

Problems Outlined Here

36 Named To Identify, Study Problems

Mitchell County has problems and Tuesday night a group of selected individuals were told what those problems were.

The problems were those mentioned to officials of the Texas A&M Extension Service during more than 100 interviews conducted here in a pilot program, all for the purpose of community resource development.

It was from these interviews that the 36 individuals were picked to be members of the committee resource development committee.

The program was headed locally by Home Demonstration Agent Janis Choate and County Agent Bobby Lemons.

The purpose of the program is to identify problems and make a study in order to reach solutions. The study part of the purpose receives the most stress from officials of the extension service.

Four officials from Texas A&M were in Colorado City Tuesday for the meeting as well as Catherine Crawford, district home demonstration supervisor, of Lubbock.

Those here for the meeting from Texas A&M included Dr.

James Mallett, Delbert Black and David Reusink.

The interviews that began last spring, revealed the following top mention problems, in the order of times they were mentioned:

--Need more housing
--Improve buildings downtown

--More jobs for all

--Industrial development

--Need more vocational training

--Better streets

--Need another bank

--Shortage of doctors

--Need more competition

--More jobs for young people

--Government officials do not cooperate with each other.

--Taxes (too low and too high).

The people who were selected for the committee, based on the number of times they were mentioned by the ones interviewed are D. M. Smith, C. C. Thompson, Dr. Joe Terry, Mrs. Frances Witten, Anastacio Alvarez, R. B. Baker, Simon Barrera, Robert Bracy, Travis Branch, Bill Carter, Gus Chesney, G. D. Foster, T. P. Fowler, Tom Harkey, Trevelyn Kelley and Dorsey Johnson.

Delinquent Taxes Paid For Hotel

Local taxing agencies received their biggest check yet Tuesday in the drive to collect delinquent taxes.

A total of $33,575.37 was received by the County, city of Colorado City and Colorado City school district for seven years back taxes on the Baker Hotel.

The taxes for the years 1965-1971 were paid by the Republic National Life Insurance Co., of Dallas, to McCreary and Huey, tax attorneys for the local taxing bodies.

The attorneys had filed suit for the back taxes in February and the suit was to have gone to trial Oct. 13 but the trial was postponed when attorneys for the insurance company notified local officials that the tax would be paid.

The Baker Hotel was purchased by See TAXES Page 8

TOWN TALK

By MAC MCKINNON

United Fund is needed in Colorado City.

In Sunday's Record, a form was printed for everyone interested in a United Fund to fill out and return to P. O. Drawer 92 or bring by the Record office or Chamber of Commerce.

That form is in this edition of the Record for those who might have missed the last issue or forgot to clip out the form and return it. The form can be found on an inside page.

A United Fund is very important to Colorado City. Through the United Fund, efforts can be made to consolidate work and efforts of many agencies.

Agencies who need money can be a part of the United Fund and receive some money where as they might not be able to conduct a campaign on their own.

A United Fund saves the time and efforts of workers and contributors as well. There are a number of people who work on several funds and they have to repeat their actions for every single fund in which they are involved.

This is unnecessary duplication which can save the time of our valuable volunteer workers who give so much of their time for the good of this community.

This human resource is our most valuable asset and to waste this asset in unnecessary duplication is a crime.

If you haven't seen a copy of the guide to Mitchell County Historical markers, get one at the Chamber of Commerce and take a look.

It was put together magnificently. See TOWN TALK Page 7

Send-Off Luncheon

Kelley To Be Honored

The Colorado City Kiwanis Club will hold a special send-off luncheon at noon Tuesday for Trevlyn Kelley, city councilman and vice president of City National Bank.

Kelley will become president of Roscoe State Bank effective Nov. 1.

The luncheon, which is being held on the Kiwanis Club regular meeting date, will be open to the public. Everyone is invited. Reservations must be made by 5 p.m. Monday with the Chamber of Commerce.

A number of speakers including various city council members, Kiwanians and others will be the program for the day.

Kelley is a former president of the Kiwanis Club.

Work For Industry

Concrete is being poured for the foundation of Colorado City's newest industry, Sequoya Mobile Homes. The concrete pouring began Tuesday after last week's rains soaked the building pad, hastening preparations for pouring the concrete.

150 Cotton Bales In

Good Mung Bean Production

Mitchell County farmers have already harvested 150 bales of cotton and judging from all appearances the cotton stripping season is about to get into high gear.

