LESTER'S FATE TO JURY TODAY

OPPOSITION TO BONDS ARISES

FIGHT LOOMS OVER CLOSING DAYS OF WORK

M. G. ABERNATHY LEADS GROUP OPPOSING BONDS CAMPAIGN

BY AL. HILL
Journal Staff Writer

What appeared to be a campaign wherein no organized opposition is apparent, today changed into one in which a short but somewhat determined fight will ensue between now and next Tuesday, December 17th, when voters of Lubbock county will go to the polls and vote "yes" or "no" on the proposition of issuing $991,000 in bonds to pave Highways number 7, 9 and 53.

The organized opposition is headed by M. G. Abernathy, local man, who announces that he "has been forced to oppose" this election. He bases his opposition upon the contention that the Texas State Highway commission has not, as yet, rescinded its minutes order No. 1068, which was passed several months ago and which purports to state that the two past elections held in Lubbock county to vote road bonds were viewed by them as referendums on routing of Highway 53. He contends further that the Lubbock county commissioners are compelled to provide right-of-way for 53 out of Avenue H and the Santa Fe tracks to Idaho, in lieu of the Highway department's changing the routing of this road out east Broadway.

O'Neill is heard as opposed to Mr. Abernathy's contention, Charles F. O'Neill, chairman of the Lubbock County Good Roads association, states that

CROP YIELD BELOW NORMAL

ONLY 106 POUNDS PER ACRE PRODUCED IN TEXAS THIS YEAR

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Dec. 10.—Owing to severe losses from insects, floods, storm and drought, the average cotton yield per acre in Texas this year was only 106 pounds, against 138 in 1928 and 133 the ten year average, according to H. H. Schultz, statistician with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, who released his December cotton report today.

"This season, all states, even Florida, have exceeded Texas in yield per acre," he said. "Acreage abandoned after July 1 is estimated at 5.5 per cent, the greatest since 1925, when abandonment was 8 per cent. On July 1 there were 15,912,000 acres of cotton in cultivation, compared with 18,330,000 on July 1, 1928. Deducting the acreage not picked this year, 17,872,000 remained for harvest against 17,740,000 in 1928. Ginnings prior to December 1 were 3,518,000 bales, or 91 per cent of the estimated final production.

Weather Unfavorable
Weather in Texas during November was unfavorable for gathering what remained in the fields. Rain, snow and low temperatures retarded all farm operations and wasted the equivalent of many bales of cotton. Many late bolls rotted from the effect of the rains. With 3,818,000 bales ginned to December 1, it is estimated that some 300,000 were still in the field with approximately one-half of these in the

Prince Carol's Plea For Return Rejected

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Dec. 10 (AP)—Application of Prince Carol, former Crown Prince of Rumania, to return to his native land was rejected by the government today. The decree of Ferdinand, late King of Rumania, banishes the errant son until 1936, it was said. Carol is father of the boy King Michael.

HARRISON GIVES COOLIDGE 'TIP'

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—A "friendly tip" was offered to Calvin Coolidge by Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, in the senate today not to "fall in with the conspiracy" of republicans associated with President Hoover to run for the senate in the Massachusetts election next year.

Harrison suggested the "conspiracy" was to "beat" Dwight D. Morrow, ambassador to Mexico, and Coolidge in the senate. He said those anxious about the re-nomination of President Hoover regarded these two men as the "serious" contenders for his post.

"But I have too much respect for Mr. Coolidge," said Harrison, "to believe he will follow this subtle plan inaugurated by those close to President Hoover and bury himself in the senate."

U. S. SHIPS DEPART FOR CHINA AREAS

PROTECTION WILL BE GIVEN AMERICANS IN ORIENT

(By Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Dec. 10.—The United States cruiser Pittsburgh and six American destroyers sped from Manila toward Shanghai today, pursuant to orders issued by Rear Admiral Charles B. McVay, Jr. They were expected to arrive Thursday to protect, if necessary, American life and property in the rebel-torn areas of China.

In issuing sailing orders at Manila, Admiral McVay asserted that whenever American life and property were endangered, the routine duty of the navy was to protect them. The six destroyers, comprising the thirty-ninth American destroyer division, sailed early yesterday. The Pittsburgh, Admiral McVay's flagship, followed.

Britishmen Going Also

Four British ships, the cruiser Berwick and the destroyers St. Cloud, Seraph and Bruce, arrived here this morning from Hong Kong. The destroyers were expected to proceed up the Yangtze river to protect their nationals.

American consular officials announced that American retainers in Nanking except the United States consular authorities would evacuate the city tonight.

Consular officials emphasized the action was "purely precautionary," but added, they "considered it justified." British Nationals are following the same course.

Escaped Convicts Hunted

To Be Brought Back

HUNTSVILLE, Dec. 10. (AP)—Richard Naylor, alias Robert Standley, who participated in the Ferguson prison break in 1926 in which Will Rader, a guard, was killed, and who later escaped while en route to the Eastham farm, will be returned to the prison here with Lloyd Waddell, arrested with him in Los Angeles yesterday.

Naylor was serving a six year term for robbery in Childress and Delta counties when he escaped. Waddell was serving three years from Clay county for theft when he escaped from the Ferguson farm last September. He also was known as Ray Miller.

Loan May Be Given Rio Grande Valley

DEATH TOLL MOUNTS TO 163 TODAY IN TERRIFIC STORMS OVER BRITISH ISLES AREA; SIXTY-NINE VESSELS WRECKED

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Known deaths in the terrific storm which has battered Great Britain and the continental coast for the past week today reached 163 most of them at sea.

Heaviest losses were in waters around the British Isles where at least 69 vessels were wrecked or badly damaged.

French Coast Hit
Partial reports tabulated in Paris showed 53 lives had been lost on the French coast or inland, while at least a half dozen steamers and fishing vessels foundered or were badly damaged.

Among latest vessels to call for aid was the British steamship Malabar from Philadelphia for London whose rudder was carried away. An S. O. S. was received from the British steamer Hallmoor from Marcellus.

An unbroken stream of storm centers was sweeping in from the Atlantic toward Great Britain. Atmospheric depression here was the greatest in 50 years, a reading of 27 1-2 inches having been made. Severe tropical cyclones rarely force the barometer so low.

Gales Rage Furiously
The gales still raged furiously, although somewhat abated, from the mouth of the Elbe in the North Sea to Cape Finisterre, Northwest extremity of Spain. Coasts of Ireland, Scotland, Wales and Sussex were strewn with wreckage and dotted with crippled ships trying to escape fury of the elements. The French coast had a similar aspect.

Considerable anxiety was held for several ships which had not reported.

FARM AGENTS FETED TODAY

ONE HUNDRED FIFTY ATTEND LUNCHEON AT LUBBOCK HOTEL

As a fore-runner to the afternoon's joint session between South Plains bankers, county agricultural and home demonstration agents of District 2, Extension service A. and M. College of Texas, a luncheon of participants was held at Hotel Lubbock at noon today. Approximately 150 financiers and extension workers were in attendance.

The luncheon and this afternoon's session formed the closing features of the conference of extension service workers representing 24 West Texas and South Plains counties, which opened Monday morning.

Talks Are Made

Addresses of welcome to the visitors were delivered by L. C. Ellis, vice-president of the Lubbock National bank, and R. J. Murray, former banker, representing the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, R. A. Underwood, Plainview banker, responded to the welcome of Walter Lee, vice-president of the Spur National bank, was in charge of the proceedings. Immediately after the luncheon the affairs of business, stressing co-operation between bankers and county agents, were begun.

This morning's session which preceded the luncheon was merely a continuation of yesterday afternoon's program when a general round table discussion was held. The discussion, participated in by county agents, home demonstration agents and extension service workers of both the state and nation, pertained mainly to ways and means of improving the agricultural work of the service. Sterling C. Evans, district agent, presided at the gathering and short talks were heard from the visiting agents.

SEVENTY-FIVE ESCAPE FROM BUILDING IN NEW YORK CITY

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Nine persons, five men and four women, were killed, and several others were missing, in a fire which swept a three story brick studio of the Manhattan Studios, Inc., and the Pathe Motion Picture Exchange at Park Ave., and 134th Street today.

About 75 persons were in the building when the fire, of undetermined origin, was discovered shortly before ten o'clock.

Fed By Films

The stage was set in the rear of the first floor of the studio, and "Eddie" Elkins, orchestra leader, had his fourteen musicians in position to start the overture for a miniature review, produced by Herry Delmar. On the second floor about thirty women, in costume, were in their dressing rooms awaiting the call of the director.

With cameras in position, director ready and cast awaiting the call to "shoot," there was a flash from a black velvet drop in the rear of the stage. Flames followed. The studio crew, according to reports to the police, uncoiled a line of hose and started to fight the blaze.

Spreads Rapidly

The fire spread with such rapidity that by the time the engines arrived the studio building was a mass of flames, and huge billows of smoke were pouring from the structure.

Deputy Fire Chief Dougherty immediately sounded second, third and fourth alarms, bringing apparatus from the Bronx and many parts of Manhattan, ambulances and police emergency squads and

CHEST DRIVE REPORT TODAY

WORKERS MAKE CLEAN UP OF CITY THIS MORNING

A final report is expected to be made on the Community Chest drive this afternoon at 3 o'clock when approximately 50 workers will bring in results of an all-day canvass of remaining prospects. A meeting was held this morning at 8:30 o'clock in the offices of the chamber of commerce and workers were assigned names to visit during the day.

Several hundred dollars have already been received since the last report made on Friday evening. When the regular four-day drive ended, officials this morning expressed opinions that with today's amount added the remaining funds to be raised for the $30,000 quota would be small.

Jno. L. Irwin of the American City Bureau, director of the campaign in its first year, will leave this afternoon and it has been announced that a permanent headquarters of the organization will be designated in the near future.

Fines Total $241 Here Over Week-End

A total of $241 was paid in the city corporation court this morning and yesterday for law violations over the week-end.

Two were fined for speeding, 8 for drunkenness, 6 for disturbance and 6 for traffic violations.

COTTON TO REIGN IN DRESS STYLES IN FUTURE, FARM FEDERATION TOLD

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (AP)—Those long skirts, dotted swiss dresses, wide brimmed straw—how young America smilers! But they're coming back! The Cotton Textile Institute of American Farm Bureau Federation says so.

Mull and Muslin (grandmother used to think there was nothing much better for a dress) are returning. Frocks of these materials already are in vogue at Florida resorts, the farmers' wives were told today by Miss Susan Bates of New York.

Cotton may not sound so ritzy to young women who speak in terms of chiffon, silk and such, but the institute revealed one could pay good prices for cotton as well. A simple street dress had $35 price tag and Miss Bates said, $125 for an evening gown is really nothing. Styles determine the price, the institute pointed out, cotton gowns created by well known designers commanding their price even as those in silk.

