Two Persons Killed In Train-Truck Crash

TRUCK AND TRAIN CRASH—TWO DIE—This twisted piece of wreckage was the truck in which five members of a Latin-American family were riding before it crashed with a Santa Fe freight train three-fourths of a mile east of Anton at 3:15 p.m. Wednesday. One person was killed instantly, another died late last night and three others remained in a Littlefield hospital, as a result of the tragedy. The wooden frame of the truck was ripped away, and the rear wheels and part of the steel frame were bent back toward the cab. See story col. 8. (Photo by John Stehlik, jr., of Anton.)

Lewis Sends Miners Back To Coal Pits

By GERALD B. HEALEY
INS Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Nov. 9. — John L. Lewis ended the long soft coal strike today for at least 22 days when he suddenly and dramatically ordered his miners to return to work immediately.

Several mine owners said the miners could go back to work on a six-day week at time and a half pay for the sixth day. Officials of the United Mine Workers agreed at once to this plan.

Lewis and his 200-man policy committee hinted the miners might be called out at midnight Nov. 30, the new deadline set by the UMW, if no interim agreement is reached.

Lewis Leaves Chicago

While mine operators arranged for the diggers to return to the pits on the midnight shift tonight, Lewis left Chicago, presumably for Washington.

The bushy-browed UMW chieftain had no comment on his destination for newsmen, but shouted gruffly to the taxi driver:

"Take me to Grand Central station."

Other union officials made reservations on a Baltimore and Ohio train which arrives in Washington at 7:30 a.m. (CST) tomorrow, and it was presumed Lewis would join them. The train leaves daily from Chicago's Grand Central station.

Ching Calls Meeting

Federal Mediator Cyrus S. Ching has called all parties in the coal dispute to meet with him at 9 a. m. (CST) tomorrow in a joint session. There was no indication whether mine officials would be at the meeting in Washington.

Industry sources fully expected Ching to propose a fact-finding board as a solution to the 52-day walkout of the 375,000 mine workers, or a request for resumption of contract negotiations for a limited time under the three-week truce.

The White House was elated over the news the miners are returning to work. Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said, "that is good news."

As Lewis took his unprecedented action as "an act of good faith designed to contribute to the public convenience," labor leaders speculated that he:

1. Desired to out-maneuver the government which was believed

Big Steel, CIO To Discuss Pact

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 9 (AP) — The giant U.S. Steel corporation set up peace talks with the striking CIO United Steelworkers today as another big producer came to terms.

The outlook is bright for speedy end of the most costly steel strike in American history.

Shortly after disclosure that U. S. Steel is going into contract sessions tomorrow, Youngstown Sheet and Tube company signed on the union's terms.

Firm Is Fourth

The Ohio firm is the fourth big steel producer to sign a strike-ending pension and social insurance agreement with the union. Bethlehem, Republic and Jones and Laughlin signed up previously.

Youngstown Sheet and Tube, ranking sixth in steel making capacity, agreed to a pension-insurance pact on the Bethlehem pattern. That calls for $100 minimum monthly pension payments to workers aged 65 with 25 years service. The company pays the entire cost.

The $100 pension includes social security payments. Thus, if a worker is entitled to $30 monthly payments from the government, the company will contribute $70 to make the pension total $100.

The pact also provides for a five cents an hour social insurance program. Workers and company each pay two and one-half cents to finance the plan.

After the agreement was signed, Murray told a news conference:

"We're all happy about it."

Murray said the Youngstown firm's plants in the Youngstown

Man, Woman Are Shot To Death At San Angelo

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 9.—A man and a woman fell dead of gunshot wounds on a San Angelo sidewalk early tonight a half block from the police station.

Justice of the Peace Bob Acock identified the man as Gwinn R. Medders, 39.

Acock said he would return a verdict of murder and suicide. Police officer Bill Martin said Medders died of three .22 caliber bulets in his chest. He said the woman then turned the pistol on herself and fired once. She died of a bullet wound in the heart.

The shooting occurred on a street just outside the downtown business section. Witnesses said Medders had just gotten off work at a filling station and walked out on the sidewalk. Officer said the woman left a note saying she had worried recently about "domestic trouble." She was 30 years old.

Tax Increase Is Foreseen

By ROSE McKEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9. — Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), declared today that Congress at its next session should insist on balancing the national budget even if it means increasing taxes.

Russell, a member of the Senate Appropriations committee, was the first senator to indicate he might support President Truman's recent demand for a tax increase.

The influential southern Democrat declared that if Congress passes costly programs, as it did at the last session, it "ought to have the courage to pay for them."

Other Way Possible

He said he hoped the budget could be balanced in some other way than by a tax increase but he expressed doubt any other method would be used.

Senate GOP floor leader Wherry, Neb., estimates Congress this year approved expenditures of $50,990,000,000.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), said in a separate interview that he would like to see a general tax revision approved at the next session. He said that a revision of the tax structure might mean an increase in taxes for some and a reduction for others.

Both Russell and Sparkman conceded that the next session will likely bring an early knock down civil rights battle. Senate majority leader Lucas (D-Ill.), has said that a civil rights bill to ban discrimination in jobs will be one of the first measures brought to the floor.

No Acute Shortage Of Coffee Is Seen

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9—(INS)—The Agriculture department believes there is little likelihood of "acute shortages" of coffee among American consumers in the immediate future.

But, the department warns that the South American drouth will reduce supplies for the "next several years" to the point where they will be "fairly close to requirements."

During October, the department noted that spot prices for green coffee in New York jumped nearly 50 percent. However, the government says, there are conditions which will operate to reduce coffee prices.

These include increased use of chicory and other "extenders" in coffee blends, consumer resistance and shifting to other beverages and some curtailed demand in the U.S. as a result of slightly lower purchasing power.

Texas Voters Approve Two Amendments

(By The Associated Press)

TEXAS voters don't want state legislators to get more pay and meet annually.

Nearly-complete returns Wednesday from the special election Tuesday made that clear.

Voters also don't want women on juries, and they want to keep the poll tax as a requirement for voting.

Seven Definitely Defeated

Of the 10 proposed constitutional amendments submitted, seven definitely were defeated. Two passed. The tenth—allowing the legislature to provide for lunacy trials without a jury—also appeared earmarked for defeat, although the Texas Election bureau continued to count votes for and against it. Vote counting on the other nine proposals halted Wednesday afternoon.

The proposal to boost lawmakers' salaries to $3,600 a year and have them meet yearly took the worst licking. Opposition to the plan held that yearly sessions would lead to higher taxes.

The 7 p. m. report on the lunacy trial amendment, from 249 counties out of 254, with 58 complete, showed 138,392 votes against and 131,225 for. The 7,167 difference compared with a difference of 3,260 at 3 p. m.

Vote Is Given

1. County civil service—Approval 113,455, against 127,667 (52.94 per cent against.)

2. Legislative session and pay—Approval 63,346, against 180,520 (74.02 per cent against).

3. Hospital districts—Approval 109,015, against 132,629 (54.88 per cent against).

4. Poll tax repeal—Approval 112,062, against 136,061 (57.13 per cent against).

5. City-county health units—Approval 100,848, against 142,887 (58.29 per cent against).

6. County pensions—Approval 81,483, against 162,276 (66.57 per cent against).

7. District court proceedings—Approval 136,697, against 103, 648 (56.76 per cent for).

8. Rural fire districts—Approval 130,007, against 112,690 (53.59 per cent for).

9. Non-jury lunacy trials—Approval 120,716, against 123,976

Boulter Holds Lead On Rankin

The race for membership on the State Board of Education from the 19th district is developing into a "horse race," with the final outcome still in doubt late Wednesday.

E. H. Boulter of Lubbock continued to cling to a narrow lead in the race with a total of 4,156 votes to 3,966 for J. M. Rankin of Ralls.

Boulter's lead of approximately 400 votes earlier in the day was reduced late Wednesday with returns from Haskell county which gave Rankin a 308-239 margin. Rankin also picked up votes in King county.

Three Counties Unreported

Three counties, Borden Kent and Scurry, were unreported and their totals could change the lead should Rankin poll heavy majorities in each of the three counties.

County clerks in each of the counties said they expect to make complete tabulations of ballots Thursday.

In six counties, Bailey, Dawson,

Three Others Hurt In Anton Accident

Two Latin-American Children Killed; Truck Almost Demolished In Wreck

By TOM DAVIS
Avalanche Staff Writer

ANTON, Nov. 9.—Two children, one a nine-month old infant, were killed and three other members of their Latin-American family were injured about 3:15 p. m. today when a Santa Fe freight train and a loaded cotton truck crashed at a grade crossing three-fourths of a mile east of here.

Apparently killed instantly when the truck, its passengers and its load of cotton were scattered for 60 yards along the right-of-way was Ricardo Herrera, nine months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan H. Herrera of Austin. His head was crushed and partly shorn away.

Juan Herrera, jr., 8, died about 10 p. m. in Littlefield Hospital and Clinic.

Foot Also Was Crushed

Physicians said his death was all but certain when he was brought to the hospital with his head crushed. A foot also was crushed, but death came before it was possible to amputate it.

The injured in the Littlefield hospital were Herrera, the father, about 50, who received serious chest injuries; a daughter, Lupe Herrera, about 2, both legs fractured above the knee and numerous lacerations; and a son, Airgrado, about 3, minor injuries, bruises and lacerations.

Members of the family were working as cotton pullers on the farm of E. B. Kelly; three miles southeast of Anton. Kelly lives at 1910 Thirty-first in Lubbock. Mrs. Herrera was in the cotton fields when her family was ripped by death and injury.

Truck Almost Demolished

The truck in which the family was riding, a 1940 ton-and-a-half Ford, was twisted, torn, and all but demolished before the train tossed it aside.

A trail of scattered cotton led from the grade crossing like a path of death to the crumpled wreckage of what had been the truck.

Pieces of the truck and sideboards lay along the right-of-way, some at the intersection and others on past the main part of the truck.

Santa Fe's chief dispatcher in Slaton said the train was traveling about 45 miles an hour when the crash came. The engineer was C. B. Tefertiller of Slaton and the conductor was Claude Porter, also of Slaton.

Was Through Train

The train of about 50 cars, was a through train from Fort Worth to Clovis, N. M., the dispatcher said.

He said the truck came up on the left, or fireman's side of the train. Brakes on the train were applied immediately, the dis-

Stassen Raps GOP 'Failure'

By WILLIAM THEIS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9. — Harold E. Stassen, already a veteran GOP presidential aspirant, declared today that the Republican party "is in a bad way" as a result of Tuesday's Democratic election victories.

The former Minnesota governor spoke frankly of the elections which gave President Truman fresh political strength and virtually wrote off Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as a power in the Republican party.

Dewey, however, disagreed with Stassen, taking the view that "the result of the senatorial election is a setback and not a gain for the policies of the national administration."

Dewey Gives Views

Dewey told a news conference he based his view on the fact that Dulles "ran well ahead of local tickets all over the state. He lost by only 193,000 votes out of five million cast in an off year, with heavy local contests in Democratic areas and few in Republican areas. Mr. Lehman had two lines on the voting machine and the support of three parties against Mr. Dulles' one line and one party."

Many observers believed that Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, emerged as the dominant force in the GOP from the widespread balloting. But Stassen himself is pictured as gaining position to inherit the role of GOP defender of bipartisanship in foreign policy.

Wins By Wide Margins

GOP Sen. John Foster Dulles, an architect of that foreign policy, lost the New York senatorial race to ex-Gov. Herbert H. Lehman by a quarter of a million votes. Dulles was named to the Senate by Dewey last summer. Dewey then insisted that he run and threw all his official weight into the campaign.

This was the major Democratic victory north of the Mason-Dixon line.

But Democratic mayors also were chosen in New York City,

Russia Says U.S., Britain Plan To Use Libia As Attack Base

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 9 (AP) — Russia said today the United States and Britain are preparing Libia as a North African attack base against the Soviet Union and added:

"We are well enough prepared to meet any blow."

The charge was made by Amazasp A. Arutiunian, a member of the Soviet foreign office policy body.

"We don't, however, want any war," he added in UN political committee debate over the membership of a council to run the ex-Italian colony on the south shore of the Mediterranean until it gets independence proposed for 1952.

Denver City Man Is Killed In Truck Crash

FREDERICKTOWN, Mo., Nov. 9. (AP).—Thomas J. Deshazer, 32, of Denver City, Texas, and Miss Katherine Fox, 24, of Fredericktown, burned to death in a collision between two trucks five miles north of here early today.

The victims were in a truck owned by the Park Hill Trucking company of Tulsa, Okla.

A coroner's jury ruled the deaths were caused by accident. Coroner Sam Najim, jr., said testimony disclosed that a truck driven by Floyd Cooper, 18, of Mill Creek, Mo., swerved suddenly into the opposite lane to avoid a stalled automobile.

The coroner said the truck in which Deshazer and Miss Fox were riding then came over the crest of a hill and the two trucks collided.

Fire broke out immediately after the collision and Deshazer's truck was destroyed. The victims were trapped in the cab. Their bodies, badly burned, were taken to a mortuary here.

The sheriff's office in Denver City Wednesday night said that Deshazer had moved there about six months ago. He was said to have a wife, a four-year-old son and seven-year-old daughter. The office stated that funeral services and burial will be held in Kiatook, Okla.

NEAR AGREEMENT REACHED ON GERMAN ISSUE

Big Three Map Policy

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager, INS

PARIS, Nov. 9.— The Big Three western foreign ministers announced tonight they have made "satisfactory progress" in their first Paris sessions aimed at achieving a united policy in Germany.

Reports current in diplomatic circles said the ministers reached "virtual agreement" on the problem of German plant dismantling, which is resisted by all West German political parties.

U. S. Secretary of State Acheson met with British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman for long morning and afternoon sessions. The ministers will resume their talks tomorrow.

Details Not Disclosed

The communique on the talks was very brief, and it is understood that Schuman, today's chairman, obtained the consent of the others not to disclose details of the talks.

The communique said the ministers met "to study problems of common interest, notably the main lines of a concerted policy they will pursue in Germany."

An authorized informant confirmed that a special German courier delivered to the French foreign office the text of a message from Konrad Adenauer, chancellor of the West German state.

Dismantling Halt Asked

Contents of the message to the Allied High commission were not revealed, but it is known that Adenauer has asked for a halt in the Allied program of dismantling German plants for reparations.

Adenauer has proposed that if this is done the plants can produce goods to make up the reparations deficit. In an attempt to get support from the reluctant French he also has offered security guarantees to the French.

One participant said the ministers today "mentioned" other countries besides Germany. It was learned that the agenda includes the Chinese, Japanese and Yugoslav issues even though the German problem is paramount at the moment.

Schuman said "we have much to digest" when he left the first session that began at 10:30 a. m. and lasted until 1 p.m.

Asked if Acheson revealed the nature of his short talk with

6,500 To Attend Game At Odessa

More than 6,500 Lubbock residents will attend the Odessa Bronchos - Lubbock Westerners football game Friday afternoon in Odessa, figures given by Lubbock High school Wednesday afternoon showed.

A total of 5,731 non-student reserved and general admission tickets has been sold in Lubbock and no other tickets are available except student tickets, according to information from the office of E. J. Lowrey, business manager of the Westerners.

Buses To Carry Students

Between 10 and 13 buses taking students to the game will leave from the 18th street side of the High school at 7:30 a.m. Friday. A total of 925 tickets already has been sold and additional student tickets are available.

Cheer leaders and band members will be in the student group. Three buses will be loaded with band members.

A teacher will ride on each student bus. Alternate buses will go by way of Midland. Others will go by way of Seminole. That plan was adopted so buses would not congest one highway.

Bus tickets may be bought up to 1 p.m. Thursday. Round trip price will be $3.25. When buses arrive in Odessa, students will conduct a pep rally from 1 to 1:15

For the most part, civic observances will be highlighted by programs in tribute to World War heroes. Numerous grid games take the spotlight on afternoon programs.

Schools, Business Firms Close

More than 6,500 Lubbock residents are expected to follow the Lubbock High Westerners to Odessa for the crucial District 3-AA game there, while in the immediate area South Plains fans will journey to a dozen or more towns for other games.

Lubbock schools and most business places will make it a holiday. Buglers from the Veterans of Foreign Wars post in Lubbock will tour the city beginning at 6 a.m., blowing reveille to open the day.

At 7 a.m., the American Legion will hold a breakfast in the east ballroom of Hotel Lubbock, while the VFW will stage its breakfast at the same hour at the post building at Thirty-fourth and Ave. N.

Auxiliary Breakfast Set

The Legion auxiliary breakfast will be held at 7:30 a.m. in the junior ballroom of the Hilton hotel.

A Legion dance will be held at 8:30 p. m. Friday in the Hilton hotel ballroom, with admission pegged at $1 per person.

Father Of Suspects Arrested Here Is Given Prison Sentence

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 9. (AP) —A father whose twin sons are under arrest in Texas was sentenced to five years to life in prison today in a $2,270 store holdup.

The father, John Earl Rader, 49, Bellflower, Calif., said he drove the robbery car for his sons, Edward Lee and Leo Earl Rader. Afterward, he said, the twins made their getaway in an airplane.

The twin sons were arrested Oct. 10 at Lubbock, on suspicion of robberies in Texas and Oklahoma as well as California.

Five Lucky Boys Escape Injury After Finding 16 Hand Grenades

HOUSTON, Nov. 9 (AP) — An ammunition expert today said five boys were lucky when they found 16 hand grenades and played with them two days without being injured.

The school boys found the grenades in the muddy bottom of Sims bayou Monday. A parent discovered the toys today and notified Air Force and Army experts.

After gathering up the 16 grenades from the boys, the experts went to the bayou and found 37 more and a bazooka rocket.

Sol Cohen, chief ammunition inspector at the San Jacinto Ordnance depot, said it was about the biggest piece of luck he ever heard of that none of the grenades found by the youngsters had exploded.

Nobody knows how the grenades and bazooka got into the bayou but they appeared to have been there several years.

Britain Declares Russia Holds Atomic War Threat Over World

By PIERRE J. HUSS
INS Staff Correspondent

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Britain accused Russia in the United Nations today of holding the threat of an atomic war over the world by refusing to join atomic controls outlined in the Baruch plan.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, criticizing the Soviet Union in unusually blunt language in the 59-nation special political committee, declared that if Russia had joined in the assembly-approved control plan three years ago "there might not be any atom weapon today."

The British diplomat decried Russia's attitude and at one point stated:

"It is intolerable that the world should be subject to the fear of an atomic war. But the fact is that one country, or group of countries —by refusing to accept world control—hold this threat over the rest of the world."

Speaking for the United States, Assistant Secretary John D. Hickerson leveled similar strong criticism at Russia and stressed that the Baruch plan is the only control measure yet devised which would work.

He derided the resolution again

Hilton Corporation Makes Offer To Join Lubbock In Construction Of New 250-Room Hotel In City

BY H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

THE Hilton Hotels corporation proposed Wednesday to join with local capital in building a new 250-room hotel in Lubbock.

This announcement Wednesday afternoon followed a meeting of directors of the chamber of commerce, to whom the proposal was submitted.

The proposition was described as being in a stage so nebulous that there are no details as yet on such points as possible total cost of the structure, the amounts which would be contributed toward the cost by the Hilton corporation and local capital, the site for the suggested multi-story building, and the height to which such a structure would rise.

But there was an undisguised feeling of optimism among directors and officials of the chamber of commerce that their meeting mark the start toward the actual realization of the long discussed new hotel for this city.

The present Hilton hotel has 196 rooms and is 12 stories high. The Lubbock hotel, with 255 rooms, is 11 stories.

Interest in the new proposal was sufficient that A. B. Davis, manager of the chamber of commerce, promptly began attempts to arrange a conference for two members of the board with C. N Hilton, president of the Hilton corporation.

Representing the board in the conference will be Roy Furr, head of the food stores chain bearing his name, and Retha Martin, president of the Dunlap department stores.

Hopes were that, from this conference, will emerge a detailed and concrete proposition as to the financing of the proposed structure.

The details of the proposal re-

2,341 PERSONS GO TO POLLS

Lubbock County Okays Boulter, Three Amendments In Election

With all of Lubbock county's 33 polling places accounted for, 2,341 voters Wednesday had voted for three proposed constitutional amendments, turned thumbs down on the other seven, and named E. H. Boulter as a heavy favorite over J. M. Rankin for a place on the state board of education.

It became a certainty that considerably less than one-fifth of the qualified voters went to the polls in Tuesday's special election. Election officials attributed part of the lack of interest to a busy cotton harvest season, part to the fact that there was but one issue involving personalities.

Three Are Approved

Briefly, Lubbock county voters stamped their approval on these proposed constitutional amendments:

1. Civil service in counties, by 1,192 for, 1,043 against.

3. Authorizing hospital districts, by 1,179 for, 1,046 against.

8. Authorizing rural fire prevention districts, by 1,318 for, 926 against.

Others Are Defeated

And the county disapproved the seven other proposed amendments as follows:

2. Sessions and pay for the legislators, by 405 for, 1,825 against.

4. Eliminating the poll tax, 701 for, 1,578 against.

5. City-county health units, 1,136 for, 1,139 against.

6. Pensions for county officials and employes, 356 for, 1,802 against.

7. Relating to district court proceedings, 963 for, 1,263 against.

9. Lunacy trials without jury, 766 for, 1,504 against.

10. Women on juries, 816 for, 1,458 against.

Boulter Is Winner

Boulter, of Lubbock, carried the county by an impressive margin of 933 to 581 against Rankin of Ralls, in the race for state board of education representative from the 19th Congressional district.

Both the amendments for civil service in counties and for hospital districts squeaked by narrowly, and the provision for city-county health units was defeated even more narrowly. That amendment appeared to have carried in Lubbock county until the Shallowater box was reported at a late hour Tuesday night, after the first 30 boxes had been reported.

The votes were tabulated Tuesday night by County Clerk Louie F. Moore and District Clerk Royal Furgeson in Moore's office in the courthouse. Most results came in promptly after the polls closed at 7 p. m.

