

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

SEVERAL HUNDRED friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Starr celebrated the heat (106 degrees) at Sunday afternoon to call at their farm home southwest of Cisco on the occasion of their wedding anniversary. People came from throughout Eastland and adjoining counties to pay their respects to the Starrs.

Eight of the nine living children of Mr. and Mrs. Starr were present for the happy occasion. Present was Rupert C. Starr of Okane, Wash., and he was here but a month ago.

Among those coming some distance were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lot of Rotan, who drove 200 miles to offer their congratulations. Cecil will be remembered as our representative several years back at the state legislature. Incidentally, he is now mayor of Rotan.

While at the Starr home, he enjoyed meeting many old friends. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, and Mrs. Hammond came over from their home at Pampa. Their presence was greatly appreciated, as Mr. Hammond and Mrs. Starr are friends of long standing.

Mr. and Mrs. Hammond stayed until Sunday night. The old friend and family physician, Dr. W. P. Lee of Cisco, went out to extend his congratulations to the Starrs. Dr. Lee is a warm spot in the hearts of the Starr family, and they are all glad that he was able to be present. Dr. Lee is 93 years young.

Among the other appreciative guests were Mr. and Mrs. Buck Erick of Cisco, who have been married 58 years. Mr. and Mrs. Starr received many beautiful presents, which they greatly appreciate. Mr. Starr says that all they need now is to make everything lovely in a six-inch rain.

WHEN WE DROVE out recently for an interview with the Starrs and to get a picture of them, we were interested to know where all of their children are ending now and what they're doing. We know you'll be interested, too, so here's their names, where they are and what they're doing:

W. J. Starr, lives at Texarkana, employed by the Civil Service. Robert A. Starr, lives at Scranton, operates his own farm. James M. Starr, lives in Cisco, teaches vocational agriculture in Cisco High School.

John B. Starr is deceased; his life lives on their place at Cranston and she was present for the reunion.

Charles W. Starr, lives at Caldwell, Idaho, is superintendent of a huge fruit ranch.

Mrs. T. D. Black, the only daughter, lives at Odessa where her husband is with the Sunset Motor lines.

E. W. (Ted) Starr, lives at Albuquerque, New Mexico, and works at the government's atom bomb base.

Bruce D. Starr, lives at Baltimore, Maryland, where he is a trucking contractor.

Rupert C. Starr, lives at Spokane, Wash., works for the atom bomb base there.

Lee Starr, lives with his parents, helps with the family farm and owns some 400 acres of land himself.

The Starrs are a big, happy family, and the children were here most of last week and part of this week for the anniversary party. Mr. and Mrs. Starr have long been valuable citizens of our community.

WE'VE DECIDED that Mr. Dick Lauderdale of the First National Bank must indeed be an outstanding cook. No less than a dozen people have told us today that they had oughta eat some of Dick's cooking.

Checking into the reason for the flow of compliments, we find that Dick was the head chef for steak fry last evening at Lake Cisco Park for the Little League athletics. The bank, as sponsor of the team, staged the barbecue and Dick cooked up 55 steaks. The boys of both the major and minor teams attended. Special guests included Manager Bob Sanders and wife, Assistant Managers Howard Turner and C. E. Whitton, and their wives, D. N. Morrison, E. L. Jackson, Jackie Leach and others.

A gift certificate was presented to Manager Bob Sanders in appreciation of his work. The men employees of the bank were the hosts.

Mrs. Raber Sings At Rotary Lunch Meeting Thursday

Mrs. Sylvia Raber, soprano, sang three numbers Thursday as the program feature at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Cisco Rotary Club at the Victor Hotel Dining Room. Rotarian Ernest Hittson was in charge of the program.

Mrs. Raber, who was a soloist with the Cisco Community Choir in a recent production, sang "Will You Remember," "Make Believe," and "With a Song in My Heart." She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Jane Huestis, club sweetheart.

