County Officials Propose Joint Airport Work Plan

3 CANDIDATES NOW

Gregory and McGuire Enter Sheriff's Race

Sheriff R. E. (Dick) Gregory Jr. and a former deputy sheriff, W. R. (Bob) McGuire, Thursday put the public spotlight on Mitchell County sheriff's race.

McGuire, who served 5 years as Gregory's deputy, announced he would be a candidate for the office in the Democratic Primary May 7.

And Gregory, who has served 9 years as sheriff, revealed that he definitely would seek re-election to a 4-year term.

The announcements Thursday by the pair shape up a three-candidate campaign for sheriff.

Breaking the ice, so to speak, last week was Lewis Claxton of Loraine, first sheriff's candidate to officially enter the race. Claxton, resident of Loraine and Colorado City 41 years, resigned Dec. 31 after serving 9 years as Gregory's deputy.

Both Gregory and McGuire Thursday in their announcements emphasized their qualifications and intentions for public service in the sheriff's office.

W. R. (Bob) McGuire

McGuire, who is serving his second year as chairman of Mitchell County Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation committee, issued the following statement:

"In announcing my candidacy for the office of sheriff

Equipment To Match City Cash

Commissioners Court Tuesday told Colorado City Council the county could help with equipment, workers and materials for construction of a community airport.

But cash is hard to come by, the commissioners said, and the city will have to dig up just about all the money that is required.

It was a reply to councilmen who asked commissioners just before Christmas if the county would be interested in going 50-50 on an airport project utilizing Federal Aviation Agency funds for half of the project's cost and local financing for the other half.

* * *

COUNTY JUDGE Elmer Martin outlined the county's proposal an all local plan with the city and county utilizing their own trucks, machinery, men and equipment when possible.

Purchase of the airport site would be up to the city, with the county unable to put up money for the land, the county officials said.

However, the commissioners expressed belief that by pooling city and county equipment and employes on the job at slack intervals in regular city or county work, the cost of airport construction could be trimmed so that FAA funds would not be needed.

Under the county proposal, though, the construction would be carried out in accordance with FAA specifications and regulations, also under supervision of a competent engineer.

* * *

IN THE MEETING for the county with Judge Martin were Commissioners Sam C. Thompson, J. C. (Jake) Northcutt, Moody Richardson and W. N. (George) Bacon.

Representing the city were Mayor Trevor Crawford, Councilmen Garlan Green, Sam L. (Buzz) Majors Jr. and Sie Hamm, City Manager Rollin K. Snethen.

Also sitting in on the discussion was Chamber of Commerce manager Rex Felker.

Both the city and county officials cited the need for airport facilities for the county a field that will take care of business and industry's aviation needs in accordance with FAA safety specifications.

COUNTY representatives said their proposal in the Tuesday conference was only

220 ENTRIES DUE

Stock Show Set Friday

Youthful exhibitors from all areas of the county Thursday moved in pigs, calves and lambs for 23rd Annual Mitchell County 4-H & FFA Livestock Show.

They will begin competing Friday afternoon for cash premiums, ribbons and plaques.

More than 220 animals will be exhibited in the show's judging — a field of entries larger than the 1959 show, considered one of the best here in recent history.

* * *

THE '60 SHOW will open officially at 1:30 p. m. Friday, with judging in the swine division.

Fat lambs will begin their parade before the judge's eye Saturday at 10 a. m. and the calves will be judged Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

All judging and exhibiting will be at the former International Harvester location on E. Highway 80, just south across the highway from Tate Bros. Livestock Auction.

Pigs will be in the metal building at the rear of the location while lambs and calves will be in the brick building.

Also in the large brick building, heated for comfort of exhibitors and spectators, will be concessions sponsored by Mitchell County Home Demonstration Council.

* * *

JUDGING the stock, Friday and Saturday, will be Dr. L. M. Hargrave, professor of agricultural education at Texas Tech, Lubbock.

He will judge six classes of pigs heavyweight and lightweight in Duroc, Hampshire and other breeds.

Judging in the fat lamb division will be in four classes — fine wool, crossbred, southdown and southdown crossbred.

