Johnstown Mayor Appeals to Roosevelt for Intervention

ASKS REMOVAL OF THE 'MURDEROUS ELEMENT' IN CITY

Wants President To Have Lewis Move Agitators

PLANT IS BOMBED

Bethlehem Mill Is Damaged By Blast

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. June 16. (P)—Mayor Daniel Shields appealed to President Roosevelt today to intervene in the Johnstown steel strike to "remove the murderous element infesting the city."

The mayor said that in addition to the dynamite-bombing of the Bethlehem mill early today, six men kidnaped a steel worker, stripped of his clothing and threw him from his automobile. He appealed through the President to John Lewis to "withdraw the murderous element."

At Youngstown, the back to work movement of non-strikers ended inconclusively with Frank Purnell, steel and tube president, saying he will not reopen until authorities assure protection.

Some Detroit employees of the General Motors initiated a back to work move, and the steel workers organizing committee proposed at Pittsburgh to the Bethlehem steel corporation that a representation election be held in the Johnstown plant.

Grown so much you'd "hardly know her," young Gloria Vandebilt looks the part of the smartly dressed heiress that she is in this latest picture, made at a society gathering on Long Island. The little girl diffidence that was apparent in pictures of her when she was the pawn in her mother's custody battle has gone with the years.

Fascists Tighten Ring Around Bilbao

Germany and Italy formally rejoined the international non-intervention patrol today, while Spanish insurgents tightened the ring of steel about Bilbao.

The British evolved plan of guaranteeing safety of patrol ships apparently satisfied the two nations, which left the patrol after warships bombed by Spanish government planes, and the Almeria retaliation bombing by Germany.

Word from Hendaye on the Franco-Spanish border, was that Basques desiring to defend their city to the last were struggling with anarchist elements seeking to burn Bilbao.

The insurgents' radio station at Salinas predicted capture of the city within 24 hours.

Stockholders Are To Meet; All Urged To Attend

Setting of dates for the annual feeder show and sale, also those for the annual rodeo, will be taken up at a meeting of stockholders of Midland Fair, Inc., Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, at the chamber of commerce office. Notices were sent out today by the president, Clarence Scharbauer, urging a full attendance.

As soon as dates for the feeder show and sale are set, preliminary advertising will be started in the corn belt, in order to attract a large delegation of buyers here for the annual fall event.

Although no action has been taken toward dates for the annual rodeo, some have suggested that it be held around the Labor Day holiday, the first week of September.

ANTI-TRUST LAWS OF STATE UPHELD BY SUPREME COURT

Appeals Court Is Overruled On Decision

AUSTIN, June 16 (P)—The supreme court today upheld the validity of the Texas anti-trust laws, overruling the Austin court of civil appeals.

The decision was in the famous oil company ouster suit brought by Governor Alfred during his first term as attorney general. The appeals court dismissed the suit on the grounds that the anti-trust laws were unconstitutional because farmers and stockmen were exempted from their provisions.

The supreme tribunal said the appeals decision was in error, and also opined the argument existing over the cooperative marketing act renders the anti-trust laws void and without merit.

Alfred filed suit against 15 large oil companies, two associations, seeking forfeiture of their rights to do business in Texas, and $17,500,000 in penalties.

Getting Away From the Point In A Military Manner

The high panoply of military splendor and the gay June foliage combined in scenes of striking beauty as graduates of the U. S. military academy (left) at "The Point" marched for the last time on the historic and picturesque parade ground at West Point, N. Y., overlooking the Hudson, beneath the proud gothic beauty of the chapel, framed under a leafy arch. At right, a seasoned veteran greets two "future generals"—General Samuel E. APPARENT ESCAPE MADE BY BURGLARS WHO ROBBED CLUB

Officers Continue To Press Hunt For Pair

find any trace of the two men who made their escape from the Cactus Club early yesterday morning after being surprised while burglarizing the place.

Officials at other towns have been given descriptions of the two and asked to be on the lookout for them but no reports have as yet been received.

