MISS IRISH ROSE

Little Miss, Junior Miss Pageant March 27

Little Miss Wellington and Junior Miss Wellington will be selected Tuesday, March 27, with approximately 60 girls competing for the honors.

The pageant will be in the high school auditorium, beginning at 7 p.m. Participants in the Little Miss Wellington contest will be girls in kindergarten through second grade, and those in grades through 5 will be in the Junior Miss category.

There will be a rehearsal Friday at 2:30 for Little Miss contestants and at 3:30 for Junior Miss contestants.

The pageant is sponsored by Future Homemakers of America, with Mary Lois Scott and Linda Johnson in charge of arrangements.

Amy Williams will be master of ceremonies and entertainment will be presented between the appearance of the two groups. A winner and two runners up will be selected in each group.

The admission charge is $2 each.

Girls participating in the Little Miss Wellington contest will be Kizzie LaNell Jones, Annelise Gray, --See LITTLE MISS, page 2

250 to Attend Firemens Benefit Banquet Friday

Approximately 250 friends of Wellington Volunteer Fire Department will attend the firemen's benefit banquet Friday, March 23 to put their money where their words of praise have been all along.

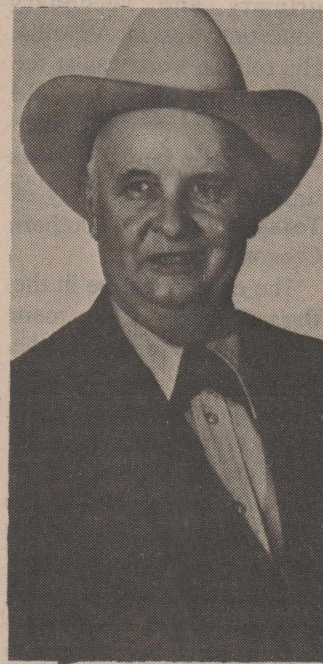

The speaker will be nationally known humorist Bob Murphey of Nacogdoches, who is a former fire department chief. He is donating his speaker's fee to the Wellington department.

The banquet will be in Bura Handley Community Center at 7:30 p.m.

Murphey's humor is quiet and down to earth, and certainly family fare, assures Billy Jackson, fire department member.

Kenneth Patterson, department president, will be master of ceremonies.

Buster Hughs, former Wellington chief and past president of Panhandle Firemen, will introduce

BOB MURPHEY

Murphey.

The Rev. Howard McCann, department chaplain, will give the invocation.

A few tickets are available, but those wanting to attend should contact a fireman as soon as possible.

This will be Murphey's second time to speak in Wellington, and he already has an enthusiastic following here.

Besides his recognition as a humorist-lawyer, he is an East Texas rancher, former district attorney, wartime Merchant Marine officer, legislative sergeant-at-arms, Western Union messenger boy, and the list goes on.

One of his more appropriate titles was awarded by Texas Monthly Magazine, which named him Texas' Best "Good ol' Boy."

For more than 30 years, Murphey has been speaking to every type group, from Washington D.C. black tie dinners honoring members of the Supreme Court, to a major appearance before the International Chili Appreciation Society.

He has spoken from rodeo arenas and at Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

This will be a beef barbecue type banquet, said Jackson and Wellington organizations, individuals and private businesses are volunteering their help in putting the meal together.

The fire department is buying the ingredients and the following are preparing them: Country Cuisine is cooking the barbecue; Inez and Mable Clement are baking the rolls, part of the deserts and mixing the potato salad; B&PW Club is fixing the slaw; Dairy Queen will cook the beans; 5 teachers and members of the Firemen's Auxiliary are preparing more cake.

2-Day Art, Sculpture Exhibit Set

The 1924 Study Club of Wellington is sponsoring a show and sale of artwork, sculpture, and ceramics Sunday and Monday, March 25 and 26 from 2 until 5 p.m. in the Bura Handley Community Center. The show will feature works by James Ivey Edwards of Clarendon, and of his students at Clarendon College, several of whom are from the area.

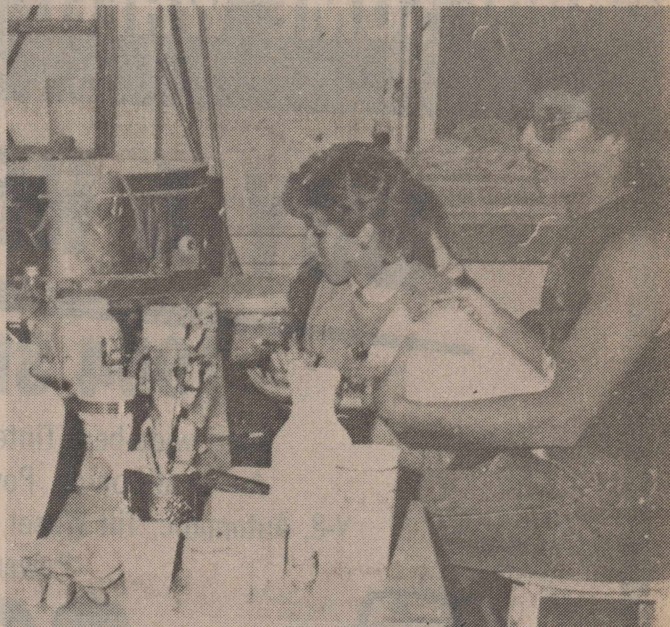

James Edwards, widely recognized for his western and nature art, is the head of the art department at Clarendon College. He will bring paintings and sculpture of his own and of the following students: Juan Granados, Sophomore, Wellington; Leslie Birkey, Freshman, Wellington; Lanell Womble, Freshman, Dalhart; Peggy Eberman, Sophomore, Vega; Beth Green, Freshman, and Carol Gantt Wells, of Wellington, and others.

James Edwards' work includes oils, watercolors and acrylics, sculpture and ceramics. His popular work is owned by an extensive and varied group of investors, which includes President Ronald Reagan.

Edwards came to the Clarendon College art department 5 years ago and under his direction, the curriculum has been expanded threefold and now offers classes accepted by the Texas Association of Schools of Art. He has held professional status as an artist for 20 years, and has achieved professional

Volunteers: Wives Have Firefighting Chores in Quail Department

The Quail Volunteer Fire Department is the first in Collingsworth County to have a woman as a member and assistant fire chief, and in which wives of members have an active on-site role in firefighting.

They do not work close in to a blaze, explained Fire Chief Donald Langley. But because the men must often come in from fields or other work, the women's role is to get the fire truck to the scene of a blaze and hooked up ready for the men when they get there.

Fire safety is stressed for both men and women.

Moving the truck is no problem. A 1 1/4 ton Jeep, it goes through the deep sandy country without problems. Most of these women have driven pickups since they were youngsters and know all the county roads and most of the short-cuts.

A new two-way radio for the truck, along with a number of new privately owned radios, has solved the communications problem.

The women working with their husbands at firefighting isn't unusual--that's the way most couples at Quail do things.

