TORNADO WRAPS HOME AROUND TREE—The John Kuhlman home near Buckley, Ill., was smashed and wrapped around a tree by a tornado that roared through the midwest. All other buildings on the farm were demolished and Kuhlman was injured when the barn collapsed.

SEATO Conference Winds Up With Blast At Soviet Leaders

Reds Accused Of Creating Disunity

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — SEATO ministers accused Soviet leaders tonight of attempting through recent statements and other activities, to "increase tension and promote division among Asian communities."

Other free nations also are targets of the Russian campaign, the ministerial council of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization declared in a communique issued at the windup of a three-day meeting.

The six-page communique said the Soviet attempt is being carried on through "statements and interventions." No leaders were named, but the phrase obviously was intended to encompass the recent visit by Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin to India, Burma and Afghanistan, which stirred up several simmering controversies.

"The council deplored statements and interventions by Soviet leaders . . . designed to increase tension and promote division in Asian communities and among other nations of the free world," the communique said.

It added that all eight SEATO members recognize that the sovereignty of Pakistan extends to the present Afghanistan border and includes the Pushtoonistan area that Afghanistan wants converted into a separate tribal state.

It said the region falls within the SEATO area as outlined in Article 4 of the Manila treaty, which provides that all member nations consult on common action in event of aggression.

In the conference yesterday Pakistan got backing from the other members in her call for a plebiscite in Kashmir, disputed between Pakistan and India. The SEATO action got sharp reaction in New Delhi.

Secretary of State Dulles told his seven colleagues in today's closed session the United States is keeping a strong military guard on Southeast Asia.

In a public statement Dulles said those who study the record of this meeting "will find that much was accomplished."

"I hope they will also find evidence of the spirit which made this accomplishment possible," he said. "We were drawn together and we are held together by the noblest and most enlightened human sentiments—that is, a desire to help one another.

"To that sentiment is added another — the quality of courage which impels us to face danger together and not to seek immunity in the hope that someone else will suffer first from aggression. So long as those two sentiments animate our countries, this organization will be strong and productive of much good."

Hall, Butler Battle Over '56 Campaign

KANSAS CITY (AP)—GOP Chairman Leonard Hall says President Eisenhower is ready for full-time duty in a second term but even if he could spend only halftime at the job he would be better than anyone the Democrats have.

This observation came in a political battle of wits between Hall and Democratic Chairman Paul Butler last night on the Kansas City Press Club Griddle Show.

Butler promised the Democrats would retire Eisenhower completely next Nov. 6. And he said it was the President and not the Democrats who had injected health nito the campaign.

Butler contended special interest on the Republican side and a Democratic program for all the people was the paramount issue. But he added:

"President Eisenhower is the first President ever to suffer a heart attack in office. And I say to you, Mr. Hall, it will be a sad day when the American people cannot question the physical and moral fitness of the man who heads our great government."

"Heart attack?" replied Hall. "Why many of my friends in government have had heart attacks and are carrying on as well as ever."

"Yes, and some of them are elsewhere," Butler rejoined.

The somewhat heated exchange was more or less expected as the club's interrogators first needled both Hall and Butler with humorous but provocative questions. Roy Roberts, president of the Kansas City Star, was moderator.

The fireworks started when Hall was asked if the Democrats were going to make Eisenhower's health a campaign issue. It got even hotter when Butler was asked to tell why the Democrats should be returned to office.

Cartoonist Walt Kelly, also on the program, broke up rebuttals and sur-rebuttals with drawings and verbal support for his candidate—Pogo ("If you sweep him in you can sweep him out just as easy").

But at times there was no stopping the avalanche of political claims.

Butler wanted to talk about a billion-dollar drop in farm income last year and blamed the Republicans for it. And he said the small business man is complaining his volume and profits are down while the big corporations report increased earnings.

Hall said Butler "approached the brink of truth" in his summation and Butler replied that was a "good phrase coming from a Republican." Hall said Butler neglected to tell his questioners "there are 65 million people working in this country at $11 a week more than when the GOP came into power."

TO WED RESCUER—Donna Mae Wills, 24, Minneapolis, and William Mathias, 26, of St. Paul, announced their engagement, fulfilling a romance that grew out of tragedy. Mathias, a stranger at the time, rescued Miss Wills last November when a car plunged into a river, carrying five girls to their deaths. Miss Wills was the only survivor of the tragedy.

Electrical Union Rejects Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Union today turned down a government-proposed plan for settlement of the Westinghouse strike, now in its 144th day.

James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, said the decision by the 75-member conference board of the union was unanimous.

Carey told a news conference the union's action was "not to be considered a rejection, nor could it be considered an acceptance—it might be described that the plan so far is unacceptable."

Carey said he expected to meet today with Federal Mediation Service Director Joseph Finnegan to discuss what steps might be taken toward further negotiations with the Westinghouse Electric Corp.

The company had accepted the settlement plan proposed by a three-man mediation service panel. The panel has now disbanded, saying that its job ended when it came up with its recommendations.

The IUE conference board reached its decision in a meeting which broke up just before last midnight, but Carey withheld any announcement for nearly 12 hours.

The outcome of the session was fairly obvious, however, at its close.

Emerging from the noisy meeting, Carey angrily invited one woman reporter to leave IUE male reporters who protested that action. Reporters vacated the IUE building as a group in protest.

Departing board members indicated that the strike would go on. The Westinghouse company already has accepted the settlement plan proposed by a three-man federal mediation service panel.

There were hints the union's answer might be one of conditional acceptance, offering general approval of the settlement plan with some suggestions for changes. However, panel members have left town and indicated they plan no deviation from their proposals, a stand also taken by the company.

Carey has indicated two major objections to the package settlement plan. He wanted 36 strikers, discharged for alleged strike violence, restored to jobs without the arbitration the panel had recommended. The company had agreed to rehire 57 others similarly charged.

The IUE also sought greater safeguards from the company against any wholesale transfer of workers from an incentive, or individual earnings basis, to a straight daily pay system.

One of the major issues of the strike has been union fears that the company planned a revolutionary change of worker duties and pay in a move to cut labor costs.

Otherwise, the settlement plan calls for a five-year contract with annual pay increases ranging from 5 to more than 17 cents an hour, plus pension, insurance and various other contract improvements. It was proposed, for instance, that midway in the contract the company would absorb the present $1.04 per week employe contribution for insurance.

The average pay rate before the strike began was $2.10 per hour.

First Meeting Of Recreation Group Is Held

Another Chamber of Commerce committee has held its initial meeting of the new chamber year, while one held its second meeting and named a sub-committee to work on a project.

The recreation committee, headed by Rex Miller, held its first meeting Wednesday. Truman Black was appointed to work with the Civic Affairs Committee in furnishing information to the public on the proposed bond issure for a park in the south part of town.

John Conley was appointed to work with other organizations toward development of recreation facilities at Lake J. B. Thomas, and Frank Weaver was appointed to work out details for a kids fishing derby at Towle Memorial Park.

The recreation committee also discussed the possibility of helping with Boys Club activities.

Jim Mixon, chairman of the Merchants Committee, appointed a sub-committee to work on plans for local observance of National Cotton Week. Named to the subcommittee were Bob Taylor, Jay Rogers, R. L. Dugger, Mrs. B. Luce, Mrs. Jodie Bynum, Bill Balhorn, G. L. Drake, Carl Whitfield, Olan Griffith and Weldon Kincaid.

The committee also made its recommendation for opening and closing schedules for retail business establishments. They recommended that stores open at 9 a. m. and close at 5:30 p. m. on weekdays. The closing hour on Saturdays would be 7 p. m. The committee recommended that the new schedule be put into effect on March 12.

Three Persons Die In Texas Rural Blaze

CLARKSVILLE (AP)—Three persons burned to death and three were critically burned yesterday in a rural home fire in which a logger lost his life trying to save four children.

Edward Johnson, 53, died several hours after the fire in which his daughter, Linda, 9, and granddaughter, Regina Hammond, 6, were fatally burned.

Neighbors said he and Mrs. Johnson and their daughter, Mrs. Geneva Hammond, 27, saved two other children—the Johnsons' son, Robert, 6, and the Hammonds' son, Jimmy, 8.

Neighbors who helped fight the fire in the Johnsons' small frame home four miles north of this Northeast Texas city said Johnson went again and again into the blazing structure trying to rescue the children.

It was believed the blaze began when Johnson used kerosene in trying to start a fire. The house was quickly in flames.

Attendants said Mrs. Hammond, Jimmy Carl Hammond and Robert Johnson were in critical conditions. Mrs. Johnson suffered only a slight hand burn and was not in the hospital.

Singer Hurt In Accident

CORONA, Calif. (AP)—Singer Kay Starr, hurt in a two-car crash last night, was reported in fair condition today.

Dr. Jack Magit said she had suffered shock and her neck, arms and legs were injured.

The blues singer was treated at Corona Hospital and transferred to Beverly Hills Doctors Hospital. Dr. Magit made the condition report there after, he said, extensive X-rays and laboratory tests.

Corona police said Miss Starr was driving her car to her West Los Angeles home from Elsinore, near here, when it and another car collided at an intersection.

Two companions in her car, Miss Doris Williamson, who lives with the singer, and Mrs. Lynn Riley of Santa Barbara, Calif., were treated at Corona Hospital for minor injuries.

State Crops Hit Hard By Freezing Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sub-freezing weather did heavy damage to vegetable crops in Texas early Thursday, endangered fruit trees and nipped the heat wave short.

In the Tyler area, where temperatures fell to 24, some 2,000 acres of strawberries were ruined and some peach trees in low places were hurt, said J. F. Rosenborough, specialist at the Tyler Experimental Station.

Damage to vegetables in the Houston area was extensive.

Tomatoes recently replanted from hot houses to fields also were hurt in East Texas but plum trees escaped, Rosenborough said.

Extent of damage to fruit trees, brought to blossom by recent unseasonably warm weather, cannot be determined for several days. Householders also may have to wait to assess damage to shrubs and flowering plants.

The forecast was for a warming trend expected to continue through Friday. Temperatures were expected to fall to freezing again before dawn Friday in most of West and North Texas, and in the north part of East Texas.

Heavy frost and sub-freezing temperatures did an estimated $250,000 damage to vegetable crops in the Houston area, the Houston Chronicle estimated. Louis Eckert, Harris County vegetable grower, said all unprotected tomatoes, peppers, egg plants, okra, corn and similar vegetables had been wiped out.

Harris County agent Dan Clinton said he believed little damage was done to other than vegetables. Eckert said frost was so heavy "it looked like we had a snow" in the Humble vicinity.

Preliminary reports from the Lower Rio Grande Valley indicated the area had escaped freezing weather. Weslaco had 36 degrees and Brownsville 44. Some low-lying areas farther up the Valley could have suffered damage.

Freezing weather prevailed Thursday morning in most of the state except on the coast and in parts of south Texas.

Waco had 27, Wichita Falls 26, Fort Worth and San Antonio 28, Austin 31, Beaumont and Dallas 32, Del Rio 30, Junction 21, Victoria 35, Houston 32, Galveston 41 and Laredo 42.

The mass of cold air dropped temperatures as much as 30 degress as it moved deep into the state. Brownsville, which had 91 during the afternoon, saw the mercury fall to 65 by evening. The coolest spot in Texas Wednesday afternoon was Amarillo with 40 degrees.

The Weather Bureau said skies were clear Thursday morning and that no overnight rain had been reported.

The forecast calls for a gradual warmup in the Panhandle and North and West Texas Thursday and in South Texas Friday.

Dr. Blumberg Found Guilty In Conspiracy

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dr. Albert E. Blumberg, admitted national legislative chairman of the Communist party, has been found guilty of being a member of the Red conspiracy to advocate violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

The verdict returned yesterday by a U. S. District Court jury makes Blumberg, 46-year-old former philosophy instructor at Johns Hopkins University, liabel to a maximum sentence of 10 years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine under the Smith Act.

Defense counsel Michael von Moschzisker said he would file a motion for a new trial.

The former college instructor was portrayed by opposing counsel in summation as a "violent revolutionist" and a "sincere idealist."

In his own defense, he said that although he was a member and later an officer of the Communist party for many years, he did not preach violent overthrow of the government.

Part of the government's case was the charge that Blumberg helped to organize Communist clubs among steelworkers in the Lehigh Valley of Pennsylvania and in Maryland.

Blumberg, who appeared unshaken by the verdict, was freed under $20,000 bail.

Mother, Son Are Rescued

WAKE, Va. (AP) —A 25-year-old Middlesex County mother spent a harrowing 30 minutes yesterday down a 35-foot well clinging to an iron pipe and clutching her 2-year-old son.

Mrs. John C. Estes Jr. scrambled down the well Wednesday morning after her son, Gary, when her other son, 4-year-old Johnny, came racing into the kitchen screaming "Gray's in the well."

The 112-pound mother told Johnny to get a neighbor, Josh Sadler, a quarter of a mile away.

There was no ladder or a rope and Sadler went back home for them.

Another neighbor, Rudolph Benson, joined him. The two men fastened a rope to a ladder, and lowered it into the well. Then they pulled rope, ladder, mother and son to the top.

British Are Firm On Mid-East Plan

LONDON (AP)—Britain's government stood firm today on a Middle East policy pinned to the Western Big Three pledge to block any change in Israeli-Arab boundaries by force.

Closing a turbulent House of Commons debate last night, Prime Minister Eden declared his government and the United States are working closely together to keep peace in Palestine.

He ominously warned that Britain, the United States and France had undertaken an obligation in their 1950 pledge that is "more serious than perhaps many British people realize."

The 1950 pact promises that the Big Three will act against any aggression by either the Arabs or Israel.

Eden also turned aside Laborite demands that Britain ship Israel arms to match those Communist Czechoslovakia is supplying Egypt. He said Israel should find the three-power 1950 declaration "infinitely more valuable than an agreement to be allowed to buy a certain number more tanks and airplanes, and infinitely better in the cause of peace than an arms race."

