Rescuers Batter Way Through Debris And Bring Bodies Of 32 To Surface; One Man Is Able To Stagger Out

Roof In Collapse

Hundreds Of Wives And Other Relatives Keep Vigil Near One-Time Opening; No Fire Follows Explosion

(By The Associated Press)

BARNSLEY, York, England, Aug. 6.—Fifty-seven miners apparently lost their lives today, entombed by an explosion in a coal pit.

As rescuers battered through wreckage to return the bodies, officials of the Wharncliffe, Wood, Moor company, in whose colliery the subterranean blast occurred, reported 32 bodies recovered. The others were reported as missing.

Men Hurled To Death

Force of the explosion hurled many of the men to instant death and others apparently were suffocated by gas.

There was no fire.

One man managed to stagger to the surface, but he was in a serious condition a few hours later.

Roof Crushes Many

The others were cut off from any chance to escape by a roof fall.

Hundreds of wives and relatives massed about the pithead tonight, waiting to identify bodies.

Garner Asks Texans To Give Liberally To Demo Campaign

DALLAS, Aug. 6. (AP)—Vice-President Garner, Democratic National committeeman for Texas, called on Democrats of the state today to repeat the 1932 record of giving the party ticket the largest majority of any other state, and to contribute liberally to the campaign fund.

Roy Miller, director of organization and finance for the National Campaign committee in Texas, who released Garner's statement, said it was the first the vice-president had made since he became National committeeman in 1934.

Patrolman Orlie Rush made the arrest.

The boys had jacked up cars and removed four tires and were removing a fifth when Rush accosted them.

Two wire wheels were removed from one car.

'Bolters' Are To Talk Plans To 'Stop FDR'

John Henry Kirby Only Texan On Hand For Detroit Rally Of Men Once High In Party Councils; 40 To Attend

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Aug. 6. — A group of men once high in the Democratic party gathered here tonight for the avowed purpose of determining the most effective method of opposing the re-election of President Roosevelt.

Two courses of action—the establishment of an Anti-New Deal Democratic ticket and an effort to swing Democratic votes to Governor Landon—emerged to be given prominence in a formal statement by Sterling E. Edmunds, St. Louis attorney who called the meeting for Friday.

Only "Suggestions"

Edmunds was quick to emphasize that these were only suggestions and to add that the 30 to 40 whom he expected to attend would canvass all possibilities.

Among those who will attend he enumerated: James A. Reed, former Democratic Senator from Missouri; Joseph B. Ely, former Democratic governor of Massachusetts; Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state in the administration of Woodrow Wilson; Daniel F. Cohalen of New York, a former judge and long-time supporter of Alfred E. Smith; Henry Breckenridge who opposed President Roosevelt in several Democratic presidential primaries; Thomas F. Cadwallader who managed Breckenridge's Maryland campaign; John Henry Kirby, Texas Democrat; William A. Comstock, former Democratic governor of Michigan and Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell, twice Democratic nominee for governor of Pennsylvania.

Alfred E. Smith, who with Colby, Ely, Reed and Cohalen joined in a plea to the Democratic convention to "put aside" President Roosevelt has announced he will not attend.

Texas Reds Will Meet In Houston

HOUSTON, Aug. 6. (AP)—The communist party of Texas will hold its state nominating convention in Houston Tuesday night.

Robert Minor, formerly of Texas and widely known communist and labor leader, will speak for the party's presidential candidate, Earl Browder.

Homer Brooks, state secretary, said this will be the first public convention of the communist party ever held in Texas and will mark the opening of an intensive campaign for the state and national tickets.

Threat Of Strike In Mines Of Mexico Growing Serious

LAREDO, Aug. 6. (AP) — Advices received here today indicate growing threats of a strike among miners at Nuevo Rosita, Coahuila.

An offer to raise the annual pay of employes of the Compania Carbonifer de Sabinas and the Mexican Zinc company a grand total of 300,000 pesos was turned down by the workers who demand a million peso increase.

Jose Cantu Estrada, chief of the Federal Labor department, is in Nuevo Rosita in an effort to settle the dispute.

Film Propaganda And Advertising "Gyp" Are Alleged

BY EDWARD J. DUFFY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 — The Republican National committee said tonight that "a moving picture propaganda bureau" had been established in the Works Progress administration, and a contract made with Pathe News to produce films until next July at a cost of $4,280 for each 600 feet.

Under the contract, the statement said, the film organization agreed to release "one news reel story on the subject of WPA activities each month" through a national news reel.

Corrupt Practice Charged

In another statement, Representative Bolton of Ohio, as chairman of the Republican Congressional committee, said "the new campaign handbook of the New Deal Congressional committee, styled the Democratic Register, should prove a handy device for circumventing the Corrupt Practices act."

"The sale of advertising space at $700 a page affords an avenue of escape from reporting campaign contributions as required by law," he added.

Among other political developments, Secretary Ickes termed the announcement of a non-partisan position by the American Liberty league "not only ingenuous but deceptive." He said he possessed evidence that the league was set up to defeat President Roosevelt, "if it could."

Jouett Shouse, president of the league, rejoined that the league was "proud" of Ickes' "enmity." he expressed hope that the cabinet member would continue "to talk without restraint and without limitation."

Teachers View Salary Shifts

Oberholtzer Explains Method Devised To Set Pay Levels In System; Contracts Sent To Faculty Members

Explanation of the salary schedule of Lubbock public school teachers was made Thursday after a number of instructors, upon receiving their 1936-37 contracts, were disappointed in the amounts they will receive.

Ten per cent increase of the teachers salary budget does not mean a 10 per cent raise for each instructor, they found.

Some teachers received no increases in salaries, others received more than 10 per cent hikes; but, emphasized Supt. Kenneth E. Oberholtzer, there was no discrimination in the fixing of salaries.

Move Is Outlined

At the request of The Morning Avalanche, Superintendent Oberholtzer explained the salary situation.

The school board last year adopted a salary schedule which school authorities hope will be in effect here ultimately. The schedule ranges from $960 to $1,800 annually, based on experience and training.

The board, at its meeting last month, voted to pay 85 per cent of the schedule during the ensuing scholastic year. Two exceptions were made, however. In the first instance no white teacher will receive less than $960 annually. The other exception was that no teacher's salary will be reduced from that paid last year.

The 10 per cent salary budget increase approximated $18,000. The total number of teachers employed in

Labor Trouble Threats Fade As Valley Cotton Comes In

HARLINGEN, Aug. 6. (AP) — Laborers imported from Central Texas were arriving here tonight to harvest the near-record cotton crop of the Rio Grande valley as gins and compresses operated under capacity loads.

Threats of a labor strike faded as workers re-entered the fields. Some had sought higher wages for picking staple in fields overrun with grass and weeds.

Loyalists Are Victorious In Two Instances

Capture Of Cadiz Claimed By Liberals Who Also Move On Zaragoza; Aerial Drive Is Planned Against Rebels

Expect Long Fight

At Least A Two-Month Series Of Battles Seen; Fascists Are Well Fortified, Plane Survey Fully Reveals

(By The Associated Press)

MADRID, Aug 6.—Spanish loyalists tonight claimed surrender of Rebel Cadiz in the South, smashed toward Northern Zaragoza with capture of 2,000 fascists, and dug in for two more months of warfare to quell the 20-day-old rebellion.

Landing of 4,000 additional Moroccan troops on the Spanish mainland, after a five-hour battle in the straights of Gibraltar was the chief rebel gain for the day. It brought to 8,000 the African forces now available to the Southern fascists.

SITUATION AT A GLANCE

2,000 rebels surrendered near Zaragoza.

Rebels land 1,000 more African troops on Southern Spanish mainland.

Loyalists claim capture of Rebel Cadiz.

Government digs in for two-months siege.

Eight world powers to adhere to "neutrality in principle."

Both sides, admittedly in the market for munitions, faced the problem of finding any available to them with announcement eight European nations had agreed in principle to supply neither fascists nor loyalists with arms.

Cadiz Capture Important

Capture of Cadiz marked an important advance by the loyalists who had been unable to penetrate the Southern sector effectively.

Berlin dispatches reported four German citizens had been executed at Barcelona after brief court martial, although they carried necessary identification papers. The German warships were stationed off Cadiz, and reported rumors they might go to Barcelona to demand apology for bombardment of the German Freighter Sevilla in the Gibraltar straits.

The advance toward Zaragoza was an invasion of strongly intrenched rebel territory. The government army was 11 miles from the rebel city at nightfall.

Surrender of the 2,000 rebels opened the road for swift advance, the loyalists asserted.

An aerial survey of fascist positions inspired admission that the campaign to put down the revolt in all sectors would be a long, bitter battle.

Hijackers Busy In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 6. (AP)—On a crowded street two employes of the McCrory store here were held up by two bandits late today and robbed of $1,791.

Karpis, Last Of 'Public Enemy Big Shots', Finds Final Abode At Alcatraz

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6. (AP) Alvin Karpis, last of the so-called "big shot" kidnapers to go through the government's new crime-smashing machine, was put away in Alcatraz prison today along with one of his pals and 17 other federal convicts.

An iron-barred railway coach brought the 20 convicts from Leavenworth. Armed guards surrounded the prisoners. A waiting launch took them to the grim rock in San Francisco bay which offers no hope of escape.

Alcatraz Warden James A. Johnston declined to name any of the new prisoners, but said the group included three of the Karpis gang.

Karpis, who was captured in New Orleans May 1 after eluding federal pursuers for many months, is under a life sentence, having pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiring to kidnap William Hamm, jr., wealthy St. Paul brewer.

Arrival of the 20 increased the Alcatraz convict population to about 270. Its other inmates include "Scarface Al" Capone, George "Machine Gun" Kelly, Harvey Bates and a score of other former midwestern gangsters.

Cause Of Air Crash, Fatal To Eight, Is Being Sought

Inquest Today Opens Probe Into Mishap Near St. Louis

(By The Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 6.—Investigators sought today the cause of the crash which last night killed all eight persons aboard Chicago and Southern's air-liner, "The City of Memphis."

Why Pilot Carl Zier turned and started back for Lambert-St. Louis Municipal airport, within a few minutes after he had taken off for Chicago, was a mystery the investigators hoped to dispel.

Declining to speculate, Bureau of Air Commerce inspectors studied the wreckage and considered the stories of several near eye-witnesses. From Pilot James Benedict, who brought the plane into St. Louis from New Orleans, they learned it was in perfect mechanical order when he landed.

Inquest To Be Held

The first results of the investigation may be given tomorrow when St. Louis County Coroner Luke B. Tiernon conducts an inquest into the deaths of Zier, his co-pilot, Russell C. Mossman, and the six passengers.

They were:

Vernon C. Omlie, widely known airman and husband of Mrs. Phoebe Omlie, former racing pilot and now a bureau of air commerce official.

W. S. Bartlett, Chicago, associated with the Great Lakes Coal & Coke company.

B. R. McDavitt, Chicago, commercial artist.

C. B. Wright, Hinsdale, Ill., western representative of the Lake Tankers Corp., of New York.

George Grieshader, Oak Park, Ill., manager of a dental supply firm.

Arthur R. Hoit, Newton Center, Mass., real estate officer of the New England Trust Co., Boston.

Search Three Hours

For three hours, beginning when an alarmed farmer reported hearing its motors suddenly go dead, ground crews of the air line searched feverishly for the plane. They discovered it, a scattered, tangled mass of wreckage, early today on a farm four miles north of the airport.

From the time of the take-off until the crash, no word was heard from the crew, although the $50,000 all-metal Lockheed-Electra monoplane was equipped with the latest type 2-way radio.

Well Anyhow, It's A Noble Thought! Mud-Slinging Ban To Be Urged At Convention

DALLAS, Aug. 6. (AP)—Mrs. A. C. Zehner, Dallas club woman, said today the State Democratic convention Sept. 8 would be asked to declare against "mud-slinging" in political campaigns.

Dallas club women would offer a resolution to that effect, she said. Mrs. Zehner, a delegate to the convention, said she would take printed copies of the resolution to acquaint other delegates with the movement.

Letters were sent to local candidates in run-off contests, asking their co-operation.

Garner Frolics At Fort Worth Centennial; 'Kids' Pals And Returns Home

Amon Carter Host To Vice-President And Other Celebrities At Big Celebration

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Aug. 6.—Vice-President John Nance Garner visited the Fort Worth Frontier centennial tonight.

As guests of Amon Carter, Fort Worth publisher, Mr. and Mrs. Garner dined at Casa Manana and visited the Will Rogers Memorial room in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce exhibit hall.

The party, which also included Senators Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally, also saw "The Last Frontier," before the Garners boarded a train for Uvalde.

Garner "Kids" With Friends

At a luncheon, the vice-president told of his early days in politics and "kidded" with fellow diners Elliott Roosevelt, son of the President; Raymond Buck, Silliman Evans, former fourth assistant postmaster general; Barney Oldfield, official centennial host and Carter.

A few minutes later he was preparing for his afternoon siesta.

"I want to sleep as long as I can," he said. "Of course, I'll go anywhere you fellows want me to."

He turned to young Roosevelt.

"You plan to stay in Texas?" he said.