"We had been talking about a fire truck for Quail a good while, then a couple of fires last year brought it to a head," said Langley.

The department was organized in late 1983 and in early 1984, Kenneth Martindale, Samnorwood Fire Chief, talked with the Quail members about the Texas Forest Service program of making available fire trucks at low cost to small fire departments.

The commissioners court provided funding and the fire truck arrived earlier this year.

It is equipped with an 18 horsepower pump and 320 gallon tank which can be filled out of any water supply--a farm pond, stock tank, just any source of water.

The two fires that were directly responsible for organization of the department destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Beachy, and damaged Mrs. Jessie Alston's store.

With the organization, Mrs. Alston became a member of the department and was elected assistant chief. Her store, long-since repaired, receives fire reports and passes the information along.

The other assistant chief is Mack Shields and Benny Carson is secretary-treasurer.

By the time the truck reached Quail, a building for it was secured on the Booster Club grounds, where fire meetings are also held.

But high wind damaged the roof and the first out-of-hand expense was for its repair, with much work volunteered.

A regular training program has been started. Langley and several other members attended the Texas A&M Firefighting School held in Wellington recently and regular training nights are the 2nd Monday of each month.

"We've had a lot of good help from the Wellington Fire Department," said Langley. Help also has come

WHS Holds First Tennis Invitational March 23-24

Wellington High School will host its first invitational tennis tournament Friday and Saturday, March 23 and 24, with matches to be played on Ellison Park Courts.

Eight schools, in addition to the host, have received invitations: Canadian, Wheeler, Shamrock, Childress, Lakeview, Quanah, Clarendon and Panhandle. Memphis was invited but was already committed to another tournament.

"We are hopeful we will have good representation from all these schools, to make a good tournament," said Williams. He conceded it will not be as large as he might want it to be.

"But we'll have a lot of fun," he added.

There will be both "A" and "B" divisions and Williams will be the tournament director with help from some of the assistant coaches.

A trophy will be given to the winner of the "A" division, but not to the "B" division due to the lack of entries.

Play will begin at 8:30 a.m. Friday, probably with boys singles. "We will try to get through with the semi-finals Friday and play the finals Saturday," said Williams. Saturday matches will start at 9 a.m.

"We invite the Wellington people to come down and watch," he said.

Wellington goes into this tournament with two championships, Vernon and Quanah.

Participation in the Quanah tournament gave Wellington players an opportunity to play on the courts where they will compete in the district UIL matches.

Wellington teams go to the Amarillo Relays March 30 and 31, and will be back in Quanah for district 2-2A play Wednesday and Thursday, April 4 and 5.

The exhibit will be in the Bura Handley Club room and will be open to the public both Sunday and Monday from 2 until 5 p.m. Some of Edwards' and the students' work will be for sale. (County school children will visit the show Monday morning at specified times. Everyone attending the exhibit on Monday will have the opportunity to see pottery demonstrations by art students from the college.

An authentic potters wheel will be used in these demonstrations. There is no admission charge.

FACTS & FIGURES

The family of similar chemicals of seventy-five different chlorinated compounds is commonly called "Dioxin." Trace quantities of it are created by man-made and natural chemical process. It is also the term applied to one of those compounds, 2,3,7,8, tetrachlorodibenzo-p-dioxin (TCDD).

Loco-Arlie Areas Included in History

Histories of families living in or who have lived in the Arlie and Loco Communities will be included in the Collingsworth County History Book, Mrs. J.B. King, chairman has announced.

Wellington was the trading area, and in later years the religious and educational center, although these two communities are in north Childress county.

This will be brought out in the book.

Because the history will be used in the future as a population reference, all families now living in the county need to be included.

Quail Volunteer Fire Department has started a drive to raise money for more equipment.

"We plan to get better water storage, a supply that will fill our tank better. We need more capacity to go to fires with." Other future plans call for helmets and bunker coats and farther in the future, one or two Scott Air Packs for entering burning or smoke-filled buildings.

Quail Fire Department members are Chief Langley, Cary Don Neeley, Benny Barson, Mack Shields, Delbert White, Terry Canada, Johnny Carson, Dan Beachy, Noah Beachy, Joe Tipton, Billy Joe Patterson, Rev. Quail Class of 1944 Slates 30th Anniversary Reunion

The Quail graduating class of 1944 will hold its 30th anniversary reunion Saturday, April 21, in the Heritage Room of Wellington State Bank.

Visiting hours will be 1 to 4 p.m.

Later in the evening, those at the 1944 reunion will attend the general Quail Ex-Students reunion.

Mrs. John Carson (Jo Farmer) said addresses of five 1944 graduates are needed: Gene Harvey, Treva Roan, Sammie West, Wanda West and Ina Mae Winegeart Roberts.

There were 43 members of this graduating class, but several of the young men volunteered for the armed forces before school was out. They received their diplomas but were not present for the commencement.

Six members of this class still live in Collingsworth County: Pauline Boyles Bias, Ross O'Hair, Frank Coleman, Bob Sessions, Opal Mae Peggram Camp and Mrs. Carson.

"We would be happy to have any of the teachers present for the reunion," said Mrs. Carson.

Herman Moseley of Wellington was superintendent.

Registration for the Quail Ex-Students Reunion and banquet will begin at 5 p.m. and the banquet will start at 7.

Banquet reservations should be mailed not later than April 9 to Mrs. Delbert White (Avytrilla Clay) Route 1, Box 122, Quail, Texas 79251.

COLLEGE STATION -- Twenty-six essays ranging from New Mexico's scientific contributions to the chile pepper, to facts and folklore about farmers' cooperatives, appear in a new book published by the Texas A&M University Press.

Entitled "Southwestern Agriculture: Pre-Columbian to Modern," the book spotlights the long-neglected area of agricultural development in the Southwest. Focusing on Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas, it traces the history of farming from the views of novelists, businessmen, archaeologists, cattlemen, scientists and politicians.

The essays, based on the 1980 Agricultural History Symposium at Texas A&M, include secrets of pre-Columbian agriculture, dilemmas faced by county extension agents, the thriving rice industry and the struggles of farmer move-

SMALL HOUSEHOLDS
SAVE ON FOOD BUYING COSTS

People living alone pay more than twice the per capita food costs of four-member households. The reason for this is that most singles -- and couples -- buy small quantities at a time. Typically, the bigger the package, the lower the unit cost. So small households pay more per serving.

Also, according to the Food Marketing Institute, 40 percent of all shoppers are men. Some of these men are smart buyers, but many could save by shopping more carefully. Employed women may also tend to buy food impulsively and expensively when they could save more.

Many people resent the time it takes to shop. But if you organize yourself, it can be done quickly and pay off in smaller grocery bills.

Just shopping for groceries instead of eating out saves money. The average home-prepared meal costs one-third less than an equal restaurant meal. Even frozen gourmet entrees and dinners from the supermarket will cost less than similar choices in a restaurant.

