Arguments In Case Heard In Appeals Court

Attorney Explains Interests Of 14 Schools At Stake

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 5—Contestants have challenged validity of the state's $60,000,000 college building constitutional amendment to protect the interests of Texas Tech and 13 other state supported colleges, the Third Court of Civil Appeals was told today.

Contest of the amendment went before the court on oral arguments in the appeal from a 12th district court decision which upheld the amendment, adopted at the polls last year.

No Immediate Action

The appeal court took arguments in the case under advisement without taking any immediate action.

R. Guy Carter of Dallas, attorney for the contestants, told the court there has been "considerable misunderstanding as to the purpose of this lawsuit."

"My clients are interested primarily in the cause of Texas Tech and are seeking only to promote the interests of 14 state colleges. They are not opposed, as some have seemed to think, to the cause of higher education," Carter said.

Allegations Are Reviewed

Carter reviewed for the appeal court four basic allegations on which the amendment was contested in district court: that the amendment was not duly published in accordance with constitutional requirements, that the constitutional requirements are mandatory, that the ballot description of the amendment was not clear as to scope and character of the proposition in violation of a constitutional mandate.

Assistant Attorney General Joe R. Greenhill, represents the state's defense of the amendment, told the court that there was "substantial compliance" with constitutional requirements. Such compliance, he argued, is sufficient.

"It couldn't be otherwise," he said. "We must allow the people to amend their constitution and not embarrass them by saying that if they don't do this and that their vote will be overturned."

Limitation Is Opposed

Carter told the court that the chief objection to the amendment is a limitation it sets up "forbidding 14 state colleges from receiving any other state funds from any other source for 30 years for building purposes."

He said present funds available

Doctors Hold Meeting Here

First sessions of the Panhandle District Medical society opened at 9:15 o'clock this morning in Lubbock hotel. Eighty-eseven doctors had registered before 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Between 200 and 300 physicians are expected to attend the convention, said Dr. Frank Hudgins, general chairman.

Homer D. Grant, president of Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, extended a welcome to the doctors at the morning session opened in the main ballroom of the hotel.

Four Sections Meet

Dr. C. E. High of Pampa, president, made a welcoming address following which reading of papers began.

Four sections are meeting during the two-day session. The medical section, with Dr. R. C. Douglas of Lubbock as chairman, and the eye- ear, nose and throat section, with Dr. F. B. Malone as chairman, are holding discussions today.

At the medical section Dr. David Marcley of Amarillo read a paper on "Cardiac Arrythmia," with a discussion led by Dr. William H. Gordon of Lubbock. Dr. Ben R. Buford of Dallas read a paper on

UN Will Debate Berlin Issue

Expert Forecasts Population Of 99,000 For City In 1958

Sewage disposal system expansions based on an estimated Lubbock population of 99,000 in 1958 were recommended to a special meeting of the city commission today by Harry N. Roberts, consulting engineer.

The commission agreed that the system must be enlarged, with work starting as soon as possible, so as to provide increased capacity before next summer. The city then can proceed more leisurely with the expansions for requirements further down the line.

To Cost $452,000

Roberts estimated the costs of the expansions he recommended at $452,000. Many of the facilities thus provided, he said, should be adequate for an anticipated population of 99,000 in 1958.

Other parts of the system probably will require further enlargement in 1953, based on a Lubbock population estimate of 82,000. The needs in 1953 and 1958 will have to be determined more accurately by studies at those times, Roberts commented.

Members of the city commission did not determine definitely just how the expansions will be financed.

No Bond Issue Proposal

But Mayor W. H. Rodgers, speaking for the commission, said positively that a bond issue will not be proposed.

He estimated that the city has around $300,000 in bonds approved in an election last year for sewage department expansions. Any additional sums required, the mayor believes, can be taken out of the general fund. The prospects for this method are brightened, officials said, by the indications that the cost of some of the improvements can be spread over several years.

While Roberts' survey corroborated previous reports by City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr., that the present facilities were overloaded at peak periods last summer, he said the situation has not become one which could be termed a danger to public health.

But Roberts and the city manager, who also is a graduate engineer, emphasized that emergency conditions involving backed up sewage, odors and the like, will be inevitable next summer unless facilities are expanded before that time. Present facilities will be adequate for cold weather requirements, officials said.

Fortunately, members of the commission pointed out, the present plant, which was completed in 1941, was designed so that additional treatment units can be added as required. Rodgers was city manager and Smith was city engineer when it was designed and built. The fact that it is of unite design, Roberts said, will reduce greatly the cost of the expansions needed now.

When erected, the disposal system was expected to be adequate

King Of Siam Hurt As Car Hits Truck

MORGES, Switzerland, Oct. 5. (AP)—King Phumpiphon Adulet of Siam was severely hurt in an auto accident here last night.

The king, 19, and Aram Radamakuhl, identified as his brother-in-law, were taken to Morges hospital. Latest reports said Rhumpihon had shown considerable improvement, but the Raddamakuhl's condition was grave.

The accident occurred on the main Geneva-Lausanne highway. Police said Rhumpihon was driving a midget-sized automobile towards Geneva. A truck ahead of him stopped suddenly to avoid two cyclists and the royal car crashed into the rear.

The young king has been a student at Lausanne university for several years.

Russians To Stage Parachute Practice

BERLIN, Oct. 5 —The Russians notified the western powers today they plan parachute practice in the air corridor used by American and British planes supplying blockaded Berlin.

The Soviet warning, posted in the four-power Berlin air safety center, said the drill was to begin today from a 2,500-foot altitude.

The notice did not specify how many men or planes were involved or how long the exercises would last. The locale stipulated is in the Bueckeburg-Berlin corridor which is used by all airlift planes on their return flight to western Germany.

Lift Calls For 'Shmoos' To Give Reich Reds The Blues

The men of the 17th Military Air Transport Squadron Monday ordered a shipment of "shmoos" to end the Berlin crisis.

An AAF unit participating in the airlift into the German capital, the squadron cabled an order from Rhein, Germany, for a dozen shmoos to drop into Berlin by parachute in "Operation Little Vittles."

The U. S. fliers sent their cable to Al Capp, creator of the bewhiskered, gourd-shaped little beast which has ended all economic ills in Dogpatch, scene of "Li'l Abner," comic strip appearing in Avalanche-Journal newspapers.

Mention of special "shmoo chutes" recalled that U. S. fliers are making parachutes of kerchiefs and dropping candy and gum to German children in the American sector of Berlin.

OFFICERS HUNT LONE BANDIT

$18,000 Taken In Texas Bank Holdup

(By The Associated Press)

MALONE, Tex., Oct. 5.—A tall man wearing dark glasses robbed the Malone State bank of about $18,000 today and fled in an automobile.

The man entered the bank at 11:35 a. m., and held up Guy Mann, bank official. He locked Mann in the bank's vault, along with Mrs. Weldon Kaddatz, assistant cashier, and Willie Geltmirer, a customer.

George Bonner, Malone merchant, said he saw the man leave the bank and drive away in a 1936 black (Ford) sedan. First reports said the robber came to Malone, 18 miles east of Hillsboro, on a bus, but this could not be verified.

Bandit Described

Mann, who estimated the amount taken, described the robber as being about five feet, 11 inches tall, and wearing dark glasses.

He was further described as weighing about 180 to 200 pounds, wearing a khaki shirt, dark trousers and dark hat and being of light complexion.

Bonner said he was attracted to the man when he saw the stranger's car almost collide with a tractor in the street. The robber drove south two block to highway 171.

Sheriff Ralph Allen and members of his department, highway patrolmen and other Central Texas officers converged on Malone after the robbery report.

Ordered Into Vault

Mann said he and Geltmirer were walking to the rear of the bank into the vault when a man came around from the lobby and asked where the cotton office was. They gave him directions and then went into the vault.

Mann said he had a feeling the stranger was about to hold up the bank and decided to return to the cashier's stand. As he stepped out of the vault the stranger met him with a pistol.

"This is a stickup. Give me the money," Mann quoted the robber as saying.

Reds Decline To Take Part In Discussion

Council Votes 9-2 For Case; Charter Violation Claimed

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 5 — The United Nations security council voted 9 to 2 today to admit the western powers case against the Soviet blockade of Berlin and Russia immediately announced she would not take part in the debate.

Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky demanded the floor and declared:

"The Soviet union considers that the security council, by agreeing to put the Berlin question on its agenda, has violated the charter of the United Nations."

Ukraine Backs Russia

Only Russia and the Soviet Ukraine voted against discussing the Berlin crisis. A majority of seven affirmative votes was required.

Vishinsky declared that the adoption of the agenda was a violation of the United Nations charter, specifically of article 107.

Dmitri Manuilsky of the Ukraine then announced that he also would refuse to participate in the debate on Berlin, "for the reasons outlined by the Soviet delegate."

Council President Juan Atilio Bramuglia of Argentina then adjourned the council at 5:30 p. m. (10:30 a. m. CST) with the announcement that there would be two meetings tomorrow.

U. S. Delegate To Speak

Dr. Philip C. Jessup of the United States announced that he would speak at the session tomorrow morning.

Vishinsky, followed by his aides and a crowd of newsmen, stalked out of the great hall of the Palais De Chaillot immediately after the adjournment.

"We shall see," he said, when asked whether he would attend tomorrow's sessions.

He gave the same answer when asked if Russia would consider herself bound by any security council decision on the western charges that the Soviet union was menacing world peace with her blockade of Berlin.

The red-faced, white-haired Russian leader appeared in good

JUSTICE BLACK'S ORDER UPHELD

Johnson Is Victor In Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Supreme court refused today to throw out an order putting the name of Lyndon B. Johnson on the Texas election ballot as the Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Justice Black issued the order on September 28. It lifted an injunction restraining the Texas secretary of state from having Johnson's name placed on the ballot.

Attorneys for former Texas Governor Coke Stevenson, Johnson's opponent in a close run-off primary election, requested the high court to throw out Black's orders.

The Supreme court late this afternoon announced that the request had been denied. It said the decision was reached during a conference attended by all the justices except Justice Murphy. Murphy is undergoing treatments in Michigan.

The court also announced that it had denied a motion filed by attorneys for Johnson. They had moved that the full court issue an order similar to that by Justice Black.

In addition, the Johnson attorneys asked that the full court stay all proceedings in the Johnson case taken by U. S. District Court Judge T. Whitfield Davidson in Texas.

The denial of his request by Johnson's counsel also was made by an eight-judge court, in the absence of Justice Murphy.

JACK PORTER, HOUSTON, SPEAKS AT OPTIMIST CLUB

Two-Party System For Texas Is Urged As GOP Candidate For U. S. Senate Pays Visit To City

Jack Porter, Houston independent oil man and candidate for the U. S. Senate on the Republican ticket, visited Lubbock today on a swing through northwest Texas in the interest of his candidacy.

Traveling by private plane with Mrs. Porter and a secretary, W. E. Turner, Porter arrived in Lubbock about 10:30 o'clock this morning and was principal speaker at the Optimist club luncheon at Hotel Lubbock at noon.

He left early this afternoon for Amarillo, where he is to speak tonight

Talking on the advantages of a two-party government in Texas, Porter cited the civil rights planks of both party platforms as an example of politicians catering to minority groups.

"Most of the members of this minority are Communists, Socialists and negroes and there are less than one million of them," Porter said. "But politicians are practical and they cater to the big vote, so these minorities—less than 6 per cent of the voters—form a vital group in these key states.

"I've been a Democrat nearly all of my life," Porter said, "but I entered the Republican party for the sole purpose of trying to make Texas a two-party state.

"We've had a Vice President and a Speaker of the House in Washington these past 16 years, yet Texas hasn't received the benefits of all this money that has been spent on big reclamation and flood control projects like there have been in Nevada, Arizona, Washington and the other

TO ATTEND FAIR IN AMARILLO—Florence Begay, 17-year-old Navajo Indian girl, left Flagstaff, Ariz., today for Amarillo where citizens want to erase from her memory an unfortunate incident. Florence and her father, Julius, will be guests of the Amarillo Globe-News and Mayor Lawrence Hagy at the Tri-State fair. It was near Amarillo Sept. 24 that Florence was ordered by an unidentified couple to the "Jim Crow" section of a bus. The shy girl was so dismayed that she left the bus at Oklahoma City and returned home. She was on her way to New York to accept a $2,000 college scholarship.

CONSUMERS WILL GET A BREAK

Experts Say Meat Costs Due To Fall

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 5—Lower prices for meat—major item in the family food budget—are predicted by livestock experts.

Hog prices at the principal corn belt markets, on the decline all last week, broke sharply yesterday—around $1 to $2 a hundred pounds. The drop, the biggest one day break in six months at some markets, was attributed to heavy receipts.

Takes A Little Time

There probably will not be an immediate showing of lower prices in the retail markets, the American Meat Institute said. It said signs of declines in some wholesale meat prices are developing "but it takes a little time for adjustment in wholesale prices to be reflected at retail levels." More meat supplies also are indicated, the institute said.

The top price for cattle—around $40 a hundred pounds now—will drop to around $25 next year, Chauncey Watson, president of the Illinois Livestock Feeders association, told the Chicago Farmers club yesterday.

"They're Coming Down"

Mark Pickell, secretary of the Corn Belt Livestock Feeders association said "meat prices are coming down." He said "there should be a good quantity of cattle coming to market in November and December at materially lower prices."

The season increase in hog receipts, said H. M. Conway, market analyst for the National Livestock Producers association, "is not enough to justify a price break like that of today (Monday)." He said the present price is "too low." He predicted farmers will hold back shipments.

Lowest Since June

Most hog sales at Chicago yesterday were $21.50 to $25.75, the lowest price since June. The declines were $1 to $2 a hundred pounds. Declines of similar amounts were reported at Kansas City, and drops of $1 to $1.50 were reported at Omaha; $2 to $2.25 at East St. Louis; $2 to $2.50 at Indianapolis and $1 at South St. Paul.

Money Was Root Of His Friends' Evil

DALLAS, Oct. 5 (UP)—Sometimes a man is better off without so-called friends.

A case at point: a Dallas resident, jailed for three days for drunkenness, asked a friend to go to his hotel room and get some money he had there to bail him out.

The friend didn't return, but a call to the hotel revealed that the money had been picked up.

Then he asked that the porter bring over some money. The porter also disappeared.

He finally made the grade, however, after serving out three days at $3 a day. His one remaining dollar paid out the remainder of the $10 fine.

Co-Op Session Opens In City

An educational and information session, described as a farm co-op clinic, with representatives of farm co-operatives from all parts of the state attending, was to open this afternoon in Aggie Memorial auditorium at Texas Tech college.

The two-day meeting, in the form of a panel, or seminar discussion of problems of farm co-operatives, will include discussions by Dr. Raymond W. Miller, dean of public relations of the American Institute of Co-Operation, Washington, D. C.; Kelsey B. Gardner, of the research and service division of the Farm Credit administration, Washington; and J. F. Collier, manager of the American Rice Growers Co-Operative association, Houston.

Barbecue To Be Held

The state-wide meeting is sponsored by the Houston Bank for Co-Operatives, and the Texas Federation of Co-Operatives of Dallas, of which Geo. B. Blair, former Lubbock resident, is executive secretary.

First session of the clinic was to open at 1 o'clock this afternoon and to close about 5 o'clock, and those attending were to be guests of the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill at a barbecue to be served at the mill, 2901 Ave. A, starting at 6:15 o'clock. Roy Davis, manager of the mill, announced plans for the barbecue.

A night session of the clinic was scheduled for 7 o'clock, and almost a full day of panel discussion of cooperatives and their problems was on the schedule for Wednesday.

No Additional Rain Forecast For Area

A brief sprinkling of rain was received in Lubbock this morning, but no additional rain was forecast by the U. S. Weather bureau station north of the city.

"A trace" of rainfall was received in about 10 minutes following 8:39 a. m.

The forecast called for partly cloudy skies and not much change in temperature. This morning's minimum temperature was 56 degrees.

800 Persons Killed In China Typhoon

CANTON, China, Oct. 5. (AP)—Press dispatches reaching here today said 800 persons were killed when a typhoon struck Leichow peninsula and the Pakhoi, Kwangchouwan and Hoihow areas Sept. 27.

The reports said 600 persons perished when the typhoon sank more than 100 fishing boats near Leichow. Another 200 were killed when 70 salt laden sailing junks were destroyed near Pakhoi.

Heavy damage and casualties also were inflicted by torrential rains which inundated the area around Hainan island.

Winds Of 132 MPH In Cuba; Seven Killed

Outer Gales Rake Miami; Center Is Due Later Today

(By The United Press)

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 5—A hurricane, leaving at least seven dead and millions of dollars in property damage, swirled out of Havana and hit the Florida keys shortly before noon today.

The outer gales of the storm blew in gusts through Miami's streets as 100-mile-an-hour winds headed for the winter playground for the second time in 14 days. Full force of the hurricane was expected here before 5 p. m.

100 To Hospitals

The storm hit Island City at the end of the keys after ripping through Havana with 132-mile-an-hour winds that sent at least 100 persons to hospitals. Scores of others required first aid. Communication to outlying Cuban areas were shattered.

The storm left Havana paralyzed. Power was out in much of the city. Three rivers surged from their banks from the downpour that accompanied the storm. Police opened fire on small gangs of looters who smashed store windows.

Small But Intense

At 12:30 p. m. EST the weather bureau here said the storm center had passed a little to the east of Key West, which had steady winds of 75 mph and gusts even stronger. It was described as "very small but intense" as it headed toward the Cape Sable coast of the peninsula.

President Ramon Grau San Martin and President Elect Carlos Prio Socarras took charge of plans for relief and rehabilitation after a personal investigation of the damage with Maj. Gen. Geonveve Perez Damera, Cuban army chief of staff.

The storm was following the path of the $25,000,000 hurricane which tore through Florida's citrus and vegetable belt two weeks ago.

To Swirl Out To Sea

The weather bureau said it would cut through the Everglades-Okeechobee area and swirl out to sea near Jupiter, Fla., tonight if it continues its present course.

The Navy radar station at Boca Chica field said the calm "eye" in the center of the storm was 18 miles due south of Key West at noon and was expected to pass east of Boca Chica before 1 p. m.

Typhoon Roars Toward Japan

TOKYO, Oct. 5 (AP)—The vicious typhoon which yesterday gave Okinawa a $10,000,000 lashing began snapping at the southeast tip of Japan today.

Army weathermen reported the typhoon had produced winds up to 50 miles an hour early today on the southern tip of Kyushu island.

The winds reached more than 100 miles an hour on U. S.-occupied Okinawa, and apparently only the fringe of the storm was touching Kyushu so far.

The weathermen held out the possibility that the general east-northeast direction of the typhoon might carry the main force of the storm south and east of the major part of Japan.

Another storm in the sea north of Japan sank the 2,218-ton Japanese freighter Kenshin Maru last night, the U. S. Navy reported. The report said that 34 crewmen were missing and 29 rescued.

The Kenshin Maru, carrying coal from the Russian-controlled island of Sakhalin had been damaged in a previous storm and was under tow when it sank.

The Army prepared to send ships and planes with supplies to Okinawa as soon as sufficient communications are restored to determine what will be needed.

