SCORES DROWN IN COLLAPSE OF RHINE BRIDGE

Akers And Guards Mix In Furious Battle As Physicians Attempt New Tests

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

Talker is in bad for his effort to answer "Reader" who wanted to know what he thought about candidates' wives electioneering over the telephone, and asking what could be done about it.

Some of his friends tell him that he is nothing but a dodger and not so artful either because he showed very plainly that he was trying to dodge the question. And a man says that he is all wrong about women being practical and a woman says she hasn't found that men are dreamers or romanticists and still another woman says that women are not unsympathetic of their kind—they just know them better than men, that's all.

Just seems like Talker hit it off wrong all the way around. But isn't that what men always do when they attempt to air their knowledge of the sex that answers the telephone and keeps it busy most of the time?

One man says he would have told our correspondent to vote against the candidates whose wives electioneer over the telephone but he wouldn't write that if his identity was fairly well known.

"Lavaca is probably the largest shrimp market in the world," says the Texas Public Service News. Last year it shipped 2,500,000 pounds or enough to make 25,000,000 cocktails.

A Texan has come forward to question the claim of Zaro Agha, the Turk now in this country who claims to be 166 years old. N. B. Andreasa, Brownsville merchant, says he saw Zaro in 1923 and then he was claiming to be 115 years old and his claim was being scouted by Turkish officials who estimated his age at around 90. Statistics for life insurance companies say there are authentic records of persons of more than 120 years of age and very few of more than 105 whose claim can be clearly established. It is pointed out all of those claiming such great age are of peasant or obscure birth with no certain records to support their claims.

Zaro may be a mature man of 156, a young man of 115 or a mere stripling of 90; there is no way of telling and it doesn't make a great deal of difference. People want to believe the preposterous and many of them will. And somebody will always find a way to commercialize their credulity.

A lot of folks who have been accustomed to go to Colorado and other resort states in the summer are finding it not so uncomfortable in Wichita Falls this summer. The flatness of our purses does temper the heat wonderfully. Of course it's hot in Wichita Falls but we can make the effect of the heat worse if we think too much about it.

Talker remembers several years ago when a friend from a northern city was visiting Wichita Falls and found the heat not so unbearable until he saw a recording thermometer run up to 110. Our friend was almost overcome when he saw this and cut his visit short and left town. We can stand the heat a lot better if we don't see the thermometer.

The heat is like a lot of other annoyances in this life of ours; it is as annoying as we make it or let it be.

One thing about spending the summer in Wichita Falls, we can furnish patronage for the miniature golf courses, and some of these courses are likely to be needing patronage before long. There seems to be just about so many people who play putt-putt, and the more of such courses the thinner the patronage is scattered. There are not likely to be many more courses opened.

The new ordinance requiring a permit for the opening of these miniature golf courses, the permit fee of $25, requiring lights to be out at 11 p. m., barring music devices, and requiring the written permission of property owners within 100 feet of any part of such a course is good and ought to be enforced. There probably wouldn't be so many of these courses in Wichita Falls if this ordinance had been in effect 30 days ago.

FORCE QUELLS OUTBREAK OF WICHITA LIFER

Insane Prisoner Fights Off State Experts In Jail Here

'NEEDLE' SCARES HIM

Cocaine Injection Allows Physicians to Make First Of New Tests

Battling his guards at the county jail and two physicians who had come to examine him, Otis Akers, under life sentence for robbery with firearms and found insane by a jury in the 89th district court several days ago, Monday fought off attempts to obtain samples of the fluid from his spine which doctors sought in order to make tests on his mental and physical condition.

Akers remained quiet while the physicians were taking a blood test but became immediately violent when the attempt to take the spinal fluid was made. Efforts to persuade him to submit to the operation were futile, the sight of the needle used in extracting a sample of the fluid apparently angering or frightening him.

Returned to Cell

In the brief but furious battle which followed, the jailer was forced to resort to the use force in order to subdue the prisoner. He was finally subdued and forced back into his cell, the attempt to obtain the spinal fluid having failed.

Early Tuesday afternoon Akers was taken from his cell again and under guard transferred to the Wichita Falls state hospital, where facilities for obtaining the fluid and making tests were available. A stiff injection of cocaine rendered him insensible to pain or feeling and, with attendants holding him from both sides, the brief operation was completed.

The tests made Tuesday marked the beginning of a thorough mental and physical examination which will extend over a period of several weeks, under the direction of Dr. C. W. Castner, superintendent of the state hospital here.

Following the operation Tuesday, Akers was brought back to his cell in the county jail. George W. Anderson, assistant district attorney, who accompanied the guards and Akers to the hospital, explained that the state institution here is not equipped to hold prisoners suffering from insanity of a criminal or violent type.

Other Tests

Akers will be taken back to the hospital next Tuesday for additional tests and will subsequently be taken again at intervals until Dr. Castner

Hamburg Firemen Check Blaze in Shipyards

HAMBURG, Germany, July 22. (AP)—Eight fire brigades and five fire boats tonight checked a great fire that started in the Vulcan shipyards and destroyed a big storehouse.

Ferry service across the Elbe river was suspended while the fireboats went into action.

A large mass of valuable finished steel and iron parts used in shipbuilding were destroyed.

The blaze started after the shipyards had closed for the night. An extent of the damage and the cause have not been determined.

New Brunswick Storm Claims Life of Woman

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., July 22. (UP)—A terrific wind and rain storm which struck New Brunswick shortly before 6 o'clock tonight demolished a two-story frame residence, taking the life of one of its occupants and causing injuries to seven others.

All eight occupants of the house were buried in the debris after the structure collapsed. The dead woman, Mrs. Marianna Vennicasa, 40, was found pinned beneath a pile of chimney bricks.

U.S. Nears 123,000,000 In Census

Nation's Population To Total Approximately 122,957,000

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—A total of about 122,957,000 people—just a few thousand under 123,000,000—probably will be shown as the population of the United States for 1930 when the final count is announced here by Director W. M. Steuart of the census.

The 1920 population was 105,710,620. Should final figures bear out the calculation, the country would show a growth of around 17,246,000 people in the 10 years.

This approximate total figure has been calculated by the Associated Press on the basis of actual preliminary return from 40 states and the District of Columbia. In these states census supervisors have reported a total of 100,807,723 people as against 86,667,858 10 years ago, an increase of 14,139,845, or 16.31 per cent. For the decade of 1910-20 the rate of growth was 14.9 per cent.

The growth of these states, comprising almost 81 per cent of the

RITES SET FOR VERNON GIRL

Victim of Fall to Be Buried Thursday

Special to The Record News

VERNON, Texas, July 22.—Funeral services for Miss Dorothy Rogers, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rogers, killed in a fall from a horse on the Oscar Holman ranch 10 miles north of Vernon Tuesday morning, will be held some time Thursday, according to incomplete arrangements made here Tuesday night.

The young girl, a prominent member of the younger set and a student of the Vernon high school, was instantly killed when she fell backwards from the horse. Her back was broken. She had been spending a week with her uncle and aunt on the farm and had just started a ride with a girl companion at the time of the accident.

Besides her parents, civic leaders in Vernon for many years, the girl is survived by an older sister, Miss Evelyn Rogers.

Five Randlett Girls Injured

Five girls were injured, two of them seriously, in an automobile accident Tuesday night at the outskirts of Randlett, Okla. The two most seriously injured were rushed to the Wichita General hospital in ambulances from the Owens Funeral home of Burkburnett while the others were treated at their home in Randlett.

Gladys Mathey, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Matney of Randlett, suffered injuries to her spine and a probable fractured pelvis bone, according to a preliminary examination made at the hospital here. The injured did not reach the hospital until 12:30 o'clock Wednesday morning and thorough examination would not be possible for several hours, it was said.

Pansy Matney, 9, also a daughter of H. C. Matney, suffered a broken leg, and numerous cuts and bruises. She was also brought to the hospital here.

The accident occurred when Mr. Matney, who was driving the car, struck an obstruction in the road and ran into a culvert, overturning the machine. He escaped unhurt and came with the two girls to this city.

The others hurt were Ollie Belle Matney, 19, who suffered side injuries; Ellin Matney, 17, who suffered injuries to her shoulder; and Vivie Matney, 13, who sustained a cut on the head. The latter is a niece of Mr. Matney while the former two are daughters.

Student in Shorts Sent Home to 'Dress'

COLUMBIA, Mo., July 22. (UP)—Plain shorts may be all right for college students to wear in the summer time, but short shorts are out of place, Miss Nola Anderson, University of Missouri mathematics instructor, decided today when she dismissed a student from her class.

'Jersey Kid' and Three Pals Die In Chair for Slaying Paymaster

TRENTON, N. J., July 22. (AP)—Frank McBrien, notorious gangster known as "The Jersey Kid," and three of his companions were electrocuted tonight for the murder of George B. Lee, paymaster of the Public Service corporation of New Jersey. The last man was pronounced dead at 8:38 p. m.

Victor Giampietro, who had hoped until the last for a reprieve, was the first to go. McBrien, Joseph Malanga and Joseph Rado followed quickly, and all were dead within 28 minutes. It was the second time in the history of New Jersey four persons were executed at one time.

Lee, who was 26 and cashier for the Public Service coordinated transported office in Newark, was slain in October, 1928, by robbers who fired through his cage and escaped with approximately $4,000.

The four condemned men all smoked as they entered the death chamber. McBrien puffed a fat cigar, smiled and shouted a cheery "O. K. Boys," as Malanga and Rado said good bye.

ENTRIES FEAR FINAL MINUTE SHIFT OF VOTE

Campaign Narrows Down To Three-Day Drive For Ballots

MILLER STRIKES OUT

Lieutenant Governor Replies to Ross Sterling Bond Claims

(By The Associated Press)

The final week of campaigning before the first primary almost half completed, each of the leading candidates for governor Tuesday night was studying means of preventing the ever-threatening last minute shift of votes away from him.

All were already certain of places in the runoff if their public utterances could be accepted at face value, but that did not keep them from forming plans to "make assurance doubly sure" if possible.

Sterling Answered

Barry Miller headquarters in Dallas issued a statement intended to cunteract the claims of R. S. Sterling that other states had found the state highway bond program a success.

The lieutenant governor's supporters called attention to California which they said was noted throughout the nation for its good roads.

"California operates on a "pay-as-you-go' basis through its gasoline tax and license fee revenues," the statement said. "It once tried bond issues to the extent of $62,950,000 rather than $350,000,000, but with the adoption of a license fee and gasoline tax system finds no need for bonds."

California Fight

"B. B. Meek, in charge of highway work in California last winter made a speech to Rotarians urging them to fight any attempt to issue any more bonds. Later, in conversation with a prominent Dallasite, Mr. Meek explained that he found it absolutely impossible to hire enough cable engineers and to build up capable organization sufficiently large to spend more money than was provided by the gas tax and license fee revenues."

Miller spoke Tuesday afternoon at Granbury and Tuesday night at

Temperature Above 100 for Sixth Day

For the sixth successive day Tuesday Wichitans watched the town's mercury skip above the century mark and hang there for the greater portion of the day.

Government predictions promised "scattered thundershowers" and perhaps a few clouds for Wednesday, which may or may not mean a break in the heat wave of the past week.

Tuesday's maximum temperature was 102 degrees and at 5 o'clock the temperature stood at 101. The present heat wave was inaugurated last Wednesday with a temperature of 99. On Thursday it jumped to 103, Friday registered 102, and Saturday 101. Sunday the climb was started again at 102 and Monday the day's maximum was 103.

Actresses Use Knives In Fight Over Ash Tray

NEW YORK, July 22. (US)—Two actresses engaged in a stabbing affray today and when brought to court tried to slap each other's faces, Gladys Renault, 23, was held in $7,000 bail charged with slashing the cheek of Esther Rossi. The women, who formerly roomed together, quarreled over an ash tray.

HOOVER SIGNS NAVAL TREATY

Arms Limitation Compact Fully Approved

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—In the historic east room of the White House, President Hoover today signed the London naval treaty.

Ratification by Great Britain and Japan and the depositing of all three signatures in London remain to be accomplished to bring into full effect the covenant limiting for the first time all categories of fighting vessels for the three great naval powers.

Earlier in the day, the chief executive had said in a statement that the treaty, ratified yesterday by the senate, will "secure the full defense of the United States" and will lay "the foundation upon which further constructive reduction in world arms may be accomplished in the future."

"With the ratification by the other governments," Mr. Hoover said, "the treaty will translate in emotion deep in the hearts of millions of men and women into a practical relations . . . we should by this act of willingness to join with others in limiting armament, have dismissed from the mind of the world any notion that the United States entertains ideas of aggression, imperial or exploitation of foreign nations."

Body of Baby Found in Alley

Special to The Record News

OLNEY, Texas, July 22.—Authorities here are seeking to establish the parentage of a fully developed infant whose body was found in an alley about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. Examination of the baby's lungs showed that it had lived a short time, physicians reported. The infant weighed six and one-half pounds and had been dead several hours, investigation showed. No clue to the parentage had been discovered late Tuesday.

American Air Line To Operate in China

WASHINGTON, July 22. (US)—An American air line has signed a contract with the Chinese government to assist in the establishment of air mail and air passenger routes throughout China, the commerce department reported today.

The contract calls for three routes at the outset, Shanghai to Chengtu, through Nanking and Hankow; Hankow to Canton; and Nanking to Peking, via Tsientsin. The last two lines will be in the nature of spurs, connecting with the main service from Shanghai to Chengtu.

NEGROES TO FORCE TEST OF DEMO RULE

Wichita Group to File Plea For Mandamus In Court Today

PRIMARY VOTE ASKED

Action of El Paso Judge In Refusing Similar Suit Disregarded

An application for a writ of mandamus seeking to force officials in the Democratic primary Saturday to permit negroes to participate will be filed in the 89th district court here Wednesday morning in an attempt to obtain a court ruling on the plea before the election, according to information given Tuesday evening by John Davenport, Wichita Falls attorney.

Ruling May Be Final

The first threat of such action on the part of Wichita Falls negroes was made Saturday when a delegation of negroes called upon Mr. Davenport to ask that mandamus proceedings be filed unless negroes would be permitted to take part in the primary otherwise.

The group headed by Ocie Williams, negro property and business owner here, told Mr. Davenport they had called upon Judge Edgar Scurry, chairman of the Wichita county Democratic executive committee, but had obtained no indication of action from that source. Judge Scurry, they said, advised them the question was one for the executive committee to pass upon.

A ruling from the district court in favor of the plea for a mandamus would be sufficient to permit negroes to vote in the primary, court officials here explained Tuesday, since the election will take place Saturday before an appeal can be made to a higher court.

El Paso Plea Refused

Wednesday's action will be taken, it was said, in spite of the ruling of Judge Charles A. Boynton of the federal district court at El Paso to the effect that the state executive committee has a right to bar negroes from the primary. The federal judge's ruling pointed out that the committee acts as private individuals and not as a state agency and for that reason can determine what persons shall take part in its primary election.

Interest was added to the federal court decision and to the action scheduled here Wednesday by reports that the county executive committees of McLennan and Val Verde counties have voted to allow the negro voters to take part in the primary, in spite of the state committee's disqualifying action.

Court officials here Wednesday stated their belief that the ruling of the El Paso federal judge could not be made to apply under the circumstances. It was pointed out that a ruling of the state supreme court would take precedence over a federal district court judgment in such a case involving party and election affairs in the state.

Commission Subdues Over-Optimistic Ads

WASHINGTON, July 22. (US)—The American School of Correspondence at Chicago is just a little too optimistic in its advertising, the federal trade commission ruled today.

The commission issued an order directing the school to cease representing that it is forbidden by law to do business at a profit and that each prospective student, "regardless of his previous lack of education, is guaranteed a job and a pay increase absolutely without risk of a penny on his part."

Stimson Reverts to Old Role in Troop Review

WASHINGTON, July 22. (US)—Secretary of State Stimson tomorrow will temporarily revert to the cabinet office he held under President Taft when he reviews a cavalry troop of the Citizens Military camp at Fort Meyers, Va. Twenty years ago, Secretary Stimson was secretary of war.

Secretary Stimson is one of the few ever to hold two cabinet posts. The secretary has an unusual war record and is now retired with rank of brigadier general.

Two Babies Trip Wise Scientists

'Mixed' Infants Howl As Savants Get 'Dope' On Parentage

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

CHICAGO, July 22. (UP)—Today was tough for babies Bamberger and Watkins, the mixed-up twins.

They spent most of it in howling while an assortment of scientific Solomons measured their craniums with ticklish medical instruments, blinked blinding lights into their eyes and smeared their feet with ink.

Babies Bamberger and Watkins, born on the same day in the same hospital three weeks ago and then somehow labeled incorrectly before being given to their mothers, didn't approve of the proceedings at all. And the scientists who used every known method of identifying them correctly with their parents, were none too optimistic over the results.

William Watkins, Charles Bamberger and their wives, the parents, in the first place all have Nordic characteristics which make them react similar to blood and skin

SMALL HOSTS TO MEET HERE

64 Towns Expected to Send Delegations to Rally

Delegations from 64 West Texas towns are expected here Friday night to attend the all West Texas rally closing the campaign of Senator Clint C. Small of Wellington, candidate for governor, it was announced here Tuesday by leaders of the Wichita Falls Small-for-Governor club.

Invitations have been sent to 64 West Texas towns, as well as to clubs in other sections of the state, and indications are that a majority if not all of the clubs in this section will be represented. One of the largest delegations promised is that from Collingsworth county, home of Senator Small, which advised Tuesday that at least 250 would be here Friday night for Senator Small's final address. The Estelline club has advised that 50 or more will attend from that town, it was said here, and indications are that the Small rally will be one of the largest ever held in Wichita Falls.

Among the Small-for-Governor clubs of West Texas invited to send delegations here are those of Wellington, Amarillo, Childress, Lubbock, Memphis, Matador, Seymour, Rule, Spur, Silverton, Jacksboro, Newcastle, Abilene, Aspermont, Tulia, Mineral Wells, Crosbyton, Floydada, Snyder, Baird, Colorado, Sterley, Shamrock, Dalhart, Vernon, Chillicothe, Claude, Turkey, Haskell, Hamlin, Munday, Sterling, Olney, Bowie, Breckenridge, Archer City, Post, Big Spring, Ralls, Lamesa, Albany, Merkel, Throckmorton, Pampa, Clarendon, Plainview, Quanah, Paducah, Quitaque, Stamford, Anson, Goree, Estelline, Graham, Henrietta, Weatherford, Canyon, Tahoka, San Angelo, Littlefield, Gail, Cisco, Ranger and Megargel.

TRAGEDY ENDS CELEBRATIONS OF EVACUATION

Many Still Missing After Pontoon Fails Under Heavy Weight

100 DROP IN RIVER

Police Rescue 34 Persons From Stream Near Coblenz

COBLENZ, Germany, July 22.—(Wednesday)—(UP)—Many were drowned when a temporary pontoon bridge across the Coblenz harbor to a float splintered asunder, throwing more than 100 participants in the joyous Rhineland liberations into the swiftly flowing Rhine river.

Thirty-four bodies had been recovered at 1:30 o'clock this morning it was announced officially, with others missing in the dark current. It was feared many more lost their lives.

Tragedy Ends Celebration

The disaster occurred at the termination of the festivities and the illumination of Ehrenbritstein, dismantled old fortress guarding the Reich's Rhineland border.

The crowd, returning home, jammed the iron bridge. It collapsed.

Police, rushing to aid the howling, shrieking mass thrown into the water, rescued many.

The tragedy threw a pall over the gay, laughing holiday throng which all day had waved flags and sang peace hymns as President Paul von Hindenburg visited Coblenz on his tour of the liberated Rhineland.

Bridge Condemned

The bridge which collapsed was a condemned one. Regardless of danger, the people had poured onto it to see the climax of the gay liberation festivities. The water is 15 feet deep at the point where the bridge collapsed.

Members of the fire department in charge of the rescue work said they were unable so far to estimate the full casualties, but they feared many more bodies would be found.

