

Annual City-Wide Memorial Service Planned May 29

The annual County Memorial Service will be held in the Community Building on Sunday afternoon, May 29th, at 3:00 o'clock. It will be held under the direction of the V. F. W. Post No. 6439 in cooperation with the American Legion, the Kiwanis Club, the Rotary Club, and the churches.

Archie W. Gray, post chaplain of the V. F. W. and minister of the First Christian Church, will be the speaker and will have the charge of the program. Mr. Gray is well qualified to speak at such a service. He served for three years overseas in France, Belgium, and Germany with the Canadian Infantry in World War I, and took part in many of the major engagements of that war including the Somme, Vimy Ridge, Passchendaele, and Arras. He served as Chaplain in the U. S. Army for three and one-half years in World War II, and spent nine months on Iwo Jima in the Pacific, landing on the island while our Marines were still fighting to secure it. He was one of the chaplains that conducted the first Memorial Service in the 5th Marine Cemetery on Iwo Jima on May 30, 1945, where thousands of gallant young men were buried. Out of his rich experiences and associations with many branches of our service men, he will bring a message that will be well worth hearing.

Mrs. Joyce Reiley, assisted by George Graham, will have charge of the music, and will conduct the chorus of singers selected from the churches of the community. Special music, appropriate for the occasion is being prepared, which will feature "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" arranged by Fred Waring.

All those who feel they have an obligation to the men who sacrificed their lives for liberty, are expected to attend this service.

Rains Damage Graves Severely

Volunteer Workers Needed at Cemetery

Heavy rains during the last week have put the Wellington Cemetery in bad condition, and the city is calling on all people having relatives buried there to help in putting it back in good condition. Jake Leach, speaking for the city, said Wednesday morning.

Following a check at that time, Mr. Leach said that many of the graves are sinking, from a few inches to three to four feet; a number of headstones have already fallen over, while others are leaning and will fall if struck by a heavy wind.

"The city is doing everything it can, but it simply can't take care of all the work," Mr. Leach said. He estimated that more than a

WELLINGTON HONOR GRADUATES

These four students have been designated as the honor graduates of Wellington high school for 1949. Miss Diane Wells, upper left, daughter of Deskins Wells, is valedictorian, while James Stevenson, right, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, is salutatorian. Next in rank is Lonnie Hollingsworth. Mrs. Jo Evelyn Godbey, lower right, was a student at Wellington only a year but was singled out for her excellent work during the time. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Hackler.

Red Cross Taking Aid To Amarillo Victims

Collingsworth countians wishing to make contributions to the victims of the tornado may do so through the Red Cross, Dick Wiley, county chairman, said Wednesday morning.

Contributions may be brought to Mr. Wiley at the First National Bank or to Miss Katherine Boverie at the county library. All funds collected for this work will be dispatched to Amarillo and earmarked for relief and rehabilitation of homeless and injured.

The Red Cross went into action Sunday night, as soon as the storm struck, giving emergency aid to victims.

So far as can be learned here, no former local residents or relatives of local residents were injured or suffered heavy loss in the storm, although numbers of these live in the south part of Amarillo, where the tornado struck.

Among those who were closest were Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Hardin, who were only a block from the section suffering the heaviest damage, her mother, Mrs. Buck McKinney, reported to The Leader.

Most Wellington families having relatives in the area were able to hear from them by phone or radio broadcasts Sun. night or Mon.

Rockets Take Baseball Title For District

Wellington High School's athletic department added another district championship trophy to the collection in the trophy case last week end as the Skyrockets won the district 2A championship in baseball.

Winning the championship involved two phases in baseball play, the winning of the majority of regular conference games followed by the victory in the district tournament. Coach Jimmy Batchelor's team handled both assignments successfully.

The regular district season title went to the Skyrockets for their record of five wins and one defeat. A 5-4 defeat of Shamrock last Friday followed by a 9-8 triumph over McLean Saturday cinched the championship for the Skyrockets.

Not only did the Skyrockets win the privilege of representing district 2A in the Region 1-A baseball play offs, but the team won five berths on the district all-star team. Orville Copeland was named all-star pitcher, Lindell Norman, catcher, Dale Hively, first baseman; Walter O'Neil, right field; and Boone Eads, left field.

Shamrock put up a stubborn fight before going down to the Skyrockets last Friday in the first game of the baseball tournament for the Wellington team. A two-run bid in the last inning by the Irish nearly tied up the game. Wellington's runs came with one in the second, one in the third, two in the fourth and one in the fifth. During this game Eads and Norman led the hitting with each collecting a triple. Burl Brim and Gene Moore handled the pitching duties for the game.

Six runs collected in the bottom of the eighth inning by the Skyrockets in the game with McLean Saturday night, won the ball game for the Wellington nine. A long double by Rogers Melton tipped off the lid for the Skyrockets rally. Pitching for the Skyrockets was Bobby McCutchen who turned in a brilliant performance which sent seventeen McLean batters down swinging. Most of McLean's runs were unearned for the Rockets badly felt the absence of the regular catcher, Norman.

Only conference defeat in regular season play was handed to the Skyrockets in their final district game on Tuesday, May 10. The Tigers from McLean came to Marian Airpark with determination in their manner and handed the Skyrockets a 7-4 trouncing.

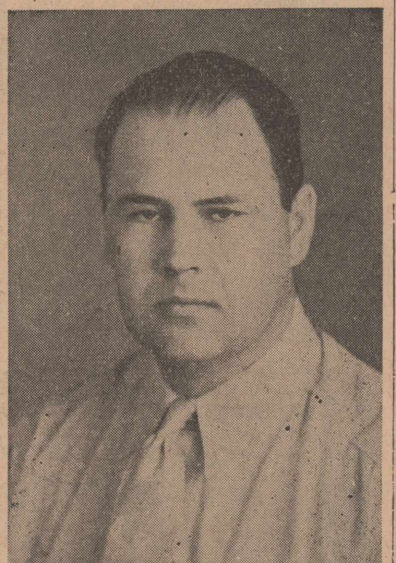

McLean started the scoring in this game collecting three runs in the first inning. They stacked up four more with two in the third when L. M. Watson homered to score one, and two in the fifth.

The Skyrockets got seven hits but scored only four with two in the second and two in the third. Eads knocked a triple for the longest hit by the Wellington nine.

Heavy Rains Wash Out Cotton and Feed, Damage Wheat and Alfalfa

Heavy rains, falling throughout the Collingsworth County area during the last week, have washed out covered up thousands of acres of newly-planted cotton and feed, knocked down some wheat, is beginning to damage the first alfalfa hay crop, both that standing in the field and that which has been cut, and has washed good soil from many fertile fields in the area. Several buildings were flooded in Wellington Tuesday night, May 17.