The show's final judging will be in lightweight and heavyweight classes of both dry lot and milk fed calves.

First place winners in both the lamb and pig divisions will be awarded ribbons and $25 cash prizes. Others placing in those divisions will earn

Progress With Champions

Officials of Mitchell County 4-H & FFA Livestock Show compared pictures of the show's champion steers—in a 12 year span—to emphasize one of the main reasons why they support the stock show. In upper photo is the 1958 champion steer calf shown by Mickey Cooper and, in bottom photo, is the 1946 champion exhibited by Jimmy Hammond. Compactness, less heighth, more width at the hindquarters and other features of the 1958 champion reveal the progress in livestock within the county during the 12 year period.

Rain, Sleet, Light Snow Put Winter Moisture into Soil

Mitchell County escaped an ice storm this week, but a combination of rain, sleet and snow soaked crop and pasture.

More than an inch of moisture was reported over most of the county for the three-day total.

The city's .74 of an inch wasn't as high as reported in most sectors of the county's rural area.

Highest amounts were reported south of Loraine and in the county's southeast section. In the Landers community, south of Loraine, Bruce Byrne reported approximately 1.30 inches of moisture and ground covering snow. Further south, L. S. (Bunky) Girvin reported rains of .70 and .40 a total of 1.30 inches.

Loraine, however, according to Kirk Taylor at First State Bank measured just .80 of an inch.

Slightly more than an inch of rain was reported by Alexander Grocery at Cuthbert.

North of Colorado City in the Buford community the moisture total was 1.2 inches according to Mrs. Bud Loving.

Business Increase Reported for City

Statistics released Thursday by A. J. Hemphill, manager of the Fort Worth office of Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reflect the growth of the business population in Mitchell County during the last year.

Figures obtained from a physical count of the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book for January 1960 totaled 267 manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers in this area as compared to 261 in January 1959, a increase of 2 per cent for the period for the county.

But all of that counts in the gain was caused by a high er rate of growth for Colorado City in particular.

The reference book lists all manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers who seek or grant commercial credit. It does not include some of the service and professional businesses such as beauty and barber shops, security dealers and real estate brokers.

Therefore, the figures included in this report do not reflect the true picture of business growth in Mitchell County.

Colorado City had 206 listings on Jan. 1959 compared to 219 in Jan. 1960. Loraine had 27 listings in 1959 and 29 in 1960.

Comparisons also show that Mitchell County businesses, including 53 names added, 40 names deleted and 30 changes in the ratings of continuing businesses.

Using the listings as a guide, it is interesting to review what has happened in the three principal Mitchell County communities during the past year.

Colorado City had an increase of 13 listings, Loraine had a decrease of 2 and Westbrook had a decrease of 1.

Other changes were noted in the listings of some of the

Truck, Auto Wreck Hurts Midland Man

One person was injured in a truck - car collision early Monday morning on Interstate 20 Freeway 12 miles west of Colorado City.

James Bowen, 21, of Midland received a cut lip, head cuts and mouth injuries.

Bowen was driving a 1954 Pontiac sedan which collided with the rear of a 1959 model Chevrolet truck driven by Ignacio Gonzales of San Benito.

State Highway Patrolman Buddy Hertenberger, who investigated the accident, said the Midland man apparently went to sleep while driving behind the truck.

The accident happened at 1:45 a. m. Sight damage was listed to the truck.

At the same time Caddell revealed that District Attorney Eldon Mahon will be master of ceremonies for the banquet.

VANDALS YANK CIVIC SHRUBS

Colorado City Garden Club's project to improve the outside appearance of Civic House is having its troubles.

Vandals or just plain thieves are sabotaging the project.

Mrs. Ruth Airhart reported that half dozen shrubs had been pulled from the ground in front of the building and carried away. The shrubs had been planted by Garden Club members between the sidewalk and building as a beautification project.

All the plants stolen from the Civic House were on the Elm Street side near the main entrance.

Police have been notified of the vandalism, but Mrs. Airhart said Garden Club women are hopeful that those responsible for the damage will understand the building and shrub plantings are community improvements and cease the vandalism.

