Ports Opened By Queen

Emergency Is Declared

LONDON (AP) — The British government assumed emergency powers today to force open the nation's strike-bound ports and bring in urgently needed food supplies.

Queen Elizabeth II signed a proclamation of a state of national emergency aboard the royal yacht Britannia, cruising off the west coast of Scotland.

The state of emergency will go into effect at midnight.

Prime Minister Edward Heath prepared to force the ports open after an assessment of the nation's dwindling supplies of food for both people and animals. The threat to farm animals appeared the most serious.

The emergency powers will enable the administration to bring in troops to unload more than 500 freighters tied up in the ports.

Stocks of animal foodstuffs "are running very low and we're very worried," a spokesman for the National Farmers Union told newsmen.

Some farmers have only three days supply left, he said.

"Poultry and pigs will be hit first—they depend on the high-protein feed" which is mainly imported. "But dairy cattle need it, too."

It is the fourth time the Conservative government declared a state of emergency because of labor troubles since taking office in June 1970.

The dock strike officially started last Friday, when delegates of the longshoremen rejected an offer of job security and severance pay as containerized cargoes become more widespread. But the docks had been struck for four days before that by the sympathy strike in protest against the jailing of four longshoremen for illegal picketing.

The SDN Column

George H. Mahon, chairman of the appropriations committee, arose the other day to address his colleagues in the U.S. House of Representatives, and Walter Buckel of the Lamesa Press-Reporter calculates that the West Texas legislator's 13-minute speech resulted in a saving of some $385,000 per minute for the U.S. taxpayers.

The speech put the skids under a $5-billion bill that would have provided duplicate funds for some projects already covered in prior legislation. At issue was a bill for money to be granted communities for water and sewer systems. It had been regarded as a cinch to sail through Congress—that is, before Congressman Mahon's speech. He simply called attention to the fact that some of his colleagues might not have considered the fact that half a billion dollars already had been approved for a water and sewer grant program and that additional funds for this purpose would accrue from the $5 billion revenue sharing bill which was approved earlier.

Instead of sailing through to passage as predicted earlier, the bill went down in defeat with 189 voting for it and 206 voting against it.

Size is not everything.

Texas Parade Magazine listed the top corporations of this state in its July issue. For the fourth year in a row, LTV Corp. of Dallas is the biggest public-held company on the list. And for the third straight year, LTV Corp. of Dallas is listed as the biggest loser. It went into the red some $57.4 million last year.

A couple of firms well-known in this area rank high on the list in size (not losses). Halliburton is ranked third and El Paso Natural Gas is fifth among the corporate giants of the state. Lone Star Gas Co. is 21st.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. notes that Texas dove hunters may encounter frostbite during the upcoming season, but not from the same source as the housewife who suffered frostbitten fingers while preparing a meal in her kitchen.

The dove season is going to be split this time, with the second session in the North Zone scheduled for Jan. 6-21. The first session will be from Sept. 1 through Oct. 14, traditional dates. Heretofore, Texas hunters have gone after doves mostly around Indian Summer, or earlier.

The experimental winter season was set up this time for biologists to evaluate the effects on the dove crop. There has been considerable interest in trying a winter dove season, because a lot of doves are usually present in the state during the winter months. One factor which will be weighed carefully is the possible effect of late dove hunting in Texas on the dove breeding populations in other states next spring.

Diary Has Spotlight At Trial

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP)—A step-by-step account by Arthur H. Bremer of how he planned and failed to assassinate President Nixon in Ottawa, Canada, was read to a hushed jury in Prince Georges Circuit Court today.

As Bremer buried his head in his arms, Benjamin Lipsitz, his attorney, read page after page from Bremer's diary that told of his failure to get into the hotel where he thought Nixon would be staying, his failure to get into the airport where the President was to land and finally, his failure to get off a shot as the President's car rushed by.

The diary related that Bremer, the accused assailant of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, had only a glimpse of Nixon as the President's motorcade from the airport sped by on the way into Ottawa during a visit in April.

"He went by before I knew it," Bremer wrote in the diary.

"A dark silhouette rushed by in a black car.

"All over.

"I had missed it. The best chance to get him was over."

Lipsitz, who had read the first 35 pages of the 114-page diary at a late night session Wednesday, picked up where he left off as the trial on state charges entered its fourth day today.

Bremer has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to 17 charges stemming from the shooting of Wallace and three other persons at a Laurel, Md. political rally May 15.

Lipsitz is reading the entire diary to the jury, apparently hoping it will back up his contention that Bremer is legally insane and not responsible for his actions.

Excerpts from the diary read today went into great detail about Bremer's trip from Milwaukee to Ottawa with two guns in his car.

Senate Nixes War Funds

By JOHN LENGEL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted a second time to halt U.S. combat operations in Indochina, but the battle to make it stick is far from over.

The amendment by Sen. Edward Brooks, R-Mass., was passed Wednesday night in a series of eight intricate, hard-fought votes. The tally on the key test was 49 to 47.

Attached to a $20.5-billion Pentagon procurement bill, the amendment provides for U.S. withdrawal from Indochina, except Thailand, within four months if Hanoi releases American prisoners and accounts for GIs missing in action.

The measure would cut off funds for all war operations except the amount required for withdrawal and the protection of withdrawing forces.

An amendment by Sen. George Aiken, R-Vt., to incorporate President Nixon's conditions for withdrawal from Vietnam was adopted at one point 51 to 47, but was replaced later with Brooke's measure.

Nixon announced support for Aiken's amendment in a telephone call to the senator Wednesday afternoon, marking the first outward endorsement by the White House of any end-the-war language.

The bill itself eventually carried 92 to 5, unlike the foreign-military-aid bill which the Senate killed last week after a similar end-the-war amendment was attached to it.

However, the House version of the procurement bill has no end-the-war provision. A conference between the Armed Service committees of both chambers could kill it.

Sen. James Allen, D-Ala., raised another possibility: simply keeping the bill in conference without acting at all, to give Nixon more time to negotiate a settlement with the North Vietnamese.

For this reason, he said, "there is a good chance it won't be voted on finally until after the election."

Marines Attack In Quang Tri

SAIGON (AP) — More than 2,000 South Vietnamese marines assaulted the western half of Quang Tri City today, but they ran into house to house fighting and heavy North Vietnamese artillery fire.

American jet pilots reported destroying an ammunition depot on the outskirts of the devastated town so big there were more than 300 secondary explosions and 14 fires.

"It looked like a big fireworks display," one pilot said.

Associated Press correspondent Holger Jensen reported from Quang Tri that south Vietnamese tank fire leveled the last few buildings still standing outside the Citadel in the country's northernmost provincial capital, which the North Vietnamese captured on May 1.

Despite earlier claims by the South Vietnamese government that its forces had recaptured most of Quang Tri, the North Vietnamese still hold the western part and the 50-acre walled Citadel in the heart of the city.

The Marines last week replaced a brigade of some 2,000 paratroopers who suffered heavy losses in an unsuccessful attempt to storm the Citadel.

A U.S. adviser indicated that the marines would try to starve the North Vietnamese out of the Citadel. While South Vietnamese bombers hammered the enemy inside the fortress, U.S. F4 Phantoms beamed 2,000-pound laser bombs onto former allied combat base now being used by the enemy west of the Thach Han River.

Eighty miles to the southeast, Communist forces heavily shelled the U.S. air base at Da Nang, killing one American and four Vietnamese and wounding 20 Americans and one Vietnamese. It was the second American base shelled in three days.

Egypt, Libya Plan To Unite

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The leaders of Egypt and Libya announced plans Wednesday night to unite their adjoining countries and set Sept. 1, 1973, as the target date.

A joint communique was broadcast by Cairo and Benghazi radio stations following a three-day meeting in Libya between President Anwar Sadat of Egypt and Col. Muammar Kadafi, chairman of Libya's ruling Revolutionary Command Council. It said the two leaders reached "a historic decision" to establish a "unified political leadership" that will work out a plan for union.

Egypt and Libya already are linked in the seven-month-old Federation of Arab Republics, with Syria as the third partner. A Libyan-Egyptian delegation was sent to Damascus to inform President Hafez el Assad of the agreement by Sadat and Kadafi.

Assad said he was following the talks "with happiness and satisfaction," Egypt's Middle East News Agency reported. But the right-wing Beirut newspaper Hayat reported that the leftist Syrian regime was upset by Sadat's recent expulsion of Soviet advisers and did not want the Egyptians to worsen relations with the Russians by moving closer to Kadafi, a militant anticommunist.

In an earlier attempt at Arab unity, the late President Gamal Abdel Nasser founded the United Arab Republic with Syria in 1958. It collapsed in September 1961 after a coup in Syria.

