Bonds Set at $115,000 on Assault Charges

A Wellington man, Carroll Wayne Watts, is being held in county jail on bonds totaling $115,000, Sheriff John Rainey has reported.

Warrants were issued by the sheriff's department against Watts on two counts of aggravated assault with a deadly weapon, aggravated assault with a motor vehicle and destruction of private property.

He was arraigned before Mrs. Beatrice McKinney, Justice of the Peace, late last week and bonds were set.

The charges against Watts grew out of a series of incidents, which included firing a 12 gauge shot gun into the Jack Anthony home about 7:00 p.m. Thursday and a threat to Dickie Judd at the Judd home about three hours later, Sheriff Rainey said.

Also at the Judd home, Sheriff Rainey said Watts attempted to leave in his pickup and rammed the sheriff's car, and almost hit Deputy Steve Vines.

Officers shot out three tires on the pickup and the driver was arrested a few minutes later on 15th Street.

An investigation is continuing to determine the cause of the incidents.

Services for Doyle Stallings To Be Thursday

Doyle Stallings, 60, died at 2:55 p.m. Tuesday, June 7, at his home, 100 Bowie Street, after a long illness.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:00 p.m. Thursday, June 9, in Faith Baptist Church. Officiating will be the Rev. A.R. Vaughan of the Assembly of God and Tom Anderson, minister of the Church of Christ. Burial will be in Memorial Gardens under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Mr. Stallings was born at Dublin July 5, 1916, and grew up there. He lived at Sherman and Van Alstyne, and at Roswell, N.M. three years and in Amarillo a number of years before coming here in 1966.

A disabled veteran, he served in the Army in World War II. He belonged to Faith Baptist Church, and the American Legion.

In 1958, he was married to Mrs. Treva Omev in Amarillo. Survivors are his wife; two sons, Kenneth M. Stallings, of Hollis and Williams Eugene

Quail School Seeks Federal Funding

The Quail School Board has made application for federal funding which, if approved, will enable the district to rebuild its school plant without calling a bond election, Wilford Arthur, superintendent, told the Wellington Leader Tuesday, June 7.

Any funds received from this source will be in addition to $153,000 in insurance the board carried on the school, which was completely demolished in a tornado that dipped down Monday afternoon, May 16.

Mr. Arthur did not reveal the amount of funding which the board is asking.

The application for emergency funding was made to the Texas Education Agency, which will forward it to the Governor's office. From that point, it will go to the appropriate federal agency.

Mr. Arthur said that if the full amount of the application is approved, it will enable the district to build a plant comparable to that which was destroyed.

To this point, the board has concerned itself with getting the school campus cleaned up. It will now take up plans to house the students for the opening of school.

"We are definitely going to have school at Quail next year," he declared.

"Ninty percent of your people want a school and when that number of people want a school, they are entitled to have one."

Portable buildings such as those brought into areas devastated by tornadoes or hurricanes will be considered, the superintendent said. Churches and other available buildings will also be considered.

Wheat Yields Exceed Early Forecast as Harvest Opens

Collingsworth County's wheat harvest is "getting started real good" at midweek, and cutting at this point indicates the crop will be far beyond any expectations before spring rains began. Yields of over 30 bushels per acre are being reported.

The first wheat reported in the county was delivered to Farmers Co-op society elevator at Dodson Wednesday, June 1, by Jack Davis.

For the first few days of harvest, most wheat delivered to all elevators were short loads, several managers have reported.

John Barton, manager of the Dodson elevator, estimated the crop as a whole is probably thirty percent out, although few growers have completely finished. The Dodson area is the first to finish harvest each year.

Most growers are having to cut around water still standing in fields, Mr. Barton said.

The Dodson elevator is already trucking wheat to Fort Worth, and the storage situation is fair right now, he added. "I look for us to fill up pretty quick," he added.

The quality of this year's crop is average, said Glenn Warrick of Warrick's Inc. Although there a lot of reports of over 30 bushels dry land wheat, not enough growers have finished cutting in the Wellington area to determine the yield.

"We have away above average yields," Mr. Warrick pointed out, noting that there was little hope for a wheat crop before the spring rain.

The harvest north of Salt Fork is just getting started. "There is no problems on storage availability yet. We could use some more combines in the area. It's nothing serious and more will show up this week end," he said.

Jones Singley of Singley Mill and Elevator said his customers, most of whom have just started cutting, believe they will make from 20 to 30 bushels per acre.

He believes there will be plenty of combines in a few days.

"They're getting caught up south of here and are beginning to come in," Mr. Singley said. "Storage remains to be seen. I think we can store this crop all right." Before the rain started, he reminded, there were "no prospects at all."

The market at both elevators in Wellington Tuesday was $1.88. The Dodson market was $1.83, but Mr. Barton pointed out that the Co-op paid a 7½ cent per bushel rebate last year on which his customers figure their rebate in the price they get.

The difference in the market, it was explained, is because Wellington elevators are on the railroad, Dodson wheat must be trucked out.

