DRESSING FOR CHURCH.

Has anybody heard the bells?
You have! dear me; I know full well
I'll never dress in time.

For mercy's sake, come help me, Luce,
I'll make my toilet very spruce,
The silk is quite sublime!

Here, look this gaiter for me—do;
"A hole!" you say; plague take the shoe.
Please, Luce, try and hide it:
Just think, it's Sunday and my soul,
I cannot wear it with a hole!
The men will surely spy it.

They're always peeping at our feet,
(Though to be sure they needn't peep
The way we hold our dresses!)
I'll disappoint them, though to-day,
And cross myself, pray did you say?
Don't laugh at my distress!

Now, Luce, pray feel my waistfall,
Do you think it large—ain't it top small?
What bother these things give!
My rats and mice do they sit straight?
Please hurry, Luce; I know I'm late—
"There's Willie!" as I live.

How splendidly this silk will rustle!
(Please hand me my self-adjust'g bustle,
My corset any my hoop.)
There, now, I'll take five skirts or six,
Do hurry, Luce, and help me fix,
You know I cannot stoop!

How shall I say my prayers to-day?
As if girls go to church to pray!
How can you be so foolish?
Here, damp the ribbon in cologne!
What for? to paint, you silly one!
Now, Luce, don't be foolish!

Now then, my hat, for he abhors
This thing—it's big as all outdoors—
The heavenly sugar soap!
Thank heaven, my cloak is handsome too,
It cost enough to be, I know (Straighten this horrid hoop.)

My handkerchief and gloves you'll find
Just in the drawer; Luce, are you blind,
(Does my dress trail?)
It's all the fashion now, you know, (Pray, does that paint and powder show Through my veil?)

Thank you, my dear, believe I'm dressed,
The saints be praised! the day of rest
Comes only once in seven;
For if on all the other six
This trouble I should have to fix,
I'd never get to heaven.

ALL SORTS.

SPIRITUAL MANIFESTATIONS—Pimples.
How do you arrive at the height of a church steeple on a hot day? Per-spire.

"Have you read my last speech?"
said a vain orator to a friend. "I hope so," was the reply.

The young lady who was "driven to distraction," is now afraid she will have to walk back.

A young lady at Long Branch is described by a reporter as "clothed in laughing eyes and bewitching smiles."
No arrest for indecent exposure.

A tailor, having set up his carriage, asked Foote for a motto. "There is one from Hamlet," said the wit, "that will watch you to a button-hole: List, list!
Oh, list!"

"Here, you young rascal, walk up and give an account of yourself. Where have you been?" "After the girls, father." "Did you ever know me to do so when I was a boy?" "No, sir; but mother did."

The Boston Transcript quietly remarks that A. T. Stewart says he has won success by conducting his business "on the truth. That is he never suffered his money to lie at simple interest."

A physician, in speaking of the frail constitution of the women of the present day, remarked that we should take great care of our grandmothers, for we should never get any more.

A conceited young man asked Foote what apology he should make for not being one of a party the day before, to which he had been invited. "Oh, my dear sir," replied the wit, "say nothing about it, you were not missed."

"How are you, John? I'm very glad to see you." "Very well, Charley.
Come and take a drink, old fellow."
"Isn't often we meet." "That's a fact, John; and when we do, it's meet and drink."

The revenue of the Russian Imperial Family is equal to about £2,450,000 per annum, of which, however, about $450,- 000 are spent in charities, schools, theatres, &c.

When Jabal Early heard that Lee had surrendered he collapsed into a corner of his ambulance and meekly remarked,
"Well, Gabriel, blow your horn."

A John Bull, conversing with an Indian, asked him if he knew the sun never sets on the Queen's dominions.
"No," said the Indian. "Do you know the reason why?" asked John. "Because God is afraid to trust an Englishman in the dark," was the savage's reply.

Henry Ward Beecher says that more public men of eminence have started from the business of type-setting than probably from any other occupation.

