Development of County Park Begins Monday

Work began Monday, Feb. 16, to fulfill the dreams and plans of many people for a county park on the Salt Fork of Red River north of Wellington. Land for the project was acquired by the county more than a year ago.

A crew with earth moving equipment and a brush cutter, and another of men with pruning saws and knowhow started cleaning, clearing, and laying out the park.

"This small plot is ideal for a country park. It has natural beauty, an amazing variety of native vegetation, accessibility, and the delightful river bed with its beach-like sands and the shallow water," said Mrs. Clyde Drake, who was appointed chairman by the Commissioners Court.

The park committee appointed by the Court in 1968 included, besides Mrs. Drake, Mrs. Olan Farris of Dodson, Mrs. Carl Wischkaemper of Quail, and Mrs. Jess Deger of Samnorwood.

This committee submitted a general plan that the park be kept a natural place using only native plants, trees and flowers. Rustic picnic tables, a graveled parking area, sanitary facilities, and waste containers were recommended. Don Reeves, county agent, was asked to advise about drainage. Also it was stressed by the committee that the county maintain the park, keeping it mowed, etc.

The work starting Monday is but the first step, Mrs. Drake emphasized. In keeping with the plans, as much native growth was left in the lower section of the park as possible.

This includes cottonwood and hackberry trees and a stately Bartlett pear set out some 35 years ago. Post oak and shinnery oak clumps remain, too. Then there are wild plums, wild grapes and skunk bushes. Trees were trimmed and much undergrowth was cleaned out Monday to enhance the appearance of the park.

An abandoned three-room house of concrete construction was left and an effort will be made to utilize it, according to Mrs. Drake. There is a well on the 7-acre property, and it will be tested to determine if it can be used.

COUNTY PARK SITE

After grounds at the county park site were cleared, this Bartlett pear tree, left, is one of those to be preserved. An adult visitor stands beside the tree for size comparison. The small house at back will be restored.

By City Council

No Action Taken on Telephone Proposal

The Wellington City Council, meeting Monday evening, Feb. 16, took no action on a proposal by General Telephone Company of the Southwest to add new lines in Collingsworth County, but at an increase in rates for other users.

In the same session, however, the Council employed Taylor and Perdue, a firm of Amarillo tax attorneys, to collect the delinquent taxes owing the city.

Mayor John Coleman said the council was told there were 55 new prospects for telephones and Sherron T. Lee, representing the company, proposed eight 4-party lines, extending to within three miles of the Donely County line, at a cost of about $130,000.

Mayor Coleman said if the city accepted this proposal, it would mean an increase in business telephone rates from $12.00 to $13.50 per month plus tax. One- and two-party lines would be increased 50¢ per month, and four-party lines 25¢ per month.

Rural service would be zoned. Zone 1 rates, near town, would be increased from $5.50 to $7.00 per month, the mayor said; Zone 2 would pay $8.00 per month and Zone 3, $9.00.

Mayor Coleman asked if the Dodson and Wellington exchanges could be combined under this proposal and he said he was told it would be too ex-

Mr. Boynton's work has been shown in exhibits throughout the United States and Europe. In 1968 and 1969 he received a purchase award for his painting included in the annual Eight State Arts Exhibition held in the Oklahoma City Art Center, at the Fairgrounds.

In 1967 he held a fellowship at the Los Angeles Tamarind Lithography Workshop. He has had numerous one-man shows in San Francisco, Dallas, Chicago, Houston, and New York as well as being included in group exhibitions such as the 26th Biennial of American Painting (Corcoran, Washington, D.C.), "17 Americans," (Brussels World Fair), the Whitney Annual, and the New York Museum of Modern Art.

Mr. Boynton, his wife, and two daughters live in Houston. Mrs. Boynton will also be a guest at Wellington.

They will be guests at the Dord Fitz Art Gallery in Amarillo on Feb. 17, and at the Westerner Art Center, where Mr. Fitz teaches, 9 miles south of Shattuck, Okla., on Feb. 20.

Bill Sarpalius to Speak

FFA Honors Parents at Banquet Feb. 23

The Wellington Future Farmers of America Chapter will hold its Parent-Son Banquet on Monday, Feb. 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

The featured speaker this year will be Bill Sarpalius of Boys Ranch.

Sarpalius, who was the Texas FFA president last year, now attends Clarendon College. He has visited the Wellington chapter several times in the past, both while he was a freshman at CJC, and later during his term as State president. He took the year out from his studies, due to the time which a Texas FFA president must spend in traveling.

Also on the program will be the presentation of an Honorary Chapter Farmer Degree to an adult who has been outstanding in helping the Wellington Chapter during the past year.

Greenhand and Chapter Farmer degrees will be presented and other special awards will be made.

Entertainment will be furnished by a musical group from the chapter.

This year's Parent-Son Banquet replaces the Father-Son Banquets of the past, according to Chapter Advisor Don Lacy.

Fire Destroys Vacant House

There are no clues to the origin of a fire that gutted a vacant house in the 200 block of West Avenue Monday afternoon, Feb. 16, Fire Chief Jim Sikes said.

The blaze was burning through the roof when firemen arrived, he said.

Both electricity and gas were cut off to the place and therefore ruled out as causes of the fire, Mr. Sikes added.

A call earlier in the day proved to be a false alarm.

Jack Neeley Heads Easter Seal Drive

The 1970 Easter Seal Appeal will open in Collingsworth County on Monday, Feb. 23, according to Jack Neeley, who serves as Easter Seal Representative for the county.

Mr. Neeley said that Easter Seal Appeal letters would begin arriving at homes in the county about March 1.

As Easter Seal Representative, he is the local contact to request rehabilitation services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas. These services include physical and occupational therapy, speech and hearing program and special information services to help solve the many problems faced by families of handicapped children and adults.

Mr. Neeley said anyone knowing of a person eligible for this help can contact him.

