Test Law Important

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas could have lost $24 million in federal highway funds last year by not having an implied consent blood test lab for drunk drivers, a highway official said today.

Marcus Yancey, state Highway Department administrative engineer, said in actual practice, however, the government has penalized no states.

He testified at a hearing on Austin Rep, Don Cavness' bill that would require anyone suspected of drunk driving to submit blood or breath test or else lose his drivers license.

The U. S. Highway Safety Act of 1966 requires states to have such a law or else stand the risk of losing 10 per cent of their federal highway aid.

Cavness' bill would empower state police to certify individuals to administer blood and breath tests. Only physicians, nurses or medical technicians could give blood tests.

In court, proof that a person had between .05 per cent and .10 per cent alcohol content would be relevant evidence he was under the influence of alcohol. Evidence he had .10 per cent or more alcohol in his blood, by weight, would be prima facie proof he was under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

J. D. Chastain, state police laboratory director, testified that devices measuring the amount of alcohol in one's breath have been proven effective.

The bill went to subcommittee for further study.

STORMS OVER STATE

Wind, Rain In Area

Thunderstorms raked the Snyder area for about an hour Sunday night, producing varied amounts of moisture and accounting for some wind damage.

Electric power was interrupted briefly in some areas as lightning bolts streaked across the skies. However, about the only damage reported by power companies was blown fuses.

Heaviest rainfall in the immediate area apparently occurred around Hermleigh where 3.75 inches were measured.

Snyder had an official measurement of 1.60 inches at the city water plant. However, around town measurements ranged from as little as 1.25 to as much as two inches.

A fall of 1.2 inches was reported at the Lake J. B. Thomas dam. But only half an inch fell at the lake superintendent's residence half a mile to the south, and only .4 inch was logged at the Big Spring - Odessa pump station on the south side of the lake. No appreciable runoff had reached the lake this morning, although some showers were reported on the watershed.

Only an inch fell in the Union community. However, 2.7 was logged in the Loyd Mountain area, and a like amount northwest of Snyder.

High winds broke some limbs from trees, but property damage apparently was virtually nil.

Most of the vicious weather surged from western areas into the state's midsection, but there also were thundershowers and electrical storms across North and East Texas and along the coast.

Weather Bureau observers looked for continuing turbulence late today as warm air off the Gulf of Mexico billowed inland to collide with a nearly stationary cool front along an east-west line near Wichita Falls.

Lightning struck and killed John Bean of Siverton while he was fishing at a small lake near Quitaque in the Panhandle.

Another bolt ripped into a bedroom at the North Dallas home of Patricia Smith, 19, grazing her left ear and hand as she talked on the telephone. She was treated and dismissed.

At Canton in East Texas, lightning flashed from another storm cloud and killed the horse of Eddie Stonestreet, 27, of Greenville while he and Gene Hood, 21, of Athens were engagd in calf roping practice. Both were treated at a Tyler hospital.

Clouds of dust, churned by winds approaching hurricane force in places, preceded lines of thunderstorms thrusting toward the south from the Panhandle-Plains sector.

While there was wind damage in many places, tornado funnels sighted repeatedly around Odessa, Midland and Big Spring in West Texas and farther east in the Fort Worth-Dallas area all apparently stayed aloft and inflicted no loss.

Winds hitting 69 miles per hour at Plainview felled trees in Plainview and Lubbock, to the south, clocked gusts up to 70 m.p.h., compared to minimum hurricane force of 75 m.p.h. Choking dust lowered visibility to zero for a time as the squall lines swept past.

At Tulia, 25 miles north of Plainview, utility poles were toppled and a cotton trailer overturned as 1.50 inches of rain fell in an hour.

Uphold Jailing Of Chronic Alcoholics

WASHINGTON (AP) — A divided Supreme Court refused today to prohibit the jailing of chronic alcoholics for public drunkenness.

Justice Thurgood Marshall, pronouncing the court's judgment said: "The inescapable fact is that there is no agreement among members of the medical profession about what it means to say that 'alcoholism' is a 'disease'."

He added: "It would be tragic to return large numbers of helpless, sometimes dangerous and frequently unsanitary inebriates to the streets of our cities without even the opportunity to sober up adequately which a brief jail term provides."

Four justices dissented. They are Abe Fortas, William O. Douglas, William J Brannon Jr. and Potter Stewart.

Before the Supreme Court acted, the U.S. Circuit Courts for the District of Columbia and for the states of Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina made chronic alcoholism a complete defense to a public drunkenness charge.

Six years ago the Supreme Court found the Eighth Amendment's prohibition of cruel and unusual punishment a barrier to punishment of people for addiction to drugs alone.

Red Copters Are Shot Down

By ROBERT D. OHMAN
Associated Pres Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. military headquarters said today that aircraft "suspected to be enemy helicopters" were fired on during the weekend near the demilitarized zone that divides Vietnam.

A brief announcement added that a daylight reconnaissance was made today to ascertain damage and obtain other information, but 'no results are available."

The statement from the military command tended to partly confirm other reports that from 2 to 12 Russian-built helicopters had been downed over the weekend south of the DMZ.

However, the announcement from U.S. headquarters said the aircraft were sighted by radar near the eastern end of the DMZ and north of the Ben Hai river, meaning that they were over the demilitarized zone itself or to the north.

Vietnamese military sources said the helicopters were downed by artillery and U.S. Navy F4 Phantom jets Saturday and Sunday.

If true, this would be the first time any enemy helicopters have been downed in South Vietnam.

It was not known whether the enemy craft were lifting troops or material or were on a reconnaissance mission.

The Vietnamese sources gave this account:

Three turbo-powered, single-rotor M14 helicopters, capable of carrying 14 combat troops or about 2½ tons of cargo, were shot down along the coast by allied artillery Saturday night.

Sunday night the North Vietnamese tried to slip another flight of the choppers down the coast, but the Navy Phantoms pounced on them. Nine were shot from the sky, and one exploded before crashing into the sea, indicating it was carrying ammunition.

Six in all were downed in the South China Sea, one crashed on the beach and two went down farther inland.

U.S. Air Force planes spotted and destroyed four MI4 helicopters and two of the huge Soviet M16 helicopters last Oct. 6 at a field 30 miles west of Hanoi.

In the ground war, grenade-throwing South Vietnamese troops raced from bunker to bunker to wipe out a Viet Cong stronghold in a Saigon suburb.

STRIKE ALSO CRUMBLES

France's Student Revolt Falls Apart

By HARVEY HUDSON
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — The Sorbonne, symbol of France's student revolt, fell to the gendarmes Sunday after a month's occupation, and today a student organization said it would halt street fighting, recognizing "that the students alone cannot continue the battle without support."

Angry sudents had battled the police again in the Latin Quarter Sunday night after the authorities had forced out the last 150 occupiers, hauled down the red and black flags of revolution and anarchy, and run up the French blue, white and red tricolor.

A break was also apparently at hand among striking autoworkers, die-hard holdouts of last month's national strike. About 65,000 workers at the state-run Renault plants were reported voting in favor to return to work on the basis of a 10 per cent salary increase by Oct. 1 and reduction of their work week.

The National Students Union —UNEF— made its declaration of peaceful intentions, barring further 'provocation," while police hygiene squads began cleaning up what they said was an "indescribable mess" in the Sorbonne. Classes are expected to resume in a week.

The lecture halls were strewn with stale bits of bread, rotten apples, empty bottles and other trash. The library was a shambles.

In a radio interview, Premier Georges Pompidou put in a new plug for a massive government majority in legislative elections beginning next Sunday. Only with such a majority, Pompidou said, can necessary reforms be made in universities and other sectors of French society.

The fighting Sunday night involved hit-and-run skirmishes by bands of young people. But the police did not let the students establish any fixed positions during three hours of battle and chased them off the main boulevards. Faced with an uneven match, student leaders dispersed their followers.

