Dan Quigley and Jack Snider were re-elected to the board of directors of Olton Grain Co-Op at their seventh annual stockholders meeting Saturday evening in the school cafeteria. Approximately 90 persons attended with 21 lucky persons receiving door prizes. Homemade ice cream was served following the business meeting.

Mustangs Picked By Magazine To Place Third

"Texas Football" has picked Olton to come in third in the District 3-AA season this year, placing Floydada at the top, followed by Littlefield, a newcomer to the district. Quoting from the publication, "Olton, runnerup last year at 5-3-1, hankers to move up on a legacy of 7 offensive and 7 defensive starters. QB Steve Stockdale has dandy receivers in Luis Rey, Alonzo Springer and Mickey Crowder, and guards Gary Durham and Johnny Arroyos, tackles Alfred Garcia and Luis Jimenez and center Jim Key are the stout line names."

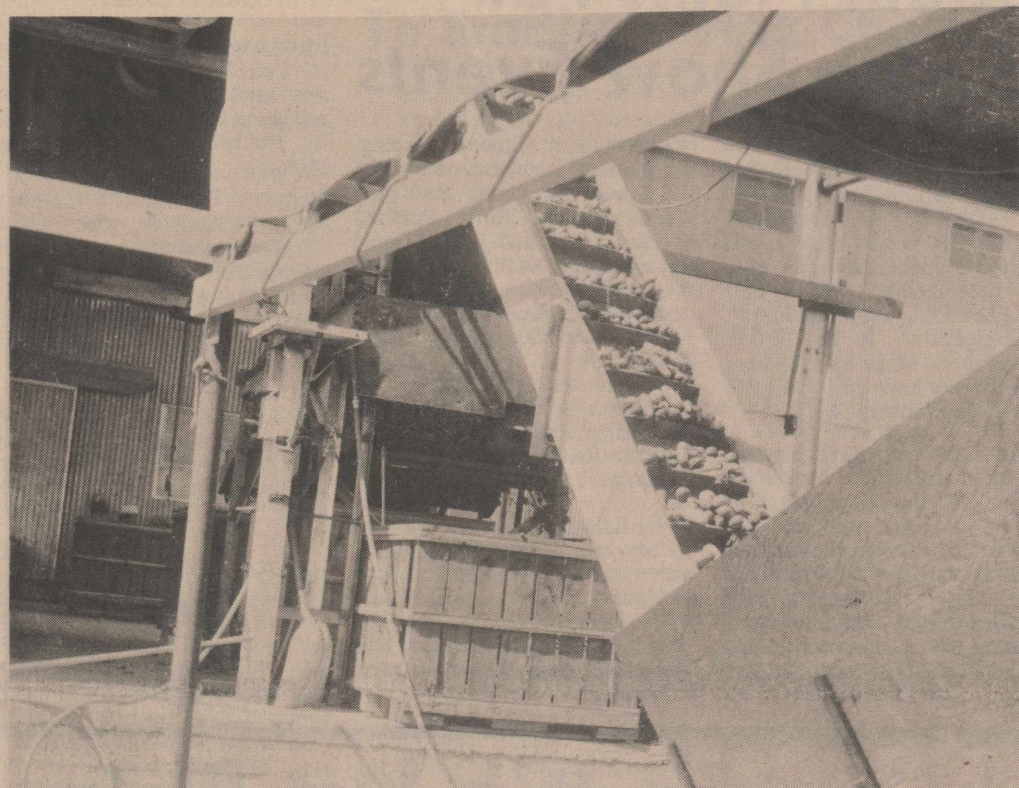

Dimmitt is fourth choice, followed by Lockney, Friona, Morton and Abernathy.

FROM THE FIELD --- These trucks loaded with sacks of cucumbers await their turn at the grading machine. About 500 acres of cukes are being harvested at the present time according to Jack Straw, who is processing the cucumbers. Another 250 acres will begin to be harvested this week.

INTO THE GRADING MACHINE---Climbing the conveyor belt are the cukes which will grade either number one, two or three. They are separated into different crates as to grade. Cucumbers are contracted by the acre and this year's yields are exceptional.

THEN TO THE TRUCKS --- Machines loading crates of pickles are shown here as the final step is taken at the Olton processing plant. There have been about 115 semi-truck loads of cucumbers shipped from Olton this year. Harvest on the older cucumber fields is about one-half through, Straw said.

Community Hospital Is Officially Closed

Olton Community Hospital closed its doors this week. The action was taken following the resignation of Dr. C. B. Johns, who has accepted a position in a new hospital in Mineola.

The clinic will remain open, according to Dr. O. H. Jones, who will remain here --- now as Olton's only doctor.

The hospital, opened in October of 1963, began its operation as a seven-bed facility, being expanded from a local clinic.

Dr. Jones and Dr. Johns were doctors in charge of the hospital at the time of the change over.

Dr. Jones stressed that the clinic will continue to be opened and meets medicare standards for emergency patients or "Part B" of medicare.

"We'll also take care of obstetrics and do some surgery here. However, the hospital will remain closed," Jones said.

Rigid medicare standards had made it impossible for the hospital to continue to receive medicare benefits earlier this month and due to this situation, Dr. C. B. Johns accepted a position in Mineola.

He gave the following statement to the Enterprise:

"To the citizens of the Olton Community:

After much study, thought, consideration and consultation with experts in the hospitalization field, we find it impossible to continue our fight to maintain our small hospital. Due to the increasing costs and demands of Medicare, we have been operating at a deficit. We feel that we can no longer function in this manner.