Power line crews and communications personnel will be flown to

U. S. Making Rapid Progress In Art Of Airborne Troop Warfare

(By The Associated Press)

ELGIN FIELD, Fla., Oct. 5—The United States is making long strides in the art of airborne troop warfare, joint military exercises here reveal.

Among new techniques and equipment disclosed in demonstrations are two of major significance:

1. An airborne force now can move twice as many fighting men with the same number of aircraft as in World War II.

2. The conventional parachute may be on its way out as a method for dropping assault troopers, to be replaced by a rotary glider.

Fewer Planes Needed

Operational plans and preliminary demonstrations for "operation combine" dealing with the airborne phase of these exercises, which are being run by the battle-tested 82nd airborne division, shows that one modern transport cargo type plane can carry 42 fully equipped paratroopers compared with only 20 for most World War II types.

This means that not only fewer planes are now needed to get the same number of men into battle but that also fewer fields are needed from which to operate them.

Plans for an invasion of mythical Deluvia by forces of Namora refer to moving two corps of four divisions of airborne combat troops. That indicates 55,000 men plus light artillery and vehicles are to be transported in about 1,500 airplanes and three thousand gliders, far better than in World War II campaigns.

Loading Time Given

While the situation here is hypothetical and the number of troops involved in the demonstration is not equal to two airborne corps, the planning obviously is based on current contemplated capabilities of the army and the air force.

"Operation combine" yesterday demonstrated lightning-swift techniques of launching an airborne strike in this rapidly-modernizing branch of the armed forces.

To show how swift such action can be, the 82nd airborne unit loaded three jeeps and three trailers into a a C-82 in four minutes and forty seconds, and can put that load on the ground and start the jeeps off into action in one and a half minutes.

Drop Zones Located Easier

Airborne experts have corrected many weaknesses displayed in World War II operations. Among them are improved systems for locating drop zones into which cargoes and troops are to be parachuted or landed by glider. Among these "pathfinder" gadgets is an infro-red signal which can be detected visually by approaching planes.

There was only terse reference to the new rotary glider device for paratroopers. Most of the details are still classified as secret, and the drop device is still in the experimental and test phase.

Jumping Speeded Up

Among obvious advantages of such a powerless helicopter over the conventional chute would be the probability that paratroop jumps could be made with aircraft moving at much faster speeds and that costly and time-consuming repacking of chutes to preserve them and check them for safety would be eliminated.

Meanwhile, commanders of "operations combine" were receiving frequent reports of a hurricane several hundred miles southeast of here. If the hurricane strikes in the direction of Elgin Field, the grand finale to the joint exercise probably will be runoff sometime today. The base already had begun to secure its planes and equipment in preparation for a big blow.

Doctor Says Love Attitude Problem

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5 (AP)—One of the chief troubles with the world, according to a Temple University psychiatrist, is that it "regards love as nearly a luxury if not a sin."

That was what Dr. O. Spurgeon English told the 100th anniversary meeting of the Pennsylvania Medical society yesterday.

As a matter of fact, Dr. English observed, "nearly everybody is starved for love."

"This is due in part," he said, "to the fact that few people understand love very well" and because too many persons look upon love as something that must be kept strongly in check.

Because of this love starvation, Dr. English declared, there is a swing toward "perverted physiological activity" as men and women take "to drugs and alcohol, try new love adventures, get divorces and remarry, trying to find the cure for their love hunger."

Henderson Deputy Victim In Shooting

HENDERSON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Homer Pool was shot and critically wounded Monday when he responded to a call to halt an argument between a man and woman on a Henderson street.

The sheriff's department reported that the man shot Pool in the abdomen. The man fired three shots, the department said, but only one took effect. Deputy Sheriff Sam Broome, who accompanied Pool, arrested the man and took him to jail.

The woman identified the man as her husband. She said he was on a furlough from the state penitentiary where he was serving a term for burglary from Dallas county. He obtained the furlough, she said, to attend the funeral of a relative. The woman was detained by the officers for questioning.

Noted Journalist And Dialect Poet Dies After Long Illness

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5 (AP)—Tom Daly, whose poetry seemed "perfection" to the late William Lyon Phelps of Yale university, died yesterday after a long illness.

Of Irish ancestry, Thomas Augustine Daly acquired his greatest fame as a writer of Italian dialect poetry. He also was a lecturer and journalist of note.

Captured Italian Spirit

Daly captured the spirit of the poor Italian immigrant in his dialect poems after working as a grocery clerk and covering the Italian-American section of this city as a staff reporter for the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

Daly's readers found a line for repeated quoting in "Da Styleesha Wife." It read:

"W'at good eesa wife eef she don'ta eat?"

Also widely quoted was the sad poem of "Da Leetle Boy." It began with these lines:

"Da spreeng ees com'; but oh, day joy
He was so cold my leetla boy
He could not wait."

He had worked for the Philadelphia Record and attended Villanova college, where he played baseball, and Fordham university.

Franklin P. Adams, the information pleaser and columnist, once wrote of Daly:

"Tom Daly is a true poet, a fine husband and father, a real friend, a great story-teller, one of the best of all dinner speakers, a first class working humorist, a star second baseman and an excellent business man. And perhaps he has other faults."

From 1929 until illness halted him last August 14 Daly authored the column "Rhymes and Rip-ples" in the Evening Bulletin. His last column was dictated from his bed.

Red Blood Cells Must Be Kept Up If You Want To Feel Alive

Thousands Now Regaining Old Time Pep, Vigor and Drive By Releasing Vibrant Energy To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Overwork, undue worry, and lack of certain foods often reduces the red-blood strength—and starved, weak, puny blood just hasn't the power to keep up your energy and drive.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: No appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that S.S.S. Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the S.S.S. Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, S.S.S. Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on S.S.S. Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. S.S.S. Tonic Helps Build Sturdy Health.

THOUSANDS IN USE ALL OVER THE COUNTRY EMPIRE

MODEL HOME 1890

THIS HOUSE was the last word in fine home planning sixty years ago! Its architectural pattern included all of the features then popularly accepted as elegant. It is now antique, judged by today's standards of home types, but the grand old home served its owners well.

There has been a change in the architecture of family monuments, too. Newer designs are gracefully proportioned. Plain areas of granite are highly polished to give depth of color to the natural stone. Simplicity is the distinguishing note which, even a hundred years from now, will associate these monuments with our present era, just as those of past decades will reflect the architecture of their time.

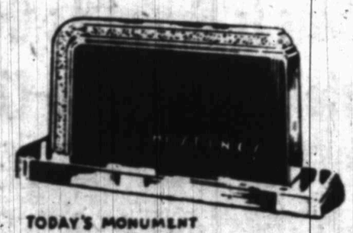

TODAY'S HOME

HOLD FAST TO SOUND TRADITION AND PRACTICE

Because old homes are considered ugly, we haven't stopped building houses. We remodel the old and build new, according to today's standards. And so with family monuments. Thoughtful, responsible citizens are proud of their forebears who in their time, erected monuments that have carried the influence and prestige of pioneer personalities to this generation. They know the importance of now continuing the influence of a family name in the community of which it is and has been a part.

When selecting a cemetery lot, be sure to choose one on which you may erect a family monument of size and design that appropriately identifies you and your family today.

Senators, Representatives Get Many Breaks But Still Pay Postage On Christmas Cards

BY HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 — Your senators and representatives get a lot of breaks.

They get their hair cut for 50 cents in the capitol shops ($1.00 outside). They eat a fine lunch in capitol restaurants for about 75 cents, including pea soup and pie ($1.35, at the very least in a hotel).

They even get a break on Christmas cards, which they purchase at a discount at the stationery stores on Capitol Hill, where the public can look in, walk in, but can't buy.

Card Prices Given

The lawmakers buy their cards for an average of $5 to $10 a hundred, plus $2.25 a hundred for having their names printed at the bottom.

Leading stores in Washington list their cards from $5 up. The better greetings cost from $13 to $15 — and up — per hundred, plus a charge for name-printing. No vote-conscious congressman would think of sending the folks back home anything but the best. And their selections compare to the best the big manufacturers offer downtown.

There is a big saving to your public servant right there. But that isn't all.

The private businessman not only must pay the going price for his cards, but he has to figure on the extra cost of having somebody hand-address them. Or if he does the job himself, the valuable time he uses up.

Secretaries Get Task

The men and women of your Congress turn that task over to their secretaries, whose salaries are paid by the taxpayer. Probably the hardest time of the year for the congressional secs is the Christmas card-addressing season. For senators send from 1,000 to 1,500 cards apiece, while the 435 members of the House mail from 500 to 2,000 cards each. Depending on the size of the district represented and according to how close they figure their election race will be.

Here are some more interesting figures:

It costs the average congressman or senator $145.50 to buy his Christmas cards, including the cost of engraving or printing. The senators annually spend a total of about $14,000 for cards and House members over $63,000. Between 'em they buy almost 788,000 cards.

Must Pay Postage

The folks who make the laws, though, are like the rest of us when it comes to mailing their cards — even while they get almost every other break. They've got to kick back to Uncle Sam for postage. They can't use their "franks" (free postage for their official business). So if they pay a straight three-cents for each card the total mailing bill is around $24,000. A leading columnist on etiquette said a cent and a half was polite on greeting cards — that means you send them unsealed—and you'd be surprised at how many members of Congress must have read the column.

Anyhow, the total bill for congressional "Merry Christmases" rung up on the cut-rate capitol shop cash registers is staggering — counting cards, engraving and postage, around $110,879.50.

Capitol Favorite Scene

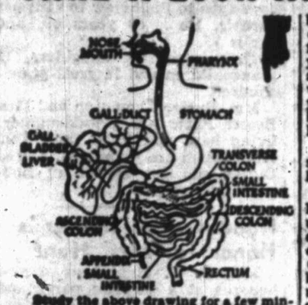

Favorite scene among the Hill-Toppers is, of course, the most photographed building in the world. The Capitol itself. It's sent out in snow scenes, in spring scenes and in the flowery dress of summer.

Next comes the White House. Then the white marbled Supreme court. Followed by the other federal buildings.

The public buys some Washington scenes, too but seems to prefer the pastoral, rural water colors. And at the full retail price.

Add a little finely grated onion to creamed celery; serve in a casserole, if desired, with a topping of buttered bread crumbs and a sprinkling of paprika.

TAKE A LOOK AT YOUR INSIDES

Study the above drawing for a few minutes. Notice particularly how the bile flows from the liver into and out of the gall-bladder and thence into the small intestine where it mixes with the partly digested food just below the stomach. Bile is a necessary adjunct to proper digestion. Its absence from the intestines inevitably causes putrefaction and fermentation.

NATURE'S DANGER SIGNALS

When your stomach, liver, and gall bladder have been upset by improper eating or drinking, or when they are not working well because retained and putrefying food matter in your intestines is poisoning your entire body, you, sooner or later, begin to feel some of the following symptoms:

Your breath may become unpleasant (halitosis), your tongue coated, a bad taste in your mouth, your coffee (and tobacco) lose their natural flavor, your food does not agree with you; you may have heartburn, gas and dizzy spells, you may be troubled with belching; at night the gas in your bowels may press upon your bladder making you get up frequently, thus breaking into your sleep.

In the morning you are tired instead of refreshed. Gradually your health is impaired.

Your complexion may become sallow or bilious; dark rings may appear under your eyes, you may feel lazy, dull and irritable or blue and melancholic. You may have frequent colds (catarrh) or dull head-ache; your bowels stop their free, full and natural action; you have constipation, gas, putrefaction and self-poisoning ("intestinal toxaemia" or "acute gastritis" as many doctors call it).

HOW TO GET RELIEF

You can relieve this condition, usually overnight, by taking Calotabs at bedtime and drinking water freely next day.

The beneficial effects of Calotabs lie in the fact that they are (1) laxative, (2) antiseptic to the intestines, (3) diuretic to the kidneys, (4) effective in relieving symptoms of biliousness and acute gastritis due to constipation or faulty digestion.

Calotabs are pleasant to take (sugar coated), prompt and effective. Try them and see. Follow label directions. At your druggists'.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Man Who Knows Much About Life Is Emotionally Involved With Friend's Wife Who Is Abused

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Eight years ago I met Jennie, the wife of a man I've known nearly all my life, and I thought her one of the most charming women I'd ever met; and I have really been around and know a great deal about life.

Jennie and Hank had been married about two years then, and in the years since they've parted numerous times, Jennie always going back against her will, she says.

Hank has no affection or understanding for her; he is cruel, strikes her in front of their children and bosses her around like a dog. His disposition keeps them from having any true friends and there is hardly a day that he doesn't make her cry. Her future with him is very dark and she has taken as much abuse as a woman can stand; I've seen some of it with my own eyes.

Earlier this year she started telephoning me and against my better judgment we started having secret dates. I told her I didn't want an affair because I thought too much of her, but after a few dates I broke down and now I am madly in love with her and she claims to love me equally; but when I urge her to leave Hank and marry me, she argues against it.

WIFE SAYS HUSBAND IS HELPLESS FELLOW

SHE cites two objections: 1. She is afraid Hank wouldn't have the courage to go on living if she left him; he's so helpless, she says. 2.She figures I might get tired of being tied down and start going out with other girls again.

When I tell her all this is nonsense, that she must be in love with Hank still, she says she never was and never will be. As for my reliability, women always meant a lot to me in the past, but I was never in love before, nor did I ever mistreat a girl, and Jennie is my only interest now. I know I could give her and the children financial security and a happy home life, that they don't have now.

I've come to the conclusion that she does love Hank but wants to have both of us, as she finds many good traits in me that he will never possess. If she wasn't in love with him, why would she stay with him, ruining her life and her children's also? What do you think? Please advise.

(Signed) F. B.

ANOTHER PEN-SKETCH OF NEUROTIC AFFINITY

DEAR F. B.: In previous writings I have touched on Dr. Edmund Bergler's book "Divorce Won't Help" (Harper & Brothers, publishers), which vividly pictures in many pithy anecdotes the irresistible magnetism which certain types of neurotics have for each other.

And here in the case of Hank and Jennie is another illustration to add to Dr. Bergler's pen-sketches of such people, who tend to cling tenaciously to their (unconsciously) chosen torments; and who, if forcibly expelled from the wretched relationship they revile, can't rest, figuratively speaking, until they get back into it, or into a comparatively harassing situation.

It could be true, as Jennie says, that she never has loved Hank and never will; but as you sagaciously sense, she has a yen for him, nevertheless; and it may be that his cruel contemptuous treatment of her has something to do with it.

MAN'S SYMPATHIES ARE WASTED HERE

THEIRS may be a sadist-masochist affinity, in which case the victim unconsciously seeks the role of being kicked around; and in bleating for sympathy and parading martyrdom to the world is carrying sell-out of dignity to further extremes, without positive desire to establish a peaceful orderly pattern of relationships to considerate associates.

In my opinion, you are a pretty shrewd fellow, an astute analyst of women's meanings and motives when your head is cool, despite the fact that you've been conniving with Jennie to make somewhat a fool of yourself recently. I think you've hit the nail on the head in surmising that she likes to keep you on leash as an antidote to domestic tedium; but is much too involved with Hank, emotionally, to wish to leave him. So you're wasting time in trying to win her from the ugly set-up in which you encountered her.

M. H.

RUNNING MATES CARRY BALL

Truman, Dewey Get Set For Next Bout

(By The Associated Press)

President Truman and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey let their running mates carry the campaign ball today as they prepared for the next go-round in the presidential contest.

Mr. Truman stuck close by the White House and added new touches to the speech-making he is scheduled to resume tomorrow with a foray extending into his Republican opponents' home state.

Dewey arranged to spend most of the day in closed-door sessions at Albany with John Foster Dulles, his foreign affairs adviser, who made a special flight from Paris to report on United Nations' deliberations of the Berlin crisis.

Vandenberg Makes Play

In advance of that huddle, the Republicans put Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, their chief foreign policy spokesman in Congress, on a nationwide broadcast last night. Vandenberg said this country's bi-partisan foreign policy leaves the voters free to switch administrations "without affecting the continuity" of that policy.

The vice presidential candidates meanwhile headed their cross-country carvans into sections trail-blazed earlier by Mr. Truman and the New York governor.

Senator Alben W. Barkley, the Democratic nominee, planned to fly to Colorado for a speaking date at Greeley tonight. The Kentuckian toured the Iowa and Minnesota grain belt yesterday, stressing his party's agriculture record. He said the national farm income had been increased from $5,000,000,000 in 1932 to a current figure of $30,0000,000,000.

Accusing the Republicans of trying to stir class division between agriculture and labor, Barkley called this "reprehensible tactics."

Gov. Earl Warren, the No. 2 GOP contender, carried his "unity" campaign to Charleston, W. Va., for a major talk tonight. The Californian told a Pittsburgh rally last night this country could arm itself against inflation and threats from aboard only through "all-out production equal to our every need."

Recalling the 1940 campaign appeal stressed by the late Wendell Willkie—"None but the productive can be strong, none but the strong can be free"—Warren added:

"Only the united can be either productive, strong or free."

Expressing the same America-united theme, Vandenberg said:

"Our unity is as important as our atom bombs."

"It is particularly important," the Michigan senator added, "as a discouragement to alien miscalculation which, otherwise, might lead to the mistaken belief that we are vulnerable because of our domestic divisions. It is our best available insurance for peace."

Wallace Switches Subjects

The chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee said the Soviet record of "duplicity" on the Berlin blockade dispute is a "threat to everybody's peace, our own emphatically included."

"We shall keep our powder dry," Vandenberg went on. "But it shall never be said of us that we voluntarily abandoned the council chamber as the forum of our choice."

"Things Are Natural Now!"

"For over 15 years constipation had me down. Now, ever since I started eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN daily, things are natural—and what relief that is."—Miss Hazel Rufsnyder, Pottstown, Pa.

Final Reunion For Blue, Gray Urged

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 5 (AP) One final reunion next year of the veterans of both the Union and Confederate forces was proposed today as a few surviving men in gray opened their 58th annual meeting.

The suggestion came from Wilbur F. Hathaway, Des Moines, Iowa, regional commander of the Sons of Union Veterans.

John R. T. Rives, Birmingham, commander-in-chief of that organization promised to bring it before the Confederate group and his own group.

The commander-in-chief of the sons of five confederate veterans said there are only about 28 veterans of the Union army still living while there are 56 surviving southerners who saw service during the Civil war.

Among the veterans expected for this year's reunion is Stephen Dupre, Brownsville, Tex.

Illinois Industrial Gas Supply Reduced

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 5 (AP) — The Panhandle Eastern Pipeline company put into effect at 7 a. m. today an order for a 50 per cent reduction in natural gas to industrial users in western Illinois.

This followed a similar reduction order two weeks ago for "interruptable" industrial customers in eastern Illinois, Indiana and Michigan.

L. T. Fournier, vice president of Panhandle, said these reductions were the equivalent of first steps in curtailment orders last fall and winter.

Man Is Jailed For Missouri

Waiver of extradition to Kansas City, Mo., on a felony charge was signed this morning by E. E. Copeland, 45, of Lubbock.

Dep. Sheriff William G. Holmes of Kansas City informed Sheriff Grady Harrist of Lubbock county by telephone that an agent of the Jackson county sheriff's office would be here probably Wednesday to accept custody and transfer the prisoner.

