Quail To Hold Meeting To Consider Rural High School

Patrons To Meet At Quail March 6 To Discuss Plans

Proposed District Would Become Largest Of Kind In State
Guest Speakers
District Deputy And Samnorwood Delegation To Attend Session

After discussing the possibilities of a Rural High School District Quail for several weeks school patrons of that section today announced that a mass meeting would be held at the Quail School Wednesday night, March 6, for the purpose of discussing plans for a district.

Many Guest Speakers
Bryan Dickson, deputy state superintendent, will be present at the meeting and will explain, in all, the requirements and benefits from the Rural High School District plan. E. W. Miller, Richard Wischkaemper, trustee of the Samnorwood district, also attend the meeting and give an outline of the progress of the Samnorwood Rural High School. E. G. Sanders, Samnorwood superintendent, will probably attend and Logan Cummings, county superintendent, will be present. The school patrons favor the plan.

Masons Hold Open Meeting For George Washington Program

Wellington Masons held an open meeting Friday night, February 23, at which time a Washington day program was held for sons and members of the East- Star. Rev. T. M. Johnston acted as master of ceremonies. W. Decker, principal of the Wellington High School, made a thoughtful speech that was sincerely appreciated by those present. Refreshments were also made by Deskins, Judge Luther Gribble and Bayouth. Following the program refreshments, consisting of coffee and sandwiches, were served to those present.

Fire Drill Record Set At High School

If a fire ever occurs in the Wellington Schools, parents need have no fear of their children being taken out quickly and safely. This is the opinion of Bura Hand, Wellington Fire Chief, who led a fire drill at the Wellington High School Wednesday evening. The entire building, in which are housed both high school and...

Merchants Vote To Continue Trades Day In Wellington Seven More Weeks

Voting to continue the Wellington Trades Day with cash awards of $50, each Saturday, the merchants of Wellington held a mass meeting at the courthouse Tuesday February 26, at 2:30 o'clock. The event next Saturday will be held at 4:30 o'clock, the day after tomorrow, but beginning Saturday, March 9, the time will be changed from 4:30 to 5 o'clock, due to the fact that the evenings are growing much longer at this season of the year. Merchants attending the meeting expressed themselves as well pleased with the results secured through the weekly Trades Days and voted that the merchants of the city should underwrite a continuance of the program for seven additional weeks.

Halt Paving Work Into Wellington Until After Commission Hearing

Laying of pavement on Highway 4, from the Childress County line into Wellington, was temporarily brought to a halt last Thursday when rival gravel bidders secured a hearing before the Railway Commission in regard to the freight rates on gravel now being given to the firm which holds the contract to furnish gravel to the paving contractors. The case was reported to have been submitted to the Railway Commission and the delivery of gravel was stopped until after the hearing. Possibility of a delay of between 20 and 30 days was seen by county commissioners, and should a ruling be placed against the present rate of delivery the delay may be even longer. At the present time the pavement has been laid for a stretch of more than two miles and work was progressing, before the delay, at the rate of approximately...

Resident Of Lillie Community Came To This County In 1911

Funeral services for Mrs. Fannie E. Akin, 65, were held Saturday afternoon, February 23, from the Lillie Baptist Church, conducted by Rev. T. M. Johnston, assisted by Rev. C. E. Meredith and Bro. W. W. Carter of Dodsonville. Mrs. Akin passed away Friday, February 22, following a lingering illness. She was born in Mississippi on June 6, 1869, and was 65 years, eight months and 16 days of age at the time of her death. Lived Near Kelley
Mrs. Akin came to Collingsworth County with her husband in 1911 and first resided in the Kelley community, where she was a member of the Methodist Church. After living in this section for some time, the Akins moved just east of Fresno and later to the present home in the Lillie community. Six years ago she joined the Lillie Baptist Church with her husband and has been a member of the church since that time. Mrs. Akin was widely known over...

Wellington Boys End Successful Season On Courts

Skyrockets Take Second Place In District Tournament
Unusual Record
High School Quintet Lost Only Five Games During Entire Season

Taking second place in the District Interscholastic League meet at Childress, Friday and Saturday, February 22 and 23, the Wellington High School basketball team Saturday night closed its season when the squad lost to the strong Crowell team in the final game of the meet.

Have Good Record
The Skyrockets won their brackets in the meet when they defeated Childress by a 29 to 27 score. Childress led the Wellington team several times during the game. In the quarter-final Wellington defeated Turkey by a four-point margin; the Rockets also came from behind in the final quarter of this game for their victory, after the Turks had led through the entire tangle. In Wellington's first game they defeated Marguret by three points after the Marguret...

Auto Drivers May Use 1935 Plates After March First

That residents of Collingsworth County can place 1935 license tags on their automobiles March 1, was announced today by Howard Riggs, assistant tax collector, who stated that the new ruling became effective when Gov. Allred signed a bill to that effect last week. The previous law stated that April 1 was the first date for placing 1935 tags on vehicles, but under the new ruling all vehicles, which are driven, must carry the new license plates after April 1. Residents of this county were urged to secure their plates as soon as possible and to avoid the last-minute rush which would otherwise occur at the collector's office in the courthouse.

Rev. Meredith Accepts Church Near Ft. Worth

Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Meredith of Dodsonville will this week move to Pottsville, Texas, where Rev. Meredith has accepted a call as pastor of the Baptist Church. Rev. Meredith has been pastor of the Dodsonville Church for the past six months and although his friends hated to see him leave they expressed happiness in the fact that he was securing a full-time church. Mrs. Meredith will be remembered as the former Miss Maudell Dukeminier of this city.

Dry Norther Sweeps County At Fifty Miles An Hour Sunday

Climaxing four days of crisscrossing winds, a dry norther swept across Collingsworth County Sunday and Sunday night with unabated fury. County In Semi-Darkness
The gale, which is recorded generally as the most terrific in recent years, swept through this section at a speed of 50 miles an hour laden with sand, dust, and even small rocks. The skies, although cloudless most of the time, completely shut the sun from view and gave the day an appearance of twilight. The onslaught also brought a drop in temperature to the county as the mercury fell to a low point during the night and at 8 o'clock Monday morning, with a high wind still blowing, registered 12 degrees above zero. House Cleaning Monday
Following the terrific sandstorm, Monday was generally appropriated over the entire county...

Checks For 1,465 Farmers Arrive Here During Week

First Checks Represent Only Partial Payments On Pooled Certificates
$50,000 Due Here
Other Checks Expected To Be Here At Any Time By Agent

A total of $93,486.20 in first payments on 1,465 cotton certificates placed in the government pool, was received in Collingsworth County this week. Farmers of this county are still due more than $50,000 from the first payments on certificates and the county agent's office is expecting the remainder of the initial payment checks to arrive at any time. First Payment Only
"These first checks from certificates placed in the National Surplus Certificate Pool only represent a portion of the total payments to be derived from the pooled certificates," John O. Stovall, county agent, said, "and are the specified two cents per pound advanced by a special ruling on the part of the pool heads." The exact total to be gained from the certificates is not yet known and will depend largely upon the amounts of certificates sold and upon their price. Farmers to whom checks were sent have been promptly notified by the agent's office and just as soon as the checks come in for remaining parties, they will be...

Survey Discloses 65 Millions For Relief In Texas

Only Seven Other States Have Received More Federal Money

WASHINGTON—As the federal government prepares to shift to the states the greater part of the burden of direct relief, a study of records of the FERA and the RFC today, revealed that Texas will have to carry a heavy relief load. More than one hundred million seconds have ticked by since the federal government began giving relief money to the states in February, 1932.

And for every one of these one hundred million seconds every time the clock ticked during every day and every night for the last three years, the government has given 68 cents to the destitute and unemployed of Texas.

Allotted $65,600,000
The total cost to the federal government of providing direct relief to Texas needy, since the Reconstruction Finance Corporation began making relief grants in February, 1932, up to the first of this month, has been $65,603,731. This of course, includes all Federal Emergency Relief Administration allotments for direct relief.

FERA and RFC records show that only seven other states have received more federal aid than has Texas.

Analysis of the Texas total disclosed that direct relief for the state has cost the federal government $21,867,927, a year, $1,822,327 a month, $414,418 a week, $59,202 a day, $2,446 an hour, $41 a minute and 68 cents a second.

Received Seven Million
Under the original relief setup, by which the RFC was authorized to disburse $300,000,000 among the states, Texas got $7,952,291 from February 2, 1932 to May 23, 1933. It was on the latter date that the FERA took over from the RFC the duties of allotting relief funds.

From May 23, 1933 until February 1, 1935 the FERA gave to Texas $57,651,490, bringing the state's total to $65,603,718 for the three-year period.

Added to this amount were federal grants for CWA work relief, and state and local funds which were matched with federal funds.

Get Help From PWA
Under the new setup, with the states caring for unemployed and the federal government diverting most of its relief funds to work relief, Texas of course will not have to spend during the coming year as much as the government spent in 1932, 1933 or 1934. Most of the burden will be alleviated by employment afforded by the huge works program which will get under way shortly.

Parachute Jumper And Lover Are Married With 2-Year-Old Liscense

FORT WORTH, Texas—Howard Wheeler and Jewel Friend have taken up the threads of a romance that were broken two years ago.

They were "Mr. and Mrs." Monday, after a two-year wait during which the bride made more than 200 parachute jumps, one of them from an altitude of 17,000 feet.

Back in February, 1933, Wheeler, who was then 25, and Miss Friend, who was 19, procured a marriage license before the date set for the wedding, however, Miss Friend received an offer to make some parachute jumps in South Dakota. She anticipated being away but a few weeks.

But the weeks lengthened into months and then years.

She came back to town Wednesday. The couple went to the County Clerk's office and asked if their license was still good. It was.

Justice of the Peace Marvin Beaty married them last Saturday night.

Marella Juniors Have Strongest Team In 5 Years

Basket Ball Fans Of Community Congratulate Coach Finch

By JOE CLAUNCH

Expressing their appreciation for the exceptional work of the Junior Basket Ball Team, fans in the Marella Community this week extended their congratulations to Coach Finch for the splendid work of the boys on the team.

Coach Finch, this season, turned out one of the strongest junior squads seen in the Marella section since 1929. The boys have defeated practically every junior team in the county, having taken victories over Quail and Ring during the past two weeks.

The squad has also been working out regularly for some time in preparation for the precinct tournament. A large delegation of fans are expected to accompany the team to Quail for the tournament.

In addition to their other games, the Marella Juniors have entered both tournaments which were played on the Wellington courts, and took three games before losing in a fast tilt to the Samnorwood High school junior quintet by only one point.

Eyes of the other junior teams entered in the Quail tourney will certainly be fastened on the Marella entry, which includes Chester Glenn, Cleo Robinson, Weldon Gilbreath, Lester Glenn and Jesse Lee Robinson. They are all in fine condition and should make a strong bid for the precinct title.

Marella has played the following teams: Ring, two games; Lillie two games; Samnorwood, one game and Cross Roads.

Funeral Services Held Sunday For Dollie Haskett

Funeral services for Mrs. Dollie Haskett, 42, were held Sunday afternoon, February 24, at 1 o'clock from the Pentecostal Church in Wellington, conducted by Rev. Lester Summers.