The uneven hemline was not much in evidence, but the dresses were long. Skirts for afternoon and evening were ankle length; sport and street dresses hung three to four inches below the knees.

SLAYER OF FIVE

Armando Voltaire, below, has confessed he murdered five members of the Alvarez-Garcia family and strewed their bodies in a deserted mountain canyon near San Fernando, Calif., because of "an old grudge." The "wholesale murder" victims, who were slain at different times, were Luciano Garcia, his wife, Mrs. Alvarez-Garcia, and Charles Alvarez, 18; Carmelita Alvarez, 12, and Elisa Alvarez, 6.

SOLON NAMED WITH SIX IN FRAUD CASE

FREDERICK ZIHLMAN OF MARYLAND CHARGED IN INDICTMENTS

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Representative Frederick H. Zihlman of Maryland, Daniel R. Crisinger, former controller of the currency, and five officials of the F. H. Smith company, investment security house, were indicted today on a charge of "using the mails to defraud."

Zihlman and Crisinger were members of the board of directors of the F. H. Smith company, whose affairs have been under investigation by a grand jury for some time.

Several days ago, Zihlman, who is chairman of the house District of Columbia committee, announced he had submitted his resignation as a member of the board.

In addition to the indictments against the seven men, an indictment was returned against the "F. H. Smith company as a corporation."

Receivers Appointed For Insurance Firm

KANSAS CITY, Kas., Dec. 10. (AP)—Two receivers were appointed for the Federal Reserve Life Insurance company here today by Judge W. H. McCamish, following the filing of a suit for temporary receivership by 17 stockholders. Alleging the organization had been looted of more than $1,000,000 by the management, Fred White, Wyandotte county attorney, last week sought a receiver and trustee.

Haiti Back Again To Normal Aspect

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, Dec. 10. (AP)—Haiti resumed its normal aspect today confident there would be no continuation of week-end rioting which cost lives of five natives and more than a score of wounded.

President Louis Borno issued a manifesto charging ambitious persons wishing a change in the government had caused the disorders. He praised the American forces for the manner in which they performed their duties under the treaty with Haiti.

Simmons' Trial Is Given Continuance

LAGRANGE, Dec. 9. (AP)—Third trial of M. K. Simmons, former San Patricio county game warden, for the slaying of Bud Stoner in 1926 will not be held until the May term of court. Judge Jeffrey granted a defense motion for a continuance because of the absence of material witnesses.

ARGUMENTS TO BE CLOSED THIS AFTERNOON; DEMAND FOR DEATH PENALTY MADE

BY SUTTON CHRISTIAN
Journal Staff Writer

The fate of Clay Lester, accused of the fatal shooting of his wife in this city October 24, will be in the hands of a jury in the 99th District court late today, indications were at two o'clock this afternoon.

George Dupree, special prosecutor, delivered an impassioned speech, dramatically portraying scenes of the tragedy, at the opening of the afternoon session. The prosecutor, frequently fingering his hair until it appeared an uncombed mane, spoke stirring and with numerous gestures.

Speaks of Relatives

"Two sisters and the aged father," he said, "have detailed all that they have seen happen in the life of Lester and from that the defense mental experts have diagnosed that Lester is insane. Yet they have never introduced testimony of any other than a relative to show that Lester's affairs with his fellow men have indicated insanity. They are as silent in that measure as Virgil Lester's tomb."

In closing he urged the jury, in exercising its sovereign judgment, to "write a verdict wherein Clay Lester may never get his hands on his ten-year-old son, Roscoe, and to do so that verdict would be death."

Argument Opens

Argument in trial opened this morning at 9:30 o'clock, after Judge Clark M. Mulligan had read his charge to the jury, and will be concluded when District Attorney Durwood Bradley closes this afternoon with the State's demand for the death penalty.

The courtroom setting for the final day is vibrant with emotion—sorrow and interest. Behind the counsel table and near the prosecution attorneys are Roscoe Lester, 10-year-old son of the defendant, accompanied by Mrs. Roche Newton, sister of Mrs. Virgil Lester, the slain woman. Newton, her face traceable with sorrow, clasped the hand of her sister's only child, who but a few days ago cried and fled while officers were escorting him to his father, after the latter had requested to see him.

Crenshaw Makes Plea

In a speech, marked by impressive simplicity of delivery, C. C. Crenshaw, special prosecutor, characterized the Lester case as one which, "in cold-bloodedness, outrages every instinct of humanity."

Mr. Crenshaw, unostentatious, stood at one end of the counsel table, seldom moving out of his tracks, as he opened for the State.

He appealed to the jury to render a verdict which will "stand as a sign post, so that every man who enters Lubbock county may know that he can't place crime above law in this county."

Burden on Defense

"Under the law," he said, "a person is presumed to be sane until proven otherwise. The burden is upon the defendant in this case to prove that at the time the killing occurred that he was insane, to the extent that he didn't know right from wrong, and he must prove that to your satisfaction."

"This is a peculiar case of insanity, based upon statements of the defendants to the three mental experts who testified for the defense, together with statements of relatives as to eccentricities and peculiarities of Clay Lester from childhood to maturity."

Always Appeared Sane

"Yet, we have heard witnesses testify for the State to the effect that Clay Lester has always appeared sane and capable of understanding right from wrong in his business organization has never entered

GUARDS WATCH CHICAGO HOME

CHICAGO STADIUM AND NORRIS RESIDENCE IS CLOSELY GUARDED

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—Both the Lake Forest home of James Norris, broker, and the $7,000,000 Chicago Stadium on the west side were under police guard today, the result of an unsuccessful attempt to bomb Norris' home Sunday.

Norris is a stockholder in the stadium corporation. A dynamite bomb, its fuse half burned, was found by the Norris butler under the dining table just as the Norris family was about to sit down to Sunday dinner. The fuse had been extinguished, apparently by the brushing of a curtain, blown against it.

News Not Divulged

News of the attempted bombing was not divulged, but both police and private detectives were called in. Five officers patrolled the Norris estate last night, and a special police detail was assigned to the stadium in the belief the attempt upon Norris' life may have had some connection with recent activities of the stadium directors.

OKLAHOMA MAN CHARGED IN DEATH

PONCA CITY, Okla., Dec. 10. (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Shepherd, 25, shot Sunday by her husband, Alva A. Shepherd, died today in a Ponca City hospital, and a murder charge was filed against Shepherd, held in the jail at Newkirk.

Shepherd attempted to plead guilty, but Judge W. E. Rice refused to accept the plea.

Shepherd said the shooting resulted from a quarrel over what he asserted was cruelty by his wife to his children by a former previous marriage.

WOMAN DIES IN COLLISION

FOG NEAR KERRVILLE
CAUSES ACCIDENT;
TWO INJURED

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Dec. 10.—Mrs. M. L. Butler, 71, recently of Austin, was fatally injured, her daughters, Mrs. Dan G. Butler, Austin, and Mrs. A. C. Glenn of San Antonio, were slightly injured, and Dr. W. B. Eckhardt of Kerrville, escaped injury when their car collided in a heavy fog near Kerrville Monday.

Mrs. Butler, instead of attending the funeral of her daughter, Mrs. R. C. Neathery of Junction, to which she had started, may be buried in joint services with the daughters.

Her son, Dan G. Butler of Austin, who was on his ranch at Kennedy, had not been located to be notified of his mother's death and his wife's injury.

A. C. Glenn of San Antonio, another occupant of the Butler car, escaped injury.

Northwest. There is a considerable percentage to pick in the west, but the remaining districts have only one to three per cent left. With a few weeks of good weather practically all of the crop will be out. As a whole, the 1929 crop has been gathered earlier than usual.

The final cotton report of the season of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, released yesterday, indicated there would be 3,860,000 bales of cotton produced in Texas this year, a year's production was 3,106,000 bales and in 1927 it was 4,382,000 bales.

When the studio employees realized the flames were too much for them they shouted for everyone to flee from the building. The performers in the dressing rooms fled down the stairs and into the street where they were given refuge in nearby offices.

When firemen finally were able to make their way into the building, they came upon the bodies of the five men and four women who were trapped.

BURNS PROVE FATAL TO SAN ANGELO MAN

SAN ANGELO, Dec. 10 (AP).—Searched by the flames from burning movie films which had been stored in a rooming house, Mrs. Tena Forrester of Nixon while riding in a bus near here Thursday, B. J. Morgan, San Angelo architect, died at a hospital here yesterday. Mrs. Ada Hahn, 62, of Fredericksburg, and Bob Dornal, driver of the bus, who also were burned, are expected to recover.

near transactions.

"Mrs. Vida Gline and Mrs. D. Timberlake, state of Oklahoma, after testifying that in their opinion he is insane stated that at times he was normal. When each was asked if she knew whether or not Clay Lester was sane or insane at the time of the killing she replied 'no'.

"The nearest the defense got to Clay Lester's condition before the killing was when Mrs. B. Lester, wife of the defendant's brother, was placed on the stand and she testified that she saw Clay Lester on the afternoon before the tragedy and that he appeared like he always did and stated that she didn't notice anything peculiar about him.

"Now, I wonder why the defense didn't try a little further to show the defendant's mental condition before the shooting. We were told in the testimony that Clay went to his wife's cafe, a few minutes before the shooting occurred, in an automobile driven by another man. Why didn't they put that 'other man' on the witness stand?"

Father Testified
"D. P. Lester, aged father of the defendant, testified that Clay attacked and beat him up with his fists a little more than a year ago. The father also stated that later his son wrote a letter expressing that he was sorry for his act. Doesn't that indicate that he knew right from wrong?"

Doctors V. V. Clark and G. G. Castleberry, both of this city and Dr. M. M. Walker, of Wichita Falls, the latter of whom was employed by the defense at an expense of $350, testified that the defendant knew right from wrong when he argued with his wife about that letter and later about the case.

Let's review the case. When Clay Lester went to his wife's cafe he inquired of Mrs. Eva Paschall as to where he could find his wife. He knew better than to shoot at Mrs. Paschall, he knew whom he was looking for.

"And then after he had brutally slain the woman he had sworn to cherish and protect he went to the sheriff's office. Doesn't that prove to you that he knew right from wrong and that he was sane?"

Charles C. Triplett, who, while speaking, stood directly in front of the panel of the jury box, stated that whenever a killing is done by a normally minded man there will always be a motive commensurate with the act he commits.

No Motive Shown
"The State," he continued, "with all its machinery, has not proved that there was a single motive for the shooting of Mrs. Virginia Lester. The expert witnesses we placed on the stand told you that a normal man would not shoot down a woman, who was not making an attack upon him.

ed their positions and condition and it was feared loss of life and property might be greater.