During each of the four years since the institution of Medicare, we have tried diligently to meet their ever increasing and impossible requirements.

I am moving to Mineola, Texas in the very near future. Dr. O. H. Jones will continue to maintain practice in the Community Clinic. He has the records and will provide medical care for you.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the people of the Olton community for your confidence, trust and support during the twelve years of my practice here. I will always remember you, not only as patients, but as friends.

You have a standing invitation to visit us in our new home.

Respectfully yours,
C. B. Johns, D.O.
Dr. Johns came to Olton in September of 1958 from Neosho, Mo., where he had an established practice.

Scholarship Available For Seed Process Study

A $400 scholarship has been made available for a student wishing to study seed processing technology at the Texas State Technical Institute this fall.

Funds for the scholarship, to be known as the W. R. "Bob" Poage Scholarship, were donated by the Texas Seedmen's Association and the Texas Certified Seed Producers. The two groups have set aside a total of $1,000 for scholarships this fall.

The program is offered only on the James Connally Campus of TSTI. Other campuses in the multi-campus technical school will not offer the course this fall.

Program chairman for seed processing technology, Robert Loe, said the money can be used for tuition, room, board and other student expenses. Professor Loe asked that incoming students interested in the program should contact him before August 15.

Seed processing is one of the several programs offered at the James Connally Campus of TSTI which are agriculturally oriented. The two-year seed processing technology course is designed to train technicians to operate and maintain equipment as well as supervise seed processing facilities. The program includes instruction in certification and labeling of seeds; harvesting storage; processing; seed testing and quality control; packaging and treating; marketing and delivery; and related support courses.

The course is open to both men and women. Academic excellence is desired, but more emphasis will be placed on interest in the field of study.

Professor Loe asked that interested students contact him at building 40-4 at the James Connally Campus in Waco, or call 817/799-2406.

Eight Olton Teachers Attend WTSU Workshop

Eight teachers from Olton were among the class room teachers converging on the campus of West Texas State University Sunday July 26 to take part in the seventh annual Living Textbook Workshop sponsored by the University and the Globe-News Publishing Company.

Attending from Olton were Mr. and Mrs. Wandie Hutson, Mince, Eva Walden, Jane Spain, Esther Graham, Linnie and Jewell Campbell, and Leabelle Hooper.

The seminar, which has been in the planning stage for months, tended to prove through four days of speeches, group discussions and panel discussions that "a newspaper is more than a newsboys projectile to hurl at front porches .. or a garbage wrapper for housewives," rather it is a Living Textbook.

Dr. Lee D. Williamson, superintendent of schools in Pueblo, Colo., speaking at the opening dinner said "A newspaper is a window through which we look at life. We must learn to interpret what we see through that window and you, as teachers, are the ones who must show the students how."

Aside from the four days crowded with conferences and demonstrations members of the workshop will be taken to Palo Duro Canyon to see the musical production "Texas", and to Amarillo for a tour of the Globe-News plant.

Series E, H Bonds Reach Highest Sales In 25 Years

During June there were new purchases of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds amounting to $2,131 according to Lamb County Chairman C. O. Stone. Sales for the first five months totaled $67,972 or 52 percent of the 1970 goal of $130,000.

Texas sales during the month were $13,658,647 compared to $11,549,134 during June of 1969, a rise of 18 percent. Year-to-date sales totaled $90,771,252 for 50 percent of the 1970 goal of $179,9 million. New purchases of E and H

Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares over the nation during June amounted to $465 million - a 25-year peak - while sales for the first six months of 1970 were $2,514 million, 1 percent above 1969. Exchanges of Series E for Series H Bonds amounting to $123 million were reported for the first six months which represents a 31 percent increase over exchanges through June 1969. As of June 30, 1970, $52.0 billion in United States Savings Bonds were outstanding, which is 23% of the privately held portion of the public debt.

Agronomists From India Visit Research Foundation

The national and international interest in the Texas High Plains area can be noted by leafing through the guest register at the High Plains Research Foundation.

Since the Foundation's establishment in 1956, hundreds of visitors from almost every country in the world have penned their name to the register while they were touring research facilities.

Latest in the long list of visitors included 28 crop insurance adjusters of the Hail Insurance Adjustment and Research Association and four agriculturalists from India.

The crop adjusters attended one of a series of workshops designed to better acquaint insurance adjusters with the problems in crop production. The workshop at the High Plains Research Foundation will become an annual meeting. Adjusters from Texas, New Mexico, Illinois, Colorado, California and Arizona attended the day long session which included a tour of the farm and afternoon discussions on crop production.

The visitors from India were in the area as guests of the Soil and Water Conservation Service. They included Dr. S. B. Hukkeri and Dr. R. K. Rajput, agronomists, Indian Grassland and Fodder Institute, Jhansi, India; Dr. C. V. Chari, associate agronomy professor, Hyderabad, India and C. B. Manna, agronomy research officer, Central Rice Institute, Cuttack, India.

The group was interested in soil and water management and spent a day touring the 315-acre Foundation farm.

Underground water, and what Texans on the High Plains are doing to conserve and more efficiently use this precious commodity, was the topic of a discussion by Jim Valliant to a group of 4-H students from the Tyler area. They were sponsored by Water, Inc., an organization devoted to importation of water to Texas, and were expected to make a report to their home area concerning this vast importation project.

Can We Afford Its Loss?

The typical "do-nothing" attitude that is becoming so common all over our nation seems to have "come home" to us here at Olton — maybe too late.

