Hutchinson cafeteria discussed

Plans for the expansion of the cafeteria at Hutchinson Elementary School was one of the items discussed by the Colorado Independent School District Board of Trustees when they met in regular session on Monday, February 21.

School Superintendent Charlie Uselton showed the members of the Board an architect's drawing of the proposed improvements in the cafeteria which would not only give more room there but also add two more classrooms.

The plans called for a new dining area, expansion of the kitchen area, moving the library into the present dining area (which would not hinder the use of the stage) and putting in a wall to make two classrooms out of the library.

Uselton said that the present cafeteria is very overcrowded, as it would ideally hold no more than 100 students at a time, if the kitchen equipment that is now in the dining area were not there; however, at the present time there is no place else to put the equipment.

Even so, there are 97 students in the third grade, 119 in the fourth and 128 in the fifth, which makes the dining area very crowded even though only one grade at a time is fed, Uselton stated.

Also, the fact that some of the kitchen equipment is not in the kitchen area cuts down on the efficiency of operations.

The Board authorized Uselton to work with the architect in making some definite plans for the project to be presented and discussed at the next meeting.

Another matter discussed by the group was a school board policy regarding weapons carried to school.

Uselton said that although present policies covered situations in which students carried weapons to school, the Texas Education Association recommended a specific policy covering this area.

The policy adopted by the CISD is as follows:

"No student may unlawfully bring onto the school grounds any firearms or other instrument which might reasonably be considered dangerous to the possessor or other students. Specifically, a student

Water line break causes problems

A six-inch water main going to the area north of Interstate 20 broke about 5 a.m. Tuesday morning, forcing the city water department to valve off the line, which is the only one available to that area.

There was "no particular reason pinpointed for the break," City Manager Rick Crowley reported, adding that the waterlines just simply break now and then.

A break in this particular line causes more of a problem than it would if most other lines because it's "the only one going out there," according to Crowley.

The break was repaired by Tuesday afternoon.

A SUNDAY AFTERNOON fire completely destroyed a vacant rent house owned by Raymond Williamson six miles north of Colorado City. Four units from the Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department were called to the scene. Fire officials say the fire probably started when high winds whipped the electrical lines around.

Oil brings money to many people

By TOM JAY GOSS II

The nice thing about oil is that it has that sweet rich smell of money. You hardly ever hear anybody complain about having too much of it and the money rubs off on a lot of people.

The money gets handled several times but eventually everybody from the farmer to the grocer gets a piece of the action.

In 1981, Mitchell County took in $226,660,978 from oil and gas sales and in addition the oil work force payroll was $6,048,913. Royalty payments were $28,332,622. That's a lot of money, even if you say it fast.

Mitchell County got in on the ground floor, early. In 1920, Steve Owens, general field manager of the Underwriter's Producing Company, appeared in Colorado City with several small bottles of oil and announced that the Underwriter's Number 1, located about three or four miles northwest of Westbrook, was bailing about 30 barrels of oil daily.

The geology on the well

(also known as the W. H. Abrams No. 1) was strata-a-nge. Owens did a lot of wheeling and dealing in the oil game prior to 1920 and found himself obligated to drill a wildcat on some leases northwest of Westbrook.

Owens, attorney L. W. Sandusky, Earl Morrison and teamster Watt Collier slogged through the mud left by a recent rain and climbed a little hill in the general area of the lease that Owens needed to drill his well on.

Owens told Collier to

Bale count low this season

With all but one of the gins finished for the season, the bale count of 27,305 falls far short of the total produced in Mitchell County last year.

The 57,688 bales ginned last year is more than twice as much as was ginned in 1982-83.

The bad spring weather was the primary cause of low production, with thunderstorms over a span of several weeks being capped by a severe hailstorm on June 18 causing extensive damage to crops as well as property.

Many farmers "hung in there," though, and the first bale of cotton was ginned the week of September 19 in Westbrook.

Now, only Co-Op Gin Association reports they Standards Commission to meet two days to build a road to the spot. The whole prairie was a sea of mud. I found the corner of the lease and stepped off 155 yards and drove a stob." The stob was the site of the Underwriter's No. 1, the discovery well of the Permian Basin. This means that this was the first producing well drilled in the enormous Permian Basin. Soon after, the Morrison No. 2, about a mile east, came in as a gusher. School turned out "to go see the oil well." Postmaster Joe Fraser tried to get permission from the post office department to close the post office to allow everybody to go out to see the gusher. No go. Back then, they believed in keeping that mail moving.

