Prisoner Gets To Read Finis

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 17.—(AP)—A condemned prisoner's interest in a magazine serial story, the conclusion of which would not have been available in the regular course of events until he had been executed, today brought an advance copy of the publication to "murderers' row," of the Allegheny county jail from New York by special messenger. The prisoner is Paul Jawarski, bandit leader convicted of the slaying of a payroll guard, and sentenced to die Monday. When the state pardon board declined to intervene in his case, earlier in the week, he expressed a desire to finish a story he had been reading. A newspaper telegraphed the publisher for an advance copy. "It's the end for me, too," said Jawarski as he finished the story this afternoon.

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Bearing the signature of President Coolidge, a brief document reposed tonight in archives of the state department to attest that the United States has given approval to the Kellogg treaty for the renunciation of war.

They looked on as the president signed his name to the instrument, passed it to Secretary Kellogg for certification of his signature and then followed the same course with a duplicate of the document.

Nation First of Fifteen America is the first of the fifteen signatory nations to ratify the pact, but before it can become effective it must be approved by the fourteen other powers in the manner prescribed by their respective constitutions, and their own instruments of ratification must be deposited with the Washington government, which is custodian of the original treaty.

Texas University Honor Councils Throw Wrench Into Social Plans; 109 Are Placed On Probation

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Jan. 17.—Honor councils of Texas University threw a monkey wrench into the school's social plans for the remainder of the school year here tonight by ordering 67 of the leading men and 42 of the most popular co-eds on social probation, alleging they attended a dance given by the Theta Nu Epsilon, an unrecognized interfraternity organization.

Theta Nu Epsilon is a fraternity banned by many universities. It pledges the most popular and influential members of the leading social fraternities in the universities where it is established.

The investigation started before Christmas when Dean of Men Moore mailed letters to heads of all social fraternities asking whether their organizations had members who belonged to T. N. E.

Membership in the interfraternity organization is secret, but the matter was turned over to the interfraternity council which named a committee to investigate T. N. E. membership.

This committee obtained approximately 30 names, turned over to the Mens Honor Council and the Women's Honor Council. Gail M. Whitcomb of Webster Texas, head of the Mens Honor (Special To The Journal) ATLANTA, Jan. 17.—The trial of George R. Harsh, collegiate hold up man and killer resolved today into a battle of sanity experts after the mother and other relatives had testified in his defense.

The defense rested today after relatives and 10 alienists had testified that the former Oglethorpe university student was a victim of insanity through habit and illness, and possibly hereditary ailments. The state then introduced the first of three physicians, who said Harsh son of a wealthy Milwaukee family, apparently was a victim of insanity through habit and illness, and possibly hereditary ailments. Legislative Committees Told Of 'Land Grabbing'

They Face Trial In Slaying Case

Wichita Falls Man Acts As Speaker For Section

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Jan. 17.—"Vacancy hunters" in recent years have "preyed" on owners of West Texas lands, where oil has been discovered and by filing claim suits have clouded titles, impaired credit and taken land away from ranchers who have resided on the location for years, W. B. Hamilton, Wichita Falls, told a joint meeting of the senate and house public lands committees.

Hamilton acted as spokesman for a delegation of 25 appearing before the committee in the interest of four senate bills introduced by Small of Wellington.

Measures Proposed One measure would give the resident of "scrap" land a prior right of purchase; another would define a navigable stream; a third would provide for trial of all title suits brought by the attorney general's department in the county of their origin instead of in Travis county district court; and the fourth would validate all surveys crossing streams legally navigable.

In urging relief Hamilton said that in 1908 J. A. Whittenburg, now wealthy through oil royalties, settled on a survey and filed for excess property. Five years later, Hamilton said, the application was denied by the land office with the ex-

Emergency Appropriations of State Colleges Given Approval by Senate

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Jan. 17.—The Senate and House devoted most of today to routine work, getting rid of a number of the less spectacular tasks facing them.

House committees were so choked with bills that no attempt was made to do much on the floor and that body adjourned at the end of the morning call to allow a dozen committees to work on measures.

In the Senate four bills were passed and a number of the Governor's appointments were confirmed. The names of three directors of Texas A. and M. colleges, reported by the governor, were not submitted to a vote. It is understood there will be some debate.

At the inquest yesterday, a verdict declared Miss Haskew came to death from administration of a sedative, combined with lack of water in her system. Testimony at the inquest showed Miss Haskew and five other girls had been put on a bread and water diet Friday when they were re-captured after having fled the institution.

"Pushing his way through attorneys and witnesses in another case Frank reached the judge's bench.

"Joe," said Frank, "won't be here today. He's busy—"

"Are you an attorney?" interrupted the court.

"No," said Frank, with some asperity, "I'm just Joe's brother and I came to tell you—"

"Sit down and await your turn," ordered the judge.

"Aw, go button your nose," he blurted angrily.

The contempt jail sentence was thirty days.

Demand for Walker Spreads To Dozen Southwest Cities

Colorado Officer to Arrive For Men Today; Extradition Papers Signed; Is Wanted At Childhood

(By Associated Press) DENVER, Jan. 17.—Officers in a dozen southwestern cities speculated today on how many bank robberies and killings may finally be laid on members of the Ace Pendleton gang, two of whom are under arrest in Buffalo, N. Y., facing the trail back to their haunts.

At least five states are clamoring for "Whitney" Walker one of the pair, alleged leader of five who shot up the First National bank of Lamar, Colo., on May 23, 1928, killing four men and escaping with $71,000 in cash and bonds.

Second prisoner, Fred Nave, is not believed to have been involved in the spectacular Lamar robbery but is wanted in Texas and Oklahoma.