They searched the river below the bridge with searchlights, sweeping the broad stream, and scurrying across it in boats, looking for swimmers or floating bodies.

Officials said the bridge, which was iron collapsed under the weight of people on it.

Many of those rescued had been injured severely.

$100.000 Fancy Liquor Cargo Seized Off Coast

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 22. (AP)—Four truck loads of fancy liquors, valued at more than $100,000 was captured here today.

The liquor, a varied assortment of whiskies, cordials, champagne and gin, was believed by customs agents to be part of the cargo of a rum-running schooner from Nova Scotia, which they say has been hovering off the coast for two weeks.

'Millionaire Hobo' Dies in Hospital At Staunton, Va.; Starvation Blamed

STAUNTON, Va., July 22. (AP)—James Eads How, "millionaire hobo," died in a Staunton hospital today of pneumonia, "evidently superinduced by starvation," physicians said.

How was 56 years old and a member of one of the wealthiest families of St. Louis, where he was born. His grandfather was the distinguished engineer, James Eads, who built the bridge over the Mississippi river at St. Louis.

The body was sent tonight to Washington, where it will be met by a brtoher, Louis How. In accordance with How's wishes, it will be cremated.

How arrived in Staunton last Friday, in a weak and enfeebled condition, and registered at a hotel. For several days he appeared in the lobby, but was in the dining room only a few times. Hotel employes said he ate very little, and told them he was a vegetarian because of stomach trouble.

He was found to be ill Monday, and was removed to the hospital today.

Born in society, How elected to spend most of his years in the companionship of hoboes, and at nearly all hobo conventions it was How who filled the position of chairman.

How's attending physician this afternoon communicated with Jesse McDonald, St. Louis representative of the "millionaire hobo," who directed that the body be sent to Washington.

BRIDE CLAIMS CRASH VICTIM

Pilot of Wrecked 'Air Taxi' Taken by Wife

MEOPHAM, Kent, England, July 22. (AP)—A bride of a few months is among those who have claimed bodies of victims of yesterday's mysterious airplane tragedy.

Mrs. Henderson, young wife of Lieut. Col. George L. P. Henderson, the pilot, flew to Croydon from Le Touquet with her husband. He returned to France to bring others to Croydon and she awaited him in London completing plans for a holiday journey. On learning that he was dead she collapsed in the arms of friends. Later she was revived but wandered about in a dazed manner.

Besides Colonel Henderson the victims were four society figures, Viscountess Ednam, a famous beauty; Mrs. Henrik Loeffler, noted for her brilliant entertainments, the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava, and Sir Edward Ward, and an assistant pilot, Charles Shearing.

The cause of the accident remained a mystery today. The machine, a nearly new all-metal Junkers owned by Colonel Henderson's company and used temporarily as an "air taxi," was seen to fly to pieces in the air.

The wreckage showed that a gasoline explosion was not the cause, however, as the tanks were undamaged and there were no signs of fire.

A newspaper said an air ministry expert believed the plane had strangely turned upside down in the air, the victims thereby being thrown through the top and hurtling to their deaths.

Disappearance of Python Brings Investigation

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 22. (AP)—Disappearance of the 20-foot 200 pound Indian python from a cage at Sea Breeze park last Thursday, was under investigation today by city and county authorities.

Widespread terror among many cottagers and visitors to the Lake Ontario resort has prevailed since rumors that the reptile had been seen in outlying parks and suburbs. Court action to determine whether the python actually escaped, was stolen or hidden with a view toward publicity, so far has failed to reveal anything except that the snake was gone.

Since Thursday a large force of armed men have been searching the woods and brush in the vicinity day and night.

The reptile exhibit at the park has been closed.

Mercy Killer Goes To State Insane Hospital

WALTON, N. Y., July 22. (AP)—Declared insane by a commission of alienists who examined him yesterday, Andrew Beers, 79-year-old "mercy killer" was committed to the Binghamton State hospital today for an indefinite period by County Judge Andrew J. McNaught.

Beers killed his mentally blighted daughter, Frances, 27, because, as he voluntarily told police, he could not bear to see her suffer and feared she might fall into unkind hands after his death.

Because his devotion to his daughter was well known here, most townspeople accepted his statement as true and his neighbors engaged counsel for him.

One Killed, Another Injured in Explosion

ROCK RAPIDS, Iowa, July 22. (AP)—One man was killed and another slightly burned in an explosion of six gasoline storage tanks at an oil company's yards last night. Fred Yappen, 35, son of the owner of the company, was the victim, and Fred Stubbe, about the same age, suffered burns on his right arm and back.

The explosions which continued at intervals of several minutes as the flaming liquor spread from one tank to another, shook the entire town. Pieces of the tanks were blown 300 feet.

Four dwellings close by caught fire and were destroyed.

Berlin Police Watch Child Communists

BERLIN, July 22. (AP)—The police today ordered precautions to forestall possible trouble in connection with the international gathering of child Communists which is to open here tomorrow. The order forbids the demonstrations by the children which have been scheduled to be held in front of the public employment bureaus on Thursday.

Unusual Drought Conditions Parch Large Central Area, Injuring Crops

Meteorologist Reports Extremely Dry Weather From Appalachians to Rocky Mountains

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—Unusual drought conditions for virtually all of the area between the Rocky mountains and the Appalachians were reported today by J. B. Kincer, agricultural meteorologist.

With the exception of small portions of the area, Kincer said, "a marked deficiency" in general rainfall has generally prevailed in the past nine weeks. Coupled with this, he added, in increasing crop damage, have been two periods of high temperatures which "very rapidly depleted" soil moisture.

Light Rains Fall

Light rains have been reported for some portions in the past three days. As applied to the greater portion of the area, however, Kincer said "growing crops are in a very precarious condition, especially corn, gardens, truck crops and pastures."

Winter wheat, he pointed out, largely escaped the drought since most of it has been harvested.

Spring wheat, on the other hand, he added, has "been damaged to an uncertain extent."

"The corn crop is the most uncertain quantity," Kincer said. "A continuation of the drought undoubtedly would be very serious. At the present time corn has been harmed in most parts of Ohio, southern Virginia, Kentucky, southern Illinois, southeastern Missouri, Arkansas and southwestern Iowa."

Light rains have occurred in the last 24 hours, he said, in Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, the extreme western part of Iowa and in the northern part of the Ohio valley.

Gulf States Dry

In the immediate Ohio valley, including Kentucky, most of Ohio, Maryland, Virginia, Tennessee, Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma and the central gulf states, he said there has been practically no rain.

The area consisting of eastern Arkansas, northern Mississippi, northern Louisiana and eastern Tennessee, Kincer reported, has had less than 10 per cent of normal rainfall in the past nine weeks.

Southwestern Virginia, all of West Virginia, most of Kentucky and Southern Indiana, Illinois and Southeastern Missouri, have had only one-fourth or less of normal rainfall.

Rainfall in the spring wheat belt, he said, has been only 40 and 60 per cent of normal for a period of many weeks. Texas and particularly Eastern Texas, he added, has had one-fourth to one-half of the usual amount.

Oklahoma has had 127 per cent of normal rainfall, but that state too, Kincer continued, needs rain. The excess precipitation fell in one or two heavy rains, he explained, and most of it ran off.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., July 22. (AP)—Juvenile court hearings for Carlyle and Isaac Cullison, brothers, 10, and 8 years old, who confessed the killing of their cousin Donald Fox, 8, in a stone fight Sunday afternoon, were continued by Probate Judge Grace A. Miles, from today until tomorrow.

Barney Bucher, defense attorney, asked for the delay in order to seek more evidence in behalf of his clients. Donald's body was recovered from Verdigris river where the boys said they threw it after at first telling officers Donald had drowned.

The Cullison boys are held in custody of their mother, Mrs. Opal Cullison.

Constable Goes Mad And Slays Sergeant's Wife

HONGKONG, July 22. (AP)—An Indian constable went mad last night at Lokmachau police station on the Kowloon-Kwantung frontier killing with a rifle shot the wife of Sergeant Madgwicks, in charge of the post, and fatally wounding a fellow Indian.

Then the madman barricaded himself in a room and poured out machine gun bullets at 50 European sergeants who had hastened from Hongkong. When he ceased firing the sergeants found him dead, a bullet in his head.

GAMBLER HELD BY KIDNAPERS

Resort Operator Sought In Illinois

PEORIA, Ill., July 22. (AP)—Reenforced by state highway patrolmen, the police today were searching abandoned mine shafts and the Spoon river valley for William Urban, Peoria gambling house proprietor, kidnaped yesterday with his young son. Business associates denied they had been asked for a ransom.

Urban, driving from his farm home with his young son, Willard, was seized by three men, trussed up and whisked away. The lad was later released unharmed. Urban's resort, the Empire, sponsors a baseball pool which is reported to net the house upwards of $75,000 a month.

A liquor raid by Shawnee county, Kan., officials ended suddenly when they opened a beehive, thinking it might contain rum.

AIRMAN SAVED BY PARACHUTE

Flier Dumped Into Space When Strap Breaks

SAN ANTONIO, July 22. (AP)—Hurled unexpectedly into space when the safety belt on his trim pursuit ship broke as he flew 14 miles from the city today, Lieut. Frederic H. Smith Jr., student officer of Kelly field, quickly resorted to his parachute and descended to the ground uninjured.

The altitude from which Smith was literally dumped into space was not known shortly after the accident. The officer was said to have escaped injury, but the ship was completely demolished.

With his successful descent, Lieutenant Smith automatically became a member of that rare mythical organization known as the "Tumble Bug club." This organization is different and more exclusive than the "Caterpillar club;" in that the pilot must be thrown from his ship in some manner.

Lieutenant Smith is 22 years old and his home is in Washington, D. C.

The city of Prague, Czecho-Slovakia, is collecting samples of all motion picture films referring to it in any way.

ENTRIES FEAR SHIFT OF VOTE

Candidates Attempt To 'Cinch' Support

Hillsboro. Sterling was in far South Texas, campaigning the Rio Grande valley in the vicinity of Raymondville in the morning, speaking at Harlingen in the afternoon, and going to Corpus Christi for an address there Tuesday night.

Welcome at Houston

At Houston plans were being made to welcome him to his home city with a giant rally Wednesday night. Sterling said that he left his home section more than a month ago with enough votes there to assure him of a place in the runoff. Since then practically all of his leading opponents have invaded his home city, the last being Senator Clint Small, who spoke there Tuesday night.

An atmosphere of confidence, but not over-confidence, pervaded Sterling's Dallas headquarters. Charlie Abbott disparaged claims of Sterling's opponents that he reached his peak late last week and was slipping. "Sterling started campaigning so late that he may not reach his peak even by Saturday," Abbott said, "but he will be high enough to qualify for the runoff."

Small was assertedly more optimistic than usual as he conferred with supporters at Houston Tuesday. The warm reception which he said was given his speech in Dallas Monday night was responsible for his feeling.

Small "Convinces"

"By the large number of people who crowded around to shake my hand after the speaking and to wish me success, I almost thought I was in West Texas," he said. Small's supporters said his talks were so convincing that he was making votes everywhere he appeared.

Thomas B. Love reported that his talks at Clarksville and Paris Monday attracted larger crowds than had been drawn to hear any other candidate in those cities this year.

"This race is already won; there is no question about it," Love said. He was scheduled at Sulphur Springs Tuesday afternoon and at Mineola at night.

James E. Ferguson was in Athens Tuesday afternoon and at Corsicana at night. Ferguson was speaking for his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, nearly all of whose opponents concede her a place in the runoff.

Mayfield Gains

Earl Z. Crowdus, one of the leading Earle B. Mayfield supporters in Dallas, said that the former United States senator had gained a tremendous amount of strength the last three or four days.

"Only in the last week or 10 days have the people taken any interest in the election and reports from all sections of the state indicate we are making wonderful progress," Crowdus said. "I think Mr. Mayfield will be in the runoff with Mrs. Ferguson."

A North Texas rally for Mayfield is planned for Dallas Wednesday night. Persons attending the state retail grocers' convention and Mayfield delegations from several counties in the vicinity of Dallas are expected to hear the candidates.

Mayfield spoke over radio station KTAT at Fort Worth Tuesday morning and will speak again over the same station from 8 to 8:30 Wednesday morning. He was booked for speeches in Ennis and Midlothian Tuesday.

Jim Young headquarters Tuesday exhibited letters reporting on Young's strength in three of the state's "extremes" in location. Mrs. Clara Driscoll Sevier, Democratic national committeewoman, writing from Corpus Christi prophesied that the former congressman would carry Nueces county.

population 10 years ago, forms a close approximation of the rate of growth of the nation. On that rate the entire country's population would be 122,957,307.

Census bureau officials have made their own estimate of the country's population as of April 1, but refuse to divulge their figures. Their population estimating machine, which ticks off the increase in the number of people as calculated by experts from immigration statistics, births and deaths, placed the number of people in the United States on April 1 at midnight at 122,597,000.

Reports still have to come from eight states, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Oklahoma, Oregon, Louisiana, Mississippi, Arizona and Idaho. The estimated population of those states as of Jan. 1 this year aggregates 21,644,618. That added to the 40 other states brings an aggregate of 122,452,341 as the country's population.

Akers Battles With Officers

announces his examination complete. By the time for the next tests, it was said, the results of the first will probably have yielded information which will determine the nature of those to follow. Dr. Castner informed Mr. Anderson that the examination of Akers would be complete in every detail and that a full report on his mental and physical condtion and the possibilities for his return to normalcy would then be made.

Akers was convicted in district court here and sentenced to life for the holdup of a filling station and lunch stand on the Iowa Park road. He had served only a few months of his term in the penitentiary when prison authorities filed a lunacy complaint against him. The law required that his trial on this complaint be held in the district court in which he was convicted. It became necessary to keep him prisoner in the county jail here when Judge John P. Marrs was advised that the state institution at Rusk was the only one in the state equipped for imprisonment and treatment of the criminally insane and could not take additional inmates until a building now under construction there is completed.

HOOVER SIGNS NAVAL TREATY

President Curtis and two members of the senate foreign relations committee, stood at the elbow of the chief executive as he affixed his signature to the treaty which had its beginning less than a year ago in a conference between himself and Prime Minister MacDonald at the presidential camp in Virginia.

Flanking Mr. Hoover on the right and left stood Secretary Stimson and Secretary Adams, both delegates to the conference. About him were grouped the vice president, Senators Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, and Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, two other delegates to the conference; Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee and Senator Swanson of Virginia, ranking Democrat on the committee.

The other three delegates of this country, Ambassadors Dawes, Morrow and Gibson, were unable to be present at the ceremony, but to them were transmitted the personal congratulations of the president at the adoption by this country of the treaty which they helped negotiate.

In signing the treaty, Mr. Hoover used the same gold pen used by the American representatives in signing the covenant at London. He was dressed in white flannel trousers and a blue double-breasted coat.

Mixed-Up Babies Have Tough Day

tests. The two babies, thus, look almost like twins.

The scientists admitted consequently that no one test would determine their parentage conclusively. But minute differences revealed in the whole series of experiments, when added up, might point overwhelmingly in one direction, they said.

So Dr. Emil Deutch, ophthalmologist, peered into the blue eyes of babies Bamberger and Watkins. He directed a strong light into their optics then turned it off quickly when they began to scream.

Dr. Cleveland White, associate in dermatology, Northwestern School of Medicine, examined their skin with a microscope. He looked particularly for variations in coloring in their peaches-and-cream complexions.

Dr. Hamilton R. Fisback, associate professor of pathology, Northwestern university tested their blood, using the photometric system of photographing the blood cells. And to do that he had to extract a tiny drop of blood from the veins of both babies. They protested vigorously.

Dr. Davis Hillis, obstetrician, Northwestern university, measured their heads for comparison with those of their parents.

Dr. Gerhardt von Bonin, associate professor of anatomy, University of Illinois, carried the head measuring further, reporting on the racial characteristics of their noses, jaws and skeletal bones.

Ferdinand Watzek, famous Vienna sleuth now in charge of Northwestern university's crime detection laboratory, made finger and foot prints.

When all the scientists had finished their probing and their tickling and their pinching, the two mothers took the two babies home and the scientists went to work comparing their results.

They will turn their findings over to Health Commissioner Arnold Kegel who said he hoped to have a definite announcement to make tomorrow.

"I think I will be able to say either that we have discovered the parentage of the babies," he explained, "or that it will never be known who their parents really are. It is a tragic incident and we must proceed with the greatest care."

AD CLUB HEARS TALK BY BUTTS

Consistent Effort Urged In Advertising

"Advertise constantly, systematically and honestly and when advertising seems futile, remember that the nail is seldom driven in all the way with one blow," John E. Butts, general manager of the North Texas Furniture company, told members of the Advertising club Tuesday when he discussed advertising maxims as applied to the furniture business.

Mr. Butts pointed out that the furniture industry has begun to put more news into its advertising and stressed the fact that furniture advertising should impress the customer with the fact that expert service is offered in color harmony and other phases of interior decoration.

"Good furniture is not out of the reach of the average family pocketbook, and better furniture is offered today for the money than ever has been," Mr. Butts said.

In explaining the trend to get away from "suite advertising" and to stress the "conversational and reading group" advertising, Mr. Butts declared that furniture advertising is written for the women readers who buy 90 per cent of the furniture sold.

J. H. Allison, new member of the program committee, introduced the speaker. R. E. Shepherd, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Shepherd, sang two numbers and it was announced that there would be nothing but entertainment features on the club programs for the next eight weeks which are to be broadcast over station KGKO by remote control.

O. C. Harrison, publisher of the Baylor County Banner, gave a brief talk at the close of the program. R. E. Shepherd will have charge of next week's program.

200 Expected to Attend Annual Picnic of Optimist Club Tonight

More than 200 persons consisting of members of the Optimist club and their families are expected to attend the picnic at Westmoreland park Wednesday evening, according to Ira D. Brown, secretary of the organization.

Entertainment including athletic and water games will be featured in the program. A three-inning baseball game between the "Hot Dogs" and "Cold Puppies," under the direction of Alvah Connor and Joe Bailey will open the program at 6:15 o'clock and at 6:45 Harry Gross, Floyd Randel and Earl Crenshaw will have charge of a horseshoe pitching contest. A sack race for members of the Junior Optimists will be conducted by Jimmy Randel, V. N. Armstrong and Frank Haley at 7 o'clock after which the ladies will compete in an egg race which will be held under the supervision of Solon Featherston, Jim Hanks and Miss Eleanor Fleming. At 7:30 o'clock, Jack Dempsey, Bob Flechtner and Dr. C. R. Lanphere will have charge of a fat man's race and at 7:25, J. B. Allred, John Butts and Dr. B. C. Cammack will direct a potato race for the junior members.

The swimming party will begin at 7:30 o'clock and at 7:45 a water football game will be held under the direction of Clifford Deaton and Jerry Vinson. Dinner will be served at 8:15 o'clock after which dancing, swimming or other forms of amusement will complete the evening.

Blowout-Proof GENERALS

6-PLY AND 8-PLY Blowout-Proof Dual-Balloons. Also 4-Ply and 6-Ply Dual-Grip Generals. Tires for every car, regardless of size or age. Every tire in the famous General line included. Nothing reserved. And every one at the tremendous reductions and special increased trade-in allowances that make this sale the great annual sensation of the industry. . . . . .

Get More Miles For Less Money . . . Cash In Your Old Tires For New Ones

We take your old, worn tires in payment for new Generals. As Trade-in Headquarters we originated the used tire allowance. Our trade-in values are always the best in town. But once a year, for this huge annual sale, we break all limits and raise our trade-in allowance to the year's highest level. . . . Your old tires will go surprisingly far now in paying the cost of new, safe Generals. We give you safe, carefree miles on new tires in place of the risky, doubtful miles you're facing now.

Unequalled Cost REDUCTIONS Give Still More For Your Money

Sensational cost reductions are added to our special trade-in allowances. We've smashed every previous record with prices cut to the lowest notch of this or any other year. You can ride on Blowout-Proof Generals now at lower cost for actual mileage than that of ordinary tires. . . . . .