Fingerprints were left by the two men on bottles of beer they drank before being discovered by the proprietor of the club, Leslie Van Dyke, and pictures of them were mailed by officers here to the department of justice in Washington.

A report on whether or not they can be identified is expected to be given officers here within a few days.

One of the men is believed to be wounded as only four of the five shots fired by Van Dyke at him were found. The burglar fired three shots at Van Dyke, and although none of them hit him, two landed within six inches of him. The second burglar is expected to be lacerated on hands and arms and possibly by his face as he leaped through a plate glass door in making his escape from the club.

Three Hurt When Two Cars Collide

Three persons, Truman Harris, J. C. Smith, Jr., and M. H. Dubrow, all of Midland, were reported slightly injured early last night when two cars collided at the Warfield filling station.

Dubrow was reported to have said he pulled into the driveway of the station, hitting Harris' car, while making an effort to dodge two cars that met in a head-on collision just ahead of him. Occupants of the two cars in the head-on were said to have been taken to an Odessa hospital.

Harris had a splinter driven into his leg and suffered lacerations about the face as his most serious injuries. Smith suffered a minor head injury while Dubrow's most serious injury was a badly cut hand.

WALSBERG, Colo., June 16 (U.P.)—A boom in the market price of bones has caused junk buyers to search the prairies for skeletons of cattle. The price of bones has jumped from $9 a ton in 1935 to the present $27.50. The boom is attributed to European rearmament.

Safety Awards Presented as Pair Honored at a Banquet

Highest award of the National Safety Council, the "President's Medal," was awarded to Ford Schrock, Midland man in the employ of the Atlantic Pipe Line Company, at a banquet Tuesday evening. Both Schrock and C. E. Locke received certificates in honor of meritorious service performed when they saved the lives of two men by the Schaefer Prone Pressure method.

The banquet, given by the company, was presided over by J. L. McGrew, superintendent of the Atlantic in this territory, and was attended by company representatives from Midland, Monahans and Hobbs, as well as by special guests.

The awards were given in recognition of saving the lives of H. W. Locke and A. W. Thompson on December 23, 1935. The men had been cleaning out an oil storage tank in Ward county. When Schrock was making his rounds to get field tickets signed, he came up on a tank and found one of the men sitting at the foot of a ladder and the other lying on the floor of the tank, both in an unconscious condition, overcome by gas fumes.

Schrock quickly summoned the aid of C. E. Locke, who was working at a drilling operation nearby, and the two rescued the men, using the Prone Pressure method of resuscitation.

McGrew, at last night's banquet, welcomed the guests and then introduced W. W. Lackey, superintendent of the Midland public schools, who presented the awards. Lackey exhibited the "President's Medal," which was given Schrock and explained its significance. On the front of the bronze circle are figures from Greek mythology, in bas relief. The three goddesses of fate, Clotho who spins the thread of life; Lachesis, who determines its length and Atropos who cuts the thread of life, work under the watchful scrutiny of a figure symbolic of safety. The figure of safety stays the hand that would cut the thread of life.

The speaker stated that the National Safety Council determined upon this method of recognition in May 1928, and since that time had awarded 848 medals for life saving service, with 25 bars also approved. The award is named for Dr. Schaefer of Edinburgh, internationally recognized, who originated the Prone Pressure method of resuscitation.

Commenting on the work of Schrock and Locke, the speaker declared that he recognized certain requirements which they had met in the emergency. He said that one performing such service must have intelligent observation; must have sympathy, courage and moral strength; and must possess knowledge and skill. He congratulated Schrock for his intelligent observation, quickly noting that something was wrong when he approached the scene of the accident; and praised both men for their sympathy, courage, moral strength, knowledge and skill in saving the two lives. He paid tribute to the Atlantic company

DON'T JOIN THE SUCKER LIST

Decision of the Midland chamber of commerce to investigate all solicitors referred to them by Midland business men is commendable. Many executives, when approached by glib-tongued salesmen, prefer to accept propositions rather than to spend the necessary time and money required for making investigations. Often the propositions are useless or illegitimate, and the business men are "stuck."

