Bitter Challenges Directed At Roosevelt Campaign

Murray States Delegates Are Getting Funds

Fiery Oklahoma Governor Says That Large Sums Are Being Spent To "Buy" Demo Votes For New Yorker

Attorney Rapped

Denies That His Campaign Is Slowing Up; Statement Made By Oklahoma Lawyer Draws Ire Of "Alfalfa Bill"

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, April 13.—Gov. W. H. Murray of Oklahoma charged here today that money was being spent to "buy" Democratic convention votes for Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, and spiked reports he was abandoning his own campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I have made statements about the buying of votes," Murray told newspaper men. "I made them in private conversations. I did not intend for them to be made public at the moment.

Details Are Refused

"However, I did say that money was being spent in North Dakota to buy the state's delegation for Roosevelt, and I said, also in private conversations, that some money was spent for this purpose in Iowa."

Murray said he did not wish to go into detail about these charges at present.

"I'll take them up later, you may be sure," he added. "As for myself, I would rather go down to defeat in a righteous cause than ride the band wagon into Wall street."

Probe Is Requested

A previous utterance by the governor in regard to Roosevelt expenditures in Nebraska brought another request in Washington today by Senator Robinson (R., Ind.), for a senatorial investigation.

Murray was quoted last Friday as saying in a speech at Norfolk, Neb., that $50,000 in eastern money had been sent into Nebraska to win delegates for Roosevelt. He explained the next day he had not intended to convey that idea, but realized later the audience had misunderstood him.

"I intended to convey," he said, "that Arthur Mullen of Omaha, Democratic national committeman, had $50,000 for the Al Smith campaign four years ago, and I was wondering if he had the same amount for Roosevelt."

Less Than $200 Spent

Mullen stated at the time that less than $200 had been spent in Nebraska for Roosevelt and that he had paid it personally.

Democratic Charge Against Secretary Mills Is Hurled

WASHINGTON, April 13. (AP)—A Democratic charge that Secretary Mills is avoiding the responsibility of proposing new taxes brought a prompt invitation today for him to appear a second time before the senate finance committee.

The treasury chief promptly accepted. He will sit down with the committee tomorrow to talk over ways of balancing the budget and perhaps answer the assertion made at the tax bill hearing today by Senator Harrison (D., Miss.), that he "is not willing in this crisis to assume responsibility for making new recommendations."

Tech College Paper Pays Worthy Tribute To Dead Leader

PRESIDENT PAUL W. HORN is dead, but his work lives on!

The best friend any individual in Texas Technological college had has gone to his reward; the man who saw Texas Tech first open its doors in 1925 and become in seven years the state's third largest institution is gone; the most able educator of Texas, or perhaps of the United States, has finished his work; one of the most devout Christian workers of the nation is dead—but his work lives on!

In the opinion of the Toreador, Doctor Horn's place will be exceedingly hard to fill. It will be an almost impossible task to find a man who can assume the duties that Doctor Horn assumed,

EDITOR'S NOTE

This tribute to the memory of Dr. Paul W. Horn appears today in The Toreador, student publication of Texas Technological college. It was written by The Toreador's able young editor, Marshall C. Formby, and is being reproduced here that the general public may gain a reflection of the high regard in which the educator was held by his student body.

to know the people he knew, to be as fair with his fellow man as was Doctor Horn, and to act at all times for the betterment of Texas Technological college as President Horn did.

The Toreador feels that Doctor Horn himself was greatly responsible for the phenominal growth of Texas Technological college. The Toreador is certain that the leadership of President Horn has made the college what it is today.

Numerous Texans have been called the "Father of Texas Tech," but The Toreador believes that on Doctor Horn fell the responsibility of being its actual creator, of visualizing the future of a great institution, and pointing its course in that direction.

The Toreador, the faculty, the student body, Tech ex-es, the people of Lubbock and Texas citizens mourn the death of this great man and extend to the family their heartfelt sympathy.

President Horn has finished his work, but his spirit lives on forever!

Aged "Jafsie" Confident That He Will Uncover New Contact

Retired Educator Is Seeking New Clues; Extensive Plan Believed Underway; Nervous Man Visits Home

(By The Associated Press)

HOPEWELL, N. J., April 13.—The 72-year old "Jafsie" of the Lindbergh case rode an elevated train and a motor car in quest of new contacts with the kidnapers today while police followed the trail of one of the bills he used in a futile $50,000 ransom payment.

Still confident of his ability to negotiate further with the abductors, the retired educator, Dr. John F. Condon, appeared and disappeared from his New York home with amazing rapidity.

Dr. Condon said early in the day that he both "had and has" means of reaching the kidnapers.

He said he knew nothing of an advertisement signed "Jafsie" appearing in a Washington newspaper.

"Ato yes will work with you alone and tell nobody. Jafsie," read the advertisement.

"Probably somebody is using my name," said Dr. Condon.

A strange incident which occurred in front of Dr. Condon's home about 8 o'clock tonight heightened the belief extensive efforts involving numerous "go-betweens" were being made to conduct renewed communication with the kidnapers.

Car Is Noticed

A closed car bearing a carefully dressed middle aged, bespectacled man parked opposite the Condon home, after maneuvering about with its lights cut off. The occupant, apparently nervous, crossed the

Dream Of Rail Line Is Ended

Interstate Commerce Group In Decision Refuses Texas And Pacific Northern's Request For Plains Route

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 13. — Dreams of a new railroad across the Staked Plains of Texas, today were blasted by the interstate commerce commission.

The commission refused to permit the Texas and Pacific Northern, a subsidiary of the Texas and Pacific, to build a new road from Big Spring to Vega with branches to Lubbock and Amarillo.

The road would have been 333 miles long.

Other Roads Serve

A road had been designed to open what is claimed to be territory previously without a railroad. The commission said in its opinion that the road appeared to have been located so as to get the most tonnage available but added that the present time there appeared to be no real need for the line because other roads in the territory supply good service.

A factor in the decision was the showing by the Santa Fe and other opposing railroads as to the amount of undeveloped cultivatible land within 15 miles of present railroad lines.

An examiner had recommended that a portion of the line be built. The commission, however, decided to withhold approval of any new construction at this time.

Smith Tosses Bombshell At Demo Session

Direct Challenge To Hopes Of Franklin Roosevelt Issued For First Time By Standard Bearer Of 1928

Promises To Fight

Other Prominent Democrats Of Nation Are Heard At Dinner Program; Prohibition Gets But Bare Mention

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 13.—A direct challenge to the presidential candidacy of Franklin D. Roosevelt was sounded tonight for the first time by Alfred E. Smith.

Quoting from the New York governor's recent radio speech, but referring to him only as a "prominent Democrat" the nominee of 1928 took issue with the Roosevelt utterances and went on to say:

Fight To End

"I will take off my coat and fight to the end against any candidate who persists in any demagogic appeal to the masses of the working people of this country to destroy themselves by setting class against class and rich against poor."

He added it would be better for the Democratic convention to remain in session "all summer" than to choose quickly a weak candidate and a weak platform.

Dramatic Challenge

The challenge of the former New York governor was thrown dramatically into the midst of a Democratic "harmony" meeting of party leaders for a Jefferson Day banquet. His words stirred immediately to its highest pitch the party strife over Roosevelt's now far-advanced dash toward the nomination.

Roosevelt was not present, having been detained by duties at Albany.

During the day, the assembled leaders canvassed with professed satisfaction the progress of the "victory" campaign fund drive. Other orators united in lambasting the Republicans and predicting a Democratic triumph next November.

Pro Law Mentioned

Prohibition was mentioned only once or twice. Former Governor Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, surprised the banqueters by proposing a compromise wet plank. He asked that the constitution be amended immediately, not by abridging the Harvey Parnell's order dissolving the special session of the legislature and met here today to attempt to enact legislation for governmental economy.

The senate accepted the governor's proclamation adjourning the session yesterday and most of the senators have gone to their homes. At Governor Parnell's office it was said no recognition is being taken of the house members action.

Reinforcements Are Rushed To Aid Of American Plans

GENEVA, April 13. (AP)—The conflict between the American and French disarmament proposals was accentuated today when reinforcements rushed to the support of each plan.

Foreign Minister Dino Grandi of Italy led the advocates of the American scheme to abolish such important aggressive weapons as tanks, heavy mobile guns and gasses. He added a proposal gradually to abolish battleships, airplane carriers and bombing plans. Spokesmen for Turkey and Brazil also lined up behind the United States proposals.

Brooklyn Aviator Offers To Give Up Wife And Child As Aid To Lindbergh

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 13.—Paul Rizzo, 28, Brooklyn aviator, announced tonight he would deliver his own wife and 17 months old son, Paul, jr., to the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby as hostages for safe delivery of ransom.

