STORMS MISSED

FEW HOURS WILL TELL WHETHER GIRL'S BID FOR FAME FAILED

(By Associated Press) The next few hours should tell whether Ruth Elder comely Florida Avia rix, has achieved fame as the first of her sex to complete a trans-oceanic flight.

While some misgivings were caused by the failure of any ship to path plotted by Miss Elder and George Haldeman, her co-pilot, to catch a glimpse of their plane, "The American Girl" this fact was off set substantially by reports of exceptionally favorable weather in mid-ocean and along the eastern shore of the Atlantic.

If all goes well she should arrive at Le Bourget field near Paris, France, about 7 a. m. (Eastern Standard Time) but the direction of prevailing winds at any point along the course might delay or advance the speed so as to make an appreciable difference.

With the exception of one brief glimpse the American Girl really disappeared yesterday, no report has come from the American Girl since she soared away from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., at 5:04 p. m. Tuesday afternoon.

BELIEVE PLANE ESCAPED STORM

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—It still isn't clear whether the "American Girl" really escaped from the storm which tonight lashed the north Atlantic.

A radio message tonight on the steamship American Farmer said: "At 22 GMT (10 p. m.) weather as reported by the ship, the American Girl, fresh northwest winds except passing Cumulus clouds and rough barometer 30.91 rising."

GIRL'S MOTHER NEAR COLLAPSE

ANNISTON, Ala., Oct. 12 (AP)—Ruth Elder's mother was practically on the verge of collapse of her home tonight, remembered the family said.

Worry and nervousness caused by the long day before her daughter hopped off for Paris in the plane "American Girl" Tuesday, coupled with anxiety for Ruth's safety, was assigned as the cause. Mrs. Elder was not confined to bed, however. It was said.

STEAMSHIP SIGHTED PLANE TUESDAY NIGHT

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—The second night since Ruth Elder and George Haldeman took off for France in their monoplane, "The American Girl" found the steamer except for one report less than 24 hours after the take-off.

Haldeman drove the Orange monoplane into the city at Roosevelt Field at 5:01 yesterday afternoon while his youthful companion sat in a cabin chair, clutching a toy cat mascot and praying that her dream of being the first woman to fly over the Atlantic might be realized.

Later she planned to take the

TORNADO RAKES TOWN, FOUR DEAD

$100,000 PROPERTY LOSS IN STORM STRIKING VILLAGE OF NORTHERN ARKANSAS

(By Associated Press) RHYTHM, Ark., Oct. 12—Four persons are dead, 11 injured and more than 100 buildings and dwellings in ruin today following a tornado which dipped into the northern tip of Mississippi county last night and vented its fury on the village of Rhythm, southeast of Rhytheville. Total property damage was estimated tonight at $100,000.

All of the dead and most of the injured were crushed under falling timbers of their homes. Two persons were injured when the storm struck a suburb of Rhythm and several others were hurt on plantations between this city and Dell.

W. P. Wynn, a justice of the peace, Dell, and his wife and Austin Hardin, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. J. A. Hardin, were killed.

The injured included John Hardin, husband of the woman killed, and three other members of the Hardin family and six members of the family of J. T. Green.

The Hardin home, directly in the path of the storm, was demolished and the bodies of the two persons killed there were carried about 100 yards from the wreckage of the house.

THIRTY HURT IN WRECK

Members of Cleveland Troupe Barely Escape Death in Bus-Train Collision

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Oct. 12 (AP)—Thirty persons were injured, one of them seriously, late today when a bus carrying members of the Jewish Metropolitan Theatre company, Cleveland, was wrecked when it collided with a truck near Welchfield, on the way to this city from Cleveland.

Chicago Spiritualist Succumbs to Apoplexy While Making Talk to Convention

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 12 (AP)—Alonso M. Griffin, 18, of Chicago, died from apoplexy here today in the midst of an impassioned address before the annual convention of the national spiritualist association. Mr. Griffin collapsed in the midst of a speech urging better education for spirit mediums and death was almost instantaneous.

GERMAN PLANE DOWN

Hydro-Plane Forced Down After Making 150 Miles of Proposed Trip to U. S.

BRUNSBUTTEL, AM—ELBE, Germany, Oct. 12 (AP)—The Heinkel hydro-aeroplane D-1228 which today began flight on the first leg of a proposed journey to America by way of the Azores tonight crashed on the waters of the Elbe, striking a new anchor before taking off again Thursday.

ANOTHER REVOLUTION PLOT, 500 ARE ARRESTED IN SPAIN

HENDAYE, France, Spanish Frontier, Oct. 12 (AP)—Five hundred persons are under arrest in connection with the recent discovery of a revolutionary conspiracy against the Primo De Rivera government. The arrests centered in Madrid, Barcelona and Huelva. Several officers are named among the alleged conspirators.

TANKER IN PACIFIC PUTS OUT DISTRESS SIGNALS

SAN PEDRO, Oct. 12 (AP)—An SOS from the California Petroleum company tanker "Winifred O'Donnell" reporting that she had gone ashore some Point Arguilla, 140 miles north of here, was received by the federal telegraph company at 9:21 o'clock tonight.

OBREGON SAYS UPRISING WAS MERELY A RIOT

SCOFFS AT STORIES ABOUT CONCERNED REVOLUTION

SERRANO BLAMED

CANDIDATE DECLARES CATHOLICS MUST RESPECT LAW

(By Associated Press) NOGALES, Mexico, Oct. 12.—General Alvaro Obregon, re-electionist candidate for the presidency of Mexico, declared today on his arrival here from Mexico City, that the recent unrest centered there "could not be termed revolution because revolutions are made by the people and but few districts took part in this simple riot."

"There are no two factions of public opinion as is supposed," Obregon stated, "because if there were, the revolution would be in the name of the nation."

"In no one state in the entire republic have any large groups organized the revolutionary movement," Obregon declared, "and the whole country cannot desire their actions and demands daily received telegrams of fealty and allegiance to the government from people representing all social classes."

Candidate is Supported.

The biggest candidate for the Mexican presidency, General Obregon, was supported by a state democratic convention because of his anti-Wilson attitude. He was acclaimed at a statewide Democratic rally and barbecue here as the party's logical presidential standard bearer in 1927.

Senator Reed was given ovation after ovation as he delivered an address denouncing the Republican national administration and declaring the times are ripe and rotten ripe for a change.

The senator's speech was accepted as the opening of a campaign to obtain for the next Democratic national a Missouri delegation. Between 10,000 and 15,000 persons, from all sections of the state, crowded into the coliseum at the State Fair grounds, to hear him speak.

Contrast With 1920.

The action of the state democratic committee last night in unanimously endorsing Reed for president and urging him to run again for the senatorship so he might continue to represent the state if he should not receive the presidential nomination, was in strong contrast to the attitude of his party in 1920. He then was refused the privilege of representing Missouri as a delegate to the Democratic National and was denounced from one end of the state to the other as being no longer a democrat.

Senator Reed declared, in his address tonight, that when Warren G. Harding was inaugurated president "corrupt and sinister financial conspiracies to his interests and purposes, took possession of the government and have ever since exercised a dominant control."

He denounced the foreign debt

SEEKS BOYS IN SEWER

Boys Who Disappeared From School Thought Drowned in San Antonio Sewer Main

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 12 (AP)—Police today abandoned the theory that two grade school boys who disappeared here yesterday had fallen into a storm sewer, after firemen had explored a mile of the sewer.

Equipped with gas masks and a large portable flashlight the firemen made a thorough search of the tunnel without finding any trace of the missing boys who are supposed to have entered the passage during recess yesterday.

MONROE RULE UPHELD

Federation of Labor Wants to See American Foreign Policy Remain the Same

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor today frowned on attempts to interfere in the government's foreign policy in Latin America and China and recorded its unanimous approval of the Monroe Doctrine.

The resolutions committee, in condemning a resolution introduced by John Sullivan of New York opposing "American interference in foreign countries," declared the measure itself "had no ground in truth."

He has been in the State capitol since his plea to the Governor

Work Ready To Start On Standpipe

Construction on Lubbock's new 1,200,000 gallon water stand-pipe will begin in the next few days. It was learned yesterday from officials at the city hall after word had been received from the Pittsburgh Des Moines steel company's Pittsburgh office.

Five workmen of the company have been busy during the past several days installing the trusses for the enlarging of the city power plant and expect to start on the standpipe work by Monday. They will be aided by a crew of approximately 20 men.

The stand will be 28 feet in diameter and 144 feet high. According to Chief W. E. Teutzy, the steel for the structure is the thickest ever used for a similar purpose in this section of the state. All materials for the pipe is on the ground.

Many of the exhibits entered by the various South Plains counties who were successful in taking down the large prizes offered at the State Fair were on display at the Panhandle, South Plains Fair held here, and were indeed winners in the competition there.

REED ACCLAIMED AS DEMO LEADER

MISSOURI SENATOR DRAGS OIL SKELETON FROM CLOSET IN RALLY SPEECH

(By Associated Press) SEDALLA, Mo., Oct. 12.—United States Senator James A. Reed, who only seven years ago was repudiated by a state democratic convention because of his anti-Wilson attitude, today was acclaimed at a statewide Democratic rally and barbecue here as the party's logical presidential standard bearer in 1927.

Senator Reed was given ovation after ovation as he delivered an address denouncing the Republican national administration and declaring the times are ripe and rotten ripe for a change.

