The Loan For Apartments In Loraine Is Approved Recently

Loraine has had a loan of $385,000 recently approved for the construction of 16 apartments in Loraine by the FmHA (Farmers Home Administration) office, according to David Marion.

The apartment complex construction will begin sometime in October and estimated to be completed by March of 1982.

The loan was presented to Loraine with a 13 1/4 percent loan note rate of interest to be paid back in 50 years.

Marion stated that he has been working on the loan since 1975 and received a lot of assistance from Fred Witta of Loraine.

According to Marion, the money has already been approved by FmHA but was subject to the availability of HUD (Housing and Urban Development) section 8 subsidizing, which makes the one bedroom apartments that would normally rent for $301 a month, reduced to 25 percent of a tenants monthly income.

Marion added that the estimated cost of utilities for the one bedroom apartments would be approximately $57 a month and $61 for a two bedroom apartment.

In conclusion, Marion stated that this project has been the number one FmHA project in the district and number three in the state.

The Bid For The Hospital Car Is Granted To Hutchins Ford

The Hospital Board of Directors met Tuesday night at 8 p.m., in the conference room of Root Memorial Hospital.

A motion was granted to write off the unpaid bills owed to the hospital. The board will meet again tonight (Monday), at 7 p.m., for a budget workshop.

The board granted permission to Ray Dillard, hospital administrator, to hire people to take the hospital inventory.

Dillard stated to the board that the new telephone system was in and is operating at 100 percent and had ran out of telephone receptacles. This new telephone system can transmit an EKG from any room in the hospital to any hospital anywhere, stated Dillard.

Dillard told the board that the computer that the hospital is getting should be in by September 11. This computer will be programmed for the accounts receivable of the hospital at first.

The board appointed Bob Reily and Hubert Mearse to be on the committee to study the insurance policies that the hospital is accepting bids for. The board also set October 15 at 3 p.m., as the date to open and read the bids for the insurance.

Bids were received and opened for the lease of a hospital car. The bid was awarded to Hutchins Ford of Colorado City for a 1982 Ford LTD. The hospital will pay $245 a month for leasing this car.

A Experimental Variety Of Cotton Is Seen On Field Day In Loraine

The Custom Ag Field Day was held Thursday with registration and coffee and donuts at 8:30 a.m., at Custom Ag.

Everyone toured the research facilities and the greenhouse before boarding six buses and several cars and pickups to begin the tour of farms.

The first stop was at the research farm to look at some soybean experiments. Next, there was a stop at the same farm to look at some hybrid cotton.

After stopping at three more cotton fields to look at a new variety of cotton that Custom Ag is growing, the group returned to Loraine where a bar-b-q lunch was awaiting everyone.

Following the lunch, Reagan Brown, Commissioner of Agriculture for the state of Texas, gave the keynote address.

Chamber Of Commerce Will Meet Tonight

The Colorado City Chamber of Commerce will meet tonight (Monday) at 7 p.m., in the Chamber of Commerce office.

According to Jack Hollis, chamber manager, this is not the regularly scheduled board meeting, but a rescheduled meeting. The meeting was rescheduled because of conflicting schedule of the president.

The chamber of commerce agenda will include the approval of the financial statement. The water at the Rodeo Arena will also be discussed. The annual Christmas parade and the decision about whether to sponsor the Mitchell County Champion Cowboy Rodeo or not.

The agenda will end with other chamber business being discussed, concluded Hollis.