Soon, the whole wet prairie was covered with producing wells, dry wells and wells being drilled. The Westbrook field was an enormous boost to the County economy.

And they're still drilling in Mitchell County. In 1981, (last year for which complete figures are available) 207 wells were drilled in the county. One hundred eight five showed enough oil to produce, five came in as gas wells and 17 were dry.

The county has 2,245 producing wells. Twenty-three are gas, 2,222 are oil. The work force in Mitchell County totaled 338 people.

The county ranks 49th among 215 oil producing counties.

I suppose the fellow said it best, who said, "Oil may not make you rich, but it helps. You endure being poor!"

Noble, Starnes wed in Odessa

Betty Alberta Noble of Dallas and Mac Aubrey Starnes, also of Dallas, were united in marriage at 5 p.m. December 18 in the First Presbyterian Church in Odessa. The Rev. H.G. Wardlaw officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ray Noble and the late Ray Noble, former long-time residents of Colorado City. Mrs. Noble now lives in Odessa.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Starnes of Lindale.

The sanctuary, lighted by candles down the sides and in the altar area, was decorated with red, white and pink poinsettias. The altar area had four candelabra trees decorated with fresh flowers.

Given in marriage by her brother, Dr. Reggie Noble of San Angelo, the bride wore a dress of heavy satin with a Queen Elizabeth neckline having a high stand-up collar. The plunging neckline was fashioned with a wrapped front closed with tiny pearl buttons. The bodice and puffed, capped sleeves were adorned with imported bead applique lace. The sleeves tapered to thin, fitted wrists. The hem of the full skirt was also trimmed in the imported bead applique lace and the cathedral train was designed with motifs of matching lace. Her veil was shoulder length with a blusher veil and was fastened to a Gatsby Era lace-covered satin hat. She wore a strand of cultured pearls belonging to her mother.

Her wedding bouquet, a cascade of gardenias, baby's breath and stephanias, was carried atop her grandfather's Bible, which was the "something old." The Bible had been carried by the bride's mother at her wedding.

The "something new" was her bridal outfit while "something borrowed" was two lace-edged handkerchiefs belonging to five of her long-time friends who have carried them during their weddings.

The maid of honor was Jana Bassinger of Odessa, niece of the bride, who wore a red taffeta Lady Di design dress with a plunging sweetheart neckline with a tight, fitted bodice. The long dress was V waisted with a full skirt and the puffed sleeves were elbow length. Her hair was coiffed with poinsettias and baby's breath and she carried a bouquet of cascading pink poinsettias. Her outfit was completed with red pumps and white pearls.

The bridesmaids were Melinda Melton of Dallas, Kendra Valla of Dallas, Lynn White of Odessa, Nancy Gobel of Denver, Colorado, and Gaye Starnes of Lindale, sister of the groom. They wore dresses identical to that worn by the maid of honor.

The flower girl, Natalie Noble of San Angelo, the bride's niece, was dressed in a white high-necked ruffled blouse and plaid taffeta full skirt with green velvet ribbon trim around the bottom of the long skirt. She wore a matching green sash at the waist and in her hair.

The ring bearer was Ben Wilhite of Dallas, cousin of the groom.

Best man was Robert Starnes of Lindale, father of the groom. Groomsmen were Wendall Hand of Fort Worth, Brent Pierce of Lindale, Kevin Snow of Springfield, Illinois, John Shipes of Dallas and Scott Marble of Dallas.

Ushers were Raymond Bassinger, the bride's nephew, of Colorado City, Reagan Noble, the bride's nephew, of San Angelo, Kerry Geisler of Odessa and Allen Goebel of Denver, Colorado.

All the men in the wedding party wore black tuxedos.

The mother of the bride was attired in a long green satin dress with a wrapped front, ruffled neckline and straight skirt. She also wore green satin pumps and pearls.

The mother of the groom wore a long turquoise empire waisted chiffon dress with a beaded neckline and bodice with a full skirt.

Both mothers wore gardenia corsages.