Electric Chair Now Hovers Over Hassell As Appeal Is Denied

(Special To The Avalanche) AUSTIN, Oct. 12.—The electric chair homed sharply tonight as the fast approaching twilight to the career of George J. Hassell of Parwell, Texas, alleged slayer of thirteen persons, whose motion for a suspension from the death sentence assessed in the trial court, was denied today by the court of criminal appeals.

In denying the motion the court held that the trial was unprejudiced and that Hassell was not proved insane.

Sitting complacently in a cell of the jail at Parwell, where he has been imprisoned for several months, Hassell is apparently not concerned over the legal complications which are seeking to delay and modify his sentence.

He has been in the State capitol since his plea to the Governor

Moody resulted in a reprieve in order that the law might take its course on the appeal.

Hassell is alleged by officers to have signed a statement admitting the slaying of his wife and nine step-children at his farm home near Parwell last December.

His bodies were discovered in shallow graves after neighbors became suspicious at their sudden disappearance, which Hassell had declared was due to a visit to Oklahoma.

He is also said to have confessed the killing of a former wife and two children in California.

Hassell's only statement regarding the case has been that he "wants to live," in order to keep himself supplied with tobacco and minor luxuries. Hassell is talking daily colored talk while in the jail.

LUBBOCK FARM EXHIBIT PLACES AT DALLAS FAIR

HARRISON FIRST, GARZA SECOND, HEMPHILL IS THIRD

LUBBOCK IS 18th

MANY SOUTH PLAINS' EXHIBITS CARRY OFF PRIZES

(By Associated Press) DALLAS, Oct. 12.—Harrison county won first place at the state fair of Texas for its agricultural exhibition. Garza county won second place and Hemphill third.

The first prize exhibit, in charge of Drue M. Moore, had a total of 986.63 points. Garza's offering, put up by George Samson, had 986.45 points, only 17 of a point behind Hemphill's exhibit in charge of Packer D. Hainny, had 957.60 points. Lamar, Hardeman, DeWitt, Smith, Cash, Hale, Henderson, Smith, Coffin, Wood, Marion, Floyd, Hunt, Ellis, Dallas, and Lubbock counties were next in order named.

Many of the exhibits entered by the various South Plains counties who were successful in taking down the large prizes offered at the State Fair were on display at the Panhandle, South Plains Fair held here, and were indeed winners in the competition there.

FRENCH PLANE HELD UP

Torrential Rains Prevent The Take-off of Intrepid Pair on Trip to Buenos Aires

SAINT LOUIS, SENEGAL, Oct. 12 (AP)—A heavy flying field prevented Diogenes Costes and Lieutenant Joseph Le Brix from carrying out their project of landing their plane, the Nungesser-Coll at Buenos Aires four days after their take-off from Paris Monday. Torrential rains had so softened the field that the take-off scheduled for tonight was impossible and had to be postponed until tomorrow morning at ten o'clock.

The weather over the ocean, in the meantime, took a turn for the worse but prospects are that it will be favorable enough tomorrow morning.

CHANNEL SWIM PRIZE

New Record, Declared Authentic and London Girl Gets Prize For Lowering Mark

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Dorothy Cochrane Lorain, who yesterday swam the Channel, and Horace Carey, her trainer, were awarded today regarding the swim and Miss Lorain will receive a prize of $12,000 for breaking the record held by Gertrude Ederle.

The prize was offered by Lord Riddell, publisher of the News of the World, to the first British woman to lower the time taken by Miss Ederle to cross the English Channel.

Miss Lorain was credited yesterday with crossing the channel in 13 hours and 10 minutes; Miss Ederle took 14 hours and 31 minutes.

ANDREWS WINS SUIT

Judgment of $5500 is Awarded to Lubbock Man As Result of Accident Last Year

A jury in the 99th district court yesterday returned a verdict awarding Tony Andrews a judgment of $5,500 against the Bradford Grocery company and the South Plains Coaches in a damage suit which came as an outgrowth of an accident on October 27th of last year in which the plaintiff alleged to be injured when knocked from his wagon which was struck by a Radford truck on Avenue H.

According to testimony offered in the case, Andrews, the plaintiff was on his wagon on Avenue H, and had come to a halt at the stop signal when a truck of the grocery company bumped into the rear of the wagon, forcing Andrews to the pavement and breaking his ankle. A bus of the coach company was immediately alongside the grocery truck and prevented it from turning out beside the wagon, according to the original defendant's plea. The plaintiff has been unable to walk without crutches since, according to testimony.

Andrews' original petition called for $7,500 in damages.

GREENHILL FUNERAL WILL BE HELD THIS AFTERNOON

Funeral services for A. E. Greenhill, who was found dead Tuesday in a field near his farm near Monroe, will be held Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock, it was announced yesterday.

Rev. E. E. White will have charge of the services, which will be held at Mr. Greenhill's home. Interment will be in the cemetery at Lubbock.

Auto Racer Badly Hurt In Accident

HARRY HARTZ

HARTZ GOES OVER AND FIRES RAIL; DRIVER WILL RECOVER

(By Associated Press) ROCKINGHAM, S. P. EDWARD W. SALAMON, N. H., Oct. 12.—A spectacular crash that set fire to the speedway and sent Harry Hartz, one of America's leading automobile race drivers to a hospital seriously injured today forced a halt in the 200-mile Columbus Day sweepstakes here. A 12 mile dash, was then held to determine prize winner and championship point scores in the completed big race.

The accident occurred on the 52nd lap of the scheduled 200-mile race when Hartz, attempting to snatch the lead from youthful Frank Lockhart by a terrific dash, lost control of his machine, skidded crazily down the boards to the dirt, overrunning once and hurling Hartz 35 feet.

Four Fires Started

Bursting into flames the car bounced back onto the track and rolled over four times, scattering four fires along the infield. While the ambulance crew, mechanics and the track fire apparatus stood for the injured man and the fire chemicals on the flames threw dense clouds of black smoke across the track, blinding the rest of the race.

STATE LAW IS TESTED

Harris County Man in Mandamus Petition Against State Land Commissioner.

AUSTIN, Oct. 12 (AP)—Requests of P. L. Buvens, Harris county, to leave to file mandamus petition against J. T. Robinson, state land commissioner, for mineral rights on the clause that the state "relinquishment act," is unconstitutional, was granted today by the supreme court.

The court, having admitted the case, will hear it directly. Buvens seeks to force Robinson to grant him permit for prospecting on about 830 acres of state land in Pecos county and named L. G. Yates, Pecos county, and the Trans-Continental Oil company respondents because Yates, who owns surface rights to the land in question leased mineral privileges to the company.

FASCISTS START RIOT

Pop Bottle Thrown into Parade Causes Clash in Which 20 Hurt, Dozen Arrested

HOBOKEN, N. J., Oct. 12 (AP)—Fascists are blamed by the police for the stoning today of the Columbus Day parade here that caused a riot in which a score were injured and a dozen persons arrested.

When the 4,000 marchers in the Italian-American societies' parade were passing a school some one hurled a bottle. It was the sign for a fusillade of stones, clubs and bottles. American and Italian flags were wrested from marchers and torn up.

FARM COUPLE CHARGED IN MURDER OF THEIR TWO SONS

BLAKEY, Ga., Oct. 12 (AP)—Indictments charging Mr. and Mrs. Harris Hayes, sixt year old farm couple, with murder in connection with the deaths of their sons, James and Amos and their daughter-in-law Mrs. Nancy Hayes, 16-year-old widow of Amos, were returned by the county grand jury today.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Frank E. Riber and Miss Beulah Perry and Henry H. Chapman and Miss Lillie Simmons.

OPENING GUN OF DISTRICT-WIDE CAMPAIGN TO OUST TALLEY AND GILBERT IS FIRED BY 37 SOUTH PLAINS' BANK EXECUTIVES

Declaring that the methods of administration of the Eleventh District of the Federal Reserve bank were retarding credit conditions not only in Texas but in other states over which it has supervision, 37 South Plains Bankers practically all of them representing member banks of the Federal Reserve organization, gathered together here today and fired the opening gun of a campaign to remove from office Governor Lynn P. Talley and Deputy Governor R. R. Gilbert.

At the invitation of bankers of this section President J. P. Williams, of the First National bank of Mineral Wells, came before the body and explained conditions of operation in the Eleventh Reserve district, which he said were "destroying the usefulness of the bank." Following Mr. Williams' talk the conference passed a resolution supporting the campaign for a new governor and deputy governor to head the work of the Federal Reserve bank at Dallas. "We hereby pledge our hearty cooperation in the work of J. P. Williams looking forward to the removal of Mr. Talley as governor and Mr. Gilbert as deputy governor and placing in their stead capable bankers, who will, at all times, have at heart the sympathetic interest of the member bankers, individually and collectively, and who will, at the same time, uphold and enforce the rules necessary for the protection of the Federal Reserve bank in its proper operation," the resolution read.

MAN CHARGED IN EDDY ROBBERY

POLICE AT TEMPLE ARREST TULSA MAN ON CHARGE OF BANK HOLD-UP

(By Associated Press) TEMPLE, Oct. 12.—A man giving his name as M. C. Woodson, who held up the bank, Sheriff John Bligham declared, Woodson, who was arrested here late today, identified as the man who helped the First National bank of Eddy at noon Monday, when $1,501 was obtained, and was lodged in jail at Belton charged with the robbery.

Woodson had been staying in Temple for several days, explaining to garage men with whom he left his automobile that he was here at the bedside of his father, ill in a hospital. Within an hour after the bank at Eddy had been robbed, he drove into a garage here and ordered his car washed.