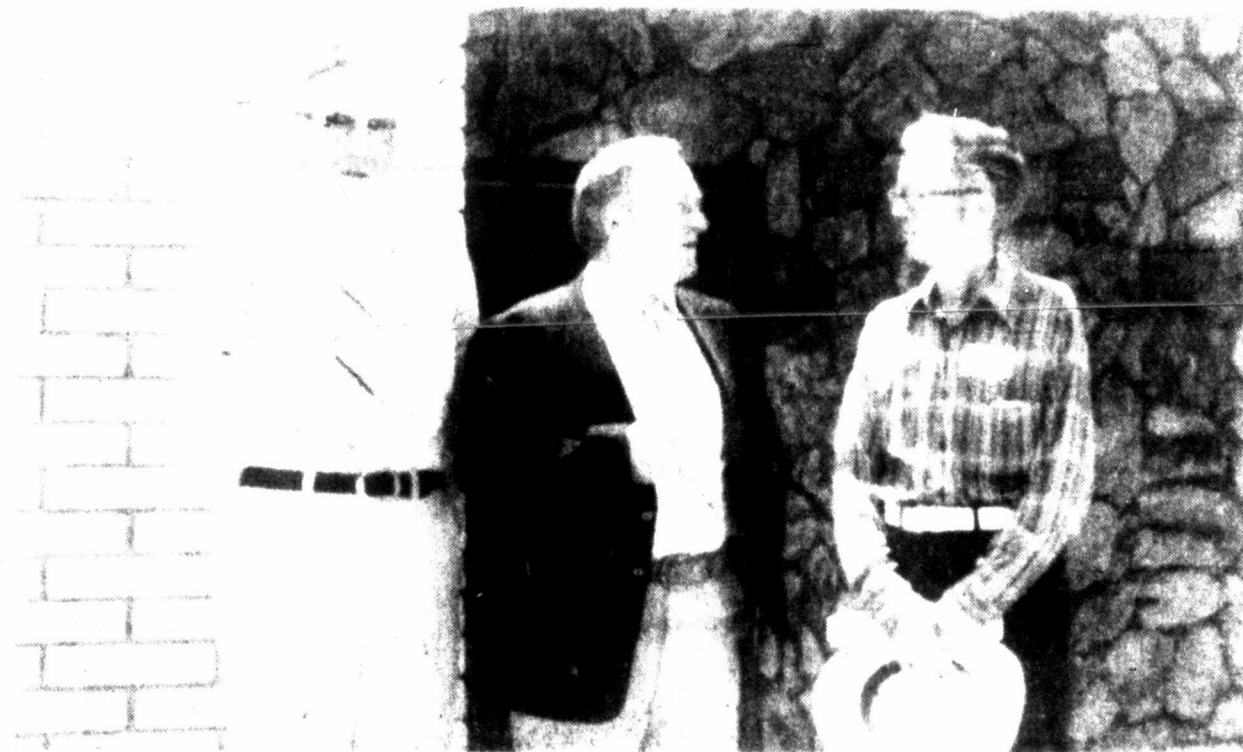

A Good Dove Season Is Expected This Year

Hunters take notice, Dove season is set to begin tomorrow (Tuesday) and will conclude on October 30, according to Ronnie Aston, game warden.

Dove hunters hunting in Mitchell County will not need a license to hunt if they are local residents, stated Aston. He added however, that permission from the land owner was imperative in order not to be fined for poaching.

The bag limit has been raised from 10 to 12 birds per day and the possession limit to 36.

Aston stated, "the dove crop looks good and I expect a good season."

SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE BILL CLAYTON, (center), talks over the farm tour with Mayor Elmer Martin as Van Mills of the ASCS Office adds his comments to the discussion.

Shower Does Not Put A Damper On Mitchell County Farm Tour

The early morning shower Thursday morning did not put a damper on the Annual Mitchell County Farm Tour that was scheduled to leave at 9 a.m., but in fact presented a cool atmosphere for the entire tour.

Following coffee, donuts and a short visitation period, five buses furnished by the Colorado Independent School District, left the center for the tour.

According to Van Mills of the Mitchell County Soil and Water Conservation District, the tour was a complete success and it could not have been any better.

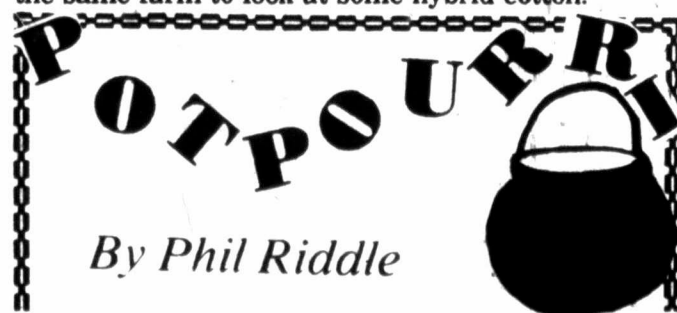

The tour stopped at six local farms in Mitchell

County to look at cotton variety demonstrations, terracing, new waterway systems and nematode control demonstrations.

Highlighting the tour, was a watermelon break at the W. H. Narrell Polled Hereford Ranch with Travis Turner again furnishing the watermelons.

Following the farm tour, the group returned to the Civic Center where Inman's Kitchens of Llano catered a bar-b-q luncheon. Approximately 200 persons attended the luncheon to hear keynote speaker, Speaker of the House Bill Clayton, speak.

Clayton presented an informative presentation on the necessity and importance that farmers played in the national as well as world trades scenes.

My favorite thing is a good joke. The publisher of the Ballinger Ledger, Wes Burnett, is a graduate of Texas A&M, and as such hears a good many of the beloved "Aggie Jokes." Now I don't intend to make fun of any school but this story, related to me by Wes, is just too good to keep to myself.

It seems that there were three gentlemen traveling in a foreign country by car when the unpardonable happened...they hit and killed a citizen of the country in which they were sight-seeing. They were tried in very short order by a military court that found all three men guilty of murdering their country man. They were sentenced to the electric chair immediately.

The first man was marched to the chair and was asked by the guard if he had any last words. The man, in reply, said, "I am a graduate of the University of Texas law school and this is the worst possible travesty of justice. The executioner then flipped the switch and nothing happened. The foreign authorities then conferred as to what to do about the faulty equipment and it was decided to release the Texas lawyer.

The second condemned American was brought before his accusers and asked if he had any last words, to which he replied, "I am a graduate of the Baylor School of Divinity and I will forgive you for this foul act even as God forgives you." Again the switch was flipped...again nothing happened...again

This Week Proclaimed To Be "Easy Shopping In Colorado City"

The development and growth of our nation's giant shopping centers grew out of the need for convenient shopping facilities for the family, but in the last 10 years, they have become more inconvenient than the original shopping areas they were built to supplement.

In a study of the business areas of Colorado City, it has been found that our families are just minutes away from any business they want to visit. Store-side parking makes the shopping comfortable and easy. The availability of products and merchandise is as great or greater than in the average shopping center. Credit services, lay-away policies, personal interest of businessmen and salespeople all combine to make it easy to shop in Colorado City.

"Easy Shopping In Colorado City" is a natural theme for this week's campaign of our business community.

The businessmen urge you to consider the time and cost of traveling to a giant shopping center somewhere out of our community. They urge you to consider the inconvenience of distance between the actual parking place and the store you may want to visit. The long and tiresome walk from store to store and the lack of personal attention and interest of each business.

You will truly realize how convenient, comfortable and pleasant it is to shop in Colorado City.

Check the section of advertisements in this newspaper for "Easy Shopping In Colorado City" this week and every week of the year.

