January Month For Annual School Census

January is the month to take the annual school census, B. W. Beaird, county superintendent, reminded this week as he announced the census takers for the four districts.

Mrs. George Jones will take the census in the Wellington district; Mrs. Sammy Motsenbocker at Samnorwood; Herman Moseley at Quail; and Wendell Morgan at Samnorwood.

"Every parent is urged to see that their children are on the census roll," Beaird declared. "$78.00 per capita money comes to the district for each child enrolled. Most commonly overlooked are those children from families with six-year-olds. Parents with beginners should make a point to see that their child is enrolled."

Extend Emergency Grazing Time on Acreage Reserve

The ASC county office has been notified that the Secretary of Agriculture has extended the time through January 31, 1957 for emergency grazing of acreage reserve land now under agreement of the 1957 winter wheat contract as well as any acreage to be placed under 1957 acreage reserve agreements for cotton. However, this authorization for grazing does not apply to the land covered by a conservation reserve contract, (long term contract). Farmers should bear in mind that any grazing of land under the conservation reserve contract will be considered a violation and will be reason for imposing the civil penalty of the Soil Bank regulations.

Farmers who have signed conservation reserve contracts as well as acreage reserve agreements on 1957 wheat, must have the designated land, which is covered by the contract, staked in such a manner that the Field Reporters can measure and plot these fields on the aerial photograph without difficulty. Some farmers have not had their designated conservation acreage reserve staked before the reporter visited the farm to measure the land. This acreage cannot be changed after it is once measured and plotted on the aerial map. Therefore, it is necessary for it to be definitely identified on the ground as well as on the aerial map since any variation at a later date when compliance is checked might cause the farm to be out of compliance with the permitted base acreage.

First Christian Church Plans 1957 Activities

The Bible School classes of the First Christian Church have been divided into three teams, "We Willers"; "We Canners", and "We Musters" in an effort to have seventy-five in Bible School according to their Minister J. M. Bucklew.

The team having the most in Bible school the next three Sundays will be honored, and if any team has seventy-five they will have their pictures taken and sent for publication to a national Bible school magazine "The Lookout", he explained.

The officers of the Church approved their minister's plans for 1957. Starting the first Sunday in February and lasting until Easter, April 21, the Bible School will be involved in "Operations 1,000" trying to have 1,000 in Bible school during this time.

The Church will have an all-Bible school—all-Church Birthday Party in February with other all-Bible school — all-Church affairs throughout he year. The officers approved Pre-Easter Revival from April 14 to 21. Following Easter the Church will undertake a "100 or Bust" affair until Pentecost June 9. Special Pentecost services will be held June 9.

In July and August the Bible school will enter a National Bible School Contest with the idea of winning in their division.

"A Christian invitation is extended to all people of the community to attend the services of the First Christian Church, Minister Bucklew said.

Bank Assets Over Six and Half Million Dollars as Year Opens

Collingsworth county's four banks start the new year with resources of more than six and a half million dollars, and deposits that pass the $5,800,000 mark, reports of condition as of December 31, 1956 reveal.

These figures are not much under the assets and deposits of a year ago, although the county has taken another year of severe drouth.

Reports of the county's four banks reveal a total resource figure of $6,538,505.59, while deposits stand at $5,846,108.45. Of the latter, $5,040,389.10 is in demand ships and corporations. The deposits of states, the county, school districs, cities and other public funds make up the remainder.

Loans and discounts have dropped sharply from a year ago, now totaling $2,428,888.60, a million and a half dollars below last year's total of $3,731,841.44.

The total capital accounts of the four banks totals $619,732. Of this, capital stocks accounts for $225,000; Surplus for $225,000; Reserves and retirement account for preferred stock $50,000; and undivided profits for $119,732.

A year ago assets were $6,932,836.28; deposits $6,326,202.30; and undivided profits $102,870.10.

District Event

Golden Gloves Meet Opens Here Jan. 16

The Wellington District's second annual Golden Gloves tournament will begin in Wellington Thursday night, January 17, and will continue for either two or three nights until a champion is named for all divisions, Judge R. L. Templeton announced this week.