Last year 20,378 handicapped people received help from the Texas Society, Neeley explained. But the costs of providing expert professional care are rising, and more money than ever will be needed, he said.

Funds help support 20 centers in Texas, where crippled children and adults are treated, regardless of their ability to pay. Walkers, wheel chairs and related services are provided to those who cannot provide for themselves.

County Hears Cost of Food Stamp Plan

Officials of five area counties have told representatives of the State Department of Public Welfare they cannot stand financially the cost of a food stamp program, although they agreed they want the program and want it badly.

County Judge Zook Thomas, who attended a meeting in Memphis Wednesday, Feb. 11, said administrative costs to the five counties would be $1,046 per month, with Collingsworth's part amounting to $282.42.

The other counties are Hall, Briscoe, Armstrong and Donley.

The group then told H. L. Halladay of the State Department of Public Welfare that if the amount could be halved, they could participate. In return, they also would provide office space, a cashier and receptionist and handle the sale of the food stamps.

The payments would cover the cost of a Welfare Service Technician who will determine the eligibility of food stamp users.

The group requested Mr. Halladay to present the proposal to proper authorities. An answer is expected this week.

Wayne Scott represented the United States Department of Agriculture at the meeting.

The conference was a result of the December 1969 ruling by a Dallas federal judge that alll Texas counties must subscribe either to the USDA food stamp program or its commodity distribution program.

The ruling affects 89 counties.

Mr. Halladay said his estimates of the cost for administering the program were based on the population in the counties and the number of people now on state welfare rolls.

Collingsworth, with an estimated participation of 375 persons, would be responsible for 27% of the cost, or $282.42 monthly. Armstrong county would be responsible for 7% or $73.22 monthly; Briscoe, 12% or $125.52 per month; Donley, 21% or $290.66 per month; and Hall county 33% or $345.18 per month.

March 6

Rubella Immunization Due County Children

A rubella immunization clinic for Collingsworth County children, one through 10 years of age, will be held Friday, March 6.

It is sponsored by the State Department of Health and endorsed by Dr. Carter Holcomb, county health officer.

Spearheading the program on the local level are Mrs. Bob Sessions, Community Action coordinator, Mrs. Cal Sugg, Wellington School Nurse, and Mrs. Clemmie Devenport, county school nurse.

Children 6 through 10 years of age will receive the vaccine at their schools, but children from 1 through 5 years will receive it at Bura Handley Community Center in Wellington. The hours will be announced later.

Rubella is known also as three-day measles or German measles.

The rubella vaccine is entirely different from the measles vaccine given at the earlier immunization clinics, or given by family physicians. That was for red measles, also known as big or hard measles. Most children in the county have now received innoculations against that disease.

There is no charge to any child or his family for the rubella vaccine. However, there is a cost for the program which must be borne by the sponsors or by the community, Mrs.

Melvin Ingram House Burns

Fire destroyed the 7-room home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ingram in the north part of Wellington Thursday, Feb. 12, destroying everything the family had except the clothes they were wearing.

Only four rooms were furnished, Mrs. Ingram said.

The fire was out of control by the time firemen could reach the scene, they reported.

Mr. Ingram was at work in Childress and Mrs. Ingram was there trying to get a job, she said. Their three-months-old daughter, Vivian Chris, was with relatives.

The family moved into the house only a few weeks ago, it was reported.

Red Cross Bloodmobile Comes Here Feb. 24

A concentrated drive will be made during the remainder of this week to secure donors for the Red Cross Bloodmobile on its visit here Tuesday, Feb. 24, Chairman Don Hood announced.

Response to requests for volunteer donors has been poor to date. Phone calls and personal contacts will be made to every prospective donor in an effort to get as many firm commitments as possible, he said.

The bloodmobile will be at Bura Handley Community Center from 12:00 noon until 5:15 p.m. The county's blood quota is 140 units.

The need for blood is as urgent as it has ever been, if not more urgent, said Mr. Hood. And he is the man in the best position to know, for he is the registered laboratory technician at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Blood donor requirements have been liberalized since the blood unit's last visit here.

There is now no upper age limit, Mr. Hood said. Men and women over 66 years can give blood with a doctor's permission, and there will be a doctor at the collection center at all times to check these prospective donors. An individual's health will be the determining factor.

Blood is also accepted which cannot be used for fresh transfusions, but which can be used for blood derivitives, such as plasma, packed red cells, platelets, etc., according to the chairman. Again the doctor will determine if the individual can become a donor.

There are a number of high school seniors who are eligible for the lower age limit is 18 years with parental consent. Eighteen-year-olds who are married do not need this consent.

Mrs. Bill Lindsey, who formerly worked at a commercial blood bank at Lubbock, has been placed in charge of recruiting in the Quail area and she will also work at the blood center.

In the two years (four previous visits) that the Red Cross has collected blood here, Collingsworth has given 330 units from a total quota of 500.

"The hospital has used over the same period of time 354 units, so we have used 7% more blood than we have donated," said Mr. Hood.

With the quota of 125 units for each visit, the county's record has been:

March 1967: 110 units, 88% of quota; June 1968, 45 units, 36%; February 1969: 101 units, 81%; and August 1969: 75 units or 59%.

Members of St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary have completed plans to assist at the center Tuesday, said Mrs. Wayne Cudd, president.

Home Demonstration Clubs will provide the luncheon for the Bloodmobile personnel, and refreshments at the center. The Junior Auxiliary members will work, and there will be a large number of individuals who are volunteering their services.

Training Meeting

11-County SCS Group Sees Terracing Here

Parallel terrace systems in the Wellington area were used as teaching projects for planning personnel of the Soil Conservation Service, Area I, in a meeting here Tuesday, Feb. 17. Eleven counties were represented.

The morning training session, held at Greenbelt Electric Cooperative, Inc., was under the direction of John Jackson, area engineer, of Pampa, Gary Reed, work unit conservationist at Wellington, and Monty Sowers, district conservationist, Clarendon.

