Wellington Skyrockets, who started two-a-day workouts on Monday, Aug. 14 are looking forward to their first game, Friday, Sept. 8 against Hollis.

The Rockets met Claude Tuesday, Aug. 22 in their first scrimmage of the season. "I felt we made a good showing," Coach Amonett said. "We learned we have a long way to go, but we have accomplished a great deal, considering the boys have worked out only one week under a new system. Our entire bunch did a fine job." The Rockets will also scrimmage Memphis before the season opens.

"Workouts are coming along fine," Thayne Amonett, Wellington High School head coach reported.

Forty-one boys have reported.

"The desire of our kids to play ball will be our greatest strength," Coach Amonett said. "Our weakest point is the number of experienced boys."

The 1967 Skyrocket Varsity and B team roster includes Alfred Allred, Jimmy Bohannon, Reece Bowen, Gary Brewer, Joe Brock, Danny Brooks, Kenny Brown, Ricky Brown, Kenneth Cook, Sandy Covey, Mike Davis, Stevie Davis, Larry Denny, Danny Gray,

Texas Rural Electrics Elect Wellington Couple

Mr. and Mrs. George Henry of Wellington were elected to positions of state-wide leadership during the 27th Annual Meeting of Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc., in Houston, Aug. 16-18.

Mr. Henry, manager of Greenbelt Electric Cooperative, Inc., Wellington, since 1954, was elected vice president of the state-wide association of Texas' 79 rural electric systems. He has been a member of the TEC board of directors for the past year.

Mrs. Henry was elected chairman of Ladies' Activities for the state-wide group. She has served as a member of the Ladies' Activities Committee for the past year.

Elected with Mr. Henry are Myrl D. Head of Decatur, president, and Joe Lytle of Greenville, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry are natives of Floydada. They have lived in Wellington since Mr. Henry was first employed by Greenbelt Electric in 1945. He was formerly with Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, Inc., at Floydada, and prior to that with the municipal electric system at Floydada.

The Wellington-based system Mr. Henry manages serves some 3,000 rural homes and enterprises along 2,000 miles of lines in six Panhandle counties.

The Henrys are parents of three: Ray of Austin, Myrna (Mrs. Carl) Daves, and Kenneth, 17, both of Wellington.

Congressman W. R. "Bob" Poage, the concluding speaker of the two and a half day convocation, noted that while rural electrification has already helped Texas and the nation grow, too few people know this. This was evident, he pointed out, in failure to obtain legislation from the Congress this year to establish a Rural Electric Credit

ASCS Acreage Report Deadline Is September 1

Farmers who have not measured and reported their crop acreages to the ASCS office and signed the necessary certification are reminded that Sept. 1 is the final date to do this. Anyone failing to make their report by the deadline date will lose their program payments, according to Millard Brown, office manager.

Those who requested a measuring service by an ASCS employee are still required to make their report and certification. Some have thought that by having their crops measured by a reporter would relieve them of having to sign the certification on the official forms in the county office, but this is not so.

The farmer's signature is required on all payment applications regardless of whether he does his own measuring or has it measured by a reporter.

Dr. F. C. Murray Dies Friday of Year's Illness

Dr. F. C. Murray, 80, a retired veterinarian who spent his entire professional life in Collingsworth and Wheeler Counties died at his home at 1310 A Higdon Street Friday, Aug. 18. Dr. and Mrs. Murray returned to Wellington to make their home about a year ago, after his health had begun to fail.

For many years, Dr. Murray carried on his practice from the family ranch between Quail and Memphis. In 1935, the family moved into Wellington where they lived until the early 1940's, when they moved to Shamrock. He continued to practice there, except for a few years at Wheeler, until his retirement.

Dr. Murray was widely known among ranchers and livestock men of the southeast Panhandle area over a long period, but he also had the esteem of pet owners, for he gave the same careful attention to the tiny pets of children as to large animals of much economic value.

Farish Carter Murray was born Nov. 4, 1886, in Fannin County. His father was Capt. F. M. Murray, a Confederate Civil War veteran, while his mother was Anna Bell Hood Murray. Both were from Tennessee.

Dr. Murray was only four years old when the family arrived at Memphis. While Capt. Murray homesteaded on what was to become the family ranch, Mrs. Murray and her family remained in the Hall County town for school. Later

Drivers Warned New Rules In Effect Aug. 28

AUSTIN.—The Department of Public Safety reminded Texans today that August 28 marks the effective date of several amendments to the drivers license law which are designed to benefit Texas motorists from the standpoint of providing added protection.

The law sets new minimum age limits for acquiring a license, provides for issuing a provisional license to any person under the age of 21, and increases penalties for driving without a license and violations calling for automatic suspension.

It also provides penalties for counterfeiting or forging a license, or for possessing such a license.

The age limits were raised to a minimum of 16 years for obtaining a license when a person has satisfactorily completed an approved driver education course, and to 18 years for persons who have not had such a course.

The minimum age for operating a 5 brake-horsepower motor scooter was raised to 15 years. A special examination will be required after Jan. 1 for applicants desiring a license to operate a motorcycle which includes an "off-street phase" and an "on-street phase." The applicant must provide the motorcycle and a passenger vehicle and licensed driver to convey the License Examiner during the road test.

Licenses issued to person under 21 years of age will be stamped "Provisional" and may be suspended if the operator is convicted of two traffic law violations in a 12-month period. This becomes effective Jan. 1.

Upon conviction of driving without a license, a motorist is subject to a fine of up to $200 for the first offense and increasingly stiff penalties for each successive conviction.

Persons convicted of driving while intoxicated (or a similar offense) are subject to a first suspension of 12 months. Any subsequent suspension on the basis of this type of conviction will be for a period of 18 months. In addition, any driver whose license has been suspended or revoked may be required to attend a program of rehabilitation for problem drivers.

Any person applying for an original license must furnish the Department with certified copy of the applicant's birth certificate or other documentary evidence deemed satisfactory by the Department for proof of age. The Department is also authorized to require any other information necessary to determine the applicant's identity, competency and eligibility for licensing. Thumb prints will be required on all original applications after Aug. 28.

Among the provisions designed to ban unsafe drivers from the highways is the requirement that the Department of Public Welfare furnish the DPS with a list of persons who apply for or receive assistance to the needy blind. The license of such persons must be revoked to comply with the law.

Also, any persons who is convicted of driving while his license is suspended or revoked shall be punished by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $500, and shall be imprisoned not less than 72 hours nor more than six months.

FHA Reviews Thirty Years Work in Texas

Since the signing of the Bankhead-Jones Tenant Act by President Franklin D. Roosevelt on July 22, 1937, more than 8,920 farm operators in Texas have either changed their status from tenants to farm owners or have been able to enlarge and develop their family farms to more efficient units, according to James E. Chappell, county supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration.

In looking back upon the past 30 years of the Farm Tenant Act, Judge Marvin Jones, co-author of the Act, said "What satisfies me is that the work of financing tenant home purchases and farm home improvements and water use, in expanded form, is helping to keep our country strong and free. In fact I feel richly compensated for being called an impractical dreamer during the fight for the program."

In observing the 30th anniversary of the farm ownership loan program, Mr. Chappell said that in the 30 year period of this agency, FHA has advanced some $121,840,216 to farmers in Texas and that currently there are more than 3,618 active borrowers in the program.

Mr. Chappell said the Bankhead-Jones Act established the concept of advancing to tenant farmers supervised, long-term, low interest credit up to 100 percent of the value of a farm, allowing them to purchase and develop family-size farms. The first farm ownership loan made under the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act was made in Van Zandt County, Texas, and has since been paid in full.

Each loan is based on a sound farm and home management plan and borrowers receive guidance in carrying out planned operations, he said.

Recently, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman called the Bankhead-Jones Act "one of the greatest landmarks in American agriculture."

He said: "At the time the legislation was passed, two out of every five farmers were tenants and more were becoming tenants every year. Today, about 83 percent of the nation's farmers are full or part owners of land they operate."

State Director L. J. Cappleman said that on a national basis the Farmers Home Administration has advanced more than $2 billion during the 30-

SCS Sets Dedication of New Knox City Plant Materials Center

Further plans for dedicating the Knox City Plant Materials Center on Sept. 7 were announced today by H. N. Smith, State Conservationist, of the year period, helping nearly 900,000 people living on farms.

Since 1961, the Farmers Home Administration has advanced more than $1.3 billion in farm ownership loans, compared to $833 million in the previous 24 years of the program. Texas has shown a similar increase in these loans since 1961.

"Without these loans," observes Mr. Cappleman, "many of these farmers might have been forced off their farms and into crowded cities. With them these farmers have been able to live in and help build rural America."

A recent five-year national progress report, through 1967, shows that the average FHA borrower increased his gross income from $10,115 before his loan, to $18,565 gross income five years later.

