Lindbergh Case Is Ordered Reopened

Praise Of Landon Offered By GOP's

Demos Profess No Worry But Greater Work On Behalf Of Kansas Governor Promised

By EDWARD J. DUFFY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. — Governor Landon of Kansas was generally believed in the capital tonight to be embarking on a middle-of-the-road course in quest of the Republican presidential nomination.

Praise of his position on national affairs by eastern organization leaders in the party afforded a significant aftermath to his Topeka speech.

In contrast to their hostility toward Senator Borah of Idaho, one after another spoke highly of the Kansan. Greater organization on his behalf, possibly to the extent of contesting with Borah for delegates in pivotal states, was expected to be encouraged.

Troubled by factionalism themselves, Democrats professed no worry. "All canned stuff" was the way Senator Harrison of Mississippi dismissed the Landon case against the administration.

Many in the administration were more immediately concerned over where the opposition of Alfred E. Smith and Governor Talmadge of Georgia might leave the party in the campaign.

Some weeks seemed likely to elapse before Smith's intentions become clarified. Talmadge, at Atlanta, announced plans for four February speeches, taking him to Baltimore, Springfield, Ill.; Madisonville, Ky.; and Peoria, Ill. He remained silent on whether he would seek delegates pledged to himself, but predicted again that President Roosevelt would not be renominated.

Secretary Ickes, attacked along with the president in the Talmadge speech at Macon yesterday, broached the possibility of moving against him legally for alleged violation of an agreement on a public works contract. He told reporters the Talmadge "word is not good," and "he has the effrontery to stand up before an audience that is looking for a truthful man to act as president and say what he did."

Fund To Wind Up Long Probe Granted To Munitions Group But Only After A New Fight

Nye Says Violent Temper And Unruly Tongue Of Connally Has Almost Forced Disclosure Of Documents

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30—The senate today granted its munitions committee a requested fund of $7,-369 to wind up its prolonged investigation, but it acted only after whipping up a new battle over World war history.

Chairman Nye (R-ND) told the senate before it voted that the "violent temper and unruly tongue" of Senator Connally (D-Tex) had virtually forced disclosure of secret Lansing documents.

Feeling Runs High

Feeling between Nye and Connally has existed since the occasion two weeks ago when the North Dakotan said the munitions investigation had brought out evidence proving President Wilson falsified. Connally replied with heated criticism of Nye.

Today's quarrel was considered a forerunner of even more intense debate expected on pending permanent neutrality legislation. While administration leaders continued to predict passage of a bill greatly broadening the present act embargoing shipments of arms and munitions to belligerents, a rising swell of opposition was evidenced both in house and senate. Some saw this as meaning extension only of the present act, expiring Feb. 29, without further permanent legislation.

Attack On New Front

Connally, turning on Nye for his statement that Wilson falsified in denying knowledge of secret Allied World war treaties for partition of Europe, attacked on a new front today.

He accused the North Dakotan of threatening to "reveal all" about "war secrets" in the committee files.

Child Has Tooth Taken From Lung

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 30 (AP)—Ten year old Ramon Douglas of Ashland had a tooth "extracted" here—from his lung.

A mysterious lung trouble made him ill with periods of high fever for four months and finally x-ray photographs showed a foreign substance in the right lower lobe of his lungs.

Using a bronchoscope, Dr. Stuart Broadwell, jr., removed the object yesterday without anaesthetic or surgery and found it was a molar tooth which Ramon had "inhaled" four months ago.

Widow Facing 10-Year Term

Daisy Alexander Root Found Guilty For The Slaying Of Her Gay Young Husband As Result Of Quarrel

(By The Associated Press)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 30.—Daisy Alexander Root was convicted of second degree murder here today and her punishment fixed at 10 years' imprisonment for the slaying of her gay young husband, Brenton Root, following a night club quarrel over a "cigaret girl."

Without a show of emotion, the comely, 30-year-old widow heard the jury's verdict as she sat with her 4-year-old son, George, on her lap. Told that she could continue at liberty under $7,500 bond pending a hearing of a motion for a new trial, February 20, she walked from the court room without comment.

Everything Is Over

Earlier in the day, she had said: "It doesn't matter what the verdict is—everything is over for me—I failed to make my marriage a go."

The defendant said she had clung to her husband "as long as it was humanly possible" so that her son could be reared "with both a father and mother to guide him." She tried, she said, because she was the child of divorced parents, "and I was willing to undergo anything to avoid a divorce."

Davidson Likely To Preside Here

DALLAS, Jan. 30. (AP) — Federal Judge James C. Wilson of Fort Worth will swear in T. Whit Davidson within the next few days as successor to Federal Judge Edward R. Meek.

The senate confirmed the appointment of Davidson today. He probably will be sworn in at the same time members of the bar of the northern district of Texas present a portrait to Judge Meek, who resigned last December.

Judge Davidson's duties will not be announced until after Judge Wilson, senior judge of the northern district, confers with Davidson and Judge William H. Atwell. Federal attaches, however, expressed the opinion the new judge will be assigned first to handle criminal dockets at Fort Worth, Abilene, Amarillo and Lubbock.

The Tri-State Fair association's annual spring race meet will be under way at the same time.

Congress Leaders Study New Tax Problem

First Hurdle Taken Cleanly By Substitute

White House Becomes Scene Of Tax Discussion; Attorney General Declares New Levies Are In Mill

Cash Necessary

No Final Conclusions Reached But Studies Will Continue; Swift Action On Bill To Be Sought By Sponsors

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. — Legislation for an AAA-replacing farm program cleared its first major congressional hurdle today as the administration concentrated on the problem of new taxes to finance its cost.

The senate's agriculture committee had barely reported the crop control-soil conservation measure to the floor—for possible consideration Monday—before the White House became the scene of a one-and-one-half hour discussion of taxes.

New Levies In Mill

The conference met against the background of an earlier statement by Attorney General Cummings that new farm-financing levies were in the mill, to which he added that submission to congress within a week would be "a good guess."

President Roosevelt's advisors were silent on proposed channels of new revenue when they emerged, but it was known that they considered these requirements:

$440,000,000 is the estimated annual cost of the new Bankhead-Jones program continuing subsidies to farmers.

$200,000,000 in impounded processing taxes were returned to processors by the supreme court's rice millers decision. The administration wants to regain these.

Must Pay Farmers

$296,185,000 is needed to pay farmers for acreage reduction contracts carried out before AAA was invalidated.

The White House conferees, including Secretaries Morgenthau and Wallace and the attorney-general said no final conclusions were reached and their studies would be continued.

Another farm bill, proposing tariff-equalizing subsidies on wheat, cotton, hogs and tobacco, was introduced by Representative Hope of Kansas, ranking Republican on the house agriculture committee.

Three Criminal Cases Will Be Called In Crosby Court

CROSBYTON, Jan. 30. (Special)—Three criminal cases are on call for 72nd district court here Friday and, after their disposal, criminal trial work for the January term is expected to be completed.

District Judge Homer L. Pharr, however, may call several civil cases next week, concluding week of the term. No jury for that week had been summoned.

G. P. Robertson Wednesday was found not guilty by a jury that had listened to testimony in his burglary trial. Defense closed without putting on testimony, immediately after the state rested.

Daniel A. Blair and Burton S. Burks, district attorney and assistant district attorney, respectively, of Lubbock prosecuted.

Worker On High Line Killed By Current From Hot Wire

ROSCOE, Jan. 30. (AP)—Frank Alley, 23, was electrocuted in an unusual manner this afternoon while working on a wire fence three miles west of here.

Raymond Moore, who was working with Alley, said the latter jerked loose a ground wire attached to a high tension power line post with his claw hammer. The top of the ground wire came in contact with the high line near the fence and the current that reached Alley killed him instantly. Moore was twenty feet away, he said, and was knocked unconscious.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 30. (AP)—"I'd rather dance than do anything else in the world," remarked Michelson, 60, to his partner at a dance recently. "I guess I'll die dancing."

Last night during a waltz, he fell dead. A physician blamed a heart attack.

Slight Break In Cold Spell Now Expected

South Digs Itself Out From Record-Breaking Snowfall; Temperatures On Friday Are Forecast Higher

Texas Snow Melts

Much Of State's Ice Gone On Thursday But New Glaze Is Promised Today; Little Damage Being Reported

(By The Associated Press)

A SLIGHT break in the intense cold spell which has gripped most of the nation for a week was promised today as the east and midwest bundled against sub-zero cold and the south dug itself out of a record snow-fall that paralyzed traffic.

Higher temperatures were predicted for New England, where unofficial readings ranged past 30 degrees below zero and a U. S. weather bureau report placed Northfield, Vt., with an official 36 below, as the coldest spot in the United States Thursday.

Mercury To Rise

Weather bureau forecasts for the remainder of the country said there would be continued cold throughout the night with rising temperatures Friday.

At sea, navigation along the northern Atlantic coast was slowed by ice floes.

The lighthouse service replaced light buoys along the New England coast with spar buoys. Ice in Chesapeake bay made channel buoys unreliable.

The wintry blast which laid 11 inches of snow on Birmingham and crippled Atlanta traffic with a record eight inch snowfall made a threatened coal shortage acute in Alabama.

State Attacks Hamlin's Case

Testimony In Defense Of The Character Of Mrs. Hamlin Offered; Sister Says She Wrote Number On Card

(By The Associated Press)

PARWELL, Jan. 30.—The state offered testimony today in defense of the character of Mrs. George S. Hamlin, for whose slaying her husband is on trial for murder.

Mabel Hare, sister of the slain woman, said she and not Mrs. Hamlin wrote the Hamlin telephone number on a card previously offered in evidence by the defense.

J. R. Gilbert, cab driver, said the card was given to him by a woman he believed to have been Mrs. Hamlin. He said the woman asked him to assist her in making dates with strangers.

Gave Card To Driver

Miss Hare said she gave the card to a taxi driver with instructions to call the number and arrange to take two nieces from the Hamlin home to her mother's residence. She said the Hamlin telephone was busy at that time and she did not have time to wait. She said the card was taken from Mrs. Hamlin's purse, which she had picked up inadvertently instead of her own.

The state renewed its attack on the defense insanity plea with the testimony of two other witnesses who said they believed Hamlin sane.

Great Rush To Buy Poll Taxes Being Expected With Midnight As Deadline

ONE OF the greatest rushes to buy poll taxes ever experienced in Lubbock county is expected today, as the midnight deadline nears.

Prediction that the county may reassume its position of having more eligible voters than any other in the Panhandle-Plains was made, when a check showed Lubbock leading Potter county for receipts issued. At the same time, exemption certificates here totaled almost the number issued there.

"I expect from 7,500 to 8,000 receipts to have been issued when this office closes," said Hurley Carpenter, assessor-collector.

Complete check on volume of receipts was not available Thursday night since reports for that day's sales had not been received from Slaton or from Idalou.

"The total to date will be approximately 5,900, however," said Carpenter.

This county in 1928 surpassed the eligible voting strength of all other Panhandle-Plains

Warnings For Children And Parents Made

Dangerous Traffic Hazard Has Developed As A Result Of Snow; Sleds Behind Cars Offering Menace

Warning to parents and to children against a suddenly-developed traffic hazard was sounded Thursday afternoon by City, county and state authorities.

Lubbock youth in large numbers have found they can rig up a house ladder and be towed at the end of a 20- or a 30-foot rope tied to an automobile.

Will File Charges

"No more dangerous practice has been discovered by the state highway patrol than that practice," said Jack Reaves, state patrolman.

"We will be forced to file charges against drivers of such automobiles," said W. E. Renfrow, another state patrolman.

"The police would like to appeal to the judgment of those responsible," said C. E. Luce, City recorder. "I almost ran over one of those sleds last night."

Riders Were Fortunate

"I've noticed no more dangerous traffic practice," said Deputy Sheriff Bedford Carpenter. "Sleds were being drawn here during the last snow. I believe riders were fortunate that no serious accidents happened."

All authorities were inclined to "appeal to the judgment of those guilty and to that of parents."

"With the snow and slush on the ground, and with memory of six deaths on the South Plains since Sunday—all resulting from traffic accidents, most drivers appear to be driving more careful," said Luce, "but the most careful motorist might be the person who would fail to see a sled trailing 20 or 30 feet behind another car. At intersections or even on straight, level stretches, there is great danger—and horrible accidents are threatened."

FDR Observes 54th Birthday

Coordinated Effort in Fight Against Infantile Paralysis Asked By President In Talk To Dance Crowds

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. — Calling for a coordinated national effort in the fight against infantile paralysis, President Roosevelt, on the occasion of his 54th birthday, tonight spoke his appreciation of the thousands of celebrations to raise funds for this end.

Interrupting near midnight his own anniversary party with his "old gang" at the White House, the president delivered a brief radio address. His words were carried to what officials estimated were 6,000 birthday balls at which 5,000,000 men and women danced from coast to coast.

Parties At Height

Parties were reaching their height, Mrs. Roosevelt was completing her round of the six separate celebrations here when the executive, sitting in his study, bespoke aid for and coordination among those carrying "the brunt of caring for several hundred thousand of the afflicted."

"No single agency," he said, "whether it be the doctor, the hospital, the research laboratory can cope individually with this great problem—we can do it only by joining our efforts."

Then, after "re-dedicating" the Warm Springs foundation in Georgia "to the task which lies ahead," he concluded:

"You have made me very happy—

State Police Are To Renew Investigation

Hoffman Declares That There Is Abundant Evidence That Other Persons Participated In The Crime

Proof Is Offered

Officers Are Ordered To Report At Least Once Weekly On Progress; Attorney General Has No Comment

BY SAMUEL G. BLACKMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 30.—Governor Harold G. Hoffman ordered the New Jersey state police today to reopen their investigation of the kidnaping and slaying of the Lindbergh baby.

The chief executive, who defied threats of impeachment two weeks ago after granting Bruno Richard Hauptmann, convicted murderer of the child, a 30-day reprieve which saved him from execution the night of Jan. 17, told Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of the state police, by letter that Hauptmann's fate is "almost the least important feature of this case."

Abundant Evidence

"We can not accept any solution, that even by inference, is less than complete," he wrote, adding there is "abundant evidence that other persons participated in the crime."

In support of his belief the governor attached to the letter "incontrovertible proof" that others were involved.

He pointed to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's own statements, made before the Bronx county grand jury and to Inspector Harry W. Walsh of Jersey City, that he had seen another man, besides the "John" who collected the $50,000 ransom, at St. Raymond's cemetery, the Bronx, on the night of April 2, 1932 when the money was paid.

