GUARDS MOVED

Tornado Cleanup

Woes Ease

CINCINNATI, Ohio, (AP) — Several hundred Ohio National Guardsmen moved out of Hamilton County's tornado stricken area today as plans proceeded to have the area declared a federal disaster area.

The guardsmen were sent into the area for patrol duty after the tornado struck Saturday night. They were relieved as traffic problems eased and cleanup work proceeded.

Gov. James A. Rhodes has promised to seek federal disaster aid for the suburbs hit by the storms in which four were killed, 264 injured and damages estimated at $15 million was caused.

The governor made his pledge after touring the area Sunday. Help also was promised by City Manager Richard Krabach, who said:

"Let's forget the paperwork and even the regulations if necessary. Disasters like this have no municipal boundaries."

County Budget Up By Almost $50,000

A county budget of $1,233,222 has been proposed for 1969-70 by Mrs. Virginia Black, auditor, only slightly over the $1,184,090 budget for 1968-69. A public hearing is set for Sept. 8 during a regular commissioners court.

Commissioners have gone over the budget figures with Mrs. Black, and are not scheduled to take another look at the allocations until the public hearing.

A breakdown shows $39,360 allocation to the jury fund; $409,980, road and bridge; $256,247, general; $51,250, permanent improvements; $154,862, interest and sinking; and $322,379, enterprise fund, which includes the library and the law library.

Although the deed to the old post office, Fourth and Scurry, has not been turned over to county officials, $25,000 has been budgeted for remodeling the building for use as a library. The building belongs to the federal government, and Cong. Omar Burleson has notified county commissioners the deed will be transferred to the county.

CBS-Tobacco

NEW YORK (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting System says it will go along with a tobacco industry plan to end broadcast cigarette advertising by Dec. 31 if Congress approves.

But network president Frank Stanton said Sunday the plan was unfair to networks because it would allow the tobacco industry to switch its advertising money to print.

A CBS spokesman said cigarette ads account for about 10 per cent of the network's revenues. According to Broadcasting magazine's 1969 yearbook, the top five tobacco advertisers spent $1.6 billion on network TV ads in 1967, and another $14 million on network radio.

The American Broadcasting Company rejected the plan last Thursday. The National Broadcasting Company has not responded publicly.

Gun Fight In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A 35-year-old former mental patient today faced charges of assault with intent to commit murder in a gun fight that wounded five policemen and a neighbor.

The gunman, Lynn W. Blackwell, was held under guard in the psychiatrist ward of Detroit General Hospital after a policeman talked him into surrendering Sunday.

Police said Blackwell, upset after his wife and six children moved out last week, barricaded himself in his house on the northwest side with a new shotgun he had just purchased, then exchanged gunfire with officers for a half hour.

The outbreak started when pellets splintered windows in the home of Edison Favors, 44, across the street from Blackwell's two-story, frame house in the quiet, tree-lined neighborhood.

Zond 7 Rounds Moon

MOSCOW (AP) — The unmanned Soviet moon probe, Zond 7, photographed the lunar surface today, rounded the moon and is now heading for earth, an official announcement said.

The craft is expected to attempt a soft landing on earth, similar to those executed by Zond 5 and Zond 6, probably Thursday.

The brief announcement confirmed an earlier report from Britain's Jodrell Bank Observatory that said Zond 7 had swung around the moon.

There were no details on what parts of the moon were photographed or what use will be made of the pictures.

Cong May Be Coming Back Into Action

SAIGON (AP) — Thirty-eight Americans were killed and 144 wounded in fierce attacks that North Vietnamese troops launched against U.S. forces along the Cambodian, Laotian and demilitarized zone frontiers Sunday, military spokesmen said today.

The toll of American war dead was the largest reported during any 24-hour period since a lull began in the fighting June 18.

U.S. military analysts indicated that the stepped up attacks could presage the fall campaign that American officers expect.

There was new apprehension along the demilitarized zone with the disclosure that North Vietnamese troops fighting the U.S. Marines there over the past four days were from a fresh regiment.

Fighting was reported near the Cambodian border northwest of Saigon, just below the central sector of the demilitarized zone, on two sides of Hamburger Hill beside the Laotian border, and in the populous coastal lowlands south of Da Nang.

Three more American helicopters were shot down, two during a fight 28 miles southeast of Da Nang and the third 50 miles west of Da Nang. Two crewmen were killed and two were wounded.

U.S. headquarters also reported 15 enemy rocket and mortar attacks from 8 a.m. Sunday to 8 a.m. Monday, 11 of them against U.S. troops or bases. Seven Americans were killed and 36 wounded.

The number of rocket and mortar attacks were nearly double the daily average of eight two weeks ago and was up by five from the daily average of 10 last week.

The U.S. Command also disclosed that the attacks on the Marines below the DMZ last Thursday and again Sunday were made by troops of the 9th Regiment of the North Vietnamese 304th Division. It was the first reported appearance of the regiment in South Vietnam since the siege of Khe Sanh last year.

Nineteen U.S. Marines were killed and 80 wounded when more than 250 North Vietnamese troops attacked two of their night bivouacs astride infiltration routes two miles south of the central DMZ. Enemy losses were put at 36 killed.

The two camps were 1,500 yards apart, in an area where 102 North Vietnamese and eight Marines were killed in hard fighting Thursday.

Some of the Marines reported that during the fighting they saw women nurses treating wounded soldiers, but there were no reports of any women being killed or captured.

Throughout Sunday night, the Marine positions received light mortar and sniper fire on their ridgelines. U.S. artillery and warplanes pounded the surrounding area, and the reinforcing company continued to patrol the ridgelines. The Marine company that took the heavy casualties was pulled back to rest in a rear area.

Gas Company Requests Rate Increase Here

Pioneer Natural Gas Company has filed an application with the City Commission of Big Spring for an upward adjustment in its general service and commercial gas rates.

The matter has been put on the commission's agenda for the Tuesday night session and will be given preliminary consideration then.

Similar applications have been presented to the governing bodies of Coahoma and Forsan, which come under the same rate structure.

A statement accompanying the application said that under the proposal, the average annual domestic bill would be increased $11.85 per year, or less than a dollar a month.

The company statement said that Pioneer has been supplying the Big Spring distribution system since 1958, and that there has been no change in rates since then. Except for a minor adjustment in 1957 (when a discount was removed), the company said there has been no change in rates since 1952.

Since Pioneer acquired the local properties from Empire Southern Gas Company, the application said, extensive

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police pushed a manhunt today for a suspect in the bizarre killings of actress Sharon Tate and four others five miles from where a couple was found slain later in a similar style.

"There is a similarity, but whether it's the same suspect or a copycat we just don't know," said Police Sgt. Bryce Houchin.

At the scene of the second slayings, Inspector K. J. McCauley said, "I don't see any connection between this murder and the others. They're too widely removed. I just don't see any connection."

THROATS SLIT

The man and woman were stabbed many times in their Hollywood home, Houchin said, the man's head wrapped in a sheet, the woman's in a nightgown. In the slayings at Miss Tate's home Saturday, one victim's head was covered with a cloth.

The latest victims were identified as Leno A. LaBianca, 44, reportedly owner of a small local supermarket chain, and his wife, Rosemary, 38. Police said their bodies were discovered in nightclothes Sunday night by Mrs. LaBianca's son by a previous marriage, Frank Struthers, 14.

Houchin said the two were "stabbed numerous times and their throats were slit."

'DEATH TO PIGS'

McCauley said the word "death" was written in an undisclosed substance on the living room wall. Other officers earlier said the words "death to pigs" were scrawled in blood on a refrigerator door.

At Miss Tate's plush Bel Air home, the word "pig" was written in blood on the front door. The LaBianca residence is about five miles from Bel Air.

Earlier, police said they were seeking a man whose name "came up in conversation" with a 19-year-old caretaker arrested in a guest cottage behind Miss Tate's $200,000 home when the bodies were found.

Slim, tousle-haired William Garretson was booked on suspicion of murder, but Detective Lt. Robert Heider said physical evidence to link him to the crime had not been found.

TRUTH TEST

Garretson was given a lie detector test Sunday. Sgt. Jesse Buckles said homicide detectives were "not entirely satisfied" with his answers.

An autopsy showed that Miss Tate, 26, honey-blond wife of film director Roman Polanski, died of multiple stab wounds of the back and chest. She was eight months pregnant with a child which the autopsy showed was a boy.

Also killed were: —Jay Sebring, 26, hair stylist and former boyfriend of Miss Tate, dead of stab wounds in the body. A rope tied around his neck was linked to Miss Tate's neck, but did not contribute to the death of either. They lay in the living room. —Abigail Folger, 26, brunette socialite of the Folger coffee family of San Francisco. She was dead of stab wounds in the chest.

CHEST WOUNDS

—Voytek Frykowski, 37, Polish screen producer and writer, a friend of Polanski, dead of stab wounds in the body and extremities and a gunshot wound in the back.

—Steven Parent, 18, of suburban El Monte, apparently a friend of Garretson, dead of multiple gunshot wounds in the chest.

The bodies, strewn about the estate in fashionable Benedict Canyon, were found by a maid who ran down the road screaming: "There's bodies and blood all over the place."

Thomas Noguchi, Los Angeles coroner, said the victims' wounds would not have caused instant death.

Miss Folger, clad in a nightgown, was sprawled on the lawn. About 100 feet away lay Frykowski, shot in the back. Parent sat at the wheel of his car, its transmission set in drive and the brake released.

"We have to assume there was an attempt to escape, when we find the bodies the way we did," said Heider.

NEXT TO GO?

One of the clues in the case came out a blank. A red Ferrari sports car, missing from Miss Tate's home, and suspected to have been stolen by the killer, turned up at a repair shop where police said a member of the household left it earlier in the week.

Miss Tate's grief-stricken husband arrived in Los Angeles Sunday and went into seclusion. Officers said they would not be able to question the distraught Polanski immediately.

Friends said news of the slayings reached him at a dinner party in a London apartment where moments before the guests had been discussing the death of a friend.

Polanski had remarked: "Eeny, meeny, miney, mo. Who will be the next to go?" Then the phone rang, the message came.

Nixon Hopes To End 'Welfare Snooping'

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon sent to Congress today his proposals for a new $4 billion federal welfare program to provide a basic income for any American family unable to take care of itself.

Nixon said his new approach would end what he described as the "blatant unfairness" of the present welfare system and create a stronger incentive among the poor to work.

