Babe Accomplishes Record By Two Homers in Consecutive Innings

WAS BAMBINO'S DAY

Circuit Clouter for First Time Is Able to Circuit Swat in Series

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK Oct. 11.—Babe Ruth crossed with mighty tread the threshold of world series glory that has been barred to him for two years.

Driving out two thundering home runs thrusts in successive innings, a feat unparalleled in world's series history, Ruth was the dynamo in the powerful attack that enabled the Yankees to turn the tables on the Giants capture the second game of the series by a score of 4 to 2 and square the count with the world's title holders in the 1923 struggle for diamond supremacy.

First up in the fourth inning, with the score tied at one-all, the great slugger put the Yankees into the lead with a terrific, towering blow that landed atop the second tier of the right field grandstand and started the downfall of Hugh McQuillan, Giant ace. Another run was scored in that hectic inning but on his next time at bat, in the fifth, the Babe crashed one of Jack Bentley's southpaw slants into the lower right field stands. That blow was the climax of the game, Yankee victory was clinched then and there for it proved merely a formality to carry on to the finish.

It was a spectacular triumph for the Yankees, whose punch mastered John Joseph McGraw's highly touted strategy and gave them the first world's series victory they have known since the fifth game of the 1921 championship—a span over which eight decisions and one tie have been the disastrous portion of the Huggins men. It was a brilliant day for Herb Pennock, fragile left hander who twirled the Giants into submission in masterful fashion and Joe Dugan, fleet-footed third sacker, whose marvelous defensive play brought him repeatedly into the limelight.

Ruth's Day.

But, over and above the mere outcome of the game, the brilliant cogs that fitted into the winning Yankee machine, it was the day of days for Ruth, baseball's star of stars, who had come into his own and found the end of the rainbow of world's series fame for which he had sought before in vain.

True Ruth earned his spurs as a pitcher, hanging up a record of 29 scoreless innings in championship play that still stands, but it was batting laurels that the greatest home run hitter of all time was seeking and he gained them today. No matter what he does the rest of the series, his place among series immortals is secure.

Thus it was a triumph even greater for Ruth than for the Yankees; the ascendancy of brute force, the power of the wallop over the tactical genius of John J. McGraw's baseball's "masterful mind," for behind the struggle for premier diamond honors from the start, has been the greatest drama of all, the matching of Ruth's dynamic individuality against the strategy of the grey haired, silent leader of the Giants.

May Spoil John.

Two years ago, Ruth was handicapped in the series by injuries, last year he was a "bust," outguessed, baffled by the tactics of the "Little Napoleon." But tonight he is a triumphant figure, a vital force that upset with sheer force the best laid calculations of his opponent. And, knowing the confidence that his great achievement today has inspired, he may prove the deciding factor in the outcome of the third straight battle between Gotham's rival clubs and spoil McGraw's goal of a third successive championship.

A Record.

Ruth's feat of two home runs in a single world's series game has been done thrice before it two decades of championship history, but in none of these instances was the circuit blows made in successive innings and successive times at bat. P. P. Dougherty of the Boston Americans, was the first to accomplish the trick in 1903. It was duplicated in 1915, by Harry Hooper, also of the Boston Americans, who drove out home runs in the third and ninth innings of the fifth game of the series with the Philadelphia Nationals; and again in 1917, by Benny Kauff, of the Giants, who hit for the circuit in the fourth and eighth innings of the fourth game

Alleged Murderers Attempt to Escape

Four Convicts Shot and Clubbed Into Submission At Leavenworth—One Convicted of Killing Four

By The Associated Press.

LEAVENWORTH, Kans., Oct. 11. Four prisoners, two of them considered dangerous characters, were shot and clubbed into submission today when they attempted to escape from the stone quarry at the United States disciplinary barrack at Fort Leavenworth.

George Jackson of Paterson, N. J. convicted of murder, and Dan Simpson of Clinton, Ind., were dangerously wounded. Samuel Tribe of Woodland, Pa., was shot in the leg. Thomas Scullian, sent here from Iowa, and who was convicted overseas by court martial for killing four men, and who was at one time sentenced to be shot was beaten severely by guards, as he tried to escape.

The four men attempted to escape as they jumped up from the dining table and headed for a heavily wooded section of the military reservation. Guards shouted commands and when the men did not stop, opened fire. Jackson and Simpson fell, shot through the legs. The other two were run down, Tribe after he was shot in the leg.

High Caste Hindu With American Wife Is Now Man Without Country

By The Associated Press.

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 11.—A man without a country, yet willing to give his life for his native land.

This is the status of Gopal Singh Sobi, high caste Hindu, as he waits in Juarez for the United States department of labor to pass on his application for re-admittance to this country.

Born in the Punjab province of British India, Sobi has renounced his allegiance to Great Britain. Three months ago he left San Francisco for Mexico City on a pleasure trip with his young American wife. When they returned to Juarez a few days ago with the intention of going back to California, Sobi found that the United States authorities here could not admit him because he had served a year and a day in prison on the charge of violating the neutrality laws. With 31 others he was arrested in San Francisco in 1917, in connection with a revolutionary plot to overthrow the British government in India.

When he was denied admission to the United States Sobi at once received to return to India where there is a price on his head as a revolutionist, but his wife prevailed upon him to make an appeal to the Washington authorities. He has lived in the United States since 1913.

DISTRICT STRICKEN AFTER ACCIDENT

By The Associated Press.

AKRON, Ohio, Oct. 11.—The country side around Rootstown is in a stricken condition tonight the result of an accident near there this morning which resulted in the instant death of eight school children and the serious injury of four other persons, two of whom are expected to die.

The "Clevelander," the fastest passenger train on the Pennsylvania railroad between New York and Cleveland crashed into a school bus carrying 17 children. Six of them escaped by jumping.

MANILA DOUBLES CIGAR EXPORTS

By The Associated Press.

MANILA, Oct. 11.—Approximately 16,276,000 Philippine cigars were shipped to the United States by local exporters during the month of July this year, the bureau of international revenue has announced.

During the period from July 1, 1922, to June 30, 1923, Philippine cigars valued at 13,781,838 pesos (about $6,890,919) were shipped to the United States. During the fiscal year just preceding this the value of the Philippine cigars shipped to the United States was only half that amount.

BOY BIKE RIDER IS CHARGED WITH WOMAN'S MURDER

By The Associated Press.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Oct. 11. A 17-year old boy was indicted today by the Cameron county grand jury on a murder charge. He is alleged to have been riding a bicycle on a side walk and to have struck Mrs. Kate Gentry, who died a few days later from injuries.

DELINQUENT TAX GARNER STARTS

Anderson Sets Up Office And Begins Business Today

Collection of approximately $2,000,000 delinquent Wichita taxes due as far back as 1885 will begin in earnest this morning when W. R. Anderson appointed by the county commissioners' court to garner in the missing shekels, opens up his office in the court house today.

Anderson's office is between those of the county tax collector and tax assessor and is so situated that he will have access to the records of these offices easily. Anderson has two deputies to start with. The commissioners' court gave him 30 months to collect the huge amount of money.

"My policy," Anderson said yesterday, "will be to collect the money just as fast as possible. In 10 days I shall file a number of suits against those who are on my delinquent list. Thought not required to do so by law, I am going to write a number of letters before filing suit. This will be to inform delinquents of their debt to the county and give them a chance to avoid the additional cost of a law suit."

STORM CLOUDS GATHER AGAIN

By The Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—Storm signals are flying over the reichstag building although less than a week has elapsed since Chancellor Stresemann's laboriously resuscitated coalition ministry was again inducted into office. The four parties constituting the coalition group, which it was believed could command a sufficient majority to enable the chancellor to put through his dictatorial campaign, failed today to mobilize enough deputies to give Dr. Stresemann's authorization the needed constitutional sanction.

Discord in the ranks of the socialists whose left wing assumed an obstreperous attitude and the successful filibustering tactics of the nationalists and communists forced the coalition leaders to seek refuge in having the final vote on this measure postponed until Saturday.

GIRLS, KNOW YOUR SHEIK!

Just Read What the Drug Stores Say

This is written for the benefit of a girl who expressed surprises when she heard that her boy made a regular habit of using beauty clay on his face.

After interviewing some of this city's drug-store-clerks the result is as follows:

Local "sheiks" run larger bills in cosmetics than the flappers. "Bandolene" and "Stacomb" are bought in quantities and the market never slumps. Quite as steady is the market in perfumes of which the most popular scents are Black Narcissus, Ben Hur, Jockey Club, and according to one druggist, a young Romeo runs a bill of from $25.00 to $35.00 a month at his store on nothing but Coty's that he buys for his own use.

For his complexion, Mllord buys more face powder than he does talcum, and if his complexion is dark he chooses flesh instead of white. He even buys rouge which he applies with care, and one young Wichita Falls lawyer buys lipstick which he applies ever so lightly. He uses lotions and Hinds hon and almond creary for his skin and if Milord has freckles or too much tan, he bleaches it with lemon cream, and sometimes peroxide or othin. One drug clerk says he sells more Gainsborough powder puffs to boys than he does to girls, and the only difference is that the boys buy white puffs while the girls usually choose flesh.

Manicure materials sell well among the shieks as do buffers, files nail white, and polish. They buy perfumed soaps and complexion soaps in preference to plain white soaps.

Eyes receive their due amount of attention with cold cream for lashes, tweezers to pluck brows, and Mascaro and eyebrow pencil to accent manly orbs. They even use Mascaro on their mustaches!

Beside the Bandoline treatment that is so much in evidence, they buy mange cure (like you use on your bull pup) for dandruff, hair dyes of all shades to conceal a chance gray hair, and we know of three blondes and one red head that use Golden-glint shampoo. Some of them carry tiny combs to use on their sideburns but Wichita shieks haven't yet started buying hair nets.

PLAN TO NAME COMMITTEE IN WALTON PROBE

Anti-Mask Bill Is Ignored By Legislature for The Time Being

SESSIONS ARE SHORT

Nothing Appears to Impede Progress of Impeachment Plans

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY Oct. 11.—Plans for holding a court of impeachment to review the conduct of elective state officers moved forward tonight with apparently nothing to impede their progress.

Ignoring for the time being, recommendations of Governor J. C. Walton that his bill opposing the ku klux klan be immediately considered house members today at the opening session by an unanimous vote authorized their speaker, W. D. McCee, to name a committee of investigation and impeachment to inquire into all offenses charged against impeachable state officials.

The house then recessed until tomorrow afternoon when the personnel of the committee is expected to be announced, the senate awaiting the lead of the house, where all impeachment originates, had previously recessed until tomorrow morning.

The sessions of both houses today were short and were largely occupied with the routine incident to organization. The officers agreed upon in caucus last night were officially invested with authority by vote of the members.

The governor's message, which was brought by a committee of house members from the legislative offices to the house chamber where a joint session of the two houses were held, was read by the clerk of the senate.

It assailed the ku klux klan as "an all-powerful and most demoralizing super-government" and urged members of the legislature to adopt a bill which the executive submitted simultaneously to "protect the people forever in their persons property and fundamental liberties."

The governor did not appear before the session and he was not represented by any of his advisers.

Gore Speaks.

Following the reading of the governor's message, which was ordered printed in the journals of both houses T. P. Gore, former Untied States senator from Oklahoma, addressed the joint session.

He admonished the legislators that they were "here to see that we have

Labor Wants More Stringent Laws For Immigration

By The Associated Press.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 11.—More stringent immigration laws, with reduction in present quotas, will be sought from the sixty-eighth congress, as a result of action taken by the American Federation of Labor here today.

Protest against importation of coolie labor into Hawaii was voiced by the convention, which adopted resolutions declaring there is no labor scarcity in Hawaii that would justify introduction of coolie labor.

The executive council was instructed to turn the batteries of publicity on the I. W. W. many members of which it was charged were in the employ of interests seeking to destroy organized labor.

Election of officers and selection of the next convention city was made a special order for tomorrow morning. Re-election of President Samuel Gompers and the other officers was predicted by convention leaders.

El Paso and Detroit were leading contenders for the next convention according to convention talk today.

The convention incorporated in its records a telegram reporting that the allied trades council of Birmingham, Ala., had gone on record opposing Senator Oscar Underwood as a candidate for the democratic nomination for President of the United States.

Work weeks of 54 to 66 hours in southern textile mills were attacked in a resolution adopted today urging all unions in the south to support the United Textile Workers union in its fight for a 8 hour week. Thomas A. McMahon of the textile workers union, appealing to the convention for aid in this fight, said that of four hundred thousand workers in the southern mills approximately 280,000 were women and children.

NEW 5-DAY AIR LINE PROFOSED

By The Associated Press.

LAKE HURST, N. J., Oct. 11.—Negotiations for a five day air line between Berlin and Buenos Aires have been in progress for some time, it was declared tonight by Captain Ano Heiman, German Zepplin expert, who is pilot of the United States navy giant dirigible, Shenandoah, formerly the ZR-1.

A NEW KIND OF ARMY DESERTER

A new kind of army deserter was reported to Wayne Somerville, assistant county attorney Thursday, when a father complained his daughter had married a former captain in the Salvation Army and had deserted her and the organization too.

The father said the Salvation Army had picked his daughter's husband up and apparently reformed him. The man ran away. The wife and a baby were left without support.

The father said he had located the deserter in Missouri. The county attorney's department is now attempting to bring back the husband and prosecute him.

WELFARE MEET FOR THIS CITY

Annual Meet Begins November 4—Many Big Speakers

Beginning November 4 the Texas Conference for Social Welfare will hold its annual meeting in Wichita Falls. The speakers will include those men and women who have made a study of social welfare. Dr. Carrie Weaver Smith, of Gainesville, is president of the conference and she is in the city working in its interest.

"The conference is not one for professionals," said Dr. Smith, Thursday, "but it is for those who meet the social problems every day. The conference is for all races, creeds, colors and politics. Representatives from all denominations will be be here. Colored people are urged to come.

"We are bringing to Wichita Falls outstanding men and women in America to speak."

Dr. V. V. Anderson of the National Committee of Mental Hygiene, New York, will speak on "Prevention of Insanity."

Miss Emma O. Lundberg who has been for years connected with the Federal Children's Bureau, Washington, will tell of research in problems of children born out of wedlock and of the unmarried mother. Miss Lundberg studied juvenile court methods, and her addresses will prove helpful.

"Dr. William Hodson of the Russell Sage Foundation, New York City, is an expert in legislation concerning children," said Dr. Smith. "The juvenile law as in Texas today is full of errors and contradictions, and all progressive states in the last 10 years had commissions appointed to work out codes of juvenile laws. Mr. Hodson has done more work than any other man in America along that line."

Mr. Clifton Beasley, a Texas man from Sulphur Springs and a member of the 38th legislature, is making an earnest and intelligent effort to correct conditions in Texas institutions for juvenile delinquents and adult insane. He was instrumental in getting the governor to appoint commissions in Texas to look into conditions in all of these institutions and to make constructive suggestions to the 39th legislature.

Other speakers of note will be on the program. Local doctors will take part in the conference. Dr. O. B. Kiel, chairman of the health section will be one of the local men to make an address.

"There is no progress without social welfare," said Dr. Carrie Weaver Smith, superintendent of the Girls Training school at Gainesville, and president of the Texas Conference of Social Welfare, in her address to the Rotary club Thursday noon at the Kemp.

