

Rountree Points Out Laxness Of Boll Worm Rule

Representative Says Law Has Been Handicap To Area; Enforcement Laxness Criticized

(Special To The Avalanche)

LAMESA, Oct. 21.—Carl Rountree, representative of the 118th district of Texas and co-author of the pink boll worm law passed at the last session of the legislature in a statement made here today criticizes the state and federal agricultural department for laxness in the enforcement of regulations imposed in this area. Rountree quotes these departments as saying: "The pink boll worm can never do any material damage in this section on account of climatic conditions peculiar to this section" and as giving reason for continuing regulations "as being necessary for fear a worm might be carried in seed or otherwise to the cotton belt east of here where it will be very destructive."

Rountree points out that it is so necessary for this area to be under regulations as prescribed by this law, because "two dead pink boll worms" were found here two years ago, and for the protection of the "cotton growing belt of Texas and the South," it is necessary to use every precaution possible to bring about absolute regulation in this affected area. Rountree points out that not until recently did the department place a quarantine station north of Lamesa on the Lubbock highway, thus leaving the highway free to passing of all kinds and making an avenue of escape for all cotton and cottonseed that owners might wish to carry north and of course after reaching an east and west highway north of here the products could go in all directions.

In the meeting at Odessa the 23rd of September this laxness of enforcement was pointed out by Rountree and others. Within a few days the department had a quarantine station on the Lubbock highway after having left it open for the past two years. Rountree says. Rountree further observes that as yet on the Brownfield highway leading north from Lamesa and into Terry county and thence into the South Plains cotton belt there is exactly the same condition prevailing with no quarantine station on

Sudden Drop In Lower Reaches Of Ohio River Leaves Ships Trapped

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 21. (AP)—A sudden drop in the lower reaches of the Ohio river left half a dozen or more steamers trapped by low water today, some of them aground and some tied up by officers who foresaw the danger in time.

Included in the craft forced into inactivity between Evansville, Ind., and Paducah, Ky., was the steamer Mississippi, inspection boat of the Mississippi River Commission, which had been designated as the headquarters ship for President Hoover, when he travels from Cincinnati to Louisville, next week, as a part of the celebration of the canalization of the Ohio.

Tied Up On Orders. Old Man River's joke on the nation which is about to celebrate its conquest over him will be short lived, however, engineers say. The sudden drop, amounting to 10 feet in some places, was more than the lower dams could handle, and the engineers started work of sending water down to the craft as soon as they learned of their plight, early this morning.

Let Through Dams. Water was let through dams as high up as Huntington, W. Va., and a little more on the way down. It was stated at the engineers' headquarters here that the Mississippi and the other craft would be floated by tomorrow morning and that "they will come on up and go to Pittsburgh and then go down again."

The steamers Inspector and the this highway as was the case on the Lubbock highway where a station has been recently placed. Cottonseed and lint can easily be routed over this highway to a road north of the quarantine line and thence east to the cotton growing belts where, according to entomologists, the pink boll worm could do much material damage. Rountree charges laxness and lack of earnest intention to enforce regulations in this area as demonstrated for the past two years here. He further states "if it is so necessary to place this quarantine which will cost the people approximately $10,000 a year it is just as necessary to strictly enforce the regulations and place quarantine stations on all important highways leading in such directions as might furnish avenues for cottonseed and lint to escape to our eastern neighbors who certainly do not want to become contaminated with this pest and such quarantines."

Willow, also designated to take part in the celebration, were reported stranded at Ford's Ferry, not far from the Mississippi and two boats were reported aground at Diamond Island. Several other craft were either aground or tied up near Paducah, Ky.

Government engineers explained that considerable dredging remains to be done in the Ohio and that this phase of the work had to be deferred until after completion of dams. The celebration next week is in honor of the latter accomplishment.

Federal Building Title Is Okehed

Plans And Specifications For Proposed Structure Expected To Be Approved In Near Future

With the announcement yesterday by John L. Vaughan, postmaster, that the department of justice has approved the title to the new proposed federal building in this city, plans and specifications are expected to be authorized soon.

"Norman A. Dodge of Fort Worth, United States district attorney, has been informed by the department of justice that the title has been accepted," said Mr. Vaughan. "The final acceptance is expected to expedite the plans for the new structure." Revisionary claims to the site for the planned government building were removed about three months ago when F. E. Wheelock, one of the original owners of the site, southeast corner of the court house square, signed a quit claim deed to the property.

The Cow is off the Track!

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

Railroads have safely passed those danger signals of prejudice which caused folks to look upon them with fear. Holding aloft the semaphore of progress AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE cleared the track and, today, millions travel in ease and security.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

Items Listed For Company Dinner Is Discussion At Cooking School Tuesday

Mayor H. D. Woods Introduces Mrs. Myra Oliver Dougan At Opening Of Sixth Annual Cooking School Here

Famous Lecturer Gives Lecture And Demonstration On Salads For Every Day And For Parties; Large Crowd Attends First Session

Humpty-Dumpty became so modern Tuesday afternoon that he smoked a cigarette.

Humpty in this case was only another egg, a stuffed one at that. He couldn't fall off the wall, because he was wedged in the center of a large red tomato that was resting on a lettuce leaf in a salad plate arranged for the sixth annual Avalanch-Journal cooking school.

The Humpty salad was only one of many recipes that Mrs. Myra Oliver Dougan gave Monday afternoon at the opening session of the school to some 450 women of Lubbock and the vicinity. As early as 1:30 the group began gathering and extra seats were added before the lecture began. Provisions are being made to accommodate as large a crowd as attends the school and 500 are expected to attend the session Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Dougan, who appears before her audience in frocks as the housewife herself would wear, was introduced by Mayor H. D. Woods, who spoke briefly concerning the changing idea of women regarding the art of cookery, showing how the ideas had changed from the time when college girls started specializing in cookery.

Today at the school is going to be "the company dinner," and just remember about "the potatoes," for they are on the menu, too. What is going to be prepared is still a secret to the audience, but the lecturer will include a meal, a sauce, three vegetables, a pudding and a pudding sauce. And to top everything off, there's to be a discussion concerning tea and coffee.

Mrs. Dougan began her lecture Monday afternoon with the preparation of a potato salad that was prepared in a ring-shaped bowl and garnished with parsley and boiled eggs cut crosswise.

Then there was that delicious looking individual plate of fruit salad, termed "cubed fruit salad," carried out in the shades of green and yellow. In the center of the dish was a mound of fruit, colored a dark green, while around the base of this was a circle of cubed pineapple, the whole being garnished with parsley.

The sandwich loaf was perhaps the outstanding feature judged from the interest in it taken by the audience. The loaf was put together and "iced" with cheese and was cut as it should be served at a party.

The women are requested to bring spoons to the lecture Tuesday so that they may taste the various dishes prepared.

Another Amarillo Man Is Satisfied

"Since Taking Orgatone, My Aunt Shows No Signs Of Her Old Troubles," He Says

The list of men and women now endorsing Orgatone in and around Amarillo grows longer day by day. To the large number of representative men whose statements have been published in the press of the country is now added the name of L. D. Rankins, who lives at 613 Monroe St., Amarillo, Texas, who made the following statement, detailing his aunt's experience with Orgatone.