Try These Recipes For All Occasions

Mrs. O. L. Simpson of the Fairview Club reports her favorite recipe and method of making homemade ice cream.

Use these ingredients 6 eggs and beat together with 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, 1 cup sugar, 1 can eagle brand milk, 1 can carnation milk, ½ gallon milk or enough to fill freezer bowl). 1 can pineapple or other crushed fruit can be added if desired.

Mrs. Will Berry also of the Fairview Club describes a recipe that can be used on any occassion during the coming new year.

To make a raisin nut spice cake use these ingredients, 1 cup white sugar, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup buttermilk, 2 and 1/3 cups flour, 2/3 cups butter, 3 egg yolks, ½ cup raisins, ½ cup pecans, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 3/4 teaspoon cloves, 3/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 and ½ teaspoons cinnamon.

Cream butter and sugar then add egg yolks and milk and alternate with flour, soda and spices. Add then the stiffly beaten egg whites and bake in a loaf or layer pans in a moderate oven.

Mrs. Berry suggests that you then use your favorite filling for the cake.

RACE—

of Mitchell County in the 1960 Democratic Primary election, I wish to say that I have been a resident of Mitchell County for 39 years, that I am married and have 2 children.

"I have had 5 years of experience as a deputy sheriff in this county from 1951 to 1955," McGuire continued, "and having had such experience, I feel I am qualified for this office.

"If elected, I will serve the duties of this sheriff's office to the best of my ability, executing fairness, impartiality and courtesy at all times.

"Therefore, I sincerely and earnestly solicit your support in the coming Democratic Primary Election," McGuire concluded.

Gregory, who four years ago led a field of 4 candidates in the primary and then won re-election in the Second Primary runoff; stated Thursday:

"I offer myself to the voters and ask for re-election to the office of sheriff of Mitchell County.

"I pledge myself to continue to serve the people as I have in the past." Gregory continued, "and if re-elected there will be no change in the basic principles of the administration of this office.

"But where knowledge from past experience is gained, it will be applied to the best interests of the people when the opportunity presents itself.

"I further pledge to enforce the law and to conduct the affairs of the sheriff's office with propriety at all times.

"I sincerely appreciate the help I have received in the past campaigns and earnestly solicit your active support.

"The services of this office are extended to you at all times and I trust I may be of service in the future," Gregory concluded.

Suspicious of why the pickup would be this far from home, the owner flagged it down.

And the thief, about 18 years old, bareheaded, dressed in blue jeans and a green jacket, graciously turned the vehicle back to its rightful owner.

The trucker let the youth walk away and declined to file charges. Police, in the meantime, are holding a barrack's bag full of clothes they wish the thief would come and carry away.

Wolves Seek to Shake Losing Habit in Meet

Colorado City High Wolves spurted in the third scoring 21 points to C-City's 13, and that held off the Wolves' fourth period rally.

Playing in Lubbock's big Caprock tournament during the Christmas holidays, the Wolves dropped a 44 to 61 decision to AAAA Monterrey High of Lubbock despite the fact that Haley was high point man with 30 points.

In their second encounter, Coach Matthews' lads treated the Lubbock Coliseum crowd to the highest scoring spree of the entire tournament as they battled Hereford, only to be nipped 82 to 85.

Haley and his teammate Jerry Kendrick hit the basket for 29 and 22 points respectively, to lead all scorers.

FORD'S ECONOMY TWINS FOR 1960

The Economy Choice of a lifetime—Two new Fords...Two new low-price fields...

Two wonderful new ways to go 'The Finest'

THE 1960 FORD FALCON

Now there's both a new economy size Ford and a large economy-size Ford.

The new economy size is the Ford Falcon—America's lowest-priced 6-passenger car. It's up to $124 less than other 6-passenger cars in the compact field. It goes up to 30 miles on a gallon of regular gas. Servicing is easy and repair costs are low. You can even save up to 15% on your insurance.

And the Falcon is the one American compact car that is thoroughly proved for American driving. Three rooms for 6 people—luggage and all.

THE 1960 FORD FAIRLANE 500

Now consider the large economy-size Ford, the Fairlane 500. Here is the most car per dollar ever built.

