Guest Speaker At B.-P. W. Meeting

Members of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Tahoka and a few invited guests heard an able discussion of "The Significance of a Two Front War," by Dr. Benjamin Bock of the Department of Government at Texas Tech, at the club's monthly dinner at Tinsley Cafe Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Lois Daniel, legislative chairman, was in charge of the program, and the arrangement of the dinner, which was originally scheduled for O'Donnell.

Dr. Bock, who gives a weekly broadcast on governmental topics over KFYO at Lubbock each Friday afternoon, gave some interesting and concise information on unity, taxation, price-fixing, restrictions of communications and rationing of various items, as a means of winning this war. He advised a cheerful acceptance of changed conditions as they develop, reminding his hearers that after all the "way of life" that we formerly knew would never be possible again.

Patriotic colors and emblems decorated the banquet table and the delicious turkey dinner was enjoyed by Misses Claire Ruth Nichols and Florence Gary, O'Donnell, Lou Verne DePriest, Ethel Calahan, Viola Ellis, and Mmes. Daniel, Helen Eubank, with Mrs. Gilbert P. Lamb, Abilene, for mer president, Mmes. Erlene Sage and E. I. Hill and Miss Florence King as guests. Mr. Dunslop, a senior Tech student, who accompanied Dr. Bock, was also a guest.

Garrard Speaker At School Program

"Where Do We Go From Here?" was the title of Hon. Tom Garrard's inspiring speech on problems of today to school patrons and high school students Wednesday at 3 o'clock in the high school auditorium at regular P. T. A. meeting.

"There is a tendency for morals to be lowered during wartime," Judge Garrard said. In his talk he discussed problems of today and the problems that will be faced by the American people in reconstruction.

Mrs. Fred McGinty, president of the local P. T. A. introduced the speaker. A short business meeting was conducted following the speech.

Clint House is ill this week with the mumps.

REV. H. A. WIESE

Missionary To Talk On China

Rev. H. A. Wiese, on furlough from Mission work in China, will be guest speaker Monday night, Feb. 2, 7:30 o'clock, in a mission service at the Nazarene Church, according to Rev. J. L. Lawrence, pastor. The general public is urged to attend.

Mr. Wiese and his wife went to China first in 1920, and has spent 17 years in that country. He and his family have gone through weeks of bombing and days of shell-fire.

The talk on China will be accompanied with pictures of the war and China scenes, as well as a display of souvenirs of that country.

Seismograph Crew Is Working Here

A seismograph crew of about twenty men came in to Tahoka Monday and have opened an office in the Thomas Building, occupied until recently by Dr. E. Prohl, to do an unannounced amount of seismograph work in this county. The current information is that they represent the Texas Oil company.

This crew was in the county for two weeks a short time ago and did a certain amount of work in one locality, they suddenly left. It is not known how long they expect to be here this time but the indications are that they are here for a longer stay.

The men have rooms in the Keltner Hotel, and the wives of several of them are here.

As is well known, members of seismograph crews never do any talking as to their work or their intentions, and all information concerning these matters therefore must be gathered from other sources.

It is hoped, however, that their stay here is long and pleasant and that their work may be of mutual benefit to their company and to the people of Lynn County.

Claude Reagan Enters Politics

"I believe I can get the job done," stated Claude H. Reagan Thursday in making his announcement as a candidate for commissioner of precinct No. 4.

This precinct embraces practically all of the northwest quarter of the county but includes very little if any of the city of Tahoka within its boundaries, we believe.

For eight years now Mr. Reagan has been a resident of that commissioner's precinct, residing on his farm five miles west of New Home. He has been a resident of Lynn county for sixteen years, having resided for several years in Tahoka.

He has had considerable experience in maintaining roads and is thoroughly familiar with that branch of a commissioner's duties. He also has a good general knowledge of the financial end of the business coming under the jurisdiction of a county commissioner, and he believes that he can serve with efficiency. He asks for an opportunity to serve, and will appreciate your support if you live in his precinct.

Mr. Reagan expects to see most of the voters personally before the July Primary election.

Twenty Selectees Leave For Army

The 14 selectees whose names were published in this paper last week left here on Monday for Fort Sill, Oklahoma, according to schedule.

Six others left at 11:30 o'clock Thursday morning of this week. They are: R. M. Prather and G. W. Turf Jr., both of New Home; Corbin William Douthitt of Tahoka; Reuben Bernard Wilke of New Lynn; Joseph Eugene Veach, formerly of this county but more recently of Levelland; and Gustavo Tjerino Delgado of O'Donnell.

