Connally Writes New Provisions for Amended Court Bill

Where Franco Engages Loyalists

Some of the most severe fighting yet to be witnessed in the civil war in Spain was seen when Gen. Francisco Franco's nationalist troops launched their latest drive toward Madrid. Although a general conflict prevailed along the entire front, Franco's troops pressed hardest in the Brunete sector, in which the action was particularly heavy. The map above indicates the theater of war at a glance, and shows the outline of the battle zone during the last drive, and the area of most intensive fighting.

MUSSOLINI PREDICTS 'REALITY' IS TO OVERWHELM PRESENT 'MAKE BELIEVE'

MILAN, July 24. (P) — Il Popolo d'Italia, Premier Mussolini's newspaper, declared today that "reality" some day would overwhelm all international "make believe," well informed persons interpreting the "reality" as war.

The newspaper's 750-word editorial was attributed to Mussolini himself. It cited as one item of the group of "fictions" the idea that

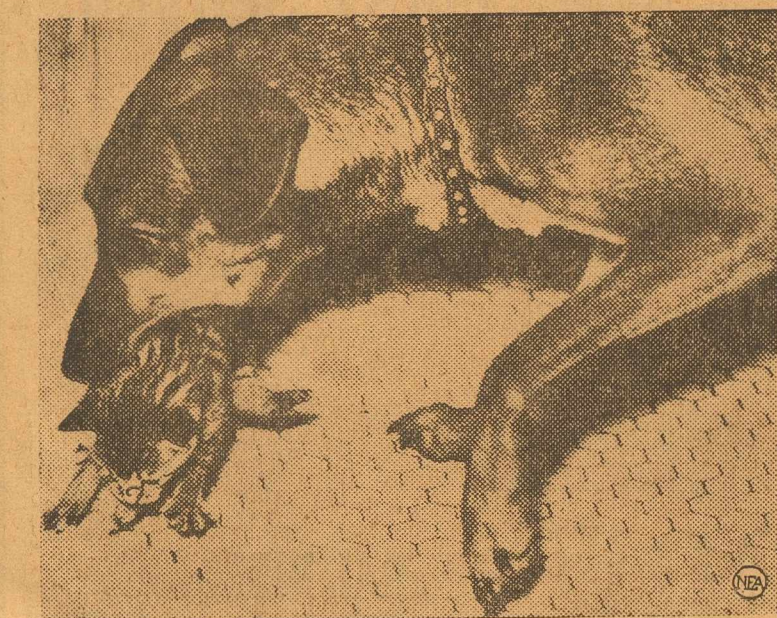

RECORDING OF OIL AND GAS LEASES IN MIDLAND COUNTY REFUTES STATEMENTS AREA 'CONDEMNED' FOR EXPLORATION

Recording of half a hundred oil and gas leases, mineral deeds, royalty deeds and assignments of oil and gas leases pertaining to Midland county lands, during the early part of this year, refutes the statements sometimes heard that "Midland county is condemned" for oil activity.

The trading actually started late in 1936, with several instruments recorded in late November and the month of December. Leasing continued at intervals during the first two or three months of 1937, taking stronger impetus as summer approached. Although most of the early trading was on lands in the eastern and southeastern part of the county, the most recent deals have been on property along the Midland-Ector line, indicating possible exploration in the near future in both eastern and western areas of Midland county.

Recording of instruments in the county clerk's office have increased three hundred per cent in the last two years, if the month of June may be used as a guide.

Caught Without Chance to Escape--

It was hot, sticky, dog-day hot. The soft, little ball of fur rolled on and on the floor, enjoying itself immensely, oblivious to everything about it. Suddenly a big, shaggy shadow covered the kitten with shadow, and in the next instant, Brownie, a 3-year-old police dog owned by E. F. Mendez of Brooklyn, N. Y., opened its huge jaws and—

WOULD RESTRICT INJUNCTIONS FROM THE LOWER COURTS

Dies Declares House Favors Amendment To Constitution

PARES EXPENSE

Measure Would Give Direct Appeal to Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, July 24. (P) — Senator Connally, Texas, announced today that he would try to write into the skeleton judiciary reorganization bill a provision restricting issuance of injunctions by lower court judges.

Representative Dies, Texas, said that 30 percent of the house membership favored a constitutional amendment to let congress pass on decisions overturning legislation. Two-thirds vote would be required to reinstate such laws.

Connally said that the new bill the judiciary sub-committee is preparing would also "provide direct appeal to the supreme court in cases involving the constitutionality of acts of congress."

STRIKERS PLACE MEAT EMBARGO ON CITY OF BUFFALO

Chairman of Labor Board Calls New Conferences

BUFFALO, N. Y. July 24. (P) — The International Longshoremen's association today clamped a meat embargo on Buffalo as John P. Boland, state labor board chairman, called a conference in an attempt to settle a four-day strike of 2,000 food handlers.

Union leaders called a walk out after a business agent of the united teamsters union charged Swift and company's truck were hauling butter and eggs for wholesale grocers shut down by a truck drivers strike.