The Sadat-Kadafi communique in its preamble underscored the Arab struggle with Israel. It said:

"The imperialist and Zionist challenge, symbolized by the 1967 aggression and the attempts by U.S. imperialism and world Zionism to make it an accomplished fact, cannot be met, whatever help we get from our friends, unless Arabs unite behind Egypt, the spearhead of the confrontation."

It seemed likely that the move toward unity, proposed by Kadafi in February, was spurred by the refusal of the Soviet Union to sell Egypt the offensive arms the Egyptian generals wanted for a renewal of the war on Israel. Presumably the Egyptians are hoping to use some of Libya's huge oil revenues to buy the arms.

In Israel, commentator Dov Yinon said in a broadcast on the state radio that the agreement might increase prospects of a new Arab-Israeli war. But diplomats in Washington, recalling the numerous unsuccessful attempts at Arab unity, foresaw no immediate change in the situation in the Middle East.

Sadat and Kadafi agreed to set up seven joint committees to write a constitution, organize a joint defense force, merge their legislative, judicial, economic, administrative and financial systems, and make plans for unity of education, science, culture and information.

War On School Drug Traffic Proposed

HOUSTON (AP) — An outgoing grand jury recommended Wednesday a war on the use of drugs by school pupils which they said was now "virtually unimpended by either school or police authorities."

The four-point program for combatting drug abuse in the city's schools was handed to State District Court Judge Dan E. Walton by members of the grand jury ending its term.

The report called for increased pressure by both school authorities and police to stop what the grand jurors said was an increasing trafficing in drugs around schools.

No Change Seen At Peace Talks

By MORRIS W. ROSENBERG
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — U.S. Ambassador William J. Porter said today the Communist seven-point peace plan seems "more remote than ever from political and military reality," and repeated the U.S. appeal for an immediate cease-fire in Vietnam.

The secret meeting Tuesday between President Nixon's adviser Henry A. Kissinger and North Vietnamese negotiators did not appear to have altered the Communist position in the talks.

Hanoi's Xuan Thuy stuck firmly to his demands that the United States end the bombing, pull out of Vietnam and stop supporting President Nguyen Van Thieu.

The American negotiator criticized the Communist demand for what he called "dismantling" much of the Saigon regime as a "precondition to negotiations," adding that "the psychological and practical obstacles to such change stagger the imagination."

Porter again urged acceptance of Nixon's May 8 proposals for release of prisoners of war and a cease-fire which would halt the bombing.

Assailing the American air war, Thuy told the 153rd session of the peace talks: "To launch saturation bombing raids with the B52 strategic bombers, to use napalm and toxic chemicals, to wage a war of genocide and biocide in South Vietnam, this is in fact the most barbaric invasion in history. The bombing of the dikes and dams to cause floods, a disaster for millions of North Vietnamese, is to commit crimes more monstrous than those of the Fascist Hitlerites."

Thuy said the Vietnamese people "have done no harm to the United States. On the contrary, the U.S. has waged a war of aggression in Vietnam for many years now, and the Nixon administration is pursuing that unjust war with unprecedented cruelty and perpetrating war crimes surpassing the gravity of those already condemned by the Nurenberg tribunal."

HHH IS OUT

McGovern To Select Friday

By GREGG HERRINGTON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey said today he will not be the running mate of Democratic presidential nominee Sen. George McGovern.

But he declined to answer a reporter's direct question on whether or not McGovern had offered the vice presidential slot to him.

"I'll not be on the ticket," said Humphrey in an interview. He said, however, that he would campaign actively for McGovern.

The Minnesota senator met with McGovern at least three times off the Senate floor during the end-the-war amendment debate Wednesday night. McGovern and Humphrey also breakfasted Thursday morning together at the Senate Dining Room.

Humphrey declined to reveal the names of the possible vice presidential candidates which were discussed but a source said that some of those mentioned included Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine, Lawrence O' Brien, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, Sargent Shriver, former Peace Corps Director and others.

Asked whether Humphrey thought that the dropping of Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton of Missouri, from the ticket would harm McGovern's candidacy, Humphrey replied: "I think Senator McGovern is the first to recognize this has been a blow, but he is anxious to get back to the issues and get on with the campaign."

McGovern, meantime, continued his search for a replacement for Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, dropped Monday night from the second spot on the Democratic ticket.

McGovern's national political director, Frank Mankiewicz, said Wednesday night the announcement of Eagleton's replacement will come by Friday.

McGovern is working toward selection of his second running mate in the same way he picked Eagleton—lots of caucuses with party leaders and lots of names leaked by advisers with Humphrey the latest to be mentioned.

Humphrey's press aide, Mikel Miller, reported today that Humphrey had talked to McGovern several times during Senate debate on a military procurement bill, passed Wednesday night.

Miller said he had asked Humphrey if McGovern had offered him the second spot. Humphrey, Miller said, replied: "'So you can maintain your credibility tell them you don't know. And you don't.'"

Letters To Editor

To The Daily News:

There is much talk about the upcoming liquor election. I would like to state my views on the subject.

To me, it is a moral question. I know in my heart and mind it is wrong. I can't understand why anyone would waant to bring anything into our city that has caused all the trouble it has, all over the world.

From the statistics I read, liquor has been a big factor in 50 per cent of all car accidents, all divorces and all suicides. Liquor has wrecked more homes, blighted more lives, broken more hearts and filled more jail houses than anything in the known world.

Some say it would not be any worse because of the bootlegger, but it seems to reason that the more available a thing is the more it will be consumed.

If the blood of our teenagers and children and grandchildren must be on somebody's hands, then let it be on the hands of the bootlegger and the people that vote for liquor and not on mine.

"The wages of liquor are the wages of sin and the wages of sin is death."

Alvis Minton

To The Daily News:

The advertisement concerning old age pensions published by the Citizens Against Legalized Liquor was ridiculous. When are you people (C.A.L.L.) going to wake up? It truly takes intelligent people to go to that extreme. You are losing more votes than you are winning by trying to push this issue down people's throats.

You probably accomplished your goal by striking fear in our senior citizen's hearts. Is there no stopping point in your organization? Will it be Hillcrest Lodge next?

If you are not ashamed of what this could mean to you, why not publish the names of the people involved in the next issue of The Snyder Daily News? You (C.A.L.L.) wanted to print the names of the people that signed the petition for an election. I would like to see as well as others just how devoted you really are in voting Snyder dry.

Flight Training Session Is Set Tonight At WTC

Anyone interested in flight training classes at Western Texas College is invited to attend a meeting at 7:45 tonight in room 110, Building 2B, on the WTC campus.

Several classes may be organized, depending upon interest. Classes could be made available in ground school (without flying), ground school and 10 hours of flying, ground school and training toward the private pilot's certificate, flying without ground school and flying leading to the commercial certificate.

There is no obligation involved in the meeting tonight but WTC needs to determine the number of people interested in flight training and their areas of interest, said J. Merrill Kayser, instructor.

Singer's Funds Are Controled

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jack Jones' assets will be under the control of a receiver until the singer's dispute with his former business manager can be resolved in Superior Court.

Jones' attorney, Harvey Strassman, said Wednesday two civil suits were filed against Walter Prince last month, charging Prince had failed to give Jones proper information about his holdings, which Strassman said totaled about $1 million.

Allan H. Liebert, Prince's attorney, said he had advised Prince to put the singer's funds into a trust account and estimated the total value at about $61,300.

Unsettled Weather Predicted

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Light rain spread from the Gulf of Mexico over much of South Texas today, and official observers predicted the unsettled weather would keep on moving into the state and neighboring areas of Mexico.

They said that what was described as "disturbed weather" was widespread over the western part of the Gulf. At the same time a military plane had been sent to inspect a tropical depression—often the forerunner of a hurricane approaching the Bahama Islands.

Meanwhile a new cool front was accompanied into the Texas Panhandle by another batch of scattered showers.

Much of the rainfall in southern areas of the state—sometimes falling at a rate of more than one inch per hour—spread over a sector embracing Fredericksburg, Laredo, McAllen, Corpus Christi and Palacios.

The new frontal system was cool enough to drop early morning temperatures to 64 degrees at Amarillo, 65 at Lubbock and 66 at Dalhart. Readings elsewhere stood mostly in the 70s but stayed as high as 82 at Galveston.

Top marks Wednesday afternoon ranged from 101 degrees at Wichita Falls down to 83 at Galveston.

Rainfall amounts Wednesday included Victoria 1.16 inches, Galveston .78, Corpus Christi .33, Beaumont .31, Lufkin .30, College Station .14, Austin .10, Palacios .09, El Paso .08 and Alice .01.

Army Doctor Seeks Release

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — An Army ophthalmologist is seeking a release from active duty, claiming the small town of Somerset, Pa., needs him more than the military does.