Scheduled to leave for Camp Wolters on next Monday are: Edward Louis Brosch of Wilson; William Monroe Wallace Jr. of Lakeview; Garland Clyde Sheppard, O. L. Harris, Sam Michael Abraham, Charles Raymond Waddell, and Ike Lawler Barnes, all of O'Donnell.

Roy Hicks, who spent some time in training and was then released on account of the age limit, left Wednesday for Fort Bliss and Robert Draper is scheduled to leave next Monday.

Post Will Play Here Tuesday

Tahoka and Denver City are still tied for lead in the race for the district basketball championship, but each lost one game during the past week.

Wednesday night, Tahoka lost an overtime game at Seagraves by the narrow margin of 24 to 26. A few days ago Denver City was defeated by Post. Both Tahoka and Denver City have two losses, while the nearest team to them is Post, which has lost three games.

Last Friday night, Coach Pace's Bulldogs won from Seminole 33 to 29 in one of the most spectacular games ever played in the local gym.

Monday night, in a non-conference game, Tahoka defeated Wolf-orth 30 to 22, and the second team likewise won from the Wolforth second team, 10 to 5.

Tahoka plays at Brownfield tonight, and will meet Post in the Tahoka gym next Tuesday night.

This year's team is probably the best basketball team Tahoka has ever had, and fans are urged to turn out to the games to support them in their fight for the championship.

At least one-third of the University of Texas' co-eds have already volunteered for civilian defense training and service, according to Miss Dorothy Gebauer, dean of women.

THE BIG FOUR OF THE FAR EAST

GENERAL SIR ARCHIBALD WAVELL, hero of Libya, appointed Supreme Commander of all Allied forces in the southwest Pacific area.

CHINESE GENERALISSIMO CHIANG KAI-SHEK, now Commander of all Allied land and air forces in China, Burma and Thailand (Siam).

LIEUT. GEN. GEORGE H. BRETT, former Chief of the U. S. Army Air Corps, now serving as Deputy Commander under Gen. Wavell.

ADMIRAL THOMAS C. HART, Commander of the U. S. Asiatic Fleet, now serving as Commander of all Allied Navies in the Far East.

Defense Guard Wants Old Rifles

Do you have an old U. S. Army rifle around the house? If so, you can help the Tahoka Home Defense Guard Company by loaning the gun to them for use in drill.

Capt. Don Turner of the Guard is appealing to all people who own old Army guns to bring them to him or to Sgt. W. T. Bovell at once. Gun serial numbers will be registered and guns returned to owners when the local company receives standard equipment.

There are many old rifles in Lynn county, it is said.

LITTLEPAGE AT NEW LUBBOCK AIR BASE

Walthall Littlepage, so of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Littlepage, has been transferred from Kelly Field, San Antonio, to the new Advanced Air Base at Lubbock. He and his wife visited here a few days last week while en route to his new assignment.

McCord Announces For Second Term

The name of Rollin McCord is added to our list of candidates this week. He offers for re-election to the office of district attorney. He is now serving his first term and has therefore served in this capacity for just a little more than one year.

Prior to his promotion to this office, he served two terms as county attorney of Lynn County. He had as his opponents two years ago four other young ambitious men. He was high man in the first primary and then he won in the run-off.

In addition to his legal accomplishments, Rollin is a very kindly, courteous gentleman, and has a host of friends. He was reared in this county and belongs to one of the prominent families of this section.

His record as district attorney must have been generally satisfactory, for there seems to have been comparatively little criticism of it. He feels that with continued experience he will gain in efficiency, and he craves the opportunity to serve a second term.

He will appreciate the support of Lynn county voters in the July primary election.

Morgan Candidate For Commissioner

Curtis Morgan of the Garnolia community makes his announcement this week as a candidate for commissioner of precinct No. 1, which embraces the northeast quarter of the county. The town of Wilson and the larger part of Tahoka are included in this precinct.

Mr. Morgan is the son of J. E. Morgan of that community and is an old-timer here; in fact, he was reared principally in this county.

Mr. Morgan is thoroughly familiar with the public roads in his precinct and has had occasion to see them under all kinds of weather conditions. He feels, therefore, that he is competent to deal with them. He feels that he can also perform the other duties of a commissioner to the satisfaction of the people.