Heard Another Voice

He dealt at length also with Dr. John F. Condon's statements and to his recent magazine articles in which the elderly educator said he heard the voice of a second man at the other end of the telephone the night of March 11, 1932, when he first made telephonic communication with the kidnaper.

The law enforcement agencies have no reason to regard the case as closed, he wrote, and followed this with orders to Schwarzkopf that the state police report "at least once weekly" the progress of their investigation and that of coordinating agencies.

Attorney Gen. David T. Wilentz said he will confer with Schwarzkopf tomorrow.

Other Important Points

Other points in the investigation, held important by the governor and emphasized by him in his

Hitler Warns All Powers Of World

BERLIN, Jan. 30. (AP)—Adolf Hitler, standing bare-headed to review his three years of rule, warned potential enemies today, "we are no longer defenseless helots, but self-confident world citizens."

"We can review the past proudly but our goal is not yet reached," said Hitler, on the third anniversary of his chancellorship. "Fighting and sacrifice remain before us."

"We seek peace because we love it, but we insist on our honor because we do not live without it.

"Whoever believes he can deal with us as slaves will find we are the most obstinate people imaginable."

Rising Surge Of Trade For Texas Cities Being Noted

AUSTIN, Jan. 30 (AP)—University of Texas business statisticians today reported a rising surge of trade in December which indicated a definite upward phase had been attained.

Fifty-Five Children Of Fifth Grade Appear On Lubbock Woman's Club Program

The Woman's Angle

BY MARGARET TURNER
Woman's Editor

SOMETIMES we wonder if it is of any use to warn children and parents about the dangers of slippery streets. It's like the old preacher who scolded his flock for not going to church. Those present did not need it and the others were not there to hear. Cautious parents will be cautious anyway and the trusting kind will go on thinking that nothing can happen to their child. Just the other children who are playing in the street will be in danger, they think.

Nothing is more pathetic than to hear a child begging to be allowed to play in the snow. Who doesn't remember the thrill that comes from making snow men and staging battles? There is no thrill equal to that of playing in the crisp, cold air and certainly nothing more healthful, if it is not overdone, but the street is no place for children to gather.

PROVIDING PLAYGROUNDS

IN SOME cities certain streets may be roped off and forbidden the motorist, or tracks made in parks where sport is comparatively safe. There are, of course, places to skate but usually they are either too far for the average youngster to reach, or indoors where admission makes it prohibitive.

ARE THEY LAZY?

WE see nothing to prevent residents from brushing snow off the sidewalks in front of their homes, but up to late Thursday afternoon there were many places where walking was a dangerous procedure. Here again we remember that in cities there are ordinances making it imperative that sidewalks be brushed clean, not only in front of the homes, but in the back yard, where service people walk.

We don't have many snows out here, but even so we believe they are often enough for pedestrians to be allowed the pleasure of walking home without danger of breaking a leg. Let's sweep.

THE TELEPHONE CALLS

ONE evening recently, during a regular "Amos and Andy" radio broadcast, Amos telephoned his sweetheart, Ruby Taylor, at Richmond, Va., as part of the skit. During the half hour following the broadcast, approximately 150 people telephoned the number Amos used in putting through the imaginary call, not realizing that telephone numbers used in radio sketches are "dead" numbers; that is numbers not in active circulation, which are supplied for just such purposes by the telephone company.

The calls made by people who thought they would be "smart" and talk to Ruby Taylor were received by operators in Richmond known as intercepting operators, who told persons that called that there was no such number.

One thing about the great American public that is hard for us to explain is its gullibility about such matters. Can you picture the thousands that sit by their radios each Sunday night ready to leap to the 'phone to call in their choice of amateurs? Why?

EATING PROPER FOODS

A BALTIMORE nutrition worker made the rounds of cafeterias watching girls choose their meals. She found them selecting meals like these:

Meat pie, stewed tomatoes, white muffins or corn beef hash, mashed potatoes, succotash, cornbread, bread, butter. One girl was eating meat pie, raised biscuits, potato salad and coffee and another had selected beef croquette, mashed potatoes, stewed tomatoes, bread and butter.

Not one of these girls had ordered a well balanced meal. Everyone of them lacked milk or fresh vegetables. Nowadays it is wise to emphasize salads, because they mean herbs, lettuce, celery and frequently, in addition, fruits such as grapefruit, orange, apple or banana.

OTHERS AT FAULT

HOWEVER, cafeteria and cafe patrons are not the only people who eat unbalanced diets; many farm people also do, the investigator found. Worst diet conditions were found on southern farms. It was discovered that many farmers who had cows sold their milk and butter while their families lived for more than half a year on bread, hominy, rice, potatoes, and syrup with some form of salt pork.

This is one big item that Miss Norfleet Grimes and her assistant, Miss Gladys Sanders, stress when meeting with Lubbock county home demonstration club women: The necessity of selecting diets to provide food essentials for the family. They are learning that it is better to eat the vegetables that they raise and preserve the family health, than to sell these foods and buy other comestibles in the stores. That fourth word back there (a three dollar one) means anything fit to be eaten.

ON THE BAH-DEE-O

MISS MARY SEARS, society editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, will comment on the Lubbock Junior Welfare league on the WBAP Texas society hour at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon. Listen in.

The firing of the "Nine O'clock Gun" at Portsmouth, Va., is a survival of ante-bellum days when negroes were not allowed on the streets after 9 p. m. and were thus summoned to their quarters.

Education Is Meeting Topic

Mesdames George Berry And O. D. Elliott Make Talks At Session In Seaman Hall On Thursday Afternoon

A school program was given at a meeting of Lubbock Woman's club at Seaman hall Thursday afternoon. A feature was the following series of songs by 55 fifth grade pupils from Junior high school, who sang under direction of Mrs. O. D. Elliott:

"Texas Our Texas" which is to be sung by a large chorus of Texas children at the opening of the Centennial celebration in Dallas; "Juanita" and "Sing a Song When You're Happy", and "They Danced the Minuet" and "Billy Boy." The groups of songs were announced by little Dorothy Sue Standefer who gave a brief history of the songs in each. Piano accompaniment was by Mrs. Carl Willingham.

The children belong to the girl's and boys' glee clubs, consisting of 72 pupils, at their school.

Mrs. George S. Berry discussed development of state supported colleges and universities of Texas and Mrs. Elliott talked on "Development of Public Schools," stressing music in the new curriculum.

The program was opened with Mrs. W. B. Yeager, leader, giving Centennial and current news items, a regular feature of this year's program.

Home Life Is Now Modified

New Changes In Habits Being Seen By Italians As Result Of Sanctions Imposed By League Of Nations

BY CHARLES H. GUPTILL

ROME, Jan. 30. (AP) — Sanctions imposed by the League of Nations have modified conspicuously the home life of Italy.

There probably are few families which do not recognize every day some new change in their habits and customs which with varying degrees of bitterness they ascribe to "sanctions."

"Continuous hours" designed to save office light and fuel compel the breadwinners to appear at their work at 9 a. m., somewhat early for the average Italian. The two hour "siesta" has been replaced by one hour for lunch, but the day's work is ended at 4 p. m.

School Children Happy

The younger children may look upon sanctions with a less jaundiced eye than their elders. Elementary school hours were reduced to three daily and run from 10 o'clock to one.

Family entertainment has been restricted or rearranged. Theaters begin their performances early so as to close by 11 p. m. This means an earlier night meal which many an Italian dislikes, for he traditionally is a late diner.

After the theater the trip homeward is made through streets in semi-darkness. Public illumination is cut in half at 10:30 p. m.

Many of the cafes and bars which formerly provided Rome's somewhat conservative "night life" are closed and their lights extinguished before midnight.

Sunday Auto Rides Stopped

The Sunday automobile ride has been eliminated for most families by gasoline at $1.15 a gallon. A few motorists have installed charcoal burners in their autos, which, while expensive to purchase, are extraordinarily economical to operate.

Another diversion, the Sunday "popular trains," of which many a middle class family took advantage, has been banished. These low priced excursions which Mussolini introduced to familiarize Italians with their own country were abolished along with half-a-hundred other trains when schedules were curtailed to save fuel.

The newspaper the Italian reads today is smaller—reduced to six pages to conserve newsprint which Italy imports.

The wedding rings Italians wear, if they are loyal, are iron, replacing the gold ones they gave to the country.

Women Fight Sanctions

The women in particular are earnest in their insistence that only Italian or non-sanctionist products shall come into the home. Their fervor is reinforced constantly by flaming "buy Italian" and "destroy sanctions" posters displayed throughout the kingdom and by an unceasing propaganda campaign in the newspapers.

The stone-walled and stone-floored houses which Italians inhabit are colder than usual this winter.

"Sanctions" is the invariable excuse for chilly rooms. There is, however, sometimes occasion to believe that for many an apartment house owner or hotel proprietor "sanctions" is merely a handy euphemism for thriftiness.

Argentine Federal Edict Has Halted Inter-City Auto War

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 30. (AP) — An automobile license war between Buenos Aires and some of its suburbs caused so many bad tempers that the federal ministry of the interior had to intervene.

Several of the suburban governments, waiting until the city had fixed the rates for automobile licenses, offered tags at cut rates, specifying that car owners didn't have to live in the suburbs.

City police started arresting drivers of cars showing the cut-rate plates. The mayor of Merlo, was arrested and fined. Suburban police started arresting drivers of cars from Buenos Aires. Melo's campaign was most vigorous.

Leopoldo Melo, minister of the interior, put a stop to it with an edict that the Argentine constitution provides free transit, and policemen making arrests in the "license tag war" would be subject to prosecution for false imprisonment.

Toasting Their Success In Song

Relative newcomers in Flickerland, yet they're scaling the heights of Hollywood success. That may explain the jubilation of Jan Kiepura, right, and charming Marta Eggerth, European songbird to whom Jan apparently is chanting a paean of triumph. Since their 'teens, they've starred in opera on the continent. Now they're making their mark in movietown—and denying they're engaged. The cameraman snapped this picture at Mary Pickford's party the other night.

Followers Of Talmadge Seeking Plan To Further Him As A Demo Candidate

BY W. F. CALDWELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

MACON, Ga., Jan. 30.—Followers of Gov. Eugene Talmadge sought a plan today to further him as a Democratic presidential possibility on the strength of the Grass Roots rally which invited him to become a candidate.

"We are trying to work out some practical plan to put Gene before the American people," said Hugh Howell, chairman of the Georgia state Democratic committee.

"The southern committee to uphold the constitution will carry on to that end."

Few Were Present

Critics of Talmadge's opposition to the renomination of President Roosevelt, however, pointed out that only about a fourth as many persons attended the convention as had been expected by its sponsors.

The convention hall manager estimated 2,400 persons attended the rally yesterday. John Henry Kirby, wealthy Texas lumberman, who sponsored it with Talmadge, had predicted 10,000 would be present. The organizers later blamed inclement weather for keeping down the size of the crowd.

Talmadge received the endorsement of the Anti-Roosevelt meeting on a resolution introduced by Howell. There was scattering opposition from out-of-state visitors.

C. B. Sheffield Is Named As Auditor

AUSTIN, Jan. 30. (AP)—Governor Allred today appointed C. B. Sheffield of Fort Worth to succeed Orville S. Carpenter as state auditor and efficiency expert effective Feb. 14.

Carpenter has been selected by the old age assistance commission to become director of pensions upon effectiveness of the law.

"Mr. Sheffield was not an applicant for this appointment," the governor said. "I have drafted him. He will assume the duties of office shortly."

Governor Allred also drafted Carpenter, formerly of Wichita Falls and Dallas, to become state auditor last Aug. 1, succeeding George B. Simpson, who held the office under appointment by former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.

Flood Survey In Texas Is Planned

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (AP)—Rep. Nat Patton of Crockett, Tex., said today he planned to introduce a bill tomorrow to authorize a $300,000 survey of flood control and water conservation possibilities in 32 East Texas counties on the watersheds of the Sabine and Neches rivers.

Representatives Morgan Sanders of Canton, Wright Patman of Texarkana, and Sam Rayburn of Bonham were assisting him in drafting the legislation. The army engineers would be authorized to make the preliminary investigation.

These East Texans also planned to ask the Public Works administration for the same amount, preparatory to filing an application for probably $30,000,000 for construction of five major dams and a dozen small reservoirs.

DOCTORS KNOW

Mothers read this:

A cleansing dose today; a smaller quantity tomorrow; less each time, until bowels need no help at all.

Why do people come home from a hospital with bowels working like a well-regulated watch?

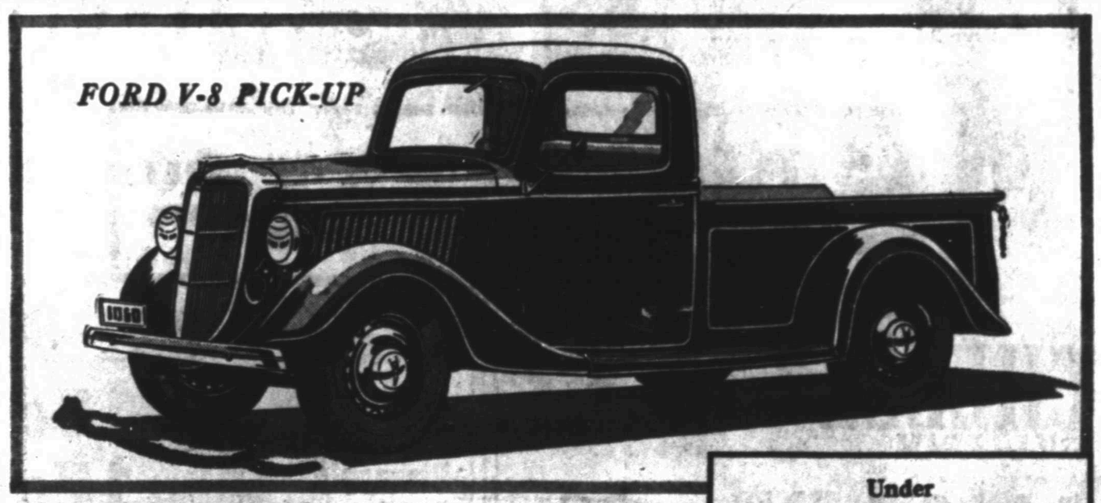

The answer is simple, and it's the answer to all your bowel worries if you will only realize it: many doctors and hospitals use liquid laxatives.

If you knew what a doctor knows, you would use only the liquid form. A liquid can always be taken in gradually reduced doses. Reduced dosage is the secret of any real relief from constipation.