Harper Goes To Buffalo. P. D. Harper, chief of police in Colorado Springs, instrumental in bringing about the arrest of Walker, is expected in Buffalo tomorrow. He hopes to bring him back to Colorado for trial on charges of murder and highway robbery, although Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas and New Mexico, also have made known that Walker is wanted there for bank robberies.

Authorities here believe that altogether eight murders may be See BANDITS, Page 12

Oil Company Sues State for Damages

Assistant Attorney General Characterizes Suit As "Trivial"; Claim Attempt To Destroy Company

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Jan. 17.—Assistant Attorney General R. M. Tilley tonight characterized as "trivial" a damage suit for $1,300,000 filed in federal court by the Golden Rod Oil company today. The suit names Tilley, Secretary of State Jane McCallum and her two assistants, R. J. Randolph and John W. Martin, as defendants.

It alleges that the defendants conspired to harass and drive the Golden Rod company, a Delaware corporation, out of Texas because of the dislike of the defendants for C. D. Neff of Dallas, vice president of the company.

Starts Over Tax The trouble started, according to papers in the suit, over collection of a franchise tax.

The plaintiffs allege the tax was based on the total capital of the firm and not on that portion of the capital employed in Texas. As a result of this disagreement, the attorney general's office, represented by Tilley, brought suit against the defendants.

Season Finds Many West Texas Towns Planning Program

Election and Banquets In Section Feature Activities; Aviation Is Given Big Place In Work

(Special To The Avalanche) STAMFORD, Jan. 17.—This is the season of chamber of commerce elections, and, incidentally, banquets. A great number of the three hundred towns being served by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce have been sending in reports of their year's activities to the regional organization, and to the newspapers of their immediate vicinity, and of the state.

Chamber of Commerce presidents, directors, and secretaries from the South Plains section gathered at Lubbock, Tuesday 15, for the semi-annual meeting of the South Plains Commercial Executives association. The subjects of most vital interest to that section were discussed, including the matter of building airports to further the cause of aviation, city planning, fair exhibits, community building, agricultural progress, and chamber of commerce work.

Aviation Gets Attention Aviation is being given considerable attention by the Coleman chamber of commerce which decided at their meeting to send Sim O'Neal and Karl E. Wallace as representatives to Fort Worth to attend the two days flying school conducted by the Texas Air Transport Co., Inc., on the 14 and 15. The purpose of their going was to ascertain the plans and purposes of the organization and to get ideas on the establishing of a local airport.

The Pecos Chamber of Commerce banquet was held in the Mint Cafe in that town, and was featured by the making of several resolutions. The proposed Stirling Road, Bond Plan, the proposed division of the 70th Judicial District, and the jail road improvement were some of the major resolutions.

Not all of the chambers have held their banquets, and annual meetings at this time. That San Angelo's Board of City Development annual banquet will be held January 22 has been announced by Claude C. Wild, Manager. Walter D. Cline, oil operator from Wichita Falls will be one of the principal speakers. Representatives from all neighboring chambers of commerce are expected to be present and a large number of guests are expected.

TO FORM DEBATE TEAM

The debate team is to be formed soon from five college men who are practicing daily on the subject, resolved: that a parliamentary form of government is superior to a presidential form of government. The first debate is scheduled to be with West Texas State Teachers college here on February 5. On February 17, T. C. U. will debate Tech and this debate is to be held here also.

Sidney Knowles, H. Y. Price, Jr., Wilburn Edelman, Hal Lary, and J. W. Jackson are working for the try-out. They are planning to visit schools in the neighboring vicinity and there debate with each other. This same question is the one selected by the Texas Interscholastic league for the debate of the year.

STUDENT SELLS INSURANCE

The many varied occupations which students of Tech have engaged in to pay their expenses through school have been the subject of endless treaties, and the body of innumerable speeches. There is however, a certain amount of originality in the occupation of H. C. Knott. There was apparently no job available for Knott and he found his own job by deciding to sell fire insurance, and is making a success of it.

PRESS CLUB ORGANIZED

UNIQUE RACE PLANNED

An unusual race is to be conducted in the early spring preparatory to track season. The race is to be around Tech campus, and may be made in cars, on bicycles, horses, or on foot. One of the conditions is that the person entering the race must continue all the way in the manner which he started. More details will be announced later.

TECH PHOTOS DISPLAYED

Tech is receiving favorable publicity through picture layouts which are appearing in current magazines and newspapers. The Texas Outlook, which has a circulation of over 25,000 had a double-page of views of the college and the Houston Chronicle for last Sunday devoted one full page in the art graveur section to scenes of campus buildings.

ARTISTS TO APPEAR

Alberto Salvi, the premier harpist of the world, and Laura Townsend McCoy, who has been an understudy of the famous Madame Schumann-Heink, and a leading soprano soloist of America, will appear as second numbers of the Tech Artist course. At Peace, "Bloody Williamson" Takes Stock Of Gang Wars; Inside Story May Now Be Disclosed

The Charley Birger gang of southern Illinois at the height of its power. Birger, atop the car, was captured for murder. Three of the gang, including Art Newman (left inset) and Freddie Wooten (right inset), escaped death punishment for murder by promising to help solve 27 killings.

MARION, Ill., Jan. 17. (AP)—Southern Illinois, battleground of 27 killings in Birger gang wars, finally has tossed aside its armor for a post-war inventory.

The inside story of "Bloody Williamson" county's liquor strife, which raged at pistol points for more than three years, now may be disclosed. Three former followers of Charley Birger, one-time overlord of Little Egypt's gangland, have escaped death on a murder charge for their promises to "tell it all." They are Art Newman, Leslie Simpson and Freddie Wooten.