There has been a great deal of talk (and planning for many) on the possibility of getting a new hospital for our little community. But there was some opposition to the procedures which would have to be taken in order to get one so we sat by and did nothing.

Only while we were doing nothing, other communities were building hospitals and growing!

So now, while we do nothing, one of our doctors has gone to one of these new hospitals where he can fulfill his dreams as a doctor.

Dr. Basil Johns, friend and doctor to almost everyone in Olton, accepted a position with a hospital located in Mineola, and he and his family will be moving in the very near future.

Now with only one doctor, Dr. O. H. Jones, to treat a 6500 people trade area, the Olton Community Hospital has had to close its doors, because of the tremendous strain it would be for one doctor to try to keep it open.

Ridiculous and impossible-to-meet Medicare standards made it impractical to try to keep the hospital open, since it had been operating at a deficit for the past four years since Medicare was introduced.

Approximately 10 persons (either full time or part time workers) are now out of work because of the closing of the hospital. This alone has hurt the community's economic status.

How convenient will it be for you to visit your friends and loved ones if they are in a hospital at one of the neighboring towns? How costly?

In the near future, you will be asked whether you wish to support a hospital for Olton or if you prefer to pay your taxes in support of a county hospital — most likely located in Littlefield.

One hospital committee member is quoted as saying, "This could be the turning point of Olton's future in regards to the survival in the 70's."

We must support a hospital if Olton is to continue to grow.

Can you imagine attracting any type of industry into the area without hospital facilities? If you were to be moving into a new city, would you prefer that a hospital be located in that city?

When you hear the piercing sound of the siren, are you going to wonder if the patient has time to make it to Littlefield, Plainview or Lubbock?

Wouldn't it be a great comfort to know that in case of any emergency, that we had proper facilities to take care of such emergencies in Olton.

The spokesman for the hospital group also stated that "a young M. D. with a high scholastic and research background is possibly available at this time to the Olton community if prompt action is taken. I can't emphasize enough the need for this hospital for Olton's medical, business, farming, scholastic and religious standards as all of these areas will fall due to the lack of the influx of people if the hospital issue isn't resolved."

How about it Mr. and Mrs. Olton? Have you counted the cost of NOT supporting a hospital?

Rules For Coeds

BY SUE CANNON

The article below has appeared in numerous papers over the state recently and I thought you might like to compare rules of behavior with those on our campuses nowadays.

After reading this, can you imagine how "restricted or deprived" our college kids might feel if rules such as this were made for them today. They'd probably say their rights were being violated!

I say hurray for the good old days, when there was a little decency in people's behavior.

"Denton, Tex. (UPI) — Things just are not the way they used to be around college campuses.

The family of a recently deceased alumnae of North Texas Normal College (now North Texas State University) found a yellowed page among the woman's effects. It listed restrictions for coeds in 1918, which included the following do nots.

- Don't indulge in gossip, coarse language or slang.
- Don't chew gum in public.
- Don't permit any sort of personal liberties from young men.
- Don't loiter in front of young men's boarding houses or appear to seek the society of young men on the streets or in business houses.

BROTHER IMPROVING

Mrs. G. J. Fincher's brother, Bill Mott, underwent surgery at Salt Lake City Tuesday of last week. He is recuperating satisfactorily.

- Don't sit in the dark with a young man.
- Don't receive attentions from young men not properly introduced and vouched for.
- Don't walk in out-of-the-way places or go on picnics or automobile rides unchaperoned.
- Don't wear negligee costumes on the street or to go downtown in middy blouses or bareheaded.
- Don't injure your health by failure to wear such clothing as will protect you against the weather.
- Don't make yourself conspicuous by the use of too much paint and powder or by wearing clothes and jewelry too elaborate for the schoolroom."

Nudity All Right In Its Place

Maybe the time has come for me to declare forthrightly that I am in favor of nudity. It's true. I sincerely believe that in our present-day society there is a definite place for complete nudity.

And, while we are on the subject, I want to say, also, that there is a great deal of misunderstanding about sex.

Many people have the mistaken notion that sex is sinful. They think that the Bible says so. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

On the other hand, some are possessed with the false notion that the cure for sexual problems in our society is in education about the physical aspects of sex. This is a grave misconception.

Others have the impression that a good way to make themselves wealthy and famous is to cheapen and degrade sex—to discard all previously accepted moral standards.

There is a place for nudity—in the shower or the bedroom. There is a place for full sexual expression—in private with one's marriage partner.

Is It Too Late?

But when people insist on showing themselves naked on the stage, in front of an audience—or in a motion picture—they are saying something about themselves.

And when men and women behave like beasts—before an audience or a motion picture camera—they have only themselves to blame if some of us conclude that they have resigned from the ranks of civilized people.

Pornography in print has become so common that many are beginning to believe that it is too late to hold back the tide of filth and indecency.

However, there is a judge in the Boston Municipal Court who deserves our respect—Chief Justice Elijah Adlow.

In sentencing a defendant for selling a magazine judged to be pornographic, Justice Adlow said, "I refuse to live by rules made by men who have lost their heads by being elevated too high."

Will our nation continue to allow the destroyers of morals to do their dirty work with no effective hindrance?

Will we suffer the fate of other civilizations which perished because of moral decay?

A Course of Action

"But what can I do?" you may ask.

Here's a suggestion. If you've been buying your groceries and other household supplies at stores which also sell filthy literature, why don't you quit buying there and tell the manager why?

Some stores have quit selling filthy magazines and books. These merchants deserve our support, just as much as the others deserve our contempt.

