Carter Utters Simple Oath ..Dream Becomes Reality

JIMMY, AMY AND ROSALYNN CARTER

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—In soft Georgia accent, uttering the simple oath set out in the Constitution, Jimmy Carter came to power today and promised a government "both competent and compassionate."

Carter's first words as President were words of thanks to Gerald R. Ford for all he has done to heal the nation.

Amid applause that swelled to cheers, Carter paused to shake hands with the man he had just succeeded. Then he spoke of the future:

"You have given me a great responsibility - to stay close to you, to be worthy of you, and to exemplify what you are," said the President who leads America into its thrid century.

"Let us create together a new national spirit of unity and trust...let us learn together and laugh together and work together and pray together, confident that in the end we will triumph in the right."

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger administered the oath to the former governor of Georgia at two minutes past the appointed hour of noon.

"Congratulations," he said, as the transfer of power was concluded in the oath as old as the Republic, and a 21-gun salute boomed from Army cannon on the Capital grounds. Carter stood, first solemn, then with a momentary smile on his lips, as the strains of "Hail to the Chief" sounded in salute.

Vice President Walter F. Mondale was sworn in first, his oath administered by House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill of Massachusetts.

A crowd estimated by Capitol police at 150,000 stretched across the plaza before the inaugural stand.

Carter's inaugural address was a brief one - 12 minutes.

Carter took his place on the inaugural stand to the strains of the Navy Hymn, shook hands with a smiling Ford, touched hands with Mrs. Carter, and the ceremony began.

"Great crowd," Ford remarked, "Really is;" said Carter, as Sen. Howard W. Cannon of Nevada took the microphone.

"In the highest tradition of our form of government, we are here today to inaugurate the 39th President of the United States," he said.

United Methodist Bishop William R. Cannon of Atlanta spoke the invocation. "Let this first administration in the third century of our national existence be the beginning of a new era - a time of rectitude, righteousness and prosperity for all our citizens," he said.

The temperature was in the upper 20s, the skies clear, and the crowd was bundled against the cold. But neither Carter nor Ford wore hat or coat.

Carter's brief address was interrupted seven times by applause, never louder than when he spoke in tribute to Ford.

Ford, his hands folded in his lap, looked on solemnly, Carter's nine-year-old daughter Amy was first at his side as the inaugural address ended. Mrs. Carter joined them, and the new President put his arm around her waist.

Ford Bids Farewell

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Ford, in the final hours of his presidency, said today he thought his administration was a good one" which history will treat kindly."

With tears in his eyes, Ford spoke briefly to about 75 members of the White House staff and the Cabinet during a farewell breakfast in the White House State Dining Room.

Press Secretary Ron Nessen reported there was a slight touch of emotion in the President's voice as he said, "I'm not good at putting words together on an occasion like this."

"I've tried to thank you all in person or by letter or both," Ford said.

"I've enjoyed the White House mainly because of the fine people. The days were long but they were lightened by the people. You all contributed to an administration I think was good and which history will treat kindly," Ford added.

Indian Order Lifted

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's government, relaxing the 19-year-old state of emergency to prepare for parliamentary elections, lifted press censorship today and ordered the mass release of political prisoners.

Four non-Communist opposition parties, meanwhile buried their political differences to form a united front against Mrs. Gandhi's Congress party in the elections, to be held in March.

"We hope to win a thumping majority, not just a small majority," former Deputy Prime Minister Morarji Desai said as he announced the formation of the new Janta-People's-party.

Troopers On Guard

CAIRO (AP)—Army paratroopers with machine guns guarded key squares and bridges and patrolled Cairo's slum districts today after two days of riots over price increases.

Police sources said today 40 persons were killed and 250 injured in Cairo during the riots. The semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram reported 34 persons were killed and 409 injured in Cairo and Alexandria and 439 arrested in the capital.

A 14-hour curfew, Cairo's first since King Farouk was overthrown in 1952, brought calm back to the metropolis. People were moving about the streets normally.

The SDN Column

This old country is in great shape!

We don't have a king or queen coronation, but we do inaugurate our presidents in first class style. In fact, our inaugurations may top some of the coronations for royalty in the lands of kings and queens. The line-up of parades, ceremonies and parties has all the color and the pomp and ceremony that anyone should desire.

But the inauguration itself does not necessarily mean that the country is in great shape. There are those who will say it already has gone well down the road toward "the dogs" or communists. But we know the nation is well off because of its problems. For example, one of the metropolitian journals reported this week that a serious problem associated with the inauguration itself had reared its ugly head. It seems that Barbara Walters, the gold-plated television network commentator, and the wife of a U.S. Senator had discovered that they had planned to wear identical dresses to the inauguration.

Horrors! What a stupendous problem for someone. It turned out that they expected the inauguration committee to solve it. Each wanted the committee to persuade the other to change dresses.

So, we'll be watching as the television people present us scenes from the inauguration. We'll be watching Barbara Walters and Senators' wives to see which one capitulated.

That's one of the big reasons we believe the old country is in great shape. If these are major problems, then let's multiply them.

As we have observed in the past when some of our own community problems are mentioned, such as heavy traffic around the business district, many other cities would be happy to have such a problem.

Public Invited To Hear School Study Reports

Snyder Public School students will enjoy a two day recess on Monday, Jan. 24, and Tuesday, Jan. 25, while teachers will be involved in in-service activities for those two days.

And, on Monday afternoon, and Tuesday morning, school officials hope that citizens of the community will sit on sessions in the high school as reports are presented on a self-study and evaluation project that has been underway for several months.

Several years ago, the State Legislature mandated a 180 instructional-day school calendar with an additional ten days for in-service activities for the professional staff. Four of these days were utilized in August, immediately prior to the opening of school; the District TSTA Convention in Abilene counted as one; and a clerical day was scheduled at the end of the first trimester on Monday, Nov. 15. After the two day program next week, one day at the end of each of the other trimesters for clerical purposes will complete the 10-day in-service requirement. These days are scheduled for Friday, Feb. 25, and Saturday, May 28.

The schedule for Monday, Jan. 24, calls for grade level meetings in the elementary schools for teachers and aides and building faculty meetings at the secondary schools in the morning.

From 1 to 4 p.m., Monday, the entire faculty will be meeting in the high school auditorium to hear reports of the self-study and evaluation of North, Stanfield, Northeast, Central, and East elementary schools

From 9 a.m. until noon on Tuesday, West Elementary, the junior high, and the high school will report to the group.

Tuesday afternoon will be spent in building faculty and-or subject area meetings.

The public is invited to attend any of these meetings but school personnel especially invite patrons to attend the Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning report sessions in the high school auditorium. Since these are "public" schools, the public should participate in the study and evaluation. These reports are the result of philosophy and goals study which began in the spring of 1976 with patrons and school personnel involved.

Clayton Hopes To Catch Up

ASUTIN, Tex. (AP)—Speaker Bill Clayton planned to play catch up today with the more than 600 bills filed in the House.

While senators remained in adjournment for Jimmy Carter's presidential inauguration, the House met at 9 a.m., mainly so Clayton could refer bills to the committees that will kill them or keep them alive for floor action.

"We hope to catch up," he said before Wednesday's adjournment.

Two bills of more than passing interest were introduced Wednesday.

Rep. Sam Hudson, a black Dallas lawyer who has a client on death row, introduced legislation to repeal the death penalty.

"I don't think anyone should kill anyone, including the state. It makes this a hyprocritical situation. The better remedy would be to send a person to the pen for the rest of his life without parole," Hudson said.

THE LATEST FASHION—Freezing and sub-freezing winter temperatures have prompted an upsurge in the sale of long-handled underwear. Here, H.B. Carter, the manager of Carter's Western Wear on the courthouse square, is showing a pair of underwear trousers in what may be the latest style for men and women of the area. (SDN Staff Photo)

John W. Voss Dies; Rites Set Friday

John William Voss, 76, who lived at 1500 Fortieth Street, died at 12:15 a.m. today in Methodist Hospital at Lubbock.

