Japs Cleared From Wakde

18 Nip Ships Are Sunk Or Damaged In Other Sectors

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

AMERICAN soldiers, killing 34 Japanese for every doughboy lost, have wiped out enemy resistance on Wakde island in the Southwest Pacific, Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported today.

Only a small number of Japanese were taken prisoner. Five hundred and fifty were killed on Wakde and the nearby shores of northwestern New Guinea. MacArthur listed American losses for the entire operation at only 16 killed, 83 wounded and two missing.

Complete control over Wakde, 1,000 miles from MacArthur's goal on the Philippines, was established Friday afternoon, but enemy artillery fire held up the advance on the coast.

18 Ships Sunk Or Damaged

In other actions reported yesterday and today, Allied war planes striking at the northern and southern tips of Japan's defense destroyed 21 enemy aircraft and sank or damaged 18 ships.

Boston attack planes sank three Nipponese freighters off Manokwari, near the western tip of New Guinea and one of the greatest Japanese bases in the Dutch East Indies.

Aleutian-based Army and Navy bombers wrecked two Nipponese vessels as they struck for the seventh time this month at Paramushiro naval base on the northern road to Tokyo.

Carrier Planes Strike

Five thousand miles to the south ten other surface craft were hit squarely and 21 Japanese planes wiped out Wednesday by 100 carrier-borne planes making the heaviest raid of the war on Soerabaja, former Dutch naval base on Java. American, British, Australian, Dutch and French airmen participated in the attack, the first unified action of the Allied Southeast Asia, Southwest Pacific and Central Pacific commands. Ship repair and oil facilities were left in flames.

Liberators from Australia blasted Soerabaja's rail yards the same night. Other Australia-based planes bombed three ships in the Tanimbar islands, also in the Dutch East Indies.

Allied troops pressed their advantage in the complex battle for control of the Burma road, the supply route to China.

Ring Tightens On Base

Concentric rings of airborne and infantry troops tightened their cordon around the Japanese garrison trapped at Myitkyina, their North Burma base, and the surrounding jungles.

A three-pronged Chinese drive from the east to join Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's forces advanced on both flanks but ran into severe fighting on the fork leading to the Nipponese Tengchung, China, base.

Chinese armies fell back again in northern Honan province. Invading Japanese who have conquered thousands of square miles of rich wheatlands in the last month appeared to be preparing to put their familiar pincer squeeze to work on Tungkwan, gateway to northwest China and the supply road from Soviet Russia.

Front In Russia Continues Quiet

Tension Over Blow In West Mounting

LONDON, Sunday, May 21. (AP)—The long eastern front was reported quiet through another day yesterday as increasing signs came from Moscow of mounting tension in the Soviet capital over the prospects of opening a western land front against the Germans.

Tension matching that in Britain was evident in Moscow dispatches which emphasized that the Red Army was eager for new offensives of its own which would be coordinated with blows from the west which the Russians hope will defeat the Germans before the end of the year.

No Essential Changes

The Soviet command announced again in its communique last night there were no essential changes on any fronts during the day. The German command reported only local fighting on the lower Dnestr, in the Carpathian foothills and southeast of Vitebsk to the north.

The Germans renewed their local attacks near Tiraspol and Stanislawow, Moscow revealed in its midnight supplement to the communique, but were repulsed with many losses.

The Nazis suffered 400 dead at Stanislawow and lost two companies around Tiraspol, Moscow said. In addition a similar two-day clash southeast of Vitebsk cost the Germans 200 casualties.

Planes of the Red Baltic fleet sank four German auxiliary craft in the Gulf of Finland and destroyed 15 German aircraft, the supplement added.

Nazis In Italy "Late" For Allied Offensive

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, May 20. (AP)—A captured order of the day indicated today that the Germans were "prepared" to meet the Allied offensive in Italy at 11 p. m., on May 24.

The attack actually came at 11 p. m. May 11.

The order addressed to the German 14th armored corps said:

"The enemy offensive will start. We are prepared. From May 24 at 11 p. m. be on the alert to fight.

"Our task: Defense of the Cassino front from the coast to the national park is the utmost importance. Every man of the corps is a Cassino fighter. Everyone has to fight to the last breath. The enemy shall suffer bloody defeat.

The whole world looks to us. 'Cassino' has become synonymous with undying heroism for the Germans. Our superiority over the English-Americans and their mercenaries has been proved in spite of barrage and bombs. Each defeat shakes the morale of the enemy more and more and deprives him of courage for the invasion. Our motto for this decisive hour is: Everything for Germany, our country. Heil to the fuehrer."

"The commanding general."

Nazis May Still Use Gas, English Warned

LONDON, May 20. (U.P.)—Field Marshal Lord Birdwood, speaking in the "salute the soldier week" at Deal on the south coast of England, today warned listeners that the danger the Germans may use gas as a last resort to stave off defeat still persisted.

"Although Hitler has promised he will not use gas, he may, at the last minute, like a mad and beaten dog, release gas not only on our troops but on the country generally," Birdwood said.

FLAG WEEK SET

AUSTIN, May 20. (AP)—The period of June 11 to 17 will be observed over the nation as flag week, and Gov. Coke Stevenson accordingly today proclaimed this same time as "Flag Week in Texas." June 14 is the anniversary of the adoption of the flag of the United States by the Continental Congress of 1777.

WLB Permits Weekly Holidays With Pay

DALLAS, May 20. (AP) — Mercantile and service establishments in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana may grant weekly holidays, with pay, without War Labor board approval, provided such holidays do not amount to more than 6 hours per week, according to a regulation adopted by the eighth regional War Labor board.

The regulation provides that such holidays may not be granted before June 1, 1944, and must be discontinued on or before September 15, 1944. The six hours may be granted all in one day or distributed as desired.

Lubbock High To Graduate 296 In Rites Today, Monday; Six In Armed Services

By JEANE ENGLE
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

LUBBOCK'S attention is focused this week-end on commencement sermon of the 1944 graduating class of Lubbock Senior High school at 2:30 p. m. today in the high school auditorium, followed by commencement exercises and presentation of diplomas Monday night at 8 o'clock.

There are 296 mid-term, May and summer graduates this year, 112 boys and 184 girls, as compared to 325 in 1943. Six mid-term graduates, who are in the armed services, will receive diplomas in absentia Monday night.

Dr. G. C. Brewer, Lubbock minister, will be heard in the commencement sermon. Preceding the sermon will be a 15 minute band concert by the Westerners directed by E. S. Eskridge. The concert begins promptly at 2:15 p. m. and at 2:30 the band will play the processional "Grand Triumphal March."

A post-war theme, "The Challenge of Tomorrow's World," will be featured at commencement exercises which is an all-student program. The theme will be emphasized in speeches, music and decorations. Miss Claudia Neeley's art class has prepared a large map to be used as a backdrop on the stage.

Honor Students Named

Those seniors not making below a B at least one A the last two years were named Saturday. They are Coleman Archer, Louise Battin, Betty Bomar, Ted Forsythe, Jack Grady, Bob Hassell, Sam Henly, Jerry Lelmond, Barbaria Leonard, Jacque Lewis, Billy Masters, Billie Puryear, Norma Grace Reid, John Michael Sellen and Gene Stephens. The two seniors making the highest grades in the class will not be announced until Monday night when they will be presented with scholarships.

Decorations for both occasions are provided by a Junior class committee composed of Pat Naylor, chairman, Charlotte Bailiff, Willa Jean Reid, Wanda Joe Martin, Roberta Niblack, Virgie Lee Sneed and Francèys Peters; and Miss Nancy Binford, faculty sponsor.

For the concert this afternoon the band will play "Thou Be Near" (Bach) and a Prelude (Massenet). Rev. John A. Winslow, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal church, will give the invocation and Rev. A. H. Carleton, pastor of St. John's Methodist church, will give the benediction. A string trio will play "Liebestraum" (Franz Liszt) and the band will close the program by playing "Huldigungsmarch," from Sigurd Jorsalfar Suite (Grieg). Trio members are Roger Hall, George Zournas and Winston Redwnie.

The band will play two selections, Berceuse from "Jocelyn" (Godard) and the Bridal Song from the "Rural Wedding Symphony" (Goldsmark) while the crowd is assembling Monday night and at 8 o'clock the processional begins. Ted Forsythe, president of the class, is in charge of the program and will introduce the speakers. The invocation will be given by Sam Henly.

Students to speak and their subjects include "Political Problems of the Post-War Era," by Billy Masters; "Vocations in the Post-War Picture," by Jack Cooper; "The Challenge of Science in Court Battle By Demos Dies Out

AUSTIN, May 20. (AP)—A preconvention court battle over disputed access to Democratic executive committee records fizzled out today, but there was only slight indication that the convention itself would be anything but explosive.

George Butler, executive committee chairman, expressed regret that the most-publicized convention issue had developed on a poor anti-Roosevelt basis, asserting that it had not gotten that way because of any actions of the state committee.

Believed Best Method

He said the committee's program for an un-instructed delegation was premised on the grounds that this would be the best method of achieving restoration of the two-thirds rule in the national presidential nominating convention and to "get a vice-presidential candidate more acceptable to Texas and the South."

Butler also had this to say at a press conference:

"I believe the executive committee will recommend a fair program of temporary organization. My idea is to obtain a temporary chairman and keynoter who is not an extremist, but who might be said to be in the temperate zone."

Negro Vote Question

Butler, reminded that the question of negroes voting in Democratic primaries had apparently been shoved into the background during the political maneuvering of the last two weeks, said that he expected the executive committee, meeting Monday before the convention on Tuesday, "will have recommendations to make to the convention in regard to the right to determine who shall be a member of the party."

He said his personal view was that this could be achieved by a return to the convention system for nominating party candidates.

Butler said that the most recent tabulation of instructed and uninstructed county delegations show-

Meteor Seen In Panhandle

(By The Associated Press)

A meteor flashed across Texas and New Mexico skies Saturday night, and exploded brilliantly.

At Amarillo it was described as a red ball of fire that left a white smoke hanging in the air for more than an hour after it exploded, about 9 p .m.

Reports at Amarillo said the meteor was visible at Tucumcari, N. M., 117 miles west.

The meteor was reported by the weather bureau at Dallas and also by personnel in the control tower at Love Field airport.

SEVERAL HERE REPORT SEEING "BALL OF FIRE"

Several persons in Lubbock reported to the Avalanche-Journal that they observed around 9 o'clock a meteor plummeting westward in the northern sky. It was commonly described as "a ball of fire." The pyrotechnics were reported visible only briefly.

Crosbyton Kidnaping Trial Set Monday

CROSBYTON, May 20. (Special)—A. J. Bell, 45, Stamford cotton buyer and former convict, will go on trial Monday morning in 72nd district court on a charge of having kidnaped a 4-year-old Crosbyton girl the afternoon of April 14.

He posted $5,000 bond conditioning appearance before a grand jury, then posted $2,000 bond required by Judge Dan Blair upon his indictment May 8.

The prosecution will be conducted by District Attorney Burton S. Burks, and Bell will be represented by Lloyd Wicks of Ralls and the firm of Bradley & Wilson of Lubbock.

Senate Passes New Tax Plan

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—A "painless extraction" tax bill, designed to excuse some 30,000,000 of the nation's 50,000,000 taxpayers from having to fill out any more federal income tax returns, passed the Senate today by voice vote.

The measure, which obligates the collector of internal revenue to do most taxpayers' arithmetic, was sent back to the House for concurrence in minor technical changes.

Complete Reshuffle

It reshuffles the entire income tax structure, scraps the two-year-old Victory tax and sets new normal and surtax rates and exemptions while holding the total individual income tax burden only $60,000,000 smaller than the present $17,000,000,000 level.

Senator McCarran (D-Nev) abandoned plans to amend the bill to cut the cabaret tax from 30 to 10 percent after he said he was assured by Finance Committee Chairman George (D-Ga) that the amendment would be accepted to a pending bill raising the national debt limit from $210,000,000,000 to $240,000,000,000.

The simplification bill changes completely the withholding levy against wages and salaries—effective next January—to deduct currently the full tax liability of persons earning up to $5,000—thus making the withholding levy the actual tax for some 30,000,000 persons and removing the need for their computing formal returns.

Others To Be Simpler

Of the 20,000,000 who still would be required to file returns, 10,000,000 (those earning less than $5,000 but with income other than salary and wages) could use a simple table showing their entire tax. The remaining 10,000,000, with incomes over $5,000 would fill out more detailed returns, which still would be simpler than the present long form.

Until next January, there would be no change in the amounts held out of pay envelopes and salary checks.

The bill changes personal exemptions from the present schedule of $1,200 for a couple plus $350 per dependent to a flat exemption of $500 a person, and allows a flat 10 per cent discount in lieu of present deductions for contributions to religious, educational and charitable institutions, for other taxes and interest paid.

OPA Files Injunction Suits Against Farmers

DALLAS, May 20. (AP)—The Office of Price administration has filed injunction applications in federal court here against eight Hunt county farmers and grain dealers, asking that they be prohibited from violating ceiling prices for corn.

The suits named Guy Ray, Jim Pearce, Grover Cecil, John Griffis, H. T. Nix, J. P. McNatt, Alvin McNatt and R. W. Wood, all of Greenville, and R. M. Bryan of Floyd. Announcement of the filings was made by OPA enforcement attorney W. J. Holt.

6,000 Planes Batter Hitler's West Wall

All Types Of Craft Aid In History's Biggest Air Blow

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, May 20—In the greatest mass air attack of the war the Allies hurled 6,000 British-based planes at Hitler's west wall defenses today and blasted a 150-mile strip from Brittany to Belgium with a total of at least 8,000 tons of evplosives.

Nineteen rail junctions, eight airfields and numerous other installations which Hitler hoped to use in combatting the coming western invasion were pounded in the gigantic onslaught which began soon after midnight and extended twice around the clock into darkness tonight.

Allies Lose 20 Planes

Allied losses announced for all the perations from midnight to midnight amounted to seven RAF heavies, two U. S. heavies, three American mediums, two American light bombers, five American fighters and one American fighter-bomber—a total of 20 planes.

Every type of lane based in Britain was thrown into the unprecedented bombardment, with the Allied Expeditionary Air force—which will move into the continent in support of the invasion landings—flying more than 4,000 sorties.

An American armada of nearly 1,250 heavy bombers and fighters set the pace for the daylight blows with attacks on three airfields and one rail center after the RAF had started the day's cycle with attacks on four important French rail centers.

Four-To-One Escort

The Americans sent out a four-to-one escort—1,000 fighters accompanying a force of approximately 250 Fortresses and Liberators—in the principal daylight operation.

Possibly the air command suspect strong fighter opposition and wanted to be prepared by sending out one of the highest escort ratios of the war, but the precaution proved unnecessary. The fighters went looking for trouble, yet sighted only a few German planes and none of these reached the bombers.

Two Nazis were downed while the American loss was two bombers and five fighters, most of them probably victims of flak.

Long after the heavies returned to their bases the skies over France remained thick with the medium bombers, fighters and other light planes of the AEAF.

Maruaders and Havocs — the terrible twins of the American side of the AEF—alone dumped more than 850 tons of bombs on five airfields, the post area of Dieppe and other military targets, striking in strength at the continent twice during the day.

Three Marauders and two Havocs were lost in the double-barreled assaults, but all their escorting fighters returned. Flak was reported especially heavy over Dieppe, which was pounded for the second time in two days.

Today's attacks brought to ex-

Man Sought After Wife Found Slain

LOS ANGELES, May 20. (AP) — A search was being made today for Richard Bennett, 47, whose wife, Reno, 44, was found slain yesterday, her body crammed behind a wall bed in her apartment.

Detective Captain Vernon Rasmussen said Bennett, sought for questioning, had a police record, and was released from the county jail only last Sunday. His wife, Rena Larson Hambly Bennett, was seeking an annulment on the allegation that he had not been divorced from a former mate.

Neighbors said Mrs. Bennett was last seen alive on Monday. She apparently had been choked and beaten about the face and head.

Capt. Rasmussen, who asserted Bennett had served prison terms for forgery, grand theft, corporate securities act violation and impersonating a federal officer, said he was married in New York City in 1924 to Veronica Bender, and separated from her the following year.

Noted Hitler Line Crumbling Rapidly

Nazis Lose Heavily As Mighty Assaults Of Allies Smash Forward Toward Anzio

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, May 20—American and French troops, smashing through the crumbling Hitler line, pounded the whole southern half of the German front back today in a wide swing toward a new wall anchored at Terracina—only 25 miles from Allied might massed on the Anzio beachhead.

The Germans lost heavily in men, tanks, and guns as they were being forced back in disorder up to 15 miles to a new "switch line" from Pico to Terracina, headquarters declared.

The Eighth Army successfully assaulted the fortified line farther north and the French punched deeper into the mountains in the center.

Only Casual Opposition

Associated Press correspondent Sid Feder, traveling with advancing Fifth Army along the coast, reported from the front late tonight that the Americans had reached a point 35 miles from the Anzio beachhead "without meeting more than casual opposition."

(If the point reached was along the coast it would mean that the Americans were withing about 10 miles of Terracina, base of the new German line. Early Saturday the London radio reported that the Fifth Army was a little more than 20 miles from the beachhead, but no source of this report was given and later front dispatches failed to confirm it).

(The German high command acknowledged loss of Campodiemele, southwest of Pico and within a few miles of the Pico-Terracina line.)

5,500 Prisoners Taken

In nine days of this offensive intended to crush the German 10th Army, 5,500 Nazi prisoners have been taken, with more coming in.

The enemy nevertheless resisted stubbornly, and the campaign remained a hard slugging match with the Allies trying to throw in powerful new blows while the Germans still are groggy. Formidable German defenses still guard the Liri valley and the mountains in the Cassino area, and a front dispatch from the Eighth Army cautioned that "apparently very costly fighting still is in prospect." Moreover, the advances have increased Allied supply difficulties.

U. S. troops plunging through the coastal sector captured the Appian road junction of Itri, the seaport of Gaeta on a short peninsula to the south, and drove north from Itri, sweeping up vast booty

Slav King Ousts Gen. Mihailovic

LONDON, May 20 (AP) — King Peter of Yugoslavia has ousted Gen. Draja Mihailovic as war minister in an attempt to appease Marshal Tito and it was considered possible the cabinet post might be offered to the Partisans' leader.

Whether Marshal Tito would accept the post was questionable, since this might strengthen the position of the monarchy for the post-war period—a subject which the head of the National Army of Liberation has said must be decided by his people after victory is won.

Compromise Possible

It seemed possible, however, that Tito (Josip Broz) might agree to some compromise under which he would name his choice for the cabinet position which Mihailovic has held.

Tito's forces, with whom Prime Minister Churchill's son Randolph is serving as a British liaison officer, has been getting the bulk of support from the United States, Britain and Russia.

King Peter, apparently with British backing, yesterday dismissed the cabinet of Premier Bozhidar Puric—in which Mihailovic was war minister—and directed Dr. Ivan Subasic, former gov-

Orders Go Out To Underground

General Ike Makes First Big Appeal

LONDON, May 20. (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's supreme invasion headquarters broadcast its first direct orders to Europe's underground today, telling that huge and revenge-thirsty army to make careful and minute note of the Germans' every move as an aid in the coming assault.

"In due course," the broadcast declared, "you will receive advice and instructions from the supreme commander (Eisenhower) himself," who "counts upon you as part of his force now being marshalled to inflict final defeat on the Germans and bring about the final liberation of your countries."

Next One Due Monday

The first message to the "V" Army, implying that regular broadcasts would be made, said the next one would be on Monday.

"When the Allies come to liberate you they will rely on your help in many ways. In no more valuable way can this be given than by information about the enemy."

The headquarters spokesman called on the underground to note the strength and movements of German troops, tanks, and guns, to spot location of supply dumps, and urged the patriot Army to be "disciplined and viligant," to "hide all your actions until the word is given."

Air Armadas Active

Meanwhile the Allied air offensive against strategic rail centers and—by German account at least—swift sweeps of the channel waters by enemy and Allied ships were filling out the pattern which Berlin says will precede "D" day.

Urging everyone to care for his gas mask, Field Marshal Lord Birdwood, "father" of the British Army, warned that "although Hitler has promised that he will not use gas, he may at the last moment like a mad and beaten dog release gas not only on the troops, but on the country as well."

Cancel Demo Parley, Says Georgia Chief

ATLANTA, May 20. (AP)—Cancellation of the Democratic national convention was proposed today by Georgia's youthful governor, Ellis Arnall, because, he said:

"President Roosevelt will be accorded the nomination by acclamation. His running mate will be the candidate of his choice."

The Georgia executive, longtime friend of the president, said as an after-thought that the Republican party "might as well call off its convention, since the Republican candidate for president and vice-president will be selected by former President Hoover."

Argued Arnall: "The issue will be Roosevelt prosperity verus Hoover panic.

"The little fellows are for Roosevelt. The big fellows are against him. There are more little fellows than there are big fellows. Roosevelt will win. Let's get on with the war."

FUNDS FOR MEMORIAL

BROWNWOOD, May 20. (AP)—The Isham A. Smith post of the American Legion and Heart of Texas post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in Brownwood, today pledged funds necessary to erect a memorial marker on the beachhead at Salerno, Italy, where the first Allied troops landed on the continent of Europe.

Returning Ace Almost Torn Apart By Admiring Throng

PIQUA, O., May 20 (AP) — Capt. Don S. Gentile came home tonight to a hero's welcome that developed into such unrestrained fervor that women ripped pieces from his uniform and tore the captain's bars from his shoulders.

The Mustang fighter pilot who bagged 30 enemy planes to become the top American ace in the European theater had to force his way through a throng that ignored a driving rainstorm to hail his return after three years at war.

He arrived by automobile from Columbus, having flown there late in the day from Washington in an Army transport plane furnished personally by Gen. Henry H. Arnold, commander of the Army Air forces.

Sirens steered him down the main street of this midwest farming town to a little white cottage on a corner where his father, Pat Gentile, and his 19-year-old sister, Edith waited.

Thousands of persons jammed the neighborhood and as the escorted motorcade screamed into view let loose a roar that welled above the pounding rain.

Gentile, accompanied by his mother who met him Thursday in Washington, climbed from his automobile. Women and men alike rushed forward. They grabbed at him and kissed him. Gentile grinned warmly and tried to shake hands. His father and sister lunged forward and embraced him.