The Fairlane 500 brings you fine-car styling, luxury and comfort, yet it offers Falcon economies like regular gas, 4,000-mile oil changes, double-life aluminized mufflers, and no more waxing. Like the Falcon, too, it brings you big price news: $112 less than last year's popular Fairlane 500!

Come see, come save, come pick the Ford economy twin that saves and serves you best. Visiting hours as usual at your Ford Dealer's.

Community Spirit Prompts Conferences

For the second time within recent weeks Commissioners Court and representatives of Colorado City's City Council have talked community business in the Courthouse.

The meetings have been informal — without fanfare, theatrics, pomp or ceremony.

Both were the type you would like — straight, sincere talk just the way you would approach a problem with a fellow business man, rancher or farmer.

To be frank about it all, neither of the 2 conferences have been earth shaking. No mountains have been moved, no governmental miracles have been worked. Nothing of the sort.

But the 2 groups of leaders for our local government have talked over a community problem, looked at the problem from each other's viewpoint and searched for the best answer compatible to both the city and county.

There has been no secrecy, no closed doors, no attempt to hide the meetings or the topic of discussion — an airport to serve the business, agricultural and industrial needs of Colorado City and all Mitchell County.

Just exactly what will be derived from the joint conference is unknown. At this stage it is too early even to speculate.

But this much is apparent: City officials walked across the street and asked county officials if they would be willing to assist with an airport construction project. And the commissioners replied they would seriously study the proposal.

From the first meeting came the conference Tuesday when commissioners outlined in general a plan they possibly could help with equipment, men and materials if the city could purchase the site and accomplish other major portions of the job, too.

Nothing earth shaking, you can plainly see. But the proposition has been talked over in friendly, earnest and cooperative manner. Both governmental bodies evidence serious consideration.

And both have stated emphatically they desire to extend the study to the fartherest point — to actual facts and figures to determine if the job can be accomplished as a joint city-county project.

At the same time, the officials have emphasized they will move beyond the study phase into actual construction only if the project is compatible to each of their respective interests — city or county.

Maybe the joint airport talk will end with only words and paper figures. But sitting in at the 2 conferences you get the impression both the councilmen and the commissioners recognize the need of airport facilities, appraise the importance and value of the facilities for the entire county community, and are not going to be sidetracked by trivalities.

That's the way it should be, because there is no place for partisanship when the community's welfare is at stake.

Miss Is a Forfeit

Voters are having an early look at candidates they will vote for or against in elections this year. Campaigns are officially opening here on the home front as well as state and national.

But whether most persons will be eligible to vote in the elections stretching from spring into late fall depends upon actions of individual citizens this month.

Poll taxes, the legal requirement for voting in Texas unless there are specified exemptions, must be obtained before Feb. 1. That means the last day for obtaining poll tax receipt will be Jan. 31.

More than two-thirds of the county's eligible voting population still must obtain poll taxes before the deadline. If you are one who misses, then you forfeit your right to vote.

Return Trips Are Retailer Payoffs

By ROY V. FOX
Record Co-Publisher

The whole value of advertising to a retailer can not be judged on the basis of immediate sales of an advertised product.

True, returns on advertising are often immediate and obvious. However, the major aim of retail advertising should be to increase overall store traffic.

Usually when a customer enters a store to look at an advertised product, he will buy other things before he leaves.

More important: when advertising draws a consumer to a store one time, there is a good chance that he will return in the future.

An advertisement featuring a one dollar item may cause a shopper to come to a store in the first place. Often, however, the full value of the advertisement is not realized until that same shopper has spent perhaps hundreds of dollars on return trips.

"Day to day returns on individual ads mean little to us. We have learned that our total sales show a decline when we cut advertising, and that the sales curve rises when advertising is increased."

He said that it was most important to understand that a reduction in advertising by a store reduces the sales of all types of goods, including products that are never advertised.

Buying in 1960 will be stimulated by the appearance of many new and improved products. In the automotive and home appliance industries, product development amounts to a revolution.

These attractive new products will draw increasing amounts of consumer money into circulation. The increased advertising budgets of national manufacturers is a partial insurance that the improved goods will be sold.