Blowout-Proof Safety Now Yours Without Cost At these unduplicated price values, every dollar you spend buys a record amount of service. You'll pay less per mile than you're paying now. You'll enjoy absolutely new riding comfort that only the world's most flexible tire and lowest air pressure can give. And the final safety of blowout-proof construction is yours through years of service without extra cost. . . . . .

Find Out Today How Much Mileage Your Old Tires Will Buy

Drive in. Get our trade-in estimate without obligation. Take off those worn tires of doubtful safety and drive out with every tire hazard removed. Those old tires pay for the first thousands of new, safe miles. The reduced cash balance buys years of mileage, safety and comfort. . . . Extra help to give you prompt service. No waiting for your trade-in estimate—no delay in mounting. Stop today and get started on safety that will last as long as you will drive your car. . . . . .

Special Prices on our large stock of new change-over tires that have been replaced on new cars with Generals.

All Sizes and Makes

EASY PAYMENTS Special terms make it still easier to get started now on Generals. Don't wait until ready to pay cash. We'll gladly extend thirty day terms or our convenient General Tire Acceptance Payment Plan. Take as long as you need to pay.

WHEN YOU KNOW that over 400,000 people are hurt annually in accidents due to tire blowouts, punctures and skidding . . .

It's Time to Act!

Blowouts didn't mean much in the day of slow speeds and small tires, but with balloon tires it's different.

Your slowest speed on the highway today is 44 feet a second. At 60 miles per hour it's 88 feet a second . . . and roads are now traffic crowded and the ditch too close . . . less than 1-10th of a second from flat tire to tragedy!

If it cost more to be safe you might be excused for taking chances. But it actually costs less to run with the Blowout Proof Tire. Its mileage is cheaper, it saves gas, your car stays new and quiet thousands of miles longer, and safety is yours without charge.

Many Summer Graduates Receive Diplomas Today

Unusually large summer graduating classes will receive diplomas Wednesday morning at the Junior college when 56 graduates from the Junior college, high school and Reagan and Zundelowitz Junior high schools will be present at the summer school graduating exercises, to take place at 10 o'clock.

Professor S. H. Rider, dean of Junior college, will introduce Raymond Myers who will deliver the address to the graduates and W. L. Robertson, vice president of the board of education, who will present the diplomas. Immediately following the graduation exercises, students of the summer school will receive their final report cards.

A banquet at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Wednesday night will be the concluding activity of the graduating classes who have had quite as great a round of festivities as the spring classes. The combined classes presented the Junior college with an excellent etching which will take its place with the art gallery of splendid work given by other classes and won by pupils in the school.

Program for Wednesday

Invocation—Dr. Gaines B. Hall, pastor of the First Southern Presbyterian church.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

Sometimes we feel rather like Calvin Coolidge as he was quoted in the August Golden Book: "I have sorter lost my taste for writing."

◇ ◇ ◇

And then something crops up that makes us glad we can talk on paper. For a tale that we told of Clifton, Tenn., in this column brought us a visitor Tuesday—T. N. Lawson of Oklahoma, who was once a citizen of Clifton. And it brought us an invitation to come with our family and spend the day and eat fried chicken.

◇ ◇ ◇

Being strong on chicken — the fried variety—and on old friends and old times, we mean to take it up when we come back from Tennessee.

◇ ◇ ◇

Tuesday we marveled at men. Do they ever really grow up? We like the idea of eternal boyishness in men that came to us when we saw a group ducking one another at a drinking fountain—a group of real business men.

◇ ◇ ◇

That same group can gather around a counter for coffee even in the summertime and tell the whole history of ball players. The old time bar must have its transmigration in the form of a popular coffee counter.

◇ ◇ ◇

We saw today a pretty lounging campchair out in the blazing sun on Scott avenue—warming up, we presume, for someone. It will take an hour after dark to cool it, and a bunch of newsies had their eyes on it hoping we felt sure, to see some one sit down and hurriedly rise.

◇ ◇ ◇

And we saw something else that showed how one race is determined to keep up with another. We spoke several days ago of the girls who lay in the sun and browned themselves, even suffering to acquire the desired shade, and then wore cream or pastel gloves on their brown hands—always.

◇ ◇ ◇

Today, we met two girls whose skin was born brown and a dark brown at that; but they wore pink and blue gloves with their rather elaborate costume.

◇ ◇ ◇

Speaking of races, makes us think of those mixed babies that are still a topic of discussion in Chicago. We read that one parent is Welsh, one German, one Irish and English and the other Austrian. Racial characteristics can't be counted on to determine which is which.

◇ ◇ ◇

Home Town Talker spoke Tuesday morning of the women who telephone and ask others to vote for their husbands. We have been asked!!! But sitting where we do in our work, we are sure no one has had more candidate cards than are in our possession—or were.

◇ ◇ ◇

It helps when a candidate, handing us one, says, "Young lady, I want to leave a card with you." But it is a blow when one comes round a second time and doesn't even remember us.

REPAIR PERMIT

A repair permit for $250 was granted Tuesday by City Engineer F. M. Rugeley to Mrs. R. E. Montgomery for the purpose of repairing a residence in the Bungalow Tourist park.

Personals

Miss Roma McCarty, who has been attending the first summer semester at the University of Texas, Austin, returned to her home in Wichita Falls Sunday.

◇

Mr. and Mrs. G. U. Bruno, 1107 Bluff, announce the arrival of a son, Richard Dale, on July 21.

◇

E. S. Morris is at Winnsboro, Texas, attending a family reunion.

◇

Mrs. Ruth S. Cain has returned from Dallas where she has been visiting her sister, Mrs. C. J. Bullard, for several days.

◇

Mrs. Ed Howard, who has been quite ill at her home, 2024 Berkeley drive, for the past 10 days, is reported to be gradually improving.

◇

Mrs., W. A. Franklin and son Daniel, will drive to Abilene Wednesday, accompanying Miss Pauline Shirley and will go from there to Stanton to visit her mother, Mrs. L. P. Jones.

Modern Wife Is Good Sport, Says Dix in Letter

Is the Modern Wife a Better Sport Than Her Mother and Grandmother?—Why the Caveman Makes a Good Husband for One Type of Girl.

Dear Miss Dix—Don't you think that there is less grumbling and whining among the married women of the younger generation than there was of the old? Our grandmothers and mothers used to enjoy getting together to discuss men and their selfishness. Wherever women gathered together you could hear them sigh and moan over the sacrifices they were forced to make. The modern girl takes things as they come and doesn't expect matrimony to be a bed of roses. I knew when I married that I would have some hard knocks along with the good things, because that is life.

I have been married now eight years. We haven't much money and I have to work hard, but it never occurs to me to be dissatisfied or to think that marriage isn't worthwhile, and I think that is the attitude of most young women of today who love their husbands and who are loved by their husbands.

—DONNA.

Answer—I think you are right, Donna, and that whatever else the modern women may be or may not be, she is a better sport than the woman of the past was.

I have observed that it is the middle-aged wives who are nearly always the whiners, who are grouching because their husbands can't give them as many luxuries as rich women have or who are always lamenting over their husband's philandering or drinking. The young wives don't take it out in tears and beating upon their breasts. They do something about it.

Before the modern girl marries she has figured out her budget on her prospective husband's income and she makes up her mind either to live on it or to supplement it by her own earnings instead of howling for cake when she married on a bread-and-butter basis. Likewise, if she doesn't approve of her husband's conduct, she gets up and leaves him instead of going through life as a domestic martyr and calling for the sympathy of the public. And she laughs off a lot of her husband's faults instead of having hysterics over them as the women of the past did.

To my mind the greatest progress women have made is in being happy and making the best of life, instead of being woebegone and making a tragedy of life as their foremothers did. For there is no denying that the women of the past made a cult of sorrow and that they nursed their griefs and made the most of every unpleasantness that they could.

In fact, it was not considered good form for a woman really to enjoy herself. It was actually esteemed vulgar for her to laugh. The most she could do and be really elegant was to smile, and a perfect lady was supposed to wear an air of gentle melancholy.

I can well recall a group of somber ladies, dressed from head to foot in crepe, and who could not have gone any deeper into mourning unless they had subsisted on black tea, who used to come and spend the day with my grandmother every now and then and hold a tearfest. They would have a perfectly grand time recounting all the sorrows of their lifetime to each other and they were held in high regard in the community because they had never "gotten over" some grief or disappointment that had happened to them thirty or forty years ago.

There are no such morbid, hysterical women among the modern generation. No young woman of today comes to weep on your breast and tell you her troubles. She bucks up and bears them herself and turns a smiling face on the world. We don't think that a woman shows nobility of soul by brooding year after year over a past and gone sorrow. We think she is feeble-minded or neurotic and that she should get out and do something for somebody else that would make her forget her own selfish feelings.

Why, it is almost as unusual to see a woman weep now as it is to see a man, and every year women are more and more emancipating themselves from the tyranny of mourning garments. They don't feel that there is any necessity of advertising their bereavement to the world nor of depressing other people with the visible emblem of death.

Nor do you hear women complaining so much about their husbands as they used to. That has also ceased to be a popular form of indoor feminine sport. The modern wife knows that she doesn't have to stand a bad husband unless she wants to and that if she does the general public expects her to have the decency not to befoul the bread she eats.

Perhaps the modern woman is shy on some of the virtues that her grandmother had, but she is a lot more pleasant companion to live with.—DOROTHY DIX.

MAKE THIS MODEL AT HOME

Smart Frock With Detached Cape Pattern 1989

By ANNE ADAMS

This stunning model, worn now without sleeves or cape, is perfect for early fall when the cleverly scalloped sleeves, and graceful cape, are added. It is unusually easy to make, too, as all the raw edges may be bound for a smart effect. Note the harmonizing skirt line.

Pattern 1989 fashions delightfully of shantung, flat crepe, kasha, flannel or linen. A plain color . . . light or dark shade . . . or a print might be chosen for equally good results. The cape may be attached permanently or may be snapped on. Buttons add a chic touch.

May be obtained only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 requires 3⅞ yards of 39-inch material.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given.

Send 15 cents in coins carefully wrapped, or stamps, for each pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, style number and size wanted.

Our book of patterns for adults and children, also transfer patterns, is 15 cents, but only 10 cents when ordered with a pattern. Address all mail and orders to Record News Pattern Department, 243 West Seventeenth Street, New York City.

to her fate? Maybe a few spanks will do her good.

—BEWILDERED BROTHER.

Answer—Probably you are right and what your sister does need is the spanking that her mother failed to give her at the proper time of life. I think there are a lot of spoiled young girls who have never had any one to control them, who feel the need of having a heavy hand over them and who would really like to have somebody exercise authority over them and make them behave.

Besides that, there is no denying that there are plenty of women who are still cave women at heart and to whom nothing appeals so much as brutality. They would like to be wooed with a club and to be dragged off by the hair of their heads to the altar and to live in trembling fear of their captors. Gentleness and kindness is wasted on this type of woman. The only thing she responds to is force. She likes to be ordered about and forbidden to do this and commanded to do that and not to know that her soul is her own.

One of the amazing things that settlement workers find is the difficulty of getting the women whose husbands beat them up to leave them. One would think that they would be only too eager to get away from the cruel brutes who so mistreat them, but such is not the case. They literally kiss the hand that smites them and lie about their black eyes and stick to their masters as faithfully as days. It is the women who are married to gentlemen who would never lift their hands to a woman save in kindness who get divorces, not the wives of wife-beaters. So, perhaps, your sister will be happy with her cave man after all.—DOROTHY DIX.

Mrs. Hall Hostess To Auxiliary In Monday Meeting

Members of the First Southern Presbyterian Auxiliary who were entertained at the home of Mrs. J. E. Hall Monday afternoon had the pleasure of hearing an outstanding speaker from Amarillo when Mrs. S. D. Crittenden delivered an inspirational talk.

Using the second, third and fourth chapters of Romans as her subject, Mrs. Crittenden spoke on the Christian's attitude toward other people. She reiterated the command of Christ not to judge and stressed the point that He meant to judge neither Christians nor those who professed no religion, leaving them to the mercy of the Father.

The address made a vivid impression on her audience.

Mrs. F. M. Rugeley introduced Mrs. Crittenden and Mrs. George Fleming dismissed the meeting with prayer.

A delightful refreshment plate was served to Mrs. S. D. Crittenden of Amarillo; Mesdames F. M. Rugeley, O. T. Gorsline, H. N. Bennett, F. L. Rugeley, Stanley Rugeley, T. S. Colligan, O. C. Dickson; J. A. Little; Mrs. Ott of Amarillo; Mesdames E. C. Stokes, F. R. Johnson; Mrs. Edmison of Abilene; Mesdames H. F. Barnes, Holt, J. E. H. Railey, Burke Taylor, H. D. Smith; Misses Sara Beth Hall, Olivet Castile, Roberta Fletcher and Mary Meredith; Mesdames G. L. Allen, Dan Castile, C. M. Kitchell, George Fleming, H. W. G. Fletcher, Harry Lair, T. M. McKinney, R. C. Anderson, Billy McHam, Herschel Smith, Dobson, C. McFadyen and Mrs. J. E. Hall, hostess.

Miss Annalee Womack Hostess to Club

Members of the Kokomikis club enjoyed a pleasant meeting at the home of the president, Miss Annalee Womack, Monday night.

With no formal program, each member told of the summer vacation she had enjoyed and at the close of the social hour, iced watermelon was served to Marie Beaty, Inez Ewing, Aita Faye, Opal Bittick, Martha Johnson, Mary Lou Johnson and two visitors, Mesdames Womack and Cripliver.

At a group meeting of the Alathean class of the Lamar Avenue Baptist church Tuesday morning, plans were presented by the first vice president, Mrs. Latham, to the captain of the group, by which absent members might have their interest renewed.

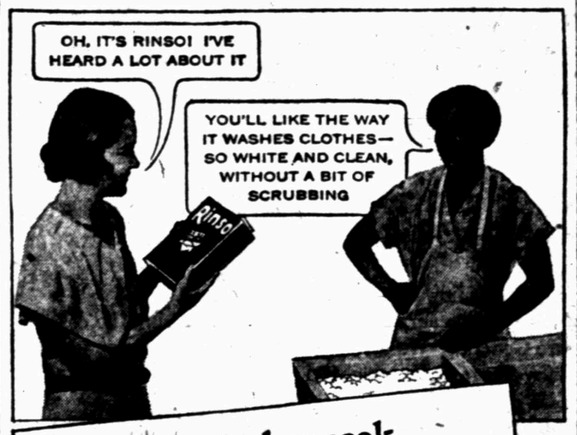

Members present were Mesdames Don Gilson, E. A. Stanley, V. M. Tillerson and Mrs. Latham.

Added School Fund Allotted Iowa Park

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, July 22.—The secretary of Iowa Park school has received a letter from the department of education at Austin, stating that Iowa Park economic department would receive an additional $100 to be expended for improvement of the department. It was explained that there was on hand a surplus fund after distribution to the economic work and that this was the portion allotted to Iowa Park. It was stated that this fund would be applied to the purchase of two gas ranges which have been badly needed by this department.

Demented Slayer Hangs Himself

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., July 22. Eugene Vilelli, 40, who escaped from the Western Pennsylvania Hospital for the Insane at Dixmont to shoot his wife for rumored infidelity, hanged himself in a cell in police headquarters here today.

Vilelli shot and wounded his wife and two men companions early yesterday as they drove up to the Vilelli home at Anita, near here, where Vilelli had been awaiting his wife's return since his escape from the asylum Saturday. Letters he had received there from friends had told him of his wife's association with other men.

Famed Author Charged With Wife Abandonment

LOS ANGELES, July 22. (UP)—Police arrested Herbert H. Van Loan, famed author, today on a New York fugitive warrant charging wife abandonment. He was arraigned and remanded to the county jail when he was unable to furnish $1,500. Hearing on the warrant was set for July 23.

He told police who captured him at the Roosevelt hotel in Hollywood that he would not fight extradition. He said he was glad of the chance to clear up his marital difficulties.

Injunction Halts Darst Proration

AUSTIN, July 22. (AP)—A temporary injunction has been granted in district court here to stop proration of oil by the state railroad commission in the Darst creek oil field.

The suit was brought by the Harrison Oil company and others against the railroad commission. It was regarded as the first litigation seeking to test the new common purchaser law, under which the field recently was ordered to be prorated.

Under this law, all purchasers of oil in the field must buy oil in equal pro rata quantities from all producers.

Agrarian Revolt 'Colossal Failure'

Carleton Beals Describes Abortive Movement

MEXICO CITY, July 22. (AP)—Carleton Beals, American writer on Latin-American political and economic questions, today pronounced the Mexican agrarian revolution "a colossal failure."

In an address before the fifth annual session of the seminar in Mexico, held by the committee on cultural relations with Latin America, Mr. Beals declared that seven million peasants in Mexico had been thrust off the haciendas without having been provided the proper means of earning a decent livelihood.

"The communal system of land holding which has been resuscitated in Mexico is a failure," Beals said. "First, because the peasants have never received sufficient or proper lands; second, because they lack the means, equipment and knowledge to cultivate even what they have properly, and finally, because it represents a primitive village system based upon the production of maize and beans for local self-support and therefore runs counter to the national needs and to modern industrial tendencies.

"The true agricultural wealth in Mexico resides in tropical products, such as sugar cane, tobacco, coffee, banana, rubber, henequen, and hardwoods. But these can only be produced efficiently by large plantations with capital and technical equipment and knowledge. The henequen industry is in ruins. The peasants are burning off vast areas of precious hardwoods to plant maize and beans. The Mexican revolution has never frankly faced these problems."

Friberg News

Mrs. Otho Lamb proved a charming hostess to members of the Methodist Ladies Aid society at her home Thursday afternoon, the meeting having been postponed from the first Thursday in July, the regular meeting date. Mrs. Lamb was assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Miss Glada Fugate.

Mrs. Ethel Bryan, president, presided during both the devotional and business meetings. The devotional program was as follows: Song, "Count Your Blessings," assembly; Scripture, 23rd Psalm, Mrs. George Musgrove; prayer, Rev. A. E. Davis; special vocal number, Miss Glada Fugate; poem, Mrs. A. F. Hensel; piano solo, Mrs. Troy Hurdt; prayer circle of short sentence prayers. The devotional closed with the song "Trust and Obey."

During the business session Mrs. C. A. Andree was accepted as a new member.

At a late hour the hostess served a delicious retreshment plate. Rev. Albert E. Davis and daughter, Mrs. Gray, of Wichita Falls and Messrs. and Mesdames George Musgrove of Raymondville, were special guests. Others present were Mesdames M. E. Carey, Fred Greer and children; Martha Lou and Glen; Nellis B. Stewart and granddaughter, Miss Gloria Kensil, and Jane Hull, all of Wichita Falls; Mesdames Ethel Bryan, Robert Callen, W. H. Crow, Coley Thornton, J. W. Lovell, Oscar Hurdt, Troy Hurdt, A. F. Hensel, John Lovell, Elmer Byman, Harry Geyer, C. A. Andree, J. O. Lamb and Misses Margaret Bryan, Annie Bryan, Bernice Bryan, Carrie Jenne, Catherine Geyer, Glada Fugate, Bernice Geyer and Rev. Albert F. Hensel and J. O. Lamb.

The Wichita county singing convention met Sunday afternoon at the local Methodist church. The program of song began at 2:30 o'clock and lasted until 5. J. S. Gore of Burkburnett was in charge. Several special quartet numbers and special solo numbers interspersed the congregational singing. Among the latter was one by Miss Glada Fugate, local singer. A very interesting talk was made by Tom Wilkerson of Cotton county, Oklahoma.

A solo, "Stand by Me," sung by Miss Hansard was dedicated to him. A number of candidates for office and their wives were among the large crowd. Rev. Albert F. Hensel, local pastor, pronounced the benediction. The singing convention will meet next month at the Cooper church.

The two weeks revival services which began at the Methodist church on Sunday evening, July 13, has closed a succesful week of meeting. Rev. Albert E. Davis of Wichita Falls, radio evangelist and leader of "the church of the air" is preaching, asisted by Rev. A. F. Hensel, pastor. Several musical treats have been given the audience during the past week.