Sources in Washington said the three Western allies may soon ask the U.N. Security Council to take urgent action to prevent war in the Middle East. Should a Russian veto block the move, the Big Three would feel free to act outside the U.N.

The House of Commons divided along party lines to give Eden's government a 312-252 vote of confidence. The ballot came after the Prime Minister, in a free-swinging speech, also accused Egypt of trying to disrupt Britain's relations with Jordan through inflammatory radio broadcasts.

Jordan touched off consternation and resentment in Britain last week when she fired Lt. Gen. John Bagot Glubb, veteran British commander of her Arab Legion. In his first statement since his dismissal, Glubb said he had warned Jordan's King Hussein repeatedly that "Israel undoubtedly is stronger numerically than Jordan, which is common knowledge."

The Jordan government took a more conciliatory tone. It urged Britain to reconsider her decision to recall 15 other senior officers holding executive commands in the legion. British circles interpreted this to mean Jordan was not eager to rush into a military alliance with Egypt.

Eden told Commons that if Egypt wants friendly relations with the West, she can have them, "but not at any price."

Court Ruling On Pipeline Dispute Given

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals set aside today an order of the Federal Power Commission authorizing Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. to abandon the "Little Inch" pipeline as a natural gas carrier.

The unanimous decision instructed the FPC to consider whether future expansion of the Texas Eastern system would "argue for or against" conversion of the "Little Inch" to carrying petroleum products.

Judge David Bazelon ruled the FPC "did close its eyes to the relative advantages of the conversion in the light of future expansion."

The court acted on an appeal filed by Pittsburgh and two barge companies which carry petroleum products on the Mississippi and Ohio River systems.

Pittsburgh contended abandonment of the "Little Inch" as a natural gas pipeline ultimately would result in increased costs for gas. The barge lines said it would mean increased competition.

The FPC order authorized abandonment of the "Little Inch" pipeline between Baytown, Tex., and Moundsville, W.Va., as a gas pipeline and its conversion to petroleum products.

As a substitute, the commision authorized construction of a tie-line connecting the Baytown area of the company's Kosciusko line at Kosciusko, Miss., and additional compression facilities on the line from Kosciusko to Connellsville, Pa.

Duties Of Ike Not Reduced, Official Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House said today President Eisenhower has reduced none of his constitutional duties and has no intention of doing so.

Asst. Press Secretary Murray Snyder made the statement to newsmen in comment on an assertion by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) that Eisenhower intends to "shrink" the chief executive's office as the result of his heart attack.

"Any such contraction of the presidency as is contemplated in the Eisenhower proposal," Sparkman said last night, "cannot but upset the balances set up in our Constitution for the preservation of popular government."

Snyder, replying to newsmen's requests for comment on Sparkman's remarks, said:

"I think the President very clearly states (at news conferences) last Wednesday and again yesterday the distinction between his constitutional duties and his hospitalities duties, the latter being the department in which he has reduced his activities."

Asked whether that is the only department in which Eisenhower has reduced his activities or intends to do so, Snyder said:

"I certainly don't think he has reduced his constitutional duties."

Sparkman's contention that Eisenhower wants to "shrink" the presidency is being made also by other Democrats.

Sen. Bridges Tells Of Oil Donation Fund

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bridges (R-NH) says Elmer Patman, second-stage source of the campaign fund money which figures in the investigation of efforts on behalf of the natural gas bill, came to him about the measure last fall.

The cash has been traced in testimony from the personal funds of Howard B. Keck, president of Superior Oil Co. of Los Angeles, through the hands of Patman, Austin, Tex., lawyer for Superior Oil, to John M. Neff, Lexington, Neb., lawyer-lobbyist who made the campaign contributions and offers.

There was no suggestion of any money angle in the Patman-Bridges contact.

Bridges told newsmen yesterday that the visit was made to him in his capacity as chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, to talk about prospects for getting Senate action on the measure to relieve natural gas producers of direct federal regulation.

Englishman Steals Auto The Hard Way

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP) — Delemark Adams, 38, was sentenced to six months in jail for stealing a car the hard way—piece by piece over a period of two years.

The prosecutor said Adams, an employe of a Birmingham automobile plant, intercepted spare part shipments intended for export and hoarded them up in his barn.

He was just putting the finishing touches on his assembled car—a 100-mile-an-hour sports type—when the police caught him.

Rayburn Support For Johnson Sets Off State Political Row

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sam Rayburn's proposal that Sen. Lyndon Johnson lead the Texas delegation to the National Democratic Convention has set off chain-reaction explosions in state politics.

Rayburn, speaker of the House, also suggested that Johnson be named as the state's "favorite son" candidate for president.

But the "favorite son" proposal was overshadowed by the reaction to Rayburn's suggestion that Johnson head the Texas delegation to the Chicago convention. That utterance bumps head-on into a plan to give Gov. Shivers the post and threatens another knock-down fight between Democratic liberals and conservatives.

Johnson said he would consider Rayburn's proposals.

Some Texas congressmen endorsed Rayburn's suggestions.

Sen. Price Daniel was not available for comment.

Shivers had "no comment."

George Sandlin, chairman of the state Democratic Executive Committee and a storong Shivers supporter, had no comment.

Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, national Democratic committeeman, endorsed the "favorite son" proposal and said "if Johnson were selected by the delegation as chairman, I would be happy to cooperate with him."

Ramsey was named national committeeman in an effort to heal the party split with the approval of Shivers, Rayburn and Johnson.

Byron Skelton, chairman of the Democratic Advisory Committee, said he was "in complete agreement" with Rayburn.

The advisory council was formed by Rayburn and others in 1952 when the regular party machinery favored Dwight Eisenhower for president.

Reaction in the state to Rayburn's proposal was divided into two camps.

The so-called Loyalist group had high praise for both of Rayburn's suggestions. Conservatives who with Shivers bolted the Democratic ticket to support Eisenhower either declined comment or objected.

Rayburn made his proposals in a statement to his hometown newspaper, the Bonham Daily Favorite.

"A solution of our Texas political situation could be reached by making Sen. Lyndon Johnson Texas' favorite son," Rayburn said. "He has the character and national standing to justify Texas following this course.

"When he is made the favorite son, I think it would well follow that he should be chairman to the Chicago convention.

Showdown Nearing On Farm Measure

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's day of decision on an election year farm bill arrived today with critics accusing the Eisenhower administration of "pressure" and "political maneuvering."

Not so, said Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), leading a touch-and-go fight for retention of the administration-backed system of flexible farm price supports. Declaring that no improper pressures are being exerted, Aiken said:

"Of course the proponents of a sound farm program are doing everything possible to get a good bill. We are doing all we can and I am confident that we will win."

Chairman Ellender (D-La) of the Senate Agriculture Committee, floor manager for the bill which would scrap the administration price supports in favor of a return to rigid props, countered that "I still believe we have the votes."

Ellender said in a separate interview that the White House and the Agriculture Department "are wielding a lot of pressure on this test, particularly on cotton area senators."

Debate on the bill, largely along party lines, has been going on for nearly three weeks. At a session which lasted until after 11 p.m. last night, Senators Holland (D-Fla) and Monroney (D-Okla) exchanged sharp words over the Communist party stand on farm programs.

Effective today, the Senate has agreed to limit debate to two hours on each amendment, of which more than 70 have been offered. Ellender has been pushing for final action by the weekend.

There is no major dispute over the bill's provision of a soil bank, the administration's big 1956 recommendation. This contemplates paying subsidies to farmers who voluntarily take out of production land they otherwise would plant to crops already in surplus.

The big decision is that on price supports. Barring a switch in tactics, it may come first.

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

Three Wildcats Slated In Fisher

Three wildcats have been staked for immediate drilling in Fisher County.

Skelly Oil Co. will drill a 6,700-foot Ellenburger wildcat as No. 1 L. M. Green, in the north part of the county.

Location is 576 feet from south and 500 feet from east lines of the northeast quarter of section 179, block 2, H&TC survey and eight miles northeast of Rotan. It is one and three - quarters miles south and southwest o the two-well Lena M. Green (Strawn sand) field.

Warren D. Sorrells of Fort Worth will drill No. 1 G. A. Poe as a 6,500-foot Cambrian wildcat in Northeast Fisher County.

Drillsite is 467 feet from north and west lines of section 183, block 1, BBB&C, survey and one mile northeast of the Blockline (Swaetika) field. That makes it two miles north of Hamlin.

In East Fisher County, Hack Drilling Co. of Abilene staked location for No. 1 Myrtle Ladwig. Projected depth is 3,000 feet for a test of the Noodle Creek.

It is 840 feet from south and 330 feet from east lines of S. B. Prather survey, A-5 and six miles east of Sylvester. It is six and one-half miles northeast of the Raven Creek field.

Four West Texas counties have received [illegible] wildcat locations.

Paul C. Teas of Dallas will drill No. 1 J. B. Slaughter as an 8,600-foot rotary wildcat in South Garza County.

Location is nine miles south of Post and 330 feet from north and 530 feet from west lines of section 39, block 2, T&NO survey. The prospector is five and one-quarter miles south of production in the Garza field.

General Crude Oil Co. No. 1 W. C. Reeder is an 8,500-foot Ellenburger venture in East Borden County, three and one - quarter miles east of the Myrtle (Canyon reef) pool.

Drillsite is 1,975 feet from north and 1,993 feet from east lines of section 407, block 97, H&TC survey and three miles southwest of Fluvanna.

In East Tom Green County, J. R. McLean of Dallas and J. D. Tompkins of Abilene have spotted a 5,000 - foot Ellenburger wildcat.

It is No. 1-A J. E. Powell, 2,604 feet from north and 660 feet from most easterly east lines of section 7752 Joseph Bays survey and three miles northeast of Vancourt. That makes it one and one-quarter miles northeast of production in the Vancourt (Canyon sand) field.

The project is being drilled on a farmout from George Barnes of San Angelo. D. S. Rose Drilling Co. of Albany has the rotary contract.

Citie Service Oil Co. has filed application to drill No. 1-162 Flat Top as a 4,300-foot wildcat in Southeast Stonewall County, nine miles southeast of Aspermont.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 162, BBB&C survey and one mile north of the KMA sand discovery in the Flat Top 161 pool.

Midwest Oil Corp. No. 1-A Mildred Bond, Southwest Borden County project, was completed as a producer in the Jo-Mill (Spraberry) field, and not as a discovery as previously reported in error.

The well was finaled through perforations opposite the Spraberry sand for a daily flow of 198 barrels of 38-gravity oil, plus 36 barrels of water. The flow was through a 14-64-inch choke and shot holes from 7,146 to 7,182 feet.

Earlier, it was reported that the well finaled from the Pennsylvanian.

Operator fractured the pay section with 15,000 gallons.

Site is 13½ miles southwest of Gail, 791 feet from north and 2,300 feet from west lines of section 25, block 33, T-4-N, T&P survey.

Action Of UN On Middle East Issue Sought

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Britain and France may ask the United Nations Security Council in the next few days to take urgent action to prevent war in the Middle East.

This would test Russia's attitude toward the Arab states. The Soviet Union would have to decide whether to veto a warning which would cover the Arabs as well as Israel.

Diplomatic sources said the United States and Britain have proposed to France that a special U.N. meeting be called and that the French have indicated that they would go along.

The United States and Britain are said to have in mind a broad resolution telling both the Arabs and the Israelis to take measures to avert hostilities. Such a resolution would at least imply that if either side started a new Palestine war, it would come under U.N.'s actions.

President Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday the United States believes the U.N. "should take urgent and early action" regarding the tense Middle East. He said the U.S. position is that "both sides in the controversy should agree to abide by the United Nations' advice and armistice terms, and avoid initiating incidents so we could get peace started."

The U.N. recently censured Israel for making a raid into Syrian territory. But the United States and Britain apparently feel the Arabs should also be told to take measures for peace.

Since last year Russia has been following a predominantly pro-Arab policy. Among other things, it has sponsored the sale of arms to Egypt and Syria.

Law Suit Settlement Figure Is Corrected

A settlement figure in a damage suit reported in Wednesday's issue of the Daily News was inadvertantly listed as $1,797.12 Correct figure of the settlement reported by the attorneys was $18,797.12.

The case was a personal damage suit by Pete White against Perforating Guns Atlas Corp. Pat Beene, local attorney, represented White, while defendants were represented by Orville Smith and Paul New, both of Lubbock, and Ross Hemphill of Snyder.

Save Vision Week Slated

National "Save Your Vision Week" is being observed this week March 4-10, by local optometrists in connection with the American Optometric Association.

Purpose of the week is to focus public attention on the need for more frequent eye examinations among school children and senior citizens.

Parents and teachers are urged to be more observant of young eyes. Children must read 200 to 300 books before graduating from high school. The tremendous amount of eye work is done during a child's most formative years. One out of four children can't stand the strain and become nearsighted or partially blind in one eye, while still others develop a tremendous dislike for reading.

Senior citizens must use caution about their eyes, too, as most cases of blindness are due to neglect. Everyone past 40 should have yearly eye checkups to avoid loss of sight from cataract, glaucoma, eyestrain, diabetes, high blood pressure, cancer, kidney diseases and other eye inflammations.

Kilgore Tourney Champ

TYLER (AP)—Kilgore defeated Lon Morris of Jacksonville, 81-63, here last night for the championship of Region 14 and a berth in the National Junior College Basketball Tournament at Hutchinson, Kan., March 20.

SMORGASBORD TOUCHES OFF DISPUTE—An intraparty wrangle broke out in Manchester, N.H., when J. Walter Green, Associated Press photographer, took this picture showing Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) wearing glasses, at a women's club smorgasbord. The picture taking episode touched off a dispute during which the Democratic State Committee vice chairman told the senator, "You've got your nerve to be here in the first place." The photographer was ordered to leave and destroy his negatives. Kefauver is barn-storming the state.

Ike Statement Gets Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—Half a dozen Republican senators agreed today that President Eisenhower has put Vice President Nixon on the inside track for renomination on this year's GOP ticket.

Eisenhower said yesterday he has told Nixon to "chart his own course and tell me what he would like to do." Nixon said he had no announcement to make "as far as my own personal situation is concerned."