That doesn't mean you have to give up restaurant dining. But you can keep the restaurant choice for when you need it most and not when you're simply unprepared to eat at home.

Couples and singles don't have to choose between time and money. Instead, try some of these strategies:

-Invest in a microwave oven so you can cook and reheat food rapidly.

-Or think about each evening's dinner before you leave for work in the morning. Move the food you will need from the freezer to the refrigerator to thaw for quick cooking when you get home. Just be sure to use the thawed food right away.

-Avoid the small-costs-more trap. Buy larger sizes, then cut or divide and freeze

HomeHealthAgency Receives Final OK

Collingsworth General Hospital's Home Health Care Agency has been certified and is now in full operation, hospital board members were told at regular board meeting Tuesday, March 20.

The Home Health Agency, which provides nursing care to people at home in certain situations, has been making calls for several months, but paperwork has just now been completed.

The hospital is going through the certification process on another project, it's "Swing-Bed" skilled nursing care program.

Under this program, patients who need skilled nursing care, but who are no longer eligible under Medicare rules to be treated as hospital patients, may remain in the hospital under the care of skilled nurses until they are dismissed by their doctor.

Under this program, patients who are recovering from an illness in the hospital and who still need skilled nursing care but not or store in meal-size portions. You save on shopping time, as well as money.

-Don't feel like you have to cook everything. Vegetables, for example are delicious and nutritious served raw or barely cooked.

-Use quick cooking foods, like fish, or quick-cooking methods such as stir-frying.

-Save money by buying a small roast and slicing it into steaks.

-Prepare enough of a main dish to make two or three meals. Freeze extra portions in freezer-to-oven containers for future meals. That way you'll spend less on convenience foods.

-Cook potatoes, rice, dried beans, carrots and other foods in double amounts. Store servings for a second meal in the refrigerator.

full hospital care, may remain in the hospital for treatment.

The board also discussed the possibility of forming a long-range planning committee, but took no action on the proposal.

The board also approved turning $7,970 in past-due accounts over to the hospital's bad-debt collection process.

Present were board members Yates Parker, Robert Owens, Corky Bowen, Bill Patrick, Loretta Wright, Emory Ewing and Dr. J.M. Orr.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY AGENT REPORT

by Don Reeves

CHECK LANDSCAPE PLANTS BEFORE PRUNING

It's still too early to tell if most landscape plants will recover from the record-setting cold weather in December and early January.

With the spring season still a few weeks off, homeowners need to be patient regarding the removal of "dead" plants or pruning of freeze-damaged plants.

The ability of freeze-damaged plants to recover depends heavily on weather conditions this spring and on proper cultural practices.

Damaged plants will often send out new shoots from the roots. Unless the plant was budded or grafted, the new growth will be the same as the original plant.

Careful pruning of a damaged plant can encourage compact growth and make the plant attractive. Remove dead or damaged wood by pruning to good, sound tissue. However, it's best to wait until new growth starts before pruning so that you can determine the extent of the injury. Pruning too soon can result in either removing too much uninjured wood or in not removing enough damaged wood, in which case the plant will have to be pruned again later.

Of course, some plants will be so heavily damaged or will not recover from the freeze so that they will have to be replaced. However, wait until warm weather prevails to determine the status of your plants.

Check ground covers for signs of growth on the lower runners or shoots. Once the danger of a hard freeze is past, cut back the dead tops to allow the sun to warm the soil and encourage new growth.

Fertilize all landscape plants in early March to encourage new growth. It will help to apply 1-1/2 pounds of 12-12-12 fertilizer per 100 square feet, then watering thoroughly to work the fertilizer into the soil so the roots can use it.

It is important to water landscape plants regularly so that they don't undergo moisture stress. This is particularly important in late spring and summer when dry periods often plague the county.

If plants fail to make any new growth by the end of April or early May, they likely will need to be replaced.

A seven-inch North African ostrich egg takes 40 minutes to boil.

IN Need OF RETREAD

Years of service, covering many miles, and carrying heavy loads have taken their toll on this tire, however, if you put it in the hands of an expert, this tire may be rebuilt, and renewed for years of service.

How like the tire we are, working at home or on the job, meeting the challenges that come up each day. How good it is then to enter the house of the Lord, and let our Master remold, rebuild, and strengthen us for the days ahead.

Attend church regularly and receive the benefits of a bountiful love.

Mrs. J.W. Powell Long-time Area Resident, Dies

Mrs. John W. Powell, who lived at Arlie and Wellington for approximately 60 years, died in Collingsworth General Hospital at 5:28 a.m. Saturday, March 17. She was a resident of Thomas Nursing Center.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m. Monday, March 19, in First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Stanley Hughes, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Memorial Gardens under the direction of Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors.

Pall bearers were grandsons. Mrs. Powell, the former Mora Smith, was born May 29, 1901 in Little Rock, Ark., the daughter of Hayden Smith and Lena Arnn Smith. She came to Arlie at the age of 8 and attended the school in that community.

She was married to John W. Powell Aug. 20, 1919 at Arlie.

In 1927, the couple moved to Spade, where they lived until 1945, when they returned to Wellington.

Mr. Powell died July 29, 1975.

Mrs. Powell was a member of First Baptist Church.

Her survivors include four sons: P.H. Powell of Pasadena, Bruce E. Powell of San Jose, Ca.; Neil H. Powell of Tulsa, and Clyde W. Powell of Shamrock; two daughters, Mrs. E.C. Hammett of Kingston, Okla., and Mrs. Lonnie Whitten of Wellington. There are 27 grandchildren and 40 great grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by a brother, Lester Smith in 1968.

years old. The family later moved to Wellington, where he finished high school. He later was employed as a bookkeeper for the Farmers Co-op Gin in Wellington and farmed for several years.

Moving to Sudan in February 1951, he was employed by the late F.O. Masten as bookkeeper for 28 years, retiring in 1979.

He married Hazel Todd Pierce of Littlefield in July 1953. He was a member of First Baptist Church of Sudan for 33 years.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Hazel Savage; two daughters, Hazel Ann Kleimeyer of Salt Lake City, Utah, and Marsalene Weideman of Baton Rouge, La.; three sons, Cliff Savage of San Antonio, Jim Savage of Lindsey, Okla., and Earl Dan Pierce of Devine; three sisters, Lelia Haygood, Blanche Schieman and LaVerne Seay, all of Littlefield. 10 grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Preceding him in death was a grandson, Troy Weideman of Baton Rouge, La.

M.B. Parrigin, Retired Stock Farmer Dies

Marcus B. Parrigin, 83, died at 4:31 p.m. Saturday, March 17, in Collingsworth General Hospital. This county had been his home since he was a young boy.

Mr. Parrigin was a retired stock farmer, although he had remained active in this until he was approximately 80 years of age, going from town each day to look after his livestock.

He and his wife, Lena, lived in the Cross Roads community 37 years before moving into Wellington in 1966. He was a member of the Cross Roads School Board when it was consolidated into the Quail district.

