EUROPE KEEPS ANXIOUS VIGIL FOR PILOT IN TINY MOTH PLANE

LONDON, Oct. 18.—A wireless message from the steamship Hardenburg by way of the Leviathan, reporting the passage of an airplane, presumably that of Lieut. Commander H. C. MacDonald, shortly after midnight Greenwich time, was received here late today.

Craft In Air For Over 24 Hours

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Oct. 18 (AP).—No news of the Gypsy Moth De Havilland trans-Atlantic plane of Lieut. Commander H. C. MacDonald had been received at Dublin at 5:15 p. m. (12:15 eastern standard time.)

The airplane at that time had been in the air 24 hours and 24 minutes.

Air ministry officials had expected MacDonald to reach Ireland between seven and eight o'clock, eastern standard time or, if he continued to London, between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m. eastern standard time.

Latest reports indicated that weather conditions, which had been unfavorable this morning, were improving.

Visibility along the Irish coast was generally poor and there was the possibility that he had continued on to Croydon, near London, about 40 miles east of the south coast. This would bring him about noon, eastern standard time.

No reports of MacDonald's sighting had been received from any ships in the neighborhood of the south coast over which he had been flying.

It was intimated that the theora machine carried in MacDonald's 28 foot machine would keep him in the air for at least 24 hours, or until about noon today, eastern standard time.

This margin would vary, depending upon whether he had favoring wind and weather.

Anxious Watch Kept For Flier

LONDON, Oct. 18 (AP).—Watchers on this side of the Atlantic today were having an anxious wait for Lieut. Commander D. H. Mac-Donald, who was expected to land at Lough Swilly, Ireland, today.

HAPPY IN PARIS

Stepping high in their new double harness are Al Johnson, blackface master, and his bride, Ruby Keeler, one-time Broadway dancer. Here you see them in Paris, to which they sailed after their marriage in New York recently.

With the possibility of a bond election to decide the question of county-wide paving by November 27, voters of Lubbock county today are being given a chance to sign the petition asking for the election.

More than thirty copies of the petition are being circulated in every town and every school district today by directors of the Lubbock County Good Roads association.

The signed petitions will be presented to the county commissioners court at regular session next Monday morning.

County Judge Charles Nordby, who will preside at the meeting of the commissioners, said that action probably would be taken Monday on the petition. He predicted that the county would call the election for November 27. This announcement was made this morning following a meeting yesterday between several of the county commissioners and members of the good roads organization.

The executive committee of the association met in city hall yesterday morning and worked out details of the petition. The organization includes one director from each school district of the county. The directors are in charge of circulation of the petition today and the remainder of the week.

Jed A. Rix, chairman of the good roads association, left early this morning for the southwestern section of the South Plains in connection with the circulation.

B. Sherrod, president of the Lubbock Board of City Development, Spencer Wells and George P. Kuykendall are circulating copies of the petition in the city. They report the general attitude of the public toward the issue is favorable.

Here is a list of roads as outlined by the petition.

WOMAN FACES PRISON TERM FOR SLAYING

EIGHT-YEAR-OLD CASE BRINGS TWENTY YEAR PENALTY AT TAHOKA

Mrs. Mollie Turner, now a resident of Lubbock county but formerly a resident of Garza and Lynn counties, is being held in the Lynn county jail at Tahoka awaiting the outcome of an appeal following her conviction at Tahoka late Tuesday on a charge of murdering her husband in October of 1920. The conviction carried with it a penitentiary term of twenty years.

The woman's husband, M. B. Turner, Lynn county ranchman, was fatally shot at the Turner ranch home eight years ago and an indictment, charging his wife with the murder, was returned at that time. It was dismissed a short time later, however, for lack of sufficient evidence but last spring a Lynn county grand jury returned a new indictment and Mrs. Turner was arrested at her home here and formally charged after being returned to Tahoka.

T. L. Price, of Post, state's prosecutor for the 106th judicial district, of which Lynn county is a part, announced the outcome of the trial here this morning, while attending to business matters in the city. He said the jury in the case was out somewhat more than an hour.

Charges Echo To Finding Of Body

ELKHART, Ind., Oct. 18 (AP).—Charges of first degree murder were filed in city court here today against Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reyher, of South Bend, and Harvey Smith, a missing detective, sought in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Genevieve Stultz.

The skull-crushed body of Mrs. Stultz, missing for six months, was found in limestone mound near Elkhart Monday. The detective was said by Mrs. Reyher to have been hired to "get Mrs. Stultz out of town" because of her alleged intimacy with Reyher.

Smith is said to be traveling with a carnival in Alabama. South Bend police yesterday said they knew his whereabouts and promised his apprehension soon.

Building Permits At $100,000 Mark

Building permits for the month of October were boosted to the even $100,000 mark this morning with the granting of one permit of $1,800.

This morning's permit was for the remodeling of the residence of W. L. McDill at 1803 9th Street. P. O. Brock was named as the contractor.

Twenty-five permits have been issued this month for an average of $4,000 each, and 361 have been granted this year. The year's total is now $2,849,619.

Police Tighten Up On Ordinances

Evidence that traffic ordinances, especially the one allowing right turns of red traffic lights are to be enforced to the letter was shown in the city police court this morning as six Lubbock citizens paid fines ranging from $1 to $5 for traffic violations.

Chief of Police John Lemond warns that motorists will be fined if they make a right turn on a red light before coming to a full stop in the inside lane of traffic.

Three drunks and one vagrant also were arrested last night, and were still in the city jail this morning.

Would Ban Tolls

AUSTIN, Oct. 18 (AP).—Approval by the state highway engineer of toll bridges across Red River, connecting Texas and Oklahoma, has been ordered with the Oklahoma department for the purpose of purchasing them and placing the structures on the highway systems of the two states.

SUICIDES AFTER DAUGHTER SHOT

LOCKHART, Tex., Oct. 18 (AP).—E. E. White seriously wounded his daughter, Mrs. Frank Clark, 22, and then took his own life with a pistol here today. The shooting was believed to have resulted from the girl's marriage two weeks ago, to which the father was said to have objected.