On the other hand, much of the rain has fallen gently, and is putting moisture deep in the subsoil. Right now, though, sunshine is needed, for the ground is saturated and water that otherwise would soak in is running off.

Five inches of rain has been officially recorded at Wellington since Friday, May 13. Some areas have reported much more, and as is usual with rains this time of year, the amount of moisture from each rain varies widely over the county.

The heaviest rain for the period for Wellington came Tuesday, May 17, when 2.78 inches was recorded by J. M. Strong, who has the government rain gauge. Of this, 1.44 inches fell late Tuesday night, and water ran through the buildings on the east side of West Avenue from the Alley behind the City Grocery north to 7th Street. Charles Allen, manager of the Wellington Motor and Tractor Company, estimated about $500 damage to supplies and equipment. Workmen were busy Wednesday morning drying off machinery parts and cleaning up the building.

E. M. Strickland, who operates the Army Store, said that water ran in the front of that building and out the back. Water also went through the Railway Express.

Only building to escape flooding was the City Shoe Shop, operated by Frank Hajek, which has a raised floor.

Rain in Wellington during the period was: Friday, .98 inch; Sunday, from 4 to 8:00 a.m., .3; Monday, 6:30 a.m., .22; and Tuesday and Tuesday night, 2.78 inch.

Tom Crabtree reported heavy rains around Quail, and even heavier in the extreme west part of the county. Noah Cunningham said that two inches of rain was recorded about 11:00 a.m.; another two inches about 3:00 p.m., and more rain Tuesday night. He said that approximately 10 bridges are out along the school bus routes, and that it is impossible to pick up all school children.

"We will come as close to the children as we can, and we ask the cooperation of the parents in getting those whom we cannot reach with the bus to school," he declared. About 30 per cent of the children were out of school Wednesday.

Hail was reported Tuesday afternoon at Salt Fork, Lillie, Swearingen, and Bray. As in other parts of the county, crops planted in this western part of the county are ruined.

Corn and peas, however, that had been planted in the Quail area, were all right Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Crabtree said.

D. M. O'Brian, who also lives at Quail, said seven inches of rain fell at his place Tuesday.

T. E. Lennon, superintendent of the Dodson school, said 4 inches of rain was recorded there Tuesday and Tuesday night, and that his barometer was still down.

The Dodson area experienced some hard wind that changed directions several times, leading many to believe they were of cyclonic nature.

All children of the Dodson school were sent to cellars.

"We don't have one at school, but we sent them to four or five around the school, and the boys

Determine Number of First Grade Teachers

Six-Year-Olds Visit School on Tuesday

Children who will start to school in September for the first time will get a preview of school Tuesday, May 24.

Supt. E. L. Pritchett is asking the parents of these children to bring them to the elementary school, where the first grade teachers will take charge of them. The children will get acquainted with the teachers, and will learn a few of the ways of real school.

Mr. Pritchett said also that the school administrators hoped to see how many first graders to expect next year and to apportion the number of teachers for this group accordingly. Because the school had no idea how large its first grade would be this year, the teachers of these beginning students have been overcrowded, he pointed out.

Regular first graders will not attend on Tuesday, the day the little visitors come.

Cemetery Working May 30 at Arlie

By BETHINE ADKINS
A cemetery working will be held at the Arlie cemetery Memorial Day, May 30, G. W. Adkins and E. V. McClendon, sponsors of this project, announced this week.

Working will be in two shifts, the first from 8:30 to 12:00; the second from 1:30 to 6:00 p.m.

All people who have relatives and friends resting here are invited to come and help with the work. Walkways will be laid off and lots marked.

"This cemetery is in a lovely location, but has been neglected for years. It is one of the oldest cemeteries in this part of the country, established in 1888, on a tract of land donated by Levi Lawrence. Let's all come and help make this a fitting place to honor the deceased," Mr. Adkins said.

Dodson Cemetery Clean-up Planned

By Correspondent
The Dodson Civic Club is sponsoring a Clean-up Day at the Dodson cemetery on May 25.

"We especially urge everyone that has an interest in the cemetery to be there and help, and let's respect our dead by having a clean cemetery on Memorial Day," the members said.

A small grader will be secured to clean the alleys.

J. E. Roberts Takes First Vacation in Seventeen Years

J. E. Roberts, Fort Worth and Denver agent in Wellington, is getting ready for his first vacation in 17 years, his second in 30.

He and Mrs. Roberts will leave Thursday, May 19, for Chicago, to visit their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Cloice Roberts and their twin sons.

The last vacation, 17 years ago, was to California. One of the reasons that Mr. Roberts has stayed on the job so closely in recent years is the scarcity relief help in the company to take over jobs while regular agents are on vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts will return June 1. During the time they are away, Mrs. Roberts is closing her beauty shop.

EDITORIAL COMMENT — THE WELLINGTON LEADER
Thursday, May 19, 1949"Soil and Souls" Sunday A Time for Thought

"Soil and Souls" Sunday will be observed throughout the State Sunday, May 22, followed by Soil Conservation Week. With the growing awareness of the relation of the soil on which men live and the quality of their lives, the Texas State Soil Conservation Board, officials of Texas A & M College, and pastors of churches throughout the state. Among these will be the pastors of Collingsworth County.

Dr. Ide P. Trotter, director of the Extension Service, speaking before the Annual Rural Church Conference, has this to say about man's stewardship of the soil, which will be the theme of many sermons Sunday.

"I would emphasize the fact that God gave us the soil to use. The soil is, in my thinking, God's means of supporting all life on earth. There is no other means whereby life can be maintained other than through some direct or indirect use of the soil that He has given us. He has placed in us a trust, that we use the soil efficiently, effectively, and permanently. We are not only charged by God to use the soil effectively, but should we misuse the soil in any unnecessary manner, we are responsible to God. I think that I can very readily say that we are mocking God if we misuse the soil."

In observing May 22 as "Soil and Souls" Sunday, an ancient tradition of the Church is being followed. This date falls on Rogation Sunday, the fifth Sunday after Easter. In centuries past, it was customary at this time to ask God's blessings upon the fruits of the earth. While its people may have been lacking somewhat in knowledge of rebuilding and conserving the soil, the Church these many years ago was well aware of the everlasting truth that there is a connection between souls of men and the soil they tilled.

