was printer's ink. One never doubts Faith's inner goodness, but however sympathetic one may be, the feeling that it is right she should be shut up in a book persists.

The novel is Faith's story. It is a lot more, too. It is the story of an American family through a half century or more, and of America itself.

Extensive Cattle Feeding Program Indicated Over South Plains This Winter

Farmers Are To Feed Out Stock

By J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Commercial cattle feeders over the South Plains already are beginning to fill their pens with cattle and farmers are talking feeding, as harvesting of the 1938 feed crop is drawing to a close.

There are already probably 10,000 head of cattle in pens. More will begin to be fed around the first of the month.

In Lubbock there are about 1400 to 1,500 head on feed. In the H. W. Hanton pens north of town there are over 800 head, with about 600 more in the Lubbock Cotton Oil Mill No. pens. Alex McDonald also is feeding for his packing plant.

Slaton Has 3,000 Head

Slaton has about 3,000 head. Babicora Development Co., of El Paso and Chihuahua were to ship 1,500 head this week, with Birmingham and Birmingham having that many more.

Fred Snyder of Lubbock has between 800 and 900 in his pens at Whiteface. Within 30 days he probably will have 5,000 head on feed. Snyder will also have some cattle on feed at Levelland, where he also will feed sheep with W. H. Glimp of Menard in charge.

Ray Brownfield of Brownfield has leased the Snyder pens at Seagraves where he plans to feed out about 2,500 head. He has not put cattle into the pens but will do so in a short time, it is said.

Ensilage Being Used

Both Snyder and Brownfield are using ensilage. Snyder had 28 or 30 trench silos at his three places, with a total capacity of over 20,000 tons more tons. At Seagraves Brownfield has from 6,000 to 7,000 tons of ensilage. Snyder expects to have about 15,000 tons of ensilage this year.

Peyton Packing Co., has made heavy purchases of grain and bundles for feeding. Extent of their operations has not been announced. They have not fed since Dec. 31 last but have an improved outfit, spending considerable money on their operations this spring and summer.

In the Abernathy territory farmers have between 600 and 1,000 head of cattle, besides heavy shipments of sheep.

Farmers Are Feeding

In the Plainview area and also around Hale Center, are cattle as well as sheep.

Paul Bros., of Amarillo and Panhandle, owners of ranch properties around Circleback, west of Sudan, put over on Bailey county, have at least 6,000 sheep on feed. They have reported planning to feed 10,000 more sheep.

Some sheep also are being fed around Ralls, Crosbyton, Lorenzo, Idalou, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Levelland and other points.

Calf Contracts Signed

No reports are available from other sections of the plains at this time on feeding operations. Lateness of the crop of sorghums, price of cattle and other items have caused farmers to delay making definite plans.

Contracts for the sale of practically all of the 1938 calf crop of the plains have been signed. Some were signed in mid-summer but the greater portion were sold within the last 30 to 45 days.

Prices varied. Stocker calves ranged from 7 to 8 cents a pound for good calves to 7.75 to 8.5 cents; heifers ranged from 6.5 to 7 cents, and some 7.5 cents. Yearlings ranged from 6.75 to 7.5 with an average of around 7 cents. Heifers were about a cent a pound under steers.

Prices Slightly Lower

Sheep are reported selling for 5 to 5.5 cents a pound, or about 2 or 3 cents under last year.

A report from a reliable source here indicates that the Babicora Development Co., the W. R. Hearst concern, is shipping a train load of cattle a week from Chihuahua, Mexico, to the states. The cattle come through El Paso gateway.

An estimated 25,000 to 30,000 head will come into the United States. Early shipments are reported sold around Van Horn, to feeders there. Some New Mexico buyers also have been interested in purchases.

F. F. A. PROJECT

LITTLEFIELD — Future Farmers of America here have bought a spotted Poland China sow for a litter project. She is being kept at the home of Luther Cunningham. Boys are furnishing the feed, each one bringing about 200 pounds of bundles, heads or corn. Profits are to be used for a summer camping trip.

WILL SHIP CATTLE

BLEDSOE—Fourteen cars of cattle have been shipped from the J. A. Whittenberg estate ranch here to Walt, Okla., in the Oklahoma Panhandle. J. J. Lane of Roswell is to ship 17 cars soon.

