Steelworkers To File For Strike Ballot

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26—Their demands for a $2-per-day wage increase rejected, the CIO United Steelworkers announced today they will file petitions for NLRB strike votes by more than 600,000 employes of 766 steel, aluminum and iron ore companies.

Philip Murray, president of the steelworkers and the CIO, made the announcement at a news conference after the union's wage policy committee authorized its officers to "take whatever action they deemed necessary" toward getting the pay raise.

Fast Action Planned

Murray said he "hoped to have the petitions in the hands of the NLRB, WLB and the secretary of labor no later than Monday."

He said all 766 of the companies, including such large steel firms as U. S. Steel, Jones & Laughlin and Youngstown Sheet and Tube, had rejected the wage demand.

U. S. Steel notified the union Tuesday it could not raise wages at this time because of the "existing ceiling prices for steel products, together with the government's wage stabilization pplicy."

"U. S. Steel is steel's bellwether and nobody dared—no matter how kindly disposed," Murray commented today.

Caution On Strike

He cautioned union members against any premature strike action, saying "it will be time enough to consider using the strike weapon after the strike votes are taken and the proper steps taken under the constitution of the Union."

The veteran labor leader estimated the number of workers affected by a strike vote petitions may eventually run close to 1,000,000.

Murray declared the wage increase is "necessary to sustain purchasing power and prevent another depression."

AUTO WORKERS NOT TO HEAR COMPROMISE

DETROIT, Oct. 26 (AP)—Walter P. Reuther, vice-president of the CIO Automobile Workers' union, asserted today that the union will not compromise its demand for a 30 per cent wage increase from General Motors Corp. unless the management can show it is unable to pay the increase.

Reuther made the statement at a news conference following another wage conference with corporation representatives.

Meanwhile the National Labor Relations board was finishing the tabulation of a strike vote taken on the same wage issue among workers in 22 Chrysler Corp. plants yesterday.

The NLRB said Chrysler workers voted, 19,870 to 2,359 in favor of a strike. Only 22,304 of the approximately 98,557 workers eligible to vote took part in the election. There were 75 votes voided.

Employes of General Motors plants voted 70,853 to 12,438 Wednesday in favor of a work stoppage.

The wage conferences were recessed indefinitely following today's sessions at which Reuther completed presentation of briefs which he maintained proved General Motors' ability to pay the wage increase and at the same time add materially to its earnings in the post-war era.

Einstein Explains Views On A-Bomb

Scientist Envisions World Government

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

BOSTON, Oct. 26—Prof. Albert Einstein says in an interview published in the Atlantic Monthly that atomic bombs could kill perhaps two-thirds of the people of the earth, but that there always will be enough thinking men and books left to start again.

He favors a World Government, to be set up soon and jointly by the United States, Great Britain and the Soviet Union, to reduce the peril of a war waged with atomic bombs.

If, he says, a world government is not set up by agreement, it will come in a much more dangerous form, with a war or wars ending in one supreme power dominating the rest of the world.

Prof. Einstein speaks through an interview with News Commentator Raymond Swing, in the November issue of the Atlantic. In a foreward to the article, the magazine recounts that Einstein, discoverer of the theory of relativity, wrote to President Roosevelt in 1939, predicting that uranium soon might be turned into "a new and important source of energy," that would lead to construction of "extremely powerful bombs."

However, "I do not consider myself the father of the release of atomic energy," Einstein says. ". . . I did not, in fact, foresee

Solon Moves To Aid Labor

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. — A proposal to enforce price cuts upon companies whose workers suffer reduced hourly earnings through loss of overtime was advanced tonight by Sen. Murray (D-Mont).

It came as government officials spoke more optimistically of labor peace and the U. S. Conciliation service predicted the strike problem would drop to "near normal" proportions within three weeks.

Ceiling Price Adjustment

Murray suggested that OPA be directed to lower the ceiling price on the products of any employer whose average hourly wages are reduced by the elimination of overtime and the "down-grading" of employes to lower-paid job ratings.

The plan, proposed in a Senate speech, thus would pass on to the public in the form of lower prices any such payroll savings not restored to the workers in the form of higher hourly rates.

Collective Bargaining

Murray accompanied this with another proposal: That corporations be penalized through the tax laws for refusal to bargain collectively and failure to accept federal offers of mediation or voluntary arbitration.

Several developments contributed, meanwhile, to a more hopeful mood among officials charged with keeping peace on the labor front. They included:

1. Officials saw in the naming of John R. Steelman as a presidential assistant a sign that the White House was arming itself to intervene directly in work stoppages.

May Halt Major Strikes

2. One high Labor department aide predicted, despite the endorsement of the strike weapon by General Motors employes, that no major strikes would hit the auto industry before year's end — by which time more effective settlement machinery may be at hand. This forecast was made before the Detroit announcement that Chrysler workers had voted more than eight to one to authorize a strike.

3. President Truman, working on his new wage-price policy statement for broadcast Tuesday night —announced the 36 top industry and union men who will be delegates to the national labor-management peace conference starting Nov. 5.

Nazi Menace Seen

Business Is Halted As Protest Against Peron's Activities

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 26. (AP)—Merchants in Corrientes, a town of 70,000 closed their business houses today in protest against the activities of Col. Juan Peron who returned to political power last week after being ousted as vice president by leaders of the Army and Navy.

Afternoon newspapers here published the text of a statement by John Cabot, U. S. charge l'affaires, in which he declared a Nazi menace still exists in Argentina and that it was "properly a matter of international concern."

The United States, however, he said, was obligated by treaty not to interfere in the purely internal affairs of other countries.

Talk Is Navy Day Feature

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—President Truman departed by special train at 11 o'clock (EST) tonight for New York where he will highlight Navy day observances with an important foreign policy address.

The President and Mrs. Truman boarded the presidential train at 10:10 p.m. They were accompanied by Brig. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, the President's military aide.

Others In Party

Others making up the official list of guests included Fleet Admiral Milliam D. Leahy, the President's chief of staff; Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan and Mrs. Hannegan.

The White House said tomorrow's speech will be the "most important" from a news standpoint since the President entered the White House.

It will be delivered against a background of stirring world developments which include the atom bomb and the recent collapse of the London foreign ministers meeting intended to prepare peace treaties for Italy and the Balkans.

Speculation Grows

As soon as Eben Ayers, a White House secretary, declared that the speech would be of major importance, speculation began that it might give an indication of developing American policy on the atom bomb and other questions.

Whether it will deal directly with the subject of possible international measures aimed at prevention of some future atomic bomb war was one of the first points raised. On this the White House was silent.

World Republic

There was widespread belief, too, that Mr. Truman might explain a cryptic reference he made June 28. After promising full support for the United Nations, he referred to "a republic of the world."

The chief executive arranged to leave Washington late tonight and to make two Navy day speeches in the course of his day-long visit in New York. The first will be a nine minute address, at 10 a.m., central standard time, upon the dedication of the new Aircraft Carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The second and main speech will be delivered at 12:30 p.m. at Central Park and will last for 25 minutes. It will be broadcast on all networks.

Texas Navy Day Celebration Today Greatest In History

(By The Associated Press)

Texas today celebrates its greatest Navy day in history, a Navy day celebration built around two dozen battle-scarred warships and their fighting crews now guests of honor in Texas waters.

The ships include the Cruiser Houston, the Cruiser Reno, several destroyers and destroyer escorts, eight submarines, several patrol boats, and an LST.

Biggest celebration in Texas takes place in Houston. The mighty Cruiser Houston led a flotilla of seven fighting ships up the ship channel yesterday.

Crowds Line Channel

The banks were lined with cheering Texans, witnessing the greatest array of naval strength ever seen in the area. The ships were the Cruiser Houston, Destroyers Dunlap and Fanning, Destroyer Escort Muir, and the Submarines Bullfinch, Lapon and Coax.

Today, the 1,000 crew members will have shore leave, mingling with Houstonians who are planning the biggest Navy day in the city's history.

At Galveston, a parade is planned today, to be followed tonight by two mammoth dances to entertain 1,600 enlisted men from five naval ships in the harbor. Naval planes from the Corpus Christi naval air base will fly overhead during the parade.

An open house is held at the Navy's Camp Wallace separation center no the mainland near Galveston.

Ships At Galveston

The Cruiser Reno, the Destroyer Escort Reuben James, the Transport Bray and the Submarine Redfin and Searobin are in the Galveston port and are open to the public.

A parade is also planned at Port Arthur. Three hundred Navy men from the Destroyer Escort Spagenberg and the Submarine Croaker will march in the parade.

The Corpus Christi naval air station, the Navy hospital and Cuddihy and Ordd auxiliary fields near Corpus Christi are open to visitors. Also on display will be air and sea craft.

The Submarines Sea Leopard and Irex are in the Corpus Christi port for Navy day.

Beaumont Celebration

At Beaumont, the Destroyer Downes and Destroyer Escort Raven held open house yesterday. The open house will continue today and tomorrow. A parade of 200 sailors from the two ships will join four Beaumont school bands and discharged veterans in a parade at 3 p. m. today.

Brownsville began its Navy day celebration yesterday with a joint meeting of service clubs honoring crewmembers from two patrol ships and an LST.

Last night a buffet supper was given the visitors, and later they attended the Brownsville-Robstowns football game where they participated in activities during the halftime period.

Japs Question Allied Orders

TOKYO, Oct. 26. (AP) — The Japanese today questioned the propriety of Allied orders to disband their diplomatic network abroad, while General MacArthrur's headquarters expressed ignorance of the prospective arrival of British and other troops to share in the occupation.

Simultaneously American authorities seized new caches of precious metals and other treasures of doubtful title. Most Japanese military stores have been handed over but disarming of individuals is expected to take until Dec. 1.

Japs Bring Up Potsdam

Disbandment of the Japanese diplomatic and consular services —long notorious among the Allies as fronts for spies—was ordered by MacArthur yesterday on instructions from the joint chiefs of staff in Washington.

Today the Domei agency said that foreign office officials intended to ask Allied authorities whether this unprecedented step conformed with the Potsdam declaration under which Japan surrendered.

While Domei said the government intended to "exercise great care" in following the disbandment order, it clearly indicated a policy of procrastination by adding that the foreign office was going to "sound out" occupation authorities on the question.

Action On Aid Awaited

MacArthur's headquarters, professing lack of any knowledge of reports that British forces were to arrive in Tokyo Jan. 1 to aid in the occupation, said that the entire matter of participation by British, Russian and Chinese troops awaited final determination of policy in Washington.

Maj. Gen. Richard Marshal, deputy chief of staff to MacArthur, said MacArthur had not received any directive on the subject, which was understood to be still "in the discussion stage."

The zones of assignment and strength of the forces apparently were the questions still unsettled, but all here agreed that in any event the Allied troops would be under American control.

The Japanese government requested permission to import 4,350,000 tons of food during 1946 to supply a diet of 2,160 calories per person daily.

MacArthur's headquarters said the request would have to include details of how the amount was determined and how the Japanese intended to pay for it.

Bevin Says U. S. Aid Needed To Prevent Chaos In Europe

By JOHN A. PARRIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 26. — Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin declared today that Europe had been brought to near chaos by a deliberate Nazi plan, and faced disaster soon unless the U. S. Congress voted $1,800,000,000 to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration.

Hunger and privation in Europe may bring "further prolific human loss more devastating than gun or atomic bomb," he told Commons.

Bevin drew attention to congressional debate on funds for UNRRA, and declared "if that vote is not granted, UNRRA will be broke and the situation we have to face in a few weeks time will be disastrous."

Figures Differ Some

(President Truman has asked Congress to give $550,000,000 to UNRRA, the remaining portion of America's first authorized contribution of $1,350,000,000. Truman said that after this action was completed, he would ask Congress to authorize a second $1,350,000,000 contribution. This with the $550,000,000 would total $11,900,000,000, rather than the figure Bevin gave.

Bevin said that "difficult as our own situation was, we agreed to pay the same equivalent amount with America—one per cent of our national income."

Bevin estimated that between 14,000,000 and 15,000,000 persons were wandering through Europe, homeless, ill-clothed and without food. He said "terrible epidemic" threatened this winter which "cannot be limited by frontier or strategic post."

Blame Laid On Hitler

He laid the blame for these conditions squarely on Hitler, accusing the Nazi leader of carrying out a deliberate plan to leave Europe in a "state of complete anarchy" after he discovered Germany could not win the war.

Of the vast masses of homeless Europeans, more than 10,000,000 were displaced persons, labor slaves and prisoners of war who had to move back to Italy, France and elsewhere, Bevin said.

"A rough estimate of the total we have handled and are handling is not far short of 20,000,000, or 25,000,000," he added. "No one knows how many Germans have gone to work in Russia."

Potsdam Pact Broken

He asked Commons to imagine 60 per cent of the population of the British Isles "suddenly being turned out of their homes and drifting somewhere else."

In the debate that followed, Maj. Guy Lloyd, a Conservative, asserted that if the Potsdam agreement had been kept "the tragic tales told the House today would not have been told." He said there was no doubt the agreement had been broken, "although not by Britain."