MRS. ROBINSON IS URGED TO RUN AS AN INDEPENDENT

Support Offered Her In Race Against Bailey

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. July 24. (P) — An Arkansas democrat said today that Mrs. Joseph T. Robinson, widow of the late senate majority leader, was being urged to become a candidate in a special election to fill the senate vacancy.

If she agrees to run she will offer herself as an independent against Governor Carl E. Bailey, designated yesterday by the state committee as the democratic candidate.

Bailey will call an election, probably Sept. 14, to fill the vacancy.

Osro Cobb, state republican chairman, has called for support of an independent democrat or a republican candidate in opposition to Bailey. Mrs. Robinson would probably be assured republican support if she announces as an independent.

CIVIC LEADER AT SWEETWATER DIES

Four Midland Men Attend Funeral Services for Lon J. Geer

Four Midland men, R. L. Miller, O. L. Wood, R. S. Johnston and Jno. P. Howe, were in Sweetwater Saturday afternoon to attend funeral services for Lon J. Geer, Sweetwater civic leader, who was found dead at his home Friday morning.

For the past 19 years he had been manager of the Texas Electric Service company offices in Sweetwater. For the past several years he had been treasurer of the Buffalo Trails Council, Boy Scout organization, and Howe was the official Boy Scout representative from Midland. The other local men to attend the services are employees of the Texas Electric Service company, Miller being manager of the office here.

Named to Help

Political experts attach great significance to the fact that Senate Majority Leader Alben Barkley has named Senator Sherman Minton of Indiana, above, as his assistant. Their leadership of the Senate Democrats, it is said, greatly reduces the power of the southern Old Guard, which hitherto has always controlled Democratic Senate majorities.

500 Attend Barbecue Given Last Night By Drilling Contractor

Friends of George Barham, Midland drilling contractor, and wife were entertained Saturday evening with a chicken barbecue at Broadway Camp Gardens, the informal get-together marking the annual affair which has been stamped as one of the premier entertainment events of the Permian Basin.

Approximately 500 people attended, many coming from Big Spring, Odessa, Crane, McCamey, Fort Stockton, Pecos, Grand Falls, Royalty, Monahans, Wink, Kermit, Pyote, Jal, Eunice, Hobbs and even more distant points. Many Midland citizens also were in the crowd.

For the two years previous, Mr. Barham held the big party at Cloverdale park, but chose the Broadway on account of its convenience in being located by out of town guests. No program was held, the hosts mingling among the crowds to see that "everybody had a good time."

VISITS DALLAS

Mr. and Mrs. Alf Reese, Mrs. Addison Wadley, Mrs. Aldredge Estes and Mrs. Ruth Ramsell left this morning for Fort Worth and Dallas to attend the Southwest market. Mr. and Mrs. Wadley and Mrs. Estes will go on to Chicago to the market there.

Million Dollar Deal Made On Western Ward Acreage

By FRANK GARDNER

Western Ward county held attention at the week-end as the C. H. Mahres, Kenneth Black et al No. 1 Pat Wilson, prospective Delaware strike, drilled casing plug, and reports were circulated that a million dollar deal involving the well and surrounding acreage had been consummated.

It was reported, but unconfirmed, that the Signal Oil & Gasoline Corporation of Los Angeles, Calif., and Gene Fitzpatrick and Frank T. Pickrell, Fort Worth operators, had bought from Mahres and associates the well and 640 acres under it for consideration of $30,000 cash and $70,000 to be paid out of three-sixteenths of the oil produced.

Another report stated that the same parties had bought the well and 900 acres surrounding it for $48 an acre, cash, with the remainder of the million dollars to be paid out of oil. One source said that the well itself had not changed hands, but that 640 acres around it had been sold for an unrevealed consideration.

The No. 1 Wilson Saturday was completing drilling plug from 5 1/2-inch casing cemented at 4,864 feet, and will probably be bailing mud today. Total depth is 5,086, two feet in the Delaware sand, and hole had 4,000 feet of fluid in it when pipe was run over a week ago. Before running pipe, high gravity oil had been bailed from the well, but bailing had not run to bottom. Location of No. 1 Wilson is 1,650 feet from the southeast and 330 feet from the southwest line of section 133, block 34, H. & T. C. survey, between Pyote and Quito on the Bankhead Highway.

Jones Strike Deepening

Deepening from 4,959 feet was reported under way at the week-end in Continental Oil Company No. 1 Dr. E. H. Jones, northwest Gaines discovery and opener of the county's fourth pool. At that depth, it had swabbed 53 barrels of oil in nine hours following 1,000-gallon acid treatment. Many are of the opinion that the well has yet to penetrate the main pay zone. It is located 1,990 feet from the north and 660 feet from the east line of section 22, block A-7, public school land, nine miles west and three miles south of the Wasson pool opener.

Argo Oil Corporation No. 1 Jones, four miles farther north, is shut down for engine repairs at 4,428 feet in anhydrite and lime. It is in the center of the northeast quarter of section 2, block A-7.

Depth of 5,250 feet in lime with no shows yet reported had been reached by Amerasia Petroleum Corporation No. 1 A. H. Fasken, Gaines wildcat four miles southeast of the Seminole pool. It is 660 feet from the north and west lines of section 160, block G, W. T. R. R. survey.