"I'm a father," said Rizzo, "and I know how Lindbergh feels. My wife and I have worked out this plan together. It might work.

If the kidnapers will communicate with me, I will meet them any place they designate, on land or sea. I will deliver to them my wife and baby, if they will give me the Lindbergh child. I will return the child to its parents, collect the ransom money, fly back with it to them. They can then release my wife and baby by whatever means they desire."

Woman Weeps At Testimony

Icy Reserve Of Defendant In Murder Trial Breaks; State Is Expecting To Close Case Briefly Thursday

(By The Associated Press)

HONOLULU, April 13.—The icy reserve of Mrs. Granville Fortescue broke and melted into tears today as the prosecution drew the name of her daughter into the Joseph Kahahawai lynching case and produced evidence a shot had been heard in or near her home about the time the young Hawaiian was killed.

First the society matron gave way to her emotions when the prosecution hinted that Mrs. Massie, victim of an asserted attack by Kahahawai and four other men, may have been a possible accomplice or accessory in the lynching.

Again Mrs. Fortescue controlled herself only with difficulty when two neighbors testified they heard a shot in the direction of her home, alleged scene of the killing, about the time the prosecution contends the young Hawaiian was slain with a pistol. With final testimony in the record Public Prosecutor John C. Kelley announced his case would be completed in 15 minutes tomorrow morning.

Sorrow Falls Over Texas At Horn's Death

Grieving Friends Pay Tribute To Life Of Educator; Many Messages Of Condolence Are Received In City

Services and accomplishments of the life of Paul Whitfield Horn, student, teacher, college president and friend of man, were expressed Wednesday in eulogies by his grieving friends from Lubbock and Texas, his adopted state and home.

Hundreds of telegrams came to the bereaved family here Wednesday night, but the messages and the senders were not made known outside the inner circle because "they are too personal." Lubbock men who had worked with the college president, educator in other sections, his friends everywhere and students and former students offered condolences.

Wide-Spread Sorrow

Never before in Lubbock had the death of a citizen caused such unanimous and wide-spread sorrow. Every individual, it seemed, felt the college's loss was also his personal loss. On the college campus, as classes were dismissed, hushed groups of students and faculty members gathered to grieve. Downtown the tragedy was on every tongue and flags at the college and over the city hall were at half-mast.

In a long-distance telephone communication Clifford B. Jones, president of the board of directors of Tech, of Spur, expressed profound sorrow of himself and other directors.

"Words fail me at this time", Mr. Jones, who was a close personal friends of the late president, said yesterday. "The sad news, of course, came to me as a decided shock—it came at a time when I, with other board members, was happy in the belief that our friend and co-worker had defeated on-slaughts of ill health.

"It is needless for me to say that the directorate had the utmost of respect, confidence and love for Doctor Horn. The records disclose that fact more forcibly than any words may now. Each of us realizes that he has lost a great and generous friend and that Texas Tech has lost the man who has done more for the benefit of the institution than all others combined.

"Both officially and personally, I grieve at his demise. Yet in the face of sorrow I take pride in the life work of my friend. I proudly salute his fine character, his noble deeds and now, his great memory."

Mayor Expresses Sorrow

"Lubbock's foremost citizen has been called from our midst. I mourn his passing personally as well as officially", Mayor J. J. Clements said yesterday. "As I have often said publicly, while he was still with us, I regarded Doctor Horn as the outstanding educator and college organizer in Texas and the Southwest. The world has been bettered by his life and works. We are all saddened by his untimely death."

Dean Praises Late President

Dr. James M. Gordon, dean of the school of liberal arts at Texas Tech: "My first thought with reference to Doctor Horn is that he was a great friend. No faculty member ever went to him without

Metcalfe Will Name Officers

Reorganized Police Force To Be Announced Friday After Lemond Resigns; Former Fire Marshal Is Named

Lubbock's re-organized police force will be announced Friday morning by Chief Wiley L. Metcalfe, former city fire marshal, who was sworn in as police chief Wednesday. The city commission Tuesday night named Metcalfe to succeed John Lemond, member of the department since March, 1922, and chief for the past five years.

Metcalfe, who had not applied for the post, accepted it Wednesday morning, City Manager W. H. Rodgers said. Lemond submitted his resignation "voluntarily," and the commission accepted it Tuesday night and dismissed the entire force. He had been asked to resign, however, it was said at city hall.

Although Chief Metcalfe gave no indication of the reorganization plans Wednesday night, it was understood at the city hall that several members—and possibly a majority—would remain on the staff.

Force Dismissed

Dismissal of the entire police force was ordered, the city manager explained, so that Metcalfe could form his own unit, retaining whomever he wished of the present personnel of 13 men. Metcalfe was to take the oath of office today. The commission did not name his successor as fire marshal.

Lemond declared yesterday that "it was just one of those things" and that he had no statement to make on the matter.

"Wiley Metcalfe is a good man and one of my best friends and I wish him all the luck in the world, for he'll certainly need it," he said. "I had good support during my administration and have nothing of which I am ashamed of in my rec-

Family Decides On Interment In Private Plot In Lubbock Cemetery; Heart Attack Is Cause Of Sudden Demise

BURIAL of Dr. Paul Whitfield Horn, 62, first president of Texas Technological college, who died here early Wednesday after a heart attack, will be in a family plot in Lubbock cemetery and not as announced by Tech officials Wednesday afternoon, on the campus of the college he served so well.

Announcement of the change in plans was made last night by friends for the Horn family, after it was learned here that one of the nine members of the college board of directors opposed a campus burial. Each of the remaining eight had approved the plan, which required only a majority vote of the directorate to carry out, but the Horn family favored private interment in any event.

Opposition Is Explained

Dissenting member of the board was John W. Carpenter, Dallas utilities magnate, who eulogized the life and work of the dead president but who said he opposed, as a matter of principle and precedent, burial of any person within the confines of the college campus.

The other eight board members who went on record as approving the campus burial were: Houston Harte, San Angelo; Roscoe Wilson, Lubbock; Mrs. F. N. Drane, Corsicana; Riley Strickland and R. A. Underwood, both of Amarillo; Thomas Johnson, McKinney; John A. Hulen, Fort Worth, and Board Chairman Clifford Br Jones, of Spur.

Services At Tech

Funeral services, to be led by Rev. Joe Haymes, pastor of First Methodist church in which Dr. Horn was a leading member, will be held at 5 o'clock this afternoon, as originally announced, in the south cloisters of Tech's administration building. The entire student body, college faculty and thousands of Lubbock and out-of-city people are expected to attend the rites.

Representatives of other state and denominational colleges will have special parts in the funeral services, Dean James M. Gordon, of Tech's Liberal Arts school, said last night. Institutions already listing official representatives are: Texas Christian university, Fort Worth; University of Texas, Austin; Baylor university, Waco; and West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon.

Hill To Be Here

President J. A. Hill, of West Texas State Teachers college and also president of the Texas State Teachers association, will represent his school and the association in person. Dean Colby Hall, of Texas Christian, will represent his institution. President H. Y. Benedict, unable to attend, appointed former Senator W. H. Bledsoe, university alumnus, to represent the University of Texas, and Dr. W. A. Jackson, former Baylor professor.

City's Social Life Is At Standstill Due To The Death Of President Horn

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BRAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

GALVESTON—Perhaps you would like to meet the real boy with whom I have been talking. He was genuine he might have been used by a novelist—or might profitably serve as a model for a writer such as Mark Twain or Booth Tarkington.

His name is Si. He is seven, almost eight years of age, a sturdily-built youngster, full of vitality and with a charm that is reserved for small boys. My introduction to him was when he scrambled into the motor car in which we were making the trip to the air port. That his morning business had hurried dressing was evident from his attire — the last three buttons of his blue shirt had been fastened and his corduroy trousers hung on with the services of two buttons. He was barefoot.

From the immediate interest was aroused between a crude nigger-shooter that he had fashioned that morning and a yo yo, he asked numerous and intelligent questions about airplanes while we were at the port. He was cognizant of every thing that went on even through his attention to each thing was intense enough to suggest preoccupation.

PLAYS THE HOST

WITHOUT being unpleasantly underfoot, he was a very definite part of his family circle and demanded attention without asking it. In return, he paid me visitors' courtesies—loaned me his yo yo and gave instructions in its manipulations; introduced me to his 5-year-old playmate, Simmie; brought in his marble for my inspection and took me outside to see the club house he had shared with neighborhood boys.

This club house, I was told, is headquarters for the Wild Indian club. As I asked questions, Si drew a pistol—one he had carved from a block of wood—from a high shelf in the house and gave it to me for inspection. On the handle he had painted a skull and cross bones and lettered "The Club."