Mrs. Haskett was born in Grady County, Oklahoma, July 5, 1892. She came to this county three months ago and has resided here since that time with Mrs. Hattie Brown of this city. Mrs. Haskett was 42 years, seven months and 18 days of age at the time of her death, Saturday, February 23.

Mrs. Haskett is survived by the following relatives, one daughter, Mrs. Lillie Lelew of Sasakwa, Oklahoma; her mother, Mrs. Hattie Brown of Wellington; nine brothers and sisters, A. C. Brewer of Chickasha, W. T. Brewer of Chickasha; Mrs. Vona McKelvey of Ft. Cobb, Oklahoma; Mrs. Lizzie Crow of Apache, Oklahoma; Mrs. Lena Henley, Martin, S. D.; E. E. Brewer of Tucumcari, N. Mex.; Clarence Brewer, Anadarko, Oklahoma; Robert Brewer, Apache, Oklahoma; Mrs. Verna Williams of Wellington.

Out-of-town friends who were present for the funeral were L. Hale and Madeline Hale, both of Blanchard, Oklahoma.

Pall bearers were: Aust Christoph, Ferrel Moore, O. Smith, Lonnie Goodner, Clyde Martin and A. B. Atchinson. Flower bearers were: Mrs. Rodney Johnson, Mrs. J. M. Boyett, Miss Juanita Holley and Miss Laverne Evertt.

Interment was made in the Wellington Cemetery by Ellis Funeral Home.

Precinct Three Basket Ball Is Played Saturday

Quail, Rolla, and Marella To Have Teams In Tournament

The tournament for precinct 3 was played at Quail Saturday, February 23. Everyone returned home with weary ears because of the usual momentary sandstorm that raged Saturday.

The senior girls' division there were three teams. They were Lillie, Quail and Buck Creek. The Quail team eliminated the Lillie team with a score of 25-10. The Buck Creek team drew a bye but were eliminated in the finals by the Quail girls in a score of 19-0, making the Quail Senior girls the winners of the day.

The senior boys' division, Quail eliminated Lillie by a score of 27-7. Rolla then eliminated Quail by the score of 14-0, making Rolla the champion of the senior boys teams.

The Junior girls' division, Quail eliminated Ring to the tune of 8-3. Lillie eliminated Buck Creek by a score of 4-0. Quail won Marella by a score of 6-2. In the final Quail took the championship by winning over Lillie with a score of 8-3.

The Junior boys class, Marella eliminated Rolla with a score of 15-1. Ring beat Salt Fork with a score of 16-3. In the Quail game the Quail boys won by a very small margin. Just as the game blew for the game Ring scored a field goal, causing their score to be Ring 8, Quail 9. In the game of the day, Marella won Quail to the score of 22-2.

Precinct number 3 will be represented at the County Tournament by Quail Senior Girls, Rolla Senior Girls, Quail Junior Girls and Marella Junior boys.

United States Entertains The Dionnes, Parents Of Famed Quintuplets

Even during the exciting whirl of their United States tour, thoughts of their five remarkable babies back home remained constantly with Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne. They are shown buying dolls for the quintuplets, who are pictured below.

Some nine months ago, a quirk of destiny converted an obscure Canadian peasant couple into the world's most famous parents. And recently, for the first time, Americans have had a chance to get a "close-up" of Oliva and Elzire Dionne of Corbiel, Ont.

The night last May that overburdened story sagged into Corbiel, bringing the quintuplets to double the Dionne brood, the medical world was astounded. The chance of such a quintuplet birth, it seems, was something like one in 57,000,000.

And then, to further confound historians, the babies and the mother lived and thrived, a thing absolutely unheard-of in reliable medical records.

Since their recent arrival in the United States the Dionnes have seen many wonders of which formerly they had only heard in their humble north woods village.

Skyscrapers that were taller than their home-land's highest trees; beautiful parks and boulevards, glittering department stores, gay, sophisticated night clubs and their palatial hotel suites, all drew French expressions of amazement from the parents of the quintuplets.

Typical, yet eloquent of their pleasure at seeing familiar friends in new and strange surroundings, was their eagerness to visit the Chicago stockyards. Here, where more stock animals are gathered daily than he sees in months, Papa Oliva was in his glory.

And Mama Dionne reveled in stores where breath-taking fabrics and dresses were spread before her, in shops where the newest beautifying processes were available.

But the sight of rows upon rows of babies in a metropolitan lying-in hospital brought a wave of home-sickness to the Dionnes, recalling their children back at North Bay.

At Corbiel, two buildings shelter the Dionne offspring. In one, a simple frame house, three boys and two girls, ranging in age from 2 to 8, eat, sleep, do their chores and frolic just like other children of the region.

In a tidy little hospital just across the road however, the five other little Dionnes—the quintuplets—are being attended with exquisite care by Dr. Allan R. Dafeo and efficient nurses.

And the most modern scientific methods and apparatus available are employed to safeguard the progress of the wonder babies, who continued to live despite the ominous head-shaking of the world's sagest physicians.

Adds Shelves To Closet

With only a few hours of work, Mrs. J. H. Starr of the Quail Home Demonstration Club says that she did not realize that the rearrangement of shelves would enable her to get more in her closet. The shelves were spaced according to what Mrs. Starr planned to store on them. The rods in the closet were also dropped so that she could put two shelves above the rods for the storage of hats and boxes.

4-H Girl Makes Cheese

Extra milk has been used by Ruby Lee Roberts to make cheese. "We like cheese served any way, so I am glad that we may have a variety for school lunches. I have found that it saves time and the curd is much finer to add a remet tablet to the clabbered skim milk in making cottage cheese," says Miss Roberts. A small quantity of sweet or sour cream may be added to the curd to improve the flavor or if the curd is a little dry.

Berry Patch Nets $110

A six-year-old berry patch of 1,100 plants in 15 50-yard rows has been worth $110 to Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Gardner of the North Wellington community. They sold 295 gallons at 35 cents per gallon; canned 75 quarts of berries, six quarts of berry juice, 25 quarts of jelly, 15 pints of jam, in addition to what was used fresh and have given away to the neighbors. The berries were gathered on the thirds. "Berries surely are a paying proposition," says Mrs. Gardner.

ner. These berries are crossed between black berries and dewberries.

Has Tiled Garden

"Carrots and lettuce are being planted on top of the tile and two rows of vegetables between the rows of tile," says T. B. Starkey of the North Wellington community. When the tile was laid Mr. Starkey did not cover the top trench completely, so that the vegetables could be protected from the winds.

Radishes, lettuce and mustard were planted on top of the trench because these vegetables need more water and they bare early. When your garden space is limited and the water supply is short this is a profitable garden plan, says Mr. Starkey.

Mrs. Vansickle Buried Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Ethel May Vansickle, 48, were held Saturday, February 23, from the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Vansickle was born at Campbell, Texas, December 5, 1886, and passed away at her home Wednesday, February 20. She was 48 years, two months and 14 days of age at the time of her death.

She professed Christianity and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church at the age of eight years. Her many friends will remember her as a devoted Christian companion and a faithful mother. She was married in 1901.

Mrs. Vansickle is survived by her husband, J. W. Vansickle of Wellington; six daughters, Mrs. Mable Hardy of Philadelphia, Pa.; Mrs. G. W. Mitchell of Dallas; Mrs. L. S. Sewers of Dallas, Miss Lillian Vansickle of Dallas; Bobbie Ruth Vansickle and Gene Vansickle of Wellington. Four sons, Herman Vansickle of Longview; Wendell, Clyde and Billie Vansickle, all of Wellington; three brothers, G. A.

Bolton of Wheeler; Lee Bolton of Fort Worth; Roy Bolton of Wheeler. Sister, Mrs. Dora Shields of Greenville.

Resident Of Salt Fork Community Passes Away At Age Of 73

Funeral services for James Louis Cummings, 73, were held Thursday afternoon, February 21, at 2:30 o'clock from the Salt Fork church, conducted by Rev. Tom Cornelius, Rev. C. R. Damron and Bro. Vernon Jones.

Mr. Cummings was born in Sevier County, Arkansas on August 17, 1861, and was 73 years, six months and two days of age at the time of his death, having passed away at his home in the Salt Fork community on Tuesday, February 19.

Mr. Cummings came to this county 33 years ago and was known to many people over this section, having formed many friends during his residence here.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. J. L. Cummings of Salt Fork; two sons, J. E. Cummings of Patt, Colorado; and J. P. Cummings. Two daughters, Mrs. D. W. Harris and Mrs. B. B. Morris, both of Salt Fork. One sister, Mrs. Lizzie Freeman of Silverton, a half-brother, J. C. Claunch of Salt Fork, half-sister, Mrs. Nan Claunch of Corsicana; Uncle, John Abney of Salt Fork, and a host of other relatives, including 13 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Granddaughters and nieces: Willa Jean Cummings, Viola Morris, Verna Lee Harris, Mrs. Raymond Graham, Geraldine Hollingsworth, and Mrs. Lewis Morris. Grandsons, Ellison Cummings, Fred Cummings, Merrell Cummings, John Gollighugh, Lewis Morris, Raymond Graham.

Hymns were: "Beautiful River," "After You Reach Home Look For Me." Special hymns, "Daddy Has Gone," Mr. Wilson; "In the Sweet Bye and Bye," Ruby Johnson; "Asleep in Jesus."

Pall bearers were W. B. Wilson, Freeman Gilbreath, Walter Pearson, J. W. Carreker, Frank Hunt and Sam Brown. Honorary pall bearers: S. L. Maxwell, T. B. Starkey, O. A. Fike, C. W. Gollighugh, W. G. Price, R. H. Templeton, G. W. Killingsworth and Jun Turner.

Interment was made in the Quail Cemetery by Goodson Funeral Home.

IN MEMORY

By Willie Johnson

The Death angel up in Heaven,
Visited a home today;
A home of our loved ones
And took one of them away.

It was dear J. L. Cummings
Of whom everyone does know.
We are proud to say truthfully,
Our friend was ready to go.

He was a great Christian worker
He worked until he died,
He then went to Heaven,
God knows that he tried.

He was striving and striving
To bring the sinners home,
To have them worship Jesus,
And love Him as their own.

And now he is in Heaven.
He has gained his great reward,
And has gone to that Beautiful
Mansion,
To live always with our Lord.

We shall all try to be like him
In everything we do,
And live a life for Jesus,
Until Death Angels shall call us to.

Then We shall go to Heaven
And meet Uncle Jim again,
There to be forever happy
And never again feel pain.

The Interscholastic League Meet March 15th And 16th

By LOGAN O. CUMMINGS
Director General of 1935 Interscholastic League Meet

The present year offers the schools of Collingsworth County the best opportunities that they have ever had for a well organized and a well balanced program of extra-curricular activities. Plans are being completed for the most extensive athletic and literary competition that has ever been offered to the rural and high schools in this county.

Thus far the Interscholastic League activities have interested the greater number of schools in Collingsworth County during the history of the league. Besides, the three high schools, 32 rural schools are preparing their students for the county meet to be held March 15 and 16.

Unlike the past few years, there will be two separate divisions; one for the high schools and one for rural schools. In the past, the rural schools have felt as if they have been discriminated against, because they have been compelled to compete against the high schools. With a degree of fair competition existing, the rural schools are eager to compete among themselves.