Soccer Game With Skulls Touches Off Debate In Britain

LONDON, Nov. 9. (AP)— A kid's game of soccer with human skulls touched off a big debate in Britain today: How to go about cleaning up after the German Luftwaffe.

The ghoulish soccer game took place in a Liverpool tenament district and children used a blitzed cemetery as a playground.

Mrs. E. M. Braddock, Labor member of parliament from Liverpool, told the House of Commons about it last night. Sniffed Sir William Darling, a Scottish Conservative from Edinburgh:

"The English have always been an untidy people."

Mrs. Braddock said German bombs tore up the graveyard during the war. Now she said, the tenement kids romp around among 600 half buried bodies, use skulls as footballs and carry human bones around for toys.

The discussion took place during debate on the government's war damaged sites bill. The measure authorizes local authorities to take possession of bombed areas for 10 years in order to clean them up. But it does not provide any money to help pay for the job.

After hearing about the Liverpool cemetery the House of Commons gave the bill a second reading —approval in principle — without a record vote.

'A White Rose For Julie' To Be Directed By John Farrow; Ray Milland May Get Role

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 9—John Farrow directs more pictures than any director in town. He has to, to buy shoes for those six beautiful children—and what gorgeous children! John finished "Copper Canyon" with Hedy Lamarr and Ray Milland two days ago. Now he moves next door to RKO to direct "A White Rose For Julie."

His home studio, Paramount, lent him to Howard Hughes. The story of "A White Rose For Julie" is that of a wrong-thinking girl who involves an innocent young doctor in a murder. It has a strong moral idea.

Irving Cummings, jr., is producing it. I understand that if possible Ray Milland may be borrowed to play the young doctor.

Priceless Humor Noted

I have always said the girl with the most priceless humor in this town is Jane Greer. Until you talk with her you never realize what a quick mind she has and underneath all her gaiety, what real intelligence.

She read a story called "The Richest Girl In Jail" by Michael Fessier, formerly of Universal-International. She liked it, told Howard Hughes about it and he bought it for her. It will be her next as soon as she can tear herself away from that new baby.

Personally, I don't believe Jane has really done her best work yet. But keep your eyes on her because that girl will go places.

Brando Refuses Role

Marlon Brando has turned down the role of the bull fighter in "Brave Bulls." Didn't I say that Robert Rossen would ask some well-known actor to play in this widely publicized story?

Brando's reason is that he thinks bull fighting is savage. Well, it is certainly savage in Tom Lea's book. An added reason is that after he finishes "The Man," he returns to New York to finish his schooling. He never was graduated from high school and now that he can afford to have an education he is going to do it.

King To See Act

To give you an idea of how Bebe Daniels stands in England with the Royal family, she has had a special request to appear at the command performance, Nov. 17. This will be her third appearance before King George and Queen Elizabeth.

Bebe and hubby Ben Lyons have been entertaining the Lew Schreibers who sail for home on the Queen Elizabeth, Nov. 16. According to a letter from Bebe, both Joan and Lew made many friends while they were in London.

Spanish Speaking Parrot Foils Plan Of Owners In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9. (AP) — While Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Johnson were visiting Mexico, they bought a 2-year-old parrot named Loreto.

They discovered yesterday that the bird doesn't understand English.

Ticket buyers at Union station became bewildered when they heard a plaintive Spanish voice coming from a 60-foot high chandelier.

"Bien, Loreto . . . bien, Loreto," the voice croaked.

Loreto had chewed through his wicker cage while the Johnsons were making reservations on the noon train to their home at Seaview, Wash. Despite coaxings from train agents, red caps and spectators, the parrot refused to come down.

In Spanish, "bein" means good, The Johnson's have other ideas. They decided to stay here until Loreto leaves his perch.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Follow the easy way endorsed by men who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

10 pounds lost in 10 days

Mrs. M. C. Britton, 306 W. Wildwood, San Antonio, Texas, writes us as follows: "I am a faithful user of Barcentrate. I had dieted for weeks without your product and needed so badly to lose 10 pounds, so I started using Barcentrate and my worry was over for I lost the 10 pounds in 10 days. I now weigh 135 pounds.

"I eat most anything I want and hold my same weight."

Girl Will Undergo Operation To Save Last Seeing Eye In Family

By GEORGE L. SCOTT
INS Staff Correspondent

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 9 — Slight infection in the blind left eye of Mary Hope Hodgdon, Portland's "last eye" girl, prompted surgeons at the Elk's eye clinic today to postpone an operation to save sight in the girl's right eye until Saturday.

Infection followed an accident at school when a small boy stuck his thumb in Mary Hope's blind eye.

The 12-year-old girl, only daughter of blind parents, has been waiting eagerly for the sight-saving operation since last June. It was scheduled to have been performed Thursday at 9 a.m.

Surgeons told the disappointed girl and her parents that it would be wisest to wait until the infection had entirely cleared before performing the operation.

Mary Hope will remain in the Doernbecher's children's hospital at the University of Oregon Medical school until examining surgeons give the word for the operation. They explained that the Saturday date was purely tentative.

Mary Hope became blind in her left eye before doctors discovered she was suffering from detachment of the retina in both eyes, the same affliction that caused her mother's blindness.

Powerful scanning equipment in the clinic showed tiny cysts growing on the retinal edge had caused blindness by curling back the retina from the back of the left eyeball. A similar condition was threatening the right eye.

Electric Needle Used

Using a fine electric needle, they caused weld-like adhesions to seal down the retina to the back of the eyeball and offset the loosening action of the cysts.

The chief surgeon in charge of the operation, who asked that his name not be used, explained:

"It is a dangerous operation, but what there is to be gained far offsets what will be lost if the operation is not performed.

Precautions To Be Taken

Intravenous injections of pentothal will be used for anesthetic instead of ether or other explosive gasses to guard against an explosion while working with electrical currents in the operation.

The greatest hazard in the operation is the danger of puncturing a blood vessel and causing a hemorrhage. The needle must enter the eye repeatedly to seal off the cysts and tack down the retina.

The surgeon said it would probably be 10 days before results of the operation can be determined.

Published stories of the child's fight for sight brought a "half dozen" offers of good eyes from would-be donors throughout the nation.

While the offers were appreciated by the family and clinic, it was explained that Mary Hope's eye condition could not be helped by transplantation.

Move To Discourage Area Solicitations Announced

The first move in an attempt to discourage solicitations for "unnecessary and unworthy projects" in Lubbock was announced Wednesday at the chamber of commerce.

Officials of the chamber said a number of business men have been appointed on a new solicitations committee to study the problem.

Members, who include representatives of the Lubbock Ad club, are Earl Kerr, Homer L. Hensley, W. L. Byrd, A. E. Quest, sr., Miss Pauline Myers, W. T. Bradbury, Joe B. Holmes, J. H. Thomas, George Meiser, Dick Cook, Dale Buckner, M. M. Rochester, Culver Hill and O. G. Bates.

Plans under consideration, it was disclosed, contemplate the creation of a secret 'vigilance committee" to study the merits of any solicitations of business or donations and to make recommendations concerning them.

Under this plan, business men and people generally would be advised not to make contributions to, or do business with, solicitors who have not been approved by the vigilance committee.

March Says Texans Will Elect New Legislature And Governor

Caso March, Waco lawyer who has already started his campaign for governor of Texas in 1950, Wednesday said "the present legislature will be swept out of office along with our do-nothing governor in the 1950 elections."

The 38-year-old Purple Heart veteran based his prediction on election returns sinking the hopes of proponents of the majority of the proposed constitutional amendments.

"In effect," March said, "it's a vote of no confidence in our legislature."

He said the legislature's woes can be traced to "failure and refusal to tax natural gas, which is being shipped all over the United States tax free and refusal to let the people of Texas vote to decide whether or not the old age pension fund ceiling of $35 million should be lifted."

Three Adjudged In Contempt Of Court

Three persons were adjudged in contempt of court, and forfeiture actions named three other persons, all in connection with trafficking in alcoholic beverages, orders of 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue showed Wednesday.

Harold (School Boy) Long, 34, a negro, was fined $100 and costs in connection with the court's finding he was in contempt of an Oct. 21, 1946 permanent injunction enjoining against his trafficking in alcoholics.

A similar fine was adjudged against T. G. Sims, 34, for violation of a permanent injunction dated Sept. 2, 1941.

Jake Hill, 50, a Slaton negro, drew a $100 fine, costs and three days in jail for violation of a May 25, 1945 permanent injunction.

Action in forfeiting alcoholic beverages came up at the morning session.

They named James (Jimmy) Copeland and 15 four-fifths quarts of whisky and gin, three pints of whisky and 55 containers of beer; Melus Steen and 981 containers of beer, whisky and wine; and J. D. Duke of 387 containers of beer, wine and whisky.

Houston Police Check Report Of Violence In Transit Strike

HOUSTON, Nov. 9. (AP)— Police are investigating a report of violence in the six-week old strike of 26 drivers for the Airport Limousine service.

STORY OF COFFEE

NO longer are they singing the song about "They Got a Lot of Coffee in Brazil," as you may have noted by the papers. And the increase of the cost of coffee has sent Texans hurrying across the Mexican border to buy the cheaper kind and has been the topic of conversation for the last week in the other 47 states.

Had you ever thought about the story in your coffee cup?

An Arab goatherder named Kaldi is generally credited with the discovery of coffee's peculiar properties. One day in 850 A.D. Kaldi noticed that his little charges behaved oddly whenever they ate some red berries which grew on low bushes. Intrigued, he sampled them himself and found that he, too, behaved oddly. Exhilarated, he spread the word.

(A parallel, perhaps, may be found in the southwestern cowboy who first realized that the "loco weed" animated his cattle. Unlike Kaldi, however, he failed to get anywhere with his find. It is grand enough to live in Texas. Why drink beverages from a weed to seek greater stimulation?)

THE priests ruled that coffee was an intoxicating beverage and therefore forbidden by the Koran. This decision gave birth to a flourishing business in Arabia, bootlegging in coffee which prevails to this day.

Modern Arabs, Mohammed or not, frequently drink 30 to 40 cups a day. This approaches a record set in our own country by some of the business people who frequent corner drugstores.

DURING the reign of Louis XIV in France, noblewomen from that country visited Soliman Aga in his fabulous Turkish palace. He served a strange beverage, black and boiling hot. It was bitter and a countess took a lump of sugar intended feeding for the birds and slyly dropped it into her cup; her host made no comment but after that, sugar was served with coffee.

Coffee is surrounded by a myriad of traditions, most of them regional. Southerners are fond of a darker brew than their northern cousins, usually brewed with an egg shell tossed into the pot to "settle the grains."

Music Is Studied

At Lubbock Women's clubhouse, 2020 Broadway, Wednesday afternoon a program, "The Music of Russia," was presented and a business session was conducted. The club voted to assist South Plains Music Teachers association in sponsoring a yearly scholarship for graduating seniors of Lubbock High school.

Mrs. Raymond Marshall, program chairman, reported a district meeting of Texas Federation of Music clubs held in Spur recently. At the meeting, the Allegro club yearbook won third place, and the club scrapbook placed first.

Hostesses were Mesdames Elliott Taylor, D. W. Douglas, Joe Kelly, James Vickers and Benny Wright.

Program numbers were: selections from "The Golden Age" (Shostakovich), Mrs. Bailey Ireland; "Deep In Love Was I," "Lilacs" and "To the Children" (Rachmaninoff), Mrs. Frank C. Goodwin; "None But the Lonely Heart" (Tchaikovsky), Mrs. Fred Nelson and Mrs. John Howell; "My Songs are Envenomed and Bitter" (Borodin), Mrs. Gordon Treadway; "Polichinelle" (Rachmaninoff), Mrs. James Atcheson.

Lubbock Sorority Members Elected Province Officers

Two members of Lubbock Texas Nu chapter, Delta Theta Chi sorority, were elected Taygete province officers at a province conclave held in Enid, Okla., recently. Miss Mary Keesee was named vice president and Mrs. Douglas Blackburn, program director. The province is composed of chapters in Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas.

Miss Lela Craddock was initiated in a formal ceremony conducted at the meeting and Mrs. R. C. Johnson, jr., received a big sister badge in ceremonial rites. Other features of the meeting were business and panel sessions, a formal dinner-dance and a coffee.

As an achievement project, the Lubbock chapter presented a program on Franz Schubert, with Mrs. Blackburn as narrator and Miss Dovie Parr as soloist. Selections sung by Miss Parr were "Serenade," "My Sweet Repose," and "Ave Maria."

Other Lubbock sorority members attending the Oklahoma meeting were Miss Dahlia Trammel and Miss Juanita Parr. Next year's conclave is scheduled for Oklahoma City.

Trip To Florist Made By Brownies

Members of Brownie Troop 80 from George R. Bean school were shown displays of flowers and pottery at the Texas Floral Tuesday afternoon when they made a field trip.

Attending were Ann Price, Martha Scott, Carron Evans, Sibyl Brown, Karen Lee Havis, Julia Cline, Neva Jo Bennett, Mary Ann Coffman, Patsy Tucker, Judy Crim, Laverne Loving, Sue Smith, Roberta Kershner, Shelley White, Karen Sue James, Sandra Summers, Mrs. R. Troop committee members present were Mrs. Clarence Loving and Mrs. Audie Tucker.

Town Talk

CORNUCOPIAS pouring forth bright-toned autumn leaves and mums centered the refreshment table which was lighted by yellow tapers in candelabra, when Mesdames O. L. Byrd, Howard Hampton and J. Ben Cole, jr., were hostesses at a tea given Wednesday afternoon at the Lubbock Country club.

Completing decorations in the ballroom were arrangements of giant mums flanked by green tapers on each of the two mantels. Approximately 275 guests were invited to call between 3 and 5 o'clock.

Members of the houseparty were Mesdames Homer D. Grant, W. L. Stengel, Joe Bryant, G. V. Fulton, W. G. McMillan, O. R. Hand, C. E. Dean, A. G. Barsh, M. L. Shepherd, Ewell L. Hunt, R. A. Visiting in the H. A. Watson home, 3003 Nineteenth, this week have been Mrs. Gene Kopp, her mother, Mrs. C. B. Anderson and little daughter, Cecilia Ray, all of Wellington. They have been the guests of Miss Joyce Watson, and returned home Wednesday afternoon.

Also visiting in Lubbock to see Miss Watson and Mrs. Kopp have been Mr. and Mrs. Cornel Sarosdy of Dallas. Miss Watson, Mrs. Kopp and Mrs. Sarosdy studied music together in New York City.

The Sarosdys brought with them moving pictures of their recent wedding and reception and showed them at the Watson home Tuesday night. Mrs. Sarosdy is the former Rosemary Burns. They will return to Dallas today.

When the Lubbock-Crosby County Medical auxiliary met Tuesday for luncheon at the Lubbock Country club, 15 members were present.

Mrs. Ivan G. Mayfield, president, directed a business session and led a discussion on the need of more volunteers to aid in preparing tuberculosis Christmas seals for distribution.

The auxiliary will not have a regular business meeting for December, but will be entertained at a dinner to be given on Dec. 6, by members of the Lubbock-Crosby County Medical association.

Dr. Ralph Barstow of Covina, Calif., director of ethics and economics in the Optometric Extension program, was guest of honor at a Tuesday night dinner party held at the Lubbock Country club by Dr. Millard Swart, Cain Terrace.

Also attending were Mrs. Swart, Dr. Chloe Farron and Miss Katy Ann Farron.

The Californian is completing a seven weeks tour of this part of the nation, and has begun his return trip home by automobile. He was in Lubbock Tuesday to lecture at a joint meeting of the South Plains and Permian Basin Optometric societies.

Miss Ruby Brooks of St. Louis, Mo., has been a guest in the home of Mrs. James Hall, 1809 Ave. R, for the past ten days. She will leave today to return home by plane.

P-TA New

A visiting period was conducted at McWhorter school Wednesday afternoon preceding a Parent-Teacher program which featured a panel discussion, "Teamwork Between Parents," led by Mrs. A. W. Young. Others on the panel were Mesdames L. C. Peveto, A. A. Holmquest and L. L. Miller.

Musical numbers were presented by the fourth and fifth grades of Mrs. Ernest Wilpitz. Mrs. Reuby S. Rhodes, principal, gave a welcoming talk.

During a business session Mrs. Paul Seay, P-TA president, was named delegate to the state P-TA convention in Waco this month. Meeting time of the unit was changed from the second to third Thursday.

Approximately 100 attended the meeting.

For George R. Bean P-TA Wednesday at the school, a juvenile jury composed of one pupil from each room of the school was questioned by parents on habit, punishment and school problems.

The fifth grade of Mrs. Ahnise Lindsey gave a story book character play and the fifth grade of Mrs. C. A. Gentry sang songs and recited poems.

Mrs. Howard Patterson presided. She will represent the unit at the state P-T meeting in Waco.

Seventy-three persons were at the afternoon meeting, and Mrs. Lindsey's room won the attendance contest.

Mrs. M. Norvel Young will discuss "Teamwork in Home, Church and School" when Sam C. Arnett Parent-Teacher association meets this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the school.

Sanders Parent-Teachers association met Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the school. Six boys from Mrs. Grace North's room illustrated "Teamwork Between Father and Son" with posters.

A panel discussion was conducted by W. G. Tarrance, John W. Wilson and I. M. McMillan. Mrs. J. L. Damron presided at a business meeting. Mrs. F. B. Mullinex was selected to attend the state P-TA convention in Waco.

After the business session, refreshments were served and an openhouse was held with the children's work on display in their homerooms.

A meeting of the Hurlwood club was held at the cafeteria Tuesday afternoon with 10 members and two guests attending. The next regular meeting will be Nov. 22 with Mrs. Marquis.

PIN-WORMS
CAN CAUSE
SERIOUS TROUBLE
Beware of Pin-Worms . . . ugly creatures that live and grow inside the human body. Medical experts say that as many as one out of three persons may be infected. And not even the most careful families can be sure of escaping these nasty pests.
One of the danger signs of Pin-Worms is the tormenting, embarrassing rectal itch. And this can be the warning of more serious troubles . . . even internal inflammation and bleeding.
Don't take chances! At the first sign of Pin-Worms, get Jayne's P-W Vermifuge from your druggist. P-W contains an effective, medically-approved ingredient that destroys Pin-Worms and removes them from the body.
The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets were perfected in the laboratories of the famous Jayne Co., specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years. Get P-W—destroy those Pin-Worms . . . relieve that itch.
Just Remember: P-W ® for Pin-Worms!

Dulles Believed Out Of Foreign Policy Picture After Defeat

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Post-election speculation at Lake Success today centered around the future connection of John Foster Dulles with American foreign policy, if any.

Dulles left his place on the United States delegation to the UN to accept appointment as an interim senator. His loss in the subsequent election severed all of his official connections.

Severance Believed Permanent

First reaction at the UN was that this severance would more than likely prove permanent, unless he should at some later time succeed in election to a position which would bring him back into the picture.

Washington observers were less positive that President Truman would not send Dulles back to Lake Success as a gesture toward continuance of the bipartisan foreign policy. But it was admitted that the acrimony of the New York senatorial campaign, and the President's active support of Lehman, was against it.

It could hardly be said that Dulles, with his rather cold approach, was popular at Lake Success. Nor was he unpopular. He was accepted, and respected for his knowledge of international affairs.

The outcome of the election creates nothing like the stir in the UN which occurred in 1948 when Dewey was defeated and Dulles lost his chance to be secretary of state.

Delegates Favored HST

A lot of delegates then, although absolutely silent to avoid charges of interference in American politics, were pulling for Truman. But Dulles' prospects were important in their attitude toward him.

The UN was meeting in Paris. The agile Philippine delegate, Carlos P. Romulo, risen now to the presidency of the General Assembly, took the wrong-guessing on Truman's chances at face value. He arranged a fancy dinner at the Paris Ritz for Dulles on post-election night.

Dulles was in Germany, flew back to Paris with a prepared script for a victory broadcast to the United States. When he arrived at the Palais de Chaillot the returns were coming in. The script was hastily rewritten.

The Romulo dinner went off all right, although there were some wry quips. Romulo said later that he was not backing any American political party. He just wanted to get better acquainted with a man who seemed to be on the way to the diplomatic top-shelf.

Now, through a series of circumstances, Dulles seems to be out of international affairs, except for his influence as a private citizen.

Rotary District Head Stresses Club's Duty At Lubbock Luncheon

It is the duty of every Rotary club to raise the community level of understanding of world problems, thus helping to promote international understanding and good will.

That was the message brought by Elmo Wasson of Big Spring, governor of this Rotary district, in addressing Lubbock Rotarians at their regular weekly noon luncheon Wednesday.

In order to further promote these ideals, Wasson revealed that Rotary International is prepared to spend $750,000 within the next three years. One of the principal ways in which this money will be spent will be on scholarships enabling students to study abroad and to act as ambassadors of good will.

Club Complimented

He pointed out that there is a striking parallel between the aims of Rotary and the United Nations Charter. Wasson was introduced by J. Ben Cole, jr.

Wasson complimented the local club for the outstanding work it has been doing in civic affairs. Officers of the club met with him in a special session last night to go over the program of the local club.

He also extended his compliments to Mrs. Alma Rea, who has compiled a history of the Lubbock Rotary club as part of her work at Texas Tech.

James Hussey was introduced by Irving L. Jones as the club's newest member.

Texan Takes Own Life Shortly After Finding Body Of Friend

PARIS, Nov. 9. (AP)— A 50-year-old Paris postoffice clerk took his own life less than a week after a friend hanged himself.

Charlie A. Campbell was found dead of knife wounds last night. The Delta county coroner ruled it suicide.

Sam Engel, Elderly Wooer Of Widows, Gets Prison Term On Swindling Count

By LEE FERRERO
INS Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Lovin' Sam Engel, aged Lothario whose affairs of heart took him to many countries, was given a permanent residence today in the Illinois State penitentiary for two to 10 years.

Judge George M. Fisher of criminal court in Chicago sentenced the dapper self-styled "world's greatest lover" to prison to comtemplate his love 'em and leave 'em tactics with many women.