City Council Approves $129,923 Combined Law Enforcement Tab

The City Council, in its meeting Monday night, June 6, approved the proposed Consolidated Law Enforcement Agency budget, for a 14-months period beginning August 1.

The total budget is $19,923, for both the city and council.

Sheriff John Rainey and Deputy J.R. Nelson met with the council to explain amendments in the budget.

The Criminal Justice Council has approved funding of $26,088, upon application by the sheriff's department.

This is an emergency measure, and was made to the county on the basis of expenses it is being out to repair severely damaged roads, Sheriff Rainey explained.

Original CJC funding of the two-year program is due to expire July 31.

The budget as approved by the council provides that the city will pay into the budget $51,969 and the county will pay $51,866.

Fines collected by the sheriff's department are shared by the county and city on a 60-40 basis and are deducted from the part each will pay for law enforcement.

Fines for the 14-months period are estimated at about $31,000.

Deputy Nelson explained to the council that budgeting the law enforcement program for 14 months will then place it on a fiscal basis with the remainder of the county operations.

Sheriff Rainey asked for the CJC emergency funding after the Commissioners Court determined that repairs to roads and bridges damaged by washing rains this spring will amount to an estimated $45,000, which was completely unforeseen and places a financial burden on the county.

Approval of the law enforcement program was given by the Commissioners Court in called meeting in late May, but implementation of the budget depended on joint approval by the city.

The Rev. J.R. Harrison, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, met with the council to protest the beer cans and whiskey bottles that are found on the steps and grounds of his church after dances held in the community building.

He asked that law enforcement officers patrol the area more closely at those times.

School Board Studies Plans

Wellington School Board met with architect Tom Brown and representatives of Speed Fab-Crete of Ft. Worth Monday, June 6, but held up on signing a contract with the general contractor until changes being considered in the building plan are spelled out in detail by the architect.

Speed Fab-Crete was the low bidder when bids were opened last month on construction of new elementary building, and enlarging the field house at Powell Field.

The board will meet again next Monday night with Brown to review the plans again.

The board was notified that $54,000 in bond money has been received and $500,000 of that sum has been put into certificates of deposit locally to draw interest until the funds are needed for construction payments.

In other action, the board hired Mrs. Barbara Reynolds and Mrs. Betty Campbell as cafeteria cooks for the next school year, and again hired Brandom, Wells & Goudy of Shamrock as school auditors.

Dozier Man Dies in One-Car Accident

A 46-year-old Dozier man was killed early Monday, June 6, when his car went off the side of FM Road 1056, hit an embankment and overturned.

Jack Henry, who had lived in the community about a year, had been dead 6 to 7 hours when his body was found by a motorist, Sheriff John Rainey said. He apparently died instantly.

Mrs. Beatrice McKinney, justice of the peace, returned a ruling of accidental death.

The accident occurred about one-half mile north of the Salt Fork River Bridge, and approximately 10 miles north of Quail.

The family came to Dozier from Flagstaff, Arizona, and both the Sheriff's department and Kelso Funeral Home were told that Mr. Henry, a construction worker, was recuperating from injuries received before coming here.

The family also told Jimmy Kelso they were visiting relatives in Mangum, Oklahoma, Sunday in two cars. Mrs. Henry and the children returned home in one, and Mr. Henry, alone in the other car, left Mangum about 11:00 p.m.

The family lives three and one-half miles, west of Dozier.

Mr. Henry was born July 18, 1930, in Knobel, Ark. He had served in the armed forces and was a Baptist. He married Helen Tallman August 3, 1959, in Albuquerque, N.M.

His body was taken to Greer Funeral Home at Mangum Monday evening, and funeral services were scheduled for Wednesday. Kelso Funeral Home was in charge of local arrangements.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Helen Henry of Dozier, three sons and three daughters, Bryan, David, James Jacqueline, Jo Ann and Barbara Jean, all of Dozier; his mother, Mrs. Darlene Phillips of Mangum; and a sister, Mrs. Ann Stover of Mangum.

Investigating the accident were DPS Trooper L.B. Snider of Shamrock; Sheriff Rainey, Deputies Julian Torrez and Richard Keller, and Deputy Kenneth Martindale of Samnorwood, who was the first to be notified of the accident.

Three-Day Slow Pitch Tournament Opens Friday

Wellington Slow Pitch Softball League will host its 1977 tournament Friday through Sunday, June 10, 11 and 12, with 16 teams participating.

Play will start at 7:30 p.m. Friday and continue until 12:30 a.m. Games will be under way all day Saturday, from 9:00 a.m. until 1:00 a.m. the next morning.

Sunday games will start at 8:00 a.m. and run continuously until the championship is decided. The final game will probably start about 4:00 p.m. says Tony Stephens, Wellington league president.

Enthusiasm is just as high as at any time since slow pitch ball came to Wellington, Stephens declared.

Capacity crowds are expected for all three days.