Farm ownership loans are made only to farmers who cannot obtain credit elsewhere. Repayment of loans has been excellent; the amount of principal written off over 30 years is less than four-tenths of one percent. This has been more than made up by interest payments, Mr. Cappleman said.

Farm ownership loans are made at the local Farmers Home Administration offices serving all rural areas in the state.

Soil Conservation Service, Temple.

Donald A. Williams, SCS administrator, Washington, D.C., will be the key speaker and Smith will be master of ceremonies. The dedication program will start at 11 a.m. A catered lunch will be served after the dedication.

Smith said tours of the center will be conducted from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. and from 1 to 3 p.m.

Several hundred seed dealers, growers, conservation district supervisors, farmers, ranchers, city developers, sportsmen, and others interested in the plants being tested will attend. The center serves Texas, Oklahoma and adjoining states.

Congressmen and state representatives from the area are also expected to attend.

The job of SCS plant materials centers is to find, evaluate, and put into use better plants to solve varied soil and water conservation problems. Planting materials being used include seed, sprigs, and rootstock.

Some 850 varieties of plants are being evaluated, including grasses, legumes, forbs and woody plants.

For example, about 13 selections of alkali sacaton are being watched to try to find the best grass to plant on certain alkali soils or on land damaged by salt. Five mesa drop-seeds are being studied for use in drouthy clay and gravelly Trans-Pecos soils.

AUSTIN. — "They are half savage in their habits as well as tastes . . ."

"Cards & vulgar slang & stories of Indian ventures form the staple of their mental exercises."

"Whiskey they drink without regard to its pernicious & destructive qualities . . ."

"They" were early-day Texans, at least as they appeared to a non-Texan of 1872.

Those disdainful impressions were recorded by M. K. Kellogg, an artist-world traveler-writer, who from May to September, 1872, was the official artist with a Texas Land and Copper Association mineral expedition which traversed an area in North Texas from Grayson to Haskell Counties.

Kellogg's detailed observations, pencilled daily into three notebooks, has been published by The University of Texas Press. The University acquired grass seed in Texas last year, mostly from strains released by SCS plant materials centers.

Groups cooperating with SCS in evaluating plants include Texas A&M University, Texas Technological College, Oklahoma State University, Prairie View A&M College, and soil and water conservation districts in Texas and Oklahoma.

Tickets to the lunch following the program are being sold by the Knox City Chamber of Commerce for $1.75. People who plan to buy tickets at the center are being asked to notify the Chamber of Commerce or local SCS offices so a crowd estimate can be made.

These growers produced about two million pounds of Kellogg's first-person account some years ago.

The new book, "M. K. Kellogg's Texas Journal, 1872," is edited by Dr. Llerena Friend, Texas History Center Librarian at UT and author of "Sam Houston: The Great Designer." She also has written introductory chapters on the Texas Land and Copper Association and on Kellogg himself and has annotated the names, places and events that Kellogg mentions.

Though sorely tried by his encounters with sunstroke, chiggers, greasy food, green flies, disorder in the camp and mosquitoes ("their number being myriad and hungry"), Kellogg incorporated into his journal many vivid images of the Texas landscape and, according to Dr. Friend, depicted frontier life "in words refreshingly different."

Noting that Kellogg was considered "something of an anomaly in the Texas Permian red-bed area in 1872," Dr. Friend explains that he was a world traveler for his time, "one of the early American innocents abroad, a dweller in artists' studios in Florence and Paris and London, someone who had dined with presidents and diplomats and moved in company close to princes . . ."

Youth Uses Installment Credit

COLLEGE STATION.— Who uses installment credit? A popular reply is, "Who doesn't?" But Wanda Meyer, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University, reports figures indicating that some people are using it more than others.

Installment credit increased $3 billion in 1965, according to the Survey Research Center at the University of Michigan. Mrs. Meyer explains that the major reason for this increase is a change in behavior on the part of people who can best afford to pay their debts.

Early in 1965, only 32 percent of families with $15,000 or more annual income owed installment debt, and only 11 percent owed in excess of $2,000. Early this year, 47 percent of this income group owed installment debt and 19 percent owed in excess of $2,000. Of those receiving $3,000 income or less, proportion owing installment debt dropped from 28 percent in early 1965 to 23 percent in early 1966.

Use of installment credit is most frequent among young families and is infrequent among older units. A significant finding in 1966 was that only 58 percent of the families whose head was 18 to 24 years old owed installment debt, in contrast to 69 percent of those families in 1965. This drop in credit usage can be attributed mainly to the increase in the proportion of this group who were under 21 in 1966 and, therefore not generally eligible for credit.

Among other findings of the Michigan survey of consumer finances was that the median amount of consumer installment debt rose from $780 in early 1965 to $850 in early 1966. They also learned that the ratio of aggregate repayments to disposable personal income moved up only slightly from 1964 to 1965.

Mrs. Granvel Keith Killian

Formal Candlelight Ceremony Unites Vicki Glenn, Granvel Killian Saturday

Wedding vows were spoken by Miss Vicki Diane Glenn and Granvel Keith Killian at eight o'clock Saturday evening, August 19 in First Methodist Church. Officiating was the Reverend Davis B. Edens, pastor of Oakwood Methodist Church, Lubbock, and a former pastor here.

Parents of the bride and the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Barney Ryan Glenn and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Killian.

Church decorations which formed the background for the double ring ceremony were tree and branched candelabras, and arrangements of yellow chrysanthemums, while aisle candles and sprays of bridal wreath marked the pews.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. James Earp, organist, and Mrs. Vernon Ritchie of Denton, soloist.

Mr. Glenn gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride's formal gown of candlelight silk peau de soie was in empire design, featuring a cascading cathedral train falling from beneath the peau de soie bow at center back. The re-embroidered alencon lace bodice traced with pearl and crystal clusters, with petal-point sleeves, enhanced the skimmer sheath skirt edged in scalloped Alencon lace. A chapel length veil of candlelight silk illusion edged in Alencon lace was worn mantilla style and attached to a peau de soie pill-box. She carried a cascade of white orchids and garlands of frenched carnations.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Jan Glenn, who was maid of honor, and Miss Carolyn Curl of Tolar, Mrs. Arthur Woods of Little Rock, Arkansas, Mrs. Pat Carruth of Lubbock and Mrs. Don Hendrix of El Paso.

They wore formal cage gowns of pale yellow organza, with long sleeves, rounded necklines, and with organza bows at the bodice. Matching organza flower petals formed their headpieces and their bouquets were cascades of tropicana roses.

Leigh Carter of Amarillo was the best man. Groomsmen were Gary Killian, brother of the bridegroom, Douglas Seale of Childress, Gary Gann of Lovington, New Mexico, and Coley Holmes of Decatur, while the ushers were Mark Killian, another brother of the bridegroom, John Clyde Saunders, his brother-in-law, Jimmy Brown and Bob Grimes of Lubbock.

Candles were lighted by Miss Connie Lewis and Miss Pattie Thompson of Overland Park, Kansas, cousins of the couple. The flower girls were Debbie Morris of Lawton, Oklahoma, daughter of Odessa, and Arling. They are registered at the home of Mrs. Clyde Saunders, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Wynona Kerr of Amarillo, cousin of the bride.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn were hosts at a reception in the church fellowship hall to honor the couple.

The bride's table was laid with a floor-length gold cloth with lighted tapers in tri-branched candle holders at each side of the wedding cake. Silver appointments were used.

Guests were served by Mrs. James Ferguson and Mrs. Edie Priest of Lubbock, Miss Judy Glenn of Amarillo and Miss Vickie Flowers of Canadian.

Other members of the house party were Miss Karen McClendon and Miss Kathi McClendon of Abernathy, Miss Cynthia Green of Amarillo and Miss Sandra Covey of Torrence, California. Rice bearers included Terri Boyer of Odessa, Leann Layton of Arlington, John Covey Torrence, and Randy Johnson of Dallas.

During the reception, piano selections were played by Miss Gail Barnhart of Amarillo.

Both the bride and bridegroom were graduated from Wellington High School. She received the bachelor of science degree in elementary education from Texas Technological College, Lubbock, where she was a member of Phi Kappa Phi and Tech Army Corps Dettes. She will teach in the Caldwell Public Schools this year.

Mr. Killian received the bachelor of science degree from Texas Tech in animal husbandry, where he was a member of Phi Kappa Phi, Alpha Zeta, and Block and Bridle. He is now attending the School of Veterinary Medicine of Texas A&M University, where he is a member of the Junior Chapter of the American Veterinary Medical Association.

August Sandwich Month

Stacked one on top of another, they would scale the height of the Empire State building.

Do not try to use them for building materials — they do not last long enough.

That is right, there are more sandwich combinations than there are floors in the tallest building. They are so tasty that they could never be left alone long enough to build anything—except strong bodies and hearty appetites.