Warrant Is Mailed

Holmes had written Sheriff Harrist Sept. 30 asking that Copeland be arrested. A certified warrant was mailed at the same time by Kansas City authorities showing that a charge of unlawfully disposing of mortgaged property had been filed upon oath of Irwin Saffron.

Holmes said the charge accused Copeland of having accepted full payment for an automobile, which subsequently was found to be mortgaged for $1,229.

Minors Are Named

Juvenile petitions were being drawn this morning upon oath of John W. Wilson, city-county juvenile counsellor, in naming four minors. The boys—three of them are 16 and the other 15—allegedly are part of a gang that appeared at the T. A. Holeman residence three and a half miles east of Lubbock Friday night and Sunday and broke into his residence after he had fired a warning shot into the air, then had run out the back with his gun rather than have to shoot someone.

Four appearances were made at the residence those two days, officials were informed. A telephone and two shirts were recovered from three of the youths Wilson said, and an investigation that will be capped by appearance of approximately 17 youths Thursday afternoon before County Judge Walter Davies, seeks to disclose whereabouts of other missing property. Included are a suit, two other shirts, khaki clothing, an overcoat and possibly other wearing apparel. Approximately 150 gallons of gasoline also had been missed at the farm property within a week or so, officials were informed.

Young Girl Arrested

A girl, 14, was one of six minors arrested near the sheriff's office early Sunday, after Holeman had followed some of the gang from his farm.

Police held a negro man for investigation after he had been taken off a bus and identified by a negro woman as the person who, she charged, had "pulled" a knife on her and taken some of her clothing, at 1900-block Sixteenth (rear). He, Jesse Turner, 49, pleaded guilty of disturbance and was fined $100.

A $35 bike was reported stolen from Jimmie Bearden, a hub cap and wheel ring valued at $10 from the car of W. C. Sturdivant of 715 Ave. O. A man who allegedly had sought to molest children was arrested and charged with drunkenness.

Three judgments were filed by County Judge Walter Davies, as outgrowth of pleas of guilty in misdemeanor charges.

Osby Lois James, 38, was fined $100, court costs, and ordered to spend three days in county jail for theft; Billy Lee Lyles, 33, a negro, was fined $100 and costs for liquor law violation; and Cader L. Kenney, 37, of Lubbock was fined $50 and court costs for drunk driving.

West Seminole Stepout Flow Test Is 473 Barrels Per Day

Cities Service Oil company and The Atlantic Refining company No. 2 Proctor, stepout from the discovery for flowing production from the San Andres-Permian, to open the west Seminole field in central-west Gaines county, has been officially completed for a 24-hour flowing potential of 473 barrels of oil, plus two per cent drilling water.

This new oil well is ten miles west of Seminole, and 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 385, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey.

Acid Treatment Given

It took the official test through a 28/64th inch tubing choke. The open hole section between the bottom of the 5½-inch casing cemented at 5,055 feet, and the plugged back total depth of 5,179 feet, had been treated with 3,000 gallons of acid.

Gravity of the oil was 30.7 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 3,780-1. The top of the pay was at 5,038 feet. The prospector drilled to a total depth of 7,660 feet into the lower Permian.

No shows of petroleum were found between 5,179 feet and 7,660 feet, and the lower section was plugged-off with cement.

Gas Shown In Terry

Seaboard Oil company of Delaware No. 1 E. M. Hinson, northeast Terry county deep prospector, 10 miles northeast of Brownfield, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 91, block 4-X, psl survey, took a two hour drillstem test at 11,131-148 feet.

Gas showed at the surface in 63 minutes. The volume was not gauged or estimated.

Recovery was 300 feet of clean oil 70 feet of mud and oil plus 100 feet of salt water. The project is to drill ahead.

Lime Unidentified

This exploration took a previous test at 11,112-130 feet. The tool was open two hours. Gas showed at the surface in 16 minutes. Recovery was 1,200 feet of clean oil, 100 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud, and 150 feet of salt water.

The section showing the oil, and the small amounts of salt water is an unidentified lime. Some observers think it is possible Ellenburger. Others are inclined to the belief that it might be Mississippian.

American Republic corporation No. 1 Susie Koonsman, northeast Scurry county wildcat, 15 miles northeast of Snyder, and 2,115 feet from north and 3,290 feet from east lines of section 240, block 2, H&TC survey, was running a drillstem test at 6,318-38 feet in a Pennsylvanian sand and shale section.

The horizon being tested had logged some slight shows of oil.

Trial Of Officers To Continue Today

TYLER, Oct. 5 (U.P.)—The trial of two law enforcement officers accused of beating a negro prisoner was scheduled to continue today in federal district court.

Accused were J. D. Conditt, sheriff of Angelena county, and Orville P. Brookshire, a Lufkin policeman. Thirty-eight-year-old Clarence Morrison charged they beat him with a rubber hose in the Lufkin city jail on May 19, 1947.

Three witnesses testified yesterday for the state in the first day of the trial.

Morrison described the alleged beating. L. B. Molten said he heard screaming at the time Morrison said the beating took place, but he saw nothing. He was confined in the jail at the time the alleged beating occurred.

W. W. Trout, president of the Lufkin Foundry and Machine Co., testified that he found welts on Morrison's back two days after the alleged beating.

The case is being tried before Federal District Judge James C. Wilson. The prosecutor is Federal District Attorney Steve M. King of Beaumont.

Hard Winter Ahead, Maine Bugs Predict

BANGS CORNERS, O., Oct. 5 (U.P.)—The operator of a "bug barometer" predicts that the coming winter will be a tough one.

Miss Eunice Merton, who outdoes the weather bureau for confident long-range forecases, says nature already has put up the storm signals.

"The woolly caterpillars are dark from stem to stern," she says. "Hornets have triple-insulated their gray paper nests. Mother wasps are sealing twice as many live spiders in the mud incubator tubes to feed their babies when they hatch."

For Miss Merton, those and other portents spell out a cold, dark and long winter.

Demos Hit By GOP Nominee

MIDLAND, Oct. 5 (AP) — Jack Porter, Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate, said here last night that he would win the post with the help of Democrats.

The Houston oilman attacked the records of Lyndon Johnson, Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate, and President Truman in a radio speech here last night.

"Like you, I am confused as to who actually won the Democratic nomination," he said. "The name of Lyndon Johnson will be on the ballot in the Democratic column in November."

Johnson Criticised

Porter criticized Johnson for obtaining an injunction in the district court at Alice to prevent a recount of ballots in Jim Wells county.

He said President Truman last year vetoed a bill that would recognize the state ownership of submerged tidelands, giving as his reason that a suit was pending in the supreme court involving state of ownership.

"Yet just a week ago, while the suit between (Coke R.) Stevenson was pending before the supreme court, President Truman voiced the hope Lyndon Johnson's name would go on the ballot."

Refers To Contest

(Porter was referring to the contest between Johnson and Stevenson over the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate.)

Porter promised, as Senator, to make a vigorous fight against President Truman's civil rights program, and for state ownership of tidelands, a vigorous foot and mouth disease program, and for a strong military and defense program."

Sun's Heat Causes Lights To Explode

DAVENPORT, Ia., Oct. 5 (U.P.) —Exploding traffic signal lights are getting to be a problem here.

After the city electrician, W. H. Clasen, had the sixth small blast reported to him within a few days, he narrowed the cause down to the heat of the sun combined with that naturally generated by the mechanism of the control boxes.

"It doesn't do much damage," he said. "Just blows the door off the control box. But it's getting to be a nuisance."

Burglar Left Holding Sack

ANTIOCH, Calif., Oct. 5 (AP)—For a week, 15-year-old Vernon Beard carefully guarded a paper bag, letting no one see its contents. Then police got a look, took the $8,500 it contained and jailed Vernon.

Chief of Police Harry Boyer said the cash was loot from a burglary, and that the boy admitted he didn't know quite what to do with it. He spent a little for candy and milk shakes and was wondering if he should take a trip.

Fingerprints Matched

The money was stolen Sept. 27 from the home of Jack Wolfe, Antioch merchant. Ever since, said Boyer, Vernon has been carrying it in the paper bag, or hiding it here and there, to return and pick it up again.

Police said they matched Vernon's fingerprints from their juvenile files with prints discovered at another break-in and picked him up Sunday night. Boyer said Vernon will be turned over to the California youth authority.

Chicago Clerk Just Plain Likes Shoes

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 — The only explanation the police can give is that Casimar Onik just likes shoes.

Onik was the shipping clerk of a shoe factory until a watchman at the plant became suspicious when a case of shoes and Onik disappeared together.

Police soon were removing about 30 large packing cases of shoes valued at $25,000 from Onik's basement. He said he had taken them a few at a time and had no intention of selling them.

Crosby Foundation Turns Out Better Mousetrap, Other Items

BY RALPH DIGHTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 5 — The work of the Crosby Research foundation—backed by Bing Crosby and headed by his brother Larry—finally is moving out of the laboratory and onto the nation's counters.

Five Crosby-sponsored inventions will be on department and drug store shelves for the Christmas trade. They are:

1. A better mousetrap.
2. A new line of tricycles, made in sidecar, tandem or chariot models.
3. A junior juke box.
4. A breath neutralizer that deodorizes the breath before it is expelled from the lungs.
5. A motorized belt-driven filing cabinet that allows access to any one of 40,000 files in 10 seconds.

Orders Received

Larry Crosby, in an exclusive interview, disclosed for the first time what has been going on behind the doors of the Crosby foundation since the end of the war.

The new mousetrap, made of aluminum and guaranteed to hold a mouse but not injure even a child's unwary fingers, will retail for 39 cents. A quarter of a million have already been sold to a Chicago drug firm.

A mail-order house has ordered $100,000 worth of the new tricycles for two. They will retail for about $22.50.

The junior juke box is a table model miniature that plays 10 and 12-inch records and will retail for $29.95.

Another musical toy due to hit the market by Christmas is Crosby's 49-cent "toot mon," a bagpipe for children. It's a flute-like device operated by a toy balloon.

Hughes Takes Cabinets

The breath-neutralizer goes on the market this week in 144 stores east of Texas and will be in stores west of Texas by November.

The Crosby "breath-o-lator" is an inhaler. You breath the vapor from a lipstick-size gadget into mouth and lungs thus combatting, says Crosby, bad breath at the source. It costs $1.

First installations of the motorized filing cabinet will be in the aircraft and other companies owned by Howard Hughes. The FBI and credit associations also are interested, says Crosby.

Crosby has two other inventions for which he is seeking manufacturers. One is a cigaret lighter which need not be refilled for a month. The other is a thermo-electric generator which has no moving parts yet can provide enough electricity to operate a farm, a home or even an automobile.

Source Of Atomic Power Said Found

NOME, Alaska, Oct. 5 (AP) — A veteran prospector announced today the discovery of radioactive pitchblende, a source of atomic power, in northwestern Alaska just across the Bering sea from Siberia.

The finder is Louis C. Stringer. Alaska prospector whose home now is Newark, N. J. He said Geiger counts of the mineral and tests in New Jersey laboratories were "exceptionally high."

Stringer said the deposits, located less than 100 miles from Nome, were "considerable" but he did not estimate their size.

(Pitchblende is a source of uranium, basic mineral used in achieving atomic energy.)

During 1946, the United States produced a total of about 2,075,880,000 pounds of peanuts.

Feller Faces Sain In Wednesday's World Series Opener

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

The triumph of the Cleveland Indians surprised no one, but a Red Sox victory wouldn't have been any surprise either. Both teams were good and both had about equal balance. Personally, we thought that the Sox would take a sudden death playoff game because of their alleged power. That power fizzled completely in the lone game yesterday, while Gene Bearden shackled Ted Williams and the Sox from the mound. It was a good demonstration of why the Indians will be tough to beat in the approaching series.

● ● ●

Being partial to the American League, we'll ride along with the Indians to win it. Barring miracles, they'll drop the first gain to Johnny Sain and they might drop the second to Warren Spahn, but then they return to that vast orchard called the municipal Stadium in Cleveland. And there they ought to go to town. We think that the Indians are a better balanced club with more experience and more ability down the line. You can't laugh off a pitching staff of Bob Feller, Bob Lemon, Bearden, Satchel Paige and the rest. Nor can you laugh off the double play combination of Lou Boudreau and Joe Gordon. And there's batting power both in the infield and outfield.

● ● ●

We believe there's a good chance of the series going seven games, but if Cleveland splits the first two, we think they'll win it in six. Keep your eyes on a young man in Boston livery, though. His name is Eddie Stanky and he'll be out to make even more of a bum out of Leo Durocher. Leo said many uncomplimentary things about Stanky in his book and one fine way for Stanky to make the obnoxious Lip eat his words is by being a standout in this series. He's in a good position to be outstanding, too.

● ● ●

For more years, almost, than we could remember, we've rooted for the Yanks. When Larry MacPhail took over, we didn't switch to another club, we merely dropped out enthusiasm for the Yanks. But after the treatment of Bucky Harris, the game, smart manager of the New York club, we're off the club entirely. Harris did a fine job at Washington, where he was hamstrung and hogtied, never having a real chance to demonstrate ability. He finally wound up with the Yanks, who were desperate for a manager.

● ● ●

It wasn't what he wanted, but he finally took the position under great stress. He turned out a pennant winner last year and was hailed for his direction. This year, with a weaker Yankee team and with most of the players crippled from time to time, he only finished third, two games out of the lead. And because, through no fault of his, he failed to win the pennant, he was fired yesterday. The experts said that this year's Yankee team should not, under all the signs of baseball, have finished in the first division. But they had an injured Joe DiMaggio who almost single handedly kept the team in the chase. And because the inferior Yankee team didn't win, off goes Harris' head. Phooey to the Yanks; we hope they never win so long as Dan Topping, etc., remain at the helm.

● ● ●

Not enough credit can be given to the Texas Tech band that performed so admirably at Dallas Saturday. First of all, special credit should be given those boys and girls for giving up their grandstand seats. They sat on the running track in front of the stands to make it possible for another 125-150 students to see the game. And their performance at the half left nothing to be desired. They marched smartly, they played well and their ingenuity in the stunts earned them universal praise and respect. Their SMOO formation, which was changed to SMU, drew a hearty laugh; while their Open the Door, Richard, brought both laughter and thunderous applaud. They are a credit to Texas Tech and to Lubbock.

● ● ●

That was a fine thing for Coach Matty Bell to do Saturday morning. Matty, with the knowledge that what he said was going out on the air, flatly stated that just as one coach, he was all for Texas Tech's getting into the Southwest Conference. He declared that they belonged in and he hoped that Tech would be admitted at the December meeting. He pointed out that instead of the conference helping Tech by admitting the Lubbock school, Tech would help the conference. He declared that the attendance for the SMU-Tech game was a good indication of the Red Raider's popularity. And general talk in Dallas backed Matty's sentiments without exception.

Safety instruction is given in the 820 high schools of Indiana.

Attendance Is To Set Record

BOSTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Cleveland's newly-crowned American league champs, still walking on thin air after their playoff success, have named Bobby Feller to face Johnny Sain of the Boston Braves in tomorrow's World Series opener at Braves field.

Rapid Robert will have to go hard to top the performance of young Gene Bearden in yesterday's 8-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox in an unprecedented sudden death playoff of a tie.

Today the Indians and Braves settle down to plans for a series that must come as an anti-climax to the Indians. It won't come as any anti-climax to their pocketbooks.

HERE ARE THE ODDS

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5 (AP) — The odds are clocked at 11 to 5 against the Boston Braves winning the World Series from the Cleveland Indians, according to oddsmaker James J. Carroll's latest quotations today.

The Cleveland club, meanwhile, was a 7 to 10 betting choice to cop the World's championship.

In the first game, the Braves rank as a 13 to 10 choice if Johnny Sain pitches against Bob Lemon. Should Sain start against Bob Feller the braves are favored at 7 to 5.

New Record Certain

The big Cleveland ball park with its 95,000 capacity is certain to set a new series record.

If it goes seven games despite the size of Braves field which holds only 40,000 bulging at the seams, a new record cut for the winning players may result. It's certain to be many thousands of dollars more than an all-Boston series would have provided.

Manager Billy Southworth of the Braves is expected to make his decision on his second base starter after a morning drill. Eddie Stanky, still slightly handicapped by the broken ankle he suffered in July, and Sibby Sisti, who filled in capably, are the candidates.

Working with only one full day of rest after shutting out Detroit Saturday, Bearden silenced the guns of the fence-denting Red Sox in their own ball yard to gain Cleveland's first American league flag since 1920.

Knuckler Did Trick

He did it with a little of this and a little of that—but mostly his knuckle ball. He threw the dipsy-doodler four out of every five pitches. The knuckler got him home. Parlayed with the raw courage that brought him back to baseball from Pacific war action with aluminum plates in his head and left knee.

"The knuckler did it," said manager Lou Boudreau, "they just couldn't hit it. I know one of their coaches was tipping the hitters every time he threw it—which was four out of every five—and they still couldn't connect."

Boudreau, the hitting star of his own team's sensational triumph with two homers and two singles, preferred to pass on the glory to the younger members of his team.

"Jim Hegan and Larry Doby made our ball club," he said, "they were the most improved ball players in the league along with Boston's young Billy Goodman."

The manager was boosting the stock of a couple of his younger players. He knew he didn't have to talk up Ken Keltner, whose three-run homer, knocked out Denny Galehouse, Manager Joe McCarthy's surprise starter, in the fourth inning.

Most of all he knew he didn't need to talk about a fellow named Boudreau. If any man ever deserved a most valuable player trophy it's Lou.

Look At His Performance

Forget all the figures that show him scrambling around on taped ankles to become the best shortstop in the game. Even forget the batting averages for the season during which he chased Ted Williams right down to the wire. Just look at yesterday's ball game.

After a first inning homer he came up in the fourth inning with the score tied at 1-1, and slashed a single to left. Joe Gordon followed with a single and Keltner banged his homer. Before it was over, four runs were in and Galehouse had been replaced by Ellis Kinder.

Not content with a 5-1 lead, Boudreau slammed another homer into the screen atop the left field wall with two gone and nobody on in the fifth.

In the seventh he was walked intentionally in a rally that finally sputtered out with the bases full. Again in the ninth, Boudreau's single helped push around Eddie Robinson with the final score of a game that was fast becoming a rout.

Boudreau also took part in two of the three Tribal double plays. He made you forget that other stars like Ted Williams and Bobby Doerr were on the field.

Notre Dame Renews Its Lease On No. 1 Spot In Grid Ranks

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—Notre Dame has renewed its lease on the No. 1 spot in college football's big ten.

On top of the heap at the end of the last campaign, the Fighting Irish moved right back into their penthouse in the first Associated Press poll of the new season.

One hundred and fifty-three sports writers from throughout the country gave Frank Leahy's proteges a total of 1,200 points — enough for a squaking edge over rampant North Carolina and surprising Northwestern.

Points are awarded on the basis of ten for a first place vote, nine for second and on down the line.

North Carolina, which has rolled over Texas and Georgia, received more first place votes than the Irish—55 to 50—but fell 10 points short in the overall balloting with 1,190.

Northwestern, conqueror of U. C. L. A. and Purdue, was in third place with 1,025—the only other team to record more than a thousand.