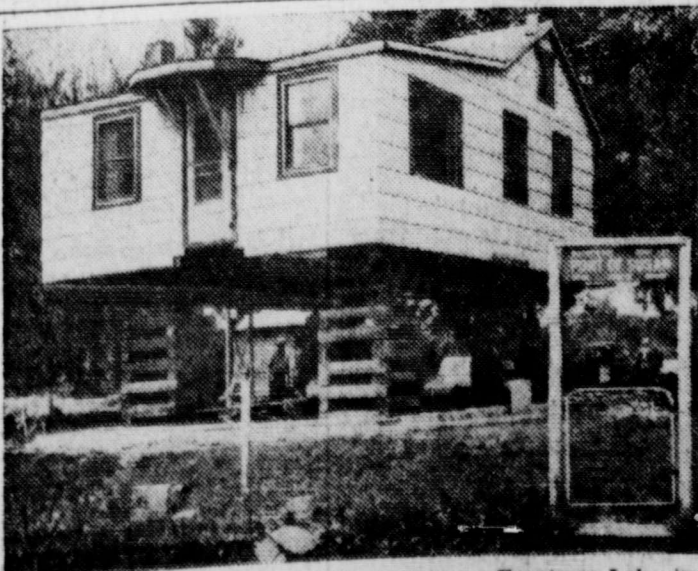

E. J. Poe, local insurance man, was introduced as a new member of the club. J. E. Proctor gave a review of the current Rotary Club magazine.

Guests included Dr. Frank Weedon and Rev. Stephen Heath, evangelistic team currently conducting a revival meeting at the First Baptist Church; Dr. H. M. Ward, pastor of the church; Mr. Horton, Eastland; Mr. Rodden, Abilene; Mr. Williamson, Abilene; the Rev. Sidney Spain, Cisco; and Mrs. Bill Fewell, Cisco.

Baseball Team Will Attend Wesley Church

Members of the Athletics Little League Baseball team, together with their parents, will be honored guests at the morning worship service at Wesley Methodist Church Sunday morning.

Rev. Bob Sanders, pastor, who served as team manager, will preach on "How To Be A Major Leaguer." The Sunday evening topic will be "The Man Who Tried To Run Away."

LIVING HIGH—Residents of this cottage on Frontress Lake in Dubuque, Iowa, are tired of getting wet unexpectedly. So they've lifted their dwelling on wooden blocks to bring it out of reach of the Mississippi River rises to flood level again, as it did in this area in 1951 and 1952.

FIVE FISHERMEN BAG OVER 400 POUNDS IN TRIP TO OLD MEXICO

A party of five men left Moran last Monday for Old Mexico for a few days fishing trip. Those making the trip were B. L. Chaney, Charles B. Chaney and the Chaney boys, Don Hallmark, John Petit, and son, Cleo Petit.

The group went in two pickup trucks and after crossing the border at Roma, Texas, they drove 18 miles to Sugar Lake, Old Mexico. They began fishing Wednesday morning and caught six fish weighing from 30 to 56 pounds.

At the conclusion of the trip, the group had approximately 400 pounds of fish which was packed in ice and taken home. The largest fish caught weighed 56 pounds. The group reported a wonderful time.

Mrs. Lula Snyder and daughter, Laura, have returned from a vacation trip in Salt Lake City, Colorado, and New Mexico.

Lutheran Churches Will Join Young People On Sunday

The congregations of the two Cisco area Lutheran churches will join the young people at the West Texas Zone Walter League Camp at Lake Cisco Park for services Sunday, according to an announcement today. The camp opened Thursday morning and will continue through Sunday.

The Rev. Harold Theiss of Belaire, camp speaker, will deliver the sermon in the morning speaking on "The Challenge Of Youth To the parents and to themselves." The members of Grace Lutheran Church here and of Christ Lutheran Church six miles south of Cisco will take part in the morning service and the day's program.

Sunday School and Bible class will begin at 10 a. m. with the morning worship service following at 11 a. m. The camp is being held at the Presbyterian Encampment.

The public has been extended an invitation to attend the services Sunday morning.

Large Bass Crop Is Reported For Waters Of Texas

AUSTIN, Aug. 14.—An unusually good 1953 production of black bass in Texas' waters is reported by the Chief Aquatic Biologist of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said staff biologists throughout the state observed a high hatching rate among the black beauties. This upswing is expected to be reflected in results for the casting fraternity by next spring when the 1953 baby bass will have reached the minimum legal limit of seven inches.

