Area ..... OIL ..... News

EASTLAND COUNTY, Gorman

Mellard and Clemens No. 1, Pete Mauney drilling at 2380.

Henshaw Brothers No. 1 Blackwell Brothers drilling at 3007 on hat is purported to be a deeper test than is usual in this area at this time.

Coast Oil Corp, No. 1, T. N. Seay drilling at 2760. A Spudder is geing used.

Burk Royalty No. 1, Bryan, 1 mile northeast of the Seay well is being drilled at 2750 at the present.

W. C. Whaley was out staking out a new locaiion for French and Gillespie in the northeast corner of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum Survey for the No. 1 McMullen. This is a further development of the southwestern area immediately out of Gorman.

J. F. Collins is on a new location out from Desdemona toward DeLeon on a Miears tract of land. Cable tools are being used, and they are drilling at present at 720. Mr. Collins is the man, if we remember rightly, who has done so much in reviving interest in the diggings in and around Desdemona especially with the Victor Wells, which are 6 or 7 miles from the present setup.

J. W. Baldwin No. 2 G. R. Sanders drilling ahead at approximate 1260 feet. No. 1 Sanders is one of the good wells in this area.

National Coop. Refining Association No. 1 C E. Watson pulling tubing, putting on pump.

National Coop. Refining Association No. 1 Albritton flowing, making 50 bbls., per day, however, Albritton No. 2 promises to be one of those things we don't talk too much about—a dry hole, so one can never tell what may be just 330 feet over.

Commercial Production No. 3, S. E. Miears waiting on permit to continue setting up new drilling operations.

Commercial Production waiting on trucks and bull dozers to move rig from J. A. Hurst to the new location.

A. W Gregg No. 1, Krel drilling ahead at 2170 after temporary shutdown for change of rig.

W. B. Johnson Drilling Co. No. 3 Arlan Watson brought in Tuesday is equally as good on tentative tests and reports as tht other two on this lease. Set surface pipe on No. 4 Arlan Watson Tuesday and are just beginning their drill operations. Will it be another good one?

Note—There are at least 12 to 16 drilling operations lighted up in the field now each and every night. These are close enough to Gorman that they can be seen from the town. Then there are those such as the Edwards, the Collins, the Henshaw on the Blackwell, and others not over 6 or 7 miles from Gorman which will give some idea of how interest is holding in this area.

Demand For Peanuts Quiet At This Time

Demand for peanuts continued slow this week in southwest markets, reports the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Light offerings of shelled No. 1 Spanish peanuts brought 16-3/4 to 17 cents per pound.

Mills were completing shelling and cleaning operations in all districts.

Peanut meal held around $78 per ton on 41 per cent protein content, but moved very slowly. Oil was slightly weaker with late quotations at low of 33½ cents after holding at 35 for several days.

Peanut crops in south Texas are badly in need of rain, according to growers.

Former South American Roommates Launch Own Oil Co. And Bring In Gusher On Former Dry Hole Site

Two young engineers working for a major oil company in Venezuela were room-mates and, one day, one of them said, "Let's go back to the United States and go into the oil business together."

And that is the reason that here are two oil wells, each rated as good for close to a thousand barrels a day, which were drilled on a lease, 15 miles northwest of Eastland.

The two friends, both of whom now live in Fort Worth, were Warren Sorrells and T. L. Tapp.

The Sorrells Oil Company was organized with J. W. Sorrells of Abilene and Fred Sorrells of Fort Worth also taking part. The former is the father and the latter is the uncle of Warren Sorrells.

A lease of 120 acres, the Raymond, was obtained in the edge of Stephens County, not far above the Eastland County line close to where four counties—the other two being Shackleford and Callahan—almost corner.

There was one drawback to the leases—at least some people have considered it a drawback and that was that there was already a dry hole on the tract.

Years before, a large oil company had drilled there and failed to get production and so, quite naturally, the area was marked off the list and oil men went elsewhere to hunt for oil.

But that dry hole didn't discourage the two young men who had become friends in the steaming tropics. They got busy and, in April, brought in a well which flowed 41 barrels an hour, which would be at the rate of not quite a thousand barrels a day.

Then they brought in another well which was almost as good.

The explanation of that early-day non-producer is believed to be that the drill found a tight formation and that was before acid was known. The first gusher of the Sorrells Oil Company was not given the acid treatment but the second well was. Both wells are producing from the Caddo.

Warren Sorrells was born in Oklahoma City and attended Texas A. & M. Tapp was born in Portville, N. Y., and attended Pitt.

