Cabarets In New York Under Probe

NEW YORK (AP)—The owners of two night clubs where Frank Sinatra and Sophie Tucker performed without valid entertainer's licenses have been summoned to a police department hearing today.

The hearing is part of a wide-spread investigation into cabarets and the licensing of performers. Over the weekend more than 1,000 police inspected 2,478 cabarets, dance halls and other licensed premises.

Among the 1,218 cabarets inspected, police said they found 114 violations, including those at Jack Silverman's International restaurant where Miss Tucker has been singing, and at Jules Podell's Copacabana, where Sinatra has admitted performing without an identity card.

Miss Tucker, "last of the red hot mamas," ended her engagement on schedule Sunday night. Police said she had been singing at Silverman's International since Oct. 19 with an expired license. Her pianist, Ted Shapiro, had no card.

To sing again in New York City, Miss Tucker need only apply at the division of licenses for a two-year renewal of her identity card, police said.

Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy has placed special emphasis on a check of the Copacabana. He said he wanted to find out if the night club was receiving preferential treatment, and if so, why.

Sinatra has said he has no intention of ever getting an identity card. He is not appearing there now.

The weekend check of the Copacabana disclosed that nine employees were working under improper licenses, police said.

The cabaret check was a countermeasure to charges by a citizens' committee that there was police corruption in the issuing of licenses to cabaret entertainers.

Commuters Face Woes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The transit strike that snarled Los Angeles' traffic and jammed its freeways is over, but the commuter's worries aren't.

The 400,000 persons who daily ride the Metropolitan Transit Authority's buses and streetcars may have to pick up the tab—in the form of increased fares—as a result of the settlement.

For five days the commuters spread over a four-county area the size of Maryland and Delaware—had no bus or streetcar transportation because of a strike by 900 MTA mechanics.

Sunday both sides—the MTA, a public agency, and the Amalgamated Transportation Union—agreed to a new 15-month contract which provides higher wages, improved working conditions and prospects for a pension plan.

The union voted 451 to 73 to accept the agreement. It will raise the pay of top-scale mechanics from $2.61 an hour to $3 an hour by July 2. The union said the raises will range from 46 cents to 64 cents an hour in wages and other benefits.

Matching Them Up

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—I you're a working girl who isn't completely sold on living alone, you may be tempted to exchange your privacy for a roommate who will help you face the landlord on the first of every month.

Yet if you're not the roommate type, you may live miserably ever after. And so might your roommate.

Just as some personalities are happier never getting married, certain singletons are better off not sharing their domiciles.

This comes from an enterprising young real estate agent, Lloyd Baum, who operates a roommate placement service.

His own frustrating search for a compatible man to share the high cost of his big city apartment led the handsome 32-year-old bachelor into business last spring.

Since then, he has found a suitable tenant for himself, and he has also evaluated apartments, interviewed, investigated and eventually matched up hundreds of applicants.

Baum says he has had almost 100 per cent satisfied clients.

During an applicant's interview he gathers personal and financial information and makes notes about appearance and personality traits. He follows up by questioning past landlords, acquaintances and creditors.

If the professional roommate-finder does not like what he discovers, or if a woman hedges about her age or balks at certain questions, Baum becomes wary. Or, if he notes in conversation that his applicant is extremely emotional, strongly opinionated, or unduly withdrawn, he politely suggests she would be happier living alone.

However, for those who are the types who can sacrifice privacy without suffering, there are other advantages besides shared expenses. Two can divide cooking and housekeeping chores and two can multiply friendships.

Baum offers these rules as a guide to being a better roommate:

1. Be considerate of the other person's sleeping habits.
2. Keep reasonably neat about belongings, but don't be so fastidious that you are nerve-racking to live with.
3. Reach a common agreement about house rules. Avoid being bossy.
4. Hire someone to clean the apartment at least once a week, if possible. The expenditure will prevent battles on the homefront.
5. Work out an equitable agreement for sharing food bills according to the average number of meals eaten at home.
6. Don't borrow your roommate's clothing or toilet articles.
7. Be quiet but don't be too quiet. Nobody likes to live with a vegetable.

The British Are Coming

BY ANNE RUGGERI

NEW YORK (AP)—Up to now it hasn't appeared on any tariff list, but a new British import is making inroads on the American market.

British secretaries are being brought to the United States to fill well-paying executive secretary positions and the American girls aren't too happy about it.

"Why should British secretaries be hired for the good jobs we American girls' pound pavements for?" one home-grown secretary asks.