The Sorbonne had been occupied by the students since May 13, at the start of the revolt. Last week the occupying committee ordered its followers out of all but five lecture halls to clear away accumulated filth. After the cleanup, only a token force remained in the building.

The end of the occupation of the Sorbonne seemed to indicate the collapse of the student revolt. A number of other university buildings in Paris and provincial towns still are held by students. But the Sorbonne was the focal point and the others are expected to capitulate whenever the government decids to mov.

The education ministry has promised to start talks with studnts and professors on university reforms. All sides agree that many changes are needed in the university system and administration, but reorganization is expected to be a long and difficult process.

The labor strikes that once idled some 10 million workers also are down to the last bitter-enders. About 300,000 metal workers—including employes at all the big automobile factories —were still out. Workers at Renault, the state-owned company which employs about 65,000, vote today.

Prospective entrants may register at either the Chamber of Commerce office at the city hall, or at the swimming pool in Towle Memorial park.

The beauty contest will be held at the pool on the afternoon of July 4.

Meanwhile, plans for other July 4 events were moving along. Liquor Bill Is Up For Debate Today

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas House members took up for debate today Gov. John Connally's proposal to leaglize sale of liquor by the drink in miniature bottles.

The measure, combined with a long, complex liquor law revision package, was laid out at 10:24 a.m., and a stack of more than 20 amendments piled up at once on the speaker's desk.

Ready for action as soon as the House disposes of the touchy liquor question is a $2.5 billion state spending bill that would require $133.8 million in new taxes.

Texas representatives and senators spent much of the 1967 regular session arguing about liquor by the drink after Gov. John Connally made political history by officially recommending legalization of mixed drinks. However, the issue was never advanced to floor debate status, mostly for lack of support.

Supporters of the present liquor by the drink measure again recommended by Connally, which would allow "hard" liquor to be dispensed in 2-ounce or drink size bottles, claimed Saturday they had "just about enough" votes in the House. Opponents said they were still several votes short of the 76 majority needed.

However, House supporters felt they would pick up additional votes as amendments were proposed and added in floor debate.

There are 14 reported supporters in the Senate where 16 is the majority. Several senators are considered undecided.

The so-called mini-bottle liquor bill cleared the House State Affairs Committee last Thursday by a 11-9 vote after two days of parliamentary maneuvering during which the bill appeared near death several times.

The liquor measure approved by the committee also included numerous revisions of the State Liquor Control Act, including tight restrictions on operations of private clubs, higher permit fees for beer and liquor sellers, and sterner punishment for those who let juveniles drink.

The House Revenue and Taxes Committee is expected to approve sometime this week the house plan for increasing state revenue to take care of increased state spending.

The senate finance committee is putting the final touches on its version of a spending bill, which reportedly is several million dollars than the House bill. After each house approves its version of an appropriations bill, the final draft will be drawn up by a 10-man conference committee.

Five Injured In Traffic Mishaps

Five persons were injured in eight separate motor vehicle mishaps over the weekend. Seven of the eight were investigated by Highway Patrolmen.

James Olen Murphy, 24, and Richard Ray Rice, 35, both of Wichita Falls, were taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Snyder Ambulance Service after their 1961 Model Ford overturned 19 miles west of town on U. S. 180 at 6:15 p.m. Saturday.

Hospital authorities this morning said both men were transferred to a hospital in Wichita Falls Murphy sustained a fractured hip, and Rice suffered neck and back injuries.

Patrolmen said Murphy, driver of the car, apparently lost control of the vehicle while traveling west.

Tommy James Koonce, 30, 2397 Forty - first Street, also was taken to Cogdell by Snyder Ambulance Service after his 1963 Model International pickup went out of control and overturned 14½ miles north of town on U. S. 84 at 1:15 a.m. Sunday. At first, his condition was described as serious. Later reports listed him in good condition, although he sustained a head injury. He remains in the hospital.

Damage to Murphy's car and damage to the pickup was total.

Extensive damage resulted to the 1967 Model Mustang of Elton Luther Crowder, 56, Route 3, when the brakes apparently failed and the car crashed into a field nine miles south of Snyder at 11:45 p.m. Friday. He received facial lacerations. Taken to Cogdell by Snyder Ambulance Service, he remained in the hospital today, but his condition was described as good.

Highway Patrolmen said Crowder was traveling east on a county road. His car left the road at its intersection with FM 2835.

Released after receiving treatment for minor injuries was Lawrence Costillo, 23, Cozy Courts, Snyder, whose 1961 Model Chevrolet crashed into a guard post and rail on the North Service Road of the U. S. 84 bypass at 4:30 p.m. Sunday. Damage to the car was estimated at $750 by investigating Police Patrolman Ben McNulty. Costillo also was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Snyder Ambulance Service.

Stephen Jay Weil, Webb AFB, escaped injury when his 1961 Model Volkswagen was demolished after it overturned one mile west of town on FM 1607 at 1:15 a.m. Saturday. Highway Patrolmen said Weil apparently lost control of the vehicle on a curve.

The 1964 Model Ford pickup of Lawrence Joe Shifflett, Mentone, and the 1967 Model Plymouth of Anita Joyce Farmer, Box 621, Snyder, were in collision at 8:50 p.m. Saturday one-half mile north of town on North Avenue R at its intersection with Smith Avenue.

Damage to the pickup was minor, but there was extensive damage to the car, according to highway patrolmen, who said both motorists went to the Cogdell Memorial Hospital for a checkup. Neither was admitted.

The 1962 Model Chevrolet of Dayton Gray Land, Hobbs, N. M., struck a cow 15.8 miles west of town on U. S. 180 at 10:25 p.m. Saturday. The animal died, but there was only minor damage to Land's vehicle. He was pulling a camping trailer at the time of the mishap. He was going west at the time of collision.

Highway Patrolmen said Carl Thompson Wells, 402 Thirty - first Street, excaped injury although his 1962 Model Chevrolet ran off a bridge one-half mile northwest of town on the county road south of the golf course and plunged into Deep Creek. There was extensive damage to the car.

City Police are looking for a hit-and-run motorist who left the scene after his car apparently crossed the parking lot of Merle Newton Real Estate on Ave. S, struck a sign, and went across the driveway of the Robo Wash Company. Damage to the sign was set at $10. The mishap occurred between 2:30 a.m. and 3:27 a.m. today.

DEAR ABBY: This woman my husband jogs with is beginning to worry me. She isn't even a neighbor. She drives five miles every morning (and at 7 o'clock, just to jog with my husband.

Don't tell me to jog with them. I'm no jogger. Do you think I have anything to worry about?

JOGGER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Not as long as they keep jogging.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for 13 years, and our problem is his brother who lives in another state. Every summer this brother (single) comes to "visit" us for a whole month. We do not invite him, and he doesn't ask if it's okay for him to come. He has his mother write and tell us when to expect him.

My husband and I would like to put an end to his visits because we don't enjoy his company that much. In fact, he is a real pain in the neck. We're afraid if we don't do it right his mother and the rest of the family will think we are inhospitable.

One year when we were expecting our oldest daughter and her new-born baby, we wrote and told him we couldn't have him at that time, but he came anyway and just sat around to be cooked for and waited on.

Can you help us?

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR NO: YES! Write and tell him that it is not convenient for you to have him THIS SUMMER. It may seem cold and inhospitable, but feeling as you do, it's better than having a "guest" of his description sitting around for a month.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I just read seomthing in your column that hit me close to home. You said, "If parents want to be noble and stay together because of the kids, they should be a little more noble and not let the kids know it. It makes them feel guilty."

Abby, parents who stay together because of the kids can't hide it. The kids know something is wrong. You see, our parents had this crazy idea that they owed it to us to put up a front, I guess you would call it, and stay together until we were grown. We knew they didn't really love each other.