Travelers Believed Lost

Particular apprehension was felt for ten steam trawlers and a number of sailing trawlers out of Great Yarmouth somewhere in the North Sea, none of which were reported Sunday. The government broadcast a message to shipping in the North Sea to watch out for these craft.

Sharp cold weather and snow replaced the warm weather which until last night accompanied the tempest, in some sections, and it was predicted temperatures would fall over all the British Isles and western Europe.

Floods Menace

Menace from floods caused much concern. Government authorities maintained a constant watch on the Thames, since last the disaster of January 1928, in London, was repeated. Flood defenses were scrutinized at every high tide for possible weaknesses.

Many square miles of agricultural land and an ever-increasing number of towns and villages suffered damage from inundation. Great chains of lakes were formed along the Thames valley, and regular service boat lines were organized in some places as the only means of communication.

GIRL ATTACKER

nounced here today it had reports in its files of attacks on more than twenty Seattle and Tacoma girls by Lloyd Pathe, arrested in Janesville, Wis., and identified by photographs as the "perfumed slinger" who terrorized residential districts of the two cities here for months.

A charge accused Pathe with attacking Roby Mayo, 15, Seattle high school girl, in her home on October 15, 1928.

Had Cheap Perfume

The attacker gained his name because he was invariably reeking with cheap perfume. He always carried a pistol and blackjack, and in each instance would frighten his victims into silence after stealing upon them.

The police said they knew of two cases in which he fired on his victims. In the first, he escaped after firing several times at John Kidney, brother of Evelyn Kidney, an intended victim. In the second, he shot Miss Grace Bonett in the foot when she screamed.

FOUR HURT IN BLAST

PUEBLO, Colo., Dec. 10 (AP).—Four persons were injured today when an explosion demolished a store and rooming house building in the principal business street of Bessemer, a suburb.

Teeth are ordinarily stronger than stone and some metals.

It so happens that abnormally minded men will commit such acts, for there are such people in the world. This is the most complete case of insanity I have ever known.

The greatest of all pleaders sent up a message to Almighty God in defense of insanity. When Christ was nailed to the cross by the prejudiced and "insane" Jews he prayed, "Father forgive them, for they know not what they do."

Mr. Triplett, who delivered an eloquent address, went through the various stages of Lester's life, reviewing the testimony of relatives as to his peculiarities in getting away to himself and later his manner of bragadoctio and the periods of hallucinations. The various peculiarities expressed by relatives were said by the defense mental experts to be symptoms of insanity.

STATE FUNDS IN SLIGHT DEFICIT

AUSTIN, Dec. 10. (AP)—With a cash balance of only $87,422, there were warrants aggregating $2,946,544 outstanding against the general revenue fund of the state on November 30, according to W. Gregory Hatcher, treasurer.

There was a balance of $5,500,015 in the highway fund with outstanding warrants $654,284. There was $350,045 in the permanent school fund with $63,932 worth of warrants outstanding. The Confederate pension fund was overdrawn $332,268, with estimated outstanding warrants totaling $375,874.

Total cash in all funds was $11,458,002 with warrants outstanding aggregating $6,250,000, leaving a net cash balance of about $5,208,002.

into any part of the controversy over the routing of 53 out of this city, excepting that it shall go by way of Idalou. "We simply want the highway paved, regardless of its route," he said, "and will leave the problem of settling this dispute to the state highway department and the courts. When they have settled it we want to have the money ready to pay for paving it."

It will be remembered that, following the election call, issued last month by the county commissioners' court, that body addressed a letter and some resolutions to the state highway department in which the Lubbock county officials declared their unwillingness to be bound by any orders for rights-of-way and in which they requested the Highway commission to not look upon the coming election, or any previous ones, as a sort of a referendum on 53's routing.

Ely Makes Reply

In answer to the Lubbock county commissioners' communication, the following letter was received, it bearing the signature of Judge W. R. Ely, of Abilene, member of the commission from West Texas:

"Judge Robert H. Bean, county judge, Lubbock county, Lubbock, Texas. Dear Judge Bean: I have your letter of recent date together with copy of resolution passed by your court.

"The Highway department will not consider an election in that county, either a referendum for or against any particular route out of Lubbock, but so far as the location of Highway No. 53 is concerned, I think the Commission is of one mind when I say that it is definitely settled.

"Referring to the orders made by the Commission heretofore, you are correct in saying that your court was not consulted but the first designation carried with it the usual and usual requirements as to money and location and we were, perhaps, in error in undertaking to require the county to construct a road over Avenue H, and you may, therefore, consider that part of the resolution rescinded, and it may further be considered by this Department and your Court that the adoption of the last order made by this Commission rescinded all other orders theretofore made regarding this location.

"Trusting that your bond issue carries, I am, very sincerely, Yours, W. R. Ely."

Mr. Abernathy stated, in making announcement of his intention to oppose this election:

"The Highway Commission has not rescinded any order. Their letter is wholly unsatisfactory and does not settle anything. Our commissioners passed their order to cure the effects of the No. 1663 minutes and their letter to the department was respectful and nice. It was in their hands before their meeting on Nov. 26 and 27, and they passed no orders rescinding No. 1663.

"On August 3, Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer, told Judge Charles Wilson, of Austin, that this order was because of the fact they had been led to believe that two failures to vote bond issues in Lubbock county had been due to the location of 53 along the Santa Fe track.

Agreement Drawn
"The Avenue H group had an agreement drawn up to support this bond issue and agreeing to withdraw the injunction suit now pending in the District Court regarding the location of 53, providing the State Highway department agrees to hold in abeyance the location of 53 until after the election.

"The Broadway advocates, headed by W. K. Dickinson, Jr., J. H. Goodrich, H. W. Sims and W. D. Benson, signed this agreement. After this an appointment was made with Judge Ely in Abilene, for Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Representatives of the Broadway group were to go to meet him. But when Monday came they did not go, but brought back the agreement and told me they could put over the bond issue without me.

Signers of the agreement for the Avenue H group included Mr. Abernathy, chairman; A. F. Holt, secretary; W. D. McClain, John F. Turner, E. B. Speck, J. J. Murphy and the North Side Improvement league.

Has Been Active
Mr. Abernathy has been active in highway matters in Lubbock county for many years. During the first unsuccessful election campaign, held last December, he was leader of the opposition to the bond issue. In the second campaign, held last January, he was active in campaigning for it.

Mr. O'Neill's statement follows: "The Lubbock County Good Roads association, is not interested in the location of Highway 53, except that it shall run from Lubbock to Idalou. We know about the proposition that Mr. Abernathy made on trying to get routing on 53 left up in the air until after the election.

"Our position on this is just as it has been, and we don't care whether it goes through Abernathy lands or out Broadway. We want it paved. We think that all parties on both ways should accept the situation as it now stands, and leave to the Highway department the final and complete routing of No. 53.

"We hope no voter will misunderstand our position and that every voter will sink any little personal gain in the greater issue of securing paved roads for all of Lubbock county."

DANCING PROVES VERY EXPENSIVE

CHICAGOAN TO TELL JUDGE HOW HE DANCED AWAY $6,000 IN TWO YEARS; ARRESTED

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—Jack New, 40, promised to tell Judge Francis Borelli today how he had danced away $6,000 in two years—$6,000 that didn't belong to him.

"I never smoked, drank, swore, or gambled in my life," he told police last night after being returned from Memphis, Tenn., "but boy, how I've danced these last two years!"

New was bookkeeper for the Wood-Davis company which had him arrested for embezzlement of company funds. He is married and has two children.

"I spent that whole $6,000 on taxi dances," he told Sergeant Rudolph Fremont. "I have danced a distance equivalent to several times around the world.

"You know this taxi dance racket, sergeant—a dime a dance for half a minute, 20 cents a minute. The house gets half, your girl partner gets half. I never danced until I dropped into that taxi dance place. It fascinated me. I couldn't stop. When they closed at 1 a. m., I would sometimes take three or four taxi dancers to night clubs, Anna, Wanda, Beatrice, Bobbie, and Sophie."

It was Sophie Krause, 18, who gave detectives a clue to New's whereabouts. She told Sergeant Fremont she had received a letter from New in Memphis.

Brookhart's Booze Party Probe Dropped

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP).—The District of Columbia grand jury dismissed with two short paragraphs Monday a subject that had occupied thousands of words in the newspapers—the famous Wall Street booze party brought to the attention of the Senate by Senator Brookhart of Iowa.

Reporting it had insufficient evidence to indict, the jury said it had deemed the lack of evidence "together with the extraordinary lapse of time between the alleged violations and the revelations of facts relating to this affair, make it impracticable for the grand jury to consider the matter further."

The grand jury instituted an investigation after Senator Brookhart related to the Senate that he had attended a dinner at the Willard Hotel on December 19, 1926. It was given, he said, by Walter J. Fahy, a Wall Street broker, and the Texan charged that liquor had been presented the guests.

FOURTH ANNUAL BIRD
SHOW IS SUCCESS;
ENDS SATURDAY

(Special to The Journal)
SLATON, Dec. 10.—Slaton's fourth annual poultry show came to an end Saturday night after three record-breaking days, both as to number of entries and in attendance upon the exhibition. There were 410 birds entered, including 27 turkeys, hundreds of people from all parts of the South Plains visited the show during the three days, Saturday setting the highest attendance record.

I. L. Bandy, of Godley, a licensed American Poultry association official, spent two days judging the show and discussing with poultrymen the scientific and practical points connected with the industry. Over 150 premiums were paid to exhibitors who won first, second, third and fourth prizes in the various divisions and classes.

Leading poultrymen declared the show to have been one of the most outstanding exhibitions ever held in West Texas. Some of the best known breeders of West Texas sent their birds or brought them to the show for display purposes. Fifteen West Texas cities and towns were contributors to the list of birds exhibited.

The annual show next year will be held on Dec. 4, 5 and 6, it is now expected. Slaton Poultry association officers have said.

GODIVA'S HORSE TOO FRISKY
The honor of carrying Lady Godiva in the recent carnival at Dudley, England, was too much for her steed. The white horse, unused to bearing a lady in fleshings before a huge crowd, became excited and began to prance dangerously. Miss Lucille Smith, the Lady Godiva, hastily dismounted and was taken to a house where she rested until a quieter steed could be found. Then the march proceeded.

After standing for hours or even days in a freezing cold garage, with CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil your motor is lubricated before you start

PENETRATION IS THE ANSWER

DID YOU KNOW that every motor oil save one, requires from 5 to 10 minutes and often much longer to reach all moving parts of your motor?

The only oil that gives you immediate lubrication from the very first motor revolution is CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil. The reason is simple.

It is already there.

This remarkable lubricant actually penetrates and indefinitely remains in the pores of metal surfaces—combines with the metal itself forming a film that is always present regardless of temperatures, stress or strain.

