Poll Shows Popularity At A Peak

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — A Gallup poll indicates President Nixon's popularity was at a record high after his Nov. 3 Vietnam war speech and the Nov. 13-15 antiwar demonstrations.

The poll, released Sunday, was conducted Nov. 14-17.

Of the 1,465 adults interviewed in 300 locations throughout the nation, 68 per cent expressed approval of the way Nixon was handling his over-all job. Nineteen per cent disapproved and 13 per cent did not express an opinion.

Only Chickens Left

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A former GI says U.S. troops were ordered to wipe out the Vietnamese village of Song My as an enemy stronghold in 1968—and did.

"Everything and everybody was wiped out," Charles Gruver, 24, said in an interview Sunday. "Men, women . . . children . . . Only the chickens were left alive."

The killings on March 16, 1968, have led to charges that there was a massacre of civilians. Gruver said he was satisfied that Song My — U.S. military code name Pinkville — was infested with soldiers of the North Vietnamese regular army, but added:

"We'd never been ordered to wipe out everybody before. Most of the guys didn't dig it at all. When it was all over, they were almost sick."

Officer Accused In Massacre

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army today ordered a general court martial for 1st Lt. William L. Calley Jr., accusing him of the premeditated murder of at least 109 men, women, and children in Vietnam in March, 1968.

Calley, first American soldier charged in the controversial, alleged massacre of Vietnamese villagers, will face a possible penalty of death or life imprisonment if convicted, the Army said.

The decision to proceed with the trial was made by the command at Ft. Benning, Ga., where Calley is now stationed, and announced jointly in Washington and Georgia.

Only a short time earlier the Army had announced the assignment of Lt. Gen. William R. Peers to find out whether the brigade involved in the alleged mass killings had tried to cover up the incident in its original low level investigation of the operation.

The Army charged Calley with six specifications of premeditated murder of "Oriental human beings" during a U.S. military operation at the village of May Lai in Quang Ngai Providence about March 16, 1968.

Each specification accused Calley of killing the villagers with a rifle.

One specification said he shot "not less than 70 males and females of various ages."

Another specification charged him with killing a child, about two years old.

The Army said the trial will be held at Ft. Benning. No date has been set. The Army said it would take at least a month for the defense and prosecution to prepare for the trial.

Heroes Honored

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon presented the Medal of Honor to three heroic Army sergeants today and said their deeds, like those of the Apollo 12 astronauts, "raised the spirit of the nation."

The men who won the nation's highest award for their deeds were Sgt. 1.C. Webster Anderson of Winnsboro, S.C., S. Sgt. Nicky D. Bacon of Ft. Hood Tex., and S. Sgt. Paul Lambers of Holland, Mich. All three received the medal for conspicuous bravery "above and beyond the call of duty" in action in Vietnam.

MID-AFTERNOON SPLASHDOWN

Apollo Zeroes In On Target

Astronauts' Spirits Good, See Eclipse

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Racing through the final hours of their voyage of discovery, Apollo 12's moon men marveled at a spectacular earthly eclipse of the sun today and fired their jet thrusters a brief burst to zero in on their splashdown target in the South Pacific.

Charles "Pete" Conrad Jr., Richard F. Gordon Jr. and Alan L. Bean were in good spirits as their Yankee Clipper streaked faster and faster toward their home planet on a course that would slam them into the atmosphere 76 miles high at a speed of 24,600 miles per hour.

Atmospheric friction and parachutes were to slow them to 22 m.p.h. in the final minutes before splashdown, set for 2:58 p.m. Big Spring time about 400 miles southeast of American Samoa.

As Yankee Clipper approached the earth it was on a slightly shallow path that would cause it to land long. A five-second firing of the jets at 12:44 p.m. steepened the angle to aim the spaceship at a point close to the aircraft carrier Hornet.

"Looks like a good burn," Mission Control told Yankee Clipper.

The astronauts were awed by a sight that can be seen only by men flying far from their home planet—an eclipse of the sun by the earth.

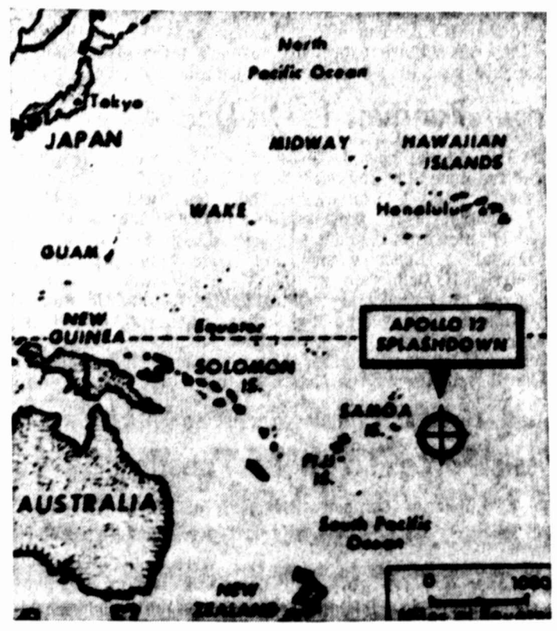

"What a spectacular view," Gordon commented from an altitude of 29,000 miles. "It's unbelievable."

"Fantastic sight," Bean said. "The sun is illuminating the whole atmosphere all the way around. Really looks pretty. You can't see any earth. It's black, just like space. You can't see any features on it. All you can see is a sort of purple blue with some shades of violet."

"It has to be the most spectacular sight of the whole flight," Conrad added. "The sun from around about a quarter of the earth is pure blue, and then it becomes pink for about 20 degrees of arc and then it turns back to blue again. And it's blue all the way around the bottom, to where it turns pink again and then it turns blue again."

The astronauts photographed the eclipse and tried to picture numerous lightning flashes they spotted in the atmosphere.

The astronauts carried on a light-hearted exchange of conversation with ground controllers.

SPLASHDOWN SITE — Map locates area near the Samoan Islands in the South Pacific Ocean where Apollo 12 was scheduled to splash down today.

The Apollo 12 crew slept soundly for 9½ hours as their spacecraft sped closer to earth early today with Conrad the first to awaken around 5:30 a.m. EST.

"Good morning. We're just getting ready to eat breakfast," the capsule commander said.

"Very good," said Mission Control. "You ready for the big day?"

"I don't know. What's happening?" Conrad said in mock surprise.

"Oh, we've got a nice little section of the South Pacific reserved for you and we've got most of the Navy standing by to pick you up."

"Good," said Conrad with a chuckle and went on eating his last breakfast in space for this trip.

As the 10-day million-mile journey neared an end, Conrad, Gordon and Bean held the world's first news conference from space during a final telecast Sunday night.

Answering questions prepared by newsmen, they reported it took great skill to land on the moon, rocks are hard to identify because the color changes in different sun angles, sleeping on the moon was difficult and they'd launch again in a thunderstorm—as they did Nov. 14—if necessary.

The astronauts hoped to match in the Pacific the pinpoint landing Conrad and Bean achieved last Wednesday when the lunar module Intrepid touched down only 600 feet from an unmanned Surveyor spacecraft that landed on the Ocean of Storms 2½ years ago.

The three Navy commanders sent this message to Rear Adm. Donald C. Davis on the Hornet: "Dear Red Dog: Apollo 12 with three tail hookers aboard, expects to make PIM (Point of Intended Movement), as we have energy for only one pass. Signed, Pete, Dick and Al."

Navy pilots on carrier landings are called tail hookers because of the arresting gear on their aircraft.

The landing in warm Polynesian waters climaxes a lunar expedition which should vastly enrich man's knowledge of the moon and perhaps his own earth and universe.

Coming home with Yankee Clipper are 80 to 90 pounds of moon rock gathered by Conrad and Bean, film recording nearly eight hours of moonwalk, and parts of Surveyor 3.

They also demonstrated on man's second visit to the moon that astronauts can land at a precise point on the surface, valuable knowledge for future Apollo crews who will fly into mountains and craters.

The astronauts face quarantine until Dec. 11 as a precaution against the remote chance they brought alien germs back from the moon. The Apollo 11 pilots contracted no bugs, but Apollo 12 went to a different lunar area and an international contamination committee recommended a full quarantine.

But landing restrictions were relaxed. Instead of donning head-to-toe biological isolation suits, the plan was to wear face masks to trap germs the astronauts might exhale. The Apollo 11 astronauts complained the full suits were hot and the visors fogged, obscuring their vision.

Senate May Play Santa To Taxpayers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hoping to wrap up the tax reform package by Christmas, the Senate will be debating during the next several weeks just how far it can go to play Santa Claus for individual U.S. taxpayers.

The issues of personal income tax exemptions and oil and gas depletion allowances are expected to highlight the lengthy debate which begins today.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., says he will press his proposal to raise the personal income tax exemptions.

Gore's proposal, defeated when the Senate Finance Committee worked over the House-passed reform bill, appears to be gaining support in the Senate. Behind it are, among others, Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., the Democratic whip, and James O. Eastland, D-Miss.

The Gore plan would substitute larger deductions for an over-all reduction in income tax rates passed Aug. 7 by the House and approved Oct. 31 by the finance committee.

Current tax law allows a taxpayer to deduct $600 from his income for himself and each dependent before figuring his taxes. Gore seeks to raise the deduction to $1,000 by 1973.

The oil and gas depletion allowance, now 27½ per cent, was lowered to 20 per cent by the House but raised to 23 per cent by the Senate Finance Committee.

Senators preferring the lower rate are expected to offer amendments to the committee version to reinstate it.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has said he would keep the Senate in session at night and on weekends to complete action on the bill before adjourning for a Christmas holiday.

After passage by the Senate the measure would have to go to a conference committee to work out differences between Senate and House versions. The committee's compromise then would have to be approved in both chambers before going to President Nixon.

Though different in detail, both Senate and House versions would give relief to individual taxpayers and raise taxes for corporations and foundations.

The measure also extends the income tax surcharge inaugurated under former President Lyndon B. Johnson and repeals the 7 per cent investment tax credit.

The surcharge, which was 10 per cent through this year, would be continued at 5 per cent through June 30.

Nonproliferation Pact Is Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon signed today the paper of ratification for the treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons. Russia simultaneously took similar action in Moscow.

Nixon penned his signature on four different documents at the ceremony in the presidential oval office.

All told, 43 nations must sign to make the nonproliferation treaty effective.

The White House said 22 nations already had ratified the treaty.

The instruments of ratification by the United States also will be deposited in Moscow and London, as the treaty requires, within the next 10 days or two weeks.

At that time, there may be a joint Soviet-U.S. ceremony here at the State Department to which former President Lyndon B. Johnson and former Secretary of State Dean Rusk will be invited.

Nixon said in signing the papers that the government thus was completing a ratification process for "a major international agreement designed to make our world a safer home for all mankind."

Cook Bird Well To Avoid Disaster

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — If your Thanksgiving turkey's coming out of a freezer, let it thaw completely.

Then cook it thoroughly.

That way, says Dr. Matthew S. Loewenstein, you minimize the risk of having the holiday spoiled by food poisoning.

Dr. Loewenstein is assistant chief of the Salmonella Unit of the National Communicable Disease Center (NCDC) here.

Loewenstein says turkeys—as well as other poultry, eggs, and many meat products—may transmit salmonellosis, a food poisoning that could turn Thanksgiving fun into great discomfort.

Salmonellosis is an acute infectious disease characterized by a sudden onset of abdominal pain, diarrhea, frequent vomiting, chills, fever and prostration, says the NCDC.

Loewenstein said the chances of buying a turkey that carries salmonellosis are "about 10 per cent" at any time of the year.

However, he added, if the turkey is thawed out well and cooked thoroughly under hygienic conditions, there is almost no chance of getting salmonellosis from a disease-carrying bird.

Another NCDC official, Dr. John Bennett, said regular checks on poultry conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture don't reveal whether salmonellosis is present. Individual bacteriological tests would have to be conducted to detect the disease, Bennett explained.

The disease poses no serious threats to healthy persons, Bennett said.

However, infants and elderly persons, as well as those weakened by illness, may be fatally affected by gastrointestinal disorders caused by salmonellosis.

Bennett said most healthy persons who eat food carrying the disease will experience only mild discomfort for 24 to 48 hours.

Tax Reform Could Shut Loophole For Foundations

WASHINGTON (AP) — A loophole in federal law is letting oil and mining companies avoid $100 million yearly in taxes by funnelling income through shadow foundations which give little or no money to charity.

The transactions are legal under present law, but the tax reform bill on which the Senate opens debate today would shut the loophole.

Foundations involved in the deals are granted tax exempt status on grounds they are nonprofit charitable corporations. But an Associated Press study shows the main purpose of the foundations is to serve as middlemen in multimillion-dollar deals involving banks and mineral producers.

Use of the complex transactions allows oil and mining concerns to stretch benefits of the present 27½ per cent depletion allowance beyond the 50 per cent net income limitation set by Congress, federal officials said.

It also enables the firms to reduce or eliminate federal income tax liability, sometimes by creating self-induced paper losses.

Involved in the transactions are sales of carved-out production payments—in essence the right to future profits from mineral deposits.

Banks are leary of buying production payments directly because the courts have held that production payments are interests in land, and the law restricts banks' land dealings.

Therefore, foundations—known in the trade as "straws"—are set up to buy the production payments, generally with money loaned by banks.

The number of foundations involved in such deals is not known, government officials said.

But a check of foundation records for Louisiana and Texas turned up more than 30 foundations whose only assets were production payments. Most had directors linked to banks or oil company law firms.

The foundations handled $118,500,000 in production payments last year and gave $145,635 to charity. This is the equivalent of one-tenth of one per cent.

A study by the Treasury Department shows that production payment transactions totaled $750 million in 1967 and $703 million last year. This represents a three-fold increase over the 1965 total.

Treasury officials said one tax dollar is lost for every seven dollars involved in the deals. Therefore, they said, carved-out production sales cost the government over $100 million annually in tax revenues during each of the last two years.

Bank and mineral industry representatives, who are opposing changes in the present tax law, deny that production payments are used primarily to avoid taxes.

Viet Cong Charges Seven Villages Were Pillaged

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong charged today that U.S. and South Korean troops murdered more than 1,200 Vietnamese civilians in massacres in seven villages in Quang Ngai and Quang Nam provinces in February and March 1968.

The Viet Cong's Liberation Radio broadcast an official statement it said was issued March 25, 1968, charging that American troops "ravaged, pillaged, burned and murdered their way through the village of Song My and its satellite hamlets of My Hoi and Xuan Dong on March 16, 1968." It claimed that "501 innocent civilians were murdered in cold blood."

In February, the broadcast continued, "South Korean puppet mercenary troops murdered more than 700 of our people in the villages of Dien An, Dien Hai, Cam Ha and Xuyen My."

Old Hangar Is Blaze Victim

A fire at Hamilton Field, the old airport, totally destroyed an old hangar belonging to Cecil Hamilton, 1429 Hilltop, early this morning. The Jonesboro Fire Department answered the call at 12:30 a.m. but the building was already engulfed in flames. A spokesman for the department said the truck stayed on the scene for about an hour to make sure the surrounding grass did not catch on fire.

Earle Read, 707 Highland, owns the air strip, and he said he did not think there was anything in the barn when it burned. He said the building still belonged to Cecil Hamilton who at one time operated the field also.

Pioneer Presents Case For Gas Rate Increase

AUSTIN (AP) — A lawyer for Pioneer Natural Gas Co. said today the company should be allowed to raise its domestic and commercial rates from 28 cents to 35.33 cents per thousand cubic feet of gas.

An absolute minimum would be 34 cents, Sam Winters told a Railroad Commission examiner.

The commission scheduled the hearing on Pioneer's application to raise its rates for 61 cities and towns in West Texas, including Big Spring, Canyon, Lamesa, Levelland, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa, Pampa and Plainview.

"Our testimony and other evidence will establish that the city gate rate should be set at 35.33 cents, plus an allowance for the effective federal income tax surcharge," said Winters. "Pioneer requests that, in any event, the rate be set at not less than 34 cents, plus an adjustment for the surcharge. This rate would be minimal, at best, to meet the company's revenue requirements."

Winters said Pioneer's request is slightly lower than returns allowed Rio Grande Valley Gas Corp., Houston Pipeline Co. and Lone Star Gas Co.

Winters said the present rate of 28 cents per thousand cubic feet of gas was set Jan. 4, 1963, and since then "virtually every cost of doing business has escalated dramatically." Gas costs 20 per cent more, he said, and "perhaps more dramatic has been the rapid and unprecedented increase in the cost of money, intensified no doubt by the increased competition for investor funds.