Well, 4 years ago they got the divorce they should have gotten long before. Since then we have all been much happier. We spend time with both our parents.

Dad is remarried and is very happy. Mom is going with someone and it looks serious. If they had waited until we were all grown it might have been too late for them to build another life for themselves.

I am 18 and a freshman in college, and the two younger ones are in high and junior high. I can't speak for all kids, but I know this way is better for us. Parents shouldn't feel that they have to sacrifice their own happiness for their kids.

HAPPIER NOW

* * *

DEAR ABBY: That woman who complained because she got an electric dishwasher for Mother's day really got my goat. I don't have one and I'm not complaining because I have two good strong hands with which to wash my dishes. That's more than I can say for sister who is so crippled with arthritis she can hardly bend her fingers, poor dear soul.

NO COMPLAINTS

Graham Sees World End As 'We Know It'

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham predicted the end of the world in a sermon Sunday night, declaring, "Everybody knows it! Everybody feels it! It's in the air!"

He quoted philosopher Bertrand Russell as saying this development could be expected five years from now and said the Bible mentions a second coming of Chirst.

Expanding on this theme, Dr. Graham said 26 different civilations have risen and fallen in hisotry and asserted, "There's no reason to believe ours will last forever. This world as we know it will come to an end. This cosmos is going to come to an end by a gigantic convulsion, revolution and renovation."

Attending the bride as maid of honor, was her sister, Kathryn Kendrick. She wore a formal length gown of blue organdy, a round scalloped neckline and scalloped tulip sleeves and scattered embroidered daisies at the hemline made the gown design. Her headpiece was a blue organdy bow with a forward blue organdy ruffle which also had scattered daisies. Both carried bouquets of daisies.

Rockefeller Boosted By Pennsylvania

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has won a big-state endorsement from Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer for his GOP presidential bid—but acknowledges a drive for such backing could give new delegates to rival Richard M. Nixon.

Shafer announced the endorsement at the end of the Republican Governors Association Conference at Tulsa, Okla., over the weekend and estimated 45 to 50 of Pennsylvania's 64 Republican delegates would join him in backing Rockefeller.

Said Rockefeller: "In the last week, my campaign has really taken off." But he said further endorsements from governors who are now favorite sons could also release delegates to join Nixon's already substantial block of nominating votes.

"There is a delicate balance," he said.

Nixon's campaign manager, John Mitchell, said meanwhile the former vice president already has 'more than enough delegates" to win the GOP presidential nomination and 'will not engage in an exchange of charge and countercharge with Rockefeller."

Newsweek magazine said Sunday its tabulation shows Nixon only 29 votes short of the 667 needed for nomination, with 573 delegates favoring Nixon, 252 Rockefeller and 146 California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

On the Democratic side, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy indicates he plans to step up his presidential bid against Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey by pressing questions on Vietnam and other issues he has raised.

But former White House press secetary Bill Moyer predicted Humphrey will soon begin spelling ont his differences with Johnson administration policies, including military escalation in Vietnam.

Moyer's made the prediction in an interview broadcast on WNEW radio in New York.

Former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace returned his third party presidential campaign to the South—Richmond, Va.—today after saying in Washington he would emphasize law enforcement, rather than gun laws, as president.

"If I get to be president," Wallace said, 'I'm going to stand with the police and we're going to have an orderly society."

He was interviewed on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

As the candidates campaigned, New Yorkers prepared to decide the last of the major presidential primaries Tuesday —with 123 Democratic and 82 Republican delegate seats at stake.

Democratic State Chairman John J. Burns said New York delegate slates formerly pledged to Sen. Robert F. Kennedy will remain supporters of his principles. McCarthy backers predicted they would win 40 to 60 delegates and Humphrey slates were entered in 25 of the 41 congressional districts.

Rockefeller is challenged by Nixon delegate candidates for only 11 of the 82 GOP seats at stake.

Delegates were selected by party conventions over the weekend in Idaho and Montana.

A poll of 25 Idaho Democratic delegates indicated 17 would vote for Humphrey and 5 for McCarthy with 3 uncommitted. The 14 GOP delegates reportedly favored Nixon but could pivot to Reagan.

Humphrey got 24 of Montana's 26 Democratic delegate votes and McCarthy 2.

In other political developments:

—Rockefeller reportedly suggested to fellow Republican governors at Tulsa that Reagan be given a leading role at the national convention in televised presentation of the party platform, taking advantage of the California's skill in television presentations.

—Host Gov. Robert McNair of South Carolina said he expects a resolution for tighter gun control laws to be introduced at the Southern Governors Conference in Charleston, S.C. Business sessions began today.

—Mississippi Gov. John Bell Williams, a Democrat, said his party needs an acceptable dark-horse presidential candidate if Southern states are to be kept from going to Wallace.

Pink Water Flows From Town's Taps

MAXWELL, N.M. (AP) — Early morning risers found pink water coming out of their faucets Sunday.

City employe Jeff Bartluett arrived at work and discovered someone had put several packages of instant sweet drink in a 40,000-gallon storage tank.

The community will operate on its other storage tank until it is determined what can be done with the spoiled water.

Mixed Reation To Darthmouth Speech

HANOVER, N.H. (AP) — The valedictorian of Dartmouth College caused an uproar at graduation ceremonies Sunday when he called the Vietnam war a 'colossal stupidity" and urged his fellow graduates to refuse to serve in Vietnam "when the call comes to you."

Loud applause, jeers and shouts of "Get out of here" greeted the address by James W. Newton, a magna cum laude graduate in psychology from Glendale, Ariz.

About 6,000 students, parents and alumni were present.

Atlanta Stops Cubs In 11th

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Herman Franks thoaght he'd put one over on Gil Hodges and Atlanta was afraid Joe Torre had bounced one over on the Chicago Cubs.

Franks had his lefty-righty strategy cross up in the second game as Hodges' New York Mets nipped the San Francisco Giants 3-1 for a split of their Sunday doubleheader. Ray Sadecki's five-hitter had given the Giants a 4-1 first game victory.

Torre's long double scored Hank Aaron from first base with the only run of Atlanta's 1-0 11-inning victory over Chicago but only after it came dangerously close to bouncing over the wall for a ground rule two-bagger that would have left Aaron at third.

In other National League games, Pittsburgh swept a doubleheader from Houston 3-1 and 11-2, St. Louis trimmed Cincinnati 4-2 and Los Angeles spoiled Bob Skinner's managerial debut by tripping Philadelphia 2-1.

In the American League, Boston dropped Cleveland 5-3, Minnesota downed Washington 4-2, New York edged California 4-3, Chicago split a doubleheader with Detroit, winning the first game 3-2 but dropping the nightcap 6-1 and Oakland swept a twin bill from Baltimore 4-2 and 6-4.

Franks started left-hander Bill Henry in the second game and pulled a quick switch to righty Bob Bolin in the first inning after Hodges had inserted some right-handed strength in his starting line-up.

Bolin came on to face right-handed batter Cleon Jones with Don Bosch on first base and one out. Jones crossed up the strategy with an RBI double and then scored another run on a pair of wild pitches. Art Shamsky later homered for New York's final run.

In the opener, the Giants tagged Dick Selma with his first loss after six victories as Willie Mays and Jack Hiatt hammered home runs. Mays' leadoff shot in the sixth inning snapped a scoreless tie.

Torre, who suffered a broken jaw when hit by a pitch by Chuck Hartenstein early in the season, paid the Chicago reliever back a bit with his game-winning double.

Aaron had walked and was running when Torre hit Hartenstein's pitch to right center. "I was afraid the ball was going to bounce over the fence and Aaron would have to stop at third," said Manager Luman Harris.

It stayed in play and Aaron scored easily, making a winner of reliever Jim Britton, who had taken over for Phil Niekro in the 10th.