On the local Colorado City retail level, although opportunities will be greater, competition will be more intense during 1960. Nearly every dealer will have something new and better to sell including a variety of foreign goods. Towns up and down the highways will seek the Colorado City buyer. Thus, local advertising will be critical to the success of the individual merchant.

Most retailers will find that increased advertising budgets will be necessary for keeping their share of the market. For the consumer will spend his money for the new products only after he receives adequate information.

So, we predict that the merchant who makes the most thorough advertising effort will gain the best rewards from a prosperous 1960.

FOR 200 STATE AGENCIES

Board of Control's Shopping Chore Spirals to $80 Million

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

State Capital NEWS

If you are adding up the Christmas bills and wondering what all that money was spent for, then consider the task of the Board of Control.

This relatively small state department is personal shopper for 200 state agencies. During the past fiscal year it selected the goods and paid the bills for purchases totaling $80,000,000.

These millions went for more items than the average citizen can imagine. Everyone realizes that it requires tons of paper, thousands of filing cabinets, typewriters, desks and chairs to run the state's business . . . but

Ever wonder how much yellow paint it takes to put a stripe down the highway from Amarillo to Brownsville?

Board of Control staff knows just how much to get for a given stretch of road and sees to it that the paint has little glass beads ground up into it to reflect your auto headlights at night. Just the other day they bought $100,000 worth of the little glass beads, alone.

* * *

Board of Control buys all the state's automobiles as well as trucks, tractors, motor scooters, motor graders, snow plows and school buses for schools receiving state aid). Last week they purchased $326,000 worth of new Plymouths.

It buys the industrial machinery with which the state prison system makes the state license plates. It buys the paper for your drivers license and pays for the printing.

It also buys buttons and zippers and shoes and socks and surgical tools and skin diving suits.

* * *

It's a list that sounds unbelievable until the use for each item is run down. Clothing and repair needs for the apparel of the thousands of persons in state hospitals and schools must be bought by the Board of Control. State hospitals use surgical equipment. Game and Fish Commission uses boats and skin diving equipment in its inspection work.

If the State School for Girls at Gainesville starts a pottery class, Board of Control buys the clay. If the prison builds a new prison building, Board of Control scouts around for the best buy in steel barred doors.

Board of Control itself is a big user of paper. In the past fiscal year it processed 450,000 invoices. Nine employes handled these at the rate of 1,921 a day. It takes 15,000 envelopes to handle an average weekly mailing of bid invitations to suppliers.

* * *

It's all done according to a very businesslike system. Purchases are consolidated, standardized, scheduled, bid on and checked for specifications, value and performance.

Yet all this procedure doesn't kill the element of human enjoyment. Director Burke recounts with relish the million printed envelopes just bought for a large state department at $2.80 a thousand. That's less than the usual cost of unprinted envelopes.

Comparable pleasure can be found in housewives who have just found diapers at a dollar a dozen or tomato juice at five cents a can.

Board of Control is about to have its 40th anniversary. It began operation in 1920 after a statute passed in 1919 combined in one agency a number of state functions.

It is topped by a part time policy making board whose three members serve overlapping six year terms. They are appointed by the governor.

* * *

Present board members are E.E. McAdams of Austin, chairman; F. H. Flewellen of Austin and C. F. McAuliff of Dallas.

Binder is executive director as the top administrative officer. Under him are five divisions set up on what he terms "a check and balance system."

A specification division works out requirements for items to be bought. Purchasing division buys them. Administrative services division handles the clerical work. Inspection division has a team of "watchdogs" who go over the state to check new purchases to be sure they're what they should be.

A fifth division, building engineering and management, sees to a staggering list of housekeeping chores for the Capitol and state buildings. When the buildings now under way or being planned around the Capitol are finished, the Board of Control anticipates operating a heating system that will put out 60,000 pounds of steam heat an hour and an air conditioning system of 2,750 tons.

It also sees to the upkeep of the Governor's Mansion, the San Jacinto and Fannin State Parks and the State Cemetery. It handles the rentals for state offices outside of Austin which do not have state quarters. Last year this required 356,000 square feet of office space.