"I've just come in to get another bottle of Orgatone for my aunt, Mrs. J. B. Chadwell, who lives on rural route 3," said Mr. Rankin. "She has already taken three bottles and her improvement is simply wonderful. My aunt has suffered for three years from a disordered stomach that gradually got worse and several months ago she noticed a distressing feeling of gas after eating and it caused her to be in a very weak and run down condition. She was losing weight right along and had very little appetite. But what little she did eat wouldn't digest and sometimes right after eating she would often get sick at her stomach.

"Her condition got to be so serious I worried a lot about her. 'Till she started taking Orgatone, then she began to improve at once and I became more hopeful of her recovery. She sleeps like a top every night now and shows no signs of her old trouble. Her nerves are quieter and she eats better and everything seems to agree with her and gives her no distress afterwards. She is stronger and has more life and energy than before and says she feels more like working around the house than she has in a long time. We know from actual experience what Orgatone will do and are telling all our friends about it whenever we see them."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought at Lubbock at Bowen's Drug Store.

Man's Eternal Quest For Youth Gets New Angle In Phlebopneumotomy—A Vein To Vein Rejuvenation Operation

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Man's eternal quest for youth held the attention of a group of surgeons attending the American College of Surgeons clinic today after Dr. Victor D. Lespinasse, Chicago, demonstrated a new form of rejuvenation operation. Although the college has not given official sanction to this type of surgery, the operation is causing comment.

Phlebopneumotomy — meaning "vein to vein" in the surgeon's vernacular — forms the basis of Dr. Lespinasse's new technique. The surgeon joins certain veins in the outer abdomen, causing the blood to follow a different course and thus, it is claimed, revitalizing the glands. The operation does not involve the transplanting of glands or the use of glandular extracts.

Dr. Lespinasse in 1922 performed a rejuvenation upon Harold F. McCormick, prominent Chicagoan. His patient today was said to have been wealthy and widely known, but his identity was guarded carefully. The surgeon said that his method has passed the experimental stage and has been used on many patients.

Awarding of honorary fellowships in the American College of Surgeons occupied tonight's session.

Philadelphia was chosen as the scene of the 1930 congress, which probably will be held during October.

El Paso Convention Is Expected To Have Banner Attendance; City Ready

(Special To The Avalanche)
EL PASO, Oct. 21.—From every section of West Texas delegates are coming to El Paso for the annual meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, opening here October 24 and continuing for three days. This is indicated by reservations which have been made at the hotels from every section and indications now point to one of the largest attended conventions in the history of the organization. With the city prepared, as is no other city in Texas, to care for a convention crowd of this size, every indication is that regardless of the great numbers expected all will be cared for in a satisfactory manner. Many private homes have already been thrown open to care for what promises to be an overflow crowd.

The revival will be closed next Sunday night.

Duncan Pamphlet Given Attention To Keep New Oil Town 'Nice Place'

The pamphlet, "Faith and Education," written by M. H. Duncan, superintendent of Lubbock public schools, continues to attract widespread attention, the most recent comment on the pamphlet being from Dr. Stewart P. MacLennan, minister of the First Presbyterian church, of Hollywood, Calif.

In his church publication, Dr. MacLennan writes in part, of Mr. Duncan's work as follows: "The message is one of the most pertinent of his kind on this important theme, and it comes from the heart of a great Christian as well as a great educator. It would be well for one to secure one of these splendid pamphlets."

"Married Life" Not Worth While Blames Wives' "Nervés"

"Weak nerves," said a New York doctor recently, "in my estimation wreck more happily married lives than any other cause."

Besides making the sweetest disposition sour and irritable, nervousness is a terrible drain on your vital forces—it saps your youth and your strength and dulls your beauty. What a difference from the bright-eyed, vibrant girl he married. No wonder married life seems unbearable!

But you can get rid of your nervousness—speedily too—and become the steady-nerved, radiant woman you once were. Try the effect of Tanlac after meals and before going to bed, and if it doesn't soon make a new woman of you—doesn't rid you of that tired, strained feeling—go back and get your money.

Go to your druggist now and get a bottle of Tanlac. Millions of folks have started back on the road to youth, health and happiness with this world famous tonic and there is no reason why you, too, can't begin today to rebuild your worn-out tissues and revitalize your entire system.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

PIES . . . and 2 Pastry Shortcuts

Canadian Pineapple Pie

Between the crusts of this pie is a story that dates back to olden days when sailing vessels plied the seas from England to the Indies and brought home silks, spices and the rare, exotic fruit—pineapple.

"So expensive it was," says the originator of this recipe, "that it was served only to guests one wished to honor. And thus it became the symbol of hospitality—beds in the guest rooms had pineapples carved on the posts and some houses bore the symbol above their doorways. That is why, centuries later, pineapple pie is our company pie." And how good it is in a crust, made with Crisco—a shortening that tastes sweet and fresh just as it comes from the can!

1 1/2 cups grated canned pineapple
1/2 cup pineapple juice
1/2 cup orange juice
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons pastry flour

2 tablespoons Crisco
2 egg yolks beaten light
1/2 teaspoon salt

Mix flour, salt and sugar. Add to beaten egg yolks. Add fruit juices to this mixture and cook until thick in double boiler. Remove from fire and add grated pineapple. Line pie-plate with Crisco pastry. Brush with melted Crisco to prevent soaking. Pour in the filling. Moisten edges of crust with water. Cover with pastry and bake 10 minutes in hot oven (450° F.). Reduce heat to moderate (350° F.) and continue baking for 25 minutes.

These recipes have been tested and approved by cooking authorities. You will get best results by using level measurements and the ingredients specified.

Flakier Pie Crust
with two time-saving suggestions

Pie crust made with Crisco is flakier, more tender. Sweeter-tasting, too, because Crisco tastes so sweet and fresh—yes, actually sweet and pure all by itself!

To save time in pie-baking, you can keep this pastry dough, already mixed, in the ice-box for a week and bake a crust just when you need it. It will stay sweet, because Crisco itself stays sweet. And the thorough chilling will make the crust even flakier than usual.

Or you can keep unbaked pastry-shells in the ice-box always ready for use. These when you want a pie, just put in your filling, pop the pie into the oven and bake.

1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup Crisco
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
6 to 8 tablespoons cold water
1/2 teaspoon salt

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cut Crisco in with two knives. Add water gradually and only enough to hold mixture together. Roll 1/4 inch thick on floured board. For baked shell, take half of recipe and cover inverted pie-plate. Leave enough dough to fold back to make a firm edge. Prick well with fork to prevent bubbles. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 15 minutes. For two crust pie, bake at 450° F. for 10 minutes, then reduce heat to moderate (350° F.) and bake until filling is done.

Criss-Cross Apple Pie

Up in the Kentucky hills is an old hotel famous for its pies. Every day the menu lists three kinds: "Open, criss-cross and covered—all apple."

The criss-cross pie was so different and so good that I brought the recipe home. The pie crust, of course, was Crisco crust. For while their ice supply was uncertain, their pie crusts couldn't be. They knew that Crisco always stood for sweetness and freshness in shortening (and pie crust) no matter where the thermometer stood.