Scraps of boards were scattered about the floor. These serve as seats for the club members—because the floor is dirty, Si and Simmie explained, pointing out other disadvantages of the windowless building.

A knot-hole some three or four inches above the bottom of the door serves as peep hole and allows members of the Wild Indian club to observe activities of a rival club. A similar hole in the roof admits sufficient ventilation.

"I am the only one who can watch at other club," Si told me, "because I am captain of the Wild Indians.

"We can shut the door and they don't tell whether or not we are in. I can lie on the floor and watch them and tell the others. Then, when they are not looking, I can leave and slip around the house, surprising them." His remarks were illustrated with gestures by a grubby hand.

In two recent engagements, the Reds have been defeated, Si added. And Simmie, feeling that he was neglected in this conversation, broke in to say that he was a guard in the last battle.

This interest of mine in Si's affairs was repaid in gallant fashion when he offered me membership in the Wild Indian club.

OTHER CHARACTERISTICS

SI HAD other characteristics, too, to mark him as a typical youngster. His spirited game of catch with his father, his frank admiration of his baby sister and the cheerfulness with which he brought the pie to the table when the colored maid was unavoidably called from the dining room. When all the pie had been served and eaten, he brought his turtle in for exhibition with the same cheerfully casual air.

My last picture of Si was in front of my rooming house. He and his mother had brought me home and as we exchanged farewells, he slipped from the car to roll his yo yo. As these adieus threatened to terminate, Si sidled up to me and importuned: "Talk a little longer, please, so I can yo yo some more."

Why is a Really Good Cup of Coffee So Rare?... The Reason May Surprise You

Almost 70 Per Cent Of All Coffee Now Comes From One Country. Do You Wonder It All Tastes Alike?

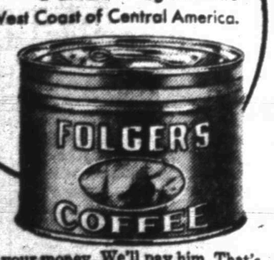

All Alike

20 Different Brands But all coffee from one producing country.

For a Real Change

Try Rare Coffees from a different region—The West Coast of Central America.

For A Real Change Try Coffee From A Different Producing Country

U. S. import statistics show that almost 70 per cent of all coffee sold today is one common kind, all grown in the same producing country. Just put up in different packages, that's all.

That's why you may change the "brand" of coffee you use fifty times and still not improve the coffee you serve. And that, domestic science experts say, is the reason why men so seldom enthuse over the coffee they get at home.

You'll never notice a real change until you get coffee that comes from a different producing country. And that's why thousands are turning to Folger's.

From Central America

The world's choicest-flavored coffees, as any expert will tell you, come from a few tiny districts. They are grown chiefly along the West Coast of Central America. From this famous region we procure coffees with a rare tang and rich mellow body, utterly unlike any coffee you have ever used before.

This is the coffee that Folger brings you today packed in vacuum. It's not only delicious, but thrifty. Its extra richness and quality make it go much further. And its rare flavor is kept fresh from the roaster right to your coffee pot by the latest type of key-opening vacuum sealed tins.

If you want a real change—in coffee—and not merely in name, try it.

A 3-Day Test Of Flavor

Just go to your grocer and buy a pound of Folger's. Drink it tomorrow morning.

Next morning serve the coffee you have been using. The third morning serve Folger's again. Then choose between them.

If, for any reason, you decide against Folger's, your grocer will refund your money. We'll pay him. That's fair, isn't it? ©P. C. C., 1932

Tiny Baby Has New Competitor

CRANE, Mo., April 13. (AP) — Charles Bernard St. John, Kansas City's one-pound baby, has little Billie Jean Henderson as a pace-setter in the race of life.

Billie Jean also weighed one pound at birth. That was March 7. Passing the age of one month, he now weighs two pounds.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Henderson, say he has normal characteristics and is heading rapidly toward manly vigor.

Charles Bernard must wait a week before the trip to the scales which will show what twelve meals a day—one tablespoon full of milk for each—have done for him since his birth April 4.

The doctor told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William St. John, he couldn't stand the exposure and handling just now.

Both fathers are 18 years old. Both mothers are 17.

Lost 20 Lbs. of Fat In Just 4 Weeks

Mrs Mae West of St. Louis, Mo writes: "I'm only 28 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and further more I've never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at Mark Halsey Drug Store, City Drug Store, or any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.—Adv.

Steers Clout Lil Stoner From Mound And Hit Three Homers To Take Lead; Exporters Win Over Santone, 12 To 1

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, April 13. —Playing before an estimated crowd of ten thousand fans, the Dallas Steers opened their 1932 drive for the Texas League pennant here today by beating Fort Worth, 12-4.

The Steers, with Elton Langford and George Loepp leading the attack clouted Stoner and Terry from the mound and accorded Pickrel a royal batting reception.

George Murray, veteran right hander and ace of the Dallas staff, had excellent control and his curve ball gave the Fort Worth batters plenty of trouble. Stoner lacked control, and when he eased up to get the ball over, hefty Steer sluggers would give it a ride.

Henry Bonura, Ernie Holman and George Murray of the Steers hit home runs.

Governor Ross S. Sterling tossed the first ball a strike.

Tomorrow's Dallas and Fort Worth game will be at Fort Worth. Lefty Minogue is scheduled to pitch for Dallas. Whitworth is due to hurl for Fort Worth.

Local Baseball Players Leave

Marshall, Gaither, Hambright Join Five Other Players Of This Section In Journey To Akron And Central League

An exodus of baseball players, the cream of the Plains crop, begins this morning when eight former Lubbock Hubbers, Lamesa Loboes and Amarillo Aviators depart for Akron, Ohio, and the Central League.

Raymond Marshall, Ed Hambright and Red Gaither, outfielders of former amateur and semi-pro clubs, Pitcher Lowell Dobbs of Amarillo, Pitcher Willis Knight and Catcher Dick Ratliff of Littlefield, First Baseman Bailey White of Lamesa and Second Baseman Jim Ballard of Lubbock and Hale Center have signed contracts with the Akron club, and are to report next Monday.

The troup leaves here today for Oklahoma City, from where they will continue to St. Louis, thence to Akron. They will report to J. J. (Honest John) McCloskey, manager of the Akron club.

Fifteen Men Signed

According to reports here, McCloskey has signed only fifteen men to start the training season. Central League clubs are allowed to retain fourteen, including a bench manager, and five rookies with no previous professional experience. McCloskey has intimated that he means to incorporate the South Plains men in his regular lineup. He was here last summer to take the lead in the formation of a Panhandle-Plains league, which failed to get started, and spent several weeks looking over the ivory in this unorganized section. He appeared pleased with the work of the above listed men but did not indicate then that he would call them.

After a lay-off of one year the Central League opens again this season with 8 clubs. All but one club—Erie, Pa.—will play all home games at night, which will be in line with the experience gained by the players here last season.

Pays $250 Per Month

Salary limit of the Akron club is to be $250 per month with a team total of $2,500. The season's schedule begins on May 4.

Hambright, Marshall and Gaither have been main stays of the Lubbock club for the past several years, following an annual return from professional training camps. Last year they helped the Hubbers to set an unprecedented winning record. Hambright led the Hubbers hitting with an average well above .350 per cent, with Gaither running a close second.

Willis Knight pitched the Hubbers to most of their early season victories last year but quit the club toward the latter part of the season. Jim Ballard played at second base part of the season for Lubbock and was one of the most effective infielders. Gaither alternated between the outfield and right field and Hambright played at shortstop and pitched in several games.

Dick Ratliff, one of the best catchers ever seen in this section, was with Littlefield only part of last season, after trying out with the Texas League team earlier. Dobbs was Amarillo's leading right hander. Bailey, "Boots" White of Lamesa was the leading infielder and hitter for the team. A southpaw, he is one of the best first sackers seen in this section since the old West Texas League.

Golf as the STARS play it

by ART KRENZ

The first step toward good putting is learning to hit the putt true. A comfortable stance and grip is necessary to accomplish this.

Regardless of the style of grip, it should be light. Putter should rest in the fingers and thumbs with enough firmness to keep it from twisting when the ball is struck.

One of the greatest putters of all time was the late Walter Travis, first American to win the British amateur championship. His grip put the first two fingers of the left hand over the third and little fingers of the right. Travis taught Bobby Jones this grip when Bobby was a poor putter. He employed the right hand to control the swing and became as great a putter as Travis.

NEXT: The square stance.

INDIANS 6; TIGERS 5

DETROIT, April 13. (AP)—Cleveland and Detroit played a torrid 11-inning baseball game in frigid weather here today, Cleveland winning 6 to 5 before 12,000 spectators, the smallest American League opening day crowd here in 15 years.