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said he is confident Nixon will seek renomination if the decision is his to make.

"I assume that Nixon is going to be Eisenhower's running mate because I think the vice president likes his present job," Mundt said. "I don't know of any movement to dump him. I am convinced the Republicans in the House and Senate want him on the ticket again with Eisenhower."

Eisenhower declined again yesterday to say specifically whether he wants Nixon as a running mate this year, but he told his news conference he has "no criticism of Vice President Nixon to make, either as a man, an associate or as my running mate on the ticket."

Sen. Allott (R. Colo.) said that sounded to him as though the President were beckoning Nixon to run.

Sen. Thye (R-Minn) said he thinks Nixon has "the inside track." Senators Young (R-ND) and Bender (R-Ohio) both said they assume Nixon's place on the ticket is secure.

Record For Sunday School Is Claimed

NEW YORK (AP)— Mrs. Carrie Hysler, 74, said today she believes she has established a Sunday School attendance record of 2,208 consecutive sessions without a miss.

By Oct. 7 her perfect attendance record would cover 43 years.

Mrs. Hysler, who has attended the Union Evangelical Church here for 60 years, was moved to add up her attendance record when she read that George McDaniel Jr., a Dallas real estate man formerly of Abilene, attended Sunday School each Sunday for 37 years or 1,924 sessions.

Two Charged In Thefts Are Innocent Here

Two persons charged with theft in county court were found innocent in cases heard this morning.

The two were Erma Taylor Culberson and Hulan Malone. Both waived jury, and their cases were heard before County Judge Edgar Taylor.

Private utility companies generate about 79 per cent of U. S. electricity.

Grid TV Rights Awarded To NBC

NEW YORK (AP)—National television rights for college football next season have been awarded to the National Broadcasting Co. by the NCAA Television Committee.

The 1956 program provides for nation-wide telecasts on eight dates, seven of them Saturdays and the other Thanksgiving Day.

Regional telecasting will prevail on five other Saturdays. These will be handled by the individual colleges and conferences.

The schedule of games to be carried nationally will be announced shortly.

Girlstown Hearing Is Held In Austin

AUSTIN (AP)—A defense witness for Girlstown, U.S.A., testified today the atmosphere surrounding the West Texas home for neglected girls was "warm and homey."

Girlstown is on trial for its life here before an advisory board.

Dist. Atty. Travis Shelton of Lubbock allowed defense atty. Hugh Harrell of Lubbock to interrupt the state's presentation to permit testimony by three Levelland men who needed to return at once to their jobs.

Eddie Mee, whose wife works at Girlstown, said that from his observations and discussions with his wife he was convinced there was "no doubt as to the honesty, integrity and faith of Miss Anthony."

Miss Amelia Anthony is the nationally known director and founder of Girlstown.

Mee said Miss Anthony had "stood up under persecution that would have made most of us in this courtroom thrown in the towel long ago."

Under cross-examination, Mee said that he had written a letter to John Winters, executive director of the Department of Public Welfare, in which he labelled the investigation of Girlstown as a "dirty political movement."

Ray Sanders, Levelland electrician, testified that on occasions when he went to the institution for repair work everyone seemed happy and that staff members seemed "like they were getting along fine."

Sanders described the institution as being in "good shape mechanically and electrically," and said he saw "no evidence of fear or tension" during his visit.

Mee told the board that on his visits to the home he found it in immaculate condition with a "warm and honey" atmosphere evident.

Charles Byrd, member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Levelland, said the Jaycees were "definitely interested in seeing Girlstown remain at Whiteface." He told how the service organization had bought lunches for girls from the home who attended school at Whiteface.

The advisory panel heard testimony yesterday that the girls were subjected to "unusual punishment" and feared the director.

The state Public Welfare Department, in its effort to revoke the license, heard six witnesses yesterday.

Miss Amelia Anthony, named the Outstanding Woman of the Year in 1953 by the General Federation of Women's Clubs, is the founder and director of Girlstown which opened in 1949.

Dist. Atty. Travis Shelton of Lubbock has said he has had the institution, located on a 1,425 acre ranch near Whiteface, under investigation for two and a half years.

Shelton questioned the witnesses, all former employes of Girlstown. The defense has not yet offered its witnesses.

Mrs. Belle Ogden of Lubbock testified the wards of the institution had been punisaed by being beaten with brooms, sticks and straps. She said one girl was beaten "with a stick or strap" and had marks a "foot long on her back."

Mrs. M. H. Powers of near Whiteface, said Miss Anthony, in a rage of temper, had screamed to the girls asking them "if they wanted to be prostitutes and street walkers like your mothers and drunkards like your fathers."

Mrs. Alta McIntosh of Shreveport and Miss Lois Lasater, Dallas bookkeeper, offered similar testimony.

Mrs. McIntosh testified that one girl was punished by having her right arm bound to her side "practically all day" for something she did, but did not know the reason for the punishment.

Mrs. Powers said a 9-month-old baby was not allowed to have a bottle because "Miss Anthony thinks any girl as old as nine months should not be on the bottle."

Mrs. Powers said that two girls "about eight or nine" were forced to pin on diapers and "to wear them all day in front of the other girls."

Shelton questioned the sworn witnesses about finances of the institution. Several witnesses said Miss Anthony signed all checks and that staff members had no knowledge of the amount of contributions made by private citizens.

Miss Lasater said she was bookkeeper for Girlstown in 1° when the institution mailed out "30-40,000" letters over the country soliciting contributions.

She added that some information in the letters was incorrect in that it was claimed there were 76 girls at the institution when there were less than 55.

Miss Lasater said Miss Anthony frequently withdrew cash amounts for travel expenses and on one occasion a staff member told her to charge to "medical expense" a $270 check made out to cash.

Mrs. Bonnie Eubanks of Dallas and Mrs. Sam Phillips of Kermit testified they felt the general attitude of the girls was "one of fear for Miss Anthony."

The Welfare Department said Jan. 3 it would revoke the license of the institution. An appeal was made and final disposition will await a recommendation by the board.

Among allegations by the Welfare Department are charges that the institution does not have a responsible governing body and does not keep an accurate account of capital resources, receipts and expenditures.

The department also alleges the management is such as to cause doubt as to methods used by the executive director and staff members in handling disciplinary problems.

Some countries have one doctor for fewer than 1,000 people, while others have one doctor for more than 30,000 people, says a United Nations report.

They're Doing Fine

The hullabaloo over the Harris-Fulbright bill to decontrol gas production, vetoed by President Eisenhower, seemed not to have affected the transmission and distribution companies unduly. On the contrary.

A statement issued by the American Gas Association, New York City, reads:

"Although the prices of transmission and distribution companies stocks receded slightly during the month (February), the respective average prices remained 5.9 percent and 2.1 perent above the corresponding month of last year. Dividend payments on transmission company stocks were 13.9 percent above last year while distribution company payments increased 11.2 percent during this same period. The concurrent yields of 4.47 percent and 4.90 percent recorded gains of 7.5 percent and 8.9 percent respectively over the yields obtained a year ago."

This happy situation in the natural gas transmission and distribution field no doubt stems from the fortuituous circumstance that natural gas, alone among fuels, is under a federally-enforced price ceiling at the point of origin. In other words the transmission and distribution companies know they wont' have to compete on an open market for the raw material of their business ;the producers of natural gas must take whatever pay for the raw product a federal bureau says is adequate. No competition.

Under this peculiar manifestation of the welfare state the consumer is supreme with bureaucratic functionaries; the producer cuts no ice whatever.

But in the end the consumer will join the producer in mutual woe; for rigid federal controls of natural gas prices will mean less gas at higher prices. How can it be otherwise, since those who spend money to find and produce natural gas have seen their costs rise sharply in recent years and their possible profits gelid in the deep-freeze of federal bureaucracy?

Sure; behind their protective screen the transmission and distrubution companies are doing just fine, thank you.

Time's A-Wasting

As the crisis deepens in the Middle East Mr. Dulles, whose picture of the state of foreign affairs has been little short of roseate in recent weeks, wasn't in Washington Tuesday to sit down with U. S., British and French high diplomatic figures to discuss what to do about it. He was off again on one of his incessant global swings.

The smoke from Jordan's canning of the British commander of the potent Arab Legion, Lt. Gen. John B. Glubb ,was still swirling when another crisis intensified. Britain announced its negotiations with Cyprus had collapsed, and it threatened to use its troops in the area to put down riots and insurrections on the island. Britain, the colonial secretary announced, had offered the Cypriots a wide measure of self-government but this did not satisfy the nationalists who want full integration with Greece.

In Cyprus, Britain—and her principal world ally, the U. S.—is caught between the devil and deep blue sea. If it grants full independence to Cyprus it would lose a key military base in the Middle East. If it hands the island over to Greece, it would precipitate a break with one of our strongest and most dependable allies, Turkey, which aside from the island's racial composition, which is four-fifths Greek to one-fifth Turkish, has a better geographical and historical claim to the island than Greece. (The island just up under the belly of Turkey as Formosa juts against the China mainland.) Turkey has made it quite clear she would not accept an award of Cyprus to Greece lying down.

Here, then, is a situation of the utmost gravity, a situation that could precipitate a war of far greater magnitude than one between Arab and Jew.

All of this pulling and hauling must be one of the happiest of auguries to the Kremlin; and if the U. S. and British diplomatic experts, with the French going along for the buggy ride, can pull a miracle out of the hat now is the time to do it.

Time's a-wasting.

Bands For Prison

JASKSON, Mich. ●—When they play "If I Had the Wings of an Angel" at Southern Michigan Prison, it's liable to come out in any of six arrangements.

The prison has six bands—a 40-piece concert orchestra, a 16-piece dance band, a dixieland band and a progressive jazz band of 10 pieces, an eight-piece hillbilly group and a seven-man polka band.

Prison officials say it helps to ease tension for players and listeners alike. The bands include professional musicians and even one man who taught music in public schools for 18 years.

The prison also offers music for beginners. Each fall two groups of 35 men each enroll in classes where they learn to play the instrument of their choice. Prison officials say it teaches the men to work together.

Dirksen's Proposed Amendment 'Loaded' Although It Appears To Be Pointless

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) and a number of backers have itched for years to get a constitutional amendment limiting the power to make foreign treaties and executive agreements.

Slapped down before when President Eisenhower opposed them, they're trying again.

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill), with Bricker's blessing, now proposes a constitutional amendment which, at first glance, seems almost pointless. Read closely, it looks loaded with trouble.

The Constitution from the beginning has had a provision against a president's making a treaty unless two-thirds of the Senate approve.

But a president can make foreign agreements without Senate ratification. Eisenhower has done it. So have his White House predecessors. An agreement can have the effect of a treaty but when it is called by the name of agreement it doesn't need two-thirds Senate approval.

Still, Congress has some control over that too. If money is needed to carry out an agreement, Congress can refuse to vote the money.

Bricker has said he doesn't worry about Eisenhower's doing anything wrong. But he and his supporters argue that unless even tighter restraints are written into the Constitution the country may run into bad days.

The reasoning goes like this: someday, deliberately or stupidly, a president may make and the Senate may approve a treaty or agreement injurious to the nation or its citizens.

Bricker's critics argue that he and those who go along with him seek to tamper with the Constitution, may do more damage than good, and hamstring the President's handling of foreign affairs.

Bricker first made his suggestion in 1951 when President Truman was in the White House. The proposal came to a vote in February 1954.

Almost at the last moment Eisenhower came out flatly against Bricker's plan. The senator's support weakened. The Senate defeated his amendment.

In 1955 Bricker started plugging again. This week Dirksen produced his version of the Bricker idea. The Senate Judiciary Committee approved this one without hearings and passed it on to the Senate for action.

Under the Constitution, as it stands now, if the Supreme Court had to decide whether a treaty was in confilict with the Constitution, it could consider the Constitution as a whole.

But the Dirksen amendment says: "A provision of a treaty or other international agreement which conflicts with any provision of the Constitution shall not be of any force or effect."

The key words are: "with any provision." They raise such uestions as this: How could a future president or Senate ever approve a treaty with any confidence if they had to worry whether it was in conflict with some constitutional provision not even thought of it at the time.

Almost certainly it would open the door to endless fights seeking Supreme Court interpretations, for the Constitution is big document.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

JUBILEE. By John Brick, Doubleday.

Jeff Barnes, West Point '61, scoring his cushy job in what was the Civil War Pentagon, goes back to his Hudson River hometown to become colonel of the 195th New York Volunteer Infantry, the "Appleknockers."

But there are hitches. In the first place he falls in love with a girl, Kathleen, already engaged to a man who will be an officer under him, and marries her before he even goes to camp. In the second place, Albany figures it's more practical to give the colonelcy to a loyal politico, too fat to soldier but too influential to ignore, and so Jeff becomes lieutenant colonel. In the third place, he's a soldier right to his very marrow. He won't play favorites with his brother, his wife's brother, or the man who'd expected to win Kathleen. Furthermore, he thinks the time and place to toughen his men are here and now, far from the battlefield.

The troops call him "Ramrod." Some hate him; relatives can't understand or forgive his severity. But veterans know his worth and so do those superiors whose hearts and minds are as fixed on victory as Jeff's. His discipline begins to prove itself at Gettysburg, takes on more meaning at Lookout Mountain, and then the "Appleknockers" join Sherman for the March to the Sea. But what it means to Kathleen is another thing for she would have loved to be first in her husband's affections and realizes with a sore heart that patriotism outranks her.

Perhaps you won't wholly like Jeff and you won't be alone in that. But you'll admire him, and sympathize. However much it hurts, he puts duty mercilessly first. He works for the jubilee and the rejoicing that come with victory, but he's not the kind to enjoy them, he leaves that for the rest of us. We enjoy his story, too.

Famed Aviatrix Given Good Chance In Congress

BY JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Folks who know Jacqueline Cochran and have seen her operate over the years are taking odds the famed aviatrix will win her campaign to be the Republican representative of California's 29th district in the next Congress.