There has been excellent yield on what has already been stripped, County Agent Bobby Lemons said. And the price is holding better than expected at 18 to 20¢ a pound, below last year's average of 28 1/2¢ per pound.

Two crops also are reported in good shape as some grain sorghum is ready to get out now and the experimental mung beans had a high yield.

Mung beans, used as bean sprouts in Chinese food, were planted on about 80 acres on the farms of J. M. Munoz and A. Baumann, both south of Loraine.

The beans averaged about 750 pounds per acre and brought about $8 per hundred pounds. The quality report on the crop has not yet been received.

Last week's heavy rains did small grains and pastures good but it didn't help the quality of the cotton any, Lemons said.

A large amount of cotton acreage has already been defoliated and will be ready for stripping as soon as farmers can get back into the fields, Lemons said.

Because of the large quantity of cotton expected to be harvested this year, trailers and capacity of gins will slow down the harvest, Lemons said.

It will be physically impossible for the cotton to all be in and ginned by the end of November as some persons had speculated earlier.

Loraine vs. Bronte

7:30 P.M. Saturday Game

The injury plagued Loraine Bulldogs travel to Bronte Saturday night for a district game with Bronte, hoping to muster their forces to get into the district win column.

Since the first of the season, the Bulldogs have been hampered by injuries and every game they have played have resulted in new injuries to even further complicate the situation of Coach Freeman Lamkin and his

Full Speed Ahead For Beautification

The Colorado City Noon Lions Board of Directors Tuesday decided to proceed with the purchase of 20 Japanese Black Pines and 20 wooden containers in which to plant the trees for the decoration of Colorado City streets.

The wooden containers will be brought here from Houston while the trees will be purchased in San Angelo.

The Lions are coordinating activities of the beautification project and are taking donations from businesses and individuals to offset the costs.

A tree, complete with wooden container and fertilizer, will cost a total of $39.

The Chamber of Commerce Community Development Committee, formerly the PRIDE committee, was asked to work out details on exactly where the plants will be placed.

Business owners who want a tree in front of their store if one is not placed there, will be able to buy one of the trees in a container for $39.

A chairman is expected to be named by the Lions Club to oversee the project.

assistant, Stanley Moore.

The game against Bronte was originally scheduled for Friday night but was changed at the request of Bronte. The game will be Bronte's homecoming.

Last week, Loraine lost a hard fought game in the rain against Forsan. Loraine managed to get six points while Forsan chalked up the win with 30 points.

The Bulldogs lone score came in the fourth quarter on a 44 yard pass play from Sylvester Rose to Eddy Merket.

For the night, Loraine had six first downs, 60 yards rushing, 57 yards passing and seven penalties for 35 yards.