Roberto Clemente drove in one run with a triple and set up another with a single in the first game and Pittsburgh extended its winning streak to five games by walloping the Astros in the nightcap.

Consecutive doubles by Maury Wills and Jose Pagan tied the score for the Pirates in the fourth inning of the opener and Clemente's single followed by a ground out gave Pittsburgh the lead. Pagan singled and Clemente tripled for an insurance run in the eighth.

Wills' double touched off a four-run fifth inning burst in the second game and the Pirates rushed four more runs across in the eighth, spraying 16 hits around Forbes Field to complete the sweep.

John Edwards drove in a pair of runs with a fifth inning single and the Cardinals dropped Cincinnati. Edwards' hit climaxed a three-run comeback for the Cards, who spotted the Reds a 2-0 ledge on Leo Cardenas' bases-loaded single.

Dal Maxvill singled, Ray Washburn walked and Lou Brock singled for one run. Then the Cubs advanced on an infield out and Edwards singled them across.

Bob Bailey scored Los Angeles' winning run on a fourth inning passed ball and the Dodgers beat the Phillies in Skinners' first game as Philadelphia manager.

The Dodgers were leading 1-0 when Bailey and Zoilo Versalles singled starting the fourth against loser Rick Wise. Then catcher Mike Ryan let a pitch get away and Bailey scored.

Wise homereed for the Phillies' only run.

Clippers Have Perfect Mark

There is only one undefeated team out of 26 competing in six leagues of summer baseball. The Senior Teenage League Clippers lead their loop with a perfect 4-0 record.

The Junior Teenage League Buffs have dropped only one game out of six contests while the Farm League White Sox, Cardinals and Giants all sport 6-2 marks. The Sox are setting the pace in the American Loop while the Cards and Giants share the lead in the National loop.

The American Little League White Sox also have a 6-2 record — tops in its division — while the National League Braves are out front with a 7-2 record.

Plenty of exciting tilts are on tap this week as some of the second and third place teams fight for the lead.

Sun Kings Clip Spurs

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There was a general uprising among Texas League batsmen Sunday and the El Paso Sun Kings and Arkansas Travelers were No. 1 on the "hit parade."

The Sun Kings lubbed 12 hits off four Dallas-Fort worth pitchers for a 14-2 victory, gaining some revenge for a loss to the Spurs the previous night.

That loss knocked El Paso one game behind Albuquerque for the western division lead. The Spurs, cellar dwellers of the eastern division, have whipped El Paso in five of their seven encounters this season.

In other games Sunday, Arkansas downed San Antonio 7-4, Memphis tagged Amarillo 7-2 and Albuquerque trimmed Shreveport 6-2.

Billy Wolff and Boots Day collected three hits each to lead Arkansas' 12-hit attack. Wolff got the Travelers started with a three-run homer in the second inning.

Albuquerque coupled home runs by Bill Grabarkewitz and Jim Barfield with Fred Norma pitching to maintain a one-game edge over El Paso.

Four errors by Amarillo and 10 hits by Memphis helped the Blues to victory. The big inning for Memphis was the third when it scored three runs on an Amarillo error and two-run single by Chico Diaz.

Old Pro Dies At 88

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Sam "Wahoo" Crawford, who set major league batting records in the days when pitchers doctored baseball with emery boards, bottle caps and soap, is dead at the age of 88.

Despite the handiwork of pitchers on a ball already much deader than today's baseball, Crawford compiled a lifetime record which still stands of 312 triples. He led both leagues in home runs and, at the time of his death, his career base hit mark of 2,964 was the ninth best in baseball history.

Wahoo, who derived his nickname from his hometown of Wahoo, Neb., was a player of the old school who favored legalizing the spitball and contended that more than half his triples would have been homers had he been swinging against modern baseballs.

He died Saturday evening at Hollywood Community Hospital where he had been confined for several weeks after suffering a stroke.

Inducted into the baseball Hall of Fame July 22, 1957, Crawford had been the oldest living member of those enshrined at Cooperstown, N.Y.

During his 19 years in the majors, ending in 1917, he rolled up a career batting average of .309.

Spokesmen for Crawford's survivors—his widow Mary, a son and a daughter—said funeral services would be private.

Pirates Sweep Astors 3-1, 11-2

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates kept a couple of streaks intact Sunday when they won a doubleheader from the Houston Astros.

That made five straight triumphs for the Pirates and five consecutive losses for Houston.

Yanks Win Close One With Cal

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Horace Clarke staggered Rick Clark to get the New York Yankees off the ropes, but it took a super stroke by Clark Kent to get them off the hook.

California's Clark had the Yankees down 1-0 Sunday until Clarke ripped a two-run eighth inning homer and Mickey Mantle unloaded another two-run blast off reliever Clyde Wright.

The Angels, however, rallied for two runs in the ninth before Andy Kosco, the bespectacled outfielder who is fast becoming New York's answer to the Superman cartoon legend, flashed to the rescue despite a false start and saved the Yankees' 4-3 victory.

With two out, one run in and two Angels on the bases, Kosco lost Bobby Knoop's fly to right in the sun. It fell for a double, scoring Rick Reichardt and sending Bubba Morton racing toward home from first base with the tying run.

But Kosco, whose broad shoulders, good looks and clutch hitting have earned him the "Clark Kent" tag around the New York clubhouse, fired a strike to the plate, easily nailing Morton for the final out.

The Yankees' third straigh victory left them in seventh place in the American League —one game behind Oakland's surprising Athletics, who swept a doubleheader from second place Baltimore 4-2 and 6-4. The Orioles slipped 7½ games behind Detroit's league leaders, who split a twin bill with Chicago, winning the nightcap 6-1 after a 3-2 first game loss.

Boston downed Cleveland 5-3 and Minnesota defeated Washington 4-2 in other single games.

In National League action, St. Louis beat Cincinnati 4-2, Atlanta nipped Chicago 1-0 in 1 innings, Los Angeles shaded Philadelphia 2-1, Pittsburgh swept a doubleheader from Houston 3-1 and 11-2 and San Francisco divided a pair with New York, beating the Mets 4-1 before bowing 3-1.

A California, Reichardt's fifth inning homer gave Clark a one-run edge and the 22-year-old right-hander, winless in six previous decisions, shackled the Yanks on two hits until the eighth.

Then, Bobby Cox beat out an infield single and Clarke, who had managed one extra base hit ... a double ... all season, homered over the right field fence. Clark walked Roy White and was replaced by Wright. Mantle then sent a drive over the left field fence for his ninth homer this year.

Mike Hershberger's two-run pinch homer in the eighth inning capped a three-run rally that shot Oakland past the Orioles in the opener and Sal Bando drove in three runs with a double and two singles as the A's completed their sweep.

Chuck Dobson, 4-6, stopped Baltimore on five hits, including homers by Fred Valentine and Curt Blefary, in the first game. Lew Krausse, 3-7, survived Frank Robinson's three-run homer in the nightcap but needed eighth inning relief help from Catfish Hunter.

The White Sox tripped up Detroit in the first game on Tommy Davis' seventh inning homer and led 1-0 in the nightcap behind Cisco Carlos' one-hit pitching until the Tigers exploded for five runs in the eighth.

Tom Matchick's single, a hit batsman and an error by Carlos filled the cases and chased the Chicago starter. Willie Horton's infield hit off reliever Hoyt Wilhelm tied the game and Wilhelm walked another run across before Jim Northrup's two-run double and Norm Cash's RBI single capped the uprising.

Denny McLain, lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth after allowing just three hits, recorded his 11th victory against two losses.

Ken Harrelson's three-run homer in the eighth inning powered the Red Sox past Cleveland. Boston's Rico Petrocelli smacked a two-run homer in the seventh.