In making his announcement, Mr. Morgan makes the following statement:

To the voters of precinct No. 1: After being encouraged by so many friends in the last few months, I have decided to announce my candidacy for commissioner of this precinct.

I have lived in this precinct for the past 25 years, and the past six years I have been employed on the county road work, and for the last year I have had charge of the maintenance of the roads.

62,000 Bales Cotton Ginned In County

E. W. Holloway, special agent for Lynn county, has furnished The News with the report of the Bureau of the Census at Washington showing the number of bales of cotton ginned in Lynn county from the crop of 1941 prior to January 16, 1942, to be 61,987 bales. Of course the total has run to considerably more than 62,000 bales up to this time.

This compares with 36,364 bales ginned up to a corresponding date last year from the crop of 1940.

Lubbock county had ginned 76,830 bales from last year's crop up to January 16, according to figures released by A. L. King, census agent for that county.

Without having the exact figures for other counties before us, it seems certain that Lubbock county has again led the state in cotton production, with Lynn county holding not lower than fourth place and possibly as high as second place.

Four or five of the first places are held by West Texas counties.

Tire Rationing Is Rotary Subject

"Tire Rationing" was the subject of W. O. Thomas, chairman of the Lynn county tire rationing board, at the Rotary club meeting Thursday noon. He explained the set-up here, and, among other things, said that Lynn county had not used up its quota for tractor tires.

Other numbers on the program included an impromptu quartet number by Rev. Geo. Dale, Rev. Geo. Turrentine, John Jackson, and Deen Nowlin, that brought both "boos" and cheers from the Rotarians; and a short talk by E. H. Boulter, assistant state superintendent of public instruction, a guest of Supt. W. T. Hanes.

Wynne Collier made an effective talk on Rotary in welcoming three new members into the club, G. A. Blanton, C. A. Thomas, and Pete Curry.

Harley Henderson, chairman of a committee sponsoring the "Americanism" essay contest in the local schools, announced that the contest had been completed and that awards will be presented the winning students soon.

Dr. J. W. Sinclair, program chairman for this month, announced a ladies' night for the near future, with W. T. Hanes in charge of the program.

The club is sponsoring an International Relations meeting here on Feb. 18, when Dr. No Yong Park, a native of Manchuria, will speak on the Pacific situation. The public will be invited to this meeting.

Jack Welch is the new editor of the club's weekly bulletin, succeeding Lee Dodson, who resigned because of his coming induction into Government service.

Slaughter Seeking Commissioner Job

E. O. Slaughter of Wells is making his announcement this week as a candidate for county commissioner of precinct No. 3, which embraces O'Donnell, a small portion of Tahoka, and practically the entire southwest quarter of the county.

Mr. Slaughter is a farmer by occupation and has resided in that section of Lynn county for nineteen years. When he settled there, all that portion of the county was almost solely a ranching country. He has seen it develop into one of the most prosperous farming sections of the state and has had a part in its development.

Mr. Slaughter states that he has had considerable experience pertaining to the work of a county commissioner and he believes he can serve in this position with efficiency. He says that he will have a fuller statement to make concerning his candidacy some time later.

Students from every state in the Union and the District of Columbia attended the University of Texas during 1940-41.

T-BAR 4-H CLUB

"Every family should plan a production fruit budget to insure the family sufficient amount of food," Miss Maurine McNatt, home demonstration agent, told members of the T-Bar 4-H Club January 23 at the school.

One should plant 100 row feet of tomatoes per person, if it is possible to water them. If they are to be planted in the field and are not to be watered, 200 feet per person are needed. Each person should have 10 hills of watermelons, 12 hills of cantaloupes, 20 strawberry plants, and six grape vines.

All eight members were present.

MRS. TUNNELL ENTERTAINS THE ARMY AND NAVY

Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell reported to a representative of the News, facetiously, that she entertained the Army and the Navy and the Co-eds in her home here last week end.

Miss Betty Shrock of Pampa and Miss Mary Margaret Tunnell, both students in the Texas Tech, were in her home for the week-end.

Then came two former college friends of the young ladies, Ensign Roy Hastings of Hereford and Aviation Cadet Charles Stewart. Ensign Hastings had just completed the training given at Pensacola and had been given a brief furlough to visit relatives and friends before reporting in California, where he was to go aboard the U. S. S. San Francisco for service in the Pacific.