Planning of parallel terraces and the different procedures used in their construction were discussed.

After lunch the group visited some of the systems for on-the-ground inspection. At the Tiffin Young farm a short distance south of town, they saw a system constructed on about as steep a grade as this type terrace can be used, Mr. Reed said.

Other systems visited were on the Fred Covey, Elbert Watts, and Glenn Estate farms.

"We looked at the actual terrace systems but we were also looking at different procedures used in building each system, for each was a little different," said Mr. Reed.

"Part were constructed entirely with scrapers, part with dozers, and others with a belt machine."

Approximately 25 men attended from Collingsworth, Wheeler, Hemphill, Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Gray, Roberts, Donley, Hansford, Sherman and Hutchinson Counties.

Refresher Course, Too

3-Day School to Help Non-Licensed Drivers

A drivers license school for men and women who do not at present have a drivers license will be held for three nights, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 23, 24 and 25.

The sessions will be in the Community Action Center, the corner of 7th Street and East Avenue, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The school is sponsored by the Texas Department of Public Safety and the Community Action Program.

Chester Fant, district safety officer for the DPS, will conduct the school and will cover all questions that will be asked on any drivers license examination, including rules and signs.

"It is not our purpose to find out who does not have a license. We simply want to assist you in getting one," said Mr. Fant.

There is no charge to attend the course.

The school will also serve as a refresher course for those who already have drivers licenses, reminded Mrs. Bob Sessions, Community Action coordinator.

"Within a short time, everyone who has to have his drivers license renewed will have to take a written test. Anyone interested for this reason is urged to attend," she said.

This is the third school held here to help those without drivers licenses prepare for them. Almost 60 men and women have taken the other courses, and approximately 75 percent of these now have drivers licenses, Mrs. Sessions said.

Heading up the study is W. D. "Red" Oliver. Oliver has a BS in resource management from the University of Minnesota and his masters degree in urban regional planning from Texas A&M.

Oliver's first step in the study is to develop a detailed project proposal in which he will isolate any particular problem to be studied, delineate objectives of study and then designate the study areas.

Red Cockaded Woodpecker to Be Studied

AUSTIN.—The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is embarking on a study of the red cockaded woodpecker which may help save the little seven-inch, black and white bird from extinction.

Disappearing habitat seems to be the problem because of the bird's stringent requirements.

They seem to nest and roost only in over-mature pine trees with red-heart disease. The tree must be alive and vigorous enough for gum to flow freely when the woodpecker pecks through the cambium.

Administration Told

Price: Come to Grips With Farm Problems

WACO.—In an address to a statewide meeting of the Texas Farm Bureau, Congressman Bob Price called on the Nixon Administration to come to grips with farm problems and the farm program.

Price declared, "The farm program must not be a casualty of inflation. America draws its strength from its land and its products. Our economy and forty percent of our labor force depends directly or indirectly on the well-being of the agricultural sector. As a society, we simply cannot afford to lose sight of this fundamental fact."

The Texas Republican observed that for the last eight months, the House Agriculture Committee and the Secretary of Agriculture have been meeting in an effort to hammer out a new farm program.

"In these meetings, I have maintained that farmers are entitled to increases in benefits, just as other federal programs are increased to meet rising needs," Price said.

"I have urged Secretary Hardin to take the farmers' case to the Bureau of the Budget and convince the watchdogs of the federal purse strings that rural America, with its farms, farm families, and rural communities, needs and is entitled to equal treatment with other sectors of society," he added.

Price observed that a proposed "Agricultural Act of 1970" has been developed as the result of many work sessions and discussions between officials of the U.S. Department of Agriculture and members of the House Committee on Agriculture. He said, "The proposal is now being carefully studied, debated, and refined by the House Agriculture Committee."

Collingsworth County FARM NEWS

County Agricultural Agent

Status of Hog Cholera

Questions are still being asked regarding the status of the hog cholera eradication program in Texas.

Texas entered Phase 3 of the program on Aug. 1, 1969. This is the active phase of the program and brought into play the cooperative State-Federal indemnities which are used to pay for hogs depopulated because of cholera outbreaks.

Since last August, approximately 200 herds have been depopulated in Texas. The state's share of indemnities has amounted to over $200,000.

The interstate shipment of hogs vaccinated with modified live virus vaccines has been prohibited since Jan. 1, 1970. Also Phase 3 prohibits the interstate shipment of modified live virus vaccines after the supply within the state is exhausted.

Indemnities are based on the market value of the hogs and will be paid to producers with confirmed cases of cholera. Payments will be made for the number of live hogs on the premises when the State or Federal veterinarian arrives. No payment will be made on hogs which have died prior to the arrival of the authorized veterinarian.

If cholera is suspected, it is therefore most important that the producer get in touch with the Texas Animal Health Commission, Austin, or a local veterinarian.

This program is to eradicate a disease which has cost the nation's swine industry $50 million annually.

Treat Plainting Seed

Chemical treatment of planting seed is good insurance against reduced crop yields from seed- and soil-borne disease organisms.

The practice is inexpensive and effective and the recommended chemicals are safe and easy to use.

The chemical forms a protective coating around the seed and protects it from microorganism growth during the period of germination. However seed treatment will not control damping-off after the seedling grows out of the treated zone. Damping-off organisms develop most rapidly when weather conditions are unfavorable and cause growers to associate damping-off of seedlings with cold, wet weather.

Most commercially purchased planting seed will be treated and will be noted on the container tag. Growers who save their own planting seed can purchase seed treatment chemicals at most agricultural supply houses.

If seed is treated on the farm, the important thing is to get a uniform covering of the protective fungicide over the seed coat. This can be done with a homemade device which will tumble the seed and mix the fungicide thoroughly with the seed being treated.

It is very important to use only the recommended dosage. Lower than recommended dosage may cause the treatment to be ineffective while excess rates may damage the seed or at least be wasteful. Diseases born inside the seed must be treated by different methods.