"This is the first time the conference has gone out of a city or into West Texas, but it has come to Wichita Falls because it offers something that is not found elsewhere. You as business men should give the conference your support, not because of the tremendous amount of national publicity, and of the advertising which it will give your city, but because it will help you solve your own problems of social welfare. If you think Wichita Falls has not its problems of social welfare, you should be president of the Girls' Training school."

Dr. Smith continued speaking of the conference. "Men and women of international reputation will be here to speak. They will give lectures on social problems, including juvenile delinquency problem of public health, child welfare, and family problems."

Miss Florence Jackson, publicity manager for the "Glorious Girl," the play to be given by the Business and Professional Women's club, introduced Miss Ottie Keeling and Paul Rutledge who sang a selection, "In the Tally-ho with You," from the "Glorious Girl." Ivan Murchison accompanied by Torrey McKenney director of the play, sang "Persian Rose" from the play.

STEAMER SINKS AFTER COLLISION

By The Associated Press.

SAULTE STE MARIE, Mich., Oct. 11.—The steamer Huronton, has sung in White Fish bay, after colliding with the steamer Cetus in fog, a wireless message says.

The crew was taken off by the Cetus and so far as is known, no lives have been lost. The tug Iowa left here this afternoon with provisions and clothing for victims of the wreck who are on board the Cetus. The damage to the Cetus is unknown here. The Cetus is now anchored off White Fish point. The Huronton was a 3,500 ton steel ship.

Shot Chicago Pastor At Altar To Help Europe, Says Woman

The murdered man, Rev. Basil Stetsuk, with his wife and two children, and, inset, Mrs. Emma Strutynsky, who killed Rev. Stetsuk.

(By Central Press.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—"When I am executed the people will understand."

The speaker is Emily Strutynsky, quiet and well poised. She is explaining why she shot down in cold blood Rev. Basil Stetsuk of the St. Nicholas Greek Orthodox church of this city, where her husband was formerly pastor. The murder was committed at the church altar. While she was on her knees confessing to Father Stetsuk she whipped a revolver from her handbag and shot him to death in plain view of the congregation.

Not for personal vengeance did she murder her husband's successor at the parish says Mrs. Strutynsky.

"Me, I couldn't kill anybody for myself. If they hurt my husband or my children, yes, on the spur of the moment I could imagine myself killing. Yes, in a minute. But to plan it, it would take something sustaining, something big."

She explained that she had killed the Rev. Mr. Stetsuk to "help things in Europe."

Calls Him "Hypocrite."

"I am surprised," and she was bitter, and amused, and desperate, all at once "that they are surprised. These Americans, with their decent leaders, their morals, they gave me courage to do what I want. And yet they are surprised when I killed a hypocrite, a cheat, a bad leader."

Oil Tanker Sinks; Fear 30 Are Lost

No Trace Found of Lifeboats By Rescuing Liner in Vicinity of Foundered Ship.

By The Associated Press.

KEY WEST, Fla. Oct. 11—But little hope is held out here tonight for the crew of 30 of the tanker City of Everett which sank between 7 and 8 o'clock this morning, 140 miles west of Dry Tortugas.

The Mallory liner Comal reported this afternoon that she had reached the spot where the Everett went down and tonight, after a search of the sea in that vicinity, sent a message to the local navy yard stating that she had been unable to find any trace of the Everett's life boats.

SEEK HEALTH FROM MANILA

By The Associated Press.

MANILA, Oct. 11.—The director of health of the city of Manila has supplied the health commission of Canton, China, with copies of all ordinances, rules and regulations relating to sanitation, prevention of disease, inspection of meats and other measures.

In doing this Manila is complying with the request of Dr. H. Pan, commissioner of public health in Canton, who regards Manila's regulations as the best in the Orient.

SHIP CALLS FOR HELP AT SEA

By The Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—The British steamer Dughild today sent a radio message to the Philadelphia navy yard that a boiler explosion had occurred aboard ship and asked that a doctor be sent by tug. The Dughild from Philadelphia for Cape Breton, in ballast, is anchored in the Delaware river 45 miles from Philadelphia.

SIX KILLED BY POISONED BOOZE

Ghastly Toll of 6 Prominent Citizens Taken By "Whiskey"

By The Associated Press.

PANA, Ill., Oct. 11.—Six leading citizens of Pana are dead and three are in a critical condition tonight as a result of drinking poisonous whiskey which authorities believe was obtained at two local soft drink parlors.

The dead:

Edward M. Gaughan, contracting painter, his nephew Charles E. Gaughan, 22 years old; Dwight Eilers, 50, land owner and stock dealer; George Baldwin, 40, insurance salesman; Edward Diehl, 55, building contractor; and Maurice Clark, 45, stock buyer.

Edgar Ray Hill, a stock trader; a foreign coal miner, whose name is not known; and a son of John Tokoly, proprietor of a soft drink parlor, have been taken to hospitals suffering from the poisonous liquor. Physicians hold out little hope for their recovery.

The coroner's jury held an inquest this evening over the body of Edward M. Gaughan and returned a verdict that he came to dis death as a result of drinking whiskey containing wood alchohol which was "purchased off John Tokoly."

By The Associated Press.

WACO, Tex., Oct. 11.—Governor Pat M. Neff, who presiding at the annual meeting of the Baptist association, meeting at Lorena, was this afternoon re-elected moderator, and Dr. J. M. Dawson of Waco was elected vice-moderator. Governor Neff plans to return to Austin tonight.

FLYER IS HELD UP IN TUNNEL; SAFE IS BLOWN

Conductor Finds Engineer, Fireman and Brakeman Dead

MAIL CAR WRECKED

Posse Under Sheriff Starts In Pursuits of The Bandits

By The Associated Press.

REDDING, Calif., Oct. 11.—Armed posses tonight are scouring the Siskiyou mountains on the Oregon-California state for bandits who held up Southern Pacific southbound flyer, passenger train No. 13 at 12:40 o'clock this afternoon, shot and killed three trainmen and blew open the mail car and a safe, killing a mail clerk. The robbers escaped into the mountains with an unknown amount of loot.

The dead:

S. L. Bates, of Dunsmuir, engineer.
Marvin Seng, of Redding, fireman.
C. O. Johnson, of Ashland, brakeman.
— Edwards, mail clerk.

The robbery and slaying are believed to have been the result of one of the most carefully laid plots in the history of western railroading. Apparently the engine crew was shot and killed without warning and without mercy by their slayers. Bates had served as an engineer on the Shasta division of the Southern Pacific for 20 years. He is survived by his widow. Seng is survived by a widow and one child.

The robbery occurred as the train, the crack Southern Pacific San Francisco Express, was emerging from Tunnel Thirteen, south of Siskiyou, on the state line 17 miles south of Ashland, Ore. The engine was about forty feet south of the tunnel entrance when an explosion blew away part of the roof of the tunnel and caused it to cave in on the train.

Two men participated in the robbery, according to advices received here. As the engine crew brought the train to a halt, these two advanced to the locomotive and shot the engineer, fireman and Johnson, who was riding with them, although he was not on duty.

Bates and Seng are believed to have died instantly from bullet wounds in the head. Johnson was shot in the chest and died within a short time.

The bandits then ran to the mail car and blew off the door with a charge of dynamite, which ripped a gaping hole in the side of the conveyance setting fire to it. This explosion is believed to have caused the death of Mail Clerk Edwards, the only occupant.

After gaining entrance to the car, the bandits are believed to have fired another charge of dynamite on the safe, containing valuable mail, blowing it open. They scooped up the contents and fled from the car which already was burning.

A clerk in the baggage car, which was not touched, reported seeing two men run toward the front end of the train after the explosion in the mail car.

As soon as the train stopped, Conductor Marrett, who was in charge of the train, started for the locomotive to investigate.

He found Bates dead in the cab and Seng lying on the ground on the opposite side of the engine, also dead. Johnson was dying.

The train was pulled out of the tunnel and the fire in the mail car extinguished. The car was cut out of the train, which proceeded south with a new crew in charge.

Officers of Ashland, Ore., and Redding and Yreka, Calif., had been notified of the holdup and shooting, and a hurry call was sent out for volunteers to form posses to search for the bandits.

Southern Pacific officials rushed to the scene and an offer of $2,500 reward for information directly leading to the arrest and conviction of any of the robbers was made at once.

No passengers were molested by the bandits or injured by the explosion, as far as could be learned tonight.

JURY IS CHARGED IN STAMFORD CASE

By The Associated Press.

AMARILLO, Oct. 11.—The case of T. W. Stanford, on trial in district court, on a charge of white capping in connection with the recent flogging of E. T. McDonald, went to the jury late this afternoon.

Judge Henry S. Bishop in his charge told the jury to find the defendant guilty if in their opinion the wearing of robes and hoods of the Ku Klux Klan by the men who ordered McDonald to leave the city constituted a threat. He covered this point extensively, instructing the jurors, however, that they must decide on whether the wearing of the klan regalia constituted in itself a threat.

Stanford and four other men wearing klan robes and hoods ordered McDonald to leave the city on a night prior to the flogging, according to evidence introduced at the trial, and the white caping charge is based on the former meeting.

The trial of Stanford was begun Tuesday.

On Sunday afternoon about forty Burkburnett citizens motored to Bradley's Corner and attended the Community Singing service in the local church under the direction of the song leader, U. S. G. Plank, one of the most public spirited men of that little city.

The singers include the entire community and render most creditable songs and choruses from time to time which is a great power in holding the citizens in a pleasant union of religious and social activity.

The program Sunday was supplemented by an able orchestra with violin horns, piano and cornet composed of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Shetter, W. J. McGuire, Mr. Kurtz and a pianist whose name we failed to obtain. These instrumental numbers were splendid and appreciated.

Mr. Plank, the organizer and promoter of this unique community band called on each community's representatives among the guests to carry respective choruses. He made a fitting address before the assembly as did also Mr. Richie of New Town and Rev. John D. White of Burkburnett.

The Bradley Corner singers rendered a most enjoyable program and the great gathering of about 200 people departed at the close of the entertainment with the full appreciation of well spent hours in the service of song on this pleasant Sabbath afternoon.

Study Club Meets.

The University Study Club met in the home of Mrs. A. R. Thomas by special invitation Wednesday afternoon.

The body was called to order by the new president, Mrs. W. P. Martin who opened business hour with a fitting little address of appreciation for the honor conferred upon her at the last meeting in her selection as the president for 1923-24.

During the business session, it was voted to entertain with a special meeting November 31, when the program would be featured by an address, "Legal Questions Pertaining to Women," as set forth in the year's course of study; the speaker to be selected.

Owing to sickness and removals from the city among the members the first program of the study assigned for the hour was postponed for the next week's meeting which will be held with Mrs. W. B. Gant, 511 East Fourth street. However, Mrs. Rex Smith read one article bearing on the lesson Wednesday, a burlesque introductory on the origin of woman's creation, producing a merry laugh among the members.

The resignation of Mrs. Chas. Wolfe was accepted with regret; and Mrs. Overton was elected to membership to be welcomed by the members at the next meeting.

The meeting closed with a social hour and the enjoyment of an elegantly served plate luncheon by the gracious hostess, assisted by Mrs. Blake Grennell and Mrs. W. D. Utts.

The guests of the hour were: Mesdames J. M. Pogue, W. D. Gant, J. M. F. Gill, W. D. Utts, Wallace Martin, T. H. Grennell, John E. Haynes, Erwin L. Blum, Rex D. Smith, J. G. McKinzie, R. C. Tevis, M. L. Urban and E. B. Grennell.

Mrs. Haymes Won.

Mrs. Terrell W. Haymes, wife of one of Burkburnett's popular dentist, Dr. Haymes, was among the many local winners in the Texas-Oklahoma fair in the art exhibits. Her prizes include first in flower pictures, first in paintings from nature, second prize in painting from figures and first nature painting of flowers grown in Burkburnett.

Mrs. Haymes is an artist of ability and was so recognized in that she was selected as one of the judges in the china painting exhibits at the fair. Burkburnett has long boasted of a number of musical artists and she is glad to learn that there are also masters of other arts.

The sad news of the death of the late W. L. McClelland of New Town was heard with regret among our citizens. He was killed in a car accident while en route from Frederick to Grandfield the latter part of last week. Mrs. McClelland was a surgical patient in the Burk Hospital at the time, and the sympathy of the community goes out to her in her sad bereavement. Mr. McClelland was taken to Frederick by his brother for burial.

Mrs. Edward R. Simons and children have returned from a visit to relatives in Philadelphia.

Mrs. J. M. F. Gill attended the Pen Women's club in Wichita Falls Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Miller returned Tuesday from an extended visit among relatives in Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas. His friends are pleased to see him able to be out and somewhat improved in health.

Rev. A. K. Price of Clinton, Okla., preached at the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, attended by good congregation of the members and friends.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Fisher regret to learn that they are moving this week to Wichita Falls where they will make a permanent home. Burkburnett will miss these good citizens both in the church and social activities of the city.

Joe H. Davis has returned from Fort Worth where he attended the funeral of his late brother, Ben Davis, who was buried in that city Monday.

Dr. O. T. Kimbrough returned from Breckenridge where he attended the District Medical association in convention there this week.

TEXAS LEADS IN HIGHWAY FUNDS

Government Has Appropriated More Than For Any Other

By The Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 11.—Texas, which leads all other states in the nation in the amount of road aid allotted by the federal government, has received the greatest amount of funds on projects wholly or partly completed and has the greatest balance available for new contracts from the national government, according to estimates prepared by the American association of highway officials, and made public here today.

This state has actually received nearly $16,000,000 from the government for road construction work, the report shows. The amount already received by Texas is over $800,000 more than its closest competitor, Pennsylvania. The report covers status as existing August 1.

Moreover, the Lone Star state on August 1 had available in federal funds more than $2,000,000 more than any other state. The amount of funds available to the state for new contracts on that date was $7,715,485.60. Illinois, the second ranking state in this particular, was due $5,598,828.28.

Agreements between state and federal highway officials on the value of incompleted road contracts in this state place the amount at $3,228,646.54. Texas ranks third among the states in this respect, New York standing first and Missouri second.

Additional amounts of federal aid earned by Texas but not received on August 1, totaled $491,020. However, since that time, the state highway commission has allotted all additional funds and will not have more available until early next year.

A summary of the status of federal aid as far as Texas is concerned follows:

Total apportionment, 1917-24: $27,314,043.24.

Cash received, projects wholly or practically completed, $15,878,890.89.

Additional amounts earned: 71,020.12.

Agreement value, completed contracts, $3,228,646.54.

Balance available, August 1, $7,715,485.60.

MEXICO STARTS AFTER WEEVIL

By The Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Oct. 11.—President Obregon of Mexico has taken steps to control and eradicate the most destructive pests of the cotton—the boll worm and the boll weevil, according to advices received here by R. E. McDonald, chief entomologist of the state department of agriculture. The move will be a decided aid to Texas in its campaigns against these insects, Mr. McDonald stated today.

The Mexican president has issued a decree ordering control measures. A copy of the decree has been received by the state department of agriculture here. Under Mexican laws, the president can issue such decrees against pests and citizens are bound to observe them, under heavy penalties.

The decree defines territories affected by the cotton pests and prescribes control measures. Seed inspection and disinfection, clearing of fields, fumigation of seed houses and barns, and preventative steps during the growing season are directed by the order. Heavy fines for violations are prescribed.

The order of the Mexican president comes as a result of extended investigation conducted by the republic officials, said Mr. McDonald. A representative of the government, Francis M. Bernardino, spent eight months in Texas studying control measures adopted by this state. It is just recently that he returned to Mexico City, and been appointed commissioned of plagues, in charge of the cotton control campaign.

