Weiss Trial Underway in New Orleans

Mail Fraud Charges Pushed by Officials On Prominent Group

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 6 (AP).—The government sought to show today in the Seymour Weiss mail fraud trial stock in the company which handled $75,000 in the alleged Louisiana State University swindle was issued to persons who did not receive stock.

Julius Szodanka, government witness, testified he never received 200 shares in the National Equipment company which were issued in his name.

The company was headed by Monte E. Hart, who, with Dr. James E. Smith, resigned president of the university, Weiss and two others, were charged with mail fraud.

French Reported to Have Advanced Into German Territory

PARIS, Sept. 6 (AP).—The French army tonight was reported to have advanced across the German frontier into the rich Saarland.

A brief army communication of "local advances" on the Maginot line was interpreted by military observers as meaning German territory had been penetrated.

It was also reported in Paris successful air raids had been carried out on Eschweiler and Stolberg, war supply centers in the Aachen district.

New Test Staked in Seminole Pool Of Gaines; Another at Total Depth

BY FRANK GARDNER.

Activity in the Seminole pool of central Gaines county headed today's oil developments as one new test was staked and another reached completion depth.

Osage Drilling Company, Inc. of Oklahoma has erected derrick for No. 1-A J. L. Tippet, 660 feet from the north, 1,980 from the east line of section 266, block G, W. T. R. R. survey. It is a west offset to Osage and Atlantic Refining Company No. 1 Tippet, producer in the northwest extension area of the pool.

Rig will be moved to No. 1-A Tippet, from Osage No. 1 Glenn Crain, in the northeast part of the pool. No. 1 Crain this morning was preparing to run tubing after bottoming hole at 5,301 feet in lime. It had drilled soft pay lime from 5,245 feet to total depth.

Ohio Oil Company, No. 1 Gibbs, north of the discovery area of the pool, logged showing of gas from 3,196 to 3,250 feet in the Yates sand zone and drilled ahead below 3,270 feet in anhydrite.

Opener of the Cedar Lake pool in northeastern Gaines, Standind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Jeanette B. Rayner, had hole full of oil after plugging back with lead wool to 4,770 feet. Tubing was re-run, and swabbing was started, with fluid having been lowered to with 2,300 feet of bottom at last reports. The well probably will be acidized if plugging back has successfully shut off a small amount of water. On last test while bottomed at 4,770 feet, it made 95 barrels of oil and 11 barrels of water in 11 hours, both swabbed and on air lift from the Yates zone.

Big North Cowden Oiler.

Near-record production was attained by another well on the east flank of the North Cowden pool of northern Ector, Texon Oil & Land Company No. 3-A Midland National Bank. It flowed 4,770 barrels of 35.1-gravity oil in 24 hours, with gas-oil ratio of 310-1, after acidizing with 4,000 gallons. Pay was entered at 4,292 feet, and hole is bottomed at 4,400.

In the northwest part of the pool, Standard Oil Company of Texas has completed No. 2 Cochran for flow of 745 barrels a day following shot with 360 quarts of nitro in pay zone between 4,120 and 4,202 feet, total depth. Oil is 34-gravity and gas-oil ratio is 2,000-1.

Alcoo Oil Company No. 3 O. B. Holt, also in the northwest section of the pool, has been staked 660 feet out of the northeast corner of the southwest quarter of section 15, block 43, township 1 north, T. & P. survey. A 4,500-foot rotary test, it is slated to start drilling immediately.

Fromme Pool Well Gauged.

In the new Fromme pool of northern Pecos, Cordova-Union Oil Corporation No. 2 fee has been gauged at natural flow of 80.88 barrels of 27.3-gravity oil per day, plus 20 percent water. Flow was through 5/8-inch choke on 2-inch tubing. The well topped pay at 1,670 and reached a total depth of 1,678 feet. Gas-oil ratio is 900-1.

Culbertson & Irwin, Inc. and W. H. Street No. 3 Fromme, in the same area, is drilling past 1,350 feet in lime. It logged slight show of gas at 750, more gas from 1,045-55, show of oil from 1,200-95, and another show of oil from 1,257-97.

Three miles west of the Pecos Valley pool of Pecos, Lloyd, Penn and Hargrave No. 1 Bonebrake is drilling at 1,425 feet in lime, with showing of gas encountered at 1,235-40 feet.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 M. J. Masterson, southwest offset to the discovery well in the Apco Ordovician pool of northern Pecos, swabbed 10 barrels of oil through 2 1/2-inch tubing in nine hours and continued swabbing. Total depth is 4,614 feet in dolomite, 18 feet in the Ellenberger, lower Ordovician.

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 9 Jasper County Realty Company, in the low-gravity area of the Pecos Valley pool, is preparing to shoot, bottomed at 1,686 feet in lime. It found show of oil in sand from 1,537-48, with slight increase from 1,668-72, and was estimated good for eight barrels a day natural.

Standard of Texas No. 2 University-Landrum, in the Taylor-Link pool of Pecos, pumped 165.50 barrels of 32-gravity oil on 24-hour test after acidizing pay lime from 1,477 to 1,632 feet, total depth, with 3,000 gallons.

Denver Tests Staked.

Five new wells were reported staked today in the Denver-Wasson pool of Yoakum-Gaines, four on the Yoakum county side and the other in Gaines.

Amon G. Carter announced location of No. 2-E A. L. Wasson, 2,200 feet from the north, 440 from the east line of section 51, block A X, public school land, Gaines county. It will be a 5,000-foot rotary test and is to start drilling Sept. 10.

American Neutrality Act Is Clamped Down by President

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP).—Upon instructions from President Roosevelt, a patrol of naval and coast guard vessels and airplanes was being established today to spot vessels of belligerents off the American coast.

It was announced the step was taken as a precautionary measure for informational purposes.

By RICHARD L. TURNER.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP).—With an historic stream of proclamations and significant but informal statements, President Roosevelt told the world of America's neutrality Tuesday, clamped down the neutrality act's tight embargo on arms shipments to the belligerents and disclosed that:

Gaps in the national defense are soon to be filled by increasing the personnel of the navy, now at only 85 per cent of peace time strength, and augmenting the defensive garrison at the Panama canal.

