Jovial Krush Plugs 'Peaceful Pursuits'

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bouncy and, jovial, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev told Americans today they and the Russians would be better off if they concentrated on peaceful pursuits—such as raising fine turkeys.

"If we don't give a capitalist turkey and a Communist turkey a passport, no one can tell the difference," quipped the beaming boss of world communism during a tour of the Department of Agriculture's huge experimental farm at nearby Beltsville, Md.

If Khrushchev was in a gay mood, his host, President Eisenhower, displayed a more somber outlook. The President told two White House callers this morning he hoped the Khrushchev visit might do some good toward easing world tensions.

Khrushchev, nattily attired and apparently none the worse for wear after the long first day of his historic trip, showed his usual ebullience at the experimental farm. His comment on turkeys came as he looked over an exhibit of prize white turkeys.

The visit to the farm preceded the Soviet Premier's scheduled major address before a audience of newspaper writers.

The Communist boss, exponent in his own country of thoroughgoing agricultural reform, was told at Beltsville by Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson that capitalism helped the American farmer develop food production to a degree unequalled anywhere in the world.

"Our farmers are free, efficient, creative and hard working," Benson told the Soviet chief. "I like to call them 'the salt of the earth' — truly good people."

Benson explained to Khrushchev — who has predicted the Soviet Union's agriculture some day would help create a living standard superior to the American — how the United States has achieved its present agricultural level. He explained to the visitor how there is "constant give-and-take information between government scientists and those in private industry."

Khrushchev invited Benson to take along farmers and agricultural scientists when the secretary visits the Soviet Union soon. Benson said he hoped he could talk with Soviet farmers the same way Khrushchev will be able to talk to the American ones when the Soviet leader visits Iowa next week.

At one point Khrushchev told Benson, agriculture is basic to human existence, because "the first thing one does when he gets up of a morning is to eat."

"You would make a good farmer," replied Benson, himself an ex-farmer.

"I could compete with you," retorted the grinning Khrushchev, who began his career as a shepherd boy and miner.

After the Beltsville exchange, Khrushchev re-entered a black limousine with Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and official guide for the Soviet chief's tour.

President Eisenhower had about two hours of private conversation with the Soviet leader late Monday. The talk had been described as candid, and today the President was expressing some hope of results.

Judge Walter E. Bastian, of the U.S. court of appeals in Washington, and Carl B. Hyatt, executive director of the National Conference on Citizenship opening here Thursday, saw the President and asked him about the Khrushchev visit.

"He said he hopes it does some good," Bastian said.

Dallas Man Is Elected By Oilmen

HOUSTON (AP) — Estill S. Heyser Jr., a Dallas independent oil producer and attorney, was elected president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn. today.

Heyser's election concluded the association's annual meeting. Over 1,600 independents and major company representatives attended the two-day convention.

New district vice presidents include Marvin L. McCullough, Wichita Falls; H. E. Dishman, Beaumont, Alvin C. Hope, San Antonio, and C. E. Yager, Fort Worth.

Reelected were Andrew M. Howsley, Albany, senior vice president and general counsel; Charles E. Simons, Dallas, executive vice president, and Eugene McElvaney, Dallas, treasurer.

The past 21 years Heyser has been associated with the oil producing firm of Heyser & Heard, a Dallas company founded by his late father and Claude E. Heard of Beeville.

New board members include R. W. Blalock, Marshall; C. W. Brown, McCamey, Phillip Dana, Borger; Vernon Davis, Coleman, Cyrus B. Frost Jr., Eastland; Harlan A. Hodges, Lubbock; B. F. Jones, San Angelo and N. E. Loomis, Longview.

Girl Finally Has Surgery

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Charlene Butts, 19, underwent successful surgery Tuesday for removal of a tumor which had impaired her eyesight and endangered her life.

After the four-hour operation, surgeons said the tumor removed from the pituitary gland at the base of the brain was not malignant. They said her condition was satisfactory.

For weeks the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butts of Oswego, Kan., had refused to consent to the operation. Physicians at the University of Kansas Medical Center finally convinced them that Charlene's life was at stake and they gave written consent Monday. They had objected to the operation because a masseur examined the girl and said it wasn't necessary.

Earlier, Miss Butts had petitioned a court to give her majority rights so that she could have the operation despite her parents objections.

"Members of the Jaycees of Texas are our leaders of tomorrow," Jack Miller, Brownwood, state Junior Chamber of Commerce president, told members of the Snyder Jaycees in a breakfast visit here this morning.

Also at the breakfast meeting at the Village restaurant were Louis Timberlake, national Jaycee director, and Hirshel Kelley, state vice president for district 5, both from Stamford.

Kelley outlined six steps he feels are important to Jayceeism and to future leaders of the civic and political life of the community, state, nation and world.

"If you work together as an organization, and as an organization with other such organizations throughout the area and state, you as Jaycees can accomplish any goal you set for yourselves and your community and state," Miller said.

His steps toward leadership were: gain knowledge of yourself and the problems facing you; work as a team with your friends, who have the same high goals; encourage active imagination of your own and your fellow members; learn to make decisions and not fear to make them; approach every problem with enthusiasm; and recognize and praise the accomplishments of the organization and its individual members.

Miller began the last day of a three-day visit to each of the nine clubs in Jaycee district 5, on which he is being accompanied by the Stamford men.

Following the breakfast meeting officers and directors of the Snyder organization met informally with the state and national officers to discuss activites of the local club, state and national Jaycees.

Miller is a 30-year-old veteran of the Army who served 10 months in Korea in an artillery batallion and is former assistant Texas Land Commissioner who resigned to devote full-time to his activities as state president of the Jaycees this year.

He reported that membership in the state organization is growing following a low ebb last year, and that he believes the goal of 200,000 members in Texas can be reached this year.

Missile Is Destroyed After Firing

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A Jupiter missile carrying 14 pregnant mice and two frogs exploded today 10 seconds after launching.

The shot was to have been a test of the effects of space flight on the tiny animals and several other biological samples packed in the nose cone.

The would-be space travelers met a fiery death when the Jupiter blew apart about 1,000 feet in the air.

Pieces of the vehicle fell back on the launching area but no one in the area was hurt.

The 60-foot rocket rose from its pad at 6:45 a. m.

The Department of Defense announced that the range safety officer deliberately destroyed the big missile when his instruments detected a malfunction.

The Jupiter was to have carried its flying menagerie some 300 miles into space and 1,500 miles down the Atlantic missle range. Ships and planes waited near the West Indies island of Antigua hoping to recover the nose cone and its precious cargo.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the purpose of the test was to study the effect of space flight on various biological systems. The information would help prepare the way for manned space journeys.

Jury Unable To Agree On Verdict

A mistrial was declared by Judge Sterling Williams in 132nd District Court this morning after a hung jury resulted from the trial of J. E. McKinzie of Lubbock for swindle and theft by false pretext.

The jury got the case at about 7:30 p.m. yesterday and deliberated until 11 p.m. before retiring for the night.

Starting again at 9 a.m. today, the jury reported just before 11 a.m. that it was dead locked. It had deliberated about five and one-half hours.

Reports were that the jury's vote was 10-2 in favor of conviction

The case involved oil property in Colorado, and the indictment alleged theft of $2,500 from L. L. (Pat) Moore.

McKinize was tried on a similar case last year and was convicted and given a four-year prison sentence, but the Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the jury decision and said the evidence did not prove false pretext.