Another feature in this year's league plans is the management of the basket ball activities. Instead of depending upon a basket ball tournament for the section of the district entry, a double elimination tournament was held to determine the finalists, and with the finalists to enter the district tournament at Childress February 22 and 23.

The rural championship will be determined by precinct and bi-precinct meets, thus eliminating the time and expense of long trips.

A beautiful loving cup will be given to the rural school for the all-around championship. This is to be determined by the school scoring the most points in the athletic and literary events. If it is possible, individual awards will be given for one's school and medals for the student on personal merit should be sufficient inducement for every school child in this county to enter the county meet.

The League's chief object is the greatest number of participating schools, with the maximum amount of student participation in all athletic and literary events. Every school teacher in Collingsworth County should exert every effort to see that his school is represented and participates in the appropriate division of the county meet. Now is the time for the training of winning contestants.

Miss Dorothy Webb, a Des Moines girl, dislocated her hip while giving an exhibition for fancy dancing.

Football Team To Be Back In Old District This Fall

Wellington To Meet Memphis Again, Also Shamrock And Clarendon

The Wellington Skyrockets are to return to their "old" football district next fall, according to announcements of re-districting in the Class "B" division, issued last week by the Texas Interscholastic League.

The new combination places Wellington and Memphis in District 3 of Region 1, along with Clarendon, Zefors, McLean, Mobeetie, Shamrock and Wheeler. The manner in which the district title is to be decided will be worked out at a district meeting to be held soon.

According to the re-districting, the winner of District 3 will meet the winner of District 4, similar to the second section of this district last year. District 4 is composed of Floydada, Lockney, Matador, Paducah, Quitaque, Silverton, Spur and Turkey.

Lamesa Is "Out"

No longer will regional aspirants fear the bid of Lamesa's giant Hornado. That club has been placed in the second region, completely out of competition with teams of the northern and eastern Panhandle.

The first half of Region 1 is divided as follows: District 1—Canyon, Dalhart, Dumas, Farwell, Friona, Happy, Hereford, Stratford, Tulia and Vega. District 2—Canadian, Claude, Follett, Groom, Miami, Panhandle, Perryton, Spearman and White Deer.

Play within the districts, whether it is a round-robin affair or divided into two or more sections, is left entirely with the district officials.

May Play Round-Robin

It is understood here that an attempt will be made to have a round-robin play-off in this district. This would eliminate the formation of sections and give each club in the district seven conference games. Since clubs are limited to 10 games through the district, they would be allowed only three practice games, and probably would have only two in order to play safe case of a tie.

The cutting down of the size of the region was made possible by the addition of another region to the state, giving the Class B division 10 regions, as compared to nine last year and four less than 10 years ago. The Class B League now is composed of 40 districts.

Club Contest To Offer $7,500 In Harvester Prizes

Farm costs and leaks of the 1935 and 1936 year will be put on the spot by 4-H club members of the nation and in addition to the fun of doing it they have a chance to earn some wonderful prizes.

The contest is a renewal of one widely participated in the past year in which winners of merchandise and purchase certificate prizes given by the International Harvester Company aggregating at least $7,500.00 are soon to be announced by the National Committee on Boys and Girls clubs, which conducts it.

Officially accepted by club leaders for this state, the contest is open to every enrolled boy or girl, and offers county, state, sectional and national prizes on the same basis as the previous contest except that winners of more than one prize must surrender the lower ones to an alternate.

The record books must be opened any time between January 1 and March 1, and cover the 12 consecutive months following. Contestants may use any record book providing an opening and closing inventory, record of money expended and received, costs of principal crops, etc. and a balance sheet.

Contestants are encouraged to enlist the aid of leaders, parents, and others in keeping the record, but it must be in the contestants own hand. It is hoped thus to spread the value of cost accounting which is of increasing consequence in meeting federal production control requirements, obtaining credit and making tax returns.

The records, which may be kept of the home farm or a neighbor's are to be confidential and returned after judging to the club member. Detailed rules may be obtained of the county Agricultural Agent.

Ted Johnson Has Rare Photographs In Old Collection

Some rare photographs, dating back to 1885, are in the possession of Ted Johnson of this city. The pictures record several points in early Texas history and were taken during the time Mr. Johnson's father, Ed Johnson, served as deputy United States Marshal for the North district and the Indian territory.

One of the most unusual pictures in the collection is a photograph of "Teauchuca Jim," chief of the Wichita Tribes in 1885. The photograph shows the old chief wearing a "10-gallon" hat and with a six-shooter sticking through his belt. Both of the articles were borrowed for the picture and the gun belonged to Deputy Marshall Johnson. The picture was taken during the United States Court for the North District held at Graham in 1885, where "Teauchuca Jim" appeared as a witness from the Indian Territory, which later became Oklahoma. Mr. Johnson is of the opinion that the Wichita Tribes were at that time stationed near Anadarko.

Another of the photographs shows a group of old Texas law officers and was taken in 1910 at a sheriff's convention.

An enlarged copy of the old photograph of "Teauchuca Jim" has been made and is now on display at Bart's Studio.

The Sandstorm

"Nature's Noble Creation" Is Literally Fountain Of Youth, Says Old Tack — And Leader Writer Can Hold Up His Head

By JIMMIE GILLENTINE

"He who laughs last, laughs loudest," goes an old saying.

For several weeks I have personally been the unpleasant subject of many remarks on behalf of certain individuals in Collingsworth County. Part of these remarks I have heard personally, others have been aimed behind my back—they all have to do with my own personal opinion of sandstorms. I said the sandstorms were of "Nature's own noble creation." I furthermore said that a good old West Texas Sandstorm left me in fine fettle. The sandstorm we had last Sunday was indeed one of the best sandstorms I have seen in my life, although I will have to admit that even my wife fails to agree with me on the subject.

But, since I began defending sandstorms—and I believe that I was one of the first men in West Texas to uphold the benefits of our own significant atmospheric disturbance, vulgarly known as the sandstorm—others have come to realize its great value.

John McCarty of Dalhart has openly stepped on my side of the line and tells the readers of the Dalhart Texan that he is for a good, sweeping sandstorm once in a while. Gene Howe, editor of the Amarillo Daily News, and commonly known as "Old Tack," has also taken his stand on the matter and makes the following comment:

"Folks, I have been conducting some laboratorial experiments with an Amarillo physician and we have come to the amazing and happy conclusion that may mean much to all of us out in this country. We have a health resort out here and don't know it.

Have you noticed how fine and galvanic you feel after we have been through a sandstorm? Monday, for example, everybody felt like it was the top of the morning for themselves and everybody else. And do you know why. It's because during the dust storms of Saturday and Sunday you inhaled and absorbed large quantities of "Vitamin K." Its an element or something that just naturally puts the old kick in you. It's life, vitality and power, and it just naturally comes out of the air like oxygen, and in a dust storm we get it in large and concentrated doses.

"As a matter of scientific fact, the nearest approach to the Fountain of Youth that has ever been discovered is one of our prairie breezes when it has stirred up the whole landscape. The dust swirling through the air catches up with particles of "Vitamin K" and then when we inhale this dust our systems become invigorated and rejuvenated and just naturally full of the Old Harry, whatever that is.

Just check up on yourself and you will find that you feel better and cheerier and have more snap to your walk on the day after a sand storm than any other time. Our sandstorms are really blessings in disguise.

"And something else is that, as I have stated before, the girls of this plains country have the prettiest, cutest, shapeliest, most beautiful legs that the sun ever shown upon. And my studying in the realms of anthropology have led me to believe that this is due to our winds.

And the further out on the farms and the ranches the curvier and the niftier the feminine leg.

"Boy, oh, boy, I was away out in the country the other day and I stopped at a place to obtain some drinking water and I met Plains country.

"I've been most everywhere and have seen most everything there is to see and as a connoisseur I must state that there are no legs in the universe that compare with those we have in the Panhandle. And this is the opinion of thousands of observing visitors who have visited this part of the country. You've noticed, haven't you, that when our men folks move away, they're not long about moving back to the Plains.

"The one explanation is that our women folks are just naturally endowed with sturdy, graceful underpinnings and that they are converted into masterpieces by the wind. The body or the legs in resisting the wind have developed graceful dainty muscles that have resulted in a combination of moulding that is the wonder of the world.

So, folks, really the winds we have here, even including those we had Saturday and Sunday, are real blessings.

"Above all things, 'Old Honest' Tack wants to be honest with his readers, if he has any, and I have to admit in discussing feminine charm and grace that the feet of your lady folks up here are just a trifle larger, I'd say, than the feet of the women down state. However, they are not too large and what is above them sure makes up for what is below.

Thank You, Mr. Tack. I told the good people of Collingsworth County that a good sandstorm made me feel better—and they laughed at me. But now when I walk down the streets of Wellington, it will be with that utmost satisfaction of knowing that there is another honest man in the Panhandle, a man who has the courage to face the masses in defense of nature's noble creation—the West Texas sandstorm.

Crackmen who blew open safe in a Chicago suburb, got out three copper cents for their trouble.

Deck's DIDACTICS

By H. D. W.

I often wonder why I don't start my column sooner, instead of waiting until the last minute to get work on it. All my life, I have heard about the advantages of doing things in advance—of being prepared so to speak. I have mentioned it even in my own speeches as a desirable attribute, and I do commend it, but I never have practiced what I preached. The truth is that I never do anything until I have to. It could be expressed in the one word—laziness. However, knowing that I am lazy, I do not feel especially lonely. As far in life I have never known a person intimately who is not lazy. Some are lazier than others, but few people will admit

The Wellington Band has been invited to attend the Mother-in-law Day, which will be held in Marlboro next Tuesday. Business people of Wellington should be that the band gets to go. A big barbecue has been arranged for the boys, and Gov. Alfred will speak to them at the noon hour. Fifteen other bands will be there. It will be a pleasing outing for the boys, and the presentation will do the town good.

The occasion is Gene Howe's mother-in-law celebration, which is grown to be famous over the fire nation. Tack started it, because he had hurt his mother-in-law's feelings, and he coined the expression, "A Mother-in-law is a mother who has made good." How would you say it better? Another thing that interested me in the motion picture literature sent out was a statement by Ira B. Judd, president of the Mark Twain Association. He said: "Mark Twain never said about mother-in-laws because he was a humorist, and humor is based upon wisdom and understanding. It laughs with us but never at us."