In addition to this remarkable quality, CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil is refined from only select paraffin base crude and will always flow freely at sub-zero temperatures.

Remember, the next time you start your motor cold, that hundreds of moving parts are demanding lubrication and that failure to get it may mean serious damage to them. Remember that CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil always provides lubrication under all conditions.

Don't take chances. Drive in at the sign of the CONOCO Red Triangle, have your crank case drained and begin now to use this safe and economical lubricant.

INDEFINITE TYPE IS LOVELY IN SOFT COLORS

BY LUCIEN LELONG
Special Cable to Central Press PARIS.

There is a delicacy of charm about the indefinite type of woman whose hair is neither blonde nor chestnut, whose eyes are light, whose skin is fair. She above all others possesses the delicate beauty of softly graded tones, closely related to each other. The subtle charm of the indefinite type of woman always makes me think of the lines of Verlain.

"No melody so precious As the gray song Blending the indefinite and the precise."

It is not only the gray tones which dominate the woman of indefinite type, but the softly graded beige, chestnut, rose and blue tones which blend with her hair, with its chestnut shadows, with her softly glowing, fair complexion, her clear, blue-gray or hazel eyes.

In her dressing she will make the most of herself if she always chooses the softly "graded" tones. Not for her the vivid bronze browns, nor the vivid reds. She should avoid, as she would the plague, black, particularly the hard, shiny black of satin and the brilliance of broadcloth. In textures, she will choose the delicately dulled surfaces; in the soft, semi-tones which give full value to the subtle magic glow of her skin and to the fine, silky quality of her hair.

I was thinking particularly of the indefinite type of woman when I chose the grays and the chestnut-gray tones in my present collection. For her also are the soft gray-blues, which I find so fascinating. The pale tea rose pinks, the pinkish beiges and the blue greens which I use for sportswear, will be admirable on her. If she wishes to wear a pronounced shade for her town costume, I think she would do much better to choose navy blue, or one of the subtly modulated tones of green-blue, which I have developed in the wool crepes, the flat crepes and the romanes.

Lovely in Soft, Supple Tweeds

The indefinite type of woman is particularly lovely in the mixed weaves and colors of the English and Scotch tweeds, and the fine, feather-weight French tweeds which the weavers on this side of the channel have created, are just as flattering to her in surface, and their supple quality is much better adapted to her rather delicate person than the wiry, heavy British weaves.

At Biarritz I had occasion to observe a number of women of this delicate type. The cleverer ones of them avoided the temptation to adorn themselves. They were becoming wide hats for their morning promenades, on the beach they donned pajamas with long sleeved coats after their swims, and at golf they wisely protected their eyes and their faces with smart little cloches having a brim which might almost be called wide. The result was that in the evening, when they appeared in decollete, their skin seemed very fair beside the decided brunettes, while beside the nacreous blonde they seemed admirably rosy and human.

The choice of evening colors for the indefinite type is a delicate problem, but its successful solution gives them a warm attraction which other women, both fairer and darker, may well envy. I would counsel the woman whose complexion is neither fair nor brunette, to avoid the pure whites by keeping to a color gamut near the middle of the scale, neither definitely dark, nor too light. She should make the most of the demitones, which are her greatest charm.

Pearl Gray Good

Rather than white, let her choose a very pale shade of pearl gray, or if her complexion be very rosy, a pink tone which is modified by gray but is not too pale. A blue that hints of mist rather than a pure sky, and yellows like antique, tarnished gold. She finds her apotheosis, I think, in blonde lace matched exactly to a diaphanous crepe. If her eyes be greenish rather than hazel, the soft silvery tones of green, like the under side of a willow leaf, will make her completely effin in her charm. She had best avoid, I think, all of the mauve tones, for these may make her rose tinted complexion seem almost too blooming.

In her choice of costume jewelry, I hope that she will always avoid the vivid and more facile tints of crystal and of strass. Diamond colored strass may be successful on her, provided that the stones are very small and closely set. The more subdued tones of emerald colored and the paler tones of sapphire colored crystal may be very successful on her, according to whether her eyes are greenish or violet toned. However, I feel that she will find her most successful ornaments in the sanded crystals which are pale and delicate as moonstones, in an unburnished silver and in the opalescent crystal creations of today. Her motif in the choice of every element of her costume should be: Delicacy, subtlety and complete harmony with the individual tinge of her own coloring.

Alathea Class Will Have Party

The Alathean Sunday school class of the First Baptist church will have a Christmas party Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of Mrs. M. H. Spaulding, 2403 19th street. Negro Minstrel To Be Held At School

In order to earn money to buy athletic awards, students of Lubbock senior high school will hold a negro minstrel tonight at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. An admission of 50 cents will be charged.

The playlet which is given as the second part of the performance portrays a negro trial. Character parts in the act are taken by Reuben Dyess, T. L. Patterson, Felix Ballenger, Frank Keese, George Glover, Davis Vaughn, Eva Vaughn, Bennie Sue Jordan and Miss Nell Parnley. Miss Parnley and Mrs. Davis Morgan will give a dialogue, "Storm Clouds," and during an ensemble chorus of "Dixie" Louise Pearce will tap dance.

Adults Of First Christian Church Entertain Young Folk Here Monday

Culminating a contest between the adult and young people's departments of the First Christian Sunday school, was an elaborate turkey banquet, followed by a program, Monday evening at 6 o'clock in the church annex. Four hundred fifty persons, including members of the school and visitors during the contest, attended the entertainment. Members of the adult department, who were the losers by one point, were hosts for the evening, with S. J. McFarland, Sunday school superintendent, as toastmaster.

Talks were made by W. R. Blake representing the losing side, and E. H. Hartley, representing the winners. After the banquet, the crowd filed into the main auditorium, where Mrs. Ella Mae Keith O'Brien, well-known reader of Dallas, gave the principal entertainment. Mrs. O'Brien gave a miscellaneous program, and was especially interesting in child dialect.

Child Impersonations

The child impersonations composed the first group of readings presented, opening with "Tiny Tim's Mother or Mine," which was followed with "They Pick On Me," and children's essays on "Breath," "The Duck," "The Human Body," "Flee," and "The Lemon Pie." "Pain in My Sawdust" closed this group of selections.

Mrs. O'Brien then read a one act comedy, "The New World," which was followed by a vocal solo, "Whisper and I Shall Hear," and as an encore, "Irish Love Song" by Ed-

WESTERNERS SENT THROUGH PACES FOR CLEBURNE GAME

Texas Tech is unquestionably facing a turning point in its athletic relationship with other institutions of the state and southwest. Lack of definite goal has been a handicap for Matador aggregations since the opening of the institution in 1925, and now comes the word that a new conference is to be formed with Tech as the nucleus. This venture is commendable from several viewpoints.

The status of the local institution will be known on December 31 at Sweetwater when representatives from five schools gather to consider the proposed plan. W. L. Stangel, chairman of the Tech athletic council, W. A. Jackson, also a member of the body and M. T. Warlick, manager of athletics, are the promoters in the deal and the interests of the Matador institution are certain to be protected.

Texas Tech, Howard Payne, Simmons, Canyon and the School of Mines at El Paso are the five schools invited to meet in Sweetwater to work out the new organization. From the Tech standpoint, the perfection of the group will mean a goal for the school's athletic teams and a means to develop a much-needed school spirit. The new conference would serve as a stepping stone for the institution here until it has proven itself a worthy bidder for a Southwest Conference berth.

Howard Payne and Simmons are worthy foes for Tech, but the other schools mentioned for membership in the conference are not to be classed with a school of more than 2,000 students. We would wholeheartedly favor the new group with St. Edwards, Southwestern, and Austin College included. A strong member from New Mexico or Colorado might be included to make of the conference a worth-while venture, covering a great area.

The "Staked Plains Conference" is the suggested name for the new organization and is to be the fourth senior athletic conference in the state. But it will not be until after the last day of 1929 that the powers that be will get their heads together for final settlement upon the venture.

1930 looms as a new era in the history of the Southwest conference from the standpoint of national recognition. New before have the schools of this state taken on football schedules of such national scope. S. M. U. has set the pace in matching inter-sectional games. The Mustangs meet the Ramblers of Notre Dame at South Bend on Oct. 4, Indiana University at Dallas on Oct. 25 and on Nov. 15, the Ponies go to Baltimore to play the Navy. Even the Rice Owls and the Baylor Bears have gone in for the colorful games in big way. The football team will be to Lincoln to meet Dana Bible's Cornhuskers of Nebraska University. Both clubs should be able to get plenty "on the ball" in this skirmish—former pupils against teacher and all that sort of stuff.

While Coach Del Morgan is giving his attention to polishing off the Westerners for their post-season scrap here Friday with the Cleburne Yellow Jackets, one of his chief assistants, Joe Bailey Powers, a letter man from last year's basketball team, is in charge of preliminary training for the half-hundred candidates for the high school quintet. The ambitious eagles have been working for approximately a week and will be ready for some fast action by next Monday when Coach Morgan starts in with his full-time attention at basketball.

Somewhat we couldn't get by the day without bringing up "Lil' Arthur" Shires, the Great One of baseball and fistic fame. The bombastic loud speaker made his professional boxing debut last night at Chicago and he did everything he had promised he would do. Just 21 seconds after Shires and Daly had entered the ring the Cleveland heavyweight pitched forward on his well-known ear, and Shires had made good his claim—"I'll knock those bums bow-legged."

Shires was satisfied with his showing against the Cleveland pug, but from now on he craves more high-class competition. "Bring on Tunney," Shires declares. "I don't want any more of those ham fighters."

Detroit Youth Is Billiard Sensation

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 10 (AP)—Marcel Camp, 21-year-old Detroit boy, proved the sensation of the opening game of the world's pocket billiard championship tournament at the recreation building last night. Camp turned back Frank Taberski of Schenectady, N. Y., the bidding champion, 125 to 82 in 23 innings. Camp's high run was 24, Taberski's 29.

POST-SEASON GAMES BANNED IN SOUTHWEST

OPEN PLAYS EXPECTED FOR COMING TILT

SEVEN MEN TO PLAY IN FINAL GAME FRIDAY; TEAM ANXIOUS

A gruelling Monday session on the Tech gridiron left no question as to the tactics that will predominate in the inter-sectional combat here Friday afternoon when the Cleburne High school Yellow Jackets invade Lubbock for their post-season engagement with the Westerners.

Forward passes, backward passes, lateral passes, reverses, spins and what have you—all were very much in evidence yesterday as the gold-jacketed cohorts of Franks and Morgan dived headlong into a final four-day training period for their battle with the powerful Central Texas aggregation. The Westerners mentors cracked their whip menacingly at signs of let-downs and the assurance rang out that a fighting Lubbock eleven will be at its best in the season's finale.