Mr. Parrigin was born in Fannin County Oct. 14, 1900, the son of Joe B. Parrigin and Lila Jefferson Parrigin. The family moved here from Fannin County in 1911 and lived first at Rolla for several years, then at Houselog. He attended school in both communities.

He was married to Miss Lena Elizabeth Richards on February 9, 1929 at Wellington. She died Sept. 23, 1980.

He was a Baptist and former member of Farm Bureau.

Funeral services were conducted at 4 p.m. Monday, March 19, at Schooler Gordon Funeral Chapel, with the Rev. Stanley Hughes, pastor of First Baptist Church officiating.

Burial was in North Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Schooler Gordon Funeral Directors.

Pall bearers were David Peters, Gabe Wright, Jimmy Langford, Earl Parker, Floyd Duke and Robert Lewis.

Survivors include two sons, Joe Allen Parrigin of Andrews and Van T. Parrigin of Lubbock; two sisters, Mrs. Lila Lee Wilkins of Ft. Worth, and Mrs. Anna Mae Thomas of Houston; 5 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by two brothers, and two sisters.

Stinnett Trio Dies March 11 of Asphyxiation

A family of three, relatives of several Wellington people, died of asphyxiation in their cabin cruiser docked at Lake Meredith marina early Sunday, March 11.

The victims were Roy and Frieda Goodwin and their 18-month-old daughter, Simone, of Stinnett. An investigation showed that electricity was off at the marina and a faulty auxiliary generator came on in the cabin cruiser. Mr. Goodwin apparently tried to reach a door or window but could not get to it. Time of the accident was set at 2:30 a.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Goodwin is the niece of Don Jones, Mrs. Buddy Carter and Mrs. Gus Barton. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jones of Stinnett. Her father formerly lived in the Madge-Independence area. Both Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin were reared in the Stinnett Borger area.

Funeral services for the family were held Tuesday, March 13, at 3 p.m. in the Stinnett School Auditorium with burial in Stinnett Cemetery.

Attending the service from Wellington were Mrs. Don Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Barton, Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Mark Fires. Other

Farmers May Be Helped By SBA

LUBBOCK - Farmers in Collingsworth, Childress, Lynn and Val Verde counties who are ineligible for financial assistance from the Farmers Home Administration as a result of agriculture related disasters may be eligible for assistance from the U.S. Small Business Administration.

Under new legislation signed by President Reagan in November, 1983, SBA has been directed to provide financial assistance to farmers in these counties who suffered losses caused by severe drought beginning April 1, 1983 through December 31, 1983, said Philip J. O'Jibway, district director of Lubbock's SBA office.

O'Jibway cautioned, however, that only those farmers who did not receive assistance from FmHA due to ineligibility reasons and have a letter of referral from FmHA are eligible to apply to the SBA. Farmers who were declined by FmHA for credit reasons are not eligible to apply.

Additionally, those non-farm, agriculture-related small business concerns located in these same counties are eligible to apply for Economic Injury Disaster Loans (EIDL) from the SBA. Only those non-farm small businesses unable to obtain credit elsewhere are eligible. Those eligible applicants must demonstrate that they have suffered substantial economic injury, and that the injury is a direct result of the declared disaster.

The non-farm businesses qualifying for EIDL loans will be charged an interest rate of 8 percent. Loan applications may be filed until the close of business on July 19, 1984.

O'Jibway said individuals interested in obtaining loan applications may contact SBA's Area 3 Disaster Office located at 2306 Oak Lane, Suite 110, Grand Prairie, TX 75051 or call toll free (800) 442-7206.

Sherry Gray, Norman Miller, Wed in Ceremony Saturday

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross O'Hair at 1613 East Avenue was the setting for the wedding of Sherry Lynn Gray and Norman Dale Miller on Friday, March 16, at seven in the evening. The Reverend Stanley Hughes, pastor of First Baptist Church officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O'Hair and of the late Wayne Gray. She is also the granddaughter of Mrs. D.F. Langley.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Mark Williams of Wellington and the late Doyle Miller. He is also the grandson of Marion Byars of Lakeview.

The couple recited their vows before a tall fifteen-branched brass candelabra entwined with foliage.

Mr. O'Hair gave his daughter in marriage.

She wore a street-length princess style dress of cream Chantilly lace, trimmed with pearls extending down the front. The gathered skirt had a headed ruffle at the hemline and a satin ribbon marked the waist. Her hat of matching Chantilly lace was accented with pearls and covered with nylon netting that fell into a finger-tip veil. She carried a bouquet of pink Sensation rosebuds with pompoms, stephanotis and baby's breath, tied with cream bridal streamers.

Evelyn Raines of Lubbock was the matron of honor. She wore a two-piece pale blue crystal street length dress and her headpiece was a crown of blue and orchid silk flowers. She carried a nosegay identical to that of the bride.

Teddy Martin, the bridegroom's cousin, was best man.

Candles were lighted by the bride's nieces, Chasity Gray and Charity Gray. Annelis Gray, daughter of the bride, was the flower girl and Kevin Hiett, the bride's nephew, was ring bearer. Jennifer Hiett, the bride's niece, greeted the wedding guests at the registry table.

The little girls wore dresses and headpieces of pale blue or orchid made similar to the honor attendant's.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. O'Hair were hosts at a reception honoring the couple.

Kim Martin, cousin of the bridegroom, and Hope Gray, sister-in-law of the bride, served the guests.

The bride graduated from Wellington High School in 1974. A registered nurse, she received her degree in nursing in 1978 from Northwest Texas School of Nursing. She is now employed by Childress General Hospital in Childress.

Good Neighbor Club Hears Program on Walt Whitman

Mrs. Ray Clubb entertained the Good Neighbor Club in her home Friday, March 16.

The opening prayer was given by Mrs. M.L. James. Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch, president, was in charge of the short business meeting, and roll call was answered

The bridegroom graduated from Lakeview High School in 1968 and from Clarendon Junior College in 1970. He attended Texas Tech University in Lubbock. Presently he is employed by Owens Salvage Co.

After a short wedding trip to Oklahoma City, the couple will be at home at 1109 El Paso Street, Wellington.

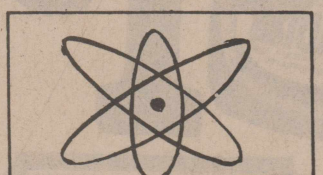

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and the centerpiece was the bride's bouquet.

The three tiered pedestal wedding cake had dainty flower arrangements between the tiers and on top were a miniature bride and groom against a dainty flower arrangement.

with each member giving a Bible verse. Mrs. Clubb was in charge of the program, giving poems and prose by Walt Whitman from the book, "Leaves of Grass." She also gave the story of his life.

Mrs. Barjenbruch read excerpts from the book, "First We Have Coffee," by Margaret Jensen.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. James, Mrs. Barjenbruch, Mrs. Charles Cason, Mrs. L.W. Wells, Mrs. Robert Karnes, Mrs. G.E. Van Pelt, Mrs. Frank Fourmentin and Mrs. Clubb, the hostess.

