Chamber Works On Industrial Survey of City

The Chamber of Commerce industrial committee expects to finish a comprehensive survey of Perryton within the next week or so and will compile a brochure listing industrial advantages of this city, according to committee chairman J. W. Erickson.

This survey will include the retail sales, number of business establishments, total yearly payroll, value of annual crops, market value of livestock, utility rates, the tax structure and a number of other items of interest to firms that desire to locate in this area.

Members of the industrial committee are Erickson, C. E. Whipple, J. B. Whigham, Lester Baumann, George Clennan and John Sammons.

June 22 Is Set As Date for Phone Hearing

Tuesday, June 22, has been set as the date for the next meeting between the city council and officials of the General Telephone Co. regarding the rate increase which the company asked on May 18.

District manager Vic Reynolds of Guymon, rate specialist Red Hightower of San Angelo and J. T. Carlson of the general office will meet with the city council on that date.

Representatives of the company met with the city on May 18, making a formal request for rates about 50 per cent higher than in effect at present.

The company was asked for a breakdown of a number of values listed in their brochure asking for the rate increase. This breakdown concerned primarily the values of poles, cables, wires, etc., carried as assets.

The requested rates would boost the monthly rate of a business telephone from $8.50 to $12.25 and the rate on a residence phone from $4.25 to $6.00.

Scout Drive Is Continuing

The annual Boy Scout fund drive is continuing with workers asked to complete their canvass by this week, according to drive chairman Dean McCutcheon.

The drive began last week with about 30 workers soliciting funds for the annual operation of the Adobe Walls Boy Scout Council.

Goal for the drive is $2,900, same as last year. Funds raised through the current drive pays for professional Scout leadership during the year.

Grain Sorghum Acreage Up As Weather Assists Planting

Wheat Crop Is Better Than Early Estimate

Farmers in the Perryton area are this week launching wide scale operations for grain sorghum planting following an unofficial 5 inches of rain in May which put the land in excellent shape for maize and milo.

Practically all of the abundant rainfall during the month of May soaked into the ground and prospects are considered excellent for a grain sorghum crop with any kind of luck during the summer. No rain has fallen during the week and the fields are dry enough to work.

The government crop insurance program will insure wheat this fall even if it follows maize stubble, and this no doubt will influence some farmers to put all available "leave-out" ground to milo and maize.

The wheat crop in this area continues to surprise the experts. After having been given up when the May 2 freeze hit, much of the wheat has made a remarkable comeback and fields that were written off several weeks ago are being estimated at 10-12 bushels per acre now.

In the east and northeast part of the country are some excellent fields of wheat. O. A. Schuster has a large acreage that is estimated at 35-40 bushels and W. W. Blackburn has a field which looks as if it will yield about the same. These fields, located east of Perryton, are the exceptions, however, and much of the acreage in this county has already been plowed up.

There will be more harvest than originally estimated, however, and the grain sorghum crop prospects are excellent.

Local Golfers To Participate Against Hogan

Perryton golfers can join the nation's players in trying to beat Ben Hogan on National Golf Day, June 5. Arrangements have been made for entry fees to be paid and scores turned in at the local course, with the Perryton Country Club handling the details.

Fee is $1 for competing against Hogan, 1953 National Open champion. The scores turned in are net, after handicap is subtracted.

Every golfer that beats the Hogan score will receive a medal saying "I Beat Ben Hogan." The contest is sponsored jointly by the U. S. Golf Association and Life magazine. All proceeds are contributed to the USO and National Golf Fund, Inc.

For this contest, the Callaway system of Automatic Handicapping will be used, according to Omar Truax of the local Golf See No. 2 Page 6

BEFORE AND AFTER—Graphic demonstration of the effect the May rains had on some Ochiltree county wheat is shown by Giltner LeMaster. On the right are short stalks and heads caught by the May 2 freeze. After being heavily damaged by the freeze, the wheat then "suckered out" after the May rains, producing tall stalks and plump heads, shown on the left. Both size stalks and heads are from the same stool of wheat.

Fifty Per Cent Loss, But Not From Freeze

One Ochiltree county farmer, when asked how his wheat was doing, replied, "Looks like a 50 per cent loss." Questioned further, he said he estimated the 50 per cent as follows: "Well, the freeze got about a fourth of the crop. The other fourth has been lost because every so-and-so that drives by the field jumps out, walks into the field and yanks up some wheat to see if it was hurt."

Story Hour to Begin June 11

The Story hour, a weekly event for children sponsored by the churches of Perryton, will again be held each Friday afternoon this summer at the courthouse lawn.

Car Abandoned South of Town, Owner Sought

Although the ownership has been established, the owner of a 1947 Ford sedan abandoned south of town has not been located, according to Sheriff Ray Phagan.