"Whatever Jackie wants, Jackie gets," they're saying. "Watch out for the fireworks if she doesn't make it. She'll give you something to talk about." The energetic and ambitious platinum blonde, first woman to break through the sound barrier and surpass the speed of sound, has organized a vigorous campaign to gain the seat vacated by Congressman John Phillips who is retiring from polities after serving 14 years in the House. Harry C. Harper, who maneuvered Phillips' seven successful runnings is Jackie's manager.

Miss Cochran, who says she got her first pair of shoes at the age of eight and learned to read from signs on railroad boxcars, is the feminine prototype of the Horatio Alger success-story hero. In addition to her achievements in aviation she is notably successful as a business woman. She is president of her own cosmetics manufacturing company and runs a 600-acre commercial ranch near Indio, Calif., where she lives with her husband, Floyd B. Odlum, multi-millionaire founder of one of the nation's largest investment trusts.

Now about 50, she confesses she hankers for realization of a long-brewing ambition to shine in the political spotlight. She first became actively interested in politics in 1952, when she served as co-chairman with Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., then Republican senator from Massachusetts, on the National Committee of Citizens for Eisenhower, arranging rallies and rounding up supporters.

Miss Cochran has flown commercial transport and military pursuit planes and bombers and holds several national and international flying records. During World War 11 she organized a group of American women pilots to fly with the British Air Transport Auxiliary in England and then was appointed director of the U.S. Women's Airforce Service Pilots, the famous WASPS. She now holds a reserve commission as lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Air Force and is an active member of the Air Force Assn.

"Passing the sonic barrier with its shock waves and other strange effects was the most exciting and interesting experience in my 21 years of flying," she explained at the time she accomplished this feat in May 1953.

Segregation Issue Turning Many Negroes In Harlem Toward The Republican Party

By JAMES DEVLIN

NEW YORK (AP)—The people who "Like Ike" appear to be placidly ignoring the hullaballoo over his health and running mate.

That is one of the chief impressions gained by this reporter in a sampling of public opinion in New York state — talks with both political leaders and the man in the street.

Democrats believe their argument that President Eisenhower's heart attack makes him a part-time executive will have its effect by election day.

Also, they believe they have a vulnerable target in controversial Vice President Nixon if he should run again with Eisenhower.

But at this stage, the Eisenhower adherents do not seem to be ewayed on these issues.

Republican State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse says Eisenhower even may increase the 850,000 plurality that netted him the state's 45 electoral votes in 1952.

On the other side, Democratic State Chairman Michael Prendergast predicts the state will go Democratic as it did in 1954 when Democrat Averell Harriman was elected governor by 12,000 votes.

This reporter toured the 150-mile area between New York City and Albany. New York and Albany are Democratic centers; the area between is heavily Republican.

Democrats say they are confident the Eisenhower administration's handling of foreign policy in the Middle East, such as the shipment of tanks to Saudi Arabia, will cut into his vote in New York City, where there is much support for Israel.

On the other hand, Negroes report a Republican trend in normally Democratic Harlem on the segregation issue.

A group of Pullman porters in Grand Central Terminal said segregation is the burning question in Harlem, home of hundreds of thousands of Negroes. They predicted a substantial GOP vote there.

"That's all you hear," said one. "Talk to anybody and you'll find that's the feeling.

"The Republicans are doing more for us than the Democrats. Warren (Earl Warren, chief justice of the United States) is a Republican. Some Democrats speak out against segregation but you never see them disown the other Democrats who are segregationists."

Democratic attacks on Nixon, and even some aversion to him within the GOP, appear to puzzle the average Republican who is interviewed.

"He always has been Johnny-on-the-spot to help Ike," said a Hudson businessman. "He's been a hard-working vice president."

He expressed belief that talk of dropping Nixon from the ticket stemmed from a high-level battle for the second spot rather than in any rank-and-file revolt.

The Albany Times-Union inquiring photographer quoted half a dozen persons who said they intended to vote for Eisenhower, and none registered any objection to Nixon.

On Eisenhower's health, a New York City Democrat said the public was getting only one side of the picture — emphasis on his activities but little on the rest periods his doctors ordered.

"Every time Ike swings at a golf ball you see a picture of him in the papers," he said. "But you never see a picture of him taking his two-hour nap."

A Hudson Valley filling station operator, an Eisenhower supporter last time and this time, put it this way:

"Ike knows best how he feels and what he can do. If he feels he can carry on, that's good enough for the people around here."

A tour along the Hudson Valley, where fruit and produce growers already are trimming their apple trees for spring, reveals little if any change in its traditional Republican outlook.

The Midwest farm issues do not hit home among these men, except possibly in reverse. They are buyers and consumers of Midwest wheat.

A worker at General Electric's huge Schenectady plant, employing some 33,000 men, said he believed there was increased sentiment among his co-workers in favor of a Democratic administration.

"Sure, there is prosperity," he said. "But who gets the profits? The big corporations. A lot of us think Ike hadn't ought to run and that there ought to be a Roosevelt-type administraion, one more favorable to labor."

Another GE worker, a Republican, insisted Eisenhower had strong support among the men.

Political leaders generally expect Harriman to announce for the Democratic presidential nomination after the current legislative session ends the latter part of his month.

His backers contend he would have the best chance of any Democrat to carry the state.

Maybe The Chinese Have A System We Should Adopt

By INEZ ROBB

Chinese citizens of the U. S. A. recently ushered in their own particular New Year (circa 4654) as "The Year of the Monkey." At the time, it occurred to me that the rest of us might as well christen 1956, in Chinese fashion, "The Year of the Malarky."

In an election year malarky—plain, fancy, a la carte, table d'hote, under glass and au gratin—is the steady diet fed the helpless electorate by both major political parties. And the voters can lump it.

The Malarky Sweepstakes (and it's a tossup who gets their fustest with the mostest as time goes by) is already in full blast. At the moment, the Republicans have taken a commanding lead. But never fear, the Democrats will be breathing down the opposition neck in no time.

The Republicans owe their momentary lead in the malarky race to:

(1) Their national chairman, Leonard W. Hall, in his ringing cries of "foul!" every time the question of the Presidential health is raised by anyone other than Mr Eisenhower himself, and,

(2) The pious admonitions of Republican Governor Goodwin J. Knight of California to the Democrats to "become giants in American political history" by getting on the Republican bandwagon in a glorious nanpartisan movement to re-elect Mr. Eisenhower by acclamation and without opposition.

I guess Governor Knight figures that if he can give up his overweening Presidential ambitions for another four years, the Democrats surely ought to be willing to make a similiar sacrifice. So it would seem that the Silliness Season in The Year of Malarky is already will advanced.

But to return to Mr. Hall and his tendency to cry "Foul" at any and all discussion of the President's health — he had best save his breath to cool other Republican porridge. The President himself has made his health one of the central issues of the campaign by predicating his willingness to accept a second term on his physical well-being.

His health is of vital importance to the American voter and will be until Election Day itself. Millions upon millions of voters, in the meantime, will watch with affection and concern how Mr. Eisenhower as a person stands up under the stresses of his job and the strains of a campaign. And millions and millions of voters will watch with intellectual detachment how Mr. Eisenhower as President functions in that office, with his health as it is.

Ever since Mr. Eisenhower was first nominated for the Presidency, there has been a large Republican faction that has tended to equate all criticism of the President and his administration with malicious mischief and sebversion if not downright treason.

Since Mr. Eisenhower's illness, this GOP group has gone a step further. It has attempted to deify him, an action which must be as embarrassing to as sensible a man and politician as Mr. Eisenhower as it is to the public at large.

The principle of the "sacred leader" has always been and still is anathema to the American people, and the sooner Mr. Hall and Governor Knight forget it, the better for their boy — even in this Year of The Malarky.

Pick Your Own Tensions And Learn To Enjoy Them

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone reflections of a pavement Plato:

One way to be happy in this life is to pick your own tensions —and learn to enjoy them.

This is a tense century. Tension becomes one of the busiest words in the American vocabulary.

The current issue of Newsweek magazine in a notable article on the subject, estimates that 25 per cent of the nation's industrial force is emotionally upset and frustrated, and puts the annual cost in lost wages, medical bills and damaged machinery at three billion dollars.

Some toll! The waste from this kind of tension would build 250,000 homes costing $12,000 each. Not just one year. Every year.

Frightful as this estimate is, it is no indictment of tension in itself. Tension is as essential to the normal human body as it is to the functioning of a rubber band or a watch spring. Without tension life would be as dull and monotonous as a piece of string.

The basic trouble with our tense times is that we have let our tensions run wild, like a bedspring that suddenly bursts its morrings and goes "boing, boing, boi-i-i-ng!"

There are two kinds of tensions — the good and the bad. A good tension, such as one we get from playing a game or watching a well-acted drama, is followed by a feeling of both physical and emotional release. The tension relieves itself; we end up relaxed.

A bad tension, such as the kind we build up while pursuing an impossible goal or doing something we know is foolish (like chasing our friend's wife), only tangles our emotions deeper. We tie ourselves inextricably in knots of our own devising.

Therefore we have no one to blame but ourselves.

How many of our tensions are caused because we let our neighbors—or our envy of our neighbors—determine our own ambitions?

Just because Jones went into debt and worried himself into an ulcer buying a big car he couldn't afford, is it really necesary for us to buy a bigger car, go deeper into debt, and wind up with a double ulcer? Where is the reward in that kind of tension?

Our own infantile attitude toward what we think we want in life is also a major source of the wrong kind of tension.

Perhaps all men yearn to grow up and earn a million dollars and marry the prettiest girl in town, but the fact remains that all men can't. There aren't that many millions of dollars or that many pretty girls.

But there are plenty of good jobs that pay a man a living wage, and a girl doesn't have to win a beauty contest to make an endurable wife.

Texas Women Are Active In Affairs Of Washington

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Texas woman never has been in Congress, but Texas women have figured prominently in affairs at the capital.

This was pointed up by the leadership positions of four Texas women who appeared on a recent luncheon program at the Women's National Democratic Club. They spoke on "Washington Through the Eyes of Texas."

Mrs. Ruth Burleson, wife of the Abilene congressman, told of the confusion a newcomer has in Washington; how survival, figuratively speaking, becomes the first thought.

She survived all right. She is the president of the Congressional Club, composed of the wives of the lawmakers.

Her two-year term started well last year when a breakfast was held, with Mrs. Eisenhower scheduled as honor guest. When the time arrived, President Eisenhower showed up, saying Mamie had a cold. He asked if he could pinch hit for her.

The other three Texas women on the panel program were Miss Marguerite Rawalt, formerly of Corpus Christi, president of the National Business and Professional Women; Mrs. Dale Miller of Dallas, president of the Texas State Society of Washington—the only woman to hold that post in the 52 years of the organization; and Mrs. Liz Carpenter, past president of the Women's National Press Club. She formerly lived in Austin.

RADIO-TV REPORT

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—While the piano is essential to composer Arthur Schwartz, he found the telephone a very handy instrument in writing the music for "High Tor," a play with music starring Bing Crosby and Julie Andrews. It comes to the TV home audience next Saturday night on Ford Star Jubilee.

To go back a bit, High Tor is a mountain overlooking the beautiful Hudson River Valley. Playwright Maxwell Anderson took it as the location and title for his successful Broadway play of several seasons ago. It's the story of a contemporary guy (Crosby) who owns High Tor and to the distress of his fiancee (Nancy Olson) falls in love with the ghost of a Dutch girl (Miss Andrews) dead 300 years.

The composer of such hits as "Dancing in the Dark" and "something to Remember You By," Schwartz also leads an extraordinary double life as a producer. In producing the filmed version of "High Tor" for television, Schwartz says, "The composer in me sometimes struggled with the producer in me."

But, speaking only of the composer in Schwartz, there was no difficulty because of the fact that he was in Hollywood and Anderson, who wrote the lyrics, was in Stamford, Conn. This was thanks to the telephone. Schwartz explained that this was the way they worked:

Anderson sent Schwartz the lyrics for a song entitled "Living One Day at a Time." Schwartz liked the title but didn't care for the lyrics. He composed part of a melody and then phoned Anderson across the country and hummed it to him. Anderson recorded the in-complete melody and within 24 hours phoned Schwartz new lyrics which the composer liked. Then he completed the melody and the song became a reality.

On another occasion Schwartz, the producer, decided that Schwartz, the composer, must supply a new song within 48 hours for a special spot in the show. He telephoned Anderson in the evening and Anderson said, "How about the title 'Sad Is the Life of a Sailor's Wife'?" Could Anderson hurry up some lyrics for composer Schwartz at the behest of producer Schwartz?

Sure, said Anderson. He telephoned the lyrics to Schwartz the next morning. Then Schwartz sat down at the piano and composed the music in an hour. When he proudly reported this feat to a CBS executive, the executive asked rather plaintively:

"Why are we paying you so much for such short hours?"

Crosby himself is delighted with the tunes and the production in general, Schwartz reported, noting him as saying: "High Tor' is something I'll be proud to have been a part of for the rest of my life."

Worms In Drinking Water Add Proteins

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) —Repulsive as they may be, says a scientist, the worms found in Peoria's drinking water merely add "a little more protein" to the diets of consumers.

Residents of the eastern third of this city of 112,000 population have been complaining recenly of finding white wigglers up to three-eighths of an inch in length in their tap water.

Dr. Max Suter of the Illinois Water Survey said yesterday that the worms are larvae of small flies with the scientific name "chironomous" which hatched in the city's open reservoir.

"They are completely harmless," said Dr. Suter. "Scientifically speaking, they just constitute a little more protein in the diet and will harm no one."

Officials of the Peoria Water Works Co. also said the larvae are harmless. Nonetheless, they said water pipes in the eastern section of the city are being flushed in an effort to get rid of the worms.

There was no explanation of why the eastern section. About 150,000 persons in the entire city and suburbs are served by the same supply.

Virgil M. Lambert, an insurance agent, said he first noticed the worms in his tap water about two weeks ago. He found that neighbors had the same problem and notified the water company. He said company officials weren't too concerned about the situation then.