Laborite M. Edelman warned warned that during the winter "the funeral bells which toll for

Sailor Gets Home To Big Breakfast, Thanks To Error

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 26. (AP)—Sailor Clarence Hartman came home today for the first time in 18 months and found breakfast waiting for him.

There were 17 pounds of sliced ham, 75 cups of coffee, and 10 dozen eggs ready to be fried.

"Where are the other sixty boys?" asked his mother, Mrs. Oscar Hartman, after she embraced him.

"Sixty? What sixty?" asked the bewildered Clarence.

His mother showed him the telegram she had received:

"Coming in Friday morning 0630. Have breakfast ready for 60. Am bringing in a few buddies."

The breakfast invitation, issued to six friends, had been raised to 60 in transmission. A late train caused the six to cancel the stopover.

All GI's Taxes To Be Forgiven

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—House tax experts agreed to go along with the Senate today in forgiving all federal income taxes on the service pay of enlisted personnel from 1941 until the formal end of the war.

That was the first decision made to adjust by a Senate-House conference committee named to adjust differences in the 1946 tax reduction bill, which passed the House with cuts aggregating $5,350,000,000 and the Senate at $5,788,000,000.

Extension of Time

The conferees also adopted a Senate provision granting commissioned officers a three-year extension of time in which to pay accumulated taxes on their service pay, and a similar extension for payment of taxes on pre-service earned income for 1940 or 1941 which became due after the taxpayer entered the service.

The enlisted men, forgiven their taxes, will not even have to make out returns. Those who have paid the tax can get refunds. However, the loss to the Treasury is not expected to be great.

Several controversial points still were at issue, and there were indications the conference could not complete its work before next week.

The Senate voted to repeal the excess profit tax on corporations next Jan. 1. The House called for a cut next year and full repeal in 1947, meanwhile reducing the surtax rate on all corporations.

Senate and House versions of individual income tax cuts vary in method, but not much in effect.

The House wants to cut the heavy wartime excise taxes back to their 1942 levels next July. The Senate called for a very limited number of reductions all affecting items not touched by the House provision.

Admiral Nimitz Hails Navy Day

PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 26 (AP)—Heralding tomorrow as "a Navy day of which we have long dreamed," Fleet Admiral Nimitz today issued a statement acknowledging the Navy's "debt to our fellow Americans at home," and praising the home front's "magnificent support."

A powerful Navy, "supported in the same loyal fashion . . . will prove equally essential in maintaining the peace," he predicted.

"One part of the world's greatest fleet rides in triumph in Tokyo bay," he said. "A mighty task force is on the high seas engaged in the welcome mission of bringing back our fighting men. Still other units of the fleet are in home waters.

Fitting Celebration

"It is only fitting that these veterans of our most glorious victories should be celebrating Navy day with their countrymen. For there is scarcely a town or a family within these United States who does not own a share of that fleet, who did not help build its strength on the production line, pay for its growth with war bonds, or send forth their sons to man its ships and planes."

Although Navy needs were staggering, he added, "we were denied nothing . . . we never doubted our ability to reach our objectives, thanks to your magnificient support."

Control of the seas and the skies "proved without question the deciding factor" in defeating Japan, he asserted.

General MacArthur Expected Home Soon

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — War department officials said today they assumed that Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Pacific theatre commander, would come home for a visit "in the near future."

The general has been invited by the House and Senate to address a joint congressional session whenever he returns. Reports were current that MacArthur would be here between Nov. 1 to the 8th.

War department officials said they doubted it would be quite that soon. Just when the general would come would be up to him.

MacArthur has not been home in about eight years.

CHILDREN LEAVING BERLIN

BERLIN, Oct. 26. (AP) — The British started evacuating 50,000 children today from Berlin to occupation zones farther west. The first 1,600 were hauled away in buses. Most were cheerful, some wept at being separated from their parents. The program was undertaken to alleviate suffering in the wrecked capital.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26. (AP)—Karen Liberty, 3½ years old, was reported resting comfortably at Edgewater Hospital today after the removal of a three-inch harmonica from her stomach.

She swallowed the toy, which measured three-fourths of an inch in width, several days ago and when efforts to remove it by instruments failed, doctors decided upon an operation.

Elements Of 36th To Arrive On Nov. 10

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Elements of the 36th "Texas" division are scheduled to dock at New York Nov. 10, it was announced here.

The veteran Texas outfit, a National Guard unit in peacetime, has fought some of the war's toughest battles, including the costly landing at Salerno, Italy. The 36th also fought in North Africa, France and Germany.

Adjustments In Rates Delayed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — The Interstate Commerce commission today postponed from Nov. 30 to Jan. 1, 1946, the temporary freight rates adjustments ordered in its May 15 freight rate decision.

The commission said some of the railroads "have encountered mechanical difficulties beyond their control" in connection with printing of the tariffs required to be filed by the order and that such railroads "will not be able to file their tariffs so as to make them effective on the date specified . . ."

Called For Decrease

The order called for a decrease of class rates by 10 per cent in the South and West and an increase of 10 per cent in official territory, which includes the northeastern states.

The commission ordered the adjustments to provide "temporary relief" until a permanent uniform scale of class rates could be worked out.

Utility Firm Seeks To Purchase Plant

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — Federal Power commission has received an application by the Southwestern Public Service Co., Roswell, N. M., to acquire the electric facilities serving Santa Rosa and vicinity. These facilities are presently owned by Robert Johnston of Oklahoma City.

A FPC announcement today said the cash price proposed is $115,000. Also included in the purchase, at an additional cost of $32,000, are the water facilities serving the same community.

Army Man Freed In 'Triangle' Slaying

MADERA, Calif., Oct. 26 (AP) — Army Lt. Claude Chipman, 27, today was acquitted on a murder charge in the rifle slaying of lumberman Herman Blood, 26, whom he said he found in the arms of his wife, Barbara Jo, 21, three nights after he returned from service in the China-Burma theatre.

The verdict was reached by a jury of 8 men and four women 15 minutes after the case was submitted to them.

The announcement brought a burst of cheers from spectators.

Texas May Set Up State Labor Agency When WLB Is Dissolved

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (AP)—Reactivation of organization of some state agency to replace the regional War Labor board if that agency is dissolved, as expected about Dec. 15, became a possibility today.

Preliminary discussions between Gov. Coke R. Stevenson and industry, labor and public members of WLB indicated that the state, cooperating with industry and labor, will be ready to set up an agency for settlement of disputes when and if the WLB is abolished by executive order.

No commitments were made at the conference but the governor said the exchange of ideas provided a good working basis for further consideration and action.

A 1920 state law authorized appointment of an industrial commission of five members to hold hearings and make recommendations for settlement of labor-management disputes. It has not been used in recent years. One reason is that the legislature has not appropriated funds for the commission's expense.

Whether the commission would be reactivated or whether a new organization would be set up on a voluntary basis was not immedi-

Stalin In Good Health, Talks Over U. S.—Russian Problems

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Oct. 26—Generalissimo Stalin, it can be authoritatively stated tonight, is in good health and has received U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and discussed with him at length current American - Russian questions.

(A dispatch from London tonight quoted the Moscow radio as saying that Harriman had delivered a message to Stalin from President Truman on Oct. 24 and had had two talks with the Russian leader before returning to Moscow.

(The broadcast said Harriman visited Stalin in the Sochi area which is about 50 miles southeast of Tuapse on the Caucasian Black sea coast. This was the first announcement of where Stalin was vacationing).

Stalin is planning to return to Moscow shortly from his vacation.

Reports in the foreign press that he was ill were said to have caused him considerable amusement.

During the period he was with Stalin Harriman talked with the Soviet leader at length and found him about as usual, but rested.

Speeds Of Over 1,400 Miles An Hour Being Flown In Experiments

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 26 (U.P.)—Speeds of more than 1400 miles an hour—almost twice the speed of sound—already are being flown by special experimental devices, Dr. C. C. Furnas, research chief for the Curtiss-Wright airplane division, revealed today.

He predicted that such speeds would be feasible for commercial aircraft in about 25 years.

Dr. Furnas made these disclosures in an interview with a group of 16 reporters who are making a reconversion tour of the nation's key industries.

At Low Altitude

He would not disclose what kind of flying devices are being used in the experiments with super-sonic speeds but said that some were winged. All of these ultra-high speed tests have been carried out at relatively low altitudes.

The special flying devices used in the experiments were built by the Curtiss-Wright Airplane Division research laboratory in cooperation with other organizations, which Dr. Furnas would not identify.

He cited many of the problems encountered in flight from 500 to 750 miles an hour and at higher speeds up to and beyond 1,400 miles an hour.

The newsmen were taken into the basement of the research laboratory and were permitted to witness a demonstration in a miniature wind tunnel that showed the effects created by speeds higher than the speed of sound. A tiny wing foil, no longer than a razor blade, set up visible shock waves as the speed in the tunnel attained a force of 1,200 miles an hour.

Pan Hellenic Opens Season At Luncheon

Pan Hellenic society will open its season of activities with a luncheon today at 1 o'clock at Tech Social center. Hostess sororities will be Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Phi, Alpha Xi, Delta Chi Omega, Delta Zeta and Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Guerrillas Said Island Menace

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (U.P.)—President Truman said today the stability of the Philippine government is threatened by a Philippine guerilla army which has not disbanded.

Mr. Truman sent letters to several government agency heads concerning the Philippines.

He ordered High Commissioner Paul V. McNutt to undertake an immediate investigation of "agrarian unrest" in the islands.

Fought Against Japs

He called on Attorney General Tom Clark to send expert personnel to the islands to recommend action that will rid the commonwealth government of numerous Quislings who, the President said, still hold important posts.

The President told McNutt that in the provinces near Manila thousands of sharecroppers organized years ago to demand a more equitable division of their products and for several years there was no effective solution.

"During the war," the President's letter said, "the tenants organized a guerilla army which reportedly did good work against the enemy.

Constitute Problem

"After the enemy was defeated in their localities, they did not disband and today they constitute a special problem which threatens the stability of government."

The President reminded McNutt that the guerillas have a legitimate claim to fair treatment and that their aid in the war effort required that they be not dealt with ruthlessly.

The President told Clark that while the mass of the Filipino people remained loyal during the Japanese occupation, regrettably a number of persons "prominent in the political life of the country assisted the enemy in the formulation and enforcement of his political policies and the spread of his propaganda."

Citing reports that "a number of persons who gave aid and comfort to the enemy are now holding important offices in the commonwealth government," the President asked Clark to send experienced Federal Bureau of Investigation agents to the islands to discover the status of suspect persons and recommend action through McNutt.

War and Navy department intelligence staffs also were asked to aid in the investigation.

The President said it was "essential that this task be completed before the holding of the next commonwealth general election."

All Texas CIO Unions Back Textile Strike

DALLAS, Oct. 26 (U.P.) — A. R. Hardesty, subregional director of the CIO in Dallas, announced today that all CIO unions in the state are pledged to support the Textile Workers Union of America strike against cotton textile mills at Hillsboro, Mexia and Itasca.

"Our people have started pressure to keep any production that may be coming from the three mills from getting into trade channels," Hardesty said.

Floydada's 4-H Club Hog Show Set Today

FLOYDADA, Oct. 26. (Special)—All entries will be in their places at 10 o'clock this morning in readiness for the Floyd County 4-H Club Achievement Day hog show judging to be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A. L. Hartzog, Floyd county agriculture agent, is in charge and Ray Mowery, professor of animal husbandry at Texas Tech, will be the judge.

Awards To Be Made

The gilt division exhibit will feature gilts awarded by the Floyd County Cooperative Elevator Gin and consumers of Floydada and Lockney through a cow-hog-hen program. Baby chicks will be awarded each entry in the show with a registered dairy heifer going to the winner.

The fat hog division, added to the show for the first time, is being sponsored by the Floydada Chamber of Commerce. Cash awards and ribbons will go to those placing in each class.

Classes include market hogs, both gilts and barrows, fed by 4-H club members. Light classes will feature hogs weighing from 170 to 220 pounds with swine above that weight in the heavy class.

Have Light Classes

There will be light classes of Poland China, Duroc Jersey and Hampshire with all other breeds or cross-breeds going into a fourth class. Cash awards will go to breed placings, champions and grand champion.

Breed champions will get $3, and grand champion exhibitor will receive a $10 cash prize.

Awards to places are: $5 for first, $3 for second, $2 for third and $1 for fourth. Ribbons will go to fifth place swine, including the cow-hog-hen program gilts not eligible to show in the fat hog class.

A $2.50 award will be given for the best showmanship among the contestants and an award will be given the club boy who keeps the neatest pen throughout the day.

Forty-Five To Return From Induction Tests

Forty-five registrants of Lubbock County Selective Service Board II will return today from Fort Bliss where they received pre-induction physical examinations.