Again, in keeping with "Soils and Souls Day," Dr. Trotter commented:

"I think we can say to our rural people with all the strength of our souls that literally nothing has ever succeeded over a long period of time on a poor and worn-out soil. That means that in your community as well as in other parts of the world, you and your church, the welfare of your people and your community is irrevocably tied to the fertility and productivity of the soil for which we have a responsibility."

Rural Carriers Want Better Mailboxes

A Collingsworth County mail carrier recently handed The Wellington Leader a copy of The National Rural Letter Carrier, official magazine of rural mail carriers, urging the improvement of rural mail boxes. He added that there are many mail boxes over this county that need improving.

To the man who must deliver your mail six days a week, every week of the year, the condition of the mail box and its availability from his car are a matter of importance. Excellent service is rendered, year in and year out, in cold weather and hot, and is easy to take for granted.

There is no rural carrier who does not appreciate the patron who sets his box up at a convenient height, on a sturdy standard, and keeps it in good repair to protect the mail, with his name plainly printed on the box.

On this latter point, there is considerable to be said. All carriers of the area know the patrons and whose box is where, but even so, a box bearing the name of its owner is an added convenience. It is a convenience, too, to those who pass along the road, particularly those who may be hunting a resident of a community. To see a box neatly painted and labeled, in front of the farmstead gate where possible, gives somewhat a feeling of civic pride.

Rural mail patrons are getting busy these days, but a little time, a little paint, a hammer and a few nails, will bring no end of appreciation from the mail carriers who serve you.

OTHER EDITORS SAY:—More Jerseys Coming To Hall County

Another car load of the finest blooded registered Jerseys to be found anywhere will arrive within a few days in Hall County from the Dominion of Canada.

This is another installment of the intensive campaign to make Hall County a real dairy county.

County Agent W. B. Hooser and Manager Clifford Farmer of the Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development are two individuals devoting much time to this most worthy enterprise.

Mr. Farmer is not only an outstanding civic developer, but he is a real dairyman himself. He owns a fine registered Jersey herd in Missouri which his son operates, and on which he has spent many years of his life and much of his capital. It is one of the most successful dairies in the state.

County Agent W. B. Hooser has made the study and promotion of the dairy and fine stock breeding industry one of his major projects ever since he has been the county farm agent in Hall County. Indeed, he and Mr. Farmer are a perfect team for this type of development.

The bringing in from Canada of this fine strain of registered Jersey cattle is of statewide significance, since it sets an example of the most effective kind of dairy development possible, and has attracted wide attention throughout the Southwest toward Hall County.

The plan used is definitely not of the usual promotional variety. Mr. Hooser and Mr. Farmer, together with the farmers and business men cooperating with them, go directly into the Jersey country in Canada and buy the cattle, outright, and personally select every animal that is purchased.

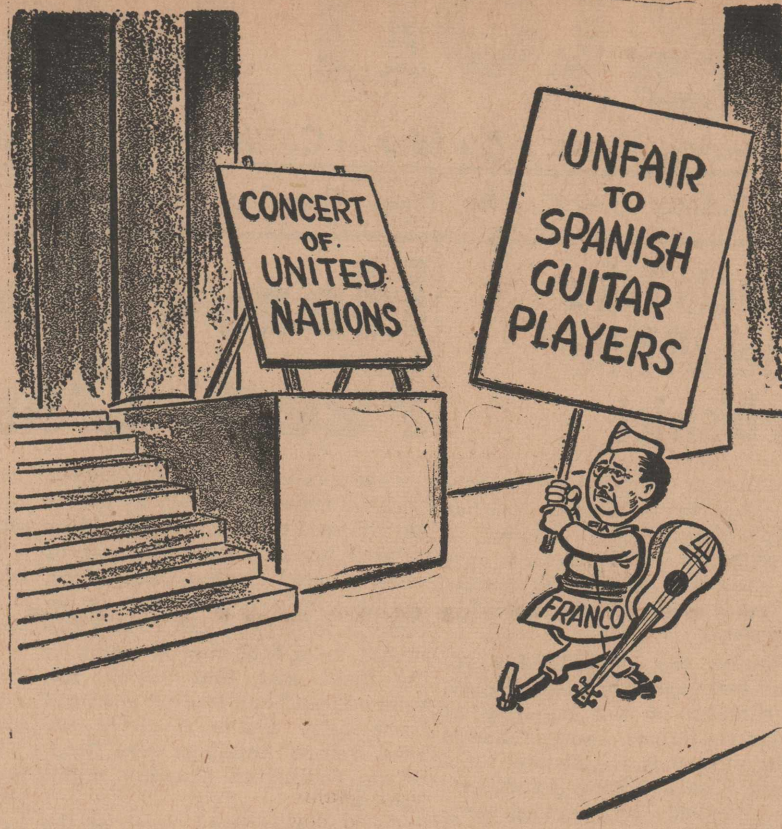

As further proof of the quality of the strain, it is noted that out of fifteen entries in the Plainview Dairy Show recently, fifteen drew prizes, a record probably never equaled before in any dairy show. Hall County is indeed fortunate in having such a team behind its dairy development—The Memphis Democrat.

Determined Little Fellow, Isn't He?The Buck Creek Philosopher

Editors notes The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek, if you ask us is merely hunting an excuse to loaf, his letter this week reveals, but we're publishing it for what it's worth.

Dear editor: For years and years I've been listenin to people tell farmers how to conserve their land, and according to the city advisers it's easy, all you have to do is terrace your land and do a few other simple things which they make sound about like sendin your suit to the cleaners and sit back and grow prosperous, but it don't work that way. Buildin a terrace is hard work, re-buildin it after it washes out is harder, and gettin the money to do it with is harder'n that.

However, I believe in savin the soil, and I have a method that will do it, without technical advice from the experts, without no Washington bulletins, without no appropriations, without even callin in up the county agent. Just stop plowin.

Plowin is what causes erosion. Didn't have no erosion to speak of when the Indians and the buffaloes was in control of this country. Leave the ground alone and it'll stay where it is. It took me a long time to discover this fact, for years I plowed my land without knowin it was helpin it wear away, although I knew all along somethin was wearin me away and wasn't no doubt in my mind it was plowin. As I see it, if a man's gonna lose money farmin anyway, he might as well lose it and be a conservationist at the same time. It's easier and you can do it from the front porch. The thought of me out there goin up one row and down another helpin deplete this nation's greatest resource was too much for a thinkin man, a man who has some consideration for future generations, and I quit. Left my plow where it broke down last, sold my mules for five dollars apiece, and turned my land into pasture, which is the easiest operation I ever undertook, all I had to do was leave it alone.