Wesley Ferrell went the route for the Indians, allowing 14 hits, but tightening in the pinches. One of the Tiger hits was a home run by Roy Johnson to start the first inning.

Vic Sorrell started for Detroit, allowing eight hits in as many innings before he was removed for a pinch batsman, who was none other than Dale Alexander, supplanted first baseman. He flied out. Hogsett finished for the Tigers, yielding three hits, two of them singles by Porter and Averill in the eleventh which, coupled with a sacrifice by Hodapp, produced the winning run. Chilled fingers resulted in six errors, five of them on the Tigers.

County Champs Of Section To Meet At Tech

Director Del Morgan Announces Order Of Events, Officials Who Will Assist; Finals To Be Held Saturday Afternoon

County champions from 17 South Plains counties are eligible to compete in the district meet, winners to go finally into the state meet at Austin. Twenty-six districts will conduct meets this weekend.

Preliminaries scheduled for Friday afternoon are:

120-yard high hurdle, 2 o'clock; 100-yard dash, 220-yard low hurdles; 440-yard dash, 220-yard dash, pole vault and 880-yard run.

"Sorry, But The Water Isn't Hot . . . "

HOW embarrassing it is to be obliged to apologize for "hot" faucets that run cold at the most unexpected times. Although your guests make no complaint, what do they think of your forgetfulness? Must they wash in cold water? Or, must they wait while you dash up and down stairs, tending fire, wondering if the old tank will ever heat up? Isn't it humiliating to have an out-of-date water heater? What a difference with a Self-Operating Gas Water Heater on the job! No possibility of "forgetting" to heat water when it's kept at the ideal temperature—automatically! Any minute of the day or night there's a cupful or a tubful in reserve for dishwashing, shaving, cleaning, bathing, the laundry or the sick-room. Best of all, this unfailing hot water service costs but a few pennies per day per person.

Man Released After Arrest

Houston Milk Price War Still Being Waged; Hearing Will Be Held Friday For Suspect In Robbery Count

HOUSTON, April 13. (AP) — The first man arrested since the resumption of violence in the Houston milk price war, Fritz Christoph, 40, was released under bond today.

Christoph, member of the South Texas Producers' association, which is in retail competition with certain distributors, was arrested last night on a charge of robbery by assault in connection with the dumping of milk from the truck of D. P. Franz.

Christoph denied the charge. He will be given a preliminary hearing Friday.

Franz told officers he was on his way to Houston at 7 a. m. Sunday when eight masked men stopped his truck and dumped out his milk.

At about the same time, G. Terpstra, another dairyman, was stopped and milk was dumped from his truck, he told officers.

The milk on both trucks was destined for distributors with whom the association is waging a milk price war. Rewards for the conviction of persons responsible for the dumping had been offered by the distributors and also by the association.

Declares Vets Favor Payment

National Commander Of Veterans Of Foreign Wars Talks Before Committee; States Vets Need Money

WASHINGTON, April 13. (AP) — Darold D. Decoe, national commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars, told the house ways and means committee today that "perhaps 98 per cent of the rank and file of the World war veterans" are behind the bonus payment proposal.

Decoe, who came from Sacramento, California, to sponsor the two billion dollar cash payment, said, "conditions are serious and the veterans need the money."

"General Hines, veterans administrator, estimated that last year's loan advances were spent 65 per cent on the necessities of life; 20 per cent on investments; 8 per cent on automobiles and only 7 per cent on purposes from which no benefit was received," Decoe said.

He was introduced by Representative Patman (D., Tex.), who told newspapermen just before the third day's hearing began that he believed Tuesday's meeting of the federal reserve board with the governors of the twelve reserve banks had dealt with the bonus question.

George W. Armstrong of Fort Worth, Texas, discussed the effect of the bonus payment on the monetary system and said enactment of the bill would increase prices and wages.

United States Fleet Will Pass In Review On Tuesday

SAN PEDRO, Calif., April 13. (AP) Massed in a 12-mile column, 127 ships and 300 airplanes of the United States fleet will pass in review Tuesday from Laguna Beach to Santa Monica, Calif.

The great naval pageant, moving near the shore, will give thousands of southern California residents an opportunity to view the strength of the navy's forces massed in Pacific waters.

The route is about 65 miles long. The fleet now is in the vicinity of San Nicholas island, 60 miles off San Pedro, engaging in secret force firing practice. The rumble of the big guns can be felt here.

More heat is required to increase the temperature of water than of any other substance except hydrogen.

Who Cares About Harvard?

BECAUSE of the "razzing" Texas rooters received at the Harvard game last fall, the Associated Press tells us, the grand old hymn, "The Eyes Of Texas" will be supplanted by a new song, "Texas U." It seems that the supercilious Yankees at Cambridge hooted the song's borrowed tune, "I've Been Working On The Railroad," and for that reason some of the thin-skinned followers of the Orange and White decided that a change was needed.

The Morning Avalanche doesn't believe the new song will effectually supplant the old, even if "The Eyes Of Texas" does sport a borrowed tune. Too many traditions cling to "The Eyes Of Texas"; too many heroes have answered its appeal — and the people of Texas will still thrill to the old hymn, despite the new.

We can't see, for the life of us, what difference it can possibly make to a Texan whether the Texas song pleases or displeases Harvard students and New Englanders. As a matter of fact, it seems to us that Texans should appreciate their song all the more in the face of a "razzing" from the gentlemen from the clam and bean sector.

Shades of Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston. Col. Dick Dowling and the years from 1861 to 1865! Texas didn't care what Massachusetts thought in those days! Why bow to the Yankees now?

"Texas U." may be a very good song. Doubtless it is—and every big university needs more than one song.

But as for us, we still appreciate "The Eyes Of Texas." Its reverberating chorus still tingle the spine like those of "Dixie."

What if Harvard "Englishmen" did hoot.

Who cares?

MANCHURIA IN FOR TROUBLE

It is one thing to set up a puppet government without saying by-your-leave to the people to be governed. It is something else to make those people loyal subjects. That is one of the lessons Japan is learning in Manchuria.

As revolts break out in widely separated parts of the country, as thousands of Chinese soldiers are reported gathering, or on the march, with definite objectives and as no attempt is made to organize a Manchurian army to protect the infant state it becomes clearer and clearer that Henry Pu-Yi and his government are supported solely by the Japanese military, and that the overwhelming Chinese population has very little interest, if any, in the new Manchurian regime. Whatever patriotism exists is Chinese patriotism, exemplified by the fact that although the Chinese bands — amounting in some instances to sizable armies—may be shot up and scattered, they are able to gather again a few days or weeks later and renew the struggle.

Some apprehension has been expressed over the prospects of war between Japan and Russia. The Soviet government is said to be fortifying the Siberian frontier. It seems more natural to believe that the local soviet authorities have come to the conclusion that Manchuria is in for a long period of warfare, during which Chinese soldiers will be tempted to seek security on the Russian side of the border, and Japanese pursuers may be ordered to follow them there. Naturally the Russians don't want the Chinese bands, with no visible means of support, running over their crops and through their towns. They don't want to be bothered by interning them and supporting them. Nor do they want their countryside made into a Sino-Japanese battlefield. It is much less troublesome to intrench and keep out all would-be invaders.

But the Russian activities show that they know what conditions are south and west of the Siberian border, and that they have no idea that the government of Henry Pu-Yi is going to be able to impose peace within the far-too-widespread territory which it has undertaken to control—always by means of the Japanese army. That this reading is correct is demonstrated by the fact that the provincial governors in the north and east of Manchuria seem quite unable to hold their own against the Chinese patriots, who have beaten their forces and have approached within a few miles of towns occupied by Japanese troops.

Practical Health Problems

QUACK REMEDIES FOR RHEUMATISM MAY DO HARM

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

PHYSICIANS know that there are many varieties of rheumatic disease and therefore that self-treatment may lead to difficulties. Patients with chronic inflammation of the joints are seen at all sorts of resorts undertaking special baths and similar treatments which in their cases may not be warranted because of the acute inflammatory condition of the disturbance. Investigators in one large clinic of this country endeavored to find out how most of their patients with chronic disturbances were being treated before coming to the clinic. It was found that 75 per cent of them had consulted non-medical practitioners, masseurs, and similar healers, as well as various physicians, without successful results.

Today proper treatment of rheumatic inflammation involves the use of drugs which diminish pain; the removal of foci of infection in the teeth, tonsils, and other parts of the body; the use of physical therapy in the form of hot baths, electric development of heat in the tissues, and finally a controlled diet.

UNFORTUNATELY most patients with rheumatic inflammations do not undertake a regular course of treatment under competent care. They experiment with one method or another without realizing that the attack on this disease must be a profound and complete attack.

Forty per cent of patients treated for rheumatic inflammations were found to have experienced at one time or another with all sorts of rheumatic cures offered in bottles in drug stores.