The tournament is sponsored by the American Legion, with the Chamber of Commerce helping with arrangements.

Winners in the event will participate in the regional Golden Gloves event in Amarillo, and from there the next step is state competition, Judge Templeton said.

There will be three divisions, novice, high school and open. Weights will begin at 50 pounds and go up to heavyweight.

All fights will be held in the community building beginning at 7:30 each night. The number of entries will determine if there are two or three nights of Golden Gloves fights, Judge Templeton said.

There is no indication as yet how many boys will be entered.

Looking over Wellington's prospects, Judge Templeton said he plans to have 11 boys entered, and five of these are Golden Gloves champions from last year.

These include Jerry Williams, who fought in the 65 pound class; James Branch, 80 pounds; Clifton Gibbs, 118; J. C. Saunders, 75, and Robert Carter.

"I'm expecting at least half a dozen winners this time," the Judge declared.

W. A. Bennett, School, Farm Leader, Dies

W. A. Bennett, 76, retired farm and school leader of Collingsworth county, died at his home in Wellington Sunday morning, January 6. He had suffered from a heart ailment several years. The Lutie community was his home for more than 40 years, but upon retiring from farming, he and Mrs. Bennett moved to Wellington and made their home at 1002 Childress Street. He had lived in the county 51 years.

Some of his finest work was done in the field of school organizations. Mr. Bennett helped to organize the school in the Lutie community, and was instrumental in its development into one of the outstanding rural schools of the county. When these small rural schools could no longer serve the needs of their communities, Mr. Bennett was one of the group that helped with the organization of the Samnorwood district, twenty years ago. He also served for many years as a member of the county school board.

He was an early worker for soil conservation and was for many years associated with the government farm program.

A member of the Baptist Church since he was 17 years of age, Mr. Bennett helped to build the church at New Hope and later at Lutie. His membership was in the latter church.

Mr. Bennett was born December 5, -880 in Ripley county Missouri, the son of H. C. and Lucy Larry Bennett.

He was married to Miss Catherine Boone in Mill Creek, Oklahoma, November 20, 1903, and two years later they came to this area.

Seek Dam on Buck Creek For Irrigation, Recreation

A dam will be sought across Buck Creek west of Wellington to impound water for irrigation, soil conservation and flood control, and for recreation and preservation of wildlife, County Judge R. L. Templeton announced Monday, January 7.

The application will be made under the Small Reclamation Projects Act of 1956, signed by President Eisenhower August 6, 1956, and administered by the Department of Interior.

Judge Templeton will meet with directors of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday night at 7 p. m. to place the project before that group and ask that organization to help in securing the dam.

He explained that the proposed dam, to be located some 8 or 9 miles west of Wellington, would impound about half as much water as the dam across Salt Fork sought by the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority.

It would have a capacity of 55,000 acre feet of water and the drainage area would cover 300,000 acres in Donley, Hall and Collingsworth counties.

The lake would provide irrigation for a maximum of 10,000 acres along Buck Creek below the dam, and in the area from Wellington southeast toward Dodson. Because of the location, this would be gravity flow irrigation and expensive pumping equipment would not be needed, Judge Templeton pointed out.

Financing a dam of this type under the Small Reclamation Projects Act of 1955 differs from other dams proposed here. According to information received Saturday by Judge Templeton, the federal government will make an outright gift or grant of that part of the construction cost that can be attributed to fish and wildlife benefits. It will also make an outright grant of that part of the cost attributed to flood control and soil conservation.

On that part of the dam cost that will be attributed to irrigation, the government will loan money. The portion of the irrigation cost that can be marked up to farms of less than 160 acres, the loan will be interest-free. On that part that will provide irrigation for farms of more than 160 acres, the interest will be three per cent, the judge explained.

There must be a local sponsor, probably in the form of a water district of some sort. The local cost of the dam is limited to 25 per cent or less, and this must include the cost of land and water rights.