The Irish were the more solid favorite, placing on every "top ten" card except one.

Notre Dame's accomplishments for the young year include a 28-27 triumph over Purdue and a 40-0 rout of Pittsburgh.

Southern Methodist's Southwest conference champions placed fourth in the opening poll, followed by Army, Georgia Tech, Michigan, Minnesota, California and Penn State in order.

The top ten at the end of last year were Notre Dame, Michigan, Southern Methodist, Penn State, Texas, Alabama, Pennsylvania, Southern California, North Carolina and Georgia Tech.

Longhorn Eleven Hit By Injuries

(By The Associated Press)

The governor of Oklahoma is willing to bet that Oklahoma whips Texas Saturday, but Coach Blair Cherry hasn't yet told Gov. Beauford Jester "it's a cinch."

Cherry yesterday listed four key Longhornse as doubtful starters against Oklahoma.

One of three regulars who may sit out the game is center Dick Harris, out for 16 days with an injured knee. Others on the casualty list are tackle Ed Kelley and fullback Tommy Landry. End Ben Proctor is still limping from a knee injury received in the North Carolina game two weeks ago.

Offers To Make Bet

Oklahoma's chief executive, Roy J. Turner, yesterday offered to bet Gov. Jester a fishing license on Lake Texoma that Oklahoma would beat Texas.

Texas was the only team reporting injuries to key men.

Texas A. and M.'s chances against Louisiana State were enhanced when quarterback Burvl Baty reported for practice. Baty has been out for two weeks with an injured ankle, but Coach Harry Stiteler thinks he'll be able to play this week.

Center Billy Ray Thomas and end Sam Butz may return to action for Arkansas and tackle Jim Reichert, injured in the TCU game last week, probably will be able to perform his place-kicking duties.

Light workouts for regulars were the order of the day at Arkansas and Southern Methodist university yesterday, but both coaches, John Barnhill and Matty Bell, are slated to start heavy drills today.

Southern Methodist plays Missouri this week and Arkansas meets Baylor in a conference game.

No Serious Inuries

Texas Christian had no serious injuries. Coach Dutch Meyer said sophomore Jim Hickey of Paris would start out doing the punting for the Frogs this week against Indiana.

Coach Jess Neely of Rice promised "we'll waste no time" getting to work for Southern California. "We have no time to waste," he said.

Neely said he is undecided if he will make any changes in his lineup. The Owls were upset, 26-13, by Louisiana State last week.

"We'll wait until we see the pictures of the L. S. U. game and see if we can figure some way to get better results," he said.

The Texas - Oklahoma game is the only one in Texas involving a Southwest conference team this week.

George L. Cross, University of Oklahoma president, last night urged students to "behave in a sportsmanlike manner" when they attend the Texas game.

"While I realize the disturbance last year was not started by students, I sincerely hope that Oklahoma students will take particular pain to avoid a similar incident," Dr. Cross said.

A pop bottle throwing episode in protest against an official's decision occurred in the game last year.

Arkansas Has Tight Hold On Southwest Loop's Statistics

DALLAS, Oct. 5 (AP)—Arkansas has a tight-fisted hold on Southwest conference football statistics as well as boasting an undefeated record.

James H. Stewart, conference executive secretary, shows Arkansas leading in both offense and defense for the season to date. The Razorbacks, paced by Clyde Scott, that running and passing man, and Leon Campbell, battering fullback, have rolled up 1152 yards rushing and passing in three games to lead the University of Texas by 105 yards.

Leading Ground Team

Arkansas is the leading ground team with 917 yards. Texas tops in passing with 420 yards but Southern Methodist and Arkansas have the best percentage in pass completions. Southern Methodist has connected on 16 out of 22 for .727. Arkansas has completed 16 out of 24 for .667.

Arkansas has held three opponents to an average of 135 yards per game as the top defensive outfit of the conference.

Scott leads in ball-carrying with 340 yards net on 38 carries with Lindy Berry of Texas Christian second with 268 on 63 carries. Campbell is third with 229 yards on 36 runs.

Paul Campbell of Texas is the pass leader with 235 yards on 13 completions in 37 throws. Gil Johnson of Texas Christian has the best percentage, however, with 11 out of 12 for 223 yards.

Ace Pass Receiver

Ben Proctor of Texas is the ace pass receiver of the conference with 10 catches for 141 yards. Morris Bailey of Texas Christian is the second with eight catches for 98 yards. George Sims of Baylor tops in punt returns with an average of 39.6 on three carries and Scott is second with 29.3 on three runs.

In punting Bob Goode of Texas A. and M. is the leader with 39.0 on 24 boots. Gordon Long of Arkansas has averaged 38.8 on six for second place.

In total offense, Bery is the No. 1 man. He has rolled up 448 yards on 104 plays. Scott has 443 yards on 46 for second.

New Orleans Golfer Wins Portland Meet

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 5 (AP)—Lanky Fred Haas, jr., of New Orleans, won the three-way play-off for the Portland Open golf tournament Monday, defeating the great Ben Hogan and tough Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C.

The 32-year-old former national intercollegiate title holder, a pro since 1946, carded a two-under par 70 to beat out Hogan, with a 71. Palmer blew his chances when he took a dub's eight on the par five fifteenth. He finished with a 75.

Haas, son of a professional, pocketed $2,450 for the win, his biggest in his brief career. He had won the Peoria Open earlier this year and has been knocking consistently at the door since then. He was runner-up at Miami, New Orleans, Reading, Pa., and Denver, the latter two behind Hogan.

In addition, Haas also was involved in a five-way tie for the recent Tacoma Open but was eliminated in the first day's play-off.

Stan Musial Signed To A New Contract

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5 (AP) — Stan Musial, batting king of the major leagues, was signed to a new two-year contract today by President Bob Hannegan of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Terms of the contract were not revealed but the best estimate of the figure, agreed on after a 15 minute conference between Musial and Hannegan in the Cardinals' office, set the fence-busting outfielder's salary at $100,000 for the two year span.

That would be the highest salary ever paid to a Cardinal player.

Musial's 1948 contract brought him a reported $35,000, which included a midseason boost of $4,000 arranged in a conference between Stan and club officials.

Westerners To Revamp Lineup

Lubbock's Westerners will field a revamped lineup against the surging Childress Bobcats of District 2-AA when the two teams clash in a non-conference tilt Friday night at Texas Tech's Jones stadium.

Head Mentor C. R. (Pat) Pattison opened preparations for the Bobcat encounter with one of the roughest scrimmage sessions of the year Monday afternoon at Chapman field, and he indicated that more rough work will be on the slate this afternoon and Wednesday. The Westerners clashed in the head-knocking setto for more than an hour, with the mentors stressing offensive and defensive assignments.

Numerous changes in positions were made by the Westerner mentors, and they tried to strengthen the forward wall which was mauled by the Austin Maroons last week. Jack Hensley, who has been playing at a guard and linebacker slot, was shifted to a tackle position, and Lloyd Willis, a sturdy 170-pounder who has shown rapid improvement, filled another tackle post. Joe Brock, a regular tackle, turned in a good performance on defense.

Probably the outstanding defensive job of the day was chalked up by Denton Lambert, playing at a halfback slot. Lambert consistently jarred ball-carriers with smashing tackles, as well as showing form on pass defense.

The Westerner squad is at near-top strength, since the return of Tailback Bobby Brown to active duty. Several of the gridders received minor bruises and cuts in the Austin game, but all are expected to be ready for action Friday night. The only players sidelined Monday were Wingback Donald Decker, who has a mild case of influenza, and Tackle Jack Bryant, who is bothered by a bad knee.

Bobcats Feature Passing

The Westerners will face one of the most improved teams in West Texas when they tangle with the Bobcats. The Childress crew absorbed a 39-7 loss to Amarillo in their opening tilt, but showed more strength the next week in holding Borger's veteran Bulldogs to three touchdowns. Last week the Bobcats took another long stride toward the top bracket by holding strong North Side of Fort Worth to a narrow 14-7 win.

A tricky T-formation passing attack is the Bobcats' chief scoring weapon, but the 2-AA gridders can move on the ground when pressed.

Business Manager E. J. Lowrey announced last night that reserved seat tickets for the Childress tussle will be on sale at his Senior High school office all this week. Ticket sales Monday were brisk, and a crowd of 8,000 or more is expected at kickoff time.

Red Raider Injury List Is Increasing

Tulsa university will be host to the Red Raiders from Texas Tech Saturday afternoon and the Raiders yesterday returned to the gridiron to begin preparations for the Golden Hurricane, although the squad mentally was unhappy over their Saturday licking.

The squad possibly lost two more players in the SMU game, Guard Dan Pursel hurting an ankle badly and Halfback Glenn Lewis possibly breaking a bone in his foot. Unless these players respond to treatment this week, they will join Guard Milburn Haydon and Fullback Bud Conley on the sidelines.

Review SMU Game

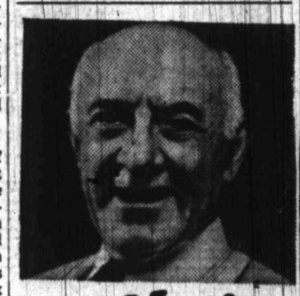

Conley's knee is not responding rapidly to treatment and Haydon's knee still is swollen badly. Both players are limping around and are not expected to be ready by Saturday. Pursel didn't even suit up yesterday, while Lewis spent the day on the sidelines.

But the remainder of the squad came through the Mustang game in good shape, except for minor bruises, and went through an easy practice session. They spent a lot of time going over mistakes they made in the SMU game, mistakes that cost them touchdowns, and they also began work on Tulsa plays.

Scrimmage Is Slated

The scouting report is that Tulsa will be plenty big and tough, especially in Skelly Stadium, where the Golden Hurricane will be opening its home schedule. Coach Buddy Brothers lost several fine players from his 1947 squad, but the reserves have come on to fill in well. And no one underestimates the ability of the former Texas Tech player.

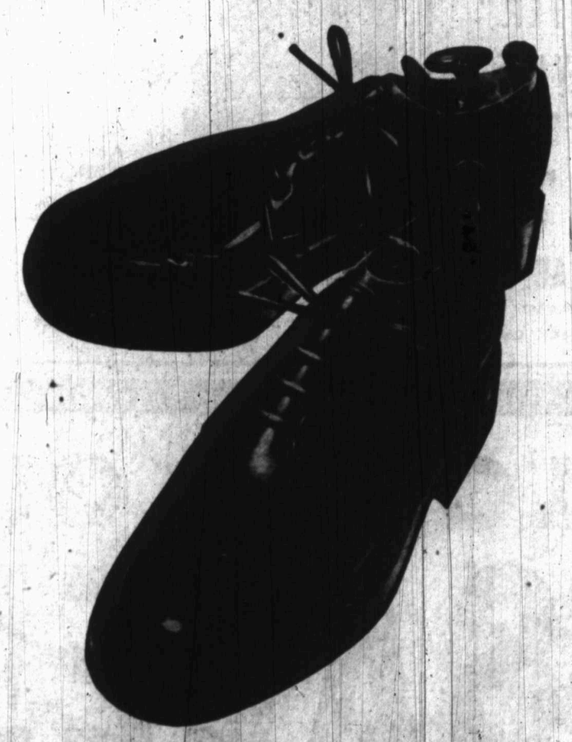

A fairly stiff scrimmage is scheduled for this afternoon, while defensive work against Tulsa plays also will begin in earnest. Tech's spirits are expected to begin rising as the players shake thoughts of SMU out of their heads.

High School Stars Named

DALLAS, Oct. 5 (AP) — New names were beginning to crop up today among the schoolboy aspirants for all-state honors.

The youngsters who had brought attention to himself in all three previous Dallas News' weekly roundup of schoolboy stars, Marv Vincent of Denison, sat out last week's game because of injuries. And his team lost a close 7-6 decision to Kilgore.

The hero of that victory, incidentally, made an impressive bid for all-star consideration. He was Jack Hones of Kilgore. Hones carried the ball 20 times for 110 yards, scoring the touchdown on a 20-yard scamper and kicked the game-winning extra point.

Others In Running

Others coming in for attention included:

Ray Graves of Stephenville, who scored his 12th touchdown of the season on a 40-yard run while keeping his team all-victorious with a 13-6 win over Cisco.

Another high scoring star, Houston Milby's Don Carpenter, ran his point total to 55 with two touchdowns in the Buffs' 27-0 victory over Galena Park. Carpenter gained 165 yards in 20 carries, including a 47-yard payoff sprint.

Claude Kincannon sparked what had been a sluggish Waco team to an impressive 34-9 conquest of Tyler by a 50-yard return to pay dirt of a first quarter punt to break the ice, then tossed touchdown passes of 45 and 43 yards.

Longview Gridster Stars

Longview hasn't been too impressive this season, but the performance of the Loboes' Fox Cashell against Cleburn last week merits attention. With his club trailing 20-0, Cashell returned an intercepted pass 70 yards to score and kicked the extra point, set up a second Lobo score by snagging a 27-yard pass and then two minutes before the game ended kicked the game-tying extra point after his mates scored a third.

Gahlen Dinkle, Marshall, scored two touchdowns and gained 179 yards rushing in 21 attempts as the Mavs knocked Dallas Adamson out of the perfect record class 28-6.

Jerry Nortno, Texarkana, scored touchdowns on runs of one, 70 and 20 yards and booted five extra points as the Tigers blanked Nacogdoches 41-0.

Robert Tevault, Galveston, tossed touchdown passes of 26 and 46 yards, ran 19 yards for another score as the Tors blanked Beaumont 28-0.

Sam Jackson, mighty mite from Houston San Jacinto, turned in runs of 38, 25, 30 and 27 yards against St. Thomas. Each of the smashes by the 135-pounder set up a score as San Jacinto won 26-6.

James Garner, Amarillo end, caught touchdown passes of 54 and 27 yards as the Sandies whipped Fort Worth Paschal 21-7.

Pairings For Golf Tourney Announced

Pairings for the annual Senior golf tournament, which will get underway this week at Lubbock Country club, were announced last night by Pro Herb Schroeder as follows:

Wilkie Talbert vs. bye; Ira Carpenter vs. C. C. Caldwell, Al Townsend vs. F. L. McRee; O. L. Byrd vs. Charles Whitacre; Cecil Horne vs. bye; Chick Trout vs. H. H. Holmes; J. A. Raley vs. bye; and Don Jones vs. Guy Brown.

TEXAS FIGHTER WINS

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5 (AP) — Buddy Garcia, Galveston, Tex., lightweight, gave Jimmy Collins a bloody beating over 10 rounds last night to win a unanimous decision in the windup of the arena's first indoor card of the season.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By [illegible]

BOSTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — Before the Indians settled down to the business of belting over the Red Sox in the one-game American league pennant race yesterday Prexy Bill Veeck made some cracks about his head being "bloody but unbowed." And part-owner Hank Greenburg remarked "it's a beautiful day for the game. I wish we didn't have to play it." We haven't figured out yet what they were worrying about. They had a guy named Lou Boudreau out there who did a very good job of taking care of things. Two homers is about all you could expect of a guy who also has to shoulder the task of managing a ball club.

No Boos For Boudreau

The World Series looms as an interesting master minding test between Boudreau and the comparatively aged Billy Southworth . . . Billy is the king of "percentage," who must carry a logarithm table around with him. Boudreau's way of figuring the chances was illustrated when he started Allie Clark at first base yesterday because "we were merely going for the one game . . . Allie will return to the outfield against lefthanded pitching in the World Series . . . And another example when the "old pro" Joe Gordon dropped Ted Williams' pop fly. Lou merely said "tough try." That sun was brutal . . . Southworth is the kind of guy who can be sympathetic at the right time, too . . . Two of the greatest ball players of all time were hardly noticed.

In the throng were Red Sox General Manager Eddie Collins and Coach Hughey Duffy . . . Bob Feller, who was busy in the bull pen through a large part of the game commented afterward," I'm just as happy as everybody else."

One-Minute Sports Page

Various local rumors have Joe McCarthy leaving the Red Sox before next spring—but his contract has another year to run . . . The Detroit contingent still thinks Steve O'Neill is "out" too, in spite of the Tigers' strong finish . . . My gosh—we just heard it was official about Bucky Harris. The speculation department is closed—but don't be surprised if Bucky gets Billy Evans' job . . . Ted Williams had his plane reservation for a Florida fishing trip when that playoff came along to interfere. Joe Gordon, another ardent fisherman, has no complaint. Joe caught 27 steelhead trout last winter but out in his section of Oregon the run doesn't begin until late December . . . Most prophetic words of the playoff: While talking to newsmen before the game, Lou Boudreau suddenly looked up and made a dash for the bat rack: "Gee, I got to hit," he explained.

BOUT IS CARDED

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 5 (AP) — Carlos (Charlie) Salas of Los Angeles, who recently handed Bert Linam, Austin's state welterweight kingpin a ten-round boxing lesson here, has been signed to clash with San Antonio's own, young Bobby Dykes, in a 10-round fracas on Oct. 19, municipal auditorium boxing matchmaker Freddie Sommers announced Sunday night.

LITTLEFIELD WINS FLAG

SUNDOWN, Oct. 5 (Special)— Littlefield won the championship of the Oil Belt league by outslugging Sundown, 17-13, in the finals of the Shaughnessy playoff here Sunday. Lefty Cliff Jones was the winning hurler.

Coach Morgan Tells Club Doak Walker As Good As Papers Say

The Quarterback club, in its weekly meeting at the Hilton hotel last night, heard Tech Coach Dell Morgan admit that he went to Dallas skeptical of Doak Walker's ability, but the SMU back had made everything written about him pale in comparison with his ability.

Morgan went on to say that Walker had made a Christian of him following his exhibition against Texas Tech's Red Raiders. He pointed out that Tech had made errors, showing where they had occurred, and that SMU had gotten vital breaks at points in the game.

Austin Is Praised

But Coach Morgan didn't wring any towels at the meeting, stating flatly that had all things been equal, the Mustangs still would have won. He went on to relate that at a Saturday morning Quarterback club meeting in Dallas, Matty Bell, SMU coach, had come out in a statement carried by a local radio station to the effect that Tech certainly should be in the Southwest Conference.

Moreover, Bell said that Tech's admission would strengthen the conference and would help it, rather than weakening it or the conference helping Tech; and that he, as one coach, certainly wanted Tech's admission.

Coach C. R. Pattison of Lubbock High school said that if Austin played other teams the way they played Lubbock, only three or four schools in the state could beat them. He pointed out that Austin was an inspired team, while the Westerners were not.

Movies Are Shown

The Lubbock coach also declared that perhaps Lubbock was lucky they weren't beaten worse than they were, but that the Westerners had learned a lot from the clash. He also thought it was Lubbock's turn to be right and hoped it would be Friday against Childress.

Coach Damon Hill of the Dunbar High school also spoke and told of tying Midland last week at Midland. Coach Hill said that "the Midland players came out waving their hands and shouting 'let's get a leg' and the green Dunbar boys felt whupped right there." This week Dunbar plays Odessa.

Pictures of the Tech-Texas Aggies game of Sept. 25 were shown to conclude the meeting, which was under the direction of Jim Black and Ray McNally.

Fort Worth won the first game of the series, 5-1, and Birmingham took the second game, 8-4.