6 large apples sliced thin
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 tablespoon flour (pastry)

1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons Crisco

Line pie-plate with pastry. Brush with melted Crisco to prevent soaking. Place a layer of apples in crust, sprinkle with part of mixture of dry ingredients. Dot with bits of Crisco. Proceed with similar layers until crust is filled, ending with sugar mixture and Crisco on top. Cover with narrow pastry strips to form lattice work. Moisten ends of latticed pastry first so they'll stick to lower crust. Follow baking directions for double pie crust in standard pastry recipe.

CRISCO is used in the Cooking School now being conducted by this paper

Mrs. Myra Oliver Dougan, in the Avalanche-Journal Cooking School, makes a point of modern methods in cooking. Naturally, then, she uses Crisco, the modern shortening. Not only is Crisco easy to use; in addition, it helps you secure better, surer results.

Colorful Battle Promised In Tech-T. C. U. Game Here

Fast Southwestern Conference Crew Will Meet Determined Matador Eleven On College Gridiron Here Saturday

Tech Forces To Rely On Fleet Backs And Deceptive Overhead Attack In Attempt To Throw Back Purple Crew; Style Of Play Similar

Facing their most crucial game of the 1929 season, the gridiron hopefuls of Texas Tech were back on their home field Monday afternoon to start training for what promises to be the most colorful encounter of the home schedule here Saturday with the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs from Fort Worth.

Back from another disappointing tussle on a muddy field, the Matador stalwarts were given a light session yesterday in an effort to rid the squad of sore muscles and bruised spots. The local collegians started their week's training for the powerful Southwestern Conference eleven with prospects of catching the Frogs in the throes of a let-down following T. C. U.'s hard battle with the Texas Aggies last Saturday.

Conceding the McMurry Indians the point of having a scrappy football aggregation, the Matadors have the satisfaction of knowing that it was McMurry and not Tech that gained the victory. The remarkable success of Tech's aerial attack under the unfavorable conditions at Abilene Saturday indicates the Matadors will take to the air again this week against the conference eleven. With Waller on the throwing end of the leaves, the Matadors gained a total of 53 yards through the overhead route, advancing on one occasion to the Indians' forty-yard line.

With Coach Francis Schmidt bringing the fastest team in the Southwest Conference and Tech employing an attack of the same order, the game Saturday is certain to furnish plenty of action. Both clubs rely on fast running backs and a deceptive overhead assault. Led by the fleet Cy Leland, former Lubbock High school athlete, and the versatile Howard Grubbs, the Frogs boast one of the most dangerous offensive teams in the southwest.

Squad Is Ready Tech emerged from the McMurry game without any serious injuries. Dick Green, quarterback, and Capt. Chubby Dewitt, veteran guard, were in uniform Monday, but were forced to stand by and look on, both suffering with injured ankles. Calvin Smith, who has been alternating with Jack Durham at center, will likely be out for the remainder of the week. Swift received a leg injury recently that has shown no sign of improvement within the last few days.

The remainder of the Tech gridironers are in splendid condition and rearing for action. Although Ransom Walker will undoubtedly be a marked man in the T. C. U. encounter, the fleet Matador halfback was held out of the lineup last week by Coach Higginbotham with intentions to have Percy at his best against the Frogs.

Hard Road Ahead Coaches Higginbotham and Payne have planned a full week of intensive training for their cohorts before the big battle Saturday. Given a dry field, the Tech mentors feel certain that their fast-stepping backs can give a good account of themselves against the Coxtown crew. In the event of another muddy field, neither team will have any noticeable advantage. The Frogs style of attack is likely to be equally as ineffective as the Matadors' under these conditions.

Rob Cox Back In Uniform After Absence Caused By Operation; Griffith To Be Out Two More Weeks

FORT WORTH, Oct. 21. (AP)—Rob El Cox, 190 pound tackle of the Frogs last season who has been out all season, today started drill. An appendicitis operation shortly before school opened put Cox on the hospital list. It will be a month before he will be in shape to play, however. Austin Griffith, hard plunging fullback, is still carrying his left arm in a sling and will not be able to resume training for two weeks.

The Frog regulars worked on plays to be used against Texas Tech Saturday while the reserves defeated the Freshmen, six to nothing, in a scrimmage.

McGinnity Waging Battle For Life

NEW YORK, Oct. 21. (AP)—"Iron Man" McGinnity, 39, the great old National League pitcher who once defied such human frailties as weakness and fatigue, is waging a losing battle against the grimms of all adversities. Critically ill at his home in Brooklyn, McGinnity is growing steadily weaker, having failed to rally after an operation, August 27, for removal of a tumor. His surgeons said today there is virtually no hope for his recovery although he may live "a month or so" longer. A second tumor has developed and in McGinnity's weakened condition it is considered inadvisable to attempt another operation.

Class B Grid Race Getting Hot

Post Antelopes and Slaton Tigers Stand Out In Race For High Honors Among District Two Teams

(Special To The Avalanche)

SLATON, Oct. 21.—Opening guns in the battle for football supremacy in district two, B class high schools, have already been fired, and the race is getting hot for all serious contenders.

The Slaton High School Tigers, winners of three district titles in the past five years and one year the champions of two districts, played their first conference game here Friday, beating Brownfield, 33 to 0. The Tigers had formerly won over Big Spring, Clovis, N. M., and Plainview by wide margins, while the Lubbock High Westerners were able to beat the Tigers by the narrow edge of 7 to 0. The Lubbock wife died three years ago.

McGinnity gained baseball immortality as a teammate of Christy Mathewson on the Giants of 25 years ago. In a day of great pitching performances McGinnity shone as one of the leading lights. A big moment in his career came when he blanked the Athletics in the world's series of 1905, a series incidentally which was won entirely by shutouts. Mathewson scoring three, McGinnity and Bender each one.

Living up to his name, the "Iron Man" pitched and won a game of baseball at Ottumwa, Iowa, May 11, 1923, at the age of 54, defeating John Welch an 18-year-old hurler from Ottumwa, by a score of 7 to 3. For a time he was manager of the Dubuque club of the Mississippi Valley League, resigning and selling his interest in 1923.

Galloway Ousted As Manager Of Wichita Spudders

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 21. (AP)—The Wichita Falls Spudders, second half champions of the Texas League season just ended, will be under a new manager next year.

Formal announcement that James C. Galloway would not head the Spudders in 1930 was made today by President J. Alvin Gardner. It has been rumored Galloway would relinquish the reins.

Galloway, co-proprietor of bowling alleys here, has been on a vacation since the close of the baseball season, and no announcement of his future plans has been made.

Lubbock High Eleven Meets Olton Aggregation Here Friday To Tune Up Plays For Crucial Nov. 2 Game

Sport Slants

BY ALLAN J. GOULD

It may still be a trifle early to work up any excitement over the Olympic Games of 1932, but it is worth noting that the background for the big athletic carnival at Los Angeles already is being painted with a thoroughness and attention to detail unsurpassed in the history of the games.

It is making no idle prediction to say that Los Angeles of 1932 will outstrip anything that the Stockholm of 1912, Paris of 1924 or Amsterdam of 1928 had to offer.