Entries were limited to 16 this year, and eight of these will come from the Wellington League: National Guard, Langford's, Arnett, Hollis, Martin Seed, Owens Supply, Motes Garage and Davis Thriftway.

Coming from out of town will be Burlington Northern of Pampa, Hadson's of Pampa, Clarendon team, one Amarillo team, H. Barret Ford, Mr. Burger, Hardin and Roth, and Childress Dozier.

Handsome trophies will be awarded to the champions, second, third and consolation winners, and these will be presented at the end of the tournament Sunday.

"The Amarillo Umpire's Association has confirmed that they will furnish umpires for the tournament," said Stephens. These are professional, sanctioned umpires and are ASA approved. Some teams cannot play in a tournament that doesn't use these umpires, or they will be disqualified from advancing to regional and even national tournament," Stephens explained.

"Slow pitch softball is a nationwide and even worldwide sport involving a tremendous number of people and is, in fact, the fastest growing in popularity in the area," Stephens continued.

Attendance at first-half games has been excellent, he pointed out, and fans are especially urged to come out and see the tournament. "It's one of the few things in life that's still free," he said.

Teams are to be available for tournament play one hour before game time.

The rule game will be in effect: 20 after three, 15 after four and 12 after 5.

Ex-Student Reunion Plans Made; Date Chosen for 1978 Meeting

July 22, 1978, was set as the date of next year's Wellington Ex-Students reunion by directors in a meeting Tuesday night, May 30.

In the same meeting, more plans were made for the 1977 event, on Saturday, August 13.

The July date is experimental, explained Mrs. Calvin Mitchell (Patsy Harper) president.

"We have had letters from ex-students who are teachers telling us that by the time of the August reunions, they have already begun in-service training or are ready to start, and this prevents their making the trip to Wellington. We want to see how the July date will be for the majority of ex-students," she said.

The 1977 reunion will be much as in the past, with all events taking place in Bura Handley Community Center, Mrs. Mitchell said. Registration will begin at 10:00 a.m. and continue through the day. The entire time will be given over to visiting.

The ex-students dinner will be at 7:00 p.m. and the dance, the final event, will start at 9:00.

Six class reunions are scheduled at this time.

The 1927 class will hold a brunch at 10:00 a.m. to observe the 50th anniversary of its graduation in the Heritage Room. Mrs. Bob Hightower (Lera Mae McQueen) is in charge of plans.

The traditional luncheon of the 1928-29 classes will be at Carroll's. Mrs. Donald Curry (Thelma Masten) is the person to contact.

1937 Ex-Students will have an all-day, come-and-go reunion in the community center. "We can get together as a group and we will also have the opportunity to visit with the other ex-students," said Mrs. Keith Smith (Dora D. McClaskey) pointed out. She is arrangements chairman.

The class of 1946, which had its 30-year reunion last year, is going to hold another reunion this year. Plans are being made, and Mrs. John Wolf (Bethine Adkins) is the ex-student to contact.

Plans for the 1952 class reunion are incomplete, as much of the work is being done by mail. The Rev. Donald Schoff of Westminster Calif., is coordinating plans as the class observes the 25th anniversary of its graduation.

The class of 1967 will meet Friday evening, for a cookout at Pioneer Park. Mrs. Andy Bell (Bunny Sherman), Mrs. Bob Bell (Sharon Daves) of Amarillo and Henry Wells are in charge of arrangements. Reunion chairmen were named Tuesday night also.

Mrs. Smith will be in charge of registration, and pre-registration will be handled by Mrs. Billy Wilkerson (Jackie Barton) and Mrs. Leon (Vickie) Parker.

Dr. W.P. (Bill) Estes will be in charge of refreshments and Mrs. Nita Hughey White and Mrs. Bill Anders (Cheryl Wilson) are door prize chairmen.

Boys Scouts of Troop 232 will put up the Welcome to Wellington banners.

Long before the reunion, however, members of the Senior Citizens group of Retired Senior Volunteer Program will assist in sending out the reunion notices.

Present at the directors meeting were Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Bill Wilson (Jolene Groves), Louis Graham, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Quinton Brewer (Yvonne Shields), Mrs. Paul Hanna (Renee Mitchell), Mrs. Anders, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Redgie Souder (Diane Brooks) Mrs. White and Dr. Estes.

Salt Fork Soil Conservation District News

Bermuda grass sprigging: The Salt Fork SWCD has acquired a two-row bermudagrass sprigging machine. It will be available for rental by local farmers and ranchers who desire to do their own sprigging.

Tommy Powell, District Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service in Wellington says, "Local people have had a difficult time getting bermudagrass planted in recent years, especially on small acreages such as waterways. The District hopes that some farmers will now be able to do these small jobs themselves by using this machine."

Persons using this machine will still need to obtain their own springs.

To make arrangements to use this machine, contact Rodney Myrick, high school vocational agriculture teacher in Wellington.

Terrace Maintenance: Among the many weather-related problems of local farmers this spring has been damage to terrace systems resulting from heavy May rains.