When an unknown salesman presents a proposal to you, be sure the salesman and his proposition are above board. Let the chamber of commerce committee appointed for that purpose keep you on the safe side.

When a growing town like Midland becomes publicized for its prosperity, its business men become the object of sales attacks from all sides. Some of these propositions are good but many are spurious. Don't throw your money away and don't aid the undeserving solicitor to prey upon the public. Send him to the chamber of commerce for endorsement. An unbiased investigation will be of benefit to the deserving and will head off the violator of good business practices.

Even our home people can hardly realize how rapidly Midland is growing, and what a substantial sort of expansion we are enjoying. I'm going to predict right here that there won't be ten cities in Texas with as heavy building permits as Midland will have for the year. Later on I may even reduce the number of cities.

I've just learned that there is an enterprising business going on right here in town whereby women reduce their weight and dimensions. Don't

Stamp News

BY I. S. KLEIN

ACCORDING to Representative Lindsay Warren of North Carolina, Postmaster General Farley has authorized issuance of a special stamp to commemorate the 350th anniversary of the establishment of a colony by Sir Walter Raleigh in North Carolina. This was the famous "lost colony" sent out by Raleigh in 1587, from which nothing later was heard. The new stamp may be released about the middle of August.

Representative Sol Bloom of New York has gone beyond the boundary of this country to drum up interest in the 150th anniversary of the framing of the Constitution this year. He already has succeeded in getting Ecuador to issue a series of stamps for the event. On July 4, and for the following eight days, that country will sell both regular and airmail postage commemorating the Constitutional anniversary in the United States.

Regular stamps of seven values will illustrate the "effigy" of the Republic bearing the flag of Ecuador. The airmail series will show a portrait of Washington, and an eagle bearing the flag of the United States.

Other South American countries may follow this example.

Although it is assumed in Washington that the United States will issue a series of Constitution stamps this year, no official word to this effect has yet been given out.

Social Security Made Simple

Question No. 15

QUESTION: Are board, lodging and tips considered wages under the old-age benefits provisions of the Social Security Act?

ANSWER: The Act states that "wages" means cash remuneration for employment and any remuneration other than cash. Board and lodging, therefore, are considered wages. A fair and reasonable cash value of board and lodging must be determined by giving due consideration to all circumstances affecting the case.

Tips, under the old-age benefits part of the Act, are not considered wages when such tips are paid directly to an employee by a customer, and not in any way accounted for by the employee to the employer.

Mrs. Lowrie Speaks of Experiences In China and South America at Abilene Tea

ABILENE, June 16. — Not Africa but South America is the dark continent, said Mrs. Harmon Lowrie, who spoke of her experiences in China and South America at a tea given by the Bass Auxiliary of the St. Paul Methodist church for women of the church Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Lowrie, slender and dark-eyed, has recently returned from Brazil where she spent two and a half years in Sao Paulo, which she explains, pronounced San Paulo. With her two children, Margaret and Harmon, Jr., Mrs. Lowrie is back in the United States for good. Her husband, who is employed by the Brazilian government as a foreign counsel on social service, is now in New York and Washington, applying for aid from Rockefeller and Carnegie foundations for sponsorship of cultural activities in Brazil. He will return to Brazil, spending another year before coming again to the United States to be with his family.

Brazil Interesting

Mrs. Lowrie would not compare China and Brazil, but she did say she thought Brazil, a "very interesting experience," but China, she confided later, is "the most charming place in the world and its people have the poise and charm that 3,000 years has bequeathed to them."

Sao Paulo, she remarked is completely cosmopolitan. Representatives of nations from all over the globe reside there, but there are no "foreign quarters." A German lives next door to a Spaniard, and an Englishman is across the street, but when it comes to social life, the German is likely to invite his German friends from across town, and the others do the same. However, explains Mrs. Lowrie, each is accepted in the other's life.

"Brazil, although she has cosmopolitan cities," say Mrs. Lowrie, "is still a raw, wild country. In the Amazon river valley, the forests are so dense you have to chop your way through with an axe, and the trail grows up behind you. The insects are so bad even the natives are ill continually while in the interior, and few whites can live. There are still wild Indians, who shoot poison arrows at the sight of a white man."