The pre-ceremony music, performed by violinist Trisha Faubian, Lynn Barnes, JoAnn Hall and Rosalyn Waldorf, all of Arlington, consisted of Christmas carols. Jan Wardlaw of Odessa, organist, accompanied soloist Barbara Shinn of Odessa. Trumpeter Mark Thurbur played the processional. The recessional was played with organ, trumpet and violin.

The reception was held at the Odessa Petroleum Club and overall decorations of poinsettias and candles were used.

The bride's table was draped with a white pleated cloth and topped with the three-tiered white wedding cake decorated with cascading fresh red poinsettias and white doves. Punch was served from a silver punch service.

The groom's table was covered with a chocolate pleated drape overlaid with beige cloth with chocolate cross-stitching and centered with a pear and lime tree. The cake on this table was a double chocolate ring cake decorated with partridges and Christmas greenery.

The buffet table, centered with a large candelabrum entwined with fresh flowers, was draped with a burgandy cloth overlaid with a white cloth. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

The champagne table was covered with a burgandy cloth and silver and crystal appointments were used.

Music for dancing was provided by the Bernie Rose Orchestra.

The bride's going away dress was a red suede suit with white silk blouse and matching hat. She also wore a gardenia corsage.

After a Caribbean cruise, the couple made their home in Dallas.

A houseparty was given for the bride by Susan Storey of Dallas and Tina Matledge of Roswell, New Mexico.

The bride, a graduate of Odessa Permian High School and Texas Tech University, is a special education teacher for the Richardson Independent School District. The groom is a graduate of Lindale High School, Kilgore Junior College and East Texas State University. He is associated with Boyd Architects, Inc. in Dallas and owns Starnes Photography in Dallas.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding came from Colorado City, Big Spring, Sweetwater, Lubbock, Houston, Denver, Colorado, Colorado Springs, Colorado, Lindale, Tyler, Dallas, Arlington, Fort Worth, San Angelo, Roswell, New Mexico, Wichita Falls and Midland.

The morning guest speaker was Nita Target, a deaf-mute who has been able to develop her communicative skills to the point of being a very popular and sought after speaker. She also held one of the power line workshops for the afternoon session.

The afternoon speaker was T. Paul Hopper, known as the "World's Busiest Man." He also spoke on "Believe It Or Not...There's Magic In Us."

President Rachael Lujan and voting alternate Denise Jackson attended the House of Delegates meeting for electing new officers for the 1983-84 club year and attending the other area business.

Others attending from the Colorado chapters were: Anthony Anderson, Della Ausbie, Doris Green, Yolande Lee, Paul Luera, Trina Mayo, Dee Shifflett, Junita Green, Frank Salazar, Cindy Aguilar, Melinda Martinez, Chris Ledesma, Kelly Bearden, Jaki Smith, Sandra Williams, Priscille Garza and Tony Rodriguez.

The sponsors for the group were Judy Merrell and Margaret Latimer.

White works to make vet loans easier

Buying a house will be much easier for Mitchell County's 960 veterans if Texas Democratic Leaders are able to amend the state's Constitution and establish for vets a low-interest loan system.

Gov. Mark White Thursday joined with Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, State Land Commissioner Garry Mauro and a number of representatives and senators to voice support for the proposed Veterans Housing Assistance Program.

"Local lawmaker, Rep. Dick Burnett, D-San Angelo, as well, has joined the ranks of 81 representatives and 22 senators who are co-sponsoring the proposal.

Sponsored in the Senate by Sen. Lindon Williams, D-Houston, and in the House by Rep. Frank Tejeda, D-San Antonio, the proposed program would lend Texas veterans up to $20,000 to be used as a down payment on the purchase of a house either in a rural or urban area.

The program, modeled after the state's successful Veterans Land Program that supplies low-interest loans to vets for purchase of rural land, currently lies only in the pages of a proposed constitutional amendment.

Amendment of the Constitution would not affect the existing Veterans Land Program. Over 80,000 veterans have taken advantage of that long-term, low-interest loan program.

"The beauty of this program is the benefit to the veterans and the housing industry at no cost to the taxpayer,"

Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro told reporters Thursday.