Jim Lonborg, making his first start for the Red Sox, pitched three-hit ball for five innings before giving way to Bill Landis, who picked up the victory with late help from Lee Stange.

UNSCHEDULED ACTION — Jockeys were strewn all over the track at the fifth race at Hazel Park Race Track, Detroit. Jockey Larry Snyder, at right on the ground in the shadow of the grandstand, was tossed when his mount, North Dallas, stumbled. Rider Don Holmes pulled his horse, Run For Life, sharply to the inside to avoid North Dallas and lost his seat. Neither jockey was injured and both came back to ride in next race, won by Holmes aboard FSO Texas. (AP Wirephoto)

FCA Huddle Returns

Snyder's representatives to the National FCA Conference at Estes Park Colorado returned home Friday, June 14.

There were 450 persons from across the nation in attendance at this annual conference. Included this year were ten professional coaches and athletes, forty college coaches and athletes and four hundred high school representatives.

Outstanding program personalities included James Jeffrey, executive director of F. C. A. who challenged the group with the subject, "Three Downs and One To Go." He said, First, God looked down. Second, Christ came down, and Third, Chirst lay down his life for you. The Fourth Down is up to you, he added.

Paul Anderson, the world's strongest man, delivered a dramatic message on what it means to be free, nothing is really free — a price must be paid.

Jim Lawrence, a great halfback for Southern California said, "You don't commit yourself part time to God — My faith is not I think or I hope, but my faith is I know."

Coach Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys challenged those present to seek success in life by aligning themselves with Jesus Christ.

Jerry Stovall of the professional St. Louis Cardinals football team asked that each person let his life be worthy of the price paid by those who have gone on before and by Jesus Christ.

"In addition to listening to these outstanding men of Athletics, each day's activities included time for each boy to participate in activities and discussions and quiet times of meditation and devotionals.

Attending the conference from Snyder were Robert Sadler, Barry Park, Eddie Ray McClain, Trey Cooper and Coach Roy Carter and family. Coach Carter served as the leader of huddle group No. 7, which included 13 boys representing nine different states.

Patrick Posts Distance Record

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Dave Patrick has sent his best wishes to the ailing Jim Ryun. He got a message across to Dave Wilborn, too.

Patrick of Villanova won the 1,500-meter run at the National Collegiate Athletic Association track championships Saturday in the meet-record time of 3:39.9 breezing past Wilborn of Oregon on the final backstretch.

"My coach told me, 'Don't be even with Patrick down the backstretch because he's faster than you are,' " Wilborn said later. "It's obviously true now."

Asked about his strategy of staying back until the last lap, Patrick said, "After running for seven years, I guess you've got to learn something. I slowed down on the curve, because if I kept going at the same pace as when I passed him, I wouldn't have finished."

Not in the race at this meet where Southern California defended its team title was Ryun, the world record holder at 1,500 meters and the mile, who is recuperating from mononucleosis by working out in Arizona.

Patrick said he sent Ryun a get-well card saying he hoped they'd compete in the final Olympic trials at Lake Tahoe in September.

The Trojans from Southern Cal had a big scare thrown into them for the team title, beating Wuhington State by just one point, 58-57.

Washington State got a double victory, the only one of the meet, from little Gerry Lindgren who Saturday won the 5,000 meters in 13:57.2, a meet record, after capturing the 10,000 Thursday in 29:41.0. The Cougars also got winning performances from John Van Reenan with a 194-10 discus throw and Carl O'Donnell with a 258-11 javelin toss.

Trojan Wins Net Title

HOUSTON (AP) — Lefthanded Steve Avoyer of the University of Southern Califoria triumphed in two sets Sunday to win the men's singles in the 54th Texas Open Tennis Championship.

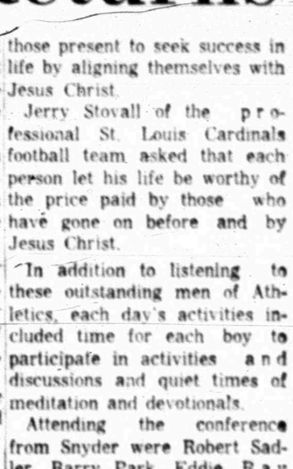

Avoyer, 20, third-seeded in the tournament, defeated another southpaw, Pancho Walthall, 18, of San Antonio, 9-7, 3 in a match that was delayed two hours by rain.

Second-seeded Mary Lowdon of Fort Worth took the women's title with a 6-4, 1-6, 6-4 victory over third-seeded Becky Vest of Jackson, Miss.

Jim Parker of Austin and John Mozola of Houston won the men doubles by default. They were to play Terry Neudecker of Houtonand Avoyer, who said he had to leave to prepare for the NCAA tournament this week in San Antonio.

The women's doubles also went by default to Emilie Burrer of San Antonio and Miss Lowdon. Susan Schulte of San Antonio said she was unable to team with Miss Vest because of a sprained ankle.

LAUGHING LEE WINS OPEN

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — He's a joker, a quipster, a wisecracking comedian, but there could be the stamp of golfing greatness on laughing Lee Trevino.

He came up the hard way, from caddie and boot black. He's victory-hungry and tough-minded as the marine he once was.

And, at 28 the brand new U.S. Open golf champion is going to be around a long time.

He proved in a single year he could play with the world's best professionals. And now he's shown that he can beat the best — and beat them in record-shattering fashion.

Sunday's triumph was his first professional tournament victory. But you can bet the rent money it won't be his last.

"I'm going to keep on playing as well as I can, and as long as I can," he said. "Sure, I'm going to play some bad rounds. I've played bad rounds before. But I'll keep playing. I'll be playing this game when I'm 100 years old."

His 275 winning total matched the lowest score ever shot in the open, set last year by Jack Nicklaus. And his four sub-par rounds on the 6,962-yard Oak Hill Country Club course set a record in this most prestigious and demanding of all the world's golf tournaments.

He had rounds of 69, 68, 69, 69—four consecutive under par, and never matched by all the greats who have played the Open. No one before had ever done it.

But still Trevino wasn't satisfied.

"I came up 18 looking for a birdie," he said. 'I wanted all the records. A birdie would have broken Nicklaus' scoring mark.

He didn't get it. In fact, he had to scramble to salvage par.

He started the day one stroke back of Bert Yancey, his playing partner, and both had bogeys on the first hole. But Yancey faded back with putting troubles, and then Nicklaus challenged, moving within three strokes.

That threat was repulsed when Trevino rolled in 35 and 20-foot birdie putts on the 11th and 12th holes.

'Man, I just wanted to get so far out in front I could bogey in," Trevino said.

Nicklaus finished with a 67 for 279 and second place. Yancey, the leader at the end of play each of the first three days, fell back to a 76 for a 281 and third.

Bobby Nichols was fourth with a 69 for 282, followed by Don Bies and Steve Spray, at 284. Spray closed with a 65, matching the test closing round ever shot in the Open, and tying the record for nine holes, 30 coming home.

Arnold Palmer closed with a 75 for 301 and 56-year-old Sam Snead had a two-under-par 68 for 286.

Trevino made his debut on the pro tour in the 1967 Open, finishing fifth. The $6,000 he won there — he was a $30 a week assistant pro before that — launched him on the tour.

He's won about $120,000 since then and now owns one-third of the club where he onced worked at Horizon Hills in El Paso, Tex.

And what about the $30,000 first-prize money from the Open, the Mexican-American was asked.

"I'm gonna buy the Alamo and give it back to Mexico," he quipped.

Columnist's Mail Yields Knowledge

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

No wonder our highways seem crowded: For the first time in our history American motor vehicles this year will travel more than a trillion miles —a distance equal to more than 5,400 round trips to the sun.

Despite the variety of foods available in this country, studies made by the U.S. Department of Agriculture show that only about half the families eat what nutrition experts describe as a "good" diet.

