Phone Workers Up Wage Boost Drive

By UNITED PRESS

Long distance telephone service in Chicago was interrupted Friday and one picket was arrested at Kansas City as the CIO Communications Workers stepped up its drive to win wage boosts from the nation's phone companies.

At St. Louis, federal conciliators called a meeting for Monday to try to end the strike by 53,000 CWA members against Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in six states.

Picketing generally was peaceful against the Southwestern and Indiana Bell Telephone Companies Friday except for a single incident at Kansas City.

Walkout at Chicago
At Chicago, 2,000 employees of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., walked off their jobs "to attend a meeting" and virtually all long distance service was interrupted.

The company said the meeting apparently was called in a "harassing" move against AT&T which is negotiating with the union at New York.

The workers were expected back on their jobs in four to six hours but meanwhile recorded announcements told long distance callers: "Due to work stoppage on long distance, please place your call later."

John J. Riley, 28-year-old picket, was arrested and released under $100 bond at Kansas City after he allegedly threw two milk bottles against a telephone company building. Union officials said Riley acted on his own volition.

Violence Subsides
Violence subsided in the Indiana telephone strike where many exchange buildings have been under a state of virtual siege by pickets with windows smashed, gas bombs exploded, and cables slashed.

Indiana union members, entering the second month of their strike, streamed through strike headquarters at Indianapolis where grocery and rent aid was distributed. Some ate at a "strike kitchen" set up by an Indianapolis packing-house union local.

Union officials charged that state officers planned to call out the National Guard to use "bayonets on defenseless girl pickets."

Some of the returning prisoners said the Saturday delivery of 94 Americans will include men from Camp No. 9 were brought to Kaesong in some sort of dirty ambulances.

It was believed the camp was set up for men recently captured. The returnees said the Camp No. 9 prisoners, many of them sick and wounded, reached the nearby Communist base at Kaesong Thursday night.

"Dirty Ambulances"
Pfc. J. D. Britton, 22, Surgoinsville, Tenn., said 30 litter patients from Camp No. 9 were brought to Kaesong in some sort of dirty ambulances.

"One of them was captured July 5, another on the 11th," Britton said. "One had a leg blown off."

Prisoners returning to freedom Friday were jubilant.

Some of the Americans were so happy that the shouts of "wee-wee" could be heard while the Russian trucks which were transporting them to freedom were still half a mile away.

One American jumped off the tailgate of his truck when it reached the exchange area and danced a jig.

Among 450 Repatriated
The Americans were among the 450 war prisoners repatriated by the Communists. It took only 50 minutes to get all of the Americans through "Freedom Gate."

Their release brought the number of Americans freed in the big exchange to 1,465. The Reds have promised to return 2,313 Americans along with almost 10,000 other captives.

Slowly, but barely enough to be noticeable, business in the immediate Pampa vicinity showed signs of being on the increase.

But, that increase is slight and not enough to count on. The man in the street is beginning to loosen up and is buying the better grade of houses," he said.

It was one trucking company operator who reported noticing a slight increase in oil field activity so far as rig hauling is concerned. "Of course it's off from last year, but I would say there is a slight increase at the present; not enough to count on at this time though," he added.

Another oil field hauling outfit also reported noticing "just a slight increase" in activity on the local front. But, a good deal of the hauling, too, he said is up along the northern edges of the Texas Panhandle, Oklahoma and Kansas. But, the contracting business is off over last year, the trucking firm said.

One of the big hopes, several men in the oil and gas business observed, is that the Bailey well being drilled by Gulf near Wheeler will come in.

Four officials of the Pampa United Fund were back in town today, following an all-afternoon meeting with Ed Moyer, executive director of Amarillo's Community Chest drive.

On hand to confer with Moyer Thursday afternoon were Dr. J. B. Venable Jr., first vice president; Paul Brown, chairman of Pampa's 1953 drive; John F. Campbell, associate chairman of this year's drive; and Lynn Boyd, member of the campaign executive committee.

Purpose of the get-together was to "look into their system of accounting and methods of running their drive," according to Campbell who added that Moyer, a professional man, is the brother of M. M. Moyer, Pampa.

Next order of business for Pampa fund officials will be a "census of employees of local business houses in the near future," Brown said today, emphasizing that he didn't know the exact date such a census would get underway.

The Pampa fund drive is scheduled to begin Oct. 13.

Communists Release 150 American POWs

PANMUNJOM, Aug. 21—UP—The Communists released 150 Americans Friday, the most in one day since "Operation Big Switch" started 17 days ago, amid reports that men captured in the last days of the Korean war may be freed Saturday.

Some of the returning prisoners said the Saturday delivery of 94 Americans will include men from Camp No. 9 were brought to Kaesong in some sort of dirty ambulances.

Grunewald, Companion Asphyxiated

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Aug. 21—UP—Henry (the Dutchman) Grunewald, the Washington mystery man, and a woman companion were found half-dressed and overcome by gas fumes on a couch in a three-room Jersey City apartment Friday.

Grunewald was taken to Jersey City medical center on an ambulance stretcher, but later was reported in "satisfactory" condition.

The woman, described as attractive, was identified by police as Ann Anderson, 46, who moved into the apartment early Thursday from a nearby hotel. She was revived in the apartment and taken to the hospital for observation.

"What did I do to deserve this," she sobbed to police.

Grunewald and Miss Anderson were lying side by side under a comforter on a living room couch. A pot of coffee had boiled over, and a pot of coffee had boiled over.

Grunewald was identified almost immediately through papers in his pocket. They included an identification card giving his Washington, D. C. address, a pass to the Senate signed by former Vice President Alben Barkley and a New York police courtesy card, all in the name of Henry Grunewald.

Police said two burners on a gas stove were turned on, but a window was open, which probably saved their lives. One officer said a pot of coffee had boiled over.

A-Bomb No Longer War Preventive

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21—UP—The Soviet H-bomb and A-bomb have destroyed much of the U. S. atomic stockpile's war-prevention power, informed officials believed Friday.

From now on, these officials say, the United States will have to bank less on its power to deliver a crushing atomic counterblitz and put more dollars and effort into military and civil defense.

At the same time, many believe the world's leaders will have to try harder than ever to secure peace and bring atomic weapons under effective international control.

The "great debate" in the next session of Congress seems likely to center on defenses against possible attack by H-bomb and A-bomb, Chairman W. Sterling Cole (R-N. Y.) of the House Atomic Energy Committee already has stressed the urgent need of improved air defenses.

Strauss Speaks Out
Paul H. Nitze, former chief of the State Department's policy planning staff, has said the United States for the next several years should spend $2 billion to $3 billion a year more on civil and military defense than it is spending now.

That the U. S. atomic stockpile no longer possesses the war-prevention value it used to have was emphasized by Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission.

In a letter to Chairman Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee Strauss said frankly:

"It is a fallacy to assume that a stockpile of atomic weapons in our own hands is in itself any longer a complete deterrent to aggressive action."

Wiley Wants Joint Action
The U. S. atomic stockpile has been eroded in the past by statesmen of the caliber of Prime Minister Winston Churchill with preventing World War III.

But Russia, by adding mastery of the H-bomb to her rapidly growing A-bomb stockpile is gradually restoring the balance of atomic power and at the same time intensifying the possibility of civilization crippling war.

Former AEC Chairman Gordon Stevenson reports to Ike on tour.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21—UP—Adlai E. Stevenson may give President Eisenhower, who defeated him in the 1952 elections, a report on his tour of the world.

Stevenson returned here Thursday night.

The defeated Democratic presidential nominee was asked at an airport news conference whether he had been invited to confer with Mr. Eisenhower on the things he saw and the people he talked with during his globe-girdling travels.

"Before I left, the President asked me to see him when I came home," Stevenson said.

"Every American responds to his President's request."

There was no indication when or where such a meeting might take place.

Stevenson said he was in the head and his condition was critical.

The guards opened fire when the rioters rushed the main yard gate about 10 P. M.

