Senate Fight Shapes Up

McGrath Says Dixie Revolt Sure To Fail

No Compromise On Truman Program To Be Accepted

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 — Democratic Chairman J. Howard McGrath today hoisted the election returns as the administration's banner for a drive to push civil rights laws through Congress.

McGrath made it plain that so far as he is concerned there will be no compromise with the southern Democrats who opposed President Truman's election and have threatened to filibuster his anti-race discrimination program.

Without laying out any time table, the national chairman told a news conference yesterday he personally favors a change in the Senate debate rules to kill off filibusters.

Subject To Talkathon

Any such move itself would be subject to a talkathon by Dixie members. And McGrath wouldn't risk a guess whether the majority of Senate Democrats would support such a change.

Most Republicans, who will be in a 54 to 42 minority in the new Senate, are expected to back it.

How would McGrath convert the southerners from their traditional opposition to action on any civil rights bill? A reporter asked.

"We'll just show them the election returns," the national chairman replied with a grin.

Mr. Truman won November 2 despite the opposition of States' Rights advocates, who corralled 38 electoral votes. McGrath obviously thinks that should convince some southerners they were wrong in their position.

But McGrath indicated the administration isn't going to try to punish Mr. Truman's Dixie

Drifting Snow Blocks Roads, Halts Travel

Scores Of Towns In Plains States Reported Isolated

(By The United Press)

The season's worst storm swept over the Midwest today, lashing a wide area with rain, wind and drifting snows that blocked roads, tore up communications and isolated many Great Plains communities.

The effects of the storm were felt as far east as the Atlantic coast. The low pressure area in the Midwest caused westerly winds at New York bringing an ocean fog into the city and reducing visibility to half a block.

TRAIN IS MISSING

DENVER, Nov. 19 (U.P.) — Lowry air base said today it had sent an airplane to look for a passenger train believed snowbound somewhere in Kansas.

Lowry field officials said a C-47 plane had been dispatched to search for the Chicago-to-Denver Rock Island "Rocket." It was believed snowbound near Colby, Kan., the air base said.

The train was due in Denver at 5:30 p. m. Thursday. The Air Force said there had been no word from it and it was more than 18 hours overdue.

Telegraph lines were down near Colby, the Air Force said, and there was no way to determine if the train had left that point.

Two other streamliners, the east and west-bound sections of the Union Pacific's "City of St. Louis," were tied up at western Kansas stations, waiting for snow crews to clear heavy drifts in the vicinity of Cheyenne Wells, Colo.

Temperatures Falling

Temperatures were falling quickly in the wake of the storm. The coldest spot in the country at 6:30 a. m. (EST) was Fraser, Colo., where the mercury dropped to nine below zero. It was two below at Big Piney, Wyo., three below at Sinclair, Wyo., four above at Trinidad, Colo., and eight above at Pueblo, Colo.

Julius Badner, U. S. weather bureau forecaster at Chicago, said the storm was centered over Lamoni, Ia., at 7 a. m. (EST). He said the storm center seemed to be "spreading out and slowing somewhat in its northeasterly movement."

Born In The Pacific

He said the storm was "one of the series born in the Pacific that hit Oregon earlier this week."

"It lost some of its force moving through the Rockies but redeveloped on the High Plains," Badner said. "Now it looks as though it'll move clear across the country and right on into the Atlantic."

Meanwhile, a new storm was buffeting the Oregon and Washington coastline. It was the third Pacific disturbance to hit the coast in less than a week.

Rain was falling over much of the Mississippi and Ohio river valleys today and the weather bureau warned that it would turn to snow in many sections by to-

HE'S BEEN CIRCUIT-RIDING FOR THE PAST 54 YEARS

Grizzled, Kindly Old Pastor Spends Saturday In Saddle To Deliver Word Of God On Sunday

HORSEBACK PREACHER—Every weekend for 54 years Benjamin Johnson Forbes has traveled by horse or buggy to fill guest preaching assignments in Parker or neighboring counties. He is shown here with Ollie, his 20-year-old mare. Five days a week Ollie pulls the plow which Forbes follows on his farm south of Weatherford. On Saturdays and Sundays she totes him to and from church.

Parker county still has a circuit-riding horseback preacher, a grizzled, kindly old farmer-philosopher who spends Saturday in the saddle to deliver the Word of God on Sunday.

Every week-end for 54 years, 76-year-old Benjamin Johnson Forbes has traveled by horse or buggy to preach in the churches of Parker and neighboring counties.

Wore Out Last Buggy

"When I wore out my last buggy," he says, "I couldn't get another one. So for 16 years Ollie has been carrying me."

Ollie is Forbes' 20-year-old paint mare, a fat, patient creature which pulls the preacher's plow five days a week and totes him to and from his guest pulpit assignments the other two days.

Before Ollie, Brother Forbes, as he is known, had a sorrel horse 23 years.

"The sorrel was too rough to ride but he sure could get along with that buggy. Ollie rides smooth and easy. She's a 'fox trotter' and a single-footer but mostly a fox-trotter. A 'fox trotter' is a lot easier on a man than a jog trotter."

Always Up at Dawn

Forbes lives in the Balch community of Parker county, 12 miles south of Weatherford. He owns 265 acres, most of which he leases to his daughter and son-in-law with whom he resides. But he reserves for himself and Ollie a small orchard, a garden and 10-acre plot on which he grows cotton, feed and corn. "I also own a couple of hogs."

Up at dawn, Forbes farms until dusk five days per week. He works without rest, not even taking time out for lunch. "Ollie and I figure two meals a day are enough for us."

1700 Students Escape Flames

HOUSTON, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—Plans for a high school homecoming dance turned into tragedy today when decorative paper set off a blaze that destroyed the gymnasium and two classrooms at the Aldine school, 12 miles north of here.

School officials and firemen still wondered at the miraculous escape of 1700 students, many of whose lives were saved by a quick-thinking senior girl student and an alert bus driver.

It was just after 9 a. m. when busman O. V. Calvert noticed the flames licking up the side of the wooden, weather-worn gymnasium. He spread the alarm to a group of students inside decorating the building for tonight's festivity, and then rushed to the nearby classroom structure.

Used Loud Speaker

The students filed calmly out minutes before the flames, now fed by an exploding butane tank in the gymnasium, engulfed the buildings.

Doris Howell, 16, was one of the first to see the fire. She raced to the office of Superintendent L. C. Courtney, where a public address system blared directions to 1600 students in the main building.

Fire equipment rushed from the Houston suburbs of Lindale, Little York, Westfield and Humble, arriving less than thirty minutes after the fire started. Volunteer fighters battled the blaze with chemicals, but destruction was al-

Speaking Of Guys With Nine Lives

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19 (AP) Richard N. Rudolph's determination was strong, but his constitution was stronger.

Here's how police said Rudolph, 34, spent yesterday:

He wrote a farewell note and cut his throat six times with a butcher knife. Then he lodged the handle of the knife in the wall and rammed the blade into his heart three times. He topped this by drinking a bottle of poison, turning on the gas burners and crawling into his bedroom to die.

Neighbors smelled gas, called police. Rudolph was still alive today at General hospital.

FRESH HOPE IS GIVEN CAPITAL

Tension In China Eased By Victory

(By The Associated Press)

NANKING, Nov. 19 — Tension eased in central China today. The government's news of a complete victory in the battle of Suchow gave fresh hope to the unnerved capital.

The city obviously was impressed by the military spokesman's triumphant statement yesterday: "The battle for Suchow can be considered as concluded." People who had begun to talk of Chiang Kai-Shek's possible abdication looked up to the generalissimo with new respect.

Few sources, however, expected the Communist commanders to take the reported setback without planning another fight to open the road to Nanking.

Subject To Conjecture

When this might happen was a subject of conjecture here. It might depend on the extent of Communist casualties and the drain on supplies in the 10-day battle, and how long the Red commanders will need to regroup their weary armies.

The weather was another factor—and a big one in view of the decisive part it played in the government's operations. The clear days and moonlit nights favored government air strikes against Communist troops deployed without cover on the exposed plains.

For that reason, Communist losses likely were heavy. Maj. Gen. Chang Liu-Shih, government military spokesman, estimated 130,000 Red casualties to 40,000 for

Tail-Wagging Pup Is "Stumped" Now

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 19 (U.P.)—A man was sentenced today to serve 30 days in jail for cruelty to animals.

He cut off his dog's tail, he told the court, because the dog wagged it every time his mother-in-law showed up.

Abernathy Fire Loss Is Heavy

ABERNATHY, Nov. 19 (Special)—Firemen today still were fighting the last traces of a fire which last night destroyed the $50,000 main plant of the T. B. Stone Gin company here.

The five-stand gin and 14 bales of freshly-ginned cotton stacked nearby were a total loss, company officials said today. Volunteer firemen still were working to extinguish the burning bales this morning, but the fire which razed the gin was brought under control at about 4 a. m., four hours after it started.

Cause Is Unknown

Cause of the blaze was unknown. The fire, whipped by a strong north wind, had spread throughout the frame and metal structure before firemen reached the scene.

Efforts of firemen succeeded in preventing spread of the fire to surrounding buildings.

The Stone gin, remodeled last summer, stood near the center of Abernathy on the east side of the railroad tracks. It had been operating at capacity during the current ginning season, and had closed for the day Thursday at 5 p. m.

$500 Fine Assessed In Liquor Violation

A $500 fine for liquor law violation, and court costs, were assessed this morning in the county court of Judge Walter Davies.

It named J. W. Martin, 27, of Lubbock, County Attorney John Steele said.

The county attorney said Martin had been convicted of liquor law violation twice before this year, on Aug. 9, and on May 8, 1947. He paid a total of $350 and costs on those charges, records showed. The present charge accused him of having sold whisky.

Martin L. Boling, about 29, was fined $100 and costs for liquor law violation, sale of whisky. It was his first conviction, Steele said.

Judge Davies assessed these other fines: $50 and costs against each Granville Cruse Roberts, 52, of Abernathy, and Gus Walker, 41, a Lubbock negro, on drunk driving charges; and $200 and costs against Weldon Ray Moses, 24, of Ralls, on a pistol-carrying charge.

Each of the defendants pleaded guilty, Judge Davies and Steele said.

Another Cold Front On Way

Temperature dropped to 25 degrees this morning and weather maps indicated today a brief respite from low temperatures is due this weekend.

The forecast given by the U. S. Weather bureau station near Lubbock for the South Plains area predicted a maximum of near 50 degrees this afternoon, a minimum of 28 to 30 degrees Saturday morning and slightly warmer weather Saturday than today.

Temperature at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon was 45 degrees, seven degrees higher than at the same time Thursday.

New Cold Front Due

The weather man also pointed out, however, that a new cold front which is leaving rain in its wake was in Washington, Oregon and northern California this morning and, if it continues to move at its present rate, should be in Lubbock about Sunday night.

Wind had abated to a moderate pace of 12 to 15 miles per hour in Lubbock this morning, after blowing in strong gusts over the Panhandle and South Plains Thursday.

Velocity at Amarillo was 28 miles per hour about 1 o'clock this afternoon. The Associated Press reported Amarillo business firms were clearing up broken glass from display windows shattered yesterday when gusts reached up to 75 miles an hour. At least seven downtown stores lost windows and in two stores on Polk street not a display window was left this morning.

Special officers were on duty in Amarillo Thursday night warning pedestrians away from store

Missing Bed Sheets Valued At $120 Each

DALLAS, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—Bed sheets in one palatial Highland Park home cost $120 each, police revealed today.

The value of bedsheets was a part of a report on the grand theft of five fur coats and 20 bed sheets from the residence Nov. 5.

Officers were seeking a man and a woman who had roomed with the house owner for about three weeks and disappeared at the same time the property did.

Police said one fur coat, a mink, was valued at $14,000. The other four cost only $2,500 each.

Total loss in the theft was $26,400, the police report said.

SECRECY WRAPS PULLED ASIDE ON ODD INTERCEPTOR

Navy Thinks It Has Fastest Fighter Plane In The World

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19—The Navy thinks it has the fastest fighter in the world.

Its XF7U-1 "Cutlass" may be the first combat plane to fly faster than sound.

Secrecy wraps were pulled aside yesterday on the odd, tailless interceptor—shaped like an arrow-head — with swept-back wings and twin jet engines.

The Cutlass climbed like a blown leaf, then turned and twisted with dazzling grace at a press showing at Patuxent, Md., air station.

Air Force Holds Record

While officially only in the "over 600 mile an hour" class, the Chance-Vought built craft is "capable of speeds in excess of current models of operational jets, land or carrier based," the Navy said in its announcement.

The world's speed record of 670.98 miles an hour was hung up September 15 by the Air Force's F86 fighter. The F86 was not "full out" and is estimated to be capable of 700 mph.

The Navy made no predictions as to how much faster the Cutlass will go. But it clearly expects no difficulty in topping the F86 at its best.

This would put the Cutlass right on the threshhold of sonic speed (760 miles an hour at sea level), and the experts already are mulling over the ability of the plane to crash the much-discussed sound barrier.

The Air Force's research plane, the XS-1, has successfully crossed this sonic area of great air disturbance.

But no service airplane has done so.

However, the Cutlass is years away from fleet use. After a year or 18 months, of land tests, it may try its first carrier landings, one official estimated. Then it will be another year to 18 months before it goes to sea to stay.

The Navy has ordered 19 at a cost of about $10,000,000. The production versions will be built at the new Chance-Vought plant in Dallas.

Reformatory Grid Players Stage End Run And Fail To Get Back To Scrimmage Line

DELEON, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—Three members of the football team from the Gatesville state training school took off on an end run last night and still hadn't gotten back to the line of scrimmage today.

The trio left their teammates working out in the Deleon gym and went to the shower room, where they fled through a window, stole a car (1941 green Chevrolet sedan license No. BR-9092) and made their getaway.

They were identified as J. D. Martin, Donald Lowery and Louis Caldwell.

The rest of the squad went on and played the game—against Comyn High school—and lost, 34-6.

Royal Romances In Iran And Egypt End On Divorce Rocks

QUEEN FARIDA

(By The Associated Press)

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 19 — The royal palace announced today that King Farouk and Queen Farida have been divorced.

A communique from the palace announced also that the Empress Fawzia of Iran, Farouk's sister, had been divorced by her husband, Shan Reza Pahlevi.

FAROUK

A communique on the Egyptain king's divorce issued by the palace said:

"God's will ordered that the sacred relation between the noble couple be broken. This will directed the hearts of King Farouk and Queen Farida to a desire for divorce while both felt regret.

"In fulfilment of this desire, King Farouk signed the divorce on Nov. 17, 1948.

"The royal cabinet while making this announcement pray to God to prepare for King Farouk what will make the country happy."

On Divorce Of Sister

The communique on the divorce of King Farouk's sister said:

"Two and a half years ago, Empress Fawzia was obliged to return home on advice of her physicians for treatment. The doctors then discovered with regret that the Tehran climate did not suit her majesty but constituted a danger to her health.

"It was then agreed, according to Islamic principles, that she be divorced from Emperor Mohamed Reza Pahlevi. This divorce cannot by any means affect the existing friendly relations between Egypt and Iran. The mutual feeling of appreciation between the two great

Rooming House Is Burglarized

Money and other properties valued at a total of $250 were taken in a burglary Thursday night of a rooming house at 2413 Fourteenth, police investigators said.

Officials said $9 was taken from a billfold of Jack Dolberry of 1906 Tenth in another burglary.

The rooming house burglary was reported by J. L. Houser. He told investigators Virgil Stephens and Doyle Clark that a hasp was burst on a hall closet and that his losses were a watch, a ruby ring, $26 in money, a suit, and a suitcase, all approximately value of $200. He said that a $50 overcoat owned by James F. Cook also was taken from the closet.

An Army blanket was stolen from a car at 1602 Ave. R.

Veda Mae Sheppard, described by police as a negro woman, complained that an automatic pistol had been stolen from her.

Police said they had fined Hubert Freeman Perkins, 44, $25 for theft under $5 from a grocery store.

He'll Just Have To Be "Superman"

Woman To Return Home Only As Housekeeper For Husband

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Mrs. Beatrice Borla, 35, who had sued for divorce has agreed to return home as her husband's housekeeper—but not as his wife.

Her husband, Charles, 38, a bartender, agreed to the terms, in lieu of full reconciliation. Borla's attorney commented that he would have to be a "superman" to live up to them.

Borla and his wife, married for 20 years, agreed that she should return to their home and care for their two children, Robert, 8, and Tom, 5, but she will have her own room.

The agreement provides that Mrs. Borla is not required to resume a man and wife relationship with Borla, and she is to become joint owner of a $17,000 bank account now in her husband's name. It was agreed Borla will not attempt to kiss his wife unless she should have a change of heart.

Mrs. Borla asked that her divorce complaint, which al-

Traffic Situation Is Getting No Better

Houston Oilman Shells Out $5 Fine Daily To Park Car

(By The United Press)

HOUSTON, Nov. 19.—W. W.'s Cadillac was there again today, parked in its usual bus zone with the usual pinkish $5 traffic ticket under the windshield wiper.

To Houston police, already sagging under this booming city's traffic burdens, it meant that millionaire Oilman Wesley W. West would once again shell out $5 a day for the privilege of parking his shiny automobile conveniently.

It started eight months ago, Police Inspector W. P. Haley remembered, when buses snarled downtown traffic because they had to halt in the street at the Sterling building stop. A big Cadillac blocked their regular zone.

Every day for a week traffic Officer Barney Friery smacked the owner with a $5 ticket. Every day it was promptly paid, but the traffic situation got no better.

"So," said Inspector Haley, scratching his head, "I had a talk with Mr. West. He was nice—reminded me that police were doing their duty by

U. S. Statement On Palestine Indefinitely Deferred In UN

PARIS, Nov. 19 (AP)—An anxiously awaited American statement on Palestine was deferred today with postponement of the U. N. political committee session.

Some delegates said the full U. S. position on the Holy Land may not be known until after Secretary of State George C. Marshall confers with President Truman Monday in Washington.

The political committee session scheduled for today was postponed last night. No date was set for the next session.

There was no indication of what stand the American delegation will take in regard to the Bernadotte report which was presented to the political committee in the form of a draft resolution by Britain yesterday.

At Official Level

A British spokesman said the U. S. delegation was consulted 'at an official level" during the drafting of the resolution. The spokesman said the British were hopeful that the Americans would support the proposal.

Marshall said in September when the general assembly began that the report of Count Folke Bernadotte, the slain Holy Land mediator, was "a generally fair basis for settlement of the Palestine question."

During the U. S. election campaign, however, President Truman and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the defeated Republican candidate, endorsed the original U. N. partition plan of last November, giving the Negev desert to Israel.

Repartition Asked

The Bernadotte report, which Britain presented yesterday, asked the U. N. to repartition Palestine and reduce the size of Israel by three-fifths. It would revise the original U. N. partition plan by giving the Negev to the Arabs and assigning western Galilee to Israel.

Under the British resolution Bernadotte's plan would be put into force through a three-nation conciliation commission.

Israel Opposes

Israel opposes giving up the Negev, which it hopes to make capable of supporting thousands of immigrants by modern farming and irrigation methods.

The Arabs also have opposed the Bernadotte plan because it sets up a Jewish state. They demand a single Palestine state with guarantees of religious, social and economic rights for all peoples.

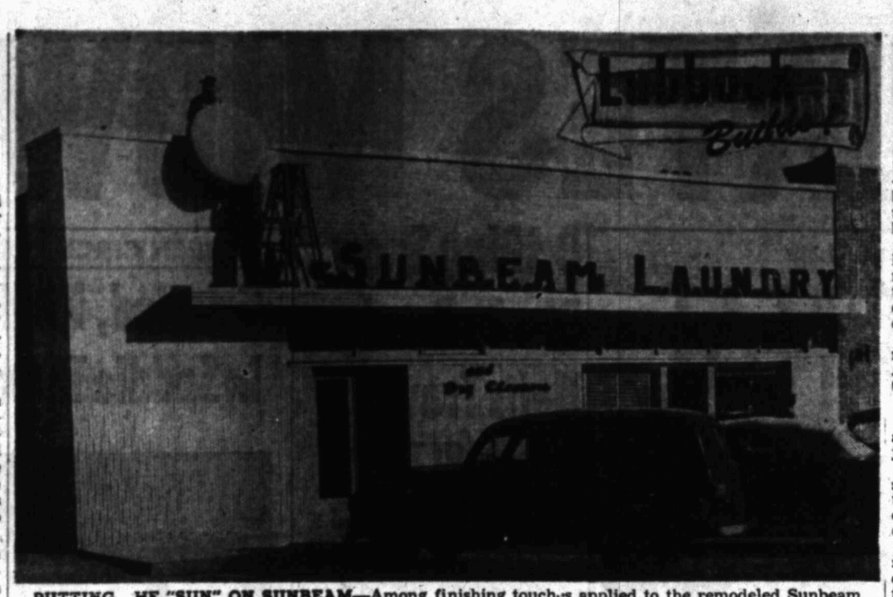

The British resolution was presented a day before the deadline set by acting Palestine Mediator Dr. Ralph Bunche for withdrawal of troops in the Negev to positions occupied before Oct. 15, when the Jews launched an offensive which pushed back the Egyptian forces in the desert area.

Telegrams May Soon Be Sent In Person's Own Handwriting

BY ARTHUR EDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 — Western Union has come out with the telegram of tomorrow.

In the brave new world, proud daddy may get a telegram from junior, in his own scribbly handwriting.

And the wire may be sent merely by dropping it in the slot of a machine that looks like the first cousin of a mailbox.

Picture Telegram Sent

"Kate Smith, internationally known figure in the entertainment world, will unveil a scientific innovation, almost atom-splitting in its magic . . ."

Well, sure enough, Miss Smith pulled a table cloth off the machine, and dropped in a telegram.

The machine went to work, and a picture of the telegram was sent over the wire to Surgeon General Raymond W. Bliss, congratulating him on the Army Nurse corps.

General Bliss must have been hovering over his telegram box, for in less time than it would take to write it, an answer hustled back.

Telegrams Read Same

Then Rosel H. Hyde, of the Federal Communications commission, ripped off a quick greeting to the president of Western Nnion, Joseph L. Egan, in New York. Egan ripped right back.

Western Union officials explained that the machine works on the same principle as ultrafax, which can send pictures ofa printthe Wind" needed only two minutes.

After the demonstration, some reporters wandered up and read telegrams used in a pre-unveiling practice session.

They began:

"In regard to yours of . . ." "with respect to . . ." "answering yours of . . ."

It looks as if the telegram of tomorrow will read pretty much like the telegram of today.

Retired Broker Is Big Wheel In Roller Skating Campaign

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Nov. 19.—An elderly retired Wall street broker is the big wheel in a one-man campaign to teach the nation how to roller skate.

And the goal of wealthy Perry B. Rawson is to create 20,000,000 new skating fans. He is probably the only man in the world who owns two private rinks for his own use.

"Roller skating has become the number one participation sport in America," he said. "More than 17,000,000 people follow it.

Few Are Skaters

"But only about five per cent are really skaters—the rest are just scooters."

A "scooter" to Rawson is a skater who careens around a rink, teetering and tottering, at the peril of his own limbs and the safety of other fans.

Back in 1932 Rawson, who had seen the 1929 stock market crash coming and weathered it, retired from business with his fortune intact. He decided to devote his entire time to skating—a lifelong hobby.

"I had spent thousands of dollars here and abroad with professional teachers," he said, "and I decided most of it was wasted. So I set out to find the right way to skate."

Builds Two Rinks

He built a large rink on his 200-acre estate here on the Jersey shore and a smaller one on his summer place at Manchester, N. H. He turned the rinks into skating laboratories.

He developed several contrivances that have a Rube Goldberg look but enable him now to teach the average beginner the principles of skating in a single hour.

"I found that most skaters weren't really skating—they were walking. When you walk, you balance on either the heel or toe. In skating you balance on the center of the foot."

Currently Rawson, whose researches were made entirely at his own expense, is trying to get the 4,000 rink owners in the United States to adopt his system of teaching skating, which is entirely free.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA*

CAN FADE YOUR COLOR, SAP YOUR STRENGTH!

People with sallow, colorless faces—people who often feel "stale" and "spent"—may find their red blood cells are too puny and faded. They may have a Borderline Anemia due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency.

Medical studies show that up to 68% of women—many men and children—are victims of this tiring Borderline Anemia.

If you have this Borderline Anemia, you need Ironized Yeast Tablets! They are specially formulated to help build up faded, puny red blood cells to healthy redness and size, and thus permit your color and energy to come surging back. Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may come from other causes—see your doctor regularly. But in this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets. Take them to reclaim your vitality, your healthy color, your enjoyment of life!

U. S. House Of Representatives Kept From Deciding Presidential Race By Small Vote

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. — President Truman won the election by just 35,300 votes.

That's sort of a trick way of putting it, based on some "ifs" and on returns that still are unofficial and not quite complete.

On the same basis, it was by 19,043 out of a total of more than 47,000,000 votes cast November 2 that Mr. Truman kept the House of Representatives from deciding who will be president the next four years.

This is the way it works out:

"If" Ohio, Illinois and California had gone Republican, Thomas E. Dewey would have been the next president.

Close in Other States

And those three states would have gone Republican "if". 3,444 people in Ohio, 15,599 in Illinois and 16,257 in California—that adds up to 35,300—had voted for Dewey instead of Mr. Truman.

"If" the 3,444 in Ohio and 15,509 in Illinois—a total of 19,043—had switched, the election would have been thrown into the House. Nobody would have the necessary majority of electoral votes.

But in contrast:

"If" 58,036 voters in Indiana, Michigan and New York had balloted for the President instead of Dewey, Mr. Truman would have won by just about the same electoral vote even if he had lost Ohio, Illinois and California. He would have needed 5,693 in Indiana, 24,696 in Michigan and 27,647 in New York.

In fact, "if" he had picked up just those 27,647 votes in New York he could have lost the other five states and still squeaked by.

And "if" Mr. Truman had received the votes that went to Progressive candidate Henry A. Wallace in Indiana, Michigan and New York, he would have needed to convert only 9,643 of Dewey's supporters to have captured all three states.

He could have done the trick with 4,733 Dewey votes in Michigan and 4,910 in Indiana—none at all in New York.

Wallace's vote in New York was 508,542, and Dewey carried the state by just 55,293.

There was a similar result in Maryland. Dewey's margin over Mr. Truman was 8,197 in a state that gave 9,939 votes to Wallace.

The politicians figure that most of the Wallace ballots would have been in the bag for the Democrats, "if" Wallace hadn't been in the presidential race.

Here's the way it sizes up in electoral votes:

Mr. Truman needed 266 electoral ballots to win the election. He got 304, to 189 for Dewey and 38 for the States' Rights candidate, J. Strom Thurmond.