3-Weeks Freeze Revives Demand For 'Long Johns'

By JOHN LONG

Long-handled underwear, which had fallen into disuse by many people in recent years, has staged a remarkable comeback this winter in the Snyder area.

Snyderites, both young and old alike, have rediscovered the glow known by their parents and grandparents of wearing warm underwear in winter.

You have to go back to Dec. 30, 1976, to find a day when the official thermometer failed to drop below the freezing mark in Snyder. And on that date it was down to 38 degrees.

That means three solid weeks with freezing nights, including a two-day period when it did not get above freezing even in the "heat of the day."

Area residents basked for a few moments in 54-degree weather on Friday, Jan. 7. That night, the mercury began a plunge that took it to a low of 7 degrees, and it did not move above the freezing mark again until Monday, Jan. 10 when the high reading was 42 degrees. On Sunday, Jan. 9, the maximum for the day was 18 degrees.

For the three-week period there have been 13 nights with readings in the 20s four days of 10 degrees and below, two in the teens and one night with a low of 12 degrees. There was one night, Jan. 13-14, when it only got down to 30 degrees.

The cold weather has been a boon for the sale of long-handled underwear that local merchants have taken advantage of.

H.B. Carter, owner of Carter's Western Wear, estimates that his store has sold about 20 pairs of long-handled underwear this winter.

Previously a male bastion, the market for "long johns" has been invaded by members of the fairer sex. Carter estimates that 15 to 20 women have purchased the underwear in his store.

"Most of the women have bought them to go hunting or skiing in. And I'd imagine that they'd be pretty warm for that," Carter

FEA Energy Forecast Grim

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Energy Administration is greeting incoming President Carter with a grim forecast of tight energy supplies and rising prices for years to come.

In a report issued Wednesday, the energy agency predicted a near doubling of residential fuel costs by 1985 as a result of inflation and real energy cost increases.

The outlook beyond that may be even worse, the report warned.

The FEA says the world's demand for oil will bump up against the limits of its production capacity in the mid or late 1980s. That supply-demand collision is likely to spark even steeper price increases.

The report's relatively good news was that U.S. energy demand was expected to increase more slowly than previously predicted, a trend that will make it easier to reduce U.S. dependence on foreign oil.

Compared with a historic growth rate of about 3.3 per cent a year before the 1973-74 Arab oil embargo, U.S. energy consumption was predicted to rise at about 2.5 per cent a year, slightly lower than last year's 2.8 per cent forecast.

The FEA said the slower growth is due to the combination of energy conservation measures and fuel price increases.

John Christie, assistant administrator for energy information and analysis, said in an interview that the FEA is assuming continued inflation ranging from last year's 5.6 per cept down to 4 per cent by 1985, forcing energy prices up a total of 58.4 per cent by then.

Regardless of inflation, the FEA estimated, residential energy prices will reflect annual real cost increases of about 3 per cent if imported oil prices rise by 2 per cent. That alone would cause the 1976 residential energy bill to grow more than 30 per cent by 1985.

Taken together, inflation and real cost increases may add nearly 89 per cent by 1985 to the size of the residential energy bill - including purchase of natural gas, fuel oil, electricity and motor gasoline.

If Congress ends regulation of interstate natural gas prices, the FEA said, the cost of residential gas may reach some 37.5 per cent higher by 1985 than if regulation at present rates continued.

More realistically, even regulated rates would probably increase. The Federal Power Commission has a policy of reviewing them every two years and adopted substantial increases just last year.

Either way, said Christie, householders using natural gas for heating, hot water, cooking, or air conditioning will take the brunt of natural gas price hikes.

Jerry Lewis Revue Canceled

NEW YORK (AP) — Comedian Jerry Lewis' Broadway debut in the elaborate revue "Hellzapoppin" has been called off.

A spokesman for the show, which was financed at $1 million, announced Wednesday that it was being withdrawn at the end of a three-week tryout engagement in Boston next Saturday.

The only explanation given was that the show's producer, Alexander H. Cohen, decided that despite generally favorable audience reaction in Boston and during previous stops in Baltimore and Washington, the show was not ready for Broadway and could not be shaped up in time for premiere Feb. 13.

Previews were to have begun at the Minskoff Theater here Jan. 25.

Cohen was not available for further comment.

The show was to have been spotlighted in a 90-minute program over the NBC television network on opening night.

Barbara McNulty, manager of the Top Dollar Store, said she had sold "all I could get hold of" and that she was currently out of stock of the now-popular long-handled underwear.

Ms. McNulty estimated that she had sold approximately 144 pairs of the long underwear and that about one-third of her customers were women.

The manager of Anthony's, Howard Limmer, estimated his store's sale of the underwear to be about 35 dozen pieces this winter.

"Probably 12 to 15 women have come in here to buy the underwear," he said. "The women that buy them are either skiers or avid deer hunters," he continued. "But," he pointed out, "I have sold some to junior high school kids."

Loren Sullivan, manager of Snyder's J.C. Penney Store, estimated his sales this winter to number about 400 pieces. That, he said, was about average for his winter sales.

Mrs. Sandra Harlan, an employe of the Wall's outlet store here, said she had sold out six shipments of the underwear.

She, too, told of sales to school-age youngsters. She confided that several football players had purchased some long-johns for the Snyder-Brownfield football game. It was probably a wise decision on their part because it snowed seven inches during that out of town game.

Long-handled underwear may or may not be here to stay, but it has certainly proved to be an item in demand this winter by Snyderites. A new clothing trend may be getting started.

Youth Held In Burglary

A 17-year-old youth has been arrested by city policemen in connection with the burglary last week of the 1306 23rd Street residence of Mavis McHaney. Two guns had been reported taken in the break-in.

The suspect was taken into police custody about 5:15 p.m. Wednesday and booked on a charge of burglary of a habitation. Late this morning he remained in city jail.

Officers also reported investigating a traffic accident that occurred yesterday at 4:35 p.m. in the 1200 block of the Lubbock Highway.

Involved in the mishap were a 1968 GMC driven by Alberto Zamora and a 1973 AMC driven by George Tovar. Only minor damages were reported to the two cars.

Beef Research Plan OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has tentatively approved a program for carrying out a Beef Research and Information Act passed by Congress last May.

The program will cost beef cattle producers fees equal to three-tenths of 1 per cent of their sales. Officials estimate this could raise $40 million to $60 million a year.

Under the plan, a Beef Board of producers will have the power to collect assessments and use the money "for research, producer and consumer information, and promotion to improve, maintain and develop markets for cattle, beef and beef products," the department's Agricultural Marketing Service said.

However, producers not wishing to participate can have their assessments refunded by the board.

Comments can be sent to the Hearing Clerk, Room 112-A, USDA, Washington, D.C., 20250.

Bakery Here Is Re-Opened

The Highland Park Bakery, closed for several days as the result of a break-down of a piece of machinery, re-opened today.

Derald and Jody Pitts said that repairs had been made and that the equipment was back in operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Pitts said that they had heard reports that the bakery had been shut down by health authorities after an employe had been hospitalized, but this was not the case. There was no connection whatever between the temporary closing of the bakery and the illness of the employe, they assured.

SAYS TOKYO ROSE

Pardon Hard To Believe

By CHERYL DEBES
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—"Now I have a government to protect me," said Iva Toguri D'Aquino, who was cleared by President Ford of treason for her "Tokyo Rose" broadcasts after living for nearly three decades as a woman without a country.

"After all these years, it's hard for me to believe that it's all over and the pardon is really true," said Mrs. D'Aquino, a slight, 60-year-old Japanese-American woman whose voice was known to millions of World War II servicemen.

Mrs. D'Aquino, who spent more than six years in prison but consistently maintained her broadcasts did no harm to the Allied cause, had lost two previous bids for a presidential pardon. The pardon restores all her forfeited rights, including citizenship.