A flotilla of world war destroyers will be reconditioned and recommissioned to take up the dramatic task of patrolling American territorial waters, presumably to see that they do not become the scene of violations of neutral rights by belligerent warships.

Measures will be taken to combat propaganda aimed at American form of government, espousing communism, dictatorship and the like, and to prevent the United States from becoming a center for the gathering of information useful to the belligerents.

In all, there were three proclamations, the first, in accordance with international law, notifying the interested nations that America would be officially neutral, the second invoking the arms ban of the neutrality law, and the third dealing with protective measures at the Panama canal.

One thing he made as plain as day: That the embargo automatically supercedes any order or contracts for aircraft which American manufacturers may be filling for the nations at war. There had been some confusion on that point, and the president was explicit.

He made it clear, too, that Germany's denial that a Nazi submarine was in the Atlantic was a lie.

Propaganda Leaflets Showered on Germans From British Planes

LONDON, Sept. 6 (AP).—British warplanes laid down another barrage of propaganda leaflets over Germany Tuesday, and the British fleet sent another German freighter to the bottom.

The ministry of information disclosed that a second flight of British planes was made over German territory to tell the German people that the war is not against them but against their Nazi leadership. Not a single German plane tried to interfere, the British said.

The planes flew last night over the Ruhr district, known for its coal and iron mines and heavy industries.

It was stated here that the German ship Carl Fritzen had been sunk and its crew safe. Previously the sinking Sunday of the German ship Olinda off the coast of Uruguay was reported, both vessels going down under the guns of British cruisers.

The temper of the dominions was strikingly shown in South Africa when the South African assembly tabled a neutrality motion by Gen. J. B. M. Hertzog, prime minister, forcing his resignation.

Gen. Jan Christian Smuts of world war fame, minister of justice and deputy prime minister, began formation of a new government which it was reported would declare martial law.

Hertzog's motion was defeated 90 to 57 and Smuts' substitute program calling for severance of relations with Germany and continued cooperation with Britain was approved by the same division.

POLES RETREAT BEFORE NAZIS

WARSAW, Sept. 6 (AP).—The situation in Warsaw grew more ominous today with expectation in some quarters German troops would arrive before nightfall.

The Poles plan to defend the city beyond the city limits to the best of their ability. It was generally expected there would be a bitter battle.

No retreating Polish soldiers have yet been seen in Warsaw. A communique said Germans had reached a point 35 miles north of Warsaw.

"On the southwestern front our army is holding back overwhelming numbers of the enemy," the communique said.

How to Pronounce Names in the News

With most of the news of the day coming from foreign nations, most of the readers of daily newspapers find themselves "stumped" to pronounce names of towns that occur frequently in stories.

The following names have been most prominently mentioned lately and their English pronunciation is given:

CZESTOCHOWA, town in Poland with sacred shrine—Chess-to-HO-wa.

KATOWICE, town under attack—Kah-to-VEE-see.

LODZ, important Polish city—Law-Z.

MLAWA, Polish City—M-LAW-wah.

GDYNIA, Polish port opposite Danzig—G'DEEN-yuh.

WESTERPLATTE, peninsula opposite Danzig—VES-ter-PLAHT-tuh.

SILESIA, Polish district—Sigh-LEE-see-ah (English pronunciation).

DANZIG, the causus belli—Dahn-tisich, with the final "ch" as if you were clearing your throat.

POZNAN, Polish province—Poz-NAHN.

MAGINOT, name of French fortified line—Mah-zhee-no.

SIEGFRIED, name of German fortified line—Zee-g-freeed.

WILHELMSHAFFEN, German seaport—VILL-helms-HAH-fen.

Warsaw and about 60 miles east of the German-Polish border.

Official reports said German troops are pressing rapidly toward Warsaw. They announced the capture of Kielce, 100 miles south of Warsaw, and within 50 miles of Sandomierz, seat of the Polish army.

The capture of tens of thousands of prisoners and much war material was reported.

As the Germans were smashing their way across Polish soil in pursuit of a "quick victory," France pounded away at the Reich's Siegfried line on the German western front, Britain quickened the pace of her worldwide naval operations against German shipping.

The British ministry of information said three German ships had been destroyed, and an air raid on the German fleet near the Kiel canal Monday had proved more successful than was first reported. In the first report Britain claimed two German battleships were damaged, though the Germans countered with denials and with assertions of damage to the raiding planes.

Britain admitted, however, that "several" British merchant ships had been attacked or sunk by German submarines.

How We've Changed!

There came in today's mail a pamphlet boosting the candidacy for president of Paul V. McNutt. Unwittingly, it illustrated the great change that has come over the United States and its relation to the world during the past 80 years.

The pamphlet designates McNutt as "Lawyer—Educator—Statesman—Trained in Leadership and Government—Experienced in World Affairs."

H'm! "Experienced in World Affairs." Those would have been fighting words back in 1910, practically enough to insure the defeat of any candidate to whom they were applied. If there was anyone our fathers didn't trust in politics during the bicycle and mustache-cup era, it was somebody who was "experienced in world affairs."

But technology has dumped the world in our lap, and today everyone realizes that, whether it seems desirable or not, it is necessary that a presidential candidate be, if possible, informed and experienced in world affairs. For world affairs today, as the present crisis shows, are everybody's affairs.

• BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

By BRUCE CATTON

Reporter-Telegram

Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The Dies committee on un-American Activities is preparing what it hopes will be a knockout blow against the Communist party in America.

It hopes to prove conclusively—and it will start shortly after it gets through examining Earl Browder—that the party is in fact an organized, fully instructed agent in the United States of the Russian government.

Chairman Dies says the committee has in readiness at least 25 "high-ranking ex-party people." Through their sworn testimony the committee expects to demonstrate that the party comes under the law requiring foreign propaganda agents to register in this country with the Department of State.

"I think we'll get enough evidence to justify the government in taking them to strict accountability as a foreign espionage agency," Dies says.

"Since the Russian government joined hands with Hitler we've got a much better chance to get the government to help us. Previously I used to encounter a good deal of sympathy for Russia among people in key positions here, but those people are beginning to feel differ-ently now."