Texas has been hampered in its campaign against cotton pests in the past by lack of control measures on the part of surrounding states and Mexico, McDonald said. He said the action of the southern government would go far toward helping this state in the eradication of the cotton pests.

New Lamp Burns 94% Air

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, J. T. Johnson, 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 day's FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.—Adv.

Some Tempting New Shoes

Of Cleverness and Character

This is similar to one of our several Anklette models, a smart and pleasing shoe in Black Satin with a short vamp, and Spanish heels at $12.00
In Black Suede, with lattice-effect trimmings of patent leather, we have a dainty number that we are proud to show; has medium vamp and high heels, and side-buckle, at $13.50

Style and Service are cleverly combined in a number of up-to-the-minute offerings that are replete with gracefulness and quality, and that are "different," affording opportunity for distinctive selection.

A single strap offering in all black kid is quite worthy of the feet of some particular purchaser; it's a 16-8 Spanish heel model at $10.00
And we have the same shoe in Patent, with military heel, at $9.00

On the left is pictured an alluring selection in Log-Cabin Suede, but no picture can do it justice. Has military heels and medium vamp and is priced at $14.50

Today's Recipes.

Salmon Omelet.—Cook omelet as usual (in oven), spread with heated buttered salmon and roll as jelly roll.

Baked Chicken—Secure a large old hen, (the larger and older, the better), prepare for baking. Place in deep pot, cover well with water and simmer until tender. Remove, put in oven pan stuffed with dressing as follows: Take two cups crumbled corn bread (old), one cup cold potatoes (mashed), good size onion, salt, pepper and use enough of the top water used in cooking fowl to make a nice mush. After stuffing the fowl, bake as usual, basting with the broth. The remainder of the dressing can be fried or baked as patties to serve with the chicken. Some of the broth left makes a good gravy: the giblets, sliced hard-boiled egg and flour (for thickening) being added.

Vegetable Salad—One-half package plain gelatin soaked in four tablespoons vinegar, one teaspoon salt, a little pepper. Into this pour one cup hot string beans with their juice, one-half cup peas, one-half cup chopped celery. When cold serve with mayonnaise dressing and an English walnut.

Potato Cakes.—Into a bowl of water (to prevent discoloration) grate four good sized potatoes, drain, add two tablespoons flour, salt, pepper and small onion. Beat one egg into mixture, form small cakes and fry slowly.

Suggestions.

Appliqued Tablecloth.—Here is an idea for an appliqued tablecloth. Purchase one yard of cretone of fruit design, such as grapes, peaches, plums and apples, two yards of unbleached muslin two yards wide and four skeins of green embroidered cotton. Cut the fruit out of the cretonne, making four large bunches of fruit in each corner of the muslin. Then draw a ten-inch circle on the muslin, feather stitch it and applique eight bunches of grapes about three inches apart, making the design very unique. You can place a dish containing fruit in the center of the circle and not hide any of the applique work. Sew lace around the edge.

Recovering Draw String.—Here is a suggestion which may help mothers: When a drawstring slips back into the casing too far to reach with the fingers, take a crochet hook, catch into it and draw it back. It is the work of an instant and will save many precious minutes when hurrying to dress all the little ones at once.

Color Scheme for Food.—Plan to vary both color and form in the various dishes that make up a meal. A cheese dish, sweet potatoes, creamed carrots, baked bananas and bread and butter would be fairly good from a food standpoint, but would weary the eye.

Baby Peggy will start soon on a new story, an original written by King Baggot and Raymond L. Schrock. Baggot, who directed her first Universal Jewel feature, "Whose Baby Are You?" will direct the third of the Baby Peggy features.

Work has been completed on "Editha's Burglar," adaption of Frances Hodgson Burnett's famous story and play and Baby Peggy's second big feature at Universal City. The play was directed by William A. Seiter, and a large and important cast surrounded the dimunitive star in the play.

Frank Currier, one of the best-known character actors in the pictures; Gladys Hulette and several other well-known players supported the "Baby Bernhardt" in the Jewel production.

Artistic Whispers!

That is what William de Mille, prominent motion picture producer, is trying to achieve in his photoplays, according to a statement he made today.

"It is an old trick of the stage to have the characters whisper, rather than scream, when the entire attention and interest of the audience is desired," said Mr. de Mille.

"In producing simple, human stories for the screen, I am avoiding 'scream pictures' or, as they are commonly termed, 'pictures with a punch'. I am endeavoring to produce artistic whispers."

Mr. de Mille declared that it was not his intention to convey that spectacle pictures are on the decline. On the contrary, he stated that there is now, and always will be, a great field for such productions. But he said he preferred simpler, quieter stories in which characterization and truth of story were more important than scenery and melodrama.

Mr. de Mille's latest picture is "The Marriage Maker," adapted by Clara Beranger from Edward Knoblock's delightful stage play, "The Faun."

FILM FLASHES

Fifty-three animals, including a canary bird, coyotes and a rattlesnake accompanied the Erich von Stroheim expedition into Death Valley where final scenes of "Greed" were filmed.

The art department and costume departments at Goldwyn have been working for more than a year on the costuming for "Ben Hur", which Goldwyn will soon film.

New inventions have made the Goldwyn photographic "dark" rooms so light that workmen can handle the sensitive film in rooms so bright that they can see to read a newspaper in the darkest corner.

A leading part after working in only six pictures is the record of Aileen Pringle, Goldwyn beauty, who has been cast as The Lady in Elinor Glynn's "Three Weeks."

In gathering statistics about the Goldwyn lot it was learned that Charles Brabin wears the largest hat, 7 3-4, literally speaking. Ted Brown ing, 7 1-2, Emmett Flynn, 7 1-4, Rupert Hughes, 7 1-4, King Vidor, 7 1-4 Von Stroheim, 7, and Alan Crosland, 7. Victor Senstrom has never been seen wearing a hat.

Mae Murray

old, King Vidor has directed more pictures than many directors twice his age. He has made a total of thirty to date.

Work has been started at Universal City on "The Texas Ranger", screen adaption of the novel by William McLeod Raine, noted writer of western tales, starring Roy Stewart and a picked cast. Nat Ross, who directed "The Six Fifty" in its screen form, and has made several other Universal pictures, will direct the new offering.

The story deals with the work of the famous Texas state police, and tells of the conflict between two rangers sent to bring a prisoner from another state, a woman accused of a crime, but whom they both love.

Spectacular episodes cram the fast action of the drama, and some scenic locations of special interest have been arranged for.

Production has been started on Pola Negri's fourth American picture at the Paramount West Coast studio with Herbert Brenon directing. The production is called "My American Man" and is from the stage play "Mon Homme" by Andrew Picard, author of "Kiki" and Francis Caroo. The scenes are laid in the upper and lower worlds of New York and Paris.

This wil be Mr. Brenon's second effort with Miss Negri. He recently completed "The Spanish Dancer" with her, which is appearing this winter at the Olympic.

Cecil B. DeMille and William de Mille are back at Hollywood from a fishing trip on the former's yacht "Seaward" in the vicinity of the Santa Catalina and the Santa Barbara Channel islands. Cecil B. DeMille will soon begin work on "Triumph" while editing "The Ten Commandments" and William de Mille will start production of "Everyday Love," an adaption by Clara Beranger of Julian Street's novel, "Rita Coventry."

Buster Keaton has a new way of communicating with his scenario staff. His manager, Lou Anger, had a cage built over the dressing rooms for his three gag men to prevent their stalling off work by luring Buster into their stronghold to do acrobatic stunts. And distinct orders were issued for the comedian to keep entirely away from the three nuts in the cage. But Buster wasn't to be shut off altogether. He had a telephone installed in the underground cave which was his home through the studio exchange to the scenario dovecote. Now when he wants to find out how the script of his next five-reel comedy is coming along he crawls into his cave and calls up on the phone.

Harold Shaw, director of the Metro Premier Feature, "Held to Answer" is held to answer for this one:

A man consulted a doctor. "Tell me in plain English," he said. "what's the matter with me—don't frighten me with scientific names."

"You lack pep?" said the doctor.

"Is that all?" inquired the relieved patient. "Now slip me the Latin of it, so I can give the wife a good scare."

"Held to Answer," which Mr. Shaw is directing, is a Metro picturization of the popular novel by Peter Clark McFarlane. Winifred Dunn made the screen adaptation.

LITTLE POINTS FROM MEN THEMSELVES.

We often wonder why a certain man is attracted to a certain woman, and it is always interesting to get him to tell you, if he will. Men love to talk about women they admire.

"Do you know why I am crazy about that girl, "a young man said to the other for the men of the nae me the other night," she is so deuced clever."

"Do you know what the little monkey does when I call her up and have to change or break an engagement with her? She always beats me to it. She begins by saying she had just been trying to get me on the line; that something or other had come up, and she could not have kept the engagement with me, anyway.

"I know that it is not so at all but I think it is so smart of her to come back at me with some tale or other. And although I know she is fibbing, I admire her for it."

Most men will give very unexpected answers when asked why they admire women. The reason is much deeper than a girl being pretty or sweet. It is usually some little thing in her bag of tricks that has made a hit with them.

Itching Eczema Gone

People who have endured tortures from itching eczema will be happy to learn that a means of relief has been perfected and is already enjoying unheard of popularity on account of the quick way it gets rid of the awful disease of the skin which nobody seemed able to figure out before.

Most all dealers have been forced to get a supply of this Black and White Ointment on account of the tremendous demand which has already reached the mammoth rate of nearly two million packages a year in its sales.

It is economical, too. The big 50c package contains three times as much as the liberal 25c size.—Adv.

LIONS ENTERTAIN THE ROTARIANS

BURKBURNETT, Tex., Oct. 11.—On Tuesday evening the Burkburnett Kions entertained with a splendid two course luncheon naming the Burkburnett Rotarians as special guests together with a few visitors from Wichita Falls, namely Judge Guy Rogers, Prof. Cantwell and others. About 60 men composed the assembly of entertaining club and guests.

The meeting was held at the new high school cafeteria and the luncheon was prepared and served by the pupils of the cooking class in the D. E. department of the school under the supervision of their instructor, and from all reports was in every way a credit to both the teachers and pupils.

Small perfectly appointed tables served four guests; and the flowers and other decorations gave the gathering more of banquet than simple luncheon setting. Following the plate luncheon with coffee, a service of cake and cream was enjoyed.

Earl Sowers, of the Tidal Western refinery, was toast master of the occasion, and gracefully introduced the speakers of the evening, Judge Guy Rogers and J. W. Cantwell, superintendent of the Wichita Falls public school.

The former spoke on "Citizenship and Education," folowed by Mr. Cantwell on the "Public School System, Team Work and the Making for Citizenship Among the School Children."

The function was reported to be one of social and educational interests throughout, interepersed with merriment in song and story, especially the unrestricted "Laughing Number."

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH

Enough is enough.

It is the obligation of a newspaper to its readers to print news that comes to it through the regular news channels, so long as those channels are legimate news sources. On the other hand a newspaper may cull out or relegate it to the inside pages anything that is not considered desirable.

Tht second divorce trial of W. E. Stokes, wealthy hotel owner, is being heard in New York. Because of the prominence of the principals in the trial and the sensational developments in the case, the story comes under the head of legitimate news.

As a matter of fact it is a family row which is being aired in the courts, and the Record News has reached the conclusion that the story no longer is deserving of the place on the front page of this newspaper where appears the foremost news of the day.

So after this, if you feel that you must read of the thousand and one vicious things of which Mrs. Stokes is accused by her husband, and her vehement denials of these charges, you need not look on page one of the Record News for the story. For it won't be there. It's a nasty family fuss, and the "inside" order stands until 'urther notice.

AMERICANS LESS THRIFTY

Jules S. Bache is an American financier, the head of one of the great banking houses of the country. He says that the investment market fails to attact workers and more, that there is a mad orgy of spending; that millions go out for amusements and luxuries while securities go begging.

He admits it as true that the saving banks of the country have increased their deposits by $500,000,000 during the past year, very much of which has been contributed by wage earners of foreign birth, but he does not consider this as evidence of any development of thrift on the part of the American people.

On the other hand Banker Bache finds 85,000 people spend with alacrity $1,250,000 to see a prize fight, movie theatres crowded to capacity, 2,100 golf clubs running with full membership, 1,000 in course of construction or exploitation, being deluged with application for membership, department stores doing the busines of thir career, limited railroad trains at high fares crowded to capacity and running in numerous sections with drawing rooms in greater demand than single births and with automobile companies selling to capacity, this Wall Street veteran says there seems to be no money for investment and investment securities are on the bargain counter at enormous and almost unparalled returns on the money invested.

Banker Bache has another grievance—the constant demand and granting of increases in wages; the settlement of every strike in the interest of the strikers; the cold shoulder shown to capital by designing politiicans and the gradual withdrawal of large amounts of that capital from active participation in the development of the country.

Is it posible that the designing politicians are turning a cold shoulder to capital? Is it possible that men of large wealth are investing in tax exempt bonds? Is it possible that only the foreigners in Amrica are thrifty? And isn't it possible that the high price of cotton and corn has made Banker Bache and his house a bit nervous? If the American people didn't have the money they couldn't spend it and every dollar spent goes in the channels of trade. Every dollar spent is a dollar invested in prosperity. Every dollar spent remains in America and every American dollar is worth its face value.

American railroads had 500,000 more men employed in July than a year ago. American railways are more prosperous today than at any time for many years. They are employing more people than ever before and paying higher wages than ever before.

DEMAND MORE MOISTURE

By a vote 101 to 69 the chamber of commerce of the state of New York went on record as opposing the Voystead act in the present form and requesting that it be revised and modified so as to conform more nearly with the public sentiment and on lines that are more reasonable, just and practicable. Reduced to plain English the demand is that the government shall make it easier for a citizen to get a drink and that when he gets the drink it will contain a kick that reminds him of the good old days. New York is a moist state and many of its leading citizens including its great financial and business lights do not take kindly to Volstead act.

PRICE OF FAME.

Warren C. McCray was the most successful farmer and breeder of pedigreed livestock in the state of Indiana when the republican politicians induced him to become the governor of the Hoosier state. Now his farms and his herds are in the hands of receivers and an Indianapolis judge has appointed a special prosecutor to conduct a grand jury investigation of the financial affairs of the chief executive of the commonwealth.

Politics is an ugly game. Governor McCray has found it to be a costly as well as a nasty game. His financial affairs are said to be free from knavery or trickery, but his political enemies demanded an investigation and a judge made the order. It is a great honor to be governor of a great state—"to be damned if you do and damned if you don't."

GOOD FOR MAN OR BEASTS

And it has come to pass that corn has distanced grain, speaking of prices. Think of dollar corn and the best grain in the world grown in Winnipeg selling at five cents less the bushel. Corn is a prime food for man or beast. Corn is a hog fattener and hogs have jumped to $10.00 per hundred. There is a vast difference between dollar corn and $10.00 hogs and 50 cent corn and $6.50 hogs. The latter had the farmer guessing and

CHAPTER XXIII
Gone!

Nothing further happened now until shortly after sunrise the next morning.

Then Burton, who had fallen into an uneasy slumber after some hours of futile watching to see that dear Larry did not die of an overdose without her knowing it, awoke and aroused him.

"What is it, dear?" he cried. "What are you doing here?"

Her story did not take long in the telling.

The narrative finished, he rose to his feet, fumbled in his pack, drew forth a revolver and holster, which he strapped to his belt.