BABICORA TO FEED

SLATON—Babicora Development Co., a W. R. Hearst organization, is shipping about 1,500 head of cattle here for feeding in local feeding pens. They will be kept for more than 100 days in the Plains Grains Heads Handling Co., pens here.

BROOM CORN TO MOVE

LITTLEFIELD—Lamb county's broom corn crop is being harvested. Yield is fair. It is expected at least eight cars of corn will be shipped this season.

The U. S. Government Printing Office occupies 35 acres of floor space and employs 6000 persons.

Iowa Farm's Labor-Saving Machinery Is Six Pretty Sisters; Do All The Chores

By FRANK L. HUGHES
Associated Press Staff Writer

MAXWELL, Ia., Oct. 22. — Of course it has pigs, and chickens, and cows, and 213 acres of good Iowa dirt, but the Prichard farm here is mostly famous for its "seven pretty, farming sisters."

Six daughters—the seventh has married and left home—provide the

There's Billy, too—the son—but he's only 10.

"They're good girls," Dad Prichard says. "They're not alike, but they're all mighty fine girls."

Do All Housework

Their grandfather came from his native Wales to settle in a log cabin on this very farm 62 years ago. Their mother died in 1935 of appendicitis.

They like it, too. Joan, 24, for instance, took business college work after she got out of high school and took a job in Des Moines. But she soon returned to the life she loves best—the farm.

Besides Joan and Billy, are Katherine, 16; Ila Mae, 14; Virginia, 22; Lois, 8, and Rosetta, 19. The married daughter is Bernice, 26.

Not All Work

It's not all work on the Prichard farm. All the girls dance and they have a car at their disposal. Those of high school age all play on the girls' basketball team. They belong to a Methodist church, and Rosetta, too, is attending business college but living at the farm.

Dad Prichard points proudly to the 352 chickens his girls raised from 356 baby chicks last spring. He has a lot of machinery, but he won't let the girls use it in the field for fear they might get hurt. They use horses to plow the corn.

The big Prichard farm is free of debt, now, although Dad Prichard claims he "lost $30,000" in the depression.

HARVESTING PEANUTS

Feeder Cattle In Greater Demand

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Oct. 22 — Large shipments of feeder cattle to northern and southeastern states today were outstanding among the fall movement of Texas ranch products to markets.

"Southeastern states are going heavily into the cattle business," said W. L. Pier, vice-president of the Fort Worth National bank. "Farmers there are coming to Texas and paying good prices for livestock, being forced to this course by the AAA program which has cut cotton and tobacco acreage by some 60 per cent."

Much more feeding will be done in Texas this winter because of the great supply of feed produced, low prices for which make it necessary to consume at home, he said.

"Feeder calves and yearlings are in active demand at an advance of about $1 a hundred pounds over a year ago, bringing $7 to $8 now. Feeder lambs, however are about $2 lower, selling at $5.50 to $6.

"Prospects are pretty fair and most livestock producers are cheerful over the outlook," he said. "With the coming of winter better prices should prevail on all classes of meat animals."

SLATON GINNINGS

SLATON—More than 1,000 bales of cotton were ginned here the past week. The five gins have turned out 3,188 bales at last report.

GOOD COTTON YIELD

Cold Weather Delays Picking Over Area

Cold weather the middle of the past week delayed somewhat harvesting of cotton on the South Plains, although it was not too cold to pick.

Opening of at least half of the crop is reported. Cold weather followed by warm days will pop open the cotton rapidly.

Cotton west of Lubbock has begun to open more rapidly. In that area it has been later than east of Lubbock, due to replanting in mid-summer.

The greater portion of the crop is going into the government loan. Prices reported indicate a large proportion is receiving 8 cents a pound and over. Grades are running to middling and strict middling, cotton buyers say. Staple length is not as much as desired.

Gins are beginning to operate on and 18 to 24-hour basis. Not as many will operate the full 24 hours a day this year as last, as the crop is not as heavy.

At the rate cotton is being harvested, it is believed mid-November will see nearly all out of the field.

SEX FILMS NOT WANTED

Natives of Africa don't care for sex films, according to Dr. Ray E. Phillips of Capetown. He declared that the films they see do not convey an elevating or ennobling picture of western civilization. "Care should be taken to present programs which reflect as far as possible the life of Europeans of an exemplary type," he maintained.