McKinzie was represented in the case, which began Monday, by Dewey Cox of Ranger and William Boedecker of Levelland. Prosecutor was Wayland G. Holt, district attorney.

Jurors were H. L. Wren, foreman G. W. Ferguson, Bill Brown, J. P. Madding, Hattie Jane Townsend, W. W. Wood, Opal Watson, H. C. Kimbrough, Mrs. Vestal Boothe, Jackie Alford, Raymond Keller and Jimmy Beck.

Texan Takes Own Life In Shooting

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)— A 32-year-old Texan shot himself to death today after killing a man, wounding his own wife and holding seven persons hostage.

He was James Braswell, formerly of Midland, Tex., who died by his own hand as police closed in on a small home in southwest Albuquerque early today.

Braswell's death climaxed a 7 hour manhunt along the Rio Grande and in southwest Albuquerque.

Death came in a small home which Braswell had entered shortly before daybreak.

Held hostage were Mrs. Pauline Gonzales, 29, Mel Gutierrez, and five children ranging from 2 to 12 in age.

Gutierrez told officers Braswell entered the house as he was leaving for work.

Police closed in after Mrs. Gonzales' sister went to the home. She became suspicious when her sister would not let her enter the house. She notified police.

As the tense situation developed, Braswell shot himself.

None of the hostages was harmed.

Braswell was sought in the shooting death of Jose Manuel Chavez, 31, of Albuquerque. In critical condition in an Albuquerque hospital was Mrs. Phoebe Braswell, wife of the fugitive. She suffered a .38 caliber gunshot wound.

Braswell shot the two before several witnesses shortly after midnight in a night club.

Snowfall Reported In Colorado Areas

DILLON, Colo. (AP) — Light snow fell on 11,992-foot Loveland Pass for several hours Tuesday night, hampering visibility along U.S. Highway 6.

Flurries also were reported atop Pikes Peak and other mountains above the 14,000-foot mark.

Staff Utilization Is Appraised By Board

The staff utilization experiment is closed in the Snyder schools, but the school system can salvage many good things from the program, two principals told the school board at its meeting last night.

Making reports on their evaluations of the program as affected their schools were T. D. Wiman, high school principal, and Ralph Laswell, junior high principal.

The board also discussed problems dealing with distribution of students in classrooms, heard reports on building progress and considered a request for a school bus to pick up student of one family living outside the Snyder school district.

While the staff utilization experiment, conducted here by the school in cooperation with the Ford Foundation, was not considered successful as a whole the school system learned many things from it and wants to salvage any knowledge and equipment used in the program which is valuable, T. E. McCollum, superintendent, said. He asked the two principals to give their appraisal of the program and what could be used in the future.

Generally, the two principals said the planning which went into courses of study by teachers and use of such equipment as overviewers were good things which came out of the program. Large class groups did not work well here, however, nor did extensive use of closed circuit television, although it has good possibilities for limited use, especially in science.

The television could be used in science, for example, in showing a "blowup" of any object, giving an entire class a chance to see the object as viewed by the camera through a microscope while the teacher points out important items. That is to advantage of the class as opposed to the class attempting to group around a small object to see it.

The overviewer can have more extensive use. A teacher can write on paper, place it in an overviewer and show it on a screen rapidly and can conduct many more teaching procedures by use of the viewer. The overviewer has many possibilites in many courses and is getting extensive use now.

The principals said teachers benefitted from the staff utilization experiment, especially in doing more planning than ever before.

The board heard a request from Vestal Booth, who lives in the Hermleigh School District but whose children attend the Snyder schools, for a bus to run on the road by his house. The Snyder district line is within a mile of his house, he said.

The board delayed action until Booth could consult the Hermleigh school board on whether it had any objections and asked him to return to the Snyder board after meeting with the Hermleigh group. Booth said procedure also is to be started to get the land where he lives into the Snyder school district.

The board voted to direct the superintendent to place transfer students in schools where the most facilities are available.

McCollum was also directed to write letters to parents of children in the first, second and sixth grades at East Elementary and ask for voluntary transfers to other elementary schools.

Those two actions came as a result of overcrowdedness in some elementary schools, while other schools could easily take more students in classes. At the East Elementary is capacity enrollment of almost 500 in 18 classrooms, with as many as 29 students to the room in some first grade classes and up to 33 in a classroom in the sixth grade.

The West Elementary was also slightly crowded but had an extra classroom, so the board decided to

Demo Panel Adopts Rule For Convention Without Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee today adopted a 1960 convention rule designed to lessen chances of a Southern revolt against the convention nominees.

Surprisingly, the action was taken without debate.

The rule is the same one adopted in the 1956 convention. It provides that states in sending delegations to the convention undertake to assure that voters of the state will have a chance to ballot for the convention nominees, and that electors will be named who are pledged formally or in good conscience to the convention candidates.

Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler proposed readoption of the 1956 rule and "is plan was presented to the committee today by George F. Rock, Colorado member, and seconded by Herman F. Jessen of Wisconsin.

Butler then called for discussion. When no one rose to speak he put the plan to a voice vote and it carried with a few scattered calls of "no."

Southern members had erupted violently against Butler several weeks ago when he first suggested the readoption of the delegate good faith proposal and it was expected they would fight it today with all their strength.

They apparently decided that they had little chance of defeating the plan on a roll call vote, so avoided a lengthy debate on it.

Butler appeared both surprised and pleased when no vocal opposition developed over the committee action which is subject to approval by next year's convention.

From Treasurer Matthew McCloskey, the committee heard an urgent plea for campaign funds. He said the party was still about $500,000 in debt despite pledges and contributions of nearly $350,000 toward eliminating its debt.

Later the committee was to take up a controversial convention delegate apportionment plan which Butler revised at the last minute to avoid opposition from the South and some other states.

Butler's revised proposal would give each state in the next convention 2½ votes for each of its U.S. senators and representatives, do away with a 15-year-old bonus system, and where a state would lose under such apportionment compared with 1956 the difference would be made up so no state would lose any votes.

Under Butler's first plan announced last weekend, 32 states and territories would have gained votes, 15 would have lost, and seven would have stayed the same. The 11 southern states would have had their percentage of voting strength cut under the first plan by 1.09 per cent.

The new plan would permit states to double the number of allotted delegates with a half vote given each delegate. Thus, if all states did this the 1960 convention would at Los Angeles have 3,022 delegates. The last convention had 2,744.

The Democrats have been operating under a basic rule that gives a state two votes in the convention for each senator and one for each House member plus a whole series of bonuses that have grown up through the years.

Since the Southern states are heavily Democratic—in effect one-party states in some instances—they have gained most from bonuses allowed.

De Gaulle To Tell His Plan Tonight

By DAVID MASON

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle tonight discloses his master plan for ending the nearly five-year-old Algerian rebellion—France's top problem.

De Gaulle prepared his statement behind a cloak of secrecy at his country estate at Colombey les Deux Eglises. This morning he was to read it to his Cabinet and later broadcast it over radio and TV.

Little officially is known of what De Gaulle will propose for ending the rebellion, but it has been disclosed he will "affirm the principle of self-determination."

This has been interpreted to mean Algeria's nine million Moslems will be able to vote on how they wish to be covered. Nothing official has been reported as to De Gaulle's timetable for bringing this about.