There is an endless variety of sandwiches that are time-tested favorites, but there are even more that are waiting for you to invent. That is a special feature of sandwiches — they want you to be creative.

Sandwiches will not alleviate the old problem of "what's for supper tonight?" but they can surely help to fill the menu bill.

Let your imagination run rampant! There are numerous varieties that make for good sandwich eating.

Why have sandwiches suddenly become so important? Well, there are many reasons. One major one is that Americans like sandwiches. So well in fact that they consume about 90 million every day. The peak of sandwich consumption is in late summer. That is why August has been declared Sandwich Month.

Join with the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the food industries of America and help celebrate Sandwich Month. You can start off by having sandwiches for breakfast. Why not? They can be real eye-openers. You will not have to worry about dad reading the morning paper, he will be too busy complimenting you on the novel breakfast.

You can combine all of the ingredients of a good wholesome breakfast for the breakfast sensation. Eggs and milk are the "dip" for the bread; chopped prunes, nutmeats, maple syrup and sourcream compose the refreshing filling. That is a real breakfast eye-opener!

Sandwiches make hearty meals when you include all of the makings. Depend on the foods that are in plentiful supply. This will help you cut down on meal costs. For August, USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that turkeys, fish fillets and steaks, lemons and limes, seasonal vegetables and peanuts and peanut butter are abundant. Use them in your sandwiches.

Every Girl Needs Home Economics

"Home economics equips the girls who marries after high school for the adventures of life... makes a rewarding career for the girl who will go on to college, a career, marriage, motherhood, and then back to a career... and aids the dedicated girl in every phase of her service," Arthur Neiman, publisher of Forecast for Home Economics Magazine, believes that home economics is, in fact, useful for every girl.

For the bride, home economics is the basis of homemaking. Also, as reported in a Cosmopolitan Magazine article, a BA or BS degree from one of the good home economics colleges is a ticket to a well-paid job anywhere in the country—and a big city girl with a masters degree and some experience can "write her own ticket".

The same article states that home economists marry at an average rate for most girls, and better than average rate for career girls. A related statistic is that home economists have the lowest divorce rate of any group in America—perhaps in indication that the fundamentals of homemaking add up to a successful husband care!

Mr. Neiman did not suggest that all girls major in home economics, but did suggest that the opportunities offered by such training should be explained by guidance counselors as well as by home economics teachers and leaders.

There is presently a drastic shortage of professional home economists. For the 10,000 girls—marriage minded or dedicated—who graduate with the major each year, it is the key to 15,000 good jobs. There is bound to be an even greater demand for their services once it is recognized that they are best able to guide and protect consumers who are sometimes confused by the proliferation of new equipment, foods, and fibers.

Home Economics Briefs

CLEANER WITH CLEANING IN MIND—Different cleaners do different jobs. The upright is best for large areas of rugs or wall to wall carpets. Choose the canister for general housecleaning, corners, stairs, bare floors and "above the floor" cleaning chores. Lightweight vacuum cleaners, such as the stick and hand vac, come in handy for cleaning hard-to-reach places, such as car interiors and draperies.

BELTS BACK—Fall will see belts back in the fashion picture, worn for any and all occasions. Women can again show their waistlines, circled by one to three-inch creations. Grained, waxy or split cowhide styles accessorize a casual costume; jeweled interpretations are for dress-up. Or for a different idea, some belts will feature a watch that actually runs or a mini-purse clipped on.

Bonneau Holds Meeting Series

Van Bonneau of Dodson, an evangelist for the Church of Christ, will preach in meetings at Borger, Oklahoma City and near Ralls in the near future, he said this week.

During the summer months he has held meetings at Tulsa and Clovis, N.M.

John Hendricks, son of Rev. and Mrs. Bill Hendricks of Ft. Worth visited for a week recently with Mr. and Mrs. Truett Holland at Dodson. His parents came for him and visited briefly with other friends at Dodson, where the family formerly lived.

Summer guests of Mr. and Mrs. Truett Holland and her father, Horton Kutch of Dodson have been Mr. Kutch's brother, J. D. Kutch of Glendale, Calif. A son, Hugh Kutch, also of Glendale, came, bringing two nephews, Hayden Kutch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Kutch of San Jose, Calif., and Steven Vinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Vinson of El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. Truett Holland and their niece, Nancy Shumate, vacationed recently at Red River, N.M.

Mrs. Harold Gattis

City Woman 100,000th Patron to See "Texas"

On Wednesday, Aug. 16, the 100,000 patron saw the musical drama "Texas" by Paul Green, which plays in the Palo Duro Canyon summer nights except for Tuesdays. The 100,000th visitor to "Texas" was Mrs. Harold Gattis of Wellington, who had brought her son and a visitor from Austin.

Mrs. Gattis was notified as she passed the ticket taker that she was the 100,000th visitor to the production and was treated with special honor. She was recognized at the intermission, and presented with gifts of the "Texas" script and songs.

The first performance of "Texas" opened on July 1, 1966 and more than 61,000 attended during the first season. The other 39,000 have come during the 1967 season.

Saturday night, Aug. 19, to an audience of 1635, was the 100th production of the musical drama. For 100 times, the horseman has ridden up the steep trail to the top of the 600 foot bluff to present his flag when the bugle calls the audience to attention; 100 times, with a burst of music, the chorus of whirling dancers and stalwart singers has surged on the stages with its medley of Texas songs; 100 times Calvin has been stung at the death of his mother with a determination to come back to the west and to let nothing there defeat him; 100 times the cowboys have teased the settlers. About 85 times the cow Eva has come in behind the covered wagon (the other 15 times she was lost in the canyon where she had gotten out, or was bawling so loud that she could not be brought to the stage). 100 times Elsie has proclaimed that she wouldn't want to live out here, and then discovered the beauty of the open sky and the power of a man and changed her mind. 100 times the old prospector has marked the drouth with his speech "Rain, rain, most inappropriate word. It's so dry I'd have to prime myself to spit." 100 times the prairie fire has raged in the frantic sweeping of the ballet danced to the moaning voices of the wind and the crackling sound of fire. 100 times the model of the old fashioned train has chugged around the base of the cliff and back to the stage, as it did in the days of the first coming of the railroad. 100 times the storm has raged across the stage in thunder and lightning so realistic that people reach for their coats and put up their umbrellas.

These are reflections of early life in the west which the audience sees when it attends "Texas," the musical drama by Paul Green which plays in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park in the summer each night of the week except Tuesdays. The Canyon is the star of the show and the theatre nestles in a curve of its wall 600 feet high. It opened July 1, 1966 and now has just played its hundredth performance.

For further information about this production, write Box 268, Canyon, Texas 97015.

Clayton Mann

Love of Flag Urged by Legion Speaker

When congressmen voted recently to make desecration of the American Flag a crime, only 16 of the more than 400 members voted against it, and two of those 16 were from Texas, Clayton Mann of Wichita Falls, past department commander, told members of the Dodson American Legion Post at a chicken barbecue recently.

These two he named as Gonzales of San Antonio and Eckert of Houston.

"I think the people of those districts should take stock and see what they are sending to Congress," Mann declared. Desecration of the flag, he continued, is a desecration of the memory of the men who have died in Vietnam.

In his brief talk, Mr. Mann also reviewed the American Legion programs which concern youth, including Boys State and the $9,000,000 child welfare program.

The past commander praised the 46-member Dodson Post for the publicity it has brought the town in regional and state conventions.

"Dodson has had more Legion brass than any other Post in Texas," the speaker declared as he reviewed visitors the Post has had in recent months.

Other officials at this meeting included Mrs. Mann of Wichita Falls; 18th District Vice Commander Bill Brady, Mrs. Brady and their daughters, Tracy and Brenda of Claude; Chuck Duncan of Fort Worth, immediate past Department sergeant at arms; J. R. Gray, commander of Post 569, Fort Worth; Tom Sonnemaker of Wichita Falls; Mrs. Helen Balew of Memphis, 18th District Auxiliary Vice President.

Ceder Bayou Will Be Marked

AUSTIN.—A construction contract has been awarded to mark 9,500 feet of boat channel in Mesquite Bay leading to Cedar Bayou Fish Pass in Aransas County, according to the Parks and Wildlife Department. The contract calls for sinking 20-foot creosote pilings at 500-foot intervals along both sides of the existing channel. Each channel marker will stick out of the water six feet and have signs at the top locating the channel.

"Most coastal fishermen already know the channel which connects a private channel and the Cedar Bayou Fish Pass," Robert G. Mauermann, deputy director of the Department, said. "These new channel markers will be a boon to fishermen from other parts of the state who seldom fish in Cedar Bayou Fish Pass."

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. McBride of Fort Worth arrived in Wellington Monday for a two-weeks visit with Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Parrigin.

