Lamb County Ranks Eleventh In Nation Fourth In The State

This week has been proclaimed as National Cotton Week. We in North Lamb County whose prosperity can be said to be chiefly due to our Irrigated Cotton farms join the Nation in celebration of Cotton Week, in an effort to promote more cotton consumption.

Last year approximately 51,899 bales of cotton was ginned at the 10 gins in this area. Although other crops are grown in this area, cotton is by far the top ranking crop. This years chop prospects are at its best due to the large amount of moisture from rainfall plus irrigation, the area should have a bumper crop. A large per cen of the farmers have already finished planting.

Irrigation and soil conservation are largely responsible for the good cotton crops grown here. Previous to the early 30's only a few irrigation wells dotted the Plains. Among which is the well on the Jerry Kelley farm, known to old timers as the Lou Linnell farm.

This well is still in operation. Another is located on the Halsell Ranch five miles west of town. Since then cotton yield each year have proved to be much greater due to Irrigation that a well can be found on almost every quarter section of land in this area.

In recent years people have realized the importance of soil conservation to the farmland. Many different phases of soil conservation are used in this area such as bench leveling and terracing to help prevent erosion and water runoff.

A total of 166,693 bales of cotton was harvested in Lamb County in 1956, causing it to rank eleventh in the nations cotton production. According to the U. S. Department of Commerce in Washington, D. C. 13 of the top cotton producing counties in the United States are located on the South Plains of Texas.

Together these 13 counties produced one-ninth of the total U. S. cotton crop. The South Plains area produced 1,461,796 bales of the total 13,151,208 bales grown in the United States last year. The U. S. produced about 36 per cent of the world's cotton last year.

Four of the five top cotton producing counties in Texas were on the South Plains and according to rank they are: Lubbock, Hale, Hidalgo, Lamb and Hockley.

Of the 50 top cotton producing counties in the United States; 20 were in Texas, 8 in Arkansas; 7 in Mississippi; 6 in California; 4 in Missouri; 3 in Arizona; and 2 in New Mexico.

Top cotton producing counties in the nation were Kern County, California with 416,578, Fresno County, California ranked second with 381,795 bales, Pinal and Maricopa Counties in Arizona ranked third and fourth with 337,691 and 328,995 bales respectively. Tulare County, California ranked fifth with 244.391 bales.

Cotton is produced in some 48 countries of the world, which includes Korea (90,000 bales per year), Greece (260,000) and Soviet Russia (5.3 million), Mexico (2.2 million), India (4 million), Pakistan (1.3 million), Brazil (1.8 million), and Red China (3.5 million). However the United States is far the largest producer with 14.5 million bales output last year.

While cotton has been grown for its fiber for many centuries, it has been used for many other purposes in recent years. Many foods are made from the coton seed oil. The seed are also used in various forms as a livestock supplement.

Some of the finest materials on the market today are made of cotton, including wearing apparel, carpets and furniture upholstery.

We in the cotton belt realize the need to promote buying of cotton products in order to use up some of the surplus.

Farmers Face Big Issue In Wheat Ballot

Farmers have two issues to decide in the June 20 wheat referendum, according to Doyle Turner, Chairman, Lamb County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The first issue is wheather marketing quotas will be in effect, carrying with them penalties on "excess" wheat from farms (with more than 15 acres of wheat harvested as grain) on which the allotment is exceeded. The second issue is the level of the available price support.

A two-thirds favorable vote is required to approve wheat marketing quotas. Once quotas are approved, penalties for production in excess of the farm's quota are in effect for all farms in commercial wheat States which harvest over 15 acres of wheat for grain. The farm quota is generally all the wheat produced on the acreage allotment. Under quotas, also, price support on the 1958 wheat crop will be available at a minimum national average of 1.78 per bushel to those farmers who are in compliance with their farm allotments.

Mr. Turner explains that if more than one-third of the voters disapprove quotas, there will be no marketing quotas and no penalties for excess production. However, acreage allotments will remain in effect in the commercial area, and the price support will be available at 50 per cent of parity to those farmers who comply with their allotments. Wheat marketing quotas and acreage allotments operate only in the 36 States designated as "commercial" wheat States, which include Texas. States must have allotments of more than 25,000 acres of wheat to rate as a commercial wheat State.