* * *

TOP FIVE. Five young Texans selected as "the most outstanding" of 1959 will be honored at a dinner in Austin Jan. 9. Sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the selection is made annually by a judging committee.

This year's honorees: Sam H. Burris of Alice, Angus Dickson Jr. of Comanche County, Noah Kennedy Jr. of Corpus Christi, Porter Loring Jr. of San Antonio, and Thomas S. Mackey of Texas City.

TEXAS AGRICULTURE

How Real Are Our Farm Surpluses?

By JOHN C. WHITE
Agriculture Commissioner

There is so much talk and so much alarm spread about the billions of dollars U. S. taxpayers now have invested in agricultural surpluses through farm price supports that many of our people fail to recognize that surpluses are a relatively small part of total farm output.

In recent years these surpluses have represented only five to eight per cent of annual production.

Now as to those billions of dollars U. S. taxpayers have tied up in agricultural surpluses: In the 25 years from 1933 to 1958, farm price support losses have cost the taxpayers $5,173,746,788, an average of about $200 million — not billions — per year.

In the same period of time, the House Committee on Appropriations has reported, business reconversion payments by the government in tax allowances, tax adjustments, tax rebates and many other types of so-called "reconversion payments" have amounted to $43,362,000,000 — more than eight times as much.

In one 10-year period, from 1946 to 1956, mail and postoffice subsidies alone amounted to $5,968,000,000, more than farm price support losses for the entire 25 years. In the 20 years from 1938 through 1957, subsidies to maritime organizations to keep U. S. ships sailing the seas cost the taxpayers $3,500,000,000.

It must always be borne in mind that the $6.8 billion dollars the government now has invested in farm surplus products on hand, mainly wheat, corn and cotton, can by no means be written off as a loss. The stocks are in storage, most of them will finally be sold, and experience has demonstrated that the eventual rate of recovery will be relatively high.

A hundred years ago, in 1860, this was a nation of only 32 million people. Today our population is nearly 180 million, more than five times as many. But the number of farm workers in the U. S. now about 7 million is virtually the same today as it was back in 1860.

From 1920 to 1940, production of all farm products rose about one-fifth, while land in cultivation stayed the same and farm employment dropped almost a fifth.

In the 20 years since 1940 we have raised our total agricultural output by more than half. Farm employment has fallen by one-third. Farm output per man-hour has doubled.

With all this, the fact remains that in recent years our farm surpluses have represented only five to eight per cent of annual production. This means that most of the increase in farm output achieved during the past 20 years has been vitally necessary production — production we had to have to meet the requirements of our fast-growing and generally prosperous population.

Population experts are now projecting this growth in population to forecast a total of some 230 million people in the U. S. by 1975, nearly double the population of 1930.

SHINNERY PHILOSOPHER

Loafing Perks Up For Leisure Idea

* * *

Dear editor:

I started the new year off successfully, a business man in Colorado City gave me a 1960 calendar wrapped in a copy of The Colorado City Record and since I don't pay much attention to a new calendar, haven't used my old one yet, I layed it aside and tackled the newspaper, as soon as I got home and got my feet propped up.

According to an article in it, a University of Chicago Professor has done a lot of research on modern man and has come up with the conclusion that man's goal now is leisure, that the idea that work is the most creative expression of man's daily life is obsolete, and the educational institutions must re-examine their principles and "gear education to the use of leisure time."

I won't go into his ideas on work. That's out of my field, but I'll admit it's news to me that this college professor seems to think you have to be educated to loaf.

When I look back on my "education," I don't seem to recall that it was geared for leisure. What loafing I've managed to do, in school or out, was accomplished on my own.

If educators are setting out to teach people how to enjoy their leisure time, I believe I could hire out as a professor right now.

The trouble with college professors when they start theorizing about modern man is that they stump their toe before they get started.

His mass production is better organized, his social life is better organized, his wars are better organized, his crime is better organized, his schools are better organized, his tax-gathering is better organized, his charity is better organized, his games are better organized; but when it comes to loafing, I prefer mine unorganized.