Scott Associate Pastor of California Church

A former Collingsworth County man, now a clergyman, is associate pastor of the largest Baptist Church in the western states.

He is the Rev. Dale Scott, associate pastor of the 7,000-member First Baptist Church of Van Nuys, California. The family home is 11214 Collett St., Granada Hills, Calif.

Last week he, with his wife and two sons, Kenneth, 14, and Ronald, 12, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Scott. He also preached at Faith Baptist Church Sunday evening, Aug. 20.

Rev. Scott was graduated from Wellington High School in 1943 and entered the armed forces on the West Coast the following year. California has been his home since.

After receiving his discharge at the end of World War II, Rev. Scott received his bachelor's degree from LaVerne College in Los Angeles and the master of arts degree from San Fernando State College.

His master of theology degree was granted him by California Theological Seminary at Covina.

The sanctuary of First Baptist Church at Van Nuys, dedicated March 14, 1965, seats 2,000 and houses a $102,000 Casavant organ. Approximately 3,000 persons are in Sunday School each Sunday, Rev. Scott said.

From Wellington, the family went to Oklahoma City to visit Mrs. Scott's brother, Don Schierling, and from there they will go to Henderson, Nebr., to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Schierling.

Herschel Holtman Home on Leave

Herschel Holtman, Smss, United States Navy, will return to his base at San Diego, Calif., after ten days leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arlois Holtman.

Holtman, assigned to the Submarine Service, is stationed aboard the USS Razorback.

This submarine completed a six-months tour in the West Pacific in the spring, touching port in Japan, Okinawa, the Philippines, and at Singapore and Hong Kong. They were in the Vietnam war zone for a short time.

The men had liberty at each of these ports, Holtman said, and the city he found most interesting was Hong Kong.

As the ship crossed the equator, all men—enlisted men and officers alike—who were going across for the first time were initiated.

"The Navy has a tradition that you are a pollywog before, but when you go across you are a shellback. We had a Chief who had been in the Navy 20 years and this was his first time to go across," Holtman said. Initiating, he added, includes shaving the men's heads.

"I'll be doing the initiating the next time," he said with a big grin.

Keenly enthusiastic about the submarine service, Holtman says he wouldn't trade it, but he admits that it takes certain qualities in men that are not required in other branches. One is the ability to live with other men in close quarters over a long period of time.

The young Navy man attended the Wellington schools through his sophomore year and was graduated from Littlefield High School. He enlisted in June, 1966. Through the Armed Services program, he has registered for college work by correspondence.

Phipps on Tech Honor Roll

Denzil Phipps was listed on the dean's honor roll at Texas Technological College in Lubbock for the spring semester.

A pre-law student, he will return to Tech this fall as a junior.

Phipps is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Phipps and was graduated from Quail High School in 1965.

Parents to Accompany Texas Teens to Court

A little publicized provision of the State's new traffic safety laws requires that one or both parents of juvenile traffic offenders appear in open court with the youthful law breakers.

The law, which becomes effective Monday, August 28, also states that juveniles can plead guilty only in open court before the judge and that parents or guardians must be present before the teen is convicted or fined.

In today's busy world it is difficult for many well-meaning parents to keep up with the actions of their teen age children. This provision of the new law should benefit conscientious parents and their youngsters.

Up until now, teens could be arrested and fined without the parents knowledge. Teens could and some did build terrible driving records. In many cases, the parents could have called a halt to the dangerous driving; if only they had known what was going on.

By knowing when their youngsters are arrested for traffic violations, parents will be able to put corrective measures into action. Perhaps they will be able to keep their children out of further trouble.

OTHER EDITORS SAY . . .

What Is a Farmer? Here's One Answer

A farmer is a paradox—He is an executive with his home his office; a scientist using fertilizer attachments; a purchasing agent in an old straw hat; a personnel director with grease under his fingernails; a dietitian with a passion for alfalfa, amino acids, antibiotics; a production expert with a surplus; and a manager battling a price-cost squeeze.

He manages more capital than most of the businessmen in town.

He likes sunshine, good food, state fairs, dinner at noon, auctions, his neighbors, his shirt collar unbuttoned and, above all, a good soaking rain in August.

He is not much for droughts, gullies, throughways, weeds, the 8-hour day, grasshoppers, or helping with housework.

Farmers are found in fields—plowing up, seeding down, rotating from, planting to, fertilizing with, spraying for, and harvesting. Wives help them, little boys follow them, city relatives visit them, salesmen detain them and wait for them, weather can delay them, but it takes Heaven to stop them.

A farmer is both faith and fatalist—he must have faith to continually meet the challenges of his capacities amid an ever-present possibility that a late spring, an early frost, tornado, flood, drought, disease, or bugs can bring his business to a standstill.

He is your countryman—a denim-dressed, business-wise, fast-growing statesman of stature. And when he comes in at noon, having spent the energy of his hopes and dreams he can be recharged anew with the magic words, "the market's up."

How Many Straws Can He Take?

State Capital NEWS
By Vern Sanford

Political Signs Emerging

First major political indicators of what is expected to be a stormy year ahead began to come into focus here last year.

House Speaker Ben Barnes and Lt. Governor Peston Smith acknowledge that they sat down together to talk over their plans at length.

Barnes said Smith told him he plans to run for governor and encouraged him to seek the lieutenant governor's office.

Both declined to make any formal announcement of their plans until after Gov. Connally's return from Africa about September 4.

"I am hoping things work out so there will be no big political turmoil, but I have stated repeatedly my plans are not dependent on what anyone else does," commented the lieutenant governor.

"I may announce in the next few weeks, but I have to think about all this," said Barnes. "This is a political decision I am not ready to make yet."

Most observers rate Governor Connally as almost certain to seek a fourth term.

Hospital Building Signalled

Texas Mental Health and Mental Retardation Board has approved $3,200,000 in construction priorities and set aside $3,000,000 for the Dallas Neuropsychiatric Institute.

Major items include $500,000 for an institute for human growth and development at Austin State School; $397,828 for a rehabilitation building at Kerrville; $388,859 for air conditioning at a Terrell unit; and $290,459 for a recreation building at Abilene.

Grants in aid were approved for these community health centers:

Austin-Travis County, $392,815; Edinburg, $102,024; Beaumont-Port Arthur, $305,000. Contracts also were made to assist in developing community centers in Abilene, Amarillo, Brownwood, Harlingen, Texarkana, Dallas, and San Antonio. Contract services were continued with individual physicians or hospitals in Amarillo, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Houston, Lufkin and San Antonio.

Attorney General Speaks

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said it is up to each individual school district to decide if it wants to adopt the new "tenure" or "continuing contract" law for its teachers. However, once adopted, the tenure plan (protecting teachers against firing without cause) becomes mandatory.

In other recent opinions, Martin has held that:

- Insurance issued to an individual under a group policy does not become incontestable under the insurance code until two years from the date the person becomes insured under a master policy.

- District judges and district attorneys can claim full reimbursement for officials' travels out of county of their residence, effective Sept. 1.

- Railroad Commission employees assigned to a transportation conference are entitled to travel expenses, as are state employees representing their agencies at a Texas Historical Survey Committee-sponsored dedication ceremony.

- A public weigher may not conduct weighing operations outside the area in which he was elected or appointed; deputy weighers need not be actual residents of the area they serve.

- Cities under 185,000 population cannot pay any portion of firemen's personal obligation as contribution to relief and retirement fund.

- Texas Employment Commission may contribute state funds to the premiums of its employees' group insurance coverage; but under these conditions, Commission must secure the contract of insurance, be the policy-holder and pay the contributions to the company.

- Writ of possession on property sold at a tax sale may be issued to the purchaser after expiration of 20 days from end of redemption period.

- State agencies must make purchases of goods manufactured by the prison system through the Board of Control; political subdivisions may purchase directly from prisons but Board must set manufacturing specifications.

Oil Output Remains High

Texas Railroad Commission maintained August's high oil production allowable for September — 54 per cent of potential.

September figure allows for maximum production of 4,075,231 barrels daily, unchanged from August.

Allowable has zoomed following Middle East oil crisis. It was 33.8 per cent in May, 35.9 per cent in June, 42.9 per cent in July and 54 per cent in August.

Nominations to purchase oil from major buyers came to 3,406,451 barrels a day for September, an increase of 383,041 over August. Bureau of Mines predicted the demand for Texas crude in the coming month would be 3,525,000 barrels a day.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

News has got plumb down to here that Houston's Poverty War command got Washington approval of a request of a batch of telescope sights for high-powered sights.

Some carpers wondered very loudly if the sniper is now a federally-financed weapon against poverty. But it was revealed that the sights were to have been converted into microscopes for students in the dropout training program.

