IT'S HEAVENLY

Bob Bernardy, chairman of Rockport's Seafair VI prepares to bite into a "St. Peter's Seafood Sandwich" — a "Heavenly" treat that will be sold by members of St. Peter's Episcopal Church during Seafair. A blend of fish, shrimp, crab and St. Peter's own "secret sauce," the sandwich will be just one of the tast-tempting delights offered during the two-day Seafair. Bernardy urges visitors to Seafair to "stay for lunch" at one or more of the food booths — and pronounced the Seafood Sandwich "good to the last bite." [Pilot Photo by Pat Blair]

Seafair VI Begins Saturday

If you enjoy a day--or two--filled with music, parades, arts, crafts, games, boats, food, races of all kinds, beer and soft drinks--you'll love Rockport's Seafair VI.

Kicking off the events Saturday is the land parade, which will go through downtown Rockport and end at Rockport Beach where all the excitement will be waiting to get underway and continue until 6 p.m.

At 1:30 a Water Ski Show will be held in the Ski Basin, and at 2:30 the annual Crab-Beauty Contest will be held at the water's edge west of the beer tent.

Incorporated with the 3 p.m. Air-Sea Rescue Demonstration will be a parachute jump and onlookers might want to step back a bit and give the four parachutists a little room to plunge. The jump is new to Seafair and features four well-qualified parachutists.

A Water Ski Show in the ski basin at 3:30 p.m. is on tap just before the gumbo judging.

The World Champion Gumbo Cook-off is one of the highlights of the two day celebration and cooks from all over the state will be here to vie for the championship title.

Gumbo Awards will be given at 5 p.m. each day, and the delicacy will be auctioned off with the proceeds going to the Aransas County Emergency Corps.

A Water Ski Show at 5:30 will end Saturday's activities.

Making music for the two days of fun will be the Rockport-Fulton High School Band, which will will play at noon following the flag ceremony. Los Bravos and Bill Bar and the Sons of Texas will entertain on the main stage from 1

Warriors Wait For Pirates

By Bob Crawford

Tuloso-Midway lost a heartbreaker last week just as the Pirates did. If teams hold grudges, then the Pirates will have their hands full this week as they travel to Tuloso-Midway to battle with the Warriors.

A year ago in the final game of the season, the Pirates ambushed the Warriors on the very same field where the two teams play this week. Some nifty kicking by David Williams on some on-side kicks led the way to the Pirate victory. TM hasn't forgotten.

Add to this reason for revenge their loss of the game last week to West Oso when they had the game sewn up, and you have the ingredients for one mad football team.

Rockport-Fulton, meanwhile, let a victory slip through their fingers like quicksilver as they dropped a 14-7 decision to Robstown after the Pirates had been in control the first half and led 7-6. The Pirates blew their chances with less than heady ball playing, and put themselves on the Christmas list for a copy of "How To Defense Against the Pass."

The Pirates were victimized by an outstanding passing performance by DeJuan Oakes who went to Aransas County residents flocked into the bank's lobby to enjoy refreshments, sign up for the Savings Bonds being given away and look at the exhibits of old photos and artifacts.

For the youngsters, "Mr. Buttons," the clown was on hand to give away balloons and bags of popcorn.

On Tuesday at 1:30 p.m., the choir from Live Oak Elementary School entertained bank patrons, and another choir is scheduled at the bank at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, October 9.

Kleypas Takes First Place In Contest

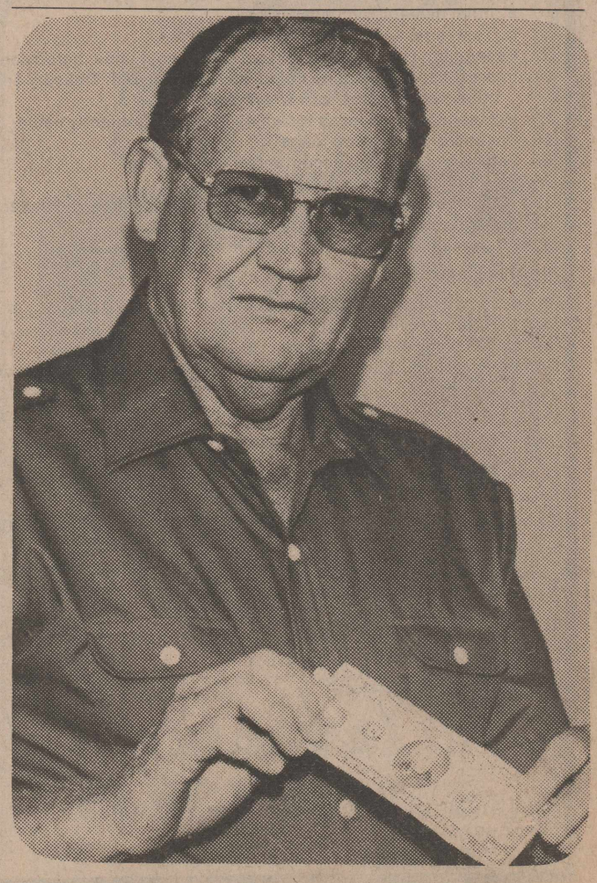

Vernon Kleypas took the top money — $20 — in this week's Football Contest — but it took the tie-breaker to do it.