WANT BUND TO REGISTER

Chairman Dies and other members of the committee are convinced they will have little difficulty in proving their case. They expect to be able to present the same sort of proof in regard to the German-American Bund, which they say should also be compelled to register.

To date the Department of Justice is maintaining an air of interested inactivity in this matter. If definite proof can be dug up by the Dies committee, the department would move swiftly to force the party—or the Bund—to register. Refusal to obey the law would render leaders of an organization liable to fines of $1000 and prison terms of two years.

Committee members believe that if the Communist Party could be compelled to register it would be almost completely crippled as far as its activities in this country are concerned. They predict that such organizations as the American League for Peace and Democracy, which are not strictly Communist organizations but in whose activities the party has played a leading role, would draw completely away from the party; that the "united front" of leftist and labor groups which the party has worked to build up would collapse; and that the left-wing group in the government service would be unable any more to function.

HOW POLAND CAN WIN DEFENSIVE WAR

By GEORGE FIELDING ELIOT

NEA Service Staff Writer on Military Affairs.

LONDON, Sept. 6. (By Special Cable).—However stoutly the British and French support the Poles in the present warfare, it will take time for such aid to become effective.

The Germans hope, therefore, to put Poland completely out before the western powers can give much aid, and then attempt to negotiate peace with the Poles on the basis of the accomplished fact of Poland's destruction.

In this situation, the Polish object is to remain a going concern until western help begins to be felt by the Germans. For this purpose, the Poles must keep their army as intact as possible. They must not take undue risks with their rather limited force of fully equipped troops. They must take no chance of having a large part of this undoubtedly fine army cut off in such isolated positions as the Corridor.

The Polish defensive plan has, of course, been carefully made in advance. It does not include any desperate attempt to hold the Corridor itself, for this would risk pinning off many Polish troops between German Pomerania and East Prussia.

Instead of this, the Poles intend to leave only a few rear guards in the Corridor area. They have mined every road and railway bridge in the Corridor, and the army will undoubtedly fall back to prepared positions farther in the rear.

This retreating action, however, has the disadvantage of enabling the Germans to announce early successes, which their propaganda department will greatly magnify. These early announcements, such as are now coming through, should not be given undue significance.

CHIEF GERMAN DRIVE AIMED AT SOUTHWEST

GERMANY'S main and most dangerous attack is a drive against the southwestern area of Poland, with Katowice the first objective and Cracow the subsequent objective.

The frontal attack from Breslau toward Katowice appears to be taking place on the basis of early reports. This will probably be supported by an attack of two columns from Slovakia, directed respectively on Katowice and Cracow.

The German object in these drives is to retain the mining and industrial region of Upper Silesia, which was lost to Germany in the last war. Eventually the Germans will seize the Galician oil fields.

The advance toward Cracow might, if successful, develop into a further attack on the new Polish industrial triangle south of Warsaw.

All this southwestern region, Polish resistance may be expected to be stronger than in the defense of the Corridor.

Katowice is in the heart of a congested industrial region, and it may be difficult to defend because of the character of this district and its nearness to the frontier.

The development of a German offensive against Dzialdowa on the southern frontier of East Prussia, only about 80 miles from Warsaw, may mark the initiation of a German attempt to rush a highly mobile force with a spearhead of mechanized troops, toward Warsaw.

Air bombings of many Polish cities, including the capital, appear on the basis of early press reports to have been confined to military objectives, as the Germans claim. Great injury to Polish communications and industrial resources may thus be inflicted, but on the whole Poland does not present many attractive targets for bombers.

Poland will therefore not be defeated until her army is decisively beaten and to a large extent destroyed—which will be difficult, indeed, in a country cut up by woods and lakes, devoid of good roads, and defended by tough peasant soldiers under incredible hardships in their daily lives. These peasant soldiers are well trained in the use of arms.

and are capable commanded by excellent officers.

POLAND NOT HELPLESS IN AIR WARFARE.

MASS bombing attacks on Polish cities may draw retaliation, as Poland is by no means helpless in the air, though her air force is outnumbered four or five to one.

It is probable that much of the initial German air effort has been against Polish aerodromes in order to minimize the possibility of Polish air reprisals against German centers.

One great Polish disadvantage, which is only partially offset by bad communications, but which will hamper the invaders, is that western Poland offers no good natural defensive position short of the Vistula.

This means that the Polish defense must be a mobile defense, evading pitched battles, seeking to delay and harass the invader to protect her vital industrial centers as much as possible. Along with this, the Poles must, of course, try to inflict every possible loss upon the invaders.

When I left Poland on Aug. 17, there was yet no intimations of the Russo-German pact, Anglo-French military conversations were proceeding in Moscow, but the Polish official attitude was that they expected little help from Russia, save perhaps in a supply of raw materials, and even there they felt that the available lines of communication might make difficult any dependable deliveries.

The Poles were firmly set against the use of Russian troops on Polish soil, although admitting the desirability of a certain amount of Russian air re-enforcement. Far more important, in their minds, appears what might be termed the "moral security" afforded by having a friendly Russia at their back.

MORALE DEPENDS ON BRITAIN, FRANCE.

WHAT effect this loss of moral security may have on the Polish morale is difficult to estimate but it is probable that it will not be very great if it becomes immediately apparent to the Poles that they are being supported by Britain and France without reservation or stint.

In judging the early reports of operations, it must be borne in mind that the Poles have 30 reserve divisions, as well as the 30 active divisions of first-line troops.

These active divisions are excellently equipped, and supported by 14 brigades of cavalry, trained not in the spectacular mounted charges of ancient days, but trained to fight on foot with modern weapons.

Of the 30 reserve divisions, about half or from 80 to 90 per cent equipped, the others somewhat less so.

In conclusion, it must be borne in mind that even if the Poles lose half their country to the Germans and are driven back to the Vistula they still have the fighting courage that enabled them to drive out the Russians in 1920, when over half of their country was lost to the invaders.

Texas Today

By the Associated Press.

