Mercury To Slide Lower Saturday

More Rain And Snow Is Predicted In North Texas

(By The Associated Press)

GRIPPED by a blizzard which during the day brought a sudden onrush of rain, snow, sleet and biting winds, Texas Friday night had the prospect of even lower temperatures and more rain or snow in the northern portion. Excepting in the southern portion of the state, fear was felt that many early blooming fruit orchards would be damaged.

At nightfall, skies had cleared at Amarillo and snow was melting. The minimum temperature of the day there had been 18, the thermometer rising to 25. Fair and warmer weather for Saturday was forecast.

Snow Is Reported

Traces of snow were reported at Wichita Falls, where the high temperature of the day was 61 degrees after a minimum of 33. Snow flurries at Abilene gave strength to a forecast of sub-freezing temperatures before morning. Colorado, and Mitchell county fruit crops were believed endangered by freezing weather.

Crest of the blizzard struck Fort Worth and Dallas late in the day, thunder showers turning to sleet at intervals. The government weather bureau forecast rain or snow with some sleet and probably freezing temperatures for Friday night, with the added prediction of moderate to fresh northerly winds, subsiding Saturday.

Warned To Protect

Shippers were warned to protect for temperatures ranging from 18 to 28 degrees in the north portion of the state within a 300 mile radius of Dallas for the next 24 to 36 hours, and for a temperature of 32 degrees or slightly lower Saturday in the west and east sections of the state.

Slow rains extended across East Texas to Texarkana and the cold was encroaching there also.

Cloudiness and cold prevailed at Waco and rain or snow, with lower temperatures, were forecast for Friday night. The temperature stood at 40 degrees at Llano and at Austin cloudiness and dampness prevailed although no rain had fallen. A minimum temperature of 34 de-

Five Years Is Jones Verdict

Tried Friday For Forgery In Connection With Signing Of Checks Identified As Taken In Bank Robbery

For signing his name to American Express Traveler's checks, identified as taken in the day light bank robbery at Cyril, Oklahoma, January 9, 1931, R. L. Jones Friday was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary on a charge of forgery. He was tried before Judge Homer L. Pharr of the 72nd district court.

Jones based his defense on a plea of not guilty, and alleged that the checks signed by him had been obtained in a gambling house. At the time of his arrest Jones was in the company of two men who have later been identified as the Cyril bank robbers. Jones was arrested February 11.

This was the last of the fifteen cases tried this week on the criminal docket of the seventy-second district court. The jury for the week was dismissed and the court recessed until Monday.

Waco Woman Is Discovered Dead

WACO, March 6. (AP)—An unidentified woman, apparently 60 or 65 years of age, was found shot to death in a hotel tonight.

The body was found when a porter was sent to the room after telephone calls from the clerk had brought no response. She had registered late Wednesday and was last seen when a porter escorted her to the room. She had no baggage.

She held a .32 calibre pistol in her right hand. The bullet had pierced her head.

Note Was Found

A note was found in her purse addressed "to the city."

It read: "As I am down and out with no money and friends, no kin and no home, I ask the city to please bury me. Do not let anyone touch my body. Bury me just as I am. I am ready for the box. Put me in as cheap a box as you have, no expense. Thanking the city for the expense and trouble, I thank you again."

The note was not signed.

The woman registered as Mrs. A. M. Long of Denver, Colorado.

New Record Is Set Friday By Ruth Nichols

Altimeter Shows That Plane Climbed Nearly 30,054 Feet Although Official Reading Is Yet Unknown

(By Associated Press)

JERSEY CITY, N. J., March 6.—Climbing through cold blue skies more than five and one-half miles over Jersey and Manhattan today, Miss Ruth Nichols, Rye, N. Y., flier, who holds coast to coast speed marks, set an unofficial altitude record for women.

The altimeter on her speedy Lockheed-Vega monoplane showed nearly 30,054 feet. The sealed barograph placed in the plane by the National Aeronautic association immediately was shipped to Washington for examination. If it shows 28,074 feet, or more, Miss Nichols will be awarded the record now held by Elinor Smith, young Long Island flier.

Miss Nichols was informed that to attain recognition as the record holder, she must beat Miss Smith's mark by more than 600 feet.

She took off from Jersey City airport at 12:33 p. m., and was aloft 90 minutes. There was a 30-mile wind blowing when she circled the city, swung over Manhattan and started the long climb.

"Everything went fine," she said. "The engine worked perfectly. I did not suffer any discomfort."

Girl's Presence Of Mind Is Means Of Catching Assaulter

SHREVEPORT, La., March 6. (AP)—The presence of mind of Miss Elizabeth Bartless, clerk in a department store here today resulted in the capture of Myra Johnson, 30, negro who was caught in the act of stealing hosiery. As the negro ran toward the door, brandishing a knife and warning clerks and customers to get out of his way, Miss Bartless stuck her foot from behind a counter and tripped him. The negro stumbled and fell. When he got up, he was struck over the head with a step-ladder by J. C. Peal, assistant manager of the store. Johnson dropped his knife and quickly was subdued. He is held in jail, charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Suicide And Murder Verdict Rendered In Death Of Two

SAN ANTONIO, March 6. (AP)—Verdict of suicide and murder following the death of Elvira Ramirez, 16, and Jesus Mendoza, 19, was returned today by justice of the peace John F. Onion after an inquest.

The girl was found dying in a bedroom at her home after three shots were heard in the room. Mendoza ran from the house and his body was found shortly afterward a block away. The girl was rushed to a hospital but died en route.

James Stone Named To Succeed Legge

Announcement Made Friday By President

Expresses Regret

Legge Declares That Improvement Will Be Shown In The Future And That Depression Is At Bottom

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 6.—President Hoover today accepted the resignation of Alexander Legge of Chicago, as chairman of the federal farm board and appointed James C. Stone, of Kentucky, to succeed him.

In making the announcement, President Hoover said he knew he reflected "the view of the agricultural community when I express intense regret upon the retirement of Mr. Legge.

"The vacancy," President Hoover said, "created by the elecation of Stone to the chairmanship will not be filled for two or three weeks.

Urged To Continue

"Chairman Legge has been urged by every farm organization in the United States to continue his work," the president said, "and I have urged him with all the force I could command. He, however, feels that he must go back to his business."

The chairman termed his resignation as "a mere formality."

"As a matter of fact," the statement continued, "I have been working overtime for nearly eight months, it being clearly understood when I accepted the position that it was for a one-year period in helping to get the organization set up and the work started.

Now A Going Concern

House Passes Warrants Bill

Permits County Commissioners Courts To Issue Warrants To Buy Stock Feed And Seed For Destitute Farmers

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 6.—After battling several hours, the house today passed a bill by Senator Cunningham of Abilene to permit county commissioners' courts to issue warrants to buy stock feed and seed for destitute farmers. The vote was 108 to 10.

Under the bill the commissioners will be permitted to issue warrants up to $50,000 to buy feed and seed. It will be sold to farmers on production notes, the county to be repaid when the crop is harvested. Bids for feed and seed will be taken by the commissioners.

Validity Raised

The main sticking point of the bill was doubt as to its constitutionality. This point also was raised yesterday during lengthy debate. A point of order against the bill on this ground, made yesterday by Representative Greathouse of Fort Worth, was withdrawn shortly after the session opened today but the house continued to argue about minor amendments.

The bill probably will be sent to the governor tomorrow for signature. It received enough votes in both houses to put it into immediate effect if signed by the chief executive.

"Love Market" Bared In Hollywood; Charge Trio

Woman Tells Details Of Furnishing Girls To Business Men For Amusement

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, March 6. — A wealthy real estate and oil promoter, John P. Mills, a dancer, Mrs. Olive Clark Day, and an erstwhile theatrical press agent, William Jobelmann, were arraigned here today on statutory charges involving a love market. Preliminary hearing was set for March 31.

The district attorney's office revealed disagreement over money matters and a fist fight between Jobelmann and Mrs. Day led to the exposure.

Mrs. Day had given a card index to a friend for safe keeping. He looked into it and found his 13-year old sister-in-law listed with some hundred other girls, and scores of men clients, and turned the matter over to the district attorney.

A luxurious apartment in the Hollywood hills, and records of week end assignment of young girls for trips to lower California and elsewhere and notations about the "fees" were found. A number of the girls listed in the index, aged between 12 and 20, were investigated and placed in technical custody as witnesses for the state.

Mrs. Day, formerly Olive Love Clark of Lewiston, Maine, and a dancer here, was on the verge of collapse during arraignment in the municipal court. She was taken to the district attorney's office after arraignment, where, it was announced, she related details of furnishing young girls to business men for entertainment purposes.

Mrs. Bennett Gets Verdict Of Acquittal

Jury Reaches Decision After Deliberating Eight Hours; Mrs. Bennett Weeps When Verdict Is Read

(By The Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, March 6. — A verdict of acquittal today ended Mrs. Myrtle A. Bennett's bridge game slaying trial.

The jury charged with determining whether the 35-year old widow feloniously killed her husband, John G. Bennett, freed her after deliberating eight and one half hours. Upon hearing the verdict, Mrs. Bennett, wept, smiled and again was tearful.

Thanks The Jury

"I thank you," she sobbed to the jury, as J. Francis O'Sullivan of defense counsel placed his arms about her to support her in her chair.

Former Senator James A. Reed, stood above her, gray-haired, and grim from two weeks of legal battling to establish that Bennett's death was accidental, and not the deliberate act of a wife enraged by her husband's slaps in a bridge game quarrel.

Before leaving the courtbuilding, Mrs. Bennett hastened to telephone her 67-year old mother, Mrs. Alice Adkins, who collapsed after taking the stand in her daughter's defense.

A Frightful Ordeal

"It has been from first to last a frightful ordeal," Mrs. Bennett said after the verdict.

"The loss of my husband whom I loved, and then to be charged with his murder and subjected to this long trial, has been almost more than I could stand. Words can never express my thanks for my vindication."

Former Senator Reed, wearily retiring from the court room said:

"Of course I am gratified. But I'm out of this criminal court business."

Meeting Of Texas Teachers To Be Continued Through Today

BROWNWOOD, March 6. (AP)—Several hundred teachers gathered here today for the annual convention of the Mid-Texas Teachers association and many of the most prominent educators of the state were on hand for the program. Attendance was expected to be swelled to 1,000 on Saturday, the closing day.

Among the subjects for discussion are the right use of leisure, obligation of school and character training, place of fine arts in education, training of youth for society, and the changing aspects of the education of girls.

Gas Reduction Now Available For Amarillo

Forty Per Cent Slash Under Present Rates Given When City Signs Contract With Huber Petroleum Company

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, March 6. (AP)—Gas for Amarillo 40 per cent under present rates will be made available at once, under contracts signed tonight by the city of Amarillo with the Huber Petroleum company.

The city, failing to obtain a reduction in rates from the Amarillo Gas company, subsidiary of the Prairie Oil and Gas company decided tonight to go into the gas business itself, buying gas at the city limits at 5 cents per thousand feet.

Has 17 Wells

The Huber Petroleum company, subsidiary of the Huber corporation, manufacturer of carbon black and inks, owns 10,000 acres of gas-producing lands, with 17 wells now running 500,000,000 feet of gas, in Hutchinson county. It recently acquired a six-inch pipeline from Hutchinson county into Amarillo.

A system of distributing mains will be installed at Amarillo at once, the city commission decided at a called meeting tonight, when it signed contracts to buy fuel from the Huber company, delivered at the city limits.

Cheapest In World

The city announced a scale of rates at 22 1-2 cents for domestic consumers and running as low as

Think Body Of Man Found In Creek Has Been Identified

PRESIDO, March 6. (AP) — The body of a man found in a well in the bed of Alamito creek Tuesday, his outer clothing gone, was believed today to be that of Robert M. Lewis, who came here in January, saying he was a miner and intended to look for gold in the creek. Positive identification had not been made.

Lewis was last seen in Marfa where he presented a draft for $1,000 on an Arizona bank. The Marfa bank refused to honor the draft.

Former President Of American League Not Expected To Live

St. LOUIS, March 6. (AP) — Ban Johnson, former president of the American League, grew steadily weaker tonight and it was only a matter of hours before the prominent baseball leader would pass away. Raskob Again Recipient Of Heavy Barrage

Stalwart Democrats Very Much Opposed To The Adoption Of Platform Calling For State Control Of Liquor

Leaders Contend It Would Be Fatal For Either Party To Attempt To Make Prohibition A Question

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 6. — A barrage of criticism issued today from stalwart democrats against the proposal of Chairman Raskob of the national committee that the party adopt a platform calling for state control of liquor.

The proposal, made yesterday at a meeting of the committee, stirred up instant opposition. The attack was carried on today in a series of bristling statements.

Appeal For Unity

Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, contended prohibition was not a "party question" and asserted "it would be fatal for either party to attempt to make it one."

At the same time, Senator Sheppard, Democrat, Texas, co-author of the prohibition amendment, appealed for all democrats, wet and dry, to unite in movement to defeat Raskob's suggestion.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader in the senate and 1928 vice-presidential candidate, contended "there is great danger that in bringing forward now the subject of prohibition even more important issues may be neglected and submerged."

Raskob Is Charged

His colleague, Senator Caraway, charged that Raskob was "lined up" on economic issues "with the extreme stand-pat portion of the republican party" and that the na-

New Forces In Murder Search

National Detective Agency Is To Join New York's Police Forces In Hunt For Slayer Of Vivian Gordon

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 6.—Private detectives were at work today on the murder of noose-slain Vivian Gordon as New York's police department, with 18,000 of the "finest" at its command, knocked in vain at a "wall of silence."

It was Charles B. McLaughlin, district attorney of the Bronx, who disclosed the employment of a national detective agency, a step almost unprecedented in the long history of unsolved killings here.

Regardless of Cost

The private detectives have been authorized to proceed "regardless of cost," and to concentrate on what were called the "world wide ramifications" of the slaying of the hennahaired demi-mondaine and blackmailer, who had been seeking evidence to back her charge that a policeman and her former husband "framed" her on a vice charge eight years ago.