Now I ain't recommendin every farmer ought to follow my example, some of em seem to enjoy plowin and I believe in free enterprise and lettin a man do what he pleases, but as for me I have decided to practice soil conservation a hundred percent for awhile. May slow down income, but it sure does cut off my overhead. The next time somebody tells you I'm lazy, will appreciate you pointin out I'm in the vanguard of progress, savin my land for future generations.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

When farming efficiency is measured by both livestock and crop production, records show that efficiency may be 40 percent above average or as much below.

BIBLE COMMENT
For May 22Brotherhood Is The Lesson of The Last Supper

One of the best-known and most widely used manuals of daily devotion is a little booklet called "The Upper Room." Issued by the Methodists, it has become well known in other denominations. Its title, derived from the story of "The Last Supper" of Jesus with His disciples, emphasizes the sacredness of that occasion. It stresses communion with God and man as the source of spiritual power, and the binding force of the fellowship, which John says is "with the Father, and with His Son Jesus Christ" (I John 1:3).

To the Last Supper in the upper room is related the "Lord's Supper," and communion as the symbol and determining basis of fellowship in the Christian Church. This is marked to such an extent that denominations, or sects, are called "communions," in their very separateness denying the unity that ought to be in Christ.

But there ought to be even deeper implications of fellowship as we contemplate that Last Supper in the upper room. That Last Supper, which has become the symbol of faith and fellowship in the Christian Church, was the celebration by Jesus and His disciples of the Passover, the most sacred rite of the Jewish religion, which was their heritage as Jews, and which Jesus said He had not come to destroy, but to fulfill.

That fact ought to give the Last Supper in the upper room a significance that it has never had either for Jews or Christians, and a meeting place in fellowship that Surely the supreme task of all who believe in the Christ and the fellowship of the upper room is to bring to reality and fullness in the world of spirit and the practice of brotherhood there manifested.

Thoughts for Today

Behold also the ships, which though they are driven by fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the governor listeth. Even so, the tongue is a little member and boasteth great things. Behold how great a matter a little fire kindleth James 3-4 and 5.

It is only himself that envious man injures, for he gnaws and tortures himself, and the man he envies feels none the worse for it. —Spanish Proverb

Aunt Mabel took a two week auto tour of Texas and stopped by here on her way home to Denver. It was not actually the first time she had been in the state but it was her first visit of any length and her only tour which practically covered the high spots west, south, east, and north in the land of the Lone Star. Few details escaped her. She was much impressed with the virile spirit, industry, and potentialities of Texas and Texans.

She expressed amazement at the wonders and wealth of Houston. Dallas had much beauty but was disappointing to her because it did not measure up to all that had been boasted of it. Maybe it was slightly prejudiced but at any rate the Panhandle was her favorite area. Finally "Jay's" surprised her very much because of the quality of food and the great diversity of choice. As far as she was concerned it was the best place of its kind that she had eaten in anywhere in the state and the food in the Shamrock Hotel wasn't any better.

Destruction of any kind is always tragic and costly and our sympathy extends to all Amarilloans. In particular the flight department of this column was most unhappy to read of the damage done to Tradewind Airport. It was without question one of the very finest of its type not only in Texas but in the United States. Furthermore if circumstances had not intervened this column's "sky-wagon" would have been at Tradewind. This is the second time our plane has escaped the fury of time and elements. This matter of time and timing is no small matter in human affairs and it should give much cause for thought since many many times our actual timing has taken place through no apparent plan of our own.

We're having lots of thunder storms out here. Quiet a lot of rain too, but so far no large storms. It hasn't hailed to amount to anything lately. Hope our good luck holds out. Several have started planting. Some of it will have to be planted over.

Kerstens Grow Unusual Rose

A large rose, surrounded by four of a different color but growing from the same stem, was brought to The Leader by Fred Kersten late last week.

The largest flower was cream colored, with a touch of pink. The others, somewhat smaller, had petals that were rose on the inside and soft yellow on the outside. "I never saw anything like it," Mr. Kersten commented.

Good news for the farmers. The barometer is rising steadily as this is being written Wednesday morning. If it will just stay up the weather will clear, practically all of the wheat will be saved and part of the alfalfa that is down will rise up and a lot that is not down can be harvested. But if that barometer falls again and stays down it is going to be a sad sad story for the wheat farmers and the alfalfa growers.

I seldom go to the storm cellar. Some of my neighbors think that I am not doing right by my young son in not taking him to the cellar every time a cloud comes up. Well, I don't think I would be doing right to disturb his peaceful slumber unless I honestly thought a tornado was on the way.

Don't blame anyone for being afraid of a tornado—it is only common sense to be afraid of such an awful force. If I ever hear of the barometer falling too fast, or see a funnel dipping out of a black cloud to the southwest or hear one sharp blast on the fire siren at the city hall, then you can depend on it that I will herd Henry and Diane and Louise into the cellar pronto and the neighbors will have to crowd in as best as they can. Most tornadoes travel northeast at a rate of from 25 to 37 miles an hour.

In the meantime please excuse me from running to the cellar every time it starts to thunder.

Perhaps people should know more about how to look for a tornado. First the City of Wellington has a big barometer, contributed or still belonging to S. R. Pinkston. They watch it in stormy weather and they also watch for any funnel shaped clouds. If such a cloud is observed anywhere near Wellington one long blast will be sounded on the fire alarm. It is the same call that signals the firemen for their regular meeting on Monday nights. It does not wait up and down as in the case of a fire alarm; it is one long blast of an even tone.

Wonder if it might not be possible for the Greenbelt Electric to work out some similar warning system over the entire Greenbelt area for the benefit of farm families? They have some sort of radio communication. Perhaps it could be amplified. Is this wishful dreaming, Mr. Couch, or is it practical?

H. C. Winburn the weatherman at Amarillo says: "If you see the tornado cloud in the sky you can estimate the distance from you. If its direction of movement will carry it 1 mile from your location you will be safe."

But if it appears within a mile of you the best thing to do is to take your family to a storm cellar. If you have no cellar go to the basement. If you have neither, roll a bed against a wall and get under it. Most tornado accidents are caused by falling debris."

Last week there was a rumor that Wellington and Shamrock would be blown away by May 15. It was rumored to have been reported on the radio that the same Indian woman who ore-dicted the Higgins, Woodward tornado two years ago had said it. That didn't make sense to me; because a tornado that hit Wellington would more likely hit Mangum and one that hit Shamrock would more likely hit Erick or some such town in Oklahoma. Of course there could be more than one tornado. Heard this rumor many times and not a single person could say that they themselves had heard it on the radio or read it in any newspaper. It was just talk. People had that animal sense telling them that storm conditions were brewing and somebody had to invent a tale.