The little family group tried to move toward the house, but the crowd closed in and literally carried the flier toward the porch.

Edith was sobbing on her father's shoulder.

"I've read about it in books, I've seen it in the movies. I never thought this could happen to me," she cried.

Tito Cites Needs And Aims In His 'First' Interview

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Associated Press' interview with Marshal Josip Broz (Tito), which has been the subject of wide discussion since it was disclosed last week that it was held up by censorship of the Allied Mediterranean command, was approved today for publication. An accompanying note said the original dispatch was intact except for passages referring to the location of warships. This week the AP was informed that the delay in clearance was due to the fact that Marshal Tito had stipulated that his replies be used in full or not at all. Deletions were referred back to the marshal and final clearance was given today. The dispatch was radioed from Algiers, the final censorship point, today.)

BARI, Italy, April 30 (Delayed By Censor) — Marshal Josip Broz (Tito), in his first press interview, asserted today that the Yugoslav peoples and his National Liberation Army wanted not only material help from the Allies to carry on their struggle against the Germans but also recognition of the National Committee of Liberation as the government of Yugoslavia.

(Since this dispatch was written it was learned that Sgt. Walter Bernstein, correspondent of Yank Magazine, had a personal interview with Tito which may have antedated this one.)

The marshal said the committee had not formally demanded such recognition of the United States, Britain and Russia, but that recognition would "strengthen the united struggle" and that the reasons against it were "diminishing every day."

Tito expressed his views in re-

Southern Demos Ready For Battle On White Supremacy

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Senator Maybank (D-SC) declared today southern Democrats are prepared to carry their battle for "white supremacy" to the party's national convention, adding that "anything can happen" if they lose.

With signs pointing to similar controversies in other state, Maybank described the action of the South Carolina state convention last week in delaying the selection of state electors until after the Chicago nominating meeting as a move "to make sure our white Democratic party in South Carolina is appreciated by the national party."

Resist Negro Delegations

Maybank said the southern Democrats would resist seating of competing negro delegations from their states, would oppose adoption of platform planks favoring passage by Congress of anti-poll tax and anti-lynching legislation, and would seek to restore the former convention rule requiring a two-thirds vote for presidential and vice presidential nomnations.

The same controversial questions are likely to come to a head in a Texas Democratic state convention scheduled for next Tuesday. Delegates from one county, Colorado, will come bearing a resolution urging the state to take no part in the Democratic national convention.

Texas was directly affected by a recent Supreme court decision upholding the right of negroes to vote in that state's so-called "white" Democratic primary. South Carolina wiped out all of its primary voting laws as a result of the decision, in an attempt to make its primary entirely party-controlled.

Texas Controversy

Integrated in the Texas controversy is an effort by party leaders to obtain an uninstructed delegation to cast its 48 votes at the Chicago July convention.

While Maybank stressed that a majority of South Carolina's 18-vote delegation would support the President for renomination, he said a subsequent meeting of the state convention August 2 would review the actions of the Chicago meeting before taking a stand on the national ticket.

South Carolina negroes have organized a Progressive Democratic party and expect to meet next week to elect 18 delegates to challenge the white group for seats at Chicago.

The state's action in leaving its delegation technically uninstructed followed a pattern that already had been woven by three other southern states, Alabama, Arkansas and Louisiana. These four form a bloc of 84 convention votes likely to be cast as a unit on any questions affecting party control in the South. Other southern states may follow their lead.

News Briefs

Please save any flowers you may have for use in decorating graves of former service men in Lubbock cemeteries on Memorial day, May 30. This was the request Saturday of the joint Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion committee making the arrangements. Graves will be decorated with flowers and flags after services in the Legion home, 910 Texas avenue, at 6 p. m., according to Rev. Jeff D. Welch and J. A. Raley, jr., committee co-chairmen.

Program at the semi-monthly meeting of Allen Bros. post home of the American Legion, 910 Texas avenue, Monday night at 8:30 o'clock will include numbers by veterans of World War II, Indian dances by the Legion-sponsored Boy Scout troop No. 8. Coffee and doughnuts will be served, according to F. W. Groce, commander. All veterans of present and past wars are invited to attend. Troy Davidson, a discharged Marine in the present war, is program chairman.

Homemaking students of Junior High school have completed 109 utility bags for the Red Cross since the middle of April. The bags which are made from navy blue cotton gabardine, furnished by the Junior Red Cross, were made during regular class hours of the students. Service men in hospitals use the bags.

Robert C. Hurmence, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hurmence of 2407 Thirtieth street, and John L. Lea, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Lea of 2910 Twentieth street, were among four 17-year-old boys enlisting in the Navy last week, according to John C. Oldham, petty officer 1/c, of the Navy recruiting office in the federal building here. Others were: Wendell W. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Jones of Meadow, and Claudie Lyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lyle of Seagraves.

Lt. and Mrs. George O. Elle are parents of a son born May 12 in Alhambra, Calif., where Mrs. Elle is making her home for the duration. He has been named David Brainard. Lt. Elle stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., is a former professor of plant industry at Texas Technological college.

Sec. Lt. Joseph E. Athenas, husband of the former Juanita White of Lubbock, who had been previously missing action over Romania, is now reported to be a prisoner of war of the Romanian government, according to word received here. Mrs. Athenas is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Gilbert, route 4, Lubbock and is residing here while her husband is overseas. Lt. Athenas graduated from Lubbock Army Air field last June 26; took his transitional training at Clovis, N. M., and Grand Island, Neb., and went overseas last November.

LAAF Graduation Set For Tuesday

Graduation ceremonies for the members of class 44-E will be held at the Lubbock Army Air field post gymnasium Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Principal address will be made by Col. James A. DeMarco, commanding officer of South Plains Army Air field. Lt.-Col. William J. Moser will be in charge of the ceremonies in the absence of LAAF commanding officer, Col. Ralph E. Holmes.

Presentation of silver wings to the new pilots will be by Captains John L. Schroeder and John C. Palmer, commanding officers of the first and third provisional training squadrons, respectively. The invocation will be delivered by Capt. Randall T. Miller, LAAF Protestant chaplain.

A/C George L. Friederichs, whose academic average score is 99.34, the second highest in the history of the field, will be awarded his wings by Maj. Gordon J. Mott, director of ground training. Friederichs was formerly a mortician in St. Clair, Mich.

To Present Air Medal

One of the highlights of the ceremonies will be the presentation by Col. DeMarco of the Air Medal, awarded posthumously to Second Lt. Robert C. Malone, jr., and accepted by his father, Robert C. Malone of Plainview. Lt. Malone was killed in action July 13, 1943. The Air Medal has been awarded for meritorious achievement while participating in night aerial flights as a member of a combat crew in unarmed, unarmored and unescorted troop carrier aircraft, under adverse flying conditions over enemy held terrain while receiving hostile ground fire.

Preceeding the graduation eremonies, the LAAF post band will offer a concert under the direction of Chief W/O George P. Attridge.

NAZI ACE KILLED

LONDON, May 20. (AP)—A Berlin broadcast today reported the death of a German air ace, Rudolf Frank, in a night fighter action after 45 air victories.

Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy . . . it helps keep the skin soft and pliable . . . thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin . . . for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use.

Mother's Friend

Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin lubricant. Try it tonight.

South Plains Oil Development Activities . . .

New Wildcats Staked In Borden, Hockley; Nairn Test Abandoned; 11 Producers Added

WILDCAT oil tests in south Borden county, and in west Hockley county have reported shows of oil which are to be given further testing; and two Andrews county explorations are apparently to give up efforts to try to find petroleum in the Ordovician.

Northern Ordnance, Inc., No. 1 Clayton & Johnson, seven and one-half miles southwest of Gail, in Borden county, and in section 32, block 31, TP survey, T-4-N, has reported coring shows of oil and gas in streaks in lime section from 6,245 feet to 6,556 feet.

Oil Staining Recovered

Some slight oil staining were found in cores between 6,245-6,520 feet, in gray sand and black shale. The best indications of oil were in cores from 6,250-38 feet and from 6,538-56 feet. In the first specimen there was an eight-foot section of sand with a good show of oil and gas. In the second cut, one foot of the recovery had good oil saturation, and was bleeding oil and gas in a gray, fine sand.

At last report the test was coring ahead below 6,556 feet. It is due to drill considerably deeper, and is then expected to back up and make through tests of the more than 300 feet, which has had the intermittent oil signs.

Test Coring Ahead

Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 1 Deloache, labor 19, league 80, Reeves county school land survey, in west Hockley county, six miles southwest of the same operator's No. 1 Tom Cobb, which was completed as a small producer, to open production for the Yellowhouse field, 12 miles north of the Slaughter field, cored from 4,652 feet to 4,667 feet, in dolomite, and in some of the formation recovered had scattered porosity, oil staining and odor.

The test was coring ahead, expecting to pick up stronger oil signs after going some deeper into the section.

Brown and Karcher No. 1 Caldwell, several miles northeast of the new test on the Spaulding fee, and in section 32, block 32, TP, T-3-N, and a short distance south of the Dawson county line, was making hole below 1,310 feet in anhydrite.

Installing New Pumps

Lion Oil Refining company No. 1 Turner, section 17, block C-38, psl survey, in northwest Dawson county, was at 3,415 feet in anhydrite, installing new pumps. Top of the anhydrite was called at 2,110 feet, with a surface elevation of 3,148 feet.

Honolulu Oil Corporation and Devonian Oil company No. 1 Payton, section 1421, TTRR survey, in northwest Garza county, scheduled 6,000-foot exploration, had progressed to 1,424 feet in anhydrite, and had set a string of 8 5/8-inch casing at 1,410 feet, with 150 sacks of cement.

Blackwell Oil & Gas company No. 1 House northwest Kent county wildcat, in section 8, block B, Psl survy, about 20 miles northeast of Post, was digging below 5,230 feet in lime.

Lubbock Test Abandoned

Phillips Petroleum company No. 1 Bartley, section 1372, block 1, EL&RR survey, in east-central Lynn county, was fishing for a section of drill-pipe, with the total depth at 3,871 feet.

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company No. 1 S. E. Nairn, section 46, block A, John H. Gibson survey, five miles northeast of Lubbock, and one and one-half miles northwest of the discovery well in the Lubbock pool, has been abandoned, and will be plugged, at a total depth of 5,117 feet, in lime, without finding any exidence of oil.

Smith-Griggs Oil company No. 1 Griggs, Northwest Lubbock prospector, in section 44, block P, EL&RR survey, was going ahead under 6,005 feet in lime, at last report.

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1 Jackson, section 119, block A, R. R. Thompson survey, in southeast Lamb county, was making hole below 3,300 feet in lime, after cementing a string of 9 5/8-inch casing at 3,216 feet.

Falcon Company No. 1 Dean, 5,500-foot wildcat in Mills county school land survey, about eight miles southwest of Whiteface, in east Cochran county, was making hole below 3,870 feet in anhydrite.

Helmerich & Payne, Inc., No. 1 Wright, labor 19, league 97, Brewster county school land survey, approximately three miles northwest of the nearest Slaughter field production in central Cochran county, had penetrated to 4,044 feet in anhydrite, and was drilling ahead.

Progress In Other Tests

San Andres Production company No. Clouser, labor 8, league 62, Midland county school land survey, about three miles north and west of Whiteface, was boring below 4,404 feet in lime.

N. G. Penrose, Inc., No. 1 Moore, section 82, block T, D&W survey, in northeast Terry county, slated 6,000-foot prospector, had reached 2,310 feet in redbeds, and was shutdown for rig repairs.

Case, Pomeroy & Company, Inc., No. 1 Kuehn, section 11, block C-4, psl survey, about five miles southeast of Seminole, in southeast Gaines county, was making hole past 4,500 feet in lime, after checking top of the brown lime at 4,400 feet, on a surface elevation of 3,236 feet.

Casing Being Run

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 Buck, section 104, block G, WTRR survey, in north Gaines, was bottomed at 3,622 feet in anhydrite and sand, and was running 9 5-8-inch casing to the bottom ,to cement there, before drilling ahead.

Humble No. 1 Doss, section 9, block A-24, psl survey, proposed 8-000-foot prospector in south Gaines, was digging below 4,512 feet in lime.

Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 Sparks, section 3, block A-13, psl survey, in southwest Gaines, and due to make hole to at least 8,000 feet, was waiting for cement to set on 10 3-4-inch casing cemented at 4,262 feet, over the total depth of 4,267 feet.

Stanolind No. 1 Riley, section 79, block H, D & W survey, in northeast Gaines, was drilling below 4,164 feet in anhydrite.

Drilling Out Stuck Packer

Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1-491 Havemyer & Jenny, section 491, block G, CCSD & RGNG survey, one half mile west of the nearest lower Permian producer in the Russell field, in northwest Gaines, was digging below 6,762 feet in lime.

Shell No. 1 Jines, section 490, block G, CCSD & RGNG survey, three-quarters of a mile southwest of the Russell pool, was drilling out a stuck packer, with the hole bottomed at 7,377 feet, in the upper section of the Clear Fork lime.

This project had a 15-foot recovery of lime with fair to good porosity and oil staining, with occasional streaks of bubbling oil. Another core at 7,467-72 feet, recovered five feet of lime, with slight oil stain and odor.

To Renew Tests

On a drillstem test, to the bottom 7,277 feet six barrels of drilling mud slightly cut with oil was recovered in one minute, before the packer failed.

As soon as the packer is drilled out the operator will renew tests to determine full guantity of the oil show, and then likely will drill deeper into the section which should yield oil to around 8,000 feet.

Schermerhorn Oil corporation No. 1 Moss section 606, block D, Gibson survey, in Yoakum county, was drilling below 3,510.

Completions Registered

Completions in South Plains oil areas during last week, include:

Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 47-B Mallett, 1,330 feet from the west and 1,450 feet from the south lines of labor 23, league 37, Zavalla county school land survey, in the Slaughter field, treated with 10,000 gallons of acid, and made a 24-hour flowing potential of 1,-341 barrels. Gas-oil ratio was 765-1. The pay was at 4,935-5,015 feet.

Devonian Oil company No. 45-A Duggan, 510 feet from the west and southlines of labor 4, league 55, Oldham county school land, and in the southwest extension to the Slaughter field, in southeast Cochran county reported a daily potential gauge of 623.76 barrels after injectiong 16,000 gallons of acid in the saturated section at 5,002-41 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 502-1.

Flows 902 Barrels

Continental Oil company No. 2-86 Dean, 1,466 feet from the south and 724 feet from the east lines of league 92, Lipscomb county school land survey, and in the Cochran county section of the Slaughter, injected 12,000 gallons of acid, and made a 24-hour flowing potential of 902.52 barrels, with gas oil ratio of 560-1. The pay section was at 5,019-44 feet.

Atlantic Refining company No. 5 Mrs. Carrie Slaughter Dean, 660 feet from the south and east lines of labor 2, league 90, Lipscomb county school land survey, used 6,000 gallons of acid in the pay at 5,055-80 feet, and made a flowing daily potential of 257.11 barrels, with gas-oil ratio of a small amount.

Well Flows 1,140 Barrels

Atlantic No. 6 Dean, 660 feet from the south and east lines of labor 12, league 90, Lipscomb county school land survey, treated with 6,000 gallons of acid and made a daily flowing potential of 718,20 barrels from saturated section at 5,045-72 feet, with gas-oil ratio of 564-1.

Magnolia Petroleum company No. 31 F. L. Woodley, 580 feet from the north and east lines of labor 6, league 57, Oldham county school land survey, injected 10,500 gallons of acid, and reported a flowing 24-hour potential of 1,140.24 barrels, from pay at 4,-940-97 feet, with a gas-oil ratio of 432-1.

Magnolia No. 5-B Mallett, 1,-451.8 feet from the north and 1,-340.5 feet from the east lines of labor 4, league 50, Scurry county school land survey, injected 10,-500 gallons of acid, and flowed for a daily potential of 783.56 barrels, with gas-oil ratio of 670-1, from pay at 4,940-5,005 feet.

Another Good Mallett Producer

Magnolia No. 16-G Mallett, 1,-450.6 feet from the north and 1,337 feet from the east lines of labor 4, league 49, Edwards county school land survey, used 10,500 gallons of acid, and made a daily flowing potential of 1,203.24 barrels, with gas-oil ratio of 730-1.

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 1 G. C. Briscoe, 660 feet from the south and east lines of section 566, block D, John H. Gibson survey, is to be a 1,320-foot north stepout from production in the Waples-Platter field, in east-central Yoakum county. Drilling to the San Andres pay section expected around 5,300 feet will start early in the week.

Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1-221 Havemyer & Jenny, 1,980 feet from the south and 660 feet from the east lines of section 221, block G, WT survey, is a south outpost to production on the south side of the Seminole field, in central Gaines county. It is to drill to 5,350 feet, starting immediately.

Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company No. 4 H. J. Jackson, 440 feet out of the northwest corner of labor 25, league 43, Rains county school land survey, is to drill to the Slaughter pay at about 5,000 feet, starting at once. This test will be on the north side of the proven limits of the Slaughter field, in west-central Hockley county.

Eleven Applications Filed

Magnolia No. 32 F. L. Woodley, 2,726.3 feet from the north and 6690.5 feet from the west line of labor 8, league 57, Oldham county school land survey, is a new test on the south west side of the Slaughter field, in southwest Cochran county.

Indicating the prospects for continuation of an intensive development program in the Fullerton area of northwest Andrews county, is the action of Superior Oil company, during the past week, in filing applications with the Railroad Commission of Texas, covering the drilling of 11 tests, on the southwest side of the proven section of that field.

To Seek Fullerton Pay

All tests are scheduled to be drilled in the near future. Superior plans to keep at least two rotary rigs busy on them. Six of the new locations are in the Superior lease in section 8, block 13, University survey; four are in section 4, block 13, University survey, and the eleventh is to be in the southwest quarter of section 7, block 13, University survey.

Those projects are to drill to the Fullerton pay in the Clear Fork zone of the lower Permian lime which is due between 6,800 feet and 7,100 feet.

Since the southern limits of the pool have not been definitely established, these projects will serve to extend the limits of the field, if and when they are completed as producers.

New Cochran Project

Sunray Oil company No. 1 Vaughn, an outpost to the northwest extension to the Slaughter field, in east Cochran county, will be 660 feet from the south and west lines of labor 2, league 59, Martin county school land survey, and 1,358 feet west of the same operator's No. 1 Vaughn, the nearest producer from the 5,000-foot pay section in that area.

Gulf No. 8 M. G. Gordon, 668 feet from the south and 660 feet the west lines of section 12, block X, psl survey, in southwest Hockley county, and on the southeast side of the Slaughter field has been completed for a flowing daily potential of 1,197.84 barrels, from pay at 5,034-66 feet, after using 12,000 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio was 630-1.

Plainview Pilot Is Said Killed In Action

PLAINVIEW, May 20 — Lt. William J. Terry of Plainview, has been killed in action.

Notice of his death has been received from the War department by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Terry, of Plainview.

TERRY

Lt. Terry, who was pilot of a Liberator bomber, was killed on March 6 when more than 850 bombers raided Berlin. Thirteen bombers and nine fighters were lost in the raid, in which the Nazis lost 123 planes.

Lt. Terry was a graduate of Plainview High school and Wayland college. He took his preliminary flight instruction at San Angelo Junior colege and received his wings in September, 1942, at South Plains Army air field. He served one year as instructor at Childress Army Air base.

He went overseas in January of this year, flying his Liberator to North Africa.

Communist Party Dissolved; Members To Support FDR

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—The Communist party of the United States, in existence for 25 years, voted today to dissolve as a political party. A new non-party organization will be formed.

Earl Browder, the party general secretary, made the motion to disband prior to delivering a national convention keynote speech in which he called for the re-electiontion of President Roosevelt.

The motion was carried unanimously after being seconded by delegates from New York, Illinois and California.

To Liquidate Affairs

The Browder motion called for the appointment of a committee to liquidate the party's affairs and dispose of its property "and to turn over any surplus that may remain to any organization or organizations as, in their opinion, are devoted to our country's winning to the war in which it is presently engaged and in the achievement of a durable peace."

The convention opened in the flag-draped ballroom of the riverside Plaza hotel with an announced attendance of 402 delegates from 44 states.

National Chairman William Z. Foster presided.

Keynoting the party's national convention, Growder, who sought the presidency himself in 1936 and 1940, said in his prepared address that the president's retirement now "would be a disaster for our country."

"Our enemies in the war would be encouraged to new efforts, our allies in the war would have deep misgivings, and our own country would be launched upon an uncharted sea of uncontrolled factionalism," he said.

No Communist Candidate

«Browder's statement meant that the Communists would ge into a presidential election without a candidate of their own for the first time since they entered the national political field as a party in 1932.

The Communists will operate under a new name to be chosen by the convention. They will drop the word "party" 'using instead a title like "American Communist association" or "American Communist Political association."

Democrats To Have At Least 12 At Meeting

Lubbock county Democrats will have a delegation of at least a dozen persons at the Texas Democratic convention in Austin Tuesday, according to Homer L. Pharr, chairman of the delegation. There is a possibility that others will attend, Pharr said.

District Committeeman Mark Halsey, Dr. S. S. McKay, County Democratic Chairman L. C. Ellis, Arch S. Underwood, Mrs. Wm. G. Dingus, Jack Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Perry, H. W. Crews and J. B. Walker plan to attend, Pharr said Saturday.

Most of the delegates will leave here Monday, however some of them plan to leave today, it was said, and attend to other business matters in Austin prior to the convention.

Officers of Company A (Lubbock) are: Capt. Walter F. Smith, commander; 1st Lt. Jack Thompson and 2nd Lt. Elmer Patillo.

Bids For Grain Bins To Be Opened Monday

Walter Y. Wells, secretary of the Lubbock county Agricultural Conservation association, has announced that bids will be opened at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon on erected and unerected grain bins. These bins, size 14 by 16 feet with a capacity of 1,843 bushels of grain, will be sold to the highest bidders The minimum price for erected bins is $230 and for unerected $185.

Wells said he had received a telegram from the Agricultural Adjustment administration in Washington, D. C., stating that all unsold bins will be shipped elsewhere as they are badly needed in other sections of the state.

He also announced that dairy feed payments for the period May 1-Aug. 31 will be 45 cents per hundred pounds for whole milk and six cents per pound for butter fat. For the period Sept. 1, 1944 March 31, 1945, the payment will be 70 cents per hundred pounds for whole milk and 10 cents per pound for butter fat.