The hazard of the rod hangs over mischievous or disobedient Toms, Dicks, Harrys, Betty Lous and Mary Janes who answer the bells of neighborhood schools within the next few days, notwithstanding Texas school officials have virtually discarded physical punishment. But the teacher who chooses may, under Texas law, wield the gag, switch or strap to punish school pupils for violation of rules or discipline. A survey of the statutes by J. D. King of Ennis discloses, King's study was made while preparing for a graduate degree at Southern Methodist University.

Texas courts base their opinions relative to corporal punishment in the public schools upon "the law of lawful violence." Article 1142 of the Texas Penal Code contains a provision that "violence used to the person does not amount to an assault or battery . . . in the case of the teacher over the scholar. Where violence is permitted to effect a lawful purpose, only that degree of force must be used which is necessary to effect such purpose."

King's investigation showed that in numerous cases the courts have upheld the teacher's right to punish the child.

One case brought out that if the punishment caused injuries due to some unusual condition of the skin of the child the teacher would not be chargeable if he were unaware of the condition. In 1913 a teacher in Llano county whipped a child and the punishment resulted in red and swollen places upon the legs of the student. As the punishment had not been excessive or malicious the teacher was acquitted, and the parents of the pupil filed charges against him.

In 1924 a case was reviewed before the Court of Criminal Appeals in which a teacher in Hale county had whipped a child with a board. Although the child was bruised, he was not severely injured and there was no evidence the teacher was angry or the punishment malicious. The court held that the teacher had been given the authority to punish pupils for disobedience, school rules and regulations and the punishment inflicted was not excessive.

Reviewing a case from Navarro county, the Court of Criminal Appeals ruled that a teacher could not be punished for severely whipping a boy who had a reputation for disobedience. Prior to the punishment the pupil had refused to write on a topic assigned by the teacher and when ordered to go home had at-traffic, Midland's heaviest each year. There seemed to be a sane desire for order on the part of the public, with only a few exceptions.

There seems to have been a mix-up over at Odessa on ownership of the automobile given as an attendance prize Monday night. But that should be a private matter, not one for the rodeo officials or the chamber of commerce, as the car was given to the one who had the correct ticket, as advertised.

Newspapers, under the law, are not allowed to advertise or print information about drawings in which a lucky number decides the winner. The system comes under the lottery laws and, as such, is not to go through the mails. However, such drawings are conducted by fairs, civic organizations and, I've heard, ladies' aids, on some occasions. Whether it be an automobile or a quilt, the system is the same.

There is no doubt, however, that attendance at any function is heavily stimulated when some grand prize awaits one of the crowd.

tacked the teacher with a board.

The courts have ruled that the teacher's authority to punish is not restricted to the school building if the offense is disturbing to the general discipline of the school. A case from DeWitt county concerned a pupil who several times had refused to work his arithmetic problems at home. When the teacher started whipping the boy, the pupil attacked the instructor with a knife. The court ruled that the teacher was administering punishment under the authority of the law and the child could not plead self-defense.

In a case from Burnet county where the pupil was whipped for fighting on the way home, the court decided the teacher may punish for misconduct which occurs while the pupil is going to and from home provided the acts of the pupil are injurious to the conduct of the school.

Teachers who administer corporal punishment may not use their fists, according to court decisions rendered in a case in which a teacher had been killed by a pupil. Facts brought out were that the teacher had made a statement he was going to beat the pupil until his parents would not know him. In attempting to punish the pupil, the teacher grabbed the boy with one hand and drew back his other hand as if to strike the pupil. At this point the boy drew a pistol and shot the teacher. The ruling said the teacher was not authorized by law to use his fist, even though the pupil had conducted himself in such a way as to need discipline.

Unless the punishment given a child is moderate, the teacher may be punished for assault, King's investigation disclosed. In reviewing a case from Robertson county, the Court of Criminal Appeals ruled that attempting to punish a child until he is subdued is not moderate but excessive and that the teacher is guilty of assault. In this case the teacher had given the pupil sixty-three licks and as he still had not subdued him, he added three more.

Laws of Texas do not give the superintendent of schools authority to administer punishment unless he also is a teacher in the schools. The superintendent of an East Texas school, who did not teach, administered corporal punishment and the court ruled that a teacher is one who teaches and the superintendent, whose business is with the teachers and not the pupils, is not in loco parentis to the pupils.

A pupil who has been sent home for misconduct in the school violates Article 1514 of the Penal Code if he returns to school without permission and refuses to leave. The Penal Code further provides that it is an offense for a parent to cause or instigate his minor children to commit an offense against the state and a father who caused his son to return to school after his expulsion was found guilty.

Today the school official may not use the rod, but most of the pupils realize they have the legal authority to enforce discipline and as a result few students desire to test the power of the teacher.

James Walker and Miss Lily Freeman Are Married in Quiet Service Here

Simplicity marked the marriage ceremony which united Miss Lily Freeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Freeman of Booneville, Missouri, and James Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Walker, at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening at the Baptist pastor's home.

Rev. H. D. Bruce read the single ring service in the presence of members of the families of the young couple and a group of close friends.

The couple had no attendants. The bride wore a costume suit of sheer crepe designed with a black and white dress over which was worn a black topcoat. Her accessories were black and white and she wore a corsage of white gardenias. Mr. and Mrs. Walker left after the wedding for a short visit in Fort Worth and Dallas after which they will be at home here.

Mrs. Walker has lived in Midland for the past year, being with her aunt, Mrs. O. B. Holt. She has been employed by the Goldsmith Production Company. She is a graduate of the Booneville, Missouri, high school and attended Central College at Fayette, Missouri.

Mr. Walker is well-known here, having graduated from the Midland high school, where he was featured as a singer and was a member of the band and football team. He attended North Texas State Agricultural College at Arlington and is now employed in the offices of the Humble Oil and Refining Company here.

Quality of Canned Meat Depends on The Meat Canned

"Canned meat can be no better than the meat canned." This is determined by the kind, degree of fatness, and age of animal slaughtered, explained Miss Alpha Lynn in a meat canning demonstration before the Valley View home demonstration club which met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. D. A. Ray. Mrs. Phelan Porter acted as hostess in the absence of Mrs. Ray.