The answer is simple, says David L. Wexler of the first employment agency to import English secretaries: "The demand for competent executive secretaries today is not being adequately filled by American girls. There are more jobs available than competent secretaries, so a firm hires an available British girl to fill the job."

The British girls are guaranteed one year's employment starting at an $85 a week minimum. They receive permanent visas and an option to become a citizen. They must have had one or two years in secretarial school or college plus three years' job experience before coming to the United States.

The arrival of English secretaries on the local scene has caused a disturbance ranging from the serious to the ridiculous.

The New York State Committee Against Discrimination has been investigating possibilities of racial discrimination in the importation of secretaries.

The State Department has been asked to investigate a possible violation of immigration laws. It says the Immigration and Nationality Act does not cover secretarial imports.

On Madison Avenue, public relations people are testing the reaction of American and British secretaries. One agency discovered, after a long investigation, that three out of every hundred English secretaries wear glasses—even though they don't need them when interviewing for a job. They prefer the brainy to the beautiful look.

And, on a recent trip to the United States, Vera Sugg, head of an English employment agency, caused a national incident when she had a fashion designer design a dictation skirt for British secretaries. She wanted to make sure the British girls weren't showing their knees, she says.

The skirt didn't go over on the American market. "It's ridiculous," one American secretary says. "I refuse to look dowdy. Besides my boss doesn't see my legs. I sit on the other side of the desk."

All this fuss is silly, says Wexler. "We bring all types of specialists to the United States to fill job shortages—mechanists, tool makers, registered nurses—besides secretaries.

TURKEY BROTH

To produce praise-winning turkey broth, home economists suggest this procedure: Break the turkey carcass into a kettle. Add 1 large onion, sliced, a carrot cut in pieces, a handful of celery tops, a tablespoon of salt and 3 quarts of water. Place on a burner and turn the flame to high. When the water comes to a rapid boil, turn the flame to simmer, cover the kettle and cook at least an hour.

Remove the carcass and cool the broth. Store in covered containers in the refrigerator and use later for soups, gravy or turkey pie.

Callisto, a moon of Jupiter, has a density only slightly greater than water. Some astronomers believe it consists of loosely packed ice matter, sort of a celestial snowball.

Scramble For Title Is On

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A mad scramble for the national college football championship suddenly developed today out of the demise of Missouri, with more than a half-dozen teams remaining in the running for the coveted title.

Last week Missouri had one foot in the throne room door. The Tigers had rampaged through nine opponents and needed only to get past twice-beaten Kansas to take the crown.

But Kansas plastered the Tigers 23-7. So Mizuo finished with a 9-1 record. So did Washington. Iowa showed 8-1 as did Minnesota. Navy and Auburn, Mississippi the only one of the group that has not been defeated has an 8-0 record with one game to go.

So nothing really can be settled until after the Mississippi-Mississippi State game Saturday. If the Rebels win, they will have a good talking point in that they will have gone through the season unbeaten.

The Rose Bowl appears ready to break its long tradition—there is no more official contract—with the Big Ten and invite Navy if the Midgies beat Army. That would leave Minnesota and Iowa, both hoping to make the westward trek out in the cold.

Syracuse officials met Sunday night and decided to postpone any action of bowl bids. The Orange already has been invited to the Gotham Bowl in New York and the Liberty Bowl in Philadelphia.

Top Teams In Grid Playoffs

BY MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Texas schoolboy football campaign rolls into its first full week of playoff games and leading the charge are the state's four top-ranked teams.

Wichita Falls in AAAA sewed up its district title by crushing Grand Prairie, Jacksonville in AAA picked up its ticket over a week ago, Olney advanced through the first round of AA by bouncing Azle and Stinnett rambled on in Class A by smashing Lefors.

It's the first week for the upper divisions to engage in playoff activity and the action should be fast and furious.

Wichita Falls plays its undefeated, untied record on the line against powerful Berger in one of the AAAA headliners. Others match Waco against Corpus Christi Miller, undefeated San Antonio Burbank against San Antonio Jefferson, undefeated Dallas Samuell against Fort Worth Paschal and Port Arthur against Corpus Christi Miller.

A pair of games matching unbeaten, untied teams heads the AA slate. Olton faces Denver City and Gatesville on Taylor. Olney, a 11-3 winner over Azle locks horns with Lancaster.