The Chief Aquatic Biologist added that bass fishing had been holding up in most parts of the state even during the extreme heat. He said the black fighters probably are getting hungrier because feeding on the spring crop of forage fish becomes more difficult as the latter grow up and are more elusive.

Of the good spring bass hatch, he said conditions for spawning and subsequent growth into the fingerling class simply were favorable as to water temperature.

With the state's hatcheries augmenting this natural upsurge, the Chief Aquatic Biologist said the total black beauty population possibly will hit a net peak for Texas. He estimated the total black bass population at "something in excess of one hundred million" based on more than three million surface acres of water.

That, he observed, would amount to roughly twelve black bass for each of Texas' approximately eight million residents.

Methodists Plan Lay Retreat For Glen Lake Camp

GLEN ROSE, Aug. 14.—Annual Central Texas Conference Methodist Lay retreat will be held here August 29-30 at Glen Lake camp.

Group leaders will include Jack Folsom, North Texas Conference Lay leader, who will be in charge of the Methodist Men's clubs group; Pat Thompson, Bay City, Texas Conference Lay Leader, the stewardship group; J. P. Stafford, Mississippi Conference leader, the charge lay leaders group; and Eugene F. Jud, Central Texas Conference Lay leader, the district lay activities group.

District superintendents who will lead the worship services will include Revs. Erwin F. Bohmfalk, Fort Worth, L. Stanley Williams, Waxahachie, C. C. Sessions, Gatesville, and A. S. Gafford, Waco. J. P. Stafford will also direct a worship service. Pat Thompson will speak on the subject, "The Challenge," at the closing assembly Sunday afternoon.

Roy Johnson of First Methodist, Pampa, will lead the singing for the retreat. Mrs. Johnson will be the accompanist.

Other district lay leaders include: Clyde Miller, Waxahachie, Hug Horstman, Weatherford, Luther Nichols, Georgetown, Ray Stokes, Fort Worth, Pete Smith, Cleburne, Ed Curry, Brownwood, W. D. Raley, Cisco, Dr. J. T. Archer, Gatesville, S. C. O'Neal, Waco, and W. H. Hayes, Corsicana.

Eastland County Farmers Are Voting Today On Wheat Quota

SCS REPORT SHOWS MOISTURE CONDITIONS BETTER IN WEST

FORT WORTH, Aug. 14.—The Soil Conservation Service today reported greatly improving soil moisture conditions in some drought-ridden areas of Texas and Oklahoma with markedly lessened prospects of widespread wind erosion damage in the coming winter and spring months although general rains are still needed before the extreme drought is relieved.

The improved moisture in 43 counties in western Texas and 10 counties in western Oklahoma has touched off one of the most determined efforts to produce soil cover in recent years, says Regional Director Louis P. Merrill of SCS. Hundreds of thousands of acres in the Rolling Plains, the South Plains and the rain-blessed Panhandle sections of Texas already have gone into grain sorghums, sweet sorghums, sudan grass and other cover production crops, SCS field men have reported to Merrill. Most of the plantings are up to good stands, and with a good rain or two would make needed cover or even a crop of grain barring early frost. In the Panhandle of Texas and in northwestern Oklahoma sizable areas have accumulated moisture for wheat planting next fall but too many farmers are turning under an effective stubble mulch before sufficient moisture has been trapped to sustain a stand of wheat.

Eighty-six counties in the less fortunate areas of southwestern and southern Texas still have received no effective moisture or not enough to relieve the record drought conditions.

Range grasses are growing rapidly in areas which have received moisture in the last five weeks, Merrill reported. Returning from a trip into the high plains and rolling plains this week Merrill observed that on short range in poor to fair condition there is the temptation to keep too many stock where numbers have not been materially reduced as in the Panhandle counties.

Merrill said one of the most encouraging signs has been the new attitude of people in the drought-hurt areas. Farmers and city residents alike have seemed to realize the threat that drought, with wind erosion, has brought to their communities and are determined to get protective and soil-improving cover on their lands.

In the South Plains a drive to get plant cover on exposed lands is being spear-headed by a committee.