Those reporting for examinations were Joaquin Rafael Bonilla, Arnold Ervin Cogburn, Lee Roy Ralston, jr., Juan Sanchez Garcia, Robert Randall Berry, Roy James O'Hair, Floyd D. Bradford Discusses Radar At Club Meet

John R. Bradford, former Navy radar officer now associated with a geophysical firm here, told members of the American Business club at their Friday luncheon in the Hilton hotel that many returning servicemen will devote their lives to assist in the engineering job of converting radar to peacetime use.

Reviewing the history of radar, Bradford's discussion was highlighted by projection slides showing radar equipment from its stages of development when research was begun in America in 1922 up to the present time.

"Little is known about radar by the layman because its censorship ban was lifted when the atomic bomb was released and all interest was centered on this new scientific development," Bradford said. He emphasized the fact that radar is the most effective counter-measure to atomic bombing.

Luncheon guests were Jack Chandler of Amarillo, Truett (Red) Brooks, Joe McManus, Henry C. Cox, and Alvin Goldstrucker, former member recently returned from the service.

J. A. Fortenberry welcomed new members Roy Krebbs and J. D. Hinson. A. C. Sanders was program chairman and Jimmie Wilson, president, presided.

DEMONSTRATION DISPERSED

PANAMA CITY, Panama, Oct. 26. (AP)—Mounted policemen armed with sabres last night dispersed a demonstration for Arnulfo Arias, former nationalist president who had just returned from exile in Argentina. There were no reported casualties.

Unlike the English language, the Japanese has little or no accent upon individual syllables, except where certain vowels are prolonged.

Navy Eager To Test Atom Bomb's Power

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (U.P.)—The Navy disclosed officially today that it is eager to test the atom bomb's power against a surface fleet and as a depth charge.

It would not, however, say where or when the tests will be made.

"Before either of the experiments can be undertaken," the Navy said, "much work remains to be done, but the Navy is anxious that these tests be undertaken as soon as the mechanics are worked out."

The tests obviously will be of tremendous significance in connection with the future design and size of Naval fleets.

The Navy, however, did not go into this aspect of the still largely untested power of the atom. It said merely that it was "very desirous" of finding out just what the atom bomb will do to ships on the surface and just what kind of force it will emit when detonated in deep water under the surface.

The Navy said it had received many inquiries as to where and when the tests would be made and on what kind of ships. It would not, however, undertake to answer any of them.

Brazil Tense Over Rumors Of Revolt

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 26 (AP)—Great tension prevailed in this Brazilian capital today after a night in which the armed forces and police were on the alert over rumors of an impending revolution.

War Minister Gen. Pedro Aurelio de Goes Monteiro directed the army to keep clear of politics. "It is necessary," he said, "that the army remain united now more than at any time in our history, withstanding all political passions that would plunge the nation into a fatal civil war."

Search Pressed For 3 Missing Fishermen

BEAUMONT, Oct. 26 (AP) — A search was pressed today for three Port Arthur and Beaumont businessmen, who have been missing since Wednesday morning while on a Gulf fishing trip.

The coast guard reported last night it had found a small motor boat believed to be the same craft occupied by the three missing men, Gilbert Heartfield, Albert Perkins and Lt. Louis Johnson.

The boat was found by the Coast Guard in east Galveston bay yesterday afternoon, along with fishing tackle.

It is believed the small craft overturned near that spot when a northwest wind hit Wednesday afternoon.

Truman Picks Coat Of Arms With Peace Aims

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (U.P.)—President Truman has a new presidential coat of arms, seal and flag. They all differ from the old presidential insignia in that they emphasize peace—not war.

The old ones had the American eagle facing the arrows in its talons. The arrows are a symbol of war. In Mr. Truman's new insignia, the eagle has turned his back to the arrows and is facing the other direction.

Eden Warns Nations Must Sponsor Peace

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Former Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said in an address today that the world "is unquestionably in very great danger and nations are not joined together," despite the terrible warning of the atomic bomb.

The wartime secretary said no one nation, however powerful, ever would be strong enough to dominate Europe, still less to dominate the world.

"A third World war would mean the annihilation of the human race," he told an audience at Leeds university, where he received a degree of doctor of laws.

Wichita County Seeks To Top Victory Loan

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 26. (U.P.)—Working with a minimum of public notice, Wichita County Victory Loan campaigners are attempting to subscribe their entire quota by noon Monday in tribute to members of the "Lost Battalion" of the 131st Field Artillery.

If they succeed, the announcement will be one feature of the two-day program honoring members of the former Texas National Guard outfit which starts Sunday night. A memorial service for those who died under Japanese brutality is scheduled then in Memorial auditorium here.

Monday's speechmaking will include remarks by Maj. Gen. Fred L. Walker, commanding general of the 36th (Texas) Division in Europe; Gov. Coke R. Stevenson; Capt. Leonard J. Dow, Dallas Naval Air Station commander and former staff officer to Adm. William F. Halsey, U. S. Reps. Ed. Gossett and John Lyle, and Mayor W. B. Hamilton.

Col. Blucher S. Tharp, Amarillo, commander of the outfit which spent 43 months in Japanese prisons during which time no word of its fate was let out, will accept the plaudits of a crowd which civic leaders believe will be the largest ever assembled here.

Sixteen men of the battalion were guests of the Wichita Falls Rotary club yesterday.

Huge Oil Resources In Near East Adding To Strife In Palestine

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Staff Writer

The smell of oil hangs heavily over the Palestine question and the whole troubled situation in the Near East.

It is easy for the general public to form convictions on the Jewish homeland question on strictly humanitarian grounds. The right of the oppressed, displaced Jews of Europe to a haven somewhere is unquestioned. There is ample evidence that Jews and Arabs can live peaceably together.

Balfour Declaration

The British especially feel that the aspirations of the Arabs, however, must be taken into consideration. The original Balfour Declaration of 1917 provided for a Jewish homeland in Palestine, "with due regard to the rights of the Arab population."

Now the Arabs maintain that Palestine should remain predominantly Arab. They also have broadened the question by promoting an Arab nationalistic movement throughout the Near East, comprising not only Palestine but Syria-Lebanon, Iraq, Trans-Jordan, Saudi Arabia and Egypt.

There is thus much more behind the issue than the admission of Jewish immigration to Palestine, as far as the Arab movement is concerned. There is also much more behind it on the side of the big powers.

France Interested

Many millions and perhaps billions of dollars in private and governmental investments are involved in the case of Britain and the United States. France is an interested third party because of her mandate over Syria-Lebanon and French investments there. Britain and the United States are far more actively engaged in exploiting the Near Eastern oil fields, building refineries and establishing great pipe lines to the Mediterranean.

American and British operations are confusingly interlocked, and it is not always easy to tell whether they are in conflict or have a working agreement. The Anglo-American oil agreement signed in London last Sept. 24 is in general terms, providing for an international oil commission with powers only of study and recommendation. Hope was expressed at the time that Russia and other nations would join it for the "orderly development" of world oil resources.

Standard Oil Project

Meanwhile, a subsidiary of Standard Oil of California and the Texas Co. is promoting a project—originally conceived by the U. S. government during the war but not now backed financially by it—to build a great pipe line from American-operated fields in Saudi Arabia across Palestine to Haifa.

The British-controlled Iraq Petroleum Oil Co. is engaged in extending another big pipe line from the fields in Iraq, also to Haifa.

Standard Oil of New Jersey and Socony-Vacuum are preparing, with French permission, to build two major refineries in Syria and Lebanan.

Soviet Enters Picture

This Anglo-American expansion is close to oil sources which Russia is anxious to expand in southeastern Europe and perhaps the Middle East, which brings the Soviet Union into the picture.

Against the background, the head of the Arab states have shown a disposition to play off the great powers in favor of their own demands. Kihg Ibn Saud is reported to be threatening interference with American oil concessions in Saudi-Arabit if the United States attempts to enforce the Zionist demands in Palestine. The Jewish question in this way could become a pawn of larger interests.

Kennedy Rites Set In Amarillo Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Rebekah Boyce Kennedy, 58, wife of Frank A. Kennedy of 2433 Twenty-second, who died Friday morning in Northwest Texas hospital, Amarillo, will be conducted this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Amarillo Presbyterian church.

Services will be read by Dr. R. Thomsen, retired pastor, and Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor of the Lubbock First Presbyterian church. Burial will be in Llano cemetery, Amarillo.

She had been ill several years.

A native of Tennessee, Mrs. Kennedy and her husband moved to Lubbock 12 years ago. Kennedy is general manager of Armstrong Warehouse & Transfer Co., Inc.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. R. W. Miller and two granddaughters, Frances and Ida, of Amarillo; two brothers, John K. Boyce and Wm. C. Boyce, jr., both of Amarillo; and one sister, Mrs. Woods Ellison of Albuquerque, N. M.

Also surviving is Mrs. Kennedy's mother, Mrs. W. C. Boyce, sr., of Amarillo.

Pallbearers were announced today as I. M. Robinson, Dr. L. M. Jones, Altus Sansom and R. Clyde Smith, all of Lubbock; Paul A. Jones and Tom H White, of Ararillo.

After education in the public schools of Covington, Tenn., her birthplace, Mrs. Kennedy later attended Ward-Belmont, Nashville, and studied design in the New York School of Fashion. She was a designer for Vogue magazine for a 10 year period.

The body is lying in state at Griggs chapel, Amarillo.

Plainview Edges Out 13 To 7 District Win Over Westerners

Williams Passes Bulldogs To Win; Brewer Scores For Lubbock Mates

By MACK TURNER
Avalanche Sports Writer

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 26—Jack Williams passed and ran the Plainview Bulldogs to a 13 to 7 victory over the Lubbock High Westerners here tonight before a crowd estimated at 6,900 and retained the undefeated, untied record of the Hale county lads, but saw the unscored on record of the team shattered under the pounding feet of George Brewer.

The first quarter of the ball game was all Plainview, and the Bulldogs, but the home club could not break the gallant stand of the Westerners.

Bulldogs Count In Second

Late in the period, Lanham fumbled, and Plainview recovered on the Westerner 13 yard line. Jack Weldon smashed down to the Lubbock five, then on the last play of the quarter, made it first and ten on the Lubbock two.

The Lubbock line stiffened, and it took Weldon three stabs at the line to inch the ball over for the touchdown. Williams booted the extra point.

Take No Chances

The Bulldogs played conservative football, content to cling to the one touchdown margin and take no chances. The Westerners never offered much threat to this brand of football through three quarters of the football game, but in the early stages of the fourth quarter, Lubbock began to roll, and turned the game into a thriller.

On the first play of the fourth quarter, Williams kicked, and the boot was partly blocked. The ball wobbled forward ten yards and out of bounds on the Lubbock 44.

Westerners Open Up

From that point, the crunching ground game of the Westerners began to click, and drove 56 yards in a sustained drive to score.

Rampy smashed through for eight yards. Brewer picked up three, then Rampy gained twelve on two tries to move the ball down to the Plainview 33.

Brewer pushed to the 30, but the Bulldogs stiffened and stopped Rampy for no gain. Sikes then twisted down to the Plainview 23, and Brewer made it a first down on the 19. This was Lubbock's third journey across midfield, and its only penetration.

Brewer Finally Scores

Brewer smashed to the 11, Rampy picked up a yard, then Brewer made it a first down on the eight. On three smashing drives into the line, Brewer crashed over for the score, making three yards on the scoring jaunt. Brewer then circled right end for the extra point on a fake run and tied the ball game 7-7.

The Bulldogs came back growling Weldon taking the kickoff on his own five and getting into full steam up the middle of the field. He broke into the clear, but Rampy nailed him from behind on the Lubbock 43. The Bulldogs pushed on down to the 27, but there the Lubbock pass defense, led by little Noel "Twinkle Toes" Sikes, stopped the drive, and Williams kicked to the Westerner 3.

Bulldog Passes Click

The Westerners worked the ball out to the 31, but had to kick, and Plainview took over on its own 32, and quickly took to the air.

Sikes intercepted Williams' long pass, but a penalty against Lubbock returned the ball to Plainview on the Bulldog 48. Williams couldn't find a receiver, and turned in a nice gallop around end to the Lubbock 42. Sikes batted down two more Plainview passes, then Williams connected with Graham to inch down to the 38. Williams then hit Bond on the run to reach the 25 with another pass. Headed again by Sikes, three desperate passes failed to click, but the fourth slipped through Sikes and Brewer and into the eager hands of Allen James, who stepped over into the end zone for the winning touchdown.

Defensive Play Outstanding

Lubbock tried to take to the air, but on the second try, Weldon intercepted the ball on his own 40, and streaked to the Lubbock 33. Williams ran one play, and the game ended.

Defensive play for the night was well divided in honors, with Wayne Cobb, Lubbock tackle, playing one of the greatest games of his career before he was banished from the game just before half ended when he had a run-in with Plainview's Will Weaks. Both were banished from the game.

Little Noel Sikes was a mighty mite on the defense, and his play was outstanding throughout the night.