After all this hubbub, the poverty missionaries likely won't even be able to get a bushel, or two of grenades now and then to convert into handballs for their P. E. classes.

YOUR INCOME TAX

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. I disagree with what your agent proposes as a result of my audit. Is there any way I can have someone else review the case without making a court case out of it? The amount involved is only several hundred dollars.

A. You should inform the examining agent that you do not agree with his proposed adjustments and desire a district conference. A conferee will consider your side of the story as well as the examining agent's and attempt to reach an agreement on the basis of the facts and law involved.

No formal or written protest need be made to obtain such a conference where the amount of the tax liability in question is up to $2,500. The previous limit was $1,000.

Q. I plan to sell some property I inherited from my grandmother. How do I tell whether I have any profit or report?

A. The basis to use is the fair market value at the time you inherited it. If you obtain more than this value when you sell, then you will have to report the difference as income. Don't forget, however, that you may deduct expenses you have in connection with the sale to determine whether you have a gain or loss. The treatment of gains and losses from the sale or exchange of both business and nonbusiness property is covered in IRS Document No. 5048. For a free copy send a post card to your district director.

Q. My teenager has earned almost $600 this summer. If he goes over that figure will we lose our exemption for him?

A. No, you won't if he is under 19 or is a full-time student. The other dependency tests must still be met, however.

Your son will have to file a tax return if his income does reach $600 or if taxes have been withheld from his wages and he wants to obtain a refund.

Q. Is there any difference between a pension from the government and one from a private company when it comes to taxes?

A. If the government pension

If it is possible, I would like for you to print the following which I felt could not be heard last Saturday. (. . . when Mrs. Jacobson was named runner-up as Homecoming Queen.)

TEXAS TORTOISE AND HORNED TOAD PROTECTED BY LAW

AUSTIN.—The slow moving Texas tortoise and the bizarre horned frog or toad are now protected from commercial exploitation by laws passed by the 60th Legislature, according to Howard Lee, director of programs for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Senate Bill 336 protects only the Gopherus berlandieri or Texas tortoise. The Texas tortoise, found only in South Texas and Northern Mexico, is completely harmless and eats fruits from the common cactus and young plants.

Lee said commercial exploitation of the land tortoise is rapidly depleting the population from South Texas and Northeastern Mexico. He said the slow reproduction rate of the tortoise could lead to its extinction and could possibly upset the ecological balance of the limited area where it is found.

Senate Bill 331 protects all species of the horned toad or frog, which is neither a toad nor a frog but a lizard and a member of the same family as the Iguana found in Mexico and Central America.

A handbook of lizards indicates there are some 13 sub species in the United States, with three found in Texas. The book lists wide variances in the species. Some are egg layers while others are live bearers. Some squirt blood from their eyes which ruin a white shirt or a pair of khaki trousers, Lee said.

"Otherwise they are harmless, except to ant populations," he said.

Violation of the law carries a misdemeanor penalty and a fine from $10 to $200. The law protecting the Texas tortoise can also include confinement in the county jail for not less than 10 days and not more than 60 days in addition to the fine.

Both laws provide that each tortoise or horned lizard taken, killed, or possessed for commercial exploitation shall constitute a separate offense.

Cereal Lab Set at A&M

COLLEGE STATION.—How do you like your "daily bread"? Are you one of the "squeezers" who demand very soft bread, do you economize by buying day-old bread, or do you prefer bread like grandma baked?

Regardless of which kind of bread you like, you have an effect on the market and on which kind of wheat is used to produce the various types of baked products. There are six classes of wheat produced in the United States and each of these classes has certain properties which distinguish it and make it desirable for production of a type of baked product.

The new cereal laboratory at Texas A&M University, under the guidance of Dr. Lloyd W. Rooney, was developed to aid the plant breeder in developing new varieties for developing new methods for determining wheat quality.

Texas produces some of the finest quality bread wheat in the world. To maintain this level of production which has come about in the last 25 years the quality must be carefully checked by such facilities as the Texas A&M laboratories.

The laboratories are equipped to thoroughly test the mixing properties and other factors influencing wheat quality. The sample of a line of wheat is tested for its protein content, moisture and ash residue. And then the final test is the actual baking of the bread.

The laboratory is equipped to bake a regular one pound loaf of bread or a smaller loaf which only uses 100 grams of wheat. These loaves are tested for mixing properties, water absorption, external and internal features such as crumb grain and texture.

All of these tests are part of the process of finding the best lines of wheat and insuring that only strains having good quality characteristics are released to the growers.

1876-Who'd Have Thought It?

Texas A&M University occupies a 5,200-acre campus (including its own commercial airport) at College Station, about 90 miles northwest of Houston. Originally chartered in 1876 as a land grant agricultural and technical college, A&M now offers undergraduate and graduate study in more than 60 fields encompassed in the colleges of engineering, agriculture, liberal arts, science, geology, veterinary medicine, business administration and architecture. Enrollment this year topped 10,000, with more than 2,000 graduate students. Some 650 foreign students represent about half of the countries of the Free World.

Texas A&M takes pride in the excellence of its voluntary Corps of Cadets, the nation's largest single source of military reserve officers.

To date, A&M has graduated more than 45,000.

Washington Report

From Congressman

BOB PRICE 18TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1225 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. • 225-3706

The Social Security bill passed by the House last week with only three dissenting votes was a greatly improved version of the original Administration proposal.

The amendments to the Social Security Act are the result of long weeks of hearings by the House Ways and Means Committee and more weeks of debate by the members of that Committee, which includes Texas' George Bush.

Under the "closed rule" under which the bill was sent to the House for debate and consideration, no amendments could be offered by other members but most agreed that the Committee bill was a sound bill and probably the best that could be hoped for under the circumstances.

Essentially the amendments provide for an across-the-board increase of 12 1/2% in retirement benefits, increases the amount an individual may earn and still get full benefits, and revises the program of aid to families with dependent children by requiring individuals receiving aid to participate in community work and training programs.

During the last session of Congress and again in January of this year, the Republican leadership called for an immediate increase in Social Security benefits so badly needed by the many millions whose income had been whittled away by inflation. Last year alone, living costs rose 3.3% and are still increasing at that rate and cash benefits had fallen 7% behind the consumer price index.

I and a number of other freshman Republican Congressmen recently introduced legislation to not only increase the benefits but also to make the increase retroactive.

The present earnings ceiling is certainly inadequate, and I was glad to see in this bill some reflection of financial realities of the present inflationary period. This bill raises the earnings ceiling from $1,500 to $1,680 and the amount to which $1 for $2 reduction would apply would range from $1,680 to $2,880 a year. Also the amount a person may earn in one month would be increased from $125 to $140.

Experience proved also that major changes in the health insurance program were needed and this bill made some meaningful improvements. The number of days of hospitalization was increased from 90 to 120 days and a patient will be permitted to submit his itemized bill directly to the insurance carrier for payment. A physician's certificate will no longer be required for hospital admission nor for out-patient services.

Changes were also made in the controversial Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program. In the last ten years, this program has grown from 646,000 families that included 2.4 million recipients to 1.2 million families with almost 5 million recipients costing $1.46 billion a year, which would increase to $1.84 billion over the next five years.

The bill will require states which make the grants to establish programs to train each adult or older child not attending school for work and place them in a job or cut them from the welfare rolls. There is also an earnings exemption to offer incentives for work to welfare recipients.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the Committee, answered criticism about the work requirement for welfare recipients in plain language:

"Is it in the public interest for welfare to become a way of life?" asked Mills. "We found we are taking care of the third consecutive generation on welfare. . . . What is wrong in requiring these people receiving public funds to learn a job? Isn't that what we should do? . . . Are you satisfied with the fact that illegitimacy in this country is rising and rising? I am not."

About three-fifths of the cost of the recommended cash benefit changes will be met by the present favorable balance of that part of the program. The remainder of the cost of the changes will be met through an increase in the contribution rates as well as the maximum amount of annual earnings subject to the tax which will be raised from $6,600 to $7,600 on January 1, 1968.

Employer - employee rate schedules for old-age, survivors and disability insurance would remain the same for 1968, be reduced by 0.2% for 1969-70, then increased by 0.2% for 1971-72. After 1972, the rate would be 5 percent instead of 4.85 as presently scheduled.

The self-employed rate schedule for 1969-70 would be decreased by 0.3% to 6.3, increased for 1971-72 to 6.9%, then go to 7% as presently scheduled after 1972.

While I consider these increases necessary for those dependent on the program, I believe a better solution to the problem of such periodic increases would be a Federal fiscal policy to eliminate wasteful government spending, especially when the costs of the war in Vietnam are going up and up, and stop the borrowing and unnecessary spending that cause the constant rise in prices and make it necessary to increase such benefits to keep up with this endless cycle.