All three of this week's money-winners picked 12 of the winning teams correctly, but Kleypas edged out his competition by predicting Rockport would fall to Robstown by a score of 7 to 20.

Robstown actually took Rockport by 14 to 7, which meant Kleypas came within six points of hitting the final score.

The second-place entry, Jesus F. Villa, picked Rockport to defeat Robstown 16-7, and the third-place winner, Loyd D. French prediced a final score of the Pirates 27 to Robstown's 17.

A new game is in today's Pilot, so sharpen your pendils and get ready. You could be the next winner.

RE: Designation of a Commercial Zone For the Corpus Christi Area
Dear Mr. Carter:

Joe Saldivar, owner and operator of City Delivery Service & Storage Company of Corpus Christi, will soon file with the Texas Railroad Commission an application requesting the Railroad Commission to designate an commercial zone around the City of Corpus Christi. The proposed zone would include the cities of Corpus Christi, Robstown, Portland, Gregory, Ingleside, Aransas Pass, Port Aransas, Rockport and Fulton. For simplicity we will ask for inclusion of all Nueces County, all of San Patricio County, and the Rockport and Fulton beach areas.

Mr. Saldivar seeks the designation of this commercial zone so that he, and any others wishing to do so, may offer delivery service within that zone without any further action by the Railroad Commission to regulate who may offer delivery services or the tariffs which they must charge for their services. Further details as to the nature of the proposed commercial zone are provided on the enclosed information sheet.

Mr. Saldivar believes that the designation of a commercial zone for the Corpus Christi area is an important step forward which will result in better transportation services for the entire Corpus Christi area. However, in order to win the designation of such a zone, Mr. Saldivar needs the support of a great many persons and groups within the proposed zone. For this reason, he would like to ask you to examine the enclosed information sheet and consider the way in which the designation of such a zone would benefit you and the entire area. If, having considered the matter, you can support Mr. Saldivar's efforts, please contact me by letter or telephone so that we may include your views when the Railroad Commission hearing is held later this fall in Corpus Christi.

If you would like any further information or want to discuss the matter in greater detail, please call or write me at your earliest convenience.

Yours very truly,
s/Jeptha P. Hill

The year is 1913 and a new Bell telephone begins ringing throughout the land.
Ah, those were the days...

Now you can relive those days with Southwestern Bell's new Country Junction* telephone — a happy blend of yesterday's spirit with today's technology.

Lovingly handcrafted in natural oak and antiqued nickel trim, the Country Junction phone is a classic that blends with period settings and makes an attractive statement with the crisp, cool lines of contemporary taste.

No matter where the telephone is placed — kitchen, den, family room, living area — this is a phone that will be seen and admired. Because it has modular components, installing it is as easy as hanging a picture.

In a busy, bustling world, the Country Junction telephone is a pleasant reminder of those times when all phone conversations began with the voice that smiled.

Rockport Woman Named To Reagan-Bush Committee

AUSTIN — Alvino Valenzuela of Rockport has been appointed to the Statewide Steering Committee of Democrats and Independents for Reagan-Bush, Governor Bill Clements, state campaign chairman in Texas, said.

The Governor said that before the November 4 election more than 2,000 Texas Democrats and independents will publicly endorse Governor Ronald Reagan and Ambassador George Bush.

Prominent Texas Democrats who have already endorsed the Reagan-Bush ticket include former Texas Governors Allan Shivers and Preston Smith, former Lieutenant Governor Ben Barnes of Brownwood, and former Speakers of the Texas House of Representatives Reuben Senterfitt of San Saba and Jim Lindsey of Texarkana.

Governor Smith, who served two terms as Texas' chief executive, said, "As of this date, our federal government is involved in our personal and family lives more than our forefathers ever dreamed. It is time for us to do whatever possible to halt this trend."

He added, "My political and governmental beliefs have not changed. I am not switching parties, and neither am I switching my governmental philosophy. I am now and always have been a conservative Democrat."

Democratic State Senator Bill Meier of Fort Worth, who is chairman of the Statewide Steering Committee of Democrats and Independents for Reagan-Bush said, "Four years ago, many Texas Democrats energetically campaigned for Jimmy Carter. Today, many of those same Democrats are bitterly disappointed with the President's performance in office."

Coal comes to South Texas
CPL turns to new fuel sources to generate electricity

Central Power and Light Company is now operating its first coal-fired power plant, Coleto Creek Power Station.

Coal and nuclear plants will provide an increasingly large share of the electricity used by CPL customers in the years ahead—more than 40% by the late 1980s. We must use these two fuels if we are to continue reliable service to South Texas.

Coleto Creek Power Station, located between Goliad and Victoria

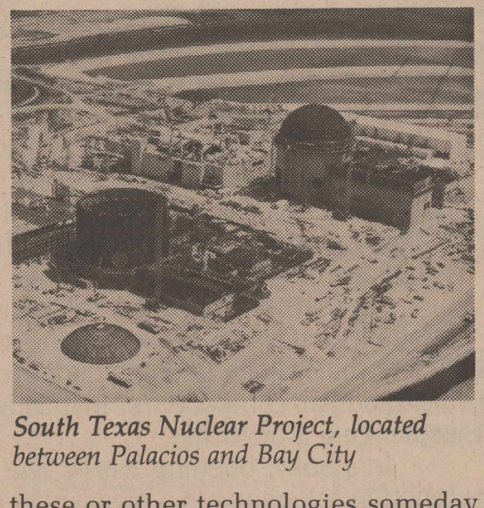

We have no option. The Public Utility Commission of Texas has announced that it will not approve the construction of any new gas-fired plants for making electricity. And, the federal Power Plant and Industrial Fuel Use Act of 1978 prohibits even existing power plants from using natural gas as a primary energy source after January 1, 1990.