There are several ways of financing the local sponsor's part, Judge Templeton explained. One of these

1956 Postal Receipts Up To $31,182

Mailing of sorghum almum seed from the Wellington Post Office during the fall months enabled the office to remain in the top bracket of the second class category, rather than dropping to the one below, R. T. Savage revealed this week when he announced the year's postal receipts. The total 1956 receipts amounted to $31,182, Savage said. This is only about $500 below the receipts of 1955, when $31,679 was recorded.

"Receipts the first six months of the year were off a little more than $1,000, but the fall was better than the fall of 1955, which brought the receipts up until they were off only about $500.

"This was due to the sorghum almum grass seed business," the postmaster declared.

First class volume was as good if not better than first class business of 1955, but it was the outgoing parcel post business that had dropped, Savage explained.

The Wellington Rockets and Rockettes will open district play next week with two home games, Coach E. W. Clement reported this week. The teams will meet Shamrock here Tuesday, January 15, and Quanah Friday night, January 18.

District play this year will be a double round robin, with each team meeting all other teams twice, once at home and once away from home. There will be no district tournament at the end of the season, Clement said.

The Rockets have met Quanah Indians once in non-district play, when Wellington won 64 to 34 in the Childress tournament. The Rockettes have not played Quanah girls.

"The boys haven't played Shamrock, but they are definitely better than last year," Clement commented. "Our girls beat Shamrock girls 61 to 36, but their outstanding post forward was not in the game."

In non-district play, the Rockets have won 17 games and lost only two, while the Rockettes have won 17 and lost 4.

Youth Injured on First Day in Quail School

By Mrs. G. T. Stephens

Garland Boyce, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Boyce, was hit on the forehead, almost directly between the eyes, with a baseball bat while playing at Quail school recently.

He was rushed to the Wellington Clinic immediately, where doctors found it necessary to take four stitches to close the gash.

The Boyce family have recently moved into the Quail community and this was Garland's first day to attend school here. He had attended school at Eldorado, Oklahoma, previously.

AUSTIN, Tex. — Austin is in its every-other-January whirl. Inaugural festivities on the 15th will climax two wweeks of fanfar traditional to the premiere of a new state administration.

Stepped-up tempo in the Capitol began New Year's Day when scores of new officials took the oath o office. It redoubled this week as gavels banged in another Legislature.

Next week thousands more will arrive to "dance in the new governor." Their 1957 inaugural invitations are unusually elaborate — gold-embossed and purple tassled.

Other arrangements are similarly lavish. An hour-long parade will precede the high noon swearing-in ceremony in front of the Capitol. In the afternoon there'll be a band concert, then a reception at the Capiol. That evening Gov. and Mrs. Price Daniel and Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Ben Ramsey will lead the grand march of state officials and their wives at the chief inaugural ball at Gregory Gymnasium. From there the official party will make a round of the four other balls over town.

Citizens of Austin pick up the check for this biannual spree. Estimated cost this year: $15,000.

NEW LAND BOARD — Land Commr. Earl Rudder begins his first elective term with a re-organized board.

Sworn in with Rudder were William Gossett, El Campo banker, and L. E. Page of Carthage, former state commander of the American Legion.

A new constitutional amendment dropped the governor and attorney general as ex-officio board members. Instead, the governor is required to appoint two "citizens at large", one versed in finance, the other in veterans affairs.

Board members immediately went to work on the new $100,000,000 bond issue for veterans land buying as authorized in the same amendement.

WILSON PROMISES STATE SUPPORT — New Attorney General Will Wilson promised to "consistently support state sovereignty" in cases where federal-state authority is at issue.

Wilson said his office would seek to protect school officials and students from violence and intimidation stemming from desegregation efforts.

He also promised to push completion of the Duval County and veterans land cases begun by his predecessor, John Ben Shepperd.

OFFICIAL CHANGE - ABOUT —Will Wilson's resignation as Supreme Court justice last summer touched off a chain reaction.

Results: James R. Norvell of San Antonio is the new Supreme Court justice. He was elected.