Ask a doctor about this. Ask your druggist how very popular liquid laxatives have become. They give the right kind of help, and right amount of help. The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara — both natural laxatives that can form no habit, even in children. So, try Syrup Pepsin. You just take regulated doses till Nature restores regularity

Rum, Sugar And Tomatoes May Be Virgin Islands' New Deal

Rum Essentially Is Preferred To Commodities Expected To Draw Island For First Time From Economic Despond

BY SIGRID ARNE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (AP) — Rum, raw sugar and tomatoes—but mostly rum.

That is the recipe expected to pull the Virgin Islands out of the red for the first time in their history. The happy day is set five years hence by the division of islands and territories, department of interior.

In four months the ancient St. Croix rum will be back on the market at a reasonable price, government-produced. The New York market is soon to receive large shipments of Virgin Islands tomatoes. And throughout the year Virgin Islands raw sugar is sold under the quota allotted by the department of agriculture.

The three crops are returning money to the island population of 24,000 people who had reached more than a depression, the department says. It had reached "economic prostration:—the wheels had simply stopped going around—taxes were almost uncollectable — and deficits voted by congress for island administration had gone as high as $500,000 in a single year.

Deficits Reduced

In the last two years those deficits have been reduced $50,000, exclusive of emergency and relief funds. At the present rate, the interior department sees balanced books five years ahead. And the hope is that work will be plentiful enough to make emergency funds unnecessary.

Credit for the changing picture is awarded by the department to PWA funds and its rehabilitation program.

The islands had been in an economic decline almost from the day the United States purchased them in 1917, says the department. They were purchased from Denmark that year for $25,000,000. After the purchase Danish capital began a flight to other places, and the final death blow fell with the closing of the Bethlehem sugar mill on St. Croix. Three thousand acres of sugar fields "went back to bush" and hundreds of laborers were thrown out of work.

When PWA entered the picture, its officials saw a chance to use the islands' natural resources in a work program that would be continuous. It was decided to revive the ancient rum industry.

So the government purchased the old Bethlehem plant and acres for $1,000,000. Another $200,000 was allotted from the federal surplus-relief corporation to be used as working capital.

Workmen cleared the fields, planted cane, harvested it, and then turned to processing. Now the administration is also constructing a bottling plant. The manner in which the rum will be sold has not yet been determined. It will carry a label saying, "St. Croix rum, distilled by the Virgin Islands Co."

Meanwhile the natives, of whom 90 per cent are negroes, have been further aided by subsistence homestead projects. Government funds bought several large estates and broke them up into small tracts of from six to ten acres, building on them three-room concrete houses. Natives were permitted to purchase these homesteads on a 20-year payment plan.

They use the larger part of their land for raising sugar cane, and reserve about two acres for raising food for their own use.

More than 90 per cent of the homesteaders have remained up-to-date on their payments, the department reports.

Over Half Were On Relief

The program is proving its worth both economically and sociologically, interior department officials feel. Work projects are moving ahead to the place where the government may expect to "break even" on the expenses. Previous to the present program it is estimated more than 50 per cent of the islands' population was on relief rolls.

And further, the living standard of the islands is noticeably improving as the families move into adequate homes and increase and improve their table fare from the small farming plots.

Evidence In Case Sought By Jurors

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30. (AP)—The San Francisco grand jury demanded today that evidence in the Ann Cooper Hewitt sterilization case be laid before it so the jury can decide whether criminal charges should be issued.

The question of issuing warrants against three defendants in Miss Hewitt's $500,000 damage suit is being considered by Municipal Judge Sylvain Lazarus.

It was left up to him in an unusual procedure after Miss Hewitt refused to sign criminal charges and the district attorney's office declined to take the case before the grand jury without her signature.

Miss Hewitt's civil suit charges her mother, Mrs. Maryon Hewitt McCarter, Dr. Samuel G. Boyd and Dr. Tilton E. Tillman conspired to sterilize her so the mother could profit from a trust fund left by the girl's father. Mrs. Marie S. Scally, psyehiatrist who said Miss Hewitt was mentally only 11 years old, also is a defendant.

Crosby Affair To Be Staged

Texas Centennial Celebration In Crosby County Is To Be Sponsored By Teachers; Big Program Planned

RALLS, Jan. 30 (Special) — Crosby County Teachers association planned a county-wide Texas Centennial celebration for San Jacinto day when members met at Ralls High school Monday night.

Included in the observation will be a grand parade, dinner spread on the public square, and a county-wide music gathering; possibly a speech on "What It Means to Be a Texan," historical picture show, Texas history pageant contest, and some form of coronation ceremony.

Will Work Out Program

Teachers of respective schools will work out their share of the program. A committee, representative of various sections of the county, was appointed: M. L. Kelly of Leatherwood, chairman, R. L. Orman of Crosbyton, R. McDearmon of Lorenzo, D. G. Lewis of Ralls, Oscar Croson of Robertson, W. R. Dunlap of Canyon Valley, F. O. London of Kalgary, A. N. Boyd of Emma, and C. G. Rankin of Cone.

Several thousand children probably will be in the parade, enlisted from the 22 schools.

Schools To Have Floats

Each school and organization of the county will be requested to enter a float depicting some scene in Texas history, and the best float will be awarded a prize. All county officers will be asked to join the parade, as will fraternal, civic, denominational, musical, and other groups. Attempt to influence cooperation of every resident will be made.

In the music program, songs that link with the state music program will be sung.

Out of a total of 102 teachers in the county, 59 attended the Monday session. Big Four, Canyon Valley, Cap Rock, Fairview, Farmer, Wake, Leatherwood, New Home, and Robertson had 100 per cent attendance of faculty members.

Seek Library Interest

Further stimulation of a county teachers professional library was asked, through contribution of books dating no further back than 1930, or through membership dues. County Superintendent R. H. Nowlin stressed possibilities of competition in a Walter Woodul essay contest in county history.

In an effort to centralize work of the association, primary, elementary and high school groups were organized. They are headed, respectively, by Mrs. Rankin, Boyd, and D. G. Lewis of Ralls.

Officers of the association are: President, Kelly; vice president, H. L. Williams of League 4; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Adams of Robertson. The executive committee is composed of Kelly, Lee Smith of Crosbyton, L. M. Boyd of Owens, E. C. Caldwell of Farmer, and Mrs. Rankin.

After the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Kelly.

Laboratory experiments designed to produce glass for the manufacture of razor blades are being conducted by a European firm.

Ruling Given On Fee Cases

County Attorneys Are Claimed Not Entitled To Fees When Defendant Lays Out His Assessed Fine In Jail

AUSTIN, Jan. 30. (AP) — The attorney general's department held today that county attorneys were not entitled to fees where a defendant laid out a fine in jail.

An opinion by Joe Alsup, assistant, said "we have failed to find any statute authorizing the county attorney to collect a fee if the defendant in a misdemeanor case elects to lay his fine out in jail, and thence conclude he is not entitled to any such fee."

Opinion Is Given

The opinion recited that a criminal code article provided the county should be liable to an officer or witness having costs in a misdemeanor case for one-half where the defendant satisfied the fine and cost by labor in a work house, on the county farm, on the public roads, or upon any public works of the county.

Alsup held that article was "only applicable to counties wherein the prisoners are required to labor in a work house or on a county farm," in which case "the attorney would be entitled to a fee." In the absence of such a work house or farm, he said, "we do not feel they are entitled to such."

The opinion noted another article provided district and county attorneys for cases tried in district or county courts, or a county court at law, should be allowed fees "to be taxed against the defendant." The fee for a plea of guilty case before a justice was $5 and on conviction after a plea of not guilty, $10.

The ruling was interpreted as possibly affecting salaries which could be paid some county attorneys under the officers salary act.

It specified the minimum salary for a certain group, including county attorneys, should be "the total sum earned as compensation" in 1935, and the top "not more than the maximum amount allowed such officer under laws existing Aug. 24, 1935," with certain exceptions.

In San Angelo, Representative O. C. Fisher, a former county attorney, said he intended to introduce a bill at the next legislative session restricting "earnings" to actual collections for the purpose of the new salary bill.

A father, a son and a grandson—all with the same name—Andrew Broaddus I, II, and III—served an unbroken pastorate at Salem church in Sparta, Va., for more than 100 years—1820 to 1926.

Using the choke burns up gasoline 5 to 15 TIMES FASTER

INSTANT STARTING with minimum choke and far less grinding of the starter! That's what you get every single time with Phillips 66 Poly Gas . . . the new kind of cost-cutting motor fuel.

It always has been the high-test headliner. Now it is even better than ever, because an added supply of heat units is crammed into every drop by the scientific POLYmerization process.

These extra B. T. U.'s bring you an important saving. This is why: With ordinary motor fuels, every time you use the choke for starting, or while the motor is cold and sputtering, you use up gasoline five to fifteen times faster than normal! Just think of the mileage thus wasted . . . of the drain on your battery . . . of the damage to your engine caused by dilution of the crankcase oil.

Remember, Phillips 66 Poly is the gas that lets you go easy on the choke. You probably do not care about the technicalities which created this amazing economy feature. But you can't help being interested in the cash money it saves you.

Phillips 66 Poly Gas costs no more than low-test motor fuels. So it's not much of a gamble to try a tankful. Do it today, or tomorrow at the latest. You will quickly feel the difference, and you will enjoy the super-performance and savings made possible by Phillips resources as world's largest producer of natural high test gasoline.

Add Safety to INSTANT STARTING

Play safe! Make sure that your motor oil begins to flow and goes to work the moment your motor starts. Unless you use a lubricant which remains perfectly fluid, even when the weather is way below freezing, there is more engine-wear in one week of cold-weather driving than in months of summer use. Phillips 66 Motor Oil is our finest quality. It is made specially engineered to meet your car maker's specifications.

Mrs. McNew's 16-year old daughter Inez and Jack Portlock, 24, were sentenced to five years on pleas of guilty to first degree manslaughter charges.

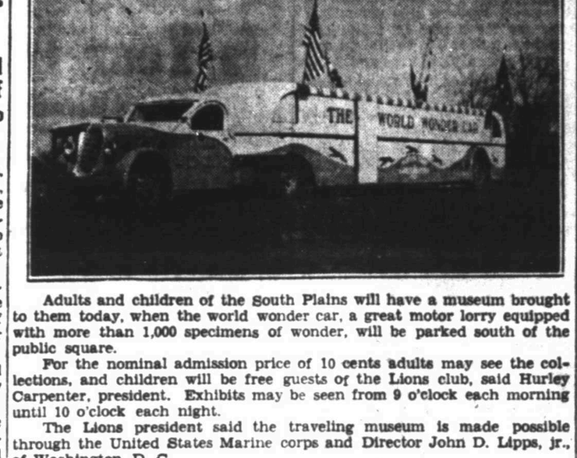

The sentences were recommended by Bascomb Coker, assistant county attorney.

The four were charged in the slaying of Omar McNew, 38, Battiest farmer, whose body was found Jan. 18 on a high mountain not far from where the McNews had pitched their tent home.

Coker reduced the charges against Inez McNew and Portlock at the last minute. They were charged with murder when arrested.

Burglaries In County Probed

At Least 20 Cases Of Homes Being Robbed And Of Petty Thefts Reported; Three Are Under Bond Here

The sheriff's department Thursday reported that as many as 20 burglaries and petty thefts were being investigated as a result of the arrest of two men and a woman here early this week.

A complaint charging Mrs. Ada Hood and Otis Savage, both of Lubbock, and Clarence Simpson, Levelland relief worker, with burglary has been filed in Justice of the Peace J. T. Trigg's court. Simpson is a son-in-law of Mrs. Hood.

Rural Residences Hit

Most of the burglaries which the sheriff's department was investigating were of rural residences. Cured meats, bed clothing, and similar articles were taken.

The complaint filed against the trio did not specify burglary of any one residence, but, it was said, was filed to give the officers additional time for investigation.

Statement Signed

Simpson, in a signed statement made to Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney, Thursday implicated Savage in the theft of articles from at least one Lubbock county residence.

Odds and ends recovered at Levelland Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Grady Harrist included a canary bird, and practically valueless sheets, shirts and towels.

The woman is under $500, the men $1,000 bond each. All principals were in custody.

Glen Putman, Recently Of Shallowater, Death Victim

Funeral rites were read at Hibbit, near Gainesville, Tuesday afternoon by Elder Chism for Glen Putman, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Putman, who until last Friday lived at Shallowater.

The youth died Sunday night of a malignant illness of two months. His death was not expected. The former junior student of Shallowater High school died at the home of an uncle, D. Majers.

Survivors are the parents, now of Gainesville, four sisters, Misses Gladys and Frances Putman of Gainesville, Mrs. L. R. McMahon of Matador, and Mrs. M. L. Hinson of Lubbock, and three brothers, Ralph of Gainesville, J. C. of Pilot Point, and Harold of Nocona.

James Moffett, Victim Of Collision, Buried Thursday

A blackened stump that had been James Moffett, 20, was buried Thursday afternoon after funeral services had been read at Sanders Funeral home. He and Mrs. V. H. Milligan, 36, perished when trapped in their flaming automobile late Tuesday after a collision on the Shallowater road. Mrs. Milligan was buried Wednesday.

Survivors of Moffett were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Moffett; seven sisters, Mrs. Etta Simons and Mrs. Blanche Ryan, Lubbock; Mrs. Idell Hall and Mrs. Alice Cooksey, Shallowater; Mrs. Ruby Spray, Matador, and Misses Emma and Naomi Moffett, and one brother, Leonard Moffett.

Y. D. Buckalew of Carlsbad, N. M., had not posted $1,000 bond in connection with a charge of negligent homicide and driving while intoxicated, growing out of the collision. Mrs. Buckalew remained in Lubbock sanitarium, where she probably will be several days for treatment of bruises.

LET KIDNEYS FLUSH OUT 3 LBS. A DAY
Clean Out 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes
Nature put over 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters in your kidneys to strain the waste matter out of the blood. Kidneys should pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.
When the passing of water is scanty, with smarting and burning, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.
If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your body may take up some of these poisons causing serious trouble. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and help the kidneys to flush out 3 pounds a day. Insist on Doan's Pills.

Farmers Plan Program Here

Lubbock County Men Vote To Raise Funds To Be Represented At Any Meeting; To Have Waco Delegation

Lubbock county farmers yesterday afternoon, after hearing Cliff H. Day, vice president of the Texas Agricultural association explain the present farm relief situation, voted to raise funds to be represented at any state or district meetings of farmers. At the same time they voted to send a representative delegation to a state-wide meeting in Waco Saturday.