To achieve maximum attention, the French President has ordered radio and TV channels cleared in France and Algeria to carry his statement. The speech, expected to last about 15 minutes, will also be heard throughout the vast French community embracing 12 semiautonomous states in Africa and Madagascar.

De Gaulle's words will also be broadcast in Arabic and Berber, the main languages of Algeria, as well as several other foreign tongues.

Throughout France and in parts of Algeria De Gaulle's televised image will accompany his works.

The President took unusual measures to guard the secrecy of the air. Carefully screened radio and TV technicians were to make the recording in De Gaulle's Elysee Palace, then keep the tape and film sealed until a few minutes before the broadcast.

Of major importance to France will be the American reaction to De Gaulle's statement. De Gaulle gave President Eisenhower a rundown on his proposals when they met recently.

France hopes for U. S. support when the Algerian question comes up in the current session of the U. N. Assembly.

Top Algerian leaders gathered in Tunis to study De Gaulle's statement and pass along to their troops any changes in orders. Tunisia is the main rebel supply and training base for the Algerian fighting.

De Gaulle's policy announcement finds a French army of 400,000 men engaged in combat virtually all over Algeria.

Despite recent successes in western Algeria, and in the Kabylie Moufitains east of Algiers, a major French military victory in Algeria still appears remote.

add one teacher there to help relieve the situation.

Class loads are small in some elementary schools, and transfers would help lighten the load in the overcrowded schools.

The board has been discussing a complete redistricting of elementary school areas by next school year.

The salary of Skipper Joyce, director of maintenance and transportation, was raised from $6,500 to $7,200 annually, effective Sep. 1. Joyce works on a 12-month basis.

There was brief discussion by the board on the need to study all salaries in the near future. While the board is generally agreed to providing for a general salary increase, it has not yet set any definite date for it.

W. A. Turner, local representative for Fred Buford & Associates of Dallas, architects for the Snyder schools in the current building program, reported on progress of construction still underway.

At the Travis Junior High where work is still underway on some remodeling and provison of science facilities, part of the science equipment is on the job and being assembled, Turner said. The gymnasium there, which is being completely remodeled, is now progressing rapidly. The large folding door which can be used to divide the gym floor has been installed. There is still much plaster and painting work to be done, but the major job still to be done is installation of the new maple flooring.

The Lamar Junior High will be completed soon and will be ready for occupancy at mid-term, Turner said work there is going at a satisfactory pace except exterior work.

John Conley, athletic director, met with the board to discuss work to be done at the junior high football field on Avenue M, which is to be turned into a playing field for all junior high teams. Conley said lights now on the high school baseball field, which were not used during the past year, were suitable for use at the junior high field.

Conley, McCollum and two board members, J. W. Phillips and Lee Stone, were appointed by Dr. Wilton Jones, board president, to study the field and make recommendations to the board, including whether it is more feasible to move the temporary bleachers there from the high school field or to build permanent bleachers on the foundations already there. The field was formerly the high school playing field.

Two West Texans Killed In Mishap

MARFA, Tex. (AP)—Two West Texans were killed early today when a car in which they were riding ran off the highway and overturned several times in a deep ravine.

The accident occurred two miles north of Presidio on U. S. Highway 67 about 2 a. m.

The victims were Antonio M. Primera, 31, and Guadalupe B. Holquin, 28, both of Crane.

A third passenger, Eleterio Palanco of Imperial, near Crane, who was asleep on the rear seat, escaped with bruises and scratches.

Palanco told officers he believed Primera was driving. They were going to Presidio.

Krush Has Patient American Audience

By SAUL PETT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The typical reaction of Americans so far to Nikita Khrushchev resembles the attitude of the housewife who finds that a salesman somehow has poked one foot in the door.

He talks. She listens. But she isn't buying.

Khrushchev talked, smiled, waved, hugged little girls, winked at photographers. But, among the people at the airport and lining the route into Washington Tuesday, he got little applause, only scattered waving in answer to his own waving, and mostly a grim, curious silence.

The leader of the proletariat was friendly, smiling, cooperative. He even allowed himself to be transported in a big, black capitalistic Cadillac. But on one point, he refused to be contaminated.

The invitation to Tuesday night's White House dinner clearly said, "white tie." Khrushchev would have none of it. He wore the same black business suit he had on when he arrived in America.

Unlike most visitors, Khrushchev was lucky his first day here; his wife resisted the impulse to shop.

But Mr. K got in some sightseeing. For half an hour he flew with the President in his helicopter, seeing Washington and the Maryland and Virginia suburbs.

The only other Khrushchev to tour the town was Sergei, the Premier's son. By car, he visited the Washington Monument and Jefferson Memorial. At the tidal basin he took pictures of some Negroes fishing. What do you suppose he'll tell the folks back home about that picture?

Just as Khrushchev's Cadillac was pulling away from Blair House to take him to the White House for the first time, a street car got in the way. It was quickly rushed off.

If the Soviet Premier wanted to know how real Americans really live, they should have let him wait behind that street car for awhile.

Nixon Plans Dallas Visit

DALLAS (AP) — Vice President Nixon will visit Dallas Oct. 9 for the opening of the State Fair of Texas — whose officials are wondering what to do with him.

Announcement of the vice president's visit was made Tuesday by national GOP committeeman Jack Porter of Houston.

In short order, the GOP cancelled plans for a state executive committee meeting Monday in San Antonio and rescheduled it in Fort Worth to coincide with the Nixon visit.

State Fair officials prepared a huddle to make plans for Nixon's participation. James H. Stewart, vice president and general manager, conceded the announcement caught him by surprise.

The vice president will first journey to Fort Worth Oct. 8 to meet with the GOP state executive committee. He will spend the next day in Dallas for the opening of the fair.

Behind the visit lies Texas' 54 delegate votes in the 1960 Republican nominating convention, which Nixon's backers want him to nail down well in advance.

HST Turns Down Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — Harry S. Truman said today he has declined an invitation to attend a reception for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. Reason: He's got a date to dine with his daughter and son-in-law.

The former Democratic president told reporters of his decision as he strode briskly around Manhattan's East Side on his morning constitutional. Truman came here Monday for a visit to his daughter, Margaret, and her husband, newspaperr an Clifton Daniel.

Truman said former New York Gov. W. Averell Harriman had invited him to the Khrushchev reception at Harriman's town house.

When asked if he couldn't get out of his prior dinner engagement with the Daniels, Truman replied: "No, I could not."

Quick Approval Expected On Shelving Red China Issue

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States was expected to win quick approval today of a move to shelve for another year the question of seating Red China in the U. N.

The U. S. proposal was slated for debate in the General Assembly's 21-nation steering committee.

Although the outcome appeared certain, the debate on the China question was watched with unusual interest because of its possible bearing on the atmosphere of East-West relations during the three-month session.

The proceedings have added significance because they come almost on the eve of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's speech before the assembly Friday afternoon. Regardless of the steering committee's decision, Khrushchev was expected to put in a strong bid for his Peiping partners.

Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon was leading the fight to have the Assembly act now on the China representation question. The Indians insisted they still felt Red China should be in the U. N. despite India's current difficulties with the Peiping regime.

A Chinese Nationalist spokesman said the Chinese Communists actions during the past year in Tibet and on the Indian border—as well as their alleged aid to Laotian rebels—would result in a setback for those who want Red China admitted.