Mrs. Clark is a worker in the oil fields near Lockhart, was struck in the neck, the bullet ranging upward and coming out her right eye. Hospital attendants held little hope for her recovery.

After shooting his daughter, White fired a bullet through his own brain. White was a photographer here and the young couple lived in an apartment over his studio.

BENEDICT SAYS GRADES LINKED WITH SUCCESS

STANDING IN COLLEGE TERMED CRITERION FOR AFTER LIFE

Picturing a definite relationship between success in college and in after-school life, the platform president of the University of Texas, spoke at the Tech gymnasium at 11 o'clock this morning before a convocation of the students of Texas Tech.

Other than Dr. Benedict, presidents of four other state educational institutions were on the platform at the convocation and made short talks. The speakers included, in addition to Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Tech, the following: Dr. L. H. Hubbard, of the College of Industrial Arts; Dr. R. L. Marquis, of South Texas State Teachers' college; and Dr. C. E. Evans, of the San Marcos State Teachers' college.

Dr. Benedict stressed the importance of single scholarship as one of the prime factors of success in after-school life, presenting statistics to show that the per cent of successful men is much greater among those who made good grades at school, and that honor students have a much greater chance of achieving success than others.

"Steady hard work, and doing well in school is one of the best indications of the after life of a student," the speaker said. He condemned the "superstitious" belief that good grades in school meant an inevitable failure later.

Members of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity, over a period of years, Dr. Benedict showed that members of this organization, which includes the highest one-sixth of the class from the standpoints of scholarship, were "studious hard workers, and doing well in school is one of the best indications of the after life of a student," the speaker said.

From the time of the organization of Phi Beta Kappa in 1776 until 1900 there was an average of about one member out of every five of the class.

HICKMAN GOES TO DEATH CELL IN SAN QUENTIN

YOUTH TO DIE FRIDAY MORNING FOR DEATH OF MARION PARKER

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., Oct. 18.—William Edward Hickman, Kansas City murderer, today awaited his fate in the death cell of San Quentin prison. His execution for the kidnapping and brutal murder of 12-year-old Marion Parker in Los Angeles last December is set for 10 A. M. tomorrow.

His removal to the bare cell in the execution chamber last night was regarded as having closed his last chance of a stay of execution, although Jerome Walsh and Richard Cantillon, his attorneys, continued their efforts to save him. They worked far into the night collecting affidavits as a possible means of bringing about a sanity hearing within the prison walls today that would delay the hanging.

James B. Holohan, in whose hands calling of such a hearing rests, has said informally that he would not act.

Hickman has declared he is ready to die and seemed resigned as he was led away from Condemned Row to the Death House.

The preliminary death march was a weird one. A bright autumn moon illuminated the quadrangle containing the tiers of cells in which Condemned Row is located. Although it was time for "Taps," every prisoner was on his feet, pressing against the bars of his cell, waiting for the death march.

John H. Carpenter unlocked the cell in which Hickman and Russell Beitzel, another convicted slayer from Los Angeles, were housed. Hickman walked with Carpenter and two guards to the steps leading to the execution chamber, climbed them and went in.

Thomas Hickman, of El Paso, Texas, who personally appealed to Gov. C. C. Young Tuesday to spare his son's life, bade Hickman farewell yesterday. Mrs. Hickman told her son good bye some time ago.

Judge Performs 'Pajama' Ceremony

Clad only in his pajamas, Justice of the Peace W. E. Scott last night was aroused from his bed at about 11:30 o'clock to unite in marriage Howard Hogue and Faye Lemons, both of Brownfield.

The couple secured the marriage license a few minutes earlier. Another marriage license was issued from the county clerk's office yesterday afternoon to boost the month's total to the new high mark of thirty. It was to Preston Clyde Lipscomb and Evelyn Helms.

Grass Fire Sweeps Lot On 7th Street

A grass fire swept over a small section of prairie in the 2300 block on 7th Street at about 10 o'clock this morning.

Fire truck No. 2 answered the call and the fire was quickly extinguished.

6500 PIECES OF MAIL DELIVERED IN LUBBOCK EVERY DAY, SURVEY OF LOCAL POST OFFICE CHIEF ASSERTS

When the postman drops a letter in the mail receptacle of a Lubbock home it is one of more than 6500 pieces of mail that is delivered daily by the eight carriers of the city.

A recent survey of the delivery system of the city of Lubbock by John R. Green, superintendent of the mails here, reveals that the average daily delivery of letters is 4,941 and the daily average delivery of papers is 1,561.

Averages were made on the basis of a week's delivery. Mr. Green accompanied each carrier for six successive days. The eight carriers, covering 400 blocks each trip or about 800 blocks each day, make approximately 3,200 stops daily, an average of about four hundred a day for each carrier, the report shows. Carriers in the business district make three deliveries daily and the residence carriers two deliveries each day.

The various carriers carry from about two hundred to more than a thousand letters each day. The average number of letters carried by one postman is 617.

According to the average of the week of inspection about 40,000 letters are delivered in the city of Lubbock every week and more than 100,000 pieces of mail.

Postmen work on a schedule of seven hours and 45 minutes, including both office and street work. Fifteen additional minutes allowed before the time reaches the overtime point.

WANTS DARROW

Was it unconstitutional for the civil-service commission to bar government employees from active participation in political campaigns? Loren H. Wittner, above, said it was and declared he was certain to lose his position as traffic bureau clerk in Washington as a result of a public endorsement of Governor Smith. Clarence Darrow, celebrated lawyer, was to be asked to defend Wittner in an open hearing.

Bullets Peppered Into Car; One Dead

CHICAGO, Oct. 18 (AP).—Machine guns peppered slugs into a sedan yesterday, near the spot where "Spike" O'Donnell escaped an attack last week.

Two men dropped, Ralph Murphy, a bartender, was dead, Michael Quinlan, described as a gambler, resort proprietor, may not live.

The men had entered Quinlan's car, parked outside the saloon where Murphy worked. A moment later bullets ripped into the machine.

Thirty five empty machine gun cartridges were found in the basement of a building across the street. Police connected the shooting with recent wrangling over south side beer trade.