Stinnett, which slammed past Lefors 42-0, gets a sterner test against Farwell, a surprise 14-12 winner over undefeated Idalou. The feature game in Class A, however, sends once-beaten Albany against undefeated, untied Crowell. The two have ranked high in the division's top ten all season.

Another game matching unbeaten teams pits White Oak against Shelbyville. Both have been tied. Last week's games cut a large chunk from the unbeaten, untied list. Dublin, Hooks and Kennedy fell in AA and Idalou, Alto, Sour Lake and Idalgrope dropped by the wayside in Class A.

Eighteen clubs with perfect records survived—three in AAAA, five in AAA, six in AA and four in A.

San Antonio Burbank kept its record intact the hard way. It was tied 6-6 by San Antonio Brackenridge, lost on penetrations but won when Brackenridge was found to have an ineligible player.

Two of the nine unbeaten but tied teams tumbled. McKinney was a surprise loser in AAA and Crockett bowed out in AA. Seagraves conceivably could wind up as the only team in the slate not to lose a game.

It posted a 9-0 record but Flates was awarded a penetrations triumph when the two teams played to a deadlock. So Seagraves returned without actually losing a game.

Quarterback Club Session Set Tonight

The Snyder Quarterback Club has been called into session for this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the high school cafeteria.

Club President Mutt Herod said the regular session was being moved up from Tuesday night because the football mothers will honor high school players at their annual banquet tomorrow night in the cafeteria.

Quarterbackers will hear reports from coaches whose teams played last week and the film of the Tiger-Lake View game will be projected.

A report also will be given on the Brownwood Lions champions of District 4AAA and the Tigers' foe in the bi-district game scheduled for Friday afternoon in Brownwood.

Pitt End Drafted By Houston Club

HOUSTON (AP)—Mike Ditka, an end from the University of Pittsburgh, is the Houston Oilers' first draft choice, the Houston Post said in today's editions.

The Post said the Oilers, of the American Football League, have drafted Ditka, a 215-pound end; Tom Goode, a 230-pound center and Walter Suggs, a 240-pound tackle, both from Mississippi State; and Bobby Walden, a 185-pound halfback from the University of Georgia.

Pass Plays Defeat Gail

GAIL—It was a red hot passing combination that did the trick. That was the way Coach Eddie James summed up his Gail Coyotes' bi-district loss to Miami last Friday night.

Miami copped a 19-6 decision to end Gail's string of 45 games without defeat. The Coyotes had only two ties in the long string.

Miami's pass-catch combination of Russell Anderson to Gene Arrington accounted for two touchdowns against the Coyotes in the bi-district game. Then Anderson scored the third marker on a roll-out play good for 50 yards.

Gail's only score came in the third quarter when the Coyotes put together a sustained drive. Steve Stephens scored the touchdown.

Gail had a one touchdown play called back, while Miami had two nullified in the game.

Only two boys played hard, but they just could not seem to get going, said James. "I suspect that the hard play of Miami had something to do with that. They had a real good football team."

Three Teams On Bluebonnet List

HOUSTON (AP)—Rice, Texas and Baylor are considered top prospects to be the host team in the second Bluebonnet Bowl football game Dec. 17.

The Bluebonnet selection committee is also watching eight other teams—Mississippi, Army, Navy, Alabama, Florida, Georgia Tech and New Mexico State as possible out-of-state teams in the bowl.

Mississippi probably has the inside track if the Rebels want the bid.

Card-Baird Game Set In Sweetwater

HERMLEIGH — The Hermleigh Cardinals will go after the regional Class B football crown Thursday night in Sweetwater when they face the Baird Bears.

The game has been set for 7:30 p. m. Thanksgiving Day in Mustang Bowl.

The site and time for the game was set Sunday at a meeting of officials of the two schools.

Hermleigh advanced to the regional round by trouncing the Clint Lions, 58-0, in Tiger Stadium in Snyder on Saturday afternoon. Baird had nudged Eden, 30-25, in their bi-district game Friday night.

Hermleigh is unbeaten and untied in 11 games this year, including 10 regular season encounters and Saturday's bi-district win over Clint.

Gains By Soviets Lead To Trouble

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet affairs experts conjure up a frightening picture of the use the Kremlin might make of the U.S.S.R.'s burgeoning economic strength.

From one standpoint, it matters little when or whether the Russians make good their boast of overtaking United States production. The key word is trouble, and there is plenty of trouble in store for the United States in any event.

There is no argument with the proposition that Soviet economic power is rising swiftly. The big question is: What does the Kremlin intend to do with this power and what does it hope to achieve?