The 82-nation Assembly last year approved a similar U. S. proposal 44-28 with 9 abstentions. The United States was reported confident the vote this year would be as large, if not larger, in favor of deferring action.

Chinese Nationalist sources said the Chinese delegation will boycott the Khrushchev speech. They also said chief delegate T. F. Tsiang will turn down an invitation to a dinner for the Soviet Premier by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

The steering committee hoped to complete its recommendations for the agenda today. There seemed little doubt that it would vote to take up all the 70 proposed items except the China representation question.

Those items included a report of the Soviet-boycotted U. N. committee on the peaceful uses of outer space, disarmament, the Algerian problem and the controversial Arab refugee question.

The Assembly begins its general debate Thursday. Both U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd will deliver their policy declarations on the first day.

Tuesday's opening session was limited to the election of officers. Victor Andres Belaunde, veteran Peruvian diplomat, was chosen president.

Bat Bite Is Fatal To Wisconsinite

BLUE RIVER, Wis. (AP)—On a cool August night a bat flew through an open window and bit sleeping Louis Ashmore on the ear. Ashmore killed it. The next day he joked about it.

Less than a month later he was dead of hydrophobia.

The death of the 44-year-old farmer was the first attributed by the Wisconsin Health Department to the disease, usually transmitted by the bite of a rabies-infected animal or rodent. It creates madness in animals.

A U.S. Public Health Service team has been ordered here to begin a search for infected bats. The PHS operates a rabies control center at Poynette, not far from this southwest Wisconsin village of 425 persons.

The PHS said there were only six hydrophobia deaths in the United States last year. The disease usually is fatal, once symptoms develop. Skunks are the most frequent carriers of rabies, but there have been reports of infected bats.

Ashmore was bitten Aug. 8. It was his only known contact with a possible rabies carrier.

The next day he laughed with his wife about the incident. On Aug. 29, Ashmore complained of a sore ear and stiff neck. He didn't connect it with the bat bite and kept at his chores.

Four days later he entered a hospital, partially paralyzed. The next morning he was taken to the state's medical center, University Hospital at Madison.

On Sept. 5, Mrs. Ashmore remembered the bat bite.

Her husband died the next morning.

Husband Jailed In Slaying Of Woman

SAN ANGELO (AP)—A blast from a 16 gauge shotgun killed Mrs. Reynaldo Ferguson, 19, an expectant mother, at her home in the Knickerbocker community southwest of here Tuesday night.

Her husband, 26, an ex-convict, told sheriff's deputies he fired the fatal shot because "she was bad." Ferguson did not elaborate. Officers jailed him in San Angelo on a murder charge.

Red Paper Predicts Rift To Be Settled

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China's chief newspaper predicted today that the rift with India over Himalayan boundary lines will soon be patched up.

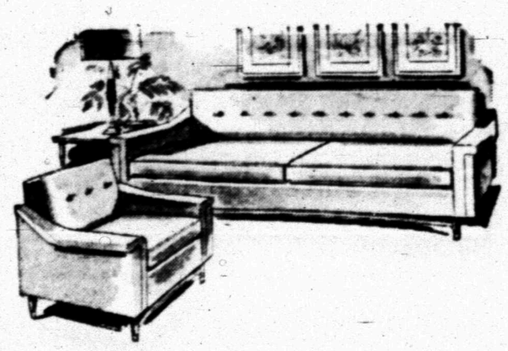

"After a heated round of argument," said the Peiping Peoples Daily, voice of the Red regime, "there is reason to expect an easing of the tension that has existed in Sino-Indian relations in the past."

The editorial, broadcast by Peiping radio, absolved Indian Prime Minister Nehru of any major responsibility in stirring tension. But it held that Indian troops have violated the border and should withdraw.

School Issue In Court

An issue now in the courts is being watched closely by many public school boards over the state.

A young married football player at Garland has asked the courts to direct his return to the high school squad, which would upset a school board regulation for married students. The board has made a rule that married students would be barred from extra-curricular activities.

Several other school boards over the state have adopted similar regulations. The Snyder board established its policy last July, and it would bar married students from participation on athletic teams; as well as other extra-curricular activities.

A district judge who heard the Garland case ruled that school boards were within their authority when they adopted such regulations. The judge noted that married students were not being deprived of public education, that the proper function of school boards is to establish rules, regulations and policies for operation of the schools, and that the board had merely performed its duty in the case at issue.

However, the plaintiffs in the suit (the football player and his father) announced that they would appeal the decision. Thus, the higher courts must rule upon the issue, and until they hand down a decision, many school boards must wait patiently to determine whether their own local regulations will stand.

Actually, the courts will determine the scope of free, public education. Does it embrace classroom activities only, or does it take in the various side functions that are popularly associated with public school life?

This question will not get a positive answer until the issue is pursued to the limit in the courts.

Trends Similar To 30 Years Ago

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — "Employment holds up well. Corporation cash boxes are fuller, and dividends larger. Money is still being made in the stock market and is turning over fast in trade. The European political and financial thunderstorms have passed over and the international economic atmosphere is clearing."

Right out of today's financial press? No. It's the business outlook summed up in the first issue of the magazine Business Week, Sept. 7, 1929.

The magazine started life six weeks before the stock market crashed — and with 10 dreary years of depression ahead.

But 30 years ago this month the business world was talking about much the same favorable signs—and problems—as today.

Then as now there were surveys. The first issue claimed it polled 5,600 "picked top executives in all lines of trade and industry" and you wouldn't have to change much in what it called their "feel of their business pulse" to print their report today.

General business in September, October and November will be about 6 per cent better than at the close of August.

Employment and purchasing power are holding at a high level.

The general public is speculating again. In August (1929) stock market gambling increased in all parts of the country.

Continued high money rates — particularly for mortgage money and rural credit—are retarding business.

Excessive instalment buying — especially of luxuries and automobiles—and increasingly keen competition in the retail field because of chain store development are things to worry about.

Thus spoke the business leaders 30 years ago—just about as they do today.

As the fall of 1929 began, the magazine reported a "tenseness in Wall Street. Its presence is undeniable. There is a general feeling that something is going to happen during the present season." It sure did, six weeks later.

The magazine reported that 614 stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange were lower in August 1929 than in January, and only 388 had advanced, and stock prices often were "out of sight of earnings."

Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon had been paying as high as 5¼ per cent for short-term money needed by the U.S. Treasury, but in September managed to cut it to 4 per cent because banks were bidding for them in case of emergency. Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson's latest, six-month issue sold at 4.796 per cent. And his short-term securities seem to be about the only ones he can sell.

But no one seemed to worry much 30 years ago. Business was reported quieter in August than earlier in the year "but still far more lively than a year ago".

The first issue also shows many dissimilarities to today's situation. It notes that "brokers' loans swell till they absorb a third of the banking resources of the country—banks merge and emerge in chains, trailing trusts and holding companies, while industrial corporations pay dividends not by producing goods but by buying each others' stocks and by borrowing and lending everybody's money in the market."

In 1929 the hemline was being lowered and "the American manufacturer is jubilant." This year Paris is raising the hemline.

Anyone for the good old days?

Astronomers once thought there were oceans on the moon. Now they know, says the National Georgraphic Society, that there are none.

Capital Has Era Of 'Togetherness'

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Togetherness in Washington is a political oddity. This was an odd year, although it wasn't supposed to be. Next year should be more normal. It's an election year.