Cashier Fred Stewart of the Eddy bank, who identified Woodson, was positive he was the man who held up the bank, Sheriff John Bligham declared. Woodson, who only denied that he was the right man. The description of the automobile in which the robber escaped from Eddy tallied with that of the car driven by Woodson, as did that of the robber's clothing and personal appearance with Woodson's.

Support to Move Unanimous. Bankers present were unanimous in their support and praise of the Federal Reserve act, which they agreed has been the most vital factor in public business and the extending of proper credit ever since it has been placed into effect, the resolution said. It also requested Mr. Williams to present information concerning the need of new district governors to the board of the Eleventh district for their final consideration and action. The resolution was signed by a committee consisting of A. B. Brown, chairman, president of the First National bank of Lockney; T. S. Stevenson, secretary, president of the Floyd County National bank, Floydada; W. K. Crawley, cashier, First National bank of Lamesa; O. T. Slaton, president First National bank of Lubbock; John Haney, president of the First National bank of Ralls.

Banking executives, present at the meeting, said that the fault found with the present administration at Dallas was that Governor Talley and Deputy Gilbert evidently failed to appreciate the needs of the smaller banks and that their methods of calling in loans had seriously handicapped those institutions in advancing necessary credit.

Blamed For Cotton Loss. A loss of approximately $400,000 to the cotton growers of the Eleventh District last year—$250,000,000 of which was lost in Texas alone—was laid at the doors of the operation methods of the Reserve Bank by C. E. Maedgen, A. D. Brown and F. A. Norman, widely known Plains bank executives.

SUL ROSS-TECH GAME SHIFTED TO LUBBOCK

'HOT-STOVE LEAGUE' SEASON BEGINS AS MAJOR LOOPS CLOSE

LOCAL FANS TO SEE LOBOES OCT. 22

The date of the game between the Sul Ross Lobos and the Texas Tech Matadors, scheduled for Amarillo on October 22, to Lubbock in the same date was announced last night by Business Manager E. W. Provencher of Tech.

No reason was cited for transferring the game but it is believed that Tech officials believed it would draw just as well here as in Amarillo, and that they believed the Lobos in action just as much (times as) as in Amarillo.

Negotiations were under way for a special train to the game as an article when news of the transfer came. Such enthusiasm for the game elicited the following comment from Coach E. Y. Frazier:

"If the fans will show just as much enthusiasm for the game here as they did for it in Amarillo then there is little doubt about its success financially."

AMARILLO HIGH USES WARNER SYSTEM

The fighting spirit continues to accumulate in the hearts of the Westerners as they diligently and industriously toil on the Merrill Park every afternoon preparatory to their initial conference game with the Amarillo high school Saturday in Amarillo.

The spirit among the boys is the same as they give they will come through and give all they have against the Gushing Sandies.

Coach Frank used the Warner system. The handlers of the local high school football center are at least happy in the thought that they will have a scrapping machine in the field to offer against Hugh Butler's mighty offense.

Use Warner System.

Butler's offensive machine is built mostly on the Pop Warner system, played by the crack Lubbock football machine of Chiswick, and considered the most colorful play in offense used in football, being employed by the Sandies and they have pulled up a big total of scores this season.

192 points to date having been scored in only four games with an average of 47-48 points to the game. True, the best of teams have not competed with the Golden Mustangs this season, but nevertheless they have displayed a wonderful array of offense.

Coach Frank and Morgan have been working with the Warner system in setting up a defense to combat with the Warner system.

Just what to expect of the Sandies in the forward passing is at a loss for the Sandies have opened but pass this season—and it was for a touchdown. Only once have the Sandies scored on the goal line in Amarillo this season and Coach Frank has had a special team will convey the Westerners and some 250 fans to the contest Saturday. The train leaves about 7 o'clock Saturday morning.

ARIZONA U. LEAVES TEXAS MINE SCHOOL OFF SCHEDULE

TUCSON, Ariz., Oct. 12 (AP)—An order indicating that the Texas school of mines was not to be on any University of Arizona athletic schedule after this season, was made by the letter's board of control today.

The order resulted from the refusal of the Texas school to return from using Arizona players who have had their careers in varsity competition previous to the present season. The University of Arizona's order was that Graduate Manager Lewis Stankler should not schedule any more athletic contests of any kind with colleges which do not limit participation of players in four years. It also stipulated against colleges which use transfer players before they have been in residence a full college year.

There Are No Hard Feelings, Anyway Stengel And Huber Shake After Tilt

Although Casey Stengel's Matadors defeated the Buffalo Bisons in the annual "Little World Series" between the American Association and International League champions, there were no hard feelings. Huber and Stengel, who were both hard fighters, shook hands after the clouds of battle had rolled away.

Ban Johnson, After Twenty-Seven Years As Head of American League, Preparing To Turn Over Helm of Office to Another

By Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 12 (AP)—President Ben Johnson of the American League tonight entered the stretch run of the career as a baseball player after leaving the league twenty-seven years ago.

The retiring president called a meeting of the board of directors for Chicago next Monday when the affairs of the league will be presented to them, preparatory to his surrendering of office at that time. All the records and financial affairs have been checked and additional arrangements that have taken place since the one-time czar of organized baseball took up his duties in 1900.

The directors are Frank J. Navin of the Detroit club, Clark Griffith of Washington, Phil Ball of St. Louis, and Ben Shibe of Philadelphia.

President Johnson said he intended to surrender the affairs of the league without waiting until November 1, the date his resignation was to become effective. Nor did he give any intimation who would succeed him. He said he had no knowledge whatever of the club owners' intention.

Barnard Kribbs, successor.

Members of the circuit, however, indicate that E. S. Barnard, president of the Cleveland club, is the choice of the club owners, and that his election will be announced when President Johnson's term of office expires. The headquarters will be maintained in Chicago.

"I am turning over the office in such shape that a child could read its history," President Johnson said. "My successor, whoever he is, will have no trouble."

"I hope my successor will be a good strong man for the good of the league. Factions form in all groups and one man must dominate and have real authority."

Most Have New Sources.

President Johnson, pointing into the baseball future, can see no signs of wanting interest, but he feels that the sources of baseball supply are drying up and that new schools for baseball development must spring up.

"Four or five years it becomes more difficult to maintain the playing standards of earlier years," he said. "Colleges do not produce many baseball players because there is only a lukewarm interest in the college game. The player is scarce because there are fewer younger players coming up and the veterans are dropping out without proper replacement. You can see it all around. The old timers are hanging on long past their time."

The season just finished has proved that the fans are just as keenly interested in professional baseball as ever, but the game must be kept from falling away from gambling and syndicates.

AERIAL THREAT OF COWBOYS STRONG

The Texas Technological Matadors are pointing to their weak and conflict with the Simmons University Cowboys, with the result that they will have on hand to deal with Saturday one of their hardest teams scheduled on their 1927 card.

Coach Victor Payne, former coach of the Cowboys, declared that the Matadors are in the best of shape to handle the Cowboys in their aerial attack last week-end was startling. The Matadors in seventeen attempts with the forward pass, completed twelve of them for a neat percentage gain.

Ponies Put Memory Of Defeat Behind And Gird For Owls

(Special to The Advance)

DALLAS, Oct. 12.—Fretting the unexpected defeat handed their sullying Mustangs at Shreveport last Saturday, the Southern Methodist University coaches, Morrison and McHenry, have turned their eyes this week toward the Blue invasion of the Cowboy Stadium Friday. Every practice session has been long and strenuous, and the coaches report that their charges are ready to reduce themselves.

"Of course we hated to lose to Oklahoma," Coach Morrison said. "But it may have been the best thing for the boys after all. The praise of the press has made them a bit cocky, even though they didn't realize it. Now they know only too well that they can be beaten and beaten badly."

The Mustangs will not play the Blue game in the best mental state that a team could be in upon their conference season. They know that they will have a hard time with the Blue line but they are ready to do or die in an effort to stage a come-back in the eyes of Dallas fans. They are determined to take each conference game at its own price and they are determined to win.

The first factored Ponies will do better on the verdant Cowboy grid. The Shreveport field had a combination of sand and silt and the rain of the night before did not assist by any means setting for the Mustangs' last running game. But the Blue line will find it difficult to maintain the fastest turf in the South, which will give the little

TRADE RUMORS COME THICK AND FAST

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The 1927-28 seasons of baseball's "hot stove league" may not develop as startling food for winter fans as last year but there are already a number of shifts in progress to enliven the off season.

The date of Kilt Cuyler, Pirate outfielder star who warmed the bench during the world's series, has aroused especially keen speculation on the assumption that Pittsburgh for reasons best known to its own officials will not keep him.

Cincinnati and Brooklyn are most often mentioned as likely to get Cuyler while Chicago fans have organized a "We want Kilt Cuyler" club to influence an effort by the Cubs to obtain the Pirate star.

It is believed, however, that the Pirates will not expect the Pirates to let Cuyler go to the Cubs, Giants or Cardinals and this strengthens the three teams which gave Pittsburgh the hottest chase for this year's pennant.

Cincinnati Proposes Trade.

Cincinnati, it is suggested, might trade Cuyler for first baseman and pitcher for Cuyler, since the illness of Joe Harris this season may prevent him from being a regular again for the Pirates next year. Brooklyn has an excellent collection of pitching talent, which might interest the Pirates in any talk of trade, but the deal need such factors as money, policy and luck as today as they are out of order.

Connie Mack already has released Zach Wheat, veteran outfielder and former National League star, unconditionally and there is a question whether Ty Cobb will back on the job for the Athletics in 1928.

Cobb's Salary Sinks.