"This inflation with regard to all accounts has resulted in Pioneer's present gate rate of 28 cents becoming confiscatory under today's economy."

Winters said a 34 cent rate, with an allowance for the surcharge, would provide a "return of only 7.19 per cent."

"Based upon necessary allocations," Winters said, "the requested revenue requirement at the recommended rate of return, would be $8,381,894."

Continuation of the surcharge at the present rate of 10 per cent would add about 1 cent to the requested rate, and continuation of the tax at a 5 per cent rate would add about ½ cent.

Longest Session In Talks Held Today

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — U.S. and Soviet negotiators met for two hours today, their longest secret session since starting their strategic arms limitation talks a week ago.

In advance of today's private parley at the U.S. Embassy, U.S. envoys had hoped for clues from the Russians on what nuclear arms the Kremlin might consider negotiable in future, full-scale discussions on curbing the superpower missile race.

As usual, spokesmen for both sides refused after the meeting —the third business session since the talks began—to disclose anything except the length of the meeting and when the next one will be held: Wednesday, at the Soviet Embassy.

As the delegations were meeting, the Soviet news agency Tass sounded its first criticism of the United States in the arms talks.

Tass said "imperialist states" —obviously meaning the United States—were to blame for the arms race. It cited rising U.S. military expenditures and figures on U.S. strategic arms strength.

Tass, in a dispatch from Helsinki, praised the Soviet government for seeking an end to the arms race but gave no credit on this score to the United States.

A U.S. delegation spokesman denied a published report that the Russians last week had been told the details of the United States' nuclear force.

Newsmen previously had been advised by U.S. sources that the delegation here did not intend to reveal secret material in the talks.

The two teams traded general statements in two 90-minute secret sessions last week, then recessed for a three-day weekend at Soviet request after each side sought more explanation of the other's position. The long weekend gave the Kremlin plenty of time to study the conference exchanges and to formulate instructions for its men in Helsinki.

The current preliminary talks, expected to last into December, are a diplomatic probing operation to find out what might be dealt with in substantive negotiations later.

So far both the U.S. team, headed by Ambassador Gerard C. Smith, and the Soviets under Deputy Foreign Minister Vladimir S. Semenov, have privately voiced satisfaction with the proceedings.

Would Prevent Sewage Dumping

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An anti-pollution measure aimed at Ohio's boaters is expected to be introduced before the legislature next year by Rep. George W. Voinovich of Cleveland.

Voinovich said his bill is directed to owners of watercraft which carry sinks, toilets and sanitary systems which dump directly into Lake Erie.

Under the bill, a sink, toilet or sanitary system would have to be removed or sealed or made to drain into a tank which can be carried or pumped ashore for disposal.

LETTERS

Takes View On Movies

To the Editor,

In the last few weeks, several have written letters complaining about the movies that are shown at our local theatres. The majority of the people I have talked to feel the way I do about M, R and X rated movies. If adults do not want to view certain movies they are not forced to. No individual or group of people is forced into participation without their knowledge or consent. If residents do not like the movies, they should not go and see them. Several churches have objected to certain aspects of the movies, but notice the church people are the ones who attend these shows.

Another point I'd like to stress is that so many adults just dump their children out at our local theatres and do not even check the rating. Why? If the theatre has a M or R rated movie, then the children attend. Parents complain about our theatres not having enough movies for children, but they have a childrens movie when the parents allow their children to attend M, R and X rated movies. There has been another theatre just opened up entitled "R 70," I have especially noticed every one of their movies has been rated G. This is a nice theatre for children and parents to enjoy with excellent clean movies. Now that this theatre has opened, parents can take their family to enjoy fine entertainment.

Sincerely yours,
GRADY CUNNINGHAM

Court Commissions Plan To Reshape Library Home

Olen L. Puckett was hired this morning by Howard County Commissioners to draw up plans for remodeling the old post office building, 4th and Scurry streets, into a library, for a fee of six per cent of the construction cost.

Puckett said he is working on a projected budget of $50,000 to remodel the building, and he estimated that the largest expense will be the air conditioning. He added it may take a 30 or 40 ton unit to cool the building.

The architect said he has studied the original plans for the building and will start immediately drawing up plans for remodeling. He added that the actual building does not adhere strictly to the original plans, and he has spent some time gathering the various addenda to arrive at a workable plan of the present state of the building

Commissioners generally agreed that they should talk with a library consultant about plans for the new building, but no action was taken on procuring one.

When Puckett completes his drawings, his plans will be submitted to the commissioners who will, in turn, ask for bids for the remodeling construction.

Outlines Work Of Boys Club

Activities and purposes of the Boys Club were outlined at the advisory board meeting Thursday at the Spanish Inn.

Bert Andries, president, explained the purpose and the function of the Boys Club, which operates here at 304 Gregg and currently has 144 members. The purpose, said Andries, is to promote the social, educational, vocational health and character development of boys throughout the United States. It is particularly designed to provide leadership guidance through after-school activities for youngsters in the low-income bracket.

Boys pay dues of only 50 cents per year, and this entitles them to all the activities of the club and to the use of the swimming pool which the club operates in the summer. The pool is at North Main and Northeast Seventh adjacent to a lot where the club hopes to build a permanent clubhouse.

Plans were discussed with particular emphasis on the start of a building bond.

The Jaycees will sponsor a Christmas party at the present club location on Monday, Dec. 22, it was announced.

Next meeting of the board will be Dec. 4 at the Spanish Inn, and interested persons are urged to attend. Fifteen members took part in the Thursday session.

LUCKY TURKEY — This lucky bird doesn't have to worry about the Thanksgiving chopping block or the oven. He's part of a research effort at Ohio State University to determine the mechanism of hypertension. Ingrid Gienapp, research technician, introduces her feathered friend to the electro-cardiogram machine prior to checking his heart rate as part of the research.

Tense 10 Days End For Explorers' Wives

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 12 streaked today toward a Pacific splashdown, ending 10 tense days for the wives of the moon adventurers.

"I was thinking how thankful I'll be when Al gets home again," Sue Bean, the pert blonde wife of moonwalker Alan Bean, said after church Sunday.

For Mrs. Bean, Barbara Gordon and Jane Conrad, the flight of Apollo 12 has been a mixture of apprehension, exhilaration and sleepless nights.

The worrying began during the first moments of launch, when commander Charles Conrad Jr. reported the spaceship had suffered an electrical power failure attributed to lightning.

Then came the perilous descent to the moon, the moonwalks, the broken television camera, the drama of liftoff from the lunar surface.

The wives followed the high adventure via television and squawkbox, flanked by children, friends and relatives.

Barbara Gordon attended Mass daily. All three families tried to ease the tension with picnics and other group activities.

Mrs. Conrad and her two youngest boys went flying in a glider Sunday, and afterwards she visited Mission Control to view the last telecast from space.

Told by ground controllers his family was there, Conrad exclaimed:

"Hey, great, tell them we'll be home in about a week!"

Actually, the astronauts will be back in Houston Saturday, but it will be Dec. 11 before they leave quarantine to rejoin their kin.

"I can hardly wait," said Sue Bean.

Wallet Takes Trip To Europe

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Al Fliescher's wallet came home the other day after spending seven months in Europe in a bag of cattle food.

Last March 11, Fliescher was repairing a conveyor at the plant where he is a supervisor.

His wallet popped out of his pocket. It went down a conveyor belt with 8,000 tons of citrus pulp into the hold of the ship Atlantic Hope. The ship took the pulp and wallet to Rotterdam, Holland.

The citrus pulp was converted to cattle food. Some was bought by French dairy farmer Noel Douvier of the village of La Chatelle.

Douvier was pouring cattle food into a trough. He spotted the wallet, which contained Fliescher's credit cards and other identification.

A month later, Fliescher got the wallet back.

Turkeys Always Are Nervous

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Thanksgiving gobbler is a nervous bird all the time, not just in November.

He has high blood pressure and the slightest provocation will excite him, says Dr. Robert L. Hamlin, associate professor of veterinary physiology at Ohio State University.

Hamlin and OSU researchers are studying turkeys to gain more information and understanding about hypertension—high blood pressure—and a heart disease called dissecting aortic aneurism, common to man and turkeys alike.

Poage Favors Hitting North

TEMPLE, Tex. AP) — Rep. Bob Poage, D-Tex., said Sunday that he believes "the best way out of Vietnam is to launch an attack on North Vietnam and end the conflict with a victory, a course which would bring early peace and, in the long run, save more American lives.

Poage, in an address to Temple postal clerks, said our "main problem" now is the seemingly uncontrollable inflation that, if it is not curbed, "will lead to the complete loss of our liberties, in view of the current widespread spirit of revolt against authority."

He said inflation might result in national bankruptcy followed by military or Communist control of society.

Poage said, "Relatively few of you remember the great depression of the 1930s, but those of us who do seriously doubt that this nation could endure another such depression.

News Conference Held From Space

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — "I'll tell you one thing," Pete Conrad was saying. "It took every bit of knowledge I had to get that baby down there in the right place. That was no piece of cake."

Conrad, Alan L. Bean and Richard F. Gordon Jr. were holding the first news conference from space Sunday and he was recalling how he brought the lunar lander Intrepid in.

"It took everything I had to get that LM down in one piece," Conrad said. "I think we got some things to work out on that."

Apollo 12 was on the last leg of its voyage of 953,000 miles when the space agency passed up questions submitted by newsmen.

The astronauts said they would be willing to launch again in the kind of thunderstorm that marred their blastoff Nov. 14, recommended improvements in tools and carrier bags and reported difficulty in sleeping on the moon.

Newsmen asked whether Conrad's exhilaration on the moon might have been caused by an "oxygen high," a state of euphoria that sometimes occurs when an astronaut breathes pure oxygen.

"I was very happy," said Conrad, "but I wasn't on an oxygen high."

Bean described difficulties in identifying rocks and soil this way:

"This second day we went out, the same thing that looked gray to us the first day started looking—at least to me—a sort of brown, dark brown or a tannish brown, and it was really one of the most interesting things of the lunar surface operations . . . how much that color can change just with a 7 degree or so sun angle change."

The derelict Surveyor spacecraft they inspected and removed pieces from looked brown, Bean said, but "I wouldn't be a bit surprised that when we get all those parts back to Houston, they don't turn out to be—under the earth light and light of the laboratory—kind of dark gray again."

The astronauts said they thought their lunar surface walks could have been extended from the two periods of four hours each.

"We weren't tired," Conrad said. "We could have kept on going. . . . The big problem is getting suited up and getting unsuited when you get back in. Doing the work outside is easy."

On the space program's bubbling controversy over whether the moon should be explored by engineers or scientists, Conrad had this to say:

"I think that the idea is to get the transportation system worked out and then take the necessary people to go. There's no doubt that geologists can do a better job than I can. I'm not a geologist."

Quarantines May Be Discontinued

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — If the Apollo 12 astronauts are found to be free of alien organisms, future moon explorers may be excused from the three-week quarantine now in force.

No lunar bugs cropped up in the men of Apollo 11 or the material they brought back from the Sea of Tranquillity.

The Apollo 12 moon landers set down 800 miles away, in the Ocean of Storms, and space scientists say there is a far-fetched possibility a weird form of life might exist in the different environment.

They don't expect to find any, but they're taking no chances.

"With identical negative information from two missions, we might propose relieving the crew quarantine after Apollo 12," Dr. A. D. Catterson, a Manned Spaceflight Center surgeon, said in an interview.

This flight's 21-day quarantine began last Thursday when Charles A. Conrad Jr. and Alan L. Bean blasted away from the moon's Ocean of Storms and joined Richard F. Gordon Jr. in the command ship Yankee Clipper.

Like Apollo 11 astronauts Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins, the Apollo 12 crew will go directly from the splashdown to a quarantine trailer on the aircraft carrier USS Hornet.

The trailer will be flown to Houston, where the astronauts will enter the Space Center's Lunar Receiving Laboratory and continue their isolation until Dec. 11.

This time there will be no "isolation garment"—the head-to-toe coveralls Apollo 11 astronauts wore to prevent release of any possible lunar organisms into the air. The men complained that the suits were uncomfortably warm and the face plates fogged over.

This second moon landing crew will wear only breathing filters and fresh flight suits, which officials feel will be sufficient. Said Catterson:

"From a practical standpoint, as soon as we feel that there is scientifically valid evidence that you don't have contamination—something coming back from the moon's surface that could prove any kind of a threat to life here on earth—we want to relieve the crew quarantine requirements as a first order of business."

Carrier Hornet Proudly Displays Second Recovery

ABOARD USS HORNET (AP) — When the Apollo 12 crew boards their prime recovery ship after splashdown today they will be greeted by a big banner reading: "Three More Like Before."

And many of the 2,200 crewmen of the Carrier Hornet are wearing buttons bearing the same slogan.

The Apollo 12 slogan is a followup to the Hornet's recovery of the Apollo 11 crew last July 24 and their return to Honolulu with the ship proudly wearing a big banner: "Hornet Plus Three."

This apparently will be the last Apollo recovery for the Hornet since the craft is destined to be pulled out of active duty next March and placed in the mothball fleet.

The Hornet rendezvoused with the fleet oiler Hassayampa Sunday and refueled with 900,000 gallons of oil, then returned to the splashdown area, 405 miles southeast of Pago Pago.

In addition to the Hornet with its fleet of rescue helicopters, two big cargo transports equipped for aerospace rescue and recovery service take off this morning from Pago Pago to take up stations about 165 miles uprange and downrange from the Hornet. Each has three parescuemen in diving gear who will parachute to the spacecraft if it lands too far away from the Hornet for normal recovery.

The new list will include all of the state's larger cities except Amarillo, Brownsville, Lufkin, Midland, Odessa, Pampa and Tyler.

Longest Cocktail Party Scheduled

KILL DEVIL HILLS, N.C. (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration's assistant director for public affairs, Julian Scheer, will be the main speaker at the Man Will Never Fly Society's annual meeting next month.

The society, whose motto is "Birds Fly; Men Drink," was formed in 1959 as a spoof of the Kill Devil Hills Memorial Society, which then staged the annual Wright Brothers memorial celebration.

The group bill's its annual meeting as the world's longest cocktail party. It will begin at 4 p.m. Dec. 16 at Kill Devil Hills and officially end at 10:30 a.m. Dec. 17, when the observance of the Wright Brothers' first flight begins here.

Federal Employees

Time Is Running Out!

Only a few more days, to join the big swing to the "Blues" — to Blue Cross and Blue Shield. November 28, and it's all over, perhaps for a long time. The last time for this re-opening was three years ago.

And when someone in your family does go to the hospital, what a great feeling that will be, to know that Blue Cross has already arranged for just about everything you're going to need in that hospital!

Far more federal employees have already chosen the "Blue" way than any other — so many more there's not even a close second. And more than 71 million Americans have, all told — not even a close second there, either.

But time's running out. See your personnel officer, now!

"Everybody's swingin' to the Blues!"

Agnew Described As Popular Fellow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Ralph T. Smith, the newest senator, describes Vice President Spiro T. Agnew as "a very popular fellow" with the average American.

"I've found out that in the last several weeks the vice president has become much more popular than he was before," the Illinois senator said in an interview recorded for home state broadcast.

"The American public is giving every indication of liking what he says and how he says it, and certainly I agree with those who suggest that he wouldn't be saying it if the President didn't sort of turn him on or suggest that he might talk in a certain direction," Smith said.

Agnew in speeches during the past month has been sharply critical of war protest leaders and the reporting by television commentators and some newspapers.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the same Constitution which protects the right of dissent and of free press guards Agnew's right to criticize demonstrators, commentators and newspapers.

But at the same time, Mansfield, in a statement in the Congressional Record, counseled a general lowering of voices.

Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., said President Nixon is leading the administration on a "crude campaign to stifle dissent."

"The sinister effects of the administration's campaign against freedom of speech, assembly and press are a far greater threat to liberty in this nation than any result, no matter how unfortunate, of the war in Vietnam," McGovern said Saturday night in Bethany, W.Va.

Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., said he is "strongly opposed to legislative sanctions on the journalistic community."

But Tower wrote constituents that Agnew initiated a significant dialogue which should remind every newsman "of the burden of responsibility he has shouldered as a journalist."

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., said Agnew's criticism of television news programs was well founded. "The so-called news programs too often fall prey to sensationalism and sometimes, or even usually, present a one-sided viewpoint," he said in a newsletter.

Meanwhile in New York, President Nixon's communications director, Herbert G. Klein, said he did not expect Agnew to continue his attacks on the press.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, asked in Los Angeles about Agnew's remarks on the news media, said Agnew probably feels "and I feel that the activities of the media are subject to discussion just as the activities of politicians are subject to discussion."