The Democratic-run Congress, which ended its 1959 chores this week, got along so well with President Eisenhower it already has been accused of running obediently every time he whistled.

But even controversy between Northern and Southern Democrats was kept pretty much to a minimum. There are some pretty good reasons for the strange quietness which enveloped the Capitol all year.

The Democratic leadership in Congress let Eisenhower call the tunes and it postponed until 1960 the most inflammatory issues, like new civil rights legislation, federal aid to education, and others.

Because the Democrats got overwhelming control of this Congress in the 1958 elections, they had been expected to impose their thinking on Eisenhower who up till then had shown a very unaggressive leadership.

He fooled them. Right from the start he put them on the self-conscious defensive by accusing them of wanting to spend too much money at a time when the country was recovering from the 1958 recession. He said big spending wasn't needed.

To show that he meant what he said, he vetoed one bill after another and made all his vetoes stick except one at the end simply because enough Southern Democrats deserted their party's ranks to join Republicans in upholding the President.

If the two Democratic leaders—Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn, both of Texas—had wanted to assert more leadership of their own and make a fight of it, they could have given Eisenhower a rougher time. They chose to play along.

The result was a lot of legislation but it was of a basic kind, and not very controversial.

Still, quiet as it was, this session of Congress once again demonstrated one of the myths in American politics—the idea that there are really only two political parties: Democrats and Republicans.

In the first place, despite their talk of differences between them, Democrats and Republicans see so much alike on major issues, differing mostly on details, that a foreigner would have a hard time distinguishing between them.

In the second place, there are really three political parties — Democrats, Republicans, and Southern Democrats — any time the Southerners want it to be that way.

Any time they disagree with the and Western Democrats, they can and do split off as a large bloc to line up with the opposition Republicans.

They showed their power in teaming up with House Republicans to pass a tougher labor control bill than the rest of the Democrats had in mind but which Eisenhower wanted.

They showed it repeatedly by splitting off—at least enough of them to be effective—to join the Republicans in upholding Eisenhower's vetoes, with one exception.

But next year Congress—in addition to civil rights and federal aid to education—faces legislation on farming, minimum wages, broadening of Social Security, aid for depressed areas, and possibly income tax changes.

Any one of those problems creates heat. If the Democratic leadership tries to pass civil rights legislation with real teeth in it, the Southerners will fight.

While the Democrats will have to woo the vote of minorities—and a strong civil rights bill is attractive to Northern Negro voters—the leaders have to think of something else: how not to split their party in an election year.

Two Profiles Are Problem To Actor

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)— Actor Edward Binns has two profiles—and can't decide whether this is a curse or a blessing.

It all came about as the result of a nose broken in his youth.

"If I turn my head one way, I look like an honest cop," he said. "If I turn it the other way, I look like a hood."

"But is this good or bad?" he asked.

It's good to the extent that his double profile has helped keep Eddie one of the busiest actors in the craft. In the last two decades he has appeared in five Broadway plays, 15 movies and some 400 television shows.

It's bad, he feels, in that producers too often cast him in police or hoodlum roles. Gifted with one of the most memorable faces in show business, his problem has been to make his name as well known as his face.

A peaceful man by nature who served as an armament officer in World War II, Eddie is a former instructor at Pennsylvania State University. He is married and has three daughters.

Binns achieved star status this summer playing a detective lieutenant in a new CBS network show.

The program got off to good critical acclaim but has been dropped by the sponsor. Its fate is dependent on whether CBS can find another sponsor and time spot.

"They complain about too much violence on television. In the first 22 shows I haven't shot one man. I did punch one fellow in the stomach, and I kissed a girl. Is that too much violence?"

"But still we were dumped, even though we had good ratings. The reason given was that the public doesn't want a show that faces up to life, and shows life as it is. They say the public only wants to escape life."

Binns shook his head thoughtfully.

"But do sponsors and the agencies know what the public wants?" he asked.

"Someone once praised one of our shows by saying it was 'like real.' That's the best compliment an actor, writer or producer can get. Television needs more shows that are like real."

Bomber Acts Like Man With Mission

HOUSTON (AP)—"A man walks across the street with a bomb and kills children."

W. S. Hawes had just identified the body of his only son.

William S. Hawes Jr., 7, was one of six persons killed when a man pushed a button and blew up a suitcase of explosives Tuesday on the playground at Edgar Allen Poe Elementary School.

Paul Harold Orgeron, 47, pressed the doorbell type button minutes after enrolling his red-haired son, Dusty Paul, 7, in the school.

In addition to young Hawes, the blast killed Orgeron, Dusty, another pupil, a teacher and a custodian.

The 18 persons hospitalized included the principal, Mrs. R. E. Doty, 64. Four children remain in critical condition. Several are in serious condition with leg amputations and internal injuries.

William Hawes and John Cecil Fitch Jr., 8, died as they ran ahead of the class when they were released for recess.

Jennie Kolter, 54, a second-grade teacher, and James Montgomery, 56, school custodian, died while aiding Mrs. Doty in trying to persuade Orgeron to leave the school grounds.

Two incoherent notes were found on the playground but police and the FBI could find no specific reason why Orgeron, a former convict, set off the explosion.

Orgeron and Dusty entered the school and stopped Mrs. Doty in a hall to inquire about the son enrolling. Mrs. Doty sent them to the office to talk with a clerk, Juanita Weidner.

He told Mrs. Weidner he had just moved into the area from New Mexico, that he was a tile contractor.

"He did not appear to be angry at all," Mrs. Weidner said, "but he did talk rather fast and loud."

A few minutes later, the father and son appeared on the playground where about 100 pupils were playing.

Patricia L. Johnston, a second-grade teacher, said Orgeron approached her, handed her two notes and asked her to read them.

She said he kept mumbling something about God and "having power in a suitcase."

She said he was carrying a small, dark suitcase and the little boy was carrying a little brown bag.

"He kept on urging me to get the children in a circle," Miss Johnston said.

She said he showed her his suitcase and a button he was holding in his hand. The button "looked like a doorbell."

Miss Johnston passed the notes to Mrs. Kolter, 54, and another teacher, Julia Whatley.

The teachers summoned Mrs. Doty, who arrived minutes later with Montgomery.

"I told him that he had to leave the school grounds," Mrs. Doty said. "He kept telling me over and over, 'I have to get to the children, I have to follow the children to the second grade.'"

"That is the last thing I know. There was a terrific explosion. I was standing near him talking to him."

SCHOOL BLAST SCENE—Covered bodies of victims lie in the playground of the Edgar Allen Poe Elementary School at Houston, Tex., after a homemade bomb exploded killing three children and three adults. Police and school officials said a man deliberately threw the explosives onto the ground while the children were at play. (AP Wirephoto)

State Wins A Judgment

EAGLE PASS (AP)—Another chapter in Texas' Veterans Land Program scandals closed here Tuesday when the state won a judgment of $151,054 plus six per cent interest against two San Antonio land promoters.

Defendants H. S. Lebman and C. V. Wynn did not contest the civil suit.

The state claimed Lebman and Wynn entered into an illegal and fraudulent agreement with former state land commissioner Bascom Giles, who was paid $9,000. Giles later was sent to prison after being convicted in Veterans Land Program swindles.

The state maintained the 712 acres of land divided into 22 tracts was sold to the state for resale to veterans at long term loans with low-interest rates. The state said that the price of $151,054 paid by the state was "greatly in excess of the market value of the land."