Seed which have been treated should be used only for planting purposes and should never be fed to livestock or poultry. All container directions should be closely followed.

The correct way to display the American flag on Memorial Day is: The flag flies at half-staff from sunrise until noon, after which it is raised to full staff until sunset.

MONEY HIGHLIGHTS

Do you know what the entire world hoard of gold amounts to? Today there are about 40,000 tons of monetary gold in existence.

Those interested in arithmetic may figure the dollar value of 40,000 tons of gold. Gold is still pegged at $35.00 per ounce.

Who determines the amount of currency in circulation? Actually it is the public.

When people want to use more currency, the amount in circulation goes up. This is particularly true around Christmas.

When the Treasury buys gold from a gold mining company, it comes in bricks. The bricks are small—about half the height of a building brick. Each brick weighs around 30 pounds. Such bricks bring $14,000 each to the mining company. Then they join the rest of the hoard at Fort Knox.

Amarillo Newspaper Woman Speaks at B&PW Guest Night Banquet

Mrs. Bonnie Merriman, assistant city editor of the Amarillo Globe-News, was the guest speaker at the Wellington Business and Professional Women's Club guest banquet Tuesday evening, February 10.

She is the immediate past president of the Texas Federation of B&PW Clubs and only recently Mrs. Merriman was appointed to the Governor's Commission on Status of Women.

Women now form 39 per cent of the labor force in the United States, and 9 out of every 10 girls now in high school will work, she told the Wellington group.

Mrs. Merriman asked if women are going to ignore their brain power, if they are going to be alert or inert. The attitude against women executives in business will have to change, she pointed out, and the yardstick must be who is best qualified for the job.

But whatever job she holds, a woman must be a woman, and she must never, never, be "one of the boys", Mrs. Merriman warned.

She praised Wellington for its interest in cultural affairs, a trend she has followed for many years.

Mrs. Ernest Harwell, president, was toastmistress and Mrs. Rufus Sweat introduced the speaker.

A special guest was Mrs. Mildred Starr, formerly of Wellington and a long-time friend of the speaker.

Wellington Teams Play in 3-Day Memhis B Tournament

Wellington High School boys and girls B teams participated in the Memphis B team tournament Thursday, through Saturday, Feb. 12 to 14.

The girls opened the tournament against Paducah, which had beaten Wellington twice in scheduled play. Although the Rockette B played hard and did a good job, the score was tipped in their opponents' favor, 37 to 27.

Bessie Sterling led the Wellington scoring with 18 points, Carole Cochran had 7. Anette Spence, with 12 points, was high for Paducah.

Wellington girls lost to McLean in their second game 31 to 24. Carole was high scorer with 13 points, Vickie Parr had 14 for McLean.

Wellington B team boys also opened against Paducah and lost by a narrow 61 to 59.

Rozell Outley scored 10 points for Wellington and David Moore and Sammy Coffee had 9 each.

In consolation play, Wellington then defeated McLean 72 to 44. They played a good game throughout, but didn't have a big lead until in the fourth quarter.

Lois Johnson led Wellington's scoring with 19; Sammy Coffee made 15. Banner was high for McLean with 12.

In another tight game, Wellington defeated Wheeler 47 to 45. David Moore had 16 points for Wellington, Bruce Oney and Rozell Outley made 10 each. Cole was high for Wheeler with 24.

Wellington met Quanah B team in the consolation finals Saturday afternoon and lost 86 to 58, in a game much better than the score indicated. All Wellington B team boys got to play in this game. Bruce Oney and Jay Thomas scored 11 points each and Barnes had 12 for Quanah.

In a non-tournament game with Seymour B team, played here Friday night, Wellington won 72 to 60. This came after two defeats handed the Rocket B earlier in the season by that team.

David Moore again led Wellington scoring with 14 points; Lois Johnson and Denny Carter had 12 each. Wiles scored 17 points for Seymour.

One of the key games, played shortly before the tournament, saw Wellington B defeat the Childress Bobcat B 49 to 48. Childress had the ball with two seconds to go and made the last toss, but the buzzer sounded before the ball could go through the hoop.

Big Jets, Same Fuel

Although the engines on the new superjets will be twice as powerful as those now generally in use, they will continue to burn the same kind of specially blended kerosene.

The big planes will, however, use a lot more of it. A survey predicts that the consumption of jet fuel will jump from 7.9 billion gallons a year at present to 13.5 billion gallons by 1975.

Lesson for Parents

Some ten years ago a British author and phychologist, Dr. R. F. Hertz, conducted a research project of wide interest to parents. He asked 100,000 children between the ages of 8 and 14, from 24 countries to make a list of rules of behavior for parents.

The list is quite an eye-opener, and is just as applicable now as it was when first released. Here are the ten points voted by the majority of the children.

—Do not quarrel in front of your children.
—Never lie to a child.
—Always answer children's questions.
—Treat all your children with equal affection.
—There must be a mutual tolerance between parents.
—There must be a comradship between parents and children.
—Treat your children's friends as welcome visitors.
—Don't blame or punish your child in the presence of his friends.
—Concentrate on your child's good points and don't overemphasize his failings.
—Be constant in your affection and your moods.

Whipping Boy

State and local government officials to avoid the wrath of the irate taxpayer frequently use the federal government as a whipping boy.

They say that Uncle Sam is the one taking most of the tax money and he is he one who should be forced to reduce his spending.

Apparently as a diversionary tactic this is effective. The anger transferred to Washington, gives the lower levels of government comparative peace in which to operate.

For example, bureau of census statistics show that state and local tax collections in the year ending last June increased $9 billion or 13 per cent over a year earlier.

And the money goes mostly for payrolls.

The office of business economics, another federal agency, points out that out of 454,000 new jobs added by government at all levels in the United States from August 1968 to August 1969, state and local governments added 444,000. —The Thorp (Wisc.) Courier

Science

We may all soon be driving on glass highways and building homes on tin lots.