Thrown Into House

Illinois has 28 electoral votes, Ohio and California 25 each. That's 78 for all three. If they had gone to Dewey, the New York governor would have collected 267—one more than the required number. Mr. Truman would have had 226 and Thurmond his 38.

If Dewey had won any two of the three states, neither he nor Mr. Truman would have had the needed 266. So the house would have picked the new president under a constitutional procedure that gives one vote to each state.

Suppose Dewey had won Ohio and Illinois. He would have had 242 electoral votes, the President 251 and Thurmond the same 38.

Now take another look at Indiana, Michigan and New York, which Mr. Truman came close to winning. They have 79 electoral votes—13 for Indiana, 19 for Michigan and a big 47 for New York.

If the President had taken those three states and lost Ohio, Illinois and California, instead of the other way around, there would have been just one electoral vote difference in the way the election came out. It would have been 305 for Truman, 188 for Dewey, 38 for Thurmond.

If he had won only New York of that group, the electoral count would have been Truman 273, Dewey 220 and Thurmond 38.

Then you can figure things this way:

The latest unofficial count in Ohio gives Mr. Truman 1,460,229 votes to 1,442,825 for Dewey. But a big error in the tally in Cuyahoga county (Cleveland)—not yet figured in the unofficial count announced by the Ohio secretary of state—cuts the Truman edge from 17,404 to a close 6,886. So a shift of 3,444 votes would have put the state in the G. O. P. column.

In Illinois, a revision in Cook county (Chicago) has whittled the Truman margin from 37,920 to 31,196 votes. A shift of 15,599 would have meant a Republican victory. The present totals for the state are 1,990,635 for Truman, 1,959,439 for Dewey.

The latest California tabulation is Truman 1,876,934, Dewey 1,844,422. The difference is 32,512 and a change of 16,257 would have swung the state to the G. O. P.

Indiana went for Dewey 817,385 to 806,001, by a margin of 11,384. A 5,693-vote shift would have turned the state to Mr. Truman.

Dewey's edge in Michigan was 49,391. He got 1,022,007 votes to 972,616 for the President. A 24,696-vote switch would have spelled victory for the Democrat.

New York gave its governor 2,837,848 votes to 2,782,555 for Mr. Truman, a difference of 55,293. And a change of 27,647 ballots there would have handed the state to the chief executive.

While the election was decided by only 35,300 votes, Mr. Truman's actual margin of victory was over 2,100,000.

Architect Students Eligible For Contest

Architectural students of Texas Technological college are eligible to compete for prizes totaling $250 in a national contest sponsored by the Beaux-Arts Institute of Design, in co-operation with the Tile Council of America, it was announced Thursday.

The contest calls for the designing of an elementary school and kindergarten in which special attention is given to the use of clay tile. The first prize is $100, second $75, third $50, and fourth $25. The competition closes Dec. 20 and will be judged between Jan. 4 and 8.

Students from universities and colleges in the United States, Canada, and Cuba are invited to submit entries in the current contest. A large number of other competitions are being sponsored by the Beaux-Arts Institute during the 1948-49 school year, the announcement said.

President Quoted As Telling Congressman Civil Rights Plan Used To Win Election

MOBILE, Ala., Nov. 19 (AP) — Rep. Frank W. Boykin (D-Ala) told a civic group here that President Truman said to him during a recent visit that he didn't believe in the civil rights program but needed it to bring about a Democratic victory.

Boykin quoted the President:

"Frank, I don't believe in this civil rights program any more than you do, but we've got to have it to win."

Truman Quoted

"Of course, Mr. Truman is going to try to bring up a lot of these things," Boykin declared, "but you've got to depend on your Congress to arrive at equitable compromises.'

The President's election, Boykin added, "is the best thing that ever happened to us."

At Key West, where Mr. Truman is vacationing, Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said the President had no comment to make on Boykin's remarks.

Man Takes Long Way Home From Laundry

ODANAH, Wis., Nov. 19 (AP)—Wilfred L. Sharlow took the long way home and got delayed when he borrowed his employer's automobile to go after his laundry.

The 40-year-old farmhand was found more than a month later in Klamath Falls, Ore., with the car. His employer, farmer Chris Olsen, said Sharlow told him he was going only to Odanah to pick up his laundry.

Church Fund Drive Past Halfway Mark

The halfway mark was passed last night in the Westminster Presbyterian church drive for $25,000 to erect the first unit of its building program, the co-chairmen, W. R. Postma and Leo S. Hay announced.

Workers, following a supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Maisen, 3318 Twenty-fifth, called at homes of members of the congregation to secure pledges toward the goal.

"There is no doubt we will reach our goal before Thanksgiving, the deadline we have set," the chairmen said. "Friends of the congregation are helping through contributions, as well as members of Westminster church and Sunday school."

The congregation, organized last February, has been meeting in the Plaza theatre.

Election Conducted By Menders Club

Friendly Menders club members who met with Mrs. R. S. Bryant, 1308 Thirty-second, Thursday afternoon elected the following officers:

Mrs. S. A. Stapleton, president; Mrs. Clarence Loving, vice president; Mrs. Joe Booth, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. R. R. Holmes, jr., reporter. An installation ceremony is to be held Dec. 2 at 3:15 p. m. in the home of Mrs. W. O. Cline, 3301 Ave. L.

Others attending were Mesdames G. W. Oatman, J. W. Holland and Cline.

Mrs. Jeff Graham Is Hostess At Luncheon

The annual Thanksgiving luncheon for Colonial Needle club was held in the home of Mrs. Jeff Graham at 2313 Twenty-first, Thursday.

Attending were Mesdames E. N. Evans, C. H. Stogner, C. C. Taylor, R. D. Harris, A. L. Curtis, W. V. Lewis, B. F. Foster, Bryan Landers, Ellis Martin and two guests, Mrs. E. C. Conwell and Mrs. J. O. Burnam.

On Dec. 9 at 3 p. m., the club is to meet with Mrs. Stogner, 1302 Thirty-first.

Singing Is Recorded At Party For Club

Attending were Mesdames H. A. Wyatt, John Cocanougher, D. A. Wellborn, W. T. Holder, Dennis Dempsey, Eugene Guyer, Odie Parks, D. D. Moore, D. W. Hackney, R. B. Hunt and Weldon George.

Dec. 2 at 3 p. m., the club will meet with Mrs. Cocanougher, 105 Ave. V.

From Lou To Louella...

DEAR LOUELLA: Jewell Alice Pharr and Robert Dawson will be married on Christmas Day . . . Marjorie Luck will become Mrs. Joe Buck in Levelland on Dec. 26 . . . Frances Crush checked out of Tech this week to go home to Garland and make wedding preparations. She and Joe Phillips will be married soon. Barbara Scott has replaced Frances as hall check for Dorm III, North. . . Orlin Brewer "did time" in the infirmary this week . . . Dotsie Stephenson and Austin Chriesman have been seen together on the campus a lot recently . . . The College Club pin which Pat Lindsey is wearing belongs to Robert Fluger . . . Bettye Colquitt and Bill White are among the steady daters.

QUIPS AND QUESTIONS

BOB CONLEY'S new motto is "Down with plastics!" It seems that he was the proud owner of a new raincoat and decided to wear it on one of the moist days this week. During the course of the day, a cigarette ash fell into the plastic treated lining and the coat literally "went up in smoke." . . . Who is this that Mary Alice Mitchell has been dating regularly? Could it be Richard Springstun?

DFD SNOOPINGS

ANNE BATES and Allen Wemple will be married in a formal ceremony, Saturday night, Nov. 28, in St. John's Methodist church. . . . Mary Jane Hinchey and Oscar Allen are seen together at all college functions . . . One of Tech's most steady twosomes, Betty Martin and Sam Bates, will "set the date" soon . . . Pat Keffer and Jim Sammons have been seen together frequently . . . Jimmy West is happy that his one and only is here from Stamford to stay.

LOS CAMS AND LAS CHAPS

WEDNESDAY night Las Chaparritas and Los Camaradas clubs traded pledge programs for their club meeting entertainment. Providing lots of laughs for the Chap members was a mock wedding ceremony staged costume by Cam pledges. In the "bridal party" were: Hiram Jordan, preacher; Charles Watson, bride; Earl Martin, bridegroom; Andy Behrends, best man; Bill Howard, ring bearer; Delbert Louis, bridesmaid; Bill Clanton, bride's mother; Dald Thut, bride's father.

Warren Lacey, played the guitar and in a very solemn voice sang such numbers as "A Soldier's Last Letter." He was applauded back for several encores before the "wedding party" returned in normal attire, accompanied by other pledges who did not participate in the program, Dick Gamble, and Joe Overton.

Las Chap pledges did skits and acts satirizing campus social clubs, while Jeannie Lawson read a poetical script. While Pat Allen and Betty Bishop were doing their act, someone took a picture with a flash camera and it startled them so much they nearly forgot their parts. Others on the program were Charlene Smith, Billie Moreland, Johneen Bice, DeLois Utterback, Frances Magee, Pat Haydon, Cecile Butler, June Reno, Betty Wolcott, Carolyn Carruthers and Mary Kathrine Prim.

As a part of her costume, Mary Kathrine wore a pair of Army shoes several sizes too large for her, and she had so much trouble walking in them that she almost didn't make it back to the dorm by the 8:30 p. m. limit for freshmen.

After both club meetings ended, the Las Chap girls were the coffee guests of Los Camaradas on the Avenue.

LOVE,
LOU.

Party Plans Discussed

Mrs. L. D. Thomas was hostess to Opti-Mrs. club members at a meeting held Thursday night in her home at 1710 Main. A regular business session was conducted and Mrs. Syrian Marbut spoke on "Corrdination of Seasonal Wardrobes."

Announcement was made that the club will sponsor Brownie Scout troop 58 of Cottage school. Plans were discussed for an informal Christmas banquet to be held Dec. 17 at 7:30 p. m. at Tech cafeteria with the Optimist club.

Refreshments were served to 15 members by Mrs. Thomas and the assisting hostesses, Mesdame Cliff Elliott, J. B. O'Connell and Gerald Sandlin. The club's next regular meeting will be held in January

Homebuilders Stage Election At Luncheon

At Homebuilders club's Thanksgiving luncheon Thursday in the home of Mrs. George Birdwell, 2001 Twenty-seventh, the following officers were elected:

Mrs. N. S. McBride, president; Mrs. A. S. Westbrook, vice president; Mrs. Wayne Thrush, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. J. R. Hartsfield, reporter.

A gift was presented to Mrs. Herb Miller, retiring president.

Mrs. Hartsfield and Mrs. Jack Ray were co-hostesses and others attending were Mesdames Callie Dean, E. J. Dresser, Florence Sanderson, J. W. Hendryx, T. A. McIlroy, Velma Morris and Adeline Rogers.

The club will meet Dec. 16 at 7:30 p. m. with Mrs. Lindsay, 2501 Twenty-second, with Mrs. Hendryx as co-hostess.

DFD Social Club Will Attend Sunday Tea

Miss Martye Poindexter and Miss Ina Bacon, DFD sponsors, are giving a tea at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Hilton hotel for active members, alumnae and patronesses of the Tech social club.

Elton Plowman, tenor, will sing, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Plowman.

P-T Units

Parent-Teacher meetings Thursday had as guest speakers an Episcopalian rector, a Red Cross worker and a chief of police. As the presidents are attending the State P-TA convention in El Paso, vice presidents of the groups presided.

WILSON P-TA IS AT MEETING

"Character Building in the Home" was topic of the address presented by Rev. Claude E. Canterbury, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, for Roscoe Wilson P-TA.

The program was opened with the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Mrs. L. E. Parsons, vice president, presided.

FIFTH GRADE WINS ATTENDANCE COUNT

Lewis Kittrell, chief of police in Lubbock, was guest of Chris Harwell P-TA at the school. His talk was based on the subject, "The Home — A Pattern for Building Sound Character and Moral Values."

Mrs. Ralph Cline presided.

DECEMBER MEETING CANCELLED BY P-TA

Eighty-six members of Dupre P-TA met in the school cafeteria for a discussion of the American Red Cross Blood Bank given by Mrs. J. H. Stiles, director of the local Red Cross chapter.

Sixth grade boys presented musical numbers. Mrs. Guy Trow, principal, spoke on health.

Announcement was made that the P-TA will not meet in December

PUPILS PRESENT UNIT'S PROGRAM

A playlet, "Burns' Scotch Grace," was given by the following sixth grade pupils of Mrs. H. D. Woods for George M. Hunt P-TA unit:

Joan Pollard, Iva Sue Shropshire, Billy Currie, Marsha Brock, Reba Boyd, Frances Ellis and Kay Partney. The school chorus sang "Praises of Thanks" led by Mrs. Lloyd Jenkins.

The invocation was by Mrs. J. A. Burns and the meeting was presided over by Mrs. Ross Tillinghast, vice president. A reading on the birthday of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers was given by Mrs. Hugh Newton.

Announcement was made that 125 parents visited the school during American Education week.

OPERETTA STAGED BY GLEE CLUB

An operetta, "Ballads for America," was presented by the Central Ward Glee club Thursday night when the school's P-TA met. Dudley Henrique was soloist, assisted by Donald Brown, and Miss Marya Hooten was director. There are 115 pupils in the club.

Following the musical program, Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Technological college, spoke on "Character in the Home." He was introduced by Mrs. Gradie Bownds.

Three hundred twenty-five persons attended the meeting and social hour which followed.

MRS. TRICE SPEARS AT P-T MEETING

Twenty-one members and two guests of Cottage school P-T met at the school Thursday afternoon for a talk, "A Pattern for Building Sound Character and Moral Values," given by a guest, Mrs. W. H. Trice.

The second grade of Mrs. Iris Bergholm won room count.

B. B. HARDING IS SPEAKER AT P-TA

B. B. Harding spoke on "The Home, a Place for Building Sound Character," when McWhorter Parent-Teacher association met Thursday afternoon. Mesdames Fred Kelly was elected secretary and W. B. Fort, treasurer, to succeed Mesdames Bill Rogers and E. W. Green, who resigned.

Mrs. Paul Seay presided.

Group singing was led by Mrs. Mary Wilpitz.

Mrs. Floyd Dunn's and Miss Norma Eakin's rooms won the count for the most mothers present and a prize in a membership drive went to Miss Nellie Wingren's room.

Fifty were present.

Hallie Wall's Pupils Will Be Presented

Miss Hallie Wall is to present speech and piano students in recital Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Overton Methodist church.

Appearing will be Iris Weightman, Warren Hunt, Nita Ann Gaede, Rose Alexander, La Fay Moore, Beverly Moore, Carolyn Zachary, Favonia and Iris Grace Dial, Jane Weaks, Sharon Jones, Judy Jones, Bobby Bratcher, Leora Cannaday.

Marjorie McQueary, Jane Smith, David McPherson, Lynette Buell, Lance Jones, Kenneth Lou Jackson, Sarjim and Bobby Holcomb, Janelle Ohlenbusch, Roxie Ohlenbusch, Zana Henley, Jerry Summers, Martha Ann Scott.

Thanksgiving Gift To Be Given By Club

When 1948 Friendship club met with Mrs. R. J. Fisher, Route 1, Thursday afternoon, plans were made to take a Thanksgiving gift to the residents of the Lubbock County Old Folks home. Needlework was the diversion.

Mrs. Warren Henry, a member, was welcomed back after an absence due to illness and other members were Mesdames Don L. Jones, J. W. Lemons, Bedford Shearer, E. E. Coffey, B. N. Dorman, C. M. Elmore, J. B. Forbes, Vernon Lemons, M. M. Styles, Hugh Newton and Bob Blanton. The club will meet with Mrs. Blanton Dec. 1 at 2:30 p. m.

Team Is Honored With Banquet By Mothers

Sixth grade football players of Roscoe Wilson school, co-champions with K. Carter in the sixth grade division of the city, were honored at a banquet given by their mothers Thursday night at the school cafeteria. Coach Milton Greer, Mrs. Greer and Mrs. Ivy Savage, principal, were special guests.

The football used by the Wilson Wranglers when they won the championship was a decorative feature of the table. Yellow mums arranged in a football shaped container and blue and yellow candles burning in football candleholders completed decorations.

Following the banquet, the film of the Amarillo-Lubbock football game was shown. A gift was presented to Coach Greer by the boys.

Musicians To Give Concert

BROWNFIELD, Nov. 19. Cen-Tex Harmony club of Brownfield will sponsor a concert Monday night, Nov. 22, at 8 p. m. at the Brownfield High school auditorium which will present Mrs. John F. Luckie, soprano, and Mrs. Richard Young, pianist.

Mrs. Luckie who teaches voice in Brownfield and Lamesa moved here this year from Norwich, Conn., where she maintained a vocal studio. She was a pupil of Luigi Dell 'Orefice of New York City, a Metropolitan opera conductor and voice coach. The vocalist has done extensive operatic work in New York and Hartford, Conn.

The pianist, Mrs. Young, has studied with Dr. Irl Allison, Dean E. Edwin Young of Hardin-Simmons university and Rudolph Ganz of Chicago Musical college. She was piano soloist with the Hardin-Simmons symphony during her senior year at the university. Mrs. Young who graduated "magna cum laude" from college at the age of 18 has taught piano in Corpus Christi and Lamesa. At present she teaches in Brownfield.

Public Health Is Discussed At City Federation Meet

The plan for improvement of public health in Lubbock county as proposed by the Lubbock-Crosby County Medical association was outlined by Dr. R. C. Douglas, and the types, causes and treatments of cerebral palsey were discussed by Miss Esther Snell for City Federation of Women's club at a November luncheon held Thursday at Hilton hotel.

Parts of the proposed public health program are as follows: that Lubbock and Lubbock County jointly employ a single director of public health; that the health department employ a physician to specifically care for the declared indigent; that a thorough revision of county and city public health ordinances be made to mutually satisfy the incorporate cities within the county; that a long range plan be now initiated for the purpose of building a public health center in Lubbock; and that a City-County Health council be astablished with representatives from civic, welfare and professional organizations for the purpose of offering constructive criticism and aiding in the direction of the health program.

Miss Snell, director of the local Cerebral Palsey Treatment center, stated that the aims of the center are to teach parents how to care for children who are afflicted with cerebral palsey and to educate the public about the malady. The speaker explained that cerebral palsey cannot be cured but can be improved.

Mrs. T. W. Womack played a piano number, "Concert Etude," by Liszt and Mrs. J. H. Hankins offered the invocation.

During a business session, Mrs. Clyde Tatum was elected recording secretary to replace Mrs. Raymond Painter who has resigned. Mrs. L. D. Marshall presided.

Bois d' arc balls, autumn leaves and fruit formed centerpieces for the luncheon tables at which 50 persons were seated. Following the program, the fruit was taken to Milam's home. Members of the decorating committee were Mrs. Turner Adams and Mrs. C. D. McGehee of Lubbock Junior Garden club, Mrs. Rex Webster of Lubbock Music club and Mrs. W. A. Terrell of Amiga club. The three mentioned and Delphian society were hostess groups.

The Federation's next meeting will be Jan. 27.

TRY MY COCONUT FUDGE MARBLE CAKE
2 cups sifted cake flour
1½ cups sugar
2½ teaspoons baking powder (or 4 teaspoons tartrate baking powder)
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup Spry
¾ cup milk
1½ teaspoons vanilla
2 eggs, unbeaten
1 ounce chocolate, melted
SIFT flour, sugar, baking powder and salt into mixing bowl . . . Drop in Spry . . . Add milk and vanilla and beat 200 strokes (2 minutes by hand or on mixer at low speed) . . . Scrape bowl and spoon or beater . . . Add eggs and beat 200 strokes (2 minutes by hand or on mixer at low speed) . . . Divide batter in half and add melted chocolate to one portion, blending well. Arrange batters, alternately by spoonfuls, in 12 x 8 x 2-inch Sprycoated pan. Run spatula lengthwise through batters several times to marble. Bake in moderately hot oven (375° F.) 35–45 minutes. Spread Coconut Fudge Frosting on top of cake.
Coconut Fudge Frosting—Place in saucepan 1½ ounces chocolate, finely cut, 1 cup sugar, ⅓ cup milk, 2 tablespoons Spry, 1 tablespoon butter and ¼ teaspoon salt. Bring slowly to a full rolling boil, stirring constantly, and boil briskly 1 minute. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla and cool to lukewarm. Beat until thick enough to spread. Add ⅓ cup coconut, cut in pieces, and mix. Use 1½ times the recipe to frost cake on top and sides.

HST Remains Silent On Chiang's Appeal

(By The Associated Press)

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 19—President Truman, nearing the end of his post-election vacation in the sun and warmth of the nation's southernmost city, kept close watch today on international crises thousands of miles apart—Europe and China.

The President's staff, however, clamped tighter the lid of secrecy covering White House consideration of Chiang Kai-Shek's appeal for a new statement of encouragement and support for the Chinese national government, and was silent likewise on a wealth of questions raised by other crises abroad.

There was no disclosure of the contents of Mr. Truman's reply to the personal appeal of the Chinese president, nor comment upon it.

The New York Times, however, said in a story from Nanking that Chiang asked for a strong statement from the United States on its future moral and material aid, as well as for a more vigorous participation in China's war effort and for the immediate increase of its material aid to China.

Mr. Truman's reply, the Time's story said, pointed out this country was speeding up its shipment of military supplies to China, but made no commitments beyond the present $400,000,000 program.

The flight here yesterday of Secretary of Defense Forrestal for a 45-minute conference with the chief executive was dismissed as a simple visit by the defense secretary to submit a 10-page memorandum and an oral report on his recent visit to Europe.

Forrestal flew back to Washington in the afternoon, staying only long enough to shake hands with Representative Sam Rayburn (D-Texas) the prospective speaker again of the House, who came in to be Mr. Truman's guest. The President is flying back to Washington at 11 a. m. (EST) Sunday for an important full-scale review of the peace outlook Monday.

Secretary of State Marshall and roving economic cooperation administration ambassador Harriman will supply the data.

David Parks Honored On Sixth Birthday

David Parks, 6, was honored by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harrell Parks, 2418 Twenty-seventh, Thursday, by a birthday party. Members of the First Grade class of Mrs. O. A. Cunningham's private school were present.

The home was decorated with pastel colored balloons. In the center of the table was a green, red and white decorated birthday cake.

Those present included Vicki Greer, Judy Franks, Nita Ann Gaede, Kittie Ellen Parr, Sherry Smith, Vicki Lea Cannon, Joy Beth Hamilton, Betty Jean Todd, Susan Patterson, Pamila Walker, Bob Tahors, Duane Housouer, Donald Brady, Ronald Brady, Dennis Shearer, Jay Neyland, Travis Lee Key, George Mood, Donald Parks, Ronnie Holt, James Ronald Lucas, Donald Cunningham, Hub Crowell, Curtis Whitwell.

Refreshments were served by Mesdames Frances Leon, Cunningham, and Parks.

Mary Haworth's Mail . . .

Reared By Illiterate Mother, Girl Is Wed To Man Whose Social Set Frightens Her

DEAR Mary Haworth: My father died when I was a baby, leaving my mother with three small children. Mother isn't educated, can't even write her own name, and had to do all kinds of domestic work to provide for us.

Although we were always poor, mother was very clean and had a very sweet disposition. We were always well liked and respected in our neighborhood, but owing to mother's lack of education we were very sheltered and as a result I am very sensitive, get hurt at any remarks made about me, and blush until I almost burn up.

I have a grammar school education and started work as an office clerk. I was employed by the same firm for 15 years, until I married, and in that time worked myself up to office manager. In this capacity I met my husband. We were married six months ago.

Don is three years my junior, a college graduate, handsome, with a winning personality. We own a beautiful home, I have plenty of gorgeous clothes, which I never had before, and we are very much in love.

HEARS TWO GIRLS TAKING HER APART

HOWEVER, a painful incident that happened two weeks ago has made me so self-conscious that I wish I had married in my own class. Don's club gave a dance two weeks ago, and he insisted that I go with him, even though I do not dance. To avoid argument I agreed to go, much to my sorrow.

While I was in the lounge, two girls entered who didn't see me. They started to criticize me, saying, "What did Don ever see in her? And did you notice the way she pronounced her words?" Since then I am just going crazy, torturing myself, knowing my education doesn't equal Don's, and being sensitive about it.

Some evenings later I wouldn't go to a friend's home with Don because as soon as I open my mouth I get scared to death. My voice breaks, my tongue gets dry, and my hands are very clammy. I don't want Don to know this; but last night he remarked that I wasn't my sweet self, but getting moody.

I am even avoiding our neighbors, because they also are of the higher class, and I am afraid that they too will criticize me and I just cannot face it. Please, please help me before I go out of my mind. (Signed) V. D.

BRIDE IS SUPERIOR TO HER SLY CRITICS

DEAR V. D.: The distinguishing mark of the truly aristocratic mind is the ability to recognize fine quality at a glance; and on the score of fine sensibilities, you are at least Don's equal and probably his better, as he doubtless realizes with grateful appreciation.

Your naivete, sensitivity and humility are all part of your distinctive charm for him, I am sure; and these are typical by-products of a sheltered rearing whether at the top or the bottom of the economic ladder.

So get this through your head: it isn't your lack of so-called higher education, but rather these rare lovely qualities of being, that vitally differentiate you from the sort of girl who entered the lounge to make cruel remarks about your personality and way of speaking.

GIRL WAS SUCKER FOR PUT-UP JOB

I HAVE a hunch the principal speaker knew you were there, when blandly using her tongue as a sword; and very likely she or the other was a defeated contender for Don's heart. I think the incident was a put-up job on somebody's part to try to get your goat, if possible, and start chain reactions that would blight your joy with him and his pride in you—as has happenel to some extent; but don't let it go any further.

There is no justification for feeling that you've married above yourself. Rather, get wise to the fact that Don, in presenting you to girls of his "class" who knife a newcomer as these girls did, is really casting a pearl before swine; so of course they'll turn and rend you, if they can; that is, if you figuratively bare your bosom to the attack.

As Don's beloved wife, you've a new job to tackle, a new field to conquer, and you can come out on top in his social circle, just as you did in the office, if you proceed as before—with patience, intelligence and willingness to learn—to become full mistress of the situation. Instead of brooding, snap into action. Take dancing lessons, voice lessons, singing lessons, a course in modeling—for posture and swank—and read, read, read—the better literature—as time permits, to enrich your mind and improve your vocabulary, with the ready help of a good dictionary. —M. H.

Former Tech Student Marries In Arkansas

FORDYCE, Ark., Nov. 19 — Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Foord of Bearden, Ark., are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Doris Foord of Fordyce, and Raymond G. Rothwell, son of Mrs. Jesse Rothwell of Fordyce and the late Mr. Rothwell, which took place Sunday afternoon at the Rothwell home with Rev. J. T. Elliff, Baptist pastor, officiating. The bridegroom is a former student of Texas Technological college.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Campbell presented wedding music and Elton Gray of Warren, Ark., and Ulmont Gray of Kingsland, Ark., uncles of the bridegroom, lighted candles.