Began Five Years Ago

Five years ago the feuds began Illinois' coal belt and became over-run with liquor traffic, jointly controlled by Birger and the Shelton brothers. Into the bootleggers' haven came the Ku Klux Klan, intent on stamping out gambling and vice. The Birger and Shelton forces, previously arch enemies, became comrades in arms to drive out Klan interference.

Pitched battles left Williamson county terror-stricken and the gangsters victorious. S. Glenn Young, "two-gun reformer" of the Klansmen, was among several killed. With the Klan routed, the Birger and Shelton armies drew swords to resume their liquor war.

Many Names Given

Race riots, the Vendetti and the Herrin "massacre" had given "Bloody Williamson" its name. It was a new era of lawlessness, however, that dawned on the mine country in 1924. For months the Birger band and the Shelton gang spat blood in what was called the most deadly civil feud in Illinois history. Birger's forest citadel, Shady Rest, was almost impregnable. Barbed wire and armed guards surrounded it as Birger directed his battles. Murders became almost everyday affairs. Every weapon of modern warfare except poison gas was used. Airplane bombs eventually blew up Shady Rest, killing four persons. Never has a witness to this attack been found.

TO LET CONTRACT SOON

Contract for furnishing Lubbock county with a set of books, to be used by the newly employed county auditor, J. Y. Boyd, will be let in the near future, Mr. Boyd announced yesterday, as several bids have already been received on them.

Records of the county are now being kept on individual sheets Mr. Boyd to transfer these to the books, when secured.

Three Brothers Jailed

The three Shelton brothers, whose power had menaced Birger's, were forced to withdraw from the combat when they were jailed for a $15,000 mail robbery near East St. Louis. A year ago Lory L. Price, highway patrolman, and his wife were slain because they "knew too much" about the bombing of Shady Rest. Three Birger gangsters pleaded guilty to killing Mrs. Price. Life sentences were imposed when they agreed to tell hitherto unknown facts of Williamson county gangland.

Swine Breeders Of Section Gather In Annual Meet Soon

LAMESA To Entertain Hog Men of Panhandle-Plains Association, January 22 and 23

(Special To The Avalanche)

LAMESA, Jan. 17.—The Panhandle and Plains Swine Breeders association will meet here 22 and 23 of this month and large exhibits are expected.

Plans were completed here Tuesday of this week with the officials of the organization and the local Chamber of Commerce for both arrangements and entertainment of this show.

According to plans E. R. Yates chairman of the agricultural department of the chamber has provided housing, pens and a committee for receiving all swine that are sent here either by truck or express. Yates says that he expects all hogs to arrive not later than Tuesday morning. C. E. Cameron, chairman of the entertainment department will prepare a big banquet for all who attend this show.

Dawson County Is Host.

All visitors will be guests of the local chamber members and Dawson County Swine Breeders, to be hosts. Among outstanding breeders that will make this show are the Lillard farms, the Technological college, breeders of Tulsa and Canyon and many others. According to officials of the organization this will afford hog fanciers over the section and in West Texas an opportunity to buy at small cost the very best breeds. W. W. Evans, county agent of Dawson county will be in direct charge of the show and sale so far as receiving and checking out all hogs that are sent here.

Q. A. & P. Offers New Train Time

Offering a railway schedule from two or three days quicker than is now afforded from St. Louis and Kansas City to Lubbock, the "Red Raven," Frisco and Quannah, Acme and Pacific train will begin time-card operation January 20. It was announced here yesterday by W. L. Richardson, general traffic and transportation agent of the Q. A. and P.

Leaving St. Louis at 11:35 o'clock in the morning, this train reaches Kansas City at 7:45 the same evening and arrives in Lubbock at 3:30 o'clock the third day, giving three day delivery from St. Louis as compared to five and six day delivery now. The "Red Raven" makes direct connection at Quannah with the Denver train which comes on into Lubbock.

The "Red Raven" has been operated as an extra for the past month, and the popularity of its operation has justified the announcement of the regular schedule.

Mexican Convict Is Captured Here

Luis Gloria, Mexican, is being held in the county jail here pending arrival of officers from the state penitentiary at Huntsville, where he is to be returned to finish out a five year prison sentence for burglary. He is said to have escaped from the penitentiary in May of last year and was recently arrested here by the sheriff's department on an assault charge.

Through finger print records, Lubbock county officers learned of the Mexican's prison record and Wednesday he is said to have admitted escaping from the penitentiary. Following a wire from here to authorities at Huntsville, information came that officers were being sent for the prisoner.

How to Achieve Beauty

BY MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

Personally, I don't like serpens. But I can appreciate the ease with which a serpent moves. I envy the privilege it enjoys of shedding its skin, but I still cherish a private repulsion for serpents. That, however, is a personal commentary on the species and has nothing to do with my evolution exercises.

Rolling seems to me to be the most practical and satisfying of all the exercise routines, since it accomplishes more with less effort than anything else I know of. Naturally, I cannot help but realize what an inducement this is to the busy woman—and in this day and age—aren't we all busy?

Rolling is really a most interesting and beneficial exercise, and it has another special advantage, the ability to remove superfluous flesh. Seriously, it is one of the best possible reducing exercises imaginable. It both invigorates and improves the circulation of all the parts that come in contact with the earth. The entire weight of the body is placed at different times on different parts of the body—frequently unused parts, which is one element of great advantage. As a matter of fact, rolling constitutes a splendid massage.

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton
©1928 by NEA Service, Inc.