On Thursday evening the Wilson Bros. male quartet of Electra was present and sang five special numbers, and on Friday evening the "Morrison Sisters" and Mrs. E. E. Milburn of Wichita Falls, radio artists, gave two special numbers. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Shepherd of Wichita Falls are on the program this week. The meeting will close Sunday evening, July 27.

Mrs. James W. Bassett and three children of Amarillo arrived last week to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Greer at Witchacres farm. They will remain until the second week in August.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Webb and son and daughter, Homer and Vera Mae of Ndeona were guests of her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hurdt over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lamb and children, Ida, Earl, Margaret, Arvil and Dorothy of Wichita Falls were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Coley Thornton and daughter, Sunday; also attending the singing convention and the revival services at the Methodist church Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Young and children of Decatur were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Otho Lamb and daughter over the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. Young resided here until a few months ago.

Mr. and Mrs. George Musgrove of Raymondville were guests of old friends in this community during the past week.

Miss Alma Hurdt is visiting in Decatur, the guest of her cousin, Miss Opal Webb.

Mrs. Nellie B. Stewart and granddaughter, Miss Gloria Kensil of Wichita Falls were guests of her sister, Mrs. Jennie Jenne and family Sunday and attended the singing convention.

Miss Katherine Singletary will be hostess to the members of the Friendship club at her home Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

FOR

Attorney General

Has practiced law, with distinction, in all the courts of Texas, for 21 years.

Is honest, industrious and conservative.

Texas has had many illustrious Attorneys General as her chief law officers—W. M. Walton, George Clark, James S. Hogg, C. A. Culberson, C. K. Bell and others. In legal attainment, Cecil Storey takes front rank with those great lawyers who have gone before.

His friends resent the attack made upon him by Governor Dan Moody in the press recently, as being unfair, unwarranted, and as seeming to indicate a desire to perpetuate the Moody Regime in office.

Bodenhausen's Dimes
A Visit to the Moon
Not Entirely a Dream
War Over a Shave

By EMILE GAUVREAU

For 20 years Oscar Bodenhausen, Missouri salesman, saved his dimes. He put one away every day. Next month he will begin a six months' world tour on this money. While others, who do not even watch their quarters, will wonder "how he did it," Mr. Bodenhausen will sail the seven seas, showing them.

A sky rocket, perfected by Prof. Robert H. Goddard, is to be sent up to explore those regions of space where human life cannot sustain itself. This rocket will bring back to earth information of incalculable value in the field of meteorology, astronomy, aviation, and science in general.

Constructed like a mechanized human, with electrical lungs, it will breath air several hundred miles above the globe. It will be equipped with thermometers to measure temperature; barometers, which will record air pressure. Wind velocities and electrical conditions in the rarefied strata, never before penetrated, will also be determined. More important than all, the spectrum of the sun will be photographed for the first time with the violet ray showing free of atmospheric absorption.

The dream of the man in the street of a "visit to the moon" may be realized before the close of the century. Professor Goddard's rocket is the natural forerunner of one that may be projected beyond the gravitational force of the earth.

Religious wars are not over. Yesterday it was the Turks butchering the Armenians. Today the Kurds massacre the Turks. The leader of the Kurds says Allah sent them word to wreak vengeance on the Turks because they shaved and wore hats and let their women run around freely. Christian nations fought more bloody wars over less worthy causes.

In Germany, the plan to tax the unwed is doomed. The minister of finance finds that bachelors and spinsters cannot be forced to marry by threats, fines, bribes or inducements. He has abandoned his $25,000,000 levy. In Italy the attempt also fails. Marriage is a personal matter, not a national one. And some day, also, there will be enough enlightened people in the world to force civilization to believe that war, likewise, is a matter that should be left to the individual.

Four times a week Moscow broadcasts a program of Soviet propaganda in German. It comes into Germany with unusual clearness and the German government has asked the Soviet to silence it. This the Soviet refuses to do. Rumania tries to drown it out by setting up air wave disturbances. The Bolshevist soap-box method of exhortation has advanced considerably.

Boy Drowns Trying To Win Bet on Diving

WICHITA, Kan., July 22. (UP)—While his two brothers sat on the edge of the tank betting on the length of time he could stay under water, Lester Shadd, 15, was drowned at Lost Spring, Kan., last night.

When he failed to come up after a dive, they thought he was playing with them, and cheered him on to staying under the water even longer. Two passersby, curious at their cheers, brought the body to the surface.

Murder Charge Filed In Sapulpa Slaying

SAPULPA, Okla., July 22. (UP)—A murder charge was filed today against A. C. Cooper who told county officers he beat Clint Madewell to death with an ax.

Cooper surrendered early today. He said he struck Madewell in self-defense at the home of his estranged wife with whom he said Madewell was living.

Cooper was held in the Creek county jail.

A Very Silly Attitude

HERE and there in the United States there seem to be men to whom the current business depression is not a catastrophe but an opportunity.

Among them, of course, are the Communists. They make their hay not while the sun shines but while it does not. Bad times for industry are good times for them. They get their audiences when prosperity vanishes.

Also among these people who make the most of the depression are some solid business men who might be expected to know better.

Here is a example:

The five leading hotels in the city of Cleveland have suddenly seized the opportunity created by the depression to try to break the unions of waiters, cooks and other hotel employes.

Heretofore these hotels have done business directly with the unions. Now, without any wage or other dispute to complicate things, they have abruptly announced that they will do so no more. Instead, each employe must sign an individual contract or working agreement.

The unions, naturally enough, have struck. But one of the hotel officials remarks contemptuously:

"Oh, we're getting all the help we need. It's surprising how many want jobs now. You don't notice it until something like this comes up."

That is precisely the point. What the whole affair comes down to is that these hotels are taking advantage of the business depression to try to break the labor unions.

One can be pardoned for wondering if this is exactly in line with President Hoover's recommendations of last fall concerning industry's obligation to the country. No one, surely, will be so naive as to suppose that this attempt to establish an "open shop" will lead to anything on earth but wage reductions.

Of course, what happens in these Cleveland hotels isn't terribly important to the country as a whole. Less than 200 workers are involved. The principle of the thing, however, is extremely important.

It all comes down to this: is business, generally, going to take the present era of hard times as an opportunity to take a whack at organized labor?

If so, business is acting very foolishly. It is simply laying up trouble for itself in the future.

Prosperity will return, eventually. Labor can be expected to remember this sort of thing; and when labor gets the upper hand, no one need be surprised if labor takes occasion to enforce a few unjustified demands on its own hook.

If the action of these Cleveland hotels is indicative of the attitude of the business world as a whole, the business world has a great deal less sense than the American public likes to give credit for.

The Lenton Season for Voters

DURING the current week, when the eyes of all voters will be turned in critical scrutiny upon candidates for nomination to public office next Saturday, one may ask pertinently how many of those who will seek by their ballots to enthrone civic righteousness will remember that such a quality can be effectively established only by their own daily doings.

Much of the conversation among adults of the entire state during the next few days will be devoted to discussion of various candidates. Their respective merits, or lack of them, will be compared. Actual and reported sins of the past will be reviewed at great length, while some effort will be made to point out past accomplishments. The voter will set himself seriously to the task of selecting the candidate who, if elected, will manufacture good government and provide adequate distribution of that rare commodity.

But this element of civic righteousness which always is to be enthroned in the coming election can not exist actively in the elected officeholders without the active existence of its complement in those who do the electing.

Any man rejoices in being able to declare that he has never had to use a physician's service to maintain his health. His statement and condition, as well as the attitude of his fellows, imply his capacity to direct his own physical habits in a manner conducive to continued good health.

In selecting members of governmental departments, the body politic is appointing doctors not only to diagnose its ills, but to apply, with such force as may be required, corrective measures. Officers to make laws and to enforce them are required largely because of the individual voter's own inability to maintain perfect civic health.

Any person who has availed himself of a physician's aid knows that the doctor emphasizes prevention as being far better than a cure. The patient is urged to respect those long-established laws of sanitation and moderation which are basically the secret of health.

Laws of civic health already written on the books of county, state and nation were born of purpose and study quite as sincere as those which animate the present campaign. Establishment of the desired state of civic well-being throughout the land depends quite as largely upon the voter's compliance with such laws as upon his critical selection of political diagnosticians and surgeons.

The fullest purposes of enlightened democracy will be served in every election if the individual voter demands of himself the highest type of civic purity while demanding that quality in his candidate for office.

Balm

I placed you on a pretty pedestal,
I sang your praises all around the town,
If ever any youngster took a fall
That lad was I—I surely played the clown;
It seemed to me that you stood all alone,
A paragon of charm and loveliness,
I merely cared to worship at your throne,
And revel in the lure of each caress.

Yet, over night your reign came to an end,
The spell was broken and the romance through,
And you are now a casual little friend
I use to fill a fleeting hour or two;

No matter what you do—you leave me cold,
Thank God I'm getting wise—or getting old!

—Kid Kazanova.

Cute Stuff

The Allan Dwans, of Hollywood, according to Louella Parsons, have had a difficult time of it shooting off uninvited guests to their parties. The Dwans tried every trick but with no good results. They urged their newspaper colyuming friends to insert paragraphs warning pests that they would be snubbed if they crashed their home, but the idea didn't click.

They finally thought of a successful ruse, which also served as a new name for their shack. They have posted a neat sign on the gate, which reads: "Dwan Away!"

Crippled for Life

It is E. E. Paramore Jr.'s note that a vaudeville actor was limping along on crutches, suffering from a broken toe.

"How come?" asked Paramore.

"I got it," was the bitter retort, "kicking a booking agent in the heart."

Flip Quip

They were speaking of a certain producer of a certain revue which shall remain nameless because the gendarmes raided it recently. At any rate, a certain wiseheimer said that the producer's alleged brain probably consisted of a lot of torn French postcards.

Dawgonnit!

You can't be the life of the party any more around New York. That is, if your specialty is relating smoking-car tales.

Because your listeners have already seen Earl Carroll's rephew!

Unhappy Ending

At a Canadian track recently the husband of an adored celebrity wagered a goodly sum on a steed bearing his wife's name. The horse surprised its backers by coming in first and paying a sweet price, seven to one.

The horse never won a race before, the husband making the wager purely for sentimental reasons.

One lad, however, who went broke backing the horse for the past two years, left the track shaking his head.

He was the lad who christened the horse—when he was romantic.

As a Matter of Fact

"Dear Walter," writs Izzy Elinson, "Here's a new name for it: 'Broadway—A Fun Way Street.'

For some people.

Show Business

When they were struggling for recognition several years ago they were the best of pals—helping each other arrange a better makeup, a way to deliver a line that would positively get result, or this or that. That was when they were dressing in smelly cellar dressing rooms, eating in second rate restaurants, dwelling in ditto hotels, or staying up all night to save Pullman expenses. Now they are essaying important roles in one of the town's musical hits and they are cast as sweeten-heartens.

And from your pew out front their stage wooing is most convincing. Or when they are supposed to keep you in stitches they bowl you over with their pranks. But they despise each other—in the furious manner.

Out of view they kick each other in the shins or bang each other against the off-stage wings, and otherwise offer evidence of their hate.

Amazing, really—considering that the next moment their cue brings them on stage, where they must follow the manuscript and embrace in the pashy manner, kiss torridly, and boop-oop-a-doop. And to make him all the more miserable, before each performance she eats a mess of garlic.

Scenes That Make Me Cry
(From Laughing)

She was tall, slim and smartly stiff. She was scented sweetly and she was swanky. Ooh, my deah! Lorgnettes and everything. The type that gets dizzy from looking down on people. She gave a great impersonation of a snob at the popular Club Abbey early this yawning.

Suddenly she decided she was bored, so adjusting her spectacles, she picked up her skirts and swished out with her big head higher than Central Park Casino prices.

And what happened? She stumbler and fell flat on her nose, with nobody going to her assistance. The laughter, however, became deafening when a clown cried:

"There should have been steps there!"

The Broadway Way

You might recall how this column recently aided a fashionable beach club to find a prety girl to serve as singer and ciggie peddler—the girl getting the job being permitted to pocket all tips—besides her salary.

Well, a little lady from Harrisburg, Pa., Got The Job, and of course what with this and what with that, she was so busy she couldn't find time to jot down a note of thanques.

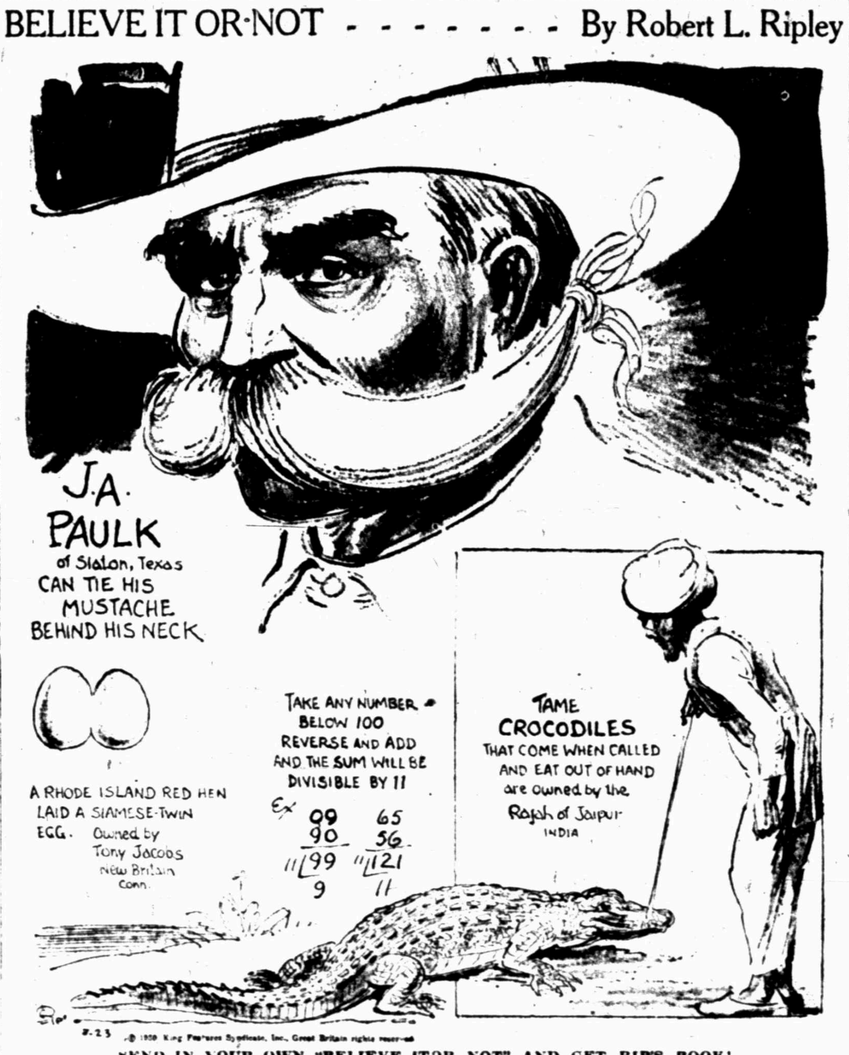

A note, however, was received yesterday from her, in which she wished that we didn't mention the fact that she is a Junior Leaguer because that organization "resents it," and if possible, she would rather not be mentioned at all.

Veriwell, madame.

"STEP-CHILD"

BY ROB EDEN

Kay Smith, who can remember nothing of her past, learns from Jim Whalen, a stranger, that he positively believes her to be Kitty Banning, confidence woman. Dane Talbot, whom Kay loves, refuses to believe it, but she determines to visit the small town of Langly to learn about the parents and life of Kitty Banning. Kay finds the Bannings dead, but learns that they were "trash" and that Kitty had a brother, Micky.

CHAPTER XII

The woman whom Kay knew now as Mrs. Jones, left the room for a moment to stir her dinner on the kitchen stove. The girl could smell the strong, onion flavored stew. Presently she came back, and sat down in the creaking rocker, swinging her heavy weight into it slowly. For Mrs. Jones was stout. She just managed to wedge into the seat, with no room to spare.

"A friend of Kitty's, did you say?" She asked.

"No, not Kitty's."

"Micky, then." Kay nodded. She evidently had to claim friendship with someone. It might be Mickey as well as anybody. Jim Whalen had mentioned him, and the woman proved he existed.

"I never did see Micky, either, but they say he was a better son to ol' Mrs. Banning than Kitty was a daughter. Although, he never come to the funeral, never come around at all. I never seen him, either. Funny children to have."

So Mickey was Kitty's brother. She was glad that was settled.

"You ever seen Kitty?" Mrs. Jones resumed.

Kay denied ever meeting Kitty.

"Well, they say she was pretty as a pitchur. Golden hair, and great big eyes. But Langly was too small for her. She wanted to get away to the big city. Left here when she was 15, or so. Ain't never been back."

Kitty with golden hair.... the hand that Kay put on the arm of the rocker shook a little. She murmured something inaudible.

"Mrs. Banning didn't leave any pictures of Kitty, and of Micky, did she?" she managed to ask.

"Well, there was some things around, but I burnt 'em. Didn't know nobody'd want 'em. I'm sorry. They say around here that Kitty kinda went to the bad. 'Course they don't know, 'cause nobody really knows. But they gossip a lot around here, about her and Micky. Micky was the best of 'em, and none too good at that. Oh—" she held up her head in apology, "I don't mean to run down a friend of yours. You ain't married to him, are you?"

Kay denied this vigorously. She wanted to get away. She had learned all she had come for. She had verified Jim Whalen's story. There was a Kitty, a Micky. The Kitty was golden haired—very reasonably a thief. Again she forced her mind onto the room, trying to find something familiar in it. But the furniture—it was probably not the same.

"Are these Mrs. Banning's things?"

"Yeh, Miss, this is just the way it was. I ain't got no money to buy anything new. So I just moved in here like it was. Ain't too fine, I know, but when you got five kids, you can't be particular.

The smell of the stew was stifling Kay, so she got up to go, wondering what to say to Mrs. Jones before she left. Wondering whether her thin story had been believed. She managed to leave with just a plain "thank you," however, and hurled down the board sidewalk to the tracks.

Jim might be right. She might be Kitty Banning. If only something had seemed familiar, some bit of furniture, something about the house, the room in which she had been sitting. Nothing was, though. There were few people in old town as she went through it, a fact she was thankful for. She had been afraid all the time that some one would hail her as Kitty as Jim Whalen had done. Yet, it was a long time since Kitty had left . . . years, and Whalen had seen her since.

She wished she had asked Mrs. Jones more about Kitty. She had not purposely, because she felt Mrs. Jones would gossip about her strange visitor anyway, after she had gone.

A picture . . . there had been one. Too bad Mrs. Jones had burned it. Then, perhaps it was best. For Kay had definitely made up her mind that she didn't want to be Kitty Banning. She would rather die than be Kitty Banning. But the uncertainty of it. That was what mattered. The fact she wasn't sure. Would never be sure. She realized, though, that the knowledge, the definte knowledge would hurt more than the uncertainty.

She marveled at the change in her feelings. Before she had met Jim Whalen, her anxiety to know who she was superceded everything. Now, she doubted whether she really wanted to know. Felt that she had better leave things as they were.

A Feeling of Shame

At the hotel, she checked out to take the noon train, answering Ted Bagger's inquiries as to whether she had found Miss Martha home in the affirmative.

What would this pompous white haired clerk think if he knew she had been across the tracks, to see the other Bannings? Trash, he had said they were.

She was impatient to be back in New York, but it was not until 10 o'clock at night that she finally landed at Grand Central station. Was it too late to do what she had planned? For she wanted to see Doctor Raleigh right away. There were many things she had to ask him.

She decided she would take the chance of his being home, and up, so took the subway out to his house, which with his office combined was in the seventies just off Fifth avenue. He was not in at the moment, but expected very soon. She sat down in his comfortable, luxurious waiting room. The man who had admitted her looked in curiously now and then. At first he had said Doctor Raleigh only saw people by appointment on Sunday, then, when he had seen the hurt, worried look in her brown eyes, he had decided to take a chance, and let her wait.