Dozens of witnesses have been questioned and scores of leads followed since her body was tossed into a Bronx park eight nights ago, but "no headway of any great importance" has been made, McLaughlin said today. He explained he was paying the detectives out of his own pocket, but expected to get his money back.

Whoops, Kiddies! Mickey In Person

MEMBERS of the Lubbock Mickey Mouse club, meeting in regular session this morning at 9 o'clock in their club room, the Palace Theater, will be treated to a moving picture of themselves as part of the program arranged for this week's meeting.

The pictures of the club were filmed by the movie camera at one of the previous meetings and if you have been attending regularly your picture will be shown on the screen.

Added attractions today include the appearance on the stage of Mickey himself. The idol of the club will lead in the theme song and later appear in a picture with Minnie Mouse and their friends, "Pirates". A milk-drinking contest, a feature picture, "Captain Thunder", and a comedy, Slim Summerville in "On the Front," all of them talkies, will be provided. The club room doors will be opened at 8:30 this morning.

Previous announcements that the kiddies would stage a down town parade were withdrawn after the arrival of cold weather. The parade will be held probably next Saturday morning, weather permitting.

Virgil Kirkland Bares Story Of "Flaming Youth" Which Cost Life Of Girl; Admits Close Relationship

(By The Associated Press)

VALPARAISO, Ind., March 6.—Virgil Kirkland today told his story of the "flaming youth" party on which Arlene Draves died.

On trial for his life, charged with attack and murder, the 20-year old former football star wept and sobbed at times as he described the evening last November at a Gary home and its aftermath.

Denies The Slugging

He denied he slugged the girl. He admitted intimacy with her that evening, but claimed it was voluntary. Four other youths at the party also are charged with attack and murder.

"'Course I did!" he cried, bowing his head, when Barrett O'Hara, defense lawyer, asked if he loved the 18-year old Arlene. They were engaged, he asserted, and motored to Valparaiso two weeks before the tragedy intending to be married.

"But 'Babe' changed her mind because her folks objected that she was too young," Kirkland testified. The state charges he struck her because she resisted him. He denied that, and said she fell out of a chair and injured her head.

Walked To Automobile

"No, I'm not hurt" he represented Arlene as saying, putting her hand to her head. Later, he said, she walked to an automobile, rode to a "hot dog" stand with Kirkland, and two other youths, and went home "asleep" with Virgil asleep on her shoulder.

But Arlene's "sleep" was death, as Kirkland said he discovered when the girl was left at the home of a Gary physician in the early hours of a Sunday morning.

A romance with her bloomed, he said in a Gary roadhouse where

Republicans Regard The Dissensions Of Democrats Bolster To Their Cause In The Coming Campaign

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, March 6. — State republican leaders meeting here today endorsed the administration of President Hoover and laid plans for the 1932 campaign.

"Congratulations on accomplishments during the first two years of your administration," a telegram to the president read. "We desire to express our best wishes and our confidence in your able leadership."

Creager Applauded

R. B. Creager of Brownsville, Republican national committeeman for Texas, said President Hoover would be re-nominated and re-elected. His remark was applauded. Other speakers indicated Mr. Hoover was regarded by state organization leaders as the party's presidential nominee in 1932.

A telegram extending heartiest congratulations to the national committee "in building a militant republican party" was sent to Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the national committee. Lucas replied the committe was "proud of the loyalty and enthusiasm shown by the republican leaders of Texas."

Chairmen Ratified

Routine ratification of several county committee chairmen, named by state chairman, Eugene Nolte since the last meeting, was the chief formal business done, in line with the call of Mr. Creager for a general tightening of the state organization preparatory to the 1932 camapign. Creager urged renewed activity for a militant Texas republican party and attributed republican successes nationally to a "tight, well-perfected political organization." Later, the headquarters committee met in executive session to discuss details of organization.

Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, state vice-chairman, told the delegates President Hoover was

Fort Worth Show Is Opened Friday

FORT WORTH, March 6. (AP)—Sixteen hundred boys from 85 Texas high schools and their vocational agricultural teachers, delegations from Oklahoma, about 400 Texas newspaper men and thousands of other visitors are expected to attend the southwestern exposition and fat stock show tomorrow. The show had its formal opening tonight.

Exhibition livestock in the pens and stalls now totals 4,430, exclusive of 500 head of rodeo livestock which will be used in the western sports contests. Other attractions include an automobile show, agriculture show, livestock, pigeon, rabbit exhibits and exhibit halls filled with merchants and manufacturers' displays.

The Weather

WEST TEXAS—Fair, somewhat warmer in north portion Saturday; Sunday fair.
LOCAL TEMPERATURES — Maximum 29; Minimum 26.

Lubbock Crowds View Auto Show

WITH the achievement of American automotive genius on display, Lubbock motorists and would-be motorists trickled into the Uptown Dance palace yesterday afternoon and last night to view the 1931 models of six local dealers at the third annual Lubbock Automobile show.

Although the expected attendance was cut down by the sudden drop in temperature, officials of the show last night expressed themselves as pleased with the first day's crowd and were making arrangements for a heavier attendance today.

Dealers Are Busy

Starting with the opening of the show yesterday afternoon, scores of visitors viewed the new offerings and continued to mill about the nearly $35,000 worth of passenger cars until a late hour last night. Dealers and salesmen were kept busy carding prospects and pointing out the advantages of the various lines.

The two-day free show will continue tonight. Each of the six dealers participating has from four to six new models on display. The cars range from the $600 class price to almost $5,000.

Beauty of the shiny new models is enhanced by the especially decorated and lighted hall. Radios to furnish music for auto show crowds have been furnished by local dealers.

New Trends Shown

More pointed radiators, lower swung bodies, and sleeker more stream-like lines are the outstanding trends of the new models. More eight-cylinder cars are on display than ever before. Buick, Chrysler, Lincoln, Oakland and Dodge are featuring eights.

Power and speed are embodied in the new Buick eight models. Outstanding among the developments in the 1931 models are the Buick syncro-mesh transmission and the oil temperature regulator which prevents the engine oil from overheating, even when the car is driven at high speed. In cold weather the regulator warms the oil, insuring immediate starting. The new transmission makes gear shifting exceedingly easy.

Sturdier Of Frame

Sturdier of frame, the new Buick presents a stronger and more rigid chasis with no loss of beauty in the sleek bodies by Fisher. The interiors are wholly new in appearance, being finished in high grade broadcloth, mohair plush and whipcord.

The valve-in-head basic feature of former Buicks is retained, although only eights are presented in 1931 models.

Coronation Of Junior Queen, Large Bridge Parties Social Events

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

THERE is an old, old question that never fails to draw interest. It is about marriage and the types preferred.

Some clever publicity man the other day started an advertisement by quoting a handsome screen star on the type of girl he expects to marry and, little as I care for these fellows who look as if they were posing for neckwear ads, I read it through.

Ask any man what he requires in characteristics or looks in the one he expects to marry and he is likely to describe some sort of an ideal. But watch him marry!

And most any woman may think that she will marry some chap combining all of the good qualities of Adonis and Don Juan, but when the old familiar "Here Comes the Bride" peals forth, look him over! He may not look like much, but he's her man.

All of which brings me around to a topic I've heard discussed more this winter than at any other time. It usually starts off with "There goes Soanso. And can't he remain buster letting his wife support him than anyone you ever saw?

Then comes details of how much she makes and how little he can manage to get done and the inevitable conclusion of "And what she can see in him . . ." while everybody turns to watch his form vanish down the street and conversation languishes significantly.

And inevitably I feel sorry for the fellow and for the girl. Not for their circumstances but because other people are dipping into their affairs.

We all do it and we do it much too frequently. The man may be lazy and he may not be, but if his wife wants to contribute to the support of the family for a few short months while he is out of employment or during the remainder of his life, that happens to be her own affair and his.

This is trite enough, I know, but most of us spend about seven-eights of our time worrying over the private affairs of our friends and neighbors and get so busy doing it that we neglect our own. There is no one group that is watched and criticised more than the just-to-be-married and the newlyweds, and the ones I admire most are those who can marry and live their own lives regardless of the gossips.

NEW CHIFFONS

BUTTERFLY chiffons are a new fabric for the dancing frocks of debutantes. The chiffons are of cobwebby texture with bright hued butterflies darting over a light ground. They make one of the gayest fabrics that has been launched in several seasons and are used for demure ruffled party gowns, made in the bouffant silhouette.

THESE DIVORCES

AND now here is Mrs. Carrie Williams charging that her husband, Roger Q. Williams, would not argue with her so they are getting a divorce. All of which goes to show that almost anything may become irksome if it is followed persistently.

Some of these people who howl so much about the number of divorces that are granted should move to the Isle of Man. During the last 50 years only nine divorces have been granted but there is a reason. Here is what one has to do to get the divorce:

Obtain favorable verdicts on his divorce decree from the chancery division of the country's court through the higher courts and eventually he must seek the king's consent at the ancient open court of Tynwald which is held in the center of the island each year on July 5. The cost of the divorce is about $500.

So in the Isle of Man, they trunk a while before they ask for a divorce.

Two Party Series Will End With Social Affairs Today

Mesdames, Garlin and W. P. Clement Will Be Joined By Their Husbands For Party Tonight

The coronation of junior class queen at Texas Technological college this evening in an annual dance at the college gym is to be one of the high lights in society for today. The other event will be a bridge party this afternoon at the F. R. Friend residence, 2005 Broadway, with Mesdames N. L. Peters, H. L. Allen, Bryan Miller and W. L. Bradshaw as the hostesses.

These four matrons entertained Friday afternoon with another bridge party.

Parties and other events have filled this week-end with activities.

Give Three Parties

Mesdames R. E. Garlin and W. P. Clement are entertaining with the third of a series of bridge parties in the home of the former hostess, 2520 23rd street, this evening. They entertained last evening.

On Thursday afternoon the first in the series was given. Mrs. A. T. Biggers scored high in the bridge games, Mrs. Murray Jones was second high and Mrs. G. H. Ater was high in a cut. Six tables were in the play.

Congenial club members played bridge Thursday afternoon as the guests of Mrs. R. L. McAllister. Mrs. Harry Miller made high score among club members, Mrs. Rufus Rush cut high and Mrs. R. L. Stevenson made high score among the visitors.

Mrs. Harry Hunter and Mrs. O. W. English were also visitors.

Eleven tables of bridge were in play at a party given by Misses Blanche Bean and Margaret Turner Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. E. B. Adcock, 2601 19th street. Miss Mary Meador scored high in the games and Mrs. Lucille Smith made low score.

Lady Mosley Is A Speaker

Husband Ill Abed And Wife Is Assigned Task Of Presenting His Platform In Crisis Facing Britain

LONDON, March 6. (AP)—Approbation, laughter and denunciation were visited upon Lady Cynthia Mosley today in the public's answer to her courageous speech last evening setting her husband's "new party" on its way.

Sir Oswald was ill abed with influenza and could not address a great crowd which assembled at Farrington Hall to hear an outline of his principles but his wife, who is a daughter of the late Marquis Curzon and a granddaughter of Levi Leiter, Chicago merchant, served ably in his sted.

One section of her hearers cheered her statements but others obviously had come to heckle her. At one point after a series of unusual taunts she answered: "My god, if you had sat in the House of Commons for the last eighteen months you would be here on the platform beside me."

Her message was a warning of the "abnormal dangerous and desperate" national crisis facing Britain, for which she offered as a solution her husband's plan, the essence of which is to dispense with parliament and to operate the country with a governing board.

She flayed alike conservatives, liberals and the labor party, from which she, her husband and three other prominent members had resigned. Fashionably gowned in black, emphatic in gesture and speech, she made a good impression with most of her audience.

She will face a more serious and less receptive audience tonight when she meets representatives of her constituency, at Trent, where a demand has been made for her resignation from the House of Commons.

Protest Made On Oil Committeeman

TYLER, March 6. (AP)—Carl L. Estes, editor of the Tyler Courier Times and Telegraph, today sent a telegram to Governor Ross S. Sterling protesting presence of R. R. Penn of Dallas on the oil states' committee appointed by the Texas chief executive at a conference of governors in Fort Worth Saturday. Estes was recently appointed a lieutenant colonel on Governor Sterling's personal staff.

Penn is chairman of the Texas central proration committee and he and Estes have been engaged in a controversy as to wisdom of placing the new East Texas oil field under proration before April 1 at the earliest.

LEGISLATOR RECOVERING

HOUSTON, March 6. (AP)—Representative R. Emmett Morse, 34, of Houston was recovering in a hospital here today from burns and bruises suffered Wednesday when his car went into a ditch near Rosenberg and burst into flames.

Women Close Week Of Programs Here

Closing their programs in observance of an annual week of prayer, members of the Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist met at the church Friday afternoon.

A service of song and prayer was conducted and the Rev. R. C. Campbell, pastor, talked on the opportunities for mission work in Lubbock.

Short business reports were given at the close of the talk.

Brief Funeral Services Are Held At Austin For Wife Of Representative B. J. Forbes; Body To Weatherford

AUSTIN, March 6. (AP) — Brief funeral services were held here this afternoon for Mrs. Minnie Forbes, 52, wife of Representative B. J. Forbes of Weatherford, who died unexpectedly at a hospital early today. Members of the house and senate attended the services.

The body was sent to Weatherford accompanied by a house committee of three and Senator Grady Woodruff of Decatur, representing the senate. Members of the house committee were Representatives Coltrin of Mathis, Hardy of Breckenridge and Bedford of Galveston.

Mrs. Forbes had been ill several days but was believed to be recovering when she suffered a relapse. Death was attributed to diabetes. Representative Forbes, his son Randolph, and a daughter, Mrs. Jewel Caraway, were at the bedside.

The house adjourned today at noon in respect to the memory of Mrs. Forbes after adopting a resolution extending its sympathy to Representative Forbes and his family. The senate adopted a similar resolution.