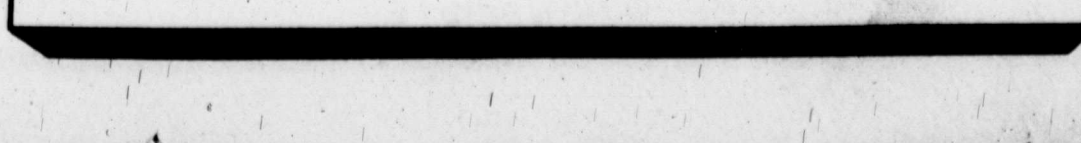

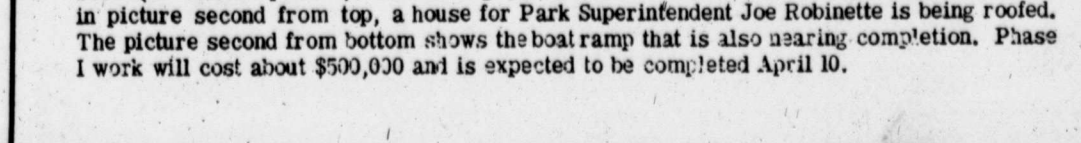

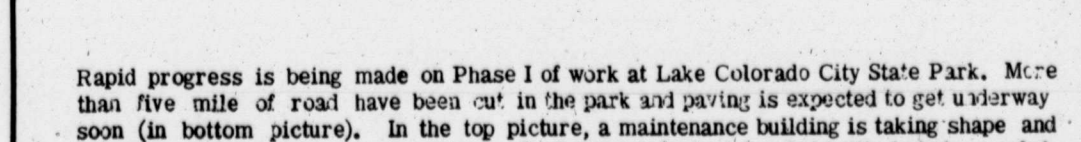

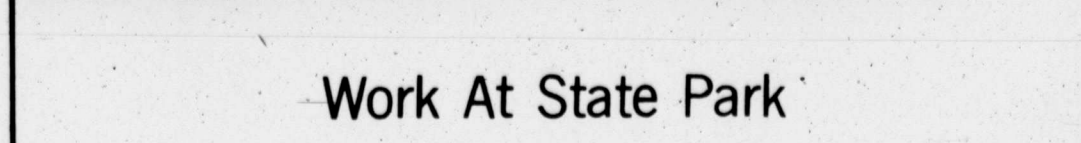

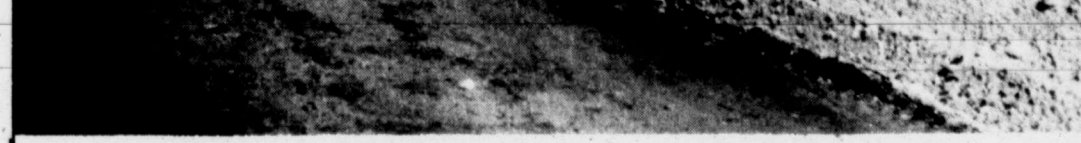

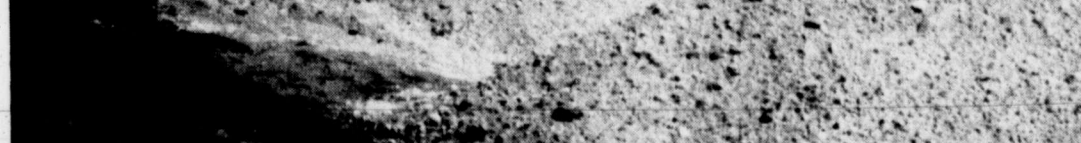

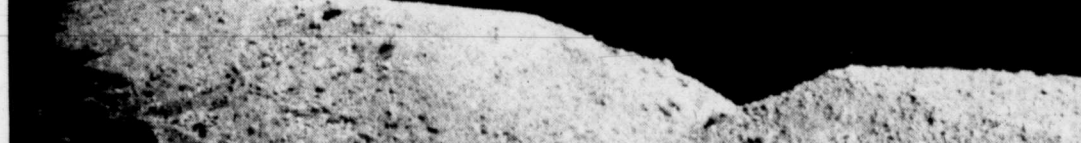

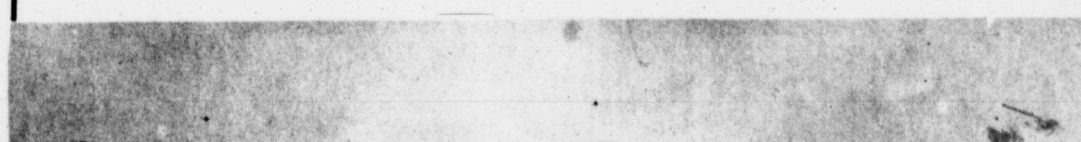

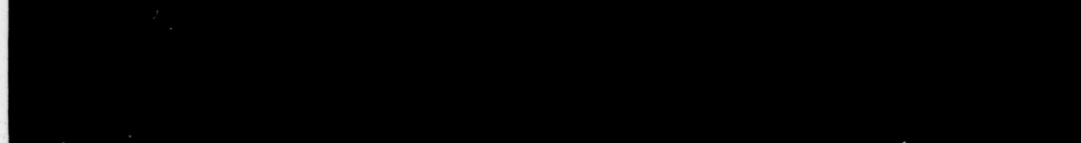

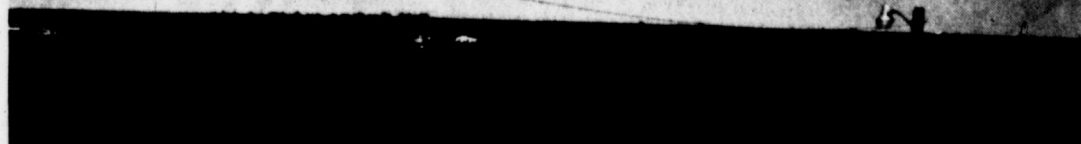

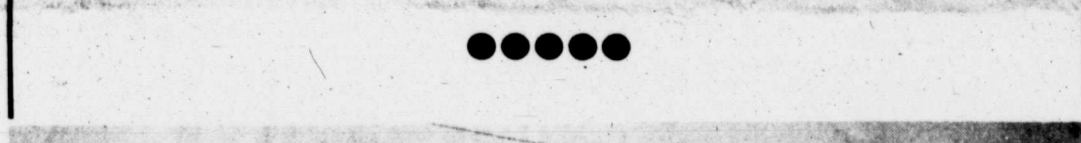

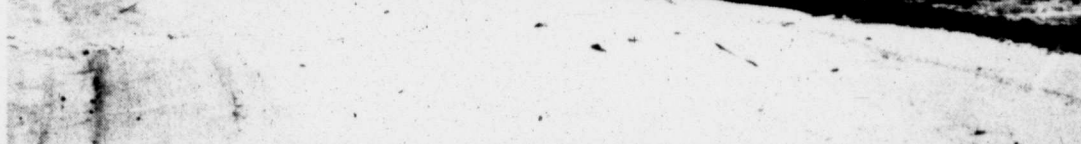

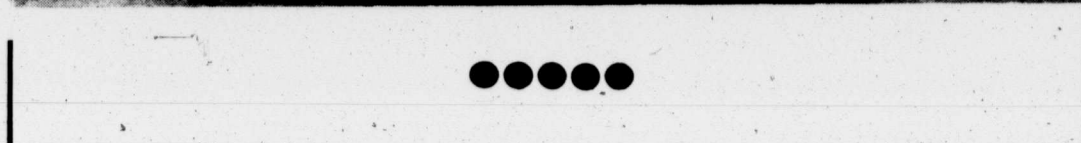

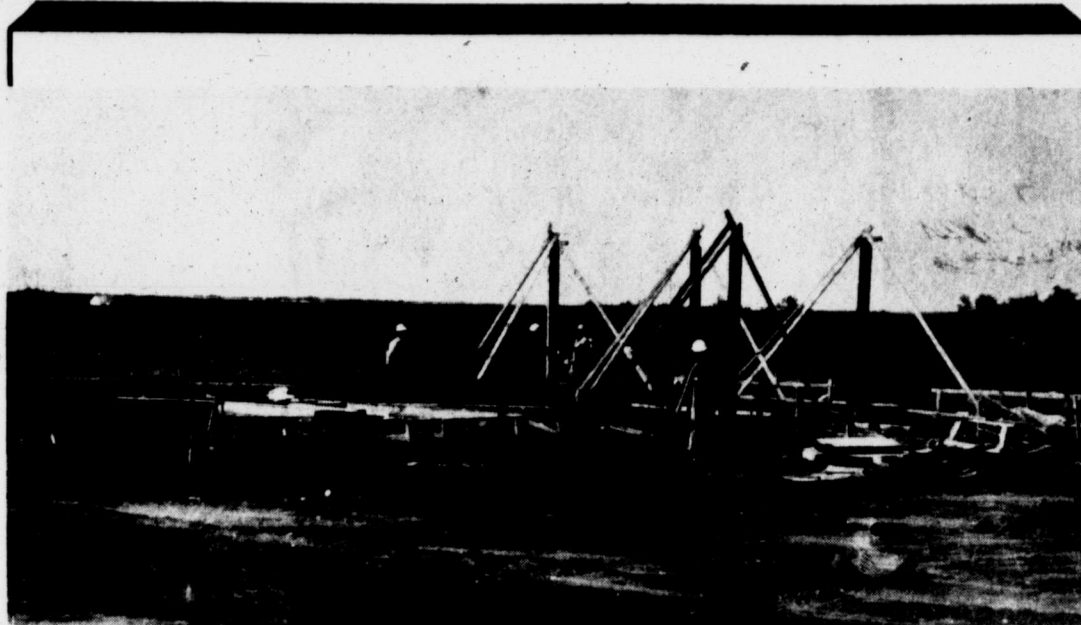

Rumor Not True

Rumors buzzing about town regarding the drop of unsterile "sterile" flies to fight the screwworm problem are not true, County Agent Bobby Lemons said Wednesday.

He noted that there have not even been any fly drops here in some time.

The county agent pointed out that it is important for all cases of screwworms to be reported and samples sent in to the Screwworm Eradication Program Headquarters in Mission, Texas.

Although a freeze will stop screwworms, Lemons noted that the number of cases reported now will determine fly drops in the future.