"The program will be financed through a $500 million bond issue that will be repaid entirely by the borrowers," Mauro said. "We will supply as many as 25,000 new homes and create 45,000 new jobs without costing our taxpayers a penny," he estimated.

Mauro said he hopes to pass the proposed amendment through the legislature and submit it to Texas voters by mid-November.

"With the rapid increase in the cost of housing coupled with high mortgage rates, it has been extremely difficult for many of our younger veterans to purchase a home," said Mauro.

"We have 525,000 Vietnam veterans in Texas and over a million other veterans who deserve a chance to own their own home."

Crane hands Wolves loss in season finale, 69-59

The Crane Golden Cranes ended any hopes of playoff action for the Wolf boys Friday night at Wolf Gym as they stopped the Pack 69-59.

It was the last district game of the season for both teams and the Wolves needed the win to have a chance to force a possible tie in the second half of district play with Ballinger. But Ballinger defeated Ozona Friday night so even if the Wolves had won, Ballinger is the second half champ.

The key to the Crane win was a big third quarter in which the Cranes outscored the Pack 23-14. Crane post man Eddie Jones and point guard Eugene Morris started to turn things around after leading 24-22.

Jones quickly hit three turn around jumpers, Morris fired in two 20-footers, and Raymond Cardena converted a three point play and the visitors built up a 44-34 lead with 1:08 remaining in the quarter.

Crane led 12-9 after one quarter of play, and stretched it to 15-9 on a basket by Carlos Aguilar and a free shot by Jones. Wolves sophomore Don Randle fired in a turn around jumper, and the count was 15-11. But Crane converted on two more baskets to build up a 21-13 bulge.

This is when the Wolves started their best comeback of the contest. With 3:36 remaining, Dennis Rivera made a free throw, and Stacey Tarter sunk a 15 foot jumper. Doug Chitsey's driving layup cut the lead to 22-18. Tracy Tarter sunk two free throws and the score was 22-20. Crane's Cardena hit a bucket, and an offensive rebound for Tom Rees resulted into a basket and the lead was 24-22 at the half.

In the final quarter, Crane built up as much as a 16 point lead, but the Pack gamely fought back, but it was too little too late.

Scoring for the Wolves were Rivera 13, Rees 12 and T. Tarter 11. The Pack ends their season with a 17-13 record, and 7-3 in district. Seniors playing their last game for the Wolves were Stacey and Tracy Tarter, Rees, Tim Beights, Chris McKinney and Junior Garcia.

The Wolves J.V. lost 50-39 despite 18 points by Jay Piland.

Vada Preston hosts Valentine lunch

Mrs. Vada Preston was hostess for the Baumann TEHA Valentine luncheon on February 1st with each member bringing a dish.

Mrs. Bernice Hallmark, club president, led the club prayer. Mrs. Preston led in recreation by giving a quiz.

Roll call was answered by each giving "Something I would like to do, but don't."

Lynn Compton read minutes of the last meeting and Pauline Griffin gave the treasury report.

Each member contributed to the American Cancer Society fund and the donation totaled $63.

Mrs. Stella Harris brought the program on Energy; the topic of her talk was "Freeze to Death at 64 Degrees." She stated there is an elusive killer often mistaken for something else. It's hypothermia, a dangerous loss of body heat and it claims thousands of Americans every year. "Hypothermia seems to slip upon people," said Dr. John Stitt, PhD. You don't have to be out in the cold and snow. Hypothermia can kill you anywhere and anytime temperature is below 65 degrees.

"It is possible to freeze to death without realizing you are doing it," observes Dr. Richard Besdine. Victims of hypothermia usually don't recognize the symptoms, he said. The elderly should never permit temperatures inside their homes to drop below 65 degrees.

The experts offered the additional tips: "1. Remember that food is what your body uses to produce heat; 2. Carry a survival kit of carbohydrate snacks; 3. A 15-mile per hour wind can make a 35 degree temperature the equivalent of 16 degrees; 4. Keep your clothes dry when you are out in the cold. In nearly every fatality from outside exposure, the subjects got wet, says Dr. Stitt.

Pals exchanged Valentine gifts. Present were Mmes. Clara Butler, Lynn Compton, Era Mae Cornutt, Mabel Givens, Pauline Griffin, Bernice Hallmark, Stella Harris, Laura Lena Leach, Gladys Payne, Adell Thompson, Vada Preston, Pauline Smiley, Jean Vest and Inez Webb.