Washes woolens and blankets!

When you wash with hard water there's a dirty ring around the edge of the basin, but that's not suds. It's scum. The hard water is doing that. It's mixing with the soap to form a dirty curdle. Can't wash woolens and blankets in that water.

Soften the water with Melo. Then add soap. The water is now a very fine cleansing agent and the soap is much more effective. Melo did that. Get a can today at your grocer's.

CRITICS MARVEL AT AROMA AND FLAVOR OF FAMOUS COFFEE

Patented Roasting Process is the Reason for Distinctive Goodness

Of all coffees being sold today, there is one that is winning countless new friends wherever it is introduced because of its distinctive, rich flavor. As a matter of fact, more of this coffee is sold west of the Mississippi than any other brand of fine coffee.

Hills Bros. Coffee owes its matchless flavor to the patented process by which it is roasted. Instead of the rare blend being roasted in bulk, only a few pounds at a time pass continuously through roasters in which the heat and speed of operation are accurately controlled.

This process—Controlled Roasting—proves its superiority over any other method, because it roasts every berry evenly. None are overdone and none are underdone. Naturally a flavor is developed which is the last word in uniform goodness and one that no other coffee can equal.

Hills Bros. Coffee is sold everywhere by grocers. It comes to you perfectly fresh because it is packed in vacuum. This process extracts air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, from the can and keeps it out. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, do not keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark on the can.

Gandhi Tells Of His Dreams

Complete Independence Is His Goal In All Dealings With Great Britain; Statement Is Given Out

NEW DELHI, India, March 6. (AP)—Complete independence—what the Indian calls "Purna Swaraj"—is Mahatma Gandhi's goal in his dealings with Great Britain, he told newspaper correspondents today.

His plan for complete self-government with "disciplined rule from within", makes it possible for India to remain within the British empire, he said, "but our partnership with England must be on terms of absolute equality."

"Some of my associates believe British statesmen will never reconcile themselves to absolute equality for India," he said. "I may be a visionary but I hold differently. I see the day when New Delhi and not Downing street will be the center of the Indian nation.

"When we achieve independence it will not be under the British flag but under a common flag. As a visionary I see the day when there will be no armies, but it will not come during my lifetime. It may take ages before even the Indian nature accommodates itself to having no army.

"I fear no invasion by the Bolsheviks. If they are trying to establish a revolution in India that presupposes that the Indian people are more gullible than they really are. Insofar as there is good in Bolshevism, as I think there is, India will need no invasion by the Soviets to convert her."

Six Negroes Wounded When A White Man Fires Upon Them

NEW ORLEANS, March 6. (AP)—Six negroes en route to work at docks in the longshoremen's strike zone here were wounded slightly today by gunshot fired by an unidentified white man.

The shooting marked the second time a group of workers has been fired upon since the strike began. A negro crew foreman was killed several days ago under similar circumstances.

Soon after the attack today police arrested a negro who was identified as the companion of the white man.

Ships were being worked today with the wage controversy still unsettled. The union soup kitchen was serving the needy.

Lady Tells How Black-Draught Helps To Relieve Many Complaints.

Decatur, Ala.—After having used Thedford's Black-Draught when needed for many years, Mrs. W. J. Riley, of this city, tells others about the help it has been to her family.

"In my mother's home Black-Draught was our family medicine," says Mrs. Riley. "Mother gave it to us children when we complained of not feeling well. Mother gave Black-Draught in the form of a tea.

"Since I've been married and had a home of my own, I have continued to use Black-Draught, as I have never found anything else to take its place. One of my children suffers from indigestion. Her stomach is easily upset. I have found that giving her Black-Draught tea will relieve her quicker than anything else.

"My whole family takes it for constipation and biliousness. It is a good thing to take it occasionally, to keep the system clean. I give it to my children for bad colds."

Mrs. Riley says that when her children had whooping cough and needed a laxative, she gave them "Black-Draught to keep their bowels open and they did fine." 24-30

A COLLEGE COLUMN

By MARSHALL FORMBY, TECH CORRESPONDENT

PLAN DECORATION FOR PROM

Amid unquire decorations of Spanish design worked out by E. C. Simmons, W. B. Rushing and Robert Maxey, junior architectural students, Miss Catherine Jameson, Lubbock, will be crowned queen of the junior class at Texas Tech at the annual junior prom tonight. The affair, which will be held in the college gym, will continue from 9 o'clock until 12 o'clock tonight.

Miss Jameson was selected junior queen several weeks ago by a popular vote of the junior class members. Four Tech co-eds were candidates. According to Bill Collins, Brownfield, president of the class, the dance will be a program affair until the coronation of the queen. Following this event, it will be a tag dance.

Bids were placed on sale several days ago which sold for $1.50 each. Members of the 1931 senior class will be special guests of the juniors tonight.

WORKS AT KANSAS CITY

Zed Glimp, electrical engineering graduate, is now employed with the Westinghouse Electric company of Kansas City, Mo., according to a letter recently received by Dean W. J. Miller, of the Tech school of engineering. Glimp states that he likes his work very much and that he hopes to visit Lubbock next summer.

He received his degree from Tech in 1928.

WILL COMPETE TODAY

Competing against teams from Texas A. and M. college, Oklahoma A. and M. and Louisiana State university, the Texas Tech junior stock judging team will bid for prizes at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show at Fort Worth today. The Tech team left Lubbock Thursday afternoon and after spending Thursday night at Albany drove into Fort Worth yesterday. The trip was taken in two automobiles.

The six members of the squad who made the trip were selected last Saturday from a group of 12 aggie junior students. The 12 had been working out since January under the direction of Professor Ray C. Mowery, Tech livestock coach. An old time dance was given in honor of the team at the college gym Wednesday night.

Members of the team include James F. Dominy, Jason Gordon, Bill McKinney, F. Nix, E. Liner, and Ben Snyder.

EXHIBITION DATE CHANGED

Exhibition dates for the display of Belgium color etchings has been changed to April 20 through April 26, Professor F. A. Kliemschmidt, head of the Tech architectural department, said Friday. The etchings will be on display in the auditorium of the engineering building from 8 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon of each day.

Motion pictures will be shown in the auditorium of the engineering building on April 22 and 23. The people of Lubbock as well as Tech students and faculty members are invited to view the etchings. Professor Kleinschmidt states that the etchings already have arrived.

VISIT IN SANTA FE

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Holden of the college are spending the week-end at Santa Fe, New Mexico. Dr. Holden is professor of history at Tech while Mrs. Holden is employed in the library.

Some of Dr. Holden's classes were taught by William Neile, Tech student, yesterday.

LAMBS SOLD ON MARKET

A telegram received by A. H. Leidigh, dean of the Tech school of agriculture from Professor W. L. Stangel who is in Fort Worth this week states that the car load of rambouillet lambs shipped from the college were sold on the market Wednesday. The lambs were divided into six lots and four of the lots sold for twenty-five cents per hundred higher than market prices. The latter lots sold at $7.50 per hundred.

The lambs were fed out in the college for 90 days and were used for class instruction in the Tech animal husbandry department. Professor Stangel, who is head of the animal husbandry department, is at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show this week. He is superintendent of two departments in the show.

LEAVE ON FIELD TRIP

For the purpose of studying the different soil series in Central and North Texas, Professor H. J. Bower, head of the Tech agronomy department, and several students in the department left yesterday for a soil survey trip. Soils in the following counties will be studied, Erath, Eastland, Johnson, Ellis, Dallas, Tarrant, Denton, Wichita and Wilbarger.

Study will be made of the Abilene, Amarillo, Richfield, Miles, Miller, and West Central Texas area types of soils. A soil map of each county is being carried along by the group.

Students making the trip with Professor Bower include John Wherry, Bill Clutter, J. Turberville, Carlton Carmachael, M. Howard, Hugo Mike, Gerald Gordon, Milton Kirksey, and James Holcomb. All but Gordon, Kirksey and Holcomb are majoring in agronomy.

IS IN CALIFORNIA

Neville Graham, Tech graduate of 1929 in civil engineering, is now in Los Angeles, California. Graham was formerly with the Truscon Steel company of Youngstown, Ohio.

SPENDS WINTER IN COLORADO

Roy McCullough, former secretary of the Tech YMCA, is spending the winter at Fort Collins, Colorado, according to word received here yesterday.

McCollough is a former secretary of the International Intercollegiate Prohibition association of America.

He resigned as Tech YMCA secretary in 1929.

SENTENCED TO DIE

MOSCOW, March 6. (AP)—M. Bagatsky, a locomotive engineer held responsible for a railroad wreck in eastern Siberia, was sentenced today to be shot and twelve members of his train crew were sent to prison for three to ten years.

Government investigators contended the wreck and numerous similar incidents in the past year were the result of Sabotage.

Reindeer in Alaska now number more than 1,000,000 head.

California Cities Seek Conventions

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—San Fransicso and Los Angeles have made overtures for the republican and democratic national conventions in 1932.

Although the convention cities will be selected by the national committee almost a year hence, it is understood San Francisco is strongly favored for the republican meeting. Isidore B. Dockweiler of Los Angeles, national committeeman, has proposed his home town for the democratic convention.

In view of the strength gained in Ohio and Illinois in the November elections, Cleveland and Chicago are likely prospects for the democratic convention.

The democratic national committee is expected to be called next December or January to select its convention city, while the republican national committee probably will be assembled in January or early February.

Threat Letter Is Cause Of Concern

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 6. (AP)—Lewis Milestone, director of "Two Arabian Knights" and other motion pictures, was guarded by sheriff's deputies today, after receipt of letters threatening his life.

Milestone said the letters were from a man he had known in boyhood in Russia. After a separation of 14 years they met here recently and the former friend demanded large sums of money and threatened him with "Russian justice," he said. Postal inspectors were searching for the man.

London now has 20,000 men on its police force.

Sunday-School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

International Sunday School lesson for March 8, 1931.

General Topic: "The Good Samaritan."

Scripture Lesson: Luke 10:25-37.

25. And behold, a certain lawyer stood up and made trial of him, saying, Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?

26. And he said unto him, What is written in the law? How readest thou?

27. And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself.

28. And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live.

29. But he, desiring to justify himself, said unto Jesus, and who is my neighbor?

30. Jesus made answer and said, A certain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho; and he fell among robbers, who both stripped him and beat him, and departed, leaving him half dead.

31. And by chance a certain priest was going down that way; and when he saw him, he passed on the other side.

32. And in like manner a Levite also, when he came to the place, and saw him, passed by on the other side.

33. But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was; and when he saw him, he was moved with compassion.

34. And came to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring on them oil and wine; and he set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him.

35. And on the morrow he took out two shillings, and gave them to the host, and said, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, I, when I come back again, will repay thee.

36. Which of these three, thinkest thou, proved neighbor unto him that fell among the robbers?

37. And he said, He that showed mercy on him. And Jesus said unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

Golden Text: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.—Lev. 19: 18.

Time: This parable was spoken in November-December of A. D. 29, the third year of Christ's ministry.

Place: It was spoken in Perea, the country east of the lower Jordan.

Good Samaritanism is particularly essential to good Christianity because of the example of Christ himself, who was a superlative example of it, who ceaselessly went about doing good and hunting out cases that needed good-doing. So the practice of helpfulness he made one of the distinguishing marks of his discipleship. Some of the church fathers declared that Christ was picturing himself in the Good Samaritan.

The lawyer would have defined neighbors: "Any member of my family; of my synagogue; anyone I like." Jesus teaches: "Your nearest, next-door neighbor, is the man who needs you most; whether he's lying by the Jerusalem-Jericho highway, or on a street corner in Tarshish. If Jesus ever neglected anyone it was the man who had less need of him than some one else.

"WHAT SHALL I DO TO INHERIT ETERNAL LIFE?"

v. 25

The same question was asked Christ by the rich young ruler, Luke 18:18; it was a subject commonly debated. The very wording of the question is contradictory, for if eternal life is to be inherited, it comes of God's grace, and one does not need to do anything to receive it. This, in truth, is the teaching of Christianity, but Jesus did not discuss that aspect of the matter, perferring to take the lawyer on his own ground of the law rather than on the unfamiliar ground of grace.

"And he said unto him, What is written in the Law? How readest thou?" This kind of answer may often be found in the sayings of the famous Jewish rabbis, set down in their recorded discussions. The principle is illustrated over and over in the dialogues of Socrates, who always ironically pretended to be entirely ignorant himself, and to be seeking light from his pupils.

The lawyer quoted Deut. 6:5 and 10:12. No words were more familiar to the Jews. The heart signifies the affections, the soul the spiritual essence, the personality, the strength the physical nature, and the mind the mental capacity. We are to love God with body, mind, and soul, and not merely with the feeling; this is the great meaning of this great sentence. "And thy neighbor as thyself." This is quoted from Lev. 19:18, and was the answer given to a similar question by the great Rabbi Hillel. Love of one's neighbor summarizes morality as love of God summarizes religion. The two together constitute the highest wisdom.

LOVE OF GOD AND MAN

"God must be served by all our nature, not by parts of it. There was an old barbarian chief who, when he was baptized, kept his right arm out of the water, that he might still work his deeds of blood. That is the likeness of the imperfect religion of many Christians."—Dean A. P. Stanley.

"It sounds simple,—Love to God, and love to man. It is the angel's message as they sang together when new life came to earth."—Caroline Hazard.

"We all have the two great duties, love of God and love of man. Now God expects of us something more than a mere formal fulfilment of the two tables of the Commandments. This do, and thou shalt live—quite so—but he would have a realy, hearty service, a going out of the way to do work for him."—S. Baring-Gould.