Q. As a single woman, it's taken me a long time, but I've finally made the decision to do some basic maintenance on my car myself. What basic list of tools would you suggest for a "beginner"?
A. In order to cover all the bases of basic maintenance, how about beginning with an oil filter wrench and drain pan for oil changes, a sparkplug wrench and gapper for plug maintenance and a tire pressure gauge, and use it often! Also, add some very basic tools you'll use a lot in different maintenance areas. A crescent wrench and a good assortment of straight blade and Phillips screwdrivers are musts. A socket wrench set, pliers, box or open-end wrenches and a funnel will be a big help. You might even want to invest in a hand-operated grease gun (that job isn't as difficult as you may think), as well as a radiator flush kit. That's just a start, but should keep you in business for a long time.

Letter To The Editor

By Mrs. Mattie Conaway Hines
The first school that was held in the area which later became Spade Community was taught by Bertha Conaway in the summer of 1899. In speaking of that experience she related this experience:
"In the summer of 1899, I taught Spade's first school, it was called Liberty then. The people had taken up money to hire a teacher. They gave me $75.00 to teach a three months term. I was re-elected for the next year. I was only 17 years old when I got my certificate in April before my eighteenth birthday in June and that summer I taught my first school at Liberty."

My room and board cost me $5.00 per month. I stayed with Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Hargrove. There were three of my students older than I. One of them, Mary Van Zandt who was twenty-five years old and I only eighteen.

I always read the Bible and had a prayer each morning at the opening of the days work. I very often had to chop the wood and build my own fires. Of course, during that time the boys chopped some."

Other pioneer teachers were Miss Willie Davis, who taught the term following Bertha, Alex Davis and Miss Irla Scoggins. The first post office was called Herbert.

In 1910, a new building was erected at the location on Wild Horse Creek and the names of the school and post office were changed to Spade. The spade is the brand used by the ranch which lies south of the community and was established by L. L. Ellwood. The ranch is known as the Rendbrook Ranch.

Some of the pioneer citizens of the community were: R. F. Hargrove, his brother Bill, Charlie May, J. L. Van Zandt, F. W. Crump and J. D. Falkner.

This and other rural school buildings in the county were similar. All the buildings were one-room structures, with a door in one of the solid ends and two or three narrow windows on each side. They were furnished with home-made benches of various lengths of lumber. There were no blackboards, as the children used slates. Usually there was a long bench at the front of the room, known as the "recitation" bench where the pupils were called to recite their lessons, such as the Spade school in 1910 and several years later.

Text books used by the pupils were furnished by their parents until the free textbook law was passed in 1919. Often the pupils brought what books were read and studied with no attention given to the grades. One reader would be read and re-read all year until the stories were practically memorized.

The drinking water was carried in buckets from Wild Horse Creek. Everyone drank from the same dipper. Later, cisterns were dug and the water drawn by hand, using a bucket and a rope drawn on a pulley.

Games of "town ball" were played by all the pupils from the smallest to the largest, with the teacher participating. The ball was home-made, often from the ravelings from discarded stockings; the bat was made from a mesquite tree limb with the bark peeled from it. Other games as "Wolf Over the River," "Little White House Over the Hill" and "Pop the Whip" were played.

The school house was not only an educational center, but also the religious hub of the community. Literary societies were held regularly on Friday evenings where not only the children appeared on the programs, but their parents as well.

Singing schools were held at Spade. I recall attending a singing school which was taught by prof. J. T. Elliott. He had taught the Conaway School, which I attended about 1911 or 1912.

More people had moved into the Spade Community and a larger two-story building took the place of the smaller school structure. In 1928, Spade was teaching ten grades. It along with Iatan, Carr, Conaway and Rogers were four teacher schools, teaching ten grades.

Spade had a five-room building, equipped with a Delco light plant. This modern school building cost $15,000.00 when erected, and was equipped to teach home economics and general science. It had an auditorium with a seating capacity of 300. A large five-room teacherage was located near the building. There were seventy-seven (77) enrolled and a nine-month term was held in the 1934-35 term.

The consolidation movement had been begun in the county and the 1934-1935 school term at Spade marked the last year of teaching ten grades. The next year only seven (7) grades were taught, then six (6) grades were taught the next two years. In 1938-1939, the entire school was transferred to Westbrook.

The change brought about by mechanized farming had caused the small farmers to seek other jobs. At one time, there were 29 rural schools in the county. In 1935, there were 25, gradually these were consolidated with one of the three high schools, Westbrook, Colorado and Loraine.

The last rural school to transfer was Seven Wells School, which transferred at the end of the 1947-48 term. It was the first rural school in the county begun in the early 1880's.

I have tried to give you a brief history of the early school which was first known as Liberty; a post office named Herbert, later changed to Spade.

I wish I could name more of the families who lived at the time in this area. I do want to pay tribute to the excellent teachers in the Hood family. Minnie Lee and Mabel both taught, as well as five of their aunts and uncles. There was Jim, Rufus, Jeff and Lydia and Minnie. All of whom were excellent school teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hood were leaders in the Spade Baptist Church and the community during their lifetime.

Spade Community Held Get-Together At The CC Thompson Room August 1

On August 1, the Spade Community held a get-together at the C. C. Thompson Room in the City National Bank annex building. Bennie Black registered guests. A morning of visitation and the sharing of old pictures and other memorabilia was enjoyed.

The invocation for the covered dish luncheon was given by Jack Jarnagin. Pictures of the group was taken by Tom Goss, II.

At 1:30 p.m., a program began. Several people gave early remembrances of the community, churches, school, and their families. Mrs. Mattie Hines gave an early history of the Liberty and Spade Schools. Nellie Grace Hargrove-Haley added some interesting information concerning the early school building and community activities.