The Plainview offense was Williams and Weldon, two great backs, and certainly All-District timber, with Kenneth Echols and Claude May playing great games in the Plainview line.

Brewer was the big show in the Lubbock offense, did some great kicking, and sparked the team in it's game battle, with some great offensive help from Arthur Rampy.

ZAVALA WINS DECISION

NEW YORK, Oct. 26, (AP) — Humberto Zavala, a sturdy lightweight from Mexico City closed with a rush tonight to earn an unanimous decision over Cleo Shans of Los Angeles in a punch-packed 10-round thriller at the St. Nicholas arena.

Scientists say Japan has four slight earthquakes a day and a serious tremor every six or seven years.

Meadow Takes 14 To 0 Decision Over Ropes

ROPES, Oct. 26 — (Special)— Meadow's Bronchos toppled a stubborn group of Ropes Eagles here today 14 to 0 scoring in the opening and closing quarters of a closely fought ball game.

Jack Barner, standout back for the visitors, slammed across the double-stripe from the one in the opening period. Nettles took a pass from the Meadow passer to score in the fourth period, icing the game away. Both conversions were good.

Dickerson and Leans were outstanding for the losing eleven in the conference battle.

Topnotch Teams On Grid Menu

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 26—The steadily diminishing circle of unbeaten football teams is due for another reduction tomorrow when the season reaches that point where the customers begin thinking about conference titles, All-America selections and New Year's Day bowl bids.

Every section of the country will be blessed with headline attractions and, weather permitting, the folks who shell out $2.20 or so for a seat in the stands will add to the mounting attendance figures, already some 15 per cent ahead of last year's aggregate gate.

Navy Meets Penn

At least 73,000 are expected at Philadelphia to see Navy and Pennsylvania, two of the nation's undefeated powers, collide in a game that will produce an outstanding challenger to Army's position as number one team of the land.

In smashing through Brown, Dartmouth and North Carolina, the Quakers piled up 111 points while keeping their goal-line uncrossed. Navy has been scored on only once in beating Villanova, Duke, Penn State and Georgia Tech with a total of 118 points.

Army Faces Tough Test

Army, meanwhile, faces its toughest test since the Michigan game in going after its 14th straight victory and its fifth of the season against the Blue Devils of Duke, who have lost only to Navy in four times out. This game is set in New York's Polo Grounds and a capacity house of 50,000 is scheduled to be on hand.

Other perfect records will be slapped on the block in the east when Temple's Owls move in against Pittsburgh in search of victory number five, Holy Cross defends a similar mark against invading Colgate and Columbia remains at home to try for its fifth win against an underdog Brown team.

Midwest Menu Tops

Still other eastern pairings for the day send Rutgers to Princeton, Bucknell to LaFayette, Cornell to Yale, Coast Guard Academy to Harvard, Dartmouth to Syracuse and Boston College to Kings Point.

Three of the nation's top five teams will be involved in top-notch games in the Midwest—two of them in important struggles in the dynamite-laden Big Ten conference. In these, powerful Purdue, surprise victor over Ohio State, tries for its sixth win at Evanston, Ill., against a Northwestern team that is overdue and Minnesota, which has one Big Ten victory to go with its three non-conference wins, catches rebounding Ohio State at Minneapolis.

Notre Dame, now resting in the second slot in the Associated Press national rankings, will be invaded by Iowa. Indiana, unbeaten but once-tied, faces an invading non-conference foe in undefeated Tulsa while Michigan and Illinois clash in a Big Ten struggle at Champaign.

In the Big Six, Oklahoma will be at Kansas State and Nebraska at Missouri. Kansas steps out of the conference to invade Wichita. Marquette goes to Michigan State for a game between Midwest independents.

Alabama Meets Georgia

Alabama, winner of four in a row, stakes its perfect record, its Southeastern conference lead and its chances for a bowl bid against Georgia, which moves into Birmingham after being knocked out of the unbeaten ranks by Louisiana State. Louisiana State takes on invading Vanderbilt and Auburn moves in against Georgia Tech in other Southeastern conference contests.

Elsewhere in the South, Arkansas and Mississippi clash at Memphis, Southern Methodist will be at Tulane, Villanova at Tennessee, Maryland at West Virginia, Virginia at Virginia Tech and Southwest Louisiana at Florida.

Seminole Cops 30-12 Triumph Over Slaton

SLATON, Oct. 26 (Special)—A wild third quarter furnished the Seminole Indians with the point-making minutes required to take a high scoring 30-12 victory from the Slaton Tigers here tonight.

Wendel Byles, Slaton back, let a pass land in the arms of Seminole's Walker who raced 35 yards in the opening period for the first score. Blair, Indian back, plowed over from the two in the second stanza for the next tally and the half ended 12-0 favoring the visitors.

The third period saw Slaton threaten the Indian lead with a quick score when Byles passed to Reynolds netting 60 yards down to the one. Thompson went over for the score.

Blair moved the ball back to scoring position a few plays later for the Indians and Walker went over, putting the game on ice and making the score 18 to 6 favoring Seminole. A few plays later Walker intercepted another Slaton pass and moved 31 yards to score.

In the fourth period a Slaton punt was blocked on the 12 yard line and after two plays Lunceford, on an end around, scored. This gave the visitors their 30 points. Slaton moved down to the 17 on a series of passes and Byles tossed a final one to Elder for the final score. The game ended a few minutes later, Seminole 30, Slaton 12.

Littlefield Wins 64-0 Over Muleshoe Team

(Special To The Avalanche)

MULESHOE, Oct. 26.—Littlefield's high scoring grid machine rolled to another impressive performance here this afternoon in swamping Muleshoe, 64 to 0, as the Wildcats roared on toward another District 5-A football crown. The game was the sixth in a row for Littlefield.

The Littlefield machine started rolling in the early minutes of the contest and with the first and second teams taking the spotlight chalked up two touchdowns in the first stanza, two more in the second stanza, two more in the third and four in the final frame.

Sewell, Lyman Star

The Wildcats counted in the first four minutes of play when Fullback Walter Sewell plunged for the tally. End Buster Owens missed his try for the point by kicking. A few minutes later, Quarterback Billy Lyman added the Wildcat's second counter when he plunged over the double stripes. Owens then added the extra point by kicking and the score at the end of the first period was 13 to 0.

Almost before the second frame got under way, Fullback Eugene Carter took a lateral and scooted around end for 15 yards and the third Littlefield tally. The try for point went awry.

McCanlies Scores Two

Then on the kickoff, the Muleshoe team touched the ball then let it roll behind the goal. End Gene McCanlies raced downfield and smothered the oval for another quick Wildcat tally. Owens then kicked the point and the halftime count was 26 to 0.

The first team went back in in the third and almost before the crowd had got settled down Sewell plunged over standing up for the fifth Wildcat counter, the try for point again being missed. Late in the period, Lyman helped chalk up the sixth Littlefield touchdown with a pass to Owens who scampered over for the tally. The kick again was missed. The third period ended, 38 to 0.

Explodes In Fourth

Then the roof fell in on the Muleshoe team in the final fourth as the Wildcats really opened up.

Shelby chalked up the seventh Wildcat tally on a short run and Owens kicked the point to make it 45 to 0. Then a few minutes later after a Littlefield punt which Muleshoe fumbled, McCanlies picked the ball up and galloped 50 yards to paydirt with both teams looking on. The point was missed and the score was 51 to 0.

Then late in the game, Halfback Oscar Arend took a lateral and raced 25 yards to score. Owens kicked this one and the count was 58 to 0. Then in the fading seconds, Lyman chalked up Littlefield's last tally with a short plunge after Tackle Sabin Hendrickson intercepted a Muleshoe pass on the 50 and ran it back 30 yards. Two short plays brought business near the goal and Lyman plunged over for the final tally and the count stood 64 to 0.

Next week-end, Littlefield meets its toughest opposition of the season in invading Ballinger, a District 11-A power which has lost only one game to a Class A team in five seasons.

Sweetwater Measures Lamesa Tornado, 14-0

SWEETWATER, Oct. 26. (Special) — Sweetwater's Mustangs defeated Lamesa High's Golden Tornadoes 14 to 0 here tonight in a listless District 3-AA game, the Mustangs tabbing one in the first quarter and the second in the last two minutes of play.

Doil Feagan intercepted Orville Neimans' pass on the Sweetwater 47 and returned the ball to the Lamesa 42 to star the first Sweetwater drive. Two plunges at the Tornado line netted only a couple of yards, but an offside penalty shoved the visitors back to their 37.

On a neat double reverse, Elmer Shaw took the ball from Don Lambert and skirted Sweetwater's left end for the distance and a touchdown. Winston Robinsons placekick try was good.

The Mustangs' other marker on a pass from Lambert to Feagon game in the fourth quarter. It was fourth down on Lamesa's 30 and about 15 yards to go when Lambert backed up and shot the ball to Feagan on the Lamesa 10, Feagan running between Nieman and Homer Rippy to take the heave and race on to the goal. Robinson's placekick hit the crossbar and bounded over.

Sweetwater made one other serious threat near the start of the second half when they pulled up with a first down on the Tornado 15. Lambert's pass, intended for Feagan, was taken on the goal by Nieman and he returned it to his 15 to end the drive.

The Golden Tornadoes made one serious bid to score following the interception. The visitors mixed passes and running plays to advance all the way to Sweetwater's 5 before they were finally halted. Pat Patterson and Nieman accounted for most of the yardage when Nieman took Patterson's short heave in the left flat and ran 31 yards before being brought down on Sweetwater's 14. Patterson also chalked up a 20-yard gainer around end. Lamesa's line play was outstanding throughout the game. It was Sweetwater's second 3-AA win in two starts and Lamesa's second setback against one district win.

The lineups and statistics:

Sundown Cops 25 To 0 Tussle Over Tahoka

TAHOKA, Oct. 26. (Special)—Tahoka's Bulldogs returned to the football wars at home tonight, fielding a team composed of three "first stringers with what-used-to-be-nubs" rounding out the eleven, and received a 25-0 pounding at the hands of an invading Sundown eleven.

Dale Peden opened the scoring early for the winners with a bounding 55-yard dash for the first tally. Tahoka tightened, however, and the remainder of the first half was scoreless.

As the second half of the game opened with the hosts trailing 0-6 Tahoka was caught in the hole early, suffered under a 15-yard penalty that backed them to their defensive six-yard line, and then Peden drove across for the Sundown tally. Ethridge again converted.

The fourth quarter brought the outstanding play of the night when Ethridge grabbed a Tahoka pass and stepped 77 yards for the score, at the same time halting a Tahoka bid for a tally. Peden raced 20 yards for the final score.

Levelland Chalks Up 45-6 Win Over Olton

LEVELLAND, Oct. 26 (Special) Levelland High's Loboes scored almost at will here tonight in chalking up a decisive 45 to 6 triumph over Olton in a District 5-A conference tussle.

Levelland opened up the scoring in the first period when Left Halfback Stanley Williams galloped over from the 10-yard line. Joe Garrison ran the point over and the Loboes were off to a decided edge.

In the second stanza after Olton momentarily stiffened its defense, Levelland came back with Right Halfback illy Pearcy passing 15 yards to Left End Burl Pierce for the second tally. Pearcy ran the point over to make it 14 to 0. In the same period, Pearcy plunged over from the three but failed to get the extra point.

A few seconds before the halftime intermission, Olton came back strong with Fullback Perry Gullet passing 10 yards to Left End Corky Estes for the touchdown to climax a drive. The try for kick failed, however, and the halftime count was 20 to 6.

In the third, Williams again came back for the Loboes and raced 20 yards to score. A pass for the extra point was incomplete. A few minutes later, Williams again galloped over the double stripes to count again, this time from the 10 and Pearcy kicked the extra point to give the local lads a 33 to 6 advantage as the fourth quarter opened.

Early in the final frame, Left Half Bobby Hart climaxed a 70-yard Levelland drive with a four-yard plunge to paydirt. The attempt at extra point again failed. Late in the game, Hart again scored with a one-yard plunge after Levelland had intercepted a desperate Olton pass on the visitors' 15. The try for extra point again was missed.

Levelland chalked up 21 first downs to three for Olton.

Tech Slight Favorite In Game With WTSTC In City Tonight

Texas, Owls In Top SWC Game

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, Oct. 26 — Three Southwest conference football teams hope to take some of the spots out of a spotty intersectional record tomorrow as they play elevens from Oklahoma, Louisiana and Mississippi.

Thus far this season the conference has hit 50-50, winning five games and losing five against teams from other areas.

Oklahoma Ags Tops

Tomorrow Arkansas goes to Memphis to play Mississippi's Rebels, Southern Methodist traipses to New Orleans to battle Tulane's Green Wave and Texas Christian stays at home to clash with Oklahoma A. and M.

Two out of three appears a strong possibility. The one nobody is counting on is Texas Christian's efforts to stop All-America Bob Fenimore and his Oklahoma Aggie playmates.