With the aid of the club members, Miss Lynn prepared and canned several varieties of pork and beef. The recipes used were for sausage, Swiss steak, pork and beef roast, meat loaf, and vegetable stew. Characters were chosen for a three-act play to be presented by the club members in the near future. During the recreation period, a miscellaneous shower was given Mrs. Lois Lewis, the Lubbock delegate, and a blessed event shower to Mrs. M. Holder.

Refreshments were served to the following: Mmes. J. D. Bartlett, G. C. Brunson, Earl Fain, Lois Lewis, M. Holder, Edith Bizzell, Louis Stewart, E. L. Mason, Preston Vest, Phelan Porter, Jack Tidwell, Harvey Kiser, J. A. Robertson, D. M. Bizzell, Cleo Brown, Andy Brooks, Sherwood O'Neal, C. H. O'Neal, Miss Ora Robertson, Miss Alpha Lynn, and two visitors, Mrs. Edith Martin of Patricia and Mrs. Mable Dale.

FEMININE FANCIES

By Kathleen Eiland

Comment on the rodeo may seem outdated to some but since this column died aborning Tuesday, what with the opening of the school term calling us away from the office, we feel constrained to express our opinion.

Along with most of the audience Monday night, we enjoyed the calf-penning contest of the ten cowgirls who were eligible to try for the prize of the horse trailer. After all, if a girl is to wear the crown of the cowgirl queen, it is reasonable to require that she prove her efficiency in actual cowgirl work rather than merely make the choice on the basis of ability to sit nicely on a horse.

We hope some such contest as this will form the basis for cowgirl sponsor contests hereafter.

Scarcely has the rodeo crowd departed before groups begin to gather for the Baptist church association meeting to begin here today. And later this fall, the Business and Professional Women hold their district convention here, and so do the Federated Clubs. What other conventions the masculine element may have scheduled we don't know. But it does seem that Midland is in a fair way to earn the nickname of "convention city."

Despite the threat of war already rumbling in Europe, this winter promises to be a busy one socially for Midland women. We hope the promise is fulfilled. This reminds us to ask once more—if you have social news items (or other news items for that matter), please call Number 7 and give them to a reporter. A small staff makes it necessary for reporters to spend much time in the office and it is utterly impossible for staff members to learn of every party, every out-of-town visitor, or every honor earned by Midland students away at college without cooperation of those concerned. Give the paper a tip on news happenings. It will be appreciated.

It is September but there are still many days in the offing when feet caged in leather will grow uncomfortably warm. Which means that you may be interested in the fact that some shoes are now being shown which have linings with antiseptic properties. These act to prevent perspiration odors and to prevent deterioration of leather. A very good thing, we say, and one which should prove a buying point.

You sometimes suspect that he comes to you only to be "built up" by the Freda Yaborough, Ellen Potter, Ruth Pratt, Alma Heard, Mae-dee Roberts.

When he takes you to a party he is as likely as not to let you look after yourself if there is an attractive, new girl around.

An excellent way to dry a hairbrush is to place the handle in a stick glass or a jar and stand it near an open window.

Vegetables Trump Hand for Bridge Hostess at Party

BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer

Vegetables like to be invited to luncheon—even if only as snacks. Try spinach and cucumber timbales for your next bridge luncheon and your friends will call them trumps.

Spinach and Cucumber Timbales (Serves 4 to 6)

One pound spinach, 1-2 cucumber, 1 small onion, 1-2 teaspoon salt, pepper, 1 tablespoon butter, 1-4 cup milk, 1 egg.

Wash spinach in several waters. Drain, cook rapidly uncovered 5 to 8 minutes, adding no water. Cook chopped cucumber and onion in just enough water to cover, and drain. Drain spinach and chop finely, mix with cucumber, onion, salt, pepper, milk and beaten egg. Pack in buttered custard cups or hot water and bake 40 minutes in slow oven (325 degrees F.). If served with egg or mushroom sauce, spinach and cucumber timbales make an appetizing luncheon dish.

Here's a toast spread, hot and savory, made of corn and tomato catsup.

Texas Grain Fields Swept by Big Fire

FORT WORTH, (U.P.)—Days of the great prairie fires were recalled here when a smoky blaze was whipped by winds and burned 700 acres of dried-out oats and wheat fields nine miles west of the city. Women were conscripted to drive water trucks while men fought the flames in various ways. Several ranchers brought out trucks they maintained which carry hand pumps attached to water tanks.

Following the first threat, ranchers began plowing "strips" 10 to 12 feet wide through their fields as barricades to spread of possible future fires.

Fit Your Wardrobe To Your Way of Life Is Advice

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

"Prepare to see yourself as a new woman this autumn, but don't get so excited about bustles, basques, etcetera, that you forget the fundamentals of good dressing—fine quality, good lines, perfect fit and suitability to your way of life."

This is advice compiled from the opinions of seven outstanding fashion authorities—among them Miss Mary Lewis, vice-president of a smart Fifth Avenue shop; a well-known male designer of fine costume jewelry; and a creator of hats.

This is advice worth taking seriously, too—particularly the part about suitability to your way of life. A wardrobe composed entirely of bustle dresses would be as unsatisfactory for a business woman as one including only simple wool shirtwaisters would be for a socialite whose life is a round of parties.

To ascertain what you really need most, think a bit about the kind of life you lead. Is it one continuous calendar of luncheons, afternoon parties and evening bridge? Then, of course, more dressy day frocks than tailored street models, of course.

BUY CLOTHES FOR THE OCCASION

Do you work in an office? Then suits and more suits and a couple of basic dresses are the answer. One, or at the most two, dressy frocks for cocktails after work, dinners for two and Sunday should suffice. Put the bulk of your clothes allowance into the kind of clothes you have to wear most of the time.

If you live in the country, tweeds and other country-ish clothes should be your main concern. Probably one city-dressed outfit for shopping and lunch in town will do. Perhaps not. Anyway, consider the matter carefully before you get overly enthusiastic about too-too feminine, frothy clothes—just because they are so much in the news at the moment.

MONAHANS EXPECTS RECORD CROWD FOR GAME WITH THE BULLDOGS

Bulldogs Being Pushed Hard for Initial Battle

The Midland Bulldogs, in preparation for their game Saturday night in Monahans, are being pushed rapidly in training daily this week by coaches, Taylor, Myer and Moore.