McMurry President May Speak In City

Possibility of Dr. J. W. Hunt, President of McMurry college at Abilene, as the principal speaker at a political rally for Hoover here next week was voiced last night by Charles F. O'Neill, senatorial district chairman of the anti-Smith organization.

Previous engagements prevented Dr. Hunt speaking here this week, and it is hoped that he will be available early next week. Definite announcements are expected to be made soon.

EDUCATORS AT KIWANIS CLUB

COLLEGE PRESIDENTS MAKE TALKS FOR CLUB MEMBERS

Five college presidents were guests of honor and exchanged pleasant remarks with members of the Kiwanis club at Hotel Lubbock today noon. Dr. Fred W. Standefer, president of the local club, presented Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the Tech college and official host to the visiting educators, who introduced the speakers.

Dr. R. L. Marquis, president of the North Texas Teachers' college at Denton entertained the clubmen with a few new stories, while Dr. C. E. Evans, head of the San Marcos Teachers' college spoke on "Hokum" which he asserted was worthwhile when some good idea could be put over by the use of it. In his allotted six-minute period, Dr. L. H. Hubbard, president of the College of Industrial Arts, took another widely divergent subject and urged Kiwanites to consider the value in life of higher education.

Dr. R. Y. Benedict, president of Texas University, made a plea for the 35 cent ad valorem educational tax which he pointed out was essential to the efficiency and proper program of the public schools. He quoted figures to show the comparatively small percentage of income going for educational tax revenue.

A Shultz, of Dallas, Salvation Army organist, who will assist in the Army's annual drive for funds here told the meeting something of the work of the organization in Lubbock.

The regular meeting was presided by a few minutes of singing led by Hunter W. Richardson.

Donald attempting to span the Atlantic alone from Newfoundland to a tiny Moth plane a few feet before accomplished.

Commander MacDonald's wife sat up all night in her Kensington apartment waiting for news of her husband while her baby son slept peacefully. At 7 a. m. today she fell asleep, exhausted.

"She waited and waited for news until she could not keep her eyes open any longer," Mrs. MacDonald's maid said. "It is a very anxious time for her and I think she is worrying more because the news of Commander MacDonald's departure came so a shock. She knew, of course, that he intended to attempt to fly the Atlantic some time, but had no idea he intended to start so soon."

Had No Radio

Others who waited anxiously for news of the lone aviator were acutely conscious of the fact that he had no wireless equipment and that the only possibility of hearing from him on his 1900 mile voyage over the waters had the chance of his being sighted by some ship which would report by radio. The keepest lookout was kept along the Irish coast which was where the first glimpse of his tiny machine might be expected as this was his announced landing.

Some thought it possible that if he reached Ireland safely and was going well he might have decided to keep on to England. The Gypsy Moth De Havilland biplane in which MacDonald flew a midget compared to the Spirit of St. Louis of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh—the only man ever to make a solo flight across the Atlantic. MacDonald's engine had only 30 to 100 horsepower compared with Lindbergh's 230.

MacDonald in starting, said he planned to head straight for Ireland and when he reached there intended to continue on to London. Approximately 490 miles further on the strait was a quart of coffee in a thermos bottle and two dozen sandwiches.

Craft Is Speedy

The Moth planes have a maximum speed of about 100 miles an hour and a cruising speed of 80 miles an hour. On the assumption that he would take advantage of the 20 mile wind and throttle his machine down to 30 miles an hour giving the plane a speed of about 100 miles an hour to save his scant supply of fuel he should reach the Irish coast between 18 and 19 hours after his hop.

When he left Great Britain with his plane MacDonald had extra fuel tanks installed to give it a range of 35 hours which would allow him to remain in the air until 10:30 Eastern Standard time tonight under normal conditions. Advice from Harbor Grace here that he had taken only enough fuel in these tanks for 20 hours of flying which would indicate that he had cut down his margin of safety so drastically that the last drop of gasoline would be gone at 7:31 p. m. Eastern Standard time today.

MacDonald has one long air adventure to his credit and is a skilled navigator.

SHE'S CLOSE RIVAL TO PEGGY JOYCE

NEA Chicago Bureau

Peggy Hopkins Joyce, never a bridesmaid but often a bride, had better look to her laurels in the marriage arms—Jesse Reed's catching up. Peggy has had five husbands, whereas Jesse Reed (above), former Follies star, took her fourth mate just the other day. He was Leonardo Reno, son of a millionaire publisher. Jesse's second husband, the millionaire Dan Carwell of Cleveland, died three years ago. Her last husband was William F. Young, advertising man.

Established a reputation for daring. Last May after only 18 hours of training in dual flight and ten of solo flying, he started for India by air. He experienced a light accident on the outward trip and came down at Bagdad, Iraq. On his homeward journey he met with another accident and made a forced landing in the desert. He was held prisoner by an Arab tribe until he got a message through which brought an Italian armored car to his rescue.

In the navy, MacDonald won the distinguished service cross. He was a lieutenant on the destroyer Wryneck when he retired in 1925 and afterwards was promoted to a lieutenant-commander on the rest of the fleet.

LABOR NEED IS BEING FILLED

STEADY INCREASE IS SEEN IN NUMBER OF LABORERS HERE

With a steady increase in the migration of cotton pickers into this section an immediate relief is seen by Floyd Everhart, government employment agent, for the shortage of harvesters here.

Several hundreds of pickers are known to have arrived here yesterday. Although the pickers are being taken up by the anxious farmers before the employment officials have an opportunity to arrange distribution, it is thought that the need is being met at a rapid rate. A meeting is to be held at 9 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the city hall by representatives of every county down and community of the South Plains in an effort to compile a thorough list of the needs of the section. The representatives are requested to be furnished with information concerning the need of harvesters of their respective sections. Plans for proper distribution also will be perfected tomorrow.

In a telephone call to local Chamber of Commerce officials this morning, C. W. Woodman, head of the U. S. federal employment bureau at Fort Worth, advised that pickers from all parts of the state were being directed in this direction. Requests for pickers at the offices of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce have slackened somewhat with the arrival of pickers.