Douglas Ferris, 21, of Benton county was shot in the right leg above the ankle, and another inmate suffered a scalp wound, not from gunfire, during the melee.

If it comes from a hardware store, we have it, Lewis hardware.

First evidence of a Civil Defense program in the Top O' Texas area is in the making.

For a meeting of registered nurses in this 13-county district has been scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Sept. 1 in the county courtroom.

Purpose of the session will be to "give area nurses an idea of what to do in case of an atomic attack," according to Mrs. J. R. McMurtry, school nurse for White Deer and Skellytown.

B. R. Nuckols, county school superintendent, will be the speaker for this first meeting. Recently he attended a workshop of this nature in Austin.

A second meeting is tentatively slated for November in which a doctor will lecture on what to do with patients in the case of such an attack. Mrs. McMurtry said, "This session and others to come will be for nurses from a string of communities throughout the Upper Panhandle."

Canadian Church Building Planned

CANADIAN — (Special) — Building of a new Baptist Church here is to begin immediately. A contract was signed Thursday for the construction of the education building, basement and fellowship hall.

Lee Elliott Builders of Dallas was the successful bidder at $95,000. The units to be built now will contain approximately 15,000 square feet of floor space, counting the basement, and the fellowship hall is to be used as an auditorium until such time as the trustees of the church see fit to complete the building project.

The new church will be at Seventh and Main Streets on lots formerly occupied by the George Gerlach home.

Groundbreaking ceremonies will be held Sunday, according to Rev. Taft Holloway, minister of the church.

Liberated PW Says 2 GIs Aided Reds

INCHON, Korea, Aug. 21—UP—A U. S. soldier liberated from communism charged bitterly Friday that two American GIs helped Red "thought police" interrogate their prisoners, a treasonous act.

"I was questioned by one of the Americans myself," Cpl. Elias J. Preece, 20, Del Rio, Tex., said in a scathing denunciation of GI collaborators. "Both of them questioned two other guys at different times." Preece was captured Jan. 31, 1951.

Preece's charge is one of the most serious made by any repatriated prisoner.

"Clear Case of Treason"
"It constitutes a clear case of treason if it can be proved," one American officer said. He pointed out that the two GIs who worked closely with his Communist captors could be accused of giving "aid and comfort to the enemy," a severe offense under the U. S. Constitution.

Preece, who called himself a "Sitting only a few feet away" ringleader in a POW anti-progress organization, said "one GI English speaking Communist came down to my squad hut and indoctrinated."

He told me to go to company headquarters. At headquarters Preece found another American soldier waiting for him.

"He offered me some tailor made (cigarettes) and started talking to me. He talked about a lot of things, trying to get information from me. He was trying to find out about an organization we had against progressives," he said.

"Chinese Instructors"
Preece said these two Communist-aiding Americans were the assistants of "Muleface," hated chief of the Red thought police in POW Camp 1 at Changson, North Korea.

Johnson Hits Allies

QUITMAN, Tex., Aug. 21—UP—Senate Minority Leader Lyndon Johnson said Thursday night the United States is not getting the cooperation to which we are entitled in the fight against Communist aggression.

He singled out Britain, France and Italy as examples.

He said it was time for the United States to re-examine its foreign policy and warned against pouring out "billions of dollars in a vain effort to buy friends."

The Texas Democrat said: "The Italians have turned thumbs down on a government friendly to the United States."

"The French feel that they can cripple their economy at a time when their future and our future are at stake."

"The British persist in their efforts to bring Red China into the family of nations, even though British soldiers and American soldiers have been slaughtered by Chinese Communists."

"These are not the signs of cooperation to which we are entitled."

Johnson said there were signs the Communists were using the truce in Korea to build up strength in North Korea, and said the truce "has not brought us peace."

He told a gathering at an Old Settlers Reunion "we cannot impose freedom upon people who are not interested."

However, he said the United States "must not abandon the free world. But by the same token, the free world must not abandon us."

The Senator said "We are willing to do our part as the strongest in the family of free nations. But we shall refuse to play the role of the rich uncle whose pocketbook is considered fair game by every relative who steps into trouble."

Former Actress Severely Beaten
NEWPORT BEACH, Calif., Aug. 21—UP—Beautiful former actress Kay Williams was reported in serious condition Friday as the result of a savage beating allegedly at the hands of her former husband, sugar fortune heir Adolph B. Spreckels, 31, who was arrested Thursday on charges of felonious assault with intent to do great bodily harm shortly after Miss Williams was taken to Hong Presbyterian hospital with possible broken ribs, head injuries and severe bruises on her arms and legs. Film actress Dorothy Lamour was listed as a key witness on the complaint against the millionaire.

Spreckels was released from nearby Orange county jail Thursday night in $10,000 supplied by a bail bondsman. He was ordered to appear before Judge Donald J. Dodge of Newport judicial court.

French Laborers Returning To Work

PARIS, Aug. 21—UP—The United front of French labor, which for 17 days had defied the economic reforms of Premier Laniel with a crippling series of nationwide strikes, cracked wide open Friday.

Laborers, by the tens of thousands, began streaming back to work in nationalized industries and civil services in defiance of Communist pleas for a continuation of the work stoppages enforced by 2 million workers. At their peak last week, the strikes affected 4 million men.

The collapse of the strike followed an agreement, reached at dawn Friday, between non-Communist union leaders and representatives of Premier Laniel's cabinet.

Laniel backed away from his "get tough" attitude toward the strikers and watered down his government economic program with a promise of no new cutbacks and retrenchments would be attempted in government posts until the unions have been consulted.

Communist union bosses shouted "sell-out," but their voices were ignored.

Romulo To Merge With Sec. Magsaysay
2 MANILA, Aug. 21—UP—Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo announced Friday night he is withdrawing from the November presidential contest and merging his forces with those of former Defense Secretary Ramon Magsaysay.

Romulo, soldier, statesman and editor, has entered the three-man presidential campaign, along with Magsaysay, against President Elpidio Quirino.

Schlumberger Head Dies in France

HOUSTON, Aug. 21-UP—Marcel Schlumberger, 69, co-founder of the Schlumberger Well Surveying Corp., died Thursday in Paris, France, it was reported here.

Schlumberger, with his brother Conrad, founded the corporation that bears their name after intensive research in electrical logging of oil wells. Their studies and research led to many patented processes and made the name famous in oil drilling circles.

Conrad died in 1938 and Marcel became president of the corporation. He stepped down in 1946 and his son, Pierre, became the president.

A native of Alsace, France, Marcel Schlumberger was frequently in the Houston headquarters of his firm, the last time this year when the firm opened a $5 million headquarters plant along the Gulf Freeway.

Families Of PWs Criticize Commies

HOUSTON, Aug. 21-UP—The families of two American soldiers, reported to have died in Communist prisoner of war camps, had all but given up hope for their safe return Friday and bitterly criticized the Reds for sadistically keeping their hopes alive.

The parents of both Cpl. Richard Aguilar and Cpl. Tommy E. Ross said Friday their sons were reported alive in Communist propaganda broadcasts, at a time when the Reds knew both to be dead.

"It was the most terrible thing they could have done," Mrs. Robert Webb, Corporal Ross' sister, said Friday. "Why couldn't they have been honest and said that he was actually dead?"

"It's been nearly three years of misery for my mother and dad," she said.

She said that Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Gonzales, mother of Corporal Aguilar.

"How mean those people were," she said tearfully. "I prayed every night they were telling the truth (in their propaganda broadcast)."

"Now they say he is gone but I'm still praying. He may come back. But I've almost given up."

Mrs. Webb said the Reds got a telegram Jan. 2, 1951 that Corporal Ross was missing. The following may he reported in a list of prisoners named by the Communists in their propaganda broadcast.

But a returned prisoner of war this week reported Corporal Ross had died of yellow jaundice long before his name was used in the broadcast.

The same thing occurred in the case of Corporal Aguilar.

Abandon Patrol Reinforcements

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 21-UP—Government plans to reinforce its border patrol with troops to prevent flow of "wetbacks" into the United States probably will be abandoned, a spokesman said Friday.