Maj. Joseph E. Sofranko, a native of Mount Pleasant, Pa., filed a petition for his release in federal court here Wednesday after the Army recently turned down his request.

Sofranko, who is under orders to report for duty in Vietnam on Aug. 10, also asked that the Army be ordered to keep him here at Ft. Sam Houston pending the outcome of his case.

While a resident in ophthalmology at the University of North Carolina, Sofranko asked the Army to allow him to work at a community hospital in Somerset—which he says has no ophthalmologists—rather than serve in the military.

In a letter to an Army official attached to his petition, Sofranko said physician friends who recently returned from Vietnam told him there was "very little real work in Vietfor a fully trained ophthalmologist at the present time."

"I would prefer to work at a hospital where my services are needed and where there is plenty of work to do," he stated.

He also said the Army has a full quota of ophthalmologists.

No date has been set for a hearing on the case.

Have you heard the one about the local bootlegger who has the big car in front of a brick home with a red-bumper sticker that says "For the sake of my family, I'll vote dry!"

Book Is Fun To Browse Through

THE PETER PRESCRIPTION. By Laurence J. Peter. Morrow. 221 Pages. $5.95.

Remember "The Peter Principle?" It was a very popular book telling why things go wrong.

Its thesis was that every employe tends to rise to his level of incompetence. That is, he usually gets promoted one step beyond the jobs that he can handle. For example, he may be a very good engineer, but when he becomes a supervising engineer he bungles the supervision.

The present book is a sort of extension, or follow-up, of "The Peter Principle." On the premise that "Man cannot live by incompetence alone," it sets guidelines for making things go right.

There are scores of tips on how to defend yourself from the perils of the "Principle." For example, "When threatened with an unwanted promotion, pretend you are already incompetent." And one way to do it is to use such unintelligible jargon that no one will understand you.

Dotted throughout the text are pertinent quotations from such authors as "W. Shakespeare" and "A. Einstein," or "W. Churchill," not to mention "L. Peter."

WOMEN

Dave Hasn't Found Albuquerque Girl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dave Schwartz hasn't found the "Albuquerque Girl" he sought by spending $1,600 for advertisements on Southern California Rapid Transit District buses.

But he has found:

A man who offered his former wife.

Ten fake "Albuquerque girls."

A dozen men who want to manage him.

And a song writer who wants to celebrate him in verse.

Schwartz, a former University of Michigan student from Bloomington, Mich., spent all his savings for advertising in an attempt to find a girl he met briefly in suburban Venice but whose name he doesn't know.

"All I can remember is that she was skinny and from Albuquerque," he said Tuesday.

Saute bananas, cut into 1-inch chunks, in butter in a large skillet. Add drained canned pineapple chunks and sprinkle with light brown sugar; heat. Delicious served with broiled chicken.

Ever wonder why so much time and money is spent fighting legal sales during election time, but during the long years in between, nothing is done to fight the illegal sales of the bootleggers to our teenagers?

Phillips Is At Safety

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Eddie Phillips, who spent the last three years quarterbacking for the University of Texas, figures his signal-calling days are over.

Instead of throwing passes these days, Phillips is trying to bat them down as a rookie free safety with the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League.

Now second string behind veteran Kermit Alexander, he is expected to see his first game action Friday night when the Rams are hosts to the Cleveland Browns in their preseason opener.

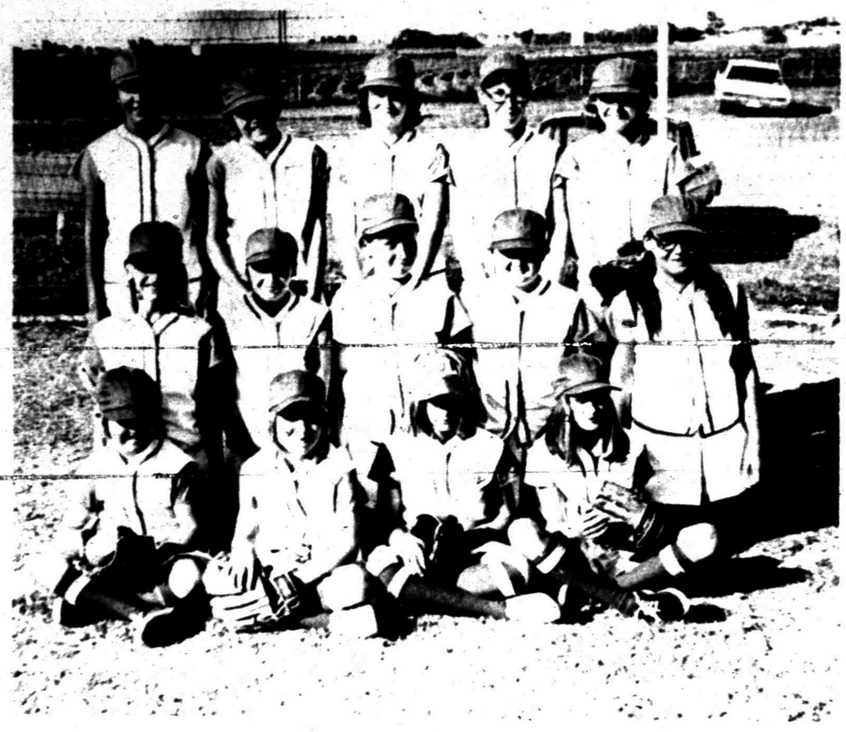

"I've got quite an adjustment to make," said Phillips, who didn't play defense in college.

The 6-foot-2, 200-pounder was drafted as a defensive back by the Rams, who noted his natural athletic ability.

Rams Coach Tommy Prothro remembers him well, because Phillips threw long a touchdown pass in the final seconds to beat Prothro's UCLA team in 1970. The coach of that UCLA secondary was Larrye Weaver, who now is Phillips' mentor as backfield coach of the Rams.

In college, Phillips' Texas team used the wishbone-T, primarily a running formation and therefore not well suited to the pass-happy pro game.

"I guess we could have exploited passing more," he said. "We talked about it before every game. But when you have so much success running, why pass just to prove something?"

MINOR CHAMPS—The Yankees won the Minor League championship in Miss Softball America. Snyder Teens Outlast Haskell In First Round

That old baseball adage "the game isn't over until the last out of the last inning" was never more true to life than yesterday morning in Brownwood where the Snyder Teenage stars almost fell victim to a sixth inning rally by Haskell, but managed to pull the game out of the fire in the top of the seventh. What looked for five innings like a runaway victory for he Snyderites suddently exploded as Haskell came from a 6-0 deficit in the bottom of the sixth to tie the score. Snyder withstood the pressure in the seventh but Munoz, the losing pitcher for Haskell succumbed, giving Snyder the winning run on a balk to third base.

Snyder Opens Early

The scoring started in the first inning when Randy Gressett singled and David Mayes followed him with a hard hit ball that was misplayed by the first baseman. Gressett scored on the error and Sid Perry advanced Mayes with a single. Barry Blalock walked to load the bases and Gary Greenlee, starting pitcher for Snyder singled in two runs to help his cause before he ever set foot on the mound.

Greenlee made quick work of Haskell in the first inning, giving up a hit, but striking two down and relying on his infield for the other out. Snyder came home and scored three more runs in the second on the hits of Gressett and Perry, completing their scoring in regulation play.

Haskell threatened in the third inning when they advanced a man into scoring postion with no outs, but Greenlee put the next three away in order and set them down consecutively in the fourth. Snyder threatened again in the fourth when Gressett tripled with one away, but he was left stranded when the next two batters fell.

Defense Falters

The failure of Snyder to score in the third through the sixth innings did not really seem that important. It appeared that the only factor of real importance was Snyder's defense. All that remained was to hold on, to squelch any Haskell bid. But Haskell caught fire in the bottom of the inning, making a gallant bid for victory, and catching the Snyder defense off guard, scoring their six runs on only three hits and four costly errors. It was a wild inning, the kind that serves to remind you that once you reach the state tournament your dealing with the best, and nothing is taken for granted, regardless of a six run lead.

Haskell opened their bid when Snyder Shortstop Sid Perry over threw first base and then Haskell's Rodela singled to advance him. Another error filled the bases, but Snyder picked up the first out when Bird hit to right field and Blalock fired the ball to second to cut down a runner. Two runs had scored during all of this action and the pressure was temporarily relieved, but Greenlee walked the next man he faced to load 'em up again. An error in the outfield sent in two runs and then Greenlee was tagged for another single by Pippin, narrowing the margin to 6-5. After pitching a fine game, giving up only three hits in 5 and 2-3 innings, Greenlee left the mound and Randy Gressett was called on to finish the work. Gressett was singled and the tying run was scored, but the next batter flied out to center.