Now working as a shopkeeper in her family's gift store on Chicago's North Side, she spoke at a hastily called new conference Wednesday after announcement of the pardon, one of Ford's last acts in office.

As Iva Toguri, a native of Los Angeles and a UCLA graduate, she had just passed her 25th birthday in July 1941 when she sailed for Japan to care for a sick aunt. Because of her hurried departure, she failed to obtain a U.S. passport and was stranded in Tokyo when the war began after the bombing of Pearl Harbor.

She described those years as "living hell." Because she refused to give up her U.S. citizenship, she was considered an "enemy alien" and, without a food ration card, found it difficult to live even at subsistence levels.

In August 1943, she took a parttime job as typist at Radio Tokyo. Three months later, Japanese officials ordered her to take part in the English-language program aimed at demoralizing U.S. troops.

She agreed, she contends, only after imprisoned officers convinced her she could actually help the Allies, by voicing subtle absurdities which the Japanese wouldn't understand. Those officers testified on her behalf at her 1949 San Francisco trial for treason.

The only one of 14 women who were on Radio Tokyo's "Zero Hour" program accused of treason, she was held for two years, convicted on one of nine counts, sent to jail and fined $10,000.

Mrs. Flack Shares Recipes Of El Salvador Homeland

Mrs. John W. (Ena) Flack, 3404 Irving, born as Ena Vile Chavarria, in El Salvador, one of the smallest countries of Central America, has lived in Snyder for the past two years.

As a young lady she came to America to attend Purdue, and after a brief return to her home in El Salvador, she came to relocate in the San Francisco area. She later married Joseph W. Flack in Denver City, and has also lived in Colorado City for four years. Mr. and Mrs. Flack have one daughter, Gloria-Marie, who is in the second grade at West Elementary.

Mrs. Flack enjoys her work as a substitute teacher in the Snyder Public Schools. Her hobbies consist of traveling, studying foreign languages, sewing and baking. In contrast to the tropical weather of El Salvador, Mrs. Flack enjoys the desert-like scenery and weather of West Texas.

Following are a few of Mrs. Flack's recipes translated from her native language.

Albondigas (Meat balls)

1-3rd cup cracker crumbs

For the sauce: Makes about 1½ cups of sauce
1 cup tomato sauce
2 medium size onion
2 medium size green pepper (can use hot peppers)
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoon salt
4 teaspoon vinegar
3 clove garlic
½ cup lard or oil

Add eggs to ground meat, mix well; add half the amount of sauce, and the crumbs, mixing well. Form in small balls. Brown slowly in hot lard, in a sauce pan. Remove the balls when they are brown, and place them in another sauce pan with the rest of the sauce, cover, and simmer for about 15 min. Serve with rice if desired.

For the sauce: Chop finely the onion, green pepper, and the garlic. In a sauce pan, heat the lard and fry the vegetables for about 10 min., add the tomato sauce, pepper, and salt. Heat to boiling point, let it boil for one minute. Add the vinegar and let it boil again. Remove from heat.

Add eggs, 1 at a time; beat well after each. Drop by the spoonful in the hot oil to deep fry (if the oil is hot enough they will float) golden brown, turn once and remove from oil. Serve while warm with syrup, honey or powdered sugar.

Syrup: This is a medium or heavy syrup. Add sugar to boiling water, stir till dissolved. Serve with coffee.

Prepare pastry, add ½ cup butter or margarine. Arrange the lower crust in a 9- or 10 inch pie dish (you can use a square pan if available, 2 x 4 x 8 in). Pour filling into pastry-lined plate. Adjust lattice top or double top. Sprinkle with about 2 tablespoons granulated sugar if desired. Bake for about 45 min. Oven 350-400 degree. Serve with coffee.

Opening lead — 10 ♣

By Oswald & James Jacoby

The unlucky expert had cornered us again.

"Look at my nice 16-point notrump!" was his starter. "Now look at my partner's sound 13-point raise to three."

We looked and commented. "With everything right you can make six. With everything wrong you can go down. Let's see the hand."

"Here it is. The ten of clubs was opened and I had to go down."

We replied. "Had to go down is a little strong. No one twisted your arm and ordered you to misplay it. Once that ten of clubs was led you had a cinch for your contract."

See if you readers can figure out what our friend should have done. It isn't too tough a play when you see all the cards. Just an unusual play. He simply ducks that 10 of clubs in both hands.

Once that 10 is ducked, South can score the three club tricks he needs for his contract without letting East gain the lead to shoot a spade through the king.

Actually, our friend had been lucky. The way the cards lay a lead of a heart or diamond would have beaten him surely.

Westerners, Dusters Meet Howard Tonight

A doubleheader basketball game is on tap for the Scurry County Coliseum tonight. The Western Texas College Dusters, women's basketball team, host Howard College in a conference game at 6 p.m. It will be followed at 8 o'clock with a match between the Western Texas College Westerners, men's basketball team, and the Howard College Jayhawks. The second game also is a conference affray.

"They have the most size of anyone in the conference, and I'm expecting a very physical game," declared Coach Mike Mitchell of the Westerners.

He pointed out Howard College defeated New Mexico Junior College and Frank Phillips by more than 20 points in their last two outings.

"They're beginning to jell," Mitchell declared.

Howard College will bring a 12-9 season record and a 3-4 conference record into tonight's contest. The Westerners are 18-2 for the season and 5-2 in conference play.

The Westerners and the Jayhawks met earlier in the year in a tournament at Big Spring, and the Westerners won in overtime. In that game, Howard got ahead in the second half and used a four corner delay game. They were six points ahead of the Westerners with 58 seconds remaining. The Westerners were forced to foul trying for the ball. Howard missed three straight 1 and 1 shots, and the Westerners managed to pull it out.

Coach Mitchell said probable starters for the Westesteners will be Lawrence Butler, 6-3 sophomore from Glasgow, Mo., and Allen Corder, 6-3 sophomore from Lake Charles, La., at guard; Butch Person, 6-5 sophomore from Brooklyn, N.Y., and Larry Orton, 6-8 sophomore from Portsmouth, Va., at forward; and, Darryl Smith, 6-8 sophomore from College Park, Ga., at center.

The Westerners have several other lads ready for action. They include Walter Benjamin, 6-4 sophomore guard from Richmond, Va.; Jon Moorehead, 6-8 freshman forward from El Paso; Robert Brown, 6-7 freshman post and forward from Timore, Md.; Doug Worthington, 6-5 freshman guard from Buffalo, N.Y.; Lonnie Nichols, 6-6 freshman forward from Buffalo, N.Y. Charles Gipson, 6-6 freshman post from Brooklyn, N.Y. and, Wayne Jamison, 6-1 freshman guard from Washington, D.C.

Coach Mitchell said probable starters for the Jayhawks will be Mike Little 6-3 and Reggie Leffall 6-5 at guard, Joe Cooper 6-9 at center, and Lowell Walker 6-6 and Dwight Cathey 6-6 at forward.

The Dusters are 8-5 for the season, and this will be the first conference game for both teams. Howard is 10-6 on the year.

"We'll have to fight for our lives," said Coach Simpson. "This will be one of the toughest games we've ever had around here."

He said Howard is averaging 73.8 points a game compared with 53.3 points by their opponents.

Tami Edwards has been averaging 15.4 points per game from her post position for Howard. Two other girls are averaging in double figures. They are forward Virginia Whaley, 11.6, and guard Linda Batla, 10.5.

Coach Simpson said probable starters for the Dusters will include Janice Verden, 6-1 sophomore from Wheeler, at center; Pam Tatum, 5-8½ freshman from Happy, and Cindy Luttrull, 5-10 freshman from Laverne, Okla., at forward; and, Temi Baker, 5-8 sophomore from Knox City, and Rosemary Scott, 5-8 sophomore from Slaton, at guard.

