Enrollment at Local Schools Is 963 Students

Enrollment in the Perryton schools for the 1951-52 term just about equalled pre-registration predictions, with a total of 963 students enrolled on opening day.

School officials had predicted a total enrollment of approximately 1,600. The biggest drop was in the elementary grades, where there were 540 enrolled compared with an expected enrollment of 570.

There are 211 in junior high and 213 in high school, just about as predicted.

Two new teachers have been added to the faculty. Mrs. Dorothy Dunkle will teach in the fourth grade and Mrs. Johnny Ferguson in the second grade, superintendent Gilbert Mize has announced.

Reserved seat tickets for home Ranger football games will go on sale at the Burk Drug today, Thursday, on a first come, first served basis. Cost of the reserved seat ticket, good for the five home games, is $2.

The reserved seats are to be located betwen the 40 yard lines in the new stands. The purchaser of a reserved seat season ticket must still pay the regular admission price for each game.

The ticket sale is sponsored by the Ranger Club, and the proceeds from the sale of these tickets goes into the stadium fund, to be applied to the bond payments due on the stands.

Band Instrument Display Sept. 13

There will be a display of band instruments in the school band room on Thursday, Sept. 13, from 4 to 10 p. m. according to J. D. Davis, band director. This display is held annually for the convenience of parents and students who may desire a new or better instrument for the coming school year.

There will be a reliable dealer present who can arrange trades, sales, rentals or any terms desired, but no one will be under any obligation.

Parents are reminded by Davis that beginning band classes are offered only in the fifth grade. There is no charge for instruction and there are a few instruments available for rent. All students in this band should have their instruments by September 17.

Rangers Open 1951 Football Season Friday Night Against White Deer

Four Regulars Injured for Opening Game

With a brand new coaching staff and already hit by squad injuries, the Perryton Rangers open the 1951 football season Friday night at White Deer where they take on one of the co-favorites in district 1-A.

Game time is 8 p. m.

On the injured list as of Wednesday were ends Dick Haar and Bill Johnson, fullback Don Dietrich and tackle Clifford Kauffman. All are regulars.

Of these, however, only Dietrich and Johnson will miss the opener. The others are expected to start the game and play most of it. Dietrich suffered a broken arm Monday night in the scrimmage against Stinnett and Johnson has a gash in his left ankle torn when he took the adhesive tape off the ankle Monday night.

Kauffman has a sprained ankle and Haar has an injured knee, but coach James Peterson believes they'll be ready by Friday.

Peterson will start his first game as Ranger head coach, as will assistant and line coach Duane Byars. Peterson was at Happy last year and Byars was at Groom. Both have been working hard with the squad since the opening day of practice on August 27.

Starters in the White Deer game will be Verle Downey and Dick Haar at ends; Clifford Kauffman and Don Cooper at tackles; Doc Carter and either Ronnie Witt or Bobby Mitchell at guards; Laurel Lovett at center; J. D. Langwell, Edward Cummings, Gene Devers and B. R. Pletcher in the backfield.

Stress Sowing Of Good Milling Wheat Varieties

The importance of sowing good milling varieties of wheat is being stressed by the Ochiltree County Wheat Improvement Association, whose members feel that the county may lose some of its reputation for producing top quality milling wheat this year.

There has been considerable literature sent into this area from Kansas, in particular, trying to sell poor milling varieties for seed wheat this year, and the literature stresses the fine yield.

County agent Hood Wills says there is no real proof that the poor milling wheat outyielded the good varieties and that there is a definite difference in the market between good milling

Another Farm-to-Market Road Planned for Ochiltree County

Another farm-to-market paved road has been allocated to Ochiltree county and the commissioners court, in a special meeting Wednesday, decided to put the road east of town, at the end of the Uncle Sam highway, if right of way can be secured.

Commissioner Clyde Devers, in whose precinct the new pavement will be laid, said that he was contacting land owners along the road to secure the additional right of way required.

The state requires a 100-ft. right of way and the present dirt road has an 80-ft. right of way, Devers said. The county cannot pay for any right-of-way but is asking land owners to give it so that the paved road can be constructed.

A total of $57,000 has been allocated for this construction, which is expected to be about six miles of pavement. No date for starting work on it can be given, of course, until the right of way is secured.

Woodward Man Is Charged With Felony Theft

Dale Scott, 32, of Woodward has been charged with felony theft after state highway patrolman Jack Shields recovered $118.30 in his car which was missing from the Hergert's Flower and Gift Shop last Wednesday.

Scott and three other men in the Woodward booster caravan went into Hergert's during the noon hour Wednesday and ordered four corsages. Joy Hergert went to the back to fix up the flowers, and after the men had gone, discovered that his bank deposit, which had been on the desk, was missing.

He notified sheriff Ray Phagan, who called Spearman, where the caravan was halted and an

Experts Can't Agree On How To Push For Synthetic Oil

By VERN HAUGLAND

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's top experts on synthetic liquid fuels are asking "where do we go from here?" So far they haven't been able to come up with an answer agreeable to all.

The whole problem was washed over at a conference here of 25 top technicians of the Bureau of Mines. The men came from the bureau's synthetic fuels establishments at Bruceton, Pa., Morgantown, W. Va., Louisiana, Mo., Rifle Colo., Laramie, Wyo., and from headquarters here.

They agreed unanimously about the need of getting on with the program, of going as soon as possible from the demonstration-plant phase of today into the first commercial-scale type of production.

One group, headed by Dr. Wilburn C. Schroeder, chief of the bureau's synthetic liquid fuels branch, wants to push on immediately and to adopt the "coal hydrogenation" process for the initial venture.

Secretary of the Interior Chapman favors this approach and is seeking a midwestern site for a plant.

Other experts, among them Dr. James Boyd, director of the Bureau of Mines, contend that further studies are required.

Since the bureau inaugurated its synthetic fuels research program in 1945 it has spent $60,000,000 on the work. An additional $27,000,000 has been authorized to continue research for three more years.

"We don't want to go into commercial-scale production until we are sure we can build a plant that works," one official said.

"We don't want to make a serious mistake that might damn the whole project."

This group would prefer to wait for:

1. A report from the National Petroleum Council, due about Oct. 1, on its $275,000 study of the comparative costs of making oil from coal — hydrogenation and gasification.

2. A report, due from the Army Corps of Engineers in about two months, on the synthetic fuel possibilities of U. S. coal fields. This report will detail the availability of coal, water, manpower and other factors.

This group at one time recommended that an independent study be made by a technical committee from the non-policital National Academy of Science. This proposal reportedly has been dropped in view of Chapman's support of the Immediate-action school of thought.

Chapman emphasized his stand recently by removing Boyd as head of the Defense Minerals Administration (DMA) and appointing Schroeder. Boyd had held the job, on leave from the mines bureau, since last December.

Even more significantly, Chapman promoted Schroeder to assistant bureau director, for programs. This post places Schroeder in a much stronger position to advance his views on synthetic fuels.

There have been denials all around that Boyd may be ousted as bureau director. However, the differences between him and Chapman apparently are even stronger than those between Chapman and Newton Drury, which led earlier this year to Drury's removal as director of the National Park Service.

Schroeder has emphasized that the site of the proposed $400,000,000 coal hydrogenation plant has not yet ben selected and that coals from several states are being tested.