Work At State Park

Rapid progress is being made on Phase I of work at Lake Colorado City State Park. More than five miles of road have been cut in the park and paving is expected to get underway soon (in bottom picture). In the top picture, a maintenance building is taking shape and in picture second from top, a house for Park Superintendent Joe Robinette is being roofed. The picture second from bottom shows the boat ramp that is also nearing completion. Phase I work will cost about $500,000 and is expected to be completed April 10.

Mrs. Crabtree & Mrs. Fox Speak To Maranatha Club

The Maranatha Study Club met in the home of Mrs. D.L. Gros-thwait at 887 East 13th Street last Thursday with Mrs. Dona Reed, president, presiding.

Prayer was led by Mrs. Elmer Martin and Mrs. P.H. Pace read the minutes of the group's previous meeting.

During a business session, the ladies voted to sponsor the Special Education Class at Wallace School for another year. Among activities planned for the class this year is a Halloween Party Oct. 31.

Roll call was answered with "My Besetting Sin".

Mrs. Woodrow Crabtree presented the devotional and used "A-C-T-S-S-Outline For Prayer" as her subject title.

"A-is for adoration, . . . all prayer should begin with our thinking of the Lord", Mrs. Crabtree began.

"C is for confession. As one feels the presence of God, as one thinks of His purity and righteousness, one remembers the promise in I John 1:9 'If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.'

"T is for thanksgiving. Many people never think of God except when they want something. . . but don't you think He also wants us to talk with him sometimes about so much that He has already given?" she continued.

"S is for supplication, that is, prayer for others. Never forget that prayer for others makes a difference to that person.

"The last S is for submission-not my will, but thine be done."

Mrs. Della Fox presented the program during the meeting. Her subject was "Seven Sins We Seldom Mention".

"Most of us feel if we never rob anyone or never murder anyone, we are all that God intends us to be. But if you analyze them, these flagrant sins are responsible for a small part of the world's misery.

"Unkindness in our rat-race to exist in competitive world shows that we have lost the noble art of just being kind to each other it seems.

"Snobbery is among the things listed in Proverbs that God hates. Snobbery is the modern word for the 'proud look' and today we have all types of snobs-social snobs, religious snobs, racial snobs and others.

"God hates all of these.

"White lies is a sin that has crept individually into the modern way of life.

"We have even come to believe that white lies are justified-even noble, when the cause is good. In God's eyes there is no difference between the exaggerations of a minister who gets carried away with enthusiasm and the salesman who tells falsehoods to sell his ware.

"Hostility we have borrowed from psychology in order to make our feelings sound less

Jehovah's Witnesses Seminar

The Colorado City congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will be attending their semi-annual circuit seminar in Sweetwater Nov. 25 & 26, according to Edward R. Levesque, new presiding overseer of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Levesque became the new presiding overseer Sept. 1 when the elders in the congregation rotated duties.

"A rotation of ministerial duties was carried out in more than 27,000 congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses in over 200 countries," according to Levesque. "These 'older men', spiritually speaking, have had much to do with the spiritual growth of the 434,906 new ministers ordained in the last three years."

The Sweetwater circuit assembly will be held in the new Sweetwater High School Auditorium. Delegates will be attending from 21 congregations in West Texas.

The program is designed to strengthen faith in the Bible and encourage an ever-closer relationship with Jehovah God. Home visits will be made to invite area residents to the assembly sessions, all of which are held free.

Texas District Overseer J.P. Sutherland will be the featured speaker Sunday at 2 p.m., delivering the public address, "Is This Life All There Is?"

controllable. Jesus says 'Who-soever shall be angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgement!'

"The drive for success, or keeping - up - with - the - Jones', has been put ahead of keeping faith with our highest ideals. We have all but forgotten Jesus' words 'man's life consisteth not in the abundance of things which he possess.'

"The yen for power is a sin which Lucifer and the angels fell into. And it is still pulling men down from the heights today.

"We need always to remember as the Bible says that 'Power belongeth to God'.

"Hypocrisy, as we all know, means any person who pretends to be what he is not. Therefore from the businessman who puts out his 'Honest John' sign but resorts to false claims to close a sale to the person who claims he doesn't take to religion, but knows, down in his heart that he is just too morally weak to live up to his convictions are all hypocrites.

"The seven sins in modern dress may seem insignificant to you, but they are not.

"They are symptoms of a disease that has laid hold of human nature.

"The cure for this disease cannot be found in the files of our physician, on the couch of our psychiatrist or at the drug-store-it is found in the Bible verse that states 'For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life,' she concluded.