The case of Cobb's salary, reportedly estimated at over $100,000 for 1927, is understood to be an item which may influence the Athletics against retaining the famous Georgian. Before the start of this season, Cobb declared he wanted to retire, and he has not yet returned.

General manager of the St. Louis Browns, and the Cleveland Indians is in prospect, with the latter club likely to change ownership. Phil Ball, Brown owner, announced something to a "house cleaning" would be made and that George Selig, crack first baseman, would be shipped to a shortstop.

This prompted reports that Connie Mack might seek the former Michigan star, Jack McCallister, is not expected to remain as Cleveland's manager another year. Tris Speaker, who is unlikely to wear a Washington uniform again, is talked of as McClellan's successor.

Others Want New Blood.

In the National League, Boston, Philadelphia and Brooklyn all are in the market for new material. It would not be surprising to see these teams figure in trading shifts, making major changes in their lineups in 1928. The strength of the other five clubs in the center circuit was pretty well established this season but the Giants are still looking for an outfielder and an outfielder or two and the Cubs and Cardinals are in the market for new blood.

Generally all of the American League clubs, except the champion Yankees, are on the lookout for new strength, and even the New York Yankees are not likely to turn down any good seventh prospects.

INJURIES DEAL FRESH BLOW TO T. C. U.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 12.—The injury line hit the T. C. U. Horned Lizards a heavy blow again Monday afternoon when Bill Palmer, first string center who has been out for a week with an infected arm, got his arm broken in scrimmage with the freshman eleven.

Bill was just recovering from the bad arm and was getting into the scrimmage gingerly when he got the blow on his nose. He likely will be out for another ten days at least. Palmer's inability to play will put the entire load of the center's responsibility on the broad but inexperienced shoulders of Amos Melton, last year guard who was made over into a center this year by Coach Bell. Amos played the entire game at center against the Texas Lancers and only made one bad pass back. He also went most of the way in the game with Texas Tech here last Saturday. However, in the event that Melton is hurt Bill has a first year man, Robert "Sandpiper" George to fall back on. George is a heady pivot man but is badly handicapped by his size and weight.

The new injury to Palmer puts three of Bell's regulars out of the lineup at least temporarily. Captain "Blackie" Williams likely will not be used in the game here Saturday with the Austin College Kangaroos as a result of a strained leg muscle felt while he was in the game with the Frog leader in tip top shape for the battle with the Texas Aggies here Oct. 22. The other regular who is out temporarily with a bad shoulder is Jake Williams, 192-200 pound tackle.

T. C. U. COMPLETE PLANS FOR A. AND M. RECEPTION

FORT WORTH, Oct. 12.—Students of Texas Christian University have announced completion of plans for the entertainment of the 2000 students of the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College who will accompany the A. and M. football team to Fort Worth for its tilt with the T. C. U. Horned Lizards on Oct. 22.

When the A. and M. students arrive they will be given coupon books containing two street-car passes, tickets to the barbecue and picnic, and a dinner at the Texas Hotel, and other events.

The first event of the day will be a parade with the student bodies and bands of both schools taking part. At 12:30 a barbecue will be given to the A. and M. students and visiting citizens of Bryan by the student body of T. C. U. on the campus. At the same hour a luncheon will be given for the presidents and faculties of T. C. U. and A. and M.

The football game is scheduled for 2 p. m. The pep squads of both schools will put on colorful stunts between halves. After the game the throng will go back to town where dance will be had at several cafes. Arrangements having been made by the Ex-Student Association of A. and M. The visiting women will be entertained at 6 p. m. For those cadets and visitors who do not attend the dance, tickets will be provided for admission to several theatres. A large part of the delegation is expected to remain in Fort Worth over night and possibly Sunday.

'BEAR' WOLF RETURNS TO SCHOOL, T. C. U.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 12.—Raymond "Bear" Wolf, outstanding athlete at Texas Christian University for the past three years, has returned to the university to complete his course and get his degree.

Wolf signed a contract with the Cincinnati Baseball Club of the National League last summer after school closed.

He was named out to the Columbus, Ohio, club and remained with them until the season closed. He was injured in the first game with Columbus after crashing out a double and a triple. He was on the bench for three weeks but returned to the game to alternate at first base with Schibler, formerly with Shreveport of the Texas League, for the rest of the season. He hit 320 more of the season.

Geneva Defeats Boston College

BOSTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Bo McMillan's Geneva college today defeated Boston College, 13-0, before a holiday crowd of 20,000. The two eleven fought doggedly throughout the game with the Pennsylvania team playing superior football. Geneva's first score came in the second period when Flenkiewicz hurled a 35 yard forward pass to Schuchert who ran five yards across the line. The kick failed.

In the third period, Flenkiewicz pulled another touchdown after a 39 yard run through a broken field. Schuchert kicked the goal.

Sport Fans All Set To See Film Of Recent Fight

The boys who didn't have the sufficient "wherewith" to make the jump to Chicago recently, will see Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey mixed punches for a fair block of the coin of the realm, are booked and primed here today, for Cliff Lindsey and Friday will include the big bout.

Tex Rickard is producer of the picture and it was taken with the consent of the boxing commission from the ringside. The seventh round of the 16-round will, in which Tunney was floored and claimed to have been given two many seconds while down, is repeated in slow motion. Manager Lindsey forecasts packed houses as a result of this picture.

AMERICANS WON'T HAVE THE SAME TASTE AS THE FRENCH GETTING THE DAVIS CUP ADMITTED WITHOUT DUTY

The way things look now when it comes back here it will be a rare old bit of antique art.

"I never ran from any man. I retreated from Dempsey's fire." You figure the difference.

Rogers Hornsby says: "I will play second base for nothing just to be in there playing for the pennant."

Gene is quite a talker. And quite a man to beat. He says he "never runs away." He just "kicks in retreat."

Americans won't have the same taste as the French getting the Davis cup admitted without duty. The way things look now when it comes back here it will be a rare old bit of antique art.

Whoopee, my dearies, I can't trust my caries. Rogers will play without cut. Hingston has fevers. For this year's world series. When the players go clean off their nut.

"The Count of Clydesdale who attended the fight as Tunney's guest missed the special train." There, me lads, is the original slow count.

RURALSQUADWORK TO GET ATTENTION

FORMATION OF TROOPS AND PATROLS IN COUNTRY IS PLAN OF KNOX

The formation of rural scout troops and patrols loom as another step in the advancement of South Plains scouting as a result of a declaration by W. P. Knox, newly elected scout executive of the South Plains council to the effect that the plan of scouting, that of including every boy, everywhere, would be observed to the minutest detail in the program of the council for the coming year. Mr. Knox, who has had several years of experience in scout work, comes to Lubbock from Beaumont where the rural scout work was as important as that of the boys in the towns and cities.

Mr. Knox has been spending the past several days in a tour of various towns in the council where he has been meeting with scout leaders in regard to a definite program for the year.

A rural program of scouting is one of Mr. Knox's plans for the year and it is hoped to see many rural boys in the organization before the close of the first year here. They may either enter the work by forming home patrols or community troops. Sixty-five per cent of the nation's population is rural. Mr. Knox pointed out, and this fact alone demands that the rural boys be given more attention in the work.

The rural work will be carried along with the scout work of the towns which is expected to see great advancement during the coming year.

HERBORG, France, Oct. 12 (AP)—Escorted by a guard of honor, Nebraska Legionnaire, Charles Levine embarked for his return to the Levantine yesterday. His sole companion was a dog.

"I am leaving the Columbia (the plane in which he crossed the Atlantic with Clarence Chamberlin) today," he told Consul Wiley. "I shall return next year. In the meantime I am power with all the means in my power my dream—to make transatlantic flying a practical proposition. I have important business apart from that which requires my presence in America. Besides my family is getting impatient over my absence."

Among the speakers will be Dr. Irlton S. Rice, pastor of the Goodwood Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Detroit, who will call a "Methodism's skylark"—the late Bishop William A. Quayle.

Budweiser Real Hop Malt Syrup

It takes more than loud talk to make malt like BUDWEISER

It takes plant facilities for cleaning, grading, malting, extracting and blending such as are enjoyed by Anheuser-Busch!

It takes Anheuser-Busch experience—the experience of more than 70 years as America's foremost maltsters!

It means paying an extra price to secure the finest hops and barleys grown at home and abroad!

It means doing (as very few malt manufacturers do) all malting from the original barley in our own plants instead of buying any partially-processed ingredients from outside sources—ingredients which may be good, bad or indifferent.

And finally, it means backing up the finished product with a name and trade-mark that has meant top-quality the world over for more than 70 years!