Aviation Cadet Stewart had just finished at Kelly Field and was to leave in a few days for Chickasha, where he was to receive further training.

NOT THE ONLY CULPRITS

The report of the Roberts committee shows that Admiral Kimmel, commander of the Pacific Fleet, and Lieutenant General Walter Short, commander in charge of the army in that section of the world, were derelict in their duty in guarding against just such an attack as was on Pearl Harbor on December 7.

It was a terrible and tragic failure of duty. It was entirely proper for them to be relieved of their positions, and possibly they deserve further punishment. But the feeling persists that not all the blame can be saddled upon them. All of us were surprised by the suddenness of Japan's attack. Even the President, the Secretary of State, and the Heads of the Navy and the War departments were astounded when news of the attack came.

True, Knox had given warning that an attack might be expected, and the major blame, no doubt, attaches to Kimmel and Short, but somebody else must have been remiss also in their duties. No adequate preparations had been made to wage a war with Japan on the Pacific. Guam had not been adequately fortified, and a sufficient force had not been provided for the defense of Wake Island and the workmen there. Guam and Wake are now in the hands of the enemy, and the soldiers and workmen we had there are prisoners of the Japs. And even yet we have been unable to get reinforcements to General MacArthur and his little army, who are fighting with their backs to the wall in the Philippines.

Without reasonable excuse, we were caught unprepared for war. It seems to us that those higher up in authority should take some of the responsibility, especially the Pacifists and the Isolationists and the Obstructionists in that body. Kimmel and Short were terribly remiss in their duties, but they are not the only "dummies" in high places who failed to sense danger in the Pacific.

State politics likely will not open up as early this year as usual, due to the interest of the people in the war. At this time it does not seem probable that Governor Coke R. Stevenson will have an opponent. Attorney General Mann is expected to run for a third term without serious opposition. It is very doubtful if State Comptroller George H. Sheppard has an opponent this year. There may be several candidates for lieutenant governor, railroad commissioner, and possibly state treasurer. Senator John Lee Smith of Throckmorton announced some time ago that he would be a candidate for lieutenant governor and there may be others. Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel probably has a chance on his job in Washington, though there have been rumors that Congressman Patman of Texas would be a candidate. State Superintendent L. A. Woods will probably have an opponent. Giles will probably have a clear field for land commissioner, but there may be several candidates for railroad commissioner. There will probably be some developments in the next few weeks.

Already the tide seems to be turning in this war. The U. S. Navy is now having its inning in parts of the Pacific. Just the past few days it has sunk a number of Japanese fighting vessels and transports while its own loss has been negligible. It may be several weeks yet, according to those who are in a position to know, before the United States can get a formidable fighting force into the Southwest Pacific, but when reinforcements of men, ships, and other fighting equipment once begin to arrive it will likely continue in a steady stream until the Japs are driven from the seas. It is hardly possible, however, that sufficient aid can reach General MacArthur in time to save the Philippines, and those islands as well as Guam and Wake will have to be retaken by our force. If Singapore falls into the hands of the Japs in the meantime, our task in the Pacific will be all the more onerous. What a pity that we didn't have larger fighting forces in the Pacific to begin with!

A war commentator a few days ago indicated the belief that Germany is building a formidable navy in its navy yards along the shores of the Baltic. It may be so; and if so, Germany will again surprise the world at some opportune time by bringing the full force of her navy into sudden action. Hitler is a past master at the art of keeping his reserve strength and his plans concealed from the eyes of the world until he gets ready to strike and then he strikes with suddenness and terrific force. Uncle Sam must never be caught napping in the Atlantic as he was caught napping in the Pacific two months ago.

To the surprise, no doubt, of many Americans and to the delight of the British and their allies in Europe, several thousand American soldiers were landed in northern Ireland Monday, the vanguard of American forces to be sent to Europe to help get Hitler. While we have no information whatever on the subject, it is probable that many thousands of them will be sent across during the next few months. The boys face a tremendous task, but they are equal to it, and this war is not going to end until it ends right.

ODDS & ENDS

by Ece Eye,
the Elder

That was an interesting and somewhat surprising report that Rev. Sam Hilburn, Methodist Missionary who recently returned from Japan, brought back with him revealing most distressing conditions among the masses in that country.

If ninety per cent of them carry tuberculosis germs and if a large per cent of them are seriously affected with the disease, it is a little strange that they are able to furnish seemingly unlimited numbers of soldiers and sailors with which to wage an offensive war.