A jury found Engel guilty of swindling Mrs. Reseda Corrigan, 39-year-old Chicago widow, of $8,700 on promise of marriage.

Large Crowd Absent

Old Sam, who always likes to have large crowds around, took his sentence all alone.

There were only a few scattered spectators in the courtroom, and not even Mrs. Pauline Langton Engel, his "one true wife," was present.

Defense Attorneys Allan Bloch and J. Edgar Jones, fired summarily by Engel after his conviction recently, told the judge an appeal for a new trial would be filed. Judge Fisher granted 60 days for the filing.

Bloch based his appeal on the ground that Engel did not get a chance to take the stand in his own behalf. Engel had the opportunity, but declined and then changed his mind after the trial was closed.

Early Parole Unlikely

The sentence imposed by Judge Fisher means Engel must serve one year and nine months before he can apply for parole. He will not be compelled to serve more than 6 years and nine months.

Engel, a man of a few hundred thousand words at any given moment, had nary a thing to say.

Sad Sam looked every year of his reported 74 to 82 years of age.

He was a far cry from the bouncy, little man who once mesmerized an outraged lady accuser into dropping her charges of alleged swindling. On that occasion, the attractive woman snarled at Sam as he was brought from his jail cell, and then her voice trailed off into ecstasy.

"Oh, Sam, you wonderful creature. How could they treat you so?"

It was a tremendous exhibition of Engel's magnetic power which drew lonely ladies to him as easily as it separated them from their folding money and jewels.

Should Engel's attorneys fail to obtain a new trial, the creaking Casanova will have a long time to recall the fancy pictures he painted of more sprightly days on the Riviera, of Vienna, of Nevada's gambling casinos and the wealthy and attractive women which Engel says have been so much of his life.

Area Championship Games Are Scheduled For Friday

Lubbock-Odessa, Plainview-Pampa Tussles Highlight 23-Game Slate

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Sports Writer

"The meat's on the table" in the South Plains schoolboy football circles this weekend.

This week's activity, with a few exceptions, brings to a boil the championship stew that has been simmering since early September .

The 23-game schedule is expected to settle—or at least clarify—title squabbles in six of the eight circuits in which area teams participate. In one loop, 3-B, Olton already has clinched the crown, and in 4-B the issue won't be decided until Meadow and New Deal get together on Nov. 18. But in all others, this is THE week.

Pampa Meets Plainview

Pampa and Plainview, the two District 1-AA pacesetters, tangle Friday afternoon at Plainview in a game which will produce a clear-cut district leader. Pampa, winner over Amerillo last Week by 20-12, will be favored to down Plainview and go on to the title. Should Plainview upset the scrappy Harvesters, it still would need to get past Amarillo.

The big game of the week, one which holds the interest of the entire state, is Lubbock at Odessa. The victor is virtually assured of the District 3-AA pennant, and of a favorite's role in the ensuing Class AA playoff. Coach Pat Pattison's high-scoring Lubbock aggregation, sporting an undefeated and untied record, goes into the game a solid 14-point favorite.

In a 3-AA tussle of lesser importance, Brownfield is at Lamesa. Lamesa, which last week threw a real scare into Odessa before bowing by 32-14, will be a top-heavy choice over the Cubs, who haven't dented the win column all season.

3A Leaders In Jeopardy

The two 3-A co-leaders, Spur and Floydada, will be in jeopardy as they meet Ralls and Crosbyton, respectively. Should both front-runners come through successfully, they'll tangle next week at Floydada for the bunting. An upset of either of the leaders this week would toss the race into a scramble in which any of four teams—Spur, Floydada, Lockney or Crosbyton—could come out on top.

In other 3-A tilts, it will be Lockney at Paducah, and Tulia at Abernathy.

Littlefield plays host to Levelland Friday night, with the north zone crown of District 4-A squarely on the line. The hometown Lobos can sew up the championship with a victory or tie, while Levelland can throw the chase into a three-way deadlock with an upset.

Sundown Game Advanced

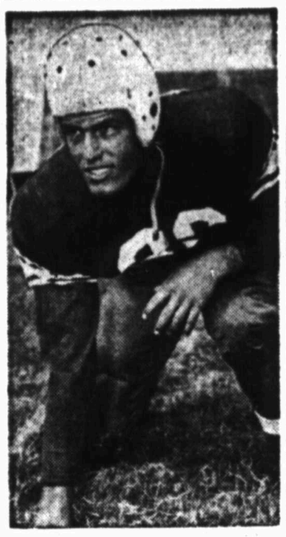

Sudan is at Sundown in another 4-AN encounter tonight. This game was advanced to Thursday night because of widespread interest in Friday night's Littlefield-Levelland setto. Similarly, the Morton at Muleshoe meeting has been moved up to 2 p. m. Friday.

The top tussle in 4-A South is the traditional Slayton at Post classic. These two teams boast unblemished records in district play, and interest in Friday afternoon's scrap has hit fever pitch. The winner automatically will become the south zone titlist. Winless Tahoka is at O'Donnell, while Seagraves plays host to Miles in the week's lone non-conference game.

District 5-A interest centers on the Wink at Kermit battle Friday night. Wink currently is leading the pack, and can all but sew up matters with a triumph over the tough Yellowjackets. Other 5-A frays are McCamey at Andrews, Crane at Monahans, Pecos at Fort Stockton and Seminole at Denver City. The last-named is a Friday afternoon affair, while all others are slated Friday night.

Anti-climactic action is on tap in 3-B, where Olton clinched the crown last week. The high-flying Mustangs close out their regular schedule at Hale Center Friday night. Other games are Farwell at Springlake, Anton at Friona, Amherst at Whitharral and Spade at Dimmitt.

In 4-B, front-running Meadow is host to hapless Friendship. New Deal, still very much in the title scramble, plays at Petersburg, and Whiteface will be at Cooper.

BRONCHO LINEMAN—Tackle Briscoe Cassity is expected to give the Westerners plenty of trouble Friday afternoon in their District 3-AA tilt. The 181-pounder has led line play throughout the season for Odessa.

ALL WELL WITH DOAKER

DALLAS, Nov. 8. (AP)— All is well with All-America Doak Walker again. Butch, Doak's pet cat, has left its sick bed, too. Doak and Butch got sick about the same time, but the great Southern Methodist back got over his illness a little faster than Butch, though he did miss the football game with Kentucky.

Crucial Tilts Slated Friday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Battles at Odessa, Gainesville and San Antonio headline a schedule crowded with crucial games this weekend in Texas schoolboy football.

At Odessa, Lubbock's mighty Westerners, regarded as the No. 1 team in the state, meet an Odessa team that will be shooting for District 3 Class AA glory in the face of a spotty season record.

The Bronchos will be accorded small chance of stopping the Westerner powerhouse—that is, everywhere except Odessa. But the Broncs appear the only team that might come close to slowing down Lubbock at least until the second round of the state play-off when Wichita Falls probably will be the opponent.

Paris goes to Gainesville with the championship of District 7 on the line. The winner of this game will be champion.

The City Conference has a highly important test in the San Antonio district. San Antonio Tech meets Thomas Jefferson Friday night in the battle that's expected to determine the title—and also furnish the favorite for the state championship of the class.

If Tech wins it will be "in." If Jefferson wins it must still win from Brackenridge to clinch the title—that is, unless Brackenridge should lose its game this week with weak Burbank. If Brack loses, that one Jefferson will be the champion should it triumph over Tech.

All along the line district leaders and favorites will emerge as the field of 110 teams in the two divisions roll into the final three weeks of the regular campaign.

The weekend schedule in the state:

Thursday—Crozier Tech (Dallas) vs. Sunset (Dallas), Fort Worth Tech vs. Amon Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth), Sam Houston (Houston) vs. Austin (Houston), Brackenridge (San Antonio) vs. Burbank (San Antonio).

Friday—North Dallas vs. Forest (Dallas), Poly (Fort Worth) vs. Paschal (Fort Worth), Reagan (Houston) vs. Lamar (Houston), Milby (Houston) at Corpus Christi, San Antonio Tech vs. Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio), Harlandale (San Antonio) vs. Lanier (San Antonio), Pampa at Plainview, Wichita Falls at Childress, Graham at Vernon, Brownfield at Lamesa, Lubbock at Odessa, Big Spring at Midland, Austin (El Paso) vs. Bowie (El Paso), Sweetwater at San Angelo, Abilene at Brownwood, Breckenridge at Weatherford, Mineral Wells at Stephenville, Greenville at Denison, Sherman at Bonham, Paris at Gainesville, McKinney at Highland Park (Dallas), Grand Prairie at Sulphur Springs, Henderson at Texarkana, Longview at Marshall, Tyler at Kilgore, Electra at Gladewater, Conroe at Bryan, Jacksonville at Palestine, Nacogdoches at Lufkin, Cleburne at Orange, Port Neches at Port Arthur, Beaumont vs. South Park (Beaumont), Baytown at Freeport, Texas City at Galena Park, Galveston at Pasadena, Hillsboro at Waco, Waxahachie at Temple, Corsicana at Ennis, Kerrville at Austin, Laredo at Victoria, Kingsville at Alice, Brownsville at McAllen, San Benito at Edinburg.

Saturday — Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) vs. Adamson (Dallas), Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) vs. North Side (Fort Worth), San Jacinto (Houston) vs. Jeff Davis (Houston), San Antonio Tech vs. Jefferson (San Antonio), Harlandale (San Antonio) vs. Lanier (San Antonio) Borger at Amarillo.

Westerners, Odessa Hold Drills

Locals Work To Tighten Defense

Coach Pat Pattison sent his Westerners through a long workout Wednesday afternoon at Chapman field, but to the casual observer it might have appeared that little was accomplished.

But a lot was done in the way of readying the team for the offensive onslaughts of the Odessa Bronchos when the two elevens meet at 2:30 p. m. Friday at Broncho stadium in a game generally conceded as the deciding game in the District 3-AA race.

The Westerners are regarded as favorites locally and by sports writers over the state who have voted Lubbock as the number one team in the state the past three weeks. And practices this week have been designed to aid the Westerners in maintaining that position.

Head-Knocking Absent

Absent the past few days have been the rugged head-knocking sessions held in previous weeks as Coach Pattison rounded the team into shape for the long grind, but workouts have been patterned to give the members of the squad the necessary offensive and defensive assignments to defeat the Broncs.

Heading the list of essentials is a stout defense, and all three coaches —Pattison, Bill Fyold and Fred Taylor—have worked hard to try to solve this problem. Defensive patterns have been stressed to the limit in practice, and on the blackboard and in practice against a team running from an Odessa formation, it appears that the Broncho offensive will be slowed considerably.

Offensively the Westerners will show the same attack which has clicked so successfully, with a well-balanced ground and air attack being used and speed and deception as the main points.

Game Interest High

Wednesday's session got underway with a skull practice, following which the players took to the practice field for calisthenics, punting and place kicking and offensive and defensive workouts. The same type workout is scheduled for today.

Interest in Lubbock has been high as game time approaches, and ticket sales have reached 5,731 for adults and 930 for students. This puts 6,661 ducats in the hands of Westerner fans for the Armistice day tilt. Student tickets are still on sale.

From Odessa comes word that the entire stadium has been sold out and that more requests for tickets are being received.

Three Injured Baylor Players Return For Grid Practice

WACO, Nov. 9. (AP).—Hopes of the injury beset Baylor Bears got a big boost today. Halfback Dudley Parker, Fullback Frank Boydstun, and Center Gene Huebner returned to practice.

The had been away from work since last Saturday's game with the University of Texas.

Stanley Williams, starting left end for the Bears, worked out with his arm in a cast. Doubt was expressed he would be ready Saturday when Baylor takes on Wyoming's Cowboy gridders here.

Buddy Parker, speedy halfback and one of the Bear's leading scorers, was nursing a pulled back muscle and didn't work out.

The game Saturday will see Coach Bob Woodruff match his "T" formation against the single wing system of Wyoming Coach Bowden Wyatt.

Techsans Seeking Third Victory

Tech Picadors Meet H-SU Frosh Friday

What may be a preview of things to come Nov. 26 looms on the horizon tomorrow afternoon at Abilene when the Texas Tech freshmen, their glorious bubble of an undefeated season exploded, take on the Hardin-Simmons freshmen in a football game that will be watched closely by supporters of both sides.

This will be, as are all Tech-Simmons games, a grudge affair. The Cowboy first year squad hasn't lost a game yet in four starts and will be seeking another undefeated season.

The Picadors will be seeking their third victory for the second time. Last week they traipsed down to Odessa for what they thought would be a breeze. Instead, they ran into a backlash and dropped a 13-0 game to the Odessa Junior college team.

That licking was the first of the season for the Picadors and left them somewhat aghast. They didn't think that another team could do that to them, especially one they had beaten the week before by the same score.

Prior to that time, the Pacadors had taken a 59-7 victory from the West Texas State college freshman and a 13-0 win from Odessa Junior college. They were flushed with success.

After all, they had a large group of former all-state high school players and many others ranked right up with them. They had had a field day against the junior Buffaloes and everything they had done was right.

H-SU Squad Tough

But the Odessa game last week changed the complexion of the squad. They were beaten by a team that they should have beaten and most of them knew it Now they face a Hardin-Simmons eleven that is good and the Tech frosh can expect nothing but trouble.

Coach Allie White sent his players through a scrimmage against the varsity Tuesday and then drilled them on execution of plays. Timing came in for close inspection, as well as smoothing out flaws in blocking assignments.

The Picadors again will rely on a sharp passing attack headed by Carl Madison and Don Seale, two better than average passers, and a good ground game, headed by Waldo Young, Gene Doss, Chuck Reynolds, W. H. Barker and Sandy Welton.

Pass receivers who have been outstanding this year include James Thames and Alton Linne, while defensively, Hollice Davis and James Clark have been standouts.

The line boasts such stalwarts as Center Jimmy Williams, Guards Buddy Barron and Don Gray, Tackles Charles Goff, Ed Briggs, Harold Harrison and Marlan Ribble.

PASS SNAGGER—Co-Captain Paul Erwin, Odessa end, has been on the receiving end of 19 Broncho aerials this year good for 334 yards and two touchdowns. The 5 foot, 11 inch, senior letterman is one of the standouts both on offense and defense for the Bronchos and has been partly responsible for their success this season.

Dallas Woman Wins Low Gross In Central Texas Golf Tourney

CORSICANA, Nov. 9. (AP).—Mrs. L. B. Hoseck of Dallas carded a 91 to take low gross for the field in the annual tournament and meeting of the Central Texas Women's Golf Association today.

Mrs. Fred Barfield of Waco took low next for the field with a 76.

In the championship flight Mrs. Guy Henry of Ennis took low gross with a 93 and Mrs. Paul Smith of Waco a low net with an 84.

A field of 60 women from Waco, Temple, Ennis, Corsicana, and Waxahachie played the Corsicana Country Club course.

Mrs. J. J. Rady of Fort Worth's Colonial Club was named president of the Association, succeeding Mrs. Charles Barrett of Waco.

Bronchos Polish Running Plays

ODESSA, Nov. 9. (Special) — Apparently unmindful of the underdog role they are slated to play against the Lubbock Westerners here at 2:30 p.m. Friday, the Odessa Bronchos romped through their third three-hour workout of the week Wednesday afternoon.

Both offense and defense came in for a lot of attention during the drill, but the Broncs spent the major portion of the practice time polishing old, and perfecting new, running plays from their T formation.

Head Coach Joe Coleman, who guided the Broncs to the state championship in 1946, and who put Odessa teams into the playoffs the past two years, has his white-shirted regulars running offensive and defensive scrimmage against a team of red shirts employing Lubbock formations.

Workouts Taper Off

After the drill, Coleman said the Broncs "still had lots of work to do." But the mentor indicated that the rugged workouts would taper off sharply Thursday in the final session before the game.

No injuries cropped up to mar Wednesday's practice, and it appears that the Broncs will go into the game at full strength. The one possible exception may be second string quarterback Mac Tyler who reinjured a weak knee in the Lamesa battle last Friday.

Quarterback Charles Clover directed the Bronc running game in the Wednesday drill, and running with him in the number one backfield were right halfback T. W. Harvey, left half Bobby Jackson and fullback Howard Dye.

Coleman shuffled the linemen extensively throughout the session in an effort to find more blocking power to throw at the bulky line.

Heard May Move To Tackle

It appears now that Roy Heard, first string tackle moved to guard earlier in the week, may open at his original position Friday. This would bring up little (150 pounds) Marshall Bonds for a starting guard berth.

Meanwhile, the game became an absolute sellout Wednesday morning, when the last 500 bleacher seats were sold out. Ticket booths opened at 9 a.m. and 15 minutes later the last pasteboard was gobbled up.

No tickets will be available at the stadium Friday, and the pregame sale assures a crowd in the excess of 22,000 persons.

MEETING SLATED

All persons interested in organizing an independent city basketball league of girls teams Wednesday were requested by Curtis Barrett to attend a meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight in room 106, City hall. Preliminary plans for the girls league will be discussed at this session, Barrett said.

Reds Reject Dodger Bids

BROOKLYN, Nov. 9. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds recently rejected a pair of big money bids by the Brooklyn Dodgers for two of their top flight pitchers, it was learned today.

A Dodger official admitted that a flat offer of $200,000 for right-hander Herman Wehmeier was turned down by the Reds' general manager Warren Giles. Another bid of $100,000 and a couple of unidentified players for veteran left-hander Kenny Raffensberger met the same fate.

"We haven't given up, however," the source said. "We feel that either Raffensberger or Wehmeier would insure us another pennant and perhaps a world championship."

The 32-year-old Raffensberger won 18 and lost 17 for the Reds last season. Wehmeier won only 12 games, but is considered more valuable since he is 10 years Raffensberger's junior.

TWO BROADCASTS SLATED

Lubbock radio stations will broadcast two of the area's top schoolboy grid attractions Friday. KCBD will air the Lubbock-Odessa game, with Jim Black doing the play-by-play. KSEL, with Wayne Allen handling the play-by-play, will present the Slaton-Post tilt. Both broadcasts will begin at 2:20 p.m.

Tech Quintet Cards 27 Games

Non-Conference Tussles Slated

Texas Tech football players barely will have played their last game of the 1949 season when Coach Polk Robison's basketball squad will open a 27-game schedule with a home game against Wayland college of Plainview.

From that game on until March 8, the Red Raider court squad will be kept busy. The Raiders have their usual Border Conference schedule to follow, but also step outside for some important non-conference games.

Meet Wayland Twice

Wayland college will be met twice, once in Plainview, while other non-conference games will be against McMurry, Trinity, Austin college, Howard Payne, Rice, Baylor and Texas Christian college.

Tentative games also are scheduled with Hardin college and Austin, both away from home.

Coach Robison said last night that the entire schedule is subject still to approval by the athletic council, which hasn't met to discuss the schedule yet.

Taylor Clinic Slated

Two non-conference trips are on the schedule. The Raiders will meet Rice in Houston Dec. 6 and the following three nights will play Trinity, Baylor and Howard Payne away from home. The other trip, in between semesters, will send the Raiders to Fort Worth for a game against TCU and probable games against Hardin and Austin.

One feature of the home schedule will be the Chuck Taylor clinic Dec. 10. Tech will play either Abilene Christian college or West Texas State college as a climax of the clinic, which may changed to another date so as to cap the coaches clinic planned by the City Recreation Department.

Coach Robison's green basketball squad is working out daily, getting ready for a rugged season. Only three lettermen are back, with replacements for the rest of the squad made up of 15 men from last year's freshman squad and three transfers.

The schedule:

Nov. 28—Wayland, here.

Old Man Opportunity is going to knock on the Lubbock Westerners' door Friday afternoon, and this writer, for one, hopes the local gridders will hustle to let the aged gentleman through the portal.

Tyler Tops Junior College Conference

(By The Associated Press)

The statistics would indicate that Tyler is leading the Southwestern Junior college football race — except that statistics seldom can be used as the yardstick.

Rushing and passing totals are made against different teams with varying defenses and unless two teams have met mean little in comparative strength.

The Conference statistical bureau Wednesday announced that Tyler was topping the circuit with 3041 yards in eight games and that Kilgore, tied with Tyler with a record of seven wins and one loss, was second with 2650.

Lamar, the only undefeated, untied team, isn't in the first three. San Angelo is third with 2612.

Kilgore leads in rushing with 2209 with Lamar second with 2137. Tyler is third with 1956.

SMU May Find Air Route Is Easier Against Razorbacks

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 9 (AP)—Southern Methodist, like other teams this season, probably will find the going against Arkansas Saturday much easier through the air than on the ground.

Arkansas regulars stopped SMU running plays, as executed by the B team, cold in a long scrimmage session today. But the B teamers clicked time and again on Mustang pass plays.

Razorback Coach John Barnhill said it is "very questionable" that his injured fullback, Leon Campbell, will return to action this week.

Texas Gridders Work On Plays Against Texas Christian Team

AUSTIN, Nov. 9. (AP) — Texas continued to work today against TCU offense and defense patterns set up by a squad of purple-shirted ineligibles and reserves.

Two halfbacks, Randall Clay, leading scorer in the Southwest Conference, and injured Billy Pyle have been named co-captains for the annual homecoming game, last home appearance this year.

First string End Ray Stone will miss the TCU encounter because of a groin injury received in the Rice game three weeks ago.

Make no mistake about it, this Odessa game is the "make or break" affair for the 1949 Westerners. If they win it, they will be in a position to go on to athletic heights never before achieved by a Lubbock High team—an undefeated, untied season. If they loose—well, brother, that's all. Their 1949 season is kaput, and they'll go down on the record books as another "might-have-been" ball club that "wasn't."

The winner of this Lubbock-Odessa game is going to be the district champion, and a top favorite in the ensuing playoffs. The loser is going to be an also-ran. That's all there is to it.

Earlier this week, I said in this column that I was convinced that Lubbock has what it takes to beat Odessa—and to do the job convincingly. I have not wavered one iota from that line of thought. From a technical point of view, Lubbock has a far superior ball club, in my humble opinion.