H. D. Barrow of Jourdanton was appointed by Gov. Shivers to succeed Norvell as associate justice of the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals at San Antonio.

John F. May of Karnes City was appointed by Shivers to succeed Barrow as judge of the 81st district court.

Gov. Shivers also named L. D. Ratliff of Spur as judge of the 110th district court. And more than as core of others were oppinted to state agencies, commissions and college boards.

Another appointee, John Osorio of Austin, was elected chairman of the Board of Insurance Commissioners imemdiately after taking office as a member.

Also in the swearing-in news, through a novel coincidence, were two old hands, Supreme Court Justice Robert Calvert administered the oath to State Comptroller Robert Calvert. No kin.

He will be general counsel for extensive West Texas and New Mexico oil and banking interests.

And definitely no more politics, said Shepperd, who didn't run for re-election. He said he returned more than $11,000 sent him in one day only, for a U. S. Senate Campaign.

SECURITIES CHANGE SOUGHT — A separate department to oversee sale of securities has been recommended to Gov. Allan Shivers by a committee he named to study the matter several months ago.

Securities are now regulated by divisions of the Secretary of State's office and the Board of Insurance Commissioners.

Broader power for the state to deny or revoke licenses was also recommended.

WATER TAX OKAYED—Last minute efforts are under way to firm up recommendations to the Legislature for financing Texas water storage facilities.

A water use tax has been approved by the Texas Water Resources Committee. A proposal to levy taxes on fishermen has been shelved.

Sportsmen went gunning for the latter measure at a public hearing. They said the proposed levies on boats, motors and licenses would fall on a few, to benefit all; would discriminate against sporting equipment dealers; and would divert customers to other states.

Chairman George Parkhouse of Dallas conceded later that the boating and fishing tax was dead —at least for the time being.

Given approval was a water use tax which would require a constitutional amendment. Uses subject to the tax would include irrigation and hydro-electric power, as well as others. Expected revenue was figured at nearly $2,000,000 annually.

Senator Parkhouse said he would also seek diversion of about $5,000,000 a year from farm-to-market road funds.

SHORT SNORTS — President Eisenhower, slated to visit West Texas on his "drought tour" next week likely will find plenty of dust. US Dept. of Agriculture reports improved pasturage due to rains in the eastern two-thirds of the state, but downhill conditions in the west . . . . Texas Railroad Commission set the state's January oil allowable at 3,421,058 barrels a day, same as for December. Statewide production remains at 16 days . . . . Texas hunting fatalities dropped from 35 in 1955 to 18 in 1956, reports the Game and Fish Commission. Of the 1956 deaths, six were self-inflicted; 11 involved teen-agers.

Dear Editor:

I see where scientists have dug up some more old bones which they claim is what's left of the "missing link" between the cave man and the TV fan.

Seems to me like getting so much information out of a few used bones like these boys do would take a very fertile imagination.

About like, for instance, the one cultivated by my gossiping neighbor, who can dream up a first rate detaied home-wrecking tale out of a couple of words eavesdropped at a coffee bar.

I note that our so-called lawmakers have converged again and will carry on in Washington and in many state capitals for a spell.

Looks wastleful, though, going through this motion, now that congress has pretty well turned the law-making business over to the bureaucrats and the Supreme Court.

Keeping a mess of congressmen in Washington costs us around $3 million a gross plus miscellaneous expenses and it crowds them to be worth this much as ornaments.

Now that Christmas bills have come due, we are apt to feel a little bit like agreeing with the folks who claim that the season has been commercialized.

Seems that this cry about the commercilizing of Christmas is brought about by the widely held notion that storekeepers who sell us Christmas gifts, etc., make a profit on same.

This is regarded as a sinful situation in some quarters, mostly by citizens who wouldn't be getting their regular doses of hunger-remover if there wasn't considerable commercializing going on.

I see where Mr. Eisenhower is fixing to take an airplane ride out over the drought area to see if he can cure it.

Aims to fly low, maybe so as to get a good look at how farmers manage to get along when they have to put up with dry weather and buy their own tractors.