The first serious injury cropped out this week when Paul Klatt, veteran guard, suffered a shoulder injury that is likely to keep him out of the first two games of the season. His injury is not believed serious enough to hamper his play over the regular season but coaches have agreed to withhold him from the early games in order to be sure he is ready when the tough conference grind starts.

The squad of 35 boys have been working out each afternoon this week at the old lake northwest of the football field. They will work out there again this afternoon, appear on the football field Thursday night and Friday night "skull practice" and light practice will be held at the field.

Tommy McMullan has been shoved into the forward wall to replace Klatt in the first game. McMullan lettered last year at a guard position and is expected to see quite a bit of service again this year.

The coaches are well satisfied with the way the boys have been appearing in their workouts. A backfield composed of four lettermen—Jay Francis, Dell Truelove, J. M. White, Temple Harris—has been clicking well behind the heaviest line the Bulldogs have boasted in several years. Big Mike Buffington appears to have captured one of the tackle positions and should prove a big help with his 185 pounds. Leland Foster, who can tip the scales at only 160 pounds, proved last year he could take care of his job.

The boys are confident they will win the Saturday night game with the Green Wave but are not overconfident, realizing Monahans will be far from a pushover.

Dirty-Faced Angels Conquer Hollywood

Two years ago six youngsters deserted the New York stage and came to Hollywood. At that time they were "boys from the original cast of the play Dead End."

Today, they're the "Dead End" Kids. Those three words conjure up the picture of a sextette of tough youngsters anywhere in the United States, nearly everywhere

MIDLAND AT PAMPA; BIG SPRING AT LUBBOCK TO OPEN PLAYOFFS

Cowboys Ranked as "Dark Horse" on Final Go-Around

What might be called the "semi-finals" of the West Texas-New Mexico League tournament get underway tonight with Midland in Pampa and Big Spring in Lubbock. The Lubbock Hubbers, 1938 champions, finished first over the full season's play but will be no better than an even chance to get by Big Spring in the first playoff series. The Barons captured 11 of the 20 games played with the Hubbers this year and are an even bet in the waning.

The Midland Cowboys, winners of third place in the league standings, loom as the "dark horse" of the final round-up. For the past month the Cowboys have set the pace in the league and they are considered to have an even chance to eliminate Pampa and meet the Big Spring-Lubbock winner in the final playoff games.

Some of the grandest games of the year should be witnessed tonight since every manager has announced the ace of his staff would be on the mound in an effort to capture the all-important first game. Playing only three out of five, the winners of the first games will immediately be installed as favorites.

The 40 cents admission price that was charged throughout the regular season will remain in effect in the playoffs at all sites. After two games in Pampa and Lubbock, the four teams in the playoffs will return to Midland and Big Spring to wind up the series.

Manager Sammy Hale of the Cowboys has announced he would start Stud Raines, ace of his staff, against the Oilers tonight. Manager Grover Setz today reported he would start either Grabek or Vannoy, both winners of 18 games this year, on the mound.

Manager Salty Parker has indicated he would start Lee Harris against Big Spring's Pat Patterson in their first game tonight.

In English-speaking countries, and in many other spots in the world, the "Dead End" boys are established firmly as stars.

But that picture has to be slightly revised now for the new films in which the Kids appear are presenting them in a much different light. Following "Angels With Dirty Faces" and "They Made Me a Criminal" is "Hell's Kitchen," the Warner Bros. melodrama opening Friday at the Yucca Theatre, in which the boys are themselves reformers. They reform an ex-gangster, make him so noble he sacrifices himself to the extent of taking an eight-year prison "trap" to pay his debt to society. In their next, "The Battle of City Hall," which goes before the cameras shortly, they reform a municipal government.

In "Hell's Kitchen," the object of their reformation is Stanley Fields, who plays one of the main roles. Ronald Reagan and Margaret Lindsay head the cast.

Baer's Way of Getting in Shape

Madeap Maxie Baer, the Livermore Larruper and former world's heavyweight champion, is getting in shape or at least close to it in this picture. Baer, who arrives in Lubbock this week to prepare for his ten-round fight on the night of September 18 at the Lubbock fair grounds against Babe Ritchie, is pictured showing a pretty bunch of Paramount picture girls how he intends to knock out Ritchie in the biggest prize fight yet staged in Texas. Ritchie is in hard training at Lubbock and Baer, who will arrive about Thursday, will immediately establish a training site at Buffalo Lakes, five miles from Lubbock. Ticket reservations should be made now with Lester "Pup" Thomas at 1011 Main street, Lubbock. It is the consensus that 20,000 people will witness the bout and pull for Ritchie in his grand opportunity to step into the flistic spotlight.

Starving Deer Are Raised by Rancher

JUNCTION, (AP). — Joe Gardner of Roosevelt, a leading sheep and goat breeder of this section, recently found twin fawns starving because their mother had abandoned them. He took them home and a young daughter, Bille Shannon Gardner, was given the job of raising them.

Fawns are quick to lose their fright of humans and the two expect a bottle of milk every time a member of the Gardner family comes near them.

A few other places in this section have reported finding young deer abandoned and in most instances the fawns are being raised by bottles.

Investment Funds on Increase in Banks

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Savings and investment funds in an unprecedented volume flowed into the 121 insured Texas savings and loan associations during July.

The Texas associations received $3,087,000 last month from savers and investors, which exceeded all previous monthly records, according to the report of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Little Rock. The figures for July 1938 showed an increase of a million dollars over those of July 1937.

The increases were general throughout Texas, the report stated, which included the figures of the Midland Federal Savings and Loan Association by which the local area is served. Savings and loan officials attributed the remarkable increase to better business conditions prevailing throughout the State, and the inclination of savers and investors to place their funds in local institutions having the protection of the Federal Government Insurance.

Home loans made by the Texas associations during July were $200,000 greater than for the same month a year ago totalling $1,963,000. The associations, in the past seven months have made 7,464 loans to Texans, totalling $15,000,000, approximately half of which was used in the construction of new homes. This was an increase of $3,000,000 in the lending value as compared with the same period in 1938.