Floydada Plans Founders' Day

FLOYDADA, May 20 — Commemorating the founding of Floyd County in 1890, a gigantic celebration which has become the major annual attraction for citizens of this area, will be held here May 26, J. M. Massie, pioneer real estate developer and president of Founders Day, has announced.

This year's theme revolves around the 829 men from Floyd county now in the armed services, President Massie said. The celebration is co-sponsored by Floyd county and the McDermott Post 118 American Legion.

Colorful Parade Planned

Beginning early in the morning and continuing until late at night, early settlers and guests gather here each year for the gab-fest they love so well.

Registration will be followed by a colorful parade featuring the old time cowboys, the oldest couples, pretty floats and other parade attractions. Horse entries this year have passed all previous figures, insuring a successful day.

The wild flower bouquet contest is attracting state-wide interest. Prizes are offered for the most beautiful arrangements of the flowers and all bouquets are used to decorate the noonday luncheon tables spread under the trees on the courthouse lawn.

Luncheon For Pioneers

The luncheon is for pioneers. To be seated at the tables one must be 50 years of age and have been a resident of Floyd county 45 years ago. Others must take a back seat for the feast. Plans are to seat 200 eligible pioneer guests.

Judge G. E. Hamilton, Matador, pioneer of Motley county and organizer of the Motley-Dickens Association, will be principal speaker as the dinner.

Horse Races Scheduled

The afternoon will be devoted to horse shows and racing events as well as other forms of entertainment. Quarter horses and Palomino breeds will be featured entries, according to Oscar Stansell and Calvin Steen, in charge of the horse show. There will be tournament and hurdle riding, cigar races, judging of horses and other events, the chairman said.

The day will be climaxode with an old fashioned dance and early-day "fiddling music" beginning at dusk and "continuing until the dancers give out."

Mrs. Maude E. Hollums, secretary of Founders Day, is a pioneer in her own right. Daughter of the county's first settlers, Judge and Mrs. Arthur Duncan, she was the first white child born in Floyd county. She urges Panhandle citizens to attend this year's celebration.

Homer Pharr Makes Statement Of Candidacy For Judge Of Lubbock 99th District Court

Homer L. Pharr, former presiding judge of the 72nd judicial district and who May 15 filed application to place his name on the ticket in the Democratic primary of this year as a candidate for judge of the 99th district court of Lubbock county, made the following statement Saturday in formal submission of candidacy to the county's voters and soliciting their vote and influence in the July 22 primary:

"In announcing my candidacy for this important judicial office, I am mindful of the duties and responsibilities of the office. Most of the citizenship of Lubbock county will remember that I retired from the office of district judge of the 2nd judicial district Dec. 31, 1936, since which time I have been actively engaged in the practice of law in Lubbock.

Is World War I Veteran

"In 1917-18 and 19, voluntarily served my country as a soldier in the United States Army for nearly two years at Camp Travis, San Antonio, to the Rhine river and return. I now again voluntarily, of my own free will and accord, hereby tender my services to the people of Lubbock county in these chaotic and uncertain imes.

"I was born and reared in Hopkins county, Texas, where I lived until I moved to Lubbock more than 21 years ago.

"The office of district judge is, in my opinion, one of the most important in Texas and I believe, the most important judicial office in the state. A district court is the highest trial court in Texas. A district court deals with life, liberty and property, all of which are sacred and highly important to every citizen.

"I would be unappreciative if I did not say to my friends and the citizenship of Lubbock county that I am deeply grateful for the honors conferred upon me in the past and for the confidence they have placed in me. I greatly appreciate the many kind words expressed to me since I entered the campaign as a candidate for judge of the 99th district court. I will appreciate beyond words of expression the help and aid of my friends in this campaign.

"I want to assure the citizenship of this county that my campaign, as far as I am personally concerned and by my friends, will be conducted on a clean and dignified plane in keeping with the dignity of the office of district judge.

"I want to assure the citizenship of Lubbock county if they should see fit to honor me by nominating and electing me to the office of district judge that I will, in accordance with the oath of office, uphold and defend the Constitution and the laws of the State of Texas and the United States. I will to the best of my ability, as I have tried to do in years past, conduct the district court with dispatch, efficiency and with economy, fairly and impartially."

Nine Race Horses Lost In Kentucky Fire

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 20 (AP)—Nine race horses and one pony were destroyed early today when fire razed one of the barns at historic Churchill Downs.

Hundreds of thoroughbreds were stabled at the track but only about 30 had to be turned loose. In addition to the horses which were destroyed, another racer was missing several hours after the fire was brought under control.

Value of the nine horses lost in the fire was variously estimated at from $30,000 to $50,000. There was no outstanding racer among them.

Judge Dan Blair of 72nd district court Saturday afternoon asked counsel on both sides to file briefs, and by agreement of sides continued a temporary receivership for the six-story Myrick office building and an injunction in force pending a hearing and determination by the court of the rights of parties to the litigation.

Judge Blair, on application of Amicable Life Insurance company of Waco, Tuesday had appointed as temporary receiver M. L. Shepherd, managing trustee since Jan. 25, 1943, of all property described in a deed of trust executed by Myrick Investment company and others, defendants in the action, to secure what the Waco concern termed an indebtedness now totaling $207,950.53.

The firm of Crenshaw and Dupree represents Amicable, and Mrs. Roberta N. Myrick, president of the investment company; Russell Myrick and wife and Walter A. Myrick and wife, all of Lubbock, and Mrs. Gertrude Triplett and husband of Live Oak county employed James O. Cade as their counsel.

Allied Offensive In Italy Could Develop Into A Block-Buster

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The Allied offensive in Italy has attained a gratifyingly substantial degree of success which might develop into a block-buster.

Nazi recognition of this danger is clearly indicated in Berlin's megaphone denial of the existence of the Adolf Hitler line, although the Allies actually were flinging themselves against these defenses as the fabrication was broadcast. That's highly significant.

It means the Hitlerites are preparing the German public in particular and the world in general, for a possible big Nazi withdrawal. The German command knows it isn't fooling the Allied command into believing that "there ain't no such animal" as the Adolf Hitler line, because our boys have been raising cain in it. However, the denial is designed to soften the adverse moral effect if the Nazis have to continue their retreat.

Stiff Battle Imminent

It doesn't follow that the Germans won't put up a stiff battle, despite the fact that an Allied spokesman described their retirement from the Gustav line to the Hitler defenses as a "disorderly retreat." Hard experience teaches us not to bank on a German debacle until we actually see it.

As things are going, the Allied onslaught in Italy is proving to be an excellent curtain raiser for the major operations to come in eastern and in western Europe. The German commitment of some twenty-five divisions — probably 300,000 men—to the task of holding onto central Italy is a serious one at this crucial moment when Hitler is so short of man-power that he is having to count noses. If the Allies can smash these divisions and clear the Italian peninsula, it will be a grand contribution to the final assault on the festung Europa.

While the Allies are getting ahead with their announced intention of annihilating the German army in Italy, an uneasy Berlin insists that Russia is ready for a wholesale offensive. And to keep German nerves jangling, the Muscovites agree that this is true.

Sheriff E. J. Tarbox, Brother Of Elmer, Sworn Into Navy

A West Texas "gun totin'" sheriff, Everett J. Tarbox of Lipscomb county and brother of Maj. Elmer "The Great" Tarbox of Texas Tech football fame, has given up chasing law breakers, to give chase to a different type of criminal, namely "the little sons of heaven" or the so-called Nazi supermen.

Tarbox, 35, volunteered for induction in the Navy and was sworn in here Saturday.

A native of Lipscomb county, he graduated from Higgins High school. He is a veteran peace officer of that county, having been a deputy sheriff for eight before taking the oath as sheriff on Jan. 1, 1943.

In recalling his experiences, Tarbox said he was forced to "shoot it out" with only one criminal in his 10-year career as an officer. This took place several years ago, he said, at the Canadian river bridge near Lipscomb when he shot Pete Traxler, wanted for robbery, in the arm and leg. Traxler was later given a life sentence in the state penitentiary.

Tarbox is married and has a nine-year-old son. He was making his home in Lipscomb, but has now moved his family back to Higgins for the duration.

He stated that he has not yet officially resigned his office as sheriff but will send in his resignation as soon as he gets to "boot" camp.

The SPORTS EYE

By Mack Turner

AT LEAST for the present, one of the most colorful figures in the Texas schoolboy coaching world has stepped aside to allow others to carry on the great work that he has done in his years of coaching.

It was back in 1929 that a kid, a green kid in the coaching profession, stepped from the campus of Texas Tech to the football field at the small school at Chillicothe.

It was there that the leadership of Volney Hill first struck a keynote of greatness as his almost legendary "Iron Men" began to stand in the way of such powerhouses as the Olney Cubs and Crowell's Wildcats.

Olney, with a long line of great stars, and Crowell, with the immortal Dick Todd, had teams that North Texas critics agreed but few Class A (now known as AA) schools could beat. It was in the "toughest Class B district in Texas" that Volney Hill got his baptism of fire.

It was in a race where only the hardy could survive, and Volney Hill survived. The Iron Men not only withstood the assault of all comers, but with them, Volney Hill was the only coach in high school that ever devised a defense that would stop the scoring stampede of Dick Todd.

Todd scored more than 600 points in his four years in high school. He failed to score only ONE time, and that was a 0-to-0 tie with the Chillicothe Iron Men.

Hill made his fame in the toughest conference in the state with a grid squad of twelve boys. They didn't win the district, but were beaten in their greatest year by penetrations in the scoreless tie with Crowell. But the Chillicothe Iron Men are still talked of in North Texas.

BUT Volney Hill moved on from Chillicothe, but back to his alma mater he sent two great stars off that Chillicothe eleven. Red Ramsey and Tex Wigington carried the same kind of play that Hill had taught them into the lineup at Texas Tech, and made great stars.

Hill's next stop on the football map was Burkburnett where his Bulldogs won fame and regional titles at the same time. It was in the summer of 1934 that Hill moved to Burkburnett. Again it was the great leadership of this man that brought that school out of the rut into which it had fallen.

Hill was at Burkburnett until 1940, winning three regional titles, and losing once in bi-district play to the famed flying feet of Jack Crain, then a star at Nocona. The Burkburnett lads were undefeated in 1937 and both undefeated and untied in 1939.

When Hill went to Burkburnett, he returned to the campus of Texas Tech to get his assistant coach. Along with Polk Robison, now assistant coach at Texas Tech, they worked shoulder to shoulder to build the famed Burkdogs into a peak that the school had never reached before, nor has it approached since.

There were some great stars produced under Hill and Robison at Burkburnett, but perhaps the most famous of these was Murray Evans, who made Little All-American honors at Hardin-Simmons and now in pro football. From that same team came Freddie Brown and Bobby Hayes who played some good football for Texas Tech last season, Brown gaining mention for All-American honors.

Two others that starred in football after leaving high school were Babe Green who made a great star at Oklahoma university, Tulsas' famed Wayne Rose, and Hill's former assistant at Lamesa, Tolly McKown.

It was at Burkburnett where one really saw the type of man that Volney Hill was. The poolhalls and lack of interest had been an anchor to school athletics in the city, but Hill combatted this with the Burkburnett Boys club, and it proved a success.

Most of Volney's boys came from "across the tracks" and off the farms, and at one time at Burkburnett Hill and Robison counted noses and found that on the 18-man traveling squad they had 12 boys who were either orphans or had no father at home. Volney was a father to them all, and couldn't have taken more interest in them if they had been his own sons.

Two of his gratest stars, Evans and Green, were two boys that Hill "talked back" into school and with the football they learned under Hill, they were both showered with scholarships which permitted them to obtain college educations.

IT WAS up to this point that we were closely associated with Volney Hill in his coaching career, and it was at this point that we saw his "first" retirement from the game.

But football has been too greatly instilled into the blood of Volney Hill for us to ever console ourselves that he had quit the game. We waited through his retirement before, and welcomed him back into the field when he took over the reins of the Tahoka school and led them to a district title and again showed those same old signs of leadership that have become so much a part of the Volney Hill we know.

Hill next went to Lamesa where he won the hearts of the city, the fans and most of all, the boys. The gift of a suit of clothes that the Fighting Golden Tornados presented to Coach Hill recently was the gift of more than a suit of clothes—it was the gift of the love, friendship and appreciation of a year well spent.

Lamesa's game at Lubbock last fall was our first time to see Hill's team play since those golden days at Burkburnett. It was a far different story from what we had known in the past, but we found one thing that we had known for years. A Hill-coached football team proved sportsmen in defeat as we had seen Hill-coached teams be in victory. Lamesa was beaten by a heavy score, but the boys left the field with their chins up and with every fan in the stands admiring their sportsmanship and spirit.

Volney Hill is a man who is too interested in the welfare of boys and girls, and with too great a knowledge of sportsmanship, leadership and athletics in his heart to stay out of the coaching profession for long.

We welcome into our midst the new coaches at Lamesa, and know that our future relations with them will be as happy as has been the years we have worked with Volney Hill. We know that H. S. Fitzgerald and P. M. Andrews will make good at Lamesa, and we welcome them as coaches of the South Plains and hope that they will find the chance soon to visit with us.

But while we look ahead to another football season, we also look beyond to the day when one of the greatest leaders in schoolboy football will come out of retirement for the second time.

I'll be see you.

Dubiel Leads New York Back To Top

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—Walter (Monk) Dubiel pitched and batted the New York Yankees into first place in the American League standings today, as the world champs defeated the St. Louis Browns 3-2 before 11,790 paid admissions.

Dubiel held the Browns to four hits and made two himself, scoring one and driving in the winning run. He scored in the fifth when he singled, went to second on a safe bunt by George Stirnweiss, to third on Bud Metheny's sacrifice and tallied on Ed Levy's long fly. His double in the eighth drove in Rolline Hemsley with the run that decided the game.

Jack Kramer, winner of five games, hurled a creditable game, but caused his own downfall by committing a balk in the fifth, which allowed Stirnweiss to score with the second run of the inning.

Al Zarilla made two of the Brown's hits, including a triple in the ninth, and scored both of their runs.

Babe Didrickson Off To Seek New Titles

LOS ANGELES, May 20 (AP)—Having won every tournament of consequence in the Far West, Mildred Babe Didricksen Zaharias is packing her golf equipment for a tour of the Middle West and East in quest of new links glory.

The mighty Babe, who averages better than 270 yards in accurate driving, has her heart set on the Women's Western Open in Chicago late next month. Once acclaimed as the greatest all-around woman athlete of all time, the wife of wrestler George Zaharias feels she's ready to wrest the National golf title from any and all—just as soon as there's another national championship.

Babe and that's not a nickname) has bowled over everything in sight out here and is at the very peak of her game.

"I've given up tennis," she says, "principally because of a tennis elbow, but it really hurt my golf, I believe. My iron play suffered. Now I'm getting my drives where I want them and my putting has improved.'

Gregg Pitches Dodgers To Win

CINCINNATI, May 20 (AP) — Hal Gregg snapped the Dodgers' four game losing streak today, holding the Cincinnati Reds to seven hits and Brooklyn won 6-1.

The Reds' only run resulted from Ray Mueller's home run in the fifth inning. Howie Shultz led the Dodgers attack with two hits, including a homer in the ninth with two aboard.

Brooklyn presented Eddie Basinski at second base, and the recruit from Buffalo univestity, playing in his first professional game, tripled in the fifth to register the third Dodger run. He handled seven fielding chances flawlessly and began a double play.

LANIER WINS AGAIN

ST. LOUIS, May 20. (AP)—Southpaw Max Lanier got his sixth win of the season tonight, giving the St. Louis Cardinals a 10 to 0 victory over the New York Giants. Lanier allowed but three hits and struck out 11.

The Cards backed up Lanier's pitching by knocking the Giants' Bill Voiselle off the mound in the sixth. He was replaced by Harry Feldman who was promptly hit for two runs in the same inning.

Ken Brondell went in for the Giants in the eighth and was followed in short order by Walter Ockey. It was of no avail as the Cards clouted them for five runs.

Nine Horses Die In Fire At Derby Barn

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 20 (U.P.) The derby barn at Churchill Downs—traditional stable for the favored entries in the Kentucky Derby and which housed Pensive, the 1944 winner, only two weeks ago—was destroyed by fire today in which nine thoroughbreds and a pony perished.

A tenth thoroughbred was missing and believed to have been burned fatally in the fire. The loss was estimated at $50,000.

The fire, cause of which was not determined immediately, started in the same stall that had been occupied by Pensive at the derby meet. Five other derby entries had been stabled in the barn.

Michigan Takes Up Fight With Detroit Over Bob Westfall

DETROIT, May 20 (AP)—Players eligible for college football normally are out-of-bounds for the professional game, but the war-time code has thrust the University of Michigan into direct competition with the Detroit Lions for the services of fullback Bob Westfall.

Westfall, the Big Ten's rushing leader in 1941 when he captained the Michigan eleven, received a medical discharge from the Army Air Forces several months ago. He intends to return to the classroom in July to put the finishing touches on a degree, and as a student is eligible to return to Coach Fritz Crisler's backfield even though he had three years of college play.

However, the Lions also have designs on Westfall, who was Detroit's top choice in the 1941 National Football League draft. The Detroit roster is pretty much shot to pieces with Harry Hopp, Frankie Sinkwich and 18 other members of the 1943 squad gone to war, and the Lions presumably will make a strong bid with their big checkbook.

"Football salaries are paid for ability and gate appeal, and we are sure Westfall still has both," declared Coach Gus Dorais today. "Naturally, we want Westfall and hope to sign him. He's 25 years old now, and we believe that if he's going to cash in on his football, now's the time."

The Detroit club is known to have paid big salaries to Dutch Clark, Whizzer White and Sinkwich, but the offer to Westfall is undisclosed.

Meanwhile, Crisler and his Michigan staff are remaining discreetly silent. Westfall isn't talking either.

Amarillo Golfer In Front At Golf Meet

AMARILLO, May 20 (AP)—J. R. Brown, Amarillo amateur, held the lead at the end of 36 holes in the second annual $2,000 War Bond Open with a 134 here today. The local city champion carded a 68 yesterday and came back with a 66 today.

The final 18 holes in the 54-hole medal play are scheduled Sunday.

Pvt. Jimmy Gauntt, Texas PGA Open champion, is leading the division with 136. He had cards of 67 and 69. George Aulbach, Amarillo Country club pro, who held the opening 18-hole lead with a 65 slipped today going one over par—72.

Dick Martin, Dallas amateur, completed his 54 holes today in order to rush home. He had rounds of 72, 68, and 67 for a 207. Brown can win the simon-pure division with a 72 tomorrow.

Tucker Credits Navy With Aid To Batting

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP) — Thurman Tucker, the man with the Joe E. Brown profile and the Joe DiMaggio way of chasing fly balls, gives the Navy an indirect assist for his .400 batting average in the American League.

The Chicago White Sox outfielder who tops the junior loop in batting has been accepted by the Navy and is playing ball while awaitnig call. With the pressure off his baseball future he goes up to the plate completely relaxed and finds the hits coming easier.

"Before this year, I was always swinging for the fences, but now I'm up there just trying to meet that ball," the bespectacled Texan offered as an explanation of his sudden surge from .235 in 1943 to first place in the early spring averages.

Manager Jimmy Dykes stuck with him last year because of his speed, good throwing arm and ability to rob the opposition of baseshits. Now he's seeing his confidence repaid with interest.

The Gordon, Tex., native, started playing ball in the Cotton States League, but moved to the big show from Fort Worth in the Texas loop late in 1942.

Rogers Hornsby was Tucker's manager in the Texas League and he gets credit for changing him from a switch hitter to the left-handed variety on the theory that the extra step added to his blinding speed would give him many extra safeties. He hit .313 after the change.

KIRTLAND WINS MEET

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 20. (AP) — Kirtland Field Flying Kellys won the Southwestern serviceman's track and field championship here today, nosing out the University of New Mexico Navy Lobos, 70-68. Amarillo Air Base was third with 23 points.

AAU Meet Lines Up Field Of Top Notch Track Stars

The Southwestern AAU track meet Friday night in Dal-Hi stadium in Dallas will have a fast field of stars on the starting line with stars of high school, college and service teams giving the meet the best each of these divisions have to offer.

Headlined at the meet will be the 100 yard dash and 440 yard dash, two events that threaten to steal the show from all the others with two of the greatest high school athletes in the Lone Star State.

Parker, Moore Featured

Flying Charlie Parker from San Antonio in the shorter dash, and Lubbock's Burl Gene Moore, the Blonde Comet, will be facing the greatest test of their careers in going against the more seasoned college and service athletes, but track events are decided on time and distance, and on the basis of past times, the high school lads have all the best of the argument.

This season was Moore's greatest in track, but last season was on the Lubbock team at the state meet in the 440 and sprint relay. But this season, Moore came within .5 of the state record at Austin, and his time of 49.5 is rated as the fastest time turnd in in the nation to date.

Already definitely entered in the 440 yard dash at Dallas are Moore, Pfc. James Martin of Foster Field, who is credited with a 49.7 race this season; Owens of Gladewater and Ludwig of Texas A. & M.

Pete Watkins Enters

Pete Watkins of Randolph Field and a college star with Texas A. & M. after a great track season with Iowa Park High school, and 1943 National AAU high jump champion, is also another definite entry.

Texas Longhorn Track Coach Clyde Littlefield held hope today that Ralph Ellsworth, his ace sprinter, will be able to compete in the meet.

Littlefield is working with AAU meet Director P. C. Cobb in lining up the college entry.

With Ellsworth and Flying Charlie Parker competing for the first time in the 100 yard dash, the event should be clocked at the fastest time of the year, Cobb said. Ellsworth will enter the United States Naval Academy next month.

Navy Trackmen Romp Off With Track Win

PHILADELPHIA, May 20. (AP)—Navy's track team, relegated to the also rans late this week when it was reported that several of the Middie stars were ill, romped off with the 68th annual IC-4A cinder crown today by amassing 81 points.

The point aggregate wiped out the meet record of 71½ points which the Southern California outfit compiled in 1939.

Army was second with 35½ while Dartmouth grabbed third with 26½ when Don Burham retained his mile title and also won in the half.

The Midshipmen scored in 13 of the 16 events, being shut out only in the hammer throw, 100 and low hurdles, but it was Burham who put on the biggest individual display.