It is stated that there are 6000 different rheumatic cures sold in Germany, and a brief investigation in this country revealed at least 550 patented rheumatism, gout and neuritis remedies now being sold in American drug stores.

These remedies usually contain, as is pointed out by Drs. Edward H. Rynearson and Philip S. Hench, some product of salicylic acid, or of phenobarbital, a mild cathartic and usually some alkaline preparation. There are, of course, cases in which the administration of one or all of these drugs may be inadvisable, yet time and again patients experiment with these methods on their bodies who would not think for a moment of experimenting with a substitute for gasoline in their cars.

It is well known that persons with rheumatic conditions occasionally get better and again relapse without any certain understanding for the reasons of either the improvement or relapse.

Unfortunately each improvement may be taken as evidence of the value of some new treatment and not as a natural improvement in the course of the disease.

Norris Upholds His Stand

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 13. — Fifteen years ago at this time the name of Senator George W. Norris was one of the six most unpopular in the United States. The country was straining every energy toward active participation in the World war and with five fellow senators—La Follette, the elder; Gronna, Lane, Stone and Vardaman—the Nebraskan was on record in opposition to American entrance into the conflict.

Senator George Norris

Of this half dozen who cast senate votes on April 6, 1917, against the declaration of hostilities with Germany Senator Norris alone is living.

Said Senator Norris, at that time:

"Unborn millions will bend their backs in toil in order to pay for the terrible step we are now about to take. I feel we are about to put the dollar sign on the American flag."

DOES Senator Norris believe now that he was right or wrong in the position he took?

"In my service of nearly 30 years in congress," answers the senator, "I undoubtedly have made many mistakes, but my vote against the declaration of war was not one of them.

"We, with the remainder of the world, are still suffering from that unjust and unnecessary struggle. The terrible condition we now are in and the terrible depression in which all classes of our people are suffering would affect us only in a minor degree if we had kept out of that war. It was a war in which no victory was possible. The vanquished suffered no more than the victorious. It was a struggle in which so far as Europe was concerned all parties to it were completely exhausted.

"IN THAT STRUGGLE about 100,000 of our noblest and best gave up their lives. Many times that number are crippled and injured so that they are leading lives of suffering and misery.

"We know now that we will not get from under the results of the struggle during our lives or the lives of our children. Unborn generations will yet toil and suffer and sweat to pay for our participation in that catastrophe.

"Mainly because of that war most classes of our people, innocent though they be, are suffering beyond the limits of imagination to understand, and will continue to suffer. It is not only the tears of the widows and orphans for the loss of loved ones, but it is the continuous toil of sacrifice which we are all making to save our very civilization from destruction.

"I ALWAYS have been and still am an optimist.

"I believe that better days will come, that honesty in government will regain its foothold, that civilization will recover and that men, women and children will one day be relieved from the struggle and will have the necessities, the comforts and even some of the luxuries of life.

"But before that day comes we must continue in our struggle and in our sacrifices with earnestness and hope.

"After every war of any magnitude there has resulted the drifting of property into the hands of a few. While thousands were risking their lives upon the battlefield, other thousands were coining the blood of their fellow men into gold. And this war, being greater than any which ever preceded it, has resulted in a smaller number of people owning more of the wealth of the world.

"THE TASK which faces us now is to realize our country and our civilization of a possibility that only a comparatively few will own all the wealth of the nation while the remainder will be peasants and economic slaves.

"The one duty which confronts us now more than any other is by our system of taxation to place a tax upon inheritances which shall be at a rate progressively advancing and sufficiently high to bring about a redistribution of the ownership of property and the possession of wealth.

"I CAN SEE no other way into the open and into the field and realm of happiness for our people unless we levy a tax upon large fortunes, giving liberal exemptions—a tax nevertheless heavy enough not only to raise the money to operate the government and pay the expenses of the war by this means but to bring about a more equal distribution of wealth.

"An inheritance tax is the fairest ever devised by man. It is not expensive to collect and with a liberal exemption it brings no hardship from any class of our people.

THE POLICE SHAKE-UP

There is nothing unusual about the fact that Lubbock has a new police chief, that the department is being given a general "shake-up" and that the old chief is out of the department.

Similar instances have cropped up here before. The same thing happens in countless cities and upon many occasions.

The position of chief of any police department is a precarious one. No man can hold it without making for himself an appreciable number of enemies—especially when he holds the position for a period of five years, after residing in the community for almost a lifetime and becoming personally acquainted with its citizens.

In justice to John Lemond, The Morning Avalanche has no hesitancy in stating the opinion that he left the department in better shape and more efficient than he found it. Of course, he made of it no perfect machine. There are no perfect police departments.

Selection of Wiley Metcalfe as the new chief, we believe shows keen judgment. Had this newspaper been asked to name Mr. Lemond's successor it would have named Chief Metcalfe entirely upon his record and reputation here, his experience in police work and his fine tenure of office while desk sergeant.

We agree with Mr. Lemond's brief statement, issued yesterday in which the out-going chief remarked: "Wiley Metcalfe is a fine man. I wish him all the luck in the world—he'll need it."

We likewise wish Chief Metcalfe luck, whether he really needs it or not.

If he makes as good a chief—and we believe he will—as he made a desk sergeant, he'll fill the bill.

The record is his to write.

The real trouble at Washington is that the government has been living beyond our incomes.

A STARK TALE OF HORROR

The steamer "Mayflower" plying the 12 miles between Barry's Bay and Combermere, Canada, foundered in a howling storm in Lake Kaminiskeg on the night of November 13, 1912. There were 12 men aboard and a coffin containing the body of a man named Brown, who had died in Yorkton, Sask., and was being taken to Combermere for burial. Only three men survived the wreck of the steamer that night. They clung to the coffin of the dead man as it floated off the deck, and held grimly on until it grounded on an island. The survivors told a tale of stark horror of being buffetted by the waves in a blizzard, in darkness on their raft of death.

TOMORROW: A MOST MIRACULOUS ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

The dime-a-dance girl

By JOAN CLAYTON

copyright 1932 NEA FEATURES, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ELLEN ROSSITER, beautiful 20-year-old, falls in love with LARRY HARROWGATE, young artist whom she meets at Dreamland, a dance hall where she works as hostess. Larry is engaged to ELIZABETH BOWES, debutante, but pays attentions to Ellen until his fiance returns from Europe.

Believing Larry is lost to her, Ellen agrees to marry STEVEN BARCLAY, 57 years old and wealthy, who has paid hospital expenses for her brother, MIKE, injured in a street accident. Ellen knows such a marriage will provide for her mother MOLLY ROSSITER, and make it possible for her sister, MYRA, to marry BERT ARMSTEAD.

Barclay has been married and divorced. Scandal accompanied his divorce, and fearing this talk may be revived, he and Ellen agree to keep their marriage secret until they sail for Europe. Barclay wants to settle a fortune on Ellen but she persuades him to wait until after the ceremony. Barclay's lawyer, SYMES, regards Ellen as a gold-digger.

In a double marriage in a small Connecticut town Barclay and Ellen and Myra and Armstead are married. Barclay and his bride drive to his Long Island home. She reads in a newspaper that Larry's engagement to Elizabeth Bowes is broken.

That night when Barclay comes to Ellen's bedroom he suffers a fatal heart attack. Ellen calls for help. Doctors, nurses and Symes, the lawyer, arrive. Symes, who has been trying to reach Barclay all day, tells Ellen her marriage is not legal because papers proving Barclay's divorce have been stolen. She agrees to forfeit all claim to the fortune in order to avoid scandal. Only FERGUS, the butler, knows of her presence in the house that night. Then Ellen learns Larry Harrowgate is Barclay's nephew.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XL

Ellen sat stunned and quiet for a long time after the two men left her.

Larry Harrowgate was Steven's nephew! Over and over again she prayed that Larry should never know she was slipping like a dismissed servant from the great house where only last night she had been mistress. Over and over she prayed he would never learn of her shame and humiliation.

Larry—to think that it should have been Larry!

She stared blindly out at green, shady lawns dappled with autumn sunshine and breathed air sweet with the tang of fall and brush fires. Far away a lawn sprinkler was whirling and a man raked leaves. Beyond the tennis courts there was the sparkle of blue water. The cars that had stood in the driveway were gone.

There was in that peaceful scene no hint of the tragedy that had befallen Steven Barclay. Ellen wondered why she could not cry again and had only the exhausted conviction that she should be weeping for him who had loved her.

"It's all over," she said half aloud. "I'm going home."

Ah, to escape from this luxurious, hideous place! The thought of Molly, of Myra running into the familiar kitchen and chattering, of Mike looking up at her so confidently, was like a dream. Ellen's eyes ached for the familiar sights, for her own tumbled bedroom, for the marble-topped bureau with the stain from spilled perfume.