Billy Muth, renowned organist, will give a fifteen minute organ concert beginning at 8 p. m., and will play for the evening song service.

Dr. Denham's subject for the morning sermon will be "The Happy Man," and for the evening service "God's Masterpiece." Mrs. Denham, wife of the visiting minister, will sing "Golden Bells" at the morning service. In the evening she and her son, Charles, will sing a duet "Ivory Palaces." Mrs. Joseph H. Mims will direct the choir at both services.

An invitation to the public has been extended by Baptist officials for both programs.

FASCISTS LAUNCH NEW ATTACK UPON LOYALIST TROOPS

Government Forces Withstand Drive Near Madrid

MADRID, July 24. (P) — Insurgents launched a new attack west of Madrid today in an attempt to drive back a wedge of government troops penetrating their front.

After an hour's shelling infantrymen and tanks attacked. Government officers declared their forces held all positions "despite violence of the assault."

After two weeks free from bombardment, while the government offensive bit into insurgent lines west of Madrid, the capital was heavily shelled twice in 24 hours.

The city counted 15 killed and 20 injured. Workmen scrubbed at red stains on the pavement and cleared away rubble.

Including casualties in other bombardments 15 miles from Madrid and in Toledo province, a total of about 70 dead and 150 wounded civilians was added to the war's toll.

West of Madrid and insurgent attempt at a counter offensive, designed to smash the government's new salient roughly 15 miles from the capital, appeared to have spent most of its force.

No Services Today For Presbyterians

There will be no services at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday other than Sunday School due to the fact that Rev. A. Thomas Dyl of Fort Stockton, will be unable to preach at the morning service as scheduled. The church pastor, Rev. W. J. Coleman, is on a vacation in California.

NEW AMENDMENTS TO WAGNER ACT TO BE OFFERED SOON

Legislation on Wage And Hour Problem Up This Week

UNIONS PLAYED

Says Legislation Has Been "One Sided" This Session

WASHINGTON, July 24. (P) — Senator Vandenberg, Michigan, complicated talk of an early congressional adjournment today by announcing he would offer amendments to the Wagner labor relations act when the senate considers wage-hour legislation next week.

His statement foreshadowed the major conflict over expanding what critics called "one-sided" legislation in favor of labor unions, guaranteeing the right of workers to organize unions and bargain collectively.

The amendment would forbid coercion by unions, sitdown strikes, compulsory union assessments for political purposes and strikes called without the approval of a majority of the employees.

Senator Barkley, the majority leader, outlined a program for the remainder of the session and predicted that congress will not adjourn until the measures are enacted.

Besides the new court bill now being drafted by the senate judiciary committee, the list included the Wagner hour and housing measures and a bill to plug holes in the tax laws. Barkley did not include the farm bill, or the reorganization of the government asked by President Roosevelt.

Meanwhile, Vice President Garner continued his efforts to close the ugly breach which the court bill opened in the ranks of democrats. At his suggestion, Senator Burke (D-Neb.) a leading opponent of the measure, called on President Roosevelt.

NEGRO CHARGED IN SCOTTSBORO CASE IS GIVEN 75 YEARS

Rape Count Dropped Against 5 Other Defendants

DECATUR, Ala. July 24. (P) — Charlie Weems, one of nine negroes charged with rape in the celebrated "Scottsboro" case, was convicted today by a Morgan county jury and his sentence fixed at 75 years in the penitentiary.

The negroes were accused of mass assault on Mrs. Victoria Price and Ruby Bates aboard a freight train in Northern Alabama March 21, 1931. Rape charges against five of the negroes were dropped after Ozie Powell pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to murder, receiving a 20-year sentence.

FISHING VERSUS QUINTS

Almost every state, province or community has its feature attraction these days, good for so many tourists a year. Occasionally, however, a locality has two big drawing cards, and their competition is likely to develop some amusing situations.

From Ontario, homeland of the Dionne quintuplets, comes a brave statement from one D. J. Taylor, deputy minister of game and fisheries, to the effect that more tourists invaded the province in the good fishing seasons of 1928-29 than in any comparable period since the birth of the five famous sisters.

In view of world interest in the quints, many Ontario residents may consider this statement nothing less than open heresy. Nevertheless, it seems that Mr. Taylor would be certain of a share of victory if there is any argument. For, with the quints steadily gaining in popularity, Ontario is going to need a good man to keep its fishing properly press-agented. And from the start he has made, Mr. Taylor is going to be just the man for the job.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

WASHINGTON, July 24. — Certain men very close to the White House, convinced that the Democratic party is going to split and frothing with impatience over the delay, already have begun to list the goats they expect to go galloping—or to be pushed—toward the Republican party. And the sheep they expect to remain in the fold.

Technically, there are 75 Democrats in the Senate and 333 Democrats in the House.

Actually, says a high official about as close to F. D. R. as any White House secretary—and whose name would make a large Page One headline if your correspondent were allowed to use it—there are about 55 senators and 275 representatives who can be counted as Democrats. They will go through for a progressive New Deal program such as has been outlined by Roosevelt, the party leader. This man goes on to talk as if he expected the other Democratic members to be sloughed off.