The car, bearing a Minnesota license, was abandoned at the side of the road about eight miles south of Perryton on about May 22, the sheriff said. It was towed to town on Tuesday of this week after investigation failed to locate the owner.

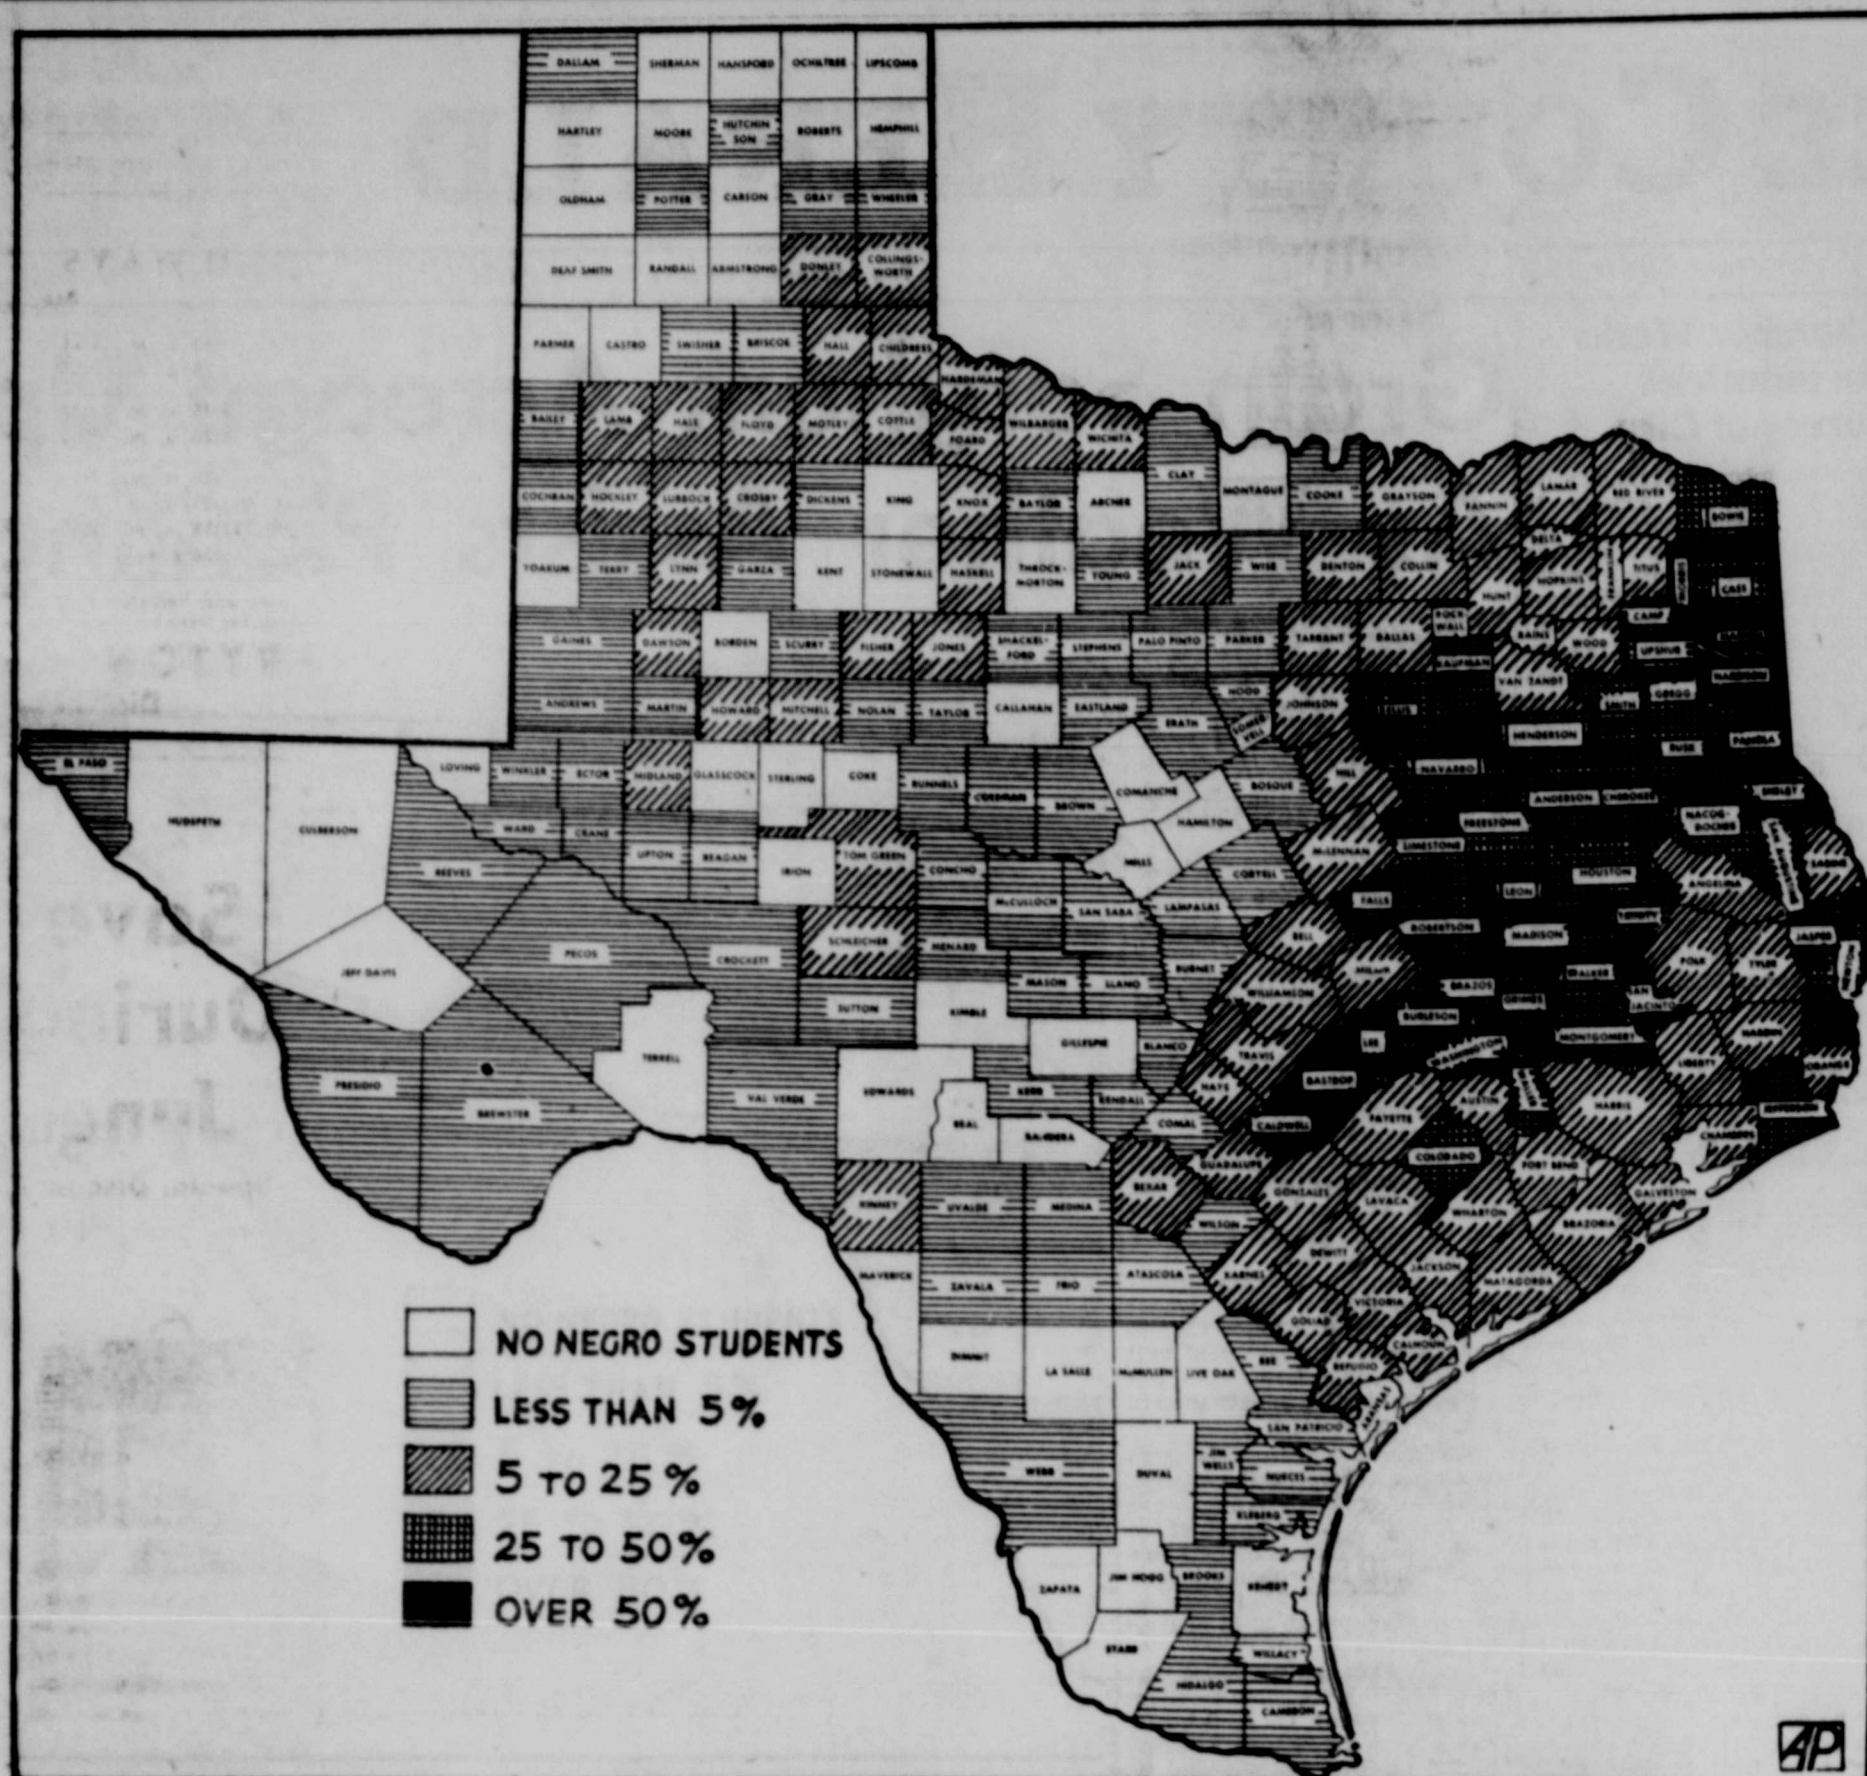

The car had a driver's license in the glove compartment made out to R. L. Richardson. There were two fishing rods in the back of the car and a number of items in the unlocked car apparently had not been disturbed.

The car had a flat tire on the left rear and the tracks indicate it was driven off the road sometime after the rain on Sunday or Monday, since the wheels made rather deep ruts in the mud, Phagan pointed out.

An inquiry has been sent out over the police radio network, See No. 4 Page 6

'Greatest Show On Earth' Is One Of Screen Masterpieces

"The Greatest Show On Earth," one of the masterpieces of the screen, has been brought to the Ranger Theatre for a four-day run, appearing on Sunday through Wednesday, June 6-9. It is a Cecil B. DeMille Technicolor spectacle.

This panoramic melodrama of the circus and circus life is super-showman DeMille's biggest, most lavish and costliest production. Advance reports indicate without exception that it is also his best. More than $4,000,000 and almost three years of planning, research, training and actual production went into "The Greatest Show On Earth." A record 1,500 people were actively engaged in the mammoth project and almost 800,000 crowd extras were recruited for the parade sequences.

DeMille's greatest film achievement is noteworthy for more than its size and scope. It is the first picture to deal authentically with the circus and the performers and workers who keep it rolling. It is also the first Big Top spectacle in which Hollywood stars perform their own circus stunts. Among those who flouted the laws of gravity in the interests of exciting realism are Betty Hutton, who soars daringly above the tanbark as Holly, the trapeze beauty; and Cornel Wilde, who stunts precariously on the flying bar as Sebastian, the dashing aerialist.

Trim Gloria Grahame also displayed a jaunty disregard for the frailties of the human body by supporting an elephant's foot on her face in the role of Angel, the elephant girl. Other stars in less dangerous, but equally authentic, roles are Charlton Heston as Brad, the circus manager, and James Stewart as Button, the clown.

Made with the cooperation of the Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey circus, the DeMille epic features hundreds of Ringling's famed attractions—circus "flyers," acrobats, tightrope walkers, clowns, performing elephants and horses, as well as the entire menagerie of animals gathered from the four corners of the world. DeMille's color cameras also captured intimate behind-the-scenes glimpses of the circus at work and at play. Sequences showing the spangled excitement of the Big Top's arena displays were filmed during actual performances at Sarasota, Florida, and Washington.

Farm Bureau Seeks Approval Ground Storage

WACO—J. Walter Hammon, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, said this week he would like to see the U. S. Department of Agriculture approve ground storage for wheat stored on the ground before the harvest rush to the elevator space begins.

Unless such loans are made, wheat producers will find government approval for their grain to be for government loans and support regulations. The Commodity Credit Corporation problem is expected to be when the 1954 wheat and sorghum harvests begin.

Hammon has been working with USDA officials in Washington since March, trying to get government approval of emergency grain stored on the ground. He has urged them to announce approval before the harvest rush begins to avoid price problems.