Nine farmers agreed to make the trip to Waco, starting today. R. E. Overstreet will drive a car leaving today and R. L. Hooten, Shallowater, is to leave at midnight. In the party will be: C. R. Kincade, R. L. Hooten, Henry Mahoney, Bob Crump, H. A. Cooper, R. E. Overstreet, V. C. Snodgrass, Will Grimes and A. B. Allen.

Another May Go

Another car may also make the trip, Mr. Mahoney, chairman of the county farm association, said after the meeting. Mr. Mahoney presided at the session, held in the district courtroom.

On motion it was decided to assess each land owner who is a member of a community organization, one cent per acre for each acre in cultivation. This would bring into the county farm group between $4,000 and $4,500 in the event all farmers paid up their pledges.

Mr. Day, a Hale county farmer who had three AAA contracts and who was on the cotton advisory board, discussed the situation as he saw it on his recent trip to Washington. He was one of 100 agricultural leaders, all "dirt farmers," who were called into conference with President Roosevelt and AAA leaders. Substitute legislation for the AAA, recently held unconstitutional by the supreme court, is yet under discussion.

Opponents On Job

Opponents of the AAA and other governmental relief programs are on the job in Washington, he said. "Farmers should stay there to see that the bill they want is put through," he said. He criticized the opponents of the processing tax for bringing suit to stop payment, resulting in a decision by the higher court, as well as the Liberty league, whom he charged, had "fifty lawyers," to oppose the Roosevelt program.

"If we are going to have an agricultural program we ought to be the ones to see that it gets going," he added.

Mr. Day urged community and county agricultural groups to cooperate in a farm program. He likewise urged farmers to write their congressmen about what they thought congress should enact into legislation for farm programs.

On motion by R. L. Hooten, Shallowater, a telegram was to be drafted for Congressman George Mahon, urging opposition to an impeachment of Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace. Nearly $6 was raised to pay for the telegram.

MILLIONS now know the smart thing is to carry a roll of Tums, always. Heartburn, gas, and other symptoms of acid indigestion have a habit of occurring at unexpected times. You don't have to drench your stomach with harsh alkalies which physicians have long warned may make the tendency toward acid indigestion worse. Tums, a real scientific advancement, contain no soda or other alkalies. Instead a wonderful antacid that simply neutralizes stomach acidity, the balance passing out of the body inert. Pleasant to eat as candy. Only 10c a roll. Put a roll in your pocket now.

Reorganization Of Salvation Army's Advisory Board Is Announced In City

Reorganization of the Salvation Army's advisory board, made at a recent meeting in the Hotel Lubbock, was announced yesterday by Durwood H. Bradley. At the same time a citizens committee, to work with the board for the benefit of the army, was named.

New members of the board were selected by a nominating committee, as follows: Dr. H. H. Bidwell, Mrs. G. W. Scott, Mrs. Fred Higbee, Mrs. W. H. McDonald, Mrs. W. B. Price, Sam Rosenthal, Rev. W. R. Vivrett and J. I. Kilpatrick. Seven holdover members are: E. A. Patterson, Durwood H. Bradley, Dr. J. W. Rollo, Riley F. Huie, A. F. Holt, Paul Hardwick and E. Kancher. Members of the nominating committee were: Mrs. G. W. Scott, George Berry and Dr. J. W. Rollo.

Committee Chosen

On the "citizens' committee" will be: C. A. Sanford, chairman; George Berry, secretary; Hurley Carpenter, W. O. Daniels, J. Ray Dickey, Mrs. J. T. Baisden, Mrs. C. E. Dawson, Mrs. John D. Mitchell, Mrs. J. O. Ellsworth, Mrs. Irving Jones, Miss Delia Wilkinson, Mrs. Waldo Trotter, Spencer A. Wells, Kenneth E. Oberholtzer, Dr. Allen T. Stewart, L. C. McClurkin, C. H. Grollman, H. C. Pender, Dan A. Blair, Joseph R. Griggs, Neil H. Wright, Olen Stewart, Morris Levine, Ed Allen, Gerald E. Damewood, Wyatt L. Hester, C. C. Lindsey, George W. Dupree, R. F. Bayless, E. J. Parsons, Hal Grady, Dennis E. Kemp, A. R. Dalby, Dr. M. H. Benson, Judge E. L. Pitts and Rev. Jack M. Lewis.

Chairman Bradley of the advisory board, asked Captain John G. Churchill to explain the constitution and by-laws. It was decided to have fifteen members of the board. The board also decided on asking members of the citizens' committee to meet with the board at all meetings.

Outgoing Members

Outgoing members of the advisory board are: Neil H. Wright, Wiley Metcalf, Dr. Bradford Knapp, C. C. Lindsey, Olen Stewart, Parker F. Prouty and Dan Blair.

"The Salvation Army advisory board system, inaugurated in 1919, has become an increasingly important factor in the progress of the movement throughout the country," Captain Churchill said in a discussion of the board's activities. "The interest, influence, advice and practical backing of the representative citizens comprising these boards, has been invaluable to the Army. The constitution of the Salvation Army for advisory boards, has recently come under careful review by our executive officers in conference, and, as now revised and issued is, we believe, in harmony with our present day needs and requirements. The Salvation army owes a debt of gratitude to those who have served as board members and we look forward to days of greater usefulness in cooperation with them."

DAMAGE CAUSED

KERRVILLE, Jan. 30. (AP)—Fire caused damage estimated at about $2,000 at the large Schreiner wool warehouse in the heart of the Kerrville business district. Cause of the blaze was not determined.

The two-story stone building, largely fireproof, was empty and no insurance was carried on it.

Plaques Are Presented To Students By Business Club

Miss Ruth Craig, representing the Business and Professional Women's club, presented three plaques on vocational guidance to Senior High school students yesterday afternoon at assembly. Miss Betty Blankenbeckler accepted the gift, thanking the organization. Russell Love, president of the student council, presided over the program.

Preceding the presentation Miss Craig talked to the students, pointing out that eight things, tolerance, courage, persistence, perfection, virtue, self-esteem, sense of humor, and zest for life, were helpful in attaining the vocation each student desired.

Bob Robertson, business manager of "The 1936 Westerner" introduced representatives of each group in school, who made for the school annual. Those making speeches were M. E. Witt, head of the chemistry, Miss Nannie Margaret Overton, editor of the annual, and the three class presidents, Miss Jane Priciett, Othie Upton, and Baxter Bardwell.

HERE ARE THE REAL FACTS ABOUT BRAN

Brought Out by Tests with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Some years ago, there was considerable difference of opinion regarding the use of bran. So to discover the actual facts of the case, the Kellogg Company asked for a series of laboratory tests at leading universities.

Experimental studies on a group of healthy women showed that the continued use of bran was thoroughly satisfactory. Unlike cathartics, it did not lose its effect.

Other independent tests on men indicated that, with certain people, the "bulk" in bran was more effective than that found in fruits and vegetables.

Laboratory analysis proved that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplied vitamin B and iron as well as plenty of bulk. This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle in action. It absorbs a great deal of moisture, and cleanses the intestinal tract.

ALL-BRAN corrects constipation due to insufficient "bulk." It is the natural way—far better than using pills and tablets.

Serve as a cereal—or use in cooking. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Relief Rolls Are All Large

Hopkins Estimates Number On Rolls Now Almost As Bulky As A Year Ago; Some Progress Is Reported

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (AP) — Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, estimates dole and work relief rolls are nearly as bulky now as a year ago, when an all-time relief population peak of 20,000,000 was reached.

Hopkins was reported to have told a group of Democratic senators yesterday at Majority Leader Robinson's office that while there had been a "slight improvement," the burden remained about the same.

Senator Schwellenbach (D-Wash) said he arranged the conference to discuss the general relief situation with Hopkins.

One of the subjects under discussion was the requirement that 90 per cent of those given WPA jobs be taken direct from the relief rolls. Some of the conferees were said to have expressed opposition to this rule on the ground that many needy persons had been too proud to go on the dole. The majority, however, agreed, it was reported, that the rule favored by Hopkins, should be continued.

Four Persons Are Held By Officers

JOPLIN, Mo., Jan. 30. (AP)—Four persons, including a convict's 14-year old wife, were held in jail here today on charges of harboring an escaped federal prisoner.

The four, Oren Hess, 42, Amey Hess, 41, Helen Hess, 17, and Evelyn Hess Sprigg, 14, wife of Rural Sprigg, who was captured in Kansas City last week after breaking jail in Caddo parish, Louisiana, were arrested at a farmhouse near Waco, Mo., late yesterday.

Earl Caldwell, deputy United States marshal, said that the four told him that they had been forced by Sprigg to accompany him from Louisiana and that, while they knew that he was an escaped prisoner, they were afraid to report to authorities because of his threats.

FORMER RANGER FREED

BENAVIDES, Jan. 30. (AP)—J. M. Robbins, a former Texas ranger, was acquitted today by a Duval county jury at San Diego on a charge of theft of furniture valued at $3,000.

Robbins was arrested at Floresville Jan. 18 and charged with theft. Later he was released on $500 bond.

Tulane Selects Red Dawson, Former Star, To Replace Ted Cox As Head Coach

Dawson Brings 4 New Helpers To Green Wave

Minnesota Line Coach Returns To Alma Mater With Seidel, Bevan, Dauber And Rucker As Assistant Coaches

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 30.—A new slate of coaches will handle the football destinies of Tulane university.

Lowell Dawson, better known as "Red," former Tulane quarterback and for the last four years Bernie Bierman's chief assistant at Minnesota, will come to Tulane as head coach, replacing Ted Cox, Dawson's former coach, who was removed after the last football season by the athletic council.

Dawson will bring with him Glenn Seidel, last year's Minnesota captain and quarterback, as Tulane backfield coach and William Bevan, star guard of Minnesota's unbeaten 1934 team, as line coach. Last year Bevan was line coach at Iowa State Teacher's college.

Ray Dauber, present Tulane freshman coach formerly of Mississippi State, will be the end coach and Charles Rucker, former star tackle of Tulane, will be the new freshman coach.

Cox Definitely Out

The appointment of the new coaches means that both Cox and his first assistant, Lester Lautenschlaeger, will be dropped as Tulane football coaches. They have contracts for two more years but it is likely they will seek other coaching connections. At present Cox is in negotiation with Oklahoma A. and M. If he gets that job, Lautenschlaeger may go with him.

Under the head coachship of Bernie Bierman, Cox and Lautenschlaeger aided in building the great football teams put out by Tulane. In 1931, Bierman's last year at Tulane, the Wave played in the Rose Bowl with Dawson at Quarterback. Cox and Lautenschlaeger successfully coached Tulane's 1934 squad that won the inaugural game in New Orleans Sugar Bowl against Temple.

Par Suffers As Golfers Warm Up In Avalon Joust

AVALON, Calif., Jan. 30. (AP) — Fred Morrison of Pasadena, Calif., and Ted Longworth, Portland, Ore., led the first round of play today in the Santa Catalina Island $5,000 open golf tournament with 60, six under par.

The veteran Walter Hagen of Detroit, trailed one stroke behind.

Still another stroke back were four "dark horse" entrants, young Jack Grout, Fort Worth, Tex.; Art Straub, Brielle, N. J.; diminutive Torchy Toda from Japan, and Paul Jopes of La Habra, Calif.

Twenty-eight golfers in all, most of them comparatively "unknowns" cracked par in the first round play.

Champion Needs 67

Nationally famous pro stars, unable to meet the short game required, failed to land in the charmed sub-par class. Horton Smith, Chicago, and Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., turned in 63's. Paul Runyan, White Plains, N. Y., Wiffy Cox, Bethesda, Mo., and Willie Hunter, Culver City, winner of the San Francisco open match play tournament, were a stroke back. Johnny Dawson, crack Chicago amateur, eased under the wire with a 65, along with Ray Mangrum, Pittsburgh, to complete the list of prominents in the better-than-66 group.

Harry Cooper, Chicago veteran, Willie Goggin, San Francisco, Vic Ghezzi, Deal, N. J., Jimmy Hines, Garden City, Long Island, Bill Mehlhorn, Louisville and Sam Parks, jr., National Open champion, needed 67 to get around.

Visitor Here

Jack Knott, above, pitcher for the St. Louis Browns, and Mrs. Knott arrived here yesterday to spend the week-end as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam West. Knott, who won 11 games and lost 8 last season, returned his signed contract early this week.

Brown Hurler Is Guest Here

Jack Knott Pleased With New Contract, Already Returned To St. Louis; Visiting With Sam West Here

His 1936 berth with the Browns assured, his signed contract already filed in the St. Louis office, Jack Knott, right-handed hurler for the House of Hornsby, rests easier this week.

Knott mailed his contract, celebrated its acceptance by motoring, with Mrs. Knott, to Lubbock yesterday for a weekend visit with Mr. and Mrs. Sam West, with nothing to worry about now except the prospect of serving up curves to the Jimmy Foxxes, Al Simmonses, Buddy Myers, Hank Greenbergs, etc., of the Tigers, White Sox, Senators, et al, of the American League.

Baseball is off his mind this winter, although Knott keeps in shape with plenty of physical maneuvering, and his problems now are connected with turning out good jobs for Uncle Sam.

Winter-Time Job

Knott won't admit to being on the relief role, but is proud of his building job in the federal Public Works administration. He is stationed at Brownwood, where he usually spends the winters although his home is at Dallas, and has been busy building stadiums and playgrounds this winter. Has a responsible office in the government project.

Twenty-eight years old, 6 feet, 2 inches high and 200 pounds heavy, Knott, a major leaguer since he went up from Milwaukee to the Browns in 1933, believes he has a lot of pitching yet to do in the American League. The Browns exercised their option after Knott won 17 games for the Brewers in 1932. In 1934, he won 10 for the Hornsby men. He won 11 last season, and thinks he can beat that in 1936.

Knott agrees that the Tigers will be hard to displace as league champions, that the Red Sox will be considerably tougher but maybe not tough enough, that the Yanks and Cleveland also will be in the race, but that "we're hardly championship calibre yet."

The big pitcher started professional ball at Corsicana, worked one season for Dallas in the Texas League, served in the Coast League for the Missions, played part of a season with Palestine, back to the Missions then to the Milwaukee Brewers in 1931. Two seasons there and the Browns took him.