The Dusters have several other girls who can answer Coach Simpson's call. They are Cathy Minton, 5-6 freshman guard form Snyder; Debby McIvor, 5-11 freshman post from Fort Stockton; Brenda Jurecek, 6-1½ sophomore post from Eola; Barbara Denman, 5-9 sophomore forward from Hobbs; Marketa Sissom, 5-2 sophomore guard from Van Horn; and, and Jamie Branch, 5-3 sophomore guard from Aspermont.

In addition, Annie Tillman, 5-9 sophomore from Lubbock, has returned to school and rejoined the team.

North Texas Wants In S'west Loop

DENTON, Tex. (AP)—The North Texas University athletic council has passed a resolution to seek admission to the nine-member Southwest Conference, a process that took such schools as Texas Tech and Houston years to complete.

The motion was made by Dr. John Carrell, chairman of the council. The resolution must first go to Dr. Roy Busby, vice president for university affairs and then to university President Dr. C.C. Nolen for action before it can be submitted to the university's board of regents. The next regents meeting is to be held in mid-April.

"We can do it. We feel the action is appropriate in its timeliness and in line with the charge from the board of regents four years ago to improve the athletic program," Dr. Carrell said.

Hayden Fry, head football coach and athletic director, said North Texas "will have a very fine, well blanced sports program" by the time the school's entry in the SWC is acceptable to its members. He added, "I'm not concerned about the time involved."

Fry pointed out that Texas Tech and Houston, the last two members admitted to the conference, took a great deal of time and he held out no hope that North Texas could move in at a faster pace.

North Texas dropped out of its long affiliation with the Missouri Valley Conference in 1975 because the school felt it could fare better as an independent. However, NTSU's independent status has caused scheduling problems.

Ernie Banks Is In Hall Of Fame

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"The wonderful things about being a baseball player," said Ernie Banks, "is that years after you're through hitting home runs and playing in All-Star games, people still remember you."

The Baseball Writers Association of America remembered Banks Wednesday, naming him to the Hall of Fame as the only candidate to receive mention on 75 per cent of the ballots in the annual election.

"This is the greatest moment in my life," said Banks, who earned election in his first year of eligibility.

Banks received 321 votes of the 383 cast by veteran members of the BBWAA, easily passing the required three quarters figure of 288. Eddie Mathews was second in the vote with 239, missing election by 49 votes. The late Gil Hodges was third with 224 followed by Enos Slaughter with 222 and Duke Snider with 212.

In winning election on his first chance, Banks joins an elite set of Hall of Famers. Only seven others, Sandy Koufax, Mickey Mantle, Ted Williams, Jackie Robinson, Bob Feller, Stan Musial and Warren Spahn, gained immediate acceptance to Cooperstown.

Banks knew that his 512 career home runs gave him a good shot at the Hall of Fame on his first go-round. "I was getting jittery about it," he said. "I talked to people who've been elected before like Lou Boudreau and Bob Lemon and they told me what it's like. They said it's the most excitement you can experience in your life, and they were right."

Banks joined the Chicago Cubs in 1953 and spent 19 years playing shortstop and first base with the club. He was the National League's Most Valuable Player in 1958 and 1959 and five times hit 40 or more home runs in a single season.

remained with the organization in various front office posts and now works in the group ticket sales department for owner P. K. Wrigley.

Banks insists that his relationship with management was so close that even if the free agent uproar had occurred during his playing days, it would not have affected him.

"I wouldn't be tempted to move," he said. "The key association is with the owner and general manager. My philosophy is that if the owner believes you have the ability to play, you'll be paid for it. There is a certain teamwork that exists in this game that goes beyond the field to the front office."

And Banks just loves baseball.

"What a marvelous life it has given me," he said. "I've had a beautiful association with people I never would have met if it hadn't been for baseball. It's a great game and something I wish every young man throughout the world could have a chance to play."

Denies Job Offer

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—University of Arkansas Athletic Director Frank Broyles Wednesday denied that he would accept a position as general manager of the Atlanta Falcons.

He confirmed that he had talked with Rankin Smith, chairman of the board of the Falcons, a couple of weeks ago but that Smith wanted his opinion of prospective coaches.

The Atlanta Journal, citing unnamed sources, reported Wednesday that Broyles was expected to be named general manager of the Falcons.

"Everybody knows Atlanta is a great town and I know that Rankin Smith wants to give Atlanta fans a Super Bowl contender," Broyles said at a news conference in Charleston S.C. "It seems premature and ridiculous for me to be commenting about a position I'm not seeking and haven't been offered.

UT Vaulter Ineligible

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Frank Estes of Texas, the defending pole vault champion in the Southwest Conference, has been declared scholastically ineligible and has transferred to Northeast Louisana.

Estes had a best vault last year of 17 feet.

UT's only decathlon performer, Jimmy Matthews, also is ineligible for the 1977 season because of grades.

Confused Crosby Tourney Begins

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—This is the confused Crosby.

It started back in the dark days of the Great Depression, the Bing Crosby National ProAm, as a social event in Los Angeles and a way for the touring pros to pick up a winter-time check.

It's changed locations and grown into one of golf's great extravaganzas, one of the premier tournaments in the game. It draws the best players in the world and the biggest field of celebrities and is played before one of television's largest audiences.

But it's still very much a social thing. There are as many celebrity-watchers as golf fans in the gallery. The old timers still call it "Bing's Clambake."

The social whirl that surrounds the tournament, with its lines of hospitality rooms and scores of open-house condominiums and hotel suites, always has made it a confused weekend.

But this one, which got underway today on three courses - and not the usual three - at the Monterey Peninsula, is the most confused of them all.

First, there're the scores of Secret Service agents scurrying around, setting up their restrictions and precautions and procedures for the arrival of President Ford. He's due to come in Friday as an ex-President to play as the 18-handicap partner of Arnold Palmer.

Then, too, there's a couple of girls playing. That's a first for this tournament. One of them is University of Tulsa coed Nancy Lopez, probably the best female amateur in the country.

And there's the fact that it's entirely possible that no one will know who's leading the tournament until after Saturday's third round.

The courses add to the confusion. The 168 teams of a pro and an amateur will play one round each over Pebble Beach, Cypress Point and the Shore course at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club.

Spyglass Hill, usually in the rotation, is being rebuilt due to damage from the Northern California drought. The Shore course substitutes. It's a par 71. The others are par 72.

So Jack Nicklaus shoots 68 at Pebble Beach and Johnny Miller shoots 67 at the Shore course. Each is four under par. Are they tied? Or does Miller lead?

YOU BE THE JUDGE!

A man we once knew needed a lawn mower. He was a prudent man and saved his money. He shopped around and watched for a special price. One day he saw a lawn mower in a near-by city for $12 less than the lowest price he had found so far.

The man went to the city and bought the lawn mower. It had to be assembled, but that was okay since it was easier to transport that way. That night he started to assemble the lawn mower, but he was missing one vital part--the fourth wheel.

The next day the man had coffee with a local hardware dealer and asked if he had a wheel that would fit his lawn mower. He didn't but suggested that the man try his competitor down the street who "had things like that."

As predicted, the man found his wheel. The second shop didn't have a new one but the owner had saved a variety of parts for emergency occasions. How much? The man was given the wheel. Oh yes, the first merchant also bought the man's coffee.

Shooting Spree Is Unexplained

CANTON, Tex. (AP)—Law enforcement officials here say they can't explain what caused a 27-year-old Brownsboro man to embark on a shooting spree that ended when state troopers killed him near Myrtle Springs in Northeast Texas.

A Department of Public Safety spokesman said the body of James Milton Roberson was identified by his driver's license minutes after the father of two children was killed in a running gun battle with seven troopers Wednesday.

DPS Sgt. Bill Dean said Roberson was shooting at passing cars from his pickup truck on Texas 64 near this Northeast Texas Town.

"He was shooting at cars all over this county," said Dean. "We have no idea how many cars he fired at."