Receiving an affirmative nod, the vice-president declared, "well you can do a lot of good down here. And I want to say, son, that I wish you all the health and happiness in the world."

Then he turned to Oldfield.

"The idea of that fellow—driving a car," he bantered, punching the veteran racer in the stomach, "with a build like that."

He turned then to fishing anecdotes and stories of the time he served as county judge of Uvalde county.

Ten Tulsa Oil Kings Give Up And Make Bail

Men Charged In Violation Of Anti-Trust Law Appear And Go Free On $5,000 Bonds; Hearing Is Informal

(By The Associated Press)

TULSA, Aug. 6.—Ten prominent oil men of the Tulsa area surrendered voluntarily to U. S. Commissioner W. P. Smith today in answer to an indictment charging them with violating the Sherman Anti-Trust law by forming a pool to fix gasoline prices.

All were released on $5,000 bond. Two of them, A. V. Bourque, secretary of the Western Petroleum Refiners association, and Ira A. Smith, of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, asked that their bonds be returnable August 17 instead of Dec. 1 as specified by the Madison, Wis., federal grand jury.

May Fight Removal

It was pointed out this move would give Smith and Bourque time to study the indictment and discuss it with counsel who might then file motions to resist removal to Madison.

All the others agreed to removal. The other eight who surrendered and posted bond today were W. G. Skelly, president of the Skelly Oil company; James Nagle, Skelly Oil company; A. M. Hughes, Phillips Petroleum corporation, Bartlesville; Robert W. McDowell and Thomas Fitzgerald, Mid-continent Petroleum corporation; J. W. Warner and R. O. Audrian, Tide-Water Oil company and Dewey K. Chamberlain, Pure Oil company.

Proceedings Informal

The proceedings were informal. John Logan, U. S. marshal, did not find it necessary to serve personally the warrants he held for the oil executives.

Two of the six oil men of the Tulsa area who have not yet surrendered on the indictment are out of the city. E. B. Reeser, president of the Barnsdall Refining company, is traveling in Germany. Frank Phillips of Bartlesville, president of the Phillips Petroleum company, was reported to be in New York.

Leon Trotzky Suspected In Intrigue; Home Is Searched

OSLO, Norway, Aug. 1 (Friday) (AP)—Leon Trotzky, exiled Russian communist leader, was reported early today to have been accused by police authorities of carrying on international intrigue.

Trotzky's permit to stay in Norway was conditioned on the promise that he not carry on such activity.

It was understood police entered his home at Honefos yesterday. Officers were said to have determined that he had received a number of foreign visitors in recent weeks and had had frequent telephone conversations with Paris, especially during the recent period of widespread French strikes.

The former bolshevik leader was described as extremely nervous because of recent Norwegian Nazi activity against him.

GREENVILLE, Aug. 6. (AP)—District Attorney Henry Pharr said today the investigation into the fire which killed two firemen and destroyed a building used as a district warehouse of the State Relief commission, may shift to the commission's records in Austin.

Pharr, City Fire Marshall Leo Somers and two representatives of the State Fire Insurance commission questioned approximately 15 witnesses in a hearing.

DJ Men Called

The investigators, believing they were in possession of clues indicating the possibility of incendiarism, called on the Department of Justice to aid the investigation.

Tons of record pertaining to relief commission work in this district, serving seven counties, were destroyed in the fire Saturday which took the lives of W. R. Daugherty, 41, and Earl Jenkins, 35.

American Property Has To Be Safe-Guarded; Spain To Be Held Responsible, Note To Government Declares

Reported Seizure Of General Motors And Ford Plants Is Believed To Be Reason For U. S. Official Warning

BY STANLEY RICHARDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. — Spain's revolt-threatened popular front government was served formal notice by the United States today that it will be held strictly accountable for the protection of American property in that country.

Disturbed over the potential menace to America's $70,000,000 investment in that country, the State department disclosed it had dispatched a note to Madrid invoking the aid of Spanish authorities in safeguarding American property and warning that compensation must be paid for any damages.

Note Is Summarized

"This government cannot admit that private property, whether in the hands of American nationals or abandoned by them temporarily because of conditions over which they have no control, may be interfered with impunity or denied the protection to which it is entitled under international law," said a summary of the note released here.

"This government must, of course, look to the government of Spain for the protection of such property.

"In the event of requisition for the necessities of war or otherwise of American property this government must insist that provision be made for prompt and full compensation to the owners."

Early Claims Seen

The language of the note, some observers predicted, foreshadowed a probable early claim against the Spanish government for the recent seizure of the Ford Motor company and General Motors corporation plants at Barcelona. Numerous private American motor cars also have been confiscated in Madrid and Barcelona.

Concern over these circumstances, as well as anxiety lest other American properties share a similar fate,

Thorpe Confesses Earlier Marriage

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 6. (AP) — A previous marriage—but not to Lillian Lawton Miles—has been admitted by Dr. Franklyn Thorpe, his attorney, Joseph Anderson, said today.

"He was married to a girl by the name of Laura Adams a long time ago," Anderson said. "They were divorced and there's a certificate to prove it."

The surgeon was accused by Actress Mary Astor of being legally a married man at the time he married her. This was one of many charges she brought against Dr. Thorpe when she asked recently for annulment of their marriage, custody of their child and abrogation of their property settlement.

The custody phase of the case opened last week and is in continuance now until next Monday.

Mae West A God-Mother But For Twin Calves, Not Kids

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 6. (AP) —A pleased and astonished farmer told Mae West today that, so far as he is concerned, she is a godmother.

"Two of my prize milch cows had calves," said Ira Ashcroft, of the Triangle-A ranch. "That's never happened before. I guess you brought good luck out here and I'm letting you know you're the godmother."

It's Barely Possible That He Didn't Care Much About Her, So Why Not Annul It?

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6. (AP) Mrs. Margherita Giustich, seeking an annulment of her marriage to Peter Giustich, said her husband, immediately after the wedding ceremony, turned and kissed one of the bridesmaids, walked out with her and didn't return for a month.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 4 (via airmail): A sightseeing tour of our capital city, directed by an expert guide, reveals many interesting items. It would be impossible to be disappointed in this story book city—story book because it's just like the descriptions we learned down in the grades.

* * *

Washington is indeed a city of contrasts. For instance on Sixteenth street, where our hotel is located, live some of the most prominent citizens and are to be found many legations and embassies, while on the next street live many negroes. China town is not far from the government buildings. In the parks you see government employes eating their lunches and throwing the crumbs to the tame pigeons, and passing by in high powered cars are those whose dress marks them as important personages.

SCATTERINGS

HERBERT HOOVER has not visited Washington since he left the White House, although he still maintains his home here. . . . The widow of Sheridan, now 97 years old, lives in an attached house near the park where is placed an equestrian statue of the general. . . . Many of these statues are considered atrocious by sculptors because the figures are so large in comparison with the horses. . . . We saw "Wahoo," the monkey that Zioncheck visited daily when he was making headlines. . . . The President is still on his vacation because the flag is not flying. . . . Three of the girls met a Texas guard on the White House grounds Sunday night who escorted them about a bit and showed them Mr. Roosevelt's office. . . . There is not as much air of "stay away from here" around the grounds of the executive mansion as you might expect. Those who like to see the President as he takes his daily drive are afforded an excellent opportunity. . . . St. John's church, where Mr. Roosevelt worships, is next door to us. . . . Pictures of Landon thrown on the screen of one of the largest movie houses drew cheers from the main floor and hisses from the balcony, which might be analyzed by some student of such happenings. . . . The original Constitution of the United States and Declaration of Independence are placed under bullet proof glass in the Library of Congress. . . . That building must be one of the most beautiful in the world.

THE LINCOLN MEMORIAL

OUR ride took us to the gigantic Lincoln memorial. Until one actually walks up the many white steps and into the temple he cannot appreciate the immensity of this work of art. Viewing the seated figure at various angles reveals a smiling Lincoln, a Lincoln in repose and an executive. Over his head are inscribed the words: "In this temple as in the hearts of the people for whom he saved the Union is the memory of Abraham Lincoln forever inscribed."

TO TWO MANSIONS

IN the afternoon we made trips to the mansion of General Robert E. FOR A BOAT RIDE

TODAY we may visit the government buildings or do as we please and tonight we take a boat trip down the Potomac river. Early Wednesday morning we will begin the trek homeward, with a stop by the Centennial celebrations at Dallas and Fort Worth.

Club members and visitors and their guests attended a lawn party Thursday night at the home of Miss Loyette Lindsey, 2017 Main street. The group played bridge.

The visitors and members are to meet at 5:30 o'clock this morning in City park for a sunrise breakfast. They are to conduct their annual dance tonight at 9 o'clock at Hotel Lubbock. Bob Sandusky's orchestra will play.

Texas Pension Fund Dwindles

Carpenter Says Dawn Of 1937 Will See Need For Another Method Of Garnering Cash; Million On Hand Now

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 6.—A new survey of pension rolls and finances led Orville S. Carpenter, State Old Age Assistance director, to predict today a need for additional funds by January.

His analysis showed $1,000,000 on hand after the Aug. 1 payment of $925,000 to 60,000 pensioners, $300,000 expected monthly from the liquor tax, $500,000 due from annual license fees in September, with state money to be matched by federal.

New Year Deadline

He said the pension situation could rock along until the new year, but there would be a definite need for greater revenue at that time.

He has talked with Governor Allred, who has been studying the pension fund condition, as well as proposed new social security legislation, as possible reasons for a special session of the legislature.

Carpenter said that while about 6 per cent of the first 95,000 applications were approved he believed the precentage of approvals among the remaining 105,000 applications on file would be smaller.

He expressed opinion that early approvals apparently took care of aged persons who had been on relief rolls, saying pressure from county officials had been relieved.

Borger Boy Held In Fatal Mishap

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Aug. 5. — Aron Cook, 17, of Borger, today faced a juvenile delinquency complaint specifically charging failure to render aid as a result of the traffic death Tuesday night of Mary Lou Atkins, 11, fatally injured when struck by a truck driven by Cook.

Friends of Cook were attempting to make bond for him. Edward Eckert, 15, also of Borger, who was in the truck with Cook, was released Wednesday after making a statement.

Boys Frightened

Both youths said they did not see the girl in time to stop. Cook said he was "frightened and did not know what to do" after his truck hit the girl, in explaining why he drove on for two blocks. He had turned the truck around and was returning to the scene when officers arrested him.

The boys came here for a load of watermelons. Unable to make a deal here they had started for Montague county when the accident occurred on North Main street.

Butterfield Trail Theory Is Advanced By Medal's Finding

BRONTE, Aug. 6. (AP)—Bill Martin, who lived in the Lometa community near here, says a German medal found 20 days ago in a pasture on his farm, led his father, an early settler in the neighborhood, to believe the Butterfield trial once crossed the farm.

The medal, dated 1844, bore on one side the inscription: "Remembrance of German Exposition Industrial Products at Berlin," and on the other, "Forward with German diligence and German energy. Be united."

In 1844, records show, the German Immigration company was undertaking to colonize the Colorado river valley from about where the medal was found to a point down the river beyond the present town of Maverick in Runnels county. The project was abandoned in 1852 when the land was sold for taxes by the sheriff of Bexar county.

Three Score Contests To Be Fought For Legislative Jobs

AUSTIN, Aug. 6. (AP)—More than three score contests for seats in the next legislature must be settled in the run-off primary Aug. 22. Unofficial sources indicate 65 house and five senate races were not decided in the first primary.

Senators John S. Redditt of Lufkin and Albert Stone of Brenham were forced into second contests. Redditt opposes W. W. Glass of Jacksonville, while Stone's opponent is J. Alton York of Giddings.

Other senate runoffs are between Vernon Lemens of Rainbow and L. W. (Pete) Harris of Hillsboro; W. A. Schofner of Temple and J. Manley Head of Stephenville and Pat Jefferson and J. Franklin Spears, both of San Antonio.

SUPPORTS MORRIS

DALLAS, Aug. 6. (AP)—H. O. Johnson, defeated candidate for Railroad commissioner, said today he would support Frank S. Morris, opponent of incumbent E. O. Thompson in the runoff. Johnson said he would wage an active campaign for Morris in South Texas.

Muleshoe Piano Of Much Value Recently Traded

CLOVIS, N. M., Aug. 6. (AP) — A soiled, warped old piano traded at a store here for two rugs recently by a Muleshoe, Texas, couple has been found to be a Linderman with a tone "that hardly can be improved upon."

Carl Osburne, the dealer, recognized the fine quality of the walnut case and spent 55 hours reconditioning it. It now shines brightly although no varnish was used. Osburne said it appeared to be in almost perfect condition, except that the ivory keys are worn.

History of the instrument is not known beyond that it was first purchased in Texas. How it came to Texas is not known.

Prof. Harry Barton, music teacher in the Clovis schools, said it is from 100 and 125 years old.

The piano has been bought by the Grady, N. M., Odd Fellows lodge.

Cross-Section Of Famous Oak On Display At Texas Centennial Surprises All

AUSTIN, Aug. 6. (AP) — A cross-section of the General Gordon oak, named for the famous Confederate leader, is on display at the University of Texas Centennial exposition and will be placed in the Texas Memorial museum when it is built.