The Barons, Southern association champions, will be without the services of Ben Cantrell, outfielder who injured a leg Sunday.

Bobby Bragan, Fort Worth manager and catcher, may be out for the rest of the series. He hurt a finger in the second game of the series.

Veteran Hurler In Big League Retires

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 5 (AP)—"Old Folks" Fritz Ostermueller, today voluntarily retires after 14 years of pitching in the major leagues.

At his own request, the 41-year-old southpaw was released by the Pittsburgh Pirates. He will return to his farm home near Quincy, Ill.

Fritz broke into the majors in 1934. He played with the Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Browns of the American league and Brooklyn and Pittsburgh in the National league. His lifetime record was 114 won against 115 losses.

Remember—ABILITY not disability COUNTS

Before you, Mr. Employer, is a man who fought on the Beachheads of Tarawa or Anzio, who flew over bomb-gutted Tokio or fought in the Coral Sea. He is one of hundreds of thousands who marched in the Purple Heart Parade. Today he is an American looking for a job. Behind him are the hardships and dangers of war, the weary months in the hospital and the long days of training for employment. Ahead of him is a future that is in your hands. What you do with his future is important to him, and to you!

MAN WANTED—We need hard-hitting veterans. We've hired many of them since V-J day. It pays off. Some aren't the same physically as they were before a Kamikaze attack off Okinawa, a shell burst below Cassino, or flak and flame over Kasserine Pass. Some have lost an arm or leg or eye. Others have hidden disabilities. But we have found these disabilities are not handicaps when we place them properly. Their efficiency and productive ability have saved us money. We need more workers of this type. We will continue to hire them throughout the year.

Signed: AN AMERICAN EMPLOYER

HELP WANTED—We'd like that job you have; Mr. Employer. There're more than a quarter of a million of us either actively looking for work or soon to leave hospitals or finish our training. There are many jobs we can fill capably. We know that surveys show that our fellow disabled veterans have been as efficient on the job as other workers, that they have had fewer accidents and have been reliable workers. We've put away that Purple Heart. Today we'll take our chances on that job you've got. We think you need us and we know we need you. We'll get your work done. And while we're doing that we'll pay for our homes and raise our families.

Mutilated Body Thought To Be That Of Beaumont Housewife

SILSBEE, Oct. 5 (U.P.) — Officers still lacked positive identification today of a torn and badly mutilated body found near here yesterday, but friends of Mrs. Eloise Twitchell believed it was that of the 32-year-old Beaumont housewife.

The remains, exposed to the weather, vultures and wild hogs for what a coroner said was about a week, were stumbled upon yesterday by two hunters in a thicket near Kountze, Tex. They notified authorities, who immediately made the tie-in with Mrs. Twitchell's disappearance.

The attractive brunette had been unheard from since she left Beaumont Tuesday to motor to Columsneil, 61 miles north, to visit her mother, Mrs. J. S. Sturrock. Her car, a 1947 Kaiser, was found abandoned the same day on a lonely road at the northern edge of Houston.

Purse, Luggage In Car

Her purse and luggage were in the back seat, their contents strewn over the floor, officers said. A stained scarf belonging to Mrs. Twitchell was found in a nearby patch of woods the next day.

An autopsy late yesterday showed that a severe blow had been inflicted upon the body found near Kountze. Dr. Ellen Furey of Beaumont said the woman died from a blow with a blunt instrument above the right ear.

Mrs. Twitchell's brother, Sergeant J. Basil Goodrum of Houston, was unable to identify the remains late yesterday. Friends of the missing woman, however, found bits of supporting evidence.

Friend Views Body

A Beaumont mechanic, Orrie Prejean, said fragments of a pink dress and the brown hair appeared to be that of Mrs. Twitchell. Mrs. Jimmie Johnson, who also viewed the body, said the shape of the foot and a callous on the left foot was similar to that of her friend.

Meantime, officers set to the task of establishing positive identification. Highway patrolmen were en route to Austin with the right hand and left little finger of the dead woman in the hope that fingerprints could be secured.

The right hand, said Deputy Sheriff Will Whitaker, would be examined for a fracture suffered by Mrs. Twitchell several years ago.

Daily Markets

Stock Market

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — Buying interest faded away in the stock market today and most issues closed in slightly lower price ground. Changes either way were mainly fractional.

The recession, small as it was, marked the end of a three-day advance.

Trading activity remained at recent low levels. Turnover was at a rate of around 600,000 shares for the full stretch, which would compare with 610,000 Monday.

The foreign news continued to bulk large in Wall Street's calculations. Professional traders accounted for most business and they were unwilling to take a strong position until further progress is made in the United Nations streatment of the Russian-Berlin case.

Marked down were Goodrich Tire, Studebaker, U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, International Harvester, Boeing, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, American Can, Dupont, J. C. Penney, Owens-Illinois, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Southern Railway, Standard Oil (NJ), and Paramount Pictures.

Steadier spots included General Motors, Firestone, Montgomery Ward, United Aircraft, American Telephone, Consolidated Edison, Commonwealth Edison, International Nickel, Air Reduction, Union Carbide, Johns-Manville, Chesapeake & Ohio, and General Electric.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — Cotton futures were irregular today with dealings quiet. Early in the session the entire list moved lower but in subsequent trading positions from December onward moved higher under trade and commission buying. The October 1948 contract was subjected to liquidating orders which followed issuance of 16 delivery notices, the first for the month. Most of the trade demands centered in December and March contracts and was presumed to be covering against export sales.

Cotton closed barely steady.

Deliveryman Shaken When Car Overturns

Sam Houston Clark, jr., 25, a deliveryman of 2807 Thirtieth, was shaken when his car was overturned at 8 a. m. in a mishap at Eighth and Ave. J.

Police said they were informed that his car and one driven by Luther J. Cone, 18, an ice company employe of 2601-B Maple, brushed and that Clark's machine skidded sidewise several steps, then slid on its side approximately 28 feet.

Police said Clark paid a $15 fine for negligent collision.

Worker Reported To Have Found $100,000 In Cave Used As Hideout By Jesse James

GADS HILL, Mo., Oct. 5 (U.P.)—This little Ozark community was abuzz today with reports that a timber worker has found $100,000 in gold coins and certificates in a cave once used as a hideout by Jesse James' band of robbers.

Treasury department agents talked for several hours yesterday with the timber worker, Wallace Wilcox, father of five children. The federal officers drove to Gads Hill in an armored car.

Wilcox, who refused to disclose the location of the cave, admitted talking to the agents but declined to say what the conference was about or whether they took his reported find with them when they left.

One banker, who declined use of his name, said he had seen at least $10,000 in gold which Wilcox said he found in the cave. The banker said he believes the total find of Wilcox would run to about $100,000.

Wilcox promised to open the cave to the public next Sunday. Previously he had disclosed only that he found at hatful of two-cent pieces, minted in the 1860s, an 1863 U. S. Army rifle, and four packs of currency, moulded beyond description.

Improved Tax System Urged

EL PASO, Oct. 5 (AP)—Delegates to the League of Texas Municipalities meeting here were told last night that "Texas has the most inadequate and inefficient system for collection of delinquent taxes of any state."

The broadside was fired by W. H. Wilbanks of Cleburne in a speech before the ninth annual meeting of the State Assessors association, held in conjunction with the league meeting.

Legislative Program Slated

He called for a broader base for taxation by Texas cities and said: "If we can get this legislative program as outlined, municipalities can finance themselves and possibly lower ad valorem taxes on real estate." He said there also might be the possibility of eliminating all taxes on homes of small valuation.

The legislative planning committee of the league will submit an 11-point program for approval Wednesdday morning.

About 400 state and municipal delegates from every principal Texas city registered for the three-day meet.

Division Officers Named

Th Texas City Managers' association elected G. O. Summers of Waco as president. Vice presidents include B. C. Thompson of Weslaco, Steve Matthews of Pampa and Garland Franks of Sherman.

Walter E. Boyd of Houston was named president of the Texas City Attorneys' association. Vice Presidents include D. M. Wilson of Waco, and Roland Boyd of McKinney. Miss Agnes Sagebiel of Fredericksburg was elected reporter.

B. F. Temple of Dallas was elected president of the Municipal Finance Officers' association. Vice presidents are K. A. Moore of University Park, G. Frank Wafford of McKinney, Miss Lila Fern Martin of Abilene and R. J. Rome of Mission.

Miss Martin also was named secretary of the association.

Building Plan

to Texas Tech under the amendment's provisions will not "even begin" to take care of the college's needs now.

There was no indication to the voter of this limitation in the ballot language of the amendment, he said.

"The very vice of the amendment was left off the ballot," he added.

Greenhill contended that there was no allegation that the legislature intended to defraud anybody by leaving something out of the ballot summary of the amendment's provisions.

"No one was presented (in trial court) who said they were misled. Surely the court won't overturn an amendment on speculation that someone may have been misled," he said.

Contestants In Case

Contestants in the case are Clarence W. Whiteside, Spencer A. Wells and Homer Maxey, all of Lubbock, and H. E. Speer of Dallas. Among those present in the courtroom today were Dudley K. Woodward, jr., chairman of the board of regents of the University of Texas, one of the original proponents of the amendment, and Rep. Roger Q. Evans of Denison and Rep. Preston Smith of Lubbock, two of the principal opponents of the measure.

Trial court ruled in favor of the state. The decision was immediately appealed to the third court.

The year-long litigation has frozen the college building program. Bonds authorized in the program may not be issued and cleared for sale while such court action is pending.

Provisions Of Amendment

The amendment authorized levy of a 5-cent per $100 valuation ad valorem tax to finance $45,000,000 worth of buildings for 14 state-supported colleges and permitted the University of Texas and Texas A. and M. to issue $15,000,000 worth of building bonds to be paid off with income earned by the university permanent fund.

The state this year levied the tax so authorized but ordered it held in a special fund pending disposition of the court suit. Invalidation of the amendment would require return of the money to the taxpayer.

doubtful states.

"I don't need to tell you your water table is dropping and that you'll soon have to quit irrigation because you'll be out of water," Porter said. "Nature didn't provide a system for restoring the water as fast as it is drawn out."

Porter advocated a change in Texas election laws so that "we will have a secret ballot."

"Nearly any politician can go to your county clerk's office in Texas and find out how you voted," he said.

"Conditions are so serious in the country that it's time for the great people of Texas, who are broadminded in everything, to become broadminded in politics," Porter said. "Don't let prejudice, sentiment and tradition influence you in this critical year."

Later, in brief interview, Porter said every action he performed in the role of junior U. S. Senator would be based on one principle: "Is it good for our state and the nation?"

Two of the main planks in his platform are his opposition to the so-called civil rights program of both major parties and his pledge to oppose with all his power and influence the federal FEPC legislation. He said his platform included the following planks: 1. Decentralization of the federal government; 2. Eliminating the Communists from the federal payroll; 3. Intelligent and adequate soil and water conservation; 4. Sound farm and livestock support policy; 5. Military preparedness and a strong foreign policy; and 6. Intelligent economy in government.

He was introduced by M. D. Temple, president of the Lubbock County Republican club. Out-of-town guests at the luncheon included G. C. Rankin, McAllen; Ben Moore, O'Donnell; Frank Parrish, C. L. and W. W. Haygood, and J. A. Biggerstaff, Tahoka; E. E. Wells, Floydada; T. F. Lindley, Seminole; J. D. Dyer, Lamesa; Carl Williams, Morton; Emmett Lynch, Marvin McLaughlin and Roy Abel, Ralls.

Prior to Porter's talk, Carl G. Clifft, Veterans administration official, spoke briefly on National Employing the Handicapped Week. He revealed there were 2,000 handicapped veterans in the 79 counties of the West Texas area and more than 700 had been rehabilitated in the past two years.

HST Branded As 'Schemer'

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 5 (U.P.)—John L. Lewis today criticized President Truman as "a malignant scheming sort of individual who is dangerous not only to the United Mine Workers but dangerous to the United States of America."

"It devolves upon you," Lewis told the opening of his union's 40th convention "to decide whether he is to be a future president."

Applaud All Criticism

The 2,900 delegates shouted "No!" They applauded almost every critical reference made to Mr. Truman during his opening address. And there were many in the 25 uninterrupted minutes that consumed most of Lewis' speech.

"Harry Truman is totally unfit for the position," Lewis said, "his principles are elastic. He is careless with the truth. He has no special knowledge of anything. He is a malignant scheming sort of individual who is dangerous not only to the United Mine Workers but dangerous to the United States of America."

Lewis made no reference to Mr. Truman's Republican rival Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

"He Was Too Cowardly"

The miners' boss said that Mr Truman prosecuted the union for twice striking against federal court orders and recommended big fines "because he was too cowardly to send me to jail."

"I was wishing," Lewis said, "that if Harry Truman had to have his pound of flesh from this union that he would take it from me, not you—that he would put me in jail, which is what a white man would have done rather than rob you."

Lewis said that "Truman didn't care" how many men would lose eyes or die in mining the coal to pay the $2,130,000 fines imposed upon the union and its president in 1946 and 1948.

Hurricane

The radar indicated that the course of the hurricane had shifted slightly to the east.

Key West had a power failure this morning, but telephone communications with the mainland remained open on an emergency basis.

A torrential cloudburst poured from the black clouds that blacked out Key West until residents went scurrying for candles. Water was ankle deep in the streets.

In the Everglades section of Florida, two 25-car trains left for Lake Harbor to evacuate 5,000 refugees from Lake Okeechobee to Sebring.

Hospitals reported at 9:30 a. m. that they had at least 60 injured persons, seven or more in serious condition. Other scores received first aid for minor injuries and were released.

(In Washington, a weather bureau advisory said that the hurricane, described as "very severe," will drive through most of the Everglades-Okeechobee area and along the coast as far north as Jupiter, Fla., tonight. If it continues on its present course.)

Gusts Up To 130

Belen college observatory here reported that winds averaged 100 to 110 miles an hour at the height of the storm, with gusts up to 130 miles.

In downtown Havana, police opened fire on small gangs of looters raiding smashed stores. No casualties were reported, however, and the looting was not widespread.

Power was out in much of the city. Three rivers flooded their banks. Transportation was paralyzed for several hours. Rubble and fallen trees barred many streets.

South Florida prepared to face another such storm as sliced through the state from Everglades to Jensen Beach two weeks ago, leaving four dead and property loss estimated at $15,000,000 or more.

The SS Florida cancelled its scheduled sailing from Miami to Havana, and Pan American World Airways said two flights between Miami and Guatemala City via Havana had been cancelled.

Another Flood Feared

Fear of another flood gripped the rich vegetable and cattle grazing areas in the heart of the peninsula, where torrential rains accompanying the Sept. 21-22 hurricane inundated vast sections around Lake Okeechobee and the Kissimmee river valley.

Key West, battered by winds up to 160 miles per hour two weeks ago, lay in the projected path of the storm. Naval aircraft at the island city flew to stations farther north. Surface traft awaited dispersal orders.

Damage Heavy In Lubbock Farm Fire

An estimated $500 worth of damage was done in a fire about 10:20 p. m. Monday night, almost completely destroying a small feed barn and hay on the Martha A. Luccock farm, about 200 yards east of the first curve on Idalou highway, city firemen said.

A truck from Central Fire station remained at the scene about midnight, protecting the farm house which is located about 50 feet east of the barn. A strong wind was blowing, firemen said, but toward the north rather than the east.

Berlin Blockade Denied

Before the vote, Vishinsky pleaded with the council to ignore the Berlin blockade, which western powers charge endangers world peace and security.

Vishinsky, a purge trial prosecutor who became deputy foreign minister of Russia, contended again "there is no blockade of Berlin," although the Russians closed land access to the four-power city in June. He argued that the council of foreign ministers was created to solve German problems and that this, rather than the security council, is the correct forum for the issue.

Other Views Expressed

"Gentlemen of the security council, you have a lot of worries before you already," he said. "It is hardly worthy of you to ignore these direct responsibilities in favor of one that does not concern you."

In his opening yesterday, he implied a Russian walkout by asserting Russia could not be a party to what he called an "illegal" move.

Alexander Parodi of France had spoken in favor of the Berlin question going on the agenda. Faris El Khouri of Syria said it was his personal opinion that article 107 of the U. N. charter did not apply to the Berlin crisis but he supported a Belgian view that the question should go on the agenda subject to later argument.

Atomic Controls Problem

Col. William R. Hodgson of Australia told the political committee of the assembly that arguments over control of atomic energy must not break down. Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton of Canada warned that the atom will be brought under control on western terms or not at all.

Vishinsky called arguments of U. S. Delegate Jessup that the security council should place Berlin on its agenda "those ridiculous allegations about a blockade of Berlin."

"We presented facts showing there is no blockade of Berlin," he asserted. "There is no threat of starvation in Berlin."

He accused the United States of conducting "a vast propaganda maneuver pursuing its own purposes."

Asserting that he "is afraid of citizenship indifference, afraid of a material prosperity that puts insulation around the soul," W. R. (Bill) Rutherford, district governor of District 2-T1 of Lions International, told the Lions club at luncheon today at the Hilton hotel that "the only reason for anyone to be a Lion is a willingness and desire to be of service to humanity."

Pointing to the Lubbock club as No. 8 in rank throughout the world, and as the anchor club of this district, Rutherford, Dumas newspaper publisher, was ashamed of the fact that in America we treat with indifference the simple liberities that bring death to people in other parts of the world as they struggle to gain them.

He believes that never in history has the challenge gone out for service to humanity as it is going out today.

The speaker, on his first official visit to the Lubbock club, was introduced by Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, deputy district governor and member of the host club.

Lawyer Held In Fraud Case

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—Release in bail has been denied a socially-prominent New York lawyer accused of defrauding his mother and sister by stealing $1,362,000 from his father's estate.

Asking in court yesterday that no bail be allowed for the lawyer, Leonard Bacon Clark, 42, Assistant District Attorney Wyllis Newcomb said:

"While I believe he is sound frame of mind now, he did attempt suicide once in earnest."

Magistrate Edgar Bromberger then told the defendant:

"Nothing is to be gained by adding enormity to enormity, by doing away with yourself."

Theft Is Alleged

"I have no intention of doing so, sir," Clark replied.

Clark was arraigned on a charge of grand larceny specifically involving alleged theft of $8,026.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said shortly after Clark's arrest yesterday that he attempted to commit suicide at his mother's home in Bridgton, Me., last month.

The mother, Mrs. Eda E. Clark, 74, and Clark's sister, Mrs. Virginia Clark Darnielle, of Washington, D. C., were trustees with him of the estate of the father, Eleazar W. Clark, who died at Bridgton in 1936, leaving an estate of $2,900,000.

Newcomb said Clark's alleged suicide attempt was not "an act of contrition," but a maneuver planned to save for his wife and two daughters his share of an estimated $508,000 remaining in the estate.

The most recent chamber of commerce estimate of Lubbock's population, as of last July 1, was 52,480. This figure, which resulted from an involved formula which considered many factors, was the same as that used in 1930 and 1940, when the chamber estimates were within less than one per cent of the Lubbock population as shown by the U. S. census in those years.

Two Operating Railroad Unions Get Third-Round Wage Increase

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 5—Two railroad unions, representing 175,000 workers, have settled third-round wage demands with the country's carriers—a 10 cents an hour pay increase.