Felix Hunt fell into an old cistern on the O. L. Couch place and went in over his head. He held on to the roots of an overturned locust tree while Bo Yates went for help. He weighed so much that they could not drag him out by hand; so they put a chain around his waist and dragged him out as if he were an ox. What would have happened if it had been a small child. It goes back to what Mrs. A. C. Boverie said about the need of filling up the old cisterns and wells in the town.

Jake Leach says that volunteer help is needed urgently in getting the cemetery in shape before Memorial Day. The heavy rains have caused many graves to sink in and there is much other work to do. Mr. Love has been doing an excellent job in keeping it; but the rains have brought the need for a lot of emergency work. Volunteers are needed. It will help a lot if you will simply go out and take care of your own plot and put it in shape, Mr. Leach says. If interested report to Ray Love at the graveyard or phone the City Hall, number 145.

Why not do as Mr. Leach says? It is a shame to neglect the resting place of the bodies of the dead.

This is written on May 18, my birthday. According to that book life began for me just seven years ago.

It is not maturing years but the newspaper business and the hotel business that causes these gray hairs in my head.

E. H. Boaz, M. D.
Box 627
Childress, Texas

Doctor Boaz:

I decided to take your tablets as I had high blood pressure for several years. Had been operated on for fibroid tumor 15 years ago. Never felt well since my operation, as I had phlebitis in one leg and have had it treated all along but doctors said no cure for it but I'm better now with my leg, but had to take something all the time for high blood pressure. Being so discouraged because I had to take medicine every day with nothing but temporary relief I decided to try your tablets so I sent to the Palace Drug Store here and have taken 50 tablets and feel better and am sending back for 50 more. I want to take enough to do my blood pressure real good.

Yours truly,

TUNING IN ON AN Underground NETWORK

Beneath the surface on the average city street is a maze of gas mains, water lines and other pipes and cables of varying sizes. There are often many problems to be solved when a gas line is extended to new homes, stores or factories through this unseen network of metal. United Gas employs an ingenious electrical device known as a "pipe locator" to trace the underground pattern—to locate its own lines and to avoid damage to others.

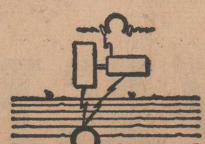

This is one of many functions of the United Gas organization... all of which have the ultimate purpose of assuring a continued dependable supply of natural gas to our customers.

The "pipe locator" consists primarily of a portable transmitter and a receiver. The transmitter is used to send a signal into the ground.

The receiver, with headset, picks up the transmitter's signal radiated from the ground.

When the signal becomes stronger than usual, the operator knows he is crossing a pipe or other buried metal structure.

Five-Foot Shelf of Good Looks

A TOUCH on the handle — and a wide front door swings open on a prospect full of invitation.

There's a wheel that seems actually eager for the touch of your hand.

There's a broad 63-inch seat cushion, comfortably angled, soft and inviting, and only a hand's width narrower than a full-size parlor sofa.

There are narrower corner posts hardly wider than the space between your eyes, so plenty easy to see around — and there's a broad, sweeping, full-curved windshield spreading a horizon-wide view before your eyes.

There's a gas treadle that flicks into instant life the great power of a big Fireball power plant. Under the wheel there can be a Dynaflo selector lever you set once and then forget through all normal forward driving.

Around 50 per cent of the students were out of school Tuesday due to road conditions, and about 40 per cent on Wednesday.

Floyd Teutsch, vice-president of the First State Bank at Dodson, said that all crops that had been planted in that area will have to be replanted. Wheat in the low areas is being washed away, and a considerable amount of red rust is showing up in the wheat. It is pointed out that this affects the leaves, and while it weakens the wheat somewhat, is not damaging to the extent of the black rust which attacks the stem.

Alfalfa cutting had started around Dodson, and yields are from 15 to 25 bales per acre. This is currently selling at the low price of 50 cents per bale.

Mr. Teutsch estimated that around 15 per cent of the farmers had crops in the ground. There was a considerable amount of erosion in the fields Tuesday.

L. W. O'Rear, who lives near Rolla, has estimated that 12 inches of rain has fallen at his place in the last 12 days.

"Last year we just had two rains when enough water fell to run on the ground," he recalled. "I believe that the rains we have had have been the most washing rains we have had in the last 10 years."

Mr. O'Rear estimated four inches of rain Friday night and an inch and a half Saturday night. John Barjenbruch and Frank Elkenburg said four inches fell Friday at their farm; Ed Crawford measured three inches with a rain gauge and S. I. Beattie five and a half inches with a gauge.

Sam White, mail carrier from Childress to Shamrock, said as far as he could tell from driving along Wednesday morning, there was little or no damage to wheat.

"It looks to me like alfalfa is what's hurting. It's already blooming," he said.

John Harper, one of the county's long-time alfalfa growers, reported after going through his field Wednesday morning, that underneath the heavy top layer of foliage, the alfalfa has begun turning yellow.

Bethine Adkins, Leader correspondent at Loco, reported before the Tuesday rain, as follows:

"Heavy rains fell here Friday night and Sunday morning, ruining the already damaged crops. R. H. Lacy and George Adkins were heavy losers in newly planted cotton. Small hail fell, doing more damage to the feed and gardens."

"A bridge on the county line two miles north and one and three-fourths miles east of Loco was washed out. The roads are washed and are impassable in many places. "Lightning struck an electric transformer north of Loco, leaving this community in darkness until the line was repaired."

"Damage to the Buck Creek railroad bridge was repaired Saturday afternoon. Crops should certainly be good this year if the rain will let up so the farmers can plant again."

Mrs. E. L. Rankin of Dozier reported before the rains Tuesday that the area there had received rain varying from .5 of an inch to 4 inches during the preceding week.

Due to there being no phones in the north part of the county, The Leader was not able to secure information concerning Tuesday's rains from the Samnorwood, Dozier, and Abra sections before press time.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Amerson of Twitt visited in the E. L. Wilson home Sunday.

Scott Attends IHC Dealer School

Duard Scott, owner of Scott Truck and Tractor Company, is in Chicago attending a two-weeks school of instruction which the International Harvester Company is sponsoring for its dealers.

Many phases of dealership work and the merchandising of International Harvester farm machinery and home equipment are being taken up in the school.