"Take Off The Armor," Urges Brown Mentor

Another Coach Suggests Rule Change; Tuss McLaughry In Favor Of Lessening Heavy Protective Equipment

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 30. (AP)—On his way to Pittsburgh for a pow-wow with fellow coaches on the gridiron rules, D. O. (Tuss) McLaughry, Brown's head man and president of the American Football Coaches' association, today suggested the rules makers ban all "hard protective equipment."

"This may sound strange but it is my conviction we would decrease injuries by doing away with the so-called 'armour' with which players are equipped now adays," said McLaughry. "The situation now is that we have coaches and trainers outdoing each other in outfitting the boys with protective padding that actually increases the scrimmage hazards.

16 Changes Proposed

"Other sports, including soccer football and Lacrosse, involve much of the same rugged type of play and body contact as American football —except for the blocking—but you rarely have serious injuries in them."

The coaches will debate the results of a nation-wide questionnaire on 16 proposed changes in the gridiron code but McLaughry anticipates few, if any majority recommendations for vital changes. The coaches already have voiced the proposal for a new scoring system, including award of a point for each first down. They also are against restoration of the goal posts to the goal line.

Pass Interference

One of the proposed changes of greatest interest is that affecting the penalty for interference with a pass receiver. Agitation for a less severe penalty grew rapidly after the "break" which gave Notre Dame the ball at Army's goal line, on a disputed decision, last November. Many coaches feel a definite penalty of 15 yards would be fairer than the present rule, under which the offensive team gets automatic possession of the ball at the point where the foul occurred.

Recommendations of the coaches on this or any other rules subject will be passed on to the National Collegiate A. A. rules committee, the gridiron law-making body, which meets in Palm Springs, Calif. Feb. 14-16.

Zuppke Clings To Rose Bowl Remark About SMU's Club

FORT WORTH, Jan. 30. (AP)—Admittedly neither a diplomat nor politician, Coach Bob Zuppke of Illinois, did not attempt this afternoon to deny any of the uncomplimentary remarks credited to him on SMU's clash with Stanford in the Rose Bowl.

The Big Ten coach is snow bound here enroute from Litchfield Park, Ariz., where he has been resting since the Rose Bowl game, to the home of the Illini at Champaign, Ill.

"Some of the remarks attributed to me I did say," the genial little coach asserted.

"I am not going to take them back. I did say some good things.

"I told coast sport writers after the game that I thought SMU could play better than they did that day against Stanford. Is that such a terrible thing to say? I have seen greater games in a lot of ways. That is a certainty.

"Hearing of the aerial circus I went out there expecting to see a lot of color and learn something, but the only color I saw was the green grass and red jerseys, it certainly was not spectacular but it was a good game from a defensive standpoint.

"That game might have been entirely different if S. M. U. had not fumbled down on the goal line and if one of their players had not dropped a pass after intercepting it in the flat. I said at that time it was not their day.

"I think Matty Bell is a classy chap. There was not anything to be ashamed of. His club tackled hard and ran hard. It was a better played game than the one the previous year between Stanford and Alabama."

As for Zuppke accepting Bell's challenge to meet S. M. U. in football, that's another matter.

"Bell's challenge is all right with me," continued Zuppke. "I am only a hired hand. But I certainly think that the challenge is worth consideration.

"I think that the Southwest is a great football sector and I am glad that it received the Rose Bowl invitation. The Southwest deserved it. It plays just as fine football as any sector in the country. The Big Ten for the last few years had been exceptionally big and fast. Sections go in cycles that way. All sectors have their good and bad years. Some years they are up and other years they are down."

Poker Face?

The moniker wouldn't seem to apply to her, judging from this picture, but it's Helen Wills Moody, well-known tennis player and oil painter. Instead of racquets and flannel-balls, Queen Helen now carries palette and paint brushes.

Tennis Artist Turns Painter

Queen Helen Glorifies Lowly Vegetables In Oil Studies Which Promise To Rank Near Top Of Art Displays

By MARY ELIZABETH PLUMMER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 30. (AP)—Helen Wills Moody, artist, author and world's woman tennis champion, is painting eggplant, tomatoes and celery.

One of the tennis star's new oils, finished since her triumph at Wimbledon last summer, is a still-life of brilliant-colored vegetables with a pink background.

Another, splashed against blue-gray, is a study of brown pottery, silvery bulbs and green narcissus shoots. She has painted several versions of San Francisco Bay, which, she said, "is beautiful and different from every angle—I could spend my life there."

She also is painting landscapes and portraits in oil.

"My most long-suffering sitter is my mother," Mrs. Moody said today. "She poses patiently for hours."

Her first "one-man" exhibition of oils will be held this spring in the Grand Central art galleries; and according to Erwin Barrie, manager of the galleries, "she's going to be good."

"I think that some day she will be ranked among our best American artists," Barrie said.

Dressed in black, with a little black toque and pearls, Mrs. Moody conferred about the exhibition and also about a new book which she is writing on tennis.

Asked if she thinks her art as good as her tennis, she demurred. "The onlooker will have to decide. I like them both, and think they go well together.

"I'm more interested in oils than I ever was in etchings, drawings and watercolor."

In San Francisco, she has been painting regularly every afternoon in her studio, which is connected with the Moodys' apartment.

Boston Discards Braves And Wigwam For National League Bees And 'Hive'

New Name Selected From 1,328 Votes Cast By Fans

BOSTON, Jan. 30. (AP)—The Boston Braves became the Boston Bees today after a committee of 25 baseball writers and one cartoonist listended to the 1327 nicknames submitted by 1,327 widely scattered fans.

The suggested names started with every letter in the alphabet except x and very few of them seemed appropriate for a major league club, even a last place one.

After the reader, a seasoned radio announcer, became hoarse, the long list was cut to 26 names for voting purposes. The balloting was short, for 14 writers, evidently under strict copy desk orders, voted Bees, the survivors best adapted for easy headline purposes.

The writers agreed to refer henceforth to the park as the hive.

"You may call it that if you wish," was General Manager Bob Quinn's comment, "but it's going to read 'National League Park' on the sign."

Cards To Start With No Veteran Reserves

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 30. (AP)—Having heeded the old axiom, "don't put all your eggs in one basket," President Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals wasn't perturbed today because the 1936 prospects depended so much on rookies.

Last year Manager Frank Frisch had a team that wasn't too strong in the reserve department, but he did have Burgess Whitehead for utility duty in the infield and Ernest Orsatti for the outfield and first base. Both are gone and this year there will be no veteran benchwarmers.

Puts Faith In Rookies

Breadon, however, said he didn't believe the Cards were taking a risk going to the wars without experienced reserves.

"It would be different," he explained, "if we had all our eggs in one basket. If we had to depend on any one player, it might be risky, but we have a large and fine-looking crop of recruits and I'm confident they will come through to give the Cardinals what they need to win another pennant."

Outstanding among the juvenile prospects for the infield, Breadon said, was Lyle Judy, second baseman and base-stealing flash from Springfield, Mo.

Outfielder From Houston

Johnny Mize, first baseman from Rochester and Pat Ankenman, midget shortstop from Columbus were others Breadon mentioned.

For Orsatti's utility job in the outfield, Breadon named Lynn King of Houston as standing shoulders above the recruit candidates. Others were Louis Skoffic and Eddie Morgan, both from Bloomington, Ill.

Hardin-Simmons Cagers Cop 35-26 Win From 'Jackets

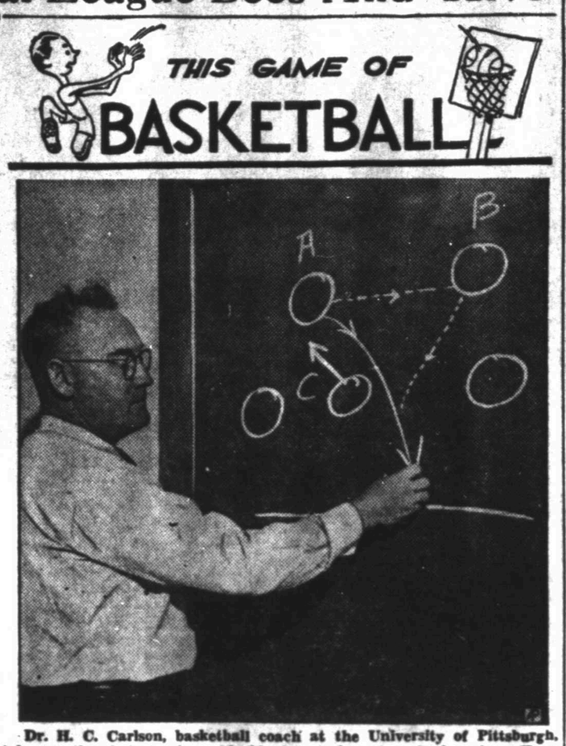

BROWNWOOD, Jan. 30. (AP)—The Hardin-Simmons Cowboys of Abilene defeated the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets, 35 to 26, tonight in the first of a two-game basketball series. The Cowboys overcame an early Jacket lead to hold a 14-12 advantage at the intermission.

McCollum of the Cowboys led scoring with eight points. Whitehead shot seven points for the losers. The Jackets made good 14 of 19 free throws.

McMurry Defeats ACC, Takes Texas Conference Cage Lead

ABILENE, Jan. 30. (AP)—McMurry college took over undisputed lead in the Texas Conference basketball race tonight by winning the opener of its intra-city series with Abilene Christian college, 23 to 18.

The Christians kept the ball most of the time and played a conservative game to hold a slight lead until the last 10 minutes, when Robert King, Wendell Meek, and Bobby Anthony began hitting the basket to give the decision to the Indians.

Dr. H. C. Carlson, basketball coach at the University of Pittsburgh, takes up the chalk to give a blackboard version of a winning play. He is shown outlining an offensive measure called, "two out of three in." Player A passes cross-court to B and cuts close to C for "screening" purposes. If A succeeds in evading his opponent, B makes a return pass for a shot, with or without a dribble. C maintains his position until A passes and then C replaces A for a new lineup.

By DR. H. C. CARLSON
Basketball Coach, University of Pittsburgh
(Written For The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 30. (AP)—I believe the center jump in basketball will be abolished. There are many reasons.

Ability may be developed but a player can not acquire a foot or so in height by the most intelligent work. There are sufficient jumps without the center jump.

My first reaction to this proposed change was to oppose it. But we now have had the opportunity to observe the awarding of the ball to the opposition after a successful free throw, under the new rules, and this has sold me on the advisability of the center-jump elimination.

Help To Spectators

The main thing in favor of retention of the play is that the jump gives the spectators a little breathing spell after a field goal. They may have a little visit and talk over the type of goal.

The automatic award of the ball to the opposition after a field or foul goal will eliminate certain necessary work and additional decisions by officials. It is another factor toward making games closer.

Opinions gathered from different parts of the country seem to indicate a growing sentiment in favor of the elimination of the center jump although there are many who honestly believe it should be retained.

We always are willing to try out any good ideas to better the game, but some of them never stand the test. The restrictions on the pivot play in the free-throw zone, under the new rules introduced this season, caused no changes at Pitt, where we combine a fast and slow breaking offensive.

Tech Gridders To Be Honored

Lions Club Throws Party At Hilton This Evening With Matadors As Guests; Public Invited To Banquet

Football players of Texas Tech who blocked the most punts, made the most open field tackles, the best blocks in the line, ran the most interference, etc., will be especially feted and all members of the Tech varsity and freshman grid squads of 1935 will be honored this evening at a banquet.

The Lubbock Lions club is the host organization, Hotel Hilton ballroom is the place, 6:15 o'clock is the time, and one dollar the price per plate for any and all Tech fans and supporters who will attend. The public is invited.

"No Speeches"

Dr. W. A. Jackson, athletic council chairman at Tech and president of the Border conference, will serve as toastmaster, but "There positively will be no speeches," officials of the Lions club announce.

It's to be a speechless affair, unless Head Coach Pete Cawthon's act could be called a speech. He will present trophies, consisting of half-size silver footballs, to members of the team who excelled in certain departments of the game last season. These trophies are awarded annually to the best blockers, best tacklers, best punt-blockers, etc. Coach Cawthon will announce the winners and present the awards.

Get Tickets Early

There'll be an entertainment program provided by artists signed up by the Lions club, "but it'll be a short and snappy procedure," the Lions say.

Tickets for the banquet may be purchased this morning and early this afternoon at Sam Rosenthal's

Westerners To Play At Pampa Court Tonight

Lubbock High Cagers Invade Pampa And Borger Seeking More Panhandle Cage Loop Victories This Week

With two more victories in the Class A, Panhandle League basketball chase as their goal, the Lubbock High school Westerners leave today for Pampa and Borger.

Coach Goober Keyes' team will play the strong Harvesters tonight at Pampa in what no doubt will be the strongest league test of the season for the locals.

Although Lubbock, with four straight victories and no defeats, leads the league in number of games, Pampa also is undefeated, and reports from that quarter indicate the Harvesters will be very tough indeed to dislodge from their perch.

At Borger Tomorrow

The Westerners play Borger's Bulldogs Saturday night in another league contest. Pampa and Borger return the games here in February.

Cavalcade is entered in a race with Discovery, Saturday.

To Seek Ordinance

Luce said the police have no wish to "prevent enjoyment from the snow—which seldom is found here in such quantity—but such sled riding will have to be done in the open country. Well-being must not be sacrificed to sports enjoyment."

The recorder said the city attorney had been talked with and that an ordinance covering the practice will be sought.

"Police have been told to bring in those who violate the warning—day or night," said Police Chief H. L. (Bud) Johnston. "Such persons not only are a menace to themselves, but to other people. NEWS BRIEFS

A news bulletin board at Senior High school informs students of the main happenings of each day. Bill Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wood, 2418 Twenty-second street, and sports editor of "The Westerner World," is editor in chief of the board. Assisting each period in the day are: Misses Margaret Hamilton, and Ines Davis and Hudson Powell, James Hendryx, Billy Buford, and Ralph Letsinger.

Lubbock Methodist district young people were offered the first class of a training school Thursday night in Tahoka and will be offered the same class tonight. Remainder of the school will be conducted in Lubbock Saturday night and Sunday. Courses will be taught by Rev. Dr. W. M. Pearce, presiding elder of the Lubbock Methodist district, Rev. Cecil R. Matthews and Rev. W. E. Hamilton.

A unified Texas education program is to be attended by Dr. Bradford Knapp, Texas Technological college president, in Austin Tuesday and Wednesday. The state department of education called the meeting.

Visits to Idalou Thursday morning and Roosevelt rural high school that afternoon were to conclude inspection of Lubbock county schools by G. D. Holbrook, deputy state superintendent of public instruction, and Joseph R. Griggs, county superintendent.