Here in this hateful room she stood waiting for them to smuggle her away as though she were a criminal. She knew that Symes pitied her and she did not want pity. The doctors had been surprised at her presence, had regarded her, she felt, with contempt. She did not want that, either.

When Fergus came in to pack the newly initiated bags that she would never use Ellen wanted to cry out that she would leave her clothes here. She wished never to see the pretty frock again. She wanted to explain to the silent, impersonal servant why she was here—what had happened. But that she could not do. She was sworn to silence and to deceit. Symes had warned her to say nothing. How Ellen hated it all!

Fergus glanced at her from time to time as he packed her clothes. It did not matter what he was thinking, Ellen told herself. Resolutely she pulled on a little felt hat and tucked in the strands of brilliant hair.

It did matter of course. She remembered again and with a sinking heart that she had given Mrs. Clancy's telephone number to Fergus. How she wished that she hadn't. But all this was foolish! How could such a tiny circumstance be important?

What was Fergus thinking.

"Mr. Symes is waiting for you in the hall, miss," he said, as he strapped the last heavy bag.

Again that strange, oblique glance. It had been "madame" the night before. Ellen's cheeks burned.

"I want to see Steven—Mr. Barclay before I go.", she said, her throat dry.

"I'm afraid, miss, that's impossible," the butler told her smoothly. "He's been taken to the hospital. It was thought best."

Ellen followed him down the stairs into the dark, cool hall. Symes took her arm and Fergus carried the bags to the car. The butler watched as the limousine rushed down the winding driveway.

"I—I wanted to see Steven again."

Side Glances — By George Clark

"We've had complaints about snoring at this address."

She CALLS it "NERVES" — but it's really SELF POISONING

If you are often headachy, upset, irritable, "on the ragged edge," call it "nerves" if you must, but the truth may surprise you.

Millions of people who complain of "nerves" are really suffering from self-poisoning. Poisons from putrid waste in the intestines have been absorbed into the blood. The polluted blood in turn carries these poisons all over the body, making you achy and "nervous," and in time affecting the kidneys and other vital organs. Often the irritation reaches the brain.

So why be in a hurry to call it "nerves"? Why not try to learn the truth by making a simple little test?

AN AMAZING TEST

For the next three nights take B-L Tonic. If your case is like those of thousands of other so-called "nerve" sufferers you will be amazed at the improvement in three days. Your "nerves" will rapidly quiet down. Your system will eliminate a startling amount of foul-smelling poisons. You will feel healthier, happier. But that is only a promise of the reward to follow. Continue taking B-L Tonic every night for three weeks. You will thereby keep the poisons from regaining a foothold in your blood. Meanwhile the stimulating properties of B-L Tonic will sharpen your appetite, improve your digestion, and thus help build up a more robust resistance to disease. Nine chances out of ten that's all you need to get rid of your "nervousness." Get B-L Tonic at Mark Halsey Drug and druggists everywhere.

Plan World Hop In Five Days

flight around the world, the object of which is the cutting in half of e present record held by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, is being plan- d by George Gerhart(left) and Orville Scott, plane builder and pilot spectively, of St. Louis, Mo. Leo Sullivan, veteran Navy flier, will be cott's co-pilot on the venture, which they hope to accomplish in five ys. Starting from St. Louis, they plan to make only two stops, one at ris and one at Tokio, Japan. Gerhart is now building the "mystery ane" at Midway, Cal., and the flight is scheduled for June.

I suppose so," Ellen said, swal- ing the lump in her throat. "Only w that everything's arranged — afraid."

Nothing to be afraid of," he as- ed her. "You'll be home soon ."

ey drove in silence through the ming country side where busy ewives were ordering the day's ries, children played and quar- on front lawns, and dogs ran o bark at passing vehicles. They d factories and warehouses. El- aw the bent heads of workers reat windows. The sig became y and oppressive.

ey reached the outskirts of attan, looking grimy and be- led in the noon sunshine. Each fresh landmark, bringing her nearer home, was grateful to Ellen's eyes.

Pine street at last, shabby and filled with children skylarking dur- ing the lunch hour. Symes left El- len at the door of the apartemnt. She was so eager to be away that she scarcely heard him say he would call in a few days and that she was not to be afraid. She was almost sick with emotion and frantic relief at being home.

They were all out in the hall the moment they heard her knock—Myra and Bert and Molly, laughing and crying and trying to kiss her all at once. No questions—Symes had prepared them.

Talking, half-crying, they drew her into the living room and forc- ed her to the couch, Ellen's arms were about her mother's neck. Her cheek was pressed against her moth- er's cheek and her tears were wet against her mother's face.

"It's all my fault," Molly was sobbing. "That my little girl should have suffered so when I'm to blame—"

"No one's to blame."

"Ellen's right," put in Myra. "No one is to blame!"

"I'm glad," said Molly with spirit, her face still damp with tears, "that you made them understand you didn't want the money. We Ros- siters can get along."

"Sure we can," commented Bert, half - embarrassed, half - proud. "There's a man in the family now."

Ellen had not known until then what secret fears had harassed her. Far from being disappointed Molly seemed not concerned at all with the loss of the Barclay millions. The mother and older sister exchanged glances.

"Let's tell her now," said Molly.

"Tell what?"

"A surprise," Molly went on in- coherently. "They thought it would be all right and it was less expen- sive."

"Mike's here," Bert explained.

Ellen was up from the couch in a flash and running toward the bed- room. Propped high among the fat, white pillows of her own bed lay Mike. He turned his flushed, rosy face to her, and she was beside him, showering his face with those kisses he so detested.

This time Ellen's tears were tears of joy.

Three Minute Relief From Your Headache

When you have one of those vio- lent,-nerve-racking headaches, from inorganic causes, you can get sooth- ing relief in three minutes with "B.C.", a reliable, pleasant-to-take remedy. "B.C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it con- tains several ingredients, so blend- ed and proportioned as to accom- plish in a few minutes what we be- lieve no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B.C." should also be used for the relief of mus- cular aches and pains, common colds and neuralgia; for reducing fever and quieting a distressed ner- vous system without opiates, nar- cotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B.C.", in 10c and 25c pack- ages, wherever drugs are sold.—(adv.)

Bray's are cleaning and pressing clothes, at an alarmingly low price, but they have not cut their QUALITY, and they will quit, before they SACRIFICE QUALITY for PRICE . . . With the large volume of business that we are doing, we are giving the same HIGH QUALITY as always.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, April 13. (AP)—Cotton was quiet today, prices fluctuating without definite trend. The close was steady, the general market showing 1 point net up to 2 net down.

The market opened steady in sympathy with Liverpool cables which were 4 to 5 peany points better than due. May traded up to 6.36, July to 6.44 and Oct. to 6.68, or 5 to 6 points above the previous close.

Prices made new lows for the day at 6.36 for July and 6.60 for Oct. There was a slight rally of 1 to 3 points on covering at the end. July closed 1 point net up and Oct. 2 points net down for the day.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, April 13. (AP) — After holding steady most of the day, cotton eased in the last hour realizing or reselling by recent buyers, apparently influenced by the decline in wheat and the indifferent showing of the stock market.

May contracts broke to 6.18 and closed at that price, the general market closing steady, net unchanged to 2 points lower.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 13, (AP) — Under a heavy load of selling to realize profits, grain values tumbled today, powerless to hold to its recent bulge of almost 8 cents.

A low barometer in Texas was regarded with suspicion by many traders as perhaps indicative of a general break-up of drouth.

Wheat closed unsteady near the day's bottom level, and 1 1-4 to 1 3-4 lower than yesterday's finish, corn 1-4 to 5-8 down, oats 1-4 to 1-2 off, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents decline.

Stocks Back And Fill Irregularly In Wednesday Trade; Loss Is Fractional

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, April 13. (AP)—Against a background of cheapening credit and a batch of negative or disappointing trade reports, stocks backed and filled irregularly today.

Although the closing was lower, net losses in pivotal issues were largely fractional. Probably of more importance than the charges was evidence that recent waves of liquidation had subsided into a trickle, for only 1,090,200 shares changed hands, the smallest volume in a month.

There were roughly a dozen exceptions to the rule of narrow losses. Peoples gas, in common with other Insull issues, was down 10 1-4 net. Norfolk and Western suffered a late break of 8 1-2 points. Lambert and Drug, Inc., sold off about 3. City Ice and Fuel slumped 5 and Standard Oil of New Jersey reacted more than a point. Coca Cola's 3 point dip to a quotation just under par left American Telephone and Homestake Mining in sole ownership, among active common stocks, of quotations above 100. Union Pacific lost 2 net, which meant violation of the 50 mark and Atchison was off 1. Otherwise little of interest happened to the rails.