"FROM JERUSALEM TO JERICO" V. 30

"A certain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho." The "certain man" was a Jew, which adds point to the story. Jericho, the famous city of Palms, was about fifteen miles east of Jerusalem and six miles west of the Jordan. He was "going down," for the road descends some three thousand feet before it reaches Jericho. "And he fell among robbers." The road is rimmed with steep rocks full of caves which were the haunts of desperate bandits. An Englishman, Sir Frederick Henniker, was here sat upon by Arab robbers in 1820, was stripped and murdered. "Who both stripped him and beat him, and departed, leaving him half dead." So far as the thieves cared, he might have been dead; it is a picture of the hard-hearted ways of the world wherever it is untouched by the mercy of Christ. Our Lord had often travelled this road going up to Bethany, and the parable may well have been based on some recent occurrence.

"MOVED WITH COMPASION" v. 33

The painstaking tenderness of the traveler with the wounded man, v. 34, reminds us that it is the Great Physician who is telling the story. Olive oil, with wine, was the ordinary remedy for lacerations and wounds in antiquity (Isa. 1:6). The words "set him on his own beast" indicates in the original that he did it gently. And all this, not to be seen of men, for there was no one around; and not from a sense of duty; but "moved with compassion"—witness the added item that at the inn he stayed with the poor fellow all night, taking care of him.

THE SECOND MILE. v. 35

Finally, Jesus brings into the parable his doctrine or principal of "the second mile." The Samaritan had done a whole lot for this unfortunate man—who was "nothing to him," as we say — more than might have been expected; had infinitely outdistanced the priest and the Levite in the practical application of religion to life; but he goes farther yet, paints fairer the beautiful lily of his kindliness; so that "Good Samaritan" has become one of the most coveted titles that generous minded Christian men may bear.

"GO AND DO LIKEWISE" v. 37

"No words, perhaps, ever spoken on earth, have had more effect than those of this parable. The Jews had no notion of humanity. The Greek despised all nations but his own as barbarians. The Romans were the great slave-holding, man-stealing people. The new thing which the gospel brought into the world was —humanity." — Charles Kingsley. "God so loved the world."

"The Jericho road did not end at Jericho; it passed the frontier of Judaea, it went into all the world. Wherever in this world sin had brought shame or suffering or sorrow, there ran the Jericho road. And the meaning of this Galilean was, that all of these sufferers were one's 'neighbors'." — Rev. C. I. Scofield, D. D.

The lawyer's question, "Who is my neighbor?" "Is one of the everlasting questions, and must be forever asked by all good people, not only in this world but in the life to come."—Dean George Hodges.

"The command, Go and do likewise, is the origin of all the beneficient alleviations of suffering, modern medicine, hospitals, doctors, nurses. Until Jesus the Good Physician comes not even good surgery appears. And until at his bidding doctors go out to the undoctored and unhealed races, man still perish in the misery of avoidable disease. We cannot help looking at this story of the good Samaritan and the commandment that follows it with a profound reverence. It is the fountain-head from which the streams of mercy, widening with the centuries originally flowed." — Rev. Robert F. Horton, D. D.

SPECIAL LESSONS

This parable is one of the finest illustrations of complete and practical stewardship. It illustrates (1) the stewardship of time. The good Samaritan did not hesitate to interrupt his journey and disarrange his plans at the call of need. It further illustrates (2) the stewardship of ability. He was not a physician, but he knew the "first aid" of the day, and made good use of such skill as he had. Also it exemplifies (3) the stewardship of possession. The good Samaritan gave the use of his donkey, he gave his feed, and he gave his food, and he gave his money, all to minister to the needs of an entire stranger, belonging to a hostile race. And primarily it illustrates (4) the stewardship of the love of God.

Youth Hurt As Bandits Flee

Attempted Holdup Of Kansas Bank Thwarted; Assistant Cashier Wounded In Fight With Robbers

TREECE, Kas., March 6. (AP)—George Humble, 24-year-old assistant cashier of the Treece State bank, was shot in the leg by three bandits who today robbed the bank of an undetermined amount of money.

Bank officials said they thought the robbers were seeking a payroll due today to miners. The payroll, however, had not been taken to the bank from the post office.

Speeding east out of Treece, the robbers were overtaken about three miles east of Baxter Springs, Kan., by Deputy Sheriff John Starrett and a companion from Columbus, Kan., a running exchange of pistol shots ensued.

After peppering the robbers' automobile with bullets the deputies ran out of ammunition and returned to Baxter Springs.

Meanwhile the bandits abandoned the machine, commandeered a small, fast car from an undetermined source, and sped on into the wild hilly region along the Oklahoma-Kansas border known as the Devil's Promenade.

NEOSHO, Mo., March 6. (AP)—Officers announced this afternoon that two youths, arrested near here had admitted participation in the robbery of the Treece, Kas., state bank this morning.

They are Howard Graham, 20, and Eugene Ellison, 19, both of Hockerville, Okla.

They named Pete Black, 20, reported captured at Hockerville, as the third member of the bandit trio.

Prince Of Wales In Buenos Aires

BUENOS AIRES, March 6. (AP)—Buenos Aires gave the Prince of Wales and his brother George one of the warmest receptions of their career upon their arrival here, but it was the warmth of a broiling sun rather than that of an enthusiastic public manifestation.

Thousands turned out to greet the two princes when they arrived at El Palomar Airdrome from Mar Del Plata yesterday afternoon, but the British heir, burned and tired from a ride in an open plane, hurried through the reception and appeared to have antagonized the crowds rather than to have made himself popular with them.

A long round of functions await the two brothers as they prepare for the principal event of their trip—inauguration next Saturday of the British trade exposition here.

DIES IN AUSTIN

AUSTIN, March 6 (AP)—Mrs. B. J. Forbes, wife of Representative Forbes of Weatherford, a prohibition champion in the Texas legislature, died at an Austin hospital early today. She had been seriously ill for several days but was believed recovering when she suffered a relapse.

ARREST IS DEMANDED

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 6. (AP)—Demand for the immediate arrest and prosecution of J. Basil Ramsey, president of the closed Holston Union National bank and the Holston Trust company, was made today by the legislative committee investigating the closing of several banks in Tennessee last fall.

Apple Crisps

8 apples, sliced (about 1 quart)	1 c. sugar
½ c. water	⅔ c. flour
1 t. cinnamon	¼ t. salt
	7 T. butter

Slice the apples in a greased casserole, add water and cinnamon. Using the finger tips mix the sugar, flour, salt and butter to crumbs. Sprinkle these crumbs over the apples and bake uncovered in a moderate oven about 30 minutes or until top is delicately browned. Serve with cream.

IMPERIAL PURE CANE SUGAR

Debunking Our Great Men

IT WOULD be interesting to know just why the general run of mankind is always so eager to see great men toppled off of their pedestals.

Biographers in recent years have discovered that such an eagerness exists, and have taken advantage of it. The most striking current work in this field is Edgar Lee Masters' life of Lincoln, in which the Civil War president is pictured as an egotistic and shallow politician, fumbling and incompetent; but this book is only one among many.

George Edinger and E. J. C. Neep recently wrote a life of Britain's Admiral Nelson, depicting him as a small man, mean, vain and disobedient. A popular biography of President von Hindenburg last year displayed the famous German as a somewhat dull and pompous figurehead. Marshal Joffre of France has been given the same treatment. The George Washington biographers of a few years ago are probably too well remembered to need discussion.

It is not especially to the point in this connection to inquire whether or not the attacks in these biographies are justified by the evidence. The point is that the books were and are successful. People hurried to buy and read them. You can always make a stir, and sell a lot of books, by discovering that some popular idol had feet of clay. Why should that be?

Perhaps it is chiefly because a great man—especially one whose life is a generation or so removed from us—tends to grow unreal, to look like a figure out of an old-fashioned state painting. We see Washington, for example, not as a human being but as a dignified and imposing demi-god, poised in a boat in the ice-strewn Delaware or seated loftily on a self-conscious horse. To learn that he swore like an angry artilleryman at the battle of Monmouth, or that he was mildly fond of strong liquor and pretty ladies, is to put the blood of life into his veins. We feel our own kinship with him strengthened.

Yet there seems to be more to it than that; and part of it, perhaps, is a growing belief that men generally are somewhat less noble and capable and virtuous than they are supposed to be. This age has been badly disillusioned in several ways, and cynicism is more prevalent than ever before. We have seen corruption, incompetence and petty scheming on the part of so many of our own public men that we assume all heroes of the old days must have been of the same stripe. It is hard for us to understand an era that could demand leaders of a loftier kind; so, by belittling legendary greatness, we make past history understandable.

WHAT CAUSES COLDS?

A scientist has come out against the popular theory that colds are caused by exposure to drafts, cold air or wet feet. With a motto, "Enjoy the cold and keep healthy," he advocated frequent exposure for the purpose of building up body resistance to colds.

The men in the trenches, many of whom were frequent sufferers from this common ailment in civilian life, had little trouble with colds or catarrh. The sailors in the North Sea, exposed to all the conditions that the public believes to be sure cold breeders, are a remarkably healthy lot. Fliers, Alpine climbers, street vendors, fishermen, plowmen, shepherds, doctors and policemen are not, as groups, prone to colds.

This is true because these men have fortified themselves by constant exposure to changing weather extremes. They are accustomed to drafts, cold and the wet, therefore feel them not.

It is pertinent to the discussion that the principal sufferers from colds and similar maladies are those persons whose systems are softened by overheated, badly ventilated homes, offices and factories. Against extremes of winter weather their weakened constitutions are not prepared, drafts and wet feet acting upon them as shocks, paving the way for onslaughts by armies of cold germs.

Thus it behooves indoor workers to watch the air they breathe, the temperature in which they work and the weather-proofing of their feet, unless they have the time and the energy to spend their leisure hours acclimatizing their bodies to the rigors of the wintry outdoors. Few accomplish this because they have wheels under them wherever they go.

A year or two ago an American cynic remarked that intelligence is a crime in the United States, but he hasn't been arrested yet.

One of the cardinal accomplishments of the human memory is its aptitude for forgetting insulting comic valentines.

There's always a bright side, and modern man's willingness to get a divorce indicates that boarding houses have improved.

A head lamp has been invented for pedestrians. Now when they violate a traffic rule they'll surely be accused of being lighted up.

It won't be long now before the first symptoms of love sickness will begin to show; you know, those "dizzy" spells.

Practical Health Problems

BABY SHOULD SLEEP OUTDOORS WHEN TWO WEEKS OF AGE IF BORN IN SUMMER MONTHS

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

Almost all mothers now know that the baby ought to have fresh air, but few mothers have any definite idea of just what constitutes fresh air or exactly how much the baby ought to be in a fresh air atmosphere.

Actually a baby ought to be in fresh air all the time, with the understanding that fresh air means air that is not stagnant, that is changed by proper ventilation, and of a temperature suitable to the condition of the bay's tissues. Outdoor air is fresher for these reasons than indoor air.

Dr. Frederick F. Tisdall suggests that the baby ought to be put outdoors to sleep as early as two weeks of age, if born in the summer months; if born in the winter months, it should be outside at six weeks of age. Since it is difficult under modern apartment conditions to put the baby outside the best substitute is to put him, dressed up as if he were going outdoors, in his carriage in front of an open window and close the door of the room to prevent a direct breeze over the baby's head.

The mere fact that some babies have been placed outdoors in severe weather without harmful results does not indicate that this is the best procedure. It merely indicates that the babies were able to stand the rigors of climate to which other babies might easily succumb.

Dr. Tisdall makes the practical suggestion that cold cream be rubbed on the face of the baby before it is put outside in cold weather in order to prevent chapping. There is little to be gained if the baby is placed outdoors with his entire body swaddled in heavy clothing and its face covered with a veil. A covering over the face keeps out the beneficial light rays and it keeps the moisture in so that the child soon becomes damp and uncomfortable. The entire purpose of the outdoor air is thus destroyed.

Immigration Regulations

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Second Assistant Secretary of Labor William W. Husband is a chubby, smiling little fellow. He radiates a kindliness which unmistakably is the real thing.

Upon this genial individual an ironic fate, the presidential appointive power and his own highly-specialized knowledge of Uncle Sam's immigration policy have combined to wish a job in which it is his official duty to render more unavoidably painful decisions than, probably, any other public servant in Washington.

Assistant Secretary Husband's chief responsibility is the interpretation and enforcement of America's immigration regulations—not so difficult a task before the World war, when the door stood practically wide open except to a few conspicuous undesirables, but a mighty hard one now that the portal is ajar only sufficiently to admit comparatively the thinnest trickle of newcomers.

GENERALLY, their various national quotas permitting them to come at all, they come alone; mostly young men, seeking fortunes in the new world. A fair proportion of them make good. Then, naturally, they wish to bring loved ones from overseas, to join them, and immediately present-day restrictions stand in the way.

Assistant Secretary Husband cited a typical case.

"It was that," he said, "of a young Greek from Smyrna, a fine, upstanding fellow. Leaving home before the Turks drove his countryfolk out of Asia Minor, he had done well here. When post-war Turkey expelled all Greeks from its soil this chap wanted to send for his 12-year-old sister. She was in a refugees' camp in Thrace, dependent on Near Eastern relief, and he was able and anxious to care for her in America. It was tough to have to tell him that, under the Greek quota, there was small hope of her admission earlier than the middle 1940's."

"THE QUOTA rule shows a preference," continued the labor official, "in favor of the parents of an immigrant already settled in the United States. But when the time comes, it is a heart-rending choice for an aged couple, or perhaps a widowed mother, to make—a last goodbye to those in Europe, who cannot follow, or abandonment of all chance of a reunion with the son, as it usually is, waiting on this side of the ocean.

"Many a plan has been suggested to mitigate the hardships which restriction undoubtedly creates.

"The difficulty is that the removal of one almost invariably and automatically creates another in its place, and removal of the second creates a third, and so on indefinitely."

"THERE IS ALSO," said the assistant secretary, "an occasional instance of a foreigner who, entering the country illegally, nevertheless proves to be a useful, industrious, well-behaved worker, marries, has children, and then, exposed as unlawfully here, becomes subject to deportation.

"The best we can do in his behalf is to permit him to depart voluntarily, thus leaving the opportunity open to him to return under quota regulations as soon as possible, which he could not do if deported.