Are your children getting enough milk?
Because, if they are not, in time it will tell on their general health; every tissue in the body composing vital organs, muscles and membranes, teeth, and bones will suffer.
Milk is absolutely necessary to the diet of little children and every sacrifice should be made to get it as long as they are growing. Even after baby is "off his bottle," he should be given milk to supplement his other food to the amount of one quart a day.
This does not mean that he must drink one quart a day—only part of it. The rest can be put into cooked foods, for cooked milk does not lose its nutritive value.
Better Not to Boil Milk
But I shouldn't boil milk any more than necessary in making cocoa or milk soups. Prepare the other part and cook as much as necessary, then add it to the milk that has been brought to a scald only.
Sometimes mothers think that skim milk is useless and waste it. What a mistake! It is rich in all sorts of things that children need. All it lacks is butter fat, and this can be supplied by butter. For instance if you use skim milk over toast or cereal or crackers, spread a little butter on first. Never waste an ounce of skim milk.
Families that cannot afford whole milk could buy skim milk cheaply and supply the fats in the children's food by butter, butter substitutes, or inexpensive vegetable oils of which there are many wholesome ones on the market; never by fried food, however. Never, never, give a child any fried food.
Milk won't fight with fruit that is not too acid. If a child takes orange juice, it won't hurt him to have milk on his cereal.
"Ware of This Combination!"
But I wouldn't give a little child milk or cream on strawberries in the summer.
Milk can be served on any stewed fruit.
Milk can be cooked in a cereal or served on it, or both. It can be used in puddings, soups, "gravies," custards, cocoa, or made into simple white, sauce and cooked with vegetables. There are dozens of ways of using it.
But be sure to allow a child

plain milk to drink, either with his meals, or in between or at bed time.
It should always be sipped—never gulped, and never served very cold. It should be sweet and clean and kept covered.
I have been asked if condensed milk is all right. Yes, it is, when necessary, also evaporated, or even powdered milk—but make every effort to get fresh milk first, particularly for drinking.

New Ideas In Shoes Seen At Style Show In Boston

By LUCY CLAIRE

Fashion Expert for Central Press and The Avalanche

The seventh annual shoe show, held recently in Boston, brought out some new ideas, not only in shoes, but in the costumes which went with them. Black kid, which reached the peak of its glory when it was awarded first place in the semi-annual leather show in December, was again in evidence. Styles for street wear were about evenly divided between one-strap and step-in models, with a goodly number of oxfords, while for afternoon and evening the pumps and the one straps had it with a few sandals.

In colors the range was in shades of brown and beige ranging from sunburn beige to Lido sand, with some blues and greens, and a few reds. White kid shoes were shown in all white and with trimmings of bright color and pastels, the latter being in the high style class. White kid with black or brown trim and beige with brown trim were shown in the sports class, including patterns in oxfords and strap models with side or center buckle or button.

A few of the highlights of fashion details are shown in the center of the sketch. Now that the tuck-in blouse is coming back into favor, it brings the collar with it. This may be either notched, or the flat collar of the low-cut V with dog's ear ends. Like that shown at the top center of the sketch. One must acknowledge that after so many seasons of collarless blouses, the collar is something of a novelty. Another novelty that is coming into vogue is the below the shoulder decoration. That shown in the sketch has dropped to the arm in a little mound of flat taffeta roses arranged in crescent shape.

With the return of a colorful season we see the Roman stripe coming back. The third figure in the sketch shows a simple evening dress enhanced by a wide Roman stripe sash of taffeta, expressing the continued accent on the slender silhouette. Still another revival now among the high-lights in details is the bolero. But it is not the jacket bolero of other days. It swings out from the blouse in boxy lines with uninterrupted back and front that serve to make the waist line look slimmer. This bolero is especially graceful in soft, clingy fabric like chiffon, and much worn with the princess silhouette frock so fast gaining favor.

Begin with five-minute periods, and gradually increase the time until you are deriving both enjoyment and benefit from your exercise.

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton
OF 28 by NEA Service, Inc.

Are your children getting enough milk? Because, if they are not, in time it will tell on their general health; every tissue in the body composing vital organs, muscles and membranes, teeth, and bones will suffer.

Milk is absolutely necessary to the diet of little children and every sacrifice should be made to get it as long as they are growing. Even after baby is "off his bottle," he should be given milk to supplement his other food to the amount of one quart a day.

Better Not to Boil Milk
This does not mean that he must drink one quart a day—only part of it. The rest can be put into cooked foods, for cooked milk does not lose its nutritive value.

Sometimes mothers think that skim milk is useless and waste it. What a mistake. It is rich in all sorts of things that children need. All it lacks is butter fat, and this can be supplied by butter. For instance if you use skim milk over toast or cereal or crackers, spread a little butter on first. Never waste an ounce of skim milk.

Families that cannot afford whole milk could buy skim milk cheaply and supply the fats in the children's food by butter, butter substitutes, or inexpensive vegetable oils of which there are many wholesome ones on the market; never by fried food, however. Never, never, give a child any fried food.

Milk won't fight with fruit that is not too acid. If a child takes orange juice, it won't hurt him to have milk on his cereal.

Ware of This Combination!
But I wouldn't give a little child milk or cream on strawberries in the summer.

Milk can be served on any stewed fruit.

Milk can be cooked in a cereal or served on it, or both. It can be used in puddings, soups, "graves," custards, coconuts, or made into simple white, sauce and cooked with vegetables. There are dozens of ways of using it.
But be sure to allow a child

plain milk to drink, either with his meals, or in between, or at bed time.
It should always be sipped—never gulped, and never served very cold. It should be sweet and clean and kept covered.

I have been asked if condensed milk is all right. Yes, it is, when necessary, also evaporated, or even powdered milk—but make every effort to get fresh milk first, particularly for drinking.

The Woman's Day

At first thought it may seem rather queer for a second wife to pay the alimony to a first wife, as the singer, Irene Pavloska, did, guaranteeing the wife of Dr. Maurice Mesirov $15 weekly alimony, and proceeding to marry the doctor herself. And yet why the wonder? Women are certainly demonstrating these days, the humbleness as well as prima donnas, that they will go to most any lengths to achieve matrimony.