The wage hike, to become effective Oct. 16, will add about $4.80 to the weekly pay check of members of the order of railway conductors and the brotherhood of railroad trainmen.

A spokesman for the railroads estimated the new wage boost will add $55,665,000 annually to the carriers' labor costs, including payroll taxes. The workers affected include trainmen, conductors, yardmen, yardmasters, dining car employes, and 93 per cent of the country's switchmen.

Asked One-Fourth Boost

Negotiations with three other operating unions and 16 non-operating brotherhoods are pending. Daniel P. Loomis, chairman of the Western railroads' wage committee, said the carriers' operating costs would increase $381,175,000 a year if the 10 cent increase is granted to all rail workers. The wage hikes granted in two previous rounds were the same for all unions.

The carriers and the two operating unions reached agreement on the wage issue yesterday after two weeks of negotiations. The unions had asked a boost of 25 per cent.

The other three operating unions—locomotive engineers, switchmen, and locomotive firemen and enginemen—have a membership of 275,000. The 16 non-operating brotherhoods claim about 1,000,000 workers.

Strike Vote Being Taken

The engineers and firemen have asked an increase of $1.76 a day. This sum represents the difference between the $1.24 they received in 1946 and the $3 a day they had demanded. The workers are paid varying rates.

A carrier spokesman said the weekly pay wage for the engineers is between $88.80 and $126.66; for firemen, from $78.83 to $103; conductors, from $77.40 to $117.54, and trainmen, from $71.58 to $96.50. The pay depends upon the class or type of service, he said.

Negotiations with the non-operators broke down last month and a strike vote is being taken. However, the national (railway) mediation board is seeking to effect a settlement. If it fails the next step will be for President Truman to appoint a three-man emergency board to attempt to settle the wage-hour dispute.

The non-operating unions asked 25 cents hourly pay hikes, 40-hour, 5-day work week instead of 48 hours; time and a half for Saturdays; double time for Sundays and holidays, and eight hours minimum pay for any work on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

Boy Is Questioned In Fatal Shooting

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Oct. 5 (U.P.)—Psychiatrists examined six-year-old Samuel Nail today in an effort to learn why he shot and killed his 10-year-old brother, George, in an argument over comic books.

County officials released him in the custody of his father, William Nail, 53, pending the outcome of the investigation.

The father said the boys began arguing yesterday morning over two dozen comic books he had brought home for their weekend entertainment. He said the younger boy, although unable to read, enjoyed looking at the pictures.

To end the quarrel, Nail said he sent George to bed. A short time later he heard a shot and ran to the boys' upstairs bedroom. He found George fatally wounded in the head with a 12-gauge shotgun.

An hour lated police found the younger boy hiding under the house. He admitted to officers that he had shot his brother but apparently did not understand the enormity of the deed.

Saute onions, green pepper, mushrooms, tomatoes and cubed eggplant together for a fall vegetable dish. Season with a dash of sugar and allspice and salt and pepper.

Navy To Attack Vessels Japs And Atom Bomb Did Not Sink

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 5 (AP)—The Navy today will bombard two tough vessels the Japanese and the atom bomb at Bikini failed to sink.

The submarine Skate and the transport Crittenden will be targets of air and surface forces assembled for the largest amphibious exercises ever held in peace time. Sixty ships, 275 aircraft and 30,000 men are participating.

Sinks Jap Shipping

The Skate, credited with sinking 129,000 tons of Japanese shipping, is to be finished off with air bombs northwest of San Clements island. The 800-ton Crittenden gets progressive air and surface bombardment in the same area.

Live shells and bombs are to be used tomorrow when the First Marine division storms the beaches of San Clements.

Thursday the public will watch from bleacher seats on a bluff above Aliso beach on the mainland north of here as the same marines wade ashore. The shooting there will be simulated, with explosives to make it realistic.

Rear Adm. Bertram J. Rodgers commands the maneuvers. Maj. Gen. Graves B. Erskine commands the marine landing force.

Plans Are Made For Print Salon At Tech

Further plans for the print salon to be held in connection with the Southwestern Journalism congress next spring at Texas Technological college were made Monday afternoon at a meeting of Tech's Eta chapter of Kappa Alpha Mu, national honorary photographic fraternity.

The Salon Print committee, composed of Jayne Thompson of Vernon, A. J. Bishop of Winters, and Carol Sherrod of Lubbock, reported that only pictures made after March 7, 1948 will be eligible for the contest. This committee will examine all proofs which are submitted for entrance, and decide whether they merit a place in the salon.

The group decided on 10 divisions in which the prints will be shown and judged. They are action, news, portrait, character study, still life, animals, pictorial, industrial, fashion advertising, and an open class in which any picture may be entered.

Winning pictures in this contest will be sent to the national contest. Last years national winners will be displayed in the Recreation hall at Tech next week, according to Miss Sherrod, secretary of Eta chapter. The group's next meeting will be at 5 p.m., Oct. 11.

Ex-Gov. Cross Of Connecticut Dead

* * *

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 5 (AP)—Former Governor Wilbur L. Cross, who combined in one lifetime distinguished careers as an educator and political leader, died today at his home.

"Too old" for further service, he already had retired as dean of Yale's graduate school before he led Connecticut Democrats to victory after 15 years of unbroken Republican rule. He served four consecutive terms as governor.

Had Lain In Coma

The heart of the 86-year-old former chief executive, weakened by pneumonia, failed at 1:25 a. m. (EST). After a brief rally on Sunday, he had lain in a coma for 24 hours.

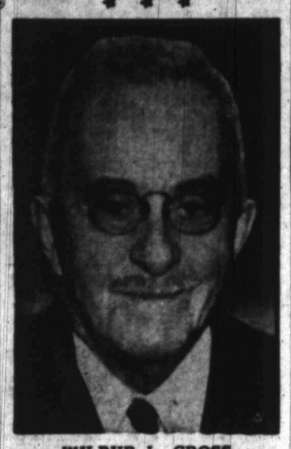

At his bedside where his sons, Avery and Wilbur Cross, jr., his only immediate survivors.

His death came only a matter of hours after the polls closed yesterday in several Connecticut communities holding municipal elections, some of which included referenda on a constitutional amendment Cross himself had urgently recommended during his governorship from 1930 to 1938. Even before yesterday's balloting the proposal to name minor court judges by gubernatorial appointment had received enough votes to assure its adoption.

Backed Many Reforms

Many other reforms he advocated came about during his terms in office although he always had to contend with a Republican controlled House in the general assembly.

They included reorganization of government departments with the establishment of an executive budget, old age pensions and unemployment insurance, a $25,000,000 institutional building program and a highway safety program largely credited with bringing Connecticut the several awards it has received as the nation's safest state.

WILBUR L. CROSS

Cross lost none of his literary skill as he acquired political acumen. The best evidence of this was the style he employed in his annual Thanksgiving proclamations, so well received that a volume of them has been published.

It was perhaps fitting that his death should come with the approach of autumn when, as he once wrote, "the frost gives a tang to the air and the dusk falls early and the friendly evenings lengthen under the heel of Orion."

Cross, graduated from Yale in 1885, was principal of a Westport high school before beginning his 33-year career on the Yale faculty in 1897. There he became an authority on English literature, particularly the works of Laurence Sterne from whose character, Uncle Toby, he acquired a nickname that clung to him all his life.

Mississippi Group Pledged To Truman

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 5 (AP)—A pro-Truman Democratic party is open for business in Mississippi.

It was organized yesterday at a meeting of 55 of the President's supporters—who attacked the States' Rights movement as negative and unrealistic and assured the south that preservation of its way of life lies with the National Democratic party.

Frank Mize, a former state motor vehicle commissioner, was elected chairman of the newly formed 24-man state executive committee. Mrs. John Clark of DeKalb was named national committeewoman.

The regular Democratic executive committee has pledged its electors to the States Rights ticket of Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and Gov. Fielding Wright of Mississippi.

The pro-Trumanites recently qualified a slate of electors pledged to Mr. Truman and his running mate, Sen. Alben Barkley.

Most States In Need Of Bigger Revenues

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 (U.P.) — The Council on State Governments reports that from one-half to two-thirds of the states will need more revenue for the next budget period than they have for the current one.

Continued increase in expenditures is expected in most states because of inflated prices, deferred capital improvement projects and increased demands from local governments, the council said.

It reported that 19 states have tried to estimate the amount of additional funds which will be needed and the estimates ranged from $2,000,000 to $102,000,000. Altogether, the 19 states are expected to need an additional $575,000,000.

Finalists For Tech Elections Are Selected

Results of the primary election of class officers at Texas Technological college Wednesday were announced Monday afternoon, and the final run-off will take place at 5 p. m. Friday, according to Margaret Clark, secretary of the Student Council and chairman of the elections committee, who said it has not yet been decided where the elections will be held.

Th two students receiving the most votes for president, vice president and secretary of each class will be in the run-off elections. There will be no run-off for those offices for which one student received a majority of the votes cast.

Finalists Are Named

Two women students from each class will be chosen for representatives to the Association of Women Students. The candidate who polled the highest number of votes in her class, was automatically declared to be one of the representatives, and there will be a run-off between the two polling the next highest number.

Students who polled a sufficient number of votes to be in the run-off and those who were elected by virtue of a majority in the primary are as follows:

Senior—president, Donald Clark of Cross Plains, and Francis Brockman of Carlsbad, N. M. (Karl Lawson of Borger declared ineligible); vice president, Jack Noyes of Midland, unopposed; secretary, Doris Smalley of Calude, and Nell Bialey of Estelline; AWS representatives, Peggy Davis of Lubbock (elected), Cherolyne Roberts of Morton, and Barbara Jackson of Lubbock.

Junior—president, Curtis Sterling of Snyder (elected by majority); vice president, Ray Brigham of Stamford (elected by majority); secretary, Beryl Nowlin of Ft. Worth, and Barbara Scott of Shamrock; AWS representatives, Alice Hix of Abernathy (elected), Mary Alice Mitchell and Jeannine Smith, both of Tahoka.

Sophomore — president, Tim Hatch of Wellington, and Andy Behrends of Dimmitt; vice president, Gene Messer of Lockney (elected by majority); secretary, Jane Loflin of Lubbock, and Marjorie Luck of Levelland; AWS representatives, Mary Stanford of Waco (elected), Pat Pearson of Lubbock, and Dorothy Stephenson of Ft. Stockton.

Freshman — president, Judson Brawner of Atmore, Ala. (elected by majority); vice president, Bobby Close of Shamrock, and Bob Schmidt of Lubbock; secretary, Mary Moore of Ropesville, and Mary Beth Logan of Sweetwater; AWS representatives, Elizabeth Schovajsa of Amherst (elected), Janet Crandall of Lubbock, and Jo Simmons of Lubbock.

Warning On Threat Of Flames Sounded

Timed as an aid in promotion of Fire Prevention week throughout the nation, and coincident with the rapid gain in momentum of the South Plains cotton harvest, the National Cotton council issued through its Memphis office yesterday a warning that "the danger of expensive gin and warehouse fires will increase as several million bales of the 1948 U. S. cotton crop go into storage."

The Council called on the cotton industry as a whole to join in observance of Fire Prevention week, pointing out that direct fire losses in the cotton industry during the 1947-48 season amounted to an estimated $8,000,000, involving about 35,000 bales. Indirect losses were much greater.

It was pointed out that with the cotton destroyed by fire last year an additional 13,000,000 men's shirts, or 5,000,000 pairs of trousers could have been produced. The burned cotton would have been sufficient for the manufacture of 70,000,000 pairs of women's full-fashioned hose, 30,000,000 towels, of 2,100,000 automobile tires.

The statement sets out that gin and warehouse fires are costly not only because they destroy cotton, valuable machinery and other property, but also because they usually wipe out the earning power of a business at its peak period of the year.

Of the 1,147 cotton fires last year, many were attributed to "fire-packed" bales, and frequency of such bales increased 270 per cent during the 1947-48 season.

It was explained that a "fire-packed" bale results when lint cotton becomes ignited in the ginning or pressing process, and is packed unnoticed into the bale. The smouldering fire eats its way into the open and often causes damage running into thousands of dollars, depending on location of the bale.

Several things may cause lint cotton to become ignited in the ginning process. Among them are rocks and metal in dirty seed cotton which strike machinery and cause sparks. Other causes are careless smokers, sparks from engines, and faculty electric wiring.

Junior Red Cross Chairman Selected

Appointment of Mrs. H. J. Shipley as Junior Red Cross chairman was announced Monday by Ernest F. St. Clair, chairman of the Lubbock county chapter of the American Red Cross.

Mr. and Mrs. Shipley and son, Jack, a K. Carter school student, moved to Lubbock about six months ago from Wichita, Kas.

Miss Mary Anderson has been chosen assistant chairman. She is a graduate of Texas Technological college and substitute teacher in Lubbock public schools and has worked with young people at the First Baptist church.

Open To Students

Coordinator between the Junior Red Cross and public schools is Alfred Smith, Central Ward principal. Mrs. Ivy Savage is the Red Cross board of directors member responsible for the Junior Red Cross. She has been on the board two years.

The Junior Red Cross is open to all public schools students from first grade through Senior High school. Mary Katherine Starnes is president of the Senior High school chapter of the Junior Red Cross.

Last year, the Junior Red Cross sent approximately 700 gift boxes to school children in Europe and expectations for a similar project this year were announced Monday. The junior organization assisted the Lubbock county chapter in its fund campaign, helped in other activities of the chapter and also assisted in Crippled Children's council activities.

Corn Cobs Are Made Into New Products

LONGMONT, Colo., Oct. 5 (U.P.)—A new chemical process has been developed which is capable of converting a pound of corn cobs into $1.25 worth of xylose, a basic ingredient in the production of nylon and other plastics.

The process was developed by Fred H. Riebling, manager of the St. Vrain Valley Milling Co., and two chemists, R. John Townley and Joseph W. Hahn.

Townley said the firm expected to produce soon an edible xylose for use as a substitute for saccharine and said paper already had been produced from residue left by the cob-to-plastic process.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 5 (AP)—The only Republican ever elected sheriff of Nueces county, George Peters, died last night. He was 70.

Peters was sheriff from 1923 to 1925.

One Dead In Suicide Pact

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 4 (AP) — A 21-year-old youth was found dead and a 15-year-old girl unconscious but alive in a hotel room here today in what police described as a suicide pact.

Three suicide notes from the youth, Robert K. Nieman, Omaha, and one from the girl, Constance A. O'Connor, also of Omaha, were found, officers said.

Had Swallowed Pills

Both had swallowed big doses of sleeping pills and three empty pill boxes were found on the dresser of the hotel room, Detective Sgt. Patrick Phelan said.

"The kids apparently went around collecting enough for a killing dose," he said. In a note addressed to his mother, Nieman wrote "I never would be happy alive—so why suffer any more."

The note from Miss O'Connor, who is expected to live, read, "my darling mother—I've finally found the peace I've been hunting for."

Co-Operative Store Planned By Unions

CLEVELAND, Oct. 5 (U.P.) — Independent unions, the CIO and the AFL here have found a mutual interest that shows every sign of becoming the binding agent between the various labor factions.

The idea is the establishment of a co-operative department store.

William Lightner, recording secretary of one of the locals, has begun to work full time on the sale of stock in the proposed store to local members and unions.

The Cleveland Industrial Union Council, central body of the unions, said the project is being carried out in connection with the Filene Foundation, established by the late Boston merchant, Edward Filene. The Filene group will match all funds raised by the Cleveland unions.

Lightner hopes to raise $1,000,000 by the sale of common stock at $25 per share and preferred stock at $100.

Such a co-operative plan is already working in Arlington, Va., and another is scheduled to start early next year in Providence, R. I.

Buffalo Lakes Road Project Approved

Lubbock county commissioners court Monday set aside $36,000 as a special road and bridge fund to be used for construction of a farm-to-market (Buffalo Lakes) road southeast of Lubbock.

It was provided that "all landowners are to move back all fences, light poles and all obstructions, and that "the state will take over the road and maintain it when completed."

Other Funds Approved

It is understood that the road would lead from the Slaton highway to Buffalo lakes and thence loop back to the Slaton highway. No specifications were on file among minutes when newsmen were informed of the court's action, but will be available, it was announced.

The court also approved expenditure of $8,759.23 for road construction and engineering fees in county precincts 2 and 3. The construction costs would be paid to L. A. Purtell, engineering fees to C. A. Tubbs.

County Judge Walter Davies presided. Commissioners are R. O. Short, Ben Mansker, Ottis Isom,

Funeral Set Today For Victim Of War

Funeral services for Pfc. Paul Sherrod, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sherrod of 3323 Nineteenth, who was killed in action on Leyte, P. I., Nov. 6, 1944, were planned for 4 p. m. today in Memorial Park cemetery, with Dr. M. Norvel Young, minister of Broadway Church of Christ officiating.

Private Sherrod's body arrived in Lubbock this morning from Fort Worth regional distribution center of the American Graves Registration service, Sanders Funeral home, who is in charge of arrangements, reported.

Private Sherrod, who was 23 years old at the time of his death, graduated from Lubbock High school, and prior to entering the service, was a junior business administration student at Abilene Christian college in Abilene.

He was stationed for some time at Lubbock Army Air field as a sergeant, and later gave up his rank to enter the Army Specialized Training program as an engineering student at Peoria, Ill. When the program closed nine months later, he was transferred to the infantry.

Private Sherrod left the States for overseas duty in July, 1944, serving first in Hawaii and later participating in the Philippine invasion.

He was awarded the Silver Star posthumously in September, 1945.

Survivors in addition to the parents include four sisters, Mrs. Melvin Simmons of Olton, and Elaine Sherrod, Sandra Sherrod, and Winnie Sherrod, all of Lubbock.

Oil Activity Is Reported

Oil developments announced over the weekend included prospectors in four West Texas counties, Lubbock, Terry, Scurry, and Andrews counties.

Hopolulu Oil Corp., No. 1 Ratliff, Southwest Lubbock county wildcat, 10 miles southwest of the city, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 10, block AK, EL&RR survey, ran a four-hour drillstem test in the San Andres-Permian at 4,590-4,640 feet.

Recovery was 130 feet of drilling mud, with no show of oil, gas, or water, the project is to make more hole.

To Continue Well

Seaboard Oil Co., of Delaware No. 1 E. M. Hinson, Northeast Terry county wildcat, 10 miles northeast of Brownfield, has shown some free oil from a section thought by most observers likely to be the Ellenburger lime.

This prospector, located 660 feet from north and west lines of section 91, block 4-X, psl survey, took a two-hour drillstem test at 11,112-130 feet.

There was a blow of sweet gas at the surface after 12 minutes. The volume was not gauged or estimated.

Recovery was 1,200 feet of clean oil, 100 feet of heavily oil-and gas-cut drilling mud, and 150 feet of salt water.

The venture is slated to be drilled and cored deeper to explore the full thickness of the Ellenburger horizon.

Other Locations Reported

Operator representatives have not officially verified the report that the current formation is Ellenburger, and no observer has picked a definite top on that formation as yet.

Meanwhile, locations for Ellenburger wildcats in Central-west Scurry county and in Central-southwest Andrews county have been reported. Drilling on both prospectors is to start at once.