Although Coleto Creek is CPL's first coal-fired plant, it won't be the last. In fact, a second coal unit for Coleto Creek is already on the drawing boards.

And, South Texas Project, the nuclear plant in which CPL is a participant, is scheduled to begin supplying power in the mid-1980s.

Future energy sources

In cooperation with research agencies and other utilities, CPL is studying three new possible energy sources for long-range use: gasification of solid or heavy fuels, nuclear fusion and geothermal wells. We hope that these or other technologies someday will prove economically feasible.

South Texas Nuclear Project, located between Palacios and Bay City

Meanwhile, CPL must depend on new coal and nuclear plants to assure an adequate supply of electricity for its customers.

Hints For Homeowners

DRYERS

Dryers are efficient work savers that can handle all types of fabrics from heavy denim blue jeans to permanent press items—washable knits and delicate garments to room air temperature drying for items such as plastics that cannot stand heat.

Here's some advice from Whirlpool home economists to help you get the best drying results from your dryer:

• Remove clothes immediately when the cycle ends. This is especially critical when drying permanent press or synthetic fiber items because when warm clothes fall to the bottom of the dryer drum, the heat may cause wrinkles to set.

• Avoid overdrying. Overdrying can cause shrinkage. The natural composition of fibers includes moisture that should not be removed. When clothes are dry to the feel or have a slight trace of dampness, remove them.

• Avoid drying heavy items like terry towels with lightweight items like lingerie. By the time the towels are dry, the slips will be overdried.

Natural gas energy

In 1920 only 4 percent of the nation's energy came from natural gas. Today the share approaches 35 percent.

Rotarians Learn All They Ever Wanted To Know About Beer

By Dave Crooks

With a history of at least 6,000 years, beer is perhaps the oldest prepared drink known to man according to Ray L. Krewet, sales training manager for the Lone Star Brewing Company and speaker at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club Wednesday, October 1.

Ancient pottery depicts the brewing and serving of beer, Krewet told those at the Sandollar Restaurant meeting. He added the drink was being brewed from the time man started to plant and raise grain.

It is known that Egyptians, Babylonians and Greeks made beer and used it as a beverage-food from earliest recorded times, he said.

The Saxons used beer on ceremonial occasions. They also introduced it to the early inhabitants of the British Isles. There the first brewery was set up in 1340 by order of the queen and the original building is still standing, according to Krewet.

An early medicinal use of beer was to help prevent scurvy among British seamen on long voyages. Columbus' ships carried beer to the New World as did the Mayflower, which was reported to have had 40 casks of ale aboard, Krewet told Rotarians.

John Cooper opened the first brewery in New Amsterdam in 1642, and he was instrumental in having the first street in that settlement paved with cobblestones to permit passage of heavy beer wagons on otherwise muddy streets.

According to Krewet, Samuel Adams and his son were both brewers, patrick Henry was a bartender and George Washington was reported to have been concerned that his soldiers received their allotted quart of beer daily.

Louis Pasteur of France developed the process of pasteurization with financing fron wine and beer makers of France, who were seeking some process to keep their products from spoiling.

Krewet explained that yeast was the ingredient that gave different brands of beer their distinctive flavor, adding that the strain of yeast used by Lone Star today was brought to this country from Europe 40 years ago and is essentially the same today that it was then.

Other firsts for the brewing industry were an ice machine sued in a New Orleans brewery in 1850 and an air conditioned building built for a brewery in Virginia in 1880.

Prior to National Prohibition there were 1,250 breweries in the United States. This dropped to about 325 during prohibition and then increased to more than 2,000 after repeal with a total output of some nine and a half million barrels a year.

Today there about 60 breweries in operation but their total production is much greater.

Krewet explained that all beer now produced in the United States is "lager" beer, derived from a German word meaning "to store."

American brewers generally age their beer 30 to 40 days, he explained, adding that "pilsner" beer is a form of lager beer that is lighter and more palatable.

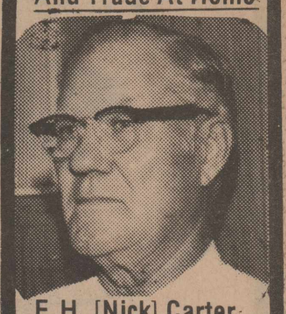

Ale generally has a little higher alcoholic content than beer, he added. "Light" beer is less fattening because it contains less alcohol than standard beer.

Lady Pirates Beat G-P

By Bob Crawford

After suffering two straight defeats, can you come out with a positive attitude? The answer is "YES" according to Coach Tom Chrobocinski, mentor of the Lady Pirate Volleyball Team.