And if millions or them are woefully under-nourished and multitudes are slowly but surely starving to death as Hilburn and others report, the ability of Japan to carry on so vigorous and aggressive warfare is still more strange.

The successes achieved by the Japanese in the war thus far, however, seem to be due to their painstaking preparation for the attack and the overwhelming numbers that they have been able to throw into the fight. Man for man, the Americans, the Dutch, and the British have proven already to be far superior to the Japanese on land and sea and in the air. The individual Japanese soldier has not shown marked efficiency, though many of them do fight with boldness and desperation. Suicide squads and suicide assaults are much more common among them than among the fighting forces of the Allies. There's a reason for that.

We said that it is surprising that multitudes of Japanese are starving, but to many people it is astonishing that many thousands of them do not starve to death every year, considering the smallness of the land area of Japan and the density of the population.

Japan proper has a population of 70 to 75 millions people and yet it is less than two-thirds as large as Texas. Furthermore, less than one-fourth of its land area is tillable.

How in the world can such a small land area feed so many people?

The answer is that in the first place the diet of the Japanese is very restricted; their principal foods are rice and fish. The rice crop never fails and the accessible supply of fish is almost unlimited. Half the people are rice farmers and another big contingent are fishermen. Land which can not be devoted to the growing of rice is utilized for other crops, principally vegetables. The most prolific and practical vegetables are raised and almost every square foot of soil is utilized.

And then there are the mulberry trees!

As you must know, silk is the principal money crop of Japan. Silk is made by a worm, and the worms feed on mulberry leaves.

In this country, cotton has long been our chief money crop, and worms are the crop's greatest enemy; and we poison them. But in Japan they breed and feed the worms and take painstaking care of them—the silk worms.

Another striking thing about Japan is that there is scarcely a horse or a cow or a pig or a chicken or a sheep in the whole country. Only in the most northerly island of the group and possibly a few of the smaller islands, which are not so densely populated, are there any domestic animals or fowls, except a few dairy cows near Tokyo.

If one of you boys or girls should go into a Japanese home or a Japanese cafe, you would not find a slice of ham, nor a morsel of beef roast, nor meat of any kind except fish, nor a single egg, not a pat of butter, nor a sip of milk, none of the familiar breakfast foods that we have on our tables. You think that you would starve to death, but you wouldn't, for you would soon learn to "make out" on the food that the Japs eat and probably would like it.

But, in this country, we hold up our hands in horror and scowl at the thought that pretty soon we will be compelled to limit the supply of sugar which we use.

There is another strange thing about the course which Japan has pursued with respect to the United States.

We have afforded the chief market for Japan's silk. She has been shipping three-fourths of her silk crop to us. It doesn't seem that she would be willing to lose the chief market for her chief money crop. From an economic and commercial standpoint, it looks as if she would have shied off from making war upon us. On the other hand, it looks as if she would have cultivated our friendship.

But the dictators and the autocrats were in power. They rule Japan; and we stood in their way, and they made the war upon us. Just as old Herod feared that the new-born child of Bethlehem would sometime become King of the Jews and dethrone him and therefore sought the child's life; the autocrats of Japan likewise feared the democratic ideals and policies of America, and they determined to cut America's throat before she became any stronger.

In order to build up their big war machine, the autocrats of Japan have robbed the people of their substance, and this, no doubt, is the reason that they are now indigent and starving. If the billions of dollars that these autocrats have been collecting from the people and spending in the construction of warships and war planes, and submarines, and armored tanks, and other munitions of war, had been devoted to the arts of peace, to the development of peace-time industries, to the war on disease and the inauguration of sanitary conditions, to the betterment of the masses, to the raising of the standard of living in Japan, and to the relief of the indigent, there probably would have been no starvation in Japan today; and certainly the people would not have been led into an unjust and hopeless war upon this country of ours.

G. F. McCullough and family, who removed from New Home community to Brownfield a year or two ago, have just moved back. Glad to have them back in our county.

BLACK-DRAUGHT

PAINTING OF TEXAS SCENE THRILLS THOUSANDS

A bit of Texas has been framed and hung on the walls of farm homes from coast to coast in the last few weeks.

It is that bit of Texas that Georges Schreiber, noted painter, captured on his canvas, that then became a four-color cover of the January issue of Country Gentleman and since has caused that magazine's editor to be swamped with thousands of requests for reprints suitable for framing. In addition hundreds of readers, have written saying that they framed the cover itself.