JUST a Newsstand? No.

It is a battleground.

In this tiny territory rival publications fight for the attention of the public. From left to right you can find all shades of political and social opinion, freely expressed. And because of this a newsstand is more than just a convenience in the life of an American town.

There is another battle going on around a newsstand, more far-reaching than the competitive rivalry of paper against paper, magazine against magazine. For there are always people—yes, even here—who dislike to see opinions freely expressed... and who attempt to bring all sorts of restraining pressures on those who champion the Press's freedom.

But those who write and print and publish the free opinions of America, they see a threat to that freedom as a threat to all freedoms, and vigilantly hold back pressure-wielders from closing in on the newsstand.

If there ever was a car that loved to cut loose and cover the miles, it's this one. Yet it's so easy to handle that it even makes city traffic seem a bit lighter and parking places a bit bigger.

Chevy's pretty easygoing out on the highway too. Not pokey. Far from it. # ITS THE LAW in TEXAS their direct joy in work or play; or the future—their plans? Why not use all three dimensions of time? Past experience to guide, the present for zest, and the future to realize dreams.

Lawyers report a sharp shift in the way people regard time and the law: Of old they thought of law in terms of past facts like failures to meet legal duties, misdeeds, etc. —facts useful chiefly in lawsuits.

You still have to think of the record, since you may have to go to trial some time. So keep good records of your affairs.

But more and more people now also think of the law in the future tense — in terms of built-in safeguards for plans which they want to go through without legal hitches.

Our heavy income and death taxes have made people plan ahead legally rather than wait for the axe to fall.

Any time you buy or sell a home or a business or make an investment you have choices of how you may do it — some wise, some not, in view of your circumstances.

Should you do business as a sole proprietor, a partership, or corporation? Do your contracts set out ways of meeting unexpected events? How best may you serve your estate (and also carry out your wishes) — by a will or a trust, or by direct gifts?

While all of these things point forward, the past in the form of court records can serve you by showing where trouble may come from.

As more and more people know the symptoms of legal trouble—where to look for legal hitches in plans before trouble starts, there will be fewer law suits and better human relations.

And where does trouble sometimes start? Most often where you lack a clear grasp of your relationship, your rights and duties, and your own and the other fellow's resources — in transactions involving large personal or financial stakes.

Cotton Improvements Research Being Studied by Staff Of Lubbock Station

LUBBOCK, Texas — A new staff member, Dr. J. D. Bilbro, has joined the Lubbock Experiment Station where he will be engaged in cotton improvement research.

The establishment of this position was announced last November at the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. Short Staple Research Conference in Lubbock by Dr. H. D. Dr. Bilbro will work cooperative with the Lubbock Experiment Station and the USDA. He will join station staff workers in the cotton improvement program now in progress.

"With the addition of Dr. Bilbro, plans for an expanded cotton improvement program for this area are being put into operation," Don L. Jones, superintendent, announced.

Red Cross Aids West Texas Tornado Areas

Texas, hard hit by floods and tornadoes which have battered widespread areas of the state since early April, reeled again last week under the impact of a series of tornadoes which struck the Panhandle, causing damage in five communities. The Red Cross rushed disaster workers to Silverton, 100 miles southeast of Amarillo in Briscoe County, which was hardest hit with 58 persons injured, 22 homes destroyed and 38 damaged.

Red Cross workers were also dispatched immediately to Goldston in Donley County, Vigo Park in Swisher County, Plains in Yoakum County, and a rural area in Briscoe County 17 miles north of Lockney, where damage was reportedly less extensive.

The Silverton tornado, which near midnight Wednesday in a residential section, leveled six city blocks and left the town temporarily without lights or telephone service. First reports of the disaster were radioed to Red Cross State Relations Repesentative Ralph Husted in Austin by the Department of Public Service and telephoned by him to Red Cross Disaster Headquarters in Waco.