Two weeks ago the Ladies went to Refugio for a tournament. In the first round they were beaten by Sinton in two of three games. Then came Gregory-Portland. In their first game, the Wildkittens blasted the Lady Pirates 15-0. "The situation seemed a bit on the bad side. We had lost two key players to injuries, GP was bombing us, and it didn't look good," said Chrobocinski. The second game started out much as the first had gone, but then things began falling into shape, and before the game was over, the Lady Pirates ha fought back, throwing the match into extra points before losing 17-19. Coach Chrobocinski pointed out that the comeback and refusal to quit was a big turning point in the season for his team. "We gained confidence and came out with a positive attitude that we could play with any team," added the coach.

Following the tournament, the Lady Pirates took on the GP team again, but this time with better results. The Ladies came from behind in the third game to wipe out GP and win their first district match.

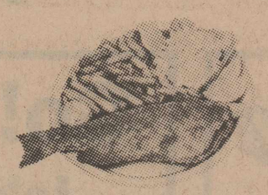

Next on the list was the team from Flour Bluff. Following the same mold, the Lady Pirates fought from way behind to pull out the victory.

As an overall observation, Coach Chrobocinski offered, "We feel we're finally putting it together, and we are looking to go undefeated in the remainder of the district schedule if we don't let our guard down.

Playing on the comeback team are Belinda Cross, Darlene Dilworth, Holly Garrison, Diana Herman, Julie Huff, Barbie Mosier, Sundi Price, Theresa Roberts, and Dee Aine Rossman.

Pirates Fall To Robstown

By Bob Crawford

Fans witnessing the game between Robstown and Rockport-Fulton watched one of the finest displays of passing ever seen in Pirate Stadium as DeJuan Oakes kept the ball in the air often enough to lead the Cottonpickers 14-7 past Rockport.

Oakes went up top 21 times, completing 11, two of which went for scores. Early in the first quarter Robstown took advantage of a good kickoff return by Oakes to begin a drive which ended in a score. The Pickers overcame two penalties to score on a 10-yard pass from Oakes to his receiver Rudy Flores. The kick after the score was no good, and a 6-0 lead was on the board for Robstown.

Rockport came back to move the ball in for a score after the Pickers were called for twelve men on the field, costing them 15 yards. At the 30 yard line, quarterback Jim Eaton delivered a strike down the middle to Ernest Gonzales who had beaten everyone in the secondary. The Pirates had tied the game, but with David Williams' perfect kick, the Pirates led 7-6.

Things seemed to be going the Pirates' way when Michael Arthur recovered a Picker fumble at the Robstown 32. The Pirates ran the ball, and Micheal Simmons scored from 15 yards away, but the penalty bug bit the Pirates on that play, and all was called back. From that point, the Pirates lost a good deal of momentum.

Rockport had chances to hurt the Pickers, and did succeed in keeping the ball away from Oakes, but the Pirates could never nail the lid on. When Oakes did get the football, Arthur was harassing him all over the field, and throwing him for losses or making him throw hurriedly. Another bit of pressure by Arthur caused Oakes to get rid of the ball too quickly, and Simmons picked off the ball to stop any more first half threats.

Robstown completely outplayed the Pirates in the second half, forcing the Pirates into many minus plays, especially on the quarterback when he failed to get rid of the ball. The Pickers borrowed a few plays from the Taft Greyhounds and went to the screen pass which seems to always burn the Pirate defensers.

With the ball on their own 44, Oakes dropped back, all of the Pirate rushers came through, the linebackers had dropped a mile back, and the ball was dumped to Bill Hoffstadt who rambled 46 yards before Adam Harden hauled him down near the goal line.

With first and goal, the Pickers experienced a little bad luck with a five-yard penalty and a loss of four yards. With a fourth and 19 at the 19, Oakes dropped a pass over the middle to a wide open Rudy Perez for a 19-yard TD play. The Pirate defense rose to the occasion as the Pickers went for two points on a pass, but it was tipped away. The big thing, however, was that the Cottonpickers led 12-7.

Never giving up, the Pirates pulled things together and made a good attempt at taking back the lead. Dwayne Walls ran tough, and then on a key fourth down, Simmons squirmed for a first down at the Robstown 15 yard line. Of all things, a penalty was called again on a crucial play, and suddenly, the Pirates were backed away from the goal line. Added to this was a big sack on Eaton, and the Pickers had held off the Pirates.

Robstown moved the ball with ease to midfield. Then Oakes dropped back, lofted a pass to a receiver who was in the clear because the Rockport defender had fallen down, and the pass went the distance; however, a penalty called it back, so both teams felt the crunch of the yellow flag. The play did not seem to bother the Pickers, and they went to what they knew would work, the screen pass. Huffstadt again was on the receiving end, and he ran 34 yards this time to the Pirate 22 where Harden again drilled him out of bounds.

The Pickers tried all kinds of ways to get the ball in, and a quick pass would have if it had not been for George Solis who blasted the ball carrier out of bounds at the two when the play seemed to be a sure TD. The play was a fourth down, and Rockport took over with 4:07 remaining.

Trying to use the element of surprise, the Pirates' Jim Eaton stepped back in the end zone to pass and did not get rid of the ball, and before all was said and done, the Pickers had a safety, making the score 14-6, but even worse, the Pirates did not even get a try to run the ball because they had to kick the ball away.