Livestock

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

Replacement steers, 4.00@6.00. Kansas City received 6.65 for a consignment of choice 1,021 lb. fleshy white-faced feeders. Receipts of 31,400 at eleven markets exceeded by about 1,000 those of last Wednesday and the same day a year ago.

Shelton Has A Few Aces For His Job Claims

When J. E. Shelton of Brownfield reported he held 22 jobs, he held seven aces up his sleeve for an emergency.

The crisis came and his crown was threatened when A. J. Payne, chamber of commerce secretary and what not of Slaton, belittled Shelton's position and claimed 26. Now, Shelton brings to mind some jobs he forgot and one he had not intended to mention, as follows

Treasurer of the chamber of commerce; bookkeeper for the chamber of commerce, director of a highway association not mentioned previously; acting county agent, "with no salary and no authority from A. & M., stenographer for South Plains coaches No. 2; stenoghapher for Black Fox stages; elder in the Presbyterian church.

The Brownfield CC secretary who started the ball rolling here by pooh-poohing the Geneseo, Ill., clerk who claimed 15 jobs, darkly hinted he still has a deck of high cards in his cuff.

"I notice also that friend Payne mentions numerous chamber of commerce committees that he either heads or of which he is a member. I want to warn him that he had better not start on that line because I happen to be directly included in every committee of that nature, that ever occurred to the mind of mortal man," said Shelton.

Shelton blamed the Geneseoan and Payne for bringing church affiliations into the controversy. "I might say that my wife undertook to keep me from mentioning my church affiliations, as she knows what they are, but I informed her that I was not going to let my rivals get by with any stuff like that, because they are not jobs. I am an elder in the Presbyterian church, not very active and should be fired and would be except that the church rules forbid it."

Shelton indicated he might be a little worried about getting some more jobs, for

"A citizen of this town called me up and wanted to know if I represented the Red Cross. I hope that they are not going to shove that off on me."

ord as chief."

"Of course, it's tough to be out of a position, especially in times like these, but as I've just said, it's one of those things."

He said he had made no plans as to the future.

Lemond became a member of the Lubbock police department in March, 1922, and has been chief about the last five years. He is a former cowman. He had served a longer unbroken period as peace officer in Lubbock than any other man still active. He resides at 2412 Sixteenth street.

The present police department, the beginning of which is traced to completion of the city hall in 1934, is composed of a chief, two desk sergeants, an identifications officer, two motorcycle policemen, and eight patrolmen. The day desk sergeant also is corporation court judge.

Metcalfe was a member of the 111th engineers of the 36th division of the American Expeditionary forces at Camp Bowie at Fort Worth about 14 months, was detached about three weeks before his group sailed, and was sent to New Orleans to supervise organization of the fourth battalion of United States guards, a coast guard unit. He was a sergeant in Company B of the guards, was promoted to second lieutenant and made a bayonet instructor, serving in a dozen or more camps in that capacity.

From 1918 to 1923, he was general labor foreman of the Little Rock air intermediate depot of the United States army. He served as a desk sergeant in the Lubbock police department from June, 1925, to late September, 1926. Becoming foreman of the city warehouse, he retained that post about a year and a half; was business solicitor for the city light plant for about a year, and then became local agent for an oil company. Metcalfe has been city fire marshal about the last 18 months. He lives at 2102 Fifteenth street.

The called meeting of the commission, at which it accepted Lemond's resignation, appointed Metcalfe, and ordered technical dismissal of the force, began at 7:30 o'clock at City hall and lasted until about midnight.

Sorrow Falls Over Entire State Of Texas At Passing Of Dr. Paul Horn

having a most sympathetic hearing, whatever the problem was. He was likewise a great friend to students. It is given to few men to know students as did Doctor Horn. He has served in almost every teaching capacity from the rural schools to a college presidency. He was a close observer of human nature. He had a great heart. He was a great churchman. Any college, denominational or state-supported, is fortunate to have had at its head a man so thoroughly grounded in Christian faith and principles as was Paul W. Horn. He was a great Christian, tolerant, forgiving, with a faith unshakable. We shall sorely miss him".

Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor First Presbyterian church—"The South has lost one of her outstanding educators. Texas has lost her leading citizen. Lubbock has lost a trusted friend. Texas Technological college has lost her tireless leader. Loved ones have lost a beloved companion. But Heaven has gained an eternal soul."

Bean Offers Tribute

George R. Bean—"In my estimation Doctor Horn was the most influential citizen in Lubbock. He always stood for right and because of his high character and position, he had the greatest influence for right and good."

Dr. W. A. Jackson—"I had known Doctor Horn before coming to Texas Tech. I have never come in contact with a man who was more intensively interested in being of some service to the people in general, to their lives, to the community and to the state. He was especially interested in his students. I have never met a man I consider fairer in his dealings. He was fair and square and my respect for him as a man increased with the passing of time. I consider his going a very great loss to the State of Texas and a greater loss, if possible, to Lubbock and Texas Tech."

O. L. Slaton, president First National bank—"I considered Doctor Horn a very fine man and an able educator. His passing is a great loss to the town and the institution. He will be very hard to replace."

Rotary Head Speaks

Homer D. Grant, president Rotary club—"Doctor Horn's death is an irreparable loss. Texas and the entire Southwest has lost one of the greatest men they have ever had. One of the greatest things, to my minds, which characterized this noble man, was his kindness and deeds of goodwill, done without the slightest ostentation. Our club will miss him."

W. S. Posey, vice president First National bank—"I feel that in the death of Doctor Horn, Lubbock, Texas Tech, the State of Texas and the entire educational world has lost one of the ablest of leaders. His life was one filled with noble deeds and in death the memory of those deeds and the principles for which he stood will not be forgotten."

Mrs. H. F. Godeke, president City Council Parent-Teacher association—"Doctor Horn was outstanding, both as a college man and as an individual in private life. His passing is a great loss to the community."

C. Of C. President

Sam C. Arnett, president Citizens National bank—"We all feel that we have lost a true friend and a good man. I, as well as all who knew him, was very fond of Doctor Horn and I feel that his death will mean one of Lubbock's greatest losses.

Rev. W. P. Jennings, pastor First Christian church—"I considered Doctor Horn one of the biggest men in all Texas. I was intimately associated with him in various organizations. Doctor Horn always had a message for his associates and was one of the most versatile of men. He never refused to lend his assistance for good and didn't know the meaning of the word 'no.' He was always The Rotary club, of which Doctor Horn was a member, paid him tribute in a resolution drafted by W. A. Jackson, Tom Gaston and Neil H. Wright, in which it was said:

Greatest Rotarian

"Paul Whitfield Horn was the greatest Rotarian among us. It is difficult for us to see how we can get along without his many services. Man does not understand God's ways. Would that we might have him with us always. God has seen fit to call him from early service.

"Therefore, be it resolved by the Lubbock Rotary club that we extend to his beloved family our deepest heartfelt sympathy in this their hour and our hour of sorrow."

Messages of condolence came to Dean Gordon from President S. H. Whitley of East Texas State Teachers college, at Commerce; President A. W. Birdwell of Stephen F. Austin State college, at Nacogdoches; Dean R. P. Jarrett of West Texas State Teachers college, at Canyon; and President L. H. Hubbard of the Texas State College for women at Denton.

T. C. U. Prexy Wires

From President E. M. Waits of Texas Christian university at Fort Worth came the following message:

"The president and faculty of Texas Christian university express sincerest sympathy to the family of President Horn and faculty of Texas Tech in your great sorry. Regret that an urgent engagement will prevent being present at funeral."

E. N. Jones, acting dean of Baylor university at Waco, wired:

"Sad message received. President Allen being notified, wiring W. A. Jackson to serve as Baylor's official representative."

W. H. Rodgers, city manager—"Doctor Horn was one of the most loyal citizens I ever knew. He gave his time, energy, intellect—and his life—for Texas Tech and Lubbock."

All Mourn Together

E. L. Pitts, county judge—"In the passing of Doctor Horn the entire south, and more particularly Texas and West Texas, has lost a friend, and educator, and a clean, conscientious, religious minded citizen, whose place can hardly be filled. I feel sure that all good citizens shall mourn together the loss of such a man."

Amos H. Howard, county clerk—"As an educator and citizen, Doctor Horn was outstanding. His loss is inestimable."

Miss Pearl Harrison, secretary to Doctor Horn—"Doctor Horn was the biggest man I have ever known. During the four and one-half years I was associated with him in his office, I never knew him to refuse to help anyone who asked his assaitance. He was never too busy to be a loyal friend. His daily life reflected the highest possible type of Christian character. He loved his work dearly and he had the rare ability of accomplishing a large volume of work in a short time. Nothing too good can be said of him."