"What are you going to do?" she asked anxiously.

"I'm going to follow the car."

"You can't hope to catch it afoot!"

"The chance is very slim," he acknowledged, "but it's the only chance, and it should be taken. Luck might play with us. The car might get stalled. Who knows? And in any case I've got to get on the wires to the lawyers right away."

He was methodically bestowing small necessaries in a rucksack.

"Please have Simmins take care of my other things," he requested. "Goodby, dear."

He opened his arms and she crept into them. They clung together for a moment.

"Be careful," she begged. "You must come back to me. Don't be rash, will you?"

He laughed.

"You mean the gun? No; I'm not going forth' to slay. That's just in the remote case I need a convincing argument. This is a lawyer game now, and a game of get there first."

He kissed her again and strode away.

"Come back to me soon!" she called after him.

"The soonest ever!" he cried back.

After his departure Burton, whose education had been coming on, made herself some coffee. About two hours later Simmins appeated, very apologetic over his tardiness.

The absense of the little car Burton had expected; but she was at first puzzled to hear that the extra cooking utensils had disappeared; as also a small quantity of provisions.

Then she realized that her father was hiding out, and Burton had a shrewed suspicion that he would continue hiding out. Even a pirate chief, if not tender feelings, at least love of mental ease; and Burton realized that even this stern parent might be just as well satisfied if he did not have too fresh in her mind!

Simmins' report that Grimstead's fishing tackle had been taken confirmed her opinion.

"You and I will probably have to wait here some days," she said, and told him what had occurred.

Shortly after noon they were astonished to see Davenport returning. Burton ran to meet him with a cry of mingled gladness and curiosity.

He replied curtly. His eye was savage, his lips compressed. She looked at him, then fell silent. As they entered camp she made an imperative gesture to Simmins of warning that he should not speak.

Larry strode to the fireside and threw down the rucksack with a slam, then turned to Burton.

"I followed the car for six or eight miles to the place the road crossed the Deep Barranca on a trestle. Part of the trestle had been carried out by the flood. Gardiner had driven the car off into the abyss."

"Killed?" cried Burton, horrified.

"Gone; swept away, disappeared completely. The stream is wide and swift and fast. I climbed down, of course, but no trace whatever remained except one seat cushion that had been thrown clear. I followed down the stream on the chance that the car might have stranded; but in that force of water it probably broke to pieces almost at once. It was of very light construction."

"What a tragedy!" cried Burton. "Poor Ross Gardiner!"

Davenport shut his lips grimly and let this pass. After a decent moment or so Burton ventured a comment.

"But there is this to say: The present problem is solved. The agreement is gone, the whole scheme headed off. You can build another battery!"

"That's just it!" cried Davenport. "I'm not sure I can do anything of the sort. All my note books of formulae were in that car, every scrap of paper I had in the world that had anything to do with this."

"You can copy your other battery," she pointed out "Oh! the first was crude. It was dismantled long ago."

"You will work it out again," she comforted. "It may be a slow task, but you'll get it."

He looked at her with something like fright in his eyes.

"I do not know!" he almost whispered. "I thought that at first, and I did not really care very much. But then all at once when I sat down to think about it I discovered that I had not one shred of memory of how to make a start at it. It's gone!"

"Why Larry!" she cried. "I hardly know you. It isn't like you to be discouraged. What does it matter if it does take time? You'll get it."

He shook his head.

"No, I'm not a quitter," he disclaimed. "I know it sounds like it. But this has become a certainty to me. It has come to me in the same way that all these other things have come to me. Perhaps it is the last of those beautiful certainties from the current of wisdom. It was given to me, and now I feel that it has been taken away. I never was more sure of anything in my life."

She stared at him, aghast.

"Such things cannot happen!" she cried, all aflame.

He shook his head. In his uplifted face was no discouragement, only the sorrow of regret.

CHAPTER XXIV
Simmins Writes a Note.

Unnoticed, a lank figure had crossed the meadow from the road and now appeared among them.

"Hullo, folks," said he, casting a curious eye about him. "Campin' for fun, or get stuck yere by the storm?"

"Caught by the storm," replied Burton.

"I'm the stage driver between Eureka and Tecolote," he volunteered, "but I don't see no way of gettin' through now. That there redwood tree's got the road blocked for keeps. Say, she must have made some crash when she came down!"

"She did," replied Burton. An idea was forming in her brain. "Are you going back to Eureka?" she inquired.

"Sure. Only place to go."

"Have you got room for two?"

"I got only the United States mails aboard. Whats the Idea?"

"Our car is broken," she explained rapidly. "If you will wait 10 minutes, we'll be ready."

"Lots of time," rejoined the stage driver, and sauntered over to engage the excellent Simmins.

"It is the only thing!" she urged Larry, as soon as the other was out of hearing. "Can't you see it is? We cannot stay here. Don't you see it?" she implored.

"I want to get out before he gets back," replied Larry bluntly. "You're right; I'll go."

"I'm going with you," she said steadily.

"What! You cannot do that!"

"You are going to need me; I know," she insisted, "it is part of my wisdom, as you call it."

The hunted, hurt look in his face softened.

"Come," he cried, almost exultantly. "There must be people who marry people up here! The world and its power and its troubles can go hang!"

"All aboard!" called Davenport to the stage driver. "Ready when you are."

"Simmins," ordered Burton, "you take care of things. We will send some one out from a garage."

But Simmins, at the thought of being left alone with a marooned and exasperated Pirate Chief, lost all his pose and poise and became thoroughly human.

"Oh, Miss Burton!" he cried. "Don't leave me here all alone!"

"Afraid of the woods, Simmins?" asked Larry mischievously.

"Yes, sir," rejoined Simmins, "I am afraid of Mr. Grimstead."

Larry glanced at Burton, who nodded.

"All right; come along," he agreed.

"One moment, sir," begged Simmins.

He produced a pad and pencil and wrote thereon.

"I don't want to spy; but if that note is to Grimstead—" suggested Davenport.

"It is only my resignation, sir," replied Simmins.

"You are right," said Davenport. "What would you consider the proper procedure for a young lady eloping. Should she also leave some sort of written communication?"

"I took the liberty of explaining in my note that I was leaving to enter your service, sir, and that of Miss Burton; and that it is intended to send a garage man immediately," answered Simmins.

"You relieve my mind, Simmins," murmured Larry and hastened to join Burton and the stage driver. She looked at him with pleased surprise.

"Good!" she cried. "You're more like yourself!"

"It's Simmins!" Larry exploded with suppressed laughter. "He's a joy and a jewell and he's untwisted me from all my knots. Dear, never must we lose Simmins! We'll pawn the family jewels before we let him go."

The little party, carrying the few pieces of baggage, and followed solemnly by Rapscallion, crossed the meadow to where waited the stage.

Ten minutes later Grimstead, who had heard the racket made when the long vehicle backed and filled in turning around, came curiously to see what was happening. He found himself alone with the wrecks he had made.

Across the episode now slowly the dark curtains closed. A great vision had been given one man; a vision that in its due and proper time will lift from mankind one of its greatest pressures. But that time had not yet arrived. When thus it too evidently appeared that from the gift would come strife, not freedom, then the great Invisible Intelligence, whose pressure is the carrying on with wisdom of our little world, in sadness reached forth their hands. From the soul of that man the vision was erased. Of all its breadth and greatness remained only one little thing; an idea for this story. But some time, in the remote future, somewhere, to some soul the vision will come again.

THE END.

So Goes It

By S. H.

We are informed by the Associated Press that more whiskey glasses are being made now than before the days of federal prohibition. We don't see how that could be possible when so many people are drinking their "corn" from the neck of a bottle.

The failure of the German government to raise the denominations of stamps to keep pace with the decline of the mark in that country is said to be causing many ludicrous situations. It took three yards of stamps to provide exchange on a draft on a Swiss bank. Why go to all the trouble? Why not just write the amount of the stamps on the draft in a country where money doesn't mean anything.

Mebbe, after all, one reason the German people are bearing up so well under the financial strain, is because it seems a man without money that he has lots of the coin of the realm. Your finacial condition is more or less a matter of your mental attitude toward money anyhow.

We once knew a man who was inclined to dabble with the red badge of courage. That is to say, he occasionally enlivened his imagination with considerable red likker. And every time he became inebriated he thought he was rich and would write checks for ten times his personal holdings. His pickled brain told him he was rich, but he couldn't get anyone to agree with him.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

Barley Sponge Cake.

One Mother Says:

The children love this wholesome and dainty cake which gives an opportunity of using the all too seldom used barley flour. It requires four egg yolks, one cup of sugar, one tablespoon of hot water, one cup of barley flour, two teaspoons of baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon of salt, the whites of four eggs, and one teaspoon of lemon juice. Beat the egg yolks very light, and add the sugar gradually.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

THE BURNT CHILD

Time was, when the Greeks were admonished
By foes from an allen land
That they'd have to bow down to come potentate's crown.
There was always a battle on hand.
The phalanxes climbed into armor;
Put helmets of steel on their domes,
And, swinging their spears 'mid the popular cheers
They fought for their wives and their homes.
And rather too often it happened

—As in Colonel Leonidas' dease—
When the battle was done that the enemy had won
And the phalanx was sunk without trace.
We honor the stout-hearted soldiers—
They fought as real fighting men should,
But getting cleaned out in a general rout

Did the country they loved little good.
The Greek with a chip on his shoulder,
Who always was eager to fight,
Was a hero, of course, and was always a source
Of clamoring public delight.
But after some ages of battles,
Though they figured so bravely in song,
With a constant decrease in the army of Greece
It was seen that the system was wrong.

Today, when a sword rattling country
Tells the Greek he had better behave,
He doesn't demur, but says promptly "Yes, SIR!"
Which is wiser, though hardly as brave.
The Greeks of past day were courageous;
Their valor was grand and sublime,
But the Greeks of today, though not strong on display,
Are destined to live a long time!

TIMELY VIEWS on WORLD TOPICS

"Tendency to Organize "Classes" Is Peril to U. S.," Says Solicitor General.

Calling the Constitution of the United States the greatest hope of the world for true democracy and pleading for its preservation, U. S. Solicitor General J. M. Beck recently declared that it was seriously menaced by the growing tendencies of individual classes to try to seize power. Free government would come to an end, he asserted, if any group could enforce its demands by denying food or coal to the people.

In the last quarter century, Mr. Beck said, every fundamental principle of the Constittuion "had been challenged by political parties and leaders, and many Americans were now calling the Constitution antiquated and an obstacle to progress. He continued:

"The representative principle has been challenged in twenty-two States of the Union by the initiative and the referendum.

"The principle of home rule has been subverted by a steady submergence of the States, which has now made of them a little more than glorified police provinces.

"The guaranty of individual liberty has been violated by many socialistic measures, while property rights are destroyed from time to time by confiscatory legislation.

Organized Classes.

"The independence of the judiciary is menaced by many provisions for the recall of both judges and of judicial decision and the fatal impairment of the power of the supreme court.

"Alarming as are these tendencies, infinitely more portentious is the shifting of power from the government to organized classes—and this tendency of our time is so grave that it threatens the very existence of organized society, when any class becomes so numerous or powerful that it can force its will upon the government, not through the ballot box, but through its control over the necessities of life. Then the government in that respect exists in form and not in name, and such a nation has been bolshevized. Bolshevism means the rule of the majority, but in its practical operation, as seen in Petrograd, it is the rule of a class. Of all oligrarches, that of a class is the most hateful.

Organization Rights Unquestioned.

"No one now questions the right of labor to organize, to act collectively, even to strike by concert of action to compel the employer to recognize the demands of the employer. But this right, as all rights, is not absolute, and government would indeed be impotent if it could not prevent the arbitrary use of such power. An equal power must exist to prevent the right to strike from degenerating into an exercise of tyranny subversive of the equal rights of other people and of the states.

"Who can underestimate the peril? If the labor leaders who control mining and transportation can deny to the people coal and food, unless their arbitrary demands are met, there is an end of free government. And yet when a brave attorney general said this a year ago, he was rewarded by sneers.

"I have dwelt upon the disintegrating tendencies of direct action, whether by organizations of capital or labor, as it seems to me the most serious menace to the perpetuity of our Constitution."

IRRIGATION

By A. M. McPHERSON
Consulting Engineer
Kahn Bldg., Eighth and Indiana

THE COLONIZATION QUESTIONAIRE.

Colonization Companies.

The question of how best to sell the surplus lands on the irrigation project will be the leading one in the minds of many men for sometime to come.

It is a problem of many complexities one that will occupy the time and attention of the landowner' committee quite fully if they expect to solve it correctly. However, the first important step has been taken by the formation of a Landowners' association and results can be expected eventually. It is, of course, to be regretted that the organization has been delayed for so long a time. Had it been formed a year ago, many of the problems would have been solved and actual work of bringing new people in here would have been under way by this time.

It is the duty of everyone interested in the future of this city and the irrigation project to support the landowners and their committee, as on them rests the success or failure of this project and possibly the future of irrigation in Texas.

One question that will occupy the attention of the committee at some stage of their deliberations will be to decide whether or not it is best to handle the sale of the land through a local organization or call in some colonization company.

The landowners were asked whether they thought the Wichita Falls chamber of commerce should call in some regular colonization company to sell the surplus lands on the project.

Apparently most of the landowners had not made up their minds to the point where they thought they could give an intelligent answer, because most of them passed the question by without answering. Of those who did answer.

Ten said "they didn't know."

Five said "Yes."

Eight said "No."

About the only conclusion that can be drawn from the answers is that this is a question that has not been given a great deal of attention by the landowners.

Trinity Enrollment.

WAXAHACHIE.—Enrollment at Trinity university here this year shows a material increase over that of last, according to officials. A total of 463 have matriculated and registrations for the year are expected to pass the 500 mark. Last year at this time 310 students had enrolled.

WHAT TODAY MEANS

LIBRA.

The mixture of the aspects make this a doubtful or uncertain day. Things may appear to be very good and yet prove to have a flaw. Beware of the opposite sex and acquaintances who seem unusually friendly and anxious to be of service to you.

A child born today should be carefully nurtured and educated, as its character might be conclusively formed in childhood.

People born on this day have been given by fate the choice of success or failure. Theirs it will be to choose between a brilliant fulfillment of the promise of their natural endowments, and the most wretched type of intellectual and physical degradation.

Eventually they will find that no middle course is possible. Although half a life time might be spent in mediocrity before the final call comes, they must take their places with the blessed and the damned.

If today is your birthday, you should search out your own spirit and turn it toward the way of its highest good, for the sooner you come into the quickening realization of your own possibilities, the sooner you will know what life holds out to you.

You are naturally equipped with an energetic will and a mind that is keen, and particularly alert to all that is happening about you. You are in a sense one that is born to command, provided you command yourself first. If you do not acquire control over your own spirit, you will never have dominance over others.

You are curious about the phenomena of nature and you are extremely practical in applying all that you have observed to some useful purpose. Others would call you inventive as though to suggest thereby that you possessed some occult faculty of divination. You, however, recognize this trait for what it is, a simple, fearless reasonableness.

Physically you have a taste for all the rarer delicacies and refinements of life. But be careful not to indulge your appetites as it would not take much latitude in this respect to make you dissipated.

Emotionally, you apparently not much attracted by the opposite sex under normal conditions. However, like all your type, once thrown very often with one person you will be surprised at the amount of passion in your nature.

Successful people born on this day are: Wm. Luther Sibert, U. S. Army general; Winslow Upton, astronomer; George W. Cable, author of Creole stories.