CHILD CARE

The message to Congress contained the proposals he outlined in a television-radio address to the nation Friday night.

It included a specific request for $600 million additional funds for child care centers to aid working mothers.

Nixon said he wants to provide child care for 450,000 children of the 150,000 current welfare recipients who will go into work training programs.

The new system he proposes, Nixon told Congress, will lessen red tape, end bitterly resented "welfare snooping" and make federal payments on the basis of certification of income, with spot checks to prevent abuses.

Nixon said he was outlining his conclusions to provide a "coherent, fresh approach to welfare, manpower training and revenue sharing."

FAMILY FUNDS

Specific legislative proposals will be sent to Congress after the summer recess by the secretary of health, education and welfare, Nixon said. Nixon is calling for an end to the present welfare system and the aid to families with dependent children program, adopting in its place a new family assistance program.

It would provide minimum basic benefits of $1,600 a year for a family of four—payable to the working or nonworking poor and to families with dependent children whether headed by father or a mother.

Nixon stressed equality of treatment, a work requirement and a work incentive in the program.

He is eliminating any requirement that a household be without a father to become eligible for benefits. "That present requirement in many states has the effect of breaking up families and contributes to delinquency and violence," Nixon said.

TRAIN ON WORK

He proposed that all employable persons who accept the welfare payments be required to register for work or job training, and that adequate and convenient day care be provided for children wherever it is necessary to enable a parent to train or work.

In 20 states, Nixon estimated, the present average benefit payments are lower than those he is proposing. And these areas, he says, where poverty is often the most severe.

The new system would encourage work, Nixon said, by allowing a new worker to retain the first $720 of his yearly earnings without any benefit reduction.

Nixon urged Congress to begin study of these proposals promptly so that laws can be enacted and funds authorized as soon as possible.

He envisioned that "for the first time, all dependent families with children in America, regardless of where they live, would be assured of minimum standard payments based upon uniform and single eligibility standards and "would be encouraged to train and work and stay together."

"SOCIAL PIONEERING" "These are far-reaching effects," he told Congress, "they cannot be purchased cheaply, or by piecemeal efforts."

With the establishment of his "new approach" to welfare, Nixon said the nation's antipoverty agency, Office of Economic Opportunity, will concentrate on finding new ways of opening economic opportunity to those who are able to work.

"Rather than focusing on income support activities," he said OEO "must find means of providing opportunities for individuals to contribute to the full extent of their capabilities and in developing and improving these capabilities."

In a presidential statement also issued today, Nixon gave the OEO the highest priority to develop a new spirit of "social pioneering" to better the lot of all Americans.

"We must become pioneers in reshaping our society, even as we have become pioneers in space," he said. "We must show a new willingness to take risks for progress, a new readiness to try the untried."

VISTA OKAY

The President said a nation that can marshal its resources to travel to the moon should make better use of its knowledge and power in solving social problems on earth.

And he assigned the role of innovating ideas for social progress to the OEO, the nation's antipoverty agency.

The President called for reorganization of the OEO in a statement issued at his California home as a follow-up to his welfare policy disclosure in a nationwide television-radio broadcast Friday night.

Deals Blow To Backers Of Manned Trip To Mars

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Space Committee said today the United States should not commit itself at this time to a landing on Mars.

Rep. George P. Miller, D-Calif., said a decision about a manned trip to Mars should be delayed for 5 to 10 years while new technology is developed and more experience is gained in space flight.

By that time, he said, there is a chance Russia will join the United States in making a Mars flight an international expedition.

"It is worth waiting a few years to see if this will be possible," said Miller in a speech prepared for House delivery.

Coming from the chairman of the committee that will have to authorize funds for any space program, Miller's words should carry great weight with administration planners.

His comments appear to run counter to the expressed views of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and Thomas O. Paine, head of the National Aeronautics and

Plane Crash Kills Toddler

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Shortly after takeoff, Raymond Houghton radioed a distress message: his light plane's engine had stopped and he would try a powerless landing on a Pepperdine College athletic field.

Huddled in the Cessna's rear seat was his wife, Wanda, cradling their 18-month-old daughter in her arms.

The craft hit a concrete wall, witness said, then overturned behind the home of Dr. Norvel Young, the college president.

The infant, Lisa, was dead at the scene, Houghton, 30, and his wife, 32, were hospitalized in fair condition.

Space Administration Agnew Suggested Shortly After Apollo 11 Launch That Next Goal of the United States Might Be to Send Men to Mars by the End of the Century. Paine Said Last Wednesday the Space Agency Leaders Were Aiming for Mars as Early as 1981.

Miller said the immediate goal of the U.S. space effort should be to continue to explore the moon to gain the experience of operating a base on another heavenly body.

U.S. Welfare Change Would Help Texas

DALLAS (AP) — The regional office of the federal welfare department said Saturday that Texas will save $25.1 million annually in welfare costs if Congress approves the shakeup in the program proposed Friday by President Richard Nixon.

The estimate was made by James H. Bond, regional director of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

This saving would be 41 per cent of the state's share of the welfare load of $60 million annually at present. Voters Tuesday approved raising this ceiling to $80 million, but that maximum is not expected to be reached immediately.

In his statement, Bond said other states in his region will save these amounts: Oklahoma $19.3 million, Louisiana $18.9 million, Arkansas $6.2 million and New Mexico $3.2 million.

Bond called the plan "the most comprehensive revision of the welfare system in more than 30 years."

Costs of public assistance have risen steadily for taxpayers in this region, Bond said. Caseloads have gone up and welfare costs have soared.

For the past fiscal year, for example, Texas spent $221 million dollars in state and federal funds to aid the needy.

The President's plan would provide fiscal relief to every State, enabling the State to meet the pressing needs of the poor and yet turn its attention to other vital programs, such as education, health, and environment quality. The minimum savings to each State, based on currently projected welfare caseloads, would be 10 per cent, and the savings could reach as high as 50 per cent."

Coupled with this, Bond said, would be the $47.7 million in benefits that Texas would receive from the President's proposed plan to share revenue with local governments.

"Family assistance system would at the same time enable the states to do a better job for the poor and disadvantaged," he said. "Benefits would be increased, inequities would be minimized, the system would be made more humane and manageable and there would be major incentives for training and productive work. Training and day care services would be expanded to enable welfare recipients to become self-supporting."

The revenue sharing plan would mean $12.6 million to Oklahoma, $20.3 million in Louisiana, $9.5 million to Arkansas and $5.7 million in New Mexico.

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: They say, "If you want to get the word around, tell a woman." I agree, especially if that woman is Dear Abby.

Yesterday our four-year-old son disappeared suddenly. One minute he was beside me in the kitchen, and the next minute he was gone. I nearly went crazy looking for him in the yard, in and out of the neighbor's houses, searching frantically with tears in my eyes and a lump in my throat.

Finally, just before sundown I was nearly exhausted and hysterical when a neighbor spotted an old refrigerator stored in the corner of our garage. He opened the door and out tumbled my son! He was blue and practically lifeless, but with the help of a quick-thinking neighbor and the fire department, the boy was revived, and Thank God, now he is all right.

Abby, please tell parents to keep discarded refrigerators LOCKED or turned toward the wall so kids can't open them. If anything had happened to that child I'd never have forgiven myself. FOOLISH BUT LUCKY

DEAR ABBY: (And you certainly were!) I'll run your letter at the top of my column with the suggestion that all parents REMOVE the doors from stored ice boxes, refrigerators, cabinets or other potential "collins" for curious and adventuresome children.

DEAR ABBY: Some close friends of ours gave a "pot luck" dinner (meaning each couple brings a different dish for the whole gang, plus their own bottle.)

When all the guests (also close friends) were seated to eat, the hostess came around to collect $1.50 from each couple to cover the cost of the roast beef, which was HER only contribution to the dinner.

My husband and I were insulted at being "charged" $1.50 to eat at a friends home. We paid the $1.50, did not eat, and left early. We were later accused of having "bad manners."

WHO would you say had the bad manners? SUN VALLEY
DEAR SUN: The hostess. (P.S. I hope you gave her your "beef.")

DEAR ABBY: I am a fairly new mother-in-law to a very young bride and we have had a few words over the way she dresses. She and my son have recently moved into a new home, and my husband and I were invited over to see it. My mother and dad were also invited. This was later advanced, so it's not as though we weren't expected.

My daughter-in-law greeted us at the door in a bikini bathing suit! (Her attire most of the time.)

My parents are in their late seventies, and I know they were shocked to see her in her bathing suit. (So was I.)
Am I being narrow-minded, Abby? My son says it's her home and she can dress the way she chooses. I say she should show a little more respect for her elders and put on some clothes. What do you say, Abby?

WONDERING IN ARIZONA
DEAR WONDERING: I vote with you. (Now you won't have to "wonder" about what to buy her for Christmas. Get her a pretty little beach robe to hang near the door.)

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Cattlemen Set Big Meeting

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Plans are underway for the fourth general assembly of the Inter-American Cattlemen's Confederation to be held here in December, with representatives of 29 nations expected.

The conference will convene Dec. 3-6, the first time it has been held in the United States. At least 1,000 officials and livestock producers will attend.

Octavio Ochoa Ochoa of Mexico City, confederation president, said the conference will be the first major meeting where "the people in this hemisphere can come to work together for a common goal—the betterment of mankind through improved food production and distribution systems." Participants will come from throughout the southwestern region of the United States, Mexico and Central and South America. The conference will be held at the city's convention center.

Twins' Hurler Beaten In Fight With Manager

Cesar Tovar has struck again—and so has Billy Martin. Tovar, making a season of breaking up no-hitters in the ninth inning by Baltimore pitchers, did it again Sunday with a line hit opening the ninth against Mike Cuellar, although the Orioles still beat the Minnesota Twins 2-0.

NEW GASHOUSE GANG — Minnesota Twins manager Billy Martin, center, disclosed Sunday that he knocked out pitcher Dave Boswell, right, during a fight in Detroit last Wednesday. The incident occurred after Boswell reportedly socked Twins outfielder Bob Allison, left, who stepped in to try and help settle a feud between Boswell and Twins coach, Art Fowler. The Twins are rapidly becoming the brawlingest bunch since St. Louis' Gashouse Gang.

But the hit couldn't have been as painful to Cuellar as those Twins' manager Billy Martin laid on Dave Boswell, one of his own hurlers.

