Grain Nosedives To Erase Gains Made This Week

PRICES BREAK VIOLENTLY ON CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE; OUTSIDE MARKETS ARE WEAK

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Grain broke violently on the Chicago board of trade today. Wheat and corn opened at losses of from 1 to 2 5-8 cents compared with yesterday's close. Other grains were correspondingly lower.

The gains made yesterday as well as some of those of the day before were wiped out right at the start. The break was so fast that opening quotations showed a spread of as much as one cent.

Weakness at outside markets, principally Liverpool, was a contributing factor to the general sentiment that the bull market was long overdue for a reaction.

Other markets in the United States opened from 1 1-8 to 1 7-8 cent off.

The market quieted down and after a half hour's trading both wheat and corn were selling somewhat higher than during the opening break, but still 1½ cents under yesterday's close

Liverpool continued to sag on renewed offerings from Argentina and favorable crop reports from Australia. Wheat contracts in that market showed net losses of from 2 3-4 to 3 1-4 pence.

Seed Loan Pool Is Established

ARRANGEMENTS MADE BETWEEN FARMERS AND CO-OPS

(Special To The Journal)

DALLAS, Nov. 6—A seed loan pool to receive and handle seed loan cotton has been established as a result of arrangements by the farmers seed loan office with cooperatives, R. J. Murray, general manager of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association, said here today.

Cotton placed in the pool will receive the government's eight cents a pound collateralization privilege and can be held in press for higher market levels under a plan similar in principle to the cooperatives' regular optional pool.

The regular arrangement supersedes the placing of seed loan cotton by borrowers in any but the special seed loan pool if delivered to the cooperatives. This change is expected to prove a distinct advantage to borrowers, Murray said.

Cooperatives also have been authorized to assist borrowers in determining the collateralization of their seed loan mortgages so that when it is accomplished the borrowers may draw full authorized advances.

Murray said the special seed loan pool had been created in the Texas association and that the organization had placed its full facilities at the disposal of seed loan borrowers in the liquidation of their mortgages and an opportunity to hold for higher cotton prices.

The Texas association's branch offices had been notified of the plan, Murray said.

Capone Boys Spend Night In Lockup

CHICAGO, Nov. 6 (AP)—The Capone boys slept last night in the county jail.

Alphonse, under 11-year sentence for violating the income tax laws, was there because he can't decide in which jail to spend his time while awaiting an appeal.

Ralph, under a three-year sentence for the same offense, was there in preparation for leaving tonight or tomorrow for the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan.

They were in separate cells. Al was in a hospital cell where he read detective novels. Ralph was in the general lockup.

Ralph surrendered to the United States marshal shortly before 2 p. m., when his bond might have been forfeited.

TO SLASH OIL PRODUCTION

EXECUTIVE ORDER IS GIVEN BY STERLING TO REDUCE FLOW

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 6—Production allowable in the East Texas oil field will be reduced to 125 barrels per well daily effective tomorrow under an executive order issued by Governor R. S. Sterling.

The new allowable will be incorporated in a military order to be promulgated by General Jacob F. Wolters, in command of the Texas national guard enforcing proration in the field.

An allowable of 150 barrels per well daily only recently was promulgated, but new wells brought in sent the area production to beyond the 400,000 barrels daily set as the maximum output.

Meanwhile, Governor Sterling was working on a new method of regulating the field and was considering suggestions offered from all sources.

MAN CHARGED IN BURNING COTTON

A charge of burning about a bale of unginned cotton belonging to G. E. Seal, a deputy sheriff who had been instrumental in his arrest as a swindling suspect, was filed in county court this morning against P. W. Crawford, about 45, of Woodrow community. He was arrested by the sheriff's department. His trial was set for Saturday morning.

Tracks leading from the burned cotton were followed 12 miles to Crawford's home, where a sack, identified as that which had been used by one of Seal's pickers, was found hidden with a pair of shoes, the county attorney said. Crawford said he went to his son's home Thursday night, fell asleep in a gin on returning, and after midnight awoke and continued his trip home, the prosecutor related.

County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson said Crawford pleaded guilty of swindling in county court and received a jail sentence and fine, being released later because of his physical condition on recommendation of Dr. W. L. Baugh, county health officer.

NAN BRITTON TO APPEAL HER SUIT

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 6. (AP)—Nan Britton, author of "The President's Daughter," has lost her $50,000 libel suit against C. A. Klunk, Marion, O., hotel operator who helped distribute the book, "The Answer to the President's Daughter."

A federal court jury late yesterday found "no cause for action" in Miss Britton's suit which was filed on the ground that the book which Klunk circulated defamed her character.

Miss Britton, who in her book declared the late President Warren G. Harding was the father of her 12-year-old daughter, announced through her attorney she would appeal the case to the United States' supreme court if necessary.

Newspapers Replace Prison "Grapevine"

HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 6. (AP)—The daily newspaper will soon replace the "grapevine telegraph" as the greatest bearer of information to the men "behind the walls" of Texas state prison.

Three hours after W. A. Paddock of Houston, chairman of the prison board, announced yesterday the three year ban on newspapers for prisoners was lifted, every man within that walls and on the farms had received the news—by "grapevine telegraph."

The prison board said colorful stories of crime in newspapers prevented earlier removal of the ban.

NINE INJURED IN COLORADO EXPLOSION

FOUR ARE EXPECTED TO DIE; ANOTHER MISHAP OCCURS

(By The Associated Press)

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Nov. 6.—A five-inch anti-aircraft gun of the battleship Colorado exploded late yesterday, killing one officer and three seamen and injuring nine others, four possibly fatally.

Shortly afterward, aboard the battleship Maryland, a petty officer was crushed in the mechanism of another anti-aircraft gun and injured so badly he was not expected to survive.

In Mythical Attack

The two accidents occurred as the dreadnaughts were near Santa Rosa island, a few miles off Santa Barbara, repulsing a mythical enemy air force attack.

The accident aboard the Colorado was one of the worst in peace time since the disastrous explosion in a gun turret aboard the U. S. S. Mississippi off the harbor here in 1924 when 48 lives were lost.

The U. S. S. Colorado listed its toll as follows:

Dead:

Lieut. Ralph F. Bradford, jr., Ponticac, Ill.

Lewis A. Clark, seaman, second class, Los Gatos, Calif.

Maurice G. Hawkins, seaman, first class, Hastings, Mich.

J. J. Schnur, seaman, first class, St. Louis.

Possibly fatally injured:

Lieut. Winston I. Quattlebaum, of Kentucky, who entered service from Texas.

Ensign John B. Huntley, appointed to Annapolis from Ohio.

R. O. Duff, seaman, first class.

G. E. Swift, seaman, first class.

The victim aboard the Maryland was J. J. Plummer, a gun captain. He was under the gun instructing a crew in firing practice and had

FIVE MEN DIE IN CRACKUP

PASSENGERS, PILOTS BURN TO DEATH IN PLANE CRASH

(By The Associated Press)

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 6. — Five men—two pilots and three passengers—were burned to death when a Newark-to-Washington passenger airliner, maneuvering for a landing at the Camden airport last night, fell into the soft turf of a nearby golf course and burst into flames.

Something went wrong—an investigation today hoped to fix the responsibility—and the plane dropped like lead, its nose burying itself in two feet of earth. Flames wrapped about the wrecked liner as it struck the earth, driving back hundreds of persons who sped to the rescue of the crash victims. Terrific heat made rescue work impossible and the bodies of the victims could not be reached until a fire department had extinguished the flames.

At the controls of the ship was Floyd Cox, a veteran flier with more than 3,000 hours flying experience. In the cabin behind were Vernon Lucas, a fellow pilot going back to his Washington home after a flight to New York; Elmer Smith, advertising manager of the Washington Herald; George B. Taylor, director of the laboratory division of the Chestnut Farms dairy in Washington, and Francis R. Efile, of Riverton, N. J., president of the International Resistance company. All were burned beyond recognition, although none were crushed.

WHILE WRITERS PROBE COAL FIELDS, KENTUCKIANS WILL PROBE NEW YORK

(By The Associated Press)

PINEVILLE, Ky., Nov. 6—The "Sidewalks of New York" are threatened with investigation by a group of citizens of this little mountain town as a result of a committee of New York writers coming to the Kentucky coal fields to inquire into reports of a "reign of terror."

Theodore Dreiser and his group arrived here yesterday to investigate the novelist's charges of "blackjack rule" over striking miners by Harlan county officials. They compose a committee for the defense of political prisoners.

Several Pineville citizens, calling themselves "the society for the protection of defenseless children," retorted last night by proposing an inquiry into the slaying of children by gangsters on New York streets. Herndon J. Evans, editor of the weekly paper here, is chairman.

The Dreiser committee had preceded its Kentucky visit by telegraphing Gov. Flem D. Sampson demanding protection while in the coal fields. Evans' society wired Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York demanding "full protection of the law" while its inquiry was in progress in New York. Gov. W. H. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray of Oklahoma and Will Rogers, humorist, were invited to join in the investigation.

BIG BUILDING PROGRAM IS UNDER WAY

EMPLOYMENT WILL BE GIVEN THOUSANDS IN THE SOUTH

(By The Associated Press)

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 6.—A $250,000,000 building program providing employment for thousands is under way in the South.

Louisiana has approximately 22,000 persons employed on projects included in a $75,000,000 road and bridge authorization. Five hundred additional are at work on a new $5,000,000 state house at Baton Rouge.

Arkansas projects include a $1,475,000 post office at Little Rock, an $800,000 post office at Texarkana and a $185,000 clinical building to be started shortly at Fort Roots veterans hospital at Little Rock.

Projects Planned

A $2,000,000 post office at Louisville, a $100,000 pioneer memorial monument for which a contract to be awarded at Harrodsburg next month, and a post office planned at Lexington next year are among the outstanding public works projects in Kentucky.

East Tennessee reports public works and other projects involving expenditure of approximately $2,745,000. A $21,000,000 expansion program was reported from the Memphis district. It will give work to 10,000. A $16,000,000 flood control and harbor improvement program of the government is included. Nashville announced nearly $5,000,000 expenditures contemplated in Tennessee.

In Florida an $800,000 building program is being hurried to completion for the winter season at Palm Beach. Foundations of a $1,700,000 post office and federal build-

Poison Death Case Ends In Deadlock

LEBANON, Ind., Nov. 6. (AP)—The five weeks' long trial of Carrie Simmons for the poison murder of her daughter, Alice Jean, 10, ended last night without a verdict.

A jury of Boone county farmers, unable to agree after 48 hours' deliberation, reported a verdict was impossible, and was discharged by Circuit Judge John W. Hornaday. The vote stood at eight to four for acquittal on the final ballot.

The jurymen had deliberated since Tuesday night on whether Mrs. Simmons slipped poison-filled capsules into sandwiches she prepared for a family reunion picnic here last June 21.

Two Persons Injured In Accidents This Morning

AUTO STRIKES WAGON AND TWO OTHER CARS COLLIDE

Two persons were injured in two vehicular accidents near Lubbock this morning.

Jack Copeland, 1907 Eighth street, suffered a leg injury and minor cuts and abrasions over the right eye when an automobile he was driving struck the rear of a cotton wagon early this morning about a mile and a half southeast of here on state highway No. 7.

Automobile Wrecked

The wagon, which was attached to another as a trailer, virtually was demolished and the automobile wrecked. The driver of the wagons escaped injury, the sheriff's department reported. Copeland was enroute to Lubbock from Slaton, to which he had delivered bundles of daily newspapers.

Mrs. C. H. French, 45, of Ropesville was received at Lubbock sanitarium as a result of being thrown from an automobile driven by her husband when it and another car collided. She suffered minor cuts and bruises and several fractured ribs. Mr. French, about 48, was not hurt.

The accident occurred at about 10 o'clock about two miles southwest of here. Mr. and Mrs. French said they did not learn identity of occupants of the other automobile, but believed they were farmers bringing milk to town, sanitarium attaches said.