Will it mean more for the Soviet consumer—and the risk of changing the monolithic dictatorship structure of Soviet rule? Will it be thrown into military adventuring? Or will it be used in another kind of bid for world domination through enormous investment in economic aid to underdeveloped countries?

All signs point to the latter. No qualified student of Soviet affairs says the Kremlin intends world conquest by military means. But few doubt that it intends world conquest by economic means, with the use of vast productive capacities channeled and concentrated upon political goals.

The Russians now say they expect to fulfill their current seven-year plan a year ahead of schedule in 1964. Their newest published estimates are that they will catch up with the United States by 1968 in those production spheres which are important to the Kremlin. The Kremlin then would be ready for the big offensive. These hopes seem quite exaggerated. If consumer goods are ruled out of the picture, Soviet production might overtake America by 1973.

But there's small comfort in that. There is little expectation that the Kremlin intends waiting until its over-all production catches up. Already—at the expense of the Soviet consumer—it shows signs of preparing to throw Soviet resources into foreign economic aid programs to affect significantly the political behavior of emerging countries.

Soviet economic power already is a potent weapon of politics in Kremlin foreign policy, backed by an evident Kremlin confidence in Soviet military might.

The experts are not about to reach for the panic button, however. Another side to the coin is that the Kremlin is loaded with its own contradictions, which can inhibit and interfere with its offensives abroad to expand communism.

The U.S.S.R. cannot veer away from a eastern, medieval system for fear that the ruling dictatorship's concentrated power will be diluted. Centralization of power long has adversely affected the Soviet economy, and there is strong pressure from Soviet technocrats now in favor of more and more decentralization.

Russians have sensed the emergence of a new sort of leadership which finds itself having to compromise between the needs of the Communist party's power structure and the rising demands of an educated population.

The Kremlin is demanding more and more production per worker and more and more quality production. To help achieve this, it has instituted systems of labor incentives and bonuses along with high wages in some spheres. But this applies new purchasing power pressure there is not enough consumer production to absorb it. Close observers are confident that, given sufficient time, this pressure will begin to change the structure of Soviet society.

They already add a word of warning: The hierarchy would rather slow down the rate of Soviet growth deliberately than take chances with reforms which might bring about dangerous changes in the party's leadership. They do not want its all-pervading influence over Soviet life to be weakened.

And even if the Soviet economic growth rate were slowed to half what it is now, in the words of one competent observer of the Moscow scene, the Communists would "still have enough to be a source of interminable trouble to us whenever and wherever they chose."

Actress To Work, Seek New Husband LONDON (AP)—Actress Shelley Winters flew into London over the weekend all set to make a movie and "fall in love with an Englishman."

Miss Winters, who divorced actor Anthony Franciosa Friday, came to Britain to play the role of the mother in "Lolita," the film of the novel by Vladimir Nabokov.

"I'm seriously considering coming to live over here," she told reporters. "The party is so much slower in Britain than in America."

"You've got so many intellectuals," she added. "And another thing, I'm single and I'd like to fall in love with an Englishman. But she ruled out actors. "I think they do not make good husbands."

Democratic Rep. Don Magnuson had declared the official winner Sunday after having been all but counted out in Washington's 7th District.

The election was the last congressional race to be decided. Democrats will have a 261-176 edge in the House, a loss of 22 seats compared with the last Congress.

State Republican Chairman William C. Goodloe indicated the GOP might seek a recount.

King County Auditor Robert Morris, a Democrat, said he saw no basis for a recount. He said discovery of errors in unofficial tabulations had given Magnuson a 116-vote edge.

The totals were 95,639 for the four-term congressman and 95,237 for Republican John Stender. Stender, international vice president of the boilermakers union.

Stender who led by 358 votes in the unofficial count of the Nov. 8 election, and lengthened his lead to 666 on the basis of absentee ballots could not be reached for comment.

Foreigners Could Buy All Of America's Gold

By FRANK CORNER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nations of Western Europe now have it in their power to rock the American financial system any day in the week.

All that stands between crisis and stability is an intangible called "confidence"—a confidence that the U.S. dollar will remain "as good as gold."

Foreign governments and their citizens own about $18 billion of Uncle Sam's bonds. Most of these dollars are owned by Western Europeans and are deposited or invested in the United States.

Theoretically, all could be used to buy American gold.