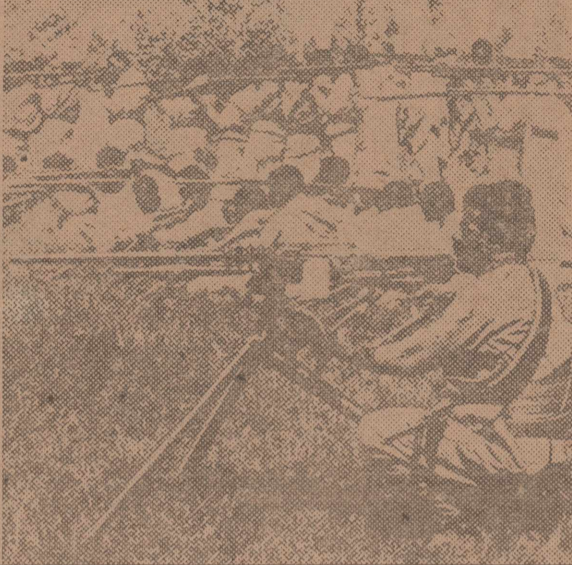

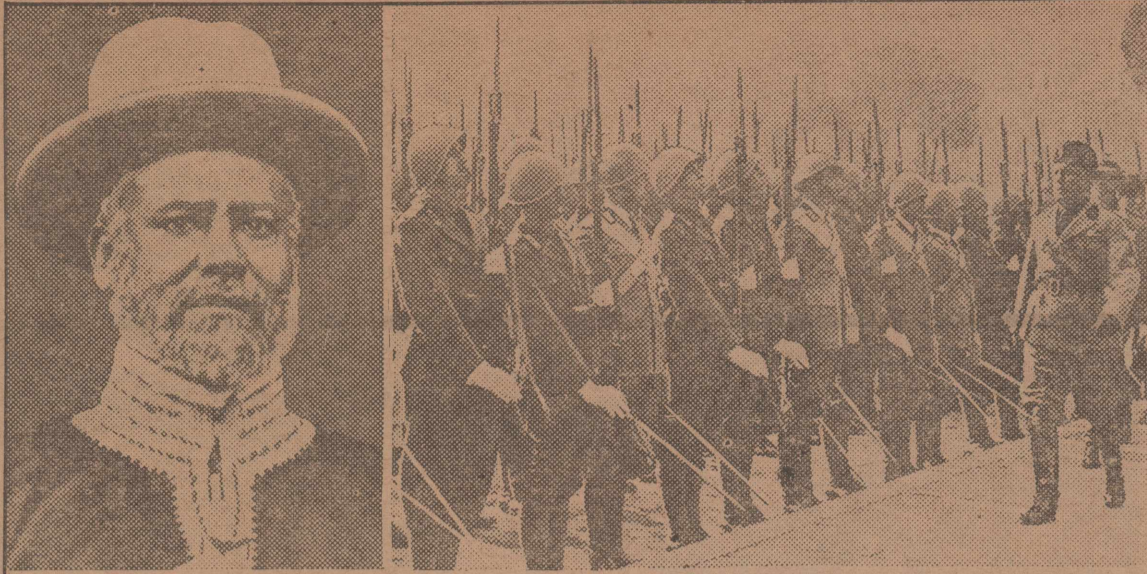

I notice that some of the publicity credits the idea of a Mother-in-law day to this person and that person. Undoubtedly many people have helped to make the celebration a success, but it was Tack's idea, and I can't see any sense in trying to spread the credit. Old Tack has done so many things, that I don't suppose he cares as long as the movement is a success. However, there isn't any use of anybody else trying to horn in on originating the idea. People who know the facts never will give them credit anyway.

Wellington has decided to continue its trades day. It is a good decision. Wellington needs aggressive merchandising, and it needs it right now—not next fall. Proper methods now can stimulate enough business to make the year successful for local business firms. A merchant who waits until fall to make a strenuous effort in advertising himself more than anyone else. The merchant who does a favorable business now will be in a position to make real profit this fall. Government payments have changed the buying habits of the people of this community by profiting them with money in seasons when they formerly had none. Some merchants are getting the business, and some classifications are doing well. Others are not doing so well. It is time to start. Now is the time to go after business for next fall. By fall some other man or worse still some other man may have your potential customers as their regular customers. It is easier to keep them than it is to get them back.

Next week The Leader will contain the good news probably that Wellington has received a 15 per cent credit on its fire insurance rate. Local insurance writers and city officials have received no word from the State Commission as yet. If the town does receive a 15 per cent credit this will mean that Wellington people can buy insurance for 30 per cent less than they could two years ago. Last year the 15 per cent penalty was dropped, and the credit will make a still greater saving. It may be circumstances, but I think the Fire Prevention Committee has had a great part in making this saving possible. They should have the hearty commendation of every person who buys fire insurance.

I went out to Samnorwood last Thursday, and I can tell you it is an inspiring sight to see the cooperation of the people of that community in giving their school and its Superintendent Sanders only a single teacher, he has secured the active as-

As War Clouds Darkened Over North Africa

Collingsworth People Interested In Sub-Irrigation

By O. J. WALKER

County Agent John O. Stovall, has in the past few days supervised the making of tile for sub-irrigation on 7 different farms. This type of irrigation is being sponsored by the Extension Service of Texas. The service has been trying for several years to get farmers interested in these projects. The tile irrigation has proven very successful in all places where it has been tried. It is much more successful in this country than surface irrigation. It also takes less water for this irriga-sistance of the parents. It is not as easily done as it is to recount it. It requires sympathetic understanding, unlimited patience and constant work. Floyd Thompson and the other trustees did well when they selected Mr. Sanders as superintendent.

Word has come to me from a number of people that they liked my tree article, but H. M. McCaskill, the only local person mentioned in it, did not even read it—at least I am so informed by Bert Starkey. Now I ask you: is that any way to do a struggling newspaper man.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of trying to express to our many friends and neighbors our appreciation of their loving sympathy and the many deeds of kindness shown us during our recent bereavement over the death of our dear husband, father and brother. We especially thank those who contributed to the floral offerings and the many comforts brought to us in our home, also for every song and every prayer. May God bless them and give to them the comfort and solace they have given us.

tion, and the plants do much better because it is a natural process of absorbing the moisture. County Agent Stovall will be glad to give anyone all the information they desire on this subject. The agent's office has plenty of literature in regard to this subject. Demonstrations were held at the following farms and the number of feet of tile that they made and to be made:

- M. G. Peeples, 420 feet; Hugh Peeples, 500 feet; Frank Gulley, 250 feet; Cecil Isbell, 280 feet; O. L. Tucker, 200 feet; Rufus Sweat, 400 feet; O. W. Peeples, 520 feet. Some of the above have not completed their tile but are in the process of completion. There were several feet of this tile used last year and everyone who used it report that their gardens were the best in the country, and that most of them were going to lay more tile this year. The making and laying of the tile is a very simple operation, and can be made cheaply. Anyone can make this kind of tile after an explanation—and with very little practice they can make several hundred feet per day, with the proper forms.

of the Shamrock Texan. The Wichita Falls Times-Record News will also probably send a delegate. Guy Hill of Shamrock Chamber of Commerce, stated that he would also attend the affair.

Many county agents and home demonstration agents of neighboring counties have also signified intentions of attending the fair. The list includes: P. C. Bennett, of Potter County; Jake Tarter, of Wheeler County; Miss Viola Jones, Wheeler; J. A. Jackson, Hall County; Fred Rummels, Foard County; Frank Buckley, Motley County; C. C. Stinson, Motley County; Miss Margie Lyon, Childress County; V. E. Haffner, Childress; Miss Mary Sitton, Potter County; Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, Hemphill County; H. M. Cantrell, Hemphill County; and H. M. Breedlove of Donley County. Several more guests are expected to accept invitations before the event closes, and several counties have stated that they will bring delegations of boys and girls for the exhibits.

Demonstrations

The Junior Fair is being sponsored by the Wellington Kiwanis Club, in cooperation with the Collingsworth County extension service agents, and is for the purpose of encouraging interest in the permanent development of higher standards of living.

Exhibits and displays will naturally demand a major of attention to the fair, but Miss Annie Mae Donaghey, home demonstration agent, today said that several demonstrations are also to be presented by boys and girls.

A demonstration in regard to mattress making will be presented by Miss Ruby Lee Roberts of the Houselog 4-H Club. Miss Roberts will take the necessary materials and give a complete demonstration in methods for making a serviceable and attractive mattress.

Miss Aline Sparlin of the Samnorwood 4-H Club will give a demonstration on tacking a comfort. She will use woolen pompoms and will finish the comfort with a spaced, quilted border.

There will also be several other demonstrations to be presented along with the general exhibits, including Boy Scout stunts and work.

Hobby Exhibits

Previously, news of many different types of hobbies that are expected to hold general attention has been printed in the Leader.

A few additional hobbies have been added to the list.

Lola Mae McMinn of the Lillie community, is only 12 years of age, but has been piecing quilts for the past four years. She has a large assortment of her handiwork, which represents unusual color combinations for a young child. Louise Anderson will enter her art work in the hobby collection. One of her favorite hobbies is the cutting of silhouettes and she delights in showing features in motion. This collection is also expected to attract much attention.

Jean Anderson will enter her embroidery work in the hobby series and also has some unusual features for the booth.

Other children have shown a delight in cooking and the hobby booth will include displays of cookies, candies, pies, etc., made by small children.

Judges will be chosen from the guests in the extension service at College Station. The hobby booth, like other events of the fair, is open for entries on the part of any youngster between the ages of 8 and 20 years, but all entrants were warned to keep the factors of recreational and educational value in mind when placing their exhibits.

The judges will name winners in one group which represents children between the ages of 8 and 12 year, and in a second group representing children between the ages of 12 and 20 years of age.

All entries must be submitted by 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, on March 7, or before.

Other entries made recently for the fair include Naomi York, Modena Shaw, Nadene Cody, Juanita Robertson, Nadine Dodd, and Fae Dodd, all of the Aberdeen Club, who are working on cushions for the backs of chairs.

Aline Sparlin and Ruby Honeycutt of the Samnorwood Club will enter cotton filled comforts.

Della Fay Coleman and Margaret Lowe of the Dozier Club will also enter cotton filled comforts.

$200 In Prizes

The committees of the Collingsworth County Meat Show and Junior Fair have decided that all prizes and awards would be furnished by Wellington business men. All prizes except ribbons, will be in merchandise trade tickets. In this way every merchant in Wellington can participate in the meat show. Also it will make it possible for the awards to be larger than if money. This being a Collingsworth County affair and the desire of all business men to have a part in it. Under the plan as stated above, the finance committee has been able to raise around $200 in awards. The plans are about complete on the Home Products Banquet, and it is expected to draw considerable interest from the business men, and already several out-of-town guests have arranged to be present, as guests of several business men.

Final arrangements have been made for the Wellington band to be ready for each day of the Fair and Meat Show, and also to furnish its orchestra for the banquet.

Anyone having planned to enter products in the show are urged to contact the county agent or home demonstration agent's office. There is still plenty of room in display booths.

THE MACON'S FATE

To anyone familiar with the history of dirigible airships the fate of the Macon, which went to the bottom of the Pacific Ocean off the California coast a few days ago, could hardly have come as a surprise.

What was surprising was the fact that all except two of the crew were saved, due to the nearness of naval vessels which were cruising in the vicinity at the time.

This is the fifth large dirigible owned by the United States government to meet disaster, the others being the ZR-2, the Roma, the Shenandoah, and the Akron. Only one, the Los Angeles, now obsolete and out of commission, escaped destruction while in service.

The ZR-2, built in England for the American Navy, buckled and exploded over Hull, England, on August 25, 1921, causing the death of 62 of the 66 men aboard.

The Roma, built in Italy for the United States Army, went out of control at Hampton Roads, Va., struck electric wires which broke, setting fire to the airship, causing the death of 35 out of a crew of 46, on February 25, 1922.

The Shenandoah broke in three pieces and fell to earth during a storm over Noble county, Ohio, on September 3, 1925, killing 14 out of 41 on board.