The two wells are expected to cause considerable activity in that sector and are proof that oil, like gold, is "where you find it."

Do You Want To Build New Home In Eastland?

Who wants to build a home in Eastland?

That is what the Eastland Chamber of Commerce wants to know.

There are building contractors who want to come to Eastland and contract the building of homes and have taken the matter up with the Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber of Commerce, however, does not have the information as to who wants to build homes.

If you want to have a new home built and will inform the Chamber of Commerce officials of your desires, it may help in getting the construction of a number of homes started soon.

Just A Few Ifs In Brazos League

By ELMER JEANES
DeLeon Free Press

Through games played in the Brazos League the past week-end Mineral Wells and Strawn are now tied for first place and De Leon and Weatherford are deadlocked for second, with Eastland and Dublin tied for third.

But here are a few IFS in the outcome:

If DeLeon and Weatherford win their two remaining games and Mineral Wells and Strawn lose their games remaining, four teams, DeLeon, Strawn, Mineral Wells And Weatherford will be tied for first place.

But if DeLeon wins two and both Mineral Wells and Strawn lose two, then DeLeon, Mineral Wells and Strawn will be tied for first place. And if Weatherford loses only one of her remaining games she will be in second place.

However, on the other hand, if Weatherford wins two and Strawn and Mineral Wells lost two and DeLeon loses one ,then Strawn Mineral Wells and Weatherford will be tied for first place and DeLeon will be in the second slot.

But, again if DeLeon and Weatherford lose thier two remaining games and Eastland and Dublin win their two yet to play, DeLeon, Weatherford, Eastland and Dublin will be in a deadlock for second place.

That is, provided Mineral Wells wins her remaining games and Strawn loses one ,then Mineral Wells will be winner of the first and Strawn will finish second or vice versa. But IF—.

Draft-Age Boys Inquiring But Not Joining Up

By United Press

A nationdwide check today showed that draft-aged youths are dropping by National Guard, Army Navy and Marine offices to hear recruitment sales talks but thus far have not shown no great urge to sign up.

Recruiting officers said the main effect of the draft laws slow progress through Congress was to step up the number of inquiries received from youths.

But, most of them said actual enlistments have not increased noticably because of the proposed draft.

Radar To Trap Speeders

GARDEN CITY, N. Y. (UP)—Radar will be used to trap speeders in this Long Island town if tests prove successful. Police are experimenting with an electromatic speed meter—a radar device set up in a patrol car. The machine bounces radar waves off passing automobiles ad records their speed on a graph.

Willy Willys Is To Be Eastland Servel Dealer

Lone Star Gas Company has announced the appointment of the Willy Willys Furniture Mart, 305 South Seaman, as its local dealer in Eastland for the Servel gas refrigerator, according to M. O. Chapman, district manager for the gas company. The appointment is in line with Lone Star's dealer assistance proram which is available to stores handling standard lines of gas appliances, Mr. Chapman said.

Official recognition of the sales appointment for the gas refrigerator will be made at an open house at the Furniture Mart on Friday, June 25, starting at 9 o'clock in the morning and continuing until 5 o'clock. Servel gas refrigerators and CP as ranges will be connected to as lines for demonstrations to be given by Mrs. Clyde Stephenson and Miss Martha Ritter, Lone Star Gas Company home economics. The public is invited and refreshments will be served.

The Servel gas refrigerator features a large compartment for storing frozen foods and its simple freeging system contains no moving parts. A tiny gas flame circulates the refrigerant in the Servel noise-free freezing system. The gas refrigerator also has facilities for plenty of ice cubes in trigger-release trays, moist cold and dry cold for fresh foods, a convenient meat storage tray, dew-action vegetable fresheners, a handy egg tray, and flexible interior arrangement with sliding shelves adjustable to eleven different positions. Plastic coating on selves keeps them rust-free, scratch-free and easy to clean.

The CP gas range to be demonstarted are designed to permit actual cooking of a complete meal while the housewife is "miles away." This is the result of automatic heat controls and sixteen other requirements that must be met by a manufacturer before a range may bear the CP seal of approval. These features afford the housewife "extra hours" in which to pursue out-of-the-kitchen responsibilities at the same time she can produce hot, tasty and healthful meals for her family. The housewife may set the temperture controls, place her complete meal in the oven, go shopping or perform other chores, and when she returns to her kitchen she finds a meal ready to serve.

Gas appliance stores qualifying under Lone Star Gas Company's dealer sales assistance program receive aid in advertising, selling, financing, engineering and installation of all standard gas appliances. Facilities of the gas company's home economics department are also available to dealers cooperating with the plan.