Tommy Powell, District Conservationist with The Soil Conservation Service in Wellington states, "Even new or properly maintained terrace systems are limited to the amount of rain they can handle. We lost some good terrace systems in May simply because the soil was already full wet and there was no place for the next several inches of rain to go except over terraces and blocks. Some terraces failed however, because they had not been properly maintained during the last few years."

Off-season terrace maintenance is doubly important. For one thing, West Texas droughts are almost always followed by unusually heavy storm periods that require terraces to be in good shape to withstand such storms. The other important factor is an administrative one. Terraces that have not been properly maintained over the year are not eligible for reconstruction cost-sharing funds under emergency conservation programs.

The key role played by Saudi Arabia in world oil supplies was driven home last week by another energy forecast predicting a global oil shortage by mid-1980s. The report was sponsored by an international group and prepared by Massachusetts Institute of Technology. It took two years to prepare and the report concludes that a political or economic decision by the Saudis to limit their oil production could result in a shortfall in world supplies as early as 1984.

President Carter released the details of a similarly pessimistic global energy study last week. It was prepared by the Central Intelligence Agency and concluded that although Saudi Arabia has the reserve potential to meet increased demand, it was doubtful that they would be able or willing to do so. And two years ago a noted oil economist, Walter J. Levy, predicted that a Saudi-related shortage could come as early as mid-1977. He has retracted that prediction but still maintains that the underlying conditions will recur in the 1980s. The Saudis have said they will not increase production indefinitely simply to meet world demand.

The MIT report is more optimistic than the CIA report. It says that in the absence of any decision to limit oil production on the sparsely populated and largely undeveloped Arabian peninsula, world production will peak after 1985. The CIA says that production will probably peak before 1985.

However, The MIT reports point out that a Saudi production limit is far more critical than most people realize. If the Saudis refuse to produce more than 13 million barrels of oil daily, a shortage will begin in 1984. Even if the Saudis agreed to produce 25 million barrels a day, says the MIT report, demand will exceed supply by 1990. And with all-out production of 36 million barrels a day, total demand will remain unsatisfied in 1998.

These gloomy predictions also assume that the oil-consuming nations will take extensive steps to switch to coal and nuclear fuel. Is the situation hopeless? Not necessarily. It's a challenge while there is still time. The catch is that the energy problem becomes critical even before it appears serious.

Anyone 9 years of age and up, including adults, may enroll, he explained.

There will be four classes each day, and the divisions will be made after Templeton is able to determine the ages and experience of those wanting to enroll. There is no limit on the size of the classes.

Each session will be an hour and a half in length.

The fee for the one-weeks clinic will be $20 and Templeton said that any classes missed due to rain will be made up on Saturday. He will furnish the balls, but players are to have their own rackets.

All classes will be on Ellison Park courts. Templeton had advanced to regional UIL competition three years, then this spring, he went to the state finals before he lost a game. This was his last year of competition on the high school level, as he was graduated from Wellington High School May 27.

He was invited to serve as a counselor at the West Texas State University Tennis Camp. He had attended previously as a camper.

Templeton has been in tournament play five years, and this year's tournaments will include Perryton, Lakeview, Valley and Canyon.

Martin Seed Takes Slow Pitch First Half with 6-1 Record

As the first half of play ended in the Wellington Slow Pitch Softball League, Martin Seed held the lead with six wins and only one loss, Tony Stephens, president, announced.

Mote's Garage and Langford Conoco were tied for second with a 5 and 2 record.

This division of play was completed Friday, June 3, with a double header. Martin Seed defeated Owens Supply 17-5 in the first game while Langford Conoco won over Arnet 18-14.

Martin Seed, lost only to Arnett, 21-18 in this half while Motes lost to Martin Seed and Memphis. Langfords also lost to Martin Seed and to Motes.

Davis Thriftway with a 3-3 record, lost to Motes, Langfords and to the National Guard on a forfeit. This team has not yet played Hollis.

Hollis, also with a 3-3 record, lost to Martins and Langfords, forfeited to Mote's and hasn't played Memphis this season.

Owens Supply and National Guard, stand at 2-5. Owens defeated National Guard and Arnett, while the Guard beat Arnett and won from Memphis on a forfeit.

The standings of Arnett and Memphis were not available.

"The Martin Seed team is to be commended for their sportsmanship and fine effort put forth the first half," said Stephens. "They have a fine, well balanced team coached by David Caison and sponsored by Wayne Martin, owner of Martin Seed."

"All the teams in the league have progressed real well and are settling down to some good, competitive ball playing," Stephens told The Wellington Leader. "There is no domination of the league by any one team."

"There were several hard-fought, close games that could have gone either way during the first half of league play," he continued.

Martin Seed defeated Langford's by an inside-the-park home run by Cary Don Neeley in the bottom of the last inning with the score tied and two outs. The score wound up 8-7. Stephens cited some other instances of closeness.