"Some of the 55 and some of the 275 won't like what we're trying to do," says this New Deal nose-counter. "But they'll take it!"

Fish Has His Troubles
SIGNIFICANT of Republican efforts to honey up to southern conservatives is a bill by Congressman Hamilton Fish of New York, who led a regiment of colored troops in the war.

Fish urges a pretentious memorial or statue here in honor of the southern hero, Gen. Robert E. Lee. He keeps pestering Congressman Kent Keller of Illinois, chairman of the library committee which has to do with such things, about it.

But Fish is having trouble getting anything out of a Democratic house, even though it be a tribute to "Marse Robert," since his accusatory exposure of the fact that Mrs. Roosevelt has her radio earnings turned over to charity without paying income tax on them.

This group believes Lewis does not appreciate the importance of middle class opinion, that he should make it more obvious he is a human being, that he should have more press conferences, and that he must realize his public relations technique and organization are more important than they were when he was simply head of the United Mine Workers.

(Part is the Lewis press conferences, usually attracting 30 to 50 news men, are at least as impressive as Roosevelt's. Lewis stands. The correspondents sit in hand-some brass-studded, leather chairs. Lewis rumbles, seldom smiles, and then but faintly, addresses correspondents as "Mr. —", never by first names. Roosevelt does. No gales of laughter sweep the room, as at the White House. Lewis is at his best before a crowd, but indifferent on the radio.)

Many friends of Lewis believe he should have avoided the swank reception party for the three Soviet flyers at the Russian embassy. Everybody does go and you see reactionary Republicans as well as radical New Dealers. There were a thousand persons there that night.

But the photo of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis descending the embassy stairs, after staying briefly, probably was the only one you saw.

Executions Cast a Pall
SOCIETY reporters failed to report that reception's outstanding feature—the atmosphere. The wave of executions in Russia cast a pall. Some of those invited didn't come at all. Others who came left quickly.

Those remaining looked vainly for certain attaches and guessed as to their fate. Most of all the crowd whispered about popular Ambassador Troyanovsky, just ordered back to Russia for a time. Some of Troyanovsky's best friends—Dolezky, Romm, Mikhal'sky—had been arrested, presumably doomed. Did Troyanovsky fear the worst, secretly in his heart? No one knew, but many felt tension in the air.

It was Congressman Sirovich of New York who approached Troyanovsky and Lewis as they stood talking and blurted out:

"Say, what about all these generals being shot over in your country?"

"Congressman," intervened Lewis obviously trying to relieve the ambassador's embarrassment, "would it not be just as appropriate for the ambassador to ask you what about all these workers who are being shot in your country?"

Troyanovsky, with a grateful smile at the labor leader, rapidly moved away.

Letters To Editor

Editor:

At a called meeting of the Brewster County Chamber of Commerce July 19, a plan was adopted by the board of directors to raise through popular subscription the sum of one million dollars for the purchase of land in the Chisos Mountains designated by the United States government as a national park, and the daily and weekly newspapers throughout the state were requested to sponsor this plan, through editorials and otherwise, and to accept donations for this purpose.

The plan contemplates that the Texas State Park Board shall have exclusive control of any and all funds raised for this purpose, also that every cent donated shall be spent only for the purchase of land in the park area, this land to be deeded for the present to the Texas State Park Board and later to be deeded to the United States government for a Big Bend national park. It was also decided to request each county in the state to set up an organization composed of the president of the chamber of commerce, the president of a local bank, the county superintendent (or county judge), the proprietor of a local hotel, and newspaper editors, which committee shall undertake to raise the purchase of land recently for the purchase of a National Park. This plan, however, does not preclude organization or individuals with means from contributing larger amounts than $1.

Belief in the feasibility of this plan was supported by the fact that the state of Virginia raised one million dollars by popular subscription for the purchase of land recently for the purchase of a National Park in that state. This amount was later supplemented by a one million dollar appropriation by the legislature of Virginia. The Shenandoah park became a national park in 1936, and during the first year it was open, 694,098 tourists visited this park.

The National Park Service, basing its estimate upon attendance at other national parks, has issued a circular indicating its belief that once the Big Bend National Park is under way, out-of-state tourists will spend in Texas a minimum of $3,600,000 annually. Once the land is deeded to the national government, the national park will undertake to develop and maintain the park at its own expense. This plan contemplated an annual expenditure of $250,000 for development only.

Conrad L. Wirth, assistant director, National Park Service, has the following to say with reference to the Big Bend National Park: "It is apparent that the Big Bend National Park will be recognized as one of the outstanding geological laboratories and classrooms of the world. The establishment of the Big Bend National Park gives the Service its first opportunity to set up a boundary that will protect a logical and complete biological unit."

The advertising value to Texas of a national park within its borders will be of greater value to the state of Texas than the amount of money necessary to purchase the land. Old Mexico has agreed to establish a complementary park just across the border. What a boon to international good feeling and international trade an International Peace Park would be!