Baltimore Orioles Cop 2nd In Junior Series

LEFTY GROVES WINS OWN GAME WITH SINGLE IN THE SIXTH; TEAMS REST TODAY

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 11.—Lefty Groves, Baltimore ace, won his own game today, when he singled over third base to score Boley in the sixth inning, and won from Kansas City, 3 to 1. The victories ties the champions of the International league with the American association leaders, in the inter-league series, each having won a game.

Although Groves, when necessary, pitched spectacular ball and held Kansas City to four scattered hits, he was erratic and his wildness kept him in trouble a great deal of the time. After his team mates had given him a lead of one run in the first half of the first inning on a single by Lawry and a triple by Porter, Groves walked three men and passed out a single in the last half of the inning. He held Kansas City's runs to one, however, by fanning Wright and forcing Blackburne into an easy grounder. Caldwell pitched steadier ball, but passed out more hits with the result that Baltimore had men on bases in the second, third and fourth innings. In the sixth inning, with the score still tied, Boley singled for Baltimore with one down. Bishop grounded to Branom at first and Cobb was given an intentional pass. It looked like excellent baseball as Groves had fanned in both of his previous trips to the plate. With everything to win, Groves laid his bat gently against one of Caldwell's slants with the result that his low fly over second was just too short for Brief, Kansas City left fielder, to handle. Brief smothered the pickup, but Boley, who had turned third base, almost at the crack of the bat, crossed the plate before Brief could throw. Jacobsen scored Baltimore's third run in the final frame when he reached first as a result of Branom's second error, Porter's single, and the plate on Sheely's long sacrifice fly.

The teams will resume the series Saturday after a day of rest tomorrow.

of the series with the Chicago White Sox.

Yesterday the story of victory was one of Giant smartness, alertness and generalship, plus the decisive ninth inning home run by Casey Stengel. Today the situation was reversed and it was punch, typified by Ruth, that decided the issue. And the Yankees won, because they carried their brains in their bats.

Yesterday it was the Yankees who knocked at, but could not open, the door of opportunity; today it was a tale of missed chances by the Giants though they were fewer than their opponents had in the opening game.

THE DETAILED PLAY.

First Inning.

Yankees: Witt rolled out to Frisch. Dugan walked on four wide ones. Ruth also walked and the crowd howled. Meusel hit into a double play, Bancroft to Frisch to Kelly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Giants: Scott threw out Bancroft. Pennock took Groh's splash and tossed him out at first. Ward robbed Frisch of a hit with a one-handed stop and a quick throw to Pipp. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning.

Yankees: Groh threw out Pipp, making a nice play of the hard smash. Ward smashed a home run into the upper left field stands. Schang lofted out to Snyder. Scott flied out to E. Muesel. One run, one hit, no errors.

Giants: Young popped out to Dugan. E. Muesel hit a home run into the left field stands, tying the score. Cunningham flied out to Ruth. Kelly shot a single into right. Snyder sent up a high fly to Ward. One run, two hits, no errors.

Third Inning.

Yankees: Frisch tossed Pennock out at first. Frisch also got Witt at first. Dugan flied to E. Muesel. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Giants: Dugan made a wonderful play on McQuillan's roller and threw him out at first. Bancroft flied out to Bob Muesel. Groh walked after the count was three and two. Frisch singled into center, Groh holding second. Young lined out to Ruth. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Inning.

Yankees: Ruth hit a home run over the right field stand on the fourth pitched ball. It was a mighty wallop and the Yankee rooters went mad. Bob Muesel fanned. Pipp singled into right. Ward popped to Kelly. Schang shot a hot single into right, Pipp went to third. Young fumbled the ball and got an error. Pipp scored on Scott's single to center, Schang going to second. McQuillan was sent to the shower by the blow, and Bentley went to the mound for the Giants. Pennock was hit by the first ball Bentley pitched. He fell to the ground, his face contorted with pain and the players of both clubs gathered around him. The crowd cheered when he arose to his feet and limped to first base. The bases were filled. Witt flied out to Cunningham. Two runs, four hits, one error.

Giants: E. Muesel was thrown out at first by Ward. Cunningham flied out to Ruth. Kelly fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning.

Yankees: Bancroft got Dugan at first. Ruth got another home run into the left field stands. Bob Muesel singled into right, and when Young made his second error, Muesel continued to second. Pipp ground out to Kelly unassisted, Muesel going to third. Ward fouled out to Kelly. One run, two hits, one error.

Giants: Snyder flied to Bob Muesel. Bentley thrown out by Ward. Scott threw out Bancroft. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning.

Yankees: Bancroft got Schang at first by a wonderful play. Scott got a single past Bancroft. Pennock hit into a double play, Bancroft to Frisch to Kelly. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Giants: Groh singled over the middle bag. Frisch singled into left, after almost getting a home run that was foul by inches into the left field. Groh took third on the single. Groh scored when Young singled into left, Frisch halted at second. E. Muesel forced Young at second, Scott to Ward. Frisch halted at second. E. Muesel forced Young at second, Scott to Ward. Frisch went to third. The Yankees claimed that Young interfered with Ward in making a double play. Umpire Hart would not allow the claim. Cunningham hit into a double play, Scott to Ward to Pipp. One run, three hits, no errors. The crowd jeered Young as he walked into right field for his attempted interference.

Seventh Inning.

Yankees: Bentley took Witt's hopper and tossed him out. Dugan was also thrown out by Bentley. Ruth walked, Bentley respecting the mighty Bam, after his two home runs in succession. Ruth was caught off first, the play being Snyder to Kelly to Bancroft. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Giants: Kelly fouled out to Pipp. Snyder sent a high out to Muesel. Bentley got a hit into left for two bases. Bancroft fouled out to Dugan. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Eighth Inning.

Yankees: R. Muesel fouled out to Snyder. Pipp strolled on four wide ones. Ward singled into center, Pipp stopping at second. Schang flied out to E. Muesel. Scott flied out to Muesel. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Giants: Dugan threw out Groh. Scott tossed out Frisch. The crowd again booed Young when the Giant right field took his place at bat. Young singled to left center. E. Muesel singled to left, Young going to third. Gowdy hitting for Cunningham, flied out to Witt. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Ninth Inning.

Yankees: Stengel went into center field for the Giants. Bancroft threw out Pennock. Frisch threw out Witt. Dugan got a two base hit into left. Ruth sent a high fly out to Stengel. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Giants: Dugan threw out Kelly, on a play sparkling with brilliance. Scott threw out Snyder. Jackson, hitting for Bentley, flied out to Muesel. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SECOND GAME DREW 40,402

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The attendance at the second world's series contest today was 40,402. Gross receipts were $158,498.25.

So This Is Papyrus!

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Papyrus, the English derby winner, which will meet Zev in the $100,000 international race at Belmont Park on October 20, put over a surprise on the 300 watchers at the Belmont track today when he covered the mile and an eighth in 1:54 4-5 without taking a long breath.

Must Rebuild Iowa Team To Make It Big Ten Contender

IOWA CITY, Oct. 11.—(Special)—Coach Howard H. Jones with 10 letter men of his 1922 Big Ten championship team lost to this year's squad by graduation places a pure and simple task of rebuilding. At present it appears practically certain that there will be at least four men on this year's eleven who have never before played conference football and the list may run as high as seven.

Included in the squad are six letter men from last year's team. They are: Hancock and Otte, ends; Kriz, tackle, McIntyre center and guard; Parkin, quarterback and Captain Glenn Miller halfback. The squad also contains a number of secondary letter men who with their one or more years of experience may round into form before the opening conference game with Purdue October 13. At present, however, it appears that this year's team will be composed of last year's "I" men and freshmen.

End Positions Settled.

Although it is still early in the season Otte and Hancock, "I" men from last year appear about certain of their positions at the ends. At tackle "The Bull of the Campus" Leo Kriz appears certain of a job on the left side of the line while Krasuski will no doubt accompany him on the right. Kriz is a veteran having played all games last year. Krasuski was a member of the freshmen team last fall. At guards McIntyre, "I" man in 1922, and Fleckenstine and Olson, last year's freshmen players, seem to have the call. At center H. W. Griffen a powerful 1922 freshmen who hails from Sioux City, Iowa, has so far outdistanced all competitors. Like Kriz he is a giant in size, has an accurate pass and is all things considered about the best find Jones has so far made.

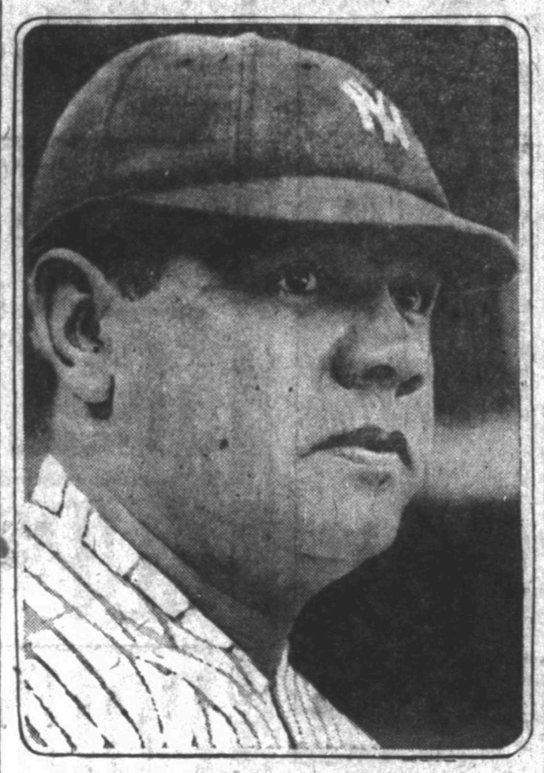

The lineup in the backfield is somewhat uncertain. Captain Glenn "Doc" Miller will play one of the halves, while Leland Parkin, another Waterloo boy and former high school rival of Miller's, will probably be at quarter. The other half will go to either Graham, Scantleberry, or Fisher, probably Graham. At fullback Wesley Fry of Hartley, Iowa, another 1922 freshman seems to be the favored one, although it is considered likely by some that he will play quarterback in place of Parkin, especially if the boy who made the touchdown against Yale is lothered with his old injury. Fry is a good field general and a clever passer and has been allowed to run the varsity on several occasions. Dauber is another backfield possibility, probably at half.

Must Develop Kicker.

With Paul Minick gone Coach Jones must also develop a new kicker. Fry, Fisher and Miller have all been practicing the booting end of the game, but Fry is considered the most likely man for doing this work.

With opinions varying from "another championship eleven" to the chopping block of the conference it is a bit hard to forecast just what are Iowa's possibilities. The greatest drawback of this year's eleven is that it is inexperienced. It's greatest asset is probably its weight. The line now being used most frequently averages 204 pounds to the man and the backfield tips the beam at about 175 pounds each.

He Accounted For Half Yanks' Runs

Introducing Mr. George "Babe" Ruth, who yesterday "showed 'em" and stepped into the world series home run throne with two efficient clouts in succession and that many scores for the Yankees, just enough to tie the Giants efforts. Besides getting half the home runs in the second series game and half his team's runs, the Bambino walked twice. His last appearance was the end of the Yankees' batting for the day when he flied out. The Babe handled three chances in the outfield without a bobble.

COYOTES WORK FOR HENRIETTA

Old Rivals Preparing For The Big Clash Saturday Afternoon

Coach McCallum with the able assistance of Coach Moore on the line is rushing the Coyotes through stiff scrimmages with a system of new plays in preparation for the Henrietta game tomorrow afternoon at the Clay county town. These new signals and plays are being drilled into the high school squad with all speed, for straight football had up to now been sufficient to win games for the locals. Some discussion has been in regard to setting the date of this game for today, but officials announced late yesterday that the game would be played Saturday at 2:30.

Tomorrow's game is expected to be the semi-final in the preliminary race, Electra occupying the feature place on the Wichita Falls program. Whether or not this will take place depends on the outcome of the contest tomorrow afternoon, but the dope bucket will have to tip some to allow the the Henrietta team a victory, despite the fact that the Clay county boys boast a scrappy team and the sole desire to win this game. Accordingly, this game will be a test for the finals of the season, and the Coyotes know a good bit about how Henrietta stacks up when playing them, at home or here.

The Coyotes are intact except for slight injuries to Coffee and McKechney. Coffee, star tackle and a shining light on the defense, will probably get in tomorrow's game, but McKechney, a quarterback, will not likely be able to play on account of a sprained ankle. Otherwise, the high school team is in fine fighting condition, and anxious to take the Henrietta crew to a country cleaning.

The two teams are easily compared from games played, both having played the same two teams. Wichita beat Nocona 74 to 0, Henrietta losing to that club 13 to 6. The Coyotes won from Bowie, 13 to 0, while Henrietta played them to a scoreless tie. This may leave Wichita much ahead or only a slight bit, but would indicate that the Coyotes are better by at least three touchdowns. The Coyotes will probably have the heavier and more experienced team. Wichita will put their coaches against any in this district, although the work of the Henrietta coach is yet to be seen. Dope often means nothing in a game between old rivals, and is best left to work itself out on the field.

In the game tomorrow Coach McCallum will use those who have showed up well in the Nocona and Bowie matches, many of whom have had two to three years experience. Henrietta will probably have one or two regulars in who have been out on injuries.

TO SHOOT FROM CLUB HOUSE TOP

Shooting from the top o' the club house is the new fad started at the Wichita Falls Gun club at the last meet, and which will be a feature event in tomorrow's big shoot. Deatheridge and Colbert tied for first place in the previous match, and are expected to run high in the rest contest tomorrow. Everybody is invited to get out his long range gun and come along tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. it was announced yesterday by officials of the club.

The American Trapshooting association rules will govern the shoots, and scores be included in the official records. Following is tomorrow's program:

EVERYBODY knows about the old oaken bucket that hung in the well—nobody has reason to believe that it ever did anything else.

Every oil operator knows of valve cups that "just hang in the well"—doing indifferent work and for so short a time that frequent re-cupping results in smaller profits and costly unproductive effort.

When you re-cup, re-cup with Darcova. Look for the label which oil men have known for 15 years as a mark of the first composition valve cup—and the best.

K. O. WALLOP IS FIGHT FEATURE

Carroll Sends Tucker On Five-Minute Trip To Dreamland

Jimmie Carroll, touted slugger from Fort Worth, did his stuff last night when he knocked out Slam Tucker of Abilene with a straight right to the jaw in the second round of a scheduled 10-round bout at the Legion boxing exhibition at the opera house. The blow was one of the hardest ever seen by local fans, Tucker crumpling and slipping to the floor on his face as if struck by the roof. Tucker was out about five minutes.

The headliner started off with some vicious slashing, the first round being Carroll's by a slight margin. It looked like an easy time for the Fort Worth boy and he came back at the beginning of the second with an evident idea of a quick finish. Carroll rushed his man around the ring. Tucker fighting back hard but getting in few effective blows. Suddenly Carroll started a smashing attack and in a hail of blows shot in a well timed, well aimed straight right which Tucker took flush on the jaw and slid to the floor for the count.

Battling Simmons of Henrietta, was a ringside witness of the fight and no doubt got an eye full. Simmons had previously been matched with Carroll here, but the bout was called off on Carroll's disability. Now, it is hoped that a match may be arranged between these two, if so, Simmons will probably stay longer with the Panther city boy, but he will have to avoid a powerful and fast right to last 10 rounds.