Martin disclosed after the defeat that he had knocked out Boswell in a fight in Detroit Wednesday after Boswell had socked and kicked Twins' outfielder Bob Allison.

The 20 stitches Boswell suffered in the fight might well hurt the Twins as much because the right-hander, with a 12-6 record, was told by Martin not to report to the park in Baltimore so as not to embarrass him because of the condition of his face.

Despite the defeat, the Twins maintained their 1 1/2-game lead in the West Division of the American League over Oakland as the New York Yankees laced into the A's with four homers for a 5-1 victory.

They weren't the only AL clubs hitting Sunday as Detroit clobbered the Chicago White Sox 8-2, California bombarded Boston 9-1, Cleveland hammered Kansas City 8-1 and Washington outlasted Seattle 7-5.

Tovar's shot into left field on an 8-1 pitch went over the outstretched glove of shortstop Mark Belanger. Cuellar, 15-4, then closed out the game for his fifth consecutive victory and Baltimore's sixth in a row.

Jim Perry, 13-5, had a personal eight-game winning streak ended, although he gave only four hits in seven innings. But two of them were Boog Powell's 31st homer in the fourth inning and Elrod Hendricks' eighth in the seventh.

Martin explained after the fight that he was coming to the rescue of Allison outside a restaurant. Allison had been trying to calm down Boswell, who was angry over coach Art Fowler's report that Boswell had not run his normal 18-to-20 laps before Wednesday night's game in Detroit. Mickey Lolich, 15-5, was backed by a 14-hit Detroit attack, including Norm Cash's homer, and shacked the White Sox on four hits.

Bill Voss had three hits and drove in four runs as California jumped on Jim Lonborg, 7-5. Tom Murphy, 7-11, and Ken Tatum stopped the Red Sox.

Duke Sims, Tony Horton, Ken Harrelson and Jose Cardenal belted homers for Cleveland, making it easy for Sam McDowell, 13-10, who didn't give a hit until the sixth inning and finished with a three-hitter, striking out 14.

Washington dissipated a three-run triple by Lee Maye and then came from behind on Ed Stroud's pinch-hit, tying triple in the eighth and Paul Casanova's single for the lead run.

The Yankees, meanwhile, unloaded against Oakland while A's slugger Reggie Jackson stretched his homerless string to 47 at bats, his longest barren stretch of the season.

The A's also lost Rick Monday for four to six weeks when he suffered a fractured hand when hit by a pitch.

The Braves, battling to stay in the thick of the five-team National League West Division race, dropped a 3-4 decision to New York—their sixth loss in the last seven starts against the Mets in less than two weeks.

The Phillies, battling to finish out the season in the National League East Division, absorbed another thumping from Cincinnati, losing 10-0. Those are the same Reds who beat Philadelphia 12-5 on Friday and 19-17 a week ago Sunday. For the season, the Phillies lead reads two games won and nine lost against Cincinnati.

In other National League games Sunday, St. Louis clipped San Francisco 7-4, Pittsburgh took a doubleheader from San Diego 7-5 and 8-6 and Houston defeated Montreal 3-1.

Johnny Bench drove in four runs with a single and a three-run homer as the heavy-hitting Reds won their fourth straight and 12th in the last 14 starts.

Mike Shannon hammered a home run in the ninth inning, tying the game for St. Louis, and then the Cards scored three more runs to beat the Giants.

Winning pitcher Jim Grant singled home Julian Javier with the winning run and Lou Brock's double and a sacrifice fly chased two more runs home.

Jesse Pagan ripped a home run in each game as the Pirates swept San Diego.

Wylie, one of East Texas' brightest schoolboy prospects in years, withdrew from the high school all-star contest Sunday because of a shoulder separation.

The Trueman-James team brought Britain its seventh win in the 41-year-old tournament when they won the deciding match in a 4-3 defeat of the U.S. last year at Wimbledon in London.

It goes something like this: "Let's try to do unto them what they'd try to do unto us."

Don Sutton was in a rut but finally climbed out after only four years of trying. That means there's still hope for the Atlanta Braves and Philadelphia Phillies, who are on distressing treddmills of their own.

Sutton, the Los Angeles Dodger right-hander who had lost 13 consecutive decisions to Chicago, beat the Cubs for the first time in his big league career Sunday, with reliever Pete Mikkelson nailing down a 4-2 decision.

Still Wins Second Tourney, And A Place On Cup Team

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Ken Still, a talkative, personable veteran and long-time non-winner, now has two victories this year, but the greatest thrill of his golfing life is yet to come.

"It's the Ryder Cup," the lean 35-year-old said Sunday after his two-stroke victory in the $100,000 Greater Milwaukee Open. "There's no greater thrill than that—it's got to be the greatest of my career."

Still's victory—made the Citrus Open in March the first title of his nine-year tour career—boosted him into 10th place on the list from which 12 players will be chosen to play against Great Britain in Southport, England, in September.

But while the elated Still nailed down a spot on the team, a disappointed Arnold Palmer failed in his quest of an improved position in the standings.

Palmer bogeyed the last two holes for a 72 and 287, far back in the field that lacked most of the great names of the game. He didn't get a point and now must finish no lower than second in PGA championship that starts Thursday if he is to make the team for the fifth time. He now is 15th on the list.

Still shot a remarkable 65 seven under par on the 7,675-yard, par 72 North Shore Country Club course, and finished with a 277, two strokes ahead of South African Gary Player.

Player also had a 65—despite an embarrassing moment on the 18th when he split his bristles while lining up a putt—for 273.

Lee Elder was alone in third at 280 after a 66, Jim Wiechers had a 69 for 281, Bob Lunn had a 71 for 282 and four more were tied at 283—Larry Ziegler, Chuck Courtney, Peter Townsend and Terry Hill.

Mrs. Carner Easy Favorite

IRVING, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Joanne Gunderson Carner set out in pursuit of her sixth USGA Women's Amateur golf title today and there were few who thought she wouldn't make it.

She has been tabbed the consensus favorite as she seeks her sixth title, a feat accomplished only by Mrs. Gienna Collett Vane during the period of 1922 to 1935.

Two days of eliminations got under way at the Las Colinas Country Club today to determine the championship flight field of 24 that will begin match play Wednesday.

Also in the field for the tournament is Miss Hollis Stacy of Savannah, Ga., who last Saturday became the youngest player at 15 to win the USGA's Junior amateur tournament in Dallas.

A field of 102, including five from foreign countries has entered.

RUIDOSO D'NS RESULTS

Cards Sweep Twin Bill

The Big Spring Cardinals swept (to use the word mildly) a double bill here Sunday, routing the Stanton Braves 24-0, then plastering the Snyder Eagles 9-2. Except for a little loose play in the second when the Eagles scored a pair on an error and two hits, the second game was strictly no contest.

Jodie Flores limited the Eagles to two safeties, struck out six, walked one and hit one batter.

The Stanton game was called at the end of six to mercifully end the massacre.

In the night cap against Snyder, E. Martinez, Andy Gamboa and Olague each had two hits and two runs.

U. S. Has Big Edge In Tennis Match

CLEVELAND (AP) — There's sort of a fractured Golden Rule governing Britain's play in today's final matches of the 41st Wightman Cup tennis tournament.

It goes something like this: "Let's try to do unto them what they'd try to do unto us."

And although Great Britain's chances of overcoming the United States' 3-1 advantage in the first four matches were slim, hope was mustered by looking back to the 1966 event.

That was when the U.S. overcame the same deficit to win the best-of competition 4-3.

Mrs. Carner Easy Favorite

Astros Hang Up 3-1 Win

HOUSTON (AP) — Denny Lemaster allowed the Montreal Expos nine hits Sunday but coordination between the Astro pitcher and his teammates permitted only one run which came in the fifth when Gary Sutherland hit a home run off the left field fence.

The Astros went on to defeat the Canadian team 3-1. The win was the first for Lemaster in his last starting five. The victory marked the Astros' best percentage of a series over one club in history. This season series between the two teams is a lopsided 11-1 to the Astros' favor.

The new expansion team has come up short four straight times against southpaw Lemaster.

The Houston team jumped into a quick lead by scoring two runs in the first inning. They moved to a three run margin in the fourth.

Jesus Alou lead the Astros across the plate on a single to right by Norm Miller and Joe Morgan soon followed. The Astros' final run came when Curt Belfry made a sacrifice for Denis Menke.

Sutton Climbs From Rut With 4-2 Win Over Cubs

Don Sutton was in a rut but finally climbed out after only four years of trying. That means there's still hope for the Atlanta Braves and Philadelphia Phillies, who are on distressing treddmills of their own.

Sutton, the Los Angeles Dodger right-hander who had lost 13 consecutive decisions to Chicago, beat the Cubs for the first time in his big league career Sunday, with reliever Pete Mikkelson nailing down a 4-2 decision.

The Braves, battling to stay in the thick of the five-team National League West Division race, dropped a 3-4 decision to New York—their sixth loss in the last seven starts against the Mets in less than two weeks.

The Phillies, battling to finish out the season in the National League East Division, absorbed another thumping from Cincinnati, losing 10-0. Those are the same Reds who beat Philadelphia 12-5 on Friday and 19-17 a week ago Sunday. For the season, the Phillies lead reads two games won and nine lost against Cincinnati.

In other National League games Sunday, St. Louis clipped San Francisco 7-4, Pittsburgh took a doubleheader from San Diego 7-5 and 8-6 and Houston defeated Montreal 3-1.

Johnny Bench drove in four runs with a single and a three-run homer as the heavy-hitting Reds won their fourth straight and 12th in the last 14 starts.

Tigers Have Difficulty In Nipping Colorado City

It was a case of pecking away one at a time, and the Big Spring Tigers outpecked the Colorado City Indians in Colorado City Sunday, 4-2.

Spires held the Indians to four hits, and in each case that he gave up a run, an error opened the gate. He struck out eight and gave up only one walk.

Even at that, he was not much tougher than C. Franco, the losing pitcher. He scattered eight singles well, struck out four and allowed no walks.

Jesse Zapata, who had a pair of hits, greeted Franco with a home run as the second batter of the day. Subie Flores also had a pair of hits. Gamboa scored what proved to be the winning run when Gamboa was safe and went to second on successive errors, then scored on Nico Paredez's single.

The Tigers now have 12-6 for the year.

Wylie Withdraws From Oil Bowl

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — The Texas squad, without Joe Wylie, continued workouts today for Friday's Texas-Oklahoma Oil Bowl football game.