Lion Oil Co., No. 2 E. C. McLaughlin is to be an 8,200-foot prospector in Scurry county, approximately 10 miles west and slightly south of Snyder.

It is 610 feet from east and 665 feet from south lines of section 197, block 97, H&TC survey.

Drilling with rotary tools is to start by Oct. 7. The drillsite is near the center of a block of 5,000 acres which Lion holds in that area. It is in the same quarter section with Lion's No. 1 E. C. McLaughlin, a shallow hole drilled in 1945.

The new venture is two and one-half miles west and a little north of the Sun Oil Co., No. 1 Schattell, recently completed

Wallace Declares Demos, GOP Making New Nazidom In Europe

WITH WALLACE IN CALIFORNIA, Oct. 5. (AP)—Henry Wallace, who hops northward to San Francisco and Sacramento today, has accused the Democrats and Republicans of splitting Germany in order to create a new Nazi state in the heart of Europe.

He also said the two old parties have systematically crippled and wrecked a program of aid to farmers that was developed by him and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

This message on foreign and farm policy was delivered last night in Fresno, a major center of California's fabulously rich central valley farming.

U. S. Accusation Attacked

The Progressive party candidate for president spoke on the Berlin crisis in his weekly paid broadcast over a nationwide hookup.

He said that when the United States went into the United Nations security council and accused Russia of being a threat to peace the United Nations was weakened.

He said, "the kind of war now being blueprinted in the Pentagon would destroy the structure of civilization."

He said that the men of both parties who manage foreign policy "have violated America's pledged word" to punish the Nazis and that once the Russians "are assured that we really mean to carry out this pledge the threat of war would vanish."

Wallace made his farm speech before a crowd estimated by police at 2,200 in Fresno's memorial auditorium, which has a 3,000 capacity.

The candidate drew a burst of aplause when he said, "we are a party thrown together not just for a campaign. We are here to stay."

A sign in the auditorium lobby said, "check your tomatoes and eggs here." Nobody was observed checking any, and none were thrown.

Wallace said President Truman recently described California's Governor Earl Warren, the Republican vice presidential nominee, as almost a Democrat.

"Warren may be a Democrat under Truman's definition," Wallace said, "but Roosevelt would never have called him one."

Probe Into Death Of Child Continues

CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 5. (AP)—Police today continued to probe the death of a two-month old child who Justice of the Peace B. A. Carter said was "badly beaten."

"It was definitely murder," he said.

The child, Rose Ann Gonzalez, was found dead late yesterday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernesto Gonzalez. Two sisters of the child's father found the body. The parents were not at home when the child was found.

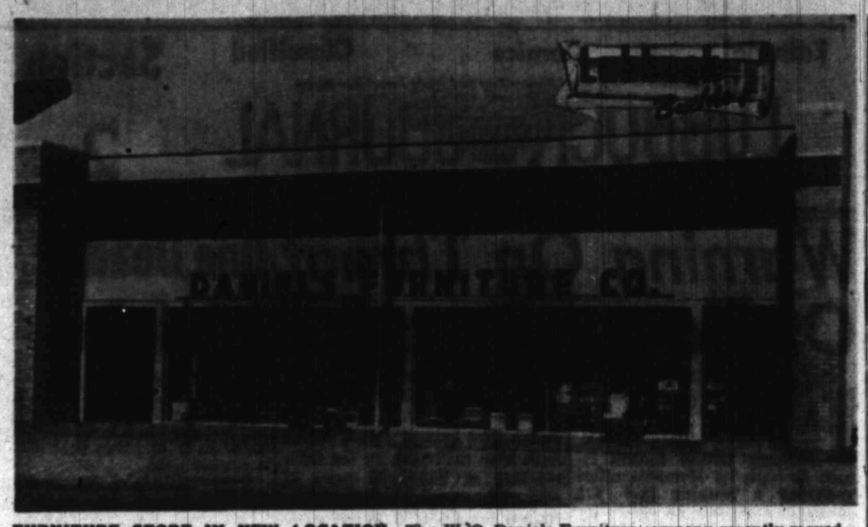

Deputy Sheriff Lawrence said a suspect was arrested last night.

Georgian Says He Threw Baby Into Creek To Conceal Romance

ATLANTA, Oct. 5 (INS) A stocky, handsome watchmaker told police today that he threw an Atlanta debutante's new-born baby into a lonely country stream in a frantic effort to cover up their illicit romance.

Police are holding 30-year-old Omar D. Norton on suspicion of murder. They said they have two witnesses who bear out Norton's story. They are still searching for the baby's body.

Child Appeared Dead

Norton told officers that the baby was born to a 19-year-old society girl in his car shortly after they left a football game Saturday.

The girl complained of being ill, he said, and they drove to a bridge on a deserted highway near Austell, Ga.

Norton said he assisted in the birth, but when the child showed no signs of life he became frightened and on an impulse he tossed the child over the bridge railing after he and the girl decided it was dead.

Norton said he then drove to an Austell drug store and inquired tow to stop bleeding after childbirth. When the druggist refused the information, he bought some first aid supplies and returned to the car. He later brought the girl to Atlanta's Grady hospital.

A woman who identified herself as Norton's estranged wife said she was hiring an attorney to represent her husband. She said Norton was the father of two children.

Police said no formal charges will be made in the case until the body is recovered and an autopsy made.

DALLAS, Oct. 5 (AP)—Buckner Orphans home, near Dallas, will hold a 45th annual reunion of former students Sunday, Oct. 17.

Memorial services will be held at the burial plot of the late Dr. R. C. Buckner, founder of the institution. A Baptist preacher, Dr. Buckner opened the home in 1879 in a rented house which sheltered three orphans.

A year later the institution was moved to its present site on Highway 80, east of the city limits. The home now has twenty modern, fireproof buildings housing 700 children and covers an area of 2,000 acres.

Six-hundred former students are expected for the reunion.

Response To Little Theater Play Good

Gales of laughter and warm audience response to "You Can't Take It With You," Lubbock Little Theater guild's initial production of the season, staged Monday night in Senior High school auditorium, gave assurance that the theater group's season was successfully launched.

Approximately 700 persons attended the performance, which was directed by Mrs. Charles Cobb. Audience response to Grandpa Vanderhoff, played by Leon Harris, was especially noticable and applause was given in the middle of one act to the dancing of Essie, played by Mrs. John Robert Moxley.

Mrs. Cobb spoke briefly before the opening curtain, stressing that the play was for entertainment, not technical perfection.

It was the concensus of the audience that all characters, from soft-voiced Alice, played by Jeanetta Lewis, to the boisterous Russian, portrayed by Weldon George, were extremely well cast, and that each performer carried his characterization well.

Members of the cast answered a number of curtain calls after the final curtain.

Conservation Meet At Cooper Scheduled

Farmers in the Cooper school (Woodrow) area, and any others interested, are to meet at the school there tonight to discuss a new and experimental procedure through which conservation officials hope to decide on a conservation program of wider use and advantage to farmers.

Call for the meeting was announced yesterday by Walter Y. Wells, county administrative officer, who said the plan will be put into operation first in that community, then will be gradually expanded to other parts of the county.

Tonight's meeting is to start at 7:45 o'clock, and all farmers in that part of the county were urged to attend.

U. S. Considers Giving Russians Taste Of Their Own Medicine By Limiting Travel

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 — The United States is studying the idea of giving Soviet officials in this country a taste of the same treatment Americans get from Moscow.

Diplomatic authorities disclosed today that retaliatory measures are under consideration as result of the new Soviet order sharply limiting the movements of American and other foreign diplomats in Russia.

The net effects of that order, the State department says, is to bar travel outside the Moscow city limits. Russians in the United States, meanwhile, are free to travel anywhere, with no questions asked.

Would Need Permission

A strict tit-for-tat policy would require Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin and other Soviet embassy officials to get State department permission before leaving Washington. Whether any such rule is under serious consideration was not disclosed.

Until now the State department has shied away from any idea of retaliation. Some officials took the position that the Kremlin might keep the exchange going, even to the point of breaking off formal diplomatic relations with the United States. This would mean closing down the embassy in Moscow, the sole remaining American outpost in Russia.

Hoped To Expand Staff

There was a time, too when it had been hoped to expand the embassy staff in Moscow, so the State department took care not to offend the Kremlin.

When Russia refused to permit Assistant Secretary of State John F. Peurifoy and a group of senators to visit Moscow last spring, there were many demands on Capitol Hill for retaliation. One proposal was that the United States permit no more Soviet officials in this country than the number of Americans admitted by Russia.

Nothing came of this, although the Army did not invite Soviet military attaches to this year's demonstration of weapons at the Aberdeen (Md.) proving grounds because American military men were not invited to Soviet maneuvers.

In Line With Other Steps

The latest curb on foreign travel in Russia was said by officials here to be in line with other recent steps to deepen Soviet isolation from the west. The number of Russian nationals in this country already was on a steady decline when Moscow shut down the Soviet consulates in New York and San Francisco after the United States ordered Consul General Jacob M. Lomakin to leave the country as an aftermath to the school teacher incidents in July.

Latest official figures show, however, that on August 1 there still were 290 Soviet officials and employes in the United States, excluding wives, children and other dependents.

The United States government on August 15 had 115 people in Moscow, including 14 dependents. Aside from these there were about eight news correspondents and a lesser number of American fur buyers.

DEATH IS REVEALED

ROME, Oct. 5 (U.P.) — The death of Count Alberto Marchetti, career diplomat who for 34 years served Italy as counsellor of the embassy in Washington, minister to Mexico, ambassador to Turkey and personnel director general of the foreign ministry, was announced today. Marchetti, 57, died in Turin.

Opposition Party Outlawed In Peru

LIMA, Peru, Oct. 5 (AP)—Peru outlawed last night the left wing Apra party, which the government blamed for the bloody Sunday revolt at Callao. Its leaders were ordered brought to justice.

The government said 1,072 arrests already have been made.

Apra means Alianza Popular Revolucionaria Americana (Popular American Revolutionary alliance). The party was organized with socialist aims. It proposed, among other things, to break up big estates. Much of its support has come from Indians and city laborers.

The Apra helped elect Dr. Jose Luis Bustamante Rivero president of Peru in 1945, forming part of his democratic union, but split away after he took office.

An announcement said 825 of the prisoners are sailors, and 247 are civilians.

Pants Almost Cost 700 Times Too Much

DALLAS, Oct. 5 (U.P.)—A man who bought a pair of pants in a Goodwill store in Dallas almost paid seven hundred times too much for them.

The price was 69 cents.

But the man put the trousers on in the shop and left his old pair. In the old trousers was $400 he had earned picking cotton.

The clerk at the store spotted the wallet, ran after the man, caught him on the street, and gave him the wallet.

English Air Marshal Presides At Meet

Nations In Europe Continue Defense Coordination Task

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 5—Chiefs of staff of the five western European alliance countries met here today to continue the task of coordinating their defenses.

Lord Tedder, marshal of the British Air Force, presided over the meeting of the military chiefs of Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The session was arranged prior to last night's formal announcement of the appointment of Field Marshall Viscount Montgomery as permanent military chairman of the alliance's defense council.

Montgomery is expected to resign shortly as chief of the imperial general staff. Speculation on a successor to that post has been fixed largely on General Sir John Crocker, 52, British commander in chief in the Middle East.

The British foreign office anouncement said French General of the Army Jean De Lattre De Tassigny was named commander in chief of the land forces of the alliance.

British Air Marshall Sir James Robb was appointed to command the alliance's air forces, while French Vice Adm. Robert Jaujard was named flag officer of the naval forces.

U. S. officials in Washington said last night the appointments are the most significant step yet taken to coordinate Europe's peacetime defenses. They said it is one of the key moves necessary before the U. S. can "associate" itself with a western European defense union.

Th appointments, expected several days ago, presumably were delayed because of the time needed to fill all the posts.

Montgomery, 60, who commanded British military forces during World War II, is expected to resign at once as chief of the imperial general staff. He will remain a British officer with the understanding he has been lent to the five-nation command.

His full new title will be permanent military chairman of the commanders-in-chief forming the defense council of the western powers—Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The PLAINSMAN Says:

That Girl on Broadway says in these days of inflation, it is virtually an insult to tell a woman she looks like a million dollars.

* * *

"A misunderstood wife," cracks the Wall Street Journal, "is one who telephones her husband to bring home a quart of lacquer!"

* * *

PEPPERY Mrs. William Penn, of Midland, who heads the Texas League of Women Voters campaign to secure a secret ballot in this state, was in the other day to talk about her job.

Although the recent State Democratic convention at Fort Worth passed a resolution approving a secret ballot, Mrs. Penn is under no delusion that getting the state's laws changed in that regard will come easy.

Too many professional politicians and political lawyers are against the idea, she says, to make the task easy. Too many mullet-headed senators, who have themselves all mixed up with "statesmen," are afraid to favor any change in the election laws for fear the substitute measures will leave the gate open for more illegal balloting in the future than the state has had in the past.

* * *

We agree with Mrs. Penn hat getting a secret ballot for Texas is going to be a long hard pull.

But we are as sure as we're breathing that the League of Women Voters will put the job over some day. Whether they do it in a hurry, or whether they take a lot of time, depends upon the women, themselves.

A bunch of women can make a bunch of men—even a bunch of political hacks—do anything, simply by chousing 'em and worrying 'em until they do it.

If the League of Women Voters, backed by the state's clubwomen, go to work in earnest on the legislators, they'll soon have the legislators crying for mercy.

They'll vote a secret ballot law—but quick—to get the women off their necks.

* * *

TEXAS needs a whole new set of election laws and everybody knows it.

The Johnson-Stevenson mess has spotlighted the need for a new set of laws and if Texas doesn't get them the whole legislature should be turned upside down by next voting time.

But Texas isn't going to get the secret ballot, or a set of election laws that really will work, until the people demand action from the legislature.

It depends on the public—and the public's memory of the U. S. Senate election in this Summer's primaries—whether anything of a remedial nature will be done when the legislature meets again next January.

* * *

Midland's Mrs. Penn says the League of Women Voters is growing, almost daily, in Texas. She says the league has application for many more units than it can organize and get to operating. She says the league doesn't let just any group in any town get together and go to functioning without approval and direction from the league itself. Expansion, therefore, is slow.

Mrs. Penn believes that Lubbock soon will have a unit. She says the league has had letters from interested women here and that organization in Lubbock is not far off.

We hope the women in Lubbock and everywhere else do organize and do get busy on politics in this state. The men have made a pretty big mess of it and it's a cinch the women can do no worse.

* * *

THE League of Women Voters is a non-partisan outfit. That is, the league is neither Republican, nor Democratic. It supports no candidate. It opposes no candidate.

Its goals are to improve politics in general; to get more people to vote; to encourage open discussion of issues; to improve the quality of government by improving the quality of politics.

Nobody can find anything wrong with goals like those—unless it is somebody who expects personally to profit through slipshod politics.

In campaigning for a secret ballot in Texas, the League of Women Voters has chosen a vehicle that needs to be ridden and which will have no opposition from anybody except either the selfish, the fearful, or both.

The rank and file of the people of Texas want a secret ballot. They are ashamed that of all the 48 states, only Texas and South Dakota do not have a secret ballot.

As soon as the people find out what the League of Women Voters is trying to do in this regard, they'll rally behind the league.

That's what they should do.

ATTORNEY GENERAL OF MICHIGAN FIGHTS OTHER REPUBLICANS TO CLEAN UP STATE

Where Does The GOP Get Its Huge Campaign Funds?

WASHINGTON — This is the story of how one Republican bucked a lot of other powerful Republicans in the state of Michigan.

It's an important story because it throws light on the question of who really pays the bills and pulls the strings behind the G. O. P. scenes. It happens also to be a story where this columnist sat backstage.

PEARSON

One Michigan newspaper recently waved its editorial pen under the nose of U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark and accused him of leaking certain inside facts about the Michigan scandals to this columnist.

The "leak," however, was the other way around. This column leaked to Tom Clark, not Tom Clark to the column. In fact, this column's readers may recall that for more than a year it has been delving into the Senator Hooper murder case and other strange goings-on in Michigan.

The alleged leak pertained to violation of the corrupt practices act by Buick's vice-president, W. F. Hufsteader, General Motors' lawyer, Harry Gault, and G.O.P. National Committeeman Arthur Summerfield, who also happens to be the biggest Chevrolet dealer in the world.

* * *

Judge Gets Cold Feet

These big G.O.P. whipcrackers were under investigation by another Republican, Michigan's Attorney General Eugene Black, when suddenly Judge Phillip Elliott, of Flint, got cold feet. Hastily he dropped his one-man grand jury and ordered Black to return all records showing violations of the corrupt practices act.

It was at this point, last July, that this columnist went to the Justice department and urged that it take up the Michigan scandals where courageous, beleaguered Mr. Black had left off.

At first the Justice department moved like molasses. Michigan newspapers are now accusing Tom Clark of playing politics because of his probe of Michigan. But if there there was any Justice department enthusiasm for jumping into the Michigan political pot, this writer couldn't detect it. The federal boys hemmed, hawed and hesitated before wading gingerly into the hot Michigan water.

* * *

TO get the full picture of the Michigan scandals you have to turn back to 1944 when go-getting G. O. P. leader Arthur Summerfield announced a drive to raise $500,000. From then until now, a large hunk of the Republican national committee's dough has come out of Michigan, much of it from automobile dealers and manufacturers.

More recently, a Detroit grand jury has shown that Michigan auto dealers fudged on their sales taxes to the tune of several million dollars. They simply "forgot" to pay the state. And Michigan Attorney General Black, the lonely clean-up Republican, claims that this reneging on sales taxes was the payoff for big campaign contributions. When you save thousands of dollars on sales taxes, naturally you can afford to give hundreds of dollars to the G.O.P.

Black, therefore, moved to open up the smelly mess. A Republican himself, he started to call a spade a spade.

Immediately other Republicans chorused: "Ingrate!" The Republican state central committee met and demanded that Black resign.

"You are a menace to good government, and we hereby respectfully suggest that you immediately resign," the Republican state committee telegraphed Black.

Governor Sigler, also Republican, promptly denied Black $35,000 he needed to investigate the campaign funds.

And when Black dug up $12,498 unexpended money left over from 1947, the G. O. P. state auditor clamped down an order that this money could not be used to probe G. O. P. campaign funds.

Every conceivable obstacle was put in Black's path, however, with a limited staff, he proceeded with his investigation of the manner in which the automobile industry of Michigan illegally financed and dominated the Republican party in Michigan. This investigation was before Judge Phillip Elliott in Flint, a state court.

* * *

Suddenly Judge Elliott got cold feet. As stated earlier, he abruptly adjourned his grand jury with the amazing explanation that criminal action might be brought against some of his friends.

This weird excuse brought sarcastic comments from two other Michigan state judges. Commented Judge W. McKay Skillman in Detroit:

"I never recall having heard that excuse before."

Remarked Judge Joseph Moynihah, presiding circuit court judge of Michigan: "I have never, in all the years that I have been connected with the law, heard of a judge withdrawing from a case because that case might involve friends or so-called friends."

He added that he was "amazed and shocked."