Captains Get New Positions

Two new instructors, Capt. Steven K. Reynolds and Capt. Owen H. Wormser, have been added to the 3561st Student Squadron's Academic section.

Capt. Reynolds, formerly of Fredonia, Kan., arrived here in May, 1967, and completed his Pilot Instructor Training in August, the same year. He has been a T-37 instructor pilot and the flight scheduling officer for the 3561st Pilot Training Squadron. He was selected the Instructor Pilot of the month in November, 1968. He will be instructing students in the use of the Cessna T-37 systems and flight instruments.

The 1966 graduate of Kansas State University, is married to the former Carol York of Junction City, Kans., and has a seven month old son.

Capt. Wormser has been in the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron, where he was selected the Instructor Pilot of the month for September, 1969. He will be instructing the use of electronic warfare and Northop T-38 flight planning. A native of Beverly Hills, Calif., he joined the Air Force in 1961 and served as an instructor in electronics warfare at Mather AFB, Calif.

Since arriving at Webb in June, 1966, he has served as director of the Webb Military Affiliate Radio System (MARS), station and an interim wing information officer in addition to his regular instructor pilot duties.

He attended UCLA, and holds a law degree from La Salle University, Chicago. His wife, the former Barbara Batcha, is from Sacramento, Calif.

Senators Wanting Cape Renamed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Florida's two senators, noting that space shots are no longer made from Cape Kennedy, said today the name of the historic spot should be changed back to Cape Canaveral.

Democratic Sen. Spessard L. Holland and Republican Sen. Edward J. Gurney made their plea as the latest moon-walking astronauts—who took off from Merrit Island near Cape Kennedy in Florida—headed for a splashdown in the Pacific Ocean.

In testimony prepared for the Senate Interior Committee, the two said their resolution to redesignate Cape Kennedy as Cape Canaveral would in no way disturb the name of the space facility on Merritt Island, known as John F. Kennedy Space Center.

Earlier space shots were made from pads at the Cape, but the current moon shots are launched from Merritt Island.

The senators said their proposal was designed to restore the cape's historic name, which showed on maps as far back as 1530.

"This may well be the oldest geographic point in the United States, certainly on the East coast," Gurney said. "It was recorded before the names of Cape Cod and Jamestown."

He said he doesn't believe that the late President Kennedy "with his appreciation for American heritage would want any action which would deprive us of such a historic name."

Gurney said newspaper polls in Florida show that 92.8 per cent of the residents of that state favor the redesignation.

The name change from Cape Canaveral to Cape Kennedy came shortly after President Kennedy's assassination in 1963.

Gurney said there had been no hearings on the proposal, and no meeting of the Interior Department's board of geographic names to act on it. And, he added, the change brought heavy protests from Florida.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠632 ♢KJ107542 ♣754
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
1♠	2♡	Pass	?

What action do you take?

A.—Pass. The ice is very thin and you had better not move. It would be very pleasant to bid three diamonds if you were sure your partner would not take any further action, but that would be wishful thinking. He is almost sure to bid again and probably more hearts. It does not pay to rescue a partner who has not been doubled.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠K10652 ♡9 ♢A3 ♣AKJ42
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
Pass	1♢	Dble.	Pass
2♡	Pass	2♠	Pass
4♠	Pass	?

What action do you take?

A.—Five diamonds or six spades. Despite the fact that partner previously passed, you should be very bullish about this hand because partner jumped twice unnecessarily. If he has the ace-king of hearts and the queen-jack of spades, that's all you need. He should surely have that much for his two jumps. You have a choice of bidding five diamonds or shooting the works yourself.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠9762 ♡KJ74 ♢J85 ♣64
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1♢	Pass	Pass	Dble.
Pass	1♡	Pass	3♡
Pass	?

What action do you take?

A.—Four hearts. Partner's bid is not forcing and you haven't very much of a hand to be sure. But you should proceed to game inasmuch as partner has contracted for nine tricks, without relying on you for any strength at all. Actually, he has the heart hand and you in reality are the dummy, which is worth six points to partner.

Q. 4—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AQJ982 ♡K63 ♢AQ2 ♣5
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1♠	Pass	2♢	Pass

What action do you take?

A.—Three spades. After partner has shown a reasonably good hand you should insist upon game and a jump bid even in the same suit is forcing after a response at the two level. If the bidding develops constructively you may show the diamond support later.

Q. 5—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AJ4 ♡94 ♢63 ♣AKQ973
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1♠	2♣	Pass	3♣
Pass	?

What action do you take?

A.—Three spades. The temptation, if any, to try three no trump should be resisted. Without protection in either red suit you may meet with a surprise attack. After you show the spade control you may rely on partner to reach for three no trump if his hand is suitable.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠K4 ♡AJ82 ♢KQ83 ♣AJ5
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 NT	Pass	3 NT	3♠

What action do you take?

A.—Strike while the iron is hot. Double and this is one that East will long remember. Do not aim for anything so trivial as a game when a possible 1,100-point plum awaits to be picked.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AQ84 ♡AKQ2 ♢73 ♣652
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1♠	Pass	2♢	Pass
2♡	Pass	2♠	Pass

What action do you take?

A.—A further bid by you is clearly indicated. You must not be heard to say: "Since partner has shown me a mere preference, I pass." Remember, partner has shown a fairly good hand by taking out at the level of two and your hand is worth 16 points. Bid three spades.

Q. 8—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠62 ♡AQJ63 ♢K74 ♣K75
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1♡	Pass	1♠	Pass

What is your rebid?

A.—One no trump. This is preferable to a rebid of two hearts in that it gives a more accurate description as to the type of hand [a balanced hand of minimum high card strength].

Violence Claims 31 In Texas

By The Associated Press

Violence in Texas over the weekend claimed 31 lives, 20 of them in motor vehicle accidents. Eight persons were shot to death and three died in miscellaneous violence.

The Associated Press count began at 6 p.m. Friday and continued until midnight Sunday.

The dead included these:

A sky-diver was killed near Dallas Sunday when his parachute failed to open. Sheriff's officers said William E. Hinkley, about 20, of Boyd hit the ground in a driveway on U.S. 67 near Farm Road 1382. They said it was his eighth jump, his first at night.

Marie Hernandez, 8, was killed Sunday when a car struck a parked vehicle and knocked it into a group of children playing nearby at Laredo. Two other little girls were injured but were not believed in serious condition.

Adolph Henry Ludwig, 74, of Whitting was fatally injured Saturday night when he was involved in a car-truck collision on FM 340 about 7 miles north of Shiner. Ludwig died Sunday.

Encarnacion Perez, 48, of Chapel Hill was killed Saturday night when he was struck by car on U.S. 290 at Hempstead.

Kirk Michael Payne, 29, of Houston was shot to death Sunday in the climax of a lounge argument. Police arrested a man and referred the case directly to a grand jury.

Curtis Whitney Carr, 16, of Pasadena was killed Saturday when his car struck a telephone pole in the Houston area.

Thomas Hugher Jr., 20, of San Antonio was killed Sunday when he fell beneath the wheels of a hayride wagon near Bandera.

Titus Williams, 58, of Corpus Christi was killed Sunday when a car which he was attempting to repair suddenly lurched forward and ran over him. The accident occurred near Aransas Pass on Texas 35.

Five Oakland, Md., —a mother and four daughters—residents were killed early Sunday in a three-car collision on U.S. 67 at Naples in Northeast Texas. Dead were Irene Marie Kope, 43; and her daughters, Iretta Alain Kope, 13; Kathryn Marie Kope, 17; Iris Virgina Kope, 15 and Sharon Sue Kope, 8.

Seven other persons were injured in the accident, including Victor Homer Kope, 44, and Deloria Jean Kope, 11, also of Oakland and the husband of Irene Marie Kope and another of the couple's children. The two injured Kopes and other five injured were in fair condition.

Officers gave this account of the accident: The Kope vehicle was in a rear-end collision with a car driven by Robert Wayne Cason of Omaha, Tex. As the Kope vehicle went out of control and overturned it was in a second crash with a car driven by Otis Mixon of Dallas.

A Galveston man was shot to death early Sunday as a result of what police said was a family feud. The victim was Wilson Gladly, 38. Police said a woman was in custody from the incident.

Harold Donovan Hixson, 24, of Stroud, Okla., was killed early Sunday as the tractor-trailer rig he drove overturned five miles south of Gainesville on Interstate 35. Officers said Hixson apparently went to sleep at the wheel.

One man was shot and killed and another critically wounded when Dallas police went to investigate a report at an apartment house early Saturday. Officer J. G. Ross said he and Officer M. T. Hutchinson entered as a man identified as Billy Joe New was attacking a 57-year-old woman. Ross fired as New raced for a window, and New's body was found outside the apartment house later.

Hutchinson, meanwhile, ran into a former Dallas policeman as he ran toward the front of the building. He said he shot Daniel K. Parchman as Parchman apparently reached for his back pocket. The wounded Parchman, officers said, apparently was an innocent bystander who lives in the building.

Louis Soriano, 30, showed up at a Dallas hospital early Saturday wounded by gunfire. He later died and police went to the scene where he had been shot and found another body, that of Modesto Jimenez, 33. Witnesses said a dispute caused both deaths.

An elderly East Texas woman died a short time after she was pulled from a 50-foot well Saturday where she said she had been trapped since Monday.

The victim, 74-year-old Iole Burreff, was still alive when searchers found her near the community of Cuney in the Jacksonville area, but she was dead on arrival at a hospital. She said two men dropped her into the well after they robbed her of $112.

Sgt. Mayse Wins Honors

M. Sgt. Franklin D. Mayse has been selected as the senior noncommissioned officer of the month by the 3560th Field Maintenance Squadron at Webb AFB for October, 1969.

According to S.M. Sgt. Cecil M. Cawley, noncommissioned officer in charge of the communications navigations section, Sgt. Mayse was selected because of his significant contribution toward the successful and efficient operation of the Precision Measurement Equipment Laboratory (PMEL).

He has demonstrated his managerial and technical competence in the re-alignment of the scheduling operation so that the PMEL technicians were performing only calibration and repair on Precision Measurement Equipment (PME), which enabled the lab to calibrate more equipment in a reduced time span. He has obtained needed parts for the electrical standard console which has been awaiting parts for a long time.

He is a recent recipient of the Air Force Commendation Medal while stationed with the 12th Tactical Fighter Wing in Vietnam.

Both he and his wife are active in the PTA and supporters of the high school band.

Slow Clearing Expected Over Most Of Texas

By The Associated Press

Slow clearing was expected to take place in northern portions of Texas today, but weather observers looked for southern sections to remain at least partly cloudy.

A thick cover of clouds hung over all but northwestern portions of the state at daybreak. Light rain fell over southern portions and a few showers and thundershowers occurred in western sections during early morning hours.

Forecasts held out a possibility of the light rainfall continuing through South Texas and into central portions of the state during the day.

Rain was general but light over South Texas Sunday night with amounts ranging from a trace to 17. of an inch.

Early morning temperatures ranged from the 20s and 30s over the Panhandle to near 70 in the extreme South. No major temperatures changes were indicated; however, somewhat cooler air was expected to be noted in the South by Tuesday.

Tuition Rates Go Up At TCU

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Texas Christian University trustees have voted to increase tuition rates from $40 to $50 per semester hour, resulting in a $150 per semester increase for a student carrying a 15-hour load.

The new rates will affect only students entering TCU in the future.

Teens Help Senior Citizens

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — The senior citizens of this Long Island community have something extra to give thanks for this Thursday—the efforts of hundreds of teen-agers who have worked to save a recreational and educational program for the elderly.

Thomas A. Harris, an insurance man who is helping in the drive to save the Westbury Senior Citizens' program, said Sunday almost 80 per cent of the money needed to keep the project going had been raised.

Harris' estimate followed one of the drive's major fund-raising events—a concert at the high school that drew about 1,000 persons.

The 13-year-old program provides education, artistic and social programs for about 170 persons who participate regularly. It faced extinction because its funds were cut from the city budget in an economy move.

Learning of the problem, the Westbury High School class of 1970 started a drive to make up the deficit. The student council and junior high school pupils joined in the effort. Newspaper reports of the project drew a letter of encouragement from Mrs. Richard M. Nixon.

Harris said he did not know exactly how much money had been raised by the concerts because tickets—$2 for adults, $1 for students—had been sold through school music teachers and the funds would not be counted until Tuesday.

Harris said other funds on hand included about $400 from a pre-Halloween candy sale, $1,200 from the raffle of a color television set and $875 in general donations from local residents and people elsewhere who read about the program.

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Recently at our son's college homecoming, he and three of his friends invited their parents out to dinner in appreciation of "all we had done for them."

The bill came to well over $60, plus tax and tip. Apparently the boys did not have enough money with them, so in order to minimize the embarrassment, my husband paid the bill with his credit card and left the tip in cash.

Our own son and one of the other boys paid us their share the next day; one other parent mailed his son's share, and the fourth will probably never pay us.

Our questions: When we see these boys again, should we bring up their inexcusable lack of preparation to pay the bill that night in order to help them avoid such situations in the future? Also, do you think my husband did the right thing in rescuing the boys the way he did? Or should he have let them solve their money problems in their own way? A MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I think your husband did what any other father would have done in the same situation, and I don't fault him for it. (It would have taken a superdisciplinarian to witness one's son and his friends trying to scrape up enough money to pay the tab for a "parents' treat" and let them solve it in their own way.) I do think you should tell your son in no uncertain terms that he is a big boy now, and old enough to come prepared to pay his share of the check when he's a host. And as for the other boys, it's up to their parents to give them the same lecture.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 29 years old, and he decided that WASHING his hair will make his hair fall out, so will you please put something in your column to set him straight?

Melvin is a very good-looking fellow, but he's got this thing about losing his hair. He won't use a hairbrush at all because every time he sees a few hairs in his hairbrush he practically bawls. And he doesn't use a comb any more than he absolutely must.

He's a wonderful guy, but, Abby, you don't know how hard it is to sleep with a man who hasn't washed his hair since last July. Help! MEL'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Tell Mel that a CLEAN scalp is essential to the healthy growth of human hair, and he stands to lose more hair (and friends) by allowing rancid oils to collect on his head.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: For homework in school we have to find a misspelled word in the newspaper. I would like for you to write a misspelled word in your column so I can bring it in.

I am 11 years old and am in the fifth grade. Thank you.

BETH IN EDWARDSVILLE, PA.

DEAR BETH: Unaccustomed as I am to mispelling words intentionally I shall be glad to accomodate you. (Now, let's hope the editor doesn't louse up everything.)

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I would like to answer "NEEDS TO KNOW," who asked if she should stay with a no-good husband for the sake of the kids.

As a small girl, I frequently saw my father beat up my mother. I tried my best to comfort her, and I begged her often to leave him. When I reached 14, the situation hadn't improved any, so after another one of their terrible battles I told Mamma that I couldn't take it any longer, and if she didn't tell HIM to get out, I was going to run away.

She finally made him get out, and later she divorced him. By that time she was no longer young and pretty. She grew older and more bitter, and she had no use for men. I'm sure she thought that by staying all those years she was doing the right thing. How wrong she was! Poor Mamma. She threw her life away for nothing.

LOOKING BACK IN ATLANTA

A Devotion For Today . . .

It is good to give thanks to the Lord, to sing praises to thy name, O Most High. (Psalm 92:1, RSV)

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, we pray in gratitude for the gift of Jesus Christ. May our love manifest itself in transformed lives, as we seek to serve others upon the Christian pilgrimage. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Heart To Heart

The continuing fidelity of volunteers in the Big Spring State Hospital (and in other institutions for that matter) never ceases to amaze us.

Some 300 turned out for the periodic recognition ceremonies at BSSH last week, and 74 received awards for 100 to a 1,000 or more hours of volunteer service. Mrs. Theo Ferguson of Midland topped the list with more than 6,800 hours. That is a tremendous record of devotion and love, considering that she must make an 80-mile round trip to the hospital.

More than a dozen volunteers now have put in over 1,000 hours, and possibly in another year this number will have swollen considerably.

Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent, observed that the average length of stay for hospital residents has been cut by more than 25 per cent, and he attributed no small part of this to the work of volunteers. This is heart to heart medicine.

Unhappy Experience

The refusal of the Senate to confirm the appointment of Judge Clement Haynsworth to the United States Supreme Court is not unexpected, yet it is something of a blow to President Nixon in his first premier appointment. For all concerned, it leaves something of a pall over the scene.