Wylie, one of East Texas' brightest schoolboy prospects in years, withdrew from the high school all-star contest Sunday because of a shoulder separation.

The Trueman-James team brought Britain its seventh win in the 41-year-old tournament when they won the deciding match in a 4-3 defeat of the U.S. last year at Wimbledon in London.

It goes something like this: "Let's try to do unto them what they'd try to do unto us."

Don Sutton was in a rut but finally climbed out after only four years of trying. That means there's still hope for the Atlanta Braves and Philadelphia Phillies, who are on distressing treddmills of their own.

Sutton, the Los Angeles Dodger right-hander who had lost 13 consecutive decisions to Chicago, beat the Cubs for the first time in his big league career Sunday, with reliever Pete Mikkelson nailing down a 4-2 decision.

Sets Grid Meeting

FORSAN — Coach Don Stevens has issued a call to all Forsan High School football players, together with incoming freshmen, to meet him at the high school Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. for an organizational meeting.

The boys will begin conditioning on their own Wednesday, and they will get equipment and begin workouts Aug. 18. A scrimmage is slated here Aug. 29 against Grand Falls, and the team will go to Imperial Sept. 5 for a practice round. The season kicks off Sept. 12 in Abilene against Central Catholic.

Buffalo Springs Twin Surprise: Signs Simpson, Beats Redskins

By The Associated Press

Attacker Tried To Kill Her In Fiery Gas Bath

DALLAS (AP)—Police sought today a Negro who raped a 32-year-old North Dallas housewife Sunday and then tried to kill her in a fiery bath of gasoline.

The woman, mother of three, broke her bonds and escaped before her assailant could find a match.

Police said the woman told them the Negro, about 20, raped her three times while he was on an errand. She was later forced to load household values into the family car.

The woman said he then tied her hands and feet and shoved her into a bedroom chair, piling bed clothes on top of her and dousing them with gasoline.

She told police she heard him opening and shutting drawers in other rooms "as if he were looking for a match." She broke her bonds and fled out a window when she heard him enter the garage.

The woman said the attacker fled with about $1,000 worth of personal property, including jewelry and a pistol.

Pope Approves New Text For Book Of Psalms

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI has approved a new Latin text for the Book of Psalms—the first step in a planned revision of the official Latin translation of the whole Bible by the Roman Catholic Church, the Vatican announced Saturday. The new psalter was released for sale Saturday.

Pope Paul set up a special commission of experts in 1964 to correct and update the Vulgate translation of the 150 Psalms that St. Jerome did in 387-388. This had been asked by the Vatican Ecumenical Council in its "constitution on the liturgy."

The new revised texts will be used in Church rites in Latin and serve as official texts of reference for translation into modern languages.

Saturday's announcement said the revised Latin texts of the Gospels were expected to be published before the end of the year.

Eat First, Then Take The Silver

ROME (AP)—The actor-burgling gastronomes have struck again. Thieves broke into the apartment of Cosetta Greco, an Italian movie star of the 1950s, and enjoyed a cold buffet and bear before exiting with $32,000 in jewels and silver. Police said it's probably the same gang that burgled the homes of Gina Lollobrigida and others in much the same manner.

Narcotics Agents Round Up Dozen

DALLAS (AP)—Police Lt. Frank Cornwall said narcotics officers arrested 12 people on drug charges early today.

Cornwall said an undisclosed number of others were being sought after narcotics agents swept through the city for the second time in a week.

A week ago officers arrested 27 persons—many of them hippie juveniles—on secret indictments alleging sales of dangerous drugs to a police undercover agent.

Cornwall said those involved in Monday's police action have no particular relationship and are not a narcotics ring.

Cornwall said officers picked up five grains of marijuana with the arrest of a girl, 18, in North-east Dallas.

Cornwall said the ages of those in custody ranged from 16 to 25 and all were known narcotics users. He said under-25s in custody ranged from 16 to 25 and all were known narcotics users. He said undercover agents had made buys of narcotics users. He said undercover agents had made buys from all those arrested.

It May Take Days To Remove Bodies

LONE PINE, Calif. (AP)—Officials say it may take days to remove bodies in the wreckage of a plane that crashed with 35 aboard six months ago near the nation's second highest mountain.

A treacherous downdraft smashed a helicopter on the ground Sunday as the craft swept over the remnants of the DC3 that vanished Feb. 18 on a Nevada gambling junket.

One of five investigators in the helicopter was taken to a hospital. The craft was disabled.

A private pilot sighted the DC3 Friday, ending a long aerial search over the craggy mountains of east-central California. The wreckage lay in 30 feet of snow, 11,800 feet up.

The 32 passengers on the flight had paid $10 each for the round trip, a floor show and dinner at a casino in Hawthorne, Nev. The plane crashed on the way back to Burbank and Long Beach.

Pension As Thief

MODRICE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Sevko Zahirovic-Revo says he spent his whole life as a thief and wants a state pension for it.

Sevko—who spent 36 of his 83 years in prison—argues that he helped keep money in circulation and penalized the rich in favor of the poor, thus benefiting society.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS TOP CONTRIBUTOR

Texas Weekend Death Toll

By The Associated Press

At least 32 persons died violently in Texas over the weekend, and traffic proved to be the number one killer again.

At least 18 of the total died in traffic accidents, but shootings added consistently to the toll.

The Associated Press tabulation of deaths started at 6 p.m. Friday and ended midnight Sunday.

Arthur Bradford, 34, of Austin, drowned Sunday in Lake Austin while on a family outing.

PARACHUTES FAIL

Mrs. J. Porter Evans, 61, of Fort Worth was killed late Sunday when her parachutes failed to open as she made her 95th jump as member of a sky-diving club. Witnesses theorized that Mrs. Evans became ill after the jump and was unable to open either of her two parachutes. The accident occurred on the Glenn Shoop farm, southwest of Ponder in Denton County.

Tony C. Hernandez Jr., 19, of Cuero was killed Sunday when a car in which he rode overturned a mile north of Victoria on US 87. The driver, Guadalupe Lara Solis, 18, of Refugio, suffered minor injuries, police said.

John Webster, 58, and his daughter, Joan Webster, 28, were killed Sunday when their car struck a railroad overpass in Sherman and then was hit by a truck that knocked their vehicle to an access road below.

Duane Butler, 13, of Natchitoches, La., drowned Saturday off Galveston's West Beach. A companion said he and the Louisiana youth swam out to deep water and encountered difficulty in getting back to shore.

FATALLY SHOT

Hugh Wiley, 51, of Atlanta, Tex., was shot to death Sunday in what officers called an argument over a record player. A man was held in the Cass County Jail in connection with the slaying.

Three Dallas residents died in three separate incidents of violence Friday night. Richard Garnica was shot to death in a lounge on the city's northeast side. Willie Bryant, 32, was stabbed to death and Janie Woodward, 35, was fatally shot.

Dennis Fry, 17, of Dallas was killed in a one-car accident near Waxahachie Friday night. Investigators said the car went out of control and overturned.

Mrs. Georgia Roberts, 66, was shot to death at Georgetown Friday night. Her 20-year-old grandson was wounded in the shooting. Details of the incident were not immediately available.

A two-car collision three miles east of Chappell Hill claimed the lives of Jimmy Neal Meyer and Troy Spacek, 31, both of Ledbetter Friday.

RUN OVER

A 21-month-old child was run over and killed as she ran from behind a hedge onto a driveway at Whitewright. Sandra Michelle Boatright was dead on arrival at a Sherman hospital Saturday after being transferred from a Whitewright clinic.

Frances Mary McNamee, 19, of Greenville was killed and five others injured in a two-car collision on Texas 31 near Kilgore Saturday. The victim was a passenger in a car driven by Jimmy Eugene Dunn, 21, of Dodd City. Dunn was hospitalized in undetermined condition as were the occupants of the other car. They were Carrol Collier, 53, of Houston, his wife, Dolores, and her two children, Randall and Colleen.

THREE-CAR CRASH

Herman Simpson, 48, of Denison and Joseph Berry, 47, of Gainesville died in a three-car accident on Texas 82 near Gainesville Saturday. After the victims' cars collided, a third car hit the wreckage. The occupant of that vehicle was not injured.

Hollis Frost, 62, of Port Arthur died in a two-car collision Saturday on Texas 73 eight miles east of Winnie.

Ricky Gene Hale, 15, of Fort Worth was killed in a car-motorcycle head-on collision Friday night. The crash occurred on a county road just east of Azle in North Central Texas.

Dr. Sam Wins Wrestling Match

WAVERLY, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard says being a doctor helped him win a Cancer Society benefit wrestling match.

Sheppard, the former Cleveland-area osteopath who attracted widespread attention during his 10-year legal fight to clear himself of his first wife's murder, defeated Wild Bill Scholl Saturday night with a hold called the "hook."

Sheppard, who weighed 195, said his medical training was handy because the "hook" is applied by putting pressure on a jaw nerve. The 285-pound Scholl said the hold was illegal.

Sheppard, now practicing in suburban Columbus, had engaged in wrestling competition while in prison.

Nature Faster

EAST PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Realizing that nature was moving faster than his car, Charles P. Francis of Warren stopped at an East Providence fire station Sunday where two firemen helped his wife give birth to a girl.

Mrs. Virginia Francis, 25, and the baby were reported in good condition at Lying In Hospital in Providence.

Farm Subsidy Pay Ax Sharp

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two House Republicans remain adamant in their drive to limit farm subsidy payments.

Reps. Paul Findley of Illinois and Silvio Conte of Massachusetts carry around printed motions to be ready for prompt action when the deadlocked issue arises again.

Last May 27 the House voted 224-142 to limit individual subsidy payments under the farm program to $20,000.

The Senate rejected this when completing action on its Agriculture Department money bill in early July. There the matter rests.

The House approved a $20,000 payment limitation under the farm program last year, too, but it was quickly dumped in a conference with the Senate.

The farm program, started by Congress in 1965, has made possible annual payments of more than $3 billion to farm operators to control production of wheat, feed grains and cotton. It also applies to wool.

In 1967 five payments were made of more than $1 million and 15 between $500,000 and $1 million each.

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin has opposed a payment limitation but there have been rumors he may recommend some type of limitation as part of a new program to be announced this fall.

Meyer Takes Over Press Division

WASHINGTON (AP) — A San Antonio native took over Sunday as chief of the press division of the Organization of American States.