The officials themselves reported the worm infestation and their efforts to curb it yesterday after the Peoria Journal-Star joined the complainants. Employes of the newspaper found worms in water from a tap in the paper's photographic darkroom.

Italian Girl Can See Again

MILAN, Italy (AP) — After five years of darkness, 12-year-old Angelo Colagrande can see again through the eye of a dead priest.

Before Father Carlo Gnocchi, 54, the "Priest of the Maimed," died Feb. 28, he asked that his eyes be used in an effort to restore sight to blind children. The priest had spent the years since World War II working for the rehabilitation of maimed children.

Angelo, who was blinded by quicklime, received a cornea shortly after the priest's death. The other went to an 18-year-old Italian girl, Amabile Battistella. Her eyes have not yet been examined since the operation. Prof. Cesare Galeazzi, the specialist who transplanted the corneas, removed Angelo's bandages briefly yesterday and asked:

"Can you see my hand?"

"Yes," replied Angelo.

"Try and count my fingers."

"Three, there are three," the child replied.

"Are you happy?"

"Yes, answered the small voice.

City Official Acquitted In Sooner Trial

PAULS VALLEY, Okla. (AP)—A jury deliberated more than five hours before acquitting Ardmore City Commissioner Joe Taylor last night of a second degree burglary charge.

Taylor, accused of master-minding a series of Oklahoma and Texas burglaries, still faces three other Garvin County burglary charges, two similar charges in Lincoln County and charges at Wichita Falls.

The Ardmore official was acquitted of a charge in the burglary of a Stratford grocery store in which more than $300 was taken. The other charges files here in and one in Pauls Valley.

Garven County Atty. Raymond Burger did not say what his plans were for prosecution of the remaining Garvin County Cases. Taylor's attorneys said Burger had indicated earlier he would probably drop the other charges if Taylor was cleared on the first count.

Taylor denied the charges and testified the accusations were the outgrowth of "political bad feeling."

Joe Smith, 22, of Ardmore, one of three former convicts implicated in the Stratford burglaries, testified part of the loot from the Oklahoma-Texas theft ring went to the Ardmore commissioner. Smith said Taylor's part was to arrange bond and provide attorneys.

Californian Has His Red Lights Confused

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Police say Farel R. Jones remained parked behind a fire truck and police car at the scene of an early morning fire and refused to proceed around them.

"I'm waiting for the red light to change," they quoted Jones, an Inglewood accountant.

So officers arrested him. The "red light" was on the police car.

Jones paid a $105 fine. He pleaded guilty to reckless driving, a reduced charge.

Parents Try To Be Near Dying Child

GALVESTON (AP)— The parents of girl who has been facing death from leukemia for three years, are trying to find a way to stay near the child for her few remaining days.

Mr. and Mrs. Jose Herrera of DeLeon, were summoned to Galveston about three weeks ago when their daughter, Juanita, 7, lapsed into a coma.

Juanita has been in the John Sealy Hospital six months. She also was here for six months in 1953 when her condition was diagnosed as leukemia.

Her parents left their other seven children with a relative in DeLeon, near Brownwood, and came to be with their daughter. Herrera had to go Tuesday to get the children because the relative was moving from DeLeon. He was expected to return today. The Herreras don't know where they will keep the children unless they leave them in the old car.

The Herreras are poor. Before coming to Galveston, they made a living by picking pecans. Now, they have no money. Mrs. Herrera is expecting her ninth child at any moment.

The $3-a-day minimum charge at the hospital is being borne by Comanche County, where the Herreras reside, as will be the maternity expenses when the time comes.

Juanita has lived longer now than any other leukemia patient at the Medical Branch hospital. Her eighth birthday is coming up April 18, but doctors don't know if she can live that long.

Juanita thinks she can, though. She told her mother she wants a big teddy bear, a little piano and a record player.

Sapp Freed On One Count, Faces Another

CORSICANA (AP)—Former Mayor C. C. Sapp, acquitted of charges of criminal libel here yesterday, faced trial today on a charge of sending an anonymous, defamatory letter through the mail.

The criminal libel case, which went to a jury yesterday afternoon, stemmed from allegations about seven persons in a pamphlet entitled "A Short History of the Men Backing the Bond Issue."

Today's trial is based on an indictment against Sapp charging him with sending an anonymous, defamatory letter through the mail to former City Commissioner Roark Montgomery.

Hospital Patient Is Arrested For Daring New York Robbery

NEW YORK (AP)—The FBI arrested a patient in a Bronx hospital last night and accused him of being the daring gunman who staged the $188,000 robbery last Friday of a suburban Westchester County bank.

Federal agents said they recovered $100,000 of the loot from the trunk of a car belonging to the prisoner, 33 - year - old Arthur L. Paisnuer, a Bronx racehorse trainer.

Paisnuer — who, with a still-sought companion allegedly kidnaped a woman teller of the County Trust Co.'s drive-in branch at Port Chester—will be arraigned today before a U.S. commissioner. He was held under guard at the hospital last night.

Paisnuer was hospitalized since Monday after undergoing minor surgery. He was arrested in bed. Neither the nature of his ailment nor the name of the hospital were disclosed.

Two men abducted the teller, Mrs. Mary F. Kostolos, 52, last Thursday night as she drove up to her home. They drove around all night in her car and quizzed her on bank operations and personnel.

Before the bank opened Friday, they forced Mrs. Kostolos to open the bank with her key. Then one man took over inside. The FBI says it was Paisnuer.

The other man disappeared. The FBI said they were seeking him and the missing $88,000 in cash.

No shots were fired during the holdup.

The FBI said evidence found in an automobile stolen from a New Haven Railroad parking lot at Larchmont, N.Y., also in westchester County, led agents to Paisnuer.

After getting inside the bank, the gunman bound and blindfolded Mrs. Kostolos and put her in a closet.

When teller Ernest Marino arrived, he too was trussed up. J Purdy Ungemack, the assistant treasurer, arrived a few minutes later, and was forced to open the vault and carry money - loaded containers to Mrs. Kostolos' car parked at the curb. The car was found minutes later in a parking lot.

Gary And His Girl Come Out Scrambled

WAUNETA, Neb. (AP) — Gary Doeker started to town with two girl passengers and a number of crates of eggs.

As he braked his car approaching the highway, the brakes gave way. He shifted into second gear and the axle broke. He swerved the car to avoid a truck and headed for a bank across the road. The car hit the bank and turned end over end.

Gary and the girls crawled out, covered from head to foot with scrambled eggs. But nary an injury.

GM Dealer's Contracts To Be Changed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Harlow H. Curtice of General Motors Corp. said today both dealers and customers will benefit from revisions in GM's dealer contracts.

He said in testimony prepared for a Senate Commerce subcommittee that he favors amending the law to permit steps toward curbing "bootlegging" of new cars through unfranchised dealers.

GM announced Feb. 10 revisions in its dealer contract policy. Curtice said these became effective March 1. In addition, he said, a new post of executive vice president in charge of dealer relations was created this week to give dealers "a direct line of communication to the top management of General Motors."

Named to the post was Ivan L. Wiles, a GM vice president and general manager of the Buick division.

Curtice and other GM officials were called before a subcomittee headed by Sen. Monroney (D-Okla), which has been studying auto marketing practices.

The subcommittee is the second to look into GM dealer relations in this Congress. A Senate Antimonopoly subcommittee headed by Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) heard numerous complaints from dealers last fall.

Curtice said today those complaints "were not documented or, in our opinion, reasonably established." But he said his firm got busy and since then has made 13 changes in its dealer contracts.

These include helping a dealer get rid of his buildings, equipment and stocks in case of franchise cancellation. Longer term contracts and more specific provisions for judging dealers' performance also were included, along with more factory help for the dealer.

A "high standard of ethics" in advertising also is demanded, he said.

Inexpensive Promotion

DALLAS (AP)—A local department store has just completed one of a very inexpensive promotion stunt. Some weeks ago when it opened a suburban store, 400 balloons, each bearing free merchandise certificates, were released. But high winds swept them away from the Dallas area. This week the store got back its only response. A farmer 70 miles away mailed back some certificates, saying he rarely got to Dallas.

Hildegarde Miffed By Poor Dressers

CHICAGO (AP)—Hildegarde, who casually wraps her shoulders in pink mink, observed today that night clubbers are being gypped by imported chantoosies who sing in sweatshirts and sneakers.

She took time out between shows at a Loop hotel to do a little comparing. She stacked her wardrobe, created by couturiers in the world's fashion centers, against those of Paris-imported competitors who she said perform in bargain basement costumes.

She said she was referring to Edith Piaf, Lucienne Boyer, Patachou and Genevieve. These were not available for comment immediately.

"Piaf," said Hildegarde, "comes here in a very black, dirty-looking old dress that looks like it cost $9.95. Boyer has a lovely gown, but only a lovely gown, which is like a uniform for her. Patachou has her blouse and skirt, and Genevieve the slacks and striped sweater."

Hildegarde, who had her curves encased in a glittering gown made of 24-carat gold fabric, decided to give a reporter a better idea of what she meant about glamorous gowning. She went into another room of her hotel suite and soon reappeared in a fish-tail dress made of pink faille with pure crystal beads on the snug-fitting bodice. The price tag, she said, was $750.

Around her bare shoulders, perhaps to ward off any drafts from panting admirers, she wore a stole — a jasmine mink tinted pink. This heart-warmer, she said, cost $3,000.

Since the days she first began as an entertainer in Milwaukee some 25 years ago, she has spent at least $600,000 on her costumes, she said.

"I wish some of these French singers would spend a fraction of what I've spent and stop bamboozling the American public," she said.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS

AN EX-TIGER FOOTBALLER has benefitted from the numerous coaching changes around the Lone Star State.

Raymon (Bubu) Bynum, who played for the Tigers in the 1943-45 era, has been named head coach at Richardson High School of District 11-AA.

Bynum served as an assistant at Richardson last year and was elevated to the head post this week when his predecessor, Sam McClure, resigned.

Bynum, following his graduation at Snyder High School, enjoyed several good years on the gridiron at McMurry College. He played on three Texas Conference championship teams while at McMurry (1947 1949).

Bubu, as he is more commonly known by local sports fans, was the winner of the Carl Herod "Most Valuable Player" award his senior year at SHS.

We were glancing back through our files on the 1945 Tiger football season and came across an incident that certainly describes the all-out spirit Bubu possessed on the football field.

It was Bubu's last game in Tiger regalia. The Bengals were playing Loraine that day. The first half went scoreless. Then in the third quarter, the Tigers drove to the Loraine one yard line and lost the ball on a fumble.

Loraine's Don Narrell, who later played some fine football at TCU, attempted to punt out of danger. But Bubu crashed through the line and blocked the punt and the Tigers took over again on the one which led to the first score of the game.

Injury Didn't Stop Bubu

On the play, though, Bubu was kicked in the jaw while blocking the punt and had to be removed from the game. After a bit of "patch-up" work on Bynum's jaw, Bubu re-entered the game and finished up and the Tigers went on to an 18-0 victory.

With that kind of spirit, Bubu was bound to succeed in the gridiron sport in later years. He was a three-year regurar at guard for McMurry and made the all-Texas conference team his senior year.

Upon graduation at McMurry Bubu hired on as an assistant coach at Mineola of 12-AA where he served until moving over to Richardson a coupla years ago.

Bynum, incidentally, is the only Tiger to ever play in the Texas High School All-Star football game that is held in connection with the coaching school each summer.

Jack Spikes of the 1955 Tigers, though, as has been previously announced, will play in next summer's schoolboy all-star game at Lubbock to become the second Snyderite to perform in this game.

Bynum played guard for the North All-Stars in the 1946 game which was won by the North, 20-13.

Ray Eliot of Illinois coached the Northerners in the '46 game while University of Texas' D. X. Bible tutored the South team.

The North squad roster in that game included Odessa's J. W. Thompson and Pampa's Randall Clay, two of the finest ball carriers to ever don a Texas schoolboy grid uniform.

Clay later starred at University of Texas and had several good years in the professional ranks with the New York Giants.

Thompson, however, never did much in college. As we recall he attended two or three schools without enjoying evey much success a' any of them.

Getting back to Bubu, this is his first head coaching job and we wish him all the luck in his new assignment.

We're sure that some of Bynum's fiery spirit as a player will "rub-off" on the boys who play for him.

Garland Coaches Praise Tigers

FOR WHAT IT'S WORTH DEPT. —While in Austin last weekend for the state basketball tournament, we bumped on to a couple of Garland's assistant football coaches and they waisted no time in saying that their toughest football foe last fall was the Snyder Tigers.

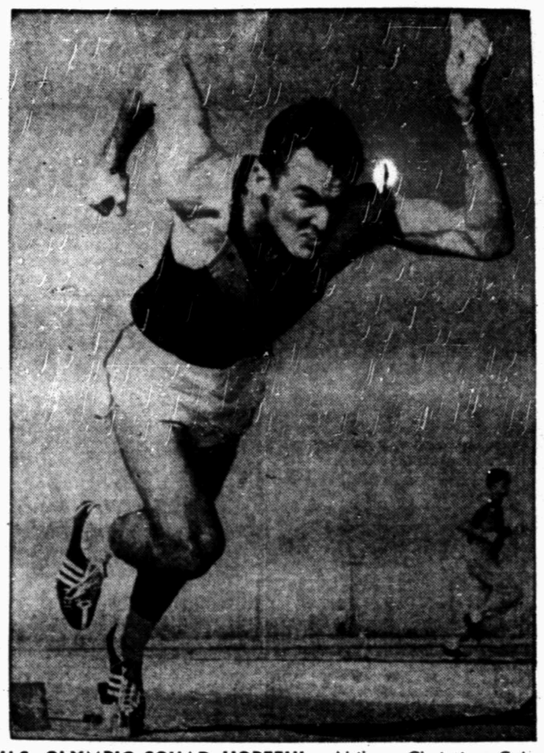
Gene Hudson, Garland line coach, said:

"We were just flat lucky to beat you. You all could have beaten Port Neches, something we failed to do." (Garland, you'll recall bowed to Port Neches in the state finals, 20-14).