Drought Relief Feed Delivery Is Underway In City

Drought relief feeds, which are being supplied to area ranchers from stocks of the Surplus Commodity Corporation at about half the regular retail prices, are now being delivered in substantial quantities, Administrator Emmett Powell of the Eastland County PMA Office reported today.

Mr. Powell estimated that some 800 tons of feed, including cotton seed pellets, corn and coats, have already been delivered to stockmen in the county. Feed dealers are handling delivery of the feed.

Several carloads of feed were unloaded here this week. Stockmen pay for their feed at the PMA office or to a PMA representative at the offices of the feed dealers as they take delivery.

A total of 687 County farmers and ranchers have signed application for feed in the federal drought relief program, Mr. Powell said.

Outcome Of Issue Appears In Doubt

Eastland County farmers were voting today at polling places in Cisco, Eastland, Ranger and Rising Star on the question of whether or not they want to cooperate in a government wheat marketing program for 1954. Administrator Emmett Powell of the PMA office reported.

Similar elections were being held under PMA auspices in counties throughout Texas and the nation today.

If a two-thirds majority of wheat growers — those who have been assigned a quota of 15 acres or more for next year — approves the proposition, all 1954 wheat planting will be on a quota basis and the price will be supported at 90 per cent of parity. If the issue fails to carry by a two-thirds majority, the price will be supported at 50 per cent of parity, Mr. Powell said.

Those who overplant their assigned quotas, regardless of the outcome of the election, will receive no benefits of the price support program and will be subject to a penalty, it was understood.

According to press reports from all sections of the state and nation, it was doubtful that the proposition would receive the necessary two-thirds affirmative vote.

In Cisco, the election was being held at the Chamber of Commerce office with Robert Tucker of Pleasant Hill as the presiding judge. Only nine votes had been cast by noon today, and a light vote was forecast. Results of the county election were not expected to be known before next week.

In other activities, the PMA expects to complete its job of measuring the peanuts planted in Eastland County next week, Mr. Powell said. The measure program is running behind schedule this year due to the fact that many farmers did not plant their assigned acreage until after July 1 due to the moisture situation.

Mr. Powell said that reports from throughout the county indicate another light crop unless it rains in the near future. Peanuts in the western and southern parts of the county were still holding up fairly well, Mr. Powell said.

Hobby Club Notes

One of the favorite crafts is metal etching. The Hobby Club has all the necessary materials for this work.

One of the many patterns kept in the club files is transferred to a round sheet of heavy metal to begin a tray. A protective coating is applied to that part of the design that is to be untouched by the etching acid. After the edges are crimped to make the shape of the tray, the acid is applied and left for a short time for the design to be made. The finished article is cleaned, polished and given a coating of lacquer.

The work is very easy, the cost small and the finished work is a cherished possession or a welcome gift.

Hobby Club workers began textile painting at the Wednesday morning meeting. If you like to dab with paints, you will enjoy putting your ideas on cloth. The necessary paints, brushes, and patterns, from the very simplest to complicated ones are furnished by the club. Bring your towels, pillow cases, luncheon sets or whatever you have and come and paint. Bring an old plate to mix paints in. — Mrs. Arlin Birt.

COUNTRY CLUB SUPPER

Members of the Cisco Country Club will hold a watermelon feast at 7:30 p. m. Friday (tonight) at the club house, and all members have been invited to attend and to bring guests. A game hour will follow the watermelon feast.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Lloyd were to leave today for Chicago where they will attend a photographer's convention.

NAMED IN ERROR—Two young Michigan screech owls, residents of Detroit, give each other the eye in no uncertain terms. Perhaps they've just learned that bird experts claim they're misnamed. It seems that a screech owl's cry is a "series of clear, tremulous and plaintive notes," rather than a screech, so the "screech" owl moniker is in error.

Famed Scientist Says 'Keep Active Mentally, Physically' For Long Life

Dr. Benjamin Minge Dugger, discoverer of the "wonder drug" aureomycin, says that his philosophy for a long, satisfying life is "Keep active, mentally and physically." He will be 81 years old September 1.