Ben F. Meyer, who retired last year after 41 years with The Associated Press, succeeds Wilson Veloso of Brazil. Veloso takes over as editor of the Alliance for Progress, a weekly newsletter.

Meyer's last 14 years with AP were spent covering the Latin American beat in Washington. He had served as AP chief of Bureau in Mexico, Cuba and Chile and was AP representative in the Caribbean.

Meyer attended Baylor University in Waco, Tex., worked for newspapers in San Antonio, Cuernavaca, Waco, Wichita Falls and El Paso, all in Texas. He joined the AP at Atlanta.

Report Given On Scout Jamboree

STANTON (SC) — Walt Haislip and Dennis Ireton showed slides and talked about their recent trip to the National Boy Scout Jamboree in Idaho, at the Friday meeting of the Optimist Club. Jimmy Wheeler presided and it was decided to order fruit cakes for the club's annual sale. Seven members and a guest, Tommy Haislip, were present at the meeting.

OUT OF QUARANTINE — Apollo 11 commander Neil Armstrong is greeted by Mrs. Donald K. Slayton, wife of the Director of Flight Crew Operations, as Armstrong emerged from the quarantine at the lunar Receiving Laboratory, Manned Spacecraft Center, Houston, last night.

Whirlwind Events For Astros Tuesday

The whirlwind schedule starts Sunday night when released Aldrin and Collins hold a news conference here to report on their daring mission. That afternoon, a downtown Houston luncheon will be attended by nearly 700 space workers. On Wednesday, the astronauts, and their families fly to New York for a ticker tape parade and an appearance at the United Nations, followed in the afternoon by another parade in Chicago. The day winds up in Los Angeles at a gala dinner with President Nixon at host.

British Pound Expected To Come Under Pressure

LONDON (AP) — Speculators predicted a weaker pound and a rush to buy West German marks and sold Belgian francs and British pounds today after Europe's money markets opened for the first time since the devaluation of the French franc. But there were no wild fluctuations and trading volume was low.

First pressures appeared to be more heavy on the Belgian franc than on the pound. In Brussels, the Belgian currency dropped to its lowest permitted level—50.375 to the dollar—and forward trading was suspended.

The pound dropped just over half a cent in London. But it remained well above the official floor and comfortably above the level at which the Bank of England intervenes with support buying.

MARK STRONGER

The mark was stronger in Zurich, and other currencies were under pressure.

British officials had maintained all weekend that the pound is strong enough to withstand pressure for devaluation to match the French action. But there was always a possibility of a speculative rush to the West German mark in the expectation that the Germans will revalue their currency upward after the general election in the fall.

In an attempt to prevent a price spiral resulting from the devaluation, the French government froze most wholesale and retail prices until Sept. 15 while it prepares a package of economic measures for a special session of the National Assembly.

MONEY TRADERS

Currency dealers in London, Paris, Geneva and Frankfurt predicted a weaker pound and a rush to buy West German marks and sold Belgian francs and British pounds today after Europe's money markets opened for the first time since the devaluation of the French franc.

Help for the pound is anticipated Wednesday when Britain's July trade figures will be published. The figures have steadily improved during the past months and now are running at an estimated surplus of about $600 million. July's figures are expected to show further improvement.

In announcing the French price freeze, Finance Minister Valery Giscard d'Estaing made clear the government would be taking steps to avoid the "price flare-up" union leaders said would result from devaluation. He warned the government would crack down on any unjustified price rises during the freeze period.

The big Gaullist majority in the assembly should insure passage of the measures. But giving the deputies the opportunity to debate them is in line with President Georges Pompidou's pledge to give the legislators a bigger role in national affairs after 11 years of Charles de Gaulle's authoritarian rule.

West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger met for two hours Sunday with his top ministers, and a spokesman said he reaffirmed his opposition to raising the value of the mark.

The program is designed to preserve the life of city streets. In the 10 working days needed to finish the program, about 100 blocks around the city will be treated.

LONDON (AP) — The average weekly pay for men in Britain is $57.41, a government survey shows, while women earn an average of $28.16.

Tax-Fighting Senators May 'Loosen Up'

AUSTIN (AP)—Senators took pains today not to be listed in favor of a House-approved tax bill which appears to be in for a rough ride.

Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas, sponsor of the bill, was asked to answer questions about the proposal because none of the 31 senators would accept the job. "There is no (Senate) sponsor of House Bill 2," said Sen. W. T. Moore of Bryan, chairman of the Senate State Affairs Committee, which started hearings on the bill.

Atwell estimated the measure would raise $332 million to $333 million in two years. But apparently that figure could be lowered significantly if some new estimates on a 10-cent stock transfer tax were correct.

Sen. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock and Moore said they checked over the weekend and came up with an estimate of $2 million rather than $18 million which Atwell claimed.

Sens. Charles Wilson of Lufkin pressed Atwell so much about a $5.7 million reduction in the gross receipts tax for telephone companies that Moore said, "Let the record reflect that the senator from Angelina doesn't like the phone companies."

Atwell said no one had testified in the House asking for the reduction. He said the reduction was made to "equalize" the phone companies' tax with other utilities.

"Did anyone suggest raising the others to 'equalize' them with the telephone companies?" asked Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston.

"I don't recall testimony," replied Atwell, who said he also did not recall any consideration of what Schwartz suggested.

The Senate seats were full for the hearings, and 50 or so persons stood alongside the rail, and a 100 more sat in the balconies.

L. Gov. Ben Barnes has said tax-fighting senators may have to "give a little" to finance a state budget, which may require up to $260 million in new taxes, by the Aug. 26 deadline of the 30-day special session.

Liberal senators were particularly irked by an increase of from 3 to 3 1/2 per cent in the state sales tax.

Barnes said the tax hearings could last until Tuesday night, and added that he would like a vote of the full senate by Thursday.

If the Senate changes the House bill, as is expected, the measure almost certainly would go to a 10-member conference committee to try to write an acceptable compromise.

Besides the sales tax increase, the House bill provides a 5-cent pack boost in cigarette taxes; extension of the sales tax to several personal services such as laundry, dry cleaning and auto repairs; a 3-1/2 per cent entertainment tax, and a 19-cent on stock transactions.

Barnes said if senators don't like the House bill, "I want some alternatives. They voted for the spending bill, and I want them to take the responsibility of financing it."

NEW TRAFFIC LAWS — NO. 2 'Implied Consent' Statute Aimed At Drunken Drivers

AUSTIN — Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said that the State's new implied consent law which becomes effective September 1, 1969, gives law enforcement a much needed weapon to combat drunk drivers.

"Depending on area, drinking drivers figure in 40 to 50 per cent of the fatal rural traffic accidents in Texas," Speir said. "This is especially significant when you consider that traffic mishaps claimed 3,481 lives in the state last year."

Under terms of this law, a motorist is "deemed to have given consent" to a breath test if arrested for any alleged offense arising out of his actual operation or physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

If the suspect refuses the breath test, the officer certifies this fact in an affidavit, together with his probable cause for stopping the person, to the Department of Public Safety. This affidavit, when it reaches the DPS, forms the basis for a petition filed by the Department in the corporation or justice court of the county of residence of the person refusing the test to determine if the officer had probable cause for thinking the person was driving while intoxicated.

SUSPENSION

Should the judge find the officer had probable cause to arrest the person for driving while intoxicated, the Department of Public Safety, acting on the court's finding and the officer's sworn statement that the subject refused the test, suspends the subject's driver license for the period set by the judge. The suspension, which may run for as much as one year, is subject to appeal to a higher court.

The implied consent law allows the person detained the right to have a test of his blood alcohol taken by his own physician, qualified technician, chemist or registered professional nurse, if taken within two hours after his arrest.

The law also places the responsibility with the Texas Department of Public Safety to certify breath testing equipment and persons authorized to administer breath tests.

SCHOOLS

Consistent with its policy of assisting local authorities whenever possible, the DPS will offer at least three schools to train city and county officers in operation of the Breathalyzer. These schools, which will be conducted at the Law Enforcement Academy in Austin, will be limited in enrollment to key personnel from localities which now possess, or plan to obtain, breath testing instruments.

Currently, the DPS is utilizing breath testing equipment in a voluntary program. The Breathalyzer instruments are located at central points in some 90 counties, and are operated by DPS officers who have completed an intensive training course. The instruments are checked and serviced weekly by qualified DPS chemists.

"With the advent of the new law, we hope to obtain at least one breath testing instrument for each county, and plan to train additional personnel in their operation," Speir noted.

DA To Ask Exhumation

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis says he will ask this week for exhumation of the body of Mary Jo Kopechne so that an autopsy can be performed.

Dinis' request to authorities in Pennsylvania, where Miss Kopechne is buried, will require a court ruling.

Miss Kopechne, 28, drowned July 18 when a car driven by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy went off a bridge and plunged into a tidal pond on Chappaquiddick Island off Martha's Vineyard.

Kennedy, who did not report the accident until several hours after it happened, pleaded guilty to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident and received a suspended sentence of two months in jail.

Dinis later ordered an inquest into Miss Kopechne's death. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopechne, the dead girl's parents, have been strongly opposed to exhumation of her body.

Will Remain In Church Despite His Marriage?

SANTEE FE, N.M. (AP) — James P. Shannon, former Roman Catholic auxiliary bishop of Minneapolis-St. Paul, is expected to teach his regular class today at St. John's College here. He said Sunday he would remain in the church despite his marriage, but a former colleague said the nuptials automatically excommunicated him.

Shannon, 48, and his bride, the former Ruth Church Wilkinson, 50, a Protestant who was previously married three times, returned here Saturday night, according to Richard Weigle, president of the college.

The couple was married Aug. 2 in Endicott, N.Y., by a Protestant minister, the Rochester (N.Y.) Democrat and Chronicle reported Sunday. Shannon then issued a statement to the New York Times acknowledging the marriage.

"I do not intend to leave the Catholic Church. It is my spiritual home. I love it dearly and have worked to the best of my ability as one of its priests for 23 years," he said.

But the Most Rev. Leonard P. Copley, auxiliary archbishop of the Minneapolis-St. Paul diocese, said in Minneapolis: "By marrying, he incurred excommunication, there's no need for a declaration of it."

In New York, experts in church law said Shannon's marriage violated Canon 2388 of the official code: "Clerics in major orders and all persons who presume to contract marriage with those clerics automatically incur excommunication."