The greatest casualty, however, is not the President's pride, but the judge himself. Trapped in the spotlight by the mere circumstance of his appointment, he was covered with both excessive praise and abuse. A good jurist, but perhaps not a great one, he was pinioned on questions of ethics which were not so real as they were something on which to pin a test of consistency. In a sense, he was caught in the backlash of the snare created by previous events.

To this was added the underlying issues of liberal and conservative forces, each seeking to make itself felt in the court of last resort. This, sadly, is a form of pre-judging what a man will or will not do.

There also was the matter of an unbending spirit. Perhaps the President thought he could swing the issue by saying he would never back down, for he did not although this advisors foretold the result. Opponents of the appointment took a stubborn attitude in imposing philosophical attitudes and bloc pressures, real or imagined, as a test rather than judicial capacity and integrity.

In this nobody gained; everybody lost. The only hope out of this is that whatever appointment now comes up will be such that there can be no serious reason except to decide the issue upon judicial merits of the appointee.

Burleson Reports

Medicare Costs Going Up

WASHINGTON — Testimony before the Ways and Means Committee of the Congress, reveals some pitiful circumstances facing many people on Social Security, particularly the elderly on medicare.

Social Security was not designed to meet all needs in every instance but rather as a supplement to income. The facts, however, show that many people have no other source of income. With inflation and the high cost of medical care, those depending on medicare were overly promised by the government in the first instance. Many simply do not have a decent standard of living, earned from a lifetime of work and contribution to the program.

THE ADMINISTRATION is now proposing to raise medicare premiums and at the same time raise the rate of Social Security. Even if Social Security were increased, in many states those on old-age assistance will have a like amount deducted from their payments. This is true in our state of Texas, and, therefore, unless some provision is made in state law, regardless of the increase, it would not mean anything to the recipient.

The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare seems unable to come up with definite answers to these very complex problems. To meet rising medical and hospital costs, the first thing thought of is to raise prices and leave the elderly to cope with the result as best they can.

FOR EXAMPLE, anyone entering a hospital next year expecting the bill to be met by medicare will have to pay $52 instead of the present $44 before coverage takes effect. In addition, if a patient has to stay more than two months it will cost $13 a day instead of the present $11. This means that at the very time when both health and finances are at their lowest the medicare patient is called on for more.

It would appear that the 10 per cent boost in Social Security, as proposed by the administration, would offset these increases. The fact is, with the cost of living continuing to rise, it will become harder and harder on elderly people who pay insurance premiums with the idea that they are going to be taken care of.

STARTING NEXT July, the prospect is even gloomier. The monthly premium on insurance is to be increased "substantially," which probably means to more than $5 from the present $4.

When the medicare law was written, it was wisely decided to provide coverage for doctor bills, hospitalization and for recuperative and nursing homes or what is defined as "extended care facilities." Many people can not be restored to health if released directly to their homes from the hospital but can be spared invalidism at less cost than to remain in a hospital.

Presently a patient who stays more than 20 days in a facility will have to pay $6.50 a day instead of $5.50. With living costs what they are and with only Social Security to live on, those dollars add up for the elderly.

THERE ARE NO easy or ready answers to this situation but testimony before the committee concerning these matters was that the administration of this massive program is costing many times over what it should, and at the expense of those it is supposed to benefit. There is simply too much slack in the handling of federal money supporting this program.

There is no doubt that it will take a major effort to revamp the present health care system to adequately meet the needs but one thing is certain — increases in charges will not provide the total answer. Whatever is done it is perfectly clear that better administration from top to bottom is needed. Since there is a program and since it is certain to continue, it has got to be made more workable and to give the benefit to those for which it was intended.

Billy Graham

Do you believe it possible for anyone who has a great deal of money to be a Christian? S.R.

I certainly do. I know it is possible, for I have met wealthy people who are sincere followers of Jesus, and I have met poor people whose every waking thought centered about money. It is not how much money we have, but what use we make of that which is entrusted to us, that is the test. Whether we have little, or much, if we are Christians we will use all for the building of the Kingdom of Heaven here on earth. The Bible says: "If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon (this means money), who will commit to your trust the true riches?" (Luke 16:11). The true riches are those things which are eternal.

Some think that fine furniture, soft rugs, and a TV are all that is needed to make a beautiful home. The Christian knows that soft voices, patience, understanding, and love are more to be prized than any material possessions.

Some think they have a right to use all they receive for their own comfort and pleasure. The Christian is not blind to the needs of others, and gives generously, as he is able. One who is worthy to bear the name of Christ will be a good steward of all he possesses.

A sincere Christian who has great wealth will spend much of his time seeking ways to use it to build a better world. Look, and you will find someone who is doing this.

WHO'S NERVOUS?

Hal Boyle

Technocrat Of Sales

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
(Subbing for Hay Boyle)

TANGIER, Morocco (AP) — In this age of supermarkets, credit cards and hard and soft television pitches, the Arab merchant still is the supreme technocrat of salesmanship. Madison Avenue couldn't touch him with a 10,000-volt computer.

Come wiz me to ze Casbah and see for yourself.

"Welcome my shop," a friendly voice calls out from the beguiling confusion of a stall in the crowded bazaar. "Have a look around. Buy noz-zing. No obligations. Ali ben Nadim bids you a thousand welcomes and the blessings of Allah."

You can't place the name, but the fez is familiar. Smiling, trusting, avuncular, sitting there amid a sultan's ransom of rich rugs and copper urns, he is hospitality itself.

"Please, sit down. Have a coffee. Have tea. Have a Coke. Buy noz-zing. Get out of the sun. My shop is my home. You welcome here."

The master of the soft sell has you gently, firmly by the arm. Before you can blurt: "I left my wallet in my other suit," you find yourself enthroned on a genuine, hand tooled, gold threaded camel skin pouf, fingering a jewel studded, platinum handled, genuine Damascus steel dagger that, from testimonials sworn on a stack of Korans, severed the jugulars of many a Rif ruffian.

"My grandfather's kris," the proprietor informs you in reverential tones. Only the price breaks the unbearable poignancy of the moment. "Genuine antique: 100 dirhams ($20). But for you, my friend, a special price: 80 dirhams."

A small boy, known in the trade as an urchin-merchant, has appeared with a tray of weak tea in authentically dirty glasses.

Between the first two sips, the price already has dropped to 75 dirhams.

"You my first customer today: extra special price." The smile is shy and tentative, that of the philanthropist who won't let his left hand know what his right hand is up to.

There is assurance, too, in the mother-of-pearl wall placard spelling out the ethics of the establishment: "Fixed Price . . . No Haggling . . . Will Not Be Undersold."

You have yet to make an offer, but the monologue already has turned to how you would like it shipped or wrapped or taken to your car.

"Now just a dang-busted, gosh darn minute," you say in your best early James Stewart innocent-Americanese and try handing the knife back, but no one is available to accept it. The small boy is busy fanning away the noonday heat; the proprietor is digging deep into his treasures.

"Here, genuine rhinestone hilt: 50 dirhams."

You manage to get across that you don't want a dagger but you might be interested in a pouf, one of those puffed up harem pillows that Yvonne De Carlo or Vera Ralston used to sprawl on waiting for the caliphs to come home. One in the stall next door caught your fancy.

"Next door!" Ali ben Nadim is appalled. "Never buy next door. Very unreliable. Only my shop is reliable. Ask any taxi driver. Ask any hotel doorman." That is a bit like putting down Willie Sutton as a bank reference.

"Poufs, I have thousands of poufs," the proprietor assures you, plopping them down everywhere. "Camel hide, goat skin, genuine gazelle. Green. Red. Gold. White . . . "

Bargaining begins at 80 dirhams—$16. You have more like $5 in mind. At 60 dirhams you are his very special, best-friend-price customer. At 40 you walk out and he follows you up the narrow, winding streets. At 25 dirhams, exactly five bucks, you relent and follow him back to the shop.

"All right," he smiles, rubbing his hands. "How many you want? Five? Six?"

When you tell him only one, the price is suddenly back to 60 dirhams. "I thought you were buying many poufs. Can't give special price for just one."

Settling out of court at $6, you get the appeal to the heart: "All right, 30 dirhams. It is less than I paid for it, but I need the money for an operation on my father's heart." He points to a rotund gentleman sucking on a waterpipe in the curtained shadows of the family alcove.

The urchin-merchant precedes you up the street, the package on his head, distracting your gaze from a shop window pushing a similar pouf for $3.

The Season To Be Wary

NEW YORK (AP) — For most people the Christmas season is a time to be cheery, but to the Better Business Bureau its the season to be wary—of unscrupulous operators, swindles and gyps.

Money is plentiful during the season, and spirits are high. Inspiration flows and guards are down. People are in a hurry and they don't count their change. And the swindlers are well aware of it.

One of the most successful gyps—and its continuing popularity attests to the gullibility of men—involves a vial of perfume being sold by a street vendor.

Any woman would recognize that perfume couldn't be sold at such an absurdly low price. But to a fellow who has just left an office party and is heading home very late, the stuff looks like the magic that will ease his way into the house.

The gullible husband bites, ignoring his wonderment that such fancy perfume could be spirited from Paris through the customs men to be sold at a fraction of its costs from a carton on a city street. It is, of course, nothing more than cheap cologne rebottled.

Another swindle capitalizes on concern for your neighbor, which often is warmer during the cold holidays than it was back on those summer mornings when he started his power mower at 6:30.

"Would you please accept a package for Mr. Jones next door?" the messenger asks Mr. Smith, adding innocently, "It's C.O.D."

The magnanimous man of the house, anxious to get back to his television set, hands over the money and receives a strangely light package. By the time his suspicions are aroused the young messenger has scooted away.

Then there are the charities. In many cities young men and women have made comfortable livings in recent months merely by sticking out their hands and asking for cash. And cash has been pressed into their hands.

With this knowledge of just how easy it is to beg effectively, many of these same people will be holding out something that holds more money than a palm. It will be a cup, and the inference will be that the money is for charity.

The customary warnings, from the Better Business Bureau and others, state that any charity should be investigated before a donation is made.

Diabetes Insipidus, A Different Thing

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Our son, 21, has diabetes insipidus. His only treatment is insulin which he injects himself each morning. He is sugar free, but he does not maintain proper water balance, and always has a terrible thirst. What treatment other than insulin would help him?—Mrs. C.G.

Check again. Are you sure it is insulin and not something else? For diabetes mellitus ("sugar diabetes") is quite different from diabetes insipidus, and results from a totally different condition.

The two diseases are alike in that, unless controlled, they cause excessive urination and thirst as a consequence. They are totally unlike in that diabetes mellitus involves inability to utilize sugar, so sugar piles up in the blood. There is no sugar problem in diabetes insipidus, nor is there the threat to health and life that sugar diabetes poses.

Insulin is used to let the patient make use of his sugar; it is pointless to give it with diabetes insipidus.

Therefore, I wonder whether your son isn't really injecting posterior pituitary material — as insipidus is caused by a defect in the posterior pituitary gland, and the suitable hormone is needed.

In your son's case, since his thirst continues, he may need two doses of the pituitary material a day instead of one. Better discuss with the doctor about achieving better control of the condition.

In addition, chlorothiazide, a diuretic, also has been found effective. This is a paradox, since the drug is designed to stimulate the body to lose excess water. But it helps control diabetes insipidus, even though we don't know how or why. (Chlorothiazide can be taken by mouth.)

The posterior pituitary material can be taken in the form of snuff, but taking it by injection is usually preferable.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Your booklet on diverticulosis says to avoid foods with a high content of coarse residue, etc. Does cold cereal come in that category?—H.W.

Only if it is a bran or whole wheat product — the bran or husk is scratchy and does not digest. The usual rice, wheat, or corn cereals ordinarily are well tolerated.

How's Your Standing With Others?

One thing and another:

Perhaps the idea will catch on here:

In Japan, there are private agencies which specialize in assembling information on how individuals are truly regarded by their neighbors and speaking acquaintances.

In other words, for a fee, you are able to learn how you are thought of within a community. How many of us are aware of the enmity or respect we reap.

I DARE SAY very few, because man is prone to wear two faces, and sometimes many more, and you rarely are confronted with the right one when you talk to him.

We all practice deceit, to some extent, when talking to a friend. How shattering it sometimes would be to learn the awful truth — but how enlightening.

Most of us might set about to change and ungrade our personalities if we reacted to such reports, if only for a little while.

Will Any Office Be Worth The Price?

WASHINGTON — Presumably an era of purity and high ethics is about to begin. At least, that is the inference which logically might be drawn from the attitude of righteousness which has been exhibited, both inside and outside Congress, in various comments about Judge Clement F. Haynsworth's alleged lack of judgment or impropriety of conduct during the years he has been sitting on the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

PRESUMABLY, too, the personal and financial activities of justices now on the Supreme Court will be examined thoroughly, and perhaps congressmen will be re-reading the constitution, which says that members of the federal judiciary shall hold office only "during good behavior."

Have all the judges who are at present on the bench disassociate themselves from financial interests which might be related to some company that could become a future litigant in a case before them? Have all the Supreme Court justices detached themselves from payments — regular or otherwise — received for duties they perform off the bench?

HAVE ALL THE members of the Senate and House taken a vow not to vote on any measure affecting even slightly some company or labor union or trade association which has been helpful to them in a financial way during a political campaign?

Supreme Court justices disqualify themselves when they have a "conflict of interest," but members of Congress for the most part do not. They consider that their constituents should trust them and regard them as honest persons who will vote without regard to any financial benefits they might have gotten from special interests during a campaign.

BUT MANY OF the judges theoretically don't know how to be honest — at least, that's the impression given by many of the critics of Judge Haynsworth. Again and again some of his opponents declared that he had been a good judge, and that they did not object to his decisions, but that they felt he had been unethical or used poor judgment in what he had done with his own funds. The American Bar Association doesn't agree with this idea and said its investigation disclosed no evidence of any impropriety.

If a rule of this kind were adopted, it may well be wondered how many members of the Senate or House would be eligible to vote on certain issues. Most senators and representatives feel that they have a right to decide for themselves whether any financial support during a campaign will influence their decisions. But, oddly enough, some of them believe that they could not allow the same privilege to a man with the integrity of Judge Haynsworth.

THE QUESTION of ethics, however, was really not the controlling factor in the Haynsworth controversy. Unfortunately for him, he alienated the leaders of Negro organizations as well as the heads of labor unions by his rulings. When a President of the United States picks justices for the Supreme Court in the future, he will apparently have to make sure that there hasn't been any decision rendered by his nominee which could cause the labor unions or the civil-rights leaders to object.

What all this suggests is that the American system of government now is becoming involved in a "court packing" formula. It implies that the special groups who want cases decided their way have enough money in these days of expensive campaigning to defeat a senator who votes to confirm an impartial nominee to the bench.

PRESIDENTS in the past have named experienced judges to the high court. Occasionally there have been objections raised, but, on the whole, court nominees have been spared the kind of smears which in the last several weeks have been aired in the press and on television. One wonders whether any public office will seem to be worthwhile when the price that has to be paid as an ordeal of innuendo and public questioning of a man's integrity.

Contrasting Philosophies

WASHINGTON — Up on Capitol Hill that morning Sen. Edmund Muskie, the only acknowledged presidential candidate for 1972, was doing his thing for unilateral disarmament, and at noon Police Chief Jerry Wilson told us at a luncheon that the crime rate continues to leap because violent wrong-doers are soon back on the streets and at it again.

THE REPORTER who caught both performances sat down at his typewriter to ponder the connection. Were the Communists, were the criminals, going to mend their murderous ways if the rest of society spared the rod?

Sen. Muskie argued that we should open the SALT disarmament talks in Helsinki by saying that we'd quit development of our deadliest nuclear weapon, called MIRV, the warhead that carries a cluster of independently-targeted missiles.

THE SOVIETS don't scare easily, but MIRV should frighten them if anything does. We're out in front in the development of this devilishly-clever device. We can install it fairly soon on 1000 ICBM's, on 600 longrange bombers, on 41 nuclear-powered submarines. If we're the warmongers that the Russian propagandists say we are, we could make a desert of the USSR and call it peace.

JERRY WILSON, a big bald North Carolinian who rose from patrolman to police chief, told us that criminals are almost never reformed by sympathetic social workers and correctional institutions. The gunman and the rapist will keep on doing what comes naturally when he's beaten the rap, or been released on bail, or been given a short sentence. Only when imprisoned, or "when their wives don't let them out at nights," or when there are intervals of swift and sure justice, do criminals change their ways, said Wilson.