Pat Burton and Kid Snyder again lived up to their reputation and put on a ripping bout, bloody from start to finish. The local boy showed a wonderful comeback after taking the count of nine in the first, and won a draw on his dangerous fighting in the last two. This was the thriller outside of the main go, being far ahead of all other pre-lims in snap and slug.

The "big boys" bout was a short affair, Anderson Martin of Wichita Falls winning when Speedy Cottonpicker Andrews of Orth went out in the first round. Martin had received a hard blow under the heart and claimed a foul, but referee Red Byrd awarded the win to Martin. These big fellows showed some big wallops, but Martin's five-pound handicap was too much for the Orth boy. Martin weighed 185, Andrews 180.

Country Boy Lance won his scheduled eight-round bout with Alvin Williamson of Durant, Williamson throwing in the sponge after the sixth the Durant representative was groggy in the sixth under a steady rain of blows, and it looked like a k. o. for the Gainesville boy. The terrific body blows as well as the clonts to the head at last told on Williamson, who put up an even and a hard scrap the first four rounds.

Again was the paperweight crown at stake in the preliminary openers, Curly and Spider leaving a threesome battle royal to battle to another draw. Clayborne and Arbuckle, local lightweights, fought a two-round draw, showing some hard licks but little science and much lack of experience.

Channel Swim.

By The Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 11.—Swimming the English channel is a fat man's game, Carbis A. Walker, of Cleveland, who swam across Lake Erie this summer but failed to negotiate the channel, said in explanation of his failure.

"I was in the water 3½ hours," he said, "It was so cold it penetrated my muscles. After swimming three miles I became delirious and then unconscious.

"It's a fat man's job—and only a man with a lot of surplus flesh on his ribs to withstand the cold water can succeed. I failed because I had kept down weight for fast swimming."

How Ruth Did It

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Babe Ruth today was officially credited with three times at bat though he went to the plate five times. The first time, in the first inning, he was walked in this order of delivery: Ball one; ball two; strike one; ball three; ball four.

Ruth's next appearance was in the fourth inning when he was the first man at bat. At that time the score was tied, 1 and 1. The first delivery was a ball, the second a strike, and the third a ball. On the next pitch Ruth put his great power into his swing and connected; the ball traveled up and out to the right, up to a point seldom seen outside of fungo hitting, and landed on the roof of the right field grandstand, bouncing out into the street.

His next time at bat was in the fifth inning, after Dugan had been put out. He fouled the first ball, then took a ball, fouled his second strike, took a second strike, took his second ball, fouled a third time and then viciously hit the next pitch high, which went swinging on a low curve into the right field stands.

On his fourth and next appearance—in the seventh inning, he again was walked after there was one out. It was: ball one; strike 1, ball two; ball three; ball four.

His last time at bat was in the ninth. Ruth took a ball then a strike before smashing the next delivery far to centerfield, where Casey Stengel, running hard, took it almost against the bleacher fence. Ruth was the last Yankee to bat.

COACH SODDON RESPECTS TULANE

By The Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 11.—Charlie Soddon, line coach of the Texas Longhorns scouted the 18-3 victory of the Tulane university victory of Saturday over the Mississippi college eleven, and he brought back the news that Tulane has a strong team and will force the varsity team to the limit in the contest of October 13 at Beaumont. While the Longhorns crushed the Phillips university, Haymakers 51-0 in last Saturday's game, every break of the game went to the Longhorns, according to Coach Stewart. "I have never seen a game in which the score failed so utterly to tell the tale of the comparative strength of the two teams," said Coach Stewart today. "Every break went with us, and if we are as lucky in every game of the season, no one could ask for more."

The Longhorns showed up poorly in the covering of punts against Phillips university. Several times, the Phillips safety man returned kicks for long gains, despite the fact that Texas ends were down on him before the Haymaker caught the ball. Varsity wing men are undergoing strenuous work in preparation for the game of Saturday. Indications are that Gilstrap, veteran end, will not play against Beaumont. Gilstrap has a badly injured hip, and the Texas coach said today that he would likely save Gilstrap for the game with Vanderbilt which will be played October 20. In the absence of Gilstrap Curtis and Newell will work at end.

Former students of the university who live at Beaumont are planning elaborate entertainment for the visitors to Beaumont for the Texas-Tulane game. A Ludlow Calhoun, president of the Beaumont Texas University Ex-students association, reports that a reception, dance and banquet will be given after the game. Dr. W. S. Sutton, president of Texas university, who will go on the special car with varsity football players; D. C. Bland, president of the Ex-Students' association; and John A. Lomax, secretary of the Ex-Students association, are scheduled to speak.

Reports from Beaumont indicate that a crowd of close to 10,000 will witness the first big gridiron contest to be staged in that city for a number of years.

RIOTS THREATEN AGAIN IN RUHR

Unemployed Gather at Dusseldorf But Are Dispersed By French

By The Associated Press.

DUSSELDORF, Oct. 11.—Demonstrations by the unemployed, some of a very threatening character, have already begun in the Ruhr here, in consequence of the discharge of thousands of workers by the metal industries. The occupation authorities here predict rioting and plundering unless something is done immediately to relieve the plight of the workless.

One of the most serious manifestations thus far occupied late this afternoon in Dusseldorf, when more than 2,000 persons gathered around the town hall and soon became so menacing that the French cavalry and armoured cars which have been on duty since the separatist meeting of September 30, which resulted in bloodshed, were summoned hastily.

The use of force, however, was unnecessary. A French officer, speaking from the German customs building, addressed the crowd on the steps of the building and told them to disperse. The French, he said, would do what they could to aid them.

Demonstrations of a similar character were reported today from nearly every large town in the Ruhr.

The German state authorities are powerless to offer relief, as the Berlin government has decided that beginning October 17, all responsibility for unemployment in the Ruhr will be transferred to the local municipal authorities in the occupied area.

Henry Ford Takes Wicked Slam At Secretary Weeks

By The Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 11.—Henry Ford's offer for the purchase of the Muscle Shoals project in Alabama is still before congress and will not be withdrawn, Henry Ford said today in a statement, his first public assertion since the sale of the Gorgas plant to the Alabama Power company.

Mr. Ford charged that political influences were brought to bear to keep him from obtaining the plant and these influences prevented a vote in the house of representatives last spring of the sale of Muscle Shoals to the Ford Motor company."

Mr. Ford's statement says in part:

"Long ago, Mr. Weeks matured in his mind the plan to break up Muscle Shoals and dispose of it peacemeal. When he sold the steam plant at Gorgas, he pulled the first stitch in unravelling the greatest single prospect ever held out to the American farmer and manufacturer.

"This plan was formed by John W. Weeks, for the purpose, as he thought of injuring Henry Ford, which shows how much a Boston bond broker, in politics for pastime, knows about industrial problems. But the injury has shot past Henry Ford and has landed on the farmers."

JOCK HUTCHINSON HAS QUALIFIED

By The Associated Press.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 11.—"Wee Bobby" Cruikshank, of Westfield, N. J., small of statue but mighty of wrist, literally ironed his way to premier qualifying honors today in the Western open golf tournament with a score of 140 for the two days of qualifying play, topping a field of 110 entrants in the battle for the western classic.

Cruikshank and 65 other players will battle through a 36 final tomorrow for the title.

SERIES NOTES

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—John McGraw gambled again today with his pitching staff but this time he lost. Still holding his ace, Southpaw Art Nehf, in reserve, he sent Hugh McQuillan in, the third right hander to face the Yankees in two days, but Hugh proved an easy victim. Jack Bentley, who succeeded him, demonstrated that the Yankees take none too kindly to southpaw slants.

Nehf may be McGraw's choice tomorrow, now that he has lost his opening advantage. Jones or Shawkey appear likely Yankee mound candidates.

Ruth, the game's hero, was also the "goat" for a moment in the seventh when he was caught off first after receiving his second pass.

After the Yanks' defeat in the first game, Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the American League champions, invited his mother to attend today's game as honorary mascot. The colonel announced tonight she had "signed" for the series.

Fluctuating with the tide of battle, betting odds showed the Yankees favorites again tonight after their second game triumph. Several wagers were made at odds of 10 to 9 and 6 to 5 on the American league champions.

government of laws not men." He reviewed the recent train of sensational events in Oklahoma, referring in general terms to the principles of habeas corpus, freedom of press and religion, and urged the people to "retrace and regain the path that leads to happiness in Oklahoma."

The speaker declared he was not referring to any "particular individual," but his remarks were accepted as being directed at Governor Walton.

"You are assembled as champions of the constitution," the former senator declared. "The people have placed in your hands the guardianship of the principle handed down 700 years from the days when the freeman of England wrung from the despot, King John, the Magna Charta providing that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law."

Making a direct reference to the reign of martial law throughout Oklahoma, which was ended today after being in effect nearly one month, the speaker shouted:

"The constitution of the state declares that military must always be subservient to the civil authorities. Guard this principle well."

Pandemonium Reigns.

Exciting scenes attended the preliminary gathering of the house before the joint session was held. Pandemonium followed an attack on the governor launched from the floor by Charles D. Lewis, representative of Okmulgee county, who asserted that he opposed the joint session to hear the executive's message, "because it would pay too much respect and honor to the governor."

A chorus of cheers and catcalls burst from the crowded galleries and members sprung to their feet, some protesting, others applauding.

Speaker McBee rapped vainly for order, when it was finally restored, threatened to clear the galleries if the disturbance was repeated. He admonished Lewis that "custom should be followed," and that "members of the house should be ladies and gentlemen even if others were not." He declared Lewis' remarks out of order.

Although the vote opening the way for the impeachment session was unanimous there was strong indications that Governor Walton was not without support in the house. Murray Gibbons, a staunch Walton adherent, and speaker of the regular session early this year, and J. W. Callihan of Latimer county, appeared as leaders of the pro-administration faction.

Claims McBee.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Oct. 11. Breckenridge claims W. D. McBee, who today was made speaker of the Oklahoma house of representatives and lead the opposition fight on Governor Walton, as the native son of this city.

He spent much of his boyhood days here and learned the trade of printer here. He also spent a number of years on the Mule Shoe ranch in this county, breaking in wild horses.

GETS A DECISION OVER HARRY GREB

By The Associated Press.

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—Tommy Loughran, of Philadelphia, was awarded the decision over Harry Greb, world's middleweight champion, after a 10-round bout here tonight. The men fought at catch weights and the title was not at stake. Loughran weighed 168 pounds and Greb 168.

DANIEL BAKER BEATS NORMAL

By The Associated Press

BROWNWOOD, Tex., Oct. 11.—Daniel Baker defeated East Texas Normal college, 12 to 0, here today, Daniel Baker scoring in the second period on a long pass while in the fourth period, Stringer intercepted a normal pass and outran the teachers for 55 yards and a touchdown.

Nucleus Formed For Permanent Oil Exposition

By The Associated Press.

TULSA, Oct. 11.—The nucleus for a permanent oil exposition here was outlined today and steps taken to make headquarters on a 40 acre tract east of the city, where can be established not only the miniature exhibits of oil field supplies, but the actual derricks, small refineries and a large stone building erected for a home for the Drake Memorial Museum.

Tentative plans to carry this program into effect was the outstanding development undertaken by oil men gathered here from every field in the United States and all voiced approval of the plans.

W. B. Storey president of the Santa Fe railroad before the Southwestern Business congress, sternly censured W. G. McAdoo for the latter's statement that "the railroads had tried to obtain from the government millions of dollars that did not belong to them following federal control of the roads.

He reviewed the government control of the railroads and declared "the roads were delivered back to the private owners in a deplorable condition," but said they surely would recover if given a fair chance. He advocated government regulation along conservative lines.

J. S. Cosden head of Cosden and company and 250 Chicagoans here to attend the exposition and congress, departed on a special train tonight for Chicago. The 150 Texas guests also left for home tonight on a special train.

Lloyd George Is For U. S. British Peace Merger

By The Associated Press.

NIAGRA FALLS, Ontario, Oct. 11—David Lloyd-George, former British premier, at a conference with newspaper corespondents today, took occasion to advocate a British-American understanding, which, standing for a rational peace, he said, could have it. No country, he asserted, would stand against such a union, and it would be quite unnecessary even to fire a gun. Without such understanding on the part of the two English-speaking communities, he added, "there would not be peace in the world."

Asked as to what form such an arrangement should take, he replied that the substance rather than the form was important and that "you don't need anything on paper."

The scenic beauty of one of the natural beauty spots of the continent claimed the former premier's attention today. He came here from Toronto and spent five hours on both the Canadian and the American sides.

After viewing the falls under headlight illumination, he left early tonight by special train for Winnipeg, where he is due Saturday morning.

dignity have come to the masses, always through the individual. Again and again Mrs. Strustynsky enunciates this premise. It is the premise that brought a Chicago priest to a morgue, and may send her to the gallows or to the insane asylum.

"Over in Europe leaders like Trotzky and Lenin, they claim to like the people, yet they sacrifice the people. The masses don't do anything. It is the leaders, the European leaders, that must be changed."

The dead priest, his self-confessed murderer declares, was a bad, essentially "Europe leader," putting it over a colony of gullible Ukrainians, who otherwise might have all the advantages of America, with "its high moral values."

Sold His People, She Says.

"Father Stetsuk" — unconsciously his killer lowers her voice as she pronounces the word "father"—"had a good voice, he had smooth ways, a charming personality. God gave him those things. That's not his credit. Then he prostituted them by selling people—his own parishioners — to other churches, for money, for power.

"If I'd waited a year his people would have found him out. Ask in Philadelphia where he used to be. He used his hypnotic power there. There's two girls in the insane asylum just on his account. When he preaches he makes people babbling children, crying. He was dangerous. He was bad."

But she refuses to grow more specific. She repeats:

"If I'd waited a year those people out there, they wouldn't want to kill me. They'd call me a heroine. But I don't care about myself. I'd rather die now than have that man put it over the masses any longer."

KIDNEYS NEED LOT OF WATER

Drink Freely and Often, Also Take Salts If Your Back Hurts

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and logsy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv.

STOCK MARKET IS REACTIONARY

Bears Traders and Liquidation Blamed—Marks Lower

Market Features.

Day's total sales 711,500 shares.

Twenty Industrials averaged 87.16; net loss .37.

High this year 105.38; low 86.92.

Twenty railroads averaged 81.96; net loss .57.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Stock prices displayed a reactionary tone during the greater part of today's session in response to further attacks by bear traders and extensive liquidation of a number of low priced shares. Short covering operations designed to even up committments over the holiday brought about a moderate rally in some of the leaders just before the close.

Acute weakness developed in the copper stocks on publication of a report that September shipments, foreign and domestic, by American producers approximated 160,000,000 pounds as compared with 205,000,000 in August and 167,500,000 in July.

Heavy liquidation of Producers and Refiners, which dropped three points, was attributed to the breaking up of a pool in that stock, following the calling of loans.

While the weakness of Producers and Refiners caused some sympathetic selling of other oil shares, the group as a whole held relatively firm. Another reduction in crude production was regarded as constructive but this was offset, in part, by reports that several companies will need new financing to carry stocks in storage over the winter.

Southern Railway was run up above 35 on the possibility of resumption of dividend payments on the common stock, but when the directors adjourned without taking any action the stock fell back to 32 3-4 for a net loss of 1 3-4.

Call money opened at five per cent but eased to 4 1-2 before the close. Time money transactions continued small with no change in rates, plenty of western money being reported on the market.

French and Belgian francs showed moderate improvement but trading in the other foreign currencies was sluggish. German marks dropped to a new low level at 2 cents a hundred millions.