Bishop Copley said Shannon could still issue sacraments validly but that such action was against the law of the church. He said the marriage could have been legal within the church if Shannon had "received the dispensation to marry beforehand and married a person who was free to marry."

Shannon, in his statement said, "It is a source of sadness and regret for both of us now that because of our marriage it will no longer be possible for me to serve the people of God as a priest or as a bishop."

He said he had written Pope Paul VI to assure him "that I have no intention of trying to function as an underground cleric. I have no intention of leading or joining any movement which seeks to hurt the church."

Shannon resigned his Minnesota post earlier this year after an exchange of letters with the Pope in which he took exception to church opposition to birth control. He has been teaching a graduate course in education and is to become vice president of St. John's next month. The college is not affiliated with the Catholic Church.

Burger Calls For Changes In Prisons

DALLAS (AP) — Chief Justice Warren E. Burger called today for broad reform of America's prison system.

"Let us never forget," he said, "that in His teaching the redemption of sinful men has a high place."

Burger urged the American Bar Association to lead a re-examination of prisons, parole and probation systems and the education and training of prisoners.

"We must explore more fully a limited confinement and work release," he said, in a prepared speech at the 92nd annual meeting of the ABA.

Burger said he had not settled on any particular program of reform. "All I have," he said, "is the profound conviction, which I believe most judges of this country share, that there must be a better way to do it."

More than 5,000 lawyers and judges are attending the ABA's annual meeting. Among the major topics to be considered in sessions through Thursday are lawyer ethics, the system of compensating auto accident victims and strikes in the transportation industry.

Accused Green Berets Killed Double Agent?

SAIGON (AP) — An American attorney for one of eight Green Beret soldiers charged with slaying a South Vietnamese man said today the victim was a double agent who had been employed by the Central Intelligence Agency.

The statement supported speculation that the man whose body has not been found was also working for the North Vietnamese and that he had been killed for that reason.

U.S. military officials have divulged no details of the case beyond saying that the slaying occurred June 29 near the Special Forces headquarters at Nha Trang.

George Gregory of Cheraw, S.C., asserted that, if searchers did discover the body, they would find the victim to be "a dangerous Communist double agent hired by the CIA to gather facts."

The dead man was "entrusted with such valuable information that hundreds of lives (of American and allied servicemen) were saved in the most necessary manner," Gregory said.

Because of the facts of the case, Gregory said, his client, now being held with the seven others in the Army stockade at Long Binh, 15 miles north of Saigon, should be "received as a hero, not a criminal."

Gregory is the attorney for Maj. Thomas C. Middleton Jr., 30, of Jefferson, S.C. He said when he arrived in Saigon Sunday that Middleton's rights were being violated by his detention before trial.

Gregory, a former state senator who spent three years in the Army's legal corps, also said on Sunday that he would fight to keep the Army's blackout from extending to the trial.

"A man is entitled to a public trial," he said. "They will want to try him in a vacuum, but I am not going to let them do that."

GIVE UP HUNT Meanwhile, the U.S. Navy apparently gave up an almost month-long search for the body of the murdered man. The U.S. minesweeper Woodpecker docked at Cua Da, near the coastal city of Nha Trang, Sunday. The vessel's commander, Lt. Victor G. Reiling of Dayton, Ohio, refused to comment on the Woodpecker's mission but said it would not be resumed today.

"We didn't find the body," one of the minesweeper's crew said.

The Woodpecker and two other Navy vessels have been searching off Nha Trang since about July 14.

The eight was possibly the outcome of a vendetta by an Army officer jealous of the elite Special Forces.

They are being held at the Army's Long Binh headquarters 15 miles north of Saigon, pending the outcome of an investigation to determine whether they will face a court-martial on the charges.

Wood From Noah's Ark?

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — A team of archeologists has found some pieces of wood that the scientists believe may have come from Noah's Ark. They plan a search for the vessel next summer.

The wood, now being examined at research centers in the United States, France and Turkey, is believed to be hand-hewn timber about 4,000 years old. It was found July 31 and Aug. 2 on Mt. Ararat in eastern Turkey by a six-man expedition headed by Harry Crawford of Denver, Colo.

The archeologists believe the ark may be lying beneath a glacier at the bottom of a lake on the 17,000-foot mountain. They plan to begin digging through the ice for it next summer.

The Book of Genesis says God ordered Noah to build an ark 300 cubits (about 450 feet) long and that the ark saved Noah, his family and pairs of the earth's animals from a flood that covered the world. Genesis says the ark landed on the "mountains of Ararat."

Remelt Value

Almost five years after the silver content of U.S. coins was almost eliminated — only the half-dollar now contains silver — coin collectors are faced with an unrelieved quandary.

What are their 1964 and earlier coins now worth? There is no way to tell. Great quantities of silver coins were melted down, legally before Congress banned the melting, illegally while the ban was in effect, and legally after the ban was lifted.

The traditional value index for coins — the number minted — can no longer be applied. Presumably all pre-1964 silver-bearing coins are worth more to buyers and sellers, since the number in circulation has been reduced. But there is no way to arrive at a firm price at the present time.

Collectors and coin dealers predict that a number of years will pass before they have even an approximate estimate of the available supply of pre-1964 coins. After all, those coins can be sold even now for up to 20 per cent more than their face value for their silver content.

Still, collectors have their compensations. They may not know the value of their coins, but they are almost sure to benefit from the melters.

Food From A Tent

Part of the world's over-population problem is the specific need, right now, to feed the multiplying numbers. Efforts along this line include development of new foods, natural and synthetic, and new production methods. Another aspect of the matter is the demand for more land suitable for growing crops.

Specialists at the University of Arizona may be on the threshold of a solution to part of the pressing land problem. At Puerto Penasco, scientists are proving that life-sustaining food can be grown on arid coastal areas.

Vegetables are being grown in air-inflated plastic tents serving as modern hothouses, irrigated with water distilled from the sea on the spot. The intense light and heat of the desert have been found to mature the vegetables rapidly — so much so that the tent yields were much higher than comparable field growth.

Further research and experimentation will be required before the method can be adapted to largescale production. This will surely go forward, however. A village of such greenhouses is to be installed on the coastline of the Persian Gulf that borders the Arabian desert. It may turn out that using heretofore "barren" ground for agricultural production will be an important breakthrough in the effort to feed the world's swiftly rising population.

Humphrey As The Demos' Man?

WASHINGTON — The current discussion over whether Sen. Edward M. Kennedy could get the Democratic presidential nomination next time has revealed a substantial agreement among many politicians that Hubert Humphrey — whether or not he runs for the Senate in 1970 — would be the most logical choice of the national party convention in 1972.

Sen. Kennedy's troubles may or may not be over by 1972, but they have little bearing on the question, because it is felt that the party will want someone more experienced as its leader than the Massachusetts senator would be at that time.

MR. KENNEDY'S opportunity may come in later years, but certainly the focus now is on Hubert Humphrey. He may decide not to run for the Senate and concentrate for the next three years on campaigning — the delivery of many public addresses dealing with national and international issues, as he seeks support in different parts of the country.

The former vice president has had an experience which nowadays is not overlooked. Mr. Humphrey served 16 years in the Senate and four years as vice president. One of the reasons Richard Nixon was able to win the Republican presidential nomination in 1968 was his familiarity with the issues which he gained during his six years in Congress and eight years as vice president under President Eisenhower.

A COMMENT that is heard, of course, is that Hubert Humphrey will not have the financial backing for the pre-convention campaign that a member of the Kennedy clan could muster. But money alone isn't going to win the presidential nomination at the Democratic party convention in 1972. The city organizations which would have been strong supporters of Sen. Kennedy are themselves in difficulties in many states.

As for the chances of a Humphrey victory if he becomes his party's nominee for the presidency, this will depend upon the standing of President Nixon at election time. If the balloting were to be held this month, Mr. Nixon would win hands down. His popularity is high.

BETWEEN NOW and 1972, however, many things can happen. Certainly if the Vietnam war has not been ended, this would be a disadvantage to the Republicans and cost them votes. There is also the specter of a third-party ticket confronting the Republicans. George Wallace has not ruled himself out. He undoubtedly feels that the 10,000,000 voters who supported him last November are not going to abandon their demands, but will wait to see to what extent Mr. Nixon will have met them by 1972.

ON THE WHOLE, the Democratic party today needs more strength in the Middle West, Far West and South than it does in the East, and the politicians are saying in private discussions that, as between Kennedy and Humphrey, the latter would be stronger across the country than the Massachusetts senator, even apart from the loss of support that might have resulted from the widespread comment about the auto accident.

It is expected, therefore, that Sen. Kennedy will not make an effort to get the presidential nomination in 1972, but will hope for a chance in 1976 or 1980, when he will still be under 50 years of age.

What Others Say

The trucking industry is back before Congress this year with a bill to permit the operation of heavier and bigger trucks on the nation's interstate highway system. Congress, as it did with a similar measure last year, should reject the proposed changes.

Foremost among the opponents of the legislation is the American Automobile Association, whose executives testified recently before the House Public Works Committee. The AAA's opposition is based on two points. The first is that bigger trucks will constitute a hazard on the highways because their bulk diminishes the visibility of the other drivers and their length makes passing more risky.

The second point the AAA stresses is that the increased weight of tractor-trailers and tractor-tow trailers will punish pavements and bridges and increase not only the costs of upkeep but also the construction of new roads built to withstand the heavier loads.

Highway costs warrant concern, but the argument Congress should find most persuasive is the likelihood of greater danger on the nation's already unsafe roads. A 70-foot truck, more than eight feet wide and weighing as much as 15 tons, is an intimidating object. To allow such snorting behemoths on the public roads is not in the public interest. — BOSTON HERALD TRAVELER

Frances Faces Reality In Devaluation

NEW YORK (AP) — France's devaluation of the franc was recognition of a reality, a bowing to the course of events, something that much of the world thought was lacking in the days of Charles de Gaulle.

The reality was, that despite the official value of the franc as stated by the French government, speculators and currency traders already had devalued French money. They weren't willing to pay 20 cents for a franc.

The weakness in the French financial situation was evident as long ago as May 1968, when workers and students rioted and the workers won big pay increases, something they had been denied for years previously.

Many experts predicted then that France couldn't absorb such increases in the costs of its goods—that inevitably French goods would become too expensive to compete in world markets. Especially when Germany was so competitive.

Adjoining France, Germany was enjoying a hardy economy. So strong was it in fact that many currency investors believed the mark to be one of the safest currencies around. They felt it was undervalued.