Miss Ruby Mae Foord was her sister's only attendant and Clois Rothwell served as his brother's best man. Gloria Gray of Warren was ringbearer.

Following a reception, the couple left on a wedding trip to Hot Springs, Ark. Mr. Rothwell, a veteran of World War II, is employed in Fordyce where the couple will live. Mrs. Rothwell, a former student of Iowa State Teachers college at Cedar Falls, Iowa, is employed by the News Publishing company in Fordyce.

Turkey Dinner Given For Methodist Class

One hundred five persons attended a turkey dinner given Thursday night by members of the Hand in Hand class of St. John's Methodist church for their families. Rev. Lloyd Jones of the Floydada First Methodist church, was a special guest.

Franklin Sitterly, accompanied at the piano by his wife, played two flute numbers. Rev. Hubert Bratcher spoke briefly.

Rail Lines May Quit Operation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—The Texas Electric Railway company has been authorized by the Interstate Commerce commission to abandon its 174-mile system in North Texas.

The commission yesterday upheld the contention of the Electric company that the lines—from Dallas to Denison and from Dallas to Waco—have operated at substantial losses.

The federal agency authorized abandonment of the lines subject to the condition that the company will sell the trackage or any portion thereof to any responsible party offering to buy within 40 days for continued operation, and willing to pay the fair net salvage value.

Has Subsidiary

The Railway company has a subsidiary, Texas Electric bus lines, now applying for bus routes between Dallas and Waco.

C. F. McAuliff, vice president of the Railway company, said in Dallas last night that interurbans would make their final runs Dec. 31, if no buyer wants to continue them.

"The company will try for the next 40 days to locate a purchaser who will buy the property at the cash market value of salvage, and continue to operate the lines," he stated.

To End Service

"If no purchaser is found, the company plans to discontinue the interurban passenger, freight and express service with the close of Dec. 31, 1948.

"Beginning Jan. 1, 1949, the Texas Electric bus lines will inaugurate motor bus service between Dallas and Waco with 20 new motor buses," McAuliff said.

He said passengers traveling between Dallas and Denison would be serviced by additional motor coaches operated by existing motor bus lines in that territory.

Tooth Decay Caused By Too Much Sugar

CHICAGO, Nov. 19 (U.P.)—Tooth decay occurs six times as fast as dentists can provide fillings, the Journal of the American Dental Association reports.

The journal said high sugar consumption by children is the major cause of tooth decay. Dentists agree that the main hope for combatting loss of teeth resulting from sugar decay is a greater use of fluorides, which have reduced decay in children's teeth from 40 to 50 per cent.

District Court Jury Finds Man Is Insane

A 99th district court petit jury of which F. F. Hendley was foreman found this morning that Johnie J. Wood, 24, of Plainview, is "now insane."

As a result, a judgment of Judge G. V. Pardue, presiding, will be sent to the county court of Judge Walter Davies, so that Wood may be committed to a state institution for the insane.

The effect of the finding is to place Wood beyond the state's effort to try him on an indictment charging burglary Sept. 22 of a house controlled by Smith Keller—until such time when the defendant may be declared sane. The burglary trial was called for trial this morning.

A previous attempt to try the defendant resulted in a mistrial Oct. 20 when a juror, C. S. Black, became ill and was sent to a hospital. Evidence by the state had commenced.

Sentence Is Suspended

Wood pleaded innocent of the charge. He was represented by W. D. Hollars, a Plainview attorney who Monday filed a motion asking the court to take no further action in the case inasmuch as the defendant, Hollars said, is of "unsound mind."

HAS HIS TROUBLES

HOUSTON, Nov. 19 (U.P.) — Retired railroader Firmin D. Glasscock asked a divorce in district court here today, claiming his wife wouldn't let him use the telephone, often locked him out of the kitchen, and made a practice of snatching his monthly pension check before he could even look at it.

Victim Of Collision Treated For Injuries

W. E. Hurd, 72, of 2436 Twentieth, today was being treated for a fractured left shoulder and bruises suffered Thursday morning in an automobile collision at Spring Lake.

Hurd's condition was reported as satisfactory by hospital attendants.

He was transferred to the local hospital from a Littlefield hospital where he received preliminary treatment for the injuries.

Highway patrolmen said Hurd was thrown from his car onto the pavement when a sprung door on the left side of the driver's seat came open when his car collided with another. He was alone when the accident occurred. Occupants of the other vehicle escaped injury.

Nocona Youth Wasn't Lost; Just Visiting

NOCONA, Nov. 19. (AP)—Fifteen-year-old James Penegraph wasn't lost, he was just visiting his uncle in Wichita Falls.

But Mayor M. K. Thrasher and 100 other residents didn't know that, and this is the reason they spent all of last night in the howling wind and sub-freezing temperature looking for him when James failed to return home from a hunting trip.

Corporal Is Seeking Wife And Racing Car

LAWTON, Okla., Nov. 19. (AP) Langton Hall wants a wife, and he also wants a racing car. He has a plan which he hopes will get him both.

The 23-year-old Fort Sill corporal says he'll marry any woman—if she's between 25 and 45—with enough cash to buy him that racer. He says he's "average looking" and "dead serious."

Langton describes himself as a five-feet eight-inch former professional race car and stunt driver. He's also done some delayed-action parachute jumping.

The soldier says racing cars cost about $25,000. Which should limit the field.

Russian Claims U. S. Building System Against Soviet Union

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Nov. 19.—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky told the United Nations today the United States is building up a western European system directed against the Soviet Union.

He charged also at a full session of the general assembly that the United States and Britain are carrying on a "mad armaments race" against Russia. In both countries, he siad, there is a "war psychosis" against the Soviet Union.

The Russian spoke after John Foster Dulles of the United States attacked the Soviets' proposal for a one-third Arms cut as "almost irresponsible" and a "cruel deception."

Majority Plan Approved

Dulles, speaking at a full meeting of the assembly, urged it to approve unanimously a majority proposal calling for further study of steps toward arms limitations.

Russia attacked that proposal and tossed in her counter-plan that would reduce military personnel and arms of the United States Britain, France, Russia and China. The assembly's political committee has approved the majority plan and defeated the Russian resolution.

Like Dulles, British Minister of State Hector McNeil and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman rejected the Russian proposal. McNeil termed it unrealistic and Schuman said it was deceiving.

The assembly already has voted down a Russian demand that the U N. Atomic Energy commission draw up two treaties: one calling for a ban on the atom bomb and the other establishing an atomic control system.,

Atomic Plan Attacked

Vinshinsky told the assembly today that the majority thus has twice brushed aside the atom bomb question. He added that Russia has repeatedly turned down the international atomic control scheme put forward in 1946 by Bernard Baruch of the United States

The Russian said the principle of atomic control by stages is "utterly unacceptable" and that such a plan would open the door to abuse by any control organ. The Russians, he said, want simultaneous control over all phases of atomic production.

He charged that the United States is trying to obtain control of atomic raw materials and at the same time is retaining its ownership of the finished product.

German Situation Cited

The Western powers have rejected Russia's plans for atomic controls on the ground that it does not provide effective guarantees of control.

Vishinsky also discussed the German situation, claiming that the United States and Britain, with France's support, "buried" proposals for a German peace treaty advanced by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

He also questioned the "good faith" of the three Western powers in opposing Russian moves to write a Japanese peace treaty. Vishinsky then renewed previous charges that the United States is maintaining military bases around the world.

Midwest Storm

Heavy snow piled into five foot drifts isolated scores of towns in the Plains states.

All roads connecting Colorado and Kansas were closed and even the snowplows were stuck. More than 100 motorists were stranded at Limon, Colo., and had to spend the night in private homes or on cots provided at the First Methodist church.

Mayor Ted Strade of Limon appealed to state police to warn motorists to keep out of the area because "the town just can't hold any more stranded people."

Many Roads Blocked

At least 20 towns were isolated along the Republican river valley in Kansas and Nebraska. Short wave radio and other emergency facilities were the only means of communication with communities such as McCook, Neb., and Dodge City, Goodland and Liberal, Kans.

The Kansas highway patrol reported that "half the roads in the western part of the state are blocked."

The Burlington railroad reported that its mainline trains were forced to a crawl through the Nebraska storm area. Dozens of automobiles were reported abandoned on roads near Scottsbluff, Neb.

Storm warnings were hoisted over Lake Michigan and Lake Superior and small boats were ordered into the nearest ports.

Dusters Are Raised

The high winds accompanying the storm raised severe dust storms in sections which escaped the snow and rain. Dust was kicked thousands of feet into the air in West Texas.

The new storm moving onto the Pacific coast was felt as far down as Southern California where dust clouds rose 8,000 feet near Bakersfield. Waves battered many California oceanside towns and forestry officials feared that brush fires might be spread by the high winds.

A Capital Airlines DC-3 overshot the Birmingham, Ala., runway during a severe wind and rainstorm on the southern edge of the storm area. The plane spun sharply on one wheel and dug a wingtip in the mud but none of the six passengers or three crewmen was hurt.

Similar To Blizzard

The weather bureau said the snowfall on the Plains was "similar to a blizzard but lacked the sharp decline in temperatures that usually accompanies a true blizzard."

Forest service officials said they used planes to rescue about a score of hunters marooned in heavy snow from an earlier storm on the middle fork of Idaho's Salmon river. Other hunters in the area, reached by radio-telephone, were reported out of danger.

Sleet and ice made driving dangerous over much of the midlands. Two men were killed in Minnesota when their cars collided on slippery pavement near Willmar.

Heavy drifting snow blocked highway 29 north of Kimball, Neb., and highway 30 near Sidney and Chappell, Neb.

The fall of snow was not near record proportions but the high winds, which neared 70 miles per hour on the Plains, swept it into gleaming white drifts. Akron, Colo., reported a six-inch fall and Chadron, Neb., reported four inches.

Stockraisers in Colorado, New Mexico, Wyoming, Nebraska, Kansas and the Dakotas were warned to drive their herds to shelter to save them from the storm.

In contrast to the bad weather in the midwest, Washington, D. C., reported clear skies and sunny, springlike weather. But the weather bureau said the capital's fine weather would disappear as the storm arrived in the east Saturday or Sunday the Suchow defenders.

On the nationalists' side were these points:

The government air force was intact — no mention has been made of any losses—and it knew what it could do against massed troops without cover.

The government halted the Red advance without the use of reinforcements and supplies stalled at Pengpu, midway between Suchow and Nanking. These presumably would be available in the next phase.

The entire length of the Pukow-Suchow rail line, with many miles of tracks destroyed, was reported in government hands, although some neutral sources doubted this.

Plans Not Altered

The situation did not alter American evacuation plans. The first U. S. Navy ships taking American civilians from China will sail for San Francisco from Shanghai Monday. The Army transport Simon B. Buckner, due at Yokohama yesterday with 350 U. S. evacuees was delayed at least until late today as it dodged a typhoon sweeping northeastward off the Honshu coast. U. S. Army planes began evacuating Americans from Hankow.

(The Navy announced in Pearl Harbor its transport Bayfield will leave Guam for Tsingtao about Nov. 23 with 1,250 marines to bolster the leatherneck force in that Shantung peninsula navy base).

Brother Of Lubbock Man Dies In Mishap

EASTLAND, Nov. 19. (AP)—Henry Webster Martin, 45, farmer of the Long Branch community of this county, died in a Rising Star hospital last night of injuries suffered earlier in the day in a tractor mishap.

Martin was pulling a model-T Word when a ball pivot flew out and struck him in the head. He died four hours later. Funeral services were held today at the Long Branch Baptist church.

Survivors include his wife and son, H. D. Martin, and a sister, Mrs. Jack Willis of Eastland, and a brother of Lubbock.

Iowa Action Shows Vote Independence

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—Note on the independence of the voting populace: Two Iowa Republicans, Senator Wilson and Rep. Cunningham, worked like beavers this year to put over a bill granting voting rights to 1,100 veterans then disfranchised because they live on government military land at Fort Des Moines.

The newly-privileged veterans voted Democratic in the recent election by a margin of 8 to 3.

Charlie F. Fuller, deputy supervisor of the Texas Liquor Control board, and Mrs. Fuller are hosts at their 3201 Nineteenth residence to two men with whom Fuller served in the 832nd guard squadron at Randolph field before the unit was broken up for overseas shipment. They are Ansel Bridgeford, a potato farmer of East Grand Forks, Minn., and T/Sgt. Bert L. Reeves of Walker Air Force base at Roswell, N. M. Mrs. Bridgeford and a son, 2-year-old Gary accompanied Bridegford here.

C. E. Hunt of 1007 Fifteenth, administrator of Lubbock Memorial hospital, today was reported to be in satisfactory condition at the hospital, where Thursday morning he underwent major surgery.

Jerry Falco, 4-year-old son of John Falco of Los Angeles, Calif., this morning was said to be resting well at Lubbock Memorial hospital. The youth was admitted Thursday, with a skull fracture suffered in a fall from the back seat of a moving automobile onto the Lubbock-Abernathy highway. He fell from the car while he, his father and an uncle were en route to Abernathy to visit relatives.

Slight damage was done this morning in a fire in a dwelling owned by H. C. Trammel, at 1608 Ave. C. Firemen said the blaze started when a wall behind a stove became overheated and ignited.

G. C. (Mule) Dowell, member of the Lubbock Independent school district board, discussed the forthcoming school bond issue election as a feature of the luncheon of the American Business club at the Hilton hotel today noon. An open forum followed Dowell's brief talk. Maj. Britt May, Washington, D. C.; and Charles Schmidt, Lawrenceburg, Ind., and W. P. Whitson, Denver, were out-of-town guests.

First Lt. Michael A. Elliott, former instructor in the Army Organized Reserve corps here, left this week to assume new duties at Ft. Eustis, Va. He had been stationed in Lubbock for about 30 days.

City firemen said a small apartment at rear of 1618 Ave. C was damaged by fire at midmorning. A gas stove probably was responsible, they said.

Rita Hayworth And Indian Prince Fly To Havana Together But Both Deny Romance

HAVANA, Nov. 19 (INS)—Glamorous Rita Hayworth and her admiring Indian prince, Aly Khan flew into Havana from Mexico City on the same plane but smilingly denied any romantic inclinations toward each other.

They both chorused "it's just a coincidence" when reporters asked why they were traveling together.

And then, as though to prove it, the blonde beauty of the movies and the wealthy prince parted as quickly as they could at the airport to prevent photographers from snapping them together.

The couple then headed, individually, for the Nacional hotel where both had reservations.

Miss Hayworth, wearing sports clothes and her hair hanging in a loose bob, and Aly Khan both tried to avoid interviewers, and to keep out of the range of photographers.

The actress finally told newsmen:

"We are simply very good friends."

When a reporter persisted and asked "is there a marriage in prospect?" Rita shook her head and said:

Staying Until Sunday

"I am staying in Havana only until Sunday at the most. I must return to Hollywood to begin work on a new film."

Aly Khan repeated the actress's "simply friends" statement, then said he already is a married man although separated from his wife he is not free to pursue a new romance.

Reports of a romantic attachment between the actress and the son of India's fabulously wealthy Aga Khan have persisted ever since they met on the Riviera last summer.

They have been traveling together much of the time since then, and had been in Mexico since Nov. 1

Teacher Burned To Death At Henrietta

HENRIETTA, Nov. 19. (AP)—Miss Lulu Johnson, pioneer first grade teacher at Henrietta, was burned to death when flames, fanned by a high wind, destroyed her home early this morning.

Her body was taken from the ruins by volunteer firemen. She apparently had been overcome by smoke after rousing Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Douglas, her sister and brother-in-law. They were rescued from a second story porch by two unidentified oil field workers.

Girls Throw Rail Switches As Hobby

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 19. (AP)—Three 13-year-old girls admitted to police their after-school hobby was throwing assorted switches in Minneapolis railroad yards.

They were especially thrilled when a switch engine was derailed by one of their escapades. Police sidetracked them to their parents.

Two boys, nine and 11, ran away from home, got cold and "shacked up" in a deserted roadside stand. The fire they started not only warmed them but burned down the stand. Another "warming" was administered when the two were taken home, firemen said.

Simplest case on the day's docket was that of Jearold Marshall, three, who choked on a marble. The fire department rescue squad was called. A fireman slapped Jearold on the back—out popped the marble.

Circuit Rider

in Parker, Palo Pinto, Erath and Hood counties. "Distances don't make much difference. . . Ollie and I get up early and travel late. And we take the near cuts. . . . Just strike out over the fields and little roads and once in awhile we hit an old road, no longer in use, that I traveled decades ago. A man can really think back riding an old road for an old road's like meeting an old friend."

Composes, Rehearses Sermons

While following the plow on weekdays or riding Ollie to church on week-ends, Forbes composes and rehearses his sermons. "I followed Brother Forbes across my ranch the other day," a friend says. "He didn't know I was there and I listened to one of the best sermons I ever heard."

And Forbes declares: "A man can lose himself and prepare a sermon on horseback. He never could do that in a car—most likely he'd find himself in a ditch."

Sometimes, riding along on Ollie, Brother Forbes reflects on the state of the world. "I've always been an optimist and hope I always will be. I think everything will turn out for the best. There's a great world crime wave on now, but crime waves ebb and flow like the ocean tides."

Native of Missouri

A native of Pettus county, Mo., Forbes came to Collin county, Texas in 1889. He went to Add-Ran Christian college at Thorp Spring, Hood county (a school that later became Texas Christian university). After leaving the college in 1898 he taught school in Parker and Hood counties before settling down to his main occupation as a farmer.

Brown-eyed Brother Forbes was Parker county's representative in the Texas legislature from 1926 to 1932. Slightly built and of medium height, he weighs 140 pounds. His thick crop of hair is now grey. "Once it was red as a woodchuck—folks could warm their hands over it in the winter."

Overalls, a cotton shirt and an old straw hat cannot hide the innate dignity of this quiet, serious, well-loved man. There is dignity in his weatherproof face, in his manner and voice, and in his strong, toil-scarred hands the dignity is there.

Follow Lonely Road

To find the oldtimer you follow a lonely county road a dozen miles south of Weatherford. You go through a couple of barbed wire gates, cross a cotton field path and stop your car at the bank of a dry river. After that, you are on foot and you follow the river a quarter of a mile, cross it, and walk through snagging brush another quarter of a mile and then you catch sight of Forbes and Ollie, plowing.

This year, he and Ollie plowed, planted and picked three acres of cotton which yielded a bale, and five acres of corn which amounted to 125 bushels. All that, besides the feed crop. Forbes never hires any help. "Ollie and I do every lick."

The pair are admirably suited. "Ollies goes along nice and slow but she keeps going. When I was younger and after I wasn't so young, I followed a team of mules, but those plagued mules just wore me down."

Forbes has a son and a daughter. His wife died in 1931.

Never Sets a Fee

He never sets any fee for his sermons—just takes any pay the churches want to give him. He spends Saturday nights at the homes of the brethren. "I'm always welcome."

Brother Forbes can read the New Testament in Greek as easily as in English but he doesn't read the Bible much any more.

"I've read it so much that now I just think the Bable instead of reading it. I just turn the verses and chapters over in my mind."

He preaches without notes. "Folks have been after me to set down some of my sermons for the young men who will come along when I'm gone." He stood ankle deep in the sandy loam of his lonely field, surveyed those 10 acres and sighed: "I'll do it if I ever have enough time." He smiled faintly at this and added: "No man ever has enough time."

Musical Comedy Star Keeps On Singing With Hair Afire

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—Musical comedy star Dorothy Sarnoff said today she couldn't see anything so unusual about going on with the show, even while her hair was on fire.

Miss Sarnoff was kneeling, singing a prayerful song entitled "Lost" during the second act of the musical Magdalena last night when a floodlight directly over the stage exploded, showering bits of hot glass and pieces of red-hot filament on her head.

"My God, her hair's on fire," a woman in the audience screamed. Others rose to their feet in excitement.

Hearing the stir from the crowd, the leading man, John Riatt, turned in the middle of a speech. Miss Sarnoff was still kneeling and singing, wisps of smoke rising from her burning hair.

Riatt rushed across the stage and beat out the fire with his hands, while the actress continued her song.

"I could smell the smoke," Miss Sarnoff said later. "But I was sure John would do something. All I could think of was that I had to keep singing."

Damages were not serious. The actress estimated she lost about one-and-a-half inches of hair from the top of her head.

"But I'll be able to comb it across so it will hardly show," she said. "Poor John came off worse, he blistered his hands putting out the fire."

$35,325 Damage Suit Filed In Collision

John C. Copeland filed suit this morning in the 99th district court of Judge G. V. Pardue asking judgment of $35,325 in damages as outgrowth of a collision of his car with another Sept. 13 at College Ave. and Nineteenth.

He named W. E. Surovik as defendant.

The petition was filed by J. B. Cotten of Seagraves and the Abilene law firm of Scarborough, Yates, Scarborough and Black.

School Trustees To Consider Petitions

A special meeting of the board of trustees of Lubbock Independent school district will be held at the school's business office, 1007 Texas Ave., at 7 o'clock tonight for the purpose of considering petitions for bond election, it was announced this morning.

Several petitions containing several hundred names have been received requesting a bond election in the amount of $1,250,000 to finance construction of new elementary schools and additions and alterations to existing schools, Jackson said.

The petitions are said to request an election on or about Dec. 4.

Stomach Ache Due For Twins' Puppy

LEEDS, Eng., Nov. 19. (AP)—Mrs. Doris Leake, an 18-month-old twin son under each arm, dashed to the hospital.

One of them, she said, had swallowed the wheel of a toy car. She didn't know which, but she couldn't find the wheel.

Doctors did what doctors do and informed Mrs. Leake that neither Ian nor Paul had a wheel in his innards. They thought perhaps "Topper," the twins' puppy, might be having a stomach ache later today.

rulers is the biggest guarantee that those friendly relations will increase to the mutual advantage of both countries."

The communique did not give the exact date of the divorce.

Twenty-eight-year old Farouk was married in January, 1938. The bride, then 17, was Sasi Naz Sulfikar, granddaughter of Mohammed Pasha Said, former prime minister of Egypt. Her father Youssef Sulfikar Pasha, subsequently was named Egyptian ambassador in Teheran.

Three daughters were born to the royal couple. There was no male offspring of the marriage. According to the Egyptian constitution only males can inherit the throne.

The three princesses are Ferial, born Nov. 17, 1938; Fawzia, born April 7, 1940 and Fadia, born Dec. 15, 1943.

Farouk changed his wife's name to Farida, meaning "peerless" and gave her a birthday check for $50,000. Farouk, who was educated in England, inherited $50,000,000 from his father, King Fuad. His annual income has been estimated at about $500,000.

Empress Fawzia, oldest sister of King Farouk, was born Nov. 5, 1921. She was married to the then heir to the Iranian throne March 15, 1939, and was proclaimed empress of Iran Sept. 17, 1941.

The couple have one daughter, Princess Chahinaz, now about seven years old, who is living with her father in Tehran.

Classes Of "Crime School" Instructress And Her Youthful Students Ended By Police Probe

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 19 (INS) Classes ended today for an elderly, admitted "crime school" instructress and her youthful students.

Mrs. Florence Moomaw, sixty-ish housewife and grandmother, was held in Springfield city jail after confessing that she taught lessons in crime to three youths and two little girls.

Officers said the woman admitted playing "female Fagin" while her husband, unaware of what was going on, worked nights on a railroad.

Members of the alleged ring included three youths, now in jail on armed robbery charges, Mrs. Moomaw's 11-year-old granddaughter and the 14-year-old niece of one of the boys.

"School" Uncovered

Police said they uncovered the "school" during an investigation of the $194 armed holdup of one woman and the attempted robbery of another.

Mrs. Moomaw was exposed by three young men arrested in connection with the crimes—Clifford Van Wert, 23, an exconvict; Robert Near, 18, and Paul Black, 17.

Authorities said the trio admitted their guilt, claiming they had been carrying out their "teacher's" lessons.

According to police, the woman at first denied the accusation, but finally broke down when confronted with detailed information gleaned from the youths and the two little girls.

Received Share Of Loot

The girls said they had sat in on the briefing sessions and received an equal share in the loot from the first robbery last Friday night.

Assistant State's Attorney Keith Dressendorfer termed the story "one of the most fantastic I've ever heard." He said he would order a mental test for Mrs. Moomaw.

Mrs. Moomaw was quoted as saying she had formed the gang and planned the robberies.

According to her tale, she had instructed the youths in crime techniques, how to escape and how to dispose of loot.

To Prey On Women

Dressendorfer said she told them to prey on women. He said they had planned a filling station holdup in which the younger girl was to lure the night watchman outside while the others robbed the place.

The officials said the two little girls, now in custody of juvenile authorities, were full-fledged members of the ring and planned to go with them later to other towns to continue the crime spree.

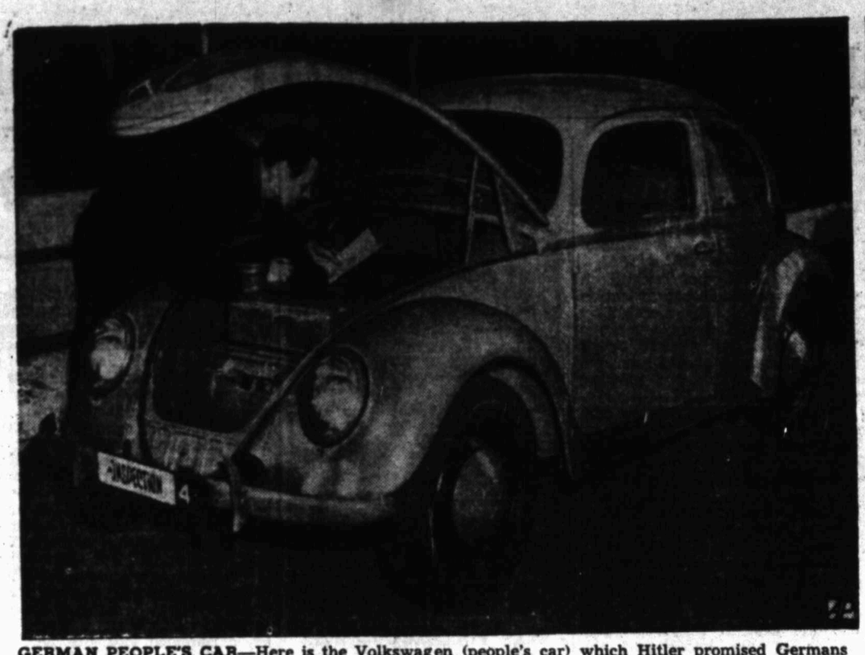

Dressendorfer said Mrs. Moomaw's granddaughter also had related that she had been criminally used by Von Wert, as well as "so many other boys she couldn't remember them all."