La Paisana Chapter Represented at State Conference in Austin

Five members of LaPaisana Chapter attended the 85th conference of the Texas Society, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution in Austin March 15 through 17.

These were Mrs. Walter Pendleton, delegate, and Mrs. R.C. McNett, alternate, also Mrs. Bura Handley, Mrs. John D. McDowell and Mrs. H.H. Bowen.

The conference was dedicated to Texans who served in defense of the country, with Mrs. Wayne Douglas Tiner, state regent, presiding. Members from Division VII formed the host committee.

A tea was held at the historic Carter House and a historical tour of the city was another popular event.

The conference highlight was the National Defense banquet Friday night, March 16, when the speaker was Army Brig. Gen. James L. Dozier, deputy commander of Fort Hood, Killeen.

Other honored guests were Col. Phil Handley and Mrs. Handley of Bergstrom Air Force Base, Austin.

They were seated in the reserved section with Mrs.

Bura Handley and other members of La Paisans Chapter joining them.

Entertainment was a colorful fiesta featuring dancers in Mexican costume. A concert was presented by the 5th Army Band from Ft. Sam Houston.

Mrs. Pendleton was elected to the state nominating committee for Division I. Mrs. Boyd Derryberry, who was unable to attend, was recognized for leadership and service to the Texas society while serving as chapter regent.

The chapter received a tri-color ribbon in the category of Outstanding Yearbook, with Mrs. Pendleton as chairman; a Certificate of Merit for excellence in Transportation and Safety and another Certificate of Merit for third place, Division one, for excellence in publicity in the print media. Miss Hattie D. Wells is public relations chairman.

Present for the conference were 648 members, from 139 chapters.

Fort Worth will be the 1985 host city.

Notable delegates attending were Mrs. Jonathan Fox, vice president general from Georgia; and Mrs. William S. Murphy, vice president general from Mississippi.

State Regents attending were Mrs. Annette M. Gregory, Arkansas; Mrs. Frank S. Crane, Colorado, Mrs. Robert O. Bowen, honorary state regent, Washington. A Texan, Air Force Master Sergeant Roy Benevidez, (Ret), was honored for service to the country in the Vietnam War.

Legislative Program Given for B&PW Members

Wellington Business and Professional Club members heard a legislative affairs program presented by Laverne McLain and Patti Wolf Tuesday, March 13, in Bura Handley Community Center.

Loretta Wright presided and a St. Patrick's theme was used in the table decorations.

Present were a guest, Jerri McLain and these members: Lottie Handley, Erma Faye Kersten, Lucille Kelso, L.C. Sweat, Willie B. Harwell, Pearl Harwell, Myra Hays, Goldie Barnett, Mrs. Wright, Leatha Thomas, Nancy Lindsey, Nell McKinney, Marie Golli-hugh, Jeanetta Turner, Paulene Estes, Geneva Thomas, Mrs. McLain and Mrs. Wolf.

Employed Women Returns To Sewing

"Both the economy and changing lifestyles are having a great impact on home sewing," says Dr. Ann Vanderpoorten, a clothing specialist.

Home sewing boomed when polyester doubleknits first came on the market in the late 1960's because they were so easy to use, explains Vanderpoorten, a home economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Since fashions at the time tended toward loose fitting, untailored garments with little detail, home sewers could easily produce quality

Once tailored clothes became fashionable again and people tired to doubleknits, many women realized they didn't have the skills to sew good-looking garments and gave up the activity, says Vanderpoorten. Until recently, only about 20 percent of American women used their sewing machines twice a month or more.

According to Vanderpoorten, economics has created a new interest in home sewing. "When women can make a quality dress for 30 percent of what it would cost in the stores, they are bound to be interested," she suggests.

Even employed women are returning to home sewing, says Vanderpoorten. They want clothes to wear on the job with enough style to last several years rather than just one season. If they can't find the styles they like, or preferred styles in their size, they are now more likely to sew the clothes themselves.

It takes the average person six-tenths of a second to walk one pace.

Mrs. H.L. Jenkins Heads 1924 Study Club in 84-85

1924 Study Club met March 15, with Mrs. B.M. Sims presiding.

Mrs. Chester Fires gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Sims reported that $303 has been received for the Collingsworth County Heart Fund. She also presented an award of $50 from Texas Federated Women's Clubs as state winner of the GFW community improvement program.

This was an award during the last administration of Mrs. Boyd Derryberry as president. The project was furnishing fire hydrant reflectors for each fire hydrant in Wellington.

Mrs. Raymond Ross reported on plans for the art and pottery exhibit to be held Sunday and Monday, March 25 and 26 at Bura Handley Community Center. Plans were finalized.

Mrs. H.L. Jenkins was elected club president for the 1984-86 term. Plans were discussed for the Top of Texas District GFWT convention in Amarillo, March 30-31.

Members approved a donation of $10 to a Texas GFWT project, buying a television set for M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute, a continuing project. Future club projects were discussed.

The next meeting will be April 19.

Present were Mrs. Fires, Mrs. Murray Dodson, Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Truett Holland, Mrs. Chuck Wilbur, Mrs. Derryberry and Mrs. Sims.

The snow-capped Bhutan, north of India, issued a postage stamp that is actually a tiny phonograph record. It plays the Bhutanese national anthem.

SCOOPIN'

I always hate to give publicity, especially free publicity, to the competition, but I received the following letter from Pat Scott who works for KCTX radio in Childress, and I thought the letter was a good reminder for us about people who overcome handicaps to be productive members of our society.

Here's the letter:

"I am presently being featured on KCTX Harmon County News, Monday thru Friday at 12:15 p.m., and am Local and Area News Editor for KCTX.

"I reside in Hollis and may be reached at 405/688-3410 at home or 817/937-2563 at KCTX. If you have local or area news for my newscast, please contact me.

"I've been working here since November and have covered everything from bee-keepers (Melvin Cardwell) to State Football Finals (Hollis).

"While I'm certified as handicapped because of Narcolepsy, I would like to encourage other handicapped persons to seek employment. Employing the handicapped is being made even more advantageous for the employer by the government's Job Training Program for those certified as being handicapped.

"Though my Narcolepsy slows me down, I've proven that I can handle a full-time job. It is my belief that handicapped people with training perform as well, if not better, than others.

"KCTX also hires a disc jockey, Jim Bulgier, a young man who is certified legally blind. Jim does an excellent job. (He copes so well that I find myself forgetting that he can't 'see me comin' and will bump into him.)

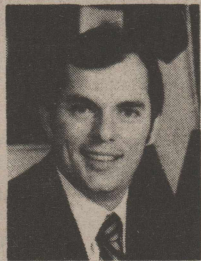

"Much as the salary of a job means to me, it is even more valuable to me from the aspect of personal esteem. I think most handicapped persons would find this to be the case and I sincerely hope that my 'story' will be of encouragement to them."