The Akron was the victim of a storm off the New Jersey coast on April 14, 1933, and sank with the loss of 73 of the 76 men aboard. This was the most disastrous tragedy in the history of aeronautics. The Macon was a sister ship of the Akron, these being the largest aircraft ever built.

In the light of what has happened to practically every dirigible ever constructed, it seems time that this country could call a halt to the building of these "coffins of the air." The whole record of dirigibles is one of wasted money and wasted lives. The world would be better off if these death-traps had never been invented.

THE UNKNOWN SCOUT

The recent celebration of the 25th anniversary of the Boy Scout movement in America makes it timely to again relate the incident which caused the introduction of scouting into this country. This, briefly, is the story:

A little more than a quarter of a century ago, William D. Boyce, a Chicago publisher, on a European trip, lost his way in a London fog. A young English lad observing the stranger's embarrassment, approached him, and briskly saluting said: "May I be of service to you?"

Mr. Boyce inquired the way to his destination, and the lad accompanied him there, whereupon the publisher offered his young guide a shilling for his services, but the boy said: "I am a Scout, and Scouts do not accept tips for courtesies."

Mr. Boyce was interested and impressed. He asked about the Scouts. His young friend took him to the office of Sir Robert Baden-Powell, founder of the movement, and as a result when Mr. Boyce later sailed for home he brought a trunk full of literature pertaining to scouting. Then he started the Boy Scout movement in America, with the aid of others who recognized the value of such training as it affords.

A medal awarded to "The Unknown Scout," who befriended Mr. Boyce and thus caused the spread of scouting to America, was presented to the International Scout Bureau in London, where it will be kept as a permanent memorial. It is inscribed as follows:

"To the Unknown Scout, whose faithfulness in the performance of the daily good turn brought the Scout movement to the United States of America."

Perhaps never has a simple act of kindness brought forth greater or more beneficial results than that performed by this unknown London Boy Scout.

NEW EASTER DATE

Many times it has been proposed to establish a more nearly uniform date for Easter Sunday, but tradition and custom are hard to overcome, so the old method of calculation, established by the Council of Nice more than 1,600 years ago still prevails.

Under this system Easter may fall as early as March 22 or as late as April 25, and all moveable feasts of the church are governed by the date of Easter.

The British House of Commons once passed a bill proposing that the legal date of Easter be the first Sunday after the second Saturday in April. It was not intended that the British should try to put this proposal into effect alone, but the idea was to call a world conference to consider joint action of the nations on the subject.

There are many reasons, business and social, to commend the new plan, but inasmuch as such an innovation would clash with long established religious custom it is doubtful that it will be able to command support in ecclesiastical circles. Without such support it could not be given practical effect.

A REAL BUSINESS GAIN

The increased business activity shown during recent months is encouraging, although it is recognized, of course, that there still is room for improvement.

One of the striking phases of this activity is seen in the large expenditures for home improvement, both in repairs and additions to residential property, and in the installation of such added household equipment, as washers and ironers and the like. This is due at least partly to the nation-wide promotion of home modernization programs.

To mention only one of the results of the movement for better home conditions, the demand for washing machines during 1934 reached a total of 1,240,000, an increase of 20 percent over the previous year.

This indicates a gain in purchasing power on the part of a vast number of families, and the increased demand for such home conveniences may be regarded as an encouraging sign. The outlook for 1935 is even more promising.

An Oklahoma dairyman confidently advertises: "Having installed city water, I can easily increase the number of my customers."

The Story Of The Bible Told In Pictures

THE PREDICTION OF THE SECOND COMING.—When the Pharisees sought to entangle Jesus with questions and asked Him concerning the payment of tribute, Jesus perceived their wickedness and told them to "render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's." He then confuted the Sadducees who sought to trap Him with questions concerning the resurrection and the lawyer who came tempting Him with a question, "Master, which is the great commandment in the law? Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."—Matthew 22:36-39. Matthew 24 and Mark 13 say that Jesus then went to the mount of Olives, where He foretold to His disciples the destruction of Jerusalem and the signs of coming judgment, both teachings being recorded in the first three Gospels. The illustration is based upon that prophecy, and is from Merian's story of the Bible in pictures engraved in 1625-1630. And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven; and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory. And He shall send His angels with a great sound of a trumpet and they shall gather together His elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.—Matthew 24:30-31.

OUR PAST

By C. C. BISHOP

Noah Smithwick one of the early pioneer men of Texas, in his book "The Evolution of a State," gives a very interesting account of the lawless condition of the territory along the Sabine river in the year 1831.

The section of the country that he gives an account of it what was at that time known as the Redlands, the region between the Sabine and Ayish Bayou, its geographical position making it a convenient retreat for renegades, for the reason that there was then no extradition treaty between the United States and Mexico.

The settlers in this section were too weak to protect themselves, and neither civil nor military protection, were completely at the mercy of these outlaws, who would not have hesitated an instant to put a bullet through any man who was foolhardy enough to resist them. The only semblance of government was the office of Alcald (Justice of the Peace), presided over by old Ben Lindsey, a well-meaning old man, as ignorant of law as of grammar.

Smithwick states that the only case he ever knew of being tried before this Alcald, was that of a man who was arraigned for shooting another man's dog, the complaint demanding damages therefor.

Mace Cole was employed by the defendant to conduct his case. There were no statute books available, the only book in court being the Bible on which the witnesses were sworn. Picking up the Bible, Cole asked the Alcald if, in the absence of the other law, the old Mosaic code would be admissible.

The Alcald, totally at a loss to know what to do with the case, consented to be governed by the primal statute. Cole opened the Bible and read from Deuteronomy the 23rd chapter, the 18th verse, this appearing to be plainly against the plaintiff, the case was dismissed, the plaintiff paying the costs.

In this Redland region there were other noted characters and among them a notorious counterfeiter, whom we will call John Doe. Everybody knew his money and it always passed as real money. So powerful was he in this community that people did not dare to refuse to accept his money at face value. It is said that he turned out counterfeit Mexican dollars that they look better and had much finer workmanship in them than the genuine dollar, when new.

His money soon became worn until it did not look so good, but any one that came into possession of one of these could trade it for a new one. That section of the country could not be said to be either on a silver or a gold basis, copper being the basis of Doe's coinage, making his money out of copper and coating it with some shiny substance.

By 1833 Doe's operations were (Continued on Back Page)

The Evils Of Insincerity

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for March 3.

While mankind is undoubtedly more interested in truth than falsehood, it nevertheless seems that great liars are apt to attract more interest often than great truth tellers. Perhaps that explains the popularity of the story of Ananias and Sapphira.

People refer to a great liar today as an "Ananias," through Ananias was something more than a liar. The fact is that Ananias is perhaps more closely related to most persons than they realize, because his deep sin was not in telling an untruth, but in professing to be something that he was not and to be doing something that he was not doing.

A wave of fine social enthusiasm had swept over these early Christians, destroying distinctions of wealth and rank, making those who were well-to-do ready to minister to the needs of those who lacked—a sort of Christian communism, very noble for those like Barnabas, who could enter into it earnestly and sincerely, but difficult for those whose souls were not purified and enriched with the spirit of unselfishness.

The tendency in all such situations is for ideals to become dominant and exacting in such way that individuals who have not undergone the necessary experience that enables them to respond naturally and sincerely are, nevertheless too weak to express their dissent.

So they profess to live according to the ideal while the reality of their lives is very different.

Thus it was that Ananias and Sapphira, his wife, possessing property, did not say, as they might have said, "we are not willing to give all this as others are giving." Instead they professed to be giving it all, but they actually kept back part of the price.

They came laying their gifts at the apostles' feet professing to yield their all, where they were withholding much for themselves. The condemnation in our lesson was not because they did not give it up, but because, as Peter said to them, they had lied to the Holy Spirit. The property was theirs; while they had it, it was in their power. But when they professed to give it to purposes of the church and kept it for themselves, it became a different matter.

The unholy use of holy things is further on illustrated in the story of Peter and Simon Magus—a man who was not a saint at heart but a magician who desired to have the power that he saw the apostles exercising, and who imagined that it could be bought with money.

The sin of this Simon the magician was the sin of those who try to commercialize religion, who take the holy things that ought to be above all self-interest and profit and turn them to their own base ends.

Against all such Ananias and Sapphiras and Simons, one must set the beauty and integrity of Christian character and action, the beauty of supreme and self-sacrificing devotion. The height and glory of the Christian witness must never be compromised by regard for those who fail to live up to their profession.

It is not by the failure of men, by their weaknesses and hypocrisies that we should judge the truth and the Christian ideal, but by the triumphant living of those who measure up to the supreme test.

As everyone was saying Monday morning that they believed the Old Man Weather had done his best in regard to sandstorms Sunday afternoon and night in W. Texas, I saw

Mrs. Orval Couch saying she would have to clean her house make room for another one.

Mrs. W. H. Goforth displaying various sizes of eggs—one extremely large one, an ordinary sized egg and one tiny egg.

W. V. Whitley almost collided with several different people he walked hurriedly up the street.

Mrs. J. B. McKnight coming from the postoffice with a heavy load of papers and magazines—prepared to spend a quiet Sunday reading.

H. G. Wilhelm and Ralph Koura rushing to the court house with their trades day ticket set just before time for the drawing.

Mrs. J. W. Hopper and Mrs. John Pritchard seeming very happy as they window shopped at the square.

Jean Chastain looking very sweet and pretty in a pink coat and as she window shopped with her grandmother, Mrs. C. H. Harp.

Earl Goforth looking very prosperous as he bought a box of cigars.

Jas. C. Cook leaving town after a profitable afternoon of shopping.

Mrs. H. A. Holcomb buying Sunday dinner in a local grocery store.

J. T. Daffron and J. D. Daffron talking about spring prospects for a crop.

G. N. Hite and Mr. and Mrs. B. Sasser having a neighborly visit as they watched the sandstorm last Saturday afternoon.

Lena Ball saying that she wishes her sister, Lee Ball, who is visiting in Arkansas, that she'd better glad that she isn't here now—sandstorms are irritating Lena.

C. D. Damron telling Mr. Mrs. G. L. Jones that he would like to preach Sunday.

H. M. Longino telling J. B. Le how a certain road runs—probably a mail route.

Alec Beach walking around the square slowly smoking a long cigar.

Ewing Talley telling some friends how to make money on a few dollars worth of onion sets—sounds easy if you know your onions.

S. G. B. Littleton playing with a very small boy who was proudly displaying a little Easter chick.

Bryan Dickson To Address Faculty Members March 14

"Function And Organization Of Subjects" Problem To Be Discussed

Deputy State Superintendent Bryan Dickson will appear on the program of the regular meeting of the Samnorwood faculty in the high school auditorium, Wednesday evening, March 14. The subject to be discussed at this meeting will be "The Function and Organization of Subjects."

Mr. Dickson is no stranger in this community having been here on several occasions to inspect the schools and to assist in the organization of the Samnorwood consolidation. Too, he was one of the principal speakers on the dedication program, and the community feels sure that Mr. Dickson, from his broad contacts over the state, will have something worthwhile for the teachers.

Former speakers before the teacher group this year have been Dr. Harris M. Cook and Dr. Myer, both from the education department of the college in Canyon and Supt. C. A. Cryer of McLean. In addition to making a faculty project of the curriculum revision program being sponsored by the State Department of Education, a number of the Samnorwood faculty are taking extension work along this line.