"Wonderful things are done now-a-days," said Mr. Tymonson. "The doctor has given Flack's boy a new lip from his cheek." "Ah," said his lady,
"many's the time I have known a pair taken from mine, no very painful operation either."

It is related of Sidney Smith that once, on entering a drawing-room in a West End mansion, he found it lined with mirrors on all sides. Finding himself reflected in every direction, he said he "supposed he was at a meeting of the clergy, and there seemed to be a very respectable attendance."

The latest style of bonnet has just made its appearance. It is called the "Revenue Cutter," and consists of a two-cent internal revenue stamp, worn on the head and tied under each ear with a horse-hair. It presents a very pretty appearance from a distance, and must be very comfortable at this season of the year.

Some gentlemen fresh from a Western tour during a call at the White House, while Mr. Lincoln was President, referred, in the course of conversation, to a body of water in Nebraska which bore an Indian name signifying "weeping water." Mr. Lincoln immediately responded: "As 'laughing water,' according to Longfellow, is 'Minnehaha,' this evidently should be 'Minneboohoo-hoo.'"

Gail Hamilton, in her new book, entitled "Wool Gathering," remarks that "A single fact will show how rapidly the course of Empire has taken its westward way. Only but 1840 there was but a single school in Milwaukee, with twenty-five scholars; now there are three hundred larger-better shops!"

There are eight postmistresses and thirty-two postmistresses in South Carolina, all in favor of Union—to a man. They are undoubtedly competent to take charge of the mails. All the other thread-bare jokes appropriate to the occasion will suggest themselves to the intelligent reader.

So.—Most females will forgive a libel rather than a slight. If any woman were to have a man indicted for stealing her picture, although it were set in gold, it would be a new case in law; but if he carried off the setting and left the portrait, there would be no mercy for him.

"What is the reason that men never kiss each other, while the ladies want a world of kisses on feminine faces?" said the captain to Gussie the other day, up at Normal. Gussie cogitated a minute and then answered, "because the men have something better to kiss, and the women haven't." The captain "saw it" immediately.

Hobbs, the old rascal, says that an American girl loves with her eyes, an English girl with her arms, a French girl with her lips, and Italian and Spanish with all three. A Boston woman espouses in three months, a New York woman in two, and a New Orleans woman in one. Causes partly climacteric and constitutional, and partly a few words from the old folks in the back room.

A story is told about the late W.
Hope, the banker, of Amsterdam, that he had bought a picture as a Rembrandt, and given two thousand guineas for it.
Finding that it did not quite fit the frame, he sent for a carpenter to ease it a little. Whilst watching the operation, he remarked how wonderfully the picture was preserved, considering that it was nearly two hundred years old. "That is impossible," said the carpenter; "this wood is mahogany, and mahogany had not been introduced into Europe at that time." Mr. Hope burnt the picture.

The inventor of the needle gun is said to have invented another engine of war more terrible in its effects than any of his previous contrivances. It consists of a rifle which fires small shells, and is reported to have been approved by the Prussian Government.

Squaring the Circle.—According to Copeke, although it is impossible to square a circle, it is extremely possible to get round the square. Moreover, a round snip is often the best thing for the squaring of accounts.

A horse was stolen the other day from Southsea; pursuit was given after a suspected lad, and he was resting while the horse was grazing. On his capture there were found on his person two pistols—one loaded—a large quantity of powder, bullets, &c., and a black mask, and his avowed intention was to have gone to London to try his fortune in exploits like those of Jack Sheppard and Dick Turpin.

MR. STEVEN'S NEW MEASURES.

The telegraph brings us the gratifying intelligence that Thad. Stevens is not dead yet, but alive and well, planning work for the next meeting of Congress now only a few weeks off. Our dispatches say that Mr. Stevens intends urging upon Congress two great measures essential to the safety of the country; first is a general impeachment act defining offences upon which an officer may be impeached. The other important act is in relation to suffrage, to be framed in accordance with the principles of the Declaration of Independence, guaranteeing to every citizen of the United States of whatever color, race or religion the right to vote for President and Congressmen which will result in the establishment of impartial suffrage. These measures, or something similar, should have been passed by Congress long ago, but it is never too late to do good and we feel confident Congress will correct many mistakes made during past sessions. Mr. Stevens will find himself stronger in the next Congress than ever before. This proposed suffrage bill does not effect the case in the South but is intended for those States where the suffrage question is unsettled.