If I've got time to spend studying how to loaf, I believe I'd prefer to use it loafing. Some people just can't be education.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

BIBLE COMMENT

Unity of Peoples Needed for Peace

The Bible makes unpleasant reading sometimes.

It can be annoying. Its words serve to remind us of our mistakes. They outline our petty hatreds — putting them into black and white words that we can see, and be ashamed of.

Perhaps this is why so many of us seldom or never read this Book.

Consider this thought that appears in three places in the Bible:

"They shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation; neither shall they learn war any more."

This passage carries all the significance of a telegram mailed to each person who reads it.

But have we done anything to make it come true?

Have we merely sat back content to let peace negotiations up to the diplomats. Or have we, through our churches and civic organizations let it be known that, truly, "war has become too serious a business to be left to generals"?

Nobody wants war. Men differ, however, in their ideas of the meaning of peace.

"Peace, with honor," and countless other chauvanistic phrases have led millions to their deaths.

There can be no peace unless Christian men and women everywhere work for a form of international order which has no place in it for armies, generals, munitions makers and cheap phrase makers.

Atrocities, murder and pillage have been condoned for thousands of years under the guise of "military necessity." Christians have been derelict in their obligation for centuries of confusion or helplessness.

Ten Word INTELLIGRAM

How many states can you identify from their official flowers and birds?

1—Pasque, ringneck pheasant.
2—Bluebonnett, mockingbird.
3—Yucca, roadrunner.
4—Pine cone, chickadee.
5—Trailing arbutus, chickadee.
6—Rose, eastern bluebird.
7—Forget-me-not, ptarmigan.
8—Goldenrod, cardinal.
9—Orange blossom, mockingbird.
10—Violet, Rhode Island red.

Count 10 for each correct choice. A score of 0-10 is poor; 10-30, fair; 30-50, good; 50-100, excellent.

AT PALACE THEATRE

'The Jayhawkers' Starts Sunday

Opening Sunday at the Palace Theatre will be "The Jayhawkers" with action as sweeping as the Kansas plains against which this exciting movie is set.

Starring in "The Jayhawkers" is Jeff Chandler, who will be seen in the role of Luke Darcy, who imagines himself an American Napoleon, with the Territory known as Kansas his domain; Fess Parker, who portrays Cam Bleeker, an ex-soldier whose own freedom depends upon his capture of the outlaw chief of the Jayhawkers, and who is further motivated by a desire to avenge the death of his wife for which he believes Chandler is responsible.

The woman in the case is Nicole Maurey, who portrays a young widow with two children, a true pioneer who falls in love with Parker and influences the course he finally takes in a climatic scene that is filled with excitement and suspense.

Henry Silva has the co-starring role of Chandler's villainous henchman.

"The Jayhawkers" tells the story of a self-styled 'American Napoleon' determined to carve an empire for himself out of the Territory of Kansas and those who deflected his course.

Texas has been the leading mineral-producing state since 1935.

Chelo Alonso portrays the daughter of a barbarian duke. She is captured by Goliath while hunting in the hills, and they fall in love.

When he is captured by the barbarians, but instead of death he is given the Ordeal of Truth, with freedom if he succeeds in the gruelling tests. He succeeds, but an underhenchman still seeks his death. Reeves steals the royal crown, but when destruction of his village is ordered, he offers to exchange crown for life of his people. The crown is returned, but the barbarians renege. In the ensuing battle villagers gain revenge.

GARDNER'S ALMANACK

Winter Tips for Flowers, Trees

(Editor's Note: The following article is another in a series prepared by Colorado City Garden Club especially for Record readers as an aid to local home beautification.)

By KATHRYN HOLLEY
C-City Garden Club

Winter is rushing by on the calendar, but it still is not too late to plan daffodils.

* * *

Another hurry-up tip: If there is space for a bluebonnet patch at home, plant the seeds now.

And spray dormant fruit trees now. If this is put off until spring arrives, it will be too late to use a dormant spray. It is more economical to prune and then spray.

* * *

When pruning trees, the first step is to cut out perpendicular limbs. This will give the tree an open center that will let in sunshine, thus assuring greater vitality to the tree.