People from the North and East would come South to see Carlsbad Caverns, the McDonald Observatory, the International Park, and on into Old Mexico. Can you visual-

Go Dutch on Happiness

Frozen Ices With Meat Are Ideal

We thrive on contrasts, it is said, and perhaps this quirk in human nature is responsible for the vogue of serving frozen ices with the meat course. But whatever the reason, the vogue is desirable.

Mint ice is a favorite with lamb, because it is thought that the flavor of mint enhances that of lamb. It does, but try serving mint ice with ham, and you will agree that the combination is excellent. A combination of orange and grapefruit juice with syrup and frozen is a real tempter with pork chops or a pork roast.

Frozen tomato juice seasoned with a dash of onion or lemon juice is ideal when served with roast beef.

The flavors of grape juice and ham go well together, so why not frozen grape juice served as a complement to baked ham? It is delicious.

Try serving lemon ice with roast pork. The tart flavor of the lemon enhances the tasty flavor of the pork remarkably.

Acting President of Texas U. Interviewed On Radio Program

AUSTIN, July 24.—Interviewed Saturday night on a radio program over a local station by Ed Syers, editor of the Daily Texan, student newspaper under whose sponsorship the broadcast was given, J. W. Calhoun, acting president of the University of Texas, gave one or two features of the picture he has in mind of the new president of the university, who is to be chosen by the board of regents in the near future.

"First of all, he should be a school man—a professional school man," Calhoun said. "Of course, there are many doctors, lawyers and men of other professions who could function as university president, but the presidency is in many ways the most desirable position in the educational system, the position conferring the most distinction upon the holder; and if this is to be given to a non-school man, it seems to me that it can have no effect except a very depressing one upon those men who are making education their life work. It would be somewhat like the effect on the legal profession of appointing to the highest courts men who are not lawyers."

"Besides being a school man, the president should be a man young enough to have, potentially, a long term in office—fifteen or twenty years at least. He should be old enough to have made a considerable reputation as an educator and as an executive. He should be a man able to see that one great outstanding institution of learning, the equal of any in the United States, should be found in the area lying between the Appalachian and the Rocky Mountains and between the Gulf of Mexico and the Missouri River, and that this institution should be the University of Texas at Austin."

After six weeks service as president of the university, Calhoun finds the job not much different from any other, he said in the radio interview.

"Ever since I was ten years old—and that has been more than half a century—I have been accustomed to working hard all day every day, so this affords very little change from my usual program," he said.

QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING

"Do Banks coin money or issue currency?"

THIS question has been asked by some people who desire a clearer understanding of our money system in this country.

Banks do not coin money. Money is coined by the Federal government mints under authority given to Congress by Section 8 of the Constitution which says: "The Congress shall have power to coin money and regulate the value thereof."

The banks of the country (except the 12 Federal Reserve Banks) do not issue currency. This function is exercised by the Treasury of the United States. The 12 Federal Reserve Banks issue Federal Reserve Notes. National banks formerly issued National Bank Notes but that authority was terminated by an Act of Congress.

This bank is glad to answer further questions about our American monetary system.

The Golden Text is: "The truth of the Lord endureth for ever. Praise ye the Lord" (Psalms 117:2).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And after these things I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia; Salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God" (Revelation 19:1).
The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The suppositional warfare between truth and error is only the mental conflict between the evidence of the spiritual senses and the testimony of the material senses, and this warfare between the Spirit and flesh will settle all questions through faith in the understanding of divine Love" (Page 288).

If You Recall

By Helen Welshimer

If you recall—I hardly think you will,
And yet you may—a boardwalk by the sea,
And something of the miles of misty dreams
Your spirit walked while you tramped there with me;
Then it may be that you would like to know
The ocean has not quieted, my dear
(Although we find our dreams hold briefer fire,
And less of thunder each succeeding year).

YOU told me once the color of the stars
Is varied due to chemical content;
Green, silver, blue—and I believe I smiled,
And watched one fall, and wondered where it went;
I thought of it tonight—unchanged, the stars
Shine on the sea and light the dusty sand;
The walk is gone, nor can we take again,
The broken path we traveled hand in hand.

WRITERS' PROJECT TEXAS GUIDEBOOK WILL BE PUBLISHED LATE THIS YEAR

SAN ANTONIO.—Work on the federal writers' project Texas Guidebook has progressed to the point which justifies the hope that it may be published in the fall. H. P. Drought, state works progress administrator announced.

Discussions have begun between representatives of the Works Progress Administration and state officials as to what official body shall act as sponsor for the publication. Drought said. The plan under which the project was established provides that in each of the 48 states an officer or official body shall sponsor the book for that state. This involves no state financial expenditure.

Although state officials and several members of the board indicated the belief that the state planning board would be the logical Texas sponsor, an opinion from the attorney general's department was received last week to the effect that the planning board has no legal authority to act in this capacity. Investigation is now being made to determine which other state boards or commissions are legally empowered to undertake the sponsorship. The Texas book will be one of the American Guide series, which will provide for the entire United States a more complete and comprehensive guide than has ever been published or, for that matter, could be published by any commercial interest, because of the prohibitive cost of gathering the material to cover every city and county in the country. It will contain about 250,000 words, which is about the length of the average European Baedeker guide. In addition to this state book, guides for a number of Texas cities are contemplated, and Texas sections have been written for several books to be nationally published, on folklore, unusual spots in America, and other subjects.