DO YOU BELONG TO THIS SCHOOL

Do you belong to this school? Of course, you come here practically every day, go to classes, do some homework. But, do you give anything to your school? And more important, do you receive anything from your school?

An old adage claims that man gets out of anything what he puts into that thing. If you put an amount of money in a bank, after a while, you get that money back, no more no less—plus interest. You enjoy playing the games which you play well, and ones in which you win occasionally. That is because you put all you have into that game. The same applies to your school—the Samnorwood High School.

Like putting the money in the bank, if you take an active interest in your studies, you receive an education and a mind of your own, and for the interest you learn other people's opinions, and make friends with heroes of the past. You belong to a club and work for its success. In return you receive the thrill of satisfaction and the experience of working with people; and as interest, you make the acquaintance of classmates and have a good time.

If you support the different activities of your class you have a warm feeling of being important and you are.

Freshman, Sophomore, Junior and Senior, are you cooperating with your teacher in making your class room work pleasant and worthwhile; are you taking part in playground activities at the noon hour and thus meeting your class mates which will broaden your acquaintance and help them; or are you letting the other fellow carry the load in making of school life a pleasant place for everyone?

Three Named On Plymouth School Honor Roll List

Listing three honor students in the Plymouth School for the past mid-term period, Leroy McDaniels, principal, today cited the following students for their exceptional work:

"B" roll—Geneva Turner, James Allen Cunningham, and Majean Fritts.

The "B" roll represents those who are making from 80 to 90 in all of their subjects.

Ten Students On Dozier Honor Roll

Listing 10 honor students in the Dozier school for the past six week period, Ben Baldwin, principal, today cited the following students for their exceptional work:

"A" roll—Dollie Clay, June Wischkaemper; "B" roll—Ray Clark, Frank Coleman, Margaret Billingsley, Doris Clay, Franky Mae Neeley, Norris Sechrist, Neal Bradstreet, Cecil Ray Neeley.

The "A" roll represents those making from 90 to 100 in all of their subjects; the "B" roll those making from 80 to 90.

County Meet Has Unusual Interest For Prairie View

Prairie View is taking unusual interest in the Interscholastic League work. The children have learned all the songs for choral singing and are progressing rapidly. The school has a number of students who are entering declamation, arithmetic, spelling and story telling contests.

Samnorwood Has Fine Collection Of Good Pictures

In response to one of the objectives of the P. T. A., a number of invaluable pictures have been donated to the high school.

In addition to the large collection presented by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hardy of Wellington, W. A. Parsons painted and presented a by eighteen inches. It is a very colorful woodland scene, and will inspire anyone who looks at it to love nature more.

A very beautiful indoor scene of the "gay nineties," which serves as an incentive to the musical talented, was donated by Mrs. Claud Caperton.

Also Mrs. Dollie Robinson donated the following prints of masterpieces: "The Fisherman and the Genie," "King of the Black Isle," "Cassim in the Cave of the Forty Thieves," by Maxfield Parrish; and "Latest News," "Oo-Yah," and "At Last," by Frederic Remington.

These pictures are of great value and would have been impossible for the school to obtain otherwise.

Just Imagine

Bow Mooney not having a good English lesson.

Room 3 being vacant at noon.

Burford Young giving orders to the basketball team.

Coach Brown laughing after the game with Wellington.

Mr. Bailey chasing his hat in the sandstorm last Wednesday.

Carrol Miller missing bank night.

4-H Club Girls Discuss Entries For Junior Fair

Members Busy Making Articles For Fair To Be Held At Wellington

Members of the Senior 4-H Club at a meeting last week under the sponsorship of John Coleman, decided to prepare, as exhibits for the Wellington Junior Fair, an automatic watering trough for hogs and a greasing pole for hogs. Other minor exhibits will also be included in the project.

Those present at the meeting were: Dalton Honeycutt, Loyd Fritts, Orville Young, Lauden Murry, Clois Brown, Jack Whitfield, and Mr. Coleman, sponsor. The club will hold its next meeting February 26 at the fourth period.

Nicholson Lists Honor Students

Listing 17 honor students in the Nicholson school for the past six weeks period, Mrs. L. C. Sweet, principal, today announced the complete list.

The "A" honor roll includes the pupils making nothing less than 90, and the "B" roll are the ones making less than 80. The "A" roll is as follows: Billy Jo Johnson, Bonna Mae Throckmorton, Doris Wischkaemper, Allen Crouch, Lorine Jolly; the "B" roll: Glenn Throckmorton, Kenneth Byrd, Jewel Crossland, Billy Louise Poteet, Dezavalla Asher, Evelyn Crane, Evelyn Bryant, Betty Jean Sanders, Joyce Byrd, Juanita Crane, Victor Deger and Oliver Wischkaemper.

Honor Roll For Plymouth School

Listing nine honor students in the Plymouth School for the past six week period, Leroy McDaniels, principal, today cited the following students for their outstanding work:

"B" roll—Bobby Fritts, Geneva Turner, James Allen Cunningham, Bobby Conway, Maxie Aleen Montgomery, Virginia Turner, Mae Jean Fritts and Jeanette Montgomery.

The "B" roll represents those who make an average from 80 to 100 in all of their subjects.

ISELL BACK IN SCHOOL

Oline Isbell, one of the star pupils of the seventh grade in the Lutie school, has been absent the past month, due to an appendicitis operation. She is expected to return to school Monday.

LILLIE ENDS TRYOUTS

Students of the Lutie school completed the tryouts last week for the county meet and the entries have been announced:

John Rainey, Glenn Brown, J. E. Throckmorton, J. B. Underwood, Clifton Brown, Frank Gully and Grant Jolly, Jr.

Can You Imagine

Jack Walker being bashful?

Mr. Bailey smoking a cigarette?

A group of Seniors at a freshman party?

Tommy Lou Whitson with a new red hat?

Helen Clyde Clement owing a fine at the library?

Cleoma Rainey getting tickled in biology class?

Ozette Bennett getting to book-keeping class on time?

Jack Walker and Elsa Wischkaemper arguing in economics class?

Lenford Issacs setting Erma Rhea Clement's hair?

Vaughana Daffron flirting?

Mrs. Robertson spending 45 minutes in economics class without going to the office?

Orville Young going to class without Mahota Wilson?

E. R. Smith listening to Miss Johnson?

Miss Allen being angry?

Attendance From Rural Schools Given

The attendance from the rural schools for the past month was as follows: Nicholson, 49, with a percentage of attendance of 87.5; Abra, 32, with a percentage of 94.3; Dozier, 61 with a percentage of 91; Plymouth, 58, with a percentage of 94; Prairie View, 50, with a percentage of 92; Aberdeen, 32, with a percentage of 78; Lutie, 47, with a percentage of 77. The high school attendance was 151 with a percentage of 84.5.

Samnorwood Girls Hold Good Record In Basket Ball

Despite Fact School Was Comparatively New, Team Made Good

Although they represent a comparatively new school, the girls basket ball squad at Samnorwood during the past has set up an enviable record. When the girls organized they elected Catherine Jolly as captain. She has been a very dependable player and the entire school is proud of her. Some other members of the Eagle sextet are: Willie Massey, Alma Sechrist, Jewel Lowe, Florence Hall, Lonell Throckmorton, Lois Fritts, Mildred Ballow, Bessie Underwood, Floyd Sparlin.

The team has faced a very hard schedule this year, playing such teams as Allison, Pampa, Wellington and Shamrock. The first game of the year was with the Allison team, won by a score of 14 to 12. The Eagles returned the game on the following Saturday evening, but they were again defeated—this time by a 27 to 19 score.

The following Friday, the Dodsonville girls were entertained at Samnorwood with Samnorwood winning by a 48 to 12 score. The Eagles then played the Wellington girls on the Yellowjackets' court to meet defeat by an overwhelming score of 28 to 14; this was the most overwhelming defeat that they have taken the entire year.

Coach Allen entered the Eagles in the tournament at Mobetta, but they drew the strong Pampa team and were eliminated in the first round of play by a 29 to 24 score. The Samnorwood sextet played an exhibition game with the Wellington Yellowjackets on the first night of the tournament held in Wellington, and the Yellowjackets won 28 to 14.

The tournament called them to play the following day. This game was exceedingly well played with Wellington winning by a margin of one point. The girls still had confidence and went to Shamrock to win over the Irish by a 27-18 score even if Shamrock had defeated Wellington.

Plan Gymnasium For Samnorwood

Due to the enthusiasm over the successes of the Samnorwood basket ball teams, it has been decided that the district is in need of a gymnasium for basket ball as well as a meeting place for physical education classes. At a recent meeting, with this need in mind, the school board decided to ask for PWA funds with which to build an auditorium and gymnasium combined.

Pursuant to this objective, F. W. Thompson, board president, E. W. Miller, secretary, Richard Wischkaemper and John Coleman, members, and E. G. Sanders, superintendent of the school, went to Amarillo to meet with the regional planning board.

In addition to being a gymnasium and auditorium combination, the building is to house class rooms for agriculture and shop work. It is planned to divide the old auditorium into a large study hall and additional class rooms. The new structure will probably be made of stone.

Four Act Comedy To Be Presented Friday, March 1

Characters Working Diligently To Make Play Grand Success

The P. T. A. of Samnorwood is sponsoring a four-act comedy drama, "The Road to the City," March 1. The admission will be ten and fifteen cents.

Olie Brown is directing the play and the characters are working diligently to make this play a great success. You will laugh at Jud Judkins' bright remarks and cry because of Jet Sanderson's disappointments. The characters are: Hollie Rainey, Olie Brown, Jack Wilker, Urvan Brown, Dimp Ward, Cleoma Rainey, Lanell Throckmorton, Erma Rhea Clement, Ellen Sweat and Mildred Ballow.

Aberdeen School Lists Honor Roll

Listing eight honor students in the Aberdeen school for the past six weeks period, Olsen Sweat, principal, today cited the following students for their exceptional work:

"A" honor roll—Juanita Robertson; "B" honor roll—Mary Lee Bishop, Laverne Robertson, Fred Walker, Raymond Wilder, Fae Dodd, Naomi York, and Nadine Dodd.

Aunt Susan Says

Dear Aunt Susan: How did C. B. know where I was Tuesday night?

Dear Aunt Susan: How can I tell whether or not my sweetheart really loves me?

E. R. C.

Dear E. R. C.: When a boy drives thirty-five miles to see a girl, she may feel certain that she is his one and only.

Aunt Susan.

Dear Aunt Susan: Tell me someone who will give me information on writing love letters.

L. S.

Dear L. S.: There is a little curly-head (V. T.) who would be glad to help you in these matters.

Aunt Susan.

Dear Aunt Susan: How can I keep Theo and J. D. from knowing I am two-timing them?

T. L. W.

Dear T. L. W.: My advice to you is to decide on one and give the other the cold shoulder.

Aunt Susan.

NICHOLSON NEWS

The playground team at the Nicholson School will meet Aberdeen in a match game Friday, February 22.

Nicholson was sorry to lose three pupils in the last three weeks. The pupils were as follows: N. A. Tanner, Juanita Crane and Eveline Bryant.