Mr. Scott will return home during the week end.

H. D. Clubs to Order Pineapple

The Collingsworth County Home Demonstration Clubs are again ordering pineapple and coconut if possible for the club members, Miss Jo Wylie, home demonstration agent, has announced.

The clubs have ordered pineapple for their members each spring for several years.

Women not club members may also place orders.

Cost of the fruit will be not more than $2.25 per dozen, Miss Wylie said.

May 26 has been set as the deadline for placing orders with the chairmen of the clubs, who are Mrs. M. C. Cleveland, Midway Club; Mrs. V. J. Simpson, Samnorwood club; Mrs. H. C. Yarbrough, Dodson Club; Mrs. C. A. Kesler, Fresno Club; Mrs. Roy Billingsley, Abra Club; and Mrs. J. L. Hayes, North Wellington Club.

Poppy Day Sale On May 28

The annual sale of poppies sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be conducted this year on Saturday, May 28, by the Auxiliary of the VFW.

The proceeds from the sale will be used to help veterans and the families of veterans.

"The ladies of the auxiliary devote a great deal of time to this annual event, and they will appreciate very much your co-operation. Be sure to buy a poppy and wear it in memory of the boys who served and died," a spokesman for the organization said.

Billy Joe Keller of Southwestern Tech, Weatherford, Oklahoma, visited his mother, Mrs. George Keller during the week end. Billy Joe has just won third place in High Vaulting at Weatherford.

According to measurements, we had a little more than 2 1-2 inches rain Friday night. However, some three miles south of here the rain was heavier. John Barjenbruch said it rained four inches at his place Friday night, and as much as an inch Saturday night. Charlie Roberts, who planted cotton last week, will have to replant and Ray Clubb and A. N. Wiseman across the creek, already had a stand of cotton up, will have to replant as it was washed so badly and much of it was covered up. Some sudan was ruined and will be planted over.

Mr. and Mrs. John Trew spent Mother's Day in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Wiseman.

Mr. and Mrs. Balkman and children spent Tuesday night of last week in the Wilson home.

Otis Roberts and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Roberts who do not have a storm house at their home, saw the cloud looked so bad Friday night, they come to Mr. Pigg's for refuge and spent the night.

Mr. and Mrs. Burlin Wilson and son, Lynn, are here from Cactus on a two weeks vacation. They will visit both their parents, the Wilsons and Mrs. Walter Smith who lived in town. Burlin is painting his mother-in-law's house while here.

Joyce Watson spent Saturday night with Almeta Shipley.

J. F. MCINTUSH DAIRY

This dairy barn on the J. F. McIntush farm in the west part of Collingsworth County is built of steel and concrete, and is germ-proof. The barn and milk house, shown here, where the production of 41 cows is taken care of, is as modern as the Department of Health can devise. Here Grade A milk is produced for the Hall County Dairy, Memphis, which deals only in Grade A pasteurized milk.

Milk Cows Pay Off in Sandy-Land Area

J. F. McIntush Operates Grade A Dairy

Another modern dairy farm selling its products to the Hall County Dairy in Memphis exclusively, is the dairy farm of J. F. McIntush, just over in the edge of Collingsworth County northeast of Hedley.

This farm is located in the sandy-land area of the Panhandle. The land is slightly rolling, even hilly in spots, but all of it is sandy.

The way Mr. McIntush farms this land is real skill and science. It is practically all terraced, and as nearly perfectly as possible, fortified against erosion by either rain or wind.

He owns approximately a thousand acres, which is about evenly divided between pasture and field crops.

The pasture land is that less more hilly. It is well sodded in native grasses, and parts of the pasture is seeded seasonally to pasture grains, sudan grass in summer and oats, wheat rye and barley in winter. He has green pasture for his milk cows every day in the year, unless drouth wipes out everything, and even that is pretty well provided for.

His field crops consist entirely of feed crops. He plants grain sorghums in rows for harvesting and storing for winter roughage, to supplement his winter pasture, which almost never fails.

This modern West Texas dairy farm started from sandy hills and plains of the eastern Panhandle. Mr. McIntush began it with just that kind of a foundation, and built his home and farm buildings, just as did thousands of other West Texas Pioneers.

The land was not virgin grass land, but land where farms had been before and had been literally "blown away", by the wrong kind of farming, a type of land difficult indeed, to reclaim.

The photographs on this page of his modern Grade "A" dairy barn and milk room tell a story which words can not tell. The barn has just been built, by plans and blueprints furnished by the Texas Department of Health, and is the last word in modern dairy structure. The construction is steel and concrete, double-walled, and sealed and plastered, with overhead ceiling of sheet aluminum, and as near "germ proof" as it is possible to build.

The milk room is equipped with the latest model milk aerator and the temperature of the milk to about 34 degrees immediately after it is milked and stored in the cooler in ten-gallon cans. The milking is done by mechanical milkers, and not touched by human hands.

The product goes directly to the Hall County Dairy in Memphis, where it is pasteurized and homogenized for retail trade in one of the most modern milk processing plants in West Texas.

Mr. McIntush started his herd just as he did his farm, from the beginning, just a few cows. Now, he has a total of about 135 head, including heifers and calves, and about 41 cows, bangs and TB tested.

His dairy plans call for a large number of producing cows as many as 200 head, if the market justifies, because this is strictly a dairy farm, given entirely to the production of the best Grade "A" milk possible to produce.

Former Countian Writes of Italy

By Correspondent

Mrs. G. D. Thomas received a card this week from M-Sgt. and Mrs. Ray Covant, who are stationed in Germany. They wrote that they were having a furlough and were touring Europe. They had been to Venice, Florence, Rome, and Bologna, Italy, and were at Pisa, in that country, when she wrote. The picture on the card was of the Leaning Tower of Pisa.

Mrs. Covant is the daughter of Mrs. Lee Tucker and granddaughter of Mike Capp. She lived in Lillie and Wellington most of her life and will be remembered as Earline Tucker, Mrs. Tucker's youngest daughter.

They plan to come home from Germany next year.

Seek Fifty New Members for Skyrocket Band

Fifty recruits for the Skyrocket high school band is the objective of the intensive campaign which will begin in the Wellington schools next week.

"It is not impossible to achieve this goal," comments Bandmaster Rufus Johnson. "In the past when parents had to purchase expensive instruments outright we had fewer boys and girls on instruments. If the rental-purchase plan is adopted, a goal of 50 young musicians is not visionary."

"This plan has been investigated and has been proven successful," Mr. Johnson adds.