Murder Mob Exposed In 'Miami Story'

The whole shocking truth of how the people of Miami rose up to smash the Mob that had made the city its national headquarters is revealed in "The Miami Story," starring Barry Sullivan and Luther Adler. The picture comes to the Ellis Theatre on Tuesday-Thursday, June 8-10. John Baer and Adele Jergens are featured.

When the billion dollar crime ring moved into Miami, the lush resort city became the home of the murder syndicate, the vice ring, the fixed race, the shake-down and the paid gun. The killers walked under the palm trees and sin dwelt in the plush hotels—until Miami blasted back.

In "The Miami Story," Sullivan plays the part of a reformed gangster who is summoned by a Miami citizens' committee to smash the mobsters that had turned America's winter playground into the world's crime capital. Working with the police, Sullivan's job is to get the goods on Adler, kingpin of the mob. Sullivan feigns organization of a lottery racket and thus presents

"Massacre Canyon" Wild Western

An amazing chapter of frontier history is told in "Massacre Canyon," the picture which comes to the Ellis Theatre on Friday and Saturday. The cast is headed by Phil Carey and Audrey Totter and also includes Douglas Kennedy, Jeff Connell and Guinn Williams.

The story of "Massacre Canyon" tells how Kennedy, in charge of the gun-running detail, has his men dress as civilians to keep their mission secret. Their troubles begin when the Indians learn of the guns and, harassed by lack of water, a dust storm, bickering between Kennedy and Carey as to how to meet their desperate plight, the little party pushes on ever deeper into hostile territory. After repulsing a small raid, the group, which includes the two women, is subjected to a savage assault.

Texas Business Activity

Index • Adjusted for seasonal variation • 1947-1949 = 100

ART OF TEXAS BUSINESS—Business activity in Texas during April rose a full 2 per cent over the level for March as measured by the index compiled by The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. This brings the index to 142, only one point below the 1953 figure. Dr. John R. Stockton, director of the bureau, notes this rise represents a recovery of approximately half of the decline in January, 1953, and January, 1954, and seems to indicate that the decline in business, underway since the spring of 1953, is approaching an end.

Harvest Really Begins Before Combines Roll

COLLEGE STATION, June 1—Wheat harvest really begins before the combines roll to the field.

The first step, says Fred T.
Dines, extension wheat marketing specialist, is to rid all storage facilities of possible sources of weevil, rodent or bird infestation. Progressive farmers attend to these jobs now—before the new crop is harvested.

Even a handful of wheat left over from last year may harbor enough weevils to spread quickly into a serious infestation.

With the emphasis this year on storage, Dines recommends that bins be thoroughly cleaned to remove all bits of grain and dust from corners and cracks.
Then the walls and floors should be sprayed with an effective residual insecticide.

Let the pre-harvest clean-up extend beyond the storage bin, however. Feed rooms, small porches of wheat left in machinery and spilled grain are common
"hot spots."

Check for leaks and openings through which moisture may enter. A metal flashing around foundations and over holes serves as an effective rat proofing.
Dines says lumber and trash piles which may harbor rodents should be cleaned up. Traps will help catch rats which are present.

Wettable powders of DDT or methoxychlor at two and a half percent concentration are recommended bin sprays. Another effective spray—calls for fifteenths percent pyrethrin or al-lenthin emulsion. Both are applied at rates of two gallons per 1,000 square feet of surface.

watersheds of Lake Texhoma brought the lake level above the normal

Americanism Is Needed Now, Says Speaker Phillips

A call for more display of the flag, more "Americanism" and less "one-world-ism" was sounded by J. C. Phillips of Borger in a Memorial Day address made Sunday afternoon at the Ochiltree cemetery.

Phillips recalled the days of his childhood when it was popular to be a "flag-waver" and a devotee of "100 per cent Americanism." Nowadays, Americans tend to become apologetic instead of proud of their country, Phillips maintained.

Phillips is editor of the Borger News-Herald and chairman of the state American Legion Americanism committee.

The services were sponsored jointly by the American Legion and VFW. Commander Walter LaMaster of the Legion and Commander Harris Russell of the VFW presided at the meeting.

Tommy Manning, Legion chaplain, gave the invocation and benediction. Mrs. Harold Hudson gave a short talk on Poppy Day and the speaker was introduced by Tom Davis, county service officer.

About 200 persons attended the services.

LaMaster Says It's Time U. S. Woke Up In South America

Perryton, May 29 — Commenting on recent news developments concerning the shipment of arms to Latin American countries, LeRoy "Pete" LaMaster, Republican Candidate for Congress, said today that it was time the United States woke up to the serious threat of Communist infiltration occurring in South America.