The tree died in 1933 and was cut down last year. Scientists received a surprise when they cut through the trunk as, judging from its size, they had expected to find a tree more than 300 years old. Instead they discovered that five oaks had grown into one, about six and one-half feet in diameter near the base, and figured from a count of the rings the oldest in the group was 178 years.

Presented To University

The tree grew on the old Gov. Hamilton place here. The cross-section was presented to the university by Mrs. Bettie K. Grigg, present owner of the property.

The General Gordon oak had its buried treasure legend. A map intended to be the key to the location of the treasure was hidden near the tree, the legend said, but subsequently was dug up and taken to Mexico. The treasure supposedly was buried by Mexicans long years ago. Many have dug near the oak but no treasure has been found.

A. J. Hamilton, provisional governor of Texas immediately after the Civil war, built his home in 1845 in a grove containing the oak. Hamilton's opposition to secession forced him to leave Texas during the war.

The wood in the dead tree still is sound. University botanists are puzzled over the cause of the tree's death. Dr. Glenn Warren Goldsmith, professor of botany, attributes it to a mysterious disease which has been killing trees in numerous areas of the state.

Laundress For Gen. Robert E. Lee Is Granted Pension

EDINBURG, Aug. 6. (AP)—A former laundress for Gen. Robert E. Lee, when he was a young officer at Fort Ringgold, Juliana Lara, 104-year old Rio Grande City native, has received approval of her application for Texas old age assistance, Frank G. Crow, district No. 15 supervisor, disclosed. Despite her age, Mrs. Lara recalls the famous Confederate leader clearly.

Jesusa Lara, 73, her daughter, has also received approval of her application for old age assistance.

TEXANS ARE SOUGHT

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 6. (AP) The Department of State police asked officers of Louisiana and surrounding states for assistance in apprehending Emory Jacob Bennett of Tyler, Tex., and Steve Stevenson of Austin, Tex., wanted for questioning in connection with the robbery of guests of a hotel here of money and jewels valued at $600.

Mrs. Winifred Rhodes, Rhode Island woman, owns a jug which has four separate compartments, enabling it to hold four liquids at the same time.

Rule Made For Local Schools

First Year Entrants Must Be Accepted Under New System Approved By Board; Limits On Ages Are Outlined

A new ruling regarding children entering Lubbock Public schools for the first year work has been passed by the school board, according to an announcement made by Superintendent K. E. Oberholtzer. The compulsory school age limit is now 7 to 16 years, the superintendent explained, but the new regulation governs the local policies in regard to six-year-olds.

A child six years old on or before September 1 will be admitted free of tuition charges, while children six years old during September and October will be admitted, providing there is room in the system, if they pay tuition for the first semester.

The same rule applies to January 1 and the second term. Children six years old on or before January 1 may enter the second term free of tuition charges, and those six years old during January and February will be admitted if the schools are not overcrowded and if they pay tuition.

Plains Area Suitable For Culture Of Sugar Beet Seed

PLAINVIEW, Aug. 6. (AP)—Harvest of sugar beet seed in this territory this summer indicates the Plains region is a potential producer of the seed on a commercial basis, farmers say.

Estimated yield on the experimental fields was 1,000 pounds to the acre. The crop, planted last September, was watered an average of 10 times, each watering costing about 75 cents, or $7.50 per acre for the crop.

Producers say the warm weather in the Plains area offers an advantage in seed production since the beets can be planted in the fall. When cultivated in the manner, they say, the plant growth goes to the top and seed instead of going into the beet.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6. (AP) — It is still three years to New York's 1939 World's Fair, but inquiries concerning jobs and concessions have begun to pour in, and with them hundreds of suggestions for fair "attractions."

GROVER WHALEN

An organization staff numbering about 150 and occupying several floors in the Empire State building is making typewriters hum and adding to postal revenues by an enormous volume of mail to all parts of the country and the world. Out in Flushing Meadow, site of the fair, 160 men working in three shifts have been leveling the ground and dumping fill, a task estimated to take 9 to 12 months.

Plenty Of Suggestions

Some of the suggestions received by the World's Fair staff include:

A "tower of light" for observation purposes, a building in the shape of the northern hemisphere with maps of the world shown by interior construction, reproduction of the Parthen on the Athens, an amusement zone to be covered with a roof in which there would be color filters to create "special" effects, a Greenwich Village historical exhibit, models of "New Amsterdam" and "Old New York," and a permanent museum for medicine and health.

Actually however, the basic architectural design of the fair will not be made public until September, and all building plans will be made to conform to give the fair an harmonious physical appearance.

Honors First Inauguration

The fair is scheduled to open April 30, 1939. It is to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the first inauguration, in New York City, of George Washington as President, April 30, 1789.

A vast expanse of swamp and dumping grounds along Flushing Bay, Queens, will be converted into a wonderland of exhibits and then add a new park to the city's stretches of green.

The city now owns 1,054 acres there, all of which have been leased to the World's Fair Corporation, the lease to terminate when the fair closes. The site thereupon will be converted into a park.

The World's Fair Corporation, parent and guiding body of the fair, comprises 121 "incorporators," with an authorized board of directors, of 35. Grover Whalen, former police commissioner, is president of the corporation and its chief executive officer.

Tax Rolls Gain $3,000,000 In WPA Check Of 6 Counties

ALPINE, Aug. 6. (AP)—About $3,000,000 worth of property has been added to the tax rolls of a dozen West Texas counties as a result of a WPA checkup under the direction of the State Tax board, records show. Some of this property never has been rendered, some is "excess" acreage and in other cases it consists of valuable improvements owners failed to declare. The survey is about half completed.

More than $1,000,000 worth of property was found in El Paso alone in the survey being made in WPA District No. 20 under the direction of A. E. Owens of Alpine. From El Paso the district extends to Brewster and Winkler counties.

Town property is not included in the work.

Mexico Evidences Favor Of Texas-Grown Citrus Trees

McALLEN, Aug. 6. (AP)—Five hundred three-year-old Marsh seedless grapefruit trees have been shipped from here to the state of Michoacan, Mexico, and three more carloads, making a total of 2,000 are expected to move soon.

The trees will be planted near Patzcuaro, Michoacan, and are said to be the first select budded trees taken into that section of the republic. Most of the grapefruit grown in Mexico is from seedling stock grown locally, citriculturists say.

FLUSH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 Miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 Miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste, poisonous matter may develop, causing serious trouble. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 Miles of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills at your druggist.

Fossilized Remains Of Pre-Historic Rhinocerous, Horse, Camel Uncovered By Studes

CANADIAN, Aug. 6 (AP)—Fossilized remains of prehistoric rhinoceros, camel and horse have been uncovered here by a group of students from West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, doing work for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society museum.

In the group were Harry Hartsog, Don Savage and George Counts. The same students previously uncovered remains of mastodon, camel and horse, at a location in Floyd county. Another Canyon student group is conducting excavation work in Donley county.

WOMAN DIES

FORT WORTH, Aug. 6. (AP)—Mrs. Clara Grimes, 42, Point Breeze, who was injured Wednesday when her automobile ran over her after she had cranked it, died today.

The United States stopped coinage of its 3-cent piece in 1888.

Alpine Area Will Get Construction

FORT DAVIS, Aug. 6. (AP)—Construction has started on a dam in the state park here and on 15 miles of state highway between here and Alpine.

Two dams will be built in the Davis Mountains State park with WPA labor; one near the Indian Village hotel and the other a mile beyond. The first will impound water for swimming and the second for fishing and boating. The big pueblo-style hotel was built by CCC labor.

The paving of state highway 118 will be blacktop with eight-inch caliche base and extend from Fort Davis to the Jeff Davis-Brewster county line where it joins blacktop paving that urns to Alpine.

Road building is also under way in Limpia canyon where highway 17 connects with the Bankhead at Pecos.

As the result of a safety campaign, hundreds of Salt Lake City motorists have placed metal tags on their cars reading: "Count on Me to Prevent Accidents."

Permian Basin Booming Again

Black Gold Strike Means Big Influx Back To Texas, New Mexico; Building Is Hiked And Business Increased

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 6. (AP)—A new boom riding the crest of an oil wave, has swept into the sagebrush and sand section of West Texas—the upper Permian basin and business and building are humming in Andrews, Crane, Ector, Midland, Upton, Ward and Winkler counties.

It is the second time "black gold" has lubricated the wheels of activity in this area. Thirteen years ago, completion of the Santa Rita No. 1, discovery well in the "deep well" section of Reagan county, started a play that made West Texas one of the leading oil producing regions of the United States. It lasted long enough to found towns that set up good school systems, establish business concerns and progressive government—elements composing the spring for the new prosperity.

Return From East Texas

Expansion of the giant East Texas field in 1930-31, lured away most of the operators and lean years came to this silent, dusty land. However, East Texas had its day and the prospectors returned. Recent discoveries in adjoining Lea county of New Mexico had its reaction in a wave of drilling in southern Ward county, and a group of prospectors brought drilling to the Kermit area in Winkler county.

Pay was found there at 2,878 feet at the rate of 585 barrels daily after shooting, and proved either a new field or an extension of the Sayre pool two miles southward. The Keystone pool, four and one half miles northeast of Kermit, also is getting a big play.

Building Is Refected

The towns of Kermit and Wink in Winkler county; Monahans, Royalty and Grandfalls in Ward county; Odessa in Ector, and Midland in Midland county are having the greatest building activity, and Hobbs, Jal and Eunice are the New Mexican communities profited most.

Changes in the towns occur over night. A shack atop a truck westbound on the Bankhead highway invariably is destined for some town in the Permian basin. Vacant lots in these town blossom over night with one-or two-room shacks hauled from boom towns of other days. Best, in Reagan county, one of the first offsprings of the Santa Rita well, is contributing many dwellings, store buildings and oil camp followers to the newly developing fields.

Makeshifts Employed

Carpenters ignore fixed working hours. Some merchants are throwing up unfloored, unpainted shacks to house goods and at one drug store at Monahans, dozens of pairs of crutches hang from boldly exposed rafters. There is a regular demand for crutches in oil fields where injuries are frequent.

The new prosperity is flaunted in the night clubs and cafes. The hard working, free-spending tool dressers and roughnecks assemble there nightly to mingle with promoters, professional gamblers and other easy-money folk who follow the oil booms. Night clubs remain open as long as money is being spent and seldom lock their doors.

Kermit appears to be getting the biggest play in building, and Midland fast is becoming the geological center of the Permian basin.

Natives who have seen booms swell and deflate, hope prosperity will make a long stay this time.

STOLEN FOWLS RETURNED

RESERVE, Kas. (AP)—Fred Long reported to the sheriff the loss of 24 chickens. Several days later he called off the official's pursuit of thieves, stating every one of his hens had been returned, also a rooster which was not Long's.

It Happened, By Golly, And Ripley Didn't See It On A Siamese Jaunt!

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 6. (AP)—Being "stuck" in the air is not an ordinary experience, but Lieut. Herbert B. Thatcher, student pilot, of the advanced flying school, Kelly field, had such an experience today.

He was flying an 0-19 observation training ship, in a three ship formation, when the controls stuck.

The instructor, Capt. S. E. Anderson, noticed Lieut. Thatcher was not flying well, and flew over beside him. The student signaled his controls were jammed, and that he was unable to keep in formation.

For about an hour he tried to regain control of the plane, but failed. During that time he flew in wide circles. The plane would circle, but would not climb or descend.

Finally Lieut. Thatcher jumped with his parachute, landing about six miles southwest of Kelly field. His abandoned plane was not immediately located.

Remarkable Three-Dimensioned Map Making Machine Employed In Texas

TEMPLE, Aug. 6. (AP)—The most remarkable instrument ever devised in the field of aerotopography or photogrammetry is the prized possession of the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation district.

The machine is the Multiplex, a mapping device manufactured at Jena, Germany, and one of four in use in the United States.

The Multiplex, purchased by the district at a cost of $10,000, has more than paid for itself, officials say, in the fast, accurate and tremendously increased volume of work it has done for the district.

Four Crews Working

The Multiplex is in direct charge of Maj. Eric Haquinius, one of the pioneers in photogrammetry (making maps and surveys through the use of aerial photographs.) Four crews of two men each are working six-hour shifts to keep the Multiplex at work 24 hours every day speeding up the district's mapping work.

Field parties establish certain "control points" which are designated on aerial photographs of reservoir areas to be mapped, and from these control points the Multiplex makes a three-dimensional map.

Difficult To Describe

Although the Multiplex appears to be a fairly simple machine, it is difficult to describe. Its principle is that it reverses the process from the airplane's camera, as if the lens were a projector.

Intersecting light rays form an "optical surface" which is true in all three dimensions.

From this "optical surface" the photogrammetrists make exact measurements of width, length, and depth on base maps. From these maps, property lines are determined, abstracts worked up, and on their date, land is acquired.

Dr. Heinz E. R. Gruner, associated with the corporation manufacturing the machine, recently paid the local Brazos office a visit and conducted a seminar for staff members on the intricate uses of the Multiplex. The concern holds nearly all existing patents in the field of aerial mapping.