Man, whose scientific discoveries are bringing pollution of water and air to the danger point for humans, is devising a means of keeping both pure in the future.

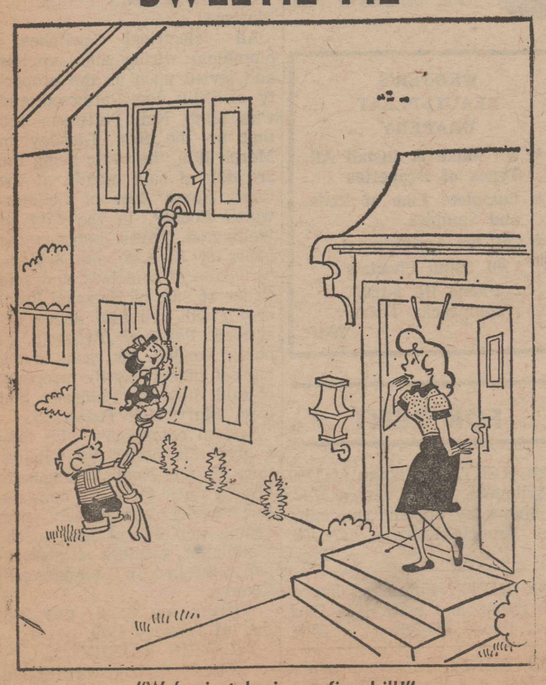

A new machine is grinding glass discards into fine segments that are successfully used as part of a mixture for building highways. It is even said to outlast the usual rock ingredients. A new machine is also shredding tins and iron refuse to such small particles that they are being used for filling lots on which buildings are going up. There is said to be no smoke, no odor, no food left for rats and other vermin such as are drawn to our city dumps.

A civilization that can make it possible for men to go to the moon, at last seems to be directing its abilities and efforts toward making it possible for man to continue to live healthily on earth, with pure water and pure air. —Monroe County Appeal, Paris, Mo.

STATE Capital NEWS By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN.—A sharp cut in welfare and medical assistance payments, to be effective April 1, was announced by the State Board of Public Welfare.

Board said the unprecedented increase in assistance rolls, the decrease in federal medical aid funds and the constitutional spending ceiling required an average $11 a month cut in the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program and a 20% slash in medicaid.

Board member Louis R. Sarazan of Fort Worth said there is no alternative.

Sarazan and board member W. Kendall Baker of Houston warned that further cuts may be in the offing before the end of the fiscal period next year.

Board ordered the lowering of AFDC payments from 75% to 66% of budget needs. Average AFDC family now draws $120.37 a month. Reduction would reduce this to $109.54.

Earliest and loudest protest came from Texas nursing home operators who claimed medicaid outlay shrinkage would put 95% of them out of business.

Texas Nursing Home Association termed the situation of "crisis" proportions and urged Gov. Preston Smith to take immediate action to summon lawmakers into special session for emergency appropriations.

Texas Medical Assocation charged the federal government has "promised more than it can deliver" in the health care area and is, in effect, asking providers of service to take a loss.

Land Program Folds

Texas' 20-year-old veterans land program has folded. Through it more than 41,000 Texas veterans had purchsed land under low-interest, long-term-pay provisions. It was a victim of high interest rates.

Veterans land board said that since the prime interest rate has been raised to 8½%, veterans' bonds, with a constitutional 4½% ceiling, simply could not continue to attract investor capital.

More than 1,000 applications on file will be processed, but no more can be accepted until the interest-rate-bind eases.

Courts Speak

An insuranct company can be required to foot the damage bill for accidents that occur before a policy is actually written—if the contract already had been made without either applicant of company knowing of a loss, or impending loss — the Supreme Court has held.

Supreme Court told a Dallas trial court that it should not have granted summary judgment against a couple suing General Motors Corporation on a claim that a faulty ball joint unit on a pickup truck caused an accident in which a woman was injured. Trial court held there was no defect.

In a divided verdict, the high court held that Austin contractors cannot collect another $17,000 which all parties agreed is due them over and above the $864,888 contract for library and science building additions at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos.

Third Court of Civil Appeals held fast on its Jan. 21 ruling invalidating the Alcoholic Beverage Commission's proposed tough rules for private drinking clubs, including guest card restrictions.

Antiquities Rules

State Antiquities Committee, charged with regulating those who dig for historic treasures in the state, has set its rules and issued its first permit.

Rules require that any person or group seeking to excavate or salvage an archeological or historical site obtain a permit from the committee. Supervision by a trained archeologist, recording and publication of results and a scientific manner of working are the major points stressed in the rule.

Committee deleted from its rules a proposal that beachcombers and arrowhead hunters would have to get state permits. They will, however, be required to make reports on their discoveries. Explorers would be required to stop work immediately once a permit is cancelled.

First permit went to the Lower Plains Archeological Society for a salvage project at Big Spring. West Texas State University has agreed to sponsor the project.

College Money

Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System has voted to cut back on requests for increased higher education funds.

Board adopted a 4% faculty salary increase for the 1972-73 biennieum. But this was below the 7.9% increase recommended by the Board's staff and the 8.1% increase requested by the institutions.

Staff asked for $206.3 million more for state senior colleges over the biennium, apart from salary increases. Board approved $166.8 million in additional funds.

State Kindergarten

Texas Education Agency has begun working out the details of setting up state-supported kindergarten programs in all Texas public schools. Last Legislature authorized implementation of the program in a stair-step approach over the next seven years, with underprivileged children having first chance.

TEA said the major problem is finding 1,500 kindergarten teachers for the 1970-71 school year and 7,000 teachers by 1977-78. They estimate it will cost the state $10 million the first year to implement the program.

Job Project Launched

New public service careers project seeks to open job opportunities in government to disadvantaged Texans and upgrade skills of state employees.