Sgt. Vernon Day was in this morning, took a look at the piles of paper falling off my desk, and commented that he had an extra table out at the Texas National Guard Armory that he would loan me if I thought it would help. My past history, unfortunately, is that I cover every available surface with piles of paper, so I'm afraid it would only be a week or so before the sergeant's table would disappear forever under a mass of news releases, newspapers and magazines.

Reports

AUSTIN — Taxes make the government go round. Without our contributions in a number of different forms, things would bog down and become a nightmare.

When it comes to taxes, a poll by the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations (ACIR) shows that taxpayers prefer the sales tax to all other methods.

The margin by which people would rather pay a sales tax is 3 to 1. We in Texas are among 45 states which levy a sales tax. Only Alaska, Delaware, Montana, New Hampshire and Oregon do not have a state sales tax.

The tax rates range from a high of 7.5 percent in Connecticut to a low of two percent in Nevada and Oklahoma. Texas collects four percent, which is the national average. Most Texans are used to paying five percent because local units of government are authorized to collect a one percent tax.

Texas last raised the sales tax to four percent from 3.25 percent in 1971. We first collected the tax beginning in 1962 at a two percent rate.

While the sales tax rate has doubled in the 22 years the tax has been in existence, revenue has risen by over 2000 percent. Texas pocketed $149 million in 1962. In 1983, that figure was $3.3 billion.

In 1983, the sales tax provided 39 percent of all tax collections.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—State Sen. Lloyd Doggett, D-Austin, picked up a little momentum for his U.S. Senate campaign this week by gaining the endorsement of the Texas AFL-CIO.

Meeting in Austin, delegates to the two-day labor convention gave Doggett their endorsement despite an attempt by supporters of former Congressman Bob Krueger to block the endorsement.

Doggett picked up 73 percent of the vote in a straight up-or-down roll call on whether to support the Austin Democrat or make no endorsement.

Doggett needed only a two thirds margin to win the group's approval. Despite strong opposition to Doggett by electrical workers and other labor factions, the Krueger people could only muster 26 percent of the vote, far below the 33 percent needed to block the Doggett victory.

The endorsement is expected to be a major boost to Doggett's campaign, which was given little chance of success when he began last year.

Doggett supporters also expect to see a considerable sum of labor dollars rolling into their candidate's war chest as well.

Krueger has generally been acknowledged as the front-runner in the race for the Democratic Senate nomination, but Doggett has been gaining ground.

Last month, Doggett succeeded in blocking a Krueger endorsement by the Mexican-American Democrats.

After the roll call vote, Krueger released a statement chastising rank-and-file labor people for "blindly" following the positions of state AFL-CIO leaders.

Education Reform

While labor was in Austin trying to ignite the Doggett campaign, education officials were meeting in Dallas, where the real fireworks were expected.

The Select Committee on Education, chaired by outspoken Dallas billionaire Ross Perot, proposed dramatic education reforms that include requiring public school teachers to pass a basic skills test and replacing the elected State Board of Education with an appointed board.

The proposal to abolish the 27-member, elected board in favor of a seven-man, appointed panel has caused friction among members of the education community.

Members of the board, including board chairman Joe Kelly Butler of Houston—the patriarch of Texas public education—blasted Perot for trying to grease the skids for his committee's recommendations.

Board member Wayne Windle of El Paso told reporters that Perot wants the elected panel scrapped because no group of elected officials "who are responsive to the needs and desires of the people" would go along with some of Perot's recommendations.

Those recommendations have included fining parents whose children failed to achieve in school, deemphasizing high school athletics and extending the school day to nine hours.

Perot claims the smaller, appointed board is needed because the present panel is too unwieldy to be effective.

Under the plan to make teachers take basic skills tests, those teachers who fail the test would not have their contracts renewed when they expire.

Even if only 10 percent of the state's teachers are incompetent, they could be harming thousands of students, Perot said.

Capital Punishment

Debate over the death penalty heated up again this week with the execution of James "Cowboy" Autry, who was convicted of killing a convenience store clerk during a 1980 robbery.

Autry was the second Texas inmate to die by lethal injection. His attorneys and opponents of the death penalty had attempted to win a reprieve for Autry claiming his sentence should have been commuted to life in prison because of his close brush with death last October.

Autry came within 30 minutes of being executed Oct. 5 before being granted a stay of execution by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Four other Texas death row inmates are scheduled to die this year, while three others are on an unofficial list of condemned killers most likely to be executed in 1984.

Nuke Approval

Seven years behind schedule and nearly $5 billion over budget, the South Texas Nuclear Project finally won a first-round approval to begin operation when construction is completed.

A Nuclear Regulatory Commission licensing board this week made a preliminary decision to approve a license for the troubled plant.

However, that decision is subject to change after at least two more hearings on the matter before the final decision can be made.

The plant originally was set to open in 1982 at a cost of $1 billion. Now, completion is not expected until 1989 and estimates of the final cost are put at $5.5 billion.

Still, some nuclear power supporters hailed the NRC board decision as a victory at a time when other troubled nuclear plant projects are being scrapped.

File for Homestead Exemption

COLLEGE STATION—Texas homeowners can reduce their tax burden by filing for homestead exemptions.

"Taxpayers can claim a home, including a mobile home, that they owned and used as a principal residence on Jan. 1 as a residence homestead," says Dr. Don Stebbins, real estate specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "By claiming their home as a homestead, taxpayers are entitled to a $5,000 exemption off the market value of the homestead for school tax purposes."

In addition, other exemptions may be available, by local option, from other taxing jurisdictions, adds the specialist.

"To ensure that they benefit from available exemption, homeowners, must file a claim by May 1 of the taxable year," Stebbins says. "However, once an exemption is granted by the appraisal district, it remains in effect as long as the property qualifies."

Claims can be filed on forms available from the taxpayers' appraisal district office. However, the office of almost any local taxing jurisdiction in the county can provide information on

School Board Hires Teachers and Aides

Wellington School Board hired teachers and aides for the '84-'85 school year and discussed a variety of other business at regular board meeting Monday, March 19.

There were no changes from last year in overages above state base.

The personnel list includes the following:

Coaches: Dale Morris, Tom Johnson, Carl Taylor, Ronnie Williams and Gano Wilson.

Band director: Frank Aue.

School nurse: Fraya Hammons, 1 day per week.

Counselor: Louis Graham.

High school teachers: John Birkey, Linda Brewer, Judy Cudd, Allen Gilbert, Lloyd Hays, Rubye Hodges, Linda Johnson, Gay McAlister, Rodney Myrick, Barbara Roberson, Anita Roberts and Mary Lois Scott.

Junior high teachers: Linda Argo, Beth Lennon, Barbara Williams, and Barbara Bartlett.

Elementary teachers: Opal Camp, Frankie Campbell, Evelyn Carter, Duane Dodson, Alcie Estes, Shirley Henard, Beverly Hudson, Janet Lindley, Lennie Morgan, LoRhae Morgan, Jeanne Taylor and Virginia Tarver.