He said President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines' drive to cut government expenses would be partially responsible for abandoning the plan.

Immigration and border authorities have been ordered to use "extreme vigilance" along the border to stop the flow of wetbacks into the United States, apparently as a result of statements by U. S. officials of acute problems of Mexican laborers in California.

Eisenhower Back To Fishing Hole

DENVER, Aug. 21-UP—President Eisenhower leaves Friday for Ft. Collins, Colo., in the mountains and a day-long trout stream outing sandwiched into a week of solemn foreign developments, a flying trip to New York and weighty meetings with top administration leaders.

The President was to leave Denver at 10 a. m. CST for the Swan Herford Ranch operated by his friend, Bai Swan of Denver, near Pine.

Previously the President planned to take a fishing trip to Akse Nielsen's ranch near Fraser, Colo., but had to postpone it Thursday in the press of state business.

Mr. Eisenhower has only one appointment on his calendar Friday, besides that with the mountain trout. He was to meet with Dr. Gabriel Hauge, administrative assistant and White House specialist on foreign and domestic economic affairs.

Historian Speaks To Lions Meeting
Local Historian Ivy Duncan is worried about the draining of American manpower and natural resources—particularly in Korea.

"We are rapidly becoming a nation of have-nots and I'm beginning to worry about our future," Duncan told the weekly gathering of the Pampa Lions Club Thursday.

Featured speaker for the luncheon, Duncan can make a good idyllic account of Korean history, asking, now and then, one question:

"What do we gain if we win the whole world and lose our souls?"

Among the items he pointed out were that China long ago regarded Korea "as a satellite"; that Korean President Syngman Rhee attended Princeton and picked-up Woodrow Wilson's idea that "all people should determine their own forms of government"; that Korea only became a republic in 1945; and that the Korean War has cost the United States $15 billion and 150,000 casualties.

"It is our responsibility," Duncan concluded, to determine if we can afford to "waste our resources and manpower."

Other activity at the meeting included a mention by Acting President, Ed Myatt, of next year's Lions Club Minutrel and a proposed ping-pong match—which didn't come off—between Paul Brown and Cliff Braly. Latter was something of other to do with weight, it was understood.

Lawyer Surprised At Request To Quit

DALLAS, Aug. 21-UP—William Cantrell of Greenville, first assistant U. S. attorney-designate, who naturally intended to pick his own first assistant.

"I extended to Mr. Cantrell the courtesy of asking his pleasure as to the timing of his resignation and making it public."

Lane said that Cantrell asked for a request from the U. S. attorney general for the resignation, and Lane said he told Cantrell one would be made.

Lane, in a prepared statement, said a "proper request" was forthcoming from the U. S. attorney general, and that if Cantrell wanted to resign before he received it, he was acting on "his own volition."

In a letter of resignation to Potter, Cantrell said he received a telephone call Aug. 14 from Mr. Alvin Lane, who understood, is the state chairman of the Republican party in Texas, requesting his resignation.

JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—(N E A)—Close-ups and Longshots: There may have been howls of protest when Producer Stanley Kramer cast Van Johnson as Lieutenant Maryk in "The Caine Mutiny" but Kramer is insisting that "the role will make Van a bigger star than ever."

Watching Van rehearse a scene for the film with the forehead scar he received in that motorcycle accident showing prominently—MGM always covered it with make-up—Kramer told me: "Everyone thought of Kirk Douglas as a wispy-washy character but I thought of him as a fighter and put him in 'Champion'."

"While Van was getting all that publicity as a song and dance man in Las Vegas, I kept remembering his acting in '30 Seconds Over Tokyo.' That's why he's playing Maryk."

The combination of the new 3-D and wide-screen movies, it's now believed, will sound the death knell for the double feature menace.

Now if something would only come along to eliminate popcorn! The Broadway musical version of "Seventh Heaven," with Edith Piaf and Gregory Ratoff, will be minus the movie's hit song, "Diana." Victor Young, who's writing the score, couldn't clear the movie tune for the show.

Victor and Peggy Lee, by the way, are collaborating on a Hollywood Bowl concert in September and he's telling it: "Peggy is two of the greatest women I've ever met. She's a young Mae West on the stage, a great performer. But at home she's a woman."

Rathbone in Movies
Basil Rathbone answered an SOS from Hollywood and leaped from the stage to movie stardom when the "talkies" were born. Now, it's wide - screen films, again requiring experienced emoting, and again Rathbone has made the stage-to-movies leap.

Working for a movie camera for the first time in seven years in Bob Hope's "Mr. Casanova," Rathbone grinned about the roles he and other New York stage actors played when they were brought to Hollywood and the new sound movies.

"We were hired to hold up little babies who couldn't act. All the pretty little faces are gone now, but the real talent is still around."

There's an ironic note to Betty Grable's departure from Fox, which means that Mitzi Gaynor may now draw roles originally leg-marked for Mrs. James. Mitzi's first film at the studio was a Grable starrer and Betty went out of her way to help her. Remember Mitzi!

Insect Migrants
Like birds, some insects migrate in the fall. Monarch butterflies go to Florida and California, roosting at night in trees like flocks of birds and, in the spring, they straggle north and lay their eggs.

Slow But Steady
The planet Jupiter revolves about the sun in 12 of our earth years but a day on that planet is only 9 hours and 55 minutes long, since it spins completely on its axis in that time.

Don't Call Him!
A woman of the Ainu race of northern Japan must never pronounce the name of her husband. To do so is supposed to subtract something from his life.

Long Job
In Scotland, workmen have been painting on the Forth of Forth bridge for more than 50 years. When the entire surface is finished, it is time to begin all over again.

HAY FEVER VACCINATION AREAS

IN THE OLD SUBTERRITORY—If you're sneezing, weezing and feeling pretty bad around the nasal passages, you can probably count yourself as one of the one in every ten Americans who suffer from hay fever. Hay fever sufferers by the thousands take to the highway during August and September to try and escape the annoying ragweed. Black areas on above Newsmap locates areas in the U. S. most ideal for vaccinations for hay fever sufferers.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend:
I have been in love with a boy for two years. He was drafted and sent overseas and he was badly wounded. All the time he was gone I wrote to him and sent him things and I was so worried about him when he was in the hospital that I lost weight and had to go to a doctor myself. One of the things that worried me so much was that he quit writing when he was hurt.

He was sent home and had some surgery in a hospital, then came home, but he has not called me, nor has he written since. I called and his mother was nice, but she said he couldn't come to the telephone when I called to talk with him. His best friend tells me that he has a bad scar on his face and we think that is why he won't talk to me. His friend said that his mother is worried that he won't see me, but she doesn't know what to do.

I hate to force myself upon him, but I still love him and it is not pity, either. Can you tell me how to go about getting him to see me, without making it too difficult for him to bear? He has been through so much, I wonder if I should just wait a little more, but I can hardly stand it.

Please advise me, Mrs. Friend, Jeanne.

Dear Jeanne:
Do continue writing to him. Send him letters regularly, making them as sweet and friendly as possible. Give him a little more time to make the necessary adjustments. Then in one of your notes tell him you are anxious to see him again and are looking forward to being with him. Then a little later write him that you are coming on a certain day. Do it matter of factly as if there were no reason in the world why he wouldn't want to see you.

Of course if he still refuses you can do nothing more. I am quite sure however that it is a matter of adapting himself to his new role. Given enough time he will find himself again and want to see you.

It is hard now for you to have to wait for that time to come but if you love him enough it will bring its own reward.

In the meantime try to think of some way in which you need him so that he will want to do something for you instead of feeling that you will be doing everything for him.

Miss Pat Miller Honored At Lunch

Miss Pat Miller, bride-elect of John Robert Lively of Ft. Worth, was the honoree of a luncheon and miscellaneous shower given Thursday in the R. H. Nenstiel home, 1020 N. Russell. Hostesses were Meses Donna Nenstiel, Judy Smith, and Mrs. E. R. Sidwell.