But the fact remains that the Westerners must win the game on the field Friday—and all the superiority in the world isn't going to do them a particle of good if they don't get out there and knuckle down.

For a good many years now, I have seen Odessa teams, good and bad. And I assure you in all sincerity that when you sit down at Broncho stadium Friday afternoon, you can safely expect to see in Odessa one of the fightingest ball teams you ever have laid eyes on. For sheer scrap, it's hard to match one of these oilfield aggregations.

Last week, I saw Odessa against Lamesa, and, frankly, I was disappointed in the Bronchos. They didn't have the snap and polish I expected of them.

But this is not to hint that Lubbock will have an easy time Friday. Odessa's hustle this week is going to offset many of those Broncho shortcomings, and in all truthfulness I can state that I expect Odessa to prove the toughest team on Lubbock's regular-season schedule.

To beat the Odessans, Lubbock will have to start with the opening whistle and never let up. The Bronchos proved at Lamesa that they'll explode in your face if you give them a breathing spell. The only solution is to knock 'em down and keep 'em down.

I have great respect for these 1949 Westerners, however, and am personally confident that they will come through again. They appear to be a level-headed bunch of kids who realize that there's another big job cut out for them this week.

I just hope they don't let me —and 70,000 other Lubbockites— down.

Hart Sparkplug Of Irish Crew

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 9. (AP).— Leon Joseph Hart, tough guy on a tough football team, would make pleasant dream material for any collegiate football coach, but as co-captain and right end for Notre Dame, this Irish 21-year-old has produced many a nightmare these last two months for the fellow on his opposite.

Hart was chosen Lineman Of The Week in the Associated Press poll, based on his performance in Notre Dame's 34-21 triumph over Michigan State last Saturday.

He stands six feet four inches tall, from stocking feet to the top of his crew-cut head of hair, and he weighs a very solid 245 pounds.

Hart has consistently gained so much ground with the end around play for the Irish that Coach Frank Leahy has made it an integral part of his offensive repertoire. Quarterback Bob Williams calls on Hart for this maneuver now about as often as he calls for the buck through the line.

Hart is a tower of strength on defense. Using his huge size, Leahy has devised the inverted "V" defense against the single wing. While the opposition huddles, Hart stands at the apex of the "V" with the other Irish linemen behind him. Once Hart spots the shift of the foes strength to the unbalanced side of the line, he and Guard Bob Toneff move also to that side — leaving co-captain and Tackle Jim Martin to handle the other.

Hart is a senior. He is an excellent student in the mechanical engineering school, possessing an 83.5 average. (A 77 is necessary for any student participating in Notre Dame athletics).

Hard Scrimmage Tops Red Raider Workouts

This might be supposed to be an off-week for Texas Tech, a vacation more or less.

Nothing could be farther from the truth. The Red Raiders, after enjoying a day off Monday, when they were given a long chalk talk by Coach Dell Morgan, returned to the gridiron with vengeance Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons.

Hard scrimmages featured both afternoons, with yesterday's workout exceeding Tuesday's drill in roughness. But the squad came through the workouts in good shape and suffered no further injuries, although Halfback Herman Bailey was knocked out temporarily.

Bailey Recovers

Bailey recovered quickly and continued to spark the Raider drill, which wasn't smooth by any means. Blocking, which has been the big failing on the Raider squad all year, was not sharp and backs were not getting loose for consistently good gains.

"If you can't block out here", Coach Morgan said vehemently, "how do you think you're going to be able to block in Albuquerque next week?"

Noticeably weak in the blocking department was the protection given the passer. It was one of the big weaknesses at El Paso Saturday night and has been one of the weak points all season in the Raider attack. Second string linemen were rushing Quarterback Billy Lyman badly yesterday, just as Texas Western linemen rushed Quarterback Ernest Hawkins Saturday.

Face Lobos Next

The Raiders have the remainder of this week and all of next in which to get ready for New Mexico, a team with which they should have little trouble. The Lobos have been bitten more this year than they have bit, winning only once, a 14-13 victory eked out over New Mexico A&M.

Coach Berl Huffman, however, has a way of building the Lobos up for one game and it's usually the Texas Tech encounter. Moreover, the Nov. 19 game in Albuquerque is homecoming and the home team is bound to be keyed up. Two years ago the Raiders eked out a 26-20 game in which New Mexico barely missed winning, after Tech had rolled up a 26-0 lead at the half.

The same thing could happen this year and the fear of the Raider coaching staff is that Techsan players will spend more time admiring comparative records than they will the possibility that the Lobos could be hard to beat.

Trinity Will Enter Mexico's Silver Bowl

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 9. (U.P.) — Trinity university officials announced today its football team would compete in the Silver Bowl at Mexico City Dec. 17 against a picked team of All-Stars from five Mexican colleges.

Athletic Director Bill James said the Tigers, who have won four and lost three this season, had accepted an invitation to compete in the charity affair, sponsored by Mexico City Shriners for benefit of their crippled children's hospital in the Mexican capital.

He said the team, members of the newly-formed Gulf Coast Conference, would leave San Antonio Dec. 15 and return Dec. 19, making the trip by air.

The team still has four games to play on its regular schedule, meeting East Texas State at Commerce Saturday, University of Houston at Houston Nov. 19, Hardin college at Wichita Falls Nov. 24 and Hardin-Simmons here Dec. 3.

Bowl Games Shaping Up

By PAT ROBINSON
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 — Now is the time when the football bowl promoters start to worry.

The reason is obvious: there are not enough undefeated and available major teams to fill the larger bowls.

We stress the word available because the best pair of teams in the country—Notre Dame and Army—will not consider a post-season game under any circumstances.

Still, on second thought, the local Chambers of Commerce in such hot bowl sites as Miami (Orange), New Orleans (Sugar), Dallas (Cotton) and Pasadena (Rose) should not be unduly worried.

There are many classy teams which have lost a game or even two but that shouldn't hurt their attractiveness if properly matched.

Let's see what's available.

Agreement Hurts

The Rose Bowl is all set with the winner of the Pacific Coast Conference pitted against a team from the Big Ten. Unfortunately for the PCC people, they allowed the Big Ten authorities to talk them into a silly agreement whereby any Big Ten team can go to the coast only once every three years.

Under this agreement, Michigan and Northwestern can't go to the coast this year even if they should finish one-two in their own Conference. Thus, the PCC might have to settle for a Big Ten team which could finish no better than third in its own conference.

If Ohio State beats Illinois Saturday, the O. S. team might be tabbed to play California in the Rose Bowl.

Oklahoma Good Bet

Oklahoma, unbeaten and untied, and ranked about third nationally behind Notre Dame and Army, seems a good bet for the Sugar Bowl.

Football scouts tell us only the Irish or the Cadets could stand a chance against Oklahoma. If that be so, the best the south could hope for is a team to hold the score down to reasonable proportions.

Such a team might be unbeaten Virginia, Louisiana State or Tulane.

The Cotton Bowl figures to have a closer game with either Rice or Texas stacked up against Stanford or whatever other team should finish second to California on the Pacific Coast.

The Orange Bowl representative probably will be either Miami university or Florida university.

The Orange Bowl people have a wide and happy selection of available opponents.

We doubt that any member of the Ivy league would accept a bid to play in Miami but there are plenty of high class independents including Fordham, Villanova, Penn State and Pitt, or Boston university.

New Use Of Hands Rule Proves To Be Trouble Maker On Field

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP) — An innocent-looking little paragraph on page 44 of the Football Rules Book for 1949 appears to be the cause of more strained relations than usual between officials and coaches this season.

Scarcely a weekend passes that some overwrought mentor does not accuse a group of officials of having robbed him blind. Penalties are up and so are blood pressures. All because article 4 (the little joker) says:

"When a teammate of the runner uses a hand or forearm in blocking or to supplement a shoulder block the hand must be in contact with the body during the entire block."

Know what that means? Only that the poor offensive linemen who always has taken a wicked mauling from the unfettered defense, now is even further restricted. He can't even rooster-fight this year without incurring a 15-yard penalty.

Once he was permitted to lock his hands and flail around pretty good with his elbows. Then last year, the locked hands were abolished and it was decreed that the offensive blocker had to keep his hands "near" his body. This year the rule makers went whole hog.

Now the only way a poor bloke who is trying to carve a hole for a ball-carrier can make certain of avoiding "illegal use of hands" is to take a firm grip on his jersey with either paw when a play starts and hold on for dear life until it ends.

If a hand slips loose and an official sees it—whambo—15 yards. That usually happens just after a teammate has run 83 yards for a score. That was what Coach Frank Leahy was raving about earlier in the season, after Notre Dame's win over Washington.

Difficulty is, of course, that certain officials are enforcing the new rule more closely, more literally, than others. The yelps are coming, mainly, from coaches who have been bitten by a zealot.

Kasaboski Takes Go From Parks

Three fast, hard matches provided the action last night at Sled Allen's wrestling arena in one of the best cards seen here in recent weeks.

The main event was a corker, with slugging, kicking, choking and hair-pulling from start to finish. In on the action were Alex Kasaboski and Herb Parks, with Kasaboski getting the long end of the decision.

The first fall of this match was Parks' all the way, and the veteran grappler caught the Russian with a cat toehold and stomp in 13 minutes to earn a rest.

Kasaboski came from behind in the second fall with the aid of a fistful of Parks' hair to apply a full reverse and win the fall in 15 minutes, injuring Parks in doing so.

With another full reverse in one minute Kasaboski won the match and gained the booes of the crowd.

Opening the activities were Charlie Carr and Salvador Flores, with Flores winning the match in three falls. Flores stopped Carr in 15 minutes of the first fall with a crucifix and then lost to Carr in the second set-to, due to a shoulder scissors, in seven minutes.

A drop kick and smother produced the desired results as Flores won the last fall in 11 minutes.

A rough and rugged match from start to finish was that between the Grey Mask and George Overhull. The Mask pinned Overhull with a reverse crab in 23 minutes of the initial fall.

In the second fall the going was very rough, with Overhulls working both the referee, Al Getz, and the Mask over. In fact, he lost his temper after being pulled off the Mask, who was in the ropes, and knocked Getz to the canvas a couple of times to be disqualified after 11 minutes.

WTSC Meets H-SU Saturday

CANYON, Nov. 9 (Special) — West Texas State's improving Buffs moved back to the practice field today ready to take on hard and strenuous drilling in preparation for meeting the Lop-leading Cowboys from Hardin-Simmons University this Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. at Buffalo Stadium.

Still in the peak of physical shape, the Buffs of Coach Frank Kimbrough will go into the game an underdog. Comparative scores between the two elevens produce a muddy picture of what to expect. In the two common opponents, Texas Western and Houston university, figures balance out in a crazy manner. Texas Western whipped the Buffs 34-7 and lost to the Cowpokes 33-14. On the other hand West Texas had one TD called back and slapped the Houston Cougars all over the field before losing a thriller 14-13. On the following Saturday the Cowboys had to come from behind to tie the Houston crew 27-27.

A capacity crowd is expected to be on hand at Buffalo Stadium next Saturday when the two bitter rivals tangle. West Texas State has not won a game from the Cowboys since 1923 when they turned the trick 6-0. Oddly enough the quarterback of that HSU team then is now head coach of the Buffaloes. That is Frank Kimbrough.

West Texas State has shown great promise in their last two outings. Week before last they whipped a favored Trinity eleven 55-20. Last Saturday night they romped to 34 points in the first quarter then relaxed and trounced the Arizona State crew at Flagstaff 47-6.

Last Rites Conducted For Victim Of Flomot Beating

FLOMOT, Nov. 9. (Special)—Services were conducted at 3 p. m. today at the Flomot Baptist church for Pearl Tanner, 60-year-old bachelor who died Tuesday in the Stanley clinic at Matador of severe injuries he suffered Sunday when he was beaten by an unknown assailant as he slept in his home.

Rev. J. E. Lee officiated. Burial took place in the Flomot cemetery under direction of the McDonald Funeral home of Matador.

Two Are Killed In Anton Crash

patcher reported, but it was too late.

The train rolled on in to the Santa Fe depot in Anton, about three-fourths of a mile from the crossing, with cotton and pieces of wreckage dropping along the way.

C. F. Harrington, station agent of the Santa Fe, called a Hammons Funeral home ambulance in Littlefield at the request of the train crewmen.

He reported that cotton showered over the train engine had caught fire, and the train pulled to a stop for the ambulance call and to put out the blaze.

On Way To Gin

The elder Herrera, driver of the truck, apparently had been on his way to an Anton gin with about two bales of unginned cotton.

At least one member of the family, probably more, was tossed from the truck. It was not learned whether any of the group had been riding in the truck bed.

Although the spelling of the family name was taken from a Catholic church document as Herrera, it also was given as Huerrero. Another doubtful spelling due to translation difficulties was that of the three-year-old injured child, which was reported as Airgrado.

Mrs. J. L. Smith, a resident across Anton - Lubbock highway that parallels the railroad tracks, said that passing Catholic priests came to her house for water with which to administer Extreme Unction to the dead and dying, the last sacrament of the Roman Catholic church.

Infant Found Dead

Dr. Daniel Lee of Anton, who was passing by at the time of the collision, found the infant dead but rendered first aid to the others.

All five victims were loaded into a Hammons Funeral home ambulance from Littlefield and taken to the Littlefield hospital.

The deaths at Anton, 26 miles northwest of Lubbock, pushed the traffic fatality toll in the Lubbock vicinity to 17 in the past 11 days.

Herrera had just turned off the Anton-Lubbock highway onto the farm-to-market road leading north to Spade when the front of the engine plowed into the right side of the truck. The wreckage of the truck indicated that it had been hit in the center, just back of the cab.

Bodies of the two victims were taken to the Hammons Funeral home. Funeral arrangements were not complete, but Mrs. Herrera indicated that burial would be in Anton, probably Friday.

Two Persons Hurt In Mishaps Near City

Two persons, one of them a negro, escaped with minor injuries in two wrecks which caused heavy damage to vehicles involved near the city Wednesday.

Treated at Lubbock Memorial hospital following the accidents were Monte Ray Puryear, 19, Lubbock route 1, and Louis Eggins, 24-year-old negro, of Anton route 2. Eggins was admitted to the hospital for further observation following treatment of a severe laceration of the left ear and abrasions of the left shoulder. Young Puryear was released after treatment for a minor laceration of the chin.

Highway patrolmen said the youth was injured when his car and another driven by Perry Clayton Stephens, 51, a negro of near Woodrow, sideswiped on the Tahoka highway south of Lubbock about 6:30 p. m. Puryear's 1939 Chevrolet coach turned over once and landed on its wheels in the west barrow pit beside the road. Both cars were traveling toward Lubbock.

Eggins' 1940 Buick was virtually demolished when it was in collision with a heavy truck loaded with cotton at the intersection of North College Ave. and Northwest Ave. Q, about 9:40.

The car, headed northwest, struck the left front fender of the heavier vehicle, which was traveling southeast, causing the car to spin completely around. One bale of cotton was thrown from the truck.

Paul Hancock, 18, of Coolidge, said he was preparing to make a left turn onto North College Ave. at the time of the mishap.

Both injured men were taken to the hospital by Rix ambulance.

Two Persons Injured In Area Auto Wrecks Still In Hospital

Two persons who were injured in automobile accidents on the South Plains Sunday remained under close observation in hospitals late last night.

Attendants at Prohl clinic in Tahoka said last night that Mrs. O. C. Campbell, 34, remained in critical condition. She suffered a broken back and fractured skull in a crash near her farm home. Her son, Clifton, 3, died Monday as a result of injuries received in the accident.

Mrs. James D. Fair of Post, a former resident of Denison, last night was still in serious condition in Lubbock Memorial hospital. However, hospital attendants said she was resting satisfactorily last night.

Mrs. Fair suffered injuries in a car-gasoline truck collision in which her husband was killed.

Meanwhile, private services were held Wednesday for Marie del Cormer Mancha, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guadalupe Mancha, who was killed Tuesday morning when she was struck by a truck near Shallowater.

Sweetwater Church Assists Family By Going Into Business

SWEETWATER, Nov. 9. (U.P.)— The First Christian church of Sweetwater was in the turkey business today on a temporary basis to help the family of Thomas Whittenburg.

The junior high school principle and four members of his family were hurt in an automobile accident last Sunday and all are in Prohl clinic-hospital in Tahoka.

Dressing and selling Whittenburg's 275 turkeys means a profit instead of a loss for the stricken family. Church members sold 74 birds the first hour afte announcement of the sale, Pastor William H. Shropshire said today.

One Killed, Ten Hurt

The accident, which claimed one life and injured ten, occurred ten miles east of Tahoka as Mr. and Mrs. Whittenburg, their two children, Wendell, 9, and Barbara, 5, and Whittenburg's mother, Mrs. Lucy Whittenburg, were returning from a visit with relatives in Tahoka.

Their car collided with another containing six persons returning from church services. One child in the other car was killed and his mother critically injured.

Only Whittenburg and his mother remained in the hospital at Tahoka tonight. Mrs. Whittenburg and the children have been released. Whittenburg's condition was described as "good," his Mother's only as "fair." Both were seriously injured in the accident.

Stassen Speaks

Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Boston, Louisville, Albany and other big-city centers. The process saw the dumping of old-time bosses James M. Curley in Boston and Frank Hague in New Jersey.

Boss Hague Quits

Hague promptly abdicated his battered state throne following the re-election of GOP Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll in New Jersey, the only real victory to which Republicans could point. Hague stepped out as state Democratic chief and said he had "no desire" to finish his term on the Democratic national committee.

Mr. Truman was rebuffed, however, in Virginia and Texas. Virginians elected John S. Battle, Democratic choice of anti-Truman Sen. Harry F. Byrd, as governor. And, as in Texas, they refused to repeal their poll tax law. Voters in both states were urged to kill the poll tax statute and thus forestall federal legislation.

Anti-poll tax is one of the points in Mr. Truman's controversial civil rights program.

As expected, Democrats won both House seats up in Tuesday's balloting. Mrs. Edna Kelly of Brooklyn was elected easily in New York's 10th district, and Democrat John F. Shelley, San Francisco labor leader, was elected in California's Fifth district.

The Taft forces won a significant and somewhat unexpected victory in Ohio when the voters changed their state ballot from the "straight ticket" to the "vote by office" type. Taft's office said that because of the "vehemence of the drive against the ballot" the result was a tribute to the senator. More practically, it will boost his re-election chances by requiring a vote for each separate office next year.

The same formation will pass over Plainview at 10:30 a.m., on towns in connection with Armistice Day festivities. The formation is scheduled over Lubbock at apthe heels of two F-80 Lockheed jet fighter planes from Williams Air Force base at Chandler, Ariz. The jets are scheduled to make their speed run at 10:25 a.m.

Lockney will see the B-25 formation about 10:25 a.m., with Hale Center on the flight schedule at 10:44 a.m.

The RAFB band, directed by Chief Warrant Officer Carmine Luce, will arrive in Plainview by bus at 9:30 a.m. to take part in the Armistice Day parade sponsored by the Ray Blakemore post of the American Legion. High school bands also will march in the parade.

Open House Planned

Back in Lubbock, Armistice Day will be observed with open house all day Friday at the Naval Reserve Training center, Eighth and College avenue, Lt. J. E. Ruzic, officer-in-charge, announced Wednesday afternoon.

The public will be welcomed during the day, Ruzic said. Hours will be 10 to 12 a.m. and 2 to 6 p.m.

For the occasion the center personnel will "dress ship" with colorful signal flags, the same as ships are dressed on special occasions, it was announced. The decorations are removed at sundown.

"We didn't mention Vishinsky's name."

Acheson was accompanied to the meetings by John J. McCloy, U. S. high commissioner to Germany, James Riddleberger, a political adviser to McCloy, Lewis Douglas, U. S. ambassador to London, and David Bruce, ambassador to France.

The afternoon session involving 60 officials which began at 3:30 p. m. was stripped to a very small number late today, leaving only the foreign ministers assisted by the three high commissioners to Germany.

Plans For District Convention Announced At VFW Meeting Here

More than 300 members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 2466 attended a regular semi-monthly meeting at the post home Wednesday night.

H. B. Virgil Crawford, district seven commander, was present and announced final plans for the district convention to be held Nov. 26-27 in Lubbock.

Tom Carter of Fort Worth, past Lubbock and state commander, addressed the members briefly.

At the meeting the members were urged to see that all veterans were invited to attend the special Veteran's Breakfast to be held at 7 a. m. Armistice Day at the post home. A special program has been prepared and Dr. Doyle Jackson, of Texas Tech, will be the speaker.

MORE WORK URGED

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee tonight suggested longer working hours to help Britain's dollar export drive. He said some workers, executives and salespeople aren't doing all they can to earn the country the dollars Britain needs to live. He pleaded for less "crying aloud" about his new economy program.

New Hotel Proposed

ported to the chamber directors Wednesday afternoon were those submited to Manager Davis in a long distance telephone conversation with Spearl Ellison, executive vice president of the Hilton chain and a large scale hotels operator in his own right.

In gist, here were some of the suggestions which emerged from the conversation:

A separate corporation would be formed to build an entirely new hotel of approximately 250 rooms.

The Hilton corporation would take the largest block of stock; local capital would subscribe the remainder.

Hilton Would Operate Building

The Hilton corporation would enter into a contract to act as the operating agent of the new hotel, including the provisions of the necessary furnishings — a stipulation which would involve an outlay running into many hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The Hilton corporation would guarantee the payment of taxes, insurance, interest at a rate of be set upon outstanding stock and the amortization — meaning the purchase — of not less than 3 per cent of that stock per year.

Any profits resulting from the operations of the hotel would be prorated among stockholders in proportion to their holdings.

The conversation did not attempt to deal with or to reach an agreement on, many of the important details which would be involved in the project, if it should be undertaken.

For example, no attempt was made to estimate the possible cost of building a hotel of the kind proposed.

Cost Would Be Heavy

But applying standard yardsticks in computing such projects, the cost of building a 250-room hotel probably could not fall much below $2,500,000, and might run well above that figure. This would not include the cost of furnishings.