Special education, (the following teachers and aides were recommended to Eastern Panhandle Cooperative to be hired for the '84-'84 term): Anne Long, Deanna VanPelt (1/2 time), Wanda Cardwell, Vella Mae Yeilding, Rita Lowrie, Patricia Pruitt, Carolyn Thomas and Vickie Parker.

Migrant teachers and aides: Ruth Norman, Phoebe Tramel and Dorothy McKay.

Gifted and talented: Deanna VanPelt (1/2 time.)

School aides: Marilyn Davis, Gwen Barber and Jackie Wilkerson.

Chapter I teachers: Kay

Mead and Katherine Reeves

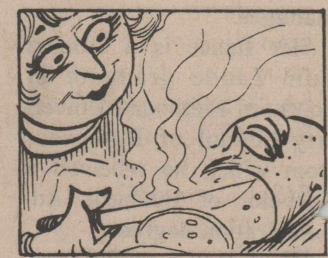

Chapter I and state compensatory aides: Delores Birkey, Vonnie Taylor, Martha Green, Margaret Pendleton, Linda Powell and Ruby Williams.

In other business the board approved contracting tax assessing duties to the county appraisal district. The school district will still continue to collect its own taxes.

The school has been notified of changes in state curriculum requirements that will go into effect after next year. In junior high the school will need to add a one-half year course in computer literacy. Otherwise, the junior high curriculum is already fulfilling the new requirements, junior high principal Bob Allen said.

In high school a 1-year course in computer literacy and a second year of foreign language must be added. The school already offers a second year of foreign language, but in several of the past few years there have not been enough students requesting the course to justify it, high school principal Eddie Hankins said.

Present were board members Carroll Nunnelle, Frances Schmidt, Kirby Campbell, John Barton, Bill Spillman and Dan Langford, Reed Souder was absent.

SUMMER CAMP--AT WELLINGTON

Guardsmen Complete Summer Camp Pilot Project at Armory

A pilot project carried out by the Texas National Guard with the Wellington unit has enabled 10 members to take their annual two weeks summer camp duty in their home armory.

The two-weeks condensed training period which ended Sunday, March 18, covered map reading, surveillance, plotting, radar installation, maintenance and operation of the ANPRC 77 radar set, maintenance records and procedures installation and operation of AN/PPS-4-A radar set, and the AN/PPS-5A radar sets, according to S/Sgt. John R. Henard Jr.

Instructing the course was S/Sgt. Domino Lugo, Regular Army stationed at Ft. Huachuca, Arizona. "When he got here, he wasn't sure how he was going to like working with National Guard men, but before long he was enjoying it," Henard said.

Guardsmen in the course were S/Sgt. R.L. Hunnicutt, Sp 4 Tim Wells of Pampa, Sgt. Danny Degner, PFC Ben White, Plt Sgt. Henard, Sp 4 Juan Sanchez, Sgt. Jerry Beck of Memphis, Sp 4 Jay Thomas, Sgt. Bill Hindman of Childress.

M/Sgt. Vernon Day, permanent employee of the National Guard, worked with the group.

In order to have their summer training at home, these men took the annual two-weeks leave from their jobs--for most their summer vacations--and reported to the National Guard Armory for the day-long training.

The Wellington unit, the support company, 2d Battalion (mechanized) 142 Infantry, is equipped with three of the AN/PPS-4-A radar units, Henard explained. These particular instruments have a maximum surveillance range of 6,000 meters, between 4 1/2 to 5 miles on vehicles and 1500 meters on personnel. There must be movement for the radar to detect the object.

"The newer sets, 5-w, which this unit will have later on, has two video screens. One screen gives you range and the other screen will get whatever you are monitoring and you can track the object across the screen," Henard said.

"Going to the arcade and playing the video games was an asset on the newer type radar," Henard laughed.

On the newest radar units, the maximum range for vehicles is 10,000 meters and on personnel 6,000 meters. The minimum range is 40 meters.

The new units can be broken down so three men can back pack it.

"We are the only school trained ground surveillance unit in the State of Texas to have the school brought to us," Henard said.

The Wellington School will be reviewed and it is possible that many other men over the state will have their two-weeks summer camp brought to them.

Wellington unit members are still laughing about a night practical exercise.

Radar units were set up in Pioneer Park and trucks coming down Highway US 83 were monitored.

"They could pick up our signal and thought we were the Highway Patrol. You don't know what it is that's monitoring you, but you know someone out there is shooting a radar beam at you. You should have heard the fuzz busters come on, and when those trucks drove by Pioneer Park they were just creeping."

On another day the men went to a ranch on Elm Creek to monitor movement of cattle and vehicles coming down dirt roads.

This is the fourth time the Support Company has been selected as the site of a pilot project. The others were the Non-commissioned officer (NCO) training courses on the primary, basic and advanced levels.

Because of the success of the courses this NCO development program is being used throughout the 49th Division.

THEN-NOW!

Although stoves have been known to man for more than 1,000 years, their use of cooking food is actually fairly recent.

THEN: The Chinese were using stoves for heating their homes as early as the 700s. However, popular use of stoves for cooking didn't begin in America until the last century. Most of these early iron cookstoves used wood for fuel.

NOW: Cooking, today, can be a finely honed skill, thanks to new developments in microwave cookery. Today's ovens, using energy-saving microwaves, can roast meat, bake a cake, simmer a sauce for pasta, cook a casserole and much more. New developments in utensils, made of Udel polysulfone, are making microwave cookery even better. They're chip and break-resistant, are very transparent to microwaves and clean with ease. They're even dishwasher-safe.

Cats have no ability to taste sweet things.

Sarpalius Schedule Announced

A representative of Senator Bill Sarpalius will be in Wellington with his mobile office once each month during the next quarter.

The schedule for these visits will be Friday, April 20 from 2:30 to 3:30 at the courthouse.

Wednesday, May 16, court house, 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Thursday, June 14 2:30 to 3:30 p.m., court house.

Those with questions they want answered, or with problems they would like to discuss should come to the mobile office on these dates.

Excess Social Security Tax Can Be Credit

If you worked for two or more employers during 1983 and received wages totaling more than $35,700, IRS suggests you check the Social Security amount on your Form W-2.

If it shows more than $2,391.90, you can claim the excess as a credit on your tax return, the IRS says. However, if you file a joint return, you and your spouse must make separate computations.

The IRS added that, if you worked for only one employer and more than $2,391.90 was withheld, you may not claim the excess as a credit against your income tax. Your employer should refund the overcollection to you.

Cancer Society Meets Mar. 22

The Collingsworth unit of the American Cancer Society will meet Thursday, March 22, in the Heritage Room.

Starting time will be 7 p.m.

Sandy St. John, field representative, of Amarillo will be present at this meeting, and all members or others interested in the work of the society are urged to attend.

Lawns to Recover Slowly from Cold

COLLEGE STATION - Most lawns will recover slowly this spring due to the unusually harsh winter, says a turfgrass specialist at Texas A&M University.