Schuman Gets Prompt Peace In South France

PARIS, June 17 (UP)— Premier Robert Schuman's prompt retort to a Communist labor challenge brought a truce to riot torn Clermont-Ferrand today and appeared to have checked an incipient strike wave in south France.

Reports from the south indicated that about 50,000 workers were out in sympathy with the Clermont-Ferrand strikers. But the call of the Communist-laden labor confederation for a sweeping stoppage had fallen short, and the general trend was back to work.

Temperance Is O. K. But $500 Is $500

ROCKFORD, Ill. (UP)—An alderman's temperance lecture failed to change the minds of his fellow councilmen.

Lewis B. Lundberg, who says he never has taken a drink, spoke at some length against giving a dancing permit to a tavern.

"Women, whiskey and gasoline don't mix," he concluded.

The vote was 15 to 4 in favor of giving the tavern the license—for $500.

CONGRESS OVERRIDES RAILROAD BILL VETO; MAKES HISTORY

WASHINGTON — An angry Congress today handed President Truman his third legislative defeat in four days by overriding another veto.

This time, it enacted the Reed-Bulwinkle Railroad Rate Bill into law over the President's objections — and it made history in doing so.

Available records showed that this was the first time in history that three Presidential vetoes on major bills have been overridden in one week.

Todays coup de grace was delivered by the House which overrode the veto of the Reed-Bulwinkle Bill by a 297 to 102 vote—31 votes more than necessary. The Senate yesterday voted 63 to 25 to override. Earlier this week, Congress overrode vetoes of a big appropriation bill and a measure eliminating salesmen from social security protection.

Sixty-nine democrats joined 228 Republicans in voting to override Mr. Truman's veto. Four republicans, 96 democrats and those of cans, 96 democrats and the two American Labor Party members voted to sustain the President.

These rebuffs were, in part, the Congressional answer to Mr. Truman's indictment of the present Congress as the "second worst" in history.

With a Saturday adjournment still the goal, the House continued to consider changes in the much-amended draft bill. It also prepared to receive a revised housing bill.

Meanwhile, the Senate dragged into another day of debate on its long-range farm program. But Senate Republican whip Kenneth S. Wherry said there was no doubt Conress would finish Saturday.

House Democratic leader Sam Rayburn announced he would go along with the Republican leadership in its effort to adjorn Congress by Saturday night. House Republicans gave him a big hand, but the GOP applause stopped quickly when Rayburn added:

"I think its a good thing for the country to adjourn the Republican Congress at any time."

The House Bank Committee made a fresh start on housing legislation. It approved, 15 to 11, a bill stripped of the controversial public housing and slum-clearance provisions of the Senate-approved Taft-Ellender-Wagner Bill. House GOP leaders hoped to bring up the revised bill under suspension of rules. A two-thirds affirmative vote then will be necessary to pass it.

Aboard Truman Train — President Truman offered his record to the approval of the voters in a rear platform talk at Sedalia, Mo., today and told 4,500 listeners "If you don't like a president you can always kick him out."

In a four-minute speech, Mr. Truman told of his battle against high prices and laid another lash on congress in the process.

He said this congress had "done a grand job to the people, certainly not for them."

SOVIETS MAY TRY REVIVING COUNCIL

BERLIN, June 17, (UP)— The Russians played down their angry walkout on a Kommandatura meeting today and put out a feeler on the chances for reviving the long dormant Allied Control Council.

Just as the last of the four-power setup in Germany looked to be falling apart, the Soviets showed signs of wanting to carry on.

Four-power committees of the Kommandatura, the joint commission for the administration of Berlin, were functioning normally today. The Soviet delegation stamped out of a Kommandatura meeting last night, shouting that there wouldn't be another meeting. They were miffed at the departure of Col. Frank Howley, the U. S. delegate, after informing the chairman that his deputy would take over.

McDonald Says Indictment Is Just Politics

WASHINGTON, June 17, (UP)—The Texas and Georgia state agriculture commissioners today denied government charges of illegal lobbying and intimated that they were the result of politics.

Commissioners J. E. McDonald of Texas and Tom Linder of Georgia maintained they were only doing their job in trying to get the highest prices possible for farmers in their respective states.

They were indicted here yesterday, along with a New York cotton broker, a Washington commodity trader and two farm organizations, on charges of violating the lobbying law by failing to register as lobbyists. The Federal grand jury indictment said they lobbied in behalf of legislation that would boost commodity prices for their own gain.