TARZAN THE FEARLESS No. 61 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

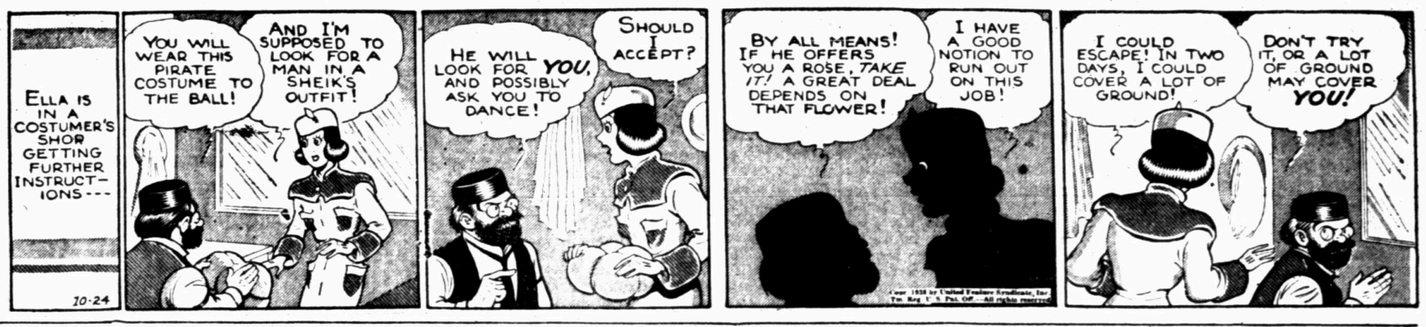

Tarzan's efforts to revive Jeff soon bore fruit. Slowly the injured man opened his eyes—startled, wondering eyes. When he found out what had happened, he smiled fnwardly. It was a grim joke that he should have been saved by the man he had sought to destroy.

From a certain tree Tarzan gathered a healing resin and rubbed it on the wounds which the teeth and talons of the lion had opened in the man's flesh. Then he lifted Jeff easily to a shoulder. "We shall go to a cave where he can recover in safety," Tarzan said.

The ape-man traveled slowly. Behind him Mary plodded wearily and though the mighty Tarzan was with her, she could not dispel the terror inspired by the night sounds of the jungle—the scream of leopards, the roar of lions, the mocking laughter of hyenas.

Jeff Biggers, though very weak, was fully conscious. Had he been a normal man he would have been grateful to Tarzan for saving his life. Instead, his mind was busy with only one thought—how he might capture and deliver the ape-man to the savage blacks!

Scores Of Texas Business Men Face Arrest In Social Security Cases

Failure To File Reports Reason

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 22 — Scores of Texas business men face arrest within the next few days through failure to file their social security quarterly reports, United States Collector of Internal Revenue W. A. Thomas said today.

Reports for the third quarter are due by October 31, but many employers have failed to file their reports for preceding quarters, Thomas said.

Arrests of those failing to heed the bureau's summons have already been made in some Texas cities, including Tyler, Sweetwater, and Abilene, he said.

Maximum penalty for failure to file reports is a fine of $10,000 and ten years in prison.

U. S. Has Guard On Job; Air Watched

Soon more red lights flashed. The direction of the attack became apparent.

Then a green light flashed, and kept flashing. That meant that defense pursuit planes, rising from concealed airfields, had intercepted the "attacking" planes and were, theoretically, fighting them off.

Almost immediately lights began to flash on another course inland from Roanoke Island. A third "attacking" force was quickly shown moving inland from below Wilmington.

Loudspeakers boomed with the code numbers of various observers and their messages "Planes high east . . . Plane low west . . . Plane overhead." Within minutes the green lights began to blink as squadrons of defense planes made contact with attackers.

* * *

"ATTACKERS" REPULSED

A SECOND board showed the immediate objective area at Ft. Bragg. Here a white flash would show an observer had picked up aircraft. Then red lights flashed, one, two, three, five of them, as anti-aircraft batteries went into action. Other lights flashed as the .50-caliber anti-aircraft machine guns began to blaze.

Eighty military planes roared through the air. At 8 a. m. came "Cease firing." Observers had sent in 285 reports, which reached defense headquarters in an average of a little more than two minutes.