The Dutch last year built an oval to seat 40,000 and filled it for the main events. Los Angeles plans to seat 105,000 and expects to pack 'em in. These unprecedented expectations probably will be fulfilled for there is no keener track and field center in the world than the southern California metropolis.

Nearby the Coliseum, in exposition park, the swimming pool is to be built, with grandstands for 25,000. The auditorium, seating around 11,000, will be used for boxing and wrestling. The "inner channel" of Los Angeles harbor furnishes a likely site for the Olympic regatta, and stands along its banks will be erected to seat anywhere from 10,000 to 20,000.

When the games were first awarded to Los Angeles, the critics shook their heads and asserted it would be a "rusty old European mania" would not or could not finance expeditions at so great a distance for their best talent. They recalled the St. Louis games of 1904 which amounted largely to a glorification of the American athlete. Now, however, there seems no doubt that the main contending nations will send the strongest teams they can assemble. The enthusiasm of Los Angeles for the games has spread to Germany, Finland, England, Canada and other countries eager to follow up the conquests they scored at Amsterdam in 1928.

Friday the Olton football eleven will meet the Westerners on the college field in a practice affair for the locals, coming on the order of a tuning-up fray prior to the late-evening Amarillo clash of the following week-end. The Lamb county aggregation stacks up alongside the leading Class B teams in this section and is backed by a splendid record during last season.

Coach Tillman Carter's forces are likely to give the locals an interesting battle and the Westerners are certainly expecting no set-up.

In short, California figures to put on the greatest Olympic show of all time to make more convincing its hold upon the development of sports interest and activity.

Football loses one of its most picturesque performers this year by the failure of "Falter" Lumpkin, the big Texas fullback, to return to Georgia Tech. A powerful runner, he was a big star in several of Tech's notable victories last year, but the tornado ball-carrier to count on in Warner Misset and Stumpy Thomason.

Answer Protests To Appointments

HOOPER MAKES SELECTION ON BASIS OF PUBLIC SERVICE AND NOT FOR POLITICAL REASON, HE REPLIES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. (AP)—President Hoover in reply to a protest from Florida against the appointment of a man named Mack as chief executive of the republican party in Florida, on the appointment of Federal District Attorney Hughes. It asserted the Florida secretary and other republican leaders in that state had overlooked the "primary responsibility" incumbent on the chief executive "to appoint men to public office who will execute the laws of the United States with integrity and without fear, favor or political collusion."

Rests On Results

"I note your statement the letter said, that the organization shall dictate appointments in Florida irrespective of merit or my responsibility and that you appealed to the opponents of the administration to attack me. The success of the republican party rests upon good government, not on patronage. Since the chief executive wrote that Hughes was especially competent in the enforcement of the prohibition law and that all of the federal judges in Florida had attested to his ability and experience."

Written replied to the President assuring him of the cooperation of the party organization.

Resignations Cut Down Diplomatic Ranks Of America

Foreign Service Depleted Severely As Members Are Becoming Dissatisfied With Promotion System

By C. P. WILLIAMSON Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. (AP)—Recent resignations of several high officials of the foreign service have severely depleted upper ranks of American diplomacy.

It was estimated by well informed persons in the state department today that more than 50 members of the diplomatic personnel will have been dropped from the lists for one or another reason before December 31.

The outstanding case at the present time, in the opinion of some diplomatic officers, is the status of the so-called "class of 1922" and those following it, whose members within seven years have not been promoted beyond the rank of third secretary, with a salary of $4,000 annually.

A recent resignation which stirred considerable speculation in state department circles was that of Stokely Morgan of Arkansas, formerly chief of the important Latin American division of the department.

Others were those of Thomas L. Daniels of St. Paul, formerly first secretary at Rome to enter the vegetable oil business; John F. Martin of Florida, formerly Charge d'Affaires at La Paz, Bolivia, who resigned to enter the service of a well-known oil company; and Myron A. Hofer, of Cincinnati, assigned to the department who resigned to enter the banking business.

Bar Association Meets Wednesday

Right Of Judiciary Department To Promulgate Rule Governing Pleading Is Up For Discussion

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 21. (AP)—The right of the judiciary to promulgate rules governing pleading, practice and procedure was up for discussion today before the conference of American Bar delegation in session here, preparatory to the opening session of the American Bar association Wednesday.

Creation of a judicial council in each state, giving their courts the full rate making power, is advocated by the committee of judicial councils.

Rule making powers once was considered with the inherent powers of the court and was exercised without question. Then legislatures began the practice of passing statutes prescribing methods of pleading, practice and procedure to govern the bench and the bar.

A report of the committee states that for 75 years there has been a "drifting toward usurpation of power" by the legislatures.

The practice of legislatures, with members wholly unacquainted with legal procedure, regulating pleadings, cause confusion, the report says.

The committee advocates that each court be allowed to make its own rules and that the judicial councils recommend to the legislatures changes in present statutes regulating legal procedure.

Acceptance of the proposal would mean two additional and direct air mail lines between New York, Philadelphia and Washington and the Pacific coast. One route would continue from Washington through Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Wichita Falls, Sweetwater, El Paso, Tucson, Phoenix to San Diego. The other would continue south from Washington through

ONE MINUTE PULPIT
Wisdom, crieth without; she uttereth her voice in the streets.
She crieth in the chief place of concourse, in the city she uttereth her words, saying,
How long, ye simple ones, will ye love simplicity? and the scorners delight in their scornings, and the fools hate knowledge?—Proverbs, 1, 20-22.

WE NEED A GOOD ONE!
MEMBERS of the Board of City Development's City Planning committee went on record yesterday morning as favoring the employment of an expert city planner to carry on the proposed project here. The Lubbock Avalanche believes the committee are following the right track and is pleased to note that the resolution passed to that effect was unanimously adopted.

Lubbock's city plan should be procured and carried to completion at the least cost possible—providing the plan is an adequate one. The maximum efficiency for the minimum cost should be the watchword, but economy as practiced on the city plan should be real and not false.
Ever since city planning became popular in this country small firms of civil engineers—some of them perfectly good civil engineers—have sprung up as "city planners." The fact remains, however, that in the country today are relatively few real city planning companies, backed by adequate experience and knowledge. As the Avalanche sees it, one of these firms should be entrusted with the work here and if it takes more money to secure expert advice as compared with amateur service there should be no long how about it.
No real city plan is a one-year, or a ten-year one. It lasts through generations, the rule by which a city naturally and easily expands. We can't afford to scribble today and pay heavily for it tomorrow and the best brains in the profession are none too good for Lubbock where a metropolis is surely being built.

GOOD LISTENERS
To refer to an individual as a "good listener" is by way of paying a high compliment, but it is a compliment scarcely deserved. It arises not from the intrinsic merit of the good listener, but from the fact that the demand is greater than the supply. The small crop brings the best price.
Nothing could be more depressing than thought of a company of good listeners with nary a good talker among them, unless perhaps it is a company of good talkers with not a single good listener.
As a matter of fact, the ability to listen attentively is almost invariably a sign of inferiority as a talker. Listening is an admission that the other fellow has something more important to say. How can a man of spirit and intelligence and convictions listen without once being provoked to break his "golden silence?"
Good listeners have the admiration of the majority because the majority of people prefer talking to listening and do not like to talk to themselves. But the fellow who prides himself on being a "good listener" is no less an egoist than the person who takes it for granted his opinions alone are worth while.
There is one specimen of listener who is intelligent; but because interruption is regarded by him as a cardinal sin against good manners, he permits another to hold the floor to the latter's content. He has intelligence but it is as worthless as that of an individual who, in an emergency, knows what to do but does nothing.