Aid of the entire police department was invoked late Thursday by a 7-year-old Lubbock boy who said over telephone his father had put tooth paste in his eye. C. E. Luce, police recorder, eventually—he was kept on the line fully five minutes—decided the complainant merely was standing on his conception of constitutional rights to talk over the telephone.

Complaint charging swindling with worthless check was filed in county clerk's office and warrant for arrest of an out-of-county man mailed, said Madison S. Rayburn, assistant county attorney. The check was for $20. S. A. Beard of Lubbock was complainant.

Activity in Townsend club circles here will be extended to other South Plains towns. A Snyder club will be organized at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Scurry county court house, and W. D. Benson, A. J. Richardson and W. E. Johnston, all of Lubbock will speak. O. R. Torrance and T. W. Moss will go to Floydada to speak to a club there. A regular meeting of the Lubbock club will be conducted at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon here. Program features have not been arranged. A speaker of national repute will speak here before March 1, said J. J. Dillard, president of the Lubbock club.

Roosevelt Rural High school girls did not win a basketball tournament conducted last week at Brownfield, but they got away with two trophies, one for being the "best sports," the other for having the best all-around player in the tourney. Letters of congratulation from M. L. H. Base, Brownfield superintendent, were received by J. Roy Williams, Roosevelt superintendent, and by Joseph R. Griggs, Lubbock county superintendent.

A new position has been taken by Jesse A. Jones, 1934 graduate from the geology department at Texas Technological college and graduate assistant in that department in the 1934-35 session, according to word received at the college. He is serving as assistant geologist doing paleontological and microstratigraphic work with Ben G. Barnett, Houston independent oil producer. He formerly was employed with a Houston consulting micropaleontologist.

A treatise written by Dr. Leroy T. Patton, head of the geology department at Technological college, was published in the January 24th issue of the magazine, Science. It is entitled "Natural Glasses of the Insoluble Residues of the Pennsylvanian Limestones in Texas."

Herchel Blankenship of Plainview has been granted a LaVerne Noyes scholarship for the next semester at Texas Technological college. His father was killed in the World war. Scholarships are available to children of war veterans.

The vitality of livestock is lowered when given drinking water at freezing temperatures.

Lubbock Rural Schools Are Inspected; Conditions Good

Completion of inspection of Lubbock county rural schools found the institutions in remarkable condition as regarded community interest, teacher attitude, physical equipment, type of work done, bus service, and attendance, said G. D. Holbrook, deputy state superintendent.

Holbrook and Joseph R. Griggs, county superintendent, began their inspection Monday, visiting 14 schools.

Roosevelt High school Thursday served dinner to trustees, the faculty, and to the visiting officials. Miss Thelma Dumas' home economic department was in charge.

Frenship school dismissed for Thursday and today because of snow and slippery roads, but buses made their regular runs throughout the county.

The inspection was an annual one.

Cold Spell

of sunshine melted much of the heavy snow in many sections and greatly reduced air and highway traffic hazards.

Although the mercury climbed during the day, freezing weather was predicted as far south as the coast and the Rio Grande. Much of the ice that covered highways the last two days was gone by night but the continued cold promised a new glaze by Friday morning.

The heavy snow in the Panhandle-Plains sections disappeared rapidly. No crop or livestock damages were reported from that region.

Clear skies prevailed at Wichita Falls and across the state to Dallas and East Texas. Austin had warm sunshine but partly cloudy and colder, with a low of around 22 degrees, weather was predicted for Friday.

A slight freeze with warmer weather Friday was promised Galveston.

Houston had clear, cold weather with a freeze in prospect at night and possible rain Friday.

Caution Is Observed In Lubbock Traffic

South Plains residents Thursday cheerfully slogged through slushy remainder of one of the greatest January snowfalls in history.

The fall ranged to nine inches at Slaton, Sudan and at Muleshoe, and Lubbock had six and one-half inches.

Bright sun and warming temperatures started melting of the blanket, and ice-filled rivulets formed in depressions and in gutters. Much snow remained, however.

Numerous Falls

Pedestrians were no less cautious than motorists in traffic, and there were numerous falls on slippery surfaces. No serious accidents had been reported, however. Police said a heavy coach driven by J. C. James of 2406 Main street, being driven south on Avenue X at Broadway was in collision with a light roadster driven west on Broadway by W. M. Coons of 2022 Main street, but none was injured. Five boys were in the roadster.

Cognizance of the necessity for safe driving was noted in the filing of a speeding complaint. W. E. Renfrow, state highway patrolman, charged Jack Trammell with driving in excess of 20 miles an hour on slippery pavements. Bond of $50 was set by J. T. Trigg, justice of the peace and trial docketed for Tuesday.

Temperatures Drop

A cold and shifting wind had reduced temperatures before 9 o'clock at night and slush had been coated with ice. Automobiles skidded at intersections and street crowds slid and fell.

Revised translation of the snowfall in terms of water gave .68 inch, said the experiment sub-station here.

Maximum temperature for the day was 35 degrees, minimum of 6 at 7:30 o'clock that morning. Twenty-three degrees was established at 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

Train and bus schedules were being maintained.

Secret Documents Of State Reveal Policies Of Wilson

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (AP)—Secret documents of the state department disclosed today how Woodrow Wilson personally charted the nation's neutrality policy in the stirring days prior to American entrance into the World war.

Page proofs of notes, letters, memoranda and other official documents which the department will publish soon include the rough outline of an early note to Germany, protesting unrestricted submarine warfare, drafted by the wartime president himself.

School Debate To Open Here Today

First round of an invitational debate tournament in which such schools as Amarillo, Abilene, Sweetwater, Pampa, Big Spring, and Eldorado have entered, will begin at 9:30 o'clock this afternoon at Senior High school.

It had been indicated there was insufficient response to a request that Lubbock residents invite contestants to their homes tonight, and persons willing to extend such invitations were asked to telephone J. W. Reid, debate coach.

Debate subject is "Resolved that the federal government should control the production of cotton."

Lubbock's team will include Rebecca Butler, Shirley Bass, Arlene Hankins, Lilly Merle Sumner, Waggoner Carr, Warlick Carr, J. W. Gamble, and Mont Jennings.

Poll Taxes

counties, records indicating 1,008 more receipts had been issued than in Potter county.

Tax officials in the central office at the Lubbock courthouse, and in sub-stations at Slaton and Idalou City halls, will be swamped throughout today, the last day for obtaining receipts and exemption certificates, if last year's deluge is repeated. On Jan. 31, 1935, more than 1,900 persons paid their poll taxes, Carpenter estimated.

Eligible voters in 1935 were 4,027 who paid poll taxes, and approximately 1,500 who obtained exemptions.

National election year totals for 1928 and 1932 were approximately 7,700 and 6,600, respectively. Other approximate totals were:

1930—6,600.
1933—3,600.
1934—8,300.

Prior to this year, those eligible for exemptions because of age were permitted to obtain certificates after Jan. 31. Under a new interpretation of election laws, however, such certificates must be obtained by midnight tonight to establish eligibility, Carpenter stated, in offering a last-minute urge that voting eligibility be established today.

NYA Projects

state highway officials supervising.

The NYA will provide $1,450 for labor on a nine-hole golf course on the college campus and the college will provide $520 for supervision and materials. J. H. Murdough, engineering professor at the college, will supervise the work. The course will be west of the engineering building, on the northwest corner of the campus proper. Sixty youths will be employed.

Jennings Lewis, a Technological college graduate, will supervise the highway work. One hundred 68 youths will be employed and one-fourth of that number have been notified to report to the Lubbock courthouse at 9 a. m. Saturday. G. E. Garrett, district highway engineer, is in general charge of the work. The youths will work four eight-hour days and two seven-hour days weekly and will be given $10.50 for 46 hours work monthly.

Plans Explained

The parks will include rock gardens, a drive, trees and otherwise will be beautified.

Youths whose families were on relief prior to Jan. 1 of the required ages are eligible for the work if registered with the National Reemployment service.

Labor Leaders Gather Their Forces For Three Strikes

NEW YORK, Jan. 30. (AP)—Labor leaders marshaled their forces tonight for a series of threatened walkouts that may embrace more than 127,000 workers during the next few days.

If carried out, the strikes would affect three industries—dress-makers, fur workers, and building service employes.

Police headquarters made extensive arrangements to cope with any eventuality on the three fronts as the week-end "deadlines" approached.

The city of Canton, China, in one year imported more than $1,000,000 worth of old and over-issue newspapers, the bulk of the imports coming from the United States. These newspapers are used in China chiefly for wrapping purposes by small merchants.

Dairy Demonstrations Given At High School On Thursday

Eighteen home demonstration club women of Lubbock county attended an all-day meeting in Senior High school Thursday and viewed dairy demonstrations given by the Texas Technological college dairy manufacturing department.

K. M. Renner, head of the department, gave cheese making demonstrations; Mart G. Pederson, butter demonstrations; and Arthur Prichard supervised judging of dairy products.

Miss Norfleet Grimes, county home demonstration agent, was in charge of the meeting. A covered dish luncheon brought by the women was served with assistance of a home economics class at the school.

Prichard will go to Levelland Saturday to give demonstrations for Hockley county women.

Demands Are Made

"Now he has the money," Connally shouted, and demanded that he "reveal all" that he assertedly had been telling to the newspapers to be published in "box car type."

"I have never threatened anything in the event the money was appropriated or not appropriated," Nye retorted hotly.

"Let him reveal all," Connally reiterated. "What is he withholding from the country?"

Nye said that he passed to several members of the senate, including Connally, an extract from the Lansing diary, not made public by the committee, which he said proved his contention.

"He called for proof," said Nye of Connally, "and I laid down the proof.

statement to Schwarzkopf were:

1—That Schwarzkopf himself at the time Violet Sharpe, maid in the Morrow home committed suicide in June, 1932, released a statement saying "he felt her death went a long way toward indicating a solution to the crime."

2—That it "seems impossible to believe" the Lindbergh baby's thumbguard lay in the road of the Lindbergh estate for a month before it was found by Betty Gow, the baby's nurse, as she was walking with Mrs. Elsie Whateley, widow of the Lindbergh butler.

3 — That John Hughes Curtis, Norfolk, Va., shipbuilder, was convicted not of perpetrating a hoax on the Lindberghs, but of having had actual contact with a gang of kidnapers.

Why Other Negotiations?

"If Colonel Lindbergh was convinced that Dr. Condon had actually had contact with the kidnapers, why did he enter into negotiations with Curtis?" the governor asked.

"What did Curtis say, or show to Col. Lindbergh that warranted his belief that Curtis actually was in touch with the criminals?"

Six hundred persons tripped to melodies of Ned Bradley's orchestra, paying in approximately $300, when a third annual President's Birthday ball was conducted Thursday night at the Auditorium.

Definite Indication Of New Taxes For Bonus Is Given

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (AP)—A definite indication that President Roosevelt is considering the possibility of new taxes to defray bonus costs tonight faced a congress already eyeing the approaching elections.

Thrown into this already uncertain situation was an inflation threat. From a leader of the house inflation bloc came an uncompromising assertion that a "battle royal" would be staged to pay the bill with new money rather than new revenue.

SELMA, Ala., Jan. 30. (AP) — The toll of Camden's prison gun battle mounted to two tonight with the death of Deputy Sheriff Tom Jones of Wilcox county, who succumbed to a pistol wound.

Ted McCaskill, negro prisoner who shot the deputy, was killed in the Camden jail, 53 miles from here, by Sheriff R. F. Albritton yesterday.

Sheriff Albritton said the gun fight started as Deputy Jones and a negro jailer started to search McCaskill.

For Self And West Texas

IF YOU haven't already secured a poll tax receipt you'll have to get it by midnight tonight or else go without voting in at least four elections this year.

Tax payers today and tonight may have to stand in line for a few minutes before securing their receipts, as County Tax Collector-Assessor Hurley Carpenter expects a "last minute rush." But if you are inconvenienced by having to spend a little time in line it's no one's fault but your own—and it's worth doing.

One of the most important city elections in Lubbock's history will be held in early April when two commissioners and a mayor will be elected.

Regular Democratic primaries are carded for July and August and in November President Roosevelt, in all probabilities, will be in a death grapple with foes of the New Deal. Certainly every citizen eligible for a poll tax receipt should get one, so he may have a part in the operation of his city, county, state and national governments.

Incidentally, all citizens over 60 years of age who have not already gotten an exemption receipt in the past, must get such a receipt from the assessor-collector by midnight tonight, or they CANNOT LEGALLY VOTE this year. For those who are over 60 and have an exemption receipt but who have moved from one precinct to another, a second exemption receipt will have to be procured by midnight tonight. However, any citizen over 60 who has not changed precincts and who has an exemption receipt from a previous year does not have to secure another. Exemption receipts are good for life unless the holder changes residence.

ASIDE from the reason that all eligible citizens should be patriotic enough to avail themselves of the opportunity of voting, there is another reason why it is desirable for Lubbock and every other West Texas county to have as large a number of eligible voters as is possible to get. A heavy vote means more attention to and more recognition of West Texas by the "down state" politicians, most of whom cannot understand any other language other than that of the ballot.

The quicker West Texas builds up its voting power the quicker West Texas will get out of the "stepchild" class with legislators and other politicians down at Austin.

The quicker West Texas builds up its voting power the quicker Texas Tech will get something like a fair shake in the matter of appropriations.

In other words, the quicker West Texas builds up its voting power the quicker West Texans will be able to theoretically "club" some recognition out of the politicians of Texas who at the present time snub us at every turn (except during campaign times) and call the college here "the University of New Mexico."

SO NOT only for yourself, but for West Texas, if you haven't made yourself eligible to vote in 1936 don't let today slip by without doing so.

Chances are if you don't want to vote "for" some certain individual at one or more elections this year you will want to vote "against" a whole flock of candidates!

The dollar-six-bits a poll tax receipt costs may look like a lot of money today but if you can't vote in April, July, August and November you'll be sore at yourself for not spending the little sum needed.

Go over to the courthouse today and no matter how busy you may be, how opposed to the poll tax law you may be, or how distasteful it is to stand in line, and become a legal voter for 1936.

You'll be glad you did before the year is out!

HOW DOES MR. DARROW FEEL?

It would be interesting to know Clarence Darrow's true reaction to the murder of one of the rich young profligates whom, in 1924, he saved from the electric chair after the mistreatment and brutal slaying of a little boy.