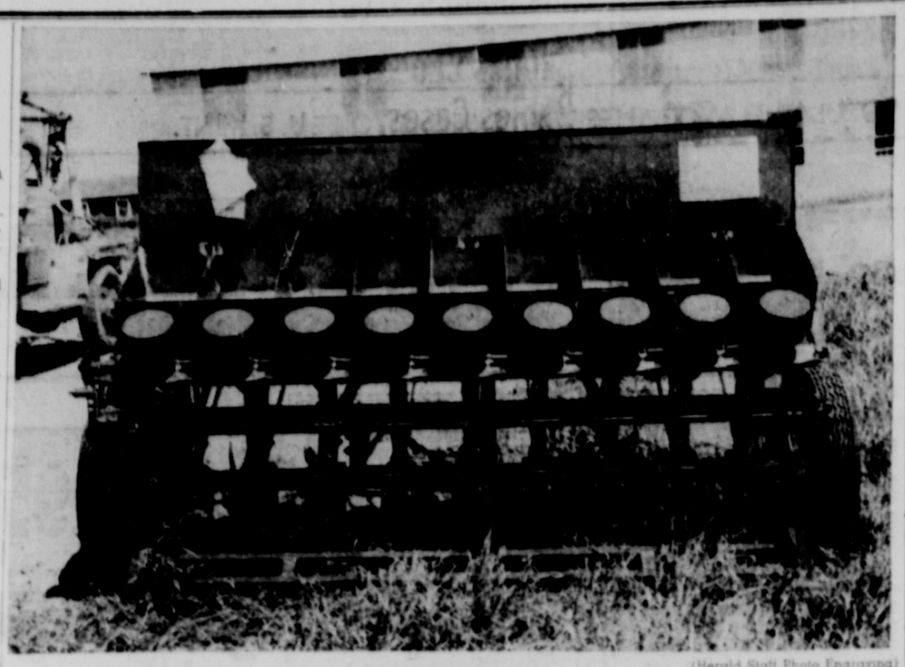

He says a 15,000-barrel-a-day plant would need a 300 to 500 acre site and at least a square mile of coal.

The bureau has operated a 300-barrel-a-day coal hydrogenation project on a demonstration scale at Louisiana, Mo. It also plans to operate a 75-barrel-a-day gasification plant there soon. Converting coal to gas and then re-forming it to a liquid is cheaper than the other process, which involves introducing hydrogen under pressure into a paste made of finely-ground coal and tar.

However, the hydrogen process produces a high proportion of chemicals which would more than offset the additional cost if current markets for the chemicals remained strong.

The primary products of both processes are oil and its refined products, including gasoline.

READY TO SOW—This new grass drill, purchased this week by the Ochiltree Soil Conservation District, is ready to be used by local farmers and ranchers on a rental basis. The district bought two of these drills, a land plane and terracer recently. This drill, while a bit too large for lawn use, is just the ticket for re-seeding pastures, seeding permanent irrigated pasture, or any type of seeding. It takes both coarse and fine seeds, with the fine seeds being placed in the smaller tanks.

HEALTH FOR ALL

More About Calories

Calories are not a part of food like minerals and vitamins are. Calories are the potential energy fuel of each food, the means by which you build up steam to get about your daily activities. The more activities you indulge in, the more steam you need, of course, but when you have fuel lying around inside of you that you don't call into use for steam, you bulge with the stored fuel.

Every motion of the body requires some steam, or energy, of course; sleeping requires energy and just the beating of your heart and the flow of blood your body use up some calories. Just loafing around the house necessitates the burning of some of the fuel in the body, requiring more than sleeping or lying quietly in bed but not requiring as much as sweeping, playing hopscotch, or painting the barn.

It has been determined that the average adult spending a day of loafing will use up about 1650 calories. For anyone not bedridden, therefore, that would probably represent the lowest amount of calories that the body needs. If you have calories stored around on you in the form of fat, then you would need to take in a little less than 1650, say 1500 calories a day, to use up some of the stored fat and thereby reduce weight. If you continued to loaf, you'd still eventually call forth some of that fat even to keep loafing; but if you went about your normal routine which would use up from 2500-3500 calories a day, you would call forth more of your stored fuel and reduce your weight at the accepted rate of about two pounds a week.

Such a statement must be considered as an average procedure, of course. It won't work that way with everyone, but as a rule that is the accepted reducing regime. If you would continue to gain weight or fail to lost following such a routine, then you need a more individual procedure outlined for you. If you became overtired, irritable and restless on such a routine, then you would certainly consider yourself in need of some supplements to the diet or some completely different form of diet to meet your individual requirements.

There are no cut and dried calorie charts for foods; such caloric counts as you will find are usually made up from many different charts made by scientists who have studied foods and determined the calorie count in the laboratories. There are averages only because the ages of certain foods will change the caloric value, just as those raised in different parts of the country may have some different count; and the different ways of cooking foods must also be considered in the caloric value of the foods.

Scientists determine the caloric count of foods by weighing 100 grams of spinach, for example, and putting it in a vacuum which takes out all the moisture. The dry spinach is weighed again and the scientist makes a note of the water content of the spinach; water has no caloric value. The dry spinach is then placed in a bomblike instrument called a calorimeter and placed in water. The temperature of the water is recorded before and after the spinach is burned; the difference in the two temperatures is interpreted as the caloric value of the spinach.

Spinach is 92.7 per cent water, so that 100 grams of spinach would leave only 7.3 grams of solid material which could have caloric value. In addition to water, spinach like all foods contains either protein, fat or carbohydrate or a combination of any of those three things.

There are four calories in every gram of protein and every gram of carbohydrate; there are nine calories, however, in every gram of fat. In 100 grams of spinach there are 2.3 grams of protein and 3.2 grams of carbohydrates. Each of these would be multiplied by 4 and added together to get 22 calories. There is also .3 gram of fat in that 100 grams of spinach; that would be multiplied by 9 to bring the calorie value of the spinach up to 24.7, or almost 25 calories. That is about the average portion of spinach which is served.

All that complicated work is done for you by doctors and scientists who weigh and study food, whether for good health or for special diets.

Completely aside from the caloric count of food, however, is the weighing of food to determine the mineral content and the vitamin content. And in a reducing diet those three different items, caloric count, mineral content and vitamin content, must be considered to use up the stored calories you recognize as fat while maintaining the proper balance for the other needs of the body.

Crop Insurance Program In Effect

A total of 257 farm units have applied for government crop insurance as of the August 31 deadline, reports Elliott Lee, county FMA secretary. There were 156 applications by farmers, covering the 257 units.

Premiums may be paid at any time after the wheat is planted or by October 31, Lee said.

Theater Owner Surrenders: Sells TV Sets

COLVER, Pa. (AP)—Rows of television antennas jutting from the homes in this small Western Pennsylvania mining community tell the tale of its only theater forced to shut down after 21 years.

Two years ago, the theater had a weekly attendance of 1,700. Then one by one the miners began purchasing TV sets until the attendance dropped to 700. So John Smylnycky, the manager, took a cue from the lines, "If you can't lick 'em, join 'em." He entered the television business, himself.

Cattle Require Green Feeds To Be Healthy

COLLEGE STATION — Present range and pasture conditions are conducive to the development of vitamin A deficiency among farm animals. The lack of green feeds, over a long period of time, may result in a condition that is characterized in the early stages by night blindness and later by, a loss of energy and appetite, swelling at the joints, rapid breathing, staggering gait, convulsions, nasal discharge, watering at the eyes and complete blindness. This condition, says U. D. Thompson, assistant extension animal husbandman of Texas A. & M. College is caused by a lack of vitamin A, in the animals' rations.

He points out that research work conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station shows that cattle placed in the feedlot and limited to such rations as cottonseed meal, cottonseed hulls, white corn and other white grains are often affected by the condition. Following long dry periods, cattle placed in dry lots and on vitamin deficient rations may show symptoms of vitamin A deficiency in a relatively short time. Younger animals become affected sooner than the older ones.