In Dallas, McDonald dismissed the indictment as "just politics."

Service Clubs To Meet Jointly Monday, June 21

The Eastland Rotary and Lions clubs will meet jointly next week. The meeting will be held Monday at noon at the regular meeting place of the Lions—the basement of the First Methodist Church.

On the program for the joint meeting will be a representative of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company who will bring a special program on "Communications."

Fred Brown and Maburn Harris were "pinch hitters" on the Rotary club program Monday since the members having the program for that day was unable to be present.

At the Lions club Mr. Perry of the Eastland County Vocational school explained to the members present some of the problems of the school was experiencing in getting set ups on the school for July 1, approved. One of the problems was that of seweage for the several houses recently erected on lots in the western part of town.

South Has Voice In GOP Civil Rights Plank

PHILADELPHIA, June 17, (UP)—The deep south today demanded—and got—a voice in writing the Civil Rights plank for the Republican Party's campaign platform.

It was the only sign of friction as GOP leaders began framing the declaration of principles on which they hope to capture the Presidency this year, and it was expected to be settled amicably.

The demand for deep South representation in the drafting of a party declaration or suc hissues as poll taxes, lynching and racial discrimination was raised by Orville Bullington, Wichita Falls, Texas. He presented the demand at the first meeting of the GOP's informal pre-convention resolutions committee.

U. S. Education Nearing Disaster Observer Finds

NEW YORK (UP) — Edward Alvey, Jr., dean of Mary Washington College, says the nation's education system is heading for disaster.

Alvey, in an article written for the new Encyclopedia Americana Annual, said the current crisis in our schools, caused by the shortage of teachers and lack of facilities, is going to get progressively worse.

Alvey finds that an increase of more than 30 per cent in children of elementary school ages is expected for the 10 year period of 1942 to 1952.

"Such a trend has obvious implications for elementary and secondary school enrollments," Alvey said. "Already the effects of the increasing birthrate are being felt in the lower grades of the elementary schools."

Alvey estimated that there will be nearly 3,000,00 six-year-olds by 1952, an increase of about 1,000,000 in 10 years.

"This will only serve to aggravate an already dangerous shortage of qualified teachers," Alvey said. He estimated that at least 35,000 trained teachers left the profession during the last five years.

"At present,' Alvey said, "there are more than 100,000 teachers working with 'emergency certificates' because they lack the minimum teacher qualifications."

Alvey added that since 1942 the average collegiate preparation of teachers had dropped approximately one year.

The dean said the major cause of the teacher shortage was low pay scales.

Alvey finds the outlook "in the higher education plants continues to be grimley tight." The enrollment in colleges and universities would be redoubled next year and re-doubled the year after.

"By 1950 the enrollment in colleges and universities is expected to reach a record 3,300,000," Alvey said. "Thus, we must drastically intensify our efforts in order to save our educational system from disaster.

Experts Guess Both Ways On Louis-Walcott Outcome

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—There are two schools of thought on the return match between Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Walcott at Yankee Stadium, June 23.

The sides are as far apart as they were at the end of 15 rounds last Dec. 5, when the long-time Brown Bomber retained the championship on the votes of the judges.

Referee Ruby Goldstein, the lone practical boxing man among the officials, gave the decision to the Great Father of Camden.

The difference of opinion is what made the second edition possible, of course, and brings them back as a stickout attraction.

One group holds that if Walcott couldn't beat Louis in the condition and mental attitude in which he caught him the first trip, his chances aren't enhanced now that Smoky Joe has his mind on his work and lost prestige to regain.

The other contends Louis can't get in any better shape than he was the last time out, and that Walcott will outmaneuver him with vastly more confidence.

ONE thing is certain, Walcott has the superior sparring partners, and will sidle through the hemp much better trained.

Walcott has been boxing for eight weeks at Grenloch Park, 10 miles below his old home town of Camden.

The hungry fighter, Jersey Joe listens to his handlers, Felix Bocchicchio and Joe Webster, and trainers, Dan Florio and Joey Allen, the latter the former Camden feather and lightweight.

Walcott tackles highly capable sparring mates in Curtis Shepherd and Austin Johnson, an ambitious one in Billy Norris and middleweight Cliff Dyes for speed.

In December of 1946, Baltimore people sought to match Shepherd with Louis. The Hatchet Man has more than 30 knockouts of his own. The six-foot two-inch Johnson flattened one-third of his rivals, claims he was shortchanged when he dropped a split decision to Walcott in Camden three years ago.