Raymond Earl Hobbs has been absent from school on account of illness.

The Nicholson Rhythm Band will entertain between acts Friday, March 1, when the play, "The Road to the City," is acted at Samnorwood.

Honor Students At Prairie View Cited For Work

Listing six honor students in the Prairie View School for the past six weeks, Raymond Powell, principal, today cited the following students for their exceptional work:

The only one on the "A" honor roll was Veral Dean Blandford. Those on the "B" roll were Mary Frances Harp, Ruby Dell Henderson, J. B. Clements, Thelma Winters and Francis Roan.

Honor Students For Samnorwood

Listing 12 honor students in the Samnorwood High School for the past six weeks period and mid-term, E. G. Sanders, superintendent, today cited the following students for their exceptional work:

Junior class, "A" roll—Aldah Young, Thelma Carroll.

Senior class, "A" roll—Beulah Company; "B" roll—Jack Walker, Erma Rhea Clement, Clois Brown.

Club Organized For Dozier Girls By Miss Donaghey

February 11, Miss Annie Mae Donaghey organized a 4-H Club at Dozier. Fifteen girls were present and elected their officers as follows:

Della Faye Coleman, president; Margaret Lowe, vice president; Ornetta Shields, secretary and treasurer; Travis Tennis, reporter.

4-H Club Girls To Work On Projects

Featuring a discussion of proposed entries in the Junior Fair exhibit, the 4-H club girls of Samnorwood met with Miss Annie Mae Donaghey on Monday, February 18, at 2:30 in the Samnorwood school building.

The class was well attended by the members and Mrs. Fisher, one of the sponsors was present. The members seem to be very interested and are very busy making articles for the Junior Fair, to be held on March 8 at Wellington. In addition, Miss Donaghey discussed the making of guest towels, dresser scarfs, pillow cases and small hat racks.

In this meeting, it was decided that the seniors, juniors, sophomores and freshmen clubs would be united into one large club to meet every two weeks.

I SAW...

About 20 girls at Mrs. Fisher's store waiting to get their hair set.

Erma Rhea Clement and Demp Ward hunting high and low for the treasure at a freshman party—and she found it.

Mrs. Bretz scratching her head trying to think what she was to do with those dumb freshmen.

Olie Brown trying to get the cast together for play practice.

Miss Harvey paying an honest debt.

Erma Rhea Clement with another glass dog to add to her collection. She said she named it "Edd"—wonder why?

All the seniors posing their hands in order to reveal their new rings.

Coach Brown laughing at the freshmen hunting in vain for the treasure.

Elsa Wischkaemper, Hollis Rainey, and Mr. Sanders trying to decide whether the smooth coin they had was a dime or a fake.

Anniversary Of Samnorwood P. T. A. Observed

Wellington Guests Entertain With Talks And Songs

Commemorating the thirty-eighth anniversary of the Parent-Teachers Association of America, members of the Samnorwood P. T. A. met Thursday evening, February 21.

The following program was presented: Deskins Wells, publisher of The Wellington Leader, gave an address entitled, "The American Flag." Mrs. Pauline Chaudoin and Mrs. Jack B. Deahl followed this with two violin numbers and Mrs. Chaudoin sang two songs. The closing number was a "Founders' Day" ceremony directed by Mrs. Raymond Powell and Mrs. Barney Walker.

Thirty-eight girls dressed in white, lighted candles on the large cake and while they sang "America," Thelma Winters, dressed as the Statue of Liberty, slowly waved a glowing torch.

Several numbers were also given by the string band of Samnorwood.

This program was the outstanding program of the year and the next meeting will be held March 21.

MINE AND THINE

Probably not one student in Samnorwood would deliberately take something belonging to another, intending to keep it. And yet, some of us do not have so strict an idea of "mine and thine" as we should have. Everything here has an owner. It should be used only by that owner unless he has expressly loaned it to another.

We fill our pens at our neighbor's ink bottle. This is all right, perhaps, if it is not overdone, but if Jimmy has to buy too many bottles of ink because too many people have "borrowed" without his knowledge, then an injustice is worked on him.

We see a fountain pen—not being used—on the desk in front of us. We need the pen. The owner is not there. We take the pen, use it, absently slip it in our pocket, go out to play ball, and the pen is lost. We may honestly forget all about that pen—but the owner reports it missing. The effect on the owner is the same as if it had been deliberately taken.

But there are two sides to everything. Too often some accused of stealing what has actually been carelessly misplaced by the owner. It is probably as serious a mistake to falsely accuse someone and thereby attach an odium to him for life as to actually steal something yourself.

In this matter of "borrowing," as in all things, the Golden Rule is always safe to follow—"Therefore, all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do you even so to them."

Prairie View Boys Win Two Games, Drop One In Series

In a series of basket ball tournaments played last week Prairie View lost one game and won two. The first two games were played with Plymouth; in these games Prairie View won a decisive victory.

The last game Prairie View played was with Abra in which Abra won by a score of 18-10.

Mrs. Bretz—"What is your definition of a friend, Fred?"

Fred—"A friend is anyone who knows you ain't no good and can forget it."

Rebecca Wigginton Recovers From Injuries And Returns To Classes

Rebecca Wigginton, who had been absent from school for some time with a severely injured arm, returned to her classes on Friday, February 22.

Rebecca was injured when she opened the door of the building and as the wind was very strong she was almost caught in the door, she then reached out to catch the door, but her hand slipped off, and went through the glass cutting the artery in her right arm.

We are all very glad to know that Rebecca is back in school.

SAMNORWOOD Senior Series

Leota May Ammons was born May 26, 1916, at Aberdeen. She is the daughter of Mrs. Donie Ammons of Aberdeen. Leota has attended school at Aberdeen nine years, Mangum, Okla., one year and is completing her high-school course in Samnorwood this year.

Jeralline Fisher Hostess To Friends With Dance Saturday

Complimenting Miss Reba Tarvin of Shamrock, Miss Jeralline Fisher was hostess to a number of her friends with a dance at her home on Saturday evening. Miss Tarvin was the house guest of Miss Pearl Goodnight over the week end.

Those attending were: Misses Reba Tarvin, Jettie McClure, Jeralinda Fisher, Pearl Goodnight, Messrs. Barney Glenn, Leslie Winks, Junior Stuart, Logan Dryden and Mr. and Mrs. Buste Hare.

It is to her we owe our community spirit—a spirit of loyalty and love. She taught us in the name of her Saviour, to be proud of the little deeds we could do and to strive to do bigger and better things.

She gave us what we most needed and she gave gladly. She gave herself, a friend ready to help us in our tasks with a real personal interest. She gave us hope and encouragement. She taught us to lift our voices in praise to God through song. She was like Peter who said to the lame beggar, "but such as I have, give I thee." And she gave us new life, new strength and a greater determination to be better Christian characters.

Who from us has gone, A voice we loved is stilled. A place is vacant in our midst, Which never can be filled. God in his wisdom has recalled The boon his love had given, And though the body slumbers here, The soul is safe in Heaven.

Miss Wertha Tarter, Mrs. C. C. Hiett and J. B. Tarter spent the week end in Shamrock and Wheeler visiting with relatives.

IN APPRECIATION OF A LIFE WELL SPENT

We people of Cross Roads wish to take this means of expressing our love and appreciation of Mrs. Kinney Godfrey for what she has done for us; not of the big things but of the many little acts of love; not big speeches, but simple words of heartfelt sympathy, genuine kindness, and urgent solicitude. She had faith in us, and she made us have faith in ourselves. She was loyal, she was true blue.

She gave us what we most needed and she gave gladly. She gave herself, a friend ready to help us in our tasks with a real personal interest. She gave us hope and encouragement. She taught us to lift our voices in praise to God through song. She was like Peter who said to the lame beggar, "but such as I have, give I thee." And she gave us new life, new strength and a greater determination to be better Christian characters.

It is to her we owe our community spirit—a spirit of loyalty and love. She taught us in the name of her Saviour, to be proud of the little deeds we could do and to strive to do bigger and better things.

She gave us true friendship, which will live through eternity and in loving remembrance of Mrs. Kinney Godfrey:

Who from us has gone, A voice we loved is stilled. A place is vacant in our midst, Which never can be filled. God in his wisdom has recalled The boon his love had given, And though the body slumbers here, The soul is safe in Heaven.

Samnorwood Boys Set Record On Courts This Year

Best Season Gives Eagles Thirteen Victories Out Of Eighteen Games

Samnorwood's victory over the Wellington basket ball team on Tuesday 16, by a score of 14-12, brought to a close an unusually successful local season for the Samnorwood boys.

In the final Wellington game, David Clark and John Wilham were out due to illness. However, Clark entered the game a few minutes near the end. A summary of the season, E. Sanders, superintendent, said: "Usually takes from two to three seasons to develop a team of championship calibre. However, in the facts that the team was the first in the history of the school and that the district has an indoor court, Coach Brown has been able to work out a winning team in the first season. Another handicap was presented in that the majority of games have been played with such strong teams as Allison and Wellington. The team has won only five of its first 18 games. The first game of the season was with Allison on the Samnorwood courts and resulted in a loss of 9 to 5. This was followed by a win over Allison on their court 23 to 16. Next, Dodsonville taken for a couple of games, one of which Samnorwood won. Scores in these two games were 29 to 9 there, and 32 to 9 at Samnorwood.