EL PASO, Oct. 18 (AP)—A dispatch to El Continental from El Paso City today quotes an announcement by Juan Correa Nieto, general attorney for the federal district, that he would prosecute only Jose De Leon Toral and Mosher Concomplan De La Llan for the assassination of President-elect Alvaro Obregon.

This will be in accord with a resolution of the supreme court of justice for the district which ruled that only Toral and the man should be held to answer for the crime, thus acquitting all the other defendants.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 18 (AP)—Fear that Thomas Mitchell, son and his wife, of Sturgeon Bay may have been drowned in Green Bay through a forced landing of their airplane was growing today as coast guardmen and fishing tugs ventured out into the fog which surrounded the bay to search for them.

Mitchell, flying the "Miss Door County", a four passenger Stinson plane of the Cherryland Airways company, called from in Menominee from Sturgeon Bay yesterday and told them they were flying over. Residents of Egg Harbor saw the red and green plane head over the bay on the 15-mile over water flight to Menominee. This was the last seen of them.

VENUE CHANGE GIVEN NEGRO

SHERMAN TO BE SCENE OF ASSAULT CASE SUSPECT'S TRIAL

(By Associated Press)
GAINESVILLE, Oct. 18.—Convicted that Silas Jorman, negro, could not get a fair trial here, District Judge Alvin C. Cawley today ordered the negro's trial for criminal assault and robbery transferred to Sherman.

Jorman is to be tried for an alleged attack on Mrs. A. R. Hassel, wife of Jim Grove on Oct. 8, when, it is alleged, she was brutally beaten and her automobile was stolen by the accused negro.

Judge Cawley first said he would try Jorman here next Monday, but ordered the transfer to Sherman after physicians had told him Mrs. Hassel would not be able to testify for two or three weeks. By that time, the court term here will have ended, and Judge Cawley said he did not believe the negro could get a fair trial at Denton, where the judge will be sitting then.

IN ROUTE WITH SENATOR ROBINSON TO CHATTANOOGA

(By Associated Press)
Tenn., Oct. 18.—Senator Joseph T. Robinson today began a 12-day offensive in territory where both parties are fighting for the electoral votes that may weigh the scale in favor of either Smith or Hoover November sixth.

For a full week the Democratic vice-presidential nominee has visited states in which the Democrats consider they have only a fighting chance, but from now on he devotes himself to a campaign which he hopes will put a number of middle western states definitely into the Democratic column.

Heading away from Utah and the Far West, the Senator's first attack will be in Wyoming. He speaks at Cheyenne tonight and in Casper tomorrow night. Then he moves into Nebraska.

Before election day, he will have visited nearly all the states of the middle west in which the Democrats claim a good chance for victory. After Nebraska, the nominee goes into Iowa, North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Illinois and Indiana.

Birth Control Leader Quits Her Place To Establish Clinics To Carry On Work

By Ruby Weil

Staff Writer for Central Press and The Journal

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Margaret Sanger, who once spent a month in jail because she was a pioneer advocate in birth control, has resigned as president of the organization which she founded as a result of her convictions—the American Birth Control League, Inc. Having led the league in the first seven years of struggle against bitter opposition, Mrs. Sanger has turned over the reins to Mrs. Robertson Jones, of New York.

This does not mean that Mrs. Sanger has abandoned the league. Far from it. It means rather that the work of the league has expanded to the point where it must be divided more definitely than before. Mrs. Sanger has given up the executive direction of the organization to devote her attention to research and clinical work. In this connection she plans to give lectures and start new clinics. She hopes to prove that birth control will reduce the maternal mortality rate.

Saving the Mothers

"This could be avoided," she says. "Many of the women who die in childbirth, and the mother of many children who die in infancy, may be fit to bear children, but not at that particular time. They may be debilitated from overwork or undernourishment, or from having children in too rapid succession."

Since beginning this work in 1916, five years before the formation of the league, Mrs. Sanger says she has replied to letters from 300,000 women throughout the country. Most of the writers were referred to physicians whenever possible. Ten thousand physicians now are co-workers and sympathizers. With their aid she hopes to attain her ultimate objective: "To make women conscious mothers, bringing children into the world through conscious desire, not through accident."

WHY DON'T CHILDREN CONFIDE IN PARENTS? ASKS AN ORPHAN

Why is it that young people having "perfectly good" parents do not tell them of their worries and perplexities, but must needs confide in me or others who write in a similar column? There are two reasons for this, in my estimation. One is that parents are not always as understanding as they might be and would laugh. And the other is that the youngsters are shy of confiding what might appear to be foolish little matters to a visible confidence while the author of a column seems unreal—far off, a being being who will understand and spare one's blunders. And then it is easier to write one's confidence than speak it.

Dear Mrs. Lee: I am 14 years old and a daily interested reader of your column. I notice many of your advice seekers, in writing to you state that they have parents, mothers in particular. Now, my dear Mrs. Lee, why can't the boys and girls show enough respect and appreciation of their parents by confiding their doubts with them? Isn't that really what mothers are for? I am sure if they did, both parties would become more close and learn to love each other with all their hearts. I only wish God had blessed me by putting me in a position to do this, but I have no father, and the Great White Way has robbed me of the one I should love to call mother. I've no one to comfort me. I am left to envy my friends' valuable gifts—a mother, father and home. Hoping you will print this in your column as a hint to those who are so much

Sympathetic Understanding

When she started to study and agitate for birth control in 1914 Mrs. Sanger had behind her only a firm conviction, born of association with the overburdened mothers of the poor in connection with her work as a graduate nurse. She had too the sympathy of a mother of three children in more fortunate circumstances.

As she resigns her presidency to carry on more actively another phase of her work, Mrs. Sanger has behind her a strong league of co-workers and sympathizers. With their aid she hopes to attain her ultimate objective: "To make women conscious mothers, bringing children into the world through conscious desire, not through accident."

"Hello boys, how are you?" was his greeting, and as flashlights boomed and a tremendous cheer went up from the well wishers, he doffed his brown derby and smiled his best campaign smile to those on the floor, the marble stairway, and the steel rafters, to which scores of youngsters had climbed to get a better view.