Gov. Smith asked 12 key state agencies to cooperate, emphasizing a mutual policy of non-discrimination regardless of racial backgrounds or sex.

U.S. Department of Labor training funds are sought for Texas.

Smith expressed concern that over one fourth of the state's employees are separated from their jobs each year, while the positions remain vacant for months and half a million Texans seek work opportunities.

Demos to Meet

State Democratic Executive Committee will meet in San Antonio March 9 to certify names of statewide candidates for the May 2 primary ballot.

Commitee will also:

—Decide the hour and place of the Sept. 15 Democratic state convention.

—Establish a ratio for the number of delegates from each county or senatorial district convention to the state convention.

—Select site and hour for a May 12 EDEC meeting to canvass the first primary results and consider any other business.

Short Snorts

• Texas Restaurant Association has dropped the name "waitress" from its vocabulary and designated 1970 as the year of the "sales hostess".

• Texas Education Agency received a $52,000 federal highway safety grant for evaluation study of driver education programs.

• Former House Speaker James A. Turman of Gober took over as statewide campaign manager for U.S. Sen Ralph Yarborough.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Our Superannuated Court has proclaimed that a man is not required by law to support any children he is stepfathering, so such kids are eligible for Aid to Dependent Children.

Multi-mammas, therefore, can switch husbands, spend all of the new spouse's paycheck on themselves, and let the taxpayer class take over their children's support expense.

But my antiquated neighbor says if the law don't require anybody but its blood father to support a child, how come the law makes him pay taxes to help keep up all those children in New York and other places, when he hasn't been out of the county in 25 years?

OUTSTANDING FARMER NOMINEE
R. L. Mabery is seen with one part of the irrigation system that has helped him boost his cotton production above two bales per acre.

Salt Fork SCD Named

Mabery Nominated in Soil Awards Program

R. L. Mabery, one of the few men in this area to push cotton production above two bales per acre, has been nominated by Salt Fork Soil Conservation District as Outstanding Farmer in the annual Save the Soil and Save Texas awards program.

Salt Fork SCD was nominated for the Outstanding District award.

Mr. Mabery owns and operates a 160-acre farm five miles south and one mile east of Wellington, and altogether in this and Childress County, he operates 550 acres, approximately 200 acres of which is under irrigation.

Shortly after graduating from Quail High School in 1937, Mr. Mabery and his father rented a section from the late E. N. Lewis, and he bought his first tractor that year. This association was to continue 30 years. He has been farming since then, except for a hitch in the U.S. Air Force from June 1942 to December 1945.

R. L. Mabery rented all the land he farmed until 1956 when he bought a farm in Childress County, which he still has. The next year, he bought a quarter-section in Collingsworth County and became a member of the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District.

"He began to apply Conservation measures soon after that," said Gary Reed, work unit conservationist of Soil Conservation Service.

About 21,649 feet of terraces have been constructed and are being maintained.

He has applied a conservation cropping system on his land, carrying out contour farming and proper management of his crop residues and pastureland.

The grassland he has established is used as diverted acres in the summer and is leased out, along with his wheat, for winter grazing.

"The conservation practices applied by Mr. Mabery have paid off in several ways," said Mr. Reed. "Not only does this farm enhance the natural beauty of the countryside, as all conservation farming does, but the value of the farm has been increased. Crop rotation and fertilization have helped maintain a high level of production on all crops."

As nearly as can be determined, he has the second highest proven yield of cotton on his land in Childress County and maintains one of the higher yields in Collingsworth County.

He was married to Louise Cox in December 1952. She was county office clerk of the Collingsworth County office of USDA, Farmers Home Administration from February 1953 until September 1969. In July 1969, they adopted a baby daughter, Robbie Lou.

"Their farm is a showcase of soil and water conservation," said Mr. Reed. "Others have been motivated to improve their farms by visiting the Mabery place."

Salt Fork SCD was nominated for its overall excellent program of promoting and carrying out soil conservation.

But one thing especially that motivated the nomination was the district's work with parallel terraces. These are better adapted to some types of land than the familiar contour terraces, and landowners who have them agree they are easier to cultivate.

During the last year, more parallel terraces were constructed in Salt Fork SCD than in all other counties in the area put together, according to Mr. Reed.

AG SOCIETY

The first agricultural society that appealed to the practical farmer was founded by Elkanah Watson of Pittsfield, Mass., an incorporator of the Berkshire Agricultural Society in 1811.

The announcement was made by Lorrin Kennamer, dean of the School of Arts and Sciences.

Parents of the two students are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gosnell.

Both Stanley and his sister were graduated from Quail High School. He completed his work for a degree at the end of the first semester and upon receiving his commission as second lieutenant in the Army, reported to Ft. Gordon, Ga.

Winner of the senior bee at Amarillo will compete in the national spelling bee at Washington, D.C. The winner of the junior bee will go no farther, but will receive the title of Golden Spread Spelling Bee Champion.

School directors also were announced and include A. A. McQueary of Wellington; Mrs. Joe Lennon, Dodson; Mrs. Dollie Wilson, Quail; and Mrs. Selba Rainey, Samnorwood.

March 12 has been set as the tentative date for school eliminations.

Judges and the pronouncer for the county bee will be selected later, he said.

Don Reeves Discusses Successful Rose Growing for Garden Club

County Agent Don Reeves discussed "Success in Growing Roses" for members of the Wellington Garden Club Wednesday, February 11.

More than half the calls to his office, seeking information on flowers and gardens, are questions about roses, he told the women.

Mr. Reeves stressed the importance of planning the location of rose plantings or a rose garden.

Roses should be where they will have at least six hours of sunshine, with good air circulation and good drainage, as roses do not like "wet feet," he explained.

A complete commercial fertilizer was recommended and points on application and watering were given, along with a discussion of insects and the use of insecticides.

Care of roses during the dormant season closed his talk.