Hershell Kimbrell, who may be the next McMurry basketball coach, dittoed Hudson's remarks. Kimbrell did the scouting work on the Tigers for Garland last fall.

It could have been that they were trying to make us feel good in their praise of the Tigers but they did sound sincere in their remarks.

Hudson went on to tell us that a Texas A&M scout at the Tiger-Garland game told him after the game that he would take Snyder's three boys across the T and ask no questions. The scout was referring to Jack Spikes, Joe Baxter and Alan Snead.



U.S. OLYMPIC SQUAD HOPEFUL—Abilene Christian College's national sprint champion, Bobby Morrow, will open the 1956 track and field season at the Border Olympics in Laredo Saturday. Defending 100 and 220-yard dash champion, he heads a squad of 20 Wildcats who will compete in the Border event.

Snyder '5' To Semi-Finals In Tournament

Snyder's Brooks Oiler basketball team swept into the semi-finals of the Abilene City Recreation Independent basketball tournament Wednesday night with a 54-49 victory over International Securities of San Angelo.

The Oilers will now meet the winner of Jeffs Barbers of Abilene and Sweetwater Merchants in the semi-finals Friday night. The Abilene and Sweetwater fives clash tonight.

Last night's game with International Securities was close all the way but the Oilers held the lead at the end of each quarter, 16-12, 26-23 and 46-43.

Bill Voss led the Oilers last night with 20 points followed by Bill Tillman with 14.

The Oilers are undefeated for the season. The Snyder team only last week captured the Blackwell Tournament with three smashing victories.

Schoolboy Basketball On The Upswing In Lone Star State

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
The Associated Press

In the not too distant past the Texas Interscholastic League hoped an Austin team could make the state basketball tournament. That was necessary if there was to be a paying crowd because only the local people turned out. They were not interested in seeing a team from say Slidell or Athens play.

If the Austin team was eliminated in the first round it meant only a few friends and relatives would be in the gym for the rest of the tournament.

That's all changed. Gregory Gym at the University of Texas won't handle the mob that turns out now for the tournament. Bigger crowds come for the Class B opening games than used to attend finals of the major division, even if Austin was playing. When the top classes play, even if it involves distant points like Laredo and Borger, fans are turned away.

The tournament draws 45,000 capacity for three days and nights of basketball.

Interest has grown with the advancement of basketball. High schools now play with skill. They are producing some of the best college cagers in the country.

This year 1,095 high schools and 22,703 boys played basketball. They eliminated down to 24 teams that went to the state tournament to play in five classes. More college coaches were present, just to look the boys over, than there used to be fans for games of the lower divisions.

What's the reason for the great advancement of basketball in 10 years? The most prominent one is that most schools now have specialized coaches. Some of the best coaches you'll find anywhere are tutoring the Texas high school teams.

In those days of lean attendance few high schools had adequate facilities for basketball. Many teams played on outdoor courts and were like a cat on a polished floor when they got into the gym at Austin.

Another thing that has built interest and ability in basketball is publicity. Televised pro and college games are popular. The Class AAAA final was carried on a TV network this year. The championship games have been broadcast for several years.

Rhea Williams, athletic director of the Texas Interscholastic League, thinks basketball has progressed because there is better balance in the school's athletic programs. It isn't all football now. In most schools every body is given an opportunity to compete in something.

Still another reason for the upsure is the clinic. Coaching schools have basketball as a major course.

Basketball is really moving in Texas these days. It will mean that each year will find the Texas colleges doing better in intersectional basketball. There'll come a time when the Southwest Conference will rate as high nationally in basketball as in football.

Tech Cagers Lose Two More Players

LUBBOCK (AP)—Texas Tech has lost four members of its basketball squad and is gloomy over its prospects in the NCAA playoff with Southern Methodist next Tuesday at Wichita, Kan.

First, Jim Reed and Du-Wayne Blackshear, two of the regulars, were declared ineligible for the playoffs because they played as freshmen at Tech. Yesterday Sterling Gibson and Earl Redwine, reserve players, were ruled out because they had not been at Tech a full year.

This reduced Coach Polk Robison's squad to six members and he called on student manager Dennis Calvert and football player Barton Massey to join up so he might have sufficient men to play the game. Calvert and Massey both played basketball in high school.

Bobby Wilson, Logan Cummings, Eugene Carpenter, Harry Scaling, Ned Underwood and Royce Elam remain of the squad that started the season.

Ag-Bear Netters Vie

WACO (AP)—A practice game with Texas A&M here today will kick off the Baylor University tennis team's 15-match schedule which ends with the Southwest Conference meet here May 10-12.

Mays, Banks, Post Still Have Power

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press

Willie Mays of the New York Giants, Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati's Wally Post accounted for 135 National League home runs last season and they're picking up right where they left off.

Mays, who led the league with 51 circuit blows in 1955, walloped a 400-foot homer in the first inning of an intrasquad game yesterday. It was his second home run in three games.

Banks, a 44-homer man in '55, connected with the bases loaded in a camp game in Mesa, Ariz. And Post, who had 40 a year ago, hit one in a Redlegs' game in Tampa, Fla.

While this veteran trio was having itself a time, rookies stole the show in other camp tilts.

Second baseman Don Leppert belted a triple and two singles, stole a base and drove in a run in Baltimore's intrasquad contest. First sacker Julio Becquer belted three hits, including a game-winning double in Washington's Orlando, Fla., quarters, and outfielder Gino Cimoli cracked an important two-run double in the Brooklyn Dodgers' camp.

It wasn't a particularly good day for the pitchers. Some of the hurlers, however, were optimistic.

Russ Meyer of the Cubs, who was acquired from Brooklyn during the winter, believes he's set "for a fine season."

"I've never been so strong so early in the spring," he said. "I've been able to run more in Arizona than in Florida — it's the difference in the turf."

Relief pitcher Ray Narleski expressed the hope that Cleveland Manager Al Lopez will give him a chance to start this season.

The St. Louis Cardinals were busy trying to correct a flaw in the pitching form of Vinegar Bend Mizell. The big left-hander has difficulty holding runners on first base.

Mizell, who is returning after a two-year hitch in the Army, confessed he never picked a runner off first. "I doggone near had one last year," he drawled. "I had him way off the bag, but shucks if I didn't throw over the first baseman's head."

Sullivan In Split Decision Win Off LaBua

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—"I say old chap, sorry about that eye, but look at my nose."

"The eye's okay, won't need any stitches, I'm sorry about your nose."

That's dressing room—not drawing room—chitchat between England's John L. Sullivan, the victor on a split decision, and Jackie LaBua, the gracious loser, shortly after they had battered each other for 10 slug-and-clinch rounds in a nationally televised fight last night.

LaBua had dropped into Sullivan's dressing room to pay his respects.

"I just couldn't get started," remarked LaBua. "I was ashamed of myself. I didn't feel like I should have been in there at all. Y'know I just can't get mad in the ring. In a street fight I could go crazy, but I just can't get mad in the ring."

Sullivan, every bit the gentleman grinned and said: "You sure take a good punch."

And that was the fight in a nutshell.

Sullivan knocked LaBua down in the fifth round with a sharp right to the jaw. LaBua bobbed right back up, but had to take an automatic 8-count.

The handsome youngster from East Meadow, N. Y., took every punch. He would throw a few counter punches, then clinch.

"It was the clinches that bothered me," said Sullivan, who thought he won comfortably. "I took it easy the first two rounds. Then my trainer told me to go out and throw leather. So I threw leather. But he clinched too much. I couldn't get at him."

Sullivan weighed 160½, LaBua 159.

HPC, McM May Join New Loop

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Break-up of the Texas Conference loomed today with the revelation that Eastern New Mexico would withdraw and that McMurry and Howard Payne, the other two members, had applied to the Lone Star Conference for membership.

Eastern New Mexico announced Monday that it would withdraw from the conference following the spring meet here because three teams were not enough to provide a good conference and it appeared impossible to enlarge.

Howard Payne applied to the Lone Star Conference last December and McMurry filed its application in January, Jerome Vannoy, president of the conference, said.

Action on the applications is expected to be taken at the spring meeting of the Lone Star Conference.

Refugio Coach Quits

REFUGIO, Tex. (AP)—Paul Gips has resigned as head football coach at Refugio to take a similar position at El Campo. He had a record of 54 victories, 10 losses and 1 tie in six years at Refugio. His team won the district championship in 1955.

Dallas Aiming For 'Richest' Tourney

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP)— Officials of Golf International, promoters of the world's second largest links show—the $100,000 Dallas Centennial and Texas International Opens in May—predicted today that income would be more than $220,000. This would insure a profit on the first year's operation.

Such success would result in the ante being raised, said Jim Ling, chairman of the board of Golf Interntional, an organization of wealthy Dallas men. He added that GI definitely was aiming at surpassing George May's golf extravaganza at Chicago, the world's largest tournament. Ling said that May's total was $126,000, not including a $50,000 exhibition tour for the winner.

Ling also told newspaper men last night at a conference that the tournaments — one with $30,000 prize money and the other $70,000 —were designed both as a civic venture and with the idea of making money. Ling declared they would have to be virtually total flops before there would be thoughts of abandonment.

So big is the show—and Ling forecast an attendance of at least 100,000—that the PGA cancelled two tournaments and a possible third in order to make room for it on the golf tour.

He said the tournaments already were assured of virtually every major player, that he believed Ben Hogan, the links great who has been in virtual retirement since the last National Open, would play here as a cooperative gesture (Hogan lives at Fort Worth, 30 miles from Dallas), and that Sam Snead, always a top attraction, would compete. Snead hasn't been playing many tournaments lately.

The group that makes up Golf International underwrote $53,450 and also pledged to make up any loss.

Ling said the tournaments would cost $170,000 — $100,000 in prize money and $70,000 for operation. The latter includes a $5,000 fee to the PGA and $65,000 for promotion and improvement of the Brook Hollow Country Club course where the tournaments will be held.

Income is expected to be $20,000 from concessions, $40,000 in advertising and sponsorships from a magazine which serves as a program, $8,000 to $20,000 from sale of the magazine, $140,000 from attendance and $5,000 for parking. And Ling added, this does not include the possible sale of television rights.

He said there would be a $75,000 to $100,000 advance ticket sale to insure against loss in event of adverse weather.

The Centennial Open, so named because it is the one hundredth anniversary of Dallas' founding, will be May 24-27 with $30,000 in prize money, $6,000 for first place. The Texas International will be May 31-June 3 with prize money of $70,000, $14,000 first money.

Boone 'Must' Go To UT, If—

BRYAN, Tex. (AP)—Russell Boone, the basketball star from Sweeney who wound up at Tyler Junior College, has to go to Texas if he attends any Southwest Conference school without forfeiting a year's eligibility, Paschal Price, sports editor of the Bryan Eagle, says.

Price said he learned the Southwest Conference had ruled that Boone, who signed a letter of intent at Texas before going to Tyler, must go to Texas if he wants to play basketball in the Southwest Conference without laying out a year.

"It is most likely that Boone, in view of this fact, will slip out of Texas in the direction of Kentucky, Bradley or Shreveport (Centenary,") Price wrote, saying that Texas A&M had held the inside track toward getting the basketball star before the conference ruling.

Western Kentucky, Morehead Vie For NCAA Tourney Berth

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Morehead (Ky.) State has an NCAA Tournament berth and a major-college scoring record on the line tonight in a final showdown with Western Kentucky's Hilltoppers, who should still be puffin' from last night's squeeker.

Western opened the three-way playoff for the Ohio Valley Conference crown at Louisville by eliminating Tennessee Tech 84-80 on a pair of field goals by Monty Holland and Forest Able with just 11 seconds remaining in the game.

Tech had come from 13 points back to knot it at 80-all with 21 seconds left before Holland and Able went to work.

Morehead tops the major colleges with a 96.5-point game average, improving on the record set last season by Furman at 95.3.

The winner of tonight's game will complete the 25-team NCAA field and then jump into the first-round eliminations against Marshall, Mid-American Conference champ, at Fort Wayne, Ind., next Monday.

First-round play also gets under way at New York and in Seattle the same night with the Wichita, Kan., eliminations beginning Tuesday.

Temple, one of the eight teams involved in the New York regional warmed up with a 71-66 decision oye St. John's of Brooklyn last night with Hal Lear scoring 31 points. Temple, now 22-3, faces Holy Cross in Madison Square Garden Monday.

The NIT announced the draw in its 12-team scrap with Dayton and Niagara (20-6) seeded in that order and drawing first-round byes.

St. Francis of Brooklyn (19-2) plays Lafayette (19-6) and defending champion Duquesne (16-9) meets Oklahoma A&M (18-8) in the opening afternoon doubleheader at Madison Square Garden Saturday, March 17.

St. Louis (18-6)-Xavier of Ohio (16-9) and Seton Hall (19-4)-Marquette (13-10) round out the first round in an evening doubleheader.

The final is set for March 24.

Answer Given On Radio-TV Talk By Ike

By ACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—An assertion by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) that President Eisenhower intends to "shrink" the chief executive's office if re-elected broug Republican replies today that Eisenhower is merely shrugging off the frills.

"Any such contraction of the presidency as is contemplated in the Eisenhower proposal," Sparkman said last night, "cannot but upset the balances set up in our Constitution for the preservation of popular government."

Chairman Paul M. Butler of the Democratic National Committee advanced similar arguments in a speech at Louisville, Ky., in which he said Eisenhower's health is a major campaign issue.

Eisenhower said yesterday that if he should ever feel physically unable to carry on the essential duties of the White House, "I won't be there." He did not make clear whether he meant that in such circumstances he would resign or reverse his week-old decision to seek a second term.

Sparkman, Democratic vice presidential nominee in 1952, said in an MBS talk that Eisenhower is proposing to hand over to associates "functions which lie at the very core of the presidency."

The Democrats chose Sparkman to reply to Eisenhower's nationwide radio - television talk of a week earlier in which the President explained his second-term decision.