Neither was there any discussion of the height to which a 250-room hotel might rise. Many factors would determine that — the size of the site, the size of the rooms and such other accommodations as dining rooms, ballrooms and the like. But the chances are that it would be taller than any present building in Lubbock.

The question as to how much of the building cost would be supplied by the corporation and local capital will be one of the most vital topics of discussion when Martin and Furr confer with Hilton.

Limit Would Be Set

Directors of the chamber were unanimous in their agreement that there would be a limit to the amount of money which could be raised in Lubbock for a hotel.

No one attempted to say what that limit might be. But the officials did point out that Lubbock has no one of enormous wealth who could subscribe, individually, a large part of any commitment that might be made on behalf of the city.

To reach any goal, regardless of what it might be, officials agreed, it will be necessary to rely upon many subscriptions of comparatively modest amounts.

Obstacles Are Foreseen

Looming now as the most formidable obstacle to the project, it was agreed, is the possibility that the Hilton corporation might insist upon more local financing than would be possible to raise. The seriousness of this obstacle cannot be estimated, at the earliest, until after Martin and Furr have conferred with Hilton.

If this hurdle can be surmounted, optimisim prevailed that the new hotel will be built.

The proposition was the third to come from the Hilton corporation designed to provide Lubbock with more adequate hotel facilities than now are available. These have been the result of negotiations, spearheaded by the chamber of commerce, which have been in progress more than two years.

The first proposal was to add 60 rooms and three floors to the present Hilton at a cost of about $400,000, with local capital subscribing half that amount.

The reaction to this was that 60 rooms wouldn't be a drop in the bucket toward supplying Lubbock hotel rooms.

The second proposition was to build a new wing containing about 148 rooms on the north side of the Hilton. This cost was estimated at about $1,000,000. Discussions did not get far enough to go into the mater of how much of this investment would have to be financed locally.

But the general reaction to proposed enlargements of the present Hilton was somewhat less than enthusiastic. The chief objection was that such an expansion program, if carried out, would not provide dining rooms, ballrooms and meeting rooms of sufficient size to accommodate large conventions.

Chamber officials have said repeatedly that it is pointless even to seek major meetings because facilities are lacking to entertain them, even if they could be obtained.

Continuing discussions with Hilton corporation executives, chiefly with Ellison, led to the proposal announced Wednesday.

And the announcement was made with the assurance that the new hotel, if built, would include accommodations large enough for any convention or other meeting that might be obtained for Lubbock.

Knife-Wielding Assailant Sought

Officials late Wednesday were unable to report "any trace" of an unknown knife-wielding assailant who slightly wounded W. L. Huckabee of 1621 Eighth during an attempted robbery at Ninth and Ave. O shortly before 2:30 a.m.

Huckabee told sheriff's deputies he had just arrived in Lubbock on a bus and was walking to his room. At the corner of Ninth and Ave. O a man he thought was a Latin American approached him, jerked out a knife and told him to give up his money, Huckabee said.

Robber Evaded

Huckabee said he jerked loose but suffered a small cut on the hand, and said his coat collar was slashed.

The victim said he believed he could identify his assailant, described as 25 to 30 years old, 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighing approximately 160 pounds, and wearing a light colored suit and black hat and shoes.

B. F. Forrester and John Barnett of the sheriff's night patrol investigated the case.

Two judgments were filed by County Judge Walter Davies: assessing a $200 fine and costs for Tommy J. Novak, 34, who pleaded guilty Monday for liquor law violation; and $100 fine and costs for Clovis Eastman, 26, of Lubbock, illegal possession of a pistol.

A 51-year-old Crosbyton man paid a $15 disturbance fine in corporation court after his arrest here had resulted from a long-distance call from another South Plains town.

Police Get Tip

Police said he allegedly went to the residence of a friend here, and that he and his friend got mad after "taking a few drinks" and began scuffling and scratching at each other.

The Crosbyton man went to the telephone and made a long distance call to another town. The person he called, a relative, then placed a call to Lubbock police, telling them where to investigate.

One theft was reported to police Wednesday.

A. V. Wilson, of 316 Ave. T, told officers a blue-serge dress coat had been taken from his car while it was parked in 1000-block Broadway. The coat was valued at $7.50.

Capacity Audience Attends Final Lions Minstrel Show

The third and final performance of this year's annual Lions club Jubilee Minstrel was presented to a capacity crowd last night in Lubbock Senior High school auditorium.

Performers were in fine fettle last night and observers said it was perhaps the best of the three performances—all of which have been lively.

This year's show was the fourth such production presented by the local club. Proceeds are for the benefit of the Girl Scouts at Buffalo Lakes.

Steel Talks Set

and the Chicago districts will begin operations as quickly as possible.

Wheeling Steel corporation said it submitted a peace proposal to the union. Officials expect new negotiations will be held soon to discuss the plan. Its nature was not disclosed.

U. S. Steel, usually the peacemaker in contract settlements, is the laggard this time. It spearheaded the fight against steelworkers strike demands for free pensions and insurance and now is the only holdout among the big four producers.

Not long after a U. S. Steel spokesman's disclosure that negotiations are being renewed, tl. corporation heard of John L. Lewis' back to work order to miners and immediately directed reopening of its pits.

Big Steel is reported preparing a steel strike peace plan. Reopening of its mines strengthened belief that it might be getting ready to settle.

Here is the company-by-company lineup:

Bethlehem Steel company, second largest company, was first to reach a strike-ending settlement.

Bethlehem agreed to company-paid pensions of $100 a month, including social security, for workers aged 65 with 25 years of service. Union and company agreed on a five cents an hour social insurance program in which each party pays half the costs. That pact sent 59,000 strikers back into mills.

Jones and Laughlin, number four producers, gave in next. Its settlement followed the Bethlehem pattern and returned another 25,000 strikers.

Republic Joins Parade

Republic Steel corporation then joined the parade. Republic's new pension program is very similar to the Bethlehem agreement. Republic is the number three producer. Its strikers numbered 45,000.

Union President Philip Murray announced the new agreement with Youngstown after about three hours of negotiations between union and company officials in Murray's office.

The Ohio firm's operations will start up again at midnight for the first time since October 1, when about 19,000 production workers went on strike.

Settlements signed by 47 large and small companies returned previously a total of more than 200,000 striking steelworkers to their jobs. Some 309,000 still were idle.

The new peace pacts will boost steel industry production to over one-third of normal but will still leave the country with a steel production loss of about 1,000,000 tons a week.

Lewis Orders Miners To Pits

ready to invoke provisions of the Taft-Hartley act.

2. Wanted to give his 375,000 miners east of the Mississippi river some work.

3. Realized the necessity of getting coal to public institutions, hospitals and infirmaries.

Lewis saw only a remote possibility of an agreement being reached with the operators during the 22-day truce and advised householders and institutions to stock up on coal "in the event a further suspension period is necessary."

Operators Chided

A statement Lewis handed newsmen, saying in advance he would answer no questions, chided coal operators, accusing them of brutal and mercenary acts. It blamed them solely for failure to reach a permanent settlement of the strike.

Although released under the name of the policy committee, the colorful language marked the statement as unmistakably Lewis' own.

It accused the operators of being "arrogant and brutal in the withholding of their assent," adding:

"They have expended vast sums in public advertisment . . . of untruths and oppressive statements. They have conspired to cripple and destroy the mine workers' welfare fund by resort to lying and deceitful stratagems. They have degarded themselves in their attempt to brutalize the American coal miners."

May Balk On Royalties

The welfare fund provisions in the expired contract under which the miners are returning to work may not be recognized by southern coal producers.

This possibility was seen in a statement by Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers association. He declared that many Dixie operators may be willing to resume production under the wage and working conditions of the old contract, which expired last July, but not its welfare fund provisions.

Operators in the South have refused to pay 20 cents per ton of coal mined into the miners' welfare fund and for this reason the miners have been on a three-day work week.

If the southern operators stick by their guns the purpose of today's truce, in the opinion of observers, would be defeated.

Odessa Game

p.m. on the courthouse lawn.

Enroute to Odessa, students going the Midland route will eat lunch at the Ranch House and Park Inn and Manhattan cafe in Midland and those going the Seminole route will eat at Lloyd's and Furr's cafeterias in Odessa.

Buses are to leave the field immediately after the game for the return trip home and are expected to arrive back in Lubbock about 8:30 p.m.

Special Patrols Planned

Texas Highway patrol officials in Lubbock said that special patrols would be placed on both the Lubbock to Seminole to Odessa and Lubbock to Midland to Odessa routes during the day. Drivers were asked to exercise extreme caution as an even larger number of persons will be going to the Odessa game than traveled to the Amarillo contest.

On the weather front, the Weather Bureau in Lubbock said last night that indications were that partly cloudy conditions, expected to prevail today, would continue Friday. A cool front sweeping in from the west might arrive before game time, but no great changes were seen by then, with an outside possibility of some wind and scattered showers.

CHARTERED AIRLINER TO MAKE ODESSA FLIGHT

Anyone wishing to go to the Lubbock-Odessa football game at Odessa by air Friday will have the opportunity to board a chartered Pioneer Airlines plane for the trip, it was announced Wednesday by Jack Boydston, local Pioneer station manager.

The special flight will leave at 11:30 a. m. Friday and arrive at the Midland-Odessa airport at 12:20 p. m., where bus service to Odessa will be available. The return flight will leave Odessa at 6:45 p. m. and arrive at Municipal airport here at 7:35 p. m.

Fares for the roundtrip will be $16.79, including tax.

Texas Voters

(50.76 per cent against).

10. Women jurors — Approval 115,953, against 132,641 (53.36 per cent against).

Balloting Light

Compared with the potential voting strength of more than three million, it was a light vote. But it was also a fairly heavy vote for an election dealing mostly with constitutional amendments.

Robert Johnson, chief of the election bureau, estimated the vote at "within 275,000, which is about 25,000 more than I had estimated."

Constitutional amendments elections in 1946 drew only 109,957 votes. A 1945 constitutional amendment election drew 173,862 votes.

In general, the voters dealt the heaviest blows to proposals which might raise taxes.

The apparently beaten amendments included, besides poll tax abolishment, women jurors and legislative pay raises, the following:

City-county health units, statewide retirement and disability officials and employes, civil service in counties where the people vote it in, and hospital districts.

For the first time voters also elected 21 members of the State Board of Education. Previously they were appointed.

George Nokes of Corsicana apparently will succeed James E. Taylor as state senator from the sixth district. The election bureau's latest count showed Nokes leading Phil Willis of Kaufman by 6,411 to 5,265. Taylor had resigned.

James Sewell, University of Texas senior law student blinded in the war, won Nokes' 58th district seat in the House of Representatives by a complete but unofficial count of 1,308 to 1,223 for Frank Montgomery of Corsicana. Billy Ragan polled 632 and Kenneth Douglas 206.

At San Angelo, State Senator Dorsey Hardeman expressed belief Texans' rejection of seven amendments will make future legislatures go slow in submitting them to voters. Hardeman said the public apparently believes the constitution is elastic enough to meet the people's needs. He said about a third of the legislature's time was taken up in considering 65 proposed amendments.

The 7 p. m. totals indicated that 16 candidates for the board of education had been decided. Three went into office without opposition. Thirteen others held good leads over their nearest opponents and the Texas election bureau stopped counting returns in those races.

Those still on the doubtful list included:

District 4—Returns from 11 out of 11 counties, with one complete, Paul Matthews of Greenville led Roy G. Baker of Sherman, 4,939 to 4,292.

District 9—Returns from 14 of 15 counties, with one complete, Mrs. Joe A. Wessendorff of Richmand had 4,972 to 4,376 for George Duncan of Alvin.

New Communist Push Threatens Chungking

CHUNGKING, Nov. 9 (AP) — Chinese Nationalist troops today recoiled from Red attacks about 150 miles east of Chungking and many were saying this gloomy city's days as a Nationalist capital are short.

Furthermore, Chungking's position was being undermined by a rapid Communist drive into Kweichow province to the south.

(The Nationalists on Formosa officially announced the blockade of Communist ports was being extended to Canton and Amoy and Swatow on the southeast coast.)

The defense ministry admitted the Communists had thrust about 10 miles into Chungking's Szechwan province. Heavy fighting was reported south of Lungtan, 150 miles east of Chungking.

The ministry said 2,000 Communists were killed or wounded on the front farther north near Lungshan. This city is in Hunan province 175 miles east of Chungking.

The defense ministry said the Reds had captured the city of Chenyuan, 115 miles east of Kweiyang, Kweichow's capital. Kweiyang is 200 miles south of Chungking. This was a 10-mile advance in 24 hours. The Communists swept on beyond Chenyuan toward Kweiyang.

New York Okays Bonus For Vets Who Have Left State

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. (AP)— New York state war veterans now living elsewhere will become eligible for the state veterans' bonus.

A state constitutional amendment to this effect was approved by the voters yesterday. Incomplete returns gave 1,445,757 votes for the amendment and 524,359 against.

Under the amendment veterans inducted into the military service from New York can get the bonus even though they have left the state.

The bonus ranges from $50 to $250 depending on length of service and time spent overseas.

Air Force Selects Tennessee Camp For $100 Million Project

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP) — The Air Force announced today selection of Camp Forest, Tenn., for a $100 million engineering development center.

The project will be a research installation for the development and evaluation of air weapons.

ORDERS NOT HEARD, WITNESS TELLS CAB

Control Tower Official Testifies Two Warnings Given Bolivian Pilot Before Fatal Plane Crash

BY JAMES LEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9—An airport traffic control man testified today that he twice gave orders which could have averted the P-38 Eastern airliner crash in which 55 persons died.

However, another witness at the Civil Aeronautics board hearing on history's worst airplane disaster indicated that the instructions never reached the P-38 pilot.

Glen D. Tigner, 21, the tower man, told the special investigating board that he directed Eric Rios Bridoux, Bolivian pilot of the P-38, to circle the Washington airport and land after the airliner had reached the ground.

Tigner said that the Bolivian neither acknowledged nor complied with the order.

Radio Conversation Heard

A second airport control tower operator, Robert B. Union, corroborated Tigner's testimony and said he overheard Bridoux carrying on a two-way radio conversation with the tower.

Union said Bridoux asked for landing instructions and failed to follow them or acknowledge them after they were issued by Tigner.

Major German Pol, Bolivian air force transport squadron commander, declared he was listening to a radio tuned to the tower at the time of the crash and "didn't hear any instructions from the tower to the P-38 or any other plane."

Tigner denied that Rios had reported trouble and asked permission to make an emergency landing.

B-25 Report Confirmed

The airport employe confirmed reports that an Air Force B-25 bomber had received permission to simulate a landing just before the crash. But he said the bomber had cleared the traffic pattern before the collision.

Rios, only survivor of the tragedy, still is hospitalized at Alexandria, Va. His statement to CAB investigators will be made public during the hearing.

As the hearing opened, the Civil Aeronautics administration took over control of all military and civil aviation on the federal airways system in all weather conditions.

Field Issues Ban

In a related move, the Bolling Field Air Force base across the Potomac river from the Washington airport banned simulated instrument flying by military pilots in its area. This action followed a near-collision between a B-25 bomber and an Eastern airliner.

Pol told the five-member CAB investigating panel prior to the disastrous flight the P-38 Rios was flying was found in three tests to have radio or other mechanical trouble.

The major testified that on Oct. 18 Rios found that the plane's radio was defective and the carburetor was faulty, that on Oct. 21 the radio still gave trouble and there was "leak in the hydraulic system," and that in a third test the brakes weren't working well.

Pol said that a new radio had been installed before the Nov. 1 flight.

The Bolivian airman said that on the day of the collision he was at the airport with Paul Aubin, representative of the Universal Air and Marine Supply company, which was negotiating sale of the war-surplus P-38.

Pol said that he and Aubin were seated in a station wagon. He went on:

"Mr. Aubin told the driver (of the station wagon) to tune his radio in with the tower so that we could hear the instructions given the P-38.

Radio Reported On

"The driver said that the radio was on; that they always keep in contact with the tower.

"From this moment until the accident happened, we didn't hear any instructions from the tower to the P-38 or any other plane."

Pol declared that after the crash he "heard on the station wagon radio a very loud voice giving the alarm of the accident and giving the location where the planes fell."

The major said the Bolivian government had not accepted delivery of the P-38 and regarded the death plane as still the property of the Universal company.

Tennessee Convict Composer Fails To Secure Pardon

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 9 (AP) — The Tennessee board of pardons and paroles today turned down the petition of lifetermer-composer Frank Grandstaff for a pardon.

Priestley Miller, secretary of the board which heard the 47-year-old man ask release from a life sentence as a habitual criminal last week, announced the board's decision.

Grandstaff put in his request after receiving a six-day furlough last month to hear his 70-page prison-written "Big Spring Cantata" performed in the town about which it was written.

He was granted the brief respite by Gov. Gordon Browning after Big Spring citizens asked Browning to allow the prisoner to fly to Texas and be their guest at a centennial celebration.

Grandstaff told the board he had been offered a job with a taxicab company at Big Spring if granted a pardon by the governor. The board could only recommend a pardon to the governor.

The slight, bespectacled prisoner was sent to the penitentiary for the remainder of his life from Memphis nine years ago after a 20th offense led to his conviction under Tennessee's little-used habitual criminal law.

Under the state board's rules, no further pleas for clemency by Grandstaff can be considered for six months.

Shivers To Call Legislature Into Session

State Funds To Be Considered

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Nov. 9. (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers said today he would call the legislature into special session "probably the latter half of January."

Shivers told a news conference he would limit matters to be taken up to eleemosynary administration, and building, plus buildings for some other state institutions, and taxation.

On taxation, he said, it was on the assumption need would be shown for new revenue and he believed there would be.

Has "No Comment"

Shivers answered most questions bearing on results of yesterday's special election with "no comment."

"I'm never surprised at what happens in an election," he said.

Asked if the vote could be taken as the sign of a swing toward conservatism, he said he did not think the vote could be taken as anything but a direct expression of "what they were voting on."

Asked if he was still in favor of annual sessions and annual salaries for legislators, Shivers said "I always bow to the will of the people." He had come out for the idea in his inaugural address as lieutenant governor.

The special session will have to be called because Texas voters yesterday rejected a constitutional amendment which would have set up annual sessions.

To Seek Funds

The eleemosynary administration submission, the governor said, would be in a specific amount. It will provide money for operation of the state hospitals and special schools for the fiscal year starting next Sept. 1. This appropriation was vetoed by the late Gov. Beauford H. Jester when the 51st session ran out of money.

On hospital and special school buildings, Shivers said he would ask enough to care for the most urgent needs that can be accomplished immediately.

His submission on other building matters will include the dental school and cancer research hospital at Houston, the Dallas Medical school if the program is ready, and the Texas State University for Negroes at Houston "if the need is great."

All this, Shivers explained, carried with it the general subject of taxation. His estimates to the legislature on eleemosynary support and buildings will be based on recommendations now being studied by the new board for state hospitals and special schools.

Northern Portugal may soon have a major shipbuilding industry.

Paving At Fair Grounds Favored

Paving and several other improvements at the Panhandle-South Plains fairgrounds have been tentatively approved by the board of directors, Neil H. Wright jr., association president, reported Wednesday.

There is a possibility, he added, that some new building can be done before the 1950 fair.

But there can be no decisions as to new building, he said, until the cost of other improvements can be estimated more exactly and until an independent audit of fair association finances is completed. The directors authorized A. B. Davis, fair association manager, to proceed with such an audit.

Made Modest Profit

Davis told the director that preliminary financial statements indicate the 1949 fair, held of Sept. 26-Oct. 1, made a "modest profit." The actual figures reported to the board were not made public.

In addition to paving, the directors approved the painting of buildings and fences on the grounds and the installation of seats in the livestock judging building.

Areas Not Determined

The areas to be paved have not yet been determined. Under consideration, however, are the lanes leading to the midway and grandstand, entrance and exit roadways within the grounds, and sidewalks to various exhibit buildings. The extent of the paving will depend upon the cost and the money available, Davis said.

The directors also authorized the manager and two members of the board to attend meetings of the International association of Fairs and Expositions in Chicago Nov. 28-30 and the Western Fairs association in Los Angeles Dec. 8. Those who will accompany Davis on the trip will be named later by Wright.

Pfc. Beard enlisted in the Army in October of 1942. He took his basic training at Fort Sill, Okla.

Houston Man Plans Ellenburger Test

New Wildcats Boost Oil Activity In Area

H. J. (Jack) Porter of Houston is to start drilling on a wildcat to test into the Ellenburger in south-central Borden county by or before Dec. 21.

Th prospector is to be on a block of 7,000 acres which Porter has secured from Stanolind Oil & Gas company. The acreage sets in about three miles south of the town of Gail.

Stanolind retains an override on the leases which have been turned to Porter. Exact location for the wildcat has not been reported.

Included in the block which the Houston independent has taken are sections 41, 43, 46 and the north half of section 45, all in block 31, TP survey, T-5-N, and all of sections 2, 3, 4, 8, 9, 16 and 17, in block 31, TP survey, T-4-N.

DRILLING TO BEGIN ON SCURRY COUNTY WILDCAT

Drilling is to be started by November 21, on a 8,000-foot wildcat to explore into the Ellenburger in Central-West Scurry county, 14 miles west of the town of Snyder.

The venture will be drilled on the J. H. Langford land which is the east 445 acres in section 240, block 97, H&TC survey. Exact location has not been reported.

A. T. Barrett, jr., and J. C. Ratliff, jr., both of Midland worked up the deal for the drilling of this wildcat. They took the lease from the landowner and then turned it to Spartan Drilling company and Big West Drilling company, for the drilling of the project.

Barrett and Ratliff are understood to have been paid an undisclosed amount of cash and to have retained an override on the lease.

Grady Vaughn of Dallas is the major owner of both Spartan and Big West. It has not been learned how the name of the operator on the Langford wildcat will be carried.

KELLEY FIELD EXTENSION NEARS TEST, COMPLETIONS

S. B. Roberts and associates No. 1 Lewis Central-West Scurry county wildcat discovery from the Canyon reef lime, flowed 177 barrels of clean oil in 15 hours, through various sized chokes and the flow then died.