The bride-elect's chosen colors of pink and white were used in table decorations. The main table was decorated with drift wood, pink candles and white asters. Wedding bells were draped above the bride's table. Pink asters and white wedding bells decorated the other table.

About 16 guests attended the affair.

Baptist YWA Plans Party For Fall

Members of the Central Baptist Church Young Women's Association met recently to make plans for a slumber party which will be held in Fellowship Hall.

The meeting which was held in the home of Miss Joyce Adams, 409 Hughes, was opened with prayer led by Miss Jeanette Smith. Miss Mary Ann McPeak brought the devotional, "Stewardship Of Time."

Miss Evelyn Patterson led a discussion on "Send Out The Truth." The meeting was closed with prayer by Miss McPeak.

A "Christmas In August" will be held at the slumber party. Gifts will be sent to Indians.

Those attending meeting were Meses Rena Webb, Joyce Adams, Anna Sue Enloe, Jeanette Smith, Mary Ann McPeak, Evelyn Patterson, Delia J. Groves and Mrs. Henry Holtman.

Sub Deb Club Plans Party; Elects Officers

Other officers elected were Meses Marcheta Hall, vice president; Barbara Smith, secretary; Marilyn McDaniel, historian; Jane Kolb, reporter; and Ruth Abernathy, parliamentarian.

Outgoing president is Miss Sue Kennedy. Other outgoing officers include Meses Connie Jo Kelly, Carol Rankin and Jo Tooley.

Plans for a going-away party for senior club members were made at a called meeting of the club members held in the home of Miss Leta Hamilton, 415 E. Kingmill, Thursday afternoon. The party, a barbecue, will be held in the home of Miss Marilyn McDaniel, 1024 Mary Ellen, on Aug. 25.

MATURE PARENT

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Mrs. P.'s younger sister teaches nursery school. She recently annoyed Mrs. P. by criticizing the disapproval she expressed when her three-year-old Buzzie refused to eat his prune whip.

"Buzzie doesn't like prunes, so I went to some trouble to disguise them in a whip," Mrs. P. writes. "My sister didn't think this important at all. She said that it was wrong to show irritation at Buzzie for his refusal to eat the dessert. I think this is over-conscientious and 'faddy.' Don't you agree?"

No, I don't. I think we have no more moral right to withdraw approval from Buzzie because he disagrees with us over a certain dessert than the late Adolph Hitler had a right to slap down people who disagreed with him on Aryan supremacy.

Whether we have spent time and effort working over a dessert or a theory of racial superiority, the fact that we have worked over them does not entitle us to force them down the throats of those who feel distaste for them.

So the point of view of Mrs. P.'s sister is not that of a "faddy" young nursery school teacher at all. It is the point of view of someone who believes in respect for the convictions of others.

Our relationship with children suffers all kinds of damage when we do not recognize the immemorial principle of tyranny in demands that they exchange their convictions for ours.

There is all the difference in the world between requiring necessary behavior from Buzzie and forcing him to change his mind in return for our approval. One is protection of Buzzie; the other is mental-interference.

It is sometimes necessary to force certain action on Buzzie. He may, for example be convinced that he does not wish to leave the park at suppertime. He may defend his conviction with screams and kicks. Under such circumstances, we may have to carry him home.

But to carry Buzzie home—and to tell him the idea that he's "bad" not to share our point of view—are two utterly different forms of control.

We all have to render physical obedience to laws we don't like. Though we are willing to render this external obedience, we don't appreciate anyone who tries to force us to change our convictions.

Certainly we've taken trouble over the prune whip. We'll stop resenting it, though, the minute we remember what other kinds of trouble can result from teaching Buzzie to sell out his convictions for approval.

When dusting walls, be careful to avoid streaking. You won't streak if you change or reverse cloths or your broom often as you dust or make sure your vacuum cleaner attachment is clean.

'Guest House' For Grandchildren, Other Young Visitors Eliminates Congestion Problem Headaches

This kitchen nook was installed inexpensively in the guest room and provides a handy place for formula-making. A tiny sink, ice-box and a double electric burner were all that was necessary.

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer
A built-in "guest house" may be the answer to the grandparents' problem when daughter shepherds her flock home for their annual visit. Or moves in for an extended stay while Dad's in the service.

Small children, lovable as they are, toss the well-ordered routine of mature adults right out the window.

As the mother of a brood, I've been embarrassed by the sizable imposition of our crowded, hectic schedule on the slower-paced life of grandparents. Little ones are up early, need early meals, sometimes special food. Even the most indulgent grandmother admits a certain frustration when her stove is tied up with baby's formula preparations. Finding sleeping space usually involves borrowing cribs, juggling cots and roll-away beds.

Hospitality that provides a guest house needn't be a luxury of the very wealthy. Charming guest quarters devised by Mr. and Mrs. William Zoern, Chicago, Ill., are not elaborate nor costly, but they fill the bill. Two upstairs bedrooms, originally fixed up for their daughter-in-law and her child for a long visit, now provide ample guest room for traveling nieces, nephews and friends young and old, as well as grandchildren.

Planned for easy upkeep, bedrooms are attractively decorated and can sleep six without crowding. Yet the rooms are small.

Guests can fix formulas and light meals in the small kitchenette hook in one corner of the larger bedroom. Included are three cabinets, a miniature sink, a four foot refrigerator and a two-burner plug-in electric plate. The nook backs the bathroom wall so that installation of pipes for the sink was a simple matter of hooking them up to the bathroom pipes.

A tiny ice-box, bought second-hand for peanuts, was reconditioned. Cabinets hold necessary utensils: china, glass, linen and thoughtfully include baby dishes and spoons.

The kitchen corner is painted dark green. To screen it off Mrs. Zoern bought a split-bamboo porch shade and cut it lengthwise (with garden scissors) to fit the space.

A sturdy old drop-leaf table with green-painted kitchen chairs is used for desk and dining. A day bed trimly covered in red corduroy preserves the "apartment" illusion.

Splashed red, green and white flowers bloom on the walls. To eliminate the need for curtains on the small windows, Mrs. Zoern painted frames glossy white, used white blinds and tiny flowered valances to cover the mechanism.

The small connecting bedroom acts big with an old-time, pine trundle bed, bought at a rummage sale. This slides out from under the double bed and makes a perfect sleep space for small children—big enough for two if needed. Folding slides pen them in.

The room looks spanking fresh with green-and-white striped paper, white cotton rugs and spreads. Added attraction is the ceiling papered in a green-and-white fern print and tiny valances in a similar fabric print at the three small windows.

STRAIT is the GATE

"Enter Ye In
at the strait gate . . .
because strait is the gate . . . which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it." Matt
7:13-14.

Strait means narrow, compressed, limited. Americans don't like that. We want the abundant. We like it high, wide and handsome. But God doesn't run the universe just to suit popular nations. The Bible warns us that God doesn't think as we do.

The gate is narrow because there is only one Cross, only one Savior. Jesus said, "I am the way
... no one cometh unto the Father but by me."

The gate is wide because whosoever will may pass through it. God welcomes one and all, and promised not to cast out those who come.

Just inside the strait gate stands the church . . . the fostering mother of all other channels of human well-being.
Have you entered the "strait gate?" Have you discovered the church?

We believe that one truth is always consistent with another truth. We endeavor to be consistent with truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Should we, at any time, be inconsistent with these truths, we would appreciate anyone pointing out to us how we are inconsistent with these moral guides.

Dangerous Thinking

Every so often we get cheered when we read of this person or that in the public eye speaking out against "creeping socialism." Seems as though nearly everyone, from President Eisenhower on down, is opposed to "creeping socialism," and that's a good thing.

The trouble is that so many are opposed to creeping socialism only insofar as certain of their pet schemes are concerned and are hot for their own pet brand of "liberalism" while opposed to "socialism" of others.

President Eisenhower rightly cited the Tennessee Valley Authority as an example of "creeping socialism."

The President feels that way about TVA, he said, because it used federal tax money in order to cut electricity rates and attract business to the Tennessee Valley.