Martin Seed took a 14-13 win over Motes. Hollis defeated Owens 5-3 and the National Guard won a game 14-13. Langford Conoco defeated Memphis with a score of 8-7, when in the bottom of the last inning, with the score tied Langford's had two outs and the bases loaded.

Motes beat Owens 13-12, then Owens defeated National Guard 12-11.

"Any one of these games, or all of them, could have very easily been turned around and the outcome completely different," Stephens pointed out.

The second half of league play is far from being a "sure thing," the president pointed out.

"Any team entered in the league is capable of winning it," he continued.

If Martin Seed wins the second half, they will be the undisputed league champion. Should one of the other teams, win, a play-off will be set up to determine the champion, in a best two out of three series.

The winner will receive a big trophy for their sponsor plus individual trophies for each player on the team's roster at the beginning of the season.

Reading Club Draws 100,000 Young Texans

Young readers at Collingsworth County Library will be among more than 100,000 young Texans who will be taking a "Jungle Journey" this summer as participants in the Summer Reading Club. Sponsored jointly by the local library and the Texas State Library, the Reading Club encourages readers to use the recreational and informational materials they can find at their local library.

Posters, reading logs, and bookmarks this year feature jungle animals. Each participant will receive a reading log on which to record what he or she has read. In addition to the list of books each reader compiles, the log includes a pair of word puzzles and a maze.

Summer is always the busiest time of the year for children's collections in public libraries. Whether summer reading is entirely for entertainment or is also for information, it's different from the required reading that students must do during the school year. At the same time, however, it builds valuable reading skills.

During the summer many libraries will also be planning special activities, including films, puppet shows, and other programs.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Geissler, Kyle and Karry of Newalls, Oklahoma visited with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tramel, Tim and Tony this weekend.

New Book Tells of Pioneer Texas Women

Collingsworth County Library has received a gift from the Alice G.K. Kleberg Fund of Kingsville, a copy of the book, "The Golden Free Land, The Reminiscences and Letters of Women on an American Frontier," by Crystal Sasse Ragsdale.

The book was published by Landmark Press at Austin.

It is a collection of rare personal narratives and letters as related by ten pioneer women who lived in and conquered the rugged Texas frontier from 1832 to 1888. It is true history at its best. Well worth the $10 price of the book (there is 50 cents tax) are the full references at each chapter end which contain notes relating to hundreds of early Texas families. The bibliography is extensive.

Endpapers of this 200 page book bear an original drawing of one of the first libraries in Texas, located at Sisterdale.

There are rare maps by Charles Pressler and Hermann Willke, early Texas mapmakers.

Mrs. Ragsdale spent 10 years locating, researching and editing these true first-person stories of the Texas Frontier.

A noted state historian, the author lives in Austin. She was editorial associate of The Handbook of Texas, Vol. III, which was published by the Texas State Historical Association only a few months ago; she was author-historian for the University of Texas at Austin Archeological Survey Report: "The Biegel Settlement" in Fayette County, also published in Austin during 1976.

Crystal Sasse Ragsdale received her graduate degree in history from Sul Ross University, Alpine, and has done post graduate work at the University of Texas, Austin. She has taught in Texas public schools and was research historian for the Institute of Texan Cultures, Hemisfair, 1968.

Mrs. Ragsdale is a member of the board of the O. Henry Museum, Austin, and a docent for the University of Texas at Austin Art Museum's Education Program.

Witnesses to Meet in OC

Jehovah's Witnesses will convene this summer in 63 cities of the U.S. with 108 total convention, according to Paul Trcka, spokesman for the Shamrock group.

Thirty delegates from Wellington and the area will attend the four-day assembly to be held in Oklahoma City Thursday through Sunday, July 14-17.

Mr. Trcka said that 2,333,115 persons attended the conventions in 1976, held in 56 countries. A greater number of assemblies are scheduled this year, making it convenient for more people to attend, he continued.

"The program is divided into four sections," he explained, including information on training children, responsibility of youth in today's world, making a success of marriage and the problems affecting family life."

Youth Breaks Foot in Accident

Ronnie Mote, 7-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Mote, received a broken right foot recently.

The youth was helping his father unload pipe from a pickup when one joint fell on his foot.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hartman of Plainview were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hartman, last weekend.

DEPUTY JIM HART, BONNIE AND BULLET

Hart Trains "Canine Deputies"

Their trainer since they arrived is Potter County Deputy Jim Hart, husband of a former Wellington girl, Landi White.

Every evening and night, Deputy Hart, on his own time, has worked with Bonnie and Bullet, teaching them to follow a moving scent. First they learned to pick up a trail leaving an area, then follow it. They moved on to being able to follow successfully trails of fellow deputies in different areas of Potter county.

The hounds, acquired as an added security force for Potter County from the Harris County Canine Corps, Houston, are to be used in search for lost children or adults and escaped prisoners.

It has been pointed out that Deputy Hart, Bonnie and Bullet, are available to the Collingsworth County Sheriff's department should an emergency arise.