Boys Ranch Plans Rodeo for Labor Day

The largest number of people ever to attend a rodeo at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch are expected there over the Labor Day week end when the nearly 350 boys hold their 23rd annual Boys Ranch Rodeo, the only one of its kind in the nation.

Additional bleachers have been installed by the boys, and king-size barbecue beef sandwiches with all the trimmings will be served for $1 a plate. The rodeo will also be a traditional homecoming for the more than 2,000 young men who have graduated from the Ranch.

About 100 contestants will be riding the professional rodeo stock with the most coveted trophies going to the Senior and Junior All-Around Cowboys. The boys compete under R.C.A. rules, and last year's scoring was so close, two Senior All-Around Cowboys were named. They were Ronnie Nemsgern from Perryton and Jimmy Burt from Odessa. The Junior All-Around Cowboy was Ricky Carter from Fort Worth.

The rodeo's two performances will get under way at 2:30

ACTION AT BOYS RANCH

This is the kind of action that will be going on at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, September 3 and 4, when the nearly 350 boys put on their 23rd annual rodeo. About 100 young contestants will be competing on the professional rodeo stock and thrilling the crowds with rides like this one being made by 14-year-old David Adcock during a practice session at the Ranch.

Mrs. J. D. Wilson has returned home after several weeks with her daughter and granddaughter, Dr. Margaret Sittin and Peggy Lou, who live in Lubbock.

On a week end they visited the Amana Colonies near Cedar p.m. Sunday and Monday. Joining the boys will be mounted riding groups appearing in the Grand Entry and the Amarillo Air Force Base band.

Box seats for the rodeo are $2.50 and general admission is $1.50 for adults and 75¢ for children and servicemen in uniform. Advance tickets may be obtained by calling or writing the Boys Ranch Office, P.O. Box 1890, Amarillo, at DR 4-4687.

Television Now Tiny to Titantic

"Tiny-vision," television with screen size 14 inches or less, seems headed for a big future. Selling for $100 to $120 the little sets are expected to account for 20% of all black and white sales in 1967. Prices are expected to fall to around $50 within three years, making the sets appealing to radio's biggest consumer group—youth.

At the other end of the scale, giant screens—23 inch and 25 inch—have been the big sellers in color TV. These sets range in price from $350 to $1,050 with the average between $525 and $650. Prices are a little higher than a year ago, but a downward trend is expected with more production.

A & M Develops Nuclear Science

Already distinguished for its work in agriculture and engineering, A&M University has taken seven-league strides into space, nuclear, and computer science. Its new $6 million, 88-inch, variable energy cyclotron will be operational this summer. The nuclear science center will work with a more powerful reactor—up from 100 to 1,000 kilowatt capacity. In the Activation Analysis lab, the so-called "nuclear fingerprints" of all types of matter are being analyzed.

Northern Pike Growing Fast in Greenbelt

CLARENDON—Rapidly growing northern pike, experimentally released five months ago in Greenbelt Reservoir just north of Clarendon, have grown to 10 inches in length, according to Game Warden Carl Carter of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Fishery personnel of the Department, in cooperation with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, released 150,000 tiny northern pike in early April, hoping they would prey on the high shad and carp populations in the lake. Indications are that survival and growth are good in the cool Panhandle lake.

An additional 100,000 northern pike fry were released in Buffalo Lake, near Umbarger at the same time, but none of them have been recaptured so far.

Marion Toole, fisheries coordinator for the TPWD estimated northern pike will average 20-25 pounds in Texas waters and reach a length of 40 to 50 inches.

"The record for the northern pike is 46 pounds, two ounces caught in 1940 in Sacandaga Reservoir in New York," said Toole.

ELECTRIC CONDITIONED LIVING • ELECTRIC CONDITIONED LIVING • ELECTRIC CONDITIONED LIVING

What people are saying about...

A CLEAN BREAK WITH THE PAST

"Electric heat keeps mother so comfortable," says Mrs. Earl D. Tracy of Junction, Texas. Mrs. Tracy's mother, who is 90 years old, makes her home with the Tracys. Caring for her in an electric comfort-conditioned home is much easier, Mrs. Tracy says. "As you get along in years, drafts and varying temperatures in the winter time are bad. With electric heat, the room stays the same temperature, and there is no dryness like from other heating. And individual room controls allow each of us to select the temperature we like best."

Mr. Tracy is a rancher, and is well known in and around Junction. The Tracys really live in their home—enjoy it themselves and entertain friends. Mrs. Tracy has cooked electrically for 35 years, and the Tracys have lived in total-electric comfort for two years. The cooling system is ducted-in type, the kitchen total-electric, there is an electric home laundry, water heater and two bath heaters in addition to baseboard heating. The home is of brick construction—6 rooms and two baths—and the average per month cost is only $26.20. "Electric living is so much less expensive than I ever thought," Mrs. Tracy says.

Why don't you convert to total-electric living and see what you have to say about it?

Elwyn Dysart

Native of City Heads Agricultural Agents

A native of Wellington is the new president of the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association.

Elwyn L. Dysart, Hartley County agricultural agent 26 years, was elevated from the vice presidency at the annual meeting in Amarillo Aug. 8.

Also attending the meeting was Sammy Helmers, Collinsworth County agent, who was a member of the reception committee.

As Assn. president, Dysart's responsibility will be to help coordinate state programs dealing with the annual meet; the 13 working committees set up for betterment of agriculture and extension programs, and those involved in Extension.

He will lead the state organization to the National meeting and coordinate the state program with the National Association of County Agents. All of this is done through cooperation with Texas A&M System and other land grant colleges of the nation, Dysart said.

Dysart was born at Wellington to Mrs. Minnie Dysart, now of Mobeetie, and Carey Dysart, who died in Mobeetie in 1960.

Elwyn L. Dysart

Dysart graduated from Mobeetie high school. He took his degree in Agronomy from Texas A&M University at College Station; and General Agriculture degree from WTSU in Canyon. He had four years of college band and choral work, and has been music director for the Channing First Baptist Church nearly 22 years.

With the USDA for 26 years, he was AAA (now ASCS) state performance fieldman in 1941 with general headquarters in College Station. He did clerical work and performance checking in the Wheeler County AAA office during the summers 1933 through 1941 while attending WTSU and A&M.

He was assistant agent in Gray County, and became the Hartley County agent June 26, 1941. In 1958-59 he was District I director of TCAAA; and won the Distinguished Service Award in 1958. For a number of years he has been chairman of District 1 4-H Camp and has helped carry out a successful 4-H program in Hartley County during the 26 years of work in the fields of beef cattle, swine, lambs, tractor maintenance, wheat, grain sorghum programs and public speaking.

Among betterment programs in which he has worked are the county long range program, beef cattle performance, brucellosis, dairy cattle, grasshopper, rodent and predatory animal control, and many others.

He has been music director of the Baptist Trans-Canadian Association. He has been speaker for various civic organizations; emceed various civic events and delivered commencement addresses.

Dysart helped in the organization of the Inter-State Fair in Dalhart in 1954. It includes Hartley, Dallam and all adjacent counties. He was a Carpenter Mate First Class in the US Navy Reserves three and a half years, serving in both South and North Pacific theaters of war. He taught school for Navy personnel; was Navy barber, yeoman for the commanding officers of a detachment of 510 men and officers maintaining a Navy base and airfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Dysart and their daughter, Vicki, live in Dalhart.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 17 proposing an amendment to Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, so as to authorize an increase in the total amount of bonds or obligations that may be issued by the Veterans' Land Board to Four Hundred Million Dollars ($400,000,000); providing for the issuance of said bonds or obligations and the conditions relating thereto and the use of the Veterans' Land Fund; and providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, be amended so that the same will hereafter read as follows:

"Section 49-b. By virtue of prior Amendments to this Constitution, there has been created a governmental agency of the State of Texas performing governmental duties which have been designated the Veterans' Land Board. Said Board shall continue to function for the purposes specified in all of the prior Constitutional Amendments except as modified herein. Said Board shall be composed of the Commissioner of the General Land Office and two (2) citizens of the State of Texas, one (1) of whom shall be well versed in veterans' affairs and one (1) of whom shall be well versed in finance. One (1) such citizen member shall, with the advice and consent of the Senate, be appointed biennially by the Governor to serve for a term of four (4) years; but the members serving on said Board on the date of adoption hereof shall complete the terms to which they were appointed. In the event of the resignation or death of any such citizen member, the Governor shall appoint a replacement to serve for the unexpired portion of the term to which the deceased or resigning member had been appointed. The compensation for said citizen members shall be as is now or may hereafter be fixed by the Legislature; and each shall make bond in such amount as is now or may hereafter be prescribed by the Legislature.

"The Commissioner of the General Land Office shall act as Chairman of said Board and shall be the administrator of the Veterans' Land Program under such terms and restrictions as are now or may hereafter be provided by law. In the absence or illness of said Commissioner, the Chief Clerk of the General Land Office shall be the Acting Chairman of said Board with the same duties and powers that said Commissioner would have if present.