The well is now shutin to pressure up to take potential test and complete as an extension to the Kelley field.

The pay section between 6,841 feet and the total depth at 6,868 feet had been treated with 1,000 gallons and with 3,000 gallons of acid.

After the load and residue from the last acid injection had been recovered the well was shutin for six hours. When opened up through a one-inch choke on tubing it flowed 95 barrels of oil in five hours. The choke was then changed to a one-quarter inch opening and in nine hours the well produced 71 barrels of oil. It was then flowed for one hour through a one half inch choke and made 11 barrels of oil, and then died.

That was a total of 177 barrels of oil in 16 hours. No formation water was produced.

This well is 467 feet from south and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 246, block 87, H&TC survey. It is two and one quarter miles west of the Kelley field and one and one half miles northwest of the northeast side of Diamond M field.

OPERATORS SWAB DISCOVERY AFTER MUD ACID TREATMENT

R. W. Baxter and associates No. 1 Feldman, Central-East Scurry county Ellenburger discovery was swabbing approximately 10 barrels of new oil per hour from perforated section at 7,314-26 feet, after that interval had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid.

The project had swabbed out the acid residue and oil load during a period 15 hours where a total of 156 barrels of fluid had been recovered.

A part of that was new oil, a part load oil and a part was drilling mud and acid residue. Operators are continuing to swab to try to make the well kick off and flow.

The open hole section at 7,340-57 feet in the Ellenburger is still shutoff from the perforated zone at 7,314-26 feet.

Education Club To Hold Banquet

Members of the Lubbock High school distributive education club will hold their annual banquet honoring their employers at 8 p.m. today at Hilton hotel, club officials have announced, with approximately 200 persons scheduled to attend the event.

The 53-member club, which includes students who combine part-time jobs at 34 Lubbock business firms with their regular school work, has planned a program that will feature an address by Roy L. Reinarz of the employers' group.

Other Speakers On Program

Other speakers will be A. B. Watkins of Dunlap's, and students Betty Ball and Elwanda Ethridge. Special music will be presented by Pat Givens, Bob DeSpain, Gene Dean, Jerry Wheeler and Mary Massingale.

Honor guests at the banquet will include R. W. Matthews, superintendent of schools, Senior High Principal Floyd Honey and members of the adult advisory board of the distributive education department. They are W. A. Lawrence, chairman; M. L. Zukav, Zale; Arnold Behrend, Margo's; A. B. Watkins; J. D. Thomas, Sears and Roebuck; Elmer East, Lubbock National bank; and Mrs. Gladys Workman, manager of the Retail Merchants association.

Club officers are Bob DeSpain, president; Pat Lewellyn, vice president; and Elwanda Ethridge, secretary. The club is sponsored by A. B. Reese.

Junior Chorus To Be Organized At Meeting

A city-wide junior chorus will be organized for intermediate Girl Scouts at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Girl Scout Little House at 2600 Ave. P.

The time of the meeting has been changed, originally having been planned for 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Four representatives from each of approximately 35 intermediate troops in Lubbock are to take part in the chorus. Miss Peggy Hess, field director of Girl Scouts, will be coordinator for the chorus and will be assisted by Mrs. Frank Milliken and Miss Anne Birkman.

The chorus will present programs for special occasions. It will make its first appearance at a Lubbock Girl Scout association meeting Nov. 21 at the First Methodist church. One objective will be to learn Scout songs so that chorus members may teach the songs to their own troops.

Chest Financial Drive Climbs To $55,044

Lubbock's Community Chest financial campaign, slowed by lackadaisical attitude of team workers in making contacts and reports, climbed slowly Wednesday it was reported at Chest headquarters.

A total of $55,044.23 had been reported by team workers toward the Chest goal of $98,850.

Two other teams reported their work complete; the women's sales division turning in a report exceeding their quota while the insurance and real estate men's group reported complete and slightly under its quota.

With 56 per cent of the reports in on the drive, the total collected equals the same percentage of the goal.

Chairman J. Ray Dickey issued another appeal to workers to contact people on their lists and their districts as soon as possible and complete their reports.

GRID GAME TO HIGHLIGHT EVENT

Lamesa Ex-Students To Open First Homecoming On Friday

LAMESA, Nov. 9. (Special)—Lamesa High school ex-students will gather here Thursday and Friday for the first Lamesa Homecoming and the Lamesa-Brownfield football game.

Homecoming activities will get underway Thursday night with a bonfire pep rally in front of the new Lamesa High school building, Mrs. R. A. Stuart, high school co-ordinator of activities, announced. At that time registration of exes will begin.

Band To Lead Rally

Leading the rally will be the Golden Tornado band and cheer leaders June Wright, Annelle Lovelady, Joanne Boone, Cynthia Pearson and Donna Jean Caldwell.

Friday morning exes will be welcomed in a parade sponsored by the Lamesa chapter of the VFW. Four ex-Tornado queens will be on hand for the parade and homecoming activities, Mrs. Stuart said. Present will be Mrs. Kent Morgan of Big Spring, the former Miss Fay Fisher, Mrs. Bill Scott of Levelland, the former Miss Billie Sue White, Miss Freda Womack of Lamesa and Miss Vennal Lou Morrisett, high school senior who was queen last year.

1949 Queen To Be Presented

At the half of the Lamesa-Brownfield football game Friday afternoon, Miss Kay Wiggins, 1949 Tornado queen will be presented.

After the game, the Lamesa High student council will act as hosts in a reception in the cafeteria of the new million dollar high school building. Members of the council will show visiting exes through the building. A musical program will be given during the reception.

Josh Beckham is president of the student council.

Plans for organization of ex-students were not fully completed Wednesday, Mrs. Stuart said.

POWER PLANT TO BE BUILT

Atomic Energy Used In Blasting Channel In Russia, Paper Claims

By THOMAS A. REEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Nov. 9.—The Russian-licensed newspaper Nacht Express said today Soviet use of atomic energy to blast an entire mountain has opened the way for a man-made river bigger than the English channel.

A power plant 800 times the capacity of Hoover (Boulder) dam will be built in southwestern Russia, to turn a desert into 75 million irrigated acres for cotton planting, the newspaper said.

Nacht Express gave additional details tonight of the atomic explosion upon which it had reported Saturday. The story said the chief engineer of the project disclosed the information before the Moscow Institute of energy.

The Nacht Express is Communist-controlled but has no official standing with the Russian occupation in Germany. Its atomic story apparently had the approval of the Russians, but not necessarily their sponsorship. They used the Red army's Taegliche Rundschau for official announcements.

Nacht Express quoted Engineer Davydov as saying atomic explosions were used to drive a canal through the Turgai mountains between the URAL mountains and Kirgiz range.

Two Dams Planned

This was done to make possible the construction of two dams to divert the waters of the Ob and Yenisei rivers toward the south. They empty into the Arctic ocean.

To receive the diverted water, the newspaper said, a channel 580 miles long and emptying into the Aral sea will be built. It will be deep enough for seagoing vessels. Another channel will be dug to connect the Aral with the Caspian sea.

Nothing was said about the method the Russians were supposed to have used to bring off the blast nor was there any detail about the extent of the explosion.

There was no explanation given what the Russians did, if anything to combat lifetaking radiation in the area that is supposed to have been exploded.

Communist Party Loses Only Major Public Post Held In U.S.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. (AP)— The Communist party has lost its only major public office in the United States.

Benjamin J. Davis, jr., negro member of the New York city council, lost his re-election fight yesterday to Earl Brown, negro magazine writer. Brown was backed by a Democratic-Republican-Liberal coalition. He polled 63,030 votes to Davis' 21,962.

Davis is one of the 11 Communist leaders convicted of conspiracy to advocate overthrow of the U.S. government in the recent conspiracy trial.

Lack Of Funds Keeps Husband From Side Of Accused Girl

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 9 (U.P.) — Mauritz Peterson, who last month asked to be paroled from jail here to go to the side of his imprisoned wife in Texas, was free today but still in town because of lack of funds, he said.

Peterson finished a six-month, hit-run term here last week, and was presumably off to help his wife, Sandra, 17, who is accused of murder in Brady, Tex. But he said today he was broke and out of a job and couldn't get to her.

Mrs. Peterson was scheduled to be tried sometime after Dec. 11 for the killing of realtor Lewis Patterson. She becomes 18 years of age on that date.

Peterson exhibited a letter from his wife that said:

"I need someone. Try and get here before the end of November."

Peterson said he understood his lawyer had discontinued his services.

"She's all alone down there. She's just a kid," Peterson said.

WHAT DOES

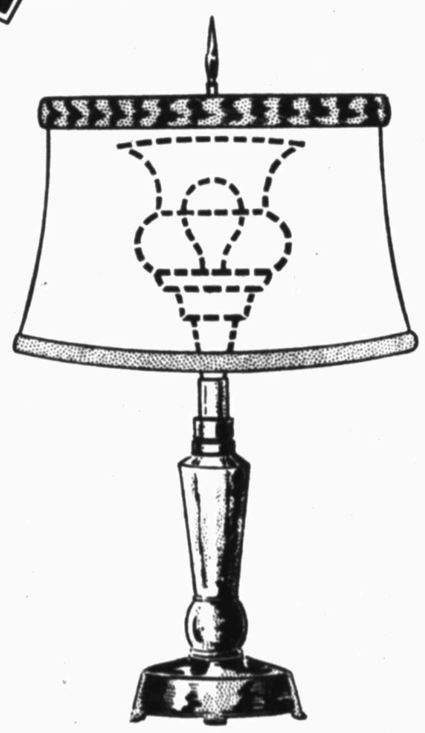

MEAN?

As typical American businessmen, the lamp manufacturers in this country for years have tried to make their lamps the finest possible. They have constantly sought to achieve lighting perfection, and at the same time make lamps that enhance the beauty of rooms in which they are used.

To provide an easy way by which a lamp that is technically correct can be recognized, over 100 lamp makers are today placing the "Certified" tag on their products. In order to earn this tag, authorized only by an impartial testing laboratory, a lamp must meet 105 rigid specifications.

Certified lamps are skillfully designed to bring new beauty to your home, for the homemaker is given a wide choice of styles, designs and materials as well as a wide range of prices.

The next time you buy a lamp, make sure it is a "Certified Lamp." Inquire at your favorite store for this new lamp.

Texas And Louisiana Reply To Government's Tidelands Claims

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9. (U.P.)—Louisiana and Texas argued today that the federal government's powers of regulation apply to "marginal" waters of the Gulf of Mexico, but not to ownership of the oil land beneath it.

In a statement prepared for the Supreme court, Louisiana said regulatory power and title are two different things. The federal government, it said, has the first but not the second."

States File Replies

The states were required to file replies to the Justice department's suit over control of the so-called "marginal sea" along their coastline. In the case of Texas, the U.S. claims lands stretching to the edge of the continental shelf. In the Louisiana suit, the limit is 27 miles out into the gulf.

Attys. Gen. Bolivar E. Kemp, jr., of Louisiana and Price Daniel of Texas conceded that they had granted leases in the area to oil companies. But they said this constituted no conflict with any federal power.

In addition, Daniel asked the court to appoint a special master to take evidence in its case, in accordance with its constitutional rights for a "full hearing." Daniel said he wanted to introduce a great many historical documents, "diplomatic correspondence, foreign records, and personal papers of many men who had a part in the annexation of Texas." He said these would show that Texas had always retained title to the disputed area.

Louisiana took the same position but did not request the special master. Both states stuck to their previous contention that the suits should not have been brought in the Supreme court in the first place.

The Justice department acted after the Supreme court found that the federal government has a "paramount interest" in a similar area off the coast of California.

Death Of Senator Brings Deluge Of Sympathy Notes From Nation

PARSONS, Kans., Nov. 9 (INS)—Messages of sympathy from throughout the nation, including one from the President and his wife, today poured into the Parsons home of U. S. Sen. Clyde Martin Reed who died of a heart attack last night.

Members of the 78-year-old Republican's family announced that funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at Parsons' First Presbyterian church.

Kansas Gov. Frank Carlson planned to appoint a successor in the near future to fill out the remainder of the senator's term which does not expire until Jan. 3, 1951.

Sen. Reed had just returned to his home last Thursday after a week of confinement in a Parsons hospital where he had been under treatment for influenza. He apparently suffered the heart attack while walking downstairs. His body was found at the foot of the stairway.

Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas Towns Ask Federal Funds To Build Dam

GOODWELL, Okla., Nov. 9. (AP)—Three million dollars in federal money to build Optima dam in the Oklahoma panhandle is asked in a resolution adopted by the Tri-State Chamber of Commerce.

Delegates from a dozen Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas towns attended the meeting last night. The resolution asked that the money be expended in the 1950 fiscal year. The proposed 10,800-foot-long earthfill dam would be built on the north Canadian river at the confluence of the Beaver and Coldwater rivers.

The chamber named Charles Taylor, Liberal, Kans., as president. Vice presidents named include Carl Barrett, Perryton, Tex., and John Benton, Sunray, Tex. New members of the board of directors include A. L. Lemon, Booker, Tex.; Lee Little, Perryton, and J. J. Curry, Dalhart, Tex.

Radio Station Aids In Saving Sight For Uranium Worker

DENVER, Nov. 9 (INS)—A small-town radio station was credited today with a major part in a mercy flight to save the sight of a Durango, Colo., uranium worker.

Foreman Charles F. Bischof was working in the uranium processing plant of the Vanadium Corporation of America when deadly sulphuric acid splattered over his face and body.

Lowry air base at Denver was asked for emergency assistance to rush Bischof to Denver, where it was hoped that special treatment would allow him to retain use of his seared eyes.

An Air Force C-47 took off shortly after midnight for the flight over the rugged Colorado mountains to Durango which has no facilities to guide aircraft at night.

Radio station KIUP was called on to aid, and technicians stayed at their post to air a special carrier wave.

The transport picked up the wave 90 miles east and came in "on the beam" at 2:42 a.m.

The local Durango airport then directed the landing by telephone to KIUP, which relayed the instructions to the plane by radio. The landing was without incident and Bischof was under medical care in Denver short hours later.

American Petroleum Institute Names New Acting President

CHICAGO, Nov. 9. (AP).— Gen. Baird H. Markham, 63-year-old former commander of the Oklahoma National Guard, was named today as acting president of the American Petroleum institute — until March 1 of next year.

Markham was selected on a temporary baisis by the board of directors of the institute to succeed William R. Boyd, jr., of Teague, Tex., who retired today.

Markham, who will be paid on the basis of $75,000 a year, is director of the American Petroleum Industries committee, New York. He was born in Decatur, Tex., but gained much of his oil experience in Oklahoma.

A STIFF REBUKE

Tuesday's Election

THE defeat Tuesday cf eight of 10 proposed amendments to the State Constitution was a blistering rebuke for the Legislature.

The fact that the district court and fire prevention proposals apparently were approved did not ease the sting. The district court amendment had the solid and active support of the lawyers, which was decisive in view of the light vote cast. The fire prevention proposition carried because it appeared the most meritorious of the 10 submitted.

The proof that the returns were a slap for the Legislature was the overwhelming defeat of the proposal to raise legislators' pay and to hold annual legislative sessions. This was the amendment which affected the legislators directly and personally. It afforded the opportunity to reward them with raises in pay—if the people felt they deserved reward.

The people turned thumbs down on the proposal approximately three to one —the most overwhelming defeat of any of the amendments.

Unquestionably adding to the suspicion of and prejudice against this and most of the other amendments was the manner of their submission. Few were what they were pretended to be. Many Texans suspected there were, or might be, Ethiopians hidden in the woodpile of most of the proposals. So, when in doubt, they voted "no"—the sensible thing to do.

THE ballots on which the amendments were submitted displayed several flagrant examples of attempted deception. Taking the legislative pay and annual session amendment as an example, there was absolutely nothing on the ballot to tell the voters it would provide $3,600 salaries a year for legislators and for annual sessions of the Legislature.

People had to get this information from other sources, and The Morning Avalanche is proud of its part in helping to enlighten voters of this area concerning the exact intent of the measure.

If the Legislators had possessed the courage to say frankly "we are asking $3,600 a year," their chance of getting it would have been improved. Instead of that, the ballot read: "An amendment relative to sessions of the Legislature and to compensation of its members." Texans made clear they don't like that sort of business.

PERHAPS an even more flagrant example of attempted deception was the poll tax amendment. People were not given the opportunity to say whether they were for or against the poll tax. They were given the choice between that tax or the payment of an annual registration fee for the privilege of voting. It was a choice between two evils and, to our way of thinking, they chose the lesser one by far.

The election proved a waste of time and money for which the last session of the Legislature, which submitted the amendments, must assume the entire blame. In baseball parlance, they attempted to throw some curves past the eyes of watchful Texans, who promptly proceeded to knock the ball straight down legislative throats.

If future Legislatures will remember and benefit from the lessons supplied by Tuesday's election, something will be salvaged from this fiasco which could mean much in terms of "cards on the table" State government in future.

Certainly it will be a stupid Legislature which would dare for a long time to come to ask the people of Texas to ratify any constitutional amendment which is not crystal clear as to meaning and beyond suspicion as to intent.

If proposals lack these qualities, they almost certainly will be destined for a repetition of the roughshod treatment for which Tuesday's election set a splendid precedent.

It was an example which should warn any Legislature which refuses to shoot square with the people of Texas that it is tampering with a weapon which might backfire, with disastrous effects upon legislative dignity and prestige.

Who Can Say They're Wrong?

Someone To Love

BY IRENE LONNEN ERNHART

XXXIV

IT'S odd how things happen to people, everything piling up at once sometimes. At the end of March everything seemed to go wrong for Tod. The office promotion he'd been promised at the end of three months went to someone else, and the only explanation they gave was that his work wasn't quite up to expectations.

Then the woman who'd rented Ma the rooms said they'd have to move. Her married daughter had been evicted and she had to move them into the place.

Ma got to worrying over what they'd do, and had a light stroke. Tod was frantic. He tried to get Harriet to look for rooms, since she didn't have anything particular to do, but she had other plans.

"Harriet," he remonstrated, Ma's sick! I've tried to get her back into the nursing home, but they're full up. I can't find rooms. I've tried everyone in town. I haven't got the money to put her in a regular hospital even if they'd take her, but we've got to get a roof over her head no matter what becomes of us."

"Well, it's quite simple to do that," Harriet said. She was calmly packing her suitcase, "You're paying for that house out on Riverdale Road, aren't you?"

"That's got nothing to do with this."

"Oh, hasn't it?" She shut the suitcase with a bang. "It's a roof, ain't it? And that's what you're yelling for. Me, I'm going back to Chicago. I've had enough of this town, and you and Ma sittin' around staring at each other like a couple of zombies."

He was frantic. The landlady wouldn't reconsider. "I know it seems a hateful thing to do, and if I didn't already have my son and daughter-in-law and their kids in with me, I'd take your Ma in, but the way it is my daughter gettin' turned right out in the street, I don't see what else I can do. Surely you got friends that'll take her?"

"I suppose I can find someone," Tod murmured. He tried to think. Maybe some of the people Ma had used to know on Catalpa Street, or the Welfare. His soul shrank from the latter, because Ma would hate it. She would never forgive him if he appealed to Welfare to find a place for her.

His mind whirled in dizzy circles and kept coming back again and again to Harriet's suggestion. Jenny. She was the only person in the whole world he would dare appeal to and be sure of not being turned away. She was the only one in the world whose generosity and warmth he was sure of. It was ironic.

ALL the next morning, from the time he shaved until the moment when he reached Jenny's shop, he rehearsed what he would say. Nothing sounded right.

Inside the shop, he was asked to sit on one of the delicate gilt and mauve satin chairs. Half a dozen mirrors gave him back his own reflection, the wrinkled suit, the untidy shirt, and the worried expression on his face.

She seemed like someone he didn't know; sleek and well-groomed like one of those fashion models. She was exquisite, and he found himself staring at her like a yokel, forgetting everything he had planned to say.

"Hello, Tod." She smiled at him coolly, as if he were someone she had met casually once.

She invited him back into her office, so that they could speak with privacy. He explained to her about Ma, how he'd tried to get her into a nursing home, or rooms, or a hospital. He tried to make her understand that he wouldn't have come to her, if he hadn't been absolutely desperate.

Jenny was nice about it, and efficient. She phoned right away to have Mrs. Drew get a bedroom ready, and said she'd go out to the house right after lunch so as to be there when they brought his mother. He apologized for all the trouble and said she'd only have to keep Ma for a few days, until he could make other arrangements.

WHEN he got back to the apartment, he found an ambulance in front, its red light blinking off and on, and the usual curious crowd standing around. He knew before he ran up the long narrow flight of stairs, that it was Ma. They were just bringing her out on a stretcher.

One of the white-coated attendants brushed him out of the way, saying something about an emergency case. He followed them down the stairway. Here was one way of getting into a hospital without having money, he thought miserably, just be an emergency case.

Someone explained that he was the old lady's son, and he was allowed to get into the ambulance with her. She lay quite still, her eyes shut, the stiff gray hair matted back from her forehead. He began to rub her cold limp hand, and the siren screamed as the ambulance bumped through the rough, dismal street.

There wouldn't be any need now of Ma's going to Jenny's. He had humiliated himself all for nothing, he thought, as he waited in the corrider while they got Ma into bed. He had better phone her.

Nina answered the shop's phone. "Jenny? She had a luncheon engagement with Rick, and I don't know whether she has left the shop yet or not."

"Please tell her, Nina," he said, "that I managed to get Ma into a hospital, so she won't have to worry around with her after all."

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

IN his latest book, just published and entitled "A Writer's Notebook," W. Somerset Maugham dishes out some excellent advice to authors and would-be authors.

Since just about everybody is a would-be author, at least at some stage of his life, I want to repeat one bit of Maugham's advice which applies not only to writers but to all of us.

BRANDEIS

A writer should never grow up, says Mr. Maugham, and he who writes best writes with "his heart's blood."

May I pharaphrase this to read that no one regardless of calling should ever grow up, and he who LIVES best LIVES with his heart's blood.

This is what we like to call "a sophisticated age."