The trio have already made several trips out of Potter County, the most recent being to the Quitaque area where a sniper was being sought. A helicopter unit backs them up if needed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed White, the deputy's parents-in-law, have been told he is commended and respected by all his fellow workers as doing a "tremendous job with his responsibilities."

Recently he was promoted to sergeant, the youngest man in Potter County to hold this position. Hart is now in charge of the Potter County maximum security jail. Bonnie and Bullet are an added asset and responsibility for Hart.

O.V. Johnsons Visit in Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. O.V. Johnson and Dickie Johnson returned recently from a two week visit with their son, Mr. and Mrs. Jon Johnson, Beth and Amy, in Oxford, Mississippi.

While they were there the group went to Nashville, Tennessee and enjoyed Opryland U.S.A. Mr. Johnson was impressed that you could enjoy all types of music and still take advantage of the amusement rides. The Grand Ole Opry is also located on the grounds.

They toured the Shiloh Battle Grounds in southern Tennessee on their return trip. Jon Johnson is the choral director at the University of Mississippi.

Johnson, a University of Texas student, is spending the summer at home and will be working for the Texas Highway Department in the maintenance department. This past semester, he was on the Dean's List in the College of Engineering.

Hart has been employed with the Potter County Sheriff's Department a little over two years and has a Bachelor's degree in sociology from West Texas State University. He is currently enrolled at WTSU working toward his master's degree in criminal justice.

A letterman in football at Monterrey High School, Lubbock, Hart graduated with sports honors and later played football at WT. For the past three years he has played in the annual WT Varsity-Alumni football game.

Bonnie and Bullet now have two puppies, just a few months old, and Deputy Hart has already begun their training.

Trooper at DPS School

Trooper John James of the Texas Highway Patrol returned recently from a breathalyzer school conducted at the Department of Public Safety in Austin.

Man Recovering From Wound

Charles Drew, Jr., 22 year-old Dodson man, is recovering from gunshot wounds in the chest received about 1:00 a.m. Thursday, June 2, at his home.

Chief Deputy Richard Keller said the wound was self-inflicted from a .22 handgun and is being carried by the Sheriff's Department as accidental, although an investigation is continuing.

Keller said that in-so-far as officers can learn, Drew and a friend were "playing around" with the gun.

The man was picked up by Volunteer Ambulance Service and first brought to Collingsworth General Hospital, then transferred to Northwest Texas Hospital, Amarillo.

The Sheriff's Department was told Tuesday morning that Drew underwent surgery and was listed in stable condition, although there was possible injury to his spleen.

WIN CREDENTIALS

Mary Davidson Earns Child Development Certification

Mary Davidson, a former Dodson resident has earned a Child Development Associate credential. Mrs. Davidson, who teaches Head Start at Forest Hill School, was the first Amarillo recipient of this certification awarded by the Child Development Consortium in Washington, D.C.

Although relatively new to field of early childhood education, the C.D.A. credentialing is the result of intensive performance-based training. Mrs. Davidson has worked for six years in the Amarillo Public Schools, two years as Head Start instructor. Much in-service training is received by Head Start personnel that is vital to a C.D.A. candidate.

To earn the credential, a candidate must first have at least eight months experience in charge of a group of children ages three to five in a learning situation and also have a close working relationship with their parents.

Application for credentialing is sent to the consortium. Upon being accepted, she then starts to compile a comprehensive portfolio which documents competency in each of thirteen functional areas. This means reporting everything done in the classroom which stresses learning in these thirteen areas, making personal observations, providing photographs of these activities and supplying samples of children's work.

The portfolio is not the only requirement. Each candidate selects a parent-community representative who observes her in the classroom and makes a written detailed report of her observations.

She also contacts every parent having a child in the candidate's room and gets parent's responses to questions about the candidate and her relationship with the children.

A trainer is chosen. Her job is also to observe classroom techniques and document them, note professional growth, verify training and participate in the assessment process.

When all requirements have been met and the portfolio is complete, a notice of readiness is sent to the consortium. Within 2 weeks a representative telephones the candidate to set up a date for assessment.

The assessment begins with a classroom evaluation by the representative. This is done by observing the candidate in the classroom with her children as they go about their regular routine. An interview with the candidate follows. This provides an opportunity for the consortium representative to

The two families were neighbors in the McKnight community. Jerry, June and Billy Gerald Smith attended Quail School, and there were two younger children, Janice and Ronnie.

They told the Messers that Jerry is completing his 20th year in the U.S. Army; June is married, and has three children and a grandchild. She, Billy Gerald and Ronnie live in the Calamesa area, while Janice is married and lives in Ohio.

After a hail storm in 1951 that destroyed their crops, the Smiths returned to California, where they had lived previously.

Let Voters Control Primary

If the State Senate concurs, all Texans' votes for presidential nominees will count in 1980.

A new primary bill passed by the House opens the process far better than the law under which the state operated in 1976, and delegates to the national party conventions will be allocated on the percentage of popular vote candidates receive at the polls. If a candidate gets at least 12 percent of the statewide vote, he'll have delegates from Texas at the national convention.