Louis practically has managed and trained himself since Jack Blackburn died, misses the scar-faced old lightweight more than ever now He started boxing much too late.

Watching the show at Pompton Lakes, you quickly gather that Louis runs the works himself, even to acting as a moderator with a judicial air in post-work discussion among the camp personnel.

Louis' sparring partners are of little consequence.

The best of those working with Louis is Richard Hagan, out of the amateur ranks only long enough to have 15 professional fights. McKinley English, Johnny Hubbard and Tiger Roy Taylor—ever hear of them?—give the titleholder little more than exercise.

"You don't hit papa" seems to be the over-all idea, and that's bad, for—

Jersey Joe Walcott will hit papa—and quickly.

Claims Half Century As Woman Driver

LOS ANGELES, (UP)—Mrs. Jessica P. Merville has evidence to back up her claim of having driven longer than any other woman.

The 69-year-old former antique dealer doesn't claim to be the oldest driver, but she can prove that she has been driving since 1898.

She has photographs showing that her father's first car, an 1898 one-cylinder Winton, was the first one in Mt. Morris, N. Y., and one of the first three seen in Buffalo. She has pictures to prove that she drove it too.

Bangs Corners Bug Barometer Hits

BANGS CORNERS, O. (UP)—The 17-year locusts are due soon in the northeastern states. According to a local nurserywoman, they will foretell whether we will have peace or war, which of us will die within the year and will usher in the greatest year for chicken raisers since 1931.

Miss Eunice Merton, Richfield Township nurserywoman, has a wide reputation as the Bangs Corners Bug Barometer.

"If the markings on their green laced wings make a big black W, the superstition says we will have war," she said.

Old-timers locally remember the W as being big and black in 1897 for the war with Spain and again in 1914 for World War I. It was faint and small, to be sure, in 1931, Miss Merton said, for the war in Manchuria which heraled the last great war.

The superstition that a person stung by a locust will die within the year is just that, Miss Merton said, since locusts "can't sting or bite but just look ferocious."

On the subject of chickens, Miss Merton cited 1931 when grain lay untouched in feeders while the fowl would knock each other down to get at the "lovely fat locusts."

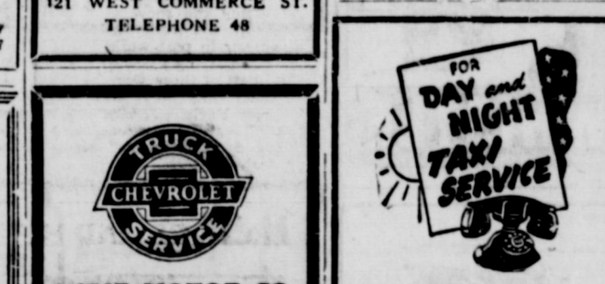

Actually, the soon-due locusts aren't locusts at all, she said, but cicadae, an American bug, emerging in this brood only in northeastern U. S. this year.

Arctic Short Cut Takes Civilization To Top Of World

WASHINGTON (UP)— The "Arctic short cut" to Sibera and northern Europe may become well populated some day.

"Man's gradual extension of settlements into the Arctic," the National Geographic Society reports, "is blowing the warm breath of civilization deeper and deeper into the frozen northern frontier".

The report noted that two new weather stations to be set up by Canadian and U. S. meteorologists at Prince Patrick and Ellef Ringnes Islands "lie within 850 and 750 miles, respectively, of the North Pole."

"One of the many land fragments reaching beyond Canada's mainland, Ellef Ringnes, the nearest of the islands, is about 2,650 airline miles northwest of New York City," the report said.

"Looking across the Arctic short cut toward Sibera and the northern coast of Europe, the island is 2,700 miles from Leningrad, 2,900 miles from London.

Prince Patrick and Ellef Ringnes are part of Canada's vast mainland and island region known as the Northwest Territories. They are in a part of the world once written off as too remote and lacking in natural wealth for any use.

"Today," the National Geographic said, "it (the region) is taking on increasing sibnificance as a result of the discoverp of its potentially rich mineral resources and the far-fetching global developments of air transport."

This county and Canada already have set up weather stations at Ellesmere, Cornwallis, Melville, and Devon, islands of a group which covers an area of more than 500,000 square miles.

Most of the islands are inhabited only by occasional bands of musk oxen, sea birds, seals, and walruses. Days and nights are gets as low as 40 degrees and more below zero.