Some woman in New Jersey swapped her husband for a nice house the other day, too. The name has escaped me, for she was not a grand opera diva. Here's a funny quirk, though; one guarantees alimony to get a husband and the other is only too glad to swap a husband for the alimony or a home. "Far pastures look green."

THE MAMA JOB
Two small children, aged 2 and 4, were locked in the kitchen by their mother while she ran down on an errand to her sister-in-law's home four doors away. When the mother came home the house was ablaze and the children were found charred to death.

The woman is near death prostrated with grief and remorse and, no doubt, censure not only from herself but from her husband. These aren't the first children maimed or killed because mama went away. But what's the answer? Why blame women workers in a system which gives them only constant day and night responsibility and no time off?

THESE MARRIED WOMEN
Twice as many married women work in the United States today as in 1890. The increase is due to necessity, according to Miss Mary Anderson of the Women's Bureau. She repeats the opinion of most economists and sociologists.

"ONLY THING THAT EVER HELPED ME"

Amarillo Man Had Suffered For Six Years And Spent Hundreds Of Dollars—Orgatone Brings Relief

"I found Orgatone after I had suffered for six years and it was the first thing that gave me relief from my troubles," said M. I. Huddleston, a few days ago in telling of his restoration to health. Mr. Huddleston, who lives at 1309 E. Sixth St., is an employee of the Amarillo Gas Company and is well known in Amarillo.

"Yes," continued Mr. Huddleston, "I suffered for six years with a combination of stomach trouble, constipation, indigestion and general run-down condition and you can just imagine how all those troubles simply made life miserable for me. I felt weak and worn out all the time and the bloating and gas spells bothered me so bad I could hardly ever get a good night's sleep. It just seemed as if I couldn't digest anything, even the lightest kinds of food would sour on my stomach and form gas until I would bloat up and my heart would flutter and make me short of breath. I lost my appetite and hardly ever even felt like going to the table and naturally, going without food as much as I did I failed to get enough nourishment to keep up my strength. I had constipation might had too and it just simply worried me awfully all the time. I tried every kind of treatment and medicine that I had ever heard of and spent hundreds of dollars right here in Amarillo for same and nothing seemed to be of any use or do the least little bit of good.

"After reading a good deal about Orgatone in the papers and hearing what people were saying everywhere about the good it had done for them, I finally decided to give Orgatone a trial and that certainly was the luckiest thing I ever did for myself. I have never taken or even heard of any medicine that would give you results so quickly. I have used three bottles in all and I now feel better in every way. I rest well at night and I don't suffer at all from nervousness. I digest my food ever so much better, every thing seems to agree with me and those spells of having gas on my stomach are a thing of the past. Constipation don't bother me any now and I feel ever so much stronger and better. Orgatone certainly is the best medicine that I know anything about and I am always glad to say anything I can in its favor and I take great pleasure in giving you this statement so that others may learn of the benefits I have derived from it."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called secret or patent remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowers Drug Store under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative who is meeting the public daily. adv.

Teachers Trample On Wholesalers By Score Of 30-24

Lubbock High School Cagers Facing Six Basketball Games Within Next Week

Pedagogues Pile Up Commanding Lead In Early Periods To Set Back Axtell Basketeers In Rough and Tumble Tilt

George Brown Runs Wild to Score 17 Points for The Winners; Wyley Leads The Losers In Scoring

The lusty-lunged Teachers of the City Basketball League battled their way to a 30 to 24 decision over the Wholesalers last night at the high school gymnasium in a rough and tumble affair with Morgan and Brown doing their stuff in true pedagogical fashion.

The fast charging and heavy blocking of the Pedagogues proved to be the deciding factor of the contest. Assuming the offensive at the outset of the game, George Brown's crew ran roughshod over the Wholesalers during the first half. Liston, Brown and Morgan led the first half assault which carried the winners to a 22 to 8 lead at the close of the first half.

Brown sank seven field goals and made three free throws for a total of 17 points to lead both teams in scoring. He was followed by Wyley, 10 points. Watkins, Brown and Delaney played leading parts in the scoring for the losers.

National Guard and Business college, the two leading teams in the league will meet tonight. The Army team are coded an outside chance to overtake the college team with a win tonight which would deadlock the two teams for the leadership.

The box score:

Wholesalers	F.G.	F.T.	Pts.
Watkins, f.	2	1	5
Brown, f.	2	0	4
Wyley, c.	5	0	10

Girls Game Slow
Business College girls trounced Montgomery-Ward 26 to 13 in the opening game of the night with a deluge of field goals tossed from close range. Scoring 15 points, Ellison carried off high point honors of the contest. Her running-mate, Mathews, registered 10 points for second honors.

Simmons lead the losers in scoring with 7 points while Polk of the same team ran her a close second with six. The game was marred by slow action through the four quarters.

Initiation Held For Horned Frogs

"T" Association of T. C. U. Holds Initiation for 11 Members of Grid Team Who Earn Letters

FORT WORTH, Jan. 17.—The annual "T" association initiation at Texas Christian University was held the first part of the week with eleven men who earned football letters last fall being the chief participants. The "T" association is the varsity athletic organization, with membership limited to those men who have earned varsity letters on the athletic teams.

The initiation, which lasts throughout the day with a general meeting at night, is one of the high points in the school year, with the Frog student body having the opportunity to see their heroes dressed as various personages, including the roles of flapper, Indian and youngsters. The new members are at the mercy of the old men throughout the day, and the halls and class rooms echo with more than extemporaneous speeches and off-tone songs.