Charged With Rape

Von Wert, who was charged with statutory rape, denied the accusation. But Mrs. Moomaw and the other little girl confirmed the story.

Von Wert, the other two men and Mrs. Moomaw are charged with armed robbery and attempted armed robbery. The woman is also charged with contributing to delinquency of a minor.

Officers said that when arrested, Mrs. Moomaw begged police not to let the news reach her husband. Dressendorfer later described him as "very embarrassed" by the revelation of his wife's activities.

DENTON, Nov. 19 (AP) — Two men who burned to death yesterday when their plane struck a high tension wire and crashed and burned in a field near Lewisville were tentatively identified as Herman Hunter, 22, pilot, and William H. Gilbert, about 23, passenger.

Hunter is the father of two children and lived near Denton. Gilbert came here a month ago from Lakeland, Fla.

"Practical" Gifts Wanted, Poll Shows

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 (INS), — If a poll of 2,000 women means anything, the fairer sex is ready to settle for "practical" Christmas gifts this year.

So reports Cosmopilitan magazine today, but it hastens to add that what the little woman considers practical, and what hubby or boy friend place in that category, may not be the same.

The magazine says the American woman thinks a fur coat would be a "practical" remembrance from Santa Claus. She also would welcome "lacy" underthings and such practical oddments as a "frilly" negligee or "matching alligator bag and shoes."

Tech Grad Given Credit In Helping Inspire Theater

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP)—Architect Frank Lloyd Wright today revealed plans for his first theater, which he said will be "revolutionary."

He said it will be "an automatic labor-saving machine sealed from noise and making none."

The silver-haired, 79-year-old Wright showed a model of the structure, a 750-seat auditorium which can be expanded to 1,000 seats, and said the theater will be built in Hartford, Conn., and completed in time for a mid-summer opening next year.

Tech Grad Given Credit

His "new theater," octagonal in shape and without a balcony, is being financed by a group of Hartford businessmen who plan to operate it under community sponsorship. The theater will make wide use of automatic devices, including elevators and a revolving stack, and will have a concealed orchestra which can see the stage action, but cannot be seen by the audience.

Wright said he began his design for the theater when Paton Price, a graduate of Texas Technological college, wrote him from Ann Arbor, Mich., where he was a patient in an Army hospital, and asked him about ideas for a modern theater. Wright invited Price to his workshop at Spring Green, Wis., and began the plan for the Hartford playhouse which Price and Morgan O'Brien James will direct.

Wright is especially optimistic about the accoustics he promises in the theater.

"An actor should never have to raise his voice," he said. "This theater is expected to take the ham out of the actor."

(Efforts to obtain more information on when Mr. Price graduated at Tech were unavailable in Lubbock last night. However, he was a widely known student and was believed to have been a speech major.)

London Baby To Get Layette From U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—The cockney baby born in a London slum four minutes before the birth of Britain's new prince is going to get an American layette.

It will be the gift of a group of workers at the Woodward and Lothrop Department store here. They got the idea when they read about the humble birth of Elizabeth Thilp, infant daughter of a $22-a-week London bus conductor, in a United Press dispatch in the Washington Post.

Baby Elizabeth, the dispatch said, was born in one of London's poorest east end maternity hospitals just four minutes before Princess Elizabeth gave birth to a son in Buckingham palace.

"For her playroom," it went on, "she will have the drab London docks. Her toys will be wooly pig and a celluloid doll which her mother bought for her out of her housekeeping piggy bank . . . "

Truth Serum Recording Allowed In Trial Of Man For Murder

MARTINEZ, Calif., Nov. 19. (AP) Can a "truth tserum" determine whether a man committed murder?

A wire recording made while the defendant was under the influence of the drug, sodium pentothal, was played during a murder trial yesterday. Superior Judge Hugh Donovan, who permitted it, said, "This might be unique in the annals of law."

In the hour-long recording, Kenneth Long, 26-year-old Air Force sergeant, denied the fatal stabbing of his wife, Barbara Jean, 22, last June and accused another man.

Sought Reconciliation

On Wednesday, testifying in court, Long had said he couldn't remember but "from the looks of things, I guess I must have done it."

The recorded version of the slaying was made Oct. 30 after Dr. Meyer A. Zeligs, member of the University of California medical faculty, had administered the drug.

Long's recorded statement said he flew home from Alaska for a reconciliation with his wife, that she professed love for another and didn't know whether Long or the other man was father of her second child.

Statement Not Testimony

The statement said while they were talking the other man appeared with a butcher knife and "he killed my wife; I saw him kill her; he stabbed her twice."

Judge Donovan told the jurors the recording should be considered as background on the psychological condition of Long but not as testimony on actual commission of crime.

The judge recessed the court and ordered the man named by Long, a 27-year-old former sailor, brought to court. The district attorney's office said this man was contacted "somewhere in the northwest" and was expected today to testify.

Few Upsets Are Expected In Major College Grid Games

Northwestern Rose Bowl Hopes Rising

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 19—Always remembering that happiness can't buy money, this forecaster hurries through the next-to-last list of football games.

Last week only 12 guesses went bad out of 75 chances for an average of .840. That brought the year's total to 514 correct picks, 113 incorrect for an average of .820.

Here are this week's sure-fire winners:

Michigan at Ohio State: If pre-game hysteria decided the contests this would be an Ohio victory now and no game tomorrow would be needed. The Wolverines can't go to the Rose Bowl. And neither will Ohio State. Michigan.

Yale at Harvard: Remember when this game was the choice tidbit of the year? Now its interest is restricted to the east coast. Harvard's spinners will prove too much for the much-battered seven dwarfs of Yale. Harvard.

Illinois at Northwestern: Art Murakowski is gaining the reputation as one of the best running backs in the country. He should be the difference—a victory that would carry the Wildcats right into the Rose Bowl. Northwestern.

Baylor at Southern Methodist: Baylor was unbeaten in its first six games, now has lost two in a row. Here's the third. SMU.

Stanford at California: A much weaker Stanford club lost to California by only three points a year ago. But California also has improved and this year's result should be about the same. California.

Furman at Georgia: The Georgians, now among the nation's best, will be pre-occupied with their coming game against Georgia Tech. Furman will need more help than that. Georgia.

Washington State at Michigan State: George Guerre will make the West coast team wish it had remained at home. Michigan State.

More Sadness For Harry

Minnesota at Wisconsin: Those big Gophers will bring more sadness to Coach Harry Stuhldreher and when the fans shout "good bye" at the game it will be because of Billy Bye, Minnesota's best back. Minnesota.

Duke at North Carolina: The rival coaches admit their lines are about on a par. The Tarheel backs are better. North Carolina.

Southern California at UCLA: Not much to choose here but the Trojans appear the stronger. Southern California.

Oklahoma at Kansas: The teams have identical records—defeats in their opening games, then seven straight victories. But Oklahoma also has Buddy Burris, an outstanding guard. That's enough. Oklahoma.

Duquesne at Clemson: Bobby Gage is one of the nation's best passers. He will see to it that Clemson remains unbeaten. Clemson.

Alabama at Louisiana State: No question about this one. Alabama.

And Here Are The Rest

Skipping over the rest in a hurry:

East: Boston college over St. Mary's, Columbia over Syracuse, Georgetown over George Washington, Holy Cross over Temple, Iowa over Boston university, Lafayette over Lehigh, Penn State over Pittsburgh, Rutgers over Fordham, Villanova over San Francisco, West Virginia over Western Reserve, Brooklyn over Renssalear, Muhlenberg over Bucknell, New York university over Kings Point, Wesleyan over Rochester, Washington & Lee over Delaware, Toledo over New Hampshire.

South: Georgia Tech over The Citadel, Miami (Fla) over Florida, Tennessee over Kentucky, Tulane over Cincinnati, Vanderbilt over Maryland, William & Mary over North Carolina State, Washington (Mo) over Sewanee, Wofford over Randolph-Macon.

Midwest: Marquette over South Dakota, Missouri over Nebraska, Purdue over Indiana, Xavier (O) over Marshall, Wichita over Southwestern (Kas), Western Michigan over Ohio university, St. Louis over Missouri Mines, Dayton over Iowa Teachers, Ohio Wesleyan over Washington & Jefferson.

Southwest: Arkansas over Tulsa, Hardin-Simmons over Arizona (Tempe) State, Rice over Texas Christian, Texas Tech over New Mexico.

Far West: Colorado over Colorado A. & M., Iowa State over Arizona, Montana over North Dakota, Oregon over Oregon State, Washington over Idaho, Wyoming over Brigham Young, College of Pacific over Santa Barbara, Pepperdine over California Tech, San Diego over California Poly.

Sunday: St. Bonaventure over St Vincent, Scranton over Niagara, Loras over St. Benedict's.

Midland Will Meet Lamesa

LAMESA, Nov. 19 (Special) — Midland's surging Bulldogs will invade McCollum field tonight to battle the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes in a District 3-AA clash that will close the 1948 grid slate of the Lamesa eleven.

A crowd of approximately 2,000 persons is expected for the final tilt of the season, with the Lamesa eleven bidding for its third victory of the year. The Tornadoes have been defeated in six tussles, while chalking up a single tie.

Coach Bob Harrel's squad is in good shape for the fray, with veterans Art Bizzell, quarterback, and Johnsye Tankersley, guard and fullback, ready to lead the locals in their bid for a last-game triumph.

Midland, lightly regarded in early season, has been improving rapidly. The Bulldogs recently upset San Angelo and trounced Big Spring. The Bulldogs, paced by backfield ace Bobby Price, are two-touchdown favorites over the home gridders.

Lamesa fans will be on hand at kickoff time to pay tribute to Tankersley, a 185-pound four letter winner who has missed only six minutes of playing time in the last three seasons. An outstanding lineman through his high school career, Tankersley has operated from the fullback slot this year on offense. He is expected to strengthen his bid for an all-district post in the setto with the Bulldogs.

Eight seniors will be playing their final game for the Tornadoes, including Tankersley, Bizzell, Bill Scott, Bennie Eggleston and four reserves.

Next season Lamesa is slated to compete in a new 3-AA lineup, against Lubbock, Odessa, Brownfield and Midland.

Junior Conference May Accept Schools

KILGORE, Nov. 19. (AP)—Expansion of the Southwestern Junior College conference, now made up of eight schools, may result this year.

T. L. Arterberry, dean of Kilgore college and president of the conference, says three colleges have indicated they would like to join the circuit. They are Northeast Center and McNeese Junior colleges of Louisiana and Little Rock Ark., junior college.

The annual meeting of the conference will be held in Dallas Dec. 10-11.

Arterberry said addition of the schools to the conference will not be considered should the present eight members vote to remain in the circuit. They are Kilgore, San Angelo, Paris, John Tarleton, Schreiner, Tyler, North Texas Agricultural college and Lamar of Beaumont.

Tech's Raiders Wind Up Drills

The Red Raiders of Texas Tech virtually wound up preparation yesterday for the game with New Mexico here Saturday, when the thoroughly-chilled football squad went through a short, intensive drill in cold winds and blowing sand.

If the betting experts are correct, the game should not be close, with the Raiders being given anywhere from 13 to 34 points over the Lobos. They need win only this or the Hardin-Simmons game to clinch no worse than a tie for the Border Conference crown.

The Raiders are set to turn in an impressive performance Saturday so that there will be no question about the better team and the best in the loop. But Raider coaches know that the odds placed on the Techsans are out of line and that it will be a tough scrap all the way. Physically the squad is ready and eager to collide with the Lobos, who have won but twice this year, although they haven't lost decisively to anyone save Texas.

Defense Neglected

An indication of how badly the Techsans want to win the game has been shown in the two weeks of practice for the game. During this period, little attention has been paid to defense, with virtually all the stress on offense. New plays have been brought forth, timing perfected and blocking assignments learned. The plays include wide end sweeps, quick-opening plays and a variety of passing plays.

Coach Dell Morgan and his staff expect a close, hard game with the Lobos, who have everything to win and nothing to lose. The coaches have deep respect for Coach Berl Huffman and his ability to key up a team for one game. They are certain that this is the game.

LOBOS DETERMINED TO WIN SATURDAY AGAINST TECH

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 19 (Special)—Coaches and players at New Mexico University took only a fleeting glance backward at the Drake game this week before settling down to serious, determined sessions to get ready for Texas Tech.

The Lobos know that local fans have written the game off as a loss because of the way Tech has been winning this year, but the Hilltoppers don't look at the game in that light. They are determined to win this game and to show that last year's last half rally was no fluke.

Ready Air Offensive

In the Drake game, Halfback Bill Roche was the leading Lobo ball carrier, piling up an average of 6.4 yards per carry. Fullback Rudy Krall was the team's best ground gainer with a total of 55 yards. The Lobos, incidentally, made more first downs and more yards rushing than the Bulldogs.

Coaches Berl Huffman and Walker Nichols this week spent considerable time readying an air game for the Red Raiders. Although Tech will be a heavy favorite, the Lobos will be out to turn this prediction sour with their own offense. It is an offense which has failed to gain in only one game this season and the coaches feel that they can buoy it up to click in the pay-off area.

Several hundred New Mexico students are expected to make the trip to Lubbock, along with the university band, cheer leaders and pep squad. The players will leave Albuquerque Friday morning by bus and are expected to arrive in Lubbock about 3:30 p. m.

Commission Willing To Forgive Fighter

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—The Savannah (Ga.) boxing commission, which was considerably peeved when heavyweight Billy Conn failed to go through with a scheduled bout there last night, was willing to forget about the whole thing today.

Harvey L. Miller, executive secretary of the National Boxing association, said that Leon Collins, Savannah boxing commissioner, had withdrawn his intention of asking the N. B. A. to suspend the Pittsburgh fighter.

Conn was to have met Whitey Berlier of New Orleans at Savannah but withdrew when he claimed he was suffering from a hand injury.

STAR FULLBACK — Rudy Krall of New Mexico is rated one of the top backs in the Border Conference and the husky 200-pounder has been stopped only once this year. Texas halted his rushes, but Krall still emerged the top Lobo that day. He is one of the chief threats that the Lobos will fire at Texas Tech tomorrow afternoon in Jones Stadium.

Robinson Will Fight Belloise

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 (AP)—One flight up, over a Broadway dime-a-dance palace, they were settling final details for the Ray Robinson-Steve Belloise fight at Jersey City, Dec. 9.

Robinson, who sometimes "forgets" appointments, showed up. There was a $20,000 guarantee to consider. Among other things, the welterweight champ wore a handsome sport coat and a fringe of chin whiskers.

Has Bet On Shave

"I got a bet with Joe," he explained with a grin, "first guy shaves before Christmas loses $100."

In Robinson's vocabulary, there is only one Joe—Joe Louis.

When the paper work for the non-title contest being promoted by the Tournament of Champions was done, the questions started popping. Most of them were aimed at Sugar Ray.

"Are you going to defend your welter title?" was the first. "How about the story that you are giving it up?"

Robinson mumbled something about a rumor starting in California.

Trouble With Weight

Robinson admitted he weighed 154 pounds and would have trouble getting down to the welter limit of 147.

"Will you say definitely that you will defend your title," the fellow continued.

"No," Robinson said slowly. "Not definitely. You see it all depends."

"Depends on what . . . money" was the logical question.

"Yes, that's it," he answered, "you'd better not say money, say it depends on the right kind of a business proposition."

There was no evasion when Robinson was asked if he would like to fight Marcel Cerdan for the middleweight championship in case Tony Zale decides to retire. Tony is supposed to make up his mind after the first of the year.

Would Welcome It

"We welcome it," beamed Manager George Gainford, beating Robinson to the punch.

'How about Belloise?" asked Steve's manager, Eddie Walker. "Don't anybody want to know about him? We're going to knock out Robinson and fight that Cerdan ourselves."

The Frenchman, who knocked out Zale in September, arrived by plane late yesterday for a series of exhibition bouts.

"I will fight anybody," he said. He looked like he meant it.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

by Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 (AP)—Except for a possibly long discussion of bonus legislation, a matter which doesn't concern him much, National League President Ford Christopher Frick is looking for a rather quiet time at the winter baseball meetings next month . . . "There may be considerable talk about the hbonus rule and several amendments have been proposed," Frick admitted, "but I won't comment on that because I'm not an operator. For the league it's only a matter of bookkeeping. Besides, one person says this and another says that, and I dont know what is the right solution . . . Outside of that, everybody is prosperous and everybody is happy. Nobody even wants to start a fight—but let attendance fall off four or five million and they'll start something." On that basis, the minor league gathering this winter may produce the action.

Weight An See

Herbert "Buddy" O'Connor, the Rangers' injured hockey star, went up to the Polo grounds the other day to get Giants Trainer Gus Mauch to fit him with a special cast to protect his chest . . . Gus was applying the stuff when the football Giants trooped into the dressing room and stood around looking popeyed at the little guy who won two trophies last season in a game that's supposed to be rougher than football . . . finally a 225-pounder whispered: "Wonder what he weighs?" . . . Just then Buddy answered indirectly: "Gosh, this thing is heavy. With it, I'll probably weigh 148."

One-Minute Sports Page

Latest bowl "tip" is that it's North Carolina vs. Oklahoma in the Sugar bowl and one gent who has seen both teams says the Sooners will "massacre" them . . . Some of the heat has been taken out of West coast criticism of the Big Nine Rose bowl setup since California writers got busy demanding a California-Oregon playoff for the coast conference title . . . The Ice Follies has the only traveling bowling league officially sanctioned by the American Bowling Congress . . . Joe Sheehan, New York Times track writer, will be presented a plaque by the Walkers club of America in recognition of his interest in the sport of walking. That's going to embarrass Joe the next time he takes a taxi to go three blocks.

Dots All, Brothers

Middleweight Lee Sala will try for his 46th consecutive victory against Reuben Jones in Pittsburgh next Monday . . . A couple of unusual ball players in the Brooklyn Dodgers' chain are a pair of full-blooded Indians, Melvin and Drexel Waters, who played last season for Idaho Falls in the Pioneer league. Melvin goes to Fort Worth next spring and Drexel to Pueblo, Colo. . . . The fans appropriately nick-named them "Cool" and "Still" Waters.

TU Cross Country Squad Is Underdog

AUSTIN, Nov. 18. (AP)—The University of Texas cross country squad, never defeated in a Conference meet, will be an underdog for the first time today at College Station.

The Longhorn team is much weaker this season than in 1947 as the result of losing two top men, Jerry Thompson and Don Sparks.

Texas A. and M. is favored to capture the championship, which has gone to Texas the past 18 years.

Runners for Texas will be Dick Brooks, Wayne Hanson, Bobby Whisenant, Yowell Hawkinson, Bobby Bauman, Adrian Salling and Walter Broemer.

All-District 4-A Squad Is Selected

All-District 4-A, south half, football team was announced Thursday following a meeting of loop coaches and school officials, with Post's undefeated Antelopes dominating the all-star selection.

Maurice Fluitt, Post's outstanding wingman, was named to the left end slot on the all-star eleven, with Post Center Jimmy Smith moving into the pivot slot. Calvin Storie, who bulwarked the Antelope forward wall from a guard post, gained top recognition, as did Halfback Junior Malouf. Malouf, swivel-hipped speedster, was the spark of the Antelope offense that defeated nine consecutive opponents this season.

Seagraves Places One

O'Donnell, Slaton and Tahoka each garnered two places on the first team, with Seagraves collecting one spot on the top eleven. O'Donnell's Eagles placed Tackle Bobby Rains and Quarterback Joe Palmer, while Slaton's Tigers were honored by the selection of Tackle Carl Williams and Fullback Tom Smith. Smith, a battering linesmasher despite his light weight, was one of the top backs of the South Plains this year.

Tahoka's Bulldogs, champions of the district in 1947, placed two men on the all-star grid team. End Duane Carter, a brilliant pass-snagger and steady defensive player, copped a wing post, while Halfback Clark Farr completed the backfield.

Tahoka and O'Donnell shared honors on the second team, with three players each named to the eleven. Tahoka placed End Douglas McNeely, Tackle Almond Crotwell and Quarterback Bob Boyd; while O'Donnell placed Center Richard Maxwell, End Carrol Pearson and Halfback Arvis Grogan.

Second, Honorable Mention

Tackle George Pierce and Fullback Ronnie Boucher of Post made the second team, as did Guard Johnny Melcher of Slaton. Seagraves gained recognition for Guard Bob Dale and Halfback Kenneth Jackson.

Honorable mention went to the following players: Laurence Morgan, Slaton; Dean Kenny, Seagraves; Charley McGuire, Post; Buddy Brock, O'Donnell; Jimmy Small, Tahoka; Alvis Collins, Slaton; Jack Hale, Seagraves; Robert Issacs, O'Donnell; James White, Tahoka; Donald Carpenter, Post.

Titles To Be Decided In Class B Football

(By The Associated Press)

Twenty-two district champions have been named in class B football and the remaining 24 titlists will be decided by next week.

Class B football goes only to regional championships, meaning there will be 11 regions to determine champions.

District champions decided to date: Happy, Hale Center, Idalou, Marfa, Iraan, Hermleigh, Bridgeport, Corsicana State Home, Beckville, Elkhart, Groveton, A. and M. Consolidated, Midway, Anahuac, Crosby, Tomball, Sweeny, Katy and Ingleside, Talco, Port Lavaca, and Mathes.

Baylor Bears Ready For Tilt With SMU

WACO, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—The Baylor Bears fidgeted through a "waiting period" today but were ready to meet SMU at full strength in Dallas tomorrow.

The Bears tapered off yesterday with an offensive workout.

BOWLING SCORES

Mission Orange took over the top spot in the City Bowling league Thursday night with a three game sweep over the State Drug keglers. Ann Owens tallied a 153-448 series for the Mission Orange keglers and Joyce Vaughn topped the losers with a 154-403.

Bell Ice Cream moved up in the loop standings with two wins over the Hemphill-Wells pin-toppiers, as Loorie Beavers chalked up a 167-441 series. Silver Behrens paced the Hemphill-Wells crew with a 165-402.

Lubbock Packing, led by Frances McDowell's 152-427 series, won two of three games from the Lubbock National Keglers.

Hub Laundry won three straight tilts from the KCBD crew to complete the slate. Maxine Buckner tallied a 203-487 for the Laundry five, while Pat Hoetger chalked up a 166-451 for the losers.

The league standings:

TEAMS	W	L
Mission Orange	23	10
Hub Laundry	22	11

Schoolboys To Try For Titles

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Five more district champions can be crowded tonight to leave just eight blank spots in Texas schoolboy football's playoff pattern.

Titles are in balance in district two of the city conference and in districts 10, 12, 13 and 14 of class AA. Five champions are already crowned in AA play.

Palestine and Conroe settle the championship of district 10, while Baytown can wrap up the 12-AA title by beating Galveston, Austin can do the same in 13-AA with a victory over Corpus Christi, and the San Benito-McAllen tilt will settle 14-AA's representative in the playoff.

Amarillo Assured Playoff

Arlington heights can sew up the Fort Worth district title in city conference play by defeating Fort Worth Tech.

Already assured playoff spots are Amarillo in district 1-AA, Odessa in 3-AA, Austin (El Paso) in 4-AA, Texarkana in 8-AA, and Port Arthur in 11-AA.

A smattering of games last night had little bearing on championship races.

Forest blanked Adamson, 12-0, in a Dallas district game, Port Neches knocked off Beaumont, 14-7, and Jeff Davis blasted Sam Houston, 32-12, in a Houston district tilt.

Waco Win Expected

The other three champions in the city conference will not be determined until next week. The San Antonio, Houston and Dallas districts are still in doubt.

Waco is the only one of three undefeated, untied teams in the city conference and class AA in action this week. The Tigers meet Cleburne, with little chance of an upset here. Port Arthur and Amarillo, the other two clubs with perfect records, are idle.

Arlington Heights, Lamar and Milby, both of Houston, and Baytown are unbeaten but tied.

Villanova players who have faced Army teams for the past five seasons, regard the current West Point aggregation as the hardest-hitting of all.

SMU, Rice, Arkansas Favored In Saturday's Games

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

Texas Tech tomorrow will face probably its second biggest hurdle to a Border Conference championship, with Hardin-Simmons considered the No. 1 hurdle. This new Mexico squad arriving today gives all the appearance of being a beaten one. They've won only two games, while losing five in a row. You might be inclined to take them lightly, under the circumstances, and to consider them just another team to be met on the schedule.

If you did, you'd be making a grave mistake. The Lobos may not have a record that shines, but they aren't down-in-the-mouth and they aren't awed by the record of the Red Raiders. And they have three good reasons to feel that they can win tomorrow. One of them is their power on the ground and the other two are Berl Huffman and Walker Nichols. Both of those able coaches worked here under Dell Morgan and are familiar with the line of strategy he employs, both offensively and defensively.

You can bet that the season will be considered pretty nearly successful in Albuquerque if the Lobos slip past Tech. A victory over a Texas team is always hailed with the ringing of bells, the blowing of horns and a general celebration. Even last year when the Lobos lost, the residents of the fair city under the hills kept the coach's phones ringing with congratulations. Most of it was for the great second rally, when the Lobos almost stole the game away from the Raiders. But it was an indication of what great importance the New Mexicans attach to victory over Tech.

And the Lobos will be fired up to win tomorrow. There's no use trying to point up comparative records. By one system, or one game, you could make New Mexico favored by 30 points. Using two other games as comparative bases, Tech could be favored by 39 and 54 points. You know that, on paper, the Raiders aren't actually 40 points better than Texas Mines, but two weeks ago they were. They aren't five touchdowns better than New Mexico, on paper. And when you consider the psychological edge the Lobos have, that of the losing team meeting the winning team, comparative scores mean even less.

The visitors have one of the finest plunging fullbacks in the Border loop in Rudy Krall, a hefty back who gave the Raiders all sorts of fits last year. And either Jimmy McKown or Joe Stell give the Lobos a pair of passes that can wreck a defense. They also have some other running backs who are dangerous in an open field. Berl Huffman, of course, is no slouch as an offensive coach. He can, and does, come up with a strong offensive eleven and this year's team has been no exception. Not that they have scored a lot, but they have gained a tremendous amount of yardage between the 20-yard lines.

It has been the despair of the coaches that the team hasn't been able to develop the scoring punch when it gets down to scoring territory. It has moved beautifully in midfield, but has bogged down within sight of the last white mark. They have worked on this weakness this past week and believe that they have corrected previous shortcomings. If they have, it could be a topnotch ball game tomorrow, with Tech forced to extend itself all the way.

And now for the conclusion. We always get itchy feelings before Tech plays. We can always see the other team a lot stronger than it is, or see where the other team could be up and Tech could be down. We know that New Mexico will be up for this game. We know that the Raiders have displayed a lot of cockiness in drills this week. We know that there isn't another game on the schedule that means so much to the Lobos as this one. We know that Tech could be living on borrowed time with only six points scored in three loop games against them. But we also can see where the Raiders, with their sharp blocking and fast backs, could win handily. And we have faith enough in the Raiders to believe that they'll win by any score they choose. We hope they prove us right!