Seek Recognition. Hope for state-wide recognition form the ultimate goal for the Western gridders but the determination to give "everything" for a beloved pair of coaches is the immediate impetus for the indomitable spirit exhibitors.

Two members of the first string Lubbock eleven will graduate on the same day that they play their last game for Lubbock High. Robert Rich veteran Westerner end, and Joe Leaverton, stellar pivot man, will finish up their senior work Friday and in the afternoon will go out to give their last for the Gold and Black.

Seven members of the squad in addition to Rich and Leaverton are seniors this year. These are Melton McGeehee, Mina Watkins, Yancey, W. W. Lawson, Orver Frizzell, Archie Brawley and Howard Price. At least four of this number are not expected to graduate.

Much of the wide-open maneuvers Monday afternoon came with the lengthy practice on Cleburne plays, chief of which to the latter pass, featuring Messrs. Brandon, Stephens, Langdon and Hopkins. The Lubbock regulars played the defensive role against Yellow Jacket formations with the cannon fodder brigade running off Cleburne plays. The latter pass, featuring Messrs. QUINTET OCCUPIES WAYLAND'S COACH

PLAINVIEW, Dec. 10.—After pre-ceding one of the best football teams that has ever represented Wayland college, Coach Frank Kimbrough is turning his attention to the development of a basketball five which he hopes will be equally strong.

With six letter men as a nucleus and several new men who have considerable basketball experience to their credit prospects are considered exceedingly bright.

The greatest factor, however, and the one which is expected to result in the most interest ever shown in a Wayland cage team is the new $30,000 gymnasium built by Lindsey Nunn, of Amarillo. The new building gives Wayland one of the finest courts in this section with ample facilities for the comfortable seating of large crowds. Both Coach Kimbrough and the players are immensely pleased with the new gym and are entering into basketball practice with a new enthusiasm which will contribute materially to the development of a good cage team.

Tentative games have already been arranged with the Tech Matadors, and Canyon Buffaloes to be played before Christmas.

Captain Charlie Lummis will hold down one of the guard positions. Others striving for assignments are: Cross, V. Close, Key, Turner, Morgan, Salzer, Billbery, Callihorn, Mobley, E. Close, Granberry, Draper, Fowler, Owens, Henley, Fields, Wilbanks, Davis and Hendrick.

Art (The Great) Shires Wins First Fight With KO; Asks For Tunney

DANGEROUS DAN DALY IS FLOORED IN 21 SECONDS

(By Associated Press) CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—Victorious in his first professional boxing bout, Charles Arthur (The Great) Shires wants Gene Tunney next.

Shires made his bow at the White City arena last night and spent just 21 seconds of his first fight for profit in knocking out Dangerous Dan Daly, Cleveland youth who also was making his initial appearance as a professional heavyweight.

After the bout Promoter Jim Mullen told Shires his next opponent would be George Trafton, huge center of the Chicago Bears of the National Pro Football League, but Charles Arthur nobly refused the assignment.

Wants the Best. "No more punk fighters get any free publicity through me," was Shires' ultimatum. "I want the best or none. Get Tunney out of retirement for me."

The Great One was only mildly stirred by his quick victory and the circumstances surrounding the show. It drew a capacity crowd of 5,000, with gate receipts of approximately $13,000.

"Big crowd," Shires asked. "What's 5,000 people when 55,000 need to turn out to see me play the Yankees?"

Connected With a Right. Shires had plenty of competition from Daly until the finish occurred. They answered the bell by charging into each other throwing punches from everywhere. Shires connected with a right to Daly's chin, and the Cleveland youth, a protégé of Eddie Meade, manager of Joe Lynch when the latter was bantamweight champion, dived face-first to the canvas. He tried to get up, but couldn't.

The belligerent White Sox first baseman entered the ring with a chorus of boos as his greuling, but left with cheers ringing in his ears.

Lou Barbour, traveling secretary of the White Sox, who went to the aid of Lena Blackburne, then manager of the club, when Blackburne was charged with conspiring to suppress the game, was in the crowd. He was at the hotel room last summer, was at the ringside, as was Del Pratt, former major league infielder, who came all the way from Waco, Texas, to see Shires fight.

RED GRANGE TAKES UP NEW DUTIES

CHICAGO, Dec. 10 (AP)—Red Grange, the once "galloping ghost" of college football, has turned to managing fighters. He has taken over the affairs of George Trafton, giant center of the Chicago Bears professional football team, and has directed Trafton's first challenge at Arthur (The Great) Shires.

SCOTT WINS ON FOUL BLOW

TITLE CONTENDERS ARE FLOP LAST NIGHT IN BOUT

BY ALAN GOULD Associated Press Sports Editor NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—Phil Scott, gangling British heavyweight champion, today was the possessor of a ring decision that proved nothing much of anything.

Shuffle! Phil, who seemed agonized huge that seemed something by second thought, fell to the canvas in the second round of his bout with the black-thatched Norwegian, Otto Von Porat, last night, after being hit low by a left hook. After considerable hesitation upon the part of the referee, none other than Jack Dempsey, Scott was awarded the verdict on a foul to the accompaniment of a tremendous roar of disapproval from the crowd of 15,000 fans.

Was Unsatisfactory. Thus, what was to have been the star 12-round attraction of the much bally-hooed Christmas fund show, the heavyweight battle to help determine a legal opponent for Jack Sharkey in a final championship test, came to a thoroughly unsatisfactory finish.

The outcome left Scott in possession of victory, yet with no more substantial claim to recognition than Von Porat. For the three minutes and 25 seconds of actual fistfighting, it was demonstrated merely that Von Porat was the more dangerous puncher. Scott the better boxer, but this was well known previously.

Jones Warns Squad About Carnegie Tech

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10 (AP)—With ten gridiron clashes between them and two more in the offing, the University of Southern California football players today settled down in earnest preparation for their game Saturday with Carnegie Tech.

Coach Howard Jones gave his players warning that in their anticipation of the Tournament of Roses clash with the unbeaten Panthers of Pittsburgh, they must not overlook the impending battle with the Tartans.

BRUSHING UP ON SPORTS BY LAUFER

BALL CHIEFS IN SESSION

CHANGES EXPECTED IN PLAYING SEASON; TRADES LOOM

BY WILLIAM CHIPMAN Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—This was a busy day for baseball magnates with meetings of the advisory council and the National League. Any holdover conversation in the older major circuit will be disposed of tomorrow as American League managers tune in for their own confab.

First and foremost on the program of each circuit will be disposal of the two 1929 pennants in an official way. The opinion seems to have become general that the Cubs will get the call from John Heydler's boys and that the claims of Connie Mack will receive serious consideration from American Leagues before any campaign is named.

To Curtail Season. With trade talk in the air as usual, the major leagues have two pieces of real business to transact—one of them of great moment to each fan as shivered in bleachers in late September and early October this year. Both circuits are reported to be willing to curtail the season to about 160 playing dates, bringing the championship races to a close on September 28.

The opening date, under this arrangement would be Tuesday, April 15. The other problem before the magnates is the decision as to whether games shall be broadcast by radio. The American League is reported to be opposed to the radio, with the National somewhat up in the air on the question. Phil Ball of the Browns is the leading opponent of the microphone; William Wrigley, Jr., of the Cubs the leading proponent.

Vance Is Out. Of all the trades reported in the making, that involving Darryl Vance with five or six National League clubs seems to be the one most likely to be concluded at the meetings. The Dazler disappointed the Brooklyn management last summer after demanding and receiving a one-year contract for $25,000.

The once great right-hander will hardly want any less next season, and the Brooklyn club admittedly would just as soon see him draw it from some other club. From the standpoint of any club which might trade for Vance, the Dazler may have one or two good years left in him. The likelihood is strong enough to cause hands to reach for pocketbooks.

Stone weapons and implements found recently near Paris are said to be 20,000 years old, and indications are that a great battle was fought on the spot during the Stone Age.

LUBBOCK CAGE SQUAD WORKS

JOE BAILEY POWERS LEADING PRACTICE UNTIL FRIDAY

Despite the fact that Coach Del Morgan is busily engaged in whipping into shape the Westerner football eleven for a post-season skirmish with the Cleburne Yellow Jackets here Friday, basketball practice at Lubbock High school is in full swing.

Joe Bailey Powers, letter man on last year's cage team, is in charge of preliminary work and is directing daily drill for more than fifty ambitious basketballers.

Letter Men Back. Two letter men and two squadmen from last year will be available for service on the Westerner quintet and a promising horde of newcomers are on hand. The letter men are John R. Green and Jess Holmes and the squadmen—Houston Hinson and Roscoe Clark.

Coach Morgan must develop a new scoring combination before his club can take its place among the district contenders, but the local cage commander believes he can do just that.

FOUNDATION REPORT GETS DISCUSSION

NEW CONFERENCE MAY BE FORMED BY THE WESTERN AREA

(By Associated Press) DALLAS, Dec. 10.—Virtual abolition of post-season football and a sweeping investigation into athletic conditions in all Texas colleges were called for in resolutions passed by the faculty committee of the southwest conference at its annual meeting here.

Hereafter no senior football player who is eligible for other sports—baseball, basketball and track—will be permitted to compete in a post-season grid game. In order not to interfere with plans already made for the Dixie classic here New Years day between stars of the southwest and Big Ten conferences and the East-West clash on the coast, the rule will not be invoked until next year. As a majority of the gridiron greats desire also to play one of the other major sports in their final year, it is believed the regulation will prove an insurmountable obstacle to the post-season bouts.

The southwest conference resolved to co-operate with the athletic commission of the association of Texas colleges in a "thorough-going investigation into athletic conditions in all Texas colleges." Every school of any consequence in the state is a member of the association. The resolution followed a lengthy discussion of the famous report of the Carnegie Foundation on subsidizing of athletes.

Officials of the Texas conference and Texas Intercollegiate Athletic association, which held their annual meetings in adjoining rooms to the Southwest conference, also gave the Carnegie report much consideration. Although both organizations reported there was no "fire of corruption," each passed a resolution calling for strict enforcement of eligibility rules and tightening its supervision of athletics. A faculty committee hereafter must pass upon all contracts, expenditures and schedules in all conference schools. T. I. A. A. voted to make its rules and regulations exactly the same as those of the Southwest conference.

The unwieldy T. I. A. A., whose membership was brought to eleven by admission of the Texas College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville, decided to divide its ranks into two sections in future, the winners to clash in a play-off for the title. A committee was appointed to make the division.

Rumors current for several weeks that a number of schools contemplated formation of a conference in West Texas took definite shape with announcement by W. A. Jackson, faculty representative of Texas Tech, that a meeting had been called at Sweetwater December 31 for that purpose.