As the only machine of its kind in Texas, the Multiplex has attracted much interest among technicians and engineers. It is set up atop a hotel here where the Brazos survey headquarters are located.

"I'm tired of this"

—shouts outraged Oscar. "Why not get some better tea for a change, instead of buying the kind where part of your tea money goes for so-called 'free premiums'."

WHICH DO YOU WANT
"Free Premiums" or Better Tea?

That's an important question. Because, frankly, we can't afford to give you "free premiums" and at the same time give you the finer, more expensive teas that are blended in McCormick's Banquet Orange Pekoe. For your sake we'd rather, and we do, invest the money in better tea. Richer, sweeter tea that's free from bitter after taste. Extra juicy tea that makes extra cups per pound. Try it. Lamesa Composer Of Texas Melody Has Distinction

PARIS, Aug. 6. (AP)—Mary Grubbs Lambeth of Lamesa, composer of "Bluebonnet Time in Texas," is the granddaughter of a Lamar county pioneer, P. C. Askins.

Askins settled in this county before the town of Paris was thought of, Mrs. Lambeth says. His nearest neighbor lived 35 miles away. He filed on land and deeded it to families as an inducement for them to settle in northeast Texas, his granddaughter relates.

Her father, I. N. Grubbs, came to Lamar county later and married Cerena Askins. They reared a family of two boys and four girls, of whom Mrs. Lambeth is the youngest. She attended Southeastern Teachers college at Durant, Okla., and the University of Denver.

In Corintho, Nicaragua, soap is made in the size and shape of cigars.

Woman Doesn't Pay Fees; Is Okay

PARIS, Aug. 6. (AP)—Southern courtesy prevails but in this instance at the cost of public office.

When Mrs. Roy Dunagan, candidate for re-election as Lamar county commissioner, omitted paying her filing fee to the county Democratic organization before the expiration date, she automatically lost her right to a place on the ticket. Her three masculine opponents, however, signed an agreement expressing willingness to permit Mrs. Dunagan's name to be printed on the ticket and not to contest her candidacy.

Descendent Of Well-Known Sculptor Asks Citizenship

HOUSTON, Aug. 6. (AP)—Christof Andreas Benevenuto Lucchesi, grandson of the Italian, Lucchesi, sculptor to one of the kings of Saxony, has filed application for citizenship in the United States.

When he filed, stating he was a native German, the name aroused the curiosity of the naturalization agent here. He asked the applicant how a native German came to have such a typical Italian name.

Lucchesi than related that his grandfather, the sculptor, was called to Saxony where his reputation had preceded him, and the ruler appointed him royal sculptor. The elder Lucchesi remained in Saxony and a son, the father of Christof Andreas, was born there.

Christof Andreas was born in Dresden and has been in the United States 20 years.

One Quart Per Person Per 30 Days From Mexico Is Allowed

EAGLE PASS, Aug. 6. (AP)—One quart of liquor only may be brought from Mexico by one person every 30 days, says J. C. Williams of the Texas liquor control baord. Williams said reports that any quantity could be imported, provided a person brought in no more than a quart at a time, were erroneous. "We have inquired about this at Austin," he said.

The federal government allows the importation of one quart a single person every 30 days on which there is a tax of 20 cents. Shipments consigned outside Texas are not subject to this ruling. Average collections here amount to $35 a day.

FDR Seeks To Hold Dem Lead

President Turns Eyes Toward Keeping Congress In Hands Of Democrats; Leaders Are Called To Conferences

(By The Associated Press)

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 6.—President Roosevelt, calling in party leaders for the second time this week, sounded out prospects today of retaining the Democratic majority in Congress.

Two callers on his list were Rep. Drewry of Virginia, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign committee, and Senator Lewis of Illinois, head of the corresponding Senate group.

Situation Studied

Drewry recently studied political conditions on a tour of several states. Lewis brought a report on Illinois and other states with which he is familiar.

Supplementing a conference Monday with leaders of the Democratic National committee, Mr. Roosevelt arranged to talk first with an old friend, Judge Thomas Dowd of Erie county, New York.

With Dowd and Herbert C. Pell, former New York Democratic chairman, he expected to scrutinize party prospects in the Empire state.

Mayor F. H. LaGuardia of New York was next on the calling list, in his capacity as chairman of the National Conference of Mayors.

Governor Allred To Support Amendment On Texas Pardons

DALLAS, Aug. 6. (AP)—The proposed constitutional amendment placing the major portion of pardoning power in the hands of a board will receive Gov. James V. Allred's active support in the November general election.

The governor said he would not campaign for other proposed constitutional changes and said he was still uncertain about calling a special session of the legislature. His course, he said, will be determined from reports of the old-age assistance board.

Soviet Airmen Trace Route For U. S.-Russian Skyways

OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 6. (AP)—Mapping what they hope will prove a "practical" aerial route from America to Russia by way of the Arctic, Sigismund Levanevsky, pilot, and Victor Levchenke, co-pilot and navigator, Russian airmen, planned to hop off today for Seattle.

The avators arrived here in their pontoon-fitted monoplane yesterday from San Pedro, Calif., en route by easy stages over the top of the world to their homeland.

KILLS 30-POUND SNAKE

MASON, Aug. 6. (AP)—Emil Wartenbach owns a dog which has found and killed a number of snakes. Recently he heard the dog howling and found it holding a big rattlesnake at bay. Wartenbach killed the snake which had 16 rattles and a button and weighed 30 pounds. Wartenbach said it was the first snake the dog had found too big for it to hande.

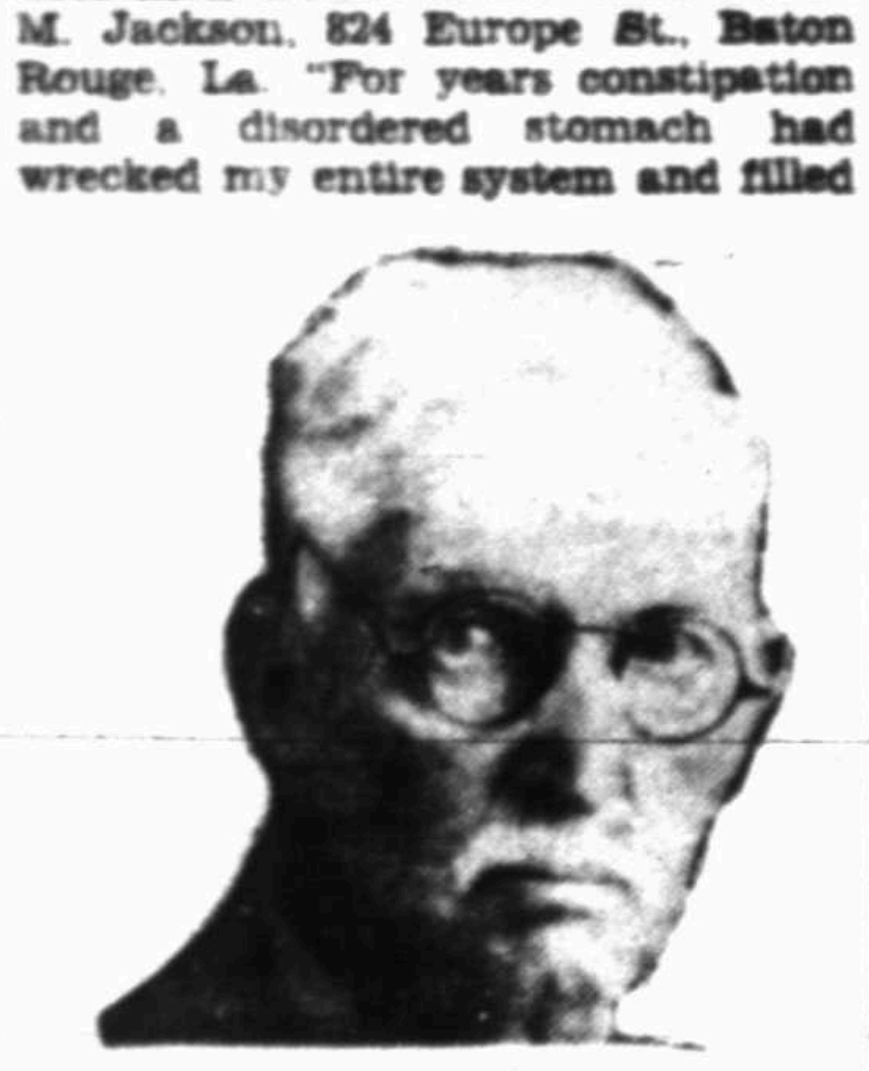
Poisons Driven From His System; Backache, Stomach Distress Yields Easily To Gly-Cas; Now Like A Different Person

"Gly-Cas is the one medicine that does as it claims to do," said Mr. F. M. Jackson, 824 Europe St., Baton Rouge, La. "For years constipation and a disordered stomach had wrecked my entire system and filled my body with poisons. There were few foods that would agree with me. My kidneys become affected too, back ached terrible and each morning I would be so stiff, tired and worn-out that I would often times have to massage my limbs and back to be able to get around at all. I wasted all kinds of money trying many different remedies but it was not until I began Gly-Cas that I found the one medicine of them all."



MR. F. M. JACKSON

"Gly-Cas actually surprised me how quickly and thoroughly it took hold of my case," he continued. "My bowels were regulated almost at once and today I am able to eat and enjoy all my foods. Indigestion, bloating and all stomach suffering has gone entirely. Poisons were removed from my system as never before, kidneys regulated, backache gone and I now enjoy a full night's restful sleep. Gly-Cas is truly the MASTER MEDICINE of them all."

Work-A-Day Prince Is To Junk Title; Thinks Loss Of One Girl Is Enough; Learning U.S. Business From 'Ground Up'

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 6. (AP)—A scion of Russian nobility working as a laborer in a building supply factory here looks forward to the day when he will shed his title.

Already, he says, it's cost him one girl.

He is Prince Alexis Obolensky, 21 years old, a husky, likable fellow with an accent.

Six feet tall and weighing nearly 200 pounds, he shoulders a stack of boards readily. As soon as formalities are completed he expects to become an American citizen.

"When I go into the business world, I'm going to drop that title," says the tanned and calloused prince. "I'm going to be plain Mr. Obolensky. The title is part of me, something we kept over from Russia, but it has hurt me as much at it has helped me.

Jeers Bogus Aristocracy

"Once in New York city I was interested in a pretty girl. We used to go to night clubs. We had a lot of fun together. I didn't know that she was a rich girl; that hadn't entered my mind. Finally, a columnist in a tabloid hinted that I was a nobleman out for a rich wife. The girl dropped me like a hot cake. She didn't even give me time to explain."

He is the son of Prince Alexis Obolensky, a voice tutor in New York city.

The young man says he has seen so much bogus aristocracy in this country that he doesn't blame Americans for being wary of titles.

Learning From Ground Up

"Now you take an example of the bogus aristocracy," he laughed. "I knew Mike Romanoff, the famous imposter. Once in a night club when I was feeling good I offered to teach him Russian. When my father interviewed him for the authorities at Ellis Island and found that he could not speak Russian, the wily Mike said, 'that's nothing. The Romanoffs and the Obolenskys never spoke to each other.' He was a jolly fellow and a clever one, but he did immeasurable harm to the Russian refugees."

Alexis, who attended the University of Virginia, is learning American business methods, he says, from the "ground up."

Heaving a heavy box, Prince Alexis Obolensky smiles as he labors to learn business "from the ground up."

PICKETS ARRESTED

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 6 (AP)—Police arrested 110 women pickets today for heckling employes of a garment factory as they entered the plant, but later released all but four without filing charges against them.

Samuel S. White, said by police to be a union organizer, was held for investigation.

Optimism Felt For PWA Jobs

County Schools Head Returns From Dallas Feeling "Good Chances" Remain For Local Jobs At Frenship, Cooper

Cooper and Frenship rural schools have "good prospects" for additional PWA grants, County Superintendent Joseph R. Griggs reported Thursday on his return from Dallas, where he attended a meeting to discuss the state PWA situation.

A committee was to represent the meeting in Washington, seeking to secure additional funds for necessary Texas projects. Major E. A. Wood, of the state planning board, was to head the group.

Lubbock Figures Given

Lubbock county, Mr. Griggs said the committee was informed, has 119 skilled laborers and 42 semi-skilled, a total of 161. This district has 806 skilled and 435 semi-skilled laborers, a total of 1241 available workers. "This is more than enough," he added, "to take care of any building program now proposed."

County building projects include one at Cooper district No. 1 where a $40,000 bond issue would be supplemented by a $28,600 grant; at Frenship, where a $35,000 bond issue would be supplemented by the same amount of grant.

Last year the county made application for four projects and received two, the New Deal and Roosevelt buildings. In Texas, 1,152 projects were approved but only 382 completed.

Child Witnesses Slaying Of Pair

HOUSTON, Aug. 6. (AP)—A five-year-old girl was the lone eye witness to a tragedy in Barbers Hill, Chambers county hamlet, this morning in which J. O. Wimberly, 52, shot Mrs. B. F. Mangum to death and then turned a frontier type pistol on himself.