Dr. Dugger practices what he preaches. At an age when most men would be content to sit in the shade and reminisce, this famed scientist still carries on a full-time research program.

He also finds time to have a small vegetable garden every summer—raising tomatoes, corn, okra and lettuce—and to play an occasional round of golf. He also fishes and in the winter he gets in some bowling.

Dr. Dugger is not a physical superman. He stands about five feet-five inches and constantly weighs 122 pounds.

The story of how this man gained world-wide prominence is one of the most dramatic stories of our time. In 1943, at the age of 71, he was forced by state law to retire from the University of Wisconsin, where he taught botany. Not content to sit in the shade and hold his hands, Dr. Dugger began searching for an antibiotic that would be more effective than penicillin.

Dr. Dugger worked three years with teams of chemists, bacteriologists, pharmacologists and other scientists, culturing thousands of earth molds, before the "golden wonder drug" aureomycin was isolated and developed for commercial production. The antibiotic was put on the market in 1948, when Dr. Dugger was 76.

But his scientific endeavors did not stop there. He is still working with the mysterious molds which live in the earth, hoping to find another antibiotic drug which will be even more beneficial than aureomycin.

Dr. Dugger was born in 1872, at Gallion, Alabama, son of a country doctor. There were five boys. One brother is still living (79), and the others, two of whom were older than the scientist, died in recent years. Dr. Dugger's father lived to 82 and his mother to 79.