Worked For Youth

W. G. McMillan, president of the South Plains Boy Scout council—"Doctor Horn's passing leaves a vacancy in Texas and in Lubbock that will be difficult to fill. His tireless efforts and interest in youth of today marked him as an outstanding influence among boys. The entire South Plains has indeed lost a most faithful leader."

Ethridge Eagan, president of the Tech Alumni association—"It would be most appropriate that the final resting place of Doctor Horn be on the campus of the school for which he labored so unstintingly. He was a friend of mine—he was a friend of every student who went to Tech."

Rev. J. O. Haymes, pastor of First Methodist church—"First Methodist church feels keenly its great loss in the passing of Dr. Horn. And, I personally, feel that I have suffered the loss of a warm and loyal friend. Dr. Horn was a great man from whatever viewpoint he should be measured: great in heart, great in mind, great in the breadth of his vision and sympathies, great in the extent of his influences and great in the nobility of his Christian character. It was said of one of old, so it may be said today: 'Know ye not that there is a prince and a great man fallen this day in Israel'."

Thousands Will Pay Last Respects At Horn Funeral In Lubbock Today

and now head of Tech's department of government, will represent the Baptist school.

Associated Press advices from Abilene last night were to the effect that administrative officers of the three institutions there would be in Lubbock to represent Simmons university, Abilene Christian college and McMurry college.

Pallbearers Chosen

Pallbearers will be: Clifford B. Jones, Spur, and Roscoe Wilson, Lubbock, members of the board of directors; J. M. Gordon, A. H. Leidigh and O. V. Adams, deans of the college; W. T. Gaston, business manager; E. L. Dohoney, registrar, and C. A. Sanford, long-time friend.

The body lay in state in the Horn home last night and will remain there today until the services. This afternoon from one-thirty until two-thirty, students and faculty members will file past the bier after which the casket will be closed. Rix funeral directors are in charge.

Cadets Called Out

Col. C. A. Davis issued a call last night asking that all members of the college cadet corps report to the armory at two o'clock this afternoon for traffic duty during the services.

The Tech president was stricken just after his morning bath and he called to members of his family, telling them that he was faint. He lapsed into unconsciousness as they immediately summoned Dr. M. C. Overton, who arrived just as Dr. Horn was dying. Mrs. Horn and an only daughter, Ruth, were in the room along with Dr. Overton when the end came.

Besides Mrs. Horn and Miss Ruth Horn, the dead president is survived by a brother, E. Y. Horn, editor of the Terrell Tribune, who is to arrive by train this morning.

Dean Gordon, who had called at the residence shortly after eight o'clock to inquire of the president's condition, was notified and the news soon cast a shadow over the campus as classes were dismissed and the deans called into council.

No Classes Today

The deans decided to call the students back into class Thursday morning but an announcement last night from Dean Gordon said that no classes would be held at all Thursday. Regular class work will be resumed Friday morning.

The Texas State flag atop the capitol building at Austin was at half mast Wednesday, an Associated Press dispatch revealed. Flags on the Tech campus and atop the city hall here were also at half mast.

After sixty-one years of almost perfect health, the college president had been ill since January 17, a day before he underwent an operation for acute appendicitis.

Gaining rapidly after the operation, he was dismissed from the sanitarium and in less than three weeks' time was again at his desk. In the latter part of February, he attended a meeting of the board of directors of the college in Dallas and en route home became ill on the train. He was placed in the sanitarium again on March 10, suffering from a kidney ailment and threatened with a nervous breakdown, but he again rallied and showed improvement. He was kept under treatment in the sanitarium but for the past two weeks had been allowed to take automobile rides with members of his family over the city and on Sunday, April 3, motored to Plainview.

Went Home Monday

On Monday of this week, he was released from the sanitarium and returned to his home. Since his return to his home, he had continued to improve and Tuesday afternoon when he called for treatment at the sanitarium, he received permission from Dr. Overton to attend the noon luncheon Wednesday of the Lubbock Rotary club.

Dr. Horn's career as an educator reached from Oregon to Mexico City since 1884 when he began teaching in rural schools of Johnson county, Mo., at the age of fourteen. He received his master's degree from Central college, Fayette, Mo., in 1888 and again resumed his work as a teacher and administrator in public schools and colleges which took him to many parts of the United States and once to the City of Mexico, where he was in charge of the American School.

Married In 1890

After his graduation from Central, he taught in Scarritt Collegiate institute at Neosho, Mo., and later at Pryor institute at Jasper, Tenn., serving as president of the latter school from 1890 until 1892. He and Mrs. Horn (Maud Keith of Cleveland, Tenn.) were married Aug. 28, 1890.

He then came to Texas and taught in the Valley View and Belcherville schools before going to Sherman in 1895 as principal of Sherman high school.

He held this post for two years when he was elected superintendent in 1897, a position in which he served for seven years.

His ability as an educator received recognition more and more each year and in 1904 he was elected superintendent of the public schools of Houston. He served in this position for seventeen years and saw the school system grow into one of the largest of the state.

In 1921, he resigned at Houston to accept the presidency of the American School in Mexico City, Mexico.

Headed Southwestern

A year later, he was named president of Southwestern university at Georgetown and in 1924 he was selected as president of Tech over a field of several outstanding educators of the southwest.

He was a member of the Methodist church and took active leadership in its work throughout his entire lifetime. He wrote a weekly Sunday school lesson for Adult Student, a Methodist publication, besides contributing articles to numerous other church publications. While in Houston, he taught a men's Bible class and since coming to Lubbock had served in a similar capacity at the First Methodist church here, more than 200 men listening to his talks every Sunday.

Crowd At Dairy Show In Tribute

PANHANDLE PLAINS DAIRY SHOW, PLAINVIEW, April 13. — In tribute to Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Technological college, Lubbock, whose death was announced here this morning, the crowd in the sales ring of the fifth annual Panhandle Plains dairy show, bowed for a moment in silence this afternoon.

Henry Ansley, of Amarillo, master of ceremonies, asked that all present stand with bowed heads for a short space of time. The crowd, which packed the huge ring, stood silent. Announcement of the death of the president of Texas Tech caused widespread comment. Many expressions of regret were heard on all sides. Dr. Horn was a strong friend of the show and last year participated in the coronation of the queen at the pageant, held on the second night.

P. C. Bennett, president and Grady Shipp, manager, both stated that they felt a deep sense of personal loss in the death of Dr. Horn. H. S. Hilburn, editor of the Plainview Daily Herald likewise stated he felt a distinct loss in the death of Dr. Horn.

Was Superintendent Of Houston Schools

HOUSTON, April 13. (AP) — Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Technological college, who died in Lubbock today, was superintendent of Houston schools from 1904 to 1921.

Dr. S. C. Red, a member of the board of education when Dr. Horn came to Houston, paid tribute to his educational leadership. Two outstanding accomplishments of the Horn administration, Dr. Red said, were the development of the junior high school theory and the inauguration of physical examinations for school children. The night school idea also had its inception in the Horn administration. Free kindergartens were advocated, but not established until later, Dr. Red, said.

eighteenth amendment, but by making it possible later to have a direct referendum by the people, instead of a vote by state legislatures or conventions.

Other speakers tonight were Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, former Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio, the toastmaster; and Senator J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois.

Smith's spectacular speech opening the banquet sent a stir of surprise around the tables, but it was not a suddenly-conceived venture. He had prepared his manuscript in advance.

Welcome A Deadlock

It is the Roosevelt forces who have asked for a short convention at Chicago and avoidance of the long deadlock which Smith said he would welcome. This is what Smith said about that:

"Some Democrats say, 'give us a short convention,' others say, 'nominate a candidate against whom nothing can be said while there can not be much said for him.' This disposition to gloss over controversial questions in an attempt to please both sides of the argument will bring forth a meaningless document, a colorless candidate and a weakened party. Expediency will win nothing for Democracy.

"I protest against the endeavor to delude the poor people of this country to their ruin by trying to make them believe that they can get employment before the people who would ordinarily employ them are also again restored to conditions of normal prosperity."

Leaves No Doubt

"I have recently stated," he said, "that while I would accept a nomination for the presidency if it were tendered me by the convention, that until the convention assembled, I would not be for or against any candidate. I announce tonight an exception to that statement." And then he made his promise to "take off my coat" and fight.

The first man also made several notes on a piece of paper. He then entered his car and drove away while the man he met at the corner entered another car and departed.

A "posture parade" will be one of the features of the day. This is to be an attempt to select the girl from all the schools who has the best natural posture. An opening program will be held in the morning and activities will continue all day. Lunch will be served at noon and awards will be made at a closing assembly. The chamber of commerce and various departments of the college are assisting in plans for the day.