Much additional new building is expected to be done during the coming Fall and Winter months. Officials stated that the associations have ample funds available for more home financing on the long time repayment plan which is proving to be so popular.

Parkers Leave 2nd Nickel.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP). — Overtime parkers have placed another responsibility on Atlantic City police. Since parking meters permit only an hour for a nickel, motorists leave an extra five cents on the seat of their automobiles, trusting that kindly cops will drop it in the meter when time's up. Bailey and Hookley counties is showing a wide range of yields—200 to 600 pounds of seed to the acre—which grainmen denote a "short" crop. More than 75 per cent of the commercial sudan seed is grown within a radius of 75 miles of Lubbock.

DeCorrevont to Learn A-B-C's on Wildcats' Bench

By NEA Service

EVANSTON.—Coach Lynn Waldorf says Bill DeCorrevont, Chicago preparatory phenomenon, did not learn fundamentals at Austin high school so he will spend most of his time on the Northwestern University bench this fall, learning the A-B-C's of football.

Wilson Rides Son Who Pitches in Baiting Practice

By NEA Service

CINCINNATI.—Observers say one of the funniest sights on the Cincinnati bench is to watch Jimmy Wilson, Reds' coach, ride his 16-year-old son Bob, who pitches in baiting practice. The youngster, big and still growing, travels with the team and hopes some day to make the grade in the majors.

Crowley Worries Over Tulane Game

By NEA Service

NEW YORK.—Jim Crowley already has picked the Tulane game, Oct. 14, as the one for which the Rams will do their greatest pointing.

"They're pretty well loaded this year," Crowley points out, "and I figure if we can get by them in that New Orleans heat we might manage to sneak through the rest of the schedule."

621 Class-B Teams Enter Texas Race

AUSTIN.—A steadily-mounting roster of high school football teams today topped by 18 last year's Interscholastic League entry record of 621 schoolboy squads and brought the addition of a new Class B district.

R. J. Kidd, athletics director of the University of Texas-sponsored league predicted that before a September 15 entry deadline the number of teams playing under interscholastic banners would increase "still further."

Comprising the new Class B loop will be the North Texas teams from Cranfills Gap, Glenrose, Ireddell, Kopperl, Meridian, Morgan and Walnut Springs.

Mr. Kidd warned high schools with entry blanks still outstanding, however, that the September 15 deadline will be strictly observed this year.

"Schools failing to file acceptance of league rulings before that date with offices here will be ruled ineligible for league competition," he declared.

Registration at Univ. Sept. 18

AUSTIN.—Even in the thick of winding up summer school, University of Texas authorities were today looking toward opening of the 1939-40 long session, fifty-sixth annual one, now only a few weeks ahead.

Two-day registration has been fixed for Tuesday and Wednesday, September 19-20. Registrar E. J. Matthews said, with classes starting on Thursday.

Preluding actual registration, freshmen and other new students will start a five-day "get-acquainted" on Saturday, September 16, with University officials and faculty as hosts to introduce them to the "ins and outs" of university life.

Autogiro Mail Pilot Says Winds Are Tricky

PHILADELPHIA (AP).—John Miller, who pilots the autogiro aerial plane between Camden, N. J., airport and the roof of the Philadelphia postoffice, feels that it's a good way to keep from growing old.

"I've made more than 100 landings on the roof," he said after the first month, "and no two of them are alike. We've got some breezes over city streets that beat anything ever learned in the book about winds."

The line is the first autogiro airmail service in the world.

Officials Puzzled Over County Lines

ALBANY, (AP). — As the Northwest Shackleford Palo Pinto line oil pool approaches the Shackleford-Jones county line map-makers and oil men are puzzled because three different county lines are shown on maps. Proctor K. Clarke, official surveyor of Shackleford county, says he does not know where the true line lies and J. H. Anet, surveyor of Jones county also says he does not know where it is, but thinks it lies along the section line a quarter of a mile west of the producing area.

The Shackleford county commissioners have furrows in their brows trying to figure out where the line actually is and the tax collector wonders who will benefit from the lease and production taxes levied by the state and county.

A similar situation exists in the Shotwell pool of southwest Shackleford in the Hamby area. Three lines have been surveyed and he one appears to know which is official. The supposed lines runs between two wells in the pool and it is a question as to whether Jones or Shackleford county will get the taxable values.

Tractor "Bulldozes" Orchard

SEBASTOPOL, Cal. (AP).—If Chas. MacCathay really wants to know what it takes to "mow them down," Ernest Giescott can tell him it is a tractor and bulldozer. Called upon to clean out an orchard that had required 10 years to go grow, he disposed of it in a few hours by pulling out trees at the rate of 165 per hour.

Clubs Will Meet Saturday Night In Season Opener

MONAHANS, Texas, Sept. 6. — This bustling oil field town today prepared to host to West Texas' gridiron thousands as the football season for this area is inaugurated Saturday night. A full week ahead of any other scheduled game, adjoining cities are expected to be well represented as the Monahans Green Wave and Midland's Bulldogs go together at 8:30 p. m. in High School Stadium.

School officials here predicted the largest crowd of the current campaign would click the turnstiles, basing their guesses on the receipts of last year's sneak preview with Colorado which was also played a week before any other team got underway. Season reserved tickets placed on sale here more than a month ago were almost gone Tuesday and the complete supply was expected to be depleted by today.

With a couple of new coaches aboard the Green Wave will hit the deck this year with their best material prospects in several seasons. Coaches Cundiff and Hanscom, however, see little hope of having their crew in top fettle for Saturday's game with only a week of preparation. A heavy and versatile backfield will line up against the opponents. Three regulars from last year's team, Ellis, Handlin and Hary and a 157 pound newcomer, Martin, will comprise the starting quartet. Hary is an exceptionally fine all-around back and Ellis may develop into one of the area's most brutal running backs. Hary is co-captain of the squad.

Co-captain Marion Harris at center and big Bill Andrews, 210 pound tackle, will lead the defensive Green. Andrews promises to be quite a noise. One wing and a guard constitute the question marks in the front line.

Bill Collyns, manager of the Midland chamber of commerce has said that a motorcade will accompany the Bulldogs here to set them off for their season's grind. Bands and pep squads of both teams will parade before the game and during the half.