The reporter at his typewriter had read Conrad's "Lord Jim" and Hawthorne's "Scarlet Letter," and he'd once considered going into the clergy as a profession. He recalled that literature and theology both assume that there's a human need for punishment. The guilty conscience inflicts suffering in sensitive persons, and the Catholic Church for centuries has instructed sinners to do penance. People need punishment, and the threat of it, or they become unstrung. There aren't the consequences to misbehavior that there used to be before we had the Pill, and Permissiveness, and the fad for Civil Disobedience. And look at what's happened to us.

CHIEF WILSON, just a big city cop and not nearly the grammarian and professed statesman that the senator was, seemed a lot more savvy about the human race and the truths that govern mankind. He didn't love people less than Sen. Muskie, but he gave the impression of understanding them better.

Out in the world that day, and out in the Washington streets, the forces to destroy American civilization were on the loose. Maybe this civilization is a poor thing, but it's our own, and there are some of us who love it. This reporter kept thinking of Sen. Muskie and Wilson, the leader who would suspend the threat of punishment and the leader who believes that punishment is all that keeps bad men good. Someday the country may have to choose.

FOREIGN MODELS, TRUCKS INCLUDED

Big 3 Has Auto Parts

Big 3 Auto Salvage, located a few miles outside of town on North Birdwell, can supply any auto part needed, including for foreign models and trucks.

"People are coming to my wrecking yard more often than ever before since money is so tight now," said owner Bob Wheeler.

He has been in the auto business since 1948 when he took an auto mechanics course as a junior in high school here. Seven months ago he retired from his position as purchasing agent and shop foreman for 15 years for Howard County Road Department to devote full time to his auto salvage business. Eight years ago he began Big 3 Auto Salvage on a part-time basis with $250 and built it into a $40,000 business, including the land.

Virtually any auto part needed can be obtained through Big 3 Auto Salvage. Wheeler belongs to a cooperative of 60 auto salvage dealers who maintain an open telephone circuit for ordering parts from each other. They cover five states and include two dealers who specialize in truck parts and one in Dallas who specializes in all foreign car parts.

In addition, many of the dealers subscribe to other salvage telephone circuits that increase coverage across the United States. "I've gotten parts from as far off as Illinois," Wheeler said.

Big 3 Auto Salvage encompasses five acres packed with 1,500 cars. Wheeler has just purchased another five acres so he can spread out his stock in rows and accommodate the new cars. He usually bids for 100 cars a month from the insurance companies.

"I plan to specialize in late model cars from 1967 on up," Wheeler said. He has a large supply of car radios, starters, generators and 65 different complete engines. With the tremendous variety of cars now manufactured it is impossible to stock all parts, but with the cooperative auto salvage circuit Big 3 has access to all parts needed.

Big 3 Auto Salvage provides a lot of parts to dealers in the south since the parts do not deteriorate or rust as quickly here as they do in wet climates. Wheeler "pickles" his parts in oil to keep them from freezing up.

He maintains his business by himself and is open Monday through Saturday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Big 3 Auto Salvage will provide any auto part as quickly as possible to individuals, garages, service stations and car dealers.

ANY AUTO PART can be purchased at Bob Wheeler's Big 3 Auto Salvage on North Birdwell.

Nixon Studies Next Court Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the second time this century a president is trying to decide what to do next after the Senate voted down his nominee to the Supreme Court.

President Nixon said Friday, after the Senate rejected 55-45 his nomination of Clement F. Haynsworth, that he would wait until Congress returns in January for its second term before submitting another nomination.

Nixon also said he would stick with his campaign pledge to pick a nominee who believes in "a strict interpretation of the Supreme Court's role."

While smarting from his worst congressional defeat since taking office, Nixon must try a second time to find such a man who will be agreeable to the Senate.

The last president to face this dilemma was Herbert Hoover, and he handled it well by any side's view. Hoover barely won confirmation of his first Supreme Court nominee, Charles Evans Hughes, and lost his second, John J. Parker of North Carolina, by a 41-39 vote on May 7, 1930.

Parker, like Haynsworth, was opposed by labor and civil rights groups. Some critics said he was nominated to pay a political debt to Southerners who had supported Hoover in 1928.

Progressives in Congress, smarting under the conservative rule of the 1920s, stopped Parker's nomination.

Hoover, like Nixon, looked for another nominee who would fulfill his philosophical requirements and clear the Senate. He came up with Owen J. Roberts.

Roberts satisfied the Senate, which gave unanimous confirmation. He probably would have satisfied Nixon as well.

A strict constructionist on the bench, Roberts was strictly middle-of-the-road politically. He voted sometimes with the court's conservative bloc, sometimes with the liberals. But each decision was based on the law as he read it, not social or political philosophy.

Parker, too, fared well after the bitter court fight. He remained on the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals, became chief judge and in time even won the respect of labor.

Hughes, whom Hoover made chief justice, was confirmed 56 to 26 despite complaints that his recent work as a lawyer had been largely for great corporations.

The confirmation fight troubled Hughes but did not prevent him from becoming one of the court's best known and most distinguished members. Nor did a similar battle keep Justice Hugo L. Black from a long and esteemed career.

Black was confirmed in 1937 with 16 votes against him, the opposition coming from conservatives who opposed his New Deal philosophy.

The fight came after he was sworn in and it was revealed he had once belonged to the Ku Klux Klan. Black admitted the membership, said it had been terminated long ago and that he did not hold the racial or religious views attributed to the Klan.

Despite the long battle, Black survived the attacks and sits today on the court.

REJECTED NOMINEES — For the second time this century a president's nominee to the Supreme Court has been voted down by the Senate. Clement F. Haynsworth, right, was turned down last week. John J. Parker, left, nominated by President Herbert Hoover in 1930, also failed to gain Senate confirmation.

Parking Problem Listed On Agenda

The Big Spring Traffic Commission has planned a meeting for 10 a.m. Tuesday in the commission room to hear a report from Don Crockett on the parking situation on Connally in front of Marcy School; the commission was asked to establish a no parking zone.

The commission will also consider a request from Mrs. Frank Parker, 1222 E. 15th, for some kind of parking control on Fifteenth Street; she has complained that parked pickups, especially with campers on the back, make it difficult to see oncoming traffic. Quigley Floral Shop, 1512 Gregg, has also requested a loading zone on Sixteenth Street.

Scientists Apprehensive Of Accomplishment

BOSTON (AP) — The gene, which transmits hereditary characteristics, has been isolated for the first time—and two scientists who helped do it have voiced fears of possible manipulation of human traits.

"I feel the bad far outweighs the good in this particular work," said Dr. Jonathan Beckwith, 33. "I feel this is more frightening than hopeful. It is obvious that it raises the possibility of genetic engineering."

Also expressing apprehension that the discovery may have harmful applications, Dr. James Shapiro, 26, head of the Harvard Medical School research team which isolated the gene, said: "We don't necessarily have the right to pat ourselves on the back."

The discovery was announced to newsmen Wednesday but publication of the story was delayed until Saturday to coincide with publication in the British magazine "Nature," of a paper outlining the technique.

Beckwith, a molecular geneticist, said the means for manipulating genes in humans do not exist at present, but that it was conceivable such techniques could be developed in the future.

Before the work by the Harvard group, genes had been separated in groups but not individually.

Commercials Even On Space Program

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There is something new under the sun: the cosmic press conference. The homeward bound astronauts, huddled in front of the Yankee Clipper's television camera Sunday night and answered newsmen's questions from a point 97,000 miles in space.

Only ABC among the three major networks chose to carry the space program live. It preempted the second half of "Land of Giants" while CBS and NBC continued on with regular programming, "To Rome, With Love" and the Disney Hour.

The gum-chewing astronauts answered about a dozen questions submitted by reporters during a half hour. They described their emotions during the moon-landing—"I was having a ball," said Commander Charles Conrad Jr.—and told in detail some of their experiences.

The program was not an unqualified success since the transmission of their voices occasionally was mushy and their words indistinct.

Conrad confessed that because of a tight fitting space suit he slept poorly on the Intrepid, and Alan Bean said he didn't sleep so well either. Neither man had any dreams they could remember.

Conrad seemed restless during the interview, occasionally moving up and floating past the camera and then resuming his seat. A camera seemed suspended in front of him. Once something resembling a notebook floated into view and was pulled down by Bean.

There probably was more. ABC's science reporter Jules Bergman broke into the interview to say the program would be "back after this message." But after some commercials and a station break, ABC, too, returned to regular programming.

"The File on Devlin," the first "Hall of Fame" special of the season was broadcast on NBC Friday. It was a change of pace for the series and a big disappointment. The 90 minutes was a silly and obvious melodrama of international intrigue that used every hoary device of the grade C movie, including a secret passage in a Swiss villa.

The story was about efforts of Russian agents to kidnap the widow of an eminent American writer so she could be exchanged for a distinguished Russian woman who had defected.

An excellent cast—Judith Anderson, David McCallum and Elizabeth Ashley—took it all seriously but couldn't do a thing about getting it off the ground.

The original comedy that followed it, "Mirror, Mirror, Off the Wall," was the sort of fantasy that actors of the caliber of George C. Scott and Maureen Stapleton must enjoy.

Scott played a dedicated, stormy writer of serious books who, in what seemed a gesture of defiance, ripped off under a pen name a sexy piece of trash that turned into a best seller. Suddenly his alter ego, also played by Scott, turned up to taunt and bedevil him.

His affectionate and worried wife—Miss Stapleton—also developed an alter ego—a tough, bold blonde. The message behind the fantasy was probably that there is a Jekyll and Hyde in all of us. The portions where the originals were talking to their alter egos seemed strained and awkward, but the hour was a welcome change from formula comedy.

Leaf-Raking Weather Dawns Across Nation

By The Associated Press

Most of the nation moved happily from a mild and dry weekend into the same sort of Monday in which sunny skies and dry weather are expected to prevail.

The good leaf-raking weather was influenced by high pressure extending from the Far West to the Midwest, with clear skies the rule from California to the Mississippi Valley.

Some rain was falling early today along frontal systems in the Northwest and in the East, with showers extending from the Washington and Oregon coasts to the mountains of Northern Idaho and western Montana as well as along a cold front from Tennessee and Kentucky to New England.

An inch of snow fell in Burlington, Vt., raising the snow cover there to four inches as rain turned to flakes in the colder air over northern New York and northern New England.

Travellers warnings were posted in New Mexico for snow squalls in the mountains and passes east of the Rio Grande Valley and eastern plains.

Arguments In Fuentes Trial

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Testimony has ended and the jury is to hear final arguments Tuesday in the conspiracy trial of former Small Business Administration aide Albert Fuentes Jr. and Edward Montez.

The two men, both of San Antonio, are charged with conspiring to demand 49 per cent of a San Antonio business in return for a $100,000 SBA loan.

Montez has denied that he and Fuentes demanded a partnership from Emanuel "Ray" Salaiz in return for the SBA loan. Montez, a friend of Fuentes, said Salaiz approached him to seek help in obtaining an SBA loan for his ornamental iron business.

Fuentes, who once ran for lieutenant governor of Texas, was an aide to SBA director Hilary Sandoval of El Paso at the time of the charges.

Doctors at Highland Hospital said he suffered a heart attack.

These Retirees Are 'Busier Than Ever'

By RHODA LEMONS

"I have to have something to keep me busy, or I'm not happy," said Mrs. Bob Wren, 700 E. 14th. And, on the day of the interview, she had put up 25 pints of grape jelly, attended a Woman's Missionary Society meeting and was calling people for a church banquet. Besides this, her comfortable home was neat and she was relaxed and unhurried.

Mr. and Mrs. Wren are both retired. He was formerly associated with McGibbon Oil Company as a salesman, and she worked 23 years for J&K Shoe Store, and prior to that, 12 years for a store that is no longer in business.

The couple has four children, Donald Wren, a TCU graduate who is a production agent for General Dynamics in Fort Worth; Mrs. Oscar Steward (Mary Beth), who works at Peter-Smith Hospital in Fort Worth; Mrs. Stanley Hess (Velva Jo) of Sheppard Air Force Base; and Mrs. Fred Overton (Lana) of Big Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Wren have nine grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Wren is reporter for the Center Point Home Demonstration Club. She has enjoyed her club work and has benefited from the study courses offered through the club. She is treasurer of the Howard County Home Demonstration club council.

"Fortunately, I am married to a man who enjoys going to church with me, so we attend a lot of functions at Baptist Temple," said Mrs. Wren. She and her husband are charter members of the church. She was recently put in charge of calling 300 names for a banquet. Enlisting the aid of 30 workers, she got the job done.

"I have lived here so long, I know a lot of people," she said.

The Wrens have lived in Big Spring 43 years and in their present home 25 years.

The Wrens like to fish. They go to a ranch near Hamilton on the Leon River and camp out each summer with at least part of the grandchildren with them. The ranch belongs to Mrs. Wren's brother, and the cabin is built on the lake and available to them at anytime.

The Wrens, who love flowers, have a garden and fruit trees. Mrs. Wren canned chow-chow, 30 or 40 points of jellies and several different kinds of preserves during the past season. Also, she put a lot of blackeyed peas in the freezer for the winter months ahead.

MRS. BOB WREN

Mr. and Mrs. Wren are members of Big Spring Barracks No. 1474, WWI, USA, Inc., and they enjoy a game of "42" with friends occasionally.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wren are looking forward to Christmas this year, because it will be the first time in four years all the family will be together. They will meet at the Wren home, and Mrs. Wren will serve turkey and all the trimmings to 23 family members.

"I am so pleased and grateful, and I just hope nothing happens to keep someone away," said Mrs. Wren.

Her children are looking forward to the Wren's Golden Wedding anniversary to be observed Nov. 5, 1970.

"The children can hardly wait," said Mrs. Wren "and I guess that is a long time to live with one person."

The Wren home reflects a lifetime of collecting furnishings, including an unusual lamp. Looking a little like bamboo and a little like rattan, it was made by an invalid friend of Mrs. Wren's who lives in Colorado City. It was handmade from Popsicle sticks and the workmanship is intricate and attractive. Mrs. Wren said that many people had tried to copy it, but as yet no one has made one like it.

Mrs. Wren is one of those women who remain youthful despite the number of years she has lived. She is vitally interested in many different things, and she is just now "doing all the things I have always wanted to do."

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

Roy Peet, who, incidentally, is still a bachelor, worked so hard getting his "Inland Port' ready for opening he shed 20 pounds in the process. Roy may look pretty gaunt, but the shop looks delicious! Surely, he can take it easy in one of the deck chairs now, for customers will want to come spend the day. I wanted to curl up with a cup of coffee and just look—and taste—and smell. It's lovely. You'll like it. Go buy something!

I'm envious of fellow-staffer, Tommy Hart, who still hasn't returned from the races at George Rancich's Sunland Park. (That may mean he drove a car out and is taking a Greyhound back.) Anyway, I'm sure he had fun — they had a race named after him, you know, and that's kinda special. Does that mean you get the blanket? I forgot, that may not be Ranchich's anymore — there was a sale brewing, but everyone was pretty quiet about it.

Some other racing fans, the Neil Norreds, haven't been out since their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Norred moved from El Paso to Woodland Hills, Calif., where Bill and two partners are going great guns with American Data Systems. (Haley Haynes, formerly of Big Spring, and son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Haynes, is one of their draftsmen.) Anyway, the Norreds hope to go out if Bill can get them tickets to the Rosebowl Game. The Norreds and his mother, Mrs. Obera Norred, were in Garland over the weekend to visit Mrs. Eloise Long.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Taylor are planning Thanksgiving in Monahans with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John Cobb. Taylor, you know, has inherited top totem pole spot at First National Bank since Lester Morton plans to see where the grass is greener. Congratulations to Jimmy, but I'm going to miss Nita and Lester . . . two beautiful people who gave a lot to the community . . . and I'm not sure how I'll feel about discussing the intricacies of my account with someone new!

The Don Wiley's have gone all out with doorway decorations for Thanksgiving, with a lot of help from daughter, Paula. They'll be expecting guests, Don's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey Horton of Dallas and their daughter, Jaime, along with Mrs. Horton's mother, Mrs. Paul Kitto of Wichita Falls.

Had a nice note from old-timer, A. M. Ripps in Bedford who used to visit us a lot in the Herald offices. He sent me a souvenir key chain from the "Flying Scotsman" the steam-powered passenger train which stopped in Fort Worth on it's tour before being shipped back home. Ripps, who spent his life on the railroad, says "them limeys are pretty good mechanics."

She received a length of wool fabric and will have an expense-paid trip to Dallas to compete in the state contest Dec. 6.

A total of nine entries participated from Howard County. Donna James of Coahoma won second place in the sub-deb group, winning some wool fabric, and Patty Peugh of Knott received a sewing box for honorable mention in the same group.