Doctor Raleigh was surprised when he came in at 11 and found her. He welcomed her gladly, though, and took her into his living room, where he ordered a glass of hot milk for her.

"Now, what's this midnight visit for?" he chided.

"I've something to tell you, and I thought it couldn't wait. I mean—not until tomorrow night. I've been looking up my past."

"Recognize something?" He was the alert physician very quickly.

"No—but I had a fairly good lead.

The Record News Offers A Booklet on Ice Creams

Heavy cream is the most satisfactory base for desserts frozen without stirring, according to the government expert who prepared the booklet now available to readers of The Record News for a postage and handling charge of 10 cents. Such cream is used in making mousses and in combination with egg whites in parfaits. These are frozen by packing in ice and salt or placing in a mechanical refrigerator, provided the temperature of the unit is sufficiently low, from 21 to 27 degrees Fahrenheit.

Heavy cream is expensive, however, and if used alone is too rich to be palatable; so recipes have been prepared in which the rich cream is diluted by the addition of evaporated milk and thin cream, or by rich milk thickened with gelatin, eggs or flour.

Send today for booklet that tells all about this.

Frederic J. Haskin, Director,
The Record News Information Bureau,

I enclose herewith 10 cents in coin or stamps for a copy of the booklet, Ice Creams.

BANK ROBBED OF $85,000

Wisconsin Trio Escapes With Securities

HARTFORD, Wis., July 22. (INS)—Three well-dressed bandits held up the First National bank here today and escaped with $85,000 in cash and securities.

Roy Bailey, the bank's cashier, was struck on the head with a gun by one of the bandits, and another bank employe was knocked unconscious. They were slow in obeying a command to "stick 'em up."

One of the employes was compelled at the point of a gun to open the vault. The bandits scooped the contents into a bag, walked from the building, and escaped in an automobile bearing Wisconsin license plates. The license number was obtained.

Jury Indicts Boy, 14, For Slaying His Nurse

MORRISTOWN, N. J., July 22. (INS)—Harry Woolsey, 14, of Ridgewood, N. J., was today indicted by the grand jury for the murder of his nurse.

Woolsey is accused of having stabbed to death Miss Anna Miller, 20, and then throwing her body from a cliff on Green mountain.

The defendant is expected to enter a plea of insanity.

Prosecutor Meslar, who presented the case to the grand jury, said he would not ask the death penalty for the youth.

STEALS CHURCH FUNDS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 22.(UP)—A bandit entered the office of the Linwood Christian church here today, forced Miss Margaret Lamar, treasurer, to open the safe, and escaped with $200 in checks.

English Sparrow's 'Cheep, Cheep' Halts Demand for Slayer's Life

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 22. (AP)—A little English sparrow, with utter disregard for the majesty of the law or the gravity of the case, halted a murder trial in court today and paid with its life for being in contempt of court.

The state's attorney was in the act of demanding the life of a negro, charged with murdering another negro. As is usually the case in murder trials, there was no atmosphere of levity, as the attorney propounded the law and the evidence.

"Cheep, cheep," came a sound from a window ledge, as the attorney paused dramatically.

The little bird might have gotten away with it if he had stopped then, but he flew inside and continued cheeping until Judge Dewitt T. Gray stopped the trial.

A bailif was ordered to do something. He secured a fishing pole. There was a merry chase and much confusion but finally the pole found its mark and the trial continued.

Threat of Race War Drives Out Filipinos

SANTA ROSA, Calif., July 22. (UP)—Scores of Filipinos were leaving here today, alarmed by the possibility of a race war between white and Filipino fruit pickers.

Sheriff Douglass Bills posted armed deputies in various orchards following the rumor that Filipino workers had been ordered by the white pickers to leave the town by 9 o'clock last night.

"The first man to start trouble will be locked up," Sheriff Bills said. "I will not tolerate methods of this sort."

TROLLEY COLLISION

PITTSBURGH, July 22. (UP)—Twenty persons were injured, two seriously, when two inbound street cars collided at an intersection in the Lawrenceville district today. All were taken to hospitals.

FORCED DOWN

Vacation Trip Causes Mangum Youth To Leave Tree

MANGUM, Okla., July 22. (UP)—Vacation trips are a nuisance, "Deacon" McGrady Jr., said today when a trip to Washington made it necessary for him to abandon his perch in a dogwood tree where he had sat for 127 hours in an attempt to break the endurance tree-sitting record.

June Adams, "Deacon's" companion, reamined aloft today and had completed his 115th consecutive hour at 2 a. m.

Dog Training Plan Costs Jail Term

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 22. (AP)—L. Gurgin will have five days in which the think up a more humane method of breaking dogs from digging holes in the ground.

Gurgin was sentenced in police court today to serve five days in jail and pay a fine of $25 for mistreating a puppy.

Recently he dug a hole in the ground, tied his dog's feet together, buried the dog, leaving only its nose above the earth, and rolled a log over it. The howls of the puppy led neighbors to investigate and they had Gurgin jailed. He told them he had broken three other dogs of digging holes in this way and that he believed it a good method.

Judge Muncy Anderson heard the case last week and said he was too angry to sentence the man at the time. Today he gave Gurgin the limit.

INDIA AWAITS GANDHI PARLEY

Congress Envoys to Visit Imprisoned Leader

BOMBAY, July 22. (AP)—India tonight awaited the outcome of a private interview which will take place in the Veroda jail at Poona tomorrow between two envoys of the congress and Mahatma Gandhi, leader of the campaign of civil disobedience against British rule.

The two Hindu statesmen arrived in Poona tonight from Bombay, according to advices and were prepared to interview Gandhi in his prison quarters without the attendance of any other persons.

Before their departure from Bombay the leader of the two, Sir Tej Bahdur Sapru said he had no idea how long the conversation with the Nationalist leader would last. He agreed with his companion, Mr. Jayakar, it might take half an hour or two days when questioned by interviewers.

After seeing the Mahatma, Sapru and Jayakar planned to go to Allahabad to interview similarly Pandit Motalil Nahru and Panit Jawaharlal Nahru. Their object is to obtain views regarding an entire cessation of the civil resistance program.

Stroke Kills Woman In Filled Bath Tub

FORT WORTH, July 22. (AP)—The fully clad body of Mrs. Julia Scarborough, 57, was found today under water in the bath tub at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. L. Boyd. Death is believed to have been caused by heart disease.

Autoist's Burglar Alarm Arouses The Neighborhood

KANSAS CITY, July 22. (AP)—An unoccupied sedan which has been disturbing an outlying neighborhood with periodical sounding of its horn was silenced by police here today.

Officers traced its owner, G. W. Henderson, who explained he had invented an automatic burglar alarm, placing a clock to make an electrical contact with the sounding device so that the car bespoke its presence each hour, 24 hours daily.

The complaint of neighbors overbalanced the value of the device for protection against burglary in the officers' minds, so now Henderson will have to run out to see whether his car is at the curb every hour.

LOS ANGELES, July 22. (UP)—Effectual use of monkey glands may easily prolong life to 110 or 120 years, it was declared today by Dr. Sege Voronoff, Viennese surgeon, upon arrival here for a visit.

SOCONY DENIES REUNION PLANS

Re-Merging of Old Standard Firms Not Possible

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—Through Peter M. Speer, its vice president and general counsel, the Standard Oil company of New York answered today the intimation of government counsel that if it is permitted to merge with the Vacuum Oil company the merger may be the first step in a reunion of several members of the old Standard Oil company, dissolved by the federal order in 1911.

Speer, testifying in the government's suit to prevent the merger, said that far from leading to other mergers, the Socony-Vacuum union would intensify the competition between the Standard Oil of New York and other Standard Oil companies.

More and more, there would be an invasion of the territories of other companies, a trend which has grown markedly in the last five years, he said Socony suffered under the federal dissolution of 1911, in comparison with other units of the parent company, because it had been thrown on its own resources without crude oil supplies and with few refineries.

Fascist Leader To Protest Ruling

BUCHAREST, Rumania, July 22. (AP)—Zelea Codreanu, Fascist leader and anti-semitic agitator, today made known his intention to march through Bucharest with a company of his followers in protest against the prohibition by the government of the march of the "Iron Guard" through Bessarabia.

Codreanu headed a procession of his followers yesterday in the streets, carrying a dagger between his teeth.

The agitator has been in trouble with the police frequently in the last 10 years. In 1924 he was arrested for the killing of the prefect of police of Jassy. He was acquitted.

And 23,720 beauty experts the world over recommend Palmolive for keeping skin lovely.

IN Hollywood, beauty is not accepted as a gift of the gods and casually dismissed. Lovely women of the screen must rely upon professional beauty experts to keep their skin flawless for the tell-tale camera.

Perhaps that is why laws regarding beauty practice are so stringent in California. Every beauty shop owner in this state must be a licensed operator, and must know, thoroughly, how to care for the skin.

You can appreciate, then, the importance of this fact: 76 of the 80 beauty shops in Hollywood advise their patrons to use Palmolive Soap as the best means of keeping skin lovely between salon treatments. These 76 shops care for all the well-known stars of the screen. They are the Hollywood authorities on beauty culture! And all 76 of them consider Palmolive best!

The Hollywood treatment

The twice-a-day treatment advised in the Capital of Screenland is the very same method urged by the great beauty specialists all over Europe and America. Here it is:

Massage a lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water gently into the skin for about two minutes. Rinse this off with generous applications of warm water, then colder and colder. That final cold water rinse closes the pores, acts as an astringent.

You could use no finer daily care than this. And use Palmolive for the bath, as well. Millions do, all over the world. It costs no more than ordinary soaps, you know.

Your Own Beauty Expert is Professionally Trained

In every city in America are specialists who have spent years in study of the complexion. Go to one of them with your beauty problems regularly. Let them prescribe the daily treatment best suited to your skin.

"Among our patrons are the smartest women in Hollywood, Los Angeles, Pasadena. We must know all the beauty treatments in vogue on the continent. Among these the most famous is the Palmolive Soap treatment.

"You massage Palmolive lather gently into the face. Then wash off with warm water followed by cold."

Piles Often Cause Nervousness

Piles or hemorrhoids and other such irritations are responsible for much suffering, not only to these local parts, but in the influence these disorders have upon the whole nervous system. There are few parts of the body where the nerves are so sensitive and from which so many reflex pains and irritations can come.

The most common rectal trouble is caused by an enlargement of the veins very much resembling varicose veins. These veins always enlarge through some interference with the normal flow of blood away from the rectum. The veins in this region seem especially liable to enlargement because they do not contain the usual valves which other veins contain to keep the blood from flowing backward.

When the portal circulation to the liver is congested, the rectal veins must enlarge. Such a sluggish portal circulation may be caused by constipation, liver congestion, prolapsus of the abdominal organs, the use of strong cathartics, long continued sitting or standing, straining through lifting, accumulation of gas, misplaced uterus or pregnancy.

By far the most important cause of piles is constipation. Those who are forced to strain to produce a bowel movement sooner or later will develop an irritation in this region, and the pressure of impacted feces stops the flow of blood through the veins away from the rectum.

The internal piles probably affect the nervous system more than the external, although they are not so noticeable locally. At first, the internal veins are not visible, but as they grow larger when the bowels move, the piles may come down or protrude. The patient notices a feeling of heat, fulness, burning and stinging, and has the sensation of a foreign body in the rectum. In some cases the first symptom is bleeding which is not excessive. It is not very painful at first, but as it becomes more and more inflamed it may become sore as a boil and cause the patient a great deal of distress.

When the lining is inflamed, rough material in the movement may cause the tender masses to bleed. The patient then has bleeding piles. When toxins accumulate, there may be intense itching.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

White Spots on Skin

Question—Miss M. E. writes: "I have white spots over my neck and arms which have been there since I was 13. Can you tell me what caused them, and if there is any way to get rid of them?"

Answer—The white spots are caused by a destruction of the skin pigment through a systemic acidosis which you had when you were 13 years old. I know of no way to restore this pigment to the spots affected, but you can prevent more from forming if you will live a healthful life and eat so that you do not have another period of acidosis.

More Iron in Wheat or Spinach?

Question—K. L. asks: "Is it true there is more iron in whole wheat than in spinach or any other vegetable, and is it as easily assimilated?"

Answer—Whole wheat contains only .3 parts of iron a 1,000 parts of dry substance, whereas, spinach contains 6.07 parts of iron a 1,000 parts of dry substance. So far as can be judged from ordinary tests, there is no difference in the assimiliability of the iron in different foods.

Salt Water in Morning

Question—Reader writes: "Upon arising in the morning I have been taking a teaspoonful of salt in a quart of lukewarm water. Is this harmful?"

Answer—I do not recommend that you use salt to such an extent as you write about, although it does have the effect on your bowels. Try balancing your diet with enough green vegetables to give your intestines the necessary bulk, and I am sure you will not need any kind of cathartic or laxative.

Graham Crackers Starchy

Question—Mrs. B. asks: "Are graham crackers with milk and orange juice a good combination for breakfast?"

Answer—Milk and orange juice is a good combination for breakfast, or to be taken in place of any other meal of the day, but graham crackers or other starchy foods should not be used with this orange-milk combination.

Von Hindenburg Tours Rhineland

COBLENZ, Germany, July 22. (AP)—President von Hindenburg, continuing his journey through the liberated Rhineland, today traversed the most romantic section of the Rhine by steamer.

Starting from Eltville for Coblenz, he passed many points famous in the legends of the Rhine, especially the Lorelei rock and the Mouse tower near Bingen.

Church bells pealed and salutes thundered on both banks as the presidential steamer passed down the historic stream between vine-clad hills dominated by the ruins of ancient castles.

At Coblenz, the former headquarters of the American expeditionary force, Von Hindenburg landed at the famous "Dutsches Eck" (German corner), where the Moselle flows into the Rhine and where a gigantic statute of Emperor William I dominates the scene.

Cannons from the fortress of Ehrenbreitstein on the opposite bank of the Rhine boomed a salute as the townsfolk cheered the venerable statesman.

The president then drove to the city hall, where the tide of oratory again ran high.

Brilliant fireworks and the illumination of Ehrenbreitstein fortress are to complete the Coblenz festivities tonight.

Bandits Abandon Car After Robbery Fails

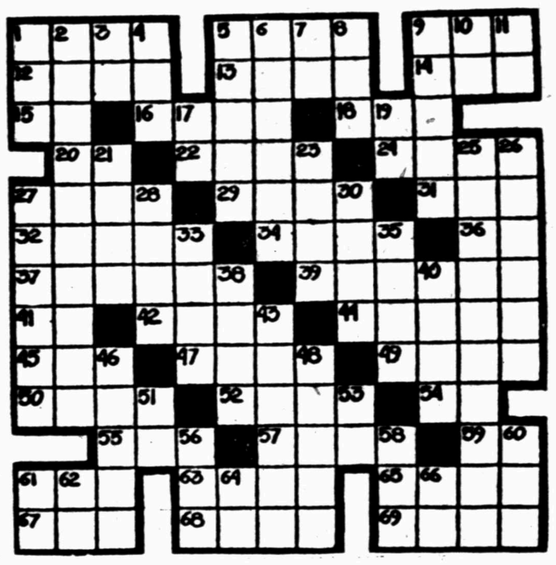

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 22. (AP)—The government today had an automobile as an unwilling gift from robbers who made an unsuccessful attempt to loot the North Charleston postoffice last night.

Unable to break the postoffice safe open, the robbers pushed the 1,800-pound strong box through a window where it tumbled into the tonneau of their car. The safe crashed through the car's floor and the robbers found it impossible to move either car or safe.

Postoffice employes found safe and car this morning.

Exports of merchandise from North Carolina were valued at $99,524,789 in 1929.

ARCHDUKE ON OUTSIDE AGAIN

Leopold Fnially Despairs Of Early Trial

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—Archduke Leopold of Austria, who went to jail voluntarily the other day in the hope of getting an earlier trial on charges of complicity in the illegal sale of the Napoleon necklace owned by his royal aunt, gave up hope today of being tried before fall, and supplied bail of $7,500 so that he might be released.

In his wake he left an investigation brewing.

The archduke wanted a speedy trial so that, if acquitted, he might return to Austria, where he said his brother's recent death left many matters requiring his attention.

Today, free again on bond, he was asked by the judge who approved the bond whether an attorney had come to him and promised to get him a quick trial.

"Yes," replied the archduke, "he told me he had influence with the district attorney and could get me released in a week and have my case disposed of."

The court ordered an inquiry.

Five Oklahomans Held for Robberies

KANSAS CITY, July 22. (INS)—Five Oklahoma men, four from Tulsa and one from Muskogee, are under arrest here today for investigation in connection with two holdups of chain store collectors yesterday which netted about $15,000.

The five men, Henry H. McClain, Lee Turney, John Sunday and Horace Wood, all of Tulsa, and Lloyd Williams, of Muskogee, were arrested after a chase by motorcycle policemen who suspicioned their actions. Search of the blue Chrysler car the men were driving disclosed three pistols fully loaded.

Abyssinian Sultan Builds Roads So He Can Ride in Shiny Red Car

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—Somewhere in the mountainous reaches of the province of Jimma, Abyssinia, where roads are little more than trails, is a vivid red American automobile, its contented owner being the ultra-rich sultan of the province.

Surrounded by his entourage of many servants, the sultan went to Addis Ababa, capital of Abyssinia. In a showroom of an automobile agency was an American car painted a beautiful green, the holy color of the Moslems. Sultan Jifar blew the horn, smoothed the upholstery and particularly admired the color. Across the street was a rival agency, whose cars were painted a dazzling red. The sultan pondered his problem and chose the red car.

A report to the state department from the American legation in Addis Ababa said that in addition to the $3,600 paid for the car, the sultan readily paid an American taxi driver $824 to take the car to his province on river rafts and is now spending many thousands of dollars constructing crude roads. Meanwhile, the sultan meditates on the joy which will be his with the first ride.

New Skyscraper to Be Constructed at Dallas

DALLAS, July 22. (AP)—Dr. John O. McReynolds announced today he would construct a professional tower of 25 stories at the corner of Live Oak and Harwood streets as soon as plans can be completed. He estimated the cost of the structure at $2,000,000. The skyscraper will be designed to meet the needs of the medical profession and will include a completely equipped hospital, he said.

CORPUS CHRISTI, July 22. (AP)—Officers today were in possession of information that made them believe the body of a man found near here July 11 could have been that of Eugene Pearson Buchanan of Houston, who disappeared last April.

Earl Carroll Asks Trial Transfer

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—A motion by Earl Carroll to have the trial of himself and three members of the cast of his musical revue "Vanities" removed from special sessions to general sessions, where it would be heard by a jury, was taken under advisement today by General Sessions Judge Otto Rosalsky.

The four are charged with producing and taking part in an indecent performance. They were held in magistrates court for special sessions, where three judges sit. Carroll claims that large property rights are involved and also that a jury should decide whether the fan dance and the window undressing scene were objectionable. Both scenes have been removed from the show since the police raid.

Unwanted Baby 'Ring' Uncovered in Canada

ST. HYACINTHE, Que., July 22. (AP)—A woman was under arrest today and police were trying to round up other members of a ring alleged to have made a business of abandoning unwanted babies for $50 a child.

The organization is believed to have deposited unwanted children on doorsteps. Twenty babies have been abandoned in Three Rivers, four in Granby, and nine in St. Hyachinthe since April 10.

Four of the babies found in St. Hyacinthe have been identified by young women employed in a maternity home in Montreal as having come from that institution. The babies, police say, are taken from Montreal at night in automobiles and left in small villages on private doorsteps and at the portals of charitable institutions.

Storm Causes $100,000 Loss in Ohio Area

VANWERT, Ohio, July 22. (AP)—A windstorm which whipped over this city today caused damage estimated by fire officials at $100,000.

Roofs were torn away and several small buildings were severely jarred by the force of the storm.

No one was injured.

DAIRY MEETING PLANS MADE

South Plains Producers Invited to Parley

PLAINVIEW, Texas, July 22. (AP)—Invitations have been sent to the poultry and dairy farmers of the South Plains to hear William F. Schilling, poultry and dairy member of the federal farm board, here July 25.