Incidentlly, the college paper at Tech came out with one for the superstitious (we couldn't sleep Wednesday night after hearing about it). Seems that the college pep squad, or someone, sells those cardboard squares with "Beat Blank" on them before each game. Further seems that before the SMU, Baylor and Rice games the cards were printed on black backgrounds (appropriate). Tech lost. Before the five games Tech won, the cards were printed on white backgrounds. One of the college paper's ace reporters observes that the cards for the New Mexico game are printed on black backgrounds. Okay, Zeke, you can come haul it away now—us, too.

Mustangs Due To Grab Title

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Semi-final games in the dying Southwest conference football race will be played tomorrow with all eyes on Dallas where Southern Methodist's unbeaten Mustangs battle Baylor.

Baylor is at the cross-roads. It must win to stay in the conference race, but if it does it will pitch the leadership into a triple tie between SMU, Texas and Baylor.

Needs One Victory

Southern Methodist needs just this victory to insure a return to the Cotton bowl. Chances are that if the Methodists win tomorrow a Cotton bowl announcement will be forthcoming before sundown. It may be Oklahoma, it may be North Carolina. Cotton bowl officials are closemouthed about it but undoubtedly some contacts already have been made.

The conference championship is something else. Southern Methodist still could be tied for it after beating Baylor because Texas Christian comes along next week while Texas plays winless Texas A. and M.

But even if SMU lost to TCU and was tied for the title by Texas it would have no effect on SMU in the Cotton bowl. Southern Methodist beat Texas in regular season play and precedent says the team that beat the other is the Cotton bowl host team in the event of a tie.

Habit To Be Unchanged

Rice and Texas Christian tangle at Houston in the other conference game on tomorrow's schedule. The Horned Frogs haven't won from the Owls since 1944 and have won only once in eight seasons. They aren't expected to change the habit tomorrow.

Arkansas will be helping the conference's intersectional record against Tulsa at Little Rock. The Porkers ought to win from the Hurricanes with one arm tied behind their backs.

Texas and Texas A. and M. are idle this week gathering steam for their traditional game at Austin Thanksgiving day.

We didn't miss any last week and don't expect to this time:

Southern Methodist vs. Baylor at Dallas—SMU passing too much for the Bears—Southern Methodist by two touchdowns.

Rice vs. Texas Christian at Houston—Rice is as tough as they come these days. It's a shade late for championship hopes but should be enough to lick TCU by a touchdown or so.

Arkansas vs. Tulsa at Little Rock—The Razorbacks won't be trying too hard but won't have to; Arkansas by four touchdowns.

New Deal, Meadow Girls In Cage Play

NEW DEAL, Nov. 19 (Special)—The seventh game of the current girls basketball season will be played here tonight, when the undefeated New Deal girls play host to the Meadow girls.

It will be the second meeting between the two teams this season, New Deal taking the first contest 28-21, in a game that was close all the way.

Coach Toby Waggoner's team hasn't met defeat so far, rolling up two wins over Shallowater, two over Frenship and one over Slaton and Meadow. Last year Coach Waggoner turned out the champions of District 18 at Cotton Center and is a strong favorite to finish well up in the race this year.

Meadow also has a strong team and recently beat the New Home girls; the team picked to win the championship of the district.

In opening games this year, New Deal beat Shallowater 37-26 and 41,14, Slaton 27-12, Frenship 39-11 and 42-17, and Meadow.

The first game, between the B squads, will begin at 7 p.m., with the main game starting at 8 p.m.

TACKLE IS INJURED

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 19. (AP)—Texas A. and M. lost a reserve tackle yesterday when Percy Burk suffered a broken jaw in a rough scrimmage session. The Aggies are preparing for their traditional Thanksgiving day game with the University of Texas at Austin.

Purdue Campus Showered With Handbills By Indiana Plane

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 19. (INS)—Thousands of handbills insulting the Purdue president, student body, and football coach and team were dropped on the Boilermaker campus by an airplane bearing Indiana university colors.

Charging that the school had no school spirit the handbills declared "what the hell can you expect from a bunch of hick students, with no spirit, with an inexperienced high school coaching staff, with a team of eleven old men—flops of the year?"

Record Number Of Sportsmen Stalking Deer, Hunting Ducks

BY LLOYD LARRABEE
United Press Staff Writer

The quest for deer, coupled with the hunting of ducks, has lured a record number of sportsmen into the field, officials believed today.

Reports covering the opening days of the winter hunting season indicated there were more deer being shot, there were more hunters—and more game violations were being chalked up.

At the end of the first two days' hunt, some 650 deer bucks were reported on ice in Gillespie county, a focal point in the deer-hunting area. Last year, approximately 500 deer were reported at ice houses for the same period.

Cold Weather Promising

While warm weather and bright moonlight nights interfered to some extent with hunting the first few days, colder weather at the end of the week promised real winter hunting conditions.

A good indication that more hunters than ever before were taking leave of their normal duties to invade the field was the number of violations.

There were reported to be "lots" of game law violations, more than last year for the same period.

Game law enforcement Officer Frank Cowsert returned from the hill country west of Austin with reports that deer were plentiful and fat there.

The largest deer placed in storage at Fredericksburg in the first two days of hunting was reported to have weighed 118 pounds. It was an eight-pointer.

Duck Flights Expected

The deer and turkey season, which opened Nov. 16, will end on Dec. 31.

But outside Austin, a kill of a 12-point, 130-pound deer was reported by Carroll Gustafson.

The early-week warm, clear weather also made its dent on duck hunting along the coast. Ducks were reported to be flying high, out of range of sportsmen's guns.

But that reportedly hadn't stopped hunters from trying. Several points along the coast ran out of duck stamps after the season opening on Nov. 12, indicating a rush into marshes and fields.

Colder weather was expected to speed up flights of ducks from the Midwest southward. Some mallards were reported coming into East Texas and stopping at artificial lakes there, and good duck hunting was reported in the Panhandle and at Lake Texhoma.

Baylor Laundryman Upsets Team Plans

WACO, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—The Baylor Bears got their old green and gold football pants out of the laundry bag today.

They had planned to line up for the kickoff against SMU at Dallas Saturday in flashy, new white and green uniforms.

But they didn't count on the laundryman. When he returned their new suits yesterday the elastic had lost its elasticity and the uniforms wouldn't fit a Waco grammar school team.

Wolverines Victors In Boys Club Clash

Five basketball games were played yesterday afternoon at the Lubbock Boys club, with two Pee Wee league tilts opening the afternoon's contests.

The Wolverines outpointed the Hellcats 10-2 in the opener and the Fighting Irish nosed past the Mustang five 29-20 in the second of the Pee Wee games.

Wade Wolfe paced the Wolverine quint with 8 tallys and Roy Day scored a field goal for the Cats' score.

David Morgan was high point man for the Fighting Irish with 11 points, while Don Tucker and Frank Wright paced the Midget loop Mustangs with eight tallys each.

In the Junior loop, the Dirty Five team swamped the Hot Shots, 34 to 26 behind Bruce Willis' ten baskets. Jimmy Crawford led the Hot Shots with 14 points.

The second Junior game saw the Alley Rat Five smash the Roughies, 51 to 25. Johnny Tatum scored 21 points for the winners and Basil Wolfe made 8 scores for the Roughies.

The Senior loop game ran overtime with the Hardwood Five ending up by edging the Bombers, 42 to 40. J. B. Elliott made 17 points for the Five and Jackie Cook racked up 22 baskets for the losers.

Today's schedule will pair the Pee Wee Wildcats and Black Panthers in the opening tilt. The Five Little Devils will meet the Eagles in the Midget affair, followed by the Dirty Demons versus the Dirty Five in the Junior circuit. The Sharpshooters will play the Bombers in the Senior encounter.

Longhorns Drill For Thanksgiving Battle

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—Coach Blair Cherry ordered another back-breaking workout for his Texas Longhorns today, but said they would have an easier time next week.

Cherry said the hard drills were necessary to get the Longhorns ready for their Thanksgiving day encounter with the Texas Aggies.

Everyone but End Ray Stone was ready for the heavy workout, centered mostly around pass defense. Stone chipped an ankle bone against Arkansas but should see some service against the Aggies.

Haitian people are postponing buying clothes, and textile mills are hard hit.

Nevada Accepts Bid To Play In San Diego's Harbor Bowl

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 (U.P.)—Promoters of the so-called minor bowl games were busy with a lot of business today, much of it consisting of rejection slips.

The one big signing reported was that of the University of Nevada, the nation's leading team in total offense, for the Harbor bowl at San Diego, Cal., on Jan. 1. Paced by passer Stan Heath, Nevada has won seven out of eight games with one more to go against Wichita.

May Play In Hawaii

Nevada is also considering a post-season game against the University of Hawaii in Honolulu, Dec. 17, in which they may also play if Hawaii meets the terms asked.

No opponent has been picked for Nevada in the Harbor bowl, but officials said they were hoping for Kansas, Missouri, or Oklahoma.

In Philadelphia, the Philadelphia 1949 cancer crusade asked unbeaten Army to meet unbeaten Notre Dame on Jan. 1 in a charity game in any city acceptable to the two teams. No reply had been received to the invitations.

Unbeaten Florida A. and M. accepted an invitation to meet Union university of Richmond, Va., in the Orange Blossom bowl for negro schools at Miami, Fla., on Dec. 4. The Aggies are also trying to get a post-season game against Wilberforce of Ohio.

Promoters of other bowls were also getting answers—but unfavorable ones.

Sun Bowl Troubles

At El Paso, Tex., officials of the Sun Bowl had their invitation turned down by Texas Tech, leader of the Border conference, and the bid was promptly re-extended to Texas Mines of the same conference. The Miners were expected to accept and being prominently mentioned as opponents were Maryland, Lafayette, West Virginia, Utah, Miami of Ohio, Cincinnati, St. Bonaventure, Lehigh, and Dayton.

The Vulcan bowl at Birmingham, Ala., was turned down by West Virginia State college. School officials said the game would conflict with their basketball schedule.

Conference Title Hinges On Battle

(By The Associated Press)

The Texas conference title hinges on the result of the McMurry-Southwestern tilt at Abilene tonight.

McMurry can sew up the championship by beating Southwestern, but if the Indians lose the title will hang in balance until the Thanksgiving day clash between Howard Payne and Abilene Christian college.

One other Texas conference tilt this week matches Hardin College and Austin College at Sherman tomorrow.

FROSH TO TANGLE

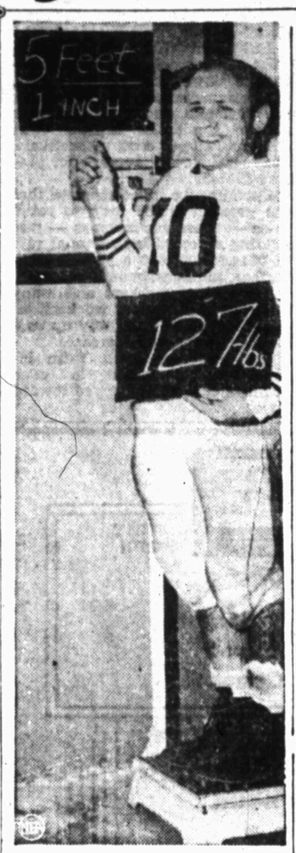

DALLAS, Nov. 19. (AP)—The freshmen football teams of Southern Methodist university and Texas Christian university tangle here today.

Each has won four games in past meetings and one tilt ended in a tie.

FLAME WINS AGAIN

IDALOU, Nov. 19 (Special) — Bob Peacock's 12 points paced the Blue Flame Gas quint of Idalou to a 48-34 win over Lubbock's Thomas Tinkers in an independent cage tilt here last night. Bob Galey topped the losers with eight points.

Eire will speed up mail deliveries.

SMALLEST BACK—Connecticut rooters are tired of hearing and seeing the phrase "one of the smallest backs in the nation" applied to every player who shades 150 pounds. From now on, therefore, the Huskies' followers will call Steve Comkowycz the littlest of all. Although he stands only five feet one and weighs no more than 127 pounds, Comkowycz sees frequent action, played against Yale.

Lightweight Boxing Champ Captures Win

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19. (U.P.) Lightweight Champion Ike Williams, hard-hitting negro stylist from Trenton, N. J., celebrated his 19th straight victory today following his four-round technical knockout over Billy Nixon of Philadelphia.

Williams, working up little enthusiasm and even less perspiration, stopped Nixon in 1:49 of the fourth round last night in a non-title bout scheduled for 10 rounds.

Referee Charley Daggert halted the bout after Nixon rose groggily following his fourth trip to the canvas. Williams, who donated his entire purse to the Trenton negro YMCA, weighed 139, three pounds less than Nixon.

Kilgore Gets Several Bids

(By The Associated Press)

Kilgore's unbeaten Rangers tackle Paris at Paris today and a victory will give the Rangers a perfect season.

Four bowls are already bidding for the Rangers and two strong junior college teams have asked for post-season tilts.

Other Games On Tap

Two other games are on tap in the conference this week. John Tarleton and North Texas Agricultural college meet in their annual game today at Stephenville. Tomorrow Tyler is host to Schreiner.

Kilgore has received offers to play in the Peach bowl at Macon, Ga., the Little Sugar bowl at Monroe, La., the Texas Rose bowl in Tyler and the Oleander bowl in Galveston.

Little Rock, Ark., Junior college and McNeese of Lake Charles, La., have asked for post-season games with the Rangers.

HEADS OLYMPIC GROUP

LAREDO, Nov. 19. (AP)—William N. Hall, elected to a third term as president of the Border Olympic association, today predicted more than 1,000 athletes would take part in the 17th annual track and field show here March 11-12.

U. S. Department Store Sales Drop During Early November

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 (AP) — High prices may be slowing up department store sales. Or it may be the weather, or something else.

Whatever the reason, fewer dollars clinked into department store tills across the country in each of the first two weeks of November than were rung up in the same weeks of last year.

The drop was eight per cent in the first week of the month; nine per cent last week.

That meant the actual amount of goods sold was even less — because prices are higher than they were a year ago.

Trend Not Definite

Since the end of the war, department store sales have risen to one new high after another in Federal Reserve board surveys.

Declines for two consecutive weeks have been so rare officials couldn't recall offhand when it last occurred.

But these officials caution that a two-week showing is not enough to establish a definite trend. Also, there are other factors which might explain the sales dip at least partly.

One is weather. In some sections, merchants thought business was hurt by unseasonable warmth; in others, by unseasonable cold. But the decline showed up in all 12 Federal Reserve districts blanketing the nation.

Other Reasons Given

Another possible explanation for the decline, officials said, is that perhaps American consumers are returning to their traditional practice of waiting until the late hours — or even the "last minute" — to do their Christmas shopping.

Last year, as in preceding years going back into the wartime, consumers were making it a practice to do their Christmas buying early — partly for fear of scarcities.

This year, there is a good supply of most goods and in some lines —such as radios and some clothing items — stocks have been so plentiful that prices have been marked down.

One reflection of price consciousness cited by officials was the good showing of basement bargain counters in comparison with "main floor" sales.

But even with the new lag, sales can scarcely be called bad—they're simply not getting better.

The department store figures for the first two weeks of November showed the dollar turnover was 220 and 246 per cent, respectively, above the weekly average for prewar 1935-39.

Furthermore, officials note that the greatest single prop to retail sales — consumer incomes — was holding a record high annual rate of $214,600,000,000 a year in September, the latest month recorded.

For factory workers and many other wage and salary workers, income was still on the way up as a result of wage-rate increases.

On the other hand, farm income was commencing to edge down as crop prices moved toward lower levels.

Balloting For U. S. President Not Over Until December 13

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—In case you thought the presidential election was over and done with on November 2, you can look forward to the real one in less than a month.

On December 13, the 531 men (or women) you elected a couple weeks ago will meet in the various states to cast their ballots for the next president of the United States.

But even then the election won't be over until:

1. The governor of each state collects these ballots and forwards them to the secretary of state in Washington.

2. The secretary of state bundles them off to Congress.

3. On January 6, the Senate and House meet in joint session.

4. The presiding officer of the Senate opens the ballot box and starts counting.

Only then will you learn—officially—that the majority of the electoral college—made up of the same number of people as there are senators and representatives—has voted for Harry S. Truman as the country's next President.

Lincoln Manuscript Returns To Place Of Its Inspiration

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Nov. 19. (AP)—The manuscript of a speech penned by President Abraham Lincoln 85 years ago returned to the place of its inspiration today.

Carried aboard the Freedom train, Lincoln's Gettysburg address was brought here in connection with ceremonies marking the 85th anniversary of its first public hearing.

Attorney General Tom C. Clark lent a solemn note to the occasion by comparing the present time to the crucial days of Lincoln's administration.

Was Guiding Light

"Lincoln was the steady guiding light of an historic American emancipation," he said in a prepared speech. "We must finish the task there begun."

The attorney general said President Truman expresses the "yearning of each of us for justice, equality and peace," adding:

"Achievement and faith have built us into the strongest peace-loving nation of all time guided by a courageous leader who lives, works and prays for peace."

The President sent his personal greetings to this small agricultural community, high water mark of the Confederate army's northern march in the Civil war.

Greetings Quoted

"Please convey my greetings to the people of Gettysburg and to the whole state of Pennsylvania on the occasion of the 85th anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg address," the President said. "I am happy to know the Freedom train is going to visit Gettysburg. Every American should see its inspiring exhibits."

The town was gaily decorated with bunting and a special stamp issue was placed on sale commemorating the Gettysburg address.

The Freedom train will leave Gettysburg tomorrow for the final lap of its 48-state tour ending at New York Jan. 2.

QUICK LET-DOWN

GLEN ROCK, N. J. (U.P.)—The fire alarm rang, 25 volunteer firemen jumped on their truck and it roared out of the firehouse. A few hundred feet down the road it sputtered to a stop—out of gas. Luckily, the fire was just a little one.

Scholarship Snag Report Meaningless

CHICAGO, Nov. 19. (INS)—A report that the Western Conference's newly-recommended scholarship legislation for athletes had struck a snag was passed off as being "meaningless" in Big Nine circles today.

The report, which was not carried by International News Service, stated that the Big Nine's new scholarship plan "has been rejected by at least one member and presently is inoperative."

Actually, the involved legislation, made public by the Conference in September, was expected to meet with disapproval from at least one member school. The legislation was given a 60-day period for study and approval by member universities, and undoubtedly will be passed with the necessary majority vote at the Conference's formal winter meetings in Chicago next month.

U. S. Speeds Rations To Cities In China

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—The United States is speeding a month's emergency rations to the 12,270,000 residents of war-battered China's seven largest cities.

Totaling 120,000 tons, the shipments will provide about 15 pounds of rice or flour per person in the north and central cities of Shanghai, Swatow, Canton, Nanking, Tientsin, Peiping and Tsingtao.

Texas Will Have Unusual Team In Senate Next Year, And Some Key Spots In House

By TEX EASLEY
AP Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. — Texas will have a versatile team in the senate next year.

The veteran 71-year-old Tom Connally and the dynamic Lyndon B. Johnson—whose 40 years make him a youth compared with the average senator—should complement each other.

Twenty years of service in the senate, coupled with the power and prestige that goes with the chairmanship of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, will make Connally a top-flight figure in the government when the Democrats assume complete control next Jan. 3.

SCREWY HOBBY—Charles Brown of New York poses with corkscrews he has been collecting for 50 years. He has 70 pieces from all parts of the world. No two of them are alike.

The mere mention of his name when a state matter is being taken up with a governmental department commands respect and attention.

Johnson Has Assets

Senator-elect Johnson has vigor and personality—assets that will help offset his lack of seniority in a lawmaking body where seniority counts for much.

Of course, Johnson is wise in the ways of Washington and he has more experience in Congress than the average colleague with whom he will serve. His service in the house, dating from April 10, 1937, is longer than 72 of the 96 senators have served in the upper body—and two of those men will not be senators when the 81st Congress convenes.

Connally is renowned as an orator of the old school, and though the years are slowing him up somewhat, he is still a master both of flowery speech and invective.

Assignment Question

Johnson, on the other hand, seldom has spoken on the house floor. But he has been able to get things done through making friends with the right people in the right places.

Presumably, Senator Johnson will operate in the same manner as has Rep. Johnson.

Johnson's senatorial committee assignment is a question. When he took his house seat 11 years ago he went immediately on the Naval Affairs committee, a major assignment. Most freshmen congressmen have to start off on minor committees. But Johnson got off to a fast start with the personal backing of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The young Texan's service on the House Armed Service's committee (created by a merger of the naval and military affairs groups) would seem to qualify him for the same committee in the senate.

Johnson also has been on the Joint Senate-House committee on atomic energy. Whether he continues in that group is a big question, for Connally also is on it as a senate representative.

After his appointment to the atomic committee, Johnson spent many long evenings poring over scientific works in quest of knowledge of a stupendous subject. Should Connally find his Foreign Relations committee chairmanship a full-time job, he might yield his atomic assignment to his junior colleague.

On the house side of the capitol Texans will be involved in a number of committee shifts.

When the late Rep. Milton West of Brownsville announced early in the year that he would not seek re-election there was considerable speculation as to who might take over his coveted spot on the House Ways and Means Committee.

The Texas delegation will have to put up a scrap to keep a spot on that powerful committee, but with Bonham's Sam Rayburn serving as Speaker they might succeed.

Two Men Mentioned

Both Clark Fisher of San Angelo and J. M. Combs of Beaumont have been mentioned for the position.

Combs also has shown considerable interest in international problems and with the Democrats, as the majority party being entitled to more places on standing committees, Combs might get on the Foreign Affairs committee. Not since Federal Judge Luther Johnson resigned two years ago to go on the U. S. Tax Court has Texas had a member on that group.

Texas also may have a fight on its hands to keep the place on the Armed Services Committee which Johnson surrenders. The Lone Star state still has a member on that body, Rep. Paul J. Kilday of San Antonio, who will be only two positions behind the chairman.

Reps. Olin E. (Tiger) Teague of College Station and Ken Regan of Midland, whose district includes Fort Bliss and Biggs Field at El Paso, would like to get on Armed Services.

Some Texas members are high up on other committees and probably would not care to change.

Other Solons Named

Rep. W. R. (Bob) Poage of Waco will be third on the Agriculture committee; Rep. George Mahon of Colorado City and Lubbock will be third on appropriations (Albert Thomas of Houston will be fifth); Rep. Wright Patman of Texarkana will be third on Banking and Currency and will head the special House Small Business committee; Rep. Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater will be third on Interstate and Foreign Commerce; Rep. John E. Lyle of Corpus Christi will be second on Post Offices and Civil Service.

Rep. Tom Pickett of Palestine will move up on the Public Works committee, which handles all flood control and navigation projects, such as the Trinity River Improvement program and dredging of shipping channels connecting with the Louisiana-Texas Intracoastal canal. Rep. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls likewise moves up on the Judiciary committee, a group on which every lawyer aspires to serve. It handles such important legislation as that concerning immigration and parts of the civil rights program recommended by President Truman.

Veterinarians War On Rabies In U. S.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19 (U.P.)—The American Veterinary Medical Association has laid plans for wiping out rabies in the United States.

The association spokesman said scientists have developed rabies vaccines that give "positive protection to 95 per cent of all dogs vaccinated."

"Now, for the first time in the nation's history, federal agencies have the necessary funds and administrative organization to fight this dreaded disease," the spokesmen said.

"There is no longer any excuse for this disease striking down 9,000 to 10,000 animals each year, as it has been doing for the past five years."

Dog vaccination and strict licensing and control of dogs in rabies areas are the main features of the eradication plan.

One Person Injured As Trains Collide

TEXARKANA, Nov. 18. (AP)—Two St. Louis and Southwestern freight trains collided at slow speed 20 miles west of here Thursday, derailing both engines and three cars and injuring slightly one trainman.

The accident occurred near Corley, Bowie county, at 2 p. m. Trains involved were a northbound freight out of Tyler and a southbound local out of Texarkana.

Engineer S. H. Henry of Tyler of the northbound train suffered a fractured collarbone, and was brought to Texarkana for treatment.

Special Sermon Set At Revival Meeting

Climax service of the evangelistic services now being conducted at First Presbyterian church by Rev. Gypsy Smith, jr., will be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening when he will bring his special message entitled "From Gypsy Camp to Pulpit."

This sermon has been preached many times throughout the country and has met with widespread response.

The evangelistic meeting will close with the Sunday evening service after being conducted nightly for the past two weeks. Many persons have signed cards of consecration and a number have already made professions and have come into the membership of the church.

Rev. Smith is assisted in the services by Songleader Arthur W. McKee of Winona Lake, Indiana.

156 Miles Longest Trip For Railroader

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—Once Edward H. Brown rode a train to Cumberland, Md., 156 miles from Washington.

When he hung up his engineer's cap yesterday, after watching thousands of miles of track pass under the wheels during 48 years of railroading, that stood as his longest trip away from home. Most of his travels were in the Washington and Baltimore yards.

The 70-year-old engineer retired with a true railroader's sentiment.

"Hate to leave that track," he said.

URANIUM STRIKE—Through maps dating back to 1844, Robert Campbell, head of the Camray syndicate, discovered new uranium deposits in Canada, along the Lake Superior shore, about 75 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie. Campbell staked 30 claims around his discovery precipitated a modern "gold rush." Now over 500 Canadian and American miners, living in hastily erected shacks and tents, have already staked claims.

Israeli Forces Stay In Negev As UN Order Deadline Reached

By CARTER L. DAVIDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

TEL AVIV, Israel, Nov. 19.—Israel retained control of the Negev desert today, the deadline set by the United Nations for withdrawal of troops to positions occupied before last month's fighting in the area.

After a lengthy cabinet session yesterday, Israel announced it would not order all its armed forces out of the Negev.

The government statement added, however, that all troops which entered the area after Oct. 14 had been withdrawn. This left only forces which the Jews said had been in the area since May 15.

The statement said this was in accord with the U. N. order. The Israeli view was that the U. N. specified that only forces which entered the southern area after Oct. 14 should be withdrawn.

UN Order Explained

The security council resolution of Nov. 4 ordered the withdrawal of forces to bring into effect a no-man's-land in the Negev. Acting U. N. Mediator Ralph Bunche ordered withdrawal of troops to specified lines to create the demilitarized zone.

The Israeli government welcomed the security council decision to facilitate the transition from the truce to a permanent peace in the Holy Land by means of an armistice.

(Bunche said in Paris last night he had asked Israel and the Arab states to start negotiations for an armistice. He said he believed the interests of both parties would be "best served by direct negotiations," but asked them to reply as to whether they wanted direct negotiations or wished to negotiate indirectly through him.)

Offers To Negotiate

The Israeli cabinet also offered to negotiate with U. N. Truce commission observers on possible withdrawal of its forces in the southern coastal area which lies northwest of the Negev.