"At best, the interval between application and admission is from 5 to 20 years, depending upon the quota allowance of the applicant's nationality, which, of course, is much larger for the northern than for the southern European countries, because arrivals from the former were far more numerous than from the latter during the period of practically unrestricted immigration."

IS IT A FACT, as certain persons argue, that the nordic is a better type of human material than any other?—at any rate for assimilative purposes, as tested in the United States?

"I have fought for immigration restriction for 25 years, and in all that time I never found it necessary," answered Assistant Secretary Husband, "to use the term 'hordes.' No, nor 'dregs,' nor 'scum.'

"I certainly would not say that any especial breed of human being is superior to any other breed.

"I notice that the very folk who speak oftenest of nordic superiority are the ones who are readiest to pay more to listen to an Italian than to a nordic singer or to a French dressmaker for a gown than to any other dressmaker in the world. Each race and nationality has its own particular superiorities, and these critics can see it readily enough in the Italians and French when the issue is music or elegant apparel."

"HOWEVER," admitted the immigration expert, "while I recognize no superiorities, I do recognize differences.

"The human material which predominates in our mixture is of a kind that has given our civilization political stability, democracy and, most noticeably, it is a prosperous civilization.

"As to limiting further increases in our population, we were driven to that in plain self-defense."

Otherwise, how many more would we have had now?

"I don't know," replied the assistant secretary, "but I do know that we have a waiting list of 2,000,000 as it is."

Diced potatoes for salads are now being put up by a Maine canner. In fact, all the essentials for a picnic are now put up in cans except ants.

ALEXANDER ALEKHINE PLAYED 26 GAMES OF CHESS WHILE BLINDFOLDED.—Alexander Alekhine, the Russian chessmaster, set a new world's record for simultaneous blindfolded chess when he faced 26 players in an exhibition at the Hotel Alamac, New York City, on April 27th, 1924. Alekhine started playing at 2 p. m. and finished at 2 a. m. the next morning having won 16 games, lost 5 and drawn 5, without ever setting eyes on the boards.

MARTHA FARRA LIFTS AN ELEPHANT.—A few years ago I saw Miss Farra lift an elephant off the floor during her stage performance at the Hippodrome Theatre in New York City. The secret of this "stunt" is in the ability to take up the slack of the load with the back and shoulders, making the final lift by straightening the legs. Miss Farra performed other feats of strength, many of which rivalled the well known strong-man acts—such as Breitbart's.

SAILOR FINDS LOST BAR OF SOAP IN A SHARK.—At a time when the American Barkentine "Forest Friend" was in latitude 2 degrees 20 minutes N., longitude 146 degrees 31 minutes W., a sailor, who was washing clothes, lost a cake of soap that was specially marked. The next day, when the ship was in latitude 1 degree 10 minutes N., longitude 147 degrees 16 minutes W., (123 miles away) a shark was caught, and in the customary examination of the contents of the shark's stomach the same bar of soap was found. This incident was reported to me by A. Zugehoer, who was master of the "Forest Friend" at the time, and who is now with the Traders Transport Company of Seattle.

For GINGER'S SAKE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

To keep life from growing too dull in Red Thrush, Iowa, GINGER ELLA TOLLIVER organized a junior Country Club. It was to be something exclusive — just for the "younger set." Accordingly Ginger, whose father was a minister and whose stepmother, the former PHIL VAN DOORN, was both wealthy and indulgent, purchased an old farm house and remodeled it.

To Red Thrush came BARD HOLLOWAY, a young artist who was hoboing around the country. Attracted by Ginger, he agreed to stay and paint portraits and decorate the name "Joie de Vivre" to the club. And he thought it would be splendid if they could import from Chicago one NICOLO CALLENO. For Nicolo was handsome and he could cook and sing and strum a guitar. He would make a picturesque addition to the club.

But in Nicolo's place there arrived three of his countrymen. Little ANGELO was a musician, and PIETRO could cook. And BENITO could sing. Nicolo, it seemed, could not come, and they had come in his place. Ginger took them on.

The opening of the club was a great success. Pietro, Angelo and Benito added just the right touch of color. Bard began to realize he was falling in love with Ginger and he suggested leaving Red Thrush, but Phil, knowing how Ginger felt about it, persuaded him to remain longer as the Tolliver's guest. But she did write to SPEED RONEY, a former friend of Ginger's in the east, inviting him to visit them. She felt Speed would give Brad some competition and enable Ginger to know her own mind.

Ginger thereupon invited PATTY SEARS to take care of Speed. But Patty wouldn't come, pleading loyalty to EDDY JACKSON. Whereupon Ginger went to Eddy. Eddy persuaded Patty to come, and when Ginger received word that Speed was bringing his sister with him she got Eddy to come too. And Eddy decided to ball things up and make life miserable for Ginger. Meanwhile Benito has made a trip to Chicago and returned with presents.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXIV

Years before, when Benito was yet a young man, he had learned that the world is redolent with opportunities ripe for the harvest, and with that knowledge the seeds of ambition sprouted in his mind. True, he wished eventually to retire to a rural spot, but he was not to be satisfied with the countless life in Italy.

He would be a farmer in a country of rich farmers, and the richest among them. He would bring his wife and children from the old country, and they would be like princes and gentlemen on their vast estate.

They would have fine houses, big cars, rich clothes, servants to wait upon them, and a multitude of social engagements, countless rich friends to dance and dine and wine with them—friends just a little less rich than they.

These things would require money. And for 15 years Benito had been turning all his native talents slowly, surely, to its acquirement.

In the meantime, Maria had grown fat and careless, and the children had grown up and married farmers and the daughters of farmers like themselves. But Benito's deposits in different banks of different cities were growing steadily, and as his money multiplied his ambitions soared.

It was more than his lungs that the shrewd Benito utilized to full capacity. Those small black shining eyes of his were schooled to the uttermost. Very little escaped them and that little was of no value to anybody.

Upon his arrival he had been quick to appraise the costly appointments of Doorndee. He had not failed to remark the expensive motors, the simple elegance of the clothes worn by Ginger and Mrs. Tolliver, the two finely bred horses saddled at the mount.

One glance had told him that Ginger was the apple of the older woman's eye. Mrs. Tolliver's slight air of annoyance at the advent of the three Italians had melted into an amused tolerance when Ginger admitted it was of her doing. The money that lay behind the well-kept establishment plainly belonged to the woman.

There was nothing that smacked of worldly affluence in the manners of the mild and modest minister. Even in the eyes of a novice he would have been instantly called as a mere accessory to the menage.

Neither had Benito overlooked

Penalty Is Given Lubbock's Record

A three per cent bad fire record penalty on fire insurance has been given Lubbock, according to a notification received by the City from J. W. Deweese, state fire insurance commissioner.

The penalty was effective March 1, according to Commissioner Deweese. Lubbock last year had a 15 per cent good fire record credit.

Two Fires Large

Two of the largest fires in Lubbock history occurred within a period of 24 hours, August 23 and 24, both the Temple Ellis and Conley buildings, on opposite corners at Texas Avenue and Broadway, being virtually destroyed. Loss on the buildings and contents was estimated at more than $340,000.

An elevator of the Lubbock Grain and Coal company was razed by flames during the Temple Ellis building blaze. Loss on the elevator was estimated at about $15,000.

Magazine Depicts This City As It Was In The Early Days

Lubbock's growth from its early days to the present time is shown vividly on the front cover of the March number of the Texas Commercial News. "The City Of Lubbock As It Appeared in the Early Days and As It Looks Today" isthe subject of the cover.

Lower portion of the picture, which is a composite photograph, is a skyline of Lubbock as seen from an elevation at Texas avenue and Broadway, looking northward on Texas avenue and westward on Broadway. Outstanding structures in the view are the Hilton and Lubbock hotels.

Early-day Lubbock as pictured on the magazine cover includes an ox-team hitched to several wagonloads of baled cotton. Several men are standing and one is astride a white horse in the foreground.

Principal feature of the background is a windmill, back of which is a two-story country home.

Young Indians Loom Dangerous In American League

Skipper Peck Has Idea His Boys Will Go

First Base Position, Vacated By Eddie Morgan, Source Of Worry; Lew Fonseca To Try For Place; Vosmic Good

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS, March 6.—An exceptionally young club with some lusty hitting, fair pitching and a fine team spirit are the Cleveland Indians of 1931, Roger Peckinpaugh, their pilot for the fourth season, has an idea his hearties will assert themselves in the coming campaign and push the Athletics and Senators all the way.

"But for one bad spell when my kids got the fidgets and dropped 20 out of 23, we would have finished no worse than second last year," Peck declared. "They won't do that this time. They're a year older and a year steadier. Furthermore, Willis Hudlin isn't due to have another poor season."

Only at first base, where Eddie Morgan held sway last year, do the Indians threaten to lose strength. Convinced that Morgan is sincere in his determination to quit the game, Peckinpaugh has turned the job over to Lew Fonseca, a great one two seasons back but out most of 1930 with an injured arm. Much of the Cleveland hope lies in Fonseca's ability to fill the yawning gap left by Morgan.

Johnny Hodapp, who gleaned over 200 hits last year at second; Jonah Goldman at short and Johnny Burnett at third round out Peck's tentative infield.

Barring the possibility that Joe Vosmic, a youngster who hit .397 in the Three Eye League last year, will break in as a regular, the Tribe outfield is "set." Earl Averill and Dick Porter, both batting stars of the first rank, are fixtures in center and right, respectively. They, assisted by Hodapp, will give the team its big punch. Charles Jamieson, Bib Falk and Bob Seeds, offer Vosmic veteran competition for the left field post. Peckinpaugh intimated he would carry all six.

Wes Ferrell, the first tosser to win more than 20 games in each of his first two years in the majors since Grover Cleveland Alexander's heyday, heads a mound corps with rare possibilities.

Supporting Ferrell and Hudlin are five experienced curvers; Clint Brown, credited with 10 winds last year; Mel Harder, who turned in 11 decisions; Milburn Shoffner, Walter Miller, and Pete Jablonowski, relief specialist. Shoffner and Miller are southpaws.

Rookie backstops need not apply to the Indians. With the veteran Luke Sewell for heavy duty and Glenn Myatt as first assistant, Peck is well satisfied with that department.

Bruce Barnes And Wilmer Allison Invited To N. Y.

DALLAS, March 6. (AP) — Two ranking Texas tennis stars, Wilmer Allison and Bruce Barnes, have been invited to the National indoor meet at New York City March 14. Allison is a former Davis Cup team member, while Barnes is the singles champion of Texas. Barnes attends the University of Texas and will be the Longhorn's main hope at the Southwest conference finals at College Station May 16, 17, and 18. The National indoor tournament ranks in tennis competition to the National outdoor meet each season at Forest Hills.

Athens Becomes Favorite In State Cage Tourney After Beating Denton

Plainview Loses To Nocona, 27-26, In First Game

By The Associated Press

AUSTIN, March 6.—Athens gained sweet revenge by beating Denton tonight, 29-11 in the second round of the state high school basketball tournament. It was Denton which knocked Jimmy Kitts' Hornetts out of the state title last year.

The defending titlists did not score a field goal in the first half and were trailing 13-2, at the end of that period. So close was the national champions guarding that neither of the Denton forwards made a point during the game. Dittrich had registered 16 points against Sidney Lanier of San Antonio this morning.

Freddie Tompkins was the sparkplug of the victors' attack and he also was high scorer with three field goals and four free throws. When he wasn't shooting the baskets himself, he was feeding the ball to a teammate in scoring position.

Bardwell Beats Yancey

Bardwell ran away from Yancey in the second game tonight. The Ellis county boys defeated their Medina county rivals, 44 to 19.

Woods, Bardwell forward, made one more point than the Yancey team he found the hoop from all angles, scoring nine field goals and two free throws.

Bardwell, which had trouble with Mathis this morning, held a 16 to 5 lead over Yancey at the end of the first quarter.

Nocona advanced to the semi-finals by beating Plainview 27 to 26. Austin given a scare by Locker High school this afternoon and forced to spurt to the finish, and San Jacinto was the second night game. Austin failed earlier in the day to stop the Golden Bears. Austin downed Locker this afternoon 26 to 20. Yancey vanquished Big Spring 31 to 25.

Scores were comparatively close in the opening rounds. Not until afternoon, in fact until San Jacinto High school of Houston, one of the tournament favorites, swung into action was there anything like a run away. Prior to this game Denton's ten point win over Sidney Lanier had been the widest margin of victory.

The individuals scoring honors of the day went to Dittrich of Denton who shot seven field goals and two free throws for a total of 16.

White Sox Tangle With Houston Buffs Today

HOUSTON, March 6. (AP)—Donie Bush's Chicago White Sox, will tangle with Joe Schultz's Houston Buffs here tomorrow afternoon and Sunday. One of the expected features of the series is the twirling of Ted Lyons, knuckleball expert and a former Baylor university ace.

SAN ANTONIO—Manager Donie Bush has decided on the battle front that will oppose the Houston club of the Texas league tomorrow.

Bill Cissell will be lead-off man, followed by two rookies, Ray Radcliff and Mel Simons. Smead Jolley will be in the cleanup spot, followed by Red Eickrodt, Luke Appling, Willie Kamm and Frank Grube. Vic Frasier will be the starting pitcher, with Jimmy Moore to finish.

Dallas Steers Meet New York Giants In Series

CORSICANA, March 6. (AP)—Bad weather today kept the Dallas Steers off the training field but a workout was held in a large warehouse. The players will leave tomorrow for Dallas, where they meet the New York Giants in two exhibition games.

Pitcher Wehde, secured from the Chicago White Sox, reported today.

Cowtown Poloists Win In Set With Santone Team

Training Camp Gossip

(By The Associated Press)

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Mar. 6.—Bill Killefer's young Browns trounced a rival Brownie team here today, 6 to 2, in the second five inning exhibition game arranged during the training season.

The youngsters were reinforced, however, by Goose Goslin and Pitcher Blaeholder.