So dense was the crowd that several members of the governor's immediate party were separated from the nominee and Mrs. Smith. Mrs. John A. Warner and Mrs. Francis J. Quillman, the two Smith daughters, and Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson were pushed to and fro for about ten minutes and finally gave up trying to get close to the governor and waited for the crowd to clear.

Once in their automobiles, the governor and his party were whisked down Michigan boulevard to the Congress hotel through another great crowd of cheering well-wishers.

Upon reaching the hotel, the nominee was treated to another big demonstration and when he finally reached his suite on the fifteenth floor, the shouting outside was so intense that he came to a window three times to acknowledge the cheers.

Speaks Friday Night

After receiving Illinois party leaders, the governor retired late. Today he had no set program, except for a press conference. He had planned to spend most of the day in preparing his speech for tomorrow night.

Chicago's welcome to the New York executive climaxed a series of greetings on a smaller scale encountered in "down state" Illinois, where the democrats are making their hardest drive for votes, and during the trip up to Lake Michigan from St. Louis. At Alton, Springfield, Bloomington and Joliet, large crowds turned out to cheer the nominee when he appeared on the train platform. At the Illinois capital, he made the first rear platform speech of his campaign.

Holding a portable microphone which had been attached to amplifiers near his train, the governor told the crowd of the "great enthusiasm" of the crowds in St. Louis and Sedalia and expressed appreciation for the receptions tendered him by Illinois cities. He

SMITH PLEDGE OF RELIEF TO INDIANS GIVEN

GOVERNOR PLANTS OUT POOR CONDITIONS IN RESERVATIONS

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Governor Smith tonight made public through the democratic national committee a letter he wrote Dr. Haven Emerson, president of the American Indian Defense association regarding what were termed "shocking conditions under which American Indians were living."

The governor said that he was shocked at conditions disclosed in a report made by the institute for government research and believed immediate relief was essential. Dr. Emerson in calling the matter to the governor's attention wrote that the letter was sent in interest of the "Indian subject" of the United States.

"We say subjects," Emerson said, "because though in form the rights of citizenship are accorded them, they are living under a despotism which is unknown elsewhere in the western world, and such that it is inconceivable that the American people would tolerate it if the facts were generally known."

Will Halt Starvation
Emerson asked what Governor Smith would do at the institution if elected. The governor said "starvation of Indian children will come to an immediate end if I am elected," adding that in handling the Indian problem he would "consult with those who know most about their difficulties."

"Discussing what, if elected president, he would do," Gov. Smith said: "First of all I shall recognize the obligation of the United States to the Indians and I shall recommend to Congress the measures which will enable the Indians to continue to exist. Starvation of Indian children will come to an immediate end if I am elected and I shall see that proper steps are taken to accomplish this end."

Whatever organization changes are needed to provide adequate modern medical and health service to all Indians, as well as any increase in funds for this object, I shall be ready to recommend."

Asks At Writing
I believe that the Indians are entitled to an accounting for the $1,000,000 of their income which is being handled annually by the Bureau of Indian Affairs and for the $1,000,000 of capital which the government holds in trust for their benefit. I shall take immediate steps to secure an accounting for them and provide for periodic accounting thereafter."

Federal guardsman over Indian property must be continued, but this does not prevent the extension of the Indians of full constitutional rights and protections. I shall before Congress a bill of rights for Indians to be enacted into statute laws insuring that protection to individual Indians and establishing the right of Indians to organize and operate a corporate and tribal capacities with the same protection."

If elected I shall pursue the course which I have hitherto pursued in the solution of other problems and I shall, if elected, consult Why suffer with Rheumatism?

You know it cannot be rubbed away

ARE you one of those unfortunate who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.?

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered with rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs, then finally decided to try S.S.S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S.S.S. is the best."—Earl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.

Thought For Today

His enemies shall lick the dust.
—Psalm 72:3.

A malicious enemy is better than a clumsy friend.—Mme. Swetchine.

October

If we Americans were half as smart as we pretend, we would arrange matters so that we could get our vacations in October.

The average vacation comes when the weather is hot. The seeker of rest and relaxation misses both objectives: he follows the ancient American custom of dashing about at top speed, gets hot, and then scooches his hide on some blustering bathing beach, and winds up more weary than when he started.

But October is no month for hustling. It is time for leisure and contemplation. It would take a man of iron determination to take foot fast between September and November.

The ghosts of all the long-dead Indians are abroad in October. The smoke from their phantom campfires fills the countryside with a thin blue haze, and the dry leaves rustle mysteriously in quiet woodlands and level cornfields, as if the unseen were following the old trails again.

Now the noble red man was notoriously lawless. When a scalping party was about to get engaged, to be sure, but the fact that he was right in the pursuit of war.
He was a part of the art of lying on his back in the shade and inviting his soul to loaf. It was not for nothing that the Indians were the first human beings to smoke tobacco—and in pure contemplation.

If we could take our vacations in October we might catch a hint of two about this art of loafing. We have a lot to learn from them.
All of our prizes go to the men who can travel the fastest. The tired business man, a type indeed, we rather take it for granted that a man who is not constantly tired from overwork is not quite up to snuff.

All of this is very fine in a way.
We are growing great and prosperous. Our reports go to a reality of the world. New factories, skyscraper bridges, warehouses are being built everywhere. One person in every five owns an automobile.
And so on.

But life isn't a matter of bread alone. The nose that is kept too close to the radiator can never detect the fine flavor of an October wind. Tall buildings, however decorative, can shut us out from any simples of distant horizons. It is too easy to lose sight of our divinity in a range of crowded.

October is the autumn. In countries contain a dreaming peace that we need more than we need anything else. It would be a great month for a vacation—a vacation in which a man could cut loose from the iron standards of a machine age and get back to a reality of the simple, all-pervading beauty and serenity that are his rightful heritage.

The Law's Quirks

The ways of the law are perplexing and strange.
In Vancouver, B. C., a murder charge brought by California authorities. He was first taken into custody on a mere notification that he was wanted; but to hold him for extradition it was necessary that he be arrested on a definite warrant for murder.