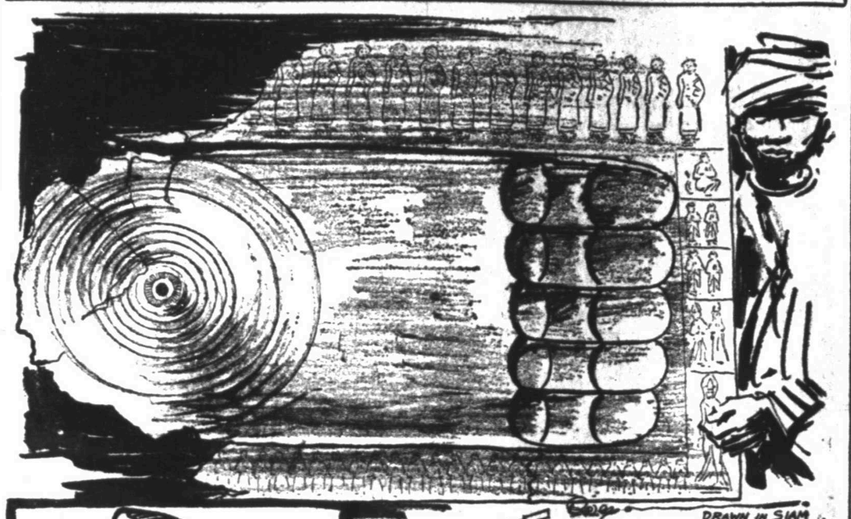

The Morning Avalanche wonders how Mr. Darrow feels about saving miserable "Angel Face" Richard Loeb from what nearly everyone but Mr. Darrow seemed to consider his just deserts, only to see his misspent life ended in a nasty prison mess and another man standing accused as his murderer.

We have no sympathy for Loeb. In fact, we believe the world is a better, safer place with him dead than it would be with him alive. In 1924, too, we thought he and his other pervert friend, Nathan Leopold, should have been legally put to death and we wonder now if the slick Chicago defender doesn't feel the same way.

Pons, Swarthout, Grace Moore, et al. —alas, what ever became of the old-fashioned roll-top soprano?

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Against the wishes of her grandmother, aristocratic Mrs. WILLIARD CAMERON, DANA WESTBROOK marries DR. SCOTT STANLEY, struggling young physician.

Before her marriage, she had broken with wealthy RONALD MOORE. Dana's half-sister, NANCY, is in love with Ronald but hides her feeling, knowing he loves Dana.

Both Mrs. Cameron and PAULA LONG, who has loved Scott for years, hope the marriage will not last.

Paula, a patient of Scott's, is always calling him and managing to see him at parties. Dana has become aware of Paula's infatuation for her husband.

Scott, deeply in love with his wife, is uncomfortable over the situation.

One stormy night Paula's housekeeper calls Scott, telling him Paula is ill. Scott goes to see her and stays away all night. Dana, not knowing Paula had attempted suicide, goes to her grandmother. Mrs. Cameron determines to do all she can to make the separation permanent.

Next day Scott is called upon to perform a dangerous operation. He returns home with a heavy heart, realizing Dana is not there to share in his triumph.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXIV

Dana was sure her heart had died that night Scott had gone to Paula's home and stayed there while she counted minutes by its heavy beating. Counted minutes that lengthened to hours.

At four she had got up and dressed. Then she called a taxi and gave the driver her grandmother's address.

Yes, her heart had died when Scott had flaunted his infatuation for Paula, leaving her alone that stormy night. Her heart had not come alive since; a month had passed and Scott had neither called her or tried to see her.

Lawyers might term what she had done "desertion," but Dana never doubted that Scott knew she had left him because he had stayed at Paula's all night. Any woman who had any self-respect would have done the same thing. And if Scott had had any explanation to offer he would have pleaded with her to come back to him. He hadn't—which was proof that he didn't want her.

Aunt Ellen entered her niece's room. She said, "My dear, you aren't happy. Isn't there something that can be done about it?"

"No, Aunt Ellen." There was a sob in Dana's voice.

"Let me write to Scott," her aunt pleaded.

"No, no"! Dana's voice rose vehemently. Then she was sobbing in Aunt Ellen's arms. When she was quieter, she poured her troubles into the sympathetic ear. She told things she had vowed she would never tell anyone, but telling them to one who was so dear and understanding and dependable was like whispering them to herself. Dana knew without binding her to secrecy that Aunt Ellen would never break the confidence. And it was comforting to hear her gentle, sympathetizing voice saying things Dana wanted so terribly to believe but couldn't.

"It wasn't anything I did," Dana insisted. "I loved Scott so much, and he knew that. I didn't mind cooking and doing dishes. It was fun. Because, no matter what went wrong, Scott never complained. He didn't expect things of me. He helped a lot—not puttering around but really helping. And he worked so hard at the office—" Dana's voice broke.

"Then why," Aunt Ellen asked bewildered, "why did you leave him?"

"It was something outside all that. Something I suppose he couldn't help." Dana's miserable eyes met her aunt's.

"You mean—a woman!" Aunt Ellen could scarcely say the word. It had a fearfully indelicate sound.

"Yes," Dana answered.

"You are sure?" Her aunt's voice was shocked.

"Yes. You see I was a sneak and checked up on him."

"But are you sure?" It was almost impossible for Aunt Ellen to accept this dreadful explanation, remembering the happy faces of her niece and Scott the day they married. Only a year ago—and here was Dana telling her about some other woman.

"And then she went away," Dana whispered. "About three days after—after I found out about it she left town. It is all very mysterious. She didn't tell anyone where she was going. Just disappeared, and her apartment was closed. But of course I knew why she left. Maybe she thought I'd take the role of an avenging wife. Or maybe she just wanted to get out of town until it all blew over."

Aunt Ellen had decided, "It was that Long girl then." She was the one her sister had said Scott should have married in the first place. If he had, this child wouldn't be sitting here looking like a little ghost.

It might have been better for Dana to have pretended she didn't know what was going on. In the old days women pretended they didn't know about their husband's philanderings. They just acted as though they didn't know and kept on living with their husbands.

But young girls today, with so much fire and spirit, demanded fair play. When they didn't get it they struck back. Dana had struck at Scott and the blow had rebounded, wounding her sorely.

"My dear," Aunt Ellen protested, "you can't go on this way. You've been here a month now, and you haven't been out of the house. Don't you think you could take a walk? Or go to a movie?"

"I couldn't go to a movie," Dana said. "I couldn't stand it." Then, as she saw the troubled look on her aunt's face deepen, she said gallantly, "But I will go for a walk. I hate to face people, though I know it's silly. But it's horrible to feel people are speculating about you, looking at you and wondering and saying 'There's Dana Stanley. Well, she and Scott have hit the rocks already'."

Aunt Ellen nodded. "They probably will say those things. But you must be brave and face the music. You can't become a recluse because you and Scott couldn't live together After a while people will forget. It's a good thing most of us have such short memories."

Dana said, "It's a nice day. Fresh and sunshiny, though a little windy. I'll enjoy getting out." She said it for her aunt's benefit and saw Aunt Ellen's face brighten.

Dana was scarcely out of sight when the doorbell rang. A moment later Sarah plodded up the stairs, her eyes bulging.

"It's Mister Ronnie," she said. "He's askin' for Miss Dana."

Aunt Ellen fluttered down. With her sister and Nancy both away, she didn't know what she would say to the young man. It didn't seem decent, exactly, for him to be inquiring for Dana when the child was still married. Still she'd have to give him some sort of answer. Young people did the most amazing things. Aunt Ellen knew she must be careful, because her sister would be furious if this particular young man was offended.

"Dana's out walking," Aunt Ellen said vaguely. She added (and the devil himself must have been prompting her), "She went south. She can't be so very far away because she only left a few minutes ago."

Ronnie thanked her and left.

"I couldn't help it," Aunt Ellen told herself. "Maybe a nice brisk drive would cheer Dana up a little."

Dana's feet were taking her along a familiar way. It was the same afternoon she had been caught in the deluge and Scott had come running after her. Every step was filled with memories. This was the street where Scott had lived then. His house stood at the end of the block.

She had almost reached the car standing in front of Scott's house before she recognized it. It was Scott's car. Dana put out a hand and touched it. Suddenly she was shaken by sobs, blinded by tears.

She opened the door and climbed in. Sinking back against the seat, she gave up to desolation. She would sit here and wait. When Scott came out she would tell him what was in her heart. She would tell him she couldn't go on without him, ask what had become of the love he had once had for her.

Suddenly fear gripped her. What if Paula had not gone away as people said? What if she had taken over Scott's house? Perhaps the tenants had given it up and Paula had come here, knowing that someday she would be its mistress.

The story that Paula had left town had been so vague. Nobody knew where she had gone. But if Paula should appear with Scott and find her weeping her heart out it would be the final blow—the one thing Dana couldn't endure. She slipped out of the car, and turned her face homeward.

A moment later Scott came out of the house. He glanced down the street, and his heart leaped wildly. That was Dana, not more than a block away. She was walking slowly.

Scott hesitated a moment. Then he started walking rapidly toward the distant figure.

It's Drunken Driving Even If Motor Is Off, Judge Says

HICKORY, N. C., Jan. 30. (AP) — Judge T. F. Cummings had a little trouble before he could sentence a negro here to six months for drunken driving.

The negro was steering his car while drunk—but the motor was not running. The car was proceeding under "muscular" power furnished by several other negroes.

The law book's nearest approach to this situation, court attaches said, was that drunken driving meant steering an automobile, with motor on or off.

Learning that the motor had been running shortly prior to the negro's arrest, the judge passed sentence.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

POLITICAL flirting with Southern Republican delegates has started ahead of time this year. Advance scouts of the presidential candidates have telephoned, written to or interviewed a certain Washington figure who is the political power behind the throne in these regions.

Nobody has made startling progress—yet. Top choices with the Dixie bosses now seem to be Col. Frank Knox of Illinois and Governor Alf Landon of Kansas. It's thumbs down on Senator Borah and Herbert Hoover. Senator Vandenberg has stuck to his not-a-candidate role by sending no emissaries to sound out the Southerners, who will bob up at Cleveland with nearly 300 delegates or almost one-third of the necessary.

Ex-Senator George Moses of New Hampshire represents Knox and George has many helpful friends on the inside. Rush Holland, a former Hooverite, is advance man for Senator Dickinson of Iowa, proving that the latter takes his candidacy seriously. The late Ted Clark, as Whirligig reported months ago, was bargaining for Landon until his death recently. "Ham" Fish speaks for Borah but his Harvard voice doesn't carry far below the Potomac river. With the law of supply and demand operating openly, Southern delegates will be canny and costly and cautious this year.

REBUTTAL: Townsend sentiment is spreading so rapidly that private research organizations are preparing several analyses of the plan's economic fallacies. They aim to stuff the breach which politicians seem unable or unwilling to close. Important interests hitherto mildly amused now envisage the $200-a-month pension as the most serious menace to the capitalistic system yet offered in the U. S.

These new studies will feature some startling deductions. They will maintain that instead of paying a 2 per cent transaction tax to provide pensions, 92 per cent of the people must pay an 8 per cent tax in order to support 8 per cent. They will insist that the retirement of the over-sixty from productive enterprises will furnish only 2,000,000 jobs to younger folk—not 4,000,000 as the Townsendites predict. They will estimate that many millions—at least ten—will be thrown out of employment through the fatal effect which the tax turnover will exert on numerous intermediate classes of wholesalers, jobbers, independents, etc.

The only formalized rebuttal of the Townsend scheme has been made by Prof. Walter Spahr under the auspices of the American Liberty league. This missed fire on Capitol Hill because of that organization's unpopularity there. The promised explosions will make more political noise.

INDEPENDENT: The negro race's ablest leaders are preaching a new political gospel for 1936. It will be shouted to the skies at their national congress in Chicago next month.

Thoughtful negroes want their followers to shuffle loose from both major parties and become an independent body of voters. They have rebuffed politicians who tried to restore the old set-up. "Ham" Fish has been denied an invitation to address the congress because he intended to sell Borah's stock. Perry Howard, black Republican national committeeman in Mississippi, got a cold reception when he urged the negro to return to his historic allegiance—the GOP. Negro spokesmen informed Howard that the "Abraham Lincoln stuff" didn't apply any more.

Though friendly to President Roosevelt, colored spokesmen don't want any permanent tie-up with the Democratic party. Mr. Roosevelt has named 40 negroes to posts ranging in salary from $7,500 to $3,000. No Republican President equalled this record. FDR trebled Al Smith's 1928 negro poll, although the man in the brown derby was the first to dent these erstwhile Republican ranks. But the leaders will urge their followers to disregard sentiment and patronage and vote on issues as they affect their race. It's a disturbing prospect to politicians in both camps.

VOLUBLE: Every issue of the Congressional Record is an "election edition" these days.

The boys on both sides of the aisle are "extending their remarks" in the appendix and inserting speeches setting forth their views on what's wrong with the universe. Then they "frank" them out at Uncle Sam's expense. Democratic Senators are distributing thousands of copies of FDR's message on "the state of the union." Republicans are retaliating with broadcasts of their replies on and off the floor. Townsend addresses pro and con rank high up in the roll of political papers.

Next to Roosevelt's speech, the most popular "extensions" consists of Congressional and editorial criticism of the Supreme court. The Democrats have tried twice to insert an especially sharp castigation of the jurists for their AAA decision but Republican objections blocked the move.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE Federation of Labor's executive council reproved John L. Lewis in ringing terms for his industrial union rebellion—but took darned good care not to slam the door on his foot.

It's significant that the committee named to try to work out a compromise with Lewis was headed by George M. Harrison of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks. Harrison is the diplomat who hatched a satisfactory agreement last year to end the bitter war between rival factions in the building trades. Insiders say Bill Green is praying he has another such miracle up his sleeve.

Green's hardest job right now is said to be restraining the more violent anti-Lewisites from flying off the handle and wrecking all chances for a pacific solution. W. D. Hutcheson of the Carpenters' brotherhood—victim of Lewis' fists at Atlantic City last fall—headed a strong minority on the council who came close to defeating the resolution of censure because it wasn't harsh enough.

RUMORS: New York is always a great gossip factory, but last week hit a high-water mark for that sort of thing. In one day the following items of five-star extra information were being broadcast all over Wall street—each guaranteed straight from the feed-box.

1. Silver was to be revalued at $2.19 an ounce—the profit from revaluation to be used to pay the bonus.
2. Secretary Morgenthau was about to resign.
3. The Committee for the Nation was back in the saddle at Washington.
4. Further devaluation of the dollar was to be announced almost immediately.
5. A free gold market was going to be established at once.