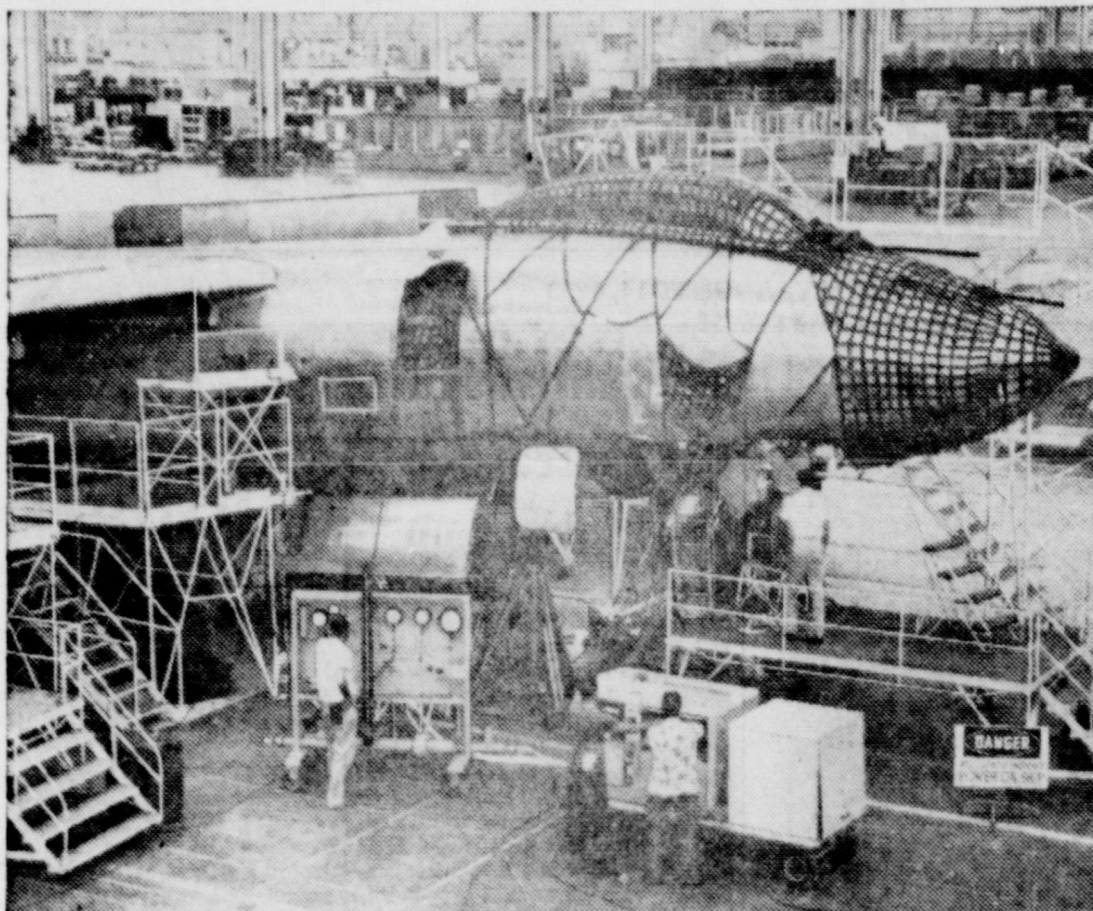

He recalls that he was riding a horse at the age of four. He has never been seriously ill, and even escaped many of the usual childhood diseases.

Does he smoke? Yes, a pipe—but with moderation. He also has an occasional brandy or highball.

"Moderation is a wonderful thing," he advises. "Work and play with moderation."

Does he ever plan to retire? He says he does, but most of his associates take this with a grain of salt. For Dr. Dugger is a man with an insatiable curiosity about things scientific.

What could keep a man working at his age? Dr. Dugger sincerely hopes that he can make another substantial contribution to medical science.

SOCK ON THE NOSE—When an idea "socks" you, and you try it out, you hardly expect to wind up with a "sock on the nose." But that's exactly what happened to aircraft worker Joe Gabriel at the Lockheed plant in Marietta, Ga. Joe developed a nylon protective sock, in use above, to guard special crews making pressurization tests in the cockpits of B-47s.

TRAVELING IN STYLE—When 14-year-old Ted Hamann (center) looked inside his mother's parked car in Houston, Tex., he was surprised indeed to see this racoon "hitch-hiker." The animal was later removed by the local Humane Society. Flanking Ted above are Susan Garwood, 12, and Jon Bennett, 13.

... and own real estate in this county, we have a complete record of your title from the State deed down to the present time whether it be a vacant lot, the big house in town or a dude ranch in the hills. Exactly how much land do I own? Any surplus or minerals? Mortgaged? Any adverse claimants? Is my record title chain unbroken? All these questions and many more are answered when we build your abstract in our modern plant.

Rebekah Lodge Holds Meeting On Thursday

The weekly meeting of the Rebekah Lodge was held Thursday evening at the hall with Mrs. Effie May as noble grand, presiding. The meeting opened in regular session with the reading of the minutes and Mrs. Lydia Krauskopf reported on the secretary's report. She attended recently to the funeral of Mrs. Dee Clemens and Mrs. Effie Mayhew also attended the meeting. Routine business matters were transacted and the meeting closed in regular session.

Nazarenes Will Hold Homecoming

Evangelist H. E. Darnell will preach both morning and evening sermons Sunday as the Church of the Nazarene observes its annual homecoming event, the Rev. D. M. Duke, pastor, announced today.

Sunday's program calls for dinner on the grounds, a singing at 2 p. m. and memorial services at 3 p. m.

The public was invited to attend the annual program.

MRS. HOGUE IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. W. C. Hogue of Cisco was reported to be improving today in a Wichita Falls hospital after undergoing surgery there this week. Mr. Hogue, who is district superintendent of the Humble Pipe Line Company offices here, was in Wichita Falls with his wife.

Plans For Picnic Are Made By OES Chapter

The Cisco Chapter No. 461 of the Order of Eastern Stars met in regular session Tuesday evening at the Masonic Lodge with the chapter matron presiding.

REPORT --

...of business men, soil conservation districts and agricultural leaders. Charles Maedgen, president of the Lubbock National Bank, heads the advisory group. With "For Lands Sake," slogan, the group is sponsoring a week-long publicity crusade for the use of soil conservation practices to produce cover on insufficiently protected lands. Brownfield, center of one of the most troublesome areas in the erosion season, J. O. Gilliam, president of the State National Bank and Trust Company, has headed a drive against the erosion of the entire area of Louisiana, Arkansas, 75 counties in eastern Texas and the east half of Oklahoma. About 35 states in Arkansas, comprising the west and southwest areas, are in very dry condition still, with severely damaged pastures. Approximately 30 counties in central Texas and about the same number of counties in central and western Oklahoma are in very dry condition but have effective cover.