He galloped home in a 4:17 mile that was just fast enough to relegate Tony Luciano of Colgate to second place, and then fought a stirring stretch battle with Joe Hall of Columbia to take the half in 1:54.2. He also ran a 440-yard stint in the mile relay but Dartmouth couldn't finish in the money.

The Army Cadets' foursome in the mile relay reeled off their job in 3:18.9, the fastest time of the year.

Navy collected five first place medals and tied for a sixth.

Hobbs Negro Nine Is Winner Over SPAAF

The Hobbs Army Air Field negro baseball nine spoiled the season's opener for the South Plains Army Air Field negro club Saturday afternoon at SPAAF by pounding three pitchers for a 14-to-7 win for the New Mexico nine.

Lewis started the game for the SPAAF club, was driven to the showers in the second inning, and Tyler fared little better after taking over the pitching job. Sessions finished the game, which was called at the end of the seventh inning.

SPAAF took a one-run lead in the second inning, but it was soon erased by the potent bats of the visitors.

Segura Is Certain This Is His Season

MIAMI, Fla., May 20 (AP) — Francisco (Fancho) Segura, convinced that his backhand is as effective as his two-handed power strokes, put the tennis world on notice today that he is out after the National championship and then No. 1 National ranking.

The Ecuadorean student at the University of Miami observed that "I think now I'm tough" as he prepared for a workout on the university's courts.

"This summer I hope to be really tough," he declared. "I'm going after the National Intercollegiate title again at Chicago on June 22, and the National championship at Forest Hills in September. I expect to try for the Pacific Southwest title at Hollywood, too.

"This is the year when I should step up from No. 3 to No. 1 National ranking. I'm going to try for it."

Pancho's coach, Ike Macy, tennis pro at the Coral Gables Country club, agreed that the Latin player had a good chance for his heart's desire—that No. 1 spot in tennis.

Segura holds the Pan-American championship, won last year at Mexico City, as well as the intercollegiate title. He was the star of the Forest Hills competition last year but lost out in the semi-finals.

Big Inning Enables Texas To Beat Rice

HOUSTON, May 20. (AP) — Six unearned runs coming with two out and two on base in the fifth inning enabled the University of Texas Longhorns to defeat the Rice Owls, 7-1, and sweep their season's play with Cecil Grigg's club for the third consecutive year.

Rice scored its lone tally in the first and led, 1-0 going into the fifth after big Tom Hopkins had halted three Longhorn threats.

To open the fifth, Billy Cox strolled and Bob Campbell beat out a bunt down the third base line. Zeke Wilemon bunted and Hopkins three out Cox at third. Avinger skied to left and it appeared Hopkins was going to stop the Steers again as Frank Stephens sent a bouncer to Billy Callender at third.

Callender fielded the ball, failed in trying to tag Campbell coming to third but still had plenty of time to get Stephens. He threw low, however, and Campbell tallied. Red Connors doubled to right to score Wilemon, and Al Hunt sent a single into center to bring in Stephens and Connor. Bobby Layne shot a single to right, sending Hunt to third from where he scored on a wild pitch. Layne stole second and counted as Murphy threw Andrews' bouder away. Cox then grounded out to first.

The final Texas run came in the seventh as hits by Connor and Layne were sandwiched around a pass to Hunt.

Great Lakes Track Squad Wins Easily

GREAT LAKES, Ill., May 20. (AP)—Scoring 10 firsts, eight seconds and sharing place honors in two other events, the Great Lakes track team overwhelmed Northwestern today in a dual meet, 83 1/3 to 38 2/3.

Jerry Thompson, former University of Texas athlete now competing for Great Lakes, captured the mile run in 4:25.4 and the two mile in 9:45.1. The sailors' other double winner was Floyd Bates, ex-Flint, Mich., High school star, who won the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.6 seconds and the 220-yard low hurdles in 25.2.

Georgia Tech Track Squad Sets Record

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 20. (AP)—Scoring in every event and taking first place in six, Georgia Tech set a new Southeastern Conference track meet scoring record today to win the first such championship in its history.

The vistors scored 90 points to break the 78-point record established by Louisiana State in 1935. L.S.U. finished second with 65 points. Tulane, paced by high-point man Alex (Greek) Atlas, was third with 47, and Auburn with 15, Vanderbilt with 5 and Tennessee with 2, finished in that order.

New York University scored 77 victories against four defeats in home basketball games.

Baseball Class To Start Wednesday

Eubank To Leave Post At SPAAF

Several changes in officer duty assignments, one affecting the post athletic officer, were announced at South Plains Army Air Field Saturday.

Capt. Nathan B. Enbank of Knoxville, Tenn., who has been athletic officer at SPAAF almost from the time the field got under way, has been transferred to another station, it was announced.

Came In July 1942

One of the veteran AAF officers in the city, Capt. Enbank was stationed in Lubbock in July, 1942. Since then he has been in charge of the athletic setup and sports activities at the nation's largest advanced glider pilot training center and has turned out some of the country's outstanting individual stars and teams.

In civilian life he was coach of the Central High school football team at Knoxville, Tenn., and amassed one of the most impressive high school records in the nation. At SPAAF, he has tutored such outstanding football and basketball performers as Marion Rogers, who made the Service All American football team last fall, and "Pete" McCloud, former All American cage star. His basketball team last fall was one of the outstanding service teams of the Southwest.

Stock Takes Post

Capt. Eubank will be succeeded by Lieut. Bernard A. Stock of Gettysburg, Penn., as athletic officer at SPAAF. Lieut. Stock also is a veteran at the field and has been both a coach and player. He is a graduate at Franklin-Marshall College.

Assisting Lieut. Stock will be Lieut. Ray Cagni of Pittsburgh, Penn., also a veteran of the athletic setup at the field.

Withers Mile Won By Who Goes There

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP)—Another threat to Pensive's hold on the three-year-old turf crown came out of the Withers mile today when George D. Widener's Who Goes There left 12 others of his age trailing in the 69th running of the mile race at Belmont Park.

Stablemate of Platter, who dropped a close decision to Pensive in the recent Preakness, the Widener colt stepped off the eight furlongs in 1:38 and reported to the judges four lengths in advance of his nearest rival.

By Jimminy held on long enough to take second money from Boy Knight in a photo finish.

The disappointment of the race was Broadcloth, second to Pensive in the Kentucky Derby. The coal black horse was made the choice of the crowd of 40,732, who poured $3,562,771 through the mutuel machines on the eight races, for a new world wagering mark, but he was never in the running, finishing eighth. The betting tipped the previous high of $3,369,385 set a week ago. Enroute to the new financial high a one race record was set when $564,756 kept the machines humming in the last race.

Who Goes There will get his chance to tangle with Pensive and Platter in the rich Belmont Stakes on June 3, and the way he ran today it will not be a two-horse race. Johnny Longden broke the son of Challenger 2nd in front and he stayed there all the way.

Despite reports that he had been beating Platter in workouts, Who Goes There was neglected in the betting with the result he paid $40.90 for a $2 win mutuel in earning $16,250 of the $21,750 purse.

Floodtown, owned by 31-year-old Lieut. Edward Lacker of the U. S. N., took the measure of eight other two-year-olds in the 69th juvenile.

Schoolboy Injuries Reported By League

AUSTIN, May 20. (U.P.)—Eight boys out of 100 who participated in Texas Interscholastic League football during the 1943 season incurred injuries, the University of Texas League headquarters reported today. One death from injury in scrimmage was reported by Seminole High school.

But 262 schools out of the total of 616 participating in 1943 football furnished injury reports. These 262 schools reported 615 boys injured, out of 7,789 who participated in the football program. A total of 679 cases of injuries was reported, indicating that some boys were injured more than once.

Sprains accounted for 223 of the injuries, fractures 152, dislocations, 56, cuts, 55, other injuries 156, and unidentified cases 37.

Semi-Pro Champs To Disband For Season

WICHITA, Kas., May 20 (AP)—The Wheeler (Ga.) Spokes have disbanded and so will be unable to defend their National Semi-Pro Baseball championship in the 1944 tournament.

Ray Dumont, president of the Semi-Pro Baseball Congress, said today the transfer from Camp Wheeler of six key players, was the reason given for the team cancelling remaining games this season.

The Spokes captured seven straight games in the tournament here to annex the National title last season.

The thud of baseballs into mitts and the crack of the bat meeting the horsehide will echo from Chapman Field Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock when former major leaguer Sam West tosses open the Junior Baseball school for the Lubbock kids.

It will be the first real test for the boys in the age brackets up to, and including, 17 years of age. It will be the first step on the Junior baseball program planned for the city for this summer which will find two leagues in operation.

School Runs 4 Days

The kids will have four days of school in which to learn something about the game, then three months of play in which to put the knowledge learned at the school to the test on the diamond.

In those four days, West and his staff of assistants will put the boys through a crowded program of baseball, taking up every phase of the game and showing the kids what the grand old National Pastime consists of.

Ball Games Saturday

Climaxing the four day school will be two seven inning ball games next Saturday between All-Star teams picked from the school classes. Both games will be seven inning games.

The school has been divided into two sessions with the junior boys attending the morning classes and the senior boys the afternoon classes from 2 to 6 o'clock.

It will be an introduction to baseball for many future baseball stars, and into those four days, the instructors will try to show the boys as much baseball as can be crowded into the camp.

Instructors Staff

Arrangements have been made at Lubbock Army Air Field for West to have full charge of the school, and assisting him will be Lt. James McDonald, another top notch baseball player who will be on hand to help with the classes on alternate days.

John King, the well known one time umpire and baseball star, has also promised West to try to help at the school if he can arrange his business schedule to be on hand. Dell Morgan, coach at Texas Tech and former pro baseball star, will beon the staff of instructors.

Complete Schedule

The complete schedule of the school has been drawn up for the four days with the same daily schedule followed for each group of boys. The opening classes Wednesday will deal largely with the fundamentals of the game and work on batting stance, which will include the swinging, timing and bunting. There will be an hour of this.

The second hour will be devoted to outfielders, showing them the fundamentals on playing their position, fielding, and how and where to throw.

The third hour will be devoted to the battery and infielders on how to play their positions in the field.

Throughout the first day, boys will be shown the fundamentals of base running, one of the most important phases of the game. The boys will find something to occupy their time throughotu the entire program.

Review Days

The schedule for Thursday will carry the same schedule farther along the line, and will give the boys the chance to put into real practice what they were shown the day before. As on Wednesday, batting will take the first hour, outfielders the second and infielders the third hour.

Friday will be devoted to a review day and the boys will be shown how to carry out the action of the first two days under game conditions. The two baseball games will take up the schedule for Saturday, the closing day of the school.

Middleweights Head Houston Fight Card

HOUSTON, May 20 (AP)—The War Bond Sports Activities Committee of Houston today signed Cpl. Al Hostak to fight Cpl. Glenn Lee here June 21 and set its sights on boxing's first $20,000,000 gate.

Hostak, twice middleweight champion of the world, represents the 13th Armored Division of Camp Bowie. Lee, formerly No. 1 contender for the middleweight crown, is a member of the 84th Infantry Division of Camp Claiborne, La.

The 10-round Hostak-Lee bout will top a boxing carnival which will feature the fifth war loan drive. Admission to the show will be by war bond purchase only with 11,000 seats in the coliseum scaled from $25 for balcony to $50,000 per pair for ringside for an aggregate of $20,000,000.

The show is being sponsored by Houston Elks lodge which is paying the purses of the fighters and defraying other expenses of the show.

Rice Physical Head Goes To Brooklyn

HOUSTON, May 20 (AP) — Dr. Harry Alexander Scott, head of the physical education department at Rice institute, has resigned to accept a similar position at Brooklyn college, Brooklyn, N. Y., it was announced today.

Doctor Scott came to Rice in 1929 as professor of physical education from the University of Oregon. He stated that the new position will "afford me more professional opportunity."

PRO GRID SWAP

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—Bob Masterson, captain and end of the Washington Redskins, 1943 Eastern Division champions of the National Football League, came to the Brooklyn Tigers today in a player trade.

Miss Keeneland, a favorite among Derby fillies, won $30,975 last year. She finished first in the Selima Stakes at Pimlico and second in the Lassie Stakes at Washington Park.

Hitler's Fight-Or-Die Orders May Be Destruction Of Army

LONDON, May 20 (AP)—For the first time in a year the western Allies are believed by military men in Britain to have a good chance to destroy a German army, thanks to Hitler's reported "fight-and-die" orders in Italy.

Hitler is understood to have issued orders last winter for the German armies in Italy to hold their positions and fight to the last man, a strategy which in the recent past has resulted in two great defeats for the Germans.

First there was the debacle at Stalingrad, which resulted in the destruction of the German Sixth Army by the Russians, and the second, the big defeat just a year ago this month when Hitler left his Africa corps to its late in Tunisia and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's forces wiped it out.

Had Plenty Of Reserves

At that time the German Army still had plenty of reserves and could afford heavy losses. Now the situation is reversed, but Hitler's strategy to all appearances has not.

On the narrow Italian boot, laced by mountains the Germans could fight a long series of stubborn rear guard actions with slow, planned withdrawals and have small losses.

The Allied armies never would be able to advance fast enough to turn the German flank in this type of fighting or break through deep enough to imperil the whole German Army. In this way the Germans could fight all the way to the Po river and keep their army intact.

Ordered To Stand Fixed

Instead of that Hitler has ordered his troops to stand on fixed lines, with the result that the powerful Allied onslaught has broken through their positions, with the French crashing through the center and the Americans apparently turning the flank of the Hitler line on the coast, capturing Gaeta and advancing beyond.

It is possible that Nazi Field Marshal Albert Kesselring may be able to hold part of the Hitler line or the next line beyond it long enough to re-group his forces and start a fighting withdrawal up the boot, but the Allies have not yet thrown their full power into the attack, and an attempt to withdraw may already be too late.

Gen. Sir Harold Alexander has a potent, long-dormant thorn in the German flank already in the Anzio beachhead. If Allied troops should break out from the beachhead toward Rome now, the German armies in Italy would be in the same position as those at Stalingrad and in Tunisia, and for much the same reasons—Hitler.

General Election In Eire Closed Friday

DUBLIN, May 20. (AP)—Nominations in Eire's general election closed yesterday with Prime Minister Eamon de Valera's Fianna Fail the only party offering a sufficient number of candidates to enable the attainment of a majority in the new Dail in the general election May 30.

Of a total of 246 candidates nominated, the Fianna Fail got 96, Fine Gael 54, Farmers party 26, Independents 32, Labor 30, and National Labor nine.

De Valera was nominated in his old constituency of Clare. De Valera had said he called the election to win a majority for his party, out-numbered in the last dail 71 to 67.

New British Plane Flies Tail First

LONDON, May 20 (AP)—England now has a plane that flies tail first.

It is a "pusher" monoplane. The engine and main wing are in the rear with twin vertical stabilizers—rudders—at each wingtip and stubby horizontal stabilizers at the front.

The plane is an experimental fighter designed for extra stability and vision. Called the Miles-35, it is a single-engined version of the twin-engined Miles-39.

German War Vet's Son Is In Training With SPAAF Class

Twenty-six years ago today, Ernest Frederick Schultheis, a first sergeant of the German Imperial infantry was spending his fourth year in the front lines across no-man's land from France.

Today, at South Plains Army Air field, Cpl. Werner Schultheis, his son, is in the final phases of training in giant cargo and troop carrying gliders, hoping that he might get the chance to land one of the big "ghost ships" anywhere, "particularly Germany or Burma," to help end the war quicker.

And today in Dayton, Ohio, his father is testing 50 caliber machineguns to be used against his former homeland. His father's brother, who also came to the United States after living in Germany during the last war, is working in a defense plant, as is a cousin. Another cousin, a son of the uncle, is serving as a lieutenant at a Texas camp.

Came To U. S. In 1928

"My father brought me to this country to give me a chance he never had when he was young," Werner says in recounting how he had just started his second year of grade school work in Gottmadingen, Germany, when his family came to this nation in 1928. "I guess he saw the handwriting on the wall."

Cpl. Schultheis was born in the little village of Gottmadingen, only four miles from the Swiss border, 23 years ago. A hungry, beaten Germany was rising out of the chaos and corruption of the last war when he started to school.

Didn't Suffer Much

"I don't remember that we suffered so much, though, because situated as we were near the Alps we were more or less self sufficient and somewhat separated from the rest of the country," he says. "We often went to Switzerland to visit my father's mother," he continues.

"My father, after the last war, set up his metalsmith shop back at his home in Gottmadingen, but upon hearing of the opportunities in the United States from letters written by his brother, decided to bring his family over here," he adds. The family then included Werner's parents and himself, then eight years old. They have been in Dayton ever since.

While in high school, Werner was president of the National Honor Society and set an enviable record in his work. He was a student at the University of Dayton and in his off hours worked as an apprentice tool maker in a defense plant in Dayton, helping make the machineguns which he himself may have a chance to turn on the Nazis.

Use of italics in printing was introduced by the Aldine Press in Venice in the 15th century.

British Naval Force Sinks Two U-Boats

LONDON, May 20 (AP)—A British naval force escorting a convoy on its outward and homeward journey from Britain to Russia sank two German submarines, probably sank one or two more and damaged others, the Admiralty announced last night.

One British destroyer, the Mahratta, was torpedoed and sunk during the actions with only a few members of her crew being rescued.

The attacks took place over a period of several days within the Arctic circle around the northern tip of Norway. Of the two German U-boats definitely listed as sun, one was sent down by a naval bomber operating from the American-built British escort carrier chaser. The ather was sunk by joint naval-air action. Other British naval bombing planes from the carrier damaged other submarines. Carrier pilots, without loss, drove off German scout planes, damaging two of them.

Two New Versions Of A-20 Planes In Use

LONDON, May 20 (AP) — Two new versions of the A-20 Havoc light bomber each capable of carrying a ton of high explosives are now flying against the Germans from British bases, Lt.-Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, commander of the U. S. Ninth Air forces, announced today.

One was described as a bombardier version with transparent nose and the other as an attack type with solid nose and six forward machineguns. Their presence in the European theater was disclosed on April 19 but no details were given then.

The attack version releases its bombs in synchronization with the glass-nosed craft which does the aiming.

Boasting a speed in excess of 320 miles an hour and a tactical radius of more than 350 miles, the new Havocs can travel faster and farther than any previous version, Gen. Brereton said.

LINESMAN KILLED

PARIS, May 20 (AP)—Leslie M. Miller, distict line foreman for the Texas Power and Light company, was killed by an electrical shock last night. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Isabelle Miller of Dallas.

More Women Making Surgical Dressings

Interest in making 4 by 4 surgical dressings at the Re Cross has increased the last week and more than a hundred women reported for work Friday morning and afternoon, Mrs. C. P. Carlock, Lubbock County chairman of production, report d Saturday.

A number of new tables have been installed and the surgical dressing rooms will now take care of 125 workers, she said. The rooms are open at 1603 Avenue J from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. week days except Saturday and from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. Monday nights.

Shipping date for junk jewelry has been extended to May 29. Jewelry may be deposited in boxes at downtown department stores or brought to the Red Cross. The jewelry is sent to the boys in the Pacific who trade it to natives.

The last knitting shipment for the current production year is May 29. Mrs. J. H. Murdough, chairman, urges knitters to finish their garments by that time. Quilts to the Red Cross headquarters will also be shipped out May 29 and quil mus be in the production room by that date.

Poultry Prices To Be Reduced In June

A 2.2 cents per pound increase in prices of live and dressed poultry allowed for the month of May by the Office of Price administration and Office of Economic stabilization will be reduced to one cent for the month of June, J. B. Mooney, price executive of the Lubbock district office, announced Saturday.

Designed to provide better distribution of poultry throughout the year and to permit the surplus crop to be carried into distribution into the period of short supply, the new price schedule went into effect April 21.

After June, no more premiums will be paid until January, 1945.

Eight Men Killed In Nevada Bomber Crash

RENO, Nev., May 20 (AP)—Three officers and five enlisted men were killed in the crash of a B-24 bomber 10 miles north of the Tonopah Army Air field, Col. Jacob W. McCrillis, station commandant, announced today.

The plane crashed and burned last night.

The dead included:

Corp. Fernie L. Davis, wife, Grace, Livingston, Texas.

Five Persons Killed In Floods, Tornadoes

DES MOINES, Ia., May 20 (AP)—At least five persons were killed, more than 20 others were injured and property damage was estimated at $1,000,000 as a result of tornadoes, floods and torrential rains in Iowa in the last two days.

Thousands of acres of farm lands were inundated as the heaviest rains of the spring, accompanied by strong winds, struck in the northwest and central sections of the state, transportation and communication facilities were disrupted in many sections.

The storms, which first struck Thursday afternoon in the Sioux City area, hit again last night at Fort Dodge, killing one person and causing destruction of at least half dozen farm homes and a Fort Dodge factory. Damage was heavy in the city as well as in the rural areas.

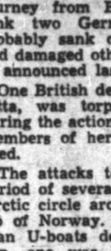

Awards Made Here To 4-H Club Boys

Winners among 4-H club boys of Lubbock county in the recent Sears-Roebuck cow, hog and hen essay contest were awarded four gilt pigs and one boar Saturday afternoon. W. C. O'Mara, manager of the Sears store in Lubbock, made the presentation of awards.

Winners of the four gilts were Aubrey Worsham of Frenship, Billy Joe Evans of Shallowater, Johnie Paul Hammett of Roosevelt and Tommy Fondren of Estacado. Duane Preston of Frenship was the winner of the boar.

Jason O. Gordon, Lubbock county agent, and R. L. King, assistant county agent, made short talks urging the winners to take care of their pigs.

INSOMNIA

CASE HISTORY No. 1243. Lady age 29 who had suffered from severe insomnia, unable to sleep for nearly two weeks. Back hurt all the time aching in left shoulder for four years, sinus trouble, and constipation. Had tried many kinds of remedies without results. She came to a chiropractor as a last resort. The spine was X-rayed, especially the upper neck, in different angles, and she began taking chiropractic service. After the first few days she began sleeping soundly. The adjustment released the nerves and in a few weeks time all symptoms had disappeared and under a complete course of adjustments, she felt like a new person. This case thought so much of Chiropractic, that she had mother take adjustments, and she responded wonderfully.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

CASE HISTORY No. 282. Lady age 73 had a pain under shoulder blade. Had high blood pressure, tingling sensation in right hand, severe dizziness in head, pains in knees and ankles. Under a course of Chiropractic, she was greatly improved and continued adjustments off and on for many months for other necessary ailments. Although not entirely well she states that the adjustments had saved her life from some form of paralysis.