Collar Tightens

Now the pressure was on Haskell and Munoz, a 13-year-old southpaw, felt the collar tighten when Mayes reached base and Sid Perry made up for his sixth inning error with a double to put Mayes on third. Sims struckout, but Blalock walked and the bases were loaded. On the first pitch to Greenlee Munoz made a balking motion to third base, turning his shoulder to check the runner before going home, it was a costly error that sent Mayes home free of charge and lost the game for Munoz. Greenlee flied out and Mark McCormick fanned.

Gressett was singled by Rodela in the bottom of the seventh, but came back with a strikeout and caught another batter on an infield pop up. Desperate for runs, and with two outs, the Haskell runner took a daring lead off second base and Gressett made a slick pick-off move to catch the third out and end the game.

Greenlee, Gressett, and Perry were the big hitters for Snyder. Greenlee was two-for-four and Gressett and Perry were both three-for-four. Manager O.D. Brewer and coach Mickey Sterling should not only be credited with fine coaching, but with strong hearts and nerves, for it was one of those games that puts the gray in your hair, the wrinkles on your brow, and the ulcers in your stomach.

Snyder has advanced one step closer in the double elimination tourney and will meet the winner of the Conroe vs. Hearne game tonight at 9:30 in Brownwood. If Snyder wins then they play at 7:30 p.m. Friday, but if they lose they will play at 4:30 Friday afternoon.

Al Ciuci Is Head Pro

GREAT NECK, N.Y. (AP) — Members of the Fresh Meadow Country Club have made veteran golf pro Al Ciuci, 75, head pro emeritus. Ciuci had been head pro or assistant pro at the club for almost 48 years.

Club president Lou Lazerus announced that an Al Ciuci Day would be an annual event at the Greak Neck, Long Island club. Ciuci some 53 years ago discovered two-time U.S. Open champion Gene Sarazen as a Bridgeport, Conn., caddie. When Sarazen became Fresh Meadow pro almost 48 years ago, Ciuci was his assistant, and when Sarazen left to become Lakeville Country Club pro, Ciuci succeeded Sarazen as the Fresh Meadow pro at the old course in Flushing, Queens.

Tom Seaver of the New York Mets had a 1971 earned-run average of 1.76, best in the National League, while Vida Blue of Oakland led the American League with 1.82.

South Wins 72-71 On Charity Toss

HOUSTON (AP) — Ira Terrell of Dallas Roosevelt got the glory but Glaylord David of Houston Wheatley got the victory and he's satisfied with that arrangement.

Terrell, the two-time all-state center with a 32-point scoring average, hit 26 points and grabbed 16 rebounds and earn most valuable player honors in the 27th annual Coaches North-South All-Star basketball game Wednesday night.

But Davis poured in 21 points of his own, including a crucial free throw in the final seconds to engineer the South to a hair-raising 72-71 victory over the favored North.

"He surprised me," said South Coach Ron Truitt of Cypress-Fairbanks. "He's so quick and he's such a great leader. They didn't really look good in practice but what surprised me was the way they pulled together after only seven workouts."

Davis hit three early baskets as the underdog South jumped to a 9-6 lead before 9,490 fans in the University of Houston's Hofheinz Coliseum.

The North fought back to take a 34-32 halftime lead and it took some fancy scrambling by the South Stars to win it in the tense final minute.

The North battled back from a 63-56 deficit in the fourth quarter and tied it up for the last time at 69-all with 2:38 left.

David Brown of Silsbee hit a bucket with 1:03 to go and the South never trailed again. Davis hit a free-throw with 31 seconds left to make the North's final bucket at 18 seconds worthless.

The North missed an opportunity to win it in the final two seconds when Gary Brewster of Midland missed the first shot on a one-and-one charity attempt. David Marrs of Houston Lamar got the rebound and held it the final seconds.

Truitt praised Rick Bullock, the big center from San Antonio Jefferson, who scored 15 points and grabbed 12 rebounds.

Marrs was the only other double figures scorer in the game with 10 points.

U.S. Tennis In Fourth Day Of Championships

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (AP) — The 45th annual U.S. Pro Tennis Championship at the Longwood Cricket Club moved into its fourth day with the entire day's program devoted to doubles.

Wednesday night unseeded Rod Laver of Australia overwhelmed Ismail Le Shafei of Egypt 6-3, 6-2 and ninth seeded Arthur Ashe of Miami picked up after a loss in the first set to overome his former U.S. Davis Cup teammate Charlie Pasarell 1-6, 6-2 and 6-2.

Bobby Lutz, 24, who knocked off John Newcomb in a third-set tie-breaker on Tuesday, won another tie-breaker Wednesday, but to do it, he had to fight off four match points against Brian Fairlie of New Zealand.

Lutz was down 2-6 in the tie-breaker and Fairlie only needed one point when Lutz ran off with six straight points.

In other matches Wednesday, Tony Roche of Australia had a comparatively easy time in a 6-3, 6-3 victory over Haroom Rahim of Pakistan and third-seeded Marty Rieseen of Chicago eliminated rookie Derek Schroder.

A MESSAGE FROM CONCERNED CITIZENS

These are some of the things the people of the Ira and Knapp Communities who are against legalizing the sale of alcoholic beverages would like brought to the attention of the people of the city of Snyder.

1. In the past few weeks and days we have heard a great deal from the "wets" about the added revenue the CITY OF SNYDER would receive if the sale of liquor is legalized in the CITY OF SNYDER. We personally do not believe these people are concerned about the economy of the City of Snyder. This is the only way they can persuade some people to help them get their booze a little more conveniently, and we couldn't care less about the economy of the City of Snyder when its ill effects will be felt and seen over all of Scurry County.

2. With many of the rural people being life long residents of Scurry County, we have come to feel that Snyder is "Our Town", too. So often we hear the plea "Shop at home"—and the rural people definitely spend more money in Snyder than in any other trade area. We have never had a business or merchant refuse our money or business simply because we didn't reside inside the incorporate city limits of Snyder. Now you are telling us that you DO NOT want us or do not value our right to our opinion about YOUR city. But we plead with the business people in Snyder to consider us as you vote August 5th, or influence others before that time that you cast your vote. The majority of us are against legalized liquor. The people who petitioned and called for this election knew this because a liquor election has NEVER passed county wide—nor would it now. But it will possibly pass CITY wide unless you are against it.

3. In the event of the legalization of the sale of liquor the city of Snyder will receive whatever revenues there may be. We would also like for you to assume any expenses. The rural—or country—people would like to be assured that NO county official be called on to enforce any law—or investigate any accident, crime or family disaster that occurs as the result of someone having obtained his "drinks" inside your incorporate city limits. We DO pay county taxes and feel that we should have some say as to how our tax money is spent. If I remember correctly this is essentially what the BOSTON TEA PARTY was all about.

4. We do not feel that the thought that putting legalized liquor in our own front door will deep the drunks or intoxicated drivers off the streets or highways is valid reasoning or even a sane excuse. Not even one out of ten will take their booze home and drink it—They will still be on our streets and highways and in an even greater number when it is so easily accessible to them.

5. Let's take the case of the overweight person of which there seems to be an abundance. If food is not set before them they are not tempted to eat it. So with the drinker—If it is not right down the street he will not be tempted so strongly to partake. Does this get us back to the question "Am I my brothers keeper?" We believe it does. WE AND YOU are responsible for what happens in "YOUR" town.

ENERGY AND DOLLARS

Efficient Use Of Electricity Would Save

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Simple efficiencies in the use of electricity, mainly in lighting, could significantly reduce energy usage and reduce the impact of power shortages that exist in some regions and threaten elsewhere.

This is the considered judgment of many electrical engineers, who also claim that not only energy but many millions of dollars could be saved in operating costs.

At the recent annual meeting of the Illuminating Engineering Society, newly elected president Richard Dorsey of General Electric stated that 90 per cent of lighting systems produce only half as much light as possible for the energy consumed.

Other engineers claim that even those systems that deliver light efficiently still waste energy by generating so much heat that air-conditioning systems are forced to overwork.

The possible savings in energy and money have yet to be worked out, but it is estimated the buildings account for 20 per cent industrial-commercial energy consumption and that 20 per cent of that is for lighting.

George Clark, IES senior vice president and engineering manager for special projects of Sylvania Electric, estimates that better usage in these structures could reduce their energy consumption by 15 to 25 per cent

The critical nature of such savings is made clear in the perspective of rising energy costs and recurring power shortages—even blackouts of increasing frequency and size—in some regions of the country.

The possible efficiencies about which Dorsey and Clark speak are possible not only through correction of wasteful practices of the past but through the use of relatively recent advances in producing more lumens from the same wattage.