"The Veterans' Land Board may provide for, issue and sell not to exceed Four Hundred Million Dollars ($400,000,000) in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the purpose of creating a fund to be known as the Veterans' Land Fund, Two Hundred Million Dollars ($200,000,000) of which have heretofore been issued and sold. Such bonds or obligations shall be sold for not less than par value and accrued interest; shall be issued in such forms, denominations, and upon such terms as are now or may hereafter be provided by law; shall be issued and sold at such times, at such places, and in such installments as may be determined by said Board; and shall bear a rate or rates of interest as may be fixed by said Board but the weighted average annual interest rate, as that phrase is commonly and ordinarily used and understood in the municipal bond market, of all the bonds issued and sold in any installment of any bonds not exceed four and one-half per cent (4½%). All bonds or obligations issued and sold hereunder shall, after execution by the Board, approval by the Attorney General of Texas, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchaser or purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under the Constitution of Texas; and all bonds heretofore issued and sold by said Board are hereby in all respects validated and declared to be general obligations of the State of Texas. In order to prevent default in the payment of principal or interest on any such bonds, the Legislature shall appropriate a sufficient amount to pay the same.

"In the sale of any such bonds or obligations, a preferential right of purchase shall be given to the administrators of the various Teacher Retirement Funds, the Permanent University Funds, and the Permanent School Funds.

"Said Veterans' Land Fund shall consist of any lands heretofore or hereafter purchased by said Board, under the sale price thereof, together with any interest and penalties due, have been received by said Board (although nothing hereinafter shall be construed to prevent said Board from accepting full payment for a portion of any tract), and of the moneys attributable to any bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board which moneys so attributable shall include but shall not be limited to the proceeds from the issuance and sale of such bonds; the moneys received from the sale or resale of any lands, or rights therein, purchased with such proceeds; the moneys received from the sale or resale of any lands, or rights therein, purchased with such proceeds; the moneys received from the sale or resale of any lands, or rights therein; the bonuses, rents, royalties, and any other pecuniary benefit received by said Board from any such lands; sums received by way of indemnity or forfeiture for the failure of any bidder for the purchase of any such bonds to comply with his bid and accept and pay for such bonds or for the failure of any bidder for the purchase of any lands comprising a part of said Fund to comply with his bid and accept and pay for any such lands; and interest received from investments of any such moneys. The principal and interest on the bonds heretofore and hereafter issued by said Board shall be paid out of the moneys of said Fund in conformance with the Constitutional provisions authorizing such bonds; but the moneys of said Fund which are not immediately committed to the payment of principal and interest on such bonds, the purchase of lands as herein provided, or the payment of expenses as herein provided may be invested in bonds or obligations of the United States until such funds are needed for such purposes.

"All moneys comprising a part of said Fund and not expended for the purposes herein provided shall be a part of said Fund until there are sufficient moneys therein to retire fully all of the bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board, at which time all such moneys remain in said Fund, except such portion thereof as may be necessary to retire all such bonds which portion shall be set aside and retained in said Fund for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, shall be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund to be appropriated to such purposes as may be prescribed by law. All moneys becoming a part of said Fund thereafter shall likewise be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund.

"When a Division of said Fund (a Division consisting of the moneys attributable to the bonds issued and sold pursuant to a single Constitutional authorization and the lands purchased therewith) contains sufficient moneys to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division, the moneys thereof, except such portion as may be needed to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division which portion shall be set aside and remain a part of such Division for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, may be used for the purpose of paying the principal and interest thereon, together with the expenses herein authorized, of any other bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board. Such use shall be a matter for the discretion and direction of said Board; but there may be no such use of any moneys contrary to the rights of any holder of any of the bonds issued and sold by said Board or violative of any contract to which said Board is a party.

"The Veterans' Land Fund shall be used by said Board for the purpose of purchasing lands situated in the State of Texas owned by the United States or any governmental agency thereof, owned by the Texas Prison System or any other governmental agency of the State of Texas, or owned by any person, firm, or corporation, and such lands purchased shall be acquired at the lowest price obtainable, to be paid for in cash, and shall be a part of said Fund. Such lands heretofore or hereafter purchased and comprising a part of said Fund are hereby declared to be held for a governmental purpose, although the individual purchasers thereof shall be subject to taxation to the same extent and in the same manner as are purchasers of lands dedicated to the Permanent Free Public School Fund.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER FIVE ON THE BALLOT

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of Texas be amended by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 49-e, as follows:

"Section 49-e. The Parks and Wildlife Department, of its successor vested with the powers, duties, and authority which deals with the operation, maintenance, and improvement of State Parks, shall have the authority to provide for, issue and sell general obligation bonds of the State of Texas in an amount not to exceed Seventy-Five Million Dollars ($75,000,000). The bonds authorized herein shall be called 'Texas Park Development Bonds,' shall be executed in such form, denominations, and upon such terms as may be prescribed by law, provided, however, that the bonds shall bear a rate or rates of interest as may be fixed by the Parks and Wildlife Department or its successor, but the weighted average annual interest rate, as that phrase is commonly and ordinarily used and understood in the municipal bond market, of all the bonds issued and sold in any installment of any bonds, shall not exceed four and one-half percent (4½%) interest per annum; they may be issued in such installments as said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, finds feasible and practical in accomplishing the purpose set forth herein.

"All moneys received from the sale of said bonds shall be deposited in a fund hereby created with the State Treasurer to be known as the Texas Park Development Fund to be administered (without further limitation) by the said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, for the purposes prescribed by the Legislature.

"From the moneys received by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, from the sale of the bonds issued hereunder, there shall be deposited in the interest and sinking fund for the bonds authorized by this section sufficient moneys to pay the interest to become due during the State fiscal year in which the bonds were issued. After partment, or its said successor, under such provisions as the Legislature may prescribe by general law, for the purposes of acquiring lands from the United States, or any governmental agency thereof, from any governmental agency of the State of Texas, or from any person, firm, or corporation, for State Park Sites and for developing said sites as State Parks.

"While any of the bonds authorized by this provision, or any interest on any such bonds, is outstanding and unpaid, there is hereby appropriated out of the first moneys coming into the Treasury in each fiscal year, not otherwise appropriated by this Constitution, an amount which is sufficient to pay the principal and interest on such bonds that mature or become due during such fiscal year, less the amount in the interest and sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year, which includes any receipts derived during the prior fiscal year by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, from admission charges to State Parks, as the Legislature may prescribe by general law.

"The Legislature may provide for the investment of moneys available in the Texas Park Development Fund and the interest and sinking fund established for the payment of bonds issued by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, Income from such investment shall be used for the purposes prescribed by the Legislature.

"From the moneys received by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, from the sale of the bonds issued hereunder, there shall be deposited in the interest and sinking fund for the bonds authorized by this section sufficient moneys to pay the interest to become due during the State fiscal year in which the bonds were issued. After all bonds have been fully paid with interest, or after there are on deposit in the interest and sinking fund sufficient moneys to pay all future maturities of principal and interest, additional moneys received from admission charges to State Parks shall be deposited to the State Parks Fund, or any successor fund which may be established by the Legislature as a depository for Park revenue earned by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor.

"All bonds issued hereunder shall after approval by the Attorney General, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchaser or purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under the Constitution of Texas.

"Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such Acts shall not be void by reason of their anticipatory nature."

Sec. 2. The foregoing amendment to the Constitution shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on November 11, 1967, at which election each ballot shall have printed thereon the following words:

"FOR the amendment to the Constitution of Texas adding a new section to be known as Section 49-e of Article III, authorizing the issuance and sale of Seventy-Five Million Dollars ($75,000,000) in bonds by the State of Texas to create the Texas Park Development Fund to acquire lands for State Park sites and to develop State Parks."

"AGAINST the amendment to the Constitution of Texas adding a new section to be known as Section 49-e of Article III, authorizing the issuance and sale of Seventy-Five Million Dollars ($75,000,000) in bonds by the State of Texas to create the Texas Park Development Fund to acquire lands for State Park sites and to develop State Parks."

"The Veterans' Land Board may provide for, issue and sell not to exceed Four Hundred Million Dollars ($400,000,000) in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the purpose of creating a fund to be known as the Veterans' Land Fund, Two Hundred Million Dollars ($200,000,000) of which have heretofore been issued and sold. Such bonds or obligations shall be sold for not less than par value and accrued interest; shall be issued in such forms, denominations, and upon such terms as are now or may hereafter be provided by law; shall be issued and sold at such times, at such places, and in such installments as may be determined by said Board; and shall bear a rate or rates of interest as may be fixed by said Board but the weighted average annual interest rate, as that phrase is commonly and ordinarily used and understood in the municipal bond market, of all the bonds issued and sold in any installment of any bonds not exceed four and one-half per cent (4½%). All bonds or obligations issued and sold hereunder shall, after execution by the Board, approval by the Attorney General of Texas, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchaser or purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under the Constitution of Texas; and all bonds heretofore issued and sold by said Board are hereby in all respects validated and declared to be general obligations of the State of Texas. In order to prevent default in the payment of principal or interest on any such bonds, the Legislature shall appropriate a sufficient amount to pay the same.