CARDS TO PLAY ATHLETICS

BRADENTON, Fla. — Manager Gabby Street and 25 of his Cardinals left here today in a bus for Miami where they play their first spring exhibition game tomorrow with the Athletics.

GENE MOORE LOOKING GOOD

TAMPA, Fla.—Young Gene Moore from Texas and old Nick Cullop from Minneapolis, newcomers to the Cincinnati Reds, sent the ball on long rides during today's batting practice and bolstered Manager Dan Howley's hopes that after all he might have some hitters in what is not too promising an allotment of outfield material.

YANKS AND BRAVES TO MEET

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Argis Le Heny, of Pittsburgh, considered by Manager Bill McKechie to be the best of the Boston Braves' pitching rookies, will start against the New York Yankees here tomorrow in the tribes' opening exhibition contest. Frank Frankhouse, veteran, will relieve the youngster after five or six innings. Al Bool will do the first game catching.

REGARDING PINCH HITTERS

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Detroit Tiger pitchers will pinch bat for themselves this year, with the customary exceptions to prove the rule, Manager Stanley R. Harris has announced.

"I'm convinced," he said, "that in the majority of cases, the lifting of a pitcher for a pinch hitter has disastrous results. You know what a pitcher who is working for you can do, but you have no idea what the relief pitcher is going to do. When we are one or two runs behind, I'm going to let the pitcher bat for himself. The average pitcher is just as likely to wallop the ball as the average pinch hitter."

PIRATES IN SCRIMMAGE

PASO ROBLES, Calif.—The first intra-club baseball game at the Pittsburgh Pirate rehearsal grounds is set for tomorrow, and the camp games likely will determine the fate of several ambitious rookies trying for big league berths. Manager Jewel Ens, who must soon start the process of elimination, today said he had a difficult job ahead because of the exceptional good crop of recruits in his charge.

YANIGANS BEAT ATHLETICS

PORT MYERS, Fla.—The Athletic Yanigans beat the regulars, 6 to 4, today in the first game the champions have played this season. The regulars used second string men in place of Cochrane, Simmons and Bishop. Half a dozen recruit pitchers were given workouts, none of the A's first five hurlers taking part in the game.

PHILLIES WIN EXHIBITION

WINTER HAVEN, Fla.—Manager Shotten sprang a surprise today by putting the regular Phillies and Yanigans through a five inning game, the regulars winning, 8 to 3. It was the first time in three years that Shotton was put on a scrub game. Mallon, new second baseman, played a flashy game, handling 11 chances without a bobble.

LAMENESS IN SEN CAMP

BILOXI, Miss.—A few minor cases of lameness were reported among the Nationals' pitchers today but nothing like the general epidemic of game legs and sore arms that has afflicted them in other years.

Sam Jones had a lame back, Al Crowder a few twinges here and there, and Ray McMahon an aching arm. But in general, Trainer Mike Martin was well satisfied with the way his charges are shaping up.

Small Number Of Applicants Causes Delay

Few Schools Outside Of West Texas Circles Signed Yet For State A. A. U. Tourney At Plainview Next Week

PLAINVIEW, Tex., March 6. (AP)—High schools of Texas have been given until Monday morning at 10 o'clock to file their entries in the A. A. U. high school basketball tournament for girls to be held here March 12, 13, 14 to decide the state championship.

Entries were first scheduled to close Saturday, but the committee in charge of pairings has announced that entries received up to the time of its meeting Monday morning would be accepted.

Fifteen schools had entered the tournament early today, including the strong Dimmitt team, runner-up in the tournament won by Athens last year. Twenty other teams have announced they will enter but their applications have not been received.

Entries include: Perryton, Pampa, Plainview, Aliasville, Bovina, Mesquite, Dalhart, Quitaque, Tulia, Lazbuddy, Southland, Quanah, Memphis, and Five-and-One.

Pairings will be made Monday, the committee announced.

Trophies valued at $500 will be awarded the winers.

"Be Good If We Lose One Next Year", Says Rockne

Knute Would Start Primo Carnera At Tackle

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

MIAMI, Fla., March 6. — Greeted by sunshine and a group of friends, Knute Kenneth Rockne, forsaking the highroads of business for a rest, is looking extremely fit and breathing pessimism, with a broad smile, as to the football prospects at Notre Dame this year.

In a radio interview with the sports editor of the Associated Press, arranged under the auspices of the Miami Daily News today, Rockne declared:

"It may be a good thing for football and I know it will be a good thing for us if we lose three or four games this year.

Have No Idea Of Losing

"I don't mean to say we have any idea of doing so, if we can avoid it, but we can't go on winning the way we have in the past two years. Running up against the tough ones the way we do, from start to finish, I don't see how we can avoid taking a few on the chin."

"I'm not just popping off I advance. As a matter of fact, I think we will have another fine team, even though we have lost several of our greatest stars. We lose Carideo, Brill, O'Connor, Mullins and Hanley out of the backfield. That will make it tough, with Schwartz alone left out of the 1930 regulars."

Rockne discussed business conditions in general, the gridiron rules, alleged over-emphasis in football, climate, southern hospitality and boxing.

Would Start Carnera At Tackle

Asked about Primo Carnera, whom he saw the win the decision from Jimmy Maloney last night, he remarked:

"I think I'd start him at tackle but first I'd have to teach him how to make use of that right hand."

The master of Notre Dame expects to return, in a few weeks, to take charge of spring football drills. He seized the occasion to declare:

Spring Training O. K.

"This agitation against spring practice is all right, so far as it goes. I don't believe in making it compulsory but this is a sport that the boys like to play, so why not play it right and give them the best training we can? Our boys who go out for track or baseball in the spring don't spend their time in football uniforms. But the others want something to do and it seems sensible to give it to them. It takes most of the winter to develop a good crew for the spring. Why not give football players the same opportunity to develop before the competition starts?"

Rockne told his Miami audience he foresaw the possible development of an intersectional football classic, to be played here annually around the end of the year. It is sought as an out-growth of intersectional est-south high school games played here in the past several years.

"Business Man"

Classifying himself as a "business man holdout," big Chuck Klein, above, hard-hitting Phillies' outfielder, says he will be ready to step right into the game when his salary differences are settled. And the reason Chuck will be ready is that he has kept in tip-top condition by bowling daily on the alleys he managed in Indianapolis this winter. Klein is a prominent pin-toppler in the Hoosier capital's bowling league circles.

Frank Snyder Will Play With St. Paul In A. A.

ST. PAUL, March 6. (AP)—Frank Snyder, a major league catcher for 16 years and manager of the Fort Worth team, Texas League champions, in 1930 today accepted terms to play with the St. Paul American Association baseball club.

Loss Of $30,000 Reported On Carnera-Maloney Battle In Miami Thursday Night; Last On Winter Program

(By The Associated Press)

MIAMI, Fla., March 6. — As a result of the shrinkage of ringside estimates today, sponsors of the battle of the cracked rib between Primo Carnera and Jimmy Maloney faced a loss of $30,000 or more on the last of Miami's winter fistic ventures.

This was based on the financial report showing gross gate receipts of $53,115.89, including the government tax, and net figures of only $43,136.89, although Promoter Frank J. Bruen declined to make any statement other than he experienced "some loss." Bruen had figured he would need between $75,000 and $100,000 to break even.

Hadfield, Orcutt Meet In Florida Net Finals Today

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., — Miss Frances Hadfield, Milwaukee, four times winner of the Wisconsin state championship and Miss Maureen Orcutt, Englewood, N. J., ranked as one of America's "big four" in women's golf, will meet in the finals of the Florida east coast championship tomorrow.

Miss Hadfield who eliminated the medalist, Helen Hicks of Hewlett, L. I., yesterday, battled her way through the semi-finals today by defeating Mrs. H. D. Sterrett, of Hutchinson, Kas., one up.

In the other semi-final match, Miss Orcutt won a 4 and 3 victory over Mrs. Stewart Hanley, Detroit, who beat Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, in yesterday's quarter-finals.

Jumping Joe Savoldi Is Reinstated With Warning

LOS ANGELES, March 6. (AP)—"Jumping" Joe Savoldi, former Notre Dame football star, was back in good standing in California wrestling circles today but with a warning.

"You have had two matches and put two men in the hospital," the Rev. Leslie Kelley, San Francisco member of the state athletic commission told him. "You might kill a man if you continue your rough football tactics."

Savoldi promised he would be more gentle. He had been given a 30 day suspension following his bout with Howard Cantonwine, whom he butted out of the ring and into a hospital at San Francisco.

For Ginger's Sake

Ginger's breezy freedom, the loose rein allowed her, her almost unlimited independence. These were common property of the girls of her age and class in Red Thrush, but Benito was not interested in other girls.

Before he had been at Mill Rush two hours he was in full possession of the facts from the fatuous Ben and Jenky, facts which in every case justified his first impressions. Certainly Mrs. Tolliver was rich, richer than the First National Bank a great deal. She was even richer than the state debt. Everybody said she was a millionaire, and some said she was a millionaire twice over.

Certainly Ginger Ella was the apple of her eye. Anybody could see how Mrs. Tolliver doted on her. It was common talk, and she did not deny it, that she had married the minister so she could share his daughter.

Yes, Miss Phil said herself that Ginger was to inherit every cent she had to her name. And then wouldn't the money fly!

Benito's mind worked slowly but inevitably. Lighting flashes of inspiration came to him, but the subsequent details were the fruit of laborious effort.

Inspiration told him instantly that Ginger must be kidnaped and held for ransom, that Mrs. Tolliver would gladly pay any sum for her release.

To get hold of Ginger, who was allowed to go wherever she wished without the slightest supervision, would be child's play. But like all great inspirational projects this was not without its complications.

The girl must be kidnaped, the money pocketed, and the entire episode closed, without the finger of suspicion having been directed to him. Ginger herself must remain in complete ignorance of her abductor. No easy matters these for the slow-working brain of a simple son of the soil.

It could be done, of course; all things were possible. Benito was somewhat of a philosopher in his small way, and he knew it could be done. Would, alas, that he were one of the master minds of which he read so fatuously in lurid detective stories, to whom details of crime, like its conception, were born of inspiration.

One of the most dangerous elements of the situation lay in the fact that he and his companions were marked characters, there being so few of their countrymen in that part of the country, and none of thier style and attainments. One of them could not fare forth upon even the most ordinary and innocent of errands without attracting the instant and friendly interest of every one he encountered.

This was a pleasant and flattering state of affairs when the errands were ordinary and innocent, but would be a fatal hindrance to the successful accomplishment of a project as sinister as that he contemplated. It meant that during her abduction Ginger must be concealed somewhere within the confines of Mill Rush.

Benito sighed. He realized, of course, that the simplest and safest way out for him lay in lowering her gently into the mud at the bottom of the river, once and for all. But Benito was at heart a kind man, and he could not bring himself to accept so heartless an alternative except as a last extremity.

Ginger was a nice, bright, upstanding girl. Benito liked her. Both by temperament and by inclination he was hotly opposed to needless cruelty and bloodshed. His preference in business dealings lay always along the route of kind consideration.

Getting the money from Mrs. Tolliver, who had more than she needed and would never miss it, was all in the course of a day's work. The forcible retention of Ginger against her will was to be regretted, but a necessary means to the desired end. But at murder, Benito frankly balked—except, of course, in case of direst necessity.

Ever since the morning of his arrival at Red Thrush, behind the twinkling black eyes of Benito, beneath his quick outbursts of jovial laughter and his ready lapse into rollicking song, his mind had worked without ceasing in the effort to untangle the knots in the problem he had to solve.

"Benito," Ginger called cheerily, "come quick and build a new bird nest. There's a humming bird down in the hineysuckle."

Benito shook his great head sadly. "Humming-birds don't nest in boxes, Miss Ginger," he said regretfully, "They make their love on the wing."

"Come easy, go easy, eh," suggested Bard lightly.

"But I think," said Beito more cheerfully, "I think I'm going to get birds in my box upstairs by the window. I had robins up there this morning looking it over."

"Robins!" ejaculated Bard. "Why, robins are pests. They'll sing you out of your morning sleep."

"I like robins," said Benito smugly. "If they sing me out of bed mornings, I'll sing them back to sleep again."

"And Benito's the boy that can do it," said Bard, laughing.

"Bard," whispered Ginger, "we must do something to attract all the bird in the country. As long as we can keep birds in his houses Benito will never leave us."

* * *

Having provided in every way possible against every conceivable contingency, Ginger was able to anticipate the coming of Speed Roney and his sister with equanimity if not with unmitigated pleasure. That they postponed their coming for a week also helped in her arrangements, and gave her ample time to compose her mind to the situation.

GRANTS AN AUDIENCE

VATICAN CITY, March 6. (AP)—Pope Pius today granted an audience to the Argentine ambassador. The meeting was regarded as interesting from a political standpoint, indicating that with the signing of the Lateran treaty the old rule that ambassadors to Italy should not be permitted to communicate with the Vatican had broken down.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, March 6. (AP)—Trading was rather quiet again in the cotton market today and the price trend was moderately downward during the greater part of the session. Much lower cables than due and a bearish acreage report by a private authority were responsible for the decline during the morning which carried prices down 8 to 9 points below the previous close.

Secretary Hester's weekly statistics issued around noon were considered rather favorable, particularly mill takings, and prices rallied 3 to 4 points from the lows and most of this gain was maintained during the early afternoon. The private report on acreage referred to, made the reduction only 5.5 per cent. Late, the market became active on selling induced by weakness in the New York stock market and prices made new lows 12 points under the early highs and closed virtually at the bottom, being called barely steady, the general market showing net losses for the day of 16 to 17 points.

tional chairman's discussion of those issues at yesterday's stormy meeting showed he was "utterly out of sympathy with the aims and aspirations of the democratic party."

The economic views of Raskob also were criticized by Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, who said he thought it would be impossible for the party to accept them "particularly on trusts and monopolies."

Other Views Aired

"I also disagree with his views on the power problem," he added.