This closer-to-earth look will no doubt enable him to note the deplorable plight of many poor farmers who have to do their work with an old 1940 model tractor, and go to town in some old 1956 model car.

I see where the scientists are working on the idea of bringing out more new pills which we can swallow to change our personalities.

They say that when they get this worked out, a man can change his personality at will, the same as we change a dirty shirt.

My store-keeping neighbor says many folks don't need pills for this purpose. Says you can let a man have a little stuff on credit and then find out he has got a completely different personality when you go ask him for your money.

Let's Promote Home-Grown Industry In 1957 ... for a Better Future

1957 is a good year for Collingsworth county to look forward — and go the same direction.

Something in the way of small industry for the county is the line we are thinking of right now. In fact, a good many people have done a good deal of thinking on it over the years, some of it wishful thinking.

Without telling anybody's secrets, we can say that we are aimed in the right direction as 1957 opens. Any program envolving industry, large or small takes a lot of groundwork that is nothing but hard work before anything visible can be seen.

We have a strong Chamber of Commerce that is willing to work to give Wellington and the county an industrial pay-roll. The know-how is there, and when the right time comes, it will be exercised.

We have certain natural resources that have never been a secret to anyone . . . gypsum and pumice, for example. Others take a little more development.

It is a fine thing to have an outside industry walk in, like your looks, and settle down among you. We've sought that kind and so far we have been disappointed.

But then there is home-grown industry. It is the sort that develops here and isn't so likely to wander off a few years hence, leaving behind it folks out of jobs and empty buildings in which someone put considerable investment. That kind of industry generally requires concessions of various types.

It is this home-grown industry we want to push right now. We have talent in Wellington to develop it, and certainly men who are willing to work at it. It is financed locally or through local effort, and the investors are most anxious of all that it grow into a success. It is less likely to ask concessions in the form of buildings or tax relief, etc. To begin with, most industries of this sort hunt up a vacant building and go to work.

One important thing is this: home-grown industry is going to take the backing and co-operation of the whole community, just as would an industry that picked Wellington out of a long list of eager towns. We owe this co-operation to any sound industry that is developed here on our home ground. We owe it to the men who build it, for they are our neighbors. Moreover, we owe it to ourselves, for if we help develop any additional payroll for the county, the odds are that some of this income will find its way in our pockets.

Survivors Benefit Act Does Not Affect Veterans Insurance

The right to convert World War I and II GI insurance from term to permanent plans is not affected by the new Survivors Benefits Act, Mr. Scott B. Harrington of the Veterans Administration Regional Office at Dallas, Texas, announced today.

Mr. Harrington said the only GI policies which may NOT be converted are the 5-year term post-service policies which the law stipulates are non-convertible.

"Otherwise", Mr. Harrington said, "all other GI term policies are convertible, even the post-service term policies for which disabled veterans are eligible if they apply within one year from the date that VA finds their disabilities to be service-connected."

The Survivor Benefits Act merely limits issuance of new GI insurance policies. Iie does not altar the conversion rights in existing policies, Mr. Harrington said.

Moore Has Drama Lead

Elizabeth Barret Browning was portrayed by Aletha Ludwig.

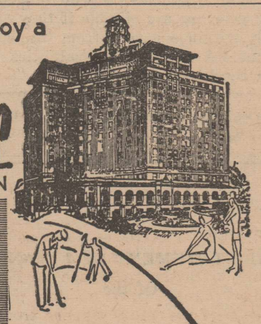

Set during the early Victorian period of 1840-46, the play concerns the home life of Elizabeth Barrett, noted English writer. Closely following actual facts, the play relates how Elizabeth's father, a wealthy Jamaica planter, practically forces his daughter to remain a semi-invalid. The production reaches its climax when poet Robert Browning begins visiting Elizabeth and the two elope to Italy despite her father's protest.

Moore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ivy and daughter, Glynda, returned Saturday to their home at Corpus Christi after two weeks with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ivy and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hodge.

Skyrockets Win Team, Individual Honor at Memphis

The Wellington Skyrockets won first place in the Memphis Invitation basketball tournament during the week end, and in addition, Wellington received four of the top individual honors, Coach E. W. Clement reported.