Party Burglar Outwitted

ALHAMBRA, Cal. (AP). — Local bridge and other party participants have succeeded in outwitting the local "party" burglar who repeatedly had visited homes where parties were in progress and rifled the coats left in rear bedrooms. On the occasion of his latest raid all of the members of the party took the precaution of placing all their valuables in a cupboard in the hall.

WPA Rebuilds Historic Fort

PORT RECOVERY, O. (U.P.) — Ohio had a "Magnet line" almost 150 years before the French began building their famous bulwark of steel and cement.

This is what thousands of Sunday visitors and other travelers who drive here to see the WPA recreate the log stockade built by Gen. Anthony Wayne in 1793 are learning. When Arthur St. Clair was appointed the first governor of the Northwest Territory in 1791 the Indians were on the warpath. Cabins were being burned and the settlers killed or taken captive.

It was his idea to establish a chain of forts about 25 miles apart extending from the Ohio river to Lake Erie. He set out from Cincinnati in the fall of 1791 with an army of untrained, unruly recruits, many of whom deserted. He arrived at the site of Fort Recovery Nov. 3 with 1,400 men left.

Little Turtle Led Braves. During the night they were surprised by Indians under Little Turtle and two-thirds of them were killed or wounded.

At the national capital President Washington heard of the rout and ordered his Revolutionary War colleague Gen. Wayne to subdue the Indians. Wayne carefully drilled a specially selected army of 2,500 men, constructed several forts and met a force of 2,000 Indians under Little Turtle at Fallen Timbers where he won the battle which broke the back of the Indian power in the Northwest.

Some of Wayne's men were assigned to bury the bodies of the slain men of St. Clair. They gathered together 600 skulls and after burying them erected a fort. Reinforcements Saved Day.

Little Turtle was sent to wipe out this latest unit of the line of forts but a timely arrival of reinforcements under Major William McMahon saved the garrison.

In June of 1794 the Indians, reinforced with British soldiers, attacked Fort Recovery. But the besieged Americans, protected by the thick logs drove back the combined force to make good the name, "Fort Recovery."

At Fallen Timbers, Wayne built more forts and laid waste the Indian holdings, reducing the tribesmen to such a state they were glad to come to terms. The result was the treaty of Greenville, signed Aug. 3, 1795—144 years ago.

The WPA recreated the fortress after the site had been a village dump for nearly a century. In addition to the stockade, WPA workmen also restored a log cabin used by St. Clair on his arrival there in 1791 and constructed a modern library building. The St. Clair cabin serves as a museum.

ghussets State College is using a new method of marking trees and blazing trails on Mounts-Toby, experimental forest area of the college.

Developed by James D. Curtis, forestry instructor, the new method utilizes bamboo pegs, numbered or colored, for identification of trees and trails.

Curtis says the new method provides greater permanence than painted blazes. He also believes that there is less chance of markers being damaged by rodents.

Vari-shaped bamboo markers are used, some employing a round shaft with paddle-shaped end which bears the tree's identification number. Others are colored to serve as markers for the trails throughout the forest area.

Neutrality Act—

rine sank the British liner Athenia, with many Americans on board, is not yet accepted here. Investigations are being made, he said, with officials of the American diplomatic corps in England and Ireland questioning survivors and otherwise assembling information. It was plain that a diplomatic protest to the Hitler government was possible.

In addition, the president disclosed that one decision had been reached. American naval vessels will not be sent to convoy American passenger ships through the submarine zone. Instead, the ships will have American flags painted on hull, decks and superstructure, will keep to the usual shipping lanes, will not darken ship, will not follow a zig-zag course, and will make no secret of their schedules. Under such circumstances, he added, it would be highly difficult for a belligerent submarine to make a mistake.

In invoking the neutrality act, Mr. Roosevelt gave effect to a law which he is in outright disagreement. He wants the arms embargo removed, so that all belligerents will have access to American markets. In practice this would mean that Great Britain and her allies could buy here, and that Germany could not. The British fleet would see to that. The president has announced he will call a special session of congress to revise the law, but today he still left indefinite the date on which that would be done.

New Clothes Fever Hits College Girls

COLLEGE STATION. — A seasonal epidemic, the new clothes fever, is spreading in Texas as college girls become fall clothes conscious and smaller children get the back-to-school urge, according to a diagnosis announced by Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

"Mother and Dad feel they can't be left out, so all in all it means that clothes for the entire family have to be in readiness for fall and winter needs."

In answer to the perennial questions about what well-dressed women will be wearing this fall, black, as per usual, is the leading color, but it is brightened by gold jewelry. "Don't be disturbed if you can't wear black because there are plenty of other colors which you can wear—coral blue, tunic blue, harvest wine, deep amethyst, tourmaline, shades of plum, navy, green, and the new mossy green which is a gorgeous bronzy green," Mrs. Barnes says.

The most radical change is evident in coats. There is the new fitted coat with the modified shoulder or which is still broad but not exaggerated; however, the greatest differences is in the skirts. Fullness is used in a variety of ways, at the sides, in front, at the back, or all around in a rippling youthful flare.

Speaking of hats, Mrs. Barnes adds: "Style means wearing the thing becoming, something that does something for you, and this season you can purchase hats that are becoming whether it is a high or low crown, wide or narrow brim."

Potatoes Declared Not to Be Fattening

COLLEGE STATION. — An Irish potato, bugaboo of persons trying to lose weight, is no more fattening than a large apple, yet it provides the diet with valuable vitamins and minerals at low cost.

Nora Ellen Elliott, specialist in food preparation for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, the authority for this statement, also says many persons throw away dollars in health value because they peel potatoes instead of using the whole potato. Potatoes baked or boiled in their skins save money and health, since the part of greatest health value is nearest the skin, she explains.

Moisture absorbed during cooking is the primary cause of soggy potatoes. Steamed potatoes, the specialist says, absorb less moisture than boiled ones and therefore are meatier, though not as mealy as baked potatoes. Mature potatoes are recommended for baking purposes.

Food specialists consider potatoes the first vegetable to buy when a low-cost health food is to be bought, and they advise serving this economical food at least once a day.