Senator Smith of South Carolina insisted the party should avoid "these controversial things and unite on the issues that are patent to all—the economic distress of the country in every department of life'

Agreement with Raskob's prohibition suggestion was voiced by Senator Walsh of Massachusetts. He contended, however, it was contrary to custom for the national committee to discuss issues.

"Home rule plan" as "wet" and urged "Home rule plan" as "wes" and urged the democratic party to devote isself to "the overthrow of rapacity, monopoly and greed."

Funeral Services To Be Held Saturday For Hardy Child

Eternal Conflict Between Bulls And Bears Waxes Hot; Lower Prices Seen

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, March 6. (AP)—The eternal conflict between the bulls and the bears waxed warm in today's stock market, but the party working for lower prices had the heavier artillery and final quotations averaged 3 points lower in a turnover of 3,900,000 shares.

The bears shot big holes in a new specialties, including Auburn Auto. They also peppered the oils, steels and utilities. The latter group, which this week has held the fort for the cause of the bull pools, ran up strongly during the morning, only to react with greater speed when the decline became general. Rails and amusements softened.

Price cutting by the oil industry loosened holdings of the petroleum stocks. Standard of New Jersey tumbled more than 3 points to the new 1931 low of 45 1-8, although the decline was reduced by late covering which in general benefited the entire list. Texas Corp., Mexican Seaboard, Standard of California, and Sinclair also appeared in volume, dropping a point or more net.

The weekly business statistics and surveys of trade were more favorable than otherwise and bank clearings reached the largest total for any week since the first of the year.

Livestock

MIDDLEWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, March 6. (AP)—(U. S. Dept. Agr.:—Moderate activity developed in hog trade today with prices unevenly steady—20 higher. Weight averages, 250 pounds and up were in fairly broad demand and took the big end of the advance. The top of 7.75 was paid at St. Louise. Offerings were around 57,500.

Fat lambs in Chicago sold on a steady to slightly higher basis but at several of the river markets trade was slow at steady-25 lower rates. Matured killing classes of sheep were unchanged. Bulk lambs 84 lbs and down, in Chicago cleared from 8.50-8.85 with one strictly choice load topping at 9.00. The supply numbered around 51,700.

Receipts of cattle were estimated at 9,600. A consignment of good yearling steers at Omaha brought 9.30 and in Chicago a load of 1029 lb. beeves landed at 8.50.

NEWS BRIEFS

As the outgrowth of an affray at Wolffarth, two men yesterday morning pleaded guilty to charges of fighting when arraigned before Justice of the Peace W. S. Clark. One was fined $1 and $12 in costs and the other $1 and $14.80 costs. No one was hurt seriously in the fray.

Directors of the Panhandle-South Plains Fair association yesterday morning inspected and accepted a new hog barn at the fair grounds. The structure is 83x130 and will be used for the first time during the Panhandle-South Plains Fat Calf, Pig and Meat Show here March 27 and 28.

Routine matters were discussed at a meeting of directors of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. It was a regular session of the directorate and no new developments were reported in chamber of commerce activities.

Charges were filed Friday against J. S. Dening, 35, for liquor possession resulting from a raid conducted on Dening's home in the 2100-block on Eighteenth street last Wednesday night by city officers.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Wesley Read, 2213 Main street, are the parents of a baby girl, born at the Lubbock sanitarium yesterday afternoon at 3:25 o'clock. The child weighed 8 pounds 2 ounces and was named Blanche Yvonne. Both mother and baby were reported doing nicely.

a point where the organization may be safely classified as a going concern. I sincerely believe the plan of operation to be sound and that the test of time will prove this to the satisfaction of all interested.

"While results may seem slow, it is not reasonable to expect that the condition which has been developing over generations, could be corrected in any brief period of time, particularly when you take into account the fact that the industry affected represents some six and one-half million individual producing units.

"Personally I have a greater confidence in the ultimate success in the program laid down by congress in the agricultural marketing act than when I undertook the work some 20 months ago and will cooperate in every way I may as a private citizen to bring this about."

Depression Is Over

The chairman said those opposing the board "are making a lot of noise but really represent a very small percentage of the American public."

Legge expressed belief "the greatest general depression on record" had reached the bottom and from now on improvement would be shown.

The new chairman of the board has had many years experience in cooperative marketing, the fundamental principle on which the farm board works.

He organized and was general manager for a number of years of the Burley Tobacco Cooperative association of Kentucky, his native state.

He has been a member of the farm board since its organization and has been active particularly in organizing cotton and tobacco cooperatives financed and directed by stabilization corporations under the direction of the farm board.

Four Hundred School Students Saved From Blazing Building

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 6. (AP)—Their two-story brick school on fire, four hundred grade school pupils were led to safety today at Harrah, 20 miles east of here, under the direction of W. C. Jenkins, principal.

Two hundred from the upper floor slid to safety down a fire chute while Jenkins stood at the head and cautioned them to go carefully, one at a time. The others were marched out by teachers.

the younger people would go to dance.

"We danced so well together," he elaborated, "we seemed to be made for each other."

The life of Arlene touched that of Kirkland first when she was 15 and he 17.

Asked For Dance

"I saw her leaning against a radiator," he said. "She appealed to me, and I asked her for a dance, and she said 'sure.' She would not give me a date because her father wanted her to wait until she was older."

Illustrating with hands a football game in which he was a participant and Arlene a witness, Kirkland said:

"Suddenly a big fellow broke through the line and came at me. I tackled him: we went down, both hurt. Arlene watched them carry me away. A few days later 'Babe' and Marjorie (a girl friend) visited me. We laughed and talked as young folks will do. As the girls left, Marjorie said 'go ahead, Babe, give Virgil what you have for him.' And she leaned over and kissed me. I was stunned, and didn't know what to do."

Kirkland's appearance attracted an excited crowd of spectators that laughed at certain testimony, bringing a threat from Judge Grant Crumpacker to clear the court room.

stronger with the people today than at any time since his election. Reporting on his activities in Washington recently in behalf of relief for the oil industry, he said the president favored oil legislation sought by Texas oil men.

Seek Vets Favor

Parker Lucas, attorney of Dallas, took issue with certain remarks of Mr. Bullington in reference to the state organization's support of the president's veto of the veterans bonus measure.

Lucas said ex-service men, as a bloc, would be supreme in politics within the next decade and the organization should strengthen itself with them.

Dissension at the meeting in Washington of the national democratic executive committee was regarded by republican leaders as strengthening their cause in 1932. Mr. Creager said republicanism would have little serious opposition "as long as Smith and Raskob remain in control of the democratic party."

Twenty-seven of the 31 committee members were present or represented by proxies.

CALLED TO MEET

CORSICANA, March 6. (AP)—The executive committee of the Texas centennial celebration today was called to meet in Austin next Friday. Lowry Martin of Corsicana, secretary, issued the call as directed by Jesse Jones of Houston, president. It was expected that preliminary plans for a celebration in 1936 would be perfected at the meeting.

Sam Sparks of Austin is treasurer of the organization.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, March 6. (AP)—Rather larger offerings on the cash grain market today found a fair demand. Estimated receipts included: wheat 23 cars; corn 13; oats 2; sorghums 3.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis car lots delivered Texas common points, freight paid: wheat: No. 1 hard of any protein 71 1-2, 80; corn, No. 2 mixed 69 1-2, 70 1-2; No. 3 white 73 1-2, 74 1-2; No. 3 yellow 73-73; oats No. 3 red 43, 43 1-2; No. 3 white delivered group one points 43 1-2, 44.

Sorghums No. 2 milo per hundred pounds 1.30-1.32; No. 3 kaffir 1.18-1.20; cane seed bulk country run red top per 100 lbs. according to type, origin, germination and clean-out 2.60-2.80.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 6. (AP)—Improved prospects for domestic winter crops led to increased selling today by houses with connections southwest, and dragged down both wheat and corn. Bearish weather conditions on wheat were the opposite on corn, but in the face of wheat setbacks, corn failed to maintain independent strength. Smallness of export clearances of North American wheat and big primary receipts in this country and Canada tended to stimulate selling.

Wheat closed irregular at 5-8 cents decline to 1-8 advance, corn 3-8 off to 1-4 up, oats a shade to 1-4 higher, and provisions showing 10-20 cents gain.

At first, the dominant factor was fear that storms would curtail seriously the movement of corn. Diminished receipts of corn in Chicago and at other primary centers were reported, and a new estimated of farm reserve stocks of corn, 725,000,000 bushels compared with 730,000,000 a year ago, acted also as a bullish influence. However, yesterday's corn price upturns appeared to have largely exhausted ardor to buy, and in the last part of the day wheat instead of corn took leadership.

Corn at one time advanced well above yesterday's close, but in the last hour lagged with wheat. Oats were upheld by enlarged shipping demand and by extreme smallness of receipts.

Auto Show

Rogers Buick company.

Chevrolet Coupe Popular

The new Chevrolet six is featured by a longer wheel base, larger body size, and more impressive appearance. Especially is the Chevrolet sport convertible coupe drawing attention at the auto show. It has a spacious rumble seat, chrome plated cowl lamps, distinctive radiator drille, rakish top and attractive leather upholstering.

The Chevrolet radiator is higher and more pleasing in coutour. All sport models are equipped with a chrome-plated grille across the front.

Another Chevrolet feature is the internal-expanding four-wheel brakes which are fully enclosed. The new worm-and-sector steering gear, with its 12 to 1 ratio, permits easy turning, parking and steering. Chevrolet also is offering low prices on all 1931 models.

Chevrolets are displayed by Kuykendall Motor company.

Chrysler Striking

In the Chrysler corner, two new models appear the favorites of that make by the auto show public. They are the Imperial 80 custom built sedan and the new six-cylinder 70 sport roadster.

Low, graceful lines characterize the Chrysler models. The new V-type radiators on all models are symbolic of grace and speed. Although the new models are more low-swung than previously the same clearance is given.

The Imperial 80 sedan, which delivers for $3,250, has 125 horsepower and 145 inch wheel base. The standard eights have 90 horse-power and the 70 has seventy horse-power. The 70 roadster delivers for $1,175.

The Chryslers are shown by the Hub Motor company.

Increased Dodge Power

Increased speed, power and performance are offered in the beautiful new Dodge eights on display by Royalty Motor company.

The new double-drop type frame—the strongest that Dodge has ever built—has reduced the body height four inches without sacrifice of head room or road clearance.

Internal hydraulic brakes and Dodge momo-piece steel bodies are features of the 1931 Dodge. The low-swung, flowing lines offer pleasing harmony.

The balanced eight-cylinder engine develops 84 brake horse-power. The four-point rubber engine mountings assure smooth performance.

Lowest And Highest

Lubbock Auto Company's offerings at the show include the lowest and highest priced automobiles on the floor. With the arrival early yesterday morning of a new seven-passenger Lincoln sedan, taken from its display booth of the Fort Worth Stock Show automobile department especially for the Lubbock exposition, the most luxurious car on the floor took its prominent place in the midst of the new Fords.

The new Lincoln features the new free-wheeling transmission and a superb appearing body. Mounted on a 145-inch wheelbase chassis, the new body is graceful and fleet of line. The 120-horse-power motor is 33 per cent more powerful than in any previous Lincoln. The front end of the chassis is completely shielded while a rear end apron conceals the gas tank. Instead of an exterior sun visor, inside adjustible visors fitted with non-shatterable neutral light glass are provided, as are two individual windshield wipers.

Ford Draws Attention

Drawing special attention in the Ford line is the new Ford Victoria, one of the most modern body types. It is a deluxe car of unusual appeal. It is distinguished by its slanting windshield and tan top. Both front seats fold forward and are adjustable. Again, as in the Lincoln, an exterior visor is missing, being replaced by adjustable shades that fit against the top of the car inside when not in use.

Making its first appearance in Lubbock is the 1931 Oakland 8. There is only one on the floor, occupying space beside the Pontiacs, stock of Scoggin-Dickey Motor company. The new sedan, replete in color and body design, is attractive from its screened "V" radiator to the massive rear bumper, with low, sweeping body lines. New riding qualities have been achieved by rubber cushioning at more than 40 different points, including the new Inlox rubber spring shakle bushings. The rubber replacements also are noted in the Pontiac line.

Oakland Has Features

Oakland's syncro-mesh transmission makes gear shifting easy at any speed, up or down. Single-bar bumpers, five wire wheels, one-piece fenders, steel running boards, chrome-plated, in-built radiator screen, one-handle hood lifts, cross flow radiator and electro-plated pistons are added features of the new Oakland.

Oakland's features are embodied on a slightly lesser scale in the Pontiac line, four models of which appear on the floor. The standard coupe draws considerable attention. Low, graceful and of a rich maroon color the machine, with single bar bumpers and radiator grilles, makes an attractive spot.

The Lubbock dealers and their displays follow:

Hub Jones Company: Chrysler 6 deluxe sport roadster; Chrysler standard 6 sedan; Chrysler standard 8 sedan; custom built Chrysler Imperial 80.

Royalty Motor Company: Dodge 8 special sedan; Dodge 6 sedan; Plymouth sedan; Dodge Bros. truck; Dodge 8 coupe.

Scoggin-Dickey Company: Oakland custom built sedan; Pontiac coupe; Pontiac 2-door sedan; Pontiac custom sedan; Pontiac standard sedan.

Ratliff-Rogers: Buick de luxe coupe; Buick de luxe sedan; Buick plain 4-door sedan; Buick plain 4-door sedan with trunk; Buick sport coupe with rumble seat.

Lubbock Auto Company: Ford Victoria coupe; Ford 4-door sedan; Ford standard coupe; five-passenger Lincoln sedan; seven passenger Lincoln sedan.

Kuykendall Chevrolet Company: Standard coupe; Chevrolet coach; sport coupe; four-door sedan; special custom built sedan.

Gas Contract

7 cents for consumers using as much at 10 million feet. Mayor Ernest Thompson said at the conclusion of the meeting that the rates would give Amarillo the cheapest gas of any city in the world.