Although the presidential primary process in 1976 was complicated and confusing, Texans' reaction indicated that direct vote for presidential nominees should become a permanent part of the state's electoral process. In the past, delegates had been allocated in convention.

The House bill would eliminate the winner-take-all feature of the 1976 law that allowed Jimmy Carter to get the lion's share of Texas' delegates to the Democratic convention, although he received only a plurality of the statewide vote.

The House bill creates a simple and democratic primary procedure. If the Senate will express similar faith in the voters, Texas should have a good presidential primary system in 1980. Dallas Morning News

Spanish Heritage of Ranching

Someone could write a book about the Spanish influence on the cattle business in the Southwest. The simple fact is that it was from the Spanish and their Mexican descendants, that we learned how to work cattle on horseback—which is the only way the cattle business could develop in the Southwest—and we still use the vocabulary that came with it.

Start with the cowboy's basic tools, saddle and rope. The lariat—the Spanish term is "la riata" which translates "the rope"—is tied to the saddle horn which rises out of the pommel of the saddle. "Pommel" is derived from "poma", the Spanish word for "apple" and referred originally to the round knob which has since turned into a saddle horn. In the brush country the cowboys wear chaps to protect his legs. The true name is chaparejos. He may ride with a bridle and bit or he may use a hackamore—corruption of another Spanish name. The noseband of the hackamore is a "bosel" and the long cord attached to it, usually called the "theodore", is a "teadora."

In a cow outfit—the working party which makes the roundups and does the branding and other work—the horse wrangler looks after the "remount". A cowboy may feed a favorite horse some grain from a nosebag, except that he will call it a "morale".

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Legislators barely got out of town before Gov. Dolph Briscoe served notice they will probably have to come back to work in mid-July.

A special session was virtually mandated by failure on closing night of the regular 140-day meeting to come to grips with the hot issued of school finance.

A $900 million "compromise" school bill, which included funds for teacher pay raises, never got a direct vote in either house.

Briscoe said he will call a special session next month if legislative leaders can show him evidence a majority of lawmakers are now ready to face up to education finance issues.

A medical malpractice bill squeezed through the session on closing night. Doctors didn't like it, but some spokesmen for Texas Medical Association conceded it was better than nothing.

In spite of failures, the legislature did manage to pass a sweeping variety of bills.

Among them:

The "Sunset Law" requiring state agencies to justify their existence periodically . . . Merger of three major state water agencies into a Department of Water Resources . . . A "natural death" act allowing terminally ill patients to specify that their lives are not to be prolonged by artificial methods . . . The $528 million emergency highway funding bill . . . Substitution of lethal drugs for the electric chair as the legal method of execution . . . Legalization of laetrile in cancer treatment . . . A no-pain speed bill banning insurance penalties for 55-70 miles an hour speeding violations.

The House bill creates a simple and democratic primary procedure. If the Senate will express similar faith in the voters, Texas should have a good presidential primary system in 1980.

Amendments on Ballot

Half a dozen proposed constitutional amendments will be on the ballot next November and nine more in 1978.

To be voted on this year are amendments to allow judges to deny bail to repeat felons, permit tax relief for historic buildings and sites, enlarge the Court of Criminal Appeals, permit use of electronic banking systems, expand Judicial Qualifications Commission powers and authorize another $200 million to finance low-interest veterans land loans.

Texas Court of Criminal Appeals up-held the death penalty assessed a Fort Worth man in the 1975 murder of a grocery clerk.

At the same time, a Corpus Christi man sentenced to life in prison for murder got a new trial because jurors were not informed on circumstantial evidence laws.

Fifty-one Attend Girl Scout Day Camp Activities at Pioneer Park

Anyone with a gallon metal can with a small fire under it can cook a tasty scrambled egg. And anyone with a stick and a piece of dough can make a fine doughboy...all the more scrumptious if the hole is filled with butter and honey.

These were some of the things Girls Scouts, Brownies and Papooses learned when they cooked their breakfast out of doors at day camp.

Breakfast was a one-time thing, but during the three days camp was in session, at Pioneer Park, the 51 girls held their flag ceremony daily, studied crafts, hiked, and made full use of the playground equipment.

They sang and had fun, and with proper respect, they retreated the flag as they prepared to return home each afternoon.

Mrs. Jerry Settle was day camp director.

Members of her staff included Mrs. David Caison, assistant director; Mrs. Jerry Nix, business manager; Mrs. Leon Hartman, first aid and flag ceremony chairman.

Unit leaders were Mrs. Leamon Bawcom and Mrs. George Barton, and assistant

One Tax-Exempt Sale Allowed Church Groups

AUSTIN--Comptroller Bob Bullock Wednesday reminded religious and other non-profit, tax-exempt organizations they now may hold one sale or auction a year in which they don't have to collect sales taxes.

The special one-a-year, tax-free sales were authorized by the Texas Legislature and apply to tax-exempt religious, educational, charitable and eleemosynary organizations.

The legislation had the support of the Comptroller's Office.