Mrs. Lowrie also related the tale of a white man who attempted to sail up a river into the interior, but met opposition of untamed natives, who built fires along the bank to keep him from landing.

Rivers Unexplored

Brazilian rivers, she says, are still unexplored, and cannot be placed accurately on maps because it is still not known where most of them rise.

To Abileneans, who until swimming pools came into fashion didn't have a chance to get their feet wet, the rainfall reports of Sao Paulo sound unbelievable. In one year there it rains 20 inches, or 10 times as much as it rains in Abilene. Texans have no conception of the size of a South American river system, said Mrs. Lowrie. "The streams you call rivers here are nothing but brooks or creeks in the opinion of a South American," she says.

As for Brazilian schools, Mrs. Lowrie says they are still in the beginning of development, stress-

DEMONSTRATION CLUB NEWS

"I have my garden in the field with my mother," said Johnnie Mae Collier, a garden cooperator of the Stokes 4-H club.

Johnnie Mae has growing: 2400 feet of peas, 2400 feet of beans, 300 feet of watermelons, 600 feet of cantaloupes, 600 feet of butterbeans, 600 feet of okra, 600 feet of fresh corn, 300 feet of cucumbers, 12 hills of gerkins, and 20 hills of cushaw.

Johnnie Mae has been busy with her sewing too, having made two pot-holders, one cup towel, one slip, and one dress. She has canned one quart of grapes and helped to make two pints of jelly.

Billie Francis Franklin, garden demonstrator of the Cotton Flat 4-H club, has 14 varieties of vegetables growing as follows: beets, 360 feet; carrots, 360 feet; radishes, 360 feet; muskmelons, 172 hills; mustard, 270 feet; cucumbers, 1080 feet; squash, 180 feet; English peas, 300 feet; onions, 330 feet; turnips, 180 sq. feet; okra, 45 feet; corn, 2 acres; peas, 1 acre, watermelons, 1 acre.

FOLLOW UPWARD TREND

The trend now is definitely toward shorter evening gowns. Designers continue to feature ankle-length dance dresses for more or less informal parties. Many truly formal, floor-length gowns are slit or intricately draped to look shorter in front than in back. Judging solely by the past, drapes and slits always indicate that, within a season or two hemlines themselves will be shortened.

ing languages particularly. They have to, of course, since there are so many languages spoken in the country.

There again, does South America differ from North America, related Mrs. Lowrie. "In the United States when a foreigner enters the country out first thought is to make an American of him. As yet, when he enters South America, they accept him as he is, not attempting to take from him his native speech or customs. However, recently there has been a law passed requiring a certain American, English, Japanese, amount of Portuguese taught in French or Spanish school in Brazil."

Awkward Nation
"Brazil as a nation is still awkward," says Mrs. Lowrie, "but China," she said later, "is a different matter. The Chinese have the poise of 3,000 years of civilization. There's no people like them in the world."

If five years experience in China would enable an American to know the country, Mrs. Lowrie should know it. She was for five years connected with Soochow university. At any rate, she learned to love it. Hostesses for the tea at which Mrs. Lowrie was honor guest were Mrs. Charlie Bass, Bass Auxiliary president, Mrs. W. C. Bickley, Mrs. Itha Wjoten Jones, Mrs. A. S. Hawes and Mrs. Nib Shaw. Fifty guests attended.

Across the Hills of Normandie

ACROSS the hills of Normandie We wandered in the rain, The tall hills, the small hills, Until we came to Spain.

O H, that was long and long ago, When gipsy violins Were sweet with little songs that filled The candle-lighted inns.

AND now the Spanish vineyards fret Beneath the soldiers' tread, And skeletons of castles rise, And many men are dead.

AND that is life—the dreams we dreamed Across the fields of Spain, Could only take sun-lighted ways, And vanished in the rain.

More Children In School in 1930

AUSTIN, June 16 (AP)—Earliest authentic records available show Texas public schools had 63,500 enrolled in 1872. In 1936 the figure was 1,299,500.