If you've been going to a theater that shows indecent pictures, why don't you tell the manager that you won't be back till the policy is changed?

Whatever we take into our minds helps to shape our characters. That's why it is important for us to feed ourselves, mentally and spiritually, on the right diet.

The Apostle Paul advised his friends in Philippi: "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure . . . think on these things."

It's still good advice.

Concentrated Effort Made To Eradicate Hog Cholera

Texas swine producers, the Texas Animal Health Commission and the United States Department of Agriculture are cooperating in a concentrated effort to completely eradicate hog cholera. This state program parallels a national eradication program designed to completely eliminate this dreaded swine disease from the boundaries of the United States by 1972. Texas is currently in Phase 3 of a 4 Phase Eradication Program. The purpose of this phase is to eliminate those few infected and exposed herds that remain to threaten the eradication program and to prevent the spread of hog cholera virus from infected areas, according to Buddy C. Logsdon, County Agricultural Agent, Lamb County.

Moving infected and exposed pigs leads to the spread of this disease from farm to farm. To eliminate this method of spreading hog cholera, quarantines are put on areas where hog cholera occurred. To stop movements, while State and Federal Veterinary Officials eliminate infected herds, Federal quarantines restrict movement of hogs and pork products across state lines from infected areas. However, slaughter hogs from the quarantined areas can be moved across state lines if they are inspected on the farm by a Federal, State, or an accredited Veterinarian and are shipped for slaughter. Such slaughter hogs must be accompanied by a special certificate authorizing movement from a quarantined area. Hogs shipped without this certificate are subject to seizure. Federal quarantines are lifted just as soon as the threat of the disease has been eliminated. Generally speaking, State quarantines which quarantine only the premises are lifted at about the same time. Cooperation of swine producers with Federal and State Veterinarians often shortens the length of the quarantine.

The eradication of hog cholera can not be accomplished without the cooperation and help of swine producers. Producers can help by promptly reporting suspicious outbreaks of hog cholera to their Veterinarian or County Agent at once. Owners of herds in which hog cholera is diagnosed will be paid for their losses from State and Federal Indemnity Funds. Indemnities can not be paid for hogs that die before the first visit of a State and Federal Veterinarian.

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

BY MOZELLE TROTTER

What's the next best thing to taking an European tour? It's having your son go and then listening to him relate his adventures.

Number One Son got home Wednesday afternoon and we've hardly given him a chance to catch his breath.

He'll have it all to tell again when he gets his film developed. By the way, he didn't find any place he'd trade Texas for. And being the only Texan in his tour group didn't hurt him any after all, EVERYONE has heard of Texas.

The way it looks, this arm chair tour will probably be my vacation. But that's O. K. - Olton's a pretty good place to be - ask Mike.

Of course, my little "sashay" to San Antonio week before last was a sort of vacation.

And speaking of vacations and San Antonio in the same breath - have you seen the Hemisfair grounds since '68? It's SADI!

The Tower of Americas is still a tourist attraction, of course, but a lot of the Hemisfair Plaza stands forlorn in just two years. The city is attempting to "rejuvenate" the place. As of July 16, one no longer has to pay an admission to enter the Plaza (that's in hopes more people will visit it but I doubt the 50 cent admission kept many away). They also are studying for possible ways to "preserve" the grounds and buildings.

It's a pity to see buildings empty and wasted--but especially such nice buildings!

And the pretty little "rest spots" where you could sit and catch your breath are the most pathetic of all. Those built as planters - just scattered about to look pretty - are most likely like the ones we saw - filled with a few inches of stagnant, smelly water and bits of litter dropped by thoughtless people.

My trip up the Tower of Americas, this time, was at night and far surpassed that first time. San Antonio, at night, from the Tower of Americas is beautiful beyond description!

Even the elevator ride was better. That first trip, during the Hemisfair's heyday, was something more like "see how a sardine feels."

You've heard of the fad for packing telephone booths? Well those elevator operators must have been the world's champions. If you happened to be real short and caught in the middle of the pack, you just had to hope you could hold your breath long enough to arrive at fresh air again.

So, if it turns out that I've already made my "out of town" vacation - O. K. I'll take my "at home" one with an easy chair, a glass of iced tea and a good book I've been neglecting.

Mother-Daughter Visit Texas Indian Reservation

Mrs. Joe Chester and Jeana recently toured the Alabama Coushatta Indian Reservation near Livingston. This, the only Indian Reservation in Texas, was established in about 1854 by Sam Houston who was serving as Indian agent.

There are 555 members of these tribes with 350 living on the reservation. The others are at work elsewhere.

The teenagers did war dances. The young ladies performed the basket dance and a solo dancer did the "Dance of The Eagle".

Mrs. Chester and Jeana went to the Indian cemetery. Most of the graves had monuments. Articles which the deceased had most treasured were placed on some of the graves. There were a razor, razor blades, an aqua Velva bottle and a single goblet included in these objects.

There was a small museum and a Presbyterian Church.

This reservation is in the area of the Big Thicket which has a variety of trees, namely, pines, magnolia, sycamore, red oak and white oak.

American Legion Sponsors Petition

The following petition is being circulated in Olton in an effort to have more influence on our leaders to help reduce campus disorders.

Persons who are interested in signing the petition should ask merchants if they have copies that they may sign.