Five schools, Texas Tech, Simmons University, Howard Payne College, West Texas Teachers and Texas College of Mines, have promised to send representatives to the meeting. Mr. Jackson said. Simmons and Howard Payne are members of the Texas Conference, while the West Texas Teachers belong to the T. I. A. A. Officials of the two organizations did not indicate their reactions to the proposed split. The new group, if formed, will be known as the Staked Plains conference.

Pete Cawthon was re-elected president of the state board of approved basketball officials. Happ Morse was named vice-president. Coach Francis Schmidt of T. C. U. led in an information.

Thought For Today

Thou hast put gladness in my heart, more than in the time that their corn and their wine increased.
—Psalms 4:7.

Nations and men are only the best when they are the gladdest, and deserve heaven when they enjoy it.
—Richer.

Our Destiny

It is strange that this country
should be developing a philosophy
which holds that men are the creatures of circumstance, powerless to affect their own destinies. Strange
—because, if you look about you, you will see so many cases where men working alone, have completely changed everything about them in accordance with their own desires.
There are illustrations for example, in the field of politics and government.

Indianapolis for years was cursed with a corrupt and callous political ring. Its government was a disgrace.
Fraud and chicanery were firmly entrenched—much so that the average Indianapolis citizen, whenever he thought about them, simply sighed and concluded that there was nothing that could be done about it.

But Indianapolis happened to have one man who was determined to change matters—a man named Boy Curley, who happened to be editor
of the Indianapolis Times.
Curley set himself the task of resisting clean government to his city.
It looked like a hopeless job. His paper was not prosperous and it was not influential. All of the forces of the city were on the other side. Curley went to work alone.

But he went to it. Day after day and week after week he hammered away. He got evidence to prove the existence of corruption, and he never let up until he had made everyone
in Indianapolis aware of it.

Finally, at this fall's election, Curley won out. The voters threw out the old ring and put a set of honest, capable and energetic officials into office.

Indianapolis, as a result, is about to return to a list of well-governed cities—and all because one man
was determined to change things.

Then there is Chicago. For years
Chicago was cursed with a frightful alliance between crime and politicians. The underworld was bold and defiant. Gang leaders ran things to suit themselves. The city was "wide-open," and it did not seem possible
that matters could be remedied.

But the Chicago voters, getting disgusted, put a man named John A.
Swanson into the state's attorney's office, and Swanson appointed one Patrick Roche as his special investigator and told him to clean things up.

Roche sailed into action. He struck
the gangsters wherever he found them.
He smashed gambling halls, raised vice dens, cut down the profits of the underworld ring and made things generally so uncomfortable for the gangster that many of them are leaving Chicago for good.

Curley and Roche are two examples. They have proved, once more,
that circumstances can always be made to give way before a man of courage and determination.

Old Men

The death of Georges Clemenceau removes yet another of the great figures that occupied the spotlight
during the World War. One by one they are passing on—Wilson, Foch, Haig, and the others in a short time all of the war-time leaders will be gone.

Which, once more, serves to remind us—that it is the old men who make war. The young men, to be sure, do the fighting, do the dying; but it is the old men who call them out and tell them where to fight and when to die.

The World War is not so very far back in history. It is a scant 11 years since the fighting ceased. Yet
the leading figures are rapidly leaving us. In another decade all of them will be gone.

The young men do the fighting—
but the old men make the war!

THE PLAINSMAN

That Girl on Broadway says oportunity is the only "knocker" who has ever been welcome on the South Plains.

John L. McCarty, who once pastorized journalistically on the Amarillo News but who now presides with singular success over the destinies of the Dalhart Texas, has sprung a brand new idea on his customers. He has set aside this week as "Cuss-
The-Editor Week," during which time he will accept all criticisms, adverse and favorable, without the names of the critics. They need not be written. He is so agreeable that he'll take 'em dictated over the telephone. In other words he wants to know what the folks honestly think about him and he's willing to print everything he gets. Editor McCarty is either a brave man or one sure of general popularity.

While the idea may be a good one for Editor McCarty, The Plainsman has ruled against it for the Daily Journal. Every week is "Cuss-The-Editor Week" here, from the printers' devil to the greatest citizen in the entire metropolis, so we don't think it would be fair to force the folks into doing all their cussing in one week. In the first place it would likely be too much cussing for one week and, in the second analysis, The Plainsman doesn't believe his customers could think of all the things they want to cuss him about in such a short period of time. We want to be just as fair as Editor McCarty.

If you want The Plainsman's
candid opinion, it takes a darn good looking girl to keep from resembling a bald-faced heifer in one of these new-fangled, tight-fitting, hair-hiding hats.

"East Texas," official publication of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, through its official spokesman, "Les Akers," remarks as follows: "Yes, Sir,
our teacher, Prof. Add Vance,
says that Rome was saved one time by the cackling of geese and I ain't one bit surprised if that is true because here in the last few years a lot of us East Texas farmers have been saved, not once but a heap of times, by the cackling of hens. Not bad, if you ask The Plainsman, and a bit of philosophy. West Texas might readily adopt for future
reference."

Of course we haven't been so hard hit out here as they have been in East Texas in recent years, and having so many more resources than they, we haven't been driven to call on the hen alone to pull us out of financial furrows.
But the basic idea is good and more hens in West Texas aren't going to hurt anybody.

That Man on Avenue Q sees where all Peking women under thirty must go their hair, and says the degree will affect every Peking woman
under fifty.

Lubbock has plenty of optimists.
As proof we cite the people who make left and 'U' turns where they are barred, leave their cars in a two hour zone all day long—with one wheel to close to a fire plug.

Folks, it's getting so a person
never knows just what ailments
he might have and not know about.
Pick up any newspaper and magazine and after skimming through its pages you'll suspect yourself of everything
but putting poison in your grandma's cream of wheat.

First came that terrible scourge
of which even your best friends won't tell you. Then came the awful "B. O.," that slips upon you like a thief in the night. Followed swiftly the common enemy and now, to irk the golfer in particular, comes "athlete's feet." The situation is alarming.

A raft of friends will keep a man
afloat even in the stormiest of adversity.

THE MODERN MODE
Under the spreading chestnut tree
The smith works like the duce.
For now he's selling gasoline,
Hot dogs and orange juice!

Here's a story that comes from Siam.

The engine was not behaving as a true locomotive should. It would run forward for a hundred feet or so and then, with a great deal of puffing, would shift back to its original place. This went on for a half hour and the passengers were greatly put out. Finally one traveler,
more irate than his fellows, stuck
his head out of the window and,
after a passing trainman, demanded:
"What in the world is the matter?"

"I dunno, buddy," the trainman replied, "but I think the engineer
must be teaching his wife to drive."

Speaking of Siam and train-men, The Plainsman has noted
from L. C. Odom, who resides in "West Texas," which shows that Lubbock football fans have nothing to be ashamed of in their support of the High school
Westerners during the present
grid season.

NEW YORK—The $125,000,000
new clubhouse of the junior league, among other things, has accommodations for babies and dogs. Society girls may check their pets on the ground floor.
The fifth floor is a nursery for free care of babies whose parents are in want.

Good Sailors

LONDON—What do gales mean to sailors? Notwithstanding shipwrecks, as Britannia feels the waves, King Christian and Queen Alexandra of Denmark refused to delay their voyage home. "They're good sailors," said a legation official.

Just A Hop

NEW YORK—Miss Elizabeth
Morrow, returning from Mexico
City, was met at the railroad station by a bevy of girls and a handsome tall blonde young man. "Oh, I'm just here to take care of the baggage," he said
when a curious person asked his identity. Miss Morrow bestowed a smile on him and after some banter rode home in a car with the girls.

Sizes Given

WASHINGTON—Uncle Sam's perfect 36 has a bust of that measurement, 31 inch waist and 30 inch hips; his perfect 24 has a 23 inch waist and 27 inch hips. The bureau of standards,
after a conference with manufacturers, has issued sizes for dress patterns.

Carries Lantern

NEW YORK—Miss Ida Lathers carries a red lantern in the darktime when she desires to take trolley cars. She finds she needs it to warn passing automobiles to give her a chance.
She has written the police vigilantly about the necessity
for being her own traffic light.

A banker says the Senate's failure to pass a tariff bill contributed to the recent collapse of the stock market. Well, that's at least one reason why Al Smith can take his death of 1928 philosophically.

Nothing like this vast effort has ever been tried before. Assuming
the fundamental soundness of the
national business structure, no one
imagines that it can fail to make
a large difference in the immediate future of industry and in the employment situation of this winter.
Perhaps the most important factor of all will be the preservation of a preponderant attitude of optimism
rather than one of general pessimism.

Even if some minor depression develops, Mr. Hoover seems bound to get credit for saving the situation. He has been doing everything that could be done and the unanimous support he has had from the

prestige and popular strength.

Now that he is living up to his title of a "business president," all
also will be forgetting

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—President Hoover was able to enjoy his Thanksgiving turkey, after all.

It looks very much as if he were going to succeed in giving a master-ly demonstration of the art of turning defeat into victory, upsetting odds that might have wrecked any other president.

A month ago, with his special session of Congress a failure, with the regular republicans of the Senate prostrate before a coalition which took delight in flouting him and with the ominous echoes of the stock market crash ringing in his ears, Mr. Hoover seemed a very sad failure indeed. Certainly he couldn't have saved the stock market, but it was that most of all which worried him and threatened his prestige. For it was thought reasonably certain that some kind of a business slump
would follow.

Then suddenly Mr. Hoover grabbed this charging bull by the horns
and began to promise beefsteak
dinners for all.

He leaped into national leadership
in a manner so spectacular and undeniable that he appears right
now to be in a stronger position
than ever before.

Prosperity, in the famous words
of somebody else, absorbs all criticism. Most of the more important industries and most of the voters are not interested in the fate of the tariff bill. If Hoover can retain the support of his business and little business and the confidence of the people his lack of a Senate majority need be no more than a minor irritant.

The big news has been, not
that the Hoover special session flopped,
but that the president has been communing to conference the leaders of industry, agriculture and labor to charge them with a program for the spurring of business which will overcome the prospects of the slump toward which so many were looking with apprehension.

A $150,000,000 tax cut is in immediate prospect. The Federal Reserve Board is undertaking to ease credit. Governors and mayors have promised to push public works. Railway executives promise a huge improvement program. Public utilities assure promotion of a vast development program. Steel interests have promised $300,000,000 worth of new construction. The federal government is adding $175,000,000 to its public buildings program. Representatives of capital and labor have agreed on a program of no wage reductions or demands for increases.
Industrial leaders of all varieties are cooperating with various branches of government to whoop up business.

Nothing like this vast effort has
ever been tried before. Assuming
the fundamental soundness of the
national business structure, no one
imagines that it can fail to make
a large difference in the immediate
future of industry and in the employment situation of this winter.

tion. He has been doing everything

mous support he has had from the

prestige and popular strength.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The bars to America's most luxurious lane have been let down.