An incandescent lamp, most widely recognized of all, produces only 10 lumens—a measure of light quantity—per watt. But more recently developed lamps produce 10 times as many lumens without color distortion.

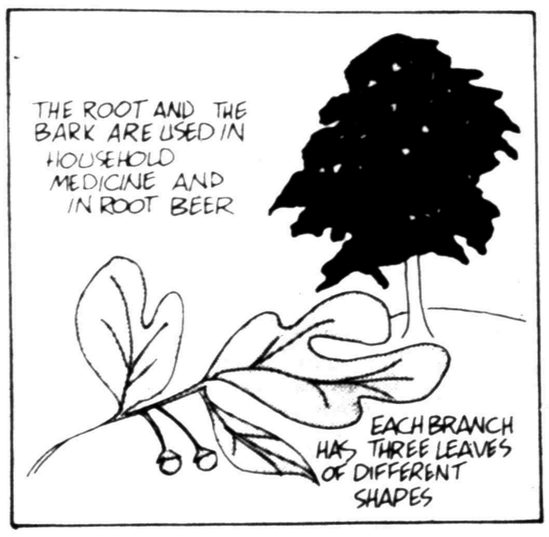

Other efficiencies are possible, Clark said, through more frequent cleaning fixtures and a regular program of lamp replacement. Many lamps remain in use beyond their effective life, producing less light but using no less energy.

Additional savings, in money and energy, are possible through the utilization in winter of the heat from lights and through the use of available systems for drawing off that heat in summer, he said.

Few buildings are so equipped today, but Clark and others believe that as an energy ethic develops—as builders realize that rising energy costs and availability is critical—waste will decrease.

Among other suggestions for conserving energy: Switches that permit lights to be turned on or off in part of a room rather than in a larger area; focusing light in work areas with less in circulation or conversation places.

Junior Editors' Quiz on SASSAFRAS

QUESTION: What is sassafras and what is it used for?

• • •

ANSWER: The sassafras tree is an American tree of the laurel family. It is a common eastern tree or shrub, sometimes growing along the side of the road. It was called Green Stick by the Indians because of its bright green twigs. It is highly fragrant, something like the spicebush and was referred to as a "smelling stick" by the Onondago Indians. It has a peculiarity of different-shaped leaves appearing on the same branch. Its small yellow flowers are followed by a dark blue berry fruit. In the fall it makes a striking appearance with its orange and scarlet leaves.

The sassafras tree has many uses. The bark and roots are sold in drug stores and specialty stores for sassafras tea, which is valued by many people as a spring tonic. The bark yields an oil which is used in making soaps and perfumes. The dried root is used in making bitters and serves as a flavoring agent. Sassafras is an integral part of Creole cooking. Root beer is made from the roots of the sassafras tree and children like to chew the aromatic twigs. Birds relish the purple fruits.

Boyle Jumps To Conclusions

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

One of the surest signs a man is growing old is the development in him of new small habits of thrift—such as the saving of string or paper bags, tossed into a drawer. Nature, the great conservator, has whispered in his ear that the time of life has come when he cannot afford to throw anything away but must cling desperately to everything he has.

A majority of the working population of America seems to get its gears going in the morning with a cup of hot coffee and a piece of pastry or a doughnut.

How can a civilization endure if most of its people start each day with such a dietary disaster? Shades of our pioneer ancestors, who breakfasted on biscuits, butter, honey, eggs, bacon, ham or steak. But the good temper, digestion and endurance on the job of the average man would improve vastly if he did just one simple thing—replace the piece of pastry with a single hardboiled egg. Try this for two weeks yourself and see if you don't feel better.

A healthy mind is one that doesn't clutter itself with small animosities or waste its energy on trifles. Resentment drains your energy, just as too many small leaks will in time empty a reservoir. If you let yourself be eroded by petty concerns, you will inevitably wind up petty-minded.

The very poor and the very rich are alike in some ways. Utter poverty can make a man as selfish and egotistical and arrogant as wealth can make a man who feels it is a cushion against consequences. Both pauper and prince tend to have deplorable manners, the one because he is naughty, the other because he is haughty. Only members of the middle class consistently employ good manners—or hold each other in mutual respect.

If I were sitting on a jury, I doubt that I would vote for any verdict that would cost more than a year in jail for any man who robbed a bank in order to pay his own doctor bill or to buy a set of false teeth for his dear old gray-haired mother. It is essential at almost any price to keep up a good family appearance in this world.

You can't listen very long at a cocktail party to two people talk about their trip to Paris without one exclaiming, "And remember, on a bad morning, how well the strawberries went with the champagne?" And the other always murmurs assent and nods misty-eyed, and then a hushed reverent pause ensues as if everyone was in church. For crying out loud, doesn't anyone ever go to Paris, wake up with a hangover, and reach out shakily for a handful of leftover peanuts and a bottle of cola?

Dallas To Process More Area Mail

DALLAS (AP) — Mail from 25 additional areas is being processed in Dallas starting Aug. 5 under a scheme which United States Postal Service officials call "area mail processing."

Carl C. Uslaker, regional postmaster for the Southern United States, says the program is intended "to speed the ultimate delivery of the mail and to gain maximum efficiency and economy through full utilization of Dallas's modern post office."

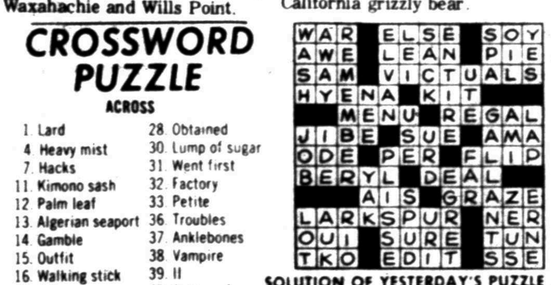

Roy D. Frederick, in charge of the Dallas Post Office, said 25 postal employes' jobs would be eliminated in the outlying areas but they will be offered work in Dallas or at other centers.

Post offices whose mail was previously processed in Mesquite will be affected. These are Mesquite, Canton, Cedar Hill, Corsicana, DeSoto, Duncanville, Edgewood, Ennis, Ferris, Forney, Grand Saline, Hutchins, Kaufman, Kemp, Kerens, Kleberg, Lancaster, Mabank, Malakoff, Red Oak, Seagoville, Terrell, Trinidad, Waxahachie and Wills Point.

To New Heights

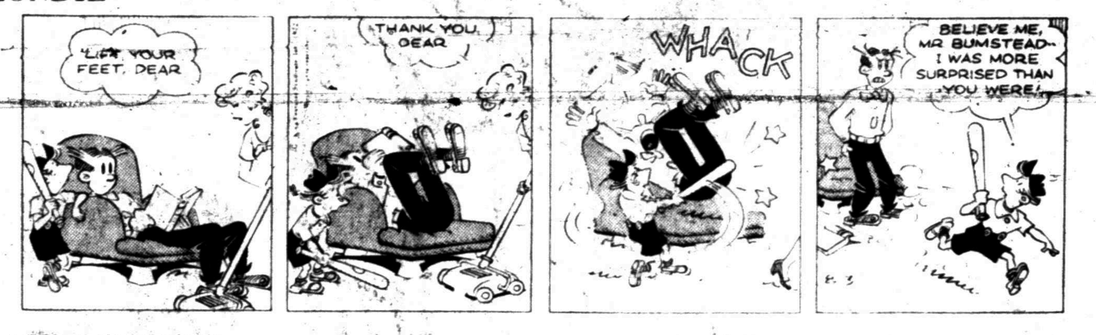

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The California dog-faced butterfly — a yellow, orange and black beauty — has fluttered to new heights by becoming the official insect for the Golden State.

Gov. Ronald Reagan has signed a bill designating the butterfly, known formally as Zerene eurydice, to join other official state symbols. They include a state flower — the California poppy, state bird — the valley quail, state fish — golden trout, state tree — coast redwood and state animal — California grizzly bear.

Enrollments Booming At Private Schools

By RENA PEDERSON
Associated Press Writer

Record numbers of Texas parents—disenchanged with busing and the attendant problems of public schools—intend to put their children in private schools this fall.

A check of private schools shows applications and enrollments have boomed at religious, military and commercial institutions since court-ordered integration plans hit metropolitan areas two years ago.

Only the private Catholic schools in the Diocese of Dallas have not gained financially because they refused to contribute to the busing backlash and froze their enrollments two years ago.

But to the parents involved, the private alternative is a blessing. To most private schools, it's a financial Godsend. To the minority leaders, it's a setback to the integration effort.

"Parents are unsure and afraid of an unsettled situation. We have so many applications we can't handle them," said David Coterill, of Trinity Christian Academy in Dallas.