This warrant arrived and was served. But Canadian laws forbid the serving of a warrant on a man released; then, as he stepped out of the jail, he was re-arrested, served with the warrant and led back to his cell.

All of this hoop-poc was undoubtedly necessary. But, as we say, it makes the obvious way of the law seem a bit involved and convoluted.

THE PLAINSMAN

That Girl on Broadway says too many people merely hope for the best when they should be working for it.

Two prominent Lubbock business men were in The Plainsman's office yesterday playing that popular little game of Arguing Politics. One was an ardent supporter of Governor Smith. If you haven't already guessed it, the other was just as partial to Mr. Hoover. The opinions flew back and forth until the two were on the verge of seriousness. A couple of three pretty strong opinions made the situation a trifle tense and two men, who have enjoyed between them feelings of friendship, were almost ready to become enemies.

Luckily the writer was able to step in and break up the argument and by siding with both at the same time managed to turn frowns into smiles, and the two departed presently at a neighborly fonda fountain.

The instance being recounted is one which is occurring daily, much to the shame of men who can't argue. There's no use arguing the question—the only way to decide it is to let the people cast the well known ballot on election day and then read the total.

There's nobody who gets more kick out of a discussion on any subject than The Plainsman, but he doesn't get mad at the other fellow because he doesn't agree.
This would be a heck of a world if we all agreed on everything and there would be no such thing as progress. But if we can't discuss questions of the day without getting tired out, then we'd better take out and keep still.

None of us absolutely control more than one vote and one vote in a national campaign isn't important enough to lose a friend or make an enemy over. Furthermore this line of chatter is good advice, whether anyone follows it or not.

That Man on Avenue Q says you can hand a friend a bottle but you can't help him drink.

Which reminds us—good men and bad booze have something in common. You can't keep either one down.

Here's a poem we stole out of the Boston Transcript.
"That there's plenty of room at the top."
Is a saying we're prone to ignore.
The object today, which you cannot misapprehend,
Is to get in upon the ground floor!

Those fellows who are off to the Antarctic with Commander Byrd are lucky. They won't have to listen to the girl next door practicing her piano lesson for at least two years.

Talk about trouble making both ends meet! Consider the flappers cramming when the sits down and her dress rides up!

M. H. Duncan, speaking before the Lubbock Rotary club in behalf of two proposed amendments to the state constitution, made the statement that "education is the biggest industry in this country."
Considering the remarks of hand-the-average hearer might disagree with the city school superintendent but further light on the subject lends credence to his remarks.

There are 30,000,000, yes thirty million, youngsters in schools in the United States today. Mr. Duncan points out, and there are 1,000,000 teachers engaged in the work of education. Two billions of dollars are expended annually for education in these 48 states of ours—spent to pay teachers to improve systems and equipment.

These figures are, at the same time, staggering and delightful.
Staggering because few of us realize the extent of our public education system and delightful because they show the gain over previous years. Education is the door to knowledge and knowledge means better living. There is nothing more important and education, even though the biggest business in the country, should be an even larger one.

William Edward Hickman, self-confessed bandit, burglar, car thief, hijacker, kidnaper and slayer of an innocent, helpless child, is doomed to die tomorrow.
The Plainsman, however, is forecasting anything. Hickman may be rerieved, another well known "loop hole" may be found in the law—infact anything is likely to happen to keep this young man from his just deserts.

It has been almost one year, right at ten months, to be exact, since William Edward Hickman, self-styled "Fox" dumped the battered and butchered corpse of Marian Parker into the arms of her heart broken father and sped away into the dusk. Almost a year has rolled by on the tides

Al Smith Should Be Acknowledged World Authority On Women When This Campaign Ends, Rodney Dutcher Says

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—By the end of the campaign, Governor Alfred E. Smith ought to be one of the world's most important authorities on the feminine sex.

Herbert Hoover
too, is learning about women from politics. But Smith, who has a wife and daughters, has been receiving the more intensive education. Two women sprung the hoary old chestnut about these nigger-loving Republicans trying to force social equality on the Southern people. Now a word personal before going further. My parents were both old Southern slave-holding families who entertained Jefferson Davis, and were entertained at his Mississippi mansion. My father was a spy when too young for the Confederate army but rode with Forrest almost a year after men had become scarce. Uncle Bill was killed at Vicksburg and Uncles Jim and John were captured there. Long in the seventies my father left Louisiana and came to Texas because he knew too much about a famous race riot in that state. My mother moved to Texas almost fifteen years before Al Smith was born and was on speaking terms with Sam Houston, Sterling Price and many other famous Texans and with her own hands made the cloth and sewed it up into uniforms for Southern soldiers and I have the honor to report that this worthy lady hopes to celebrate her eightieth year by voting for Herbert Hoover. She voted for Cox and Davis in the two previous elections. This year for the first time in my life I will vote the Republican national ticket. Reason why?
I have fought the curse of strong drink all my life and so did my Methodist preacher father before me. Now don't say Yankee and black Republican to me—I ain't no such animal.

But please broadcast this

Al's king.

Jack Johnson the retired prizefighter who legally lives with a white woman in Al's home state is now on the stump for the Tamdarktown. In the Twelfth Missouri district a black granger nigger is being run by the Al Smith machine for Congress.

The notorious Greenback Bill Mc-Donald ex-Republican boss of Mc-Donald is another nigger who is out drumming up nigger votes for Al Smith.

How proud this bunch of spellbinders must be to number themselves with such distinguished company, but any one of them is good as Raskob the second in command of time since Hickman was captured and remanded to jail.

For almost a year the once outraged people of this nation have lulled into forgetfulness by the dilly-dallying of the courts of California which are no worse in this respect than the courts of most of our other states.

The fellow who first wrote "the wheels of justice grind exceedingly slow" had the right dope but he didn't go far enough. He should have made it "dreadfully slow."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mr. Adair is mistaken in his reference to the "Lubbock daily newspaper's cartoon" in the article above. The cartoon to which he refers was published on the editorial page of the Avalanche-Journal of Sunday, Oct.
14, and the "miserable caricature"
he spoke of was not that of a Protestant minister but was labelled "Bigotry." No reference by word or drawing was made to Protestant ministers in the cartoon.