It has become the fashion to assume a nothing-makes-me-sick outlook on life. To be cynical and blase is considered the sign of a man or woman of the world.

We must not be soft. We must not give vent to our feelings. We must show no enthusiasm. That seems to be the general modern attitude.

We suppress our emotions and try to appear hard-boiled. We deprecate tradition and old-time ethics.

We call that being modern, civilized and progressive.

Take away the emotions, the feelings, the sentiment from the human race and what have you got? A bunch of robots.

Every once in a while I get a letter from some reader who calls me a Pollyanna, an Alice in Wonderland.

Nine times out of ten that reader continues his letter with a gripe. The world is against him. His boss doesn't treat him right. His wife doesn't appreciate him (or her husband, as the case may be). The younger generation is going to the dogs. Why don't I raise more hell?

THANK God, I am a Pollyanna.

Thank God, I can still appreciate the beauty of this life and this world and find joy and thrills in simple things.

I hope that I'll remain a child as long as I live. I hope that I shall never become a cynic, that I shall never fail to see the glory

SEVERAL STATES FACE

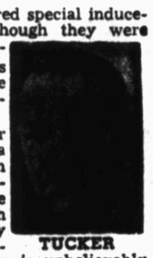

'Old Age' Problem

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

MIAMI: The more responsible officials and planning experts of Florida and other "sunshine states" are beginning to show concern over the eventual economic burdens which the influx of old folks will impose on their communities.

Although Florida and California have most spectacularly invited the aged to settle permanently within their borders, without sufficient thought for accompanying living problems, the same situation exists in more or less degree to such commonwealths as Louisiana, Mississippi, Georgia, Texas, New Mexico, and possibly a few others.

Many of these areas offered special inducements to newcomers. Although they were originally intended to persuade wealthy capitalists and industries to locate there, these inducements appeal to others.

TUCKER

Florida has no income or inheritance tax. It gives a $5,000 homestead exemption on real estate that is occupied for six months in the year by citizens. Inasmuch as assessments are already low, the communities revenue from real estate taxes is unbelievably small.

AGED: Many of the other sunshine havens pioneered in adoption of the community property idea, which has now been incorporated in federal income tax law with great savings to those who take advantage of it. But it has also served to reduce the amount of money which states having that provision for many years have received.

In addition, some of these states have provided for unusually generous retirement benefits for aged people who become citizens of their adopted communities. They have also incurred heavy expenditures in the development of beaches, parks, recreation areas, community centers, libraries etc., where the sedentary portion of their new population may relax and grow older more gracefully than in colder climates and more expensive centers. These developments have necessitated heavy bond issues.

In short, these "sunshine states" have made a local industry out of old age, as they have out of tourism.

BONANZA: The original intention, of course, was both humanitarian and selfish. These states deliberately transformed themselves into old-age refuges because of such splendid natural resources as mild weather the year around, accessible beaches and parks, and an attractive simplicity of life as regards, clothes, shopping, neighborhood customs etc. Under these circumstances old age falls like a gentle southern twilight.

In return, these communities expected to obtain an increased population, expansion of undeveloped places, new industries to supply new wants, and all the other benefits of a steadily growing area. With their state-government payments and pensions, and with a small income of their own based on life savings, the thousands of newcomers were relied upon to provide a solid and permanent purchasing power.

Should the expanded Social Security program, the medical health system and other philanthropic schemes advocated by President Truman become law, the old-age industry could become a bonanza for a relatively small number of states, with millions of citizens in less favored areas to the north and midwest footing the bill.

BURDENS: But, suddenly and unexpectedly in many instances, the migration of old people to these promised lands of sunshine and health and low taxes has opened a Pandora's box of local difficulties. Officials now realize that the process of assimilation will be long and difficult.

The lack of income, inheritance and equitable real estate taxes has necessitated imposition of extremely high state or local sales taxes. Similar increases have been tacked on to racetracks, dogtracks, alcoholic beverages, cigarettes and other semi-luxuries that have been these states' attraction even to many of those beyond the three-score-and-ten-mark.

As a result, living costs are beginning to soar and to offset the other forms of taxation benefits. The permanent residents complain that they suffer from these new burdens to advantage those who profit most from the old-age industry. Already there is belief that income and property levies must be imposed, lessening inducements for settling down.

COST: In addition, especially in Florida and California, increasing population has swamped almost all public facilities. There is critical need of new hospitals, schools, highways, housing, drainage and sanitary systems, and all the other community necessities.

It is no longer sufficient for these states to advertise bathing beaches, parks, picturesque tourist spots like the Everglades, Yosemite, Indian villages, the Carlsbad Caverns, etc. The new population soon grows weary of non-edible scenery and dead romance.

To provide these community facilities will cost many billions of dollars, and it is questionable where the money will come from under the present taxation system of many of these "sunshine states."

The two Governors Warren—Fuller of Florida and Earl of California—are probably the most harassed state executives in the nation because of this new and expanding industry of making life cheap and convenient for the old folks. Nor is it any solace to them to realize that they and their predecessors, along with their chambers of commerce, asked for it.

The Thanksgiving theme was emphasized in decorations and favors for the party given for members of the Friday Needle club in the home of Mrs. R. N. Miller, 1608 Eighth.

The president, Mrs. W. C. Bryan, presided for a brief business session, and initial plans were made for a Christmas party.

Mesdames C. M. Chandler and Marjorie Miller were visitors, and the following members were present: Mesdames W. A. Childress, J. G. Biffle, W. C. Bryan, A. L. Hawkins, A. H. Travis, Marry Hall, J. M. Denman, J. L. Murfee, H. R. Robertson, Sam Parkinson, J. W. Hurr, Arthur Pierce, F. K. Mitchell, M. K. Foster, and E. M. Worthy.

Prosperity of Lubbock and the South Plains section is far ahead of the condition a year ago, records of the local banks reveal.

Figures obtained from the three banks, the First National bank, Citizens National bank, and Lubbock National bank, show a big increase in deposits and resources and a substantial decrease in loans, as compared with the same date last year.

Deposits this year total $5,437,811.09, as compared with $4,242,165.47 last year, representing a gain of 28 per cent.

Resources this year aggregate $6,092,858.49, compared with $5,073,518.97 last year, or a gain of 20 per cent.

Loans this year total $2,487,002.16 which show a 6 per cent decrease from the $2,643,305.35 total of last year.

TO GIVE VOTERS BETTER CHANCE

Congressional Changes Urged

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Congress has been gone now for some days. But the Congressional Record, which reports its doings and sayings, still comes out every few days with a bulky appendix, a catch-all supplement containing material submitted by members, their own or someone else's, to justify or glorify their personal achievements or those of their party.

Along with such puffs, the latest appendix carries another feature. This is a statistical record of the 81st Congress's first session. Among other things, you learn there that the Senate sat more days than the House, 186 as compared with 165; that it sat longer, 1,143 hours and 53 minutes as contrasted with 704 hours and 10 minutes and that it talked more —which is never surprising— with a credit of 9,180 pages in the Congressional Record to 6,206 for the House.

Setup Is Now Service

This statistical guide at the end of a session of Congress, along with a daily record of what committees are meeting and on what bill and what House and Senate are considering, is a new service authorized by Congress in the congressional reorganization act of 1946. That, you may recall, was designed to "streamline" Congress and make it more efficient and more responsive to the public.

Such entertaining facts are undoubtedly interesting to somebody who likes statistics. But now that Congress has gone this far in providing this routine information about itself, it seems high time that it went further and informed us about some other things that go on which have far more to do with the way it writes laws, or doesn't write them. This is in keeping with the purposes in the Congressional Reorganization Act and some of these other things were suggested at the time that act was written.

WHY not, for example, let the public know about votes in committee which now are kept secret and votes in the House that are not recorded by roll call? They have much more to do with legislation and tell more accurately what the individual member really is up to than the publicly recorded votes. Among other things, such secret procedure is of much assistance to lobbyists who capitalize on it and thrive on it.

Detailed publication in the Congressional Record of votes now secret was proposed by Rep. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.), co-sponsor with former Senator Robert M. LaFollette (Prog.-Wis.) of the Congressional Reorganization Act. But he got nothing done.

Veteran observers of Congress know that a member often will vote secretly in committee to try to kill certain measures but finally, on the record roll call, will vote for it. So he can stand up thereafter and beat his breast about how he helped to put over a measure which he had tried his best to kill. His constitutents are none the wiser.

This may seem a relatively minor matter. But it is very important in making Congress more responsive to the public, which was the aim of the Reorganization Act. Full disclosure of votes all along the line in the preparation of legislation would help the public in assessing the service of members and keep the voters from being hoodwinked.

Solons Put On Spot

Furthermore, it would help to eliminate the criticism often aimed at the whole Congress for what some of its members do, such as that which President Truman voiced, and effectively, during his 1948 campaign. That campaign created suspicion of Congress, which still persists, as many signs indicate.

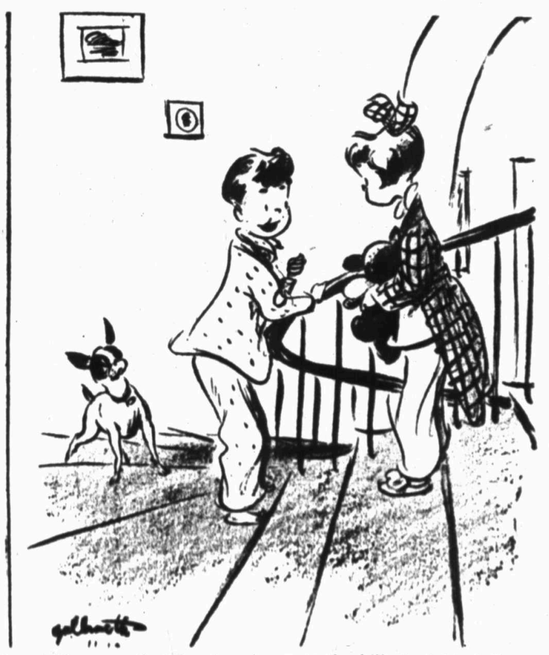

How effective it was became clear when, soon after Congress met, the Democratic House leadership, acting on the President's instructions, put through a reform that deprived the House Rules committee of the power it had arrogated to itself to shelve and bottle up bills already approved by legislative committees. Mr. Truman had singled out that abuse in his campaign, showing how it had held up measures on his social welfare program. As a result of the reform, measures that previously were blocked were enacted by the House during the past session.

ALSO at the President's suggestion the Democratic House leadership gave new members more representation than formerly on key committees in an effort to bring to bear upon Congress the influence of those freshest from the people, so to speak, who reflected the impulses of that election. This, however, was little more than a gesture, and temporary, at least. To make Congress more responsive to the people will take another and permanent reform long agitated, which is abolition or modification of the seniority system by which longevity of service, alone, is the rule in assignment of committee chairmen.

It's interesting to have it confirmed by statistics that senators talk longer than House members, but we are asking more than that.

DANGEROUS MOVE COMPLETED

East German Reds Restore Full Civil Rights To 'Former' Nazis

BY RICHARD S. WEIL
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Nov. 9—The Soviet-organized East German government took a major step in the struggle for control of Germany tonight by restoring full civil rights to all "former" Nazis and ex-officers, including members of the notorious SS group.

The Communist regime also granted a limited amnesty to prisoners—political and criminal—who were sentenced to not more than six months in jail or fined not more than 5,000 marks.

However, this amnesty does not apply to those convicted on grounds of threatening "the security of an occupation power"—meaning Russia. Thus all major political offenders are excluded.

All Rights Restored

All so-called "former Nazis" and German army officers under the unanimously adopted law now have complete rights to vote and to hold office.

Deputy Premier Walter Ulbright in introducing the measure said:

"Many of these people have recognized the error of their former ways and now have become foremost fighters for the peoples' democracy (the Communist term for their regime)."

East German Foreign Minister Georg Dertinger said that the Communist regime which is pledged to try to liquidate the West German federal republic at Bonn now has been recognized by all eastern peoples' democracies—meaning the Soviet satellites—and the Communist China regime. Diplomatic relations now are being arranged.

The move to weld Nazi rightists and Communists in Germany long has been projected by those faithful to the Moscow Communist hierarchy despite the ominous precedent set by the ill-fated Nazi-Soviet alliance of 1939.

Western observers consider it a dangerous game for everybody, Russia included. German Communist leaders have admitted they have had trouble making their party "understand" the reasons for the projected "national front," a political catch-all aimed at grabbing control in Germany.

In any free election in post-war Germany the Communists have fared badly. Their own present regime was set up arbitrarily while elections were postponed until October, 1950.

Large Opposition Felt

The national, or fatherland front, idea was born last May when the German Communists admitted that at least a third of the East German electorate opposed them even on a rigidly controlled single ticket election.

Wilhelm Pieck, veteran German Communist leader and now "president" of the East German government, then began saying "former Nazis" should be included in bricht's way of putting is was the East German regime. Ulthat "all nationally-minded" Germans should be welded together.

Other Communist spokesmen have echoed these statements which culminated in tonight's action.

Fort Worth Horse Gets Tow Service After River Drink

FORT WORTH, Nov. 9. (U.P.) — George only wanted a drink of water, and he got it, too. But it took a tow car to help him out afterwards.

George is a 6-year-old bay saddle horse owned by A. A. Jett. Yesterday, George went to the Trinity river's Clear Fork, drank his fill, and then was unable to get up the steep bank to his pasture.

A tow car was called and rigged ropes to George's halter and legs and pulled him up on dry land.

of the woods and the waters, the mountains and the plains, the sun and the stars and all the rest of the wonders of Creation.

I have a friend who gets terribly depressed every autumn. To him the falling leaves are a symbol of decay. He thinks of the winter about to come—the winter with its cold, its slippery roads, its snow - shoveling, its inconveniences.

But why not think ahead a bit? Why not think of the many beauties of winter and why not realize that there will be lovely Spring again and another Summer of color and fun?

Let us enjoy every moment of our lives. Let us never grow up, and let us live each day with the rich, warm, red, flowing blood of our hearts!

Bougainvillea, the flower of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, comes in many colors. During winter months driveways, hedges and houses of the area are aflame with the bright red, purple, pink or bronze of the flower.

Engineer Nears End Of Eighth Month In Sealed, Barred Auto

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9 (AP) — A 40-year-old engineer, who took a 25 to 1 bet that he can live for a year in an automobile, is on his way to Miami, Fla., today just 3½ months short of collecting $25,000.

Don Haynes of Ashland, Ore., has already logged 73,000 miles of driving in his sealed and barred Sedan. While in Los Angeles he tried to purchase a monkey for a companion.

Haynes began the venture last March after a friendly argument with E. B. Malden, wealthy Talent, Ore., cattleman. Malden bet $25,000 to $1,000 that Haynes couldn't live for a year in his auto without squawking.

So far, Haynes has covered 24 states. He expects to visit them all before his year ends.

Frantic Father Flags Train; Brakeman Delivers Baby Girl

BUCKEYE, Ariz., Nov. 9. (AP) — A frantic father flagged the crack Southern Pacific Sunset Limited to a stop near here shortly after midnight.

He couldn't get his car started and his wife had a fast approaching date with the stork.

The woman, Mrs. Ben Duncan, 31, was lifted into the train. A few minutes later with a chair car as a delivery room and brakeman G. A. Falk of Tucson as doctor, a six-pound six-ounce baby girl was born. It was the woman's fourth child.

Abernathy Lions Club Gives 100 Hens To Girlstown Project

ABERNATHY, Nov. 9. (Spl.). Abernathy Lions club members voted today noon to donate 100 laying hens to Girlstown, U.S.A. near Whiteface, at their luncheon today noon.

After hearing K. L. Riggs, Lubbock insurance man and Lions club member, explain the Girlstown project and the need for the hens, the club immediately voted to make the donation.

Dr. H. E. Williams, club president, said the hens would be delivered to the project within the near future.

New Wildcats Expected To Boost Oil Activity In Area As Field Extension Nears Completion

has indicated a possible discovery from the Clear Fork of the Permian, 23 miles west of Seminole, is making new hole below 6,691 feet in dry dolomite.

The section at 6,446-6,660 feet failed to show any signs of oil or gas during a two hour drillstem test. There was a fair blow of air for most of the period. Recovery was 640 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or formation water.

The show of production came in a drillstem test at 6,390-6,446 feet. During the three hours the tool was open recovery was 870 feet of 34.6 gravity oil and 480 feet of heavily gas cut and slightly oil cut drilling mud. Some gas showed during the investigation.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 7, block A-10, psl survey.

SCURRY COUNTY WILDCAT ABANDONED AS DRY HOLE

Olson Drilling company No. 1 Green, Central Scurry county wildcat two miles north of Snyder, has been plugged and abandoned as a dry hole on a total depth of 8,177 feet in the Ellenburger.

That development resulted from a drillseem test at 8,137-77 feet. The tool was open one and one-half hours. Recovery was 6,750 feet of sulphur water. There were no shows of oil or gas.

The venture entered the Ellenburger at 7,920 feet. Elevation was 2,438 feet. Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 157, block 3, H&GN survey. It is two miles south and three-quarters of a mile east of the nearest producers from the Canyon reef lime on the southeast side of the North Snyder field.

The Olson venture was low on the Canyon and it found no possibilities of production in that formation or in any other zone of the Pennsylvanian.

A small show of oil and gas was developed in the Ellenburger at 8,075-137 feet. However the water at 8,137-77 feet eliminated any chance for making an oil well.

SKELLY OIL COMPLETES ANDREWS COUNTY WELL

Skelly Oil company has completed its No. 3-A P. W. Cowden from the Ellenburger in the Dollarhide field of Southwest Andrews county.

The well was completed as a pumper and made a daily potential of 215.11 barrels of 41.9-gravity oil and no water. Gas-oil ratio was 367-1.

Completion was through perforations in the casing between 10,125 feet and 10,150 feet. That interval was treated with 9,500 gallons of acid. The venture drilled to a total depth of 10,155 feet.

Location is 560 feet from east and 660 feet from north lines of the lease in section 4, block A-55, psl survey.

STANDARD OIL PLANS TWO NEW EXPLORATIONS

Two more explorations to test the Canyon reef lime have been planned by Standard Oil company for the North Snyder field of North Central Scurry county. Both are contracted to drill to 7,000 feet.

The company's No. 3 S. L. Terry will be 660 feet from north and east lines of section 383, block 97, H&TC survey, and eight miles north of Snyder.

Standard No. 1-2 J. W. Brown is to be 467 feet from south and west lines of the north half of section 392, block 97, H&TC survey. That makes it ten miles north of Snyder.

NEW WELL COMPLETED BY CITIES SERVICE FIRM

Cities Service Oil company has completed its No. 3 Pearson in the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field southwest Scurry county, for a calculated 24-hour potential of 2,498 barrels of oil, plus 2.6 barrels of basic sediment.

Gravity of the oil was 42.5 degrees and the gas-oil ratio was 867-1.

The flow was natural from open hole between the 5½ inche oil string cemented at 6,443.79 feet and the total depth at 6,612 feet.

Flow was through a three-quarter inch tubing choke. Flowing casing pressure was 50 pounds and the flowing tubing pressure was 290 pounds.

The new well is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 162, block 97, H&TC survey.

HOUSTON MEN STAKE TWO GARZA WILDCATS

Two wildcats to test the Permian lime have been staked in Garza county.

In Northwest Garza county, Herman & George R. Brown of Houston No. 2 W. J. Long is to be a 4,000-foot prospector, located one and one-quarter miles east of their No. 1 Bassinger, recently completed as a pumper.

Slated to begin drilling immediately No. 2 Long is to be 330 feet from south and southwest lines of the Long lease in the east part of section 726, abstract 893, B. Hall survey. That makes it 10½ miles northwest of Post and three miles southeast of Southland.

The Central Garza county prospector is to be Dr. Sam G. Dunn and associates No. 1 Hammonds.

This venture will be 330 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of the west half of section 1,235, block 280, C-170, AB&M survey. It will be one and one-half miles northwest of Post.

The drillsite is one mile west of the nearest completed well on the northeast side of the Garza field.

HALE COUNTY WILDCAT ABANDONED AS FAILURE

Tobe Foster of Lubbock and others, No. 1 G. A. Harrell, Northwest Hale county wildcat eight miles northwest of Hale Center, has been plugged and abandoned as a failure in the lower Permian after drilling to a total depth of 7,009 feet.

It is understood that efforts had been made to drill this wildcat deeper. The filing of the plug application with the Railroad commission of Texas indicates that those efforts were unsuccessful.

The dry hole is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 7, block O, DS&E survey.

Dr. Clyde N. James, 67, Of Lubbock, Dies

Funeral services for Dr. Clyde N. James, 67, of 2315 Twentieth, who died at 9:15 p. m. Wednesday at his residence after a long illness, are still pending the arrival of relatives.

Dr. James was a Lubbock resident for the last 20 years. He was, until his retirement several years ago, a veterinarian with the City Health department. He was a member of the First Baptist church.

He is survived by his wife; three daughters, Mrs. S. J. Nabers of Lubbock; Mrs. Charles Moeser of Lubbock, Mrs. W. D. Norris of Beaumont; one son, Noble of Lubbock; his father, W. H. of Hickman Mills, Mo.; four sisters, Mrs. R. J. Ervin of St. Joseph, Mo.; Mrs. Neil McKinney of Chicago; Mrs. Frank Cummings of Hickman Mills; Mrs. F. R. DeWeese of Lee's Summit, Mo.; and seven grandchildren.

Services will be under the direction of Sanders Funeral home.

STABILIZED FLIGHT

Two revolving knobs on the sides of flies act as flight stabilizers, exactly as the attitude gyro on an airplane tells the pilot when he is right side up.

A. B. Watkins Addresses 20-30 Club Members At Meeting Here

A. B. Watkins, an official in Dunlap's department store and a past president of the American Business club, was guest speaker last night at the regular weekly meeting of the Lubbock 20-30 club, held in Hotel Lubbock.

Watkins' talk before the club was on "What Controls Our Destinies."