Chalk Mystery

HAYDOCK, England (AP) — The case of the vanishing chalk had a club's billiards players snookered. But now the riddle has been solved.

Women visitors at Haydock Conservative Club in Lancashire were spotted using the chalk as an eye-shadow.

Bone Artist

CANON CITY, Colo. (AP) — Wayne K. Patterson, warden of the Colorado Penitentiary, uses acrylic paints to turn bleached bones of animals into cartoon figures.

Patterson said he and his wife, Mary, were hunting arrowheads one day and he sat down to take a breather "when this old white bone caught my eye and started staring back."

"Sweet death? A London nutritionist has raised the question whether sugar may not be more valued than it would make a good investment. It would mean also that German goods would enjoy a price advantage in foreign markets, which included France.

The matter came to a head in November, when the tremendous reserves of gold and currencies that had accumulated under the austere economy of earlier years began to drain from France. Francs were sold as overpriced; marks were bought as underpriced.

The money was sent from France to Germany by speculators, by investors in German enterprises and by purchasers of German cars and other products that appeared so attractively priced.

De Gaulle was urged to devalue in order once again to make francs attractive and to make French goods more competitively priced abroad. And in fact he was fully expected to make such an announcement.

At the same time, many French economists, government officials and financial men argued that Germany should help out by revaluing or raising the price of the mark to make it less attractive. Germany declined to do so.

Well, so did De Gaulle refuse. He stood before an astonished world in late November and declared that the value of the franc would be maintained. French workers would be asked to work harder.

It was a courageous stance, but it didn't work.

Accidents can impair the mind as well as the body. A Denver psychiatrist says that 10 per cent of all accident victims develop permanent emotional ailments, some so severe they can no longer work.

In ancient Sparta, male celibacy was practically a crime, and groups of women sometimes beat up bachelors in the street.

Despite the popularity of the dry martini, Americans are using more water than ever. The daily average consumption has risen from 115 gallons per person in 1920 to 150 gallons today.

The mightiest gales of our universe, notes the National Geographic Society, are vast "solar winds" of hydrogen that blow steadily through space from the sun. It takes such a wind 10 days to travel from the sun to the earth's atmosphere.

Sweet death? A London nutritionist has raised the question whether sugar may not be more of a culprit than fat in coronary heart disease. He cites in evidence several countries, including the United States, where heart disease has risen as sugar consumption skyrocketed.

Idol on wheels: The automobile is now such a strong instrument of self-expression, according to one firm engaged in motivation research, "that it has replaced home and motherhood as a gauge of security and research. Most Americans take more pride in owning a new car than they would in being elected president." That is, until they dent one of its fenders.

How to be smart: Your best chance to be born highly intelligent, no matter what your social class, says a British obstetrician, is to arrange to be the first child of a woman over 35. Your worst prospect is to be the fifth or subsequent child born to a woman under 30. These are likely, says the doc, to have an I.Q. well below average.

It was Samuel Butler who said this about faith: "You can do very little with it, but you can do nothing without it."

What Causes White Patches Of Skin?

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: On the back and sides of my legs I have white spots. It looks so awful when I wear nylons. What causes this? Is there any way to prevent these spots?—E.Z.

A doctor is on shaky ground if he tries to diagnose a condition without seeing the patient and perhaps having some lab tests besides. This is particularly true of skin ailments.

Therefore I'm not going to try to say what Miss E.Z. has. Instead I'll suggest what she might have. It might be vitiligo (vit-uh-LYE-go).

Vitiligo is loss of pigment, or coloring matter, in patches of skin. This is a quite different situation from temporary loss of skin color because of various skin diseases or irritations.

The cause of vitiligo is not known — which is the answer to readers who ask, "Is it lack of some vitamin?" "Is something wrong with my blood?"

darken the skin. Painting the areas once or twice daily with a solution of dihydroxyacetone has been used. The physician should determine the strength.

Since the condition is more noticeable when the rest of the skin is dark, it follows that getting a suntan emphasizes the problem. The colorless patches will not tan.

But there is another reason for avoiding suntanning. The light skin areas are more sensitive to the sun. After all, those areas cannot produce a protective tan. So, if you have vitiligo, either use sun-screen preparations to prevent burning or stay out of the sun.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for the booklet, "Ear Noises — Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 15 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Around The Rim

The Plight Of The Needy Aged

The most helpless poverty group in our country today is not on "welfare" — many so classified could work at well-paying jobs if they were so amind — but those senior citizens past their working days.

In their sunset years, when they should be a position to sit back and enjoy the fruits of their labors and reflect on their accomplishments, they are being turned into paupers by elected and appointed officials who give them lip service and little else.

MANY ARE existing on Social Security checks and some don't even get that. As taxes go up, and they inevitably do, the "old folks" find they must first ante up to support the state or the educational system before they take care of their own needs.

More than a few have title to property on which unrealistic evaluations have been visited yet sometimes prove to be a drug on the market. Those owners couldn't sell their homes if they tossed in expense-paid trips to Mexico City as added inducements.

IN MANY instances, the children of the elders have long since flown the nest and taken on families of their own. The senior citizens are justified in reasoning that they supported the educational system while they were raising their families and now perhaps need some sort of tax relief that their incomes have diminished.

Those senior citizens who, for instance, retired 10 or 20 years ago, feeling they could manage on Social Security payments and perhaps small pensions today find financial disaster staring them in the face.

THEIR OUTLOOK perhaps was buoyed when told they could make use of medicare but more than a few stubbornly refuse to seek out desperately needed medical help for payments, fearful that medicare won't be enough to cover their expenses.

We have agencies in this country, well organized with slick advertising programs, aimed at raising funds to feed the hungry people in Biafra and Southeast Asia. All are worthy causes, no doubt.

The old people, those a mere step or two away from want, must wonder about the irony of it all, however.

WE ARE A charitable people, true, but, for some reason, are often more apt to support a cause half a world away than at our own back door.

The taxing agencies are not to blame but boards and individuals elected to look after the welfare of publicly-supported institutions perhaps should study each case on its merits and make allowances in hardship cases where possible.

Many of our indigent senior citizens are too proud to beg but they may be forced to it.

More Interest In The Kennedys

WASHINGTON — The military district of Washington tells me, upon personal inquiry, that visitors to the Kennedy graves in Arlington National Cemetery have increased about 20 to 25 per cent since Ted Kennedy's fatal auto accident at Martha's Vineyard.

Two soldiers of the Third Army do continuous duty there. In testimony May 28 before a House subcommittee, Army officials estimated that five million persons annually make the pilgrimage to Arlington. Col. Vincent Corrado, chief, memorial division, added:

"MOST OF these people, of course, do visit the Kennedy gravesites." His civilian assistant, Carl Noll, addressed himself to the crowd-control problem. "They stop, take pictures, meditate and as a consequence impede the flow of traffic. This becomes quite serious . . . it spreads throughout the cemetery."

The 3.2 acres set aside for President Kennedy's burial now accommodate Sen. Robert Kennedy's body, as well as two of the late President's children. Landscaping work goes forward. In addition to roads and paths, there is a ramp for the handicapped, a planned reflecting pool and plaza. The President's grave site is listed at the cost of $1,770,000, and the Senator's at the cost of $677,000, but of this latter, the Kennedy family paid $419,200.

THE KENNEDY legend, as you see, has been enhanced and not shattered by Sen. Ted Kennedy's recent notoriety. A ghoulishness, a morbid curiosity, has given new impetus to a genuine national grief over the slain brothers. Ted Kennedy cannot move around Washington without a retinue of rubbernecking tourists. His every move and facial expression on the Senate floor are subject for comment and speculation.

PEOPLE WHO gobble up every item of news coverage also devour the news media for supplying the coverage. But it was not the newspapers and TV which arranged the spectacular funerals that led to Arlington. The media did not shroud Mary Jo Kopechne's death in mystery and contradiction. Those of us not directly assigned to the story are undeniably fascinated, both psychologically and professionally, by the macabre circumstances. Newspapermen live behind mail slots and telephones, share press galleries and taxis, have reciprocal trade treaties for the exchange of facts and ideas. An attractive girl dies violently in the midnight company of a handsome young celebrity, and the story continues to unfold. Reporters, made of flesh and printers' ink, could not reasonably be expected to walk away from an unfinished yarn.

SEX, FOOD AND money — in that order — are the standard ingredients of a human interest story. These elements are richly mixed in the acknowledged and unacknowledged reports still coming in from Massachusetts and elsewhere. The press has thus far drawn the curtain of prudence, or maybe of prudishness, to shield public personalities not individually involved in the pre-accident gambols but still part of the background. Nourishment, the alcoholic kind, has had little published mention, but in verbal reconstruction of the case reputable and experienced correspondents treat liquor as a clue to what is otherwise inexplicable. The Kennedys have many times proved their ability to spend money for desired promotion and suitable publicity. They used that skill in protection of their fledgling on this sad occasion.

Appeasement Has Never Worked

WASHINGTON, D.C. — At the risk of sounding like a broken record, it is time to refer again to our situation in Vietnam. As has been mentioned a number of times in this space, the argument as to whether we should or should not be in Southeast Asia at all can go on and on. The fact also remains that we are there. The question all along, and continues to be, is how to get out with honor and how we keep all the sacrifices made from going down the drain.

NEGOTIATIONS TO end the Vietnam conflict have taken on tragic aspects, if it was ever anything else. Among our people the debate goes on as to the number of troops to be withdrawn. At the same time, there is not the slightest sign of response from the communist government of North Vietnam.

During President Nixon's visit to Southeast Asia, vague references were made to "optional measures" which might be found necessary if agreement is not reached at the Paris Conference. It is anyone's interpretation as to what this means. There is a hope it means that the hands of the military commanders of our forces in Vietnam will be untied to use the forces at their command to bring the enemy to terms. The conflict cannot be won by trying to satisfy every critic in the Congress and what is theorized to be public opinion throughout this country.

APPEASEMENT HAS never worked. It has always resulted in bigger wars. It is easy to say, "Let us use the money for domestic purposes," and it would be a great thing if we could. History proves otherwise. Indifference as to what was happening in Asia in 1939 made possible the attack on Pearl Harbor. Virtually the same thing happened in 1916 when President Wilson won re-election on the slogan, "He kept us out of war." The enemy at that time was encouraged to believe that the United States would not enter a war in Europe. Unarmed ships were torpedoed in 1915. In an exchange of notes, the Germans promised not to do it again. By 1917 German submarines were preventing American vessels from traveling on the high seas. Finally there was no choice but to enter World War I. But the British and the United States tried again to appease Hitler by the well-known representation of Neville Chamberlain.