New Yorkers of all the people in

And since most New Yorkers with from a letter that lies on my table, concerning the dog quarters on the

"The diet kitchen will be under

Weight charts will be kept of each

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 When someone invented the phrase, "a dog's life," he didn't mean what they mean in Manhattan.

The life of any dog able to sport
something better than a mongrel's background is likely to be an infinitely better one than, mayhap, that of the master who owns him.
There are on the uptown side streets, beauty parlors for pugs, haircutting establishments, haberdasheries, blouses emporiums. The city hotels, knowing well that most of their guests will insist on at least one schnauzer, have snappy kennels in the basement, and long since, have served special dog meals at 80 cents per each. The service is personal and Fido gets out of no tin receptacles.

But the last word, to date, has been spoken.

There is a giant hemlock beside

Lovers of Nature have been wont

Some small-eyed moron recently

ing your rules for a year (August, 1926, to August, 1927), I have lost 106 pounds. I have found no difficulty in keeping weight normal since that time—more than a year now. It is needless to say that I feel like another woman and life is altogether better for me in every way.
MRS. M."

Lulu Hunt Peters

letting us know of it, Mrs. M. You certainly certainly deserve a lot of credit.
I thought at first it was the highest loss we have had reported to us, but my secretary reminds me we have two reports of losses in the 130's.

I would like very much to know some details: Does overweight "run" in your family; how much you weighed and your height; whether you followed the foundation diet pretty closely; whether you increased your exercises; any special thing you found helpful; etc., etc.
It will be interesting and comforting to those of our followers who are overweight; to know that such an excess weight can be reduced, and still more comforting to know that it can stay reduced. It must be that your food tastes have entirely changed. Have they not?

The instructions on reducing which Mrs. M. followed are contained in a pamphlet which can be obtained by following column rules.

Is It Dangerous to Live Near Tuberculosis Patients?
"Will you please advise if it is dangerous to live within 25 feet of a case of advanced tuberculosis? The party referred to is a neighbor of ours."
No, you are in no danger, even though you lived with a patient. A little what Webb and Ryder, in their book, Recovery Record, have to say.

Editor's Note—Dr. Peters can not diagnose, nor give personal advice.
Your questions, if of general interest, will be answered in the column.
If a question is of a personal nature,
it will be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and 2 cents in coin for each article, to cover cost of printing and handling.
For the pamphlet on reducing and gaining, 10 cents in coin, with fully self-addressed, stamped envelope, must be enclosed. Address Dr. Peters in care of this paper.

The World And All

BY CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

TREES AND VANDALS

An ancient tree commands my respect. It has been so quietly growing through such lengths of years.
It has so calmly looked forth on life
and death, prosperity and adversity, storm and calm, for many passing seasons. Babies have lain under its friendly foliage, have grown strong and grave and wise, and have at length begun to walk unsteadily toward their ultimate resting place in the friendly bosom of the earth. But the tree each spring has renewed its youth from the strong soil and from the strength of the passing tempests.

Such trees seldom survive where there are many humans. Sometimes of our race so busy in spirit that they are jealous of the dignity of a noble forest tree. I am ashamed to confess it before the groves that give me inspiration, but I have known humans of such mean and selfish souls that they have always felt uneasiness and inferiority in the presence of the mighty oak or the aspiring arches of the pine forests.

A human who is devoid of grace and faith in himself loves to chop down or hack at and destroy the noble trees that put his miserable soul to shame.

There is a giant hemlock beside a friendly mountain, very close to the City of New York. Two clear springs bubble forth from clear basins of sand where the graceful hemlock casts its protective shade.
Lovers of Nature have been wont
to make pilgrimages from the dusty city to this lonely place beside the Hudson, and to renew their faith and hope and charity beneath the quiet benediction of the ancient hemlock.

Long before the trouble Genoa mariner sought out the shores of the outlying islands of the Western World, that hemlock swayed in the powerful winds and strengthened its pertinent hold upon the helpful earth. It was a beautiful sight for appreciative eyes, and for friendly spirits long before the eye of any man reflected its perfect glory.

This hemlock is a tree the human heart can love, and millions of humans have loved it since the first savage wanderer sat beneath its foliage or climbed among its branches to hide from ravening beasts.

Some small-eyed moron recently came with an axe and stripped the tree from that great hemlock, leaving it to die. So I am ashamed before the trees, having to admit that there are such humans.

ECKNER HOPES TO GET BACKING OF AMERICANS

NEEDS FINANCING FOR REGULAR ATLANTIC
AIR SCHEDULE

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—Dr. Hugo Eckner, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, hopes that before he sails for home next week his dream of a regular trans-Atlantic air service will be nearer reality.

He hopes to interest American capitalists in his plan for four great dirigibles flying over the Gulf of Mexico, running on a 30-hour schedule between Europe and the United States. He needs $15,000,000 to finance the undertaking, and hopes to obtain it in this country. He believes the airport near Washington is better suited to the project than the one at Lakehurst, N. J., where the Zeppelin is based.

A conference among himself, officers of the Graf Zeppelin, Captain and Commander O. and crew are to be held in the project. The conference will be held at Lakehurst, N. J., where the Zeppelin is based. The first trip of the Graf Zeppelin will be made in the near future. The conference will be held at Lakehurst, N. J., where the Zeppelin is based. WAVE LENGTH CHANGE MADE

AFFECTED BY SHIFT
IN RADIO SCALE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—National changes in the allocation of broadcasting stations made public by the Federal Radio Commission September 10 were announced by the commission today. The new allocation is effective November 11.

The changes apply to stations on coast and regional channels. After a week in the assignment of one-way local or small power stations will be announced later. I reveal the modification of the allocation plan, the commission issued the following statement:

The changes, made in part to the fact that existing stations have been established for serving the public on certain channels and for more economical use of day time hours, in part to the desire to remedy certain irregularities in the allocation of stations and in part to the necessity of correcting a few resources of interference.