Charles Nelson, member of the Lubbock club last weekend attended a district 20-30 meeting in Pecos, reported on the events of the meeting, and announced that a 20-30 convention is to be held in San Angelo Dec. 30-Jan.1.

Garland Hoover was elected secretary of the club, succeeding Gene Blackburn who recently resigned the office.

Other guests attending last night's meeting were James F. Gregory, J. E. Bradley, Paul C. Turpen, and Ed A. Lankford. Eighteen members attended.

AMIDSHIP MEN

Midshipmen as a [illegible] of students at Annapolis originated in the British navy more than 200 years ago. It arose from the fact that in the early days of the navy, seamen studying to be officers were stationed amidships. where they transmitted messages and ammunition.

110 REPORTED KILLED IN ISLANDS

Quirino Rolls Up Wide Lead In Philippines Presidential Election

MANILA, Nov. 10. (Thursday)—(INS)—President Elpidio Quirino, a strong advocate of United States-Philippine co-operation, rolled up a widening lead today over his strongest opponent in the bloody Philippine presidential election.

Although he lost Manila by 35,000 votes, President Quirino's strength in rural areas soon overcame the expected Manila setback and mounting returns gave the president a comfortable margin of 115,000 votes.

Election disorders throughout the island republic caused the deaths of 110 persons, but all of these deaths have not yet been confirmed. Among the known dead as the result of election day violence was Roman Perez, mayor of Batangas City, who died today from a gunshot wound.

Bitter Foe Trails

Quirino's closets rival in the election returns was Jose Laurel, bitter opponent of the Quirino administration and outspoken critic of United States policies with regard to the Philippines.

Laurel, wartime president during the Japanese occupation, piled up a plurality of 35,000 in Manila but saw this lead quickly evaporate as rural precincts began reporting.

The unofficial ballot count stood at 770,458 for Quirino and 655,978 for Laurel, whose nacionalista party had the support of Filipino leftist elements.

Jose Avelino, nominee of a dissident faction of Quirino liberals, had only 207,183 votes as the court moved through its second day.

Dispatches to Manila newspapers reported widespread election day disorders, worst of which was the rumored massacre of 78 Filipino Mohammedans in the Bulas district of Mindanao island's Lanao province.

A Dispatch to the Manila Times said the Moslems were "mowed down by civilian guards" when they refused to return to their homes after being excluded from a polling station. The victims were described by the Times as adherents of Laurel's Nacionalista party.

Other news dispatches to Manila reported 31 additional election day deaths elsewhere in the country. Most of these, as well as the reported Lanao massacre, were without official confirmation.

National constabulary headquarters in Manila insisted that the number of disturbances was not unusually great and that, in general, the voting was carried on in orderly fashion.

New Synder Radio Station To Make First Broadcasts Today

SNYDER, Nov. 9. (Special)—Snyder's new radio station KSNY, owned and operated by Marshall Formby and John Blake of Brownfield, will be on the air at 7:15 a.m. Thursday. The station, 500 watts, 1,280 kilocycles, will go off the air at 5:45 p.m.

The $40,000 station has Clint Formby, recent Texas Tech graduate and last year's president of the student body, as commercial manager.

Marshall Formby has been in radio work for the last two years. He was formerly in the newspaper business. He and Blake are the owners of station KPAN in Hereford.

Methodist Bishop To Speak At Alpine Church's Anniversary

ALPINE, Nov. 9. (U.P.)—Bishop W. Angie Smith of Oklahoma City, presiding bishop of the New Mexico conference, will speak here Nov. 20 when Alpine's First Methodist church observes its 60th anniversary.

Bishop Smith will speak at the morning services and Hubert Johnson, superintendent of the Methodist home, Waco, will make the night address.

Rev. Austin H. Dillon is pastor of the church. The services will be the first to be held in the recently remodeled and newly furnished sanctuary of the church.

Polio Cases In Texas Increase

AUSTIN, Nov. 9—(AP)—Polio is still on the rampage in Texas.

The first week of November—a month in which health officials had expected the rate of incidence to slacken considerably—produced 52 new cases. That was a big jump from the previous week's 35. It was an even bigger jump when compared with the 25 cases reported for the same week in 1948.

Dr. George W. Cox, the state health oficer, had one terse comment on the situation today.

"Polio, despite approaching winter, is still a threat to Texas public health," he said.

The 1949 total now stands at 2,190 cases from 197 of the state's 254 counties, the State Health department reported. By comparison, Texas had 1,756 cases of polio from 160 counties for the entire year of 1948.

Palo Pinto county (Mineral Wells) reported its first incidence of the disease, two cases this past week.

Harris county (Houston) led the paralyzing parade with 14 new patients. Tarrant county (Fort Worth) and Hutchison county (in the Panhandle) reported four cases each.

Tom Green county (San Angelo) where health officials say polio has struck longer and more severely than in any other community in the nation, was heartened by the report of only one new case.

Twenty-one of the 52 cases were found in 15 counties in the West Texas and Panhandle areas of the state.

New cases, by counties: Harris, 14; Hutchinson and Tarrant, 4 each; Comanche, 3; Dallas, Hill and Palo Pinto, 2 each; Dawson, Ector, Galveston Gillespie, Gray, Hale, Gregg, Howard, Kaufman, Lamar, Lynn, Nueces, Reagan, Smith, Somervell, Taylor, Terry, Tom Green, Wharton, Wichita and Wilbarger, 1 each.

Southern Baptists Leader To Be Speaker At Wayland Today

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 9. (Special)—Dr. Robert G. Lee of Memphis, Tenn., and president of the Southern Baptist convention will speak at the Wayland college chapel here at 8 a. m. Thursday.

Born the son of a tenant farmer, the famous preacher-author now serves as presiding officer over an annual session of messengers representing over 6,000,000 Southern Baptists.

He is conducting a revival in the First Baptist church in Lubbock this week.

Grocers Plan 'Better Store' Drive Here

The Lubbock district of the Texas Retail Grocers association launched a "Better Stores" program Wednesday night when members met at the B. E. Adair Music company to see two instructive films.

The films, "Design for Selling," and "Strategy for Selling," were presented by Robert E. Crozier of Waco, business manager for the "Texas Food Merchant," official publication of the state organization.

The films considered the various physical layouts and stock arrangements that can be uesd to make a store more attractive to prospective customers.

Crozier conducted a forum at which the local store owners discussed the various ways in which they had met some of the requirements in their own stores.

Clyde Stovall, president, presided at a business meeting at which members discussed their credit and collection plan. A special nominating committee was selected to choose officer prospects for the association for the next year.

Rufus G. Starnes of Abilene, director of the National Association of Retail grocers, was a special guest. Also attending were J. T. Ellis, representative of the Credit and Collections bureau of the state organization at Waco, and Prof. Howard Golden, associate professor of marketing at Texas Technological college.

Some of the Lubbock retail grocers attending included G. C. and R. T. Sandlin, Homer L. Hill, Fay D. Holt, Bueford W. Crawford, an others. Several prospective members of the association also attended.

Lubbock Students Attend Church Meeting Held At Abilene College

A total of 50 college and high school students from the Broadway Church of Christ went by chartered bus Tuesday to attend a West Texas church assembly at Abilene Christian college.

More than 1,200 West Texas students attended the gathering.

Dr. Norvel Young, Church of Christ minister, and Carl Spain, director of the Tech Bible chair, accompanied the students. They returned Wednesday morning.

LaFont Is Named New Legislator

Harold M. LaFont, Plainview attorney, is the new state representative from the 120th district, comprising Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Parmer and Swisher counties, on the basis of unofficial and nearly complete returns from Tuesday's election.

LaFont, former district attorney of the 64th district, led his two opponents, Tom Deen of Floydada, former representative, and J. W. Jennings, Hale county farmer, by more than 800 votes.

LaFont's total was 2,095 votes with 1,281 for Jennings and 1,257 for Deen.

Two Boxes Unreported

Only two boxes, one in Bailey and one in Briscoe, both with less than a dozen votes were still not reported late Wednesday afternoon.

The unofficial count is as follows:

County	Deen	LaFont	Jennings
*Bailey	34	102	37
*Briscoe	81	60	65
Castro	80	206	138
Floyd	510	233	259
Hale	227	844	373
Lamb	121	257	180
Parmer	91	89	123
Swisher	113	304	106
Totals	1,257	2,095	1,281

Chamber Offers Small Firms Aid

The Lubbock chamber of commerce Wednesday announced its co-operation with an effort which may enable smill firms of the South Plains to share in the business resulting from the U. S. relief program in Europe.

The local chamber will assist in obtaining listings of small firms for a directory being compiled by the U. S. Economic Cooperation administration, operating agency for the relief program, according to Homer D. Grant, chamber president.

No Expense Involved

Registration forms for firms which desire listing in the directory can be otbained at the local chamber, Grant said. They must be returned before Dec. 1. No expense is involved.

The directories will be distributed to importers and other buyers in nations receiving aid under the Marshall plan, serving as a reference to American sources of supply.

The purpose, as explained to chamber officials here, is to give small business an opportunity to obtain a larger share of the business resulting from the operations of the relief program.

A small business, as defined by the ECA, is one which 'does not occupy a dominant position in the trade or industry of which it is a part, if the number of employes does not exceed 500, and if it is independently owned and operated."

A United States firm is to build an oil-shale refinery near Tremembe, Brazil.

Most Open Houses To Be Ended Today

Public Is Invited To Visit Schools During Observance

Arnett, K. Carter, Guadalupe and Wolffarth schools have invited the public to visit the schools this afternoon, in observance of American Education week.

"Home and Community Obligations" will be the Education week theme for today.

Other Schools "Open"

In addition to the visiting period planned in the four schools this afternoon, visiting will continue in several other schools in the city. Brown, Wilson and Sanders schools have given special invitation to parents to attend at designated hours, and some have been invited to attend today. Hunt, Harwell, Overton, Cottage and Dunbar have invited patrons to attend at any time during the week.

Today will be the final school day of this week for all except one of Lubbock's public schools. All will observe Armistice day as a holiday Friday except Carroll Thompson Junior High school, which will begin making up time lost at the beginning of the school year when the building was not ready for use and opening was delayed two weeks. Students in that school will attend on regular schedule Friday and will attend from 8 a.m. to 12:50 p.m. Saturday. Classes will be dismissed at 12:50 so that working students may hold their jobs.

PROFIT TAKING CUTS MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. (AP)—General Motors common stock was the star performer today in the broadest market of the year.

Trading got off to a fast start but slowed progressively as prices settled. Despite the slowdown business amounted to 1,510,000 shares, compared with 1,170,000 Monday.

Closing prices in most cases were bottom for the day.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 3 of one point to 68. The rail group showed the largest loss, trailed by the industrials and utilities.

More individual issues—a total of 1,163—changed hands than on any full session this year. The total was the largest since a record breaking 1,189 at the end of December.

General Motors headed the most active list for a cange. The stock, in a belated local response to news of a $4.25 year end dividend, jumped 3¼ to 72⅝ on an opening deal of 18,000 shares, a deal which involved around $1,300,000.

The initial jump put on at a new high since 1946 but the gain was not fully maintained. Closing price was 71⅝, up 2¼.

Du Pont moved in sympathy with GM, largely because of the 10,000,000 share block of GM owned by Du Pont. The stock, second most active issue, advanced 1¾ to 60⅜.

Down by fractions to more than a point were U. S. Steel at 24¼, Bethlehem 29¾, Republic 22, Youngstown Sheet 39, Santa Fe 93¼, and Southern Pacific 46⅛.

Vanadium Corp. took a 2-point jump to 21½ following news that uranium bearing ores had been found on a group of the company's claims.

U. S. Gypsum advanced more than three points at one time and ended 2¼ ahead at 106½. News that directors had voted an extra dividend of $3.50 a share circulated after the close of the market.

Closing lower were U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Warner Bros., Bond Stores, United Corp., Canadian Pacific, Douglas Aircraft, Philco, American Telephone, American Smelting, American Woolen, International Paper, Standard Oil (NJ) and Sinclair Oil.

[illegible] a bit were Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, Radio Corp., Dow Chemical, and Johns-Manville.

Lo-er in the curb were National Union Radio, Schulte, Cities Service, Cosden Petroleum and American Natural Gas.

Higher were Mountain Products, General Finance, Imperial Oil, and Great Northern Paper. Sales of 580,000 shares compared with 510,000 Monday.

Corporate bonds tended higher. U. S. governments moved up briskly early in the over-the-counter market but fell back in late trading and closed with losses running to 3/32 of a point in the long-term bracket.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. (AP)—Cotton futures were steady in slow trading today. Switching operations from December to later months featured dealings. First notice day for December contracts comes up on Nov. 25. There was a moderate mill demand for nearby futures. Some spot houses liquidated December on the scale-up. Hedge selling was light.

Cotton closed barely steady.

Sheep steady; good wooled lambs 23.00; good slaughter yearlings 21.00; good slaughter ewes 11.00 with cull ewes downward to 8.50; feeder lambs 21.00-22.00.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 9. (AP)—A highly mixed price trend developed on the board of trade today while dealers awaited the Agriculture department's crop report.

Feature of the session was strength in corn and oats. Deferred corn contracts and December and May oats made new seasonal highs. Part of the buying in corn came from export interests. Sales were made overnight to Ireland and Austria.

In contrast with feed grains, wheat, soybeans and rye weakened.

Wheat closed ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher, December $2.11⅜-⅝, corn was ⅞-1¼ higher, December $1.20⅝-¾, oats were ⅜-½ higher, December 74⅞, rye was 1¼ to 2 cents lower, December $1.34½.

Gypsum Company Director Quits As Result Of Dispute With Avery

CHICAGO, Nov. 9 (INS) — Louis Ware, director of the United States Gypsum company, resigned today as a result of a policy dispute with Board Chairman Sewell Avery.

Ware's resignation was the first to be announced since last August when William L. Keady quit as president of the firm because Avery reentered its active management.

Ware, president and director of International Minerals and Chemical Corp., was one of nine members on the board. He did not elaborate upon the policies he opposed. He stated:

"I have resigned from the board of the U.S. Gypsum because I am out of sympathy with management changes that have been made. Upon verbally tendering my resignation I ask to be excused from further deliberations by the board, feeling that as one director there was nothing I could do about the matters of pol[illegible] with which I am not in accord."

Economic Progress Most Rapid In Southwest, Executive Claims

DALLAS, Nov. 9. (AP)— The southwest stands out as a region where economic progress is most rapid, President John H. Kraft, president of Kraft Food Co. said today.

He said the whole country has leveled off on a sound economic foundation.

Kraft, with other executives from the firm's international headquarters at Chicago, visited Dallas and Garland today to tour the company's new manufacturing plant at Garland.

SLAV LEADER POINTS TO SHAKEUP

Tito Blames Disappearance Of Red Leaders On Kremlin Split

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Nov. 9 (U.P.)—Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia believes a "split" in the Kremlin is why some top ranking Soviet leaders "disappear."

Tito told Edward Clausen of Politiken, Copenhagen independent daily, in an interview that it is obvious that there is no unity in the Soviet politburo, including the question of the harsh Russian policy towards Yugoslavia.

Clausen was received by the Yugoslav leader Monday night and recounted his conversation with Tito to the United Press later.

Tito Sees Split

Asked whether the Yugoslav government's repeated references to "some Soviet leaders" indicated there are other Russian leaders who disagree with the hostile policy towards the Tito government, Tito replied:

"If you think it over you can see there is a split. There are still people who disappear over there."

This was interpreted as a reference to the shakeup in the Soviet hierarchy which began in March, 1949, with the dropping of some of the better known Soviet leaders.

The shakeup reportedly is continuing.

Fears No Armed Conflict

Tito also made these points in his interview, according to Clausen:

1. He still does not believe that Russia will take any armed action against Yugoslavia, and he still believes that war between two "socialist" countries is "impossible."

"They know very well that an isolated armed attack is impossible," Tito reportedly said.

2. Russia will vainly try to create internal unrest in Yugoslavia by more border provocations and infiltration of agents.

"They can not do anything," Tito was quoted. "Maybe they will continue further provocations and send secret agents here in an effort to split our party. We have some Cominformists, but they mean next to nothing."

3. Reconciliation with the Kremlin is next to impossible. "It will take a very long time, if ever. They have gone too far with the propaganda war," Tito said.

Methodists Begin Two $125,000 Cottages For Waco Orphan Home

WACO, Nov. 9 (AP) — Two cottages costing $125,000 each are being constructed at the Methodist orphans home here.

Ground breaking ceremonies were held as the Texas Methodist conference met yesterday.

Hubert Johnson, the superintendent, said contracts for three more cottages will be let about Jan. 1.

R. F. Curl, San Antonio, was elected president of the Texas Methodist Planning commission. Other officers are Pat Thompson, Bay City, vice-president, and W. W. Ward, Fort Worth, secretary.

The Texas Methodist College association elected Roy Farrow of Dallas as executive secretary.

The board of commissioners of the Methodist home named Dave Lacy of Dallas as chairman and Mrs. A. N. Gamble of Lubbock as secretary.

Homes for which ground was broken today were named Meredith and Mitchell. They were given by Mr. and Mrs. Harry V. Meredith of Mineola and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mitchell of Marfa.

The three cottages for which contracts will be let are: Dorothy De Shong home, given by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. De Shong of Paris; The Scarbauer-Thomas home, given by Mrs. Phil Scarbauer of Midland and Mrs. Alma Thomas of Austin, and the West home, given by Mrs. J. M. West of Houston.

USDA Takes Steps To Imoose Production Controls On Rice

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9. (AP)—The Agriculture department took initial steps today toward possible imposition of rigid production controls on next year's rice crop.

It invited interested persons to submit views by November 26 on the question of marketing quotas for the crop.

This year's rice crop is the largest on record, totaling 89,559,000 bushels, compared with the 10-year (1938-47) average of 62,944,000.

Production was nearly 15,000,000 bushels more than the government had recommended.

In calling for views on quotas, the department's formal announcement said that acreage planting allotments definitely will be set up. They will be announced not later than Dec. 31.

A decision on quotas must be made by Secretary Brannan not later than Dec. 31. Quotas, but not allotments, must be approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting at a referendum before they can be put into effect.

Actress Banished From Hollywood By Angry Judge

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 9 (INS) — Blonde Lila Leeds tearfully packed her bags and said goodbye to Hollywood today as she heeded a court order to stay out of California until February, 1954.

Superior Judge Clemtn D. Nye ordered the starlet to leave the state immediately and not to return until some four years hence for violating her two-year probation in connection with the Robert Mitchum marijuana case.

Actress Weeps

The shapely one-time actress burst into sobs and tears when she heard the judge sternly rebuke her for her brushes with the police.

The starlet, who after serving a 50-day jail term on the marijuana charge announced that she intended to "stay home with mother every night and be in bed by 9 o'clock," violated her probation when she was arrested on reckless driving charges following an auto collision on the Sunset strip.

Lila and her attorney, Grant B. Cooper, appeared in court today to seek permission for the starlet to leave the state next week to begin a theatrical tour in Cincinnati at a salary of $1250 per week.

Judge Rebukes Girl

The actress appeared surprised when the judge readily granted her permission to leave the state. Her lips began to quiver and then she burst into tears when she heard the judge banish her from California for the next 49 months.

While the actress cried and dabbed at her eyes with a pink hankie, Judge Nye addressed her:

"You are a member of a profession upon which you have brought great disgrace. You have given a bad reputation to all others in the profession."

The actress said that she will comply with the court order.

Barkley's Bride-To-Be To Have Hollywood Designed Trousseau

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 9 (AP) — Vice President Alben Barkley's bride-to-be will have a Hollywood designed trousseau, although apparently she doesn't know it.

Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley in St. Louis denied reports that her wedding gown and going-away things were being created by Marusia, famed Hollywood designer.

At the same time, Marusia was busy designing and making the ensembles. Mrs. Hadley apparently ordered her clothes from Montaldo's, fashionable St. Louis Department store. Montaldo gave the order to the Hollywood designer.

Marusia described the wedding gown as having a natural rounded line, tiny waist and a gentle flaring skirt with invisible pockets. The "Marusia blue" has much pearl gray in it.

The going-away dress, the designer said, is a two-piece affair of imported Jersey wool, the same shade of blue as the wedding gown. The jacket is a casual hip length loose coat, carrying out the mauve effect in a shadow stitch plaid.

Probe Into Shooting Death Of Fort Worth Hunter Continues

FORT DAVIS, Nov. 9. (U.P.) — Sheriff Tom Gray today sought aid of state authorities as he continued an investigation into the apparently accidental death of Clyde Burns, a Fort Worth automobile dealer.

Gray said he would leave for Austin today, taking with him two deer rifles. He hoped, he said, that laboratory tests would determine if the fatal shot that killed Burns on Monday was fired from either gun.

It would be at least three days, he said, before the investigation was completed.

The Fort Worth man, hunting alone on the Walter McElroy ranch in the Davis mountains, was found dead. Some 20 other hunters were reported on the ranch at the time.

However, the sheriff said only two deer hunters were believed in Burns' vicinity at the time he was killed. Gray said he had talked with both men. Both denied having seen Burns.

"If either of them shot him, I'm convinced they thought they were shooting at a deer," Gray said.

Bus Loses Race With Death In Taking Girl To Hospital

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9. (AP)—A transit company bus served as a temporary ambulance to rush a two-year-old girl to a hospital last night after she had been struck by an ice-cream truck.

But the two-mile trip was in vain. Little Kathleen Sanerhuff died of a fractured skull 15 minutes after she was admitted to South Baltimore General hospital.

The child had gotten permission from her mother to buy some ice cream from a vendor. After getting her ice cream, Kathleen strolled in front of the truck. She was run over when the driver, Raymond Crouch, 38, started up without seeing her.

Texas Child, Suffering From Asthma, Is Reported Improved

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 9 (AP) — Authorities at St. Joseph's hospital say Janet Latsha has improved since she came to Albuquerque three weeks ago critically ill with asthma.

Six-year-old Janet was flown here from Oklahoma City with her mother, Mrs. Wilma Latsha, on Oct. 14. It was hoped the climate would help her. Their home is in Nacogdoches, Tex.