Little Jo Ann Jordan, Mrs. Mangum's niece, was the witness.

"Mr. Wimberly shot Aunt Shirley and then himself," the child said.

The shooting occurred in the kitchen of Wimberly's home. Both were killed almost instantly. Only a few feet separated the bodies as they lay on the kitchen floor.

Five shots were fired.

Gold-Lusting Party Hunting Again For Lost Nigger Mine

ALPINE, Aug. 6. (AP)—Origin of the legend of the "Lost Nigger" gold mine is unknown but the legend persists and at present another well-organized expedition is combing a small portion of the vast stretch of country south from here to the border. A year seldom passes without one or more optimistic groups setting out in search of quartz glittering with veins of virgin gold.

The story credits a negro with finding a location rich with the ore but something happened to him before he could guide a party to the spot. The story was related in a book by J. Frank Dobie, who taught school in Alpine a quarter of century ago.

Landon To Rap U. S. Spending

First Speeches Of Kansan To Be Delivered Soon; Higher Taxes Scare To Be Used By Republican Nominee

(By The Associated Press)

TOPEKA, Kas., Aug. 6.—Federal taxation and spending developed today as the probable subject of the West Middlesex, Pa., speech in which Governor Alf M. Landon will open his eastern campaign for the presidency.

This talk in the heart of the Mahoning Valley cluster of steel, coal and industrial activity was scheduled for Saturday afternoon, August 22. Two days later, Monday night, August 24, the Republican nominee plans to speak at Chautauqua, N. Y., boyhood vacation spot. On Wednesday night of the same week a major address is scheduled at Buffalo.

Nominee Kept Busy

Landon headquarters made known this sketch of the first campaign thrust into populous eastern territory as the nominee completed pressing state business and national political conferences preparatory to a combination work and recreation trip to his Estes Park, Colo., summer ranch. He is expected to return to Kansas for a short stop before traveling eastward.

Venue Change Battle Starts

Lovers Charged With Slaying Of Texas Official Hope To Move Scene Of Trial; Bond To Be Sought For Pair

(By The Associated Press)

CENTER, Aug. 6.—Witnesses who sought to bolster the contention of Mrs. Reable Childs and Terrance Bramlett, lovers accused of slaying the woman's husband, that they could not obtain a fair trial here, were subjected to a vigorous cross-examination at the venue change hearing today.

The defense asked the case be moved to Orange or San Augustine.

Because Morlie Childs, the slain man, had been Shelby county treasurer, the defense said public opinion was against the pair.

Lack Of Interest Claimed

District Attorney Wardlow Lane attempted in his cross-examination of seven witnesses to show that sentiment had died out since Childs' death and that there was no unusual interest in the case.

He said the element of mystery surrounding the slaying in the hours immediately following it had influenced public comment more than any prejudice against the defendants.

Defense attorneys announced they would file a habeas corpus writ at the conclusion of the hearing, in an attempt to obtain bail for the couple.

A shot through the bathroom window killed Childs, an invalid, in his home April 28.

Hale Roads Will Be Area's Boast

ABERNATHY, Aug. 6. (AP)—Southern Hale county expects to have one of the finest all-weather farm-to-market roads in the Panhandle when five federal relief projects, now underway, are completed.

The improved route follows a straight line west from Petersburg to Eagle Springs, where it intersects the road south from Cotton Center on the Lamb county line.

Depression Lightens At Port Lavaca As Lights Turned On

PORT LAVACA, Aug. 6. (AP)—The darkness of the depression has lifted from Port Lavaca streets.

Street lights in the business and residential districts, darkened in 1931 as an economy measure, have been turned on again.

TWO MEN KILLED

CLAREMORE, Okla., Aug. 6. (AP)—Two men were killed at a grade crossing a few miles southeast of here today when their automobile was struck by a southbound Missouri-Pacific freight train.

The dead were Ferd Janta, 52, a retired rancher living near Inola, and George Kroker, 32, who operated a general store at Inola.

It is estimated that approximately 10 per cent of the hay crop of the United States is destroyed by fire every year.

Bits Of News Gathered On Oil Development In Area

DECISION AWAITED

No decision as to future operations in the Bahan, Rhodes and Fitzpatrick No. 1 Henard, section 215, block L. John H. Gibson survey in Yoakum county had been made yesterday, after the wildcat had been shut down at 5,338 feet and a watchman placed on the job. It was reported that officials of the Honolulu and the Magnolia, interested financially in the operations, had stopped pulling of casing by drillers. It was reported first that 700 feet of water, presumably sulphur, had risen in the hole when bottomed at 5,338 feet. Later reports indicated the hole was being plugged. Oil company officials, visiting the place, stopped operations. P. F. Brown of the Honolulu is quoted as saying he was having a chemical analysis made of the purported sulphur water.

WATER RUNNING

Efforts to shut off water in the W. H. Kirk No. 1 of the Landreth Production corporation, in Gaines county, were still being made. The test is to be shot when water is cut off. The bottom of 4,870 feet was plugged back to 4,855 feet. One 16 hour test showed 120 barrels of oil. Location is in section 22, block A-21.

TEST GOING DOWN

Franklin Petroleum corporation's No. 1 Dickenson, in Roosevelt county, New Mexico, spudded in recently, was drilling below 500 feet early this week. It is the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 28, township, 3, range 30E, about 36 miles west of Clovis, N. M., and near Cottonwood Grove.

PLAINS DRILLERS BUSY

Drilling below 4,460 feet in anhydrite, was the latest report from the Stogner & Roosevelt No. 1 Googin, in section 215, block D, John H. Gibson survey, north of Plains, in Yoakum county.

NO FURTHER SHOW

No further show of oil or gas has been had in the C. H. Eubanks No. 1 of the Humble Oil & Refining Co., in Gaines county, south and west of Seminole, as it was reported drilling at 5,100 feet. It is in section 6, block A-X, public school land.

TO RESUME DRILLING

Drilling with a standard rig is expected to be resumed in the Cascade-Honolulu No. 1 Duggan, in Cochran county. New engine for the test was unloaded Wednesday at Whiteface. The location, center of labor 13, league 56, public school land, is nine miles southwest of Whiteface. C. J. Davidson is driller.

The force of wind increases with the square of the velocity. A 30-mile wind compares with a 10-mile wind as 900 compares with 100. For this reason, a small increase in velocity accounts for a great increase in wind damage.

Granddaughter of the original "Old Man Texas," made famous by Jack Knott cartoons in the Dallas News, Mary Emma Boyd of Iowa Park, is enrolled at Texas Technological college as a sophomore student in the division of arts and sciences, and holds a student assistantship in the registrar's office.

Waiting one morning in the News office for A. H. Belo with whom he was to go deer hunting, J. A. Boyd of Lancaster glanced up as Mr. Knott entered his office.

"There is the most typical Texas farmer I've ever seen," Knott remarked to a companion. Then and there he made a sketch of Boyd which he used as a model for the "Old Man Texas" of later cartoons.

Her grandfather is now 87 years old, Miss Boyd says, and still supervises his farms just out of Lancaster. He likes to talk about fishing and deer hunting, hobbies of earlier days.

We'll Bet This Expectant Dad Hopes The Report Will Continue To Be False One!

NORTH BAY, Ont., Aug., 6. (AP) (By Canadian Press)—North Bay and nearby Callander experienced a brief hubbub of excitement today with reports that quadruplets were born to a farmer's wife 15 miles from the home of the Dionne quintuplets. The reports that came from several sources were found incorrect when a visit was made to the little farm house.

The farmer was as surprised as his visitor, but admitted a birth was expected before morning—and he hoped a single birth!

Fear Labor War Following Split

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6. (AP)—Fear of a prolonged civil war in labor ranks over the conditional order of the American Federation of Labor Executive council suspending ten member unions was evidenced today by a dispute between rival leaders over the immediate effect of the action.

While war talk was soft pedaled, William Green, president of the federation, took issue with a committee for industrial organization estimate that suspension of the unions would split a "substantial majority" of central labor bodies.

About 1,000 of these central bodies—each representing all the local unions in a community—are scattered throughout the country. Reguarded by labor men as extremely important, they handle all local issues.

TURKS PLAN TREK

ANKARA (AP)—Nearly half a million Turks, established for generations in Rumania, will return to Turkey in a mass migration. The Turkish government, following negotiations with Rumania, has agreed to give the immigrants land, implements and money in return for what they are leaving behind in Rumania.

ADVISED TO EAT BRAN FOR HER CONSTIPATION*

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Helps Miss Hanson

Read this enthusiastic, voluntary letter: "Just a line to let you know how much I appreciate Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I was troubled with constipation.* I asked my doctor what to do. He said to eat bran.

"I tried other brands but they weren't so good, so I tried Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, and it is just wonderful. It makes delicious muffins, too."—Miss Agnes Hanson, 450 N. Cicero Ave., Chicago, Ill.

ALL-BRAN provides mild "bulk"—missing in the average meal. This delicious cereal also furnishes vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, and gently exercises and cleanses the system. It is often more effective than that found in fruits and vegetables, as it does not break down within the body. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron.

Isn't this natural food pleasanter than patent medicines? Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. If not relieved, see your doctor.

Sold by all grocers. ALL-BRAN is much more effective than part-bran products. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

Lovelock Thrills 105,000 Olympians By Dazzling Race

New Zealand Man Flawless; Kansan Comes In Second

Glenn Cunningham Runs Greatest Race Of His Career, But Curly-Haired Student Laughs At His Efforts; Italian Defending Champion Can Do No Better Than Third

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer

BERLIN, Aug 6—Gliding flawlessly to a world record triumph at a speed which, if sustained, would have approximated a 4:03 mile, New Zealand's John Edward Lovelock raced off with the classic Olympic 1,500 meter championship today.

The curly-haired, supremely confident little medical student staggered the world's foremost milers by uncorking a final 300 meter sprint, standing off the lion-hearted challenge of the great Glenn Cunningham and clipping a full second off Bill Bonthron's world record time of 3:48.8.

* * *

JOHN EDWARD LOVELOCK

Lovelock actually looked over his shoulder with a broad smile during the stretch drive that carried him to the tape nearly five meters ahead of the Lawrence, Kans., star in 3:47.8.

Cunningham Beats Record, Too

Cunningham ran the greatest race of his career, himself under the listed world record as he was clocked in 3:48.4, but there was no runner in the world who could match nimble Jack this afternoon, including Luigi Beccali, Italy's defending champion, and Archie San Romani, America's "dark horse," who ran third and fourth.

Lovelock's triumph thrilled an overflow crowd of 105,000, including Chancellor Hitler, and climaxed the most spectacular day thus far of the 11th Olympiad.

Towns Sweeps Hurdling

America's hurdling sweep was completed by Forrest (Spec) Towns of Augusta, Ga., who flashed over the high timber, equalling his own new world mark of 14.1 seconds in the semi-finals and then out-footing Great Britain's Don Finlay and Fritz Pollard jr., Chicago negro, in a 14.2 seconds final.

No records were beaten in the javelin final, but Germany's handsome blond Garhardt Stoeck broke the Scandinavian monopoly for the first time in Olympic history, beating Finnish favorites, including the world record-holder, Matti Jarvinen, who wound up fifth. Stoeck's toss measured 71.84 meters, 235 feet 8 13-32 inches.

Jap Star Breaks Record

Japan's Naoto Tajima hopped, stepped and jumped to a new world record of 16 meters, 52 feet 5 15-16 inches in the triple jump. The sons of Nippon finished one-two, whipping another world-record holder, Jack Metcalfe of Australia, at his own game. Metcalfe placed third as Roland Romero of Welsh, La., was a good fifth.

The lone women's final, the 80-meter hurdles, marked Italy's first triumph, Trebisonda Valla getting the verdict by inches after a photo-finish in which four girls were timed in 11.7 seconds.

New Olympic marks have been set in 11 of 16 men's track and field events completed.

Four Records Smashed

World records have been achieved in four events and equalled in one other. Thus far Americans have contributed six of 10 new records, carried off nine first places and spread-eagled their rivals with a total of 153 points. Germany holds down second place with 54 3-4 points.

There was never any doubt about the outcome of the "metric mile" once Lovelock took command on the back stretch of the last lap.

Following the pace alternately set by Germany's Fredrich Schaumberg, Cunningham and Sweden's Eric Ny, briefly Lovelock ran the last 800 meters in the amazing time of 1:57.6, including a 300 meter "kick" that none except Jack knew he posessed. Instead of waiting for the last 75 meters to unfurl his characteristic finish Lovelock poured it on most of the last lap and there was nothing the others could do but chase him home.

Venzke Finishes Ninth

Cunningham safely held second, beating Beccali, who got only a bronze medal for beating his own former Olympic record two full seconds.

San Romani outran Canada's dusky Phil Edwards and Great Britain's John Cornes, 1932 runner-up.

Gene Venzke of Philadelphia never was a serious contender and finished ninth.

The only question about the 110-meter hurdle final concerned Towns' ability to do 14.0 flat. That apparently is within his grasp if he settles down to his hurdling work. He needed his characteristic finishing rush to offset a slightly shaky start.