Thompson says that calves born to cows which have been subjected to a shortage of vitamin A usually are in very poor condition at birth and unless placed on cows receiving adequate vitamin A, may die within two or three weeks.

Farm animals, he says, get most of their vitamin A requirements from carotene which is found in green range or pasture grasses and green hays. The carotene is changed to vitamin A by a process that takes place in the liver of the animal which is also the chief storehouse of both carotene and vitamin A in the body.

Both carotene and vitamin A are destroyed when exposed to air and light. The process is hastened by high temperatures, however, heat in the absence of oxygen has only a minor effect, says Thompson. Large losses of carotene occur during the curing of roughages, especially when they are cured in direct sunlight. The lack of green color in hays or fodder means that a large percentage of the vitamin A potency is lost. This fact emphasizes the need for preserving the color in forages at harvest time.

Thompson says that research has shown that the addition of a pound of good green alfalfa hay to the daily ration will protect the animals from a deficiency of the vitamin when they are receiving a deficient ration. The giving of codliver oil to affected animals will also correct the situation.

To guard against any occurrence of the deficiency condition, he advises watching for night blindness. If symptoms of night blindness are noted, start feeding immediately from one to two pounds of good quality, leafy hay per head per day in addition to the regular ration.

Thompson suggests that you ask your local county agent for a copy of C-171, "Control of Vitamin A Deficiency in Feeding Beef Cattle." The bulletin contains information that can help you avoid trouble in the feedlot as well as on the range.

Skunks Cause Rabies Cases, Doctor Warns

AUSTIN — Texas farmers and ranchers in the Red River Valley region and in Southwest and Central Texas have been warned to begin killing skunks—lots of them—before cold weather brings an increase in rabies cases.

The grim warning is contained in an animal morbidity report compiled by the State Department of Health. The idea is to pin point rabies infested areas as warning to people in adjacent areas.

State Health Officer George W. Cox said Texas had areas "bigger than most states" which are completely free of rabies.

"From now on we're going to call our shots by county of occurrence. It isn't going to be 'Texas rabies' any more," the health official declared.

"Livestock owners . . . should have active skunk killing programs, especially in the Red River Valley area, when winter approaches and skunks hole up with livestock in dilapidated barns," the report cautioned.

Current focal points of skunk rabies are, the report indicated, in Harris, Matagorda, Fort Bend, and Lavaca Counties. Another focus exists in the region of Comal and Hays Counties, and in Central Texas in Travis, Bell, Coryell, Lampassas, and McLennon Counties.

"The trend is eastward in Central Texas," the report said.

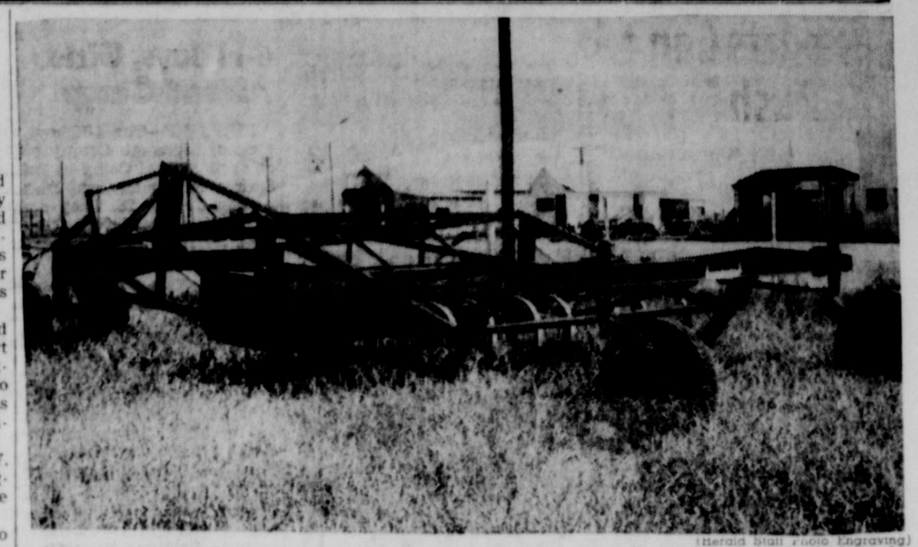

Titus and Hopkins, an area hit hard last year, continues to have a serious problem, causing health officials to caution livestockmen in the eastern part of the Red River Valley to be especially vigilant aganist skunk invasions of barns and outhouses.

The rabies morbidity report is something new in disease control. Modeled after the method used to keep tab on cases of human communicable diseases, it is part of the general protection the state health agency is providing.

For July the report shows: 77 dogs, 6 foxes, 6 cats, 4 skunks, 4 calves, 3 pigs, 2 civit cats, and 1 cow were diagnosed as rabid at the state Bureau of Laboratories.

Bexar and Harris Counties were hardest hit during July. Each reported one case of dog rabies each day of the month.

November 9 Is Opening Day Of Duck Season

AUSTIN—The Executive Secretary of the Game, Fish & Oyster Commission said the Federal Fish & Wildlife Service gave Texas three choices of opening dates for the 1951 waterfowl hunting season.

They were November 2, November 9 or November 17.

He said the Commission also had its choice of a straight 50-day season or a split season of 20 days each. The limits of five ducks per day and ten in possession were not affected by the varying dates. The goose limit is five per day or five in possession.

The Executive Secretary said the ability to have a 50-day season beginning November 9 made the split season proposal less attractive for Texas sportsmen.

He added that the total Texas shoot for the split season would have been only 40 days and emphasized that the last split season for Texas in 1949 was "not satisfactory to the hunters."

The Executive Secretary expressed the belief that the 50-day season, beginning November 9 "will create less dissatisfaction than we had had in recent years."

He said that nothing short of a two-zone season in Texas would pacify all hunters since any ordinary season cannot possibly cover the varying conditions over such a vast state, although the zoning plan would doubtless cause more ducks to be killed.

The Executive Secretary stressed that the 1951 season, extending as it does through December 28, will permit some holiday season shooting whereas the 45-day 1950 season ended December 17.

He added: "The early November opener will accomodate north Texas sportsmen while the more liberal period will permit south Texas folks to enjoy hunting after the bulk of waterfowl has moved on southward.

Close Guess on Short Notice

CHICAGO (AP)—Brookfield Zoo night keeper Otto Holdik is used to answering strange questions, but this one topped them all.

Making his rounds at 3 a. m., he discovered an automobile parked inside the zoo grounds. Soon three young men dressed in toppers and frock coats showed up. They were fraternity pledges on a mission.

"How many bars are there in the lion house?" one of them asked.

"There are 600, and this is no time to be asking," Holdik replied gruffly.

After the pledges left, Holdik counted the bars. There are 618 bars in the Zoo's lion house.

Non-Existent House Costs Money

DES MOINES (AP)—Here's the sad story of a man who was taxed for a house that didn't exist and now can't recover the money.

The county board of supervisors has turned down the petition of Leonard C. Hudson Jr., of Des Moines for a refund. The county assessor in 1949 incorrectly listed Hudson's vacant lot as having a house on it. Hudson said he didn't discover the error until after he paid $118.71 in taxes on the property last year.

Board members held that Hudson is not entitled to a refund because he failed to file a protest before the May, 1949, deadline.

Mrs. J. C. May, George Milton and Mrs. T. V. Carver returned Friday from a months trip in Los Angeles and San Francisco, Cal., the states of Oregon and Washington and Canada where they visited friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Holland and their house guest, Miss Dicky van Eys of Hilvensum, Holland returned from a weeks vacation in Colorado and New Mexico.