The hostess served pie, coffee and tea to Mrs. Reed, Mrs. P.H. Leonard Morris, Mrs. Woodrow Crabtree and a new member, Della Fox.

Loraine Bulldogs Take On Bronte

Coaches Corner

By Mike Farda

The Wolves lost a tough game against the Estacado Matadors last week.

The Wolves fought the Matadors all the way on a wet, muddy field. Two touchdowns resulted in the touchdowns made by the Estacado Matadors.

In the first half the Wolves were in good field position but offensively couldn't get-it-together. The entire Wolf Pack played aggressive and well.

Although the Wolves were disappointed in the loss they have character and pride in football and will continue to play hard.

The Wolves have an open date this week. With an extra week week to prepare for Sweetwater the Wolves feel very optimistic.

Sweetwater has a fine football team with speed in their running attack. They also throw the ball well.

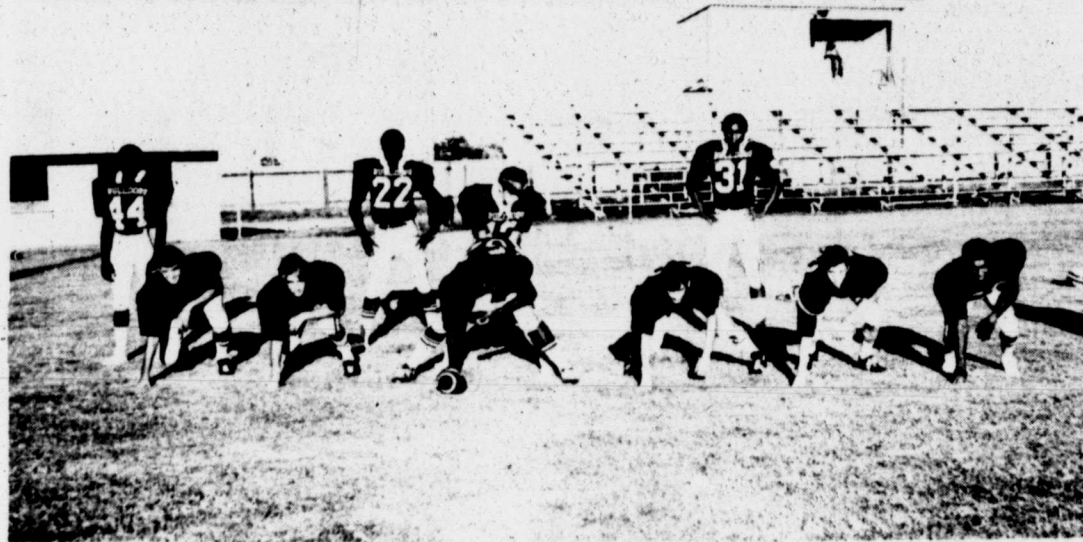

The Wolves have displayed fire and enthusiasm in workouts this week. Even though the Wolves are out of title contention they can now act as spoilers for the rest of the district hopefuls.

The coaches and players would like to express appreciation to the fans who braved the cold, wet weather Friday night, and a special thanks to Mr. A. M. Holman who has not missed a game or very few workouts this year.

PROBLEMS

Latimer, Herbert Marse, Jim Moody, Rex McKinney, Manuel Munoz, Mac McKinnon, F. N. Nelson, Sefton Pickens, Eddie Piland, Woodrow Pratt, Darrell Raines, Tom Rees, Bill Rhode, Manuel Rivera, Kenneth Rogers, Charles Root, J. A. Sadler Jr. and Jon Shambarger.

Those interviewed were asked what they believed were the problems of Mitchell County that, if solved, would make Mitchell County a better place to live.

They were also asked to name the five persons they believed to be the most influential.

From those interviews came the problems and the names of the ones selected for the committee. Of the 35 on the committee, 21 attended Tuesday night's meeting.

Major problem areas identified in the interviews and percent of times these problem areas were mentioned were:

- Public facilities, 17%
- Health & Welfare, 16%
- Economic development, 14%
- Employment, 11%
- Recreation, 9%
- Agriculture, 8%
- Motivation & Leadership, 7%
- Government, 7%
- Education, 6%
- Minority groups, 5%
- Social & Spiritual, 1%

At the meeting Tuesday night, four discussion groups were formed to discuss the results of the survey and consider what priority should be given to an in-depth study of what particular problem.