Sparkman said that in discussing the medically imposed limits on his activities in any second term, Eisenhower was "quite frankly and openly saying to the country that he can never be a truly full-time president . . ."

"If a full measure of health is ever needed anywhere," Sparkman continued, "it is needed in the White House.

"I do not hesitate to say that the American people cannot and will not sanction the Republican proposal for a part-time president to deal with full-time problems."

Sparkman declared that an "absence of full-time presidential command" is reflected in almost daily newspaper accounts indicating what he termed "indecision, confusion and drift" at home and abroad.

"And now," he said, "the people are being asked to sanction the indefinite extension of this lapse in our constitutional system in circumstances which make the hazards larger rather than smaller."

Officers Nab Racoon

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. Mary S. Luke, hearing a scratching sound, opened the door, thinking her cat wanted in. Instead, in pranced a playful racoon. Mrs. Luke called police, who said the 'coon was a local pet. Officers took the animal to headquarters on charges of "disturbing the peace, resisting arrest and loitering."

Tax Consultant Fails To Mail In Returns

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The federal government alleges that Miss Lee Webb, a tax consultant, may have filed all her clients' income tax returns, but she neglected to drop hers in the mail for the years 1952 and 1953.

U. S. Atty. Norman W. Neukom placed two charges of failure to file against the 56-year-old woman alleging she didn't declare a $7,000 income in 1952 or $17,132 in 1953.

Miss Webb was indicted last August on charges of preparing fraudulent income tax returns for her clients. She will be tried April 3.

Church Women's Group Seek Change In Segregation Laws

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The United Church Women of Texas yesterday urged Texas legislators to eliminate from state statutes any law requiring segregation or "any form of discrimination based on race, creed, or color."

LISTENER — President Eisenhower presents a study in concentration as he listens closely to a reporter's question during a news conference. The President told reporters that if he ever feels he is not absolutely up to the presidency physically he no longer will be on the job or available for it. (AP Wirephoto)

The 200 delegates here for the annual convention of the organization represent 575,000 women in 109 councils in 52 Texas cities.

The delegates also called for support of the U.S. Supreme Court ruling outlawing segregation in the public schools, re-affirming a position taken last year by the group after the announcement of the court decision.

The United Church Women also called for "church fellowship without barriers."

The organization also asked a law prohibiting sale of alcoholic beverages in grocery stores and food markets of Texas, urged the United States to continue disarmament talks in the United Nations in an effort to halt the arms race, and called for adherence to a voter's guide being prepared by the Texas Council of Churches.

Bishop William C. Martin of the Dallas-Fort Worth Methodist District, told the convention last night that local churches must face the question of whether they are producing sectarians or churchmen.

"A body of Christians which invites new members with the idea they are entering only the fellowship of that denomination is a sect. An organized body of Christian believers which invites new members with the understanding that they are being received into the total Christian fellowship has the right to call itself a part of the holy universal church," he said.

Re-elected for a second year as president was Mrs. L. C. Curlin of Waxahachie. Other officers are Mrs. B. C. Will of Abilene, Mrs. Manfred Gerhardt of San Antonio, Mrs. Penrose Hirst of Lampasas and Mrs. Nathaniel Kern of Victoria, vice presidents; Mrs. George Davis of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Lynn Lasswell of Waxahachie, secretaries; Mrs. J. Q. Barnes of Amarillo, treasurer; Mrs. I. D. Covey of Dallas, auditor; and Mrs. J. C. Reed of Houston, historian.

Adlai Given Pledges Of Votes By Delegates

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A slate of 136 delegates pledged to vote for Adlai Stevenson for president at the Democratic party's August nomination convention in Chicago was filed yesterday.

Each delegate will have half a vote.

That is the third slate to qualify for the June 5 presidential primary election ballot. The others are pledged to the re-election of President Eisenhower and to Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn).

New Minimum Wage Law Is Outlined Here

W. C. Calvit of the U. S. Department of labor discussed the new minimum wage law at the Kiwanis Club's luncheon meeting Wednesday in the Hilander.

Calvit, whose office is in Lubbock, works under the Department of Labor office in Albuuerque, N.M.

Nothing has been changed in the Fair Labor Standards Act, commonly known as the "wage-hour law," except that the minimum wage has been increased from 75 cents per hour to $1 per hour, Calvit said. The minimum wage law applies only to firms engaged in interstate commerce or in handling goods and equipment which is in interstate commerce.

Moreover, there are some types of businesses which normally would be classified as being associated with interstate commerce but are specifically exempted from the law. This includes most retail establishments, and others which provide certain types of services. Workers in the agricultural industry are exempt, but they do come under jurisdiction of the law as it applies to child labor. For example, children under 16 years old are not permitted to work in agriculture during school hours.

Calvit said there are other exemptions and special provisions in the law. He advised those who had questions on any points to write the Department of Labor Office in either Dallas or Albuquerque for information.

Worcester, Mass. claims that the cotton gin, sewing machine, power carpet loom, steam calliope, and street lunch cart were invented there.

Eastern Mild Weather Ends

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A brief spell of mild March weather in most of the eastern half of the nation appeared ended today with a blast of cold air and snow and rain.

The icy air moved over the eastern and southern plains eastward to the Appalachians, dropping temperatures more than 30 degrees in Texas and as much as 40 degrees in the Ohio Valley this morning.

Snow fell in the upper Mississippi Valley, the upper Great Lakes region and western sections of the Ohio Valley. Rain or freezing rain hit the lower Great Lakes section, New England, the eastern Ohio Valley and in Alabama and Georgia.

Heaviest snowfalls were in the Midwest with 7 inches reported at Wausau, Wis., and Pellston, Mich., since yesterday morning.

Although only light rain fell in most Northeast sections, some flooding was reported in parts of New York and Pennsylvania. In New York flash floods closed highways out of Corning and U.S. 20 west of Albany yesterday. Conditions were described as "progressively more serious" in south central New York.

Minor flooding was reported in northwest Pennsylvania along the Allegheny River and in the northeast along the Susquehanna River.

Recreational visits to U. S. National Forests totalled less than 19 million in 1946 and more than 40 million during 1954.

Russian Navy Gets Demoted

NEW YORK (AP) — The Soviet army evidently has demoted the Red navy.

Full details aren't yet available, but here are the facts to date:

The long-time Soviet navy head, Adm. Nikolai G. Kuznetsov, has been fired.

Four leading Soviet admirals including Kuznetsov were dropped from membership in the Central Committee of the Communist party.

The new top Soviet naval officer Adm. S. G. Gorshkov, and his air force counterpart, Chief Marshal of Aviation Pavel Zhigarev, are now officially outranked by eight army marshals. A year ago Kuznetsov and Zhigarev were outranked by only four army marshals.

The Soviet Defense Ministry, which supervises the navy, army and air force, is run by Army Marshal Georgei Zhukov. All his chief lieutenants are career army officers. They control military planning and policy under the direction of the Communist party leadership.

Considerate Husband

DENVER (AP) — Joseph Wisdom Clark, 19, is considerate of his wife. He told Dist. udge. H. oe Rawlinson at a probation hearing that he took a television set from the home of Joseph D. Pepper so that his pregnant wife, Gwendolyn 17, could while away the hours awaiting their child. Clark said the set didn't work, so he pawned it. The judge granted probation.

CREOLE EGGS ON HAM AND MUFFIN SLICES
. . . topped with spice sauce

Eggs For Cooking Become Main Dishes During Lent

The egg, long considered an irreplaceable ingredient, comes into its own as a main dish during Lent for meals other than breakfast.

OMELET WITH OYSTERS

2 tablespoons tapioca
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¾ cup milk
1 tablespoon butter
4 egg whites
4 egg yolks
Creamed Oysters

Combine tapioca, salt, pepper, and milk in saucepan. Place over medium heat and cook until mixture comes to a boil, stirring constantly. Add butter. Remove from heat and allow to cool slightly while beating eggs.

Beat egg whites until stiff. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Add tapioca mixture to egg yolks and mix well. Fold into egg whites.

Turn into hot, buttered, 10-inch skillet. Cook over low heat 3 minutes. Then bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 15 minutes. Omelet is sufficiently cooked when a knife inserted comes out clean Cut across at right angles to handle of pan, being careful not to cut all the way through. Fold carefully from handle to opposite side and serve on hot platter. Spoon creamed oysters between layers and over the top. Or serve creamed oysters in a separate dish. Makes 4 servings.

CREAMED OYSTERS

Coarsely chop ½ pint oysters. Combine 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup and ¾ cup light cream in a saucepan, mixing well to blend. Stir in 2 tablespoons sherry. Add the oysters. Heat to simmering over low heat, stirring frequently. Then simmer 3 to 4 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve at once or keep over hot water until ready to serve. Makes 2 cups or enough for 4 servings.

SPANISH OMELET

Use same omelet recipe substituting Spanish sauce for creamed oysters. To make sauce(melt 6 tablespoons butter or other fat in saucepan. Add ¼ cup each chopped onion and chopped green pepper and saute until onions are golden brown. Add 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons sugar, dash of cayenne 1 cup canned sliced mushrooms and 2 cups canned tomatoes. Cook over low heat 15 minutes, or until vegetables are tender.

TOMATO SOUFFLE

2 teaspoons grated onion
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¾ cup thinly sliced celery
2 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
1 cup (8-ounce can) tomato sauce
½ cup water
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
⅛ teaspoon thyme
3 egg whites
3 egg yolks

Saute onion, green pepper and celery in butter in saucepan for 5 minutes, or until tender but not browned. Combine tapioca, tomato sauce, water, and seasonings; add to sauteed vegetables. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Allow to cool slightly while beating eggs.

Beat egg whites until stiff. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Add tapioca mixture to egg yolks and mix well. Fold into egg whites.

Spoon into 1½ quart baking dish. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 hour, or until souffle is firm. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

CREOLE EGGS

2 English muffins, split or 4 3-inch bread rounds.
4 thin ham slices
4 poached eggs

Toast muffins or bread; butter. Broil or saute ham. Place ham on muffins or toast. Put poached eggs on ham. Place in large or individual serving dishes; top with Creole Sauce. Yield: 4 servings.

CREOLE SAUCE

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1-3 cup finely chopped green pepper
1-3 cup finely chopped onion
1 can (20-ounces) tomatoes
½ teaspoon Tabasco sauce
½ teaspoon sugar
¾ teaspoon salt

Melt butter; add green pepper and onion. Cook until onion is tender, but not brown. Add remaining ingredients and continue cooking over low heat about 30 minutes or until thickened. Yield: Approximately 2 cups.

EGGS GOLDENROD WITH SHRIMP SAUCE

4 shredded wheat biscuits
1 can frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup
¾ cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
4 hard-cooked eggs

Split biscuits from side to side. Heat in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 10 minutes. Place, cut side up, in heated serving dish. Heat soup slowly with milk and seasoning, stirring frequently until smooth. Quarter eggs, reserving one of the yolks for garnish. Place on top of cereal biscuits; cover with hot shrimp sauce. Garnish with remaining egg yolk pressed through sieve. Serve at once. Yield: 4 servings.

MEXICAN BAKED EGGS

2 strips bacon, diced
¼ cup diced onion
1 teaspoon meat seasoning
½ cup finely diced green pepper
8 ounce can tomato sauce
1 cup water
1 chicken bouillon cube
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup rice
4 eggs

Cook bacon in 2 quart saucepan over moderate heat until crisp. Add onion and cook 1 minute. Stir in meat seasoning. Add green pepper, tomato sauce, water, bouillon cube and salt. Cover and bring to boil. Add rice. Replace cover and cook over low heat until rice is barely tender, about 25 minutes. Place scant cup of rice in each of 4 greased individual baking dishes. Make small depression in center of each with spoon and break whole egg into each depression. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., until eggs are set, about 15 minutes. Sprinkle with paprika and serve immediately. Serves 4.

HOT DEVILED EGGS

½ cup ripe olives
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
⅛ teaspoon paprika
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 cups milk
Bit of bay leaf
6 hard-cooked eggs
1-3 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Cut olives into large pieces. Melt butter and blend in flour, mustard, paprika, salt and Worcestershire sauce. Add milk and bay leaf and cook and stir until thickened. Remove bay leaf. Cut eggs into halves lengthwise and remove yolks. Mash yolks and blend with a little sauce. Season to taste. Heap into whites and arrange in shallow baking dish. Stir olives and half of cheese into remaining sauce and pour over and around eggs. Top with remaining cheese. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes, until thoroughly heated. Serves 4.

EGG CROQUETTES

4 tablespoons shortening
¼ cup finely chopped onion
¼ cup finely diced celery
3 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
5 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon paprika
1 cup milk
4 hard cooked eggs, chopped
Fine bread crumbs
1 egg, slightly beaten with 2 tablespoons water

Melt shortening in saucepan. Add onion, celery, and green pepper and cook until tender. Add flour and seasonings and blend. Add milk gradually and cook until smooth and thick, stirring constantly. Stir in eggs. Spread mixture in shallow pan about 7x11" and chill until stiff. Cut into rounds with 2½-inch biscuit cutter. Coat each round with crumbs, dip in egg mixture, and again coat with crumbs. Fry in deep fat (375 degrees F.) until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Makes 6 servings.

BAKED EGGS EN CASSEROLE

½ cup cooked sliced mushrooms
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
¼ pound potato chips, crushed
6 hard cooked eggs

Saute the mushrooms and green pepper in butter. Add flour and salt and blend. Add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until smooth and thickened. Sprinkle half of crushed potato chips in bottom of a buttered casserole. Cut eggs in halves lengthwise and place cut side down on chips. Top with remaining potato chips. Pour mushroom sauce over all. Bake for 20 minutes in a moderate oven 350 degrees F. Makes 6 servings.

Slight Decrease Experienced In West Texas Drilling Work

West Texas Drilling activity during the eighth week of 1956 dropped off three applications compared to the seventh week, but still was well above average.

A total of 145 applications, including 17 wildcats were filed in Rainroad Commission District 7-C and 8.