TO: GOVERNOR PRESTON SMITH
LT. GOVERNOR BEN BARNES
MY STATE SENATOR
MY STATE REPRESENTATIVE(S)

CITIZENS PETITION SPONSORED BY THE AMERICAN LEGION TO THE ELECTED OFFICIALS OF TEXAS

We, the undersigned, do hereby support the following principles:

1. The purpose of a state university or college is to provide facilities for education and training in preparation for responsible positions in our society and not for stimulating political unrest and turmoil.
2. Students attending our public colleges and universities have an obligation to themselves and their schools to attend classes, receive an education and preparation for a useful position in our society.
3. The lives and the future of the vast majority of students are being adversely affected by the disruptive actions of a few.
4. All citizens have the right to dissent, including students and college employees, but that the majority should always prevail in our democracy.
5. The people of this state have a right to expect their tax money to be spent wisely, but not on reconstruction of willfully destroyed property.
6. School administrators have not fully exercised their right to expel law breaking students on the various campuses and required reparations from them.

7. We believe that colleges and universities should be controlled by the Board of Regents who set policy and have same carried out by the Administrators - not by the faculty.

8. This state should no further tolerate rioting by any group, including students. Those found guilty by due process of law should be punished according to law. Students found guilty should be expelled immediately and be prohibited from enrollment in any college or university in Texas which is receiving state aid.

9. Campus discord is being led and promoted principally by individuals who are subversive, radical, revolutionary persons and criminal mind. Certain faculty members of like persuasion are aiding, abetting and sometimes leading disruptive demonstrations or riots.

10. Any faculty member of a state university or college who openly provokes, advocates, urges campus anti-American political action, or participates in a riot or anti-American political action on campus should be dismissed and be prohibited from teaching in any school in Texas which is receiving state financial aid.

11. That many of the student leaders of disruption are from out of state and have no place in Texas tax supported institutions. These students should be more carefully screened before admittance.

12. That the Texas Legislature give serious consideration to enacting appropriate legislation and to the writing of safeguards into future appropriations to assure that the foregoing principles are carried out.

Maybe you've never lost a U.S. Savings Bond. Or had one stolen. Or somehow torn one up.

If you ever do, you'll quickly find out how indestructible Bonds really are.

Because we replace them. All you have to do is let us know they're missing.

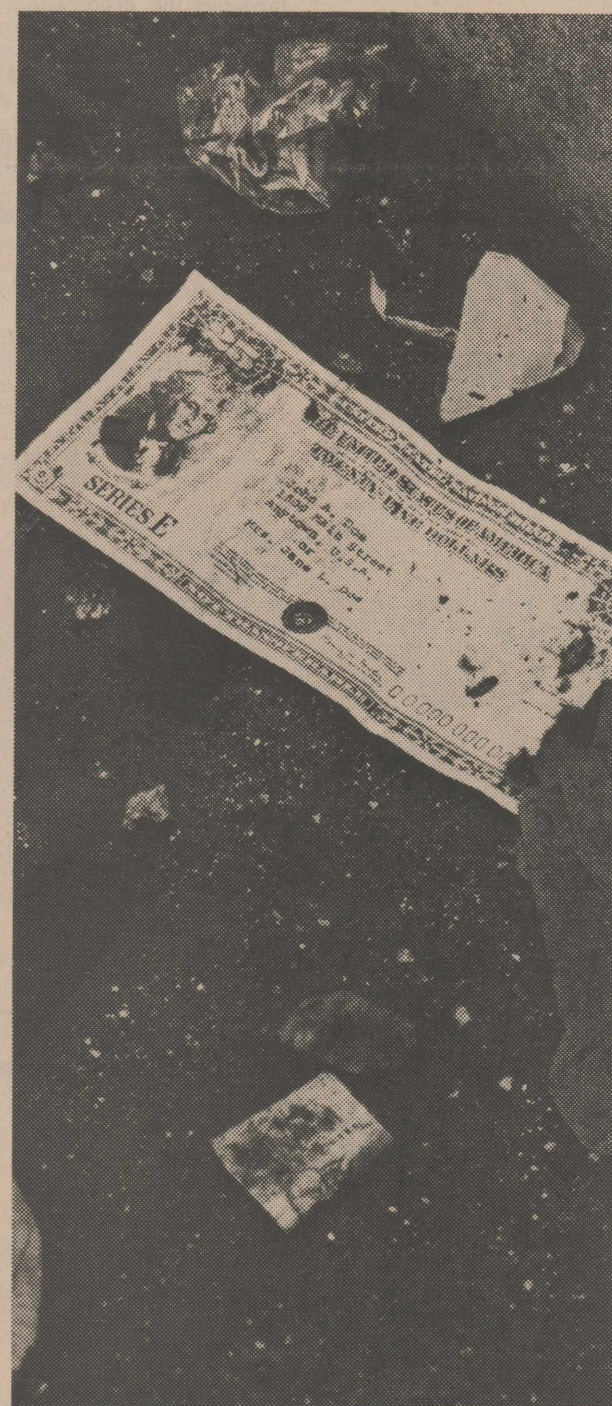

It's another reason why Bonds are one of the wisest ways to save.

Buy Bonds on a regular basis through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bond-a-Month Plan where you bank. Once you've got 'em, there's no way to lose them.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember: Bonds are a proud way to save.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

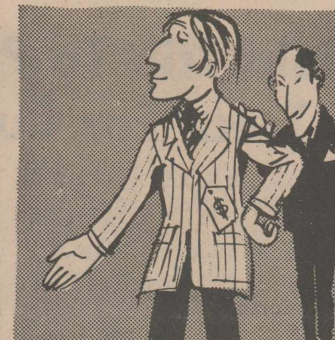

Matters of Opinion

"This suit," the friendly salesman told Fred, "will wear like iron."