Many prominent members of the Frog grid squad were initiated the first part of the week. The list included Austin Griffith, crack full-back; Cyrus Leland, half; Phil Handler, guard; Ivor Reid, guard; Noble Atkins, center; Robert Moore, tackle; Howard Baxter, end; Bob Alexander, end; Clyde Roberson, end; Othol Martin, end; and Harry Ackers, half.

May Bring Nurmi To Texas Relays

AUSTIN, Jan. 17. (AP)—Working with Southern Methodist university managers of the annual Texas Relays, to be held here March 29, are endeavoring to bring some of the most brilliant track and field performers in the country to Texas for the relay team.

Strolling Down Sports Lane

With Allan Carney, Avalanche Sports Editor

Two distinct styles of baseball training will be seen when the Texas League clubs begin limbering up the old soubane next month. The veteran, Jake Atz of Fort Worth, announces several weeks ago that he was counting on quality and not quantity in developing the 1928 Panther machine. The Cat's roster will be limited to 24 men. Whereas, Wichita Falls already has 33 hopefuls on the list to report and will likely have 50 when training starts.

The Fort Worth Manager is gathering a group of seasoned performers and wants the number limited in order that he can teach the newcomers his style of play before the season opens in April. Spudder owners sell their most promising players each season and are forced to develop new stars from the recruits coming on. Members of last year's Abilene club will be wearing Wichita Falls uniforms next season. This will likely mean a step toward the big show for some of these former Aces.

Football Awards Held Up Until Mid-Term Exams Were Over; Honorees Are Also Given Sweaters

T. C. U. is still without a head football coach. After much advanced publicity, "Bo" McMillan, former Centre college star and at present football mentor for the Kansas Aggies, made the trip from Manhattan to Dallas and went back with the same job he had before he journeyed south. McMillan is under contract to remain at Kansas State for another two years, but nevertheless was considering the post vacated by Matty Bell seriously. It is generally understood that Bo made a tentative offer but it is unlikely that he will leave the Kansas institution. After McMillan had gone, Frog athletic authorities announced that they would be in Fort Worth next Monday to confer with another prospective successor to Bell.

Looks a great deal like the T. C. U. officials are not willing to pay the price to get the sort of coach the school should have. Bo McMillan undoubtedly wanted to move to Fort Worth where his daughter now lives and where he started his football career. He made the long trip from Manhattan, Kan., to Dallas to see about the position, stating openly that he was seriously considering the T. C. U. post. Since no reason was given out following the conference just why McMillan wasn't hired, we can only wonder and wait another week for the next victim.

One of the greatest basketball teams in the state will be seen in action in this week-end and the first of next. Coach Jimmy Kitts of Athens stops off at Ralls Saturday night to meet the undefeated Jackrabbits and on Monday night the 1927 state champions will engage up with the Lubbock quintet in the Tech gymnasium. The Hornets are back in Ralls again on Tuesday night for their final appearance in this immediate section.

Coach Del Morgan is pushing his basketeers at a fast clip this week in preparation for their engagement with the East Texans. In their last two games the Westerners have shown a decided improvement over their early season form and should be going great by next Monday night. Peel and Moody appear to be the best bets for the forward positions on the high school team. In practice this week these two sharpshooters have been going like a house afire, and if the team-work is up to standard when the Westerners meet Athens, the locals will have a splendid chance to turn back the invaders.

Army Teams Win On Thursday Card

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 17. (AP)—Eight corps area headquarters and fifth cavalry from Fort Clark were winners of today's doubleheader in low goal events of the sixth annual southwestern midwinter polo tournament here.

WANTS TO WIN 18 GAMES

Walter Miller, member of the Cleveland pitching staff, says he expects to win at least 18 games this summer for his owners.

Going to Ohio?

Don Miller, one of the famous Four Horsemen of Notre Dame and later the backfield coach at Georgia Tech, is expected to be named coach of the ball carriers at Ohio State University. Miller was given credit for the great Georgia Tech backs, Mizell, Thomson and Lumpkins, who starred on the national championship team this year.

Lamesa Gridsters Awarded Letters

(Special to The Avalanche) LAMESA, Jan. 17.—Football sweaters were awarded to 27 members of the 1928 Lamesa High school football squad and those closely connected with the team at a meeting of school officials following the completion of the mid-term examinations this week.

National Tourney Goes Into Finals

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Jan. 17. (AP)—The elimination game, Bob Winick, Jacksonville, defending champion, in the first match of the day providing the major upset, play in the national tourney of golf club champions went to semi-finals today.

Arthur Maury of St. Augustine defeated Winick on the 19th hole and then fell himself in quarter finals at the hands of 17 year old Jack Cattell, of Jacksonville, who won the qualifying medal yesterday.

Cattell today marched to the semi-finals with little effort. Tomorrow he faces Carl Dann, Jr., of Orlando. In the other bracket, the semi-final match finds Harold Webster, Toledo, Ohio, pitted against Albert Hakes, Dunkirk, New York.

Mrs. Hurd Leads In Women Tourney

EDGEWATER PARK, Miss., Jan. 17. (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, former American and British champion, advanced to semi-finals of the Pan-American Women's golf tournament here today by defeating Mrs. Jack Vilas, Hot Springs, Ark., seven and six.

In the semi-finals tomorrow she will meet Mrs. Melvin Jones, Chicago veteran, who trounced Eva Mae Johnson, Chicago today, six and five.

Survivors of tomorrow's play will fight it out Saturday for the championship.

Tex Rickard Was Always Easy To Approach, Despite Position

Writer Recalls How Great Promoter Was Accessible To All Callers; Liked to Sit Around Office And Talk With a Bunch of "Fellers"

BY HENRY L. FARRELL, NEA Service Sports Editor
One of the most amazing things about the personality of Tex Rickard was his accessibility. There are clerks working in government jobs for less money a week than Rickard got for one of his big fight tickets who are harder to approach than he was on his busiest day.