The Rev. Homer Salley told of the Spade Methodist Church history. Minnie Lee Hood-Moore gave a history of the early Liberty and Spade Baptist Churches, which was taken from the old church minutes book. Mrs. Stella Welch-Bennett and Mrs.

Elizabeth Welch-Gary gave some information, remembrances, and early history of the Welch and Browne families in Spade.

Ivan Barber told of his family's coming to Spade from Mason County and some of their adventures on the way. Gladys Loveless-Meskimen modeled a dress which had belonged to her grandmother, Dora Northcutt. She also gave remembrances of her grandparents—the Jesse Northcuts, who were early residents. Otto VanZandt told of the VanZandts coming to Mitchell County and settling in the Spade Community.

The Barber family was recognized as having the largest representation of descendants present, a total of 16 members. The Hargroves had 13 descendants. The Browne family had nine members present.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gary was recognized as the oldest member present—being 91 years old. Two ex-Spade teachers were recognized — Mabel Hood-Logan, who had 11 of her ex-students present and Mrs. Pauline Hargrove-Ponting.

The youngest descendant was Sandra Gainey, daughter of Ronnie and Brenda Gainey, granddaughter of Harold and Joan Barber-Gainey of Monahans and great granddaughter of Douglass Barber.

The person coming the farthest was C. G. Board from Modesto, California. The oldest continual resident of the Spade Community is Ross Hargrove. Couple married longest was Tom and Alma Grant for 58 years.

Stenholm Report

By Charles W. Stenholm

As we move into the second century of our history as a nation, beginning our 205th year, we move from an era of criticism to what I believe is an era of true optimism.

Many times during the past 205 years, our nation has faced problems that have seemed insurmountable. But every time a major obstacle to our country's well-being comes along, Americans have been able to reach down to their bootstraps, pull themselves up and stand tall.

The free enterprise system has been challenged. To understand what is happening to erode that cornerstone of our country, we should listen to a voice from the past. Professor Tyler of Edinburg University expressed it very well back in the 18th Century when he said:

"A democracy cannot exist as a permanent form of government. It can only exist until the majority discovers it can vote itself monies out of the public treasury. From that time on, the majority always votes for the candidate who promises the most benefits from the public treasury, with the result that a democracy always collapses over a loose fiscal policy, always to be followed by a dictatorship."

That need not be this country's destiny. With determination and resolve, with courage, sacrifice and hard work on the part of every citizen and every elected representative of that citizenry, the second century can be our country's brightest century.

Bob Bullock Report

State Comptroller Bob Bullock announced that August city sales tax rebate checks to 952 Texas cities will total $95.8 million.

This month's payment brings the cities' year-to-date totals to $439.3 million compared to $392.9 million during a comparable period in 1980.

On a statewide average, sales tax payments are up this year by nearly 12 percent over 1980, according to Bullock.

Bullock said the August payments include quarterly payments from merchants and businesses for the year's second quarter.

Colorado City's check this month is for $27,836.52 bringing the city's total this year to $128,382.58, up 10.63 percent over 1980 payments.

This is compared to $19,618.44 at the end of August 1980 and the 1981 payment to date is $116,050.75.

Loraine will receive $1,450.95 bringing their 1981 total to $3,822.57, this is down 26.46 percent. Their 1980 total of $1,576.00 for this same period. Their 1981 total for 1980 was $5,197.96.

City sales taxes are collected along with the state's sales tax by merchants and businesses and rebated monthly by the Comptroller's office to the cities in which they are levied, concluded Bullock.

Branding Represents The Way Of Life

By TRACY BARTLEY

Branding is known to have been around at least 2,000 years before Christ. There has been brands found in tombs that has represented the old way of life and the progress of the world.

Jacob, the great herdsman, branded his stock. Greeks and Chinese also practiced branding in ancient times.

The first branding of cattle in America was done by a man named Cortes, who, after he had conquered Mexico, settled down and became a rancher.

The purpose of a brand is not only mark your stock, but to also mark it where rustlers cannot change them.

An ear mark was also used for faster identification. If there was a large herd, the ear could be seen easily, whereas the flank brand would be obscured by the closely packed cattle.

Cowboys took pride in having the ability to read brands. Some brands would be seen that could be read two ways and this would start ceaseless arguments.

Cattle are usually branded while they are calves. They may struggle and bleat, but in a few minutes they are alright.

Unclaimed or unbranded animals over a year old, was said to have caused more killings in the West than any other source. All brands must be registered, even the government-owned livestock is branded.

Brands are read from top to bottom and from left to right. Here are some tips on reading brands: In a horizontal, it is called "lazy," in an oblique position it is called "tumbling," with little wings it is called "flying," with a rocker underneath it is called "rocking," it is spended it is called "swining," a long horizontal line is called a "rail," two horizontal lines are called "two rails," three horizontal lines are called "strips." A short horizontal line is called a "bar," a diagonal line is called a "slash," a large 0 is called a "mashed 0" or a "goose egg" and a square or a rectangle is called a "box."

Brand registration in Mitchell County will begin today (Monday) in the county clerk's office.

The cost of the re-registration is $5 per brand, per location on the animal.

An important factor to consider is that if a brand is not re-registered, then it would be available for someone else to use.

Dr. Gene McClurg, Dean of Occupational Education and Technology at WTC, welcomed the guests. Dr. Jim Tully, Dean of Learning Resources, gave the invocation and benediction. Darrell Collins, vocalist and Cecile Hubbard, pianist, presented music during the program.

A reception honoring the students and their families followed in the fellowship hall of the church.