D. S. Cole, statistician for the department of education, says enrollment had leaped to 187,000 by 1880 and was 390,000 in 1890. At the turn of the century it stood at 578,000 and passed the million mark in 1916 with 1,017,000.

A fact revealed by the figures is that there were more children in school during depression years than at other times. The highest number 1,377,900 was recorded in 1930 and 1,340,000 the second highest in 1934.

CHIFFON REDINGOTES

Dotted chiffon redingotes over dotted silk slips are fashionable costumes for hot days in town. One attractive outfit of this type is navy with white dots. The slip could be worn with a white shark-skin jacket or a navy taffeta one and the chiffon redingote could be worn over a plain navy foundation slip. Appropriate accessories are burgundy gloves and hat, navy bag and shoes.

WOMAN QUILT CONSCIOUS
CLEVELAND, June 15 (U.P.)—Mrs. Karl Walter does not consider the wearing value of a dress when she buys, but how it will look as a quilt. She converts scraps of cloth into quilts of beauty as an absorbing hobby. She started recently on her 15th hand-pieced quilt.

DAINTY FRILLS FOR SHEERS

Button-on frills of foamy lingerie or lace make it easier than ever to freshen up dark summer sheer dresses and suits. Worn in clusters on necklines, pockets, and sleeves, they look like tiny dollies with a button in the center of each.

When they need to be laundered, they can be slipped off in a jiffy and replaced just as quickly. You don't have to put in overtime sewing and ripping. Simply squeeze them through frothy soapsuds, rinse well, and roll in a towel for a moment to remove as much moisture as possible. Iron them on the wrong side, and presto! they are ready to be buttoned on again.

Of course, the dress they go with must have buttons in the right places. But buttons in themselves are smart trimmings this season so the dresses may be worn either with the frills or with other dainty accessories.

Cardinals Gain Measure of Revenge On Drillers By Taking Easy 20-11 Game

The Midland Cardinals had their batting eyes tuned to the last notch yesterday and used their two unbroken bats to full advantage to blast four Hobbs pitchers for 18 hits and a 20-11 victory.

Little Bobby Frost pitched the entire game for the Cards and gave up only six hits but he walked 7 and his mates made 7 errors to give him a lot of trouble.

For the first four innings the score was nip and tuck, each club making one in the first, three in the third with Hobbs making one in the fourth and the Cards two in the fifth when they knocked out Dorsett, who had succeeded Riddle in the third, and continued their attack on Fritz for seven runs. Hobbs made one more run in their half of the sixth but the Cards came back with six in the last half. Beers came in from the outfield to pitch the last two innings for the losers and held the Cards to two hits and one run.

Hobbs kept pecking away at Frost all the way through, making one run in the seventh, two in the eighth and two in the ninth.

The two clubs made a total of 9 doubles with the winners getting seven of them. Murphy bagged two doubles and a single while Potocar got a double and a triple and a single. Schiffer, however, was the real leader at the bat with three singles, a double and a walk in six trips up. He batted in six runs and scored two.

The Cardinals had a field day at the expense of catcher Robinson of the Drillers, stealing 10 bases, during the game. Orr stole four bases, including a throw of home twice. Nook got three bases by the larceny route. Nook also came through with a couple of fielding gems when he came in to rob Hobbs hitters of base hits by snaring low line drives.

The same two clubs meet this afternoon at 4:30. Al Thomas will probably be on the mound for the Cards and Blomer for the visitors.

The Cards leave tomorrow for Roswell where they will open the after-dark season with the Sunshiners. The largest crowd of the year is expected in Roswell as two of the outstanding hurlers of the league, Brewer and Scott are carded to oppose each other in the first night game for Roswell.

Stamp News

BY I. S. KLEIN

THE Postoffice Department has completed a new booklet describing all the stamps issued by the United States since 1847. Although there have been such booklets before, this one will be the first to reproduce all the stamps in black and white. The federal government, it was decided, has the authority to illustrate its stamps in these colors.