Next week scientific music talent tests will be given to grades four to six inclusive to determine the boys and girls best adapted to band instruments. This careful selection of ability plus the low cost to parents are the two chief features of the plan for building a bigger and better Skyrocket Band.

Dodson Seniors Set Graduation Week Plans

The commencement exercise for Dodson seniors will be held at the high school auditorium there Thursday evening, May 26, at 8:30 p. m., T. E. Lennon, superintendent, has announced.

The Rev. Wilford Jones, pastor of the Methodist Church of Hollis, will give the address.

Mr. Lennon pointed out that the graduation date has been changed to May 26 from the original date set for June 2.

Only five diplomas will be given at the commencement exercises, Mr. Lennon said, adding that this is the smallest graduating class the school has had in many years. One of these students, Mrs. Blave Crow, is doing her senior work at Borger but wished to have her diploma granted at Dodson, while another, James Killian completed his work at mid term.

The other three members of the class are Miss Jimmy Wynn, Dale Hunt and Glenn Ford.

Skyrocket Band Places Second

The Skyrocket Band received a second division rating in marching at the music competition festival interscholastic league contest at Canyon Friday, April 29.

Fourth division rating were awarded the band in both the sight reading and concert playing parts of the judging. For the concert, the band played three numbers and in sight reading the band played two unfamiliar pieces, a march and an overture, after studying them for two minutes.

In the marching part of the competition, the band performed left and right obliques, column turns, counter marches, and two special maneuvers forming the letter "W" and also forming a straight line which rotated in groups of fives.

Impromptu Pet Show a Top Youth Activity

Wellington's first pet show in recent years, held recently, was a complete success both from the standpoint of the pets and their owners. It was put on with no advance publicity and somewhat to the surprise to the hosts, the Rev. and Mrs. Noel Bryant.

Their young daughter, Sylvia, had talked about a pet show for two weeks, but not until Saturday morning did they realize she was so serious. In fact, she told them she had invited 26 children to show their pets that afternoon on the church lawn. Telephone calls from several mothers a few minutes later confirmed this. Sylvia had worked it out to the last detail.

Rain cut down the attendance sharply, and the show moved to (Continued on Page Five)

Pool 1948 Loan Cotton After August First

"The U. S. Department of Agriculture has recently announced that all 1948-crop loan cotton, still under loan on August 1, 1949, will be pooled on that date by Commodity Credit Corporation for producers' accounts, Millard Brown, ACA Secretary, has announced. The loans mature July 31, 1949. On March 17, 1949 loans were outstanding on about 4,400,000 bales of 1948-crop cotton from the 4,865,000 bales placed under loans to that date.

"Producers may either sell their 'equity' in the loan cotton or redeem the cotton from the loan and then sell it in the open market. Producers are urged to give serious consideration to marketing the loan cotton before it is placed in pools. At present market prices, farmers should be able to dispose of a substantial amount of this cotton at prices that will give them net profits above the loan and charges against the cotton.

"The 1948-crop loan cotton not redeemed prior to August 1, 1949, will be placed in pools, as provided in the loan agreements, and sold in an orderly manner by Commodity Credit Corporation. On final liquidation of all cotton in the pools, the net proceeds, if any, after deduction of all advances, interest and accrued costs—including storage, insurance, and handling charges—will be distributed among the producers whose cotton was placed in such pools. No payment will be made to producers at the time their cotton is placed in the pools, and after July 31, 1949, producers will not be entitled to order the sale of the cotton."

Opportunity Drive Ends June 30

Countians Asked to Buy $26,000 in Bonds

The people of Collingsworth County are being asked to invest a total of $26,000 in Series E Savings Bonds during the Treasury Department's "Opportunity Drive," May 16 through June 30.

This quota was announced Saturday by J. F. Forbis, county Savings Bonds chairman, after he had received the figure in a letter from Nathan Adams of Dallas, chairman of the Treasury's advisory committee for Texas.

Announcement of quotas for this and all other Texas counties followed a dinner given in Houston Tuesday night by Governor Beauford H. Jester and at which volunteers from all sections of the state were honored for their work in the Savings Bonds program.

The Texas quota is in the drive is $36,950,000, and the national quota is $1,040,000,000.

"All quotas, including our, apply only to the sale of Series E Savings Bonds," the county chairman said. "In this drive we want to place more Savings Bonds in the hands of average people, who, with the proceeds of their thrift, can enjoy opportunities and advantages not otherwise possible. At the same time, by their investments in Savings Bonds, they are helping to manage our national debt in such a way as to more nearly assure a strong economy in this country. The Series E bonds — popularly called the 'people's bonds' — are ideal for individuals."

He said that Series F and G Savings Bonds would be sold as usual through the drive, but that their sale would not be counted against the quota. The Series F and G bonds, he explained, are normally preferred by business concerns, organizations and individuals of larger means.

"I urge the people of this county, and all of its communities, to par-

"The county Savings Bonds committee can always use citizens who can devote a part of their time to work in the drive, and I invite them to contact me. To others, I sincerely urge that they buy Savings Bonds and, if possible, to do so regularly through the Bond-A-Month plan at their bank. This kind of thrift is the kind that pays dividends to the individual, the community and the nation."

Initiatory Service Is Held by Local O.E.S.

The Order of the Eastern Star initiated Miss Rosemary Strong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Strong, 1003 East avenue, into the local chapter at the Masonic Hall on the evening of May 10, 1944.

A striking thing noticed by all present was the foil which two different types of ladies supplied for each other as they took their parts in the ceremony. Miss Rosemary's gracefully youthful slenderness, her vibrant coloring and blue eyes contrasted sharply with Mrs. Bob Wilder's diminutive stature, her gorgeous white hair and large dark luminous eyes. It was a study in "light and shade" which should have been captured by an artist's brush.

The worthy matron, Mrs. Marian Couch, welcomed two visitors, Mrs. Levi Duncan from Uvalde but who is still a member of Wellington Chapter, was present and having a happy time with old and new friends. Mrs. Floyd Thompson, a long time resident of Collingsworth and member of the Eastern Star, was a visitor.

Mrs. Gwen Craig and Mrs. Letha Cunningham on the refreshment committee served iced cake squares and coffee to those assembled.

Importance of Working Heights Discussed By Miss Wylie

Home Demonstration club members studied working heights of tables and cabinets in their meetings during April, Miss Jo Wylie, home demonstration agent said.

Some of the pointers given by Miss Wylie are: "The correct working height plays a great part in a woman's work. The working height should be high enough that a person can place the palms of her hands flat on the working center without bending her back.