Pollard led for the first 80 meters but tripped over the next to last hurdle and finished a close third behind Britain's Finlay.

Teuton Thrills Great Crowd

The crowd got a thrill out of the homebred Stoeck beating the Finns at their own spear-tossing game. The winner's Mark was nearly five meters short of Jarvinen's world record of 251 feet 6 inches as well as under the Finnish ace's Olympic mark, but that didn't matter to the throng.

The Teutons have been getting a terrific thrill out of the first triumphs ever tasted in Olympic men's track and field competition, but one optimistic newspaper commented they would likely win the games this time if Americans didn't have "their black auxiliaries," referring, no doubt, to the triumphs of negroes Jesse Owens, John Woodruff and Cornelius Johnson.

Besides the crowd is rapidly acquiring the whistling habit, as manifested in yesterday's twilight closing of Earle Madows' victory in the pole vault, while America's stars are competing or being crowned and this hasn't created much international good will.

Hardin-Simmons Star Sixth

Alton Terry, Hardin-Simmons university student from Brady, Texas, placed sixth in the javelin throw with a heave of 67.15 meters, 220 feet 3 3-4 inches. Lee Bartlett, Union City, Mich., three-time Olympian, placed 15th with 61.15 meters, 200 feet 7 17-32 inches.

Unless Great Britain's speedsters can stop them, Uncle Sam's dusky 400-meter fliers, Jimmy Luvalle of Los Angeles and Archie Williams of Oakland, Calif., are likely to annex the sixth triumph for the American negro contingent tomorrow.

They came through two trials together with Harold Smallwood of Ventura, Calif., as a dozen sprinters qualified for the semi-finals.

Rain Hampers Net Schedule

Parker And Mangin Advance, But Hall And Harris, Two Favorites, Ousted; Doubles Teams Move Up

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 6. (AP)—Two of the favorites, Frankie Parker and Gregory Mangin, found they could play effective tennis in the rain and fog today but two others were eliminated in the quarter final round of the club's annual invitation tournament.

Parker conquered 18-year old Bobby Riggs, 9-7, 8-6. Mangin, national indoor titleholder, defeated John McDiarmid, the Texan who won the Seabright tournament last week, 8-6, 6-3.

Favorites Tumbled

The favorites who fell by the wayside were J. Gilbert Hall, veteran and eighth ranking player of the country, and Charley Harris. Eugene Smith, a newcomer to eastern tournaments, trounced hall, 6-4, 6-4. Arthur Hendrix of Lakeland, Fla., who previously had lost to Harris four times on clay courts, conquered his hottest Florida rival, 4-6, 6-0, 8-6.

Four favored teams, Riggs, and Yayne Sabin, Hall and Sidney Wood, Mangin and Parker and McDiarmid and Hal Surface reached the semi-finals of the men's doubles. The mixed doubles event also got under way with 16 teams playing first-round matches.

EAST HAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 6. (AP)—Rain today washed out the matches in the Maidstone club's invitation tennis tournament for women.

The semi-finals will be played tomorrow with Theodosia Smith and Mrs. John Van Ryn matching strokes with Helen Pederson.

To Harold Crites of the championship Tip-Top baseball club goes the honor of having led hitters in the recent tournament at Parris field—and the award of a baseball glove from Loftin Burnett, in charge of the sporting goods department at Sherrod Bros. Hardware company.

A team mate, Henderson, ranked second.

Only players who engaged in all games played by their teams were figured into the batting contest, as provided by rules earlier announced, and members of clubs that earned first, second or third place money.

Slaughter Sinks 145-Yard Pitch At Country Club

Country club's new grass-green layout is less than a week old, but the fun has started.

Jo Dick Slaughter, one of the section's most polished golfers, did not score a hole-in-one—but he did the nearest equivalent.

On the 400-yard eighth hole, he hooked his tee shot into the left rough. His lie was 145 yards, approximately, from the pin. He swung a No. 6 iron and watched the ball hit on the green and bounce.

Not finding the ball, Slaughter and those playing with him, Dr. J. T. Krueger, Dr. Hooper Stiles and W. D. Girand, began a systematic search of the rough.

They would have been looking yet, possibly, had someone not had the forethought to look in the hole. You guessed it. The ball was there!

The shot, made late Thursday, marked the first time a second shot has been run down on a par four hole since the new layout was completed.

A large irrigation project in China, taking water from the Hwang Ho river, is near completion and will reclaim 335,000 acres of arid land.

Texas Drawing Many Tourists

Highway Department Keeps Tab On Count; California Best Customer As Dallas And Ft. Worth Shows Get Crowds

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 6.—J. B. Early, state highway maintenance engineer, said today that automobiles bringing tourists had been entering Texas this summer at the rate of about 45,000 per month.

The cars travel an average of 540 miles in Texas, he said.

Early gathered these statistics through 13 information offices established by the highway department at border points on the principal roads.

A. & M. Boys Used

The stations, manned by uniformed Texas A. & M. Cadets, supply information on road conditions, points of interest, state parks, centennial celebrations, hotel accomodations and the condition of the Pan-American highway to Mexico City.

Early said attendants at the stations counted a weekly average of 1,600 cars which halted for information. Counts showed that one automobile of every seven stopped.

Centennial celebrations at Dallas and Fort Worth have been the principal attractions.

California has sent more tourists here than any other state except those which are adjoining, Early said.

Bus Line Planned For Buff Students

AMARILLO, Aug. 6. (Special) — In order that Amarillo students attending West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon may have inexpensive transportation to and from school everyday, a college bus system will be operated between Amarillo and Canyon during the coming school year, Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the college, announced here.

Students will be picked up in the morning at numerous designated bus stations in Amarillo, and returned after school in the afternoon. If there is a large enough demand for mid-day service, another bus probably will be added to transport half-day students.

New equipment has been ordered for the bus line and will be ready for operation when the fall session opens, Dr. Hill said. A 36-passenger bus will be used on the line.

Permit to operate the college bus has been obtained from the state railroad commission. No passengers except college students may be carried.

Fare for daily round trips will be 25 cents or $21.60 a semester. Semester coupon books may be purchased.

Odd Fellows are expected from Sudan, Littlefield, Brownfield and Tahoka, N. M. Goodin, secretary of the Lubbock Rebekah lodge said last night.

The formation of an encampment is a step higher in the lodge from the present organization now in Lubbock and usually consists of a group of several lodges. An encampment is maintained at Plainview and another at Big Spring in this section of the state.

Until the antlers of a deer reach maturity, they are soft, spongy, warm, and full of blood. When they reach full growth, circulation ceases and the antlers become hard. The velvety covering then is shed and the deer becomes the owner of a polished pair of weapons.

Model Of Nude Memorial To Women Pioneers Is Back In The News—But No One's Forced To Read About It!

AUSTIN, Aug. 6. (AP)—Texans may have opportunity soon to view the famous model of a memorial to the pioneer woman, done in the nude, which shocked persons in large numbers several months ago.

The Board of Control, the state's business office, heard that the controversial bit of statuary, along with one fully clothed, would be displayed at the Centennial exposition in Dallas.

It gave thanks the showing would be at Dallas, and not Austin. The board would prefer to stick to business and let others argue the propriety of the memorial, slated for erection on the campus of the State College for Women at Denton.

The model originally was selected by an art jury named by the board out of a broad competition. After an uproar in newspaper columns and capitol corridors, the model was shipped back to its creator in New York, for draping and certain other changes.

First it was reported "lost" en route; then it was reported found. The board won't mind what becomes of it, so long it isn't brought back to Austin.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6. — The anger of Attorney-General Cummings at a Secret service investigation of his G-Men was cooled today by demotion of two high Secret service officials.

The disciplinary action followed Treasury investigation of reports that some Secret service agents had undertaken an inquiry to determine whether the slaying of John Dillinger and Eddie Green, a Dillinger gangster, were necessary.

The Evolution Of History

WITH the fading of war's one-time glamour into the dull realities of mud and machinery, there slowly passes also war's paramount lure for the historian. Instead of the 15 decisive battles, whose stories used to occupy so sure a place among the half dozen books on the lower shelf of the great American what-not, modern science will describe, perhaps, the 15 decisive epidemics.

The first step is a comprehensive study of the effects of health and disease on American history, to The Morning Avalanche a welcome move, for of all the factors that effect the ebb and flow of national influence there is not one more potent than the ebb and flow of national health.

Like other dangerous practices, prophecy is always alluring. It is impossible to resist guessing what may be discovered. The important factors, some guess, will not be the obviously destructive disease like malaria or yellow fever. Their importance was geographical; retarding one section but affecting relatively little the main currents of national life. Nor is the greatest historical influence to be ascribed to occasional spectacular epidemics like the influenza of 1919. Like one lost battle in a campaign, these are disasters soon over and soon repaired.

Things likely to deflect far more powerfully the currents of history are those almost imperceptible rises and falls of national health, which occur from decade to decade. For instance, social philosophers believe the nearly two decades since the World war has been one of improving national health. Whether this upward swing is permanent nobobdy can say with certainty. It is up to the people and their public agencies to do all within their power to keep the trend headed in its present direction.

NO; NOT THE DEAD

When Stanley Baldwin, addressing Canadian veterans in Westminster Hall, said there would never be another war could the men killed in the World War come back, he did not ring true. There was something specious about what he said. It was too much like passing the buck from the living to the dead.

"Many of the troubles of this world," he said, "are due to the fact that we have lost many of our best men who today would have become leaders. If the dead could come back today there would be no war. They would never let the younger generation taste what they did. They all tasted the bitter cup of war. They drank it to the dregs, and even after all these years the dead are doing their work."

Is it not more truly to be said that work of the dead is done? That which is now at hand is for the living. The dead may seem to raise their skeleton hands, to parade in their shrouds, to shout their voiceless protests against the war follies of the moment. Verily the dead do not have to come back; they are here. But the living are blind and deaf; they refuse to see, neither will they hear.

The responsiblility for the present and for what the present may impose on the future can not be so easily shifted as Premier Baldwin implies. The dead have provided the lesson from the past. The living refuse to heed it. And so there will be others to die and always there will be lessons learned and unlearned.

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON

CLIMBED MT. SHASTA ON HORSEBACK

The only horse ever taken to the top of Mt. Shasta, 14,161 feet, was ridden by Miss Alice Cousins, August 18, 1893, accompanied by William Been and Tom Watson, both men afoot. While human beings can easily become accustomed to such altitudes, domestic animals cannot. This horse died soon after returning to the foot of the mountain.

"BIRTHDAY" JOHNSON

Mr. A. A. "Birthday" Johnson, who conducts an insurance business in Los Angeles, never attempts to remember acquaintances by name, but never forgets their birthdays. In the 11 years since 1925, "Birthday" had catalogued in his mind a total of over 20,000 birth dates. Instead of calling a person by his name when meeting him on the street or when calling him by telephone, Mr. Johnson greets him by giving his birth date. It is not unusual to hear him greet a group of men, "Hello February 17th, May 21st, January 28th, November 11th," and so on through the crowd.

VALUE OF CARNATIONS

Allwood Brothers, carnational specialists of Haywards Heath, Sussex, England, write me: "We often wonder whether the great public realized what a tremendous amount of more-valuable-than-gold-material is wrung out of the soil in a simple Sussex village each year. The price of gold is about $35.00 an ounce, but the very best fertilized carnation seed as sent out by us in quantities all over the world is worth $700 an ounce, or $11,200 per pound."

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ANN HAMILTON, pretty young secretary in a large business office, goes to a travel agency to make plans for her two-weeks vacation.

BILL WARE, travel bureau employe, who has arranged other vacation trips for her, tries to persuade her to go to Lake Racine. Ann thinks she prefers the seashore.

For the first time Ann notices that Bill is a good-looking young man. Because she is rushed for time he asks if he can come to her home that evening to finish planning the trip. Ann agrees.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER II

William Ware, the travel agent, called at the little apartment Ann shared with another girl at 8 that evening. The girls had scarcely put the dinner dishes away when he rang. They still had their aprons on.

"Oh!" Ann breathed. "Id almost forgotten. Alice, you'll have to run on alone to see the movie. That young man from the travel bureau is going to try to change my mind about going to the seashore. He thinks I ought to go to Lake Racine."

Alice eyed her knowingly. "Are you sure this hasn't all the marks of a budding romance?"

"Of course not!" Ann said. "It merely saves me time. He's only the clerk there. No romance about him. I'm going to the seashore to catch my knight in shining armor."

Alice let William Ware in. Ann could tell by her glance that she approved him. But young Mr. Ware was very business-like with his satchel. He went to the desk-table and started taking out folders and leaflets, arranging them in neat rows. His talk abounded with enthusiam and salesmanship.

But when he turned he saw Ann smiling at him. He looked around and saw that the other girl had gone. Then, suddenly, his whole manner changed. The salesmanship vanished, and he was laughing with her.

"After the day's work is over it's hard to get out of harness," he said.

Then he talked less glibly, less like a salesman.

His manner became almost awkward but it was an attractive awkwardness because of his clean-cut good looks. His blue eyes held a curious light in them.