The Texas guide will contain a number of brief but complete articles under a score of general headings, such as history, natural resources, first Americans, government, education and folkways and folklore. Thirty-seven automobile tours will cover 15,400 miles, which workers on the project have logged and described. Cities whose descriptions call for more space than would be justified on a tour are given a special section. There will be some 65 pages of original maps and photographs.

Indian Fishermen Protected

THE DALLES, Ore. (U.P.)—Indians who assemble each year to dip salmon from the swirling waters of Celilo falls on the Columbia river have adopted safety measures to minimize the toll of lives lost each year. Firewater has been prohibited and fishermen are required to wear hob-nailed shoes and tie themselves securely with a safety rope anchored ashore.

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (U.P.)—When they get their change, American Indians don't want silver but greenbacks, and the greenbacks must be $1 bills and not five's or ten's, merchants at the eighth annual southwestern Pow Wow learned this when 2,000 tribesmen shook skeptical heads at larger bills and demanded $1 notes and nothing else.

Business Conditions As of July 1

This map represents business conditions as of July 1, 1937, as shown in "Nation's Business", official publication of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

June was a disturbed month in some industrial areas, northern Ohio, Indiana, parts of Michigan, and west Pennsylvania. Strikes in the independent steel mills, begun late in May, involved one-sixth of the country's producing capacity. Strikes of transport workers interfered with loading and departure of vessels. Estimates placed the number of strikers at about 100,000. This was reflected in a drop in car loadings and bank clearings, the latter being the first decrease in a year. Failures, however, were fewest since September and liabilities the smallest for more than five years. The stock market was quieter but showed underlying strength and rallied easily. The crop situation apparently held all its earlier promise. Record-breaking receipts of new wheat were recorded in the Southwest in June.

Use of electric light and power rose to new all-time highs. Wholesale trade increased but retail trade slackened somewhat. Commodity prices, after several months' decline, turned upward.

Despite widespread labor disturbances and the normally seasonally lower trend, the decline in activity in June from the high level of recent months was only moderate.

The Barometer

The Barometer chart line for June shows a strikingly small downturn, and continues well above the level prevailing a year ago.

BOOK REVIEW

By A. W.

"THE FIRST YEAR," Enid La Monte Meadowcroft; Thomas Y. Crowell, N. Y.

The first scenes of this story are on the Mayflower. The details are given in such a way that a child reader becomes a member of the crowded little ship, which is holding what two ships should have been carrying. The young reader takes part in the cooking and crowding on the ship; the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers, which is treated delightfully and from a child's viewpoint; and the first year of settlement and adjustment in the New World. The names of well known historical characters figure in the story, but what happens to the family whose children are the main characters, might have happened to any family in any settlement.

This is a story written for young children. A child of eight can read and enjoy it. Mrs. Meadowcroft has had experience in teaching children and understands the art of telling a story so that it becomes attractive and interesting to young minds.

Angler Gets Nose Strike

BOSTON, (U.P.)—John Monahan, 13, of Hyde Park got a "strike" while practicing surf-casting on the street. The strike was his nose. The hook was removed by a physician after John ran nearly a mile with the rod in one hand and the end of the line fixed to his nose.

"TRAILER TRACKS," Harriet F. Bunn; Macmillan, New York.

It has not been many years since young people read with avid interest the adventures of people in covered wagons. Now wagons have given way to the trailer.

The five Ogilvie children, with eighteen year old Martha taking the place of their mother, made up a family road-show. They often took trips with their father in a rattle trap car and a home-made trailer. When their father died their future looked back. They rebelled at the idea of living with an aunt and uncle in Minnesota. But what could five children do?

Then one day one of them found a diary in the attic. They learned that after the Mexican war their great-grandfather had taken out soldiers script worth 160 acres in land in New Mexico. The diary was a record of their trip to their new home. The Ogilvies were fired with an ambition to travel the same route and see if any of their relatives were living in New Mexico and to seek their fortune with them. "Trailer Tracks" is the exciting adventures of the five Ogilvies in their old car and trailer on their way to New Mexico; their attempts at finding their relatives; their determination and efforts to prove their claim to their grandfather's lands; and their ultimate success.

Harriet F. Bunn, in an author's note, says that the adventures in the story took place in 1933 when her own family took a trip over this same route, and that the diary is adapted from one found in the archives at Santa Fe.

FORD AND SINCLAIR CLUBS WIN FRIDAY NIGHT SOFTBALL GAMES

FAVORED GULFERS FALL BEFORE V-8 AGGREGATION 12-9

The Ford V-8 and the Sinclair softball clubs came out winners in the Friday night games, the Sinclair thereby maintaining their place at the top of the league along with the Hardware.

The Sinclair captured their second straight when they ran roughshod over the weak Scharbauer Hotel club, taking an easy 15-4 victory. The Ford club surprised even themselves by finally beating out the strong Gulf club, 12-9. Straughan, Gulf hurler, usually one of the toughest in the league was no puzzle for the V-8 boys and as a result his teammates watched the Fords go by on 12 hits.