THOUSANDS OF NEW LAWS
For bringing to the public attention a disturbing trend the National Industrial Council, which now reports for another year the law-making progress of the nation, deserves the nation's gratitude. Statistics of the council's compiling are of some good, which is a great deal to say of statistics.
Forty-three state legislatures this year enacted 16,921 new laws. California and North Carolina proved they were "progressive" by adding 1,100 laws to their respective statute books. Lawmakers in Pennsylvania, Florida, Connecticut, Tennessee and Maryland showed that they were not asleep. Each of these five states have 500 more laws now than they had a year ago. Ohio enacted 222 new laws. Only one of the legislatures in session this year passed less than a hundred laws.
Many of these laws are wise and necessary. Some of them repeal or amend poor legislation. But much of this riot from the fast-grinding legislative mills is either worthless or downright objectionable. In every commonwealth lawmakers each year write into the statute books a great deal that has no proper place in law.
Who is responsible? Not the legislators alone. It is the pressure of constituencies and lobbies that so overloads legislative calendars that it is humanly impossible for lawmakers to vote on every measure intelligently. If the legislators are at fault, it is because they take their duty to "represent" too literally and personally.

VERSATILE STATISTICS
Statistics, like the Bible in the hands of the devil, can be quoted to one's own purpose. In a world which dances so continuously to the music of statistics, it is interesting to see how often they can be used as musical notes to bring forth a tune according to the player's desire.
It is not faked statistics that matter in this connection. They betray only the ill-informed and the unwary. But it is frequently astonishing how the same set of figures may be so rearranged as to turn conclusions upside down.
A case in point and counterpoint. It is a fact and a fashion today to "prove" that you and your community are taxed higher than the other taxpayer and his city or town.
It is possible for the watchful citizen of one community to take the public revenues of his own and other communities, divide them by their respective populations and prove that he and his fellow townsmen are discriminated against the matter of taxes.
A citizen from another community can finger the same strings and bring forth a new chord. He will take the total incomes of the people of the same cities and towns and their annual public revenues and demonstrate that his community pays the highest taxes. And another statistician may take up the fiddle and, by stressing other notes, such as the whole complex of prices, wages and living costs, play a still different tune.

PROPOSAL OF SENATOR FROM TEXAS TO MAKE LIQUOR CUSTOMERS GUILTY BISECTS CAPITAL'S WETS AND DRIES

By CHARLES F. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Senator Morris Sheppard's bill, to make bootleggers' customers as guilty as the bootleggers themselves, threatens to muss up next year's congressional politics the worst way.
The lawmakers probably will dodge a vote on the Sheppard bill at their winter session.
If they do vote on it, signs are that they will turn the plan down.
In either event, the betting is good that it will be a red hot issue in the ensuing campaign. Supporting the Texas senator has had no vote, he will be trying to force one. Supposing he has been beaten, he will be striving to turn defeat into victory.

It may seem queer that the odds should favor the sidestepping, or possibly the rejection, by an overwhelmingly dry congress, of a scheme which Senator Sheppard, the Eighteenth amendment's own author, undoubtedly meant to strengthen the present dry law.
The truth is, however, that some very ardent drys believe Sheppard is attempting to overdo matters; that his bill, once passed, would not prove to be a boost for prohibition, but a hard knock on its head.
Thus the drys are divided.

This would be duck soup for the wets, but unluckily for them, they are divided on the proposition, too. Part of them, agreeing with the anti-Sheppard bill drys, favor supporting the bill. Another faction, estimating it at its par value, as the driest measure yet, are against it on that ground.
The whole country presumably knows that the Eighteenth amendment was so worded as to make criminals out of bootleggers, while preserving their customers' innocence, in order that their customers might be able to testify against the bootleggers without confessing themselves into jail at the same time.
The system was out of the late Wayne B. Wheeler's devising, and there is no question that it has practical merits.

The government's undercover agents have worked it to good effect. Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, a staunch dry, says they would lose 90 per cent of their cases if they could not catch bootleggers in the act by patronizing them, and then turning them up.
Nevertheless, idealistic drys like Senator Sheppard have argued all along that the customer essentially is a worse character than the bootlegger, inasmuch as bootlegging certainly would not last long minus any market.
This point also, is made:

A bootlegger can stand it to be captured. It annoys him, but it does not break his heart.
He has no noble customers, however, who would prefer death to a term in the pen, or even a trial on an undignified criminal charge. Or maybe they pretend to be drys, to whom exposure as hypocrites would be social, or maybe political ruin. Such folk can be scared, whereas a bootlegger cannot.
Now it may be true that far fewer bootleggers would be laid by the heels if their customers could not testify against them without incriminating themselves.
Still, one is bagged now and then by other methods than the snoopers'—copped making deliveries, for instance.
Assuming him to be a really fashionable bootlegger, with lots of clients in "Who's Who," what if the prosecutor suggested to him: "Buddy, you make a perfectly clean breast and we'll get you off swell, there is ample latitude under the Jones '5-and-10 law," and the prosecution's recommendation generally "goes" with the bench.
Might there be an occasional bootlegger whose moral fiber could not stand the strain? And when one of them weakened—oh, what a scandal in high life! Would tony people dare to expose their liberty and reputations to the mercies of a police sweat box?

A good many pro-Sheppard bill drys reason thus, at any rate.
On the other hand, so do a good many pro-Sheppard bill wets.
But they arrive at different conclusions. The drys conclude that the bootleggers' customers would be terrified into getting on the water wagon. The wets conclude that they would be terrified into an overwhelming demand for modification of the entire existing law.
Anti-Sheppard bill drys agree with the process of Sheppard bill wets. Anti-Sheppard bill wets agree with the pro-Sheppard bill drys.
The constitutional issue likewise is involved.
As previously remarked, the Eighteenth amendment somewhat ostentatiously exempts the bootleggers' customers from criminality. Can they be transformed into criminals without another amendment?

There are wets who think both ways on this subject, drys, too.
There are wets who would like a referendum on it, anyway, but no drys.
Prohibition bisects almost every other problem in congress.
Now Senator Sheppard has succeeded in bisecting the wets and drys as well.
If there was one question in Washington on which everyone had supposed the lines were cleanly drawn, it was this one. Today it is hard to tell who is on which side.

USE COLD CREAM TO KEEP YOUR SKIN FROM PAINFUL CHAPPING FROM PAINFUL CHAPPING
By DR. MORRIS FISHER
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine
The winter season will soon be upon us. Already the chilling blasts of fall roughen the hands and cheeks of the visitor to football games.
Chapping does not usually occur in warm weather, because the skin secretes sufficient oily materials from the perspiration to keep the skin well greased and oiled. When skin gets dry it chaps. When skin gets chapped and moistened with water, blood and serum ooze through the cracks and crusts form.
Obviously, the method of preventing chapping of the skin is to keep the skin protected by suitable oils, to wash the skin only with non-irritating substances, and to dry the skin thoroughly after washing. The only way to escape the dry air and wind is to wear gloves on the hands and to keep the skin protected by other methods.
Women usually accomplish this by liberal use of creams and powders. Men are usually not so much troubled, because they have tougher skin.
Manufacturers of cosmetics have prepared all sorts of creams to be smeared on the face to prevent chapping, such as occur during motoring or during exposure on the football benches. Any good cold cream will serve the purpose. Since the cream has a tendency to wear off, it is probably best to re-apply the cream once or twice during the day and before going to bed at night.