Bare-Handed Fishing

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Boy Scout Leader Les Harrison has a new trick to teach his charges. It's how to land a big bass without pole, line or net.

Harrison snatched a 7 pound, 3 ounce bass from Du Quoin's reservoir with only his bare hands. His fishing gear was still in the car. No further verification seemed required, Harrison being a scout master. But he refers doubters to a witness to the feat.

Two days later two city water workers duplicated the bare-handed catching of another big bass. But their fish was handicapped. Their motorboat propellor had KO'd it.

Texans Have Big Share In Aid Program

If the eight and a half billion-dollar foreign aid and military assistance program proposed by President Truman should win approval by Congress, the taxpayers of Texas will be called upon to pay an estimated $379,950,000 as their share of its cost, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce declared in a statement released today.

The Chamber estimated that Texas taxpayers presently bear 4.47 per cent of the Federal tax burden. Accordingly, the Chamber figured Texas' share of the cost of the President's new 8½ billion-dollar foreign economic and military assistance program would be 4.47 per cent of that sum, or $379,950,000.

The Chamber pointed out that the President's foreign aid program, as all other Federal spending programs, must be financed by taxes collected from the people of the 48 states, who are the sole source of all Federal tax income.

The Chamber further pointed out that the $379,950,000 representing Texas' share is approximately four-fifths of the total cost of operating the Texas government for one year.

Commenting on the President's 8½ billion-dollar Mutual Security Program, the Chamber's statement said:

"Actually the President's outline provides little information about how the large sums requested for the foreign aid programs are to be spent or what new obligations the program commits us to in the years to come. When Congress reviews the President's proposals, we suggest it consider the following questions:

"1. With taxes for all government—federal, state and local—now expected to take about one-third of the income of the American people, how many more billions can we afford to put into foreign programs before a point is reached where the tax burden will impair our own productive growth?

"2. To what extent can loans be made to replace grants in the President's new program for military as well as economic aid? The experience of ECA, the Export-Import Bank and other agencies has shown that foreign aid extended through loans has often produced more effective results than outright gifts and grants.

"3. In view of the fact that the President's new program calls for an expenditure equal to the entire Federal budget for prewar 1940, is it not high time that Congress established machinery by which it can keep itself and the American people better informed about these foreign outlays? Congress is poorly informed about the results which are being obtained from our huge investment in foreign aid programs or the efficiency with which the large bureaucracy administering the program carries on its work.

"4. Should not the legislation for the new foreign aid program contain definite provisions to end these huge expenditures when the job has been finished?

Rain Making Successful In Texas In 1891

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP)—There's nothing new about attempts to make rain fall on dry farmland.

Had you been passing through Duval county on a quiet April day 60 years ago, you might have been knocked off your feet by an explosion.

Jonas Weil of Corpus Christi was there, a youngster just out of school. He was secretary for the group, mostly army personnel, who tried to make rain fall. Weil says rain fell.

Duval county in 1891 was in the throes of the severest drouth in its history. Cattle were dying by the thousands. Their carcasses lined the banks of the Nueces river, where they gathered in hopes of water.

Ranchers had heard of experiments carried on by the army at El Paso and Midland in which explosives were fired into the atmosphere in the hope they would cause rainfall. The theory resulted from records showing above average rainfall where battles had been fought.

Duval county ranchers had to pay all the expenses of the experiment there. The army, with all its paraphernalia, weather experts, and newspapermen, arrived in Duval county and pitched camp a few miles out of San Diego on the Collins Ranch.

For weeks the weather experts watched the skies, waiting for the right clouds. In April the clouds came. Small cloth bags were then filled with powder and soaked in nitroglycerine. A cumbersome cannon that guarded the King ranch headquarters was hauled to the site. A huge cypress cistern, filled with water was loaded with iron shavings picked up from Blacksmith shops. A meteorologist made frequent trips aloft in a captive balloon to look things over.

Finally the big day arrived. The powder-filled bags were made ready, the old cannon was put in place; and a large quantity of sulphuric acid was poured into the cistern water and iron shavings to create a gas with which to fill huge balloons that were to be sent aloft and exploded.

At a signal, pandemonium broke loose. The bags of powder were exploded; the high-flying balloons began to burst. Weil had been put in charge of the cannon, and he fired away like a defender of the Bastille.

One of the balloons floated off horizontally instead of rising. When it exploded, every tent in the camp was knocked over.

Shortly the bombardment was over and the weary, powder-smoked rainmakers waited results. Onimous clouds gathered. And, says Weil, it began to rain.

How much it rained, Weil didn't say. But he remembers that water rushing down a ravine forced soldiers and other members of the group to move their tents to higher ground.

This year another group of rainmakers is in Texas, seeding clouds with silver Iodide. Ranchers in Jim Hogg and Brooks counties have formed an organization. Weil's nephew, Alex Weil, who operates a large ranch in Jim Hogg county, is secretary. Weil also has a grandson, Edwin Kessler III—majoring in meteorology at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Boston.

Prison Rodeo At Huntsville Opens October 7

HUNTSVILLE, (ECHO) — Texas own Original Prison Rodeo, where the toughest riders mount the toughest stock, will open in Prison Stadium in Huntsville on October 7th this year. The 20th of the series, the 1951 show promises to be the biggest and best yet, and ticket sales and reservations by mail or wire will begin September 1st.

The world famous rodeo pits convict cowboys against livestock owned by the Texas Prison System and has earned the name of "the world's wildest rodeo." More than 100,000 persons have paid to see this show on October Sundays in past years. That is all the recommendation anyone needs who has not yet seen it.

When the rodeo starts with the Mad Scramble, the show's most dangerous event, the two hours that follow are jam-packed with Saddle and Bareback bronc riding; bull riding; wild horse racing; mule racing and the riotous Chariot Race. Each event a spine-tingling, nerve chilling fight to the finish between outlaw riders and outlaw beasts.

Major and Mrs. Kenneth Sanders, Omaha, Nebraska, visited Sunday in the home of his nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Loftin, 1417 South Eton. Sanders is in the engineering division of general headquarters Strategic Air Command.

HEALTH FOLLOWS

THE LOWER NERVE UNDER THE MAGNIFYING GLASS IS PINCHED BY A MISALIGNED JOINT. PINCHED NERVES CANNOT TRANSMIT HEALTHFUL IMPULSES. CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTING REMOVES THE PRESSURE. THE UPPER NERVE IS FREE AS NATURE INTENDS.

CHIROPRACTIC

The Drugless Way To Health

Chiropractic has helped more than thirty million people enjoy health thru application of Nature's own laws.

Chiropractic is a Science, Art and Philosophy of things Natural—it is a system of adjusting the segments of the spine for the removal of the cause of dis-ease.

Scientific Chiropractic locates the places in the spine where the life force is interfered with, and removes this barrier to vital nerve energy so the Natural forces within the body can bring about complete health.

The following people consulted Dr. George Mayfield in Perryton for Chiropractic care and enjoy health because they are now free of interference to nerve supply.

Case No. 8 —

SCIATIC RHEUMATISM RELIEVED

A man past middle age suffered from Acute Sciatica for forty years, often so severe he would be unable to straighten up, walk, or use his legs without pain. After a few adjustments he was able to straighten up, walk well and was soon free of any trouble.

Case No. 211—

EYE TROUBLE, NERVOUSNESS CORRECTED

A young lady with a stubborn eye condition: nearsightedness, quivering of the eyes and inability to focus upon objects near her. This woman also suffered severe nervous symptoms and was highly emotional at times. X-rays showed slipped vertebrae affecting important nerves in the spinal nerve network; additional tests showed interference to the normal nerve transmission. Adjustments corrected this condition so that she can now see much better, even read without glasses and is not nearly as nervous.