Carolyn Crawford of Big Spring, awarded honorable mention in the senior division, received fabric as her prize.

Other participants from Howard County were Cindy Williams, Donna Smith, Joan Crawford, Kayla Gaskins and Debbie Coffee. Total entries numbered over 150. Out of the 20 recognized, four were from Howard County.

A LOVELIER YOU

Body-Shapers Give Natural Appearance

By MARY SUE MILLER

Once was, young teens wheedled and worried a first bra from their mothers. Now the procedure seems to be reversed. Older teens are espousing the natural, no-bra look so in favor with the Paris and American couture.

It all started in the recent past with the little nothing body-suits and bra-slips, designed to softly underscore the soft cling of see-through fashions; to create an image of an unconfined and perfect figure. The step between a little bra and no bra was merely a matter of a few flippy hooks.

The whole idea unsettles mothers, horrifies grandmothers. It gets the self-conscious 30-plus set uptight. Were a teen or post-teen to face up to problems, she might not be so quick to flip.

Granted that figures these days must never be so constricted as to appear unreal, like a dressmaker's dummy. Naturalness is everyone's goal. But whose figure is so trim and firm that improvements are superfluous?

And here's where new natural body-shapers come in. Mimimal bras for instance: some are preshaped, many are seamless, all are contoured to minimize, maximize or plunge. Panty girdles and body suits are second skins of silky powernets and Lycra tricot. You just can't tell you wear one. Your clothes just flow over a lovely figure. That's all.

For more of the same, try some fitness exercises.

Fry Young Pheasant For Feast

Pheasants have white-meated breasts and wings and dark-meated legs. The cock usually weighs from 2¾ to 5 pounds and the hens from two to three pounds. Like other game birds, it is best to consider age when cooking pheasant. Age can be determined by the claws. Short, round claws indicate a young bird and long, sharp ones an older bird. Broil or bake young birds and braise or stew older ones. Pheasant meat tends to be dry; roast with strips of bacon on the breast and baste frequently. Most chicken recipes are suitable for preparing pheasant.

PHEASANT WITH RICE STUFFING

2 pheasants, about 2½ lbs each
¼ tsp. salt
1½ cups long-grain rice
3 cups water
1 tsp. salt
½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup finely chopped celery
3 tbsps. minced onion
½ cup mushrooms, sliced
⅛ tsp. crushed sage
⅛ tsp. crushed thyme
⅛ tsp. savory
6 strips bacon

Sprinkle one teaspoon salt into cavity of each pheasant. Brown rice in dry frying pan. Transfer to saucepan, add water, one teaspoon salt and cook until tender. Melt butter or margarine in frying pan; add celery, onion and mushroom and cook about 10 minutes. Add to rice along with herbs. Stuff bird lightly. Extra stuffing may be baked in a greased, covered casserole last 30 minutes of roasting time. Truss birds. Brush birds with melted butter or margarine and place bacon across breast. Place on rack in roasting pan, cover and roast at 350 degrees about two hours or until tender. Serves six to eight.

ROASTED PHEASANT

1 pheasant
1 quart boiling water
3 stalks celery
1 onion
1 tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
4 strips bacon
1 cup water

Put pheasant in pan and pour boiling water over bird and into cavity. Put the celery and onion in bird. Do not sew up. Sprinkle bird with salt and pepper. Place in roasting pan and put bacon over breast. Add one cup water and roast at 350 degrees, uncovered, two hours or until tender. Serves six to eight.

FRIED PHEASANT

1 pheasant, cut in serving pieces
¼ cup flour
1 tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper

Roll pheasant in mixture of flour, salt and pepper. Brown well in hot fat. Cover, reduce heat and cook slowly until tender, about one hour, turning occasionally. Add ¼ cup water during latter part of cooking period.

Make Delicious 'Leftover' Dish From This Roast

Leftovers from this roast may be used cold, in hash and for a curry.

BEEF ROAST

2-rib standing beef roast (about 4¼-pounds), 1st and 2nd ribs with a few inches of short-ribs
6 small garlic cloves, peeled
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
½ tsp. paprika

Have beef at room temperature. Insert garlic cloves between fat and meat, making small cuts with a knife if necessary. On wax paper stir together the salt, pepper and paprika. Rub into meaty sides of roast and over fat.

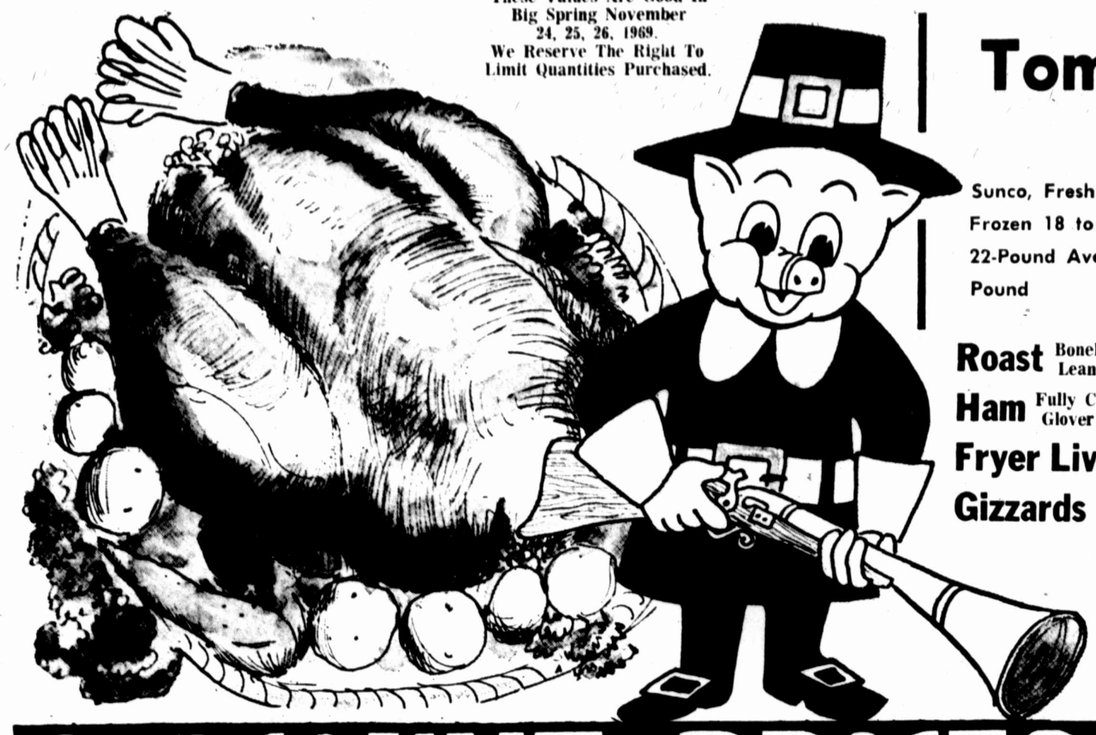

Place meat in a small shallow roasting pan. Roast in a preheated 325-degree ovn to desired doneness on meat thermometer. For medium rare this will be 140 degrees; count on about 25 minutes per pound — or about 2 hours. Let stand 20 minutes before carving.

Enzyme Products Used Differently

Enzyme laundry products fall into two classes. Some are complete detergents which can be used in the washer just like conventional laundry detergents. Others are enzyme presoak products that are designed primarily to be used for soaking before the regular wash detergent.

Protect Potatoes

Store potatoes away from the light. Even though potatoes are exposed to light for only a few days, they may develop green spots.

Give School Children Good Meals

School children, especially, need all the energy their meals can provide to carry them through each day's activities . . . energy to rush to school, to finish their lessons, to run and play. Where does all this energy come from? From food of course . . . the primary function of food is to supply energy for the body to carry on its work. In feeding children, nutritionists look first to meeting the basic caloric need of the individual child.

A good day's meals for children start with a basic breakfast supplying at least one-fourth of the daily requirements for calories and protein. Age, activity, size and sex determine these requirements. Younger children will eat smaller servings of the same foods consumed by their older brothers and sisters since both need the same nutrients each day but in varying amounts.

Whether the foods eaten by youngsters at breakfast are served hot or cold is not important; the energy value and the nutrient content are what count.

Fruit or fruit juice . . . preferably one which is a good source of vitamin C, such as orange juice.

Ready-to-eat cereal . . . whole grain, restored or fortified which can be relied upon for some protein, iron and several of the "B" vitamins.

Milk . . . with cereal and as a beverage to provide protein, calcium, riboflavin, vitamin A and, when fortified, vitamin D.

Bread . . . whole grain or enriched, to supply energy and some of the "B" vitamins.

Spread . . . either butter or fortified margarine for energy and as a source of vitamin A.

Anyone responsible for helping children learn the importance of the first meal of the day can teach the basic breakfast pattern and the many ways to vary it.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Heat-proof platters are great for broiling scallops or shrimp, or for oven-cooking small whole fish.

Bring a cup of dark syrup and a quarter cup of butter or margarine to a boil; stir until the mixture blends. Serve hot over French toast or your family's favorite pancakes.

Ever add a dash of curry to French dressing? Interesting flavor!

Use a fork when you stir the liquid into the dry ingredients for pie dough and mix lightly.

• • •

Pan-fry bacon until partly cooked; wrap around drained hot canned asparagus. Cover with a thick cheese sauce and broil. Delicious with broiled tomatoes and mushrooms.

• • •

A little paprika added to cheese sauce gives pretty color.

• • •

Be sure you spread coffee evenly in the basket or filter when you are making coffee.

• • •

Always scrub zucchini well when it is to be cooked unpeeled; cold water and a vegetable brush will remove any grit.

• • •

Don't pay any attention when small fry let ice-cream-in-a-bowl get soft — they like it this way!

• • •

Ever sweeten tomato juice with a suspicion of molasses? Youngsters often like it this way.

• • •

Gravy left over? You can add it to a meat loaf mixture instead of the usual liquid.

• • •

The strips of rind from half a lemon or orange will do great things for a pound of prunes. Add the thin lemon or orange rind when you cook the soaked prunes.

• • •

Like homemade blueberry pancakes? Measure the dry ingredients for the pancakes ahead of time and put in a tightly covered jar. Then you can mix up the pancakes at breakfast time.

• • •

It's a good idea to drink a glass of water when you get up in the morning.

• • •

Add fruit puree (made from fresh fruit and sweetened) to club soda for a refreshing warm-weather drink.

For a cream-cheese dip for fresh vegetables, beat the cream cheese; then add finely grated onion (pulp and juice), minced fresh dill and lemon juice to taste. Beat in a little cream — enough to give good dripping consistency.

PUSHING THROUGH — Houston Oilers' back Hoyle Granger (32), is stopped by a trio of Miami Dolphin backs after gaining four-yards in the American Football League game at Miami, Fla., Sunday. Miami players are: Bob Petrella (48), Dick Anderson (40), and Ed Weisacosky (61). Houston won 32-7.

'We Make The Big Plays,' Ram Coach Says Of Win

By The Associated Press

There's a simple reason why the Los Angeles Rams are enjoying astonishing success this season, according to George Allen, coach of the National Football League's only unbeaten club.

"The story of our football team in 1969 is simply this: We come up with the big plays when we have to," said Allen.

And the Rams were coming up with big plays all over the place Sunday in turning back Dallas 24-23 for their 10th straight victory — the longest winning streak in the NFL since Green Bay did it in 1962.

Quarterback Roman Gabriel accounted for three of the plays — firing two touchdown tosses and running for another — before the Rams' crackling defense came up with some more in cutting short a gallant Cowboy comeback in the final quarter.

In other games, Minnesota thundered past Pittsburgh 52-14, Baltimore squeezed past Chicago 24-21 on some late heroics by land clipped New York 28-17, Washington topped Atlanta 27-20, Detroit beat Green Bay 16-10, Philadelphia whipped St. Louis 34-30 and New Orleans subdued San Francisco 43-38.

ALMOST RALLIED

Gabriel's one-yard scoring run gave the Rams a 24-16 lead and an apparent victory with just 10 minutes left. But the injury-riddled Cowboys stormed back with a 99-yard march and cut the gap to one point on Craig Morton's eight-yard TD pass to Lance Rentzel.

Then, with time running out, Dallas launched another drive, but it ended when Eddie Meador intercepted a Morton pass, leaving Dallas with an 8-2 season mark.

Gary Cuozzo came bounding off the bench to fire two touchdown passes and set up two more as Minnesota ran its record to 9-1 and maintained its two-game edge over Detroit in the Central Division. The Vikings and Lions square off Thanksgiving Day.

One of the game's most unusual incidents came in the third period when, with the Vikings leading 24-14, Charlie West took a Steeler kickoff on his 14 and raced down the sidelines. The ball popped out of his hands at the Viking 40, but Minnesota's John Beasley didn't even break stride in snaring the ball in mid-air and rambling the final 60 yards.

101-YARD RUN

Pittsburgh's Don McCall returned a kickoff 101 yards for a TD and Paul Krause of the Vikings ran back an interception 77 yards to score in the first half.

Unitas lounged around the sidelines—marking the first time since 1956 that the veteran quarterback, in healthy condition, didn't start for the Colts—and watched Chicago intercept two Earl Morrall passes and turn them into touchdowns.

Finally, with just 7:40 left and the Colts trailing 21-14, the old maestro got the call—and promptly directed a 67-yard TD drive, in which he connected on all three of the passes he threw in the game, to tie it.

Then, after Jerry Logan intercepted a Bobby Douglass' pass and returned it to the Bear 40, Unitas drove the Colts on the ground to set up Lou Michael's 17-yard winning field goal with just 12 seconds left.

Leroy Kelly, showing some of his past brilliance, flashed for three touchdowns and picked up 124 yards as Cleveland shackled the Giants and all but sewed up the Century Division championship.

SKINS BOUNCE BACK

Charlie Harraway rambled 68 yards for the only touchdown of the second half to lift Washington from behind and toward victory over Atlanta.

Place kicker Erroll Mann, who was dropped by Green Bay, turned on his old mates with three field goals—of 23, 21 and 31 yards—that made the difference in Detroit's victory.

Norm Snead hit Gary Ballman with a 23-yard touchdown pass with just 22 seconds left to give Philadelphia victory over St. Louis in a see-saw battle of a pair of teams striving to reach the .500 mark. The two teams traded the lead four times in the wild final quarter.

Ernie Wheelwright bucked over from the three-yard line with just 26 seconds left to enable New Orleans to pull it out against the 49ers.

San Francisco had taken a 21-0 lead before the Saints caught fire and roared back.

Dawson's Passes Stolen Leading Raider Victory

By The Associated Press

Quarterback Len Dawson has seen his mates on the Kansas City Chiefs' defensive team make as many as five interceptions in a game. But this time it was the Oakland Raiders who stole that many passes — passes thrown by Dawson.

Two of the interceptions Sunday were returned for touchdowns as the Raiders edged Chiefs 27-24 and moved back into first place in the American Football League's Western Division with a 9-1-1 record compared to Kansas City's 9-2.

"Our defense had done it against some other people," said the veteran Dawson, who could not recall throwing five interceptions in a game before.

"There really is no excuse. The Oakland rush was a hard one, but I should have thrown better too,"

In other AFL action, the Eastern Division-leading New York Jets, 8-3, drubbed Cincinnati, 46-1, 40-7; Boston, 3-8, topped Buffalo, 3-8, 35-21; San Diego, 5-6, outlasted Denver, 4-6-1, 45-24, and Houston, 5-4-2, trounced Miami, 2-8-1, 32-7.

One of Oakland's interceptions was returned 75 yards by linebacker Dan Conners for a touchdown that gave the Raiders a 27-17 lead at Kansas City. The Chiefs closed to within 27-24 in the fourth quarter on Dawson's 42-yard scoring strike to Frank Pitts, but Dawson had two more passes picked off in the final two minutes, one on the Oakland eight-yard line.

The Jets defense shut off Cincinnati's running game, dumped quarterback Greg Cook for losses four times, forced him to fumble and picked off one of his passes.

Meanwhile, Joe Namath threw two touchdown passes to George Sauer.

Jim Nance scored from two yards out to snap a 21-21 tie for Boston against Buffalo and Mike Taliaferro threw three touchdown passes for the Patriots. Jack Kemp connected on two scoring tosses for Buffalo.

San Diego got by Denver as rookie quarterback Marty Domres passed for one touchdown, his first in the AFL, and ran for two more and Dick Post ran for three. Steve Tensi passed for three Denver touchdowns.

Mo Valley Loop Still Uninvited

By The Associated Press

Missouri Valley Conference football, down to five teams which compete for the championship and unable to sell its title team to a post-season bowl game, needed a shot in the arm.