A Texas ranch scene was chosen for the initial painting for a series of covers which will be distinctive in the magazine field, inasmuch as this is the first time that 12 rural paintings by notable artists will have been presented in this way. Each painting in the series will deal with a different crop or phase of agriculture and, in so far as possible, the series will cover the country geographically, by regions.

Artists already assigned to do original paintings include John DeMartely, Paul Sample, Peter Hurd, Adolph Dehn, Hardie Gramatky, Thomas Hart Benton and others.

When the January issue appeared with the Texas scene on the cover the demand for reprints ran at the rate of about 500 a week with indications that the available supply of a few thousand copies would be exhausted before all requests could be fulfilled. The reprints were made available to those who provided the mailing costs.

Next year, after the paintings have been published, the Texas canvas with the other originals will be loaned to agricultural colleges throughout the country for display at their farm and home weeks.

INTERNATIONAL HEAD OF ROTARY CALLS FOR INCREASED SERVICES

"A spot of tea or coffee and some sweets go a long way with a tired fighting man," writes Tom J. Davis, president of Rotary International, in current Rotarian magazine, calling attention to what Rotary Clubs in countries deep in war are doing and what Clubs in the United States can and should do. "In Batavia, Netherlands Indies, Rotarians dug deep in their pockets for suffering humanity, on the one hand, and for more bombers, on the other. Rotarians can be realistic, too."

Some of the services already undertaken by Rotary Clubs are entertainment of service men where camps are near or of selectees before they go, the making of Red Cross and hospital supplies, taking part in civilian defense activities, business guidance for families of men in the armed services, supplying home-town boys with smokes and newspapers and little comforts, entertainment, supplying ambulances, canteens, X-ray units and the like, Davis recounts.

"Patriotism makes unequal demands," writes Davis. "Whatever it is the well-being of our country asks of us, let us be ready. To be a good Rotarian is to be a good citizen and patriot."

TOO MUCH OF A GOOD THING

I remember what Chesterton said when taken to the Great White Way in New York—"What a marvelous place this would be, if only one couldn't read!"—William Lyon Phelps, professor emeritus of English literature at Yale, in the current Rotarian magazine.

MARSHALL MAY RUN FOR AGRICULTURE COMMISSIONER

A movement has been started to induce Y. C. Marshall of Bell county to run for the office of Commissioner of Agriculture, now held by Mr. McDonald. The Rogers News, published at Rogers in Bell County, last week contained the following front page editorial boosting Mr. Marshall for the place.

"The News suggests the name of Mr. V. O. Marshall of Bell county as a most suitable man for the position of Commissioner of Agriculture of the State of Texas to succeed Mr. McDonald, the present incumbent.

"Mr. Marshall understands the problems of our farmers as well as, if not better than, any other person in the State, and this fact is known not only to the farmers of Texas but also to many of the tillers of the soil throughout the Nation.

"His splendid efforts in behalf of soil conservation were recently recognized at a state meeting held in Waco when he was presented a Merit Award for distinguished service in assisting our farmers in saving their soil."

"A strong effort should be made to draft Mr. Marshall for Commissioner of Agriculture in the approaching Democratic Primary."

Mr. Marshall is well known to the farmers of Lynn county and he has a number of personal friends and admirers in this county.

Of 11,300 students registered in the University of Texas at Austin in 1940-41, 8,728 were natives of Texas.

Where Shall I Spend My Money?

I have been fairly prosperous the past year. I have a little money to spend. Where shall I spend it?

Shall I spend it among my neighbors and friends, who in turn might possibly spend some of it with me?

Or, shall I take it out of the county to spend where, likely, it will never return to me?

Shall I spend it in my home county with the people who help to pay the county and local taxes?

Or, shall I spend it with outsiders, who pay no taxes in this county?

Shall I spend it with those whose interests are my interests and who would help me in case of need?

Or, shall I spend it among those whose interests lie elsewhere, and who would feel no obligation to help me in time of trouble?

Do I really gain anything anyway, in dollars and cents, by spending my money in the cities away from home? No, not in the long run.

I know what I will do! I will spend what I have to spend with my home people, my neighbors and friends, with those who help to maintain our local schools and churches, with those who know me and who care for me;

And—

In the long run, I believe I will be better off.