After the long winters, spring bursts suddenly, bringing luxuriant spreads of wildflowers, dandelions, and poppies. Streams flow brisgly, if briefly, and flocks of migrating birds fill the air.

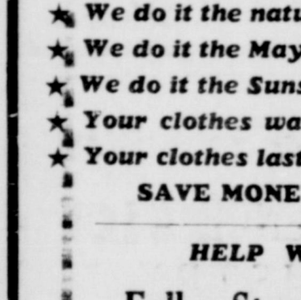

The men who volunteers for year - long assignments at the weather stations depend for their entertainment on books and music. Phonograph records are prized. Airmail arrives once a month.

Way Found To Keep Lard Foods Fresh

CHICAGO (UP) — A new chemical which keeps foods such as pastries and potato chips fresh up to 50 times as long as when no preservative is used has been developed at the University of Chicago.

The product, discovered by the American Meat Institute foundation at the university, helps to preserve all products made with lard and other animal fats.

The foundation says the product is inexpensive, easy to add to lard and requires no special equipment.

No OPA Troube Here

FLORENCE, Ill (UP) — There never will be any trouble in Florence about OPA rent ceilings. A survey of the fishing town of 150, just 75 miles north of St. Louis, showed that every citizen owns his own home.

Dorothy's Dream Boat Springs a Leak

The fact that he already has a wife and does not have much cash doesn't seem to bother Danny Wicker, Daytona Beach, Fla., tavernkeeper and high bidder for the $10,000 want-ad fiancee, Dorothy Lawlor of Hempstead, N. Y., as they prepare to shove off on a one-day, get-acquainted cruise aboard the newly-christened boat, "Dorothy Lawlor." They were chaperoned on the trip by the owner of the boat and his wife.

Cow Tail Secret Comes To Light

LURAY, Va. (UP) — After nearly a century, it has been learned why a distinguished Cavalier lawyer and once consul to Italy spent his spare time traveling up and down the Shenandoah Valley buying cow tails.

The diary of the Hon. John M. McPherson, state senator, was found when an old building was razed here.

In it were such notations as: "This day, May 3, 1847, I paid William Patton 18 cents for 24 cow tails at 3-4 of a cent each."

The notations only confirmed the reports that had been handed down for years—that the esteemed senator traveled the valley on horseback, transacting secretive deals with certain farmers. It was rumored that he bought cow tails.

An entry, faded and almost illegible, in 1848 said: "This day I sold to the sheriff of Shenandoah County — Jeb Sheetz — one of my cow tails for 80 cents."

In another place he made reference to profit made by a certain section of the code of Virginia, and the mystery came to light.

The section provided for sheriffs to lash the bare backs of wife-beaters and habitual rogues with a "well-tanned cow tail."

Lashing of prisoners in Virginia was prohibited several years ago.

Teen-Agers Get Practical Idea Of Government

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—An experiment in familiarzing youngsters with county government, the first of its kind, is being tried in Nebraska.

Sponsoring American Legion officials said the test of the "corn-husker boys' and girls' county government" in six counties this spring was so enthusiastically received that the activity will be expanded.

Under the plan, high school juniors were eligible to run for every county office. Teachers, office holders, attorneys and civic leaders briefed them first with an intensified course on the purpose of each job, and then the fun began.

"Nationalist" and "Federalist" parties were created, and candidates began their primary election campaigns. Party conventions developed platforms which caught even the oldsters' attention.

At Wayne, both parties endorsed a well, sunk on the municipal golf course for the recreation area. County commissioners appropriated $2,000 for the purpose, and the well now is in operation.

The 11th grade youngsters made up their own campaign posters and devised eye-catching slogans to win their schoolmates' political procedure to the party caucuses and general elections which decided the winners from each school, to hold office for a day.

Roy Lang, deputy adjutant general for the Nebraska Legion, said county officials allowed their junior counterparts to handle as much of the actual work as possible. At Fremont they accompanied the sheriff on an arrest, and at Alliance they helped buy and serve the prisoners' food. Mock trials were held with the aid of county bar associations, and routine work in every office was handed over to the teen-agers.

Each then was required to report fully to the Legion and in school assemblies.

Lang estimated 3,323 students of 39 high schools took part in the elections, with 414 holding office. The entire program, including a text book to be pubilshed for use next fall, cost the Legion about $5,000, he said.

Dentist Deprecates Bad Tooth Theory

CLEVELAND (UP)—Dentists attending a meeting of the Cleveland Dental Society were told to look for neurosis in a patient who complains of a "bad tooth" as the source of aches and pains throughout his body.