LaMaster and his wife spent approximately eighteen months touring Panama, all ten of the South American Republics, the two Caribbean Islands. They went to the interiors of the countries, lived among the people and observed first hand the anti-American propaganda put out by the Communist workers. In many cases they saw signs and demonstrations praising the Communists and degrading the United States.

He said he was surprised to find that the news reaching the people here at home was so misleading as to the true conditions existing there. This is in regard both to official and unofficial news sources. LaMaster states that it was disturbing to him to find such a seeming lack of knowledge of the true situation among the American Embassy and Consulate personnel with whom he talked. It was also disturbing, he says, to find the same lack of concern among the officials of American companies operating in the South American countries. LaMaster makes it plain that this condition existed under the past administration and before the Eisenhower administration had time to evaluate and act on the situation on its own behalf. The trip covered time from December, 1951, through May, 1953.

Mr. and Mrs. LaMaster have given many talks and programs since their return to the Panhandle. Speaking before civic clubs, professional organizations, church groups, schools, and farm organizations, they have stressed the threat of the rapid spread of communism throughout the Latin American countries. LaMaster was quick to agree with Secretary Dulles when he said that the war being waged in Latin America was surely as important as the one in Indochina; the difference being a war of bullets in Indochina and a war for the minds of the people in Latin America.

LaMaster says he feels we can win the war in Latin America by sound and stern action, but that it is important that we have people formulating our policies who know first hand the situations confronting us there.

Auxiliary Nears One Million Mark

Enrollment of one million members in the American Legion Auxiliary this year was predicted today by Mrs. Robert Barlow, Membership Chairman of Pierce Johnson Auxiliary Unit 254, following receipt of June membership figures from the organization's national headquarters.

As June began the Auxiliary had more than 960,000 members enrolled for 1954, the largest June enrollment in the organization's history. With only 40,000 more members needed to reach the one million mark, Mrs. Harold S. Burdett of New York, National President, has issued a special appeal for each of the Auxiliary's 14,000 local units to enroll four members by the Fourth of July.

"For a number of years the Auxiliary's strength has approached but never quite reached one million," said Mrs. Robert Barlow. "Last year the total national enrollment was 989,465. If this year's rate of gain is maintained, the 1954 total will be well beyond the million mark."

"The 254 Unit is continuing to enroll members for 1954 and are welcoming new and renewal members at every meeting. Eligible are the wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of Legionnaires or deceased veterans, and women who themselves were in service during World Wars I or II, or the Korean War."

Unit 254, Perryton has 110 Auxiliary members.

Farm Price Solution?

The Farm Bureau has outlined a farm program in the latest issue of the organization magazine which takes a realistic look at the cost-price squeeze which the nation's farmers find themselves facing.

Recognizing that a program which supports commodities at a fair price yet channels the goods into government warehouses instead of to consumers is faulty, the Farm Bureau has come out for variable price supports.

Along with these variable price supports are other proposals, including (1) encourage high employment with increasing output per man; (2) Expand markets at home and abroad; (3) Move toward a more stable general price level and keep the dollar sound; (4) Prevent monopoly power by government, industry, labor or agriculture; (5) Get a variable price support program that helps move food and fiber to people as the market demands.

Variable price supports tend to keep commodities flowing, production more normal and consumption higher, as well as increasing the farmer's net income, says the Farm Bureau.

This newspaper does not have the details of this variable price support program, but any farm program that will increase the farmer's income, put farm commodities into consumer channels, and reduce the cost to the taxpayer of the price support program certainly has our support. Power to the Farm Bureau!

Some Things Don't Change

In the days when the horseless carriage was very new, a speed of 20 miles an hour would have been considered reckless. Indeed, any driver bold enough to drive faster would likely have been clapped in jail.

This was a reasonable speed limit in the days when cars traveled on roads used mostly by harness horses whose top speed averaged 12 miles an hour.

Times have changed. There are no more horses on the highways. But the principle that puts in the 20 mile speed limit is still sound. It's the principle that speed must never be judged as a separate item. It must always be judged in relation to the conditions in which it operates.

Today we have some good highways and automobiles capable of traveling at fantastic speeds. This gives a false sense of what constitutes a safe speed—a lot of cars travel 70, 80 and even 90 miles an hour today and the driver thinks they are driving safely.

It is no mere coincidence that the accident rate rises in direct proportion to the increase in speed and that the leading cause of accidents in this region, this state and this nation, is excessive speed.

Skates To Faith

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rev. Arthur F. Koons, who is experimenting with a "faith on wheels" program at his roller rink in nearby Westerville, says he gets more queries on spiritual matters there than he ever did "at my churches."

Rev. Koons thinks the reason is "people are afraid to approach a minister at church or at home fearful that they may be broadcasting the fact they have troubles and need advice."