It is understood negotiations may be opened to make the Hale County Dairy association a nucleus for farm board cooperative dairy marketing participation in Texas.

The Hale county association had 1,200 members, owns its own creamery and ships annually more than 500,000 pounds of finished butter.

Widow of Murat Boyle Gets $315,000 Estate

KANSAS CITY, July 22. (AP)—The widow of Murat Boyle, Kansas City attorney and president of the Missouri Bar association who plunged to death with four other Kansas City men in an airplane crash at Aransas Pass, Texas, recently, will receive an estate valued at $280,000 in personal property and $35,000 in real estate, it was disclosed in Mr. Boyle's will filed today in probate court. Mr. Boyle also had life insurance aggregating between $90,000 and $100,000, part of which Mrs. Boyle has received.

The will bequeaths $1 each to Mr. Boyle's father, Harvey A. Boyle, and a brother, R. Virgil Boyle, both of Oklahoma City. The father has died since the will was executed.

Mother and Children Drown as Car Plunges

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 22. (AP)—Two children and their mother were drowned today when their automobile skidded through the railing of the Kanawha City bridge and plunged into the Kanawha river about 80 feet below.

Rescue workers applied artificial respiration to the mother, Mrs. Eva Hupp, 28, of Coal Fork, in an unsuccessful effort to revive her. The two children, Alice, 8, and James 6.

A proposed one-cent tax on each two-quart fruit jar sold in North Carolina would yield an annual revenue of $250,000.

"STEP-CHILD"

BY ROB EDEN

I've decided not to look any longer."

"Why, child?"

Something about him that was so fatherly, so kind, that quick tears came to her eyes. She dabbed at them with her handkerchief, and continued. "Because, it's so terrible."

"What?"

"The past."

"You're certain of it?"

"No, not certain, and I don't want to be. I'll be very frank with you. I'd rather not know for sure." Then quickly, her words falling over each other in her eagerness to talk, she told him where she had been that day, omitting nothing except the name of the Bannings and that of Jim Whalen. She didn't want Doctor Raleigh to know those, yet. They were her secret, and she was going to keep them.

Raleigh listened to her in silence. His eyes never left her tragic beautiful face.

"You want to know what I think?" He asked when she finished, and was leaning back on the soft cushions of the lounge, exhausted.

"Yes. I want to know if you think I could be this girl. Is it possible?" Her voice was so low he could hardly hear it, and her tired, dark lashes cast long shadows on her pale cheeks. She had taken off her hat, and her hair was gold on the dark, velvet couch.

"I'm going to send you home, child, in my car." He rang for the servant who appeared almost immediately, and gave the necessary orders.

"But you haven't told me."

"Your story is too ridiculous to believe, Kay. The story about this girl you might be."

"But, Doctor Raleigh, when you last talked to me you promised you'd always be honest. Tell me the truth. You're not telling me the truth now, and you know it, I know it, just as well as I know that it is perfectly possible that I am Kitty—" she caught herself in time. "This girl."

"You think it possible for me to believe that a refined, intelligent girl, such as you are, could be the ungrateful little thief you described? No."

"But this man, Jim, told me that this girl was different, he was really somewhat in awe of her. At least that's the way it seemed to me."

"No more arguments tonight, young lady. You're going home to bed, and you're going to forget this—"

"I wish I could," she smiled wanly, as he put her in the car, and gave the chauffeur her address.

Raleigh, when he reached his living room again, sat down on the couch. It still seemed to hold the slender fragile figure of Kay. The imprint of her body lingered on the soft cushions. He wished he really could believe what he had told her. That she couldn't be this girl, this thief. He had said it more than anything to comfort her. And she had seen through his subterfuge. A bright girl.

Puzzled

Her case puzzled him a good deal. So much he wanted to do for her, and yet so little had he accomplished. Now this tale. Impossible on the face of it, seeing the girl, knowing her as she was. And yet not so impossible. He was positive she had had great unhappiness in her life. He would stake his reputation on it. He was just as positive that her courage, her will, would bring back the past to her. He had seldom seen such bravery in patients of her type. Never, in fact.

He had promised to be honest with her, and yet honesty didn't go with this kind of a case. He couldn't tell her face to face that she might be this Kitty. Was Kitty the name? Yes. Kitty. That she might easily have risen from her environment to be the intelligent, well spoken girl she was. A crook? A thief? Possible, because there is a little of the crook, the thief, in all of us. Hatred, loathing of her chosen profession might have finally blocked her consciousness, forced her to forget the past.

A reasonable theory. Workable, but he didn't like it at all.

He swore softly under his breath. Dane Talbot with all his detectives hadn't yet been able to get a lead on the girl's past. And she, by her own efforts, had already accomplished more than the agencies had. He would advise Talbot tomorrow to stop the detectives. Kay was right. If she were this other girl, this Kitty, it would be better not to know for sure. Doubt was better than certainty.

Plucky little devil . . .

She Lost 19 Pounds Of Fat in 27 Days

During October a woman in Montana wrote—"My first bottle of Kruschen Salts lasted almost 4 weeks and during that time I lost 19 pounds of fat—Kruschen is all you claim for it—I feel better than I have for years."

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast—do not overeat—walk a little each day.

Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat."—Don't miss a morning. The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and grases are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts is carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fiber of the body and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected by bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

If you want to lose fat with speed get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts from Allison Drug store or any live druggist anywhere in America with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back.—Adv.

At these phenomenal new low prices, made possible by the enthusiastic reception extended to the new Chrysler Straight Eights, the Chrysler "70" now fittingly leads Chrysler's line of three magnificent sixes—greatest values in the six-cylinder field.

For the Chrysler "70" has the great 93-horsepower engine of the "77", giving it speed, smoothness and flexibility never before known in any other six. It has the famous Chrysler 4-speed transmission and Multi-Range gear shift which give it, in effect, two high speeds. No other six approximates its alertness in traffic or its ability to climb hills.

It is also equipped with Chrysler weatherproof internal hydraulic brakes, the quickest and safest ever designed, giving the driver complete mastery of this tremendously powerful and speedy car. Hydraulic shock absorbers and rubber shock insulators in place of metal shackles, contribute to riding ease and roadability unexcelled even in much heavier cars.

The new low prices of the Chrysler "70"—with "77" engine—make it today's outstanding buy among fine sixes. Your present car will be accepted in trade. Chrysler's liberal financing facilities are available. 877

INDIANS DRIVE IN SEVEN RUNS ON SIX HITS TO BEAT SPUDDERS

HOMER ADDS TWO TO LEAD

Champs Fail to Overcome Early Scoring

SAN ANTONIO, July 22. (AP)—Driving in seven runs on six hits off two pitchers in the second inning San Antonio took a lead to defeat Wichita Falls 9 to 7 today.

Sam Leslie drove in three of these runs with a two-bagger and Pitcher Cy Smith helped the scoring with a timely single to put two runs across.

Ike Burns knocked a home run drive over the left fence in the third, scoring Storti and Kloza ahead. Score:

Waco Advances On Williamsmen

Dallas Bests Houston In Night Inaugural

WACO, Texas, July 22. (AP)—In a weird ball game which started in a furious fashion and finished in the same manner, Waco crept to within a half game of Wichita Falls by defeating the Sports here tonight 14 to 11. Pete Wendt, Waco third pitcher of the night went to the box in the second inning and alowed only one hit until the 9th when he was sheled from the box after allowing five more hits. Becker got the last man out. Rye hit two home runs to help the Cub cause and the Cubs pounded Owens and Morrell for 22 hits. Owens did not get anybody out in the first. Score:

CHICK EVANS TIES LEHMAN

Veteran Bids for Links Renown Again

CHICAGO, July 22. (AP)—Charles "Chick" Evans Jr., came back for more golfing renown today by wedging into a tie with another Chicagoan, Johnny Lehman, in the fight for the western amateur championship medal.

His war clubs, on a strike almost regularly since way back in 1923 when he won his 12th and last open golf crown of any reputation, clicked so brilliantly today that he carded a 72, one over par on the stubborn Beverly course, and pulled up from behind to tie Lehman with a total of 147 strokes.

Most of the favorites came through handily, including the two Britons, Cyril Tolley and T. Phillip Perkins, who qualified with 152 and 154, respectively.

Evans and Lehman won their medal tie by four big strokes over Don Armstrong of Aurora, Ill., and Ira Couch, one of the best players in the Chicago district. Five strokes away with 152 totals came Tolley, and a pair of Chicago stars, George Dawson and Ruddy Knepper. Three others were deadlocked with 153's—Bob McCrary, the trans-Mississippi champion from Des Moines, Iowa; R. A. Conliff of Oklahoma City, and Don Anderson of St. Louis, who staged a remarkable comeback with a 73 to land among the leaders.

Exporters Pound Cats For 7 to 1 Victory

BEAUMONT, July 22. (AP)—Denny Burns, veteran Exporter twirler, proved a thorn in the side of his old Fort Worth buddies this afternoon when he limited them to four hits while his Beaumont mates were pounding three Panther tossers for a 7 to 1 victory in the first game of the series. Red Roberts, new Panther tosser, fled to the showers under a barrage of base hits in the second running when the Exporters knocked out six safeties for five runs. Thormahlen followed and Egan worked the last inning. Score:

Realtor Questioned In Mary Baker Murder

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—The tangled stories of Herbert M. Campbell held the attention of police tonight as they continued to question the Virginia real estate man, the last person to come under arrest on a charge of killing Mary Baker.

Commonwealth Attorney William C. Gloth, of Arlington county, Virginia, announced tonight that Campbell's revolver, with which bureau of standards experts say the young navy department clerk was slain last April, will be taken under guard to Chicago for re-examination by Maj. Calvin Goddard, ballistic expert who testified in the Hall-Mills case.

ELECTRICS WIN OVER LEADERS

Everett Blue's Hurling Brings Victory

The Texas Electric Service company champions rallied in the fourth inning Tuesday afternoon on Harrison field and defeated the league leading Southwestern Glass and Paint company team by the score of 6 to 4 in the Merchants league. Everett Blue was a bit wild and had one bad inning but outside of this inning he hurled wonderful ball. Fred Hayes hurled nice ball until the fatal fourth outside of one drive by Slim Wooten which went for a home run in the first inning with one mate on the paths.

Ivan "Slim" Wooten, the rangy Texas Electric first sacker, was the big noise in a batting way for the game with a home run and a double in two appearances at the plate. After Blue had driven in the first run with a scorching ground single to short, Wooten connected for a long home run to account for the first three runs of the game.

Shepherd and Sandie divided second honors in the batting for the day with two singles each.

The Southwestern nine overcame the Electrics' three-run lead in the third inning on Sandie's single, walks to Barrett and Washington, and consecutive hits by Worley, Hall and Johnston, the last one going for two bases.

Wooten led off the rally in the fourth for the Killowatts with a crashing double down the first base line. Mathews poked a single into center sending Wooten to third, and Mathews pulled up at second on the throw-in. Costley lined one into deep center which Johnston leaped into the air to make a nice catch, and Wooten scored after the catch with the tying run. Mathews stole third, Cissell walked and Reisen struck out. Shepherd drove home the winning run with a high bounding single to short. Glenn Coolidge "the Killowatt Terror" then smashed a scorching drive past Sandie to score the last run of the game.

Washington opened the fifth inning with a triple for the Southwesterners, but Blue forced the next two men to hit to the box and after hitting Johnston with a pitched ball forced Pinch-Hitter Henry Richardson to roll out to third. Score:

Boulder Dam Land Sharks Get Busy

LAS VEGAS, Nev., July 22. (US)—Warning was issued today by the board of trade and the better business bureau that "high power salesman handling Boulder Dam real estate projects and stock schemes are starting operations."

It was pointed out that Boulder City, the construction base, will be on government land that has been withdrawn from entry for miles around the camp site. Boulder dam is said by interior department engineers to hold no irrigation possibilities for a large area of Nevada as it will be several hundred feet lower than any tract with soil capable of growing things if irrigated.

Algeria proper is only slightly smaller than Texas in area.

City Clerk Rings Up His Initial $25 in Tax On Golf Courses

Owners of the Indian Heights Golf course, located at 3012 Seymour road, were the first to comply with the new city ordinance of paying a $25 operating fee, according to City Clerk W. E. McBroom. The ordinance also prohibits the construction of a miniature course in the residential district with a radius of 100 feet of residences without the written consent of property owners. Mr. McBroom urged that all operators of miniature golf courses secure their permits as soon as possible.

WASHINGTON, July 22. (US)—Although retail meat prices are now down almost universally throughout the country, they may soon soar prohibitively unless the present widespread drought ends immediately, it developed today.

C. B. Denman, livestock member of the federal farm board, called attention to the fact that consumers of beef, particularly in Philadelphia and Chicago, are now enjoying drastic price reductions as a result of recent cuts following the farm board's announcement several weeks ago that retail prices were not keeping pace with the wholesale price decline.

This reduction, he said, has brought beef prices to an average of 12 cents per pound against 23 cents a pound for this time last year in most sections, although in New York city retailers have still failed to bring prices down to a fair level.

CAIRO RIOT TOLL MOUNTS

1,000 Arrested in Egyptian Centers

CAIRO, Egypt, July 22. (US)—Sporadic outbreaks again were current in Cairo, Port Said and Suez today, with the toll of casualties in two days of rioting mounting to six killed, 250 injured and 1,000 arrested.

Reports that King Fuad would abdicate and his hand-picked premier, Sidky Pasha, would resign because of the crisis were discounted today, and wide disorders are expected if the king fails to grant the Wafdist petition for an extraordinary session of parliament Saturday.

Five of the dead were killed in yesterday's rioting, while one man was killed today by police at Port Said, when a mob attempted to set fire to the municipal stables. Two of the rioters were wounded.

In Cairo, business was resumed under the watchful eye of police, stationed at all main intersections. Order is being maintained under the strict watch of the military. The arrest of 1,000 agitators, principally youth and students, is believed to have done much to alleviate conditions.

Morris Sheppard Leaves for Texas

WASHINGTON, July 22. (US)—Senator Morris Sheppard left for Texas tonight to take personal charge of his campaign for re-election.

Expressing regret that the fight over the London naval treaty made an earlier departure impossible, he said:

"I wish the people of Texas to know that I have permitted no outside interest to interfere with my public duties. During my service the senate has been in session nearly 6,000 days and I have been absent not more than 13, an average of less than a day a year during my service of more than 17 years.

"I have endeavored to vote on all questions from the viewpoint of the general good. I submit my candidacy to the people and I shall cheerfully abide the result."

A pleasant way to outfigure fat:

Observe the Proper "Form"

It's hard not to eat when you're hungry. It's tough to cut down on the sweets. What is a poor girl to do to avoid "dangerous curves ahead"? Why, bless you, honey! it's simple, and no sacrifice at all. Try this, and watch miracles unfold.

Go ahead. Eat your meals. A well-balanced diet is essential to health. But instead of over-eating at mealtime, feed your famished cells a little concentrated energy at the mid-meal hours. Dr. Pepper gives you one ounce of pure energy in pre-digested form, with five ounces of water for bulk. It is absorbed into the blood at once. No surplus is left for fat. Follow the 10-2 and 4 rule strictly, and meal-time hunger won't drive you to excess. It satisfies the sweet-tooth fully . . . and it does keep the figure trim.

Goodby Championship

The heavyweight title and its holder, Max Schmeling, center, are in Germany now, marking the first time the championship has left the United States. Before departing for his own country, Schmeling told Joe Jacobs, his manager-in-good-standing, and Tom McArdle, right, match-maker for Madison Square Garden, that he would return in a few weeks to meet Jack Sharkey, maybe.

Paddy Harmon, 'Tex Rickard of West' Dies After Injury in Accident

CHICAGO, July 22. (UP)—Patrick T. "Paddy" Harmon, known as the "Tex Rickard of the West," died today after an automobile accident in which his car left a road and turned over.

Mrs. Harman and Dr. J. E. Brand, riding with him, were injured seriously.

Born back of the old Vedder street gas house 53 years ago, Harmon rapidly became one of Chicago's best known characters through his activities as a dance hall promoter and finally his building of the Chicago stadium, one of the largest commercial sport amphitheaters in the world.

He began his promotional career when he was 16 by renting a hall and staging a dance. He made $28 that first night and was so enthused that it wasn't many years before he owned two of Chicago's best known dance halls.

He conceived the idea of the stadium back in 1921. In 1927 he quietly bought all the land it is on and then interested enough millionaires to get together $7,500,000. He built the enormous building, filled it with scarlet seats and became hugely successful in promoting boxing, six-day bicycle racing and other sports.

The directorate of millionaires, however, was dissatisfied at his not obtaining conventions, business meetings and the like to fill the building during the long waits between prize fights. So he was ousted last March from the presidency.

Pete Undecided On Future Plans

DALLAS, July 22. (AP)—Grover Cleveland Alexander, formerly "Alexander the Great" of National league fame, tonight had not decided on his future plans, following his unconditional release by the Dallas Texas league team yesterday.

"Old Pete" was reported to be ill in his hotel room. Oscar Dugey, former teammate, is in constant attendance on the former idol of the mound and said late today Alexander probably would decide Wednesday whether he would accept any of several offers made to him for exhibition performances.

PRACTICE SETS DRAW CROWDS

Cup Teams Limber Up For Match

PARIS, July 22. (AP)—Tennis of the slambing variety was indulged in today by both American and French Davis cup teams in the last practice matches before the challenge round on Friday.

Big Bill Tilden, bad ankle and all, defeated George Lott, his singles mate, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4, Henri Cochet, ace of the cup defending squad, wiped up the courts with Christian Boussus, youthful Frenchman.

Both number ones, Tilden and Cochet, took chances on stroking which, while producing a maximum of errors, provided some remarkable placements.

"What a pity there is so much at stake in the Davis cup that the players cannot afford to take such chances," was the regret of about 1,000 spectators who had paid to watch the practice. Amateur tennis now is taking a leaf out of the professional book, charging 10 francs —40 cents—for the privilege of witnessing the training.

Besides the Tilden-Lott and Cochet-Boussus matches, Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, American doubles combination, played five sets against the professionals, Martin Plaa and Karel Kozeluh. Johnny Doeg and Gregory Mangin staged a battle royal on one of the side courts, and the only nominated Davis cup player on either team who was idle today was Jacques Brugnon who thought he had "had enough tennis since April.

Indians Take Both Ends Of Pair From Yankees

CLEVELAND, July 22. Hawks to Fly 'Mystery S' To New York Thursday

WICHITA, Kan., July 22. (UP)—Capt. Frank Hawks, planning a transcontinental speed flight from east to west and back again in his new Mystery S airplane, will leave here Thursday for New York, he announced today.

His plane, damaged recently when the landing gear struck wires near the airport and nosed over, has been repaired and a new motor installed. He will make a test flight tomorrow.

Jack Johnson won heavyweight title from Tommy Burns in Sydney, Australia, the bout being stopped in the 14th round to save Burns punishment.

Spit is a horrid word, but it's worse if on the end of your cigar

. . . the war against Spitting is a crusade of decency . . . join it. smoke CERTIFIED CREMO!

Over 7,500 cigar factories are registered by the U. S. Government. Over 7,400 of these hand-roll cigars, producing 50 percent of the output. Every hand-rolled cigar—made by American Cigar Co. or anyone else—is subject to the possible danger of "spit-tipping." Certified Cremo is absolutely free from spit-tipping—No Cremo is made by hand.

The choicest, tenderest leaves that the crop affords are scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture. Certified Cremo's purity is safeguarded along every step of the way by amazing inventions that bind, roll, wrap and tip the cigars!

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—A more favorable view of the weather outlook based on forecasts for showers in the western and parts of the central belt, led to the declines from an early advance in cotton here today. Considerable uncertainty was felt as to whether the hoped for rains in the droughty sections would materialize, however, and the market steadied up in the late trading on renewed covering.

New October after selling up to 13.05 early, reacted to 12.85 and closed at 12.96 or 1 point net higher. The general market closed barely steady at a net decline of 1 point on July while later months were net unchanged to 4 points higher.