The advice was given by Dr. Edward O. Harper, assistant professor of psychiatry at Western Research University.

He said the dentist should suspect neurosis or some form of psychosomatic illness when the patient's complaints are entirely out of harmony with conditions as they exist in the mouth.

"There was a time when the focus-of-infection theory held a position of importance as a cause of all maladies," Dr. Harper said. "Followers of the theory often advised the pulling of teeth."

The doctor added that "many perfectly good teeth have been sacrificed at the altar of the focus-of-infection theory."

MARKETING with Marjorie

Between graduations, engagements and weddings, June is one of the most "entertaining" months in the year. So today I'm going to give you a few suggestions to help you give everyday fare a party air.

PRE-WEDDING RING

Giving a luncheon in honor of a bride-to-be? Then I can't think of a more appropriate main course than a rice ring filled with chicken a la king...or a better way to make one than with SUNNYFIELD RICE. This fine rice from the A&P cooks up as white as a wedding gown and as light as a honeymooner's heart. For a perfect union, combine 4 cups (cooked) with one of these: ¼ cup minced parsley, 1 cup cooked peas or ½ cup sliced mushrooms.

POST-WEDDING CAKE

When you're entertaining newlyweds who are still up in the clouds, make them feel at home by serving cloud-light JANE PARKER ANGEL FOOD RING! This heavenly cake is so luscious they'll think it's fresh from your own oven . . . instead of A&P's. But if you want to add a personal touch, cover the top and sides with the fluffy frosting I'm going to give you the recipe for right now.

ENTICING ICING

Boil ½ cup A&P's ANN PAGE SYRUP until small amount dropped in cold water forms a soft ball (238° F.). Gradually pour hot syrup over 1 stiffly beaten egg white, beating constantly. Beat until of spreading consistency, and add 1 tsp. A&P's ANN PAGE VANILLA EXTRACT.

IN THE PINK

Is your guest of honor a sweet girl graduate? Serve a salad that looks as rosy as her future! To make it, pare a whole honeydew melon, cut a slice from end, remove seeds, and scoop out center portion. Fill cavity with A&P's SPARKLE STRAWBERRY GELATIN prepared according to package directions, and chill till gelatin is firm. Soften 6 ounces of cream cheese slightly with milk, add a few drops of red vegetable coloring, and frost entire outside of melon. Stud with strawberry halves, slice and serve on greens.

ALLies Marooned By Soviet Block Of Berlin Area

By Wellington Long
United Press Staff Correspondent

BERLIN (UP)— Thirty thousand British, French and Americans have been marooned on this political island in the center of the Russian-occupied zones ever since the "Berlin squeeze" started weeks ago.

Airplanes offer one of the two ways into and out of this island city, by flying along a sharply defined air corridor over the Russian zone. The alternative is driving 110 miles through the Russian zone along an international highway blocked at either end by Soviet border guards.

Even allied freight must be flown out of the city. Military freight trains still enter, but only from western Germany.

Twin-engined C-47s have been doing a work-horse job ever since the Russians restricted rail traffic on April 1. Equipped with uncomfortable bucket seats, the planes averaged 23 round trips daily during April between Frankfurt and Berlin.

In the one-month period the planes brought in 654,989 pounds of freight, including food and took out 1,229,055 pounds, including furniture of American families.

Allied drivers pass through the Soviet zone regularly, providing they carry the proper military credentials. But they are not allowed to turn off the highway and they are warned to keep their vehicles in good working condition.

About two months ago the Russians ordered American and British repair stations along the route torn down. Now allied cars carry extra supplies of gasoline, tires and other spare parts. Furthermore, they have orders to help all non-Russian vehicles that have broken down inside the Soviet zone.

Besides travel, the Russians also control electric power for Berlin. By the flick of a switch they could black-out the four-power city completely from a power station inside the Soviet zone.

Now, as if in anticipation of such a move, the western Allies are speeding construction of a $400,000 power plant in the British section of the city.

The Soviet power supply, incidentally, furnishes electricity for DIAS, the powerful American-operated German language radio station in Berlin.

Despite the Soviet squeeze play, life in Berlin goes on noramlly, from outward appearances at least. Both German and American telegraph and telephone communications between Berlin and western Germany still operate efficiently.

German freight trains arrive daily and uninspected, the majority from western Germany They carry American food imports which feed two-thirds of Berlin's 3,500,000 population.

The city's Americans, French and British are sitting tight. The American military governor, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, recently offered a free airplane ride home to any American civilian who wanted to leave Berlin. Only 23 out of 2,028 civilian employes took him up.