The minister offers a prayer each evening in connection with a flag ceremony. He calls the rink run by himself and his wife an "experiment in the field of juvenile delinquency."

From the SIDELINE with HAROLD HUDSON

Mrs. R. T. Correll is about to be persuaded to compile a history of Ochiltree county, and we hope she goes through with her plan. It will be a lot of work, but certainly the results will be worth while. During the past few years, a number of old timers have passed on, thus eliminating a lot of sources for first-hand experiences about life in the early days of this area.

We doubt that this history of Ochiltree county will be of the dry textbook variety. Mrs. Correll, an old-timer herself, once wrote a first hand account of a prairie fire on these plains and read this account at a Sorosis Club meeting. This was so well received that the Herald reprinted it in 1926 and has since reprinted it three times that we remember. History doesn't have to be dull, and we are sure that this county has plenty of interesting things to relate.

When you stop to think about it, there has been a lot of history made within the memory of a lot of people still living in this area, say for the past 50 years. Many people, who are not so old, either, can remember quite well the development of life from a rather primitive existence with horse drawn transportation, cow chips for fuel, few community gatherings, no electricity or telephones to our present highly developed, nervous sort of life.

Some of us can even remember when there were no such thing as pre-packaged biscuit mixes.

If you want your wife to pay attention to what you're saying, tell it to another woman in a low voice.

Harold Kershaw brought us a clipping from a newspaper telling about a new type of stop sign used in Logan, Utah. Motorists of that city find no signs reading "Stop" when they enter a main thoroughfare from a side street. Instead the signs say "Yield the Right of Way." This permits them to keep going at the intersection if there is no traffic to impede. The reports, according to the American Municipal Association, are that the new signs are followed better than the old, and there have been but two accidents.

Harold would like to see a movement started to put this type of sign at the intersection of county roads with highways. No one stops, anyway, unless traffic is approaching, and this new type of sign would allow a person to slow down and enter the highway, legally. And it is apparently just as safe.

Douglas Meador of the Matador Tribune says the only thing of smaller consequence than a politician's promise is a voter's promise to the politician. More often than not when a candidate talks with a prospective supporter he gets smiles, nods of approval, yesses. Mostly the prospect wants to make the candidate feel good. He doesn't intend to lie when he wishes the candidate well. Mostly the prospective supporter does not want to commit himself and he doesn't mean to when he simply tries to be polite with the politician. The old head in politics knows this and discounts it when he goes to casting up his chances for a successful campaign. The new comer in the business often takes smiles, nods, well-wishes for a promise of a ballot case election day.

Time may be a great healer, but it's no beauty specialist.

We're getting a bit tired of these continual stories in the national magazines about Texas millionaires. You would gather from these stories that every town in Texas is filled with men who have so much dough they don't know where to spend it. Actually, most of us are totally unacquainted with a bona fide Texas millionaire—the kind that buys Cadillac by the gross and maintains hunting lodges in the south and resort hotels in the north. Men like H. L. Hunt and H. L. Cullen are just as remote from most Texans as are Henry Ford, Jr., and the Rockefellers.

We read recently that Kansas is becoming disturbed about the closing down of flour mills over the wheat state. Reason is that Kansas flour mills, dependent upon Kansas wheat, can no longer compete with mills elsewhere grinding higher quality wheat. Costs of importing the better wheat for milling and exporting the flour are prohibitive. The lessening of demand for Kansas wheat is becoming a serious problem and the results of the loss of sales of flour is being felt throughout the economic structure of Kansas.

Basic trouble lies with the producer, of course. By growing "slick head" wheat, more suitable for macaroni than bread, the Kansas product is penalized. Beardless wheat has its supporters who say it produces more, resists drought and insects better, and with the government price support, it makes no difference what variety is used. But since no mill can use it, this wheat goes into government storage and the mills go elsewhere for their wheat to use.

The solution for this problem is simple, too. Merely dock the beardless wheat or pay a premium at the elevator for the quality milling varieties. All the talking in the world don't be as effective to the wheat grower as putting a price differential on his product.

Congo Makes Rain

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (AP)—Belgian Congo authorities are making new rain-making experiments. For some years the climate in the lower Congo has become drier. Cocoa and banana plantations no longer get the moisture needed for full development. A spell of drought brought near disaster. Experiments were started with a new method which dispenses with airplanes. Wood, soaked in silver iodide is burned; the smoke carrying the chemical into the air. The first results of this method appear encouraging, officials say.

Wolf Creek Philosopher

Farming Problems Seem Very Simple

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher takes a look at the world situation this week, and quickly retreats. Can't say we blame him.)