C.B. Club Holds Meeting

C. B. Club met in the Texas Electric Reddy Room recently, for their annual meeting.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Burnett, Larry Knight and son of Sweetwater, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bunch, Mae Barr and sons, Andy Watkins, Lory Brown, Myra Smith and daughter and La Manda of Snyder.

The Club has started two fund raising events which are the selling of two devil eye cloth owls and selling pins and appliques.

September 4 will be their next meeting.

Football Predictions

By Lon Moore

1981 is quickly shaping up to be one of intense interest in the NFL. There are, as usual, several good teams, a few great teams, and some teams that could be really good with the right breaks coming their direction. This is how I feel the divisional races will shape up this fall.

NFC West

The Rams are now without an NFL caliber quarterback, so the boys from Southern California, will finish second to the ever-improving Atlanta Falcons. The Falcons would be a good bet to go a long way this season and continue to win in the post-season play-offs. The Saints will be a much improved team from last year, but one season won't make the difference. The fellas from Bourbon Street can't expect to finish any better than third. The San Francisco 49ers will finish last because they are missing a very vital element to any winning football team... a defense. The 49ers will, again this season, drop too many 42-35 games.

NFC Central

This division should be a dog-fight because of almost absolute parity throughout. The Vikings will win the division because of experience in clutch situations, but don't look for them to advance far in the playoffs. They will be followed closely by the Packers (that's right, the rejuvenated Pack is on the way back), the Bears, the Lions of Detroit and everybody's whipping boy, The Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

NFC East

The Eagles, The Redskins, and our very own Cowboys, should all three make the playoffs this year. The Eagles are still tough, though not as hungry as a year ago. The Redskins are about to open up after hiding their offense under a bushel last season and Danny White and the Cowboys are a year more mature. Any of these three could be sitting atop the heap in December. Since I am a Texan and a Cowboy fan, I'll pick the Cowboys, the Redskins and the Eagles. This order is subject to change as the season progresses.

AFC West

The Chargers are an absolute cinch to go to the Super Bowl this year. How many times have you heard that one? This year, with Chuck Muncie as their ground attack, could be the year for the Chargers to begin dealing in Roman numerals. They should be followed closely by the Broncos of Dan Reeves, the outcasts (Oakland), Seattle's Seahawks and the Chiefs. The team to watch for surprises is Denver.

AFC Central

This used to be the toughest division in football, but no more. The Steelers are aging and the Oilers are content with second place. The one team that could really go places from this division is the Cleveland Browns. Potent offense, good defense and excellent special teams play, makes the Browns the boys to beat in the Central race. They will be followed by Pittsburgh, Houston and the Bengals of Cincinnati.

AFC East

Buffalo and New England will finish one-two in this tough neighborhood. Both squads should be around when the dust settles from the regular season, but the Bills have Chuck Knox and should be a serious contender for the AFC berth at the Super Bowl in January. Following the Bills and Pats, will be Miami, Baltimore and perennial cellar dweller, the New York Jets.

There are my preseason picks for the NFL... by the way if anyone asks you who will win the SWC crown this year, you would be safe in saying Houston, SMU or Texas. The rest of the conference will be scrounging for leftovers. Until next week... LM

Wolves Are Looking Good

In varsity volleyball action thru the first three matches, the Wolves have been victorious twice while being on the negative side once. This is a super beginning, stated George Martin, Varsity Volleyball Coach.

The first match saw the Wolves defeat Water Valley 15-8, 15-13 while seeing some very good individual efforts by players. The first game, Captain Karla Herm had nine set-ups, Captain Diana Castillo had four points and five perfect serves, Stacy Hamrick, Tomika Randle, and Rachael Lujan had good spikes, and Pam Wilson had two set-ups and two good saves. The second game saw another group of Wolves being victorious.

In this game, Hollie Toplin had three set-ups and Mona Molina had two set-ups with one good save. Doing an outstanding job of spiking were Robyn Turner, Laura Baum, Carolyn Green and Kerry Spivey.

The only negative outcome from the match was too many mental errors-16 that have to be worked out before the Wolves are going to be the class team they need to be for the 1981 season, added Martin.

The second match of the season saw the Wolves come to defeat at the hands of San Angelo Lakeview. In this match, the Wolves were soundly defeated 4-15, 11-15. Again errors were the negative aspect of the match and these contributed to the match being won by Lakeview. But there were bright spots during the two games. Outstanding performances were done by Karla Herm, Tomika Randle and Pam Wilson in the first game.

In the second game, good performances by Hollie Toplin, Carolyn Green, Laura Baum, Mona Molina, and Robyn Turner were turned in. This was a very good learning experience match for the Wolves as they learned one valuable lesson, and that is to try and handle the pressure that is put on one during a very competitive game and the only way to handle it is to get the experience while playing, stated Martin.

The third match of the season, the Wolves traveled to Sweetwater for some of the very best and exciting games that one can see. In the first game, the Wolves won 15-11. Outstanding were Karla Herm, Laura Baum, Tomika Randle, Stacy Hamrick and Mona Molina.

The Wolves were defeated 10-15 the second game as too many errors again spelled the loss. Karla Herm, Mona Molina and Stacy Hamrick were above average in this game. But in the third and final game, the Wolves and Mustangs battled down to the wire, with the Wolves being victorious 15-6 in the most exciting game of the night.

Pam Wilson, Laura Baum, Tomika Randle and Karla Herm led the charge along with Stacy Hamrick and Carolyn Green. Wilson had seven set-ups and Baum had eight points served and eight perfect serves. Randle had two spikes and one block while Herm had two good saves and Hamrick had a super game at the net.