State police were called to the scene by the Van Zandt County Sheriff's office. Sheriff Travis Schaeffer said, "an individual came running in here (his office in Canton) saying somebody in a two-tone green pickup was shooting at him. I also had a call from the Henderson County sheriff's office to put out a warrant on that same pickup because the driver had shot at somebody and pointed a gun at another person down there somewhere."

State police intercepted Roberson at 64 and Interstate 20 and a high speed chase ensued with Roberson firing several shots at the pursuing officers.

Dean said Roberson wrecked his pickup on the outskirts of Myrtle Springs, got out and continued to fire on police as he attempted to flee into a nearby tree line.

Dean said at that point the officers returned the fire and killed Roberson. He said two small caliber pistols and a .22-caliber rifle were found on the seat of the pickup.

"We're still investigating this," said Schaeffer. "But I talked to his parents and they said they just couldn't understand it. To my knowledge, nobody was hit but that individual that came running here. I know his car was hit at least once."

Schaeffer said Roberson was married and had two children.

Shem, one of the three sons of Noah, is traditionally considered the progenitor of all Semitic people, including Hebrews, Arabs and Assyrians.

Walls Expanding At Sweetwater

Walls Industries, Inc., has announced that it will construct a sewing and distribution center in Sweetwater.

Walls has operated a sewing plant in Sweetwater since January, 1971, and the present sewing plant will become Walls' expanded West Texas cutting facility. The Sweetwater cutting facility and distribution center serves Walls plants in Sweetwater, Snyder, Big Spring and Breckenridge. In addition to these West Texas plants, Walls has sewing facilities in Cleburne, Clifton, and Gatesville served by Walls' cutting and distribution center in Cleburne.

The new Sweetwater facility will be on a seven-acre tract on Interstate 20 just West of the city and will include a sewing plant of 40,000 square feet and a distribution center for ware housing and shipping finished garments that will provide 120,000 square feet of space.

Sam Walls, president of the firm, said that some site preparation work has already begun and estimated that the sewing facility will be completed in June and the warehouse and distribution center in October.

Walls manufactures a wide variety of men's apparel, principally insulated garments for the work and sports markets.

The Battle of San Juan Hill was fought between Spanish and American forces in Cuba on July 1, 1898.

Smoking Dads Affect Health Of Offspring

By NICK STAUDINGER
Associated Press Writer

BONN, West Germany (AP) — Children whose fathers smoke at least 10 cigarettes a day run a higher risk of dying at birth than babies of nonsmokers, German researchers say.

If the father is a heavy smoker, there is also a greater risk that the child will be born deformed, the German Research Society said it found in an eight-year study. It said there were indications that male sperm was damaged by excessive use of nicotine.

The government-subsidized group, whose 40 members represent universities, scientific academics and research institutes, said 4 per cent of the children of nonsmoking mothers and smoking fathers died just before, during or shortly after birth, compared with 2.9 per cent when both parents were nonsmokers.

The institute also said it had studied 14,774 women and found it unlikely that infant death at or near birth was increased by "passive smoking" by the expectant mother breathing her husband's smoke.

Researchers found that in extreme cases of morning sickness, odds might favor the birth of a girl. The ratio for the entire study group was 107 boys to 100 girls, but the ratio for women complaining of intense nausea was 93 boys to 100 girls, the report said.

A spokesman for the society said that although U.S. researchers had suspected a link between a father's smoking and the health of his offspring, the German study provided the first conclusive evidence on the matter.

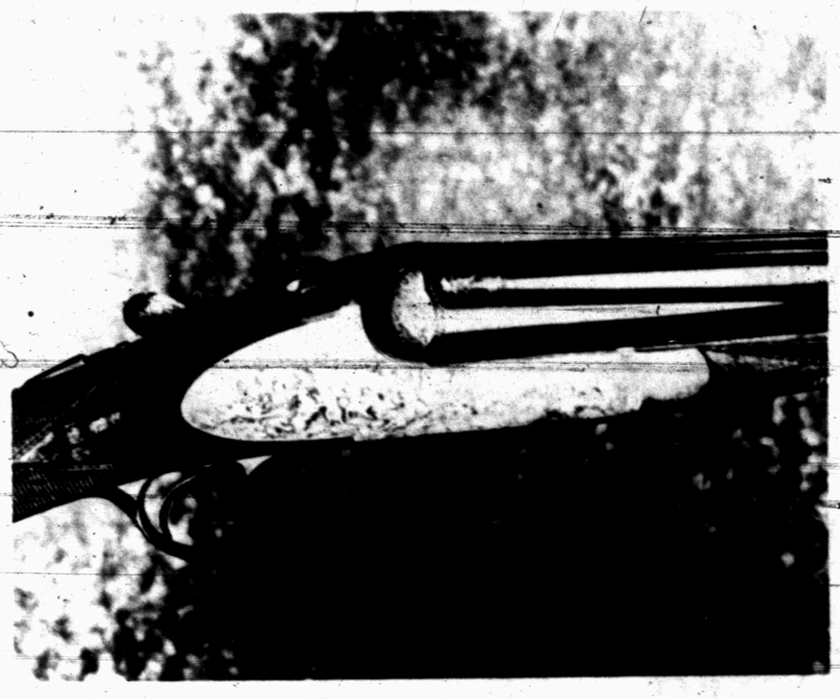

The society's study began in 1964 after a rash of birth defects were blamed on mothers taking the tranquilizer Thalidomide during pregnancy.

Among other conclusions of the report:

-Morning sickness may be a good sign for pregnant women. "Without these complaints, miscarriages are frequent."

-Excessive consumption of coffee by mothers often caused underweight newborn children as did smoking mothers. Tea and soft drinks had no negative effects.

-A woman's drinking alcohol could lead to premature birth of her baby.

FROM ABOUT 1905—This double-barreled shotgun, one of about 150 pieces exhibited in "Belgian Gun Making and American History," was engraved by L. LeMaitre about 1905. The piece comes from the Liege (Belgium) Museum of Firearms and will be on exhibit at The Museum of Texas Tech University Jan. 30-March 13. The exhibit, sponsored by the West Texas Museum Association, is circulated by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibit Services. This is its first showing outside Washington, D.C.

Belgian Gun Exhibit To Open At Tech Museum

LUBBOCK—One of the world's finest gun collections, assembled by the Belgian government for the American Bicentennial, will have its first showing outside Washington, D.C., on Jan. 30-March 13, at The Museum of Texas Tech University.

The exhibit, "Belgian Gun Making and American History," is sponsored by the West Texas Museum Association (WTMA), with a gala preshowing Friday, Jan. 28, 7:30 p.m. Members, guest and friends are invited. Special invitations have been issued to collectors, gun club members and engravers.

The Belgian consul general at Houston, Ignance van Steenberge, will be an honored guest, as well as Prof. Rene Delcour, Belgian engraver, who will demonstrate his art in silver, gold and steel.

Each of the approximately 150 guns in the exhibit is a work of art. Engravings on some models not only demonstrate the specialty of Belgian gunmakers but are also miniature masterpieces.

Circulated by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibit Services, the exhibit was shown during the Bicentennial at the Smithsonian in Washington. It was organized for the presentation in the United State by the Belgian Ministry of Economics Affairs and the Liege Arms Museum in collaboration with Belgian gunmakers and collectors, the Browning Arms Company of Mogan, Utah, and the Belgian Fire Arms Proof House and the Liege Gun School.

The exhibit will be shown in only a few U.S. museums and only one other in Texas. It will return this fall to Midland.

Most of the exhibit items will be seen by the American people for the first time. Many had never been thoroughly described in previous catalogues.

The exhibit's three-fold purpose is to record the history of sales of Belgian-made weapons to the U.S. at various periods in the new nation's development, to show the contribution of American technology to Belgian gun manufacturing, and to demonstrate the association between American inventors and Belgian manufacturers.

American Indians as well as trappers and settlers used Belgian sporting arms. Both the War of Independence and the Civil War were fought with large quantities of Belgian weapons, similar to the ones on display.