Conference Race Heavy

Southern Methodist beat Rice, the team that beat Tulane, and on the record that would indicate the Methodist ought to clip the Greenies. The Arkansas - Mississippi tilt looks like a toss-up, especially since Arkansas won't have its great back, Alton Baldwin, but even at that the Razorbacks are accorded an excellent chance of trimming Ole Miss the second season in a row.

On the home front unbeaten, untied Texas is host to the four-times losers of Rice, and Baylor journeys to College Station to tackle Texas A. and M. Three of the four teams are fighting for survival in the conference race—Rice, Baylor and A. and M.—each of which has lost a game.

Texas, Ags Favored

Texas is an overwhelming favorite to blast Rice while A. and M. appears to be a tight favorite in most quarters but with a victory by Baylor to occasion no surprise.

Floydada Wins 38-0 Game Over Paducah

FLOYDADA, Oct. 26, (Special)—An overwhelming third-quarter offensive swamped a stubborn Paducah eleven here tonight as the Floydada football aggregation, unbeaten in conference competition, slammed across four touchdowns to climax a 38-0 District 4-A victory.

The Paducah invaders played a stubborn first-half game, giving up but one touchdown to the winning hosts. Kelly Haygood, speedy Floydada back, whipped off a 30-yard sprint down to the seven yard marker to set up the first-quarter tally. Glenn Carmack smacked across from that point and John Tribble added the conversion. This gave the hosts a 7-0 lead that still stood at the half.

After the half-time rest the 4-A leaders came roaring back combining long runs and ground-gobbling passes to net their four scores and sew up the ball game.

On the first play following the second-half kickoff Carmack scampered 50 yards to score. Tribble again kicked goal for a 14-0 lead.

A sustained drive the next time Floydada got the ball was climaxed by Don Jones' five-yard crash across the goal. The conversion was no good.

Haygood again whipped through the Paducah defense on one of his scampering dashes, this time for 20 yards and a score, bring the total to 26.

Still in the third period the winners took to the air with Melvin Robertson leaving to end B. F. Payne for a pass that netted 30 yards before Payne was nailed on the six. Robertson followed up with a six-yard drive across the goal. The attempted conversion missed.

Floydada slacked off in the fourth stanza with Robertson heaving to Bill Womack for 35 yards, moving the ball to the 11. Robertson carried across on the next play for the final tally, leaving the score at Floydada 38, Paducah 0.

Matador Wins 20 To 0 Contest Over Ralls

RALLS, Oct. 26, (Special)—Matador counted early and then turned to a defensive game aganist a tough Ralls eleven here tonight to take a 20-0 victory.

Matador scored in the first period when Payne ended a sustained drive by a two-yard drive. He repeated the performance later in the same quarter. Both conversions were good. Stephens took a pass in the second quarter netting 20 yards and the final score. The second half was a see-saw battle with the Ralls defense tightening considerably. Final score was Ralls 0, Matador 20.

Creed and Garner led the loser's backfield and Pipes, end, was the outstanding lineman.

Injuries Plague Top Raider Stars; Buffs In Shape; Game Set At 8:15

Thrice-beaten and badly crippled Texas Tech goes into an unaccustomed role—that of favorites—tonight as they play host to foes of 20 years, the West Texas State Teachers College Buffaloes at 8:15 p. m. in Tech Stadium. But the Red Raider role as favorites finds Head Coach Dell Morgan a very worried man.

West Texas State Teachers, rested after an open date last week, comes to town tonight after a season of "pointing" for the Red Raiders while Texas Tech reached a peak last week in outplaying a favored Baylor university team to a 7-7 tie.

Injuries Hit Key Men

Adding to Morgan's miseries is the fact that four key men are sidelined with injuries and will be fit for little or no action. West Texas State Teachers is at full strength with their two-week rest period finding all regulars recovered from injuries and ready once again for action.

Walter Schlinkman—honorable mention all-American fullback of last year and ranking fourth in the nation's ball carriers this season — is still nursing a battered shoulder that will keep him from much of the game tonight.

Others out of the fray, as far as total competition is concerned, are J. E. Branton, regular end; Cecil Norris, hefty speedster of the backfield; and Arthur Shahan, powerhouse left half. R. W. Moyer, regular wingman, is recovered from a bruised hip and will start the fray tonight.

Gus Miller, WTSTC ringmaster, has Hap Rogers, first string fullback, and Dwayne Lyons, starting guard, back in the lineup after earlier batterings.

The Canyon team—winner of but three of nine previous games between the two football teams—has been looking ahead all year to the Tech game. Short on reserve strength against such foes as Tulsa and Baylor the Buffs will not be outmanned so heavily from the bench by the Techsans, equally as short on reserve strength.

Morgan Is Worried

Morgan said last night, after taking the Raiders through a last workout pointed toward defensive play, that the Buffs "have me awfully worried."

"Gus would like nothing better than to beat me," Morgan added, "and I look for him to go into the air to try it. Frankly, I am in a sweat."

WTSTC is bringing along 400 boosters plus their band to lend aid to their team. Morley Jenning's, athletic director at Tech, said ticket sales had been "far above expectations" and a good sized crowd is expected tonight.

West Texas has lost to two Tech opponents, Tulsa and Baylor, by like scores, 32-0. Tech gave way to extra reserve power before Tulsa and lost 6-18 but slammed Baylor around to come up with a 7-7 tie.

The starting lineups:

TECH	Pos.	WTSTC
Moyers	LE	Browder
Winkler	LT	White
Lawhorn	LG	Lyons
Turner	C	Shaver
Birdwell	RG	Lynch
McSwane	RT	Terry
Kelley	RE	Leach
Marley	QB	Bledsoe
Tidwell	LH	Glasgow
Hinson	RH	Hedges
Robnett	FB	Rogers

Pampa Stops Cubs For 25 To 0 District Win

PAMPA, Oct. 26 (Special)—Pampa High's undefeated and untied Harvesters chalked up their sixth straight victory here tonight with a 25 to 0 decision over Brownfield's Cubs in an opening District 1-AA tilt for the local lads.

Pampa's great star, Randal Clay, crashed through for three touchdowns and George Johnson ran 100 yards for another as the Harvesters took the game and the spotlight with Plainview's undefeated and untied Bulldogs in the 1-AA grid race.

The Harvesters scored one touchdown in the first period to lead 6 to 0 at the halftime. Then Pampa counted once in the third and twice in the fourth to clinch the contest.

Johnson's run was on a punt return in the fourth quarter.

Denver City Defeats O'Donnell, 31 To 0

DENVER CITY, Oct. 26. (Special) — Using reserves the latter part of the game, Denver City easily bested O'Donnell, 31-0, in a district 6-A football game here tonight. The locals scored twice in the first quarter, twice in the second, and once in the third. Linemen Streety, Trice and Edwards played outstanding ball in turning back the O'Donnell threats.

Sudan Edges Lubbock Cowhands Gold, 6-0

SUDAN, Oct. 26. (Special) — A flurry of passes in the last three minutes of play netted a touchdown and a bare 6-0 victory for a scrappy Sudan eleven over Lubbock's fast moving Cowhand Golds here today.

The series of pass plays late in the game broke the scoreless deadlock that had been swaying to and fro in favor of the two teams. Lubbock had dominated the second and third stanzas while the Sudan offensive controlled the situation during the opening and fourth quarters.

A 15-yard pass from Dwight Moore to Ernest Gilbert, both Gold backs, earned a second-period score after Gilbert whirled another 15 yards to the goal line but an off-side penalty nullified the play and cost the Golds at least a tie in the game.

Gilbert and Moore were the head men in Coach Marlin "Shorty" Hayhurst's offensive and defensive work. Tackles Bill Powell and David Watkins along with Wilbur Leon, guard, headed the forward wall that kept the Sudan team at bay and forced them into the air.

Doty, Sudan captain, led the winner's in their victory, sparking both the defense and offensive play.

It was the second loss of the year for the Cowhand Gold team.

Spur Edges Out 34-26 Victory Over Lockney

LOCKNEY, Oct. 26. (Special)—Spur's Bulldogs edged past the Lockney High grid squad here tonight in a high scoring tussle, 34 to 26, after finally halting a last half Lockney rally.

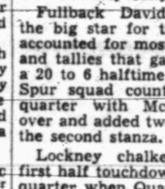

Fullback David McAteer was the big star for the winners and accounted for most of the yardage and tallies that gave the Bulldogs a 20 to 6 halftime advantage. The Spur squad counted in the first quarter with McAteer plunging over and added two more tallies in the second stanza.

Lockney chalked up its lone first half touchdown in the second quarter when Quarterback Harold Jeffcoat passed to Right End Gene Messer.

Then in the final two frames both teams came back to count almost at will with Spur pushing over one tally in the third and another in the fourth. Lockney, with Jeffcoat passing to Messer, and to Halfback Robert Logan and Left End Thurman Davis added two touchdowns in the third and one in the fourth. Fullback David Williams plunged for the final Lockney tally.

Cut In Taxes Is Coming

Congress Is To Be Commended

MILLIONS of "the little people," whose salaries were reduced to subsistence level by wartime inflation, probably feel a flutter of hope at the general approval by both Houses of Congress of a bill which proposes, among other things, elimination of taxes on small incomes.

When, and if, the bill is written into law, it will mean the frayed-collor worker will be able to take home a few more bucks on pay day. It has always seemed a little foolish to him—the government taking a chunk out of his paycheck and, about a year later, sending it back to him.

Both Houses have agreed on a general tax whittle, the Senate to the extent of $5,718,000,000, the House $5,350,000,000. Representatives from each branch will now get together to whip up a measure suitable to both.

The people's representatives tried valiantly to get in a lick for about every possible. Both Houses agree, although in varying degree, on taking off the low-income, trimming business taxes and killing the "windshield" tax. The Senate approved special tax benefits for veterans, the House did not; the House effected a tax cut on such things as jewelry, liquor, light bulbs and movie tickets, the Senate refused.

If recent precedents be any guide, the final tax bill as finally enacted will be closer to the Senate than to the House version. At least, that has been the trend in most revenue measures placed on the statute books in recent years.

While taxes are due to topple, the over-all tax burden is expected to be still around $27,000,000,000, about twice what it was before the war.

Our lawmakers should be applauded for their evident desire to rip away the structure of wartime expediency so soon after victory. Such an attitude will help us on the way to complete reconversion.

It's Refreshing, Anyway!

SOMETHING new in politics has been added in New York's uproarious mayoralty campaign. Here we have a candidate who, presumably, is neither for nor against anything. The character operating on this refreshing platform is, namely, Newbold Morris, hope of the "No Deal" ticket.

Morris' backers cry, "The people are tired of reforms; they want to have a good time." One of his backers is none other than the present mayor, "Little Flower" La Guardia.

While Morris, president of the New York City council, is admirably original in his approach, pre-election polls indicate he will get nothing more out of the campaign than the ride.

The real friction is between William O'Dwyer, Democrat-American-Labor choice, and Judge Jonah J. Goldstein, Republican-Liberal-Fusion candidate. Formerly Kings county district attorney, O'Dwyer is due to win in a lope, according to straw votes. Ostensibly, he has the backing of the national administration, for a few weeks ago President Truman went out of his way to pose with O'Dwyer for a newspaper photograph.

A nod from Washington means much to a candidate in New York state, which ordinarily is the recipient of tank loads of government largess. Local issues are being touched on but lightly; state and national problems are getting the most elocution.

Both Goldstein and O'Dwyer favor racial and religious tolerance and good government. These are good, safe planks, but not as safe, nor as intriguing, as Morris' impartiality!

The Taxpayer Still Pays

WHEN the Office of War Information was announced abolished, the taxpayer sighed with relief. This was, perhaps, the beginning of a "cleaning out" period in which government bureaus with their armies of employes would fall right and left.

But, in the OWI case, the expense goes on. The taxpayer is continuing to support thousands of former OWI workers. When the "kill" order came, the bureau's gobs of foreign workers were not handed pink slips; instead, they were transferred to the State department trough.

This practice has been common in the national government since the first roll of red tape was christened in 1932. Even now, there seems no early relief from the bureaucrats.

The taxpayer pays and pays.

An inventor who has blue-printed a rocket ship which he says will carry passengers to the moon has received voluntary offers to accompany him on the first trip from several hundred persons, of whom we are not one of which.

SUCCESS AND TRAGEDY

XV

The Colon season opened with a really fantastic bill—far more important and costly than the previous year. The Argentines had made so much money on the World War, they did not care what anything cost them.

I had one success after another from the very first night and was treading on air. All the teamwork I had done the previous year at the Colon and during a short engagement with Nemanoff at the Empire was a perfect base for us to work on. He was just a little taller than I, and though not handsome, made a magnificent appearance on the stage. He was powerfully built and as fair as I was dark—always an interesting contrast for dancers. I was also having a personal success, with all the admirers I could possibly want and a lot I did not want. When I looked in retrospect at ever been so weak and stupid as to have got myself involved in a marital tangle.