Rev. Vinson Shot, Then Decapitated

PEIPING, China, Nov. 6 (AP)—The United States legation said today it had learned Rev. J. W. Vinson, American missionary who was killed by Chinese bandits, was first wounded through the heart and afterward decapitated.

It was assumed, legation officials said, he was killed by a band of 600 brigands which has been active in the Haichow region. The body will be taken to Haichow for burial tomorrow.

POLICE MARKING TIME IN WAR ON SLOT MACHINES

Lubbock police were marking time this morning in the latest drive against slot machines and punch boards and Chief of Police John Lemond said the department probably would have determined by tonight or Saturday morning whether the gambling devices had been taken out as ordered.

Charges will be filed in connection with operations of the machines and boards in public places if they are not removed "immediately," police warned Thursday.

Fourteen slot machines were found in business houses exchanging merchandise for slugs, police reported. Most of the slot devices were installed by owners who agreed to pay operators of shops in which they were located a percentage of receipts, police indicated.

Operation of slot machines returning slugs used in buying merchandise is a violation of state law, Police Chief Lemond said. Drives against such operations recur spasmodically here.

Will Rogers Turns Cowboy For A Day

KINGSVILLE, Nov. 6 (AP)—Will Rogers' old loves, the lasso and the sun tanned men of the cattle country, had caused the humorist to drop hours behind time today in his schedule of travel.

When the time came yesterday for him to depart for Uvalde for a brief visit with Congressman John Garner, he was roping calves on the back stretches of the gigantic King ranch.

Meanwhile, Congressman Garner stood in the sun at the Uvalde airport, waiting in vain for his guest.

At night Rogers sat down cross legged on the open range to eat a real chuck wagon supper. He planned to fly to Uvalde today.

JAPANESE WIN THREE-DAY BATTLE

LEAGUE OF NATIONS WILL SEEK TO END SINO-JAP FUSS

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Nov. 6—Japanese troops crushed a Chinese army in a three-day battle in Manchuria, and sent them flying northward in disorderly retreat, said dispatches from Mukden today to the Rengo News agency.

The Japanese lost 130 killed in the Nonni river bridgehead area in north-central Manchuria. The battle ended at 1:30 o'clock tonight when reinforced Japanese launched an offensive which dislodged the Heilung-Kiang province army.

The dispatch to the Rengo News agency said only three Japanese companies bore the brunt of the severe fighting north of the Nonni river, which began Wednesday. They opposed Chinese tenfold more numerous and possessing cavalry and artillery.

The Chinese appeared to have suffered considerable losses.

The war office here asserted the Japanese force in the Nonni river area, including today's reinforcements, was about 900 men, including three batteries of artillery.

HOUSE MEMBER DIES AFTER OPERATION

DEATH OF ONLY G. O. P. TEXAS CONGRESSMAN HIKES DEMO LEAD

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 6.—Death struck unexpectedly into the Republican ranks today when Congressman Harry M. Wurzbach of Seguin, member of the national house of representatives, died of complications after an appendicitis operation that never was considered serious.

Wurzbach, Texas' only Republican congressman, represented what was known as a "shoe string" (Fourteenth) district, the tier of counties comprising it stretches from the hills of Kerr county to the coast at Corpus Christi.

Won Many Battles

The congressman had won many spectacular political battles not only with the Democratic opposition but with members of his own party as well to remain in Washington.

Last November he achieved the greatest victory of his career when he defeated the Democratic nominee by the widest margin he ever was able to put between him and his opponent.

When Wurzbach, then county judge of Guadalupe county, was first elected to congress on November 2, 1920, defeating Carlos Bee of San Antonio, a Democrat of high rank in those days, politicians did not know what to think about the banner Jeffersonian state of the union and electors of the district were little less surprised.

Wurzbach often said that but for the Democrats suffrage he could not stay in congress. The Democrats sought hard to replace him each of the five times he had sought re-election after his victory of 1920.

Challenged Election

His hardest political battle, doubtless, came in 1928, when Augustus McCloskey, county judge of Bexar county for many years and a member of the political ring that had

GAS BOOKS TO BE PROBED

CITY EXAMINATION OF RECORDS SCHEDULED TO OPEN TODAY

Examination of West Texas Gas company and South Plains Pipe Line company books by D. D. Martin, City accountant, to determine City commission's next move in its movement for reduced gas rates, was postponed to 1 o'clock this afternoon when a representative of the utilities did not arrive here as expected this morning to confer with Martin.

In ordering the preliminary inquiry, City commission indicated if it were not satisfied with the accountant's findings, it would have a separate audit and appraisal made of the companies' books and properties.

Others Interested

The probe will get under way with fourteen other South Plains communities interested in the move. These towns, also served by the West Texas Gas company, would be entitled to any reduction in gas rates Lubbock might receive, attorneys for the gas concerns have explained. The towns are: Canyon, Plainview, Tulia, Floydada, Abernathy, Lockney, Slaton, Idalou, Crosbyton, Lorenzo, Ralls, Hale Center, Happy and Hereford.

A city ordinance has been proposed which would fix the maximum domestic rate at 55 cents a thousand cubic feet, as compared to prevailing charges of 67 1-2 cents a thousand for the first 6,000 cubic feet and 57 1-2 cents a thousand for 6,000 to 50,000 cubic feet.

HEADACHES caused by ACID

Acidity haunts its victim like a shadow. No appetite; what you do eat disagrees, causes flatulence and makes you sluggish. Work is an effort. Before night, a headache.

Do you know what is wrong? An acid-soaked system! Too many acid foods. But you need not diet your way out of this difficulty! Take a tablespoonful or two of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

From the hour you relieve that acid condition you will feel like another person. Every spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia will neutralize many times as much acid. Take it when stomach nerves are over-stimulated through worry, or excitement; when everything ferments in your stomach, and waste matter is poisoning the bloodstream or whenever the bowels are clogged. Phillips' Milk of Magnesia has a gentle, laxative action. It is ever so much better for one than the harsh purgatives that upset the stomach or weaken the bowel muscles. An occasional dose of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is all that is necessary to avoid those periodical attacks of sluggishness so apt to occur with any person who does not get a great deal of physical exercise.

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is sold at drug stores everywhere in 25c and 50c bottles. Be sure to say "Phillips'" when you buy. Then you're sure of getting the product that doctors prescribe.

The ideal dentifrice for clean teeth and healthy gums is Phillips' Dental Magnesia, a superior toothpaste that safeguards against acidmouth.

From a grumbling tooth to those rheumatic pains which seem almost to bend the bones, Bayer Aspirin is ready with its quick relief—and always works. Neuralgia. Neuritis. Any nagging, needless pain.

Bayer-Tablets of Aspirin — Genuine

Get the genuine tablets, stamped with the Bayer cross. They are of perfect purity, absolute uniformity, and have the same action every time. Why experiment with imitations costing a few cents less? The saving is too little. There is too much at stake. But there is economy in the purchase of genuine Bayer Aspirin tablets in the large bottles.

No can of Hills Bros. Coffee will ever "go stale." The vacuum can keeps it FRESH ALWAYS!

Critics marvel at aroma and flavor of Hills Bros Coffee

Matchless flavor produced by Controlled Roasting—Hills Bros' patented, continuous process

Rare blend is roasted evenly, continuously, a little at a time

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . .

a little at a time

. . . so the uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by Controlled Roasting—the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . a little at a time

Critical people everywhere, who have tried Hills Bros. Coffee, buy it again and again. For no other coffee is more dependable! Today, next month, next year . . . Hills Bros. Coffee tastes the same . . . mellow, smooth, refreshing!

Controlled Roasting does it! Instead of roasting in bulk, Hills Bros. roast a little at a time . . . evenly, continuously, by Controlled Roasting. This patented, automatic process doesn't permit any underdone or overdone berries to pass from the roasters, to the grinders, to the vacuum cans—to you!

Remember, Hills Bros.' cans are vacuum packed. That is important to you! Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken out and kept out of these cans. Ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. But Hills Bros. comes to you in its full flavor, always.

Words could never describe the delight you will find in Hills Bros. Coffee. You have to sip a fragrant, steaming cupful. Then, and then only will you know what an improvement Controlled Roasting is over ordinary, bulk methods! Order Hills Bros. Coffee by name. Look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

EVIDENCE THAT MAYAS WERE FIRST TO LIVE IN CENTRAL AMERICA FOUND

BY F. B. COLTON
Associated Press Science Editor

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—Evidence that the Mayas, remains of whose mighty cities now are buried in Central American jungles were the first people ever to live in that region has been discovered by the Carnegie institution of Washington.

Oliver Riketson, jr., archaeologist of the institution, reported his expedition had dug down to bed rock on the site of Uaxactun, an ancient Maya city in Guatemala, and had found Maya relics at the deepest levels. This indicates, he said, that that part of the world must have been uninhabited before the Mayas arrived about 600 years before Christ. They probably came from the north, after crossing from Asia by way of Bering strait.

Pyramids Built

The Mayas built giant pyramids and other structures and developed a civilization comparable to that of ancient Egypt.

Digging below the floor of the plaza of Uaxactun, the Carnegie scientists found a series of six pavements. Below the lowest was a refuse heap of some ancient Maya households.

Uaxactun is the site of one of the many ruined Mayan "cities" or civic centers scattered through the jungles of Guatemala and Yucatan. Pyramids and other large buildings were erected around a central square or plaza on a hill top. Houses of the common people, each with a plot of ground for growing crops, surrounded the civic center.

The excavations down to bed rock indicate, Ricketson explained, that the site was occupied at least 500 years before 68 A. D. So that the Mayas certainly lived at Uaxactun for more than 1,000 years.

HARD WATER PLUS MELO MAKES SOFT WATER

Very dirty pans? No, very hard water

THE pots and pans weren't very greasy. But the water was hard. It mixed with the soap, and formed scum! How could pots and pans get clean? They just had to stay greasy! They needed a cleaner!

That was before Melo's time. Now hard water, softened with Melo, becomes a very fine cleaner, with or without soap. Dirty ring? Scum? Grease? All gone. Soap much more effective! Pots and pans? Shiny and gleaming! At 10c a can you can afford to buy three—one for the kitchen, laundry, and bathroom.

INABILITY TO CONVERSE

From many an adolescent reader, and from an occasional parent, letters come describing painful discomfort and worry over alleged inability to carry on a conversation. 'I so often don't know what to say in a group and feel so uncomfortable," writes one. "My inability to keep up in a conversation makes me very unhappy," states another.

Back of these statements is a curious false assumption, namely, that to talk and to talk fluently is essential to being considered at ease or agreeable. To any one, of course, who thinks he must talk continuously when with others, silence forced by speechlessness must be excruciatingly painful. But who has ever proved that one can't be comfortable while silent or can't then be agreeable company?

As a matter of fact, those who talk glibly and converse with ease and fluency, the very persons whose conversation tends to magnify in the mind of many a sufferer his own relative inability to converse well, are also the ones who are most delighted to have silent, animated listeners in their company.

Please, then, my suffering friends, learn to capitalize on your silence. Get pleasure from it, knowing that you are giving so much pleasure to others who are very eager to do most of the talking. Once you actually realize that you are affording others in your company pleasure by your reticence, silence will no longer prove painful to you. Bless you, by not talking, you are making yourself to that degree more likable, if you please.

The more reticent you attend, and the more animation you then betray, the more pleasing you will grow as a member of the social group. But if you have it in your head that you must always be saying something in order to be agreeable and likable, and have fear that you cannot succeed, your attention will be so much turned upon your failure and your feelings that you cannot listen well. As a result you will not be an attractive auditor. By your very discomfiture you will suggest disinterest, practically announcing to your company that they and what they say are not important. Then they will like you less, to be sure. Sensing their reaction to you then and not knowing what to do about it, your embarrassment grows and your pain without ceasing.