During the business session, with Mrs. Henry Vaughan presiding, plans were made for setting out shrubs at Ellison Park and the cemeteries.

The meeting was held in the directors room of Greenbelt Electric Cooperative, Inc., with Mrs. O. B. Raburn and Mrs. Creed Hill as hostesses.

Those attending were Mrs. G. L. Jones, Mrs. Ray Clubb, Mrs. Henry Vaughan, Mrs. Joe Thompson, Mrs. Nell Cook, Mrs. E. W. These crashes resulted in one person injured and an estimated property damage of $1,425.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock DPS Region for January 1970 shows a total of 460 accidents resulting in 15 persons killed, 188 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $648,408 as compared to January 1969 of 447 accidents resulting in 26 persons killed, 260 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $424,881.

The January accident report for other area counties was:

Cub Scout Plans Begun for District

Dave Agnew, District executive, was in charge.

All Cub Packs will hold an annual Blue and Gold Banquet in late February and Pack 31 has set their date for Thursday, Feb. 26.

Plans were begun for the district Scout Exhibition, to be in Shamrock Saturday, April 4, with both Boy Scouts and Cubs participating.

Each unit will have a booth in which to give demonstrations of some type.

Representing Pack 31 at the District meeting were Cubmaster Bill Anders, Mrs. Bill Hall, Mrs. Gary Reed and Mrs. Cal Hurst.

Irish Celebration to Feature Popular Hollywood Performer

Doug McClure, one of Universal Studio's most active young performers, has been booked as the feature attraction of the 1970 St. Patrick's Day Celebration to be held in Shamrock March 16-17.

In spite of the many roles he has played in the movies, McClure is probably known best as Trampas, a star in the popular television series, "The Virginian."

Appearing with McClure in Shamrock will be Hi Busse with "The Frontiersmen Show and Joanie," billed as America's No. 1 Western Vocal Group.

The five Hollywood stars will present the program at the Pre-St. Patrick's Day Banquet on Monday evening, March 16, and perform in a show following the coronation of Miss Irish Rose Tuesday afternoon, March 17.

Both events will be held in the Armory.

Announcing of the booking of the television, screen and radio personalities were Seibert Worley, publicity chairman of the St. Patrick's Day Association, and Carl Williams, program chairman.

In addition to being the star of "The Virginian," McClure has just finished two major motion pictures for Universal Studios. He plays a pirate in "The King's Pirate" with Jill St. John, and a crafty Navy Chief in the comedy, "Nobody's Perfect," with Nancy Kwan.

The pictures were shot between seasons of "The Virginian."

"It was great to get off horseback," declares Doug with a disarming grin. "I get a little seasick up there."

You can bet that McClure's kidding. He broke broncs as a teenager on a Nevada ranch and rodeoed long before his first series, "Overland Trail," with the late William Bendix.

CAP Staff At Training Meet

Two staff members of the Community Action Program were in Amarillo to attend a training session for CAP personnell.

Voit Training Corp., Albuquerque, N.M., provided the training personnel, Larry Berrera and Nick Nieto.

Representatives of CAP units in a 26-county area attended, Mrs. Sessions said.

—By Deskins Wells

Forced desegregation was fine for the Northern Senators and Congressmen as long as it applied only to the South whose schools were segregated by law. Now that it has spread to the North and West where there is de facto segregation as a result of zoning, etc., it is an entirely different story. They are saying that an all at once nationwide integration would create such turmoil that the campaign would collapse.

★ ★ ★

No less a liberal than Sen. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticutt questions the wisdom of forced integration and said that current policy is hopeless and is about to destroy our society. Here in Wellington desegregation was no great problem either financially or otherwise, just as it was no problem in many of our neighboring towns of similar size. In Los Angeles, however, it is estimated it will cost $40,000,000 annually to bus the school children if desegregation becomes complete and it is felt the social problem would be as staggering as the financial one.

★ ★ ★

The injustice of making the South an example is shown by the contrast between Illinois and Florida. Over 72 per cent of the Negro students in Illinois attend schools where the students are 95 to 100 per cent Negro. It should be easier for Illinois to desegregate than Florida for there are 22.2 per cent Negroes in all Florida schools and only 13.6 per cent in the schools of Illinois. In Philadelphia 60 per cent of the Negro students attend schools that are 95 to 100 per cent Negro.

One aspect of the confusion is that many of the Negroes both in the North and the South do not want to change schools. Sooner or later "freedom of choice" which was struck down by the Supreme Court must apply to all the schools of the nation.

Cotton farmers who have read something of the proposed Nixon farm bill are dumbfounded. You might say they can't believe their eyes. If the bill passes, it will become effective with the 1971 crop. Here are a few of the provisions: The loan rate would be set by the Secretary of Agriculture between 0 and 90 per cent of the world price which is now about 24¢ a pound. Yields on which payments were based would be the yield established for the farm in 1970 with some provisions for adjustment. Proven yields would be eliminated and parity would be forgotten.

We will see if we can get some more information about the proposed bill. Right now copies of the bill are said to be scarce even in Washington.

Cecil Waggoner in The Claude News:

It is being treated like a stepchild today, but agriculture is still the nation's biggest industry. The rate of increase in agricultural productivity over the past 20 years has roughly doubled that of non-farm industry. Agriculture is a $55 billion customer in the American economy, and exports of farm products alone provide about 1 million non-farm jobs. Our efficient agriculture is the biggest reason American consumers get an abundance of high quality food for only 16.5% of his disposable, or after taxes, income. That's the world's best food bargain.

Anytime farm income is neglected and the farmer forced to produce for less than a profit a full scale depression is on the way. Check your history. No nation with a healthy farm economy ever went to the wall. It was after they shut down the farm and everyone moved to the city.

We are fast approaching that attitude today.