Ah Kerchoo! Particles expelled by a violent sneeze travel at a muzzle velocity of 152 feet a second. Don't forget your hanky, friends.

Some girls try to attract attention by wearing large earrings. In Brazil, this is a masculine ploy. Male members of the Kraho Indian tribe believe that the bigger the metal discs they wear in their ears the more desirable they are to the ladies. Some sport discs the size of teacups.

Americans are trying to drink their way to slenderness. Five years ago only 13 per cent drank low calorie soft drinks regularly. Now 67 per cent do. Incidentally, did you know that men usually gain weight around the waist but women gain below the waist?

Good ideas often have to incubate a long time before winning popular favor. An example: Contact lenses. The possibility of this type of lens was first conceived way back in 1508 by that universal genius, Leonardo da Vinci. However, eye specialists didn't get around to testing his theory until the latter part of the 19th century.

Is the small farmer, traditional exemplar of American independence, dying out? No, but his numbers are steadily diminishing. The number of U.S. farms dropped from 4.1 million in 1959 to 3.25 million in 1968. However, experts believe that one-man or two-man farms, if fully mechanized, can still compete successfully with the larger operators.

Doctors now believe in starting infants on solid foods earlier than was customary a generation ago. One reason: It has been found that too much milk in a baby's diet can cause it to develop an iron deficiency anemia.

Worth remembering: "The last word in an argument is what a wife has. Anything a husband says after that is only the beginning of another argument."

History lesson: Can you identify the U.S. presidents who bore the following nicknames: "Sharp Knife," "Illinois Baboon," "American Caesar," and "Napoleon of Protection"? They were, in order, Andrew Jackson, Abraham Lincoln, U.S. Grant and William McKinley.

Folklore: If you wash in water in which potatoes have been boiled you'll get warts. A grease made from bear brains will cure swollen joints and safeguard you from colds. You'll have bad luck all day if you sing before breakfast. It is a portent of good luck for a wasp to fly into your house—that is, unless it happens to sting you.

Wall Street Paper Work Is Far Behind Latest Method

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — As Wall Street sinks under a sea of paperwork its wails have a plaintive, hurt tone, a quality you might expect from an innocent child or a dog that was unexpectedly and unjustly punished.

This punishment by paper was not without warning, however. True, not all could have foreseen the causes of the paper glut—the growth of stockholders, the performance cult, the speculation. But there were warnings.

To say that paperwork is the culprit is to say that nobody is to blame. But a lot of people believe that mismanagement is one of the real reasons Wall Street is so dangerously snafued in bookkeeping that it must curtail its hours.

For years the exchanges promoted the concept of every American a stockholder, and now there are 24 million of them, a 250 per cent jump in one decade. They encouraged institutions—funds, insurance companies, banks—to use their facilities.

At the same time, brokers emphasized sales rather than service. Front offices were polished. Backrooms, aptly called cages, seemed like stage settings, with green eyeshades, sleeve garters, spittoons and metal-shaded light bulbs.

With the arrival of the volume business it had hustled to attract, the financial community found its systems and methods outdated. How could 890 methods record the business of mutual funds, whose assets had risen from less than $1 billion to more than $40 billion in 20 years? How could they handle government forms?

A few brokers still think that this growth might have been handled by old methods except for another factor: This was "performance," and it multiplied many times the impact of this stockholder growth.

Performance means a portfolio always must show the best record. Funds and trusts once bought stock and left it idle in vaults, confident that some year it would begin to grow. Now such stocks might be sold in a few months if they don't perform.

This soaring business—more than 21 million shares on the New York Stock Exchange in one day—leaves many brokers almost hopelessly outdated, and some are in serious danger of losing bookkeeping control. Why did they permit this to happen? Answers are freely offered.

Here are a few:

—This business is a paper business and always will be. It can't be fully automated. How can a machine, even an educated machine, tell the difference between a stock and a bond?

—Wall Street laid an egg in the 1930s and so it didn't attract new blood. It wasn't until the mid-1950s that talent reappeared. So now here's a gap in senior management.

—This is an industry of small businesses. Many brokerage houses felt they could survive with old fashioned methods until a few years ago. Now they can't afford computers unless they merge with another broker. That or go out of business.

A more realistic answer is that the brokerage business, while forecasting the boom in other industries, failed to prepare for its own. Having sold the idea of stock ownership, it then couldn't deliver the goods.

Now there is something pathetic about such a powerful and critical industry begging for $90-a-week clerks to bail it out of paper.

Junior Editors Quiz on STERLING SILVER

QUESTION: What does "sterling" on a piece of silver mean?

• • • •

ANSWER: Silver is a precious metal treasured and venerated nearly as much as gold. Harder than gold, silver can be hammered and shaped into sets of tableware, which people have always loved, because such pieces combine the lustrous beauty of the silver metal with the high value of the silver itself. Silver, however, while not as soft as gold, is still soft enough to show wear when frequently handled. For this reason, silver is usually mixed with copper to form an alloy. When too much copper is mixed in, the silver piece loses its value. This happened in England in the 1200's. The only dependable silver coins of the time were produced in Germany and called Easterlings to distinguish them from others. The English changed the word Easterling to sterling, and sterling came to mean a high grade of silver with very little copper. Sterling silver today is 92.5 per cent silver to 7.5 per cent copper. To distinguish sterling, the English used a hallmark, often of a rampant lion (A), stamped into the silver piece. America took over the stamping idea, but used and still uses a stamp with the single word, sterling (B).

Red Rockets Ride Sampans

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) —Viet Cong rockets bombarding Saigon were brought into South Vietnam from Cambodian storage areas in sampans moving at night along jungle-shrouded waterways, according to U.S. intelligence sources.

When the sampans, each carrying four or five of the weapons, arrive at a designated point in South Vietnam, they are sunk with the rockets encased in waterproof containers—until the Viet Cong are ready to use them.

From prisoner interrogation and other sources of information, American intelligence specialists have pieced together a pattern indicating how the North Vietnamese are able to send the weapons deep into South Vietnam, to the point where they can be hurled against that country's capital and its population.

The rockets, mostly 122 millimeter, come down from North Vietnam by truck, passing through the Laotian panhandle, U.S. officials say, and on into Cambodia where they are stored near the South Vietnamese border.

They are then carried across the border along any of the more than 1,300 square miles of waterways reaching from Cambodia into the Saigon region.

Hundreds of sampans are said to operate along these streams for the Viet Cong, carrying rice as well as weapons and other supplies from Cambodia. Moving mostly at night, the boats are hard to spot.

The Cambodian government, which professes neutrality, repeatedly has denied that its soil is being used as a supply and troop base by North Vietnam and the Viet Cong.

The waterways are running deep now, experts said, because of the rains and this creates favorable conditions for their use as supply routes into South Vietnam.

At the appointed time, the Viet Cong raise the sunken boats, take the rockets from their containers and then move them into firing position.

Weapons experts of the Army Materiel Command estimate that it takes less than five minutes to set up a rocket, fire it and then be gone.

The rocket is described as "an area weapon," that is, there is no way to aim it against pinpoint targets. Rather, it is pointed generally at a large target, such as a city or town, and fired.

The 122 millimeter rocket assembly comes in three parts and weighs a total of about 214 pounds.

U.S. weapons authorities say that a crew of three men can handle and fire the rocket, but that as many as five may be involved in a fire team.

The 122 millimeter rocket has a range of about 6.8 miles according to U.S. calculations. One intelligence report reaching here said the 107 millimeter rocket, also being fired by the VC, has a rang of 28.7 miles. Other specifics on this rocket were not immediately available.

Intensified bombing in the lower part of North Vietnam and Laos is believed to be knocking out about one-third of the North Vietnamese trucks heading South. With the Viet Cong threatening intensified shelling of Saigon, U.S. commanders have increased heavily the number of B52 bomber and other air strikes concentrating on the lower and of the Ho Chi Minh trail.