It was hard to figure how the man did his business. It is true that he put in more hours around the Garden than any executive we have ever encountered. At all hours of the day and night, Saturday afternoons, Sundays and holidays, he was putting around the building or squatted on the chair in his office with one foot under another. And he seemed to be doing nothing but talking, talking to anyone who crashed the gate into his office or cornered him in one of the corridors.

He was almost a cliché to get into his office. Ralph, the courteous and polite man on the gate in the hall, would try to hold the crowd down to the size of a small mob, but just when he was winning a point that "the boss has got a lot of people in there." Tex had a way of appearing in the door and saying—"Wants me? Go in there with the fellers. I'll be in a minute."

He would allow the newspapermen to crash in on any kind of a conference and if he happened to be talking very private business he would usher his clients into another room and sit down and chew the fat with the boys as long as they wanted to stay. Or if the subject of the conference was not confidential he would say—"Go on and talk in front of these boys. They pester me anyway until I tell 'em everything."

The ease with which Rickard transacted his business was astonishing. There were never any clerks around his office. There weren't any books in sight. A scotch pad on the big bronze desk got plenty of work from a stubby pencil but one of those swell desk pens sets that someone had given him inations here when the porter cleaned up the quarters.

Miss Naomi Lewonchin, his personal secretary, gave his office an atmosphere of business when she was in, and she told him that Mr. Scando was on the phone and wanted to know if he could get that box for the hockey match.

"Yep, I guess so. Fix him up," he would direct and then go back to his subject with the boys on any subject from the diseases of suckling calves to the trick that was pulled when Dempsey was weighed in for the benefit of the skeptical scribbles before the Willard fight in Toledo.

Clean Play Wins Florida Handicap

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 17. (AP)—Racing was resumed today at Hialeah Park, the Miami Jockey Club's plant after a suspension of a year, with a system of "oral betting" replacing the pari-mutuel machines declared illegal under Florida laws during the 1927 meeting.

A crowd, estimated at 15,000, saw Clean Play, a 6 to 5 favorite, with G. Fields up, nose out Stanley in the $2,000 added inaugural handicap, a six furlong sprint that featured the opening card of the 51 day meet.

New York Golfer Halted By Chase

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 17. (AP)—Lee Chase, Buffalo, N. Y., halted the victorious three day march of J. B. Ryerson, Cooperstown, N. Y., in the Miami mid-winter amateur tournament today when he defeated Ryerson, 2-1, in the semi-final round of the tourney, to meet Harcourt Rice of Miami in finals.

Chase met Ryerson today after the latter had established a mark by leading the qualifiers on the first round, defeating Jimmy West, Atlanta, 1 up in 20 holes, on Tuesday and winning 2-1 from Ed Romfh, Miami, yesterday. Chase has defeated H. K. B. Davis, Greenwich, N. Y., 2-1, and L. McNeil, New York, 4-3, prior to today's play. Brice won his way to the finals after a hard battle with C. A. Roberts, also of Miami, 1 up at the 19th hole.

Locals to Play Quannah On High School Court Saturday Night; Five Are Set For Next Week

When the Lubbock high school basketball team meets the Quannah Indians on the high school court Saturday night, the cohorts of Del Morgan will be in for the toughest series of games they have faced in many moons. Coach Jim Bradford is bringing his Redskins to Lubbock for the first contest of a series of six games that will last throughout next week.

Beginning again on Monday night the Westerners will be in action each night next week with the exception of Wednesday and it is not unlikely that Coach Morgan will find an opponent for that night. The high school basketball mentor is anxious to take advantage of the absence of the Tech basketball team by using the college gymnasium where a much larger crowd can be accommodated. The Matadors will be in Abilene for a five-game series with A. C. C. Simmons and McMurry.

Meet Athens Monday. Coach Morgan's basket loopers will be put through the acid test Monday night when they tangle up with the Athens High School Hornets who are touring West Texas. Jimmy Kitts is bringing to Lubbock the sort of team that carried Athens to the state championship in 1927 and to the runner-up position last season.

Mid-week games include Crosbyton and Abernathy quintets. Although the Westerners have defeated both this season, these teams boast fast-stepping aggregations. Crosbyton will be played on Tuesday night and Abernathy Thursday.

SO THINK WE

We think that the man who borrowed a car in Lockney and left town possibly did a very righteous thing, especially if he will return the car and stay gone himself.

We think there is nothing to be gained from people becoming ugly and mean with each other just because they do not do just what we want them to do.

We think Muleshoe people are going forward in a fine way. They are going to pave their streets.

We think that Broadway should be made a real white way, and Main and Thirteenth streets as far out as the business section goes.

We think the school board of the Lubbock Independent School District have some big problems to work out in the matter providing adequate facilities for taking care of the school now, and another year the need will be so great that it will become a real handicap to the management of the school.

We think one of the most convincing proofs of the wonderful developments of the South Plains is in the shipments of freight.

Contact is one of the most important words in the language. Contact is the basis of the best in education.

We think that possibly two can live as cheaply as one, but we have always noticed that they don't.

We think if Lubbock people will get together and talk this road bond question all over, and plan a system of roads that will be practical, and which the state department will cooperate with us in, and lay all of the matters on the table for a face to face discussion...

We think with the death of Col. Lee Bivens of Amarillo, yesterday that the Panhandle loses one of the foremost citizens, and a man who has done more for Amarillo than possibly any other individual.

We think if there were not more suckers now than there ever were it would be impossible to dispose of the greatly increased number of things that are sold to suckers.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

ASHTORETH ASBE, traveling alone to the West Indies, shares her cabin with MONA DE MUSSET, a mysterious Frenchwoman.