Gonzales kept Pirate hopes alive on a fourth down play when he intercepted the ball at the Pirate 28. If fate had been smiling, Gonzales would have dropped the football and picked up 10 yards on the play because the line of scrimmage was at the 38, but the chance of returning the interception for a score was there.

Rockport had problems holding out the Picker pass rushers, and Eaton was thrown for a huge loss because he would not turn loose of the football and throw it away, but even worse, he was injured on the play and carried from the field.

Time would not wait for the Pirates, and the Pickers held on a fourth down, and the victory was entered into the Robstown column.

Rockport's offense moved well at times, but just couldn't hit the big play when it was so desperately needed.

The Pirate defense shut down the Pickers' ground game, holding Oakes to 44 yards on 15 carries, but the passing game was another story.

JV Pirates Pick Cotton Bolls To Win 8-6

By Bob Crawford

Rockport's JV spotted the Cotton Bolls of Robstown an early touchdown, and then roared back at the end of the game to pull out a win of 8-6, giving the team their second win of the year.

The Bolls took the opening kickoff of the game and moved down the field on a march of 64 yards to take the lead 6-0. An attempt at two points failed, but Robstown owned the lead 6-0.

A mistake on fielding the ball from a kneeling position cost the Pirates on the following kickoff, as they were pinned back at their own one yard line.

Rockport got the ball back and managed to get a march underway, with an important pass from quarterback Mark Cory to Matt Logan keeping the march going. A fumble eventually cost the Pirates that chance to do any scoring.

Robstown seemed to follow the Pirates' lead, and stopped themselves with a fumble on their next possession. Tom Walker recovered the ball for the Pirates.

Halfback Joe Cantu, who ran hard all night, was separated from the ball by a tremendous hit by the Bolls' defense. Just when Robstown appeared to be moving again, Peter Nichols made a good play on a pass and snared an interception.

Rockport fans received a thrill when the Pirates went to the air for a long play on a pass from Cory to Mike Covarrubias which covered 65 yards before Covarrubias stepped out of bounds after trying to tightrope the sidelines. With the great chance to score, the JV fell apart and was called on a clipping penalty, and failed to move in. The halftime score was 6-0 in favor of the Cotton Bolls.

The Pirates started the second half off with a bang as Cory took the kickoff and returned it out to the 41 yard line. Joe Cantu ran for 26 yards, and the Pirates looked as if they had it all together. Then the yellow flag fell again, and a drive was stopped. A fumble turned the ball over.

Mike Riddle made some fine, slashing runs during the game, and he combined with Nichols to move the ball down the field. An interception on a good play by the defense gave the Bolls the ball at the 25.

Robstown moved the football back into Pirate territory, appearing to be headed for a score. An interception by Lupe Contreras opened the door which had been closed all night for the Pirates. Cory started things moving as he rolled around his left end and lowered his shoulder and ran over a couple of secondary people on his way to a 23-yard scamper. A 15-yard penalty was added on, and suddenly, the Pirates were knocking at the goal line's door.

Another keeper by Cory moved the ball farther down into Robstown territory. Then just as suddenly, Cory stepped back, hurled a pass to Covarrubias at the goal line, and the Pirates had knotted the score. The Pirates went for two, and Cantu followed good blocking into the end zone, and Rockport had captured the lead 8-6.

The Bolls made another try at a comeback, beginning on the kickoff, and only a saving tackle by Richard Nava and Dominic Dominguez kept the runner from breaking all the way.

The Pirate defense held on to stop the Bolls on fourth down.

Matt Logan spearheaded the tough defense for the Pirates with 12 tackles. He was supported with good performances by Bill Jennings and James Tumlinson, each with nine hits.

This week, the Pirates will play Tuloso-Midway in Rockport.

Freshmen Pirates Score Big Win, 38-22

By Bob Crawford

Rockport-Fulton Freshmen ran up a big score in Robstown last week, and then held on to take a 38-22 victory over the Little Pickers. The Pirates now go to a 4-1 mark.

The first few seconds of the game gave an indication of how the evening was going to go. The Pickers kicked off to the Pirates, and before the fans had settled into their seats, the Pirates had run the starburst return to perfection, and Ramond Romero blazed to a 75-yard touchdown. Romero added the two points after the score on a run, and the Pirates led 8-0.

After the easy TD, the Pirates kicked off. Robstown was not to be denied. Their deep man fielded the ball and ran past the Pirates for 87 yards and a TD. The try for two points was not good, and Rockport still had a lead of 8-6.

The Pirates got a big break on a fourth down play when the ball was sailed over the punter's head. As the Pirates pursued the punter turned runner, Steve Arkell pinned the runner for a huge loss, but a 15-yard penalty for face-masking nearly gave the Pickers a first down.

On the drive following the turnover on the bad snap, the Pirates moved the ball toward the goal line. Quarterback Bobby Dingenary used the pass to set up a scoring opportunity when he hit Steve Olivarez for a nine-yard pass to keep the drive alive. Romero broke away for another TD, but again, a penalty hurt the Pirates.

The Pirates were determined to score, and with 3:08 remaining in the first period, Arkell blasted up the middle for a five-yard TD. For a second time, the Pirates made good on the two-point try, as Charles Solis went in. The score jumped to 16-6.