Case No. 239 —

HEADACHES

A lady 26 years old suffered violent headaches that often became so severe she would become almost unconscious and in agonizing pain. X-rays showed where and how to adjust the vertebrae so that nerve pressure was removed. Since starting services seven weeks ago she has had but two headaches and they were not so severe.

Case No. 233 —

HEALTH IMPROVED

Backaches, Stomach Trouble and Bowel Irregularities bothered a young man of 22 years so that he could not work or attend to personal matters. Spinal adjustments were started after x-rays showed that several vertebrae were causing pressure on nerves. Now this man feels better than he has in months because Chiropractic has aided Nature in restoring his health.

These patients all reside and work within the trade area of Perryton — these and 275 more people are now enjoying better health because of having consulted Dr. Mayfield. Call 2381 for appointment, or come to 214 Amherst.

Homework is hard work for young eyes. Plenty of good light is needed to prevent eyestrain that leads to drowsiness, lack of concentration and poor grades.

Make sure your child has the advantage of enough light and the right kind of light for home study. See that the lamp on his study table is equipped with at least a 150-watt bulb and is properly shaded to spread the light and prevent glare.

We'll be glad to recommend the proper light for home study. See us about it today. Better light means better grades!

Tarleton Tries New Method of Farm Training

STEPHENVILLE, Texas— Five of six boys who finished a two-year practical agriculture course at Tarleton State College in June are now engaged in profitable farming and ranching with their fathers. These are the first boys to graduate from the terminal course started two years ago.

Tarleton State College devised the curriculum for farm boys who do not want a degree but who want to learn in 18-months how to operate successfully a farm or ranch. Enrollment has tripled since the course was first offered in September, 1949.

Students learn by doing. The course teaches such specific skills as how to build and operate a hoof-cutting machine, how to run and repair tractors and other farm machinery, how to buy, sell, and care for dairy cattle, beef cattle, sheep and pigs, how to grade and crate eggs, how to use the farm level in soil conservation.

Usual academic subjects such as chemistry have been eliminated. English and mathematics have been pruned to the essentials. In English, the students learn how to write mail-order letters. In mathematics, they learn to keep farm records and work feed problems.

First graduates of the course include Ronald Harris, who helps his father run a Grade A dairy near Moran; James Koonce who assists his father on a 216-acre peanut and livestock farm north of De Leon; Don Compton, in partners with his father on a large Hereford ranch near Breckenridge; David Smith, who helps his father on a livestock farm near Meridian; and Charles R. Smith, who helps his father run a 1053-acre ranch north of Valley Mills.

The German port of Bremen was founded in the eighth century.

FIRING INSTRUCTION—Capt. Audie Murphy, movie actor and 36th Infantry Division National Guardsman, (far left) gives instructions in the firing of a carbine to a recruit while Lt. Gen. SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Down here in the Ozark hills, 150 miles from the nearest television station, television programs are coming in strong, despite the accepted rule that a telecast may be seen normally in a radius of only 50 or 60 miles.

As a result, TV antennas are sprouting from houses as far as 200 miles from the stations in Kansas City or Oklahoma.

DISPLACED PERSONS NOW ACTIVE 4-H CLUBERS—Blue-jeaned and plaid-shirted Gunta Zandoreska, 13, and John Zandoreeska, formerly of Latvia and now of Bell county, Texas, transplant radishes into their home garden from a hot bed. They are members of the Holland, Texas, 4-H club. The children came to this country with their parents under the Displaced Persons Program and were settled on a Bell county farm. Why are they transplanting radishes? The Texas Extension Service does not recommend the practice. Maybe that is the way they grow radishes in Latvia.—(AP) Photo.

Great Demand For Borascue

Demand for borascue as a bindweed killer has been mounting in Ochiltree county and the supply is exhausted, reports county agent Hood Wills. More of the chemical is expected within the next few days, however.

Successful results with bindweed have been noted with borascue, although the soil is rendered sterile for about five years. Treatment with salt makes the ground sterile for about 20 years.

Approximately 140 tons of borascue have been applied in the county, Wills said.

Jerry L. Ferguson, who attends Missouri Military Academy in Mexico, Missouri, left Tuesday night to attend this year which will make his fifth year in training.

Six-Man Grid Season Opens This Week

The football season of district 1-B, six-man football, begins this Friday with all six teams of the loop seeing action. In the opening games, Kelton plays at Sunray; Follett at Miami; and Booker at Darrouzett.

The district schedule was completed at a meeting in Gruver recently and the champion will be determined on a double round robin.

Three teams of the district will play all home games under the lights. They are Booker, Darrouzett and Follett, the latter two teams having installed lighting equipment for their fields this summer.

Since Gruver, ordinarily the favorite, has been elevated to 11-man football this year, the favorite roles will go to Follett and Darrouzett, with Booker given a strong chance for the title.

Darrouzett, coached by A. C. Teter, one of the country's best known six-man tutors, is certain to be a powerful factor.

The complete schedule for district 1-B is:

Sept. 7: Kelton at Sunray; Follett at Miami; Booker at Darrouzett.

Sept. 28: Darrouzett at Sunray; Booker at Follett; Kelton at Miami.

Oct. 18: Miami at Sunray.

Oct. 19: Kelton at Booker; Follett at Darrouzett.

Nov. 2: Sunray at Darrouzett; Follett at Booker; Miami at Kelton.

Nov. 9: Follett at Sunray; Kelton at Darrouzett; Booker at Miami.

New Equipment Is Purchased by Soil District

The Ochiltree County Soil Conservation District has purchased four new pieces of equipment for use in the district by farmers on a rental basis.

A new 12-ft. land plane, which is used in leveling land for irrigation and leveling ridges, along with two new 8-ft. grass drills, have been delivered to the district and are available for rent now.

On order, and expected any day, is a new terracing machine for use behind a farm tractor.

The grass drills will sow any size grass seed, stated Ralph Headlee of the local SCS office. The drills have two sets of seed tanks, one for coarse seed and one for fine seed.

The district already owns a 7-ft. and 12-ft. grass drill, a D-7 Caterpillar tractor, and two pull-type graders. Money from the rental of this machinery, plus the state soil conservation aid money, paid for the new equipment.

A new Quonset building is being erected by the SC district near the A & B Motor Co. and will be used for storing grass seed and equipment.

Chairman of the district supervisors is Roger Pearson. Herman Hargrove is secretary, and Harlan Hawk, S. L. Brillhart and Martin McCartor are members. Mrs. Sue Ragan is clerk of the district.

Besides these starters, others who are certain to see action are Gail Hurter and Donald Patton at ends, Gene McLain and Johnny Witt at guards, Billy Drake, Landrum Osborne, and Gene Clack in the backfield.

The Rangers scrimmaged the Panhandle Panthers Saturday night and the Stinnett Rattlers Monday night while coaches from both teams ranged the field behind their players, pointing out mistakes. A fairly large crowd of spectators attended both scrimmage sessions.

Coach Peterson wasn't too happy about the blocking and tackling of the Rangers and spent Tuesday and Wednesday emphasizing this aspect of the game.

The White Deer Bucks have been installed as a co-favorite for district 1-A, along with Panhandle and Canadian. George Watson, the White Deer coach, has an all-regional selection of 1950 back with the Bucks in 185-pound Guy Thornburg, center. To assist in the line are tackles Morlan Shuman, a 183-pound junior and Jerry O'Neal, a 167-pound senior.

Both guards, Jerry Foose and Jack Hood, were regulars last year.