"In the sale of any such bonds or obligations, a preferential right of purchase shall be given to the administrators of the various Teacher Retirement Funds, the Permanent University Funds, and the Permanent School Funds.

"Said Veterans' Land Fund shall consist of any lands heretofore or hereafter purchased by said Board, under the sale price thereof, together with any interest and penalties due, have been received by said Board (although nothing hereinafter shall be construed to prevent said Board from accepting full payment for a portion of any tract), and of the moneys attributable to any bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board which moneys so attributable shall include but shall not be limited to the proceeds from the issuance and sale of such bonds; the moneys received from the sale or resale of any lands, or rights therein, purchased with such proceeds; the moneys received from the sale or resale of any lands, or rights therein, purchased with such proceeds; the moneys received from the sale or resale of any lands, or rights therein; the bonuses, rents, royalties, and any other pecuniary benefit received by said Board from any such lands; sums received by way of indemnity or forfeiture for the failure of any bidder for the purchase of any such bonds to comply with his bid and accept and pay for such bonds or for the failure of any bidder for the purchase of any lands comprising a part of said Fund to comply with his bid and accept and pay for any such lands; and interest received from investments of any such moneys. The principal and interest on the bonds heretofore and hereafter issued by said Board shall be paid out of the moneys of said Fund in conformance with the Constitutional provisions authorizing such bonds; but the moneys of said Fund which are not immediately committed to the payment of principal and interest on such bonds, the purchase of lands as herein provided, or the payment of expenses as herein provided may be invested in bonds or obligations of the United States until such funds are needed for such purposes.

"All moneys comprising a part of said Fund and not expended for the purposes herein provided shall be a part of said Fund until there are sufficient moneys therein to retire fully all of the bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board, at which time all such moneys remain in said Fund, except such portion thereof as may be necessary to retire all such bonds which portion shall be set aside and retained in said Fund for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, shall be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund to be appropriated to such purposes as may be prescribed by law. All moneys becoming a part of said Fund thereafter shall likewise be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund.

"When a Division of said Fund (a Division consisting of the moneys attributable to the bonds issued and sold pursuant to a single Constitutional authorization and the lands purchased therewith) contains sufficient moneys to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division, the moneys thereof, except such portion as may be needed to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division which portion shall be set aside and remain a part of such Division for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, may be used for the purpose of paying the principal and interest thereon, together with the expenses herein authorized, of any other bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board. Such use shall be a matter for the discretion and direction of said Board; but there may be no such use of any moneys contrary to the rights of any holder of any of the bonds issued and sold by said Board or violative of any contract to which said Board is a party.

"The Veterans' Land Fund shall be used by said Board for the purpose of purchasing lands situated in the State of Texas owned by the United States or any governmental agency thereof, owned by the Texas Prison System or any other governmental agency of the State of Texas, or owned by any person, firm, or corporation, and such lands purchased shall be acquired at the lowest price obtainable, to be paid for in cash, and shall be a part of said Fund. Such lands heretofore or hereafter purchased and comprising a part of said Fund are hereby declared to be held for a governmental purpose, although the individual purchasers thereof shall be subject to taxation to the same extent and in the same manner as are purchasers of lands dedicated to the Permanent Free Public School Fund.

It is not every day a town the size of Wellington has the distinction of being host to the president of a national organization; but that is exactly what will happen next Saturday. At that time, Tony Dechant, president of the Farmers Union, will address the District I meeting which will be held here. Welcome to Wellington!

Mr. Dechant, whose home is in Denver, is a widely traveled man. Not only has he observed agriculture, its practices and problems, in every one of the states in the union; but he has observed agricultural practices in many lands for he is a world traveler as well as an intensive traveler in the United States. His talk should be most interesting.

The increase in the efficiency and productivity of the American farmer in the last two decades is astounding. In 1950 one U.S. farm worker produced enough food and fiber to supply 15.14 other people according to the United States Department of Agriculture. In 1966 one farm worker produced enough for himself and 37.02 other people. No longer ago than 1920 the production of one farm worker would supply food and fiber for only 8.27 other people. This almost incredible advancement in productivity will compare favorably with the foremost industries of the nation and has helped save millions from starvation. In other industries such efficiency has brought handsome rewards; but the stark fact remains that the American farmer is not receiving the returns his skill and his investments deserve.

Next Monday the new changes in the Texas highway laws will become effective. Some of the main ones are:

- Penalties increased for driving without a license.
- Penalties set for fake licenses.
- Suspends for 12 months license of person driving while intoxicated or similar offenses.
- Raises age limit for obtaining license to 16.
- Special tests for motorcycle license.
- Helmets required for motorcycle drivers.
- Stronger requirements for persons applying for original license.
- Inspection cost increased to $1.75.

Let us consider the first amendment of the present laws. The first offense penalty on conviction for driving without a license is $200. Many people who have a drivers license drive around town and frequently to other towns with their license in their billfold or other handbag nestling comfortably at home. The penalty for driving while a license is suspended ranges from $25 to $500. It also calls for imprisonment of not less than 72 hours nor more than six months. This is a desirable addition. Some people who might laugh at a $25 fine or more won't look so lightly on three days and three nights in jail, or maybe more.

The new laws are stiffer in every respect as they should be; for the mounting death toll and crippling accidents is appalling and the financial loss is a hard brake on our economy. The new traffic laws should make our highways safer and they deserve our immediate study, understanding and support.

The new ruling on checks put out by the Federal Reserve Bank System will go into effect after September 1. After that date you must use either a counter check or a personalized check bearing the magnetic numbers of your bank. Altered checks or the old familiar bank drafts will not go through the computer system of the Federal Reserve. Therefore the local merchants will not accept them. The personalized checks are the best especially if you are cashing a check where you are not known. Of course, you need more than that such as identification, credit cards, etc.; but the personalized checks help.

N. M. Higdon is back in his office looking cheerful and chipper and he says the plans for the Free Fair are moving along nicely. Higdon is an unselfish highly intelligent citizen who has contributed greatly to the welfare of the community. He deserves the thanks of all who are interested in the betterment of Wellington and Collingsworth County.

The government has repeated its warning against the dangers of smoking with greater emphasis and alarming details; but in spite of my apprehension I am tempted to start smoking again not from craving but from reading. Contemplate this item from Wes Izard's column in The Amarillo Daily News:

An insurance company, Northwestern National Life, claims to have found the oldest American. He is Sylvester Magee, of Hattiesburg, Miss., who was 126 years old last May 29. He has been smoking cigarettes for 108 years and his youngest child was born when he was 107.

Add to the list of those strong willed people who have quit smoking the name of Dr. Dale Watkins of San Antonio. Unlike many who gain weight after quitting tobacco, Dr. Watkins has reduced his weight by 12 pounds. Both my wife and I have visited him and his family recently say that he has a splendid practice in San Antonio.

Linda Gail Cook

Accident Fatal to Granddaughter of City Woman

Miss Linda Gail Cook, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cook, 6425 Northport, Dallas, and the only grandchild of Mrs. W. F. Vaughan of Wellington, was killed Thursday, August 10, when the car in which she was a passenger plunged into a 30-foot deep excavation where Dallas North Tollway now under construction cuts under the 5700 block of Royal Lane.

Kent Biffle, in an article which appeared in The Dallas Morning News, quoted Felix Einsohn, an accountant, as saying he saw no lights or barriers at the excavation and warned police of this an hour and a half before the fatal accident.

An investigation is under way.

A witness to the crash was a neighbor of the Cook family, Calvin A. Barker, who was driving just behind the vehicle in which Miss Cook was riding.

He told The Dallas Morning News that the dust that billowed as the car went off the excavation probably saved him from driving into it. He said the car in which the group of teen-agers were riding was traveling between 15 and 25 miles per hour.

Miss Cook had been a frequent Wellington visitor throughout her life. Her last visit was in the spring.

Born in Houston, she was

System to assure the spiraling need for financing the future holds.

Urban people do not understand, he said, that food and fiber in abundance has permitted cities to grow and flourish. They don't know that rural electrification has enabled fewer and fewer farmers and ranchers to produce more and more to meet the needs of all Americans.

Unless adequate financing is available to finance facilities to meet the spiraling demands for electricity in rural areas, Poage said the continued productivity of rural areas which makes possible expansion in the cities will be hampered.