The proposals for state or federal development of hydro-electric power on the Niagara River, in New York state, and the plans for federal power development at Hell's Canyon on the Snake River in the Far West, are likewise examples of creeping socialism. Supporters of these projects forget that tax-free federal or state plants mean higher taxes for those who do pay. They overlook the fact that government subsidies — state or federal — mean eventual government control.

Thus, it is interesting that Eisenhower opposes this form of "creeping socialism" on one hand while on the other he is doing everything he can to bring the same sort of creeping socialism in from other sources.

Time and again the American people have spoken out against socialized medicine. We want no part of it and have said so in such strident tones that the topic is, at the moment, a virtually dead issue in legislative halls. No one has suggested that we have a socialized press and almost to a man we rise in defense of a "free press," meaning a press that is not subservient to government.

Even as militant a fighter for traditional freedoms as the late Sen. Robert A. Taft expressed his approval of certain forms of public housing without any feeling that this, too, was a part of the creeping socialism that is taking over the country.

And so it goes. Everyone is against sin and everyone is against "creeping socialism." Except.

We would like to see a little more "down the line" opposition to this creeping socialism, particularly on the part of those who are in the public eye and are doing some of the loudest shouting against certain forms while they continue to boost other forms. Naturally we include in this group thousands of Protestant ministers and pastors and tens of thousands of public school apologists.

According to their viewpoint, there isn't a Communist or Socialist among them. They are all 100 per cent Americans. Yes Sir!

But they all go right along with the communist-socialist notion on so many scores and their opposition to totalitarianism is meaningless and all they do make it easier for the avowed Communist or Socialist to do his work. Not one comes down on paper so that it can be understood how his particular brand of government philosophy differs from that of Hitler and Stalin except in degree. The routine answer is that Hitler and Stalin "went too far" and that the Utopia they envision will never go too far and that "too much freedom" is dangerous.

That's why we take with a grain of salt the pronouncements of most of the clergy, the "educators" and the politicians when they say that they are opposed to "creeping socialism." What they mean is that they are opposed to creeping socialism. Except.

Not A True Index

The Bureau of Labor's Consumer Price Index, which is commonly and erroneously called the "Cost of Living Index," hit a new high recently. At the same time, as any consumer knows, the prices of many items in general use, running a wide gamut from beef to used cars, have been substantially below the levels of a year or more ago.

This confusion results from various factors. First of all, as the Bureau itself points out, the index "measures only changes in prices; it tells nothing about changes in the kinds and amounts of goods and services families buy, or the total amount families spend for living, or the differences in living costs in different places. . . . If families buy poorer or better things, or buy more or less than they bought in 1952, the index does not undertake to measure the change in their spending that results from these changes in their level of living." Secondly, the index cannot accurately reflect seasonal changes in the prices of many commodities nor can it quickly reflect changes in buying habits. Thirdly, an index of this kind is necessarily a complex affair, and many doubt if it is or is ever likely to be a completely dependable barometer.

In any event, it would be something of a tragedy if large numbers of people again got the idea that prices are in danger of running away, that manufacturers and merchants are cashing in on the consumer, and that the solution lies in more laws and restrictions. In many fields, there is a far stronger "buyers' market" than there has been for many years. In all fields, goods are in abundance and competition is intense at both the producing and distributing levels — and that guarantees that prices will be as low as today's cost of doing business will allow.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

"I think that we should be men first and subjects afterward, it is not desirable to cultivate a respect for the law as much as for the right."

Henry D. Thoreau

The Hiders Hurt Themselves And Everyone Else

One reason we are so confused in the United States and have such enormous debts, a dollar that is getting worth less and less, ever-mounting taxes, long strikes and one war after another is that we have too many hiders. We have too many men who hide behind their state certificate to teach or their license to practice medicine or practice law or being in this business or that business. We have too many ministers who hide behind their pulpits. We have too many radio commentators who hide behind their wires. We have too many newspaper editors and publishers who hide behind their editorial sanctuaries.

The hiders are men who will not answer questions about moral subjects that they are practicing and advocating. They advocate socialistic fantasies that will not permit analysis. They would be embarrassed if they submitted to rational, logical questions.

Own Worst Enemy

These hiders do great injury to themselves. They are their own worst enemy. It is impossible for an individual to develop and grow and understand moral human relations if he will not have his ideas tested by rational questions. He is intellectually dead. He is reaping exactly what he is sowing in his lack of desire to gain understanding.

But the worst part of this injury is not the injury that these men do to themselves, but the injury they do to the great mass of honest and sincere people who believe and follow them when they slyly propose running to the government to have the government initiate force to bring into being their so-called humanitarian proposals. If what they are advocating is in agreement with the Commandments and the Golden Rule, they can answer every question about what they propose and they need not be afraid of any questions. They never face a dilemma. They never can be trapped when questions are asked, as some of them give an excuse for not answering questions.

Most Harmful People

It is not the communist who are the most dangerous and harmful people to the American way of life. It is the men who hold responsible positions and positions of trust who are advocating things that they have to hide behind their positions when they are asked questions.

If there is anything that would add to the spiritual and material well-being of the American people it would be to get people to have no confidence in educators, preachers, publishers, government officials, columnists, radio commentators, zoners or planners who are hiders and thus will not answer every question asked them about the end results of what they are advocating or proposing.

These men who will not answer questions on the human relations they propose have so exalted themselves that they think their ideas need not be tested and that they have nothing more to learn about moral laws.

About all there is in financial or moral success is to know whom to believe. And most people have erred in the fact that they believe and have trust in hiders — men who will not answer questions.

National Whirligig... Williams Switch To Ike's Staff Shows Dissension Awareness

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The transfer of the able and likable Walter Williams from the Eisenhower administration to the White House staff on the eve of President Eisenhower's departure for his Denver vacation reflects Ike's awareness of a growing dissension among party Republicans' dissatisfaction with the handling of broad-and-butter political chores. Specifically, it implies a recognition of mounting criticism of Sherman Adams, liaison man with Capitol Hill and the GOP.

Williams is as gracious, as cooperative and as understanding as the Yankee from New Hampshire is aloof and Olympian. A successful politician, he has headed the Committee for Economic Development, a group of industrialists who advocate the mildly liberal policies which Eisenhower favors but does not always advocate as President.

NOT HAPPY IN JOB — In view of his business and industry, it had been expected that Williams would rate Secretary of Commerce. But he was not too keen for his Republican associates. They testified to the President's vote-getting popularity.

He will also set to work to revive the National Citizens' Committee for Eisenhower in anticipation of the 1954 congressional campaign. Unless they can be persuaded to turn out and vote for Republican legislative candidates for Ike's sake, he may be confronted with a hostile Congress in the last two years of his first term. That could be disastrous.

NO BUDGING ADAMS — Many Republican leaders had hoped that Gov. Hugh Gregg of New Hampshire would appoint Adams to the Senate vacancy created by the death of Charles W. Tobey, thus removing the controversial figure from the White House scene in a painless operation. Instead, he named Robert W. Upton, a 69-year-old lawyer, who preferred Taft to Eisenhower as the 1952 nominee. Gregg also creased Republican

He has not been too happy as second to the wealthy Bay Stater, who has made several major blunders in his six months at Washington. Ike, however, cannot forget his political debt to Weeks and Adams. They were largely responsible for his defeat of the late Sen. Taft in the key New Hampshire primary early in 1952. Had Eisenhower been rebuffed in that first test in the East, the cradle of his political birth, he might not have been nominated at Chicago. But now, both are handicaps to him.

Williams' dual assignment — Williams also headed the National Citizens' Committee for Eisenhower in the convention struggle and the campaign. It was this organization which mobilized elements of the electorate that liked Ike, but were not too keen for his Republican associates. They testified to the President's vote-getting popularity.

The traditional absent-minded professor was strolling along the edge of the lake near the college campus. Suddenly, a canoe overturned and the student in it screamed, "Help! Help! I can't swim!" The professor sighed, "That's not nearly so serious as my case. I can't play the French horn."