The book costs 25 cents and may be obtained by sending a money order for that sum to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

The Postoffice Department is using its influence to have the law forbidding illustration of United States stamps changed so that newspapers, magazines and philatelic publications may be permitted to reproduce them.

Denver, in the near future, will be made a regular stop on coast-to-coast route AM-1. A special cachet will be applied on mail leaving on the first flight from that city. Send self-addressed, stamped envelopes to the Postmaster, Denver, Colo., with a request that he hold them for dispatch on this flight.

King Farouk of Egypt will reach his majority on Aug. 1, and will be proclaimed king in his own right. On that day, a new set of stamps will bear his portrait.

they see it. Such young stars of the Browns team as Beau Bell, Benny Huffman, Julio Bonetti and others have been discovered by these "ivory-hunters." The Browns to offer a young baseball prospect the best route to the major league. Such youngsters as Bonetti and Huffman, spent little time in the minors before coming on up to the big leagues. Huffman came direct to the Browns from the Junior College and these officials expect to find such material during the Okmulgee try-out meeting.

Every boy between the ages of 17 and 21 years, who are at least 5' 9" tall and who weigh 150 pounds or more, is eligible to come to Okmulgee for a trial. The aspiring athletes need only present themselves with shoes, gloves and uniform, asserting their desire for a try-out. No fee is charged, the only requirement being that the boys pay their own expenses. A stay of only 3 or 4 days in Okmulgee will be all that will be needed for scouts and officials to determine the ability a lad possesses. Boys who show sufficient ability will be offered contracts and in the event they report to a club this year or at the start of the club's regular playing season next year, their bus transportation and expenses in Okmulgee will be refunded.

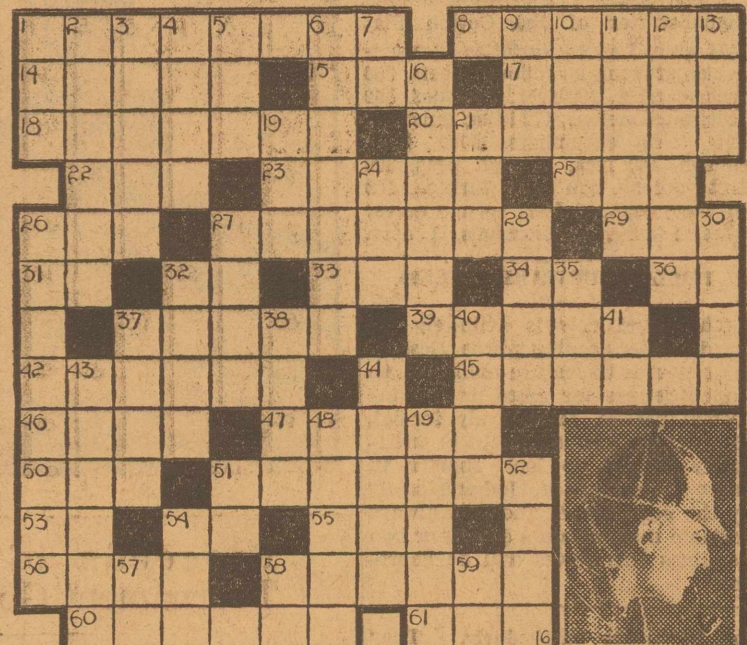

The first municipally owned ferry boats in America were introduced in New York in 1905 and plied between Manhattan and Staten Islands.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

THE MANUFACTURE OF PROTEIN IS AN EVERYDAY OCCURRENCE IN MOST PLANTS, BUT NO CHEMIST HAS BEEN SUCCESSFUL IN MAKING ONE SINGLE PARTICLE OF IT.

EVERY HOUR, APPROXIMATELY FOUR PERSONS THROUGHOUT THE WORLD ARE BURIED UNIDENTIFIED.

MAN'S factories and chemical laboratories are but playthings, compared to the marvelous manufacturing processes carried on inside the cells of common, ordinary plants. From simple foods taken into the plant, hundreds of amazing products are made through the magic of sunlight.