Four of the six skeletonized anti-aircraft regiments of the army were centered on the "defense of Ft. Bragg" with their 3-inch guns pumping 25 shells a minute to a height of 18,000 feet. All were heavily camouflaged, and one was mounted in a log cabin from which the roof could be lifted as the gun went into action.

Success of the civilian volunteer alarm system shows clearly one role which civilians will be expected to play in air defense.

First Course In Quantitative Spectrography In South Being Offered At Texas Tech College

The first course in quantitative spectrography in the South and one of only a few in the United States is being offered in the department of chemistry and chemical engineering at Texas Technological college.

A spectrograph loaned to the college last spring by the bureau of mines is used in work of the class Dr. C. C. Craig, chemistry professor, is the instructor.

Hockley Pool Extension Has Production Of 200 Barrels

BY JOHN B. BREWER
Special Oil Writer

Completion of Gulf No. 2 Mallett 2 1-2-mile northeast extension to the Richardson pool in Hockley county, for a 200-barrel daily flow, and probable completion of Frankley & Rice's No. 1 W. A. Tunstill, northwestern Reeves county Delaware wildcat, for a gauged 3,770,000 cubic feet of wet, sweet gas daily were among principal West Texas developments this week.

S. W. Richardson No. 1-A Bashara further promised a one-mile northeast extension to the Keystone pool in Winkler county, and locations were staked for three offsets to Coffield & Guthrie No. 1 E. E. Spears, prospective pool opener in the southwest corner of Scurry county.

Thirty-Two Locations Staked

Despite the reduction in crude prices last week, locations were staked for 32 field tests and one wildcat in nine counties, only four field tests and two wildcats less than the number listed in 13 counties the week before. Twenty-eight producers were completed and three failures abandoned in 11 counties.

In Cochran, most northerly producing county in the West Texas Permian Basin, Magnolia No. 1 D. S. Wright, 1 1-2 miles north by northeast of Livermore No. 1 Wright, a small discovery well, was abandoned at 5,054 feet as the result of striking sulphur water.

The Texas Co. No. 3 Slaughter, south offset to the most northerly completed well in the Slaughter pool in Hockley county, was swabbed in through tubing at 4,984 feet, headed 22 barrels of oil in one hour and was to be acidized. J. W. Murchison spudded a diagonal southwest offset to Gulf No. 2 Mallett, the Slaughter northeast extension, which flowed 200.38 barrels of oil in 24 hours at a plugged back depth of 5,070 feet after being shot and treated with 16,000 gallons of acid. The Gulf well is in the southwest corner of labor 25, league 34, Concho county school land.

Test Strikes Water

Honolulu No. 1 Kendrick in section 825-D-John H. Gibson, 1 1-2 mile east extension to the Denver field in Yoakum county, struck water from 5,062-69 feet and was plugging back. It flowed 568 barrels of oil on its last 24-hour gauge before being killed. Four wells in the Denver field and one in the Bennett pool were completed: Carter-Conoco No. 2 Willard, 886 barrels; Humble No. 11 Randall, 404 barrels; Shell No. 5 Lowe, 902 barrels; Texas Co. No. 4 Willard, 297 barrels, and Texas-Pacific No. 11 Bennett, 1,892 barrels.

Shell No. 1 Ruyts, in section 743-D-John H. Gibson attracted attention by topping the anhydrite at 2,380 feet, 1,164 feet above sea level and 31 feet higher than in the Bennett pool opener two miles to the northwest. No. 1 Ruyts is a one-mile southeast outpost.

Shut Down For Orders

Atlantic No. 1 Parker, 2 1-2 miles northwest of the Seminole pool in Gaines county, in section 264-G-WTRR, showed water on a drilled stem test at 4,290 feet and shut down for orders.

The Emma pool in southern Andrews county had its fourth and fifth producers in the making in Superior No. 1 University in the north end and Montecito No. 3 Cowden on the west side. They were testing at 4,227 and 4,190 feet, respectively. Rogers & Rogers No. 1 University in section 40-9-U, three miles east of the Emma pool and 1 1-2 miles northwest of Rogers & Rogers No. 1 Holt, a discovery well, flowed sulphur water at 4,539 feet and prepared to plug back to test upper shows.

Bert Fields No. 1 Owenwood in section 6-44-2s-T&P, Ector county, three miles northwest of the Harper pool, showed oil and salt water from 4,423-35 feet, with a possible increase in both from 4,457-67 feet, and was likely to be deepened from 4,467.