About a year later, Fred brought the suit back and asked for a refund. He complained that the fabric was beginning to show signs of deterioration. When the store turned him down, he went to court to demand damages for breach of contract.

"Their salesman promised me that the suit would wear like iron," he said. "That was a false statement."

Nevertheless, the court rejected Fred's claim. The court said the salesman's statement was merely an expression of opinion, not a binding commitment.

As a general rule, the law permits a seller of merchandise to do a good deal of boasting in matters of opinion. The reason, in the words of Judge Learned Hand:

"There are some kinds of talk which no sensible man takes seriously."

But the law is stricter when it comes to matters of fact. Take this situation:

A home owner, selling his house assured the buyer that it was "in perfect condition." But at the first rain, the buyer found out that the house was honeycombed with leaks. He also found out that the problem had existed for years, defying costly efforts to clear it up.

Here, a court upheld the buyer's claim for damages. The court said the seller's statement that the house was "in perfect condition" had been a deliberate misstatement of fact.

Even a statement of opinion may be held binding, if the buyer has some special reason to put his trust in that opinion.

In one case a promoter of oil stocks, after winning the confidence of an unsophisticated farmer, sold him some shares in an obscure company. He did so after expressing an opinion of the stock's value that was enormously exaggerated.

But a court later nullified the sale. The judge said that, in view of the confidential relationship between the parties, the promoter must have known his statement of opinion would carry the weight of a statement of fact.

MRS. VIRGLE GRAY & RICKIE DURHAM

Cook Of The Week

Recipes are shared this week by a grandmother-granddaughter duo who share the same hobbies - cooking and sewing.

Our Cooks of the Week are Mrs. Virgle Gray and 15-year-old Rickie Durham of Billings, Mo.

Rickie is the daughter of Betty and Johnny Durham. She and her younger brothers and sister, Skipper, Elaine and Rocky are visiting this week with their grandparents and other relatives. They arrived in Amarillo Sunday morning after an all-night bus trip and will stay until their parents come for them next week.

A sophomore at Billings High School, Rickie will be a cheerleader this year. Her school's athletic program includes basketball, baseball and softball but no football.

After graduation from high school, Rickie wants to become a beautician.

The Grays have two other daughters, Mrs. Tommy Lively of Earth and Mrs. T. J. Smith of Olton. They have six other grandchildren, Terry, Todd, Teresa and Ty Lively and Gregg and Jacquie Smith.

Ruby and Virgle met while attending church services at Hopewell Baptist Church, long before the congregation moved into Olton from its country site near Circle. They were married in the church parsonage by the late Rev. F. E. Bennett. Through the years, the church has continued to be very special. Ruby teaches juniors in Sunday School.

Sharing an enthusiasm for baseball, Ruby and Virgle enjoy watching Pee Wee, Little League and Babe Ruth games. They also like to get out and play ball with their grandchildren. Virgle's only disappointment is that not one of his grandsons is a catcher.

The first year of their marriage, Ruby and Virgle were catchers for a ladies' softball and mens' baseball teams. Virgle continued to play with the men several years but the women did not have a team again.

'Open Letter To Man'

In this era of preoccupation with sex and nudity under the guise of freedom of expression, a simple letter written to man about the image of womanhood is creating a lot of interest throughout the country. Some radio personalities such as Los Angeles' famous Dick Wittinghill have read it repeatedly on their radio programs. Newspapers and magazines, both religious and secular, are reprinting it. And private citizens are copying it for distribution to their friends.

This is what "Open Letter to Man" says:
"I am a Woman.
"I am your wife, your sweetheart, your mother, your daughter, your sister...your friend. I NEED YOUR HELP.
"I was created to give to the world GENTLENESS, UNDERSTANDING, SERENITY, BEAUTY AND LOVE. I am finding it increasingly difficult to fulfill my purpose.
"Many people in advertising, motion pictures, television and radio have ignored my inner qualities and have repeatedly used me ONLY as a symbol of SEX.
"This humiliates me; it destroys my dignity; it prevents me from being what YOU want me to be - an example of - "Beauty, Inspiration and love."

"Love for my children, love for my husband, love of my God and country.
"I need your help to restore me to my true position ... TO ALLOW me to fulfill the PURPOSE FOR WHICH I WAS CREATED.
"I know you will find a way."

This letter was written about ten years ago by songwriter Sy. Miller and his wife, the former actress, Jill Jackson. But it wasn't until "Open Letter to Man" was discovered shortly over a year ago by the Rev. Francis J. Caffrey of the Maryknoll Fathers that it received widespread circulation.
Father Caffrey was so impressed with the letter that he got the Millers' permission to reproduce it. From that humble grass roots beginning, "Open Letter to Man" has developed its own quiet underground movement protesting the degradation of women as mere sex objects. Many prominent businessmen and entertainment personalities have assisted Father Caffrey in his efforts to help restore woman's proper image of love, beauty and dignity in our contemporary society.

R. D. Funk, Managing Editor of the Santa Monica (California) Evening Outlook was among the first to tell the story of the Millers'. Father Caffrey and "Open Letter to Man" in his column. Since then the "Open Letter" has been reproduced and circulated widely in the U. S. in some foreign countries and is on its way to expanding its message of common decency throughout the world.