To Pat Wilkins and Sherry Bounds went the sportsmanship awards in the boys and girls divisions. This honor is based on the individuals good sportsmanship during tournament play, and team playing and sportsmanship as well.

Jerry Elbert won a place on the boys all-tournament team and Joan Crane on the girl's all tournament team.

The Rockets won their first game from Hedley, 49 to 31, with Raburn high scorer with 17 points. Turkey lost out on the second game 54 to 31. Although that team had exceptional height, the players could not cope with the Rockets speed and accuracy.

The championship game with Carey proved to be a run-away as far as Wellington was concerned, with the Rockets closing it out 73 to 21. Clement played his first string for only half the game.

The Rockettes defeated the Estelline team 52 to 41 in their opener, then downed Lakeview 50 to 44, only to lose their final game to Memphis 48-51.

SCS Takes Quick Action On Great Plains Program

TEMPLE, Tex. — State Conservationist H. N. Smith of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service today announced plans to take quick action to put into effect the stepped-up Great Plains program in this state.

Smith said that he has called a conference of state ledaers of agricultural programs and agencies in Texas for Jan. 11 at College Station to blueprint the plan of action on the farm and range lands of the 85 counties in that oprtion of the state.

Administrative responsibility for and leadership in the Great Plains program was recently placed on the Soil Conservation Service by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson.

Smith pointed out that Secretary Benson's order provided for the combining of the resources of the Department of Agriculture's various agencies in a step-by-step process for making long-time adjustments in land use, cropping systems, and in the treatment of cultivated lands and range, under the climatic hazards of the Great Plains.

The Great Plains program, brought into being by Public Law 1021 only last August, is designed to give farmers and ranchers, in the Great Plains area of the 10 involved states, both immediate and long-range help in the use of their land within its capabilities, Smith pointed out.

He explained that Public law 1021 authorized an appropriation of not over $150 million dollars for a fifteen - year period. Funds to aid farmers and ranchers are expected to be available after July 1, 1957. Expenditures may not exceed $25 million in any one year.

The program will apply in counties to be designated by the Secretary of Agriculture in portions of Colorado, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas and Wyoming. "The continued drouth in these states has emphasized the need for such a program to help develop a more stable farm and ranch economy in this region", Smith said.

Wind erosion conditions in the Great Plains area of Texas are serious with 403,000 acres damaged during October and November. Approximately 6,500,000 acres in a 68 county area of northwest Texas are in condition to be damaged by wind erosion this winter and spring, Smith announced .

He emphasized that the Great Plains program is not an annual or disaster type program nor does it replace any other existing agricultural program.

"This is a way to an enduring agriculture based on the capabilities of land and geared to the climatic hazards that we all know are ever-present in this important area," he said. "It is not a production adjustment or an income supplement program. It is a voluntary program with long-term assurance of needed financial help for a complete soil and water conservation plan applied to individual farms and ranches."

"The program," Smith added, "will point up the responsibility of local people in fitting their agriculture to the capabilities of the land and the hazards of climate. This responsibility is shared by farmers and ranchers, soil conservation districts, county committees, county commissioners and by all other groups, urban and rural, interested in the economy and the development of their home areas."

Mrs. J. W. Langham of Denver, and her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Bender of Panhandle were Wellington visitors last Friday, Mrs. Langham is a former resident of this county.

BY VIRGINIA ROBEY

Ina Sugg, home for Christmas from Baylor Hospital, Dallas . . . she's taking a course in anesthesia . . .but putting in part of her vacation helping with anesthetics at St. Joseph's . . . . Mrs. W. W. Sugg saying the best resolution anyone here could make for 1957 is to pray for rain . . . Bernice and Betty Welch closing B & B News for all of Christmas Day. . .the first time it has been closed for an entire day since they opened it 6 years ago.