The opening was steady at a decline of 7 points to an advance of 2 points and there was some local selling on the relatively easy showing of Liverpool. This feature appeared to be pretty well offset by the failure of the early weather news to show any overnight development of showers or rains, and the market soon steadied on covering or rebuying by some of yesterday's sellers.

The new December sold up to 13.21 and March to 13.43 making net advances of about 8 to 10 points on the more active months, but July seemed to be meeting some liquidation and offerings of new crop positions increased after the posting of the official forecast for showers in parts of the western and central belts. Traders evidently hoped that these might prove the forerunner of rains in droughty sections and the market was rather unsettled late in the morning.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, July 22. (AP)—The weather dominated cotton today although lower cables than due and some liquidation in July were responsible for an early drop of 4 to 10 points. The market rallied on a disappointing weather map, gaining 9 to 13 points later in the morning on an official forecast for showers, but gradually recovered 8 to 10 points after midsession. Near the end the market eased off slightly. But July jumped 30 points on demand from straddlers who found contracts scarce. The general market closed steady net unchanged for new crop months but 27 points net higher for July.

Stock Market Becomes More Stable Despite Strong Work by Bear Group

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, July 22. (US)—The stock market stabilized itself today despite repeated attempts by the bear element to extend the decline which reached sharp proportions Monday. During the morning the bears were successful in forcing the general list to new lows on the setback, but widespread liquidation was absent. The market began to show signs of staleness on the downside and professionals were inclined to cover, if short, or to take on additional commitments on the long side of the market. There was a resumption of aggressive sponsorship in many stocks whose resistance to selling furnished cheer to the remainder of the list. The close found most stocks near their highs for the day, with net advances predominating. The public utilities as a group were particularly well-bought, despite the prevailing general professional dislike of these stocks. Firmness in the grain markets helped sentiment somewhat, while a slight gain in steel mill operations encouraged hope the bottom of at least this industry had been reached during the recent shut-down period.

Issues which constitute the so-called "Meehan group" were most prominent performers throughout the day. Reflecting the known bullishness of their sponsors, led by M. J. Meehan, head of the well-known brokerage house of M. J. Meehan and company, the entire group was persistently taken throughout the weakness, and in the subsequent improvement they were among the leaders. Radio gained 3¾, Radio-Keith 2¼, Standard Oil of New Jersey, a particular favorite of these interests, 2⅝, and Worthington Pump over 4 points. Public announcement of its position on the market is being made this morning by the Meehan firm in advertisements declaring their faith in the future of American industry, and likewise recommending the purchase of sound investment securities at prevailing prices. There is little doubt but that the leadership of Meehan and his large following has been a prime influence in recent market improvement.

The entire market reflected the betterment which developed from the strong performance of the "Meehan group." The copper shares, which have been face-to-face with continued bearish news developments, improved several points as the shorts found their efforts to dislodge additional stock unavailing. Steel common rallied almost two points from the previous close, but Bethlehem was in supply, presumably reflecting the disclosures regarding enormous bonus payments to officers. However, Bethlehem's second quarterly report is expected to be quite satisfactory, according to those in the company. Incidentally, Bethlehem's report, heretofore issued the fourth Thursday of July, will not be issued until next Thursday, due to a change in schedules. Thus, this month it will follow the U. S. steel report, which is due next Thursday, when dividend action also will be announced. Talk was heard of a possible extra by steel, but the story was hardly credited in responsible quarters.

Consolidated Gas advanced three points, ignoring the revision of gas rates announced overnight. Gas, with Standard of New Jersey, American Can and American Telephone, constituted special investment recommendations of Mr. Meehan in a special advice sent to his clients before the close. The entire utility group was strong, North American, whose earnings in the 12 months ended June 30, last, were somewhat higher than the preceding year, gained over two points, while United Corporation advanced a point. Case Threshing recovered one point of its Monday loss, as renewed buying for the account of its banking sponsors was reported to have developed on the earlier weakness. The motor stocks, led by General Motors, were in demand, G. M. gaining over a point. The new models, shortly to be introduced, are expected to stimulate automobiles sales. All of the motion picture stocks were strong.

The Vanadium pool resumed activities and marked up their pet almost five points. Air Reduction reflected short covering in a four-point gain. Firmness in Canada Dry Ginger Ale was attributed to resumed activities of a group close to the company, who were reported to have been substantial buyers of the stock recently. International Salt improved over a point in response to its favorable report for the first half of the year, which disclosed a gain over the same period of 1929.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, July 23. (AP)—Demand continued excellent for wheat on the cash grain market here today with export bids ranging around 93½c for ordinary export grain delivered gulf ports. Mill bids were 93½ to 94c for ordinary No. 1 hard wheat delivered Texas common points. Extra high protein wheat was still drawing slight premiums.

No sales of corn were reported although a fair demand was found therefor; oats were easier selling and sorghums were wanted although the values placed on those were unsettled because of the heavier offerings of new crop milo and kaffir from South Texas.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Corn, No. 2 mixed $1.00½@1.01½; No. 2 white $1.05½@1.06½; No. 2 yellow $1.01½@1.02½.

Oats—No. 2 red 44 to 45c.

Barley—No. 2 58 to 59c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds nominally $1.75@1.78; No. 2 kaffir nominally $1.65@1.68.

Dealers also quoted as follows, basis delivered Texas group one points: No. 2 mixed corn 99c@$1.00; No. 2 white corn $1.04@1.05; No. 2 yellow corn $1.00@1.01; No. 3 white oats $1.00@1.01, to which add 1 cent for delivery Texas group three.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 22. (AP)—Corn prices went soaring today to the highest point reached in many weeks. Purchasing of future deliveries of corn took on large proportions. With numerous traders who were short of corn to fill contracts becoming urgent buyers. Forecasts that suggested a renewal of extreme heat over the corn belt aroused fears of big crop damage, especially as corn growth is now at a critical stage, and there was also uneasiness on account of supplies of corn available at present being much more meager than usual.

Closing quotations on corn were nervous at nearly the day's top level, 1¾@3⅞c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Wheat, influenced by the action of corn, closed at ⅛@⅝c net advance, with oats ½@⅝c up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5 cents.

Wheat and oats today chiefly followed the lead of corn. Reports of black rust in Manitoba province, Canada, were responsible for some buying of wheat. Something of a counterbalance was a large increase of arrivals of domestic winter wheat especially at Omaha, where the total receipts were 613 cars today against 379 cars a year ago.

Despite setbacks in hog values, provisions were slightly firmer on account of upturns in cereals.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, Sept. 90¼@90⅝c, 93c; Dec. 96¼@96⅝c, 98⅜@98⅞c; March, offers, $1.03¼. Corn Sept. 79⅝c, 80c, 83⅜@83⅝c; Dec. 74⅝@74⅜c, 79½@79⅝c.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—Cotton goods held fairly steady today, but demand was lighter partly in consequence of weaker raw cotton markets. Silk eased off again. Silk goods for fall were selling better. The new prices named by the American Woolen company on light weight men's wear for spring 1931 already have caused a downward revision of other lines. Buying was reported to be of fair volume.

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, July 22.—The Assembly of God revival will continue another week according to an announcement made Tuesday by Rev. E. B. Crump, pastor. For the past three weeks, Rev. Floyd L. Hawkins of Houston has conducted the services, but Rev. L. G. Baker of Weiser, Idaho, will be in charge of the services this week. Special musical numbers will be given each evening, and Reverend Baker, who is an accomplished musician, will give numbers on the hand saw.

Baptismal services were held Sunday evening at 5 o'clock at the Rio Bravo tank, near Electra. Fourteen people were baptized.

An appropriation of $2,000,000 for prison construction has been asked in Wisconsin by the president of the state board of control.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, July 22. (AP)—(U.S.D.A.)—Meager supplies of cattle around the 11-market circuit resulted in a forced advance on fed steers and yearlings. Demand was most broad for well finished light weight steers and yearlings. Feeder buyers at several points showed a disposition to compete with packers on well bred fleshy western steers, but comparatively few of desirable quality were available. Grass steers moved slowly at no more than steady values and at several markets additional declines were enforced on fat cows.

Chicago realized $10.85 on choice fed steers and secured $10.65 for long yearlings. Light yearling heifers in Kansas City realized $10.50. Common Southwest grass steers at the river markets ranged from $4.25 to $6.35, the latter figure securing Kansas grazed Texas Brahmas. Aggregate receipts were estimated 30,300, 16,-000 short of last Tuesday and a year ago.

Lighter hogs are weak to unevenly lower, some centers reporting loss of 25 to 40 cents. Medium weight and heavy butchers ruled steady to 15 cents lower. The day's top of $9.50 was paid at St. Louis. Total offerings were around 77,800, against 83,670 a week ago and 84,079 the corresponding day last year.

Sheep approximated 62,100, an increase of 8,500 over a week ago and 13,000 heavier than a year ago. Fat lambs were tendered another price jolt of 25 to mostly 50 cents. Choice range lambs in Chicago brought $9.85 while at river points best westerns stopped at $9.25. Fat ewes were scarce with no change in values.

TEXAS LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, July 22. (AP)—(U.S.D.A.)—Cattle trading was very slow here today. Yard's figures called for 3,300 cattle, 900 calves, 1,300 hogs and 1,300 sheep. All cattle were about steady except steers which were very slow. Rail hogs was steady with truck hogs steady to 15c higher. Sheep were unchanged.

Some steers sold $7.00 and $7.35 with packers buying some at $4.25, $5.75 and $6.25. One good load of well finished dry lot yearlings offered and due to sell around $10.25. Fat cows sold from $4.00 to $4.75 with canners from $2.25 to $2.75.

A few heavy calves made $7.00. Hogs in the truck division sold up to $9.15. Packer buyers, however, stopped at $9.00. Two loads of rail hogs sold at $8.90 and $9.00. Some truck lambs sold at $8.00; 2-year-old wethers sold at $4.50 and aged wethers at $4.00.

—Hogs—Receipts 1,300; truck hogs 10 to 15c higher; top $9.15; good rail hogs $8.90@9.00; steady; packing sows $7.25; feeder pigs $8.00.

What's On The Air Today?

Two instrumental and vocal programs of unusual appeal have been announced for Wednesday's broadcast from KRLD, Dallas, and station WLW, Cincinnati. The Dallas program, coming from the Columbia studios in New York at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, will present soprano and baritone soloists with the symphony orchestra in a well chosen group of songs. One of the numbers in which Texans will take pleasure is "Hills of Home," by Oscar Fox of San Antonio, to be sung by Miss Lillian Bucknam.

The Cincinnati program at 3 o'clock will feature piano compositions by Debussy, string and reed ensemble on McDowell numbers, and orchestral combinations on two compositions by Victor Herbert.

ALLRED TALKS AT SHERMAN

Wichitan Addresses Crowd In Grayson County

SHERMAN, Texas, July 22.—Speaking tonight in the county where his father and mother were born and reared, James V. Allred of Wichita Falls, candidate for attorney general of Texas, was accorded an enthusiastic hearing here in his first appearance of the campaign before a Grayson county audience. Delegations were present from Denison, Bells, Bonham, Whitewright and other neighboring towns and included were many relatives and life-long friends of the Allred family.

Allred recalled as a historical fact that the first court ever held in Grayson county after its organization, was held in the log cabin home of Renne Allred, his great-great grandfather, near the little community of Cherry Mound.

Allred spoke in part as follows: "The present attorney general, holding the office by appointment, has declared in his speeches and through the press, that he has been a member of the legislature, a special judge, a district attorney and attorney general, and has never yet had opposition. He might have added that the only office he has ever been elected to by a vote of the people is that of representative in the legislature. He was appointed district attorney and served as such eight months by the same governor who thereupon appointed him attorney general. Personally, I have never had the good fortune to have offices of that kind handed me upon a silver platter, without the asking, and I have never been able to so satisfy the political rings and machines as to get into office without opposition. I have had to fight for every thing I ever got."

Telegrams were read to the audience from union labor leaders at Wichita Falls, Breckenridge and Fort Worth, to the effect that Allred's attitude toward organized labor had always been fair and that he was entitled to their unqualified support.

Revival Meeting to Be Held in Iowa Park

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, July 22.—A 10 days revival will start at the Church of Christ in Iowa Park, Thursday, July 24, and continue till Sunday, Aug. 3. The Rev. Wilbur H. White, of Dallas, will do the preaching. He will be assisted by singer, Hobart Powell of Wichita Falls. Mr. Powell has already been on the ground organizing the choir for the singing. Two services will be held daily, the morning service at 10 o'clock and the evening service at 8:15 o'clock. The public is invited to attend all these services.

Electra Couple Wed in Frederick

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, July 22.—A wedding of unusual interest to this community took place Saturday night at Frederick, Okla., when Miss Helen Moore became the bride of Gene Jones, both of Electra. They were accompanied by Miss Margaruite Baird and Dick Duggar, also of Electra. The ring ceremony was read by Rev. H. W. Stigler, pastor of the First Baptist church of Frederick.

The bride was dressed in a black and shell pink ensemble with accessories to match. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Moore and graduated from the local high school in May. She is a Rainbow girl and is very popular among the younger set.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Jones of Folette, Texas, and has ben employed as bookkeepere at the Cicero Smith Lumber company. The couple are at home to their friends at 500 North Main street.

SQUATTERS EVICTED

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 22. (UP)—"Squatters" living in tents in the lowlands were ordered to leave the city today by city officials who said unsanitary conditions among these residents were responsible for more than 200 cases of dysentary among babies.

"LITTLE JACK HORNER.."

You remember the old nursery rhyme—and from all we can understand from the story, Little Jack Horner was a comfortable boy indeed.

Of course, bearing that condition in mind, it is very probable that Jack's father owned his own comfortable home, thus providing the boy with the right surroundings and influences.

Perhaps we may go a step farther and say that the home must have been purchased through Daily Times-Record News Classified Real Estate Ads—that's where most folks select the homes they buy nowadays. YOU'LL like them, too.

102. LEGAL NOTICES

ORDINANCE NO. 1036—An ordinance regulating the business of operating and maintaining miniature golf courses, putting greens, driving courses, croquet games, and all other games of a similar nature, within the corporate limits of the city of Wichita Falls; requiring that a permit be obtained for the operation and maintenance of such games; prohibiting their construction, execution, operation, and maintenance within one hundred feet of any private residence in said city without the written consent of the owner and occupant of such private residence or residences; prohibiting gambling on such games; requiring that such places of business and such games be closed from 11 p. m. to 8:30 a. m. of each and every day; prohibiting loud noises, music, radios, phonographs, bands, etc., from being played at such places of business in such manner as to disturb persons residing near same; providing penalties for the violation thereof, and the forfeiture of such permits: Be it ordained by the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas: Section 1. That before any person, firm, or corporation shall open, operate, or maintain any miniature golf course, putting green, driving course, croquet, or other indoor or outdoor sport of a similar nature, as a business charging fees for the playing of such game, such person, firm or corporation shall first make application in writing to the city manager of Wichita Falls, setting forth the location of such proposed game or games and business, together with the written consent of all property owners and residents within one hundred feet of such location to the installation and operation of said game or games. Upon receipt of such application the city manager shall investigate such location and the advisability of granting a permit for the maintenance and operation of such business and refer said application to the board of aldermen with his recommendation thereon. If the board of aldermen are satisfied from said application and the report of the city manager that the operation and maintenance of such miniature golf course, putting green, driving course, croquet game, or other similar game, is not detrimental to the public health, safety, order, convenience, prosperity, or general welfare of the people of the city of Wichita Falls, then it may grant a permit to said applicant for the operation of such business, game or games, for a period of not longer than one year. However, if the said board of aldermen is not satisfied with said application and the said report of the city manager and believes that the operation of such game or games will be detrimental to the public health, safety, order, convenience, prosperity, or general welfare of the people of the city of Wichita Falls, then said application shall be set down for a public hearing at which said time the board of aldermen may hear witnesses and protests in favor of and opposed to the granting of such a permit, and after so hearing such testimony and protests shall within its discretion either grant such permit or refuse to grant same. Section 2.—After the granting of such permit the city clerk shall issue same to the applicant upon the payment of a fee of $25, such fee to cover a period of one year from the date of the granting of said permit and at the expiration of said one year period such permit may be renewed upon the payment of a like fee, providing the firm, person, or corporation maintaining such business, game or games, has not violated any of the provisions of this ordinance. Section 3.—No person, firm, or corporation shall construct, erect, maintain, or operate, a miniature golf course, putting green, driving course, croquet game, or other similar game as defined in Section 1 of this ordinance within one hundred feet of a residence without the written consent of the property owner or owners and person or persons residing therein. Section 4.—No person, firm, or corporation operating any such business and maintaining and operating a miniature golf course, putting green, driving course, croquet game, or other indoor or outdoor sport of a similar nature, shall keep said place of business open or allow said game or games to be played between the hours of 11 p. m. and 8:30 a. m. of each and every day said business is operated and maintained and all lights shall be extinguished by 11 o'clock p. m.; each night. Section 5.—That no person, firm, or corporation operating such business of maintaining and operating miniature golf courses, putting greens, driving courses, or croquet games, and other similar games, within the corporate limits of the city of Wichita Falls, shall knowingly permit or allow any gambling at such place of business, or allow bets to be laid upon the outcome of any such game between players or between other persons at such place. Section 6.—That the person, firm, or corporation, operating such business of miniature golf courses, putting greens, driving courses, croquet games, or similar games, within the corporate limits of the city of Wichita Falls, shall not use in connection therewith any phonograph, radio, band, or any kind of machine or device which emits or is permitted to emit noises, either music or otherwise, of such a character as is reasonably calculated to disturb the peace of adjacent inhabitants, or the public. Section 7.—Any person, firm, or corporation, violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction in the corporate court shall be fined not less than $10, nor more than $200. In addition to such fine of the person so convicted, the court shall also cancel the permit of such person so found guilty of such violation and a new permit shall not be granted by the board of aldermen for at least six months from the date of the cancellation of such permit. Section 8.—Such business as is now being operated shall procure permits from the city clerk upon the payment of the fee of twenty-five dollars and the furnishing of satisfactory proof that such business was in operation at the date of the final passage and approval of this ordinance. Section 9.—That if any part of this ordinance shall be declared unconstitutional or void for any reason, it shall not affect the other parts of this ordinance and same shall remain in full force and effect. Section 10.—The fact that miniature golf courses, putting greens, and other games of a similar nature, are becoming too numerous within the corporate limits of the city of Wichita Falls, and are becoming nuisances to certain of the inhabitants of this city, and the further fact that such business and games are being operated without any regulations whatever creates an emergency requiring the suspension of the rule that ordinances be read on three several days, and such rule is hereby suspended and this ordinance shall take effect immediately upon its passage and approval. Passed and approved this 21st day of July, A. D. 1930. Walter Nelson Jr., Mayor. Attest: W. E. McBroom, city clerk.

SMALL CROWD HEARS SMITH

Candidate for Congress Raps Williams' Record

John Lee Smith, candidate for congress from the 13th district, made his 50th speech in behalf of his campaign Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the courthouse before an audience of a dozen persons.

Mr. Smith stated that he believed that he would have had a larger crowd had he have been able to secure a more desirable place for his rally. In opening his address, Mr. Smith said, "I have three very nice men for opponents and I do not intend to try to win votes by abusing their character, however I do not agree with all of them politically and especially with my good friend, Guinn Williams.

"In discussing my views of Mr. Williams I am going to stick closely to his record. Mr. Williams voted against two of the most important bills that have ever come before congress since he has been a member of the body, namely the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, the soldier bonus bill and voted for cancellation of $577,000,000 worth of interest on an Italian war debt and paired on a soldier cash bonus bill."

Mr. Smith stated that if he is elected to congress he will oppose the big navy bill which calls for the expenditure of $369,000,000 every two years.

"I would also favor the strict enforcement of the prohibition law. I believe it can be enforced because the United States has never yet failed to do anything it set out to do. I also would vote for strict immigration laws. There is much unemployment in the state and a great deal of it is due to the influx of foreigners, especially Mexicans. The foreigner can live more cheaply than the white man and therefor can afford to work more cheaply. Bolshevism is due largely to unemployment and if the foreigners all get the jobs the white men will all be out of work sooner or later, which will eventually lead to a civil war."