WHAT THE NEW YORK HERALD SAYS.

In our dispatches our readers are treated to a dose from the New York Herald in regard to the Ohio election. It will be noticed that the persons who supply these dispatches for the Southern market are very industrious in selecting the views of such copperhead papers as the Herald and the World. Why couldn't they honestly give us the result without trying to torture a defeat into a victory, by quoting from copperhead newspapers. It seems certain the Republicans have won the day in Ohio, no doubt with a considerable loss, occasioned by local issues. It will be found that there has not been the slightest change in regard to the great issue of Southern reconstruction, and if Johnson should attempt any of his revolutionary movements quick work will be made of him and his followers.

PENNSYLVANIA.—The result in Pennsylvania is not yet certain or the telegraph would furnish us something definite. The few words from Harrisburg are worthless; we want the square result.

BIBLE HISTORY.—In a Western Sabbath-School, a boy was asked to give an account of Moses. "Moses," said the boy "was born on the banks of the Nile in a basket. As the infant lay in the basket, concealed in the bulrushes, a huge crocodile came swimming along, and approaching him said: 'Moses, almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian.' Whereupon the infant stretched out its little arm towards the crocodile and said: 'Verily, thou art the man.'"

It is announced in England that an extensive business is carried on there in hunting up portraits for Americans, in order to make galleries of ancestors. An American agent, recently in London, explained that his business was to "collect ancestors," and that he had been quite successful, having picked up many good portraits, and that "with proper attention to costume and age, and some little heraldic additions, he had matched suitable husbands and wives for two or three generations, and had exported several very well-assorted families, which, being provided with full credentials, were most filially adopted, and that he was continuing his highly remunerative researches."

The Western men were rough, "so were the bars." They were returned from far migrations, whither women and children had not accompanied them. Their Western life was significantly reported by one of their number, who, being at a theatre where a baby was crying, and the orchestra trying to drown its little voice, rose in the pit and exclaimed: "Stop them d—d fiddles, and let the baby cry; I hain't heard such music this ten years."

Gen. Halleck has telegraphed to Gen. Grant recommending the Government to at once apply the regulations governing the Indian Territories of Alaska, so as to anticipate illicit traffic in liquor.

Mr. Stevens' New Measures.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—The Morning Post has a special Washington despatch which says, letters have been received here from Thaddeus Stevens, in which he declares his intention to urge upon Congress, as soon as it meets in November, two great measures essential to the safety of the country. First, is a general impeachment deferring offences upon which an officer may be impeached, and expressly declaring that no officer shall continue to exercise the power of his office during his term. The law which Mr. Stevens intends to urge, will provide that under the authority of the Constitution and upon principles of the Declaration of Independence, no State shall have power to prohibit citizens of the United States, of whatever their race, color, or religion, from voting for President or Congressmen, which will establish impartial suffrage throughout the Union.

Leading Republicans affirm that Mr. Stevens will be sustained by Congress.

General Grant Favors Extension of Time to Southern Railroads.

WASHINGTON, October 15.—In a conversation regarding Southern railroads, General Grant expressed himself to the effect that they had been managed with great energy, and that the inability to pay their indebtedness to the Government arises from causes beyond the control of the managers. He favors extension of time in all cases.

(Signed) HUGH McCULLOCH, Secretary of the Treasury.

How the New York Herald Views the Ohio Election.

WASHINGTON, October 15.—The New York Herald contains the following allusions to the Ohio election:

"At the election for Congressmen in Ohio last year, the Republicans carried 16 out of 19 Districts of the State. The Democrats elected their candidate in the 5th, 12th and 13th Districts, the latter by a majority of 271, which Columbus Delano, the defeated candidate, is now contesting.