(A U. N. source in Paris said Bunche would consider Israel had complied in principle with the council's order if by tomorrow she had appointed an officer to confer with the truce mission's chief of staff on the problem of withdrawal. There was no amplification of this statement).

The Israeli reply to the council order noted "with satisfaction" it was not asked to withdraw from the Negev forces it had there "before Oct. 14 to safeguard the security and independence of Israel and the protect its inhabitants."

Would Invite Action

"The withdrawal of such forces from inland, areas, including Beersheba, would invite predatory activities by irregulars which would be a constant menace to all who dwell in this area," the reply said. "In particular, if Beersheba were deprived of defense, the way would be opened to Jerusalem, whose protection against aggression from the south could not be guaranteed."

During yesterday's Israeli cabinet meeting, Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion said "the time has come when the people and the government of Israel should start making necessary preparations for the coming peace."

He reiterated that Israel was willing at any time to negotiate peace with the Arabs. He said the Arabs were now convinced they could not crush the Jewish state and would have to accept its existence.

Turkey Shortage Is Cause Of Increase In Prices This Year

By WILLIAM FERRIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, Nov. 19. — Turkeys will cost more this year than last—if you get one.

It seems there's a shortage—more than 10 per cent fewer turkeys to go 'round this holiday season than in 1947. That's one reason prices are higher.

Price estimates are based on the assumption demand this year will be as strong as last year. If demand also falls off, the price could come down. Right now, wholesale trade sources consider the demand very strong.

You ought not to be too surprised if you see price tags running up to 80 or 90 cents a pound on the Thanksgiving bird at retail stores.

Prices Will Vary

The price will vary from store to store, from neighborhood to neighborhood, from city to city. Some stores may even use turkeys as "loss leaders"—sell them at a loss in order to get customers to buy the trimmings in that store.

Prices in the wholesale market are a good deal higher than last year—and they're rising. A young tom turkey weighing 18 to 20 pounds cost 43½ to 44 cents a pound in wholesale lots at Chicago last year. Today the price for the same bird is 57 to 58 cents.

Smaller birds cost more than larger ones, because demand is concentrated on small sizes and there aren't many of them. A young hen weighing 10 to 12 pounds costs 66 to 68 cents a pound in wholesale lots today. Last year the price was 52½ to 53 cents.

Supply Estimated

The Department of Agriculture has estimated this year's turkey supply at 10 per cent under last year. Trade sources think the amount available for consumers will be even smaller. More birds are being withdrawn for breeding purposes this year, they say.

Furthermore, the supply in cold storage is down about 50 per cent from a year ago.

Chief reason for the shortage is the high price of grain last spring, when the turkey feeding season got underway. A turkey gobbles up an awful lot of grain. A bird weighing 21 pounds will have consumed, at the end of 26 weeks of feeding, 92 pounds of feed.

Some Quit Business

Turkey feeders thought they might get caught with high cost birds they couldn't sell at a profit. So many simply quit the business. Result: Fewer turkeys.

Trade sources said they hadn't noticed any increase in the number of small-sized birds, an idea urged by the agriculture department. Small birds taste the same as big ones and they fit into apartment house ovens better.

However, the idea of slicing a turkey into halves is gaining in popularity, dealers said.

When the National Football League campaign got under way, three teams—the Boston Yanks, Philadelphia Eagles and Pittsburgh Steelers—had never won a game from the Chicago Bears.

Once In A Blue Moon Pale-Face Bowmen Hit Their Target

Modern Hiawatha Stalks Buck Deer With Store-Bought Bow, Well-Feathered Arrow

EDITOR'S NOTE: About this time every year, pale-face bowmen take to the Westchester county, up north of New York City, to hunt deer for one moon. Once in a blue moon they kill one. Reading about this autumnal pastime quickened the Cherokee blood in U.P. staffer Leo Turner's veins. His Redskin ancestors killed deer with a bow and arrow, he reasoned, why not Leo? And besides, his Indian name, Tecopa, registered on the Cherokee rolls in Oklahoma, means hunter or something like that. As inevitably as bicarbonate follows venison, Leo went a-hunting with a department store bow and—count it—one arrow. Any similarity of his prose to Longfellow's stately poetry is strictly by chance.

BY LEO (TECOPA) TURNER
United Press Staff Writer

ARMONK, N. Y., Nov. 19. — When the sun touched the Gowanus, hung like a red ball over Brooklyn, climbed to light Manhattan's canyons, a hunter entered Westchester's wildness.

Far from Oolagah, Oklahoma, far from his Cherokee homeland, from years of overeating, he looked nothing like Hiawatha. Yet he stalked the buck deer with a store-bought bow and arrow.

The bow cost $9.98 at Macy's, another 79 cents for the arrow, complete with broad steel head and feathers. The clerk wanted to sell several arrows. "One deer, one arrow," said the hunter.

None Killed Deer

In his wigham making faces, sat the veteran game protector, Edward Townsend, gaunt and grizzled, who for 30 years has worn the warden's green. Once Townsend was husky, weighing 210 pounds in his sock feet. Now he weighs 165 but he still charges $1.25 for a hunting license.

"This is not good for bear or horses, do not shoot the crows and rabbits, do not harm the farmer's cattle and do not aim at other hunters."

One hundred other hunters already had treked the woodland, shooting darts in all directions. None had killed a deer.

In the morning he saw three deers. Two were does and the third was frightened. Then came back the wisdom of his father. "Sit like a stump," his father told him. "Deers are all near-sighted."

So like a stump sat he, that his own wife wouldn't know him, wouldn't nag him, wouldn't vex him, asking where he left his rubbers, warning him against the giggling water. So like a stump was he, three other hunters passed without remarking. Lunchtime also passed unnoticed.

Softly the deer came toward him, softly in the evening shadows, looming bigger in the half-light, coming closer every minute.

Stealthily he unsheathed his arrow, quietly fitted it to the bowstring, pulled back on the sinew, but alas he couldn't budge it.

With a quick glance about him, he placed both feet on the strong bow, put both hands on the bowstring, pulled with arms and back and shoulders.

Onto his back he toppled. The arrow zinged skyward. He was on hands and knees when it sped back earthward, and hit him where he wasn't looking.

To the nearest inn he staggered, propped his typewriter on the mantel. Across the forest primeval the sun was setting, but the hunter wasn't.

Couple Honored For Aiding Brotherhood

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 (AP) — "Getting along isn't difficult," said Henry Ford 2nd last night as he was honored for aiding brotherhood among men.

"The hard part is deciding that you want to get along with the other fellow," the automobile industry leader added.

Ford and Roger Williams Straus, department store owner, received citations from the National Conference of Christians and Jews for contributions to the "cause of brotherhood and understanding among men."

Ford said "the world's trouble with Communism" is a good example of the point he made.

"I have yet to see any evidence that the Communists—at home or abroad—have any wish or intention of getting along with anybody else,' he said. "If they wanted to, the rest would be easy."

Defunct State Board Unaware It's Dead

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 19 (U.P.) —A state board which didn't legally exist transacted business for 20 months in Pennsylvania before its status was detected.

A reporter checking official lists for major job vacancies discovered that the state industrial board, which establishes standards for employment of women and children, had passed into oblivion Jan. 21, 1947.

The board chairman, William H. Chestnut, was finally convinced the agency was dead because Gov. James H. Duff had withdrawn the names of the four appointive members from the state senate on that date and neglected thereafter to make appointments to the vacancies.

The board's regular meeting scheduled for Sept. 16, the day after the discovery, was hastily cancelled. The justice department decided to legalize the agency's actions on a de facto basis.

Governor Duff resurrected the board by appointing the serving members.

Convention Of National Grange Okays New Price Support Plan

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 19 — The National Grange convention today endorsed a system of flexible government price supports aimed at preventing future surpluses and shortages of farm products.

It took this action after defeating a proposal to continue indefinitely the present wartime support program of 90 percent of parity.

Working to end its 10-day session by nightfall, the Grange declined to take a stand on the controversial issue of compulsory health insurance.

Opposes Tax Cut

It went on record, however, against a reduction in income taxes during the present period of "high employment and income."

The convention did not say what the range of flexible supports should be in terms of percentages of parity.

(Parity is defined by law as a price which would be fair equally to farmers and those who buy his products.)

The Aiken-Hope act passed by the last Congress set up a system of flexible supports ranging from 60 to 90 percent of parity for major products, and from zero to 90 per cent for other products.

The supports would be at the minimum limit of this range when supplies were excessive and at the high limit when supplies were short.

Controls Approved

The Grange endorsed the 60 to 90 percent range when the matter was before Congress last summer.

The convention softened a stand taken by its agriculture committee on use of government marketing controls to combat surpluses and low prices.

The committee suggested that the Grange favor use of such controls only as a "last resort."

The convention rejected the suggestion, thus leaving the Grange on record as approving such controls in case of "urgent need" and when approved by two thirds of the affected growers.

The proposal to keep the present inflexible support program was made by J. W. Fichter, master of the Ohio State Grange. It got only four votes from the 73 delegates.

Also rejected was a Fichter proposal that farm prices be allowed to seek their own level in the markets, and that farmers be paid government subsidies to assure them an adequate income.

While the Grange did not record itself on compulsory health insurance, it reiterated a stand against "socialized medicine." However, the organization did not give its definition of that term.

The convention's resolution said that persons protected under a "comprehensive" voluntary health program should be exempt from any compulsory plan enacted by Congress.

An attempt to pass legislation requiring everyone to carry health and medical insurance is expected to be made at the next congressional session.

Factory Cookies Have Advantages

CHICAGO, Nov. 19 (U.P.)—The American housewife isn't above passing off factory-made cookies as her own, a cookie manufacturer told the annual convention of the biscuit and cracker association in Chicago.

Agard Billings, who learned to make cookies in Sweden and started his own factory in Chicago in 1917, said the ladies had given up making cookies because professionally made cookies are cheaper and better.

"Our cookies taste the same each time," Billings said. "We don't have good results one time and bad results another."

He said his cookies are cheaper because manufacturers buy in quantity and probably better because a quantity buyer can demand quality.

"If the housewife computed the costs of her ingredients she would see our cookies are money-savers," he said. "But most ladies are too proud to admit they aren't economizing."

Billings said that there had been no great change in making cookies. "We use assembly line methods," he said, "but it's still the same cookie that grandmother made in her kitchen.

"There's no substitute for quality. I don't think you can fool your stomach, no matter what the chemists say," Billings concluded.

Drop In Number Of Job Seekers Noted

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 19 (U.P.)—About 6,000 partially disabled veterans are expected to seek jobs through federal-state employment offices in Pennsylvania the next 12 months.

The job-application list was reduced from 15,930 in July, 1946 to less than 6,000 this month.

Ex-servicemen represent 48 per cent of the applications from physically handicapped persons but get 69 per cent of the jobs available in that category under a veterans' preference system.

Farm Near Waco To Get Its Face Lifted

Men and machines will rebuild the 31-year-old farmer's 172-acre farm in a Save-A-Farm day sponsored by the McLennan county soil conservation district supervisors.

The rebuilding program was originally scheduled for last week, but was postponed because of rain.

TRAGEDY SCENE—Firemen (top) dig for the body of Francis O'Donnell, 10, as another fireman (foreground) administers oxygen to John Whalen, 12, on a stretcher. The two Washington, D. C., boys were buried alive when a tunnel they were digging at play collapsed. Vain efforts were made to revive both boys at the scene and at a hospital. (AP Wirephoto).

U. S. Officials Deny Reports That Murder Victim Was Spy

VIENNA, Nov. 9 (AP)—American authorities have denied reports that Irving Ross was engaged in espionage for the United States at the time of his slaying.

A local newspaper has said that the Economic Cooperation administration official, who was slain in the Russian zone of Vienna Oct. 31, was engaged in some sort of "double espionage" which would make him suspect by both the Americans and Russians.

"Mr. Ross," the U. S. Army statement said, "was not engaged in any form of intelligence activated by the United States Army or any other United States government agency."

Reports Quoted

The statement quoted Austrian police reports as "indicating that the murderers were four men in Russian uniform, that they were riding in a jeep and that one of the weapons employed was a Soviet military pistol. . . ."

The Army said investigation has not yet determined the identity of the killers or their motive, "if it was other than robbery."

Livestock Breeder Dies In Collision

NORWICH, Ont., Nov. 19. (AP)—James Rettie, 83, noted livestock breeder, was killed last night in an automobile collision.

Rettie was a past president of the Canadian Holstein Breeders' association.

Drilling Is Scheduled Again On Old Lynn County Wildcat

McAlester Fuel company, of Magnolia, Ark., No. 1 C. O. Edwards is to be a 9,750-foot wildcat in northwest Lynn county, to try to develop production from the Pennsylvanian.

The venture is about 14 miles west of Tahoka, and 440 feet from south and west lines of section 58, GRR survey.

It is an old dry hole on a present total depth of 7,244 feet in lime and shale. York & Harper, Inc., of Midland started the development in 1947 and drilled it to approximately 5,500 feet.

Oil Not Shown

At that point the project was turned to Honolulu Oil corporation, and that concern deepened it to 7,244 feet. No commercial oil or gas signs were encountered in going to the present bottom.

McAlester is scheduled to move in equipment and start drilling ahead by November 25.

It is understood that York & Harper, Inc., retain interests in the area adjacent to the prospector.

Frank and George Frankel No. 3-I University, adjacent to Ellenburger production on the south side of the Fullerton field, in northwest Andrews county, and 2,310 feet from north and west lines of section 32, block 13, University survey, has shown for a discovery from the lower Simpson.

Pressure Given

This project took a drillstem test at 10,824-874 feet. A 2,000-foot water cushion was used. The tool was open two hours and 15 minutes.

Recovery was the 2,000-foot water cushion, 2,500 feet of 40-gravity oil, and 180 feet of oil cut drilling mud. There was no formation water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure ranged from 1,000 pounds to 1,700 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes was 3,700 pounds.

This development is a one-location east outpost to the same operators No. 2-I University, an Ellenburger producer.

Informed observers report that the No. 3-I University is approximately 500 feet low, structurally, to the No. 2-I University, the Ellenburger well.

The No. 3-I University is to drill ahead to go through the full thickness of the Simpson, and on into the Ellenburger.

Sinclair Runs Test

More oil developed from the Ellenburger in the Shafter Lake area of northwest Andrews county as Sinclair Prairie Oil company ran another drillstem test on its No. 2-154 University, only project in that area to reach the Ellenberger.

The tool was open five hours at 11,800-47 feet. It was shut-in 20 minutes for pressure buildup.

There was gas to the surface in four hours and eight minutes. Fluid started heading out after 17 stands of drillpipe had been pulled.

Operator estimated the fluid fillup was 6,017 feet of oil—86 barrels — during the five hours. Just after entering the Ellenburger, a drillstem test at 11,695-746 feet recovered about 95 barrels of oil in three hours.

Production Estimated

Between the aforementioned test and the initial discovery a barren stretch was indicated. Combined production of the two sections is estimated as a possible 49 barrels of oil per hour.

Another 50 or 60 feet of hole is to be made, then another examination is to be taken.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 24, block 13, University survey.

Sun Oil company No. 2 Schattell, southwest Scurry county wildcat tested the top of the Ellenburger at 7,995-8,010 feet.

The drillstem testing tool was open for one hour. There was a slight blow of air throughout the period. Recovery was the 1,500-foot water cushion, very slightly cut with oil and gas, and 500 feet of salty, sulphur water. There were no indications of free oil.

Free Oil Found

Operator is preparing to run 5½-inch casing, to make production tests in a lime section up the hole, about 150 feet above the present bottom. That zone developed a small amount of free oil on a recent investigation.

Identity of the zone which had that show has not been definitely reported. It may be in the Mississippian.

The venture is a northwest outpost to the discovery for flowing production from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian, to open the Schattell field. It missed the Canyon pay and drilled on down.

No. 4 Schattell is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 186, block 97, H&TC survey.

No Sign Of Merry Christmas For Couple And Four Children

CHICAGO, Nov. 19. (INS)—There are no prospects for a merry—or warm—Christmas for Einar Tebo, his wife and their four children.

When other families are preparing to gather around the Christmas tree to unwrap presents, the Tebo's will be preparing to move out on the sidewalk.

The family was served with an eviction notice ordering them from their four-room apartment, effective December 25.

Tebo, 33, and his wife, Mabel, 34, recalled that their troubles began eight years ago when he fell and injured his back so badly he has been unable to hold a steady job since.

Mrs. Tebo has not lost hope. She declared:

"Someone will help us. I'm sure. Our boys said they are going to write Santa Claus for an apartment."

North Carolina Vacation For Survivors Of Smog Underway

WRIGHTVILLE BEACH, N. C., Nov. 19. (AP)—Forty survivors of the Donora, Pa., death-dealing smog settled down at this North Carolina resort today, just sitting and resting for the present. Rocking will come later.

The group, guests of the Wilmington and Wrightsville Beach junior chambers of commerce, arrived by plane from Pittsburgh, Pa., yesterday for a week's vacation, with all expenses paid.

"This is simply marvelous," one of the vacationers commented as the group alighted at nearby Wilmington to the welcome of a band, city officials and several hundred spectators.

Miss Kay Weir, 26, is the youngest; Mrs. Lydia Little, 74, the oldest. They commented for all: "We've never had anything like this— and they even greeted us with flowers."

Mrs. Alice Ward, 70, whose husband remained in Pennsylvania, said, "I wish my old man was along."

The 25 men and 15 women were taken to waiting cottages and apartments here where their program appeared today to call for plenty of rocking, rest and relaxation.

Chosen Among Victims

They were chosen among cardiac and asthma victims who suffered the most in the four-day smothering smog that hovered over Donora late last month. The smog left 20 dead.

Jaycee spokesmen indicated last night they may have to scale down the tempo of their fishing, boatriding, sightseeing entertainment program. "Just resting," they said, appeared to hold the most appeal today.

Jaycees said they were being helped in underwriting the expenses, including the $2,000 chartered plane ride—the first for many of the victims—by other civic clubs and individuals.

Dartmouth Claims Two Top War Aces

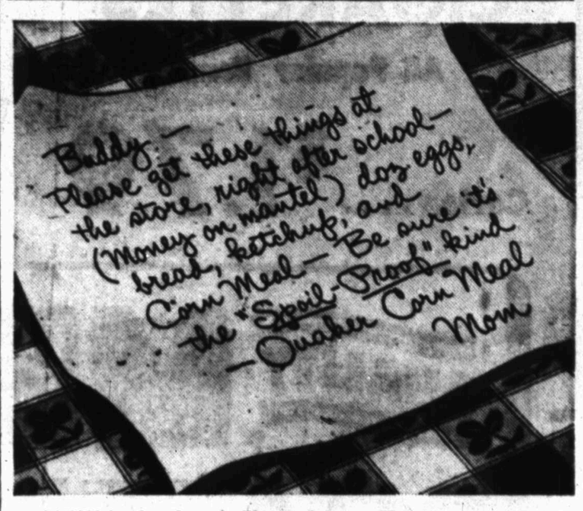

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 19 (U.P.)—Two of the three top U. S. Air Force aces of World War II are graduates of Dartmouth College.

Leading ace of the war was Lt. Col. John C. Meyer of Silver Springs, Md., who shot down 24½ planes and destroyed 13 others on the ground. He was graduated from Dartmouth in 1941.

Third-ranking on the list of fighter pilots is Dartmouth alumnus Lt. Col. David C. Schilling of Empire, Mich. He shot down 24 planes and destroyed 10½ others on the ground. Schilling was graduated from Dartmouth in 1938.

Second-hand eyes are in big demand at Australia's new eye bank in Melbourne, where cornea grafting of human eyes, after death of the donors, is rapidly increasing.

The United Kingdom bought over $19,500,000 of chemicals, drugs, dyes and colors from the United States in the 1948 first half, Germany being second largest supplier.

Oregon Gobbler Flown To Washington For Truman Thanksgiving Causes Big Ruckus

BY HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 — If you are worried about the Truman's Thanksgiving dinner, here is the low down.

As of now, their turkey (weight 35 pounds, bust and hip measurements unknown) is getting a round middle and a fat behind. And if the President knew how much trouble the bird has caused, he'd be sorry about the whole thing and probably order duck.

As a stunt, Oregon turkey growers decided they would send the first family a fine bird for Thanksgiving. They let the word get out. United Airlines, which has one eye on the beam and the other on promotion, quick got hold of their Washington man—Ted Kellogg.

Ted, being a good little former reporter, rang up Senator Guy Cordon. Mr. Cordon wasn't home. Ted, who doesn't stand much higher himself than a turkey (even in elevator shoes) continued to be a good newsman. He called Wayne Morse, the junior senator from Oregon.

Mr. Morse was willing. Fact, he went out to the airport to meet the bird. The bird hit him on the nose and likewise snapped at a lot of other people.

Our Ted stood in the background and said a few things under his breath no press agent ought to say. To his credit, no law suits were filed.

The United Airlines man ruffled a few feathers on his own time. He tucked that big bird under his wing and took it home.

But his company didn't much care for the corn and other turkey food he put on his expense account. The Sens. Cordon and Morse paid even less attention. After all a turkey doesn't vote.

Ted was getting himself in a mess at home. His wife, Lillian, was raising the dickens. She's a little one who doesn't weigh much more than a turkey, herself. She made more noise than one.

The health department also started to take a dim view of the goings on in the garage of the Kellogs. The man came around, in fact.

He demanded that the turkey be removed. Ted called Dr. William Mann, the head of the Washington zoo, and said he had a dandy. Dr. Mann said he had all of the turkeys he would handle at the moment. He suggested that Ted clip the wing of the big bird and then turn him loose

No One Happy

Ted did nothing of the kind. He took the gobble-gobble guy out to a gobble farm and asked the man to keep on fattening for a few days.

Mrs. Kellogg isn't very happy. She likes turkey.

Ted isn't happy, either.

If there's one thing he never wants to see again—it's another turkey.

For Thanksgiving, Ted'll have, if you don't mind, a slice of ham. With mustard.

POP TOO BUSY

FORT WORTH. (U.P.)—The 8-year-old son of the school health director was sent home because his previous smallpox vaccination given him at the age of one, had expired under a seven-year regulation. His father was so busy checking vaccinations of other children that he forgot his own child.

Three Charged In Bus Dispute

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 19 (Special)—Indictments were returned by a Hale county grand jury against three Lubbock men in connection with alleged force and violence employed May 21 at Abernathy a few hours after a strike of union bus drivers had been called in Lubbock, it was announced Thursday.

Charged were Houston Miller, Herschel Johnson and Bob Crail, District Attorney Harold LaFont and Sheriff Ted Andrews said.

Bonds Are Set

Hubert McElroy, a Lubbock substitute bus driver, was assaulted at Abernathy by several men the night of May 21. Persons on the bus told investigating officers soon after the occurence that McElroy not only defended himself, but went on the offensive with such telling effect that his assailants withdrew from the fight and left in automobiles. McElroy then continued his drive from Lubbock to Amarillo.

Andrews said Judge C. D. Russell set bond of $1,500 for each of the men, all of whom had been at liberty under bail awaiting action of the grand jury here. Miller, it was said, posted bond late Thursday in Lubbock, for certification to Sheriff Andrews by the Lubbock sheriff's department, Andrews had been informed.

There was no immediate announcement as to the others, except that whereabouts of Crail had not been definitely learned and that Johnson would post bond when he learns of the indictment.

A total of 28 felony indictments was returned by the grand jury None of them was a capital case, the district attorney said.

(In Lubbock, Miller 34, also is under $2,500 bond in connection with a charge of arson by explosive growing out of a bombing of Texas, New Mexico & Oklahoma Coaches, Inc., subsequent to the Abernathy assault. Two other men, both of Hobbs, N. M., also are charged in the bombing case.)

Man Wants Oil Well, He Drills It Himself

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 19 (U.P.) E. L. Hunt, who is 65, wanted an oil well, so he went out and drilled one by himself. It produces 25 barrels of oil a day.

Hunt did the work of a normal crew of five—contractor, roughneck, truck driver, swamper, driller and tool pusher. He took the equipment to the location nearly 12 miles from his home, in a trailer.

He used an "A"-shaped frame instead of a derrick and a rotary rig, powered by a car engine. Hunt brought in his producer at 410 feet, 10 days after he started drilling.

Altogether, Hunt estimated it cost him $800 to drill the well. If he had turned the job over to a contractor, it would have cost about twice as much.

Hunt, however, doesn't advise everybody who wants an oil well to go out and start drilling. He is a veteran of the oil drilling business.

M-m! so flaky and light! And for fried foods so crisp and digestible!

New Snowdrift is an all-vegetable shortening.
MADE BY THE WESSON OIL PEOPLE

RECIPE

DELICATE GINGER CAKE WITH FRESH ORANGE ICING

Quick-mixing with new, white, creamy Snowdrift. And quick-vanishing when folks taste it!

Sift together in a large bowl:
2 cups sifted cake flour
¼ teaspoon soda
1¼ teaspoons double-action baking powder (2 teaspoons single-action)
1 teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup sugar
Add: ½ cup Snowdrift, ½ cup milk, ¼ cup molasses

Mix until flour is dampened. Beat 2 minutes. If you beat by hand and take "rests," count beating time only. (If you use electric mixer, set at "low speed"; scrape bowl and beaters frequently.)
Add: ½ cup milk, 2 eggs

Beat 1 minute. Turn into 2 greased 8-inch layer pans with bottoms lined with waxed paper. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) about 30 minutes. Cool on racks 5 minutes; turn out of pans, invert and cool.

Frost with—FRESH ORANGE ICING
4 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
6 tablespoons orange juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon (soft) butter
1 tablespoon Snowdrift
1 teaspoon grated orange rind

Combine ingredients in the top of double boiler; stand over hot water about 10 minutes. Remove from hot water. Beat until cool and creamy. Spread on cake. Decorate top with sections of orange.

For crisp fried foods... so digestible!
For light, flaky pie crust, too!

Congressmen Have Problem Of Many Masters When Confronted With Issues Of Country

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19—Here's a nice little one you can try on your wife or the man next door — and then duck.

In the new Congress of 1949 how should your senator or congressman—be he Democrat or Republican—vote:

1. The way his party leaders want him to?

2. The way his constituents — meaning you, the people back in his district—tell him they want him to vote?

3. Or use his own head—no matter what you or the party leaders say—and vote as he wants?

Which of the three ways would make you feel he's doing the job for which he was elected?

Whole U. S. Considered

Will you call him a party hack if he goes along doing just what his party leaders tell him?

On the other hand, do you think he should be entirely guided by the desire of the people back home?

But when he's voting in Congress, he's mostly voting on things that affect the whole country, not just his district.

So, should he put the interests of his district above those of the country as a whole? And how would you feel if he did?

Right on this point—to please the people back home and get something they want — congressmen sometimes make deals by agreeing that:.