Yes, I am going to patronize my own home people. I am going to buy at home!

GARNOLIA 4-H CLUB HAS INTERESTING PROGRAM

The 4-H Club at Garolia met on Tuesday, January 13. Only thirteen members were present.

Miss McNatt, our agent, illustrated how to make shrub cuttings and when to put them out.

We discussed Foods for Defense and Miss McNatt explained that cantaloupes and watermelons grow very nicely in this county if other foods fail. If you have a family of four, plant 48 hills of cantaloupes and 40 of watermelons; and a family of seven would take 72 hills of cantaloupes and 60 hills of watermelons.

Tomatoes and strawberries can serve for Defense if you'll plant them properly and take particular care of them.

We, the 4-H girls, are 100 percent for doing our dead level best for Defense for our country in order that we may remain free under a democratic government.—Reporter.

DIXIE H. D. CLUB

"Poultry for Defense" was the subject of discussion when the Dixie Home Demonstration Club met for their first meeting of the year Jan. 15, at 2:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. A. C. Aycox.

"The success of a poultry flock can be measured by the kind of chicks produced," stated Miss McNatt, home agent, in the demonstration. Select breeding stock carefully for health, vigor, uniformity of size and type and for production.

Members attending were: Mrs. J. C. Lackey, Mrs. J. H. Knight, Mrs. T. D. Lishman, Mrs. B. C. Aycox, and Mrs. A. C. Aycox; one new member, Mrs. O. B. Conley.

The next meeting will be Feb. 5 with Mrs. J. H. Knight. The program will be "The Food Dollar." All members are urged to attend.

Miss Maurine McNatt, county home demonstration agent, has received a communication from the Extension Service of the Texas A. & M. College declaring that Texas poultrymen are being called upon to produce 1514 more carloads of eggs in 1942 than in 1941.

BELL COUNTY VISITORS LIKE THE PLAINS

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Bowen of Bell county and his son Carlos Bowen of Haskell county were here during the week end visiting in the John Minor home and doing a little prospecting out on the west plains.

Mr. Bowen expressed himself as well pleased with the plains and says that he is coming out and will try farming but may not get farther out than Haskell county this year.

Mr. Bowen is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Minor.

Charles H. Pennington, who underwent an operation for appendicitis on Friday, January 9, in the Mercy Hospital in Slaton, is now improving satisfactorily, according to his father, D. J. Pennington of the Redwine community, who stated Wednesday that they hoped to bring Charles home within a day or two.

FAMILY GATHERS TO CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

All the children and "in-laws" gathered at the Jim Wetsel home last Sunday to celebrate his birthday.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. P. A. North and their three children, Mr. and Mrs. Don Tackett, and Miss Margaret Wetsel, all of Odessa, who came up Saturday afternoon and remained over Sunday.

It was a great feast and a most pleasurable occasion, but Jim has stubbornly refused to tell the News how many candles were on that birthday cake.

Mrs. T. Cowan visited her parents at Colorado City Wednesday.

WHAT MAKES NEWS? Newspapermen tell us that it is news if a cat bites a bird, but it would be very good news if a bird bit a cat. What a fine thing it would be if we could train birds, but that is a fantastic hope!—Burgess Johnson, author and professor, in the current Rotarian magazine.

AMERICANS BELIEVE IN THEIR DEMOCRACY. OPINION POLL PROVES

Only a scant 5 percent of Americans believe the present democratic system is breaking down, reports Elmo Roper who makes "Fortune" polls, in the current Rotarian Magazine. Two-thirds of all Americans believe that the present constitutional system is as nearly perfect as it can be and needs no fundamental change even to cope with emergencies.

Americans also have a persisting confidence in the free enterprise system, Roper's polls reveal. Some 60 percent would like to be in business for themselves—despite the care-free "security" of business or governmental payrolls. A great majority believe there should be no limit of the amount of money a man can make.

The worst depression the United States has ever known couldn't quell American optimism, Roper reports. Most people believe the future will be better. A majority of youths from 9 to 19 hold to the conviction that failure is the fault of the individual, not of the present system.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Rathel are spending this week and next in Monahan, where they are assisting in a revival meeting at the Baptist Church, Mr. Rathel directing the song services.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Jones, who have been here visiting the J. L. Nevill family, left Tuesday for their home at Flagstaff, Arizona. Mrs. Jones is the former Miss Jodie Bob Nevill.