Nudist Camp Operator Is Fined $100

BONHAM (AP) — W. R. Campbell, 24, operator of a nudist camp, was fined $100 and court costs Tuesday after being convicted of obscene and indecent exposure.

Don Gladden, Fort Worth Attorney who represented Campbell, said the conviction will be appealed.

The jury of four men and two women returned the verdict after deliberating 17 minutes in county court.

A key point in the case was the legal interpretation of the phrase "in public' used in the complaint accusing Campbell of indecent exposure.

Tibby Wright, Fannin County attorney, won his main argument as County Judge Choice Moore ruled "in public" meant the display of a nude human body before other persons. Moore held that this did not necessarily mean in a public place.

Five witnesses testified they saw Campbell "in his birthday suit," as Texas Ranger G. W. Burks put it, last June 21 at his Cedarvale camp 12 miles northeast of here in North Texas.

About a dozen other persons—men, women and children—also wore no clothing, Burks and the others said.

Campbell said during the trial the future of his camp, near the New Hope community, rested on the courts' final decision. Since his arrest in June, he said he has halted improvement work, including construction of a swimming pool.

Political Calendar Changes To Get Emphasis At Session

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN (AP)—Vital changes in the 1960 political calendar will be emphasized at this week's State Democratic Executive Committee meeting in McAllen.

It will be a build-up, not a tear-down session, said J. J. (Jake) Pickle of Austin, state director of organization for the party.

He said prospects for party peace are better in Texas than they have been since the big blow-up in 1944 between New Deal and conservative Democrats.

Elements such as the Eisenhower candidacy and the anti-Truman feeling that kept the feud going are not present now, Pickle said. He hopes both factions of the party will give a little and bring harmony in 1960.

There was no direct comment from party officials on reports there will be behind-the-scenes planning at the McAllen meeting to replace Mrs. R. D. (Frankie) Randolph as national committeewoman from Texas next year.

She has been at odds with the conservative and middle roaders who now hold most high official party posts. Mrs. Randolph is a top liberal faction leader.

Official action on Mrs. Randolph would have to come at the June state convention.

Pickle said the committee will spend most of its time in workshop sessions including party leaders from over the state.

Dates for almost every step in the pre-primary and convention procedures were changed by the last Legislature.

Pickle emphasized party workers must be thoroughly schooled in the changes. The gathering in the Valley is the time to start, he said.

The 1960 political calendar to be issued soon by the committee shows these among other vital dates:

Oct. 1, this year: first day to pay poll taxes.

Jan. 31, 1960: last day to pay poll taxes.

Feb. 1: deadline for filing for place on ballot.

March 14: State Executive Committee meets to select hour and place for September (governor's) convention and to certify state candidates.

April 17-May 3: absentee balloting for first primary.

May 7: first primary and precinct conventions.

May 14: county conventions.

May 15-31: absentee voting for second primary.

May 17: State Executive Committee meets to canvass returns of first primary.

June 4: second primary.

June 14: state convention to name delegates to national convention.

June 18: State Executive Committee canvasses returns of second primary.

July 11: national Democratic convention.

Sept. 20: state (governor's) convention.

Nov. 8: general election.

Judge Backs School Rule

DALLAS (AP)—School boards have the right to ban married students from participating in school extra-curricular activities, Dist. Judge Claude Williams ruled Tuesday.

The judge upheld the action of the school board in nearby Garland after Jerry Kissick Jr., 17, sought a court order to permit him to play football at Garland High School.

In announcing his decision, Judge Williams said "You cannot operate schools without reasonable rules. The Garland board is not keeping students from getting an education. This requirement (ban on extra-curricular activities for married students) is not discriminatory nor retroactive.'

Kissick had contended the ruling violated his rights and that, in his case, was retroactive since the rule was passed after he was married.

An attorney for the Kissicks said the ruling will be appealed.

Two Beatniks Take Beating

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two would-be beatnik bandits were beat from the start Tuesday. They just couldn't communicate.

"Man, I mean this is it," said one of the tough guys. "This is a stickup."

Albert Heineman, 43, bartender at the hungry i, busy polishing glasses, only half heard him.

He turned to waiter Clarence Quinn: "I think these guys are pulling a heist."

Quinn didn't hear too well, either. He thought Heineman said they were pulling a knife.

Quinn walked over to the pair, shook them both up, then tossed both out into the street.

"Man, I mean you don't get the picture," was the last word heard.

Storm Heads For Korea

TOKYO (AP)—Typhoon Sarah roared into the East China Sea today after raking the southern Ryukyus with 145 m.p.h. winds. Unless it veers it will hit the Korean Peninsula Thursday.

There was no word from the American base at Okinawa but it was within range of 50 m.p.h. fringe winds.

The Shanghai area of Red China was within range too.

Center winds of the typhoon missed Formosa Tuesday, although it was deluged with rain and buffeted by 50 m.p.h. winds.

Five persons were reported killed and 33 injured in southern Okinawa.

Between You And Me

By JERRY JACKSON

SCOUTING REPORTS on the Andrews Mustangs are emphatic on two points. (1) The Tigers will be faced with a big, beefy forward wall which may prove to be hard to move. From end to end the Ponies will average a well-rounded 180 pounds, with a 150 pound left end being the only pee wee up front. (2) In contrast, the backfield will be loaded with featherweights, the man under and both his halfbacks scaling 152, and the fullback hitting a robust 155.

As might be expected, all those little guys in the backfield make up for their lack of size by having an abundance of speed. They are established track men in their own right, and due to that fact Andrews is expected to field a running team, with little reliance on a passing attack.

Stayed On Ground, Used Carruth

IN THEIR OPENER against Seminole Friday they took to the air only six times, completing one of those tosses. So the passing game seems to be little more than a change-of-pace type of thing used to augment their quick opening plays and keep the defense fairly honest.

"When you get a good horse-ride 'im", and the Mustangs boast a thoroughbred in Lloyd Carruth, their mightly mite fullback. Against Seminole he carried a total of 24 times, and will no doubt be the chief workhorse in the Andrews offensive.

It has often been said that

Astaire Hits On Horse's Monicker

FRED ASTAIRE has branched out of late and sandwiched in a new sidline, in between dances with Ginger Rogers.

Raising race horses is the pastime, and while in Australia looking after his interests recently he submitted a name he had selected for one of his racing colts to the Down Under Racing Board. The board rejected his selection, replying that the chosen name resembled too much an existing name.

They're bad about that, by the way. And not only once but several times he sent in monickers which were repeatedly turned down. Finally, in disgust, he dropped them a note saying, simply, "Just name him anything!"

You guessed it. That's what they named him...Anything.

Sox Inching Way To Flag

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

He won't admit it, of course, but the only real problem Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox has today is a choice between Early Wynn and Billy Pierce as his opening game pitcher in the World Series.

Lopez, chairman of the board when it comes to nice guy managers, insists that there are a number of worries to be taken care of before he starts thinking about the series. But with his Sox 5½ games ahead and their magic number reduced to four with eight games to play in pursuit of their first American League pennant in 40 years, what problems he claims are imaginary.

Still, he was a limp—but happy manager after his Sox kept doin' what comes naturally with a 4-3 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday. He was less limp and even more happy a few hours later when Boston knocked off second place Cleveland 1-0.

Who the White Sox will meet when the series opens in Comiskey Park September 30 is still anybody's guess. The National League race could bust wide open with the two-game series opening at San Francisco today between the first-place Giants and the Milwaukee Braves.