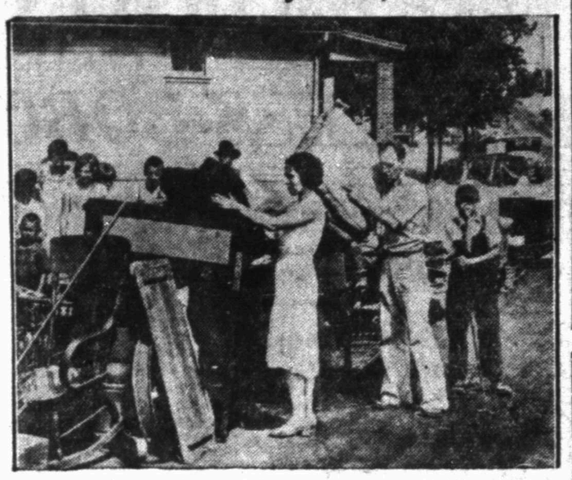

Once you can get a healthy point of view about the matter, and actually can arrive at a level of self-control and self-abandon, when you can entirely relax and allow yourself to enjoy the speech of others, you will, unawares, break into the conversation occasionally bye and bye, and say something when you are inspired to do so.

Let me confess that I have long shared the grief some of my friends have so often written about. I at last arrived at the point of view I have here set forth. With deliberate efforts to try it out I put it into practice. It has worked. I have escaped a vast amount of suffering of the kind I once endured. I have found, for example, that many people whom I meet not only like to talk, but have a good deal to say worth my listening to. All one has to do is to manifest genuine interest. When they seem to have run down, a question or two will start them going again for a good long while.

I wish some of my readers would try out this scheme and write me of the results, for if I am to judge from the large number of letters coming to me from over all the country on this subject, the problem is appallingly prevalent.

TECH MATADORS WILL MEET A. C. C. WILDCATS HERE TONIGHT

LUBBOCK WESTERNERS FACE CHILDRESS BOBCATS SATURDAY

TEAMS EVENLY DIVIDED IN VICTORIES

GAME DEDICATED TO MEMORY OF KNUTE ROCKNE TONIGHT

Two football games at home remain on the 1931 schedule for Texas Tech's Matadors and Lubbock fans. The first of these will be played tonight when Pete Cawthon's scarlet-jersied warriors attempt a defense against the up and coming Abilene Christian college Wildcats, coached by Bugs Morris.

Morris, a former player at Texas A. and M., has taught a bunch of veteran gridsters how to run with and pass the football to such an extent that the team finds itself leading the western division of the T. I. A. A. and a favorite to go right on through the entire association for a conference title. The Wildcat coach has elected to follow the system learned under Dana X. Bible when the latter put out championship teams at the Aggie school and now, having consumed the better part of three years in building up a team, has a bunch of seniors and juniors well versed in offensive tactics.

Meet Under Lights

The teams meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the seventh game between the schools. The game score is even, each team having defeated the other three times, and tonight provided an opportunity for one to get ahead of the other. Tech was behind until last year but a Matador victory to the tune of 53 to 7 not only tied the count but gave the locals a margin of points that will be hard to overcome, even by the great scoring machine which has ridden over four out of five opponents this season. In view of the "rubber" game, Tech's big victory last year and the natural ability of both teams tonight's affair should be well worth watching.

The Tech-A. C. C. game has been designated as Tech's observance of a national movement toward the memorial of the memory of Knute Rockne, late coach of Notre Dame and a small part of the gate receipts will go into a fund being raised to build a lasting monument to the great coach. The game itself will be dedicated to Rockne, and a be fi ceremony between halves in which tribute will be paid the former wizard of football has been arranged. A committee composed of James H. Goodman, chairman, H. N. Roberts, Cletus Nesbett, Spencer Wells, Earnest Lowery and Charles A. Guy has charge of the ceremony. The spectators will be asked to remain quiet during the short services.

Admission to tonight's game will be one dollar per throw ticket holder emigible to any seat in the grandstand or bleachers, there being no reserved seats.

In recognizance of the present season's record, the Christians hold the favorite's position tonight, but street-corner calculations and "behind closed doors" speculations hold that the Matadors would tie up an even battle. Odds were hard to get on either side, with the more broad-minded and optimistic wagers choosing Tech.

A. C. C.'s 41 to 0 victory over the big Canyon Buffs last Saturday was 20 points better than the Matadors could do against the same opposition, and Tech's 32 to 0 defeat at the hands of Baylor on the same day stands as a point either in favor or against the Matadors, depending upon the attitude toward psychology one takes.

As noted in the above probable starting lineups, Professor Pete Cawthon plans to start his regulars today. So far this season it has been a habit with the Tech mentors to start their second team, or "shock troops," but Cawthon said yesterday that "I'm going to start the best team I think I have 'cause it will take the best to hold the A. C. C. score down. No more foolin with the second stringers who can very easily lose a ball game in the first period."

As also perhaps noted in the starting lineup, George Cowan, the big sophomore from Seymour, is replacing Matt Hitchcock, the usual "regular" right end, and Elva Baker, the heavyweight from Abilene, has stepped into a regular tackle's shoes. As a result of the Baylor game, many of the "shock troopers" are suffering from minor though painful wounds and abrasions, five charley-horses being found snorting over the field in practice this week. The backfield, with Moffett running at quarter, Crites and Close and France, is about the best the Tech mentor can muster of his entire squad, sick or well.

Featuring the A. C. C. attack in previous games has been the rapid fire passing machine composed of "Goober" Keyes, quarterback who served under Weldon Chapman at Cisco High; Captain Britt Pippen, end who is considered one of the best in the T. I. A. A., and Harold Cheves, a halfback. Passing from one to the other and back again, this trio makes up an aerial circus that is expected to fly tonight. In view of Tech's sick-looking pass defense against Baylor last Saturday, the overhead game may prove profitable to the Abilene lads.

In winning three out of five important games, the Matadors have amassed a total of 74 points, against 46 for their opponents. Baylor scored 32 of these and Haskell 8 points. A. C. C. has fared slightly better, winning four out of five and running up 80 points, as compared with 19 for the opposition. The Wildcats, however, have encountered no Southwest Conference teams.

The Abilene team and Coach Morris arrived in Lubbock last night.

PACIFIC COAST CONFERENCE REACHES 1931 CLIMAX TOMORROW WHEN FOUR OUTSTANDING TEAMS MEET IN GAMES

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6 (AP)—Pacific Coast conference football reaches the 1931 climax tomorrow when the four outstanding teams clash in two games having important bearing on the title. Southern California and Stanford meet at Los Angeles while California and the University of Washington mix at Berkeley.

Major interest lies at Los Angeles where the crowd may be the largest ever to assemble west of the Mississippi river to witness a football game. Ticket sales indicate an attendance of 100,000. Southern California is favored over Stanford.

California and Washington take the field on even terms. Each has lost one conference game—Washington to Oregon in an early season upset and California to Southern California. The loser will be out of the championship running.

Two other conference games round out the coast schedule tomorrow. Oregon State faces Montana and Washington State meets Idaho.

PICADORS ARE TO CONTEST WAYLAND

Texas Tech's freshman gridsters the Picadors, engage in a light workout this afternoon as the final preparations toward meeting the Wayland college Jackrabbits at Plainview in the morning. The game is scheduled to begin at 3 o'clock.

The Picadors have had considerable trouble in getting started this season, though in every game they have played outstanding football except for scoring punch. Losses to the Amarillo Badgers, Terrill Prep at Dallas and lastly to the West Texas State Teachers college Yearlings have not provided much enthusiasm over the winning capabilities of the youngsters, but except for the final score the Picadors have turned in good accounts.

Due to injuries on the Wayland team and to the Picadors' showing in former games and in practice this week, the locals may be slight favorites to win tomorrow's game.

COWHANDS DOWN CROSBYTON HIGH

CROSBYTON, Nov. 6 (Special)—The Cowhands of Lubbock High school, coached by Swede McMurray, swept over the lighter and more inexperienced Crosbyton High school eleven here yesterday for a 28 to 0 victory to fill-in on the local Class B team's schedule.

Line play as presented by the Cowhands and featuring the forms of Tol Terrell, center; Hale, guard, and Rice, tackle, was the strong point of the game.

Quarterback Joe Nelson was the big offensive threat. He scored three of his teams' four touchdowns and was responsible for the gaining of many yards. Truman Hutson, big halfback, ripped off plenty of yardage and executed one touchdown play. Two touchdowns were made in each half, with a safety coming in the fourth quarter. The pass snatching of little Newton, 125-pound end, was another offensive feature. Newton caught everything that came his way and the aerial game was good for long gains.

Lubbock's Lineup: Newton and Leslie, ends; Ford and Rice, tackles; Hale and Duncan, guards; Terrell, center; Hutson and Love, half backs; Nelson, quarterback, and Payne full back.

DISTRICT TWO TEAM IS TO PLAY HERE

GAME TO BE AT TECH FIELD TOMORROW AT THREE O'CLOCK

Lubbock's Westerners pause in their preparations for the Thanksgiving Day game at Amarillo long enough to entertain the Childress High school Bobcats on the Tech field tomorrow afternoon. The game is called at 3 o'clock.

Yesterday's workout at the Fair Park field saw the Westerners running plays which are expected to be used in the Childress game tomorrow. Childress, a Class A team of District 2, has been having hard luck in its own circle and hopes that a change of scenery will provide the necessary inspiration for at least a good game. The Bobcats have been nosed out in two district games already and are out of the title race.

Show Straight Stuff

Lubbock will show only straight football Saturday, saving all the tricks until Thanksgiving when they go up against the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm, an organization from which already issues a low, moaning warning to a team which trounced what was previously considered the best in the district. However, it has been with only straight football that the Westerners bowled over all competition prior to the Pampa game last week, amassing a total of several over 300 points. The 32 points garnered off Odus Mitchell's bunch Saturday sent the Westerners into second place in the state and probably in the country as high scoring records go.

Next Wednesday afternoon the Westerners will engage in their third District 1 championship game when they meet the Plainview Bulldogs here. The game will feature Lubbock's observation of Armistice Day. Here again the locals are prime favorites, but more than once has a practically unknown team knocked off favorites.

TENNIS RANKINGS TO BE FOUGHT OUT

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—National tennis rankings, heretofore, in effect, decided entirely by a committee, will be fought out next year on the United States Lawn Tennis association's convention floor.

Under a rule adopted at the last convention, the U. S. L. T. A.'s ranking committee will be required to announce its selections at least one month before the annual meeting in New Orleans, Feb. 6, 1932. Approval or disapproval of the selections will be made by the convention delegates who will have had 30 days or more to consider the rankings as recommended. Previously the selections as made by the ranking committee were submitted for approval to the executive committee which then as a matter of form, placed them before the convention for approval.

Introduction into Hungary of a little machine which will record telephone conversations and afterward reproduce them is planned.

"PA" STRIBLING HAS NEW "FIND"

DALLAS, Nov. 6 (AP)—W. L. (Pa) Stribling, father-manager of Young Stribling, was busy today looking over his latest "find" and making plans for his son's climb back into the championship ring.

Arriving in Dallas yesterday, Stribling announced he had purchased the contract of Clyde Chalstain, Dallas middleweight whose photograph resembles that of Gene Tuney.

Stribling believed hastain a "big shot" in the making.

The Striblings were maneuvering for a bout with Mickey Walker on a milk fund program in New York Dec. 12.

Former White Sox Managers To Join

CHICAGO, Nov. 6 (AP)—A pair of former Chicago White Sox managers, Ray Schalk and Clarence Rowland, may be partners in the operation of a minor league baseball club next season.

Schalk, it has been reported, will reign as Cub coach, to throw in with Rowland, who last season headed the Reading club of the International league. Rowland piloted the Sox to American league and world championships in 1917.

Inheritance taxes have been put into effect in the Irish Free State.

SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE TEAMS FACE HARD GAMES SATURDAY

MUSTANGS AND AGGIES ARE TO CLASH

TEXAS CHRISTIANS TO MEET RICE OWLS AT FORT WORTH

BY BILL PARKER,
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Nov. 6. — Tomorrow night the Southwest conference football race, now a deadlock between Southern Methodist and Texas Christian, may be minus an undefeated leader. If not, it will be no fault of the Texas A. and M. Aggies nor the Rice Owls who are tied for third place with a victory and defeat each.

At College Station the Aggies are set for their fourteenth annual game against Southern Methodist. Not since 1927, when they won a 39 to 13 game, have the Aggies succeeded in beating Southern Methodist. Blessed this season with several powerful driving backs, a brilliant end in Charlie Malone and a light but fighting front wall, the Aggies are determined to smash their jinx.

Owls Want Revenge

Smothered 20 to 0 last year by Texas Christian, the Rice Owls will invade Fort Worth not only in search of revenge but with a keen desire to amputate the Frogs from their undefeated petal in the Southwest conference pond. The Owls have not played since October 24 when they whipped the University of Arizona 32 to 0.

At Austin, the University of Texas battles Baylor in a conference setto. The University of Arkansas is at Chicago for Saturday's game against the University of Chicago, but these two games are second choice affairs with four of the leaders furnishing the headliners.

Close Battle Seen

Individual battles by claimants for all-Southwest conference honors will be a feature of the Aggie-Mustang tilt. Charlie Malone and George Koontz will face each other as ends. Captain Carl Moulden of the Aggies and Marion Hammon of the Mustangs will be opposing tackles. The Mustangs are favored with an overhead game, but the Aggies appear to hold the upper hand on a running attack.

The Owls are set to fire the works against Texas Christian to remain in the conference running. Employing the Notre Dame system, the Owls are equal favorites with the crippled Frogs who must play without Ben Boswell, all-conference lineman and field goal ace. Boswell is out with an injured knee.

The Texas Longhorns, 1930 conference champions, are favored to defeat Baylor.

LUBBOCK SOONERS DEFEAT FLOYDADA

Coach Mule Davis' Lubbock Junior High school Sooners defeated the Floydada Junior high Whirlwindettes here yesterday afternoon, 7 to 6. Fuliback Calhoun caught a pass over the goal line for the extra point after plunging two yards for a touchdown in the first quarter.

Floydada scored in the fourth quarter, Captain Wilson Connally, fullback, going over for the lone counter. A line buck for extra point failed to work.

Lubbock's lineup: Peach and McClanlies, ends; Young and Phillips, tackles; Dowell and McFarlane, guards; Chancy, center; Hill, quarterback, Aycock and Whiteman, halves; Calhoun, fullback.

Floydada's lineup: Lider and Jenkins, ends; Mooney and Lawson, tackles; Jones and Daniels, guards; Eudy, center; Parker, quarterback; Hollingsworth and Red Looney, halves, and Connally, fullback.

Alexander Wishart, who claims to be the oldest living Royal Scot, being a veteran of the 1860 review and of the "Wet Review" of 1881, took part in the recent anniversary parade of the latter event, in Glasgow.

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

Abilene Christian College, 7; Texas Tech 20.

That's not a prediction; that's a hope. A heckuvaway to start a Friday column, screams you. But if we could tell you how football games were going to turn out maybe we'd be rich, too.

The thing uppermost in our mind right now, and it should be the same with everybody in Lubbock, is just how Tech is going to make those three touchdowns and prevent A. C. C. from making more than one tonight when the teams clash on the local lot. The game, according to current rumors, is to start at 7:30 o'clock. Who knows? It actually may start at that time. Football games, as a rule, generally start on the dot. They're not like South Plains baseball games.

For some reason or other the Pampa press-folk have lost interest in football. There hasn't been a line about football in the last two papers to reach the exchange desk here. Maybe their team got beat, or sumpin'.

Following last Saturday's game at Waco between Baylor and Tech, Jinx Tucker, the sage of Central Texas, in a mild condemnation of Tech's hard playing tactics, chronicled that "the Tech boys were foolish to play that kind of a game, when Baylor wasn't even taking the game seriously." And when this humble scribe reported that the Matadors showed black eyes, severe scratches, minor bruises and a number of charley-horses in practice early this week, the rumor got out in Abilene that Tech plays a rough game of football.

Football is a rough game, you know, and it's wise to be prepared. There has been more than a little criticism of the rough playing tactics taught by Cawthon and his assistants and carried out by the Matadors, but since there is no rule against hard tackling, hard blocking and fast running and since those habits add to the spice of the game and sometimes to the final score we're for them. No team, no matter how good or in what conference, should expect a dancing lesson when it plays the Matadors.

Recommended to diversion seekers: Slipping up on The Plainsman when he's reading an issue of B—hoo.

By considerable sleuthing and bush-beating, not to speak of sneaking up dark halls and peeking over transoms, we learned that the Texas Tech Picadors, that valliant bunch of freshman who someday hope to wear the Double-T, are going to Plainview tomorrow and engage Frank Kimbrough's Wayland college Jackrabbits in a grid setto. Del Morgan is coach of the Tech frosh. Del is also varsity basketball coach and overseer of all intramural and minor sports, but Del doesn't seem to care whether we know it or not. He could get a bit more publicity for his teams if he wouldn't be so secretive.

Don't forget the Westerner game tomorrow. Chapman and Huffman send their charges against the Bobcats of Childress High school, more because they must do so than because they want to play the Class A outfit from District 2. Childress had the ax on Lubbock as a result of a signed contract made last year before the district was divided. Childress officials threatened to protest, did protest, in fact, to Roy B. Henderson, the schoolboy league director, and the Westerners must play Childress or else. That's quite all right, howeve r,and if Childress can put up a good game it may be the best thing for the Westerners. Plainview is scheduled to play Lubbock next Wednesday here and nothing can be done about that, either.

Some more or less interesting games are to be played in Southwest Conference circles tomorrow. If we were to hazard any guesses as to some of the outcomes they might read like this: S. M. U. 13, at A. and M. 0; Baylor 7, at University of Texas, 13; Rice, 20 at T. C. U., 14. If Texas A. and M., Baylor and T. C. U. won the games it would be ordinary football news, and it certainly couldn't hurt our reputation for picking winners. That's already beyond repair.

The state high school race rests at the third turn this week-end, but over in the Oil Belt section a game between Cisco and Ranger will be of some importance. Cisco should win, thereby going into a tie with Abilene with three victories and no defeats.

Just this last admonition that you attend the ball game tonight and we're through until next week. Knute Rockne's memory is to be honored tonight on the Tech field. That in itself should be enough to prompt the football fan to come out.

U. S. WINS AT HORSE SHOW

AMERICAN OFFICERS RIDE TO VICTORY IN COMPETITION

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—First honors in international competition at the national horse show goes to the United States.

Two American army officers, Major Harry D. Chamberlain and Ctpt. William Bradford, conquered the riders of four other nations in the initial military jumping event of the show last night.

Chamberlain and Bradford guided Suzanne and Tan bark over difficult obstacles of hedge, fence and stone wall without a flaw to win from France, the Irish Free State, Canada and Great Britain. France, the Irish team and Canada tied for second place with only one and one-half faults charges against them, the Irish team of Capt. Dan Corry and Capt. Cyril Harty winning the jumpoff, with France third and Canada fourth.

The excellent showing of the Americans made many believe the international military jumping championship next Tuesday night might well fall to the Stars and Stripes for the first time.

RETURNS TO DUTY

A former Lubbock resident, Newell P. Porter, a son of Hugh K. Porter, 1624 Thirteenth street, has returned to duty in the United States army at Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyo., after a three months' visit with relatives and friends here.

First Class Private Porter completed his first enlistment in the ervice on July 25th, 1931, and reenlisted in Company "I" of the 1st infantry in which all of his army career has been spent, on July 26. Porter is a graduate of the Clerical School at Fort Warren and is an expert rifle marksman.

Plans have definitely been abandoned for the removal of 5,000,000 refugees from Yangtze flooded districts in China to Manchuria.

Crucial Clashes In Big Six This Week

KANSAS STATE MEETS IOWA STATE IN THE HEADLINE TILT

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 6 (AP)—This is a crucial week-end for Kansas State and Iowa State, both hoping for their first conference football championship.

They meet at Ames tomorrow. Neither has been defeated in Big Six competition, the K-Aggies having won three games and the Cyclones two.

Coach Bo McMillin left "Ramming" Ralph Graham, sophomore backfield ace, in Manhattan when his purple squad entrained last night. Graham was injured in the West Virginia game Saturday. If the Aggies can manage a victory without Graham they face Nebraska the following week-end at Manhattan with an undefeated record for the season.

The Kansas university Jayhawkers left last night for a conference tilt with Oklahoma at Norman, leaving behind a star ball-lugger. Elmer Schaake, 209-pound defensive fullback and offensive power, was found ineligible because of scholastic deficiencies which he may make up later.

Nebraska's interconference tilt with the University of Iowa at Lincoln will celebrate the return to competition of George Henry Sauer, injured backfield star. Missouri plays Drake at Des Moines tonight.

Feeding Projects Started, Renewed

Supervised by County Agent D. P. Eaton and his assistant, R. N. McClaim, lamb and calf feeding, poultry, dairy, and hog demonstrations were renewed or begun Thursday in four north Lubbock county communities, Abernathy, Monroe, Center, and Be:ton.

Farms visited included the Jackson farm and that of County Commissioner W. L. Brashear. Jackson is feeding out 250 head of lambs. Brashear is feeding 53 head of calves. Two dairy herds, one a new group, were arranged for record work. William Bolton of Becton plans to keep 20 Holstein cows for record work, starting in December.

Two new poultry projects were started and one renewed by Mr. Eaton.

WALKER-STRIB BOUT SEEN

BOXERS MAY MEET IN DECEMBER TO AID CHRISTMAS FUND

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—Mickey Walker's third chance at a ranking heavyweight probably will come against Young Stribling in Madison Square Garden Dec. 11 for the New York American's Christmas fund.

Negotiations have reached the point where Stribling's handlers have agreed to the match, which, if completed, will send the Macon heavyweight against a major opponent for the first time since his decisive defeat by Max Schmeling in Cleveland July 3.

Walker originally offered his services to the Christmas fund with the idea of meeting Sharkey again. The Boston sailor, however, turned down the bout.

A definite decision as to the Walker-Stribling tangle was expected within a day or two.

NO REPORTS IN DRIVE TODAY

MINIMUM OF $3,000 IS NEEDED BY LOCAL SALVATION ARMY

No reports had been received from canvassing teams since a total of $961.25 had been reported pledged in the Salvation Army's financial drive here late Thursday, Ben Kucera, general chairman, said late this morning. The Salvation Army needs a minimum of $3,000 to operate through the fiscal year which began October 1, he said.

New Teams Added

Four new teams have been added to the campaign, making a total of fifteen. The new captains are C. A. Burrus, Jack Lewis, J. B. Jackson and L. H. Beall. The team of which Dan Blair is captain is leading the drive, with a total of $475, of which $426.50 is cash, reported. Other members of Blair's group are District Attorney Durwood H. Bradley and Amos Howard, county clerk.

Of the total amount donated to the Army, $654.25 is cash, Kucera said. Ensign Amel Schultz of Wichita Falls who aided in the drive Wednesday and Thursday left last night for his home.

WIDOW KILLED IN COLLISION

AUSTIN, Nov. 6 (AP)—Mrs. Sylvia Shear Warner, of New York City, widow of W. W. Warner, advance agent for "Roxy's Gang," radio orchestra, who was killed in a bus and truck collision near Brenham last February 23, was awarded $6,533 damages by a jury in United States district court Thursday.

The judgment was rendered against the Kerrville Bus company.

Warner's mother also was rendered by the jury in favor of W. C. Dunks of McDade, Texas, owner of the truck who had been named a defendant in the suit.