Park avenue, where pampered
poodles live in $25,000 apartments
and sugar papas loosen their purse strings, has been surrendered to business interests. To be sure, the surrender is conditional at the moment. Seven blocks northward of Grand Central Station have been declared business property by the city planning association. But with such an invasion of tradesmen imminent, it appears only a question
of time before this beautifully park-
like thoroughfare will cease to be the Park avenue that was.

This, of course, is a great victory for what is left of Fifth avenue, since its neighbor was fast
encroaching on the fashionable tradition. That such business property as invades Park avenue will be overwhelmed by the constant stream of cracking, they may be dangerous for then chronic sores on the lips have cancerous possibilities.

During the winter and windy
weather, one who suffers from chapped lips should have a cold cream lipstick with him constantly and apply it before going out into the open, and several times during the day. These lipsticks are much more effective than ordinary cold creams
and salves because they are composed of a firmer and more adhesive base. Men who suffer from chapped lips shouldn't scorn to have one of these lipsticks with them, either. I can easily see, though, that it would have to be applied in privacy to save being the butt of jokes.

You can get these cold cream lip-sticks at the drug stores, for a moderate sum.

There is nothing better for chapped
skin than glycerine diluted sufficiently with plain or rose water.
(Usually three-fourths glycerine to three-fourths water is a good solution, but it may have to be diluted still more for some.)

Here is a formula which contains glycerine, which I know is good:

Hand and Face Lotion
Gum tragacanth..... 1 gram
Boric acid..... 2 grams
Glycerine..... 30 grams
Alcohol (not wood alcohol) 30 grams
Rose water..... 60 grams

Dear Doctor: Is it possible to contract the venereal diseases or other contagious diseases by eating in restaurants, hotels, trains, et c? so, what can be done to lessen the danger? Is there a known or geographical tongue, and is cause known?
MISS B.

I wouldn't worry about contra-ing disease in this manner, Miss
B. There is a law that food handle must be healthy and there are frequent inspections by the health authorities. One should be careful not to use the common drinking cup or common towel in places where the
are not barred, and one should aways be very liberal in the use of soap and water on the hands before eating, and take the known precautions against infections, and forget it! Don't develop a germ fobia.

Geographic tongue is a ra-chronic inflammation of the tongue
in some areas the upper layers of the mucous membranes are denuded,
and in other places thickened so that the tongue looks like a map.
The cause is unknown but probably wrong diet and perhaps its effect upon the ductless glands. As the cause is no known, the cure is no known. But if I had one, I would suspect the diet. We have an article on Balanced Diet which gives the fundamentals.

by President Hoover last spring. In 1917 he was chief of the fish con-

When Daniel Boone made his celebrated trip out to the wilds
of Kentucky he must have gone through a magnificent forest as he followed the game and Indian trails.

He traveled at a rate slow
enough to enjoy the green fields
and the clear streams, the beautiful animals and the flashing birds, the bright flowers and the gay butterflies. We can understand why he brought back those glowing tales which stimulated the great migration over the mountains to settle the Ohio river country.

Now a traveler speeds along the railroad or on a fine highway and often is more impressed by the ugly
back yards, the smoke-stained shops and factories, the turbid rivers and the cheap fame we have built around our highways than by the beauty of the landscape.

"One-Man Riot" Is Given Jail Term

TEXARKANA, Dec. 10. (AP)—Edmund McCarty of Fort Smith, Ark., who took part in a "one man riot"
here last summer was given a 3-year suspended prison sentence and a 30-day term in jail here today on charges of assault with intent to kill and driving while intoxicated.

McCarty, when arrested last summer for driving while drunk, refused to go to police headquarters and jerked the officer's gun from his hand, attempting to shoot him.
He snapped the pistol several times.
Other officers, answering the riot
call, crashed into another automo-

day an inspector would be sent to Rusk county to ascertain if that county should be added to the cweet potato pest-free territory.
Del Curto said a petition from that county bearing 300 signatures,
set forth that the sweet potato weevil was not now and had never been prevalent in Rusk county.

Cold Weather Disables

breather, W?
That will cause dry lips, I suppose
by the constant stream of air over them. If you are a mouth breather, you may have some obstruction in the nose. Go to your physician for Chapped lips are certainly ugly,

and they are uncomfortable and

FUNERAL OF COUPLE HELD

IN ETEEN-YEAR-OLD SLAYER IS DENIED ATTENDANCE

(By Associated Press)
WAXAHACHIE, Dec. 10.—Funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Riley, fatally shot in their farm home in the Lone Cedar community Saturday, were held Monday in Italy, near here.

Neither of the couple's two sons attended. Walter, 17, was in a Waxahachie hospital suffering a bullet wound inflicted when his parents were killed. Herman, 19, was in the Ellis county jail charged with the shooting.

The youth in jail was denied permission to attend the services. Riley in a confession to Assistant County Attorney John M. Matter said he shot his father because he was angry with him for reprimanding him when he broke a plow the afternoon before the slayings. He said he shot his mother and brother because he was "excited."

The youth said he was glad, when informed his brother would recover.

Pecan Trees Are Planted In City

STAMFORD, Dec. 10 (Special).—Planting of pecan trees on municipal property in this city has been done during the past week under the personal direction of City Manager Chas. Zug.

Sixteen 4-year-old peach trees have been put on the postoffice plaza, the public park in the center of the business district in which the federal building is located, and several pecan trees have been put on the curb around the Stamford city hall.

Many pecan trees are also being planted around the homes of this city, and more will be put out during the next few weeks.

(By Associated Press)

Morales, a 28-year-old Mexican in connection with the slaying Sunday night of Rafael Arellano, 25. Arellano's skull was smashed with a large rock as he slept at his home. The killer returned to Arellano's room and rammed the five inch blade of a pair of scissors into his temple and broke them off at the hilt.

Easily Handled and Adjusted Strong and Rigid Construction Adjustable Frame

Reducing the time and labor of breaking the ground and planting the crop, helps to reduce the cost of production and increases profits.

With the Oliver No. 38 lister two rows are listed at a time thereby making a considerable saving in time and labor and in addition two rows are always parallel for best results with a two-row cultivator.

There are several points in the construction of this lister which make it thoroughly fitted for the best type of listing work. These points are smooth running, ease of handling, rigid construction and positive, accurate planting of seed.

There is no name among farm implements that stands for any more efficiency than OLIVER.

The Oliver line consists of Hart-Parr Powerful Tractors, Red River special combines.

"Being on the electric chair," the man said, "I am glad I killed him."
"This man was a witch doctor," he asserted. "He put funny things in my tea so that my sweetheart would not love me any more. He put a spell on my girl, take her money away—money which I worked for. When I ask him why, he laugh. Then I kill him."

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10. (AP).—Asserting he was making the announcement as an "antidote for gossip-mongers" Harry Richman, musical comedy actor and night club entertainer, said here today that he and Clara Bow, motion picture player, would be married in New York City on New Year's day.

A MILLION DOLLARS RUNNING WILD

The people of Lubbock county are now facing another bond issue, road bonds this time and we are asked to go to the polls on December 17th, next and vote a MILLION DOLLARS WILD. The next step is to sell the bonds and transfer the money to the State Highway Commission. The said commission will then come to Lubbock county, when it suits their fancy to do so and make selection of highways to suit the said commission and we, the property owning tax payers can like it or lump it.

We Refuse to Believe That the Voters of Lubbock County can be driven like Lambs to the Slaughter

We will never vote road bonds in Lubbock county until we KNOW where the money is to be spent. For that is our right, our sacred right written into the BILL OF RIGHTS and cannot safely be transcended. We must first have the highways staked to the ground. The tax payers must be satisfied with their selection and then we are ready and anxious to vote bonds. For we are all agreed that hard surfaced roads are a great aid to development and we all want advancement. No argument there.

THERE IS NOT A POSITIVE HIGHWAY DESIGNATION IN LUBBOCK COUNTY!

This being true how are we to arrive at the amount of bonds needed? Why do they ask us to vote a MILLION DOLLARS WILD? Cannot the highway commission at least be fair? Would they vote for this kind of a bond issue? Well, hardly.

THEN IN ALL FAIRNESS THEY SHOULD GIVE US THE HIGHWAYS FIRST!

Do we oppose bond issues? The following table of over a million already voted this year would indicate that we do not—we only want to know the whys and wherefores. We do not want to vote wild money.

Glance over the following and be convinced:

Street Improvements,	$200,000.00
Light Extensions,	$ 25,000.00
Water Extensions,	$ 40,000.00
Sewer Extensions,	$ 25,000.00
Storm Sewer Extensions,	$ 60,000.00
Airport,	$ 75,000.00
Independent School District	$650,000.00
TOTAL	$1,075,000.00

Is it not rather appalling when we stop to consider that the above vast sum for bonds was voted by the people who reside in the city of Lubbock and the confines of its Independent School district? A plat of ground ten miles square and not another soul in the county responsible.

IT PROVES CONCLUSIVELY THAT WE VOTE BONDS WHEN WE KNOW WHAT THEY ARE FOR!

But now comes on to be heard a voice crying in the wilderness and asking us to VOTE ANOTHER, AN ADDITIONAL MILLION—WILD. Did you ever stop to think that the people in the Lubbock Independent School district would have to bear about sixty-five per cent of this additional burden if the bonds carried?

WE MUST LIMIT TAXATION OR WE FACE BANKRUPTCY!

We ask you, the property owning tax payers of Lubbock county in all fairness to face this issue. Give it serious thought. It is a serious matter that confronts us. Taxes and Bonds. Bonds and Taxes. Money running wild and not sixty per cent of the citizens with money to pay the present taxes.

HAVE WE LOST ALL SENSE OF BALANCE? ARE WE DUMB? NAY, VERILY!

Must we bend the knee in fawning at the feet of the State Highway Commission? Have they become a Frankstein? Are they greater than the tax payers who gave them life? Do they not insult the intelligence of every man, woman and child of even average horse sense when they command us to vote bonds for paving highways that do not even exist. Have they not stated that they are in favor of changing the route of highways number nine so that it will extend north from Tahoka, Texas, to Wilson, Texas, thence north to a point northwest of Slaton, Texas, to connect with highway number seven, thence northwest into Lubbock?

IS THIS FAIR TO THE PROPERTY OWNING TAX PAYERS BETWEEN WOODROW AND LUBBOCK?

Is it not a fact that the property owners who adjoin highway number nine from Lubbock to Woodrow, have donated their lands for this purpose, have set their fences back, the highway has been graded and accepted and used for more than two years and highway markers established. These people considered the matter settled as to that particular part of the highway. Did they not have a right to feel secure in this designation? Is it fair to them to EVEN SUGGEST A CHANGE?