Bullock said the new law, which become effective May 24, allows only one tax-free sale or auction during a calendar year and limits it to one day only.

If two or more organizations jointly hold a tax-free sale or auction, neither may hold another during the calendar year, he said.

The bill allows the sponsoring organization to pay the auctioneer a "reasonable fee."

Bullock said the loss of revenue to the state and cities will be minimal.

"Many of these tax-exempt organizations depend heavily on annual sales or auctions to raise money for many worthwhile projects," Bullock noted.

"This will do away with a lot of the red tape, and allow them to put a little more of the money they collect to good use," he said.

Legion Post Gives Awards

The recipients were Allen Sanders of Wellington, Kathy Guthrie of Quail and Robert Cruz of Samnorwood.

Tessie Burba Easter Seal Service Head

Mrs. Tessie Burba has been appointed Easter Seal treatment and service chairman for Collingsworth County, according to Irving A. Baker of Dallas, president of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

Mrs. Burba can be contacted by a disabled person or a family member for the referral forms, which are available at the Collingsworth County Community Action. They are confidential, she pointed out. There are no fees for the services and those needing assistance are urged to apply.

Last year, the Society aided 10,768 Texans through an information, referral and follow-up program; physical, speech and hearing therapies; orthopedic equipment purchase and loan; and related aids. The 46-year-old non-profit health agency is active year-round in all 254 counties in Texas in attempting to reach all physically disabled Texans who need information and/or assistance. The Easter Seal program helps every disabled Texas child and adult have an equal opportunity at an independent and normal way of life.

The Texas Easter Seal Society helps support 11 treatment or rehabilitation centers which treat physically handicapped children and adults who cannot pay the costs of their disabilities and who are not eligible for help from any other source. The Society has provided care and treatment in the state since 1929 and is the oldest voluntary health agency serving physically disabled Texans. The program is supported by the traditional Spring Easter Seal Appeal and an annual Fall Membership drive.

Mrs. Ed White, teacher, and Mrs. Hubert Brooks, aide, for the Wellington Training and Satellite Center, were in Amarillo Monday, June 6, to attend a one-day meeting on behavior modification at the Amarillo State Center for Human Development.

Harry Ray of the center staff directed the meeting which is "module" one of the series to be held during the coming months.

Those attending were instructed in how to identify certain maladaptive behavior and the correct manner in which to deal with it.

The study covered identifying this behavior and then determining if it is destructive, possibly self-destructive. The teachers and aides were then shown ways to deal with it, and to teach the students to overcome this maladaptive behavior so they will better fit into the community.

This module was part of the continuing education required of satellite center teachers and aides set forth by Dr. Kenneth D. Gaver of Austin, state commissioner of Mental Health Mental Retardation, and required under standards set forth by the Joint Commission of Accreditation of Hospitals, Mrs. White said.

Darvin Nix, Eddy Trimble and Rodney Mize of the Astros hit home runs, as did Leroy Hudson, Charles Rayford and Joe Bill Munn for the Tigers.

Winning pitcher of record was Billy Chandler for the Astros while Michael Mackey took the loss for the Tigers.

In the second game of the twin bill, the Wellington State Cubs rolled over the City State Rangers to the tune of 15-3.

Round trippers were hit by Bill Reeves, Darren Hall and Lynn Bartlett of the Cubs, and Kirby Pennon of the Rangers.

Taking the win was Lynn Bartlett for the Cubs and the losing pitcher for the Rangers was Chad Holland.

MONDAY GAMES

On Monday, June 6, the same four teams met but with different results.

In the Astro-Tiger game, Joe Bill Munn and Timothy Barr led the Tigers to a 21-3 rout of the Astros, by making 5 home runs for the winning team. Mark Hunnicutt was credited with being the winning hurler.

In the second game, the Cubs beat the Rangers again this time 9-3, as Lynn Bartlett and Brad English belted homers and Darren Hall took the win.

At the end of the first two playing dates of the season, the Cub's record stand a 0-2 for the Rangers, 1-1 for the Astros, and Tigers and 2-0 for the Cubs.

Go out to the ball park and support your favorite Little League team, the sponsors urge.

YOU CAN BANK on it!

By BILLY MOSELEY President CITY STATE BANK

The question is often asked: How much should a family set aside for housing. Most experts agree that the average family should allocate about 25 per cent of their monthly income.

That means that a family with a gross monthly income of $800 should not be paying out more than $200 a month for mortgage payments, or rent, including all utility bills in the amount.

Oftentimes a young couple starting out in life let their emotions, rather than sound financial considerations, determine where and how they are going to live. The best way to plan is to make out a monthly budget: so much for shelter, clothing, food, car payments, savings and, of course, entertainment.

Virtually every working person in the country faces the possibility of being out of work at one time or another. That's why it is a good idea to build up at least three months living costs in a savings account to help smooth out any dislocations that might take place. It's really better to have a six month backlog in savings, because it is easier to place the money where it will draw the best interest rates.