An interception by Solis gave the Pirates another opportunity. Romero shook loose for a long run, and an added penalty against the Pickers put the Pirates down to the Picker 20 yard line. Dingenary again went to the air, only this time Jeffrey Dickerson had his man beat in the end zone, snaring the pass for a 20-yard TD. Romero tacked on two points, and Rockport was in command 24-6.

Scott Russ pulled in his first of three interceptions to stop a Robstown drive. Later in the half, the Pickers got close for a chance to score, but Romero hauled in another interception, and the drive was put down. Arkell also intercepted a pass near the end of the half.

In the third period Guy Haskell recovered a Robstown fumble, and the Pirates were on the move again. The ball was again advanced to within striking distance, but the Pirates returned the favor of the fumble, and the Pickers came away with the ball.

Russ' second interception gave the Pirates another opportunity. Romero broke away for a long run, and a 15-yard penalty added on put the Pirates at the 15 yard line. From there Romero ran through the defenders to get into the end zone. The Pirates had a sure two points, but Dickerson dropped the pass.

Another try at an onsides kick failed, and the Pirates managed to put the ball in one more time, this time on a Romero run of 65 yards. Arkell got the two pointer, and Rockport led 38-22.

Six interceptions and a fumble recovery gave the Pirates many opportunities, most of which they cashed in on. Guy Haskell, playing for the first time full-time, and Charles Solis each had 10 tackles.

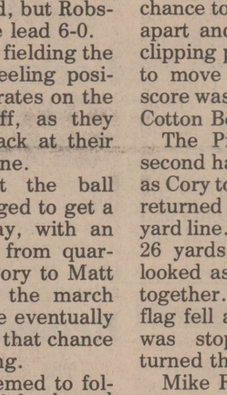

Romero paced all runners with 172 yards on 13 carries.

The Pirates will host the Warriors of Tuloso-Midway this week at Pirate Stadium.

GARAGE BURNS

Firemen pour water on this garage on North Ann Street after being called to extinguish a blaze at the structure. The call came in late Friday afternoon, October 3, and was answered by two units from the Rockport Volunteer Fire Department. The garage was at the residence of Rockport City Alderman Charlie Garrett, 511 South Ann. Garrett said Friday he didn't know how the fire might have started.

Rockporters 'Ham It Up'

By Pat Blair

They call themselves, for lack of a better name, the "Rockport Amateur Group."

It isn't an official name — they don't have an official name. They're just 16 people who meet for breakfast most Saturday mornings because of a common interest.

They're all Ham Radio Operators.

"We 'met' on the radio," says Billy D. (Dwight) Edens, one of the highest-ranking (in terms of the license he holds) members of the group. After they'd been talking on the radio a while, the 16 decided to meet for breakfast.

Now they meet just about every Saturday at 9 a.m. at the Fulton Beach Restaurant. (They didn't meet this Saturday though — October 4 — because of a Hamfest in Houston which several were attending.)

"Membership" isn't limited to those in the Rockport area. N.L. Deavers lives in Portland and Allen Gilchrist Jr. and Mack Reeves both live in Ingleside.

In addition to Edens, other Rockport area "members" include Sidney Gantz, Charles E. Gillingham, Alvin E. Conrad, Wilson L. (Bud) Newman, Glen H. Shaw, Delores Roberts, Bob Roberts, Kathee Sue Akon, Jack B. Evans, David R. Tiner, Frank L. Connally and Jim Trank.

Edens emphasizes these aren't the only ham operators in the Rockport area — they're just the ones who happen to be part of the breakfast group.

And, he added, anyone is welcome to come to the Saturday breakfasts, whether they're hams, hams' spouses or just interested in ham radio.

Basically Edens said, amateur (ham) radio serves two purposes. "One, it's a hobby — you can talk around the world. And two, it provides a service in times of disaster."

If, for instance, a hurricane or some other disaster should disrupt utility service in Aransas and cut the county off from the rest of the world, the ham radio operators could crank up their emergency apparatus and provide emergency communication.

As part of the preparedness for such an emergency, ham operators have a "Field Day" on the last weekend of June. (This year's dates were June 28-29.) The hams set up their emergency antenna and go into operation for 24 hour.

Site of this year's field day in Rockport — reported to be very successful — was Edens' back yard on Donnie Drive.

In addition to the emergency capabilities, hams serve their communities in other ways — such as through the "Net."

The "Net" consists of a group of hams in an area who agree to meet on the airwaves at a certain frequency at a certain time. The time, frequency and area covered depends on the particular Net.

For example, says Edens, the Gulf Coast Hurricane Net includes just about all of the states that border the Gulf Coast. Other nets may cover larger — or smaller — areas.

A ham who is active in a net can get messages to any point in that net — for himself or for a local resident.

Not all hams are active on a net, says Edens, but a ham who isn't active himself may know another ham who is. The ham can reach places that can't be reached by other forms of communication — such as telephones.

There's no charge for any of the services the hams provide — it's all free, emphasizes member Bud Newman.

The ham does what he does because he likes it — and because he can serve his community.

BANK

ceremonies whether they receive an invitation to all area residents, but our list may not be complete," Mitchell said. "We don't want to leave anyone out — anyone born in the 1890s is invited."