WHILE THOUSANDS of American men are being killed and wounded, the enemy in Vietnam continues to thwart all peace efforts. The Communists' ambition to wield power everywhere in Asia is apparently motivated by the same ruthlessness of purpose as is the recent increase of Soviet armies in communist bloc countries in Eastern Europe and the emerging threats to the independence of West Germany. One does not have to be militaristic or a so-called "hawk" but only a realist to view the present situation with the deepest concern.

THE UNITED STATES has the air-power to impress Hanoi with the necessity of seriously seeking terms for peace. Such action would inform the World that America has not made the sacrifices in vain but intends to get this business over with and get out.

Since we are there, and everyone must ardently wish we were not, it seems our choices are narrow. In fact it appears there are only two. We either continue to bog down and lose American lives, or we do what we are there to do. The latter, simply put, is to say to the aggressor that if he pulls his troops back in his own country, the conflict will be over. Otherwise, the "optional measures" mentioned by the President on his visit to Southeast Asia means the use of our air power to the extent necessary to stop the enemy's aggressive capability.

MRS. KENNETH B. FICKE

Couple United In Marriage

Miss Mary Ann Abreo and Sgt. Kenneth B. Ficke of the Air Force were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at La Fe Baptist Church. The Rev. Julian Vigil performed the ceremony before an altar adorned with baskets of white gladioli and flanked by candelabra holding cathedral tapers.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Sunday Abreo, 1106 S. Nolan, and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ficke, Wichita, Kan. Mike Ramirez, pianist, played and sang "O Promise Me" and "Bless This House."

The bride was attired in a formal gown of lace over taffeta designed with long sleeves forming petal points over the hands and an Empire bodice accented with a taffeta bow. The neckline was scalloped and the skirt formed a slender silhouette. Her chapel-length train was lace, and her veil of illusion was edged in lace and fell from a caplet of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade arrangement of feathered carnations and greenery.

Mrs. David Herrera, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a turquoise blue taffeta dress, with the bodice overlaid with chiffon. Miss Hope Abreo, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She chose a pale blue gown matching the matron's of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Alicia Acosta, Miss Noemi Galan, Miss Erna Polanco, Miss Sandra Piarro, Miss Mary Luevanos and Miss Adelmira Duron, the latter of Roswell, N.M. Three of the bridesmaids were attired in pink and three were attired in yellow-fashioned as the other attendants. They all wore rose cluster headpieces with brief veiling and carried nosegays of white carnations.

Jim Hogan of North Carolina was best man. Ushers were Viron Hartin and David Abreo. Groomsman were David Herrera, Roman Ramirez, Albert Acosta, Abel Galan, Charlie Rodriguez, Arthur Jimenez of El Paso, and James Borders of Oklahoma.

Connie Abreo was flower girl, and David Charles Herrera was ring bearer. Altar tapers were lighted by Miss Irma Abreo of Lubbock and Miss Irene Galan.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the fellowship hall. Those in the Couple Announces Birth Of Son

Sgt. and Mrs. Ray Conaway of Cartersville, Ga., announce the birth of a son, Stewart Allen, born Aug. 4 in a Cartersville hospital. The infant weighed six pounds, 12 ounces. Sgt. Conaway, formerly of Westbrook, is stationed in Vietnam. He is the twin brother of Mrs. Stewart Dickson, 1304 Ridgeroad. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Jackson of Cartersville, and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Otha Conaway of Westbrook.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Occasionally, my column runneth over on Sunday and this one past caught me with more chatter than room so here we go on a catch-up.

MR. and MRS. PAT MURPHY have had the pleasure of a visit from their son and his family. MR. and MRS. EDDIE MURPHY, Mary Ellen and Michael, Eddie is chief of scientific and engineering division of Lone Star Gas Co. in Dallas. They returned to their home Sunday.

DR. and MRS. O. E. WOLFE have recently returned from Houston. They took their son, Spencer, who flew in from a business trip to Denver, and his son, David, who had been here for a visit with his grandparents while his father was in California.

MR. and MRS. J. H. EASTHAM have returned from a week's stay at the Baptist Assembly in Glorieta, N.M. The trip served a double purpose as they also got to visit with their son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. HAROLD HITT and their daughters, Dee Ann, Kay Lynn and Joy Sue who live in Clackmus, Ore. The Hitts are missionaries.

Back in the Big Spring Bombardier School days, a Miss Kidd was Girl Scout executive here, and she remembered Shine Phillips well. So when MR. and MRS. WARREN BUXTON, Miami, Fla., were coming here to see their daughter and son-in-law, SGT. and MRS. LARRY CLEMENTS, and granddaughter, they were commissioned to find about Shine (now deceased). Buxton was a navigator in World War II and remembered flying here, a couple of his buddies trained here as bombardiers.

MRS. MARY BROWN plans to take Stephanie Battenfield with her Aug. 18 when she flies to Chicago, Ill., to visit MR. and MRS. MARLIN BROWN.

house party were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rocha, Mrs. Julian Vigil Mrs. Jim Abreo, Mrs. Roy Salame, Mrs. Conrado Acosta and Mrs. Juan Polanco. Miss Sylvia Galan presided at the guest register.

The refreshment table, appointed with crystal and silver, was laid with a white lace cloth over stain and centered with an arrangement of white roses. The wedding cake was decorated with yellow and white satin bells and confection roses.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School where she was a member of Vocational Office Education Club and the Shorthand Club. The bridegroom graduated from Wichita High School and attended the University of Wichita.

Sgt. and Mrs. Ficke left on a wedding trip to Italy, where they will be at home in Venice the next year. For traveling, the bride chose a cerise knit dress and the corsage from her bouquet.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. G. Duron of New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. Noe Abreo, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Barraza, Van Horn; Mrs. Benny Powell and Mrs. Marvin Hirsch, both of Georgia; Mr. and Mrs. Juan Bueno and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Garcia, all of Fort Stockton.

A LOVELIER YOU

Never Mishandle Or Damage Pretty Face

By MARY SUE MILLER

We are in a period of really enlightened skin care. It follows that an early accumulation of wrinkles and lines can only be a sign of neglect or mishandling. Of the two, mishandling may do the greater harm.

To ward off damage, treatment and makeup products must be applied and removed with gentle upward strokes, so as not to work against the grain of facial skin and muscles. Never, but never use scrubbing motions — with the fingers, cleansing tissue, powder puffs or wash cloths.

Moreover, become conscious of how you handle your face when it is not under treatment. Find out if you make a habit of rubbing your forehead when you are in deep concentration. Or do you prop your chin on your hand? Tug at an earlobe? Press your knuckles into your cheek?

All such habits are a drag on the face, its immediate and future good looks. This kind of handling must be avoided. Or you have to expect lines and sag, too.

The most difficult gesture to break is that of propping up the chin. It helps to make an exercise of it. Simply raise the chin high and rest it lightly on the backs of the fingers of one hand. Support the hand by placing the elbow on the arm of your chair. This position acts to keep the chin and throat lifted. No distortions here. You can mistreat your face, of course, without touching it. That happens when you squint or frown. So beware!

BANISH CREPEY THROAT
To firm and uplift sagging facial muscles and flesh, use my four-way method. It works wonders through corrective exercise, posture, skin care and makeup. Procedures are detailed in the leaflet, "Banish Crepey Throat & Chin." For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing 15 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Bapti Class Has Luncheon

The Berta Beckett Sunday school class of First Baptist Church heard a devotion entitled "Contentment" by Mrs. R. D. Ulrey at Saturday's luncheon in the Downtown Tea Room. Mrs. H. H. Squyres, president, was in charge of the program and conducted a brief business session.

August birthdays were observed for Mrs. W. M. Gage, Mrs. O. N. Green, Mrs. Mary Ehlman and Mrs. Maude Christian. Mrs. Lydia Sorrels was a guest. The next meeting will be Sept. 13 in the Gage home at 1200 Nolan.

OES Bazaar Held At Arlington Home

Three members of Big Spring Chapter No. 67, Order of Eastern Star, were in Arlington over the weekend to participate in a Founder's Day bazaar at the OES Home. Mrs. W. D. Peters of the Founder's Day committee was chairman of the sweet shop and was assisted by Mrs. C. C. Lawrence and Mrs. Charles McCarley. The proceeds, $209.25, will be applied to the building fund at the home.

Dallas Site For THDA Convention

Almost a thousand Texas Home Demonstration Association (THDA) members will gather in Dallas Sept. 16-18 for their annual convention.

Dr. Bardin Nelson, sociology professor at Texas A&M University; Dr. Earle Williams, Baylor Dental College; and Heien Poe, world traveler, author and lecturer from Dallas, will head the speaker line-up.

A unique part of the convention, according to THDA president Mrs. Sam Spire, Manchaca, is workshops on citizenship, safety, cultural arts and recreation, family life, 4-H and health. Each will feature experts in the area to help members carry out programs in their counties.

Artists Roberta and Wesley Speir from Austin will present the arts section. Women's defense expert Paul Boesch, Houston, will speak at the safety workshop. He has authored two books on the art of self protection for women.

A fashion show from Penny's Linda Gaylor, Dallas, will begin the convention.

Program participants include Mrs. James Yates, Dallas County THDA chairman; Mrs. James Cave, Roby; Mrs. Maynard Gaines, Coleman; Mrs. Tom Joyce Cunningham, Denton; Mrs. Lloyd Kirkpatrick, Uvalde; Mrs. Florence Low, assistant Extension director for home economics, Texas A&M University.

Family Vacations In Texas, New Mexico

WESTBROOK (SG) — Mrs. Tommy Christon and children, along with her brother, Gene Neeley, spent several days last week vacationing in Fort Davis, El Paso, Mexico and Carlsbad Caverns.

Randy Gressett of Bedford is spending the week with his grandmother, Mrs. Leroy Gressett.

Kim Sullivan returned Thursday from Longview where she visited her mother. Guests of the E. A. Odens last week were Mrs. C. G. Reese and son of Levelland, Mrs. Robert Tregg and children of Odessa and Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Pruitt and children of Balmorhea.

Patricia Bell spent the weekend in Stamford. Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Dawson went to Dallas Wednesday.