Totals compare with 148 applications, including 40 wildcats, filed the previous week.

Eight counties in District 7-C shared 38 applications, including seven wildcats, and 18 counties in District 8 shared 107 applications, including 10 wildcats.

District 7-C wildcats were: Tom Green, four; and one each for Crockett, McCulloch and Reagan.

District 7-C field tests were: Crockett, 13; Upton, eight; Tom Green and Runnels, three each; Irion, two; and one each for Coke and Reagan.

District 8 wildcats were: One each for Andrews, Borden, Crosby, Gaines, Garza, Loving, Mitchell, Pecos, Scurry, and Ward.

District 8 field tests were: Ector, 14; Andrews and Howard 13 each; Crane, 12; Gaines and Ward, eight and Yoakum, four each; Cochran, three, Dawson, Hockley and Scurry, two each; and Terry, one.

as suggested by Jennie V. Wynne

GREEN PEA SOUP
CHICKEN COLORADO BAKED POTATOES
BUTTERED BROCCOLI SPEARS
HOT ROLLS BEVERAGE
ICE CREAM & CINNAMON BARS

GREEN PEA SOUP

2 cups (No. 2 can) green peas, drained
1 cup liquid from peas and water
2 vegetable bouillon cubes
2 cups milk
½ cup light cream or top milk
1½ tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
½ teaspoon salt
1 to 2 teaspoons grated onion
1½ tablespoons butter or margarine

Combine peas, liquid and bouillon cubes in saucepan. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring to dissolve bouillon cubes. Remove from heat. Force through sieve and discard skins. Combine puree with milk, light cream, tapioca, salt and grated onion in saucepan, cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil. Add butter. Serve with croutons. Serves 4 - 6.

CHICKEN COLORADO

1 pound package of frozen Chicken Breasts, thawed
1 egg
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon black pepper
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
2-3rds cup bread crumbs
¼ cup butter or margarine
1½ cups of V-8 juice (12 oz. can)

Chicken Colorado is the most tender chicken you ever set a fork to! Its extra flavor and melt-in-mouth eating is due to slow simmering in V-8 Juice. Thaw chicken breasts as directed on carton. Then, beat together egg, salt, pepper and prepared mustard. Dip the thawed chicken in this egg mixture. Roll each piece in bread crumbs. Brown the chicken in butter. Pour in the V-8 Juice. Cover; simmer the chicken about 45 minutes. Serves 3 - 4.

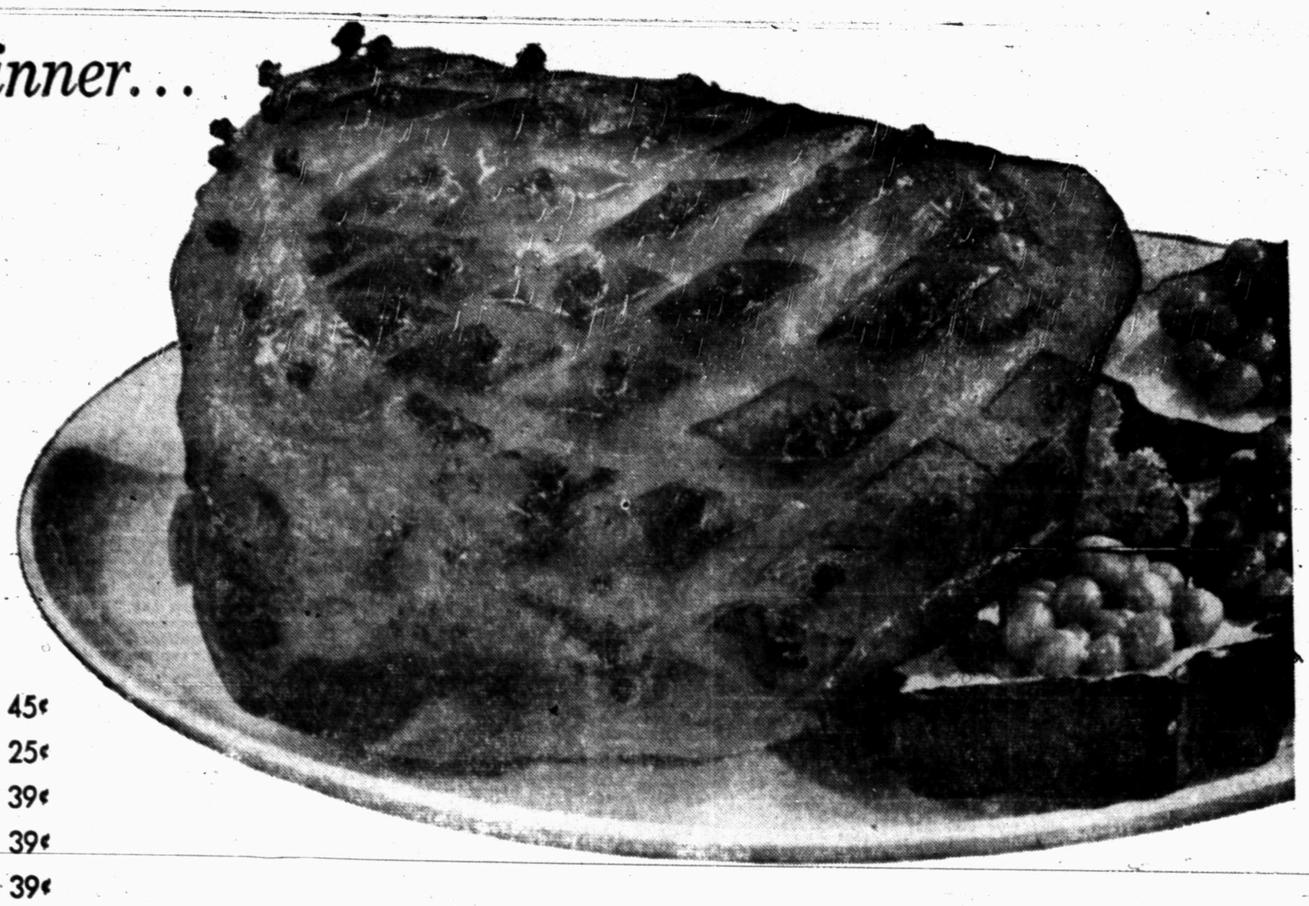
Shop SAFEWAY

Perfect For Your Sunday Dinner...

Pretty-as-a-picture... and wonderful tasting ...with a delicate ham-like flavor and tenderness.



Smoked Picnics

One of the most economical — as well as one of the most popular — of Safeway's meat values. Versatile, too! First, serve it oven-baked, just like ham; next, serve it sliced or on sandwiches — finally, cook the shank-end with beans. Short shanked, 6 to 10 lb. average, whole only.

Mild East Dispute Still Smoldering

LONDON (AP)—Britain today pushed another painful contraction of its military position in a Middle East smouldering with Arab-Israeli strife and faced the prospect of new disorders on its last-stand bastion of Cyprus.

The worsened situation aroused fresh alarms among Western Allies and provoked a rising clamor in Parliament against Prime Minister Anthony Eden's government.

The high-octane inflammability of one of the world's most strategic areas was highlighted further by the shooting down of an Israeli plane near the Syrian border and Israeli patrol clashes with Jordanians and Egyptians.

With British leadership of Jordan's Arab Legion ended by ouster of Lt. Gen. John Bagot Glubb and recall of 15 British officers, the government told the House of Commons recently it would crack down to restore order on Cyprus. The east Mediterranean island colony is Middle East headquarters for British forces and the nation's last military bastion in the area it once dominated.

Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd reported the collapse of five months of secret negotiations with Archbishop Makarios, leader of the Greek-speaking Cypriot majority which wants union with Greece.

Lennox-Boyd said Britain had offered Cyprus a wide measure of self-government. He said the talks had foundered on Makarios' demands — amnesty for all political offenders including convicted murderers of British soldiers, absolute Cypriot control of internal security and a written guarantee that the Greek-speaking majority would control the Legislature.

With 50,000 British troops stationed on the island as Mediterranean watchdogs, Lennox-Boyd told Commons, "The first and most important duty is to restore law and order" to Cyprus.

"For this we have the resolution and the force — and it will be done," he declared.

Makarios retorted defiantly from Nicosia, the Cyprus capital: "We shall in no circumstances strike the flag of self-determination. We shall struggle to the last, resisting passively illegal sovereignty over the island."

"Remain cool," he exhorted his countrymen. "The struggle will go on."

Eden, smarting under King Hussein's abrupt ouster of Glubb as commander of Jordan's crack Arab Legion, told the House earlier he was recalling 15 senior officers who had helped Glubb forge the desert army into the best-trained Arab military force.

Glubb was knighted by Queen Elizabeth in a gesture underscoring British displeasure over Jordan's action.

The withdrawal of top officers left only about 50 junior British officers in the Jordan army that Britain helped create and still supports to the tune of some 22 million dollars a year.

Eden said the future of the lesser officers—who are under contract to Jordan—would be discussed at the Jordanian capital of Amman.

He refused to tell the House of Commons whether Britain would cut off its military subsidy.

Commons reacted angrily to the twin setbacks of the Eden government's reverses in Jordan and its failure to solve the seething Cyprus issue.

Labor party leaders Hugh Gaitskell and Herbert Morrison called the developments a major setback and part of the "growing collapse" of Eden policy.

Right-wing Conservatives urged Eden to meet the Middle East reverses with firmness and to reassert British interests.

The Laborites pressed for early debate on the entire Middle East situation. Since 1948 Britain has lost its military hold on Palestine, Egypt, Iraq (except for the thin Baghdad Pact tie), the Sudan and now Jordan.

The fresh Israeli border outbreaks underlined the tense situation in the Middle East.

Syrian gunfire shot down an Israeli plane in the Sea of Galilee region. Israeli officials said the plane was machine-gunned while flying over its own territory. They said the pilot was wounded but managed a landing. In Damascus, the Syrian government said the plane was over Syrian territory.

An Israel patrol exchanged gunfire with Jordanians 25 miles southwest of Jerusalem near the Negev Desert. Israel said the Jordanians were driven out of Israel territory.

An Israeli spokesman said gunfire blocked two Egyptian efforts to cross into Israel territory in the Sinai sector and Gaza Strip.

Weighing the developments of the past few days, the British Foreign Office was reported converted to the viewpoint that the Arabs instead of the Israelis were the main threat of aggression in the Middle East. The viewpoint could bring a change in British opposition to selling arms to Israel.

Looking For Quiet Place?

NEW YORK (AP)—If you're looking for a nice, quiet place to go, this may be it — sometime.

Officials are out to shush all unnecessary noise.

But they're well aware that's not going to be an easy job in a city that just naturally doesn't hanker to be shushed.

Roaring subways, clattering garbage cans, the riveter's rat-a-tat-tat, thundering trucks and squealing brakes are as much a part of the big town as the Empire State Building.

Still, you never know. The new antinoise campaign started off with a bang . . . er, pardon . . . a quiet but dramatic success.

In just one week, authorities claimed today, the damper has all but completely been put on the No. 1 noise maker of all time: the horn honker.

His unnecessary blaring has been cut 75 per cent or more. Furthermore, even the necessary honking during the past few days has been muted.

John J. Hornblower, No. 1 target in the noise battle, was given until March 15 to reform. After that, he'll be given a summons.

Deputy commerce commissioner Martin Dodge said the antinoise program was launched because New York had become about the noisiest city in creation. "It's not impossible," he said, "but it will take time."

He figures it's more a matter of education, showing people how much nicer, healthier and safer things can be with less racket.

Women 'Gullible,' Ex-Convict Claims

KANSAS CITY (AP)—"Women are very gullible," John William Younger said "and car salesmen are just a notch above them."

The stocky, 33-year-old ex-convict considers himself an expert on both.

He was arrested here Tuesday while conducting a young woman to a pearl-gray Cadillac convertible — someone else's, naturally.

Police said Younger, whose face has adorned many "wanted" circulars, amiably admitted stealing a dozen automobiles, writing rubber checks here and there, and stopping now and then to charm birds out of a tree.

Women, he said modestly, were apt to go crazy over him.

Officers said he reported marrying a Kansas City girl and bolting after she surrendered $1,600 to him.

There were a few other wives in his past he acknowledged, and occasionally more than one at the same time. He was hazy on details.

In addition to warrants against him in Oklahoma, Arkansas and Missouri, Younger is also charged by the federal government with transportation of a stolen car and impersonation of a federal officer. Police said he would be turned over to the government for prosecution.

Younger arrived here Sunday from Tulsa, Okla. Flat broke, he persuaded a musician he met in a night club there to sell his guitar and accompany him to Kansas City.

The musician, Frank D. Russell, said Younger promised him a job in a Kansas City night club. Younger ditched him in a tavern here.

After signing reams of admissions, according to authorities, Younger told officers he started his car dealings with a rickety model which he "traded in" by simply departing with a demonstration car, leaving the relic to the dealer.

Younger progressed through the automotive field until he crowned his "achievements with the expensive convertible, stolen in Little Rock, Ark.

"The big thing is I miss my guitar," he said sadly. "I believe I was a little stupid."

Younger credited correspondence courses in salesmanship and personality development for part of his unconquerable charm. He pursued those studies while serving a stolen car term at the Leavenworth, Kan., federal penitentiary.

Russell, meantime, prepared to hitchhike back to Tulsa.

Start Early On Training

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The quicker you start training babies the better, says Dr. John G. Young, because at two months they have brains enough to cry for attention as well as for food.

"Since children start crying for dividends at the age of 8 weeks," said the chief of staff at Texas Children's Hospital, Dallas, "their education can't start too early."

Usually these dividends are the attention of the mother, he told the College of Medical Evangelists convention yesterday.

Mothers constantly vary their emotional attitudes during the day, and this can mix up the baby, he said, adding:

"Children can get away with almost anything early in the day but that isn't true at 5 p.m., when many homes tend to go to pot emotionally. Children may not understand a father who plays with them before breakfast but is too tired to play with them at night."

Proposed new jet airliners will go from New York to Los Angeles in four hours.