AND WE ASK FURTHER, IS IT FAIR TO SLATON? HAS SLATON NO RIGHTS?

Give us designated highways tied to the ground and we will vote for them. But do not ask us to

VOTE A MILLION DOLLARS WILD FOR IT WILL NOT BE DONE!

Human nature is frail, at best. Why impose, or try to impose on the credulity of the face by asking for something that you would not know how to handle if it were given you. Be fair. Be consistent. Be charitable toward each other. Let's share evenly the burdens that we find along the way. But never surrender your rights of local government to a self constituted oligarchy. Let's be free and untrammelled. Let's cherish our God-given freedom as we would life itself. Give us highways and we will give you bonds with which to hard surface them. But we must have the highways first. FOR WE ARE AFRAID OF WILD MONEY, ESPECIALLY WHEN IT MEANS VOTING A MILLION DOLLARS WILD.

Police Seek ClueFor Girl's Death

ROCKFORD, Ill. Dec. 10. (AP)—Fingerprints on the short length of pipe used to kill her were the most important clues police had today to the slaying of Miss Cordelia Gummshelmer, 30-year-old school teacher.

Plainview Farmer Says, "I Am Feeling Just Fine And Getting Wonderful Results From Orgatone"

It is not an accepted fact that ninety per cent of sickness can be traced directly to disarranged stomach, said the Orgatone man, and I can safely say that in all my experience I have never heard of a formula that has as rapid and permanent action on such ailments as stomach, liver and kidney trouble as Orgatone has. This preparation is nationally known and people in Plainview, as everywhere, are giving their statements and endorsement of Orgatone, as to the benefits received. For instance, Mr. J. S. Kaven, of rural route 1 Plainview, Texas, says:

"I have been a sufferer from stomach trouble for about the last ten years, had gas that formed on my stomach, and puffed up, bloated spells. Food soured on my stomach, and I got to where I didn't have an appetite and didn't want to eat. I was very weak and run-down, and never got a good night's rest. I was in a very run-down condition and nothing I took seemed to do me any good. I had a very bad case of constipation and was forced to take strong laxatives. At times I would feel so tight, I would think I would burst. I had so much gas on my stomach, I finally got to where I didn't think I would ever find a medicine that would relieve me."

"Orgatone has certainly produced wonderful results for me. I'm not bothered with gas on my stomach, or any sign of stomach trouble, and my dizziness, nervous spells are gone, and all that tired, worn out feeling. I feel better now than I have in ten years, and Orgatone is the only medicine that has given me relief. It is a wonderful medicine and has made a new man of me, and I will always keep Orgatone in my home, can never say too much for it."

Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Lubbock at Bowen's Drug Store.

PRESSURE ON STOCKS HELDPRICES DRIFT LOWER ON MARKET TODAY; IRREGULAR LATER

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—Selling pressure was renewed at the opening of today's stock market, and prices drifted irregularly lower. General Electric dropped 3 1/4 points to 240, which contrasts with a high of 257 last Friday. National Biscuit fell 2 3/4 points, Union Carbide 1 3/4 and Bethlehem Steel 1 1/4. American Can advanced 2 1/2 points and American Telephone 1 1/2.

Strong buying support for U. S. Steel Common, General Electric, Westinghouse and other leaders brought about an irregular recovery before the end of the first half hour, although at that time the majority of issues were still selling below yesterday's close. Strength of U. S. Steel, which opened fractionally lower at 179 3/4 and ran up to 184 1/4, may have been influenced by expectations of a favorable monthly tonnage report. This noon, General Electric quickly recovered an early loss of 4 3/4, and Westinghouse Electric converted an early loss of two points into a gain of 2 1/2.

Auburn Auto dropped 8 points, Brooklyn Union gas 5 1/2 and Lackawanna, Worthington Pump, Birmingham, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Standard Oil of California, Erie, and Chesapeake & Ohio were among the many issues to sell down 1 to 1 1/2 points.

Foreign exchanges opened firm, with Sterling unchanged at 4.86 7/16.

FORMER LITTLEFIELD
BANKER FAILS TO APPEAR HERE

An alias capias, ordering arrest and forfeiture of bond, was issued yesterday against Kirk F. Allbright in the Lubbock division of Federal court.

Issuance of the capias followed Allbright's failure to appear in court for his scheduled trial before Judge William H. Atwell.

Allbright is under grand jury indictment on six counts for embezzlement, misappropriation of funds and false entry. He was formerly cashier of the First National bank at Littlefield. At this time of the trial, he was whereabouts unknown, though a search will be made for him in an effort to locate for the trial.

VETERAN ACTOR
PLEASES CROWD

Possessing yet the beautiful voice which has made live the many Shakespearean characters he has portrayed and sprightly for all of his 79 years, Frederick Warde, Dean of American actors and considered one of the greatest living authorities on Shakespeare, spoke Monday night at the Texas Technological college symposium on "Actors Who Have Made the Woks of Shakespeare Live."

This is the second appearance of this scholarly man on Tech's Artist Course and the audience, composed largely of college students and faculty members, listened attentively while the white-haired lecturer told incidents in the lives of English and American actors who have played Shakespearean roles.

Read Him 3 Times
The actor brought a burst of laughter when in belittling comments of Shakespeare he remarked "confound them anyway" and college students were advised to pay no heed to them until they had read a play three times, once for the story, twice for the poetry, and the final reading for the philosophy contained in many of the lines. Shakespeare was quoted at length many times during the evening's address.

Mr. Warde gave a few incidents from his own experiences as an actor which he said "form the sweet and gentle memories in the evening of my life."

After the close of the lecture the actor was applauded at length and returned to read an original poem, "Sunset Reverie."

FREE BRIDGE
GROUP FORMED

ASSOCIATION TO WORK
FOR ABOLITION OF
TOLL BRIDGES

(By Associated Press)
ELECTRA, Dec. 10.—Free bridge boosters from southern Oklahoma and northern Texas met here Monday and planned an organization to work for the abolition of all toll bridges across the Red river.

J. P. Williams of Muskogee, Tex., was made temporary head of the association. A meeting is to be called sometime next month at a place yet to be designated to which all persons interested in the Red river toll bridge question in both states will be invited.

The organization, it was said, will appeal to the state highway commissions to purchase all toll bridges and convert the structures into free bridges. Speakers dwell at length on the situation of the Red river valley farmer, who, they said, must pay large sums each year in crossing the river.

CONTRACTS TO BE LET
ON TWO MORE SPANS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Dec. 10. (AP)—The highway commissions of Oklahoma and Texas will re-advertise for bids on the proposed Gainesville, Texas and Terra Oklahoma bridges over Red river, the bids to be opened simultaneously here and at Austin, January 20. Lew Wentz, chairman of the Oklahoma commission, said today.

December 5, the commissions of the two states received bids on bridges at Gainesville, Terra and between Denison and Durant. The southwest L. E. Meyers company of Dallas was declared low bidder on all three structures, but, because of confusion, due to wording of the advertisement, only the Durant contract was awarded.

All three of the proposed bridges will parallel toll bridges.

WEBB COUNTY DISTRICT
ATTORNEY MAY TAKE ACTION IN CASE

LAREDO, Dec. 10.—The fact that former District Judge John A. Valls, again in district attorney arose today to plague Gen. P. Elias Calles, former president of Mexico, should he follow announced plans to return to Mexico through Laredo.

That Gen. Calles might be taken into custody should he enter Webb county was indicated in the words of District Attorney Valls today when he told Richard Boyce, U. S. consul at Nuevo Laredo, Texas, his opponent here, and Hall Brennan, prominent Laredo business man, of his attitude.

As long ago as August 30, 1928, Mr. Valls replied to diplomatic representations from Washington that "the prosecution against Calles and his fellow conspirators will remain pending with the fervent hope that some day they will be called to answer for their enormous crime at the bar of public justice in Webb county."

In that statement Valls accused Calles and the now deceased Alvaro Obregon, also a former Mexican president, of connection "with the murder of Gen. Lucio Blanco and Col. Aurelio Martinez" in Laredo, June 7, 1922.

In connection with the Blanco slaying, Duke Carver, Bexar county (San Antonio) constable went on trial here today.

CALLES TO BE GIVEN
GRAND RECEPTION

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 10. (AP)—When Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, en route home from Europe, returns to his ranch Santa Barbara, in the state of Mexico, he will be escorted from the nearby town of Ayotla by members of the National Charrros association in picturesque native attire and by a squadron of airplanes. He is expected to visit his ranch December 22 shortly after his return to Mexico.

TEXARKANA, Ark., Dec. 10. (AP)—Claude Robbins, 30, charged with slaying Clarence Terry, 26, in Ravenna, Ark., Aug. 4, pleaded guilty to manslaughter and was sentenced to five years in prison in Miller county circuit court here today. The charge was reduced from the first degree murder by consent. The slaying was alleged to have followed an argument over the shooting of a dog.

JUDGE LINDSEY SAYS DISBARMENT OF COURT COMES AS RESULT OF ENEMIES
POLITICALLY; PREPARES STATEMENT

(By Associated Press)
DENVER, Colo., Dec. 10.—Ben B. Lindsey, militant exponent of companionate marriage and noted former juvenile court judge, Monday was disbarred from the practice of law in Colorado by the State Supreme court for accepting money from a prominent New York and Denver society matron for legal services while he was on the bench.

Lindsey issued a statement calling the action political persecution. "The former juvenile judge," he charged specifically by the bar association with accepting $37,500 from Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes, divorced wife of W. E. D. Stokes, New York multimillionaire, for services in contesting Stokes' will which left his estate to a son by a former marriage. His two children by the second Mrs. Stokes, James and Helen Muriel, were cut off without bequests.

Recites Opinion
"Unless," recited the court's opinion, "one man has the moral strength of character to stand immovable in his fidelity to duty against the allurement of money and resist temptation to do those things that are prohibited by law and to the judge, then he no longer possesses that indispensable moral character which the good of society and the administration of justice demand of an attorney and counselor at law."

Plainview Attorney
Is State Director

PLAINVIEW, Dec. 10.—(Special)

Day and his law partner, Judge S. Williams, co-operate in the duties of the city attorney's office.

How could she tell about cooking temperatures?

There she sat, cook books around her, a look of utter dejection on her face. She had promised to cook Christmas dinner (her first) and now she found that the recipes were all so minutely exact about correct cooking temperatures! How was she, with her old fashioned cook stove, to know about cooking temperatures?

That's why there's a Modern Gas Range, with Oven Heat Control, in her kitchen this Christmas. Simple, now, to be assured of best results—for the turn of a dial regulates the cooking heat and keeps it at precisely the right temperature to bring the food to flavor-full perfection. It means freedom from the hot and tiring job of watching the oven—and food that's savory as only steady, perfectly controlled cooking heat can make it.