MOTION NOT FILED

Expected filing of a motion for a new trial for C. A. WILL OBSERVE ARMISTICE

LUBBOCK STORES TO CLOSE WEDNESDAY; PLAN PROGRAM

The Lubbock Retail Merchants association announced last night that member-stores would be closed Wednesday in observance of Armistice day.

Armistice is one of the four holidays in the closing agreement of the association and all Lubbock stores will be closed, it was said. Other days in the agreement are Thanksgiving, July Fourth, Christmas and a half holiday on the afternoon of Lubbock day at the Panhandle South Plains Fair.

Program Planned

Program for the celebration is being rounded out, with members of the Allen Brothers American Legion post, No. 148, working out details. A committee from the organization and Texas Technological college met at the legion hall Thursday night.

Attending were E. F. George, committee chairman, Ben Kucera, post commander, A. C. Jackson, Alex McDonald, Judge Clark M. Mullican, J. A. Raley, Col. Charles A. Davis and A. M. Scott. The Armistice program will include a breakfast for ex-service men, a parade, ceremonies at the Tech, lunch at the legion hall, and supper. Dr. A. B. Cunningham, ex-service man, will be principal speaker at the college at 11 a. m.

Legion Membership Drive Is Planned

Allen Brothers post, No. 148, of the American Legion will begin an annual membership drive immediately after Armistice day, Ben Kucera, post commander, said.

Quota for the local post has not been announced from state headquarters. The membership totals 366 at the present time and the quota in 1930 was exceeded considerably, it was said. The drive will continue during the remainder of the month.

Federal Building Work Is Delayed

Brick work on the federal building was suspended temporarily Thursday as a result of failure of a shipment of bricks to arrive here from Mineral Wells as scheduled.

The brick was expected in yesterday but failed to arrive. It was assured for this morning, the contractor was informed. The shipment was common brick for interior work, as the face brick for the third floor is on the ground.

Next week should see the walls completed and ready for pouring of the roof.

FINES ASSESSED HERE

Three persons were fined a total of $65 by Judge J. T. Inmon in corporation court Thursday.

Two men, charged with vagrancy, each were fined $25. One of the convictions will be appealed to county court, it was said. A negro woman, charged with theft of a small amount of cash was convicted and fined $15.

A fine of $10 and costs, or a total of $22.15, was assessed Thursday against a Tahoka truck driver who entered a plea of guilty to a charge of driving an overloaded truck. The case was heard before Justice H. K. Porter. Complaint was signed by Inspector J. C. Kellar. Owner of the truck will be held responsible for the fine, it was said.

Budding Pianist

An addition was made to the film colony at Hollywood just six and a half months ago, but the new star was not photographed with her proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nils Asther, until her mother, the former Vivian Duncan, of the famous Duncan sisters, brought the "wonder baby" to the movie capital. Little Evelyn Asther is evidently going to be a great big success at the piano from early indications.

Shooting Is Echo To Political Row

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Nov. 6 (AP)—Henry H. Denhardt, 55, former lieutenant-governor and adjutant general of Kentucky, was in a serious condition today from a bullet wound inflicted by W. K. Dent, Republican political worker, who claimed he fired in self defense.

The shooting occurred yesterday on a busy downtown street corner and climaxed a hotly contested campaign in connection with Tuesday's general election. Denhardt is prominent in Democratic politics.

Grape Concentrate Firm Makes Change

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6. (AP)—Those who have depended on Fruit Industries, ltd., for their enjoyment of home-fermented wine must hereafter attend to the fermentation and bottling themselves.

That concern announced today it no longer will put the keg in the cellar, or have anything to do with what happens after original sale of their grape concentrates.

LOTTERY CASE TO COURT

TWO PLEAD GUILTY TO CHARGES WHEN SUITS ARE BROUGHT UP

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 6 (AP)—Federal charges of a conspiracy to violate the federal anti-lottery laws in connection with the Saratoga sweepstakes brought two pleas of guilty and one of not guilty before Federal Judge Colin Neblett Thursday. Twenty men had previously been indicted by a federal grand jury.

Charles Snodgrass of Dillon, Mont., the first arraigned, pleaded guilty four of six counts charging conspiracy by interstate transportation of lottery tickets. The other two counts against him were dismissed.

"I did not realize that my actions were contrary to law," said E. N. Howard of Kansas City, Mo. He likewise pleaded guilty to a conspiracy charge.

E. R. Wright, representing Joe Hunn of El Paso, secretary of the sweepstakes association, entered a plea of nolo contedere for Dunn. Thus Dunn admits the acts in his indictment, but puts the case in the hands of the court, denying any moral turpitude.

Charles H. Mayer, New York City, represented by an attorney, pleaded not guilty to the conspiracy charge against him.

Payment Of Taxes Asked By Officers

Fifty-five letters asking payment of about $6,000 in delinquent personal property taxes have been mailed to owners of Lubbock businesses by William H. Evans, assistant county attorney.

"These letters are being sent to inform the property owners that the taxes are delinquent, in the hope that these taxes can be collected without additional cost to the owners," said the assistant county attorney. "We do not want to file suit in any of these cases, but the law requires us to after a certain length of time."

Science finds new reasons for KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN

MILLIONS have found Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a safe way to overcome common constipation. Now science shows this delicious cereal brings three benefits to the diet: "Bulk." Vitamin B. Iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like the "bulk" in lettuce—only it is concentrated in a more convenient form to relieve constipation. It absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, which gently clears out the wastes.

Vitamin B tones the intestines, and promotes regular habits. Iron builds blood, and aids health generally.

No wonder ALL-BRAN is considered far more natural than pills and drugs—so often habit-forming. Try two tablespoonfuls daily. If you suffer from intestinal trouble not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal or use in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

a CUPFUL for the ENTIRE WASH

Use an economical soap for wash-day as well as for every other household use—White King Granulated. White King is in tune with these modern days when housewives are seeking the product which gives them the greatest value for their money.

The White King Package contains only condensed, pure soap. Bigger value than any package soap you ever used. When it is made, all the moisture and air which accounts so much for the bulk of ordinary soap, is removed. White King packs in the carton like sugar, and every grain yields a full measure of soap value.

Pure vegetable and nut oils go into the making of your White King Granulated Soap. Quick suds in the cool or lukewarm water best for hands and fabric alike are the result of the use of these fine oils. Clothes wear longer, colors stay brighter, and wash-day time is shortened when White King is used.

You'll save money because no bleach or bluing is necessary, and you'll save on the soap bill, too, when you use White King Granulated—the condensed soap that gives greater value.

SCOUT CHIEFS ARE TO MEET

PROGRAM FOR AREA TO BE DISCUSSED AT CONFAB HERE

The executive board of the South Plains Area Boy Scout council will meet at 6 o'clock tonight at City hall to consider a program for scouting in the area the rest of this year and for next year. The meeting will adjourn in time for members to attend the Texas Technological college-Abilene Christian college football game, officials said.

R. D. Moxley, acting president of the board, will be in charge, said Scout Executive D. T. Jennings Thursday. Twenty one committeemen have been invited to attend the session.

To Set Dates

Date of the annual meeting, to be held here some time in December, will be set, and arrangements to complete the annual report by January 10 will be made. The national office has moved up the date for receiving this report from the last day of January to the tenth. A committee to nominate the 1932 officials will be named.

Finance plans for the ensuing year will be studied and whether or not the scouting program will be enlarged or cut down will be determined by the outcome of the session, officials said. The South Plains area is composed of Lubbock, Cochran, Hockley, Crosby, Dickens, Lamb, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Gaines, Dawson and Borden counties.

State Official To Attend Truck Case

The attorney general will be represented by an assistant, Elbert Hooper, in a truck case which will come before Judge Clark M. Mullican in 99th district court Monday, Vaughn E. Wilson, Lubbock county attorney, was notified.

ecently Judge Mullican issued a temporary restraining order preventing Sheriff Hardy and other officers from enforcing provision of house bill 335 until the hearing is held Monday. The bill covers regulations on "contract carriers."

REPORT ON ROADS

This report is furnished daily by the South Plains Automobile club, local branch of the American Automobile association.

Roads throughout South Plains are in fair condition.

Highway No. 137, 21 miles detour from Lubbock to Hockley county line on account of paving—good when dry, difficult when wet.

Fourteen mile detour from Lubbock to Lynn county line, between Lubbock and Tahoka, bad in wet weather.

Route recommended to Oklahoma City, due to detours on U. S. Highway 66. Follow State road 83 to Dickens, State road 106 and 24 to Seymour, No. 277 from Seymour to Wichita Falls, State road 79 to Devol, Oklahoma, same road to Waurika, Oklahoma, U. S. highway 31 to Chickasha, going to Oklahoma City by way of Amber, Tuttle and New Castle. Paving east to Chickasha, detours most gravel.

Best route to Dallas: Follow Highway No. 7 to Post, No. 84 from Post to Clairemont, No. 84-A from Clairemont through Rotan to Roby, State road 83 to Anson, No. 18 from Anson through Albany to Breckenridge, No. 1-A to Mineral Wells and U. S. No. 80 to Dallas.

BOY SCOUT HEADS TO HOLD SESSION

D. T. Jennings, executives of the South Plains Area Boy Scout council, of Lubbock, will attend a conference of a dozen or more scout executives Saturday and Sunday at Big Spring with J. P. Fitch, regional executive, of Dallas, and Harold F. Pote, director of the national personnel division, of New York City.

A. C. Williamson, executive for the area known as the West Texas-New Mexico seminar, will preside over the conference. Lloyd M. O'Neal, Dallas, deputy regional executive, is also expected. It is thought that several others from this area will attend also.

The Southwestern region consists of three states, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico, with a small portion of Arkansas. It is divided into four seminars.

Executives from this section will include besides Mr. Jennings, Marvin J. Paul, Amarillo area; Curtis A. Clark, Panhandle, Adobe Walls area; A. C. A Folger Coffee Expert inspects new crops of rare mountain coffees

From tiny mountain plantations mule express brings the crops to market

Why Not Try These Amazing Mountain Coffees, In Which Nature Herself Leaves Out Rank Noxious Oils

DRINK all the coffee you like, doctors now tell us. For within reason, coffee—real coffee—is not only good, but good for you.

There's only one thing to fear in coffee. The so-called "ills" of coffee, such as indigestion and nervousness, they now tell us actually come from rank, noxious oils that abound in cheap, doubtful coffee.

So let your taste be your guide. The finest, richest, and most invigorating coffee is probably safest from distressing after effect. That is why thousands are changing to Folger's.

From Central America

Folger's is not just another "brand" of coffee. It's a different kind. It is made from Central American coffee—high grown, in which nature herself leaves out the rank, offensive oils. Furthermore, it comes to you packed in key-opening vacuum tins as fresh as it was 30 minutes after it left the roaster.

Only recently we received reports from 2,571 doctors* who, after testing samples of Folger's coffee, confirm what we say about it.

Try Folger's for a week. Note its finer flavor. Note its wonderful invigoration. Note its after-effects. If you do this, we'll wager you'll never go back to ordinary, and doubtful coffees.

Signed statements to this effect, from 2,571 physicians who have actually tested Folger's Coffee, are on file in our offices.* 124

Thought For Today

Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye have robbed me, even this whole nation.—Malachi 3:9.

What is dishonestly got vanishes in profigacy.—Cicero.

Escaping The City

There is one infallible way, says Novelist Edna Ferber, in which you can always tell when a woman has reached middle age.

When she says, "I want a place of my own in the country, with some ground, and some trees—a place that's peaceful and quiet"; then, says Miss Ferber, you may know that middle age has claimed her. She is past the first flush of youth, and the second as well. The alarums and excursions of the mundane world have no more attraction for her. She is about ready to go on the shelf.