NATIONAL RIVALRIES OVER AN INTERNATIONALIZED CITY

Spain and Great Britain have been on particularly cordial terms during the past three years. Premier De Rivera's recent conference with Foreign Secretary Chamberlain at Barcelona has attracted attention in European diplomatic circles, as it presupposes a reopening of the Tangier question. It is almost four years since delegates of Great Britain, Spain and France formulated a scheme for governing that internationalized area of 140 square miles. In 1912 it was created under Franco-Spanish and Anglo-French agreements. The area contains Tangier (city) and numerous villages, and the Sultan of Morocco is the nominal suzerain. Tangier's administration is hampered by the complicated scheme adopted in 1923, and the port has suffered from national rivalries. The council of control embraces the Sultan's representative and several Powers' consuls, and to this was added a municipal assembly of 26 members. Four assemblies are French, four Spanish and three British; Tangier's natives are allowed nine representatives, one member speaks for the Sultan, and a place is reserved for each of the five Powers that signed the Algeciras Treaty in 1906, besides France, Spain and Great Britain. Those other signatories are Italy, Portugal, Belgium, Holland and the United States; but Washington never has ratified the scheme. Spain complains that it cannot pacify its adjacent protectorate without better control over the importation of arms and ammunition at Tangier. It asserts that weapons are smuggled across the line between the internationalized area and the protectorate, and it seeks predominance in Tangier so as to stop gun-running. France opposes Spain's plans, evidently fearing that Italy is backing them. Great Britain doubtless is trying to solve the problem in a way which will help Spain restore peace to its long-troubled zone—where an outbreak was quelled recently—but it does not require than any Power shall dominate Tangier. That city is only forty miles from Gibraltar and like Britain's great fortress—is on Gibraltar Strait. Spain already holds Ceuta on the African side of the Strait. Another conference on Tangier's status may be held in Paris this month, with France, Spain, Great Britain and Italy participating. The United States is accorded the right to trade with Tangier on equal terms with other nations, under the Algeciras Treaty. It also claims exclusive jurisdiction over its citizens there, according to a treaty with Morocco, which was effectuated before that country was divided into French and Spanish spheres of influence. If a better plan for the internationalized area's government is devised, the United States should help put it into execution. Four years ago Great Britain suggested that the League of Nations administer Tangier, but it yielded to the opposition of both France and Spain.

EUROPE BUSINESS RECOVERY AND WHAT IT MEANS TO US

The average American citizen, who has not studied the situation does not realize just what it means for the business of Europe to recuperate and get back on its feet in normal condition. Dr. Klein who is director of foreign and Domestic Commerce, in the Department of Commerce says that by one of the best business barometers—public discussion—Europe's business morale is seen to be strengthened. There is real mental renaissance well under way. No longer do the leaders talk of "pre-war normalcy" they know it cannot, should not be recovered. A new economic world has come into being since the war, and Europe is beginning to realize it. Transportation facilities have notably improved. Particularly encouraging has been the completion of currency and budgetary stabilization in practically all countries. Another financial indicator of importance has been the steady advance of savings. Unemployment figures have been dwindling steadily. Strikes have decreased in almost every important industry and manufacturing center. Production generally has risen steadily. Steel exports of Europe for 1927 will show for the first time a substantial gain—probably about 20 per cent—in volume over 1913. "Invisibles" have also recovered; middlemen's services, tourist expenditures, and the control of key raw materials. All this betterment will undoubtedly mean improved buying power on the part not only of our leading customers (Europe took 48 per cent of our exports in the last 12 months), but also in the overseas European dominions and other sources of her foods, raw material, etc. Nevertheless, the possible implications in this recovery, in terms of more intensive competition, should not be overlooked by American industry. Each of our leading trans-Atlantic rivals is making preparations for active drives in Latin American and Far Eastern markets. For this purpose they are rapidly marshaling the aid of new governmental trade promotional officers (such as that of Italy), better transportation and communications facilities (the new Berlin-Buenos Aires radiophone service and the British radio-beam control to Australia), and various governmental credit insurance schemes, export subsidies, cartels under official patronage, etc. The time for watchful, aggressive initiative for American export is at hand. It must not be inferred that there is no room for further improvement in the European economic situation. Business leaders throughout the Old World complain that trade barriers are still retarding commercial development all over the Continent. There still is a prevalent inclination in Europe to cull for government intervention, control or manipulation whenever a trade is in momentary distress—outright subsidies of public funds, credit insurance devices, export bonuses, and in several countries complete monopolization of given trades by the government. In the main, however, the sober opinion of responsible European leaders seems to be mobilizing against these rather costly devices. Certainly the views expressed at the Geneva Economic Conference and the International Chamber of Commerce meeting in Stockholm were emphatically against all such intrusions of political agencies into business. It is gratifying to note in European business circles practically complete absence of any bitterness or hostility toward the United States. There is on the contrary a steadily increasing appreciation of the need for mutual trans-Atlantic good-will for the facilitation of capital advances and the steady increase of merchandise movements, which have been growing regularly in both directions.

AN OCTOBER FORECAST OF 12,676,000 BALES

Cotton crop reports and estimates by the Department of Agriculture are issued only once a month, under the new act which was based on Secretary Jardine's recommendations. Already the system has been found a great improvement over the semi-monthly forecasts formerly required, which were never quite satisfactory in practice. Before, the market had time to recover from the effects on one estimate another was due; and this resulted in almost continual demoralization. On that account the Department was subjected to much criticism from both the growers and the trade. The real difficulty was that the Government experts were handicapped by the law and that the impossible was expected of them. Not all those restrictions have been removed. For example, forbidding the condition reports in June and July impairs the value of the service to both farmer and spinner. Nevertheless it is a relief to be concerned to be rid of the mid-month estimates. The market is more stable than it has been for some years—also a generally satisfactory situation. However, it must be borne in mind that the condition of the crop itself has shown little variation, though remaining at a low level. Based on the October 1 situation, a yield of 12,678,000 bales is forecast—only 14,000 bales less than the September 1 estimate. That difference presents a striking contrast to reports during the past two years, when the prospective harvest was calculated to vary by millions of bales in two weeks. It does not necessarily follow that the Department is more nearly accurate than before, though some improvement would be expected with about twice as much time at the field men's command. Rather, the factors influencing the crop this year have been more readily calculable in advance. Autumn weather has been closer to normal and the boll-evil has run true to form. Besides an acreage-reduction of approximately one-eighth, the "billion-dollar bug" has been principally responsible for cutting the yield 5,300,000 bales below last year's. At the same time an overproduction problem is solved and prices are returning to a profitable basis. Because of a late spring and rainy summer three times as many weevils have appeared as a year ago. Infestation is worst in Georgia; Louisiana, Florida, South Carolina and Texas have been visited in the order named. Some encouragement may be derived from the circumstances that the insect works most havoc in regions lately invaded, but is of less and less consequence in Texas—the first state to be infested. This is the law of adoption at work, and properly utilized by the farmer it will enable him to grow cotton despite the pest. To be sure, one uncontrollable element, the weather, always will remain.

SO THINK WE

We think that people who patronize the divorce mill should not be surprised if they get into the booz saw.

We think that this beautiful sunshine will cause no one to complain as it is doing much good for the cotton over the South Plains.

We think that the women are trying to put one over the men by taking to the air these days in an attempt to cross the Atlantic.

We think that no one can deny the fact that should favorable weather conditions exist some while longer in this section that the South Plains will be "settling on top of the world."

We think that Saturday will see a big gridiron day for Lubbock. A special train will carry the high school football team to Amarillo where they play their first conference game with the Amarillo high school and here at home the Matador meet with the Simmons university team.

We think that the South Plains bankers celebrated Columbus Day yesterday by meeting together here and discussing conditions existing among the banks of the South Plains.

We think that since the heavy-weight fights and world series are over the headlines will not be turned back to politics and murders.

We think that most people reap what they sow. The fellow who carries hate in his heart is sure to reap a crop that will contain plenty of weed seed.

We think that most flappers look on the bright side of life and things—especially mirrors.

We think that it has been discovered that the Lubbock fellow who stated that he has yet to sell his wife his first lie is a bachelor.

OPINIONS

ALAS FOR HIS WORK!

According to a telegram from France there has just died at Nice an old gentleman of 81 who was once president of the Society for the Promotion and Progress of the Culture, and whose other claim to fame is reported to be that he was "the inventor of the 'bun' style of hair-dressing for fashionable women in days of the last century. Unless he was a good deal of a philosopher this ex-president must have had rather an embittered old age. It would bother him to find a "bun" anywhere about the "fashionable women" of the advanced and shingled generation. Few inventors or not have lived to see their inventions more completely obliterated than this barber who built the first "bun" at the back of a beauteous head.—Manchester Guardian.

LET'S PUT THE BRIDLE ON

People in desperate circumstances soliciting alms are objects of pity and should be helped. Many who make the rounds with petitions of this kind and another, soliciting subscription for financial aid for certain things and institutions, are honest and working in worthy causes. That's that. On the other hand the country is flooded with indolent beggars, moochers and panhandlers, all with open mouths to tell most of which are pure and unadorned fabrications. There are also collectors. An cause unworthy, very often for institutions that never existed, who get what they can from the gullible and complacently deposit it in their own pockets. This is true in both the large cities where the people

IT IS REPORTED

It is reported that the Lubbock high school football team will play their first conference game this week-end in Amarillo against the crack high school club of that city. They will be accompanied by a team of 25 city orchestra and soloists, singing and banding, to the effect that those who engage in it on the streets and in the homes and business-houses of the city must first secure a permit from the city or the chamber of commerce. This should be the rule in the case of all solicitations for anything but charity. Charitable cases might be referred to the regular charitable organizations, or in the absence of one would have to produce credentials of worthiness from the same.

It is reported that one Lubbock husband says he has traded about everything and he has concluded that the only way to feel his wife is to tell her the truth.

It is reported that popular song hits are often so popular that they become unpopular.

It is reported that one Lubbock husband says he has traded about everything and he has concluded that the only way to feel his wife is to tell her the truth.

It is reported that prophets of a mild winter are popular but so far we have not heard of cool prices coming down to verify the predictions.

It is reported that the South Plains cotton fields are getting whiter and whiter as the sun beams down on them daily.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

Among the many terms invariably misused by the public and not infrequently by the physician is "auto-intoxication."

Incidentally, the phrase has afforded merriment to the humorists who rely on the pun as the source of their humorous efforts.