Fort Worth Livestock.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 11.—Less activity was displayed in the cattle division which was lower than on any day of the week, although receipts were the smallest, buyers were not altogether satisfied with the progress previously made in lowering prices, and were trying to force a small decline on the rank and file of the run. The market was down to the lowest point of the week. Steers which closed 25 to 40 cents lower Wednesday, were 15 to 25 cents off Thursday, and most shipper cows were 10 to 15 cents lower, but on canners, cutters, bulls and calves prices held to a steady level for the most part. Receipts amounted to 4,200 head of cattle and 2,000 calves. A car of choice grass steers from the Welder ranch sold at $6.75, these putting a top on the market. Canners sold around 1.50@1.85 and cutters 2.00@2.85.

Bulls were purchased at prices showing a spread of 2.50@4.00. Demand for calves was fairly broad. One car of choice quality brought 7.00 and another load made 6.75. Bulk sales ranged from $4.50@5.50. A few cars of cattle went at 4.00. A few loads north were purchased at spread of 3.00@5.25.

An active market was staged in the hog yards, where receipts amounted to 2,500 head. Shippers and packers made purchases at 7.96 and most of the run went at a spread of 7.65@7.90. The demand was good. Values were 10 to 20 cents higher. Pigs were weaker, the big end of the run selling at 6.50@6.75.

Sheep values remained steady, but lambs were 25 to 50 cents higher. Some fat fall shorn Mexican ewes went at 5.75. Fat lambs brought 12.00. Receipts amounted to 450 head.

Cottonseed Oil

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Cottonseed oil was quiet, but firm with closing bids 5 to 12 points higher. Reports that one of the large refiners had cleaned up about all the crude that mills had to offer served to create uneasiness on the part of the shorts. Prime crude 8.75 @ 9.00; prime summer yellow spot 11.00 bid; October closed 11.20; December 10.23; March 10.39; May 10.58; all bid.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Cattle 8,000; strong to 15 cents higher; top matured steers 11.60; bulk 9.75@11.50; westerns 6.90@7.25; she stock higher in spots; other classes steady.

Hogs, 30,000; mostly 10c higher; bulk 8.00@8.15; top 8.15; light 7.50@7.90; packing sows 6.80@7.00; pigs 6.50@7.25; estimated holdover 10,000.

Sheep 26,000; steady to weak; western fat lambs 13.25@13.65; top 13.75; natives 13.00@13.50; clipped lambs 12.75; culls 9.60@10.00; fat ewes 4.50@5.50; feeding lambs 12.75@13.00.

MONEY At Work

Brief, but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Bonds and Investments.

The insider can lose money just as easy as the public, if he is mistaken in his judgment. Don't waste time looking for inside tips.

The popular conception seems to be that the insider aldays makes money at the expense of the public. Consequently many people spend much time and effort trying to get an inside tip.

What is an insider? He is some one in close touch with the affairs of the company who gets his information a little ahead of the public in general.

He gets his facts sooner, but if he makes a mistake in judging them, he will loose. The public gets almost as many facts, but makes no attempt to judge at all.

The biggest difference between the insider and the public is in foresight and judgment. Being an insider has no effect on that fundamental difference.

Judge the facts which are easily available and don't waste time trying to get inside tips. No one knows everything.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—There were very nervous and rather violent fluctuations in the cotton market today. After selling up to 28.35 on October general covering during the early trading, December eased off to 28.05, but later shot up to 28.37, making a net advance of 47 and a recovery of 125 points from the low record of last Tuesday. In the last ten minutes, however, offerings became extremely heavy and the price broke to 27.97 or 42 points from the best and December closed at 28.00. The general market closed easy, net unchanged, to 20 points higher.

The market opened firm at an advance of 20 to 30 points on all months except September which was unchanged. Recent sellers seemed to be due to the prospect for unsettled weather in the southwest and the market soon showed net advances of 38 to 45 points on covering and a continuation of the trade buying noted yesterday. This was accompanied by reports of an increased spot demand at a fair basis in the south. The market turned easier under realizing and there were reactions of some 20 to 30 points during the middle of the day, followed by another sharp upturn on a renewal of covering, or fresh commission house buying.

This carried prices into new high grounds for the day with October selling at 28.83 and January at 27.84 or about 40 to 53 points net higher on the general list. More selling orders reached the market, causing recession of 36 to 42 points.

Exports today were 31,200 bales, making 1,103,024 so far this season. Port receipts today 39,880. U. S. port stocks 507,139.

New Orleans Cotton.

By The Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 11.—During most of the session in cotton today prices were at substantial advances, the result of much talk of small ginning and uneasiness over weather conditions. Toward the middle of the day the market was at its highest, at gain of 40 to 43 points, with December trading at 27.87. Realizing sales from the long side were stimulated by the holiday tomorrow. The rumors of financial trouble in Lancashire caused considerable selling in the late trading so that the close was at about the lowest of the day, 9 points down to 12 points up, net, on the day. Closing sales of December ranged from 27.53 to 27.55.

It was an active market in the first half of the day. Cables were better than due, the scattered showers in south Texas were regarded unfavorably and the low pressure area over west Texas shown by the weather map, caused uneasiness lest rains should spread over Texas and from thence to other sections of the belt.

While shorts were inclined to cover in the early trading, it was the longs who evened up later on, and their selling, together with rumors that Texas cotton was moving in this direction for tender on October contracts, checked the rise.

WHEAT DROPPED; CORN STRONGER

Persistent Selling Depresses Wheat But Rally Follows

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Persistent selling ascribed largely to absence of important new bullish developments, had a depressing effect today on wheat values. Evening up, however, for the holiday tommorrow, led the something of a rally at the last. Prices closed unsettled, 1-8 to 5-8@3-8 cents net lower, December 1.09 1-2 to 1.09 3-4 and May 1.13 1-2 to 1.13 3-3. Corn finished 1-3@1-4 to 1 1-4 cent net lower. Oats 1-4 to 3-8 cents down and provisions varying from 7 cents decline to an advance of 2 cents.

All deliveries of corn, including the cash article, sold today at a new high price record for the season, with No. 2 yellow up 4 cents at $1.14. Favorable weather, however, for cutting and husking the new crop, led to a subsequent downturn. Outs followed corn.

Provisions were without significant change.

PARENT-TEACHERS ANNUAL IS NEAR

By The Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Oct. 11.—Friday October 19, will mark the fourteenth anniversary of the founding of the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers association. Local organizations of the association throughout the state have been requested by Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs of Austin, state president, to hold appropriate anniversary ceremonies.

A suggested program for the day has been sent out to local units. The occasion will be devoted chiefly to recounting purposes and aims of the body and its accomplishments since it was established in 1900. Particular attention will be given the association motto and its significance. It follows: "The love of childhood is the common tie which should unite us in holiest purpose."

The Parent-Teachers' association of the state was organized at Dallas, October 19, 1909. The body now has 810 affiliated clubs with over 30,000 members and an endowment of $25,000 in preparation.

The suggested program for the day follows:

Congress prayer.

Aims and purpose of association.

Sketch of history of organization.

Message from state chairman, Mrs. Ella C. Porter, Dallas.

Message from state superintendent, S. M. N. Marrs.

Message from state president, Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs.

Why a Parent-Teacher association.

What Parent-Teacher associations are not.

What the association has meant to the school, to the community.

The endowment fund.

Birthday offering.

RED CROSS WILL OUTLINE ACTION

By The Associated Press.

DALLAS, Texas., Oct. 11.—Red Cross activities in West Texas and New Mexico during the coming year will be outlined at a conference at Albuquerque, N. M., of the west Texas-New Mexico district, October 18, according to an announcement received here from southwest division headquarters at St. Louis, Mo. Plans for the campaign during the seventh annual Red Cross roll call will, also, be considered.

Among those who will appear at the conference are: William M. Baxter, jr., manager of the southwest division of the Red Cross; Miss Edna Collins, Red Cross representative at Fort Bayard, N. M.; Mrs. Hannah M. Goldstein, Silver City; R. B. Brown, assistant field director, Fort Bliss; L. A. Stark, Galup; U. S. Senator H. O. Bursum of New Mexico; R. R. Gibson, Albuquerque, sub-district manager of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, who will speak on the relation of the Red Cross to that organization; Miss Isabel Eckles, New Mexico state superintendent of schools; Mrs. J. V. Wilson, Albuquerque; D. N. Pope, Roswell; Miss Helen B. Fenton, superintendent of nurse and child hygiene, New Mexico department of health; Miss Mathilda Harris, Red Cross nurse supervisor for New Mexico; and Miss Edna Collins, Fort Bayard.

BURK MAY VOTE PAVING BONDS

BURKBURNETT, Tex., Oct. 11.—At a meeting this week of the city commissioners an election was called for November 17 to vote bonds to the amount of $50,000, to be used as follows: $37,500 for the purchase of the sewerage system from its present private owners; and the $12,000 for the improvement and extension of the system to all parts of the city as yet not connected.

At the same time of the above election a vote will be taken for the adoption of the state paving law which is necessary before any further paving can be done on the city's property.

An ordinance was also outlined and passed at this meeting for the regulations of all auction sales touching the comimercial interests of the town, a detailed copy of which will appear in the city papers at an early date.

WILL SELECT THE CLEM GRAY JURY

By The Associated Press.

TEXARKANA, Tex., Oct. 11.—When the G. C. (Clem) Gray case was called in the Titus county district court this morning attorneys to defend Gray during his trial on a murder charge in conection with the killing of Otis Ballard on September 24 were appointed and granted 24 hours in which to get ready to go to trial. Selection of the jury will be undertaken when court reconvenes tomorrow morning.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Tex., Oct. 11—The case of the state of Texas against George Clem Gray, charged with the slaying of Otis Ballard, was called today with the opening of a special term of district court, Judge T. F. Wilkinson presided.

Two hundred men, making up a special venire, answered the roll call. Five Texas rangers, one on each side, and three closely behind, brought Gray into the court house from the county jail, heavily chained.

TO PROBE DRY LAW PUBLICATION TODAY

AUSTIN, Oct. 11.—Representatives of the state comptroller's and secretary of state's offices today were summoned to appear in Harris county district court tomorrow with records of the state offices on publication of the state prohibition amendment. An attack on validity of the amendment is being made in the case of John Harper, charged with violation of the law. Representatives of the two departments left here with records in the case.

PARENT-TEACHERS OF FANNIN MEET

The Parent-Teachers' association of the Fannin school met in regular session at the school building Thursday afternoon and six new members were added to the association.

Two visitors were also present. The fifth grade entertained the association with a special program. Plans for the future work of the organization were furthered.

GEN. MARKHAM IS FROM DECATUR

By The Associated Press

DECATUR, Tex., Oct. 11.—Two of the prominent figures in the present governmental situation in Oklahoma are former citizens of Decatur. Adjutant General Baird H. Markham was born in Decatur in 1887, according to local citizens. He is the son of Dr. W. B. Markham. General Markham is now in charge of Oklahoma military forces in martial law territory.

Chief Justice J. T. Johnson of the Oklahoma supreme court, formerly was county judge of Wise county, it is said. He was a prominent attorney while practicing here.

Orthodox Jews Outline Policies At Vienna

By The Associated Press.
VIENNA, Sept. 22.—The World Congress of Orthodox Jews, convened in this city to deal with everyday Jewish problems in their purely religious aspect, adopted six resolutions at its closing session which, taken together, set forth the immediate tasks of the organization. These are:

To regain, through organized efforts, spiritual contact with dispersed and estranged Jewry in particular the Jews of the west and the east;

The promotion on an extensive scale of the study of Thora and Jewish education, especially in the countries where opportunities along these lines are most lacking;

The amelioration of the economic situation of the Jewish masses in impoverished countries, and Palestine;

The organization and promotion of the means of prompt succor in cases of emergency;

The promotion of the Jewish spirit in the daily press and in literature;

To obtain the recognition, as authoritative spokesman for the entire body, of Jews who consciously seek inspiration from the Thora and who live according to its precepts.

The congress, described also as the "Kenessio Gedauloh of the Agudas Jisroel," was attended by 150 delegates from 22 states. Most of them came from central and eastern Europe. They sat through three sessions a day for eight days, and listened with religious fervor to the orations and exhortations of men highly esteemed as leaders and students.

The Agudas Jisroel was founded 11 years ago. It was a practical expression of the conviction that the mechanical achievements of this generation, such as fast travel, the opportunities for the rapid accumulation of wealth in distant lands and a host of other social and economic factors, were isolating Jews into small groups in a manner to make it more difficult for their spiritual leaders to keep before them the religious traditions and past ideals of the race. It was to avert these dangers threatening Jewry that the Agudas Jisroel was organized.

The congress did not concern itself with political matters. Even in the question of the creation of a national home for the Jews in Palestine, the organization was less concerned with the number of those taking up their abode there each year, than with the motive actuating the immigrant and his spiritual attitude toward the land of his destiny. The Chassidim-Rabbi of Sokolow said much irreligion was observable among the Jews in the Holy Land, and Rabbi Katzenellenbogen (Jerusalem) described the many difficulties against which the Jews of the independent orthodox group were compelled to fight.

As proof of the sympathetic interest felt by the organization for the Palestine movement, may be cited for the dispatch to Sir Herbert Samuels of a cablegram expressing warm sentiments of gratiture on behalf of the Agudas Jisroel for his efforts in the interest of Zionism.

But it is the strengthening of the faith of those who have hitherto taken their religious duties lightly, and the moral regeneration of the Jews far remover from the staunch Thora adherents of the east, to which the chief efforts of the organization are to be directed. These Jews are to be taught that every observance laid down in The Law is an essential in the life of the believing Jew.

COLLEGE STUDENTS TO HEAR OPERA

DENTON, Tex., Oct. 11.—The College of Industrial Arts will hear the first grand opera of the season November 5, when the San Carlo Grand Opera company under the auspices of Fortune Gallo, will present a program in the college auditorium. Information received here is to the effect that the company is composed of some of the most distinguished artists of America and Europe. Among these are: Tamaki Miura, Japanese prima donna; Anna Fitzue, Sofia Charleibois and Collie O'Moore, famous Irish tenor.

The San Carlo Grand Opera company is at present engaged in performances in various Texas cities. It is regarded as one of the largest traveling operatic organizations. The coming of the noted troupe is in line with the policy of the college in bringing to the campus each year one or more standard attractions in addition to numbers offered in the artists' course.

MARRIED WOMEN OUT FOR RIGHTS

By The Associated Press.
SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 11.—Texas women's organizations are going before the next legislature with more determined effort than ever to put through the so-called "Rights of Married Women" bill. This is indicated in an announcement from Mrs. Jessie Daniel Ames, president of the Texas League of Women Voters, to the effect that a bill on the subject has been prepared and will be discussed at the annual convention of the league to be held here October 22-26.

Copies of the proposed bill have been distributed to a number of prominent lawyers of the state for construction and suggestions, it is said. The women plan to take the bill before the next legislative session with arguments for its passage, according to women leaders.

Roads For Travis.

AUSTIN.—Good roads enthusiasts in Travis county have opened a campaign for the voting of $1,500,000 in road bonds. As a result of petitions presented to county commissioners, a special election has been called on October 25 to vote on the proposal. Local organizations are joining in the campaign for the bonds.

Improvement Campaign.

THORP SPRINGS.—A campaign for raising $100,000 for improvements at Thorp Springs Christian college has been launched by officials of the school. Improvement plans call for a new girl's dormitory and permanent buildings at the annual encampment grounds.