Now all of this may be useful to know, in a day when mothers look as youthful as their daughters, and age is harder to guess than ever before. Yet one is entitled to wonder if Miss Ferber can be entirely correct. If so, then youth flies more quickly than we had supposed.

For this hankering for a place in the country is one of the most widespread of all hankerings, these days. It is voiced not only by the frankly middle-aged, but by the youthful as well; not only by dowagers, but by men—by men, in fact, of all ages, from the collegiate upward. And it represents, probably, a reaction to an urban life which has attained too fast a pace, an urban life which has made impossibly severe demands on the privacy and serenity of the individual citizen.

The cities of America are, in some ways, her most admirable achievements. They have a lusty vitality, a limitless energy, a great optimism, and faith that can occasionally move mountains. They present inspiring sky-lines, architecture that carries the spirit aloft to a new freedom, a grandeur that is a tonic to the soul.

But we pay a terribly high price for them. They are crowded; some of them beyond all reason. They are noisy and dirty. They abound with miserable tenements and cramped apartments. The jerry-builder has flourished in their suburbs. The bill-board advertiser has bred in their vacant lots and along their outskirts. Depression moves parallel with inspiration.

From this the one great escape is the quiet place in the country, with some empty ground and some trees. We all long for it, instinctively recognizing that too much city can be a bad thing. It indicates middle age? It must be, then, that we age very quickly.

New Business Era

American industrial leaders, according to current economic forecasts, are going to face an entirely different sort of problem during the next decade than they have faced in the past.

For the past quarter-century domestic markets have been expanding at an amazingly rapid rate. Now, however, with immigration cut down, the birth rate lower and the development of the country largely accomplished, they will expand at a much slower rate. As one economist recently pointed out:

"The task of industry is going to be one of organization and correlation rather than one of limitless expansion. It is a task that will require the utmost in business ability."

All of this means that the man with real brains is going to prosper exceedingly during the next few years. The bluffer, the hand-shaker and the high-pressure artist, however, will find the going rather tough.

Eleven lobsters, weighing 70 pounds, were brought up in the net of fishermen, on Lake Drimbuie, Scotland, the largest crustacean measuring 32 inches and weighing 11 1-2 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Owen of Portsmouth, England, who recently celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary, have lived in the same house since they were married.

The PLAINSMAN Says:

That Girl on Broadway says the way some wives have to work around the house you'd think they had been married by the Secretary of Labor.

Patient: Doctor, can you do anything for my insomnia?

Physician: Perhaps. What is your occupation?

Patient: I'm a sheepherder and every 12 hours I have to count the sheep.

* * *

THERE may be some people who believe that United States would get along better under a dictator form of government, as suggested by a speaker at a local civic club the other day, but The Plainsman isn't one of them.

It may be all right in Italy. The dictator business might be doing fine in Austria and Rooshia and other places, but look what happened to our most recent booze dictator, Mr. Al Capone.

And look what a jam that famous morals dictator, Bishop James M. Cannon, has gotten himself in!

PLEDGE A GOLD FOOTBALL TO L. H. S. GRIDSTERS!

It's 'Lucky Thirteen' today.

Two more Westerner fans—Spencer Wells, of Hemphill-Wells company, and Roy Furr, of the M-System grocery stores—have each pledged a gold football to the Westerners if Lubbock High defeats Amarillo on Turkey Day. That runs the total of pledges up to 13—just nine shy of the 22 total needed.

The next nine football fans who call The Plainsman at 13 and say "put me down" will be accepted on the Westerner Honor Roll, so get busy now!

Every letterman and each of the two coaches will be given a gold football if Lubbock wins the Amarillo game and no money will be collected until after the game is won. The footballs will cost six bucks apiece.

But all kidding to one side, Mussolini—or any guy like him—wouldn't last thirty minutes in this land of the brave, etc.

Some little monkeyfaced fellow of Irish extraction, with a waist like a wasp and shoulders like Bob Fitzsimmons, would walk up to him and knock him into a cocked hat and then where would he be?

* * *

THERE'S no use trying to fool anybody with this dictator stuff. With all respects to Will Rogers, who says we could use Plutarco Elias Calles, the well known Iron Man of Mexico, in this country, old Plute couldn't get to first base with the folks in this country.

They have their own ideas about how they want to live—even if most of us don't know just why.

That Man on Avenue Q says love may, as claimed, move mountains but you can do it a lot quicker with a steam shovel.

* * *

WELL folks, we've sure got Colonel Erasmus Eberfield Tack, the Amarillo columnist, in a nine-hole. We've got him down in black and white.

And that's no easy task, either.

Any newspaperman in the state—and a whole lot of people who aren't in the newspaper business—will tell you that Colonel Tack knows more about reader interest than any other editor in Texas. And they'll tell you that he's a marvel in expressing his thoughts in the written word in a way that's exact and forceful, yet in a way where there can be no serious kick-back.

But he's in a nine-hole on this high school football business; he's made a statement that almost forces him to desert the ranks of Sandie supporters and start yelling "Hurrah for the Westerners!"

Just before the Pampa-Lubbock game, Colonel Tack argued this way:

"I'm pulling a thousand per cent for Pampa to win because they beat Amarillo and they are our neighbors. If they beat the Lubbock Westerners they have a grand chance to become state champions and I'd sure like to see a state championship in this district. Wouldn't you? We're building up the greatest high school football teams in the world, right up here in the Panhandle and the South Plains and why not win a state championship this year?

"Supposing that Lubbock beats Pampa and Amarillo beats Lubbock. Then there will be a three-way tie which will have to be played off in one week. There would be a flip-up and two of the teams would play and the winning team, seven days later, would have to play the third team. In my humble opinion, the toss-up would almost decide it as the three teams are pretty nearly evenly matched. The fresh team that would have to play the winning team on the following Saturday probably would win, because of the injuries and exhaustion suffered by the other team.

"And then the surviving team of this district would totter on its way down south to be eaten up alive. Crippled and worn out they wouldn't have a chance for the state honors.

"But if Pampa wins Saturday the Harvesters will have plenty of time to get back into shape, and when they start downstate they will be all cocked and primed to bring back a slab of bacon every time they play a bi-district match and then after the state championship game they will drag home a whole hog.

"We're making football history up here in this plains country. We've got the whole state in fear and trembling, but if Pampa and Amarillo and Lubbock have to wear themselves out playing each other two or three times each season, we never will get very far when we travel down-state."

* * *

YES sir! There's his words, penned—or rather typed—just prior to the Lubbock slaughter of the haughty Harvesters. Take particular note of this: "And then the surviving of this district (in case of a three-way tie and playoff) would totter on its way down south to be eaten alive. Crippled and worn out, they wouldn't have a chance for state honors".

All The Plainsman has to say in rebuttal, if that was true prior to the Pampa game, why isn't it true, now?

Why shouldn't Colonel Tack be pulling for Lubbock to beat Amarillo, on the same kind of contemplation?

The Plainsman isn't much worried over Lubbock losing to Amarillo if our boys play like they can play, but what's sauce for the goose is also said to be sauce for the gander and Lubbock—if we know our geography—is also Amarillo's neighbor, just like Pampa.

The Sandies have won the district so many times, they shouldn't mind losing this one to the Westerners. Colonel Tack is right in theory—Lubbock should be fresh as possible as it marches on down the state to win the championship of 1931!

Vanguard Of Congress Drifting To Capital But Things Won't Begin To Shape Up Until Senator Norris Arrives

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Members of Congress are dribbling in here in preparation for the big doings which begin in December. Fifteen or 20 senators are reported in town at this writing and probably there are 25 or 30 representatives. Most of them are here for work, but few forget that this is the best season to trumpet their views for the country. Later with everyone here, competition will be keener.

The supreme court, located in the Capitol's center, has been having its first fall session. Tom Heflin of Alabama also has been on view in connection with the contest for his old seat against Senator Bankhead.

Miscellaneous busts, statutes and famous old paintings are being scrubbed or dusted off.

Jim Preston is roosting again at his perch in the Senate press gallery. He moved there back in 1897 and this will be the 17th Congress he has seen assemble.

Telegraph operators have returned to the gallery, for already they are assured of enough news flies from the Capitol to make their presence worth while.

The House press gallery, which doesn't compare with the Senate's in prestige, must be content with a good scrubbing and a repainting.

But down on the House floor you find that an almost gaudy flooring of greenish-blue rubber tiling has been laid over the slightly raised portion over which the 435 seats are spread. This replaces the old carpet. Spit is a horrid word, but one learns that some members were often horrid.

The Senate chamber looks the same, but during the summer the whole pine floor was taken up and every electric wire beneath carefully tubed to end the fire hazard. And there's now a fire pump in the Capitol which will produce 1000 gallons of water a minute.

The pre-session season really opened when Senator Borah of Idaho returned and resumed his daily 3 o'clock press conference. Twenty or 30 correspondents gather in Borah's office daily and, with utmost frankness, he hashes over with them developments current. Usually Borah doesn't talk for publication, but he always has interesting ideas and opinions—and, as often as not, interesting information. The correspondents, sitting in chairs or on the floor, also have ideas and information. They argue things out informally and the keynote of discussion is often "What the hell?" Borah is perhaps the biggest man here who can be depended upon to hand out no selfish propaganda and no baloney.

The conferences provide a boon for the reporters, who can usually get an idea for a story if they are hard up, and one for Borah, who gets a wider circulation for his views than any American outside the White House. Sometimes, of course, the views are not published as his.

After the Borah conference some correspondent always says, "Well, let's go see——," And off goes a group. Such a group, large or small, is always barging about the Senate office building at this season. Lately its meat has been LaFollette of Wisconsin, Reed of Pennsylvania, Couzens of Michigan, Nye of North Dakota, Walsh of Montana and McNary of Oregon. If you ask the correspondents what they gather about the possibilities of the next Congress, they will tell you that things won't begin to shape up until Norris of Nebraska gets back and goes into conference with his fellow progressives.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article with a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, Central Press Association, 1473 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are "Reducing and Gaining," "Feminine Hygiene," "Indigestion and Constipation," "The Care of the Hair and Skin," "Infant Feeding," and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are "Normal Diet," "Last of Boils for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

DIET AND TEETH

THE IDEA has been drummed into our heads so long that good teeth are due to one thing only—keeping the teeth clean—that the recent researches on the subject are impatiently brushed aside.

Dr. Clendening

Yet the fact seems to be that filth and germs is causes of decay. The actual undermining of the teeth is caused by faulty nutrition due to a bad diet.

If a dentist takes a tooth and polishes the surface as thoroughly as he can, polishes it until it shines until it seems to you the smoothest thing in the world and then if you put the enamel surface under a low power microscope it looks like a torn up street. It is more like a dough worn piece of asphalt or cement than the smooth surface you expected to see. Now the microscope you use in dentistry is very powerful and it still fails to see the germs at all. The germs are far too small to be seen in the magnification of which I speak. Millions of them could be lying in the crevices of any one of the roughenings on the surface of the tooth. And no amount of brushing could keep these surfaces permanently free from germs. Yet, of course according to our old idea rules it is the germs which get into caries and make the decay.

The question then, of keeping the teeth clean and free from germs in order to prevent decay is hopeless. It is necessary to keep the teeth as clean as possible—this is not a treatment against brushing the teeth with a good dentifrice.

But the factor that keeps the germs out is of another kind—it is due to tooth resistance. It is established by proper diet, which determines the hardness of the denture and enamel.

The diet usually advocated for this is as follows:

1. One or two eggs a day. For the expectant mother who is notably liable to tooth decay during that period, and for the growing child, two eggs a day.

2. The juice of one-half a lemon and one-half pint of orange juice once a day. It seems to me this amount of orange juice is excessive, but I am giving the recommendations of investigators. It seems, however, to be the vitamin C which is needed by teeth, and these fruits are abundant in it.