If all were used for this purpose, Uncle Sam's supply of bullion would be wiped out. There is only $18 billion of gold in the government's coffers.

Such a disaster is virtually impossible.

For one thing, foreigners do so much business with the United States that they couldn't afford to exchange all their dollars for gold.

Furthermore, to do so would wreck their own finances because the United States is the cornerstone of the free world economy.

This doesn't mean, however, that the current anxiety over Uncle Sam's persistent loss of gold is misplaced.

If foreigners bought $1 billion of U.S. gold in a single week, this would be taken as a vote of "no confidence" in the dollar. Perhaps even a lesser amount would turn the tide.

It is this possibility which last week prompted President Eisenhower to impose unprecedented restrictions on spending abroad under the military and foreign aid programs. His aim was to lessen the number of dollars moving into foreign hands, dollars that could be used to buy American gold.

Since July 1, foreigners have been buying American gold at the rate of $1.8 billion a year. Since Aug. 1, they have been ordering at an annual pace of $4.1 billion.

Since Sept. 1, the rate has risen to $4.7 billion. Since Oct. 1, the flow of bullion has hit a spectacular annual rate of $5.9 billion.

At this point, large gold purchases over a short span of time would add to the existing uncertainty—would threaten to unleash forces that could shatter the free world's financial system.

The Soviet Union, fortunately, hasn't the dollars to attempt such a move. And why would friends ever do such a thing, especially since they would suffer, too, in the end?

Why did millions of solid American citizens run trembling to their banks after 1929?

Putting it plainly, they lost confidence in the banking system. It was to buttress confidence that the U.S. dollar will remain "as good as gold."

At least 18 persons met violent deaths in Texas over the weekend. Traffic took 12.

Three persons died in a head-on collision 11 miles south of Mason late Sunday. Killed were L. D. Schuessler, 45, and Clayton Thomas, 42, both of Mason, and Miss Lillie Elaine Buford, about 20, of San Antonio. Three men in the car with Miss Buford were injured.

Ignacio del Toro, 51, died Saturday during a fight in his tavern at Fort Worth. Officers said Del Toro attempted to break up a fight between three men. The three died.

A hunting accident near Whitt Park, Garza County Sunday killed Norman Black, 45, food store manager.

A hunting accident near Junction killed James Wilson Newton, 42, of Odessa. Police said he apparently was trying to climb a tree.

Tanislado Gomez, 65, of Eagle Pass, was killed late Saturday night when an auto overturned 25 miles east of the Mexican border town.

Mrs. Dora Fullerton, 74, died in Ballinger of burns received when her robe was ignited by a bathroom heater at her home in Paint Rock Saturday.

Puritanical Mayor Has Been Chased

TORRI BENACO, Italy (AP)—The puritanical mayor who tried to chase scantily clad foreign tourists out of this resort on the shore of Lake Garda has been chased himself—out of office.

The new mayor says he takes a more liberal view of how vacationers may dress.

Mayor Gino Barbieri was tossed out after a heated local election campaign in which tourists' dress was the main issue in this community of 4,000 near Verona.

It began last summer when Barbieri ordered the police to close several privately owned lakeside tourist camp sites, charging the tourists dressed in an indecent manner.

For a while camp owners outfoxed the mayor by letting their foreign guests stay without paying rent. They eventually had to close when the city officials cut off utilities at the camp sites.

All the groups who opposed Barbieri's action joined in a coalition against the Christian Democrat mayor.

The opposition group claimed the village had suffered a heavy financial loss from the departure of the campers. Souvenir shops put placards in their windows saying, "This shop has been damaged by Mayor Barbieri."

The Liberals won at the polls by an overwhelming majority. The independent mayor, Iginio Bonetti, promised he would reopen the tent cities come spring.

Some veteran politicians predicted Ikeda would soon be ousted from power because of a temper and a candor which are celebrated in Japan, traits which stirred him to retort to critics of his austerity measures: "Let the people eat barley if they can't afford rice."

But Ikeda has conducted himself during his four-months tenure with mastery control.

Recognizing that Kishi aroused hostility among the leftists and the general population by a general attitude of riddity, Ikeda set about proving he could and would compromise if the opposition Socialists cooperated.

This approach won him new friends and helped channel away much of the resentment felt against the Conservatives under Kishi's helm.

Jap Minister Has Known Suffering

By JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO (AP)—Hayato Ikeda, the victor in Japan's eighth post-war election, found faith and renewed self-confidence in deep personal suffering.