It has received two in recent days.

North Texas State, which let a 24-7 lead slip away and lost 42-24 to unbeaten San Diego State Saturday night for a final 7-3 record, has signed a four-year contract to play some of its home games in the new 65,000-seat Texas Stadium being built in suburban Dallas.

Drake University may return to the conference.

Memphis State, left waiting at the altar by the Liberty, Peach and Sun Bowls, vented its frustration by walloping Louisville, 69-19, Saturday toe claim its second straight Valley championship.

Wichita State also unleashed some frustration, beating Tulsa 28-12 to snap a 15-game conference losing streak.

Coahoma Doubles Its Opposition

COAHOMA — One reason why Coahoma Bulldogs finished their highly successful football season with a 9-1 record is reflected in the team statistics released by Coach Bernie Hagins.

The Bulldogs gained two yards of every one the opposition could grind out. In rushing, the advantage was 2½-1, but passing was virtually even. If the Dogs had any one department where they lacked, it was in losing fumbles.

Johnny Ted Fowler led rushes with 1,049 yards, being one of the few to cross the magic 1,000 mark in a season, James Dunn with 69 carries had the best average with 8.60. Four Coahoma backs topped the 500-yard mark (and they were near the 600-yard level).

Toby Green was the best Pass catcher, snagging 15 for 256 yards. Gaylon Harrison caught 13 for 131, James Dunn had eight for 151. Kenny Clanton had .513 per cent completions on his 76 passes, nine of them going for touchdowns.

This is the way it looked:

No Place To Go But To Victory

By The Associated Press

Angel Cordero had no place to go, so he went to the outside, and to victory, with Ship Leave.

"I stayed on the rail behind the No. 1 horse and saved ground all the way to the half-mile pole," Cordero said of his ride on Ship Leave Saturday in the $59,800 Gallant Fox Handicap at Aqueduct.

"Then I had no place to go, so I had to take out."

Ship Leave went around horses, outdueled Hydrologist and Quicken Tree, and at the end of the 1⅝ miles it was Gustave Ring's 3-year-old first by a nose over Hydrologist, a 3-year-old owned by Meadow Stable, with Louis Rowan's 6-year-old Quicken Tree another head back. He paid $13.20.

Rams Chalk 10 Straight

By The Associated Press

Los Angeles, playing before 79,105 in Memorial Coliseum Sunday, became the first NFL team to win 10 straight since Green Bay did it in 1962.

They remain four games in front of Baltimore in the Coastal Division and Dallas, 8-2 still tops Washington in the Capitol.

"This was a big win, and gentlemen," said Ram Coach George Allen, "I tell you there's nothing like winning."

Coach Tom Landry of Dallas analyzed the outcome pretty rationally. He said the two touchdown passes by Los Angeles' Roman Gabriel to Wendell Tucker for 35 and 58 yards figured largely.

And, said Landry, a ball that his own Bob Hayes unaccountably dropped after a pass reception cost the Cowboys four points.

Hayes was flying free after catching a Craig Morton pass. A touchdown was certain. But the Hayes error left Dallas on the enemy 18, where bullet Bob recovered his own fumble.

Four plays later Dallas had to settle for Mike Clark's 22-yard field gial. That made the score: Rams 17, Dallas 13.

On Tucker's 58-yard scoring catch, the little guy snared it between Mel Renfro and Phil Clark. "Both got a hand on him but he shot on through," Landry noted.

The Cowboys were hardly downtrodden. Morton said the contest was never built up as a "big game," probably because the Cowboys knew they would be short of manpower and still had a cushion over Washington.

"Naturally we wanted to win, to beat an unbeaten team," the former California All-American added.

Oilers Rollick Over Miami

MIAMI (AP) — Bob Griese had zip in his voice, hope in his heart and a smile on his face when the Miami Dolphins' future came up four months ago.

"We can get in the AFL playoffs. Then, who knows, we might wind up in the Super Bowl."

Times have changed.

Houston rollicked to a 32-7 win and it was the Oilers, instead of the Dolphins, who appeared headed for AFL playoff action. Injured Griese had predicted otherwise.

Hoyle Granger was ripping up the Miami defense, even with standout linebacker Nick Buoniconti back on duty. Granger gained 92 yards in 14 carries.

Oiler quarterback Pete Beathard, who has heard boos in his time, was on target 14 times for 258 yards and a pair of touchdowns.

It was Rick Norton who was taking a booing Sunday. The kid who was paid $400,000 to become a pro star — and never has come close — was a picture of ineffectiveness with 7-for-26 through the air, gaining 43 yeards. Norton never drove Miami deeper than the Houston 22. His passes were intercepted five times.

Friends Rally To Support Of Stricken Grid Player

GARDEN CITY — The Kenneth Chandler Fund is getting good spontaneous support here as friends rally to the aid of the fine young athlete who broke his neck in a football game here 10 days ago.

The latest tally showed that between $1,600 and $1,700 had been raised to help with the medical and hospital expenses.

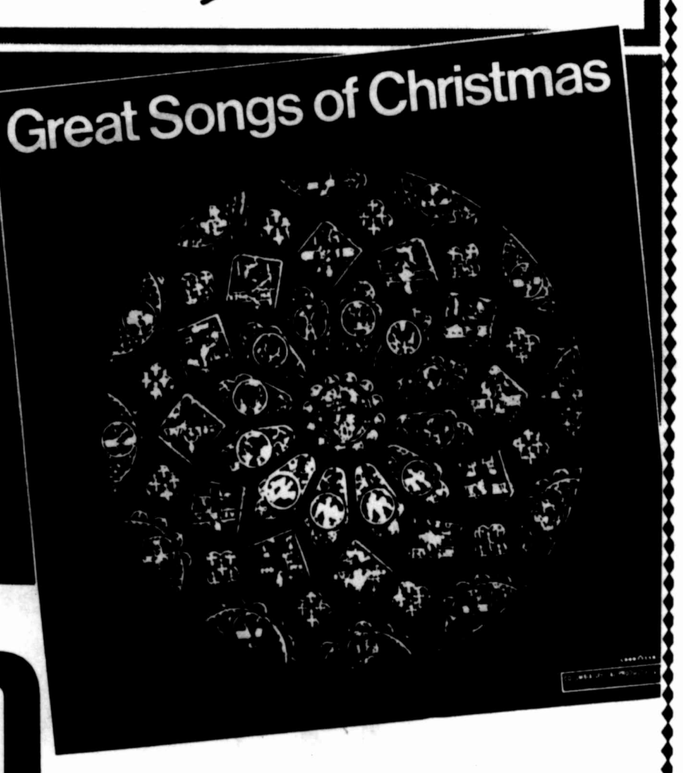

Meanwhile, Kenneth is resting as well as can be expcted after undergoing spinal surgery at the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. He has some feeling in all parts of his body, but so far there is no indication as to what effect the surgery will have on the paralysis which has gripped him from his neck down. His spirits have been wonderful.

Any concerned about Kenneth's misfortune can help by mailing a gift to the Kenneth Chandler Fund, Box 8, Garden City, Texas.

Wellman Trips Dawson, 22-18

WELLMAN — The Wellman Wildcats earned the district 3-B title here Friday night, edging stubborn Dawson for the crown, 22-18.

Wellman advances into state playoff action against Cotton Center Friday. The Dragons close out their 1969 grid campaign with the defeat, finishing 4-2-0.

The Wildcats went ahead, 6-0, on a one-yard TD by Johnny Tubbs in the first quarter. The touchdown stood up throughout the first half.

In the third quarter Wellman tallied again when Randy Redman scooted 28 yards for a TD and Tubb ran across a two-point conversion.

Dawson narrowed the gap to two points before the quarter was out on a Paul Cardona TD pass to Ronnie Hendson and a Cardona running TD.

Cooper Plays El Paso Next

By The Associated Press

Class AAA joins the other three classifications in the playoffs this week as Texas schoolboy football teams continue their pursuit of a coveted state championship.

Classes AAAA, AA and A completed bi-district rounds last week while Class AA was winding up zone playoffs which saw Houston Elmore, the No. 1 ranked AA team, lose to Brenham, No. 6, 33-14.

Abilene Cooper, ranked No. 1 in Class AAAA, plays its regional game against El Paso Coronado Friday at 8:30 p.m. CST at the Sun Bowl in El Paso.

Elmore's defeat leaves defending Class AAA champion Lubbock Estacado as the favorite. Estacado plays Brownwood Saturday at 3 p.m. in Abilene in a bi-district match.

Lufkin Dunbar, the Class AA standard bearer, will play East Chambers Saturday at 8 p.m. in Lufkin and the Class A kingpin, White Oak, will go against Paul Pewitt Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Marshall.

The Garland Owls, a surprise entry in the Class AAAA regionals, play seventh ranked Wichita Falls in Garland Friday night after knocking off fifth ranked Richardson 34-7 last week in bi-district.

A key game in Class AAA bi-district Friday will match seventh ranked Belton against eighth ranked Gregory-Portland. The game is scheduled at San Marcos.

Defending Class A champion Sonora faces a big showdown in its regional game against third-ranked Seagraves Saturday at Andrews. Sonora, which suffered two early season losses, is ranked seventh.

Texas A&I Bound For California

By The Associated Press

Texas A&I has accepted its third playoff berth in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics football Playoff Bowl.

The Javelinas, co-champions of the Lone Star Conference with a 9-1 record, got the bid after Western Carolina, ranked No. 2 in the NAIA standings, was upset during the weekend by Presbyterian S.C., a team that had won only two games all season.

A&I, ranked third in the NAIA, will play top rated New Mexico Highland in the semi-finals Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in Kingsville. The winner at Kingsville will play the Hillsdale, Mich.—Concordia, Minn., winner for the championship.

The Javelinas, who share the LSC crown with East Texas State, were NAIA champions in 1959 and last year were runners-up to Troy State of Alabama.

East Texas State nicked Stephen F. Austin 36-35 last Saturday to earn the co-championship on a two-point conversion pass from Jim Dietz to George Daskalakes.

A&I defeated Southwest Texas (3-6-1) 28-13 to cap its season.

In other games on the final weekend of play:

—McMurry (2-8) scored twice in the fourth quarter to whip Howard Payne (4-7) 24-14. McMurry had not won since its opening game of the season.

—Sul Ross (4-5-1), the only team to defeat Texas A&I, scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to rally for a 21-21 tie with Sam Houston State (3-6-1).

—Abilene Christian blasted improved Angelo State 51-19 on the aerial show of ACC quarterback Jim Lindsey.

Trinity plays at National University of Mexico Saturday.

Bullets Gun Lakers For Seventh Straight Win

By The Associated Press

The streaking Bullets gunned down Los Angeles... adding another bit of misfortune to the ailing Lakers' bid for prosperity in the National Basketball Association's Western Division.

Earl Monroe was the deadliest Bullet of them all with 31 points as Baltimore knocked off the Lakers 129-97 Sunday night for its seventh straight victory.

The setback dropped Los Angeles two games back of leader Atlanta in the West chase, while second-place Baltimore moved to within 5½ of idle New York in the East.

Cincinnati rolled past Phoenix 137-123 and Boston topped Seattle 125-116 in the night's only other activity.

Baltimore's victory—its 10th in 11 starts—snapped the Lakers' five-game winning streak.

Oscar Robertson drilled in 39 points and Tom Van Arsdale had 29 in guiding the Royals past Phoenix.

Larry Siegfried scored 26 points and John Havlicek 23—including eight in a fourth quarter rally—as Boston topped the SuperSonics.

Bob Rule was high scorer for Seattle with 33 points.

In Saturday night's NBA games, New York topped Phoenix 128-114, Philadelphia whipped Atlanta 132-116, Chicago checked Milwaukee 125-106, Los Angeles beat San Francisco 106-98 and San Diego sailed past Boston 125-116.

Longhorns Expect No. 1 Ranking After OU Dumped

By The Associated Press

The king is dead; long live the king!

But Ohio State's successor as king of the college football world won't be known until all the ballots in The Associated Press poll are in and counted tonight.

There is no shortage of candidates in the wake of Michigan's stunning 24-12 upset of the mighty Buckeyes, who had been at the top of the rankings all season long.

"I'm nervous as a cat over the possibility that we could wind up No. 1 in the nation," said Darrell Royal, whose second-ranked Texas team did not play Saturday. "But when I start thinking about it realistically, I know we have three more games to go and the big shootout is still ahead, too."

The "big shootout" is the Dec. 6 Texas-Arkansas clash which could decide the top team of the regular season.

Joe Paterno, whose fourth-ranked Penn State team beat Pitt 27-7, said Ohio State's defeat "gives us another shot at being No. 1. If Ohio State hadn't been beaten it would have been tough. But I think we have the credentials."

There was no word from Frank Broyles of third-ranked Arkansas, also idle Saturday. Broyles probably was too busy plotting an ambush for Texas when the Longhorns invade Fayetteville.

Despite the end of its 22-game winning streak, Ohio State must feel a little bit of pride at the accomplishment of Bo Schembechler, Michigan's first-year coach. Schembechler received a master's degree in education from Ohio State in 1952 and served as Woody Hayes' line coach from 1958-62.

He also played under Hayes at Miami of Ohio and spent many hours at the Hayes apartment talking football.

The largest crowd ever to see a college football game—103,588—watched 12th-ranked Michigan rally from 6-0 and 12-7 deficits and battle their way to the Rose Bowl against fifth-ranked Southern California, a 14-12 winner over sixth-rated UCLA.

"Our offense in the second half was just miserable," said Hayes.

"We made every mistake possible. Every good thing has to come to an end. They outplayed us, outhustled us and outcoached us."

A 71-yard punt return by Dennis Onkotz set up the first of Charlie Pittman's two touchdowns as Penn State broke a 7-7 halftime tie with Pitt.

Southern Cal fell behind cross-town rival UCLA 12-7 with 3:07 remaining, then stormed 68 yards and nipped the Bruins on a 32-yard pass from Jimmy Jones to Sam Dickerson with 92 seconds left. Both sides entered the game—played before 90,814—with 8-0-1 marks.

Missouri, ranked seventh, crushed Kansas 69-21 as Terry McMillan passed for four touchdowns and scored twice. It was the highest-scoring game in Big Eight history.

Eighth-ranked Notre Dame held off the Air Force 13-6 and Tennessee, No. 9, struggled past lowly Kentucky 31-26.

UPSET BUCKEYES, 24-12

Memories Of Last Year's Score Helped Wolverines

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — All last week Michigan football players practiced with miniature "50's" emblazoned over the front of their jerseys.

It reminded them of last year's bitter 50-14 loss to Ohio State in the last game of the season — a loss that ruined the Wolverines hopes of going to the Rose Bowl.

Players and coaches say the memory of that humiliation was a catalyst in forming the spirit that drove Michigan to a 24-12 upset Saturday over Ohio State, the nation's top - ranked football team.

The triumph gave the Wolverines a share of the Big Ten title with OSU, both with 6-1 conference records. And Michigan was chosen by Big Ten athletic directors to face Southern California in the Rose Bowl. Southern Cal earned its trip by edging UCLA 14-12 Saturday.

"I don't even care what happened on the field," said U-M coach Bo Schembechler, who played and coached under OSU's Woody Hayes for eight years.

"We were so emotionally high we couldn't have lost," he said.

The Wolverines huddled frantically before the game, many bouncing up and down as if on pogo sticks and displaying a shoulder - flapping enthusiasm.

On the other side of the field, Hayes' Buckeyes seemed rather complacement. Maybe it was their 22-game winning streak that took the excitement out of the match.

Jim Ned Trounces Trent, 61 To 12

JIM NED — Jim Ned came on strong in its season finale here Friday night, slaughtering the Trent Gorillas, 61-12, in district 7-B football action.

Trent did not get on the scoreboard until the fourth quarter, after the Indians had clearly salted away the victory. Bill Hammer and Johnny Jones recorded the Gorillas' TDs on 25 and 99 yard runs respectively.

Indian points were scored by Danny Thorton, Terry Vaugn, Rex Miller, Dennis Elliott, and Teddy Herron.

Falcon Blow: Johnson Lost

ATLANTA, (AP) — The Atlanta Falcons have lost quarterback Randy Johnson for the remainder of the National Football League season.

The team said that Johnson had to undergo an operation because of torn ligaments suffered in the second quarter of the game with the Washington Redskins Sunday.

Rice Gridder Dies In Mishap

HOUSTON (AP) — The entire Rice University football team and coaching staff will attend funeral services Wednesday in Henderson for Merideth Morton, a Rice player who died in a traffic accident.