Dear editor:
Understand, I've got enough problems of my own out here on my farm to use up all the think in power I have or ever will have when a man's crops get in the shape mine are in, the world's problems ordinarily seem pretty little, but I never did believe in a man being selfish and devoting all his time to his own problems, so I have been doing some thinkin lately on the world problem.

The way I see it, the world's crops are pretty grassy, too, with a poor stand to start with, and there are some people who ain't sure a crop is gonna be made this year.

The trouble is, there's an outfit in Russia worse than all the insects a farmer was ever bothered with, and up to now hasn't anybody figured out the proper insecticide.

It goes like this: they break out say in Korea, and we spend two years tryin to get 'em under control, and we finally do, at least we back em up to the fence row and keep a guard posted, and then they break out in Indo-China, and the other day I read where there was indications they're gonna break out in Guatemala, down in South America, which is gettin even closer to home, and they're spotted all through Europe and Asia.

It's sort of like fightin prairie dogs by sittin by the hole waitin for one to stick his head up. Even if he sticks his head up and you hit him, another one may come out a hole a little further over, and down below they're still multipl'n faster than through Europe and Asia.

Ordinarily, you might say the thing to do is root out the headquarters, the source of supply, but these prairie dogs ain't like the ones we got around here in pastures, they got powers of retaliation to such an extent there might be some question of who was rootin out who. While maybe we could handle em in the long run, we'd sure suffer a lot in the process.

What to do with them Russians with their unlimited slave labor producin bombs and airplanes for three sorry meals a day, is more than I can figure out, and the more I read the newspapers the more I discover I ain't by myself.

Personally, I'm glad I'm in the farmin business instead of the statesmanship business. Mine's a snap.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

HIS PLAN

How often shall I forgive? Peter thought he was generous when he forgave three times, since that is what the Jewish clergy required. But when Jesus said "seventy times seven," it exploded like a bomb-shell. Peter thought God should be proud of him. Seven is 233% of three. But Peter didn't know God; nor do we. Most men cannot believe how far the love of God will go. Seventy times seven means there is no end to God's forgiveness. As often as we sincerely confess, God will fully forgive. Little narrow souls can't realize how generously God forgives. "Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors," is a dangerous prayer unless we forgive as Jesus did. He who forgives is victor. Seventy Times Seven, means the best way to "get even" is to forget.

Veterans Forum

Q. I'm a World War I veteran, drawing a pension from the VA. My wife has just gone to work part-time. In figuring my annual income, will I have to count the money she earns to see whether I come within the limits of the law?

A. You will not have to count your wife's separate earnings in computing your annual income for pension purposes.

Q. A veteran friend of mine forgot to pay his GI term insurance premium when it was due. He died during his 31-day grace period. Will his beneficiaries receive his insurance proceeds, or are they out of luck?

A. His beneficiaries will receive the insurance proceeds, minus the unpaid premium.

Q. Are all post-Korea veterans affected by the August 20, 1954 deadline date for starting Korea GI Bill training?

A. No. The only post-Korea veterans who must be in training by that date, in order to continue afterwards, are those who were separated from services before August 20, 1952. Veterans separated afterwards have two years from their separation date in which to begin Korea GI training.

Q. If a veteran dies without naming a beneficiary for his GI insurance what happens to the proceeds?

A. The insurance will be paid to his estate in a lump sum.

Bubbleheads Listed

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Heinzer, only woman member of Charleston's city council strongly supported civic development which involved slum clearance.

A leader of the opposition which finally defeated Mrs. Heinzer's project called advocates of such plans "bubbleheads."

Two months went by. Then, at a meeting of council, Mrs. Heinzer quietly arose and said she wanted to update the list of bubbleheads. She read from The Wall Street Journal an impressive list of national figures presently supporting civic legislation such as she had sponsored. The Council received the report in silence.

Christian Science Services 11 a. m. each Sunday Public Cordially Invited

That God's creation is wholly good and complete, and that it is mankind's false belief about God that results in sin, sickness, and death, will be brought out in the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the Only Cause and Creator" to be read this Sunday at the church services.

The theme will be illustrated by this selection from Genesis (1:1-31): "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth. And God saw every thing that he hath made, and behold, it was very good." Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, refers to these verses in this selection from the Christian Science textbook which will also be included in the Lesson-Sermon: "The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all. From this it follows that nothing possesses reality nor existence except the divine Mind and His ideas. . . . Because Mind makes all, there is nothing left to be made by a lower power" (pp. 331, 520). She also says this is "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "There is but one primal cause. Therefore there can be no effect from any other cause, and there can be no reality in aught which does not proceed from this great and only cause" (p. 207).

The Golden Text is from Revelation (4:11): "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created."