There was a clear consensus that four of the top mentioned problems, more jobs for all, industrial development, need more vocational training and more jobs for young people, were inter-related and should receive top priority.

Recently and Lee Jones is to be commended for his fine work and for giving the many hours it took to assemble the information necessary to compile this publication.

Some time ago, a picture feature on the Colorado City Historical museum appeared in the Abilene Reporter-News. Not long afterwards, a letter to the editor in the same newspaper asked why Abilene didn't have a similar institution.

Here we are, a town of nearly 100,000, without a historical museum while these small towns Baird, Albany, Colorado City and Buffalo Gap all have museums," the letter writer wrote in scorn.

Recently R. N. Gray, Rt. 2, Loraine, brought in a picture that showed what happened because of a careless hunter.

The picture, which is too grotesque to print, shows a cow which was shot in the jaw. The bullet penetrated the left jaw and passed through to the right side of the jaw, shattering the jaw. The bullet penetrated the base of the tongue causing paralysis.

Gray said he believes night hunters shot, thinking the cow was a deer.

Game Warden Curtis Thomson has an excellent film on hunting safety which he has been showing to various groups.

On minorities, problems expressed were limited job opportunities, low wages, segregated communities, social discrimination, limited government services, need to be better understood, and a need to have more opportunity for involvement in community decisions.

Latimer, Herbert Moarse, Jim Moody, Rex McKinney, Manuel Munoz, Mac McKinnon, F. N. Nelson, Sefton Pickens, Eddie Piland, Woodrow Pratt, Darrell Raines, Tom Rees, Bill Rhode, Manuel Rivera, Kenneth Rogers, Charles Root, J. A. Sadler Jr. and Jon Shamburger.

Those interviewed were asked what they believed were the problems of Mitchell County that, if solved, would make Mitchell County a better place to live.

They were also asked to name the five persons they believed to be the most influential.

From those interviews came the problems and the names of the ones selected for the committee. Of the 35 on the committee, 21 attended Tuesday night's meeting.

Major problem areas identified in the interviews and percent of times these problem areas were mentioned were:

- Public facilities, 17%
- Health & Welfare, 16%
- Economic development, 14%
- Employment, 11%
- Recreation, 9%
- Agriculture, 8%
- Motivation & Leadership, 7%
- Government, 7%
- Education, 6%
- Minority groups, 5%
- Social & Spiritual, 4%

At the meeting Tuesday night, four discussion groups were formed to discuss the results of the survey and consider what priority should be given to an in-depth study of what particular problem.

There was a clear consensus that four of the top mentioned problems, more jobs for all, industrial development, need more vocational training and more jobs for young people, were inter-related and should receive top priority.

Recently Lee Jones is to be commended for his fine work and for giving the many hours it took to assemble the information necessary to compile this publication.

Some time ago, a picture feature on the Colorado City Historical museum appeared in the Abilene Reporter-News. Not long afterwards, a letter to the editor in the same newspaper asked why Abilene didn't have a similar institution.

"Here we are, a town of nearly 100,000, without a historical museum while these small towns Baird, Albany, Colorado City and Buffalo, Ga. all have museums," the letter writer wrote in 1968.

Recently R. N. Gray, Rt. 2, Lorraine, brought in a picture that showed what happened because of a careless hunter.

The picture, which is too grotesque to print, shows a cow which was shot in the jaw. The bullet penetrated the left jaw and passed through to the right side of the jaw, shattering the jaw. The bullet penetrated the base of the tongue causing paralysis.

Gray said he believes night hunters shot, thinking the cow was a deer.

Game Warden Curtis Thomason has an excellent film on hunting safety which he has been showing to various groups.

On minorities, problems expressed were limited job opportunities, low wages, segregated communities, social discrimination, limited government services, need to be better understood, and a need to have more opportunity for involvement in community decisions.

Those named to work on the committee with Mrs. Powell are Dr. W. Kenneth Cowan, Mrs. W.L. Green, David Houston, Bob Reilly and Martin Weaver.

Farmcast

Compiled From Sources
Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Texas agriculture continues to be punished by the screwworm, fire ant, citrus black fly, and cattle fever tick. Programs are underway to eradicate or control these pests. Screwworm eradication officials at Mission continue to urge livestock producers to check all livestock regularly, treat wounds on livestock for screwworm control, and submit suspected screwworm samples to the fly laboratory for verification. Plans are being made now for 1973 eradication program. Knowing the exact whereabouts of the screwworm and the intensity of its infestations will be a big help in mapping the sterile fly-drops for next year.