Morton, 19, a reserve sophomore offensive guard, was killed here late Saturday when he was thrown from an overturning auto and crushed under it.

Don Johnson, 20, a junior starting center on the Rice team, was the driver. He escaped injury.

TEARFUL REUNION — Mrs. Kathy Bryant, 30-year-old Chicago mother, is reunited with her son, Timmy Martin, 6, after the brown-eyed youngster was the object of a three-state manhunt. Timmy was abducted from a street near his Chicago home by a man later arrested by FBI agents and charged with the kidnaping. The man, John E. Walrath, was arrested at his Hammond, Ind., residence.

U. S. Force Hits Low In S. Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that American troop strength in Vietnam has dropped to 484,400 men, the lowest in two years. This virtually completes the second round of troop withdrawals ordered by President Nixon.

The Command's report of troop strength as of last Thursday showed a drop of 4,800 men during the previous week. This reduced U.S. strength to only 400 more than the new ceiling of 484,000 men Nixon ordered to be reached by Dec. 15.

A U.S. spokesman said the command still expects to reduce American troop strength by that date to 4,000 less than Nixos ceiling, or 480,000 men.

HIGH LAST APRIL

U.S. forces reached a high of 543,400 men last April, two months before the President announced withdrawal of 25,000 men. In September he announced another 35,000 men were being pulled out.

There has been speculation in both Saigon and Washington that Nixon may announce further troop withdrawals before the end of the year unless there is some marked change in the war picture.

Informants reported today that allied intelligence has detected an increase in the movement of North Vietnamese war materials and troops along the Ho Chi Minh Trail, but Lt. Gen. Julian J. Ewell, who commands the U.S. 2nd Field Force in Saigon and the 11 surrounding provinces, indicated at a news conference that increased infiltration has not become evident yet in his zone.

INFILTRATION

Ewell said that during the last several months, infiltration into his area had fallen to as low as 1,000 enemy troops per month compared with an average of 6,000 a month in the first six months of the year.

Responding to the new enemy threat, the U.S. command has shifted a good part of its gets in South Vietnam to the infiltration corridors through east-fighter-bomber raids from tarern Laos.

For the past five days the 150 planes of the Carriers Ranger and Hancock have been sent out to bomb and strafe the trail network and to check on traffic moving from North Vietnam south.

Informants said there always has been an increase in North Vietnamese infiltration at this time of the year, after the seasonal monsoon rains have ended and movement along the jungle trails is easier.

OFFENSIVE

One informant said it appears the enemy command is trying to prepare "for something more pronounced than a campaign marked by a series of 'highpoints' of activity," the pattern for the past year.

This could take the form of a sustained countrywide offensive, or the present strategy of cyclic "highpoints" of activity could continue, informants said.

Meanwhile, the nightly Viet Cong and North Vietnamese shelling dropped to its lowesi level in nearly three months. Only two rocket and mortar attacks were reported Sunday night.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands reported more than 100 enemy troops killed in scattered fighting Sunday. Twenty-three Americans were reported wounded, while the South Vietnamese said their casualties were "light."

REDEPLOYMENT

The U.S. Command announced the redeployment of most of a brigade of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division from near Pleiku in the Central Highlands, to the Ban Me Thuot region farther south in the highlands. Informed sources said the move was made about three weeks ago to relieve South Vietnamese troops that were shifted to reinforce the defenders of the Bu Prang and Duc Lap Special Forces camps southwest of Ban Me Thuot. The South Vietnamese there are trying to hold off a large North Vietnamese force without U.S. infantry assistance. However, they are getting much help from American planes and artillery.

Rev. Polk Going To Okla. Post

The Rev. Robert F. Polk has resigned his pastorate of eight years at the First Baptist Church to accept a call as minister of the First Baptist Church in Ponca City, Okla. The resignation, effective Dec. 1, was accepted regretfully Sunday morning by the congregation here.

He goes to a church with over 3,000 members, one of the largest Baptist churches in Oklahoma. The congregation has a Sunday school enrollment of more than 1,810, a modern sanctuary and a new three-story educational wing. Ponca City is in central north Oklahoma, about 100 miles northwest of Tulsa.

Rev. Polk came here from Central Baptist Church in Bryan in October, 1961. He has served as pastor at Rockwall, Hawkins, and Robstown in addition to smaller churches at Wellborn and a rural church near Athens. A native of Tennessee, where he completed his high school work in Memphis, he is a 1946 graduate of Baylor University and a 1949 graduate of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary where he majored in theology. He has done graduate work at Princeton Theological Seminary. He was ordained May 31, 1945.

VARIOUS POSITIONS

He attended the Baptist World Alliance in London in 1955, and toured Western Europe. He conducted an evangelistic teaching mission in Belfast, Northern Ireland, then toured the Holy Lands. Rev. Polk also participated in the New Life movement in Tokyo, Japan.

He has served his denomination as a member of the executive board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, member of its Christian life commission, trustee of Hendrick Memorial Baptist Hospital in Abilene, a director for the Texas Baptists Church Loan Association, and moderator of the Big Spring association. He helped earn his way through school as an organist and served as Bible teacher and organist for Southwide Baptist Student retreats. He also was president of Texas Alumni of Southwestern Seminary.

REV. ROBERT F. POLK

Rev. Polk has served as a member of the United Fund executive board, on the Cancer Society board, as president of the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, president of the Big Spring Pastors Association. While at Bryan, he was chaplain for a Texas National Guard division. He is a master Mason and Knight Templar.

BUILDING PROJECT

One of his first challenges after coming here was to lead the First Baptist Church in the building of its million-dollar facilities on West Marcy and moving from the downtown location at Sixth and Main.

He married the former Polly Breedlove, whom he met at Baylor, Sept. 2, 1945. She attended seminary with him, and studied also at Union Theological Seminary. They have two sons, Robert F. Jr. ahd Thomas S. Polk, students at Hardin-Simmons University, and one daughter, Nancy Polk of the home.

Paving Hearing To Be Reset

The public hearing on the inclusion of 33 blocks in the city's paving program, originally scheduled for Tuesday evening has been cancelled, according to Ernest Lillard, public works director, because all the legal requirements for holding a public hearing have not been met. He said a new hearing would be scheduled at the meeting.

Lillard added that work on the second part of the paving program has been slow due to poor weather, with only four or five blocks being completed. "Caldwell is working on signing up people along the blocks to be paved," Lillard said. "He is currently paving San Antonio, and from there will go to North Gregg. Most of the work is being done on the north side."

Commission To Get Audit For '68-'69

Consideration of the audit for the 1968-1969 budget period (ended March 31, 1969) will head the city commission's agenda at its regular meeting Tuesday in the commission room. George Thorburn and Max Green will present the audit at that time.

The commission will also consider a contract with Cosden Oil and Chemical Company to buy more of the city's effluent from its sewer plant. All the particulars have yet to be completed.

On the agenda also are:

1. An ordinance calling a public hearing for the paving program. The hearing was originally scheduled to be held this Tuesday, but all the legal requirements were not complied with.

2. A public hearing on a recommendation from the planning and zoning commission to change the zone at 2309 Warren from Single Family Residence to Light Commercial-Specific Use to allow Delmar Bradshaw to establish a trailer park there.

3. A public hearing on a one taxicab franchise, requested by Jack Becker.

4. Request for funds to be used to publish citations of five delinquent real property tax suits by City Attorney Herb Prouty.

5. Resignation of Novis Womack as the city's tax assessor and appraiser.

6. Requests for a certificate of Occupancy from Erlene Anderson for the Tropics Club and from Roy L. Davis for the Pizza Hut.

Dallas Baptists Pledge Big Budget

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The congregation of the First Baptist Church of Dallas pledged $2,405,428 Sunday toward the church's 1970 budget.

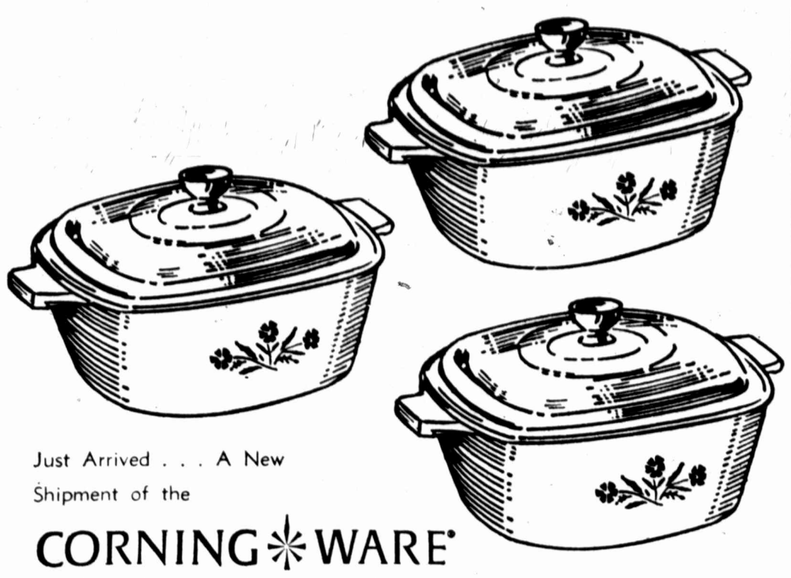

The amount exceeded the proposed budget by $16,311, a church spokesman said.

The congregation also pledged Sunday a total of $80,122 to send the group's young people's choir to Baptist World Alliance in Tokyo in 1970. A total of $148,000 is sought for the trip.

CORRECTION

In the caption for the picture announcing the grand opening of Inland Port 213, published Sunday, The Herald incorrectly identified Mrs. Melba Carter, an employe at the new store, as Mrs. Roy Peet. The Herald regrets the error and is happy to make the correction.

Prospects Good To Keep Weapons Off Ocean Floor

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Prospects are considered better than even that a treaty to keep nuclear weapons off the ocean floor will be finished and approved during the current U.N. General Assembly.

A Western disarmament expert said today he believes there is a "slightly better than 50 per cent chance of getting it through" before the 126-nation assembly adjourns before Christmas.

The Soviet Union and the United States have a joint draft of the treaty before the assembly's Main Political Committee.

Canada is consulting other countries about amendments to remove objections.

Under the treaty the big powers proposed, signers would pledge not to plant nuclear weapons, launching installations or storage facilities on or under the ocean floor outside a nation's territorial limits.

Missile-carrying submarines would not be affected.

One prospective Canadian amendment would say clearly that inspection of any suspect area shall be facilitated and that any signer of the treaty may ask U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to get the help of a "technically competent" nation for the inspection.

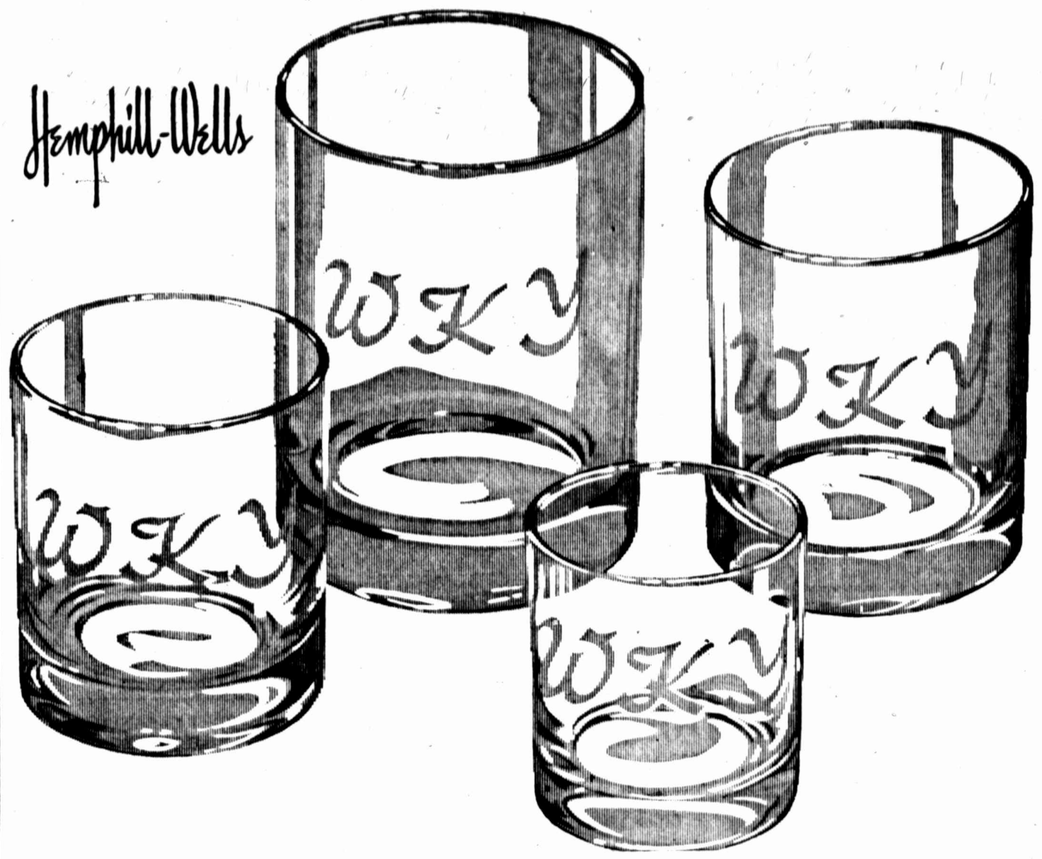

Another possible amendment calls for notification of the coastal state concerned before any verification procedures could be carried out on the continental shelf.

The 1967 assembly adopted a resolution dedicating the ocean floor to "the interest of maintaining international peace," and the Soviet Union and the United States proposed the next year that proposals to demilitarize the seabed be referred to the Geneva Disarmament Committee. That committee took up the matter this year, and the result was the joint Soviet-U.S. draft.

Sato Satisfied With Agreement Over Okinawa

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Prime Minister Eisaku Sato says he is "completely satisfied" with the agreement he takes back to Japan Tuesday returning Okinawa to Japanese control.

Behind a tight police guard in the presidential suite at the Mark Hopkins Hotel on Nob Hill, Sato relaxed after three days of talks with President Nixon last week.

In the talks, reversion of the formidable island bastion in the western Pacific was worked out to take place before the end of 1972.

When Sato and his official party arrived from New York Sunday afternoon, a band of 150 demonstrators waited for him at the Japan Air Lines terminal at San Francisco International Airport. However Sato's plane taxied up to the Pan American Terminal a quarter of a mile away and he left the airport by car without seeing the demonstrators.

They followed Sato's motorcade to his hotel, and their shouts were audible as he appeared before a packed news conference in a fourth floor suite.

Some groups oppose the basic security arrangements between Japan and the United States, he said, "so that it may not be possible to obtain unanimous approval in the nation, but I am confident the overwhelming majority supports it."

Agnew Replies To His Critics

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says he was critical of antiwar protesters not at the behest of President Nixon but because "I had had enough."

Agnew, in the current issue of Life magazine, wrote a guest editorial called "I did it on my own."

"The reason I spoke out was because, like the great silent majority, I had had enough," Agnew said. "I had endured the didactic inadequacies of the garrulous in silence, hoping for the best but witnessing the worst for many months. And because I am an elected official, I felt I owed it to those I serve to speak the truth."

Agnew used the article to defend his Oct. 19 speech attacking the Vietnam Moratorium protest. He made no mention of his speech, in Des Moines, Iowa, attacking television networks or his Montgomery, Ala., attack on the press.

Escapees May Face More Charges

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Additional charges may be filed today or Tuesday by Galveston authorities against the three men who broke jail Friday and were later recaptured.

Sheriff T. J. Flournoy of Fayette County said also that robbery by firearms charges would be filed against the trio today in LaGrange.

The three—William (Butch) Ainsworth, 25, of Galveston; Bruce Harris, 23, of Bacliff and Ronnie Roper, 20, of Galveston—were captured near Flatonia Saturday morning. They and two others broke out of the Galveston County jail about 3:30 a.m. Friday.

During their 31 hours of freedom, they led officers on a 180-mile chase through six South Texas counties.

Fellow escapee George McMahon, 19, who had been in jail two months on a burglary charge, was shot to death, allegedly by Ainsworth, and his body dumped in a roadside ditch in northeast Fort Bend county.

Bob Williamson, 28, a sheriff's deputy in Galveston, said he was wounded by one of the men. He is in good condition at Galveston County Memorial Hospital in Texas City.

He was shot twice and dumped along with McMahon, but was able to tell officers where the fugitives were.

Charges of murder and assault to murder arising from the two shootings were filed against the three in Stafford Saturday.

After the jailbreak, the men overpowered Williamson and Edward Muller, 67, a retired Galveston electrician.