"Mr. Ware, must I really go to Lake Racine?" Ann said, eyeing him askance. "I had planned to go to the seashore, but if you insist—"

• • •

She was laughing at him. He flushed deeply, and she was sorry for having hurt him.

"Call me Bill," he said. "All day long in the office nobody calls me anything but 'Mr. Ware.' I'm human, too. I like to be with pretty girls."

"Oh!" Ann said archly. Somehow she hadn't been considering him in a romantic light. Out of sheer curiosity she let her eyes meet his again. She found it hard to escape his impetuous regard.

Perhaps he was lonely. Ann had known loneliness in a city teeming with millions. It was truly hard to meet the right people—the people who wouldn't use you, or consider themselves used by your intrusion into their lives. A city, she knew, can be the lonliest place in the world.

"I haven't had much time for dates," he went on, still flushing a little. "Too busy at my job. I've always had to be on my toes, better than the guys who were working under me. Besides, I had a kid brother in high school. Supported him for six years." His eyes held a glow of pride. "Now he's through school and has gone to work. I have more time for frivolous things."

"You think girls are — frivolous things?" Ann said, smiling at him. For some reason she wanted to tease him. "By the way, are you trying to sell me a trip to Lake Racine or are you trying to sell me—yourself?"

He flushed again, and began to apologize. "I'm sorry. You know, I'm not at the office any longer—you're a pretty girl—I almost forgot—"

She eyed him sternly again. "Oh! Well, let's get down to business."

"Yes!" he said hastily. "Yes!" He began fingering expense sheets and travel folders. "I suppose you want the regular all-expense vacation. It's the simplest way. Pay it all in one lump, and then enjoy your vacation."

"It will have to be less this year," Ann told him. "We had to take a cut in the office."

"Oh, I'm sorry!" he said. He looked at her for several moments. "Gee, that's tough! I mean—just last week I got a raise. When I get back from my vacation — it's my first in six years — I'm to be advanced to the position of travel consultant." He smiled a little wearily. "It's just a title in the office, but it pays more. I can begin to think about—"

She smiled again. "Frivolous things?"

"You're making fun of me," he said, and his look fell.

• • •

She was sympathetic and sorry for him now. He really wasn't trying to be flip or take advantage of this business engagement. Ann had known young men who would have used every specious advantage like this to further romance on the fly. Now she began to see Bill Ware in a new light. At least he was sincere.

"I think I will go up to Lake Racine again," she said. "Your talk has been very convincing."

His voice was eager now. "Your vacation does come the first two weeks in August, doesn't it? That's when I take mine there."

"When I went back to the office this afternoon," she said, "I found that my vacation comes in July. I'm sorry."

He seemed almost intolerably hurt. All his efforts seemed suddenly to have no meaning. He fingered the folders abstractedly. "Oh — I'm sorry, too. I thought maybe you and I—"

She couldn't bear to witness his disappointment. He looked crestfallen, unhappy, like a small, frustrated boy.

He was a nice boy, once he cast off the aura of the business office. But he was only the boy who worked behind the desk in a travel agency. She saw him almost every day in the year, as she walked up the street at lunch hour. She would never have let him enter her romantic dreams.

Ann had in mind a vacation romance—not the swift, heady kind, but the real thing. A romantic love, something that would last. Her eager mind conjured up scenes on moonlit moutain lakes. The men one met on vacation had a very special aura about them, like knights in shining armor.

But now she said, "I'm sorry—Bill."

His eyes lighted up. He and Ann seemed no longer to be miles apart. He began to talk about himself again.

"All these years I've planned other people's vacations. I've enjoyed their trips—in my imagination. I suppose I have a good imagination now. My idea of a swell vacation always included a girl—"

• • •

Ann put out her hand with a low boyish swing, and said, "There are lots of girls! You draw up the papers and I'll drop by your office tomorrow noon to pay the full amount. You know what I can afford—a little less than last year."

Bill stood up, his eyes wide, because he was afraid she was putting him out of her life forever. He fairly blurted out, "Say, I don't want to take up your time but if you're going to a movie, why won't you go with me?"

She looked at him closely, taking his measure. He was too naive and sincere to embarrass her. His abrupt manner and awkwardness rather pleased her.

"All right," he said, shrugging her shoulders. "Sold again! Greta

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON

By Ray Tucker

PRIVATE reports from Topeka suggest that the Republicans' presidential caravan is lumbering along in a slow and awkward start. It furnishes a strange contrast to the smart, smooth management of Governor Landon's campaign for the presidential nomination.

G.O.P. higher-ups can't understand how his advisers permitted Mr. Landon to enunciate a labor policy which required subsequent explanation and elaboration. They comment critically on the different tones in the Landon and Knox acceptance speeches. Even G.O.P. newspapers express surprise at Mr. Knox's condemnation of New Deal policies which the standard bearer approved, though promising to administer them more efficiently and economically.

Democrats will also headline Topeka's handling of the drouth problem. While the newspapers described Governor Landon's relief activities, Senator Capper bombarded Washington for more funds, underscoring the hostile argument that federal largess enables the Republican nominee to balance his state budget. Closeup observers conclude that too many inexperienced cooks have a finger in the presidential pie Mr. Landon is trying to bake.

• • •

WEIGHT: Governor Landon's advisers on banking indicate that he will pursue an ultra-conservative course in this field if he occupies the White House. His most valued consultants appear to be Rep. John B. Hollister, ranking Republican on the Banking and Currency committee, and Benjamin Anderson, Chase National bank economist.

Both men are extremely able, extremely conservative. Mr. Hollister led the fight against the 1935 measure vesting new power over banks in the Federal Reserve. He stood out for the gold dollar, against devaluation. Mr. Anderson performed the same role outside Congress. He is credited with converting W. W. Aldrich, Chase president, from an advocate to an opponent of the 1935 measure. Mr. Aldrich originally signed a bankers' report approving the reforms but later warned that they would create a "financial despotism."

This issue may not arouse the mass of voters. But a Hollister-Anderson-Aldrich policy will appeal to the majority of the nation's bankers. And they still carry a lot of weight in a political scrap, especially in small towns where banker and borrower call each other by their first names—or nicknames.

CONVICTION: President Roosevelt has not given up hope of carrying out several vast projects which the last session of Congress tossed overboard as impractical and extravagant.

He promised Downeasters that, as President or private citizen, he counted on seeing the tides harnessed at Passamaquoddy. He also intends to go ahead with the plan for planting a belt of trees 100 miles wide from the Canadian to the Mexican borders. FDR set aside funds from the original work relief appropriation for this anti-drouth hedge, but ex-Controller General McCarl ruled that the money could not be spent in that way. An attempt to revive it at the last session failed, even Democrats balking.

But F. A. Silcox, head of the forest service, has been sent to Europe to study similar projects in the Scandinavian and Balkan peninsulas, where tree belts are reported to have proved their value. All Mr. Roosevelt's experts say their studies show the trick can be duplicated in areas now stricken by the drouth. The idea may prove more attractive to the next Congress in view of wind-and-water ravages in the West.

• • •

CROSSED: New Deal administrators have found a "bug" in a law that was whipped into shape in a hurry to remake the world. This time it's the 1936 tax bill.

Here's the problem: Under Section 77b of the bankruptcy law struggling corporations are permitted to go into court and grab a chance for survival by merging or reorganizing or scaling down their debts. In many instances, however, the merger or reorganization may result in a net gain of income—income badly needed by the new corporation in its comeback attempt. But under the new tax bill the collectors immediately seize upon that revenue and thereby nullify the provisions of the act designed to give a lift to the weaker fellows.

Fancy and higher-priced lawyers can usually figure out an exchange of property for securities which will furnish a tax loophole. But many corporations seeking relief from debts and taxes are so broke that they can't afford to hire ex-members of Congress who have hung out their shingles on Pennsylvania avenue.

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

NEW YORK political sharps note a curious contrast between Democratic campaign tactics in the nation and in New York state. Both are under the personal direction of Jim Farley, and he evidently feels that different circumstances call for different timing.

Nationally the Democratic party organization is marking time and allowing the G.O.P. to set the pace. Apart from more or less routine comebacks to Republican sallies, there will be nothing important stirring before September. The idea is to let the enemy grab off the early headlines and concentrate on a driving finish. In New York state, on the contrary, organization work is being speeded up way ahead of the usual schedule. Party workers not ordinarily mobilized before October are being told to step on the gas.

The point is that the Democratic high command is seriously worried about losing New York's 47 electoral votes and feels that intensive work is the only hope of success—Lehman or no Lehman. It doesn't necessarily follow that Farley & Co. are complacent about the national outcome—but in the broader arena there is a better chance that the Republicans will make mistakes if they have the stage to themselves.

• • •

TEACHERS: The American Federation of Teachers—affiliated with the Federation of Labor—is out to put Governor Landon on the spot. There has already been some preliminary sniping from this source, but the real barrage is scheduled to begin when the Federation of Teachers convention meets in Philadelphia on August 17th. Over and over again Landon will be forcefully asked whether budgets should be balanced at the expense of education and whether he intends to accept Hearst's definition of academic freedom. The low salaries of Kansas teachers will be headlined.

The group will have strong support in this campaign of harassment from both the Green and Lewis wings of the Federation of the Labor. It will also have the backing—at least moral—of the two other leading organizations of teachers — the Progressive Education association and the larger and more conservative American Education association.

It has never been demonstrated that teachers have any political influence worth mentioning, but the Federation hopes to change that by having teachers pound away at their story to parents. Leading educators are not exactly wild about Roosevelt, but they do feel they have a better chance of retaining freedom of speech and of improving their economic status with him than with Landon.

• • •

ROCKET: Some of Wall Street's shrewdest market operators foresee a major boom in stocks — more spectacular and more dangerous than the steady rise of the past 18 months. They base their prophecy on two factors—the casual manner in which the market has shrugged off all kinds of bad news and the tremendous supply of money still available for investment and uninterested in bonds because of low yields.

As to the former, any one of the following developments of recent months would probably have knocked the stock market for a loop if it were at all susceptible to bearish influences.

1. The raising of margin requirements by the Securities Exchange commission and the Federal Reserve board.
2. The Reserve board's move to cut excess reserves drastically.
3. The SEC investigation of investment trusts.
4. The drouth.
5. The threat of chaos in Europe.

Despite all these combined, stock prices have continued their serene climb.

TARZAN AND THE LEOPARD MEN, No. 11

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

R-11

Despite his resolution to kill the stranger, Orando's curiosity was intrigued. "What would you do if I should release you?" he inquired uncertainly. "You are a hunter," Tarzan answered; "so I should bring you near to the meat animals, and ward off the danger of savage beasts."

Tarzan's reply was carefully calculated. He knew the superstitions of the natives. He knew that each believed his fate controlled. Orando cried out in startled awe: "But that is what my 'muzimo' is supposed to do — protect me and help me hunt."

"I am your 'muzimo!'" Tarzan said quietly after a dramatic pause. Orando was speechless. Now he understood why the stranger was unafraid of death. He was immortal, invulnerable. The ape-man immediately followed up his advantage. "Release me!"

Orando hastened to comply. It was not difficult to raise the branch and release Tarzan. But the Jungle Lord was not yet free. He was now to face a perilous test of the powers he claimed as Orando's protector. High in a tree, a panther crouched to spring upon the black warrior!

If you wish to be classed as a simple wasteful man keep on wasting the rainwater as run-off. Water is our greatest problem here. If we waste part of what we get, we will continue to have poor crop yields. Terrace and save the moisture in the soil; beat the summer drouth.

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 6. (AP)—A late flurry of buying in the rails brightened the stock market today after industrials had pushed irregularly forward for gains of fractions to a point or so.

Brokers said that while the financial community was in a buying mood from the start, owing to favorable trade and industrial news, share buyers had combed over the list carefully.

Following an irregularly lower opening aircrafts showed spirit on the advance. The ability of this group to rally after Wednesday's declines helped put followers of the motors in a buying mood.

U. S. Steel up 1⅛ at 66 and Bethlehem up 1½ at 56 were leaders. The aircrafts, to the good fractions to a point or so, were represented by Douglas at 74, Curtiss Wright "A" at 20½ and Boeing at 30½.

Motors and rails rising fractions to more than a point were Chrysler at 118, General Motors at 68¾, Santa Fe at 84½, Baltimore and Ohio at 21½, Illinois Central at 24½ and New York Central at 41.

The Associated Press average of 60 shares advanced .3 to 68.1.

TEXAS DIVIDEND

NEW YORK, Aug. 6. (AP)—Directors of the Texas Corporation today declared an extra dividend of 25 cents a share and the regular quarterly dividend of that amount, both payable Oct. 1 to stock of record Sept. 4.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 6. (AP)—With activity limited to a few scattered purchases by the trade, the cotton market staged a dull performance today.

A better tone prevailed however and options held above the previous close for the entire trading period, ending from 3 to 5 points higher.

Oct. finished at 11.93, Dec. at 11.86, March at 11.90 and May at 12 cents even.

Better cables from Liverpool aided domestic markets during the early trading and at one time all options were within a point or so of the 12-cent level.

It was a typical pre-bureau session, professionals on the sidelines.