Traditionally, the weapons industry has been concentrated in the Liege area in eastern Belgium. Originally a home-based industry, it developed into a mass production system, which still retains the craftmanship that made it historically famous.

For 200 years Americans have favored Belgian firearms. Special models have been designed to suit Americans, ranging from the Kentucky or Plains rifle to the American break-action shotgun or the modern inlaid piece for sportsmen.

Belgian gunmakers have borrowed from American inventors, Colt, Le Mat, Sharps, Winchester, Remington, Lewis and Browning, who inspired Belgian craftsmen and industrialists to manufacture either copies and variations of the original models or to mass produce them to meet American orders.

American technology, too, contributed precision engineering, which led the way to modern manufacturing methods in Belgium.

The museum display required the work of many, including Dr. Claude Gaier, director of the Liege Museum of Arms; Georges Charles Cools of the Belgian Ministry of Economic Affairs; and Delcour, professor of arms engraving at the Ecole de Fine Mecanique in Liege.

J. Peters, head armorer, and C. Strauven, armorer of the Liege Museum of Arms, and Dr. Craddock Goins, curator of military history at the National Museum of History and Technology, provided documentation so that viewers see the guns in their historical context.

Fine woods, inlay, carving and engraving lend historical significance for artisans as well as for those interested in weaponry.

Those wishing to attend the preview opening, arranged by the WTMA Woman's Council should call Mrs. Dottie Johnston, area code 806 742-2424.

Ma Bell Ponders Next Move

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. has lost its attempt to void a rate increase smaller than it requested and now must decide whether to ask for a stay, and risk the temporary loss even of the smaller hike, or follow the slower normal appeal procedure.

State District Judge Jim Meyer said Wednesday, "I have decided that the public utility commission position with respect to the matter is correct. Contrary to what Bell argued, I do not believe the appeal automatically voided the order."

The next move will be up to Bell, Meyer said.

The commission granted a $57.8 million rate increase for Bell. But Bell had requested $296.8 million, and it sought a temporary injunction, contending the commission's order was so low it amounted to confiscation of Bell's property.

The law creating the commission provides for injunctions in confiscation cases.

Bell lawyers said the company was entitled to charge any rate it wanted to during the appeal so long as it posted a bond large enough to handle refunds in the event it lost the appeal.

Meyer said Bell may decide now to ask for a stay, pending appeal, but this may mean the old rate will remain in effect, thus denying Bell even the $57.8 million while the appeal is being pressed.

Grandma Tired of Entertaining

By Abigail Van Buren

©1976 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Approximately a year ago you ran an article about a mother who never made her own Thanksgiving or Christmas dinner. Instead, she went to her mother's or mother-in-law's. She wrote to say that she wishes now that she had developed her own holiday celebrations.

That letter was terrific. If you could publish it again, it would be a great help to a lot of people.

Believe it or not, I am a grandmother who wishes my married children would make their own holiday dinner and invite me as a guest.

PAID MY DUES

DEAR PAID: It wasn't hard to find, and here it is:

DEAR ABBY: I've been reading your column for years, and around holiday time someone always asks, "Should we go to HIS mother's or to MY mother's for Thanksgiving and Christmas dinner?" Your answer has always been: "Why not alternate?"

Abby, my husband and I struggled with that problem for years, and we resolved it according to your suggestion. Both sets of parents lived nearby, and it seemed the only fair thing to do. So for 22 years, we spent Thanksgiving and Christmas in parents' homes instead of our own.

It never dawned on us until this year—as our children are ready to strike out on their own—that we never developed our own holiday traditions. We always went to Grandma's for the holidays. She insisted on doing all the cooking herself, and then she complained for months about how much work it was and how tired she got. When we, her daughters and daughters-in-law, asked if we could bring something for the dinner, she wouldn't hear of it. When we brought food without asking her, she refused to serve it, so we finally gave up.

I realize now what a high price I've paid over the years for peace in the family. I wish I hadn't.

Abby, please urge young married to dare to have their own holiday celebrations in their own homes. Suggest that they invite their parents and grandparents, who might even be relieved to be finally free of the burden of entertaining three generations.

DOING MY OWN THING

DEAR DOING: Thank you for an excellent letter. Perhaps it will inspire others to "Do their own thing," too. It makes a lot of sense.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FOR CENSORSHIP": I agree, there is an excess of garbage passing for "literature" these days, but this is what one great American champion of human rights had to say about "censorship" 175 years ago:

"I am mortified to be told that, in the United States of America, a question about the sale of a book can be carried before the civil magistrate. Are we to have a censor whose imprimatur shall say what book may be sold and what we may buy?

"Shall a layman, simple as ourselves, set up his reason as the rule for what we are to read? It is an insult to our citizens to question whether they are rational beings or not."

With These Words, 39th President Takes Reins

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is a text of President-elect Carter's inaugural address:

For myself and our nation, I want to thank my predecessor for all he has done to heal our land.

In this outward and physical ceremony we attest once again to the inner and spiritual strength of our nation.

As my high school teacher, Miss Julia Coleman, used to say, "We must adjust to changing times and still hold it unchanging principles."

Here before me is the Bible used in the inauguration of our first President in 1789, and I have just taken my own oath of office on the Bible my mother gave me a few years ago, opened to a timeless admonition from the ancient prophet Micah:

"He hath showed thee, o man, what is good: and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God." Micah 6:8.

This inauguration ceremony marks a new beginning, a new dedication within our government, and a new spirit among us all. A President may sense and proclaim that new spirit, but only a people can provide it.

Two centuries ago our nation's birth was a milestone in the long quest for freedom, but the bold and brilliant dream which excited the founder of our nation still awaits its consummation. I have no new dream to set forth today, but rather urge a fresh faith in the old dream.

Ours was the first society openly to define itself in terms of both spirituality and of human liberty. It is that unique self-definition which has given us an exceptional appeal - but it also imposes on us a special obligation - to take on those moral duties which, when assumed, seem invariably to be in our own best interests.

You have given me a great responsibility - to stay close to you, to be worthy of you, and to exemplify what you are. Let us create together a new national spirit of unity and trust. Your strength can compensate for my weakness, and your wisdom can help to minimize my mistakes.

Let us learn together and laugh together and work together and pray together, confident that in the end we will triumph together in the right.

The American dream endures. We must once again have full faith in our country - and in one another. I believe America can be better. We can be stronger than before.

Let our recent mistakes bring a resurgent commitment to the basic principles of our nation, for we know that if we despise our own government we have no future. We recall in special times when we have stood briefly, but magnificently, united; in those times no prize was beyond our grasp.

But we cannot dwell upon remembered glory. We cannot afford to drift. We reject the prospect of failure or mediocrity or an inferior quality of life for any person.

Our government must at the same time be both competent and compassionate.

We have already found a high degree of personal liberty, and we are now struggling to enhance equality of opportunity. Our commitment to human rights must be absolute, our laws fair, our natural beauty preserved; the powerful must not persecute the weak, and human dignity must be enhanced.

We have learned that "more" is not necessarily "better", that even our great nation has its recognized limits, and that we can neither answer all questions nor solve all problems. We cannot afford to do everything, nor can we afford to lack boldness as we meet the future. So together, in a spirit of individual sacrifice for the common good, we must simply do our best.

Our nation can be strong abroad only if it is strong at home, and we know that the best way to enhance freedom in other lands is to demonstrate here that our democratic system is worthy of emulation.

To be true to ourselves, we must be true to others. We will not behave in foreign places so as to violate our rules and standards here at home, for we know that the trust which our nation earns is essential to its strength.

The world itself is now dominated by a new spirit. Peoples more numerous and more politically aware are craving and now demanding their place in the sun - not just for the benefit of their own physical condition, but for basic human rights.

The passion for freedom is on the rise. Tapping this new spirit, there can be no nobler nor more ambitious task for America to undertake on this day of a new beginning than to help shape a just and peaceful world that is truly humane.

We are a strong nation and we will maintain strength so sufficient that it need not be proven in combat - a quiet strength based not merely on the size of an arsenal, but on the nobility of ideas.