Sunday School Rally.

DALLAS.—A total of 34,353 persons attended Dallas Sunday school on rally day, according to records of the various churches. Rally day is an annual affair among church organizations, designed to get persons to attend church services. The attendance this year was an increase of nearly 7,000 over rally day last year.

F.L. Convention.

DALLAS.—The annual convention of the Texas division of the Farm-Labor union will be held here December 3, according to G. W. Fant, chairman of the state executive committee. Over 700 delegates representing the 150 county unions of the state are expected to attend.

Public Speaking.

TYLER.—Public speaking is being fostered by the Tyler chapter of DeMolay in the form of a country-wide declamation contest. Only DeMolay members are eligible to the contest. Entrants will be from Tyler, Troup, Lindale and Winona. The final contest will be held on Thanksgiving day.

State Deficit

AUSTIN, Oct. 11.—Deficiency of the state treasury on October 1 was $3,870,000 according to the first detailed review of state finances compiled today by the state statistician. The review shows that the treasury received during September from all sources $402,000 and that over $1,000,000 in warrants were issued. The office of statistician was created by the last legislature under supervision of the state comptroller.

NEGROES RETURN TO PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 11.—A number of negroes, including women and children, who left Stowe township yesterday after they had been ordered to "get out" by a self appointed vigilance committee returned to their homes today under the protection of special officers.

The vigilance committee served notice on all recently arrived negroes to leave after an aged white man had been killed and his granddaughter assaulted and wounded by a negro who escaped. The situation was quiet.

Extend Differential

AUSTIN, Oct. 11.—Differential freight rates in favor of the Kansas, Mexico and Orient railroad, ordered by the railroad commission October four last year, today were extended from October 19 to November 20 by the commission. A hearing on further extension was set for November 13. The preferential rates were ordered to assist in rehabilitating the road.

Trust Ruling

AUSTIN, Oct. 11.—Trust companies may be organized in Texas without complying with general banking laws or obtaining bank charters, the attorney general's department ruled today in an opinion delivered to Bank Commissioner J. L. Chapman. The question had been raised in connection with certain proposed corporations.

CITY BEAUTIFUL PRIZE AWARDED

Barwise School First, Other Awards Made To Many

Prize winners in the City Beautiful Civic league contest launched in the spring for the best kept and most beautiful resident, school and church yards and downtown district, are announced by the City Beautiful general chairman, Mrs. Bert Bean.

In making these awards, Mrs. Bean said, "the various inspection committees and judges have been very painstaking to make a fair and impartial decision in every case. In many instances, however, only a few points difference have enabled them to decide between two and sometimes three yards. There being no second prizes in the residence yards, special mention carries the same recommendations.

Only yards entering the contests were considered and these were judged strictly according to rules and regulations of contests outlined in the beginning of the spring season. The work had to be done by a member of the family. On this account several were barred.

Among the schools, the Barwise won the first prize of $50 for the most beautiful grounds, Nc Travis school, the second prize of $20. Among the one showing the most improvement, the Fannin won the first prize of $30. These prizes were donated by Mrs. Frank Kell.

The Yale Avenue Evangelical church won the $50 prize which was the first offered for the most attractive grounds where the work was done by the church members or the pastor and the work on these grounds was done by the pastor, Rev. W. D. Cook. The First Presbyterian church won the second prize of $25 the work being done by a gardner. These prizes were donated by Bert Bean.

In the business district, the loving cup which is passed around each year was awarded to the Gulf Filling station, corner Ninth and Lamar and special mention is made of the Palace filling station; Mrs. Jozn Dickson's back yard at her millinery establishment on Ohio; Bert Bean Coffee company; Marcus Bros.; Ice company; Goodner Grocery company; City Hall fire station and Gilmore Lumber company.

The committee also especially commends the great improvement and attractiveness of the following places particularly as they were ineligible or barred from entering the contest; Buchanan street fire station; Seventh street fire station; post office; courthouse grounds and Texhoma filling station on Tenth street.

Five dollar prizes were given for the best yard in each district. Mrs. W. W. Robertson, 1311 Ninth street won the prize for her section and special mention is made of the back yard of Mrs. D. B. King, at 1409 Ninth street. In district number two, Mrs. John Fox, corner Grace and Thirteenth street won the prize with Mrs. I. H. Roberts at 1400 Lamar given special mention. In district No. 3, Mrs. W. E. Patton, 903 Tyler won the prize and special mention is made of Mrs. C. B. Haynie at 2011 Eighth street. In district No. 6, Mrs. H. G. James, 1304 Kemp boulevard won the prize and special mention is made of the yards of Mrs. W. J. Murph, 1604 Grant street; Mrs. B. M. Hester, 1614 Filmore and Mrs. Luther Hoffman at 1515 Filmore. A grand prize of $25 was offered by Bert Bean for the best yard in all the districts was awarded Mrs. John Fox.

Mrs. Mattie Delmater, 307 Elm street, won the grand prize of $25 offered by Mr. Bean for the most attractive yard in the branch league or extension districts and the committee especially commends the Highland Heights district as a whole for the excellent care given the entire district and while they have not accomplished as much as they would like to in beautifying yards, most of them have been kept clean front and back.

Mrs. E. W. Smith, 2900 Avenue N and Hays street won the prize for most attractive yard in the Highland Heights district and special mention is made of the yard of Mrs. Walter McAbee at 2100 Grant. In the Southside district Mrs. H. O. Denim, 1425 Twenty-fourth street won the prize with special mention made of the yards of Mesdames W. N. Scarlett, 1005 McGregor and W. H. Thompson, 1423 Twenty-fourth street. Mrs G. W. Russell, 502 Adams, won the first prize in the Travis district and Mrs. Mattie Delemater won the Barwise district while special mention is made of the yards of Mrs. John Dodge, 302 Elm and Mrs. John Kleim at 504 Mississippi.

On the Northside, Mrs. A. M. Smith won the prize and special mention is made of the yards of Mrs. Carl Bennett, 505 Calhoun; Mrs. C. E. Sprowls; Mrs. Corkeres, 511 Calhoun and Mrs. John Bendel, 510 Missouri.

William Powell, 401 Barwise won the first prize in the Washington (colored) district with special mention made of the yards of Carrie Carter, 302 Park street; Ella Dunkenfield, 308 Park; Susan Craft, 211 Brick and Leonard Davis at 217 Brick street.

INDICTED ON THEFT CHARGE

Indicted on three charges each in connection with alleged theft and receiving of stolen oil field supplies M. A. Zeff and Al Zeff of Electra, made bond of $3,000 each late Wednesday night, the amounts of the bonds being set by Judge P. A. Martin of the Eighty-ninth district court.

The Zeff brothers were indicted by the grand jury now in session and the six bills against them were among the 53 returned Tuesday by the grand jury.

Phil Anderson, charged with theft of over $50 and also indicted Tuesday, made bond of $1,000 before Judge Martin Thursday afternoon. The law firm of Mathis and Caldwell effected the bonds of the above three defendants.

GET YOUR LICENSE FOR DUCK HUNT

With the duck season opening October 16, prospective hunters should buy a hunting license and be safe, said H. Whitex, deputy game, fish and oyster commissioner for this district, yesterday.

The game laws this year are more strict than ever before in Texas, with licenses required for hunting anywhere in most instances and for all sporting game such as duck, quail, etc.

RURAL WICHITA LADIES INTERESTED IN MILLINERY

Rural women of Wichita county are being trained in the millinery art and are taking great interest in the work, according to Miss Georgia Lankford, county demonstration agent, who announces that Mrs. Dora Barnes, millinery expert from College Station will be here next week for a series of meetings with women over the county.

The first meeting at which Mrs. Barnes will be present will be at the home of Mrs. Simmons near Iowa Park. Miss Lansford has invited women from that section of the county to all be on hand. This first meeting will be Thursday, Oct. 18. On Friday, Oct. 19, a similar meeting will be held in the County Line community at the home of Mrs. H. H. Hayes.

Women attending the meeting are asked by Miss Lansford to bring along either an old hat or a new hat frame and necessary sewing equipment.

"GLORIOUS GIRL" IS CAPTIVATING

Much Applause Greets First Night of Home Talent Musical Show

Much applause from a crowded house showed that "The Glorious Girl," the play given last night by the Business and Professional Women's club of Wichita Falls was a success. The actors are citizens and the manner in which they presented the play is something for the city to be proud of. The leading parts, taken by Ottie Keeling, the "Glorious Girl," and Paul Rutledge, were well received. Their duets, "In a Tallybo" and "When We Went to School," were pleasing.

Mrs. Sidney Pitman as Mrs. Winterfield, a social climber, did well. Ivan Murchison as the prince (the Persian Rose) and Josephine Fisk, the Persian princess, scored a hit with their duet, the "Persian Rose." They were aided in the Persian scene by the oriental chorus.

Milton M. Silberman as the Count de Obligato of Ayer was amusing with his foreign accent. Honors were shared with Henry Cohen and Mrs. Claude Ruffner, in the roles of Steve, a bowery crook, and Molly, Steve's love.

The play was filled with a number of choruses. The shopping chorus, the scrubbing girls, the bowery dancers, the oriental chorus, the artists chorus, just a week chorus, guests chorus, the radio chorus, and the Glorious Girl chorus were entertaining.

Variation was added by the cut-ins which were well taken. The schoolroom scene proved uproariously funny. The letter carriers did their part well, and Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs done by the children was one of the beautiful scenes of the play.

The setting of the play was in a curio shop in New York City. The scene changed to the New York residence of Mrs. Winterfield. The curtains and hangings were magnificent of cloth of silver and amethyst and velvet hanging. The choruses were beautifully costumed and costumes well chosen.

"The Glorious Girl" will be given in the second performance tonight. It is under the direction of Torrey McKinney of the Harrington Adams company of Ohio. The song and dance numbers of the play are good, some of themavery difficult to do, but the members of the cast can do them well.

NEW WELL GOOD FOR 50 BARRELS

Bailing of the Knox Finley No. 3 well on the Scott and Randale lease 10 miles east of Wichita Falls in Clay county was announced Thursday, the owners stating the well looked good for 50 barrels at 1,138 feet.

This third well of the Knox Finley interest is a second offset to the No. 1 well which was brought in the past summer and is 450 feet from the first test. The oil bailed Thursday grades 41 gravity.

To reach rich sand which was discovered at 870 feet, a spudding machine began drilling near the Finley wells Wednesday and the hole is now 50 feet deep. The operators hope to get a 20 barrel well at this shallow depth of less than 300 feet.

Real Reindeer With Barnes' Circus

Every youngster has heard of reindeer but few folks young or old ever have seen the animals so closely associated with Christmas time. Al G. Barnes, who is bringing his 4-ring wild animal circus to Wichita Falls Saturday, Oct. 13 for 2 performances, has a speaking acquaintance with Santa Claus, and according to his press agent, was successful in inducing the genial Saint to permit a herd of his favorite reindeer to travel with the Barnes circus this season. The reindeer are the only animals of their kind in the United States and will be returned to Lapland at the end of the circus season. Al G. Barnes (himself) is shown above with "Buster," the king of the herd, and a baby reindeer that never as yet has seen snow.

FAITH LODGE HAD A LADIES' NIGHT

Faith lodge, local Masonic Blue lodge, observed ladies' night Wednesday evening. More than 250 were present including the guests. A varied program was given.

Addresses were made by W. H. Caldwell and by Judge Guy Rogers. Mr. Rogers reviewed the history of Masonry of the United States and told of the work of Masons in Texas. He told of the Masonic home for boys which is at Fort Worth, of the Scottish Rite dormitory for girls at the University of Texas, Austin, and of the homes for aged Masons. He touched on the duties of blue lodge members.

Several numbers of music were given before the evening closed.

FARMERS HERE ARE STILL BUSY

Gathering of the cotton crop which is hardly half completed and breaking ground for the sowing of wheat are the main things occupying the attention of the farmers of Wichita county at the present time, according to County Agent Guy Jones.

There has been some wheat sown but not in any great amounts the county agent says. The county is in need of more rain so the farmers can more easily break ground for fall planting.

STRAND SHIFTS ITS OFFERING

"Desire" Will Displace "Rupert of Hentzau" For Last of Week

Beginning Friday "Rupert of Hentzau" will cease to be the feature picture at the Strand Theater and "Desire" will be substituted, it was announced by the Strand management Thursday.

"Rupert of Hentzau," a Myron Selznick interpretation of Anthony Hope's romance in which all the principals muff their characters amid gorgeous setting, was scheduled to run a week at the strand, but the latter part of the week will see "Desire" on that theater's screen.

An outdoor wedding was staged in Beverly Hills, California, for one of the big scenes in "Desire."

The grounds where the scene was filmed are peculiarly adapted for such a purpose. The lawn terrace, comprising one portion of the grounds, form a rectangular depression which could be likened to the interior of a church. A pulpit was set on a terrace at one end and behind it a choir and orchestra. Benches like the pews of a church were placed in a row on either side of the miniature amphitheatre, leaving a wide aisle between.

Included in the cast of "Desire," which is a Louis Burston production through Metro, are John Bowers, David Butler, Marguerite De La Motte, Estelle Taylor, Lucile Hutton, Noah Beery, Edwards Connelly, Russell Simpson, Ralph Lewis, Hank Mann, Chester Conklin and others.

"Desire" was written by John B. Clymer and Henry R. Symonds. George Barnes was the cameraman and J. J. Hughes was art director. It was directed by Rowland V. Lee.

PALACE THEATRE
MONDAY TUESDAY OCT. 15-16
MATINEE TUESDAY

Editorial in Fort Worth Record, September 12

The married will forget their troubles and the single will avoid some of them by attending a performance of "The First Year," now playing at a local theatre. For sheer, clean, unadulterated fun, shot through and through with philisophy that the married will recognize and the single even may comprehend, the play has few rivals.

Laughter, the doctor tells us, is good for man, and woman, too, from the standpoint of health. The folks who see "The First Year" ought to come away cured of all their ills. And when common sense can be driven home with laughter you have an ideal dramatic combination.

Finally, Fort Worth will not become the amusement center of the state, will not attract to it people desiring clean entertainment, unless it can have, along with its excellent motion picture attractions, and vaudeville, "road shows" of the best sort. Fort Worth is getting them right now and if it wants to keep them, and benefit from them, it must patronize them well, and now.

WEIGHT IS INDEX TO CHILD HEALTH

Miss Susuana Schnemayer of the Bureau of Extension of the University of Texas, Department of Nutrition and Health Education, is in Wichita Falls working under the auspices of the Red Cross and in co-operation with the board of education. Height and weight tests are being made of the school children in the grades. Misses Rosa Harkins and Mary Quinn, Red Cross nurses, are aiding Miss Schnemayer in the work.

"We are doing this because the weight is an index to health, and it is our aim to bring the children up to the best standards in health," said Miss Schnemayer Thursday. "A child very much under weight is not likely to be a healthy child. Unless there is some physical defect such as bad tonsils, adenoids and the like, this condition can be corrected by the proper feeding. The children will be taught what foods to eat to keep them healthy and growing."

DRAWS 60 DAYS IN THEFT CASE

A sentence of 60 days in jail and a fine of $50 and costs were imposed upon Ed Allen, negro, charged with theft by Judge Guy Rogers of the county court at law Thursday.

Allen was held in connection with alleged theft of clothing articles from a local department store a few weeks ago. Jury was waived when the case was brought to trial.