WHAT DOES A CHIROPRACTOR DO? The chiropractor locates and corrects the cause of physical suffering so the nerve impulse traveling from the brain to the affected organs of the body can rebuild that particular part that is diseased, and the brain can control the body the way it should. Brain or nerve energy is transmitted over the body's network of nerves. These nerves come from the spine, and it is in the spine that these nerves can be "pinched"; and the flow of energy over them may be impeded or partially cut off. It is the Chiropractor's duty to locate the points of nerve interference and to correct that by the proper adjustment. When you deal with the nerve energy you are dealing with the spiritual something that controls the welfare of the human body.

STANDARD FACTS

SEA POWER...
Unites the United Nations makes them strong
Look at your world map. Without the power to move freely over the face of the seas, what could the United Nations accomplish? They would be isolated—and destroyed one by one—because they could not help one another.

SEA POWER
STRENGTHENS FEEDS, TOO!

Consider feeds for poultry and livestock. Grains alone, without the help of quality PROTEINS, VITAMINS and FOOD MINERALS are not "strong," meaning simply that rations of grain alone will not produce the maximum amounts of meat, milk and eggs per pound of feed. You waste time and money when you feed "weak" feeds. The sea is our richest potential source of the very proteins, vitamins and food minerals needed to balance up the grain and mill feeds produced on land, to help them give best feeding results.

STANTON'S FEEDS CONTAIN MANAMAR

The ManAmar contained in Stanton's Feeds is produced by Philip R. Park, Inc., San Pedro, Calif. This research organization specializes in "sea farming" . . . gathering, concentrating and blending always-healthy ocean fish (and their by-products) and "Sea Alfalfa" or Kelp. The fish are rich in proteins and also in health- and- growth-promoting vitamins. Kelp supplies food minerals which may be lacking in land feeds.

Try Stanton's feeds, enriched with ManAmar, and increase your production schedule and profit. Get all the facts, today.

UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY

800 acres, located within 2 miles of El Indio, on all-weather road, and within ¼ mile of paved highway. 600 acres rich agriculture land, has irrigating canal adjoining it for over 2 miles where the water comes over it by gravity from the Rio Grande. Now in the brush.

If you will loan me enough money to put it in cultivation, necessary improvements, and pay for one small annual payment, I will sell you the land on the following proposition: If you can give me good references as a good farmer, and have the necessary stock and machinery, and farm it according to my instructions, in alfalfa, onions, carrots and spinach, I will only charge you for the land for ½ of your net profits after paying all expenses of every kind, and allowing you $100.00 month salary to manage it, on all you make in two years, and I will give you a clear title to the land.

I own thousands of acres of land and short on money to improve it with. Now, if you only realise it, you have a proposition that you will probably never get again, as this land will make you rich in a few years time.

I will be at Carrizo Springs for the next few days. Advise you to come immediately. Wire, or write me when you will be there. W. H. Wilson will show you the land if I am not there.

Daily Oil Allowable Rises In Past Week

AUSTIN, May 20. (U.P.)—Total average daily allowable of 101,091 oil wells in Texas during the week was 2,172,387 barrels, or 4,102 barrels daily more than the preceding week, the state railroad commission announced today.

Production was from 69 more wells than the week before. The commission also said 95 oil wells were completed for the period to boost the year's total to 1,352 to 776 for a comparable time last year.

Drilling applications for the week numbered 174, while 96 wells were plugged.

SPECIALTIES CONTROL RECOVERY

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP)—Specialties, after a week of moderate strength, continued to control the recovery movement in today's stock market.

Trends were slightly mixed from the opening of the 2-hour proceedings and were irregularly higher at the close.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was up .1 of a point at 52.1 and had not suffered a loss since May 12. On the week it showed a net advance of .7 of a point. Liveliness of small-quoted issues put volume at 361,870 shares against 220,110 a week ago which was a low mark since last Sept. 4.

Ahead were Stewart Warner, Hayes Mfg., Atlantic Coast Line, Alleghany preferred, U. S. Steel, Montgomery Ward and Kennecott. Losers included Southern Railway, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, Du Pont, Texas Co., and Deere.

In the curb Union Stockyards of Omaha, on a 20-share sale, first since 1940, jumped 16 points to 60. Minor plus signs were attached to American Gas, Carrier Corp., and Cities Service. Turnover here was 86,395 shares versus 50,670 last Saturday.

Tito Interview

ply to a series of questions submitted to him by the Associated Press. He wrote the answers in his native tongue, Croatian, and signed the document "N. B. Tito, Marshal of Yugoslavia."

The means by which the questions were taken to his secret headquarters in Yugoslavia and the answers were brought out must remain secret.

Tito asked that the committee of liberation be given the gold of the Yugoslav National bank, the Yugoslav warships seized by the Italians and retaken by the Allies, and the Yugoslav merchant vessels now in possession of King Peter's exiled Yugoslav government, which his own organization does not recognize.

The Marshal said his people were getting some help from the Allies and especially expressed appreciation of the support given his troops by the Allied airforces. Much more is needed, however, he said, especially tanks, antitank guns, airplanes and food.

Local Traitors Help

The Germans "helped by local traitors" have destroyed one-twelfth "of the entire Slav population of Yugoslavia," he declared, and have plundered wide areas carrying off horses, cattle and sheep, burning down thousands of houses and destroying some towns entirely.

One hundred and ten thousand soldiers of the National Liberation Army have been killed in the past three years, he said.

In reply to the question, "What is the strength of the enemy forces in Yugoslavia?" Marshal Tito included the Mihailovich Chetniks among them and credited General Draja Mihailovich, (war minister of the Yugoslav government in exile and leader of its forces inside Yugoslavia) with having a force of only 16,000.

Many Enemy In Area

His answer was: "In Yugoslavia there are still about 14 German divisions, four Bulgarian divisions, about 120,000 to 130,000 Croat Domobrans, Legionaires and Ustachi, about 15,000 followers of Nedic (Field Marshal Milan Nedic, pro-Nazi former premier), 16,000 Chetniks under Mihailovich, three regiments of White corps in Serbia, about 12,000 Slovene Domobrans under the Quisling Rupnik and about 10,000 Arnauts. Besides this there are various police troops.

(Earlier this week the AP was informed that a passage referring to Mihailovic was the chief reason it still was held up by the censor. This may have been the passage.)

Tito said that the committee of liberation had not formally demanded recognition by the United States, Britain and Russia as "the sole legal government of Yugoslavia" because its main line of action was to subordinate all activity to "our struggle against the invader."

Avoid Inconveniences

He said the committee also wanted to avoid giving any "inconveniences" which might arise out of demands for recognition.

In response to a question on the size of the Liberation Army, Tito said that since he announced it as 250,000 last November, "some units, each consisting of some divisions," have been formed.

In response to the question how the Allies most effectively could help Yugoslavia, Tito said the national committee was trying to obtain before all else armaments, ammunition, medical supplies and food for the Liberation Army.

Discussing help for civilians, Tito said there was hunger in many of the worst devastated sections. Efforts have been made, he said, to make this year's crops as rich as possible, but in some cases this was impaired by shortages of seed, cattle and farm machinery, and even the coming harvest would not fully solve the food problem.

Gob Gives Up After Man He Choked Dies

HOUSTON, May 20. (AP)—Cecil W. Kelly, 30-year-old Tyler man who recently had been discharged from the Army and was a Houston resident two days, is dead and a 33-year-old sailor surrendered to police after reporting he apparently had choked Kelly to death.

The sailor, stationed here, told police homicide clerk O. O. Grounds, in a written statement, that Kelly died about 2:15 a. m. today at the latter's apartment.

Justice W. C. Ragan held the inquest but delayed returning an inquest until an autopsy is performed by the county health officer at Jefferson Davis hospital and the exact cause of death determined.

The sailor telephoned Grounds from a local hotel lobby.

"This may sound silly to you but I think I may have killed a man," the sailor told the police officer.

"How did you kill him?"

"I choked him," he sailor replied.

"What did you choke him with?" Grounds asked.

"With my hands," was the reply.

The sailor said he gave Kelly artificial respiration in an attempt to revive him. Failing, he went to the hotel and called police.

Demo Convention

ed 825 uninstructed delegates to 501 instructed, a total of 1,326 votes of a total of 1,901. Reports from county conventions were still coming in.

Chief business for the executive committee Monday will be canvasing of county convention reports from which the lists of instructed and uninstructed delegations will be made up. Upon the certified lists of delegates, credentials admitting county representatives to the convention hall must be issued.

With sharp cleavage which thus far has failed of compromise between the faction advocating a Texas delegation instructed for a fourth term for President Roosevelt, and that seeking to send an unstructed delegation, prospects were good for a showdown fight at both the committee sessions and the convention itself.

No Change In Site

There was still no change in the convention arrangements committee's plan to hold the session in the state Senate chamber at the capitol. Pro-Roosevelt forces have bitterly opposed this. This committee meets again tomorrow.

The executive committee will recommend to the convention a temporary slate of officers, including temporary chairman and keynoter. The names of Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, former State Senator Hart Willis of Dallas, former Governors James V. Allred, Dan Moody and Pat M. Neff, have all been mentioned. Regardless of whom the committee recommends, nominations from the floor are in order, and a fight on this question was almost certain.

Pros Want Allred

Pro-Roosevelt forces would like to see Allred in the post. Anti-Roosevelt forces would favor Stevenson, who has frequently been critical of administration policies.

Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, former secretary of state and an executive committee member from Austin identified with the pro-Roosevelt forces, decided not to carry to the higher courts an appeal from a 98th district court ruling yesterday denying her petition for a temporary injunction designed to give her access to committee records here.

Fifteen Found Guilty In Cohabitation

SALT LAKE CITY, May 20 (AP) —Fifteen Salt Lake City men were convicted today of unlawful cohabitation, concluding a "paper trial" conducted without witnesses.

District Judge Ray Van Cott, jr., who presided without a jury, announced the verdict. This is the first time any defendants in the complicated polygamous marriage case have been either convicted or acquitted.

The 15 men—among 46 persons arrested March 7 in four western states in a federal-state investigation of plural marriage practices —were accused of living with 55 women, not their legal wives.

Defense was based on assertions that plural marriage constitutes a religious belief of the "Fundamentalist" cult—to which all defendants belong—and as such is protected under religious freedom guarantees of the United States Constitution.

The court set Thursday, May 25, for sentencing.

The maximum penalty is five years in prison.

'Rocket' Plane On Display Here Today

That little "Rocket' airplane, much-publicized "answer to the immediate post-war future," may be seen this morning at the Breedlove field southeast of Lubbock, this afternoon at the old Dagley field two miles west of College avenue on Thirty-fourth street.

R. S. Johnson, its designer, also contributed to designs of the Culver Cadet, a "scat" product among light plane manufacture, and, earlier, the Globe Aircraft corporation's "Swift" and the Alexander company's "Eaglerock."

Taking a cue from performances tested in those other planes, Johnson has attained in his latest "revolutionary departure from accepted style" a 125 hp plane that he claims will cruise at 150 to 155 mph; reach a top of 180 mph; reach 10,000 feet in 12 minutes; stand up under an allowable dive speed of 260 mph; rate a stress factor of 9; and boast a monospar all-wood moulded plywood covering except for a bit of canvas on control surfaces

The public is invited to inspect the ship.

Poison Oak Said Ready To "Make An Honest Living"

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 20. (AP) —Poison oak, public enemy of the forest, is about ready to start paying its debt to society—at a rate of perhaps $5,000,000 a year, a scientist estimated today.

This bad boy of the plant kingdom, tormenter of picnickers and fishermen, has reformed under benign guidance of chemurgy and is in a position to earn an honest living, said Dr. A. C. Shead, University of Oklahoma chemistry professor.

What we should do, he told the first southwest chemurgic clinic here, is plant more poison oaks and thus give this country three important new chemical products.

The scientist said the same juice which has spread itchy rashes would, when oxidized to eliminate the irritant, make a lacquer of high quality, 20,000,000 pounds of which is at present imported annually from India.

The non-poisonous berries, Shead explained, are rich in fat that could be used to make Japanese wax, large quantities of which were imported from Japan before the war at prices ranging to 25 cents a pound.

The third product—and Shead said it was a rare plant which yielded as many as three useful substances — is tannin for the leather industry, extracted from the leaves.

The professor's estimate of the potential commercial worth of the plan was, he said, conservative.

Meat Demonstrations Are Slated at SPAAF

A series of lecure-demonstrations covering various phases of the subject of meat, and designed for presentation at selected army air bases throughout the nation, will be conducted at South Plains Army Air field Monday through Wednesday, May 29-31, it was announced at SPAAF Saturday.

The program has been arranged by the meat utilization division of the air quartermaster, Headquarters Army Air Forces.

The demonstrations will be presented by D. R. Miller, meat specialist of ahe National Livestock and Meat board, an organization which represents all branches of the livestock growers and feeders, livestock marketing agencies, meat packers and retail meat dealers.

Miller will conduct four demonstrations during his three-day visit at SPAAF. Definite times and places for the demonstrations will be announced later.

Billings Arrested As He Leaves Guardhouse

LEAVENWORTH, Kans., May 20. (AP)—Arthur Goodwyn Billings, former University of Texas faculty member accused of refusing to be sworn into the Army after reporting for physical examination, was taken in custody today by a deputy U. S. marshal following his release from the Fort Leavenworth guardhouse.

He was arrested by Deputy Marshal Joe Regan of Kansas City, Kans., on a warrant charging him with "wilfully, knowingly and feloniously failing and neglecting to report for the purpose of induction" as ordered by his draft board in Ottawa county, Kans., in violation of the selective service act of 1941.

Taken before U. S. Commissioner Malcolm McNaughton, he waived preliminary hearing and was held under cash bond of $2,500.

Hitler Line Is Crumbling Fast

denoting hasty German withdrawal.

Terracina Shelled

Allied warships shelled Terracina, and the air arm, flying 2,270 sorties Friday, blasted heavily again at the creaking German rail and highway supply network.

Hammering at German Hitler line fortifications in the north, Eighth Army tanks and troops thrust through barbed wire entanglements to the fringes of Aquino in the Liri valley, and opened an attack on another stronghold, Pontecorvo.

Still farther north, Polish forces fighting through high mountains seized Villa Santa Lucia, 2½ miles northwest of Cassino monastery, moved up into Piedmonte, just off highway 6, the road to Rome, and mopped up other heights.

Eighth Army Front

A dispatch from Associated Press correspondent Lynn Heinzerling with the Eighth Army in Liri valley said the Germans had abandoned some equipment in falling back in this sector, but declared the Germans had a line of strong positions barring the broad valley and highway, guarded especially by towering, mile-high Mt. Cairo. Here the Germans dug in, placed anti-tank ditches, and strung barbed wire "about 10,000 yards across the entire valley" sometimes to a depth of 20 feet.

Heinzerling warned of "very costly fighting" likely ahead, and said both sides were preparing "for the bloody test soon to come."

In Central Sector

In the central sector, French French troops captured Sant'Oliva, Monte Mandrone commanding the road from Pontecorvo to Pico, and several other heights.

Allied headquarters disclosed the Germans, apparently to save their leader's prestige, had changed the name of the Hitler line to Dora line. Some new defense wall farther north may be given Hitler's name, an Allied officer said, and "it can obviously be used again and again until the Hitler line coincides with Unter Den Linden," Berlin's historic thoroughfare.

Sweden Expected To Halt Nazi Shipments

WASHINGTON, May 20. (AP)—American officials expressed confidence tonight that Sweden will comply with the Allied request to halt ball-bearing shipments to Germany but tempered their optimism with a statement that the time for action is limited.

The time remaining in which the Stockholm government and business men may negotiate and delay the day of decision is not definitely fixed but it apparently is only a matter of days. The situation may reach a crisis sometime next week.

Economic sanctions are now under detailed study and if positive Swedish action is too long delayed, it was learned, one of more steps will be taken to enforce the Allied policy of stopping cooperation with those neutral countries which aid the German war machaine.

Police Excavate For 16 Missing Children

APIZACO, Mexico, May 20. (AP) Excavation of the flower-covered yard of a home near here proceeded today under the direction of state authorities investigating the reported disappearance of 16 children.

Half-hidden among roses, daisies and bougainvillea vines in the yard is the opened grave where police earlier this week found the bodies of two children.

In jail at Tlaxcala, the state capital, a few miles away, the occupants of the home, middle-aged Carmen Matamoros de Tejeda and her husband, Angel Tejeda, factory worker, continued under guard to prevent any lynching attempts during investigation of the case.

The two were arrested after an 18-year-old girl, Soledad Perez Garcia, told police she had been imprisoned nude in the house and mistreated. She directed police to the grave. Police later disclosed they had reports of 16 missing children.

actly 200 the number of raids made on rail centers in Germany and occupied countries by Allied day and night bombers since they opened the campaign March 2 to wreck as many as possible before the invasion starts from the west.

These are the highlights of the day and night bombing of the installations which the Nazis are using to prepare for meeting Allied forces when they sweep onto the continent from the west:

1—Fortresses attacked air fields at Orly and Villa Coblay near Paris and Liberators smashed at aircraft repair facilities at Champagne airdrome and Reims rail targets, dropping 750 tons of bombs on all targets.

U. S. Strategic Air force headquarters said all the bombing was done with good visibility and with satisfactory results.

2—American Marauders and Havocs and RAF Bostons and Mitchells of the Allied European Air force, with Thunderbolt and Spitfire escort, slammed into undisclosed objectives in France, with a total of probably 800 tons of bombs.

Thunderbolts Hit France

3—Thunderbolt fighter-bombers of the Ninth U. S. Army Air force attacked unannounced targets in northern France under escort of other Thunderbolts.

4—Before daylight about 750 RAF bombers dumped some 3,360 tons of explosives on rail centers at Boulogne on the French channel coast; at Tours, Le Mans, and Orleans.

Other British bombers hit French coastal objectives and laid mines in enemy waters, while Mosquitos attacked Cologne. The night's loss was seven planes.

Henry Wallace Leaves On Mission To China

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—President Roosevelt announced the departure today of Vice President Wallace on a mission to China to gather information for a first-hand report on a war area of "utmost importance to our future peace and prosperity."

The President in a statement made public at the White House said the vice president was going as a "messenger for me in China" and would return about the middle of July.

Accompanying Wallace were John Carter Vincent, chief of the State department division of Chinese affairs; Owen Lattimore, deputy director of the Office of War information's overseas branch, and John Hazard, chief liaison officer of the foreign economic administration's division of Soviet supply.

Allied Successes In Europe Matched By Pacific Strides

By KIRK L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Startling Allied successes scored in Italy in the curtain raiser for the opening battle of Europe are matched by events across the Pacific no less ominous for Japan.

SIMPSON

Developments of last week make clear that the hit-Hitler-first program is being carried to its logical conclusion without prejudice to prosecution of the Anglo-American-Chinese war against Japan. In the far Pacific, in Burma, in the Dutch Indies, even in long suffering China, progress is being made toward a day of reckoning with Tokyo's war lords despite immediate concentration of Allied effort in the European theater.

Ring Now Closed By Air

Even the first junction of Allied forces in the Pacific and the Indian oceans has been achieved by air over Java. That means that the last gap in the Allied ring about the Nipponese China Sea conquest zone had been air-closed.

For immediate purposes, however, it was in upper Burma and the Yunan province of China that the most significant events of the Asiatic war theater were recorded. Desperate attempts by Japan to prevent or delay reopening of adequate communications with China they have been foiled in India. The powerful and reasonably well equipped Chinese Army in Yuan is on the march westward, undeterred by a still developing enemy offensive in Honan.

Road Soon To Open

Early opening of a supply route from India to China via the Ledo road is in prospect. The Yunan troops and General Stilwell's mixed forces in upper Burma are 60 miles or less apart, air line. Disaster threatens Japanese troops opposing them.

Tokyo is fully aware of just what an actual junction of the two forces to reopen land traffic with Chungking armies would mean for Japan. Japanese radio broadcasts have been jittery for weeks with expectations of American bombing attacks from China on Japan itself, and on all its key bases about the China Sea.

Inquiry Will Be Made Into SKF Operations

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP) — Chairman Truman (D-Mo) said today his Senate war investigating committee would "act immediately" on a request by Senator Nye (R-Ind) for an inquiry into the operations of SKE, the Swedish ball bearing firm.

"It is part of the committee's routine policy to assign a special investigator to look into every case in which a senator requests an investigation," Truman told a reporter.

News Briefs

Assistance will be given at the chamber of commerce in arranging train and hotel reservations for those planning to attend the annual meeting of the U. S. Highway 87 association in Denver May 30-31, chamber officials announced Saturday.

A nickel was removed from the esophagus of Jimmy Lane, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Lane of Muleshoe, at the Lubbock General hospital Saturday afternoon, hospital attendants reported. The child was brought to Lubbock at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon after swallowing the coin at his home in Muleshoe. He is reported to be "getting along fine."

Sue Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Evans of 2102 Twenty-seventh street, was notified Friday that she had won fourth prize in the primary division of a state-wide fire prevention poster contest sponsored by the State Fire Prevention department at Austin. The award carried with it a cash prize of $2.50. She is a pupil of Mrs. E. F. Tilley.

Cpl. J. R. Cole, who has been visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cole of 2104 Eighteenth street, and his wife and little son of Spur, is being transferred to Homstead, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. Cole have two other sons in service. T/Sgt. J. H. (Harrel) has been overseas for 26 months, and Pfc. Garland F. Cole is stationed in Kentucky. Both have been in the service since October before Pearl Harbor.

Lubbock IOOF lodge 609 will hold a regular meeting Monday night at 8:30 o'clock in the basement of the Myrick building. Nomination of officers will be featured business.

Recent transfers of military personnel at South Plains Army Air field as announced Saturday by the public relations office include: Capt. Leon H. Fish of San Diego, Calif., who has been assistant deputy for supply and maintenance; Lieut. Milton J. Lewis of Chicago, ordnance supply officer; WAC recruiting team under the direction of Lt. Mary Lou Randall of Battle Creek, Mich., assistant personnel officer, will cover the northeastern portion of the state and a large part of the state of Oklahoma. Capt. Fish and Lieut. Lewis's new stations were not announced.