The significance of the term lies in the belief that it is possible for a human being to suffer serious symptoms as a result of absorbing poisons developed in his own body.

It was Metchnikoff's belief that the human being comes into the world with his intestines free from germs and harmful microbes enter promptly into his system.

More recently it is the acidophilus organisms that is urged for the purpose and preparations of milk containing these organisms are to be had on prescription by physicians, at soda fountains, or directly from milk concerns.

Habits of Living. Much of the condition known as auto-intoxication is due to the American habits of living. The patient who gets up in the morning and washes his face with several cups of strong coffee.

He sits all of the forenoon in a chair smoking anywhere from 25 to 50 cigars or three cigars. His elimination is poor and it is not surprising that he has a dull, lightheaded or irritable temperament during the attempts of his overloaded intestinal tract to get rid of the accumulation.

Much of the treatment of so-called auto-intoxication involves therefore, a proper regulation of the diet, which results chiefly in cutting down of the quantity of food taken and in the addition of fresh fruits, fresh vegetables and other substances with a mildly laxative action.

THRILL OF THE LOCOMOTIVE

Quite now has a railroad. The Denver and South Plains line entered that little city Wednesday, and is rapidly being completed in direct of Floyd county, reports received here today.

A formal ceremony with a big watermelon feed was held Tuesday at 2 o'clock by Quittico citizens who had as their guests railway officials and many people from the surrounding territory who came to celebrate the event.

Frederick Bell who was in Quittico a few hours after the celebration Tuesday, stated that the procedure of rail laying by the modern methods was unusually interesting.

"They have the right-of-way cleared up now all the way from the crossing in Floyd county to Silverton and two crews are at work completing the grade on this stretch," Bell said.

"A giant truck laying machine and over 100 men, working like a bunch of ants, certainly present an interesting sight. They put down on the average about a flap per minute," Bell said.—Floyd News-Herald.

The thrill that people get from the arrival of the first train into the town, is something that many of the people of this city have experienced. Well, on many of the old timers of Lubbock remember when the first train pulled into Lubbock. They remember how the entire population of the town assembled at the station to do honor to the occasion. It means development, when transportation is handy the farmers and the truck growers are more willing to put their time in growing more produce and this brings more money into the community and naturally develops the territory effected.

SOUTH PLAINS PRESS

It is reported that another American woman is attempting a flight across the ocean. American women as well as men brave the daredevil feat.

It is reported that one Lubbock man says that it would be a hard task to find more favorable weather conditions than those existing for the past few days.

It is reported that the South Plains bankers took advantage of the Columbus Day and sat in session here yesterday.

It is reported that the day of the wildest is gone—it is a place where the young man should go.

THE WHINERS

I don't mind the man with a red-blooded kick At a real or fancied wrong. I can stand for the chap with a grip, who's frank to say that if he's quick to drop it when joy comes along.

I have praise for the fellow who says what he thinks. Though his thoughts may not fit with mine.

But spare me from having to mix with the kind who go through the world with a whine. I am willing to listen to sinner or saint Who is willing to fight for his rights.

And there's something sometimes in an honest complaint That the soul of the really delights: For their purpose is frequently fine. But spare me from having to mix

COMPENSATION

By Edger A. Guest "The world's so hard," he said to me "So filled with hurt and pain, I would not, if the chance could be, Return to earth again. There's nothing worth its price in hurt.

Oh sorrow or despair, The world is happier in the dirt Than men who walk with care. And thinking of the pain I'd known And of the grief I'd borne, I'd almost vowed to make my own This crowd of vice and scorn.

But then I heard my baby shout "Be happy, or you'll be The lovely brightest thing out Was music sweet to me. "To life," said I, "I'm reconciled, I'd gladly live again, To hear the laughter of a child If worth its price in pain."

What's Going On In Russia Today

BY JEROME DAVIS

Member of the Faculty, Yale University Divinity School

MOSCOW, Oct. 12.—Nowhere are the effects of the national planning scheme adopted by the Communists more evident than in the Baku region. This territory, known as the "Russian Klondike" because of the liquid wealth poured forth by its countless oil wells, is utterly unlike the Baku of czarist days.

In the old days of free competition there was duplicate of wells and fearful waste. Each concern hastened to pump out all the oil left its underground reservoirs be drained by rivals. Today the new wells are arranged in regular order and at the precise distance apart that will give the maximum quantity of oil.

Workers Better Off Workers' conditions as might be expected are improved. Hours are shorter, vacations are longer, pay is higher, and living conditions are much better. The oil trust is building hundreds of two and three-family homes for workers.

Russia's transportation just now is a strange jumble of the modern and the ancient, the ultra-efficient and the down-at-the-heel, ill-equipped relic of the past.

There are three airplane companies which operate over long distances in a most efficient manner. As they fly over the country they pass over primitive bullock carts on the country roads—carts just like the ones used in the days of Peter the Great.

The railroads are below their pre-war status, yet much is being done to improve them. Credit for improvements rests on the shoulders of Rudzatak, people's commissar of transportation.

Rudzatak, at 46 is an interesting man. He comes from a peasant background, was a professional Communist agitator during the war, and spent ten years in tsar's jails—yet he is one of the ablest commissars in Russia. He has the railroads running efficiently and on time. The best modern conveniences can be had on all through expresses. I would prefer a coupe on a Russian railway carriage to a Pullman section in America.

Yet Rudzatak admits that much remains to be done before the railroads will be functioning as they should.

The Civil War was terribly destructive, he says. In 1913 for instance, he says, there were 28,000 locomotives. By 1919 all but 9,000 had been captured or destroyed by the White Armies. Today we have 12,572 engines in working order. This means that we are forced to work with less than two-thirds as many as in the old days.

Some districts, as in that of the Northern Caucasus, every bridge was blown up in the Civil War and many miles of rails removed. Actually 30 per cent of all the bridges in Russia were destroyed.

In spite of these obstacles we have made progress. While we are not transporting as many tons of goods as under the tsar we haul them further. The "ten miles" carried are greater than before the war. The average distance of a shipment now equals 250 miles.

Russian railroads under the tsar were only equipped with light European locomotives and the road bed was inferior. Russia is now trying to substitute heavy locomotives along American lines. The average engine today is pulling 30 per cent more cars than in 1913.

This change has necessitated rebuilding some 100 miles of track. In spite of this, trains often have to slow down to five miles an hour. Sometimes they must uncouple and cross bridges in sections.

The quantity of freight cars available today is only 444,996, or roughly 60,000 less than under the tsar. However, in place of a former normal load of 15 tons per car, they are today loading 15.

Rudzatak is striving desperately to increase efficiency. One step has been to prevent unnecessary shipments. He is also speeding up car shipments, and is using the locomotive for longer runs. Under the tsar the same engine rarely went over 100 miles; now it runs up to 670.

There has been a steady increase in defective material. For instance, in wheels it rose last year to 9 per cent in rails to 4.8 per cent and in telegraph wire to 58 per cent. Rudzatak was frank to say that actually some of the rails which had already been in use for 40 years were better than those produced in 1925. He went on to make clear that prior to the war approximately the same amount was spent on transportation as on industry.

The one railroad now under construction is the line connecting Siberia and Turkestan. It is nearly a thousand miles in length. Its great importance is illustrated by the shipment of grain and lumber. At present these goods from Siberia must be sent almost in a circle via Moscow.

Another innovation just beginning is that of truck automobiles which connect with small steamers and the railroads. At present grain, flax or leather, which is over 25 miles from the railroad, is of little value. The loss of time and money through ox-cart haulage is prohibitive.

Water Transport Low As far as water transportation is concerned Russia is relatively worse off. This year she is shipping only 58 per cent as many tons by water as in 1912. Part of this is due to losses during the intervention. Rudzatak slyly remarked, "In spite of the fact that France is such a strong champion of private property, she has not yet been willing to surrender our navy or our merchant fleet which is still in French waters."

Another difficulty in shipping by water is the terrific cost of loading and unloading goods. Russia uses no modern technical methods. She still requires too large a working crew. In Odessa this year there was an Italian boat with a crew of 20 and a Soviet ship with a crew of 40, yet both were identical as to size and freight.

After talking with Rudzatak one comes away feeling that the problems and needs of a railroad executive in Soviet Russia are not so different from that of a railroad executive in the United States. Everything which Rudzatak is trying to do might have been the aim of McAdoo when he was director general of railroads or most of it might be the aim of the president of the New York Central or of the Pennsylvania Lines.

TOMORROW: Russia and China.

LAUGHS

Full of Soft Coal Wife—John, you should make me get a house. He's still sleeping in the coal bin. Hubby—Oh well, it's full of soft coal.

Father—I got a note from your teacher today. Son—That's all right, pa. I'll keep it quiet.

I heard that you got sick on the Nile? No, I didn't eat any.

One Reform. My wife married me to reform me. Did she succeed? Yes, but I wouldn't marry again if I lived to be a thousand years old.

Boy, walking into cigar store: Let me be your salesman. I'm the best salesman in the world. All right, take a dozen boxes out and sell them. The boy tried hard to make a sale, but nobody wanted the cigars. He then goes back to the storekeeper with an apology: I'm the second best salesman; the man that sold you those cigars was the best.

Page Dads. Stranger—I represent a society for the prevention of profanity. I want you to sign a petition entirely out of your life and— James—Hey, mother. Here's a man who wants to buy our car.

Fan's, you're a barefaced liar. "Well, what you want me to do about it, grow a moustache?"

A certain busy printer, whose time is worth money, has a good method of dealing with barbers. As soon as he is seated in the chair, he says: "Cut all three short."