FIRST STEAMER IN WEST
One hundred and eighteen years ago today, on Oct. 22, 1811, the first steamboat on western waters, the "New Orleans," left Pittsburgh for New Orleans, via the Ohio and Mississippi rivers.
The next few years saw an amazing increase in traffic on the inland waterways. Until 1825 when the Erie canal was opened, the Ohio was the great commercial and industrial link between the east and the west.
Until the closing years of the 19th century, the famous old river packers piled up and down the Ohio's winding 1000-mile trail from Pittsburgh to Cairo, and beyond.
Then, as suddenly as it had started, river travel dropped to a minimum, wharves rotted, scores of packets were thrown into the discard, and the inland waterway seemed doomed as a main artery of commerce.
But government engineers were convinced of its practicability as an important link in the nation's transportation system, and the Ohio river federal canalization project was started.
The gigantic engineering work, costing $118,000,000, was completed this fall. By means of 50 masonry dams and locks a nine-foot water stage is maintained throughout the length of the river and this gateway to commerce has been reopened.

Today's Poem

FAILURES
They bear no laurels on their sunless brows
Nor sought within their pale hands
They look as men accustomed to the slow
And level onward course 'neath drooping boughs.
Who may these be no trumpet doth arouse,
Those of the dark professional of woe,
Unpraised, unbalanced, but whom said Acheron's flow
Monotonously lulls to leaden drowse?
These are the Failures. Glutted by Circumstances
These were—say not too weak—too ready prey
To their own fear whose fixed Gorgon glance
Made them as stone for aught of great essay;
Or else they nodded when their Master-Chance
Wound him one signal, and went on his way.
—Arthur Upton.

Warning Made On Parking Tickets
An ultimatum delivered yesterday by Chief of Police John L. Leary in which he stated that all Lubbock citizens holding red tags for violation of the two-hour parking limit, which went into effect last Thursday, must report to the city corporation court and pay fines by next Wednesday.
We have complete records of all automobiles, the state license numbers revealing ownership. Unless the owners of the overtimed parked autos report by Wednesday, we will send for them, warned Chief Leary.
The new ordinance does not apply to non-residents of Lubbock. A blue guest tag, with Lubbock statistics, is placed on the visitor's auto.

Lubbock Persons Injured In Wreck
Minor injuries were received Sunday night about 8:15 o'clock by W. C. Roberts, J. C. Roberts, Jr., and Earl Roberts, all of Lubbock, and Porter Birdsong, of Shallowater, when the automobile in which they were riding catapulted and was wrecked on the Hurwood road five miles west of Lubbock.
W. C. Roberts, the driver, sustained bruises about the head and body; J. C. Roberts, Jr., received a broken arm; Earl Roberts sustained a broken collarbone, and Mr. Birdsong was badly bruised. They were taken to the West Texas hospital for treatment.
The accident occurred when the radius rod of the car broke.
The Roberts boys are sons of Constable J. C. Roberts of Precinct 1.

The Innocent Cheat
By Ruth Dewey Graves
AUTHOR OF "RICH GIRL—POOR GIRL," ETC.

THIS HAS HAPPENED
HELEN PAGE feels indebted to and in love with her guardian, LEONARD BRENT. The latter, changes his plans for her future after meeting a dainty beggar, NELLIN, and tells the girl she is the niece of a millionaire named CUNNINGHAM. Brent takes her to the lonely old man and offers proofs which Cunningham accepts, as he had been searching for his dead daughter's child.
Among Helen's new friends are EVA ENNIS and her brother, ROBERT, who falls in love with her. Brent becomes jealous of Bob and plots to win Helen quickly, especially after finding another locket like the one he had taken from Nellin to prove Helen the heiress. Hearing that a sudden shock would kill Cunningham, Brent stily administers the shock, and the servants find the old man dead in bed. The, by clever acting and appeal to her loyalty, Brent wins Helen's promise to marry him.
Later, she and Bob discover their true love for each other and he is angry when she tells him she cannot break her engagement even though she loves him. Bob flirts with SHALLIMAR MORRIS, not knowing that Helen has tried to break up with Brent after discovering that he is continuing one of his numerous affairs with other women, and that he has made threats against her happiness if she throws him over.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
Eva realizes that Helen is unhappy, but presents her treatment of Bob which has driven him to his numerous affairs with other women, and that he has made threats against her happiness if she throws him over.
Nothing exciting happened at supper. Eva clasped her lips together and opened them practically for the sole purpose of partaking of the creamed mushrooms that Helen had prepared, while Shallimar and Bob danced to the music of a phonograph.
Bob talked with his eyes, which Helen avoided looking at as much as possible. He had, she thought, a mean streak a mile wide to sneer at her, even if he didn't put it into words.
She herself tried to keep the conversation going by talking of the show at the Garden, but Shallimar kept interrupting to tell of the place where she and Bob had spent the evening.
Once when Shallimar reached out a hand and laid it possessively on one of Bob's Helen flinched.
The gesture seemed somehow to upset Bob too. He looked across the table at Eva. "Let's go home, shall we?" he said; "you look tired."
Eva jumped to her feet without delay. "Do you mind if I run, Helen?" she begged. "I am tired."
"So am I," Shallimar chimed in. "Boy, you simply exhaust me." Very prettily she suppressed a yawn, though her eyes were wide awake.
They seemed to be, to everyone who was interested in reading their expression, sharing a secret with Bob.
Helen appealed to Eva. "You promised to stay here tonight," she said.
Eva hesitated for half a moment. Would Bob go at once if she stayed? she wondered? For Helen's sake she wanted to break up the party. Anyone with any sense at all could see that Helen was on the ragged edge, she thought, furious with her brother for having come at all. But Helen would not have asked her to stay unless she really needed a confidant, Eva knew.
"I did promise Helen to stay all night," she said to Bob, but I think you'd better go home now. You know mother is worrying about our staying out."
"You know what's worrying her," Bob reported meaningfully, but was instantly contrite when he saw an expression of acute mental suffering flood his sister's face.
"I'll go, he added quickly, "if you'll check me out, Miss Nellin."
Helen rose, with a touch of acidity. Bob thought. But it was Shallimar who went to the door with his, out to his car, in fact, and kissed him goodnight.
When she came in Helen and Eva were upstairs. Helen called down to her, so that she would not seem completely neglectful. But Shallimar did not come in to say good night. She paused for a moment in the doorway of Helen's room and then went on to her own.
Eva walked over and closed the door.
Helen was getting out a pair of pajamas for her, but without much care in the choosing. Eva accepted them with no comment, though ordinarily she had exclaimed with admiration over their daintiness.
The girls had little to say until they were in bed, though Eva yearned to offer comfort to the friend who had done so much for her. But Helen's silence was something to be respected.
The room was softly dark, fragrant with the perfume of an exquisite person's belongings. Eva thought of her own little room at home, but there was no envy in her heart—only an ache that made her kin to all the suffering souls throughout the universe.
Softly as rose petals falling she felt Helen's hand touch hers, take it, and suddenly grip it convulsively. There was a stifled sob, that echoed in Eva's torment, followed by the words: "Eva, I love him so much."
Eva knew. She slipped an arm under Helen's head and crooned, wordlessly over the sob-racked girl.
When her strength was completely spent Helen lay for awhile gasping brokenly. Then she told Bob's sister of their quarrel and how Shallimar had stopped in just when she had sought him to tell him she was not going to marry anyone else.
"Bob doesn't care anything about her; I know he doesn't," Eva declared.
"But he meant what he said to me when he called me a rotter," Helen answered wearily. "He treats me like dirt."
"He's as unhappy as you are; I know he is," Eva maintained. "Why, Helen, can't you see how thin he's getting? He never eats and when he isn't working or studying, he's out with Miss Morris, and it's just to get his mind off you; I know it is."
"I wish I could believe you," Helen replied.
"Won't you tell me what you quarreled over in the first place, Helen?" Eva pleaded.
"Another man—someone I was engaged to marry," Helen told her. "Eva gasped. "Well," she said, "you certainly can keep a secret, Helen."
"I'll tell you all about it some day," Helen promised, "but I'd rather not talk of it any more now."
Eva. It's odd, but Bob didn't have enough faith in me to see it through. Or maybe he just didn't love me after all."
"Nonsense," Eva exclaimed. Helen answered with some spirit.