The 60-year-old prime minister, whose pro-U.S. policies received a mandate from the voters, was the son of a wealthy sake manufacturer who spent his youth as a university student at Kyoto drinking deeply of the pleasures of that famed geisha capital.

Like many sons of the rich, he chose government service as a career. He might have remained an obscure official if a rare disease of the skin had not forced him to resign his post in the tax office in Utsunomiya in 1932.

Dressed in the white clothes of a pilgrim, and accompanied by his devout mother, he made a long and painful tour of Buddhist temples on the island of Shikoku in search of the spiritual cure modern medicine could not provide.

Five years later he emerged well and healed. He attributed it to his faith in Buddhism, a faith that continues deep today.

He returned to ordinary life a serious, purposeful man who bore little resemblance to the playboy of his youth.

Taken under the wing of Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida in the postwar occupation days, he became finance chief and drafted tough economic reforms which put Japan firmly on the road to recovery. He learned to work with highly placed Americans and won their respect in the process.

He became prime minister July 14, succeeding Nobusuke Kishi, who was forced to resign following his successful but bitterly opposed fight to push through the new defense treaty with the United States.

Some veteran politicians predicted Ikeda would soon be ousted from power because of a temper and a candor which are celebrated in Japan, traits which stirred him to retort to critics of his austerity measures: "Let the people eat barley if they can't afford rice."

But Ikeda has conducted himself during his four-months tenure with mastery control.

Recognizing that Kishi aroused hostility among the leftists and the general population by a general attitude of riddity, Ikeda set about proving he could and would compromise if the opposition Socialists cooperated.

This approach won him new friends and helped channel away much of the resentment felt against the Conservatives under Kishi's helm.

He injected new confidence into the nation's workers by promising them an increasing share in the expanding economy.

He has shown some signs of willingness to seek a rapprochement with Communist China, speaking of the need to trade with Japan's big mainland neighbor. But his foreign policy is based squarely on cooperation with the United States and the West. He rejects the Socialist theory that Japan must be neutral if it is to survive the cold war.

An entirely new seaport is being built by the Dutch west of Rotterdam. Named Europoort, it will be opened in 1965. It is designed to serve the European Common Market.

The first woman dentist in America was Emeline Roberts Jones who became a partner in her husband's practice 100 years ago.

not wonder how it's prepared. The satisfying aroma of charcoal broiling meats sets your taste buds to watering the moment you walk in.

The Grill, operated by Jerry Anstead as are the Snyder Lanes which are in conjunction with the Grill, has an extra special specialty. It is their mouth-watering charcoal broiled T-bone steak with all the trimmings which include delicious onion rings—the perfect complement to a juicy steak and that delight of all breads, the extra thick slices browned in real butter.

Next in popularity in the meal department is the "charcoal broiled steak burgers" that hold a full quarter pound of ground round steak with all the extra seasonings that make "good eating" in the burger world.

Naturally, the Grill serves a multitude of other foods. Take for instance the charcoal broiled half a chicken, the walking-ebel-and-fiesta burgers. If you haven't tasted those spicy fiesta burgers made of chili, cheese and the trimmings on a huge bun, you just haven't eaten yet.

The Coney Island has real chili, too.

In the dessert department, the Grill serves homemade pies and are especially proud of their fried pies that are made at the grill and kept hot for the coffee and pie snackers all day long, with fresh ones cooked as they are needed.

Bowlers at the Snyder Lanes stop in before, after and between games for a snack or a meal at the Grill, bringing their children, too, because those not big enough to bowl may stay in the nursery.

For an evening of fun and relaxation, have supper at the Grill, and bowl a few lines while the attendant at the nursery keeps tabs on the children. You don't have to plan weeks ahead for an evening at the Lanes because there is always a babysitter for the wee ones and an extra hall for those big enough to tackle the game.

Plan To Change Law Unknown To Daniel
AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel said Sunday that he knows nothing about a suggestion that legislation is being planned which would make a special election to name the successor to Lyndon Johnson as senator unnecessary.

The Houston Chronicle said the election may not be held because of the difficulty of raising money after the Democratic primary and the high cost of the presidential race.

India To Fire On Communist Planes
NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said today India will shoot down Communist China planes crossing its borders "when we can." It was the toughest stand he has taken on the long-simmering border dispute.

The government reported last week it had protested to Peiping over 101 air violations of Indian territory in eight months. The Chinese denied the planes were there. Nehru made his threat to stop the violations with force under questioning in Parliament.