3. From one-fourth to one-half head of lettuce. Lettuce is especially rich in mineral salts needed by the teeth.

4. Two different vegetables once a day.

5. From eight to thirty-two ounces of milk a day. That is from one to four glasses.

6. Fruits other than lemons and oranges.

7. Meat once or twice a day.

This diet is designed not only to prevent dental troubles, especially in growing children, but when pushed to the limit of the largest amounts of the foods listed, to aid already established cases of pyorrhoea and trench mouth.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

V. R. H.: "I have small lumps on my eyelids, about half as large as a bean. They grow gradually, and when they are so big they gather and break. They are very sore. What are they, and what should be done?"

Answer: From the description these might be styes or wens or xanthelesma. If styes, you possibly need glasses or an antiseptic ointment. If the others, early removal, before they get to the troublesome stage. In any case, a doctor should be consulted.

A. D. L.: "Is it possible for a person to have thyroid symptoms without enlargement of the thyroid gland?"

• • •

Answer: Yes.

Mrs. L., B.: "Is smoking injurious to an expectant mother?"

Answer: No harm has been proved to come from smoking during the period of pregnancy, either to mother or child.

IN NEW YORK with Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—It started when the wife went rummaging through old boxes and suitcases stuffed with treasured junk.

And, of course, that would be the one evening in weeks when I had called a temporary halt on theaters and nightspots and come home for a little quiet reading and writing.

"Why don't you throw all that stuff away?" I inquired, mustering my most masterful voice and sliding it into the key of annoyance. At the moment, the frau was standing before a mirror, holding up one of those gold-silver spangled vintage gowns that came almost to the knees.

"Either give it away or throw it away! Why clutter up the house?" I went on.

"You don't seem to recognize it . . ." There was a hurt note in the voice that indicated I had somehow faux passed, as usual.

"Yes, yes—I'd know it anywhere! . . ." I bluffed.

"Well—I've kept it because it was the first evening dress we were able to afford . . . remember I got it for an anniversary party . . .!"

You mean to tell me that you've lugged that from San Francisco to New York? That it's been taking up good space in a box. . . That ends it! I'll never take you to another movie. . . The next thing I know you'll be dragging out a lock of hair. . ."

"How did you know?" . . . She seemed a bit puzzled.

"How did I know what?"

"That I had found it!" . . . Whereupon out of nowhere appeared the blondest of golden curls. "You don't even know what it is——"

"Sure it's a baby curl, what else is it?" . . . For we he-men columnists must never show the slightest sign of weakening.

"I suppose you'll tell me in a minute that it's mine!"

"Well, it is! Your mother tied a little blue ribbon around it and gave it to me . . . and I've kept your graduation diploma . . . And I've found a picture of you, in your pants taken with your high school class. . . And quit trying to be so darn hard-boiled. You may kid the public but I know you! So you might as well give up—and come right over here and have a nice blubber with me! We're overdue for a good blubber around this place . . ."

And that messieurs and mesdames is just a little chapter in the home life of a Manhattan sophisticate and man-about-town!

Nor does it end there! It seems the missus in digging about the debris had hauled out a little chunk of elegant velvet.

"We're going to economize," she announced. "I found this swell piece of velvet. So I went down to the store today and bought a lot of material and I'm going to make myself a pair of hostess pajamas. I haven't sewed in years—that's what New York has done to me! I've rented a sewing machine and now that we've had a nice cry we're going to cut out the dress. You're going to help me pin the pattern on the cloth."

Well, patient friends, have you ever tried to unscramble one of those tissue paper patterns? A jig-saw puzzle is simple.

"No, let's see, this is the right leg and this is the left—No this is the left. . . ."

For hours this has been going on, until I'm saying left-right like a chorus trainer. And I've pricked every finger on both hands—and "ha-ha" the $7.89 worth of cloth isn't enough—and there'll be rent to pay on the machine—and my time is worth something.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinies scampered in the sun and played along the beach. 'Twas fun! "Come on, let's have a swimming race," cried Clowny. "I will win!" "Oh, no you won't," snapped Scouty. "I will very quickly pass you by. We'll all start up there by that post." And then they all raced in.

When they had lined up, side by side, the Travel Man jumped up and cried, "Remember, speed is going to win. You'll lose if you go slow. Now, no fair cheating. Start out fair. You'll hear my voice ring through the air. Race right down to that other post." And then shouted out, "Go!"

Away they went, a sight to see. The Travel Man laughed out in glee. "Keep going there," he shouted. "May the best lad win the race." And then, because he tried the most, wee Scouty led them to the post. And Clowny, with a last strong dive, came in, in second place.

Just then an acrobatic team appeared. They surely were a scream, with all the funny tumbling tricks they did upon the sand. The Tinies scrambled in to shore and watched them for an hour or more. And when the men were through the Tinies gave them quite a hand.

"Now all get dressed and hurry, too," the Travel Man exclaimed. "Then you can take a nice long walk with me, along a winding street. We'll look in windows. 'Twill be fun and, when our little trip is done, we'll find a pleasant little place where we can stop and eat."

They hurried, as he'd asked them to, and shortly they were walking through a very interesting street. 'Twas narrow as could be. A man passed by and Scouty said, "He sells those baskets to earn his bread." And then a cathedral loomed in view. It was a sight to see!

THE PLAINSMAN GETS SOME MAIL

HEY! HEY! HOOP SNAKES! WRITERS DISAGREE ON REPTILES; BAND BOY SEEKS LOST COAT

OH YEAH?

Dear Plainsman: Subject: Hoop Snake Help! When I was a small lad the negroes told us that a hoop snake made himself into a hoop and began to roll and that when he struck anything it was sure death—even to a tree. However I am uncertain as to their version as to the horn being on the head or tail.

This reminds me of the old lady's egg test. Put them in water and the bad ones would either sink or swim, and she had forgotten which.

Bill.

(Dear William: That reminds me of the story of the old lady who was baking pies—mince and raisin. In order to keep 'em straight she marked a "M" on each pie. The letters stood for "'tis mince" and for "'twist mince". Thanks for your letter. The Plainsman.)

HERE'S A GOOD ONE!

Dear Plainsman: Your education in regards to nature has been sadly neglected. Anyone who has been raised in Kentucky knows that we have three kinds of hoop snakes. Those that strike with their tail, those that use their head and those that encircle objects. One of the hardest fought battles I ever witnessed was between a hoop snake and a mad stone. The mad stone finally won by sucking all of the poison from the snakes tail. Believe it or not.

Jim Julep.
Lubbock, Texas.

(Dear Sir: Atta boy, Jim. Atta boy! You get the prize on all the letters thus far. Speaking of Kentucky, are you by any chance related to Mint Julep? Yours truly, The Plainsman.)

EXPERT COMES ACROSS

Dear Plainsman: Stick to your guns! You are correct that the hoop snake has that death dealing spike on his tail and not on his head. Reference, "The Reptile Book" by R. L. Ditmars, the world authority on reptiles.

The only snake with a horn is the well known "sidewinder" or horned rattlesnake that has never been accused of turning himself into a bicycle.

The one snake that has a "spike" is the redbellied of the rainbow species, farancia abacura, commonly called the hoop, horn, and mud snake. The "spike" is a barely noticeable non-venimous needle like spine that will sometimes wound the skin. Now, lay low and strut your snakeology.

The phenomenon of this or any other snake grasping his tail in his mouth, rolling along and dealing death and destruction in his wake, has never been noted by Mr. Ditmars or any herpetologist (snakeologist). They say pooh! pooh! and ha! ha! They class this tale of the tail along with the easter bunny and his eggs. For years there has been a thousand dollar reward for any snake that could roll ten feet or sting a mushroom to death.

However, none of these learned gentlemen ever lived on the plains, and in spite of their opinions, I am sure the rolling hoop snake, "stinger" and all, does inhabit the South Plains. While making talks on snakes, I have received indisputable evidence that they are not rare and are of several different kinds. Preachers, rectors, elders, deacons, and stewards have related seeing their horrible performances and from their descriptions I classify the different varieties as follows: Methodist, colored red with green spots, shouts as it rolls along. Baptists, blue with pink stripes, back horny and shell-like. Presbyterian, royal purple with white oval patterns and a klaxon horn between the eyes.

I hope eventually to secure actual specimens and photographs of the rolling, win that thousand, and prove to all these doubting highbrows that there is nothing we do not have on the South Plains.

Very truly yours,
K. N. Clapp.

(The Plainsman's Note: Mr. Clapp is a student of snake life and probably knows as much or more about snakes than anybody in town. This fact makes his testimony on the hoop snake doubly important.)

ANOTHER EXPERT TESTIFYS

Dear Plainsman: I have noted your recent invitation to readers of your column to write on their experiences with hoop snakes and have noted several amusing stories in reply to this invitation.

I am not an authority on snake lore but the snake referred to is commonly called horn, hoop and stinging snake. The technical name for it is Farancia abacura and is absolutely harmless—at both ends. This snake will do nothing more than writhe and twist a little if picked up, and the next time you see one you need not hesitate in handling it because it cannot harm you.

If you will examine the tip of the tail you will only find a horny appendage which is found on many other snakes, such as the prairie bull snake copperhead and others. There is no poison in this horny tip and the old saying that this snake strikes with its tail and its deadly poison is just another old saying that is beyond proof.

Don't ask where the above information came from, but I can assure you it is authentic.

Yours truly,
L. M. Diehlman.

(Dear Mr. Diehlman: Thanks for adding this expert opinion to our discussion of the hoop snake. Thanks again. The Plainsman.)

CAN YOU HELP?

Dear Plainsman: Since you have been so very successful in locating everything from jobs for enterprising young men and women to mad stones and hoop snakes, I wish you would try to locate my coat.

The coat was a tan trench coat with a tie, on which was a National Honor society pin, in the posse. It was left in the baggage car of the Pampa special, along with various band instruments and could have been picked up by someone who did not know where to find the owner. I am a Lubbock High school band boy and I have got to have that coat in order to go to Amarillo to help beat the Sandies. If yu locate it please phone 591-W.

Very truly yours,
Martin Bane,
1613 18th Street.

(Dear Martin: I will try to help you and I sure want to see you find your coat. But whether you do or not, don't let that keep you from going to Amarillo. The Westerners will need you band boys up there and that's no foolin'. Cordially, The Plainsman.)

CAPITAL MUST GET BY WITHOUT MRS. GANN

WASHINGTON, Nov 6. (AP)—Because Mrs. Dolly Gann is going to the west coast to see and be seen by the stars of Hollywood, a big Armistice Day ball here will have to go on without her.

Mrs. Gann is honorary chairman of Armistice ball patronesses with Mrs. William E. Borah, active chairman. Mrs. Gann had planned a box party.

But her brother, Vice President Curtis, accepted an invitation to travel to the west coast for the motion picture academy dinner on the night of Nov. 16, and Mrs. Gann exercised the woman's right to change her mind.

"Brother is going to Los Angeles, and I am just going to tag along," said Mrs. Gann. "I don't know exactly what the program is out there, but I feel sure we will have a good time."

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—Early losses of 1 to 2 points in numerous principal shares were reduced in today's stock market when the metal issues rallied.

Homestake Mining, International Silver, Cerro de Pasco, American Smelting, Kennecott and U. S. Smelting advanced in fairly active trading. American Telephone recovered most of a 2 point drop. U. S. Steel, which had been off 1 5-8, cut the decline to a fraction and there was a similar steadying of prices in other leaders.

Call money renewed at 2 1-2 per cent.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 6 (AP)—Sharp general breaks of Chicago grain prices early today followed a severe setback in wheat quotations at Liverpool. The fall of the Liverpool market was ascribed to sudden heavy selling of Australian wheat and to instability of British exchange rates. Opening 1 1-4 to 2 1-4 cents lower, Chicago wheat future delivery contracts quickly declined further. Corn started 1-2 to 5-8 off and then recovered somewhat.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—Cotton opened steady today, unchanged to 2 points higher on covering and trade buying. Trading was quiet and early fluctuations were narrow.