"St. Augustine lawns appear thin and slow to recover all over the state," points out Dr. Richard L. Duble with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Floratum St. Augustine, which is more sensitive to low temperature injury, was particularly hard hit."

Lawns that were in poor condition last fall were severely damaged by low temperatures in December and January, notes the specialist.

"Lawns affected by brownpatch, St. Augustine Decline, chinch bugs and white grubs last year were in a weakened condition before low temperatures produced further injury. Heavily thatched lawns also suffered extensive winter injury since the turf was more exposed to temperature extremes," explains Duble.

What can homeowners do to promote lawn recovery and prevent similar problems next year?

Duble suggests "scalping" the lawn in early spring with a mower to remove debris, applying a complete fertilizer to promote recovery, and controlling broadleaved weeds to reduce competition. "If these tasks are followed with regular maintenance, lawns should green-up rapidly," he says.

Scalping involves mowing the lawn with the lawnmower blade set 1/2- to 1-inch lower than normal and then removing the clippings.

Next, apply a complete fertilizer such as 8-8-8 or 12-12-12 at the rate of 1 pound of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn area. This means 12 pounds of a fertilizer such as 8-8-8, which has 8 percent nitrogen (the first figure in the formula).

The specialist cautions against early application of preemergence herbicides for weed control on lawns since they may further slow grass recovery. "Weeds will be a problem this spring, but regular mowing and fertilization will keep weeds under control and give the grass a better chance to recover," says Duble.

WHS Tennis Team Takes Quannah Championship

THE WELLINGTON (TEXAS) LEADER
THURSDAY, MARCH 22, 1984

12

Wellington High School tennis team took Quannah High School invitational tournament championship Friday and Saturday, March 9 and 10.

This is a back to back championship for the Sky-rockets, for they won the important Vernon tournament only a week earlier.

Wellington players garnered 18 points in the A division for their victory, said Coach Ronny Williams.

Second place went to Electra with 11 points; Knox City was third.

The tournament was in two divisions, "A" for varsity players and "B" for other less experienced players.

Wellington had two firsts and two seconds in "A" division and was second overall in the "B" division with Quannah and Memphis tied for first.

"I was pleased with the way all the kids played, they are improving as they go," said Williams.

"We are off to a real good start, winning Vernon and Quannah tournaments, and hopefully we can play that good in our own tournament (this weekend.)"

"A" DIVISION BOYS SINGLES

Tommy Cochran was defeated by Jerry Dupierrez of Knox City in the first round, 6-0, 6-1.

Abel Villanueva defeated Mathis Green of Chillicothe 6-1, 6-3 but in the second round he was defeated by Bradley Schlegel of Electra 6-2, 6-2.

BOYS DOUBLES

Lynn Bartlett and Jamie McKay defeated Skiles and Melin of Knox City 6-3, 6-3 in the next round, then defeated Jacoby and Thames of Electra 6-0, 6-1. The finals saw two Wellington teams on opposite sides of the net, and Bartlett and McKay defeated Todd Roberson and Mike Myrick 6-2, 6-0.

Roberson and Myrick defeated Jalomo and Jalomo of Quannah 6-0, 6-4 in the first round. They then won over Johnson and Schoake of Haskell 6-3, 7-5. This took them into the finals with Bartlett and McKay.

GIRLS SINGLES

Lori Lacy was defeated by Stacy Smith of Electra in the first round 7-6, 0-6, 5-7.

Margo Duncan defeated Michelle Boustert of Chillicothe 6-0, 6-0 in first round play. Next, she defeated Celine Helzelouer of Electra 6-0, 6-1. In the finals, Margo lost to Catherine Farris of Memphis 6-3, 6-3.

GIRLS DOUBLES

Vanda Wood and Linda Lacy lost the first round to Losaphone and Shelnett of Electra 7-5, 4-6, 4-6.

Lisa Powell and KayLynn Bartlett won over Montgomery and Lemons of Memphis 4-6, 6-3, 6-1. In the finals, they defeated Lozaphone and Shellnutt of Electra 6-3, 6-0 to take first place.

"B" DIVISION BOYS DOUBLES

Tracy Day and Derek Seal lost to Lewis and Blackmon of Knox City 6-2, 6-4.

BOYS SINGLES

Brian Van Pelt defeated Sonny Steel of Childress 6-3, 6-3 in the first round, then won over Montgomery of Memphis 6-4, 6-2. Two Wellington boys met in the finals and Kelly Goforth defeated VanPelt 6-4, 6-1.

In the first round, Goforth defeated Keith Williams of Childress 4-6, 7-6, 6-2.

One Act Play Wins Again!

"Dino", the Wellington high school entry in the UIL one-act play contest, is one of the two from District 2-2A chosen to advance to area competition. The Quannah High School play will advance along with Wellington's entry, said Gay McAlister, director.

Todd Roberson received Best Actor honors and Barry Bowen was named to the all-star cast. Allison Neeley and Eugene Mote received honorable mention all-star honors.

The UIL district contest was held Tuesday, March 20 at Clarendon College.

The UIL area contest will be held Thursday, March 29, in the new White Deer school auditorium. Under recent rule changes, the area includes the top two plays from District 1-2A and 2-2A. The top area teams will advance to Region 1 competition.

Barbara Williams took her entire 8th grade speech class to the district contest where they watched all the contest plays. Coach James Williams accompanied the group.

The Wellington contest play has ranked as one of the two top plays in the district for a number of years.

Surveys indicate that about 85 percent of human beings are right handed.

Coop Leaders at Meeting

CORPUS CHRISTI Cooperative leaders and their wives, representing the Farmers' Cooperative Society No. 1, were among more than 300 agricultural cooperative managers, directors and wives from across Texas who attended the 33rd annual cooperative manager-director conference in mid-March.

Going from here were Mr. and Mrs. Troy Thomason, Mr. and Mrs. Jerol Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Leamon Bawcom, J.N. Glasgow and Mr. and Mrs. James Shepard.

The convention was held at the Holiday Inn Emerald Beach Hotel.

The conference theme "Cooperatives...Preparing for the Future" emphasized the importance and the purposes of the conference - (1) to broaden skills in managerial decision-making for cooperative managers and directors; and (2) to keep abreast of the changes and the challenges that are facing agricultural cooperatives. Speakers at the conference included Dr. Frank Groves of the University of Wisconsin at Madison; Jack Hughes, President of Texas Bank for Cooperatives, Austin; Ken Neilson, President of Farm-land Industries, Inc. of Kansas City, Missouri; Bill Moon, vice-president of Cooperative Finance Association of Kansas City, Missouri; and Edward Breihan, member of Texas Farm Credit Board from Lubbock. Additional speakers were local cooperative Extension Service and Texas Bank for Cooperatives personnel.

Since the beginning of these conferences in 1952, cooperative leaders have met to prepare themselves for greater service to their local producer-members. The program consisted of speakers, workshops, and various general and small group sessions.