The changes include: Texas-KFDM Beaumont from 590 to 560 kilocycles, changed to full time; KKKO Wichita Falls from 100 to 250 watts and from 1270 to 1290 kilocycles; KPRC Houston from 590 to 520 kilocycles, changed to full time.

COWBOY LOSES

Dispute With Train Gives Only
Broken Arm

PAMPA, Oct. 18 (AP)—Ed. Lynch, 70, retired cowboy, disputed right of way with a passenger train here today and emerged from the argument with no worse than a broken shoulder and arm.

Lynch, once a wild, free rider of West Texas prairies, often walks along the streets of Pampa with his eyes to the ground.

Today, as dozens shouldered warms to no avail, he trudged contemptuously into the patch of an inbound train. The engine brushed him, throwing him to the ground. A rugged constitution enabled the ex-cowboy to grin ruefully as he surveyed his injuries.

It was stated at noon that the queen's condition had shown no improvement.

GAS HEATERS

There is much to take into consideration in the purchase. Is the stove a good one? Is the price right? Will it be an investment fitting for the other furnishings of the home for the years that it must serve as a comfort for the cold days that will come?

In building the most complete stove department in the entire South Plains, we took all of these things into consideration. Our men have been instructed to give utmost attention to every stove customer and to service the proper stove for the best need. We are exclusive authorized dealers for the nationally known Reznor Heater and will be very glad to show this complete line of stoves now on display in our Stove Department.

NEW ORLEANS TRADING

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 18 (AP)—The cotton market opened steady at the relatively steady Liverpool and first trades showed losses of 13 to 15 points. The early weakness was attributed to the fair weather in the belt and failure of cotton to materialize in the west. Selling, however, was not aggressive, and the lower prices attracted good trade and speculative buying which absorbed offerings and carried December contracts to 19.30, January 19.28 and March 19.21, or 17 to 21 points above the opening lows and 2 to 5 points above yesterday's close. At the end of the first hour the market was very steady and at the high.

Demand increased later in the morning when reports were received today 108,191 bales and December contracts advanced to 19.35, January 19.34, and March 19.26, or 23 to 28 points up from the lows and 10 to 13 points above yesterday's close. Near noon early buyers sold for profit probably on fears of rather full gainings for the last period and prospects for better weather in the belt. At noon the market was comparatively quiet and prices traded around yesterday's closing levels.

NEW YORK TRADING

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 1 point on July but generally 4 to 8 points lower but southern selling and realizing by recent buyers. Offerings were readily absorbed by a continuation of movement advanced to 19.35, January 19.34, and March 19.26, or 23 to 28 points up from the lows and 10 to 13 points above yesterday's close. Near noon early buyers sold for profit probably on fears of rather full gainings for the last period and prospects for better weather in the belt. Stocks And Money

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—Sharp upward price tendency characterized the opening of today's stock market. Montgomery Ward opened 7 1/4 points higher at 318, Grand Stores 3 3/4 at 94 3/4 and John Manville 2 at 161, all new high records. Radio showed an initial gain of 3 1/2 points and Southern Railway and General Motors 1 1/2 and 1 point, respectively.

Recapitalization rumors continued to stimulate the buying of high priced stocks. Rapidity of the advance in several issues indicated to many observers a thin floating supply and the urgent retreat of an over-crowded short interest. Montgomery Ward ran up from its opening price of $15 to $32, an extreme gain of 14 1/4 points, in the first half hour. International Nickel opened with a block of 5,000 shares at 170 and then climbed to 176, an overnight gain of 9 1/2 points, and more than 100 points above the year's low.

Dupont opened 6 1/2 points higher at 424 1/2, a new high record. Victor Talking Machine, Jewel Tea, Murray Corporation, Warner Bros., Kansas City Southern and Martin Rockwell also attained new peak prices, the gains ranging from 1 to 3 1/2 points.

Speculation in the motor shares was resumed on a large scale. Hudson opened with a block of 10,000 shares at 92 and then moved up to 93 1/4, a gain of 2 1/4 points. Chrysler quickly climbed 3 1/4 points and General Motors more than a point.

American Smelting was one of the few soft spots.

Foreign exchanges opened steady with sterling cables unchanged at $4.85 1/32.

Grain Market

CHICAGO PRICES

CHICAGO, Oct. 18 (AP)—With Argentina reported as offering wheat lower at Liverpool, and with prospects of substantial Argentine shipments resulting, wheat values were tested downward early today.

Opening at 3-8c off to 1-4c up, Chicago wheat later showed setbacks all around. Corn started at 1-8c to 3-4c advance, but subsequently went below yesterday's finish. Oats paralleled corn. Provisions were easy.

SMITH ERRED IN CITING FIGURES MELLON AVERS

TAKES ISSUE ON FACTS CITED IN SPEECH AT SEDALIA, MISSOURI

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Taking issue with Governor Alfred E. Smith on the latter's criticism of "Coolidge economy," Secretary Mellon has flung back at the Democratic presidential nominee charges that his speech of Tuesday night at Sedalia, Mo., contained inaccuracies in citation of figures and exhibited a "most superficial knowledge" of governmental fiscal affairs.

On two points in particular he disagreed with the New York governor. These had to do with Smith's assertion that the difference between the cost of operating the government in 1921 and in 1928 was the difference between wartime and peacetime costs and that the cost of all the departments of the government was $200,000,000 more in 1927 than in 1924.

"The trouble with the first contention," Mr. Mellon said, "is that the war had been over for two and a half years when the Republican administration took control of the government in 1921." He went on to ask if "as Governor Smith would have us believe, the reductions in expenditures between 1921 and 1923 were inevitable, why hadn't they already been more largely effected?"

"To the budget bureau in the first year of its operation, Mr. Mellon gave credit for 'paring and pruning' costs that had already actually been appropriated for the fiscal year 1922 to the extent of $735,000,000.

"Turning to Smith's statement with respect to increased expenditures between 1924 and 1927, Mr. Mellon declared that Governor Smith had been grossly misinformed.

"The total ordinary expenditures of the government, which does not include the expenditures payable from postal revenues," he said, "aggregated in 1924 $1,828,000,000, and in 1927 $1,857,000,000 or an increase of $29,000,000, and not $200,000,000."