Mitchell added that those persons who need transportation to the bank on that afternoon can call the bank at 729-5411, and transportation will be arranged.

Refreshments, provided by ladies from the First United Methodist Church of Rockport, are served daily in the bank lobby, and the old photo and artifact display will be on exhibit through the end of the week.

Also continuing each day is the giveaway of a U.S. Savings Bond. Five $50 bonds and one $200 bond will be given away during the week.

First National Bank first opened its doors in October of 1890. As of September 30 of this year, its deposits totaled more than $35 million, an average growth of more than $1,000 a day since it first opened.

ambulances, employs three full time Paramedics and a bookkeeper and answers an average of 1,150 emergency calls per year.

The ambulances travel approximately 40,000 emergency miles.

The service is supported by funds from the City of Rockport, the Aransas County Commissioners Court and fees and donations. It is governed by a 16-member Board of Directors.

Rockport Elementary Plans Carnival

Games and goblins will be "in the cards" at Rockport Elementary School come October 31.

That's the night the school's PTA organization will hold its "Halloween Carnival."

Plans are still being worked out, but the event will start at 6:30 p.m., last until 9:30 p.m. and will feature something for everyone, "tots through teens," PTA officials promise.

Highlights of the evening will include a fashion contest at 7 p.m., open to anyone who wants to enter, and a talent event at 8 p.m. featuring youngsters from the school's physical education classes.

Del Edwards will present his magic shows at 7:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. and game booths will be open all evening. Other special features will include a gypsy and a clown (Shriner John Hughes) who specializes in making balloon animals.

Of course no Halloween Carnival is complete without a "spook house" and the Rockport Elementary Carnival will feature two — a regular "Spook House" and a "Wee Goblin House" for the younger children.

The cafeteria will be open during the evening for sandwiches and drinks, and cotton candy and popcorn will be available. Other goodies will be sold at the "Witch's Gingerbread House."

Tickets for most of the games will be 10 cents and may be purchased at the gate.

offer to sell from the owner, an architect will be hired to design the building.

The proposed new postal-owned building will have approximately 9,286 square feet of interior floor space.

SEAFAIR

until 2;30 p.m. followed by Tommy Lovelace and the Menudo Mothers.

At the beer tent John Grimaudo and Eric Taylor will entertain from 1:30 until 3:30 Saturday and the Spofford Brothers Duo will take over from 4:30 to 5:30.

Sunday's music will be at the main grandstand with Deep South Band playing at noon. Make Mine Country will perform at 2:30 and Gary Beck will close the celebration with music from 4:30 until 6.

On Sunday, October 12, Aransas Bay will be site of the Sail Boat Regatta and the boat parade will follow in the Ski Basin at 1 p.m.

Crab Races start at 2:30 p.m.--same location as the beauty contest--and the Air-Sea Rescue Demonstration and parachute jump will again be held at 3 p.m.

Gumbo judging, and award-giving and the auction will be held from 4 until 5 p.m. with another Water Ski Show in the ski basin beginning at 5:30 p.m.

During, before and after all the day's activities, just browsing through 168 exhibits in the tents, and eating just about any good food you can name will delight the eye and palate.

Fire truck rides, body painting and clowns will provide entertainment both days, and there will be a Maritime Museum to provide more interesting things to see.

Or, if you prefer, just have a beer or soft drink, and find a place to watch the excitement.

Everyone is invited to attend both days of the sixth annual Seafair, Saturday and Sunday, October 11 and 12.

PIRATES

the air 21 times, hitting for 185 yards. Of great significance, however, is the fact that two plays, two screens, accounted for 80 yards at crucial times. The game was played in much the same framework as the earlier loss to Taft on similar situations.

Now the Pirates have their backs to the wall again, and the character of the team is at stake. Tuloso comes into the game with one of the most potent offensive teams in the area. Quarterback Gordo Villalon is the team's leader, and he has thrown for five TD's and two two-pointers, as well as carried the ball in on a couple of occasions.

In the backfield, the Warriors have some strong runners in Jeff O'Neal, David Cooper, Matt Foerster, and earlier on, Todd Rumfield.

The Pirates, of course, still feature the fine stable of running backs in Micheal Simmons, Dwayne Walls, and Ernest Gonzales, but Robstown did not allow any of them to reach the 100-yard mark last week.

A week ago, the Pirates committed errors in crucial times, either penalties or just not thinking on their feet. A similar performance this week will give them similar results, the short end of the score.

The Pirate defense held the Cottonpickers to less than 100 yards total on the ground, but the air circus was something else. The Pirates had trouble trying to cover the Pickers' Luis Pena one-on-one in the secondary, and this week they face an even more dangerous receiver in Mike Callihan.

Rockport's Michael Arthur was the only Pirate keeping pressure on Oakes, and if he can get some help this week, the Pirates could possibly take the air show away from the Warriors.

Game time is 8 o'clock at Tuloso-Midway.

Fourth Beef Meeting Starts October 31 In Beeville

BEEVILLE—The fourth annual Beef Cattle Symposium will be held October 31 at the Bee County Livestock Commission on U.S. 59 east.

Lin Wilson, district Extension director for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said the program emphasis will be on selecting and developing replacement heifers.