All these spelled inflation with a capital "I" and the boys were in a stew as to whether to buy stocks or sell dollars. It just goes to show you shouldn't believe all you hear. The best posted sources are sure that items 1, 2 and 3 are pure imagination. Number 4 might happen later—if the farm groups put on enough pressure—but not for a while. Number 5 is in a different category. By itself it is not inflationary and insiders still rate it a likely possibility despite FDR's light-hearted dismissal of the report of his press conference.

MELT: Bill Borah has quite a few Republican supporters in New York state—and presumably elsewhere—who would regard it as a major catastrophe if he were actually nominated. Since they are confident he cannot be, they regard him as a useful vehicle to assure the complete suppression of the Hoover influence at the convention. The one thing most New York G.O.P. leaders are positive about is that they don't want Hoover either to be or to name the candidate.

Borah is likely to show surprising strength in the first few convention ballots until the big chiefs have a chance to make their dickers and find out where they stand. Then his backing is due to melt like snow on a stove.

Tientsin Taxi Dancers Are Listed As Agents Of Moscow

TIENTSIN, China, Jan. 30. (AP) — Red agents posing as dance girls are spreading communist propaganda among foreign soldiers stationed here, local Japanese papers charge.

The Japanese press recently carried several stories to the effect that cabaret and dance-hall entertainers were sending "the boys" back to their barracks with radical ideas.

It was said that red literature was found in the quarters of the 15th U. S. infantry and that the officers staged a "great burning" of the pamphlets. Regimental authorities state, however, that there is no evidence of communism among the doughboys.

French and British officers likewise deny they have had any trouble, although the Japanese insist that a company of French colonial Annamese troops were "turning pink" and had to be removed before they infected the rest of the garrison.

Royal Office In France Cut Out By Demand Of Premier

PARIS, Jan. 30. (AP)—A survival of the royal regime in France, the office of referendary to the seal of France, was snuffed out by one of Premier Laval's last decree-laws.

In the old days it was the duty of the referendaries to see that letters-patent were in order before the great seal was affixed to them. Royalty vanished but the job remained.

No appointment to the office has been made since 1892, the work being done by one or two officials at a sixth of the cost.

TARZAN AND THE FIRE GODS, No. 113

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

"The strangers are barbarian spies," Massedon roared. "You, Epiros, gather a detachment of lancers and hunt them down. I shall mobilize the full strength of our soldiery so that we may be ready to stem the barbarian invasion from the outer world!"

The exciting news flashed through the village, and once more the thread of history linked these people with the distant age of Alexander the Great, when the first Niarchus, founder of the strange Canaanite tribes, had been a follower of the mighty conqueror.

From that ancient Niarchus, the South Canaanites had inherited the glorious military traditions of Alexander, whom they believed would return one day to earth—as the man-god Iskander and lead them in thunderous battle against an invading barbarian horde.

"Return quickly with the spies," Massedon commanded the lieutenant Epiros. "When we have obtained information from them, we shall kill the man—and keep the women for slaves, as in the glorious days of yore! Ekbal tells me they are pleasing to look upon."

Sengerobs Rites To Be Saturday

Body of Fred Sengerobs, 81, of Abernathy was taken there by Sanders Funeral home Thursday afternoon for burial. He died at 4 o'clock that morning in a Lubbock hospital from injuries received in a traffic accident.

Services will be read at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the First Methodist church at Abernathy. Other announcements had not been made.

Sengerobs was the second victim of an automobile collision early Tuesday night on the highway north of Abernathy to Plainview. Little hope had been held for his recovery at the hospital, where injuries determined included skull fracture, lung hemorrhage, and brain concussion.

A native of Germany, Sengerobs was born in Burg, Sept. 18, 1885.

His wife and a cousin, Christ Benn, were at the bedside. Other survivors are two brothers, Adolph and Peter, both in Germany; a half-sister, Anna Schlegel, and a half brother, Carl Schlegel, also of Germany. A brother, Amemil, is reported to be in Wisconsin.

Mrs. C. G. Brown, 42, other victim of the accident, was buried at Plainview Thursday following funeral services conducted that afternoon. Her husband, residing southwest of Plainview, who was injured in the accident, was being treated in a Plainview hospital.

Woman Says She Must Have Speed

SEATTLE, Jan. 30. (AP)—A 57-year old aviatrix, modest Emma Edwards Leavenworth, complained today that the moderate pace of an automobile cramps her style.

"You can't get any speed out of an automobile," she complained as she tugged a pilot's helmet down on her ears—"so I took up flying."

Leonard R. Peterson, her instructor, said he believed she is the oldest American woman to fly a plane. "All the other women fliers are much younger than Miss Leavenworth in years—but certainly not in grit and viewpoint."

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 30. (AP)—Profit takers took a whirl at today's stock market, and a number of recent favorites were pushed back for considerable losses.

The news was not especially depressing, and brokers, generally, attributed the liquidating movement principally to technical influences. It was pointed out that the list was due for a correction because of the sharp advance during the past several weeks.

There were a few resistant steels, oils, mine, specialties and low-priced utilities, and scattered strong spots developed throughout the session.

The activity picked up as cross-currents of buying and selling swept through the market. At times the ticker tape fell behind floor transactions, although there were occasional dull periods. Transfers totaled 2,621,750 shares, as against 2,894,235 Wednesday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined ¼ of a point to 58.7.

Whether there was a mild revival of inflationary sentiment was a matter of debate in the commodity markets. Gold mining issues rallied in late transactions, and foreign exchanges, lower during the morning in terms of the dollar, reversed their trend later.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 30. (AP)—Trading almost reached a standstill on the cotton market today as traders awaited definite news from Washington on the loan and pegl rotton.

For most of the session active positions were a point or so lower, but in the last hour enough buying cropped out to bring some months up a couple of points on the day. New crop months extended their early losses to finish down from 5 to 7 points.

NEW ORLEANS, News Bureau Observer:
Today for the first time in several months there were no exports of cotton from any port in this country. This appears to be confirmation of the opinion held in some quarters that uncertainty over the ultimate disposal of government controlled cotton is proving detrimental to the foreign demand. Recently cables from abroad have been saying as much and on account of that is the move in Lancashire to use as much Indian cotton as possible in order to strengthen British hold on its Asiatic trade in cotton goods. Cotton as well as other markets is taking calmly enough the renewed agitation in Washington for inflation. The reason for this is that confidential message out of Washington are most positive that congressmen who want inflation haven't a chance to get anywhere this session at least.

LIVERPOOL cables—Tone of the cotton future market quiet. Bombay moderate seller on straddle off-take mainly from trade. Some professional support on rumor Washington extension 12 cent loans for six months to meet general demand for extension to await tomorrow's announcement. Business largely switching between months due to confined sentiment regarding acreage and loan cotton outlook.

Passengers In Plane Rescued

Pilot Loses His Own Life In Crash And Is Credited With Saving Others; Warning Of Danger Was Given

DENTON, Jan. 30. (AP) — Five passengers of an American Airlines plane today credited Pilot Ted Kincannon, who lost his life in his efforts, with saving their lives in a crash near here.

The 38-year old veteran pilot died in an ambulance late yesterday shortly after his eight-passenger ship crashed into a clump of trees in a forced landing during a snow storm.

Warning Was Given

The passengers, shaken but all able to walk away from the wreckage, said Kincannon warned them to adjust their safety belts as he closed gasoline cocks when the plane started to lose altitude.

None of the passengers was considered seriously hurt, although M. P. Youker of Dallas was taken from his hotel room to a hospital early today.

Airlines officials, in opening an investigation, expressed the belief that failure of the carburetor heater permitted ice to form on the carburetor, making a forced landing necessary.

Engineer Was Passenger

William Littlewood of Chicago, chief engineer of the lines, was a passenger. He said he believed the carburetor heater caused the trouble.

The plane, en route from Chicago to Fort Worth and Dallas, crashed on the edge of a field that would have afforded landing space.

Passengers said, however, the snow was so heavy that visibility was near zero.

In addition to Youker and Littlewood, passengers were George Rice of San Antonio, T. P. Malloy of Shreveport, La., and John Schultz of New York.

Happened Suddenly

"It all happened so suddenly I don't think any of us realized exactly what occurred," Schultz said. "We were riding in a blinding snow storm. The motor suddenly stalled and we crashed into a clump of trees."

So badly was the cabin twisted that passengers had to escape through windows.

Kincannon's body was taken to Dallas, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kincannon, live.

The pilot, a native Texan, lived in Fort Worth. He had nearly 8,100 hours in the air, and had been with American Airlines since 1932.

Since that time he had flown schedules out of Fort Worth to St. Louis, El Paso, Amarillo and Atlanta. He received his training in the army here in 1918.

Besides his parents he is survived by his widow.

Broussard Funeral Services Will Be Held At Mineola

Body of A. B. Broussard, about 26, who died of a heart ailment early Thursday in a rooming house in 1300-block Avenue F, was sent that night to Mineola for burial, said Sanders Funeral home.

He had lived in Lubbock since last fall and was a former resident of Wood county.

Death resulted from pneumonia contracted 18 days before.

A brother, Carl M. of Alba, had been with Broussard a week.

Approval Offered On Woman's Bond

GATESVILLE, Jan. 30. (AP)—Mrs. Ethel Johnson's $10,000 bond on an indictment charging her with murder for the shooting of her son, Joe Dean Blankenship, on a Coryell county ranch in 1934, was approved when she came here today.

She is under another bond, $15,000, on a charge of slaying her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bernice Blankenship, at the same time her son died. She has denied both accusations.

Both cases have been set for Feb. 10 and a special venire of 108 men in each case has been drawn.

Mrs. Johnson, wife of a Dallas federal radio inspector, went from Gatesville today with her father, George Middick, to his ranch.

Bulletins Given Kiwanis Members

Recognition of the assistance rendered by the Lubbock Kiwanis club to the Texas Technological college Yaqui expedition of 1934 was given yesterday by Dr. W. C. Holden, head of the expedition, in presenting copies of the booklet issued by Texas Tech recently, to members at the luncheon at the Hotel Lubbock. Nearly all of the more than 100 members were present.

Four members, recently voted in, were officially received. They were: Frank A. White, a former member; Earl McClure, transfer from Oklahoma City club; S. R. Steele, transfer from Wichita Falls, and Charles A. King, jr. Dean A. H. Leidigh, chairman of the educational committee, gave the official recognition and among other things told the new Kiwanians, "this is a service club."

Charles Read and Knox Thomas were co-chairmen. The former presided. Mrs. Jack Douglas, local whistler, gave two numbers. Mrs. C. J. Bell accompanied her at the piano.

Dr. Holden said the money received from sale of the booklets on the Yaqui trip would be used as a revolving fund for future publications. He told several stories about the trip and explained personalities and pictures in the book.

Walter Luer, president of the Los Angeles Kiwanis club and head of the Luer Packing Co., with a Lubbock branch, was introduced, with Richard Roberts, local manager. They were guests of L. C. Ellis.

President Ray Mowery announced a dance next week by the Junior Welfare club. He also announced George Kuykendall would be program chairman next week, he having been named by W. C. Wood, chairman of that committee.

Dog Killer To Face Death As Did His Father

SANTA ROSA, Calif., Jan. 30. (AP)—Rex, police dog son of a convicted and condemned killer, was locked in the "death cell" of the city pound today awaiting execution by a firing squad.

On a ranch near Sebastopol, Rex's 5-year-old mistress, Nadine Valentine, sobbed for her lifetime companion while her mother, Mrs. Alice Valentine, prepared to take legal action to save the dog.

Rex has been accused of killing sheep and rabbits and sentenced to die by Poundmaster Homer Cake. Execution is set for tomorrow.

Rex's father, Tim, was sentenced to death for sheep killing, but before the hour of execution came he escaped.

Colonel Knox Urging Fight

Presidential Possibility Is Urging Business To Stand Up And Fight Back Instead Of Complaining

CLEVELAND, Jan. 30. (AP) — Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher and a possibility for the Republican presidential nomination, last night urged business, as a public trust, to "stand up and fight," instead of complaining.

He said the New Deal administration had "stolen the cloak of the Democratic party under which to hide its own socialistic skeleton."

He advocated a widespread program for revealing hidden taxes, asserting "this is no sham battle these New Dealers are putting up. The prize they covet is to run American affairs to suit themselves."

Addressing 1,200 Republicans of northern Ohio at the 33d annual McKinley day banquet of the Tippecanoe club, Col. Knox declared business, by reason of its wide stock ownership, "has a case that is unbeatable—if it chooses to stand up and fight."

"Let businessmen go to the people and tell them the amount of taxes that have to be paid in order that this same public may be served," he said. "Tell to employes the story of taxes. Show them that if it were not for the increasing tax burdens imposed by this present administration that better wages could be paid."

Bandit Leader Back In Jail

Notorious Brigand Who Gave Up And Then Had Followers To Surrender Likely Will Receive Clemency

SAMPALOC, P. I., Jan. 30. (AP) — Nicolas Encallado, notorious bandit leader who was hailed ten days ago as a public hero, was back in jail today.

He was re-arrested in the nearby town of Caviniti after surrender of the last of his followers who terrorized Sierre Madre villagers for nine months.

He was arraigned on a charge of brigandage. His preliminary hearing was postponed and the outlaw locked in the Sampaloc jail.

Leniency Indicated

The charge of brigandage indicated a tendency of authorities toward leniency since his announced reformation, for his band was blamed for 11 deaths in ambuscades and outright murder.

He was welcomed as a hero when he rode through Sampaloc in President Manuel Quezon's automobile enroute to the hills to bring about the surrender of his remaining outlaws. Eighteen bandits had been killed by soldiers.

His three sons and four others surrendered today without urging by Encallado.

Delaware Senator Rises To Defend DuPont After Fiery Attack Staged

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (AP) — Rising to defend Pierre S. Du Pont, Senator Hastings (R-Del.) said today that the manufacturer paid $4,563,588 income tax for 1929 and contributed $982,473 to charity that year.

Hastings, speaking on the floor of the senate, assailed as an "infamous slander" the recent attack which Senator Schwellenbach (D-Wash.) made upon Du Pont.

The Delaware senator said such a "vicious attack" upon "one of the most distinguished citizens of my state" was a "blot" upon Schwellenbach's record.

Schwellenbach, in the course of a speech denouncing the American Liberty league as controlled by "rascals and crooks," had referred to income tax litigation the government has aimed at Du Pont. The government contends a securities transaction between Du Pont and John J. Raskob, another Liberty league backer, was not in good faith.