Quarterback Jackie Freeman and tailback Cordell Pugh were also regulars last year and Freeman is the passer. Both these two boys and 150-lb. Ethan Noble furnish the speed of the White Deer attack and 195-lb. Don Carpenter furnishes the power at fullback.

The Ranger Band and the newly organized girls pep squad will make the trip to White Deer, along with a number of local fans.

Red Claims Amuse West

FRANKFURT (AP)—German anti-Communists are having fun challenging the number of signatures the Communists claim to have collected for their Stockholm "peace petition" for outlawing of the (American) atom bomb.

For instance, in Russian-occupied east Germany the Communists claim to have collected 17,046,000 signatures. This territory has a population of only about 17.5 million and even if another million were added for the Soviet sector of Berlin, it would be a hardly plausible performance.

"It seems," remarked one west German newspaper, "that babes in arms also have been signing the appeal, not to mention people in prisons and mental institutions."

THE TEXAS POLL

Less Prejudice Shown Against Latin Americans In Texas

By JOE BELDEN

Director, The Texas Poll

AUSTIN, Texas — Discrimination against Latin Americans in Texas has often taken the form of refusal of some restaurants to serve them. The majority of Texans, however, have no personal objections to eating in the same cafes with their fellow-citizens of Mexican descent, according to the latest Texas Poll.

The results of the statewide survey indicate that only about three out of every ten non-Latins voice definite disapproval when asked the question, "How would you feel about eating in the same restaurant with a Latin American?" These were the replies:

Approve	53%
Approve with qualifications	8
Are neutral about it	6
Total who don't disapprove	67
Disapprove	29
No opinion	4
Total	100%

The above results should be one more encouraging sign to those fighting segregation of the Latin American, a minority group that has assumed major proportions in Texas. Latest studies indicate that the state contains about 1,326,000 Latin Americans, or about 17 per cent of the total population.

The Good Neighbor Commission of Texas reports a decreasing number of complaints regarding refusal of services to Latin Americans.

An interesting point revealed by The Texas Poll study is that the people who actually rub shoulders with the Latin Americans find less objections to their sitting at the next table than people in parts of the state where few Latin Americans are ever seen. In the central, southern, and southwestern portions of Texas, where about nine-tenths of the Latins live, 58 per cent gave unqualified approval. In the rest of the state, where one-tenth of the Latins live, only 49 per cent gave unqualified approval.

The relative education of a person has its effect on opinion on the issue, too. Among Texans who had at least some high school education, 55 per cent expressed unqualified approval of Latin Americans being served in the same restaurants. People who did not go to high school approved by only 51 per cent.

Drivers' License Fees Doubled

AUSTIN, Sept. 4 (Spl.)—A. F. Temple, Chief of the Driver's License Division of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reminded motorists today that the fee for Texas Operator's and Commercial Operator's licenses will be doubled effective September 7, 1951.

The increase which was authorized by the 52nd Legislature sets the new price of the Operator's License at $1.00 and the Commercial License at $2.00. Fee for Chauffers License will remain at $3.00. The Operator's permit will remain valid for a period of two years while the Commercial and Chauffeurs will continue to be issued for one year periods.

Q. I want to name my two children as beneficiaries of my National Service Life Insurance policy, but I'd like to arrange things so that one of them will receive 60 per cent of the insurance and the other 40 per cent. Is it possible to do this?

A. Yes. You may specify exactly how you want your insurance money paid out, in addition to specifying who is to get the money. Any VA office will help you with the details.

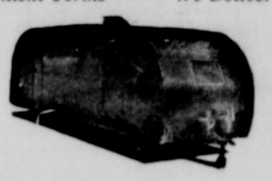

Q. I'h a soldier, badly hurt in line of duty, and expect to be discharged from service soon. While I'm in the service, I'm covered by the free $10,000 indemnity insurance, but that coverage will stop 120 days after my discharge. What type of GI insurance may I get afterwards? I realize I'll have to pay for this coverage.

A. After discharge, you will have two choices: (1) the five-year level premium term policy, issued without a physical examination, but for which you must apply to VA within 120 days of your separation from service, or (2) any plan of the special NSLI that is issued only to disabled veterans. You may apply to VA for this within one year from the date VA finds you are suffering from disabilities for which compensation would be payable. In either case, any VA contact representative can supply you with further details.

Danger In Small Incidents

Not long ago the commanding general of the Carswell Air Force Base in Fort Worth decided he would not have stories printed in the news columns of the Fort Worth Press about survivors of a B-36 crash, simply because the general did not like the way the stories were written.

A few weeks later a Dallas News photographer was beaten by the son of a Dallas county commissioner when the photographer took a picture of the pair following their beating of the county judge.

Not too long ago three staff members of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times went to jail for their paper's report of and comments on the conduct of a public trial in Nueces county. The newspapermen eventually won their case, and with it the right to report and comment on the public acts of a public official, but they had to go to the U. S. Supreme Court to do it.

Last April 1, a Dallas News reporter was placed in the custody of University Park police because he tried to remain in the hall of the University Park Town Hall—a public building—while a meeting of public officials was going on upstairs.

A couple of weeks ago a deputy sheriff at Borger, acting on the orders of his superior, confiscated a camera from a Borger News-Herald photographer after he had snapped a photo of an Air Force plane which crashed on a state highway. The camera and film was recovered after the officers admitted there was no real reason for taking it away, but there was a day's delay.

At Pampa several weeks ago, the Pampa Daily News had to go to District Judge Lewis Goodrich to get an order requiring a Pampa Justice of the Peace to open his court records to the newspaper's readers. The order was promptly issued—court records, like other public records—are public property.

These are only a few of the more recent attempts of persons or governments to control the supply of news or its treatment in the press. You will remember the controversy in Amarillo where the police blotter was "screened" before being released to the newspapers.

The press is having a constant struggle to maintain the right to report, uncover and comment on acts and records of public officials. President Truman has maintained a consistent attack upon the American press, which he has accused of failing to tell the people the truth.

Freedom of the press is guaranteed under the first amendment to the constitution, but there is now a proposal to infringe upon this nation's press freedom by a United Nations proposal which would by-pass the U. S. Constitution.

Put briefly, this UN proposal would subjugate the right of free speech and free press to "penalties, liabilities and restrictions . . . as are provided by law and are necessary for the protection of national security, public order, safety, health or morals, or of the rights, freedoms or the reputations of others."

Juan Peron closed down La Prensa on the pretense of acting in the national security. Any government official can interpret this in any way necessary to get rid of detractors in the press.

It is a historical fact that every advance in individual liberty that has been recorded since the art of printing was invented has been won through the efforts of a courageous press.

And it is also a historical fact that every loss of liberty that has been recorded during the same period has been preceded by a subjugation of the press to the dictates of government.

Little incidents may not mean much in throttling the right of a free press. But little incidents, mounting to larger ones, could result in a loss of this fundamental heritage. It is something well worth a battle to retain.

Women are all alike. They just have different figures so you can tell them apart.

Wolf Creek Philosopher

Didn't Miss Much In Skipping News

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher is his typical self this week, writing more and solving less than anybody we know.)

Dear editar:

I been kinda under the weather for a couple of weeks with a little sickness and got behind on the news, but it's a funny thing, when I started readin the papers again this week I couldn't even tell I'd missed anything, the weather was still the chief topic of conversation, everybody was wishin it would rain, or the weather would cool off, travel accidents was about as prevalent, livin costs was still goin up, inflation is still about to wreck civilization according to the people who want a job controllin it, and the Korean truce talks are at about the same stage.

It's the latter that gets me. As I understand it, they've been talkin about what they'd talk about if a truce meetin was arranged, and if they're any further now than they were six weeks ago, I can't tell it.