The Giants regained a two-game edge with a 13-6 job on Cincinnati Tuesday while Los Angeles jumped back into a second-place tie with Milwaukee by beating the Braves 8-7 in 10 innings.

In the other AL games, Baltimore defeated Detroit 2-1 in 11 innings and Washington split a twi-night pair with Kansas City, the Senators winning the opener 1-0 behind Camilo Pascual's three-hitter, then losing 6-2.

St. Louis beat Philadelphia 6-4 in the only other game played in the NL. Pittsburgh's game at Chicago was postponed because of cold weather.

Pierce (14-13) beat the Yanks a fourth time Tuesday, although he gave way in the eighth inning—after holding the ex-champs hitless following the first of Mickey Mantle's two home runs in the first inning.

Pierce said his back stiffened during a long top of the eighth, when the Sox came from behind with two runs and beat reliever Whitey Ford (14-10). Bob Shaw, one of the Sox' starters, came on in relief and put it away, surviving a scary ninth.

After the White Sox clipped Eli Grba, fourth Yank pitcher, for the clincher in the ninth on Luis Aparicio's triple and a sacrifice fly by pinch-hitter Norm Cash, the Yankees growled back on Mantle's second homer, his 31st of the year, and a double by Elston Howard. The Sox got out of it when right-fielder Jim Rivera snared Hector Lopez' liner and started a hectic doubleplay.

Daily News Grid Picking Opens Today

The Daily News' annual football contest opens today, and Snyder prognosticators can test their skill at picking winners and possibly make coffee money doing it.

In today's Daily News is a page which includes 28 games. Pick the winners and keep your copy of the picks in the Daily News for reference, then get an official entry blank from one of the 28 merchants sponsoring the page.

The official entry must be completed and either mailed or turned in to the Daily News by noon each Friday. Contestants pick winning teams only, no scores. Games ending in a tie must be specified on the entry as a tie or will be counted as a miss.

First prize is $10, and second prize is $2.50. If there is a tie for first place the winners will divide the total cash money of $12.50 and no second prize will be given. If there is a first place winner and two persons tie for second, those who tie will split the $2.50, but if more than two persons tie for second place, no second prize will be given and the money will be carried over and added to the next week's prize.

There is a prize of $25 for a perfect record of picks. If there is a tie, the $25 will be split.

One entry per person is permitted. Winners will be announced in the Daily News on each Wednesday.

Merchants co-sponsoring the contest with the Daily News are Snyder Drugs, Bennett Office Supply, Ansco Answering Service, Bert's 8 - Day Grocery, Lieb's Drive-In Cleaners, Rainbow Market, Palmer-Sullivan Insurance Agency, M & M Radio-TV-Electric, Martin's Jewelry, Thompson's Cleaners Mixon Tire & Supply, Modern Furniture, Snyder Savings & Loan Association, Phillips Bros. CHARLIE GLADSON

Gladson Is Top Lineman Of The Week

Charlie Gladson, 170-pound Junior tackle, has earned the honor of Lineman of the Week due to his outstanding play in the Snyder-Borger constest.

As a yardstick of Gladson usefulness in the game, he played the full 48 minutes, all the while contributing numerous tackles and managing to spur the Tiger offensive moves with his downfield blocking.

He was instrumental in two tackles in particular, which stood out. The first followed the second half kickoff, as he and Wayne Berry teamed up to dump the Borger ball carrier deep in his own territory and the second was an unassisted tackle which foiled the Bulldogs' extra point attempt following their second touchdown.

In addition, he was one of the key linemen responsible for rushing the passer, resulting in hurried throws in several instances.

Colts Win In Pee Wee

The Boys' Club Pee Wee Football season opened yesterday with the Colts shutting out the Hotshots 6-0.

The Colts piled up 120 yards on the ground in the win, as compared to 65 netted by the Hotshots 51 of which were accumulated by Powers Boothe. Leading ground for the Colts was Murray Bowden with 69, and he was followed by Donnie Newman, who added an additional 33.

The 'Shots picked up 35 yards by air, with Buddy Powell being Boothe's favorite target. An intercepted pass was their downfall, however, as Bowden intercepted a fourth quarter aerial as the Hotshots were knocking on the door" on the Colt eight yard line.

Statistically, the Colts compiled six first downs to three for the Hotshots, had two interceptions as against one for the Hotshots, and fumbled twice while the Hotshots had none.

Colt coach is Frankie Minton, and the Hotshot mentor is Lacy Boles.

Central Elementary will be the site of the next Pee Wee games, which will be run off at 4:30 Thursday evening. It will match the Frogs and the Bears in the opener for those teams.

Top Hurlers To Meet

By JOE RIECHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The stage was set for the big series today as the National League's only 20-game winners, Milwaukee's Lew Burdette and San Francisco's Sam Jones, clashed in the first game of the season's most important two-game set.

The Giants, apparently free of their hitting doldrums, were comforted by the knowledge that even should the Braves knock them off in both games, the best Milwaukee could do is tie them for first place.

The Giants' lead today was two games, made possible by Tuesday's 13-6 conquest of Cincinnati coupled with Los Angeles' spectacular 8-7 comeback victory in 10 innings over the equally stubborn Braves.

The only thing that seems safe to predict at this point is that the race will go right down to the wire. That means the last three clubs — Chicago, St. Louis and Philadelphia—will play a vital role in determining the eventual winner.

On the final weekend of the campaign, Sept. 25, 26, 27, the Giants will play at St. Louis, the Dodgers at Chicago and the Braves will be host to Philadelphia.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox edged a bit closer to their first flag in 40 years with a 4-3 victory at New York, reducing their magic number to four. Second place Cleveland lost 1-0 at Boston and new trails by 5½ games. Washington and Kansas City split a twi-night pair, the Senators winning 1-0, then losing 6-2. Baltimore beat Detroit 2-1 in 11 innings.

St. Louis defeated Philadelphia 6-4 in the other NL game. Cold weather postponed Pittsburgh at Chicago.

Alarmed over the Giants' lack of base hits in recent days, Manager Bill Rigney shook up his lineup and his move paid immediate dividends. With Felipe Alou in right field and Jimmy Davenport at third base, the Giants smashed out of their hitting slump with eight runs in the first two innings. They massaged four Red hurlers for 13 hits, including home runs by Daryl Spencer and Willie McCovey.

Little Maury Wills was the hero of the Dodgers' thrilling triumph. The light-hitting shortstop, who seems to have come up with a loaded bat, had a perfect 5-for-5 at the plate, scoring three runs and driving in another. He has 15 hits in his last 24 times at bat.

It was Wills who ignited the Dodgers' winning two-run rally off relief hurler Don McMahon, Monday's hero, after the Braves had broken a 6-6 tie in the top of the 10th. Wills singled with one out, raced to third on a single by pinch hitter Chuck Essegian, and scored the tying run on a sacrifice by Junior Gilliam.

Charlie Neal followed with a single and Wally Moon walked to load the bases with two out. McMahon then forced over the winning run with a free ticket to Ron Fairly. Chuck Churn, fourth Dodger pitcher, was the winner.

The Braves, trailing 6-3 after seven innings, scored twice in the eighth on Hank Aaron's two-run double, evened matters in the ninth on a double by Del Crandall and Felix Mantilla's single, and went ahead in the 10th on singles by Aaron and Joe Adcock, and a sacrifice fly by Johnny Logan.