Asked why more trucks are not being knocked out, officers said convoys often duck under jungle cover along hardened approach roads after they are sighted and American fighter bombers often are able to catch only a fraction of them out in the open.

The Marlboro Music Festival in Vermont will open its 16th season on July 6. Pablo Casals, renowned 91-year-old cellist and conductor, will be in residence for the eighth summer since 1960.

IN COMMUNIST GERMANY

Indian's Grave Well Tended

By JOHN O. KOEHLER
Associated Press Writer

DRESDEN, East Germany (AP) — In the heart of Communist East Germany lies a grave of an American that receives better care than the surrounding thousand of other graves.

The inscription on the weathered headstone identifies it as the final hunting ground of Sioux Chief Edward Two-Two, Sungila Cigala, who died in 1914 at the age of 63.

At least twice a month a group of men and women dressed in colorful Indian garb visit the grave at the old Catholic cemetery here and in a solemn cremony decorate it with fresh flowers.

They are members of the Indian club "Manitou," dedicated to the study and perpetuation of American Indian lore, despite much opposition from local Communist party functionaries.

"An important function of our club is to care for Edward Two-Two's grave," said Johannes Huettner, leader of the group to whom he is known as "Mita Hasa" or "Power Face."

Who was Edward Two-Two?

A yellowed clipping from a Dresden newspaper says:

"In the spring of 1913, 22 American Indians headed by Edward Two-Two were brought to Dresden by the Hans Stosch-Sarrasani circus as performers.

"Kings and emperors could not have had a more grandiose reception than the Indians had when they arrived at the main station. Schools were closed and workers had the morning off. After a brief ceremony at the stations, the Indians mounted white stallions and galloped through the city to the circus building."

A year later, the newspaper story went on, Edward Two-Two became ill and told his fellow Indians that he would die. The night before he died, he asked that he be buried in Dresden.

According to the story, this request seemed impossible to fulfill since Sarrasani's agreement with the U.S. government said "every Indian must be returned to his home dead or alive."

But Two-Two insisted and, the story goes, the American Consul in Dresden decided to make an exception.

"The next day, July 29, 1914, Two-Two asked to be carried out side. He mumbled some Indian prayers and died," the story said. "He had been called to the eternal hunting grounds."

The story did not say where Two-Two came from or what happened to the other Indians.

"We often tried to find out whether he had any relatives or even where he came from but prhaps if America reads about this some oldtimer might remember," said Huettner.

"Perhaps someone can even tell us what the inscription on the gravestone means," Huettner added. The inscription, besides Two-Two's name and the dates 1851-1914, says: "Wahan Lanka Ka il Ogi i ieiyarpaiu."

Huettner, a 54-year-old druggist, said his club was founded in 1929 and now has about 30 members.

"I became fascinated with the story of the American Indian when, as a little boy, I read James Fenimore Cooper's 'Leatherstocking Tales' and 'The Last of the Mohicans,'" he said, proudly showing off a leather-bound first German edition dated 1827.

"When I returned from a Russian prison camp after the war," Huettner revealed, "I wanted to get the club started again but it took me six years of fighting with Communist officials before permission was granted.

"Since then, they have pressured us to associate ourselves with an official organization but we have resisted."

The Dresden Indians, nuret nearly every weekend at the estate of the Karl May publishing company at nearly Radebeul. Although he never left Germany, May wrote fiction about the American Indian. By the end of the 19th century May had sold more than 5 million books.

In the spacious garden are two log cabins as authentic as anything in the American West.

Elk antlers adorn the outside. A U.S. flag hangs just inside the door of one cabin. A corner next to the "Silver Dollar Bar" has been designated the "7th Cavalry Honor Corner."

Many of the relics owned by Huettner and his "Indian" friends were gifts from Patty Frank, one of the founders of the Radebeul Karl May Museum.

There is talk that Communist officials have from time to time attempted to close up the museum but never dared to go through with it since it is extremely popular not only with the local people but also with tourists from Russia and Czechoslovakia, where May's books are still popular.

"I think the authorities realize by now that we are not out to undermine the republic even if they have tried to infiltrate us with informers," Huettner said.

BUSINESS and INDUSTRIAL NEWS

NEW HEADQUARTERS — Central Tire and Automotive Service has moved into its new headquarters at 1510 Twenty-fifth Street. The building is spacious, air-conditioned, and there is plenty of parking space. The firm still specializes in the same quality service.

Central Tire Now Operates From Its New Headquarters

Central Tire Service, owned by Stanley Noah, has moved into its spacious, new headquarters at 1510 Twenty-fifth Street, but the firm still offers the same quality service.

Vacationeers, especially, have discovered that a quick visit to Central Tire Service is worthwhile. Before starting out on that long trip, it may be a good idea to have the experienced mechanics at Central Tire give your car a complete check over.

The first thing you'll want them to check, of course, is the tires. It's not a good idea to start out on a trip without safe tires. You can get good, quality new ones or dependable retreads at a fraction of the cost of new ones at Central Tire.

Along with the tires, it's only natural to check the wheel alignment and the balance of your wheels. At Central, the mechanics will check for proper caster, camber and toe-in. Proper wheel alignement increases the life of the tire, provides for passenger comfort, better handling and safety. Proper wheel balance insures easy steering of the car.

A number of things can affect the tires on a car. Faulty brakes can cause bald spots on the tires, and worn out shock absorbers can cause an uneven wear on the tire and places it under excessive strain.

Have trouble starting your car? With new, scientific testing devices, the mechanics at Central Tire can instantly detect any malfunctions in the electrical system.

Batteries and energizers developed especially for driving in hot climates are available at Central Tire Service. These special batteries have been built for farm tractors, commerical vehicles and trucks as well as all makes and models of cars — both foreign and local. The tractor batteries carry a guarantee of up to two years while a 3-year warranty is offered on passenger cars. There also are high amperage batteries built especially for diesel and butane operated trucks.

The same quality service is available at Central Tire Service. Of course, the new building is roomier and more comfortable — it's air conditioned. And there is more parking space.

The telephone number is the same — 573-3567. Just dial it for prompt attention to your car needs.

Nobody Holds Upper Hand Over Demilitarized Zone

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associate d Press Writer 0

DONG HA, Vietnam (AP) — Despite the bloodbath in the demilitarized zone area so far this year, neither side has been able to get the upper hand.

Like weary fighters, American and North Vietnamese battalions continue to slug it out in a fight that has a seemingly unlimited number of rounds.

"The DMZ has become a pawn of the Paris peace talks," one senior U.S. officer said.

He said the Communists are pushing for a major victory that would give their negotiaters in Paris leverage to pry concessions out of the United States and later South Vietnam.

Looking back across five and a half months of fighting this year, another U.S. officer said: "In January I would never have believed they could have kept up the pace or that we would ever suffer so many casualties."

The coming months are expected to dwarf the fighting so far this year that the U.S. Command says has cost about 20,000 enemy dead.

For all the death along the DMZ and recent U.S. reinforcements, the enemy is still said to have as many combat troops as the allies, the same ratio Hanoi was able to maintain last year.

Propaganda fed to North Vietnamese troops clearly shows Hanoi's thinking. As reported by prisoners the line is:

"We must keep up the fight. The outcome of the talks in Paris depends on how well we do in the battlefield."

Intelligence reports say newly arrived troops have been told they are 'to complete mopping up operations against the U.S. aggressors who have been destoryed for all intents and purposes."

U.S. intelligence believes an indication of how seriously Hanoi's DMZ divisions have been hammered is that in some cases entire replacement regiments have moved into position intact instead of groups of replacements being divided up among several units.

Some U.S. officers blame the partial bombing halt ordered by Washington to get preliminary peace talks off the ground with increasing the danger to U.S. troops in the northern line.