I hate to say it, but when it takes 53 different meetings and 39 radio broadcasts to discover you ain't no nearer an agreement than when you started, you just ain't gettin very far.

It reminds me of me and my neighbor's plans to build a new fence separation our two pastures. We been talkin about it for years, but ain't no nearer actual construction than when we started. When his cows get in my pasture, I'm all for gettin started on the fence, but when mine get in his, I regret it very much but get out of the mood for fence buildin.

There ain't nothin that burns a man up more than to discover some strange cows in his pasture eatin his grass, or that makes him want to change the subject faster when he finds out his cows is over in somebody else's pasture eatin their grass, and I reckon the same thing is true in town when the neighbor's chickens get in your garden, your chickens get in his garden, or your dog digs up his flowers or vice versa or your children throw the rocks or his does. In fact, hot weather and neighbors sure don't mix.

In a case of a war, though, the matter is a little different, and it seems to me some way ought to be found to make some progress toward a truce. But don't ask me for a suggestion. I don't have one. I been a victim of long-drawn-out conversations all my life. I been talkin with my wife for years and if we ever settled anything I'm blamed if I can think what it was.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

From the SIDELINE

with HAROLD HUDSON

Here it is September and at last the first cool front has moved in, signaling the end of hot weather. There will be some more warm days, of course, but usually the first part of September sees a change for cool, football weather.

Speaking of football, the interest in the Rangers is somewhat higher than for the past two years, if pre-season enthusiasm is any indication. There was quite a large crowd out at Ranger Field Saturday night to see the local team scrimmage Panhandle.

In fact, we thought for a minute there that we had our dates mixed up and that was the first game of the season instead of a practice scrimmage, judging from the number of cars parked around the field.

If you get a letter from an Amarillo real estate outfit, notifying you that you have been chosen to receive a lot in the new Bel-Aire Addition for only $64, look out. The Amarillo Chamber of Commerce says that these lots (1) are only 60 feet deep (2) they are outside the city limits (3) there are no restrictions on the types of buildings which may be erected (4) there are no paved streets (5) there are no utilities (6) there are no transportation facilities (7) there is no city police or fire protection.

The company is notifying people throughout the Panhandle that they have been chosen to receive one of these lots at a total cost of only $64. As usual, you just don't get something for nothing these days.

September 7 is S-Day for Texas law enforcement officers as the new anti-slot machine law becomes effective. This new law makes possession of a slot machine an offense calling for two to four years in the state penitentiary. Crux of the new law is that mere possession is illegal. Now you can't even store your slot machine and avoid the law.

There used to be a few slot machines right here in Perryton, before the Kefauver committee and the Texas "little Kefauver" committee got so active. Now we understand that the local machines have disappeared for good.

Each week for several months now we have been running an article in the Herald stating that an OPS specialist will be in Perryton to confer with local merchants. Last week, we decided to check up and see how many merchants were conferring with the expert.

At the Chamber of Commerce office, there were no takers, although the expert was quite available. After spending the required number of hours here, at taxpayer expense, he moved on to the next town without dispensing any advice whatsoever. Furthermore, Lee Little secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, tells us that there never are any customers for the OPS specialists any more, although when ceiling prices first came out, there were several seeking advice.

It doesn't take much figuring to see that the cost to the taxpayer is considerable in supporting a crew of price specialists over West Texas, plus the clerical expense involved in putting out a mimeographed news story to all the newspapers each week. In view of the lack of interest, we will henceforth do without the OPS news stories.

It seems strange to us, that with the emphasis nowadays on modernization, that someone hasn't come around to supplying a new set of similes. For example, "sound as a dollar" doesn't mean much anymore, and neither does "dull as dishwater," since everyone knows that now dishwater snaps, crackles, pops and revs up mountains of phony foam.

Many modern pipe-stems aren't plain and pins aren't particularly neat. Personally we've never thought owls were so wise or oxen so dumb. We've never encountered a tight tick or a particularly eager beaver, although we must admit that our beaver acquaintance is extremely limited.

All the mice we know aren't always quiet and we've even read in newspapers about judges that weren't exactly sober. We have several pieces of string around home that aren't straight and we'll bet that the local church mice are as well-fed as any other type.

Introducing a new set of similes into the language is a different task, we'll have to admit, and we wouldn't dream of applying for the job. However powerful as an A-bomb," and "fast as a jet plane," are quite descriptive, although these phrases really don't fit the tonge as well as the old ones. So perhaps we'll continue as formerly and let someone smarter than we figure out some new figures of speech.

Labor Day in Perryton was mighty dull and we still have not figured out any real reason for store closing on that day. It is probably out of deference to the labor unions, except that as far as we know, aren't any here.

TRAIL BLAZER—
with plenty on the ball

How long since you lifted the hood of a car, and took a good look at what's beneath?

We like to have folks do that with a Buick.

You'll find that broad bonnet isn't put there for show. It's packed with horsepower—high, wide and handsome—more horsepower than normal drivers will ever use in full.

And—if you're up to date on modern features—you'll find that this bonnet is packed with these too.

Do you know, for example, that every new engine introduced or previewed in recent years is built on the valve-in-head principle?

Score one for Buick. No Buick engine has ever been built in any other way.

Do you know what it takes to make full use of high compression? A valve-in-head engine!

Score two: Buick has been stepping up compression ratios for years.

But Buick has blazed one trail which other engines still haven't followed—don't ask us why.

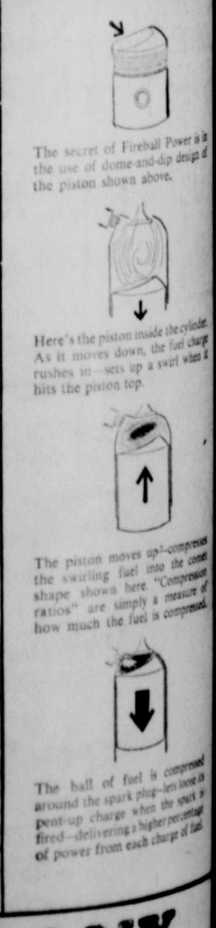

Every Buick has a Fireball Engine which, as we've said before, is like having a string of comets by the tail.

Fact is, in every flame-packed cylinder there is a comet—rolled into a swirling ball by a special turbo-top piston—touched off by a flashing spark every 5 inches you travel in a Buick.

That's why we're proud to show folks that Buicks have a Fireball Engine—and prouder still to have them take one of these thrilling performers out on the road.

Want to try it? Come in and see us soon.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

The secret of Fireball Power is in the use of dome-and-dip design of the piston shown above.

Here's the piston inside the cylinder. As it moves down, the fuel charge rushes in—sets up a swirl when it hits the piston top.

The piston moves up—compresses the swirling fuel into the comet shape shown here. "Compression ratios" are simply a measure of how much the fuel is compressed.

The ball of fuel is compressed around the spark plug—lets loose its pent-up charge when the spark is fired—delivering a higher percentage of power from each charge of fuel.

Man is an indispensable to God as God is to man, declares the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon titled "Man" to be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Sept. 9. "Ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me" (Isaiah 43: 10). Mary Baker Eddy brings out the point in these words from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," which will be included in the Lesson-Sermon: "God, without the image and likeness of Himself, would be a nonentity, or Mind unexpressed. He would be without a witness or proof of His own nature. Spiritual man is the image or idea of God, an idea which cannot be lost nor seperated from its divine Principle."

The Golden Text is from Romans, and reads, "As many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God."