Pauline Smiley will host the next meeting.

Holman hosts LBW meeting

Loraine Baptist Women met at the home of Mrs. T. L. Holman at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday for their regular monthly Mission and Bible program.

Mrs. Harvey Leach presided over the meeting which opened with Mrs. David McNary bringing the Prayer Calendar. She gave each slips with names of Missionaries whose birthday was on this day. Prayers were said after she read the scripture for the day.

Mrs. Frances Porter led the Mission study entitled "WMU in new areas." She was assisted in this discussion by Pauline Smiley, Nannie Hallmark, Clara Butler and Chris Alexander. In this discussion it was found getting started was not easy as Baptists are few in Iowa and the New England states.

Mrs. Lynn Compton directed the Bible study on "The Life of Peter," with all taking part in the discussion.

In the business it was voted to send $40 to purchase a bed for the Baptist Youth Camp at Stanton and also voted to send $50 to the Gary Parnell's who have recently gone to the State of Washington to begin a new work.

A goal of $1,000 was set for the Annual Home Mission offering. The Week of Prayer and Book Review preceding giving this offering will be held in March.

Eleven members and one visitor were present.

Is your heating/cooling system gobbling up too much money?

If electric bills are taking too big a bite out of your budget, consider equipment with a higher energy-efficiency rating. The higher the rating, the less electricity it takes to heat and cool your home. And using less electricity will help hold down your bill.

High-efficiency equipment costs more, but when the equipment qualifies, Texas Electric will give you a bonus check to help pay the difference. So if you're planning to install a room unit, or replace central air conditioning or a year-round heat pump, ask your dealer about equipment that qualifies for a bonus check from Texas Electric.

And put money back in your pocket.

News from...

Root Fair Valley Lodge

By PAM JARNAGIN

This week has been quiet but productive. Our administrator, Jerry Woodell, attended a seminar in Abilene on how to better administer her duties. Our director of nurses, Elia Gonzalez, is planning to further her knowledge on dependent patient care by attending a seminar in Brownwood. Pam Jarnagin, activity director, will be in Houston February 24 for instruction on social care and ideas on activity programs. Sammy Contreras, EST supervisor of the sanitation department, was sent to Abilene for classes in microbiology.

We are sent to these seminars throughout the year; some are mandatory and some are voluntary but all of us are always ready to learn everything we can about how to better serve our residents.

During our social hour one day, the residents discussed everything from their past professions to the sinking of the Titanic. There will be more about that in a later column; some of our ladies have a vivid memory of the tragedy.

It seems a large number of our people were clerks in what they called a "Dry Good Store." One of our volunteers brought a clipping from an old newspaper in 1799-1800 which was read during our discussion. Part of the advertisement read, "I with my brethren mean to live-but as for credit shall not give."

From this same paper was an account of General George Washington's funeral and a poem in his honor.

As we celebrated his birthday this week, it was exciting to us to be able to have a peek at the past first hand.

Hope you enjoyed our little bit of news this week.

Loraine B&PW holds meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Loraine B&PW Club was held Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Juanice Butler. A very attractive Valentine theme was carried out. Cookies decorated with pink, peanut brittle, and heart shaped candies were served. Valentine napkins were used.

There were ten members present. Marsha Rickard, club president, introduced Ninfa Esquivel, owner of "Ninfa's" downtown. She is the newest member of the club and gave a talk on the "Working Woman." She describes the working woman as a challenge because you must push yourself to go on to college to become a teacher or hold down a job. Sometimes your family opposes you. But it is good to have a business too because you keep your family occupied. She said Loraine was a good place to live and she would like to see more businesses operated by women.

President Rickard commended Ninfa for staying with her education and bringing up her family in a place of business.

Minutes from the last meeting were read and approved. In the business, it was voted to put up the sign for the city park. It was also voted to send a $3 ad to the State Convention and to put up a new sign for the Lions Club. A workday at the City park is planned for a later date.

Attending the meeting were Marsha Rickard, Pam Butler, Juanice Butler, Ann Preston, Ruby Lee Small, Doris Henderson, Billie Schroeder, Sally Compton, Ninfa Esquivel and Margaret Brame.