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

"I have a friend," writes Mrs. J. S., "who has what the doctors call Meniere's disease. She has had it for some six or seven years and is deaf in one ear. The other ear has a continual buzzing and ringing in it. She gets dizzy spells and has taken many falls. Would you discuss this, please?"

The symptoms described by Mrs. J. S. are exactly typical of the common and distressing disorder known as Meniere's disease. The seat of the difficulty lies deep in the ear. Its cause is believed to be a dropy in the deep portion of the ear called the labyrinth.

This dropy condition, which means accumulation of fluid, does not often develop in young people, but past the age of 45 it becomes increasingly common.

Some patients who drink a lot of fluids find that an attack comes on a few hours afterwards, probably because of the increased accumulation of fluid in the labyrinth. This has given a clue leading to the use of some forms of treatment aimed at cutting down the intake of fluids or removing excess fluids from the body.

Several medical treatments, such as the use of diuretics or strapping, have been tried with some favor and surgery also has been tried with varying degrees of success. For many people with Meniere's disease treatment brings some, but not complete relief.

BODY CONTROLS LISTED

In discussing this common and distressing condition, a word might be said about what controls balance in the human body. There are three: the eyes which can observe such things as steps and the position of the feet on them, the sense of position in the legs themselves called "the proprioceptive system," and a system of canals in the internal part of the ear.

Fair Enough... FBI Aids Movement Afoot To Discredit State, Local Police

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

There is a movement afoot, in which the FBI has become an accomplice, to discredit the police authority of the states and cities by harassing individual policemen with "investigations" and "law suits for enormous damages."

This new development in the unremitting campaign to inflame "one group" against another, especially Negroes against white policemen, is the doing of private organizations professing to promote "brotherhood."

These societies are soft bureaucratic for secretary agitators whose livelihood would vanish if they ever ran out of grievances. The FBI has let itself be drawn into the mess through a mistaken obedience to the political agitation which was maintained for years by the Roosevelt and Truman administrations.

The FBI has meddled in strictly local police matters in New York, Chicago and Miami, but has ignored wild violence, including bombing and gunfire, in connection with union troubles. In Elizabeth, La., where two unions of the AP of L have been picketing paper mills in an attempt to "organize" the regional farmers who are also part-time employees of the mills, the sheriff finally admonished strangers coming through the parish to be sure to carry guns.

Here was one of many situations in which the FBI had the same jurisdiction that it claimed when it leaped into action to try to find the terrorists who had killed a Negro in Florida by bombing his house. The victim had been very active in an earlier "civil rights" case, originating in a rape. The FBI had the same jurisdiction in the case of the Reuther brothers from ambush in Detroit. Actually, the FBI had no sound jurisdiction in either the Florida case or the Reuther shootings.

The Department of Justice has held that the state's so-called civil rights law of 1956 "the primary violator of those rights must continue to be the state, itself."

At the recent Governors' Conference, Gov. Fife, of Pennsylvania, and Battle of Virginia, barked at the FBI for butting into the business of the states. Gov. Dewey went all the way, demanding the repeal of the law which gives the FBI its pretext.

This law was passed in hatred against the South in 1866 to "implement" the 14th Amendment, which also was a measure of revenge. The 14th would have failed of passage but for the carpetbag legislatures of three states whose best citizens had been disfranchised because they had fought for the Confederacy. These states were North and South Carolina and Georgia. The legislatures were largely illiterate and some legislative sessions were wild orgies of drunken puppets of the Northern carpetbagger.

The validity of the vote of the states by which the 14th was deemed to have been ratified has always been cloudy. Contrary to President Lincoln's plain counsel, the 14th not only gave the emancipated men the vote but, by the disfranchisement of the Confederate veterans, made these new citizens the ruling class. The 14th Amendment and the civil rights law were nullified by Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest at his original Ku Klux Klan. But, ironically, the law was exhumed 75 years later for the purpose of destroying Harry Truman's political base and mentor, Tom Pendergast, of Kansas City.

Maurice Milligan, the U.S. attorney, remembered this dead-letter when he was casting about for some federal law to punish the crooks who had been stealing elections for Pendergast's candidates, including Truman. He argued that Pendergast and his machine thereby had infringed the constitutional right of countless persons unknown by setting at naught their votes in an election of federal officers. Truman got his revenge in preventing the further appointment of Milligan. Later, in his terms as President, he invoked the same law to harass police-men and other individuals in fine-drawn cases and thus appeal to the balance-of-power in key political cities.

these parts of the body are necessary to maintain a perfect sense of balance such as is necessary in accurate walking, climbing or running. The eyes and the proprioceptive system are not affected by Meniere's disease.

Teacher — James, name three animals peculiar to the Arctic region? James — Lion, tiger, monkey. Teacher — What makes you think that? James — Because it would be peculiar if they were there.

Lush — You were so drunk last night you sold the Brooklyn Bridge. Flush — No? Who bought it? Lush — I did.

Joe — Brown volunteered to lend me money. Sam — Did you take it? Joe — No. That sort of friendship is too good to lose.

In Chicago, two uniformed policemen were "fired outright" last winter, then indicated in the federal court and sued for damages as individuals, for "beating" a Navy veteran, a white man, whose injuries were not apparent. On appeal, Judge Harry M. Fisher rejected the "victim's" story and said the dismissal of the cops was "robbing them of their livelihood on uncorroborated and questionable testimony." This decision sent them back to duty.

The Nation's Press

THE DEVIL UNASHAMED

(The Chicago Daily Tribune)

Just before he took the stand to tell about that $55,000 fee he received and that $30,000 contribution he made to the Truman campaign fund in 1948, Mr. Welburn Mayock announced that he was going to tell the truth and shame the devil.

Now that the story has been told, we can't believe the devil would feel shame for any failure on his part. The transaction seems to have been handled with his customary adroitness.

Mr. Mayock says the $55,000 was turned over to him in cash by Mr. William S. Lasdon and Mr. Lasdon says he paid the money in cash to Mr. Mayock. In 1948 Mr. Lasdon had set a foundation for philanthropic and tax-saving purposes. The internal revenue bureau looked askance at the plan and continued to do so right up to 1948 when Mr. Truman's campaign fund was in desperate need of sweetening. At this time, Mr. Mayock says, the Democrats deny it, he was counsel the Democratic National committee. He says, also, that his efforts on behalf of the Lasdons were forwarded by Treasury Secretary Snyder. Mr. Snyder says he has no recollection of the matter.

At any rate, shortly after the Lasdon interests retained Mr. Mayock, the plan providing for very large tax savings was approved by the internal revenue bureau and Mr. Mayock got his $55,000 of folding money. He says $30,000 of it was turned over promptly to the Democratic campaign fund.

Of course, it couldn't be turned over in a lump sum because the law restricts campaign contributions to $5,000. Mr. Mayock had to find at least six people to each of whom he could give $5,000 in cash in exchange for their checks for $5,000 to the order of the Democratic National committee. Mr. Mayock says he found enough phony contributors and, here again, we do not think there is anything in the story to bring the blush of a name to the devil's cheeks. In the transaction as Mr. Mayock has described it, every detail was handled with all the finesse that we have learned to expect in a New Deal operation under the devil's direct management.

If the devil has any cause for shame it lies in Mr. Mayock's refusal to divulge the names of the persons he recruited as contributors to the Truman fund. Mr. Mayock says he gave them his word they would not be embarrassed by their helplessness and he will risk a jail term rather than break faith with them. It is noteworthy that he does not take refuge behind the 5th amendment as many of the witnesses before congressional committees have been doing lately. The devil won't like that.

THE HUNGER PARTY

(N. Y. Daily News)

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, bouncing off a plane at International Airport Sunday from her last round-the-world junket, gave out with some of her customary confused and confusing remarks about Communism. The gist of these appeared to be that large numbers of people don't really understand what Communism is.

Maybe; but to understand Communism, about all you have to do is to follow the Reds' current battles, with troops and tanks, against the U.S. and West German effort to get free food to people in the Kremlin - enslaved eastern zone of Germany.