The KRLH and the Ford clubs will play the first game tomorrow night, the Hardware and Gulf drawing the late assignment.

The Fight for Power in Washington

This is the last of six stories interpreting in terms of a gigantic struggle for power the confusing political and economic events of the day.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
The Midland Reporter-Telegram
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 24. —Balances of power in America have been shifted around a great deal in the last four years.

Congress has delegated a great deal of its power to Roosevelt and will delegate more. Yet Congress has more legislative power than ever, because recent Supreme Court decisions have broadened its jurisdiction. At present, however, Congress is divided as to the extent to which the President and his power should be curbed, if any.

The Supreme Court indulged in a confident outburst of power to veto New Deal legislation, but lately has been as meek as a school lamb, apparently for no better reason than that Roosevelt and his followers threatened to render it impotent. The President still seeks additional power to change the complexion of the court.

The "economist royalists" and less pugnacious business men, a group which once had large vested interests in the Republican Party, the White House, Congress, the Supreme Court and big-state governments, apparently lost further gobs of power when they proved they couldn't "buy" the last election. The New Deal seldom if ever consults them any more and they howl to heaven as they hear of new plots against their pocketbooks. But the New Deal may be hamstrung by Congress.

Labor, kicked around, exploited and, in many cases, starved for a long time, has achieved much new power through its own organization effort, through political action which has given it influence with public officials, and through an alliance with a New Deal which firmly believes in a strong labor movement.

C. I. O. labor has claimed the power to occupy plants in sitdown strikes to achieve certain objectives, and the power by mass picketing to keep non-strikers in or out of plants by threatened or actual violence.

It has won great victories in steel, automobiles and elsewhere. But hard-boiled old-time union-busters of the Girdler-Grace type swear they'll never sign a union contract. And the federal and industrial-state governments have proved they'll go against such employers and help labor—up to a certain point.

"Public" Divided
Farmers who went through hell as a class, now have power to demand and get federal subsidies and, through their organizations, to tell the New Deal and Congress just what laws they want. Even the needy unemployed have theoretically won the concession that they're not required to starve.

The dear old public—whatever that may be—is confused and divided about all this, as usual. It will be able to express itself at the polls next year and again in 1940. (Roosevelt plans to make himself and his policies an issue both times.)

It has the satisfaction of knowing that the contestants for power tend to counterbalance each other, and that labor's recent rampage has been somewhat checked.

As "consumers," the "public" has small cause for rejoicing and will have even less reason to cheer unless it is able to organize effectively on a consumer basis.

Balance Sought
The idea that government and law are an impartial arbiter between conflicting interests in society is nice but phoney. They are a balancing factor which reacts to pressures.

Justice is surer when conflicting interests are more or less evenly matched. Industry and labor—or so New Deal theory runs—should be on even terms to strike a fair bargain. So labor must get a corner on labor power.

But this becomes dangerous if the state is not prepared to step in and preserve equilibrium. It's the function of presidents and governors, if not courts, to serve as umpires.

Labor Political Influence
Roosevelt needs and wants a strong labor movement because that is in part of the progressive tradition, because it will aid and help carry out the New Deal purchasing power-prosperity theory, and because it's a political necessity for him.

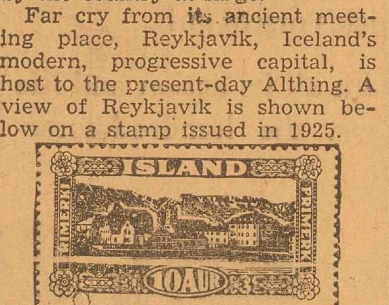

PICTURESQUE, yet dramatic scene was that enacted 1007 years ago on the bleak and rugged shores of Iceland. There, in the summer of 930, opened the oldest parliament still in existence. Its meeting place was a great cleft in a fantastic lava field, and its members were hardy Norsemen who feared neither the inclemencies of weather nor the wrath of their fellowmen.

Establishment of this national assembly Althing ("all" meaning all, and "thing" being the old Norse verb to talk) stands apart in history because, at a time of worldwide hatred and darkness, it represented the deliberate agreement of independent groups of men seeking to attain the common end of order and justice.

Today, although vastly altered from its original structure, this Icelandic parliament functions in full vigor. The Althing numbers 44 members elected by popular vote, 36 of whom represent constituencies while eight are elected by the country at large.

Far cry from its ancient meeting place, Reykjavik, Iceland's modern, progressive capital, is host to the present-day Althing. A view of Reykjavik is shown below on a stamp issued in 1925.

BY JESS RODGERS
After two nights of soft ball play, it is apparent that not only are the pitchers behind the batters

Labor was slowly getting its own legislation before Roosevelt appeared, but he helped get it the Wagner act, has helped it get strike settlements and now promises a wage-hour law.

Labor helped elect Governors Earle of Pennsylvania, Townsend of Indiana, Homer of Illinois, Murphy of Michigan, Lehman of New York and particularly Davey of Ohio. Murphy helped C. I. O. tremendously in the General Motors strike, even calling out troops for temporary protection of sitdown strikers and to prevent bloodshed. He has swung back to more conservative ground.