"At the election of the 8th instant the Democrats carried 12 out of 19 Districts, and came within one hundred of carrying two or three others. The 2d District was carried by them last year, and not contested. Their majority increased from 2,852 to 5,244 in the 5th District, and from 3,260 to 6,002 in the 12th District, while in the 13th, which is being contested, the Democratic majority increased from 271 to 1,840. In every Republican District the majorities are cut down immensely.

"In the 4th District, which gave Hon. Sam. Shellarberge 2,171 majority last year, the Radicals escaped with a bare 95 majority at the recent election, while in the 8th District their majority was reduced from 1,852 to 62. In the 2d District the Radical candidate was defeated by nearly 1,000 votes. General Cary, his successful candidate, although in favor of negro suffrage, is opposed to forcing it upon any State, and pledged himself to the Democrats to oppose any measures looking to the passage of the bill by Congress enfranchising the blacks, whether in the North or South. He may therefore be remarked as an opponent of the Congressional policy of reconstruction.

"The most significant feature about these Districts is the revolution in the 10th District. This District is represented by Mr. J. M. Ashley, the member of Congress who brought in articles of impeachment against the President. As will be seen the Republican loss is 2,041, giving the Democrats a majority of 124 in the District."

CISTERS.—Every man who owns a house in this city should build a cistern to hold sufficient water for his family use during the Spring, Summer and Fall months. We have but one source of fear in San Antonio, and that is cholera. It is a well-proved fact that most of the fatality from this disease arises from the want of pure water; our well water is highly impregnated with lime and very dangerous to use in cholera times. It is true that our health record during the past summer has been most remarkable, but this is no reason for not increasing the safe-guards of health, one of the greatest is good water. Clean, sweet rain-water is the best water in the world, and with ice through the summer is a delicious beverage, surpassing all the brewings ever invented by men. Most every body can build a cistern; it doesn't cost a great deal and may save the first summer its cost in the shape of a doctor's bill. In this place cisterns should be sunk in the ground and walled up with stone or brick and cemented with hydraulic cement. After the cistern is built, the next thing is to get good, fresh, clean water: The winter is the time to catch the year's supply. After all the leaves have fallen from the trees, the roofs should be swept clean, and the spouts cleaned of all rubbish, and the water not allowed to run into the cistern until one or two showers have thoroughly washed off the roofs and made the spouts perfectly sweet, after which let your cistern fill up. There is nothing which would add more to the health of our city as the general building of cisterns, and we hope all our citizens who are simply able will commence the movement. When our city falls into a loyal administration we shall advocate the establishment of several mammoth public cisterns for the benefit of the poor.

STEAM WAGON FACTORY.—We had occasion some time since to allude to the spirit and enterprise exhibited by Mr. Brower in the erection and successful operation of his wagon factory and planing mill; we again repeat the announcement with pleasure of the progress made with his undertaking, and introduce to the public in an advertisement under head of "The Alamo Steam Wagon Factory" where all work in his line will be promptly attended to. His large planing machine, machine for bending fellows, and two forges where any kind of blacksmithing can be done, are now in operation in addition to the many machines already mentioned in previous notices. Mr. Brower's establishment is a success and the public will find it to their advantage to give him a call.

INTERNAL REVENUE GUIDE.—We have just printed for Capt. P. Braubach a pamphlet entitled "Internal Revenue Guide," showing the duties and obligations of tax payers in relation to returns and payment of taxes, compiled by the Captain from all the internal revenue acts, and giving all the information needed by tax payers. This work should be in the hands of every business man and tax payer, containing much valuable information applicable to every business. Copies can be had at the internal revenue office in French's building.

A HARVEST OF MAIL.—Yesterday, Wednesday, our post office was in receipt of a large quantity of mail-matter the accumulation of several weeks. We rejoice that the quarantine has been raised. Our citizens did not seem to be at all dainty about taking the letters and papers notwithstanding they had come through so much yellow fever.

We call attention to new Quartermaster advertisements.