We quote an especially educational bit from an Associated Press report of the goings on:

"A 30-year-old mother was beaten into insensibility by Red police at a railway point on the Spandau Borough (of Berlin) border, while her two small children whimpered in terror. The police snatched cans of milk from the children's hands and threw them on the railway tracks, then rained blows on the mother's head."

Thus, it should become clear even to Mrs. Roosevelt that one correct name for the Communist Party is the Hunger Party. Hunger is epidemic throughout the Red Empire — and of course, will become permanent in North Korea if, as predicted, Red China makes that area a satellite nation by hooking it into a military alliance with Peiping.

Americans should never forget that the Communists in this country are exactly like Communists everywhere else, and will set up hunger and starvation as a national policy if they ever get control here.

Oilers In Bid For Playoff Berth Next 8 Days May 'Make Or Break'

THE NEXT EIGHT DAYS could make or break the Oilers' bid for a first division berth in the 1953 West Texas-New Mexico League race.

The next four series for the Oilers will be with teams above them in the standings and six of these eight games will be played on the road. The Pampans will start this string of crucial games against the league leading Albuquerque Dukes tonight at Albuquerque.

The Oilers will practically need to win half of these games to stay in the thick of the running for a playoff berth. Included in the Oilers' slate during the next eight days will be two games with first place Albuquerque, two games with second place Lubbock and two games with third place Clovis. Two of the Lubbock games during this period will be at home, the other six on the road.

That, we'll assure you, is a tremendous task for any team to face.

10,000 Due For Pro Till

LUBBOCK, Aug. 21.—UP—A crowd of 10,000 is expected to be on hand Friday night at Jones Stadium when the Baltimore Colts meet the Chicago Cardinals in a National Football League exhibition game that will mark Joe Stydahar's debut as Cardinals coach.

Both clubs arrived on the scene Thursday as the Cards got ready for their first of five pre-season exhibition games and the Colts limbered up for their second start under the Baltimore banner. The Colts were known as the Dallas Texans a year ago.

Aside from three exceptions, the Cards will field an all-veteran team against the Colts. The exceptions will find Jerry Walrod of Alabama at a guard post; Ogden Compton of Hardin-Simmons at a quarter, and Johnny Olzewski of California, the Cards' No. 1 draft choice, at right half.

Calvary Wins Girls Title

Calvary Baptist is the Junior Girls softball champions for 1953. The Baptist team defeated another Baptist outfit, Central Baptist, in the final of a three-game series last night for the title, 15-3.

Calvary thus wound up the season with a record of 16 wins and only one loss. The lone loss was administered by Central Baptist who won the first game of the playoffs.

Janice Spencer hurled Calvary to its win over Central in last night's championship tilt. Her battery mate, Sandra Cooper, led the scoring brigade of the Calvary nine with four tallies.

Calvary led all the way after scoring once in the first inning. They added three in the second, two in the third and iced the game with eight in the fourth which sent them into a 14-4 lead.

The game thus ended the Kiwanis sponsored Kid Softball League. Central Baptist had already been declared champs in the other two divisions, Senior and Junior Boys Leagues.

The Junior Central Baptist Boys team has entered the McClean tournament and will meet Shamrock in a first round game tonight.

Dancer Leads Trotters
COLUMBUS, Aug. 20.—UP—The U. S. Trotting Association said Thursday that young Stanley Dancer of New Egypt, N.Y., held a commanding lead at mid-season in the race for the nation's harness horse driving honors. Figures through Aug. 10 credited Dancer with 79 driving victories, 15 more than Billy Haughton of Fultonville, N.Y., the runnerup.

Season Reserved Tickets $7.50 for 5 Home Games

People desiring same reserved seats as last year should pick up their 1953 books by Sat., Aug. 25. To those who had seats on the west-side, we have given as near as possible the same yardage and the same distance from the top of the new stand. There will be no season books issued in the east stand. To those who had seats in the east stand, we have given good seats in the west stand between the 40 yard lines.

A committee worked on this re-seating arrangement in the new stadium, and we trust each of you will be happy with the results of their labor.

We are now taking orders from people who have not previously had season books, which orders will be filled next week.

Oilers Move To Albuquerque After Winning G-Sox Finale

Rodriguez Hurls Oilers To Win Over Amarillo

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

Manager Porky Pawelek and his Pampa Oilers were off to New Mexico today for a crucial 4-day road trip following a well played game with the league leading Gold Sox last night at Oil Park in their homestand finale.

The Oilers moved into Albuquerque tonight to open a two-game series with the league leading Dukes. After single games with the Dukes tonight and tomorrow, the Pampans will trek over to Clovis for a couple of games and then back home for a brief stay, meeting the Lubbock Hubbers in a pair of games next Tuesday and Wednesday night.

Big Jake Henson is the Oilers' pitching nominee for tonight's game. Henson will be seeking win No. 9 against five losses.

The Oilers remained one-half game out of the first division despite last night's win as the fourth place Plainview Ponies eked out a 11-9 decision over Clovis.

Rolando Rodriguez pitched superb ball last night in leading the Oilers past Amarillo. Rodriguez got off to a rather shaky start, giving up all Amarillo hits and runs the first five innings. The pint-sized Cuban righthander settled down and hurled hitless ball the last four innings.

It was Rodriguez' 6th win against as many losses. It was his second win over Amarillo.

The Oilers spotted the Gold Sox three runs in the third but came back strong to nail down the decision. Pampa tied the score in the bottom of the third with a 3-run spurt and went ahead for good in the fifth on Doug Lewis' 18th homerun of the season.

Amarillo thus closed out their season's schedule at Oil Park with the Oilers winning six out of 10 in games played between the two teams here.

The game last night closed out seven during the stand.

Rodriguez proved tough in the clutches as he left 12 Gold Sox runners stranded on the base paths. The Sox put runners on base in every inning except the eighth but only managed to score in the third.

Two of the long-hitting Texas' highly-rated teammates also appeared to be out of range. Tommy Driscoll, Houston, was tied with Baxter with 157 and Johnny Vennard, also of Houston, had a 164.

L. W. Scott of Oklahoma City fired a 42-41-83 Thursday for an aggregate 166. He was far behind the pack but fellow Oklahoman, Jim Lannan of Lawton was 10 strokes further behind. Lannan had an 87 Wednesday and a 90 Thursday for a 177 total.

There were few highly rated contenders in the top 20. Dark horses Jimmy Raines, Augusta, Ga., Johnny Garrett, Houston, Tex., and Pete Geyer, Monterey, Calif., were the only exceptions.

Raines and Garrett were tied with David Love of Eldorado, Ark., for sixth place with 152. Geyer was tied with four others for seventh.

Reverend of Amarillo, Tex., a top heavy pre-tournament, appeared almost out of the running. Baxter shot a 79 in the first round and a 78 in the second for a total of 157.

Sports Parade Kid Gavilan May Be On Downgrade

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—UP—The Cuban Hawk was at the parting of the ways Friday.

Kid Gavilan, boxing's master showman, climbs through the ropes at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night and if he wins he will be a legitimate middleweight contender.

There have been whispers along the fight belt for some time the Keed is slipping.

The Keed must win this one if his ambitions are to be realized. Those dreams are to duplicate the feat of Ray Robinson, winning first of the welterweight title and then moving up to become middleweight champ. He'll never make it if he doesn't beat Jones.

There are many among the fight mob who don't believe he ever will win or lose in this one. But let's he'll still have his chance if he does tame the Tiger.

The whispers that the Hawk's wings were tiring increased recently after Gavilan dropped a non-title decision to Danny Womber, a good fighter but not accepted yet as of championship calibre. The talk started even earlier when Gavilan persistently evaded scrap with Bratton.

Giving support to the idea the Keed was failing were his "easy" defenses of the welterweight crown. Not meaning they were done with ease, but the quality of the competition was not too stern.

It was pointed out by keenly analytical boxing men that he caught Billy Graham on the latter's way down and thumped Chuck Davey because the college southpaw chiefly was a victim of his own publicity buildup.