This puts the Wolves volleyball varsity team off to a good start at 2-1 in non-district games. With every practice session and every game, the team members will get the correct mental attitudes as well as fundamentals needed to become the District 7-AAA Champions again in 1981. The girls would like to thank all the news media, fans and especially the parents for their support at all of the volleyball games this year, added Coach Martin.

When the school bell rings in the late summer, telling everyone that the beginning of school is at hand, there's other sounds which can be heard by the deafest of ears, whether it be the clash of the titan Wolves on the football field, the power and grace of the spikers on the volleyball team, the cheers of the cheerleaders and pep squads, the March Grandiose and marching of the band, the rustle of the flags by the flag corps, or the sound of a baton being twirled into the air by a twirler, it means one thing-that a well rounded program is in full swing for the students at Colorado High School. The Wolves volleyball teams are off to a very good start already, having played Water Valley, San Angelo Lake View and Sweetwater.

The Wolves football teams are working very hard and conditioning their minds as well as their bodies during two-a-days this past two weeks to open their respective seasons on September 3 and 4 against Slaton.

All fans and parents of Colorado High students and athletes say "Good luck this school year and seasons to you all."

Wolves Mangle Anson In Friday's Scrimmage

BY PHIL RIDDLE

My newcomer's status along with the "Numberless" jerseys in Friday's scrimmage prevented a detailed description of the action, but beginning next week the games will be synopsized in these very pages so that you may keep up with the progress of our Wolves.

"It's not the size of the dog in the fight, but the size of the fight in the dog." If ever that old homily rang true, it is with the 1981 Colorado High School Wolves.

The Friday scrimmage against Anson proved what we had been hearing from the coaching staff, "These boys are not big but they are quick and they are going to surprise some people."

And Surprise they did!

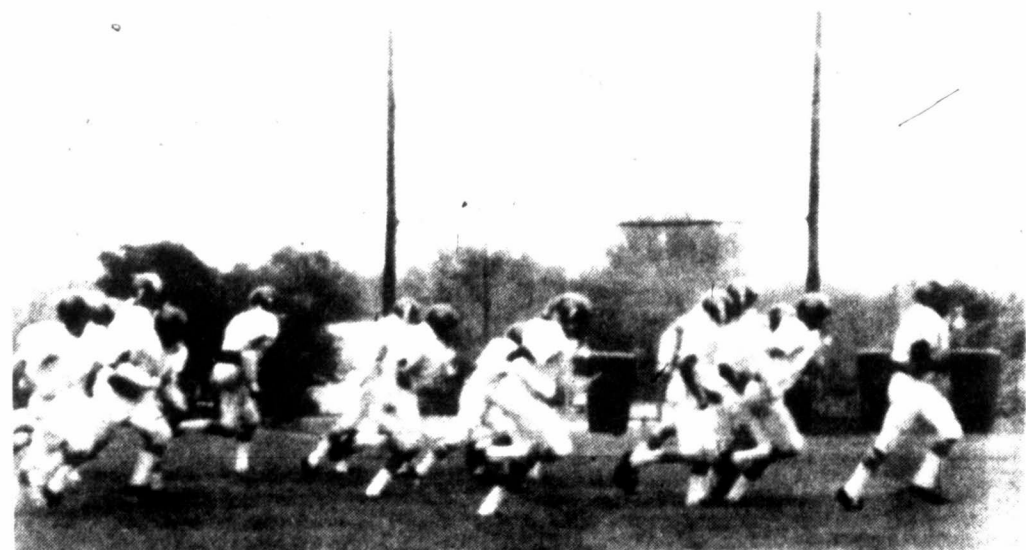

Anson's offense was all but stymied by the tough, stingy Wolves defense. Of the first twelve plays from scrimmage, Anson gained only 20 yards, and actually lost yardage on four of these plays.

The key word for the entire Wolves team is "Discipline". The defenders from the linemen to the safeties were always in position and ready to turn a gain into a loss or turnover.

The offense also showed flashes of brilliance Friday. In two plays, the Wolves bullied the boys from Anson into their own end zone.

Though we may be a bit premature in making plans as to where the state championship trophy will be displayed, it is evident that the Wolves, both offensively and defensively, have the heart and desire needed to come out on top in a good many contests this year.

those in power released the prisoner.

Finally, the third felon was brought to be electrocuted. He, too, was asked if he had any final words before he departed for the great beyond. In reply, he said to the guard, "Yes, I am a graduate of the Texas A&M School of Engineering and if you'll connect that white wire over there to the red one, this gizmo will work 100 percent better."

My personal thanks and congratulations go to all the members of the Colorado High School Band for making this year's subscription drive a huge success. The band sold over 420 subscriptions and renewals and earned for themselves almost $1,200. Thanks are also in order for those of you who supported the band by purchasing a subscription or by renewing your subscription during this annual fund raising event. Again, thank you.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,
In response to recent and recurring reports of suspicious deaths, to incidents of abuse and neglect, and to other rights' violations at state schools for persons who are mentally retarded, the State School Committee of the Association for Retarded Citizens-Texas developed a Position Statement detailing its review of these reports and its pledge of support to the residents and their families.

This Position Statement was presented to the ARC-Texas Board of Directors at its fall meeting, August 8, 1981. After being amended by the Board to reflect its decision to file an amicus curiae brief in behalf of the Plaintiffs in the "Lelsz vs. Kavanaugh" federal class action law suit, the Position Statement was unanimously approved.