Coterill defended private schools and said, "They are not becoming an escape hatch for segregation really. Maybe it was initially stirred up by the busing situation, but it has led to a change in the parents' thinking about education. I like to think a new dimension has been opened to them by God."

George Allen, a black Dallas City Council member, said he feels the swell in private enrollments is "simply a way of avoiding court-ordered integration."

"It's ironical that most of them are called religious schools," Allen said. "You hate to see the church perpetuate bigotry."

Allen explained, "I don't want to blanket all private schools as bad since many of them offer the best prep schooling or religious schooling in the state. But so many of these schools were started in hysteria. Many are profiteering on the emotions of the people. And by perpetuating segregation, they are perpetuating bigotry."

The First Baptist Church in Dallas will be opening a new elementary school this fall. The Rev. Mel Carter, director of education at the 16,000-member church, said Dr. W.A. Criswell had planned a church school "for years."

"But the thing that brought it to fulfillment was busing in that we had so many requests from parents," Carter said.

"There are many other factors involved, of course," he said. "Many parents are just disenchanted with public schools or want a quality education or religious education for their children. Our school will be better because of smaller classes, lack of conflict, better discipline, a lot more attention, better Christian emphasis."

"I think basically the thinking people want their children out of the mess of public education. If the court settles in favor of extensive busing, then more parents will be sending their children to private schools, you can bet on that," Carter said.

Ted Peters started his own school in Fort Worth in 1971 with kindergarten, first and second grades. For 1972 he is enlarging the White Lake Private School to include third, fourth and fifth grades because of popular demand.

"Parents are tired of overcowded classrooms and unrest in public schools," he said. "Our impetus for starting was within the neighborhood. We needed a place that our children could get what we felt was a quality education close to home."

Mrs. Jane Wynn, 25, sends her 7-year-old son Richard Joel to Tyler Street Methodist Church School in Dallas, which is near her home.

"They get no discipline in public schools any more because the schools and the teachers are all tied up," she said. "We don't know our status yet for busing in elementary schools this fall, but if I have to bus my son, I'd definitely keep him in private school."

Mrs. Wynn has to pay both school taxes and private tuition, but said, "I'd pay both as long as I could if I thought it was best for the child. The public schools are more concerned now with the adults' opinions than what's best for the child. He didn't want to be bused."

To be exempt from taxes and get federal grants, the schools have to be open to minority students. But most minority students cannot pay the tuition—which ranges from $500 at the First Baptist Church to $2,000 for exclusive boarding schools like St. Mark's and Hockaday in Dallas or St. Mary's in San Antonio.

At San Marcos Military Academy in Central Texas it costs $2,200 a year to board a student. There are no black students and no minority applications so far this year.

Sex without love cheap, meaningless

By Abigail Van Buren

(c 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I am male, 46, married, and the father of four children. My wife and I have been married for 25 years, and we hope to be married for at least 25 more.

Abby, so often I read letters in your column from distraught wives and husbands [mostly wives] who have just learned that their spouse has been "unfaithful." Then they describe how "hurt" they are, and wonder if they can ever "forgive" him.

Abby, how stupid can these people be? I think I speak for 99.9 per cent of all red-blooded American men when I say I'd hate to be married for 50 years and never have sex with a woman other than my wife.

I am a devoted husband, I love my wife, and nothing will change that. And having sex away from home is not being "unfaithful" to her. It doesn't take anything away from our home life. If anything, it adds a little spice, and at our ages we can use some. My wife enjoys a change once in a while, too. We've even talked about it. It isn't the kind of sex which involves love. It's purely a physical desire satisfied. It's like a good game of golf or tennis.

I am gold to my wife and family. I deprive them of nothing. I don't squander my money on other women. I don't rent them apartments or buy them gifts. If I see another woman it's because I enjoy her and she enjoys me.

Now, Abby, you tell me, who is hurt?

HAPPY AT HOME

DEAR HAPPY: In your case, nobody. But not everyone shares your [and your wife's] attitude about sex. To some, sex without love is hollow, cheap, and meaningless. And what assurance have you that while you're gathering "a little spice" one of your playmates won't become emotionally involved with you? Or you with her? It's happened, you know, and there are a lot of broken hearts and broken homes to prove it. Better arrange a good game of golf or tennis. The stakes aren't as high.

DEAR ABBY: My sister-in-law recently invited me and some other women over to see her new home.

I had already sent her a very nice housegift, but I never like to go anywhere empty-handed, so I brought her a box of my favorite chocolates, which I know she likes, too.

When I arrived I handed it to her. She thanked me for it and put it aside. A while later I hinted that I wished she'd open the candy. She ignored the hint. Finally I said, "Why don't you open my candy and pass it around?"

She said, "I'm serving a nice snack. I'm saving the candy for later."

After the snack, I said, "Well, is it late enough to open my candy?"

She laughed and said, "It's not YOUR candy. It's MINE. And I prefer not to open it right now."

I let the matter drop. Tell me, was she rude or not? Wasn't the candy mine? I brought it. ANNOYED

DEAR ANNOYED: The candy was yours until you gave it to her. Then it became hers. After she ignored your hints you should have given up.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were divorced six years ago. We had a son who now lives with his father and stepmother. [He is 8 years old.] I went to see the boy last summer, and his stepmother suggested that I write to him now that he is old enough to write.

I signed my first letter "Mom" altho he calls his stepmother that. They told him while I was visiting that I was his real mother.

Soon I received a very nasty letter from the boy's father telling me not to sign "Mom" to my letters anymore.

What should I do? MOM

DEAR MOM: Since he knows that you are his real mother, I suggest that you sign your letters, "Mother." [Almost anything but "Mom" will do.]

CONFIDENTIAL TO "NOWHERE TO TURN": Yes, a 12-year-old girl most certainly CAN become pregnant. If you positively refuse to go to your parents, please call your local PLANNED PARENTHOOD office and tell them that ABBY promised they would counsel you.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — More busing for Austin schools and less for Corpus Christi's is the picture presented by an "en banc" decision of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Wednesday.

All 15 judges of the appeals court participated in the decision instead of the usual three-judge panel. The "en banc" procedure is reserved for unusual or important suits.

The Corpus Christi case dealt with a district court ruling which called for extensive cross-town busing, which school officials protested would cost them an extra $1.7 million a year and would involve about 15,000 elementary school pupils.

The Justice Department, acting under anti-busing guidelines set forth by President Nixon, asked that the plan be sent back for changes.

In its ruling, the 5th Circuit said constitutional desegregation can be achieved in Corpus Christi without such extensive busing.

"We conclude that a different approach may achieve a constitutional result without involving the conversion of the school system from a non-transportation to a transportation basis to the extent ordered by the district court," the appeals court said.

The legal question in Corpus Christi, the court said, was whether the Mexican-American segregation in the city is constitutionally impermissible.

"We ... affirm the district court's finding that the Mexican-American children of Corpus Christi are segregated in violation of the Constitution," the court said. "However, we disagree with the remedy prescribed by the district court and require that it be modified."

The main remedy ordered by the court to replace Dist. Court Judge Woodrow Seals' busing plan was a new student assignment plan, with Seals ordered to step in and draw his own plan if necessary.

The court also ordered the pairing or clustering of schools, the realignment of school assignment zones and the relocation of portable classrooms as methods of eliminating segregated schools.

If such procedures do not eliminate one-race schools, the district judge was ordered to consider the pairing or clustering of schools in non-contiguous school zones, which would require busing.

Five judges concurred in part and dissented in part.

One dissent, by Judge Walter Gewin said, "There is no justification for changing the rules and guidelines which we have hammered out, just because the problem presented in this case relates to prohibited racial discrimination against a substantial number of Mexican-Americans and a small number of black students."

Gewin said he could never embrace the idea that children in Corpus Christi have different or lesser rights than children in other southern cities, "just because they are Mexican-Americans."

New Alarm Systems For Autos

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)— The big three automakers Wednesday introduced new alarm systems that will set lights blinking and horns blowing if a thief tries to break into a car.

They were put on display at the 20th annual meeting of the International Association of Auto Theft Investigators.

Michael J. Murphy, president of the National Automobile Theft Bureau, said the number of stolen cars declined nationally the first three months of this year. It was the first drop in many years and Murphy attributed the drop mainly to improved antitheft devices, particularly steering column locks.

Chrysler said that with its new electronic security alarm system, any attempt to force open the doors, hood or trunk will start headlights, tail lights and side marker lights flashing at 100 cycles per minute and the horn blowing at the same frequency.

The device will be offered as an option on Plymouth Fury, Dodge Polara and Monaco and Chrysler and Imperial passenger cars.

The Ford alarm triggers the horn if doors or trunk are forced, a spokesman said. It will be armed by turning the key in one of the front doors.

He said it will be available as an option first on Ford and Mercury and later on other models.