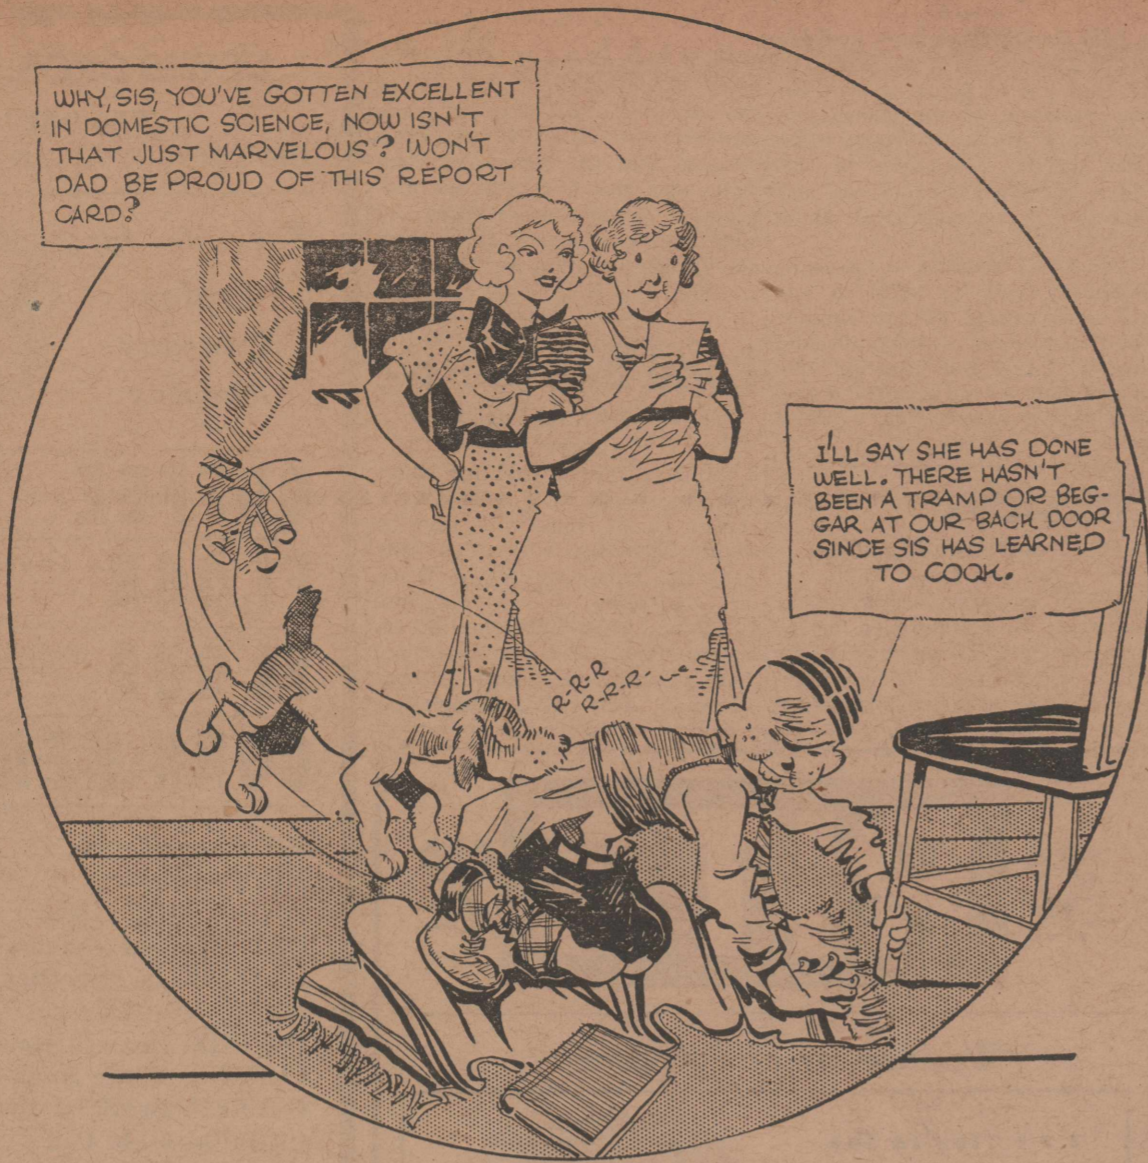

Delton was then trounced on the Brock court by the score of 30 to 7.

Up to this time there has been speculation as to the relative length of the Wellington and Samnorwood teams. However, in an exhibition game at the rural inn at Wellington, the Samnorwood boys came out victorious over the Eagles to the tune of 24 to 10. Following this set-back, four games have been played between the two teams, and honors been equally divided.

In the Wellington Senior tournament, Samnorwood came out on top, winning over Quail Shamrock and losing to Wellington 33 to 30. Probably the closest honors won by the team were in the Canadian tournament in which the Samnorwood five was runner-up, losing to Wellington by one point, and winning over such competition as Allison and White.

In the tournament, J. Williston won a place on the all-star team and Ed Roark was judged the best all-round sport. Players who have won permanent berths on the team are: D. Klingham, Ed Roark, J. Willington, Boy Mooney, David Clark, Frank Walker, Dennis Ward, Laney, Fred Thompson and L. B. Kennedy.

Girls Never Dance Or Use Cosmetics

LOS ANGELES.—Two young women who have never used cosmetics, never been in a theatre, never danced, never cut their hair, never seen a baseball or a football game, never had a drink of wine—

Such are the "perfect" records claimed by Kathryn White, 24, and her sister, Velma, 28, who have been traveling about the country as evangelistic singers.

"We have the old-fashioned hope of seeing no evil, hearing no evil," said Kathryn. "We don't think it should be old-fashioned."

Incidentally, there's another thing the sisters have never done. That is to have a date, they say.

Kansas Rabbits Grow Tall

Stories Also Grow Tall As Man Loses 10 Mules In Kansas Rabbit Drive

TOPEKA, Kan.—These western Kansas jack rabbits grow big. They are very tall. So are the stories about them.

Anyway, Lee Larrabee, fish and game commissioner, drifted into town today with the sad account of a Dighton mule dealer who lost 10 of his animals in one of these rabbit hunts—the mules got mixed up with the jacks and weren't observed until the dead rabbits were being picked up.

"We felt bad about it," Lee said, "but we just didn't notice them. I remember someone said during the drive: 'Look at that big one and then hurred his club.'"

Lee gave the name of the dealer

J. A. Hineman of Dighton. Larrabee also verified the rumor about the man who tried to harness up a jack rabbit he found in the barn with his mules recently. The chap didn't notice the difference until the rabbit kicked him out of the stall and dashed out over the prairie. All western Kansas had taken to carrying clubs with them, Larrabee said, because "the rabbits are getting resentful over these hunts."

"Do you know," he said, "that when I went into a hotel here today a dog barked at me and I tried to hide under the table? I just couldn't help it. I've eaten so much rabbit meat lately."

Larrabee said he was serious in a suggestion that the relief officials set up canning factories in Western Kansas to can rabbit meat the same as beef was canned last Summer.

Patrols On Hikes Last Friday

Two Boy Scout patrols from Troop 31, Wellington, went on hikes Friday, February 22. The Bob White Patrol went to Buck Creek under the leadership of Douglas Bevers, patrol leader. They left here at 8:30 Friday morning and returned at 3:30 Friday afternoon. Those who went on the hike were Douglas Bevers, Boyd Williams, Troy Stallings and Edward J. White. The Bear Patrol went to Salt Fork Friday morning, leaving about 9 o'clock and returning during the afternoon. Included in the group were Aaron Hurst, patrol leader, Jimmie Cochran, A. J. Fires, Robert Blackwood, Eddie Bayouth and S. A. Combs.

Miss Stall Lists Rules On League "Math" Contests

All schools are urged to enter the arithmetic event in the coming Interscholastic League. The contestants must be in the seventh grade, and able to compute problems mentally. No scrap paper is allowed and contestants can be disqualified if they use any. A free copy of sample problems will be sent to each school upon request, and other copies can be obtained for a small charge. It is quite necessary to give pupils training in mental arithmetic in order for them to compete with others.

boys held a 12-point lead up to last six minutes of the game. Kennedy Is Honored Distinct honors were also accorded to the Wellington boys when Tom Kennedy was selected as All-District Forward and was awarded a gold basket ball. J. C. Ward, captain, was presented with the second place trophy on behalf of the Skyrockets having played their way into the finals. There were 16 teams entered in the tournament and according to Coach Billy Jarvis, the teams were evenly matched and stronger than last season.

Lists Valuable Players During the entire season Wellington has played 36 games and won 29 of them. McLean and Crowell are the only teams that Wellington has not defeated at least one time during the season, but they only met Crowell one time and that was in the finals of the district meet; Crowell is also the only team which has defeated the Rockets by more than six points during the season. In summarizing the season, Coach Jarvis lists J. C. Ward, captain, Tom Kennedy, Brown Amburn and Buck Amburn among the boys who have done most for the Wellington team during the present season, but also stated that some unusually good playing has been turned in by Bill Towns, John Russell, Cloise Duncan, E. B. Peoples, Gege Glenn, Lloyd Kelley, Harrell Keller, Vance Roady, Bill Amburn, Woodrow Ham and J. V. Langford. Cloise Duncan was lost to the squad when he became ill; E. B. Peoples and Gene Glenn became ineligible at mid-term. Peoples was considered as one of the best guards in the entire district and his services were said to have been of great assistance to the team.

In Three Tournaments During the season the Wellington team entered three tournaments; they won two and went into the finals of the third. Coach Jarvis also made the following statement in behalf of the athletic division of the school: "The Wellington football and basket ball boys and coaches wish to thank the people and the school for the splendid support and co-operation that we have received this year. That support and co-operation has been one of the greatest items which made it possible for us to carry on in a creditable manner. It is our hope that we can improve next year any records that we have made this year."

junior high school students, was emptied in one minute after the third bell had rung for the fire alarm.

In addition to having the children well drilled, the Wellington school officials have also given detailed instructions to each teacher. Each teacher leaves the room last, but before doing so makes an inspection of the room to see that all the students are out. Other teachers have been instructed to inspect the rooms other than classrooms to make certain that no one is left in the building. Instructions have also been given the children as to what to do in case one of the regular exists is closed, so that they will have a definite course of action in case of a sudden emergency.

Mr. Handley said that he was more than pleased with the quickness and efficiency of the fire drill, and expressed his gratification for the co-operation of both the teachers and the students.

ty as "house cleaning" day and fortunate indeed was the man who went home to lunch and found his wife in a good humor. Dust and sand drifted under doors and windows to such an extent that most of the homes in the county were completely covered. Several store operators in Wellington reported that they had to remove the dirt from their stores with scoops, after it had been swept into piles.

Only few persons were found in any of the stores in Wellington Sunday and traffic was reduced to a minimum, motorists reporting visibility at "zero," and stating that it was impossible to even see the roads in the gale.

Stops Airplane Travel Press dispatches stated that the airplane schedules over the entire area were abandoned and the report from Amarillo read: "The sand and dust which filled the air near the earth was even thicker at a higher altitude, airport officials reported. The sand was blowing at an altitude of 12,000 feet."

creation of such a district an election will be called for the purpose of voting on the district.

In case the Quail residents decide to create the district, it will automatically become the largest rural high school district in the state of Texas, an honor which is now held by the Samnorwood Rural High School District No. 2. The Quail district would include Lillie, Salt Fork, Marella, Ring, Quail, Buck Creek, King and Pleasant Hill, covering an area of 186 and three-fourths miles, whereas the Samnorwood district includes an area of 155 and one-half miles.

The Quail district would also have a total of 664 students as compared with 561 in the Samnorwood district. Valuations for the proposed Quail district would be $969,000 as compared with $880,000 in the Samnorwood district.

The meeting for next Wednesday, which has been called after considerable interest was shown on the part of the Quail patrons in regard to creating the school, will determine to a great extent the future of the project. Since the state is encouraging such districts in the interest of better educational facilities, however, it is felt that little hindrance will come from that source in the creation of the proposed district.

Every school patron in the area was encouraged to attend the meeting.

notified. Business Sales Gain Due to the general short crop season, the certificate money was received in a badly needed time by the farmers of this section. Some of the funds went for the purpose of food, clothing, farm tools, while other parts of the money will be used for making the 1935 crop. Many merchants also reported a general business increase following arrival of the funds.

The present certificate money, in addition to the recent arrival of more than $75,007 in parity payments the latter part of January, will be of general improvement toward better conditions over the entire county.

Crowds thronged the office of the county agent during the past week as the farmers sought their payments.

thrown completely in the shade by what was known as the Owl Creek money, counterfeit United States bank notes of different denominations, and so nearly a perfect reproduction of the genuine that they were even imposed on the banks.

Paper and ink being cheaper even than copper, Doe's currency was given the go-by. The country was soon flooded with the Owl Creek paper, and as everybody in the Redlands had more or less of it, and they were all interested in maintaining it at par, it too, continued to circulate even after its true character was known.

Thus we can readily see with conditions as above described in the early days of Texas is why so many people thought that Texas was a land of the outlaws.