Sincerely,

Letter To The Editor

By Mrs. T. C. Moore
The first minutes were for Sept. 25, 1901. The brethren and sisters of the Missionary Baptist faith living in Liberty, Texas of Mitchell County met at the Liberty Schoolhouse for the purpose of organizing a Baptist Church. Elder Joe Bell acted as moderator and the following presented themselves to become members and resolved themselves into a church: J. D. Falkner, F.E. Falkner, M.E. King. The privilege for membership was offered and Sister E. E. Falkner was received on her experience and subject to baptism. At the evening service, Sister Sallie Crawford, on profession of faith, and Sister Angie May and Ida McCullough, by letter. Articles of faith and church covenant were adopted at first conference, also. The first pastor was Joe Bell and J. D. Falkner was first church clerk.

September 1902, Brother L. L. Welch, being a regular ordained deacon, by motion was elected to serve the church in that capacity. Brother N. P. Browne was elected and was to be ordained later (after considering the matter he asked the church to excuse him).

In 1903 Brother G. W. White was called as pastor to succeed Brother Joe Bell. The church voted to have their protracted meeting on the 4th Sunday of August—or as soon as the Methodist meeting closed.
August 1904, Brother J. S. Barber was elected deacon, also Joe Bell and W. S. Gibbs. The deacons were to meet with like committees from neighboring churches, together with New Hope Church to formulate plans and locate a place to hold a camp meeting.
March 1905, Brother J. J. Northcutt and wife, Sister Dora Northcutt, also Brother A. M. and Sister Nancy Northcutt were received by letters. Brother A. M. Northcutt was received as active deacon.
In 1905, a Sunday School was organized. Brother A. M. Northcutt to serve as Supt., J. D. Falkner as teacher, and Sister Etta Falkner as Secretary. Voted to meet on Sunday mornings at 10:00 A.M., ($1.85 was raised for literature).
June 1905, Brother and Sister I. C. Sheffield joined, he as an active deacon. Brother W. S. Gibbs was ordained to the ministry.

In July 1905, the church agreed to build a house of worship and appointed the following as building and finance committee: Deacons L. L. Welch, J. S. Barber, A. M. Northcutt and I. C. Sheffield. The committee made the following report: Brother J. J. Northcutt offered 4 acres on Wild Horse Creek. Brother W. A. Spencer offered one acre and would sell one acre adjoining the schoolhouse lot. Brother J. T. Northcutt offered 5 acres in the northwest corner of his land and Brother W. S. Gibbs offered all the land the church would want anywhere on his land. The church chose the Brother J. J. Northcutt land by a large majority. By motion, it was decided to build a house 26 by 40, with 12 foot walls. Lumber to be bought from A. J. Roe. Land was surveyed by Brother Charles May. Tuesday, November 1, 1905, was set to meet and begin work on the church building. A. M. Northcutt and Charles May built the church house for $1.50 per day each.
April 1906, met in a dedicatory service. Liberty Church gave $563.00, Colorado Church gave $212.00 and Westbrook gave $38.50 a cash collection of $64.50, making a total of $878.00—free of all debt.

June 3, 1906, a committee of J. S. Barber, Charles May and J. D. Falkner was to see about getting lights for the church. Four gasoline lamps, one kerosene lamp, and one bucket and two dippers—cost $9.10.
August 1906, the Rev. R. C. Goodman was called as pastor, and in September of that year the church agreed to keep up a mission station at Plainview Schoolhouse.
November 1906, a committee was appointed to make arrangements for building a flue and putting a stove in the church.
January 1907, a new record book was purchased and various members helped bring the book up to date by transcribing the old minutes.
May 1907, new song books—2 dozen Soul Songs.
August 1907, the Methodist brethren were granted the use of the church benches to use in their tabernacle and also use of the church building in case of bad weather during their protracted meeting.

September 1907, the Rev. G. C. Farris was called to pastor.
In 1907, the church clerk reported thirteen (13) of the membership hadn't attended in twelve months and on a motion was requested to drop them from the roll.
The first organ was purchased in 1908. It's cost was $47.75.
A new ceiling was installed in 1912, its cost $58.15.
May 1914, church "extended arm to Lowe Schoolhouse" and in July 1914 some members came into Spade Baptist Church as a result of a revival there.
In 1917, due to severe drought the church met very few times, people moved away and there were several letters of dismissal granted.
A new organ in 1920.
In 1924, services were held at Iolanthe on Sunday afternoon, Brother J. E. Black, pastor was in charge.
November 1927, the church granted Trustees of Spade School a water right-of-way through the church lot, with a pipe line to be buried deep enough not to be in the way.

In October 1928, a new piano was purchased (cost $235.00). Painting and repair in the amount of $76.00.
In 1930, other repairs made on the church.
An "arm was extended" to Conaway to receive members from a revival held by the Wares, (the year 1931 in August). Several new members were received into Spade Church fellowship, as a result.
July 1932 had a well-attended homecoming and it was voted to have another homecoming in July 1933. Former pastors attending were: J. E. Black, A. D. Leach, and G. C. Farris. They were all day affairs with "dinner on the ground." Barbeque having been prepared on the churchyard, afternoon services and singing.
The war years took their toll, many changes resulted. It became more and more difficult to obtain a pastor and the population had dwindled so much that it was decided to disband. July 1948, marked the last entry in the book of minutes.
That followed a revival held by a beloved former pastor—the Rev. J. E. Black. The Rev. H. L. Bloodworth was the last pastor, however, R. A. Hood, the last church clerk kept paying the Associational Dues until his death in 1963.

Letter To The Editor

By Rev. Homer Salley
The Spade Methodist Church must have been organized in the early 1900's and probably met at the old Liberty School building. The Liberty School building was where the Spade Cemetery exists now, I am told. I only have the journals of our Northwest Texas Methodist Conference. I have only those journals from 1933-1981, with the 1952 journal missing. It was probably in 1952 when the Spade Methodist Church disbanded for the 1953 Journal does not show any report for the Spade Methodist Church. It existed on the Colorado Circuit, with Spade, Hyman, Dorn, and Bailey's Chapel. At one time I think Cuthbert was on the Circuit too.