Plans for special religious services to be conducted in the post chapel when news of the invasion is received at South Plains Army Air field were announced at the field Saturday. A five minute blast of the field's siren will announce the news. Thirty minuter later, military personnel of the field has been invited to meet at the post chapel for appropirate hymns, scriptures and prayer. The service will last for thirty minutes. Protestant Chaplain Howard A. Long of Hemlock, N. Y., will be in charge of the services.

Civilian Airport Now Available

Lubbock Aero Service planes will be operated from the airport formerly known as Dagley field in southwest Lubbock, according to announcement Saturday by B. Walker, manager.

Walker said lease papers had been signed for the airport, which is located on West Thirty-fourth street near the Brownfield highway.

Charter flights from Lubbock to various sections of the state and nation will originate at the field and in addition the field will be open to civilian planes, the first time a port here has been available for civilians since Pearl Harbor.

The service will operate an airplane maintenance and service facilities at the port and gasoline and oils may be obtained there, Walker said.

Emmett Morris, chief pilot for the service, has returned from the North with two other fliers who brought back Piper Cub planes which will be used at the port for civilian flight training. Morris and Walker are licensed instructors.

The air charter service operates two planes on special flights, a Beachcraft and a Stinson, both two-way radio equipped.

FIRE AT TEMPLE

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

ONE of the questions that is bothering men concerned with postwar world problems is whether women who have "come out of the kitchen" and helped to run business and political matters will be willing to go back into the kitchen after the war is won.

AND WHY NOT?

With American servicemen statfoned at points all over the world teaching natives how to jitterbug, to chew gum, to call all the boys "Joe," and how to play and sing popular music, perhaps that man who called this the "American Century" was right.

WE overheard a pleasant good-bye spoken this week by an elderly man: "Have a good time, keep well and good luck to you." . . . And that was a nice definition of the expression "So long": "As long as you and I are alive, some where, some how we shall meet again." . . . Those "Sans Origine" cablegrams that service men send their families are confusing unless you know the French translation "without origin.". . . Some citizens thought it was a French island . . . Our delight in going to work in the daylight once more has been lessened because it also meant janitors in front of downtown stores sweep the sidewalks as you pass by and if you walk in the street there is the danger of getting struck by a sun-dazzled driver. . . . The men responsible for war time have not tried to get a small child to come in and go to bed while it is still very light and day noises still abound. . . . We don't know Mrs. Ann Cobb but we like her because she named her sons Tom and Bob and Joe.

Nomination for a name for a coal black dog or cat: Noche . . . Lionel Barrymore, giving a plug in a movie short for the WAC, referred to the "Woman's" Army corps. It's "Women's, Mr. B. . . Red Cross production chairmen in Abilene and El Paso are having a difficult time to persuade women to fold surgical dressings, a woman pointed out the other day in expressing her opinion of why the work has fallen off so here in recent weeks. We can't see why the slack in those Texas cities should have anything to do with us.

GRANTED AWARD — Opal W. Nuss, who was a member of the Tech faculty the second term of summer school in 1942, has been granted a fellowship by the Committee on Fellowship awards of the American Association of University women and will go to South America to study. She will work either at National University of Buenos Aires, Argentina or at the National University of Chile or Peru. . . . Miss Nuss plans to prepare a Spanish-English dictionary to include Gaucho terms and Americanisms current in the Gaucho literature which is so widely popular in South America. This type of writing has been difficult reading for American students because Spanish-English dictionaries now available are based on the peninsular Spanish of the Royal Academy.

LATEST wartime scheme to combat the maid shortage is housewives' Mutual Aid. Women select a clearing house, file cards there listing their free time. Thus Mrs. Jones cleans the windows for Mrs. Smith on Tuesday; Mrs. Smith cooks dinner for the Joneses on Wednesday, etc. etc. It's said the scheme offers great possibilities. Perhaps it does but we're not smart enough to enumerate them. . . . Moisture proof matches soon are to strike the market as one of the latest contributions to the long list of household aids. . . . Look at the pronunciation of secretive and see if you haven't been mispronouncing it all these years.

PAPER PINCH—The WPB has thought up some paper-saving methods for government agencies which you might put into practice at home. They recommend: Reply on the bottom of incoming letters and memoranda when the reply is brief and no permanent record is necessary; use postal cards when practicable in order to conserve envelopes.

BECAUSE crackers contain only six per cent moisture, they are called "the staff of life, dehydrated." . . . With so many grandmothers being called on to pinch hit in training children whose mothers work, why doesn't someone organize a "grandmothers' child study club?" . . . What do you think about the statement that "People won't believe anything good about anyone as long as they can believe something bad?" . . . John Truly is the only left handed policeman we know. . . . Here is a little quiz that is going the rounds in Lubbock: "What does M. D. stand for?" Naturally the correct answer is "doctor of medicine" but you dumbfound your listener with "Mairzy Doats." Then you continue with "What does LL.D stand for?" and confuse him more with "Not doctor of law but "little lambs eat divy" and then last you ask what "D.D." stands for and if the answer isn't "Dozy Doats," then your companion lacks a sense of humor.

Sunday Musical Tea To Be Courtesy From Sorority; Open House Planned

A NUMBER of courtesies have been planned this week honoring visitors in the city. Vacation plans are being made by many families since school vacation begins this week. Leaves and furloughs spent by service men at their homes here are bright spots in the week end news.

Honoring new members of Kappa Gamma sorority, a seated, musical tea is to be given at 4 o'clock this afternoon at 2005 Broadway. Hostesses for the occasion will be Misses Dorothy Levey and Dorothy M. Ford and Mesdames Roberta McCabe and Winnie Wheat.

The program will consist of musical numbers by Mrs. E. S. Hall, vocal selections by Mrs. John D. Watson and a reading by Miss Evelyn Jones.

The lace-covered table will be centered with a decorated cake, bearing eleven candles in celebration of the sorority's anniversary. Roses and other spring flowers will decorate the entertaining suite.

New members will be presented with corsages. They are Misses Ruth Gillespie, Emma Louise Smith, Floy Massie, Pearl Jackson, Susie Shipp, Claribel Lee, Sue Smith, Julia Parker and Mesdames Frances Price, Frances Neutzler and A. B. Penney.

Fifty guests have been invited to call.

Mrs. Bryan Edwards, 2818 Twenty-second street, has as her house guests Mrs. Harvey Uhlenhopp and son, Elliott, of Hampton, Iowa. Mesdames Edwards and Uhlenhopp were roommates during their senior year at Iowa State college. The latter's husband, a lieutenant (jg) is stationed in New Guinea.

Mrs. Edwards is planning an open house Wednesday between 5 and 8 o'clock as a courtesy to her guest.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Mule Davis and sons are leaving Wednesday for their camp near Rociada, N. M., where they will spend the summer. They will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Barrett. Next week end Mr. and Mrs. Dixie White, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Key and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Watts will join them. The men are to be camp counselors.

Week end guests in the Davis home are Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Walker of Sherman and Mrs. Claude Whiteaker of Houston. Mesdames Walker and Whiteaker are his sisters. They, too, plan to spend the summer in the mountains.

Lt. Musick Is Coming Home

Lt. (jg) George L. Musick, jr., telephoned his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Musick of 2317 Eighth street, Friday that he has arrived in San Francisco and expects to be in Lubbock within a few days to spend a leave. A flier in the Navy, Lt. Musick has recently completed a tour of duty in the Southwest Pacific. Prior to that he was stationed in the Aleutians.

Miss Ruth Ford is entertaining with a coffee this morning at her home, 1707 Sixteenth street.

Mrs. George Pierce has gone to Del Rio to visit her daughter, Mrs. Homer James Avery, and Lt. Avery.

Capt. Gordon W. Parkhill, who is stationed at Camo Stewart, Ga., arrived Thursday to visit his wife and children at 2010 Main street. He will be here for about one week.

La Verne Allen Is May Bride

The marriage of Miss LaVerne Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin B. Allen of near Lubbock, to Ralph Mecusker of Lubbock, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Mecusker of Long Branch, New Jersey, was solemnized Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents with her grandfather, Rev. J. B. Allen of Oklahoma City, reading a double ring ceremony.

The mantel was decorated with arrangements of iris and fern and was softly lighted by white tapers in candelabra.

Miss Eleanor Mecusker, the bridegroom's sister, sang "Because" and "Always" preceding the ceremony, accompanied by Miss Audrey Melton who played "Violets," club song of Las Vivarachas, Tech social organization, before she began the processional.

The bride was attired in a blue dress, fashioned with draped square neck and draped skirt, and she wore a white flower hat with white veil trim and white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid. She wore a diamond necklace that belonged to her maternal grandmother as "something old" and wore a dinner ring that belongs to Mrs. Kenneth S. Halbert as "something borrowed."

Mrs. Halbert, the bride's roommate at Tech college this year, who served as matron of honor, wore a baby pink pongee dress, navy hat trimmed with a white frill and navy accessories. She wore a corsage of pale pink rosebuds.

Hoke Holbrook served as best man.

After the ceremony, a reception was held and the three-tiered cake was cut by Mrs. W. A. Sylvester and the matron of honor served punch.

The couple left later in the afternoon for Amarillo to attend the Wrangler club reunion and planned to spend several days in Colorado Springs before returning here to make their home at 1613 Avenue Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Mecusker were graduated from Tech college Monday night; he from the department of mechanical engineering and she from the department of architectural engineering.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included the bridegroom's parents, his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lamb; his brother, George, all of Long Branch; the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. J. B. Allen.

Hello My Good People:

May has certainly been a month for brides. The month of June will really have to hustle to keep up with it. The girls at the Decorators Studio have been busy as bees helping brides with selections of china, pottery and silver and taking care of showers and wedding gifts. There is to be a wedding in June that will be of especial interest to the Studio. Wait and see.

Well, they have done it again. The most exquisite pictures have just arrived and are on display in the usual attractive settings. There is a group of twelve minature florals after Maund framed in antique mirrored frames with Aquamarine velvet mats placed around a larger picture which is an English Staffordshire plate "Rural Scene" in shadow boxed frame. The table under these pictures is set with "Hampton Court" Wedgwood china.

Another picture which is superbly framed is "Miss Elizabeth Ann Linley". The mat of this picture is Rust colored velvet and the frame is light with the velvet laced around it. This is hung with a bow of the velvet. It is astonishingly beautiful.

The straw boss has at last taken charge of the Studio and is no longer just a figure head. Kaye seems to have less trouble with her Aunt Todda (Fredda) than with any of the others. She seems to have the situation well in hand all the way 'round, however.

Animals arrived at the Studio this last week. There are Percheron horses, pigs — little ones and big ones, cats and kittens, rabbits and lambs. Fowls flew in, too. Wise old owls with their little ones and a pair of pheasants.

Will tell you more next week, folks.

Yours,
Grandpa Nosey.

Traveling Exhibit To Be Shown At Museum

A traveling art exhibit, sponsored by the seventh district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, will be on display this week for the Tech Art Institute at the West Texas museum on the college campus.

Artists of the district are represented in the display. The pictures have been exhibited in Borger, Levelland, Littlefield, Sudan and Spur.

The exhibit has been well received on its tour, according to Mrs. A. W. McKee, fine arts chairman.

IN PIANO RECITAL

Piano pupils of Miss Doris Kolb were presented in a recital at her home, 2206 Nineteenth street, Friday night.

On program were Nell Vaughn, John Norcross, Joan Dean, Gloria Novak, Shirley Marion, Ann Novak, Mary Jean Hartley and Betty Margaret Smiley.

IN the 1860's there was an active campaign for dress reform among women. The reformers wanted to dispense with all the bustles and petticoats and to wear pants instead. They argued it was more "hygienic." . . . The opposition based its arguments on the plea that if women were to wear pants they "cannot be distinguished from men."

Collection Of Old Polynesian Items Shown At Museum

The West Texas museum now has on display a collection of Tapa cloth and other Polynesian items over a hundred years old belonging to Miss Agnes True, 2625 Twenty-third street, director of the museum, F. A. Kleinschmidt, has announced.

The collection was sent from Hawaii by an ancestor of Miss True's who was a missionary.

Tapa cloth, sometimes spelled Kapa, is made from bark. In the collection are various native garments of Tapa including the clothes worn by the men and women and the royal family.

Type Worn By Women

Pan was the type worn by the women and was a garment passed around the loins and secured by rolling the upper edge of the piece into the border of the fold which had been passed around the body. This garment is 12 to 15 feet long and consists of 10 thicknesses, the outer thickness having a beautiful overall design.

Malo was the type worn by the men and was made from a plant called Wanki. All varieties of Tapa were made from this same plant except Mamake which was a coarser cloth and universally used by the common people.

No Clothes Above Waist

Since none of the natives wore clothes above the waist, there is an ornament holder on display made of human hair with a shark tooth in the center from which to hang other ornaments.

Mamake was used as an article of trade and was valued at 25c if two fathoms long and 20c if less. It was used as a covering by night and a shawl by day.

Also in the collection is a very thin garment of gold which was worn by the royal family, a club used in the manufacturing of the bark cloth, a stone implement used to scrape the inside out of a tree and a Hawaiian Bible.

From Lou To Louella

DEAR LOUELLA: Gentry Gallimore recently received roses from a new flame, Lt. Jimmy Leibowitz, who is now at port of embarkation. He was an LAAF cadet when they met . . . Speaking of roses, we'd like to send some to Charles Walden for being just as he is. Also to Gene Carolyn Harvey for being sweet and friendly. . . . Celebrating their first wedding anniversary are the Sidney Keetons, she—the former Rosalyn Watson, who were married one year ago today. . . . Word's around that Landa Rogers will go see Gregg Bell, aviation cadet at Santa Ana, Calif., sometime in June. . . . Lt. Neil Graham is stationed in Albuquerque, flying a Liberator. . . . Ted White, who joined the Navy several weeks ago, is acting petty officer in his company. He is in radar school at Great Lakes, Mich. . . . Seaman First Class Tom Hassell left for the Great Lakes school this week and is due to graduate as a chief petty officer in 10 months.

Many co-eds attending out of town colleges will be Lubbock-bound sometime this month or early in June. Jean Freeman, soph at TSCW, is anticipating more school with art work on the side during the summer. . . . Jewel Christine White, of Abilene Christian college, will be home and hopes to continue widening her knowledge of radio work by actual experience. . . . Willella Nelson, to be on vacation from TSCW, plans to attend Tech this summer . . . Elizabeth Hurlbut probably will spend her vacation period on a ranch up in the mountains. Elizabeth, Dorothy Sue Standefer and Carol Krueger, all attending Texas U., had as visitors last week-end Ava Stangel and Maryjo Turner. LaNell Hurlbut is in Hartford, Conn., and New York with her father, Claude Hurlbut. . . . Maretta Collier plans to work when she arrives in Lubbock from ACC May 30. . . . Ann Crenshaw's stay at home will be short. She plans to arrive June 8 and leave June 12 to attend a house party in Florida in the home of her roommate. She is a student at Stephens, Columbia, Mo. . . . Janet York, another who will come from Stephens, will probably go to the mountains . . . Dorothy McGinnis will play around at home this summer after a year at TSCW. . . . Mary Louise Breedlove, Brenau college student, will entertain with a house party in the Breedlove's new summer home in New Mexico at the completion of the spring semester's work.

SAVE Precious VITAMINS through WISE USE of your Electric Range

The Food You Eat Is Vital To America's Defense.

United States Government Nutrition Experts stress the need for vitamins in the diet of both fighting men and civilian alike. They point out that a healthy nation is a strong nation . . . a nation which can take the offensive necessary to win the war. The many hundreds of Electric Range owners in this territory are fortunate indeed for it's easier to save and serve vitamins with electric cookery.

1. Use very little water in cooking.
2. Cook vegetables for the shortest possible time.
3. Cover utensils to keep air hot.
4. Avoid unnecessary stirring.
5. Don't add baking soda to brighten food colors.
6. Start vegetables in boiling water.
7. Don't throw vegetable liquids out. Use them for cream sauces.
8. Serve plenty of green vegetables.
9. Boiling is preferrable to frying to save vitamins.
10. Low temperature roasting saves vitamins and minerals.

Shrine Conclave To Break All Records

Largest number of Shriners ever to gather at one time in Northwest Texas will be on hand in Amarillo tonight and tomorrow when Khiva Temple, Ancient & Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine honors its pioneers at the annual spring ceremonial.

Included in those attending will be approximately 100 Lubbock and South Plains Shriners and 20 novices—the latter to be initiated, said Hugh McClellan, who with DeWitt Landis and Jake Maisen is Potentate's aide in Lubbock county.

Potentate John McCarty, Amarillo newspaperman, said the class of novices, numbering approximately 300, will be the largest in history. The ceremonial, set for Monday afternoon, will be held in Amarillo's Masonic Temple.

Pipeline Valve Bursts; One Killed, Three Hurt

HOUSTON, May 20 (U.P.)—One man was killed and three were injured early today when a pipeline valve burst, loosing a stream of hydrofluoric acid.

Kenneth E. Barker, 34, died almost instantly. Injured were W. W. Lott, 28; Lee Milberger, 43; and R. R. Haywood, 43. Lott was under treatment at a hospital, but Haywood and Milberger were released.

Contact with air turns the acid into a deadly gas, according to officials of the eastern states pipeline company, in whise 100-octane plant the accident occurred.

Texas Canner To Take Position With UNRRA

WESLACO, May 20 (U.P.)—E. C. Christensen, well known Rio Grande valley canner, has left to take up duties as an administrative official in the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration, which will follow Allied invasion of European soil.

An assignment in Cairo, Egypt, was recently offered Christensen, but he chose to wait so he might go into northern Europe. He will be connected with the bureau of supply.

Training of homing pigeons starts when they are about four weeks old.

WOMEN IN SERVICE

2nd. Lt. Margaret Louise Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Voss of Route 3, Post, is now serving with the Army Medical division as dietitian in a hospital somewhere in Italy. She recently wrote her parents, stating she was in one of the finest hospitals of Europe which was built in 1939 at a cost of 16 million dollars. Lt. Anderson received her Bachelor of Science degree in 1936 from Texas Technological college. Before entering the service she was head dietitian of the tuberculosis sanitorium at Sanitorium, Tex. In August, 1942, she went to El Paso where she was one of the dietitians in the William Beaumont General hospital. In December, 1943, she left for overseas duty. She is a graduate of Post High school.

Cooperation Is Asked In School Census

An appeal for assistance in completing the annual census of Lubbock independent school district was issued Saturday by A. C. Jackson, district business manager and census enumerator.

The appeal was made with the reminder that every name on the census roll will mean $25 in state per capita apportionment to be applied on the operating expenses of city schools during the 1944-45 session.

The taking of the census, Jackson related, has been in progress since April 1. Despite the efforts to make it complete, he said, some names undoubtedly have been overlooked.

The roll, he explained, should include the name of every child, regardless whether in school, who resided in the district last April 1 and who, on next Sept. 1, will be 6 years of age and not over 17. He emphasized that the census should include the 17-year olds. He stressed, too, that names should be reported, regardless of race.

Jackson asked everyone knowing of any child who may have been overlooked by the enumerators to call the business office, 1007 Texas avenue, telephone 9396, Monday or Tuesday. When in doubt as to whether a name has been enumerated, please call, he requested.

The business manager would not attempt an estimate as to what the census figure for the district will be this year.

Another Price Survey Is Being Made Here

Following up the grocery store and restaurant price surveys made recently throughout the Lubbock district, price panels are making a service survey which will be a check on prices charged by automotive repair establishments, laundry and dry cleaning establishments, appliance repair shops and shoe repair shops. The announcement of the survey came from the district Office of Price administration in Lubbock.

These surveys are in line with the continuous program of the price panels to bring prices in line with legal ceilings. Laundry, dry cleaning and shoe repair establishments will be survey from May 22-29; automotive and appliance repair shops from May 29-June 3.

Bollworm Infestation Spreading In Valley

HARLINGEN, May 20 (U.P.)—The spread of bollworm infestations on both the American and Mexican sides of the Rio Grande was viewed with growing concern today by W. E. Conn, inspector in charge of the valley pink bollworm office here.

More than 100 bollworm infestations have been found. Of these, 78 were discovered on the American side of the river and 34 on the Mexican side.

Encouraging Enrollment For Tech Summer School Is Due

Indications at present point toward an encouraging enrollment for Texas Technological summer school considering wartimes and the enrollment of freshmen students is expected to be particularly large, W. P. Clement, registrar, said yesterday.

Dean J. M. Gordon, director of the summer session, announces that the first six weeks term will open Monday, May 29, beginning with student conferences with the heads of departments at 7:30 a.m. Registration will be Tuesday, May 3', and regular lasses will begin at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Accelerated Plan Used

This will be the third summer that Tech has used the accelerated plan which enables students to get a maximum of fifteen weeks' work, or practically a full semester, whereas, heretofore, only 12 weeks of work were available. The plan has proved helpful, especially for sophomores and freshmen. The idea of the whole plan is to speed up the education of all students and particularly those nearing military age.

Those students wishing to only attend six weeks of sch· l may do so either the first or second terms which run from May 29 to July 7 and July 7 to August 16. Those interested in the 15 week schedule will attend from May 29 to September 1. Graduation exercises will be held at the close of the second six-week perjod, Dean Gordon said.

To Offer 319 Courses

Any student registering after Friday, June 2, for the first six weeks will carry a reduced load and pay a late registration fee. One hundred and thirty-nine professors and instructors will give approximately 319 courses in the fifteen weeks.

Last summer there was a total enrollment of 1140 including 467 men and 673 women. In years before the war the college would have a summer enrollment of 1900 or more.

El Paso Libel Suit Thrown Out Of Court

EL PASO, May 20 (U.P.)—A $30,000 libel suit of a city taxicab inspector against the El Paso Herald-Post was thrown out of court and District Judge David E. Mulcahy granted a Herald-Post motion for an instructed verdict.

The ruling came after Inspector Thomas F. Murtha had rested his case and before the Herald-Post had presented any of its testimony. Attorneys for the newspaper argued that Murtha's own testimony proved that he received $35 a month from an insurance man who wrote liability insurance for El Paso taxicabs.

Report Of Mihailovic Assassination Doubted

BERN, Switzerland, May 20 (AP)—La Suisse of Geneva printed with reservations today a Belgrade dispatch quoting the Italian Fascist newspaper Il Regime Fascista as saying Gen. Draja Mihailovit, had been assassinated by Marshal Josip Broz' (Tito's) Partisans on a highway in central Serbia.