General Motors said its electronic alarm system will be optional in 1973 for Chevrolet and Cadillac autos.

On both, the horn will pulsate. On Cadillacs, parking, sidemarker, tail and license lights will also flash.

Texas Medical Costs Below Nation Average

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas hospital costs aren't quite as high as the national average, a hospital spokesman has told a special state senate committee.

Ray Hurst of the Texas Hospital Association told the committee Wednesday that Texans last year paid an average of $85 a day for hospital care, including lab work, x-rays and rugs, while the national average was $92.31.

Hurst also said that although hospital costs went up about 14.5 per cent last year, that was the lowest increase since 1966.

Dr. Russell Deter of El Paso, who heads a Texas Medical Association committee on medical costs, testified that one of the major factors in rising hospital costs is the "image-builders" on some hospital boards who buy specialized pieces of equipment just because other hospitals have them.

"We need someone to control such things community-wide," Deter said, "but I'd hate to say the government should."

GOP Tuning Sessions To Early-To-Bed Audience

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans are tuning their three-day national convention to the early-to-bed television audience, not to the insomniacs.

Those making the arrangements promise an "interesting and exciting" convention starting in Miami Beach on Aug. 21, despite the fact the outcome is assured.

"The American people will watch ours," the GOP National Committee chairman, Sen. Robert J. Dole, predicted Wednesday at a news conference.

The five sessions, two afternoon gathering of two hours each starting at 1 o'clock and three at night scheduled to end not later than 10:30, were arranged, Dole said, so every TV viewer wanting to can conveniently watch them.

"Not just the insomniacs," he added, referring to last month's four-day Democratic convention in which all sessions ran past midnight and two ended at daybreak.

The afternoon GOP sessions are booked for Monday and Tuesday, with the finale' starting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday and ending at 10:30. At that final session the nominees will make their acceptance speeches.

The Monday and Tuesday night sessions will be two-hour affairs starting at 8:30. The nomination for president is set for Tuesday night, and for vice president Wednesday night.

To liven up the proceedings, Dole said, "spontaneous" victory demonstrations of about 15 minutes' duration will follow each nomination. Democrats barred such merry-making from their convention.

Five movies will be shown during the proceedings. None will exceed 15 minutes, Dole said. They will include tributes to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Mrs. Nixon, a review of Republican accomplishments, some scenes about "Nixon The Man," and a visual keynote presentation.

The Republicans anticipate no squabbles such as the ones that split the Democrats over credentials, platform and party rules. Their Credentials Committee's first and probably only meeting is scheduled the day the convention opens.

It took the Democrats more than a week to draft a credentials report and an all-night session for the convention to act on it.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

* * *

Q. My house burned down and I hired an appraiser to establish the amount of casualty loss on my home and furnishings. Are his fees deductible?

A. Yes. If you itemize deductions on your return, appraisal fees incurred in establishing the amount of a casualty loss are deductible as an expense incurred in determining your tax liability.

Q. I sold my house several months ago, but I've been having trouble finding a new one. How much time do I have to acquire a new house in order to qualify for postponement of tax on the sale of my old one?

A. The gain you realize on the sale or exchange of your personal residence is not taxed at the time of sale if within one year before or after the sale you buy and occupy another residence, the cost of which equals or exceeds the "adjusted sales price" of the old residence.

If you are constructing a new residence, construction must begin before the sale of your old residence or within one year after. The residence must be occupied within 18 months after the sale.

The running of the one-year or 18-month period after the sale of your old residence is suspended while you serve on extended active duty in the Armed Forces. The suspension applies only if your service begins before the end of the one-year or 18-month period. The length of this suspension plus the initial period cannot extend for more than four years after you sold your residence unless you spent time on active duty in a combat zone.

Q. My employer reimburses me for business travel. Does this reimbursement have to be reported on the tax return?

A. Reimbursements and allowances for expenses you pay or incur for travel in connection with your employment must be included in your income tax return unless:

1) You are required to, and do, make an accounting for such expenses to your employer;

2) You do not deduct such expenses on your return, and

3) The sum of such expenses equals the total amount of reimbursements and allowances.

If you include the allowance or reimbursement in income, you may deduct your allowable expenses to the extent of the allowance or reimbursement.

Q. I know that in order to claim my son as a dependent I must furnish more than half of his total support for the year. Is everything I spend for him considered as total support furnished by me?

A. No. Generally, total support includes expenditures for providing food, shelter, clothing, education, medical and dental care, recreation, transportation, and similar necessities. However, certain items are specifically excluded from total support. Some of these are life insurance premiums, the purchase of an automobile, Federal, State or local income tax payments, Social Security tax expenditures and funeral expenses.

Caucus Is For Sissy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Francis "Sissy" Farenthold of Texas is the choice of the National Women's Political Caucus as the vice-presidential running mate of Sen. George McGovern.

The caucus in a telegram to the Democratic presidential nominee Wednesday, said:

"In your deliberations for vice president, we wish to remind you that Mrs. Farenthold made a strong showing in the vice presidential vote at the Democratic convention.

"She is a longtime McGovern supporter, a Catholic, a Texan and a woman.

"Her bid for the governorship of Texas showed that, in addition to support from the young, minority and women voters, she has widespread electoral appeal as well. Your ticket needs the mind of innovative step a woman vice presidential candidate would be."

Mrs. Farenthold came in second in voting to select McGovern's running mate at the Democratic National Convention in Miami.

A Texas state representative, she ran in the Democratic gubernatorial primary but was beaten by Dolph Briscoe.

Houston Suit Is Suspended

HOUSTON (AP) — A suit by seven Harris County residents to stop the city of Baytown from building a garbage dump near their home was settled Wednesday with a temporary agreement.

The city agreed to stop development work at the site until another suit filed by the seven could be heard in Austin.

The seven residents are suing the State Department of Health seeking to rescind the permit the department gave Baytown for the sanitary landfill operation.

They claimed the city annexed the site for the operation in order to keep from complying with Harris County rules governing landfills.

Wednesday during a hearing on a suit filed by the seven in Harris County seeking to stop the city from improving the area pending a resolutin of the Austin suit, attorneys for both sides made a call to Austin and arranged for that trial to be moved up to Aug. 23.

It was then decided to suspend the Houston suit.

Blacks comprise 4.2 per cent of West Virginia's population, census figures show.

Juarez To Replace Popeye

CRYSTAL CITY, Tex. (AP) —A statue of Popeye the Sailor may be replaced here by a gift from Mexico's President—a bust of Mexican national hero Benito Juarez.

A large, multi-color likeness of the spinach-eating comic strip character now stands in front of City Hall in this Southwest Texas town, which is dubbed the "Spinach Capital of the World."

City Manager Francisco Rodriguez said Wednesday that "Popeye" may be moved to a planned children's park, "where it belongs."

Site of the Juarez bust is yet to be determined, but it may be located near where "Popeye" now stands, he said.

Rodriguez said the city received the larger-than-life bust of Juarez on Tuesday as a result of a meeting in San Antonio with Mexico's President Luis Echeverria.

Rodriguez and other Crystal City officials, all members of Raza Unida, the Mexican-American party that virtually controls politics here, met with Echeverria on June 19. The President pledged at the time to send a Juarez bust to this predominantly Mexican-American town, Rodriguez said.

Also as a result of that meeting, Echeverria recently sent his rural director of industry to Crystal City for talks with Raza Unida officials on ways to stimulate the economy here.

The President met with the Crystal City delegation while in San Antonio to dedicate a New Mexican Cultural Institute where a bust of Juarez also is prominently displayed.

Rodriguez said Mexican dignitaries are expected to attend ceremonies to formally unveil the bust. A date has not yet been set.

He said he realized that if "Popeye" is moved, it probably will "create a ruckus" among some people here. But he said the Juarez statue is "a little more dignified."

Parade To Kick Off Pea Jamboree

ATHENS, Tex. (AP) — The Second Annual Black-eyed Pea Jamboree — a three-day celebration with ham hock dinners and hillbilly bands—will kick off at 6 p.m. Friday with an "All-Star Pea Parade."

Jack Steed, chairman of the Henderson County event, said participants in the Black-Eyed Pea Cookoff, judges and regional musical groups will participate in the opening festivity at what Athens calls "The Black-Eyed Pea Capital of the World."

Steed said some 200 contestants will compete for $2,000 in cash in three categories of "Reci-peas."

The categories include the black-eyed pea as an appetizer, a vegetable and a salad.

Last year's grand prize winner, Mrs. Anita Ship of Quinlan, Tex., is expected to defend her title.