Pumpers Are Abandoned

Sinclair-Prairie abandoned two small Ector pumpers, No. 1-A Moss, in section 40-22-2s-T&P, in which production had dropped to seven barrels, and No. 2-B Moss, in section 40-44-1s-T&P, one-half mile farther southwest, which had declined to eight barrels. No. 1-A Moss was 2 1-2 miles southwest of the Harper pool but separated from it by a dry hole.

Coffield & Guthrie staked a north offset, W. E. Callahan a diagonal northwest offset and Jas T. Brooks a west offset to Coffield & Guthrie's No. 1 E. E. Spears, promised opener of a new pool in southwestern Scurry county northwest of the Ira field. No. 1 Spears was drilling by a bit lost in cleaning out following a shot at a plugged back depth of 2,500 feet, the first 15 hours after which it filled 1,200 feet with oil. It is in the southwest quarter of section 130-97-H&TC.

Gauges 3,770,000 Cubic Feet

Frankley & Rice No. 1 Tunstill, Reeves county wildcat in section 10-56-2-T&P, was shut in after gauging 3,770,000 cubic feet of gas daily with one gallon of 42.6 gravity oil hourly at 3,305 feet in the Delaware sand. Humble No. 1 Robertson, Pecos county wildcat in section 26, block OW, six miles north of the Pryor-Courtney area, was reported to have logged a Delaware section in drilling with rotary to 3,903 feet, 1,106 feet below sea level. J. E. Fitzpatrick No. 1 Dyer in Ward county, in section 135-34-H&TC, 1 1-2 miles southwest of a short-lived Delaware producer, prepared to deepen from 5,085 feet to further test the Delaware.

A third outpost to the Shearer northeast extension to the Masterson pool in Pecos county was staked, Burleson and others No. 1 Fromme, in the north quarter of section 110-10-H&GN.

Henry L. Fannin and others' No. 1 Reed Bros., northwestern Tom Green county wildcat in subdivision 39, Mason & Perry survey, showed 250 feet of oil and water when it resumed fishing for tools lost more than six weeks ago 5,120 feet. Last week the tools were jarred 600 feet to the bottom.

Doctor Discovers Method Of Making Gold Fabric For Milady Of Average Means

BY MARY BETH CLARK
Tech Journalism Staff

Milady soon can be gowned in a solid-gold evening dress—and without the touch of Midas. Fortunately, the dress will last eternally, equal a silk frock in weight, and cost less than many expensive models. A discovery by Charles S. Gibson of the staff of Guy's hospital in London, England, has made this possible.

The discovery by which gossamer fabrics can be covered with a film of gold less than a ten-thousandth of an inch came in course of research to find compounds of gold with organic molecules for the treatment of arthritis. The fabric is dipped into a compound, which breaks up into its constituent parts when heated slightly. When deposited, the fabric picks up the thin film like a dye, and has gold inside and out. The actual bulk weighs less than a dime for a dress and the silk and cotton used is so light that its weight hardly counts. So the gown would be of pure gold.

This new material should cost approximately $2.50 a yard in accordance to present prices of gold, Dr. Gibson estimated. Hence a $15.00 check from Dad should cover costs for material for a queenly gown.

Gold goblets, ordinary glasses covered with a thin film, are being displayed also by Dr. Gibson and are difficult to distinguish from solid-gold goblets. Now the average family will be enabled to have the luxury-touch at their Sunday dinner. Gold ash trays are being distributed as souvenirs in result to their low price.

The features of a mirror-conscious woman soon may be reflected in a mirror framed with gold, which should add much to her delight. This pleasure was a symbol of luxury in ancient Greece; Cleopatra greatly cherished a gold mirror as it symbolized the sun, the Egyptian god, whom the queens supposedly descended from. Golden mirrors decreased in popularity during the later ages, due to their extreme extravagance. In the near future the "shopworn angel" as well as the petted princess will be a users of golden mirrors.

Who knows?—even the streets of Paris may be gold some day!

GET SUBSIDY CHECKS

AMHERST—During the past week 261 subsidy checks for 1937 were received, amounting to $36,667.33, Don Turner, county agent, reports. So far Lamb county farmers have received 1,500 checks for $328,222.59.