Lubbock Woman Is Arrested For Aid In Jail Delivery

Mrs. Mary Stahl Held At Del Rio After Attempt Of Two Prisoners Here To Gain Freedom

Following the sensational jail break here last Friday of J. B. Brown, sentenced to two years to the state penitentiary for forgery, and Mrs. Beale Tucker, under grand jury indictment for forgery, Mrs. Mary Stahl, of Lubbock, was arrested Sunday at Del Rio and charged here with aiding prisoners to escape.

Mrs. Tucker and Brown were recaptured and again placed behind the bars of the Lubbock county jail when they were retrieved by Stacy Ashley and Policemen H. B. Brown and Walter Simmons, a few minutes after the break.

Mrs. Stahl is believed by local officers to have been on her way to Old Mexico when arrested at Del Rio. An intercepted message inquiring as to Brown's safety led to the arrest, Sheriff Wade Hardy said.

She will be returned to Lubbock within the next week or ten days, officers said.

It requires eight minutes and eight seconds for the light from the sun to reach the earth.

We Commemorate Light's GOLDEN JUBILEE

—BY—

Announcing Lower Rates To Homes and Business Firms of The South Plains

St. Louis, Missouri,
October 14, 1929.

To all Managers of Texas Utilities Company.

Gentlemen:

Scenes that tell the past and foretell the future will greet President Hoover when he visits Henry Ford's historical village October 21 to participate in the ceremony memorializing the achievements of Thomas A. Edison, according to news stories sent out by the Associated Press telling about the "community of yesterday" which has been created by the purchase of many historical buildings in various parts of the country and restored to their original condition and placed on foundations by Henry Ford in his historical village at Dearborn, Michigan.

As the Edison Day jubilee is to honor mainly Thomas A. Edison, the chief interest will, of course, be centered around Edison and his achievements which have moved civilization forward by leaps and bounds.

The utility industry has a well prepared nation-wide program for the purpose of calling attention to the experiments, work and wonderful accomplishments of Edison.

There will be interest, too, in Henry Ford and his achievements as a manufacturer, financier, business executive, and beyond question the "world's greatest industrialist."

Texas Utilities Company appreciates the opportunity to honor Thomas A. Edison and at the same time recognize the outstanding achievements of his intimate friend and admirer, Henry Ford, who said in referring to the achievements of Edison, that mass production would be impossible without electric power.

It occurs to the writer that because Ford is rated as the largest user of electricity among the manufacturers of the world, the public will be keenly interested in his viewpoint as to the best means of promoting the development of the electrical industry of the country, and for that reason call attention to some of the recent statements of Ford in an interview published in Forbes Magazine on September 1, 1929, which are in part as follows:

"I am not afraid of what the newspapers call the Power Trust. I would welcome a real Power Trust. And, as sure as shooting, the country, by and by, will have a real Power Trust.

"By that, I mean that all the power resources of the country should be linked together under one control and every part of the country supplied from the logical distributing point. Power is all-important. You cannot do a thing without power.

"The very best power now is power distributed by big concern. But we should and must and will go much further. There are now hundreds, not to say thousands, of different power plants scattered all over the country.

"The whole power of the nation should be generated under one directing organization. It should be thoroughly standardized. All the plants should be connected together.

"No, I am not a bit afraid that a Power Trust would gobble up everything and everybody. There never will be anything without potential competition. Besides, the people will always assert themselves whenever things get out of balance, and will effectively demand and get fair treatment.

"A lot is being said about the profits made by those taking part in the power mergers now going on. People shouldn't worry too much about that. Money keeps on flowing. The question is not 'Who gets the money?' but 'What tangible asset is left to the people?' The people always get the real gain, even though some man or group may get the passing profits. The main thing is to get the power resources of the country put on a more scientific basis. After all, it is the actual results achieved which count most. These people won't be able to take their money with them, and they will leave behind them a country more efficiently equipped with power.

"What they are doing is helping to have the country become more conscious of the importance of what electricity can do for them. Only a beginning has been made in making electricity do the work of the world. The ground has only been scratched.

"Power can revolutionize the lives of the people of this country. It can lift the burdens from the backs of the workers. It can abolish most of the tasks of the housewife. It has hardly made a beginning on the farm—where its possibilities are perhaps the greatest of all."

While Texas Utilities Company does not claim that the unlimited supply of dependable electric service which it has furnished is the sole or even the chief reason for the unparalleled development in West Texas, nevertheless it has every reason to be proud of the part it has played in the development of the territory which it serves.

Everybody knows that every city and town in the Plains country located on the copper highways of Texas Utilities Company, New Mexico Utilities Company, and Southwestern Public Service Company, is receiving 24-hour service which is as dependable and satisfactory in every respect as any metropolitan electric service.

There will be interest, too, in the achievements of Texas Utilities Company and in the rapid growth of the territory which it serves. As a part of the plan of Texas Utilities Company to participate in the Edison jubilee, the company is pleased to announce a reduction in residence and business lighting rates for all cities and towns in the South Plains served by Texas Utilities Company.