"Open Letter to Man" is a simple, powerful message challenging today's animalistic, sex-oriented image of womanhood. It's difficult today for a girl or young woman to believe anyone really cares about morality, femininity and virtue in our society. But the challenge is simply stated for all to meet, "I know you will find a way."
The invitation to help find the way is open to all. Copies of the "Open Letter" are available free of charge. Simply send your name and address, plus the number of copies desired to: Open Letter, The Solo Cup Foundation, 7431 East End Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60649. A supply of the OpenLetter will be sent free of charge to be passed along to friends and acquaintances.
In addition, a free recording of "LET THERE BE PEACE", composed by Sy Miller and Jill Jackson and performed by Dora Hall, will be included.

LIVE HIGH ON LOW-SATURATED-FAT DIET

"What is sauce for the goose may be sauce for the gander, but it is not necessarily sauce for the chicken, the duck, the turkey or the guinea hen," wrote Alice B. Toklas. However, here's a case where an orange sauce usually served with duckling makes an excellent flavor-mate for chicken.

Chicken à l'Orange is an economical and easy way to dress up chicken. But contrary to the general impression that fancy foods cannot be enjoyed on a low-saturated-fat diet, the use of corn oil margarine makes Chicken à l'Orange an excellent choice for the cholesterol-conscious.

While most vegetable oils are beneficial on a low-saturated-fat diet, scientific studies have shown that none is more effective than corn oil in lowering cholesterol. Fleischmann's Margarine is made from 100 per cent corn oil, over half of which is in liquid form. Used regularly for cooking and spreading, it can be an important source of polyunsaturates in the daily diet.

Chicken à l'Orange is just one of the more than 75 delectable recipes for low-saturated-fat diets in the 48-page booklet, DIETARY CONTROL OF CHOLESTEROL. The free booklet also includes background facts about the diet, model menus and exchange lists. If you'd like a copy, send a post card to Fleischmann's Margarine, P.O. Box 36 F, Mount Vernon, New York 10559.

Chicken à l'Orange is one of dozens of delectable dishes for low-saturated-fat diets featured in DIETARY CONTROL OF CHOLESTEROL. It's prepared with corn oil margarine.

CHICKEN A L'ORANGE

1/2 cup flour
2 teaspoons grated orange peel
1 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 (2-1/2 to 3-lb.) fryer, cut up
1 tablespoon Fleischmann's Margarine

Combine flour, orange peel, paprika and pepper. Coat chicken pieces. Reserve 3 tablespoons of flour mixture. Melt the margarine in skillet. Cook chicken over low heat until brown. Add water, cover and simmer gently for 40 minutes; turn occasionally; add water if necessary. Remove chicken. Pour off all but 3 tablespoons pan

3/4 cup water
2 cups orange juice
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 tablespoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
1/8 teaspoon ground cinnamon drippings. Add reserved flour. Blend well. Combine remaining ingredients. Add gradually to skillet, stirring constantly. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture boils; serve over chicken. If desired, garnish with quartered fresh orange slices. Makes 4 servings.

Bob Price Writes

State government spending has a great deal to do with increasing inflation and Texas voters can help bring inflation under control by electing Republican candidates to the Legislature who believe the needs of the people can be fulfilled without continually increasing spending, Congressman Bob Price said Friday.

Speaking at a dinner honoring Houston legislative candidate Roger Brandt, the Panhandle representative noted the need to get a firm grip on state spending.

"President Nixon is supporting congressional and senatorial candidates who will assist him in his efforts to control Federal spending. I firmly believe we must do the same at the state level if this country is going to come out of the economic crisis created by the last Administration," Price said.

"During the late 1960's the Federal budget increased almost 15 percent a year. The President cut that increase to 7.5 percent last year and it will be cut this year to 3.5 percent," he added.

Price noted the great increase in state spending the past four years and suggested that the same kind of economics could be applied in Austin.

"We have passed the major crisis of the dollar, but the cost of living is still rising too rapidly. Inflation breeds poverty; inflation makes people poor; inflation means unemployment, and inflation means everybody's standard of living goes down. No matter what politicians may promise, we must cut down on government spending at all levels to keep inflation from bankrupting this nation," Price said.

"I urge everyone here tonight to support candidates at all levels of government who care more about protecting the national economy than trying to buy votes by spending more and more money," Price said.

Tests Conducted For Feedlots

A Texas Tech scientist -- in cooperation with feedlot owners and water quality experts -- hopes this summer to gather evidence for a comprehensive underground "picture" of the Texas High Plains Feedlot industry.

With a team of eight, Dr. William D. Miller, groundwater geologist on the geosciences faculty, expects to determine the significance of any subsurface distribution of nitrates from feedlots to the groundwater zone of the High Plains and to learn what type of subsurface materials best guard against infiltration of nitrates to the groundwater zone.

Miller is directing test hole drilling and coring in a program involving 80 feedlots in the Texas Panhandle and the South Plains area. He said this work should be completed in October and data gathered will be studied in the fall.

Supporting the project are the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration, the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB), the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, the North Plains Water District and the university's Department of Geosciences.

The cost, Miller said, will total from $75,000 to $80,000. "We are determining all the nitrogen family chemistry and other ions as well as permeabilities on the cores, and groundwater chemistry below the feedlots and adjacent lands," he explained.

All this information will be integrated for a comprehensive view of the subsurface environment.

Both old and new feedlots are being used in the study which stretches from the South Plains area to the Oklahoma border. Working in the field with Miller are: students John Buchanan of Dumas and Dennis Bell of Lubbock; James Sansom, geologist with the TWDB; James Rodgers, TWDB civil engineer; Louis Barnes, chief core driller, TWDB; and Barnes' drilling crew.