I'll-vote-for-your-pet-bill if you will-vote-for-mine. Do you think that is right?

But suppose your man in Congress disregards the urgings of his party leaders and your pleas back home and votes as he pleases.

All Situations Follow

Would you blame him? He might answer that he's trying to do an honest job by using his own judgment on each issue as it arises.

He could say that, with all the information available to him and not to you, he can decide better what's best. So it's a question:

Did you help elect your congressman because you thought he was a good man and you were willing to trust him to do what he thought right? Or because you want him to look out for your special interests? Or because you are a member of his party and want him to do what the party says?

In actual practice most congressmen—I guess all — at one time or another do all three things mentioned above, depending on the issue in each case.

The Political Science association says:

"Where conflicts of interest arise between his district or state, his party and the country as a whole, he must remember that his primary obligation is to the general welfare."

Senator Clarifies Position

In a speech on the job of a congressman, Senator Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, has said:

"The average legislator, early in his career, discovers that there are certain interests, or prejudicies, of his constituents which are dangerous to trifle with.

"A difficult case is where the prejudice concerns the fundamental policy affecting the national welfare."

As an example he took the poll tax and isolationism. In his own state of Arkansas, people have to pay a poll tax before they can vote. Since it has not been abolished there, it must be assumed the people of Arkansas want it.

Is it of fundamental importance that Congress pass a bill to wipe out the poll tax in all states? Fulbright said he doesn't think so, no matter what anyone outside of Arkansas says. So, he said, "I shall follow the views of the people of my state."

But he said he thinks a strong United Nations is of fundamental importance. So even though he said the people of his state were against the U. N., he voted for it.

Theme Song Of Washington Redskins Based On Several Tunes Including Yankee Doodle

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. — Seems there are very few original tunes anymore.

"The Eyes of Texas"—anthem of the proud Lone Star state—is billed as original. Pfffffft! It's a theft from "I've been workin' on the Railroad," which, in turn, is a steal from "I've Been Workin' on the Levee."

So what would you-all expect for "Hail To the Redskins," the marchy spine-tingler which is the theme song for the Washington professional football team? A steal?

You said it, and you can say it again. It's a whole flock of steals.

'Stealing' Popular

The composer of the song is an old fiddler named Barnee Breeskin, who for 18 years has had a band in the blue room of the Shoreham hotel here. Like other musical thieves—using the word on advice of counsel—Barnee checks his sources before he steals.

Stealing, in the musical profession is popular. Not to mention profitable. Where do you suppose "Moonlight and Roses" came from? Original? Huh! Right out of the semi-classics of the long, long ago.

But pilfering of this kind is within the law.

The library of Congress operates a department called "The Folklore Division," headed by our old friend Duncan Emrich. It's Duncan's job to look up the history of various tunes and rule whether they should be declared "public domain." In other words, whether swiping them would be a copyright violation. If a song has lived through the ages, it's supposed to belong to all of us.

Part From 'Dixie'

It seems there are few, if any, violations in most of the songs we hear at the concert hall and over the radio.

And if Emrich ever had a look at "Hail to the Redskins" he'd have a hatful of research ahead of him. Between Bandleader Breeskin and Corinne Griffith, wife of Mr. George Marshall, who owns the Redskins, they ran the scale. Mrs. Marshall wrote the words.

Washington being a border town, Barnee thought he ought to straddle the fence. So the first 16 bars are copied from "Dixie." Or "I wish I was in the land of cotton," etc.

He balanced it with part of "Yankee Doodle."

Other Tunes Used

The fiddler thought it would be nice to get something Indian in the piece so he hit upon a tom-tom he remembered for the middle part. By accident he struck one of the radio give-away mystery tunes. But don't ask him the name of it—he doesn't know and wouldn't have if they'd called him with $30,000 or so at stake.

There's also—by mistake, according to the dark-haired, chubby leader—a steal from a Sunday school song.

And for a punch—one of the biggest steals of all. From the stirring French national song, "The Marseillaise."

You can't blame Barnee, though. He never went to school to learn music. His pappy taught him the violin and what he knows about the piano he taught himself. He played "Hail To the Redskins" for me on the upright in his home. It wasn't bad.

You can't blame the lovely Mrs. Marshall, either. She took time out to write the words for the Redskin song. What she's really working at is a book she's writing about her friends' favorite recipes. She's gonna call it "Eggs I Have Known."

Truman Program May Call For Crop Control To Avoid Surplus

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—The Truman administration is committed to keeping farm prices at a profitable level, but it is likely to ask that farmers on their part be prepared to limit production if big surpluses threaten.

The administration is confronted with this dilemma: How to keep farm prices up despite increasing world-wide farm production.

To solve that dilemma and keep its pledges to the farmers who contributed millions of votes to Mr. Truman's election, the administration may call upon Congress for even stronger government programs than now are available.

Arguments For Program

Agriculture Secretary Charles F. Brannan is talking of a "real longrange farm program" coupling price supports with heavy exports and some form of acreage controls. He believes price supports alone are not good.

Hot congressional debate, cutting across party lines, is practically certain.

But the administration can cite these statistics to back up its plea for enactment of its farm program:

For the past three years the farmer has produced record crops—for unparalleled cash returns. But his net income this year will fall about eight per cent below 1947. Next year's will be still lower. And if crops continue good, surpluses could become burdensome.

Wants Flexible Supports

The Republican farm program, passed earlier this year, continues present support levels for key products through 1949. But in 1950, under present law, the supports become flexible, depending on supply. Brannan favors flexible supports. He believes the GOP program doesn't go far enough, however.

Brannan's "real" program means "a policy of organized, sustained and realistic abundance." But Brannan and some Democrats in Congress clash on a definition of "realistic."

The secretary will try to discourage ay program he feels will lead to over-production, impractical use of the soil, and a government outlay of millions to buy surpluses. He wants to hedge a sliding scale of elastic price supports with an acreage control scheme.

Export Controls Sought

He is likely to suggest modernizing the parity formula, the measuring rod on which all price supports are based.

And a plan for domestic distribution of surpluses something like the old food stamp plan might figure in discussion. The school lunch program, one of the few direct means the government now has to get rid of food surpluses, probably will be continued.

The Agriculture department no doubt will try to regain control of food exports from the Department of Commerce. The two agencies have been feuding for some time. Brannan is for generous exports. Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer wants exports curtailed so the American housewife will benefit from lower prices.

Grain Storage Involved

The government will attempt to negotiate a new international wheat agreement next year. The Republican 80th Congress refused to approve one which would have guaranteed a foreign market for 185,000,000 bushels of wheat for the next five years.

Brannan also is certain to ask:

1. Restoration of authority for his department to acquire bins for storing grains put under government loan.

2. Expansion of government incentive payments to farmers who agree to constructive uses of the soil.

3. Improved health services, better roads, schools and telephone and power service to the nation's 26,000,000 farm people.

The reason so many people have quit worrying about the future these days is because they have enough present worries to keep them occupied.

DOING a little hospital visiting the other day, we got to wondering why the manufacturers of home and hotel furniture don't take a tip from the hospital bed.

Very few people would want a bed at home that was as high as a hospital bed, or as plain as to materials and design. But we'd wager a few pounds here and there that home beds with adjustment facilities similar to those in hospital beds would find quite a few takers.

For the guy who likes to read in bed; the woman who likes to sew, or play solitaire, an adjustable bed would be just the thing.

Wonder how come some smart furniture manufacturer hasn't taken a flier in adjustable beds?

Lennis Baker, who sells quite a bit of office furniture, says efforts on the part of manufacturers to "glamorize," and otherwise change the office furniture picture all fell flat on their faces.

A few years back, manufactures started making triangular shaped desks, circular shaped desks and, from the looks of some movie scenes, desks without any shape at all. But the average man just wouldn't go for them, at all.

A FEW Hollywood and New York stage, screen and radio show-offs went for the newfangled stuff. So did some hoity-toity psychiatrists, interior decorators, etc., But Old Joe Doe said "no soap." Even if he were spending a lot of money to dress up his office, he stuck by old formulas.

It probably is just as well.

'Pears to us that a good old oak, walnut, mahogany—or even a nice steel desk—with other furnishings to match, gives an office a much better atmosphere than the more spectacular stuff that would look more at home in a cocktail bar or a beauty salon.

Fellow we know is building a new house and when we saw him the other day he was plumb mournful.

"Gonna get in your new home by Christmas?" we asked, knowing the job had been started months ago.

"Naw," he said, "no chance. I know now why it took 47 years to build Solomon's Temple. That guy had a thousand wives to suggest changes!"

WE got a good chuckle out of Dr. O. W. "Babe" English the other day.

Running into him in the hospital, we noticed he had a discolored swelling on his right temple. Thinking he might have been discussing politics with someone, and forgot to duck, we asked what was the matter.

"Well," said Babe, "it's really just a risin'. As a matter of fact, if it were on anybody else, I'd say it was a very minor matter. But, boy, on me, it's a major infection!"

Now that Ford has come out with a car that is revolutionary in appearance and proving very popular, people in general are interested in what Chevrolet is going to have in the way of a new model.

Roger Kuykendall and Walter G. Alderson told us the other day that Lubbock'll probably get its first squint at the new Chevvy come January. But both said nobody outside a hallowed few in the company's topmost echelons knows definitely what the car is going to look like, or what features it will offer.

Both men, however, hazard a guess that it won't be as extreme in design as either the Studebaker, the Ford, the Kaiser, or the Frazer. More likely they think, it will resemble the new Oldsmobile. They said automatic transmission might be optional, but they do not expect it to be standard.

NAT KIZER, who is in charge of personnel out at the Veterans administration building, noted with interest our remarks here the other day concerning the need for instrucing our young people on how to apply for a job.

Mr. Kizer has been in personnel work for VA for about 30 months. He had three years of the same specialty while in the Army. He says he has interviewed thousands of job-seekers in civilian life, as well as many others considered for special work in the service, and there's no doubt that our education system is falling short in teaching youngsters how to approach a potential employer.

Mr. Kizer not only gives lipservice to the idea that something should be done to help young people in this regard. He is willing to do something about it—to give his time to an instruction project.

Since he is a government employe, Mr. Kizer has Saturdays, as well as Sundays, off.

He says that if any organization wishes to sponsor a course in teaching young people how to apply for jobs, he will do the instructing for free. Furthermore, he says he feels sure that a couple of his assistants at VA will help, gratis, and also thinks some other experienced personnel people in Lubbock will lend a hand.

MR. KIZER'S offer is one which should be snapped up by Tech, the public school system, or some club wishing to perform a service to the youth of the city.

People who do not hire individuals as a part of their work have no idea how sadly lacking most of our youngsters—including many college graduates—are in making an approach, stating their backgrounds, experience and desires.

Someone like Mr. Kizer could make a great difference in the entire business life of some of those kids by teaching them what to do, what not to do; what to say and what not to say, when applying for work.

His generous offer ought to be accepted, but quick.

Making his speeches both day and night.
Bess was doubtful; Margaret was worried—
And Dewey, on his elephant, remained unhurried.

"I don't have to work," said Dewey, to billions.
"I'll take it easy—and beat him by millions."
"Don't worry," said Truman, "I'm sure that I'll win.

'Twas on November 2, when the people cast their votes,
The elephant found out that the donkey knew his oats!

BY DREW PEARSON: HARRY TRUMAN AND HOOVER PLAN GOVERNMENT REORGANIZATION

U. S. Will Try To Force Steel Industry Expansion

WASHINGTON.—Regardless of the G. O. P. defeat, it looks as if the Hoover commission on reorganization of the government was going to win out in the end.

PEARSON

Created by the "second worst Congress," and sponsored by Senator Taft's spokesman, Cong. Clarence Brown of Ohio, most Democrats figured the Hoover commission's work would now be junked. But it won't, and there are two good reasons why.

One reason is Harry Truman. The other is Herbert Hoover.

These two gentlemen have become quite fond of each other. Despite the cracks he took at Hoover during the campaign (which came under the head of "campaign oratory"), Truman really likes Hoover. And the feeling is reciprocated.

Hoover had never set foot in the White House since the sad day he left it in 1933 until Truman invited him back after Roosevelt's death. The fact that Truman called the ex-president in for consultation automatically shielded him from the barbs and sting which the new dealers had slung in his direction for twelve long years. No longer was Hoover their favorite punching-bag.

Not only that but Truman had brought him before the public eye once again. And Hoover was so grateful he even requested the Gridiron club to let him speak, in order to pay special tribute to his new-found friend.

Truman, in turn, not only likes Hoover, but plans to use Hoover's name to wrest from Congress powers which they refused to give Franklin Roosevelt.

Truman not only wants to be a good president, but he is acutely sensitive to Dewey's charges that Washington needs a housecleaning. He has one in mind. But he has learned, far better than Dewey, that you can't clean house unless Congress gives you the power to housecleaning.

FDR asked for housecleaning power, and Harry Truman, then only a junior senator, vividly recalls how the Republican press smeared it as the "dictatorship Bill" and how a Democratic Congress barely passed a bill giving him severely restricted powers.

So Truman wants to use Hoover's name to put through a new reorganization bill, and he wants Hoover's support in lining up conservative Republicans to back him.

Furthermore, Truman believes that Hoover, like the Supreme Court, has read the election returns, and will not recommend anything which he, Truman, can't go along with. Since Hoover was also once a president, conditioned by the White House background, they think somewhat alike on what is needed in the executive branch of the government.

There are only two living men who have any idea of the cares and wear and loneliness of the presidency. This bond makes the two men closer than party labels. That, perhaps, was one reason why Hoover stayed out of the recent campaign, even refused to let the Republicans get campaign ammunition from his commission files.

Furthermore, Hoover needs Truman even more than Truman needs him. This is Herbert Hoover's lost public service. He has worked long, hard hours, and he wants this reorganization of government to be a final monument to his career. That is why he is leaning heavily on Truman to rescue his last efforts from defeat. Unless Truman does so, and gives them a Democratic label in the new Democratic Congress, they will have no chance of passage and Hoover's last effort for his country, his one chance to stage a comeback, will have vanished.

CHIANG Kai-Shek's chances of receiving vast new appropriations from the incoming Democratic Congress appear pretty slim, if energetic Congressman Sol Bloom, new chairman of the House foreign affairs committee, has his way.

Quoth Sol privately to friends: "I'm not going to vote to give Chiang another gun or another dollar for war purposes until he cleans his own house. That Chinese government has corruption coming out its ears—and their so-called army is the worst offender.

"Furthermore," opined Bloom, "we ought to stop these phony American observers who go over to China for a month and then come back to tell us either what we already know about Chinese army graft, or only what Chiang wants us to know."

Bloom was referring to William C. Bullitt, who can claim the unique distinction of having deserted three American presidents and who, having jumped on the Dewey bandwagon, ducked off to China before the Truman administration could stop him. He was appointed by the Republicans—before the elections—as an "observer."

Steel Production Must Increase

You can write it down as definite that the Interior department will ask Congress to force the steel industry to increase production—if the industry doesn't take the necessary steps itself.

Steel production has now dropped from a wartime peak of 95.5 million tons to 91.2 million tons annually—the only major industry to fall down.

The reason: big steel companies have refused to expand. Two big steel spokesmen—Eugene Grace of Bethlehem Steel and Charlie White of Republic Steel—have bluntly advised their stockholders to wait until costs come down before building new facilities. Meanwhile, the need for steel is increasing as production lags.

To meet the crisis, Assistant Secretary of the Interior Girard Davidson has appealed to Senator Joe O'Mahoney, who will head the joint congressional committee on the economic report, to introduce legislation forcing the steel industry to expand.

Merry-Go-Round

Democratic colleagues are trying to cook up a deal whereby venerable Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee would become Senate president pro tem, providing he agrees to step aside as chairman of the appropriations committee. If this happens, able Senator Carl Hayden of Arizona would become appropriations chairman. However, those close to McKellar doubt that the power-loving Tennessean will give up his seniority stranglehold on the appropriations post—even to become Senate president pro tem . . . Insiders who got prompt acknowledgements from President Truman when they wired their congratulations, are now treasuring telegrams from him which include the statement: "We now have an unmistakeable mandate from the American people." . . . Conscientious, controversial Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations board, is due to be legislated out of his job. Few labor leaders will be sad . . . To encourage a larger turnout at the polls, Congressman Arthur Klein of New York will ask Congress to grant a $40 income-tax exemption to everyone who votes.

The Feminine Viewpoint

MEMOS to store clerks: If you don't want to antagonize your customer, don't do any of these things:

One. Keep her waiting while you finish a "And-I-said,-and-then-he-said" conversation with another clerk.

MILLETT

Two. Look bored while she is telling you what she wants.

Three. Tell her you can't understand why she doesn't like something you are trying to sell her in a way that implies she is lacking in good taste.

Four. Run off and leave her if an "important" customer walks into the store.

Five. Act superior if she names a modest price and says she does not want to pay more than that.

Six. Act put-out if she doesn't buy anything.

DON'T BULLY HER

SEVEN. Try to impose your taste on her or try to bully her by telling her what she wants isn't being worn this year.

Eight. Tell her a garment is "slenderizing," or that it is "youthful" if she is under 40.

Ten. Tell her what she should never wear.

Those are the attitudes that make a customer hunt up another clerk—or another store — next time.

China, Greece Show Position Of U. S. Anti-Red Struggle

WASHINGTON.—In the struggle against world Communism, China and Greece are two focal points that illustrate the difficulties of the United States' position with startling clarity. They are properly linked together, the big and the little, since they are actually one and the same riddle.

CHILDS

Greece is so small a country that a few hundred million dollars from America can prop up a weak government and prevent the disaster of Communist dictatorship. To date, that is all the American intervention has achieved.

China is so vast and the need is so great that even if tens of billions of dollars had been expended during the past two and a half years, the tragedy, that now seems to be approaching a culmination, might not have been prevented. More material and a more energetic China policy probably only would have sustained the Chiang Kai-Shek government for a longer time.

But lack of this process of merely buying time are grim realities that will not be denied. In Greece there is still the opportunity to come to grips with those realities. In this connection an authority with a right to speak has just published a book which gets at the heart of the matter more nearly than anyone else has done to date. Col. C. M. Woodhouse, whose "Apple of Discord" has been brought out in England, was commander of the allied military mission to the Greek guerrilla forces through the war.

Cannot Be Dismissed

Col. Woodhouse's opinions cannot be dismissed by the Athens politicians as those of a "Red." He is a member of the Conservative party and in the war's aftermath, he was one of Winston Churchill's chief advisers on Greece. He has gone through the trial and torment of the Greek people for the past seven years and he sees it with the detachment of an expert who nevertheless has a deep feeling for the people themselves.

What emerges from his book, and one can hope it will be published in this country at once, is that the government of Athens is a fiction. With its cabinet crises, its passionate constitutional quarrels, it is an unreal drama that unfolds in a kind of political Shanghri-La.

For the problems in Greece, Woodhouse says, "are organic rather than political." While the unreal drama is played out on the Athens stage, a desperately poor and superstitious peasantry is starving to death.

THE players in the Athens drama often know less about actual conditions in the provinces than the experts sent to Greece by the United Nations and from this country in connection with U. S. aid. In cosmopolitan Athens, with its thin gilding of surface wealth, they must shut out the reality if they are to play their parts properly.

United States aid has kept this drama in being. Without it there would in all probability, in Col. Woodhouses' view, have been first a dictatorship of the right to be followed fairly shortly by a dictatorship of the Communist left.

But American patience and American dollars will not continue forever merely as a prop for things as they are and the unreality of the Athens debating society. The future presents a limited choice.

Perhaps the only alternative is to pour in aid on a much larger scale in an effort to revitalize Greece by building TVA's and developing new resources. This is the prescription of several missions that have visited the country.

If we were to do that, and we certainly are not doing it now, then we would have to decide what instruments to work with in Greece.

Answer Is Suppression

The answer of the Athens government to starvation, unrest and the encroachments of Communism has for the most part been more suppression and that merely feeds the flame of dissension and civil war. Col. Woodhouse goes a step further in his friendly yet critical analysis of the U. S. approach to Greece. He writes:

"American opinion still has to make up its mind what it is for in foreign affairs, instead of only what it is against. Anti-Communism, unqualified by positive character, has been one of the best allies of the third international abroad. In viewing the prospects of a conflict between the U. S. S. R. and the U. S. A., Stalin might well rest satisfied in the conviction that the latter would run out of dollars before the former ran out of doctrine."

Here is where the link between China and Greece is close. We will not win the faith of people merely by propping up things as they are.

Today's Journal Editorial

AUTO INDUSTRY ON TRIAL

The realistic and more ethical men in all branches of the automobile business doubtless are the most keenly cognizant of the probability—perhaps the virtual certainty—of restored governmental restraints, unless the industry proceeds at once to set its own house in order.

Whether these men are sufficient in number and influence to curb the excesses of those who will not resist the temptation to gouge a few quick dollars out of their operations, remains to be seen. Some of the most highly reputable dealers in Lubbock, who probably are somewhat typical of the nation, are doubtful whether it can be done.

They are equally doubtful whether government price and other controls would be of much help, their realistic philosophy being that profiteering will continue as long as people will pay profiteering prices. But the opinion still prevails, with the justification of logic, that the industry must devise means to correct present abuses, or expect the government to step in and try to do the job itself

Repealing Of Hatch Act Given Consideration By Labor Group

BY HAROLD W. WARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

CINCINNATI, Nov. 19 — The AFL, determined to play an increasing role in politics, today gave serious consideration to repeal of the Hatch act, limiting political activity by government workers.

Committees, speeding action on proposals for new legislation, weighed two major ideas relating to the 10-year-old Hatch act, bearing the name of retiring Democratic Senator Carl A. Hatch of New Mexico.

One of the proposals would amend the act to permit federal workers to discuss politics without penalty and to give the Civil Service commission authority to fix penalties based on "the gravity of the violation."

Resolution Introduced

This resolution was introduced by the Illinois State Federation of Labor.

The other major proposal would wipe out the act entirely, but there was fear expressed in the committee that to do so would resorre an executive order, preceding the Hatch act, which would have then banned political activity by federal employes, anyway.

A compromise was hoped for today so that the committee could report with a recommendation to the convention floor.

The AFL has several hundred thousand members in government jobs.

Earlier in the convention, the AFL delegates voted to make their political league permanent and agreed to a 10-cent-a-head assessment to finance its 'political education and information program" between now and the primary elections of 1950.

Told Repeatedly

The delegates have been told repeatedly by speakers at their convention that labor unions, which overwhelmingly supported the victorious campaign of President Truman, must stay in politics from now on.

The AFL in past elections has only supported candidates who were particularly friendly. This time, after forming "Labor's League For Political Education," the AFL worked for the defeat of every member of Congress who had voted to override Mr. Truman's veto of the Taft-Hartley act.

The first check—for $62,500—was handed over to President William Green yesterday by Daniel J. Tobin of the teamsters, representing that union's full share of the forthcoming proprogganda and political program.

Texas Election Law Study Is Scheduled

AUSTIN, Nov. 19 (AP)—A "fact-finding" committee will study Texas election laws.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester said yesterday that he will appoint the committee probably early next week "to collect and compile data on needed changes in Texas election laws."

Jester had previously said he would recommend that the legislature study and overhaul the election statutes.

"Research done in advance of the session by the governor's committee conceivably might speed the legislature's reform program," he said.

The governor said the committee would be instructed to report to him in advance of the 51st legislative session and he would turn the report over to the legislature "for its information and possible use."

Ancient Jap Dragons Probably Elephants

TOKYO, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—Ancient Japanese dragons probably were elephants, according to a Nipponese professor who spends most of his time digging up bones.

Dr. Kinje Kiyono says that some of the "dragon" bones in temples around here are elephant skeletons and nothing else.

In recent years, elephants have not been natives of Japan, but they did live here in prehistoric ages, Dr. Kiyono reported.

Texas Lumber Man Claimed At Dallas

DALLAS, Nov. 19. (AP)—Last rites were to be held here today for Walter Lenoir Foxworth, 73, founder of a three-state lumber yard chain.

Coalition Cabinet In Belgium Resigns

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Nov. 19 (AP)—Premier Paul Spaak's Socialist-Catholic coalition cabinet resigned today.

The resignation followed that of Minister of Justice Paul Struye yesterday after a parliamentary debate on his policy of clemency toward former German collaborators.

The fall of the government was believed to have come because of support by other Catholics of Struye.

Indians To Observe Cranberry Festival

GAY HEAD, Mass, Nov. 19 (U.P.)—An ancient Indian custom whose origin is unknown will provide cranberry sauce again this year for the Gay Head Indians on Martha's Vineyard.

In ox carts and modern automobiles, the Indians annually go to the wild cranberry grounds which always have flourished without the aid of man among white beach dunes of the island.

There they celebrate "Cranberry Day," a custom which probably has no counterpart in the United States. Usual business is suspended. Schools are closed. Every Indian in the town of Gay Head takes part.

The day for harvesting the crop is chosen by an elected "cranberry agent," who for the past decade has been Napoleon B. Madison. He watches the cranberry grounds and decides when they are ripe for picking.

Modern scoops and hand-picking harvest the crop, which is located on bits of land that still are "commonage," or land that any Indian may utilize in pasturing his cows.

American Freighter Crippled By Storm

MANILA, Nov. 19 (AP) — The American freighter Minnesotan wallowed in the heavy south China Sea tonight as a late season typhoon roared.

Globe wireless intercepted an SOS from the 13,250 ton vessel, which has a cargo of rice. The ship said its after bulkheads had sprung a leak. A tanker of the California-Texas Oil company stood by.

The ship sailed from San Francisco on Sept. 1 with Bangkok listed as one of its ports of call. The SOS came from a position between north Borneo and French Indo-China.

15 Persons Injured As Truck Overturns

BEEVILLE, Nov. 19 (AP) — Fifteen persons were injured near here yesterday when a truck transporting 27 Mexican farm laborers from Mississippi to Mexico overturned.

Fourteen of the laborers and the negro truck driver were injured. Three of the injured remained under treatment last night at the Beeville hospital. The others continued on toward the border in the repaired truck.

Potato To Lose Some Of Its Glamour For Growers In 1949

By KARL BAUMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. — The Irish potato will lose some of its glamor for growers next year.

The potato won't be supported in the manner to which it has become accustomed. Not by one-third, in fact.

Instead of the 90 per cent of parity guarantee of recent years, growers in 1949 will be assured by the government of getting only 60 per cent of the theoretical "fair to everyone" price.

And to be certain of even that much, the growers must not plant more potatoes than they are told.

Trouble Two-Fold

The trouble has been two-fold. Farmers planted more and more potatoes and Americans ate fewer and fewer. So the government had to buy the surplus under its support program.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan announced the new 60 per cent support level for 1949-crop potatoes last night. He said he didn't like to do it, but had no other course in view of the high cost of the potato program.