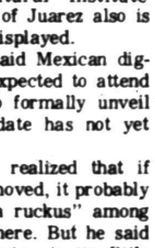

Following the parade and preliminary judging Friday, there will be an all night Gospel Singing Festival at the Athens High School athletic field. The Blackwood Brothers will be headliners for the event along with The Four Gallieans, Rosie Rozell and The Searchers.

Saturday a panel of judges will select the winners from the top finalists. The finalists also will prepare their recipes in larger quantities for the public taste-in at 12:30 p.m.

Saturday evening, the public is invited for an old-fashioned dinner of ham hock and peas in the Henderson County Parking lot.

Steed said that the black-eyed pea jamboree will also include an art show, carnival rides and a watermelon-eating contest.

Reunion Slated By 'Hump' Pilots Assn.

The 27th annual reunion of the China-Burma-India Hump Pilots Association will be held Aug. 17-20 at the Riviera Hotel and Country Club in Palm Springs, Calif., J.A. Thompson, 2908 Thirty-third Street, has announced.

Thompson and Bill Atwood, 3100 El Paso, both pilots in World War II, flew C-87s and C-46s in the China-Burma-India theater and both are planning to attend the reunion, along with hundreds of other pilots from all over the United States.

Dr. William Jackson, President of the Association, stated that he expects between three and four hundred to attend the reunion. Ted McKinney and Cliff Henderson, Co-Chairman of the reunion indicated that General Barry Goldwater would be the principal speaker.

He also expects Ambassador William Pawley, General Harold George, General Bill Tunner, General C.R. Smith, General Dan Callahan, General James Ferguson, General Don Flickinger, Grover Loening, Robert Prescott and many other distinguished guests and members to attend the reunion which will be honoring the 25th Anniversary of the United States Air Force.

Herb Fisher, Chairman of the Board of the Association, stated that it is an organization of dedicated pilots who flew one of the largest logistic operations in World War II, operating 24 hours a day with practically no navigational aids. From bases in India, they flew thousands and thousands of tons of supplies, passengers and a score of other vital necessities to American and Nationalist Chinese forces in Burma and China. Their operational routes of up to a thousand miles took them over the highest mountains in the world, the Himalayan range, where the worst weather in the world exists almost daily, including violent thunderstorms, icing, monsoons and hurricane-type winds.

Sisters Take Top Honors

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Two sisters walked away with the top honors for the first time in the 10-year history of the Texas 4-H Horse Show.

They are Ginger and Mona Henderson of Floyd County.

Giner was named the champion horseman by virtue of capturing the most points in the overall competition. Her sister, Mona, was named the reserve champion horseman.

Both were awarded custom made saddles.

The 10th annual state show was held recently in the Joe Freeman Coliseum here.

Midland County continued its domination of the drill team competition by capturing first place for the fourth consecutive year.

And, for the third year in a row, Tori Roach of Young County showed the grand champion gelding.

The United States produces between 50,000 and 80,000 tons of unshelled almonds annually.

Scholarship Gift Made To College

Among the more recent scholarship contributions to Western Texas College is a $1,000 gift by Mrs. Joe (Nancy) Caton, it has been announced by Dr. Ben Brock, dean of the college.

Mrs. Caton's scholarship will be used to assist four deserving students by the WTC scholarship committee. Numerous individuals and organizations have contributed scholarships for students' tuition, books, and fees since the opening of the college last year.

Mrs. Caton, well-known Snyder citizen, showed an early interest in education of youth. Upon moving to Snyder with her parents in 1900, she taught her brother and sister and neighborhood children.

Dr. Brock pointed out that scholarships are still needed to meet the needs of WTC students for the 1972-73 school year.

Briscoe, Orr Pick Bentsen

DALLAS (AP) — U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas is the choice of Democratic gubernatorial nominee Dolph Briscoe and State Democratic Party Chairman Roy Orr as Sen. Thomas Eagleton's replacement on the national ticket.

"I think it would be very wise of Sen. (George) McGovern to give serious consideration to Sen. Bentsen," Briscoe announced at a special press conference.

"It would certainly be more in the interest of Texans to have Lloyd Bentsen to vote for than some fellow from Maine or somewhere," Orr added.

The two state party leaders met here Wednesday to consider calling together the 130 Texas delegates to the national convention to fill three of the six places alloted to Texas on the national committee, which will formally select the party's new vice-presidential nominee.

Briscoe said the special meeting would be necessary since the national committee gave approval Wednesday afternoon for the existing three delegates to vote proportionately to reflect the entire six-member delegation.

Of the four Texans currently on the national committee, Jess Hay of Dallas has one vote, Mrs. Jane Blumberg of Seguin has one vote, while Orr shares a vote with Mrs. Ralph O'Connor.

The Democrats expanded the size of their national committee at the recent national convention in Miami, giving the state six delegates. The Texas delegation had planned to fill the vacancies at its Sept. 19 state convention.

"I have been notified by the national committee that they will meet sometimes next week. I was most anxious to check their rules and regulations for our delegates because I wanted to insure Texas will be represented in full strength," Briscoe said.

Orr, in announcing that Bentsen is his and Briscoe's choice, said he felt Texans should attempt to influence McGovern to "balance the ticket" by selecting someone of more moderate views than Eagleton.

Houston Schools Give Pay Raise

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston School District will give each administrator a $350 yearly raise and a $310 raise to teachers in the next school year, a $140.8 million budget presented at a public hearing Wednesday night revealed.

Mrs. Norma Kacen, executive director of the Houston Teachers Association, said the district needs to pay more for teachers.

She said average family income in Houston is among the highest in the nation while the average teacher's salary is among the lowest.

A beginning teacher with a bachelor's degree now receives $7,100 a year with the maximum increasing to $10,200 in $310 a year increments.

Solar Flares Observed

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — A series of major solar flares lasting over four hours were observed Wednesday by scientists here at the Space Environment Laboratory of the government's National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration headquarters.

The flares started at 2:50 p.m. EDT and were expected to disrupt radio communications in the earth's polar regions and cause a major magnetic storm in the earth's vicinity starting early Thursday. The storm should produce auroras, brilliant streamers of colored lights in the sky, visible over the southern United States Thursday and Friday night, said Robert Doeker, chief of the forecast center.

Doeker said the flares were among the largest of the current 11-year solar cycle, which began in 1964.

The magnetic storm caused by the flares is expected to last about two days, Doeker added.

ILLEGAL OR LEGAL?

It has been indicated by the 'dry' forces that there is no difference between a legitimate business man engaged in the sale of alcoholic beverages and a 'bootlegger'. Let's look at it more closely.

The package store owner sells his product only to consenting adults during hours and under conditions rigidly controlled by the State! Violation brings loss of his license. He pays license fees, State, County and City taxes. He possibly pays corporate taxes, and he collects sales taxes. He invests in the community, provides payrolls, often participates in service clubs and community activities. He is currently being pictured as a home wrecker, a vulture preying on innocent children, a murderer on the streets, and a dope peddler.

The bootlegger on the other hand, sells to any child or drunk under any condition at any time. He has no license, pays no County or City taxes to speak of, pays no income tax, collects nothing for the State. He invests only in himself, provides only degradation, and participates only in breaking the law. He is currently being ignored by the 'drys' and is passed off as a necessary evil.

He operates open dives with neon signs where anyone may come in and drink, runs crooked dice and poker games to further fleece the unwary or unstable and delivers to those unable to come get it.

To the under-privileged children in his community he offers no example that success in life is the result of honest endeavor, only the way to money is thru flagrant violation of the law, and that it's easier to collect welfare than to sweat.

The 'drys' bemoan the greed of the liquor industry for profits at the expense of human misery, but say nothing about the bootlegger who sells any teenager for $1.25 the same quart of beer any adult could buy in a package store for $.50.

The bootlegger takes his illicit profits and buys big cars, fine homes, and diamonds for his fingers, shirt and teeth. These are desirable things perhaps, but they should be the result of honest work.

Of course, the bootlegger's life is not always roses, for he faces the laws against illegal transportation and sales. Our law enforcement officers frequently apprehend the bootlegger, and according to practice the charges are allowed to accumulate for a year or two. He then goes to trial, cops a plea, and takes a sixty day vacation on the county while his partner, wife or brother conduct business at the same old stand. He is usually a trustee, and often cooks for the other inmates. If he gets sick, the county pays his hospital bills.

The 'Drys' have a radio commercial that states in effect that to vote wet is to put your stamp of approval on drugs for our children. Are 'pot' 'speed' and 'horse' sold in well lit stores with glass fronts, or do they come from dim and dingy dives and un-lit street corners. We all know the answer.

If any of you doubt the truth of these statements, ask any teenager. Of course, he's never bought anything at any of the many places in town, but he'll know a lot of his acquaintances who have. Better still, ask any law enforcement officer.

VOTE FOR LAW, PROGRESS & GROWTH--VOTE WET!