"What three, sir?" asks the barber. "Hair, whiskers and chatter," replies the printer.

Bar-tender—What do you want will you sandwiches? Bar-spender—I allus did like to eat my sandwiches.

"My wife is threatening to leave me." "That's tough. Can't you get her to promise?"

"The Only Way. Have your luck with the races this year?" "Yes, I didn't play them."

He—Anyone can see a lot of grass in that dance. She—You're wrong. Her name's Helen.

ROTARIANS PLAN LADIES' PROGRAM

ENTERTAINMENT IS PLANNED FOR NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT. NOTE COLUMBUS DAY

Ladies of Rotarians will be honored with a special program and banquet at the Hotel Lubbock next Tuesday night in a "Ladies' Night" program of the Rotary club.

The ladies' night program will begin at 8 o'clock next Tuesday night. No regular weekly meeting will be held next Wednesday.

Upon entering the luncheon hall each member of the club was given a small American flag to commemorate Columbus Day.

Wallace Rice, who was in charge of the program, made a short talk on Columbus. Mrs. R. L. McKelich, "sweetheart" of the Lubbock Rotary club, sang two selections.

"Columbus, the Queen of the Ocean" and "Stars and Stripes Forever" she was accompanied by Mrs. R. A. Truesell at the piano.

W. H. Mendor, vet. bus. man gave a short humorous discussion of the business methods of another day and H. V. Comber, Tech economics professor then contrasted them with modern methods.

A number of visitors were present at yesterday's meeting.

Gas Now Available For Every Dwelling With Mains Nearby

In Lubbock wherever mains lay down, gas is being installed. Announcement by H. S. Brown, manager for the West Texas Gas company.

The first step to be taken by the wanting gas is to have the main piped, with connections made to the main in the alley. This can be done by an authorized plumber.

After the contract is entered into, the company will have a meter placed, and gas will be turned from the main to the house.

The offices of the company, now in Sherrard Hardware store, will soon be located on Avenue D, between Ninth and Tenth streets.

Tiny Campus Cabin Lures C. I. A. Girls

DENTON, Oct. 12.—The little cabin in Leary woods on the campus of the College of Industrial Arts plays a large part in providing entertainment for the students.

Use of the cabin is a coveted privilege, attended with much ceremony and red tape. For weeks even months in advance girls sign up in the office of the Dean of Women for Leary cabin.

NORFLEET

The Manhunter's Own True Story
Gordon Hines

WHAT HAS BEEN SAID—
Frank Norfleet, a West Texas ranchman, goes to Dallas on a business trip and casually meets the outfit of a swindling ring. He is put through the ring's regular procedure and swindled out of $4,000 of the old-time stock exchange game. When Norfleet's swindlers have been and the man realizes that he has been swindled, he makes his way blindly to his hotel and suffers a temporary lapse of consciousness. While in this state he lies, in semi-delirium, mumbling and calling to the men who betrayed his confidence. At first he is unable to recall how they looked. His memory seems to be playing tricks. Then visions of them appear on the ceiling as he lies and watches them. He talks to them and his memory registers every peculiarity and trait of the swindlers. He awakens after twenty-four hours, and is surprised to learn that he has been in the room for that long. His memory about trying to decide what to do. He reads of the swindling in a newspaper and rushes to Dallas to console her husband and to give him the word of encouragement he needs.

Chapter Four

"Of course you do—and you shall. I'd expect that of you. But not vengefully—not bitterly. We must do it calmly, for the sake of others who would protect from their vicious game. You'll find them, if it takes years to do it and I'll stay home and watch the watch to send you the money you'll need to do your work. But, Frank, listen carefully—bring them in alive. Any fool can kill. You must handle them manfully and let the courts average the worst they've done you."
Have often just a word—just a bit of suggestion—changes one's mind and acts. Now I saw my whole life, as a sane man should, I lost my thirst for blood and began the quiet reasoning which thereafter dominated and directed my pursuit. I felt much better and my mind adjusted itself to the solution of my problems.
I was groping, vaguely at first, among my recollections of everything that had occurred, hoping for a clue, no matter how small. Fragments of conversations, to which I had paid little attention at the time, kept running through my mind. Bit by bit, I tried to put them together, hoping in some way to find their crazy piece-work into some sort of a logical suggestion for the beginning of the chase. It seemed a vain task, for the pieces wouldn't fit, and I was led into a mental morass.
A little red leather memorandum book, such as men carry in their vests, pocket, kept tumbling in and out of my thoughts. One day I had seen it on the bed in Stetson's room; I could remember that much. I had picked it up and glanced at it casually, when Stetson took it from me and placed it carefully in his pocket. It had contained a long list of names and addresses. I had recognized the name of Mr. Cathey, of Corpus Christi, because I knew him slightly. I thought nothing of it at the time but it seemed strange to me now. Why should they have had Cathey's name, along with others? Then it dawned on me.
That book was their address list. Perhaps I could have found my name there, too, if I had been given time to look. No wonder Stetson took the book away from me.
There was a clue. Perhaps Cathey would be the next and I would find my man in Corpus Christi. It was a slender thread, but I thought it well worth following. At least I could see Cathey and warn him.
My wife returned immediately to the ranch and I left to find Mr. Cathey. On my way to Corpus Christi I stopped in San Antonio. I knew it to be a great sporting town and that "spad" games, sports like the Stetson gang, would probably find much to interest them there.
I had been a deputy sheriff in the cattle country for thirty years, my commission being voluntarily renewed by each newly elected sheriff in our county. But this was a new problem to me. I was treading on strange ground. All the investigations I ever had of detectives were connected with the searching of hotel registers. I thought I might just as well learn how they did it. I would look them over in San Antonio.
I went to the St. Anthony and asked to see the register—some things in the crack crevices, dubbed the "cork-hole." I gave it the once over. There was no Stetson registered, nor had there been in some time past. I noticed the signature of "J. Harrison" and thought I could trace a resemblance between the "J" and that of Stetson's signature. I called to the clerk and asked to speak to Mr. J. Harrison on the telephone.
"Mr. Harrison checked out a few days ago," he informed me.
"Did he leave a forwarding address?" I asked.
"No," he said.
I then asked if Mr. Spencer or Mr. Gortner had been in lately.
"No, they hadn't been there for some time. This showed me that they were not strangers at the St. Anthony. I chatted casually with the clerk for a while, then said:
"It just occurs to me that Mr. Harrison may see by the Harrison initials in it, I can't just remember the initials of the Harrison I'm looking for. What does he look like?"
"Oh, he's a big fellow—about two hundred pounds; a good dresser; usually wears a black derby. He is a good mixer, but never drinks with other men. Funny combination."
"Yes," I replied. "A very funny combination."
"I should have said. The more I could

CHICAGO WOMAN DEAD: BODY RIDDLED BY BULLETS CHICAGO, Oct. 12 (AP) — Mrs. Catherine Jones, 23, of Chicago Heights, was found shot to death in the living room of her home tonight after neighbors heard a fusillade of firing the police said there were 14 bullet wounds in her body. None of the neighbors reported seeing anyone leave the house.

SOUTH PLAINS' BANKERS DEMAND NEW FEDERAL RESERVE OFFICIALS WHEN THEY HOLD CONFERENCE IN LUBBOCK

"Had Reserve member bankers been able to advance credit as we should have been last year, the banks of the district would have been able to carry most of the planters for a period of eight months, permitting them to sell their cotton at a price of 20 cents per pound instead of six cents, as they were forced to do," they said. "As it was the Federal Reserve bank of Dallas, under its present stringent credit policy, retired the loans to the smaller banks, forcing the producer of cotton to liquidate his obligations at a most unfortunate time. Had the banks been able, through the co-operation of the Reserve bank, to extend the credit needed, an entirely different complexion would have been given business conditions over the cotton belt of the Eleventh District of Federal Reserve banks."

The Eleventh District comprises some 900 member banks over the entire area of Texas and New Mexico, and parts of Arizona, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Louisiana. It was established in 1914.

"Some Feeling Over District. A feeling, similar to that expressed today, is prevalent throughout the entire district. Messrs. Maedgen, Norman and Brown, speaking for the conference, said following the close of the meeting: "The campaign to remove the present dominant factors in the Eleventh district is being headed by Mr. Williams, a power in district banking circles, and is finding practically unanimous support of member banks," they said. Meetings all over the district, similar to that held here, are forecast in the immediate future. Mr. Williams has been at the head of the First National Bank of Mineral Wells for about eight years and is a brother of Congressman Guinn Williams, of Decatur.

C. E. Maedgen, president of the Lubbock National bank, was elected as chairman of the meeting presided over its business, which was carried on in the city hall council chambers. The meeting started at 10 o'clock in the morning and did not end until after 5 o'clock in the afternoon. F. A. Norman, vice-president of the Citizens National bank of Lubbock, acted as secretary.

These Men Were Here.