"In case the kitchen cabinet is too low, raise your dishpan, or whatever you may be working with, up to the proper height, by placing a block of wood under the pan.

"A low ironing board or table may be raised by putting a block of wood under each table leg or ironing board leg.

"If the work table or cabinet is too high, build a small box to stand on.

"Improper working heights effect a person's posture. It may cause one to become stooped in later days.

"Each person should check her working heights and see if they are proper for her, and if they are not, they should be changed to the correct height."

Kiwanis NOTES

(Intended for Last Week)

With all due respect to citizens of other towns I think Wellington is far in the lead when it comes to helping each other.

Tom and Tiny Bryant hurriedly made the necessary arrangements to take care of the Mother's Day Chicken Barbecue Friday night that had been set up to be held at the park. When the rain started President Jack Gibson made one telephone call and within minutes members and guests were being served chicken, beans, potato salad and soda pop at the Pullman Cafe. Thanks Tom and Tiny Bryant and Goat Hopper.

N. C. Beam, Morris Reed, Howard Riggs, Dan Jones, Jimmy Kelson, Floyd Cole and Fleet Pruden did a wonderful job of preparing the chicken. Cameron Beam was quite worried, while dipping ice cream, thinking he would not get anything to eat. He was finally relieved by Jack Hurst so that he could have some beans and barbecue.

From reports going around, most of the ladies had not made any preparations for the evening meal, expecting to have the annual Mother's Day barbecue. That made it necessary that the event go on as scheduled to prevent starvation.

All members of the club are deeply grateful for the cooperation shown to prevent the party from being a failure. Many thanks to all, especially the guests who were courageous enough to come through the rain.

DOZIER

(Intended for Last Week)

With a rainfall measuring two and one-half inches the past few days, we have been tempted to break a tradition, namely, never complain of too much rain in the Panhandle. However, our rains have been wonderful. No runoff, since we have our farms terraced.

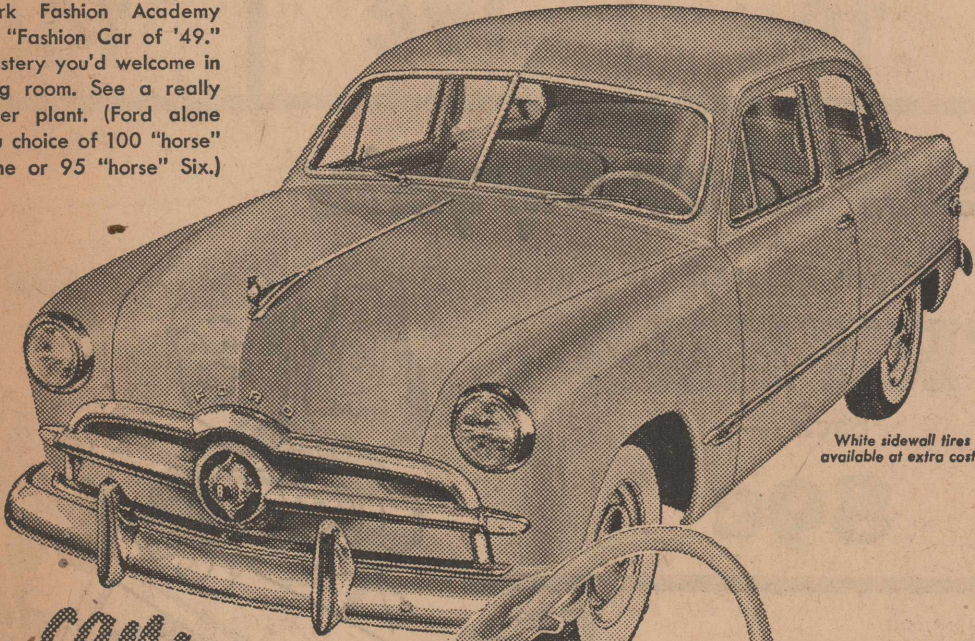

Following home improvements are reported: The young bride, Mrs. Leroy Bell, told us they had been busy painting, papering, and otherwise beautifying their home on the ranch of Mrs. Mettie Beasley.

The Phillips girls have recently built a woven wire yard fence. We shall see flowers blooming in their yard, now that the chickens are fenced out.

Forrest Ezzell has built a play-yard for their young daughter, Connie. It is to be equipped with a swing, slide, sand pile and many

SAN FRANCISCO'S YACHTMEN OPEN SEASON OFFICIALLY

White sales scudding a spanking breeze dot San Francisco Bay as 2000 boating enthusiasts on more than 500 craft officially inaugurate the 1949 yachting season. Motorboats, too, joined in a junket to Angle Island at the northern end of the bay. The affair was sponsored by interests who wish to obtain Angle Island as a playland for San Franciscans, now that the government has declared it surplus.

Boverie Grocery Firm Official

Of interest here is the observance of the 45th anniversary of the Furr Food Stores, of which a former Wellington man, Clem B. Boverie, is vice-president.

Mr. Boverie has been with the Furr Food Stores since the purchase of the Lubbock stores in 1929 from Clement Hendricks, his brother-in-law. He now is vice-president in charge of sales, directing the division leaders of the firm.

The grocery chain was started at Estelene, and from that small start expanded through the South Plains and southwest New Mexico area, with headquarters at Lubbock.

There are now seven retail stores in El Paso and seven in Lubbock, and stores in Plainview, Levelland, Childress, Lamesa, Big Spring, Midland, Odessa, Monahans, and Carlsbad, Roswell and Hobbs, New Mexico. In addition there is a wholesale unit in El Paso, and a creamery, bakery, warehouse and packing plant in Lubbock.

The 45th anniversary was marked by special sections in both the Lubbock Avalanche Journal and the El Paso Herald.

Mr. Boverie is a brother of Miss Katherine Boverie of Wellington.

Cooperative Electrification...

More than 205,000 rural Texas families cooperated to bring the great "hired hand" of electricity into the most isolated rural areas, and they have done it in the best tradition of American free enterprise. Every family which receives electricity from one of these cooperatives has a share in the ownership and a voice in management.

Organized for the sole purpose of extending electricity's benefits, 76 Texas rural cooperatives built electrical systems with money borrowed from the Rural Electrification Administration. Operating on a non-profit basis they are repaying the borrowed money with interest; in 1948, they paid more than $200,000 in actual taxes in support of the Government.

Real community enterprises operating for the betterment of rural living, the rural electric cooperatives have created greater farm prosperity and a big new market for growing Texas industry.