Offerings increased somewhat after the easier opening of the wheat market but fluctuations were comparatively narrow and the market at the end of the first half hour was quiet at net declines of about 1 to 4 points. Another private report was published, placing the indicated crop at 16,342,000 bales and placing the ginnings to November 1 at 12,150,000 bales. Liverpool cables reported Indian buying in that market supplied by hedging and liquidation on the improvement in sterling. A better cloth demand from the continent and Africa was reported in the Manchester market.

Another private report was issued, making the indicated yield 16,059,000 bales and estimating ginnings to November 1 at 11,938,000 bales. According to a canvass made during the morning, New York cotton exchange members are expecting a crop of about 16,640,000 bales on the average. Crop figures were without any appreciable effect on the market but the early decline promoted by the weakness in wheat carried prices off to 6.48 for December and 6.72 for March or about 4 to 7 points lower. Offerings were comparatively light, however, and the market late in the morning held steady on further covering or trade buying. December rallied to 6.54, and March to 6.77, with active months holding within a point or two either way of yesterday's closing quotations at midday.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 6 (AP)—Cotton opened steady here today, showing losses of only 1 to 2 points though Liverpool cables were rather lower than due.

As New York opened better than the market in New Orleans, prices locally promptly rallied one to three points but this soon attracted selling by traders who look for bearish crop estimates on the crop Monday.

December traded down to 6.50, January to 6.57, and March to 6.75, or 2 to 3 points under yesterday's close.

The market ruled comparatively quiet most of the morning. Prices eased off in sympathy with lower stocks and wheat, December trading down to 6.48, January to 6.57 and March to 6.72, or 4 to 6 points down from yesterday's close.

Toward mid session, prices rallied somewhat on fair trade buying and December advanced to 6.56, January to 6.63, and March to 6.79 or six to eight points up from the previous lows. At mid-session the market was steady and near the highs.

Two additional private crop estimates were announced during the morning, one making the crop 16,342,000 bales and the other 16,039,000.

One of these authorities estimated ginnings to November 1 at 12,150,000 running bales.

They're Your Fellow Citizens Now

It's in their new role of citizens of the United States that these Seminole Indians are shown here as they cast their first ballots in a local election at Miami, Fla. Called "the original Americans," the tribesmen only recently pledged their allegiance to the country and were granted the franchise. They're seen coming in their bright-colored costumes to vote in a referendum approving the operation of horse-race and dog-race tracks.

As Brought Over Associated Press Wires Today

(By The Associated Press)

To Aid Jobless

NEW YORK—A general and a colonel whose deeds speak much louder than their words will do some talking for unemployment relief on the radio Sunday night. Their names are Pershing and Lindbergh.

Liquor Is Found

NEW YORK—The Statue of Liberty stood for nothing but trouble to the British freighter Gibraltar yesterday. As the boat rode at anchor off the statue, customs officers found 400 demijohns of liquor aboard her.

Novel Is Popular

PARIS—Prisoners at Sante prison read the "Counte of Monte Cristo" more than any other book—but none of them ever has been able to emulate the famous escape scene of the novel.

Agents Accurate

SALT LAKE CITY—Federal prohibition agents believe in getting right down to brass tacks even if it empties a fountain pen. A squad stopped an automobile, found ten gallons of liquor. They asked the driver his name. "Pete Komas," he replied. "Your real name," one of the agents prompted. "That," said the driver, "is Astrinos Emanuel Koncrounmitzakos."

Political Fuss

LOS ANGELES—The $100,000 blaze at the Malibu film colony has started a political back-fire. Allan Dwan, film director and unofficial mayor of Malibu, has suggested that Warner Baxter, actor and fire chief, resign. "Baxter blames the water shortage for the loss," Mayor Dwan said. "We had the whole Pacific ocean within a few feet of the flames and what did he do? He couldn't find his helmet and then he couldn't find his bucket."

She Has Answer

NEW YORK—Miss Sarah Matthews has the answer to the tired business man's worries. She teaches him jig-saw puzzles—and presto! Goodby worry.

Not Much Hope

IDABEL, Okla.—Charley Draper, on trial for a double slaying, doesn't have much hope of escaping the death penalty. He is trying to interest authorities in a plan to take up a collection among spectators at his trial to raise a burial fund.

Weeping Pays

NORRISTOWN, Pa.—George Caull, 17, was an trial for stealing apples. Throughout the proceedings he wept noisily. The court cautioned him "You are too big a boy," said the court, "to act that way."

The jury acquitted George.

WURZBACH DIES

been established by the redoubtable late John W. Tobin, opposed him. McCloskey won out on face of the returns, but Wurzbach, always an uncompromising aggressor, challenged the correctness of the count and later was vindicated when the committee of elections in the national house found he had received a majority of the votes and directed that he be seated.

Soon after giving the Republicans their only representation in Texas' large delegation, Wurzbach in some manner engendered the disfavor of R. B. Creager, Texas' national committeeman, long a power in the party in Texas and other leaders. From that time on he always had opposition within his party when he came up for renomination. But he went resolutely on about the business of winning regularly every two years in a Democratic district not only without the aid of his own party, but with its active opposition.

With the division between the two major parties in the house still so close that organization is doubtful, it may be the Texan's death will bring about election of a Democratic Texan—John N. Garner—to the speakership.

Last spring when it became evident Garner could win the speakership with defection of probably a single Republican the proposition was put up to Texas' lone Republican member.

"Couldn't you, as a Texan anxious to see your state have the speakership, find it convenient to vote for Garner on the score of state patriotism?" he was asked.

Strict Party Man

"No," he replied. "As much as I admire Mr. Garner and as much as I love Texas and would like to see a Texan speaker, first of all I am a strict party man and would be obliged to vote with my party in the matter of deciding the speakership."

When that statement was made Congressman Wurzbach was a fine specimen of physical manhood. Although the strenuous campaigns he hda been forced to make in a big district drew heavily upon him he always managed to emerge with unimpaired health.

There was widespread doubt if another Republican could win the district in the special election that must be held within 30 days, under Texas law as interpreted by authorities. In fact, Republicans themselves were without suggestion of a single outstanding man among their number who could successfully oppose some well known Democrats who were likely to aspire to the vacant seat.

It was pointed out that with Garner's future as speaker of the house at stake the Democrats would have a powerful argument for favor.

Wirtz Mentioned

Among the Democrats mentioned was former State Senator A. J. Wirtz of Seguin, law partner of the fallen Wurzbach. He often in the past had been mentioned as a probable successor to Wurzbach in event the Republican congressman should decide to retire.

LAW PERMITS QUICK SPECIAL ELECTION

AUSTIN, Nov. 6. (AP)—Texas law will permit the holding of a quick special election to fill the vacancy in the national house of representatives caused by the death of Congressman Harry M. Wurzbach of Seguin.

It was definitely determined today that although the governor may take his time about issuing a proclamation setting the date of the election, the day fixed for the voting must be within 30 days of the date of the executive call.

DEMOS STRENGTHENED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6. (AP)—The death of Representative Wurzbach, only Republican member of the house from Texas, strengthened the probability of Democratic organization of the house next month.

With the Texan's passing, the lineup today stood: Democrats 217; Republicans 214; Farmer-Labor 1; Vacancies 3.

Young Man Hanged For Murder Today

STATE PRISON, Fort Madison, Ia., Nov. 6. (AP)—Joseph A. R. Altringer, 23, Dubuque, was hanged for the killing of Earl Robert Fuller, 12 year old Dubuque lad.

The trap was sprung at 7:05 a. m., and he was pronounced dead at 7:10.

His last words were: "Well, so long everybody."

South Carolina is proceeding with a $65,000,000 highway program and work will start shortly on a $1,300,000 veterans hospital at Columbia.

In Alabama, a $3,000,000 courthouse was completed at Birmingham this month. A $4,000,000 grade elimination program and a $3,000,000 drainage system are to be completed soon.

A total of $9,758,500 is being expended on projects in Virginia. The Virginia highway department is giving employment to 2,900 additional persons under a week "on" and a week "off" plan.

Georgia has announced plans to let more than $1,000,000 in highway contracts which will give work to an additional 1,000 men probably until March.

Democratic Victory Seen By Connally

MEXIA, Nov. 6 (AP)—Senator Tom Connally of Marlin thinks the Democrats will organize the house and elect a Democratic president in 1932. He was principal speaker at a highway celebration at Buffalo, near Mexia, yesterday.

Three major reforms, contemplated if the Democrats "capture the White House in 1932", were outlined by Connally.

"Lower the outrageous tariff to open the channels of trade.

"Reverse the present administration plan of pampering and petting consolidations of great corporations with their power and monopoly, bringing these combinations before the bar of justice.

"Reform of taxation, including higher inheritance taxes and a higher rate on the upper brackets of the income tax."

Stage Star To Wed English Lord

They are to be married in England and Miss Astaire declares she will give up her stage career to settle down with her husband on his estate in Ireland.

Fate Of Confessed Slayer With Jury

DIMMITT, Nov. 6 (AP)—The fate of Frank Barrett, 42, Castro county farmer and confessed slayer of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Nona Barrett, was in the hands of the jury today after one of the shortest murder trials on record.

Barrett pleaded guilty and offered only the defense of mental incapacity. His wife and daughter, and his brother's wife testified that he was subject to "spells at which times he was not mentally responsible.

The case went to the jury late last night. Ivo reports had been received from the jury today.

GEORGETOWN, Nov. 6 (AP)—Ray Click was convicted today by a district court jury on a charge of murder in connection with the shooting of A. W. Walker and sentenced to five years imprisonment.

Guard Holds Farmers In Check In Cattle War

Presence of Iowa national guard units in the trouble zones of the state where farmers have united in an effort to resist tuberculin tests on their cattle is the only reason state veterinaries have been able to continue their work. In several localities the farmers armed themselves to resist the troops and clashes have been averted only with difficulty. This photo is a scene in the national guard camp at the Tri-State Fair grounds in Des Moines county, a center in the cattle war.

EVIL EFFECTS OF CONSTIPATION

Constipation locks up poisons in the body, and allows them to begin dangerous work against your health. Keep the bowels active. If constipated, one of the best things to do is to take Thedford's Black-Draught for prompt relief. Mrs. LeRoy Brack, 2810 Poplar St., Cairo, Ill., writes: "My mother used Thedford's Black-Draught in her home for years. She thought it was so good, she had me use it. I find it is fine for sour stomach and gas. A few doses, taken for several nights, makes me feel like a new person. I have found it very good and dependable."

Made from the leaves and roots of medicinal plants — free from mineral drugs.

SOPHISTICATED NEW YORKERS TURN TO SIMPLE MID-VICTORIAN AMUSEMENT FOR RELIEF

BL ROBERT ST. JOHN
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 6. (AP)—Hundreds of sophisticted New Yorkers, jaded by the fast tempo of night club life, are turning back to one of the simplest amusements of Mid-Victorian days—the jig-saw puzzle.

In a little second-story shop on the fringe of the Fifth avenue luxury district, a silver-haired woman, Miss Sarah Matthews, is teaching tired business men how to forget their worries with weirdly-shaped bits of wood.

She runs New York's only jig-saw puzzle exchange, established 15 years ago.

The monetary return is not great, but the eyes of the motherly-looking Miss Mathews lighted up today as she told what her puzzles had done.

"They hear of me," she said, "and come in to tell me their troubles. Most of them are men. They are nervous and have business difficulties. They want something to sooth their minds, to make them forget.

"I feel a real sympathy for them and that is why I listen patiently and then say 'jig-saw puzzles for you.' It's the best way in the world to get a complete vacation from what troubling you.

"I always start them off with simple ones, just a few hundred pieces. Then when they work those I exchange them for bigger ones.

"A lot of Wall Street brokers have come to me. One of them is doing 600's and 800's now. And you can't imagine how grateful he is. The only trouble is that you're likely to lose a lot of sleep, but that isn't so bad because your mind is at rest."