Limbs should be cut close to the trunk without leaving any stubs. Cut out all downhanging limbs. Remove the weaker of two limbs that cross, thus preventing them from rubbing together.

* * *

How about making feeding stations for the birds?

For a good wild bird food add any or all of the following to melted suet: millet, sunflower seeds, raisins, cornmeal, oatmeal, rice, cracked corn, chopped peanuts and cooked noodles or spaghetti.

Pour this mixture into molds to form cakes while still warm.

It can be poured into empty cocoanut shells and hung from wires or pine cones can be dipped into this mixture, then hung from trees.

MMES. MUNS, WILSON

Dinners Honor Pair With 185 Birthdays

LORAINE — Two of Loraine's oldest citizens celebrated their birthdays New Year's Day at dinners hosted by their families.

They were Mrs. J. S. Muns and Mrs. H. B. Wilson, whose ages total 185 years.

Mrs. Muns was 92 Dec. 31 and Mrs. Wilson counted her 93rd birthday Jan. 1.

Both are long time residents of the area, long time friends and members of the Smiley Class of First Methodist Church. Infact, their church association began in the early 1900's and they visited often with each other until failing health a few years ago.

Mrs. Muns was born in Alabama and was married to the late J. S. Muns in the late 1880's.

They moved to Mitchell County in 1901 and bought a half section of land 4 miles north of Loraine near the Lone Wolf Mountain at $3.50 per acre. They and their five children lived there for many years. Part of the land is still owned by Mrs. Muns.

After their children were all married the Muns bought a home in Loraine and moved to this in 1920. Mr. Muns died in 1926.

Mrs. Muns was honored with dinner at the home of a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Mahon, Friday, a day following her birthday date so all her family could be here for the fete.

Mrs. Muns also has 10 grandchildren and 26 great grandchildren. Her other daughter, sons, son-in-law and daughters-in-law are Mr. and Mrs. Horace Newton of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Muns of Loraine, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Muns and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Muns of Sweetwater and all were present.

For the past few months Mrs. Muns has been confined to her wheelchair most of the time, but enjoys watching television and guests coming to see her.

Mrs. Wilson, the former Della Sandlin, was born Jan. 1, 1868 at Athens, Texas, the oldest of her two sisters and three brothers living.

She was married to H. B. Wilson in 1888 in Alabama and 12 years later they moved to Texas, settling near Weatherford. They moved to Mitchell County in 1906 and bought a farm 1½ miles southeast of Loraine, which now is owned by the oldest daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Butler.

Mr. Wilson died in 1939 and Mrs. Wilson continued to live on her farm until 1943, when she sold it to her daughter and son-in-law and built a home on the lot adjoining the Butlers, where she still lives.

Mrs. Wilson is the mother of 76 direct descendants, including eight children, 22 grandchildren and 46 great-grandchildren.

The birthday celebration has been an annual affair for the Wilson family for several years and is hosted each year by some of the family.

Hosting the dinner last Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilson of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Wilson of Sweetwater.

Other children and in-laws present were Mr. and Mrs. Edison Wilson of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Elliott of Colorado City; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. Butler Loraine, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Martin, Abilene.

Also present were 18 of the 22 grandchildren and 35 of the great-grandchildren and several other relatives and friends. Towns represented were Abilene, Colorado City, Midland, Big Spring, Lubbock, Fort Worth, Fluvanna, Denver Colo., and Sulpher, La.

Farmers Need To Check SS Numbers Now

This is a good time for Mitchell County farmers to make certain they have correct social security numbers for all their employees, R. R. Tuley, manager of the Abilene District Social Security office, said Thursday.

He added that farm wages are reported on a yearly basis. The report covering employees who worked in 1959 must be filed with the Director of Internal Revenue during January 1960.

The report, Tuley explained, must be filed for (1) any employee who was paid $150 or more in cash wages during the year or (2) any individual who worked on 20 or more days in 1959 for cash wages figured on a time basis (for instance, by the hour, day, week, etc.) regardless of the total earnings for the year.

There was a sharp increase in the number and quality of reports filed by area farmers last year. Correct and complete reporting helps guarantee that the employee receives full social security credit for the work he has done, Tuley said.