THE REDUCTION IN RESIDENCE LIGHTING MEANS THAT ALL RESIDENCE CONSUMERS WILL GET A REDUCTION OF 14% ON A CONSUMPTION OF 25 K. W. H. OR LESS PER MONTH; A REDUCTION OF 10% ON 50 K. W. H. PER MONTH, AND A REDUCTION OF 50% ON ALL CURRENT USED PER MONTH IN EXCESS OF 50 K. W. H. HEATING, COOKING AND REFRIGERATION IN RESIDENCES WILL BE ON A RATE OF 4c PER K. W. H. ON THE NEW SCHEDULE. REDUCTIONS IN THE COMMERCIAL OR BUSINESS SCHEDULES FOR LIGHTING SERVICE RANGE FROM 11 TO 15%. THIS IS THE EIGHTH SUBSTANTIAL REDUCTION IN ELECTRIC RATES THAT TEXAS UTILITIES COMPANY HAS MADE WITHIN THE PAST FOUR YEARS.

In reviewing the history of the phenomenal development of the electrical industry in West Texas, the following facts should be noted:

That as late as October, 1924, one of the great banking institutions of the country expressed the opinion that any attempt to finance the requirements of Texas Utilities Company by issuance and sale of first mortgage bonds would not prove successful, giving as a reason for such opinion that the territory served by Texas Utilities Company was too scattered and also too remote from said bank's retail bond market.

That in October, 1925, a party of leading investment bankers from Boston, New York, Chicago, Detroit, St. Louis, and other Eastern cities, visited West Texas and Eastern New Mexico. The citizens of West Texas arranged and conducted the Eastern bankers on a tour of the Plains country which was in every sense a decided success. It proved to be mutually helpful to the visitors and local people. The bankers, at various receptions and banquets given in their honor by the citizens of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico, promised without qualification to finance all of the requirements necessary for Texas Utilities Company and New Mexico Utilities Company to take care of their share of the development of the Plains country. The Eastern bankers have made good every promise made to the citizens of the Plains country.

That today, Texas Utilities Company, New Mexico Utilities Company, and Southwestern Public Service Company are owned and operated as a combined or interconnected property by the same group of individuals as a direct result of the visit of the Eastern bankers and the cooperation of the citizens of the Plains country.

That since the visit of the Eastern bankers to the Plains country in October, 1925, the management of Texas Utilities Company has, by merger, acquisition of property as an entirety and (or the construction of transmission lines, built up an electric utility supplying electric service to sixty-three towns in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico covering a territory equal in area to the State of Pennsylvania, with approximately one thousand miles of transmission lines in operation and) or under construction at this time.

That Texas Utilities Company management takes pride in the fact that cooperation on the part of the citizens of the Plains country, has made it possible for the company to carry out its building program in advance of the rapid growth of the territory which it serves, and at the same time make so many substantial reductions in rates.

That the advantage of the policy of Texas Utilities Company for the development of the Plains country by building transmission lines and operating interconnected power plants, is clearly reflected in both the quality of service and reasonableness of rates in all of the towns located on the lines of the interconnected plants.

While Texas Utilities Company has regarded itself as an integral part of every community served by it and is proud of the productive power and the material greatness of the territory developed, nevertheless the company has at all times bottomed every investment made upon its abiding faith in the spirit of fair play and cooperation manifested by the citizens of the Plains country. Every town on the lines of Texas Utilities Company and New Mexico Utilities Company in the Plains country has recently granted a standard 50-year statutory electric franchise, and with one exception, every town in the Plains country is being supplied with electric energy to do its city pumping and street lighting service under a 20-year statutory street lighting and city pumping contract.

It was the spirit of fair play manifested by the people of the Plains country, and not the potential possibilities of the territory served, that caused the Eastern bankers to publicly commit themselves on the occasion of their visit in 1925, to furnish all the money necessary to enable Texas Utilities Company and New Mexico Utilities Company to do their full share in the development of the territory.

Texas Utilities Company management has always recognized and appreciated the fact that the spirit of cooperation on the part of the citizens of the Plains country was due in a large measure to the constructive leadership of the press of this section. This appreciation has been acknowledged from time to time by literature circulated throughout the country by Texas Utilities Company.

The future growth and development of the Plains country depends very largely upon the vision of the press published in the territory, and the continuation of the practical spirit of cooperation on the part of the people of the Plains country which has been the chief factor in the rapid growth and development of the entire territory served by Texas Utilities Company during recent years.

Texas Utilities Company takes great pride in recording the fact that a market was found for the sale of all bonds and securities necessary to meet its requirements as a result of the visit of the bankers to the Plains country.

Yours truly,

I. R. KELSO,

President, Texas Utilities Company.

Plans For Lectures Of Dr. Sutton, Atlanta School Head, Made In City; Various Groups Will Hear Him Talk

Tentative plans for a program featuring health lectures of Dr. W. A. Sutton, of Atlanta, Ga., who is scheduled to visit Lubbock, November 19 and 20, were outlined Saturday when members of the Lubbock Dental society entertained school officials at a luncheon at the Glorieta.

Mrs. W. W. Royalty, president of the Parent-Teacher associations of the city, agreed, following an explanatory discussion by Dr. G. H. Ater, to cooperate in making plans for Dr. Sutton's visit.

Schools To Hear Him
M. H. Duncan, superintendent of public schools, announced that a schedule would be arranged to facilitate a lecture at the high school by Dr. Sutton, and Miss Mae Murfee, county superintendent of public instruction, said that she would encourage all teachers of the county to hear one of the lectures.

Present plans outline a lecture for men and boys, and for women and girls and another for high school students. Definite announcement of the program will be made later.

Dr. Sutton, prominent Rotarian lecturer and superintendent of Atlanta public schools, is recognized as one of the greatest health lecturers on the American platform.

Those who attended the luncheon were Miss Murfee, Mrs. Royalty, Mr. Duncan and Doctors G. H. Ater, J. B. Jackson and C. M. Ballenger.

Firing By Coast Guard Described

Representative Clancy Of Michigan Brands Act As "Silly Whitewash" After Thorough Investigation

DETROIT, Oct. 21. (P)—The report of coast guard officials into the firing by coast guardsmen upon pleasure craft was described by Representative Robert H. Clancy of Michigan as a "silly whitewash." Clancy received the report today from Washington.

The congressman said he would wire Rear Admiral F. C. Billard, commandant of the coast guard, asking for a thorough investigation.

Probe Made
"Admiral Billard claims he made a thorough investigation, whereas he merely put through a 'silly whitewash,' Clancy declared. 'His agents did not call the complaining witnesses or have them face their attackers.'

The cases in which Clancy asked investigations were the firing by a coast guard boat on a speedboat owned by Lawrence P. Fisher, president of the Cadillac Motor company; the complaints by F. H. Burke, and Dr. Robert A. McArthur, of Detroit, that the speedboat in which they were riding Saturday night was fired upon by a coast guard vessel; and that of Maro B. Goldberg, who complained that coast guardsmen told him they "were just getting ready to blow you out of the water," after they followed his speed-boat several miles and stopped it.

RELEASED ON BOND

DALLAS, Oct. 21. (P)—John Smith, 34, charged with assault to murder in the shooting of Dewey Davenport, 23, on a downtown street early today, was released this afternoon on $2,500 bond. Davenport was said to have been with Smith's former wife.

CANADIAN INDICTED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. (P)—Assistant Secretary Lowman in charge of prohibition announced today that Captain John MacLeod of the Canadian ship Shawnee, has been indicted by a federal grand jury on a conspiracy charge in connection with the rum smuggling syndicate uncovered in raids two days ago along the New Jersey coast.