Monna, during a hysterical denunciation of JACK SMYTHE, has a hemorrhage of the lungs and tells Ashtoreth that she has not long to live.

Following the doctor's report that Monna is doomed, the captain sends for Ashtoreth. He tells her first that Monna is dying, and outlines the arrangements he has made to have her carried to Guadeloupe, her island home.

Monna appears to have been a colorful creature, and something of an enigma. The captain speaks of hearing of her in Paris, where she made a sensation.

Now GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXIII The doctor's unfringed demeanor had vanished. And he seemed curiously shaken.

They carried Monna's body ashore at Guadeloupe. Crowds lined the wharf. And there were many bars of big policemen to keep order.

With outfits of ten to fifteen men, guns, skinning knives, wagons and chucks, came out west for the buffalo range where they could be found in herds.

MY STAR All that I know Of a certain star Is, it can throw (Like the angled spar) Now a dart of red, Now a dart of blue, Till my friends have said They would fain see, too, My star that darts the red and the blue!

MY STAR Then it stops like a bird; like a flower, hangs furled; They must solace themselves with the Saturn above it. What matter to me if her star is a world? Mine has opened its soul to me; therefore I love it. -Robert Browning.

It was probably the most elaborate she had ever told. But she simply couldn't let Mr. Hart think they didn't know how to do things. Almost all moneyed people had such a respect for the conventions.

Mr. Hart looked very sympathetic.

"Why, I'm awfully sorry you were ill," he told her. "You're looking perfectly radiant now."

"Oh, I'm not," she protested. "I'm a perfect wreck. It's been the most dreadful voyage."

"Dreadful!" he exclaimed. "I'd have thought you'd find it delightful."

"Oh, the weather was lovely," she admitted. "And it was a nice boat, and everything like that. But I had the most terrible experiences. Honestly, I feel just like I'd lived a regular novel."

She played with her ice cream. Coconut ice cream, with coconut grated over it, and the milk of the fruit for a sauce.

"It's perfectly delicious — this tropical sundae," she remarked, politely.

"Don't change the subject," he begged. "Won't you tell me about those terrible experiences?"

"Why—" she hesitated. . . . People from the boat were coming down the street. She could see them through the open door. The Simpson sisters, and Mrs. Hatch, and Mr. and Mrs. Dunks. They had all disapproved of her highly. What if they came in the shop, and Mr. Hart, who would surely know their passengers off the boat, noticed that they did not speak to her?

"All right," she said. "I'll tell you! I hardly know how to begin — things moved so fast and furious."

"They always do on a boat," he remarked. "It's remarkable — events that, in the ordinary course of things would transpire over a period of years, all get crammed into a single voyage. Romance blossoms over night. And the most pugnacious people do the most tempestuous things. I suppose it's the moon, and the stars — and the long lazy days. They certainly have a way of undoing us — but I didn't mean to interrupt. Please tell me."

"Well," she said, "to begin with there was an Englishman named Jack Smythe. And there was the loveliest girl you ever saw named Mona de Misset. Mona roomed with me. And it seems this Mr. Smythe had met her somewhere before and made love to her and everything. He told me he was studying law at Harvard — but it seems he writes. Probably he goes to law school too — I don't know. Anyhow he published this book, and it was all about Mona. And, of course, she was perfectly furious.

"They had the most awful fight. And Mona had a hemorrhage."

Ashtoreth dropped her face in her hands, and shivered.

"Oh," she cried. "It was dreadful! Poor Mona had tuberculosis. She'd had it for years and years, and knew all about it. But you see, she was so brave, she wasn't a bit afraid to die. . . . There were tears in Ashtoreth's eyes.

Ashtoreth raised the jade ornament about her neck.

"She gave me this," she said. "And all these darling little bracelets . . . Oh, she was gorgeous, Mr. Hart."

Again Ashtoreth choked back the tears. . . . "It was so sad!" she whispered.

But Mr. Hart thought otherwise. "I think," he said, "it was rather glorious. Not the quarrel with Mr. Smythe — that was sordid, I suppose. One doesn't like to think of a woman quarreling. . . . What I meant was the way your gallant lady died. . . . I suppose you know that little verse of Edna St. Vincent Millay's — almost everybody does."

Ashtoreth shook her head.

"Oh, yes, you do," he insisted "about the candle."

"My candle burns at both ends, It will not last the night, But, ah my foes, and oh my friends It gives a lovely light."

Ashtoreth's eyes brightened.

"Why, that's just like Mona," she cried. "Because she did burn her candle at both ends. She knew she hadn't long to live, and yet she kept right on doing things. But Mona wasn't afraid of the dark."

He reached across, and patted her hands.

"Then let's not feel badly about Mona any more," he said, and his voice was very gentle. "Your lovely lady is beyond all hurt, and pain, and I think she would not want you to grieve for her."

The Simpsons had come in, and the Dunks, and Mrs. Hatch. They sat at a corner table, and drew some squashes up through straws. They saw Ashtoreth, but did not speak to her.

Ashtoreth spoke quietly.

"You see those people over there those skinny, horrid, women in the blue voile dresses, and that silly little man in golf trousers, with the two fat women. One of them is bow-legged. You'll see when she stands up."

Mr. Hart smiled.

"I gather somehow," he answered, "that you're not awfully fond of the quartet."

"I hate them," she told him calmly. "They're passengers, you know, and of course you've noticed that they didn't speak to me. . . . Well, nobody on that old boat speaks to me. They treat me just like the dirt under their feet. They think I'm not fit to look at. They—"

"Why, Ashtoreth!"

Mr. Hart looked alarmed.