Some of the earlier pastors were: C. H. Ledger A Rev. Carmichael, Bill Hart, J. S. Johnson, A Rev. Gibbens, Rufus Kitchens and Edmund Kirby. There were other pastors, but Richard Payne was the pastor in 1951 and was probably the last pastor of the Spade Methodist Church.

The church met in the old school house on Wild Horse Creek and when the new brick school building was built, the church began meeting in it. It was in the brick school building that I surrendered for the ministry.

My father was a carpenter and he, and others of the church built the Spade Methodist church building, probably between 1928-30. No one seemed to remember the date. It was in the Spade Methodist Church that I preached my first sermon.

When it was disbanded, probably in 1952, for there is no report for the Spade church in the 1953 journal, the building was given to the Westbrook Methodist Church and it was torn down and the lumber moved to Westbrook. The educational annex of the Westbrook church was built out of the lumber. I serve the Westbrook Church now, after my retirement, as supply pastor. My office and study is in the annex that was built with the lumber from the Spade Church. I am reminded of the Spade Methodist Church very often as I enter my study. I am a product of the Spade Methodist Church with 44 1/2 years service as a minister. I give thanks for this church and the good people who were members of it, for they have influenced my life.

Wolves Take Big Victory

On the Junior Varsity,
13 are returning for the 1981 volleyball season.
We were proud of these athletes after the Wafer Valley victory with scores of 15-9 and 15-8,
stated Coach Laura Willey, Junior Varsity coach.

These young ladies
are Loretta Morris, Pam Ehret, Sandy Cas-
tillo, Linn Scott, Becky
Albin, Sonja Mercer,
Venita Johnson, Rhonda
Clary, Misty Tammen,
Theresa Anderson, Naomi Mize, Michelle Franco, Chris Castillo and Carla Callaway.

Against San Angelo
Lakeview, the mental mistakes made by the Wolves gave Lakeview
the match 4-15, 2-15.
This was not a true picture of the ability of
these young ladies,
therefore, September 8 against Odessa, they will prove the caliber of players they are, added
Coach Wiley.

Cattle Donated To Annual Calf Sale

More cattle were donated to the Independent Cattlemen's Association annual calf sale August 22 in Bryan than ever before.

More than 430 calves, cows and bulls were sold during the four-hour benefit auction, reports Roy Wheeler of Pleasanton, ICA president.

"We are happy with the response by our members," said Wheeler. "Gross receipts were larger than last year and some animals are still being donated to local auctions to benefit ICA."

Wheeler thanked all ICA members and friends who donated livestock and helped operate the sale.

The funds raised will help ICA in its work to help the agriculturalist survive, said Wheeler. This includes efforts to lower interest rates, change other government regulations detrimental to farmers and ranchers, fight meat imports, increase beef sales and promote a dead Brucellosis vaccine.

Aerobics Sweeping The Nations And Stimulating Everyone's Natural Image

By Patrice McKinney

The "fitness craze" is sweeping the nation, and literally everyone is into aerobics. The word aerobic is most commonly associated with Dr. Kenneth Cooper, the father of aerobics, and means simply "with oxygen." An aerobic activity is one that stimulates the cardiopulmonary systems (heart and lungs) and raises the pulse rate to 60-80 percent of the maximum heart rate. Aerobic activities include cross-country skiing, swimming, bicycling, running, jogging, brisk walking and the currently popular aerobic fitness classes.

Aerobic fitness classes are an enjoyable alternative to the usual solitary workout routines of the aforementioned activities. Aerobic fitness routines are a combination of jumping, skipping, hopping, running, jogging, walking, stretching and simple dance steps all performed to music. In fact, the music and camaraderie of the group actually make exercising fun.

Aerobic fitness classes continue to expand as more and more men, women, and children throughout the nation discover the benefits of aerobic exercise. Not only does aerobic exercise increase the efficiency of the cardiopulmonary systems, but it has also proven especially effective in the control of weight. Aerobic exercises require more caloric expenditure than any other form of exercise during the actual execution of the movement. Also, the metabolic rate remains higher for four-six hours after the completion of the exercise and the vigorous workout turns fat to lean muscle mass more rapidly than other forms of exercise. Lean muscle mass burns calories at twice the rate of fat, but more importantly, aerobic exercises have proven effective in the relief of stress, creating an improved sense of well-being.

Patrice McKinney, Certified Aerobic Fitness Instructor, will be teaching classes in aerobic fitness. She has attended numerous seminars and training sessions in aerobics, completed work at the graduate level in aerobic fitness, conducted workshops and lectures on aerobics and the benefits of the aerobic lifestyle. She is presently developing and choreographing her own aerobic fitness program.

The fall schedule includes classes in Ladies' Beginning and Intermediate Aerobics, Men's Aerobic Fitness, and Aerobics for "Special" People (older Americans, pregnant women, persons rehabilitating from surgery or injuries, etc.).

Interested persons are asked to phone 728-8474 or come by the Boy's Club between 9:30 a.m. and 12 on August 31, for registration and/or to observe the Intermediate Ladies' Class.

Aerobic Fitness Classes are for everyone, and Mrs. McKinney invites the residents of Mitchell County to come and join the "Aerobic Celebration" and discover what the rest of the nation has already discovered—exercising can be fun and being physically fit is even more fun because it enhances every aspect of your life.