"This should be timely in that we are in herd expansion programs at this time, especially with restocking following drouth," he noted.

The symposium will be dedicated to the late Roland Kinkler, Bee County rancher who was on the original symposium steering committee and had been a strong supporter since its inception. A presentation to members of his family will be a highlight of the program.

Discussions will include market outlook, brush control with fire, nutritional requirements for developing heifers and producing females and a look at a typical market run of cattle with a buyer's panel explaining "why the difference in dollars".

Following lunch, speakers will delve into developing and selecting replacement heifers (with a panel of producers employing live cattle to make their points) and conclude with an update on the Texas brucellosis program, emphasizing calfhood vaccination.

Commercial and educational exhibits will be an important part of the day, said Wilson, with two breaks in the program provided to view them.

A barbecue lunch and printed proceedings will be included in the $10 registration fee.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m. and the formal program at 9 a.m., with adjournment anticipated at about 3:30 p.m.

Calf fries and refreshments will augment the business and politicking following the program.

The areawide event is being co-sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with the livestock subcommittees of Bee and adjoining counties.

Ferris-wheel huge

The first Ferris-wheel was developed in 1892 by George Washington Gale Ferris. He erected it for the Columbian Exposition in Chicago a year later. The wheel had 36 cars, each with a capacity of 60 passengers.

Permit Requests

Application has been made to the Army Corps of Engineers by Getty Oil Company, Houston, for a permit to add State Tracts 130, 131, 139, 140 and 241 to the existing oil field development permit. The tracts are in Aransas Bay approximately five miles northeast of Rockport.

Comments must be submitted to the District Engineer, P.O. Box 1229, Galveston, Texas 77553 on or before October 17.

Mango, Papaya—
Fruits Of Paradise

A FRUITFUL ESCAPE TO PARADISE

Paradise. There's something about this word that conjures up irresistible thoughts of shady trees, balmy seas and persistent sunshine. Not to mention thoughts of lush, exotic fruits of paradise.

Consider first the succulent papaya. Often called the "sunshine melon from Hawaii," papayas have a Crenshaw melon-like taste, with an added pineapple twist. A papaya's skin coloring may range from green to yellow though the inside flesh is bright gold with a wealth of black seeds nestled in the cavity of the fruit. Mainland dwellers will find papayas available in most markets year 'round, and favorite ways to use the fruit have a strong Polynesian influence whether served with pork, beef or barbecued kabobs or as half shells filled with seafood.

The legendary mango has been known for centuries to be one of "the most eaten fruits in the world." The flavor is like that of a peach with a hint of pineapple, and the fruit may be either round or elongated in shape. Depending upon variety, mango skin color may be green, yellow or tinged with red and yellow, though the inside flesh is a brilliant gold with a long flat seed in the center. The islander way to eat a mango is like a banana, by scoring the skin in quarters and peeling the sections of skin away. Mainland markets will find mangos arriving in the early spring and staying through the summer.

A venture into paradise is not complete without sampling the curious kiwifruit. The brown, fuzzy exterior hides an interior of brilliant emerald green with tiny black edible seeds. New Zealand's kiwibird gave the fruit its name and both its namesake country and California provide this fruit year 'round to most markets. A tangy, tart-sweet flavor with a delicate taste of watermelon, strawberries and bananas all rolled into one distinguish the fruit.

Fortunately for all frustrated paradise vacationers, those exotic fruits are no longer confined to the tropics. According to Calavo Growers of California, a major marketer of tropical fruits in the U.S., these fruits are enjoying widespread popularity in this country with expanding supplies foreseen for the future. Bananas and pineapples, move over!

Healthf Hints

Q. I read a report recently which said that margarine can be worse for your health than butter because of something to do with the processing method of the oils used in them. What's a person to do?

Also, I use corn oil for cooking, but I can find nothing on the label indicating the processing method. I know we should use cold-processed oils. Where do I get them?

A. The oils in mos margarines are hydrogen ted. This is a process b which hydrogen is added to

Most Often-Asked Questions On Nutrition

By Jean Glowka

the unfilled chains of the essential fatty acids, thus destroying their heath-building value.

Such margarine can supply calories but nothing else. Adelle Davis and other leading nutritionists feel that while this margarine cannot become rancid, neither can it support alife of bug or beast. (Space doesn't permit discussing ALL the damage done to oils during processing.)

Many people solve the delima of "Should I eat butter?" by making a modified butter, which is high in the healthy unsaturated fatty acids and tastes quite delicious.

Let one pound of butter warm to room temperature. Blend it with one cup of cold-processed vegetable oil until it liquefies. Pour this into a bowl and refrigerate.

In answer to your second question — vegetable oils which are cold-processed or unrefined and which still contain some vitamin E can be purchased in health food stores.

Q. Is it ture that liquid protein is directly responsible for several deaths in this country and may be banned?

A. Some news stories might lead one to believe that liquid protein is poisonous. It is a FOOD, no more, no less. However, when it is used as the ONLY food a person eats, and proper vitamin and mineral supplements are not used, death can result.

However, nutritionists point out that the Zen macrobiotic diet of all rice and the all meat diets were also accused of killing people, but so far no one has said that brown rice or meat is poisonous and should be taken off the market.

Until next week, Folks, stay happy and healthy! It's a beautiful world!