Each state was assigned a goal. Eventually each county, then each grower, will get one. To be eligible for price support, a farmer must not exceed his individual goal.

No Great Surprise

The lower support level came as no great surprise. A. K. Gardner, Maine's commissioner of agriculture, said his state "accepted the thought that there would have to be a drastic cut in support prices on next year's crop and thereafter."

Simultaneously with Brannan's announcement, potato growers formed a National Potato council. It's objective: to promote potato consumption.

Brannan said he was "extremely reluctant" to approve the lowering of the support price. He hastened to add that his action "cannot be regarded as a precedent or as the attitude of this department in establishing the general level of price supports under our new legislation."

Program Set Up

This law, passed by the 80th Congress, set up a long-range program under which the 90 per cent supports guaranteed by wartime legislation can be lowered. The reductions can begin next year for several crops but not until 1950 for the so-called basic crops of wheat, corn, rice, peanuts and cotton. Tobacco is another basic crop, but it will remain pegged at 90 per cent, so long as marketing quotas are in effect.

Brannan is not completely happy with the way the law took final shape. He said:

"Controlling excess production by dropping price supports sharply is not a desirable way to get adjustments, no matter how necessary these adjustments may be. However, Congress has given the Department of Agriculture no other effective mechanism, in spite of the fact that its attention has repeatedly been called to the abnormal situation in potato production."

Growers Profit

"We need legislative provisions which will help the man who adjusts his acreage, while withholding rewards from those who deliberately over-produce," he asserted.

He said he will ask the next Congress for such legislation.

So far this year, the government has bought about 60,500,000 bushels of potatoes at an average of around $1.45 a bushel. The actual loss amounted to more than that figures out, however.

That is because the government tries to put the potatoes to some use, rather than destroying them. So it sells them to commercial alcohol plants—but the price is so low the government has to dig down still deeper and pay part of the freight costs to the plants.

Whether lower support prices will mean lower retail prices next year remains to be seen. Some officials said that if acreage is kept within the goal, supply and demand will balance out and the price may not drop sharply.

In any event, it won't cost consumers, who also are taxpayers, so much to keep up the price.

Parity—what this is all about—is a complicated formula for for figuring what prices are fair to farmers in relation to prices they must pay for the things they buy. Congress says the parity price is fair to both producers and consumers.

BODY FOUND—The body of a young girl identified by police as that of Ruth Eisenberg, above, 23, Newark, N.J., nurse missing since last July, was found in a shallow grave near Ossipee, N.H. State police said the clothing found near the badly decomposed body checks with the clothing known to have been worn by the New Jersey girl when she was last reported seen. (AP Wirephoto.)

Students Plan Trip To Complete Movie

Four students from Texas Technological college who have been working with the all-college movie being produced by students since Jan. 1, 1948, will leave for Chicago Sunday morning for completion of their part of the work necessary before the movie is ready for release, Miss Oleta Stewart, of Lubbock, script writer, announced.

Students attending will be Miss Stewart, who is also in charge of publicity and Arts and Science scenario; Clint Formby, of McAdoo, narrator; Dub Boswell, student director, of Sweetwater; and Betty Dennison, of Lubbock, narrator. Also making the trip will be Marion F. Peters, cinematographer and technical advisor for the movie.

The group will arrive in Chicago Sunday afternoon at 1:30 p. m. Monday will be devoted to rehearsals and whatever script revisals are necessary, and Tuesday's work will concern coordination of the sound track with film. The premier of the film will be held in Lubbock, but no definite date has been set.

Processing of the film will require about six weeks, during which time the frames of black and white work copy will be matched with the eight color technicolor master copy. The film, when completed will last approximately 30 to 40 minutes, and will show every phase of campus life at Tech. The Tech Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the making of the picture.

Filmdom's Most Cut-Up Star Plans To Do Free-Lance Work

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 19.—Gregory Peck, filmdom's most "cut-up" star, will be free from studio commitments sooner than he expected.

Ever since his start as a film actor, the La Jolla (Calif.) lad's services have been frozen by contracts to several studios. Now he expects to do a picture apiece for MGM and 20th-Fox in the first part of 1949. That will make him a free agent, except for a three-picture obligation to Selznick.

"I'll try free-lancing—unless my following starts to drop," he remarked. "In which case, I'll grab for a seven-year deal with a studio."

Attitude Changes

Judy Garland, who has been known to be difficult, is now sweetness and light. She even has asked the MGM publicity department what she can do to help.

Ethel Barrymore was eager to meet Gene Bearden, the baseball pitcher who is at MGM for "The Stratton Story." The sports-minded actress was disappointed when she learned he hasn't reported for work yet.

George Brent's hobby has switched from yachting to his horse breeding farm. His interest is so great he hates to come to town. Strangely enough, he has never ridden any of his horses.

Checks Pouring In

Pre-dated checks are reportedly pouring into the Democratic campaign funds from Hollywood personalities who offer such excuses as "I've been out of town, etc." They apparently hope it's never too late to hop on the bandwagon.

Van Johnson will likely join Esther Williams in "The Duchess Of Idaho." He's now doing his first costume picture, "The Good Old Summertime." It's the good old "Shop Around The Corner," changed from contemporary Vienna to Chicago in the 1900's.

Air Force Veterans Offer Aid To China

SHANGHAI, Nov. 19. (AP)—Claire Chennault today relayed to President Chiang Kai-Shek an offer by veterans of the American 14th air force to form a volunteer air group to fight the Chinese Reds.

Chennault, retired U. S. major general and wartime commander of the 14th, now runs an air transport company in China.

He said he relayed to the Chinese president the "generous offer", from veterans of the former China-Burma war theater.

NURSES IN 1918—As nurses observe Nursing Progress week this week to inaugurate one year's observance of the Diamond Jubilee of Nursing, some are recalling early days of nursing in Lubbock. The above photograph shows a group of nurses who came to Lubbock from Post in 1918 to serve in the newly opened Lubbock sanitarium, now Lubbock Memorial hospital. From left to right, they are: Seated on bumper, Leona Woods, now Mrs. Leona Anthony of Ralls, and the late Harriet Baker; standing back of ambulance nearer hospital, Annie Gaines, now Mrs. Annie Gaines Bailey of Lamesa, and the late Mrs. Elsie Durham Boyd of Wilson, who was Elsie Durham when the protograph was made; seated in car, the late Miss Mary E. Farwell, who was first superintendent of nurses at the sanitarium, Miss Pearl Tackett, now Mrs. Pearl Tackett Cannon of Dallas, and Miss Maude Holliday, who now lives in Georgia; standing in front of ambulance, Miss Ethel Grantham and Miss Mae Kent, now Mrs. Silas Dixon. The ambulance pictured was the first motor ambulance of Rix Funeral home. At far right, through a vacant space, may be seen a part of First Methodist church on the next block. The vacant space since has been filled in with an addition to the hospital building. (Photo lent by Mrs. Bailey).

BUILDING PERMIT WILL BE LARGEST OF YEAR

Ground-Breaking Ceremony For New Baptist Church At Broadway And Avenue V Is Set

Ground breaking ceremonies for the new plant of the First Baptist church, which will be one of the finest in the Southwest, have been set for Sunday at 3 p. m. on the site at Broadway and Avenue V, Dr. J. Ralph Grant, the pastor, announced Thursday afternoon.

Robert E. Maxey, general contractor, said formal application for the building permit for the $1,116,000 multiple-unit edifice will be filed today or Saturday.

The issuance of the permit will be a formality since the contractor, architects and representatives of the church have been in close consultation with City Building Inspector Lloyd Ross and other officials to make sure that specifications met building code requirements.

The building permit will be the largest of the year to date and one of the largest in Lubbock history. It will increase the city building permit total for the year to nearly $13,500,000—more than $2,000,000 larger than the $11,130,866 in new construction last year which set a record to that time.

The ground to be broken Sunday will be for the two educational buildings which will be the first units to be erected of the four-unit plant. The other units will be the sanctuary, or main auditorium building, seating 2,400 persons and a smaller chapel.

Plans are, according to Dr. Grant, to complete the educational buildings and the sanctuary without interruption of construction. Two years are allowed for this task. Plans for the chapel are more indefinite. The application for the building permit will not cover this unit.

The church site, purchased for cash several years ago, is bounded on the north by Broadway, the south by Thirteenth street, the east by Avenue V and the west by a new thoroughfare, as yet unopened and unnamed, between Broadway and Thirteenth. Dimensions of the plot measure approximately 300 feet from north and 365 feet from east to west.

Program Is Given

The educational building will front on Thirteenth street, having a combined length of 244 feet and a maximum breadth of 88 feet. Each will be two stories with basement, making provisions for 28 Sunday school departments with an attendance of 3,200 persons, and for recreation, library, conference rooms, offices, banquet rooms, choir rooms, kitchen and other facilities.

The sanctuary will front on Avenue V, where the main entrance will be surmounted by a tower 102 feet high. A 40-foot burnished copper spire which will be adaptable to striking illumination, will be erected on the tower.

The chapel, when and if built, will front on Broadway back of the main auditorium.

The ground breaking program is scheduled to last about one hour. Dr. Grant will preside. The church choir will sing, "Onward Christian Soldiers," to begin the program. The Rev. J. F. Nix, retired, former Baptist pastor at Abernathy, will ask the invocation, followed by another hymn.

To Honor Charter Members

Special recognition then will be accorded charter members of the church, building and finance committee members, deacons, archi-

Local Youth Is Named As FFA Official

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 19 — Six-foot-two Alton Brazell, 20-year-old Lubbock farmer, does not need his cowboy boots to tower over his fellow national officers of the Future Farmers of America.

The strapping Texan yesterday was elected fourth vice president of the National FFA. Installation ceremonies for the new officers Thursday night brought to a close the twentieth anniversary FFA convention held here this week.

Other Officers Named

Other officers elected today were Doyle Conner, 19, Starke, Fla., president; Paul Lindholm, 20, Ortonville, Minn., first vice president; Dale Hess, 19, Fallston, Md., second vice president; Bill Michael, Jr., 18, Billings, Mont., third vice president; and Max Cobble, 19, Midway, Tenn., secretary.

Brazell is one of four sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Brazell, who live on a farm seven miles northwest of Lubbock on the Littlefield highway. There are also four daughters in the family.

The Lubbock boy's past record indicates he is no newcomer to the duties of a vice presidency. In 1947 he was vice president of the senior class at the Lubbock Senior High school.

Has Impressive Record

During the same year he served as vice president of the Texas FFA association, traveling almost 12,000 miles on FFA business which kept him out of school and away from home a total of 53 days. However, these numerous breaks in the academic routine did not prevent his winning a membership in the National Honor society.

In high school, he was agricultural reporter for The Westerner World, student newspaper, and in January 1947, was elected by the Lubbock Rotary club as the Junior Rotarian of the month. His first office in the Lubbock chapter of the FFA was junior president in 1943.

Brazell, his father, and one of his brothers farm the family's 420 acres on the Littlefield highway. Alton personally takes care of 20 irrigated acres of short staple cotton, five acres of milo, also irrigated, and eight acres of pasturage for his cow, heifer and steer.

(Young Brazell graduated from Lubbock High school in 1947. He since has been engaged in farming. In Lubbock, friends praised his past record in FFA work and appreciation for the honor he had won. N. J. Robnett is advisor of the Lubbock Senior High school FFA chapter of which Brazell was a member.)

Health Exams Are Favored

Members of the newly-organized School Health council met Thursday afternoon in Supt. R. W. Matthew's office, at which time they recommended that experimental health examinations be held in the Overton school after the first of the year.

Miss Dorothy Lomax, director of secondary education in the Lubbock school system, reported on school health in the secondary schools, while Ismael Hill, director of elementary education, made a report on elementary school health.

Inspection Planned

Supt. Matthews told the council what the present school health program in Lubbock consists of, and Mrs. Marjorie Brasher, one of two school nurses, explained the pre-school health program.

The council also planned a tour of all schools in Lubbock to inspect health facilities and rest rooms.

Members present were Matthews, Hill, Miss Lomax, Mrs. F. B. Malone, a representative of the Parent-Teachers council; Mrs. Era Ford and Mrs. Brasher, school nurses; Dr. D. W. Douglas of the St. Mary's hospital staff; and Marlin Hayhurst, coordinator of health and physical education.

Also present was Lennon Hill, a non-member of the council, who is principal of the Overton school and chairman of a teachers committee which is making a special study of health.

$1,033 Given To Aid Embezzler At Odessa

ODESSA, Nov. 19 (AP) — A fund to help a widow convicted of embezzlement has grown to $1,033.

The money is to be presented tomorrow to Mrs. Emma Louise Wilson and her family of four daughters.

Mrs. Wilson was convicted in Fort Worth on a charge of embezzlement. The judge told her that if she raised the amount involved — $2,181 — an 18-month prison sentence would be suspended.

Mrs. Wilson is in a Fort Worth hospital, but is expected to leave there tonight for her home at the Odessa air terminal.

Blast Hits Fashionable Neiman-Marcus

Explosion Damages Windows, Merchandise Of Dallas Store

DALLAS, Nov. 19. (U.P.)—An ammonia explosion, originating in the cooling system in the basement of Neiman-Marcus early today caused an undetermined amount of damage to merchandise and windows of the fashionable specialty store and sent fire equipment rushing to the scene.

Nightwatchman P. S. Irvy detected fumes as he made his rounds at 2:25 a. m. At the same time, a police patrol spotted fumes escaping from exhaust vents outside the building. Before either could call the fire department, however, the fumes exploded.

The large main floor show windows were blown out on the three sides of the buildings, with one of the fashionably dressed mannequins winding up in the middle of main street. The automatic sprinkler system cut on in the basement, doing some damage to stock.

Stanley Marcus, executive vice-president of the nationally-known firm, said that only minor stock damage was suffered, however, because most of the store's Christmas merchandise was stor-

Party "Purge" Not Extended

DALLAS, Nov. 19. (AP)—Texas Democrats have delivered a new double-barrelled blast aimed at blowing Wright Morrow of Houston out of office as national committeeman from Texas.

The state Democratic executive committee yesterday confirmed the September convention's action in removing him on charges of party disloyalty. It recommended that Byron Skelton of Temple get the job.

The Texas Association of Democratic County chairmen approved a resolution asking the national committee to remove Morrow and replace him with "someone in harmony with the administration."

National Action Required

Only the national committee has power to act on the matter. It took no action following the September convention's effort to oust Morrow.

The bitterly-worded attack on Morrow was the only party purge action taken by the executive committee. Although Chairman John C. Calhoun reported that twelve county chairmen had failed to take the loyalty pledge imposed by the convention, the committee made no effort to rub them off the party list.

A test roll call on the Morrow resolution showed 43 committee members opposed to him, six for him. Calhoun, voting a proxy, was one of the six.

The action left no doubt that the liberal wing of the party again has firm control of the Democratic machinery in Texas. This group, outvoted in the May convention, rode back into power in September.

Several committee members defended Morrow.

Letters Are Cited

Bower Cryder of Bastrop was one of these, with a plea that "this purging has got to stop. Let's don't purge good Democrats just because we disagree."

Cryder read a letter from the Democratic national committee lauding Morrow and another from President Truman thanking him for his "continuing support." Franklin Jones of Marshall, holding the proxy of K. S. McNamee, scoffed: "Those are probably form letters X and Y that went out to all members of the national committee."

Morrow opposed the nomination of Truman, but took an active part in the Democratic fund raising campaign preceding the general election.

Backed by Gov. Beauford H. Jester, he was named to succeed Myron Blalock of Marshall as national committeeman at the May convention. This was a concession to conservatives. It helped Jester keep control of that session.

Opposed Roosevelt

Liberals have opposed Morrow, remembering he opposed Franklin D. Roosevelt and was a leader of

High Button Shoes Back Again, At Least In Latest Paris Style Show For Ladies

PARIS, Nov. 19 (U.P.) — Here's the word on Paris shoe styles for women next year:

The shoes were displayed in a "shoe showing" which included amethyst and garnet-studded gold kid "chaussure d'interieur," a bedroom slipper priced at a mere $250.

Actually, few people walk around in these creations. They are made so that the designs can be sold to leading shoe manufacturers all over the world.

Styles Varied

Here's what's new for next year:

For daytime wear: thick crepe-soled walking Oxford type shoes with flat heels, made in gay, colorful, shiny leathers. Red and kelly green preferred for wear with gray tweeds, and even (first time seen in a fashion show anywhere) with dressy dark dresses.

For afternoon wear and cocktail times, the spat shoe (or high buttoned type) came into its own. Matching plaid spats over black patent leather, pointed-toe pumps, for example, were shown with a dressy black ensemble. Gray elastic sheaths built up over the regular shoe line and closely hugging the ankles also were shown with black and brown patent leather shoe-bases.

For dancing in the afternoon and evening, there were soft baby-pink, high heeled bootees. Baby blue and pink also were featured in fur lined "after ski" boots.

One Pair Different

Dodging from the Victorian look in shoewear was one pair with the strap-button business, a sandal with a rounded last made in black patent leather which was strictly 1920.

Straps of all kinds and the roman-sandal effect of lattice-work laces up the ankles were shown for both cocktail and evening wear, although there were no flat heels. Heels in the collection by Paris' leading shoe designers, went as high as a little over three inches.

Slits, punctures and pleats, especially cut-outs in leaflike formations over the toes, were shown on almost all models. One model was so complicated it took the shoemaker a week to make. Those shoes were all handmade.

the Texas regulars in 1944.

The resolution brought before the executive committee by Gilbert T. Adams of Beaumont accused Morrow of aiding and suggesting "a nefarious and sinister scheme to switch the state Democratic electors" away from Truman and Barkley.

It called him the "number one embarrassment of Governor Jester's administration" and said he had failed to carry out the duties of the office "with loyalty and fidelity." It charged Morrow with having "failed to aid the loyal Democrats in their fight against those who would sabotage the party and its principles from within."

Substitute Rejected

Former state senator Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo urged that this language be tempered. He suggested a substitute resolution merely confirming the convention's action in removing Morrow.

This was shouted down on a voice vote. A voice vote with a scattering of "noes" then put the Adams resolution into the records after an effort to table it failed 43 to 6.

Calhoun also attempted to have Secretary Tom L. Tyson of Corsicana read a report from Morrow to the committee, indicating this would add to Morrow's defense. Morrow's opponents blocked this by insisting on an immediate vote on the Adams resolution.

ed in outside warehouses. Only small reserve stocks were kept in the building.

Marcus said that it would be several days before an estimate of the damage could be made.

Firemen Wear Masks

Firemen were forced to enter the building wearing masks. Soon afterwards, work crews were assembled to clear out debris and get the store ready for "business as usual." It was expected that the large plate glass windows would be replaced by late today.

A fire, breaking out in the basement of the store two years ago, caused more than $500,000 damage to pre-Christmas stocks and brought the store nation-wide publicity.

"Russian Roulette" Fatal To Detroiter

HESPERIA, Mich., Nov. 19 (INS) —A 20-year-old Detroiter who gave himself a "50-50" chance in a game of "Russian roulette" is dead today.

The youth, Rhodes Lauland, played the dangerous game of chance while camping with a group of fellow deer-hunters near Hesperia, Mich., last ngiht.

He was killed instantly.

Lauland is survived by his mother, Mrs. Agnes Carroll, 52, and a brother, Albert, 23.

Funeral services will be held in New Orleans, where the youth's father is buried.

tects, contractor, the church staff, the Sunday school, Baptist Training union, the Women's Missionary union and the Brotherhood.

Only two charter members of the church, founded in 1891, survive. They are Mrs. Ed Vaughn, 2321 Fifteenth street, Lubbock, and Mrs. Maggie Holden, of Big Spring. Both have been invited to attend as special guests.

After the recognitions, Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will bring greetings from other Lubbock churches; Mayor W. H. Rodgers on behalf of the city; Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Technological college, from Tech, and Homer D. Grant, president of the chamber of commerce, from that organization.

Special music by the choir, directed by Rex Webster, Scripture reading by the Rev. George Dale, retired former pastor at Tahoka, and a brief sermon by Dr. Grant, "Let Us Build," will be followed by the ground breaking.

The pastor will turn the first spade of dirt. The shovel then will be handled by the charter members attending, Irving L. Jones, chairman of the board of deacons, and Dr. F. B. Malone, chairman of the building committee.

Church Organized In 1891

The Rev. F. E. Swanner, of Plainview, district missionary, will pronounce the benediction after the Doxology.

The history of the Lubbock First Baptist church dates back more than 55 years. It was organized in the summer of 1891—the year Lubbock county was organized—in the county jail building where services were then held, with a charter membership of eight.

Services were held in various places, but mostly in the courthouse built that same year, until the first church was erected in 1901 at a cost of about $1,000. Baptists wroshipped in this frame structure, in the 700 block on Thirteenth street, until 1921.

In that year the present red brick church, considered a magnificent edifice at the time, was completed on Main at Avenue N, Dr. W. A. Bowen, retired, now of Austin, was pastor at the time.

Within a few years, the congregation outgrew that building and various temporary devices have been employed to take care of expansions since then.

Planning for a new building has covered more than 20 years. In 1929 architectural plans were approved for the new structure and financing apparently was assured. The depression brought that planning to a standstill.

Since then, with a new building in mind, the fund has been built up. Assets available for the new structure now approximate $800,000, most of it in cash and government bonds. It is Dr. Grant's expressed conviction that the plant will be paid for in its entirety when the first services are held there, probably during the early winter of 1951.

Members of the building committee are Mrs. G. N. Atkinson, Dewey George, J. A. Fortenberry, John Spikes, G. H. Nelson, W. B. Atkins, Alfred Crosby, Dr. O. W. English, Vernice Ford, Jim Holt, O. W. McLeod, Jim E. Reid, Irving L. Jones and Dr. Malone. Butler & Brasher of Lubbock are the architects, with Eggers & Higgins, of New York City, as consultants.

Stock Market

MARKET HEADS UPWARD

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 (AP) — Persistent buying kept the stock market headed upward most of the time today.

Final prices showed gains of fractions to around two points. Selling increased somewhat during the last few minutes of trading and in many cases the day's best gains were trimmed.

Business stepped up near the top level of the week, with turnover for the full session at the rate of 1,000,000 shares or more. This would compare with 780,000 yesterday, a three-month low.

Among the gainers were National Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Goodyear, United Aircraft, Schenley, Kennecott Copper, Dow Chemical, Dupont, Philip Morris (at a new top for the year), Radio Corp., American Tobacco, Santa Fe, Great Northern preferred, Union Pacific, Gulf Oil, Mission Corp. and Phelps Dodge.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 (AP) — Cotton futures moved in a narrow range in quiet trading today. Restricted demand for cotton goods, the poor October consumption report and the approach of first notice day for the December contracts next Wednesday created a hesitant tone.

A steading spot firm sold a moderate amount of nearby December futures against purchases of May and there was a good deal of evening-up in the December positions and switching to later months.

	High	Low	Close

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19 (AP) — Cotton futures declined in early trading here today but rallied on trade buying and week-end short covering. Closing prices were steady, 20 cents to 60 cents a bale higher.

	Open	High	Low	Close
Dec.	31.67	31.78	31.65	31.75

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 19 (AP) — Wheat moved ahead in a strong, active trade today, gains ranged to more than 2 cents at times and the December contract hit a new high since last April.

The strength of the bread cereal was a big help to other grains. Corn futures advanced despite a sagging cash market. Oats scored good gains, accompanied by strength in the cash trade.

Announcement of a stepping up in wheat and flour exports to China was considered partly responsible for the wheat strength. Blocked roads in the snow-bound western Plains were expected to curtail further producer offerings of cash wheat.

Wheat closed 2 to 3 cents higher, Dec. $2.40-2.40⅛, corn was 1¼-1¾ higher, Dec. $1.43⅞-1.44, oats were ¾ to 1 cent higher, Dec. 84⅞-⅛.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Nov. 19 (AP) — Wheat No. 1 hard, 2.50½-54½.
Oats No. 2 white 1.03½-05.
Corn No. 2 white 1.87-97

CATTLE — Mostly steady; Choice steers absent.

Los Angeles Keeps Traffic Reputation

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Nov. 19 (U.P.) Link Waters, a farmer of Fort Dodge, Ia., decided he wouldn't drive all the way into Los Angeles on a visit because he had heard the accident rate there was high.

Instead, he parked 35 miles outside town and had relatives drive out to pick him up.

On the return trip he was driven back to his car and headed for Las Vegas. When he stopped for a traffic light in the desert town, another automobile plowed into him.

It was a Los Angeles car.

Death Reveals $16,000 Hoard

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 19. (AP)—Officers searching for identification papers of an aged recluse found dead in his untidy apartment flouse room discovered more than $16,000 hidden in a dresser.

The man was identified as Adam Reichardt, in his 60's.

A brief case hidden in the dresser drawer contained the savings, including $12,900 in war bonds. There was $1,121 in cash and $2,400 in postal savings. Papers indicated Reichardt was once in the liquor business.

At Place 11 Years

The operator of the apartment house said Reichardt had occupied the room 11 years. He had odd habits, the operator said, and wouldn't let anyone in the room to clean up.

Police said the room was littered with papers and garbage.

Reichardt, fully dressed, was found on a bed in his room yesterday. Death was tentatively attributed to natural causes. No trace of survivors or a will was found.

Conducting Contest Winners Are Named

Winning teams in the Lubbock district Junior Chapter Conducting contest, held Thursday afternoon at Texas Technological college, were announced last night by O. T. Ryan, supervisor of vocational agriculture of area 1.

Roosevelt High school, with G. K. Bullock as advisor, placed first among the seven teams in the Lubbock district. Lubbock High school, Cooper High school and Slaton High school placed second, third and fourth, in that order. N. J. Robnett, H. E. Owen and A. C. Strickland are advisors of the last named three schools.

The teams, composed exclusively of first year vocational agriculture students, were each given a half hour to exhibit their abilities in opening and closing rituals for meetings and to display their knowledge of parliamentary procedure.

The winning team from Roosevelt school will compete next spring at Tech college in the area contest, the winner of which will in turn go to the state contest at Huntsville later in the year.

Area 1, of which Ryan is supervisor, is composed of 73 chapters divided into nine districts.

COMING ICE AGE

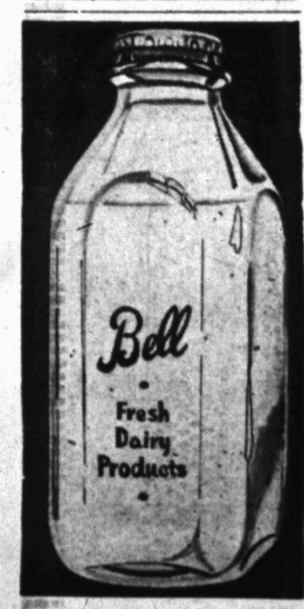

Many scientists predict that about 20,000 years from now the earth will be in the midst of another ice age, and northern cities will be overrun with heavy ice sheets.