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Today the 'Great God of Nations' is pleading for unity of mind, for brotherly love between men and for peace on earth. Jesus the greatest of teachers presented to men truths, which were then as they are now, of great importance to all mankind. His utterances, without revision, are most pertinent to modern life and make universal appeal. In them are heights which no man has scaled; depths which no man has sounded; reaches of length and breadth which no man has explored. Universally the need for blessings from the great 'God of Nations' has never been so great. He commanded men to learn of Him and promised to show them the way.

Pastors, Priests and Rabbis are pooling their interests in an effort to challenge All Nations to an understanding of the term 'Peace.' Prayers from millions of earnest seeking, warm hearted, religious people, go up to the great 'God of Nations' every day for those men who are entrusted with our destinies.

Millions are now saying of Jesus: "There was the true light, even the light which lighteth every man, coming into the world." Whether judged by subject matter, the method of its presentation, or its effectiveness in influencing life... Jesus enjoys preeminence among teachers. If men would but seek out His will; if world leaders would but ask His guidance when difficult, international problems arise... then solving them would not be such a surprise, for in Him men of faith find all things possible.

Conscription Asked For Malaya

IPON, Malaya (AP)—A call for conscription in Malaya to help meet the threat of Communism in Asia was made by a member of the Perak Council of State.

Leong Yew Koh warned the Council of the Red menace to Indochina and Thailand which was "staring Malaya in the face," and stressed that Perak's northern frontier with Thailand was "almost unguarded."

"The Soviet has already blueprinted its conquest of Thailand and the Red menace is fast approaching our land," he declared. "We cannot survive a Communist occupation," he stated.

Papa Disappears But Pop Holds On

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Papa, the name most youngsters called their fathers 30 years ago, has all but disappeared from American usage. Of the same vintage, Pa and Paw are equally rare today, but Pop is still in good standing.

The only familiar names for father in use on Father's Day cards today are Dad, Daddy and Pop, said the Hallmark Co. Mamma, Ma and Maw are only memories, too, the company states.

Jeep Takes On Tank

CAIRO, Ill. (AP)—A tough jeep charged an Army tank, and it proved only that tanks are still tougher.

The tank was parked outside a Cairo garage, where an Illinois National Guard outfit keeps it, when the jeep came along. Not only did the jeep lose the match, its driver also lost—$100. That was the fine Magistrate Max Bevill fixed for reckless driving.

Betty Sings, Dances, Romances In 'Meet Me After the Show'

With Betty Grable, America's favorite musical star, leading the entertainment parade, the new Technicolor musical romance, "Meet Me After the Show," comes to the Ellis Theatre on Tuesday-Thursday.

Also in starring roles are McDonald Carey and Eddie Albert.

The film is the story of a Broadway musical comedy star and her producer-director husband who rock the Great White Way and the city of Miami with a host of hilarious romantic complications.

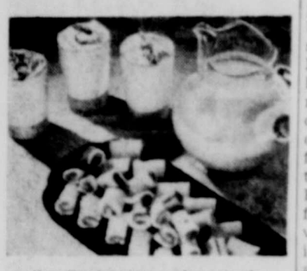

Following such notable successes as "My Blue Heaven" and "Call Me Mister," luscious Betty returns to play the talented Broadway star. Jessell has surrounded her with a lilting new musical score by Leo Robin and Jule Styne including such destined hits as "A Daytime in Maytime," "It's a Hot Night in Alaska," "No Talent Joe," "Let Go of My Heart" and the title song. In addition, Betty is teamed with the fast stepping dance due of Steve Condos and Jerry Brandow and cavorts with Gwyneth Verdon, the Jack Cole dancer who won acclaim in "On the Riviera."

MacDonald Carey, appearing in his first musical production since he played with Gertrude Lawrence in the stage version of "Lady in the Dark," is the loving husband who can't keep his eyes from roving, even though it's Betty.

Only about 70 per cent of eggs placed in commercial incubators hatch out, according to the U. S. Agriculture Department.

Kansas City was known as the "gateway to the west" during goldrush days and later.

Ezio Pinza and Janet Leigh Star In Picture

The hilarious story of an opera star who is forced to enter into a "marriage of convenience" serves at the plot for "Strictly Dishonorable" which comes to the Ellis on Sunday and Monday. Ezio Pinza and Janet Leigh have the starring roles.

In "Strictly Dishonorable" Pinza is cast as the impetuous opera star, Augustino Caraffa, who cannot resist the dames but who gets himself into a heap of trouble when he tells opera aspirant Marie Donnelly (Gale Robbins) that she has the voice of a fishwife. It so happens that this irate lady's husband is the owner of New York's most powerful scandal sheet and he makes full use of it in an effort to "frame" Gus. Wide-eyed Isabelle Perry (Janet Leigh) from way below the Mason-Dixon line, enters the picture as Gus' most ardent fan, who acts as a super in one of his operas, inadvertently ruins his performance, and is suspected of being a tool of Donnelly's. Gus, scheme to expose the innocent Isabelle backfires and he finds himself in a vulnerably compromising position. Even Isabelle's consent to a marriage "in name only" doesn't solve the problem, for now Gus' current inamorata, the fiery Lili Izadvany (Maria Palmer), threatens to sue him for breach of promise. How the various complications are finally ironed out in a blast of music and merriment makes for one of the seasons most delightful entertainments.

Chandler Plays Prize Fighter

The story of a coal mining prize fighter, as portrayed by Jeff Chandler, is the story of "Iron Man," which comes to the Ellis on Friday and Saturday. Evelyn Keyes and Stephen McNally are co-starred.

Jeff Chandler, who has shone brightly in such recent films as "Sword In The Desert," "Broken Arrow," "Bird of Paradise" and "Smuggler's Island," plays the role of the fighting coal miner who takes an unmerciful beating every time he fights up to the point where his mind blanks out and he slugs his way to a win. The rugged star fights a total of seven bouts in "Iron Man," but contrary to the formula prize fight story, loses his most important match.

Discount Threat Of Vampire Bats In South Texas

AUSTIN—Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, today took mild exception to recent reports that South Texas faces an invasion from rabid vampire bats.

The health official referred to a widely circulated newspaper story quoting a Mexican government rabies specialist, Dr. Aurelio Malaga-Alba, that pig-faced vampire bats carrying the dread disease had been discovered 100 miles southwest of Presidio County in the Big Bend country.

"I think it's a remote, fantastic interpretation," Dr. Cox said. "This whole problem was discussed at the U. S.-Mexico Border Public Health Conference in Chihuahua two years ago.

He said he was sure Dr. Malaga-Alba is "entirely competent," and that the State Health Department would take every advantage of his warning.

"But the story didn't mention several pertinent facts about the situation. Vampire bats require a tropical environment. The story didn't mention that. And it didn't mention that vampire bats are relatively rare even in tropical countries."

The newspaper story, originating in the Austin American, was "interesting," the long-time health officer said. But he believes it might make all bats vampire bats "in the eyes of the public."

"And for the most part, bats are beneficial. Only the vampire is a blood sucker. The rest feed on harmful insects, including mosquitoes," Dr. Cox warned.

San Antonio has an ordinance which makes it unlawful to kill bats of familiar species. The State Bureau of Laboratories said they had never found bats positive for rabies.

Dr. Cox's statement: "...vasion of Texas by this ...bat is a remote, fantast... ...pretation (of Dr. Malag... ...report). This bat is know... ...habit only certain south... ...graphical locations. ... ...bat history was discus... ...year at the U. S.-Mexico... Public Health Associa... Chihuahua. Its limited... ...tions are to be expected.

"Isolated rabies ... caused by the bat have b... ...ported from time to time ...mals and man; however ...is no reason to expect bat... ...it over the Rio Grande."