Plainview's New Hospital-Mental Health Center To Be Viewed During Open House Ceremonies

A massive tan-brick hospital complex, destined to become a modern model from which other cities will work, is having open house Aug. 1st and 2nd from 2 to 5 p. m. each day. The Hospital will open officially for patients on Aug. 10. The Mental Health Center opened on a limited basis -- outpatient clinic -- July 21.

When one views the building from the front, it is as if looking at a thick "Y" from the top. The "arms" of the Y (slanted toward you) are, above the first floor wings for patient rooms. The "tail" of the Y will house facilities for surgery, obstetrics, and intensive care of heart cases, guarded by a central nursing station on each floor, restricting visitors to the patient wings only.

At the Open House Aug. 1-2 all visitors will be able to see the Hospital and Mental Health Building from top to basement and from wing to wing. Rooms normally off limits will be able to be seen by all who come celebrate the opening. The hospital is licensed for 151 patients.

The main hospital building will include four floors and a partial basement, which is under the central part of the building. This basement will house Central Supply, connected to all floors by dumb waiters. Also included will be classrooms for inservice training. An area for pathology and the morgue is in the basement area. The print shop and a central storeroom is also in the basement.

The main floor of the hospital includes one-story additions in the front for administrative and laboratory facilities. The most modern lab and X-ray equipment and facilities is already installed.

To the right of the entrance way of the main hospital is a beautiful gift shop and working space for the Hospital Auxiliary -- the Pink Ladies.

A cafeteria for the hospital employees and families of patients is through the lobby and on the south of the building. The kitchen, adjoining, is as modern and complete as is available. Refreshments will be served in this area at the Open House.

There are six VIP rooms with kitchenette. Adjoining and connecting rooms can be available which will turn these into a suite.

All patient rooms will have a recliner chair for the comfort of the family. All rooms are equipped with electric beds. Each room, reception area, lobbies are all beautifully draped. All cotton drapes were selected since the nine county area this hospital serves is "cotton country". The drapes were made in Plainview. The landscaping is being done by local people. The American Legion is presenting a flag and flagpole and presentation of the flag will be part of the dedication of the hospital.

The Mental Health Center building is on the northwest part of the Hospital grounds attached to the Hospital by a corridor. The Emergency Room is between the buildings. A full time psychiatrist is on the staff of the Mental Health Center and an outpatient clinic is now in operation. In this building five services will be phased in. The inpatient service has 25 beds and 3 partial hospitalization bed/office combination rooms. A fully equipped occupational therapy and recreational therapy department is in the south part of the building. The north part is for inpatient rooms. The East entrance is for the outpatient clinic. The full staff and operation of this facility is dependent upon a federal staffing grant from Health/Education and Welfare. The Texas Department of Mental Health/Mental Retardation started funding this facility Nov. 1, 1969, for partial operation. Local funds were used for matching money. This operation is legislated to cover the following nine counties: Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Motley, Parmer and Swisher.

The nine county board is selected by each judge appointing a Trustee. This nine county board is the governing board of the Center under the sponsorship of the Central Plains General Hospital Board. The building, valued at $600,000.00, was built by the Hospital Authority by matching with local funds the $400,000 Health, Education and Welfare grant. This grant and matching local money provided for the completely equipped mental health facility. The Hale County Hospital Authority Board with the help of Judge C. L. Abernethy, Representative Ralph Wayne, Dr. Mary Bubliss, and Mrs. Eleanor Griffin prepared documentation to get the federal construction grant in time to start the building along with the hospital.

In 1968 Mrs. Elizabeth Woodley was employed under a State Planning Grant to write a program for mental health that would qualify under State and Federal Rules and Regulations. Part of this job was to organize the nine counties, work with the nine county judges and commissioners courts, the service organizations, churches and schools to find what was needed for these communities in the way of a mental health program. This was approved by the Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation at their site visit in September 1969, and it was funded on a limited basis November 1, 1969.

The Mental Health Center has provided a detoxification center and crisis accompaniment for mental health patients through a cooperative agreement with the Plainview Hospital since that time. When the Plainview Hospital "turns" in to the Central Plains General Hospital this service will be expanded.

No financing for this Hospital Complex has been done with tax money...County or City. The PEOPLE pledged $891,282.85. Of this pledge $682,157.50 has been paid to date. Other financing has been from Hill Burton, Federal Housing and Urban Development Agency and bonds were sold to First Southwest Company. Also included in the pledge was 80 acres of farmland, and a 12.8 acre new hospital site. Medical Center Hospital merged with the Plainview Hospital in 1969. Their property was bought by the Hale County Hospital Authority. Allen Rigler, who was chairman of the Board when these plans were made and the building started, made the statement at the beginning of the project that the Hospital's completion will be a lasting testimonial to the determination, foresightedness, and generosity of a people who believe in their area.

Governor Preston Smith will dedicate the building in ceremonies at 4 p. m. Sunday, Aug. 2. Special invitation was sent to All State Representatives from Amarillo, Lubbock, Plainview, Matador and Springlake;

State Senator Jack Hightower; U. S. Rep. George Mahon; U. S. Rep. Bob Price; U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough and U. S. Sen. John Tower.

Also invited from the nine counties are all doctors, all bank presidents, all hospital administrators, all judges and commissioners courts and all Mayors from the towns of the nine county area and the mayor of Lubbock and the Mayor of Amarillo.

Others are Directors of Community Mental Health Centers from Amarillo and Lubbock; The Texas Department of Mental Health/Mental Retardation Board; The Texas State Department of Health Board Members; Officials from Health, Education and Welfare, Dallas Office and the news media from Amarillo, Lubbock and the nine counties.