The banks which endorsed the campaign and signed the resolution, follow, with the names of the representatives at the conference: Roy Riddle, First National bank Aspermont; N. C. Nix, First State bank Abernathy; R. M. Kendrick, First National bank Brownfield; E. C. Nelson, First National bank Floydada; T. S. Stevenson, S. L. Rushing, Albert Clubb, Floyd County National bank, Floydada; J. E. Barron, W. K. Crawley, First National bank, Lamesa; A. B. Brown, First National bank Lockney; K. F. Albright, Clyde Hillborn, First National bank, Littlefield; S. C. Roach, First National bank, Levelland; Fred Wiese, First State bank, Lorenzo; Earl Cadenhead, First National bank, Meadow; J. L. Schumacher, First National bank, O'Donnell; Ira L. Duckworth, Citizens National bank, Pool; W. B. Slaton, First National bank, Tahoka; J. H. King, Security State bank, Tahoka; Jno. Haney, First National bank, Ball; J. C. Barron, First National bank, Sudan; J. M. Brewer, First State bank, Slaton; R. V. Colbert, First National bank, Stamford; Jno. Barson, First National bank, Silverbirch; R. G. Porter, formerly with Tulsa Bank & Trust Co., O. L. Slaton, W. L. Posey, Jno. Demaree, R. F. Cook, First National bank, Lubbock; C. E. Maedgen, L. C. Ellis, R. H. Hester, K. T. Thomas, Lubbock National bank, Lubbock; Sam C. Arnett, France Baker, F. A. Norman, F. W. Grace, Citizens National bank, Lubbock.

Resolution Given.

The following is the resolution: Resolution passed this the 12th day of October, 1927, by the following members of the Federal Reserve Bank, Dallas, Texas: First National bank, Aspermont; First State bank, Abernathy; First National bank, Brownfield; First National bank and Floyd County National bank, Floydada; First National bank, Lamesa; First National bank, Lockney; First National bank, Littlefield; First National bank, Levelland; First State bank, Lorenzo; First National bank, Meadow; First National bank, O'Donnell; Citizens National bank, Pool; First National Bank and Security State bank, Tahoka; First National bank, Ball; First National bank, Sudan; First State bank, Slaton; First National bank, Stamford; First National bank, Silverton; Lubbock National bank, Lubbock; Lubbock National bank, and Citizens National bank, Lubbock.

WHEREAS, at a meeting, this day held by the South Plains Bankers who represent member banks of the Eleventh Federal Reserve District, which meeting was had at the request of various bankers of the section named, and was called together for the purpose of freely discussing the present operation of the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas, J. P. Williams, president of the First National Bank of Mineral Wells, Texas, upon invitation, appeared before the meeting and brought before same information which convinces us that on account of Governor Lynn F. Taylor and Deputy Governor E. E. Gilbert's application of the policy of said bank, and their attitude toward member banks are destroying the usefulness of the bank and in our opinion it is no longer functioning in the interest of member banks, and we hereby pledge our hearty cooperation in the work of J. P. Williams, looking toward the removal of Mr. Taylor as Governor and Mr. Gilbert as

Deputy Governor, and the placing in their stead capable bankers who will at all times have at heart the sympathetic interest of the member banks individually and collectively, and who will at the same time uphold and enforce the rules necessary for the protection of the Federal Reserve Bank in its proper operation, and

WHEREAS, said member banks are in full accord with and endorse the Federal Reserve Act in the proper function thereof.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That as member bankers in convention assembled request J. P. Williams to present such information as he may possess to the board of directors of the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas, Texas, for their consideration and action.

Respectfully submitted, A. E. Brown, Chairman T. S. Stevenson, Secretary W. K. Crawley O. L. Slaton John Haney, Committee

racine field, race officials hastily flagged the drivers off the boards to prevent another crash. Hartz was unconscious when he reached the field hospital and later was removed to the Lawrence General hospital where it was said he had suffered a deep gash in his head and a broken leg. His condition while said to be serious, was not regarded as critical.

A decision gave Lockhart first place, Hartz second, Pete De Paolo, present championship point leader, third, Babe Stapp fourth and Cliff Woodbury fifth.

Five Starters Forced Off

Five of the fifteen starters had been forced off the track when the race was called, four because of engine trouble and Dave Burns because of something in his eye, which sent him to the pits twice before the eye became too badly inflamed to permit him to continue. The 75-mile race, started as soon as the track cleared, proved a walk away for Lockhart, who led all the way, finishing in 22 minutes 21.2 seconds. The race added that an accident slows up the field, failed to hinder Lockhart who sent his machine around at an average of from 126 to 120 miles an hour. Babe Stapp, driving in the race until six laps from the finish, passed four cars in as many laps to gain third place, finishing in 25 minutes 11.2 seconds. The race added that an accident slows up the field, failed to hinder Lockhart who sent his machine around at an average of from 126 to 120 miles an hour. Babe Stapp, driving in the race until six laps from the finish, passed four cars in as many laps to gain third place, finishing in 25 minutes 11.2 seconds.

Examination of Hartz's car showed that the accident could not have been caused by a bursting tire as was at first believed. The rubber was intact and race officials explained that the racer apparently lost control of his machine in his attempt to swing to the top of the track at the start of his brush with Lockhart.

BOOM FOR REED

settlement as schemes forced upon the country by Morgan and Mellon financial interests to enable foreign governments to borrow more money from American bankers by relieving them of the necessity of repaying in full their war obligations to the United States.

"What we need," he declared, "is an American policy, that thinks only in the terms of America, and labors for the interest of our own people. An administration guilty of such transactions as I have described ought to be driven from power and buried in the grave of shame."

In the most dramatic vein, Senator Reed pictured the gathering of alleged conspirators at Washington after Harding's inauguration.

Tells of Conspiracy.

"That conspiracy," he declared, "planned to take in charge of the department of the interior. The president signed an illegal order turning the oil leases over to the tender mercies of Albert Fall. He accepted its bribes, did its bidding and corruptly transferred to it the vast oil reserves of the republic. The scaly hands of the conspirators reached into the navy department and corrupted or deceived certain of its high officers."

"Harding appointed and Coolidge continued at the head of the department of justice, Harry M. Daugherty, as vile an insect as ever crawled the page of time. He consorted with criminals and took as his bed fellow a grifter and bribe taker, who afterwards aided. An attorney general Daugherty paralyzed the department of justice so that its arm was not stretched forth to apprehend Fall and his fellow conspirators. Indeed, the secret code of the government was used by a white house employee to keep advised."

TEXAS FRESHMAN FOOTBALL PLAYER HURT IN ACCIDENT

AUSTIN, Oct. 12 (AP)—Louis King, aged 12, of Dendemonia, a member of the freshman football squad at the University of Texas sustained a broken hip bone when he was struck by an automobile in front of the freshman gymnasium on Speedway, Wednesday afternoon. His condition is not critical. The large combine of European rubber manufacturers which collapsed six years ago has been reorganized and is operating on new lines.

RUTH ELDER

stick herself and alternate with Haldeman as copilot in the long drive to Le Bourget field outside of Paris.

Sighted by Ship.

The only word that came concerning the American Girl during its first night's flight was received early today from the steamer American Banker. The captain reported by wireless that at 10:45 last night the plane had flown high above his ship about 425 miles east of New York blinking its lights in greeting and disappearing into the moonlit skies through the night and the following day without being seen by any of the many ships that dotted the steamer lane. This fact caused considerable concern as the American Banker said that the plane was flying at an altitude of but 1000 feet and it was felt that at that height it should have steamed into the vision of several other ships, at least during the daylight hours.

No Other Reports.

During the day, the Mauretania reported from 500 miles at sea and the Celtic from the coast ocean that nothing had been seen of the American Girl, although a close watch had been kept. At its normal speed the plane would have passed the Mauretania's position at about 11 o'clock in the morning. The American Banker, the Mauretania and the Celtic all reported ideal flying weather, good visibility and favorable winds, but the fliers were due to run into foul weather shortly after dark tonight. Although the Weather Bureau's Atlantic service had been suspended for the season today, Dr. James H. Kimball predicted from yesterday's shipping reports that a storm area of 700 miles in width would be encountered tonight.

Barring accident Haldeman expected to land at Paris about 11 o'clock Thursday morning. F. S. T. would be Thursday noon, French time.

Others Keep Watch.

Two more ships in the projected path of the plane reported to the Associated Press shortly before 4 o'clock today that they had not seen the American Girl. The ship west of the Cameronia, about 1500 miles southeast of New York, and the Rydan, where estimated position was about 600 miles from here.

Allowing the plane a consistent speed of 100 miles per hour, it should have passed the point from which the Rydan sent its message shortly after 11 o'clock last night. F. S. T., the point from which the Cameronia reported should have been passed at about 8 o'clock this morning.

Stormy weather with a rough sea was reported by the Cameronia but the Rydan, nearer port, reported fair weather. The American Girl, if it maintained its speed, should have been nearing a low pressure area with storms ahead about 2300 miles at sea at the time the ships reported.

FRENCH WAIT AT LE BOURGET FIELD FOR PLANE

LE BOURGET FIELD, France, Oct. 12 (AP)—Plebe parties with sandwiches and bottles of beer and wine descended on this historic flying field tonight and prepared to await the arrival of the plane, "The American Girl," expected tomorrow morning.

Although Ruth Elder is scheduled to reach here in broad daylight, the searchlights which guided Lindbergh and failed to show Commander Byrd a way through the fog were lighted this evening.

Commandant Beneyoussef, in charge of the preparations issued an order to have the field ready for a landing at 5 a. m. tomorrow. Spectators already have lined up against the barred wire barrier doors, of being on hand for the landing.

OBREGON SAYS

President Calles is doing. His policy has the sanction of the majority of the Mexican people.

Says Priests Gave Support.

"I do not think that high officials of the Catholic church have given any support to the generals who revolted against the administration of President Calles, but it is very evident that many Catholics supported the last movement from under cover. We know that many Catholics of my country instigated General Gomez in his hostile policy toward the government."

"There is not any possibility of arriving at an understanding with these who were of the old regime and again seeking power because their tendencies against new governmental programs and aspirations of the great Mexican family."