CATTLE fever center at Alice reports progress is being made in controlling the spread of that pest. Because of the reproductive ability of the fever tick, it could take two years before the pest is eradicated. Complete cooperation of cattle producers in the affected area—in South Texas—will be needed to eradicate the fever tick.

SIXTEEN. One, One, Twelve. This is not a quarterback calling football signals. It is the rankings of Texas in various field crops for 1971 as compared with the rest of the nation. Texas, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service is:

First in rice production; first in grain sorghum production, second in hairy vetch seed production, third in peanut production, fourth in broomcorn production, twelfth in production of all hay, fourteenth in sugarbeet production, sixteenth in corn production, twenty-seventh in soybean production.

The top ten counties in grain sorghum production are Hale, Parmer, Swisher, Deaf Smith, Castro, Floyd, Lamb, Hidalgo, Nueces and Hansford. Top hay producing counties in the state are Grimes, Leon, Lamar, Hopkins, Red River, Wilbarger, Fannin, Cooke, Kaufman, Gaines.

Top peanut producing counties are Comanche, Frio, Eastland, Atascosa, Wilson, Erath, Mason, Fannin, Houston and Gaines.

If you want complete information on 1971 crop production in Texas, write to the Texas Department of Agriculture, Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711 and ask for 1971 Texas Field Crop Statistics.

Use Of Residues Give Protection

"The proper use of crop residues, where sufficient residues are produced, will give more overall protection against wind and water erosion than any other practice that can be used," states John Kazda of the Soil Conservation Service.

Research reveals that, where a good cover of crop residue is left on the surface of the soil, loss of soil during heavy rains may be reduced by as much as 80 percent; runoff reduced by one-half and soil loss by wind erosion reduced as much as 90 percent.

These figures will be reduced as the amount of residue diminishes, but one ton of residue per acre gives impressive results.

Sorghums, sudan and small grains are high residue producing crops and may be grown for residues. When sufficient growth is obtained, they may be harvested or grazed leaving enough residue to provide protection from wind erosion.

The skip row method of planting cotton makes the growing and management of crop residue possible on cotton land.

If the blank rows are planted to high residue producing crops, such as sorghums or small grains in the late summer or fall, they will not take enough moisture from the cotton crop to materially affect the cotton yield and will furnish erosion and pollution protection to the land. In addition to erosion protection, the root system of these crops conditions the soil to absorb water faster, thereby reducing runoff.

Cotton burs or other residue may be applied to the soil but it is usually more economical to grow the residue.

Seeding blanks in skip row cotton offers an opportunity to eliminate the need for a sand fighter by using last year's residue to protect the young cotton plants.

Ingram Named Manager

Byron Ingram has been named marketing manager for Colorado City by Southwestern Bell.

He and his staff will provide sales and service for business telephone customers here. Ingram is headquartered in Abilene.

He succeeds Rod McLeod, who resigned from Southwestern Bell to enter private business.

TAXES
chased by the company almost a year ago and they opened the restaurant section in March and were in the process of remodeling the rooms in the four upper stories of the building.

However, the building was closed in late summer and no future plans for the building have been announced. Local public housing officials have been seeking ways to buy the building and turn it into an apartment building for the elderly.

However, their efforts have not yet been successful.

Of the $33,575.37 received here Tuesday, $5,276.03 went to the county hospital and state; $14,245.61 went to the school district and $14,053.73 went to the city.

Of that $33,575.37, almost $8,000 was for penalties and interest.

The tax attorneys will receive a 15 per cent commission as their fee for handling the case. The city Tuesday also received a $141 check from the state for the taxes on liquor sold in Colorado City.

Beautification

The appearance of Colorado City is beginning to take on a different look.

Forty-One light poles with tear-drop globes in the downtown area are being painted black with gold globes and braces.

Just this simple paint job will have a beautifying effect on the poles. Our thanks for this to Texas Electric Service Co., and local manager Don Benson, and to the city of Colorado City and City Manager J.A. Sadler Jr.

The Noon Lions Club has decided to coordinate another project that will add beauty to the city. It involves the placing of Japanese Black Pines in wooden containers on downtown streets and in front of businesses.

This project was devised by Mrs. Tom (Jodie) Jeff, member of the Chamber of Commerce Development Committee. We appreciate what she has done on this and many other beautification projects.

Our thanks to the Noon Lions Club for taking on this project.