The district champions in basketball no longer have an undefeated record. After being down by 15 points at one stage of the game, the Skyrockets surged ahead and defeated the Quanah Indians by a score of 72 to 71 on the home court. It was the final conference game for both teams. The Indians will meet Phillips in a bi-district game. Phillips was clobbered by Class A Clarendon in a practice game last week.

In my day the end of the basketball season sometimes meant the start of baseball; but more often it brought out the tops and marbles and the favorite mumble-peg knife.

Rockets Defeat Quanah 72-71 to End Season

Wellington Skyrockets edged District 2-AA Champion Quanah Indians 72 to 71 here Tuesday night, Feb. 17, in the closing game of the season.

"Our kids played real good ball," praised Coach James Stavenhagen. "They thought they would be able to walk over us, and they led as much as 15 points at one time, but the Rockets kept on playing."

Wellington couldn't get the lead until only 50 seconds remained in the game, and in that action-packed period they went ahead three points. Rather than foul the Indians, Wellington gave a shot at the basket, which they made. The Rockets took the rebound and held possession of the ball.

Lester Robinson led Wellington's scoring with 39 points and Larry Robinson had 16. James Page led Quanah's scoring with 19 points.

B Team Game

The Wellington B team gave Quanah a run for their money but lost in a squeaker 71 to 68.

The game was close all the way, and at the end of the third period, Wellington was behind only two points, 58 to 56.

David Moore and Ray Shrubbs let the scoring with 13 points each; Sammy Coffee and Denny Carter had 11 each.

High pointer for Quanah was Hale with 23.

CB Radio Club Elects Officers Thursday Night

Mayor John Coleman will be the guest speaker at the Rolling Plains Citizens Band Radio Club Thursday evening, Feb. 19.

The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Farm Bureau hospitality room.

Mr. Coleman will discuss his visits to the Mediterranean area and show slides which he made on that trip, according to Hurshel L. Pruitt, president.

Officers for the coming year will be elected during the business meeting, Mr. Pruitt said.

In addition to him, officers during the past year were Vernon Rudy, vice president; Mrs. Shelton Nunnelley, secretary-treasurer; and Jack Kopp, reporter.

There will be a drawing for door prizes, and other business of the new year will be taken care of.

All members are urged to attend and others who are interested in citizens band radio activities are invited.

The station will be open from 6:30 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. each week day and on Sunday afternoons, Mr. Davis said.

Howard Perdue represented the Amarillo law firm. Collection of delinquent taxes is due to start March 1, the mayor said. Approximately $34,000 is owed the city from this source, he estimated.

Two proposed insurance plans that would give the city liability protection under the Texas Tort Claims Act, were presented by Dee Nix, Amarillo insurance representative. One would cost $2,390 per year and the other about $1,800. Neither included the airport, which would require separate coverage. The council took this under advisement.

Accompanying Mr. Nix were Wellington insurance men Jack Sanford, Cal Hurst and Bobo Castleberry.

Rockettes Bow to Spearman in Bi-District

The Wellington Rockettes bowed to Spearman girls 53 to 30 in play for the bi-district championship at Miami Monday night, Feb. 16. But they played with pride and they never lost their poise before a much larger team that was defending champion.

This size forced the Wellington girls to shoot from the outside and prevented their picking their shots as they wanted to.

In this game that was better than the score indicated, Cathy Singley led Wellington's scoring with 17 points and Pam Guthrie had 12. Sheila Patterson scored 18 for Spearman and Sandy Shufeldt 12.

This is the third bi-district meeting between the two teams and the third loss for Wellington.

"I'm prouder of this club than people will know," said Coach Stavenhagen. "They've been a hard luck club and they've been fighters.

"We should have had 10 girls back on the team and lost six of these by quitting, getting married or moving away, plus the fact we lost a B team prospect.

"Those who did stay really worked. I would say probably this is the group of kids, when they did decide they could win, put more into it with less ability than any group I have had before," the coach continued.

"Some of these girls are young and they will give a good account of themselves before they finish their career."

Joyce Norman Buys Shop

Mrs. Joyce Norman announced that she had bought the women's shop of Town and Country from Temple Slay, and she is now in charge.

Mrs. Norman formerly worked with her father, Arkansas McPherson, before he retired as manager of Town and Country, and she is familiar with the operation of the business she has purchased.

She has extended an invitation to her friends to visit her in her new business venture.

Food Stamp

Under the stamp program, the needly pay a small fee for stamps which can be redeemed for food in local grocery stores.

Cost of the stamps is determined by the degree of need of the individuals and can be as little as $3 for $106 worth of stamps for a four-person household, or $3 for $212 worth of stamps monthly for a 10-person household if the monthly net income is less than $20 per month.

In most cases, Mr. Hallady said, the cost would be about one-third of the retail cost of the food received.

He said about 1,441 people in the five counties would be eligible to participate in the program. Of these, 613 are already receiving state aid. Welfare payments would not be decreased for those participating in the program.

Under the stamp program, the county pays about one-half of the costs of administration for the program and the USDA picks up the tab for the remainder of the administrative expenses and the actual cost of the food purchased with the stamps, which must be food produced in the United States.

Rubella

Sessions said.

Children 5 through 10 years are vaccinated free of charge. For children 1 through 4 years, however, the State Department of Health must be reimbursed at the rate of $2.25 per child up to 200 children, and $1.40 per child for those over 200, according to Mrs. Sessions.

A survey shows that approximately 225 children in Collingsworth County in the 1 through 4 year age group.

Several clubs and church circles have donated money which now totals $46.25, Mrs. Sessions said. Other groups are asked to help, too.

Any individual wishing to donate money or give time working in the clinic is asked to call Mrs. Sessions at the Community Action Center, 447-2840.

Rubella is considered a mild disease for young chidlren. Many, however, escape until they are grown, when it becomes a serious disease.

Its greatest danger, all doctors say, is to women during the first trimester of pregnancy. Many birth defects, ranging from deafness to mental retardation, are caused by the mother's having rubella during that period.