Because I could find no hotel both good and inexpensive, I found a tiny house on a quiet street close to a shady park where I could have all the animals I wanted without interference and a large studio where I could install a piano and practice. Number 1420 Juncal was the address of this house which was very lucky for me and became quite famous in Buenos Aires.

I did not dare to write mother that I was actually living all alone in my own house and did not think it was diplomatic to tell father either, but of course I wrote the entire story about Leslie to him. He replied saying that the subject of my marriage was very painful and that he would prefer not to hear or write any more about it.

Life was very pleasant in Buenos Aires that year—I don't remember a dull moment.

I was making and saving money. My only extravagance was the parties I gave in Juncal for my fellow dancers. I got on well with all of them and we had some riotous times on beer and sandwiches, generally after the show—for we were all too serious to think of letting any amusements interefere with our work.

Many of the girls in the ballet had got themselves tangled up in sentimental complications, but I always steered clear of anything of the sort. Although I never used my husband's name except for business purposes or told anyone except my best friends about my marriage, I felt I owed him at least enough respect to keep myself to myself and concentrate on the work I had left him for.

I gained more confidence in myself as the season went on and began to think seriously about trying out an idea I had for a ballet. I made a plan of it and showed it to a good friend of mine, Auguste Maurage, a composer and concert violinist of outstanding merit. He had come to the Colon, first as first violinist with Saint-Saens and then with the Pavlova company. He liked my idea so much that, after studying it, he said he would write the music and we would produce it together if it was successful. We worked on the ballet "Harlequin Noir" in my studio, and I designed the decor and costumes and planned out the choreography with Nemanoff.

The season of the Colon was to finish in Buenos Aires with some "farewell" popular fuctions, and rumors had been flying about ever since Rio that, in spite of the colossal success, everything was not well and that Bonetti had been losing money. It seemed incredible, for the Colon had been packed for every show. Bonetti undoubtedly had a terrific salary sheet to cover, and I suppose the general intake was not up to his expectations. We continued working unusually late in the season, giving command performances for the Presidents of Argentina, Uruguay and Brazil. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bonetti were worried about something, I could tell, and I felt terribly sorry for them—they were such a grand couple. Some of the big stars who had earned thousands of dollars sulked and muttered in corners about the Bonettis' being broke.

The climax came when the season in Buenos Aires was nearly over. I was up in the wardrobe room with Madame Bonetti one afternoon, checking ballet costumes that were to be sent back to Italy, when her son came running upstairs looking for her. After talking to him she turned white and asked me to accompany her. We hurried down to Mr. Bonetti's office. Stagehands and the office personnel were standing about looking scared. I felt a chill creep over me when Madame Bonetti tried to open the office door and found it locked. She could get no answer from within, so young Bonetti, nearly beside himself, broke down the door. Mr. Bonetti was unconscious in his chair, with a loaded revolver clenched in his hand. He had suffered a stroke at the precise moment he was about to pull the trigger.

The Bonettis were ruined, and there was nothing for poor Madame to do but take her sick husband and, together with her son, return to Italy. Mario Carelli remained to close the Colon. I never heard what happened to the Bonettis except that they sold their home to pay up everything they owed, and that Mr. Bonetti was an invalid.

(To Be Continued)

Mrs. Roosevelt Not Sure Of HST Policy

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26 (AP)—The widow of Franklin D. Roosevelt, architect of the United Nations conference, says she is not sure that President Truman's foreign policy will help create "a peaceful world."

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, at a press conference preceding an address last night before the Pennsylvania Citizens' Political Action committee here, asserted the United States' "first line of defense" is "the making of a sound peace."

"It would be most unfortunate," she said, "for the sake of future generations if efforts towards a sound peace are unsuccessful."

The former first lady, pressed for her opinion on the administration's military training program, pointed out that President Truman's address to Congress stated "his support of a training program, but it in no way stipulated what the military training program would consist of."

This, she said, is a major fault.

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

WHENEVER my wife and I go away for awhile, Deuce, our little Sealyham, goes into mourning.

He sits by the door with the saddest expression in his eyes or crawls into the hall closet where there are delicious smells of his master and mistress, and whenever he hears the sound of an automobile he perks up his ears in hope that it will be ours.

Then, when the glorious moment arrives, he lets out delighted yips, races to the back door stands on his hind legs, scratches, and madly wags his tail.

When the door is opened, he races for the barn where the car is kept, but——

On the way to the barn, there are several trees. Deuce inspects every one of them and blazes his personal trail. Then some other thing will attract his attention and he stops to inspect it.

BRANDEIS

By that time my wife and I are well on the way to the house from the barn and Deuce—contentiedly, but rather disinterestedly — waddles alongside, by his time much more interested in the contents of whatever packages we may be carrying than in our homecoming.

We are home again, that is enough.

Deuce, loves us, there's no doubt about that. But it's only when we are away that he really shows how much he loves us.

When we are home—well, that's the way it should be, and there is nothing much to get excited about.

Deuce is only a dog, and yet, —is he very much different from us humans?

Don't we, too, take our loves too much for granted?

Don't we too find so many other things to interest us and to keep us occupied that love becomes something that's taken for granted and realized only when it's missed?

Some poet I forget who, said that love is like a tender plant, and must be watered and nurtured all the time, else it will perish.

WELL, fortunately love is a much hardier plant than any begonia or rose that I have ever seen.

When I see some of my married friends (among whom I count myself), I wonder sometimes how it is that love hasn't withered long ago.

When I see the sloppy, careless matter-of-fact way in which love is treated in most households, I realize what tremendously strong plant love must be to withstand the terrible abuse it gets.

And yet human nature being what it is, I guess it will go on this way forever.

At least we know that little Deuce loves us dearly—in his fashion.

And, at least most wives and husbands know that their spouces also love them—in their fashion.

Probably it is better to have a love that keeps you warm than the kind that keeps you drunk.

Political Lines Form

Opposing Parties Look To 1946

WASHINGTON
By Albert Leman
(Ray Tucker Is On Vacation)

AS ANGRY disputes over reconversion and foreign policy mount, canny observers here believe they detect signs that the Democrats are losing public support and may toboggan in next year's elections as a result.

The Republicans need only 28 more seats to gain control of the House. In the last compaign they lost by less than five per cent in 30 Congressional districts and by less than 10 per cent in 45. Chairman Herbert Brownell, jr., has been in Washington telling his party workers that with a bit more organized effort at "grass root" levels the GOP will grab off these marginal bailiwicks.

Chairman Bob Hannegan is not disturbed by current indications of waning Democratic popularity or by renewed activities of his rivals. He doesn't overlook that 22 districts went Republican by less than two per cent; a little extra Democratic energy in those places might bump off sitting Republicans.

DEMOBILIZATION: The constant stream of party workers through Hannegan's spacious and luxurious office indicates that his own party organization is not asleep. In fact, not in years have the Democrats kept such close tab on precinct politicos. Small fry chiefs are given large colored portraits of President Truman to take home to show their followers that the local bosses stand in with the bigwigs in Washington.

LEMAN

It is almost a law of political mathematics that whenever the ballots in numerous district elections reach a certain figure the Democrats win. Hannegan's county committees already are mobilizing to get out the vote.

Sen. Alben W. Barkley and Rep. John W. McCormack, Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill, do not worry over the shafts of criticism shot by the GOP. Secretly they declare that their partisan foes are using up their ammunition before the campaign really starts. By the time election rolls around they expect verbal blasts against strikes and OPA to sound stale. The more pressure Republican congressmen exert on the military to speed up demobilization, the sooner that troublesome subject will be settled.

FORCE: The GOP shot too soon in the last campaign with the issue of bureaucracy — its bumping personnel, its expense, its regimentation. McCormack egged on the Republicans until the Congressional Record was packed with premature assaults on the system. Reforms were made and by the time electioneering started the whole subject was old stuff. Had the GOP held its fire, it might have drawn blood.

Administration leaders on Capitol Hill are agreed that Congress must do something for labor soon. So far, most of the emphasis in reconversion measures is on matters which help business — lower taxes on profits, removal of restraints, unleashing of raw materials, surplus property etc.

CIO delegates have been in town buttonholing the Senators and Congressmen of 33 states, urging stronger support for labor.

They have some promises but they have angered many of their old friends. The main trouble is that Phil Murray's crowd even now has not learned how to deal with those outside a union. His men have won their victories in industry by a display of brute force.

AID: They do not realize that they cannot browbeat all Administration officials by pounding the table and threatening what they will do on Election Day. If they were smarter, they would vary their tactics — using persuasive arguments here and blunt warnings there, according to their audiences. But they are a Johnny-one-note outfit whose principle method is "muscle."

Administration lieutenants will try to block labor-baiting measures and pass full employment and higher minimum wage laws. They want a generous unemployment compensation bill and plead that it is not the fault of the Democrats in Washington it state laws limit benefits. Even in a watered form "tide-over payments" will aid discharged seamen and federal employes.

COURSE: If President Truman puts up a real fight against Republicans and conservative Democrats for pro-labor measures, Capitol Hill leaders contend that Northern Democratic congressmen cannot be blamed by their constituents for what an alliance of the GOP and anti-New Deal Democrats does to the bills. Party bosses say that liberal proposals are usually bottled up in committees; when they reach the floor they are passed by the Democratic majority.

Leaders in all walk of life ask Postmaster General Hannegan to tell them privately whether the President at heart is for the left or the right.

Bob always replies that Mr. Truman's mind does not work that way. The President decides each question that comes before him without reference to ideologies; he takes the course he believes is the right one regardless of whether it is conservative or liberal.

TRANSITION: Naturally, that is the impression of the man in the White House Bob hopes to give the public. But Republicans scoff at this build-up.

They do not believe that so politically astute an expert as Harry Truman is quite so uninterested in partisanship as Bob pictures. They do not blame the President for wanting to act wisely; their chief criticism is that in a crisis he does not act quickly enough, or he says one thing today and the reverse tomorrow.

Those close to the President assert that he will not be rushed. He thinks the transition period from war to peace must necessarily have its confusions which will soon pass; that the noise is not the death rattle of our system but the sound of its growing pains.

RESULTS: The President has been urged by one group of visitors to bring matters to a head by making a sizzling attack on business and thus demonstrate to the workers that he is for them. Another set has hurried to the White House and, pointing to the headlines about strikes, has begged him to lambaste Lewis, Green and Murray before the public turns against him.

His close associates say that he listens courteously but is not impressed by either suggestion. He already has taken certain steps which he believes will ease pressures and has formulated other plans — as yet unannounced.

He meets daily many important people whose names do not appear on the official White House calendar. The guests exert strong influence in various segments of our population. The President talks frankly with them about his objectives so that he will have their support and that of their followers when he is ready to publish his next move.

That method, maintain his friends, is getting results — more results than would the brandishing of a big stick or impulsive acts.

POLICIES: Bob Hannegan does not want price ceilings broken. He fears that inflation will hit hardest the white collared class and federal employes whose wages would not go up with prices.

A recent Republican survey showed that in most close Congressional districts the deciding vote in favor of the Democrats was cast by persons on the government aid and payroll lists. There may be a link between this statistical revelation and Bob's "hold-the-line" policies.

The request of a Denver man, who died recently, that a barrel of liquor be served to those who attended his funeral, was carried out. The number of happy mourners at his funeral was said to have exceeded 500.

Our attitude towards any job we ought to do: "Eventually — why not tomorrow?"

There is a limit to almost anything except the number of wrong ways a golf ball can be hit.

Boss Sets Higher Standards For Workers

Labor Problem Getting Complex

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

CLEVELAND —. Much is being said about what appears to be a current paradox.

This is the existence of large pools of unemployed war workers while jobs are available. It is true that there are not nearly enough jobs to go around, even if it were merely a simple matter of putting jobless into jobs, willy-nilly.

The more you dig into it, the more complex it becomes.

STOKES

One contributing factor that has been underemphasized is the increasing choosiness of employers. They are raising their standards. The reason for this is fairly obvious and is natural.

The employer looking for help finds a large work force from which to choose. He doesn't have to take just anybody. He wants the best he can find. So he passes up the less efficient in that large class of marginal workers who got jobs during the war because of the demand but are not so readily employable in ordinary times. This marginal supply of workers is churning about, shunted back and forth between employment offices and employers.

Surplus Of Workers

In the Ohio-Michigan-Kentucky region of the U. S. Employment service, which has headquarters here, on Oct. 1 there were an estimated 450,000 unemployed and 66,000 jobs available in the 16 largest metropolitan areas. A comparable ratio exists in other large industrial areas.

Once again, as in the depression, there is the disturbing problem of the older worker, the man over 45. Very few of these are being employed now. The ban is general. Here in this three-state region 75 per cept of men drawing unemployment benefits are 45 or older.

WOMEN are a big problem, too. Many of them are returning to their homes. But many also have decided from their war experience that they want to keep on working, single women who want more independence and more money to live and dress better, married women who want to improve their standard of living.