The Riggs Girls, Dorothy Jane Holman and her two daughters, Beverly and Patricia, and Peggy Wildman and her son, Stevie, home for Christmas . . . . Dorothy Jane, a city girl since she left Wellington some 10 years ago, has been living in the country 6 miles west of Waco the past few months while her husband, Charles, was on a job there. "I love it, and I don't ever want to live in the city again. In fact, we're trying to sell our house in Dallas," she declares. Second grader Beverly went to a country school where there were just 13 in her grade, and she had to get on the bus every morning at 7:30. And Dorothy Jane loved the time she had to read and play bridge and do the other things all of us would like to. P.S. They're back in Dallas now, looking forward to another country home.

Mrs. Julius Deger who lives north of Lutie saying this was the first Christmas she and Mr. Deger have not had some of their children home . . . .but they're scattered too much. Leona and Richard Wischkaemper are in McAllen, where he is with the Border Patrol; Thelma and Robert Blasingame are in Los Angeles, and he is a machinist with an aircraft company; Stanley operates a jewelry store in Hugoton, Kansas, and Victor operates a theatre in Idaho. Both the boys are married, too.

Mrs. F. H. Kesler of Fresno in saying some of the women had just fininshed preparing the parsonage of Trinity Methodist Church, home of Rev. and Mrs. Cole . . . Rev. Cole, incidentally, was a commercial photographer before he entered the ministry. . . . Mrs. Wood Coleman of Dozier in town with her nearly-year-old granddaughter, a beautiful baby with red hair and big brown eyes. And she has a two-year-old brother, who also has red hair and big -brown eyes. The Coleman's daughter-in-law, Pam, who was very ill, is improved now, and their son Lt. Dudley Coleman, is coming home from Koera in about two months now.

One of the nicest things of the whole holiday season (for women) was the coffee Zena LeDerer had one morning, just because she wanted to see her friends. Her table was Christmasy with lighted candles and silver appointments . . and the unusual mantle decorations were a gift from Jean Kopp. Each one is an egg-shell base, painted daintly on the inside, then on the outside. Glue goes on next, and then glitter, or sequin, etc. A tiny window is cut out of the shell with fingernail scissors, and a minature Christmas scene goes inside. But the fascinating part is that the windows are covered with saran, which won't ever go on smoothly until you give the whole thing a quick dip in boiling water . . . Jean's mother, Mrs. Clark Anderson, added a post scrip to the coffee group: "And we all ate scrambled eggs for days."

A game is scheduled Thursday night at 8 p. m. with the Shamrock Outsiders, and this should be one of the better games of the season, Lacy said.

New red suits with white numerals have been bought for the Wellington players.

Two games have been played to date, with Quail taking the opener 58 to 53, and Childress the next game 65 to 55.

The Roughage Program for Texas has been extended in all 238 counties previously designated, Walter T. McKay announced today. County Committees in all desingated counties are being advised that they may now accept applications for a supply of roughage feed to carry basic livestock through March 15, 1957.

This game will be of particular interest to Wellington fans whose memory goes back to the fine teams Percival had when he was coaching the Skyrockets.

Of interest, too, will be the fact that one of Vernon's outstanding players is Mack Percival, the coach's son, who was a small youngster when the family lived here.

Seek Dam—

The Small Reclamation Projects Act of 1956 was passed by the 84th Congress as Public Law 984. Congressman Walter Rogers was a member of the committee that brought out the bill.

"I am thinking about what such a project would do to Wellington," Judge Templeton declared. "The hunting and fishing it would provide would bring a surprising number of people. The employment that would come about with its construction would be continued in the maintenance of irrigation ditches.

"It would be an adjunct to the city water supply, and since lack of water is our biggest drawback in seeking industry for Wellington, it would give us a better chance to attract industries.

"All of this is to say nothing of the benefit that would come directly to those farmers who can use the water for irrigation."

It was pointed out that a certain amount of money will be required to get the project started.

The sponsors will have to put up $1,000 at the time the application is made, to cover the cost of its review and processing. Services of a trained engineer would be the next step requiring money before construction can start.

Visitors in the R. H. Isbell home recently were Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Bolton and family of Wheeler.