Field representatives and chapter workers in the Amarillo area were on their way into the stricken area within an hour of the first report to survey needs and to organize Red Cross emergency relief for the disaster victims. Within four hours after the tornado struck Silverton, 12 disaster specialists were on their way from other Texas communities to help local volunteers working under the direction of a Red Cross Field representative.

From Amarillo, the Red Cross chapter director set out with a mobile canteen, arriving at dawn to serve breakfast to exhausted disaster volunteers. From Littlefield, John Chisolm, volunteer member of the Midwestern Area Red Cross Advisory Committee, headed for Silverton, accompanied by a Red Cross building advisor assigned to survey damage to buildings and supervise needed rebuilding and repair of homes.

From Plainview, the chapter manager went to the disaster scene to handle the welfare inguiries pouring into Silverton as people from other sections of the country sought for news of relatives. Volunteer field representative Mrs. Thelma Cave drove from Plainview to coordinate the work of trained Red Cross volunteers in the area. Caseworkers were sent by the Department of Public Welfare for emergency duty on the Red Cross disaster staff and from Waco Disaster Headquarters a nurse was dispatched to arrange assistance with emergency medical and nursing care for the injured. Other workers are now being transferred from Texas disaster areas where the job of restoring families to normal living is nearly ended.

The tornadoes, striking four counties, brought to 45 the number of Texas counties in which Red Cross is now conducting, or has recently completed relief and rehabilitation operations. In Lampasas, hard hit by a devastating flash flood, all needs for emergency food, clothing, shelter and medical and nursing care had been met. Only 54 families were still being sheltered by Red Cross as caseworkers began developing plans for rehabilitation assistance with families unable to meet such disaster-caused needs as rebuilding and repair of homes, purchase of essential household furnishings, and meeting other basic needs.

In many areas of disaster-wracked Texas, appeals for contributions to help support Red Cross relief operations began spontaneously as the serious need for replenishment of the agency's disaster funds became known. Faced with the most extensive operation in the history of its relief activities in Texas, the Red Cross is rapidly nearly the end of its national disaster funds at a season when incidence of disaster is normally high throughout the country.

ON THE RIVIERA

Seen on the Cote d'Azur, this pretty Mediterranean miss wears a very French cotton playsuit, styled by Vincent. Exemplifying the manner in which cotton has captivated fashion leaders of the international set, the outfit is in vivid red and white checks, trimmed with what the designer calls black "croquet" braid.

Legislature Sets Stage For Big 'Uns

AUSTIN, May 16 — Signalizing better fishing ahead, Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas marked Governor Price Daniel's signing of the universal fishing license bill with the gift of a fish scale with a fifty pound limit.

Toddie Lee Wynne, Jr., of Dallas, SCOT President, said the device would enable the Chief Executive "to authenticate his fish stories," and added, in a statement that the final approval of HB 895 "reflects a new Texas appreciation of our recreational resources."

Present for the signing ceremonies were Chief Legislative sponsors of the bill, Senator Charles Herring, Austin, and Rep. Schram, Taylor.

The measure, given final approval by the Chief Executive, calls for individual fishing license by salt water fishermen for the first time, and raises the ordinary fishing license fee, heretofore requir- only of fresh water fishermen, from $1.65 to $2.15.

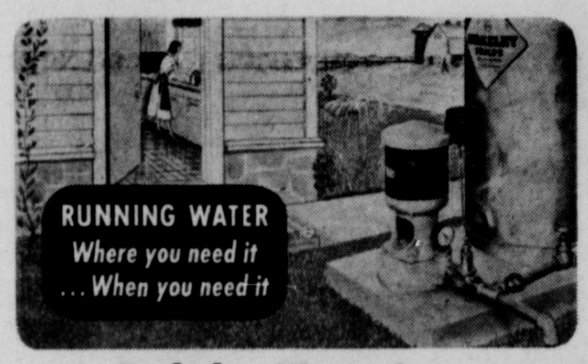

Wynne said the estimated $650-000 to be raised annually by the fishing license act would be added to the new funds being earmarked for fisheries work.