Fifty-four per cent of those on unemployment benefit rolls in the three states are women. But, of the 68,000 jobs open in this region, only 12,000 or 18 per cent were for women. Women have been barred almost altogether from factory employment. It is true, of course, that some women who have no intention of continuing to work went on the rolls to draw their benefits.

In addition to turning down women and men over 45, employers have set up many other qualifications. They have not gone so far as the color of hair or eyes, but almost in some cases.

Education Is Requirement

Education requirements are now specified by many employers. Many include even height and weight for laborers. For white collar workers there are requirements for "personality" and "appearance," which suggests that we may see again a return of the "go-getting" and "self-improvement" literature of the 1920's which told ambitious young men how to get ahead. It is a question how much consolation the older worker may get out of that one-time best seller by Walter B. Pitkin, "Life Begins At Forty."

Such qualifications are only natural. The department store owner could hardly use a husky mill worker for a floor walker or as a salesman in men's furnishings, nor would the mill-worker want such a job. There were, as every one knows, many misfits during the war. But that is over.

ALL THESE things contribute to the frustration seething under the surface in the country today.

The skilled worker, as well as those who got to regard themselves as skilled, also have their problems.

Price Ceilings To Be Lifted On 31 Foods

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Price ceiling will be removed October 31 from 52 food commodities, The OPA announced today.

At the same time they will be suspended for 90 days on three others.

The suspension applies to canned carrots and carrot juice; fresh, frozen and canned crabmeat, and vegetable seeds. The action does not affect canned carrots sold as baby or junior foods.

The suspensions and exemptions were described as "in keeping with OPA's policy of removing controls from minor items so that more time can be devoted to the job of controlling prices of major items that enter everyone's living costs."

Among commodities exempted from controls are:

Canned osyters, clams and salted lake herring; frozen beets, citrus segments, coconuts, figs, melons, mushrooms and pears; pretzels and ice cream cones; boullion cubes and bulk or packaged dehydrated vegetables except peas and beans.

Ford Plans Stepup In Plant Workers

DETROIT, Oct. 26. (U.P.)—Ford Motor company officials announced today that reconversion plans of the company call for an increase of 86,000 workers during the next 18 months.

Mml. Bricker, Ford general superintendent, said that present Ford employment stood at 104,000 workers and that the company expects it will need a payroll of 190,000 when all plants in the United States are operating at anticipated postwar capacity.

Suit Filed On Mixing Of School, Religion

CHICAGO, Oct. 26. (AP)—The Chicago Civil Liberties committee filed suit in superior court today asking a mandamus writ to prohibit release of children from public schools during school hours to attend churches or religious schools.

Landon L. Chapman, attorney for the committee, said that since 1929 it has been permissible under Chicago board of education rules for children, with their parents concent and with approval of the superintendent of schools, to be excused from regular classes for one hour a week to attend religious classes elsewhere.

The suit alleged that release of the students from public school classes to receive the religious instruction is a violation of the U. S. constitution and that the practice is opposed to the principle of separation of church and state.

Mexico Recognizes Venezuela Regime

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 26 (AP) — Foreign Secretary Francisco Castillo Najera said tonight that Mexico recognized the revolutionary government of Venezuela.

Under Mexico's "Estrada" doctrine no formal statement of recognition is needed.

Castillo Najera told Venezuela's Ambassador Jose Abel Montilla that as a consequence of the diplomatic practices derived from the application of the Estrada doctrine, the government of "Mexico will continue to maintain, through her embassy in Caracas, diplomatic relations with the revolutionary junta of the government established in that capital, and will be pleased to continue with the Venezuelan representative accredited to Mexico, the cordial relations that have united the two countries."

British Appeal

the children of Europe will toll for our own children unless we do something active now to restore the continent to economic health."

Strong Appeal Urged

Sir Arthur Salter, independent, who was adviser to the Churchill government on European reconstruction, urged the Labor government to make "a strong and urgent appeal" to the United States and Canada to join with Britain in alleviating the distress of hunger and cold in Europe.

"There is enough food and clothing and coal," he said. "But it is a matter of getting it to the proper places. And this should not be a problem either, because transport is available. It just needs to be directed into the right channels."

Marshall To Give Up Armistice Holiday

MARSHALL, Oct. 26 (AP)—Marshall business firms no longer will observe the Nov. 11 Armistice day as a holiday.

On motion of Mayor L. W. Karl, owner of a shoe firm, Marshall merchants today voted to discontinue the observance. The action was taken, they said, since World war one, "fought to end all wars, had not achieved its purpose."

STOCKS PUSH AHEAD

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP) — The stock market, on average, negotiated a further recovery today behind selected steels, utilities, rails and specialties although light selling depressed a number o leaders.

Transfers totaled 1,300,000 shares against 1,230,000 Thursday.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .5 of a point at 72.1 where it retrieved most of its recent setback.

At peaks for the year or longer with gains of fractions to two points were American Telephone, Electric Power and Light, Paramount Pictures, International Paper, R-K-O, Schenley and Electric Boat.

On the losing end were Roebuck, National Distillers, Dow Chemical, Standard Oil (NJ) and Texas Co.

Cotton

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Cotton futures followed an erratic course today as traders found the outlook on parity legislation growing more confused. In early dealings, the market advanced 65 cents a bale on mill and local buying partly influenced by news that the Thomas bill to boost parity price will come up for Senate hearing on November 8.

A statement by Rep. Sabath that he strongly opposes the similar Pac bill in the House brought about the temporary setback but market moved irregularly higher towards the close. Final prices were 10 cents a bale lower to 45 cents higher.

Futures closed 10 cents a bale lower to 45 cents higher.

starving abroad and by use of continued controls the nation will be "sharing our resources" until the emergency passes.

John D. Small, of the War Production board, told the committee that wartime inventory controls should be continued to "prevent hoarding or preemptive buying" of materials. He said he didn't know how long they should be imposed on industry but at least into next year.

Two Proposed Dates

Two bills before the committee would abandon the President's wartime powers by fixing the legal end of hostilities as of last August 14 or September 2.

Chairman Sumners (D-Tex) of the full judiciary group, called for action, asserting that many of the powers should "be returned to the Congress and the people" so that the giant government machine needed for the war effort can be decentralized.

Bulgars Demonstrate To Impress American

SOFIA, Oct. 26. (AP)—The most riotous demonstration Bulgaria has experienced in a year flared for more than an hour last night when supporters of the fatherland front and opposition followers clashed in front of the hotel Bulgaria, residence of Mark Ethridge, who is touring the Balkans on a special U. S. State department mission.

Rival efforts to demonstrate to Ethridge that public support was behind their own political groups brought on the fighting. Unmoved, Ethridge reaffirmed his hope "to arrive at the approximate truth" by personal investigation.

Ethridge, a Louisville, Ky., publisher, was dining with Sofia journalists when the crowd began gathering. He declined to show himself at a hotel window. Soon members of the opposing factions outside began attempting to shout each other down. Rioting followed.

The throng had originally gathered to attend a memorial service for Grigor Chesmehmdjiev, Bulgarian patriot whose funeral last Sept. 18 was the occasion for the first meeting of the political opposition in Bulgaria since the war.

South African Boers are of Dutch, French, Huguenot, German and British descent.

American Business In Pacific Is Resumed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—The State department said today it expected prompt re-establishment of American business operations in the Pacific area and listing five steps taken to facilitate it:

1. Resumption after Nov. 1 of regular steamship service between the U. S. and the Far East, with acceptance of private shipments.
2. Early restoration of commercial air transportation across the entire Pacific area.
3. War department agreement to furnish food, quarters and local transportation to American businessmen traveling in the Far East when such accomodations otherwise would not be obtainable.
4. Re-establishment of commercial communications facilities with principal cities, and efforts to bring early re-establishment of banking services.
5. Resumption of American consular service in the principal Chinese cities and at Hong Kong, Manila and Singapore.

Einstein's Views

that it would be released in my time."

"The release of atomic energy," says Einstein, "has not created a new problem. It has merely made more urgent the necessity of solving an existing one. As long as there are sovereign nations possessing great power, war is inevitable.

"I do not believe the secret of the bomb should be given to the United Nations organization. I do not believe it should be given to the Soviet Union. Either course would be like the action of a man with a capital, who, wishing another man to work with him on some enterprise, should start out by simply giving his prospective partner half of his money. The second man might choose to start a rival enterprise, when what was wanted was his cooperation.

Should Keep Secret

"Since the United States and Britain have the secret of the atomic bomb and the Soviet Union does not, they should invite the Soviet Union to prepare and present the first draft of a constitution. That action should help to dispel the distrust which the Russians already feel because the bomb is being kept a secret . . . obviously the first draft would not be the final one."

Einstein explains that the atomic bomb secret is something we cannot hold very long.

"I know," he says, "it is argued that no other country has money enough to spend on the development of the atomic bomb . . . it is a mistake often made in this country to measure things by the amount of money they cost." In fact, says Einstein, men and materials and the decision to use them, and not money, are all that is needed.

After the three powers have adopted a constitution for a world government, he says the smaller nations should be invited to join. They should be free, also, to refuse. And they should be entitled to propose changes if they join.

Einstein would give this world government power over all military matters, and authority to intervene in countries where a minority is oppressing a majority and creating the kind of instability that leads to war. He cited Argentina and Spain as examples.

"There must be," he declared, "an end to the concept of non-intervention, for to end it is part of keeping the peace."

He thinks atomic power will become useful, even to driving an auto or flying a plane, but not for a long time. Thus, he concludes "I have to say that for the present it is a menace."

ately determined.

The WLB members came here at the governor's invitation. He said he wished to obtain from them, among other things, factual information regarding work stoppages.

He said he was informed that there were 87 work stoppages in the region (Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana) from 1943 through Aug. 30, 1945, involving 27,740 employes and the loss of 967,441 man-hours of work. Based on the number of workers under WLB jurisdiction in the region and the number of man-hours worked in a comparable period the work stoppage loss was eighty-eight ten thousands of one per cent, the governor commented.

CIO's Political Action Committee Is Scored

DALLAS, Oct. 26. (AP) — Denouncing the political action committee of the CIO as "the largest and most dangerous pressure group in the country at this time," Rep. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls said he planned to vote against a PAC program due to come up before the House soon.

"The rank and file of (PAC) membership are perhaps no better or no worse than the rank and file of citizens generally," the congressman said before a luncheon club here yesterday. "But many Communists," he said "have infiltrated into CIO leadership. Some are wolves in sheep's clothing and others are known racketeers."

Nazi Ambassador To Paris Is Arrested

PARIS, Oct. 26. (UP) — French authorities today confirmed the arrest in Germany of Otto Abetz, Nazi ambassador to Paris during the occupation and indicated he would be returned to France for trial as a war criminal.

The ministry of the Interior said Abetz was arrested in the French occupation zone of Germany and was being held in a village near the Swiss border.

Abetz served Germany as a fifth column leader in France before the war and after the occupation he played a major role in directing the Vichy government's collaboration with Germany. He has been blamed directly for the shooting of many French hostages.

The Gallup Poll:

Victory Loan Drive Workers To Have Tough Job, Survey Shows

By GEORGE GALLUP, DIRECTOR
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J.—Workers in the Victory Loan drive starting next week have a hard job cut out for them.

Perhaps the biggest single task facing them if they are to meet the individual (Series E) bond quota of two billion dollars is to convince an important segment of the population that it is still important to buy bonds even though the war has now ended.

This is indicated by results of a nation-wide survey showing that as many as one in every five American voters look upon the purchase of bonds as no longer necessary or important. The question in the survey:

"Some people say that since the war is over it is no longer important nor is there any need to buy war bonds. Do you agree or disagree?"

Replies:

Agree	22%
Disagree	67
No Opinion	11

The fact that two-thirds think it is still not necessarily mean that two-thirds intend to buy them. Many people who say they have bought no bonds at all during the war are willing to agree that it is still important to buy them.

What today's results do emphasize is that canvassers going from house to house in the drive may find it desirable to give prospective purchasers full reasons why bond buying continues to be important.

Here are the salient reasons why the government considers it important for everyone to buy bonds in the Victory Lan drive.

If inflation influences are to be retarded an estimated 30-billion-dollar surplus of income over current civilian production for the year must be kept out of the market for goods and services. The aim is to take part of the surplus out of the market by bond purchases.

There is also the tremendous cost of maintaining the Army and Navy, which even in June, 1946 will number roughly two million men and women.

There is the cost of mustering out pay, roughly two billion dollars, and the cost of hospitalization and rehabilitation of wounded men.

Wives Find Much Trouble Meeting Working Hubbies

DALLAS, Oct. 26. (UP)—Dallas traffic officers are firm believers in the adage that there's a time and place for everything, including such a simple act as meeting one's wife after work for a ride home.

In a gesture to overcome snarled traffic conditions in downtown Dallas during the late afternoon, the officers have appealed to married folk to arrange their evening rendezvous on side streets several blocks from the heavy traffic streets.

Joe J. Murray, city traffic education director, believes the hubby-meets-wife problem is one of the biggest he faces. He said in personal tours of crowded streets he has seen wives circle their husbands' place of business five times waiting for him to show up.