A little flurry of buying developed late in the day when reports reached the ring that the cotton cooperatives had revised their [illegible]-bale crop estimate downward.

While the cooperative executives refused to comment on this report, informed sources said that the new figure would be around 12,000,000 bales.

COTTON PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 6. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton at ten Southern spot markets today was 11.83.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 6. (AP)—Cotton showed a further advance today on some trade buying and rather more active covering. December after selling up to 12.00 at the start, eased off to 11.92 but advanced to 12.04 in late trading with the general market closing steady at net gains of 5 to 11 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 2 to 4 points in response to relatively favorable Liverpool cables. After the opening demand had been supplied, prices eased to about yesterday's closing quotations under further scattering liquidation. Later they advanced on covering which became more active in late dealings.

At best, active months showed net gains of about 7 to 14 points and closed within 2 or 3 points of this on most positions. Reports of continued dry, hot weather in Oklahoma, an improved technical position following recent heavy liquidation and a tendency to scale down recent big crop ideas in some quarters were considered factors in the rally.

Exports today 7,150, making a total of 57,030 for the season. Port receipts 1,082. U. S. port stocks 1,301,811.

COMMISSION ENJOINED

DALLAS, Aug. 6. (AP)—The Texas Railroad commission was enjoined from interfering with the transportation of 4,000 barrels of oil owned by the T. W. Roberson refining company, Kilgore, in an order issued today by Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson.

It has been estimated that each census in England costs $1,500,000.

"Gasoline" Gus Burleson's Not So Old, After All; He Hurls No-Run, No-Hit Game

There is elasticity, as well as whip, left in "Gasoline" Gus Burleson, veteran Henderson manager who is well known in this section for his hurling several years ago, the Associated Press reported.

Pitching Thursday night, Burleson was not touched for a single hit and he shut out Kilgore. The score was 10 to 0, and only three Braves reached base, two of them being retired by double plays.

A trio of bases on balls robbed Burleson of a perfect game. The aging hurler fanned 16 batsmen. He was caught by Dick Ratliff of Littlefield, former Lubbock Hubber.

Loyalists

lodge the foe in one or two crushing advances, loyal forces settled down for prolonged warfare in the Guadarama mountains outside Madrid.

Rebels Well Fortified

Aviation chiefs asserted enemy positions were so well fortified, it was highly improbable the fascists could be blasted out before the better part of two months.

Months of preparation by the fascists were indicated. It was believed Jose Maria Gil Robles, as minister of war, laid plans last fall for the revolution and mapped strategic positions.

Gil Robles, aviation chiefs said, deliberately ordered maneuvers in the mountain region to acquaint troops loyal to him with the area and even then began building bomb-proof gun emplacements. These later were completed secretly, making necessary a slow, cautious advance by the government.

Increasing use of aerial warfare was ordered by the loyalist liberals—bombardment "without mercy." Thirty airplanes were dispatched from Madrid to strengthen air squadrons on the northern seaboard.

Fascists, too, hoped to battle in the air but they lacked a formidable air armada.

Formal Notice Sent To Spain

U. S. Government Warns That American Property Must Be Protected; Claims Against Spain Are Looming

impelled the State department to make its formal representations.

Although no official explanation was forthcoming, it was learned on trustworthy authority that one of the factors prompting the move was the recent publication in Madrid of press reports interpreted here as being fraught with grave consequences for the future of private property in general in the Spanish republic.

These reports, reaching Washington through official channels but not officially confirmed, were to the effect that the seizure of abandoned factories would be permanent and that no appeal would be admissible.

France Hastily Drafting Text Of Neutrality Note

PARIS, Aug. 6. (AP)—France tonight hastily drafted the text of an eight-power agreement for non-interference in Spain's civil war to forestall any aid to rebel forces by Germany or Italy.

Authoritative sources indicated the government's action was hastened by the decision of Reichsfuehrer Hitler to protest to the leftist government of Barcelona against the reported execution of four German citizens.

An article in a Rome newspaper urging recognition of the rebel government also was a factor.

Italy Raises Question

The question raised by Italy asking distinction between non-intervention and neutrality will be answered in the Freench text, officials indicated, by clauses withholding recognition of the rebel government and forbidding private industries to sell war supplies to either force in Spain.

The powers agreed in principle tonight were France, Great Britain, Germany, Russia, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Czecho-Slovakia. Portugal's attitude was not yet apparent.

Germany had not replied formally, but diplomatic sources said "adhesions or opinions explicitly favorable" were received.

Russia Is Slapped

Italy's reply, with reservations, raised the question whether sympathetic expressions in some countries had not already constituted "a clamorous, dangerous form of intervention"—an apparent slap at leftist France and communist Russia.

Italy asked also what effect the neutrality pledge would have on private interests.

Russia imposed two conditions to her acceptance: Portugal must be included, and "certain states" must halt immediately "all assistance given to the rebels."

The latter limitation was seen in French circles as a flat charge of fascist leanings by Germany and Italy.

The appearance of Italian planes, allegedly carrying arms to rebel troops in Morocco, and a "courtesy call" to rebel headquarters by German naval officers spurred France to propose the non-intervention program.

War Is Feared

Widespread European war might result, the French predicted, if governments took a hand in the Spanish conflict.

It was feared, French circles said, that fascist Italy and nazi Germany might support the rebellion with its self-announced program to set up a military dictatorship and build a huge army in Spain.

Drouth To Boost Taxes, Is Claim

CHICAGO, Aug. 6. (AP) — Rising taxes were forecast tonight by Ernest Hahne, Northwestern university economist, as a probable result of the drouth.

Basing his prediction on the economic effects of dry spells of 1934 and previous years, Hahne said the country could expect:

1. An increase in taxes to support the needy and unemployed.

Reduced crops, he said have already created a shortage in the demand for farm hands with the result that the jobless migrate to the cities and go on the relief rolls.

2. In the drouth states, real estate tax payments are likely to fall, he added, forcing either an increase in local levies or curtailment of the functions of local government such as schools and police.

3. "Invisible taxes" in the form of higher prices for food and an increased cost of living are likely.

The economist explained that short crops not only boost costs of eatables, but affect "certain manufactured products."

Texas Steins Go Dry; Watermelon Season Credited

AUSTIN, Aug. 6. (AP)—Texans drank less beer than expected last month and the reason given by experts was watermelons.

Figures compiled by the Liquor Control board showed $183,610.49 collected in beer taxes during July, a gain of only one-half of one per cent over the preceding month.

Walter Bock, manager of the Texas Brewers' Institute, said that "this failure of beer sales to increase undoubtedly is traceable to the watermelon season, which reached a peak in July."

Stalin Sees Soviet Youth's Might

Eastern Colorado Ripped By Floods

PUEBLO, Colo., Aug. 6. (AP)—Flood waters swept through Eastern Colorado tonight, leaving heavy damage at the Colorado State hospital where 200 insane patients were evacuated when buildings were theratened.

Two cottages at the hospital were undermined and swept into the Fountain river as it cut a deep wash into the hospital yard, while eight other small buildings toppled into the muddy water.

Authorities said no deaths occurred. A fleet of trucks and cars removed the patients.

The stream swirled out of its banks after a cloudburst last night, latest of a series of intermittent storms in Central Colorado the past 13 days. Rainfall was reported as heavy as six inches during the past week in some sections.

The storm brought new flood threats to Walsenburg, south of Pueblo, where 60 homes were damaged and highway and railroad bridges were washed away in floods Monday night and yesterday.

Romolo Pacheco, 83, a paralytic, died of shock and exposure at Walsenburg.

A bridge near Walsenburg was dynamited last night to clear away debris as the Cucharas creek threatened to pour into the town again.

School Salaries

the system was increased by eight for next year. Salaries of the eight new teachers first were deducted from the increased budget, and the remainder was distributed among the other teachers according to their standing in the schedule.

In other words, Doctor Oberholtzer said, white teachers who received less than $960 had their pay increased to that amount. Instructors whose salaries represented 85 per cent of the schedule received no raises, but others whose pay was below 85 per cent of the schedule received increases making their salaries equal that percentage.

Copies of the salary schedule are available for reference in the office of each school principal, Superintendent Oberholtzer said.

New teachers in the system will be paid the same percentage of salary schedule, Superintendent Oberholtzer said.

Under the schedule adopted by the board, instructors will be eligible for additional pay as they increase their experience and training, he said.

A number of teachers expressed disappointment when they received their contracts. Some of them privately were consulting each other to determine what had been done.

Ann was already putting on her hat. Bill Ware reached for her coat and helped her into it—his efforts to please her a little jerky. When she was ready to go she put out her hand again in a friendly gesture. He took it and she felt his hungry almost incredulous response. "Gee, you're swell!" he said.

County School Trouble Ended

County Line Will Continue As In Past; Suit Dropped When Agreement Is Reached After Conference On Thursday

The County Line school, approximately 20 miles northwest of Lubbock, will be continued as a ninth-grade, three-teacher school during the next school year as the result of an agreement reached in a meeting of the county school board and attorneys representing protestants of transfers Thursday afternoon in the 72nd district courtroom.

The proptestants had filed an injunction suit against County Superintendent Joseph R. Griggs and the county board but the action was dropped after the agreement.

Transfers Approved

Thirty transfers were approved from the district. Fifty-seven had been asked. Eleven of the transfers were for students whose grades were not taught at the school; five to Abernathy and one to Anton. The remainder of the transfers were for students below the ninth grade.

Agreement on keeping the school in a ninth-grade status was made after George Berry, representing several protestants, had questioned Mr. Griggs and board members regarding various details of the school's operation.

The county board also approved routine transfers of students from other districts over the county for the coming session.

National Guards Plan Big Events

(By The Associated Press)

CAMP HULEN, Palacios, Aug. 6.—Lieutenant-General John A. Hulen, retired, former commander of the Thirty-sixth division, will be honored Friday by the first review of the Texas National guard during the 1936 field encampment.

General Hulen, who re-organized the division after the World war and commanded it until his retirement last fall, was greeted with a 15-gun salute on his arrival today.

The review is expected to attract thousands of visitors to the camp where the guardsmen are undergoing their annual two weeks training.

Plans for the visit of Governor James V. Allred and state officials to the camp next Thursday when Major-General George P. Rains, of Marshall, present commander of the division, holds his last review before retiring in September because of age, have been completed by the division staff.

Governor Allred's statement last year that promotion would be based on seniority indicated appointment of Brigadier-General Claud V. Birkhead of San Antonio, present commander of the 61st field artillery brigade, as division commander.

SMOKING OUT HORNETS

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Painters got rid of a hornets' nest at Mrs. W. W. Stevens' home, but nearly burned the house down. They applied a torch to the cornice to smoke out the hornets. A half hour later they had to summon the fire department. Then the firemen had two fights on their hands—fire and hornets.

Green Will Suit Becomes Tangled

NEW YORK, Aug. 6. (AP)—Further complications developed today in what appeared to be a two-sided conflict for the $80,000,000 estate left by the late Col. Edward H. R. Green, financier, who died at Lake Placid June 8.

A search of probate court records at Bellows Falls, Vt., showed the late Hetty Green, Wall Street wizard and mother of Colonel Green, stipulated in passing her husband's estate along to two children that their respective spouses should have no share in it.

Colonel Green's widow was appointed temporary administrator of his estate last month by a Kaufman, Texas, court on the theory that he died without leaving a will.

Three days later, however, the Colonel's sister, Mrs. Matthew Astor Wilks, filed a will at Port Henry, N. Y., in which she was named sole beneficiary and executor.

The two sisters-in-law remained silent on their conflicting actions pending a hearing Monday on Mrs. Green's Texas appointment.

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 6. — The censor's "blue pencil" fell today on two editorials prepared for the Texan, campus newspaper at the University of Texas.

The student news organ has been the center of a controversy which started when President H. Y. Benedict and the university regents gave a faculty member instructions to delete editorial matter "detrimental to the university's welfare."

Editorials killed by Granville Price, the supervisor, commented on state and national policies. Price is a former New York and Galveston newspaperman.

Action Criticized

The action naming a censor drew sharp criticism from Congressman Maury Maverick of San Antonio, who termed it "Nazifying the university" by suppressing freedom of speech and press.

One editorial by Ed Hodge, of El Paso, student editor, appeared in the issue. Under the heading "Which Is The American Way?" it contrasted the policies of the regents of the University of Texas and the University of Wisconsin, quoting the latter as standing for untrammelled search for truth.

A resume of the controversy occupied three columns and the front page banner read "Maverick Champions Texan's Civil Liberties." A top-of-the-page "box" pointed out that the editorials had been censored.

Hodge also published a picture of the board of regents and stated they were the authors of the censorship ruling. He promised white space in place of editorials should any more be killed.

Buy Cheap Bread If You Must . . .

(But Notice the additional much higher Priced Foods needed on the same Menus.)

Is That Economy?

The reason for this consumption of much more higher priced foods is simple. After all, when a person eats they ordinarily eat only until their body automatically responds that enough food value is stored up.

Cheap Bread does not have the FOOD VALUE of regularily priced Bread, therefor it takes more of other higher priced Foods. So, after all, it is cheaper to buy regularily priced BREAD.