What made Judge Elliott's face blanch as he beat his hasty retreat from the grand-jury probe was the sight of various cancelled checks contributed by his own auto friends in Flint. On their face they were violations of the corrupt practices act.

* * *

Canceled Checks Hidden

Judge Elliott not only dropped his grand-jury probe as if he had seen a ghost, but he sent a telegram to Attorney General Black ordering him to return the canceled checks and all financial records of the various auto companies.

It was at this point that this columnist beat on the door of the Justice department in Washington and urged that since state officials in Michigan refused to investigate the Michigan mess, the federal government should move in.

NOTE—While the Justice department tried to make up its mind, Attorney General Black in Michigan kept three sets of records of the canceled checks in three different places, so that if Gov. Sigler's state police moved in, at least one copy of the records would remain out of their reach.

We imagine Mrs. Penn was telling the truth. A newspaper editor we know sits in a private office and his secretary sits in a reception room, just outside. Connecting the two is one of those inter-office communication gadgets.

One morning our friend's secretary said to her boss, over the communications do-dad, "Mr. John D. Rockefeller is here to see you."

Certain that the visitor was some friend pulling a gag, our editor friend boomed back, "O. K. Tell the old so-and-so to put his oil can in the corner and come on in!"

The visitor was John D. Rockefeller, jr., and he got a whale of a kick out of our friend's embarrassment!

Other guests at the party surrounded the little man, pummeling him with questions about what he thought about the Russians, the Palestine situation, whether or not France would go Communist, etc. He tried to answer, but the questions came so fast he had no opportunity to do so.

Later, at the dinner table, a lady next to the little man asked: "And just what do you do up at Lake Success?"

"Blease, leddy," he answered with a worried expression, "I just voik on the air condishuni'g!"

Old Mother Hubbard

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

THIS month our twins start to a new school.

They don't know anything about their teacher—not even her name — and she knows nothing about them.

Like thousands of other mothers I am hoping their teacher is one who realizes how important a person she is.

MILLETT

I am hoping she likes children and likes teaching.

I am hoping she never resorts to ridicule or shaming a child to force him into line.

I am hoping she knows how to make learning exciting.

I am hoping she is fair and just in her punishments.

I am hoping she isn't the hard, cold type of woman a child instinctively fears.

I am hoping she has a sense of humor—for children love to laugh.

* * *

HOPING A LOT

CONSIDERING what she is paid and how little real respect she gets from the community, that is hoping a lot, I know.

But if she is fully aware of how important a person she is to every child in her room and to the parents of every child, she will be all that I am hoping, and even more.

It is so terribly important for a teacher to be aware of her own importance in the scheme of things—and we parents do so little to let her know it.

Gruelling Work Conducted By Everyone On Truman Caravan

ABOARD THE TRUMAN TRAIN —Nothing in the world is remotely like the atmosphere on one of these transcontinental campaign caravans. It is a perpetual public affairs forum, a gossipy small-town sewing circle, a traveling rodeo, the mixture being unique and completely and unmistakably American.

The mixture on the Truman train is especially rich and flavorful of all past campaigns. As the underdog, President is battling morning, early morning, noon and late into the night to carry the campaign into the camp of the enemy.

CHILDS

In the last two cars, occupied by the President, his family and the secretarial staff, they are proud of rigors endured and weary, dusty miles covered. At Eufaula, Okla., the President made what was computed to be his hundredth speech of this trip, which must surely be some kind of record.

The troupers in the rear cars take pride in reports they have received from the Dewey train of the relaxed ,easy campaign which the rival caravan is said to be making. Why, the newcomer on the Truman train is told, that Dewey crowd doesn't even begin until 10 o'clock. The morning is counted lost when the President has not made four or five talks by that hour.

* * *

Hard, Gruelling Work

It is hard, gruelling work for almost everyone concerned. The No. 1 burden falls naturally on the President himself. Doggedly, determinedly, he grinds away. Sometimes he stumbles over the words of his written text. Sometimes his voice breaks, but he plows along, an earnest man doing what he conceives to be his duty.

The strain is great, yet the President endures it without visible signs of impairment. He has told several rear-platform audiences that he intends to live to be a hundred.

Mrs. Truman and Margaret go through a set routine of being introduced at almost every appearance. Throughout the day and late in to the night they must make themselves agreeable to a constant procession of politicians and politicians' wives who get on and off at each stop.

The endurance test for the secretarial staff is almost as great as for the President, except the aides do not have to appear before the public. Often, however, they must work through the night after the President has finally signed off.

* * *

THE grind is equally hard for most of the reporters, and especially the press association men, who must report everything that happens around the clock. On this gruelling assignment they pound out copy while riding in open cars and buses in parades to and from the fair grounds or the stadium. As the President is an unpredictable campaigner, likely to drop a chance remark that would make big headlines at any moment, they can rarely relax.

Of sheer physical punishment I should say that the pullman porters on the train take a greater share than anyone else, not even excluding the President. In the uproar of coming and going, of typewriters pounding and meals served at odd hours, they get almost no sleep at all.

The inevitable question in view of the expenditure of such prodigious energy, to say nothing of the money cost, is whether any concrete, tangible result is produced by this strange ritual, or is it merely a kind of ceremony like the rain-making rites of certain Indian tribes, which we solemnly and wearily go through every four years?

In the view of such experts as James A. Farley no votes are changed in the last four or five weeks of a campaign. Poll-taker Elmo Roper is of the same opinion, and he decided two weeks ago that it was futile to take any more presidential polls since the outcome was a foregone conclusion.

* * *

View Not Accepted

The President for a variety of reasons cannot acept that view. He has said repeatedly to the politicians greeting him along the way:

"It wasn't so long ago that Harry Truman was the only person who believed I could be re-elected President of the United States."

This is spoken in a brisk, confident manner and the listener is left with the implication that millions now have been converted. Whether they have or have not, it is impossible to say.

The kind of homely campaigning the President has done in Oklahoma, Missouri, Kentucky and West Virginia at the very least establishes

"Try And Stop Me"

DANIEL WEBSTER had two golden opportunities to become president of the United States—and flubbed both of them and died with his greatest ambition unrealized. In 1840, William Henry Harrison was nominated, and Webster was asked to be his running mate Second best was not what he wanted, and he declined. A month after Harrison took office he died of pneumonia, and John Tyler fell heir to the post that could have been Webster's.

Again in 1848 the Whigs wanted Webster to run for vice-president on a ticket with General Zachary Taylor. Again he declined. Taylor died in 1850, and Millard Fillmore became president.

There's a moral in this story, if you will search for it!

RUDE AWAKENING COMING

Officials of several cities of the state may be more optimistic than prospects actually justify as they ponder various methods of obtaining additional tax money for municipal operations.

The latest scheme, credited to Wichita Falls City Manager George Fairtrace, would permit a city tax levy of one-half of one per cent on the entire receipts of every business of the state. The proposal was discussed in a Fort Worth conference recently in a manner that implied confidence that city officials could get this and other taxing authority merely by asking for it.

Fortunately, practically all the schemes proposed would require approvals by the Legislature and the people of Texas before they could be put into effect. Those officials who imagine that such approvels might be a mere formality may discover they are counting eggs which won't hatch. They may discover that most people in most cities are of the opinion that municipal taxes are about as high as they will allow them to be.

him as a friendly, plain-spoken American who earnestly wants their votes. My guess, and it is just that, would be that he is slowly improving his position, partly perhaps because of the sympathy that goes to an underdog fighting hard to meet the challenge of a supremely self-confident young veteran.

When that is said, it must be put against the fact that President Truman's stock just prior to the Democratic convention was at bottom. Yet, as he also reminds his visitors, he has always been lucky in politics and the Truman stock is a wildcat stock subject to extreme fluctuations.

Subdivisions Five Throughout State Will Eled Supervisors

Landowners in subdivisions 5 of soil conservation districts throughout the state have been called into conventions in local districts tonight by the state soil conservation board to elect a district supervisor in each subdivision, it was announced today by Louis B. Dawkins of Plainview, assistant planning engineer with the state board.

Subdivision No. 5 in the Lubbock district is composed of the area constituting the Lubbock Independent school district, and landowners in the area are to meet tonight at 8 o'clock in Room 212 of the Agriculture building at Texas Tech college, it was announced by D. W. Sherrill, county agent who is to preside.

In addition to election of the supervisor, who must be a resident landowner, technicolor slides of irrigation scenes will be shown by Bob Thurmond, irrigation specialist. Motion pictures, "The Other Side of The Fence," on soil nutrients, will also be shown.

H. L. Weems is present supervisor of the subdivision.

Following the program, the group will go to the livestock barns to inspect bulls owned by the college.

Marshall Howard, area supervisor of the Soil Conservation Service, will attend the meeting.

All landowners who live in a soil conservation district and own land within subdivision No. 5 in each district are eligible to vote, but only landowners within the subdivision are qualified candidates for the office of supervisor, the announcement by Dawkins said.

Supervisors named at tonight's meetings are to serve five years.

In addition to Weems in the Lubbock district, supervisors whose terms of office expire today, include:

Riley R. Wooten of McAdoo, Duck Creek district; W. F. Fourgeson of Floydada, Floyd county district; Jay Barrett of Brownfield, Cochran-Yoakum-Terry district; Tom Lockwood of Ralls, Crosby county district; John H. White of Tulia, Swisher county; Nolan C. Von Roeder of Knapp, Upper Colorado; L. R. McCormack of Tahoka, Lynn county; E. A. Pearce of Lamesa, Dawson county; Floyd Stark of Seminole, Gaines county; H. T. Harrell of Levelland, Hockley county; J. R. Kuykendall of Anton, Lamb county; J. Earl Laney of Hale Center, Hale county; and Henry Reynolds of Farwell, Parmer county district.

Election conventions are to be held in each district subdivision beginning at 8 o'clock tonight, Dawkins said.

and Pat Corley. Louie F. Moore, county clerk, took down proceedings of the meeting.

Need For Road Cited

Minutes of the court show that, at the May 24 special term, the court passed a resolution on a petition of Dr. V. V. Clark, W. H. Rodgers and others for paving of the road.

The resolution took cognizance of a "very definite need" for a paved road there to serve traffic "as evidenced by petitions and letters and a "traffic count showing 5,289 motor vehicles over the road in seven days."

It further found that it was needed to serve school buses and students.

The court resolved that the highway department be petitioned to pave the road at the earliest date, "said court to furnish all right of way requested by the highway department and to grade the road to the state's specifications."

The resolution petitioned the highway commission to grant a hearing to representatives of the commissioners court, the City of Lubbock, the City of Slaton, affected school districts and others in connection with the request if the highway commission should not see fit to proceed with paving of the road without such hearing.

U. S. Men Fail In Ship Strike

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5 (AP)—Federal conciliators today despaired of finding a solution at present to the west coast maritime strike.

Meanwhile, the five striking unions in Seattle offered to sail all ships of the Alaska fleet, which are included in the 148 vessels idled in coast ports since Sept. 2.

Cyrus S. Ching, national director of the conciliation service, told newsmen here that the federal agency has no plans for bringing the disputants together.

No Method Seen

"At the present time I don't see any possible method of bringing the opposing sides together," Ching said. "There is no magic formula for handling things by mediation."

He added his agency, however, would do all it could to help solve the dispute if either side called upon it.

The strike began when negotiations failed in contract disputes over the hiring hall and wages. CIO longshoremen demanded continued control of the hiring hall and a 15-cent boost to a base wage of $1.82 an hour.

Affidavits Must Be Signed

After the strike began employers announced they would refuse to deal further with unions whose leaders have not signed non-Communist affidavits. Four seafaring unions walked out with the longshoremen.

The longshoremen's willingness to operate ships to Alaska was announced by William Gettings, regional union representative. He said the ships would be worked under the same agreement that covers the freighter Square Sinnet, which sailed for Nome last week. That agreement provided pre-strike wages and retroactivity for any future wage increases.

Officials of the three major companies shipping to Alaska declined immediate comment.

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corp. has filed an application with the railroad commission of Texas, requesting a permit to start operations at once on its No. 1-12 University, as a 10,000-foot wildcat in Central-southwest Andrews county.

The exploration will probably try to locate and test the Ellenburger. It is 660 feet from south and east lines of the north half of section 33, block 12, University survey.

That puts it between the block 12 field and the recent discovery made to the south of that pool at Humble Oil and Refining Co., No. 12 Parker, in the Devonian.

Wallace Minority Key Factor In Several Important States

ARCHIBALD M. CROSSLEY
Director, The Crossley Poll

The power of a small minority in an American election is illustrated by the position of the Progressive party in certain important states.

After the election this party may be evaluated not so much by the total national vote as by its relative effect in individual states. Wallace will probably obtain a national vote of less than two and a half millions out of 56 millions which of itself is hardly significant. Theodore Roosevelt in 1912 polled 4 million votes when the national total was only 15 millions. LaFollette in 1924 polled nearly 5 millions out 29 millions.

Truman Could Gain

At least a third of Wallace's vote is expected to come from the home states of the Republican presidential and vice-presidential nominees—New York and California. In these states Wallace at present appears to have nearly enough to throw the state a tie-range if his votes went to Truman.

Without their 72 electoral votes the election of Dewey and Warren would not be so certain. A shift of the Wallace vote could change the situation materially in the Truman direction in states like Washington and to a lesser extent Massachusetts. In Minnesota, where at this writing the inclusion of Wallace on the ballot is not yet finally settled, a shift of Wallace voters to Truman might make the state fairly definitely in the Truman column.

Next Few Weeks Critical

Wallace is not expected to withdraw, and if he should withdraw, the poll indicates that his voters would not all switch to Truman, but rather that about half of them would not vote. New York and California, therefore, are fully expected to be found in the Republican column when the election returns are in. Nevertheless, under our electoral vote system, Wallace appears to be playing an influential part in the election of Dewey.

Much depends upon the rise or fall of Progressive Party influence in the next few weeks. There are indications that its strength is waning rather than increasing. To be effective, a rise could be confined not only to a very few states, but to a very few cities and to a very few types of people with which it is popular.

It is known, for example, that Wallace is mostly popular with younger people, in the lower income levels, with the members of certain unions, and in large cities. Concentration of activity on bringing out the vote of such groups and shifting Truman voters could raise the party's relative standing in the election results. It is significant, however, that the percentage of persons preferring Wallace who will probably vote is less than the probable voting percentage of those who prefer Dewey.

The Wallace voters this year are expected to include only 1% of those who voted for Dewey in 1944, about 7% of those who voted for Roosevelt and 6% of those who did not vote in 1944.

The probable Wallace voters who voted for Roosevelt last time break down as follows: Men—8% of former Roosevelt voters, Women—7%; Metropolitan Districts of cities—10%, Farms — 4%; Age Group 21-29—8%, 30-44—7%, 45 and Over—7%; AFL members—5%, and CIO members—12%.

Architect Released From Term In Jail

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 5 (AP) —Cass Gilbert, Greenwich architect, has been released from the county jail after serving about half of the one-year term imposed on him for an automobile accident which injured 18 persons.

Judge John A. Cornell of the superior court ordered his release yesterday. Gilbert's counsel had pleaded that his continued confinement would have a "serious effect" on his mother's health and probably ruin his career.

The superior court has under consideration a state referee's recommendation that Gilbert pay $151,000 damages to the 17 'teenagers and elderly teamster who were injured when the architect's car hit a hay wagon in Wilton in November, 1947.

Gilbert pleaded guilty last April to a charge of "operating an auto so as to cause the breaking of a limb."

Dallas Pilots Plan Endurance Flight

DALLAS, Oct. 5 (AP) — Two Dallas pilots are awaiting permission to use Love field here as a base of refueling operations for an endurance flight.

Fred Vinmont and Bert Simons said they hope to break the world's endurance record of 721 hours.

They made an eight-hour shakedown flight yesterday in their light plane "without a hitch," they said.

Larry Parks At It Again In New Film With Mammy Singer

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 5 — Lary Parks is at it again.

The Olathe, Kans., actor once more is stepping into the well-heeled shoes of Al Jolson for a sequel to the mammy-singer's film biography. I found Larry stripped to his shorts after a spirited session of Jolson-mugging.

"People don't realize what hard work this is," he panted. He demonstrated how he works.

Steps Before Mirrors

After turning on a phonograph, he steps before two huge mirrors, affording a front and side view. Jolson's voice booms the song "Baby Face" through the small rehearsal room and Larry watches himself mouth the words, grimace, gesture and covort.

The number of times he listens to a number runs into the hundreds. That's a lot of Jolson when you consider there are 20 to 30 songs in the new picture, "Jolson Sings Again."

Not only that, he also does some listening at home.

Remembering Larry's aversion toward repeating the role, I asked him what changed his mind.

New Story Better

"It's a better story," he declared. "I saw the old picture again recently and I realized it really wasn't very good. Except for the last couple of reels, which were good, it tried to cover too much ground."

Of course, there's another reason for his change of heart—a spanking new Columbia contract which has other actors drooling with envy.

Women Are Petted Darlings In Beauty Shops; They Would Like To Be All Time

By LAURA ETZ
United Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 — A beauty shop plays a psychological part in a woman's life, a beautician said today.

Miss Maye Whitley, president of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists association, said that "for the few hours while she's getting a permanent and a manicure, a woman is the petted darling she'd like to be all the time."

A woman who has just come out of a beauty shop is at her best, "not only in appearance, but from a psychological point of view," Miss Whitley said.

Has Household Worries

"You take an average woman, and she's run to death planning meals and looking after children," she said.

Miss Whitley, whose group represents about 30,000 beauty shop owners, said that a beauty salon is "an oasis of femininity and luxury that some women don't get anywhere else."

She said it was "ridiculous to think home beauty aids can take the place of professional treatment."

The trouble with home beauty care is that it doesn't take a woman's mind off her housework, Miss Whitley said. No sooner than she's beautified, she's dusting and doing the dishes.

"No woman," if she can afford it, is going to give up those hours of relaxation in a beauty shop for a treatment that practically forces her to go right on with her home routine," Miss Whitley said.

A wise husband never would begrudge her the money, either, she said.

"It ought to be worth every cent to him," she said, "to come home to a wife who's prettier and younger-looking."

Miss Whitley denied that catching up on gossip is another advantage of visiting a beauty shop.

"The whole atmosphere of a beauty shop centers around attention to the individual," she said. "As a result, most women are too busy talking about themselves to discuss their neighbors.

"Besides, you never know who might be under the dryer next to you."

Chicago Railroad Fair Now History

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 (INS) — An auctioneer's hammer competed with the hammers of wrecking crews today as the Chicago railroad fair became a page of history.

The auctioneer's hammer was wielded by John Corrigan, seeking bids on the 69 horses and three mules used in the fair pageant, "Wheels A-Rolling."

The sale was held on th estage of the pageant while the outer edges of the stage rapidly disappeared under the blows of overall-clad, hammer swinging wreckers.

The fair played its final performance Sunday. No decision has yet been made on whether it will be resurrected next year.

Some 150 persons attended the auction.

Three oxen used in the pageant were not auctioned off, but were sent to the stockyards to be kept until a decision is reached on whether the fair will be put on next year.

To prepare a special Hard Sauce for a steamed pudding add a quarter cup of cream, whipped stiff, to the sauce; fold in well and serve immediately.