The dispatch said the Chetnik escort was killed with the general, leader of guerrilla forces for the Yugoslav government in exile.

Divorcee, 18, Tells Of Drowning Baby

YUMA, Ariz., May 20. (AP) — An 18-year-old divorcee stood calmly before county authorities and recounted how she had carried her 10-months-old daughter today to the California side of the Colorado river, dropped it into the water and watched it struggle before drowning, County Attorney Peter C. Byrne said.

Byrne quoted the woman as saying she has been living in a Yuma auto court as the common-law wife of a soldier stationed at the Yuma Army Air base.

According to Byrne she gave the following account of her actions in a statement recorded by a court reporter:

She and the Army man quarreled over his alleged refusal to marry her and she threatened to kill the baby, unless he agreed to the wedding immediately. The soldier left their cabin without giving her an answer.

Later she dressed the baby, took a cab to the Yuma side of the bridge, stood the child on the railing for a moment, then changed her mind and walked across to the California bank. She watched the baby toddle before gathering it in her hands and plunged it into the water.

The child struggled, floated a few yards and sank.

Spastic Clinic Here To Be In June, July

Dr. Earl R. Carlson, nationally famous specialist on spastic paralysis, will hold a free clinic in Lubbock in the latter part of June or early part of July, it has been learned here.

Doctor Carlson's promise to fill the June or July date was received here yesterday in a letter to Mrs. A. E. Jones, leader in the movement to aid spastic victims over the West Texas area. She said approximately 100 victims likely would be here for Doctor Carlson's examinations.

Mother, 25, Indicted For Deserting Family

HOUSTON, May 20 (U.P.)—A 25-year-old mother of six children today had been indicted by a Harris county grand jury for desertion of her family. Officers charged she abandoned her family for a 14-year-old boy.

Mrs. Lena Medel told officers her 27-year-old husband was "too old and not handsome enough" to suit her. The youthful object of her affections was questioned and turned over to his mother.

Censorship Worries Celluloid People These Days Also

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 20—Behind the screen: Wartime censorship is playing more havoc with pictures these days than Will Hays ever dreamed of. Uncle Sam's scissors are taking an especially heavy toll before films receive export licenses for distribution in neutral and Allied nations. Government censors all but eliminated Linda Darnell's Indian girl role in "Buffalo Bill" before the film could be shipped out of the country. The scissoring was done on racial prejudice grounds. Nearly a third of "Where Are Your Children?" landed on the government's cutting room floor before it could be sent to foreign soil because of the juvenile delinquency theme. Both pictures, if left uncensored, would have become great propaganda, in Axis hands, against the United States.

Rear Admiral Frederick C. Sherman, heroic skipper of the gallant Lexington, visited the set of "Queen of the Flat-Tops" the other day. On one of the snow-white sheets he caught sight of a tiny mound of cigaret ashes which had been accidentally dropped by one of the film sailors. With characteristic Navy training, the admiral brushed away the offending ashes, turned to Director Henry Hathaway and said: "You're a lucky man, Mr. Hathaway. In the Navy, you'd be doing a 10-day stretch in the brig."

They're dismantling the White House at 20th Century-Fox and filing it away for use by future film presidents. But at a cost of $250,000 to serve in "Wilson," the White House is authentic down to the last nail. There will be a lot of other pictures in the future in which the White House will figure and the studio hopes to turn a neat profit by renting it to other studios.

Beauty Title Is Films Drawback

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 20.—The Form looked mighty pretty in a pair of slacks and one of those tight sweaters which Mr. Hays says the girls must not wear on the screen. She was sitting on a bench on the "Something for the Boys" set. She was—Mmmm!

We had looked her up, we said, because we wanted to find out what happens to a "Miss America" after all the shouting dies down.

Three Roles In A Year

The Form—brunet Jo-Carroll Dennison, a small town stenographer—won the title at Atlantic City in 1942. There was the usual big fuss which eventually resulted in a film contract. But so far, Jo-Carroll said, she's an actress who seldom acts.

"I've done very little acting," she said. "Three small roles in a year. ("Pin-Up Girl," "Ladies in Washington," "Something for the Boys.") You can say I'm not doing so well. As a matter of fact, you can say that being Miss America isn't all that it's cracked up to be. It's a drawback in Hollywood. Winning the title changes a girl's life too much too fast."

There was, for example, the $1000 a month she was supposed to be making on a personal appearance tour after she won the title. "That's what I thought I was making," she said. "But the Atlantic City Pageant took 30 per cent, an agent got another 10 per cent, and the income tax people got some more. I was getting only about 50 per cent."

"I Mean Experience!"

A lot of her relatives also popped up for loans. "They thought I was making a lot of money," she said. "I thought so, too. I spent more than I should have. I was a $25 a week secretary from Tyler, Texas, on a spree. I got taken for a lot of money. By the time I got back to Tyler all I had was $3000 and a lot of experience. And brother, I mean experience."

Before she returned to Tyler, Jo-Carroll turned down several radio and stage offers in New York. "I always kept thinking something better would turn up," she said, 'but nothing did."

Turned Down "Oklahoma"

One of the plays she turned down was "Oklahoma."

Returning to the old home town was an experience, too, The Form said. "They sort of resented me coming back. They got to liking all the publicity I was getting for the town. I had decided to go back to work as secretary — honest. Then 20th Century-Fox offered me a contract. But I don't really want to be an actress. I want to get married and have children."

But all the eligible men she knows, The Form said, are in the Army.

Then there was the attitude everybody seems to take towards a Miss America. "The chorus girl attitude," Jo-Carroll said. "You know, you're introduced as a Miss America and everybody thinks of a line of girls with peroxide in their hair. Or they sneer and say, 'Miss America? Hmm. She's not so pretty.' Or they say, 'I bet she's a stinker.'"

The Form Lays An Egg

It's like that in Hollywood, too, The Form said. "The Miss America title is a drawback. You are introduced as Jo-Carroll Dennison and directors might give you a break. You're introduced as Miss America and the immediate reaction is: 'She can't act—she's just a beauty contest winner.'"

Jo-Carroll Dennison can still chuckle over the first time she wore a bathing suit at the studio. It was the same suit she wore at Atlantic City.

The director looked at her, said, "Oh, no. You won't do. You should never wear a bathing nuit."

Jimmy Dunn Climbs Back On Tree With Johnny Nolan Role

By ROBIN COONS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, May 20.—It was a long time ago, back in 1931, and there was a movie scene in which a young expectant father, broke and strapped by the depression, had a talk with his wife's doctor. He started off calmly enough and then, all of a sudden, he was crying. He was one scared boy, so much in love he was ready to sign away his own life if only the doc could make things right.

Jimmy Dunn

It was one of those rare movie scenes that "get" you. In its setting, a movie called "Bad Girl," it "got" millions—and made a star of James Dunn. His likeable Irish map thereafter shone in a number of vehicles, usually with his "Bad Girl" partner Sally Eilers, and for three years Jimmy Dunn rode high.

An Old Story

His is an old story. Youth, success, money—and a great big challenging bottle that dared you to drink it dry. Somehow, the word got around that Jimmy was a playboy. Somehow, his calls to work in pictures became fewer, less important. It looked like curtains.

But the old story had a different, happy ending for Dunn. He took hold of himself, decided the bottle couldn't be licked the way he was fighting it. He grabbed off a good role in Broadway's "Panama Hattie," which ran for 87 weeks, and demonstrated that he could plug along with the best of the Sunday School gang.

Luck Against Him

After the show closed Jimmy came back to Hollywood, landed a couple of parts in minor pictures which the right producers didn't see. Then he did some radio programs, which the right producers didn't hear. His intentions were of the best, but luck apparently wasn't with this Irish.

So Jimmy had nothing to do with the fact that "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn," that book, was on 20th Centry-Fox's schedule. The studio had looked all around for a Johnny Nolan—the lead—and hadn't found one. Johnny Nolan had to have a certain quality which, as someone finally remembered, Jimmy Dunn had. "But how does he sound now?" someone else asked. And someone else remembered having heard Dunn on the radio recently.

Dunn Gets Role

The studio sent for a record of the broadcast, and shortly thereafter an amazed Dunn was tested for the role. It's his. He's doing it at the same studio that made "Bad Girl."

"Look at these knuckles," says Jimmy, still handsome, with only six pounds to lose before he's back to his "Bad Girl" weight. "I got these bruises from knocking wood. In fact, I'm bruises all over, from pinching myself!"

Actual output of war materials in Canada, exclusive of plant construction and equipment, amounts to about 55 million dollars a week.

News From The Boys Serving In The Armed Forces Of Uncle Sam

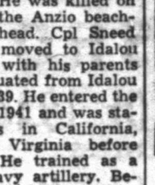

Cpl. Frank J. Sneed, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Sneed of Petersburg, has been reported by the War department to have been killed in action in Italy on April 22. Cpl. Sneed had been overseas 17 months fighting in the African campaign and going in with the troops in the Sicilian and Italian campaigns. He landed in Africa with the first wave of Allied invasion forces on Nov. 8, 1942. He was killed on the Anzio beachhead. Cpl Sneed moved to Idalou with his parents in 1926 and graduated from Idalou High school in 1939. He entered the Army on Dec. 4, 1941 and was stationed at camps in California, Washington and Virginia before going overseas. He trained as a computer on heavy artillery. Besides his parents, he is survived by seven brothers, Horace Sneed of Sunray, Sgt. Fletcher Sneed, who is on his way home from Italy; Pvt. Paul Sneed, Camp Campbell, Ky.; Harold Dean, George, Tillie, and Vernon Ray Sneed, of Petersburg, and two sisters, Gertice and Vera Joyce Sneed, also of Petersburg.

SPRINGER

A former Tech student, Lt. (jg) Theodore A. Wilson, USNR, of Colcord, Okla., has reported to the U. S. Naval Armed Guard center in New Orleans for assignment as commander of a Navy gun crew on a merchant ship. He taught school before entering the Navy Oct. 15, 1943, and was graduated from Tech in 1937. While attending school here he won several letters in football, baseball and basketball.

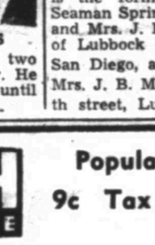

1st. Lt. Weems D. Jones, son of Mrs. Minnie Jones, 2106 Tenth street, has been reported missing in action by the War department. He was said to have been lost in a raid over Germany on April 29. Lt. Jones, only a few days before, had been awarded a second Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Medal. He was pilot of the Liberator "Luck And Stuff" which was lost in the raid. He received his wings at Moody field, Ga., and was stationed at Lowry field near Denver before going overseas. He had been on many missions over Germany and occupied countries.

JONES

Lt. John McCarroll, jr., of Mobeetie, a graduate of Texas Technological college, was recently awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for service in the southwest Pacific in ceremonies at Chanute field, Ill. Citation accompanying the DFC stated that it was awarded "For extraordinary achievement while participating from Nov. 6, 1942 to March 15, 1943, in operational air flights totaling over 206 hours during which exposure to enemy fire was probable and expected." During his service in the Southwest Pacific, Lt. McCarroll was navigator for more than 311 flying hours on an unarmed C-47 transport plane operating from New Hebrides and New Caledonia bases to Guadalcanal, ferrying in supplies and transporting out wounded Marines. He was previously awarded the Air Medal. Lt. McCarroll trained as a navigator at Pan-American navigation school at Coral Gables, Fla., graduating in May, 1942. He was sent first to England, then to the Southwest Pacific, being on duty there from November, 1942 to July, 1943.

Pfc. Elvin Ray Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Moore of O'Donnell, is now stationed in the Army Medical corps in Hawaii. He is a surgical technician. He entered military service in March, 1943, and took his basic training at Camp Barkeley near Abilene. Later he was transferred to New Orleans. He was given the assignment in the Hawaiian area about five months ago.

Sgt. James G. Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Williamson, 2321 Twenty-fifth street, recently completed an eight-weeks instrument trainer instructor's course at Bryan field and has returned to his station at Lubbock Army Air field. He arrived back in Lubbock in time to visit with a brother, Pvt. Jack Williamson of Camp Roberts, Calif., who was here on a furlough prior to departure overseas. He left for California Friday. Another brother, Cadet Firman Williamson and his wife of Waco, also visited here during the past week. The fourth son of the Williamson's Capt. Julian Williamson, recently returned from Italy and is now stationed at Fort Sill, Okla.

Pvt. Bob Allen, 29, whose wife lives at 508 Avenue Q, is making quite a record in the Army. He was inducted on Feb. 18, 1944 and already has six medals to his credit. He has won proficiency in the rifle, mortar, machinegun, Browning automatic rifle, carbine and bayonet, he has informed his wife. He is stationed at Spartenburg, S. C. and has been at the same camp since his induction. He was a linoleum layer here prior to going into service. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Allen of Bonham.

ALLEN

Pvt. Wallace Hillyer, 20, son of Mrs. Euna Hillyer of Houston, former Lubbock resident, is now stationed with the Army Medical corps somewhere in England and in a recent letter said he was doing fine, living in a tent and getting plenty of good food. Hillyer, a graduate of Lubbock High school and the defense course there in sheet and metal work, enlisted in the Army, June 16, 1943 and was first stationed at Camp Wallace in the Coast Artillery. He later was transferred to the Medical corps and sent to Camp Hulen. He went overseas in March of this year. He requested the Sunday Avalanche-Journal be sent him, his mother, who has been visting here, said.

HILLYER

Friends of Major Walter D. Henson, 41, will be interested to know that he is with the Ninth Air Force Service Command in England and is chief finance officer of headquarters. Prior to going into the servicce Major Henson lived in Dalhart with his wife, Mrs. Elois Sneed Henson, and their 5-year-old child. He was graduated from Texas Tech in 1928.

Clyde Stanley Patterson, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Patterson, route 2, Slaton, is an apprentice seaman in a Navy V-12 program and is at present enrolled in North Texas Agricultural college at Arlington. Seaman Patterson, a 1943 graduate of Roosevelt High school, enlisted in the Navy on March 1. He was engaged in farming prior to going into service.

PATTERSON

Kelly Copeland, petty officer third class, a Lubbock resident for eight years until he was inducted into the Navy last October, now is stationed somewhere in the Pacific, friends here have learned. He received boot training in San Diego, Calif., and then received special instructions in parachute packing. Mrs. Copeland and their three sons are making their home in San Diego temporarily, but plan to return to Lubbock in the near future, friends reported.

COPELAND

Waldo McLaurin, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo McLaurin, sr., of O'Donnell, is on radio detail in the U. S. Navy. He entered Naval service in January, 1943, and received his boot camp training at San Diego. He has been overseas 11 months and saw action at Munda and in the Solomon islands. McLaurin was a Golden Gloves boxer and runner-up several times before gaining the district championship here in 1940. He is a graduate of O'Donnell High school where he played football. He later attended TCU and Texas Tech.

McLAURIN

Word has been received here that Pfc. O. B. Southard is now somewhere in New Guinea. Pfc. Southard entered the Army on October 17, 1942. He first trained at Ft. Lewis, Wash., and later on the desert in California. On leaving the United States, he went to the Hawaiian Islands and stayed there approximately ten months. After graduating from Lubbock High school, Pfc. Southard was employed by A. L. Harris. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Southard of Lubbock. His wife, the former Ernestene Sanders, and his ten-month-old son, whom he has never seen, reside with her parents at 2119 Fifth street in Lubbock.

Allen Nelson, 22, son of Mrs. W. W. Nelson, 2212 Fifteenth street, graduated recently from the Naval Air Training station at Corpus Christi and is now taking torpedo bomber operational training at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Ensign Nelson, a graduate of Lubbock High school, had attended Texas Tech two years before going into service in February, 1943. He took CPT training at Texas Christian university, pre-flight at Del Monte, Calif., and primary at Norman, Okla. Another son of Mrs. Nelson, Cpl. James Nelson, 24, is an aerial gunner at Charleston, S. C. Also a graduate of Lubbock High and attending Tech two years, he was in the glider training program when phases of it were abolished. He transferred to aviation cadet training and then to gunnery. He trained at Lowry field, near Denver and Tyndall field, Fla., receiving his wings last March.

NELSON

Flight Officer Geo. O. Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady L. Jackson of Abernathy, has returned to Lowry field, Denver, Colo., after spending a 10-day leave with his parents. A graduate of Texas Tech in 1941, Mr. Jackson was inducted into the Army in May, 1942 and was first stationed at Sheppard field where he was an instructor until July, 1943. He was then transferred to Smoky Hill October, 1943, he was sent to Army Air base at Salina, Kas. In Lowry field. Later he spent two months at Paterson, N. J., in an airplane plant. He is at present an instructor at Lowry field.

JACKSON

Lt. Clyde W. James, who graduated from Lubbock High school and holds bachelor and master of arts degrees from Texas Technological college, has been awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action on March 17, 1944, according to word received here. Lt. James' citation read: "Serving as a forward observer for his battalion, Lt. James observed two enemy barges offshore and immediately in spite of concentrated sniper fire to which he was exposed waded to a reef from which he could properly direct the fire of his weapons. Lt. James' gallantry in action resulted in speedy demolition of the enemy barges." After graduation from Tech, Lt. James taught school at Tulia and later was superintendent of the Barstow schools. He has been in service two years, serving with the field artillery in the Pacific area. He is a nephew of Dr. Clyde James of Lubbock. Mrs. James, the former Margaret Lindsey, is a sister of Mrs. Geo. Smith, 1806 Avenue U.

JAMES

AN EIGHTH AAF LIBERATOR STATION, England—A B-24 Liberator heavy bomber group of which Pfc. Jesse R. Boling, 519 Eighteenth street, Lubbock, Texas, is a member recently was officially praised by Lt.-Gen. James L. Doolittle, commanding officer of the Eighth Air Force, for achievement on its first mission which was against Berlin. The action was the German capital's worst daylight raid of the war and left huge fires raging in the city.

L. L. Cook, machinists' mate, second class, in the Navy SeaBees, is here on a 12-day leave visiting his wife and daughter who reside at 3006 Avenue N. Cook, who enlisted in the SeaBees last Sept. 14, received his boot camp training at Camp Peary, Va., and was later transferred to Camp Endicott, R. I. From there he was sent across the country to Camp Park, Calif. He is now stationed at Camp Rousseau, Port Hueneme, Calif., and expects overseas assignment when he returns there. A construction worker before he went into service, Cook is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cooke of Greenville.

COOK

Jimmy L. Williams, 19, seaman, second class, grandson of Mrs. L. W. Tarkenton, 2306 Eighth street, is now stationed at the Naval Air Technical Training center, Memphis, Tenn. He graduated from Lubbock High school at midterm and was immediately inducted into the Navy. He received his boot camp training at San Diego. Upon completion of his rigid training course at the Memphis station, he will be assigned to duty as an aerial radio engineer.

WILLIAMS

Lt. John J. Kendrick, 23, son of Mrs. J. J. Kendrick, 2202 Fourteenth street, recently arrived in India and already has two combat missions behind him, he has informed his mother. Lt. Kendrick is piloting a P-40 on reconnaissance missions. His wife and little son are residing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Smith at Brownfield. A graduate of Lubbock High school, Lt. Kendrick had one year in Texas Tech and was employed in the First National bank at Brownfield when he went into aviation cadet training at San Antonio in October, 1942. He took his primary training at Brady, his basic at Waco and received his wings and commission at Victoria last July. Basil D. Reynolds of the Navy, a son-in-law of Mrs. Kendrick, is also in foreign service. His wife and little son are residing with Mrs. Reynolds' mother here. He is a son of A. D. Reynolds of Slaton. He is in malaria epidemic control work in the Navy.

KENDRICK

Thomas J. Nash, 18, seaman, second class in the U. S. Navy, and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Kearby Nash, 2003 Ninth street, is now stationed at the Advanced Naval Training station at Seattle, Wash., where he is receiving instructions in a fire control school. He is to take a 16-weeks course there in the sighting and range-finding of big Naval guns. A mid-term graduate of Lubbock High school, Seaman Nash was a member of last year's Westerner Football team. He was inducted into the Navy last Feb. 24 and after completing boot camp training at Farragut, Idaho, spent a short leave visiting his parents here. Upon returning to Farragut, he was sent to the specialist's school at Seattle.

NASH

Thurman Holly, seaman, second class, has reported back to his station at San Diego, Calif., after spending a ten-day leave with his wife and daughter, who are residing at Lamesa, and his mother, Mrs. Ida Cumming, 612 Avenue O. He enlisted in the Navy last April and his visit home marked completion of his boot camp training at San Diego. Prior to going into service, Seaman Holly was manager of Wilson & company's plant at Lamesa.

HOLLY

S/Sgt. L. J. Dixson, jr., whose parents moved two years ago from Idalou to Hamlin and who is a brother of Mrs. Johnny Joiner of 1701 Twenty-seventh street in Lubbock, has been in the regular army nine years. He now is stationed at Camp Polk, La. When stationed earlier at Fort Sill he was under command of General Eisenhower, and, by way of proof that the general always has been democratic and extremely popular with his men, "General Ike has not been too busy to take time out and correspond with me." Sgt. Dixson has informed his relatives. In a recent letter, he wrote: "Out here we all go to church and, believe it or not, we enjoy it. Can you just see an Army chaplain standing to his ankles in dust and a battalion of men sitting in it, singing and enjoying it?"

Federal Bureau Cites FDR "Directive" In Effort To Dictate To Dallas News

"Racial Equality" Involved
Press Freedom Is Threatened

AS an example of the way tax-supported federal bureaus are being used in promoting the New Deal politically; as a further example of how far the Roosevelt administration will go in an effort to cram so-called "racial equality" down the throats of Southerners; and as a flagrantly unwarranted attempt to exercise federal power over private business, a recent communication to the Dallas News from one Leonard M. Brin, a regional director of the President's Committee on Fair Employment Practice, exceeds anything that has come to this editorial attention in a long time.

Mr. Brin notified the News that it violates a Presidential executive order when it specifies in a "Help Wanted" classified advertisement the race (whether white, or negro) of the help desired. Mr. Brin "requested" the News to desist from such practices. But the request was given the aspects of an attempted order by his statement that it "violates" a presidential decree to advertise specifically for white or colored help.