Defense Is Tops, Head Coach Says

The regular meeting of the Quarterback Club was held last night in the High School cafeteria, as the coaches who had played games the previous week gave reports on their team showings.

Coach John Conley stated that the Tigers looked as good defensively as "in any game we've played the past three year," but that the offense needed a whole lot of work in order to be ready for Andrews.

Coach Ace Amos rendered a scouting report on what to expect offensively when the Tigers tangle with Andrews, following which Coach Jim Stehley gave a rundown on the Mustang defensive aspects.

The meeting was capped off with the showing of the Snyder-Borger game film, along with comments by Coach Conley.

Junior High Grid Teams To C-City

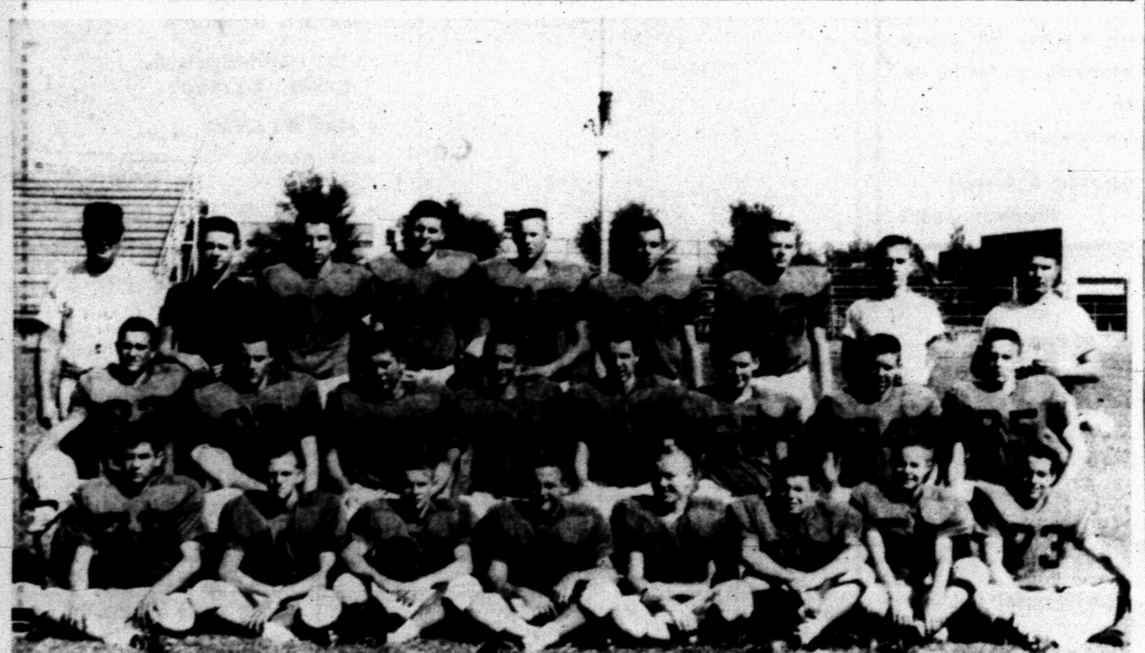

Thursday night will find two of Snyder's three Junior High grid teams in Colorado City for games with the future Wolves.

Featured in the first fray will be the Lamar Seventh Graders, coached by Roy Carter and Bob O'Day. In their only encounter of the young season, the Lamar crew rolled over Sweetwater by 22-8. Kickoff time will be 4:30.

In the nightcap, Snyder's Eighth Graders will lock horns with the Coloradoans in a 6:00 o'clock battle. Their initial outing this past Thursday was an impressive one, as they downed Goliad of Big Spring, 34-8. They are coached by "Ace" Amos and Charlie Sparks.

The Travis Seventh Graders have an open date in which to prepare for Lamesa next Thursday.

Asa Cox, a guard on the University of Florida football team, is the co-owner of a furniture business.

Unbeaten Group Now Frosh

Coach Speedy Moffett smiled originally, been on tap for Saturwryly, winked confidentially, then day night here, but has since been commented, "Yep, we've got the changed.

only undefeated team in high school."

The "we" was in reference to he and his coaching cohort, J. P. Ward, and the team he was talking about was his group of Snyder High Freshmen footballers.

What he says is the gospel truth, but in all fairness it should be brought out that the Freshmen are still looking to their first contest, which will be unreeled tomorrow night in Tiger Stadium.

Game time has been moved up from 7:30 to 6:30, in that a "doubleheader" has been lined up, with the Snyder "B" Team-Lamesa clash being scheduled for 8 o'clock. The "B" Team encounter had

The Fish who will be available for action in the upcoming fest include Ends Malcom Bolger, Danny Colwell, Melvin Gunnels, and Tim Hardin; Tackles Weldon Duke, Carl Good, William Robinson, and Johnny Floyd; Guards Glen Banks, Riley Boothe, Jerry McDowell, Larry Skinner, and Billy Kitchens; Centers Kenny Wellborn and Pete Greene (who also subs in at Quarterback); Quarterbacks Dalton Walton and Greene; Halfbacks Jackie Wasson, Luke Nigliazzo, Darrell Aldridge, and Joe Cates; and Fullbacks Pat LaFountain and Jack Willis. Out indefinitely with a head injury is Quarterback Jimmy Taylor.

Coaches Ward and Moffett report that the straight "T" is the formation from which the Frosh offensive will spring. Maximum use of flankers is planned, also.

Probable offensive starting lineup will have Gunnels and Colwell at ends, Robinson and Good at tackles, Boothe and Kitchens at guards, Wellborn at the center slot, Walton the man under, Wasson and Aldridge at halfback, and LaFountain at fullback.

The defensive unit will show practically the same personnel, with the following exceptions: Greene will be at the defensive guard slot in the place of Boothe; Hardin at end subbing for Wellborn; and Nigliazzo will take over defensive halfback duties from Walton.

Test Your Skill.. Win CASH PRIZES

IT'S FUN! IT'S EASY! ANYONE CAN WIN! ENTER TODAY!

HERE ARE THE RULES OF THE CONTEST

In each advertisement on this page you will find the contestants in a prominent football game being played in the country this week-end. Get an entry blank from one of the merchants who are helping sponsor this contest and whose message is on this page. Fill in your selection of the WINNING TEAM only . . . opposite the name of the firm on the entry blank. Then send your complete blank to FOOTBALL CONTEST EDITOR, THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS. Entries must be in the hands of the editor by 12 o'clock noon, Friday. Games ending in a tie score must be specified as a tie or else it will be considered a miss.

If there is a tie for first place the winners will divide the cash money of $12.50 and no second prize will be given. If there is a first place winner and a tie for second place, the second prize winners will divide the money for that place. If more than two persons tie for second place, no second prize money will be awarded and the cash will be added to next week's prize. Tie for perfect score will split $25.00. There will be fun for the entire family. Only one entry blank will be permitted from any one person. More than one will disqualify all of the person's entries. Scores listed on the entry blank will have no bearing on the choice of the winner. Sign your entry blank and list your address and phone number—and watch for the story on next Wednesday's front page for the winners. Hurry now, and get your entry blank from one of the merchants on this page. The contest blank must be in your own handwriting. Employes of The Snyder Daily News and their families, not eligible to enter.