We will be ever vigilant and never vulnerable, and we will fight our wars against poverty, ignorance and injustice, for those are the enemies against which our forces can be honorably marshalled.

We are a proud idealistic nations, but let no one confuse our idealism with weakness.

Because we are free we can never be indifferent to the fate of freedom elsewhere. Our moral sense dictates a clearcut preference for those societies which share with us an abiding respect for individual human rights. We do not seek to intimidate, but it is clear that a world which others can dominate with impunity would be inhospitable to decency and a threat to the well-being of all people.

The world is still engaged in a massive armaments race designed to insure continuing equivalent strength among potential adversaries. We pledge perseverance and wisdom in our efforts to limit the world's armaments to those necessary for each nation's own domestic safety. We will move this year a step toward our ultimate goal - the elimination of all nuclear weapons from this earth.

We urge all other people to join us, for success can mean life instead of death.

Within us, the people of the United States, there is evident a serious and purposeful rekindling of confidence, and I join in the hope that when my time as your President has ended, people might say this about our nation:

That we had remembered the words of Micah and renewed our search for humility, mercy and justice;

That we had torn down the barriers that separated those of different race and region and religion, and where there had been mistrust, built unity, with a respect for diversity;

That we had found productive work for those able to perform it;

That we had strengthened the American family, which is the basis of our society;

That we had ensured respect for the law, and equal treatment under the law, for the weak and the powerful, the rich and the poor;

And that we had enabled our people to be proud of their own government once again.

I would hope that the nations of the world might say that we had built a lasting peace, based not on weapons of war but on international policies which reflect our own most precious values.

These are not just my goals, but our common hopes. And they will not by my accomplishments, but the affirmation of our nation's continuing moral strength and our belief in an undiminished, ever-expanding American dream.

Berry's World

Billy Enjoying Brother's Glory

WASHINGTON (AP)— Billy Carter, a beer can in hand and a wide grin on his face, is getting acquainted with the city his older brother will dominate for the next four years.

But Billy, visiting Washington for the first time, seems unimpressed by his new status, the people who kowtow to him and the trappings surrounding the incoming president.

He brought a tuxedo to wear to the inaugural parties tonight, but he was dressed in a blue denim leisure suit when he arrived aboard a chartered jet from Georgia on Wednesday for five days of partying.

As the bus carrying his group passed the White House, he was asked whether he would stay overnight there before returning to his peanut warehouse and gas station in Plains.

"No," he replied firmly, sipping from an ever-present can of beer. "I will never spend the night in a mansion."

Billy said he enjoys his brother's glory, but he's sorry to see him leave the little Georgia town where they both grew up.

"I hated to see him get the damn job, but I'm glad for him that he won," he said at the airport shortly after he arrived. "I just hate to lose him."

Billy Carter will continue to run the Carter peanut warehouse and his gas station in Plains, although he says he may have his beer-selling license lifted soon.

But he's not letting that problem spoil his fun in Washington.

"I'm going to have a good time and just send my bills to the White House," he declared with the famous Carter grin.

LOCATES BROTHER

Uninvited Texas Kin Not Bitter

HOUSTON (AP)—One of Jimmy Carter's two Houston cousins was to attend the presidential inauguration today but the other who was not invited said he was not sure he will even watch it on television.

Carol Gordy White said Wednesday she planned to attend the inauguration and the ball.

However, her brother, Tom Gordy, received no invitation.

"I'm not sure I'll even watch it on television," Gordy said. "Don't get me wrong. I believe he will make our best president, and I wish him all the luck in the world."

Gordy, who has been ailing because of neck operation, said news stories and pictures in connection with the inauguration proved to be a blessing. He found a brother.

Newspapers carried an Associated Press picture Wednesdy of Gordy's brother, Jim Gordy, who is a chef in a motel in Brisbane, Australia.

Gordy said he had not heard from his brother in eight years and did not know of his where-abouts until he saw the picture. He said he planned to write him and tell him about their father's death more than a year ago and other family events. Their father, Tom Gordy Sr., was Miss Lillian's brother.

Mrs. White, who husband Francis is a machinist at a valve company, said she last saw Carter during his campaign visit to Houston.

"He came up and hugged me around the neck and said, 'Hey, Carol Ann, what are you doing here?'" Mrs. White said. "Then he hugged my 5-year-old daughter and said, 'Paula Jean, you're beautiful.'"

Mrs. White grew up in Richland, Ga., about 18 miles from Plains. Her brother Tom, also was born in Richland, but moved to California with his mother when his parents divorced. Mrs. White and Jim remained with their father.

When their father died in December 1975, Carter attended his uncle's funeral.

"Aunt Lillian was amazed that I didn't attend the funeral," Tom Gordy said. "But I didn't even know until two weeks afterwards because I had an operation scheduled."

Gordy said at first his feelings were not hurt by not being invited to the inauguration but when he saw that even prison inmates were being invited he began to wonder.

"At first I figured he was just too busy, but then I began to read articles about people who didn't even know him were being invited," Gordy said.

"Here, I've even got his home phone number."

Dr. Lamb

Cuts coffee caffeine in half

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — By mixing a decaffeinated ground coffee in half-and-half portions with regular coffee, I tell myself that I'm only getting half the undesirable effects of drinking too much coffee. Am I correct in assuming this?

Also what is your opinion of the use of hypnosis in quitting smoking? Is there anything a person needs to beware of in allowing himself to be hypnotized?

DEAR READER — Each cup of coffee that you make from a half-and-half mixture of decaffeinated and regular coffee will only have half as much caffeine as a cup made the same way from regular coffee. Of course, if you drink two cups then instead of just one you are right back where you started.

An ordinary cup of brewed coffee usually contains between 80 and 120 milligrams of caffeine. A cup of instant coffee usually contains less, 66 to 100 milligrams and caffeine-free coffee is caffeine-free for all practical purposes.

About hypnosis, the important thing is to be in the hands of a reputable individual. Ask your family doctor for his recommendation for one in your area if you really want to try it. Hypnosis will help some people quit smoking who really want to quit. If the person is not motivated to quit and really doesn't want to do so, the hypnosis may not help very much, if at all.

To give you more information on the caffeine drinks I am sending you The Health Letter number 1-1, Coffee, Tea, Cola, Cocoa. Others who want this information can send 50 cents for it with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Write to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

DEAR DR. lamb — I have a problem that is about to curl my hair. While I understand calories, what is a gram? How many grams are in an ounce and are grams measured in solid as well as liquid measurements?

I have a diet list which says, one bread exchange contains 15 grams of carbohydrates, 2 grams of protein and 70 calories, one fat exchange contains 5 grams of fat and 45 calories, etc., etc. Food packages and cans are listing measurements in grams. Your answer will calm my mind and perhaps lower my blood pressure somewhat.

DEAR READER — It isn't worth getting your blood pressure elevated over. It is just the system of weights in the metric system and is just like learning to change money into a foreign currency. Everyone is going to need to do this in terms of food because you are right, the information provided to the public will be mostly expressed in grams. That is what we commonly use in nutrition and it is just being passed on to the public. The future cookbooks will one day list all recipes in grams and milliliters.

A convenient benchmark is that 2.2 pounds equals one kilogram. A kilogram is 1000 grams. If you bought meat at the butcher shop in Europe it would be sold to you by the kilogram or so many grams. It follows that a kilogram is 35.2 ounces. An ounce contains 28 grams. Another convenient transition point is that three-and-a-half ounces — a common measurement for one serving — exactly equals 100 grams.

Grams and kilograms are weight measures and you can use them to express the weight of anything.

Temperature Sign Over Adjusted

SISTERSVILLE, W.Va. (AP) — Sure, it was cold over the weekend. But minus 44 degrees?

That was the temperature given on a time and temperature sign here at a local bank early one morning over the weekend. Since the temperature actually was around zero, bank officials said the sign had malfunctioned and would be fixed right away.