"We in SCOT are heartened by this additional indication that the people, working through their Legislators, realize that Texas needs to bring its wildlife management services up to date," said Wynne. "It is definitely a reflection of local sentiment which is the primary field for SCOT since it is strictly educational in its functions."

Wynne noted that, in the final Legislative test for the unversal fishing license proposal, 100 of the 131 House members supported it.

"Other manifestations of support have aided the general wildlife modernization program," he added. "The House has just approved the bill to raise hunting licenses $2.15 to $3.15 as a means of further financing urgent projects. This measure has a pretty good chance of Senate approval before sine die adjournment next Thursday.

"Sportsmen's organizations efforts were enhanced through a bill, already approved, exempting outdoor clubs from the state franchise tax. New restrictions on bay shrimping and netting have been authorized in the Galveston Trinity Bay area, and efforts to divert mudshell revenue from the Game and Fish Commission are stymied.

BACK TROUBLE, ARTHRITIS:
CASE HISTORY:

A Man, 45, symptoms, severe back trouble and it was difficult for him to move without exchuciating pain. Upon moving his side ached terribly and he had a painful feeling in his arm.

He came to Chiropractic Clinic after trying different forms of treatment without results.

The X-ray examination of his spine revealed that the vertebrae were badly misaligned. Also there was a curvature in his spine in the dorsal region. Two nerve tests accurately located bad nerves leading to his spine,his arm and his side. Upon further questions he told us of a fall he had one time that broke his leg. This further proved that if a fall or sprain was great enough to break his leg or injure his spine, it was also great enough to knock the vertebrae in his back out of place.

After a series of Chiropractic Service this case is now feeling as though he were a new man. His back does not hurt anymore; his arm and side are feeling fine.

Aten, County ASC Manager Urges Farmers To Take Advantage of Rains

Lamar D. Aten, Jr., manager of Lamb County ASC office, Littlefield, suggests that all producers who have land in the Conservation Reserve take advantage of the recent moisture, and if they do not plant the perennial grasses this year, they should make plans to plant a cover crop such as sorghums, millet or Sudan. This cover chop, stated Mr. Aten, may be planted in normal row widths, if the farmers desire, and if procucers are not sure of the procedure they should call the ASC office for information.

Farmers who have not signed Form MQ-31 are advised to do so by the ASC manager before June 1, the deadline, as this will preserve the producers cotton allotment even though he does not plant 90 per cent of his allotment.

All producers who have not advised the ASC office whether or not their farms are irrigated are urged to do this also by Mr. Aten.

The ASC office also reports 155 purchase orders issued in the amount of 12,569 CWT on the 1956 Emergency Food Program up to date.

General Telephone Company Release Annual Report

The growth of the Southwest and the operations at General Telephone Company of the Southwest are reflected in the 1956 Annual Report, just released. During 1956 the company added 13,639 telephones which represented a record high for any previous year. The total number of telephones in service at the end if 1956 was 197,175. Local and long distance traffic increased 5 per cent over last year making 1956 the biggest year yet.

Progress in the Southwest is also shown in the fact that 77.7 percent of telephones in service at the end of the year were dial operated compared to only 4 percent in 1946. Gross construction hit an all time high of $10,673,000. Uncle Sam came in for a big bite last year in the way of a 15 percent increase in taxes. Taxes for the year were the equivalent of -21.60 per telephone or over $1.80 per month per telephone, excluding customer excise taxes collected by the company and paid directly to the Federal Government.

The report cites 1956 operating revenues as increasing 13 percent over 1955 and net earnings for the year up 24 percent over 1955. The report also shows the Company to have $60,801,000 invested in telephone plant at the end of 1956 compared to $53,495,000 last year. It paid $9,711,000 in salaries and wages during 1956 as compared to $8,285,000 paid in 1955.

The increased cost of doing business is well illustrated by the fact that the company has an investment of $243 at the end of 1956 for every telephone in service as compared to $121 at the end of 1946.

Visiting in the G. S. Armstrong home last week was her sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Canady of Overton, Texas.