It is no secret Gavilan, despite his avowed intention of campaigning for the middleweight title, wanted no part of Jones. The deal was struck by giving the Keed a larger than usual percentage and promising him top consideration in the middleweight mess should he beat the Tiger.

So far Gavilan is in it. And should he lose to Jones, the doubters don't believe that the Keed will dominate even the welterweights very much longer. All at once he must prove he's a heavyweight contender to himself, and the fact he's on the way out to the boxing world.

Alpine Ousts Carlisle Team

WICHITA, Kan., Aug. 21.—UP—The Fort Wayne, Ind., North American Vans, four-time national semi-pro baseball champions, shaped up as strong challengers for a fifth title Friday as they moved into the third round of the 19th annual tournament here without defeat.

The Indiana team, winners in 1947, '48, '49 and '50, beat New Orleans, La., Holmont Sunbeams 11-0 Thursday as right-hander Bob Upton pitched a three-hitter.

One other team, Carlisle, Ohio, was chopped off in the double elimination tournament as four other games were played Thursday and Thursday night.

Friday's games were: Cherry Point, N. C., Marines (1-0), vs. Louisville, Ala., Tigers (1-0).

Refugio, Tex., Veterans (0-1) vs. San Diego, Calif., Sky Raiders (0-1).

San Diego, Calif., Marines (2-0) vs. Casa Grande, Ariz., Cotton Kings (3-0).

Syracuse, N. Y., Falcons (1-0) vs. Grand Junction, Colo., Eagles (1-0).

The Alpine, Tex., Cowboys eliminated New Carlisle, Ohio, 8 to 0 in a third round game Thursday. Right hander, Boyd Linker, University of Texas star from Tupelo, Okla., limited the Ohio champions to three hits as Alpine got 10.

CARDINAL SCATBACKS — Shown above are two star ball toters for the Chicago Cardinals, Billy Cross, left, and Johnny Olzewski, who will meet the Baltimore Colts at Lubbock tomorrow night. Cross, who hails from Canadian and who has been hailed as the "Canadian Comet," played football at West Texas State where he led his team to the only Border Conference title in history of the school. Cross only stands 5-6 and weighs 148 but has already won fame as a pro during his first two years with the Cards. Olzewski is a former All-American from University of California.

Baxter Lags Behind In Junior Tourney

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Aug. 21.—UP—Johnny Cox of York, Pa., held a one-stroke lead Friday as a host of teen-agers set out to determine the champion of the eighth annual Jaycee junior golf tournament.

Nearly 100 youths teed off in the morning round of 18 holes at the 6,600-yard University of Michigan golf course. They were scheduled to shoot another 18 holes Friday afternoon with the low scorer declared the winner at the end of the day. In case of a tie, a playoff round will be played Saturday.

Cox shot a sizzling 69 Thursday which, coupled with his 78 in the first round, gave him a total of 147 for the first 36 holes. That was one better than the total of Bobby Dunn of Camilla, Ga., who shot 73-73-146.

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent Republicans Have No Plans To Abolish Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The Republican administration has no intention of liquidating U. S. foreign aid programs after all. This is perhaps the best news this country has yet given the rest of the world.

In the final rush and confusion of the last weeks of Congress, a report got out that Congress ordered Mutual Security Administrator Harold E. Stassen to submit plans for winding up all foreign aid programs by June 30, 1954. It never happened.

What did happen is that Congress had told Administrator Stassen to submit plans for a complete reorganization of all foreign aid programs. There are now more than a dozen different foreign assistance laws on the books. As each new crisis has arisen over the past six years, Congress has been asked for and has passed a new aid program to deal with it. The result is that there is today a great multiplicity of measures which create confusion not only at home, but abroad.

President Eisenhower took the first step towards simplifying the hodgepodge by his reorganization plan number seven, announced June 1. It pulled together Mutual Security Agency, Technical Cooperation Administration which handled Point Four aid to underdeveloped countries and Institute for Inter-American Affairs. The new consolidation is called Foreign Operations Administration, or FOA.

Congress approved this plan and then topped it by telling Stassen this was an interim plan for this year only. When Congress comes back in January it wants a draft on a new bill to put all foreign aid programs under one roof.

Not Abolishing Foreign Aid
There was no thought of abolishing foreign aid next year or any other time. It was just that Congress wanted the whole business reorganized and simplified so as to make some sense under a single policy.

Shortly after President Eisenhower announced his reorganization of FOA, Administrator Stassen started a study of foreign aid agencies.

He has brought to Washington a three-man evaluation team to study efficiency. It consists of Walter J. Finke, vice president of Minneapolis-Honeywell, John L. Moore, comptroller of University of Pennsylvania and Leslie M. Gravin, director of Governmental Research Institute, of Hartford, Conn. All have worked with Director Stassen before but have had no previous connections with foreign aid programs.

This team has been holding hearings all over Washington, asking foreign aid people what they

"I enjoy playing pinochle," writes a St. Louis correspondent, "but too many hands are passed out or left unplayed. Do you know of any way to correct this?" There are various ways of playing auction pinochle, and some of these stimulate the bidding, while others tend to produce more hands that are actually played. Many pinochle players still stand by the original form of the game, but enjoy the novelties once in a while.

One novelty, enjoyed by many players, is to turn up the cards of the widow of leaving those three cards turned face down. As any pinochle player will realize instantly, it is sometimes possible to bid a great deal on a hand when you can see the widow's cards; you might consider your hand almost worthless by itself.

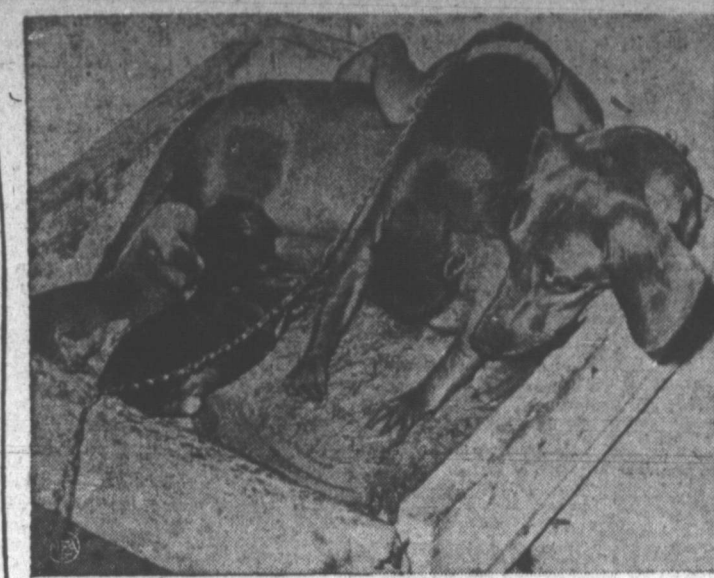

When the three cards of the widow are turned face up from the very beginning, a bid is made on practically every hand. Somebody or other is almost sure to benefit from those three cards.

In some forms of this game, each player is given a chance to bid or pass before any card of the widow is turned up. After this first round of bidding, one card is turned up, and those players who have not yet passed are allowed to make a further bid. Then the second card is turned up, and at least 75 million for India and Pakistan, 147 million for Israel and the Arab states and 9 million for the United Nations. The total is 349 million, compared to $244 million last year. Stassen told Congress the doctrine and philosophy of Point Four will be preserved by the Republican administration.

THE RIGHT STEER—This mailman finds it's easy on the feet as he services his suburban route near Toledo, Ohio, because he's got the first American car in 30 years to feature a right-hand drive. It's a Jeep-type car made to order for the U. S. Post Office Department by Willys Motors. The postman doesn't have to leave his seat to drop off the mail. This time-saving operation promises substantial savings for the Post Office Department.

MOOCHIN' A MEAL—"Mother Lea," a Bologna, Italy, dog is quite surprised to find "Cita," the monkey, bumming a free meal. However, Cita showed her appreciation by stealing eggs, and presenting them to Lea and her pups.