In closing Mr. Smith explained that the reason he voted against Al Smith in the recent election was because he did not agree with him on the liquor question, and declared that "if a man must give up his right to vote as he pleases, he might as well give up his right to citizenship."

Mr. Smith will speak in Archer City at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon; Electra, Wednesday evening at 8:30; Jacksboro, Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock; Friday afternoon at Woodson and in Elbert Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

MISSIONARIES FREED

LONDON, July 22. (AP)—The release of two British women missionaries who with 38 American and British missionaries have been stranded for weeks in the Chinese war zone, is expected momentarily by the church missionary society. The society, however, denied that all 40 missionaries had been reached by a party of rescuers.

Sartin Makes Bitter Attack On Williams' Record in Address Here

Congressional Program of Law Enforcement Demanded By Wichitan in Talk to Crowd of 367

Launching a bitter attack on Guinn Williams and his policies while congressman for this district, B. D. Sartin of Wichita Falls, candidate for congressman from the 13th district, Tuesday night in an address before a crowd of 367 persons at the auditorium grounds declared he was confident of his election and predicted Representative Williams would "even be defeated in Decatur and the county of Wise."

Following a brief speech by Charles Smoot, Mr. Sartin was introduced by R. O. Kenley, both of whom told of his record as a public office holder in Wichita county and of his private and business life.

"I don't mind telling you that all my folks were Republicans," Mr. Sartin said. "I don't mind telling you that about half of my friends voted different from me in the last presidential election. I believe it is every man's right to vote as he sees fit and I consider it right that I did not vote the Democratic ticket two years ago, even though I am a Democrat.

Recalls Former Race

"The last time I ran against Guinn Williams I was not defeated by any large majority. I carried Wichita county almost two to one, but I do not ask your support on the basis of being a resident of your county alone.

"A congressman should vote for a program of law enforcement over the entire nation. We have 50 times as many murders and burglaries in this country as any country on earth. Congress should pass some measure to compel respect of our ideals and our flag from foreigners within our borders.

"I had the privilege of introducing the first proposal to build a free bridge across the Red river. I am in favor of a program of building free bridges across the river at all points where toll bridges now stand. I have encountered the opposition of special interests in my fight for free bridges but I have fought back and I shall, if elected, concentrate my efforts in congress to eliminate all toll bridges on Red river. Guinn Williams has fought for the toll bridge interests and against my plan for free bridges for the people. I say to you that I shall be elected Saturday—and by a good majority.

"I am in favor of the Pease river project as a part of the government flood control program. If the government is spending millions upon million for flood control in other states, we should be included in the program, so that we might have flood control at the headwaters of the Pease, the Red and probably the Wichita rivers and give the people of my district the benefits of the taxes they pay and give employment to the hundreds of men out of work in this section.

Postoffice Building

"Guinn Williams had nothing to do with getting a postoffice for Wichita Falls or any other place in Texas, as he told you from this platform last night. The federal building here and at other cities in the state are coming to you in spite of Guinn Williams, not because of him.

"I am in favor of a protective tariff for the oil man and the farmer. Guinn Williams said none of his opponents have come out in favor of this tariff. Why, Guinn, I'm ashamed of you. I stood foursquare on this program before any man came out in favor of it.

"I favor the strict enforcement of the 18th amendment. You put B. D. Sartin in congress and no man shall drive him to vote for any measure against prohibition. Guinn Williams never said anything like this—and he won't ever say anything like it.

"This country is able to take care of its disabled ex-service men and ought to do it. Guinn Williams voted against the measure to adjust compensation for ex-service men and said he voted that way because the government could not afford to spend that money. Yet he voted a little while later to raise congressmen's salaries from $7,500 to $10,000 a year and said the government could afford that.

"In the votes in which labor was vitally interested while he was in congress, he did not even vote halfway fairly or in favor of the interests of labor. He voted against measures of the utmost importance to the laboring man.

Rap at Raskob

"If you can show me one single constructive thing that Guinn Williams has done for you people of this district in 10 years, I'll withdraw from the race. Is that fair? If it took him 10 years to do nothing, how long would it take him to do something? He says he believes in keeping money at home. He does. He has his wife on the government payroll, drawing $4,000 for a secretary's job.

"It is a crime to the memory of Jefferson, Cleveland, Bryan and Wilson that a wet Republican should be allowed to remain chairman of the Democratic national committee. Raskob says he is only a Democrat temporarily to get rid of the damnable influence of prohibition. I say we need to get rid of the damnable influence of Raskob."

More than 23,000,000 articles came to the dead letter office of the postoffice department in the last year.

COUNTY RALLY DRAWS CROWD

1,500 Hear Candidates At Iowa Park

Special to The Record News

IOWA PARK, Texas, July 22.—Approximately 1500 people gathered on the lawn of the Baptist church here Tuesday night to hear state, district, county, and precinct candidates in a final appeal for votes in the Democratic primary Saturday. The speakers were limited to five minutes each and contented themselves largely with brief reviews of their records and outlines of their platforms in the future.

Judge John P. Marrs, county judge, presided, introducing the speakers as their names are printed on the ballot. The four senatorial candidates, Ben G. Oneal, Roy J. Daniel, G. W. Backus, and Ruben Loftin were first presented. Daniel and Loftin emphasized their interest in educational problems especially in connection with the junior colleges. Oneal and Backus concentrated on the needs of the oil industry as the backbone of industry in Wichita county.

Judge Allan D. Montgomery and J. W. Akin, opponents for judge of the 30th district court, again exchanged the pleasantries which have marked their friendly competition in all the county rallies and won the applause of the audience. The addresses took on a sharper tone when E. E. Fisher, opposing Judge Irvin J. Vogel for re-election as judge of the county court at law, attacked Judge Vogel's judicial record. Judge Vogel replied with statistics showing that only 4 per cent of the cases tried during his administration have been reversed in the higher courts.

Exchanges between E. F. Freuchte and L. V. Abernathy, in the race for county attorney, were also somewhat edged, the two candidates vying with each other in recitals of obstacles met and overcome in their respective careers.

Sheriff W. G. Bralley, George H. Hodgins, and Perry Browning made their bids for support in the sheriff's race. Jim Robinson, Arthur Howard, and Roy A. Jones outlined their platforms in the race for county tax collector. Iowa Park candidates on the program included J. D. Shannon, for justice of the peace, J. C. Levell and Frank Beasley for public weigher.

Other speakers included: Joe P. Hatchitt, for representative of the 111th district, place 2; Early Van Deventer and Albert G. Walker for the 112th district; Mrs. A. B. Eichelberger, district clerk; Max Shumake, county assessor; Burl Bryant, J. A. Hoods and Mrs. A. J. Newby, county superintendent; G. G. Burgess and L. L. Kuntz, commissioner for precinct 3.

COUNTY CANDIDATES TO SPEAK TONIGHT

Wichita county candidates will make their final concerted bid for votes Wednesday night when all district, county and precinct candidates will address a gathering in the open air at the Memorial auditorium grounds beginning at 8 o'clock.

Oneal to Speak Over KGKO Today

Ben G. Oneal, candidate for the state senate, will deliver radio addresses over station KGKO Wednesday and Thursday, it was announced Tuesday. Mr. Oneal will discuss "Issues in the Senatrial Race" from 12 to 12:15 o'clock Wednesday. He will speak Thursday from 12:45 to 1 o'clock on his candidacy for the state senate.

Injured Woman In Improved Condition

Mrs. Frances Williams, Iowa Park pioneer, who suffered a fractured skull and other injuries when struck by an automobile near her home late Monday, was reported improved and resting well late Tuesday night at the Wichita General hospital, where the elderly woman was brought following the accident.

Holt Green of Wheeler, Texas, driver of the car which was said to have struck Mrs. Williams, was released under $500 appearance bond after he had been questioned at the sheriff's office here Monday night. The bond, made returnable July 28, was described by officers as a technicality since they believed the accident to have been unavoidable. No charges were filed Tuesday and it was said the case was of county court nature.

Statement of Facts in Bearden Suit Approved for Appeal to High Court

Judge P. A. Martin Tuesday approved and certified to the court of civil appeals a voluminous statement of facts in connection with the suit brought by Lee Bearden of Graham, adjudged legally dead, to regain his share of his father's Young county oil estate. Bearden is appealing from a verdict which gave him a share in royalties during the two years immediately preceeding the filing of the suit and established his right to future royalties.

Mrs. Anna E. Bearden, mother of the plaintiff, who intervened in the suit, is also appealing. The defendants, including Bearden's children and other relatives, accepted the verdict as a victory for their claims.

The case was tried at Graham several months ago with Judge Martin of the 89th court occupying the bench in place of Judge Allan D. Montgomery of the 30th court.

Bearden left his home in Graham and was gone for a long period during which his father died and relatives said they were unable to locate the younger Bearden, in order to settle the estate. The missing Bearden was subsequently adjudged legally dead and the estate divided. He returned to Graham, however, and brought suit to obtain his share of the estate, said to have a value of almost $1,000,000.

John C. Kay and W. P. McClain of Fort Worth are attorneys for Bearden, while the defendants are represented by H. W. Wilson and H. S. Garrett of Fort Worth.

PARNELL TO CLOSE HERE

Wichitan to Lead Field, Friends Predict

J. D. Parnell, former state senator and candidate for lieutenant governor, will close his campaign in Wichita Falls Friday night, speaking at the West Texas rally here for Clint Small of Wellington, candidate for governor.

Announcement of Mr. Parnell's decision to close his campaign here was made Tuesday by his managers. He recently spoke from the same platform with Senator Small at Dallas.

Reports compiled by the Parnell campaign committee show that the Wichitan should lead the state ticket by a wide margin, it was said Tuesday. Even discounting heavily the encouraging reports received, indications are that Mr. Parnell will run far ahead of the field in the lieutenant governor's race, it was said.

OFFICE IS IMPORTANT ONE, SAYS GROUP

A statement urging voters to consider the importance of the office of lieutenant governor, with its power of appointing all the committees of the state senate, was issued here Tuesday by a group of leading Wichitans. The statement, signed by J. A. Kemp and others, urged residents of this area to consider the candidacy of Former Senator J. D. Parnell of Wichita Falls. The statement follows:

"We wish to call to the attention of the voters the importance of the office of lieutenant governor of the state. All the committees of the senate are appointed by the lieutenant governor, who presides over that body.

"We wish to recommend our home man, Senator J. D. Parnell, for that office, and believe that his election to that office would be a great help to our section of the state.—J. A. Kemp, E. H. Eddleman, W. D. Cline, C. P. Burton, R. E. Huff.

4-H Members Need Funds For State Convention

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., July 22. — Unless some of the Tillman county 4-H club members who were selected to go to the State 4-H Club round-up at the A. & M. college at Stillwater during Farmers week, July 31 to Aug. 4, can obtain work so they can earn a little money they will be unable to make a trip, according to the local county agents. In former years there was plenty of cotton chopping or other farm work that these youngsters could do to earn a little extra money but this year most of the farmers are so short of cash that they are either doing the work themselves or having the work done on credit. Louis H. Beaty and Mrs. Susan B. Gray, county agents, are aiding the youths in finding work.

Arrangements are being made at the A. & M. college to care for 1,400 boys and girls with their county agents and leaders, according to B. A. Pratt, state leader. It is expected that 70 Oklahoma counties will send full delegations, 10 boys and 10 girls.

FREE VAUDEVILLE

Two additional numbers on the free vaudeville program to be given at the Memorial auditorium Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, as announced by C. C. Bunnenberg, include a dance by Misses Emmie Taylor and LaFaun Duncan, accompanied at the piano by George Taylor, and a violin duet by Claudine McCarty and Sam Wallace, accompanied at the piano by Roma McCarty.

STATE: Jack Oakie, Skeets Gallagher and Mary Brian in "The Social Lion." Comedy, "Two-Gun Ginsberg" and Pathe sound news.

MAJESTIC: "Dangerous Nan McGrew," with Helen Kane and Stuart Erwin. Comedy and sound news.

STRAND: Mitzi Green, Skeets Gallagher, Suart Erwin and Clara Bow in "Love Among the Millionaires." Charley Chase Comedy, "Leaping Love." Screen song, "Dixie," and Paramount sound news.

GEM: "His First Command," with William Boyd. Comedy, "Moonshine" and other talking shorts.

Instead of following "Fast Company," the picture that made a star out of Jack Oakie, with another comedy so similar as to surfeit the appetite (a la "The Virginian" and "The Texan"; "In Old Arizona" and "The Arizona Kid", and other notable examples) some rare producer in Hollywood waited about a year and then put Oakie in another role similar to his part in "Fast Company" and proved that strawberries once a week are much more delicious than three times a day. "The Social Lion" is fully as delightful as "Fast Company," not too much like its predecessor but similar in casting. Oakie as the know-it-all and yet bashful suitor of a sophisticated girl.

Skeets Gallagher and Jack keep on improving their dialog style, as evidenced particularly in one scene in "The Social Lion," when the polo star unburdens his first musical effort on his keeper-manager. The perfection of the serious expression on the faces of both make one of the best comedy shots in the picture.

◇ ◇ ◇

Like a surprisingly large number of pictures, "The Social Lion" rather emphasizes the thoroughness with which the socially elite usually turn out to be rotters. Some day somebody is going to write a story in which the villain or villainess is practically poverty-stricken and the only good sport has loads of money ...and it will probably be a flop.

◇ ◇ ◇

In addition to bringing in a few laughs with his funny footwork, Oakie's prize fighting scenes should be a good boost for the zipper industry. The shoestring theme is an example of the value of well-handled small details and adds just the finishing touch which is necessary.

DEATHS

MRS. ED ROCK

Funeral services for Mrs. Ed Rock, 34, who died in a local hospital Sunday night, were held from the chapel of the Hines mortuary at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning with Rev. J. D. Barron, assistant pastor at the First Methodist church, officiating.

Survivors include her husband; two daughters, Mary and Lucile Black of Waco; and a sister, Miss Joe Thompson of Fort Worth.

R. L. BUDLONG

Funeral services for R. L. Budlong, 60, who died Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock at his home, 1511 Twelfth street, were held from the Hines Mortuary at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon with Dr. N. F. Grafton, pastor of the Floral Heights Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment was in Rosemont under the direction of the Hines mortuary.

Board to Fix State Tax Rate Thursday

AUSTIN, July 22. (UP)—Members of the state tax board studied administration budgets tonight, preparatory to fixing the state tax rate Thursday.

An assessed valuation of $4,280,498,578 was placed on Texas properties today. Harris county leads the list with $340,000,000. Dallas county valuations total $310,000,000, Bexar county $190,000,000, Tarrant county $176,360,000 and Jefferson county $129,032,942. Other counties are below $100,000,000.

The state tax rate was 68 cents last year. The school tax was reduced from 35 cents to 30 cents during the past fiscal year, but the 35 cent rate will be required this year as the state automatic tax board must levy a school tax sufficient to pay a $17.59 per capita apportionment, the legislature has ruled.

ABSENTEE VOTE CLOSES TODAY

Vacation Ballots Reach Total of 227

Wednesday will be the last day for persons expecting to be out of the county on election day Saturday to cast their absentee votes, according to an announcement from Miss Elizabeth Halls, county clerk, in whose office the ballots must be marked.

The total number of absentee ballots cast since the voting was opened last week rose to 227 Monday when 45 such ballots were marked in the county clerk's office and 12 marked ballots were received through the mail from persons now out of the county. Miss Hall said her department was expecting a rush for voting Wednesday, since many persons expecting to be away on election day have delayed casting their ballots until the last opportunity. It is likely that the total number of absentee votes will approach 300 before the close of the day Wednesday. Absentee voting will close at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, it was said, and persons who wish to cast pre-election ballots must apply before that time or lose the opportunity to vote unless they wish to remain for the regular polls Saturday.

Steck Asks Referendum On Prohibition Law

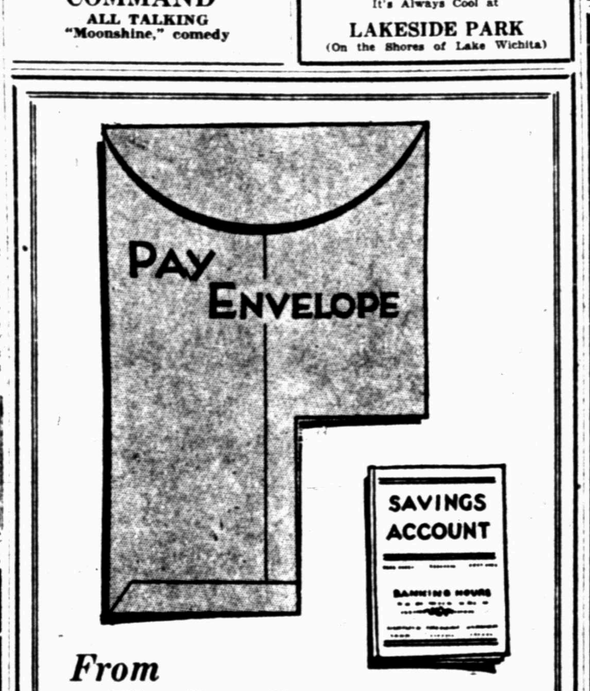

DES MOINES, July 22. (UP)—A national referendum on prohibition was advocated by Senator Daniel F. Steck and other Iowa Democratic leaders here today.

"In view of the widespread dissatisfaction prevailing under the 18th amendment and the Volstead act, I am in favor of a national referendum," Fred P. Hagemann, attorney and party nominee for governor, said in supporting Senator Steck's stand. Steck has been renominated.

South Carolina's $65,000,000 road building program has brought work to 900 men.

Courthouse Site Urged for New Federal Building

Editor, The Record News:

Thanks for the request that letters be written you for publication, as stated in your column, Home Town Talk of yesterday, proposing the best site for the new federal building.

We favor a site near the courthouse, as close to the business section of the city as possible, and believe it should be located at the corner of Seventh and Lamar streets, in order to be between the business section of the city and the courthouse where it will be the most accessible to every one in the city and adjoining territory.

U. S. Steel May Buy Oil Well Supply Co.

PITTSBURGH, July 22. (AP)—Benjamin F. Harris, president of the Oil Well Supply company, announced today that his company had given the United States Steel company an option to purchase the business of Oil Well Supply. Assets of Oil Well Supply at the close of 1929 were given as $27,287,426.

Harris said the option would expire Aug. 25. A special meeting of stockholders of Oil Well Supply, he added, would be called to ratify the deal, but the date for the meeting has not been set. He would reveal no further details.

Millionaire Held For Manslaughter Trial

OMAHA, Neb., July 21. (UP)—Arthur D. Hanford, Sioux City, today pleaded not guilty when arraigned on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Fred Slayden, hotel Fontenele bagbage man, last Saturday night. The millionaire was bound over to district court and his bond was set at $5,000.

A coroner's jury held Slayden died from hemorrhages resulting from either a blow or a fall suffered while scuffling with Hanford. The state contended Hanford allegedly intoxicated grappled with the hotel employe when friends were attempting to take him to his room.

Hanford told officers he remembered no details of the scuffle. There were no witnesess who saw the blow struck.

Work Rushed On New Burk Clinic

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, July 22. —Work is progressing rapidly on the new 18-room brick veneer clinic office building here located on the corner of Fourth street and Avenue C, confronting the First Methodist church. The new edifice will be the property of Drs. Bain Leake, Slaughter and Carpenter, local medical firm.

The clinic building will be constructed of ornamental buff brick and will be 26 feet wide and 68 feet long, with colonial design entrances and an ambulance entrance. It will consist of two reception rooms, three two-room suites for doctors offices, an operating room, X-ray and flouroscope rooms, laboratory, two recovery rooms, bath and physiotherapy rooms.

Dr. Phillip A. Carpenter is a new members of the firm, having come here from Fort Worth where he received his B. Sc. and M. S. degrees; he received his M. D. degree from Baylor university.