J. W. Monk, acting supervisor of public utilities here, chimed in with statistics showing that at least 15,000 downtown workers reach home by private cars each evening. He said tests showed that traffic policemen can move nearly twice as many cars through a green light by using their "pep squad" techniques as will pass a green light which is unattended.

Texas Regents Not To Name President Soon

AUSTIN, Oct. 26. (AP) — The board of regents of the University of Texas announced formally today it has no intention of immediately electing a president of the university.

Chairman Dudley K. Woodward, Jr., of Dallas added in a written statement at the beginning of a meeting:

"In the interval however the board and the faculty advisory committee will pursue diligently the search for men qualified for the presidency."

He made no further comment.

The acting presidency of the university has been held for a year by Dr. T. S. Painter, professor of zoology. He was chosen after the dismissal of President Homer P. Rainey last November.

Dr. J. C. Dolley, professor of banking, has been named vice-president of the school.

McMahon Named To Head Atomic Group

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—President of the Senate McKellar (D-Tenn) today appointed Senator McMahon (D-Conn) as chairman of the special Senate committee on atomic energy.

Selection of the freshman senator ended a controversy between McMahon, sponsor of the legislation to set up a special committee, and older democratic senators who sought the important chairmanship.

McKellar also named other members of the new group.

Other democrats include Senators Edwin C. Johnson (Colo) and Connally (Tex).

Republicans include Senator Millikin (Colo).

Governor Disclaims Authority In Case

NORWALK, Conn., Oct. 26. (AP)—Governor Raymond E. Baldwin has told Mrs. Mary Kovacs that he has "no power or authority" to grant her request that he reopen the case against Mrs. Imogene Stevens who shot and killed her 19-year-old sailor son, Albert.

The governor, in a letter made public here today, said he had given the request "careful consideration."

Mrs. Kovacs had appealed to the governor, asserting in a long letter that she was dissatisfied with the action of State's Attorney Lorin W. Willis in dropping a manslaughter charge against Mrs. Stevens, 24-year-old wife of a New Canaan Army major. Willis said "all the evidence" tended to support Mrs. Stevens' contention that she shot young Kovacs in self defense.

The governor told Mrs. Kovacs he was among those "who feel a very keen sympathy for you," but that there was nothing "that leads me to doubt the integrity" of Willis or Judge Ernest A. Inglis who granted the prosecutors' request to drop the charge.

Cupid Wins Soldier At Ship's Gangplank

SEATTLE, Oct. 26. (AP)—Cupid overtook Pvt. Raymond A. Prentiss of Los Angeles yesterday at the gangplank 15 minutes before he sailed for Nagasaki, Japan, with his army company.

Today he is a married man at sea, literally, and his bride, tennis star Mary Arnold, is heading back to their home city of Los Angeles to await his return.

Private Prentiss got the license here and Miss Arnold left Los Angeles with her mother, Monday, racing the sailing date of the soldier's transport.

"We got to the pier just as Raymond was starting up the gangplank," said the bride, one of the nation's ranking tennis players. "He said 'you just made it, honey.'"

The two, who met last January while both were employed in scientific research at California Institute of Technology, were married by the port chaplain in a dockside cargo receiving office. They used the wedding band of the bride's grandmother and the girl employes in the office pooled their flowers for a bridal bouquet.

Troubles Of Chinese Army Chiefs Grow As Cleanup Of Nation Begins

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. — These are troublous times for Chinese commanders, and the cares of the day weigh more heavily on none than Gen. Fu Tso-Yi.

Fu is a husky, comparatively young (50) Army commander who has been called a warlord. Just now Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek has given him the difficult assignment of recovering Chinese territory in the strategic northern provinces of Suiyuan, Chahar and Jehol.

WHITE

His forces represent one of those prongs of central government authority which are reaching hopefully back into Japanese-occupied North China.

Other prongs have the benefit of American air transport assistance which can set them down hundreds of miles and months ahead of ground strategy.

Long March Ahead

But not Fu's troops, who must march through the arid foothills of the Mongolian plateau or ride on what rolling stock the Japanese have left on the one available railway. There are no airports to accommodate big air transport movements.

Only yesterday was it announced in Chungking that the Russians had agreed to give back that part of Inner Mongolia they had occupied, and to give it back to Fu rather than to the Chinese Communists.

While this appeared to pull the rug from under the Chinese Communists (who are talking of moving their capital up to Kalgan, a cold place indeed but cozily near Communist Outer Mongolia) they apparently had other eggs in other baskets.

Today Fu sent Communist leader Mao Tze-Tung a very hot message accusing him of trying to move 100,000 Red troops northward into the Fu bailiwick.

"There's a limit to our patience," telegraphed Fu, adding that his troops thus far had held their fire when allegedly attacked by the Reds.

"I must make it crystal clear that I have received no order from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek to return fire," he said, thereby making clear a couple of other things. One was that he would welcome such an order unless Mao controls his boys, and the other was that he wanted a clearer policy from Chiang to follow.

May Be Important Key

All of which adds up to the probability that this man may become an important key in what happens in this area whic his remote and isolated but of great strategic importance.

Central government and Communist forces both are trying to fill the vacuum left by surrendering Japanese, and the policy of Soviet Russia, while clear and unmistakable in treaties signed with Chungking, easily can be kicked around by interested local parties.

Fu Tsoayi, back in the news after eight years of running an exiled provincial government in a mud village, is right in the middle of it.

Industry Sees Good News For Tire Users

AKRON, O., Oct. 26 (U.P.)—Two of the tire industry's top men had some good news for American motorists today.

E. J. Thomas, president of Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., told a group of 16 reporters making a national reconversion survey that "Washington sources" he wouldn't identify, had informed him tire rationing would be ended by Dec. 31.

A short time later John W. Thomas, chairman of the board of Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., told the same group that if "everything goes well" motorists ought to get all the tires they need sometime in the first quarter of next year.

They'll be all synthetic rubber for some time to come, except for truck and bus tires which rate some natural rubber because of the rough beating they must take.

News Briefs

T/Sgt. George Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Adams of 2011 Eighth, has been discharged from the armed service and has returned to civilian life in Lubbock. In service five years, he spent two years of this time overseas.

A "song feast" will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Amos chapel, a negro church at 312 Seventeenth.

Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Wiley, formerly of Lubbock and now of Wichita Falls, are the parents of a son born Friday afternoon at Wichita Falls. Wiley is a partner in the Commercial Truck and Equipment company.

J. C. Evans, jr., former Texas Tech student who recently received his discharge from the Army Air Forces, was on the campus Friday conferring with college officials about reentering school in January. Evans, whose grade was a technical sergeant, served 12 months in the European Theater of Operations with the AAF as a gunner on a B-24. He will visit friends in Lubbock until Sunday when he will return to his home in San Angelo.

High School's Honor Society On Program

Lubbock High school chapter of the National Honor society presented an assembly program in the auditorium Thursday.

A large emblem, representing the club pin, was placed in the center of the stage. The program opened with an introductory speech by Ken Hancock, president of the club. Martha Bucy sang "The Lord's Prayer" and James Allen gave a history of the club.

An interpretation of the emblem was given by Billy Adair. Speeches were made on the three main principles of the club by Nelda Chapman, Frank Kerr and Russell Logan. New members were presented with membership cards by Gloria Novak, secretary.

The program was concluded with a song presented by Martha Bucy, Rosemary Dawkins, Mary Frances Payne and Carolyn Cole.

Guard For Atom Scientists Is Sought

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (U.P.) — Two senators called today for special armed guards to protect America's atomic bomb experts against kidnaping and extortion.

Acting Chairman Edwin C. Johnson, D., Colo., of the Senate military affairs committee, believed the scientists would "let themselves be shot" before divulging the bomb producing secrets.

Nevertheless, he said, they should be under guard to keep from being exposed to any such danger. Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R., Ia., agreed.

Livestock Show, Sale Is Set In City Today

The eighth consignment show and sale of purebred Duroc gilts and boars will get under way this morning at 10 o'clock with the judging of the 63 entries in the Swine barn of the Panhandle-South Plains fair grounds. The show is sponsored by the West Texas Duroc Breeders association.

The sale is to begin at 2 o'clock this afternoon with Kenneth Bozeman, president of the association and widely known auctioneer, handling the sales.

Stangel Will Judge

The show and sale is to be made up of spring gilts and boars farrowed between February 1 and June 1 of this year. W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture at Texas Tech college, will judge entries.

A free lunch will be served at noon by the East Side Home Demonstration club.

Coleman Cowan secretary-treasurer of the association, has announced that mail bids will be handled by Jim Milliholland, fieldman for the Duroc News; Stangel, or Ray Mowery, professor of animal husbandry at Tech.

Clerks for the show are Jason O. Gordon and W. B. Griffin, Lubbock county and assistant county agriculture agents, respectively, and L. M. Hargrave, vocational agriculture agent of Wolfforth.

To Furnish Certificates

Cowan also announced that registration certificates properly transferred will be furnished with each animal. Crates will be furnished by the consignors for shipping only. A separate check for $5 will be necessary for each crate, to be refunded when the crate is returned.

One of the highlights of the sale will be the auction of five littermates of the "biggest boar in the biggest state," owned by T. H. (Harry) Duvall of Roaring Springs. The boar, which may or may not be on exhibit, officially weighed 430 pounds at six months and 22 days of age.

C. L. Franz of Turkey is vice president of the association, the only officer other than Bozeman and Cowan. Directors are L. D. Whitehead of Ralls, D. P. Clark of Canyon, Duvall and T. D. Julian of Lubbock.

Cowan said the show and sale is not a profit-making affair. It is aimed, he said, at promoting the Duroc breed in West Texas and is only an indirect business venture through the medium of advertising.

Storm-Tossed Mines Damage British Coast

LONDON, Oct. 26 (U.P.)—Exploding mines washed up by a gale raging through its fourth day caused damage reminiscent of the German raids along the south coast of England today.

Mountainous seas cast up mines at scattered points all along the shore. Sections were roped off awaiting naval disposal squads assigned to handle the mines.

Explosions at Shoreham near Brighton and near Victoria pier at Folkestone blasted windows for 500 yards inland and strewed wide areas with shattered glass and other debris.

Scores of ships took up positions along the coast in hope of riding out the storm which disrupted channel shipping. At least 40 were bunched off Deal in the Straits of Dover, several dragging anchors and endangering themselves and others.

Farm Producers Meet Opens At 10 O'Clock

Beginning at 10 o'clock this morning a farm producers meeting will be held in the Lubbock hotel, sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau Federation.

Reconversion and postwar problems facing agriculture will be chief topics to be discussed. W. R. Tilson of Meadow, a member of the state board of directors representing this district, will preside at the session.

Purpose of the meeting, one of a series of 14 being held throughout the state, is to bring farm and ranch people first hand information concerning the problem of postwar prices, according to J. Walter Hammond, state president.

G. H. Nelson heads the Lubbock county bureau.

Murder Defendant Nabbed In Denver

FORT WORTH, Oct. 26. (U.P.)—Bruce (Tiny) Floyd, jr., wanted in Fort Worth on charges of murder, has been arrested in Denver, Colo., the sheriff's office was notified today.

Floyd was arrested as a burglary suspect and identified through a circular mailed throughout the country after he failed to appear for trial in connection with the fatal stabbing April 26 of William Bonnie Walker of Weatherford. He was out on bond of $10,000 at the time of his non-appearance in court.

NAVY COMING HOME

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP) — U. S. naval headquarters said today that of 18,200 naval officers and men stationed in the European theater Aug. 15, a total of 16,690 had been sent home for inactive duty or discharge by Oct. 15. A further decrease of 52 per cent in personnel was planned by Dec. 1.

Statehood Plebiscite In Alaska Predicted

DALLAS, Oct. 26 (U.P.)—A plebiscite will probably be held, among the 70,000 people of Alaska soon to see if that territory should become the forty-ninth state of the union, predicted Congressman Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls.

When the results of the plebiscite are known, Congress will then consider admitting the new state into the American union, the congressman, member of the House committee on territorial affairs, said when in Dallas yesterday.

Some Alaskans oppose statehood because it would mean increased taxation and much local responsibility thatthe people hesitate to accept, he added.

"Alaska needs modern and cheap transportation, freedom from absentee ownership, and relaxation of federal hold on much of its richest resources," he said.

Venezuela Soon Is To Get Recognition

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — Recognition of the new revolutionary government in Venezuela by the United States and most other American republics is imminent, the State department said today.

In response to questions from newsmen, a department spokesman said that it is likely that the date for recognition of the new regime will be set within two days. This government has not yet heard from all the other American republics on the matter, he added.

TEXAN CRASH VICTIM

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (U.P.) — The War department today identified the 19 Army men killed when their plane crashed last Sunday near Anchorage, Alaska. The victims and next of kin include: Sgt. Eastle L. Wammack; Mrs. Roxie Wammack, mother, Grand Prairie, Tex.