The sign was attended to, and the temperature began rising promptly. And rising. And rising. By 1 p.m., the sign read a sweltering 126 degrees.

COPING WITH YOUR INCOME TAX

Liberal Tax Credits For Working Parents

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the fourth in series of five articles entitled "Coping with Your Income Tax." They were written to help taxpayers prepare their 1976 tax returns.

By JIM LUTHER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you are over 65, or use child day-care services, or are accustomed to a tax break for sick pay, you'll find major changes in figuring your federal income tax this year.

Millions of working parents will profit from a new, more liberal tax credit for baby-sitting expenses. The elderly have a liberalized, far simpler credit of their own. But sick pay is out unless you are totally and permanently disabled.

To take advantage of any of these tax breaks you must use Form 1040 - the long form - plus supplemental forms: 2441 for child care, 2440 for disability income and Schedule R for the elderly credit.

One of the most significant changes approved by Congress in the 1976 Tax Reform Act allows you to get the credit for child care expenses without itemizing deductions. And you'll find the credit considerably easier to compute than was the old deduction.

The law allows you a tax credit - which is subtracted directly from taxes owed - of up to $400 a year for the care of one dependent while you work and up to $800 for the care of two or more. The credit is computed by multiplying 20 per cent by the eligible expenses, up to $2,000 for one child and $4,000 for two or more.

For the first time a married couple may take advantage of the tax break even if one spouse works only part-time or is a student. And the credit is available to a divorced or separated parent who has custody of a child.

There's another significant change. You now may qualify for the child-care credit even if you pay a relative to babysit while you work and even if he or she lives in your home. But the relative's pay in such a case must be subject to Social Security taxes.

The replacement for the old sick-pay exemption allows a person under 65 who had to retire early because of a permanent, total disability to exempt from taxation up to $5,200 a year. The exemption is reduced as income rises above $15,000.

The retirement-income credit, which was so complicated that many elderly persons neglected to claim it, has been made more generous and simplified to the point that it can be figured on the eight-line Schedule R.

If you are single and 65 or older, you may except from taxation 15 per cent of the first $2,500. $375 of ANY income - not just reitrement income as in the past. For couples over 65, the exemption is 15 per cent of the first $3,750, or $563.

The amount of income to which the credit is applied must be reduced by Social Security payments and by one-half of adjusted gross income above $7,500 for single persons and above $10,000 for couples.

NEXT: Some reminders.

Banquet Set At C-City

COLORADO CITY — Claude (Chena) Gilstrap will be the guest speaker tonight at the annual banquet of the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce.

The banquet is set for 7 p.m. in the Civic Center. New officers and directors will be installed and awards will be presented.

B.B. Hardee will turn the president's reins over to J.O. Dockery Jr. Awards will be presented to the outstanding Chamber member, outstanding farm family in Mitchell County, outstanding B&PW Club member, and the Jaycees will present their Distinguished Service Award.

Fisher Hikes Hospital Rate

ROTAN — An increase of $10 per day for private and semi-private rooms at Fisher County Hospital was approved by the hospital board at their regular meeting.

The new rate for a semi-private room is $60 per day, and the new rate for a private room is $65 per day.

A proposal for a pay increase for hospital personnel was tabled until the board has an opportunity to student the annual audit report of the hospital district. A hearing on the hospital district's budget has been set for Feb. 21.

Rotan Raises City Salaries

ROTAN — City Councilmen here granted all city employes a six per cent pay increase at their regular January meeting.

At the same meeting, a request was presented for an increase in natural gas rates. Frank Gravelle, of Lone Star Gas Co. submitted the request for an increase of 2.065 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of gas. Mayor James Springer requested that the gas company provide a new schedule listing net and gross figures for billing used by Lone Star. This is to be presented at the Feb. 8 meeting of the council.

Post Hospital Faces Crisis

POST — Directors of Garza Memorial Hospital spent most of three hours at a meeting here studying the hospital's deepening financial crisis. A citizen's committee as well as the board is seeking a solution to the financial problem.

Perry Hunsaker, hospital administrator, reported $11,384.29 in unpaid bills for December and the hospital has two payrolls coming up before the end of the month. If both payrolls are met, there will not be enough money to pay all the bills, it was predicted, despite the fact that some $8,000 to $10,000 more is expected to be received before the end of the month.

YOUR CHAMBER IN ACTION

By W. R. (BILL) HENRY
Executive Director

INTERESTING WEEK
Governor Briscoe's announcement to give the keynote address this week came as no great shock, but a pleasurable surprise. He indicated at first contact that he would like to come, but scheduling during a legislative session is most difficult.

He had great respect for the deeds and work done by the McLaughlin family and has stated many times how proud he is of Snyder's accomplishments in urban development.

We are very fortunate to have Governor Briscoe give the keynote address during our banquet, as are we to have Lady Bird Johnson, Ed Clark, the Board of Directors of the Cowboy Hall of Fame, former Governor Shivers and the other dignitaries expected to be in attendance.

Now that the lineup of speakers has been determined, the general banquet committee will begin tying the entire banquet together. Many people must be involved in putting on an event of this magnitude, planning everything from table decorations and the menu to seating at the head table.

Ticket information will be upcoming, but please mark Arpil 15 on your calender. This is yet another Snyder Chamber of Commerce Annual Banquet you will not want to miss.

INDUSTRIAL FOUNDATION
John Boren was elected president of the Snyder Industrial Foundation this week and pledged expanded work in trying to recruit new and expanding industry in Snyder.

The job won't be easy and can't be done alone. The entire community is involved when a prospect visits our community. Many times a prospective industrial concern comes into the community without any fanfare to see what the town is "really" like. They visit coffee shops and stores, and talk to gas station attendants. These officials know what chamber people and city officials will say about Snyder and its quality of life, but they want to know what the general populace thinks--the people they will employ if constructing a plant here.

One prospect came into a town and took a taxi from the airport. On the way, the company official grilled the driver on the community. The driver gave such a bad image, the prospect never met with the industrial team to discuss a new plant site.

TAX SEMINAR
The "Tax Strategy Seminar" will be held Tuesday at the Western Texas College Science Lecture Hall beginning at 7 p.m. Seats are still available from this free clinic, but reservations should be made at the chamber office promptly.

The seminar, dealing with the changes brought forth under the new 1976 Tax Law, will be conducted by Edward O. Daniels of the Bache Halsey Stuart Co. It will highlight where the new law helps and hurts you in filing this year's income tax return.

All citizens have been affected by the new law and should take part in the survey to understand where benefits have been expanded or deleted compared to past laws.

If you have any questions or would like to register, please call the office. It's free and would be worth the three hours you invest.

LOGO CONTEST
Only 10 days remain to enter the chamber's new logo contest. Please bring by or send your design to the Chamber as soon as possible. A $25 savings bond goes to the winner.

Private Privys Costly

DALLAS (AP)—The little house out back will never be the same - not in Dallas, anyway.

City administrators confirmed Wednesday that almost half of a $67,000 change order was approved to build two private restrooms for male and female city council members in the new municipal center.

A city spokesman said the restrooms were not included in original designs because it was not known how much space would be allocated for the council.

Contract revisions list $20,349 for plumbing, ventilation and air conditioning, $8,523 for construction and $2,255 for wiring.

Total cost of the private privys: $31,127.

Texas Traffic Toll Down, Speeding Up

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas' traffic death rate is down but the speeding arrest record is up, says Col. Wilson Speir, director of the Department of Public Safety.

Speir, who has recommended raising the 55 mile-per-hour speed limit to 60 mph on interstate and major highways, made the report Wednesday to the Public Safety Commission, which sets policy for the DPS.

Speir said there were about one million arrests by DPS troopers in 1976, of which about 800,000 were for speeding. In 1975 only 69 per cent of the arrests were for speeding.

Speir said preliminary traffic death reports show an estimated toll of 3,310 in 1976, a reduction of 3.5 per cent from the 1975 death toll of 3,429.