Dope Makes a Holiday

Shanghai police hop right on the job of celebrating Opium Suppression Day with a big bonfire of opium, poppy husks, opium pipes, lamps and boxes. A large crowd of Chinese gather in Bund Park to get a whiff and watch the proceedings. Similar ceremonies are held in every city in China.

Oomph!

Joe Louis catches a medicine ball in the midriff at Pompton Lakes, N. J., and it's hard work. Note the lines in the champion's face as he gets down to the more serious end of training for his return match with Jersey Joe Walcott at Yankee Stadium, June 23.

Foreign Students Invited To U. S.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UP) — A chance conversation on a subway car started a student project that is bringing 70 foreign students to attend Massachusetts Institute of Technology this summer.

The students were invited from 17 European countries and include representatives of states behind the "Iron Curtain."

Earl W. Sames, Jr., and Lloyd A. Haynes were returning from Boston to Cambridge when their conversation turned to the postwar troubles in Europe. Both had been in Europe during the war.

As a means of contributing to Europe's recovery and to aid world peace, they decided that it would be a wonderful thing to invite foreign students to study at M.I.T.

Other students, then the school itself and the U. S. State department took up the project. Fraternities offered to house the visitors and M.I.T, agreed to waive tuition.

Several thousand graduate students of science and engineering applied for the 70 vacancies. Allocations were made on the basis of war damage to the coutries and no questions as to race, religion or politics were asked.

COMMUNISTS PUSH DRIVE TO TAKE OVER FAR EAST

By Arthur M. Goul
United Press Staff Correspondent

SHANGHAI (UP) — Communists are working hard in all countries of the Far East to consolidate their aims before American aid can be used to halt Chinese Communism.

Information from several authentic sources suggests that if Communism in the Far East achieves its ultimate goal, it would aim not only to subjugate China but would build a ring around American possessions and interests from Bering Strait to the Philippines.

To that end the Communists are active in Korea, Manchuria, China, Indo-China, Hongkong, Malaya, Burma, Siam, India and the Philippines.

Americans in Shanghai, as well as Chinese and Dutch sources, warn that China is the keystone.

United States aid to China, they agree, is the last chance to halt Communism's march across the Orient.

Once China were subjugated to Communism, they argue that the other pieces of the pattern soon would fall into place. Not only the United States, but France, Great Britain and the Netherlands, along with the newly-created governments of India, Pakistan and Burma, would be affected.

In most all areas of continental Asia and in the South Sea and the Philippines, Chinese Communists are among the leaders in organizational work, according to documents whch detail their activities.

Chinese Communists are particularly actve in the Philippines, Indo-China, Burma and Hongkong.

In the Philippines, their organigation has evolved from the "Chinese Detachment" which fought against the Japanese. Then it became the "Resistance Army," and finally the "Great Democratic League," now forced into the underground by Filipino authorities.

In Indo-China, the two leading Red organizations are the Indo-China Liberation League and the Chinese Democratic League.

In Indonesia, the Chinese Communists are a full-fledged party, with offshoots in the form of the Workers Party, which they are seeking to weld into an amalgamated Leftist Front Party.

In Burma they operate as the Burmese Marxist League, the Free League, the Socialist Party and the People's Volunteer Group.

In Siam, the South China Bureau has a base of operations. About half the Burmese Communists are local Chinese residents.

There are two major Red organizations in Malaya. One acts openly as the "Whites," and the other, a secret organization, calls itself the "Red" Communists. The dominating influence in Halaya likewise is Chinese.

The seeds for the Red program in Indila and Pakistan were sown in the recent Far East youth conference held in Calcutta. The Chinese Communist radio made no secret of its support of the conference. Daily, its broadcasts to the world were concerned with the progress, aims and purposes of the conference.

In Hongkong, the Communist South China League had its headquarters. Most of the Communist political and propaganda strategy for Malaya, Burma, Siam and the other South Pcific reas is mapped in Hongkong and distributed from there.

The evidence of Communist activity from the Arctic Circle to below the equator has been brought up to date, and through reports from one city after another runs the thread of Chinese Communist domination and leadership.

It is this tie, qualified sources point out, that links the problem of American aid to China with the puzzle of how to contain Communism in the rest of the world.

A study of these reports, they say, will reveal the position in which the United States wouuld find itself if Red encirclement is completed. Only isolated outposts of the Western Allies would remain—in South Korea, Japan, Guam, Okinawa and the Ryukyus, all securely contained within the prongs of the Communist arc.