"Hell, they get a running start all the way from Hanoi to within 120 miles of the frontier before the bombers can go to work on them," one said. "Sure they are getting plenty of replacements, weapons and all the rest of it through. Our job is a hell of a lot tougher and more dangerous."

North Vietnam's potential for seriously mauling a specific U.S. unit is nowhere higher than along the DMZ. Defenses against U.S. aircraft are greater there and North Vietnamese troops have artillery to back them up, something they don't enjoy in large quantities anywhere else in the country.

In addition, North Vietnam's supply lines are shortest at the DMZ while those of the Marines and other allied forces are longest. The U.S. situation is somewhat more serious than it might be because of the comparatively smaller number of helicopters available to keep the Leathernecks mobile.

Transplant Guidelines Suggested

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A life-and-death scorecard has been suggested by a doctor as one way to answer the difficult medical and ethical question: When is a patient dead and his organs available for transplants?

The suggestion came from Dr. Vincent J. Collins, professor of anesthesia at Northwestern University School of Medicine, at a panel discussion at the annual convention of the American Medical Association.

This was his proposal:

The patient's heart, brain, lungs, circulation and reflex activity would be monitored for one or two hours. Each activity would be scored 2 if normal, 1 if depressed and 0 if stopped.

A score of 5 or more would indicate continuing life. Less than 5 would mean death was near. And 0 would be a sure indication of death.

Collins suggested that such a system could provide an answer for transplant surgeons seeking a common standard to determine if a potential donor is in fact dead.

Collins was one of three specialists who discussed moral and legal problems in "Medicine and Religion" here Sunday.

Powell Favorite In Harlem Race

By LES CARSON
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Adam Clayton Powell, who was ousted from Congress and then won re-election but failed to claim his seat, goes before the voters of Harlem again Tuesday. And he's an overwhelming favorite to win renomination.

His opponent in the Democratic primary is John Young, 32, a former member of Powell's staff.

Whether the flamboyant Powell, who is 59, actually returns to Washington is still subject to question, even though few in Harlem doubt he will win renomination and re-election.

Congress may again refuse to seat him. Or, as he did after the last election, he may not claim his seat. Or he may get caught up in complications stemming from a drawn-out state court action involving a libel suit he lost.

Powell has ruled the 18th Congressional District for over two decades of late from self-exile on Bimini, the preacher-politician's own sunny Elba in the Bahamas.

Many Harlem voters feel Powell got a 'raw deal" in 1967, when Congress expelled him, overriding a select committee that had recommended censure and a fine.

Powell had held his House seat for 22 years before expulsion on charges of misusing public funds and flouting New York state courts in the libel judgment case.

After the expulsion, Harlem sent Powell back to Washington —he won re-election overwhelmingly in a special election last year. However, he didn't try to reclaim his seat. He said he wouldn't go back as a freshman and demanded restoration of the seniority that had made him chairman of the Education and Labor Committee.

Powell didn't appear in Harlem during that campaign. He once said that his followers would elect him 'until I die, and even after I'm dead, I think some of you will write my name in."

Until recently, no one seriously challenged him on that. No one could match the personality of the pastor of the 10,000-member Abysinnian Baptist Church.

Last March, Powell came back to Harlem, 'after being granted freedom from arrest for contempt of court. He paraded through the crowded streets, a hero returned. In April, Young, a former public relations aide, entered the primary against Powell.

Campaigning hard with limited funds, Young has tried to take advantage of growing resentment to Powell's long absences from home and reported opposition within Powell's church.

"I honestly don't see much of a John Young vote," says State Sen. Basil A. Paterson of Harlem. And, Paterson adds, much of the anti-Powell sentiment can be dispersed by one more stroll by Powell up teeming Seventh Avenue.

Few Favor Guarantee Of Income

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Most Americans don't like the idea of a guaranteed annual income for nonworkers but overwhelmingly support a plan that would guarantee everyone enough work to earn at least $60 a week, the Gallup Poll says.

The poll reported Sunday that a recent survey of 1,570 adults found that the lower a person's income the more likely he was to support a guaranteed minimum income.

But the survey added that a significant fact reported was that an overwhelming majority of persons in all income levels and of all races supported a plan guaranteeing work rather than money.

The guaranteed work plan was favored by 78 per cent of those questioned, and opposed by 18 per cent. The 4 per cent balance voiced no opinion.

By comparison, the guaranteed minimum income plan was opposed by 58 per cent of those surveyed and supported by 36 per cent. The remaining 6 per cent had no opinion.

The guaranteed income plan proposed by some would provide a four member family with a minimum $3,200 per year whether or not family members are working.

Eisenhower Still Alert

WASHINGTON AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was reported today to have remained "alert and in good spirits" since his heart attack on Saturday night. His heart rate and respiration have remained stable.

"There has been no recurrence of pain since the initial episode the night of June 15th," a medical bulletin from the hospital said. "No signs of heart failure have appeared.

The new seizure was Eisenhower's second within two months.

Doctors did not minimize the danger although stable usually means the patient's treatment and condition are satisfactory.

Maj. George Foster, public affairs officer at the hospital, said in answer to a question doctors said they considered this "a major" attack.

Rap Report On Hunger

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—A doctor who helped draft a citizens report on hunger says the House Agriculture Committee used the wrong people in its search for malnutrition.

"I think that using the county health officer there as a source of information. . .is a poor way to go about getting the truth of the situation," said Dr. Raymond Wheeler Sunday after the committee published its report.

The House committee concluded there is very little actual hunger in the United States, but there is widespread malnutrition caused largely by poor people's ignorance.

Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex., committee chairman, ordered the study after a so-called citizens' group reported in April that there is concrete evidence of chronic hunger and dangerous malnutrition in all parts of the U.S., but primarily in the South and Southwest. The group estimated the victims number up to 10 million.

Battle Re-Enacted On Bunker Hill Day

BOSTON (AP) — Today is Bunker Hill Day in Boston and about 250 men costumed as British soldiers and colonial irregulars re-enacted the famous battle Sunday before an audience which included the British consul-general in Boston.

On June 17, 1775, the date of the real battle, about 1,000 Colonials battled 3,000 British regulars. The English suffered some 1,000 dead and the Colonials about 300.

Say Sirhan Shouted His Disapproval

NEW YORK AP)—Sirhan B. Sirham shouted his dislike of Sen. Robert Kennedy shortly before Kennedy was slain, Life magazine says.

The magazine said two witnesses told of Sirhan's activities before the shooting of which Sirhan is accused.

The magazine named one of the witnesses as Enrique Rabago 35, a mechanic. It said the other was a "still unnamed friend."

On the evening before Kennedy was shot, Life said, Sirhan "had just been thrown out of a victory party being held by backers of Max Rafferty who had won the GOP senatorial nomination."

Because he was coatless and without a tie, the story says, an Ambassador Hotel waitress refused to serve Sirhan a drink. "He put up a fuss," Life said, "and contemptously tipped her $20 'for nothing.' A security guard eased him out."

On the other side of the lobby, the magazine said, Rabago nodded in the direction of the Embassy Room and said, "Robert Kennedy might help the poor."

At that, Sirghan was quoted as shouting, "Kennedy — Kennedy—he should never be president. Kennedy helps himself. He's just using the poor Can't you see that?"

In another development related to the assassination, police in San Gabriel refused to comment on a gunshop owner's disclosure that he sold ammunition to Sirhan and two companions five days before the killing.

Ben Herrick, 42, owner of a store in this Los Angeles suburb said the three bought four boxes of .22-caliber ammunition for $3.99 on the afternoon of June 1. The death gun was a .22-caliber pistol.

He said two of the boxes contained miniature magnum shells which he described as the most powerful ammunition available for a .22-caliber weapon.