Merrill recently said that in his opinion there should not be a return to wind erosion conditions of the 1930's. He gave the following reasons:

1. Farmers and ranchers have the "know how" to prevent widespread erosion.
2. Owners cooperating with soil conservation districts are using sound erosion control practices on hundreds of thousands of acres of farm and ranch lands.
3. Owners have more and better control machines with which they control erosion.
4. Larger areas have irrigation facilities available for growing plant cover.
5. Farmers and ranchers have to much "horse sense" to let the conditions return.

Pasture Forage Plan Saves Time and Money

Plan showing potential pasture crops for latitude of Southern Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. Any farmer can prepare a similar plan for his locality from which he can make up his own pasture schedule.

Every progressive farmer has come to realize the value of planning his farming operations ahead. Some of his planning needs to be considered only as it relates to crop-production, in which major consideration is given to available land, suitability of crops to climate and soil, and his ability to sow, harvest and otherwise handle the crops. However, if he is a livestock farmer there is one part of his planning that must take top place. That is supplying nutritious feed to his livestock the year round. This is where the pasture-forage plan comes into the picture.

It has been definitely proved that the maximum optimum use of natural pasture or high-grade forage the year round is conducive to the best health and nutrition of most livestock and greater profits to the operator.

In much of the South, it is possible to maintain pastures the year round or for 10 to 11 months of the year, but in the North, stored forage must be available for from 5 to 7 months.

The first step is to survey the livestock population you have or intend to have and determine your pasture-forage requirements.

Next, list (a) area and composition of permanent pasture, (b) acres given over to long-term alfalfa or other hay and silage crops, and (c) adapted emergency crops suitable for use during hot summer months or other periods when permanent pasture may not be available or adequate. These should be diagrammed for the 12 months showing the relative quantities each can furnish toward this program.

Full consideration should be given to possible droughts or other unfavorable pasture conditions and plan for somewhat more than would be necessary under favorable conditions. The under any season can be relied for use as feed during the hot summer or winter months when pasture is short.

BOUND FOR ALL-STAR FOOTBALL GAME

Boarding their chartered Continental Trailways buses in Kilgore for the big game in Chicago are the Kilgore College Rangerettes. EXTRA ATTRACTION—The beach at Honolulu, Hawaii, is plenty beautiful to begin with. Clear blue sea, swaying palm trees and silver sands make the setting among the world's most romantic. And when you add a pretty girl, like actress Donna Reed, you come pretty close to paradise. Donna ad libbed this scene as she relaxed during film shooting.

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

The nature or function of the gallbladder is little understood by the average person.

The gallbladder is a way station for the bile in its passage from the liver, where it is formed, to the duodenum, the part of the small intestine just beyond the stomach. Probably the gallbladder's most important duty is to store and concentrate bile. It has been estimated that the healthy gallbladder can reduce the bile from eight to ten times.

Causes of gallstone formation are perhaps varied; one factor is a change in the function of the liver. Stones may be of many shapes and sizes. They may lie free in the gallbladder, sometimes filling it completely. Perhaps they pass on to the duodenum without causing pain. However, they can be troublesome if they catch somewhere in the passageway to the intestine. The symptoms with this kind of obstruction may be colicky pain, indigestion, vomiting, jaundice (a yellowing of the skin and eyeballs), or a change in the color of the bowl movements.

A history-taking and physical examination, coupled with x-rays of the gallbladder called "cholecystograms," make the diagnosis evident to the physician. Many times a patient doesn't know he has gallstones until they are discovered in the course of an examination or operation done for some other condition, in which case they are described as "silent." Because they may block the passage of bile causing the symptoms previously listed or may lead to cancer of the gallbladder, a doctor may advise having the gallbladder removed even though it isn't giving trouble at the time.

The gallbladder isn't essential to life. Lately scientists have come to believe that man's digestion may not be quite as good without it, but many patients have lost the organ and apparently been none the worse. Before "cholecystectomy," as an operation to remove the gallbladder is called, the surgeon will consider carefully such factors as the patient's age and general health, which may have an important bearing on his decision to operate or the type of surgery performed.