Present rates charged by the Prairie are from 38 cents to domestic users to 10 cents to large consumers. The city recently requested a reduction from the Prairie, which was refused.

The six-inch pipeline through which the Huber company propose to transport fuel into Amarillo has a capacity of six million feet. It agrees to build a ten-inch line when the demand justifies.

The gas will be piped 40 miles.

Texas Men Are Being Sought

Two Communist Organizers In Dallas Kidnaped By A Group Of Armed Men; Third Man Is Freed By Group

DALLAS, March 6. (AP) — C. J. Coder and Lewis Hurst, communist organizers, and their attorney, George Clifton Edwards, were kidnaped last night by a group of armed men when the former two were released from jail here. Edwards was freed later. Reports that Coder and Hurst had been flogged could not be verified today.

Edwards said the released prisoners were placed in one automobile and he in another. His captors, after warning him to cease aiding the communists, let him out of the car unharmed on a road south of Dallas.

Coder and Hurst today had not returned to the place where they had been rooming. Police officers said they had no information that the men had been kidnapped or beaten. The two recently had been in several difficulties with city authorities.

Tried On Charge

Edwards defended Hurst when the latter was tried on a vagrancy charge in police court recently. The attorney was fined $95 for contempt during the trial.

He said that seven armed men were waiting in front of the city hall when he walked out with Coder and Hurst. He had obtained their release on an order from Chief Claude Trammell. He said he telephoned for an automobile and went home when his abductors freed him.

Several men today were waiting for Coder and Hurst to return to their lodgings. They said they had been informed that the two had been flogged but were unable to verify the report.

ACCEPTANCES RECEIVED

TEXARKANA, Ark., March 6. (AP)—Definite acceptances from six states had been received today as arrangements were being completed for the national oil relief conference called by Governor W. H. Murray of Oklahoma to be held here Monday. Two refusals had been received and another state had not been heard from.

Banker Speaks To Farmers At Spur

(Special To The Avalanche)

SPUR, March 6.—More than 200 farmers met here Friday night to hear A. K. Short of the Federal Land bank, Houston, discuss terracing from the standpoint of banking.

M. R. Bentley, farm engineer of Texas A. and M. college extension service, talked on the result of terracing, presenting slides on a screen to demonstrate the value of terracing in holding moisture and in preventing washing.

M. B. Oates, agricultural agent of the Fort Worth and Denver City railway made arrangements and presided at the meeting, which was sponsored by the Federal Land bank of Houston, Fort Worth and Denver and the Spur Chamber of Commerce.

An all-day demonstration of the construction of terraces was scheduled by the same parties for Saturday at the Spur experiment station.

Mercury Drops

grees was predicted for the capital city Friday night.

Pampa Snow Ceases

Light snowfall at Pampa ceased at noon and at 8 p. m. the temperature was 23 degrees, with a strong north wind blowing. Farther south in west Texas, Lubbock had a high temperature of 29 for the day and a minimum of 26, while at San Angelo the high was 42 and the low 36 degrees. Freezing weather was forecast for Friday night.

The mercury dropped to 36 at Fort Worth during the day but climbed four degrees in late afternoon. A 12-mile northwest wind was blowing and .24 of an inch of rain had fallen.

Lubbock Low On Friday Was 26

With the weather forecast set toward fair and warmer for Saturday, the temperature here Friday night continued about the freezing point.

At nightfall, press dispatches from Amarillo reported skies were clearing, and snow, which had fallen throughout the morning, was melting.

The minimum temperature for Lubbock, as recorded by the state experiment station here, according to Don L. Jones, superintendent, was 26 degrees. Freezing was reported Friday night.

The present "norther" struck Lubbock Thursday night, when within a few hours the mercury skidded from a maximum temperature of 59 degrees to freezing. Friday was characterized by threatening skies, flurries of snow and a strong north wind.

Skies had cleared over the South Plains Friday night, though freezing temperatures continued.

SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

HENDERSON, March 6. (AP)—R. L. Lynn, 29, Joinerville garage owner, was shot and seriously wounded last night when he went to a junk yard here to buy automobile parts. Jake Tapper, junk dealer, told officers he had been having trouble with tramps and called a warning before he fired. Lynn exonerated Tapper and no charges were filed.

'Buy At Home' Stressed Here

Hundred And Fifty Guests At Banquet Given By Lubbock Auto Parts Company Friday Night; Davis Speaks

"Buy at home" was the general theme at a banquet given by the Lubbock Auto Parts company at the Lubbock hotel Friday night. Some 150 guests, representing the whole South Plains area, were present.

The Lubbock Auto Parts company was described as embodying the spirit of West Texas. Starting as a dealer in second-hand car parts, Charles Smith, owner, has developed the company until it represents the largest wholesale auto parts house in this section of the state.

Representatives of six manufacturers and auto parts brokers were at the banquet. They were Jack Rule and A. W. Shattuch of the Piston Ring Company; C. H. Nugent, Dubley Ellis and E. B. Oglesly of the Russell Manufacturing company, and Jim Durham of the Huber Sierk, auto parts brokers of Dallas.

A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the out-of-town guests. In his address Mr. Davis described the benefits that would be derived by South Plain's people if they bought their products at home.

Mr. Davis told of the effort being made to further colonize this section. "For," he said, "the backbone of prosperity in this territory directly depends on agriculture. Last year more than 1,500 farmers settled in this county alone."

With the increase of population, Lubbock will become even more important as a jobbing center, Mr. Davis said. He complimented the strides made by the Auto Parts company under the leadership of Charles Smith.

As a part of the entertainment at the banquet a picture show was given demonstrating the methods of auto parts manufacturing.

Murray Looks To Oil Meeting For Solution Of All Problems

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 6. (AP)—Governor W. H. Murray is looking to his Texarkana oil conference next Monday to aid in solving the jumbled problems of price and production vexing the petroleum industry.

In the hope that out of the conference will come partial solution at least, Governor Murray has requested that all state oil action be withheld pending the meeting.

His action came on the heels of an announced increase in allowable production of the Oklahoma City field, which was promptly delayed at his request.

Cleanup Will Be Continued

Strong North Wind And Snow Flurries Friday Caused A Delay In Work; Mexicans, Negroes To Start

Lowering temperatures, a strong north wind and snow flurries Friday afternoon caused the Clean Up campaign to halt its work after only a day and a half of actual operation.

Men working were paid for the half a day's labor in chamber of commerce checks.

Early Friday morning several men asked to be relieved, Billy Clark general foreman of the campaign said. These men had been sick and were still too weak to endure the freezing wind. Work will continue Saturday morning, weather permitting, Mr. Clark stated.

Marks Second Delay

This is the second check that the Clean Up campaign has received since its inauguration. Slated to begin its activities last Monday, delay was forced by the sodden condition of the ground until Thursday morning.

The Lubbock Clean Up campaign was started by the chamber of commerce and the board of city development in an effort to beautify the city and give employment to the city's needy. During the day and a half of employment, some 289 men have been on the city's payroll. This type of relief is expected to last from two to four weeks. The men are paid $2 a day.

Work Starts Today

Registration of the negroes and Mexicans to clean the lots in their respective districts got underway Friday, and these groups will begin work Saturday morning, weather permitting.

Two white men, J. E. Walker and W. R. Dean, have been chosen as foremen to supervise work of the negroes, each to use a crew of ten men. Plans are to use 20 men each in the negro and Mexican districts.

Registration of negroes is being conducted by C. H. Hamilton, secretary of the Colored Relief association, in the negro section.

Mrs. George Duval, teacher of the Mexican school, will be in charge of Mexican registration.

Drouth Aid Is To Be Offered

Farmers In New York Counties Will Come To Aid Of Those In Other States; Many Will Receive Aid

ITHACA, N. Y., March 6. (AP) — Farmers in 19 New York state counties today are coming to the aid of drouth sufferers in Georgia, Arkansas, West Virginia and Louisiana, according to the state college of agriculture, by furnishing one to three freight carloads of produce from each county.

Nearly 3,000 farmers have solicited farm bureau members by telephone and are trucking and loading the produce, L. R. Simons, state leader of county agents at Cornell university, said.

The food will be distributed through farmers' organizations in the affected states. Potatoes, apples, cabbage, carrots, beets and onions have been collected thus far, and Seneca county offered a carload of buckwheat.

BILL IS INTRODUCED

AUSTIN, March 6. (AP)—A bill has been introduced in the house to give county commissioners courts of every county the right to employ, discharge and fix salaries of county employes whose compensation is paid out of the county general fund. The bill was introduced by Rep. Savage of Dallas. Savage said commissioners courts were charged with the management of the county funds and should have authority to handle all disbursements from the fund.

Child Is Still Seeking A Home

Does anyone want a 12-year old girl, with light brown hair and brown eyes?

Mrs. Pete Dumias, whose husband owns the Chile King cafe, believes she does.

The child, Alice Lee Coker, is the only one of her 10 brothers and sisters that has not been placed permanently with responsible families since her mother's death last summer. Her father is living, but he has been virtually without employment for nearly a year.

The Daily Journal, Friday afternoon, told of Alice Lee's plight and Mrs. Dumias responded.

If you, too, would like to meet the little brown-eyed girl, the Avalanche suggests that you communicate with Mrs. W. L. Hester of 2211 Seventh street. Mrs. Hester's telephone number is 1212-M.

Indictments Are Returned

Grand Jury Reports Thirty-Eight Indictments In Connection With Looting Of A New York Bank

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., March 6. (AP)—Thirty-eight sealed indictments were returned today by a Broome county grand jury which has been investigating the two million dollar looting of the state bank of Binghamton and the flight of its president, Andrew J. Horvatt.

Horvatt, who has been a fugitive since December 15 when his bank was taken over by the state banking department, was indicted by a federal grand jury for conspiracy to violate the liquor law, following the seizure of large quanties of liquor on the property behind the bank after his flight.

Three thousand depositors, including many Catholic churches, hospitals and charitable institutions, lost heavily in the crash of the Horvatt bank, which, according to official statements, had been looted systematically for years.

DIVORCE LAW APPROVED

CARSON CITY, Nev., March 6. (AP)—By unanimous vote the lower house of the Nevada legislature today passed the six weeks divorce law bill which would provide that applicants for a divorce could file their complaint and secure a decree after residing in Nevada for six weeks.

The bill now goes to the senate where it is expected to pass.

Five Officers Are Appointed

Announcement Made Friday By Secretary Hurley Of Vacancies In Army Posts; Take Effect At Once

WASHINGTON, March 6. (AP)—Secretary Hurley announced today the appointment of five general officers to fill vacancies in the army.

Two brigadiers and a colonel were promoted to the rank of major general and two colonels were appointed brigadier generals.

Colonel Blanton Winship of Macon, Georgia, was appointed judge advocate general of the army with the rank of major general, replacing Major General E. A. Kreger, who retired recently for physical disability.

Brigadier General Albert J. Bowley of Westminister, California, was made a major general on the general staff in place of the late Major General George L. Irwin.

Brigadier General Robert E. Callan of Baltimore, Maryland, was made a major general and general staff officer ranking from April 1 to replace Major General Charles P. Summerall, former chief of staff who retires March 31.

Colonel John F. Madden of Sacramento, California, will take the rank of brigadier general to be vacated by General Bowley. Colonel Howard L. Laubach, of Allentown, Pennsylvania, now in command of the New York general depot, will take the brigadier generalship to be vacated through the promotion of General Callan.

FACING DEFICIT

PARIS, March 6. (AP)—The French budget shows a deficit of 380,000,000 francs (about $15,200,000) the minister of the budget told the chamber finance committee today, principally because the last parliament voted an 800,000,000-franc soldiers' bonus.

SUICIDE? MURDER? MIRACLE?

PARALYZED from that horrible accident! Never to walk again—I still burned with love for Olga—my sweet, young wife. And yet I was unable to appease that glow of hope in her eyes—hope that blazed with desire—the day she met Del Raignon—unscrupulous matinee idol.

Helpless, I watched him play on her loving, innocent nature—biding his time till Olga no longer could resist him. How I suffered—prayed for her—raged with jealousy—and dropped to the drugs of despair.

That night—my revolver. "Goodbye, angel-heart," I whispered and—THEN! Out on the lawn—I saw Raignon—take her—my wife—in his arms. "I can't let her live in that disgrace," I cried. Slowly I raised my revolver—carefully I took aim—and . . .

What did John do? In that awful climax, did he kill Olga to save her from disgrace with Raignon? Or did he murder that cad—an act which would blacken him forever in the eyes of his wife—of society—of God?

What almighty miracle could have come to solve this pitiful tangle of helpless human destinies? You must read for yourself BECAUSE I LOVED MY WIFE—the true, heart-rending story of a man who wheeled his way through hell in an invalid's chair—and what he finally found at the very brink of oblivion.

Has Hunted Killers For Years; Now A Wedding Lays "Two Guns" Hart Out

SPOKANE, March 6. (AP) — "Two Guns" Hart, picturesque chief of Indian reservation police, who dragged more than 20 fighting murderers to justice without receiving a scratch, went to see a "Walkathon Wedding" last night and his leg was broken by the mob struggling to see the show.

"This is the toughest break I've had in fifteen years," Hart said in a hospital today. "I have chased Indian killers and white outlaws through forests and reservations and have dragged 'tough eggs' from saloons — unharmed — and now a wedding lays me out.

Police said a fight started by three drunken men caused Hart's discomfiture. There was a young riot as customers flocked to see E. D. Angus and Gladys Stone marry on the contest floor. Police interfered. One man attacked an officer, Hart sprang to the rescue. Fists flew, some one tripped him, and the two gun man sprawled with a cracked limb.

Last year Hart, who swings a gun in either hand, and presses the part of a wild west fiction hero, brought in three Indian killers, tracking one of them for days through heavy timber, although the Indian, Charles Cherrapkin, was fully armed.

"Two Guns" covers a "beat" of more than 200 square miles, and has supervision over more than 800 Indians on the Kootenai, Coeur D'Alene and Kalispell reservations. Three Indian policemen are under him.