The complete stupidity of any such attempted regulation is almost too obvious for comment. Anyone with a grain of intelligence should perceive that it is a convenience to the prospective employe to know whether whites or negroes will be considered for an advertised job. The employer who wants a white person isn't going to hire a negro, and the one who wants a negro isn't going to hire a white. There is no law or "executive order"—at least, not yet—which compels most employers to hire people of any particular race. Thus, when a classified advertisement specifies that a given job is open to whites or to negroes, those of the other race know immediately that it would be useless to apply. The advertisement saves them and the prospective employer time, inconvenience and, perhaps, a little expense for such things as bus fares.

HOWEVER, the total lack of logic in the Brin communication to the News was not the most objectionable, nor its most dangerous, feature. The consideration to arouse concern of all liberty-loving Americans is this:

If Mr. Brin, or President Roosevelt, or anyone else—or any bureau, federal or otherwise—can enforce this "request" upon the Dallas News, where, in Heaven's name, will this sort of thing lead?

Obviously if such an executive order—which means a decree issued by the President without consultation with congressional or other authority—can be enforced as to the News, it can be enforced as to any other publication in this land.

Obviously, too, if one presidential decree can be employed to censor the subject matter of classified advertising, another presidential decree can be employed similarly to censor every line on every subject that might be intended for publication in any newspaper, magazine, or other media of public expression.

Then, a thought is suggested for the consideration of the advertiser. Suppose the advertiser is forbidden to specify in his ad whether he wants white or negro help. Suppose the CFEP makes its directive to the Dallas News "stick." What would be the obvious next step for CFEP to attempt?

Wouldn't it be to try to tell the employer that he would not be allowed to make any racial distinction between applicants for a given job? That he would have to hire the first applicant deemed by CFEP to be qualified who came along, regardless whether the applicant was white or negro?

Thus, it is more than conceivable that CFEP might attempt to compel an employer wanting a white stenographer to hire a negro; or a housewife desiring a negro maid to hire a white woman.

If this directive can be enforced, it means that New Deal Washington simply would take over in matters of this kind. The supposition that the fault goes back to Washington was given apparent confirmation by Mr. Brin's refusal to be interviewed by the News unless and until questions and answers were first approved in Washington. These, said Mr. Brin, were his instructions.

HAPPILY, the gentlemen who own, control and operate the Dallas News are typically American, and typically Texan. They will not take "lying down" the orders of Mr. Brin, or of his Washington bosses — or the orders of anyone else. They will fight, as they should, to the last ditch this unwarranted attempt to interfere with their business and at their side in the fight, if need be, will be every patriotic newspaper editor and publisher—and every other liberty-loving American whatever his calling.

Government dictatorship must be halted NOW!

Pyle Awaits Invasion At Bomber Base

By ERNIE PYLE
War Correspondent

A B-26 BASE Somewhere In England, May 20. (By Wireless)—At 12,000 feet up it begins to get daylight before it does on the ground, and while we could now see each other plainly in our B-26, things were still darkly indistinct in England, far down there below us.

Now and then a light would flash on the ground—some kind of marker beacon for us. We passed over some airdromes with their runway lights still on. Far in the distance we could see one lone white light — probably a window some early-rising farmer had forgotten to black out.

ERNIE PYLE

"Red Dog" Arnold, the bombardier, was sitting in the co-pilot's seat, since we weren't carrying a co-pilot. The boys got me a tin box to sit on right behind Red Dog so I could get a better view. The sunrise was red and beautiful, and Red Dog kept pointing and remarking about it. "Chief" Collins, the pilot, got out some cigarets and we all lit up except Red Dog, who doesn't smoke.

Ernie Sees Whole Show

We climbed higher, and at a certain place the whole group of B-26's made a turn and headed for the target. This wasn't a mission over enemy territory, and there was no danger to it.

As we neared the target Red Dog crawled forward through a little opening into the nose, where the bombardier usually sits. The entire nose is plexiglas, and you can see straight down and all around. He motioned for me to come up with him.

I squeezed into the tiny compartment. There was barely room for the two of us. The motors made less noise up there. By now day-light had come and everything below was clear and spectacular.

I STAYED in the nose until we were well on the way home, and then crawled back and sat in the co-pilot's seat beside Chief Collins. The sun came out, the air was smooth, and it was wonderful flying along there over England so early in the morning.

Down below the country was green, moist and enchanting in the warmth of the early dawn. Early-morning trains left rigidly straight trails of white smoke for a mile behind them. Now and then we could see a military convoy, but mostly the highways were empty and lonesome looking. The average man wasn't out of bed yet.

Somehow you always feel good being up early in the morning. You feel a little ahead of the rest of the world and a little egotistical about it.

Gunner Goes To Sleep

We lost altitude gradually, and kept clearing our ears by opening our mouths. Gradually it got warmer and warmer. Chief Collins talked now and then on the interphone to the rest of the crew. Other times I would notice his mouth working, and I think he must have been singing to himself. Two or three times he leaned over and remarked on what an unusually nice formation they were flying this morning.

Once Red Dog turned and yelled back through the little door. "Did you see that supply dump we just passed? Biggest damn thing I ever saw in my life."

Suddenly I remembered I had seen only four men in our crew, when I knew there were supposed to be five. I asked one of the gunners about it. He said:

"Oh, Pruitt, he's the tail gunner. He's back there. He's probably sound asleep."

WE came back over our home airdrome, peeled off one by one, and landed. Red Dog stayed up in the nose during the landing, so I stayed in the co-pilot's seat. Landing is about the most dangerous part of flying, yet it's the one sensation I love most, especially when riding up front.

Chief put the big plane down so easily we hardly knew when the wheels touched. I was shocked to learn later that we landed at the frightening speed of more than 100 miles an hour.

We sat in the plane for a couple of minutes while Chief filled out some reports, and then opened the hatch in the floor and dropped out. I was the first one to hit the ground. As I did so a man in flying clothes looked at me, startled-like, and said:

"Good Lord, I didn't know you were with us. I'm the tail gunner. I recognize you from your picture, but I didn't know you were along. I've been asleep most of the trip."

That was Sergeant Pruitt, and I'll tell you more about him later.

Real Eggs Again

A jeep carried us back to the locker room where we had left our gear. Then we headed for the mess hall.

"We'll have another breakfast now," Chief said.

It was just 7:30 a. m. So for the second time in five hours we ate breakfast. Had real eggs again, too.

"It's a tough war," one of the boys laughed. But nobody is qualified to joke like that who hasn't been scores of times across the Channel coast, in that other world of fighters and flak. And these boys all had. You felt good to be with them.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

THIS, as I have said several times before, is not a political column.

So whether or not the 30 per cent cabaret tax is a just or an unjust measure is something that I don't want to pass upon. I leave that to my more erudite brothers and sisters of the pen.

But when the night club proprietors and their attorneys now go crying all over the lot that their "business" is in danger of being destroyed—that makes me laugh.

When they weep tears of sympathy for the 8000 entertainers who, they say, have already been thrown out of work—that is sheer hyprocrisy.

Have you ever attended a cabaret or, as the swankier ones are called, a night club?

Have you ever felt like a stupid sucker when you had to pay the price they charge you?

Have you ever checked their bills and seen how often they made mistakes in addition—and always in their favor?

Have you ever paid $1.50 for a drink that wasn't worth one third the price, of $3.50 for a dollar-dinner?

Have you ever been insulted by their haughty headwaiter or made to feel that they were doing you a favor by letting you sit down?

And how about those 8000 "entertainers"?

How many of them could really "entertain," how many just show their forms and do a little amateurish dancing?

I think it is a safe assurance to make that the great majority of these entertainers could find jobs in war plants or in the WACs or WAVES or SPARS.

It's funny isn't it, that the biters are always the first to holler the loudest when they are bitten.

I happen to know that the proprietor of one of the most prominent New York night clubs refused to permit the solicitation of War Bond purchases, on the ground that it would spoil his customers' fun.

Yet now they complain that the new tax is so hard on the service men who want to have a little fun when they are home on furloughs and leaves.

IF the tax is so high that it will keep customers out, why not tax the night clubs themselves?

A 50 per cent tax on a $4 dinner would still leave $2.00—and you and I have eaten some pretty good dinners for less than that.

And if they had to pay 50 cents tax on every $1 drink they still wouldn't have to go to the poor-house.

It would be a terrific loss to the nation, of course, if the night clubs were closed during the war!

Where would the war profiteers and the joyriders on the Victory Wagon spend all their soft-earned money?

But I must stop, before my tears blur the ink on my paper.

The National Whirligig
(The News Behind The News)

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

DOUGLAS MacArthur's belated announcement of his withdrawal from the race for the Republican presidential nomination was not entirely voluntary. It was forced by his superiors in Washington on the theory that even his unavowed candidacy constituted an embarrassment to him and to the administration in the conduct of the war.

It was not the publication of his somewhat indiscreet letters to Rep. Arthur Miller of Nebraska which caused the showdown between the War department and the Hero of Bataan.

The general's statement that he did not "covet" political honors was requested after the editors of Harper's Magazine assailed Secretary Henry L. Stimson for refusing to permit publication of a critical article about MacArthur. Their editorial highlighted a viewpoint which had not hitherto occurred to the men who are managing the war.

NEGOTIATIONS: It is understood that no bitterness or recriminations marked the exchange of messages between officials here and the commander of Allied troops in the Australian sector. It was simply suggested that MacArthur's anomalous position made him subject to censure, and that the activities of his overzealous friends might impair his military effectiveness now and hereafter.

General MacArthur appreciated his bosses' attitude and made no objections to carrying out their instructions. In fact, despite his "Barkis is willin'" letters to the Midwest legislator, he has told friends that he was not interested in politics and realized that he had no chance of being named for first or second place on the GOP ticket.

It is not known whether it was President Roosevelt, Secretary Stimson or General George Marshall who took the initiative in urging MacArthur's retirement. It is generally believed that the Chief of Staff conducted the negotiations with the approval of FDR and the Secretary of War.

DETRACTORS: The final act in the MacArthur-for-President drama began when the magazine accepted a contribution written by an unnamed correspondent attached to the general's headquarters. In accordance with usual procedure it was submitted to the War department, which opposed publication "on the ground of military security."

Harper's questioned the accuracy of this statement, and gave the following explanation of the objection:

"It was based on the fact that the article contained, along with some praise, considerable criticism of the general, and the contention that, 'as, it undermines the confidence of this country, Australia and particularly the troops in this theater in their commander and his strategic and tactical plans'."

The editors then pointed out that "as we go to press, General MacArthur has not denied receptiveness to a nomination for the presidency of the United States. No candidate for the presidency, tacit or otherwise, should stand hidden behind a veil of censorship."

Because of this screen of official protection, the statement continued, "the accounts of this candidate which have been appearing are incomplete, biased by censorship and, therefore, politically unreliable."

It quickly became obvious to the War department that if MacArthur remained in the race, even as a silent and passive candidate, there would be newspaper stories, magazine pieces and even books about him between now and November. He would become a debatable figure on the stump, and some of the spoken and printed comments would, naturally, be adverse.

Such discussions might easily undermine his Army's and the world's confidence in him at a time when key offensives were under way. And repeated attempts to silence detractors would subject the War department to the charge of censorship raised by Harper's.

WORRIED: Minnesota has an exceptionally able delegation on Capitol Hill, but in some respects this great agricultural state is the least represented in Washington of any commonwealth in the Union. For some reason its House and Senate members are inclined to indulge in statesmanship on a grand scale.

Sen. Joe Ball takes international affairs, especially postwar problems, as his sphere of interest and influence. Sen. Henrik Shipstead specializes in railroad, monetary and financial matters, and is recognized as an authority on those subjects.

Melvin J. Maas, a naval flier during the last conflict, has made himself a master of aviation and allied interests — a strange avocation for a man from an inland community. He spends several months a year serving on a flat top.

Dr. Walter H. Judd, an erstwhile medical missionary in China, never misses a chance to discuss oriental questions on and off "the Hill." In his knowledge of Far Eastern customs and attitudes he matches Sen. Elbert D. Thomas of Utah. Harold Knutson, ranking minority member on Ways and Means, carries the taxation and tariff torches for big business on that important committee.

The Minnesotans' extracurricular activities may explain why three of them have practical paperhangers as primary opponents.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

AS this may be a photo-finish presidential race, whatever Jim Farley does — or refuses to do — may decide the contest.

Hence all sorts of rumors about the former Postmaster General are circulated by politicians in the capital and echoed by their radio spokesmen. Here is the low-down on the situation from his own home town, New York.

If you're in a wagering mood, you can bet the roll that "Big Jim," regardless of his opinions about a fourth term, will announce before Election Day that he will vote the straight Democratic ticket from top to bottom.

If Willkie is not convinced that Dewey is giving more than lip service in his approval of a system of international cooperation, he may take a walk. Customarily, a candidate in the primaries is expected to abide by his party's choice but the 1940 standard-bearer is not the type to be greatly restrained by traditions.

Farley's position is more difficult. Unlike Willkie, he is not a free agent, as he is officially the chairman of the New York Democratic State committee. He has to choose from among several courses, any one of which will bring more brickbats than orchids.

GRIDDLE: His problems: 1. As an outstanding opponent of the fourth term, he can allow his name to be put up for nomination in Chicago and thus give delegates an alternative. Such a move, incidentally, would demonstrate the sincerity of some of the Southern leaders who now demand that Jim run for President.

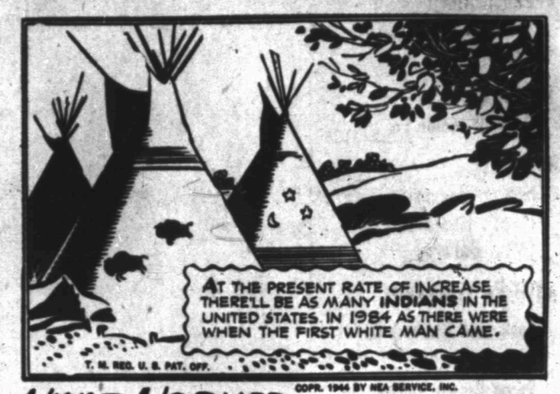

2. He can openly register disapproval by voting personally — and maybe swinging the New York group — against acclamation. Such "suicide squad" tactics would be a mere gesture as the convention is in the bag for FDR.

3. Despite his conviction that no man should stay in the White House more than eight years, the former cabinet member can rationalize his position by saying that because we are in the midst of a war he should waive his oft-expressed objections.

But if Jim is pondering such a harmony move, the President will make it hard for him to accept the slate if FDR rams Vice President Wallace down the party's throat. Yet this seems likely, as it is the price Philip Murray has demanded in return for financial and worker support of Mr. Roosevelt.

Even if Farley refrains from throwing a monkey wrench into the Windy City gathering, he will be on the griddle.

Vicki Baum Pens Another Story Of A Hotel
"Hotel Beerlin '43" Far Different Place From "Grand Hotel"

VICKI BAUM has followed her immensely popular "Grand Hotel" with another novel about a German hostelry—"Hotel Berlin '43." Hotel Berlin, like its predecessor, has a varied assortment of fascinating guests, but things have changed radically under a war-torn Nazi regime.

VICKI BAUM

The windowpanes are still shattered from the last air raid. The heavy brocade curtains have tears in them, and the stuffing is coming out of the deep luxurious chairs. But the hotel is still the best there is, and to it come people of high position, Rumanian officers, Nazi officials, famous actresses. To it also comes Martin Richter, underground leader, and there he is hidden in the deep wine cellars by two sympathetic French waiters.

On the walls of houses, on the cars of the crowded underground trains, there often appears a scrawl, "You can kill Richter — but you can't kill his spirit." Service crews go around and wipe it off; guards are posted to watch the exposed spots. But the next morning, there is the handwriting again.

The influence which Martin Richter, who is a symbol of courage and freedom to the oppressed, has upon the residents of the hotel, is the main thread of Miss Baum's novel.

SCOTS HAVE REPLY

THE Greeks of Homer's time, writes H. E. Jacobs, in "Six Thousand Years of Bread," were contemptuous of the Scythians, who ate oats like their horses. The Romans cherished the same contempt for the oat-eating Germans. And many centuries later, Samuel Johnson, in his famous English dictionary, defined oats as "food for men in Scotland, horses in England." To which, it is said, the indignant Scots replied, "England is noted for the excellence of her horses, Scotland for the excellence of her men."

INDIANS BITE DUST

"BORDER COMMAND," by Carl Coke Rister (University of Oklahoma Press), is a vigorous account of Gen. Philip Henry Sheridan and the era which ushered in the modern West. Sheridan emerged from the Civil War as one of the best generals the conflict produced. Sent to the West to settle the "Indian problem" by President Johnson, Sheridan employed his edge-of-the-sword policy and halted, in less than a decade, a sanguinary war which had been going on for 40 years. Full of action and good reading by an author who has other volumes on the Indian Wars and the settlement of the West to his credit.

TALE OF REVENGE

A DEEP, emotional novel of revenge and love—that's Stanley F. Donath's "The Lord Is a Man of War" (Knopf).

The author, Vienna born, paints a bizarre picture as he takes his hero, Jan Dvorin, through the trials of living in America's slums, through the intrigue of South America as Jan starts a one-man mission to revenge the death of his father at the hands of the Gestapo in Czechoslovakia; and through the ramifications of Spanish neutrality and Nazi oppression of the "little people."

Two girls claim the love of Jan, one an American, the other an espionage agent who meets deaths in a fracas with Nazi troopers. It's difficult to distinguish which is the truest of these loves, even after Jan, following shipwreck and rescue enroute back to America, marries his first sweetheart. But that's just one of the good marks of this book.

FADIMAN IS NEW JUDGE

CLIFTON FADIMAN, editor, book critic and master of ceremonies for the "Information Please" radio program, has been made a member of the editorial board of the Book-of-the-Month Club, it has been announced by Harry Scherman, president of the club.

Fadiman's appointment is the first addition to the Book-of-the-Month club's board of editors since the organization was launched 18 years ago, with Dorothy Canfield, Christopher Morley, Henry Seidel Canby, Heywood Boun, who died in 1939, and the late William Allen White, as the five judges.

As the new judge, Fadiman will help select the book-of-the-month from among the approximately 300 forthcoming books submitted by book publishers each month.

Memorial service for American Soldiers and Marines killed on Cape Gloucester, New Britain. Signal Corps Photo

Suppose there were no tomorrow—

Suppose there were no tomorrow? . . . Think about it for just a minute . . . No tomorrow for you, or your kid sister at home—or the brother who left for the Army yesterday. Did you ever think that we, who have had so few yesterdays, may have no tomorrows?

It has happened, you know. To Jack Feldman, and Bob Ernest—and fifteen others who sat in our classes just last term . . .

They will have no tomorrows. They died before they ever had a try at living . . . so that we might have our chance.

There are millions who were asked to give up more than a double feature at the Earle . . . or a spiffy, new pair of pumps for next week's formal. A soda is a pretty insignificant sacrifice, when you think of—

The kids in Russia, who live on a few ounces of cereal a day. They've never seen an ice cream soda.

The Polish boys and girls, who would be in school right now, just as we are . . . if there were any schools left.

The French youths who've never had a hamburger on a date—or any other time, for that matter. They are old, very old . . . older than you and I will ever be . . .

There are millions of them . . . in Norway . . . Holland . . . Denmark . . . Belgium . . . They would stare in amazement if they could be here to see—

A jalopy painted bright yellow. "The Tin You Love to Touch" printed in big, green letters on the back.

A high school senior, uncomfortable in his first tuxedo . . . calling for his date, looking nervous.

Millions of things that we take for granted . . .

"Hey, Maestro! Play 'Stardust'!"

. . . There is such a feeling of permanency in our tight little world. We'll go to school with the gang, today . . . and tomorrow . . .

But, WHAT IF THERE WERE NO TOMORROW? There's only one way to be sure, you know—

Buy War Bonds . . . That's a simple little phrase. It's the American way of saying what we mean in a few direct words. Buy War Bonds.

Yes—you and everybody must buy War Bonds. We've got to buy more and more, and more of 'em. Just get the idea into your head that your $18.75 might—just might end the war one-fifth of one second sooner. That maybe, in that one-fifth of a second, the boy next door could be on the receiving end of a bullet . . . Then you'll know it's worth it!

We've got to keep on plugging, saving, convincing. Giving our pin money . . .

Tell everybody—sell everybody! We can't take no for an answer . . . tomorrow—and tomorrow—and tomorrow.

Let's All KEEP BACKING THE ATTACK!

W. P. Florence Says He And His Brother Grew First Cotton

An article appearing in the Avalanche-Journal last Sunday, which told of a suit of clothes said to have been made from the first bale of cotton grown in Lubbock county in 1900 by the late J. W. Peeler, has been disputed by W. P. Florence of Slaton in a letter to this newpaper.

Florence said that it is possible that the suit could have been made from the first bale of cotton grown in the county, but the grower of that bale was Florence and his cousin, Sam Florence. Florence added that the year was 1901 instead of 1900.

Florence went on to say, "In the fall of 1900 I was back in Haskell county and spent the night with one of my father's neighbors, the late J. W. Peeler, who made a crop on Wildhorse Prairie that year. Of course I gave him a glowing description of the Plains. I don't think he had ever seen them. But, in May, 1901, he came. Sam and I had bought a well drill from T. S. Jackson, now in Lubbock's old folks home. About June that year I sold my interest in the well drill to Mr. Peeler to make his living that year as he got here too late to make a cotton crop.

"So that suit of clothes must have been made from the second crop of cotton grown in Lubbock county in 1902, or else from the crop we produced the year before.

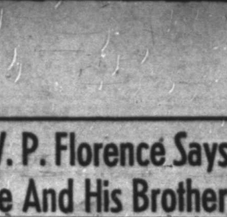

"The Florences and Peelers were neighbors the latter part of 1901 and worked together with the well drill and since Sam moved away the next year and I went to the state university in the fall of 1901, while Mr. Peeler carried on for several years, it would be easy for people to get the erroneous impression that Mr. Peeler grew that first cotton. I have talked with Mr. Peeler several times since then but never heard him claim to have grown Lubbock's first bale. I really hope out over another Marine opposuit was made from Lubbock's first bale."

Florence said that he was very glad that more interest is now being shown in the historical importance of the beginning of King Cotton's reign on the South Plains and he wished that many could have had the honor of growing the first bale.

In Romania where the laws of inheritance allow farm tracts to be divided from generation to generation, many farms have been scaled down to the dimension of American gardens.