Davey, after heeding Lewis-Perkins-Roosevelt pleas to prevent massacre by sending militia to keep Youngstown steel plants closed, then opened the plants with militia because he deemed it the better part of political wisdom, despite C. I. O. howls.

Comes State Action
Earle, who like Davey, has presidential ambitions, sent troops to Johnstown in an obviously pro-C. I. O. move, then apparently went into a cold sweat, withdrew them and declared for Roosevelt for 1940.

Highly significant is the new Michigan law which provides a state labor relations board to investigate and suggest arbitration, confirms organization and bargaining rights, forbids picketing which blocks highways or entry into or egress from a factory, bars non-employees from picketing except for union officials representing strikers, and restricts labor injunctions. This represents "public" reaction to labor excesses.

State laws restricting labor may become common, but federal legislation of that sort isn't likely.

Illegal violence, whether by employer or employee, is punishable under the law. It also inflames public opinion and usually brings official force in against the perpetrators. Labor leaders although they may encourage it, carefully watch for the point beyond which they dare not go.

We've Seen Worse
If you have jitters about labor violence or anti-labor violence, read back into history about the Molly Maguires, the Pittsburgh riots of 1877 with their 26 killings and $5,000,000 of destroyed railroad property, the Homestead strike, the Haymarket tragedy, the Ludlow massacre, the McNamara ryanmitings, the Herrin massacre and Chicago's labor terrorism.

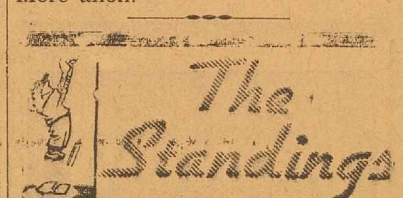

Compare the last great steel strike which Pennsylvania troopers broke by riding madly through steel towns to beat, trample and shoot men, women and children, with the successful and peaceful negotiations between Lewis and Myron Taylor of U. S. Steel, or the Jones & Laughlin election. Or even with the Republic - Youngstown - Inland-Bethlehem strike, regardless of what the Chicago cops did.

This isn't the country it was four years ago. And in 1938 the public, if it desires, can elect a Congress which will put it back toward where it was. But most of us fear the future rather than the present.

The fight for power doubtless will go on forever. But perhaps with less heat, less violence, less cruelty, more light, more co-operation, more understanding and more human kindness.

ing out 12 and giving up on four hits. The same paper also has Mel Serafine, now with Union Springs, Ala., coming from Odessa. Ouch! Wonder which was the more surprised, Manager Girdley or Smith when the Ford club beat the Gulf Friday night. Joyce Howell probably wishes he had chopped down a few trees or done something else to get his hands in shape before the season opened. His catching hand swelled up like a balloon after a few innings of receiving Lewellen's fast one. "Andy" Fasken will see the Giants and Cubs when they meet in Chicago next Sunday. Lucky stiff. But it Wasn't So Bad After All!

Brownie, never a mother, but possessed of a strong maternal instinct, made use of a canine prerogative and chased a mother cat from her litter of three kittens. Immediately thereafter Brownie adopted the kittens as her very own, and repulsed every attempt of the mother cat to rescue them. Despite the fact that they must be fed milk from a saucer, the three little kittens are quite content with their new guardian.

Merriam Kills 416 Bills

SACRAMENTO, Cal. (U.P.)—Gov. Frank P. Merriam during the recent legislative session won a position as the state's third greatest bill-killer. He either pocketed or vetoed 416 bills. During the past 32 years, however, he has been outdone by Gov. Friend W. Richardson, who killed 519 legislative measures, and Gov. Hiram W. Johnson, who vetoed 433.

Old Building Air Cooled

COLUMBIA, Mo. (U.P.)—The oldest building on the University of Missouri campus, Switzer Hall has been air conditioned since it has been constructed in 1872. Contractors remodeling the building discovered a forgotten 10-foot airshaft connected in the basement with brick tunnels and running up through the three stories, providing cool air in the summer.

Italian Girls Patriotic

ROME (U.P.)—Objection has been raised here at the innovation introduced by dressmakers who print extracts from Mussolini's speeches all over women's frocks. The newspaper "Il Lavoro Fascista" records that one attractive young woman has been seen in the streets with the Duce's memorable fighting phrases stamped over her dress.

In Greater London alone, nearly 100,000 boys and girls become available for work every year.

Queen Bee Executed

MERRIMAC, Wis. (U.P.)—When the bees in G. A. King's hives revolt, King knows what to do. One Swarm left the hive and gathered in the top of a high tree. King told a bystander, "I guess I'll get my gun and shoot the queen." He did, and the bees returned to the hive.

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (U.P.)—Seven Minnesotans whose products were selected in a national butter contest will send exhibits to the World's Dairy Congress to be held in Berlin.

Love,
Honor,—and Stay Healthy

All prospects are rose colored to a bride. With fervent vows newly made, does she realize their fulfillment will depend largely upon her? A wise young bride will keep her health glowing and vivid, and her husband's too, so that health hazards shall not mar the structure of their future. And she will select a family physician to be her ally such vicissitudes as years may bring.
